Missouri's maternal mortality report published

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Missouri's maternal mortality report published

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Missouri's maternal mortality report published

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Missouri's maternal mortality report published

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Missouri's maternal mortality report published

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Missouri's maternal mortality report published

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Missouri's maternal mortality report published

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Missouri's maternal mortality report published

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Missouri's maternal mortality report published

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Missouri's maternal mortality report published

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Missouri's maternal mortality report published

Findings compiled by Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review board

JEFFERSON CITY, MO -- The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) has published A Multi Year Look at Maternal Mortality in Missouri: 2017-2019 Annual Report on behalf of the state's Pregnancy-Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) board. The report is an aggregate of three years' worth of work of the PAMR and is based upon the most recent data available.

PAMR is a multidisciplinary board of experts from across the state tasked with examining the causes and contributing factors associated with maternal mortality and ultimately forming recommendations that could prevent these deaths from occurring in the future.

The 2017-2019 annual report contains data including the timing and leading causes of pregnancy-related deaths, and factors that contributed to these deaths, such as mental health conditions and substance use disorder (SUD). The report also reflects the disparities that exist in our state and among our most vulnerable populations, including our Black and publicly insured communities.

Report highlights include:

- Mental health conditions were the leading underlying cause of pregnancy-related deaths, followed by cardiovascular disease.
- All pregnancy-related deaths due to mental health conditions were determined to be preventable.
- Black women living in Missouri are three times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than white women.
- Women on Medicaid in the state of Missouri are eight times more likely to die within one year of pregnancy than those with private insurance.

The PAMR board found that the pregnancy-related mortality ratio (PRMR) in Missouri was 25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births from 2017-2019 and that 75 percent of these deaths were determined to be preventable.

The PAMR board continues to review cases and is nearly finished reviewing 2020 deaths and will begin reviewing 2021 deaths soon after. These reports will be made available once all cases have been reviewed. The 2017-2019 annual report can be viewed at Health.Mo.Gov/data/pamr.

Paula & Laura,

I believe you reviewed the statutorily required annual PAMR report a while back. We held on publishing at the beginning of July due to all that was going on at the time (consulted with Richard). If you're comfortable with it, I can issue the attached release tomorrow and put the report online.

(U) Investigative Area: Cyber Intelligence / Hacktivism

(U) Information Summary

(U//FOUO) Following the Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS) ruling on abortion rights, a Twitter user who self-identifies as a part of the 'Anonymous' hacktivist collective announced the renewed engagement of Operation Jane (#OpJane) and warned of attacks on "anti-choice organizations". Analyst Note – Operation Jane was originally launched on 3 September 2021 in response to Texas' anti-abortion legislation*.

(U//FOUO) on 27 June 2022, an Anonymous-affiliated Twitter account posted a thread regarding the SCOTUS decision to overturn Roe v. Wade advising that it was "dangerous and unacceptable" and the "direct result of the rise of reactionary and ultra-conservative forces in all spheres of society". The author of the posts noted that "#Anonymous has always been fighting for women's rights and will be once again fighting those who have declared war on women". The thread ended with the following warning, "Anti-choice organizations will be attacked daily to ensure they have no safe space on the internet. We want revenge on behalf [of] the millions of women whose life will be impacted by the decision of the supreme court. We want revenge. We want #JanesRevenge! #OpJane reengaged."

(U//FOUO) Below are anti-choice websites that have been targeted as a part of the renewed #OpJane:

- (U) 27 June 2022 – Anonymous accounts advised the "National Right to Life, one of the largest anti-choice organizations in the US has been taken offline. This is just the beginning. We want Jane's revenge! #Anonymous #OpJane #JanesRevenge #RoeVsWade".

- (U) 28 June 2022 – Anonymous accounts advised the "Abolish Human Abortion Organization database has been messed up…This is Jane's revenge. #Anonymous #OpJane #Janes Revenge #RoeVsWade".

- (U) 28 June 2022 – Anonymous accounts advised the Florida Family Association had been targeted on 22 June as part of #OpDomesticTerrorism and the hack was being re-shard as part of #OpJane. They noted that the Florida Family Association "is also an anti-choice organization and is thereby responsible for the proliferation of ultra-conservative ideologies. The FFA has also been hacked in retaliation to its reactionary agenda and desire to control women bodies #Anonyous #OpJane".

- (U) 5 July 2022 – Anonymous accounts advised the "Texas Right to Life, one of the largest anti-choice organizations in Texas, has been taken offline. This is Jane's revenge! #Anonymous #OpJane".

(U//FOUO) 'Anonymous' Hacktivist Collective Threatens Daily Attacks on Anti-Choice Organizations Under #OpJane

(U) Source Description: Hacktivist Twitter networks
(U) Investigative Area: Cyber Intelligence / Hacktivism

(U) Information Summary

(U//FOUO) Following the Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS) ruling on abortion rights, a Twitter user who self-identifies as a part of the 'Anonymous' hacktivist collective announced the renewed engagement of Operation Jane (#OpJane) and warned of attacks on "anti-choice organizations". Analyst Note – Operation Jane was originally launched on 3 September 2021 in response to Texas' anti-abortion legislation*.

(U//FOUO) on 27 June 2022, an Anonymous-affiliated Twitter account posted a thread regarding the SCOTUS decision to overturn Roe v. Wade advising that it was "dangerous and unacceptable" and the "direct result of the rise of reactionary and ultra-conservative forces in all spheres of society". The author of the posts noted that "#Anonymous has always been fighting for women's rights and will be once again fighting those who have declared war on women". The thread ended with the following warning, "Anti-choice organizations will be attacked daily to ensure they have no safe space on the internet. We want revenge on behalf [of] the millions of women whose life will be impacted by the decision of the supreme court. We want revenge. We want #JanesRevenge! #OpJane reengaged."

(U//FOUO) Below are anti-choice websites that have been targeted as a part of the renewed #OpJane:

- (U) 27 June 2022 – Anonymous accounts advised the "National Right to Life, one of the largest anti-choice organizations in the US has been taken offline. This is just the beginning. We want Jane's revenge! #Anonymous #OpJane #JanesRevenge #RoeVsWade".

- (U) 28 June 2022 – Anonymous accounts advised the "Abolish Human Abortion Organization database has been messed up…This is Jane's revenge. #Anonymous #OpJane #Janes Revenge #RoeVsWade".

- (U) 28 June 2022 – Anonymous accounts advised the Florida Family Association had been targeted on 22 June as part of #OpDomesticTerrorism and the hack was being re-shard as part of #OpJane. They noted that the Florida Family Association "is also an anti-choice organization and is thereby responsible for the proliferation of ultra-conservative ideologies. The FFA has also been hacked in retaliation to its reactionary agenda and desire to control women bodies #Anonyous #OpJane".

- (U) 5 July 2022 – Anonymous accounts advised the "Texas Right to Life, one of the largest anti-choice organizations in Texas, has been taken offline. This is Jane's revenge! #Anonymous #OpJane".

Hello,
I had someone reach out to my office wanting to know about the legality of fertility treatments now that Roe has been overturned and parts of HB 126 from 2019 have gone into effect. The person that reached out asked about the fertility treatment "GIFT" but it would be very helpful to know about how other treatments will be impacted by the ruling and Missouri's law.

Subject: Questions from OWH
Date: Friday, June 24, 2022 3:10:33 PM

Hi Laura,
I had a quick meeting with Steve this afternoon about a couple programs in OWH. I wanted to share the following questions we have as a result of the Governor's proclamation. We appreciate your time and help to ensure we make any and all changes necessary.

Situation: We currently manage an attestation process for the extended women's health services. This process is to ensure that providers don't provide abortions. The requirement to do so is in our budget language. https://health.mo.gov/atoz/extended-womens-health-services.php
Questions: Do we need to continue to require providers to attest? If yes, can we have a written explanation, as some providers will want to know why. If not, how and when should we notify our providers?

Situation: Our office is responsible for the distribution and maintenance of the informed consent checklist and booklet. They are stored in the warehouse and the warehouse shipped them to abortion providers and programs in the state. Women that sought an abortion were required to receive them 72 hours prior to their procedure.
https://health.mo.gov/living/families/womenshealth/pregnancyassistance/forms.php
Questions: Do we need to maintain these resources going forward? If yes, under what circumstances should they be distributed to the public if abortions are no longer to be provided in the state. If no, should we remove them from the website and/or update the materials?

Thanks again,

There were 150 abortions in 2021. At this time, the information we have for 2022 abortions is provisional in nature and it is not appropriate to share an official figure. Having said that, however, I will say that it will likely be less than the 2021 figure. If you check back in several months, we'd likely have the final figure for 2022 and be able to share it.

Hello,
I'd love to connect in the next couple of weeks to discuss the Extended Women's Health Services Program. We had a significant amount of money that we weren't able to spend last FY. We are

Hello Tanya,

What we'd like to accomplish is to change the Extended Women's Health Services language so that eligibility is increased from 201% percent of federal poverty level to 300% of federal poverty level. The proposed modification is below in red. I've attached the Word document from our Office on Women's Health explaining the need and rationale. If you have any questions please let me know.

Section 10.725. To the Department of Health and Senior Services
For the Division of Community and Public Health
For family planning and family planning-related services, pregnancy testing, sexually transmitted disease testing and treatment, including pap tests and pelvic exams, and follow-up services provided that none of the funds appropriated herein may be paid, granted to, or expended to directly or indirectly fund procedures or administrative functions of any clinic, physician's office, or any other place or facility in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or any affiliate or associate of any such clinic, physician's office, or place or facility in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or for performing, inducing, or assisting in the performance or inducing of an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, for encouraging a patient to have an abortion or referring a patient for an abortion, which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, or developing or dispensing drugs, chemicals, or devices intended to be used to induce an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother. Such services shall be available to uninsured women who are at least eighteen (18) to fifty-five (55) years of age with a family Modified Adjusted Gross Income for the household size that does not exceed three hundred percent (300%) of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL) and who is a legal resident of the state

Good Afternoon Daniel,

In our discussions earlier this week you mentioned some hopeful changes to House Bill Language. It appears that the Departments time to request this would be at our meeting with Budget and Planning. BS&A will be meeting with Department Management Thursday, September 29th. If we could get suggested language changes by mid-afternoon Wednesday, September 28th for addition to documentation to review that would be helpful. Thanks!

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

With the recent Supreme Court ruling returning the right for states to decide on the abortion issue, I have several questions. With Missouri being the first state with a trigger law effectively banning all abortion, kindly provide the detailed plans you will propose to handle the residual impact of this law.
Specifically:

- When will the state of Missouri require insurance companies to cover maternity coverage without a pre-existing condition clause? Maternity benefits are optional for most coverage, and sometimes we women without options (or contraception failure) are caught unawares. Will the state now mandate maternity coverage be an automatic clause for all women with a uterus of reproductive age? For those without coverage, will existing state programs be inclusive regardless of income? Currently only those who qualify for economic reasons are eligible. Surely this is not fair if a woman finds herself pregnant and her insurance does not cover the pregnancy? I ask you to explain how you will ensure those fetuses are cared for appropriately in this scenario.
- What safeguards will you propose to implement to ensure those unborn babies vessels (aka the WOMEN) are given appropriate post-natal care to support the new babies? Specifically, when will the State of Missouri provide fully paid maternity care and post-natal parental leave? If the fetus is important, surely the newborn babies deserve the best start? Ensuring mom-baby are recovering well post birth is a crucial step to ensure quality of life. Our nation is one of the only "first world" nations to not offer paid maternity leave of any duration. FMLA does not provide safeguards and especially not for those who work an hourly wage.
- When will all childcare be subsidized regardless of income? When can day care workers expect to receive a living wage with benefits? Who will recruit the new centers and care givers to support this influx of babies?
- With the influx of babies born, so too will the increase of babies in crisis/families in need of social services. This will place burdens on the existing state infrastructure which we can all agree is taxed to excessive limits. When will the social workers receive a living wage that is competitive and reflective of the many hours they work? They will have increased case-loads stretching them beyond their already overloaded bandwidth.
- What will you do to fill the number of unfilled health care positions in the state when doctors, nurses and caregivers flee the state of Missouri due to rising malpractice and or fears of litigation for doing their job (aka referring women in need to health care services)?
- In what way shape or form will you defend the right to privacy for women? As noted in the Washington Post, your own party is considering leaving us open to litigation for activities conducted out of state with included threats of prohibiting travel? How is this American? At what point will this party not see women for more than the receptacle and as a fully functioning human that has the ability to make decisions on her own behalf with the consultation of medical professionals? How does that proposal from your colleague do anything but lower hard fought recognition of equality our mother's strived for?

The implication that our party is encouraging others to "narc" on others is quite reminiscent of the Mcarthy Era. And I for one, am horrified by this possibility. Kindly explain this rationale.
https://urldefense.com/v3/__https://www.washingtonpost.com/politics/2022/03/08/missouri-abortion-ban-__;!!EErPFA7f--AJOw!UxMOzvuhGoda0rbvkKdJNDjxPsdpnenpR6VdLHORnTs2ahd0GPmiJ0S2XqJnCj1G13mXLcAN$

I truly do wish to hear back from you on your thoughts to these overarching concerns. As an American citizen, current Missouri citizen and a mother of two women, I truly wish to understand how this crusade for the unborn is complete if you do not also institute policies to protect the sanctity of all life (born and unborn). For a state to have such a draconian stance on women's freedoms is chilling, particularly the long term implications on how this could be applied elsewhere.

Respectfully,
Mandy Williams

Hi Laura,
Thanks for the information. We met with their team today. They are interested in partnering to promote early establishment of prenatal care during pregnancy to improve health outcomes, connect patients with a healthcare home, and reduce maternal morbidity and mortality.

In the short term, they are looking for about $1.9 million in general revenue funds to support their federal grant. This would allow them to expand the number of health centers receiving support. OWH does not have any GR appropriations available to support their need at this time. If there are any other opportunities across the Department, they are interested in connecting on this.

In the long term, we will be partnering with them to meet their goals for improving health access through partnership opportunities.
Best,
Sarah Ehrhard Reid

Thanks Laura for the follow up. I wasn't familiar with the grant until you shared it the other day. You may already know this, but it's a grant to support FQHCs that goes to DSS. You are correct; it does require match and they would like DHSS or DSS to provide additional GR match money so they can get additional federal dollars.

Subject: Medication and Procedure Lists for EWHS

Hello all,
The rules/regulations from DSS indicate that the list of contraception options are from Health and Human Services, not DHSS. https://www.sos.mo.gov/cmsimages/adrules/csr/current/13csr/13c70-4.pdf I am unsure if these rules transferred to us when the program moved to DHSS. There is no easily accessible listing on HHS websites of methods included, other than this chart from the FDA. https://www.fda.gov/media/150299/download

I've attached the only detailed lists I could find of approved procedure codes and ICD10 codes for EWHS. These were last updated in 2020. There is no comprehensive listing of methods of oral contraception that includes or excludes emergency contraception. I have requested DSS to run how many people received IUDs (copper and hormonal), had an appointment for EC, and the number of pharmacy payments made for EC.

Based off of this information, it is my understanding that the Department has been deferring to HHS/FDA to determine all allowable forms of contraception and emergency contraception that would be prescriptions and the DSS then DHSS Directors approved updates to the procedure lists.

I'm available for any questions.

Good afternoon, Mr. Cozart –

DHSS currently regulates Reproductive Health Services / Planned Parenthood as a licensed abortion facility; however, this is no funding related to this regulation. To my knowledge, DHSS does not provide any funding to this entity.

Additionally, the following language is from the Department's budget bill, Section 10.725 (page 37 of https://house.mo.gov/billtracking/bills221/hlrbillspdf/3010H.06T.pdf):

For family planning and family planning-related services, pregnancy testing, sexually transmitted disease testing and treatment, including pap tests and pelvic exams, and follow-up services provided that none of the funds appropriated herein may be paid, granted to, or expended to directly or indirectly fund procedures or administrative functions of any clinic, physician's office, or any other place or facility in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or any affiliate or associate of any such clinic, physician's office, or place or facility in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or for performing, inducing, or assisting in the performance or inducing of an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, for encouraging a patient to have an abortion or referring a patient for an abortion, which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, or developing or dispensing drugs, chemicals, or devices intended to be used to induce an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother.

Hello,
I sent an email on Tuesday regarding questions about the legality of fertility treatments and got an out of office reply from Michael Oldweiler at DHSS. In Michael's out of office reply he provided Emily Hollis' email if people had any legal questions, so I have added Emily to this email.

As a reminder here is the question I sent to DHSS and the AG's office on Tuesday:

Hello,
I had someone reach out to my office wanting to know about the legality of fertility treatments now that Roe has been overturned and parts of HB 126 from 2019 have gone into effect. The person that reached out asked about the fertility treatment "GIFT" but it would be very helpful to know about how other treatments will be impacted by the ruling and Missouri's law.

I look forward to hearing from both departments so I can pass on this very important information to my constituents.

> I had someone reach out to my office wanting to know about the legality of fertility treatments now that Roe has been overturned and parts of HB 126 from 2019 have gone into effect. The person that reached out asked about the fertility treatment "GIFT" but it would be very helpful to know about how other treatments will be impacted by the ruling and Missouri's law.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hi Laura,
I had a quick meeting with Steve this afternoon about a couple programs in OWH. I wanted to share the following questions we have as a result of the Governor's proclamation. We appreciate your time and help to ensure we make any and all changes necessary.

Situation: We currently manage an attestation process for the extended women's health services. This process is to ensure that providers don't provide abortions. The requirement to do so is in our budget language. https://health.mo.gov/atoz/extended-womens-health-services.php
Questions: Do we need to continue to require providers to attest? If yes, can we have a written explanation, as some providers will want to know why. If not, how and when should we notify our providers?

Situation: Our office is responsible for the distribution and maintenance of the informed consent checklist and booklet. They are stored in the warehouse and the warehouse shipped them to abortion providers and programs in the state. Women that sought an abortion were required to receive them 72 hours prior to their procedure.
https://health.mo.gov/living/families/womenshealth/pregnancyassistance/forms.php
Questions: Do we need to maintain these resources going forward? If yes, under what circumstances should they be distributed to the public if abortions are no longer to be provided in the state. If no, should we remove them from the website and/or update the materials?

Thanks again,

Michael –

Please respond to the request for information below regarding Missouri abortion statistics. Thank you!

- How many abortions were done in Missouri in calendar year 2021? Does this number include surgical and chemical? Please provide a breakdown of these numbers if they are reported separately.
- Please provide the numbers for calendar year 2021 of Missouri women who traveled out of state to receive an abortion. Does this number include surgical and chemical? Please provide a breakdown of these numbers if they are reported separately.
- Please provide the number of abortions in Missouri to-date for calendar year 2022.

Thank you,
Representative Sara Walsh

We will get this to you by COB tomorrow. # 2 will be tricky because other states are not obligated to report data back to us, even if they are MO residents, so this will be an estimated number and thus very much subject to under reporting.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Michael –

Please respond to the request for information below regarding Missouri abortion statistics. Thank you!

- How many abortions were done in Missouri in calendar year 2021? Does this number include surgical and chemical? Please provide a breakdown of these numbers if they are reported separately.

- Please provide the numbers for calendar year 2021 of Missouri women who traveled out of state to receive an abortion. Does this number include surgical and chemical? Please provide a breakdown of these numbers if they are reported separately.

- Please provide the number of abortions in Missouri to-date for calendar year 2022.

Thank you,
Representative Sara Walsh

Three typos:
1) Dobbs bullet point, should say 'they're' rather than 'their'
2) Linn Oak Rehab bullet point, says 'located at in' - either at or in should be deleted
3) paragraph toward end about DHSS continuing to work with partners on monkeypox, phrase about 'However, increase demand . . . ' should be increased Otherwise good to go.

LaTonya-

There were 150 abortions in 2021. At this time, the information we have for 2022 abortions is provisional in nature and it is not appropriate to share an official figure. Having said that, however, I will say that it will likely be less than the 2021 figure. If you check back in several months, we'd likely have the final figure for 2022 and be able to share it.

Dear Ms. Schwandtner:

For nearly 50 years, Reproductive Health Services of Planned Parenthood of the St. Louis Region (RHS) has proudly provided abortion services in the state of Missouri.[1] Our work in providing abortion care has empowered the lives of countless Missourians who have built the lives and families unique to them. That is what reproductive freedom affords people. Today, the freedom to control our own bodies, lives, and futures has ended for Missourians. We are writing this letter to notify your department that RHS is forced to cease abortion services in Missouri effective immediately. This letter is the end of a chapter that will be part of the shameful history of dismantling abortion access in the state of Missouri.

As you know, earlier today, a newly constituted U.S. Supreme Court upended 50 years of settled law, overruling Roe v. Wade, 410 U.S. 113 (1973). And moments after the Supreme Court's action, Attorney General Eric Schmitt activated Missouri's so-called "trigger ban" by issuing an opinion to the Revisor of Statutes, notifying the Revisor that the U.S. Supreme Court had overruled Roe, and thereby putting into effect section 188.017, RSMo. That statute makes it unlawful to knowingly provide an abortion in the state of Missouri, except in cases of medical emergencies. See § 188.017.2, RSMo.

[1] Reproductive Health Services was formed in 1973, one month after Roe v. Wade, 410 U.S. 113 (1973), was decided, and later became Reproductive Health Services of Planned Parenthood of the St. Louis Region in 1996.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

While this is an end of an era, it is the beginning of a new frontier to build back access to basic health care because every person who lives in Missouri deserves to access all health care, including abortion, in the state in which they live. This should be a goal your department shares as the overseer of public health in this state. Regardless, our fight continues.

While we are deeply saddened we can no longer provide abortion care in Missouri, the reality is abortion has been virtually inaccessible in the state since 2019, when your Department embarked on a politically motivated crusade to shut us down. We challenged the Department, exposing its paternal "period-tracking" spreadsheet, stood up against your new mandate to force patients to undergo medically unnecessary vaginal examinations, and corrected your lies about the high-quality care we provide.

Our collective history has shown that the State's obsession with abortion comes with high costs. As politicians and Department bureaucrats devote outsized attention to abortion, public health emergencies emerge and worsen.

For far too long, the State has willfully ignored the growing maternal mortality crisis that disproportionately afflicts Black communities. Black Missourians are four times more likely to die from pregnancy than white Missourians.[2] Missouri ranks an abysmal 44th in the nation for maternal mortality.[3] Missouri also continues to lead the nation in rates of sexually transmitted infections. Banning abortion will only worsen these already dire public health outcomes.

We have longed for a Department that centers evidence and lives up to its mission statement — to be a "leader in promoting, protecting and partnering for health." It is our hope that, with today's decision, the State will refocus its efforts on protecting the health, safety, and security of all Missourians. Anything short is counter to pro-life proclamations.

And while we await that day, make no mistake: Our doors have not closed. We will continue providing high-quality sexual and reproductive health care at our seven health centers across Missouri. And we remain open to all abortion patients at our health center in Fairview Heights, Illinois, in the

Extended Women's Health Program (EWHS) Proposal

Problem: EWHS lapsed $4,273,631.76 in SFY22. With Medicaid expansion taking effect in 2021, thousands of participants from EWHS moved to the new expansion group. At the start of SFY22, the program had 48,564 participants enrolled. At the end of SFY22, there were 14,434 participants enrolled, a reduction of over 70% participants.

Solution: Expand eligibility requirements for EWHS from 201% Federal Poverty Level to 300% FPL. Doing so will help meet Office on Women's Health goal of increasing the percentage of women with a preventative health visit in the last year and improve pregnancy outcomes for women in Missouri.

Context: The Pregnancy Associated Maternal Mortality Report released in 2022 demonstrated a significant number of women die in the first year postpartum after their pregnancy related Medicaid coverage ends. Changing eligibility requirements for EWHS will ensure more mothers in Missouri have access to medical care, thus preventing death for new moms across the state.

Additionally, maternal and pregnancy outcomes improve when women have access to care. Preconception and interconception health are critical time periods for ensuring healthy pregnancies and babies. Preconception health screenings can prevent poor health outcomes from diseases such as syphilis and hepatitis B. At the same time, these visits can identify other health concerns related to poor pregnancy outcomes like high blood pressure. Interconception health care helps improve health outcomes by addressing topics like birth spacing. The March of Dimes reports on the importance of birth spacing. "Pregnancies that start less than 18 months after birth are associated with delayed prenatal care and adverse birth outcomes, including preterm birth, neonatal morbidity, and low birthweight. Further, these poor birth outcomes are often associated with ongoing health problems such as developmental delay, asthma, and vision and hearing loss." Improving access to care for birth spacing will result in healthier pregnancies and babies.

Program Details: EWHS is established in HB 10, Section 10.725. It serves uninsured women who are at least eighteen (18) to fifty-five (55) years of age with a family Modified Adjusted Gross Income for the household size that does not exceed two hundred and one percent (201%) of the FPL and who is a legal resident of the state. Details on cost savings, number served, and other outcomes can be found in the program description for EWHS.

The program covers family planning and family planning-related services, pregnancy testing, sexually transmitted disease testing and treatment, including pap tests and pelvic exams, and follow-up services.

The Office on Women's Health established an attestation process to ensure that none of the funds are expended directly or indirectly to fund procedures or administrative functions of any place or facility or affiliate in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or for performing, inducing, or assisting in the performance or inducing of an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, for encouraging a patient to have an abortion or referring a patient for an abortion, which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, or developing or dispensing drugs, chemicals, or devices intended to be used to induce an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Health and Senior Services — HB Section(s): 10.725

Extended Women's Health Services

	Women's Health Services	TOTAL
GR	6,289,091	6,289,091
TOTAL	6,289,091	6,289,091

1a. What strategic priority does this program address?

Infant & Maternal Health, Health Behavior, Social Determinants of Health, Whole Person Health Access

1b. What does this program do?

The Extended Women's Health program provides funding for family planning and family planning-related services, pap tests and pelvic exams, pregnancy testing, sexually transmitted disease testing/treatment, and follow-up services for eligible women. This program also provides education and outreach to encourage eligible women to access the family planning services and family planning-related services offered. Eligible women include those with a family Modified Adjusted Gross Income for the household size that does not exceed 201 percent of the Federal Poverty Level, and uninsured women losing MO HealthNet coverage at the conclusion of 60 days postpartum for one additional year. Program services are intended to reduce the number of unintended pregnancies for eligible women and thereby reduce Medicaid expenditures. Unintended pregnancies, which account for nearly half (45 percent) of all pregnancies in the United States, are also associated with risks of other health issues such as low birth weight and maternal depression. The services provided by this program also assist women in preventing the spread of sexually transmitted infections.

2a. Provide an activity measure(s) for the program.

Women's Health Services Enrollees Average Monthly Number

48,113	47,788	26,728	26,700	26,700	26,700

Women's Health Services Recipients

	FY 2020	FY 2021	FY 2022	FY 2023 Proj.	FY 2024 Proj.	FY 2025 Proj.
Outpatient Hospital	2,722	4,724	2,624	2,600	2,600	2,600
Pharmacy	20,306	15,709	7,857	7,800	7,800	7,800
Physician Services	38,429	33,469	16,588	16,500	16,500	16,500

Fewer participants enrolled in FY22 due to the expansion of Medicaid. Many EWHS participants moved into the expansion group.

2b. Provide a quality measure(s) for the program.

Base Target - outpatient hospital services expenditures reach 3.5 percent or less.
Stretch Target - outpatient hospital services expenditures reach 2.5 percent or less.
Lower percentages in outpatient hospital services expenditures indicate more preventative care is being utilized though physician related and pharmacy services.

2c. Provide a measure(s) of the program's impact.

*Reduced cost savings predicted due to fewer participants being enrolled in the program due to expansion of Medicaid.
^The projected cost is based on average of prior years.
The cost savings is calculated by multiplying the number of averted unintended births by the MO HealthNet cost to provide pregnancy coverage only. The number of unintended births is calculated by utilizing the number of women receiving contraception services through this program and multiplying that by a percentage of unintended pregnancies that result in an unplanned birth, as referenced in a 2015 study by the Guttmacher Institute regarding Publicly Funded Contraceptive Services at U.S. Clinics.

2d. Provide a measure(s) of the program's efficiency.

^The projected rate is based on an average of prior years.

Subject: Final Women's Health Council Priority Document

Good morning,
Attached you can find the final document approved by the WHC for your use. We made changes per your recommendations. We will post this on the website once you have provided us with the ok. The WHC asks you to consider these recommendations during the next state fiscal year.
Thanks!

WOMEN'S HEALTH COUNCIL POLICY PRIORITIES--2022

The health of women and girls equals the health of the state as a whole.

The Missouri Women's Health Council (Council) is an advisory board comprised of thought leaders with expertise in women's health and the broad range of factors that affect health outcomes and wellbeing. Council members are appointed by the Director of the Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) and reflect the geographic diversity of our state. The recommendations of this Council are also shared with the Department of Social Services (DSS).

The Council is charged with informing and advising DHSS regarding women's health risks, needs and concerns, and recommending potential strategies, programs, and regulatory or legislative changes to improve the health and well-being of all women in Missouri. Women serve as leaders throughout our state in their families, communities, educational institutions, places of worship, businesses, and the public sector. The Council consists of women from a variety of professions, including health care providers, researchers, healthcare administrators, social workers and multiple CEOs and Executive Directors of critical social services foundations serving women throughout Missouri. As we celebrate the Council's five year mark we said goodbye to some original appointees as they concluded their service to the Council. Three new appointees joined the Council in February 2022. We thank our outgoing colleagues for sharing their time and wisdom with us and welcome our new members.

During this Council's past year, members provided information and input to the Departments on the following:

- Informed the Departments on the effects and hopes for women and girls related to Medicaid Expansion. When this Constitutional amendment was approved by the electorate in August 2020 and upheld by the courts in 2021, the Council offered advice, support, and strategic questions to the Department of Social Services and the Department of Health.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Informed the Department on issues related to COVID's impact specifically for low-income pregnant women, women of color, women in corrections, and women working in and residing in long-term care facilities.

The Council commends the Departments and the Legislature for the following:

- Enactment of a statewide Prescription Drug Monitoring Program as one tool to address opioid related challenges and as a mechanism for statewide data analysis on trends in prescribing stimulants and opioid containing medications.

- The Department of Mental Health was awarded more than $25 million for the State Opioid Response Grant to address opioid use disorder prevention, treatment, and recovery services. The grant built on best practices by increasing medication first approaches, telehealth services, stimulant use disorder and peer specialists.

- DSS's approach to the on-line Medicaid application with a client centered design strategy and improving client communications for better readability and clear direction about clients' next steps and responsibilities.

- Support of robust ECHO educational programs for providers caring for patients with chronic pain syndromes, opioid use disorders, high-risk childbirth, eating disorders, and neonatal abstinence syndrome.

- Private payors and Medicaid are providing payment for mental and behavioral telehealth visits the same as in person visits. With the eventual end of the Public Health Emergency (PHE) order, some of the telehealth rules will revert. Access has been increased with the PHE to allow home as the originating site of mental health care relationships.

- DSS has auto-enrolled some of the women from the Extended Women's Health Services Program into expanded Medicaid.

- Requirement of participating Managed Care companies to disaggregate adult and child data by gender, age group, race, ethnicity, and region (rural/urban).

- DSS has allowed for more than mother and child passengers during Non-Emergency Medical Transport (NEMT) to provider appointments. This change means that fathers and other children can attend, reducing barriers to appointment attendance.

- The Council again thanks DHSS for the PAMR report (Pregnancy Associated Mortality Report) which remains an excellent source of the state statistics.

Policy Priorities

The following policy priorities reflect the shared vision of the Council. The Council urges all Missourians to come together to find common ground to improve women's health which in turn strengthens prosperity across our state as a whole. The Council recommends that DHSS identify its role in helping to prioritize these identified issues. Whether DHSS is working with partner organizations and across cabinet departments to implement priorities, to building internal capacity, DHSS has a role in each priority.

Improve access to healthcare for women in rural, suburban, and urban Missouri

Implementation of expanded Medicaid eligibility

Expanding Medicaid coverage to cover more Missouri women will be the single most important policy change to improve women's health. After the August 2020 passage of a constitutional amendment to address Medicaid expansion, the state now faces the prospect of full implementation and outreach.

The Council strongly supports the ongoing improvement work at MO HealthNet, especially as it relates to customer service, client support, and usability for people living on low incomes in the state. The initial enrollment numbers have been disappointing with less than 20% of potentially eligible applicants approved as of December 2021. For several years, in-person and call center support has been very challenging and frustrating for clients. This makes in-person assistance and community outreach even more critical as new applicants enter the system. States like

Oklahoma and Louisiana provide lessons in using existing systems (TANF, SNAP, housing subsidies etc.) to target/auto-enroll newly eligible citizens.

- DHSS should partner with DSS to expand outreach and aide in implementation.

Maternal Mortality

Maternal mortality remains a pressing concern. The Council applauds ongoing efforts through the Missouri Department of Health Pregnancy Associated Mortality Review (PAMR) Board, and the Missouri Hospital Association (MHA) led Missouri Maternal Child Learning Action Network MC LAN) to examine and attempt to mitigate leading causes of maternal deaths. The MC LAN provides a vehicle to implement PAMR recommendations, Missouri's AIM initiative and other quality improvement and patient safety practices to address the leading contributors to maternal deaths and severe maternal morbidity in the state. The WHC supports the important work of the MC LAN and recognizes the importance of ongoing funding to sustain and grow the LAN's efforts to become a full Perinatal Quality Collaborative.

The 2021 PAMR report indicates that a majority (63%) of maternal deaths in the state occur after 43 days postpartum. The rate of pregnancy-associated deaths for women on Medicaid was more than 4 times greater than the rate for those with private insurance. Traditional Medicaid coverage ends for a woman 60 days after the birth of a child leaving many women without coverage during the time the majority of preventable maternal deaths occur. Although expansion covers women below living 138% of FPL. Women with incomes from 138% to 185% FPL continue to have pregnancy and postpartum needs. The efforts in the legislature to address the first year of post-partum care through a Medicaid waiver for roughly 7,000 women who would not otherwise have coverage during this vulnerable first year after giving birth are especially encouraging. The aggregate impact of expanded postpartum coverage would maximize the positive effects on the overall health of Missouri families and communities.

On December 7, 2021, HHS announced efforts to help expand nationwide access and coverage for high-quality maternal health services and encouraged states to take advantage of the American Rescue Plan's (ARP's) option to provide 12 months postpartum coverage to people with Medicaid and CHIP. A report released by HHS's Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation (ASPE) showed if every state extended Medicaid postpartum coverage to 12 months the number of Americans getting coverage for a full year postpartum would roughly double, extending coverage for an estimated 720,000 in a given year.

Expanding MO HealthNet Services for Pregnant and Postpartum Women would also support statewide efforts to significantly decrease maternal mortality and severe morbidity and mitigate the potential associated impacts on children, families, households, communities, and society. Maternal mortality rates in Missouri are double the national average, with Missouri ranking 44th nationwide, and Black maternal mortality rates are near four times those of white maternal mortality rates.

- DHSS should support efforts to expand Medicaid coverage for women to one year postpartum to reduce maternal mortality and improve health outcomes.

Health Care workers

Women make up more than 70% of the health care workforce. In turn, the healthcare workforce has a multiplier effect in keeping the rest of the workforce healthy and productive. The pandemic has taken an extraordinary toll on health care workers at all levels. The state offers critical signals about the value of that work through its support for the salary and working conditions especially in the lowest paid levels of care such as nursing home care.

- DHSS should continue to strengthen and support the health care workforce and help make it a high priority for the state, as we anticipate a positive and sustained return on investment.

Professional licensing forms ask questions about current impairment due to mental health issues and requires the disclosure of the dates, names, addresses of facilities of treatment as well as a letter describing diagnosis and prognosis. The literature reflects that licensure questions prevent health care professionals from seeking mental health services.

- DHSS should partner with the Board of Healing Arts and all professional licensing boards to evaluate the language and intent of the application questions.

Support the Shared Health of Women and Families

COVID

The availability of vaccines to prevent COVID was a welcome development, but the state now must prepare to transition to an endemic approach. Increasing the rate of vaccination in Missouri has been challenging, with only 56% of the population having 2 doses of vaccine. State COVID infection data has not been easy to understand as it relates to race, gender, and geography.

A 2022 JAMA paper (JAMA. 2022;327(8):748-759.) showed that pregnant patients with at least moderate coronavirus symptoms were at elevated risk of delivering preterm, requiring a Cesarean section, experiencing postpartum hemorrhage and suffering a miscarriage. These findings further highlight the necessity of vaccination for pregnant individuals and women looking to become pregnant. In addition, there is good evidence that the antibodies transmit to the infant providing protection for the child.

- We encourage DHSS to provide clear ongoing outreach to women about the safety of COVID vaccines before and during pregnancy.

Education disruptions, child care disruptions, and family illness have come as a great burden for women. Women are powerful economic engines within the state, and it is imperative that we support women to participate in the workforce in ways that work best for them.

- In order to ensure a successful long term COVID management campaign, DHSS should implement strategies to reach underserved populations specifically Black communities and other communities of color, upgrade data tracking and analysis, and work with public health professionals to reach those at the greatest risk of disability and death.

Public Health Investment

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

There can be no greater spotlight on public health than we have seen in the last 2 years. State financial support for state and local public health agencies has decreased over the past 20 years. Funding changes have impacted the local public health department's' ability to provide testing, surveillance, report data, administer vaccines, and educate local populations about infectious disease. This will not be the last challenge to the health of the public.

We encourage state leadership to strengthen collaboration with local public health leadership especially for new and evolving models of public health. The Women's Health Council deeply appreciates those who serve in public health especially those who have been on the front lines of leadership during COVID. Attention to local/state organizational structures, stable funding, shared resources, recruitment of talented public health officials and support of their public health efforts will be crucial. While it is likely that municipalities and local jurisdictions will examine their own effectiveness during the COVID crisis, it is imperative that the state does not curtail the critical jurisdictional powers to keep localities safe during future communicable disease outbreaks.

- DHSS should convene with local public health agencies to review and reflect on how communication, direction setting, and support affected their efforts during COVID. Doing so will lead to stronger partnerships for future public health events.

At serious risk is the progress made in the last 100 years through universal childhood immunizations. Missouri is in the lowest quartile for childhood immunizations with only 58.7% of children on Medicaid up to date on immunizations (State Health Report Card https://www.medicaid.gov/state-overviews/stateprofile.html?state=missouri). Relaxing requirements for school aged childhood vaccines will even worsen these numbers. As we think ahead to the future of our state and its economic prosperity, healthy children become healthy and productive adults.

- DHSS should expand promotion, access to, and education regarding childhood vaccinations to increase the number of children up to date on immunizations.

Support outreach and treatment options for opioid misuse and addiction

Opioid misuse and addiction are having compounding effects on women, families, and communities. State data shows that 1 of every 56 deaths in the state were due to opioid overdose in 2018. While Missouri saw a small decrease in deaths in 2019, 2020 showed a 30% increase. The one year grant mentioned above related to opioid use prevention and treatment is a good first step but encourages the Department of Mental Health to follow through with a long term funding strategy. Council Members remain concerned with the sheer number of infants born with neonatal abstinence syndrome.

The Council supports and encourages DHSS to partner with appropriate organizations to implement the following interventions:

- Long term funding plan for substance use disorder prevention and treatment
- Encourage providers to become MAT waivered to be able to prescribe treatment
- Implementation of a Medication Assisted Therapy payment bundle
- Promotion of shared learning across the state among centers such as the WISH (Women and Infant Substance Help) program in St. Louis to enhance best outcomes for women and infants.
- Educational awareness campaign for women of childbearing age regarding neonatal abstinence syndrome with opioids, heroin, methadone, buprenorphine (Suboxone and Subutex).

Invest in State IT and Collect Data by Race

Several state agencies collect data related to women's health. (For instance, MO HealthNet data is overseen by DSS and state vital records are collected by DHSS). There are multiple opportunities to increase data analysis and sharing among state agencies. With appropriate privacy protections, cross agency collaboration could help us better understand how to improve services and health of Missouri women. The next great challenge is to spend the resources to analyze data and apply lessons learned.

Improve continuity of care and address remaining gaps

While Medicaid expansion addresses the needs of more than 100,000 Missouri women and girls, the Council remains attentive to health needs that will not be addressed including the health needs of low-income women between 138-185% FPL who are not eligible for benefits through Medicaid expansion and cannot access coverage through the Exchange.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Post-Partum opioid treatment

In 2019, the State asked CMS to allow Medicaid coverage for women (up to 185% FPL) in treatment for substance use disorders for up to one year after a birth. It has still not been approved for implementation. This policy will provide women the opportunity to continue their recovery while caring for their newborn and family. Missouri is still awaiting full roll out of this program.

- The Council encourages Department of Social Services (DSS) to follow up with a robust evaluation of this policy once implemented.

Reduce the rate of unnecessary churning of Medicaid enrollees

Medicaid churning involves a pattern of short-term enrollment, dis-enrollment, and re-enrollment that often occurs year after year. This process is confusing, time-consuming, and expensive for the state and the health care system, and creates instability for Missourians who rely on Medicaid. During the pandemic, Missouri was allowed to provide qualified beneficiaries with 12 months of continuous coverage through Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), even if the family experiences fluctuating income during the year.

- The Council strongly encourages the state to formalize continuous eligibility as on-going policy.

Maintain Access to Contraceptive Services

There are a myriad of health benefits to having planned pregnancies. Access to reliable, affordable, and available contraception is key. Barriers to services, such as not maintain long acting reversible contraceptive in stock, reduce the number of women who can benefit from desired pregnancy prevention, healthy interbirth spacing, and wellness services to support interpregnancy health. Some of these services are covered through Managed Care Organizations (MCOs) and some through the state Extended Women's Health Program. Pressure on current providers will impact the ease of access to available services.

- The Council encourages DHSS and DSS to examine policies and training related to precertification for and access to Long Acting Reversible Contraceptive and removal with the goal of same day services.

There is a substantial population of women who are covered by both Medicare and Medicaid (dual eligible). Women of reproductive age who are disabled may be at especially high risk for complications due to unplanned pregnancies. The interplay between the payment sources can cause complexity in determining which agency provides the payment. This has led to delays and outright failure in providing services to high-risk women.

We appreciate current efforts by Benefit Program Staff to work through individual cases as they arise and are referred. However, this "one off" solution does not create a systematic approach for identifying and approving certain preventive vaccines (such as Tdap) and postpartum contraception for dual eligible pregnant and postpartum clients. From both a quality and workload point of view, we encourage DSS to streamline and systematize these processes.

- The Council requests examination of payment policies by DSS to provide clarity to providers and their patients and the policies related to participating providers that can enhance access to reproductive health services.

The Extended Women's Health Services Program provides well woman care and family planning services to low-income Missouri women ages 18-56 in households up to 201% FPL. This helps fulfill the objectives of prevention of unintended pregnancy, providing access to some women's preventive health services, and allowing for adequate interbirth spacing for the well-being of the mother and the child. Because this program is entirely state funded and administered outside of the Medicaid program, the state has considerable flexibility in its operation.

- DHSS should partner with DSS to ensure that if ineligible for full Medicaid, post-partum women should be auto-enrolled into Women's Health Services Program when their pregnancy-related Medicaid coverage expires, with both patients and providers appropriately notified. Additionally, all MO HealthNet applicants who do not qualify for other programs should be automatically screened and enrolled in WHSP when eligible, regardless if the applicant checks the box for family planning services in the application. The state should also remove the restriction on sterilized women, which would eliminate the need for applicants to check a box for family planning services in the application. Therefore, all women between the ages of 18-55 who have a family income at or below 201% FPL, and who are not otherwise eligible for other MO Health Net programs, should be screened for eligibility.

- Finally, we recommend simplifying the notification letter to clarify an applicant's eligibility and coverage of services, which will save the applicant time and confusion, and alleviate administrative burdens for the state.

State funding of contraceptive providers has restricted the number of eligible providers of contraceptive services, which also curtails access to key preventive health services, such as cervical cancer screening. Rural communities are especially affected by loss of accessible providers. According to the State Report Card, Missouri is in the lowest quartile for Chlamydia screening of 16-24 year olds and the lowest quartile for breast and cervical cancer screening. The loss of service providers is likely part of this decline.

- DHSS should share the recommendation with appropriate cabinet leadership that the Council encourages the state to reconsider its restrictions on provider choice for easily accessible contraceptive and women's preventive health services. The Council encourages the state to consider incentives for providing services in rural areas.

Include rehabilitative therapy in Medicaid coverage

Since 2005, physical therapy coverage has been limited for Medicaid recipients, and these restrictions increase the risk of developing chronic pain syndromes. Under MO HealthNet, physical therapy is available only to adults who are blind, pregnant, or in nursing homes. Musculoskeletal disorders are common causes of disability in women, especially as women age.

Rehabilitative services are critical to maximizing function, limiting pain, preventing opioid use and misuse, delaying or avoiding surgery, ensuring full recovery after injury or surgery and maintaining the capacity for people remain independent and return to work. The CDC has made formal recommendation for use of physical therapy to avoid the need for long-term opioid prescriptions. CDC Guideline for Prescribing Opioids for Chronic Pain — United States, 2016. https://www.cdc.gov/mmwr/volumes/65/rr/rr6501e1.htm

- DHSS should encourage reinstating rehabilitative services as a cost effective and sensible components of comprehensive care and maintaining patient function.

Ensure safety for Missouri women and their families

Domestic violence

The State Supreme Court will soon hear a case on the constitutionality of the Second Amendment Preservation Act passed in Missouri in 2021. Federal law has had domestic violence gun laws in place since the mid-1990s. This includes those convicted of domestic violence assaults and those with court issued protection orders for domestic violence, child abuse, stalking, and/or sexual assault. Missouri does not have state laws on domestic violence and firearm restriction; therefore, only federal officials can respond to restrict gun possession by those who continue to use violence against their family members. Currently, the Second Amendment Preservation Act prohibits local and state law enforce from working with or implementing federal firearm laws within the state, creating an enabling environment for abusers with guns and putting women at risk for injury and death.

This situation is urgent because Missouri now ranks 13th in the nation for the number of women killed by men—with the majority of those homicides committed with firearms. Passing Missouri firearms laws to protect domestic violence victims is homicide prevention.

- DHSS should work with the Missouri Highway Patrol to gather data on how policies, including Missouri's Stand Your Ground policies and Second Amendment Preservation Act, have impacted domestic violence homicide.

Support efforts to promote healthy living

Avoid work requirements in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)

The Missouri General Assembly has considered several bills to add work requirements to the SNAP program. The Women's Health Council strongly believes that reducing the amount of food going into low-income homes could have very serious consequences for the health and welfare of women and children in Missouri. In addition, the current economic crisis has exacerbated food insecurity and has also had a differential impact on women's employment that will potentially be long-lasting. These circumstances underscore the importance of support focused strategies that help woman obtain employment including increasing access to affordable childcare and improved functionality and scope of job training programs.

Support efforts to address obesity

The Council appreciates the efforts of the DSS to expand Medicaid codes for treatment of adult and childhood obesity. The state should continue to encourage an integrated effort that takes into account the social and structural determinates of health. In addition, the Council encourages support of appropriate breast feeding policies and nutritional counseling when appropriate. Food Insecurity has a substantial impact on the development of both obesity and eating disorders. The Council encourages the state to maintain robust access to WIC and SNAP programs for families. Mothers have indicated that EBT (Electronic Benefits Transfer) cards have been very helpful and the Council looks forward to reports of progress for the WIC program.

Financial stability for families

Inflation carries an especially heavy burden for women headed households. Their net-worth, emergency funds and day to day budgets are often tenuous. The Governor's proposed budget includes increased pay for state employees with women representing more than half of the state workforce. Rising inflation may also have a negative impact on retirement savings and Missouri's 529 plan for those who will need to access these funds in the nearer term. We encourage the state to be forward thinking about strategies to keep salaries and these savings vehicles whole.

Conclusion

It has been a difficult two years since the start of the pandemic. State employees have stepped up to address unimagined challenges. We commend them for their dedication and service and look forward to great things in the coming year.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND SENIOR SERVICES WEEKLY REPORT TO THE GOVERNOR

FOR THE WEEK OF July 11, 2022

TO: Governor Parson

FROM: Paula F. Nickeson, Acting Director

THROUGH: Aaron Willard

I. Summary Message for the Governor

- Media reports state that a resident of the Senath South Skilled Nursing Facility in Senath, MO was found dead by facility staff in his shared room and that local law enforcement was called to the facility. Reports are that a suspect was taken into custody, and the investigation continues. The facility reported the incident to SLCR, and a surveyor responded on site on the day to investigate. The investigation is not yet completed. During the initial complaint investigation, there were a number of other concerns identified, so a survey team began a full investigation on Sunday July 10. That survey team is expected to be on site throughout this week.
- After the Amtrak incident, there was some frustration expressed regarding the current casualty tracking system. The DHSS Division of Regulation and Licensure has reached out to and will be working with SEMA and DHHS to add a column to the mass casualty standard tracking worksheet. The new column would indicate where the patient was transported to. Although the EMS community responded extremely well to the accident in getting injured passengers to care, there was difficulty in tracking where the casualties went. Not only will this allow more efficient distribution of casualties, but it will also assist with family reunification efforts.

II. Upcoming Press Releases/Announcements about Agency Initiatives

III. Director's Travel Schedule

NSTR

IV. 30-60 Day Look-Ahead

NSTR

V. Needed Input

NSTR

VI. Programmatic Updates – For Situational Awareness

- The USDA Food and Nutrition Service is scheduled to conduct a financial management review of the FFY 2022 Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Children (WIC). Planned dates are August 8-19. The review will evaluate compliance with program and financial policies, regulatory requirements and quality standards.

- There are currently 360 long-term care facilities reporting an active COVID-19 outbreak among residents and staff, up from 350 reported last week. Symptoms continue to be predominately mild.
- The DHSS Section for Long-Term Care Regulation continues to have a high level of vacancies, although progress is being made. There are 18 total vacancies, including 16 RN surveyor positions however 4 new RNs have been hired in the last couple of weeks. Since January, 14 nurse positions have been filled. Unfortunately, experienced candidates are declining offers due to salary levels.
- The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services released a memorandum entitled "Reinforcement of EMTALA Obligations Specific to Patients who are Pregnant or are Experiencing Pregnancy Loss." This memorandum reinforces the requirements for EMTALA statute for patients irrespective of any state laws or mandates that apply to specific procedures. This was released to reinforce federal law with regards to treatment of emergency medical conditions such as ectopic pregnancies. The memorandum was released in response to multiple questions and concerns about performance of emergency procedures in lieu of new state laws restricting or preventing abortions as a result of Roe v. Wade being overturned.
    - On July 13, DHSS published an online FAQ regarding the regulation of Missouri abortion facilities post overturn of Roe v. Wade. The Department continues to review regulatory processes to determine if any changes are necessary to be in line with statute.
- The Time Critical Diagnosis (TCD) program has been nominated for a Hooley Award in the category of New Frontiers. The awards are sponsored by Image Trend, the company that provides EMS reporting software. Peggy Huddleston of the TCD unit developed a mass casualty worksheet using Image Trend that activates when patients are involved in a mass-casualty incident.
- Each year, DHSS (as the recipient state MCH agency) solicits public comments from consumers and partners across Missouri regarding the proposed use of Title V Maternal and Child Health (MCH) Services Block Grant funds for the next federal fiscal year. The FFY 2023 Proposed Use of Funds was disseminated to MCH stakeholders across Missouri and posted online for public comment. Public input will be received through July 25.
- The Bureau of Community Health and Wellness, School Health Program has launched the second cohort of the Keeping Infectious Diseases out of Schools through Training, Education, Assistance, Mentorship, and Support (MO KIDS TEAMS) project. Twelve new school district teams are partnering with their local health department and a community healthcare provider to assess their district's infectious disease control policies and practices and develop an action plan to address gaps and areas of need. Staff will provide ongoing training and 1:1 support to the participating districts throughout the upcoming school year to ensure they are implementing measures to keep students and staff healthy, safe, and in school.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Amanda Schwartze from DHSS' Bureau of Genetics and Healthy Childhood Newborn Hearing Screening Program together with Lydia Sergeant from DHSS's Bureau of Special Health Care Needs Family Partnership were chosen from a large pool of applicants to participate in the "Impact of Family Support and Engagement Learning Community" developed and led by the National Center for Hearing Assessment and Management and The Family Leadership in Language and Learning Center. Lydia and Amanda will participate with six other state programs and their corresponding family-based organizations to learn the key domains of family support, survey methods, and evaluation processes. The program will create a survey tool to assess the impact of family support to families with infants and children newly diagnosed with hearing loss and evaluate how family support is making a difference, as well as identify areas of improvement.
- The School Health Program in the DHSS Bureau of Community Health and Wellness is partnering with the Missouri Association of School Nurses and Missouri Association of Rural Education to offer the Health Office Orientation for new school nurses on July 19-20 at the Governor Office Building. One hundred new nurses registered and there is a waiting list. Areas to be addressed include general school nurse responsibilities, immunizations, communicable diseases, chronic disease management, medication administration training and delegation, and a hands-on lab for vision and hearing screenings. New this year is a focus on special education and the role of the school nurse in social-emotional health.

EWHS Proposal.docx

Hello Tanya,

What we'd like to accomplish is to change the Extended Women's Health Services language so that eligibility is increased from 201% percent of federal poverty level to 300% of federal poverty level. The proposed modification is below in red. I've attached the Word document from our Office on Women's Health explaining the need and rationale. If you have any questions please let me know.

Section 10.725. To the Department of Health and Senior Services
For the Division of Community and Public Health
For family planning and family planning-related services, pregnancy testing, sexually transmitted disease testing and treatment, including pap tests and pelvic exams, and follow-up services provided that none of the funds appropriated herein may be paid, granted to, or expended to directly or indirectly fund procedures or administrative functions of any clinic, physician's office, or any other place or facility in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or any affiliate or associate of any such clinic, physician's office, or place or facility in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or for performing, inducing, or assisting in the performance or inducing of an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, for encouraging a patient to have an abortion or referring a patient for an abortion, which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, or developing or dispensing drugs, chemicals, or devices intended to be used to induce an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother. Such services shall be available to uninsured women who are at least eighteen (18) to fifty-five (55) years of age with a family Modified Adjusted Gross Income for the household size that does not exceed three hundred percent (300%) of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL) and who is a legal resident of the state

Good Afternoon Daniel,

In our discussions earlier this week you mentioned some hopeful changes to House Bill Language. It appears that the Departments time to request this would be at our meeting with Budget and Planning. BS&A will be meeting with Department Management Thursday, September 29th. If we could get suggested language changes by mid-afternoon Wednesday, September 28th for addition to documentation to review that would be helpful. Thanks!

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Extended Women's Health Program (EWHS) Proposal

Problem: EWHS lapsed $4,273,631.76 in SFY22. With Medicaid expansion taking effect in 2021, thousands of participants from EWHS moved to the new expansion group. At the start of SFY22, the program had 48,564 participants enrolled. At the end of SFY22, there were 14,434 participants enrolled, a reduction of over 70% participants.

Solution: Expand eligibility requirements for EWHS from 201% Federal Poverty Level to 300% FPL. Doing so will help meet Office on Women's Health goal of increasing the percentage of women with a preventative health visit in the last year and improve pregnancy outcomes for women in Missouri.

Context: The Pregnancy Associated Maternal Mortality Report released in 2022 demonstrated a significant number of women die in the first year postpartum after their pregnancy related Medicaid coverage ends. Changing eligibility requirements for EWHS will ensure more mothers in Missouri have access to medical care, thus preventing death for new moms across the state.

Additionally, maternal and pregnancy outcomes improve when women have access to care. Preconception and interconception health are critical time periods for ensuring healthy pregnancies and babies. Preconception health screenings can prevent poor health outcomes from diseases such as syphilis and hepatitis B. At the same time, these visits can identify other health concerns related to poor pregnancy outcomes like high blood pressure. Interconception health care helps improve health outcomes by addressing topics like birth spacing. The March of Dimes reports on the importance of birth spacing. "Pregnancies that start less than 18 months after birth are associated with delayed prenatal care and adverse birth outcomes, including preterm birth, neonatal morbidity, and low birthweight. Further, these poor birth outcomes are often associated with ongoing health problems such as developmental delay, asthma, and vision and hearing loss." Improving access to care for birth spacing will result in healthier pregnancies and babies.

Program Details: EWHS is established in HB 10, Section 10.725. It serves uninsured women who are at least eighteen (18) to fifty-five (55) years of age with a family Modified Adjusted Gross Income for the household size that does not exceed two hundred and one percent (201%) of the FPL and who is a legal resident of the state. Details on cost savings, number served, and other outcomes can be found in the program description for EWHS.

The program covers family planning and family planning-related services, pregnancy testing, sexually transmitted disease testing and treatment, including pap tests and pelvic exams, and follow-up services.

The Office on Women's Health established an attestation process to ensure that none of the funds are expended directly or indirectly to fund procedures or administrative functions of any place or facility or affiliate in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or for performing, inducing, or assisting in the performance or inducing of an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, for encouraging a patient to have an abortion or referring a patient for an abortion, which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, or

With the recent Supreme Court ruling returning the right for states to decide on the abortion issue, I have several questions. With Missouri being the first state with a trigger law effectively banning all abortion, kindly provide the detailed plans you will propose to handle the residual impact of this law.
Specifically:

- When will the state of Missouri require insurance companies to cover maternity coverage without a pre-existing condition clause? Maternity benefits are optional for most coverage, and sometimes we women without options (or contraception failure) are caught unawares. Will the state now mandate maternity coverage be an automatic clause for all women with a uterus of reproductive age? For those without coverage, will existing state programs be inclusive regardless of income? Currently only those who qualify for economic reasons are eligible. Surely this is not fair if a woman finds herself pregnant and her insurance does not cover the pregnancy? I ask you to explain how you will ensure those fetuses are cared for appropriately in this scenario.
- What safeguards will you propose to implement to ensure those unborn babies vessels (aka the WOMEN) are given appropriate post-natal care to support the new babies? Specifically, when will the State of Missouri provide fully paid maternity care and post-natal parental leave? If the fetus is important, surely the newborn babies deserve the best start? Ensuring mom-baby are recovering well post birth is a crucial step to ensure quality of life. Our nation is one of the only "first world" nations to not offer paid maternity leave of any duration. FMLA does not provide safeguards and especially not for those who work an hourly wage.
- When will all childcare be subsidized regardless of income? When can day care workers expect to receive a living wage with benefits? Who will recruit the new centers and care givers to support this influx of babies?
- With the influx of babies born, so too will the increase of babies in crisis/families in need of social services. This will place burdens on the existing state infrastructure which we can all agree is taxed to excessive limits. When will the social workers receive a living wage that is competitive and reflective of the many hours they work? They will have increased case-loads stretching them beyond their already overloaded bandwidth.
- What will you do to fill the number of unfilled health care positions in the state when doctors, nurses and caregivers flee the state of Missouri due to rising malpractice and or fears of litigation for doing their job (aka referring women in need to health care services)?
- In what way shape or form will you defend the right to privacy for women? As noted in the Washington Post, your own party is considering leaving us open to litigation for activities conducted out of state with included threats of prohibiting travel? How is this American? At what point will this party not see women for more than the receptacle and as a fully functioning human that has the ability to make decisions on her own behalf with the consultation of medical professionals? How does that proposal from your colleague do anything but lower hard fought recognition of equality our mother's strived for?

The implication that our party is encouraging others to "narc" on others is quite reminiscent of the Mcarthy Era. And I for one, am horrified by this possibility. Kindly explain this rationale.
texas-supreme-court/
I truly do wish to hear back from you on your thoughts to these overarching concerns. As an American citizen, current Missouri citizen and a mother of two women, I truly wish to understand how this crusade for the unborn is complete if you do not also institute policies to protect the sanctity of all life (born and unborn). For a state to have such a draconian stance on women's freedoms is chilling, particularly the long term implications on how this could be applied elsewhere.

Respectfully,
Mandy Williams

Dear Michael:

We have a constituent inquiring about Medicaid funding for Planned Parenthood. Can funding be reinstated since providing abortions is no longer an option. To be specific, funding for family planning and testing services were asked about. Apparently, the other option in the area is booked out far in advance and Planned Parenthood has appointments available.

Subject: Medication and Procedure Lists for EWHS

Hello all,
The rules/regulations from DSS indicate that the list of contraception options are from Health and Human Services, not DHSS. https://www.sos.mo.gov/cmsimages/adrules/csr/current/13csr/13c70-4.pdf I am unsure if these rules transferred to us when the program moved to DHSS. There is no easily accessible listing on HHS websites of methods included, other than this chart from the FDA. https://www.fda.gov/media/150299/download

I've attached the only detailed lists I could find of approved procedure codes and ICD10 codes for EWHS. These were last updated in 2020. There is no comprehensive listing of methods of oral contraception that includes or excludes emergency contraception. I have requested DSS to run how many people received IUDs (copper and hormonal), had an appointment for EC, and the number of pharmacy payments made for EC.

Based off of this information, it is my understanding that the Department has been deferring to HHS/FDA to determine all allowable forms of contraception and emergency contraception that would be prescriptions and the DSS then DHSS Directors approved updates to the procedure lists.

I'm available for any questions.

Hi Laura,
Thanks for the information. We met with their team today. They are interested in partnering to promote early establishment of prenatal care during pregnancy to improve health outcomes, connect patients with a healthcare home, and reduce maternal morbidity and mortality.

In the short term, they are looking for about $1.9 million in general revenue funds to support their federal grant. This would allow them to expand the number of health centers receiving support. OWH does not have any GR appropriations available to support their need at this time. If there are any other opportunities across the Department, they are interested in connecting on this.

In the long term, we will be partnering with them to meet their goals for improving health access through partnership opportunities.
Best,

Thanks Laura for the follow up. I wasn't familiar with the grant until you shared it the other day. You may already know this, but it's a grant to support FQHCs that goes to DSS. You are correct; it does require match and they would like DHSS or DSS to provide additional GR match money so they can get additional federal dollars.

Subject: RE: Planned Parenthood Funding?
Date: Tuesday, September 13, 2022 1:57:46 PM

Good afternoon, Mr. Cozart –

DHSS currently regulates Reproductive Health Services / Planned Parenthood as a licensed abortion facility; however, this is no funding related to this regulation. To my knowledge, DHSS does not provide any funding to this entity.

Additionally, the following language is from the Department's budget bill, Section 10.725 (page 37 of https://house.mo.gov/billtracking/bills221/hlrbillspdf/3010H.06T.pdf):

For family planning and family planning-related services, pregnancy testing, sexually transmitted disease testing and treatment, including pap tests and pelvic exams, and follow-up services provided that none of the funds appropriated herein may be paid, granted to, or expended to directly or indirectly fund procedures or administrative functions of any clinic, physician's office, or any other place or facility in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or any affiliate or associate of any such clinic, physician's office, or place or facility in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or for performing, inducing, or assisting in the performance or inducing of an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, for encouraging a patient to have an abortion or referring a patient for an abortion, which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, or developing or dispensing drugs, chemicals, or devices intended to be used to induce an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother.

If I can provide any additional information, please let me know.

Michael-

Rep. Mayhew keeps hearing claims that we are inadvertently funding Planned Parenthood. Is there anything in the department that says we have a contract with Planned Parenthood? Are they listed as a provider? Are they listed anywhere at all in any capacity in department dealings, partnerships, etc?

3	The Coronavirus Response and Relief Supplemental Appropriation Act (CRRSA) granted states funding to be utilized on Adult Protective Services. The $1.7M award was appropriated in the FY 2022 budget; however, the department has received a no cost extension until September 30, 2023. The department anticipated expending $850,000 during FY 2023, but was not able to expend to that level. Due to this, additional authority will be needed in FY 2023 to expend the funds. This is to be used to give funds to AAAs to assist victims of abuse, neglect, and exploitation to access needed goods and services that are otherwise not available.	Shyra- update on contracts?
4	Funding is available through CMS for state survey agencies to conduct recertification surveys. Due to COVID-19 restrictions to suspend all recertification surveys and non-immediate jeopardy complaints in long-term care faculties. DHSS currently is backlogged on performing these surveys. These additional funds will be used immediately to contract with organizations to assist with these efforts to catch up.	DHSS was informed these funds are available this past week. One of the requirements is that we have an obligation in place by September 30th, which is a very aggressive timeline. We immediately began working on a resolution on the contracting side and will be reaching out to OA with a plan in the next day or so.
5	CMP funds are earned from penalties imposed for citations identified during inspection and must be used entirely for activities that protect or improve the quality of care or quality of life for residents of long-term care facilities. The CMP fund use must be approved in advance by CMS. 42 CFR 488.433 also requires a core amount of CMP funds to be held in reserve for emergencies, such as relocation of residents, this requirement is being increased from $600K to $1 million by CMS because of deposits funds are available for additional projects. Items that would be supported by CMS include communicative technologies for nursing home residents, physical barrier equipment allowing more visitors, and portable fans and air cleaners/filtration systems. Another project would be funding for the University to develop an enhanced Nursing Leadership Program to assist in retaining nursing staff.	NFQC fund, fund balance is approx $5 million, some is for operating costs, but excess is requested for expenditures. NDI for same amounts
6	Additional one-time funding is necessary during FY 2023 for payment of a contract with the Missouri Primary Care Association (MPCA). MPCA facilitates the placement of health care professionals into primary health care delivery sites within Heath Professional Shortage Areas, as well as hosting statewide training and workforce coalition meetings. This funding supplies match to the State Office of Rural Health federal grant.	accounting error, not paid in FY22
7	The Health Professional State Loan Repayment grant is increasing. The one-to-one match requirement is also being removed. The request is for additional appropriation authority to utilize the federal funds entirely. Personal Services funding of $48,965 is for a portion of the team members salaries that work on the SLRP program to handle the increase in workload for the additional participants. No additional FTE is required.	5 year grant cycle at this level. Loan repayment application cycle runs from Jan1 to March 1 each year, candidates notified and contracts sent out April 1, due date May 1st to ensure funds are expended by June 1st.

3	A second round of ARPA funds are being disbursed to Missouri in the amount of $2,979,772 intended to increase the amount to create long-term enhancements to the Adult Protective Services infrastructure. The amount requested represents the additional authority needed above the amount of $2.3 million in FY 2023.
4	Some federal COVID-19 related grant funds changed from being funded through COVID grants to being funded through American Rescue Plan Act federal dollars because of this, the department requests additional federal ARPA appropriations to utilize these funds. The grants are for a Disease Intervention Specialist program and a program to monitor the health of infants with congenital exposure to COVID-19. $3.8 million is for the Workforce Development grant, $87K for ELC and $350K for a WIC grant. In addition, DHSS would like to request an additional $3.2 million ($200K PS) for anticipated grants we will continue to receive. The ARPA request is similar to FY 2023 having an additional 10 percent added in.
5	This request is for ARPA Funds. DHSS has applied for the Public Health Infrastructure, Workforce, and Data Systems grant. Since we were aware of this late in the FY 2022 cycle, appropriations were requested, but current FY 2023 appropriations were based on estimates prior to the department receiving information on the actual grant award. Now that the grant has been released, additional federal PS appropriation authority is requested to meet the specific needs of the grants. The workforce grant is for $60 million over 5 years and includes many initiatives worked on in the transformation project, including strengthening local public health capacity.
6	The Division has received a second American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) long-term care ombudsman award to use through September 30, 2025. The LTCOP advocates for the rights of approximately 55,000 residents in approximately 1,164 long-term care facilities across the state. The LTCOP relies heavily on volunteers to sustain the program. Most of the approximately 70 to 80 ombudsman volunteers are in the older age range and have reduced their volunteer time due to the potential exposure risk of COVID. These volunteers make regular visits to nursing facilities and are the direct advocates for those residents. However, due to a volunteer shortage, there's an even greater need for additional paid Ombudsman.

2	Additional Talking Points
3	• Collaboration with AAAs to assist victims of abuse, neglect, and exploitation to access needed goods and services that are otherwise not available (including part-time staff for coordination); • Part-time staff PS costs to focus on quality assurances of investigations received during pandemic; • Public outreach resources and materials to increase public awareness of APS' functions (including part-time staff for coordination); • Pursue training and professional development for APS staff; • Pursue initiatives to expand APS best practices (i.e. Adult Abuse Multi-Disciplinary Teams); • Enhance the safety preparedness of APS staff by acquiring safety equipment and training; • Enhancements to APS' case management IT system; • Pursue project management resources to ensure effective implementation of projects being pursued with federal funding; and • Acquire a Telehealth-type service to facilitate virtual interactions between APS staff and clients and other key stakeholders.
4	$3,849,222 for the DIS program that entirely transitioned to ARPA funds. The department requests 3.00 FTE for this program, who will perform investigations on reportable infections, assist individuals with receiving testing and treatment, and provide technical support to medical providers. • $87,664 for a portion of the core ELC grant that transitioned to ARPA funding. These funds are for ELC Project W, which is for monitoring the health of infants with congenital exposure to COVID-19. • An additional $200,000 PS and $3 million EE for other unanticipated ARPA grants.
5	Funds are for workforce director, senior public health specialist and project specialist.

7	This request consists of $2.3 million in GR to cover the ARPA that was added for FY 2023 and make this a sustainable funding source. An additional $3.8 million is requested for core funding for LPHAs to focus on quality improvement. These funds will create an incentive program, which will be distributed to the LPHAs annually based on their completion of initial accreditation and maintaining accreditation, completed annual trainings by their administrators, and annual trainings completed by their city council and\or county commissioners or board of health. The goal of incentivizing accreditation at the local level is to improve accountability and transparency and stimulate quality improvement efforts to ensure that Missouri's LPHAs are able to provide foundational public health services for their local communities. Trainings for the administrators and council will elevate leadership skills and engagement and support throughout the communities which they serve.
8	This request is to allow for expenditure of the enhanced federal matching rate (FMAP) of 10 percent from April 1, 2021 through March 31, 2022; funds must be expended by March 31, 2025. The funding will be to continue the HCBS initiatives into FY 2024, including $1.2 million for Prescribed Pediatric Extended Care (formerly Medically Fragile Daycare Model), $4.8 million for the HCBS Case Management System, and $3.9 million for HCBS Reassessment Partnerships.
9	SB 681 was passed and signed into law in the 2022 legislative session, this requires all public and private schools as well as providers of early childhood education that receive state funding to meet certain deadlines to provide drinking water with a lead concentration level below five parts per billion. HB 3020 gave $27 million for lead remediation efforts. To implement, DHSS would require three team members to work with school districts making them aware of statutory deadlines and standards, providing guidance to school districts in need of assistance, and managing required reported data from schools. Two additional staff would be needed to manage financial disbursements to schools if that funding remains in the FY 2024 budget.
10	Funding is available through CMS for state survey agencies to conduct recertification surveys. Due to COVID-19 restrictions to suspend all recertification surveys and non-immediate jeopardy complaints in long-term care faculties. DHSS currently is backlogged on performing these surveys. These additional funds will be used immediately to contract with organizations to assist with these efforts to catch up.
11	TAFP SB 275 from the 2019 legislative session created the Senior Services Growth and Development Program within the Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS). Funding is to be utilized solely for enhancing senior services provided by Area Agencies on Aging (AAA) of which 50 percent must be applied to development and expansion of senior center programs, facilities, and services. DHSS will disburse the funding to the AAAs utilizing the current federally approved intrastate funding formula. In FY 2023, an appropriation was created to transfer funds from the budget stabilization fund. The department's current appropriation is only $1, so additional authority is needed for expending funds.
12	SB 710 passed during the 2022 legislative session and requires the department to create a program that monitors and collects required items for registration of each Supplemental Health Care Services Agency (SHCSA) that conducts business in the state. Under the legislation, DHSS would have to review records of each agency registered documentation that personnel meet all licensing, certification, educational, and background check requirements for the position they will be working. Because it is unknown how many staffing agencies will register in the state, DHSS is not able to estimate the workload involved in this, but with the number of registrations in the state, this could be over 1,000 compliance inspections and investigations per year.

13	HB 2331 passed during the 2022 legislative session and requires the site reviews of licensed trauma centers to occur once every three years. This request is for an additional registered nurse and administrative support assistant to perform the additional workload and expense and equipment to fund the data registry access.
14	CMP funds are earned from penalties imposed for citations identified during inspection and must be used entirely for activities that protect or improve the quality of care or quality of life for residents of long-term care facilities. The CMP fund use must be approved in advance by CMS. 42 CFR 488.433 requires a core amount of CMP funds to be held in reserve for emergencies, such as relocation of residents, this federal requirement is being increased from $600K to $1 million by CMS because of deposit funds are available for additional projects. Items that would be supported by CMS include communicative technologies for nursing home residents, physical barrier equipment allowing more visitors, and portable fans and air cleaners/filtration systems. Another project would be funding for the University to develop an enhanced Nursing Leadership Program to assist in retaining nursing staff.
15	The Missouri Comprehensive Cancer and Control Program's (MCCCP) federal grant is starting a new five year grant cycle. This was a competitive grant and the funding is being reduced by $180,131, a 33.5 percent reduction in the total grant award. This request is for GR funds in the equivalent amount to continue to provide these services which allow five Federally Qualified Health Centers to provide cancer screenings in 20 counties across the state.
16	DHSS is anticipating that Delta Dental will donate an additional $75,000 for the Missouri State Loan Repayment Program requiring additional appropriation authority. The funding will allow for three additional dentists per year, resulting in increased access to quality health care services in Missouri's rural and underserved areas.
17	The funding would be for a contract with the Missouri Area Education Health Centers to increase efforts focusing on connecting students to careers and professionals to communities. This would create a Health Care Navigator Program, located in rural communities to support youth in middle school and high school and undergraduate students pursuing careers in health care.
18	The Health Professional State Loan Repayment grant is increasing. The one-to-one match requirement is also being removed. The request is for additional appropriation authority to utilize the federal funds entirely. Personal Services funding of $48,965 is for a percentage of the team members salaries that work on the SLRP program to handle the increase in workload for the additional participants. No additional FTE is required.

26	A Master Plan for Aging (MPA) is a living document that provides a clear framework to plan for ten years or more and enables Missouri to communicate a clear vision and priorities for the state. It guides policies and programs to support aging with dignity and reflects extensive input from people of all ages and abilities to ensure that all Missourians can age as safe, healthy, and independent as possible. One of the benefits of a Master Plan on Aging is that it allows the state to allocate funding or resources as they become available to implement initiatives from the Master Plan. This item funds costs associated with the coordination of the Master Plan and a consumer needs assessment survey. The Master Plan on Aging will develop a framework for care for seniors into the future. This will entail a contract with UMKC for coordination, statewide needs assessment, surveys, and a media and publicity campaign.

3	Certified nursing aides (CNAs) provide the daily care needs of the over 35,000 Missourians receiving nursing home care on any given day as well as many other citizens in other healthcare settings, including Assisted Living, Veteran's Homes, Hospitals, In-Home Care, Home Health and Hospice. For nursing homes, CNAs are the backbone of quality care and these jobs are often integral to the community, particularly in rural and small communities where a nursing home is a major employer in the area. CNAs are in short supply and the national workforce shortage has exacerbated this shortage. In Missouri, 5,298 and 5,080 individuals completed CNA training in 2018 and 2019 respectively. In 2021, that number significantly decreased to 3,053. As of August, 2022, 2,113 individuals have completed CNA training – projecting those numbers for the remainder of the year - approximately 3,170 individuals will complete the training in 2022. This is a 40 percent decrease compared to 2018. Any increases in this number will assist nursing homes with their staffing shortfalls resulting in improved quality of care for residents. Two strategies have been identified to increase enrollment in CNA training programs. First, provide funding to community colleges and technical schools offering CNA training up to $75,000/institution. A request for proposal process would be used to identify work plans from schools for this funding which might include the cost of recruiting CNA candidates, needs-based tuition reimbursement/coverage, providing additional funding to recruit clinical sites and/or instructors or other needs identified by the respective school as barriers to increasing their CNA graduates. This model is based upon the model used successfully by the Division of Professional Registration's Board of Nursing with schools of nursing state-wide. Funding would be awarded to these entities through an application process which would outline how they plan to increase the number of qualified students admitted to their programs. Second, increase the Medicaid reimbursement nursing homes receive for the cost of the training. DHSS and MO HealthNet representatives have discussed this strategy and MO HealthNet staff will be discussing a NDI/regulatory changes with their leadership.
4	There is a shortage of Paramedics, Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs), and Dispatchers across the state. • 14,537 EMTs registered; projected need is 17,000 • 3,000 dispatchers registered; projected need of 3,300 • 8,057 paramedics registered; projected need of 8,500 • EMTs and paramedics continue to leave the field for a variety of reasons. With no changes, it is estimated that new entrants for training programs will supply only about half of the need. • Efforts need to be deployed to ensure emergency medical personnel are available for these critical services. DHSS requests $3.5 million in general revenue to address this shortage of critical personnel: • EMTs - reimbursement will be given to EMS agencies for new EMT candidates for their training costs- $1,500 each x 1,000 new EMTs = $1,500,000 • Dispatchers - Emergency Medical Dispatch course training program reimbursement- $2,000 each X 300 new dispatchers = $600,000 • Paramedics - reimbursement will be given to EMS agencies for new paramedics for their training costs- $ 9,000 x 111 new paramedics = $1,000,000 • Reimbursement to Emergency Medical Response agencies for funding continuing education to retain existing staff.- 266 licensed agencies x $1,500 each = $400,000

6	The Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) requests new funding to transform the quality of health services provided to women during and after pregnancy to reduce maternal mortality. Missouri's current maternal mortality rate ranks among the worst in the nation, and an average of 61 Missouri women die each year while pregnant or within a year of pregnancy (25.2 deaths per 100,000 live births). This NDI proposes funding across five domains to improve maternal health: Develop and implement standardized materiality quality care protocols, develop a Perinatal Health Access collaborative to better reach underserved areas, bolster the maternal care workforce, optimize postpartum care to meet current gaps in care, and improve maternal health data including a state maternal child health dashboard. See Attachment A.
7	The requested funding is necessary to cover anticipated costs of services for Medicaid HCBS participants whose needs have increased, as well as an increasing number of eligible individuals utilizing the program.
8	Funding is requested to continue providing Home and Community Based Services for Medicaid participants receiving long-term care in their homes and communities. DHSS programs include Medicaid State Plan Personal Care, Independent Living Waiver, Adult Day Care Waiver, Structured Family Caregiver Waiver, Aged and Disabled Waiver, Brain Injury Waiver, Medically Fragile Adult Waiver, Healthy Children and Youth Program Services, and the AIDS Waiver.
9	See Attachment C.
10	See Attachment D.
11	See Attachment E.
12	The Center for Medicaid Services (CMS) funds State Agencies to conduct surveys and complaint investigations in nursing homes, hospitals, ambulatory surgical centers, renal dialysis facilities, home health agencies, and hospice agencies. Prior to FFY 2018, state agencies received a one percent increase in funding each year. However, since 2018 the federal government has been operating under a continued resolution therefore, Missouri has not received an increase in federal funding to perform the surveys and complaint investigations. Using current actual payroll as estimates and level federal funding, DHSS estimates a shortfall of approximately $483,788 that will require a GR pickup to sustain staffing levels.

6	Domains: 1: $2 million to develop and implement standardization protocols for all health providers to use for areas: pregnant and postpartum mothers with substance use disorder, mental health conditions, obstetric hemorrhage, hypertensive disorders, cardiac conditions, sepsis, cesarean birth. 2: $3 million hub and spoke model perinatal health access collaborative to provide expertise to rural and underserved areas in improve care for mothers and babies emphasis on psychiatry consultation, community services and behavioral health conditions. 3: $500 K plan and develop standardized maternal care provider trainings 4: $2 million for development and implementation of a postpartum plan of care template which will include full assessment for depression and anxiety, universal screening for substance use disorder and appropriate referrals to mental health professional, social workers, nurse-led home visits. 5: $1 million for advance data collection, standardization, harmonization, transparency, and support for retrospective and prospective birth cohort studies and dashboard. This will require a registered nurse specialist and research analyst.
8	Home and Community-Based Services (HCBS) afford Medicaid eligible seniors and adults with physical disabilities control over and access to a full array of long-term services and supports in the community that promote independence, health, and quality of life. Examples of HCBS include personal care, attendant care, nurse visits, adult day care, homemaker, respite, and home delivered meals for eligible adults; and additional services including adaptive equipment, private duty nursing, health screenings, and subsequent treatment for identified health problems for children including specialized medical equipment and critical medical supplies for eligible participants. The Division of Senior and Disability Services (DSDS) is responsible for HCBS eligibility determination and authorization. 61,000 participants and approx. $982 million for both agency led and consumer directed services.
12	Staff that complete federal work will be laid off or we will have to implement a hiring freeze. Both of these will reduce the number of surveys and complaint investigations that will be conducted. This could result in a decrease in federal funding for not meeting timeframes. The response to complaints in 522 nursing homes, 162 Hospitals; 110 Ambulatory Surgical Centers; 171 Renal Dialysis Facilities; 158 Home Health Agencies; and 112 Hospice Agencies potentially negatively impacting the delivery of quality patient care to approximately 40,000 residents in Missouri.

13	The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid (CMS) requires the states to include at least one registered nurse (RN) on each survey and complaint investigations team which go into facilities providing nursing services, such as hospitals and long-term care. DHSS currently pays RNs an average of $60,000K per year, while Federal Nurse Surveyors, whom perform similar work to what a Missouri State RN Surveyor performs, and other jobs requiring RN credentials average $92,000, putting Missouri $32,000 behind the average salary. In addition, DHSS competes with other state agencies for nursing personnel. The demand for surveys has greatly increased due to CMS pausing all activity in FY 2020 and 2021, except for immediate jeopardy and life safety complaints. This created an immediate backlog that continues to grow. Statutes require each facility to be inspected yearly and any deficiencies require a plan of correction as required by CMS. DHSS requests to increase the starting salary of surveyors to an average of $65,000. This increase will affect 121 RNs and 163 additional surveyors. Because Title XVIII is still at level funding due to continuing resolutions, additional general revenue is required until such a point that a federal budget would be passed to provide funds from CMS. If a federal budget is passed at appropriate levels, general revenue would be requested to be changed to federal funds.
14	See Attachment F.
15	DHSS is starting to explore looking at on-call schedules to identify areas where compensation may be lacking for our staff. Preliminary reviews show that approximately 500 of our team members work some schedule that is not typical Monday through Friday. Many of these require staff to be on-call to respond to situations and make appropriate contacts or work to resolve. We will continue to define these situations and communicate once determined if factors warrant a request for on-call or shift differential through the personnel advisory board approval process once data is complete.

Extended Women's Health Program (EWHS) Proposal

Problem: EWHS lapsed $4,273,631.76 in SFY22. With Medicaid expansion taking effect in 2021, thousands of participants from EWHS moved to the new expansion group. At the start of SFY22, the program had 48,564 participants enrolled. At the end of SFY22, there were 14,434 participants enrolled, a reduction of over 70% participants.

Solution: Expand eligibility requirements for EWHS from 201% Federal Poverty Level to 300% FPL. Doing so will help meet Office on Women's Health goal of increasing the percentage of women with a preventative health visit in the last year and improve pregnancy outcomes for women in Missouri.

Context: The Pregnancy Associated Maternal Mortality Report released in 2022 demonstrated a significant number of women die in the first year postpartum after their pregnancy related Medicaid coverage ends. Changing eligibility requirements for EWHS will ensure more mothers in Missouri have access to medical care, thus preventing death for new moms across the state.

Additionally, maternal and pregnancy outcomes improve when women have access to care. Preconception and interconception health are critical time periods for ensuring healthy pregnancies and babies. Preconception health screenings can prevent poor health outcomes from diseases such as syphilis and hepatitis B. At the same time, these visits can identify other health concerns related to poor pregnancy outcomes like high blood pressure. Interconception health care helps improve health outcomes by addressing topics like birth spacing. The March of Dimes reports on the importance of birth spacing. "Pregnancies that start less than 18 months after birth are associated with delayed prenatal care and adverse birth outcomes, including preterm birth, neonatal morbidity, and low birthweight. Further, these poor birth outcomes are often associated with ongoing health problems such as developmental delay, asthma, and vision and hearing loss." Improving access to care for birth spacing will result in healthier pregnancies and babies.

Program Details: EWHS is established in HB 10, Section 10.725. It serves uninsured women who are at least eighteen (18) to fifty-five (55) years of age with a family Modified Adjusted Gross Income for the household size that does not exceed two hundred and one percent (201%) of the FPL and who is a legal resident of the state. Details on cost savings, number served, and other outcomes can be found in the program description for EWHS.

The program covers family planning and family planning-related services, pregnancy testing, sexually transmitted disease testing and treatment, including pap tests and pelvic exams, and follow-up services.

The Office on Women's Health established an attestation process to ensure that none of the funds are expended directly or indirectly to fund procedures or administrative functions of any place or facility or affiliate in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or for performing, inducing, or assisting in the performance or inducing of an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, for encouraging a patient to have an abortion or referring a patient for an abortion, which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, or

Hello Tanya,

What we'd like to accomplish is to change the Extended Women's Health Services language so that eligibility is increased from 201% percent of federal poverty level to 300% of federal poverty level. The proposed modification is below in red. I've attached the Word document from our Office on Women's Health explaining the need and rationale. If you have any questions please let me know.

Section 10.725. To the Department of Health and Senior Services
For the Division of Community and Public Health
For family planning and family planning-related services, pregnancy testing, sexually transmitted disease testing and treatment, including pap tests and pelvic exams, and follow-up services provided that none of the funds appropriated herein may be paid, granted to, or expended to directly or indirectly fund procedures or administrative functions of any clinic, physician's office, or any other place or facility in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or any affiliate or associate of any such clinic, physician's office, or place or facility in which abortions are performed or induced other than a hospital, or for performing, inducing, or assisting in the performance or inducing of an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, for encouraging a patient to have an abortion or referring a patient for an abortion, which is not necessary to save the life of the mother, or developing or dispensing drugs, chemicals, or devices intended to be used to induce an abortion which is not necessary to save the life of the mother. Such services shall be available to uninsured women who are at least eighteen (18) to fifty-five (55) years of age with a family Modified Adjusted Gross Income for the household size that does not exceed three hundred percent (300%) of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL) and who is a legal resident of the state

Hello,
I sent an email on Tuesday regarding questions about the legality of fertility treatments and got an out of office reply from Michael Oldweiler at DHSS. In Michael's out of office reply he provided Emily Hollis' email if people had any legal questions, so I have added Emily to this email.

As a reminder here is the question I sent to DHSS and the AG's office on Tuesday:

Hello,
I had someone reach out to my office wanting to know about the legality of fertility treatments now that Roe has been overturned and parts of HB 126 from 2019 have gone into effect. The person that reached out asked about the fertility treatment "GIFT" but it would be very helpful to know about how other treatments will be impacted by the ruling and Missouri's law.

I look forward to hearing from both departments so I can pass on this very important information to my constituents.

> I had someone reach out to my office wanting to know about the legality of fertility treatments now that Roe has been overturned and parts of HB 126 from 2019 have gone into effect. The person that reached out asked about the fertility treatment "GIFT" but it would be very helpful to know about how other treatments will be impacted by the ruling and Missouri's law.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hi Laura,
I had a quick meeting with Steve this afternoon about a couple programs in OWH. I wanted to share the following questions we have as a result of the Governor's proclamation. We appreciate your time and help to ensure we make any and all changes necessary.

Situation: We currently manage an attestation process for the extended women's health services. This process is to ensure that providers don't provide abortions. The requirement to do so is in our budget language. https://health.mo.gov/atoz/extended-womens-health-services.php
Questions: Do we need to continue to require providers to attest? If yes, can we have a written explanation, as some providers will want to know why. If not, how and when should we notify our providers?

Situation: Our office is responsible for the distribution and maintenance of the informed consent checklist and booklet. They are stored in the warehouse and the warehouse shipped them to abortion providers and programs in the state. Women that sought an abortion were required to receive them 72 hours prior to their procedure.
https://health.mo.gov/living/families/womenshealth/pregnancyassistance/forms.php
Questions: Do we need to maintain these resources going forward? If yes, under what circumstances should they be distributed to the public if abortions are no longer to be provided in the state. If no, should we remove them from the website and/or update the materials?

Thanks again,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

These are the types of questions I'm receiving so far. Unless I hear differently, I'll direct them to the Governor's news release and explain that we are in the early stages now of determining how regulatory processes will need to be adjusted. (??) Unsure if that's the right approach. Thanks!

Hi Michael –

- How many abortions were done in Missouri in calendar year 2021? Does this number include surgical and chemical? Please provide a breakdown of these numbers if they are reported separately.

  Missouri Recorded Abortions for 2021: Medical = 23, Surgical = 127. Total = 150

- Please provide the numbers for calendar year 2021 of Missouri women who traveled out of state to receive an abortion. Does this number include surgical and chemical? Please provide a breakdown of these numbers if they are reported separately.

  Missouri Resident Abortions for 2021: Medical = 2498, Surgical = 1141. Total = 3639

  NOTE: Per my email below, the number of Missouri resident abortions (those who go out of state) provided above include record level information we received for Missouri residents from other states, mostly Kansas, Arkansas.

  Illinois does not provide record level data back to us, They only give us an aggregate number. For example – in 2020, an estimated 6,400 abortions were performed for MO residents in IL. That's the only number we get, we will not get any more details. Based on 2020 number, it is reasonable to expect an estimated 6500 abortions to MO residents in IL. They have not yet given the number for 2021 yet. Oklahoma does not provide record level data as well. So, these will always be mentioned as "estimated".

- Please provide the number of abortions in Missouri to-date for calendar year 2022.

  For 2022: Missouri Recorded abortions thus far: 74

Please let me know if you need additional information, especially the limitations on the resident abortion data. Thanks!

Angela-

Good morning.

Here is the information you requested:

- How many abortions were done in Missouri in calendar year 2021? Does this number include surgical and chemical? Please provide a breakdown of these numbers if they are reported separately.

Missouri Recorded Abortions for 2021: Medical = 23, Surgical = 127. Total = 150

- Please provide the numbers for calendar year 2021 of Missouri women who traveled out of state to receive an abortion. Does this number include surgical and chemical? Please provide a breakdown of these numbers if they are reported separately.

Missouri Resident Abortions for 2021: Medical = 2498, Surgical = 1141. Total = 3639

NOTE: The number of Missouri resident abortions (those who go out of state) provided above include record level information we received for Missouri residents from other states, mostly Kansas, Arkansas.

Illinois does not provide record level data back to us, They only give us an aggregate number. For example – in 2020, an estimated 6,400 abortions were performed for MO residents in IL. That's the only number we get, we will not get any more details. Based on 2020 number, it is reasonable to expect an estimated 6500 abortions to MO residents in IL. They have not yet given the number for 2021 yet. Oklahoma does not provide record level data as well. So, these will always be mentioned as "estimated".

- Please provide the number of abortions in Missouri to-date for calendar year 2022.

For 2022: Missouri Recorded abortions thus far: 74

We will get this to you by COB tomorrow. # 2 will be tricky because other states are not obligated to report data back to us, even if they are MO residents, so this will be an estimated number and thus very much subject to under reporting.

Details of request *

Re: Sunshine Law Request

Dear Custodian of Records:

Pursuant to the Missouri Sunshine Law, Mo. Rev. Stat. § 610.010 et seq., American Oversight makes the following request for records.

Requested Records

American Oversight requests that your office produce copies of the following records within three business days:

1. All final decision memoranda, directives, policy interpretations, or guidance provided to, signed, approved, or otherwise adopted by the Department of Health and Senior Services regarding abortion, contraception, or reproductive health following the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health.

2. All email communications (including emails, email attachments, complete email chains, calendar invitations, and calendar invitation attachments) sent by any of the officials listed below containing any of the following key terms:

Key Terms:
a. Dobbs
b. Roe
c. Abortion
d. Pregnancy
e. Pregnant
f. Terminate
g. Fetus
h. Unborn
i. "Planned Parenthood"
j. "Trigger law"
k. "Trigger ban"
l. Contraception
m. "Birth control"
n. Abortifacient
o. Mifepristone
p. Misoprostol
q. Ectopic

Officials:
i. Acting Director Paula Nickelson
ii. Deputy Director Dr. Laura Naught
iii. Michael Oldweiler, Office of Governmental Policy and Legislation

In an effort to accommodate your office and reduce the number of potentially responsive records to be processed and produced, American Oversight has limited its request to emails sent by the specified officials. To be clear, however, American Oversight still requests that complete email chains be produced, displaying both sent and received messages. This means, for example, that both Director Nickelson's response to an email containing one of the listed key terms and the initial received message are responsive to this request and should be produced.

Please provide all responsive records from June 24, 2022, through the date the search is conducted.

Fee Waiver Request

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In accordance with Mo. Rev. Stat. § 610.026.1(1), American Oversight requests a waiver of fees associated with processing this request for records. Disclosure of the requested records is in the public interest because it will likely contribute to a better understanding of relevant government procedures by the general public in a significant way. Moreover, the request is primarily and fundamentally for non-commercial purposes.

American Oversight requests a waiver of fees because disclosure of the requested information "is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of [a] public governmental body." The public has a significant interest in top state health officials' response to changes in state abortion laws. Records with the potential to shed light on this matter would contribute significantly to public understanding of operations of the government, including guidance issued by or to state health officials in the wake of the Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health decision. American Oversight is committed to transparency and makes the responses agencies provide to public records requests publicly available, and the public's understanding of the government's activities would be enhanced through American Oversight's analysis and publication of these records.

This request is primarily and fundamentally for non-commercial purposes. As a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, American Oversight does not have a commercial purpose and the release of the information requested is not in American Oversight's financial interest. American Oversight's mission is to promote transparency in government, to educate the public about government activities, and to ensure the accountability of government officials. American Oversight uses the information gathered, and its analysis of it, to educate the public through reports, press releases, or other media. American Oversight also makes materials it gathers available on its public website and promotes their availability on social media platforms, such as Facebook and Twitter.

American Oversight has also demonstrated its commitment to the public disclosure of documents and creation of editorial content through regular substantive analyses posted to its website. Examples reflecting this commitment to the public disclosure of documents and the creation of editorial content include the posting of records and analysis related to the organization's investigations into misconduct and corruption in state governments; posting records and analysis of federal and state governments' responses to the Coronavirus pandemic; posting records received as part of American Oversight's "Audit the Wall" project to gather and analyze information related to the Trump administration's proposed construction of a barrier along the U.S.-Mexico border, and analyses of what those records reveal; and the posting of records related to an ethics waiver received by a senior Department of Justice attorney and an analysis of what those records demonstrated regarding the Department's process for issuing such waivers.

Accordingly, American Oversight qualifies for a fee waiver.

Guidance Regarding the Search & Processing of Requested Records

In connection with its request for records, American Oversight provides the following guidance regarding the scope of the records sought and the search and processing of records:

§ Please search all locations and systems likely to have responsive records, regardless of format, medium, or physical characteristics.
§ In conducting your search, please understand the terms "record," "document," and "information" in their broadest sense, to include any written, typed, recorded, graphic, printed, or audio material of any kind. We seek records of any kind, including electronic records, audiotapes, videotapes, and photographs, as well as letters, emails, facsimiles, telephone messages, voice mail messages and transcripts, notes, or minutes of any meetings, telephone conversations or discussions.
§ Our request for records includes any attachments to those records or other materials enclosed with those records when they were previously transmitted. To the extent that an email is responsive to our request, our request includes all prior messages sent or received in that email chain, as well as any attachments to the email.
§ Please search all relevant records or systems containing records regarding agency business. Do not exclude records regarding agency business contained in files, email accounts, or devices in the personal custody of your officials, such as personal email accounts or text messages.
§ In the event some portions of the requested records are properly exempt from disclosure, please disclose any reasonably segregable non-exempt portions of the requested records. If a request is denied in whole, please state specifically why it is not reasonable to segregate portions of the record for release.
§ Please take appropriate steps to ensure that records responsive to this request are not deleted by the agency before the completion of processing for this request. If records potentially responsive to this request are likely to be located on systems where they are subject to potential deletion, including on a scheduled basis, please take steps to prevent that deletion, including, as appropriate, by instituting a litigation hold on those records.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Conclusion

If you have any questions regarding how to construe this request for records or believe that further discussions regarding search and processing would facilitate a more efficient production of records of interest to American Oversight, please do not hesitate to contact American Oversight to discuss this request. American Oversight welcomes an opportunity to discuss its request with you before you undertake your search or incur search or duplication costs. By working together at the outset, American Oversight and your agency can decrease the likelihood of costly and time-consuming litigation in the future.
Where possible, please provide responsive material in an electronic format by email. Alternatively, please provide responsive material in native format or in PDF format on a USB drive. Please send any responsive material being sent by mail to American Oversight, 1030 15th Street NW, Suite B255, Washington, DC 20005. If it will accelerate release of responsive records to American Oversight, please also provide responsive material on a rolling basis.
We share a common mission to promote transparency in government. American Oversight looks forward to working with your agency on this request. If you do not understand any part of this request, please contact Mehreen Rasheed at records@americanoversight.org or (202) 848-1320. Also, if American Oversight's request for a fee waiver is not granted in full, please contact us immediately upon making such a determination.

Sincerely,

/s/ Mehreen Rasheed

I just dug a little further on that as well – Emily Manley tweeted that an AG spokesperson said "Missouri law does not prohibit the use or provision of Plan B, or contraception."
12:41 PM today

So sorry for confusion on my end – it wasn't an official AG release, but just a claimed statement from them (but I typically trust what Emily puts out there)

I believe AGO just released some kind of a statement too that Plan B isn't considered abortion, but I only saw a screenshot of a screenshot, so I didn't want to assume it was a legitimate release.

Dear Dr. Florio –

Hope this mail finds you well!! This is Venkata from MO DHSS. We met a few times at various meetings pre-COVID and had some lively discussions surrounding maternal mortality and morbidity in Missouri. Karyn did discuss with me about the preeclampsia project she has been leading and consulting /collaborating with you and like she noted in the mail below the results were inconclusive / mixed. However, I am confused about your intended goal for this project and Karyn analyses. Karyn analyzed statewide data for her project which does not seem to be in line with your expectation or intent"… rising rate of pre-eclampsia over the last decade and to superimpose those numbers over our SDoH in each area".

I think it would be very helpful if you could submit a research protocol, similar to what we request from all external researchers, so that the protocol can be reviewed and data released in accordance with MO DHSS data suppression guidelines governing small numbers / small area estimates. The research protocol will also help us understand your exact data needs and will greatly reduce any confusion with respect to data use and expected outcomes. The Department's research protocol forms / process governing the use of vital statistics can be accessed at the following link: https://health.mo.gov/data/policies.php.

Please let me know if you need any additional or clarification to this extent. Please let me know if a meeting / phone call would be helpful to discuss next steps.

Thank you and we look forward to partnering with you on this project!!

Paula

Thank you again for the lovely conversation and your passion to help improve maternal health. One of the things I have been working on – again the DATA – was to show that here in Missouri we have a rising rate of pre-eclampsia over the last decade and to superimpose those numbers over our SDoH in each area. For instance, let's say we find that pre-eclampsia was rising in Cass County. We were going to compare that to certain SDoH changes like distance to grocery store or to a maternity center.

I was working with Karyn Stewart as you see below. However, it seems there has been an issue with moving forward. I was hoping you could help? This data is very important as we need to show WHY we have issues with maternal morbidity and mortality, and this is definitely a great way to do it!

Thanks for all you do! Let me know if you think this is not going to be feasible – you have such a treasure trove of data that would significantly help!

Greetings,

I hope things are well. I had a meeting with my immediate supervisor, Karen Harbert, and her and I's boss, Venkata, about this research and at this point the preeclampsia research has been sidelined, if you will.

Venkata spoke about going back to ground zero and having someone examine the aggregated data rather than year-by-year, as I had been doing, to determine if there is a statistically significant racial disparity for the aggregated data. Any findings from such analysis that took place have not been shared with me. Additionally, we are in the midst of working on our Title V Block Grant application and report.

I can revisit this issue with Karen Harbert, my immediate supervisor, but the level of support that I would have to move forward at this point in time might be minimal to nonexistent given the Block Grant submission that needs to be completed.

After I know about analysis of aggregated data, I can check back in to update you and let you know what the possibilities are.

I am very sorry about this. I'm not free to move on this in the way that I would like. I'll check back in with you after I know more.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Please let me know if you have any thoughts about this.

Thanks,

Dear Dr. Florio –

Hope this mail finds you well!! This is Venkata from MO DHSS. We met a few times at various meetings pre-COVID and had some lively discussions surrounding maternal mortality and morbidity in Missouri. Karyn did discuss with me about the preeclampsia project she has been leading and consulting /collaborating with you and like she noted in the mail below the results were inconclusive / mixed. However, I am confused about your intended goal for this project and Karyn analyses. Karyn analyzed statewide data for her project which does not seem to be in line with your expectation or intent"… rising rate of pre-eclampsia over the last decade and to superimpose those numbers over our SDoH in each area".

I think it would be very helpful if you could submit a research protocol, similar to what we request from all external researchers, so that the protocol can be reviewed and data released in accordance with MO DHSS data suppression guidelines governing small numbers / small area estimates. The research protocol will also help us understand your exact data needs and will greatly reduce any confusion with respect to data use and expected outcomes. The Department's research protocol forms / process governing the use of vital statistics can be accessed at the following link: https://health.mo.gov/data/policies.php.

Please let me know if you need any additional or clarification to this extent. Please let me know if a meeting / phone call would be helpful to discuss next steps.

Thank you and we look forward to partnering with you on this project!!

Paula

Thank you again for the lovely conversation and your passion to help improve maternal health. One of the things I have been working on – again the DATA – was to show that here in Missouri we have a rising rate of pre-eclampsia over the last decade and to superimpose those numbers over our SDoH in each area. For instance, let's say we find that pre-eclampsia was rising in Cass County. We were going to compare that to certain SDoH changes like distance to grocery store or to a maternity center.

I was working with Karyn Stewart as you see below. However, it seems there has been an issue with moving forward. I was hoping you could help? This data is very important as we need to show WHY we have issues with maternal morbidity and mortality, and this is definitely a great way to do it!

Thanks for all you do! Let me know if you think this is not going to be feasible – you have such a treasure trove of data that would significantly help!

Greetings,

I hope things are well. I had a meeting with my immediate supervisor, Karen Harbert, and her and I's boss, Venkata, about this research and at this point the preeclampsia research has been sidelined, if you will.

Venkata spoke about going back to ground zero and having someone examine the aggregated data rather than year-by-year, as I had been doing, to determine if there is a statistically significant racial disparity for the aggregated data. Any findings from such analysis that took place have not been shared with me. Additionally, we are in the midst of working on our Title V Block Grant application and report.

I can revisit this issue with Karen Harbert, my immediate supervisor, but the level of support that I would have to move forward at this point in time might be minimal to nonexistent given the Block Grant submission that needs to be completed.

After I know about analysis of aggregated data, I can check back in to update you and let you know what the possibilities are.

I am very sorry about this. I'm not free to move on this in the way that I would like. I'll check back

Please let me know if you have any thoughts about this.

Paula

Thank you again for the lovely conversation and your passion to help improve maternal health. One of the things I have been working on – again the DATA – was to show that here in Missouri we have a rising rate of pre-eclampsia over the last decade and to superimpose those numbers over our SDoH in each area. For instance, let's say we find that pre-eclampsia was rising in Cass County. We were going to compare that to certain SDoH changes like distance to grocery store or to a maternity center.

I was working with Karyn Stewart as you see below. However, it seems there has been an issue with moving forward. I was hoping you could help? This data is very important as we need to show WHY we have issues with maternal morbidity and mortality, and this is definitely a great way to do it!

Thanks for all you do! Let me know if you think this is not going to be feasible – you have such a treasure trove of data that would significantly help!

Greetings,

I hope things are well. I had a meeting with my immediate supervisor, Karen Harbert, and her and I's boss, Venkata, about this research and at this point the preeclampsia research has been sidelined, if you will.

Venkata spoke about going back to ground zero and having someone examine the aggregated data rather than year-by-year, as I had been doing, to determine if there is a statistically significant racial disparity for the aggregated data. Any findings from such analysis that took place have not been shared with me. Additionally, we are in the midst of working on our Title V Block Grant application and report.

I can revisit this issue with Karen Harbert, my immediate supervisor, but the level of support that I would have to move forward at this point in time might be minimal to nonexistent given the Block Grant submission that needs to be completed.

After I know about analysis of aggregated data, I can check back in to update you and let you know what the possibilities are.

I am very sorry about this. I'm not free to move on this in the way that I would like. I'll check back in with you after I know more.

Please let me know if you have any thoughts about this.

Thanks,

STATEMENT: Supreme Court Decision on Roe v. Wade

June 24, 2022

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Today, the America First Policy Institute (AFPI) issued the following statement from President and CEO Brooke Rollins:

"Today's historic Supreme Court decision does not mark the end of the near half-century fight for life; it correctly returns this issue to the people's elected representatives in each of the states. The hopes of future generations now rest within the purview of lawmakers, who will decide whether America will continue spiraling down the Left's extreme path of taxpayer-funded, on-demand abortion up until the moment of birth or a path of compassion, support, and care for both the lives involved in this difficult issue — the mother and the baby — and fulfilling the Founders' vision of a country that cherishes everyone's inalienable right to LIFE, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

It should also be noted that this historic day for democracy, nearly 50 years in the making, would not have been possible without the leadership and commitment to life of President Donald J. Trump. Thank you, Mr. President!"

Speaker Series: Ukraine and the Crisis of Food Security, A Conversation with Key Humanitarian Partners

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

On Tuesday, America First Policy Institute (AFPI) hosted an event to discuss the America First approach to resolving foreign policy crises. One of the most urgent consequences of Russia's invasion of Ukraine is its exacerbation of the global food crisis. America must work effectively with its partners to resolve it.

The discussion featured a keynote address by Bob Unanue, AFPI Board Member and President and CEO of Goya Foods. Mr. Unanue's remarks were followed by a panel discussion with our frontline allies assisting in humanitarian efforts. The panel featured His Excellency Szabolcs Takács, Ambassador of Hungary to the United States, His Excellency Radovan Javorčík, Ambassador of the Slovak Republic to the United States, His Excellency Andrei Muraru, Ambassador of Romania to the United States, and Mr. Adam Krzywosądzki, Deputy Chief of Mission of the Embassy of Poland.

Russia's ongoing invasion of Ukraine is causing devastating consequences, not just across Europe but around the world, and indeed, right here at home. Forty-five million people are estimated to be affected by this war. These events are ensuing as the United States experiences its own food security challenges. Rising food prices due to historic levels of inflation, accompanied by food shortages from supply chain disruption, are a glimpse of the challenges ahead for America's own food security.

It is in America's interest to lead global efforts, address these urgent challenges, and work with other nations in a strategic and effective way where the burden is distributed equally with our allies. Recently, AFPI published two pieces – an overview of America First foreign policy principles and an essay series, "Maintaining America's Superpower Status," – that explain how America works with allies and adversaries to advance Americans' interests abroad.

As the United States works with its allies to address food shortages and end Russia's war on Ukraine, we must continue to advocate for alliances built on equal contributions and ensure the American people and their interests are protected.

Welcome to the America First Agenda from the America First Policy Institute (AFPI).

Every day, the men and women of AFPI work to change America for the better. We are out there crafting policy, counseling policymakers, amplifying activists, battling the media, and doing absolutely everything we can to build an America where Americans come first. Of course, it is in the name—and it is in our actions. What you read here is not just another policy institution's list of activities. Every single item is a spark that will start a fire for freedom. President and CEO of AFPI Brooke Rollins released the following statement last Friday regarding the landmark decision and the future of life in our Nation:

"Today's historic Supreme Court decision does not mark the end of the near half-century fight for life; it correctly returns this issue to the people's elected representatives in each of the states. The hopes of future generations now rest within the purview of lawmakers, who will decide whether America will continue spiraling down the Left's extreme path of taxpayer-funded, on-demand abortion up until the moment of birth or a path of compassion, support, and care for both the lives involved in this difficult issue — the mother and the baby — and fulfilling the Founders' vision of a country that cherishes everyone's inalienable right to LIFE, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Our discussion was highlighted by Senator Cindy Hyde-Smith (R-MS), and included a panel of prominent figures in the pro-life movement, including AFPI President and CEO Brooke Rollins, Civil Rights Icon Dr. Alveda King, Pastor Paula White-Cain, and Father Frank Pavone.

The event underscored the fact that overturning Roe v. Wade will not mean that abortion is illegal nationally—it means that the abortion issue will be returned to legislative bodies, where the people can pass the laws they choose through their elected representatives.

According to polling done by Scott Rasmussen, 71% of Americans support legal limits on abortion while only 17% think abortion should be legal at any point in pregnancy. Even more significantly, 73% of voters think that there are two lives to consider in the abortion debate: the life of the mother AND the life of the unborn child. AFPI recently gave voice to many Americans through the following op-ed: Radical Abortion Policies Do Not 'Follow The Science,' Or The American Conscience

Unfortunately, the Left wants to continue expanding this radicalism by guaranteeing taxpayer funding for abortion and guaranteeing the "right" to abortion up to the point of birth through federal and state legislation. To learn more on the Left's radicalism, check out this recent AFPI paper: Who Are the Real Abortion Radicals? A Comparative Perspective

Unlike the Left, the America First Movement, which AFPI proudly supports, stands for BOTH lives at stake in the abortion debate: the mother AND the unborn child. The pro-life movement emphasizes choice and compassion rather than judgment and condemnation, and we stand as the real pro-woman movement because we offer women options such as foster care, adoption, and assistance rather than just abortion. Check out this recent op-ed to learn more: The Pro-Life Movement Is the Real Pro-Woman Movement

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

With the recent decision on Dobbs, the America First Policy Institute will continue to lead by educating Americans and state policymakers on ways to protect life. We look forward to working with you in the defense of life at all its stages.

- At 4:00pm EDT, the Vice President will convene state legislative leaders from Indiana, Florida, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Montana who are fighting on the frontlines to protect reproductive rights. The Vice President's and the participants' opening remarks will be livestreamed on whitehouse.gov/live/.

KEY ASSETS

- FACT SHEET: President Biden to Sign Executive Order Protecting Access to Reproductive Health Care Services

THE EXECUTIVE ORDER

The Executive Order builds on the actions the Administration has already taken to defend reproductive rights by:

- Safeguarding access to reproductive health care services, including abortion and contraception – building on steps HHS has already taken to ensure medication abortion, emergency contraception, long-acting contraception is as widely available as possible and the Attorney-General's commitment to fight any attack by a state or local official who attempts to interference with women exercising their right to travel out of state for medical care.
- Protecting the privacy of patients and their access to accurate information – building on steps HHS Office of Civil Rights has taken to ensure doctors and medical providers and plans know that they are not required – with limited exceptions – to disclose patients' private information.
- Promoting the safety and security of patients, providers, and clinics; and
- Coordinating the implementation of Federal efforts to protect reproductive rights and access to health care.

Thank you,

Recent and anticipated Supreme Court rulings on abortion access, gun control, voting rights, environmental protection, and affirmative action are reshaping U.S. politics and policies. With midterms approaching, we've assembled leading voices in these fields to talk through the court's impact on public health and social justice. Our panelists will also explore the power of civic action — and lay out practical steps to stand up for health and justice in the face of painful setbacks.

Yesterday, the Justice Department filed a lawsuit challenging Idaho's near-total abortion ban, arguing that the state law conflicts with, and is preempted by, the Emergency Medical Treatment and Labor Act (EMTALA).

FACT SHEET: President Biden Issues Executive Order at the First Meeting of the Task Force on Reproductive Healthcare Access

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

FACT SHEET:
President Biden Issues Executive Order at the First Meeting of the Task Force on Reproductive Healthcare Access

President Biden will issue an Executive Order on Securing Access to Reproductive and Other Healthcare Services, building on actions that the Biden-Harris Administration has taken to protect access to reproductive healthcare services and defend women's fundamental rights. The President kick off the Vice President's first meeting of the Task Force on Reproductive Healthcare Access. At the meeting, the Cabinet will discuss their progress and the path forward to address the women's health crisis in the wake of the Supreme Court's decision in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization.

EXECUTIVE ORDER ON SECURING ACCESS TO REPRODUCTIVE AND OTHER HEALTHCARE SERVICES

Through today's Executive Order, the President will announce actions to:

- Support Patients Traveling Out of State for Medical Care. The Executive Order directs the Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS) to consider action to advance access to reproductive healthcare services, including through Medicaid for patients who travel out of state for reproductive healthcare services. This directive is in line with the President and the Attorney General's clear statements on the Administration's commitment to defending the bedrock right to travel across state lines to seek reproductive healthcare in states where those services remain legal.

- Ensure Health Care Providers Comply with Federal Non-Discrimination Law. The Executive Order directs the Secretary of HHS to consider all appropriate actions to ensure health care providers comply with Federal non-discrimination laws so that women receive medically necessary care without delay. These actions could include providing technical assistance for health care providers who may be confused or unsure of their obligations in the aftermath of the Supreme Court decision in Dobbs; convening providers to convey information on their obligations and the potential consequences of non-compliance; and issuing additional guidance or taking other appropriate action in response to any complaints or reports of non-compliance with federal non-discrimination laws.

- Promote Research and Data Collection on Maternal Health Outcomes. To accurately measure the impact that diminishing access to reproductive health care services has on women's health, the Executive Order directs the Secretary of HHS to evaluate and improve research, data collection, and data analysis efforts at the National Institutes of Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention on maternal health and other health outcomes.

INTERAGENCY TASK FORCE ON REPRODUCTIVE HEALTHCARE ACCESS

The President will sign the Executive Order at the first meeting of the interagency Task Force on Reproductive Healthcare Access. After the President signs the Executive Order, Cabinet heads will report on the progress they have made in implementing the President's July 8, 2022 Executive Order on Protecting Access to Reproductive Healthcare Services, as well as related actions to defend reproductive rights.

Established by Executive Order, the Task Force on Reproductive Healthcare Access is co-chaired by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, Xavier Becerra, and the Director of the White House Gender Policy Council, Jennifer Klein. The Task Force coordinates and drives efforts across the Federal government to protect access to reproductive healthcare services and defend reproductive rights.
Offices across the White House – including the Office of the Vice President, the Office of White House Counsel, the Domestic Policy Council, the National Economic Council, the National Security Council, the Office of Intergovernmental Affairs, and the Office of Science and Technology Policy – also serve on the Task Force alongside the following Federal agencies:

- Department of Health and Human Services
- Department of Defense
- Department of Education
- Department of Homeland Security
- Department of Justice
- Department of Labor
- Department of the Treasury

TODAY'S ANNOUNCEMENTS BUILD ON ADMINISTRATION'S ACTIONS TO PROTECT ACCESS TO REPRODUCTIVE HEALTHCARE

Today's announcements build on the actions the Biden-Harris Administration has already taken to protect access to healthcare, including abortion and contraception, in the wake of the Supreme Court's decision in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization.

President Biden continues to call on Congress to codify the right to abortion into federal law and has said he would support changing the filibuster rules to codify Roe v. Wade into law. The White House has also released Statements of Administration Policy supporting H.R. 8296 – Women's Health Protection Act of 2022 and H.R. 8297 – Ensuring Access to Abortion Act of 2022.

The Administration has also taken immediate action to:

- Protect Access to Reproductive Healthcare Services: The President issued an Executive Order outlining actions to safeguard access to reproductive health care services, including abortion and contraception; protect the privacy of patients and their access to accurate information; promote the safety and security of patients, providers, and clinics; and coordinate the implementation of Federal efforts.

- Defend the Right to Travel: On 6/24/22, President Biden reaffirmed the Attorney General's statement that women must remain free to travel safely to another state to seek the care they need. President Biden committed his administration to defending "that bedrock right." Today's actions build upon this commitment and direct HHS to explore supports for women traveling out of state to seek medical care.

- Protect Emergency Medical Care: DOJ filed a lawsuit seeking to enjoin Idaho's abortion prohibition, which makes abortion a crime even when necessary to prevent serious risks to the health of pregnant patients. The suit asserts that Idaho's law conflicts with, and is therefore preempted by, the Emergency Medical Treatment Active Labor Act (EMTALA), which requires providers to offer stabilizing treatment, including abortion services if necessary, in certain emergency situations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This litigation follows guidance issued by HHS affirming EMTALA's requirements, as well as a letter from Secretary Becerra to providers making clear that federal law preempts state law restricting access to abortion in emergency situations.

- Strengthen Nondiscrimination in Healthcare. HHS announced a proposed rule to strengthen nondiscrimination in health care. The proposed rule implements Section 1557 of the Affordable Care Act and affirms protections consistent with President Biden's executive orders on nondiscrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity.

- Issue Guidance to Retail Pharmacies. HHS issued guidance to roughly 60,000 U.S. retail pharmacies to remind them of their obligations under federal civil rights laws to ensure access to comprehensive reproductive health care services. The guidance makes clear that as recipients of federal financial assistance, pharmacies are prohibited under law from discriminating on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, and disability in their programs and activities. This includes supplying medications; making determinations regarding the suitability of a prescribed medication for a patient; and advising patients about medications and how to take them.

- Take Action Against Illegal Use and Sharing of Sensitive Data. The Federal Trade Commission committed to fully enforcing the law against illegal use and sharing of highly sensitive data, including location and health information contained in fertility and period tracking data. The FTC urged companies to consider that sensitive data is protected by numerous state and federal laws, claims that data is "anonymous" are often deceptive, and the FTC has a track record of cracking down on companies that misuse consumer data.

- Protect Patient Privacy under HIPAA. HHS issued guidance to address how the HIPAA Privacy Rule protects the privacy of individuals' protected health information, including information related to reproductive health care. The guidance helps ensure doctors and other medical providers and health plans know that, with limited exceptions, they are not required – and in many cases, are not permitted – to disclose patients' private information, including to law enforcement. HHS also issued a how-to guide for consumers on steps they can take to make sure they're protecting their personal data on mobile apps.

- Request Information on Data Privacy from Mobile Providers. The Federal Communications Commission Chairwoman wrote to the top 15 mobile providers requesting information about their data retention and data privacy policies and general practices, consistent with the President's commitment to protecting Americans' privacy.

- Launch a DOJ Reproductive Rights Task Force: The DOJ

announced a Reproductive Rights Task Force, which will monitor and evaluate state and local actions that infringe on federal protections relating to the provision or pursuit of reproductive care, impair women's ability to seek reproductive care where it's legal, impair individuals' ability to inform and counsel each other about the reproductive care that is available in other states, ban medication abortion, or impose criminal or civil liability on federal employees who provide legal reproductive health services.

- Convene Attorneys to Defend Reproductive Rights. The Department of Justice and the Office of White House Counsel convened more than 200 lawyers and advocates from private firms, bar associations, legal aid organizations, reproductive rights groups, and law schools across the country on Friday, July 29 for the first convening of pro-bono attorneys, as called for in the Executive Order. The convening closed with a call to action from the Second Gentleman, urging firms to commit a minimum of 500 hours to defending reproductive rights and justice.

- Provide Access to Accurate Information and Legal Resources. HHS launched ReproductiveRights.gov, a website on people's right to access reproductive health care, including birth control, abortion services, other preventive health services, and health insurance coverage. DOJ also launched justice.gov/reproductive-rights, a webpage that provides a centralized online resource of the Department's work to protect access to reproductive healthcare services.

President Biden Signs the Bipartisan Safer Communities Act into Law

Yesterday, President Biden signed into law the Bipartisan Safer Communities Act, historic legislation that will reduce gun violence and save lives.

The President has worked on this issue his entire career, and knows both how hard it is and what it takes – he was there 30 years ago, the last time this country passed meaningful gun safety laws.

We have lost too many to gun violence. When the President traveled to Uvalde, he heard a clear message: do something. Yesterday, we did.

This bill doesn't do everything the President wanted want it to, but it does include actions he has long called for and that will save lives:

- It funds crisis intervention, including red flag laws to keep guns out of the hands of people who are a danger to themselves and to others.
- It finally closes what's known as the "boyfriend loophole," so if you assault your girlfriend or boyfriend you can't buy or own a gun.
- It requires young people aged 18-21 to undergo enhanced background checks.
- It includes the first federal law that makes gun trafficking and straw purchases distinct federal crimes.
- It clarifies who needs to register as a federally licensed gun dealer and run background checks before selling a gun.

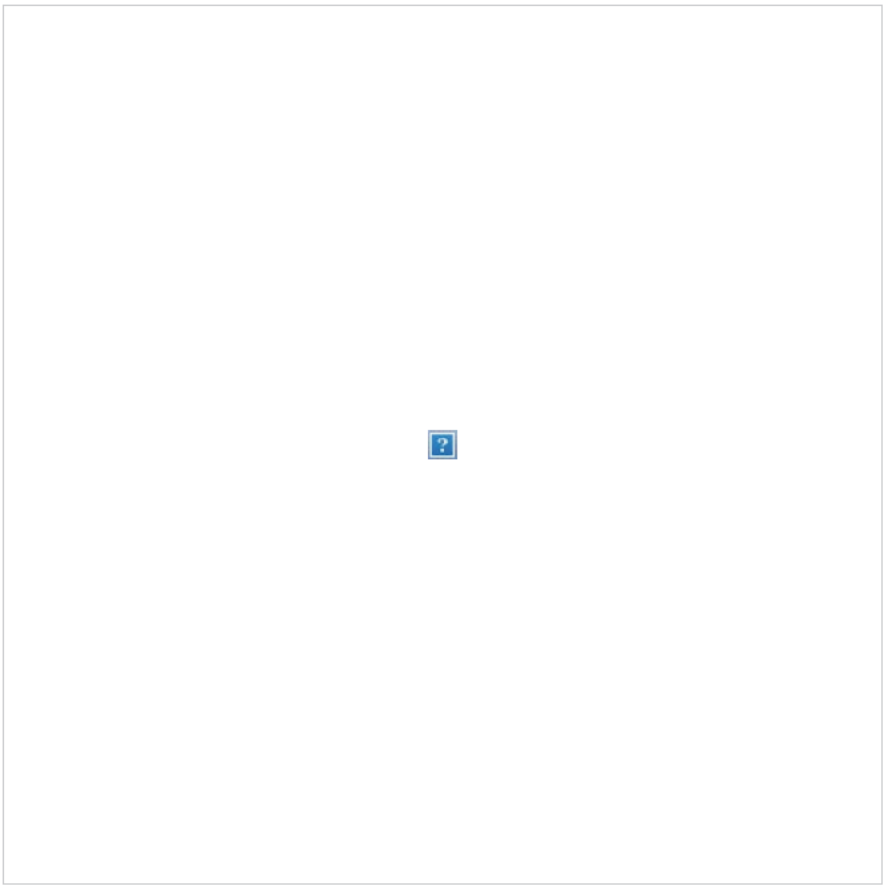
- And it provides historic funding to address the youth mental health crisis in this country, especially the trauma experienced by survivors of gun violence.
- And it invests in anti-violence programs to work directly with people who are most likely to commit gun crimes or become victims of gun crimes.

At a time when it seems impossible to get anything done in Washington, bipartisan lawmakers and President Biden delivered for the American people.

And the President believes that if we can reach a compromise on guns, we ought to be able to reach compromise on other critical issues, from veteran's health care to cutting-edge American innovation and more.

Remarks on the Supreme Court Decision to Overturn Roe v. Wade



The Supreme Court expressly took away a Constitutional right from the American people. New extreme state laws will jeopardize the health of millions of women without exceptions for rape or incest.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The President and his administration will use its lawful powers to protect women's right to travel and access medication.

The Supreme Court of the United States expressly took away a Constitutional right from the American people that it had already recognized. It's never been done. And as a result, the health and lives of women are now at risk. The Administration will use its lawful power, but Congress must act. And the American people can have the final word and act with their vote.

President Biden Calls for a Three-Month Federal Gas Tax Holiday

The price of gas is up dramatically around the world, and by almost $2 per gallon in America, since Putin began amassing troops on the border of Ukraine. President Biden understands that high gas prices pose a significant challenge for working families. That's why he has taken action in recent months to boost the supply of oil and gas, including an historic release from the Strategic Petroleum Reserve, and encouraging oil companies and refiners to boost capacity and output to get more supply on the market.

President Biden has called on Congress and states to take additional legislative action to provide direct relief to American consumers who have been hit with Putin's Price Hike. Specifically, he is calling on Congress to suspend the federal gas tax for three months, through September, without taking any money away from the Highway Trust Fund. And he is calling on states to take similar action to provide some direct relief, whether suspending their own gas taxes or helping consumers in other ways.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Federal Gas Tax Holiday

Right now, the federal government charges an 18 cent tax per gallon of gasoline and a 24 cent tax per gallon of diesel. Those taxes fund critical highways and public transportation, through the Highway Trust Fund. But in this unique moment, with gas prices near $5 a gallon on average across the country, President Biden is calling on Congress to suspend the gas tax for three months – until the end of September – to give Americans a little extra breathing room as they deal with the effects of Putin's war in Ukraine.

The President is also calling on Congress to make sure that a gas tax holiday has no negative effect on the Highway Trust Fund. With our deficit already down by a historic $1.6 trillion this year, the President believes that we can afford to suspend the gas tax to help consumers while using other revenues to make the Highway Trust Fund whole for the roughly $10 billion cost. This is consistent with legislation proposed in the Senate and the House to advance a responsible gas tax holiday.

President Biden understands that a gas tax holiday alone will not, on its own, relieve the run up in costs that we've seen. But the President believes that at this unique moment when the war in Ukraine is imposing costs on American families, Congress should do what it can to provide working families breathing room.

State and Local Action

In addition to federal gas tax relief, the President is calling on state and local governments to provide additional consumer relief. Already, some states and local governments have acted: for example, in Connecticut and New York, governors temporarily suspended their gas taxes, and in Illinois and Colorado, governors delayed planned tax and fee increases. And, around the country, in states like Michigan and Minnesota, states and local leaders are considering a number of forms of consumer relief – from temporary suspensions and pauses on state sales tax on gas to consumer rebates and relief payments. The President believes more states and local governments should do so.

Ongoing Actions to Blunt the Impact of the Putin Price Hike

These announcements follow a series of actions the President has taken to lower gas prices for American families.

- The President announced the release of a record 1 million barrels per day from our Strategic Petroleum Reserve, which just last week a leading oil market analyst confirmed has been critical to keeping prices from rising even more.
- He rallied international partners to join us, releasing a combined 240 million barrels of oil on the market.
- He expanded access to biofuels like E15—gasoline that uses a 15 percent ethanol blend—to increase supply and lower prices at thousands of gas stations across the country.
- He and his Administration are engaging with oil and refining companies to ask them to work with the Administration to bring forward concrete solutions that increase refinery capacity and output. Secretary Granholm is meeting with these CEOs this week.

Already, the United States produced more oil under the first year of this Administration than it did under the first two years of the prior Administration, and is on track to set new records next year. At the same time, the President understands that our efforts to increase energy production in the near-term must be coupled with medium- and long-term efforts to transition our economy away from fossil fuels produced by autocrats and to clean energy.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Biden Administration Launches New Federal-State Offshore Wind Partnership to Grow American-Made Clean Energy

This week, the White House joined with eleven governors from up and down the East Coast to launch a new Federal-State Offshore Wind Implementation Partnership that will accelerate the growing offshore wind industry. The partnership will support efforts to provide Americans with cleaner and cheaper energy, create good-paying jobs, and make historic investments in new American energy supply chains, manufacturing, shipbuilding, and servicing.

As a first step of this Partnership, the White House and governors are announcing commitments to collaborate on expanding key elements of the offshore wind supply chain, from manufacturing facilities to port capabilities to workforce development. The Administration is also announcing steps to advance a National Offshore Wind Supply Chain Roadmap and designating offshore wind vessels as Vessels of National Interest to facilitate more offshore wind construction.

After years of Americans facing energy uncertainty, President Biden has taken decisive action to jumpstart the American offshore wind industry. He set a bold goal of deploying 30 gigawatts (GW) of offshore wind by 2030, enough to power 10 million homes with clean energy, support 77,000 jobs, and spur $12 billion per year in private investment in offshore wind projects. Since then, the Biden Administration has approved the first large-scale projects, established new wind energy areas, and held record-breaking wind auctions—signature achievements that advance the President's commitment to tackle the climate crisis and strengthen American energy security.

These bold actions have unleashed historic private sector investments to expand an American-made wind energy supply chain. In 2021 alone, investors announced $2.2 billion in new funding, including commitments to develop nine major manufacturing facilities to produce the foundations, towers, cables, and blades of offshore wind turbines. Supplier contracts to provide materials and services to offshore wind projects more than doubled. And historic project labor agreements are helping to grow a diverse union workforce and support training programs.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

More opportunities are ahead, including an estimated $109 billion revenue opportunity across the offshore wind supply chain this decade, and East Coast Governors are laying the groundwork to seize them. Having already set commitments to procure nearly 40 GW of offshore wind, these states are providing a strong demand signal for clean energy that will lower energy costs for American families while protecting them from volatile fossil fuel price spikes. Collaboration between state and federal governments already is helping to create good-paying jobs and establish a durable domestic supply chain to facilitate the responsible development of America's world-class offshore wind resource. The Biden-Harris Administration is committed to further partnering with states to maximize benefits to American workers and communities.

Biden-Harris Adminsitration Announces New Part Raises & Supports for Wildland Firefighter Workforce From Bipartisan Infrastructure Law

Our nation's wildland firefighters safeguard vital benefits for communities across the nation: protecting our nation's critical infrastructure, defending lives and private property from the risk of catastrophic wildfire, preserving forests so they can help us combat climate change, and protecting landscapes that contain cultural and natural resources of significance and value to Tribes, provide habitat to fish and wildlife, and serve as a source of drinking water for more than 60 million people. Investing in our wildland firefighting workforce is a matter of national security as there are more than 460 million acres of land at moderate to very high risk from wildfire this year, and the number of acres burned in 2021 is the highest on record.

For decades, Federal wildland firefighters have faced the challenges of longer, more severe fire years with pay that has lagged behind their counterparts. Shifting development patterns, land and fire management decisions, and climate change have turned fire "seasons" into fire "years" in which increasingly destructive fires are exceeding available Federal firefighting resources. Federal firefighters also lack an official, uniform occupational series and a clear path for career advancement through the Federal government.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Biden-Harris Administration has announced a series of bold steps to increase pay, create new mental wellness and health supports, and establish a new wildland fire management job series for federal firefighters. These unprecedented actions on behalf of the wildland firefighter workforce are funded by $600 million from President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure Law. These measures are a significant step forward that will deliver an immediate, temporary pay raise to Federal wildland firefighters across the nation, and sets Federal agencies on a path to continue working with stakeholders towards an updated, competitive, and equitable pay structure, along with a support system that will address the many challenges that have plagued our wildland firefighter workforce for decades.

INCREASING PAY

Under President Biden's 2021 initiatives to support federal wildland firefighters and ensure they receive a minimum of $15 per hour, more than 11,300 firefighters received pay increases last year at a cost of $24.3 million. This increase in the minimum wage was a critical first step for the dignity and respect of all Federal employees. Over the coming summer months, the Administration is implementing a new set of temporary pay increases that will put retroactive pay (from October 1, 2021) into wildland firefighter pockets increasing their bi-weekly pay, up to the lesser of $20,000 or 50% of their annual base salary through September 2023. The Federal agencies will begin processing these payments in the coming weeks, with additional payments to occur throughout July and into August. The $600 million in the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law serves as a bridge for two years as the Administration works with Congress on longer-term reforms.

CREATING NEW SUPPORTS FOR FIREFIGHTERS

During a visit to the National Interagency Fire Center (NIFC) last week, Secretary of the Interior Deb Haaland announced the establishment of an interagency wildland firefighter health and wellbeing program. Wildland firefighters work in incredibly stressful environments that can take a significant toll on their overall health and wellbeing, as well as on those who love them. Standing up a targeted interagency effort to provide trauma-informed mental health care is critical. The Bipartisan Infrastructure Law directs the Departments of the Interior (DOI) and Agriculture (USDA) to increase focus on wildland firefighters' physical and mental wellbeing. The newly established joint DOI- U.S. Forest Service program will address mental health needs, including post-traumatic stress disorder care for permanent, temporary, seasonal and year-round wildland firefighters at both agencies, along with addressing environmental hazards to minimize on-the-job exposure for wildland firefighters. The joint program will also connect existing efforts and establish year-round prevention and mental health training for wildland firefighters and create critical incident stress management staffing response. The Forest Service along with each of DOI's wildland fire management bureaus — the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and National Park Service — will also add staffing capacity specifically to focus on mental health and employee support efforts for firefighters.

The Bipartisan Infrastructure Law also provides increased support to the Joint Fire Science Program, an interagency partnership with USDA's U.S. Forest Service that funds wildfire science research projects. A total of $3.1 million will be used to support research towards a better understanding of firefighter mental health, landscape resiliency, and other climate-related studies on the beneficial uses of prescribed fire, carbon storage, and greenhouse gas and smoke emissions.

IMPROVING RECRUITMENT AND RETENTION

Because the pay increase under the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law is temporary, the Biden-Harris Administration supports a new firefighter pay structure that is both sufficiently competitive and equitable to address longstanding nationwide recruitment and retention challenges and consider the longer work shifts, pressures and risks associated with these jobs. The Administration is committed to working with Congress to secure much needed investments and to grow this critical workforce. The costs in firefighter turnover brought about by not having an adequately compensated and supported firefighting workforce will far exceed the amount needed to invest in them.

ESTABLISHING NEW WILDLAND FIRE MANAGEMENT OCCUPATIONAL SERIES

The U.S. Office of Personnel Management (OPM) has taken the necessary step of creating the Wildland Fire Management occupational series established under the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law. No such series has existed for 50 years. The new occupational series better identifies Federal firefighters with the work they do. It defines the duties of wildland firefighters and is responsive to the calls of firefighters and their unions to provide opportunities for career advancement. It also gives a boost to recruiting, as agencies can now post clear job opportunity announcements that specifically target people interested in wildland firefighting jobs. And it will help with retention, as our wildland firefighter workforce will benefit from a clear career path with detailed requirements for advancement, providing wildland firefighters with a job title and description that more accurately reflects their contributions.

Agencies will implement the new series in the coming months, though current Federal firefighters will be able to choose whether to opt-in to the new Wildland Fire Management series or stay in their current occupations. Once fully implemented, the series will provide a solid foundation for recruitment and retention, further strengthening our wildland firefighter workforce and contributing to the fire safety of communities across our Nation.

President Biden's Maternal Health Blueprint Delivers for Women, Mothers, and Families

On Friday, the White House released the Biden-Harris Administration's Blueprint for Addressing the Maternal Health Crisis, a whole-of-government approach to combatting maternal mortality and morbidity. For far too many mothers, complications related to pregnancy, childbirth, and postpartum can lead to devastating health outcomes — including hundreds of deaths each year. This maternal health crisis is particularly devastating for Black women, Native women, and women in rural communities who all experience maternal mortality and morbidity at significantly higher rates than their white and urban counterparts.

Under President Biden and Vice President Harris's leadership, this Administration is now taking the next step towards a future where the United States will be the best country in the world to have a baby. The Biden-Harris Administration is committed to cutting the rates of maternal mortality and morbidity, reducing the disparities in maternal health outcomes, and improving the overall experience during and after pregnancy for people across the country. This commitment will require bold, unprecedented action through a whole-of-government strategy.

To start, the Administration is calling on Congress to improve and expand coverage by closing the Medicaid coverage gap and requiring continuous Medicaid coverage for 12 months postpartum, as well as making the significant investments included in the President's FY23 budget to reduce maternal morbidity and mortality.

The Administration also recognizes that addressing the maternal health crisis in the United States requires immediate action. That is why, in addition to urging Congressional action, the White House has mobilized over a dozen federal agencies to develop the White House Blueprint for Addressing the Maternal Health Crisis. The Blueprint outlines five priorities to improve maternal health and outcomes in the United States:

• Increasing access to and coverage of comprehensive high-quality maternal health services, including behavioral health services.
• Ensuring women giving birth are heard and are decisionmakers in accountable systems of care.
• Advancing data collection, standardization, harmonization, transparency, and research
• Expanding and diversifying the perinatal workforce.
• Strengthening economic and social supports for people before, during, and after pregnancy.

Title IX 50th Anniversary

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Statement by President Joe Biden on the 50th Anniversary of Title IX

"Over the last fifty years, our nation has made monumental progress in advancing equity and equality for all students, including by narrowing gender gaps in sports, expanding opportunities in science and technology fields, and protecting students from sex discrimination, including sex-based harassment and sexual violence.

This is what America is all about: possibilities. Millions of women and girls have benefited from the change that Title IX helped make possible. More women and girls are participating and excelling in countless fields—from professional sports, to science, math, and technology than ever before. Their leadership, achievements, and success bear out the legacy of countless women throughout history who fought hard for a place at the table and for equal opportunity in all fields.

Yet there is more work to do. As we look to the next fifty years, I am committed to protecting this progress and working to achieve full equality, inclusion, and dignity for women and girls, LGBTQI+ Americans, all students, and all Americans.

My Administration will continue to fight tirelessly to realize the promise of Title IX—that every person deserves an opportunity to pursue their education free from discrimination and realize their full potential."

U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Announces Notice of Funding Opportunity to Address Unsheltered Homelessness

The Biden Administration through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) released a first-of-its-kind package of resources to address unsheltered homelessness and homeless encampments, including funds set aside specifically to address homelessness in rural communities.

The $365 million package includes grant funds along with additional vouchers that will enhance communities' capacity to humanely and effectively address unsheltered homelessness by connecting vulnerable individuals and families to housing, health care, and supportive services. This Initiative for Unsheltered and Rural Homelessness being made available by HUD strongly promotes partnerships with health care organizations, public housing authorities and mainstream housing providers, and people with lived experience and expertise of homelessness.

Specifically, the package includes:

- $322 million in Continuum of Care Program grants through a Special Notice of Funding Opportunity to fund homeless outreach, permanent housing, supportive services, and other costs as part of a comprehensive community approach to solve unsheltered homelessness, including a set-aside of $54.5 million specifically for rural communities. These grants will fund projects for three-years, after which they will be eligible for renewal through the annual Continuum of Care program competition.
- $43 million to fund approximately 4,000 new incremental vouchers will be allocated via a separate notice to public housing authorities with a priority to those that are partners in comprehensive community approaches to solve homelessness. These vouchers can serve households experiencing or at-risk of homelessness; those fleeing or attempting to flee domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking; and veterans and families that include a veteran family member that meets one of the proceeding criteria. Congress has provided HUD with waiver authorities to facilitate lease-up for vulnerable households.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Statement by President Joe Biden on Climate Change

"Action on climate change and clean energy remains more urgent than ever.

So let me be clear: if the Senate will not move to tackle the climate crisis and strengthen our domestic clean energy industry, I will take strong executive action to meet this moment. My actions will create jobs, improve our energy security, bolster domestic manufacturing and supply chains, protect us from oil and gas price hikes in the future, and address climate change. I will not back down: the opportunity to create jobs and build a clean energy future is too important to relent.

Health care is also critical. After decades of fierce opposition from powerful special interests, Democrats have come together, