In an effort to accommodate Education and reduce the number of potentially responsive records to be processed and produced, American Oversight has limited its request to emails sent by the listed officials and employees. To be clear, however, American Oversight still requests that complete email chains be produced, displaying both sent and received messages. This means, for example, that both Secretary DeVos's response to an email containing a listed key term and the initial received message are responsive to this request and should be produced.

Please provide all responsive records from January 30, 2020, through the date of the search.

Available for Public Access Link (PAL) download are 12,055 pages of documents responsive to your request. The documents provided are:

school personnel should follow appropriate health guidelines to assess and address the risk of transmission in the provision of such services. The Department understands there may be exceptional circumstances that could affect how a particular service is provided.

If a child does not receive services during a closure, a child's IEP team (or appropriate personnel under Section 504) must make an individualized determination whether and to what extent compensatory services may be needed, consistent with applicable requirements, including to make up for any skills that may have been lost.

Question A-4: If a child with a disability at high risk of severe medical complications is excluded from school during an outbreak of COVID-19 and the child's school remains open, is the exclusion considered a change in educational placement subject to the protections of 34 CFR §§ 300.115 and 300.116 and 34 CFR §§ 104.35 and 104.36.

Answer: If the exclusion is a temporary emergency measure (generally 10 consecutive school days or less), the provision of services such as online or virtual instruction, instructional telephone calls, and other curriculum-based instructional activities, to the extent available, is not considered a change in placement. During this time period, a child's parent or other IEP team member may request an IEP meeting to discuss the potential need for services if the exclusion is likely to be of long duration (generally more than 10 consecutive school days). For long-term exclusions, an LEA must consider placement decisions under the IDEA's procedural protections of 34 CFR §§ 300.115 – 300.116, regarding the continuum of alternative placements and the determination of placements.

Under 34 CFR § 300.116, a change in placement decision must be made by a group of persons, including the parents and other persons knowledgeable about the child and the placement options. If the placement group determines that the child meets established high-risk criteria and, due to safety and health concerns, the child's needs could be met through homebound instruction, then under 34 CFR §300.503(a)(1), the public agency must issue a prior written notice proposing the change in placement. A parent who disagrees with this prior written notice retains all of the due process rights included in 34 CFR §§ 300.500-300.520.

For children with disabilities protected by Section 504 who are dismissed from school during an outbreak of COVID-19 because they are at high risk for health complications, compliance with the procedures described above and completion of any necessary evaluations of the child satisfy the evaluation, placement and procedural requirements of 34 CFR §§ 104.35 and 104.36. The decision to dismiss a child based on his or her high risk for medical complications must be based on the individual needs of the child and not on perceptions of the child's needs based merely on stereotypes or generalizations regarding his or her disability.

Question A-5: May an IEP Team consider a distance learning plan in a child's IEP as a contingency plan in the event of a COVID-19 outbreak that requires the school's closure?

Answer: Yes. IEP teams may, but are not required to, include distance learning plans in a child's IEP that could be triggered and implemented during a selective closure due to a COVID-19 outbreak. Such contingent provisions may include the provision of special education and related services at an alternate location or the provision of online or virtual instruction, instructional telephone calls, and other curriculum-based instructional activities, and may identify which special education and related services, if any, could be provided at the child's home.

Creating a contingency plan before a COVID-19 outbreak occurs gives the child's service providers and the child's parents an opportunity to reach agreement as to what circumstances would trigger the use of the child's distance learning plan and the services that would be provided during the dismissal.

Question A-6: What activities other than special education and related services may and may not be provided with IDEA Part B funds both prior to and during a COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: IDEA Part B funds may be used for activities that directly relate to providing, and ensuring the continuity of, special education and related services to children with disabilities. For example, an LEA may use

IDEA Part B funds to disseminate health and COVID-19 information that is specifically related to children with disabilities, to develop emergency plans for children with disabilities, or to provide other information (e.g., guidance on coordination of the provision of services in alternate locations as described in Question A-5) to parties who may need such information, including school staff responsible for implementing IEPs, parents of eligible children, and staff in alternate locations where special education and related services may be provided. LEAs, however, may not use IDEA Part B funds to develop or distribute general COVID-19 guidance or to carry out activities that are not specific to children with disabilities (e.g., general COVID-19 activities for all children and staff). Additionally, LEAs may not use IDEA Part B funds to administer future COVID-19 vaccinations to any children, including children with disabilities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

B. IDEA Part C and COVID-19

Question B-1: Must a state lead agency continue to provide early intervention services to infants and toddlers with disabilities during a COVID-19 outbreak if the offices are closed?

Answer: If the offices of the state lead agency or the EIS program or provider are closed, then Part C services would not need to be provided to infants and toddlers with disabilities and their families during that period of time. If the lead agency's offices are open but the offices of the EIS program or provider in a specific geographical area are closed due to public health and safety concerns as a result of a COVID-19 outbreak in that area, the EIS program or provider would not be required to provide services during the closure. If the offices remain open, but Part C services cannot be provided in a particular location (such as in the child's home), by a particular EIS provider, or to a particular child who is infected with COVID-19, then the lead agency must ensure the continuity of services by, for example, providing services in an alternate location, by using a different EIS provider, or through alternate means, such as consultative services to the parent.

Additionally, once the offices re-open, the service coordinator and EIS providers for each child must determine if the child's service needs have changed and determine whether the individualized family service plan (IFSP) team needs to meet to review the child's IFSP to determine whether any changes are needed. If offices are closed for an extended period and services are not provided for an extended period, the IFSP team must meet under 34 CFR § 303.342(b)(1) to determine if changes are needed to the IFSP and to determine whether compensatory services are needed to address the infant or toddler's developmental delay.

Question B-2: What should a state lead agency or EIS program provider do to provide Part C services if its offices are open, but it cannot provide services in accordance with an infant's or toddler's IFSP during a COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: If the offices remain open, but Part C services cannot be provided in a particular location (such as in the child's home), by a particular EIS provider, or to a particular child who is infected with COVID-19, then the lead agency must ensure the continuity of services, on a case-by-case basis and consistent with protecting the health and safety of the student and those providing services to the student. As an example, the lead agency may consider providing services in an alternate location, by using a different EIS provider, or through alternate means, such as consultative service to the parent. Once services are fully resumed, the service coordinator and EIS providers for each child must assess the child to determine if the child's service needs have changed and to determine whether the IFSP Team needs to meet to review the child's IFSP to identify whether changes to the IFSP are needed. If the offices are closed and services are not provided for an extended period, the IFSP Team must meet under 34 CFR § 303.342(b)(1) to determine if changes are needed to the IFSP and to determine whether compensatory services are needed.

If an EIS provider cannot provide Part C services in the child's home during a COVID-19 outbreak, but the EIS program or provider determines that it is safe to provide face-to-face Part C services in another environment such as a hospital or medical clinic, then the child could receive temporary services at the hospital or clinic. Additionally, if the lead agency or EIS provider determines that face-to-face Part C services should not be provided for a period of time, then the EIS provider or service coordinator may consult with the parent through a teleconference or other alternative method (such as e-mail or video conference), consistent with privacy interests, to provide consultative services, guidance, and advice as needed. However, determining how to provide Part C services in a manner that is consistent with the most updated public health and safety guidance is left to the discretion of the lead agency and the EIS program and provider serving a particular child and family.

Question B-3: What activities other than service provision may and may not be provided with IDEA Part C funds both prior to and during a potential COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: IDEA Part C funds may be used for activities that directly relate to providing, and ensuring the continuity of, Part C services to eligible children and their families. The state may use IDEA Part C funds to disseminate health and COVID-19 information to relevant parties, develop emergency plans to support the provision and continuity of

Part C services, or provide other information (e.g., how the lead agency staff or EIS programs or providers may provide alternate services or services in alternate locations as described in Question B-2) to relevant parties who need this information. Relevant parties may include parents of eligible children, childcare centers, staff in other locations where early intervention services are provided, EIS programs and providers, and primary referral sources. Other activities that relate to service provision, including the provision of service coordination, evaluations, and assessments, may also be funded. The state may not, however, use IDEA Part C funds to administer future COVID-19 vaccinations as it is a medical service under 34 CFR §303.13(c)(3).

How are our children in rural areas, who have no cyber technology set in place for our elementary, middle school and high school children able to continue their education and learning from these shut downs? There is nothing in place in my county and they have initiated a survey for us parents to fill out to see if we have our own equipment at home to comply with a possible cyber teachings to take place when who knows when. Today we get a voicemail stating more people than expected did not have the necessary materials and that they are unsure how they are gonna accommodate these Cyber courses now. Why as a parent am I expected to accommodate to materials that should be provided and already in place for possible pandemics and emergency situations. Where does my school tax money go? And what is spent on these grants provided to these school districts that are obviously not in the best interest to help our children succeed and be able to have the proper education?

Hello all

I was wondering if you could help me. My school's spring break is next week. It has already been accounted for with regards to R2T4.

However, with the current situation involving COVID 19 our school has decided to move our classes to online/hybrid mode after spring break.

Right now it is only schedule for the 1 week after spring break.

What I'm trying to see is what steps do I need to take to make sure we remain in compliance and follow all protocols. The week of online classes will be instructions. It's not a school closure. Students will be expected to complete assignments and work.

However, the physical school will be closed due to the virus.

Hi,

The Selective Service System has temporarily stopped processing any requests for a Status Information Letter due to Covid-19 outbreak. Is there any leniency for schools to resolve the Selective Service issue.

In addition, most offices have been placed in telework status and we are aware that electronic notaries are not considered to be acceptable for verification purposes, what should we advise our students who are NOT able to go to the bank, library, or public notary office due to Covid-19 outbreak to get a notarized signed statement of educational purpose?

Please advise and thank you for your guidance.

Hello –
We have a student who has a c-flag due to lack of selective service registration, he was not in the US between the age of 18-26, and so he needs to get a selective service determination letter from SSS before we can proceed. His situation just started to shake out as the COVID-19 situation was taking root and now, even though, he has submitted his required documentation to SSS by mail (he got a tracking receipt) the SSS website says that SSS determination letters will be on hold till further notice.

This student is trying to get aid for the 2019-20 academic year and so we are wondering if there is any leniency with the requirement for the SSS determination letter when we the school are making our determination regarding his SSS registration or lack thereof. We have the documentation he submitted regarding why he was unable to register for SSS. Our semester ends at the end of April so we are worried that this might not resolve itself before this is all over.

Good afternoon,

Currently Shorter University is offering science classes on ground in May of 2020 and no decision has been made regarding not having classes on ground in May. I am trying to prepare for a possible what if scenario.

Our science classes are 4 credits with a lab. The lab grade is included in the overall grade for the class but takes place on another day and time. The lab does not receive a separate grade. We may be transitioning the on ground science classes to distance education. I am wondering if the lab can be offered later in the year when all students are expected back on campus? The most likely scenario is during the fall semester.

Any assistance you can provide is greatly appreciated. Thank you for everything you are doing to help schools.

Warmest regards,

Good Morning

I know all of you are being bombarded with questions. This such a crazy time. Hang in there – You've got this!

I am working with a school that decided to extend break, but did not notify DOE.

1. What actions need to take place at this point?
2. Does the school need to extend spring term to meet the minimum weeks in the term requirement?

Could you provide the best guidance on how schools convert to a Pass/Fail grading system until things are back to normal?

1. How does effect SAP?
2. How are GPAs impacted?
3. Are there any other ramifications in converting to Pass/Fail

Are schools REQUIRED to refund room/board charges? If a school is past the 60% mark in the term, is the guidance that a school must refund the charges or it is an institutional decision based on their internal guidelines?

Thanks in advance. You are all doing an amazing job!

Take care –
Anboinette

I am emailing with some questions regarding distance learning as the Coronavirus impacts our schools.

Our schools have temporarily stopped offering ground-based classes in order to prevent the spread of COVID-19.

This was effective March 18, 2020 until at least March 31, 2020.

Our school has received approval from the State of Wisconsin and our accreditor, NACCAS, to offer temporary distance education.

Can you please confirm that the U.S. Department of Education will allow currently enrolled students and new starts on or prior to 6/1/2020 to receive Title IV Aid for the distance education hours completed?

Any additional clarification/guidance you can provide is greatly appreciated.

Thank you.

Hi Donna,

Please accept this as notice that the above referenced institutions will be closed until further notice, effective March 17, 2020.

The evolving situation with the Coronavirus (COVID-19) and the importance of practicing social distancing to minimize the spread of the virus has required us to make the difficult decision to temporarily close our schools to protect our students, staff and clients.

All students have been notified. We will be closely monitoring the situation and will continue updating our students regarding our plans. We will be reevaluating this situation on a daily basis and intend to resume operation as soon as it is safe to do so.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me by email at finaid@salonschools.com or by phone at 740-504-4037. NACCAS National Accrediting Commission of Cosmetology Arts and Sciences and The Ohio State Cosmetology and Barber Board have also been notified. A hard copy of this letter will be mailed to the Chicago office. Please advise if there is a more appropriate email address to forward this.

RE: Waiver Request – Period of Performance, Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA)

Assistant Secretary Brogan:

The Tennessee Department of Education (TDOE) is seeking a waiver pursuant to Secretarial authority under Section 8401 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (20 U.S.C §7861) as the state continues to address both the COVID-19 outbreak and the state of emergency resulting from recent tornadoes across Tennessee.

Availability for ESSA Grant Funds

Specifically, TDOE is requesting a waiver to extend the period of performance for an additional 12 months respectively for all remaining FY18, FY19, and FY20 grant funds, and allowing the additional 90 days for liquidation after the period of performance. With extended school closures, this waiver would allow districts time and flexibility to reset and reevaluate how best to support students following the current crises.

These grants include:

- Title I, Part A - Improving the Academic Achievement of the Disadvantaged (84.010),
- Title I, Part C - Education of Migratory Children (84.181),
- Title I, Part D - Educational Support of Neglected, Delinquent, and At-Risk Youth (84.013),
- Title II, Part A - Supporting Effective Instruction (84.367),
- Title III, Part A - Language Instruction for English Learners and Immigrant Students (84.031),
- Title IV, Part A - Student Support and Academic Enrichment (SSAE) (84.424),
- Title IV, Part B – 21st Century Community Learning Centers (84.287),
- Title V, Rural and Low-Income School Program, Part A (84.358)
- Title V, Part B – Rural Education Achievement Program (REAP) (84.358b), and
- Title IX, Part A Education for Homeless Children and Youth (84.196).

Tennessee counties experienced seven EF3 and EF4 tornadoes on March 2 and 3 which destroyed numerous homes, schools, and lives—the second deadliest tornado outbreak in Tennessee history. We are continuing to support our district and school leaders in recovering from this natural disaster, and the impact on communities is significant. On March 3, Governor Bill Lee declared a state of emergency for this natural disaster.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

While in this state of emergency, Tennessee continues to have a growing number of districts that have suspended classes over the past week with the number of confirmed cases of COVID-19 continuing to increase daily. Last week alone, schools serving over 50% of the state's 973,659 students have suspended classes. Yesterday, Governor Bill Lee announced that all public schools in Tennessee would remain closed until April 24—a decision that will continued to be reevaluated in the weeks to come. Districts and charter entities are working to develop and implement continuity of instruction plans; however, many of our largest urban and suburban districts, serving over 500,000 of Tennessee's students, also serve most of the state's highest poverty schools. Many of their students do not have appropriate access to technology in their homes, making instructional continuity more challenging.

Due to the evolving nature and scope of the current crises Tennessee is facing, we did not provide public notice prior to submission of this waiver request. We will actively communicate this request and provide appropriate follow-up communication with stakeholders.

Thank you for consideration of these requests. This waiver will ensure that the TDOE and districts have the flexibility to adapt to an ever-evolving health crisis and in the recovery. Please feel free to contact Eve Carney, by email at Eve.Carney@tn.gov if there are questions regarding this request or if additional information is needed.

HI Patrick

A question…should we just put this in the COVID 19 inbox since TN is asking for a tydings waiver for most of the OESE formula programs, and the state is specifically citing COVID-19 and other disasters?

Second question…do you want Brittney to control this to these program offices or no?

I know there have been talks about some type of template for states, and we're not at that point yet….

Thanks for the input.

1. With states receiving waivers for summative testing this year, are they able to use those dollars for things other than testing – or – must they keep it for the next year – or?
2. Are the Title I and III state distributions posted on the website? I must have missed that.

Importance: High

I am hoping that you can provide us some guidance.

One of our accredited and participating colleges, Independence University (an additional location under Stevens-Henager College OPEID #00367400), offers the majority of its programs via online distance education. Further, Independence University delivers its degree programs in a modular system where students take 1-2 courses every 4-weeks. What this means is that Independence University has "start dates" for new students that occur every 4 weeks, rather than more traditional "semester" colleges that only start new students two times per year (i.e., Fall Start, Winter Start).

Since IU enrolls students across the country into its online degree programs, we are running into some real challenges, due to COVID-19, with new students that have been selected for verification (V4 and V5) as part of the federal financial aid application process.

The biggest problem we're seeing is that new students (selected for verification) cannot get access to a "face-to-face notary" in order to satisfy the Department's requirements for the completion of the Statement of Educational Purpose (see attached page from the Department's 2019-2020 Handbook). In almost every case, the student is telling us that due to the lockdown, social distancing, and closure of business in their city, it is impossible for them to meet face-to-face with a notary to complete the Department's prescribed requirements.

We are wondering if the Department would grant us a temporary waiver to use a third-party, online, notary service as an alternative to the traditional, in-person notary requirement. Several, online notary providers have well established, verified, and trackable systems that would allow them to verify a student's identity, verify the student's government-issued photo ID, and provide the college with a copy of all of the required verification and documentation.

We currently have approximately 200 new students who are scheduled to start their degree program at Independence University next week who are negatively affected by this situation. These students are being prohibited from being eligible to receive federal financial aid simply because there is no access to an "in-person" notary in their community.

Please let us know ASAP if there is something that can be done to help these students and other applicants while the nation deals with the Covid-19 disruptions.

34 CFR 668.55

Students must also sign (it must be a "wet" signature) a statement of educational purpose that certifies who they are and that the federal student aid they may receive will only be used for educational purposes and for the cost of attending the school for the 2019–2020 year. Unlike the other text at the end of the chapter, the text for this statement is not suggested—you must use the exact language given (the student's identification number is optional though if collected elsewhere on the same page as the statement). After examining the statement, you may convert it into an electronic record. You must keep that or the original for at least the required Title IV record retention period.

REAL ID Act of 2005
The REAL ID Act affects people entering certain restricted areas where identification is required: federal facilities, nuclear power plants, and federally regulated commercial airplanes. Because there are currently no restrictions under the act on agencies accepting an ID that is not compliant with the act (typically one marked "not for federal identification") for other purposes, such an ID is acceptable for verification of identity/statement of educational purpose. It must be a government-issued ID that has not expired and includes the student's photo and name.

A student who is unable to appear at your school must go to a notary public and sign the statement of educational purpose. He must then submit to your office that statement (again, with the "wet" signature), a certification from the notary that he appeared before her and presented a government-issued photo ID confirming his identity, and a copy of the same ID.

UPDATING INFORMATION

Generally, a student cannot update information that was correct as of the date the application was signed because the FAFSA is considered to be a "snapshot" of the family's financial situation as of that date. For example, if the student's family sold some stock after she signed the FAFSA and spent the money on an unreported asset such as a car, she can't update her information to show a change in assets. After the FAFSA is signed, only certain items can be updated under the following conditions:

Online notary services
Currently the Department does not authorize the use of online notary services as an alternative to traditional, in-person notary services.

1. All applicants whose dependency status changes must update that and the related FAFSA information throughout the award year except when the update is due to the student's marital status changing.

2. All applicants selected by the Department or a school for verification of household size or number in college must update those numbers to be correct as of the date of verification unless the update is due to a change in the student's marital status. Documenting household size or number in college is not required in a subsequent verification in the same year if the information has not changed.

Parent remarriage after applying
While the applicant does not typically update household size or number in college because of a change in his marital status, if he is a dependent student and his parent remarries between application and verification, he must update household size to include the new stepparent. However, the student would not count the new stepparent's income and assets. A school can use professional judgment to include the stepparent's income or to otherwise account for the change.
34 CFR 668.55(b)

At your discretion you may update under either 1 or 2 even when the update is due to a change in the student's marital status if you deem it necessary to address an inequity or to reflect more accurately the applicant's ability to pay. Such a decision must be on a case-by-case basis, and you must document your reasons for it. You must also update all other pertinent information, such as spousal income and taxes paid, to be consistent with the new marital status. Do this first if the student is selected for verification, and then complete verification of the updated application. If you change the status of an applicant to unmarried and that makes him dependent (because he was independent only due to marriage), his FAFSA must be updated with his parents' information. Your school may have a policy of not considering such updates after a specific census date.

Subject: Use of 3D Printers in Schools for COVID19 Support

To Whom It May Concern,

Is there an effort to leverage the idle 3D printers in Universities and Public/Private secondary schools to produce needed medical supplies? It appears that there may be some grassroots efforts but I wanted to know if there's a national strategy that can be pushed out?

Thank You

Jenay,
Thank you for following up. Yes, I spoke with Abbie but she didn't have any information about how this LEA can pause funds. I encouraged every school that reached out to me to also contact Abbie.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I am concerned because the Milwaukee Public School is our state's largest LEA and if they implement a policy, so will the remaining 422 school districts. I should note that all Wisconsin schools are still educating students (public and private) so everyone is on a the same schedule at this point.

Additionally, I am concerned that if the LEA continues to pause these funds that the private schools will ultimately lose access to these funds because time will run out. Our LEA refuses to allow private schools to use title funds until September, instead follows the state's fiscal year of July 1.

I do a lot of work on behalf of private schools and access to title funds. I often write legal opinions to a LEA when they are implementing a policy that is violating ESSA. I have been fairly successful with this. Before doing so in this situation, I wanted to make sure that the ED hadn't issued an opinion or there wasn't guidance or a policy from a previous administration that permitted the pausing of title funds.

Thank you,
Libby

In the meantime, have you had an communication with the state ombudsman for ESEA equitable services? I believe it is Abbie Pavela at the Wisconsin Council of Religious and Independent Schools (essaombudsman@dpi.wi.gov).

Thanks you for contacting the Office of Non-Public Education (ONPE) regarding the provision of equitable services during this time of COVID-19. You have inquired about whether funding is still available for ESEA title services, notwithstanding the fact that Milwaukee Public Schools has put a "pause" on funding for services.

I have looped in my colleague Jenay Morrisey who will follow up with you on this matter.

Maureen,

I hope you are doing well and staying healthy. I am the Director of Education Policy at the Wisconsin Institute for Law & Liberty. You and your office have been a helpful resource for me in the past and I am hopeful you can help me today.

Private schools in Milwaukee were told by the LEA (Milwaukee Public Schools) that all title funds are on "pause." Last week, our Governor closed our public and private schools but most are providing learning virtually.

I have reviewed the US Department of Education's recent communications about COVID19 and participated in last week's call. However, I have not seen anything about title funding not continuing to flow to schools via services.

Can you direct me to any resources regarding this issue? Or direct me to a person at the US Department of Education? Is this something happening in other states?

Thank you!

Hello,

Thank you for this opportunity to ask questions. First, do you anticipate significant changes to the content or deadline for our annual reporting?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Second, a considerable portion of our annual budget is given to schools as a stipend for meeting two criteria: 1) reaching PBIS tier 1 or 2 fidelity, and 2) completing an annual data collection for reporting and the overall grant evaluation. This collection includes surveys administered to both students and staff. Wisconsin schools are currently closed and we are uncertain when they will reopen. We also do not know the pay status of school staff if schools do not reconvene before the fall. We feel it's likely these complications will prevent schools from following our protocols to ensure data quality and may preclude some schools from collecting data at all. Given this, and considering the unique difficulties schools are facing, we have considered suspending data collection until school is back in session. Can you advise on whether this would be allowable and, if so, whether we could still provide stipends to schools who achieved PBIS fidelity before they were closed?

Last, given the closing of schools and the halting of work, will we be allowed to carryover funds to the next fiscal year?

Thank you again,

Wisconsin School Climate Grant Staff

Subject: Grades

Hello,

In reading the COVID-19 Web Center,it states the following:

Return of Title IV Funds
Even in the case of a disruption from COVID-19, an institution must return any Title IV funds for which it is responsible in accordance with the provisions of 34 CFR § 668.22 when a student withdraws. Currently, we do not have the authority to waive the statutory requirement for the return of unearned Title IV funds in the case where a student (who receives Title IV assistance) withdraws from an institution during a payment period or period of enrollment after having begun attendance

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)
An institution's SAP appeal policy (34 CFR § 668.34(a)(9)) must, among other things, describe the basis on which a student may file an appeal: the death of a relative, an injury or illness of the student, or other special circumstances. Circumstances related to an outbreak of COVID-19, including, but not limited to, the illness of a student or family member, compliance with a quarantine period, or the general disruption resulting from such an outbreak may form the basis of a student's SAP appeal even if not specifically articulated in the institution's SAP policy.

Colleges/universities are discussing giving pass/fail grades. Since we will continue to follow SAP and R2T4 guidelines are we able to give pass/fail grades without it impacting the student financial aid award?

Good evening,

I hope this email finds you well healthy and safe during these uncertain times. I am the Program Coordinator for the Supportive Schools Newark initiative funded by the Mental Health Service Professional Demonstration grant. Below are the three questions that I currently have regarding implementation, funding and timeline:

1. A major component of our initiative is to provide group and individual counseling sessions which we were to commence in April. Given the circumstance that we are in, all district schools have moved toward home-instruction and it is unclear when the district will reopen the schools. What are the expectation for meeting narrative goals that are currently pending due to the response to COVID-19?
2. Are there any updates regarding an extension/grace period for the funds that needed to be used by the June 2020?
3. Will there be an extension for the Interim report due May 29, 2020?

Thank you in advance, I look forward to the grantee webinar scheduled for Thursday, March 26th.

Hi John,

I heard from a reliable colleague that you are part of the Department's COVID-19 task force, and I truly appreciate all that you and others are doing for students and schools during this difficult time. We are living through circumstances that none of us could have imagined just a short time ago.

I have been asked by multiple school clients to seek additional guidance from the Department on Leaves of Absence (LOAs) in term-based programs. Specifically, the question I have from several school is whether students in a term-based program, if granted a LOA, still need to re-enter a program where they left off? If they do not, the follow-up questions include how to handle pertinent dates (Academic Year, Loan Period, etc.), and also whether R2T4 is still required?

As you might imagine, there continues to be some significant confusion among both schools and the compliance community (e.g. auditors and attorneys) regarding these issues, and the Department's guidance to date does not specifically address this LOA question in the term-based context. I also note there is legislation pending in Congress that would appear to expressly waive, as a matter of statute, any LOA requirement for students to re-enter a program where they left off. It is not clear to me whether that statutory change is needed before the Department can provide more guidance with respect to term-based LOAs in these circumstances.

Anything that the Department can do to clarify these issues – of course as quickly as possible for schools facing imminent LOA decisions – would be greatly appreciated.

Thanks,
Jonathan

Hi Pam,

I hope you are well. I know it's been a long time since we've been in touch, but reaching out for help with this pressing issue on my campus (and I am sure many others!).

I am hoping that you may have some information to help me clarify my understanding of the recent Department of Education COVID-19 guidance related to the 30 week academic calendar requirement.

The guidance starting on page 5 of EA 030520 under Length of Academic Year states a temporary reduction in the length of an institution's academic year can be requested if an institution determines it will close as a result of a campus health emergency.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Champlain just announced an additional week of break. Our students are currently in a one week spring break and we extended the break by one week in order to prepare for all online instruction. After the additional week of break, we will resume with online classes. This extension of the break results in a 14 week spring semester and 29 week academic year.

Is the Department's guidance only applicable for a closure or would an extended break resulting in a reduced academic calendar also qualify for the temporary reduction?

Generally, approval of a less than 30 week calendar would result in reduction of federal aid. Does this apply with this new guidance?

Any clarification you can give me on this would be really appreciated.

Subject: Procedures for Responding to Inquiries Relating to Higher Education

Distribution List: All ED Employees

Dear colleagues,

In order to ensure that the Department is providing clear, accurate and consistent communications to the community, the Department is instituting a new process for the intake of higher education coronavirus related questions that will be managed by the Office of Postsecondary Education (OPE). Employees are directed NOT to provide substantive responses to any coronavirus related questions until the question has been logged into our system, and an answer has been drafted and vetted by the appropriate staff. The only exception is if you are simply forwarding coronavirus communication that has already been posted by the Department. It is critical that all employees abide by these instructions, so the Department can effectively and consistently manage these issues. To the extent possible, OPE would like to provide answers to inquiries on these matters within 48 hours. Please follow the following steps after receiving a coronavirus related question:

Instructions for intake of coronavirus related questions:

1. When an employee receives a coronavirus related question that has not been addressed in previous communication posted by the Department, they should respond to the inquiring party acknowledging receipt of the question and informing them that the Department will respond as soon as possible. Please note that if it's unclear whether the question has been addressed by previous Department communication, employees should err on the side of sending the inquiry up the chain.
2. The employee should email the inquiry to their first line supervisor.
3. The first line supervisor should then forward the inquiry to Shaina Hilsey (Shaina.hilsey@ed.gov) and Jack Cox (jack.cox@ed.gov) who work within OPE, and copy leadership from their POC. Supervisors are encouraged to develop a suggested response to the inquiry, if practical. However, they should forward the question to Ms. Hilsey and Mr. Cox before developing the response and should indicate in the email to them if they plan to develop a response or would recommend another staff person develop a response. All draft responses should be forwarded to Shaina and Jack BEFORE the response is published or given to the source of the question or inquiry. Other POCs are permitted to develop alternative internal POC procedures at the discretion of their leaders, however, OPE would encourage that such processes ensure that we are notified as quickly as possible after an inquiry has been received.

4. Shaina and Jack will log all inquiries into our data base, then work with relevant subject matter experts and senior leadership in developing a response. They will then share the approved response with the relevant supervisors, who can then direct the responses to the individual source of the inquiry, and with OLCA and the Departmental Communication (OCO) site that is being established for these specific purposes.

Instructions for questions that you have already received

Please send all communications you have already received related the Coronavirus using the instructions above. If an employee has already responded to the inquiry, please attach the email that you sent to the inquiring party.

INTERNAL FSA PROCESS

FSA Instructions for intake of coronavirus-related questions that call for policy judgments or interpretations from the financial aid community:

1. When an FSA employee receives a coronavirus-related question from the financial aid community, that has not been addressed in previous communication posted by the Department, the FSA employee should respond to the inquiring party acknowledging receipt of the question and informing them that the Department will respond as soon as possible. Please note that if it's unclear whether the question has been addressed by previous Department communications, FSA employees will follow the process outlined below.
2. The FSA employee will email the inquiry to
• their first line supervisor,
• copy their deputy chief operating officer (COO), and
• send the email to the following mailbox – federalstudentaid@ed.gov.
This mailbox will be monitored by FSA's Strategic Communications team (Strat Comms). This team will identify a subject matter expert(s) for each question(s), only when appropriate. The SME may be asked to draft a proposed response for the Office of Postsecondary Education's (OPE) review.
3. Strat Comms will forward immediately the initial inquiry to OPE, including the identified SME, and whether the SME is drafting a proposed response. In the event a draft response is provided to Strat Comms by the SME, Strat Comms will forward the proposed response to OPE for review.
4. For all FSA inquiries, OPE will log them and work with relevant SMEs, which may be identified by Strat Comms, and senior leadership in developing a final response. OPE will then email federalstudentaid@ed.gov and provide the approved response.
5. Strat Comms is responsible to provide the approved response to the original FSA employee who initiated the inquiry, their first-line supervisor, and their deputy COO.
6. The FSA employee who initiated the inquiry is responsible to provide the approved response to the requestor.

Subject: COVID-19 and LOA's for Term Based Students
Importance: High

Hi John,

I heard from a reliable colleague that you are part of the Department's COVID-19 task force, and I truly appreciate all that you and others are doing for students and schools during this difficult time. We are living through circumstances that none of us could have imagined just a short time ago.

I have been asked by multiple school clients to seek additional guidance from the Department on Leaves of Absence (LOAs) in term-based programs. Specifically, the question I have from several school is whether students in a term-based program, if granted a LOA, still need to re-enter a program where they left off? If they do not, the follow-up questions include how to handle pertinent dates (Academic Year, Loan Period, etc.), and also whether R2T4 is still required?

As you might imagine, there continues to be some significant confusion among both schools and the compliance community (e.g. auditors and attorneys) regarding these issues, and the Department's guidance to date does not specifically address this LOA question in the term-based context. I also note there is legislation pending in Congress that would appear to expressly waive, as a matter of statute, any LOA requirement for students to re-enter a program where they left off. It is not clear to me whether that statutory change is needed before the Department can provide more guidance with respect to term-based LOAs in these circumstances.

Anything that the Department can do to clarify these issues – of course as quickly as possible for schools facing imminent LOA decisions – would be greatly appreciated.

Thanks,
Jonathan

Good Afternoon Dept. of Ed,

I would appreciate it if you could please provide clarification on the article I found titled DeVos halts collection of defaulted federal student loans. See link http://a.msn.com/01/en-us/BB11ECmv?ocid=se Is the halting of collections only applicable for federal loans serviced by the Dept. of Education such assigned or consolidated loans or is this also applicable to Federal Perkins loans that are in default that are being serviced by a third party loan collection agency on behalf of a school?

this letter, https://www.whitehouse.gov/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/M-20-17.pdf , grants flexibility that our school districts (LEAs) have been asking for. In order to be able to grant these flexibilities, how does our state agency request the flexibility or waiver from the US Department of Education? Do we submit a letter?

Or, are these items allowed between states and their subgrantees without needing US Department of Education approval first?

Any guidance would be appreciated, as these are key to helping school districts be able to continue to support schools during closures.

instructions, Results web page, and NRG for Chapter two. If you look at the H4 it stated that, "the content of these sections must remain unaltered, with limited exceptions." I am not sure if the we could write a comment stating, "signature could not be obtained due to COVID-19." I would like to see what Whitney things about that. Also, we would verify these signatures on September 1 to ensure the student is still eligible during the next funding year.

Here are a few options I have talked about with other states and wanted to get your thoughts.

1. Get electronic COEs over phone and then write comment about not getting signature with COVID-19.

2. Get a ECOE over phone and then hold the COE until a signature is obtained. Then mail a copy of the COE to the family/farmer, etc. and get a paper signature and write on the COE that signature is on file. The virus dies on paper within 24 hours. (Issue: some people don't know their address.)

3. Get Electronic COEs over phone and then write in comments about not getting signature with COVID-19 but get a signature verification before 9-1-20 to verify there were here one day during the current performance period. (Issues: The people may have moved so we may not be able to get signatures for all.)

Chapter 2: Child Eligibility

H4. What are the required data sections for the national COE?

The required data sections mandated by the national COE are as follows: Qualifying Moves & Work Section, Comment Section, Interviewee Signature Section, and Eligibility Certification Section. The content of these sections must remain unaltered, with limited exceptions. Certain formatting changes are allowable.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

H10. Must the recruiter sign the national COE?

Yes. The recruiter's signature on the national COE certifies that: (1) the children are eligible for the MEP, and (2) the information upon which the recruiter based the eligibility determination is correct to the best of his or her knowledge. Moreover, under 34 C.F.R. § 200.89(c) and (d), the Department requires this signature on the national COE as an element of a reasonable system of quality control.

Results web page:

Interviewee Signature Section. The interviewee signs and dates the COE on the day the interview is conducted. The interviewee must also write his or her relationship to the child.
I understand the purpose of this form is to help the state determine if the child(ren)/youth listed on this form is/are eligible for the Title I, Part C, Migrant Education Program. To the best of my knowledge, all of the information I provided to the interviewer is true.
Signature, Relationship to the child(ren), Date

The person who signs the COE must be the source of the information contained in the document and should verify any information provided by another source. If the interviewee is unable to sign his or her name, he or she must mark an "X" in the signature section and the recruiter must print the parent's name and relationship to the child in the Comments section. If the interviewee refuses to sign his or her name, the recruiter must document the interviewee's refusal in the Comments section and print the interviewee's name and relationship to the child.

If a state chooses to include other statements that require, for example, a parent/guardian signature specifically, the state can include those statements separately from the Interviewee Signature. ED strongly recommends that states obtain the approval of their legal counsel to ensure that additional statements they add to this section comply with the applicable federal, state, and local laws and policies.

The recruiter should make sure the interviewee understands what he or she is signing. The recruiter can do this by reviewing every line of the COE and confirming with the parent that the information is correct. If the interviewee can read, the recruiter should give the interviewee a blank copy of the COE form in his or her native language (if available) so the interviewee can follow along. Once the SEA-designated reviewer reviews, signs, and dates, the COE, the MEP should send a copy of the COE by mail or hand-deliver it at a later date.

COE Directions

Same as above

Tara, thanks for talking with me about my concerns with our recruiters earlier today. I really appreciate your assistance. I looked for some information on the signatures and this is what I have found according to the National COE instructions, Results web page, and NRG for Chapter two. If you look at the H4 it stated that, "the content of these sections must remain unaltered, with limited exceptions." I am not sure if the we could write a comment stating, "signature could not be obtained due to COVID-19." I would like to see what Whitney things about that. Also, we would verify these signatures on September 1 to ensure the student is still eligible during the next funding year.

Here are a few options I have talked about with other states and wanted to get your thoughts.

1. Get electronic COEs over phone and then write comment about not getting signature with COVID-19.

2. Get a ECOE over phone and then hold the COE until a signature is obtained. Then mail a copy of the COE to the family/farmer, etc. and get a paper signature and write on the COE that signature is on file. The virus dies on paper within 24 hours. (Issue: some people don't know their address.)

3. Get Electronic COEs over phone and then write in comments about not getting signature with COVID-19 but get a signature verification before 9-1-20 to verify there were here one day during the current performance period. (Issues: The people may have moved so we may not be able to get signatures for all.)

Let me know what your thoughts are? Thanks again for helping us during this difficult time. I appreciate your help. Thank you.

Chapter 2: Child Eligibility

H4. What are the required data sections for the national COE?

The required data sections mandated by the national COE are as follows: Qualifying Moves & Work Section, Comment Section, Interviewee Signature Section, and Eligibility Certification Section. The content of these sections must remain unaltered, with limited exceptions. Certain formatting changes are allowable.

H10. Must the recruiter sign the national COE?

Yes. The recruiter's signature on the national COE certifies that: (1) the children are eligible for the MEP, and (2) the information upon which the recruiter based the eligibility determination is correct to the best of his or her knowledge. Moreover, under 34 C.F.R. § 200.89(c) and (d), the Department requires this signature on the national COE as an element of a reasonable system of quality control.

Results web page:

Interviewee Signature Section. The interviewee signs and dates the COE on the day the interview is conducted. The interviewee must also write his or her relationship to the child.
I understand the purpose of this form is to help the state determine if the child(ren)/youth listed on this form is/are eligible for the Title I, Part C, Migrant Education Program. To the best of my knowledge, all of the information I provided to the interviewer is true.
Signature, Relationship to the child(ren), Date

The person who signs the COE must be the source of the information contained in the document and should verify any information provided by another source. If the interviewee is unable to sign his or her name, he or she must mark an "X" in the signature section and the recruiter must print the parent's name and relationship to the child in the Comments section. If the interviewee refuses to sign his or her name, the recruiter must document the interviewee's refusal in the Comments section and print the interviewee's name and relationship to the child.

If a state chooses to include other statements that require, for example, a parent/guardian signature specifically, the state can include those statements separately from the Interviewee Signature. ED strongly recommends that states obtain the approval of their legal counsel to ensure that additional statements they add to this section comply with the applicable federal, state, and local laws and policies.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The recruiter should make sure the interviewee understands what he or she is signing. The recruiter can do this by reviewing every line of the COE and confirming with the parent that the information is correct. If the interviewee can read, the recruiter should give the interviewee a blank copy of the COE form in his or her native language (if available) so the interviewee can follow along. Once the SEA-designated reviewer reviews, signs, and dates, the COE, the MEP should send a copy of the COE by mail or hand-deliver it at a later date.

Hello,

Per the guidance in your Electronic Announcement dated March 5, 2020, I am reaching out to request a temporary reduction in the length of our academic year. I have also called the Chicago/Denver school participation team and left a voicemail.

Our Spring 2020 payment period was scheduled to run from January 27, 2020 to May 15, 2020. We have a one week scheduled spring break from March 30, 2020 to April 5, 2020.

Due to COVID-19, we have paused in-person instruction from March 15, 2020 to April 5, 2020. We plan to re-start instruction on April 6, 2020 with online classes and to end the year on May 15, 2020 as originally planned. Effectively, we have shortened our Spring 2020 term by 2 weeks.

We do have some online courses that will continue to run during this two week "pause," however most of our students are enrolled in all in-person courses.

As is the case at many schools, our situation is fluid and we may need to make additional changes to our academic year. We will keep you informed.

Cynthia

It would be great to see Secretary DeVos publicly encouraging all the teachers who are working hard to teach their classes remotely.

Secretary DeVos seems like a gifted exhorter and encourager. There are so many teachers and parents, who have overnight become teachers, who would benefit from hearing from Secretary DeVos. They need to hear from the Education Secretary about home resources, how parents and teachers can work together, etc.

I was surprised that on Ed.gov Home page loans and grants and many other topics were highlighted and I had to scroll way to see anything about Covid.

My question is, "When will we see Secretary DeVos' leadership, encouragement, insights begin to be heard?"

Respectfully,

Mark Toback

Hi Franka/Kelly/anyone who may be taking up the account,

We would appreciate it if, at all possible, you could try holding off on sending COVID emails to us until there is a bulk to send, maybe 10 or more, or at least a more opportune time in the day. Due to the high amount of COVID emails we've received, 700+, we take turns logging, distributing, and answering. When they are streamed to us, it is hard to keep it all straight when mixed in with the dozens of other emails we receive for our other roles at the Department. It's always easiest when they come in at the start of the morning, the middle of the day, or the end of the day as well, as we have other projects concurrently needing our attention and if we need to find COVID emails, we at least know when they came.

Lastly, if you could take off the read receipt function as well, it will just make things easier without the extra clicking on our end. I assure you, we are reading and attending to each and every email you send us.

Thanks,
Jack

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I have heard College's considering the idea of crediting Room and Board for the remainder of the Spring 2020 semester and applying it as a credit towards the Fall 2020 Cost of Attendance. Would that impact the Cost of Attendance used to determine the aid a student would be eligible to receive? Or is it simply a credit on the students account toward future expenses? Understanding that if a credit is generated as a result of Title IV aid it must be disbursed to the student.

Thank you for all the support you are providing!

As of 03/15/2020 the governor of South Carolina mandated the closing of SC colleges from 03/16/20 thru 03/31/20. Based on the guidance sent out from FSA on 03/05/20, a FWS student can be paid as long as the faculty and staff are being paid without having to use leave. My question is about students who are not working on the college campus and the place where they are working as a FWS student is currently opened. Would my off campus students need to work their normal hours or would they be paid the same as the other students should not be able to work. With K-12 also being closed, my off campus students with children may not be able to work due to their children being out of school.

Thanks!

payments under certain limited circumstances to disaster-affected students who are unable to continue working. Given the unique nature of this situation, it is unlikely that an entire region would be declared a Federal disaster area, yet to students enrolled at a campus that must close temporarily, the loss of this important form of financial aid can be devastating. The impact may be magnified if the institution accommodates students by providing alternative instructional opportunities and the student is required to continue paying tuition, but the student loses FWS as an important part of their financial aid award. For students enrolled and performing FWS at a campus that must close due to COVID-19, or for a FWS student who is employed by an employer that closes as a result of COVID-19, the institution may continue paying the student Federal work-study wages during that closure if it occurred after the beginning of the term, the institution is continuing to pay its other employees (including faculty and staff), and the institution continues to meet its institutional wage share requirement. Students who were prevented from beginning a term at the institution as a result of a COVID-19-related disruption would not be eligible for Federal Student Aid for that term, and therefore could not be paid FWS wages for hours they did not work. Graduate students who are paid FWS wages on salary may continue to be paid for the remainder of the term if the institution is also paying its faculty and staff during that period. In these instances, institutions should document (as contemporaneously as feasible) that the COVID-19 disruption was the reason the student received FWS funds without documentation of hours worked.

To this may concern,

Some districts are closed and going virtual during this pandemic, but school psychologists in these very same districts are being asked to come in and meet face to face with children and their families to continue testing.

Is this guidance you have given to our districts? Should school psychologist put themselves and those they are being asked to evaluate in possible jeopardy of getting this virus? Any guidance regarding this issue is welcomed.

Subject: Requesting guidance RE: devices and access points and sanitizing classrooms

Elyse,
I am writing to request guidance about how, under what circumstances, and on what basis a SEA can authorize expenditures for hot spots and other out-of-school internet access to facilitate student learning in this period of widespread and extended school closures?

The FCC has waived the gift rules FCC's memo about waiving E-rate gift rules "[Federal Communication] Commission rules prohibit entities eligible for the RHC and E-Rate programs from soliciting or accepting any thing [sic] of value from a service provider participating or seeking to participate in those programs. Today's waiver will allow health care providers, schools, and libraries to accept improved capacity, Wi-Fi hotspots, networking gear, or other equipment or services to support doctors and patients, teachers and students, and librarians and patrons during the coronavirus outbreak. For example, some providers have expressed interest in providing free network upgrades for hospitals that need more robust connections to treat patients via telemedicine and free connected devices and hotspots for students who will be taking classes at home. This waiver will enable them to do such things."

Also, we have had many requests to use Title IV- A funding to pay for the cleaning and disinfecting of classrooms. While the cleaning of classrooms would normally be covered by the school, this extra care, as outlined by the CDC will be more intense and expensive. The thought of returning children to potentially unsanitized classrooms is causing stress among parents, students, teachers, principals and other school leaders. Can they use Safe and Healthy Students funds to pay for this extra sanitizing?

Kind regards,
Sandy O'Neil

I was wondering if you could help me. My school's spring break is next week. It has already been accounted for with regards to R2T4.

However, with the current situation involving COVID 19 our school has decided to move our classes to online/hybrid mode after spring break.

Right now it is only schedule for the 1 week after spring break.

What I'm trying to see is what steps do I need to take to make sure we remain in compliance and follow all protocols. The week of online classes will be instructions. It's not a school closure. Students will be expected to complete assignments and work.

However, the physical school will be closed due to the virus.

Good morning Brenda and Francisco,

In light of the COVID pandemic, we are getting a number of questions from our grantees. Primarily, they are requests to revise budgets and dedicate grant funds to purchase hotspots and/or purchase devices. Clearly these are based upon new needs assessments, in light of the pandemic.

Q1) Would it be acceptable for grantees to use funds for hotspots? This is critical, especially to our rural locations where internet access is not readily available to many homes. (Sec. 4109(a)(6) could support this use for rural areas; some other areas may also need hotspots.)

Q2) Would it be acceptable for grantees to use funds for purchase of devices under Well Rounded and/or Safe and Healthy? The special rule limits purchases of devices when those purchases are made under the content area Effective Use of Technology, and the rule specifically says ". . .to address readiness shortfalls". However, many of the subsections of 4107(a) could be viewed to support device purchase as districts move to establish and/or ramp up distance-learning programs to deliver instruction under Well Rounded. As well, several of the provisions under 4108(a) could be viewed to support device purchases under Safe and Healthy as grantees seek to: protect student and family health through social distancing; foster safe, healthy, supportive, and drug-free environments that support student academic achievement; establish learning environments and enhance students' effective learning skills that are essential for school readiness and academic success, such as by providing integrated systems of student and family supports; provide mentoring and school counseling to all students, including children who are at risk of academic failure, dropping out of school, involvement in criminal or delinquent activities, or drug use and abuse. (It is important to engage students most at risk of dropping out, as these very needy students may not return to school after the pandemic.)

So there are large issues resulting from the pandemic:

- This is now an issue of equity, as students in poverty will not have access to technology that students having more wealth will have.
- This is now related to Well Rounded, as students may have zero access to instruction without technology/distance learning.
- This is now an issue of Safe and Healthy, as schools have closed and students and families have been directed to stay safe, stay home.

We are asking for an expedited review of our two questions, with your answers as soon as possible. We need to advise our grantees.

Thank you so much for your time and assistance,

--Lynn Nauss Cipriano

Dear NAME:

Thank you for contacting the U.S. Department of Education (Department) concerning COVID-19 ("Coronavirus").

While there is currently no vaccine to prevent COVID-19, health officials are currently taking steps to prevent the introduction and spread of this respiratory disease. Schools can play an important role in this effort.

Through collaboration and coordination with local health authorities and other agencies, schools can disseminate important information about this disease and its potential transmission. Schools can also prepare to take additional steps to prevent the spread of COVID-19, should State and local health officials identify such a need.

The Department recommends that schools continue to promote everyday disease prevention strategies:

- If you are sick, stay home from school.
- Avoid close contact with those who are already sick.
- Cover your nose and mouth when coughing or sneezing with a tissue or the crook of your arm.
- Wash your hands often with soap and water.
- Avoid touching eyes, nose, or mouth.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) offers the most up-to-date information on COVID-19. Schools can share relevant CDC fact sheets to help students, families, and staff understand COVID-19, along with steps they can take to protect themselves. For further information, please visit www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-nCoV.

In addition, the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools and communities as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available.

Thank you for sharing your concerns with us. We invite you to send questions on which the Department can be helpful to the following email address: COVID-19@ed.gov.

Sincerely,

COVID-19 Response Team

Hi Donna,

Please accept this as notice that the above referenced institutions will be closed until further notice, effective March 17, 2020.

The evolving situation with the Coronavirus (COVID-19) and the importance of practicing social distancing to minimize the spread of the virus has required us to make the difficult decision to temporarily close our schools to protect our students, staff and clients.

All students have been notified. We will be closely monitoring the situation and will continue updating our students regarding our plans. We will be reevaluating this situation on a daily basis and intend to resume operation as soon as it is safe to do so.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me by email at finaid@salonschools.com or by phone at 740-504-4037. NACCAS National Accrediting Commission of Cosmetology Arts and Sciences and The Ohio State Cosmetology and Barber Board have also been notified. A hard copy of this letter will be mailed to the Chicago office. Please advise if there is a more appropriate email address to forward this.

Sincerely,

Cheryl Halblaub

HI Patrick

A question…should we just put this in the COVID 19 inbox since TN is asking for a tydings waiver for most of the OESE formula programs, and the state is specifically citing COVID-19 and other disasters?

Second question…do you want Brittney to control this to these program offices or no?

I know there have been talks about some type of template for states, and we're not at that point yet….

Thanks for the input.

Curtis, A question arose for Vermont today as we have to cancel our annual training institute (held in June each year), as well as several other in-person training. These cancellations, which are due directly to COVID-19, will mean that Vermont will likely not spend our EI Part C Grant funds in the way planned in our 2019 Part C Grant application. We are looking for OSEP guidance on this. Can we can carry those funds over to next year or reallocate those funds to other direct supports to the field? Thank you and have a great weekend.

Subject: Question re COVID-19 and Parent's Unilateral Placements Seeking Reimbursement

To Whom It May Concern:

I have clients who had scheduled IEP team meetings and intended to request private placements during their meetings, which if not agreed upon by the IEP team, my clients would have given notice of their intent to unilaterally place their children in a private placement and seek reimbursement. These meetings, which were scheduled for last week and it is anticipated that the other meeting would have been scheduled for this week due to state mandated COVID-19 school related closures. Pursuant to WAC 392-172A-04115, a parent may give written notice of their intent to unilaterally place their student in a private placement and seek reimbursement in lieu of giving a district notice during the most recent IEP team. (Statutory Authority 20 U.S.C. 1400 (c)(12)(C), 20 U.S.C. 1401 (3)(A)(i), and 20 U.S.C. 1401 (30)(C)). The notice must be provided at least 10 business days—including holiday days—in advance of the parent's unilateral placement. Business day means Monday through Friday, except for federal and state holidays, unless holidays are specifically included in the designation of a business day. WAC 392-172A-01050 (Statutory Authority 42 U.S.C. 1400 et. Seq).

Washington's mandatory closure of school's raises a number of questions regarding unilateral placements, which are as follows:

- When a school district closes, do business days still accrue? All of the schools are closed but it is unclear whether school district central offices remain open and to what extent.
- Depending on the status of a school district's office, how does a parent properly notify a school district of their intent to unilaterally place a student and seek reimbursement? Will a letter sent to a school district's central office, addressed to a district's special education director and an email to the same special education director with the same letter attached suffice? What if the special education director does not acknowledge receipt of the letter? Has the parent still met their notice requirement?
- OCR offers the following guidance:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Question A-1: Is an LEA required to continue to provide a free appropriate public education (FAPE) to students with disabilities during a school closure caused by a COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: The IDEA, Section 504, and Title II of the ADA do not specifically address a situation in which elementary and secondary schools are closed for an extended period of time (generally more than 10 consecutive days) because of exceptional circumstances, such as an outbreak of a particular disease.

If an LEA closes its schools to slow or stop the spread of COVID-19, and does not provide any educational services to the general student population, then an LEA would not be required to provide services to students with disabilities during that same period of time. Once school resumes, the LEA must make every effort to provide special education and related services to the child in accordance with the child's individualized education program (IEP) or, for students entitled to FAPE under Section 504, consistent with a plan developed to meet the requirements of Section 504. The Department understands there may be exceptional circumstances that could affect how a particular service is provided. In addition, an IEP Team and, as appropriate to an individual student with a disability, the personnel responsible for ensuring FAPE to a student for the purposes of Section 504, would be required to make an individualized determination as to whether compensatory services are needed under applicable standards and requirements.

If an LEA continues to provide educational opportunities to the general student population during a school closure, the school must ensure that students with disabilities also have equal access to the same opportunities, including the provision of FAPE. (34 CFR §§ 104.4, 104.33 (Section 504) and 28 CFR § 35.130 (Title II of the ADA)). SEAs, LEAs, and schools must ensure that, to the greatest extent possible, each student with a disability can be provided the special education and related services identified in the student's IEP developed under IDEA, or a plan developed under Section 504. (34 CFR §§ 300.101 and 300.201 (IDEA), and 34 CFR § 104.33 (Section 504)).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- OCR's guidance appears to indicate that if a hypothetical student was unilaterally placed during the COVID-19 school related closure and the parent sought reimbursement, and successfully demonstrated that the district was not providing their child with a FAPE and the private placement was providing their child with a FAPE, the time the student spent at the new placement during the COVID-19 district closure could only be reimbursed on a theory of compensatory education—comp ed for a denial of FAPE occurring before the COVID-19 school closure or an IEP team deciding to provide the student with comp ed for the time during the COVID-19 school closure--and not on a theory of a prospective placement because the District is not required to educate the hypothetical student during the closure if the district is not serving the general population. Does OCR share the same analysis of this issue? If not, how does OCR's analysis of this issue differ?

Best,

In several instances there is the mention of "Awarding agencies" as having the ability to grant certain flexibilities, and I wonder who the Awarding agency is, USED or the SEA? For example, #4 - Extension to Expiring Awards - does the authority to grant this extension rest with the SEA or does the LEA or SEA have to apply to USED for this extension?

All,

IN-B sent me some clarification questions regarding the guidance information that has been released to date. I am sharing these with both the COVID email and Matt in the hopes that Matt might be able to help me provide her with a more timely response.

The full email chain is below, but in summary, she asks the following questions from the Q & A:

1. Are schools required to provide SPED services when offering any education opportunities to the general student population?
2. What must be in a student's IEP to address either on-line or closed schools? Under A-5 from the Q & A, she read it to state that if IEPS do not have the language about eLearning or distance learning, should be adding that to IEPs. She is asking for verification that her understanding is correct.

Thank you for any support you can offer in helping me guide IN. If I need to tell them to wait for further updates to the guidance, that is fine.

Josiah

Hi Nancy,

I absolutely happy to chat. However, all state leads have been instructed to only take questions at this time so that they can be answered through the guidance documents that the department is continuing to update. So I won't be able to respond to anything.

So, please let me know if you want to chat based on that. If you do, I'm available anytime tomorrow from 8:00-10:30 and 12:30-4:00.

If you want to forgo a call and send me your questions, I will make sure they go to the appropriate folks to get addressed in the next update.

I'm sorry that I'm not permitted to do more individually for you right now. There is a lot that the department is trying to sort through and they're doing their best to ensure everyone receives the same information.

Thanks so much,

Josiah

1. I did a live chat with our State Superintendent of Tuesday and I referenced OSEP guidance. Especially these two questions: Are schools required to provide SPED services when offering any education opportunities to the general student population?
2. What must be in a student's IEP to address either on-line or closed schools?

I took the language straight from the Q and A provided by OSEP. I have lots of concerns from the field that they need to revise their IEPs if this was not in them.

I want to make sure we are doing everything possible for our students.

Let me know if you can talk any time soon. Thanks!

Good afternoon Jennifer,

We have a question about the interaction between Items 6 and 7 of the OMB memo, attached, question A-6 of the Department's Q&A, attached, and the Office of Head Start's memo, linked here: http://hsicc.cmail20.com/t/ViewEmail/j/49EE44613EEA4C892540EF23F30FEDED/12F194AAB536585844D0DD5392A9C75A

Essentially, we read these to have conflicting information when it comes to paying for activities outside of the grant's purpose. Where the OMB memo reads to allow spending outside of the grant's purpose, the Department's memo allowing in some cases, and Head Start's memo not allowing it at all.

We would appreciate some assistance in navigating these messages.

Thank you for your assistance and service in these difficult times.

Gratitude,

M-20-17

MEMORANDUM TO THE HEADS OF EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES

FROM: Margaret Weichert
Deputy Director of Management (b)(6)

SUBJECT: Administrative Relief for Recipients and Applicants of Federal Financial Assistance Directly Impacted by the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) due to Loss of Operations

On March 9, 2020, OMB issued M-20-11, "Administrative Relief for Recipients and Applicants of Federal Financial Assistance Directly impacted by the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19)," to provide agencies with additional flexibilities for grants assisting the response to COVID-19. The scope of the M-20-11 was narrowly crafted to provide flexibility to grant recipients performing essential research and services necessary to carry out the emergency response related to COVID-19.

This memorandum provides similar administrative relief listed in M-20-11 to an expanded scope of recipients affected by the loss of operational capacity and increased costs due to the COVID-19 crisis. Many of the operational impacts and costs are unknowable at this point, as they will depend on the spread of the coronavirus and response dictated by public health needs. This memorandum provides short term relief for administrative, financial management, and audit requirements under 2 CFR Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost principles and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards, without compromising Federal financial assistance accountability requirements. As program managers are considering administrative relief, they should be prudent in their stewardship of Federal resources which includes giving consideration to potential offsets—e.g. reduction in training and travel. In addition, the flexibilities provided within this memorandum, agencies are reminded of their existing flexibility to issue exceptions on a case-by-case basis in accordance with 2 CFR § 200.102, Exceptions. M-20-11 shall continue to apply, and Appendix A describes the exceptions granted under this memorandum to recipients affected by the loss of operational capacity. These exceptions are time limited and will be reassessed by OMB within 90 days of this Memo.

Questions regarding the above administrative relief provisions should be directed to Office of Federal Financial Management Grant link at GrantsTeam@omb.eop.gov. OMB will continue to provide updates and additional information as the situation unfolds. ## Appendix A – Administrative Relief Exceptions for COVID-19 Crisis

Federal awarding agencies are authorized to take the following actions, as they deem appropriate and to the extent permitted by law, with respect to the administrative provisions that apply to recipients grantees affected by the COVID-19 (for both recipients with COVID-19 related grants and other types of Federal grants). Awarding agencies are required to maintain records on the level of particular exceptions provided to recipients. For items 6 and 7, awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and documentation to support the charges against the Federal awards.

1. Flexibility with SAM registration. (2 CFR § 200.205)

Awarding agencies can relax the requirement for active System for Award Management (SAM) registration at time of application in order to expeditiously issue funding. At the time of award, the requirements of 2 CFR § 200.205, Federal awarding agency review of risk posed by applicants, continue to apply. Current registrants in SAM with active registrations expiring before May 16, 2020 will be afforded a one-time extension of 60 days.

2. Flexibility with application deadlines. (2 CFR § 200.202)

Awarding agencies may provide flexibility with regard to the submission of competing applications in response to specific announcements, as well as unsolicited applications. As appropriate, agencies should list specific guidance on their websites and/or provide a point of contact for an agency program official.

3. Waiver for Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs) Publication. (2 CFR § 200.203)

For competitive grants and cooperative agreements, awarding agencies can publish emergency Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs) for less than thirty (30) days without separately justifying shortening the timeframe for each NOFO. Awarding agencies would still be required to document and track NOFOs published for less than thirty (30) days under this emergency waiver.

4. No-cost extensions on expiring awards. (2 CFR § 200.308)

To the extent permitted by law, awarding agencies may extend awards which were active as of March 31, 2020 and scheduled to expire prior or up to December 31, 2020, automatically at no-cost for a period of up to twelve (12) months. This will allow time for recipient assessments, the resumption of many individual projects, and a report on program progress and financial status to agency staff. Project-specific financial and performance reports will be due 90 days following the end date of the extension. Awarding agencies will examine the need to extend other project reporting as the need arises.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

5. Abbreviated non-competitive continuation requests. (2 CFR § 200.308)

For continuation requests scheduled to come in from April 1, 2020 to December 31, 2020, from projects with planned future support, awarding agencies may accept a brief statement from recipients to verify that they are in a position to: 1) resume or restore their project activities; and 2) accept a planned continuation award. Awarding agencies should post any specific instructions on their website. Awarding agencies will examine the need to extend this approach on subsequent continuation award start dates as recipients have an opportunity to assess the situation.

6. Allowability of salaries and other project activities. (2 CFR § 200.403, 2 CFR § 200.404, 2 CFR § 200.405)

Awarding agencies may allow recipients to continue to charge salaries and benefits to currently active Federal awards consistent with the recipients' policy of paying salaries (under unexpected or extraordinary circumstances) from all funding sources, Federal and non-Federal. Awarding agencies may allow other costs to be charged to Federal awards necessary to resume activities supported by the award, consistent with applicable Federal cost principles and the benefit to the project. Awarding agencies may also evaluate the grantee's ability to resume the project activity in the future and the appropriateness of future funding, as done under normal circumstances—based on subsequent progress reports and other communications with the grantee. Awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and cost documentation as required by 2 CFR § 200.302 – Financial management and 2 CFR § 200.333 - Retention requirement of records to substantiate the charging of any salaries and other project activities costs related to interruption of operations or services.

7. Allowability of Costs not Normally Chargeable to Awards. (2 CFR § 200.403, 2 CFR § 200.404, 2 CFR § 200.405)

Awarding agencies may allow recipients who incur costs related to the cancellation of events, travel, or other activities necessary and reasonable for the performance of the award, or the pausing and restarting of grant funded activities due to the public health emergency, to charge these costs to their award without regard to 2 CFR § 200.403, Factors affecting allowability of costs, 2 CFR § 200.404, Reasonable costs, and 2 CFR § 200.405, Allocable costs. Awarding agencies may allow recipients to charge full cost of cancellation when the event, travel, or other activities are conducted under the auspices of the grant. Awarding agencies must advise recipients that they should not assume additional funds will be available should the charging of cancellation or other fees result in a shortage of funds to eventually carry out the event or travel. Awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and cost documentation as required by 2 CFR § 200.302 – Financial management and 2 CFR § 200.333 - Retention requirement of records, to substantiate the charging of any cancellation or other fees related to interruption of operations or services. As appropriate, awarding agencies may list additional guidance on specific types of costs on their websites and/or provide a point of contact for an agency program official.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8. Prior approval requirement waivers. (2 CFR § 200.407)

Awarding agencies are authorized to waive prior approval requirements as necessary to effectively address the response. All costs charged to Federal awards must be consistent with Federal cost policy guidelines and the terms of the award, except where specified in this memorandum.

9. Exemption of certain procurement requirements. (2 CFR § 200.319(b), 2 CFR § 200.321)

Awarding agencies may waive the procurement requirements contained in 2 CFR § 200.319(b) regarding geographical preferences and 2 CFR § 200.321 regarding contracting small and minority businesses, women's business enterprises, and labor surplus area firms.

10. Extension of financial, performance, and other reporting. (2 CFR § 200.327, 2 CFR § 200.328)

Awarding agencies may allow grantees to delay submission of financial, performance and other reports up to three (3) months beyond the normal due date. If an agency allows such a delay, grantees will continue to draw down Federal funds without the timely submission of these reports. However, these reports must be submitted at the end of the postponed period. In addition, awarding agencies may waive the requirement for recipients to notify the agency of problems, delays or adverse conditions related to COVID-19 on a grant by grant basis (200 CFR 200.328(d)(1).

11. Extension of currently approved indirect cost rates. (2 CFR § 200.414 (c))

Awarding agencies may allow grantees to continue to use the currently approved indirect cost rates (i.e., predetermined, fixed, or provisional rates) to recover their indirect costs on Federal awards. Agencies may approve grantee requests for an extension on the use of the current rates for one additional year without submission of an indirect cost proposal. Agencies may also approve grantee requests for an extension of the indirect cost rate proposal submission to finalize the current rates and establish future rates.

12. Extension of closeout. (2 CFR § 200.343)

Awarding agencies may allow the grantee to delay submission of any pending financial, performance and other reports required by the terms of the award for the closeout of expired projects, provided that proper notice about the reporting delay is given by the grantee to the agency. This delay in submitting closeout reports may not exceed one year after the award expires.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

13. Extension of Single Audit submission. (2 CFR § 200.512)

Awarding agencies, in their capacity as cognizant or oversight agencies for audit, should allow recipients and subrecipients that have not yet filed their single audits with the Federal Audit Clearinghouse as of the date of the issuance of this memorandum that have fiscal year-ends through June 30, 2020, to delay the completion and submission of the Single Audit reporting package, as required under Subpart F of 2 CFR § 200.501 – Audit Requirements, to six (6) months beyond the normal due date. No further action by awarding agencies is required to enact this extension. This extension does not require individual recipients and subrecipients to seek approval for the extension by the cognizant or oversight agency for audit; however, recipients and subrecipients should maintain documentation of the reason for the delayed filing. Recipients and subrecipients taking advantage of this extension would still qualify as a "low-risk auditee" under the criteria of 2 CFR § 200.520 (a) – Criteria for a low-risk auditee.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON PROVIDING SERVICES TO CHILDREN WITH DISABILITIES DURING THE CORONAVIRUS DISEASE 2019 OUTBREAK

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is responding to an outbreak of respiratory disease caused by a new coronavirus named coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19). The CDC has issued interim guidance to help administrators of public and private childcare programs and K–12 schools plan for and prevent the spread of COVID-19 among students and staff. See Interim Guidance for Administrators of US Childcare Programs and K–12 Schools to Plan, Prepare, and Respond to Coronavirus Disease 2019 available at: https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/specific-groups/guidance-for-schools.html

This Questions and Answers document outlines states' responsibilities to infants, toddlers, and children with disabilities and their families, and to the staff serving these children. During an outbreak of COVID-19, local educational agencies (LEAs) and early intervention service (EIS) programs will need to collaborate with their state educational agency (SEA), Bureau of Indian Education (BIE), or local public health department, as appropriate, to address questions about how, what, and when services should be provided to children with disabilities.[1] It does not create or confer any rights for or on any person. This Q & A document does not impose any additional requirements beyond those included in applicable law and regulations. The responses presented in this document generally constitute informal guidance representing the interpretation of the Department of the applicable statutory or regulatory requirements in the context of the specific facts presented here and are not legally binding. The Q & As in this document are not intended to be a replacement for careful study of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (Section 504), Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (Title II), and their implementing regulations. The IDEA, its implementing regulations, and other important documents related to the IDEA can be found at http://sites.ed.gov/idea. For more information on the requirements of Section 504 and Title II, and their implementing regulations, please consult https://www2.ed.gov/policy/rights/guid/ocr/disabilityoverview.html.

[1] This document does not address when to dismiss a child or close a school or Part C state lead agency because school officials should work with their local health departments to make those decisions. School personnel and Part C EIS programs and providers, however, may consult the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC's) guidance for recommendations regarding social distancing and school closure. The CDC's Web site contains information addressing both state and local public health officials and school administrators for school (K-12) responses to COVID-19 and resources for child care and early childhood programs. These documents, along with other recommendations, may be accessed at https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/community/index.html.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A. Implementing Part B of the IDEA and Section 504 during a COVID-19 outbreak

Question A-1: Is an LEA required to continue to provide a free appropriate public education (FAPE) to students with disabilities during a school closure caused by a COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: The IDEA, Section 504, and Title II of the ADA do not specifically address a situation in which elementary and secondary schools are closed for an extended period of time (generally more than 10 consecutive days) because of exceptional circumstances, such as an outbreak of a particular disease.

If an LEA closes its schools to slow or stop the spread of COVID-19, and does not provide any educational services to the general student population, then an LEA would not be required to provide services to students with disabilities during that same period of time. Once school resumes, the LEA must make every effort to provide special education and related services to the child in accordance with the child's individualized education program (IEP) or, for students entitled to FAPE under Section 504, consistent with a plan developed to meet the requirements of Section 504. The Department understands there may be exceptional circumstances that could affect how a particular service is provided. In addition, an IEP Team and, as appropriate to an individual student with a disability, the personnel responsible for ensuring FAPE to a student for the purposes of Section 504, would be required to make an individualized determination as to whether compensatory services are needed under applicable standards and requirements.

If an LEA continues to provide educational opportunities to the general student population during a school closure, the school must ensure that students with disabilities also have equal access to the same opportunities, including the provision of FAPE. (34 CFR §§ 104.4, 104.33 (Section 504) and 28 CFR § 35.130 (Title II of the ADA)). SEAs, LEAs, and schools must ensure that, to the greatest extent possible, each student with a disability can be provided the special education and related services identified in the student's IEP developed under IDEA, or a plan developed under Section 504. (34 CFR §§ 300.101 and 300.201 (IDEA), and 34 CFR § 104.33 (Section 504)).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Question A-2: Must an LEA provide special education and related services to a child with a disability who is absent for an extended period of time because the child is infected with COVID-19, while the schools remain open?

Answer: Yes. It has long been the Department's position that when a child with a disability is classified as needing homebound instruction because of a medical problem, as ordered by a physician, and is home for an extended period of time (generally more than 10 consecutive school days), an individualized education program (IEP) meeting is necessary to change the child's placement and the contents of the child's IEP, if warranted. Further, if the IEP goals will remain the same and only the time in special education will change, then the IEP Team may add an amendment to the IEP stating specifically the amount of time to be spent in special education. If a child with a disability is absent for an extended period of time because of a COVID-19 infection and the school remains open, then the IEP Team must determine whether the child is available for instruction and could benefit from homebound services such as online or virtual instruction, instructional telephone calls, and other curriculum-based instructional activities, to the extent available. In so doing, school personnel should follow appropriate health guidelines to assess and address the risk of transmission in the provision of such services. The Department understands there may be exceptional circumstances that could affect how a particular service is provided.

If a child does not receive services after an extended period of time, a school must make an individualized determination whether and to what extent compensatory services may be needed, consistent with applicable requirements, including to make up for any skills that may have been lost.

Question A-3: What services must an LEA provide if a public school for children with disabilities is selectively closed due to the possibility of severe complications from a COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: If a public school for children with disabilities is closed solely because the children are at high risk of severe illness and death, the LEA must determine whether each dismissed child could benefit from online or virtual instruction, instructional telephone calls, and other curriculum-based instructional activities, to the extent available. In so doing, school personnel should follow appropriate health guidelines to assess and address the risk of transmission in the provision of such services. The Department understands there may be exceptional circumstances that could affect how a particular service is provided.

If a child does not receive services during a closure, a child's IEP team (or appropriate personnel under Section 504) must make an individualized determination whether and to what extent compensatory services may be needed, consistent with applicable requirements, including to make up for any skills that may have been lost.

Question A-4: If a child with a disability at high risk of severe medical complications is excluded from school during an outbreak of COVID-19 and the child's school remains open, is the exclusion considered a change in educational placement subject to the protections of 34 CFR §§ 300.115 and 300.116 and 34 CFR §§ 104.35 and 104.36.

Answer: If the exclusion is a temporary emergency measure (generally 10 consecutive school days or less), the provision of services such as online or virtual instruction, instructional telephone calls, and other curriculum-based instructional activities, to the extent available, is not considered a change in placement. During this time period, a child's parent or other IEP team member may request an IEP meeting to discuss the potential need for services if the exclusion is likely to be of long duration (generally more than 10 consecutive school days). For long-term exclusions, an LEA must consider placement decisions under the IDEA's procedural protections of 34 CFR §§ 300.115 – 300.116, regarding the continuum of alternative placements and the determination of placements.

Under 34 CFR § 300.116, a change in placement decision must be made by a group of persons, including the parents and other persons knowledgeable about the child and the placement options. If the placement group determines that the child meets established high-risk criteria and, due to safety and health concerns, the child's needs could be met through homebound instruction, then under 34 CFR §300.503(a)(1), the public agency must issue a prior written notice proposing the change in placement. A parent who disagrees with this prior written notice retains all of the due process rights included in 34 CFR §§ 300.500-300.520.

For children with disabilities protected by Section 504 who are dismissed from school during an outbreak of COVID-19 because they are at high risk for health complications, compliance with the procedures described above and completion of any necessary evaluations of the child satisfy the evaluation, placement and procedural requirements of 34 CFR §§ 104.35 and 104.36. The decision to dismiss a child based on his or her high risk for medical complications must be based on the individual needs of the child and not on perceptions of the child's needs based merely on stereotypes or generalizations regarding his or her disability.

Question A-5: May an IEP Team consider a distance learning plan in a child's IEP as a contingency plan in the event of a COVID-19 outbreak that requires the school's closure?

Answer: Yes. IEP teams may, but are not required to, include distance learning plans in a child's IEP that could be triggered and implemented during a selective closure due to a COVID-19 outbreak. Such contingent provisions may include the provision of special education and related services at an alternate location or the provision of online or virtual instruction, instructional telephone calls, and other curriculum-based instructional activities, and may identify which special education and related services, if any, could be provided at the child's home.

Creating a contingency plan before a COVID-19 outbreak occurs gives the child's service providers and the child's parents an opportunity to reach agreement as to what circumstances would trigger the use of the child's distance learning plan and the services that would be provided during the dismissal.

Question A-6: What activities other than special education and related services may and may not be provided with IDEA Part B funds both prior to and during a COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: IDEA Part B funds may be used for activities that directly relate to providing, and ensuring the continuity of, special education and related services to children with disabilities. For example, an LEA may use

IDEA Part B funds to disseminate health and COVID-19 information that is specifically related to children with disabilities, to develop emergency plans for children with disabilities, or to provide other information (e.g., guidance on coordination of the provision of services in alternate locations as described in Question A-5) to parties who may need such information, including school staff responsible for implementing IEPs, parents of eligible children, and staff in alternate locations where special education and related services may be provided. LEAs, however, may not use IDEA Part B funds to develop or distribute general COVID-19 guidance or to carry out activities that are not specific to children with disabilities (e.g., general COVID-19 activities for all children and staff). Additionally, LEAs may not use IDEA Part B funds to administer future COVID-19 vaccinations to any children, including children with disabilities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

B. IDEA Part C and COVID-19

Question B-1: Must a state lead agency continue to provide early intervention services to infants and toddlers with disabilities during a COVID-19 outbreak if the offices are closed?

Answer: If the offices of the state lead agency or the EIS program or provider are closed, then Part C services would not need to be provided to infants and toddlers with disabilities and their families during that period of time. If the lead agency's offices are open but the offices of the EIS program or provider in a specific geographical area are closed due to public health and safety concerns as a result of a COVID-19 outbreak in that area, the EIS program or provider would not be required to provide services during the closure. If the offices remain open, but Part C services cannot be provided in a particular location (such as in the child's home), by a particular EIS provider, or to a particular child who is infected with COVID-19, then the lead agency must ensure the continuity of services by, for example, providing services in an alternate location, by using a different EIS provider, or through alternate means, such as consultative services to the parent.

Additionally, once the offices re-open, the service coordinator and EIS providers for each child must determine if the child's service needs have changed and determine whether the individualized family service plan (IFSP) team needs to meet to review the child's IFSP to determine whether any changes are needed. If offices are closed for an extended period and services are not provided for an extended period, the IFSP team must meet under 34 CFR § 303.342(b)(1) to determine if changes are needed to the IFSP and to determine whether compensatory services are needed to address the infant or toddler's developmental delay.

Question B-2: What should a state lead agency or EIS program provider do to provide Part C services if its offices are open, but it cannot provide services in accordance with an infant's or toddler's IFSP during a COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: If the offices remain open, but Part C services cannot be provided in a particular location (such as in the child's home), by a particular EIS provider, or to a particular child who is infected with COVID-19, then the lead agency must ensure the continuity of services, on a case-by-case basis and consistent with protecting the health and safety of the student and those providing services to the student. As an example, the lead agency may consider providing services in an alternate location, by using a different EIS provider, or through alternate means, such as consultative service to the parent. Once services are fully resumed, the service coordinator and EIS providers for each child must assess the child to determine if the child's service needs have changed and to determine whether the IFSP Team needs to meet to review the child's IFSP to identify whether changes to the IFSP are needed. If the offices are closed and services are not provided for an extended period, the IFSP Team must meet under 34 CFR § 303.342(b)(1) to determine if changes are needed to the IFSP and to determine whether compensatory services are needed.

If an EIS provider cannot provide Part C services in the child's home during a COVID-19 outbreak, but the EIS program or provider determines that it is safe to provide face-to-face Part C services in another environment such as a hospital or medical clinic, then the child could receive temporary services at the hospital or clinic. Additionally, if the lead agency or EIS provider determines that face-to-face Part C services should not be provided for a period of time, then the EIS provider or service coordinator may consult with the parent through a teleconference or other alternative method (such as e-mail or video conference), consistent with privacy interests, to provide consultative services, guidance, and advice as needed. However, determining how to provide Part C services in a manner that is consistent with the most updated public health and safety guidance is left to the discretion of the lead agency and the EIS program and provider serving a particular child and family.

Question B-3: What activities other than service provision may and may not be provided with IDEA Part C funds both prior to and during a potential COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: IDEA Part C funds may be used for activities that directly relate to providing, and ensuring the continuity of, Part C services to eligible children and their families. The state may use IDEA Part C funds to disseminate health and COVID-19 information to relevant parties, develop emergency plans to support the provision and continuity of

Part C services, or provide other information (e.g., how the lead agency staff or EIS programs or providers may provide alternate services or services in alternate locations as described in Question B-2) to relevant parties who need this information. Relevant parties may include parents of eligible children, childcare centers, staff in other locations where early intervention services are provided, EIS programs and providers, and primary referral sources. Other activities that relate to service provision, including the provision of service coordination, evaluations, and assessments, may also be funded. The state may not, however, use IDEA Part C funds to administer future COVID-19 vaccinations as it is a medical service under 34 CFR §303.13(c)(3).

Hello,

Due to a stay home order our governor issued effective 3/25 we will be disbursing FSA credit balances through direct deposit remotely but, as far as our students who elect paper checks we need to go to the school and print checks. My question is with our start date being 3/30/2020 the seventh day of the payment period would be Monday April 6, 2020. My question is we are able to print checks on Tuesday April 7, 2020 for these students. Would that be fine to disburse paper checks on April 7th due to COVID-19 events and stay home order issued in our state?

Thank you,

Special provisions for books and supplies

In order to academically succeed in a program, a student must be able to purchase books and supplies at the beginning of the academic period. Therefore, by the seventh day of a payment period, a school must provide a way for a student who is eligible for FSA funds to obtain or purchase the books and supplies required for the payment period if

- ten days before the beginning of the payment period, the school could have disbursed FSA funds to the student; and
- disbursement of those funds would have created an FSA credit balance.

Importance: High

Patrick,

Yesterday Kansas school districts began receiving the Title 2, Part A LEA Survey via an email from IES. The email states that the surveys are to be submitted by April 8th. Ordinarily that would be a sufficient timeframe for our districts to respond, but these are extraordinary times, and the state of Kansas has effectively ordered all school buildings closed through at least May 1st in response to the COVID-19 crisis. For many districts this limits staff ability to readily access the records that they need in order to complete the survey. At the same time, Kansas districts are busy coordinating outreach to families and implementing plans for continuous education for students.

In light of these circumstances, Kansas requests an extension of the deadline the for the Title 2, Part A LEA Survey for all Kansas LEAs to no earlier than May 15, 2020.

We are happy to address any questions, and appreciate your assistance with this matter.

Aloha e Joanne,

We hope that you and your team are keeping safe. We are trying to do our part to flatten the pandemic curve but every day there are more and more new cases reported here in Hawaii. Attached is a memo from PIDF which we ask you and the Director to review and consider.

Please let us know if you have any questions and we look forward to hearing from you.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

March 20, 2020

Aloha,

Per our Governor's press release on March 16, 2020 at 2pm, we have now activated the Hawaii Emergency Management Agency (HI-EMA) that is working under the Federal Emergency Management Agency in order to request federal assistance and implement local responses consistent with FEMA guidelines. The newly appointed director of HI-EMA stated that we need to make assumptions that we have to plan for a community wide spread. According to NIH Director Dr. Anthony Fauci, if we wait until we have a handful of community spread cases before we take steps to implement social distancing, it will be too late.

Partners in Development Foundation is seeking to be proactive and comply with both federal and state guidelines to assist in flattening the curve of the COVID-19 pandemic spread and have thus initiated an Emergency Alternative Track plan. In general, this means that we are asking our exempt staff to work remotely if their positions allow for this and all non-exempt staff to stay home if at all possible. We also follow the State DOE's schedule for our teaching programs and yesterday, the Governor announced that the State's public and public charter schools will be extending their spring break for two (2) additional weeks through April 6, 2020.

It is recognized that federal and/or state requirements for charging the respective grants are tied to actual hours worked on the program/grant. However, this COVID-19 crisis is beyond the control of our employees and in order to flatten the spread of the disease, we want staff to be able to stay home without the worry of not being able to pay their rent, groceries, car payment or other expenses. Thus, we would like to request that the USDOE allow the NHEP grantees to continue to pay our employees without having to first exhaust their personal days or vacation balance as they are being asked to not report to work during this national state of emergency. In PIDF's case, we would request that this be allowed effective Monday, March 16, 2020.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Here are some examples of the dilemma that we are facing. Non-exempt staff are supposed to be supervised and are not allowed to work from home based on Department of Labor laws; however, now due to the COVID-19, guidelines are being provided to allow some to work remotely. Majority of the non-exempt staff's work are generally performed at their worksite or interacting with program participants. In one program, for some exempt teaching staff, they may be able to work from home to do lesson plans, etc.; however, we expect that they will complete the bulk of those duties within a short period of time as much of their job is focused on their interactions with the families. Another complication that has just come up is that the majority of sites where we hold our program have been closed, some for a couple of weeks and others until the end of April. In another program, there are exempt teaching staff who function as substitutes for school teachers who participate in professional development cycles; if the schools close, then there will be no professional development cycles. Thus there may be exempt staff, due to the nature of their job, who may also be unable to work from home.

Although it was PIDF's intention to fully implement the Emergency Alternative Track plan, the prospect of some staff (non-exempt and some exempt as described above) not being paid due to not having enough personal days or vacation leave or not wanting to exhaust all available personal days or vacation leave has in effect encouraged most staff to continue to come to work. This situation makes complying with the social distancing federal guidelines very challenging. The assurance of personnel compensation through the respective federal grant or other funding source for these staff will enable them to stay at home, thus keeping them, their co-workers, and the families we serve safer through social distancing.

We request your consideration of our request and look forward to your response.

Mahalo,

Good Afternoon,

I was asked by our project officer to direct my update and questions toward this email address. This information was sent this morning.

As an update to our situation here, as of yesterday all Oklahoma Public School districts have been directed to complete the school year through distance learning and all activities are cancelled. Administrations have until April 6 to submit to the State their plan for distance learning to ensure inclusivity for all students within their district. Schools have been directed to remain closed until June 30 with no on site activities. This closure of our schools will of course have a significant effect on our ability to complete our goals and objectives. We had significant plans toward summer school initiatives, which will now not be possible.

In addition, Chickasaw Nation facilities are closed at this time until April 15. Mission critical staff are the only personnel required to report to work at this time. All personnel within our NYCP grant have been asked to stay at home until April 15 at minimum. So, right now I am the only staff person working in office at this time. Salaries will continue to be paid for all staff.

I have a couple of questions as to how best to proceed from here. First, will you all be offering any conference calls or guidance toward our programs in the coming weeks or will guidance be on a one on one basis? Second, how has the COVID-19 crisis affected reporting requirements (i.e. annual report deadline)? How has the crisis affected the opportunities available for the new funding cycle? Will funding still be available and will this delay the processes involved in posting a NOFO?

Your guidance is appreciated. Stay safe!

Dear Dr. Moore,

Montgomery County Public Schools in Maryland are closed and the date of re-opening is tentatively scheduled for April 24, although that date is none too certain. Our program has allocated monies for end-of -year test preparation sessions for 8th to 12th graders and a college field trip for students, both of which are now on hold. Would it be possible to request a grant extension through September 30, 2020 for our grant? That would allow time to re-schedule our activities. Thank you for your help in this uncertain time.

Dear Respected Grantor:

The Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community ("SRPMIC") has undertaken unprecedented measures to deter the spread of the coronavirus within the community. These measures will influence the services the Tribe will be able to provide to its membership. The SRPMIC recognizes that in the long term the impacts of the coronavirus will be mitigated and that it is essential to preserve program infrastructure so that we can quickly resume services once the mitigation occurs. These actions are being taken in response to the SRPMIC declaring a public health emergency that is considered necessary and reasonable given the circumstances.

The SRPMIC is requesting that granting agencies assist with this plan to allow the Tribe to continue paying staff wages and fringe benefits from your program and additional flexibility in budgeting line items that are no longer relevant. Social distancing will define the types of services that can be provided. In the interim staff will be involved in strategic planning and taking a self-reflection of programs to determine how services can be provided more effectively once Tribal operations fully resume.

We intend to pay our employees their normal wages during this period for all programs, including those from federal grant funds as well as all other non-federally supported programs. We will continue to request those employees who can work remotely to continue to do so. All wages paid during this time is in accordance with the SRPMIC's overall policies or specifically approved by the Community Council.

This request is consistent with the OMB memorandum M-20-17, issued on March 19, 2020, titled "Administrative Relief for Recipients and Federal Assistance Directly Impacted by the Novel Coronavirus (COVID -19) due to Loss of Operations". The purpose of this request is to have the provisions outlined in this memorandum apply to non-Federal funding sources also.

We greatly appreciate your flexibility and consideration of this request and look forward to working with you to partner with us to preserve the program infrastructure. In this regard we will continue to fund staff from programs supported by your grant unless otherwise directed.

If you have any questions please contact Ms. Laurie Lus, Finance Director, Laurie.Lus@SRPMIC-nsn.gov or (480)362–7838.

Sincerely

Good Afternoon,

I have read the correspondence regarding ED student loan garnishments. From the reading it indicates that employers should stop the federal student loan garnishments for 60 days from 3/13. We stopped the federal loans for our pay period 3/27. However, I am receiving conflicting information. A counterpart has indicated that we should continue to withheld until we receive notification for each employee directly from ED.

A few questions

1. Should we be waiting to receive documentation from ED before stopping the garnishments for the 60 day period?
2. Will ED refund the deductions received prior to 3/2(date of announcement)?

Thank you in advance for your response.

Hello! Could you please share this with your area schools, on this webpage?
https://www.ed.gov/coronavirus

We've compiled a list of artists, entertainers, scientists and youth motivational speakers available for online, virtual, and e-learning applications. Contact Academic Entertainment 800-883-9883 or info@academicentertainment.com to schedule dates/times for your students. And please, check back frequently, more opportunities will be added!

Music Technology Virtual Movie Trailer Workshops
$1990 half day (up to 2 virtual workshops)
$3250 (full day) up to 5 virtual workshops)
Capacity 15-30 students per virtual workshop. Each workshop is 30-40 minutes in length.

Using your schools existing e-learning applications, Brent Daniels brings the techniques and technology he uses to produce and compose music for some of Hollywood's biggest movie trailers (such as Marvel's Black Panther & Disney's A Wrinkle In Time) to the virtual classroom. Program content is variable depending on grade and experience level, making this online workshop suitable for grades 4 - 12, accommodating students with no musical background all the way up to experienced musicians, budding music producers or composers interested in a career in music. In a typical virtual workshop for students with little or no musical training, Brent will:

1. Show students one or more of the trailers in which his music is used and play the original music composed and produced for the trailers.
2. Break down sonic and musical components from his music which are synced by trailer editors with the film's visuals.
3. Introduce students to the concepts in sound design, composition, and music production necessary for trailer music production
4. Combine those elements to create a short example of a trailer-style music cue.

Middle and High School music students with some experience in music technology and production may benefit from a more customized or in-depth form of the online workshop, which Brent can provide. They also may have advanced questions about the process of music production or careers in the music industry. Brent's online workshops are an excellent place to find answers and insight.

to your students while he teaches through his live interactive website. It's SO cool! Your school has an opportunity to collaborate with the artist to choose the lessons for your live webcast assemblies from his list of absolutely awesome art inspirations---your students can choose where they want to travel with their imaginations! Will you have Mr. Mark webcasting live from: his Antarctic Penguin Research Station, "The Land of Dinosaurs", OR the surface of the moon?! You can choose to have the students receive the live webcast in your cafeteria, gym, in individual classrooms, or from home. A week prior to your event, you'll work with Mark to test logistics (internet connection, audio, sound, etc.). Just like with Mark's in person "Dare to Draw!" school assemblies, at least two FULL HOUR live webcast assemblies are scheduled; one for younger students and one for older students. This way, his lessons can be tailored for the skills and abilities of each age group. And, just like with the in-person program, students and teachers only need pencils, paper and a clipboard, slate or book to use as a lap desk if there are not tables or desks to participate in the live webcast. Sitting on the floor also works great! Contact Academic Entertainment 800-883-9883 or info@academicentertainment.com for dates/times.

Subject: TIV Credit Balance and EFA

In response to, "AskRegs Update: Can We Hold the Title IV Credit Balance Until the Next Award Year If We Refund Institutional Charges Due To Coronavirus?", NASFAA included the following guidance: "Note: Once you deliver the Title IV credit balance to the student or parent for the current award year, those funds belong to the student or parent and must be used to cover educational expenses. If the student or parent then uses those funds to make an advance payment towards next year's charges, it is a payment on the student's account for next year and not estimated financial assistance (EFA) for either award year. This is different from the limited scenario when the school delays a refund of institutional charges and provides an institutional credit towards next year's institutional charges, in which case it is EFA next year."

Can you please explain what it means to "deliver" a TIV credit balance? Must we cut a check? We want to make sure we understand fully so that we do not create a situation that requires us to use the TIV credit balance as EFA next year. Families are suffering enough. To have to then treat a credit balance as EFA seems like an unnecessary penalty. We'd prefer to create the credit this year and encourage the student to use it as prepayment for next year, but how can we do this or suggest this within the regulations?

Thank you and stay well,

Not sure who to send this question too but can you explain why you are only giving people's treasury offset of taxes back if they filed after march 13? Why are they in more need of keeping their taxes over someone like me that filed my taxes and had them taken for student loans but I am in the same position as the person who filed after march 13 in dealing with this pandemic. I hope someone reads this and realizes that it shouldn't matter when you filed as to if you are going to have your taxes returned when we all are in need of this money so we can provide for our family. I hope to hear some response to this because I am positive I'm not the only one affected by this. Thank you.

Good morning,

I'm the liaison for SBECA in the South Bronx and I'm having difficulty connecting several of my families to the free Wifi services. Spectrum is telling them they don't serve the 10455 zip code in which we are located and I'm wondering if you all know of any free services that do, or any other suggestions.

Also, are city family shelters providing wifi for students to be able to complete school work? How can I better advocate for this for my families in a shelter?

Thank you for your assistance.

Due to this unprecedented time, can KDE apply for a waiver on the three year requirement for 15% carryover limitation for LEAs for FY19 funds? Since schools have been closed and may be closed the remaining of the year, I am sure districts will be applying for the 15% carryover waiver. However, there will be some districts which may have requested a wavier previously and be in the three year window. Thanks

Does your March 25th announcement of a halt of collection actions and wage garnishments apply to commercially-held FFEL loans as well as to ED-held FFEL loans?

Few borrowers understand the difference between Direct and FFEL loans, let alone how to distinguish between commercially-held and ED-held FFEL loans. Our low-income clients and borrowers served by the civil legal aid community need clarity and relief from collections--especially during this time.

I look forward to your response.

Subject: Request permission to shorten calendar

Hi Cheryl,

As advised by the Department of Education March 5th, 2020, Electronic Announcement we are requesting a temporary reduction in length of our academic calendar for our doctor of medicine program.

> The Department is authorized under 34 CFR § 668.3 to approve a reduced academic year. If at any point an institution determines it will close as the result of a campus health emergency, it may contact the School Participation team to request a temporary reduction in the length of its academic year. –3/6/20 Electronic Announcement

Massachusetts Health and Human Services Secretary Marylou Sudders asked the four Massachusetts Medical Schools to advance graduation of our fourth-year medical students to a date in April to more rapidly expand the capacity of the medical workforce in the Commonwealth in response to the critical needs of our citizens during this pandemic. We would like to shorten our spring semester for the doctor of medicine program by three weeks; our academic year would still exceed the required 30 weeks.

The Boston University Medical School Student Evaluation and Promotions Committee will review each student status and determine that students have completed all of their requirements for graduation by April 10, 2020 and a virtual graduation is planned on Friday, April 17, 2020 for those who have met requirements.

It's critical that this temporary reduction to our academic calendar for our doctor of medicine program be granted by the Department of Education so that our students can be help meet the urgent need for medical professionals.

Subject: Verification & C-Code Resolution
Importance: High

Good afternoon,

I am a financial aid advisor at Salem University (School Code: 003820) and I have had some perspective students unable to complete verification requirements due to closures caused by COVID-19. Here are a few examples.

1. Perspective student lives in NY and was selected for V4 verification on her 2019-20 & 2020-21 FAFSAs. She sent over the front and back copy of her unexpired ID but she is unable to travel due to a shelter-in-place order to get her Statement of Educational Purposes form notarized in person. We have been unable to find any online solutions for this requirement. We are not able to clear the verification without this

2. Perspective student did not register for Selective Service due to being incarcerated. He provided satisfactory documentation to both us and Selective Service however Selective Service's offices closed prior to processing his request. They are not able to generate a Selective Service response letter

3. Perspective student has V4 verification on his 2019-20 FAFSA and has provided all required documentation except for his high school transcript. We ordered the transcript but his school is closed due to the Coronavirus. The Department of Education in that state has not offered any electronic means of sending the documentation.

Thank you in advance for your assistance.

Subject: 4th year medical students - graduating early

Good morning:

We have been asked by state authorities to permit our 4th year medical students to graduate 3 weeks early to assist on the front lines of the COVID-19 pandemic. In this scenario, our semester would still be 16 weeks in length and our academic year would still exceed 30 weeks. In terms of Title IV aid, this population would be eligible for Direct Loans.

- Are there restrictions to offer this that would require ED approval?
- Could we offer to all students and allow them to opt out or must we make a decision to graduate all?
- Would this impact student eligibility as all loans have been disbursed?
- What would be required on our end for Direct Loan processing? Would we need to alter the loan period for each student affected? We would obviously report the graduation date to NSLDS but are there other unforeseen issues with Direct Loans to consider?
- What unintended consequences would we need to consider if this was approved?

Thank you for your assistance.

They requested cleaning supplies; however, there are other cost-effective options, so I point the user to that guidance / infographic.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dear Ms. Mercer:

Thank you for contacting the U.S. Department of Education (Department) concerning COVID-19 ("Coronavirus").

These are challenging times for schools and communities, and administrators and public health officials are facing difficult decisions related to preventing the spread of this respiratory disease. Unfortunately, there are no easy answers.

Regarding your question, please note that the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act, or CARES Act, recently passed by Congress will provide billions of dollars in emergency aid, including $3 billion which would be set aside for emergency relief funds that governors can use for schools in areas severely affected by the outbreaks, and another $13.5 billion that will go towards elementary and secondary school relief funding. These funds will be critical for schools and communities to protect students, staff, and families.

For further information, please note that the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available.

Thank you for sharing your concerns with us. We invite you to send questions on which the Department can be helpful to the following email address: COVID-19@ed.gov.

To whom it may concern at Department of Ed,

I would be grateful if the Department of Ed would lead the charge against the spread of COVID19 by putting out a directive to require schools to teach hand-washing technique in a short assembly, and to send a how-to-sheet home with the children. This would help to educate their parents as well. It is known that hand washing is the number one effective method for staying safe. My seven year old daughter has a pre-existing lung condition that puts her at risk. There would be far-reaching benefits to educating the children and having them educate their parents.

Interim Guidance for Administrators of US Childcare Programs and K-12 Schools

Plan, Prepare and Respond to Coronavirus Disease 2019

Schools should continue to collaborate, share information, and review plans with local health officials to help protect the whole school community, including those with special health needs. School plans should be designed to minimize disruption to teaching and learning and protect students and staff from social stigma and discrimination. Plans can build on everyday practices (e.g., encouraging hand hygiene, monitoring absenteeism, communicating routinely) that include strategies for before, during, and after a possible outbreak.

I am hoping to get some clarification regarding the new COVID-19 guidelines for schools since I am getting conflicting and, quite frankly, confusing messages from my Lee County school.

First of all regarding self isolation after international travel: is this required for high risk countries or all countries? From what I understand the CDC is requiring self isolation after cruise ship travel and travel to high risk countries, other travel requires screening by your physician or local health department. Is the FL department of education taking a different stance than the CDC?

Secondly, the school closures after spring break: is this just public schools or private and public schools?

I am also a local pediatrician and would like to have some straightforward information for my patients.

Dear Mr. Melita:

Thank you for contacting the U.S. Department of Education (Department) concerning COVID-19 ("Coronavirus").

These are challenging times for schools and communities, and administrators and public health officials are facing difficult decisions related to preventing the spread of this respiratory disease. Unfortunately, there are no easy answers.

While there is currently no vaccine to prevent COVID-19, public health officials are currently taking steps to prevent the spread of this respiratory disease. Schools can play an important role in this effort. Through collaboration and coordination with local health authorities and other agencies, schools can disseminate important information about this disease and its potential transmission.

Please note that the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) offers the most up-to-date information on COVID-19. Schools can share relevant CDC fact sheets to help students, families, and staff understand COVID-19, along with steps they can take to protect themselves. For further information, please visit www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-nCoV.

In addition, the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools and communities as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available.

Thank you for sharing your thoughts with us. We invite you to send questions on which the Department can be helpful to the following email address: COVID-19@ed.gov.

Sincerely,

The COVID-19 Response Team

The the US Department of Education,

What are you doing for the quarantine?

Our schools and teachers are out here making everything happen on the fly. You've provided no assistance or directions to families.

Where is your leadership?

Your agency is a disgrace and everyday you exist all of you should feel deeply ashamed of yourselves for abandoning the nation.

One of you needs to step up and take charge. Your silence will echo throughout history and no one will forget when our system was collapsing you did nothing.

Ever watchful,

Good Afternoon:

As we face the Covid-19 pandemic, our federal grant program, Project Impact, is also faced with adversity and concern. Below is an email from Chief Batton of the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma implementing the closure of all administrative offices effective March 24.

Currently, we have been forced to cancel all face to face meetings with grant evaluators and rely solely by email and phone correspondence. Another obstacle we vision is the ability to accurately report financial data due to the accounting department work from home situation. As you may already know, the Oklahoma State Board of Education voted unanimously on Wednesday, March 25, to cancel all public schools for the remaining 2019-2020 school year. Our program has had to cancel numerous events and we are working tirelessly with our school district to provide adequate online instruction methods.

Thank you for your time, and we appreciate any and all consideration for an extension of the May 1 deadline for the Annual Performance Reports.

Due to the current situation, Choctaw Nation has had to identify positions as mission critical for the purposes of continuity of government and the protection of public health. All personnel not identified as mission critical are required to work from home effective tomorrow, March 24. Mission critical on-site personnel are still required to report to work locations. If you have questions about your position's classification, please contact your supervisor or executive director for specific guidance. Healthcare, public safety and associates required to support operations at Choctaw Nation Travel Plazas, Country Markets and Chili's are considered mission critical on-site personnel. We appreciate how the associates in mission critical positions support the infrastructure of our tribal government, community, state and nation. Your role in providing healthcare, food and other life essential items and services, supporting the transportation infrastructure (truck drivers and operators) and enabling continuity of government are imperative.

Choctaw Nation will be closing its administrative offices to the public on March 24 and encouraging tribal members to contact Member Services departments via phone, email or other distance communication methods. We will be prioritizing Healthcare, Emergency Services, Food Distribution, LIHEAP and other critical member services. Tribal members may expect interruptions and delays to some tribal services during this time.

If you are able to work from home, please continue to do so as you are supporting the continuity of tribal operations. If you are unable to perform your job function from home and are not considered a mission critical function during this time, the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma will continue to provide full pay and benefits through April 6. We will provide further updates in regards to pay, benefits, and the return to normal operations as we continue to monitor and evaluate this very fluid situation. We encourage all associates to maintain communication with their supervisor and official Choctaw Nation communication channels.

Gary Batton, Chief
Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma

Hi,

To provide some information on our institution that may affect your answer to my question(s):

We are a term-based, non-profit, private, non-attendance taking, graduate institution.

Prior to COVID-19 our students in the clinical part of their education were actively working in their clinical sites. However, since COVID-19 some clinical sites have been temporarily suspended and it is undetermined when sites will allow students to return.

Our Spring term begins 4/6/20 and ends 6/19/20.

If the suspension of a clinical site is lifted and a student is eligible to return on a date within the term, will we be eligible to disburse federal financial aid for that student?

With the new regulations for COVID-19 and R2T4 I have a question in regards to if a student drops a course prior to the start date on their own. We have some courses that were 4 week modules that have not yet started that a student could drop and has already received Pell for. Normally we would reduce the Pell and the student would be responsible to repay a portion of the Pell. We are not able to collect a reason at the time of the drop due to our self-service isn't capable of collecting a reason. Are we to contact the student to find out if it is due to COVID-19 OR are we to follow the Pell calculation rules and adjust the aid accordingly for a course that had not yet started?

Thank you in advance?

Subject: COVID-19 question that relates to grant S299B160027

Dear COVID-19 group,
I just got off the phone/Skype meeting with Angela regarding our upcoming Annual Report, and realized I have a question. I am one of the 2016 Grantees, and in this fiscal year we were scheduled, and had some funds attached, to hold a professional development conference that would feature our Indigenous Roots students' and other ROOTS graduate's in a University sponsored conference. This was one of the goals of our 2016 grant award, and it is reported in the APR. (We are also celebrating the 20th Anniversary of the Indigenous Roots Teacher Education program).
Our plans developed, and we ended up coordinating an all day "Indian Education for All" conference bringing together the University of Nebraska Lincoln College of Education - my college. - with the Winnebago Tribe. (We also got some additional SPENCER grant funds to support bringing elders, etc. to this gathering.) The current ROOTS students and graduates were presenting at the conference, about their experiences in a number of areas. The ROOTS students/graduates were involved in individual presentations in the morning session, and were leading discussion tables in the afternoon on a variety of topics. National experts in Indian Education for All were also presenting. We had invited people from across the state including the Nebraska Commissioner of Education, school administrators, teachers, professors, and all the graduates, current students to attend and present. The event was to take place April 13, 2020 in Winnebago. Last week this conference was cancelled/postponed. It was a perfect opportunity for professional development for ROOTS students and graduates (in any phase of the program) and for them to sit at the table, and become a part of the Indian Education for All discussion in our state.
The ROOTS grant included funds to pay for a fee and some travel, and of course there was extensive planning and coordination time required by the ROOTS staff to pull this off, with students and graduates coming to the conference from across the state and elsewhere. We were coordinating this event for most of this fiscal year, starting 10/1/2019 to the present. (The conference was also financially supported by the Winnebago Tribe, the Spencer grant, etc.)
The collaborators have talked about re-scheduling this conference to take place next fall or sometime next academic year on a day when there is professional development scheduled for teachers in Northeast Nebraska (Winnebago, Macy, Walthill, Santee and Niobrara) and other school districts. My question to you, would it be possible for these grant funds, including the staffing needs, to be carried over into the next fiscal year so that we might make this work in the 2020/2021 academic year? We would have to do this as part of our no-cost extensions since this is our 4th and final year. We did anticipate requesting a no-cost extension, so perhaps this could be a part of that?
I know I will have other COVID-19 grant questions related to individual students. Thank you for your consideration.

I received the following questions via emails. These were sent to me through Allen Pratt (allen-pratt@utc.edu) of the National Rural Education Association from two state-wide (though not affiliated with state government) organizations: 1) Margaret Buckhorn of Iowa School Finance Information Services and 2) ElRoy Burkle of North Dakota Small Organized Schools.

1. Many school districts in Iowa are continuing to pay staff during our schools COVID-19 shutdown, at least for the first four weeks, and will have to consider options if the shutdown is extended. The way school finance works in Iowa, however, districts will have to use general funds to pay for special education teachers and paras, if there isn't relief from documentation concerning the hours used to provide special education services.

   Schools remain concerned that hourly support staff in particular will search for other work or more affordable living circumstances and may not be available to return when school resumes if they have to live on reduced income levels from unemployment insurance, especially if the shutdown is extended. With many school districts budgeting in survival mode for the last several years, there just aren't sufficient local dollars to supplant the salaries of our special education staff. We need them to be ready to jump in and help make up for missed time and services when school resumes.

   Please consider allowing districts to flexibility use special education funds to continue to pay special education staff, which would include some short term relief from the regulations to document hours and services provided if employees are paid by schools for days of shutdown due to COVID-19.

2. Has the Title II carry over cap been removed?

In response to the Covid-19 pandemic, Governor Baker and Health and Human Services Secretary Marylou Sudders have asked the University of Massachusetts Medical School to allow medical students who have fulfilled their graduation requirements to graduate early with a March 31, 2020 graduation date rather than a May 31, 2020 graduation date. Students' academic records will be evaluated on a case by case basis by our education policy committee (EPC) and it is completely voluntary for students. We are not ending instruction for the term, we are only seeking to allow students who have met graduation requirements, as approved by the EPC, to graduate early. This will allow eligible students to join the physician workforce with a provisional license at a critical time when more medical staff are desperately needed. Subject: Questions

Hello,
Hope that you all are well and safe. I recently spoke with some people from our OT program and they had somc questions that students have been asking:
1) For students who will be graduating at the end of this year, will they only receive the standard 6 months of loan payment deferments? The reason for the question is that the students in this program are required to take and pass a test in order to work. The entity that performs the test is not looking to begin testing again until June/July of 2020. This will delay these students from employment due to this requirement as their degrees will confer in May. These students usually will be employed prior to graduation.
2) For students who need to complete fieldwork to graduate, if we were to give them an Incomplete (due to fieldwork placement being unavailable), would they still be considered "enrolled" until their fieldwork is completed?
Thank you,

Q.

Can a student consider a student to be graduate if all courses of the program are completed before the end of the final term of study?

Due to the current emergency situation of COVID-19 this Medical school is considering to graduate students before the end of the term since the students have completed all required courses for graduation.

Students have completed substantially (more than 60% of all scheduled instructional time) and have completed all courses requirements. Cases will be evaluated on case by case to substantiate the completion of the required courses.

Is there a need to adjust DL period dates?

Good Morning Matt and Susan,

I have received a question from Puerto Rico-C about use of funds. I will review the information Kate has posted in the COVID-19 one notebook to see if I can find potential answers on my own. I'd like to run any potential reply past our fiscal team before I set up a call with Ana to discuss specifics.

I'm assuming we need more information such as:

1. what are the specific new tasks
2. which Part C personnel are involved in the tasks
3. how much money are they wanting to use
4. how do the tasks specifically support the needs of infants, toddlers and families in Part C
5. any anticipated impact on direct service delivery if funds are diverted

Anything else??

Good Morning Leslie,

As you know, the Puerto Rico Department of Health is working with the COVID-19 pandemic. Certain professionals are going to be asked to participate in teams as needs arise, such as epidemiologists, social workers, doctors, nurses, program evaluators and program coordinators. We have questions as to whether new tasks related to the public health emergency can be paid with Part C funds. Does OSEP have a guidance on what Part C funds can be used for in the times of the pandemic?

As always, I appreciate your continuous support.

Subject: 4th year medical students - graduating early

Good morning:

We have been asked by state authorities to permit our 4th year medical students to graduate 3 weeks early to assist on the front lines of the COVID-19 pandemic. In this scenario, our semester would still be 16 weeks in length and our academic year would still exceed 30 weeks. In terms of Title IV aid, this population would be eligible for Direct Loans.

- Are there restrictions to offer this that would require ED approval?
- Could we offer to all students and allow them to opt out or must we make a decision to graduate all?
- Would this impact student eligibility as all loans have been disbursed?
- What would be required on our end for Direct Loan processing? Would we need to alter the loan period for each student affected? We would obviously report the graduation date to NSLDS but are there other unforeseen issues with Direct Loans to consider?
- What unintended consequences would we need to consider if this was approved?

Thank you for your assistance.

Subject: Credit Balances Carried to next academic year

Greetings,

Wheaton College will be issuing partial room and board adjustments due to our decision to move to remote classes. When these adjustments post to the student account we will first determine if it creates a Title IV refund and if so process the refund to the student. However, if there is not a Title IV refund required, we will first apply the funds towards an outstanding balance, or if the student is on a payment plan the remaining monthly payments will recalculate to a lower payment amount. If the housing and meal plan adjustments create a credit balance on the account, the student may request a refund. My question is that for students who have a credit balance on the account and are not owed a Title IV refund, are we able to allow the credit balance stay on the student account to be applied towards future charges? Typically we send unsolicited refunds to students for credit balances in June to clear all the accounts before the start of the next fiscal year, but we're wondering if that is required, or if we can let the credits stay on the account. Again, the student may have some Title IV funds in their package but is not due a Title IV refund. Can you please let me know if this is an option? Is there a stipulation about considering these funds as EFA to be coordinated as part of the 2020-21 financial aid award?

Thank you.

Hello,

In reading the COVID-19 Web Center,it states the following:

Return of Title IV Funds
Even in the case of a disruption from COVID-19, an institution must return any Title IV funds for which it is responsible in accordance with the provisions of 34 CFR § 668.22 when a student withdraws. Currently, we do not have the authority to waive the statutory requirement for the return of unearned Title IV funds in the case where a student (who receives Title IV assistance) withdraws from an institution during a payment period or period of enrollment after having begun attendance

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)
An institution's SAP appeal policy (34 CFR § 668.34(a)(9)) must, among other things, describe the basis on which a student may file an appeal: the death of a relative, an injury or illness of the student, or other special circumstances. Circumstances related to an outbreak of COVID-19, including, but not limited to, the illness of a student or family member, compliance with a quarantine period, or the general disruption resulting from such an outbreak may form the basis of a student's SAP appeal even if not specifically articulated in the institution's SAP policy.

Colleges/universities are discussing giving pass/fail grades. Since we will continue to follow SAP and R2T4 guidelines are we able to give pass/fail grades without it impacting the student financial aid award?

Subject: Emergency Notification Requirements during National Emergency

Good afternoon,

I am seeking guidance related to Clery Act Emergency Notification procedures.

Given the extraordinary circumstances of the National Emergency, we have employed various communication strategies to communicate with the entire campus community about COVID-19 and to provide additional communications with those who may have been in contact with a positive COVID-19 case.

Standard emergency notification systems do not allow for the level if information or detail we believe is necessary when communicating about the pandemic with our audiences (i.e., a text message or limited-character email may be insufficient in ensuring our community is well-informed, well-guided, and prepared to respond under these circumstances).

Will there be flexibility afforded to institutions to deviate from their emergency notification policy/procedures to accommodate for more sensitive and thorough communications by IHEs, so long as the appropriate segment(s) of the population are being notified and provided the guidance they need?

Thank you,
Nicole

Hi,

We use third party agencies to administer many of our study abroad programs on behalf of foreign institutions. These agencies sign our consortium agreements. Below is an example of an email that we have received from one of the agencies:

In compliance with the consortium agreement, I am writing to notify you of the enrollment status of the following Saint Anselm College student(s), who used financial aid to pay for the ISA Spring 2020:

(Student Names)

Regrettably, these programs on-site have been cancelled and the students have returned/will be returning to the US. Although the student(s) will not continue the semester abroad, it is important to note that ISA is in contact with all host institutions to discuss the academic options available for students to complete their coursework from a distance. We will continue to communicate with students regarding these options.

Are the students eligible for the aid that they have received if they continue online programs with the host institution? Do we need to have the host institution sign the consortium agreement since the original was signed by the study abroad agency? I am thinking that many schools are struggling with this same issue right now.

Thanks so much for your help.

Greetings,

This email serves as the formal request by Northwest College in Powell WY (OPEID 00393100) to have our 2019-20 Academic Year shortened to 29 weeks due to an extended spring break (break of 5 or more consecutive days) related to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Northwest College, following directives from its Governor (Mark Gordon) temporarily closed our campus to the public, starting 3.15.20. To promote social distancing recommendations, our residence halls closed and our spring break was extended to allow our faculty to transition all face-to-face academic programming to online modalities, which resume on 4.6.20. Our spring break, originally planned to occur from 3.7.20-3.15.20, was extended to last from 3.7.20- 4.5.20, which effectively shortened the number of weeks within the academic year to 29, less than the required 30 week minimum. Eligible days within the spring 2020 semester (used as the denominator for semester R2T4 calculations) were reduced from 106 to 85 due to the spring break extension.

Therefore, following guidance in Federal Student Aid's 3.5.20 Electronic Announcement regarding COVID-19, echoed in NAFAA's Ask Regs entitled "What Factors Do We Need to Consider When Deciding To Extend a Schedule Break Due To Coronavirus"?, I am contacting this COVID-19@ed.gov email address to request a reduction in our 2019-20 academic year to 29 weeks total (16 weeks Fall 2019 + 13 weeks Spring 2020 = 29 total weeks). Please forward this request to the applicable School Participation Division representative.

In addition to the text of this email, please find these attached support documents should they be useful:

- Statewide Orders from Wyoming's Governor Mark Gordon
- Northwest College's notification to employees & students of temporary campus closure & spring break extension
- Northwest College's original 2019-20 academic calendar
- Northwest College's revised 2020 spring semester academic calendar with extended spring break
- Northwest College's College Catalog disclosure that the academic begins/ends each Monday, in conjunction with the College's fiscal year payroll calendar (see definition of "credit hour").
- Northwest College's recalculation of 29 weeks for the revised 2019-20 academic calendar
- Northwest College's 2019-20 library of academic programs

Thank you for your consideration. Please contact me at this email address should you need more information.

Governor Gordon and State Superintendent Jillian Balow issue a recommendation on school closures

CHEYENNE, Wyo. – Due to the unprecedented circumstances facing our state, Governor Mark Gordon and State Superintendent Jillian Balow recommend that all schools remain closed to students through at least April 3. This is a recommendation to local superintendents and school boards, who will make the final decisions on closures. Additionally, decisions relating to the requirement for school district staff to report to work remain with local school boards of trustees. Governor Gordon and Superintendent Balow will continue to monitor COVID-19 developments throughout this three-week period, with the goal of getting students back to classrooms as soon as safely possible.

This recommendation is not necessarily based on epidemiological best practices but is an attempt to allow schools and communities to prepare to operate in a way that mitigates community spread of COVID-19 and minimizes negative economic impacts locally and statewide.

"This is Wyoming, where we are all neighbors," Governor Gordon said. "While social distancing should be a priority for all of us, it should not keep us from helping out our neighbors. I am thinking of our first responders and healthcare workers on the frontlines who may be without child care. This is a time, if the risk is low, to help one another out."

The Governor and State Superintendent urge district leadership to work within their schools and communities to ensure the continuity of learning and essential services as determined locally. "In the midst of this pandemic, communities need the latitude, empowerment, and support to make difficult decisions that affect education, economy, and essential functions," Governor Gordon continued. "While we safeguard the health of every person we must also do our best to continue our daily work for the economic security of our state and nation."

"Evidence of community spread in Fremont County, two confirmed cases in Sheridan County, and pending tests from across the state have led us to this," Superintendent Balow said. "Wyoming has over 90,000 square miles where schooling is an essential function in each community – the decision is difficult."

Social distancing, basic hygiene, and heightened disinfection efforts continue to be the primary means to contain COVID-19 spread. We strongly encourage everyone to continue these practices. Local school districts continue to be empowered to make decisions in consultation with the State Department of Health and local health care officials as to closure and other containment strategies.

Governor Gordon, Superintendent Balow, the State Health Officer, and others will continually evaluate COVID-19 data, guidance from the Center for Disease Control (CDC), and other reliable information to make additional recommendations.

-CDC guidance and other resources are available at https://edu.wyoming.gov/. The State Superintendent is exploring her ability to hold districts harmless from any financial reduction as a result of this ten instructional day loss. In addition, the Wyoming Department of Education has received a waiver from the U.S. Department of Agriculture to allow schools to offer student meals during school closures. STATEWIDE PUBLIC HEALTH ORDER CLOSING BARS, RESTAURANTS, THEATERS, GYMNASIUMS, CHILD CARE FACILITIES, K-12 SCHOOLS, COLLEGES, UNIVERSITIES, AND TRADE SCHOOLS STATEWIDE

In an effort to stop the spread of the coronavirus (COVID-19), the Wyoming Department of Health finds it necessary to protect the health of the public by implementing emergency measures to close all restaurants, bars, theaters, gymnasiums, child care facilities, K-12 schools, colleges, universities, and trade schools, in the State of Wyoming, with certain exceptions. This Order is effective immediately, and shall remain in effect until April 3, 2020.

FINDINGS

1. COVID-19 was first detected in Wuhan, China in 2019, and since then has spread to over 60 countries including the United States. There are 18 confirmed cases of COVID-19 in Wyoming as of March 18, 2020, as well as the presence of community spread. It is expected that more cases will be diagnosed.

2. COVID-19 is a respiratory illness, transmitted through person-to-person contact or by contact with surfaces contaminated with the virus. Persons infected with COVID-19 may become symptomatic two to fourteen days after exposure. The symptoms of COVID-19 include fever, cough, and shortness of breath. In some cases, COVID-19 can result in severe disease including hospitalization, admission to an intensive care unit, and death, especially among older adults and persons with serious underlying health conditions.

3. The World Health Organization declared COVID-19 a worldwide pandemic as of March 11, 2020.

4. On March 13, 2020, the President of the United States declared a national emergency concerning the coronavirus, specifically stating that, in "December 2019 a novel (new) coronavirus known as SARS-CoV-2 ("the virus") was first detected in Wuhan, Hubei Province, People's Republic of China, causing outbreaks of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) that has now spread globally [...] The spread of COVID-19 within our Nation's communities threatens to strain our Nation's healthcare systems. [...] Additional measures [...] are needed to successfully contain and combat the virus in the United States."

5. On March 13, 2020, Wyoming Governor Mark Gordon declared a State of Emergency and Public Health Emergency in the State of Wyoming, stating that on March 11, 2020, an individual within the State of Wyoming tested presumptive positive for COVID-19 and the State of Wyoming is experiencing a public health emergency in response to the evolving COVID-19 outbreak.

6. Governor Gordon's Declaration of a State of Emergency and Public Health Emergency directs the Wyoming Department of Health to take all appropriate and necessary actions, and that in the judgment of the Director of the Wyoming Department of Health, any actions necessary should be taken to provide aid to those locations where there is a threat or danger to public health, safety, and welfare.

7. The guidelines issued from the White House on March 16, 2020, specify that with evidence of community transmission within a state, bars, restaurants, food courts, gyms, and other indoor and outdoor venues where groups of people congregate should be closed.

8. A significant number of Wyoming citizens are at risk of serious health complications, including death, from COVID-19. Although most individuals who contract COVID-19 do not become seriously ill, people with mild symptoms, and even asymptomatic persons with COVID-19, place other vulnerable members of the public at significant risk.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9. Counties in Wyoming have requested orders of this kind following the White House guidelines, and the best manner of protecting the health of the citizens of Wyoming is through a consistent order spanning the entire State.

10. A large number of persons with serious infections has the ability to compromise the ability of healthcare systems in Wyoming to deliver the necessary healthcare to the public.

11. Wyoming Statute §§ 35-1-240(a)(i) and (iv) provides all the rights and powers for the Wyoming Department of Health, through the State Health Officer, Dr. Alexia Harrist, M.D., PhD, or under her directive through other employees of the Wyoming Department of Health, to close theaters, schools, and other public places, and forbid public gatherings when necessary to protect the public health.

12. In addition to the above findings, stopping the spread of COVID-19 includes washing hands often, practicing social distancing by avoiding close contact with others, staying at least six feet away from someone who is ill or showing signs of illness, avoiding touching your face, eyes, nose and mouth, and covering your cough or sneeze into your elbow or by using a tissue.

ORDER

1. The following places of public accommodation are ordered closed to ingress, egress, use, and occupancy by members of the public:

   a. Restaurants, food courts, cafes, coffeehouses, and other similar places of public accommodation offering food or beverage for on-premises consumption;

   b. Bars, taverns, brew pubs, breweries, microbreweries, distillery pubs, wineries, tasting rooms, special licensees, clubs, and other places of public accommodation offering alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption;

   c. Cigar bars;

   d. Gymnasiums; and

   e. Movie and performance theaters, opera houses, concert halls, and music halls.

2. The following conditions apply to places of public accommodation subject to this Order:

   a. Places of public accommodation are encouraged to offer food and beverage using delivery service, window service, walk-up service, drive-through service, or drive-up service, and to use precautions in doing so to mitigate the potential transmission of COVID-19, including social distancing. Online and telephonic credit card transactions are strongly encouraged (e.g. Venmo, Squarecash, Googlepay, Apple Pay and similar payment apps).

   b. Staff who handle cash or credit cards may not be involved in the preparation, handling, or delivery of food.

   c. In offering food or beverage, a place of public accommodation may permit up to five members of the public at one time in the place of public accommodation for the purpose of picking up their food or beverage orders, so long as those individuals are at least six feet apart from one another while on premises.

   d. For hotel restaurants, food items may only be delivered as room service or as described above.

   e. Management shall ensure, on a daily basis, that no employee who presents symptoms of illness will be permitted to work.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3. For clarity, this Order does not apply to any of the following:

   a. Places of public accommodation that offer food and beverage not for on-premises consumption, including grocery stores, markets, retail stores that offer food, convenience stores, pharmacies, drug stores, and food pantries;

   b. Room service in hotels;

   c. Health care facilities, residential care facilities, congregate care facilities, and juvenile justice facilities;

   d. Crisis shelters or similar institutions;

   e. Airport concessionaires; and

   f. Any emergency facilities necessary for the response to the events surrounding the public health emergency and state of emergency caused by COVID-19.

4. All child care centers and home daycares are ordered closed, subject to the following:

   a. Child care centers or home daycares that provide care for children of essential personnel may continue to operate to provide child care for children of essential personnel. Essential personnel includes:

      i. Staff and providers of childcare and education services, including custodial and kitchen staff and other support staff, who do not do their work remotely;

      ii. Providers of healthcare including, but not limited to, employees of clinics, hospitals, nursing homes, long-term care and post-acute care facilities, respite houses, designated agencies, emergency medical services, as well as necessary custodial, kitchen, administrative, and other support staff;

      iii. Criminal justice personnel including those in law enforcement, courts, and correctional services;

      iv. Public health employees;

      v. Firefighters, Wyoming National Guard personnel called to duty for responding to COVID-19, and other first responders;

      vi. State employees determined to be essential for response to the COVID-19 crisis;

      vii. Active duty military staff;

      viii. Pharmacy staff;

      ix. Foster families with children through grade 8;

      x. 2-1-1 and 9-1-1 call center staff; critical infrastructure and utility workers, including electrical, plumbing, telecommunications, water, and wastewater operators, workers, and staff;

      xi. State, municipal, and commercial public works and sanitation crews;

      xii. Grocery and food supply workers;

      xiii. Supply chain, postal, and delivery drivers and warehouse workers;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

xiv. Manufacturers of medical devices, equipment, testing equipment, and supplies;

xv. and fuel distribution workers.

b. In circumstances where a child care center or home daycare remains open, the center or home is required to have fewer than 10 people in a room or together at any time, including for meals or recreation.

c. Further, a child care center or home daycare that remains open is required to follow all health guidelines from the CDC and Wyoming Department of Health for limiting the risk of transmission of COVID-19, to the extent possible when caring for children.

d. As childcare is a critical part of the infrastructure of Wyoming, allowing essential systems to function, in the event a county health officer wants to close a childcare facility under the direction and supervision of the State Health Officer, the County Health Officer shall work with local childcare providers to make available limited childcare services for essential personnel, as described above.

5. All K-12 schools shall dismiss students until no sooner than April 3, 2020, to the extent any school in Wyoming has not already done so. Administrative staff and teachers may continue to work in school buildings to facilitate distance learning or to complete administrative tasks. Food may still be prepared to be made available to those in need, as directed by school superintendents. Classes may still be offered online at the discretion of the school.

6. All colleges, universities, and trade schools shall not hold in person classes until no sooner than April 3, 2020. Administrative staff and teachers may continue to work in facility buildings to facilitate distance learning or to complete administrative tasks. Food may still be prepared to be made available to those in need. Classes may still be offered online at the discretion of the college, university or trade school.

7. This Order supersedes all previous individual county orders authorized by the Wyoming State Health Officer under Wyoming Statute § 35-1-240(a)(iv). To the extent the county order is more restrictive, the more restrictive provisions still apply.

8. Exceptions to the public accommodation sections above (paragraphs 1-3) may be granted, at the discretion of the County Health Officer, under the direction and supervision of the State Health Officer, if the business can demonstrate, in writing, to the County Health Officer that they will limit customers within the business to no more than ten at any given time, that at least 6 feet of space will be maintained between customers at all times, and that effective cleaning will be performed between customers.

As the State Health Officer, I specifically deem this order necessary to protect the public health. See Wyo. Stat. Ann. § 35-1-240(a)(iv). I will reassess the necessity of this order as appropriate to do so and according to accepted epidemiological and medical standards. Any person or legal entity that violates this Order shall be subject to criminal prosecution under Wyo. Stat. Ann. §§ 35-1-105 and -106.

STATEWIDE PUBLIC HEALTH ORDER #2: FORBIDDING GATHERINGS OF TEN (10) PEOPLE OR MORE

In an effort to stop the spread of the coronavirus (COVID-19), the Wyoming Department of Health finds it necessary to protect the health of the public by implementing emergency measures, in accordance with the White House Guidelines, to forbid gatherings of ten (10) people or more, with certain exceptions. This Order is effective immediately, and shall remain in effect until April 3, 2020, unless the Wyoming Department of Health revokes the Order before April 3, 2020.

FINDINGS

1. COVID-19 was first detected in Wuhan, China in 2019, and since then has spread to over 60 countries including the United States. There are 19 confirmed cases of COVID-19 in Wyoming as of March 20, 2020, as well as the presence of community spread. It is expected that more cases will be diagnosed.

The guidelines issued from the White House on March 16, 2020, specify that with evidence of community transmission within a state, bars, restaurants, food courts, gyms, and other indoor and outdoor venues where groups of people congregate should be closed. The guidelines further specify that social gatherings of ten (10) people or more should be avoided.

8. A significant number of Wyoming citizens are at risk of serious health complications, including death, from COVID-19. Although most individuals who contract COVID-19 do not become seriously ill, people with mild symptoms, and even asymptomatic persons with COVID-19, place other vulnerable members of the public at significant risk.

ORDER

1. Gatherings of ten (10) people or more are prohibited in order to help stop the spread of COVID-19 and protect the health of the public.

2. "Gatherings" are any planned or spontaneous event, public or private, bringing together, or likely bringing together, ten (10) people or more in a single room or a single confined space at the same time.

3. Gatherings at the following are exempted from this Order:

l. Alcohol and drug treatment centers; and

m. Long-term care and assisted living facilities, including nursing homes and assisted living facilities, as long as the facility complies with guidance and directives from the CDC, the Wyoming Department of Health, and appropriate licensing and regulatory agencies.

4. Any gathering not covered by this Order should follow the public health recommendations of the Centers for Disease Control and the Wyoming Department of Health, including washing your hands often with soap and water, practicing social distancing by avoiding close contact with others including meetings over ten (10) people, avoiding touching your face, eyes, nose and mouth, and covering your cough or sneeze into your elbow or by using a tissue.

5. Additional exceptions to the prohibitions in this Order may be granted, at the discretion of the County Health Officer, under the direction and supervision of the State Health Officer, if demonstrated, in writing, to the County Health Officer that people at a gathering will maintain at least six (6) feet of space between one another, and that effective cleaning will be performed before and after the gathering.

Academic Procedures and Policies - Northwest College

Student Placement Testing

Northwest College is dedicated to helping students increase their levels of academic achievement. Faculty and staff want to be sure students start their college work in English and mathematics at the most appropriate level. Many students also need to build reading comprehension skills in order to be successful with college work.

Northwest College requires new students to arrive with an ACT/SAT score and/or to take the ACCUPLACER Placement Test or ALEKS Test, a computerized multiple-choice assessment instrument. A fee is charged for the ACCUPLACER and ALEKS tests. ACT/SAT, ACCUPLACER, or ALEKS scores are used to place students in the correct level of English, mathematics, and reading courses. Students with an ACT/SAT score may take mathematics or English Placement Tests if they believe their ACT/SAT scores do not adequately reflect their abilities.

Registration Procedures

The Semester Class Schedule contains detailed information on course offerings, instructions about registration procedures, and timelines. Students can register for courses through their MyNWC Portal under the Student Planner link.

Credit Hour

For NWC courses, one credit hour is equivalent to (1) one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work each week* for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester hour of credit; or (2) at least an equivalent amount of work as required in definition (1) for other activities as established by Northwest College, including laboratory work, internships, practice, studio work, and other academic work leading toward to the award of credit hours. The NWC Curriculum Committee is charged with reviewing and implementing credit-hour standards and requirements for NWC courses.

*The academic week begins each Monday and ends the subsequent Sunday, in conjunction with the Northwest College fiscal year payroll calendar.

Visit the Register for Classes section of the NWC website for more information.

Student Portal

Current students may view class schedules, register for classes, add classes, drop classes, view grades, check grade point average, update mailing address, review financial aid package, request an official copy of their transcript, or pay fees online at nwc.edu/MyNWC.

Auditing Classes

Students may audit any course. Tuition and fees are still charged. Auditing allows a student the freedom to participate and learn in a classroom setting without traditional academic requirements related to attendance, grading, and testing. No credit is given for audited classes, but they do appear on transcripts.

Class Load

The typical course load for full-time students is 15-20 credits.

Subject: Questions

Hello,
Hope that you all are well and safe. I recently spoke with some people from our OT program and they had somc questions that students have been asking:
1) For students who will be graduating at the end of this year, will they only receive the standard 6 months of loan payment deferments? The reason for the question is that the students in this program are required to take and pass a test in order to work. The entity that performs the test is not looking to begin testing again until June/July of 2020. This will delay these students from employment due to this requirement as their degrees will confer in May. These students usually will be employed prior to graduation.
2) For students who need to complete fieldwork to graduate, if we were to give them an Incomplete (due to fieldwork placement being unavailable), would they still be considered "enrolled" until their fieldwork is completed?
Thank you,

Q.

Can a student consider a student to be graduate if all courses of the program are completed before the end of the final term of study?

Due to the current emergency situation of COVID-19 this Medical school is considering to graduate students before the end of the term since the students have completed all required courses for graduation.

Students have completed substantially (more than 60% of all scheduled instructional time) and have completed all courses requirements. Cases will be evaluated on case by case to substantiate the completion of the required courses.

Is there a need to adjust DL period dates?

Good Morning Matt and Susan,

I have received a question from Puerto Rico-C about use of funds. I will review the information Kate has posted in the COVID-19 one notebook to see if I can find potential answers on my own. I'd like to run any potential reply past our fiscal team before I set up a call with Ana to discuss specifics.

I'm assuming we need more information such as:

1. what are the specific new tasks
2. which Part C personnel are involved in the tasks
3. how much money are they wanting to use
4. how do the tasks specifically support the needs of infants, toddlers and families in Part C
5. any anticipated impact on direct service delivery if funds are diverted

Anything else??

Subject: COVID-19 and Part C funds

Good Morning Leslie,

As you know, the Puerto Rico Department of Health is working with the COVID-19 pandemic. Certain professionals are going to be asked to participate in teams as needs arise, such as epidemiologists, social workers, doctors, nurses, program evaluators and program coordinators. We have questions as to whether new tasks related to the public health emergency can be paid with Part C funds. Does OSEP have a guidance on what Part C funds can be used for in the times of the pandemic?

As always, I appreciate your continuous support.

Subject: 4th year medical students - graduating early

Good morning:

We have been asked by state authorities to permit our 4th year medical students to graduate 3 weeks early to assist on the front lines of the COVID-19 pandemic. In this scenario, our semester would still be 16 weeks in length and our academic year would still exceed 30 weeks. In terms of Title IV aid, this population would be eligible for Direct Loans.

- Are there restrictions to offer this that would require ED approval?
- Could we offer to all students and allow them to opt out or must we make a decision to graduate all?
- Would this impact student eligibility as all loans have been disbursed?
- What would be required on our end for Direct Loan processing? Would we need to alter the loan period for each student affected? We would obviously report the graduation date to NSLDS but are there other unforeseen issues with Direct Loans to consider?
- What unintended consequences would we need to consider if this was approved?

Thank you for your assistance.

Good Morning,
I hope this email finds you well.
Question: As a result of the recent COVID-19 pandemic, we are discussing the idea of adjusting credit hours to a lower amount. For example, instead of the course being 3 credit hours, it will be 2.5 credit hours.
Does the Department of Education allow this and what are the financial aid implications of doing so?
Thank you in advance for your assistance and I look forward to hearing from you.

Subject: Credit Balances Carried to next academic year

Greetings,

Wheaton College will be issuing partial room and board adjustments due to our decision to move to remote classes. When these adjustments post to the student account we will first determine if it creates a Title IV refund and if so process the refund to the student. However, if there is not a Title IV refund required, we will first apply the funds towards an outstanding balance, or if the student is on a payment plan the remaining monthly payments will recalculate to a lower payment amount. If the housing and meal plan adjustments create a credit balance on the account, the student may request a refund. My question is that for students who have a credit balance on the account and are not owed a Title IV refund, are we able to allow the credit balance stay on the student account to be applied towards future charges? Typically we send unsolicited refunds to students for credit balances in June to clear all the accounts before the start of the next fiscal year, but we're wondering if that is required, or if we can let the credits stay on the account. Again, the student may have some Title IV funds in their package but is not due a Title IV refund. Can you please let me know if this is an option? Is there a stipulation about considering these funds as EFA to be coordinated as part of the 2020-21 financial aid award?

Thank you.

Subject: Grades

Hello,

In reading the COVID-19 Web Center,it states the following:

Return of Title IV Funds
Even in the case of a disruption from COVID-19, an institution must return any Title IV funds for which it is responsible in accordance with the provisions of 34 CFR § 668.22 when a student withdraws. Currently, we do not have the authority to waive the statutory requirement for the return of unearned Title IV funds in the case where a student (who receives Title IV assistance) withdraws from an institution during a payment period or period of enrollment after having begun attendance

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)
An institution's SAP appeal policy (34 CFR § 668.34(a)(9)) must, among other things, describe the basis on which a student may file an appeal: the death of a relative, an injury or illness of the student, or other special circumstances. Circumstances related to an outbreak of COVID-19, including, but not limited to, the illness of a student or family member, compliance with a quarantine period, or the general disruption resulting from such an outbreak may form the basis of a student's SAP appeal even if not specifically articulated in the institution's SAP policy.

Colleges/universities are discussing giving pass/fail grades. Since we will continue to follow SAP and R2T4 guidelines are we able to give pass/fail grades without it impacting the student financial aid award?

Subject: Emergency Notification Requirements during National Emergency

Good afternoon,

I am seeking guidance related to Clery Act Emergency Notification procedures.

Given the extraordinary circumstances of the National Emergency, we have employed various communication strategies to communicate with the entire campus community about COVID-19 and to provide additional communications with those who may have been in contact with a positive COVID-19 case.

Standard emergency notification systems do not allow for the level if information or detail we believe is necessary when communicating about the pandemic with our audiences (i.e., a text message or limited-character email may be insufficient in ensuring our community is well-informed, well-guided, and prepared to respond under these circumstances).

Will there be flexibility afforded to institutions to deviate from their emergency notification policy/procedures to accommodate for more sensitive and thorough communications by IHEs, so long as the appropriate segment(s) of the population are being notified and provided the guidance they need?

Thank you,
Nicole

Subject: Question about canceled Study Abroad programs

Hi,

We use third party agencies to administer many of our study abroad programs on behalf of foreign institutions. These agencies sign our consortium agreements. Below is an example of an email that we have received from one of the agencies:

In compliance with the consortium agreement, I am writing to notify you of the enrollment status of the following Saint Anselm College student(s), who used financial aid to pay for the ISA Spring 2020:

(Student Names)

Regrettably, these programs on-site have been cancelled and the students have returned/will be returning to the US. Although the student(s) will not continue the semester abroad, it is important to note that ISA is in contact with all host institutions to discuss the academic options available for students to complete their coursework from a distance. We will continue to communicate with students regarding these options.

Are the students eligible for the aid that they have received if they continue online programs with the host institution? Do we need to have the host institution sign the consortium agreement since the original was signed by the study abroad agency? I am thinking that many schools are struggling with this same issue right now.

Thanks so much for your help.

Northeastern Junior College (OPEID: 00136100) has taken steps to reduce the risk of COVID-19 for our students, staff, and community. This has been communicated to students and staff, with continual updates as warranted.

Below are the steps Northeastern Junior College has taken:

- We have extended our spring break by one week, to allow remote deliver to be set up, thus reducing our spring term by one week. This will reduce the number of weeks for this academic year to 29 weeks.
- We are transitioning the majority of our coursework to remote delivery beginning March 30, 2020.
- Campus will remain open for support services and allow access for critical functions to complete their coursework.

Greetings,

This email serves as the formal request by Northwest College in Powell WY (OPEID 00393100) to have our 2019-20 Academic Year shortened to 29 weeks due to an extended spring break (break of 5 or more consecutive days) related to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Northwest College, following directives from its Governor (Mark Gordon) temporarily closed our campus to the public, starting 3.15.20. To promote social distancing recommendations, our residence halls closed and our spring break was extended to allow our faculty to transition all face-to-face academic programming to online modalities, which resume on 4.6.20. Our spring break, originally planned to occur from 3.7.20-3.15.20, was extended to last from 3.7.20- 4.5.20, which effectively shortened the number of weeks within the academic year to 29, less than the required 30 week minimum. Eligible days within the spring 2020 semester (used as the denominator for semester R2T4 calculations) were reduced from 106 to 85 due to the spring break extension.

Therefore, following guidance in Federal Student Aid's 3.5.20 Electronic Announcement regarding COVID-19, echoed in NAFAA's Ask Regs entitled "What Factors Do We Need to Consider When Deciding To Extend a Schedule Break Due To Coronavirus"?, I am contacting this COVID-19@ed.gov email address to request a reduction in our 2019-20 academic year to 29 weeks total (16 weeks Fall 2019 + 13 weeks Spring 2020 = 29 total weeks). Please forward this request to the applicable School Participation Division representative.

In addition to the text of this email, please find these attached support documents should they be useful:

- Statewide Orders from Wyoming's Governor Mark Gordon
- Northwest College's notification to employees & students of temporary campus closure & spring break extension
- Northwest College's original 2019-20 academic calendar
- Northwest College's revised 2020 spring semester academic calendar with extended spring break
- Northwest College's College Catalog disclosure that the academic begins/ends each Monday, in conjunction with the College's fiscal year payroll calendar (see definition of "credit hour").
- Northwest College's recalculation of 29 weeks for the revised 2019-20 academic calendar
- Northwest College's 2019-20 library of academic programs

Thank you for your consideration. Please contact me at this email address should you need more information.

Governor Gordon and State Superintendent Jillian Balow issue a recommendation on school closures

CHEYENNE, Wyo. – Due to the unprecedented circumstances facing our state, Governor Mark Gordon and State Superintendent Jillian Balow recommend that all schools remain closed to students through at least April 3. This is a recommendation to local superintendents and school boards, who will make the final decisions on closures. Additionally, decisions relating to the requirement for school district staff to report to work remain with local school boards of trustees. Governor Gordon and Superintendent Balow will continue to monitor COVID-19 developments throughout this three-week period, with the goal of getting students back to classrooms as soon as safely possible.

This recommendation is not necessarily based on epidemiological best practices but is an attempt to allow schools and communities to prepare to operate in a way that mitigates community spread of COVID-19 and minimizes negative economic impacts locally and statewide.

"This is Wyoming, where we are all neighbors," Governor Gordon said. "While social distancing should be a priority for all of us, it should not keep us from helping out our neighbors. I am thinking of our first responders and healthcare workers on the frontlines who may be without child care. This is a time, if the risk is low, to help one another out."

The Governor and State Superintendent urge district leadership to work within their schools and communities to ensure the continuity of learning and essential services as determined locally. "In the midst of this pandemic, communities need the latitude, empowerment, and support to make difficult decisions that affect education, economy, and essential functions," Governor Gordon continued. "While we safeguard the health of every person we must also do our best to continue our daily work for the economic security of our state and nation."

"Evidence of community spread in Fremont County, two confirmed cases in Sheridan County, and pending tests from across the state have led us to this," Superintendent Balow said. "Wyoming has over 90,000 square miles where schooling is an essential function in each community – the decision is difficult."

Social distancing, basic hygiene, and heightened disinfection efforts continue to be the primary means to contain COVID-19 spread. We strongly encourage everyone to continue these practices. Local school districts continue to be empowered to make decisions in consultation with the State Department of Health and local health care officials as to closure and other containment strategies.

Governor Gordon, Superintendent Balow, the State Health Officer, and others will continually evaluate COVID-19 data, guidance from the Center for Disease Control (CDC), and other reliable information to make additional recommendations.

-CDC guidance and other resources are available at https://edu.wyoming.gov/. The State Superintendent is exploring her ability to hold districts harmless from any financial reduction as a result of this ten instructional day loss. In addition, the Wyoming Department of Education has received a waiver from the U.S. Department of Agriculture to allow schools to offer student meals during school closures. STATEWIDE PUBLIC HEALTH ORDER CLOSING BARS, RESTAURANTS, THEATERS, GYMNASIUMS, CHILD CARE FACILITIES, K-12 SCHOOLS, COLLEGES, UNIVERSITIES, AND TRADE SCHOOLS STATEWIDE

In an effort to stop the spread of the coronavirus (COVID-19), the Wyoming Department of Health finds it necessary to protect the health of the public by implementing emergency measures to close all restaurants, bars, theaters, gymnasiums, child care facilities, K-12 schools, colleges, universities, and trade schools, in the State of Wyoming, with certain exceptions. This Order is effective immediately, and shall remain in effect until April 3, 2020.

FINDINGS

1. COVID-19 was first detected in Wuhan, China in 2019, and since then has spread to over 60 countries including the United States. There are 18 confirmed cases of COVID-19 in Wyoming as of March 18, 2020, as well as the presence of community spread. It is expected that more cases will be diagnosed.

2. COVID-19 is a respiratory illness, transmitted through person-to-person contact or by contact with surfaces contaminated with the virus. Persons infected with COVID-19 may become symptomatic two to fourteen days after exposure. The symptoms of COVID-19 include fever, cough, and shortness of breath. In some cases, COVID-19 can result in severe disease including hospitalization, admission to an intensive care unit, and death, especially among older adults and persons with serious underlying health conditions.

3. The World Health Organization declared COVID-19 a worldwide pandemic as of March 11, 2020.

4. On March 13, 2020, the President of the United States declared a national emergency concerning the coronavirus, specifically stating that, in "December 2019 a novel (new) coronavirus known as SARS-CoV-2 ("the virus") was first detected in Wuhan, Hubei Province, People's Republic of China, causing outbreaks of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) that has now spread globally [...] The spread of COVID-19 within our Nation's communities threatens to strain our Nation's healthcare systems. [...] Additional measures [...] are needed to successfully contain and combat the virus in the United States."

5. On March 13, 2020, Wyoming Governor Mark Gordon declared a State of Emergency and Public Health Emergency in the State of Wyoming, stating that on March 11, 2020, an individual within the State of Wyoming tested presumptive positive for COVID-19 and the State of Wyoming is experiencing a public health emergency in response to the evolving COVID-19 outbreak.

6. Governor Gordon's Declaration of a State of Emergency and Public Health Emergency directs the Wyoming Department of Health to take all appropriate and necessary actions, and that in the judgment of the Director of the Wyoming Department of Health, any actions necessary should be taken to provide aid to those locations where there is a threat or danger to public health, safety, and welfare.

7. The guidelines issued from the White House on March 16, 2020, specify that with evidence of community transmission within a state, bars, restaurants, food courts, gyms, and other indoor and outdoor venues where groups of people congregate should be closed.

8. A significant number of Wyoming citizens are at risk of serious health complications, including death, from COVID-19. Although most individuals who contract COVID-19 do not become seriously ill, people with mild symptoms, and even asymptomatic persons with COVID-19, place other vulnerable members of the public at significant risk.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9. Counties in Wyoming have requested orders of this kind following the White House guidelines, and the best manner of protecting the health of the citizens of Wyoming is through a consistent order spanning the entire State.

10. A large number of persons with serious infections has the ability to compromise the ability of healthcare systems in Wyoming to deliver the necessary healthcare to the public.

11. Wyoming Statute §§ 35-1-240(a)(i) and (iv) provides all the rights and powers for the Wyoming Department of Health, through the State Health Officer, Dr. Alexia Harrist, M.D., PhD, or under her directive through other employees of the Wyoming Department of Health, to close theaters, schools, and other public places, and forbid public gatherings when necessary to protect the public health.

12. In addition to the above findings, stopping the spread of COVID-19 includes washing hands often, practicing social distancing by avoiding close contact with others, staying at least six feet away from someone who is ill or showing signs of illness, avoiding touching your face, eyes, nose and mouth, and covering your cough or sneeze into your elbow or by using a tissue.

ORDER

1. The following places of public accommodation are ordered closed to ingress, egress, use, and occupancy by members of the public:

   a. Restaurants, food courts, cafes, coffeehouses, and other similar places of public accommodation offering food or beverage for on-premises consumption;

   b. Bars, taverns, brew pubs, breweries, microbreweries, distillery pubs, wineries, tasting rooms, special licensees, clubs, and other places of public accommodation offering alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption;

   c. Cigar bars;

   d. Gymnasiums; and

   e. Movie and performance theaters, opera houses, concert halls, and music halls.

2. The following conditions apply to places of public accommodation subject to this Order:

   a. Places of public accommodation are encouraged to offer food and beverage using delivery service, window service, walk-up service, drive-through service, or drive-up service, and to use precautions in doing so to mitigate the potential transmission of COVID-19, including social distancing. Online and telephonic credit card transactions are strongly encouraged (e.g. Venmo, Squarecash, Googlepay, Apple Pay and similar payment apps).

   b. Staff who handle cash or credit cards may not be involved in the preparation, handling, or delivery of food.

   c. In offering food or beverage, a place of public accommodation may permit up to five members of the public at one time in the place of public accommodation for the purpose of picking up their food or beverage orders, so long as those individuals are at least six feet apart from one another while on premises.

   d. For hotel restaurants, food items may only be delivered as room service or as described above.

   e. Management shall ensure, on a daily basis, that no employee who presents symptoms of illness will be permitted to work.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3. For clarity, this Order does not apply to any of the following:

   a. Places of public accommodation that offer food and beverage not for on-premises consumption, including grocery stores, markets, retail stores that offer food, convenience stores, pharmacies, drug stores, and food pantries;

   b. Room service in hotels;

   c. Health care facilities, residential care facilities, congregate care facilities, and juvenile justice facilities;

   d. Crisis shelters or similar institutions;

   e. Airport concessionaires; and

   f. Any emergency facilities necessary for the response to the events surrounding the public health emergency and state of emergency caused by COVID-19.

4. All child care centers and home daycares are ordered closed, subject to the following:

   a. Child care centers or home daycares that provide care for children of essential personnel may continue to operate to provide child care for children of essential personnel. Essential personnel includes:

      i. Staff and providers of childcare and education services, including custodial and kitchen staff and other support staff, who do not do their work remotely;

      ii. Providers of healthcare including, but not limited to, employees of clinics, hospitals, nursing homes, long-term care and post-acute care facilities, respite houses, designated agencies, emergency medical services, as well as necessary custodial, kitchen, administrative, and other support staff;

      iii. Criminal justice personnel including those in law enforcement, courts, and correctional services;

      iv. Public health employees;

      v. Firefighters, Wyoming National Guard personnel called to duty for responding to COVID-19, and other first responders;

      vi. State employees determined to be essential for response to the COVID-19 crisis;

      vii. Active duty military staff;

      viii. Pharmacy staff;

      ix. Foster families with children through grade 8;

      x. 2-1-1 and 9-1-1 call center staff; critical infrastructure and utility workers, including electrical, plumbing, telecommunications, water, and wastewater operators, workers, and staff;

      xi. State, municipal, and commercial public works and sanitation crews;

      xii. Grocery and food supply workers;

      xiii. Supply chain, postal, and delivery drivers and warehouse workers;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

xiv. Manufacturers of medical devices, equipment, testing equipment, and supplies;

xv. and fuel distribution workers.

b. In circumstances where a child care center or home daycare remains open, the center or home is required to have fewer than 10 people in a room or together at any time, including for meals or recreation.

c. Further, a child care center or home daycare that remains open is required to follow all health guidelines from the CDC and Wyoming Department of Health for limiting the risk of transmission of COVID-19, to the extent possible when caring for children.

d. As childcare is a critical part of the infrastructure of Wyoming, allowing essential systems to function, in the event a county health officer wants to close a childcare facility under the direction and supervision of the State Health Officer, the County Health Officer shall work with local childcare providers to make available limited childcare services for essential personnel, as described above.

5. All K-12 schools shall dismiss students until no sooner than April 3, 2020, to the extent any school in Wyoming has not already done so. Administrative staff and teachers may continue to work in school buildings to facilitate distance learning or to complete administrative tasks. Food may still be prepared to be made available to those in need, as directed by school superintendents. Classes may still be offered online at the discretion of the school.

6. All colleges, universities, and trade schools shall not hold in person classes until no sooner than April 3, 2020. Administrative staff and teachers may continue to work in facility buildings to facilitate distance learning or to complete administrative tasks. Food may still be prepared to be made available to those in need. Classes may still be offered online at the discretion of the college, university or trade school.

7. This Order supersedes all previous individual county orders authorized by the Wyoming State Health Officer under Wyoming Statute § 35-1-240(a)(iv). To the extent the county order is more restrictive, the more restrictive provisions still apply.

8. Exceptions to the public accommodation sections above (paragraphs 1-3) may be granted, at the discretion of the County Health Officer, under the direction and supervision of the State Health Officer, if the business can demonstrate, in writing, to the County Health Officer that they will limit customers within the business to no more than ten at any given time, that at least 6 feet of space will be maintained between customers at all times, and that effective cleaning will be performed between customers.

As the State Health Officer, I specifically deem this order necessary to protect the public health. See Wyo. Stat. Ann. § 35-1-240(a)(iv). I will reassess the necessity of this order as appropriate to do so and according to accepted epidemiological and medical standards. Any person or legal entity that violates this Order shall be subject to criminal prosecution under Wyo. Stat. Ann. §§ 35-1-105 and -106.

STATEWIDE PUBLIC HEALTH ORDER #2: FORBIDDING GATHERINGS OF TEN (10) PEOPLE OR MORE

In an effort to stop the spread of the coronavirus (COVID-19), the Wyoming Department of Health finds it necessary to protect the health of the public by implementing emergency measures, in accordance with the White House Guidelines, to forbid gatherings of ten (10) people or more, with certain exceptions. This Order is effective immediately, and shall remain in effect until April 3, 2020, unless the Wyoming Department of Health revokes the Order before April 3, 2020.

FINDINGS

1. COVID-19 was first detected in Wuhan, China in 2019, and since then has spread to over 60 countries including the United States. There are 19 confirmed cases of COVID-19 in Wyoming as of March 20, 2020, as well as the presence of community spread. It is expected that more cases will be diagnosed.

2. COVID-19 is a respiratory illness, transmitted through person-to-person contact or by contact with surfaces contaminated with the virus. Persons infected with COVID-19 may become symptomatic two to fourteen days after exposure. The symptoms of COVID-19 include fever, cough, and shortness of breath. In some cases, COVID-19 can result in severe disease including hospitalization, admission to an intensive care unit, and death, especially among older adults and persons with serious underlying health conditions.

3. The World Health Organization declared COVID-19 a worldwide pandemic as of March 11, 2020.

4. On March 13, 2020, the President of the United States declared a national emergency concerning the coronavirus, specifically stating that, in "December 2019 a novel (new) coronavirus known as SARS-CoV-2 ("the virus") was first detected in Wuhan, Hubei Province, People's Republic of China, causing outbreaks of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) that has now spread globally [...] The spread of COVID-19 within our Nation's communities threatens to strain our Nation's healthcare systems. [...] Additional measures [...] are needed to successfully contain and combat the virus in the United States."

5. On March 13, 2020, Wyoming Governor Mark Gordon declared a State of Emergency and Public Health Emergency in the State of Wyoming, stating that on March 11, 2020, an individual within the State of Wyoming tested presumptive positive for COVID-19 and the State of Wyoming is experiencing a public health emergency in response to the evolving COVID-19 outbreak.

6. Governor Gordon's Declaration of a State of Emergency and Public Health Emergency directs the Wyoming Department of Health to take all appropriate and necessary actions, and that in the judgment of the Director of the Wyoming Department of Health, any actions necessary should be taken to provide aid to those locations where there is a threat or danger to public health, safety, and welfare.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

7. The guidelines issued from the White House on March 16, 2020, specify that with evidence of community transmission within a state, bars, restaurants, food courts, gyms, and other indoor and outdoor venues where groups of people congregate should be closed. The guidelines further specify that social gatherings of ten (10) people or more should be avoided.

8. A significant number of Wyoming citizens are at risk of serious health complications, including death, from COVID-19. Although most individuals who contract COVID-19 do not become seriously ill, people with mild symptoms, and even asymptomatic persons with COVID-19, place other vulnerable members of the public at significant risk.

9. Counties in Wyoming have requested orders of this kind following the White House guidelines, and the best manner of protecting the health of the citizens of Wyoming is through a consistent order spanning the entire State.

10. A large number of persons with serious infections may compromise the ability of healthcare systems in Wyoming to deliver the necessary healthcare to the public.

11. Wyoming Statute §§ 35-1-240(a)(i) and (iv) provides all the rights and powers for the Wyoming Department of Health, through the State Health Officer, Dr. Alexia Harrist, M.D., PhD, or under her directive through other employees of the Wyoming Department of Health, to forbid gatherings of people when necessary to protect public health.

12. In addition to the above findings, stopping the spread of COVID-19 includes washing your hands often, practicing social distancing by avoiding close contact with others, staying at least six feet away from someone who is ill or showing signs of illness, avoiding touching your face, eyes, nose and mouth, and covering your cough or sneeze into your elbow or by using a tissue.

ORDER

1. Gatherings of ten (10) people or more are prohibited in order to help stop the spread of COVID-19 and protect the health of the public.

2. "Gatherings" are any planned or spontaneous event, public or private, bringing together, or likely bringing together, ten (10) people or more in a single room or a single confined space at the same time.

3. Gatherings at the following are exempted from this Order:

    a. Hotels and motels for lodging purposes;

    b. Livestock auctions;

    c. Groups of workers being transported to a location for their jobs;

    d. Government business, military and National Guard facilities, law enforcement, jails, secure treatment centers, and correctional facilities, including any facility operated by the Wyoming Department of Corrections, and any facility used to respond to natural disasters or public health emergencies;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

e. State and local government facilities, including government service centers;

f. Relief facilities, including food pantries and shelter facilities;

g. Residential buildings;

h. Grocery stores, markets, convenience stores, pharmacies, drug stores;

i. Truck stops, gas stations, and auto-repair facilities;

j. Retail or business establishments, where more than ten (10) people may be present but are generally not within six (6) feet of one another;

k. Healthcare facilities, including hospitals, medical facilities, home health agencies, personal care agencies, hospices, adult family homes, mental health centers, and pharmacies;

l. Alcohol and drug treatment centers; and

m. Long-term care and assisted living facilities, including nursing homes and assisted living facilities, as long as the facility complies with guidance and directives from the CDC, the Wyoming Department of Health, and appropriate licensing and regulatory agencies.

4. Any gathering not covered by this Order should follow the public health recommendations of the Centers for Disease Control and the Wyoming Department of Health, including washing your hands often with soap and water, practicing social distancing by avoiding close contact with others including meetings over ten (10) people, avoiding touching your face, eyes, nose and mouth, and covering your cough or sneeze into your elbow or by using a tissue.

5. Additional exceptions to the prohibitions in this Order may be granted, at the discretion of the County Health Officer, under the direction and supervision of the State Health Officer, if demonstrated, in writing, to the County Health Officer that people at a gathering will maintain at least six (6) feet of space between one another, and that effective cleaning will be performed before and after the gathering.

6. This Order supplements the previous statewide public health order closing bars, restaurants, theaters, gymnasiums, child care facilities, K-12 schools, colleges, universities, and trade schools dated March 19, 2020.

7. This Order supersedes all previous individual county orders authorized by the Wyoming State Health Officer under Wyo. Stat. Ann. § 35-1-240(a)(iv). To the extent any county order is more restrictive, the more restrictive provisions of the county order shall continue to apply.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

As the State Health Officer, I deem this Order necessary to protect the public health. See Wyo. Stat. Ann. § 35-1-240(a)(iv). I will reassess the necessity of this Order as appropriate to do so and according to accepted epidemiological and medical standards. Any person or legal entity that violates this Order shall be subject to criminal prosecution under Wyo. Stat. Ann. §§ 35-1-105 and -106.

Student Placement Testing

Northwest College is dedicated to helping students increase their levels of academic achievement. Faculty and staff want to be sure students start their college work in English and mathematics at the most appropriate level. Many students also need to build reading comprehension skills in order to be successful with college work.

Northwest College requires new students to arrive with an ACT/SAT score and/or to take the ACCUPLACER Placement Test or ALEKS Test, a computerized multiple-choice assessment instrument. A fee is charged for the ACCUPLACER and ALEKS tests. ACT/SAT, ACCUPLACER, or ALEKS scores are used to place students in the correct level of English, mathematics, and reading courses. Students with an ACT/SAT score may take mathematics or English Placement Tests if they believe their ACT/SAT scores do not adequately reflect their abilities.

Registration Procedures

The Semester Class Schedule contains detailed information on course offerings, instructions about registration procedures, and timelines. Students can register for courses through their MyNWC Portal under the Student Planner link.

Credit Hour

For NWC courses, one credit hour is equivalent to (1) one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work each week* for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester hour of credit; or (2) at least an equivalent amount of work as required in definition (1) for other activities as established by Northwest College, including laboratory work, internships, practice, studio work, and other academic work leading toward to the award of credit hours. The NWC Curriculum Committee is charged with reviewing and implementing credit-hour standards and requirements for NWC courses.

*The academic week begins each Monday and ends the subsequent Sunday, in conjunction with the Northwest College fiscal year payroll calendar.

Visit the Register for Classes section of the NWC website for more information.

Student Portal

Current students may view class schedules, register for classes, add classes, drop classes, view grades, check grade point average, update mailing address, review financial aid package, request an official copy of their transcript, or pay fees online at nwc.edu/MyNWC.

Auditing Classes

Students may audit any course. Tuition and fees are still charged. Auditing allows a student the freedom to participate and learn in a classroom setting without traditional academic requirements related to attendance, grading, and testing. No credit is given for audited classes, but they do appear on transcripts.

Class Load

The typical course load for full-time students is 15-20 credits.

Student Overload Policy. Students who want to take more than 20 hours must have a cumulative NWC grade point average of 3.0 or higher and approval of their advisor. First semester freshmen must have a cumulative high school GPA of 3.0 or higher and approval of their advisor. An overload fee is charged for each credit above 20. This fee is the per credit hour tuition in accordance with the student's residency classification.

Registration Changes and CourseWithdrawals

Students wanting to change their original registration by adding, dropping, or withdrawing from courses, must obtain Change of Registration forms from the Registrar's Office or online at nwc.edu/MyNWC. No change in registration is made until a student returns a completed form, with necessary signatures, to the Registrar's Office. Forms must be returned on or before specified dates, or they will not be processed. See additional information in the Academic Calendar and the Refund Policy .

Students may add a class to their original enrollments in accordance to the deadlines set in the Academic Calendar . Exceptions are - (1) courses worth one credit hour or less may be added upon the request of the instructor and with the approval of the division chairperson up to midterm of the course; and (2) instructors within a particular subject area are authorized to transfer students from one level to another within that particular subject area.

Good morning Steven (and Lisa),

I hope you both are well.

I am sure you have been bombarded with many questions during this COVID-19 pandemic. Here is a question that has been raised on our campus with regards to federal programs. As you are aware, most institutions have gone to remote work providing services to students online, Zoom and many other mobile and online features.

Our stateside human resources (federal program staff are Foundation employees) has approved for student staff to be paid through April 5th (day before Spring Break on our campus) whether they are working remotely or not. Now they have also approved for student staff, who qualify to apply for up to 128 hour of sick pay for the month of April. There is nothing else set up for student staff for the month of May and student staff can choose to apply for unemployment.

Many Foundation federal program staff and other CAMP directors have reached out to ask me if they are able to continue to pay their students staff due to this COVID-19 situation and because it is allocated in their budget? Some student staff have been allowed to work remotely while others have not and it is tough to provide clear direction to our student staff who are all willing to continue to work about their pay and future employment. Fresno State CAMP would like to request approval to continue to pay our CAMP part-time staff their normal weekly hours until the end of the spring 2020 semester through our USDE CAMP funds due to this COVID-19 situation that is beyond their control.

I look forward to hearing your feedback. Thank you.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Good afternoon,

I am a speech-language pathologist in a school system in Tennessee. Due to the Coronavirus we cannot return school until April 24th. I deeply care about the children I serve and I truly want what is best for them. At this time as special educators we are expected to uphold Eligibility/IEP timelines during these closures. I work at a very low income school and I am hesitant to want to contact my parents during this time. Many are facing unemployment and it seems petty to contact them about school services their child will not receive at the moment. I urge you to consider waiving these timelines until schools are in session. I say this with the utmost respect during these uncertain times. I realize you all have very difficult jobs and are navigating uncharted waters.

Best regards,

Amanda Glass M.S., CCC-SLP

Dear Paul and Josiah,
Due to the COVID-19 district leaders are very concerned about maintaining special ed funding for paraprofessionals. As leaders, we are building schedules for our special ed paras to ensure their duties are allowable, necessary, and reasonable, as required by Federal law.

Charter Schools need to retain and use special education paras for Distance Learning activities to support special ed students. I understand the Governor has lifted restrictions on the use of general ed revenue and districts are being advised to reallocate general ed dollars to use for paraprofessionals to complete mandated duties by our State and Federal leaders. Charter schools operate on a thin budget and we do not enjoy the options of our resident districts.
Additionally, we risk losing needed staff for programming when students return to school. Most charter schools have postings up all year long to hire paras to meet the needs of some of our most vulnerable students.
If districts are forced to lay off or reduce special ed expenditure, they will not maintain effort. There is no Exception in https://sites.ed.gov/idea/regs/b/c/300.204 to justify this reduction and charter schools will incur additional loss for not maintaining effort.

Thanks for all of your work during this extraordinary times.

Kindly advise,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dear Paul and Josiah,

Due to the COVID-19 district leaders are very concerned about maintaining special ed funding for paraprofessionals. As leaders, we are building schedules for our special ed paras to ensure their duties are allowable, necessary, and reasonable, as required by Federal law.

Charter Schools need to retain and use special education paras for Distance Learning activities to support special ed students. I understand the Governor has lifted restrictions on the use of general ed revenue and districts are being advised to reallocate general ed dollars to use for paraprofessionals to complete mandated duties by our State and Federal leaders. Charter schools operate on a thin budget and we do not enjoy the options of our resident districts.

Additionally, we risk losing needed staff for programming when students return to school. Most charter schools have postings up all year long to hire paras to meet the needs of some of our most vulnerable students.

If districts are forced to lay off or reduce special ed expenditure, they will not maintain effort. There is no Exception in https://sites.ed.gov/idea/regs/b/c/300.204 to justify this reduction and charter schools will incur additional loss for not maintaining effort.

Thanks for all of your work during this extraordinary times.

Kindly advise,

Good Morning Matt and Susan,

I have received a question from Puerto Rico-C about use of funds. I will review the information Kate has posted in the COVID-19 one notebook to see if I can find potential answers on my own. I'd like to run any potential reply past our fiscal team before I set up a call with Ana to discuss specifics.

I'm assuming we need more information such as:

1. what are the specific new tasks
2. which Part C personnel are involved in the tasks
3. how much money are they wanting to use
4. how do the tasks specifically support the needs of infants, toddlers and families in Part C
5. any anticipated impact on direct service delivery if funds are diverted

Anything else??

Good Morning Leslie,

As you know, the Puerto Rico Department of Health is working with the COVID-19 pandemic. Certain professionals are going to be asked to participate in teams as needs arise, such as epidemiologists, social workers, doctors, nurses, program evaluators and program coordinators. We have questions as to whether new tasks related to the public health emergency can be paid with Part C funds. Does OSEP have a guidance on what Part C funds can be used for in the times of the pandemic?

As always, I appreciate your continuous support.

We are struggling to find a way to complete evaluations and maintain the recommended 6 foot social distancing requirement. Having to point to specific test items, observe student responses, give students manipulatives are just a few examples of things done in the evaluation session which won't allow the evaluator to maintain the appropriate distance. We can't find a way to do these virtually, either. I would ask that your department seriously considers allowing districts to suspend evaluation timelines until we are able to work with students face to face. We want our students to have the services they need, but not at the risk of their or our staff members' health.

Aloha Joanne,

I hope all is well with you and the team there in DC as we are are here in Hawaii. I am emailing to find out if there is any guidance with respect to the administration of our program in the midst of the Covid-19.

The recommendations for social distancing at the local and federal levels have directly impacted our ability to implement our programs and events going forward for who knows how long. With talk of cancelling or postponing activities perhaps until August hits us hard as well. These are just some issues.

Will there be any information coming out from your office recommending how to proceed with our project in the midst of the Covid-19 crisis? Let me know.

Stay safe.

Subject: Help for K-12 Students, Parents, Caregivers

I am asking the US Department of Education to provide an online resource to assist students, parents and caregivers in managing through this difficult time.

Now that vital issues like student loan payments have been addressed, it is time to lead American families in dealing with this crisis.

Approximately one third of the nation has been told to stay home. Schools have been cancelled but many adults are either working from home, or are working in essential services including health care.

My challenge for the US Department of Education is to create a safe and secure online platform that can be used to help structure student's time, provide them with learning activities, enrich their lives, and reduce their boredom and the counterproductive actions that often result from boredom. Furthermore, be up and running in three (3) business days.

This should be possible with resources already available. This is not a big-budget item. This is six IT people and six content coordinators dedicated for three days. One dozen people; each giving three days. Three phone calls should get a corporate sponsor to defray the cost, if necessary.

What families need:

--Acknowledgement that these are challenging times. Most parents and caregivers are neither educators nor free to become home-schoolers full-time. Many are juggling jobs and other responsibilities.

--Assurance that we can do this… together. Let's shift the messaging from "this is hard so we'll quit at Easter" to "We Got This!" My parents were children during the depression, and my father was stationed at Pearl Harbor on Dec 7, 1941, yet their generation put mankind on the moon and began to open the American Dream to all citizens regardless of race, creed, color or gender. Let's channel the resolve and fortitude of the Greatest Generation; let's get this done.

--Sample daily routines based on age (an example shared on a neighborhood social media site follows)

--Links to free websites that provide a range of activities, grouped by topic and/or age. A 1-3 sentence description would be helpful.

Topics can include but are not limited to: Science (divided by Elementary, Biology, Chemistry..); Word Searches and Puzzles; Math; Arts (include links to museums offering virtual tours, youtube videos on drawing…); Exercise and Sports (youtube yoga, gentle yoga for those with physical limitations including older caregivers, tai chi, ask LeBron to provide content on dribbling and a message to put pick-up games on hold); Literature; Studio Arts; Music; Social Studies; Technology (e.g. coding); Languages.

What families don't need:

--Perfection – Launch in three days and improve thereafter. Include reasonable caveats: parents should review sites for appropriateness; no government responsibility for specific content. Include a reporting mechanism for violent, racist, explicit and other inappropriate content.

--Government created content. Content is already out there but families who do not homeschool don't know where to find it. Many school systems closed before it was possible to implement online learning strategies. Many school systems do not have the resources to tackle this. However, between the Department and the many fine Universities with Education faculty, and the existing homeschooling resources, content and capability exists.

What would be nice:

--Free limited duration subscriptions for many of the sites that provide enrichment. Why will companies do this? It is good marketing, good public relations, and the right thing to do. Audible, Adobe Creative Suite (Photoshop, Illustrator…), Pandora, Spotify, Disney, Netflix, Hulu, Berlitz, iTunes… 30 days to help America deal with social distancing. New subscribers only. Why not ask?

--Crowd sourced content that is awesome. Not just actors and actresses sending out warm fuzzies, but rap stars providing homemade video with advice on rhyme schemes and cadence, Grammy winners sharing their vocal warm up routines, pro athletes sharing the exercises they do to stay loose and strong, cartoonists sharing how they draw a puppy, photographers sharing how to use your phone to create stunning images of insects or flowers or clouds (not people).

Please provide a tool American families can use to guide them through this pandemic, and to overcome the challenges of social distancing and school closures.

Respectfully,

Janie Holbrook

Our request is for USDE / HEP Program to allow for personnel salaries and benefits be used pay for employees at our College who work from home on grant activity during the temporary College closure resulting from COVID-19?

South Texas College serves a 2-county service area comprised of Starr and Hidalgo Counties. As noted in the attached Updated on COVID-19 from our College President, Starr County issued a Stay at Home/Stay Safe Order and Hidalgo County has issued a Shelter at Home Order. As such, College President has notified all STC employees that "All employees will transition to working from home and will receive directives from their supervisors."

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20503

DEPUTY DIRECTOR FOR MANAGEMENT

March 19, 2020

M-20-17

MEMORANDUM TO THE HEADS OF EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES

FROM: Margaret Weichert
Deputy Director of Management (b)(6) [redacted]

SUBJECT: Administrative Relief for Recipients and Applicants of Federal Financial Assistance Directly Impacted by the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) due to Loss of Operations

On March 9, 2020, OMB issued M-20-11, "Administrative Relief for Recipients and Applicants of Federal Financial Assistance Directly impacted by the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19)," to provide agencies with additional flexibilities for grants assisting the response to COVID-19. The scope of the M-20-11 was narrowly crafted to provide flexibility to grant recipients performing essential research and services necessary to carry out the emergency response related to COVID-19.

This memorandum provides similar administrative relief listed in M-20-11 to an expanded scope of recipients affected by the loss of operational capacity and increased costs due to the COVID-19 crisis. Many of the operational impacts and costs are unknowable at this point, as they will depend on the spread of the coronavirus and response dictated by public health needs. This memorandum provides short term relief for administrative, financial management, and audit requirements under 2 CFR Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost principles and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards, without compromising Federal financial assistance accountability requirements. As program managers are considering administrative relief, they should be prudent in their stewardship of Federal resources which includes giving consideration to potential offsets—e.g. reduction in training and travel. In addition, the flexibilities provided within this memorandum, agencies are reminded of their existing flexibility to issue exceptions on a case-by-case basis in accordance with 2 CFR § 200.102, Exceptions. M-20-11 shall continue to apply, and Appendix A describes the exceptions granted under this memorandum to recipients affected by the loss of operational capacity. These exceptions are time limited and will be reassessed by OMB within 90 days of this Memo.

Questions regarding the above administrative relief provisions should be directed to Office of Federal Financial Management Grant link at GrantsTeam@omb.eop.gov. OMB will continue to provide updates and additional information as the situation unfolds. ## Appendix A – Administrative Relief Exceptions for COVID-19 Crisis

Federal awarding agencies are authorized to take the following actions, as they deem appropriate and to the extent permitted by law, with respect to the administrative provisions that apply to recipients grantees affected by the COVID-19 (for both recipients with COVID-19 related grants and other types of Federal grants). Awarding agencies are required to maintain records on the level of particular exceptions provided to recipients. For items 6 and 7, awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and documentation to support the charges against the Federal awards.

1. Flexibility with SAM registration. (2 CFR § 200.205)

Awarding agencies can relax the requirement for active System for Award Management (SAM) registration at time of application in order to expeditiously issue funding. At the time of award, the requirements of 2 CFR § 200.205, Federal awarding agency review of risk posed by applicants, continue to apply. Current registrants in SAM with active registrations expiring before May 16, 2020 will be afforded a one-time extension of 60 days.

2. Flexibility with application deadlines. (2 CFR § 200.202)

Awarding agencies may provide flexibility with regard to the submission of competing applications in response to specific announcements, as well as unsolicited applications. As appropriate, agencies should list specific guidance on their websites and/or provide a point of contact for an agency program official.

3. Waiver for Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs) Publication. (2 CFR § 200.203)

For competitive grants and cooperative agreements, awarding agencies can publish emergency Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs) for less than thirty (30) days without separately justifying shortening the timeframe for each NOFO. Awarding agencies would still be required to document and track NOFOs published for less than thirty (30) days under this emergency waiver.

4. No-cost extensions on expiring awards. (2 CFR § 200.308)

To the extent permitted by law, awarding agencies may extend awards which were active as of March 31, 2020 and scheduled to expire prior or up to December 31, 2020, automatically at no-cost for a period of up to twelve (12) months. This will allow time for recipient assessments, the resumption of many individual projects, and a report on program progress and financial status to agency staff. Project-specific financial and performance reports will be due 90 days following the end date of the extension. Awarding agencies will examine the need to extend other project reporting as the need arises.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

5. Abbreviated non-competitive continuation requests. (2 CFR § 200.308)

For continuation requests scheduled to come in from April 1, 2020 to December 31, 2020, from projects with planned future support, awarding agencies may accept a brief statement from recipients to verify that they are in a position to: 1) resume or restore their project activities; and 2) accept a planned continuation award. Awarding agencies should post any specific instructions on their website. Awarding agencies will examine the need to extend this approach on subsequent continuation award start dates as recipients have an opportunity to assess the situation.

6. Allowability of salaries and other project activities. (2 CFR § 200.403, 2 CFR § 200.404, 2 CFR § 200.405)

Awarding agencies may allow recipients to continue to charge salaries and benefits to currently active Federal awards consistent with the recipients' policy of paying salaries (under unexpected or extraordinary circumstances) from all funding sources, Federal and non-Federal. Awarding agencies may allow other costs to be charged to Federal awards necessary to resume activities supported by the award, consistent with applicable Federal cost principles and the benefit to the project. Awarding agencies may also evaluate the grantee's ability to resume the project activity in the future and the appropriateness of future funding, as done under normal circumstances—based on subsequent progress reports and other communications with the grantee. Awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and cost documentation as required by 2 CFR § 200.302 – Financial management and 2 CFR § 200.333 - Retention requirement of records to substantiate the charging of any salaries and other project activities costs related to interruption of operations or services.

7. Allowability of Costs not Normally Chargeable to Awards. (2 CFR § 200.403, 2 CFR § 200.404, 2 CFR § 200.405)

Awarding agencies may allow recipients who incur costs related to the cancellation of events, travel, or other activities necessary and reasonable for the performance of the award, or the pausing and restarting of grant funded activities due to the public health emergency, to charge these costs to their award without regard to 2 CFR § 200.403, Factors affecting allowability of costs, 2 CFR § 200.404, Reasonable costs, and 2 CFR § 200.405, Allocable costs. Awarding agencies may allow recipients to charge full cost of cancellation when the event, travel, or other activities are conducted under the auspices of the grant. Awarding agencies must advise recipients that they should not assume additional funds will be available should the charging of cancellation or other fees result in a shortage of funds to eventually carry out the event or travel. Awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and cost documentation as required by 2 CFR § 200.302 – Financial management and 2 CFR § 200.333 - Retention requirement of records, to substantiate the charging of any cancellation or other fees related to interruption of operations or services. As appropriate, awarding agencies may list additional guidance on specific types of costs on their websites and/or provide a point of contact for an agency program official.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8. Prior approval requirement waivers. (2 CFR § 200.407)

Awarding agencies are authorized to waive prior approval requirements as necessary to effectively address the response. All costs charged to Federal awards must be consistent with Federal cost policy guidelines and the terms of the award, except where specified in this memorandum.

9. Exemption of certain procurement requirements. (2 CFR § 200.319(b), 2 CFR § 200.321)

Awarding agencies may waive the procurement requirements contained in 2 CFR § 200.319(b) regarding geographical preferences and 2 CFR § 200.321 regarding contracting small and minority businesses, women's business enterprises, and labor surplus area firms.

10. Extension of financial, performance, and other reporting. (2 CFR § 200.327, 2 CFR § 200.328)

Awarding agencies may allow grantees to delay submission of financial, performance and other reports up to three (3) months beyond the normal due date. If an agency allows such a delay, grantees will continue to draw down Federal funds without the timely submission of these reports. However, these reports must be submitted at the end of the postponed period. In addition, awarding agencies may waive the requirement for recipients to notify the agency of problems, delays or adverse conditions related to COVID-19 on a grant by grant basis (200 CFR 200.328(d)(1).

11. Extension of currently approved indirect cost rates. (2 CFR § 200.414 (c))

Awarding agencies may allow grantees to continue to use the currently approved indirect cost rates (i.e., predetermined, fixed, or provisional rates) to recover their indirect costs on Federal awards. Agencies may approve grantee requests for an extension on the use of the current rates for one additional year without submission of an indirect cost proposal. Agencies may also approve grantee requests for an extension of the indirect cost rate proposal submission to finalize the current rates and establish future rates.

12. Extension of closeout. (2 CFR § 200.343)

Awarding agencies may allow the grantee to delay submission of any pending financial, performance and other reports required by the terms of the award for the closeout of expired projects, provided that proper notice about the reporting delay is given by the grantee to the agency. This delay in submitting closeout reports may not exceed one year after the award expires.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

13. Extension of Single Audit submission. (2 CFR § 200.512)

Awarding agencies, in their capacity as cognizant or oversight agencies for audit, should allow recipients and subrecipients that have not yet filed their single audits with the Federal Audit Clearinghouse as of the date of the issuance of this memorandum that have fiscal year-ends through June 30, 2020, to delay the completion and submission of the Single Audit reporting package, as required under Subpart F of 2 CFR § 200.501 – Audit Requirements, to six (6) months beyond the normal due date. No further action by awarding agencies is required to enact this extension. This extension does not require individual recipients and subrecipients to seek approval for the extension by the cognizant or oversight agency for audit; however, recipients and subrecipients should maintain documentation of the reason for the delayed filing. Recipients and subrecipients taking advantage of this extension would still qualify as a "low-risk auditee" under the criteria of 2 CFR § 200.520 (a) – Criteria for a low-risk auditee.

Dear Ms. Hall,

Due to the novel coronavirus and out of an abundance of caution, and in line with State of Michigan recommendations to temporarily halt all on-site instruction in both public and private schools, starting today, March 17th, Michigan College of Beauty - Monroe would like to temporarily cease on-site instruction.

In the very near future we plan on requesting approval from our accreditor (NACCAS) to temporarily implement distance education, also in response to the novel coronavirus and until such time as we are able to safely resume on-site instruction.

Thank you in advance for all due consideration of our request. If there is anyone else within the Department of Education we should share this request/message with, please advise.

Sincerely,

Subject: Procedures for Responding to Inquiries Relating to Higher Education

Distribution List: All ED Employees

Dear colleagues,

In order to ensure that the Department is providing clear, accurate and consistent communications to the community, the Department is instituting a new process for the intake of higher education coronavirus related questions that will be managed by the Office of Postsecondary Education (OPE). Employees are directed NOT to provide substantive responses to any coronavirus related questions until the question has been logged into our system, and an answer has been drafted and vetted by the appropriate staff. The only exception is if you are simply forwarding coronavirus communication that has already been posted by the Department. It is critical that all employees abide by these instructions, so the Department can effectively and consistently manage these issues. To the extent possible, OPE would like to provide answers to inquiries on these matters within 48 hours. Please follow the following steps after receiving a coronavirus related question:

Instructions for intake of coronavirus related questions:

1. When an employee receives a coronavirus related question that has not been addressed in previous communication posted by the Department, they should respond to the inquiring party acknowledging receipt of the question and informing them that the Department will respond as soon as possible. Please note that if it's unclear whether the question has been addressed by previous Department communication, employees should err on the side of sending the inquiry up the chain.
2. The employee should email the inquiry to their first line supervisor.
3. The first line supervisor should then forward the inquiry to Shaina Hilsey (Shaina.hilsey@ed.gov) and Jack Cox (jack.cox@ed.gov) who work within OPE, and copy leadership from their POC. Supervisors are encouraged to develop a suggested response to the inquiry, if practical. However, they should forward the question to Ms. Hilsey and Mr. Cox before developing the response and should indicate in the email to them if they plan to develop a response or would recommend another staff person develop a response. All draft responses should be forwarded to Shaina and Jack BEFORE the response is published or given to the source of the question or inquiry. Other POCs are permitted to develop alternative internal POC procedures at the discretion of their leaders, however, OPE would encourage that such processes ensure that we are notified as quickly as possible after an inquiry has been received.

4. Shaina and Jack will log all inquiries into our data base, then work with relevant subject matter experts and senior leadership in developing a response. They will then share the approved response with the relevant supervisors, who can then direct the responses to the individual source of the inquiry, and with OLCA and the Departmental Communication (OCO) site that is being established for these specific purposes.

Instructions for questions that you have already received

Please send all communications you have already received related the Coronavirus using the instructions above. If an employee has already responded to the inquiry, please attach the email that you sent to the inquiring party.

INTERNAL FSA PROCESS

FSA Instructions for intake of coronavirus-related questions that call for policy judgments or interpretations from the financial aid community:

1. When an FSA employee receives a coronavirus-related question from the financial aid community, that has not been addressed in previous communication posted by the Department, the FSA employee should respond to the inquiring party acknowledging receipt of the question and informing them that the Department will respond as soon as possible. Please note that if it's unclear whether the question has been addressed by previous Department communications, FSA employees will follow the process outlined below.
2. The FSA employee will email the inquiry to
• their first line supervisor,
• copy their deputy chief operating officer (COO), and
• send the email to the following mailbox – federalstudentaid@ed.gov.
This mailbox will be monitored by FSA's Strategic Communications team (Strat Comms). This team will identify a subject matter expert(s) for each question(s), only when appropriate. The SME may be asked to draft a proposed response for the Office of Postsecondary Education's (OPE) review.
3. Strat Comms will forward immediately the initial inquiry to OPE, including the identified SME, and whether the SME is drafting a proposed response. In the event a draft response is provided to Strat Comms by the SME, Strat Comms will forward the proposed response to OPE for review.
4. For all FSA inquiries, OPE will log them and work with relevant SMEs, which may be identified by Strat Comms, and senior leadership in developing a final response. OPE will then email federalstudentaid@ed.gov and provide the approved response.
5. Strat Comms is responsible to provide the approved response to the original FSA employee who initiated the inquiry, their first-line supervisor, and their deputy COO.
6. The FSA employee who initiated the inquiry is responsible to provide the approved response to the requestor.

2. Regarding Early Steps transition of 3 year olds: DHH/Early Steps are continuing services and initial and annual evals via teleconference? What time lines do I need to adhere to since we are guided by different policies (Part B/Part C funding; IDEA; etc...) We cannot properly get permission and conduct formal educational assessments as the LEA as we do this through Pupil Appraisal using standardized instruments. Additionally, we would be unable to conduct the transition IEP on or before a child's 3rd birthday, in accordance with state and federal guidelines (permission and meetings need to be "in person" and conducted as a team with ODR, IEP facilitator, SPED and Gen Ed teachers, and related service providers).

3. If you could give some more specific guidance/insight on how other districts/parishes are handling Initial Evaluations (getting permission, performing standardized assessments where observations and direct contact is needed, etc...) that would be helpful. In reading the Supplemental Fact Sheet there is guidance for IEPs and provision of services but no info specific to evaluations and Part B transitions.

If there has been any guidance/procedural changes please send them my way!

Our schools and teachers are out here making everything happen on the fly. You've provided no assistance or directions to families.

Where is your leadership?

Your agency is a disgrace and everyday you exist all of you should feel deeply ashamed of yourselves for abandoning the nation.

One of you needs to step up and take charge. Your silence will echo throughout history and no one will forget when our system was collapsing you did nothing.

Subject: Question re COVID-19 and Parent's Unilateral Placements Seeking Reimbursement

To Whom It May Concern:

I have clients who had scheduled IEP team meetings and intended to request private placements during their meetings, which if not agreed upon by the IEP team, my clients would have given notice of their intent to unilaterally place their children in a private placement and seek reimbursement. These meetings, which were scheduled for last week and it is anticipated that the other meeting would have been scheduled for this week due to state mandated COVID-19 school related closures. Pursuant to WAC 392-172A-04115, a parent may give written notice of their intent to unilaterally place their student in a private placement and seek reimbursement in lieu of giving a district notice during the most recent IEP team. (Statutory Authority 20 U.S.C. 1400 (c)(12)(C), 20 U.S.C. 1401 (3)(A)(i), and 20 U.S.C. 1401 (30)(C)). The notice must be provided at least 10 business days—including holiday days—in advance of the parent's unilateral placement. Business day means Monday through Friday, except for federal and state holidays, unless holidays are specifically included in the designation of a business day. WAC 392-172A-01050 (Statutory Authority 42 U.S.C. 1400 et. Seq).

Washington's mandatory closure of school's raises a number of questions regarding unilateral placements, which are as follows:

- When a school district closes, do business days still accrue? All of the schools are closed but it is unclear whether school district central offices remain open and to what extent.
- Depending on the status of a school district's office, how does a parent properly notify a school district of their intent to unilaterally place a student and seek reimbursement? Will a letter sent to a school district's central office, addressed to a district's special education director and an email to the same special education director with the same letter attached suffice? What if the special education director does not acknowledge receipt of the letter? Has the parent still met their notice requirement?
- OCR offers the following guidance:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Question A-1: Is an LEA required to continue to provide a free appropriate public education (FAPE) to students with disabilities during a school closure caused by a COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: The IDEA, Section 504, and Title II of the ADA do not specifically address a situation in which elementary and secondary schools are closed for an extended period of time (generally more than 10 consecutive days) because of exceptional circumstances, such as an outbreak of a particular disease.

If an LEA closes its schools to slow or stop the spread of COVID-19, and does not provide any educational services to the general student population, then an LEA would not be required to provide services to students with disabilities during that same period of time. Once school resumes, the LEA must make every effort to provide special education and related services to the child in accordance with the child's individualized education program (IEP) or, for students entitled to FAPE under Section 504, consistent with a plan developed to meet the requirements of Section 504. The Department understands there may be exceptional circumstances that could affect how a particular service is provided. In addition, an IEP Team and, as appropriate to an individual student with a disability, the personnel responsible for ensuring FAPE to a student for the purposes of Section 504, would be required to make an individualized determination as to whether compensatory services are needed under applicable standards and requirements.

If an LEA continues to provide educational opportunities to the general student population during a school closure, the school must ensure that students with disabilities also have equal access to the same opportunities, including the provision of FAPE. (34 CFR §§ 104.4, 104.33 (Section 504) and 28 CFR § 35.130 (Title II of the ADA)). SEAs, LEAs, and schools must ensure that, to the greatest extent possible, each student with a disability can be provided the special education and related services identified in the student's IEP developed under IDEA, or a plan developed under Section 504. (34 CFR §§ 300.101 and 300.201 (IDEA), and 34 CFR § 104.33 (Section 504)).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- OCR's guidance appears to indicate that if a hypothetical student was unilaterally placed during the COVID-19 school related closure and the parent sought reimbursement, and successfully demonstrated that the district was not providing their child with a FAPE and the private placement was providing their child with a FAPE, the time the student spent at the new placement during the COVID-19 district closure could only be reimbursed on a theory of compensatory education—comp ed for a denial of FAPE occurring before the COVID-19 school closure or an IEP team deciding to provide the student with comp ed for the time during the COVID-19 school closure--and not on a theory of a prospective placement because the District is not required to educate the hypothetical student during the closure if the district is not serving the general population. Does OCR share the same analysis of this issue? If not, how does OCR's analysis of this issue differ?

Best,

In several instances there is the mention of "Awarding agencies" as having the ability to grant certain flexibilities, and I wonder who the Awarding agency is, USED or the SEA? For example, #4 - Extension to Expiring Awards - does the authority to grant this extension rest with the SEA or does the LEA or SEA have to apply to USED for this extension?

Subject: Request for deadline extension for the Title 2, Part A LEA Survey
Importance: High

Patrick,

Yesterday Kansas school districts began receiving the Title 2, Part A LEA Survey via an email from IES. The email states that the surveys are to be submitted by April 8th. Ordinarily that would be a sufficient timeframe for our districts to respond, but these are extraordinary times, and the state of Kansas has effectively ordered all school buildings closed through at least May 1st in response to the COVID-19 crisis. For many districts this limits staff ability to readily access the records that they need in order to complete the survey. At the same time, Kansas districts are busy coordinating outreach to families and implementing plans for continuous education for students.

In light of these circumstances, Kansas requests an extension of the deadline the for the Title 2, Part A LEA Survey for all Kansas LEAs to no earlier than May 15, 2020.

We are happy to address any questions, and appreciate your assistance with this matter.

Thank you,
Dean

PARTNERS IN DEVELOPMENT FOUNDATION

March 20, 2020

Aloha,

Per our Governor's press release on March 16, 2020 at 2pm, we have now activated the Hawaii Emergency Management Agency (HI-EMA) that is working under the Federal Emergency Management Agency in order to request federal assistance and implement local responses consistent with FEMA guidelines. The newly appointed director of HI-EMA stated that we need to make assumptions that we have to plan for a community wide spread. According to NIH Director Dr. Anthony Fauci, if we wait until we have a handful of community spread cases before we take steps to implement social distancing, it will be too late.

Partners in Development Foundation is seeking to be proactive and comply with both federal and state guidelines to assist in flattening the curve of the COVID-19 pandemic spread and have thus initiated an Emergency Alternative Track plan. In general, this means that we are asking our exempt staff to work remotely if their positions allow for this and all non-exempt staff to stay home if at all possible. We also follow the State DOE's schedule for our teaching programs and yesterday, the Governor announced that the State's public and public charter schools will be extending their spring break for two (2) additional weeks through April 6, 2020.

It is recognized that federal and/or state requirements for charging the respective grants are tied to actual hours worked on the program/grant. However, this COVID-19 crisis is beyond the control of our employees and in order to flatten the spread of the disease, we want staff to be able to stay home without the worry of not being able to pay their rent, groceries, car payment or other expenses. Thus, we would like to request that the USDOE allow the NHEP grantees to continue to pay our employees without having to first exhaust their personal days or vacation balance as they are being asked to not report to work during this national state of emergency. In PIDF's case, we would request that this be allowed effective Monday, March 16, 2020.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Here are some examples of the dilemma that we are facing. Non-exempt staff are supposed to be supervised and are not allowed to work from home based on Department of Labor laws; however, now due to the COVID-19, guidelines are being provided to allow some to work remotely. Majority of the non-exempt staff's work are generally performed at their worksite or interacting with program participants. In one program, for some exempt teaching staff, they may be able to work from home to do lesson plans, etc.; however, we expect that they will complete the bulk of those duties within a short period of time as much of their job is focused on their interactions with the families. Another complication that has just come up is that the majority of sites where we hold our program have been closed, some for a couple of weeks and others until the end of April. In another program, there are exempt teaching staff who function as substitutes for school teachers who participate in professional development cycles; if the schools close, then there will be no professional development cycles. Thus there may be exempt staff, due to the nature of their job, who may also be unable to work from home.

Although it was PIDF's intention to fully implement the Emergency Alternative Track plan, the prospect of some staff (non-exempt and some exempt as described above) not being paid due to not having enough personal days or vacation leave or not wanting to exhaust all available personal days or vacation leave has in effect encouraged most staff to continue to come to work. This situation makes complying with the social distancing federal guidelines very challenging. The assurance of personnel compensation through the respective federal grant or other funding source for these staff will enable them to stay at home, thus keeping them, their co-workers, and the families we serve safer through social distancing.

We request your consideration of our request and look forward to your response.

Mahalo,

Hi there,

Thank you for the quick response. Here are questions that we just gathered during our call. I am happy to disseminate any information you will be able to share. Thank, Christine

1. Can Title IIA SEA funds be used to purchase devices (tablets/laptops or hot spots for connectivity) for students to ensure equitable access to effective educators since students can't go to school? Or will there be a waiver about purchasing devices?

2. Since for many districts, engaging in online learning is not part of regular instruction - is this supplemental? What types of purchases would be permitted?

3. Will there be a waiver for Title IVA cap of 15% for Effective Use of Technology ?

4. Are any plans to extend the federal grant period?
    a. Will dates for both 2018-19 and 19-20 be moved? Districts are concerned about carryover that expires this September 2020.

Good Morning Christine:

Faatimah Muhammad forwarded your question concerning Title IV-A to the Office of Safe and Supportive Schools, and I'm pleased to respond.

Please note that Title IV-A funds may be used for expenses related to distance learning if the SEA determines it is allowable and consistent with the purposes of at least one of the three content areas (in this case well rounded), and if it is reasonable, necessary and allocable to the grant. Please note that the 15 percent special rule, ESEA Section 4109(b), applies only to the effective use of technology content area and not to well rounded.

At this time, we are not aware of any potential waiver of the 15 percent special rule, however I would recommend regularly checking the Department's webpage for any additional guidance.

If you have any further questions related to Title IV-A, please feel free to contact our office.

Thanks,

Bryan Williams

Good morning!

I have not seen any guidance come out related to V4/V5 processing during quarantine. We have at least 1 student for the current term who needs to complete V4 verification, but we are working 100% remote until at least April 15.

Is there any guidance that can be provided on alternative methods for getting this taken care of (e.g. can we video chat and watch them sign the statement of educational purpose, and then accept it electronically? This student does not have access to a notary at this time.)

We appreciate any advice you can provide!

Good morning,

I am contacting you from an agency from Spain.

We bring every year 100 students from Spain for a cultural immersion (thanks to the Department of State Program J1) to do a year of High School.

Because of COVID-19 and the closure of the schools, all of our students have been sent home and most of them are already receiving online education.

I need to know (I am not sure this is the right place to ask this, but I don't know where else to ask this) if my students will:

-Be able to continue the online education from Spain?
-Be able to finish the year and received credits for the classes? (of course if they finish all the assignment)
-Be able to receive the Transcript for the full year?

In conclusion, if they, as well as the American High schoolers will be able to finish the year.

I look forward to your answer.

Thank you very much

To: COVID-19
Subject: Help for K-12 Students, Parents, Caregivers

I am asking the US Department of Education to provide an online resource to assist students, parents and caregivers in managing through this difficult time.

Now that vital issues like student loan payments have been addressed, it is time to lead American families in dealing with this crisis.

Approximately one third of the nation has been told to stay home. Schools have been cancelled but many adults are either working from home, or are working in essential services including health care.

My challenge for the US Department of Education is to create a safe and secure online platform that can be used to help structure student's time, provide them with learning activities, enrich their lives, and reduce their boredom and the counterproductive actions that often result from boredom. Furthermore, be up and running in three (3) business days.

This should be possible with resources already available. This is not a big-budget item. This is six IT people and six content coordinators dedicated for three days. One dozen people; each giving three days. Three phone calls should get a corporate sponsor to defray the cost, if necessary.

What families need:

--Acknowledgement that these are challenging times. Most parents and caregivers are neither educators nor free to become home-schoolers full-time. Many are juggling jobs and other responsibilities.

--Assurance that we can do this… together. Let's shift the messaging from "this is hard so we'll quit at Easter" to "We Got This!" My parents were children during the depression, and my father was stationed at Pearl Harbor on Dec 7, 1941, yet their generation put mankind on the moon and began to open the American Dream to all citizens regardless of race, creed, color or gender. Let's channel the resolve and fortitude of the Greatest Generation; let's get this done.

--Sample daily routines based on age (an example shared on a neighborhood social media site follows)

--Links to free websites that provide a range of activities, grouped by topic and/or age. A 1-3 sentence description would be helpful.

Topics can include but are not limited to: Science (divided by Elementary, Biology, Chemistry..); Word Searches and Puzzles; Math; Arts (include links to museums offering virtual tours, youtube videos on drawing…); Exercise and Sports (youtube yoga, gentle yoga for those with physical limitations including older caregivers, tai chi, ask LeBron to provide content on dribbling and a message to put pick-up games on hold); Literature; Studio Arts; Music; Social Studies; Technology (e.g. coding); Languages.

What families don't need:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

--Perfection – Launch in three days and improve thereafter. Include reasonable caveats: parents should review sites for appropriateness; no government responsibility for specific content. Include a reporting mechanism for violent, racist, explicit and other inappropriate content.

--Government created content. Content is already out there but families who do not homeschool don't know where to find it. Many school systems closed before it was possible to implement online learning strategies. Many school systems do not have the resources to tackle this. However, between the Department and the many fine Universities with Education faculty, and the existing homeschooling resources, content and capability exists.

What would be nice:

--Free limited duration subscriptions for many of the sites that provide enrichment. Why will companies do this? It is good marketing, good public relations, and the right thing to do. Audible, Adobe Creative Suite (Photoshop, Illustrator…), Pandora, Spotify, Disney, Netflix, Hulu, Berlitz, iTunes… 30 days to help America deal with social distancing. New subscribers only. Why not ask?

--Crowd sourced content that is awesome. Not just actors and actresses sending out warm fuzzies, but rap stars providing homemade video with advice on rhyme schemes and cadence, Grammy winners sharing their vocal warm up routines, pro athletes sharing the exercises they do to stay loose and strong, cartoonists sharing how they draw a puppy, photographers sharing how to use your phone to create stunning images of insects or flowers or clouds (not people).

Please provide a tool American families can use to guide them through this pandemic, and to overcome the challenges of social distancing and school closures.

Respectfully,

Janie Holbrook

Sample Schedule developed by real parents working from home (not me):

By 9: Wake up/dress/brush teeth, etc.

9-9:30: breakfast 9:30-10:15: math (Top Score worksheets on Blackboard for older; Num Fu - addition/subtraction for younger)

10:15-10:45: reading books or writing about a topic (switch days) (older); sight words or practice writing letters (younger)

10:45-11:15: Spanish for kids on YouTube/snack

11:15-12:00: active time/recess (outdoor play)

12:00-12:30: lunch

12:30-1:00: free iPad time 1:00-1:30: Wendy Mac art (Instagram Live)

1:30-2:00: coding (code.org)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2:00-3:00: flex time (music/dance/hockey)

3:00-3:30: Cincinnati Zoo (Facebook Live).

We have built in a little extra time in places to transition or if the kids are being crazy, but keeping a general schedule helps a ton. They expect math/reading in the am, snacks at Spanish, and coding in the afternoon.

He is being forced by the university to return home, and they are threatening to take away his scholarships and health insurance if he does not comply. He is safe where he is, in a country handling the virus well, and he has severe anxiety about traveling and returning to Tennessee. Both the state and federal governments are doing a poor job with prevention.

Traveling home now would require several trains and at least 2 stops. Since this is nonessential travel, must he comply?

Thank you,
Terri Lyon

Q.

Can a student consider a student to be graduate if all courses of the program are completed before the end of the final term of study?

Due to the current emergency situation of COVID-19 this Medical school is considering to graduate students before the end of the term since the students have completed all required courses for graduation.

Students have completed substantially (more than 60% of all scheduled instructional time) and have completed all courses requirements. Cases will be evaluated on case by case to substantiate the completion of the required courses.

Is there a need to adjust DL period dates?

Subject: Medical students & possible early graduation

The College of Medicine is considering graduating medical students a few weeks early in order to get them into practice as soon as possible during the COVID19 pandemic. Their AY would still be a total of 36 weeks but their spring term could be as short as 12 weeks depending on the graduation date decided.

What is the threshold for reporting to the School Participation Team for a shortened term?

- If the term remains 14 weeks or longer (based on the November 5, 2019 guidance for flexibility in length of a term) would we need to report a change in length of the program?
- If the total academic year remains longer than 30 instructional weeks but one term is shortened for the graduating class, would we need to report the change in length of the program?

Thank you in advance for your assistance.

Bobbi

To Whom It May Concern:

The NC Community College System Office is considering an optional process for colleges to use the Incomplete grade to mitigate the impact of COVID-19. Please see the below scenario and question. ---

Scenario: We would like to create a unique incomplete grade for emergency situations (e.g., IE – Incomplete Emergency) to be used with an emergency splitting of the course. For example, welding courses are not available online. So, the faculty member would assign the grade IE to students who choose not to withdraw and want to complete in a future semester. The faculty notes their grade at that time. The college creates a Part B to the course that covers the remaining content of the welding course and makes it available either during the Summer 2020 term and/or the Fall 2020 term. The Part B course will have appropriate SHC but will not count toward graduation and not count in the registration credits for financial aid purposes. Students with the IE in the original welding course are eligible to enroll. After the student completes the Part B course, then the faculty member would submit the final grade replacing the IE in the original welding course. Students who do not enroll in the part B course by the college's deadline would receive a final grade as if the Part B content was not completed (e.g., some students may receive a failing grade and some students could receive a passing grade because their grades were "high" before the IE.).

Questions: Would the IE course impact SAP and other financial aid regulations? Would the Part B course impact SAP and other financial aid regulations?

Hello,

Hope that you all are well and safe. I recently spoke with some people from our OT program and they had somc questions that students have been asking:

1) For students who will be graduating at the end of this year, will they only receive the standard 6 months of loan payment deferments? The reason for the question is that the students in this program are required to take and pass a test in order to work. The entity that performs the test is not looking to begin testing again until June/July of 2020. This will delay these students from employment due to this requirement as their degrees will confer in May. These students usually will be employed prior to graduation.

2) For students who need to complete fieldwork to graduate, if we were to give them an Incomplete (due to fieldwork placement being unavailable), would they still be considered "enrolled" until their fieldwork is completed?

Dear Kelly,

This should be looked at.

In brief, asthma is a condition that could be considered under the Rehab Act & IDEA; therefore, I added CDC's language regarding persons at a higher risk as well as a statement that schools and families can work together to determine if additional modifications and accommodations would be applicable.

I updated the title of the document and the text.

Hi,
I would like to thank everyone in the Dept of Education for their hard work and dedication to the future of America, our children. I know that everyone is busy and overwhelmed with all of the Covid-19 developments and are doing an outstanding job of protecting the health and safety of our students. I must ask, my student has chronic asthma, and he has a history of becoming extremely ill due to colds and flu, croup, and other respiratory infections. What provisions is the Dept of Education recommending for these sensitive group students??? I would like to know that students that have these conditions will be pulled from campus, if any risk of exposure is present. I am uncomfortable with the current guidelines, they do not address the needs of this vulnerable population within our school community. Thank you Sent from my iPhone

Dear Ms. Desarey:

Thank you for contacting the U.S. Department of Education (Department) concerning COVID-19 ("Coronavirus").

These are challenging times for schools and communities, and administrators and public health officials are facing difficult decisions related to preventing the spread of this respiratory disease. Unfortunately, there are no easy answers.

Regarding your question, school plans be designed to complement other community mitigation strategies to protect high-risk populations, minimize disruption to teaching and learning, and protect students and staff from social stigma and discrimination. Currently, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends persons who are at higher risk to speak with their healthcare providers about possible protective measures. Schools and the families of students with asthma should work together to determine whether a student has rights under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (Section 504) or the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), in which case a specific set of accommodations and modifications may be developed to help ensure inclusion to the extent possible under the law, in accordance with CDC guidelines and the healthcare provider recommendations. For the most up-to-date information from the CDC on COVID-19, please visit www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-nCoV.

In addition, the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools and communities as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available.

Thank you for sharing your concerns with us. We invite you to send questions on which the Department can be helpful to the following email address: COVID-19@ed.gov.

I'd like to run any potential reply past our fiscal team before I set up a call with Ana to discuss specifics.

I'm assuming we need more information such as:

1. what are the specific new tasks
2. which Part C personnel are involved in the tasks
3. how much money are they wanting to use
4. how do the tasks specifically support the needs of infants, toddlers and families in Part C
5. any anticipated impact on direct service delivery if funds are diverted

Anything else??

As you know, the Puerto Rico Department of Health is working with the COVID-19 pandemic. Certain professionals are going to be asked to participate in teams as needs arise, such as epidemiologists, social workers, doctors, nurses, program evaluators and program coordinators. We have questions as to whether new tasks related to the public health emergency can be paid with Part C funds. Does OSEP have a guidance on what Part C funds can be used for in the times of the pandemic?

As always, I appreciate your continuous support.

Hi,

I'm sure you get a lot of content submissions, but I wanted to bring to your attention to a new guide we released about the COVID-19 and policies for businesses: https://askalmanac.com/articles/10783/covid-19-company-playbook

This helpful how-to guide includes templates from 100+ companies, business communications about Coronavirus, how to transition to work from home, social distancing at workplaces and much more. The guides have been downloaded more than 5000 times already and the usage keeps growing.

Do you think it would be a good fit for the Coronavirus resources for businesses on this page? https://www.ed.gov/coronavirus

I'd love to get your thoughts.

Best,
Ludwig

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dear Mr. Makhyan:

Thank you for contacting the U.S. Department of Education (Department) concerning COVID-19 ("Coronavirus").

These are challenging times for schools and communities, and administrators and public health officials are facing difficult decisions related to preventing the spread of this respiratory disease. Unfortunately, there are no easy answers.

While there is currently no vaccine to prevent COVID-19, public health officials are currently taking steps to prevent the spread of this respiratory disease. Schools can play an important role in this effort. Through collaboration and coordination with local health authorities and other agencies, schools can disseminate important information about this disease and its potential transmission.

We appreciate the information about resources that you have shared. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) offers the most up-to-date information on COVID-19. Schools can share relevant CDC fact sheets to help students, families, and staff understand COVID-19, along with steps they can take to protect themselves. For further information, please visit www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-nCoV.

In addition, the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools and communities as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available.

Thank you for sharing your thoughts with us. We invite you to send questions on which the Department can be helpful to the following email address: COVID-19@ed.gov.

Sincerely,

The COVID-19 Response Team

Subject: RE: Evaluations

Good morning and thank you for resending the inquiry!

This inquiry directly relates to requirements under IDEA and a response should be crafted by OSERS reflecting their most recent guidance: https://www2.ed.gov/policy/speced/guid/idea/memosdcltrs/qa-covid-19-03-12-2020.pdf?utm_content=&utm_medium=email&utm_name=&utm_source=govdelivery&utm_term=

The document mentions evaluations and alternate settings for evaluation; however, I am sure they have more focused and approved language or a method of more directly responding to this particular question.

As always, please let me know if you have a different perspective or if I can be of any further support!

Sincerely,
Madeline

Subject: Evaluations

We are struggling to find a way to complete evaluations and maintain the recommended 6 foot social distancing requirement. Having to point to specific test items, observe student responses, give students manipulatives are just a few examples of things done in the evaluation session which won't allow the evaluator to maintain the appropriate distance. We can't find a way to do these virtually, either. I would ask that your department seriously considers allowing districts to suspend evaluation timelines until we are able to work with students face to face. We want our students to have the services they need, but not at the risk of their or our staff members' health.

Hello,
Hope you are well!
I have reached out to the WIDA state listserv to see what others are doing to identify new students who may be English learners.
While there are no states with answers, there are many needing guidance.
Could you please see if you can provide us with guidance on how to follow identification procedures and meet the students' civil rights while maintaining states' closure orders? We are primarily concerned about administering the valid and reliable screener assessment.

Thank you for your support.
Be well!

Good afternoon!
Marist College (in New York State) extended spring break by 1 week due to COVID-19. At the end of spring break, instruction will resume online until the scheduled end date of the spring term. Since our start and end dates currently remain the same, we are requesting a temporary reduction in our academic year from 30 weeks of instructional time to 29 weeks (15 weeks of instruction for Fall 2019 and 14 weeks of instruction for Spring 2020).
I left a voice message for our School Participation Team, but am also resending this email as instructed. Please advise.

Hello,

If the institution suspends classes and is unable to add additional classes at the end of one of its terms to reach at least 30 weeks in the academic year, the institution may need to request a temporary reduction in the length of its academic year definition in order to avoid impacts to students' Title IV aid awards. Good evening,

I hope this email finds you well healthy and safe during these uncertain times. I am the Program Coordinator for the Supportive Schools Newark initiative funded by the Mental Health Service Professional Demonstration grant. Below are the three questions that I currently have regarding implementation, funding and timeline:

1. A major component of our initiative is to provide group and individual counseling sessions which we were to commence in April. Given the circumstance that we are in, all district schools have moved toward home-instruction and it is unclear when the district will reopen the schools. What are the expectation for meeting narrative goals that are currently pending due to the response to COVID-19?
2. Are there any updates regarding an extension/grace period for the funds that needed to be used by the June 2020?
3. Will there be an extension for the Interim report due May 29, 2020?

Thank you in advance, I look forward to the grantee webinar scheduled for Thursday, March 26th.

In several instances there is the mention of "Awarding agencies" as having the ability to grant certain flexibilities, and I wonder who the Awarding agency is, USED or the SEA? For example, #4 - Extension to Expiring Awards - does the authority to grant this extension rest with the SEA or does the LEA or SEA have to apply to USED for this extension?

Hello,

Due to a stay home order our governor issued effective 3/25 we will be disbursing FSA credit balances through direct deposit remotely but, as far as our students who elect paper checks we need to go to the school and print checks. My question is with our start date being 3/30/2020 the seventh day of the payment period would be Monday April 6, 2020. My question is we are able to print checks on Tuesday April 7, 2020 for these students. Would that be fine to disburse paper checks on April 7th due to COVID-19 events and stay home order issued in our state?

Thank you,

Snip from FSA Handbook:

ıg FSA Funds, 2018–2019 Glossary CFR DCL

Special provisions for books and supplies

In order to academically succeed in a program, a student must be able to purchase books and supplies at the beginning of the academic period. Therefore, by the seventh day of a payment period, a school must provide a way for a student who is eligible for FSA funds to obtain or purchase the books and supplies required for the payment period if

- ten days before the beginning of the payment period, the school could have disbursed FSA funds to the student; and
- disbursement of those funds would have created an FSA credit balance.

Dear Ms. Atkeson:

Thank you for contacting the U.S. Department of Education (Department) concerning COVID-19 ("Coronavirus").

These are challenging times for schools and communities, and administrators and public health officials are facing difficult decisions related to preventing the spread of this respiratory disease. Unfortunately, there are no easy answers.

While there is currently no vaccine to prevent COVID-19, public health officials are currently taking steps to prevent the spread of this respiratory disease. Schools can play an important role in this effort. Through collaboration and coordination with local health authorities and other agencies, schools can disseminate important information about this disease and its potential transmission.

As you have noted, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) offers the most up-to-date information on COVID-19. Schools can share relevant CDC fact sheets to help students, families, and staff understand COVID-19, along with steps they can take to protect themselves. For further information, please visit www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-nCoV.

In addition, the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools and communities as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available.

Thank you for sharing your thoughts with us. We invite you to send questions on which the Department can be helpful to the following email address: COVID-19@ed.gov.

Dear Ms. Mercer:

Thank you for contacting the U.S. Department of Education (Department) concerning COVID-19 ("Coronavirus").

These are challenging times for schools and communities, and administrators and public health officials are facing difficult decisions related to preventing the spread of this respiratory disease. Unfortunately, there are no easy answers.

Regarding your question, please note that the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act, or CARES Act, recently passed by Congress will provide billions of dollars in emergency aid, including $3 billion which would be set aside for emergency relief funds that governors can use for schools in areas severely affected by the outbreaks, and another $13.5 billion that will go towards elementary and secondary school relief funding. These funds will be critical for schools and communities to protect students, staff, and families.

For further information, please note that the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. Good Afternoon,

I was asked by our project officer to direct my update and questions toward this email address. This information was sent this morning.

As an update to our situation here, as of yesterday all Oklahoma Public School districts have been directed to complete the school year through distance learning and all activities are cancelled. Administrations have until April 6 to submit to the State their plan for distance learning to ensure inclusivity for all students within their district. Schools have been directed to remain closed until June 30 with no on site activities. This closure of our schools will of course have a significant effect on our ability to complete our goals and objectives. We had significant plans toward summer school initiatives, which will now not be possible.

In addition, Chickasaw Nation facilities are closed at this time until April 15. Mission critical staff are the only personnel required to report to work at this time. All personnel within our NYCP grant have been asked to stay at home until April 15 at minimum. So, right now I am the only staff person working in office at this time. Salaries will continue to be paid for all staff.

I have a couple of questions as to how best to proceed from here. First, will you all be offering any conference calls or guidance toward our programs in the coming weeks or will guidance be on a one on one basis? Second, how has the COVID-19 crisis affected reporting requirements (i.e. annual report deadline)? How has the crisis affected the opportunities available for the new funding cycle? Will funding still be available and will this delay the processes involved in posting a NOFO?

Your guidance is appreciated. Stay safe!

At my institution lecture classes have moved online and the campus is open but accessible only to students, staff, and faculty. Staff and faculty have been encouraged to work at home as much as possible. We are a health sciences school and clinicals are still going on at sites as long as the site hasn't cancelled them. Some labs are still taking place on campus and others are being moved online if they can be.

I have some work-study students who are still working. I have other work-study students who are not working for various other reasons – one is pregnant which puts her in a high risk category for COVID-19 and one has moved home to be near her family because of COVID-19. These two students are "unable to work their scheduled hours because of COVID-19 disruptions." Another student has made the decision not to work because she doesn't want to put herself at risk. Since she could work but made the choice not to because of COVID-19 can I pay her? I have other students who have expressed their concern about working when the guidance from the local health department and the CDC is to stay home and social distance. They could work but may also make the choice not to. Can I pay them? None of the work-study positions can be done by other means such as online, remote, or telecommute.

Thanks,
Laura

Subject: TIV Credit Balance and EFA

In response to, "AskRegs Update: Can We Hold the Title IV Credit Balance Until the Next Award Year If We Refund Institutional Charges Due To Coronavirus?", NASFAA included the following guidance: "Note: Once you deliver the Title IV credit balance to the student or parent for the current award year, those funds belong to the student or parent and must be used to cover educational expenses. If the student or parent then uses those funds to make an advance payment towards next year's charges, it is a payment on the student's account for next year and not estimated financial assistance (EFA) for either award year. This is different from the limited scenario when the school delays a refund of institutional charges and provides an institutional credit towards next year's institutional charges, in which case it is EFA next year."

Can you please explain what it means to "deliver" a TIV credit balance? Must we cut a check? We want to make sure we understand fully so that we do not create a situation that requires us to use the TIV credit balance as EFA next year. Families are suffering enough. To have to then treat a credit balance as EFA seems like an unnecessary penalty. We'd prefer to create the credit this year and encourage the student to use it as prepayment for next year, but how can we do this or suggest this within the regulations?

Thank you and stay well,

RE: Touro College Request for Early Graduation of Medical Students
OPEID 01014200

Good Evening,

With Governor Cuomo's request to higher-education health institutions in New York to assist the State's health systems, Touro College submits this for approval to begin the process of providing eligible students in our DO program the option to graduate early. This early graduation will allow such students to provide additional support to the medical personnel on the front lines of the COVID-19 pandemic.

This option will be made available to students, on a case-by-case basis, who have completed all of the academic requirements necessary to for their degree. All students that are eligible for this option will have met the required minimum of 228 credit hours and 130 weeks as reported to COCA (see Appendix A). This optional, early graduation is approved by our programmatic accreditor and is currently under review by the New York State Department of Education.

Graduation will be on a per student basis as each student completes their requirements. Educational instruction is continuing as scheduled and any students not voluntarily choosing this option or who do not qualify will continue their educational program through the duration of the normally scheduled semester.

We hope that this request is met favorably and request your acknowledgement and approval as quickly as possible. Please do not hesitate to reach out to me directly with any questions that you may have.

Thank you.

Respectfully Submitted,

APPENDIX A

The current breakdown for 4th year students who have completed all 9 senior rotations at the Touro College of Osteopathic Medicine is as follows:

| Year | Credit Hours Earned | Curricular Weeks |
|---|---|---|
| 1 | 58 | 35 |
| 2 | 58 | 33 |
| 3 | 66 | 44 |
| 4 | 54 | 36 |
| TOTALS | 236 | 148 |
| REQUIRED | 228 | 130 |

At the time we graduate any eligible student, those students would have completed 8 of 9 senior rotations, which would be 48 credits (8 rotations x 6 credits) and 32 weeks (8 rotations x 4 weeks), which meets the minimum requirements mandated by our specialty accreditor COCA. That looks like this:

| Year | Credit Hours Earned | Curricular Weeks |
|---|---|---|
| 1 | 58 | 35 |
| 2 | 58 | 33 |
| 3 | 66 | 44 |
| 4 | 48 | 32 |
| TOTALS | 230 | 144 |
| REQUIRED | 228 | 130 |

Accordingly, with the completion of the 8th rotation, students that are eligible to graduate early will have met the minimum Credit hours and Curricular weeks as required by COCA.

Subject: Unofficial Withdrawals

I'm not sure the answer to this is known yet but it is something that has come up with the end of term fast approaching. Our school policy is that if a student stops attending at any point within the term that the instructor gives a grade of an F1 meaning they attended at least once and then did not return. If a student has all F1 grades they are considered an unofficial withdrawal and a R2T4 calculation is then processed at 50% of the term.

If a student is an unofficial withdrawal we have no way of knowing if this was due to COVID-19 or not, do we continue to process R2T4's on these students and then if they contact saying it was due to COVID-19 go back and reverse the adjustment?

Thank you in advance.

Good morning,

Our spring semester will be extended by several weeks to allow students to complete clinical rotations that were canceled or postponed due to the COVID-19 outbreak. Some of these students may incur additional living expenses due to the extended semester. Would increasing the spring COA to reflect those additional costs be an appropriate use of professional judgement under the guidance from the Electronic Announcement published March 5, 2020?

To whom it may concern,

The USDE 3/5/20 Electronic Announcement appears to be written with a primary focus on semester based schools so it mostly addresses schools that cease and/or suspend classes during a term and what the ramifications are if the school does not re-open within that same term.

Many of our clients have clock hour programs. Students in a clock hour environment would fall under the BBAY3 academic year model, and therefore there is no specific "term" for these students. Due to the COVID-19 crisis many schools with clock hour programs have also closed for a period of time. Our questions below are regarding how a school with a clock hour program accounts for this period of time when a school is closed due to COVID-19:

- Is the school required to place students on an approved LOA for the duration of the school closure or can the school update the school's published closure days to reflect the days the school is closed due to COVID-19 (similar to if the school was shut down due to other emergencies like a hurricane, flood, etc)?
- If the school is allowed to update the school's published closure days, is there a maximum number of days that the USDE would allow?

Thank you in advance for your guidance.

Richard and Elson,
I'm writing to ask for guidance once again. We are struggling to get a feeding site into Mantua through the School District/City. The District is currently only offering meals two times a week and children are getting three meals at a time. They are saying that there are challenges around freezer space and other requirements at the two closest schools and families are expected to travel almost a mile to get meals which is unrealistic. A civic leader has been renting a truck and picking up meals and distributing block by block to families but she is now ill. We are working to creatively provide support through a network of partners but it is not the most efficient solution. The University has offered to rent freezers if needed. We identified a food pantry that was willing to support distribution but the City is citing federal regulations that prohibit the District from distributing children's meals at non-school sites. Our question is if you know any way to get a waiver for this given that our school-based sites don't meet the criteria and kids are going hungry in a pandemic.

Good morning! I have a couple more questions related to COVID-19 changes.

Our administration wants to give students the option to change some or all of their courses to pass/fail rather than regular grading. We have not seen any guidance on whether this is permissible or not. Our accreditors are not concerned, and we've made sure that the courses will still count towards the students' degrees. Is there anything that we need to be thinking of or tracking on this other than SAP/unofficial WDs? Is there any guidance about this being allowed or not?

Secondly, one of our programs wants to give grocery store gift cards to students who need assistance purchasing food, as we've had to close our on-campus food pantry. Would the value of these cards need to be counted as estimated financial assistance either this year or next year? If so, could the cost of attendance also be increased due to unexpected expenses related to COVID-19?

Thank you!

We at the Department are working to have a response for the COVID-19 questions that you have.

Can I ask for clarity around this one:

- Is it possible for the state to allocate grant funds not designated to schools in its NCE years to re-purpose funds for such emergencies? If so, what would quality and how would approval be sought?

I want to be sure I am understanding, you are saying from the FY15 grant there is funding that will not be used to schools that you want to know if you can use for other purposes? Are you saying repurpose it to support virtual education or something else?

Thank you,

Hi Ashley!

I hope this finds you well in the midst of this new lifestyle we are coming to lead for the time being.

We, as you mostly likely, are just coming to terms with the many ramifications and questions resulting from the COVID-19 and subsequent decisions effecting schooling and working, among other related challenges!

We have received some guidance from CDE's federal programs and grants fiscal regarding federal grants and their programs, but likewise, have been encouraged to ensure that guidelines provided are in alignment with individual grant programs.
For this reason, I am reaching out to see what you would provide (or where you would direct us) for augmented guidance and clarification for the CSP grant under our current circumstances.

Questions that have come to the surface are:

- Will we offer extensions to subgrantees to assist with spending funds down for whatever stage of the grant they are currently in?
- Will we have a suspension or delay in grant competitions?
- In emergency situations, is it possible for a subgrantee to request budget revisions and grant expenditures for things that were not written into their grant on the understanding that it is necessitated by the crisis? If so, what types of situations with merit that?
- Is it possible for the state to allocate grant funds not designated to schools in its NCE years to re-purpose funds for such emergencies? If so, what would quality and how would approval be sought?
- Will our 2015-18 grant receive an automatic NCE or do we still need to submit a request?
- Will federally awarded grants be extended beyond their originally awarded end date?

Some of the above questions are typically determined locally given known guidance. Under COVID-19, we are seeking clarity on federal expectations and guidance that would impact our local decision-making.

I have copied Jennifer Austin and Marti Rodriguez here from Grants Fiscal who may have additional questions or variations on the same. It is our goal to have a mutual, complete and correct understanding of expectations and flexibilities to best assist our schools in the implementation and required expectations of this grant. They may provide additional information, questions or feedback following this email.

If possible, we would like to schedule a call with you, but understand that you may be tackling similar questions with other grantees and are open to hearing from you on your preferred communication style!

Many thanks for your gracious assistance! 😊

Hi Ashely, one clarification from the fiscal side of the house, and I apologize if this was answered.
Per OMB Memo M-20-17, all federal awards were allowed a 12 month no cost extension. Are you saying that this flexibility will not be applied by USDEd in this case. Just trying to understand so I can document correctly.

Bill and Peg,

Additionally around the subgrant extension question.

What you can do, as your application specifically limited the amount of years on a subgrant is pause the subgrant and not count the time the grant is paused as part of the subgrant time. So say a grant had 21 months of implementation, and you paused it, when unpaused it could complete the remaining 3 months (as long as that all kept the grant within 60 months).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

If you were to do this we advise all grantees should be treated the same, the pause would be in effect the moment you communicated to them that no costs should be incurred during the time the grant is paused. This should be thoroughly documented.

Sincerely,

Ashley

Thanks Ashley. Yes, that is basically the question. We are working on our APRs now and will have a good sense of what will be left un-spent and we wanted to see if there was a chance we could consider getting it out to schools in need or something like that rather than having it revert to treasury.

Obviously if it was allowable, we could put together a request for consideration.

Thank you!

Peg,

My eyes missed this email, so I apologize for the delay.

We at the Department are working to have a response for the COVID-19 questions that you have.

Can I ask for clarity around this one:

- Is it possible for the state to allocate grant funds not designated to schools in its NCE years to re-purpose funds for such emergencies? If so, what would quality and how would approval be sought?

I want to be sure I am understanding, you are saying from the FY15 grant there is funding that will not be used to schools that you want to know if you can use for other purposes? Are you saying repurpose it to support virtual education or something else?

Subject: CSP grant guidance and extensions

Hi Ashley!

I hope this finds you well in the midst of this new lifestyle we are coming to lead for the time being.

We, as you mostly likely, are just coming to terms with the many ramifications and questions resulting from the COVID-19 and subsequent decisions effecting schooling and working, among other related challenges!

We have received some guidance from CDE's federal programs and grants fiscal regarding federal grants and their programs, but likewise, have been encouraged to ensure that guidelines provided are in alignment with individual grant programs.
For this reason, I am reaching out to see what you would provide (or where you would direct us) for augmented guidance and clarification for the CSP grant under our current circumstances.

Questions that have come to the surface are:

- Will we offer extensions to subgrantees to assist with spending funds down for whatever stage of the grant they are currently in?
- Will we have a suspension or delay in grant competitions?
- In emergency situations, is it possible for a subgrantee to request budget revisions and grant expenditures for things that were not written into their grant on the understanding that it is necessitated by the crisis? If so, what types of situations with merit that?
- Is it possible for the state to allocate grant funds not designated to schools in its NCE years to re-purpose funds for such emergencies? If so, what would quality and how would approval be sought?
- Will our 2015-18 grant receive an automatic NCE or do we still need to submit a request?
- Will federally awarded grants be extended beyond their originally awarded end date?

Some of the above questions are typically determined locally given known guidance. Under COVID-19, we are seeking clarity on federal expectations and guidance that would impact our local decision-making.

I have copied Jennifer Austin and Marti Rodriguez here from Grants Fiscal who may have additional questions or variations on the same. It is our goal to have a mutual, complete and correct understanding of expectations and flexibilities to best assist our schools in the implementation and required expectations of this grant. They may provide additional information, questions or feedback following this email.

If possible, we would like to schedule a call with you, but understand that you may be tackling similar questions with other grantees and are open to hearing from you on your preferred communication style!

Many thanks for your gracious assistance! ☺

Dear Ariel:

I hope this finds you well. I am attaching a starter list of questions related to what is amounting to a slow-down due to school closures and mandatory tele-work. I am sure these are coming in from everywhere, so no response is expected. I am just sharing so that they can be added to the list for consideration as we continue through the emergency.

In Maryland, the Governor and State Superintendent announced an additional four weeks of school closure through April 24. We are on mandatory telework until further notice.

We were able to proceed with the bulk of the monitoring last week, without school visits of course. I would hope that the monitors might be able to see schools in the fall if not sooner. At this point, I have the information from the office and through remote access to complete the APR and the WestEd data collection. The only possible glitch is if I need data from the state's finance system (which is not available to me remotely) that I did not print ahead I may make a note that I need to validate something when I get access. If there is any thought being given to flexibility around the deadline, let us know!

Take care,
Carol

Questions for USED:

Will the flexibilities listed in the guidance issued by OMB be applied to CSP grantees? To what extent?

The flexibilities described include continued payment of staff that are supported by the grant; and allowing some expenses as "losses", e.g. conference registrations or booked travel for meetings that are cancelled, if refunds are not available.

Grantees/SEs:

- Will there be an opportunity to review and revise program goals in light of delays linked to the COVID-19 emergency? For example, procurement of services necessary to complete some work of the grant will be delayed under Maryland's mandatory telework order.
- Can planned subgrant competitions be delayed?
- Will no-cost extensions be considered if delays in implementing the grant are attributable to the COVID-19 emergency?
- Can a staff person whose salary is supported by the grant continue to work with that salary charged to the grant? In Maryland, there is one recently hired specialist, who is supported by the grant. At present work is able to continue under the requirement for telework in Maryland.

Subgrantees:

- For active subgrantees, can the grantee extend the timeframe of the subgrant, if needed? In Maryland, the subgrantee grant performance period is capped at three years. If a school opening is delayed for an active subgrantee, can Maryland, extend the subgrant time period? In this example, a one-year extension would still result in a subgrantee's total subgrant period being under five years. However, the Planning Period might extend beyond 18 months.
- For active subgrantees, can the SE pause or "stop the clock" for the subgrantee project period timeline upon request? This would allow subgrantees to pause activities and expenditures.
- If the delays caused by the COVID-19 emergency result in additional, unanticipated costs, can the SE consider a supplemental subgrant to cover those, assuming a rigorous vetting for the reasons and assuring that proposed additional costs meet the requirements of the grant for allowable costs? Would any supplemental awards only be allowed if the subgrantee has not already received an award that is the maximum allowed (For 2017 SE grantees the subgrant maximum is $900,000)? Could the supplemental award be made if the total awarded to the subgrantee would exceed the maximum allowed?

Hi Carol,

We are working on an expedited waiver process and guidelines related to COVID and CSP that we will share with all grantees when we are able. Thank you for your questions as it will help us refine our next steps.

As for the APR, yes, I'm happy to grant an extension on the APR submission. Right now our preference is to set the new date to April 20th since need to have them completely final by the end of the month to make continuation awards. Is April 20th amenable to you for an extended FY19 APR submission deadline?

Hi Ashley-

I am trying to get a handle on all the different structured grants under my supervision and the flexibilities described in the above mentioned memo. Regarding the CSP grant, most specifically, Appendix A, number 4, no-cost extensions of expiring awards. Since our State funding expires on September 30, 2020, are we able to offer this extension to our awardees or do we need to apply for another state no-cost extension and wait for approval in order to extend awardee funding?

I know I have a lot of 'extending' in this ask. I hope it makes sense.

Thank you so much.

Office of Elementary and Secondary Education
United States Department of Education

Washington, D.C. 20202

RE: Charter School Program Waiver Request
Section 5204 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act

Assistant Secretary Brogan:

The Tennessee Department of Education (TDOE) is seeking a waiver pursuant to Secretarial authority under Section 8401 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (20 U.S.C §7861) as the state continues to address both the COVID-19 outbreak and the state of emergency resulting from recent tornadoes across Tennessee. TDOE is seeking this waiver and additional accommodations to allow for the deployment of Charter School Program grant funds to assist charter schools in ensuring continued provision of academic and support services to students during and after the period of extended school closure and community recovery.

Time Period for Using CSP Grant Funds

Specifically, TDOE is requesting a waiver to extend the total period of availability for all remaining CSP grant funds to September 30, 2022. With extended school closures, this waiver would allow schools time and flexibility to reset and reevaluate how best to support students following the current crises.

Tennessee counties experienced seven EF3 and EF4 tornadoes on March 2 and 3 which destroyed numerous homes, schools, and lives—the second deadliest tornado outbreak in Tennessee history. We are continuing to support our district and school leaders in recovering from this natural disaster, and the impact on communities is significant. On March 3, Governor Bill Lee declared a state of emergency for this natural disaster.

While in this state of emergency, Tennessee continues to have a growing number of districts that have suspended classes over the past week with the number of confirmed cases of COVID-19 continuing to increase daily. Last week alone, schools serving over 50% of the state's 973,659 students have suspended classes. Yesterday, Governor Bill Lee announced that all public schools in Tennessee would close through the end of March—a decision that would be reevaluated and possibly extended later in the month. Districts and charter entities are working to develop and implement continuity of instruction plans; however, many of our largest urban and suburban districts, serving over 500,000 of Tennessee's students, also serve most of the state's highest poverty schools. Many of their students do not have appropriate access to technology in their homes, making instructional continuity more challenging. Further, all Tennessee charter schools are located within one of the state's four largest urban districts.

As noted above, the dual challenges of COVID-19 and tornadoes have significantly impacted the ability of the state's 115 charter schools to serve their nearly 40,000 students. Though nominally functioning under the supervisory auspices of a local LEA, these schools operate largely as independent entities with limited access to shared resources. The majority of the state's charter schools do not belong to a larger CMO, and even the largest CMO in the state solely consists of seven campuses. In this uniquely challenging context, it will be critical for charter schools to share resources and systems across geographic boundaries that will allow for continued provision of academic and support services to students and families.

Expansion of Definition of "Allowable Activities"

In light of the foregoing, Tennessee is requesting an expansion of the definition of "Allowable Activities" as specified in §5204(f)(3) to allow TDOE to employ grant funds specifically to ensure that Tennessee charter school students retain continued access to academic instruction throughout this period. Potential examples of permissible expenses under these revised criteria could include technology to be deployed directly to students, supplemental consumable curricular resources, software platforms that would allow for distance learning, supplies associated with preparation of instructional materials, and associated expenses.

In addition, Tennessee is seeking expansion of the definition of "Activities" as specified in §5204(f)(6)(b) to allow TDOE to employ grant funds specifically for the development of collaborative structures that will allow students across multiple affected schools continued access to academic instruction throughout this period. Potential examples of permissible expenses under these revised criteria could include virtual learning platforms serving students across multiple charter schools, shared curricular resources, or cross-utilized staff across schools.

Due to the evolving nature and scope of the current crises Tennessee is facing, we did not provide public notice prior to submission of this waiver request. We will actively communicate this request and provide appropriate follow-up communication with stakeholders.

Thank you for consideration of these requests. The waiver and expanded definitions will ensure that the TDOE is equipped to serve our charter schools in recovering from these crises. Please feel free to contact Judy Spencer, by telephone at (615) 253-5493 or at Judy.Spencer@tn.gov if there are questions regarding this request or if additional information is needed.

Best,

We are working on distance education for our students. I have a couple questions for you:

Full time students are 30 hours per week. If we offer them distance education and they take advantage of it there is no way they would sit in front of a computer 7.5 hours per day for 4 days (which is their typical schedule). We are looking at doing 3.75 hours a day for 4 days a week, which would take them to half time status. I know we would need to adjust their contract and schedules. We would still be able to get financial aid for them because they would not fall below half time. Do I need to adjust NSLDS enrollment reporting to show that they are now half time? Then once we reopen adjust everything back to full time status.

Our part time program is 15 hours per week; if we cut that in half they would fall below half time. I would adjust their contract and schedules. Do I need to report that for NSLDS Enrollment Reporting that they have dropped below half time?

I am not sure if our students will take advantage of this or not; we are sending an email to them today. I just want to make sure we are doing everything correctly. Take care!

We have a program that requires a standardized exam score (TEAS test)) as part of their admissions criteria. We have been informed that there is a wait of several months to sign up with a third-party proctor to administer those tests online, if at all, but we have a start date in July for that program.

Our program is considering suspending that criteria from our admissions criteria temporarily. If they suspend that criteria but do not issue a new catalog addendum (i.e., we document the suspension internally only), would students admitted during that suspension be eligible for Title IV funds? They are NOT admitting them conditionally, but suspending that admissions requirement temporarily.

My understanding is that you must follow your published admissions criteria for a student to be eligible for Title IV funds.

Sally

In a press release on you the US Department of Education website, March 20, 2020

U.S. Secretary of Education Betsey DeVos announced that the office of Federal Student Aid is executing on President Donald Trump's promise to provide student loan aid relief to tens of millions or borrowers during the COVID-19 national emergency.

0% for 60 days, and the option to suspend payments for at least 2 months without penalty or interest.

This is misleading and not 100% accurate. I have Federal Student Loans through Navient, my loans are Federal Loans. BUT they are not Federally held loans. Therefore millions of people holding student loan debt WILL NOT receive relief under this bill, due to specific terminology "Federally Held Student Loans" and "Federal Student Loans". Navient told me that my Federal Stafford loans were not Federally Held Loans, therefore I do not qualify for 0% or No Penalty/No Interest on Forbearance. My interest rate will remain 8.25% and If I choose forbearance I will incur over $1,000 in interest over 3 months.

This is a falsehood put on by the Department of Education which does not support what the President said he wanted to do. The President stated he wanted to provide relief to all holding student loan debt.

I will be writing my congressman and my President.

Hello,

I was wondering if we were going to hear anything on emergency waivers for IDEA in the area of timeline flexibility.

While we have heard from TEA, the districts are aware that IDEA still holds up as it should, but TEA is advising that the districts to function with health first, best practice next, and compliance last.

While that is wonderful to know that we all know what is best, our directors are finding themselves concerned with the budget and the concerns that they will be owing compensatory services and face sanctions for missing initial evaluation timelines and re-evaluation timelines on an already tight budget.

Even if we go back to work in the next couple of weeks, we would have lost 3 weeks of time to work through evaluations and we would need more time to catch-up.

We would like to see a waiver of the sanctions, the opportunity to add the days of missed face-to-face learning.

There is a national shortage of school psychologists across the nation. We already feel like we are overstretched. This closure has just magnified the shortage as we will have an influx of evaluations that are due one on top of another.

We are at a lockdown in our area and we don't know until how much longer. We just want to have the federal backing so we do not feel like insubordinate employees when our directors tell us we need to do face to face evaluations because we will then be out of compliance. We want to feel supported and not feel like we are breaking the law.

Thank you for the long hours you have all been investing trying to resolve this situation in the most meaningful and expedient manner. I do not envy having the weight of the nation's educational progress on your shoulders. Thank you for your role in creating quality and equitable practices for all. I know there are so many department, offices, areas that need attention. However, I hope we are not being forgotten. We just want temporary relief. We respect and have always protected and abided by IDEA. For once, we hope someone is advocating for us, the people on the educational frontlines bending over backwards trying to make this work.

To Whom It May Concern,

My name is María del Carmen Needham, and I am a concerned citizen, a parent, and a Licensed Specialist in School Psychology.

Schools have been closed to prevent the spread of the Coronavirus (COVID-19). In an effort to provide instructional services to the students, the schools have moved to a virtual school. Because of such, TEA has put out a guidance document indicating that as long as school is in session, which includes a virtual classroom, then the evaluation timelines are active.

School evaluators are being asked to conduct these evaluations despite the recommendation to avoid contact with others during this time of social distancing. In order for the evaluators to obtain reliable data, the evaluators are ethically obligated to meet face-to-face with the student. However, ethically, the evaluator is feeling an obligation to society to avoid a face-to-face meeting with the student.

In order to avoid face-to-face evaluations, a practitioner may consider testing through virtual means. As an LSSP, I am not trained nor do I feel competent to complete evaluations through electronic means. It would be difficult to conduct a cognitive assessment via teleconference. We would be breaking standardized procedures, thus invalidating the data and making eligibility determinations on inaccurate data. Obtaining accurate data is essential to our practice.

When conducting evaluations, we always want to function in the best interest of the student and we use instruments that will yield the most accurate data. Ethically and legally, our job is to ensure we obtain data that is free of extraneous factors that might confound our assessment data. During this COVID-19 pandemic, licensees have expressed concern that the child might be experiencing anxiety or fear. Therefore, this fear and anxiety could influence the child's performance. Several practitioners have expressed this is their greatest concern since we make significant decisions based on the results of the evaluation. We could have unreliable data that may not support eligibility criteria when under less stressful circumstances, the scores could be different. Therefore, obtaining data under these circumstances seems inappropriate.

I want to act in a responsible manner to our students and society. I would prefer to postpone face-to-face contact for an emotional, behavioral, cognitive and/or academic evaluation for the sake of not contributing to the spread of the virus.

The CDC, the President, and government officials recommend social distancing of at least 6 feet apart, when we conduct evaluations we are within close proximity because we are handling stimulus books and stimulus items (blocks, manipulatives, pencils, response booklets, etc). Some of the students we work with might be immunocompromised or live in multigenerational homes. If we consider the many different disciplines that may need to contribute to the evaluation, you are talking of potentially one or eight evaluators (LSSPs, Educational Diagnosticians, Speech Language Pathologists, Occupational Therapists, Physical Therapists, Vision & Orientations mobility teachers, Teachers to the Visually Impaired, and Teachers of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing), thus increasing the spread of a communicable disease.

I am reaching out to you as policy makers and as someone who could potentially advocate for us practitioners in this unprecedented unique situation. We are treading in uncharted waters and ultimately we want to act with an abundance of caution where we will not be hurting the student or our community.

While I understand the parent's desire to get answers to their child's academic, behavioral, development, and/or emotional concerns, my hope is that TEA, OSEP, and OCR would consider making an emergency legal waiver that will give school districts the ability to pause the timeline until this pandemic passes and the social distancing practices are lifted.

My goal as a practitioner is to consider the best interests of the students and families we serve, while not abandoning their social, emotional, academic, and mental health needs. We have an ethical responsibility to maintain the integrity of our profession and conducting assessments during this pandemic would not be deemed as such.

Sincerely,

Ms. Tullos,

Attached is a budget modification request.

An update to my prior COVID-19 update:
Schools in South Dakota are now closed until May 1, 2020 at the request of the Governor.
The Oglala Sioux Tribe passed a resolution on Monday March 23, 2020 outlining additional guidelines for the reservation. In addition the South Dakota Governor has also released guidelines for Businesses, Schools and Non-profits. In light of these new developments, PRACC will begin a split work week with staff working remotely two days from home. In the case that the Pine Ridge Reservation enters Phase three of the pandemic, PRACC will migrate all work to remote from home. PRACC will continue to monitor information as it comes available.

Hi,

I hope you are well.

I consult you, according to the situation that we are facing on the COVID-19, the V4 / V5 cases are under verification, the documentation must be delivered in person or notarized as established by the regulations.

There will be flexibility so that the student can deliver the documentation by email, preventing it from going through a notary / attorney since the Government of Puerto Rico established a quarantine urging the population not to leave their homes and many of the government and private departments are closed.

I await your prompt evaluation and response to this request.

To whom it may concern,

The USDE 3/5/20 Electronic Announcement appears to be written with a primary focus on semester based schools so it mostly addresses schools that cease and/or suspend classes during a term and what the ramifications are if the school does not re-open within that same term.

Many of our clients have clock hour programs. Students in a clock hour environment would fall under the BBAY3 academic year model, and therefore there is no specific "term" for these students. Due to the COVID-19 crisis many schools with clock hour programs have also closed for a period of time. Our questions below are regarding how a school with a clock hour program accounts for this period of time when a school is closed due to COVID-19:

- Is the school required to place students on an approved LOA for the duration of the school closure or can the school update the school's published closure days to reflect the days the school is closed due to COVID-19 (similar to if the school was shut down due to other emergencies like a hurricane, flood, etc)?
- If the school is allowed to update the school's published closure days, is there a maximum number of days that the USDE would allow?

Thank you in advance for your guidance.

Hi Jennifer,

We will be implementing telehealth services statewide and are trying to work through the consent piece. Our Medicaid office has released guidance that consent can be verbal. I understood that parental consent should be in writing but wondered during these times, if OSEP is considering any accommodations for that? Thanks!

Simone, I have been working with and funding research at UCSB Mechanical Engineering Department. The focus has been on meeting Net Zero Energy requirements for residential buildings. In the process I've gotten to know Dr. Igor Mezic who specializes in modeling and data analysis. As it turns out he and his wife who is a public health expert formed a company a few years back specializing in data management and analysis using AI methods. They do lots of work for DARPA and other government agencies.

They decided to look into modeling the growth and spread of Covid19 and have come up with some excellent models. They do short term prediction of trends in areas where good data is available. They did a short YouTube video (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=U29VWKJwsrM) showing their results and wrote a letter an outreach letter which is shown below.

Can you pass this on to others that you may know in the government who may find this approach useful?

Jim

COVID-19 is a fast-evolving pandemic the control of which requires flexible, real-time, accurate forecasting tools that enable decision making. At AIMdyn, Inc., a Santa Barbara-based Artificial Intelligence (AI) company, we have developed infrastructure for such tools that can be used for understanding of local growth of the pandemic with city - and even subdivision - resolution. These forecasts can in turn be fed into hospital capacity planning and warning system that takes the week ahead prediction together with hospital parameters
- such as bed capacity and recovery time - to inform optimal resource building and utilization (e.g. provision and operation of new makeshift hospitals).

The output of the algorithm we developed was used to predict growth areas for the disease, enabling resource allocation. The description, performance and the output of

Hello,

The answer to this question is not on your https://studentaid.gov/announcements-events/coronavirus website or in the FAQs on IFAP as far as I can see.

When the six month loan payment suspension period ends on Oct 1 2020, will a delinquent borrower who is currently X days past due still be X days past due, or will they be considered current on payments (ie, existing delinquency wiped out and zero days past due).

Thank you.

Hello,

Can NSLDS answer the question below? I was directed to you from FSA (but as you know your support line is all being routed to voicemail right now)

The current student loan monthly payment suspension is optional for active payers, but is automatic for any borrower who is currently delinquent, or becomes delinquent (31 days past due) during the 2 month period (or potentially a 6 month period pending legislation). So a borrower will not become more delinquent or default during that time, this is clear. But once the payment suspension period is over, will a delinquent borrower still have the same delinquency date? So if I am 300 days past due and my payments "freeze", will I still be 300 days past due when they unfreeze? In other words, this suspension does not wipe out existing delinquent amounts, correct?

Thanks,

Richard and Elson,
I'm writing to ask for guidance once again. We are struggling to get a feeding site into Mantua through the School District/City. The District is currently only offering meals two times a week and children are getting three meals at a time. They are saying that there are challenges around freezer space and other requirements at the two closest schools and families are expected to travel almost a mile to get meals which is unrealistic. A civic leader has been renting a truck and picking up meals and distributing block by block to families but she is now ill. We are working to creatively provide support through a network of partners but it is not the most efficient solution. The University has offered to rent freezers if needed. We identified a food pantry that was willing to support distribution but the City is citing federal regulations that prohibit the District from distributing children's meals at non-school sites. Our question is if you know any way to get a waiver for this given that our school-based sites don't meet the criteria and kids are going hungry in a pandemic.

Thanks,

Joanne

I'm not sure the answer to this is known yet but it is something that has come up with the end of term fast approaching. Our school policy is that if a student stops attending at any point within the term that the instructor gives a grade of an F1 meaning they attended at least once and then did not return. If a student has all F1 grades they are considered an unofficial withdrawal and a R2T4 calculation is then processed at 50% of the term.

If a student is an unofficial withdrawal we have no way of knowing if this was due to COVID-19 or not, do we continue to process R2T4's on these students and then if they contact saying it was due to COVID-19 go back and reverse the adjustment?

Thank you in advance.

Subject: COVID-19 question that relates to grant S299B160027

Dear COVID-19 group,

I just got off the phone/Skype meeting with Angela regarding our upcoming Annual Report, and realized I have a question. I am one of the 2016 Grantees, and in this fiscal year we were scheduled, and had some funds attached, to hold a professional development conference that would feature our Indigenous Roots students' and other ROOTS graduate's in a University sponsored conference. This was one of the goals of our 2016 grant award, and it is reported in the APR. (We are also celebrating the 20th Anniversary of the Indigenous Roots Teacher Education program).

Our plans developed, and we ended up coordinating an all day "Indian Education for All" conference bringing together the University of Nebraska Lincoln College of Education - my college. - with the Winnebago Tribe. (We also got some additional SPENCER grant funds to support bringing elders, etc. to this gathering.) The current ROOTS students and graduates were presenting at the conference, about their experiences in a number of areas. The ROOTS students/graduates were involved in individual presentations in the morning session, and were leading discussion tables in the afternoon on a variety of topics. National experts in Indian Education for All were also presenting. We had invited people from across the state including the Nebraska Commissioner of Education, school administrators, teachers, professors, and all the graduates, current students to attend and present. The event was to take place April 13, 2020 in Winnebago. Last week this conference was cancelled/postponed. It was a perfect opportunity for professional development for ROOTS students and graduates (in any phase of the program) and for them to sit at the table, and become a part of the Indian Education for All discussion in our state.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The ROOTS grant included funds to pay for a fee and some travel, and of course there was extensive planning and coordination time required by the ROOTS staff to pull this off, with students and graduates coming to the conference from across the state and elsewhere. We were coordinating this event for most of this fiscal year, starting 10/1/2019 to the present. (The conference was also financially supported by the Winnebago Tribe, the Spencer grant, etc.)

The collaborators have talked about re-scheduling this conference to take place next fall or sometime next academic year on a day when there is professional development scheduled for teachers in Northeast Nebraska (Winnebago, Macy, Walthill, Santee and Niobrara) and other school districts. My question to you, would it be possible for these grant funds, including the staffing needs, to be carried over into the next fiscal year so that we might make this work in the 2020/2021 academic year? We would have to do this as part of our no-cost extensions since this is our 4th and final year. We did anticipate requesting a no-cost extension, so perhaps this could be a part of that?

I know I will have other COVID-19 grant questions related to individual students. Thank you for your consideration.

Hello,

We received the attached inquiry from our Colorado CSP SEA and SE grantee (they have a grant awarded in FY15 that is in an no cost extension, and one awarded in FY18). We are including this in a larger request, and are working on guidance and response to the larger request with OGC. We will share that response with the COVID-19 Rapid Response team.

I wanted you to have this request for your tracking purposes.

Thanks Ashley. Yes, that is basically the question. We are working on our APRs now and will have a good sense of what will be left un-spent and we wanted to see if there was a chance we could consider getting it out to schools in need or something like that rather than having it revert to treasury.

Obviously if it was allowable, we could put together a request for consideration.

Thank you!

Peg,

My eyes missed this email, so I apologize for the delay.

We at the Department are working to have a response for the COVID-19 questions that you have.

Can I ask for clarity around this one:

- Is it possible for the state to allocate grant funds not designated to schools in its NCE years to re-purpose funds for such emergencies? If so, what would quality and how would approval be sought?

I want to be sure I am understanding, you are saying from the FY15 grant there is funding that will not be used to schools that you want to know if you can use for other purposes? Are you saying repurpose it to support virtual education or something else?

Thank you,

Ashley

Hi Ashley!

I hope this finds you well in the midst of this new lifestyle we are coming to lead for the time being.

We, as you mostly likely, are just coming to terms with the many ramifications and questions resulting from the COVID-19 and subsequent decisions effecting schooling and working, among other related challenges!

We have received some guidance from CDE's federal programs and grants fiscal regarding federal grants and their programs, but likewise, have been encouraged to ensure that guidelines provided are in alignment with individual grant programs.
For this reason, I am reaching out to see what you would provide (or where you would direct us) for augmented guidance and clarification for the CSP grant under our current circumstances.

Questions that have come to the surface are:

- Will we offer extensions to subgrantees to assist with spending funds down for whatever stage of the grant they are currently in?
- Will we have a suspension or delay in grant competitions?
- In emergency situations, is it possible for a subgrantee to request budget revisions and grant expenditures for things that were not written into their grant on the understanding that it is necessitated by the crisis? If so, what types of situations with merit that?
- Is it possible for the state to allocate grant funds not designated to schools in its NCE years to re-purpose funds for such emergencies? If so, what would quality and how would approval be sought?
- Will our 2015-18 grant receive an automatic NCE or do we still need to submit a request?
- Will federally awarded grants be extended beyond their originally awarded end date?

Some of the above questions are typically determined locally given known guidance. Under COVID-19, we are seeking clarity on federal expectations and guidance that would impact our local decision-making.

I have copied Jennifer Austin and Marti Rodriguez here from Grants Fiscal who may have additional questions or variations on the same. It is our goal to have a mutual, complete and correct understanding of expectations and flexibilities to best assist our schools in the implementation and required expectations of this grant. They may provide additional information, questions or feedback following this email.

If possible, we would like to schedule a call with you, but understand that you may be tackling similar questions with other grantees and are open to hearing from you on your preferred communication style!

Many thanks for your gracious assistance! 😊

Hi Ashely, one clarification from the fiscal side of the house, and I apologize if this was answered.
Per OMB Memo M-20-17, all federal awards were allowed a 12 month no cost extension. Are you saying that this flexibility will not be applied by USDEd in this case. Just trying to understand so I can document correctly.

Bill and Peg,

Additionally around the subgrant extension question.

What you can do, as your application specifically limited the amount of years on a subgrant is pause the subgrant and not count the time the grant is paused as part of the subgrant time. So say a grant had 21 months of implementation, and you paused it, when unpaused it could complete the remaining 3 months (as long as that all kept the grant within 60 months).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

If you were to do this we advise all grantees should be treated the same, the pause would be in effect the moment you communicated to them that no costs should be incurred during the time the grant is paused. This should be thoroughly documented.

Sincerely,

Ashley

Hi Ashley-

I am trying to get a handle on all the different structured grants under my supervision and the flexibilities described in the above mentioned memo. Regarding the CSP grant, most specifically, Appendix A, number 4, no-cost extensions of expiring awards. Since our State funding expires on September 30, 2020, are we able to offer this extension to our awardees or do we need to apply for another state no-cost extension and wait for approval in order to extend awardee funding?

I know I have a lot of 'extending' in this ask. I hope it makes sense.

Subject: Early Graduation for a group of Medical Students

In response to the Covid-19 pandemic, Governor Baker and Health and Human Services Secretary Marylou Sudders have asked the University of Massachusetts Medical School to allow medical students who have fulfilled their graduation requirements to graduate early with a March 31, 2020 graduation date rather than a May 31, 2020 graduation date. Students' academic records will be evaluated on a case by case basis by our education policy committee (EPC) and it is completely voluntary for students. We are not ending instruction for the term, we are only seeking to allow students who have met graduation requirements, as approved by the EPC, to graduate early. This will allow eligible students to join the physician workforce with a provisional license at a critical time when more medical staff are desperately needed. Please let us know any guidance we should be aware of to make this possible.

Robin Jacobs, from Ventura Unified School District in California (PR Award #: S060A190210), contacted PSC inquiring if SY 2019-20 awarded Title VI funds can be used to reimburse travel expenses for a cancelled conference due to COVIDE-19. The user writes:

> I am contacting you to confirm if reimbursing an Indian Ed parents for their travel expenses to join me in attending the California Conference of American Indian Education would be an allowable expense for us under our federal grant, even though the conference was cancelled. The original budget did include this expense.
> The problem comes in that the conference was canceled due to the Coronavirus and the money spent for the flight is causing a hardship for the family, who has lost work. The airline will not reimburse them. They purchased tickets through Southwest which now can only be used at a future date and are not transferable.
> Can we use our grant funds to reimburse them now to alleviate the financial pressure, assuming the conference will be rescheduled and the parent can attend at the future date?

Subject: Federally Held Student Loans vs Federal Student Loans - Student Loan Aid is misleading and does not provide assistance to many millions of student loans.

In a press release on you the US Department of Education website, March 20, 2020

U.S. Secretary of Education Betsey DeVos announced that the office of Federal Student Aid is executing on President Donald Trump's promise to provide student loan aid relief to tens of millions or borrowers during the COVID-19 national emergency.

0% for 60 days, and the option to suspend payments for at least 2 months without penalty or interest.

This is misleading and not 100% accurate. I have Federal Student Loans through Navient, my loans are Federal Loans. BUT they are not Federally held loans. Therefore millions of people holding student loan debt WILL NOT receive relief under this bill, due to specific terminology "Federally Held Student Loans" and "Federal Student Loans". Navient told me that my Federal Stafford loans were not Federally Held Loans, therefore I do not qualify for 0% or No Penalty/No Interest on Forbearance. My interest rate will remain 8.25% and If I choose forbearance I will incur over $1,000 in interest over 3 months.

This is a falsehood put on by the Department of Education which does not support what the President said he wanted to do. The President stated he wanted to provide relief to all holding student loan debt.

Hello Abbey,

How are you doing? I hope you are doing ok during these difficult and unusual circumstances we are facing as a nation. I want you to know that like all other CAMP programs across the country, MDC CAMP has moved to the remote environment and is continuing to deliver support services to our students in order to help them through these uncertain times. Our immediate focus in the short run is on retention strategies to keep them engaged in their education and to reduce their struggles with the disruption to their lives on all fronts.

I have a question for you: does the OME allow disaster pay to be billed to the grant? Since generally, only clocked hours worked can be billed to a grant, (but each grant varies and these are extenuating times), we wanted to know if this is allowable. If not, that is fine also. Please let me know.

Curtis, A question arose for Vermont today as we have to cancel our annual training institute (held in June each year), as well as several other in-person training. All,

IN-B sent me some clarification questions regarding the guidance information that has been released to date. I am sharing these with both the COVID email and Matt in the hopes that Matt might be able to help me provide her with a more timely response.

The full email chain is below, but in summary, she asks the following questions from the Q & A:

1. Are schools required to provide SPED services when offering any education opportunities to the general student population?
2. What must be in a student's IEP to address either on-line or closed schools? Under A-5 from the Q & A, she read it to state that if IEPS do not have the language about eLearning or distance learning, should be adding that to IEPs. She is asking for verification that her understanding is correct.

Thank you for any support you can offer in helping me guide IN. If I need to tell them to wait for further updates to the guidance, that is fine.

Hi Nancy,

I absolutely happy to chat. However, all state leads have been instructed to only take questions at this time so that they can be answered through the guidance documents that the department is continuing to update. So I won't be able to respond to anything.

So, please let me know if you want to chat based on that. If you do, I'm available anytime tomorrow from 8:00-10:30 and 12:30-4:00.

If you want to forgo a call and send me your questions, I will make sure they go to the appropriate folks to get addressed in the next update.

I'm sorry that I'm not permitted to do more individually for you right now. There is a lot that the department is trying to sort through and they're doing their best to ensure everyone receives the same information.

Thanks so much,

Subject: Regarding Memo M-20-17

Good afternoon Jennifer,

We have a question about the interaction between Items 6 and 7 of the OMB memo, attached, question A-6 of the Department's Q&A, attached, and the Office of Head Start's memo, linked here: http://hsicc.cmail20.com/t/ViewEmail/j/49EE44613EEA4C892540EF23F30FEDED/12F194AAB536585844D0DD5392A9C75A

Essentially, we read these to have conflicting information when it comes to paying for activities outside of the grant's purpose. Where the OMB memo reads to allow spending outside of the grant's purpose, the Department's memo allowing in some cases, and Head Start's memo not allowing it at all.

We would appreciate some assistance in navigating these messages.

Thank you for your assistance and service in these difficult times.

Gratitude,

M-20-17

MEMORANDUM TO THE HEADS OF EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES

FROM: Margaret Weichert
Deputy Director of Management (b)(6) [redacted]

SUBJECT: Administrative Relief for Recipients and Applicants of Federal Financial Assistance Directly Impacted by the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) due to Loss of Operations

On March 9, 2020, OMB issued M-20-11, "Administrative Relief for Recipients and Applicants of Federal Financial Assistance Directly impacted by the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19)," to provide agencies with additional flexibilities for grants assisting the response to COVID-19. The scope of the M-20-11 was narrowly crafted to provide flexibility to grant recipients performing essential research and services necessary to carry out the emergency response related to COVID-19.

This memorandum provides similar administrative relief listed in M-20-11 to an expanded scope of recipients affected by the loss of operational capacity and increased costs due to the COVID-19 crisis. Many of the operational impacts and costs are unknowable at this point, as they will depend on the spread of the coronavirus and response dictated by public health needs. This memorandum provides short term relief for administrative, financial management, and audit requirements under 2 CFR Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost principles and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards, without compromising Federal financial assistance accountability requirements. As program managers are considering administrative relief, they should be prudent in their stewardship of Federal resources which includes giving consideration to potential offsets—e.g. reduction in training and travel. In addition, the flexibilities provided within this memorandum, agencies are reminded of their existing flexibility to issue exceptions on a case-by-case basis in accordance with 2 CFR § 200.102, Exceptions. M-20-11 shall continue to apply, and Appendix A describes the exceptions granted under this memorandum to recipients affected by the loss of operational capacity. These exceptions are time limited and will be reassessed by OMB within 90 days of this Memo.

Questions regarding the above administrative relief provisions should be directed to Office of Federal Financial Management Grant link at GrantsTeam@omb.eop.gov. OMB will continue to provide updates and additional information as the situation unfolds. ## Appendix A – Administrative Relief Exceptions for COVID-19 Crisis

Federal awarding agencies are authorized to take the following actions, as they deem appropriate and to the extent permitted by law, with respect to the administrative provisions that apply to recipients grantees affected by the COVID-19 (for both recipients with COVID-19 related grants and other types of Federal grants). Awarding agencies are required to maintain records on the level of particular exceptions provided to recipients. For items 6 and 7, awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and documentation to support the charges against the Federal awards.

1. Flexibility with SAM registration. (2 CFR § 200.205)

Awarding agencies can relax the requirement for active System for Award Management (SAM) registration at time of application in order to expeditiously issue funding. At the time of award, the requirements of 2 CFR § 200.205, Federal awarding agency review of risk posed by applicants, continue to apply. Current registrants in SAM with active registrations expiring before May 16, 2020 will be afforded a one-time extension of 60 days.

2. Flexibility with application deadlines. (2 CFR § 200.202)

Awarding agencies may provide flexibility with regard to the submission of competing applications in response to specific announcements, as well as unsolicited applications. As appropriate, agencies should list specific guidance on their websites and/or provide a point of contact for an agency program official.

3. Waiver for Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs) Publication. (2 CFR § 200.203)

For competitive grants and cooperative agreements, awarding agencies can publish emergency Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs) for less than thirty (30) days without separately justifying shortening the timeframe for each NOFO. Awarding agencies would still be required to document and track NOFOs published for less than thirty (30) days under this emergency waiver.

4. No-cost extensions on expiring awards. (2 CFR § 200.308)

To the extent permitted by law, awarding agencies may extend awards which were active as of March 31, 2020 and scheduled to expire prior or up to December 31, 2020, automatically at no-cost for a period of up to twelve (12) months. This will allow time for recipient assessments, the resumption of many individual projects, and a report on program progress and financial status to agency staff. Project-specific financial and performance reports will be due 90 days following the end date of the extension. Awarding agencies will examine the need to extend other project reporting as the need arises.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

5. Abbreviated non-competitive continuation requests. (2 CFR § 200.308)

For continuation requests scheduled to come in from April 1, 2020 to December 31, 2020, from projects with planned future support, awarding agencies may accept a brief statement from recipients to verify that they are in a position to: 1) resume or restore their project activities; and 2) accept a planned continuation award. Awarding agencies should post any specific instructions on their website. Awarding agencies will examine the need to extend this approach on subsequent continuation award start dates as recipients have an opportunity to assess the situation.

6. Allowability of salaries and other project activities. (2 CFR § 200.403, 2 CFR § 200.404, 2 CFR § 200.405)

Awarding agencies may allow recipients to continue to charge salaries and benefits to currently active Federal awards consistent with the recipients' policy of paying salaries (under unexpected or extraordinary circumstances) from all funding sources, Federal and non-Federal. Awarding agencies may allow other costs to be charged to Federal awards necessary to resume activities supported by the award, consistent with applicable Federal cost principles and the benefit to the project. Awarding agencies may also evaluate the grantee's ability to resume the project activity in the future and the appropriateness of future funding, as done under normal circumstances—based on subsequent progress reports and other communications with the grantee. Awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and cost documentation as required by 2 CFR § 200.302 – Financial management and 2 CFR § 200.333 - Retention requirement of records to substantiate the charging of any salaries and other project activities costs related to interruption of operations or services.

7. Allowability of Costs not Normally Chargeable to Awards. (2 CFR § 200.403, 2 CFR § 200.404, 2 CFR § 200.405)

Awarding agencies may allow recipients who incur costs related to the cancellation of events, travel, or other activities necessary and reasonable for the performance of the award, or the pausing and restarting of grant funded activities due to the public health emergency, to charge these costs to their award without regard to 2 CFR § 200.403, Factors affecting allowability of costs, 2 CFR § 200.404, Reasonable costs, and 2 CFR § 200.405, Allocable costs. Awarding agencies may allow recipients to charge full cost of cancellation when the event, travel, or other activities are conducted under the auspices of the grant. Awarding agencies must advise recipients that they should not assume additional funds will be available should the charging of cancellation or other fees result in a shortage of funds to eventually carry out the event or travel. Awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and cost documentation as required by 2 CFR § 200.302 – Financial management and 2 CFR § 200.333 - Retention requirement of records, to substantiate the charging of any cancellation or other fees related to interruption of operations or services. As appropriate, awarding agencies may list additional guidance on specific types of costs on their websites and/or provide a point of contact for an agency program official.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8. Prior approval requirement waivers. (2 CFR § 200.407)

Awarding agencies are authorized to waive prior approval requirements as necessary to effectively address the response. All costs charged to Federal awards must be consistent with Federal cost policy guidelines and the terms of the award, except where specified in this memorandum.

9. Exemption of certain procurement requirements. (2 CFR § 200.319(b), 2 CFR § 200.321)

Awarding agencies may waive the procurement requirements contained in 2 CFR § 200.319(b) regarding geographical preferences and 2 CFR § 200.321 regarding contracting small and minority businesses, women's business enterprises, and labor surplus area firms.

10. Extension of financial, performance, and other reporting. (2 CFR § 200.327, 2 CFR § 200.328)

Awarding agencies may allow grantees to delay submission of financial, performance and other reports up to three (3) months beyond the normal due date. If an agency allows such a delay, grantees will continue to draw down Federal funds without the timely submission of these reports. However, these reports must be submitted at the end of the postponed period. In addition, awarding agencies may waive the requirement for recipients to notify the agency of problems, delays or adverse conditions related to COVID-19 on a grant by grant basis (200 CFR 200.328(d)(1).

11. Extension of currently approved indirect cost rates. (2 CFR § 200.414 (c))

Awarding agencies may allow grantees to continue to use the currently approved indirect cost rates (i.e., predetermined, fixed, or provisional rates) to recover their indirect costs on Federal awards. Agencies may approve grantee requests for an extension on the use of the current rates for one additional year without submission of an indirect cost proposal. Agencies may also approve grantee requests for an extension of the indirect cost rate proposal submission to finalize the current rates and establish future rates.

12. Extension of closeout. (2 CFR § 200.343)

Awarding agencies may allow the grantee to delay submission of any pending financial, performance and other reports required by the terms of the award for the closeout of expired projects, provided that proper notice about the reporting delay is given by the grantee to the agency. This delay in submitting closeout reports may not exceed one year after the award expires.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

13. Extension of Single Audit submission. (2 CFR § 200.512)

Awarding agencies, in their capacity as cognizant or oversight agencies for audit, should allow recipients and subrecipients that have not yet filed their single audits with the Federal Audit Clearinghouse as of the date of the issuance of this memorandum that have fiscal year-ends through June 30, 2020, to delay the completion and submission of the Single Audit reporting package, as required under Subpart F of 2 CFR § 200.501 – Audit Requirements, to six (6) months beyond the normal due date. No further action by awarding agencies is required to enact this extension. This extension does not require individual recipients and subrecipients to seek approval for the extension by the cognizant or oversight agency for audit; however, recipients and subrecipients should maintain documentation of the reason for the delayed filing. Recipients and subrecipients taking advantage of this extension would still qualify as a "low-risk auditee" under the criteria of 2 CFR § 200.520 (a) – Criteria for a low-risk auditee.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON PROVIDING SERVICES TO CHILDREN WITH DISABILITIES DURING THE CORONAVIRUS DISEASE 2019 OUTBREAK

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is responding to an outbreak of respiratory disease caused by a new coronavirus named coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19). The CDC has issued interim guidance to help administrators of public and private childcare programs and K–12 schools plan for and prevent the spread of COVID-19 among students and staff. See Interim Guidance for Administrators of US Childcare Programs and K–12 Schools to Plan, Prepare, and Respond to Coronavirus Disease 2019 available at: https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/specific-groups/guidance-for-schools.html

This Questions and Answers document outlines states' responsibilities to infants, toddlers, and children with disabilities and their families, and to the staff serving these children. During an outbreak of COVID-19, local educational agencies (LEAs) and early intervention service (EIS) programs will need to collaborate with their state educational agency (SEA), Bureau of Indian Education (BIE), or local public health department, as appropriate, to address questions about how, what, and when services should be provided to children with disabilities.[1] It does not create or confer any rights for or on any person. This Q & A document does not impose any additional requirements beyond those included in applicable law and regulations. The responses presented in this document generally constitute informal guidance representing the interpretation of the Department of the applicable statutory or regulatory requirements in the context of the specific facts presented here and are not legally binding. The Q & As in this document are not intended to be a replacement for careful study of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (Section 504), Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (Title II), and their implementing regulations. The IDEA, its implementing regulations, and other important documents related to the IDEA can be found at http://sites.ed.gov/idea. For more information on the requirements of Section 504 and Title II, and their implementing regulations, please consult https://www2.ed.gov/policy/rights/guid/ocr/disabilityoverview.html.

[1] This document does not address when to dismiss a child or close a school or Part C state lead agency because school officials should work with their local health departments to make those decisions. School personnel and Part C EIS programs and providers, however, may consult the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC's) guidance for recommendations regarding social distancing and school closure. The CDC's Web site contains information addressing both state and local public health officials and school administrators for school (K-12) responses to COVID-19 and resources for child care and early childhood programs. These documents, along with other recommendations, may be accessed at https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/community/index.html.

A. Implementing Part B of the IDEA and Section 504 during a COVID-19 outbreak

Question A-1: Is an LEA required to continue to provide a free appropriate public education (FAPE) to students with disabilities during a school closure caused by a COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: The IDEA, Section 504, and Title II of the ADA do not specifically address a situation in which elementary and secondary schools are closed for an extended period of time (generally more than 10 consecutive days) because of exceptional circumstances, such as an outbreak of a particular disease.

If an LEA closes its schools to slow or stop the spread of COVID-19, and does not provide any educational services to the general student population, then an LEA would not be required to provide services to students with disabilities during that same period of time. Once school resumes, the LEA must make every effort to provide special education and related services to the child in accordance with the child's individualized education program (IEP) or, for students entitled to FAPE under Section 504, consistent with a plan developed to meet the requirements of Section 504. The Department understands there may be exceptional circumstances that could affect how a particular service is provided. In addition, an IEP Team and, as appropriate to an individual student with a disability, the personnel responsible for ensuring FAPE to a student for the purposes of Section 504, would be required to make an individualized determination as to whether compensatory services are needed under applicable standards and requirements.

If an LEA continues to provide educational opportunities to the general student population during a school closure, the school must ensure that students with disabilities also have equal access to the same opportunities, including the provision of FAPE. (34 CFR §§ 104.4, 104.33 (Section 504) and 28 CFR § 35.130 (Title II of the ADA)). SEAs, LEAs, and schools must ensure that, to the greatest extent possible, each student with a disability can be provided the special education and related services identified in the student's IEP developed under IDEA, or a plan developed under Section 504. (34 CFR §§ 300.101 and 300.201 (IDEA), and 34 CFR § 104.33 (Section 504)).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Question A-2: Must an LEA provide special education and related services to a child with a disability who is absent for an extended period of time because the child is infected with COVID-19, while the schools remain open?

Answer: Yes. It has long been the Department's position that when a child with a disability is classified as needing homebound instruction because of a medical problem, as ordered by a physician, and is home for an extended period of time (generally more than 10 consecutive school days), an individualized education program (IEP) meeting is necessary to change the child's placement and the contents of the child's IEP, if warranted. Further, if the IEP goals will remain the same and only the time in special education will change, then the IEP Team may add an amendment to the IEP stating specifically the amount of time to be spent in special education. If a child with a disability is absent for an extended period of time because of a COVID-19 infection and the school remains open, then the IEP Team must determine whether the child is available for instruction and could benefit from homebound services such as online or virtual instruction, instructional telephone calls, and other curriculum-based instructional activities, to the extent available. In so doing, school personnel should follow appropriate health guidelines to assess and address the risk of transmission in the provision of such services. The Department understands there may be exceptional circumstances that could affect how a particular service is provided.

If a child does not receive services after an extended period of time, a school must make an individualized determination whether and to what extent compensatory services may be needed, consistent with applicable requirements, including to make up for any skills that may have been lost.

Question A-3: What services must an LEA provide if a public school for children with disabilities is selectively closed due to the possibility of severe complications from a COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: If a public school for children with disabilities is closed solely because the children are at high risk of severe illness and death, the LEA must determine whether each dismissed child could benefit from online or virtual instruction, instructional telephone calls, and other curriculum-based instructional activities, to the extent available. In so doing, school personnel should follow appropriate health guidelines to assess and address the risk of transmission in the provision of such services. The Department understands there may be exceptional circumstances that could affect how a particular service is provided.

If a child does not receive services during a closure, a child's IEP team (or appropriate personnel under Section 504) must make an individualized determination whether and to what extent compensatory services may be needed, consistent with applicable requirements, including to make up for any skills that may have been lost.

Question A-4: If a child with a disability at high risk of severe medical complications is excluded from school during an outbreak of COVID-19 and the child's school remains open, is the exclusion considered a change in educational placement subject to the protections of 34 CFR §§ 300.115 and 300.116 and 34 CFR §§ 104.35 and 104.36.

Answer: If the exclusion is a temporary emergency measure (generally 10 consecutive school days or less), the provision of services such as online or virtual instruction, instructional telephone calls, and other curriculum-based instructional activities, to the extent available, is not considered a change in placement. During this time period, a child's parent or other IEP team member may request an IEP meeting to discuss the potential need for services if the exclusion is likely to be of long duration (generally more than 10 consecutive school days). For long-term exclusions, an LEA must consider placement decisions under the IDEA's procedural protections of 34 CFR §§ 300.115 – 300.116, regarding the continuum of alternative placements and the determination of placements.

Under 34 CFR § 300.116, a change in placement decision must be made by a group of persons, including the parents and other persons knowledgeable about the child and the placement options. If the placement group determines that the child meets established high-risk criteria and, due to safety and health concerns, the child's needs could be met through homebound instruction, then under 34 CFR §300.503(a)(1), the public agency must issue a prior written notice proposing the change in placement. A parent who disagrees with this prior written notice retains all of the due process rights included in 34 CFR §§ 300.500-300.520.

For children with disabilities protected by Section 504 who are dismissed from school during an outbreak of COVID-19 because they are at high risk for health complications, compliance with the procedures described above and completion of any necessary evaluations of the child satisfy the evaluation, placement and procedural requirements of 34 CFR §§ 104.35 and 104.36. The decision to dismiss a child based on his or her high risk for medical complications must be based on the individual needs of the child and not on perceptions of the child's needs based merely on stereotypes or generalizations regarding his or her disability.

Question A-5: May an IEP Team consider a distance learning plan in a child's IEP as a contingency plan in the event of a COVID-19 outbreak that requires the school's closure?

Answer: Yes. IEP teams may, but are not required to, include distance learning plans in a child's IEP that could be triggered and implemented during a selective closure due to a COVID-19 outbreak. Such contingent provisions may include the provision of special education and related services at an alternate location or the provision of online or virtual instruction, instructional telephone calls, and other curriculum-based instructional activities, and may identify which special education and related services, if any, could be provided at the child's home.

Creating a contingency plan before a COVID-19 outbreak occurs gives the child's service providers and the child's parents an opportunity to reach agreement as to what circumstances would trigger the use of the child's distance learning plan and the services that would be provided during the dismissal.

Question A-6: What activities other than special education and related services may and may not be provided with IDEA Part B funds both prior to and during a COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: IDEA Part B funds may be used for activities that directly relate to providing, and ensuring the continuity of, special education and related services to children with disabilities. For example, an LEA may use

IDEA Part B funds to disseminate health and COVID-19 information that is specifically related to children with disabilities, to develop emergency plans for children with disabilities, or to provide other information (e.g., guidance on coordination of the provision of services in alternate locations as described in Question A-5) to parties who may need such information, including school staff responsible for implementing IEPs, parents of eligible children, and staff in alternate locations where special education and related services may be provided. LEAs, however, may not use IDEA Part B funds to develop or distribute general COVID-19 guidance or to carry out activities that are not specific to children with disabilities (e.g., general COVID-19 activities for all children and staff). Additionally, LEAs may not use IDEA Part B funds to administer future COVID-19 vaccinations to any children, including children with disabilities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

B. IDEA Part C and COVID-19

Question B-1: Must a state lead agency continue to provide early intervention services to infants and toddlers with disabilities during a COVID-19 outbreak if the offices are closed?

Answer: If the offices of the state lead agency or the EIS program or provider are closed, then Part C services would not need to be provided to infants and toddlers with disabilities and their families during that period of time. If the lead agency's offices are open but the offices of the EIS program or provider in a specific geographical area are closed due to public health and safety concerns as a result of a COVID-19 outbreak in that area, the EIS program or provider would not be required to provide services during the closure. If the offices remain open, but Part C services cannot be provided in a particular location (such as in the child's home), by a particular EIS provider, or to a particular child who is infected with COVID-19, then the lead agency must ensure the continuity of services by, for example, providing services in an alternate location, by using a different EIS provider, or through alternate means, such as consultative services to the parent.

Additionally, once the offices re-open, the service coordinator and EIS providers for each child must determine if the child's service needs have changed and determine whether the individualized family service plan (IFSP) team needs to meet to review the child's IFSP to determine whether any changes are needed. If offices are closed for an extended period and services are not provided for an extended period, the IFSP team must meet under 34 CFR § 303.342(b)(1) to determine if changes are needed to the IFSP and to determine whether compensatory services are needed to address the infant or toddler's developmental delay.

Question B-2: What should a state lead agency or EIS program provider do to provide Part C services if its offices are open, but it cannot provide services in accordance with an infant's or toddler's IFSP during a COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: If the offices remain open, but Part C services cannot be provided in a particular location (such as in the child's home), by a particular EIS provider, or to a particular child who is infected with COVID-19, then the lead agency must ensure the continuity of services, on a case-by-case basis and consistent with protecting the health and safety of the student and those providing services to the student. As an example, the lead agency may consider providing services in an alternate location, by using a different EIS provider, or through alternate means, such as consultative service to the parent. Once services are fully resumed, the service coordinator and EIS providers for each child must assess the child to determine if the child's service needs have changed and to determine whether the IFSP Team needs to meet to review the child's IFSP to identify whether changes to the IFSP are needed. If the offices are closed and services are not provided for an extended period, the IFSP Team must meet under 34 CFR § 303.342(b)(1) to determine if changes are needed to the IFSP and to determine whether compensatory services are needed.

If an EIS provider cannot provide Part C services in the child's home during a COVID-19 outbreak, but the EIS program or provider determines that it is safe to provide face-to-face Part C services in another environment such as a hospital or medical clinic, then the child could receive temporary services at the hospital or clinic. Additionally, if the lead agency or EIS provider determines that face-to-face Part C services should not be provided for a period of time, then the EIS provider or service coordinator may consult with the parent through a teleconference or other alternative method (such as e-mail or video conference), consistent with privacy interests, to provide consultative services, guidance, and advice as needed. However, determining how to provide Part C services in a manner that is consistent with the most updated public health and safety guidance is left to the discretion of the lead agency and the EIS program and provider serving a particular child and family.

Question B-3: What activities other than service provision may and may not be provided with IDEA Part C funds both prior to and during a potential COVID-19 outbreak?

Answer: IDEA Part C funds may be used for activities that directly relate to providing, and ensuring the continuity of, Part C services to eligible children and their families. The state may use IDEA Part C funds to disseminate health and COVID-19 information to relevant parties, develop emergency plans to support the provision and continuity of

Part C services, or provide other information (e.g., how the lead agency staff or EIS programs or providers may provide alternate services or services in alternate locations as described in Question B-2) to relevant parties who need this information. Relevant parties may include parents of eligible children, childcare centers, staff in other locations where early intervention services are provided, EIS programs and providers, and primary referral sources. Other activities that relate to service provision, including the provision of service coordination, evaluations, and assessments, may also be funded. The state may not, however, use IDEA Part C funds to administer future COVID-19 vaccinations as it is a medical service under 34 CFR §303.13(c)(3).

Good Morning Bianca,

My Supervisor, the Tribal Administrator contacted me. This information has not been released to employees as of yet, and would like to find direction related to the DOE grant funded employees. We are currently under Administrative Leave until April 4, 2020. Our Tribal Council is looking at moving away from Administrative Leave after this time and instituting a temporary closure resulting in employees, including grant funded employees being on layoff. Please let me know if there has been any direction given regarding this situation. Thank you in advance.

March 25, 2020

Dear Respected Grantor:

The Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community ("SRPMIC") has undertaken unprecedented measures to deter the spread of the coronavirus within the community. These measures will influence the services the Tribe will be able to provide to its membership. The SRPMIC recognizes that in the long term the impacts of the coronavirus will be mitigated and that it is essential to preserve program infrastructure so that we can quickly resume services once the mitigation occurs. These actions are being taken in response to the SRPMIC declaring a public health emergency that is considered necessary and reasonable given the circumstances.

The SRPMIC is requesting that granting agencies assist with this plan to allow the Tribe to continue paying staff wages and fringe benefits from your program and additional flexibility in budgeting line items that are no longer relevant. Social distancing will define the types of services that can be provided. In the interim staff will be involved in strategic planning and taking a self-reflection of programs to determine how services can be provided more effectively once Tribal operations fully resume.

We intend to pay our employees their normal wages during this period for all programs, including those from federal grant funds as well as all other non-federally supported programs. We will continue to request those employees who can work remotely to continue to do so. All wages paid during this time is in accordance with the SRPMIC's overall policies or specifically approved by the Community Council.

This request is consistent with the OMB memorandum M-20-17, issued on March 19, 2020, titled "Administrative Relief for Recipients and Federal Assistance Directly Impacted by the Novel Coronavirus (COVID -19) due to Loss of Operations". The purpose of this request is to have the provisions outlined in this memorandum apply to non-Federal funding sources also.

We greatly appreciate your flexibility and consideration of this request and look forward to working with you to partner with us to preserve the program infrastructure. In this regard we will continue to fund staff from programs supported by your grant unless otherwise directed.

If you have any questions please contact Ms. Laurie Lus, Finance Director, Laurie.Lus@SRPMIC-nsn.gov or (480)362–7838.

Sincerely

Dear COVID-19 Partners:

Thanks so much for your assistance in helping us with the mountain of correspondence that we have received related to COVID-19. As of today, the COVID-19 mailbox has received nearly 1,200 inquiries.

Late yesterday afternoon, Deputy Secretary Zais asked that we contact each of our partners and request the following information:

1. The number of entries received
2. The number of entries receiving responses
3. And, if you have this bit of granular information, those receiving a response that was easily handled by a template letter

Dr. Zais has asked for our best response by 4 pm this afternoon, so I apologize in advance for this quick turnaround time, but we will need your response by 2 pm.

If you have any questions, please contact Christine.Pinckney@ed.gov or Bryan.Williams@ed.gov. They are both part of the Office of Safe and Supportive Schools supporting the COVID-19 mailbox.

Subject: Waiver of ESSA required spending per pupil reporting on report cards

Good Morning,

Are there currently any waivers available for the ESSA required reporting of spending per student data on school report cards? Kentucky is interested waiving the reporting for the 18-19 report card and the 19-20 report card. Spending per student data is required to be reported on the 18-19 report cards by June 30, 2020. We do not know if districts will have finance officers or other employees available to calculate this data due to the COVID-19 closures. Data is available, but the availability of personnel is our concern. We would be interested in waiving the 19-20 reporting requirement next year because the school closures have resulted in Kentucky not calculating end of year 19-20 membership. This membership count is what KY chose to use for spending per student calculations. Please let us know if this is a waiver that has been requested by other states and if it is available from the U.S. Department of Education.

If you are no longer the program officer for KY, please forward my question on to the appropriate contact. Thanks!

Subject: Guidance for SUNY System on changes in term structure

To Whom it May Concern:

SUNY is seeking clarification on some NASFAA guidance that was produced on changes in term structure. We have questions because the ED guidance was not particular clear on more granular details and scenarios and we want to ensure we are advising our entire system properly. Thank you for your attention to this. See below:

Changes in term structure (shortening spring 2020 semester)

Some campuses indicate they extended the 'Spring Break' for spring 2020 semester, which resulted in a shortening of the term. General guidance from NASFAA during their webinar on March 17th advised institutions that a reduction in term length below 15 weeks and below 30 weeks annually would require a campus to request approval from ED by contacting their participation team member. If approved, the campus would not need to recalculate for R2T4 for the Spring 202 semester. One campus noted that ED modified the requirement for a semester to allow for a 14 week semester. This campus also indicted they have a longer fall semester and when added to a 14 week spring semester the annual requirement would not fall below the annual requirement of 30 week.

The questions are:

- If a campus reduces the Spring 2020 semester below 15 weeks to 14 weeks and the annual weeks are below 30 weeks, do they need to request approval since the Revised Policy for Standard Term Length electronic announcement, https://ifap.ed.gov/electronic-announcements/110519RevisionGuidelinesApplicableStandardTerms, indicates semesters and trimesters may now be between 14 and 21 weeks of instruction?
- If a campus reduces the Spring 2020 semester below 15 weeks to 14 weeks and the annual weeks are equal to or greater than 30 weeks because they had a longer fall 2019 semester, do they need to request approval?

Hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

Kelly Hendricken

Greetings my fearless leaders ☺
I was on a call with Wisconsin yesterday and we discussed some pretty tough topics related to next years submission. After our discussion, I asked that they send over a few of the questions via email so that I could forward to our team. Can we find some time to discuss these questions?

Talk soon,

Subject: WI questions - Data collection, analysis questions when schools are closed

Hi Bryan,

We would appreciate guidance from OSEP as we consider the following requirements for data collection, reporting, and identifications:

Data collection and reporting via the SPP/APR:

1. How should we proceed with cyclical Indicator data collections (i.e., Indicators 8, 11, and 14) while schools are closed due to a public health emergency?
2. How should we proceed with respect to data collections outside of EdFacts (e.g., 7, 12, 13) while schools are closed due to a public health emergency?

Data collection and required annual identifications:

1. Some identifications require statewide comparisons (i.e., 4a and 4b) and we will not have consistent (if even required) data collected for SY19-20 due to the public health emergency declaration by Wisconsin's Governor. What guidance do you have for us related to analyzing such data?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2. LEA determinations rely on data that will not be collected during SY19-20 due to a public health emergency declared by the Wisconsin Governor. What guidance do you have for us in making annual determinations?

Thanks!

Subject: NC Community College System Coronavirus & Title IV Eligibility Questions

To Whom It May Concern:
Please see below additional questions from NC Community College System financial aid administrators in North Carolina. If possible, please review these questions and provide your responses to me as soon as possible. Additional questions may be submitted to you as they arise.

1. The electronic announcement from March 5th included language that said the following:

   The impact may be magnified if the institution accommodates students by providing alternative instructional opportunities and the student is required to continue paying tuition, but the student loses FWS as an important part of their financial aid award. For students enrolled and performing FWS at a campus that must close due to COVID-19, or for a FWS student who is employed by an employer that closes as a result of COVID-19, the institution may continue paying the student Federal work-study wages during that closure if it occurred after the beginning of the term, the institution is continuing to pay its other employees (including faculty and staff), and the institution continues to meet its institutional wage share requirement.

   QUESTION: What do we do if our campus is not "closing", but moving everything to online courses. Therefore, the students are basically not allowed on campus, but since the college did not "close" I'm not sure that we meet the criteria to continue paying them FWS funds. Any help or guidance we can get about that would be appreciated.

2. For any addendums to policies and procedures due to COVID-19, I have been using a start date of 3/16/2020 on these addendums in order to ensure we are aware of when these procedural changes occurred. I have used this date because that is the date our college reassessed our situation to determine what changes were needed to accommodate COVID-19. Since we received dated guidance on 3/5/2020 of adjustments that could be made, can I instead use the date of 3/5/2020 or would it be best to stick with 3/16/2020?

3. We received guidance this week that a possibility for our students that may choose to withdraw is: Withdrawal and application of tuition to a future term.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I wanted to make sure I am interpreting this correctly. If this situation occurs, students would withdraw from their classes for this semester and would be subject to R2T4 guidelines. If the student chose to return in the Fall 2020 semester, the student could register for the class withdrawn, and not pay tuition and fees for that class, correct?

If yes, it would be my assumption that the tuition and fees would not be prorated because the student would have to take the entire class again. So, if the tuition and fees for a 3-hour class is $270.20, the student would receive a full $270.20 credit on their Fall 2020 tuition and fees statement, correct? I say the student would receive a credit because there is always the possibility that tuition and fees could increase for the Fall 2020 semester so it may not necessarily be a wash out for the student.

Because the student was withdrawn for the Spring 2020 semester and subjected to R2T4 guidelines, would I still be able to award the student financial aid for the class during the Fall 2020 semester, even though there is a possibility the student will not be charged any tuition and fees for the class?

This is a loaded question, but I have been unable to find any particular guidance on this and want to make sure I fully understand. Thanks so much!

4. In regard to R2T4's for the COVID-19. We have some programs that are looking to assign students "Incompletes" for their classes, i.e. Cosmetology.

   Would the incomplete constitute an R2T4 since the student will no longer be attending the class for longer than 14 days?

   4. A. If yes, this would be similar to how we handle an "F" grade, correct? So, the student would still have an "I" for their grade, but we would have to consider them withdrawn from the class because they would not be in attendance in the class for longer than a 14-day period.

   4.B. If we are able to constitute an appropriate Leave of Absence for the student, I understand the student has 180 days to complete the assignment for the class. Would it be best to still assign the student an "I" in the course? If yes, in this situation, if the student has a legitimate leave of absence, the "I" grade would not be treated as a withdrawal.

5. I know the FWS community waiver for 2020-2021 waiver is open at this time and due by 4/20/2020. We, at Mayland CC, have been blessed with the opportunity to fill this position in years past and haven't required a waiver. However, I worry that given the current circumstances, if this will be more difficult this go around. I wonder, would it be possible that the deadline will be extended on the waiver until we can better know if this will become an issue for us?

I know everyone is just trying to stay on top of 2019-2020 FWS at this time, but thought I would ask about this since the deadline is in April.
Thanks in advance for your assistance.

Hello Jennifer,

I'm looking for guidance from OSEP regarding obtaining parental consent during this COVID-19 Pandemic. Do we have any flexibility to obtain verbal consent in those rare instances where families may not have emails or must we obtain written consent via mail?

Consent, as defined in § 303.7, means the parent has been fully informed of all information relevant to the activity for which consent is sought in the parent's native language or other mode of communication. This definition of consent in § 303.7 also requires that the parent understand and agree in writing to the activity for which the parent's consent is sought.

Attachments: Coronavirus related starvation issue in West Philadelphia

Hello:

Because of the disruption to USDA supported meals in the West Philadelphia Promise Neighborhood cited in the attached e-mail already referred to the coronavirus mailbox to ask for guidance on how the grantee can address this policy issue with the City and USDA, we are seeking approval to advise the grantee they can use Promise Neighborhood (PN) funds to replace these meals until the matter is resolved.

The West Philadelphia Promise Neighborhood is a food desert, with the average child in the neighborhood consuming only 2.75 servings of fruits and/or vegetables a day" before the onset of the grant. (page e 32 of the original grant application)

While there are corner stores located in the in the footprint, these establishments tend to be more expensive than grocery stores and generally do not offer healthy food choices (page e288)

Poverty is high with "All students within the Promise Zone are eligible to benefit from free and reduced priced lunch at school. (page e282)

To address this, the grantee proposed on page e 97 to
Activities: (page e97) "develop pay-what-you-can food cupboard for Promise Neighborhood families" and "Offer free daily meals for families" as part of their required Non-Federal match.

One of the grantee's proposed and approved outputs is to increase the number of families accessing free healthy meals (page e 101)

Section 4624(d) of the Every Student Suceeds Act (ESSA) authorizes the use of PN funds to implement pipeline services. The definition of these includes, in Section 4622(3)(g), nutrition services. Because we have a GPRA measure on fruit and vegetable consumption such food should, as much as possible, include substantial proportions of fruits and vegetables. This could be in the form of vegetable and fruit juices that do not have added sweeteners

For these reasons, we think the temporary replacement of the USDA meals program until the policy issues relating to their distribution affected by Corona virus related school closure, is an allowable expense under PN and essential to avoid starvation in the area.

Richard and Elson,
I'm writing to ask for guidance once again. We are struggling to get a feeding site into Mantua through the School District/City. The District is currently only offering meals two times a week and children are getting three meals at a time. They are saying that there are challenges around freezer space and other requirements at the two closest schools and families are expected to travel almost a mile to get meals which is unrealistic. A civic leader has been renting a truck and picking up meals and distributing block by block to families but she is now ill. We are working to creatively provide support through a network of partners but it is not the most efficient solution. The University has offered to rent freezers if needed. We identified a food pantry that was willing to support distribution but the City is citing federal regulations that prohibit the District from distributing children's meals at non-school sites. Our question is if you know any way to get a waiver for this given that our school-based sites don't meet the criteria and kids are going hungry in a pandemic.

Good morning,

My name is Julie Rose and I am the Senior Director of the Student Records and Financial Services Office at Alfred State College. Our OPE ID number is 00285400. We extended our spring break by one additional week for all courses except our full semester online courses. We have the following questions regarding this break and a possible extension of our semester.

- We had a 16 week semester in the fall if we count every week with at least one instructional day because no breaks in the fall are a full week long. With the extended spring break, our spring semester has been reduced to 14 weeks. Do we need to request approval since the entire academic year is still 30 weeks in length?
- We are debating having final exams on either the weekend of the last scheduled week or Monday/Tuesday of the following week. As long as we move them to at least Monday of the following week, we would have a 15 week semester again? Is that accurate?
- Do we need to treat the students in the full semester online courses differently when it comes to R2T4? Some may be in a mix of courses meaning they had an extended break for some courses and not others. Others could be in only full semester online courses. Should we remove the extended break days just for those in full semester online courses?

Thank you! I really appreciate any guidance you can offer.

Hello,

I was wondering if we were going to hear anything on emergency waivers for IDEA in the area of timeline flexibility.

While we have heard from TEA, the districts are aware that IDEA still holds up as it should, but TEA is advising that the districts to function with health first, best practice next, and compliance last.

While that is wonderful to know that we all know what is best, our directors are finding themselves concerned with the budget and the concerns that they will be owing compensatory services and face sanctions for missing initial evaluation timelines and re-evaluation timelines on an already tight budget.

Even if we go back to work in the next couple of weeks, we would have lost 3 weeks of time to work through evaluations and we would need more time to catch-up.

We would like to see a waiver of the sanctions, the opportunity to add the days of missed face-to-face learning.

There is a national shortage of school psychologists across the nation. We already feel like we are overstretched. This closure has just magnified the shortage as we will have an influx of evaluations that are due one on top of another.

We are at a lockdown in our area and we don't know until how much longer. We just want to have the federal backing so we do not feel like insubordinate employees when our directors tell us we need to do face to face evaluations because we will then be out of compliance. We want to feel supported and not feel like we are breaking the law.

Thank you for the long hours you have all been investing trying to resolve this situation in the most meaningful and expedient manner. I do not envy having the weight of the nation's educational progress on your shoulders. Thank you for your role in creating quality and equitable practices for all. I know there are so many department, offices, areas that need attention. However, I hope we are not being forgotten. We just want temporary relief. We respect and have always protected and abided by IDEA. For once, we hope someone is advocating for us, the people on the educational frontlines bending over backwards trying to make this work.

Thank you,

To Whom It May Concern,

My name is María del Carmen Needham, and I am a concerned citizen, a parent, and a Licensed Specialist in School Psychology.

Schools have been closed to prevent the spread of the Coronavirus (COVID-19). In an effort to provide instructional services to the students, the schools have moved to a virtual school. Because of such, TEA has put out a guidance document indicating that as long as school is in session, which includes a virtual classroom, then the evaluation timelines are active.

School evaluators are being asked to conduct these evaluations despite the recommendation to avoid contact with others during this time of social distancing. In order for the evaluators to obtain reliable data, the evaluators are ethically obligated to meet face-to-face with the student. However, ethically, the evaluator is feeling an obligation to society to avoid a face-to-face meeting with the student.

In order to avoid face-to-face evaluations, a practitioner may consider testing through virtual means. As an LSSP, I am not trained nor do I feel competent to complete evaluations through electronic means. It would be difficult to conduct a cognitive assessment via teleconference. We would be breaking standardized procedures, thus invalidating the data and making eligibility determinations on inaccurate data. Obtaining accurate data is essential to our practice.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

When conducting evaluations, we always want to function in the best interest of the student and we use instruments that will yield the most accurate data. Ethically and legally, our job is to ensure we obtain data that is free of extraneous factors that might confound our assessment data. During this COVID-19 pandemic, licensees have expressed concern that the child might be experiencing anxiety or fear. Therefore, this fear and anxiety could influence the child's performance. Several practitioners have expressed this is their greatest concern since we make significant decisions based on the results of the evaluation. We could have unreliable data that may not support eligibility criteria when under less stressful circumstances, the scores could be different. Therefore, obtaining data under these circumstances seems inappropriate.

I want to act in a responsible manner to our students and society. I would prefer to postpone face-to-face contact for an emotional, behavioral, cognitive and/or academic evaluation for the sake of not contributing to the spread of the virus.

The CDC, the President, and government officials recommend social distancing of at least 6 feet apart, when we conduct evaluations we are within close proximity because we are handling stimulus books and stimulus items (blocks, manipulatives, pencils, response booklets, etc). Some of the students we work with might be immunocompromised or live in multigenerational homes. If we consider the many different disciplines that may need to contribute to the evaluation, you are talking of potentially one or eight evaluators (LSSPs, Educational Diagnosticians, Speech Language Pathologists, Occupational Therapists, Physical Therapists, Vision & Orientations mobility teachers, Teachers to the Visually Impaired, and Teachers of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing), thus increasing the spread of a communicable disease.

I am reaching out to you as policy makers and as someone who could potentially advocate for us practitioners in this unprecedented unique situation. We are treading in uncharted waters and ultimately we want to act with an abundance of caution where we will not be hurting the student or our community.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

While I understand the parent's desire to get answers to their child's academic, behavioral, development, and/or emotional concerns, my hope is that TEA, OSEP, and OCR would consider making an emergency legal waiver that will give school districts the ability to pause the timeline until this pandemic passes and the social distancing practices are lifted.

My goal as a practitioner is to consider the best interests of the students and families we serve, while not abandoning their social, emotional, academic, and mental health needs. We have an ethical responsibility to maintain the integrity of our profession and conducting assessments during this pandemic would not be deemed as such.

Sincerely,

María del Carmen Needham, M.S., LSSP

America will Recovery but a Hard Nationwide shutdown is needed right now
We can't let Fear of loosing cause us to move too fast, its time to Be Still

Dear President Trump Administration and all State and Local government officials,

Let me start by saying "This too shall Pass" and America will make a fully recovery. To President Donald Trump and his administration, I would like to commend you on the outstanding job you are doing helping the Nation through the worst crisis we've had in modern times. I understand that as our President you want to get the Nation back to work because it is important that we set goals to move the Nation forward but right now the entire Nation needs a total shutdown for the Month of April to help stop the Spread of this Virus.

Though we all Love America, we can learn from other Nations that have experienced fighting this invisible enemy called Coronavirus. First ask yourself; How did Wuhan China stop the spread of this virus and get its country back on track? They did a strict total shutdown, cleaned the surface areas of their Cities and worked to find a cure/treatment for this virus. The virus is more contagious than the seasonal flu and it is foolish to down play this contagion.

Mr. President Sir, the Country has invested Trillions(The most in History) to fight back against this invisible evil enemy and now is the time to have a "strict" Nationwide shutdown early so that we can really FLATTEN the curve, get our cities cleaned and work fervently on a cure/treatment. Yes, there is nothing wrong with believing that by Easter things will get better but let not fear of the economy failing cause us to not take the strict measures we need to take right now, in order to "Flatten this curve so Flat that it is Dead".

Yes we love Israel, and we can also learn from our dear friends in Israel. President Netanyahu had the wisdom to have a hard Nationwide shutdown, India has also implemented a hard nationwide shutdown of more that 1.3 Billion People and they did this because that is what Wuhan China did to slow the spread and get a hand up on this invisible enemy. The quicker we shut everything down, the quicker we can get back to normal. This virus can exist for several days on some surfaces and that coupled with its very high contagion rate is why the only way to Slow the Spread and Flatten the Curve is to have strict stay at home protocol for time period of at least 30 days.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Unlike the seasonal Flu, the Corona virus uses some people as secret carries or hosts and those people display no symptoms to very mild symptoms, thus these people can unknowingly spread the virus to more vulnerable people that can have severe to even deadly reactions to this virus. One of the very healthy Utah Jazz NBA players that was diagnosed with this virus said he felt great and would have never thought he had this virus, even well enough to play a basketball game both before and after he was diagnosed. Mr. President you said that we're at war with an invisible enemy and you are right Sir and the best way to defeat an enemy it to know its strengths, weaknesses and how it hides or camouflages itself to gain the advantage of surprise. This virus is a very sinister and tricky enemy that has proven that it thrives when it is underestimated so as a Nation; let's not let our guards down, but let us instead be watchful, vigilant, prayerful, wise, highly sanitary and extremely cautious. When human lives are at stake you can never be too cautious!

America has some of the bravest people of faith on the Planet and we've done more to help other nations than most but right now we must HUMBLE ourselves under the Mighty hand of God and God will raise us up and we Pray that beginning Easter Week some major breakthroughs will take place and we will begin to win the war against this evil virus from Coast to Coast and Sea to Shining Sea.

Mr. President, you have led this nation well the last almost 4 years and many of the enemies who tried to defeat you have end up loosing. But think for moment, it may be Hell's strategy to play on your fears of loosing your greatest re-election tool "The Strongest Economy in recent years". Sir, don't let your fears cause you not to do what needs to be done and that is to implement a Hard Nationwide shutdown from the highest office in the land.

You're right, America didn't cause this but regardless of who caused this "We're in this Fight NOW, so Let's Win it". As people are scared and people are dying by the hundreds everyday in this Nation "we need our Commander in Chief to be the Comforter in Chief". WE Need Calm, Reassuring and Encouraging Leadership right now.

Mr. President, we believe that God is on our side and that we will win this fight! Keep in mind that God told the Israelite's to "Be Still and know that I am God", sometimes God wants His People to Be Still Sir so we can hear His voice. Our Nation needs a Healing, not just of the Coronavirus but we need a Spiritual awakening and during this time of calmness and stillness God is drawing His People Closer to Him. Think about how divided our Nation was before this crisis came to our shores, now we have people helping each other regardless of their political party or their race. What the enemy did to hurt our Nation, God is going to us it to bring us together and He is going to turn this around for our Good. God promises us this “And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to His purpose.” Romans 8:28

Make the hard decision Sir, to Implement a Hard nationwide shutdown from the Highest office in the Land for the Month of April, with the hopes that beginning close to Easter our Country will have a Resurrection of its own and that our Economy start the process to come roaring back like never before after we've paused for a while. Don't be surprised if many people who didn't vote Republican in 2016 are going to vote to re-elect the man who help them through the hardest times our Nation has seen in decades. Many forces have tried to stop you in the White House; the Muller Russian Probe, the Ukrainian Impeachment fiasco, and they all failed. I have Good News for our Nation and you Sir, this latest invisible enemy will fail too, so don't be worried, because "if God is for you, who can be against you" Romans 8:31. God is for the American People and President Trump, this is why we will win!

In God we Trust,

J Shaw

Subject: COVID-19 question that relates to grant S299B160027

Dear COVID-19 group,

I just got off the phone/Skype meeting with Angela regarding our upcoming Annual Report, and realized I have a question. I am one of the 2016 Grantees, and in this fiscal year we were scheduled, and had some funds attached, to hold a professional development conference that would feature our Indigenous Roots students' and other ROOTS graduate's in a University sponsored conference. This was one of the goals of our 2016 grant award, and it is reported in the APR. (We are also celebrating the 20th Anniversary of the Indigenous Roots Teacher Education program).

Our plans developed, and we ended up coordinating an all day "Indian Education for All" conference bringing together the University of Nebraska Lincoln College of Education - my college. - with the Winnebago Tribe. (We also got some additional SPENCER grant funds to support bringing elders, etc. to this gathering.) The current ROOTS students and graduates were presenting at the conference, about their experiences in a number of areas. The ROOTS students/graduates were involved in individual presentations in the morning session, and were leading discussion tables in the afternoon on a variety of topics. National experts in Indian Education for All were also presenting. We had invited people from across the state including the Nebraska Commissioner of Education, school administrators, teachers, professors, and all the graduates, current students to attend and present. The event was to take place April 13, 2020 in Winnebago. Last week this conference was cancelled/postponed. It was a perfect opportunity for professional development for ROOTS students and graduates (in any phase of the program) and for them to sit at the table, and become a part of the Indian Education for All discussion in our state.

The ROOTS grant included funds to pay for a fee and some travel, and of course there was extensive planning and coordination time required by the ROOTS staff to pull this off, with students and graduates coming to the conference from across the state and elsewhere. We were coordinating this event for most of this fiscal year, starting 10/1/2019 to the present. (The conference was also financially supported by the Winnebago Tribe, the Spencer grant, etc.)

The collaborators have talked about re-scheduling this conference to take place next fall or sometime next academic year on a day when there is professional development scheduled for teachers in Northeast Nebraska (Winnebago, Macy, Walthill, Santee and Niobrara) and other school districts. My question to you, would it be possible for these grant funds, including the staffing needs, to be carried over into the next fiscal year so that we might make this work in the 2020/2021 academic year? We would have to do this as part of our no-cost extensions since this is our 4th and final year. We did anticipate requesting a no-cost extension, so perhaps this could be a part of that?

I know I will have other COVID-19 grant questions related to individual students. Thank you for your consideration.

Best,

To Whom It May Concern:

Please see below additional questions from NC Community College System financial aid administrators in North Carolina. If possible, please review these questions and provide your responses to me as soon as possible. Additional questions may be submitted to you as they arise.

1. The electronic announcement from March 5th included language that said the following:

   The impact may be magnified if the institution accommodates students by providing alternative instructional opportunities and the student is required to continue paying tuition, but the student loses FWS as an important part of their financial aid award. For students enrolled and performing FWS at a campus that must close due to COVID-19, or for a FWS student who is employed by an employer that closes as a result of COVID-19, the institution may continue paying the student Federal work-study wages during that closure if it occurred after the beginning of the term, the institution is continuing to pay its other employees (including faculty and staff), and the institution continues to meet its institutional wage share requirement.

   QUESTION: What do we do if our campus is not "closing", but moving everything to online courses. Therefore, the students are basically not allowed on campus, but since the college did not "close" I'm not sure that we meet the criteria to continue paying them FWS funds. Any help or guidance we can get about that would be appreciated. Using the flexibility is contingent upon the FWS recipient being unable to complete his or her work obligation as a result of a COVID-19 circumstance. You may pay students FWS who are unable to work because they are now attending online.

2. For any addendums to policies and procedures due to COVID-19, I have been using a start date of 3/16/2020 on these addendums in order to ensure we are aware of when these procedural changes occurred. I have used this date because that is the date our college reassessed our situation to determine what changes were needed to accommodate COVID-19. Since we received dated guidance on 3/5/2020 of adjustments that could be made, can I instead use the date of 3/5/2020 or would it be best to stick with 3/16/2020? This is a matter of institutional discretion. The flexibility extends to all payment periods that begin on or between March 5 and June 1, 2020, so either date will work and be compliant.

3. We received guidance this week that a possibility for our students that may choose to withdraw is: Withdrawal and application of tuition to a future term.

   I wanted to make sure I am interpreting this correctly. If this situation occurs, students would withdraw from their classes for this semester and would be subject to R2T4 guidelines. If the student chose to return in the Fall 2020 semester, the student could register for the class withdrawn, and not pay tuition and fees for that class, correct? What an institution refunds or charges students is outside of the Department's purview. Schools may certainly allow students to return in fall and reenroll in classes from which they withdrew without charge. This could be accomplished in one of two ways. The first option would be to not charge at all, the cost for the course(s). In that case the cost of the course(s) must be excluded from the tuition and fee component of the COA. The other option is to charge for the courses but then apply a voucher or waiver to the student's account. The amount of the voucher or waiver would be considered EFA.

   If yes, it would be my assumption that the tuition and fees would not be prorated because the student would have to take the entire class again. That is an institutional decision. So, if the tuition and fees for a 3-hour class is $270.20, the student would receive a full $270.20 credit on their Fall 2020 tuition and fees statement, correct? Again, this is up to each institution. I say the student would receive a credit because there is always the possibility that tuition and fees could increase for the Fall 2020 semester so it may not necessarily be a wash out for the student. As explained above, any credit, voucher, waiver etc. applied to the student's ledger account for next year's charges is considered EFA.

   Because the student was withdrawn for the Spring 2020 semester and subjected to R2T4 guidelines, would I still be able to award the student financial aid for the class during the Fall 2020 semester, even though there is a possibility the student will not be charged any tuition and fees for the class? Yes. The amount of tuition charged has no bearing on whether the student is eligible to receive aid. Even if there was no tuition charge, the other elements of the COA would exist. It will, of course, potentially affect the student's financial aid package, i.e., lower costs could lead to less need and/or being eligible for lesser amounts of aid.

This is a loaded question, but I have been unable to find any particular guidance on this and want to make sure I fully understand. Thanks so much!

4. In regard to R2T4's for the COVID-19. We have some programs that are looking to assign students "Incompletes" for their classes, i.e. Cosmetology.

   Would the incomplete constitute an R2T4 since the student will no longer be attending the class for longer than 14 days? Incomplete grades for all classes may not be used as an alternative to considering a student to be withdrawn. The 14-day rule is not a factor here, as there is no doubt as to the last day of attendance and withdrawal date/date of determination. Institutions have 30 days from the date of determination to perform the calculation and 45 days to return funds. That clock begins as of the cessation of classes. It is possible to sort of "hold things in abeyance" for that time, but if classes do not resume, students must be considered withdrawn and funds returned. Assigning incomplete grades will not change this. It is far more practical to put all students on an approved LOA (that is, if the school fully expects classes to resume within 180 days). This provides far more flexibility, and our COVID-19 guidance allows schools to do this for all students even when classes are not being conducted.

   4. A. If yes, this would be similar to how we handle an "F" grade, correct? So, the student would still have an "I" for their grade, but we would have to consider them withdrawn from the class because they would not be in attendance in the class for longer than a 14-day period. See above

   4.B. If we are able to constitute an appropriate Leave of Absence for the student, I understand the student has 180 days to complete the assignment for the class. An approved LOA is not an incomplete. Accordingly, it is not a time period for students to finish work which they then turn in to have the period of enrollment considered complete. With an approved LOA, there is the presumption that the student come back at a certain point and resume classes at the point he or she left off. Thus the period of enrollment is competed. If the student does not return, he or she must be treated as a withdrawal. An LOA cannot be used to shorten the academic year or the length of classes. Would it be best to still assign the student an "I" in the course? If yes, in this situation, if the student has a legitimate leave of absence, the "I" grade would not be treated as a withdrawal. This is, of course, up to each institution. But it is important to bear in mind the purpose of an I grade. They are generally given where a student has completed, or very nearly completed, the entire class but has not fulfilled all academic requirements; perhaps a final remains to be taken or a paper turned in. If students cease attending all classes, they must be considered withdrawn. That is why an approved LOA is the better option for those schools that can use it.

5. I know the FWS community waiver for 2020-2021 waiver is open at this time and due by 4/20/2020. We, at Mayland CC, have been blessed with the opportunity to fill this position in years past and haven't required a waiver. However, I worry that given the current circumstances, if this will be more difficult this go around. I wonder, would it be possible that the deadline will be extended on the waiver until we can better know if this will become an issue for us? There is no extension at this time. It might be better to apply for the waiver. There is no problem if you do end up fulfilling the community service expenditure requirement.

   I know everyone is just trying to stay on top of 2019-2020 FWS at this time, but thought I would ask about this since the deadline is in April.

Thanks in advance for your assistance.

Dear Ms. Hammer:

Thank you for contacting the U.S. Department of Education (Department) concerning COVID-19 ("Coronavirus").

These are challenging times for schools and communities, and administrators and public health officials are facing difficult decisions related to preventing the spread of this respiratory disease. Please be assured that the Department is working with the White House and other Federal agencies to ensure learning environments are not disrupted.

Regarding your specific question about the safety of packages, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) states that "in general, because of poor survivability of these coronaviruses on surfaces, there is likely very low risk of spread from products or packaging that are shipped over a period of days or weeks at ambient temperatures." For further guidance and information from the CDC, please visit www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-nCoV.

Thank you for sharing your concerns with us. We invite you to send questions on which the Department can be helpful to the following email address: COVID-19@ed.gov.

Ok…. I always thought that FSA should have had their own mailbox. Most of the questions received were for FSA. This box must have been established yesterday, because Shaina or Jack Cox never mentioned this to us. In addition, Jack only asked that we send the emails in bulk, instead of individually. The process below makes more sense.

So, I'm assuming the messages we forwarded within the last couple of days that Jack and Shaina will forward them to the FSA box, and moving forward, we can follow the process below, right?

Hi Christine,

As of this morning, OPE has received close to 800 inquiries.

We had responded to about 400 inquiries directly. However, with an FAQ published last week that directly answered another 250 inquiries, we have about 150 outstanding questions with no direct or indirect response. I'd say this FAQ section, or "template letter", along with the updated Electronic Announcement, answered at least between 300-500 questions whether they were answered with individual responses prior to its publishing, or awareness to the facts after its publishing.

Out of that 150 still unanswered, roughly 100 should be answered in the next week or so (either because they are less than 2 days old or they have responses being crafted that should be cleared next week).

That leaves about 50 inquiries that are more than two days old and have not received a response that would not fit a template format, as they are more or less one-offs that make for trickier answers.

Ultimately, we have:

- Just over 50% answered directly
- About 80% answered directly/indirectly
- 93% answered directly/indirectly by next week

Please let me know if you'll need any additional information. Thanks for working with us through this gargantuan task.

Best,
Jack

Hello Lynn:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thank you for your questions concerning Title IV-A Student Support and Academic Enrichment (Title IV-A) Programs use of funds to support activities related to COVID-19 ("Coronavirus"). Below are your original questions along with a response from our team.

Connecticut COVID-19 Questions:

1. Would it be acceptable for grantees to use funds for hotspots?

2. Would it be acceptable for grantees to use funds for purchase of devices under Well Rounded and/or Safe and Healthy?

Department's Response:

1. Yes - Title IV-A funds may be used for expenses such as hotspots, if the State educational agency (SEA) determines it is allowable and consistent with the purposes of the effective use of technology content area; if they are reasonable, necessary and allocable to the grant, and supplement, and do not supplant, other State and local fuds that would otherwise be used to pay for the allowable activity.

2. Yes – Title IV-A funds may be used to purchase these devices consistent with the guidance above.

Please note that the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools and communities as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available. Good morning Brenda and Francisco,

In light of the COVID pandemic, we are getting a number of questions from our grantees. Primarily, they are requests to revise budgets and dedicate grant funds to purchase hotspots and/or purchase devices. Clearly these are based upon new needs assessments, in light of the pandemic.

Q1) Would it be acceptable for grantees to use funds for hotspots? This is critical, especially to our rural locations where internet access is not readily available to many homes. (Sec. 4109(a)(6) could support this use for rural areas; some other areas may also need hotspots.)

Q2) Would it be acceptable for grantees to use funds for purchase of devices under Well Rounded and/or Safe and Healthy? The special rule limits purchases of devices when those purchases are made under the content area Effective Use of Technology, and the rule specifically says ". . .to address readiness shortfalls". However, many of the subsections of 4107(a) could be viewed to support device purchase as districts move to establish and/or ramp up distance-learning programs to deliver instruction under Well Rounded. As well, several of the provisions under 4108(a) could be viewed to support device purchases under Safe and Healthy as grantees seek to: protect student and family health through social distancing; foster safe, healthy, supportive, and drug-free environments that support student academic achievement; establish learning environments and enhance students' effective learning skills that are essential for school readiness and academic success, such as by providing integrated systems of student and family supports; provide mentoring and school counseling to all students, including children who are at risk of academic failure, dropping out of school, involvement in criminal or delinquent activities, or drug use and abuse. (It is important to engage students most at risk of dropping out, as these very needy students may not return to school after the pandemic.)

So there are large issues resulting from the pandemic:

- This is now an issue of equity, as students in poverty will not have access to technology that students having more wealth will have.
- This is now related to Well Rounded, as students may have zero access to instruction without technology/distance learning.
- This is now an issue of Safe and Healthy, as schools have closed and students and families have been directed to stay safe, stay home.

We are asking for an expedited review of our two questions, with your answers as soon as possible. We need to advise our grantees.

Thank you so much for your time and assistance,

Music Technology Virtual Movie Trailer Workshops

$1990 half day (up to 2 virtual workshops)
$3250 (full day) up to 5 virtual workshops)
Capacity 15-30 students per virtual workshop. Each workshop is 30-40 minutes in length.

Using your schools existing e-learning applications, Brent Daniels brings the techniques and technology he uses to produce and compose music for some of Hollywood's biggest movie trailers (such as Marvel's Black Panther & Disney's A Wrinkle In Time) to the virtual classroom. Program content is variable depending on grade and experience level, making this online workshop suitable for grades 4 - 12, accommodating students with no musical background all the way up to experienced musicians, budding music producers or composers interested in a career in music. In a typical virtual workshop for students with little or no musical training, Brent will:

1. Show students one or more of the trailers in which his music is used and play the original music composed and produced for the trailers.
2. Break down sonic and musical components from his music which are synced by trailer editors with the film's visuals.
3. Introduce students to the concepts in sound design, composition, and music production necessary for trailer music production
4. Combine those elements to create a short example of a trailer-style music cue.

Middle and High School music students with some experience in music technology and production may benefit from a more customized or in-depth form of the online workshop, which Brent can provide. They also may have advanced questions about the process of music production or careers in the music industry. Brent's online workshops are an excellent place to find answers and insight.

However, there will be some districts which may have requested a wavier previously and be in the three year window. Thanks

Dear Sir/Madam.

In regards to the potential for reduced academic year, your guidance states (https://ifap.ed.gov/electronic-announcements/030520Guidance4interruptionsrelated2CoronavirusCOVID19) states:

The Department is authorized under 34 CFR § 668.3 to approve a reduced academic year. If at any point an institution determines it will close as the result of a campus health emergency, it may contact the School Participation team to request a temporary reduction in the length of its academic year.

As the accreditor for institutions of higher learning in the Pacific Northwest we are receiving requests regarding reduced academic terms (semesters, quarters, etc.).

In light of the USDE guidance noted above and (https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ope/20-007covid19accreditorsfromomb317s.pdf), can we as the accreditor approve the same or does each institution need to reach out to the School Participation Team?

Thanks for any guidance you may be able to provide.

Re: GateWay Community College (00830300) – Request for Distance Learning Approval for Clock Hour Programs

GateWay Community College (00830300) ("GWCC"), as an institution within the statutory authority of the Department of Education ("DoE"), is required to comply with Title IV Higher Education Act (HEA) policies. In addition to credit-based courses, GWCC offers clock hour programs. Title IV provides the requirements for clock hour program eligibility, specific to attendance. As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic and the guidance provided by the CDC, the federal government, and state and local agencies, GWCC has moved all in-person instruction to online formats.

On March 5, 2020, the DoE, Office of Postsecondary Education, published the following guidance, in part:

> The Department is providing broad approval to institutions to use online technologies to accommodate students on a temporary basis, without going through the regular approval process of the Department. This flexibility only applies to a program during a payment period that overlaps the date of this electronic announcement (March 5 and updated on March 20) or the following payment period.

In light of this guidance, on behalf of GateWay Community College, I request written approval for GWCC to use online technologies to deliver clock hour instruction. To comply with attendance regulations, the College will develop a process by which instructors can:

1. Visually monitor and track all attendance using online technologies (Ex. Google Hangouts, WebEx, Canvas, etc.) for financial aid eligible programs
2. Complete daily rosters and submit rosters for validation using online technologies
3. Across programs, follow uniform expectations for maintaining compliance of attendance regulations

Please let me know if you require any additional information. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact me at terese.brown@gatewaycc.edu or 602.286.8009.

Dear Ms. Desarey:

Thank you for contacting the U.S. Department of Education (Department) concerning COVID-19 ("Coronavirus").

These are challenging times for schools and communities, and administrators and public health officials are facing difficult decisions related to preventing the spread of this respiratory disease. Unfortunately, there are no easy answers.

Regarding your question, school plans be designed to complement other community mitigation strategies to protect high-risk populations, minimize disruption to teaching and learning, and protect students and staff from social stigma and discrimination. Currently, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends persons who are at higher risk to speak with their healthcare providers about possible protective measures. Schools and the families of students with asthma should work together to determine whether a student has rights under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (Section 504) or the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), in which case a specific set of accommodations and modifications may be developed to help ensure inclusion to the extent possible under the law, in accordance with CDC guidelines and the healthcare provider recommendations. For the most up-to-date information from the CDC on COVID-19, please visit www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-nCoV.

In addition, the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools and communities as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available.

Hello Lynn:

Thank you for your questions concerning Title IV-A Student Support and Academic Enrichment (Title IV-A) Programs use of funds to support activities related to COVID-19 ("Coronavirus"). Below are your original questions along with a response from our team.

Connecticut COVID-19 Questions:

1. Would it be acceptable for grantees to use funds for hotspots?

2. Would it be acceptable for grantees to use funds for purchase of devices under Well Rounded and/or Safe and Healthy?

Department's Response:

1. Yes - Title IV-A funds may be used for expenses such as hotspots, if the State educational agency (SEA) determines it is allowable and consistent with the purposes of the effective use of technology content area; if they are reasonable, necessary and allocable to the grant, and supplement, and do not supplant, other State and local fuds that would otherwise be used to pay for the allowable activity.

2. Yes – Title IV-A funds may be used to purchase these devices consistent with the guidance above.

Importance: High

Good morning Brenda and Francisco,

In light of the COVID pandemic, we are getting a number of questions from our grantees. Primarily, they are requests to revise budgets and dedicate grant funds to purchase hotspots and/or purchase devices. Clearly these are based upon new needs assessments, in light of the pandemic.

Q1) Would it be acceptable for grantees to use funds for hotspots? This is critical, especially to our rural locations where internet access is not readily available to many homes. (Sec. 4109(a)(6) could support this use for rural areas; some other areas may also need hotspots.)

Q2) Would it be acceptable for grantees to use funds for purchase of devices under Well Rounded and/or Safe and Healthy? The special rule limits purchases of devices when those purchases are made under the content area Effective Use of Technology, and the rule specifically says ". . .to address readiness shortfalls". However, many of the subsections of 4107(a) could be viewed to support device purchase as districts move to establish and/or ramp up distance-learning programs to deliver instruction under Well Rounded. As well, several of the provisions under 4108(a) could be viewed to support device purchases under Safe and Healthy as grantees seek to: protect student and family health through social distancing; foster safe, healthy, supportive, and drug-free environments that support student academic achievement; establish learning environments and enhance students' effective learning skills that are essential for school readiness and academic success, such as by providing integrated systems of student and family supports; provide mentoring and school counseling to all students, including children who are at risk of academic failure, dropping out of school, involvement in criminal or delinquent activities, or drug use and abuse. (It is important to engage students most at risk of dropping out, as these very needy students may not return to school after the pandemic.)

So there are large issues resulting from the pandemic:

- This is now an issue of equity, as students in poverty will not have access to technology that students having more wealth will have.
- This is now related to Well Rounded, as students may have zero access to instruction without technology/distance learning.
- This is now an issue of Safe and Healthy, as schools have closed and students and families have been directed to stay safe, stay home.

We are asking for an expedited review of our two questions, with your answers as soon as possible. We need to advise our grantees.

Thank you so much for your time and assistance,

Thank you for contacting the U.S. Department of Education (Department) concerning COVID-19 ("Coronavirus").

These are challenging times for schools and communities, and administrators and public health officials are facing difficult decisions related to preventing the spread of this respiratory disease. Unfortunately, there are no easy answers.

While there is currently no vaccine to prevent COVID-19, public health officials are currently taking steps to prevent the spread of this respiratory disease. Schools can play an important role in this effort. Through collaboration and coordination with local health authorities and other agencies, schools can disseminate important information about this disease and its potential transmission.

Please note that the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) offers the most up-to-date information on COVID-19. Schools can share relevant CDC fact sheets to help students, families, and staff understand COVID-19, along with steps they can take to protect themselves. For further information, please visit www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-nCoV.

In addition, the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools and communities as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available.

Thank you for sharing your thoughts with us. We invite you to send questions on which the Department can be helpful to the following email address: COVID-19@ed.gov.

Sincerely,

The COVID-19 Response Team

Dear Mr. Miller:

Thank you for contacting the U.S. Department of Education (Department) concerning COVID-19 ("Coronavirus").

Unfortunately, these are challenging times for schools and communities, and administrators and public health officials are facing difficult decisions related to preventing the spread of this respiratory disease.

The Department is committed to helping schools support the continuity of teaching and learning. In recent weeks we have worked with the White House, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and other Federal agencies to develop guidance to help protect schools, educators, and families. This information can be found on the Department's "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus. Through collaboration and coordination with local health authorities and other agencies, schools can also help disseminate important information about this disease and its potential transmission.

Dear Ms. Hammer:

Thank you for contacting the U.S. Department of Education (Department) concerning COVID-19 ("Coronavirus").

These are challenging times for schools and communities, and administrators and public health officials are facing difficult decisions related to preventing the spread of this respiratory disease. Please be assured that the Department is working with the White House and other Federal agencies to ensure learning environments are not disrupted.

Regarding your specific question about the safety of packages, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) states that "in general, because of poor survivability of these coronaviruses on surfaces, there is likely very low risk of spread from products or packaging that are shipped over a period of days or weeks at ambient temperatures." For further guidance and information from the CDC, please visit www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-nCoV.

Thank you for sharing your concerns with us. We invite you to send questions on which the Department can be helpful to the following email address: COVID-19@ed.gov.

Good Afternoon,

I have read the correspondence regarding ED student loan garnishments. From the reading it indicates that employers should stop the federal student loan garnishments for 60 days from 3/13. We stopped the federal loans for our pay period 3/27. However, I am receiving conflicting information. A counterpart has indicated that we should continue to withheld until we receive notification for each employee directly from ED.

A few questions

1. Should we be waiting to receive documentation from ED before stopping the garnishments for the 60 day period?
2. Will ED refund the deductions received prior to 3/2(date of announcement)?

Thank you in advance for your response.

Music Technology Virtual Movie Trailer Workshops

$1990 half day (up to 2 virtual workshops)
$3250 (full day) up to 5 virtual workshops)
Capacity 15-30 students per virtual workshop. Each workshop is 30-40 minutes in length.

Using your schools existing e-learning applications, Brent Daniels brings the techniques and technology he uses to produce and compose music for some of Hollywood's biggest movie trailers (such as Marvel's Black Panther & Disney's A Wrinkle In Time) to the virtual classroom. Program content is variable depending on grade and experience level, making this online workshop suitable for grades 4 - 12, accommodating students with no musical background all the way up to experienced musicians, budding music producers or composers interested in a career in music. In a typical virtual workshop for students with little or no musical training, Brent will:

1. Show students one or more of the trailers in which his music is used and play the original music composed and produced for the trailers.
2. Break down sonic and musical components from his music which are synced by trailer editors with the film's visuals.
3. Introduce students to the concepts in sound design, composition, and music production necessary for trailer music production
4. Combine those elements to create a short example of a trailer-style music cue.

Middle and High School music students with some experience in music technology and production may benefit from a more customized or in-depth form of the online workshop, which Brent can provide. They also may have advanced questions about the process of music production or careers in the music industry. Brent's online workshops are an excellent place to find answers and insight.

Not sure who to send this question too but can you explain why you are only giving people's treasury offset of taxes back if they filed after march 13? Why are they in more need of keeping their taxes over someone like me that filed my taxes and had them taken for student loans but I am in the same position as the person who filed after march 13 in dealing with this pandemic. I hope someone reads this and realizes that it shouldn't matter when you filed as to if you are going to have your taxes returned when we all are in need of this money so we can provide for our family. In addition to allowing distance learning, accreditors should be allowed to give a one-week waiver on the length of a semester, so that faculty have time to properly implement the distance learning, without requiring faculty to "make up" the "missing" class days. At my institution lecture classes have moved online and the campus is open but accessible only to students, staff, and faculty. Staff and faculty have been encouraged to work at home as much as possible. We are a health sciences school and clinicals are still going on at sites as long as the site hasn't cancelled them. Some labs are still taking place on campus and others are being moved online if they can be.

I have some work-study students who are still working. I have other work-study students who are not working for various other reasons – one is pregnant which puts her in a high risk category for COVID-19 and one has moved home to be near her family because of COVID-19. These two students are "unable to work their scheduled hours because of COVID-19 disruptions." Another student has made the decision not to work because she doesn't want to put herself at risk. Since she could work but made the choice not to because of COVID-19 can I pay her? I have other students who have expressed their concern about working when the guidance from the local health department and the CDC is to stay home and social distance. They could work but may also make the choice not to. Can I pay them? None of the work-study positions can be done by other means such as online, remote, or telecommute.

Thanks,
Laura

With the new regulations for COVID-19 and R2T4 I have a question in regards to if a student drops a course prior to the start date on their own. We have some courses that were 4 week modules that have not yet started that a student could drop and has already received Pell for. Normally we would reduce the Pell and the student would be responsible to repay a portion of the Pell. We are not able to collect a reason at the time of the drop due to our self-service isn't capable of collecting a reason. Are we to contact the student to find out if it is due to COVID-19 OR are we to follow the Pell calculation rules and adjust the aid accordingly for a course that had not yet started?

Subject: Length of Academic Year

Good afternoon!

I work at a private college that extended spring break by 1 week due to COVID-19. At the end of spring break, instruction will resume online until the scheduled end date of the spring term. Although our start and end dates currently remain the same, are we required to request a temporary reduction in our academic year since the instruction time has effectively been shortened by 1 week? If so, do we start by contacting our School Participation team or do we request approval via the ECAR?

Thank you in advance for your guidance.

RE: Touro College Request for Early Graduation of Medical Students

Good Evening,

With Governor Cuomo's request to higher-education health institutions in New York to assist the State's health systems, Touro College submits this for approval to begin the process of providing eligible students in our DO program the option to graduate early. This early graduation will allow such students to provide additional support to the medical personnel on the front lines of the COVID-19 pandemic.

This option will be made available to students, on a case-by-case basis, who have completed all of the academic requirements necessary to for their degree. All students that are eligible for this option will have met the required minimum of 228 credit hours and 130 weeks as reported to COCA (see Appendix A). This optional, early graduation is approved by our programmatic accreditor and is currently under review by the New York State Department of Education.

Graduation will be on a per student basis as each student completes their requirements. Educational instruction is continuing as scheduled and any students not voluntarily choosing this option or who do not qualify will continue their educational program through the duration of the normally scheduled semester.

We hope that this request is met favorably and request your acknowledgement and approval as quickly as possible. Please do not hesitate to reach out to me directly with any questions that you may have.

Thank you.

Respectfully Submitted,

|---|---|---|
| 1 | 58 | 35 |

| 4 | 54 | 36 |
| TOTALS | 236 | 148 |
| REQUIRED | 228 | 130 |

At the time we graduate any eligible student, those students would have completed 8 of 9 senior rotations, which would be 48 credits (8 rotations x 6 credits) and 32 weeks (8 rotations x 4 weeks), which meets the minimum requirements mandated by our specialty accreditor COCA. That looks like this:

| Year | Credit Hours Earned | Curricular Weeks |

Good morning! I have a couple more questions related to COVID-19 changes.

Our administration wants to give students the option to change some or all of their courses to pass/fail rather than regular grading. We have not seen any guidance on whether this is permissible or not. Our accreditors are not concerned, and we've made sure that the courses will still count towards the students' degrees. Is there anything that we need to be thinking of or tracking on this other than SAP/unofficial WDs? Is there any guidance about this being allowed or not?

Secondly, one of our programs wants to give grocery store gift cards to students who need assistance purchasing food, as we've had to close our on-campus food pantry. Would the value of these cards need to be counted as estimated financial assistance either this year or next year? If so, could the cost of attendance also be increased due to unexpected expenses related to COVID-19?

Thank you!

Subject: Medical students & possible early graduation

The College of Medicine is considering graduating medical students a few weeks early in order to get them into practice as soon as possible during the COVID19 pandemic. Their AY would still be a total of 36 weeks but their spring term could be as short as 12 weeks depending on the graduation date decided.

What is the threshold for reporting to the School Participation Team for a shortened term?

- If the term remains 14 weeks or longer (based on the November 5, 2019 guidance for flexibility in length of a term) would we need to report a change in length of the program?
- If the total academic year remains longer than 30 instructional weeks but one term is shortened for the graduating class, would we need to report the change in length of the program?

Thank you in advance for your assistance.

Importance: High

Good afternoon,

I am a financial aid advisor at Salem University (School Code: 003820) and I have had some perspective students unable to complete verification requirements due to closures caused by COVID-19. Here are a few examples.

1. Perspective student lives in NY and was selected for V4 verification on her 2019-20 & 2020-21 FAFSAs. She sent over the front and back copy of her unexpired ID but she is unable to travel due to a shelter-in-place order to get her Statement of Educational Purposes form notarized in person. We have been unable to find any online solutions for this requirement. We are not able to clear the verification without this

2. Perspective student did not register for Selective Service due to being incarcerated. He provided satisfactory documentation to both us and Selective Service however Selective Service's offices closed prior to processing his request. They are not able to generate a Selective Service response letter

3. Perspective student has V4 verification on his 2019-20 FAFSA and has provided all required documentation except for his high school transcript. We ordered the transcript but his school is closed due to the Coronavirus. The Department of Education in that state has not offered any electronic means of sending the documentation.

Thank you in advance for your assistance.

Hi Cheryl,

As advised by the Department of Education March 5th, 2020, Electronic Announcement we are requesting a temporary reduction in length of our academic calendar for our doctor of medicine program.

> The Department is authorized under 34 CFR § 668.3 to approve a reduced academic year. If at any point an institution determines it will close as the result of a campus health emergency, it may contact the School Participation team to request a temporary reduction in the length of its academic year. –3/6/20 Electronic Announcement

Massachusetts Health and Human Services Secretary Marylou Sudders asked the four Massachusetts Medical Schools to advance graduation of our fourth-year medical students to a date in April to more rapidly expand the capacity of the medical workforce in the Commonwealth in response to the critical needs of our citizens during this pandemic. We would like to shorten our spring semester for the doctor of medicine program by three weeks; our academic year would still exceed the required 30 weeks.

The Boston University Medical School Student Evaluation and Promotions Committee will review each student status and determine that students have completed all of their requirements for graduation by April 10, 2020 and a virtual graduation is planned on Friday, April 17, 2020 for those who have met requirements.

It's critical that this temporary reduction to our academic calendar for our doctor of medicine program be granted by the Department of Education so that our students can be help meet the urgent need for medical professionals.

Re: GateWay Community College (00830300) – Request for Distance Learning Approval for Clock Hour Programs

GateWay Community College (00830300) ("GWCC"), as an institution within the statutory authority of the Department of Education ("DoE"), is required to comply with Title IV Higher Education Act (HEA) policies. In addition to credit-based courses, GWCC offers clock hour programs. Title IV provides the requirements for clock hour program eligibility, specific to attendance. As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic and the guidance provided by the CDC, the federal government, and state and local agencies, GWCC has moved all in-person instruction to online formats.

On March 5, 2020, the DoE, Office of Postsecondary Education, published the following guidance, in part:

> The Department is providing broad approval to institutions to use online technologies to accommodate students on a temporary basis, without going through the regular approval process of the Department. This flexibility only applies to a program during a payment period that overlaps the date of this electronic announcement (March 5 and updated on March 20) or the following payment period.

In light of this guidance, on behalf of GateWay Community College, I request written approval for GWCC to use online technologies to deliver clock hour instruction. To comply with attendance regulations, the College will develop a process by which instructors can:

1. Visually monitor and track all attendance using online technologies (Ex. Google Hangouts, WebEx, Canvas, etc.) for financial aid eligible programs
2. Complete daily rosters and submit rosters for validation using online technologies
3. Across programs, follow uniform expectations for maintaining compliance of attendance regulations

Please let me know if you require any additional information. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact me at terese.brown@gatewaycc.edu or 602.286.8009.

Subject: NC Community College System Coronavirus & Title IV Eligibility Questions

To Whom It May Concern:
Please see below additional questions from NC Community College System financial aid administrators in North Carolina. If possible, please review these questions and provide your responses to me as soon as possible. Additional questions may be submitted to you as they arise.

1. The electronic announcement from March 5th included language that said the following:

   The impact may be magnified if the institution accommodates students by providing alternative instructional opportunities and the student is required to continue paying tuition, but the student loses FWS as an important part of their financial aid award. For students enrolled and performing FWS at a campus that must close due to COVID-19, or for a FWS student who is employed by an employer that closes as a result of COVID-19, the institution may continue paying the student Federal work-study wages during that closure if it occurred after the beginning of the term, the institution is continuing to pay its other employees (including faculty and staff), and the institution continues to meet its institutional wage share requirement.

   QUESTION: What do we do if our campus is not "closing", but moving everything to online courses. Therefore, the students are basically not allowed on campus, but since the college did not "close" I'm not sure that we meet the criteria to continue paying them FWS funds. Any help or guidance we can get about that would be appreciated.

2. For any addendums to policies and procedures due to COVID-19, I have been using a start date of 3/16/2020 on these addendums in order to ensure we are aware of when these procedural changes occurred. I have used this date because that is the date our college reassessed our situation to determine what changes were needed to accommodate COVID-19. Since we received dated guidance on 3/5/2020 of adjustments that could be made, can I instead use the date of 3/5/2020 or would it be best to stick with 3/16/2020?

3. We received guidance this week that a possibility for our students that may choose to withdraw is: Withdrawal and application of tuition to a future term.

   I wanted to make sure I am interpreting this correctly. If this situation occurs, students would withdraw from their classes for this semester and would be subject to R2T4 guidelines. If the student chose to return in the Fall 2020 semester, the student could register for the class withdrawn, and not pay tuition and fees for that class, correct?

If yes, it would be my assumption that the tuition and fees would not be prorated because the student would have to take the entire class again. So, if the tuition and fees for a 3-hour class is $270.20, the student would receive a full $270.20 credit on their Fall 2020 tuition and fees statement, correct? I say the student would receive a credit because there is always the possibility that tuition and fees could increase for the Fall 2020 semester so it may not necessarily be a wash out for the student.

Because the student was withdrawn for the Spring 2020 semester and subjected to R2T4 guidelines, would I still be able to award the student financial aid for the class during the Fall 2020 semester, even though there is a possibility the student will not be charged any tuition and fees for the class?

This is a loaded question, but I have been unable to find any particular guidance on this and want to make sure I fully understand. Thanks so much!

4. In regard to R2T4's for the COVID-19. We have some programs that are looking to assign students "Incompletes" for their classes, i.e. Cosmetology.

   Would the incomplete constitute an R2T4 since the student will no longer be attending the class for longer than 14 days?

   4. A. If yes, this would be similar to how we handle an "F" grade, correct? So, the student would still have an "I" for their grade, but we would have to consider them withdrawn from the class because they would not be in attendance in the class for longer than a 14-day period.

   4.B. If we are able to constitute an appropriate Leave of Absence for the student, I understand the student has 180 days to complete the assignment for the class. Would it be best to still assign the student an "I" in the course? If yes, in this situation, if the student has a legitimate leave of absence, the "I" grade would not be treated as a withdrawal.

5. I know the FWS community waiver for 2020-2021 waiver is open at this time and due by 4/20/2020. We, at Mayland CC, have been blessed with the opportunity to fill this position in years past and haven't required a waiver. However, I worry that given the current circumstances, if this will be more difficult this go around. I wonder, would it be possible that the deadline will be extended on the waiver until we can better know if this will become an issue for us?

I know everyone is just trying to stay on top of 2019-2020 FWS at this time, but thought I would ask about this since the deadline is in April.
Thanks in advance for your assistance.

Secondly, one of our programs wants to give grocery store gift cards to students who need assistance purchasing food, as we've had to close our on-campus food pantry. Would the value of these cards need to be counted as estimated financial assistance either this year or next year? If so, could the cost of attendance also be increased due to unexpected expenses related to COVID-19?

Thank you!

Due to COVID-19, we are going to cancel OCTH547 for the spring 2020 term and movie it to summer 2020.

Because the course has not started yet, the students will receive a withdrawn with no grade.

How does this affect already awarded Title IV funds?

Must I adjust the aid to reflect the number of credits they were awarded for since the course will not be started in the Spring trimester?

We are working on distance education for our students. I have a couple questions for you:
Full time students are 30 hours per week. If we offer them distance education and they take advantage of it there is no way they would sit in front of a computer 7.5 hours per day for 4 days (which is their typical schedule). We are looking at doing 3.75 hours a day for 4 days a week, which would take them to half time status. I know we would need to adjust their contract and schedules. We would still be able to get financial aid for them because they would not fall below half time. Do I need to adjust NSLDS enrollment reporting to show that they are now half time? Then once we reopen adjust everything back to full time status.
Our part time program is 15 hours per week; if we cut that in half they would fall below half time. I would adjust their contract and schedules. Do I need to report that for NSLDS Enrollment Reporting that they have dropped below half time?
I am not sure if our students will take advantage of this or not; we are sending an email to them today. I just want to make sure we are doing everything correctly. Take care!

Subject: Exceptions to published admissions requirements related to COVID-19

We have a program that requires a standardized exam score (TEAS test)) as part of their admissions criteria. We have been informed that there is a wait of several months to sign up with a third-party proctor to administer those tests online, if at all, but we have a start date in July for that program.

Our program is considering suspending that criteria from our admissions criteria temporarily. If they suspend that criteria but do not issue a new catalog addendum (i.e., we document the suspension internally only), would students admitted during that suspension be eligible for Title IV funds? They are NOT admitting them conditionally, but suspending that admissions requirement temporarily.

My understanding is that you must follow your published admissions criteria for a student to be eligible for Title IV funds.

Thanks,
Sally

To Whom It May Concern:

Please see below additional questions from NC Community College System financial aid administrators in North Carolina. If possible, please review these questions and provide your responses to me as soon as possible. Additional questions may be submitted to you as they arise.

1. The electronic announcement from March 5th included language that said the following:

   The impact may be magnified if the institution accommodates students by providing alternative instructional opportunities and the student is required to continue paying tuition, but the student loses FWS as an important part of their financial aid award. For students enrolled and performing FWS at a campus that must close due to COVID-19, or for a FWS student who is employed by an employer that closes as a result of COVID-19, the institution may continue paying the student Federal work-study wages during that closure if it occurred after the beginning of the term, the institution is continuing to pay its other employees (including faculty and staff), and the institution continues to meet its institutional wage share requirement.

   QUESTION: What do we do if our campus is not "closing", but moving everything to online courses. Therefore, the students are basically not allowed on campus, but since the college did not "close" I'm not sure that we meet the criteria to continue paying them FWS funds. Any help or guidance we can get about that would be appreciated. Using the flexibility is contingent upon the FWS recipient being unable to complete his or her work obligation as a result of a COVID-19 circumstance. You may pay students FWS who are unable to work because they are now attending online.

2. For any addendums to policies and procedures due to COVID-19, I have been using a start date of 3/16/2020 on these addendums in order to ensure we are aware of when these procedural changes occurred. I have used this date because that is the date our college reassessed our situation to determine what changes were needed to accommodate COVID-19. Since we received dated guidance on 3/5/2020 of adjustments that could be made, can I instead use the date of 3/5/2020 or would it be best to stick with 3/16/2020? This is a matter of institutional discretion. The flexibility extends to all payment periods that begin on or between March 5 and June 1, 2020, so either date will work and be compliant.

3. We received guidance this week that a possibility for our students that may choose to withdraw is: Withdrawal and application of tuition to a future term.

   I wanted to make sure I am interpreting this correctly. If this situation occurs, students would withdraw from their classes for this semester and would be subject to R2T4 guidelines. If the student chose to return in the Fall 2020 semester, the student could register for the class withdrawn, and not pay tuition and fees for that class, correct? What an institution refunds or charges students is outside of the Department's purview. Schools may certainly allow students to return in fall and reenroll in classes from which they withdrew without charge. This could be accomplished in one of two ways. The first option would be to not charge at all, the cost for the course(s). In that case the cost of the course(s) must be excluded from the tuition and fee component of the COA. The other option is to charge for the courses but then apply a voucher or waiver to the student's account. The amount of the voucher or waiver would be considered EFA.

   If yes, it would be my assumption that the tuition and fees would not be prorated because the student would have to take the entire class again. That is an institutional decision. So, if the tuition and fees for a 3-hour class is $270.20, the student would receive a full $270.20 credit on their Fall 2020 tuition and fees statement, correct? Again, this is up to each institution. I say the student would receive a credit because there is always the possibility that tuition and fees could increase for the Fall 2020 semester so it may not necessarily be a wash out for the student. As explained above, any credit, voucher, waiver etc. applied to the student's ledger account for next year's charges is considered EFA.

   Because the student was withdrawn for the Spring 2020 semester and subjected to R2T4 guidelines, would I still be able to award the student financial aid for the class during the Fall 2020 semester, even though there is a possibility the student will not be charged any tuition and fees for the class? Yes. The amount of tuition charged has no bearing on whether the student is eligible to receive aid. Even if there was no tuition charge, the other elements of the COA would exist. It will, of course, potentially affect the student's financial aid package, i.e., lower costs could lead to less need and/or being eligible for lesser amounts of aid.

This is a loaded question, but I have been unable to find any particular guidance on this and want to make sure I fully understand. Thanks so much!

4. In regard to R2T4's for the COVID-19. We have some programs that are looking to assign students "Incompletes" for their classes, i.e. Cosmetology.

Would the incomplete constitute an R2T4 since the student will no longer be attending the class for longer than 14 days? Incomplete grades for all classes may not be used as an alternative to considering a student to be withdrawn. The 14-day rule is not a factor here, as there is no doubt as to the last day of attendance and withdrawal date/date of determination. Institutions have 30 days from the date of determination to perform the calculation and 45 days to return funds. That clock begins as of the cessation of classes. It is possible to sort of "hold things in abeyance" for that time, but if classes do not resume, students must be considered withdrawn and funds returned. Assigning incomplete grades will not change this. It is far more practical to put all students on an approved LOA (that is, if the school fully expects classes to resume within 180 days). This provides far more flexibility, and our COVID-19 guidance allows schools to do this for all students even when classes are not being conducted.

4. A. If yes, this would be similar to how we handle an "F" grade, correct? So, the student would still have an "I" for their grade, but we would have to consider them withdrawn from the class because they would not be in attendance in the class for longer than a 14-day period. See above

4.B. If we are able to constitute an appropriate Leave of Absence for the student, I understand the student has 180 days to complete the assignment for the class. An approved LOA is not an incomplete. Accordingly, it is not a time period for students to finish work which they then turn in to have the period of enrollment considered complete. With an approved LOA, there is the presumption that the student come back at a certain point and resume classes at the point he or she left off. Thus the period of enrollment is competed. If the student does not return, he or she must be treated as a withdrawal. An LOA cannot be used to shorten the academic year or the length of classes. Would it be best to still assign the student an "I" in the course? If yes, in this situation, if the student has a legitimate leave of absence, the "I" grade would not be treated as a withdrawal. This is, of course, up to each institution. But it is important to bear in mind the purpose of an I grade. They are generally given where a student has completed, or very nearly completed, the entire class but has not fulfilled all academic requirements; perhaps a final remains to be taken or a paper turned in. If students cease attending all classes, they must be considered withdrawn. That is why an approved LOA is the better option for those schools that can use it.

5. I know the FWS community waiver for 2020-2021 waiver is open at this time and due by 4/20/2020. We, at Mayland CC, have been blessed with the opportunity to fill this position in years past and haven't required a waiver. However, I worry that given the current circumstances, if this will be more difficult this go around. I wonder, would it be possible that the deadline will be extended on the waiver until we can better know if this will become an issue for us? There is no extension at this time. It might be better to apply for the waiver. There is no problem if you do end up fulfilling the community service expenditure requirement.

   I know everyone is just trying to stay on top of 2019-2020 FWS at this time, but thought I would ask about this since the deadline is in April.

Thanks in advance for your assistance.

Hello Abbey,

How are you doing? I hope you are doing ok during these difficult and unusual circumstances we are facing as a nation. I want you to know that like all other CAMP programs across the country, MDC CAMP has moved to the remote environment and is continuing to deliver support services to our students in order to help them through these uncertain times. Our immediate focus in the short run is on retention strategies to keep them engaged in their education and to reduce their struggles with the disruption to their lives on all fronts.

I have a question for you: does the OME allow disaster pay to be billed to the grant? Since generally, only clocked hours worked can be billed to a grant, (but each grant varies and these are extenuating times), we wanted to know if this is allowable. If not, that is fine also. Please let me know.

Stay safe,
Barbara.

Subject: Guidance for SUNY System on changes in term structure

To Whom it May Concern:

SUNY is seeking clarification on some NASFAA guidance that was produced on changes in term structure. We have questions because the ED guidance was not particular clear on more granular details and scenarios and we want to ensure we are advising our entire system properly. Thank you for your attention to this. See below:

Changes in term structure (shortening spring 2020 semester)

Some campuses indicate they extended the 'Spring Break' for spring 2020 semester, which resulted in a shortening of the term. General guidance from NASFAA during their webinar on March 17th advised institutions that a reduction in term length below 15 weeks and below 30 weeks annually would require a campus to request approval from ED by contacting their participation team member. If approved, the campus would not need to recalculate for R2T4 for the Spring 202 semester. One campus noted that ED modified the requirement for a semester to allow for a 14 week semester. This campus also indicted they have a longer fall semester and when added to a 14 week spring semester the annual requirement would not fall below the annual requirement of 30 week.

The questions are:

- If a campus reduces the Spring 2020 semester below 15 weeks to 14 weeks and the annual weeks are below 30 weeks, do they need to request approval since the Revised Policy for Standard Term Length electronic announcement, https://ifap.ed.gov/electronic-announcements/110519RevisionGuidelinesApplicableStandardTerms, indicates semesters and trimesters may now be between 14 and 21 weeks of instruction?
- If a campus reduces the Spring 2020 semester below 15 weeks to 14 weeks and the annual weeks are equal to or greater than 30 weeks because they had a longer fall 2019 semester, do they need to request approval?

Hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

Kelly Hendricken

Good Afternoon:

As we face the Covid-19 pandemic, our federal grant program, Project Impact, is also faced with adversity and concern. Below is an email from Chief Batton of the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma implementing the closure of all administrative offices effective March 24.

Currently, we have been forced to cancel all face to face meetings with grant evaluators and rely solely by email and phone correspondence. Another obstacle we vision is the ability to accurately report financial data due to the accounting department work from home situation. As you may already know, the Oklahoma State Board of Education voted unanimously on Wednesday, March 25, to cancel all public schools for the remaining 2019-2020 school year. Our program has had to cancel numerous events and we are working tirelessly with our school district to provide adequate online instruction methods.

Thank you for your time, and we appreciate any and all consideration for an extension of the May 1 deadline for the Annual Performance Reports.

Due to the current situation, Choctaw Nation has had to identify positions as mission critical for the purposes of continuity of government and the protection of public health. All personnel not identified as mission critical are required to work from home effective tomorrow, March 24. Mission critical on-site personnel are still required to report to work locations. If you have questions about your position's classification, please contact your supervisor or executive director for specific guidance. Healthcare, public safety and associates required to support operations at Choctaw Nation Travel Plazas, Country Markets and Chili's are considered mission critical on-site personnel. We appreciate how the associates in mission critical positions support the infrastructure of our tribal government, community, state and nation. Your role in providing healthcare, food and other life essential items and services, supporting the transportation infrastructure (truck drivers and operators) and enabling continuity of government are imperative.

Choctaw Nation will be closing its administrative offices to the public on March 24 and encouraging tribal members to contact Member Services departments via phone, email or other distance communication methods. We will be prioritizing Healthcare, Emergency Services, Food Distribution, LIHEAP and other critical member services. Tribal members may expect interruptions and delays to some tribal services during this time.

If you are able to work from home, please continue to do so as you are supporting the continuity of tribal operations. If you are unable to perform your job function from home and are not considered a mission critical function during this time, the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma will continue to provide full pay and benefits through April 6. We will provide further updates in regards to pay, benefits, and the return to normal operations as we continue to monitor and evaluate this very fluid situation. We encourage all associates to maintain communication with their supervisor and official Choctaw Nation communication channels.

Good Afternoon:

As we face the Covid-19 pandemic, our federal grant program, Project Impact, is also faced with adversity and concern. Below is an email from Chief Batton of the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma implementing the closure of all administrative offices effective March 24.

Currently, we have been forced to cancel all face to face meetings with grant evaluators and rely solely by email and phone correspondence. Another obstacle we vision is the ability to accurately report financial data due to the accounting department work from home situation. As you may already know, the Oklahoma State Board of Education voted unanimously on Wednesday, March 25, to cancel all public schools for the remaining 2019-2020 school year. Our program has had to cancel numerous events and we are working tirelessly with our school district to provide adequate online instruction methods.

Thank you for your time, and we appreciate any and all consideration for an extension of the May 1 deadline for the Annual Performance Reports.

The person who wrote the email is from the financial aid office at LA Escuela Technica de Electricidad, (Electricity Technical School).

But the topic is more about distance learning for currently active students (even though they are currently on recess) and if students that were scheduled to start in April would be eligible to also participate, because of the flexibility that the Department has communicated.

Saludos,

Tengo una duda y deseo aclararla. La institucion para la que trabajo esta en recesso desde el 16 de marzo de 2020 hasta el 30 de marzo de 2020 y se podria extender. Es por esta razon que estamos trabajando un plan por si se extiende este periodo podamos ofrecer las clases a distancias para los grupos activos actualmente.Mi duda es en el caso de grupos nuevos que teniamos prograados para comenzar en el mes de abril esto es posible. Son estudiantes que su primer termino estaba pautado para este mes de abril y ellos no estan activos.Ya que en un comunicado del departamento indica que hay flexibilidad y deseo verificar. Muchas Gracias por la ayuda que puedan brindar.

Subject: Coronavirus and Eligibility/IEP timelines

Good afternoon,

I am a speech-language pathologist in a school system in Tennessee. Due to the Coronavirus we cannot return school until April 24th. I deeply care about the children I serve and I truly want what is best for them. At this time as special educators we are expected to uphold Eligibility/IEP timelines during these closures. I work at a very low income school and I am hesitant to want to contact my parents during this time. Many are facing unemployment and it seems petty to contact them about school services their child will not receive at the moment. I urge you to consider waiving these timelines until schools are in session. I say this with the utmost respect during these uncertain times. I realize you all have very difficult jobs and are navigating uncharted waters.

Best regards,

Amanda Glass M.S., CCC-SLP

Hello,

The answer to this question is not on your https://studentaid.gov/announcements-events/coronavirus website or in the FAQs on IFAP as far as I can see.

When the six month loan payment suspension period ends on Oct 1 2020, will a delinquent borrower who is currently X days past due still be X days past due, or will they be considered current on payments (ie, existing delinquency wiped out and zero days past due).

Thank you.

Hello,

Can NSLDS answer the question below? I was directed to you from FSA (but as you know your support line is all being routed to voicemail right now)

The current student loan monthly payment suspension is optional for active payers, but is automatic for any borrower who is currently delinquent, or becomes delinquent (31 days past due) during the 2 month period (or potentially a 6 month period pending legislation). So a borrower will not become more delinquent or default during that time, this is clear. But once the payment suspension period is over, will a delinquent borrower still have the same delinquency date? So if I am 300 days past due and my payments "freeze", will I still be 300 days past due when they unfreeze? In other words, this suspension does not wipe out existing delinquent amounts, correct?

Thanks,

Matt Coen

Good Morning Matt and Susan,

I have received a question from Puerto Rico-C about use of funds. I will review the information Kate has posted in the COVID-19 one notebook to see if I can find potential answers on my own. I'd like to run any potential reply past our fiscal team before I set up a call with Ana to discuss specifics.

I'm assuming we need more information such as:

1. what are the specific new tasks
2. which Part C personnel are involved in the tasks
3. how much money are they wanting to use
4. how do the tasks specifically support the needs of infants, toddlers and families in Part C
5. any anticipated impact on direct service delivery if funds are diverted

Anything else??

Good Morning Leslie,

As you know, the Puerto Rico Department of Health is working with the COVID-19 pandemic. Certain professionals are going to be asked to participate in teams as needs arise, such as epidemiologists, social workers, doctors, nurses, program evaluators and program coordinators. We have questions as to whether new tasks related to the public health emergency can be paid with Part C funds. Does OSEP have a guidance on what Part C funds can be used for in the times of the pandemic?

As always, I appreciate your continuous support.

I'm not sure the answer to this is known yet but it is something that has come up with the end of term fast approaching. Our school policy is that if a student stops attending at any point within the term that the instructor gives a grade of an F1 meaning they attended at least once and then did not return. If a student has all F1 grades they are considered an unofficial withdrawal and a R2T4 calculation is then processed at 50% of the term.

If a student is an unofficial withdrawal we have no way of knowing if this was due to COVID-19 or not, do we continue to process R2T4's on these students and then if they contact saying it was due to COVID-19 go back and reverse the adjustment?

Thank you in advance.

Subject: COVID-19 question that relates to grant S299B160027

Dear COVID-19 group,

I just got off the phone/Skype meeting with Angela regarding our upcoming Annual Report, and realized I have a question. I am one of the 2016 Grantees, and in this fiscal year we were scheduled, and had some funds attached, to hold a professional development conference that would feature our Indigenous Roots students' and other ROOTS graduate's in a University sponsored conference. This was one of the goals of our 2016 grant award, and it is reported in the APR. (We are also celebrating the 20th Anniversary of the Indigenous Roots Teacher Education program).

Our plans developed, and we ended up coordinating an all day "Indian Education for All" conference bringing together the University of Nebraska Lincoln College of Education - my college. - with the Winnebago Tribe. (We also got some additional SPENCER grant funds to support bringing elders, etc. to this gathering.) The current ROOTS students and graduates were presenting at the conference, about their experiences in a number of areas. The ROOTS students/graduates were involved in individual presentations in the morning session, and were leading discussion tables in the afternoon on a variety of topics. National experts in Indian Education for All were also presenting. We had invited people from across the state including the Nebraska Commissioner of Education, school administrators, teachers, professors, and all the graduates, current students to attend and present. The event was to take place April 13, 2020 in Winnebago. Last week this conference was cancelled/postponed. It was a perfect opportunity for professional development for ROOTS students and graduates (in any phase of the program) and for them to sit at the table, and become a part of the Indian Education for All discussion in our state.

The ROOTS grant included funds to pay for a fee and some travel, and of course there was extensive planning and coordination time required by the ROOTS staff to pull this off, with students and graduates coming to the conference from across the state and elsewhere. We were coordinating this event for most of this fiscal year, starting 10/1/2019 to the present. (The conference was also financially supported by the Winnebago Tribe, the Spencer grant, etc.)

The collaborators have talked about re-scheduling this conference to take place next fall or sometime next academic year on a day when there is professional development scheduled for teachers in Northeast Nebraska (Winnebago, Macy, Walthill, Santee and Niobrara) and other school districts. My question to you, would it be possible for these grant funds, including the staffing needs, to be carried over into the next fiscal year so that we might make this work in the 2020/2021 academic year? We would have to do this as part of our no-cost extensions since this is our 4th and final year. We did anticipate requesting a no-cost extension, so perhaps this could be a part of that?

I know I will have other COVID-19 grant questions related to individual students. Thank you for your consideration.

Best,

Subject: COVID-19-related inquiries

I received the following questions via emails. These were sent to me through Allen Pratt (allen-pratt@utc.edu) of the National Rural Education Association from two state-wide (though not affiliated with state government) organizations: 1) Margaret Buckhorn of Iowa School Finance Information Services and 2) ElRoy Burkle of North Dakota Small Organized Schools.

1. Many school districts in Iowa are continuing to pay staff during our schools COVID-19 shutdown, at least for the first four weeks, and will have to consider options if the shutdown is extended. The way school finance works in Iowa, however, districts will have to use general funds to pay for special education teachers and paras, if there isn't relief from documentation concerning the hours used to provide special education services.

   Schools remain concerned that hourly support staff in particular will search for other work or more affordable living circumstances and may not be available to return when school resumes if they have to live on reduced income levels from unemployment insurance, especially if the shutdown is extended. With many school districts budgeting in survival mode for the last several years, there just aren't sufficient local dollars to supplant the salaries of our special education staff. We need them to be ready to jump in and help make up for missed time and services when school resumes.

   Please consider allowing districts to flexibility use special education funds to continue to pay special education staff, which would include some short term relief from the regulations to document hours and services provided if employees are paid by schools for days of shutdown due to COVID-19.

2. Has the Title II carry over cap been removed?

Thanks,

Michael Chamberlain

Dear Ariel:

I hope this finds you well. I am attaching a starter list of questions related to what is amounting to a slow-down due to school closures and mandatory tele-work. I am sure these are coming in from everywhere, so no response is expected. I am just sharing so that they can be added to the list for consideration as we continue through the emergency.

In Maryland, the Governor and State Superintendent announced an additional four weeks of school closure through April 24. We are on mandatory telework until further notice.

We were able to proceed with the bulk of the monitoring last week, without school visits of course. I would hope that the monitors might be able to see schools in the fall if not sooner. At this point, I have the information from the office and through remote access to complete the APR and the WestEd data collection. The only possible glitch is if I need data from the state's finance system (which is not available to me remotely) that I did not print ahead I may make a note that I need to validate something when I get access. If there is any thought being given to flexibility around the deadline, let us know!

Take care,
Carol

Questions for USED:

Will the flexibilities listed in the guidance issued by OMB be applied to CSP grantees? To what extent?

The flexibilities described include continued payment of staff that are supported by the grant; and allowing some expenses as "losses", e.g. conference registrations or booked travel for meetings that are cancelled, if refunds are not available.

Grantees/SEs:

- Will there be an opportunity to review and revise program goals in light of delays linked to the COVID-19 emergency? For example, procurement of services necessary to complete some work of the grant will be delayed under Maryland's mandatory telework order.
- Can planned subgrant competitions be delayed?
- Will no-cost extensions be considered if delays in implementing the grant are attributable to the COVID-19 emergency?
- Can a staff person whose salary is supported by the grant continue to work with that salary charged to the grant? In Maryland, there is one recently hired specialist, who is supported by the grant. At present work is able to continue under the requirement for telework in Maryland.

Subgrantees:

- For active subgrantees, can the grantee extend the timeframe of the subgrant, if needed? In Maryland, the subgrantee grant performance period is capped at three years. If a school opening is delayed for an active subgrantee, can Maryland, extend the subgrant time period? In this example, a one-year extension would still result in a subgrantee's total subgrant period being under five years. However, the Planning Period might extend beyond 18 months.
- For active subgrantees, can the SE pause or "stop the clock" for the subgrantee project period timeline upon request? This would allow subgrantees to pause activities and expenditures.
- If the delays caused by the COVID-19 emergency result in additional, unanticipated costs, can the SE consider a supplemental subgrant to cover those, assuming a rigorous vetting for the reasons and assuring that proposed additional costs meet the requirements of the grant for allowable costs? Would any supplemental awards only be allowed if the subgrantee has not already received an award that is the maximum allowed (For 2017 SE grantees the subgrant maximum is $900,000)? Could the supplemental award be made if the total awarded to the subgrantee would exceed the maximum allowed?

Hello again,

In looking over your questions, one question under subgrantees that I can respond to is about pausing or "stopping the clock" for subgrantee project periods.

What you can do, as your application specifically limited implementation up to 36 months, is pause the subgrant and not count the time the grant is paused as part of the 36 months. So say a subgrant had 30 months of implementation, and you paused it, when un-paused the subgrantee could complete the remaining 6 months (as long as that all kept the grant within 60 months).

If you were to do this we advise all CSP subgrantees should be provided the same option to pause subgrant activities, the pause would be in effect the moment you communicated to them that no costs should be incurred during the time the subgrant is paused. This should be thoroughly documented and tracked in your files.

Best,

Ariel

Hi Carol,

We are working on an expedited waiver process and guidelines related to COVID and CSP that we will share with all grantees when we are able. Thank you for your questions as it will help us refine our next steps.

As for the APR, yes, I'm happy to grant an extension on the APR submission. Right now our preference is to set the new date to April 20th since need to have them completely final by the end of the month to make continuation awards. Is April 20th amenable to you for an extended FY19 APR submission deadline?

Best,

Ariel

Dear Ariel,

The MDE/PSA team have a few questions during the time that our schools are ordered shut down by the governor. We currently have some hard timelines for the subgrantees based on when they started their grant cycle and am concerned this three week shutdown may impact the execution of grant activities. Please let me know if you have any guidance or directives on this.

We are still conducting our peer review in April, but have moved to a virtual meeting to adhere to the state policy.

Good morning Tammy,

I've done some digging and I hope I have some helpful guidance for you. What you can do, as your application specifically limited implementation up to 24 months, is pause the subgrant and not count the time the grant is paused as part of the 24 months or 36 months. So say a subgrant had 21 months of implementation, and you paused it, when un-paused the subgrantee could complete the remaining 3 months (as long as that all kept the grant within 60 months).

If you were to do this we advise all CSP subgrantees should be provided the same option to pause subgrant activities, the pause would be in effect the moment you communicated to them that no costs should be incurred during the time the subgrant is paused. This should be thoroughly documented and tracked in your files.

Best,
Ariel

Thank you Ariel for this information. Our team will discuss how to move forward with this. WE have already been in contact with one subgrantee that had inquired about possibly putting their subgrant on pause.

An additional question relates to how a school may be eligible and be identified as high performing. With the preliminary waiver for statewide assessments, we will not have the three years of trend data to apply for expansion grants. Will we be able to modify the upcoming rounds to two years and then bypass the gap year? Any insight or guidance would be helpful. If possible, maybe Neil and I can have a conference call with you this week regarding this matter.

Assistant Secretary Frank Brogan
Office of Elementary and Secondary Education
United States Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, D.C. 20202

RE: Charter School Program Waiver Request
Section 5204 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act

Assistant Secretary Brogan:

The Tennessee Department of Education (TDOE) is seeking a waiver pursuant to Secretarial authority under Section 8401 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (20 U.S.C §7861) as the state continues to address both the COVID-19 outbreak and the state of emergency resulting from recent tornadoes across Tennessee. TDOE is seeking this waiver and additional accommodations to allow for the deployment of Charter School Program grant funds to assist charter schools in ensuring continued provision of academic and support services to students during and after the period of extended school closure and community recovery.

Time Period for Using CSP Grant Funds

Specifically, TDOE is requesting a waiver to extend the total period of availability for all remaining CSP grant funds to September 30, 2022. With extended school closures, this waiver would allow schools time and flexibility to reset and reevaluate how best to support students following the current crises.

Tennessee counties experienced seven EF3 and EF4 tornadoes on March 2 and 3 which destroyed numerous homes, schools, and lives—the second deadliest tornado outbreak in Tennessee history. We are continuing to support our district and school leaders in recovering from this natural disaster, and the impact on communities is significant. On March 3, Governor Bill Lee declared a state of emergency for this natural disaster.

While in this state of emergency, Tennessee continues to have a growing number of districts that have suspended classes over the past week with the number of confirmed cases of COVID-19 continuing to increase daily. Last week alone, schools serving over 50% of the state's 973,659 students have suspended classes. Yesterday, Governor Bill Lee announced that all public schools in Tennessee would close through the end of March—a decision that would be reevaluated and possibly extended later in the month. Districts and charter entities are working to develop and implement continuity of instruction plans; however, many of our largest urban and suburban districts, serving over 500,000 of Tennessee's students, also serve most of the state's highest poverty schools. Many of their students do not have appropriate access to technology in their homes, making instructional continuity more challenging. Further, all Tennessee charter schools are located within one of the state's four largest urban districts.

As noted above, the dual challenges of COVID-19 and tornadoes have significantly impacted the ability of the state's 115 charter schools to serve their nearly 40,000 students. Though nominally functioning under the supervisory auspices of a local LEA, these schools operate largely as independent entities with limited access to shared resources. The majority of the state's charter schools do not belong to a larger CMO, and even the largest CMO in the state solely consists of seven campuses. In this uniquely challenging context, it will be critical for charter schools to share resources and systems across geographic boundaries that will allow for continued provision of academic and support services to students and families.

Expansion of Definition of "Allowable Activities"

In light of the foregoing, Tennessee is requesting an expansion of the definition of "Allowable Activities" as specified in §5204(f)(3) to allow TDOE to employ grant funds specifically to ensure that Tennessee charter school students retain continued access to academic instruction throughout this period. Potential examples of permissible expenses under these revised criteria could include technology to be deployed directly to students, supplemental consumable curricular resources, software platforms that would allow for distance learning, supplies associated with preparation of instructional materials, and associated expenses.

In addition, Tennessee is seeking expansion of the definition of "Activities" as specified in §5204(f)(6)(b) to allow TDOE to employ grant funds specifically for the development of collaborative structures that will allow students across multiple affected schools continued access to academic instruction throughout this period. Potential examples of permissible expenses under these revised criteria could include virtual learning platforms serving students across multiple charter schools, shared curricular resources, or cross-utilized staff across schools.

Due to the evolving nature and scope of the current crises Tennessee is facing, we did not provide public notice prior to submission of this waiver request. We will actively communicate this request and provide appropriate follow-up communication with stakeholders.

Thank you for consideration of these requests. The waiver and expanded definitions will ensure that the TDOE is equipped to serve our charter schools in recovering from these crises. Please feel free to contact Judy Spencer, by telephone at (615) 253-5493 or at Judy.Spencer@tn.gov if there are questions regarding this request or if additional information is needed.

Robin Jacobs, from Ventura Unified School District in California (PR Award #: S060A190210), contacted PSC inquiring if SY 2019-20 awarded Title VI funds can be used to reimburse travel expenses for a cancelled conference due to COVIDE-19. The user writes:

> I am contacting you to confirm if reimbursing an Indian Ed parents for their travel expenses to join me in attending the California Conference of American Indian Education would be an allowable expense for us under our federal grant, even though the conference was cancelled. The original budget did include this expense.
> The problem comes in that the conference was canceled due to the Coronavirus and the money spent for the flight is causing a hardship for the family, who has lost work. The airline will not reimburse them. They purchased tickets through Southwest which now can only be used at a future date and are not transferable.
> Can we use our grant funds to reimburse them now to alleviate the financial pressure, assuming the conference will be rescheduled and the parent can attend at the future date?

Hello,

I saw federal guidance indicating that schools don't need to adjust COA (or adjust federal student aid eligibility) if they give a student an emergency grant to deal with costs related to COVD-19

Is this true?

Please advise.

Has there been guidance to provide students who were part way through their peace corps service and were sent home.
Will they qualify for a partial Perkins Cancellation based on how much of the year they served?
If they can go back to their Peace Corps position, can the new months served count toward the year of service that was partially completed (even though there will be a break in calendar days) ?
Thanks!

Aloha Joanne,

I hope all is well with you and the team there in DC as we are are here in Hawaii. I am emailing to find out if there is any guidance with respect to the administration of our program in the midst of the Covid-19.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The recommendations for social distancing at the local and federal levels have directly impacted our ability to implement our programs and events going forward for who knows how long. With talk of cancelling or postponing activities perhaps until August hits us hard as well. These are just some issues.

Will there be any information coming out from your office recommending how to proceed with our project in the midst of the Covid-19 crisis? Let me know.

Stay safe.

Hi Bryan,

We would appreciate guidance from OSEP as we consider the following requirements for data collection, reporting, and identifications:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Data collection and reporting via the SPP/APR:

1. How should we proceed with cyclical Indicator data collections (i.e., Indicators 8, 11, and 14) while schools are closed due to a public health emergency?
2. How should we proceed with respect to data collections outside of EdFacts (e.g., 7, 12, 13) while schools are closed due to a public health emergency?

Data collection and required annual identifications:

1. Some identifications require statewide comparisons (i.e., 4a and 4b) and we will not have consistent (if even required) data collected for SY19-20 due to the public health emergency declaration by Wisconsin's Governor. What guidance do you have for us related to analyzing such data?
2. LEA determinations rely on data that will not be collected during SY19-20 due to a public health emergency declared by the Wisconsin Governor. What guidance do you have for us in making annual determinations?

Thanks!

On another note, my Administration is concerned with the Department of Education's response as we move all programs in progress (that can be provided to our students in an online platform), online. Specifically, our Clock programs. Please accept the attached as a letter to request written approval of this move. We have worked quickly, but with diligence to meet DOE requirements for both delivery and attendance taking of Clock delivered online. It is our intent for this to be a temporary move, though our accrediting agency approves online coursework.

Re: GateWay Community College (00830300) – Request for Distance Learning Approval for Clock Hour Programs

GateWay Community College (00830300) ("GWCC"), as an institution within the statutory authority of the Department of Education ("DoE"), is required to comply with Title IV Higher Education Act (HEA) policies. In addition to credit-based courses, GWCC offers clock hour programs. Title IV provides the requirements for clock hour program eligibility, specific to attendance. As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic and the guidance provided by the CDC, the federal government, and state and local agencies, GWCC has moved all in-person instruction to online formats.

On March 5, 2020, the DoE, Office of Postsecondary Education, published the following guidance, in part:

> The Department is providing broad approval to institutions to use online technologies to accommodate students on a temporary basis, without going through the regular approval process of the Department. This flexibility only applies to a program during a payment period that overlaps the date of this electronic announcement (March 5 and updated on March 20) or the following payment period.

In light of this guidance, on behalf of GateWay Community College, I request written approval for GWCC to use online technologies to deliver clock hour instruction. To comply with attendance regulations, the College will develop a process by which instructors can:

1. Visually monitor and track all attendance using online technologies (Ex. Google Hangouts, WebEx, Canvas, etc.) for financial aid eligible programs
2. Complete daily rosters and submit rosters for validation using online technologies
3. Across programs, follow uniform expectations for maintaining compliance of attendance regulations

Please let me know if you require any additional information. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact me at terese.brown@gatewaycc.edu or 602.286.8009.

Respectfully Submitted,

Hi Steve,

The college is continuing to transition to a complete remote environment, most services will be restored by 03/30/2020.

As we transition, I have the following questions:

1.- MDC will be paying all employees, including all grant employees disaster relief. Does the HEP Grant covers disaster relieve, or it would only pay for actual worked hours?

2.- As we transition to work remotely, are there any restrictions regarding the ability or the amount of hours my FT staff, PT Instructor, or my self can continue to work offering remote classes, remote tutoring services, remote counseling sessions, and as many other additional services we are able to transition in the next few weeks. We are also working towards having all HEP registration forms available to our students in our website.

The HEP Program is very committed to continue to provide to our students with as many services as we can deliver remotely. I would appreciate your response to these questions, as they would affect how the institution processes payroll, and the services that we can continue to provide to our students.

Thank you,

Dear MDC Community,
We continue to work closely with state and local authorities and our District Board of Trustees to ensure the well-being of our students and employees, as well as the academic continuity that our students need. There are no current reports of known or suspected College employees having COVID-19. Rest assured that we are committed to keeping everyone safe and healthy within the MDC family and our community at large.
Our initial step was to cancel classes in order to have the space across all our campuses to ensure that students can stay home and avoid large groups and faculty and staff can maintain additional, precautionary social distance. As this situation is constantly changing, we feel that the current environment makes it necessary for us to escalate our preventative steps.
As a result, effective Tuesday, March 17, Miami Dade College will cease all on campus services as we transition to a primarily remote work environment. Employees who are deemed critical or essential will receive additional information from their supervisors before the close of business today. In addition, other employees may be requested to report onsite in order to ensure continuity of key support services for remote work and learning. All Faculty are expected to work remotely as they prepare for the potential of remote learning. We ask that they be in contact with their department chair on technology and other resource needs before close of business today. As everyone's health and safety remains our top priority, employees who are required to be physically present at MDC will coordinate with their immediate supervisors on plans to ensure social distancing. Our goal is for those onsite to limit in-person interactions and add physical distance whenever possible. Social distancing is currently the most important factor we can all practice to help slow down the COVID-19 outbreak.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We remind everyone that all classes remain canceled until March 29 and no assignments can be required during this period. This includes all face-to-face and online classes. During this time, MDC will continue its efforts to prepare for a transition to remote learning which we expect to begin onMarch 30. Also, all college-related activities, athletics, and events are canceled until further notice.

During these times of uncertainty, it is more important than ever that we work together as a College family. I appreciate everyone's patience and flexibility during this constantly changing situation. We will continue monitoring developments very closely and will provide updates as needed.

Hello Michael,

I hope this email finds you well. You and I had a chance to meet briefly this Fall at an event about Income Share Agreements where Debra Chromy introduced us. I can imagine your world is quite crazy right now which is why I very much appreciate you taking a moment to answer a quick question I have.

At Marymount, like all other Higher Education institutions, we are watching closely for guidance on the details about the student reimbursement requirements from the CARES Act. As I understand it, your office is the one that will be setting up these guidelines/requirements. Is that an accurate assessment?

If so, do you have any idea when institutions will receive the information?

We are specifically wanting to know if the housing and dining credits we have promised students who have vacated our facilities can be covered by the emergency student aid earmarked in the CARES Act.

Thanks in advance for any information you can share.

Hello Michael,

It was nice speaking with you and your colleague at the Life Capital DC event last week. Debra Chromy from the Education Finance Council introduced us briefly and she might have shared that I am the chief strategy officer at Marymount University in Arlington, VA.

Marymount began two ISA programs this year. One for "last mile" funding available to students who maintain a balance at graduation, thus limiting their access to their transcripts and diplomas. The second for financial hardship scenarios whereby students are referred to us because of some life circumstances that might otherwise inhibit their ability to continue at Marymount.

As the DOE explores the ISA landscape, we at Marymount are happy to assist in any way we can.

Have a great week.

Hi Jennifer,

Following up to see if there is any update on our question. As you know, New York has many COVID-19 cases and school closures may go on for some time.

Pasting our question here - thank you for your assistance and perspective. Apologies if FAQs have been issued that cover this - it has been quite a week!

Thank you, Connie

Question from NY -

Can children who have not yet been determined to be Part B eligible (because of school closures) remain in EI past their third birthday during the COVID-19 emergency?

We anticipate that the current declared state of emergency will not resolve quickly. Depending on what happens with the schools and whether children can return this spring, we would likely want to have the ability to serve children in EI until Part B preschool is up and running and actual Part B determinations can be made (even on a case by case basis) or the end of the current school year (6/30/20), whichever comes first.

Subject: NY - Technical Assistance Question - COVID-19

Jennifer –

Good morning. NY is in need of technical assistance for this question:

Can children who have not yet been determined to be Part B eligible (because of school closures) remain in EI past their third birthday during the COVID-19 emergency?

We anticipate that the current declared state of emergency will not resolve quickly. Depending on what happens with the schools and whether children can return this spring, we would likely want to have the ability to serve children in EI until Part B preschool is up and running and actual Part B determinations can be made (even on a case by case basis) or the end of the current school year (6/30/20), whichever comes first.

Copying my Part B colleague, Suzanne Bolling, from the NY State Education Department. Suzanne – please add anything I missed here.

Thank you very much,

Connie

Subject: NYCP Grants

Hello,
I am the Director of a NYCP Grant for the Lumbee Tribe of NC.
We have a US Department Education, OIE, NYCP grant. Our grant programs are all designed to provide opportunities for students. With school out in our state until May I would like to know if the US Dept of Ed. has had any discussion in relation to the Office of Indian Education grants that will address the grant funding and APR deadlines.
Our grantee office staff and staff employed by the grant are all working from home and access to documents and information is limited at this time. All programming has been cancelled except summer programs.
We are very concerned at this time about how this will present problems for our grant funding.
Thanks for any assistance you can provide with guidance on what we need to do.

Could you please clarify the obligations of schools and districts to provide for remote IEP meetings during school closure when the school is providing educational services? I am hearing from some families that they are being told IEP meetings cannot be conducted online and they are not being provided with any alternatives to in person meetings.

Dear Ms. Devos,

Many families have been put in a very hard position during a very rough time period.

I'd like to specifically shine a light on the fact that Oregon Department of Education states that it's not equitable to get all kids online so will only be providing ungraded, supplemental education until school resumes.

Even worse, many children on an IEP, with speech and occupational therapy have not been contacted, minimally given instructions to the parents keep their child advancing. This is the true equity issue.

There are many school districts in Oregon that have thought outside of the box and are able to go online with instructional time and continue their education. Oregon Department of Education is saying they cannot do that for many districts.

Oregon Department of Ed also cancelled any family from switching to online as of March 26th only because they're concerned about their funding. They've also informed online schools that they need to provide supplemental education. *I've been told that this is not legal.

I have reviewed the laws under FAPE and this set-up does not conform to those laws.

Why are so many states going online but it's not feasible in Oregon?

I am writing to you as a last resort since it seems ODE and the Governor's office appear to either be in a very tough situation or are not acting fast enough and making fair and accurate decisions for the minority and majority of students.

Can your office help?

Greetings Charlie and Danny-

I hope you are doing well and are safe and healthy.

It is starting to look like schools in Michigan will be closed for the rest of the year, much like other states. The virus has hit our state exceptionally hard, especially those in Detroit. Our Governor should be making a statement in the next few days.

I am wondering if you have or know of any additional guidance that we can use to guide potential service while programs have been closed to in-person contact and we don't have wide guidance to the field on virtual early intervention services (Medicaid does allow it and they have accessible information on their site). I pulled all I could off the ECTA site today and some seems promising, yet there is still some conflicting information out there. ECTA seems to be compiling what other states are doing, but don't have much direct guidance. If you have anything that we might be able to use or adapt for Michigan, or direct folks to, we would really like to have solid guidance to help support the field.

We did send a survey to the field to get an understanding of what they are doing and what supports would be needed if ramping up to virtual services needs to happen. The survey closes on Tuesday. I have had several ISDs tell me that less than 1/3 of their families have technology, access to internet, and/or knowledge to use electronic platforms. This need will be hard to support with existing Part C and 54d funds. I have also had many service area staff inform me that their staff are not equipped to do virtual visits from their home. In rural Michigan, even the availability of having hotspots is useless since there is no available signal in their area. Conversely, a few ISDs have indicated that they are building their virtual support system. I am guessing that Michigan is not alone and think that guidance from OSEP would be extremely helpful- I have been checking the OSEP page daily.

I thank you again for your help and patience!

Subject: Question Regarding IDEA Part B Funds During School Closures

Good afternoon Susan –

I have read all of the available guidance/fact sheets regarding the applicability of Federal IDEA funds during the school closures due to COVID19. We have a question here in San Diego that is not covered specifically in the guidance, and I was wondering if you could help us with it.

We are following the directive to continue paying for Non-Public Agency services during this time even though all of our schools in the county are shut down. In the circumstance where services, such as 1:1 aides or interpreter, cannot be used while the schools are closed, we are working with the agencies to continue paying without receiving the services. Our understanding with them is that when schools re-open, we will want the services provided at that time for no cost. We are "pre-paying" for the services to get everyone through this time of school closure.

We have had questions as to whether or not we can use the IDEA Part B federal monies to do this pre-payment. Under the latest Question and Answer guidance (https://www2.ed.gov/policy/speced/guid/idea/memosdcltrs/qa-covid-19-03-12-2020.pdf), question number 6 for IDEA Part B seems to imply that a pre-payment would be acceptable. "…funds may be used for activities that directly relate to providing, and ensuring the continuity of, special education and related services to children with disabilities." This could be interpreted to mean that pre-payments would be ensuring the continuity of services for our special education students when the schools re-open by guaranteeing that services can begin immediately.

Can our districts continue to use Federal IDEA Part B funds to pre-pay for Non-Public Agency services during the school closures for COVID19?

Thanks so much,

Hi Josiah. It would be helpful to get guidance regarding situations where the parent has not agreed to the changes in special education services or does not want the services. Does the district continue to seek agreement and during that time do they continue to offer the services and see if the parent accepts.

Good afternoon Chartise,

I am looking for some guidance for the following scenarios:

1. For our Distance Learning students who are spread out all across the country, is there any guidance regarding leniency for those students who are selected for V4 and V5 verification groups, but are unable to access a notary for the identity and statement of educational purpose portions because either the institutions that offer a notary service are closed or the student lives in an area that is under a shelter at home order all due to the COVID 19 crisis?
2. For students who need to submit a copy of a valid ID, but have an expired ID, is there any guidance regarding leniency with us accepting an expired ID due to Governors across the country closing all non-essential state offices to include the BMV and giving anyone who needs to renew their ID an extension?

Thank you in advance for your assistance during this unprecedented event.

To whom it may concern:

Talofa from American Samoa Part C,

I hope this email finds you well. I am writing to seek your guidance regarding our programs potential protocols during the Covid-19 pandemic outbreak in accordance to our public health and safety guidance from our local government. I have attached here supporting documents for your review. Effective today, our government has declared a Code Blue (please see Declaration of a state of Emergency attached). Just a brief update from our end with Covid-19. As of today, we do not know if we have any confirmed cases. Our tiny island lack medical supplies, medical personnel, quarantine facilities, and other equipment to combat the virus in the event that we get a confirmed case. Unfortunately, our borders are still open. Schools and daycares officially closed today and all mass gatherings have been discouraged until further notice. I will keep you posted with any further information.

For American Samoa Part C program, our proposed service protocols during the Covid-19 outbreak is as follows:

1. Face to face services will be on hold immediately until further notice.
2. Kids on the 45 Day Deadline queue who have not completed intake process will be placed on monitor for 2 months pending coronavirus all clear. Family will be contacted earlier than 2 months to resume services should our island be declared Covid-19 free.
3. If child has been IFSP'd. services will be conducted via zoom and/or phone call unless family opts to hold services for now.

Please advise if these protocols would be appropriate in response to the Covid-19 outbreak. I'll be open to any suggestions or feed back. Please let me know if you need to discuss this further or might need additional information from my end.

DECLARATION OF CONTINUED PUBLIC HEALTH EMERGENCY AND STATE OF EMERGENCY FOR COVID-19

WHEREAS, the Office of the Governor and the Department of Health remain prepared to take all necessary measures to protect the health and welfare of residents of American Samoa; and

WHEREAS, the measles outbreak has ended as of March 9, 2020 and the containment measures have proved effective; and

WHEREAS, while measles related restrictions will be lifted, the efforts must now focus on preventing, containing, and responding to the imminent threat posed by the Novel Coronavirus ("covid-19") pandemic; and

WHEREAS, covid-19 is an infectious disease caused by a new virus that had not been previously identified in humans which causes respiratory illness (like the flu) with symptoms such as a cough, fever and in more severe cases, pneumonia and is spread primarily through contact with an infected person when they cough or sneeze, or through droplets of saliva or discharge from the nose; and

WHEREAS, no vaccine or cure for covid-19 currently exists; and

WHEREAS, the exponential speed at which the coronavirus is being propagated throughout the world is aided by carriers who are asymptomatic and the only surefire method of identifying these purveyors of the coronavirus is through testing and, yet, tests administered in the States and some of the U.S. Territories have been very limited due Test-Kit shortages; and

WHEREAS, as of March 18, 2020, 7,048 confirmed cases of coronavirus in the United States and Territories with 116 registered deaths reported since the COVID-19 Declaration was promulgated and eight (8) weeks since the COVID-19 was declared in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the most vulnerable sector of the population is predominantly within the elderly population, particularly those with underlying and chronic health conditions such as blood disorders, chronic kidney disease, chronic liver disease, cancer, recent pregnancy in the last two weeks, endocrine disorders (e.g. diabetes mellitus), metabolic disorders, heart disease, lung disease including asthma or chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (chronic bronchitis or emphysema) or other chronic conditions associated with impaired lung function or that require home oxygen, and neurological, and neurodevelopment conditions (including disorders of the brain, spinal cord, peripheral nerve, and muscle such as cerebral palsy, epilepsy, stroke, intellectual dystrophy or spinal cord injury; and

WHEREAS, inordinate challenges expose the Territory of American Samoa to epic vulnerabilities subjecting all its residents to unprecedented health, economic, and social risks being remotely located in the South Pacific with Hawaii the nearest United States Jurisdiction 2,300 miles Northeast with connectivity provided solely by Hawaiian Airlines' two flights weekly along with a weekly Cargo flight; and

WHEREAS, American Samoa's total healthcare service delivery infrastructure is comprised of one acute care hospital and four (4) district health clinics with its operating capacity already being exceeded thus precipitating unparalleled fear over its potential collapse if the spread of the covid-19 mirrors the experience of some of the States; and

WHEREAS, our only acute care hospital, Lyndon Baines Johnson Tropical Medical Center, lacks the physical capacity to appropriately respond to epidemics and pandemics must now divert operating resources to address this emergency need thus causing the potential for medication and health supply shortages and expanding the scope of the health catastrophe; and

WHEREAS, the exclusion of the Territory of American Samoa from receiving test-kits which would empower our clinicians to test symptomatic residents and obtain results in real time cripples our efforts to prevent the spread and rendering immediate treatment to those with severe cases thereby improving health outcomes; and

WHEREAS, our healthcare professionals lack access to clinical and diagnostic tools to reasonably confirm positive coronavirus cases thereby triggering immediate healthcare protocols to ensure positive health outcomes for these individuals, and now must resort to an unacceptably long coronavirus confirmation process which prolongs the period of uncertainty, public panic, and compelling actions which might be deemed excessive; and

WHEREAS, the World Health Organization has declared covid-19 a global public health emergency; and

WHEREAS, President Trump declared a National Emergency Concerning Covid-19 on March 11, 2020; and

WHEREAS, the federal government has imposed travel restrictions nationwide and local governments have instituted "social-distancing" policies including shutting down schools and bars and requiring home isolation of vulnerable populations; and

WHEREAS, the rapid spread of covid-19 and the lack of a vaccine or cure creates an imminent threat of outbreak here in American Samoa; and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

WHEREAS, previous declarations have been issued for covid-19, the situation necessitates an updated and continued response from ASG in order to protect the health of our people; and

WHEREAS, this declaration extends to the entire geographic area of the Territory; and

WHEREAS, the imminent threat of outbreak in American Samoa constitutes a disaster justifying a continued state of emergency and activating all resources necessary to combat the spread of covid-19; and

WHEREAS, this declaration is a continuation of previous declarations and fully incorporates the facts set forth in those prior declarations with regard to covid-19; and THEREFORE, I, Lolo M. Moliga, Governor of American Samoa, declare a continued public health emergency under ASCA 13.0301 et seq. and a state of emergency under ASCA 26.0101 et seq. for covid-19. The Emergency Operations Center shall continue to be activated to coordinate response efforts.

Honorable David Bernhardt
Secretary

Washington D.C. 20204

Dear Secretary Bernhardt:

As our Nation struggles to ease the mounting precipitated anguish and fear perpetrated by the escalated spread of the coronavirus in the continental United States and possibly the Territories, we are comforted by the aggressive and bold leadership posture being adopted by President Trump, Vice President Mike Pence and federal leaders reflected in the actions being implemented along with availing financial resources to facilitate the implementation of States and Territories' mitigation strategies to prevent, contain, treat, and improve the health outcomes for all Americans infected by the Coronavirus.

We appreciate the Weekly Briefings conducted by Vice President Mike Pence and the Federal Coronavirus Task Force, as it gives us Governors the opportunity to receive real-time information on the current actions being implemented along with the chance to ask questions and to seek support. We thank you for your leadership and your leadership team in the Department of the Interior and especially the Office of Insular and International Affairs for ensuring that the needs of the territories are not neglected.

Subsequent to my letter to you on March 9, 2020, I am very pleased to submit for your consideration and hopefully your favorable review of the Territory of American Samoa's Response and Action Plan aimed to prevent the spread through aggressive surveillance, monitoring, tracking, isolation, and quarantine of suspected individuals; setting protocols for effective treatment of confirmed cases; comprehensive implementation of our community awareness, community outreach, community education, presenting our financial proposal for funds to empower us to fully implement our mitigation strategy; and our economic development impact assessment of the fiscal repercussions consequential to the coronavirus health storm.

American Samoa is highly vulnerable because our current healthcare service delivery system grossly lacks the capacity to address the healthcare fallout from epidemics and pandemics. The incidence of accelerated spread of the coronavirus is also very high because of our social structure and cultural edicts which discourages social distancing. There is great fear that our healthcare service delivery system could collapse if the projections and estimates on the percentage of people who will be infected in any community hold true. There is only one hospital in American Samoa and the nearest U.S. Healthcare institution is Hawaii 2,300 miles away, but then given the highly contagious nature of the coronavirus travel might not be a viable option.

In light of these logistical challenges, American Samoa needs to access tools to allow it to determine the degree and level of infection to guide effective implementation of our mitigation strategies, advisories, and guidance. The recommended primary detection measure is TESTING. Regrettably, the Territory of American Samoa is not on the list for Test-Kits distribution. I earnestly implore your intervention in this issue because of the obvious impact on the efficacy of our mitigation and treatment plans.

Our dependency status on imports (95% consumables & 100% healthcare supplies) also adds to our great susceptibility, thus we appreciate the current sensitivity of the federal leaders in the efforts to keep the supply chains open. While this poses another layer of threat to the spread of the coronavirus, the challenge lies in striking a balance between these opposing issues. This will be our challenge as we try to find an acceptable medium to ensure that the health issue will not contribute to the social and economic collapse and does not compromise our ultimate objective of saving lives.

The final component of the Response and Action Plan is the economic assessment of the effect of the coronavirus' fiscal impact on American Samoa's economy with implications on our future prospects and the reciprocal consequences to the American Samoa Government's financial capacity.

We recognize that the major source of public distress stems from the perspective of the unknown and lacking access to information on the nature of the coronavirus and the appropriate actions they must take to prevent being infected. Thus, we have included in our media strategy to get the information out to our people.

Our experience gained from combating the Measles Outbreak with our containment protocols still in place has given us a head start in our fight to prevent and contain the spread of the coronavirus although there is still so much uncertainty surround this pandemic relative to its very nature.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The American Samoa's Territorial Wide Response and Action Plan is prepared to clearly outline the required protocols, guidance, and advisories to combat the entry, prevent community spread, and provide the most effective treatment for those infected by the Coronavirus.

As of March 12, 2020, no case of coronavirus has been detected, reported, or confirmed. Thus, while our ultimate desire is to prevent the entry of the coronavirus into our territory supported by the aggressive prevention protocols which have been declared and implemented, American Samoa's Territorial Wide Response and Action Plan is fashioned assuming the posture that the coronavirus has already reached our shores. This perspective has been adopted to forge the assessment of our healthcare infrastructure capacity whether it can respond efficaciously in mitigating the effects of the coronavirus on our people, our community, our economy, and our society.

Moreover, the Territory of American Samoa is located 2,300 miles Southeast of Hawaii which is the nearest U.S. Jurisdiction, and 5,000 miles to the West Coast of the United States Continental. This remote characteristic presents many difficult challenges which compel us to be as self-sufficient as possible and practical. Susceptibility to surface and air transportation is significant heightening our vulnerability and dependence on Hawaii and other states of the Union for assistance as 95% of our consumables and 100% of our medications are imported. The cost differentia of consumables and medication compared to the States is high shrinking our purchasing capacity.

Prompt detection of the coronavirus through the testing is vital to the determination of subsequent protocols to be implemented. The lapsed time between conducting the test and receiving results is paramount. With American Samoa's remote location, it is imperative that testing must be conducted on-site to provide preliminary indication as to the status of the person tested. American Samoa is the last territory that has not been issued Test-Kits, thus immediate detection is impossible. The LBJ Tropical Medical Center has CLIA certification hence it should be accorded the privilege to conduct these tests which by current protocols these tests will be sent to Hawaii for analysis. The response time is set at a minimum of 3 days turn-around. These three (3) days or more are critical as it could translate to more people being infected.

The assessment of our healthcare infrastructural system revealed major deficiencies in our capacity to effectively respond to epidemics and pandemics. Healthcare facilities were built to deliver standard health care services not contagious in nature. Additionally, special supplies, equipment, medication are limited given the rarity of epidemics. Consequently, epidemic related supplies and medication must now be specially ordered and stockpiled to avoid unnecessary interruption or delay in rendering services. Special isolation and quarantine facilities must now be built as current infrastructural configuration didn't account for the needs or to handle epidemics or pandemics.

Although we have embraced the attitude that the coronavirus has reached our shores, we acknowledge the plain fact that the most effective response to prevent the community spread of the coronavirus rests with each resident by practicing and adhering to the common-sense hygiene regimen. Public awareness, community outreach, and education is vital to empowering all residents of American Samoa to take ownership of their individual responsibility to prevent the spread of the coronavirus.

Financial resources are critically needed to finance all the planned tasks, activities, construction of facilities, purchase of equipment, supplies, COVID-19 test kits, and recruitment of additional healthcare professions to help alleviate the load assumed by regular physicians, nurses, technicians and all support functions of the LBJ Tropical Medical Center and the Department of Health. The territory has been combating the measles epidemic which exhausted its financial resources crippling it from availing financial resources to accommodate the demands of the coronavirus pandemic.

In light of the growing economic fallout, consequential to actions taken to address the coronavirus, an economic impact assessment has been conducted to estimate the financial and economic damages sustained by the Territory of American Samoa. Clearly, American Samoa is significantly affected and it will take years to recover.

The American Samoa's Territorial Wide Response and Action Plan provides details on the prevention, screening, monitoring, tracing, and isolation protocols. Treatment protocols are also clearly articulated. Advisories and Guidance on special groups have also been defined and incorporated. Community Awareness, Community Outreach, and Community Education Campaign is provided. It also presents the financial proposal outlining the anticipated expenditures which will be incurred in the implementation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Current Situation

An outbreak of a new coronavirus disease in 2019 (COVID-19) that began in Wuhan, China has been developing since December 2019. This outbreak now includes tens of thousands of infections in China and thousands of confirmed cases in a number of other countries, including hundreds in the United States.

As of 8:00 AM, March 12, 2020 there have been 1,215 total cases detected in 42 states and the District of Columbia. This represents an increase of 792 cases in the past 3 days. Among the identified cases to-date, 125 have been travel-related, 102 were from person-to-person spread, and 988 are still under investigation. An additional 49 cases have been identified among persons repatriated (brought back to the US from abroad) by the US government from Wuhan, China or the Diamond Princess Cruise Ship. There have been 36 total deaths.

Impact to American Samoa

As of March 12, 2020, the Territory of American Samoa has no confirmed Covid-19 case, nor anyone is being quarantined for suspected possible infected by the Covid-19. While this is deemed to be a blessing or a reflection of the aggressive actions being implemented by the American Samoa Government to preempt the entry of the virus, we have adopted the posture that the inevitable will happen given the heightened risk connected with travel emanating from states which have been infected by the COVID-19 which have large Samoan Communities.

Based on our belief that the inevitable will indeed happen the American Samoa Government is now assessing the sufficiency of its capacity to effectively and competently respond positively to any outbreak of the coronavirus in American Samoa.

To provide needed oversight to ensure that real time, practical, and functionable information and recommendations are developed and presented for executive decision on the course of actions to be pursued to combat the COVID-19, the American Samoa Coronavirus Task Force has been established to assume this responsibility. All major agencies of the American Samoa Government are made members of the American Samoa Coronavirus Task Force (ASCTF).

To support the work of the ASCTF, the Coronavirus Working Group (CWG) is also establish to provide staffing support to conducted need research on best practices in terms of effectiveness are being adopted by States and Territories are available for consideration and possible replication by our local strategies. The CWG will also provide secretariat functions to speed the work of the ASCTF. We have also compelled our D.C. based consultants and lobbyists to ensure that the needs of the Territory of American Samoa are clearly and aggressively articulate to the Congress, the White House, CDC, and the DHHS. General Memorandum No. 135 is included in the Appendix Section of the Response & Action Plan.

The anticipated impact in American Samoa will be overwhelming on our health and economic fallout which is already being felt although no confirmed Coronavirus case has been detected. The primary and immediate impact is on the territory healthcare infrastructure and systems.

a. Medical personnel

DOH and LBJ reshuffle personnel to meet the demand of recent measles outbreak mass vaccination. The shortage of healthcare profession to assist in emergency response while maintaining normal health care operations, presents the need to recruit and hire more physicians and nurses, and to compensate personnel involved in emergency response.

The healthcare professionals are already stretched beyond acceptable standards promulgated by CDC given that many healthcare professionals are working very long hours which certainly impact the quality of the service being provided. LBJ Tropical Medical Center is being financially burdened by chronic overtime given the shortage in nurses. The same is prevalent at the Emergency Room of the only Acute Care Facility on island.

b. Medical Facilities

The Territory of American Samoa lacks the appropriate facilities to quarantine and to treat those infected by the Coronavirus. LBJ currently does not have the capacity to effectively isolate and treat infected patients without presenting unacceptable risks to non-COVID-19 patients. While LBJ is struggling to make room to accommodate COVID-19 patients the probability of propagation is still high. The ideal option is not to place COVID-19 patients in close proximity to the patient population. Accordingly, LBJ is renovating the Behavioral Health Center to cater to the isolation and treatment of the COVID-19. Patients. The cost of this work is projected in the financial section of the Response & Action Plan.

The Department of Health (DOH) is solely assume the responsibility of isolation, monitoring, and caring for infected patients. This quarantine facility was setup to address isolation of suspected measles patients. The capacity is limited to 10 which is deemed grossly inadequate to accommodate the expected spread of the COVID-19 upon confirmation of one person. New facilities are being renovated to address the anticipate growth in the number suspected COVID-19. A new facility is being constructed specifically for isolation and quarantining of suspected COVID-19 cases. The cost of these infrastructural hardening activities is reflected in our funding request.

c. Medical Supplies

As of this writing, American Samoa has not been given Test-Kits to facilitate the immediate determination of the infected status of a suspected individual exhibiting the COVID-19 Symptoms. This is crucial as American Samoa is remotely located with Hawaii as the nearest U.S. Health facility 2,300 miles away. We lack the healthcare facilities to accommodate everyone with COVID-19 symptoms given that our borders are open for travel from the United States by U.S. passport holder, U.S. Nationals, and residents of American Samoa recognizing the CDC travel advisory.

Protective gowns are critically needed to protect the healthcare professionals and first responders. CDC approved masks are needed as well for the healthcare givers, first responders, and the general public desiring to use masks.

Equipment are needed particularly those addressing the respiratory issues, laboratory equipment for testing and preliminary diagnosis, obtainment of specimens, handling, and transportation of the same to U.S. designate labs for COVID-19 analysis.

Standard medical supplies are needs as well to ensure maintenance of a sufficient stock to sustain our healthcare response to combat the coronavirus. The cost of facilities, equipment, masks, gowns, and supplies are reflected in the financial request section.

Current Challenges:

The geographic location of the Territory of American Samoa creates severe logistical challenges which magnify operational issues exacerbating the status of healthcare infrastructural platform, human resources capacity and capability, operating supplies, financial resources, position within the Pacific Region, status within the federal family hierarchy, and the uniqueness of the cultural setting which ongoing family gatherings.

American Samoa's COVID-19 Response & Action Plan

The Response & Action Plan content contains protocols and advisories recommended by the Department of Health, LBJ Tropical Medical Center, Medicaid Office, Department of Education, American Samoa Community College, Department of Human and Social Services. Territorial Administration on Aging, the Department of Public Works, Department of Youth and Women, Department of Treasury, Department of Human Resources, Department of Local Government, Office Planning and Budget, Office of Procurement, Office of Public Information, American Samoa Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Legal Affairs, Department of Port/Airport Administration, Department of Commerce, and the Veterans Administration Health Clinic in American Samoa.

The approval of this Response & Action Plan by the Governor and the Lieutenant Governor will provide guidance to the entire territory regard steps to take to preempt being infected by the Coronavirus. Judicious note should be taken that these protocols and advisories will change as the status of the Coronavirus evolves as the entire situation is currently very fluid with continuing metamorphosing. Any changes or amendments to the articulate protocols will be clearly articulated to the entire community.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

While focus on building the healthcare capacity to respond effectively and positively to curb the spread of the coronavirus, equal attention is placed on developing and implementing a community awareness and educational campaign to empower all the residents of American Samoa to be vigilant and diligent in adopting all hygiene advisories presented in this Response & Action Plan.

I. Prevention, Surveillance, Monitoring, Detection, Testing, & Quarantine Protocols:

The success of the prevention of the Novel Coronavirus stems from the enforcement of the situational changing "DOH Travel Advisory" under the authority vested through the Governor's Public Health Emergency declaration and the Title 13 Health Economics Welfare Services, Chapter 2 American Samoa Emergency Health Powers Act, 13.0215.

All Personnel involved in the following procedures will adhere to Prevention and Control measures and PPE Protocols as outlined by the Isolation and Quarantine Plan.

1. Basic Epidemiology:

Infectious Agent

The 2019 Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) is a virus (more specifically, a coronavirus) identified as the cause of an outbreak of respiratory illness first detected in Wuhan, China.

Transmission

Studies have been conducted to determine the transmission of COVID-19. The studies suggest that the most likely modes of transmission for COVID-19 are droplet and direct person-to-person contact. However, there is evidence that indirect contact and aerosol spread also exist. It also possible that COVID-19 spread from ill people to others through close contact, such as caring for or living with an infected person. Infected people have spread COVID-19 to others in healthcare settings, such as hospitals.

Incubation Period

The incubation period of a novel coronavirus causing severe acute respiratory disease depends on the type of novel coronavirus. The incubation period for COVID-19 is still under study but it is estimated to be 2 to 14 days with a median of 5 to 6 days.

Communicability

The period of communicability for the COVID-19 is not completely understood. For SARS-CoV, epidemiologic and virologic studies and clinical follow-up during the 2003 epidemic indicated that transmission does not occur before the onset of clinical signs and symptoms and the maximum period of communicability is less than 21 days. The period of communicability of COVID-19 is unknown.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Clinical Illness

The novel coronavirus, COVID-19, can cause acute respiratory illness. For confirmed COVID-19 infections, reported illnesses have ranged from infected people with little to no symptoms, to people being severely ill and dying. Symptoms may include: Fever, Cough, Shortness of breath

2. Definitions;

Case definitions for the COVID-19 continues to evolve as clinical and epidemiologic information on these virus changes. Please refer to the novel coronavirus information on CDC's website for the most recent definitions. The CDC COVID-19 case definitions may be found here: https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/COVID-19/clinical-criteria.html.

Clinical Case Definition

Limited data on the clinical presentation of COVID-19 are available; most published clinical information to date is from critically ill patients. At hospital admission, common signs and symptoms include fever, chills/rigors, headache, non-productive cough, dyspnea and myalgia. Other symptoms can include sore throat, coryza, sputum production, dizziness, nausea and vomiting, diarrhea and abdominal pain. Atypical presentations including mild respiratory illness without fever and diarrheal illness preceding development of pneumonia have been reported.

Laboratory Confirmation

- Identification of a novel coronavirus that is different from currently circulating human coronavirus as confirmed by CDC's laboratory, by public health laboratories using CDC-approved protocols for a specific novel strain or by labs using an FDA-approved test for a specific novel strain.
- Confirmatory laboratory testing requires a positive PCR on at least two specific genomic targets or a single positive target with sequencing on a second.
- Other laboratory confirmation criteria may be defined by CDC for the specific novel coronavirus.

Case Classifications

- Confirmed: A confirmed case is a person with laboratory confirmation of COVID-19 infection.
- Probable: A probable case is a Patient Under Investigation (PUI) with absent or inconclusive laboratory results for COVID-19 infection who is a close contact of a laboratory-confirmed COVID-19 case. Examples of laboratory results that may be considered inconclusive include a positive test on a single PCR target, a positive test with an assay that has limited performance data available, or a negative test on an inadequate specimen.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Suspect (Patient Under Investigation [PUI]): A person who has both clinical features and an epidemiologic risk should be considered a Patient Under Investigation (PUI) based on one of the following scenarios:

- Fever AND pneumonia or acute respiratory distress syndrome (based on clinical or radiological evidence) AND EITHER:

  - A history of travel from countries with known COVID-19 (China, Korea, Japan, Thailand, Philippines, and US) within 14 days before symptom onset,

    OR

  - Close contact with a symptomatic traveler who developed fever and acute respiratory illness (not necessarily pneumonia) within 14 days after traveling from countries mentioned above, OR

  - A member of a cluster of patients with severe acute respiratory illness (e.g., fever and pneumonia requiring hospitalization) of unknown etiology in which COVID-19 is being evaluated, in consultation with state and local health department, OR

- Fever AND symptoms of respiratory illness (not necessarily pneumonia; e.g., cough, shortness of breath) AND a history of being in a healthcare facility (as a patient, worker or visitor) within 14 days before symptom onset in a country or territory in or near in which recent healthcare-associated cases of COVID-19 have been identified.

- Fever OR symptoms of respiratory illness (not necessarily pneumonia, e.g., cough, shortness of breath) AND close contact with a confirmed MERS case while the case was ill.

3. SURVELANCE AND CASE INVESTIGATION

Case Investigation

Local and regional health departments should investigate all reports of novel coronavirus including COVID-19. Investigations should include an interview of the case or surrogate to obtain a detailed exposure history. The current investigation form is in Appendix 1. Completion of a more detailed investigation form may be required for probable or confirmed cases or in the event of an outbreak or other special situation. This more detailed investigation form will be provided by ASDOH, if needed.

Suspect (Patient Under Investigation [PUI]) Case Investigation Checklist

- Any suspected novel coronavirus case should be investigated immediately.

- Ensure that appropriate control measures have been implemented (see Prevention and Control Measures, below).

- Determine whether the patient meets the case definition.

  - Obtain medical records, interview the suspected case-patient or surrogate and interview the patient's healthcare provider.

- Notify ASDOH immediately of suspect (PUI) cases of COVID-19.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Collect and ship specimens Hawaii State Laboratory
    - Inform the testing laboratory by calling Hawaii State Epidemiologist and Hawaii Currier.
    - Note: Only persons who meet case definition or have been approved by the ASDOH Epidemiologist will be tested for COVID-19.

Confirmed/Probable Case Investigation Checklist

- Any confirmed or probable novel coronavirus cases should be investigated immediately.
- Ensure that appropriate control measures have been implemented (see Prevention and Control Measures, below).
- Confirm that laboratory results (if available) meet the case definition.
- For confirmed cases, verify that the laboratory that performed the confirmatory testing is a public health laboratory using CDC-approved protocols for a specific novel strain.
- For probable cases, verify that epidemiologic linkages meet the case definition.
- Notify ASDOH Epidemiologist immediately of probable or confirmed cases of COVID-19.
- For probable cases, collect and ship specimens to the CDC laboratory
- Complete the AMS COVID-19 Investigation Form using medical records and by interviewing the case-patient or surrogate to identify close contacts, risk factors, and other pertinent information. Completion of a more detailed investigation form may be required and will be provided by ASDOH, if needed.
- Identify close contacts and determine if secondary cases have occurred.
    - See the Contact Tracing section below.
    - Inform CDC immediately if the case-patient traveled via airplane while symptomatic.
- Be prepared to enhance surveillance in the local area for respiratory illnesses and respiratory viruses, if requested by CDC.
- Refer to the Public Health Preparedness, Surveillance, and Response Plan for American Samoa for a list of responsibilities by department and program area, and for action triggers.
- If applicable, complete the steps in the Managing Special Situations section.
  Fax or send by secure email the novel coronavirus-specific PUI Form and other investigation forms (if provided) to CDC EOC. The PUI form must be faxed or securely emailed to CDC within 48 hours of testing.

Prevention and Control Measures

Prevention and control guidelines for COVID-19 are subject to change as disease knowledge evolves. Please refer to the CDC websites provided below for the most recent recommendations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Healthcare Facilities and Healthcare Personnel

Please see "Interim Infection Prevention and Control Recommendations for Hospitalized Patients with COVID-19 available at https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/COVID-19/clinical-criteria.html

Infection Control Recommendations

Minimize Chance for Exposures

Ensure facility policies and practices are in place to minimize exposures to respiratory pathogens including COVID-19. Measures should be implemented before patient arrival, upon arrival, and throughout the duration of the affected patient's presence in the healthcare setting.

Before Arrival

- When scheduling appointments, instruct patients and persons who accompany them to call ahead or inform LBJ ER upon arrival if they have symptoms of any respiratory infection (e.g., cough, runny nose, fever) and to take appropriate preventive actions (e.g., wear a facemask upon entry to contain cough, follow triage procedure).

Upon Arrival and During the Visit

- Take steps to ensure all persons with symptoms of a respiratory infection adhere to respiratory hygiene and cough etiquette, hand hygiene, and triage procedures throughout the duration of the visit. Consider posting visual alerts (e.g., signs, posters) at the entrance and in strategic places (e.g., waiting areas, elevators, cafeterias) to provide patients and Health Care Providers with instructions (in appropriate languages) about hand hygiene, respiratory hygiene, and cough etiquette. Instructions should include how to use facemasks or tissues to cover nose and mouth when coughing or sneezing, to dispose of tissues and contaminated items in waste receptacles, and how and when to perform hand hygiene.

- Provide space and encourage persons with symptoms of respiratory infections to sit as far away from others as possible. If available, facilities may wish to place these patients in a separate area while waiting for care.

- Ensure rapid triage and isolation of patients who might have COVID-19 infection

  - Identify patients at risk for having COVID-19 infection before or immediately upon arrival to the hospital

    Implement triage procedures to detect patients at risk for having COVID-19 infections during or before patient triage or registration (e.g., at the time of patient check-in) and ensure that all patients are asked about the presence of symptoms of a respiratory infection and history of travel to areas experiencing transmission of COVID-19 or contact with possible COVID-19 patients. See the "Interim Guidance for Healthcare Professionals" (https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/COVID-19/clinical-criteria.html) for which patients to evaluate for COVID-19.

  - Immediately isolate those identified as at risk for having COVID-19 infection Implement Respiratory Hygiene and Cough Etiquette (i.e., placing a facemask over the patient's nose and mouth) and isolate those at risk for COVID-19 infection in an Airborne Infection Isolation Room (AIIR). See recommendations for "Patient Placement" below.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Provide supplies to perform hand hygiene to all patients upon arrival to facility (e.g., at entrances of facility, waiting rooms, at patient check-in) and throughout the entire duration of the visit to the healthcare setting.

Ensure Adherence to Standard, Contact and Airborne Precautions

Standard precautions assume that every person is potentially infected or colonized with a pathogen that could be transmitted in the healthcare setting. Elements of standard precautions that apply to patients with respiratory infections, including those caused by COVID-19 are summarized below. Attention should be paid to training and proper donning, doffing and disposal of any personal protective equipment. All aspects of standard precautions (e.g., injection safety) are not emphasized in this document but can be found in the guideline titled Guideline for Isolation Precautions: Preventing Transmission of Infectious Agents in Healthcare Settings. All Health Care Providers who enter the room of a patient with suspected or confirmed COVID-19 should adhere to Standard, Contact, and Airborne precautions, including the following:

- Gloves
  - Put on clean, non-sterile gloves upon entry into the patient room or care area. Change gloves if they become torn or heavily contaminated.
  - Remove and discard gloves immediately upon leaving the patient room or care area. Please see section below on "Using More than one Kind of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)" for recommended sequence of PPE removal.

- Gowns
  - Put on a clean disposable gown upon entry into the patient room or area. Change the gown if it becomes soiled. Remove and discard the gown immediately upon leaving the patient room or care area.

Hand Hygiene

- HCP should perform hand hygiene before and after all patient contact, contact with potentially infectious material, and before putting on and upon removal of PPE, including gloves. Hand hygiene in healthcare settings can be performed by washing with soap and water or using alcohol-based hand rubs. If hands are visibly soiled, use soap and water, not alcohol-based hand rubs.

- Healthcare facilities should ensure that facilities and supplies for performing hand hygiene are readily available to all personnel.

Personal Protective Equipment

Employers should select appropriate PPE and provide it to workers in accordance with OSHA's PPE standards (29 CFR 1910 Subpart I). Workers must receive training on and demonstrate an understanding of when to use PPE; what PPE is necessary; how to properly don (put on), use, doff (take off) PPE; how to properly dispose of or disinfect and maintain PPE; and the limitations of PPE. Any reusable PPE must be properly cleaned, decontaminated, and maintained after and between uses.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Respiratory Protection
  - Use respiratory protection (i.e., a respirator) that is at least as protective as a fit-tested NIOSH-certified disposable N95 filtering facepiece respirator upon entry to the patient room or care area.
  - The respirator should be the last part of the PPE ensemble to be removed. If reusable respirators are used, they must be cleaned and disinfected according to manufacturer's reprocessing instructions prior to re-use. If disposable respirators are used, they should be removed and discarded after leaving the patient room or care area and closing the door.
  - Respirator use must be in the context of a complete respiratory protection program in accordance with Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) Respiratory Protection standard (29 CFR 1910.134). Staff should be medically cleared and fit-tested if using respirators with tight-fitting facepieces (e.g., a NIOSH-certified disposable N95) and trained in the proper use of respirators, safe removal and disposal, and medical contraindications to respirator use.
- Eye Protection
  - Put on eye protection (e.g., a disposable face shield) upon entry to the patient room or care area. Remove and discard eye protection immediately upon leaving the patient room or care area. Reusable eye protection (e.g., goggles) must be cleaned and disinfected according to manufacturer's reprocessing instructions prior to re-use.
- Using More than one Kind of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)
  - Different types of PPE are used together to prevent multiple routes of transmission.
  - The following sequence is a general approach to putting on this PPE combination for respiratory pathogens: first gown; then respirator; then goggles or face shield; then gloves.
  - The following sequence is a general approach to removing PPE for respiratory pathogens: first gloves; then goggles or face shield; then gown; then respirator.
  - Except for respirator, remove PPE at doorway or in anteroom. Remove respirator after leaving patient room and closing door.
  - Careful attention should be given to prevent contamination of clothing and skin during the process of removing PPE.
  - Perform hand hygiene as described above immediately before putting on and after removing all PPE.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Patient Placement

- Place a patient who might be infected with COVID-19 in an Airborne Infection Isolation Room (AIIR) that has been constructed and maintained in accordance with current guidelines.

    - AIIRs are single patient rooms at negative pressure relative to the surrounding areas, and with a minimum of 6 air changes per hour (12 air changes per hour are recommended for new construction or renovation). Air from these rooms should be exhausted directly to the outside or be filtered through a high-efficiency particulate air (HEPA) filter before recirculation. Room doors should be kept closed except when entering or leaving the room, and entry and exit should be minimized. Facilities should monitor and document the proper negative-pressure function of these rooms.

    - If an AIIR is not available, the patient should be transferred as soon as is feasible to a facility where an AIIR is available. Pending transfer, place a facemask on the patient and isolate him/her in an examination room with the door closed. The patient should not be placed in any room where room exhaust is recirculated without high-efficiency particulate air (HEPA) filtration.

- Once in an AIIR, the patient's facemask may be removed; the facemask should remain on if the patient is not in an AIIR. Limit transport and movement of the patient outside of the AIIR to medically-essential purposes. When outside of the AIIR, patients should wear a facemask to contain secretions.

- Only essential personnel should enter the AIIR. Implement staffing policies to minimize the number of HCP who enter the room.

    - Facilities should consider caring for these patients with dedicated HCP to minimize risk of transmission and exposure to other patients and other HCP.

- Facilities should keep a log of all persons who care for OR enter the rooms or care area of these patients.

- Once the patient vacates a room, unprotected individuals, including HCP, should not be allowed in that room until sufficient time has elapsed for enough air changes to remove potentially infectious particles. More information on clearance rates under differing ventilation conditions is available here: http://www.cdc.gov/mmwr/preview/mmwrhtml/rr5417a1.htm?s_cid=rr5417a1_e%20-%20tab1. In addition, the room should undergo appropriate cleaning and surface disinfection before unprotected individuals are allowed to reenter it.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Duration of Infection Control Precautions

- At this time, information is lacking to definitively determine a recommended duration for keeping patients in isolation precautions.
- Duration of precautions should be determined on a case-by-case basis, in conjunction with local, state, and federal health authorities.
- Factors that should be considered include: presence of symptoms related to COVID-19, date symptoms resolved, other conditions that would require specific precautions (e.g., tuberculosis, Clostridium difficile) and available laboratory information.

Manage Visitor Access and Movement Within the Facility

Establish procedures for monitoring, managing and training visitors.

All visitors should follow respiratory hygiene and cough etiquette precautions while in the common areas of the facility.

Restrict visitors from entering the COVID-19 patient's room. Facilities can consider exceptions based on end-of-life situations or when a visitor is essential for the patient's emotional well-being and care.

Visitors who have been in contact with the patient before and during hospitalization are a possible source of COVID-19 for other patients, visitors, and staff.

Visitors to COVID-19 patients should be scheduled and controlled to allow for:

- Screening visitors for symptoms of acute respiratory illness before entering the hospital.
- Facilities should evaluate risk to the health of the visitor (e.g., visitor might have underlying illness putting them at higher risk for COVID-19) and ability to comply with precautions.
- Facilities should provide instruction, before visitors enter patients' rooms, on hand hygiene, limiting surfaces touched, and use of PPE according to current facility policy while in the patient's room.
- Facilities should maintain a record (e.g., log book) of all visitors who enter patient rooms.
- Visitors should not be present during aerosol-generating procedures.
- Visitors should be instructed to limit their movement within the facility.

Exposed visitors (e.g., contact with symptomatic COVID-19 patient prior to admission) should be advised to report any signs and symptoms of acute illness to their health care provider for a period of at least 14 days after the last known exposure to the sick patient.

Implement Engineering Controls

Consider designing and installing engineering controls to reduce or eliminate exposures by shielding HCP and other patients from infected individuals. Examples of engineering controls include physical barriers or partitions to guide patients through triage areas, curtains between patients in shared areas, closed suctioning systems for airway suctioning for intubated patients, as well as appropriate air-handling systems (with appropriate directionality, filtration, exchange rate, etc.) that are installed and properly maintained.

Monitor and Manage Ill and Exposed Healthcare Personnel

Health Care Providers who care for patients with COVID-19 should be monitored. They should immediately report any signs (e.g., fever) or symptoms (e.g., cough, shortness of breath) of acute illness to their supervisor or a facility designated person (e.g., occupational health services) for a period of 14 days after the last known contact with a COVID-19 patient, regardless of their use of PPE.

Interim Guidelines for Collecting, Handling, and Testing Clinical Specimens from Patients Under Investigation (PUIs) for 2019 Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19)

- At this time, diagnostic testing for COVID-19 will be conducted at Hawaii State Lab.
- ASDOH will immediately notify Hawaii State Epidemiologist and CDC Regional Officer to report the PUI and determine whether testing for COVID-19 at Hawaii State Lab is indicated.
- Specimen Type and Priority. To increase the likelihood of detecting infection, CDC recommends:
  - Collection of three specimen types: lower respiratory, upper respiratory and serum specimens for testing is recommended.
  - If possible, additional specimen types (e.g., stool, urine) should be collected and should be stored initially until decision is made by CDC whether additional specimen sources should be tested.
  - Specimens should be collected as soon as possible once a PUI is identified regardless of symptom onset. Maintain proper infection control when collecting specimens.

General Guidelines

Store specimens at 2-8°C and ship overnight to CDC on ice pack. Label each specimen container with the patient's ID number (e.g., medical record number), unique specimen ID (e.g., laboratory requisition number), specimen type (e.g., serum) and the date the sample was collected. Complete a CDC Form 50.34 for each specimen submitted. In the upper left box of the form, 1) for test requested select "Respiratory virus molecular detection (non-influenza) CDC-10401" and 2) for At CDC, bring to the attention of enter "Stephen Lindstrom: COVID-19 PUI".

Respiratory Specimens

Lower respiratory tract

- Bronchoalveolar lavage, tracheal aspirate.
  - Collect 2-3 mL into a sterile, leak-proof, screw-cap sputum collection cup or sterile dry container. Refrigerate specimen at 2-8°C and ship overnight to CDC on ice pack.
- Sputum

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Have the patient rinse the mouth with water and then expectorate deep cough sputum directly into a sterile, leak-proof, screw-cap sputum collection cup or sterile dry container. Refrigerate specimen at 2-8°C and ship overnight to CDC on ice pack.

Upper respiratory tract

- Nasopharyngeal swab AND oropharyngeal swab (NP/OP swab)
  - Use only synthetic fiber swabs with plastic shafts. Do not use calcium alginate swabs or swabs with wooden shafts, as they may contain substances that inactivate some viruses and inhibit PCR testing. Place swabs immediately into sterile tubes containing 2-3 ml of viral transport media. NP and OP specimens should be kept in separate vials. Refrigerate specimen at 2-8°C and ship overnight to CDC on ice pack.
  - Nasopharyngeal swab: Insert a swab into the nostril parallel to the palate. Leave the swab in place for a few seconds to absorb secretions. Swab both nasopharyngeal areas with the same swab.
  - Oropharyngeal swab (e.g., throat swab): Swab the posterior pharynx, avoiding the tongue.
- Nasopharyngeal wash/aspirate or nasal aspirate
  - Collect 2-3 mL into a sterile, leak-proof, screw-cap sputum collection cup or sterile dry container. Refrigerate specimen at 2-8°C and ship overnight to CDC on ice pack.

Serum

Minimum volume required:

- Children and adults: Collect 1 tube (5-10 mL) of whole blood in a serum separator tube.
- Infant: A minimum of 1 mL of whole blood is needed for testing pediatric patients. If possible, collect 1 mL in a serum separator tube.

Serum separator tubes should be stored upright for at least 30 minutes, and then centrifuged at 1000–1300 relative centrifugal force (RCF) for 10 minutes before removing the serum and placing it in a separate sterile tube for shipping (such as a cryovial). Refrigerate the serum specimen at 2-8°C and ship overnight to CDC on ice-pack.

Shipping

- Specimens PUI's must be packaged, shipped, and transported according to the current edition of the International Air Transport Association (IATA) Dangerous Goods Regulations external icon.
- Store specimens at 2-8°C and ship overnight to Hawaii State Lab on ice pack. If a specimen is frozen at -70°C ship overnight to Hawaii State Lab on dry ice.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Additional useful and detailed information on packing, shipping, and transporting specimens can be found at Interim Laboratory Biosafety Guidelines for Handling and Processing Specimens Associated with 2019 Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19).

Recommended Prevention Steps for Confirmed Coronavirus Individuals:

The following prevention steps are recommended for people confirmed to have COVID-19 infection who can receive care at home and do not need to be hospitalized for medical reasons; people being evaluated by a healthcare provider for COVID-19 infection; caregivers and household members of a person confirmed to have, or being evaluated for, COVID-19 infection; and other people who have had close contact with a person confirmed to have, or being evaluated for, COVID-19 infection:

Note: If you are confirmed to have, or being evaluated for, COVID-19 infection you should follow the prevention steps below until a healthcare provider or local or state health department says you can return to your normal activities.

Stay home

- You should restrict activities outside your home, except for getting medical care. Do not go to work, school, or public areas, and do not use public transportation or taxis.

Separate yourself from other people in your home

- As much as possible, you should stay in a different room from other people in your home. Also, you should use a separate bathroom, if available.

Call ahead before visiting your doctor

- Before your medical appointment, call the healthcare provider and tell him or her that you have, or are being evaluated for, COVID-19 infection. This will help the healthcare provider's office take steps to keep other people from getting infected.

Wear a facemask

- You should wear a facemask when you are in the same room with other people and when you visit a healthcare provider. If you cannot wear a facemask, the people who live with you should wear one while they are in the same room with you.

Cover your coughs and sneezes

- Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue when you cough or sneeze, or you can cough or sneeze into your sleeve. Throw used tissues in a lined trash can, and immediately wash your hands with soap and water.

Wash your hands

- Wash your hands often and thoroughly with soap and water. You can use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer if soap and water are not available and if your hands are not visibly dirty. Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.

Avoid sharing household items

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- You should not share dishes, drinking glasses, cups, eating utensils, towels, bedding, or other items with other people in your home. After using these items, you should wash them thoroughly with soap and water.

Monitor your symptoms

Seek prompt medical attention if your illness is worsening (e.g., difficulty breathing). Before going to your medical appointment, call the healthcare provider and tell him or her that you have, or are being evaluated for, COVID-19 infection. This will help the healthcare provider's office take steps to keep other people from getting infected. Ask your healthcare provider to call the local or state health department.

Protocols for Contract Tracing:

For all confirmed and probable cases of novel coronavirus infection, contact tracing for close contacts (see CDC's close contact definition below) is required. In addition, because COVID-19 and other novel coronaviruses are not fully understood, ASDOH may request that contact tracing activities for confirmed and probable cases include healthcare workers who were wearing recommended PPE but otherwise meet the definition of close contact.

The extent of follow-up required for close contacts of confirmed or probable cases may depend on the number of cases identified, the severity of illness or interest from public health leaders or media. Contract tracing requirements may cease in specific situations (e.g., in the case of an ongoing pandemic), as specified by ASDOH.

Contact tracing

- Contact tracing should be done for all probable and confirmed cases.
- Complete the ASDOH Respiratory Disease Contact Tracking and provide a copy to ASDOH
- Advise contacts of signs and symptoms of illness, and refer them to their healthcare providers if they experience any symptoms compatible with novel coronavirus infection within 14 days of their last contact with the confirmed or probable case.
    - Advise ill close contacts to call ahead prior to visiting their healthcare provider and inform their healthcare provider about recent contact with a confirmed or probable case.
    - Close contacts with respiratory or other compatible symptoms should be tested for novel coronavirus.
- Close contacts should be actively monitored for symptoms of novel coronavirus infection for a minimum of 14 days after last contact with the confirmed/probable case (i.e., follow-up should be performed at regular intervals).
- Collect serum specimens or other laboratory specimens on asymptomatic close contacts, when requested (See Laboratory Procedures section)
- Provide close contacts with a disease fact sheet, if available.

Close contacts definition for COVID-19:
Close contact is defined as a) being within approximately 6 feet (2 meters), or within the room or care area, of a confirmed COVID-19 case for a prolonged period of time (such as caring for, living with, visiting, or sharing a healthcare waiting area or room with, a confirmed COVID-19 case) while not wearing recommended personal protective equipment or PPE (e.g., gowns, gloves, NIOSH-certified disposable N95 respirator, eye protection); or b) having direct contact with infectious secretions of a confirmed COVID-19 case (e.g., being coughed on) while not wearing recommended personal protective equipment (i.e., gowns, gloves, respirator, eye protection).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Data to inform the definition of close contact are limited; considerations when assessing close contact include the duration of exposure (e.g., longer exposure time likely increases exposure risk) and the clinical symptoms of the person with COVID-19 (e.g., coughing likely increases exposure risk). At this time, transient interactions, such as walking by a person with COVID-19, are not thought to constitute an exposure; however, final determination should be made in consultation with public health authorities.

Protocols to Manage Special Situations:

Clusters of Patients with Severe Acute Respiratory Illness

- Clusters of patients with severe acute respiratory illness (e.g., fever and pneumonia requiring hospitalization) without recognized links to a case of COVID-19 infection or to travelers from countries in or near the Arabian Peninsula should be evaluated for common respiratory pathogens.
- If the illnesses remain unexplained, providers should consider testing for COVID-19, in consultation with state and local health departments.
- In accordance with the World Health Organization's guidance for COVID-19, a cluster is defined as two or more persons with onset of symptoms within the same 14 days period, and who are associated with a specific setting such as a classroom, workplace, household, extended family, hospital, other residential institution, military barracks or recreational camp.
- If a cluster of patients with severe acute respiratory illness is identified, notify Command Post immediately at (684) 633-5871 or (684) 633-5872.

Multiple Cases/Outbreaks of Novel Coronavirus

If there is more than one case of novel coronavirus in a household, local area or facility, or an outbreak is suspected, notify Command Post immediately at (684) 633-5871 or (684) 633-5872.

The ASDOH EpiNet Teams will:

- Investigate common exposures among the cases and work with any identified facilities or entities.
- Recommend appropriate control measures for the specific entity or setting.
- Perform contact tracing and monitoring for close contacts of confirmed/probable cases.
- Collect specimens from close contacts, if requested.
- Encourage persons with compatible symptoms to be evaluated by a healthcare provider.
- Alert all healthcare providers in the area to be cognizant of possible cases and encourage immediate reporting of suspected cases.
- Collect and ship specimens on all suspected or probable cases to the Hawaii State Lab laboratory or another public health laboratory qualified to perform novel coronavirus testing using CDC-approved protocols for a specific novel strain.
- Enhance respiratory virus surveillance (e.g., case reporting and laboratory testing) in the facility or in a defined geographic area (depending on the specific outbreak situation)

Specimen Collection

Please see https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/COVID-19/guidelines-clinical-specimens.html for the most up-to-date guidelines.

Specimen Type and Priority

To date, little is known about pathogenic potential and transmission dynamics of COVID-19. To increase the likelihood of detecting infection, CDC recommends collecting multiple specimens from different sites at different times after symptom onset, if possible.

Points to consider when determining which specimen types to collect from a patient under investigation for COVID-19 include:

- The number of days between specimen collection and symptom onset
- Symptoms at the time of specimen collection

Additional points to consider:

- Maintain proper infection control when collecting specimens
- Use approved collection methods and equipment when collecting specimens
- Handle, store, and ship specimens following appropriate protocols

Collection of all three specimen types (not just one or two of the three)—lower respiratory, upper respiratory and serum specimens—for testing using the CDC COVID-19 rRT-PCR assay is recommended. Lower respiratory specimens are preferred, but collecting nasopharyngeal and oropharyngeal (NP/OP) specimens, and serum, is strongly recommended depending upon the length of time between symptom onset and specimen collection. Respiratory specimens should be collected as soon as possible after symptoms begin – ideally within 7 days. However, if more than a week has passed since symptom onset and the patient is still symptomatic, respiratory samples should still be collected, especially lower respiratory specimens since respiratory viruses can still be detected by rRT-PCR. For example,

- If symptom onset for a PUI with respiratory symptoms was less than 14 days ago, a single serum specimen (see Serum section, below), an NP/OP specimen, and a lower respiratory specimen (see Respiratory Specimens section, below) should be collected for CDC MERS rRT-PCR testing at an authorized state or local public health laboratory.
- If symptom onset for a PUI with an ongoing respiratory tract infection (especially a lower respiratory tract infection) was 14 or more days ago, a single serum specimen for serologic testing at CDC (see Serum section, below) in addition to a lower respiratory specimen and an NP/OP specimen (see Respiratory Specimens section, below) are recommended.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

General Guidelines

For short periods (≤ 72 hours), most specimens should be held at 2-8°C rather than frozen. For delays exceeding 72 hours, freeze specimens at -70°C as soon as possible after collection (with exceptions noted below). Label each specimen container with the patient's ID number, specimen type and the date the sample was collected.

Respiratory Specimens

A. Lower respiratory tract

Bronchoalveolar lavage, tracheal aspirate, or pleural fluid

- Collect 2-3 mL into a sterile, leak-proof, screw-cap sputum collection cup or sterile dry container.
- Refrigerate specimen at 2-8°C if the specimen will arrive at the testing laboratory within 72 hours of collection; if exceeding 72 hours, freeze at -70°C and ship on dry ice.

Sputum

- Have the patient rinse his/her mouth with water and then expectorate (deep cough) sputum directly into a sterile, leak-proof, screw-cap sputum collection cup or sterile dry container.
- Refrigerate specimen at 2-8°C if the specimen will arrive at the testing laboratory within 72 hours of collection; if exceeding 72 hours, freeze at -70°C and ship on dry ice.

B. Upper respiratory tract

Nasopharyngeal AND oropharyngeal swabs (NP/OP swabs)

- Collection of both nasopharyngeal and oropharyngeal swabs, or a combined NP/OP specimen, is recommended.
- Use only synthetic fiber swabs with plastic shafts. Do not use calcium alginate swabs or swabs with wooden shafts, as they may contain substances that inactivate some viruses and inhibit PCR testing.
- Collection technique
  - Nasopharyngeal swabs: Insert a swab into the nostril parallel to the palate. Leave the swab in place for a few seconds to absorb secretions. Swab both nasopharyngeal areas.
  - Oropharyngeal swabs: Swab the posterior pharynx, avoiding the tongue.
- Place swabs immediately into sterile tubes containing 2-3 ml of viral transport media. NP/OP specimens can be combined, placing both swabs in the same vial.
- Refrigerate specimen at 2-8°C if the specimen will arrive at the testing laboratory within 72 hours of collection; if exceeding 72 hours, freeze at -70°C and ship on dry ice.

Nasopharyngeal wash/aspirate or nasal aspirates

- Collect 2-3 mL into a sterile, leak-proof, screw-cap sputum collection cup or sterile dry container.
- Refrigerate specimen at 2-8°C if the specimen will arrive at the testing laboratory within 72 hours of collection; if exceeding 72 hours, freeze at -70°C and ship on dry ice.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

C. Serum

Serum (for serologic testing at CDC) [Note: Use this serum guidance if the only serum specimen available would be collected 14 or more days after illness onset]

- Because we do not want to delay detection of COVID-19 infection and since the prevalence of COVID-19 in the US is low, serologic testing on a single serum sample collected 14 or more days after symptom onset may still be beneficial. This is in contrast to serologic testing for many other respiratory pathogens which require collection and testing of acute and convalescent serum specimens. Serologic testing is currently available at CDC upon request and approval. Please be aware that the COVID-19 serologic test is for research/surveillance purposes and not for diagnostic purposes - it is a tool developed in response to the COVID-19outbreak. Contact CDC's Emergency Operations Center (EOC) (770-488-7100) for consultation and approval if serologic testing is being considered.

☐ Serum (for rRT-PCR testing at authorized state or local public health lab) [Note: Use this serum guidance for specimens collected during the first two weeks of the patient's illness onset]

- For rRT-PCR testing (i.e., detection of the virus and not antibodies), a single serum specimen collected optimally during the first 10-12 days after symptom onset is recommended. Note: The kinetics of COVID-19 are not well understood. Once additional data become available, these recommendations will be updated as needed.
- The minimum amount of serum required for COVID-19 testing (either serologic or rRT-PCR) is 200 µL. If both COVID-19 serology and rRT-PCR tests are planned, the minimum amount of serum required is 400 µL (200 µL for each test). Serum separator tubes should be stored upright for at least 30 minutes, and then centrifuged at 1000–1300 relative centrifugal force (RCF) for 10 minutes before removing the serum and placing it in a separate sterile tube for shipping (such as a cryovial). Refrigerate the serum specimen at 2-8°C and ship on ice-pack; freezing and shipment of serum on dry ice is permissible.
- Children and adults
  - Collect 1 tube (5-10 mL) of whole blood in a serum separator tube.
- Infants
  - A minimum of 1 mL of whole blood is needed for testing pediatric patients.
  - If possible, collect 1 mL in a serum separator tube.

II. Protocols, Advisories and Guidance for Isolation and Treatment:

PURPOSE:

To prevent potential healthcare associated infection (HAI) transmission of COVID-19 to patients, staff or visitor.

Background:

Coronaviruses are common in many different species of animals, including camels and bats. Rarely, these coronaviruses can evolve and infect humans and then spread between humans.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Recent examples of this include Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS-CoV) and Middle East Respiratory Syndrome (MERS-CoV).

Most coronaviruses infect animals, but not people. In the future, one or more of these other coronaviruses could potentially evolve and spread to humans, as has happened in the past. We still don't understand why only certain coronaviruses are able to infect people. https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/index.html (Jan 26,2020)

2019 Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) is a virus (more specifically, a coronavirus) identified as the cause of an outbreak of respiratory illness first detected in Wuhan, China. Early on, many of the patients in the outbreak in Wuhan, China reportedly had some link to a large seafood and animal market, suggesting animal-to-person spread. However, a growing number of patients reportedly have not had exposure to animal markets, indicating person-to-person spread is occurring.

At this time, it's unclear how easily or sustainably this virus is spreading between people. Chinese officials report that sustained person-to-person spread in the community is occurring in China. Person-to-person spread in the United States has not yet been detected, but it's likely to occur to some extent. Cases in healthcare settings, like hospitals, may also occur.

DEFINITIONS:

Case Definitions for COVID-19

1. Severe acute respiratory infection (SARI) in a person, with history of fever and cough requiring admission to hospital, with no other etiology that fully explains the clinical presentation (clinicians should also be alert to the possibility of atypical presentations in patients who are immunocompromised);

   AND any of the following:
   a) A history of travel to Wuhan, Hubei Province China in the 14 days prior to symptom onset; or
   b) the disease occurs in a health care worker who has been working in an environment where patients with severe acute respiratory infections are being cared for, without regard to place of residence or history of travel; or
   c) the person develops an unusual or unexpected clinical course, especially sudden deterioration despite appropriate treatment, without regard to place of residence or history of travel, even if another etiology has been identified that fully explains the clinical presentation.

2. A person with acute respiratory illness of any degree of severity who, within 14 days before onset of illness, had any of the following exposures:
   a) close physical contact[2] with a confirmed case of 2019 n-CoV infection, while that patient was symptomatic: or
   b) a healthcare facility in a country where hospital-associated 2019 n-CoV infections have been reported.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Definition of Healthcare Personnel (HCP) – For the purposes of this guidance, HCP refers to all persons, paid and unpaid, working in healthcare settings engaged in patient care activities, including: patient assessment for triage, entering examination rooms or patient rooms to provide care or clean and disinfect the environment, obtaining clinical specimens, handling soiled medical supplies or equipment, and coming in contact with potentially contaminated environmental surfaces.

Definition of PATIENT UNDER INVESTIGATION (PUI) for 2019n-CoV:

Healthcare providers should evaluate patients in the U.S. for MERS-CoV infection if they meet the following criteria, defined as a Patient Under Investigation (PUI). The below criteria serve as guidance for testing; however, patients should be evaluated and discussed with public health departments on a case-by-case basis if their clinical presentation or exposure history is equivocal (e.g., uncertain history of health care exposure).

Table 1

| Clinical Features | And | Epidemiologic Risk |
|---|---|---|
| Severe illnessFever and pneumonia or acute respiratory distress syndrome (based on clinical or radiological evidence) | and | A history of travel from affected countries within 14 days before symptom onset, or close contact with a symptomatic traveler who developed fever and acute respiratory illness (not necessarily pneumonia) within 14 days after traveling from affected countries.– or –A member of a cluster of patients with severe acute respiratory illness (e.g., fever and pneumonia requiring hospitalization) of unknown etiology. |
| Milder illnessFever and symptoms of respiratory illness (not necessarily pneumonia; e.g., cough, shortness of breath) | and | A history of being in a healthcare facility (as a patient, worker, or visitor) within 14 days before symptom onset in an affected country or territory which recent healthcare-associated cases of 2019n-CoV have been identified. |
| Fever or symptoms of respiratory illness (not necessarily pneumonia; e.g., cough, shortness of breath) | and | Close contact with a confirmed 2019n-CoV case while the case was ill. |

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Confirmed Case

A confirmed case is a person with laboratory confirmation of 2019 n-CoV infection. Confirmatory laboratory testing requires a positive PCR on at least two specific genomic targets or a single positive target with sequencing on a second.

Probable Case

A probable case is a PUI with absent or inconclusive laboratory results for 2019 n-CoV infection who is a close contact of a laboratory-confirmed 2019n-CoV case. Examples of laboratory results that may be considered inconclusive include a positive test on a single PCR target, a positive test with an assay that has limited performance data available, or a negative test on an inadequate specimen.

TRANSMISSIONS-BASED PRECAUTIONS (ISOLATION PRECAUTIONS)

PURPOSE

Transmission-Based Precautions are to be used in addition to Standard Precautions for patients with documented or suspected infection or colonization with highly transmissible or epidemiologically important pathogens for which additional precautions are needed to prevent transmission.

DEFINITIONS

- The term Airborne Precautions has been supplemented with the term Airborne Infection Isolation Room (AIIR) for consistency with the Guidelines for Environmental Infection Control in Healthcare Facilities, the Guidelines for Preventing the Transmission of Mycobacterium tuberculosis in Health-Care Settings 2005 and the Facility Guidelines Institute Guidelines for Design and Construction of Hospitals.
- Respirator protection protects staff from hazardous or infectious aerosols, such as Mycobacterium tuberculosis. These devices have a sub-micron filter capable of excluding particles that are less than five (5) microns in diameter. Prior to using a respirator, staff must be fit tested for the appropriate size and fit and be in-service on the correct use of the respirator. Staff are responsible for fit checking the respirator before each use. Commonly used respirators in the healthcare setting are:
  - N95 Particulate Respirator
  - N99 Particulate Respirator
  - N100 Particulate Respirator
- Transmission-Based Precautions shall be used in addition to Standard Precautions to prevent the spread of infection throughout the hospital.
- Transmission-Based Precautions include:
  - Contact Precautions
  - Droplet Precautions
  - Airborne Precautions/Airborne Infection Isolation Room (AIIR)

CONTACT PRECAUTIONS

- Contact Precautions shall be used for patients with known or suspected infections or evidence of syndromes that represent an increased risk for contact transmission. See also CDC pathogen-specific recommendations.
- Discontinue Contact Precautions after signs and symptoms of the infection have resolved or according to CDC pathogen-specific recommendations.
  - Patient Placement:
    - Patients who require Contact Precautions shall be placed in a single-patient room when available.
    - When single-patient rooms are in short supply, apply the following principles for making decisions on patient placement shall be used:
    - Patients with conditions that may facilitate transmission (i.e., uncontained drainage, stool incontinence) shall be prioritized for single-patient room placement.
    - Patients who are infected or colonized with the same pathogen and are suitable roommates shall be placed together (cohorted).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- If it becomes necessary to place a patient who requires Contact Precautions in a room with a patient who is not infected or colonized with the same infectious agent, the following principles shall be followed:
- Avoid placing patients on Contact Precautions in the same room with patients who have conditions that may increase the risk of adverse outcome from infection or that may facilitate transmission (i.e., those who are immunocompromised, have open wounds, or have anticipated prolonged lengths of stay).
- Ensure that patients are physically separated (i.e., greater than three [3] feet apart) from each other. Draw the privacy curtain between beds to minimize opportunities for direct contact.
- Change protective attire and perform hand hygiene between contact with patients in the same room, regardless of whether one or both patients are on Contact Precautions.

- Personal Protective Equipment:
  - Gloves shall be worn whenever touching the patient's intact skin or surfaces and articles in close proximity to the patient (i.e., medical equipment, bed rails). Gloves shall be donned upon entry into the patient's room or cubicle.
  - Gowns shall be worn whenever it is anticipated that clothing will have direct contact with the patient, or potentially contaminated environmental surfaces or equipment in close proximity to the patient. Gown shall be donned upon entry into the room or cubicle. Gown shall be removed, and hand hygiene performed before leaving the patient-care environment.
  - Note: After gown removal, ensure that clothing and skin do not contact potentially contaminated environmental surfaces that could result in possible transfer of microorganism to other patients or environmental surfaces.
- Patient Transport:
  - Patient transport shall be limited to the movement of patients outside of the room for medically necessary purposes.
  - When transport or movement is necessary, the infected or colonized areas of the patient's body shall be contained and covered.
  - Any contaminated PPE shall be removed and disposed, and hand hygiene shall be performed prior to transporting patients on Contact Precautions.
  - Clean PPE shall be donned to handle the patient at the transport destination.
- Patient-Care Equipment and Instruments/Devices:
  - Handle patient-care equipment and instruments/devices according to Standard Precautions.
  - Disposable non-critical patient-care equipment (i.e., blood pressure cuffs) or patient-dedicated equipment shall be used whenever possible for patients on Contact Precautions. If common use of equipment for multiple patients is unavoidable, equipment shall be cleaned and disinfected prior to use on another patient.
- Environmental Measures:
  - Rooms for patients on Contact Precautions shall be prioritized for frequent cleaning and disinfection (i.e., at least daily), with a focus on frequently-touched surfaces (i.e., bed rails, overbed table, bedside commode, lavatory surfaces in patient bathrooms, doorknobs) and equipment in the immediate vicinity of the patient.

DROPLET PRECAUTIONS

- Droplet Precautions shall be used in accordance with CDC Recommendations for patients known or suspected to be infected with pathogens transmitted by respiratory droplets (i.e., large-particle droplets greater than 5μ in size) that are generated by a patient who is coughing, sneezing or talking.
- Droplet Precautions shall be discontinued after signs and symptoms have resolved or according to CDC pathogen-specific recommendations.

Patient Placement:

- Patients who require Droplet Precautions shall be placed in a single-patient room when available.
- When single-patient rooms are in short supply, the following principles for making decisions on patient placement shall be used:
  - a. Prioritize patients who have excessive cough and sputum production for single-patient room placement
  - b. Place together in the same room (cohort) patients who are infected with the same pathogen and are suitable roommates
  - c. If it becomes necessary to place patients who require Droplet Precautions in a room with a patient who does not have the same infection:
    - Avoid placing patients on Droplet Precautions in the same room with patients who have conditions that may increase the risk of adverse outcome from infection or that may facilitate transmission (i.e., those who are immunocompromised, have or have anticipated prolonged lengths of stay).
    - Ensure that patients are physically separated (i.e., greater than three [3] feet apart) from each other. Draw the privacy curtain between beds to minimize opportunities for close contact.
    - Change protective attire and perform hand hygiene between contact with patients in the same room, regardless of whether one patient or both patients are on Droplet Precautions.

Personal Protective Equipment:

- A face mask shall be donned upon entry into the patient room or cubicle.
- For patients with suspected or proven SARS, avian influenza or pandemic influenza, refer to the CDC website for the most current recommendations.

Patient Transport:

- Patient transport shall be limited to transport and movement of patients outside of the room for medically necessary purposes only.
- If transport or movement in any healthcare setting is necessary, the patient shall be instructed to wear a face mask and follow Respiratory Hygiene/Cough Etiquette.
- Note: No mask is required for persons transporting patients on Droplet Precautions.

AIRBORNE PRECAUTIONS

- Airborne Precautions shall be used in accordance with CDC recommendations for patients known or suspected to be infected with infectious agents transmitted person-to-person by the airborne route (i.e., M tuberculosis, measles, chickenpox, disseminated herpes zoster).
- Airborne Precautions shall be discontinued according to CDC pathogen-specific recommendations.

Patient Placement:

- In the event of an outbreak or exposure involving large numbers of patients who require Airborne Precautions, the following should be considered:
  - The Infection Preventionist shall be consulted at 633-1222 Ext. 369 before patient placement to determine the safety of alternative room that do not meet engineering requirements for an AIIR.
  - Cohort patients who are presumed to have the same infection (based on clinical presentation and diagnosis when known) in areas of the facility that are away from other patients, especially patients who are at increased risk for infection (i.e., immunocompromised patients).
  - Use temporary portable solutions (i.e., exhaust fan) to create a negative pressure environment in the converted area of the facility. Air shall be directly discharged to the outside, away from people and air intakes, or direct all the air through HEPA filters before it is introduced to other air spaces.

Staff Restrictions:

- Susceptible healthcare staff shall be restricted from entering the rooms of patients known or suspected to have measles (rubeola), varicella (chickenpox), disseminated zoster or smallpox, if other immune healthcare staff are available.

Use of PPE:

- A fit-tested NIOSH-approved N95 or higher-level respirator shall be worn for respiratory protection when entering the room of a patient when the following diseases are suspected or confirmed:
  - Infectious pulmonary or laryngeal tuberculosis, or when infectious tuberculosis skin lesions are present, and procedures that would aerosolize viable organisms (i.e., irrigation, incision and drainage, whirlpool treatments) are performed
  - Smallpox (vaccinated and unvaccinated)
  - Respiratory protection is recommended for all healthcare staff, including those with a documented "take" after smallpox vaccination, due to the risk of a genetically engineered virus against which the vaccine may not provide protection, or of exposure to a very large viral load (i.e., from high-risk aerosol-generating procedures, immunocompromised patients, hemorrhagic or flat smallpox.

Patient Transport:

- Patients on Airborne Precautions shall only be transported for medically necessary purposes only.
- When transport or movement outside an AIIR is necessary, patients shall be instructed to wear a surgical mask, if possible, and observe Respiratory Hygiene/Cough Etiquette.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- For patients with skin lesions associated with varicella or smallpox, or draining skin lesions caused by M. tuberculosis, the affected area shall be covered to prevent aerosolization or contact with the infectious agent in skin lesions.
- Note: Healthcare staff transporting patients who are on Airborne Precautions do not need to wear a mask or respirator during transport if the patient is wearing a mask and infectious skin lesions are covered.

Exposure Management:

- Susceptible persons shall be offered immunization or provided with the appropriate immune globulin as soon as possible following unprotected contact (i.e., exposed) to a patient with measles, varicella or smallpox.
- Administration of measles vaccine (at any interval following exposure) or immune globulin (within six [6] days of exposure, particularly contacts less than or equal to six [6] months of age, pregnant women, and immunocompromised people, for whom the risk of complications is highest) to susceptible contacts.
- Varicella vaccine should be administered to exposed susceptible persons within 120 hours after the exposure, or administer varicella immune globulin (VZIG or alternative product), when available, within 96 hours for high-risk persons in whom vaccine is contraindicated (i.e., immunocompromised patients, pregnant women, newborns whose mother's varicella onset was less than five [5] days before or within 48 hours after delivery).
- Smallpox vaccine should be administered to exposed susceptible persons within four (4) days after exposure.

PATIENT MOVEMENT IN ISOLATION AREA

- Patient movement and transport outside the isolation area shall be limited to medically necessary purposes.
- Dedicated portable x-ray equipment shall be available in areas designated for cohorting influenza patients.
- If transport or movement is necessary, ensure that the patient wears a surgical or procedure mask.
    - If a mask cannot be tolerated (i.e., due to the patient's age or deteriorating respiratory status), apply the most practical measures to contain respiratory secretions.
- Patients should perform hand hygiene before leaving the room.
- Alternate routes for persons with possible influenza infection and those who have no symptoms of influenza shall be considered in areas where patient transport is common.
- If there is patient contact with surfaces, these surfaces shall be cleaned and disinfected.

CONTROL MEASURES IN OUTPATIENT CLINICS

Patients with nonemergency symptoms of an influenza-like illness may seek care from their medical provider. Implementation of infection prevention and control measures when these patients present for care will help prevent exposure among other patients and clinical and non-clinical office staff.

Outpatient Clinics:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Staff shall post visual alerts (in appropriate languages) at the entrance to outpatient offices instructing persons with respiratory symptoms (i.e., patients, persons who accompany them) to:

- Inform reception and staff when they first register for care
- Practice respiratory hygiene/cough etiquette
- Triage patients calling for medical appointments for influenza symptoms:
  - Discourage unnecessary visits to medical facilities
  - Instruct symptomatic patients on infection prevention and control measures to limit transmission in the home and when traveling to necessary medical appointments
  - Symptomatic patients shall be referred to Medical Triage Tent/ER and appointment rescheduled soon as possible to limit their time in common waiting areas.

Staff shall post signs that promote cough etiquette in common areas (i.e. waiting areas, cafeterias, lavatories) where they can serve as reminders to all persons in the healthcare facility.

Signs shall instruct persons to:

- Cover the nose/mouth with tissue or arm when coughing or sneezing
- Dispose of tissues in the nearest waste receptacle after use
- Perform hand hygiene after contact with respiratory secretions

Outpatient offices shall facilitate adherence to respiratory hygiene/cough etiquette and ensure the availability of materials in waiting areas for patients and visitors.

- Provide tissues and no-touch receptacles (i.e., waste containers with pedal-operated lid or uncovered waste container) for used tissue disposal
- Provide conveniently located dispensers of alcohol-based hand rub
- Provide soap and disposable towels for hand washing where sinks are available
- Promote the use of procedure or surgical masks and spatial separation by persons with symptoms of influenza
- Offer and encourage the use of either procedure masks (i.e., with ear loops) or surgical masks (i.e., with ties or elastic) by symptomatic persons to limit dispersal of respiratory droplets.
- Encourage coughing persons to sit at least three (3) feet away from other persons in common waiting areas
- If possible, screen patients for influenza-like illness by phone or before coming into the facility and rescheduling appointments for those whose care is nonemergency

Canceling all nonemergency services when there is pandemic influenza in the community.

EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES INFECTIOUS TRANSPORT

Call Taking

- Appropriate information from the caller and dispatcher; appropriate protocols for response, clinical care, application of administrative and environmental controls and use of personal protective equipment (PPE) by responding EMS personnel; and transport to the hospital can provide effective evaluation and treatment of the suspected condition.
- Screening for suspected highly infectious pathogens often involves questioning patients about recent travel to endemic areas and presenting signs and symptoms.
- Travel history and/or direct exposure to potential case within the number of days of the incubation period for the illness of interest.
- Specific signs and symptoms of illness
- Consult with Department of Health Epidemiologist and LBJTMC Infection Preventionist to identify required modifications to processes and protocols to ensure consistency with CDC guidance.

Response

- Regardless of dispatch information, EMS personnel should be vigilant for travel history and signs and symptoms of communicable disease (e.g., fever, cough, shortness of breath) and use standard precautions and add appropriate transmission-based infection control precautions whenever history or exam findings warrant.
- Implement strict standard and transmission-based precautions based on the patient's clinical information to avoid exposure to potentially infectious bodily fluids, droplets, and airborne particles.
- Identify patients who may be infected with a serious communicable disease by verbal screening and symptoms and recognize the potential hazards.
- Avoid direct contact with a patient who may have a serious communicable disease until you are wearing appropriate PPE.
    - Maintaining a distance of at least six feet may provide protection from transmission of many diseases.
    - Understand and practice with PPE so that you can rapidly and safely don and carefully doff the equipment without cross-contamination.
- Patients or their caregivers may find responders wearing high levels of PPE. Communicating with and calming anxious patients may be more challenging due to PPE as well. Responders should be mindful of this and be prepared to reassure patients and to address their distress and fear.
- Limit the number of EMS providers making contact with a potentially infectious patient to the minimum required to perform tasks safely.
- Hand hygiene (e.g., handwashing with non-antimicrobial soap and water, alcohol-based hand rub, or antiseptic hand wash) is one of the best ways to remove germs, avoid getting sick, and prevent the spread of germs to others.
- Place a surgical mask on a patient with likely infectious cough to significantly limit droplet generation.
    - Patients should cover their nose and mouth when coughing or sneezing; use tissues to contain respiratory secretions and, after use, dispose them in the nearest waste receptacle; and perform hand hygiene after having contact with respiratory secretions and contaminated objects or materials.

  - Apply PPE appropriate for the patient's condition prior to making direct patient contact.
- Patients with respiratory illnesses
  - Interview conducted at least 6 feet away from the patient may provide some protection from infectious droplets.
  - Ask any patient with respiratory symptoms to wear a surgical mask if they can tolerate it.
- Keep nonessential equipment away from the patient, so as minimize contamination on the scene and in the ambulance.
- Infection control practices can evolve with novel agents or during infectious disease outbreaks or epidemics.

Personal Protective Equipment

- Disposable exam gloves – standard gloves for standard precautions
- Disposable exam gloves – with elongated cuffs for use with barrier gowns/suits
- Cleanable goggles OR face shield
- Surgical masks for patients and providers
- Disposable fluid-resistant gown OR disposable fluid-resistant coverall
- Disposable National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH)-approved, fit-tested N95 or equivalent/higher level respirator (e.g., reusable half-face elastomeric respirator N95 or higher rating mask or PAPR with full hood and HEPA filter)
- Disposable boot/shoe covers
- Full face shield (plus consider head cover)
- Boots (disposable or reusable)
- Fluid-resistant coverall – if service uses gowns for other contact exposures
- Disposable, impermeable apron in addition to fluid-resistant coverall for unstable patients

EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES SANITIZING VEHICLES

During an influenza pandemic, LBJTMC shall ensure that all emergency transport vehicles shall be cleaned and maintained in accordance with Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) guidelines.

Procedure:

- LBJTMC shall coordinate with the CDC's Health Alert Network, Public Health Information Network (PHIN) and/or Public Health Information Rapid Exchange (PHIRE), and local agencies to ensure the organization has the most recent information on the pandemic situation, and rapidly and properly disseminates up-to-date clinical standards, treatment protocols and just-in-time training to the EMS coordinator.
- Any interim CDC guidance related to a pandemic shall be incorporated into the organization's infection prevention and control plan which, at a minimum, shall include the consistent practice of basic infection prevention and control procedures, including:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Vehicle/equipment decontamination
- Hand hygiene
- Cough and respiratory hygiene
- Proper use of Food and Drug Administration (FDA)-regulated medical personal protective equipment (PPE) regardless of the likelihood of an influenza pandemic

- Routine cleaning methods for emergency transport vehicles shall be employed throughout each vehicle with special attention to the following:
  - Clean and disinfect non-patient care areas of the vehicle according to the vehicle manufacturer's recommendations.
  - Non-patient care areas of the vehicle, such as the driver's compartment, may become indirectly contaminated, such as by touching the steering wheel with a contaminated glove. Staff shall be particularly vigilant to avoid contaminating environmental surfaces that are not directly related to patient care (i.e., steering wheels, light switches).
  - Nonsterile, disposable gloves that are recommended by the manufacturer of the detergent/disinfectant shall be worn while cleaning the patient care compartment and when handling cleaning and disinfecting solutions.
  - Gloves shall be disposed of in a sturdy leak proof (i.e., plastic) bag that is tied shut and not reopened if gloves become damaged or soiled or when cleaning is completed,
  - Frequently touched surfaces in patient care compartments (including stretchers, railings, medical equipment control panels, adjacent flooring, walls, ceilings and work surfaces, door handles, radios, keyboards and cell phones) that become directly contaminated with respiratory secretions and other bodily fluids during patient care, or indirectly by touching the surfaces with gloved hands, shall be cleaned first with detergent and water, and then disinfected using an EPA-registered hospital disinfectant in accordance with the manufacturer's instructions.
    - All safety precautions or other recommendations issued by the manufacturer shall be followed (i.e., allowing adequate ventilation in confined areas, proper disposal of unused product or used containers).
  - Non-porous surfaces in patient care compartments that are not frequently touched shall be cleaned with detergent and water. Large-surface cleaning methods that produce mists or aerosols or disperse dust in patient care areas (i.e., use wet dusting techniques, wipe application of cleaning and/or disinfectant solutions) shall be avoided.
  - Any small spills of bodily fluids (i.e., vomit from an ill patient) shall be cleaned first with detergent and water, followed by disinfection using an EPA-registered hospital disinfectant from EPA List D or E in accordance with the manufacturer's use instructions and safety precautions.
  - Large spills of bodily fluids (i.e., vomit) shall be managed by removing visible organic matter with absorbent material (i.e., disposable paper towels discarded into a leak-proof properly labeled container). The spill shall then be cleaned and disinfected as above.

- Contaminated reusable patient care devices and equipment shall be placed in biohazard bags clearly marked for cleaning and disinfection or sterilization as appropriate.
- Reusable devices and equipment shall be clean and disinfected or sterilized according to the manufacturer's recommendations.
- After cleaning, remove and dispose of gloves as instructed in a leak-proof bag or waste container.
- Immediately clean hands with soap and water or an alcohol-based hand gel. Avoid touching the face with gloved or unwashed hands.[1]

III. Travel Advisories and Guidance:

Information for Travelers

General prevention measures for all travelers:

- Wash your hands often with soap and water. If soap and water are not available, use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth. Germs spread this way.
- Avoid close contact with sick people.
- Be sure you are up to date with all of your shots, and if possible, see your health care provider at least 4–6 weeks before travel to get any additional shots.
- Visit CDC's Travelers' Health website (http://wwwnc.cdc.gov/travel/) for more information on healthy travel.
- CDC does not recommend that travelers change their plans because of COVID-19. Most instances of person-to-person spread have occurred in health care workers and other close contacts (such as family members and caregivers) of people sick with COVID-19. If you are concerned about COVID-19, you should discuss your travel plans with your doctor.

Travelers who are ill:

- Cover your mouth with a tissue when you cough or sneeze, and throw the tissue in the trash.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Avoid contact with other people to keep from infecting them. This might mean delaying your travel until you are well.

- Call a doctor if you develop a fever and symptoms of lower respiratory illness, such as cough or shortness of breath, within 14 days after traveling from countries with known COVID-19 transmission l the doctor about your recent travel before you go in for an appointment.

- Tell people who have been in close contact with you to monitor their health for 14 days after the last time they were around you.

    - They should call a doctor and tell them about your illness and travel history and their current symptoms.

- If you get sick while you are traveling, see "Getting Health Care Abroad" (http://wwwnc.cdc.gov/travel/page/getting-health-care-abroad) for information about how to locate medical services overseas.

IV. Advisory and Guidance for Schools and Daycare Centers

School/Daycare Exclusion Criteria

Policy:

Children with a fever from any infectious disease cause should be excluded from school and daycare for at least 24 hours after fever subsides without the use of fever-suppressing medications. It is recommended that adults not return to work for at least 24 hours after fever has subsided without the use of fever suppressing medications. Do not exclude close contacts from daily activities such as work or school as long as they have no other reasons for exclusion. In the event of a pandemic the exclusion period may be extended.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

V. HUMAN RESOURCES EMPLOYMENT ADVISORIES AND GUIDANCE

This memorandum and outlined protocols provide additional guidance for the American Samoa Government Workforce on how to respond to the impacts of Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19).

The Department of Health continues to remind the general public that immediate health risk from COVID-19 is considered low. However, it remains critically important that we continue to strengthen our efforts to protect the health and welfare of our employees by ensuring the continuity of operations or Territorial Emergency Response Plan (TEOP) are updated to minimize any disruption in services to the people of American Samoa. In general, it is important to make sure your employees have a clear understanding of their work priorities, a responsibility that Agency Heads and managers can take ownership. Set clear expectations on establishing work hours and task prioritization. Empower team leaders to create management by objectives and deliverables for employees to ensure projects are progressing at no expense to quality production.

Flex accommodation will be unique from one organization to another, but organizations must create policies that are effective to their teams. Therefore, the Department of Human Resources (DHR) is providing the following guidance on COVID-19 to supplement public awareness campaign and brochures currently in mass distribution by the Department of Public Health.

This information may also be accessed on our agency website at www.americansamoa.gov

The protocols highlighted on this memorandum reflect the various inquiries DHR has received from agencies and employees regarding COVID-19 and human resources policies. The topics discussed include:

- Call-In Procedures;
- Annual Leave;
- Sick Leave;
- Flex-Scheduling;

Agencies are strongly encouraged to review and update their employees (call-sheet) and emergency contact information, as needed.

Relative to our educational awareness campaign and prevention measures, the DHR strongly encourages Directors and Agency Heads to enforce these added caveats as per ASAC §4.505(2), which states that, "Each department is responsible for administering the annual leave system for their employees and must issue instructions concerning the granting of annual and sick leave."

If an employee with suspected symptoms of COVID-19 as published by the Department of Health's Response Manual should adhere to the following guidance:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Call-In Procedures: (Annual & Sick Leave/Absence Notification)

An employee must notify your supervisor or the Office of the Director for each sick time or absence from work before the start of the business day at 7:30 a.m. The notification must be received at least fifteen (15) minutes before the start of work with a grace period of fifteen (15) minutes past 7:30 a.m. to be considered proper notification.

When providing notification of being sick, an employee must state the reason why they will be absent, whether it is COVID-19 related or instructed by a medical provider to be self-quarantined. While the granting of leave is permitted given all subsections of ASAC §4.0506 are met, it is mandatory that the employee furnish documentary evidence in the form of a medical certificate for periods in excess of 3 consecutive days. However, management may require that the employee furnish such certificate for sick leave involving "any" length of time.

If all sick leave is exhausted, the Agency may charge towards Annual or Compensatory Time.

Flex-Scheduling:

The Department of Human Resources is committed to helping and assist employees with work flexibilities given our prevention efforts to combat COVID-19. Flex-Scheduling for employees will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis in situations where self-quarantine or as a caretaker for qualified family members who are classified as suspected, probable, or confirmed with COVID-19 may be granted Flex-Scheduling to accommodate and accomplish both work and personal goals to provide increased productivity at no expense to quality output.

Flexible work arrangements are not appropriate for all employees or positions. The following conditions are also considered for flex-scheduling to be approved: The employee must have a satisfactory history of attendance, meet all performance expectations of his or her current position, and consistently demonstrated the ability to complete tasks and assignments on a timely basis. The nature of the employee's work and responsibilities must be conducive to a flexible work arrangement without causing significant disruption to performance and/or service delivery.

All flex-scheduling and potential work arrangements must be approved with concurrence of the Department of Human Resources prior to announcement or implementation.

For additional information or support, please contact our office at 633-4485. Thank you.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ):

1. Generally, how should agencies manage incidences of quarantinable communicable disease, such as COVID-19?

    a. The constitution of Flex Scheduling for qualified employees promotes "social distancing" and an alternative to sick and annual leave for exposure to quarantinable communicable disease for an employee who is asymptomatic or caring for a qualified immediate family member who is asymptomatic. Agencies should have mechanisms in place to monitor and track flexible work arrangements in the event of emergency situations.

2. Like the Measles epidemic in November 2019, where schools and day care centers were suspended, is it permissible for Flex-Scheduling to perform work from home with a child in the home?

    a. A department or agency that has a general bar on Flex-Scheduling when there are young children requiring care and supervision as a special exception, such as the COVID-19, would be expected to account for work and non-work hours during the approved period of flex accommodation to take appropriate leave (AL/LWOP) to account for the time spent away from normal work related duties (i.e. to care for child or small children).

3. If an employee runs out of sick leave, can the agency grant advanced sick leave to an employee who is ill (symptomatic) due to COVID-19, or must care for a family member who is ill?

    a. No. Advanced sick leave is not an employee entitlement and may only granted with the approval of the Governor.

4. If an employee is healthy but stays home because his or her asymptomatic family member has been quarantined due to exposure to COVID-19, in what pay/leave status is the employee placed?

    a. Currently, an employee may use annual, sick, or compensatory time off to care for a family member who is healthy but has been quarantined due to COVID-19.

5. If the Governor declares COVID-19 to be a pandemic, can an agency order one or more employees to evacuate their offices to work from home?

    a. It depends. However, it is highly encouraged that Departments and Agencies review their concept of operations to be able to sustain minimal functions on a "skeletal staffing" matrix, either with employees who have been approved for Flex-Scheduling or a team of employees with critical functions to remain unless otherwise instructed by the Office of the Governor.

VI. ADVISORIES & GUIDANCE FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

The Territory Administration on Agency will use the advisories and guidance provided in the health hygiene protocols to prepare presentations, flyers, and brochures for distribution to the Senior Citizen population of American Samoa who are deemed to be most vulnerable to the coronavirus.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Territorial Administration on Aging will closely collaborate with the Department of Health and the LBJ Tropical Medical Center in educating and making the seniors fully aware of the best hygiene practices which they must practice each day.

TAOA - Fact Sheet

What do Older Adults and People with Disabilities Need to Know?

- Early data suggest older people are twice as likely to have serious COVID-19 illness.
- This may be because immune systems change with age, making it harder to fight off diseases and infection.
- Older adults also are more likely to have underlying health conditions that make it harder to cope with and recover from illness.

In addition, people of all ages, with or without disabilities, seem to be at higher risk for getting very sick from COVID-19 if they have serious chronic medical conditions like heart, lung or kidney disease.

Reducing exposure is especially important for people at higher risk of complications!

If you are at higher risk, Am. Samoa Department of Health recommends that you:

- Stay at home as much as possible if COVID-19 is spreading in your community.
- Make sure you have access to several weeks of medications and supplies in case you need to stay home for prolonged periods of time. CDC has great resources to help you plan.

Everyday actions to prevent illness

Everyone, regardless of age or disability, should follow ASDOH's recommendations to help prevent the spread of all respiratory diseases, including colds and flu and COVID-19. For example:

- Avoid close contact with people who are sick.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth.
- Stay home when you are sick.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Watch for symptoms and emergency warning signs

- COVID-19 symptoms include fever, cough, and shortness of breath. If you feel like you are developing symptoms, call DOH Command Post at 633-5871/5872.
- If you develop emergency warning signs for COVID-19 get medical attention immediately. These include:
  - Difficulty breathing or shortness of breath
  - Persistent pain or pressure in the chest
  - New confusion or inability to arouse
  - Bluish lips or face
  - This list is not all inclusive. Consult your medical provider for any other symptom that is severe or concerning.

Follow DOH & LBJ guidance:

Decisions about community measures will be made by ASDOH Health Officials, in consultation with federal officials as appropriate, based on the scope of the outbreak and the severity of illness. It's important for older adults and people with disabilities, as well as families and the organizations in the aging and disability networks who support them, to pay close attention to information and instructions published by ASDOH.

VII. DIAL-A-RIDE GUIDANCE AND ADVISORIES

The Dial-A-Ride project administered by the Department of Public Works offers transportation to seniors, physically challenged, and other special population of American Samoa. It is current estimated that 1,400 weekly rides are accommodated by this program. The risk is high for propagation of the coronavirus thus health protocols will be adopted to abate the risk of spreading the coronavirus. Appropriate policy is being developed along with protocols for disclosure and incorporated in this document soon.

VIII. PUBLIC AWARENESS AND EDUCATION CAMPAIGN

The Department of Health is spearheading the Public Awareness and Education Campaign aimed to inundated the community with information on the coronavirus so they take ownership of self-responsibility to protect themselves from being infected by the coronavirus together with knowing what to do if they suspect that they might be infected.

- Brochures have been developed both in the Samoan and English Languages for immediate distribution.
- Television forums will be conducted by health professionals to ensure that the information delivered to the public is accurate and easy to understand.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Radio programs will also be conducted to deliver the same message to the community and will be conducted by the health professionals as well.
- The Department of Health is deploying its comprehensive community campaign wherein all villages are visited by the Department of Health Team to get the word out on the coronavirus.
- The Local Government infrastructure is being compelled to work with the Department of Health and the LBJ Tropical Medical Center to get the message out to the villages to report individuals with possible coronavirus symptoms so appropriate response is activated.
- The Office of Public Information is charge to provide every assistance possible to facilitate implementation of the Community Awareness and Education Program.

IX. FINANCIAL PROPOSAL

General Healthcare Capacities:

The operating capacities of our only acute care facility and our Department of Health are stretched thinly thus precluding launching an effective, aggressive, efficacious, and campaign to combat the spread of the Coronavirus. Our fight relative to containing the spread of the Measles virus is winding down but the financial impact on our financial resources was overwhelming which exacerbated the efforts to respond to this more deadly virus.

The Department of the Interior executed the Congressional Mandate calling for the assessment of the Territory of American Samoa's healthcare system particularly the LBJ Tropical Medicals Center. The assessment was conducted by United States Army Corp of Engineers. The assessment was comprehensive and it identified all of the deficiencies attributed to antiquated physical facilities which we are aggressively attempting to upgrade. We are grateful to you and the Department for continuing provide funds to finance this facility improvement program. The health treatment demands for the Coronavirus find us scrambling to secure space to isolate infected away from the general patient population. Funds are being spent right now with the hope of reimbursement to create an isolation ward to safely treat coronavirus patients. These costs are reflected in our funding request.

Bases for Financial Plan Development:

The healthcare service delivery challenges are clearly document in the earlier sections of this Response & Action Plan. Specifically, testing kits, protective gear, masks, equipment, gowns, medical supplies, and physical facilities are need to quarantine and isolate suspected cases.

The remote geographic location of American Samoa elevates the level of the cost of planned tasks and activities to implement the protocols, advisories, and guidance articulated in this Response & Action Plan. Transporting supplies is a constant challenge, and disruption of service will effectively create a true health crisis for American Samoa. There is already a noticeable shortage in goods because the vessels are being impacted by the Coronavirus.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The economy is also feeling the adverse impact of the coronavirus which is also negatively affecting the American Samoa Government's revenue posture disabling it from financing all of the planned expenditures connected with combating and mitigating the effects of the Coronavirus.

X. ECONOMIC IMPACT OF MEASLES & CORONAVIRUS OUTBREAK

Since the Governor of American Samoa first issued a declaration of public health emergency on November 13, 2019, the territorial government has spent approximately $1.6 Million on containment and preventative measures. Additionally, the amendment to the public health emergency that was issued on December 8, 2019 initiated a full closure of schools and daycares and set in place restrictions on public gatherings that lasted until December 16th, 2019. Additional amendments were subsequently issued by the Governor's office in response to the developing, global novel coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak, which was followed by several additional travel restrictions. A decrease in economic activity followed the December 8th amendment that directly impacted hundreds of private sector businesses and thousands of workers.

The following graph details the breakdown of the direct costs incurred by the American Samoa Government (ASG) during the efforts to contain the measles outbreak and total anticipated expenditures on the containment of COVID-19. Initial costs began to accumulate after the initial declaration of public health emergency on November 13, 2019. Since that time, 443 ASG employees worked nearly 40,000 regular work hours and more than 150,000 overtime hours on Measles containment and several thousand additional hours are expected to be devoted to the COVID-19 containment efforts. Total labor costs that attributed to the outbreaks are estimated to be $1,530,326.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The largest Measles containment expenditure was the purchase of MMR vaccination vials. The total number of individuals requiring this vaccination was estimated to be 15,841. Although the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) provided the American Samoa Department of Health (DOH) with 7,000 infant and toddler doses, another 8,841 doses were necessary to inoculate the remaining individuals. The cost of procuring these MMR vials from a private vendor was estimated to be $744,604, with another $46,320 expensed on the procurement of related medical supplies. When additional medical supplies required to combat COVID-19 is factored in, total supply expenditures are anticipated to be $7,836,933. Logistics costs, which included fuel, transportation, public service marketing, and miscellaneous goods and services that are necessary during the containment and disease management efforts, were valued at $5,289,989.

Total estimated containment costs to ASG were $15,042,755. When the value of the MMR vials that were provided by the CDC are included, the total cost of containment increases to $15,389,465, which is roughly equal to 2.4% of American Samoa's 2018 nominal gross domestic product.

The impact to the local economy goes beyond the cost of containment and the preventative costs. These impacts include the effects that school and daycare closures, public gathering restrictions, and travel limitations have had on private businesses and employees. 11,400 pre-school and elementary school aged children and 164 private school staff missed 10 school days during the closure, while 900 children that regularly attend day care and 215 workers missed 22 days or more during the measles-related closures, resulting in an estimated income loss of $321,000 for staff and faculty.

Roughly 85% of parents surveyed suggested that at least one gainfully employed adult in the household would be required to take time off from work to care for children during the mandatory school and day care closures. When the average hourly wage and average number of school age children per household are considered, the time taken off of work by parents resulted in an estimated $2.8 Million in foregone regular wages and income in late 2019 and early 2020. This loss of income is expected to drive the average annual in American Samoa down by $87.11 in 2020. Any additional school and daycare closures that may result from COVID-19 would be expected to have a proportional impact.

Additionally, seven passenger leisure cruise ships that were scheduled to visit Pago Pago between December 2019 and March 2020 have cancelled their excursions to the territory as a direct result of the outbreaks. The number of passengers and disembarking crew from these cruise ships is estimated to be nearly 14,000. The loss of these cruise ship passengers and crew is anticipated to have led to $1.5 million in foregone durable, nondurable, and service consumption by cruise ship visitors to the territory. Similarly, an outbreak-related decrease in air visitors to American Samoa is estimated to lead to $2.0 million in foregone durable, nondurable, and service consumption by air visitors in 2020.

In analyzing the impacts of the Measles and COVID-19 outbreaks on territorial gross domestic product (GDP), the revenue and income loses outlined above are partially offset by higher territorial government spending. Specifically, outbreak-related expenditures by the territorial government may be as much as $14.7 million higher in 2020 than expected if the outbreaks had not occurred, while consumer and business spending on goods and services and net exports, combined, are predicted to be approximately $19.7 million lower. As such, 2020 nominal GDP is estimated to be $5.0 million (0.8%) lower in this scenario. Adjusted for inflation, GDP is forecast to be $3.6 million (-0.6%) lower in 2020.

Additional details of the assessed impacts of the 2019-20 Measles and COVID-19 outbreaks on the economy of American Samoa can be found in the following tables.

Economic Policy Recommendations:

1. Establish a workgroup to assess detailed impacts to businesses by industry.
    a. This would be a collaboration between the Department of Commerce, private sector partners, and other key stakeholders.

2. Establish a separate workgroup to make recommendations/update State of Emergency Powers/Provisions (i.e. Procurement process being streamlined during state of emergency) to include other business/employment sector-facing provisions that help sustain business, build reserves, and support employment. This could include the reduction of excise tax on essential perishable food items; excise tax reduction on supplies and materials used to produce food items (i.e. bottles for locally produced bottled water), etc.; provisions to allow for (government) workers to telecommute to avoid lost wages as a result of school closures (no day care); etc.

3. Assess the feasibility of establishing a local state of emergency Revolving Loan Fund that would be accessible to qualified businesses following emergency declarations. The funding mechanism would ideally be a more streamlined than SBA loans, which are often unavailable in the critical days and weeks following an emergency declaration.

4. Public-Private Partnerships to identify opportunities for the leveraging of resources via agreements/MOU to support response and recovery efforts in times of crises (natural, man-made, and/or epidemic).

5. Creation of a public-private disaster group comprising key businesses and relevant government agencies and immediately activated when necessary to mobilize resources as Federal assistance is pending.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Looking Ahead (Post-Recovery): Homeland Security Recommendations

1. Updating the Territorial Emergency Operations Plan (TEOP) to include response to Outbreaks/Pandemics.

2. Roundtable and Full-scale exercises re: epidemic/pandemics involving critical first responders and community stakeholders.

3. Elevating the potential threats of outbreaks into the Threats and Hazards Identification Risk Assessment (THIRA) to communicate current vulnerabilities, capabilities, and resource gaps to FEMA and relevant entities (CDC).

Tele-Health
Our long-term approach to containing and managing the spread of Coronavirus is the deployment of telecommunications systems and technologies in order to connect local patients with highly trained, off-island healthcare providers. It is possible to provide the residents of American Samoa 24 hours access to doctors in Hawaii via Tele-Health Care Mobile and web-based application. The cost to implement this service is estimated to be up to $1.095 million.

LEMANU P. MAUGA
LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

March 10, 2020 Serial: 135

To: Secretary of Samoan Affairs, Attorney General, CEOs, Presidents, Directors, & Executive Directors

From: Governor of American Samoa

Subject: The Coronavirus Task Force and Coronavirus Working Group

On January 30, 2020, the International Health Regulations Emergency Committee of the World Health Organization declared the outbreak of a public health emergency of international concern. On January 31, 2020, Health and Human Services Secretary Honorable Alex M. Azar II declared a public health emergency (PHE) for the United States to aid the nation's healthcare community in responding to COVID-19.

Since the promulgation of these two declarations, we immediately took steps to prevent and preempt the entry of this virus into American Samoa. The disclosure of this pandemic in the midst of the Measles Outbreak caused the extension of the same protocols and advisories on our initiative to contain the spread of the Coronavirus. Furthermore, a group was appointed to prepare our Coronavirus Action Plan to be submitted to the Department of the Interior, CDC, the White House, DHHS, and our Delegate to Congress articulating our needs.

The speed at which the incidence of the Coronavirus is being propagated throughout the United States gives us cause to formalize the establishment of our Task Force charged with the responsibility to prepare our comprehensive Action Plan aimed to combat the entry, spread, and treatment of the Coronavirus in our territory for review and approval by the Lieutenant Governor and I with intended submission to Honorable David Bernhardt, Secretary of the Interior for subsequent transmittal to CDC, the White House, DHHS, and appropriate agencies of the Federal Government involved with combating the spread of the Coronavirus. The Coronavirus Task Force membership shall include the following heads of the following agencies of the American Samoa Government. The Director of the VA Clinic is included as a member as well to ensure arms-length collaboration and coordination of efforts ensuring inclusion of all members of community.

ASTCA is taking the Covid-19 threat very seriously. Bulletin #1.

American Samoa is a small, remote, isolated, densely populated island community.

ASTCA cannot prevent the virus from arriving on our shores, or spreading throughout the community, but ASTCA can take steps that will slow the number of infections and the speed of the virus's spread.

ASTCA can also take steps to make sure ASTCA is ready to provide reliable telecommunications as American Samoa responds to the Covid-19 threat. ASTCA anticipates a much greater reliance on telecom in the weeks and months ahead, due to the need to communicate more in times of trouble, magnified by the effects of social distancing (e.g., less physical interaction, more working from home with communication devices).

By increasing hygienic measures and practising social distancing, we will do our part to "flatten the curve" (see graphic below) so that when the virus is here, it will spread slowly and not overwhelm our health care system. https://globalnews.ca/news/6665558/coronavirus-flatten-the-curve/

For example,

- We will minimize staff entry to homes and offices where people are sick or self-quarantined. We ask for your cooperation and patience.
- We will curtail unnecessary activities that pose a risk.
- We will take steps to protect staff and customers, in our offices, stores and field work.

We will start to practise social distancing in our own operations. For example,

- Tele-work
- Stepped-up hygiene

Executive Assistant to the Governor
Government of American Samoa
Pago Pago, American Samoa. 96799

Dear Chairman Iulogologo,

In response to the severity of health concerns raised by the COVID-19 virus, and given the fact that TAOA carries the responsibility of ensuring the Senior Citizen population of American Samoa is provided with all information and protective measures available, the following actions have been or will be implemented by TAOA and staff to ensure this is, in fact, the case:

- An emergency meeting has been held to inform all 120 SCSEP workers of risks, protective practices and information regarding the COVID-19 virus. DOH brochures were provided for all attendees.
- SCSEP program/job placement will be temporarily discontinued effective March 16, 2020 until further notice.
- All SCSEP participants placed in health facilities have been reassigned.
- All Congregate Meal program renewal requirements have been suspended for two months. This will not impact meal eligibility but will eliminate a required visit to the TAOA office.
- In partnerships with DYWA, seniors will sew their own reusable protective masks. While it is understood that masks may not prevent the virus, it is believed that masks will serve as a deterrent to the common practice of touching one's face.
- There are no plans at this time to discontinue the Meal Program; however, all meal service duties at centers will be carried out by TAOA staff beginning March 17, 2020.
- Community outreach at all meal centers conducted regularly by TAOA staff and participants.
- Janitorial responsibilities have been upgraded to include frequent wipe-downs and thorough disinfecting of common areas.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- All employees who show signs of illness/fever are being sent home or told to stay home.
- Congregating amongst staff is discouraged; distancing is encouraged.

We take our unique responsibilities to the Senior Citizens of the Territory very seriously and welcome any additional COVID-19 preventive measures that may be recommended regarding their vulnerability in such times. We continue to monitor the CDC and Administration for Community Living (ACL) websites for additional announcements to ensure our seniors receive sufficient information regarding their health and well-being.

I commend you and the Coronavirus Task Force and the Coronavirus Working Group for the tremendous efforts being made to address the unique challenges presented by the COVID-19 pandemic and the prevention of its entry into American Samoa.

Our prayers for the good health and safety of our island community.

Sincerely,

Evelyn Lili'o-Satele, Director

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS
TRANSIT DIVISION
CORONAVIRUS PREVENTATIVE MEASURES

March 11, 2020

While there are no confirmed cases of COVID-19 in American Samoa, we understand people in our community may feel concern about the safety of using our Dial-a-ride transit service. We want the public to know we take this situation seriously, and are taking actions to help prevent common illnesses from spreading and in the event, we should have a confirmed case.

Dial-a-ride Service Summary:

The Dial-a-ride service provides approximately 100-140 weekday trips totaling approximately 500-600 trips per week on 7 transit vehicles. Trip destinations are to the LBJ Medical center for Medical appointments, Health Centers, Financial institutions, Retirement & Social Security office, Food Stamp, TAOA employment and a few grocery shopping. Our ridership registration is currently at 1300 actively serving 600, with 279 riders using wheelchair.

Strategies for Preventive Measures:

1) Drivers & Dispatchers & Support Staff:
    a. The agency is closely coordinating with the local Coronavirus Task Force on updated information and reporting it back to drivers, dispatchers and transit staff to ensure the health and safety of riders and employees.
    b. Clear protocols and procedures for the cleaning and disinfection of vehicles has been reiterated to all Drivers & dispatchers.
    c. Inspection forms are in place for verifying the completion of tasks. Forms are signed by drivers and verified by shift dispatchers.
    d. Drivers & dispatchers have been equipped with hand sanitizers, Personal Protective Equipment (gloves), tissues for precautionary measures.
    e. Drivers & Dispatchers have been advised to stay home when feeling sick.
2) Dial-a-ride Vehicles:
    a. Posters are posted in the vehicles that encourage staying home when sick, cough and sneeze etiquette, proper hand washing techniques, Coronavirus pamphlet from local Dept. of Public Health for rider information.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

b. Agency vehicle cleaning procedures has been updated to include nightly disinfecting of all transit vehicles. Exterior washing of buses has also been upgraded to three times a week.
c. No-touch disposal receptacles are provided in vehicles for use;
d. Vehicles are being sanitized by drivers after each group drop off and periodically throughout the day.

3) Outbreak response plan will be dependent on directives from Department of Health and Government declarations:
   a. Continue with preventative measures as outlined above
   b. Vehicles will be used for Emergency response if an outbreak/disaster is declared.

This plan is subject to be updated as new information become available.

NATIONAL PACIFIC INSURANCE

Private and Confidential

13th March 2020

Ms Elizabeth Perri
Insurance Commissioner
By Email: eperri.asg.govoffice@gmail.com

Dear Ms Perri,

Re: Covid-19

On behalf of our Country Manager, Ms. Agnes Polu, and NPI General Manager, Ms. Joanne Rasmussen, I would like to provide you with a high-level summary relating to our organisational preparedness, business continuity, potential staff impact along with our initial business impact assessment, including re-insurance arrangements.

Organisational Preparedness

As part of Tower Insurance Limited (TIL), NPI American Samoa has a Pandemic Management Plan (PMP). With respect to the World Health Organisation's "continuum of pandemic phases" we have assessed that we are in phase 3. As such, we are undertaking the relevant activities listed in the Appendix: "Preparedness: Phase 3".

From a business continuity perspective, we have an established Crisis Management Plan and a business unit Business Continuity Plan (BCP).

Our BCP seeks to enable (a) continued operations as close to BAU as possible, and in the extreme (b) the bare minimum operational functional to enable the business to remain viable. Due to NPI being part of TIL, we have the advantage of our Pacific Operations Hub in Suva, 7 other Pacific Island jurisdictions along with Tower NZ to provide continuity services in an extreme situation.

Operational Continuity

In American Samoa, the vast majority of our customer interactions are face to face. As such we have undertaken a number of scenario assessments to test our operational continuity in the event:

- A staff member tests positive or has been in close proximity to someone who has tested positive
- Societal restrictions are imposed such as restriction to public transport or closing of schools
- Our government requests or requires that we amend our operating practices, for example, we must ensure that our staff sit a certain distance apart and take other practical measures to mitigate any possible spread
- We are requested or required to close our branches and go to skeleton staff with no public contact
- We are required to keep our staff at home

Our business priorities have been defined at a high level as:

- Ensuring continuation of payroll for our employees

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Processing claims for our customers
- Processing renewals for our customers
- Maintaining accounts payable on time for our suppliers
- Providing new business services

We are currently investigating the viability of enabling our staff to operate from home through procurement of new hardware and where required reallocation of laptops from non-essential staff to the frontline teams. This will enable us to increase the number of people able to service customers remotely. However, under these circumstances we do expect a degradation in customer service standards. In this case, we will redirect our landlines to company provided mobile telephones and increase public communications via our Facebook page supported by private communications via email. From a customer service perspective, priority will be given to insurance claims, followed by customer service enquires, sales, and then non-essential back office functions.

Potential Staff Impacts

We have and will continue to communicate with our staff through various channels (i.e. emails, our intranet page and people leaders communications). These communications include letting all staff know we have a plan in place, how to stay healthy, our stance on international business travel (we have put a stop to all non-essential international travel), and links to the latest advice from the NZ Ministry of Health and relevant Pacific Island health organisations.

As always, we will continue to monitor the well-being of our staff and provide support as required including flexible working and leave arrangements and directing staff to EAP support as required.

As of this week, all staff have been requested to stay at home if they feel unwell for any reason. We have also communicated that any staff who are off work caring for unwell family members should remain off work until the entire household is fully recovered. Where staff have exceeded their contractual entitlement of sick leave, they will be provided extended paid sick leave.

We are currently investigating the early roll out of our annual flu vaccination, subject to availability.

Staff leave (non-medical related) is being monitored so that the impact to the resourcing levels is minimized in the event of increased absences due to other staff member's illness.

In addition to this, the needs of vulnerable staff members, such as those who are pregnant, have underlying medical conditions and those who live with elderly residents are being managed on an individual basis.

Stress Testing/Business Impact Assessment

A high-level review of our product wordings has been undertaken to understand the potential insurance risks associated with Covid-19. From the analysis done there is no material exposure. Some products may respond but the exposure is considered very limited.

Apart from insurance risk, other potential risks to Tower/NPI include:

- Reduction in GWP – following reduction in turnover within business, there is a potential for reduced GWP where rates are based on turnover,
- Moral hazard – possibility of fraudulent claims where businesses fall into financial difficulties,
- Increased demand on resource – managing queries from customers querying and/or trying to claim on policies that do not respond, and
- Revenue management – risk of customers defaulting on premium payments and/or cancelling their policies to reduce costs, and the cashflow impact of any inability to process premium payments through automated means.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ED-20-0731-A-001069

NATIONAL PACIFIC INSURANCE

The financial impacts of these risks to Tower/NPI have not been assessed as there isn't enough information to inform reasonable impact estimates. Having said that, the Tower/NPI Product Teams are monitoring the situation to identifying any emerging adverse experience.

Reinsurance Arrangements

As stated above, there is no material risk of increased claims arising from a pandemic. Hence, reinsurance considerations are not relevant to Tower/NPI.

Community

From a community perspective, our office has health notices prominently displayed, along with hand sanitisers. We are increasing the frequency and intensity of our office cleaning rotations. We have commenced the recording of all appointments with external parties and are recording visits by customers, contractors and members of the public via a visitor book so that we can contribute to the national health organisations tracing needs, if required.

In addition to this, we are currently investigating what additional community support we could provide in the event of an outbreak in American Samoa.

Next Steps

Over the coming week, Tower and NPI offices will be continuing to refine the PMP and BCP. If there is any material change to our position in this regard, we will bring this to your attention at the earliest opportunity.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require any further information,

Yours sincerely

Paula ter Brake

Good afternoon Collette,

I hope all is well with you.

Districts in NY are inquiring about the use of the unused 2019-20 SIG funds (formally funded under 1003(g)) due to the extended school closures as a result of COVID-19. Is there any guidance from your office about extending the funding for another year or rolling over these funds into the 2020-21 school year?

Your assistance and guidance is greatly appreciated.

Good Morning

I know all of you are being bombarded with questions. This such a crazy time. Hang in there – You've got this!

I am working with a school that decided to extend break, but did not notify DOE.

1. What actions need to take place at this point?
2. Does the school need to extend spring term to meet the minimum weeks in the term requirement?

Could you provide the best guidance on how schools convert to a Pass/Fail grading system until things are back to normal?

1. How does effect SAP?
2. How are GPAs impacted?
3. Are there any other ramifications in converting to Pass/Fail

Are schools REQUIRED to refund room/board charges? If a school is past the 60% mark in the term, is the guidance that a school must refund the charges or it is an institutional decision based on their internal guidelines?

Thanks in advance. You are all doing an amazing job!

Take care –

Hello Robin,
Thank you for your question on your questions related to developing Federal Title Programs in regards to COVID-19. Since this is a statute related question, we are forwarding your question to your ED Federal Program Officer (FPO), Francisco Ramirez, as well as the new COVID-19 specific email address to streamline questions related to COVID-19 that the Department has set-up. Please note that the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools and communities as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available. Please continue to include both in your emails so we can track these inquiries related to COVID-19.

Also, can you clarify your question(s)? I was not clear on which question(s) that you were seeking answers for: 1) whether paid position can continue to be funded at this time [under COVID-19], or 2) the question under the Q&A that had an missing answer about reallocated funding for activities cancelled due to COVID-19. Please highlight your question in yellow please.

- I am wondering about positions paid with Title IV funds, such as out School Resource Officers. Can they continue being paid during this time if they have worked out a plan with their local districts on how to support students and families during this time? Thoughts?
- Q. Our district applied for reallocated funding for activities that have been canceled due to COVID-19. Will we lose those funds?

External email alert: Be wary of links & attachments.

Kelly, We have been asked to develop a Federal Title Programs in regards to COVID. I am wondering about positions paid with Title IV funds, such as out School Resource Officers. Can they continue being paid during this time if they have worked out a plan with their local districts on how to support students and families during this time? Thoughts?

Q. Our school will be implementing a Distance Learning plan with students. Can we still pay our federally funded employees, e.g. Title I, II, III, IV during this time?

A. Yes. As long as the LEA treats its non-federally funded employees the same as its federally funded employees (2 CPR 200.431(a)), then federally funded staff can continue to be paid as normal despite school closures. This includes certified and non-certified staff, at both public and nonpublic schools.

Q. Our school is closed but will operate via distance learning. Can we offer Title services in this same manner through our certified Title staff?

A. Yes. As classroom certified staff are expected to support students during e-learning, so must the federally funded certified staff, including equitable services at non-public schools. The Title I certified staff should collaborate with the administrators and classroom certified staff to determine the best method to carry this out. For example, the Title I staff could be a second set of educators that reach out to ensure e-learning lessons are understood and completed by students. Or Title I staff could conduct small groups virtually with students in need of additional support. This is determined locally, including through consultation for equitable services at non-public schools. However, the LEA may also decide to have Title I staff conduct alternate activities as well, such as participate in virtual professional development, update the Title I schoolwide plan, plan future professional development activities when staff returns, and so on.

Q. How must the LEA provide services to English learners during school closure?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A. If the school is closed and not operating virtually, no services are required for English learners or students with disabilities. However, if the school is operating via e-learning, the LEA must provide services to English Learners. Note the structure and schedule of services may look different from what the school typically offers when meeting in person, but EL staff must collaborate with certified classroom teachers to ensure the e-learning content and delivery are accessible for ELs and that ILPs are followed.

Q. Our LEA has paid for activities with federal funds, such as professional development conferences under Title II, that are now cancelled, or the LEA does not want to participate due to restrictions. How should we proceed?

A. The LEA should attempt to recoup all fees paid so that the funding may be repurposed for an alternate activity. In the case that certain funds cannot be recouped due to vendors that will not refund the costs but will provide vouchers, consider rescheduling at a later date within the same project period. If all else fails and certain funds are lost, then keep documentation of the attempt to recoup the costs and the LEA may still charge the lost funds to the federal award. If the LEA later receives a refund from the vendor after already seeking reimbursement from NDDPI, this serves as a rebate or cash on hand, which must be either returned to NDDPI or proportionally reduce the next reimbursement under the same project.

Q. Our district applied for reallocated funding for activities that have been canceled due to COVID-19. Will we lose those funds?

Q. How can federal Title program funding (Title I, II, III, IV) be used to support the district's Distance Learning plan?

A. A new document outlining how the federal Title funds ben be used to support distance learning can be accessed here.

Q. If we need further support regarding the federal Title programs, whom do we contact?

A. A chart listing the contact person for each specific program is posted here.

Hi Robin,
Thank you for clarifying your question under Administration and Program Planning and Funding. Your FPO will reply via email with a response to the following questions:

- I am wondering about positions paid with Title IV funds, such as out School Resource Officers. Can they continue being paid during this time if they have worked out a plan with their local districts on how to support students and families during this time?
- I was wondering if they [LEAs] work with their school to adjust their MOU to reflect what they are doing to support the students, families, and schools during this time if that would be appropriate?

Please note, statute related questions regarding Title IV, Part A should be sent, via email to your assigned FPO.

Best,
Brenda

Hello Robin,
Thank you for your question on your questions related to developing Federal Title Programs in regards to COVID-19. Since this is a statute related question, we are forwarding your question to your ED Federal Program Officer (FPO), Francisco Ramirez, as well as the new COVID-19 specific email address to streamline questions related to COVID-19 that the Department has set-up. Please note that the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools and communities as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available. Please continue to include both in your emails so we can track these inquiries related to COVID-19.

Also, can you clarify your question(s)? I was not clear on which question(s) that you were seeking answers for: 1) whether paid position can continue to be funded at this time [under COVID-19], or 2) the question under the Q&A that had an missing answer about reallocated funding for activities cancelled due to COVID-19. Please highlight your question in yellow please.

Q. Our school will be implementing a Distance Learning plan with students. Can we still pay our federally funded employees, e.g. Title I, II, III, IV during this time?

A. Yes. As long as the LEA treats its non-federally funded employees the same as its federally funded employees (2 CPR 200.431(a)), then federally funded staff can continue to be paid as normal despite school closures. This includes certified and non-certified staff, at both public and nonpublic schools.

Subject: Transition to LEAs at age 3

Hi Leslie,
We are getting lots of questions about keeping children who turn 3 in Part C because the school systems are closed. The guidance I've seen so far says that whatever the LEAs offer to children without disabilities during the closure should also be provided to children with disabilities, but I suspect that isn't happening with newly transitioning 3 year olds. Our position to date (right or wrong interpretation by me) has been that if the child transitioned and has an IEP that was to begin on the 3rd birthday, they cannot continue with Part C. If the child was a late referral, etc and turns 3 as of the school closure date and after and did not transition to the LEA yet, had an active IFSP, they can stay continue until the end of the school year date specific to their LEA.

Advocates are pushing for children to remain with us, but I feel the LEA should accept responsibility for the children and not expect that they remain with Part C. Summer is always an issue anyway, as you know, since children frequently don't start services during the summer at all. The impact could be significant with extended stay-at-home time if the push includes March-August 3 year olds. I believe ITCA is addressing this with OSEP, but I am hoping I just didn't miss something from OSEP with all the email updates that are going out.

Thanks for any help, Happy Monday, and hope you are still well.

Hello
I am wondering if you could give guidance around the use of IDEA funds to pay salaries and hourly employees if school has been closed by the governor. Also should private providers of special education be expected to receive continued tuition for students who are attending remotely or the parent has said they cannot attend the program at the private provider? If staff are working but not the full day as it is now remote, can they still be paid for their normal hours?

Any help or guidance you can provide would be great. As a new director I am seeking as much support as I can get.

Subject: Written Parent Consent for Special Circumstances Question (URGENT)

Good morning. Please advise on the following:

What are the flexibilities in obtaining compliant written parent consent for IDEA evaluations, eligibility determinations, or change of service in the following scenarios:

1) Rural areas do not have house mailboxes; the residents pick up their mail from a centralized post office. Due to COVID-19 health crisis, residents are not going to the post office and/or post masters are on abbreviated face-to-face schedules.

2) Rural areas and environmentally/demographically challenged households do not have internet or media to complete an electronic signature process.

Please note these example(s):

Once a parent has been provided (verbal explanation/discussion) with the PARENT AND CHILD RIGHTS IN SPECIAL EDUCATIONPROCEDURAL SAFEGUARDS NOTICE,

1) Can a parent print out an email attachment of the documents, video themselves signing the document, and send this to the LEA or IEP/EDT teams to document the process on the PWN?

2) Can a parent verbally accept the rights and give a verbal consent in a conference call with an IEP team as witness?

Thank you for your guidance. A prompt response would be greatly appreciated.

Dear Department of Education,

To assist with virtual learning during the COVID-19 pandemic, we're hoping you can share the valuable resources the National Institute of General Medical Sciences (NIGMS) with the National Institutes of Health (NIH) supports for STEM and career-related training resources. NIGMS is sharing these resources with our audiences on Twitter and Facebook using the hashtag: #NIGMSVirtualLearning. We've also recently issued the following posts for our blog audiences:

1. BioBeat: Explore Our Virtual Learning STEM Resources -- highlights STEM/K-12 Resources, including our latest issue of Pathways (w/ Scholastic) on circadian rhythms and Science Education Partnership Award (SEPA) resources related to COVID-19. There are also two NIH-funded citizen science video games (both now being used to help with COVID-19): FoldIt and EteRNA.

2. Feedback Loop: NIGMS Virtual Learning Resources for Scientists at All Career Stages -- highlights a variety of training and related resources for undergrads through faculty levels. These include training modules on rigor and reproducibility, a variety of scientific videos, virtual mentoring opportunities, and more.

Please help us get the word out to the broader scientific community through your webpages and newsletter or by sharing the social media posts mentioned above.

To whom this may concern

I am a US-citizen. Currently studying at a Foreign University abroad full time to complete a Masters degree in Medicine. I am currently enrolled into my 4th semester here and received contacting teaching for the first 5 weeks before COVID-19 situation was initiated a pandemic by the WHO. Quarantine has been issued until 15th of May in which contacting teaching will resume as normal. In the time being online teaching has been instituted as a way to ensure we do not fall behind in our course and can still finish as normal. My university is listed below.

Masaryk University does not have U.S. tax ID number and therefore cannot provide 1098-T forms for year 2019. We are sorry for the inconvenience.

- Direct Loan Participation Acknowledgement: Masarykova Univerzita
- OPE ID: 03565300
- Direct Loan School ID: G35653

My question is as follows: Will I still be-able to receive my 2nd disruptment for my loan as of this crisis ? As I have had contact lesson and will return to them soon and the online teaching aspect is only instigated for a short period.

Kind regards Cameron Kyle Jansen van Rensburg

To Whom It May Concern:

The NC Community College System Office is considering an optional process for colleges to use the Incomplete grade to mitigate the impact of COVID-19. Please see the below scenario and question. Please feel free to elaborate to help us identify other options if this scenario needs to be adjusted. Thanks. JW

Scenario: We would like to create a unique incomplete grade for emergency situations (e.g., IE – Incomplete Emergency) to be used with an emergency splitting of the course. For example, welding courses are not available online. So, the faculty member would assign the grade IE to students who choose not to withdraw and want to complete in a future semester. The faculty notes their grade at that time. The college creates a Part B to the course that covers the remaining content of the welding course and makes it available either during the Summer 2020 term and/or the Fall 2020 term. The Part B course will have appropriate SHC but will not count toward graduation and not count in the registration credits for financial aid purposes. Students with the IE in the original welding course are eligible to enroll. After the student completes the Part B course, then the faculty member would submit the final grade replacing the IE in the original welding course. Students who do not enroll in the part B course by the college's deadline would receive a final grade as if the Part B content was not completed (e.g., some students may receive a failing grade and some students could receive a passing grade because their grades were "high" before the IE.).

Questions: Would the IE course impact SAP and other financial aid regulations? Would the Part B course impact SAP and other financial aid regulations? Giving an incomplete grade for all classes may not be used as an alternative to withdrawing a student who has ceased attendance during a payment period r period of enrollment. When a student ceases to attend during a payment period he or she must be considered withdrawn, the institution has 30 days from the date of determination and 45 days from the date of determination to perform the R2T4 calculation and make the returns to program funds respectively. You can give the incomplete mark, but at those break points you would have to perform the necessary steps associated with R2T4. It would be easier to place all of these students an approved LOA, which may last up to 180 days and negates their having to be considered withdrawn. For those who do not return, it does mean considering them withdrawn at the point they ceased attending. However passage of the CARES Act may mitigate the effects of thant.

Subject: extending permission for distance, online learning during C0vid

I direct an institution that generally offers site based learning. Due to the virus that has affected every institution of learning, as our students went home, we quickly opted for a platform for online instruction, some teleconferencing with strict requirements for attendance (=participation) , assignments and regular student outcomes so that, G-d Willing, when this is all over, there is supporting documentation to assign grades and give credit for a semester that was so abruptly halted.

My question is as follows:

Our accrediting agency does not have authority to review distance learning. How will this affect our student's credits and PEL? We would like to offer our students some real guidance. Our instructors have extended themselves to prepare for the more challenging form of instruction either on line or via phone conference and so far, both students and instructors are pleased that learning has continued uninterrupted. We have extended ourselves financially to serve our students during this time and might change our policy if we knew that no credits could be awarded for the semester. Students would also be reluctant to put in so much work for a semester that will have no credit value as well as a cessation of their PEL grants for those few who are eligible. Our agency doesn't have answers and our students are asking for them. What is general DOE policy in these turbulent times? Would you send me a policy document that would answer this question?

Thank you,

Good Morning

I know all of you are being bombarded with questions. This such a crazy time. Hang in there – You've got this!

I am working with a school that decided to extend break, but did not notify DOE.

1. What actions need to take place at this point?
2. Does the school need to extend spring term to meet the minimum weeks in the term requirement?

Could you provide the best guidance on how schools convert to a Pass/Fail grading system until things are back to normal?

1. How does effect SAP?
2. How are GPAs impacted?
3. Are there any other ramifications in converting to Pass/Fail

Are schools REQUIRED to refund room/board charges? If a school is past the 60% mark in the term, is the guidance that a school must refund the charges or it is an institutional decision based on their internal guidelines?

Thanks in advance. You are all doing an amazing job!

Take care –

To Whom It May Concern:
Our medical school is being requested by the state of Michigan and our affiliate health system to allow our students that have met graduation requirements to graduate early so that they may begin practice and support the care of infected patients.
While the guidance provided in the March 5, 2020 (updated March 20) Electronic Announcement as well as ED's responses to questions posed by NASFAA regarding this issue are instructive, our question involves compliance with Revised Policy for Standard Term Length.
Question: Does the graduation date need to be at least 14 weeks after the term start date in order to remain compliant with the minimum length specified in the revised policy OR could our school graduate students who meet requirements before the 14 weeks and remain compliant given the current unique circumstances COVID-19 has presented?
Many thank in advance for your assistnace with this question.

1. If the extra week of break took our academic year from 32 weeks to 31 weeks, do we need to seek Ed approval, or as long as we stay at least 30 weeks, is this okay without School Participation Team approval?

2. My understanding is that we are to pay FWS students based on their scheduled hours. I understand scheduled hours to be the hours the student agreed to work on their FWS contract. If this is the case, what happens if a College over expends their FWS allocation for the year? This could easily happen especially with a college that matches FWS. Please Advise.

Good morning,

In reviewing the COVID-19 FAQs published, the department is extending the flexibility for institution to extend the length of a term to respond to COVID-19, causing the term to overlap a subsequent term. In this limited circumstance the institution may continue to consider its terms to be standard terms, allowing both the use of a scheduled academic year (SAY) for Direct Loan funds and Pell Grant Formula 1.

Would the above flexibility also be permissible for our upcoming summer term, allowing the term to overlap our fall term, as long as it is due to our response to COVID-19?

Q: Our administrators and directors are meeting this afternoon to discuss the possibility of reimbursing students for room and board. What will be the implications/impact on Title IV funds? Can we adjust the Cost of Attendance? If so, how do we handle the credit balance?

A: *If, as a result of the COVID-19 outbreak, your institution provides a refund or waiver of expenses for all or part of a student's tuition, fees, room and board charges, or other institutional charges, or if you become aware that a student has moved off campus for the remainder of the term, the Department will not require a re-evaluation of the student's cost of attendance. Hi, I know you are going through a very tough time as we all are and I appreciate your help in advance.

Recently the State of Florida issued a statement that parents can decide if they want their child to repeat a grade due to teh Corona Virus. I was wondering is this will be a country wide decision as well. I spoke about it to my son and we both agreed that by going back to freshman year of HS would be extremely beneficial to him again due to this unforeseen event. Do you think that your department will not only allow Florida (and what I am hearing a few others states soon) but others to allow this as well?

Thank you again for your time and your tremendous effort during this time.

Hello,

Please review the following questions and answers that External Comms feel best address the issues raised in the email below.

Q: With the guidance about changes in the academic terms structure presented in November 2019, we were told that terms do not have to be equal length and could be 14-21 weeks. On Tuesday, it was shared by NASFAA that flexibility was granted, due to COVID-19, that we could overlap our term into the summer and where we would normally be considered non-standard because of such, we would not. Is this correct?

A: Yes, the Department is extending the flexibility described in the March 5, 2020 electronic announcement to schedules that would otherwise be nonterm as well; for example, an extended spring term that will overlap with a summer term. If an institution extends the length of a term to respond to COVID-19, causing the term to overlap a subsequent term, in this limited circumstance the institution may continue to consider its terms to be standard terms, allowing both the use of a scheduled academic year (SAY) for Direct Loan funds and Pell Grant Formula 1.

Q: Is it accurate that although we have guidance to crossover into the next term, it does not eliminate the academic term length guidance - essentially only have one week to utilize to make up the lost week based on our current term length of 20 weeks?

A: The Department is authorized under 34 CFR § 668.3 to approve a reduced academic year. If at any point an institution determines it will close as the result of a campus health emergency, it may contact the School Participation team to request a temporary reduction in the length of its academic year.*

Hi AskA Fed,

With the guidance about changes in the academic terms structure presented in November 2019, we were told that terms do not have to be equal length and could be 14-21 weeks. On Tuesday, it was shared by NASFAA that flexibility was granted, due to COVID-19, that we could overlap our term into the summer and where we would normally be considered non standard because of such, we would not. Is this correct? If so, here's a scenario that I'd like you to confirm my accuracy.

We are an institution that has a j-term, a three (3) week session that is attached to our Spring 2020 semester - which is 17 weeks. Therefore, our Spring term is a total of 20 weeks. Due to COVID, our institution wants to extend our spring break next week. However, it wants to make up the instruction in summer. I understand if we do the extended spring break and do nothing it's a reduced academic year which I must get permission from our School Participation Office. Spring ends on May 15, 2020 and Summer begins the next week on May 16, 2020. Is it accurate that although we have guidance to crossover into the next term, it does not eliminate the academic term length guidance - essentially only have one week to utilize to make up the lost week based on our current term length of 20 weeks?

Subject: RE: FWS Question Regarding the COVID-19 Disaster

Good Afternoon:

Thank you again. I am writing because a number of other questions have arisen and I believe that ED is in the process of developing additional FAQs.

1. Verification: I spoke to Jackie Butler about this one and she said she would pass it on to you. AVG-90 of the 2019-2020 FSAH states that a student who cannot appear at school must go to a notary public and sign the statement of educational purpose. The statement with the wet signature, a certification form the notary, and a copy of the government issued photo ID must be submitted. If the student must remain at home, how will he/she obtain a notary public certification?
2. Verification: If the student must document his/her high school graduation but the school district or state department is not available to confirm the student's high school graduation, how will the student prove he/she graduated high school particularly since AVG-89 of the 2019-2020 FSAH states a student's self-certification of high school graduation is not acceptable?
3. Early Graduation from Medical School: We understand that NASFAA has confirmed with the Department of Education that institutions have been asked by state authorities to permit 4th year medical students to graduate 3 weeks early to assist on the front lines of the COVID-19 disaster. The semester would remain at 16 weeks in length and the academic year would still exceed 30 weeks of instructional time. We have been advised that ED stated that an offer of early graduation was an institutional decision. It would not impact the student's Direct Loan eligibility as all Direct Loans have been disbursed. Further, ED is not requiring adjustments to loan periods in COD, as would normally be the case. According to NASFAA, ED concluded that if the school will continue to meet academic year requirements, there will be no Title IV aid unintended consequences. Do you agree?
4. Can you advise how and when the Education Relief fund dollars in the COVID-19 Relief bill will be distributed?

Thank you for your assistance. I hope these questions make it into the next FAQs. Please let me know if you have any questions for me. Stay well everyone!

Regards, Sharon

Subject: FWS Question Regarding the COVID-19 Disaster

A student is enrolled and in attendance in a term, which has already begun, and was awarded and scheduled for a FWS position that involved offering literacy training. However, the student had not begun her FWS work at the time the institution suspended its on-ground training and moved to a distance education format at the onset of the COVID-19 disaster. The March 5, 2020 guidance states that "the institution may continue [emphasis added] paying the student Federal work-study wages during that closure if it occurred after the beginning of the term and the institution is continuing to pay its other employees (including faculty and staff), and the institution continues to meet its institutional wage share requirement." Further, on March 20, 2020, the guidance states: "Yes. The FWS guidance in the Electronic Announcement dated March 5, 2020, applies when the student is unable to work because the school made the decision to move to online/distance education classes and the institution meets the conditions described below."

At the time of the COVID-19 disaster, while the student was scheduled to begin her FWS work, she had not started and therefore, was not paid as yet. Although the student is now unable to work because of the move to the distance education format, may she be paid her FWS wages for the hours for which she was scheduled because she is now unable to begin work?

If the answer is no, can the institution request a waiver of the literacy requirement under 34 C.F.R. § 675.18(g)(1)? The student's position was to be employed in a literacy program and if the student cannot be employed and paid, the institution will not be able to meet the requirement of including employment in a literacy program as part of the community service requirement for FWS positions.

Thank you for your consideration.

Hello,

I have seen reports on TV that the kids across the country, mostly in CA & NY are dealing with tremendous amounts of stress trying to do internet learning and dealing with quarantine's etc. I don't understand why these schools aren't just having the kids technically do their Summer out of school during Spring, just switch the 2 and when Summer comes, they go back to school. Or they could temporarily go to a Year round schedule until all are caught up.Just my thoughts. Has anyone else thought of this?

To Whom It May Concern:

Please see below additional questions from NC Community College System financial aid administrators in North Carolina. If possible, please review these questions and provide your responses to me as soon as possible. Additional questions may be submitted to you as they arise.

1. If the extra week of break took our academic year from 32 weeks to 31 weeks, do we need to seek Ed approval, or as long as we stay at least 30 weeks, is this okay without School Participation Team approval? No.

2. My understanding is that we are to pay FWS students based on their scheduled hours. I understand scheduled hours to be the hours the student agreed to work on their FWS contract. If this is the case, what happens if a College over expends their FWS allocation for the year? This could easily happen especially with a college that matches FWS. Please Advise. As you are aware, Campus-Based allocations consist of a fixed amount of funding. The current situation has not changed that. You can only pay scheduled hours up to the point your funding allows. It may not be possible to pay all students.

Thank you in advance for your assistance.

Hello Michael,

I hope this email finds you well. You and I had a chance to meet briefly this Fall at an event about Income Share Agreements where Debra Chromy introduced us. I can imagine your world is quite crazy right now which is why I very much appreciate you taking a moment to answer a quick question I have.

At Marymount, like all other Higher Education institutions, we are watching closely for guidance on the details about the student reimbursement requirements from the CARES Act. As I understand it, your office is the one that will be setting up these guidelines/requirements. Is that an accurate assessment?

If so, do you have any idea when institutions will receive the information?

We are specifically wanting to know if the housing and dining credits we have promised students who have vacated our facilities can be covered by the emergency student aid earmarked in the CARES Act.

Thanks in advance for any information you can share.

Hello Michael,

It was nice speaking with you and your colleague at the Life Capital DC event last week. Debra Chromy from the Education Finance Council introduced us briefly and she might have shared that I am the chief strategy officer at Marymount University in Arlington, VA.

Marymount began two ISA programs this year. One for "last mile" funding available to students who maintain a balance at graduation, thus limiting their access to their transcripts and diplomas. The second for financial hardship scenarios whereby students are referred to us because of some life circumstances that might otherwise inhibit their ability to continue at Marymount.

As the DOE explores the ISA landscape, we at Marymount are happy to assist in any way we can.

Have a great week.

Hello:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Because of the disruption to USDA supported meals in the West Philadelphia Promise Neighborhood cited in the attached e-mail already referred to the coronavirus mailbox to ask for guidance on how the grantee can address this policy issue with the City and USDA, we are seeking approval to advise the grantee they can use Promise Neighborhood (PN) funds to replace these meals until the matter is resolved.

The West Philadelphia Promise Neighborhood is a food desert, with the average child in the neighborhood consuming only 2.75 servings of fruits and/or vegetables a day" before the onset of the grant. (page e 32 of the original grant application)

While there are corner stores located in the in the footprint, these establishments tend to be more expensive than grocery stores and generally do not offer healthy food choices (page e288)

Poverty is high with "All students within the Promise Zone are eligible to benefit from free and reduced priced lunch at school. (page e282)

To address this, the grantee proposed on page e 97 to
Activities: (page e97) "develop pay-what-you-can food cupboard for Promise Neighborhood families" and "Offer free daily meals for families" as part of their required Non-Federal match.

One of the grantee's proposed and approved outputs is to increase the number of families accessing free healthy meals (page e 101)

Section 4624(d) of the Every Student Suceeds Act (ESSA) authorizes the use of PN funds to implement pipeline services. The definition of these includes, in Section 4622(3)(g), nutrition services. Because we have a GPRA measure on fruit and vegetable consumption such food should, as much as possible, include substantial proportions of fruits and vegetables. This could be in the form of vegetable and fruit juices that do not have added sweeteners

For these reasons, we think the temporary replacement of the USDA meals program until the policy issues relating to their distribution affected by Corona virus related school closure, is an allowable expense under PN and essential to avoid starvation in the area.

To clarify there are really three asks:

First, do you want to address the interagency issue regarding the City of Philadelphia believing USDA rules prohibit them from providing food under the School Breakfast and School Lunch programs while schools are closed?

Second, we want to know if it is okay to use PN funds to temporarily replace the food usually provided through USDA funds until this policy issue is resolved with or without ED involvement. Our program attorney thinks it is ok to do so if it fits within the original application of this grantee, which it does, but he wanted concurrence from you. (Please see attached note from him. In that note it is the second item)

Third, we want to know if it is okay to send the grantee a link to the USDA websites so they can understand another agency's policy around feeding sites and any flexibilities and also, if they want, to find a contact person with USDA who could perhaps provide further assistance on this policy matter. (Please see attached note from Program attorney. In that note it is the first item)

Richard:

On your first question, I think we could share this link with the grantee on the USDA – they might be able to figure out a contact from that: https://www.usda.gov/media/press-releases/2020/03/26/usda-makes-it-easier-feed-kids-and-those-who-need-food-during-covid. It appears that USDA is revising some of its rules, and this happened very recently, which may be of help to your grantee. I think sharing information on what is on another agency's website is ok. But, I'd check in with OESE's front office.

On the use of PN grant funds for this purpose, I'd work with OESE's front office, there is supposed to be a Rapid Response Team responding to questions like this, which might end up going through Department-wide clearance. I think we'd look at their grant application to see how nutrition services fit in to their project, but agree that PN might be uniquely situated to adapt to this kind of situation given the range of services it provides and the goal of integrating those services to improve overall educational performance. So, I think we should check the application and make sure this is in scope. If it is, I think we can approve it.

Hello Ron:

I hope things are well. My apologies for adding to your tremendous workload during this extremely busy time.

As you will see from the e-mail chain below it appears that City of Philadelphia interpretation of U.S. Department of Agriculture feeding site rules is preventing children from receiving meals under the School Breakfast and School Lunch program due to the virus related closure of schools in the West Philadelphia Promise Neighborhood.

In addition to wanting to make you aware of this issue, which we will also forward to the Coronavirus mailbox, we are wondering whether the rules regarding the issues to be forwarded to the Corona virus mailbox prevent us from trying to find a contact person at USDA for the grantee to contact?

Furthermore, while we await the resolution of this USDA matter we would like to authorize the grantee to use PN funds to purchase nutritious food that includes fruits and vegetables and therefore meets the PN GPRA measure on nutrition to temporarily replace the USDA meals. Our view is that skipping meals does not further students educational success including in the reading activities this grantee is encouraging during school closures through book distribution. In addition, skipping meals for a consistent period is also likely to lead to long-term health problems that will persist when schools reopens and therefor will likely impact student learning in the long-term.

We believe there is authority for this in in Section 4624(d) of the Every Student Suceeds Act (ESSA) for this as it authorizes the use of PN funds to implement pipeline services. The definition of these includes, in Section 4622(3)(g), nutrition services.

Please let us know your thoughts.

Richard and Elson,
I'm writing to ask for guidance once again. We are struggling to get a feeding site into Mantua through the School District/City. The District is currently only offering meals two times a week and children are getting three meals at a time. They are saying that there are challenges around freezer space and other requirements at the two closest schools and families are expected to travel almost a mile to get meals which is unrealistic. A civic leader has been renting a truck and picking up meals and distributing block by block to families but she is now ill. We are working to creatively provide support through a network of partners but it is not the most efficient solution. The University has offered to rent freezers if needed. We identified a food pantry that was willing to support distribution but the City is citing federal regulations that prohibit the District from distributing children's meals at non-school sites. Our question is if you know any way to get a waiver for this given that our school-based sites don't meet the criteria and kids are going hungry in a pandemic.

Thanks,
Joanne

To Whom It May Concern:

The NC Community College System Office is considering an optional process for colleges to use the Incomplete grade to mitigate the impact of COVID-19. Please see the below scenario and question. Please feel free to elaborate to help us identify other options if this scenario needs to be adjusted. Thanks. JW

Scenario: We would like to create a unique incomplete grade for emergency situations (e.g., IE – Incomplete Emergency) to be used with an emergency splitting of the course. For example, welding courses are not available online. So, the faculty member would assign the grade IE to students who choose not to withdraw and want to complete in a future semester. The faculty notes their grade at that time. The college creates a Part B to the course that covers the remaining content of the welding course and makes it available either during the Summer 2020 term and/or the Fall 2020 term. The Part B course will have appropriate SHC but will not count toward graduation and not count in the registration credits for financial aid purposes. Students with the IE in the original welding course are eligible to enroll. After the student completes the Part B course, then the faculty member would submit the final grade replacing the IE in the original welding course. Students who do not enroll in the part B course by the college's deadline would receive a final grade as if the Part B content was not completed (e.g., some students may receive a failing grade and some students could receive a passing grade because their grades were "high" before the IE.).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Questions: Would the IE course impact SAP and other financial aid regulations? Would the Part B course impact SAP and other financial aid regulations? Giving an incomplete grade for all classes may not be used as an alternative to withdrawing a student who has ceased attendance during a payment period r period of enrollment. When a student ceases to attend during a payment period he or she must be considered withdrawn, the institution has 30 days from the date of determination and 45 days from the date of determination to perform the R2T4 calculation and make the returns to program funds respectively. You can give the incomplete mark, but at those break points you would have to perform the necessary steps associated with R2T4. It would be easier to place all of these students an approved LOA, which may last up to 180 days and negates their having to be considered withdrawn. For those who do not return, it does mean considering them withdrawn at the point they ceased attending. However passage of the CARES Act may mitigate the effects of thant.

Hi Robin,
Thank you for clarifying your question under Administration and Program Planning and Funding. Your FPO will reply via email with a response to the following questions:

- I am wondering about positions paid with Title IV funds, such as out School Resource Officers. Can they continue being paid during this time if they have worked out a plan with their local districts on how to support students and families during this time?
- I was wondering if they [LEAs] work with their school to adjust their MOU to reflect what they are doing to support the students, families, and schools during this time if that would be appropriate?

Please note, statute related questions regarding Title IV, Part A should be sent, via email to your assigned FPO.

Hello Robin,
Thank you for your question on your questions related to developing Federal Title Programs in regards to COVID-19. Since this is a statute related question, we are forwarding your question to your ED Federal Program Officer (FPO), Francisco Ramirez, as well as the new COVID-19 specific email address to streamline questions related to COVID-19 that the Department has set-up. Please note that the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools and communities as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available. Please continue to include both in your emails so we can track these inquiries related to COVID-19.

Also, can you clarify your question(s)? I was not clear on which question(s) that you were seeking answers for: 1) whether paid position can continue to be funded at this time [under COVID-19], or 2) the question under the Q&A that had an missing answer about reallocated funding for activities cancelled due to COVID-19. Kelly, We have been asked to develop a Federal Title Programs in regards to COVID. I am wondering about positions paid with Title IV funds, such as out School Resource Officers. Can they continue being paid during this time if they have worked out a plan with their local districts on how to support students and families during this time? Thoughts?

Q. Our school will be implementing a Distance Learning plan with students. Can we still pay our federally funded employees, e.g. Title I, II, III, IV during this time?

A. Yes. As long as the LEA treats its non-federally funded employees the same as its federally funded employees (2 CPR 200.431(a)), then federally funded staff can continue to be paid as normal despite school closures. This includes certified and non-certified staff, at both public and nonpublic schools.

Q. Our school is closed but will operate via distance learning. Can we offer Title services in this same manner through our certified Title staff?

A. Yes. As classroom certified staff are expected to support students during e-learning, so must the federally funded certified staff, including equitable services at non-public schools. The Title I certified staff should collaborate with the administrators and classroom certified staff to determine the best method to carry this out. For example, the Title I staff could be a second set of educators that reach out to ensure e-learning lessons are understood and completed by students. Or Title I staff could conduct small groups virtually with students in need of additional support. This is determined locally, including through consultation for equitable services at non-public schools. However, the LEA may also decide to have Title I staff conduct alternate activities as well, such as participate in virtual professional development, update the Title I schoolwide plan, plan future professional development activities when staff returns, and so on.

Q. How must the LEA provide services to English learners during school closure?

A. If the school is closed and not operating virtually, no services are required for English learners or students with disabilities. However, if the school is operating via e-learning, the LEA must provide services to English Learners. Note the structure and schedule of services may look different from what the school typically offers when meeting in person, but EL staff must collaborate with certified classroom teachers to ensure the e-learning content and delivery are accessible for ELs and that ILPs are followed.

Q. Our LEA has paid for activities with federal funds, such as professional development conferences under Title II, that are now cancelled, or the LEA does not want to participate due to restrictions. How should we proceed?

A. The LEA should attempt to recoup all fees paid so that the funding may be repurposed for an alternate activity. In the case that certain funds cannot be recouped due to vendors that will not refund the costs but will provide vouchers, consider rescheduling at a later date within the same project period. If all else fails and certain funds are lost, then keep documentation of the attempt to recoup the costs and the LEA may still charge the lost funds to the federal award. If the LEA later receives a refund from the vendor after already seeking reimbursement from NDDPI, this serves as a rebate or cash on hand, which must be either returned to NDDPI or proportionally reduce the next reimbursement under the same project.

Q. Our district applied for reallocated funding for activities that have been canceled due to COVID-19. Will we lose those funds?

Q. How can federal Title program funding (Title I, II, III, IV) be used to support the district's Distance Learning plan?

A. A new document outlining how the federal Title funds ben be used to support distance learning can be accessed here.

Q. If we need further support regarding the federal Title programs, whom do we contact?

A. A chart listing the contact person for each specific program is posted here.

Hi Robin,
Thank you for clarifying your question under Administration and Program Planning and Funding. Your FPO will reply via email with a response to the following questions:

- I am wondering about positions paid with Title IV funds, such as out School Resource Officers. Can they continue being paid during this time if they have worked out a plan with their local districts on how to support students and families during this time?
- I was wondering if they [LEAs] work with their school to adjust their MOU to reflect what they are doing to support the students, families, and schools during this time if that would be appropriate?

Please note, statute related questions regarding Title IV, Part A should be sent, via email to your assigned FPO.

Best,

Hello Robin,
Thank you for your question on your questions related to developing Federal Title Programs in regards to COVID-19. Since this is a statute related question, we are forwarding your question to your ED Federal Program Officer (FPO), Francisco Ramirez, as well as the new COVID-19 specific email address to streamline questions related to COVID-19 that the Department has set-up. Please note that the Department has established a "COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel" webpage, available at www.ed.gov/coronavirus, to support schools and communities as they plan, prepare and potentially respond to possible cases of COVID-19. The Department will regularly update this webpage as more information and guidance becomes available. Please continue to include both in your emails so we can track these inquiries related to COVID-19.

Also, can you clarify your question(s)? I was not clear on which question(s) that you were seeking answers for: 1) whether paid position can continue to be funded at this time [under COVID-19], or 2) the question under the Q&A that had an missing answer about reallocated funding for activities cancelled due to COVID-19. Please highlight your question in yellow please.

- I am wondering about positions paid with Title IV funds, such as out School Resource Officers. Can they continue being paid during this time if they have worked out a plan with their local districts on how to support students and families during this time? Thoughts?
- Q. Our district applied for reallocated funding for activities that have been canceled due to COVID-19. Will we lose those funds?

Respectfully,

Kelly, We have been asked to develop a Federal Title Programs in regards to COVID. I am wondering about positions paid with Title IV funds, such as out School Resource Officers. Can they continue being paid during this time if they have worked out a plan with their local districts on how to support students and families during this time? Thoughts?

Q. Our school will be implementing a Distance Learning plan with students. Can we still pay our federally funded employees, e.g. Title I, II, III, IV during this time?

A. Yes. As long as the LEA treats its non-federally funded employees the same as its federally funded employees (2 CPR 200.431(a)), then federally funded staff can continue to be paid as normal despite school closures. This includes certified and non-certified staff, at both public and nonpublic schools.

Q. Our school is closed but will operate via distance learning. Can we offer Title services in this same manner through our certified Title staff?

A. Yes. As classroom certified staff are expected to support students during e-learning, so must the federally funded certified staff, including equitable services at non-public schools. The Title I certified staff should collaborate with the administrators and classroom certified staff to determine the best method to carry this out. For example, the Title I staff could be a second set of educators that reach out to ensure e-learning lessons are understood and completed by students. Or Title I staff could conduct small groups virtually with students in need of additional support. This is determined locally, including through consultation for equitable services at non-public schools. However, the LEA may also decide to have Title I staff conduct alternate activities as well, such as participate in virtual professional development, update the Title I schoolwide plan, plan future professional development activities when staff returns, and so on.

Q. How must the LEA provide services to English learners during school closure?

A. If the school is closed and not operating virtually, no services are required for English learners or students with disabilities. However, if the school is operating via e-learning, the LEA must provide services to English Learners. Note the structure and schedule of services may look different from what the school typically offers when meeting in person, but EL staff must collaborate with certified classroom teachers to ensure the e-learning content and delivery are accessible for ELs and that ILPs are followed.

Q. Our LEA has paid for activities with federal funds, such as professional development conferences under Title II, that are now cancelled, or the LEA does not want to participate due to restrictions. How should we proceed?

A. The LEA should attempt to recoup all fees paid so that the funding may be repurposed for an alternate activity. In the case that certain funds cannot be recouped due to vendors that will not refund the costs but will provide vouchers, consider rescheduling at a later date within the same project period. If all else fails and certain funds are lost, then keep documentation of the attempt to recoup the costs and the LEA may still charge the lost funds to the federal award. If the LEA later receives a refund from the vendor after already seeking reimbursement from NDDPI, this serves as a rebate or cash on hand, which must be either returned to NDDPI or proportionally reduce the next reimbursement under the same project.

Q. Our district applied for reallocated funding for activities that have been canceled due to COVID-19. Will we lose those funds?

Q. How can federal Title program funding (Title I, II, III, IV) be used to support the district's Distance Learning plan?

A. A new document outlining how the federal Title funds ben be used to support distance learning can be accessed here.

Q. If we need further support regarding the federal Title programs, whom do we contact?

A. A chart listing the contact person for each specific program is posted here.

Hello
I am wondering if you could give guidance around the use of IDEA funds to pay salaries and hourly employees if school has been closed by the governor. Also should private providers of special education be expected to receive continued tuition for students who are attending remotely or the parent has said they cannot attend the program at the private provider? If staff are working but not the full day as it is now remote, can they still be paid for their normal hours?

Any help or guidance you can provide would be great. As a new director I am seeking as much support as I can get.

Good morning. Please advise on the following:

What are the flexibilities in obtaining compliant written parent consent for IDEA evaluations, eligibility determinations, or change of service in the following scenarios:

1) Rural areas do not have house mailboxes; the residents pick up their mail from a centralized post office. Due to COVID-19 health crisis, residents are not going to the post office and/or post masters are on abbreviated face-to-face schedules.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2) Rural areas and environmentally/demographically challenged households do not have internet or media to complete an electronic signature process.

Please note these example(s):

Once a parent has been provided (verbal explanation/discussion) with the PARENT AND CHILD RIGHTS IN SPECIAL EDUCATIONPROCEDURAL SAFEGUARDS NOTICE,

1) Can a parent print out an email attachment of the documents, video themselves signing the document, and send this to the LEA or IEP/EDT teams to document the process on the PWN?

2) Can a parent verbally accept the rights and give a verbal consent in a conference call with an IEP team as witness?

Thank you for your guidance. A prompt response would be greatly appreciated.

Subject: Request extension for SSIP submission

To Whom It May Concern,

Arizona Part C would like to request an extension for the SSIP submission this year due to the current state of emergency declared on a state and national level. DES has an extensive internal correspondence control review process for all reports that are sent out externally that must be reviewed by all leaders and approved before submittal. Due to leaders in the organization having a mandatory focus on the emergency COVID-19 response, the review process is delayed due to the availability of leadership.

Our assumption is that the grant application should be submitted timely. However, we also need to formally request an extension to our DMS visit response. Our Corrective Action Response will also need to follow the same extensive internal correspondence control procedures.

Please let us know if you have any questions,

Dear OIE Formula Grant Team,

We at the Shawnee Public School District hope this message finds you well and in good health. We are formally requesting interim guidance regarding the impact of the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) on Title VI "Indian Education" formula grant implementation. We have legitimate concerns regarding certain flexibilities, waivers, and fiscal management technical assistance that will assist our Indian Education program at this time. We submit the following inquiries to the OIE and OESE office for review:

1. Will grantees be allowed to submit fiscal carryover requests for FY 2019-20 funds unspent due to the impact of COVID-19?
2. Will the formula grant team promulgate technical guidance for carryover requests, particular to any special modifications due to COVID-19?
3. Is it allowed to continue salary expenditures for support personnel assisting with grant implementation?
4. Are districts still expected to conduct open hearings and obtain Indian Parent Committee approvals for FY 2020-2021?
5. What flexibilities exist for Indian Parent Committee signatures obtained via electronic signature or electronic approval via email?
6. What are acceptable formats for conducting the open public hearing for tribal consultation per [20 U.S.C. 7424]?
7. The current ED 506 Forms "Indian Student Eligibility" expired as of 02/29/2020, when does the OIE expect to publish a non-expired version?
8. Will the OIE accept electronically filled ED 506 Forms at this time in order to suppress the potential transmission of COVID-19.

To let you understand the gravity of our concerns, the Shawnee Public School District represents 1151 of American Indian/Alaska Native (AI/AN) students. Tribal diversity in our district is substantial as our district represents over 42 tribal affiliations. We appreciate your time and attention to these inquiries and please do not hesitate to contact our office for additional clarifications.

Good Morning

I know all of you are being bombarded with questions. This such a crazy time. Hang in there – You've got this!

I am working with a school that decided to extend break, but did not notify DOE.

1. What actions need to take place at this point?
2. Does the school need to extend spring term to meet the minimum weeks in the term requirement?

Could you provide the best guidance on how schools convert to a Pass/Fail grading system until things are back to normal?

1. How does effect SAP?
2. How are GPAs impacted?
3. Are there any other ramifications in converting to Pass/Fail

Are schools REQUIRED to refund room/board charges? If a school is past the 60% mark in the term, is the guidance that a school must refund the charges or it is an institutional decision based on their internal guidelines?

Thanks in advance. You are all doing an amazing job!

Take care –

Good evening,
My name is Christine Miller and I'm a student at Pikes Peak Community College (PPCC) in Colorado Springs, Colorado enrolled in the Paralegal Technician Certificate (PTC), a 2 semester program. Our spring semester is set to end on Tuesday, May 12, 2020. A fellow student forwarded me the 'Guidance for interruptions of study related to Coronavirus' to read, as we have been discussing the disruption that the stay-at-home and spacial distancing orders that of course have disrupted our program/classes with everyone else across the world.
I am currently in my second semester of the PTC and am enrolled in four classes plus an internship worth 3 credits, 15 required credits for graduating this May. Prior to Governor Polis' stay-at-home order for all non-essential businesses, currently to expire on Saturday, April 11, 2020, I have been able to work almost 100 hours of the required 135 hours toward earning the credits for my internship at a local attorney's office. I had contacted my professor the week before last to inquire about what will happen with my internship if the stay-at-home order is extended to April 30, 2020, according to the current suggestion this evening by President Trump and to be confirmed in an announcement this Tuesday. In his response, he mentioned that I have the option to take an incomplete if I am unable to complete the required 135 hours and commended me to looking ahead and asking the questions now.
I, however, shared with him that taking an Incomplete just wasn't a current viable option for my situation and was hoping that he would have further options to accommodate the disruption to the program and internship. In reviewing over the guidelines, I notice that you mention 'internships', but forgive me as I need some additional clarification if possible. I understand that you are immensely busy, but if you could help me to understand possible options I could suggest to my professor that are in accordance with Title IV and in line with your suggestion that on a case by case basis accommodations can be made to a currently enrolled student's class or program. Some possible examples, accept hours worked in the internship program if over a certain base number, have letter written by supervising attorney as to what was taught/learned, is there a project that each student can do to replace some internship hours that remain in line with a full class load. These are just a few ideas that have come to mind thus far.
I greatly appreciate your time and any guidance you can give. Thank you!

Dear OIE Formula Grant Team,

We at Moore Public Schools Title VI Indian Education in Moore, Oklahoma hope this message finds you well and in good health. We have legitimate concerns regarding certain flexibilities, waivers, and fiscal management technical assistance that will assist our Indian Education program at this time. We submit the following inquiries to the OIE and OESE office for review:

1. Will grantees be allowed to submit fiscal carryover requests for FY 2019-20 funds unspent due to the impact of COVID-19?

2. Will the formula grant team promulgate technical guidance for carryover requests, particular to any special modifications due to COVID-19?

Hello
I am wondering if you could give guidance around the use of IDEA funds to pay salaries and hourly employees if school has been closed by the governor. Also should private providers of special education be expected to receive continued tuition for students who are attending remotely or the parent has said they cannot attend the program at the private provider? If staff are working but not the full day as it is now remote, can they still be paid for their normal hours?

Any help or guidance you can provide would be great. As a new director I am seeking as much support as I can get.

State Questions for OSEP on Fiscal Implications of COVID-19 School Closures

March 24, 2020

The Center for IDEA Fiscal Reporting (CIFR) held an "Open Doors" Community of Practice webinar for SEA staff with IDEA fiscal responsibilities on March 24, 2020. The purpose of the call was to gather state questions about the near and long-term impacts on the IDEA fiscal requirements associated with school closures and other policy and program actions taken by states and districts to address the COVID-19 pandemic. CIFR staff facilitated the conversation with over 100 SEA participants. The questions have been categorized by topic area and per the state's request we have submitted to the ED COVID-19 email on their behalf. Please contact Dave Phillips, CIFR Co-Director, with questions: dphilli2@wested.org.

Maintenance of State Financial Support (MFS)

- Will there be a blanket waiver for all states for MFS because of COVID-19?
- Will OSEP consider multiple-year MFS waivers?

Local Education Agency Maintenance of Effort (LEA MOE)

- May a state implement a temporary LEA MOE waiver for LEAs?
- Will OSEP require states to pay back LEA MOE failure amounts for FFY 2019 compliance tests? FFY 2020?
- If LEAs expend additional funds in FFY 2019 to address needs arising from COVID-19 and exceeds the original required MOE, may OSEP and SEAs allow LEAs to use the original FFY 2019 required MOE as the comparison amount the following year?
- If an LEA cannot access data and/or files, may an LEA claim estimated exceptions and be found to meet the eligibility requirement for MOE?

Coordinated Early Intervening Services (CEIS)

- What if an LEA fails to spend comprehensive CEIS funds in their period of availability due to COVID-19 school closures?

OSEP Timelines

- Are states still required to State Applications by the due date?
- If a state was required to conduct public hearings due to policy changes, may those be virtual due to the COVID-19 closures?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Use of IDEA Funds (salaries, hourly wages, technology)

- With schools closing, are there any issues with continuing to pay salaried staff with IDEA funds?
- What should states consider when deciding whether IDEA funds may be used to pay contractors in order to keep the contractors when actual services have been suspended?
- What should states consider when deciding whether IDEA funds may be used to pay hourly workers? For example, if buses are being used to transport food to students, may IDEA funds be used to pay vendors for transportation costs if some special education related info/homework/etc. is being provided to students with IEPs on the bus route?

OMB Flexibilities

CIFR received several questions about whether the US Department of Education and OSEP will use the flexibilities made availability by OMB on 3/19/20

- If an LEA has paid for a conference registration fee or plane ticket with IDEA funds for a conference that was cancelled, is the LEA required to recode the expenditure to a non-federal source if they are unable to receive a refund?
- Has USED confirmed that SEAs can delay sending in data files for required federal reporting?
- Due to the unexpected and extended closures of LEAs, will OSEP extend the period of availability for FFY18 and FFY19 IDEA funds?

Proportionate Share for Equitable Services in Private Schools

- If an LEA is not providing any services at all, will it not need to provide equitable services?
- If an LEA is providing services, does it need to do consultations with private schools?
- Do LEAs need to provide compensatory services to students in private schools?
- How may proportionate share funds be used if an LEA cannot spend down all of the set aside for proportionate share due to school closures?

Compensatory Services

- Can compensatory services take place as part of Extended School Year (ESY) services?
- Many states are concerned about compensatory services with any lapse occurring in IEP services when LEAs are not providing instruction. Does OSEP have any guidance on how compensatory services will be paid for and what monies can be used to pay for such services?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Monitoring

- May states adjust their fiscal monitoring timelines and activities due to closures?

To Whom It May Concern:
Please see below additional questions from NC Community College System financial aid administrators in North Carolina. If possible, please review these questions and provide your responses to me as soon as possible. Additional questions may be submitted to you as they arise.

1. If the extra week of break took our academic year from 32 weeks to 31 weeks, do we need to seek Ed approval, or as long as we stay at least 30 weeks, is this okay without School Participation Team approval?

2. My understanding is that we are to pay FWS students based on their scheduled hours. I understand scheduled hours to be the hours the student agreed to work on their FWS contract. If this is the case, what happens if a College over expends their FWS allocation for the year? This could easily happen especially with a college that matches FWS. Please Advise.

Subject: Accommodations for Students with "Suspected" Disabilities during COVID-19

Good morning Cheryl,

I hope that you and your family are well as we navigate this time of uncertainty.

As schools in Michigan are currently closed, many people, myself included have questions regarding how supports will be provided to students with special needs.

I have a rather specific question regarding whether or not school districts have to afford students "suspected" of having a disability with provisional accommodations until a formal evaluation can be completed.

- For example, if the school has started their evaluation (but not finished), and schools reopen with a distance learning format, can students be granted accommodations even though their evaluations are not complete?
- Relatedly, if a student was in the process of being evaluated privately (at parent expense), can they receive "provisional" accommodations from the school district. It seems that the answer would be "yes"; however, I know from my many years or work as a school psychologist in a public school setting that people are often bound by organizational constraints that may prohibit them from doing what they believe is right.

Any guidance you can share would be very much appreciated.

Thank you and take care,
Lisa

Subject: budget changes, etc.
Attachments: M-20-17 (5).pdf

I have read guidance from OMB about potential changes to activities and budgets and reporting due to the changed environment for schools and all of us (one example attached). Is there guidance about how to apply this to our ED grants? For example, what is ED's view of carryover funding due to this disruption? I even can see potential long-term issues that may result in need for No-Cost extensions at the end of some grants…

Alternatively, acute needs have arisen in some areas that may require us to extend critically needed services that we'd not envisioned at the beginning of our projects. What I'm considering, for example, is the need for extended technology support for students (I'm thinking IAL grant here for literacy/STEM support, and potentially for telehealth for Project Prevent's mental health supports) who do not have home access that we'd not anticipated, but additional needs are likely to be identified in the weeks to come. Shifting costs within budget categories is possible in some instances; is there any change in guidance about what is needed to be reported to you all for shifting from one category to another?

Finally, we need direction about reporting, especially for objectives that involve state assessments and other assessments that will not be able to be conducted this year.

Thanks for your support in this challenging time!

M-20-17

MEMORANDUM TO THE HEADS OF EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES

FROM: Margaret Weichert
Deputy Director of Management (b)(6) [redacted]

SUBJECT: Administrative Relief for Recipients and Applicants of Federal Financial Assistance Directly Impacted by the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) due to Loss of Operations

On March 9, 2020, OMB issued M-20-11, "Administrative Relief for Recipients and Applicants of Federal Financial Assistance Directly impacted by the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19)," to provide agencies with additional flexibilities for grants assisting the response to COVID-19. The scope of the M-20-11 was narrowly crafted to provide flexibility to grant recipients performing essential research and services necessary to carry out the emergency response related to COVID-19.

This memorandum provides similar administrative relief listed in M-20-11 to an expanded scope of recipients affected by the loss of operational capacity and increased costs due to the COVID-19 crisis. Many of the operational impacts and costs are unknowable at this point, as they will depend on the spread of the coronavirus and response dictated by public health needs. This memorandum provides short term relief for administrative, financial management, and audit requirements under 2 CFR Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost principles and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards, without compromising Federal financial assistance accountability requirements. As program managers are considering administrative relief, they should be prudent in their stewardship of Federal resources which includes giving consideration to potential offsets—e.g. reduction in training and travel. In addition, the flexibilities provided within this memorandum, agencies are reminded of their existing flexibility to issue exceptions on a case-by-case basis in accordance with 2 CFR § 200.102, Exceptions. M-20-11 shall continue to apply, and Appendix A describes the exceptions granted under this memorandum to recipients affected by the loss of operational capacity. These exceptions are time limited and will be reassessed by OMB within 90 days of this Memo.

Questions regarding the above administrative relief provisions should be directed to Office of Federal Financial Management Grant link at GrantsTeam@omb.eop.gov. ## Appendix A – Administrative Relief Exceptions for COVID-19 Crisis

Federal awarding agencies are authorized to take the following actions, as they deem appropriate and to the extent permitted by law, with respect to the administrative provisions that apply to recipients grantees affected by the COVID-19 (for both recipients with COVID-19 related grants and other types of Federal grants). Awarding agencies are required to maintain records on the level of particular exceptions provided to recipients. For items 6 and 7, awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and documentation to support the charges against the Federal awards.

1. Flexibility with SAM registration. (2 CFR § 200.205)

Awarding agencies can relax the requirement for active System for Award Management (SAM) registration at time of application in order to expeditiously issue funding. At the time of award, the requirements of 2 CFR § 200.205, Federal awarding agency review of risk posed by applicants, continue to apply. Current registrants in SAM with active registrations expiring before May 16, 2020 will be afforded a one-time extension of 60 days.

2. Flexibility with application deadlines. (2 CFR § 200.202)

Awarding agencies may provide flexibility with regard to the submission of competing applications in response to specific announcements, as well as unsolicited applications. As appropriate, agencies should list specific guidance on their websites and/or provide a point of contact for an agency program official.

3. Waiver for Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs) Publication. (2 CFR § 200.203)

For competitive grants and cooperative agreements, awarding agencies can publish emergency Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs) for less than thirty (30) days without separately justifying shortening the timeframe for each NOFO. Awarding agencies would still be required to document and track NOFOs published for less than thirty (30) days under this emergency waiver.

4. No-cost extensions on expiring awards. (2 CFR § 200.308)

To the extent permitted by law, awarding agencies may extend awards which were active as of March 31, 2020 and scheduled to expire prior or up to December 31, 2020, automatically at no-cost for a period of up to twelve (12) months. This will allow time for recipient assessments, the resumption of many individual projects, and a report on program progress and financial status to agency staff. Project-specific financial and performance reports will be due 90 days following the end date of the extension. Awarding agencies will examine the need to extend other project reporting as the need arises.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

5. Abbreviated non-competitive continuation requests. (2 CFR § 200.308)

For continuation requests scheduled to come in from April 1, 2020 to December 31, 2020, from projects with planned future support, awarding agencies may accept a brief statement from recipients to verify that they are in a position to: 1) resume or restore their project activities; and 2) accept a planned continuation award. Awarding agencies should post any specific instructions on their website. Awarding agencies will examine the need to extend this approach on subsequent continuation award start dates as recipients have an opportunity to assess the situation.

6. Allowability of salaries and other project activities. (2 CFR § 200.403, 2 CFR § 200.404, 2 CFR § 200.405)

Awarding agencies may allow recipients to continue to charge salaries and benefits to currently active Federal awards consistent with the recipients' policy of paying salaries (under unexpected or extraordinary circumstances) from all funding sources, Federal and non-Federal. Awarding agencies may allow other costs to be charged to Federal awards necessary to resume activities supported by the award, consistent with applicable Federal cost principles and the benefit to the project. Awarding agencies may also evaluate the grantee's ability to resume the project activity in the future and the appropriateness of future funding, as done under normal circumstances—based on subsequent progress reports and other communications with the grantee. Awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and cost documentation as required by 2 CFR § 200.302 – Financial management and 2 CFR § 200.333 - Retention requirement of records to substantiate the charging of any salaries and other project activities costs related to interruption of operations or services.

7. Allowability of Costs not Normally Chargeable to Awards. (2 CFR § 200.403, 2 CFR § 200.404, 2 CFR § 200.405)

Awarding agencies may allow recipients who incur costs related to the cancellation of events, travel, or other activities necessary and reasonable for the performance of the award, or the pausing and restarting of grant funded activities due to the public health emergency, to charge these costs to their award without regard to 2 CFR § 200.403, Factors affecting allowability of costs, 2 CFR § 200.404, Reasonable costs, and 2 CFR § 200.405, Allocable costs. Awarding agencies may allow recipients to charge full cost of cancellation when the event, travel, or other activities are conducted under the auspices of the grant. Awarding agencies must advise recipients that they should not assume additional funds will be available should the charging of cancellation or other fees result in a shortage of funds to eventually carry out the event or travel. Awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and cost documentation as required by 2 CFR § 200.302 – Financial management and 2 CFR § 200.333 - Retention requirement of records, to substantiate the charging of any cancellation or other fees related to interruption of operations or services. As appropriate, awarding agencies may list additional guidance on specific types of costs on their websites and/or provide a point of contact for an agency program official.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8. Prior approval requirement waivers. (2 CFR § 200.407)

Awarding agencies are authorized to waive prior approval requirements as necessary to effectively address the response. All costs charged to Federal awards must be consistent with Federal cost policy guidelines and the terms of the award, except where specified in this memorandum.

9. Exemption of certain procurement requirements. (2 CFR § 200.319(b), 2 CFR § 200.321)

Awarding agencies may waive the procurement requirements contained in 2 CFR § 200.319(b) regarding geographical preferences and 2 CFR § 200.321 regarding contracting small and minority businesses, women's business enterprises, and labor surplus area firms.

10. Extension of financial, performance, and other reporting. (2 CFR § 200.327, 2 CFR § 200.328)

Awarding agencies may allow grantees to delay submission of financial, performance and other reports up to three (3) months beyond the normal due date. If an agency allows such a delay, grantees will continue to draw down Federal funds without the timely submission of these reports. However, these reports must be submitted at the end of the postponed period. In addition, awarding agencies may waive the requirement for recipients to notify the agency of problems, delays or adverse conditions related to COVID-19 on a grant by grant basis (200 CFR 200.328(d)(1).

11. Extension of currently approved indirect cost rates. (2 CFR § 200.414 (c))

Awarding agencies may allow grantees to continue to use the currently approved indirect cost rates (i.e., predetermined, fixed, or provisional rates) to recover their indirect costs on Federal awards. Agencies may approve grantee requests for an extension on the use of the current rates for one additional year without submission of an indirect cost proposal. Agencies may also approve grantee requests for an extension of the indirect cost rate proposal submission to finalize the current rates and establish future rates.

12. Extension of closeout. (2 CFR § 200.343)

Awarding agencies may allow the grantee to delay submission of any pending financial, performance and other reports required by the terms of the award for the closeout of expired projects, provided that proper notice about the reporting delay is given by the grantee to the agency. This delay in submitting closeout reports may not exceed one year after the award expires.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

13. Extension of Single Audit submission. (2 CFR § 200.512)

Awarding agencies, in their capacity as cognizant or oversight agencies for audit, should allow recipients and subrecipients that have not yet filed their single audits with the Federal Audit Clearinghouse as of the date of the issuance of this memorandum that have fiscal year-ends through June 30, 2020, to delay the completion and submission of the Single Audit reporting package, as required under Subpart F of 2 CFR § 200.501 – Audit Requirements, to six (6) months beyond the normal due date. No further action by awarding agencies is required to enact this extension. This extension does not require individual recipients and subrecipients to seek approval for the extension by the cognizant or oversight agency for audit; however, recipients and subrecipients should maintain documentation of the reason for the delayed filing. Recipients and subrecipients taking advantage of this extension would still qualify as a "low-risk auditee" under the criteria of 2 CFR § 200.520 (a) – Criteria for a low-risk auditee.

If our institution switched a class from in classroom to an online class due to COVID-19 issues and subsequently cancelled the class before the end of the semester, would the student and/or the institution have to repay any student or instructional debt due as a result of R2T4? In this case the students would have been in attendance since the start of semester and already received financial aid.

To Whom It May Concern:

I had contacted the NY Regional Office regarding our decision to extend our spring semester break by one week due to the COVID-19 situation to allow us to migrate to remote learning environment reducing student exposure to COVID-19 and was advised to send an email.

This changed our academic year from a total of 30 weeks to 29 as noted below.

| | Begin/end Dates | Scheduled breaks for R2t4 calc | # of weeks in term for instruction |
|---|---|---|---|
| Fall 2019 | 8/26/19 – 12/18/19 | None | 15 |
| Spring 2020 Old | 1/13/20 – 5/6/20 | 3/8/20 – 3/15/20 | 15 |
| Spring 2020 new | 1/13/20 – 5/6/20 | 3/8/20 – 3/22/20 | 14 |

We are a credit hour school. Please advise of next steps. We are interested in knowing what R2T4 calcs we should be using prior to the decision of extending our spring break. It is our understanding that for students w/d after the new spring break would have a different midpoint or use of Last Date of Academic Related Activity (LDARA).

Thank you. Please feel free to contact me should you have any questions. We are working remotely so my cell phone number is 607-342-8773 if you need to reach me by phone. I do have access to email as well.

Good Morning,

In the guidance I see professional judgement is acceptable due to COVID-19 with appropriate documentation. Our students will be completing the spring semester "on time," but due to the school being physically closed for an unknown amount of time, the usual art exhibition by graduating students will be pushed back months. Is it safe to use professional judgement to increase the COA to allow for graduating students to borrow for the additional months they will be in studio until they're able to hold the art show? What documentation is acceptable? Rent/food/utility bills?

So our semester isn't being extended, but students will be in studio when the school is able to reopen, and then use the summer to prepare for the exhibition to graduate.

Due to COVID-19 our college has had an interruption of our normal operations.

Will there be an extension to the deadline for the required assignment of Perkins loans that are in default for two or more years? Our college had received an email on February 5, 2020 with the requirements and a deadline of 90 days from the date of the email to complete all required processes and to submit the loans for assignment.
As part of the assignment process, the college is supposed to send a letter to the defaulted borrowers to let them know about the loan assignment to the U.S. Department of Education and to provide information on where payments should be sent to the college in the meantime. We have not finished that part of the process yet. Will there be a pause on sending letters such as this and/or collection bills to these defaulted borrowers? Will the calculation of interest for defaulted Perkins be affected in any way?

Subject: extending permission for distance, online learning during C0vid

I direct an institution that generally offers site based learning. Due to the virus that has affected every institution of learning, as our students went home, we quickly opted for a platform for online instruction, some teleconferencing with strict requirements for attendance (=participation) , assignments and regular student outcomes so that, G-d Willing, when this is all over, there is supporting documentation to assign grades and give credit for a semester that was so abruptly halted.

My question is as follows:

Our accrediting agency does not have authority to review distance learning. How will this affect our student's credits and PEL? We would like to offer our students some real guidance. Our instructors have extended themselves to prepare for the more challenging form of instruction either on line or via phone conference and so far, both students and instructors are pleased that learning has continued uninterrupted. We have extended ourselves financially to serve our students during this time and might change our policy if we knew that no credits could be awarded for the semester. Students would also be reluctant to put in so much work for a semester that will have no credit value as well as a cessation of their PEL grants for those few who are eligible. Our agency doesn't have answers and our students are asking for them. What is general DOE policy in these turbulent times? Would you send me a policy document that would answer this question?

Thank you,

Subject: Financial aid questions

I'm reaching out because we've gotten a few questions from law schools about financial aid. I've looked at the existing ED guidance, but still need a little help filling in the details.

1. A number of law schools have existing emergency funds that they are ready to use to give grants to students, but are worried about bumping up against COA limits. They know that if a student has maxed out his/her aid, the emergency grant will have to go towards paying down the loans.
    a. Is professional judgement the only way to get around this?
    b. The SEOG waiver in the CARES Act seems to give schools flexibility in giving that grant to students over COA (i.e., SEOG would not count as financial assistance for the purposes of determining amount of need). Does such a waiver exist for institutional aid/grants? Would ED extend this kind flexibility to schools that have their own emergency grant funds?

2. At least one law school inquired about extending the current spring term for graduating students to August/September. ED's March 20th FAQs seem to indicate that a school can extend the spring term even if it overlaps with a summer term.
    a. How long can the spring term be extended?
    b. Would a school/student be limited to loans up to COA for the school year? In other words, could the school offer more aid to cover living expenses and the cost associated with the online classes?

I really appreciate any guidance you can provide. Schools are ready to act, but want to make sure they are following the rules, so if you could get back to me soon, that would be great.

Best,
Nancy

Good morning Cheryl,

I hope that you and your family are well as we navigate this time of uncertainty.

As schools in Michigan are currently closed, many people, myself included have questions regarding how supports will be provided to students with special needs.

I have a rather specific question regarding whether or not school districts have to afford students "suspected" of having a disability with provisional accommodations until a formal evaluation can be completed.

- For example, if the school has started their evaluation (but not finished), and schools reopen with a distance learning format, can students be granted accommodations even though their evaluations are not complete?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Relatedly, if a student was in the process of being evaluated privately (at parent expense), can they receive "provisional" accommodations from the school district. It seems that the answer would be "yes"; however, I know from my many years or work as a school psychologist in a public school setting that people are often bound by organizational constraints that may prohibit them from doing what they believe is right.

Any guidance you can share would be very much appreciated.

Thank you and take care,

America will Recovery but a Hard Nationwide shutdown is needed right now
We can't let Fear of loosing cause us to move too fast, its time to Be Still

Dear President Trump Administration and all State and Local government officials,

Let me start by saying "This too shall Pass" and America will make a fully recovery. To President Donald Trump and his administration, I would like to commend you on the outstanding job you are doing helping the Nation through the worst crisis we've had in modern times. I understand that as our President you want to get the Nation back to work because it is important that we set goals to move the Nation forward but right now the entire Nation needs a total shutdown for the Month of April to help stop the Spread of this Virus.

Though we all Love America, we can learn from other Nations that have experienced fighting this invisible enemy called Coronavirus. First ask yourself; How did Wuhan China stop the spread of this virus and get its country back on track? They did a strict total shutdown, cleaned the surface areas of their Cities and worked to find a cure/treatment for this virus. The virus is more contagious than the seasonal flu and it is foolish to down play this contagion.

Mr. President Sir, the Country has invested Trillions(The most in History) to fight back against this invisible evil enemy and now is the time to have a

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"strict" Nationwide shutdown early so that we can really FLATTEN the curve, get our cities cleaned and work fervently on a cure/treatment. Yes, there is nothing wrong with believing that by Easter things will get better but let not fear of the economy failing cause us to not take the strict measures we need to take right now, in order to "Flatten this curve so Flat that it is Dead".

Yes we love Israel, and we can also learn from our dear friends in Israel. President Netanyahu had the wisdom to have a hard Nationwide shutdown, India has also implemented a hard nationwide shutdown of more that 1.3 Billion People and they did this because that is what Wuhan China did to slow the spread and get a hand up on this invisible enemy. The quicker we shut everything down, the quicker we can get back to normal. This virus can exist for several days on some surfaces and that coupled with its very high contagion rate is why the only way to Slow the Spread and Flatten the Curve is to have strict stay at home protocol for time period of at least 30 days.

Unlike the seasonal Flu, the Corona virus uses some people as secret carries or hosts and those people display no symptoms to very mild symptoms, thus these people can unknowingly spread the virus to more vulnerable people that can have severe to even deadly reactions to this virus. One of the very healthy Utah Jazz NBA players that was diagnosed with this virus said he felt great and would have never thought he had this virus, even well enough to play a basketball game both before and after he was diagnosed. Mr. President you said that we're at war with an invisible enemy and you are right Sir and the best way to defeat an enemy it to know its strengths, weaknesses and how it hides or camouflages itself to gain the advantage of surprise. This virus is a very sinister and tricky enemy that has proven that it thrives when it is underestimated so as a Nation; let's not let our guards down, but let us instead be watchful, vigilant, prayerful, wise, highly sanitary and extremely cautious. When human lives are at stake you can never be too cautious!

America has some of the bravest people of faith on the Planet and we've done more to help other nations than most but right now we must HUMBLE ourselves under the Mighty hand of God and God will raise us up and we Pray that beginning Easter Week some major breakthroughs will take place and we will begin to win the war against this evil virus from Coast to Coast and Sea to Shining Sea.

Mr. President, you have led this nation well the last almost 4 years and many of the enemies who tried to defeat you have end up loosing. But think for moment, it may be Hell's strategy to play on your fears of loosing your greatest re-election tool "The Strongest Economy in recent years". Sir, don't let your fears cause you not to do what needs to be done and that is to implement a Hard Nationwide shutdown from the highest office in the land.

You're right, America didn't cause this but regardless of who caused this "We're in this Fight NOW, so Let's Win it". As people are scared and people are dying by the hundreds everyday in this Nation "we need our Commander in Chief to be the Comforter in Chief". WE Need Calm, Reassuring and Encouraging Leadership right now.

Mr. President, we believe that God is on our side and that we will win this fight! Keep in mind that God told the Israelite's to "Be Still and know that I am God", sometimes God wants His People to Be Still Sir so we can hear His voice. Our Nation needs a Healing, not just of the Coronavirus but we need a Spiritual awakening and during this time of calmness and stillness God is drawing His People Closer to Him. Think about how divided our Nation was before this crisis came to our shores, now we have people helping each other regardless of their political party or their race. What the enemy did to hurt our Nation, God is going to us it to bring us together and He is going to turn this around for our Good. God promises us this “And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to His purpose.” Romans 8:28

Make the hard decision Sir, to Implement a Hard nationwide shutdown from the Highest office in the Land for the Month of April, with the hopes that beginning close to Easter our Country will have a Resurrection of its own and that our Economy start the process to come roaring back like never before after we've paused for a while. Don't be surprised if many people who didn't vote Republican in 2016 are going to vote to re-elect the man who help them through the hardest times our Nation has seen in decades. Many forces have tried to stop you in the White House; the Muller Russian Probe, the Ukrainian Impeachment fiasco, and they all failed. I have Good News for our Nation and you Sir, this latest invisible enemy will fail too, so don't be worried, because "if God is for you, who can be against you" Romans 8:31. God is for the American People and President Trump, this is why we will win!

In God we Trust,

J Shaw

Hello, I currently work for a job that consists of us to stay in contact of residents coming in and out of the living community we were told to wear gloves. But at this point I feel as if it is not working. People are still constantly going in and out and I am left to take IDs. Back and forth. I don't feel safe. I just wanted to know. Is it a way that The association can slow down the traffic So if someone has it I will not get infected and send it to my kids. People are doing as much as coughing on their IDs. They are taking it as a joke. And I really do not want to quit my job due to my safety. And not be able to pay my rent. Can someone please help?

Subject: budget changes, etc.

I have read guidance from OMB about potential changes to activities and budgets and reporting due to the changed environment for schools and all of us (one example attached). Is there guidance about how to apply this to our ED grants? For example, what is ED's view of carryover funding due to this disruption? I even can see potential long-term issues that may result in need for No-Cost extensions at the end of some grants…

Alternatively, acute needs have arisen in some areas that may require us to extend critically needed services that we'd not envisioned at the beginning of our projects. What I'm considering, for example, is the need for extended technology support for students (I'm thinking IAL grant here for literacy/STEM support, and potentially for telehealth for Project Prevent's mental health supports) who do not have home access that we'd not anticipated, but additional needs are likely to be identified in the weeks to come. Shifting costs within budget categories is possible in some instances; is there any change in guidance about what is needed to be reported to you all for shifting from one category to another?

Finally, we need direction about reporting, especially for objectives that involve state assessments and other assessments that will not be able to be conducted this year.

Thanks for your support in this challenging time!

M-20-17

MEMORANDUM TO THE HEADS OF EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES

FROM: Margaret Weichert
Deputy Director of Management (b)(6) [redacted]

SUBJECT: Administrative Relief for Recipients and Applicants of Federal Financial Assistance Directly Impacted by the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) due to Loss of Operations

On March 9, 2020, OMB issued M-20-11, "Administrative Relief for Recipients and Applicants of Federal Financial Assistance Directly impacted by the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19)," to provide agencies with additional flexibilities for grants assisting the response to COVID-19. The scope of the M-20-11 was narrowly crafted to provide flexibility to grant recipients performing essential research and services necessary to carry out the emergency response related to COVID-19.

This memorandum provides similar administrative relief listed in M-20-11 to an expanded scope of recipients affected by the loss of operational capacity and increased costs due to the COVID-19 crisis. Many of the operational impacts and costs are unknowable at this point, as they will depend on the spread of the coronavirus and response dictated by public health needs. This memorandum provides short term relief for administrative, financial management, and audit requirements under 2 CFR Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost principles and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards, without compromising Federal financial assistance accountability requirements. As program managers are considering administrative relief, they should be prudent in their stewardship of Federal resources which includes giving consideration to potential offsets—e.g. reduction in training and travel. In addition, the flexibilities provided within this memorandum, agencies are reminded of their existing flexibility to issue exceptions on a case-by-case basis in accordance with 2 CFR § 200.102, Exceptions. M-20-11 shall continue to apply, and Appendix A describes the exceptions granted under this memorandum to recipients affected by the loss of operational capacity. These exceptions are time limited and will be reassessed by OMB within 90 days of this Memo.

Questions regarding the above administrative relief provisions should be directed to Office of Federal Financial Management Grant link at GrantsTeam@omb.eop.gov. OMB will continue to provide updates and additional information as the situation unfolds. ## Appendix A – Administrative Relief Exceptions for COVID-19 Crisis

Federal awarding agencies are authorized to take the following actions, as they deem appropriate and to the extent permitted by law, with respect to the administrative provisions that apply to recipients grantees affected by the COVID-19 (for both recipients with COVID-19 related grants and other types of Federal grants). Awarding agencies are required to maintain records on the level of particular exceptions provided to recipients. For items 6 and 7, awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and documentation to support the charges against the Federal awards.

1. Flexibility with SAM registration. (2 CFR § 200.205)

Awarding agencies can relax the requirement for active System for Award Management (SAM) registration at time of application in order to expeditiously issue funding. At the time of award, the requirements of 2 CFR § 200.205, Federal awarding agency review of risk posed by applicants, continue to apply. Current registrants in SAM with active registrations expiring before May 16, 2020 will be afforded a one-time extension of 60 days.

2. Flexibility with application deadlines. (2 CFR § 200.202)

Awarding agencies may provide flexibility with regard to the submission of competing applications in response to specific announcements, as well as unsolicited applications. As appropriate, agencies should list specific guidance on their websites and/or provide a point of contact for an agency program official.

3. Waiver for Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs) Publication. (2 CFR § 200.203)

For competitive grants and cooperative agreements, awarding agencies can publish emergency Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs) for less than thirty (30) days without separately justifying shortening the timeframe for each NOFO. Awarding agencies would still be required to document and track NOFOs published for less than thirty (30) days under this emergency waiver.

4. No-cost extensions on expiring awards. (2 CFR § 200.308)

To the extent permitted by law, awarding agencies may extend awards which were active as of March 31, 2020 and scheduled to expire prior or up to December 31, 2020, automatically at no-cost for a period of up to twelve (12) months. This will allow time for recipient assessments, the resumption of many individual projects, and a report on program progress and financial status to agency staff. Project-specific financial and performance reports will be due 90 days following the end date of the extension. Awarding agencies will examine the need to extend other project reporting as the need arises.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

5. Abbreviated non-competitive continuation requests. (2 CFR § 200.308)

For continuation requests scheduled to come in from April 1, 2020 to December 31, 2020, from projects with planned future support, awarding agencies may accept a brief statement from recipients to verify that they are in a position to: 1) resume or restore their project activities; and 2) accept a planned continuation award. Awarding agencies should post any specific instructions on their website. Awarding agencies will examine the need to extend this approach on subsequent continuation award start dates as recipients have an opportunity to assess the situation.

6. Allowability of salaries and other project activities. (2 CFR § 200.403, 2 CFR § 200.404, 2 CFR § 200.405)

Awarding agencies may allow recipients to continue to charge salaries and benefits to currently active Federal awards consistent with the recipients' policy of paying salaries (under unexpected or extraordinary circumstances) from all funding sources, Federal and non-Federal. Awarding agencies may allow other costs to be charged to Federal awards necessary to resume activities supported by the award, consistent with applicable Federal cost principles and the benefit to the project. Awarding agencies may also evaluate the grantee's ability to resume the project activity in the future and the appropriateness of future funding, as done under normal circumstances—based on subsequent progress reports and other communications with the grantee. Awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and cost documentation as required by 2 CFR § 200.302 – Financial management and 2 CFR § 200.333 - Retention requirement of records to substantiate the charging of any salaries and other project activities costs related to interruption of operations or services.

7. Allowability of Costs not Normally Chargeable to Awards. (2 CFR § 200.403, 2 CFR § 200.404, 2 CFR § 200.405)

Awarding agencies may allow recipients who incur costs related to the cancellation of events, travel, or other activities necessary and reasonable for the performance of the award, or the pausing and restarting of grant funded activities due to the public health emergency, to charge these costs to their award without regard to 2 CFR § 200.403, Factors affecting allowability of costs, 2 CFR § 200.404, Reasonable costs, and 2 CFR § 200.405, Allocable costs. Awarding agencies may allow recipients to charge full cost of cancellation when the event, travel, or other activities are conducted under the auspices of the grant. Awarding agencies must advise recipients that they should not assume additional funds will be available should the charging of cancellation or other fees result in a shortage of funds to eventually carry out the event or travel. Awarding agencies must require recipients to maintain appropriate records and cost documentation as required by 2 CFR § 200.302 – Financial management and 2 CFR § 200.333 - Retention requirement of records, to substantiate the charging of any cancellation or other fees related to interruption of operations or services. As appropriate, awarding agencies may list additional guidance on specific types of costs on their websites and/or provide a point of contact for an agency program official.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8. Prior approval requirement waivers. (2 CFR § 200.407)

Awarding agencies are authorized to waive prior approval requirements as necessary to effectively address the response. All costs charged to Federal awards must be consistent with Federal cost policy guidelines and the terms of the award, except where specified in this memorandum.

9. Exemption of certain procurement requirements. (2 CFR § 200.319(b), 2 CFR § 200.321)

Awarding agencies may waive the procurement requirements contained in 2 CFR § 200.319(b) regarding geographical preferences and 2 CFR § 200.321 regarding contracting small and minority businesses, women's business enterprises, and labor surplus area firms.

10. Extension of financial, performance, and other reporting. (2 CFR § 200.327, 2 CFR § 200.328)

Awarding agencies may allow grantees to delay submission of financial, performance and other reports up to three (3) months beyond the normal due date. If an agency allows such a delay, grantees will continue to draw down Federal funds without the timely submission of these reports. However, these reports must be submitted at the end of the postponed period. In addition, awarding agencies may waive the requirement for recipients to notify the agency of problems, delays or adverse conditions related to COVID-19 on a grant by grant basis (200 CFR 200.328(d)(1).

11. Extension of currently approved indirect cost rates. (2 CFR § 200.414 (c))

Awarding agencies may allow grantees to continue to use the currently approved indirect cost rates (i.e., predetermined, fixed, or provisional rates) to recover their indirect costs on Federal awards. Agencies may approve grantee requests for an extension on the use of the current rates for one additional year without submission of an indirect cost proposal. Agencies may also approve grantee requests for an extension of the indirect cost rate proposal submission to finalize the current rates and establish future rates.

12. Extension of closeout. (2 CFR § 200.343)

Awarding agencies may allow the grantee to delay submission of any pending financial, performance and other reports required by the terms of the award for the closeout of expired projects, provided that proper notice about the reporting delay is given by the grantee to the agency. This delay in submitting closeout reports may not exceed one year after the award expires.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

13. Extension of Single Audit submission. (2 CFR § 200.512)

Awarding agencies, in their capacity as cognizant or oversight agencies for audit, should allow recipients and subrecipients that have not yet filed their single audits with the Federal Audit Clearinghouse as of the date of the issuance of this memorandum that have fiscal year-ends through June 30, 2020, to delay the completion and submission of the Single Audit reporting package, as required under Subpart F of 2 CFR § 200.501 – Audit Requirements, to six (6) months beyond the normal due date. No further action by awarding agencies is required to enact this extension. This extension does not require individual recipients and subrecipients to seek approval for the extension by the cognizant or oversight agency for audit; however, recipients and subrecipients should maintain documentation of the reason for the delayed filing. Recipients and subrecipients taking advantage of this extension would still qualify as a "low-risk auditee" under the criteria of 2 CFR § 200.520 (a) – Criteria for a low-risk auditee.

Hi Charlie and Jennifer with a cc; to Matt and the ED COVID-19 email address per his request via the NCSI Fiscal Support Team -

First, I hope you and your loved ones are all doing as well as can be under these circumstances.

Second, I am attaching a summary of questions from states about the impacts of school closures and other state and local actions taken as a result of COVID-19 on the IDEA fiscal requirements.

We gathered these questions last Tuesday on a CIFR Open Doors webinar designed for this purpose. Summarized by topic area, these questions represent current "top-of-mind" questions from over 100 SEA staff with IDEA fiscal responsibilities in regards to the pandemic.

Please reach out if with any questions and happy to discuss further.

State Questions for OSEP on Fiscal Implications of COVID-19 School Closures

March 24, 2020

The Center for IDEA Fiscal Reporting (CIFR) held an "Open Doors" Community of Practice webinar for SEA staff with IDEA fiscal responsibilities on March 24, 2020. The purpose of the call was to gather state questions about the near and long-term impacts on the IDEA fiscal requirements associated with school closures and other policy and program actions taken by states and districts to address the COVID-19 pandemic. CIFR staff facilitated the conversation with over 100 SEA participants. The questions have been categorized by topic area and per the state's request we have submitted to the ED COVID-19 email on their behalf. Please contact Dave Phillips, CIFR Co-Director, with questions: dphilli2@wested.org.

Maintenance of State Financial Support (MFS)

- Will there be a blanket waiver for all states for MFS because of COVID-19?
- Will OSEP consider multiple-year MFS waivers?

Local Education Agency Maintenance of Effort (LEA MOE)

- May a state implement a temporary LEA MOE waiver for LEAs?
- Will OSEP require states to pay back LEA MOE failure amounts for FFY 2019 compliance tests? FFY 2020?
- If LEAs expend additional funds in FFY 2019 to address needs arising from COVID-19 and exceeds the original required MOE, may OSEP and SEAs allow LEAs to use the original FFY 2019 required MOE as the comparison amount the following year?
- If an LEA cannot access data and/or files, may an LEA claim estimated exceptions and be found to meet the eligibility requirement for MOE?

Coordinated Early Intervening Services (CEIS)

- What if an LEA fails to spend comprehensive CEIS funds in their period of availability due to COVID-19 school closures?

OSEP Timelines

- Are states still required to State Applications by the due date?
- If a state was required to conduct public hearings due to policy changes, may those be virtual due to the COVID-19 closures?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Use of IDEA Funds (salaries, hourly wages, technology)

- With schools closing, are there any issues with continuing to pay salaried staff with IDEA funds?
- What should states consider when deciding whether IDEA funds may be used to pay contractors in order to keep the contractors when actual services have been suspended?
- What should states consider when deciding whether IDEA funds may be used to pay hourly workers? For example, if buses are being used to transport food to students, may IDEA funds be used to pay vendors for transportation costs if some special education related info/homework/etc. is being provided to students with IEPs on the bus route?

OMB Flexibilities

CIFR received several questions about whether the US Department of Education and OSEP will use the flexibilities made availability by OMB on 3/19/20

- If an LEA has paid for a conference registration fee or plane ticket with IDEA funds for a conference that was cancelled, is the LEA required to recode the expenditure to a non-federal source if they are unable to receive a refund?
- Has USED confirmed that SEAs can delay sending in data files for required federal reporting?
- Due to the unexpected and extended closures of LEAs, will OSEP extend the period of availability for FFY18 and FFY19 IDEA funds?

Proportionate Share for Equitable Services in Private Schools

- If an LEA is not providing any services at all, will it not need to provide equitable services?
- If an LEA is providing services, does it need to do consultations with private schools?
- Do LEAs need to provide compensatory services to students in private schools?
- How may proportionate share funds be used if an LEA cannot spend down all of the set aside for proportionate share due to school closures?

Compensatory Services

- Can compensatory services take place as part of Extended School Year (ESY) services?
- Many states are concerned about compensatory services with any lapse occurring in IEP services when LEAs are not providing instruction. Does OSEP have any guidance on how compensatory services will be paid for and what monies can be used to pay for such services?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Monitoring

- May states adjust their fiscal monitoring timelines and activities due to closures?

Dear Abbey Frady:

Certainly, we are living tough COVID-19 related moments not only in Puerto Rico, but around the world. Through this communication, we inform that the Inter American University of Puerto Rico (IAUPR) has decreed an academic and administrative recess for all its academic units that will be into effect from March 16 to March 30, 2020 or until further notice. This action is in accordance with Puerto Rico's governor Executive Order OE-2020-023 ruling a closure of governmental and private sector operations (lockdown and curfew) in order to combat the effects of coronavirus (COVID-19) and to control the risk of infection on our island. HEP and CAMP programs will remain closed as well to make sure staff and student's stay safe and healthy.

Due to these circumstances, projects activities will be transitioning to a virtual program in order to provide supporting services to our students during the emergency. We are currently working on the revision of our workplan and projects activities in order to minimize the impact on project objectives and ensure effective projects continuation until the end of fiscal year.

Please advise on any available agency guidance we should consider to ensure the continuity of program services, as well as institutional and project compliance and accountability.

Cordially,

Dear Abbey Frady:

Certainly, we are living tough COVID-19 related moments not only in Puerto Rico, but around the world. Through this communication, we inform that the Inter American University of Puerto Rico (IAUPR) has decreed an academic and administrative recess for all its academic units that will be into effect from March 16 to March 30, 2020 or until further notice. This action is in accordance with Puerto Rico's governor Executive Order OE-2020-023 ruling a closure of governmental and private sector operations (lockdown and curfew) in order to combat the effects of coronavirus (COVID-19) and to control the risk of infection on our island. HEP and CAMP programs will remain closed as well to make sure staff and student's stay safe and healthy.

Due to these circumstances, projects activities will be transitioning to a virtual program in order to provide supporting services to our students during the emergency. We are currently working on the revision of our workplan and projects activities in order to minimize the impact on project objectives and ensure effective projects continuation until the end of fiscal year.

Please advise on any available agency guidance we should consider to ensure the continuity of program services, as well as institutional and project compliance and accountability.

Cordially,

Isabel Cuevas

Subject: extending permission for distance, online learning during C0vid

I direct an institution that generally offers site based learning. Due to the virus that has affected every institution of learning, as our students went home, we quickly opted for a platform for online instruction, some teleconferencing with strict requirements for attendance (=participation) , assignments and regular student outcomes so that, G-d Willing, when this is all over, there is supporting documentation to assign grades and give credit for a semester that was so abruptly halted.

My question is as follows:

Our accrediting agency does not have authority to review distance learning. How will this affect our student's credits and PEL? We would like to offer our students some real guidance. Our instructors have extended themselves to prepare for the more challenging form of instruction either on line or via phone conference and so far, both students and instructors are pleased that learning has continued uninterrupted. We have extended ourselves financially to serve our students during this time and might change our policy if we knew that no credits could be awarded for the semester. Students would also be reluctant to put in so much work for a semester that will have no credit value as well as a cessation of their PEL grants for those few who are eligible. Our agency doesn't have answers and our students are asking for them. What is general DOE policy in these turbulent times? Would you send me a policy document that would answer this question?

Thank you,

Nechama Chinn

Subject: Financial aid questions

I'm reaching out because we've gotten a few questions from law schools about financial aid. I've looked at the existing ED guidance, but still need a little help filling in the details.

1. A number of law schools have existing emergency funds that they are ready to use to give grants to students, but are worried about bumping up against COA limits. They know that if a student has maxed out his/her aid, the emergency grant will have to go towards paying down the loans.
    a. Is professional judgement the only way to get around this?
    b. The SEOG waiver in the CARES Act seems to give schools flexibility in giving that grant to students over COA (i.e., SEOG would not count as financial assistance for the purposes of determining amount of need). Does such a waiver exist for institutional aid/grants? Would ED extend this kind flexibility to schools that have their own emergency grant funds?

2. At least one law school inquired about extending the current spring term for graduating students to August/September. ED's March 20th FAQs seem to indicate that a school can extend the spring term even if it overlaps with a summer term.
    a. How long can the spring term be extended?
    b. Would a school/student be limited to loans up to COA for the school year? In other words, could the school offer more aid to cover living expenses and the cost associated with the online classes?

I really appreciate any guidance you can provide. Schools are ready to act, but want to make sure they are following the rules, so if you could get back to me soon, that would be great.

Best,
Nancy

Subject: RE: FWS Question Regarding the COVID-19 Disaster

Good Afternoon:

Thank you again. I am writing because a number of other questions have arisen and I believe that ED is in the process of developing additional FAQs.

1. Verification: I spoke to Jackie Butler about this one and she said she would pass it on to you. AVG-90 of the 2019-2020 FSAH states that a student who cannot appear at school must go to a notary public and sign the statement of educational purpose. The statement with the wet signature, a certification form the notary, and a copy of the government issued photo ID must be submitted. If the student must remain at home, how will he/she obtain a notary public certification?
2. Verification: If the student must document his/her high school graduation but the school district or state department is not available to confirm the student's high school graduation, how will the student prove he/she graduated high school particularly since AVG-89 of the 2019-2020 FSAH states a student's self-certification of high school graduation is not acceptable?
3. Early Graduation from Medical School: We understand that NASFAA has confirmed with the Department of Education that institutions have been asked by state authorities to permit 4th year medical students to graduate 3 weeks early to assist on the front lines of the COVID-19 disaster. The semester would remain at 16 weeks in length and the academic year would still exceed 30 weeks of instructional time. We have been advised that ED stated that an offer of early graduation was an institutional decision. It would not impact the student's Direct Loan eligibility as all Direct Loans have been disbursed. Further, ED is not requiring adjustments to loan periods in COD, as would normally be the case. According to NASFAA, ED concluded that if the school will continue to meet academic year requirements, there will be no Title IV aid unintended consequences. Do you agree?
4. Can you advise how and when the Education Relief fund dollars in the COVID-19 Relief bill will be distributed?

Thank you for your assistance. I hope these questions make it into the next FAQs. Please let me know if you have any questions for me. Stay well everyone!

Regards, Sharon

In circumstances where FWS has been awarded for a payment period that began on or between March 5 and June 1, the school may (provided it has no reason to believe otherwise) make a determination that the student was fulfilling his or her work obligation, and, in fact, intended to work. After such determination, the student may be paid based on scheduled hours even if no hours had actually been worked.

Subject: FWS Question Regarding the COVID-19 Disaster

A student is enrolled and in attendance in a term, which has already begun, and was awarded and scheduled for a FWS position that involved offering literacy training. However, the student had not begun her FWS work at the time the institution suspended its on-ground training and moved to a distance education format at the onset of the COVID-19 disaster. The March 5, 2020 guidance states that "the institution may continue [emphasis added] paying the student Federal work-study wages during that closure if it occurred after the beginning of the term and the institution is continuing to pay its other employees (including faculty and staff), and the institution continues to meet its institutional wage share requirement." Further, on March 20, 2020, the guidance states: "Yes. The FWS guidance in the Electronic Announcement dated March 5, 2020, applies when the student is unable to work because the school made the decision to move to online/distance education classes and the institution meets the conditions described below."

At the time of the COVID-19 disaster, while the student was scheduled to begin her FWS work, she had not started and therefore, was not paid as yet. Although the student is now unable to work because of the move to the distance education format, may she be paid her FWS wages for the hours for which she was scheduled because she is now unable to begin work?

If the answer is no, can the institution request a waiver of the literacy requirement under 34 C.F.R. § 675.18(g)(1)? The student's position was to be employed in a literacy program and if the student cannot be employed and paid, the institution will not be able to meet the requirement of including employment in a literacy program as part of the community service requirement for FWS positions.

Thank you for your consideration.

Hello Brenda!

I hope you can assist us with this issue. Illinois State Board of Education (ISBE) has some active carryover Title III SEA activity funds from FY19 that we are about to award as incentive grants to school districts to do some program improvement activities this year. Due to the current situation with the Covid -19, school closures along with the practice of social distance policy, it would be very unlikely that all the proposed plans and the used of the funds can be implemented by the end of this fiscal year. We were wondering if we could extended the use of the funds which due December 2020 for another year, as was granted under the M-20-11 released on March 19, 2020 on No-Cost Extension. If so, do we need to apply for the extension to get the approval and to where should we apply? Or is this automatically granted? Your assistance is much appreciate.

Hello Seng,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thank you for reaching out to the Department of Education regarding providing financial awards to districts that have significantly improved the achievement and progress of ELs. Section 3111(b)(2)(E ) does not list specifically what the financial awards must be used for. Unlike the subgrants to districts, LEAs have greater flexibility in using the award funds so long as they meet the general purpose of Title III which includes any of the allowable activities under Title III.

Hi Steve,

The college is continuing to transition to a complete remote environment, most services will be restored by 03/30/2020.

As we transition, I have the following questions:

1.- MDC will be paying all employees, including all grant employees disaster relief. Does the HEP Grant covers disaster relieve, or it would only pay for actual worked hours?

2.- As we transition to work remotely, are there any restrictions regarding the ability or the amount of hours my FT staff, PT Instructor, or my self can continue to work offering remote classes, remote tutoring services, remote counseling sessions, and as many other additional services we are able to transition in the next few weeks. We are also working towards having all HEP registration forms available to our students in our website.

The HEP Program is very committed to continue to provide to our students with as many services as we can deliver remotely. I would appreciate your response to these questions, as they would affect how the institution processes payroll, and the services that we can continue to provide to our students.

Thank you,

Luis A. Rosas

Dear MDC Community,
We continue to work closely with state and local authorities and our District Board of Trustees to ensure the well-being of our students and employees, as well as the academic continuity that our students need. There are no current reports of known or suspected College employees having COVID-19. Rest assured that we are committed to keeping everyone safe and healthy within the MDC family and our community at large.
Our initial step was to cancel classes in order to have the space across all our campuses to ensure that students can stay home and avoid large groups and faculty and staff can maintain additional, precautionary social distance. As this situation is constantly changing, we feel that the current environment makes it necessary for us to escalate our preventative steps.
As a result, effective Tuesday, March 17, Miami Dade College will cease all on campus services as we transition to a primarily remote work environment. Employees who are deemed critical or essential will receive additional information from their supervisors before the close of business today. In addition, other employees may be requested to report onsite in order to ensure continuity of key support services for remote work and learning. All Faculty are expected to work remotely as they prepare for the potential of remote learning. We ask that they be in contact with their department chair on technology and other resource needs before close of business today. As everyone's health and safety remains our top priority, employees who are required to be physically present at MDC will coordinate with their immediate supervisors on plans to ensure social distancing. Our goal is for those onsite to limit in-person interactions and add physical distance whenever possible. Social distancing is currently the most important factor we can all practice to help slow down the COVID-19 outbreak.
We remind everyone that all classes remain canceled until March 29 and no assignments can be required during this period. This includes all face-to-face and online classes. During this time, MDC will continue its efforts to prepare for a transition to remote learning which we expect to begin onMarch 30. Also, all college-related activities, athletics, and events are canceled until further notice.
During these times of uncertainty, it is more important than ever that we work together as a

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

College family. I appreciate everyone's patience and flexibility during this constantly changing situation. We will continue monitoring developments very closely and will provide updates as needed.

Good morning Cheryl,

I hope that you and your family are well as we navigate this time of uncertainty.

As schools in Michigan are currently closed, many people, myself included have questions regarding how supports will be provided to students with special needs.

I have a rather specific question regarding whether or not school districts have to afford students "suspected" of having a disability with provisional accommodations until a formal evaluation can be completed.

- For example, if the school has started their evaluation (but not finished), and schools reopen with a distance learning format, can students be granted accommodations even though their evaluations are not complete?
- Relatedly, if a student was in the process of being evaluated privately (at parent expense), can they receive "provisional" accommodations from the school district. It seems that the answer would be "yes"; however, I know from my many years or work as a school psychologist in a public school setting that people are often bound by organizational constraints that may prohibit them from doing what they believe is right.

Any guidance you can share would be very much appreciated.

Thank you and take care,
Lisa

Good Morning,

In the guidance I see professional judgement is acceptable due to COVID-19 with appropriate documentation. Our students will be completing the spring semester "on time," but due to the school being physically closed for an unknown amount of time, the usual art exhibition by graduating students will be pushed back months. Is it safe to use professional judgement to increase the COA to allow for graduating students to borrow for the additional months they will be in studio until they're able to hold the art show? What documentation is acceptable? Rent/food/utility bills?

So our semester isn't being extended, but students will be in studio when the school is able to reopen, and then use the summer to prepare for the exhibition to graduate.

Good afternoon Chartise,

I am looking for some guidance for the following scenarios:

1. For our Distance Learning students who are spread out all across the country, is there any guidance regarding leniency for those students who are selected for V4 and V5 verification groups, but are unable to access a notary for the identity and statement of educational purpose portions because either the institutions that offer a notary service are closed or the student lives in an area that is under a shelter at home order all due to the COVID 19 crisis?
2. For students who need to submit a copy of a valid ID, but have an expired ID, is there any guidance regarding leniency with us accepting an expired ID due to Governors across the country closing all non-essential state offices to include the BMV and giving anyone who needs to renew their ID an extension?

Thank you in advance for your assistance during this unprecedented event.

Good morning,

In reviewing the COVID-19 FAQs published, the department is extending the flexibility for institution to extend the length of a term to respond to COVID-19, causing the term to overlap a subsequent term. In this limited circumstance the institution may continue to consider its terms to be standard terms, allowing both the use of a scheduled academic year (SAY) for Direct Loan funds and Pell Grant Formula 1.

Would the above flexibility also be permissible for our upcoming summer term, allowing the term to overlap our fall term, as long as it is due to our response to COVID-19?

Hello,

Please review the following questions and answers that External Comms feel best address the issues raised in the email below.

Q: Our administrators and directors are meeting this afternoon to discuss the possibility of reimbursing students for room and board. What will be the implications/impact on Title IV funds? Can we adjust the Cost of Attendance? If so, how do we handle the credit balance?

A: If, as a result of the COVID-19 outbreak, your institution provides a refund or waiver of expenses for all or part of a student's tuition, fees, room and board charges, or other institutional charges, or if you become aware that a student has moved off campus for the remainder of the term, the Department will not require a re-evaluation of the student's cost of attendance. Therefore, you are not required to make changes to a student's Title IV awards on the basis of such changes.

Please let us know if you have additional questions and review the Electronic Announcement posted on the Department's COVID-19 website at: https://ifap.ed.gov/electronic-announcements/030520Guidance4interruptionsrelated2CoronavirusCOVID19.

Hello,

Please review the following questions and answers that External Comms feel best address the issues raised in the email below.

Q: With the guidance about changes in the academic terms structure presented in November 2019, we were told that terms do not have to be equal length and could be 14-21 weeks. On Tuesday, it was shared by NASFAA that flexibility was granted, due to COVID-19, that we could overlap our term into the summer and where we would normally be considered non-standard because of such, we would not. Is this correct?

A: Yes, the Department is extending the flexibility described in the March 5, 2020 electronic announcement to schedules that would otherwise be nonterm as well; for example, an extended spring term that will overlap with a summer term. If an institution extends the length of a term to respond to COVID-19, causing the term to overlap a subsequent term, in this limited circumstance the institution may continue to consider its terms to be standard terms, allowing both the use of a scheduled academic year (SAY) for Direct Loan funds and Pell Grant Formula 1.

Q: Is it accurate that although we have guidance to crossover into the next term, it does not eliminate the academic term length guidance - essentially only have one week to utilize to make up the lost week based on our current term length of 20 weeks?

A: The Department is authorized under 34 CFR § 668.3 to approve a reduced academic year. If at any point an institution determines it will close as the result of a campus health emergency, it may contact the School Participation team to request a temporary reduction in the length of its academic year.*

We are an institution that has a j-term, a three (3) week session that is attached to our Spring 2020 semester - which is 17 weeks. Therefore, our Spring term is a total of 20 weeks. Due to COVID, our institution wants to extend our spring break next week. However, it wants to make up the instruction in summer. I understand if we do the extended spring break and do nothing it's a reduced academic year which I must get permission from our School Participation Office. Spring ends on May 15, 2020 and Summer begins the next week on May 16, 2020. Is it accurate that although we have guidance to crossover into the next term, it does not eliminate the academic term length guidance - essentially only have one week to utilize to make up the lost week based on our current term length of 20 weeks?

To Whom It May Concern:

Please see below additional questions from NC Community College System financial aid administrators in North Carolina. If possible, please review these questions and provide your responses to me as soon as possible. Additional questions may be submitted to you as they arise.

1. If the extra week of break took our academic year from 32 weeks to 31 weeks, do we need to seek Ed approval, or as long as we stay at least 30 weeks, is this okay without School Participation Team approval? No.

2. My understanding is that we are to pay FWS students based on their scheduled hours. I understand scheduled hours to be the hours the student agreed to work on their FWS contract. If this is the case, what happens if a College over expends their FWS allocation for the year? This could easily happen especially with a college that matches FWS. Please Advise. As you are aware, Campus-Based allocations consist of a fixed amount of funding. The current situation has not changed that. You can only pay scheduled hours up to the point your funding allows. It may not be possible to pay all students.

Thank you in advance for your assistance.

To Whom It May Concern:

The NC Community College System Office is considering an optional process for colleges to use the Incomplete grade to mitigate the impact of COVID-19. Please see the below scenario and question. Please feel free to elaborate to help us identify other options if this scenario needs to be adjusted. Thanks. JW

James "JW" Kelley, EdD

Scenario: We would like to create a unique incomplete grade for emergency situations (e.g., IE – Incomplete Emergency) to be used with an emergency splitting of the course. For example, welding courses are not available online. So, the faculty member would assign the grade IE to students who choose not to withdraw and want to complete in a future semester. The faculty notes their grade at that time. The college creates a Part B to the course that covers the remaining content of the welding course and makes it available either during the Summer 2020 term and/or the Fall 2020 term. The Part B course will have appropriate SHC but will not count toward graduation and not count in the registration credits for financial aid purposes. Students with the IE in the original welding course are eligible to enroll. After the student completes the Part B course, then the faculty member would submit the final grade replacing the IE in the original welding course. Students who do not enroll in the part B course by the college's deadline would receive a final grade as if the Part B content was not completed (e.g., some students may receive a failing grade and some students could receive a passing grade because their grades were "high" before the IE.).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Questions: Would the IE course impact SAP and other financial aid regulations? Would the Part B course impact SAP and other financial aid regulations? Giving an incomplete grade for all classes may not be used as an alternative to withdrawing a student who has ceased attendance during a payment period r period of enrollment. When a student ceases to attend during a payment period he or she must be considered withdrawn, the institution has 30 days from the date of determination and 45 days from the date of determination to perform the R2T4 calculation and make the returns to program funds respectively. You can give the incomplete mark, but at those break points you would have to perform the necessary steps associated with R2T4. It would be easier to place all of these students an approved LOA, which may last up to 180 days and negates their having to be considered withdrawn. For those who do not return, it does mean considering them withdrawn at the point they ceased attending. However passage of the CARES Act may mitigate the effects of thant.

As you know, we requested COVID-19-related inquiries from the field be sent to COVID-19@ed.gov mailbox. We also understand many questions are being sent directly to ED staff in your respective offices and we want to make sure those are addressed timely and efficiently. Please process accordingly:

1. If you receive a coronavirus related question that has not been addressed in previous communication posted by the Department, respond to the inquiring party acknowledging receipt of the question and informing them that the Department will respond as soon as possible. Please note that if it's unclear whether the question has been addressed by previous Department communication, employees should err on the side of sending the inquiry up the chain.

Nate,

FYSA – These DRAFT talking points were provided by the OSSA team to clarify Title I/ CARES funds misconceptions. Don't hesitate to let me know if you would like additional information/ clarification.

Suggested talking points to clarify that Title I requirements do not apply to CARES funds are below:

- SEAs have asked whether they and their LEAs must spend the portion of CARES funds that they receive, called the Elementary and Secondary Relief Fund, in accordance with Title I, Part A requirements.
    - The answer is no.
    - Instead, a LEA may use CARES funds for any activity listed in section 18003(d) of the CARES Act (pages 286-287). Examples from section 18003(d) include but are not limited to:
        - Those that are allowable under multiple Federal education laws, including the ESEA, IDEA, and Perkins;
        - Providing principals and others school leaders with the resources necessary to address the needs of their individual schools; and
        - Purchasing educational technology (including hardware, software, and connectivity) for students to interact with classroom instructors, including low-income students and students with disabilities, which may include assistive technology.
- SEAs have asked whether a LEA must use CARES funds only in its Title I schools.
    - The answer is no.
    - LEAs may use CARES funds in any school for activities listed in section 18003(d).
- So, how does Title I connect to CARES?
    - CARES requires an SEA to use its LEAs' Title I, Part A allocations as the basis to determine the amount of CARES funds that each LEA will receive.
    - Specifically, an SEA must allocate at least 90 percent of its CARES award to LEAs in proportion to the amount of funds each LEA, including charter school LEAs, received under Title I, Part A in the most recent fiscal year, i.e. Federal fiscal year 2019 Title I, Part A funds that SEAs allocated to LEAs for school year 2019-2020.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- For example, assume:
  - An SEA allocated $100,000,000 in school year 2019-2020 Title I, Part A funds to LEAs.
  - LEA A received a Title I, Part A allocation of $10,000,000 or 10 percent of the total $100,00,000 the SEA allocated to LEAs.
  - LEA A will therefore receive 10 percent of the CARES funds than the SEA allocates to its LEAs to use in accordance with section 18003(d) of CARES, not in accordance with Title I, Part A.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Aloha e Joanne,
I hope this email finds you healthy and well!

I'm reaching out today to share some updates on NHEC Executive Council direction for our work in March and April due to COVID-19 concerns, and answer any questions or wonderings you might have. Today our Executive Committee had an ad hoc emergency meeting to be proactive in addressing COVID-19 for 1) Staff safety guidelines in place for travel, 2) Councilmember safety for meetings and events, 3) Community safety for any planned consultations and events, and 4) Business continuity to ensure we are communicating and informing US DOE of any plans/deadlines/milestones due to COVID-19.

The following was decided:

TRAVEL
The Executive Committee has decided to suspend any Council member travel for NHEC work for March and April 2020, including our April 24 quarterly meeting and community consultation on Hawai'i Island. Instead of an in-person meeting, we will continue our meeting and business over video conference.

At the end of April 2020, the Executive Committee will reassess this for our July scheduled quarterly meeting. At this time our July 17 meeting is planned to be in-person on the island of Maui.

COMMUNITY CONSULTATION
Also planned for April 24 was a community consultation on Hawai'i Island that will now be cancelled. We will continue planning to meet our mandate by

1. Adjusting dates and logistics for in-person consultations to be held in May-August; and
2. Designing a virtual community consultation (webinar or live stream interaction) that NHEC can implement should the COVID-19 health concern escalate beyond April.

I'm happy to answer any questions you might have around these decisions that impact our mandate, and if helpful, I'm open to schedule time for us to discuss over a conference call. I'm also curious if you folks have received similar communications from the Native Indian and/or Alaska Native programs you oversee and if there's anything worth sharing that we should also consider?

Mahalo nui,
Elena

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

OFFICE OF ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY EDUCATION

June XX, 2020

The Honorable Wanda Vázquez Garced
Governor
Commonwealth of Puerto Rico
PO Box 9020082
San Juan, Puerto Rico 00902-0082

The Honorable Eligio Hernández Pérez
Secretary of Education
Puerto Rico Department of Education
PO Box 190759
San Juan, Puerto Rico 00919-0759

Dear Governor Vázquez Garced and Secretary Hernández Pérez:

I am writing to address your response, dated May 30, 2020, regarding the Governor's Emergency Education Relief Fund (GEER) and Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief Fund (ESSER) programs under the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security Act (CARES Act). We appreciate the urgency with which the issues regarding these funds need to be resolved so the much-needed services can be provided to the students in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

In our letter to you on May 22, 2020, the U.S. Department of Education (the Department) explained the requirements that must be in place to issue funds under the ESSER and GEER programs, which was part of a larger conversation on the procurement of a Third Party Fiduciary Agent (TPFA). PRDE sent a letter and documentation on May 31, 2020 in response to the May 22, 2020 letter. After reviewing documentation, the Department requested further clarification during a conference call with PRDE on June 8, 2020, followed by the submission by PRDE on June 9, 2020 of additional information regarding the 60-day budget period. While the Department requested documentation and information for a 30-day period, PRDE provided a 60-day period instead, explaining that this aligned with the planned start of the TPFA.

After reviewing the documentation submitted including the additional budget information, and in recognition of the circumstances in the Commonwealth due to the Coronavirus, the Department will proceed with awarding the PRDE's ESSER grant as soon as possible. While the entire award amount of $321 million will be posted in the Department's G5 system, PRDE will be limited to draw down only the amount requested for the 60-day budget, $7,318,129.47, until the start of the TPFA. Once the ESSR grant award is issued, you are authorized to immediately draw the $7,318,129.46 to support the programs you requested the funds for. With regards to your internal control plans you provided in your May 20, 202 letter, I want to thank you for submitting this important document which lays out the process you will follow over the next 60 days till the TPFA is in place. It is my understanding that you will implement all internal controls as described in their submitted plan and will specifically, for the 60-day expenditures, complete the internal controls described in its plan while also designating a specific staff person to oversee the internal control plan.

With respect to the GEER Funds, the Department will require any portion of the $47 million of GEER funds used for any K-12 related expenditures, whether initiated through PRDE or another public or private entity, to also be managed by a third-party fiduciary agent, since they are federal funds going to the Government of Puerto Rico to support education programs. These funds will not be available for use until a third-party fiduciary agent is in place. A specific condition will be placed on the award with this requirement. If however within the first 60 days of the GEER award a portion of the funds are needed immediately, Puerto Rico shall notify the Department and provide similar budget and internal control documentation, in the same manner and detail as was the case with the request for ESSER funds so we can review your next 60 day needs with the goal of reviewing and approving your immediate draw down needs to support educational requirements that can be executed over the next 60 days.

The Department's decision to require a TPFA for the ESSER funds, as well as the portion of the GEER funds allocated for any K-12 related expenditures, has been difficult but deemed necessary and beneficial. The Department recognizes the challenges associated with PRDE's current fiscal management of federal funds and the impact this is having on effective federal education program implementation. Puerto Rico and PRDE have had longstanding difficulties implementing Federal education programs consistent with the requirements of law, regulation, and financial and administrative guidelines. For the last two decades, the Department has worked closely with the PRDE to resolve a variety of issues and believes that structural issues lie at the core of PRDE's administrative and educational challenges. These issues include the lack of sufficient numbers of capable civil service staff to administer state and local programs and funding and the near absence of rigorous and compliant procurement and contracting practices. The Department has also provided PRDE with extensive technical assistance over the years on program matters to help build PRDE's capacity, with mixed results. The Department firmly believes the requirement for a TPFA will relieve many of these concerns by providing capable and experienced resources to assist PRDE in successfully performing necessary fiscal and management responsibilities that will ultimately benefit the educational opportunities and experience of the students of PRDE.

Due to the high profile, visibility, and oversight by Congress and the Federal inspector general community of CARES Act funds, the Department's intent was always to have these funds placed under the control of a TPFA. As you are aware, the decision to require PRDE to procure a third party fiduciary was agreed to by Governor Rossello and Secretary DeVos and included in the FFY 2019 Departmental specific conditions dated June 28, 2019, well before the Coronavirus pandemic and the subsequent passage of the CARES Act and associated grants. Therefore, the upcoming FFY 2020 specific conditions will also include the requirement for the ESSER and any GEER funds provided for K-12 expenditures to be managed by a third-party fiduciary. The FFY 2020 conditions will also require the TPFA to manage PRDE's FFY 2020 grants, as well as all grants previously awarded by the Department that are still available for obligation or liquidation by PRDE on the date of the FFY 2020 Departmental specific conditions, including the FFY 2019 awards.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We believe the approach outlined in this letter will not only ensure the accountability and integrity of these vital funds, necessary for Puerto Rico to recover from the impact of the Coronavirus pandemic, but also assist the Commonwealth and PRDE to build capacity to develop, implement, and eventually sustain adequate internal controls and management practices to effectively manage all Department grant funds and programs. As noted in your letter of May 22, 2020, we look forward to your award of the TPFA within 60 days or sooner, to support the technical services that will benefit everyone. The Department maintains our commitment to assist Puerto Rico during these challenging times, as we work together to improve the delivery of Federal education services for the students throughout the Commonwealth.

Sincerely,

Frank T. Brogan
Assistant Secretary
Elementary and Secondary Education

OCIO – work in progress

OCO – submitted BCP – nothing specific on COVID or pandemic as an appendix or part of the BCP. Please reach out to Colette Hawley for assistance.

OCR – addressed COVID specifically, along with tiers, as an appendix to its BCP.

OCTAE – COVID-19 is addressed as an appendix to POC BCP. Office has approximately 60 employees. For tiers, states BCP is flexible and scalable, and can address implementation of telework. Appendix lists essential functions and employees.

OFO – appendix to BCP does cover all functional areas and tiers.

OIG – only provided BCP. Going to go back and provide the COVID specific plan.

OGC – addressed tiered response in the same way as OCTAE. Has a two-page pandemic flu plan.

OESE – separate appendix, no tiers, although it does reference remote work.

OLCA – submitted BCP, which needs to be updated. Did provide a short addendum on telework. Please reach out to Colette Hawley for assistance.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

OPEPD – BCP has a pandemic flu plan. POC would be able to implement a tiered approach to telework

OPE – telework plans maintained in a separate document – does cover tiers by designating people. Satisfactorily met the requirement.

OS – received 3/10, pending review.

OSERS – COVID-19 specific appendix – 95% can telework.

OELA, NAGB – still to come

Thanks, Mark. I'm glad folks are thinking about the long term staffing for this work.

The other conversation leadership must have is where the programs will sit that cover both K-12 and higher ed. There's a $300 million discretionary grant and $3 billion Governor's Emergency Education Relief Fund. If these are to be implemented in OESE, that adds more funding and the need for more staff. But I'm not sure who will make this decision. Maybe that's a conversation for you to have with Frank and he can discuss with Bob K. and/or elevate.

I would not recommend any of these programs be implemented in the DRU. Our scope is natural disasters – the man-made disasters and pandemics have been handled by OSSS. That's not to say that group would own these program, but just wanted to make an argument that they don't fit well in the DRU.

Thanks for your consideration.

Ruth and Meredith,

Tina and I have been talking since this guidance below came out, in anticipation of the final stimulus bill that would require ED and OESE to distribute additional funding to entities impacted by COVID-19. Now that we know that our portion is approximately $13.5 billion, I am recommending that we request use of both the authority for the dual compensation reduction waiver (salary offset) and the excepted service appointment authority that will allow us to identify and directly hire staff to respond to the effects of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COVID-19. My early understanding is that most if not all of the funding will be formula grants in nature. As such, and using our largest formula programs as an example, I think we should consider a range of options in submitting our request to OHR for access to these flexibilities. For instance, the combined Title I, Title II, Title III, 21st Century Learning Centers, Neglected and Delinquent and Homeless programs total roughly $21 billion. The current staffing is 29 for those programs, and Patrick Rooney believes that 38 staff are needed to cover the work sufficiently. By comparison, the Impact Aid programs total roughly $1.5 billion, and they have 20 staff currently and Marilyn Hall believes the needed number is about 24. Finally, the Safe and Supportive Schools programs total about $1.3 billion and the staffing is at 20 as well. Paul Kesner's estimate for sufficient staffing is about 24.

There are a number of drivers that could impact how we process and award the stimulus funds. Certainly, complexity will have an impact, as much as dollar volume and process. That said, none of us knows currently how many "pots" will be filled by these funds. SERV grants is an existing authority that my not require as many hires to add to the current staffing, but entirely new programs created by the CARES Act authority could require much more. With all of that taken together, I recommend the following for your consideration of what we should request:

| Anticipated Need | Authority Requested | Staffing Required |
|---|---|---|
| Policy and program development and alignment; experience with implementing wide-scale funding authorities and formula grants | Dual Compensation Reduction Waiver | 3 |
| Program management, grants administration, program officers, program directors and experience with supervision of formula and other grant making operations; Policy and program development and alignment; experience with implementing wide-scale funding authorities and formula grants | Excepted Service Appointments | 16 |

For additional context, the basis of the three positions I listed for the first authority considered experienced and recently retired individuals who were very involved and experienced in the planning and distribution of ARRA funds and similar wide-scale stimulus efforts (e.g. Jim Butler, Jackie Jackson, Joe Conaty, Sue Betka, Richard Lucas, etc.). Please let me know your thoughts. I'd like to submit our number this evening. I am not even sure of how these programs will land in OESE (OFG? OFG & DRU?), but I think these numbers are reasonable, depending on the size and placement of the programs that will distribute the funds.

Thanks,

Mw

Greeting Colleagues,

In response to the ongoing public health emergency, the Office of Personnel Management issued guidance regarding flexibilities to address the need for hiring additional staff in response to, or as a result of, COVID-19.

- The first flexibility is an expedited review and approval process for requests by agencies for a delegation of authority for dual compensation reduction (salary off-set) waiver. The delegated authority will allow agencies to rehire retired former employees without a reduction to such employees retirement annuity. For additional information: https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/hiring-information/dual-compensation-waivers/#url=Guidance.

- The second flexibility authorizes agencies to use excepted service appointments to temporarily fill positions needed in direct response to the effects of COVID-19. These appointments may be for up to one (1) year and may be extended up to one (1) additional year if this public health emergency continues. Extensions beyond 24 months may be granted by OPM on a case-by-case basis.

If your office has hiring needs in direct response to the effects of COVID-19 that can be addressed by the use of either of these two hiring flexibilities, please provide a description of the need, the authority being requested, and the number of hires anticipated to Charles Peterman, Acting Director, Human Capital Policy and Accountability, at charles.peterman@ed.gov by March 30, 2020.

As a reminder, this authority may not be used to fill positions that are not directly related to COVID-19.

Molly,

Thank you for your note.

By way of background, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) administers Food and Nutrition Service programs, including the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP); Special Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC); and the National School Lunch and Breakfast Programs. USDA recently sent a press release (copied below) detailing flexibilities provided though these programs in light of COVID-19. Specifically, they approved a request from California to allow meal service during school closures. These meals are available at no cost to low-income children and are not required to be served in a group setting to ensure kids receive food while schools are temporarily closed.

Amid Coronavirus Outbreak

WASHINGTON, March 7, 2020 -- The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has approved a request from California to allow meal service during school closures to minimize potential exposure to the coronavirus. These meals are available at no cost to low-income children – and are not required to be served in a group setting – to ensure kids receive nutritious meals while schools are temporarily closed.

"USDA stands with the people of California as a part of a federal-wide coordinated response," said Brandon Lipps, Deputy Under Secretary for USDA's Food, Nutrition, and Consumer Services. "The flexibility provided by the waiver approved today will help ensure that our children get wholesome meals, safeguarding their health during times of need."

The waiver announced today is effective immediately and will continue through June 30, 2020. USDA stands ready to provide additional assistance to the people of California and other areas impacted by the coronavirus as allowed by law and in coordination with the much larger government-wide response.

All Food and Nutrition Service programs – including the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP); Special Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC); and the National School Lunch and Breakfast Programs – have flexibilities and contingencies built-in to allow them to respond to on-the-ground realities in the event of a disaster or emergency situation. For more information about the coronavirus response across USDA, please visit: https://www.usda.gov/coronavirus.

Is there any guidance or planned financial assistance to come from ED in these instances? I believe Senator Murray mentioned Washington schools closing because of the recent outbreaks. # LOUISIANA DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

March 17, 2020

The Honorable Betsy DeVos
Secretary of Education
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, D. C. 20202

Subject: Request for Waivers Due to School Closures in Response to COVID-19

Dear Secretary DeVos,

On Friday, March 13, 2020, Governor John Bel Edwards issued a proclamation that closed all Louisiana public schools until April 13, 2020, because of growing concerns around the transmission of COVID-19. Due to a substantial loss of quality instructional time and uncertainty regarding when it will be safe to allow students to return to school, the Louisiana Department of Education is requesting that the following requirements outlined in ESEA be waived for the 2019-2020 academic year consistent with your authority under Section 8401 of ESEA.

- ESEA Section 1111(b)(2) Annual State Academic Assessment Requirements

  Waive all requirements for annual statewide assessment administration for mathematics and reading or language arts to all students in grades 3-8 and at least once in grades 9 through 12, as well as annual testing in science and social studies as outlined in Louisiana's approved state plan. This waiver request includes all assessment related requirements, including, but not limited to alternate assessments, ELA assessments, and individual student assessment reporting.

  Please note, the LDOE is committed to working to offer optional state assessments, as desired by parents and schools.

- ESEA Section 1111(c) Statewide Accountability Systems Requirement

  Waive all requirements relating to administering Louisiana's approved state accountability system. This one-year waiver would include, but not be limited to: the release of school performance scores, subgroup performance scores and school letter grades, 95% participation rate requirements, and identification of new schools under the accountability system.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
ED-20-0731-A-001393

- ESEA Section 1111(h) Annual Public Report Card Requirement

  Waive all requirements to publish and disseminate annual state and LEA public report cards no later than December 31, 2020.

Louisiana for many years has been an advocate for a strong assessment and accountability system. Our commitment to these valuable systems remains unchanged. However, the health and well-being of our state's most vulnerable populations must be our first priority in the coming months.

Sincerely,

(b)(6)

All very helpful and will use this as a guidepost to begin to tease out a structured approach including the actual logistics on setting up the Webinar…..date, time etc.
Will also work on the invitee list of possibilities….
I did reach out to Julie Young to see iif she would be interested in assisting as well as recommending any particular folks to participate, research, best practice hurdles and opportunities etc…..
Will get back to you as I get some of this formed up with possibilities.
I think timing is important based on the fact that this is currently a massive patchwork nationally job with some great examples of success woven in between Thanks again
Frank

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Educators

- You are up and running. What did you do, and how we were you seeing education evolution, 1/3/5 years ago that set you up for success today?
- What are the major hurdles you still need to jump?
- What advice can you offer to those who aren't up and running?
- Where is current public policy helping, and where is it hurting your efforts?
- Is this an inflection point to think about better uses of personalized learning, adaptive learning, course school and other student-centric delivery models?
- An age-old question: how do we "crack the code" on embedding technology into learning without losing the human touch?

Providers

- What resources have you made available to "instant homeschool" students and families?
- How can your tools help bridge the gap for disadvantaged students?
- How do you think about what "school" is moving forward from this crisis?

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA
DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
MOLLY M. SPEARMAN
STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION

March 17, 2020

The Honorable Mitchell Zais
Deputy Secretary of Education
United States Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, D.C. 20202

Dear Deputy Secretary Zais:

The United States and our public school systems are experiencing an unprecedented, historic crisis related to the novel coronavirus, COVID-19. South Carolina joins many other states in statewide closures of our public schools to contain and reduce the contagion, to protect our most valuable assets–the students we serve. We know that hard days still lie ahead as we have yet to feel the impact of this virus on our citizens and society.

On March 15, 2020, I joined South Carolina Governor Henry McMaster, as he issued an Executive Order to close all public schools, from 4k through universities, until March 31, 2020. That date is subject to extension based upon the scientific guidance we receive from the Centers for Disease Control and our South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control.

This closure comes as we gear up for how we hold our state, districts, and schools accountable–our end-of-year testing season. At the March 15 press conference, I announced with the support of our Governor, our intent to suspend spring assessments required by the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and our intent to seek a waiver from the United States Department of Education (USED).

I understand that the USED is continuing to review the impact of COVID-19 on state accountability systems and assessments along with developing processes for statewide waivers, and we look forward to you releasing additional guidance in the coming days. I want to share South Carolina's intent for the following and stand ready to submit any documentation or information as you deem appropriate:

RUTLEDGE BUILDING · 1429 SENATE STREET · COLUMBIA, SC 29201
PHONE: 803-734-8500 · FAX: 803-734-3389 · ED.SC.GOV

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1. South Carolina intends to suspend all federally-required testing during spring 2020 and requests a waiver of those testing requirements, including ESSA's 95 percent assessment participation requirement;
2. South Carolina intends to request a waiver to delay the identification of any school for comprehensive or targeted support and improvement based upon 2019–20;
3. South Carolina intends to apply a hold-harmless provision and keep ratings from the 2018–19 state report cards in place until the 2020–21 school year; and
4. South Carolina may seek additional waivers related to funding and programs, when we determine any impact that COVID-19 may have on the use of ESSA funds.

We hope that the USED will consider broad waivers and expedited approvals so that states and local school districts can focus on ensuring the health and wellness of our students, faculty, and their families, during these unparalleled times.

We appreciate your guidance and leadership.

Sincerely,

(b)(6)

Molly M. Spearman

The Honorable Betsy DeVos
Secretary of Education
United States Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202

Secretary DeVos:

Along with the rest of the nation and world, Florida officials are closely monitoring the spread of COVID-19 and the constantly evolving situation to ensure we are well positioned to act expeditiously to protect all Floridians' health and safety. In the span of a few days, federal guidance regarding necessary precautions, such as limits on mass gatherings, changed drastically, which is clearly indicative of the unprecedented nature of this disease.

As this situation continues to unfold, our state's students and families will look to their local and state education leaders with the expectation that we have taken measures to plan for and respond to their ongoing needs and to recover from the potentially devastating impacts we are facing.

We are prepared for this responsibility and to formulate innovative approaches to ensure every Floridian has access to a world-class education, so we are asking your agency to afford affected states much-needed flexibility. Specifically, we are requesting flexibility in the utilization of current and future K-12 funding from the following programs for any allowable purpose under a program authorized by the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), as amended by the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA):

- Title I, Parts A, C, and D, Improving the Academic Achievement of the Disadvantaged;
- Title II, Part A, Supporting Effective Instruction;
- Title III, Part A, Language Instruction for English Language Learners and Immigrant Students;
- Title IV, Part A, Student Support and Academic Enrichment; or
- Title V, Part B, Rural and Low-Income School Program.

In addition, we request that Title I and other federal funds under ESSA that are used to purchase devices for eligible students or to pay for other costs of transitioning to online instruction would not be determined supplanting, even if school districts use state and local funds to pay for such devices or other costs for non-eligible students, since those purchases are extraordinary.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We remain steadfast in our dedication to providing high-quality education opportunities, and the State of Florida has already taken monumental containment steps, extending student breaks and requiring school districts and higher education institutions to provide instruction via distance learning while physical campuses are closed. Given the speed at which conditions are shifting, it is imperative that we work swiftly with our federal partners to free up resources that will enable the Department to support students in common sense ways that you have the authority to permit.

We appreciate your attention to this critical matter, and I welcome a conversation to discuss any questions.

Sincerely,

DATE: March 20, 2020

SUBJECT: Application Amendment for 2016 Charter Schools Program SEA Grant and Waiver Request

The Florida Department of Education (FDOE) is seeking to amend its approved application for its 2016 SEA Charter School Program grant (CSP, Award U282A160012) and simultaneously seek a waiver of the statutory and regulatory requirements that govern the CSP. Specifically, the FDOE seeks an amendment to award CSP sub-grants to new and established operators to provide them funds to purchase the hardware and software necessary to enable all of their students to access curriculum and lessons from home. As public schools face a growing crisis from the threat of COVID-19 and increasingly plan for virtual instruction for the foreseeable future, the FDOE wants to equip all charter schools in Florida, to the extent possible, with a one-to-one student-to-device ratio. For that, we would need the Secretary of Education to exercise the waiver authority granted her under both the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) and the No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB, which governs Florida's award).

Why FDOE is seeking an amendment and a waiver:

Given the unprecedented impact of the COVID-19 crisis on public education, the CSP grant is ideally suited to quickly provide relief, resources, flexibility and innovation in the charter sector. All public schools are moving into uncharted territory over the next several months, but independent charter schools lack the centralized support enjoyed by school districts. Perhaps the most significant emergency plan for which schools must prepare, is how to keep the instructional momentum successful outside of a brick-and-mortar classroom. Smaller charter schools that serve the most educationally disadvantaged students are themselves disadvantaged. These schools would be the least likely to have a one-to-one student-to-device ratio, much less the ability to link their educational program to their students' homes. The CSP can provide immediate support and relief.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

However, we seek this relief for all charter schools, to the extent practicable. The CSP, as it is currently governed by statute, provides one-time start-up support to new schools (or at least those in their first three to five years of operation). Smaller, independent schools that have operated for up to 20 years do not necessarily possess any greater capacity to successfully deliver a high-quality virtual education program than those in their first year of operation. For Florida to provide this relief, we require a waiver from the U.S. Department of Education. The Secretary has broad discretion to "waive any statutory or regulatory requirement over which the Secretary exercises administrative authority." By exercising this authority, the Secretary would enable Florida to help provide the resources necessary to continue the education of our most disadvantaged students during this unprecidented time of crisis.

What FDOE could accomplish with this waiver:

With this flexibility, the FDOE can accomplish the following:

- Allow sub-grantees the ability to purchase computers, printers, and other peripherals for their students, particularly those low-income students who do not have access to these materials at home;
- Enable schools to provide students with the software and internet access necessary to access educational programs from their homes; and
- Support all professional development and planning costs associated with implementing and overseeing virtual instruction.

Florida schools that would benefit:

While the FDOE aims to target all charter schools that need the support described above, the sub-grant budget from the FDOE's 2016 CSP $71.7 million project is finite (after all obligations to other sub-grant projects are accounted for). With this, the FDOE would prioritize all Title-I eligible, single independent charter schools for this effort, and we would rank order those schools as follows:

1. Those with free and reduced-price lunch populations of 100 percent; then, if funds remain available,
2. Those with free and reduced-price lunch populations between 90 and 99 percent; then, if funds remain available,
3. Those with free and reduced-price lunch populations between 80 and 89 percent; then, if funds remain available,
4. Those with free and reduced-price lunch populations between 70 and 79 percent; then, if funds remain available,
5. All other Title-I eligible single charter, rank-ordered as follows:
    a. Those with free and reduced-price lunch populations between 35 and 69 percent; then
    b. Those with free and reduced-price lunch populations less than 35 percent.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

If available funds remain, the FDOE would next accommodate those charter schools within networks that operate fewer than five charter schools in Florida. If funds remain after that, Title I schools within charter networks that operate more than five schools in Florida would be eligible, using the same rank ordering described above. The vision is to first benefit those schools that serve a disproportionate number of educationally disadvantaged students who lack the access to virtual instruction technologies.

Budget amendments and other waiver requests:

The FDOE is proposing no budget amendments, as we plan to offer these sub-grant awards through our existing sub-grants. We would, however, request three additional but relevant waivers:

- Waiving the competitive nature of the CSP: Sub-grant applications would not be externally reviewed, for the sake of expediency, but would instead be evaluated based on the prioritized criteria identified above.
- Waiving the reimbursement requirements: For the further sake of expediency, and to get these materials and training into the hands of students and teachers as quickly as possible, the FDOE asks that the requirement that CSP-related purchases be reimbursed and waived. Instead, the FDOE would ensure that sub-grantees would receive advanced funds only when they can produce an invoice and receive assurance that payment will be made within three days. The FDOE would also conduct desktop monitoring throughout the summer to ensure that inventory is used for the purposes described in this amendment.
- Waiving the requirement that sub-grantees cannot have previously received a CSP award: Eligible schools under this application amendment and waiver request might have been operating for the last 20 years, and could have received a CSP sub-grant award many years ago. However, we will not award schools that have a current CSP project. Those can, if they are eligible, go through the FDOE's budget amendment process to achieve the goals outlined in this request.

Background on, and summary of, Florida's current 2016 CSP project:

As 2016 CSP project begins to wind down, the FDOE is poised to drive system-wide improvements to one of the most significant charter school landscapes of any state. As detailed in our approved application, the FDOE has implemented many of the projects aimed at reforming the very building blocks of the charter school space and ensuring that all students, regardless of income or ZIP code, have access to a high-quality public school.

Specifically, the FDOE has undertaken the following projects to help enhance the capacity of charter school authorizers, advance outcome-based accountability and support visionary leaders committed to serve our highest-need children:
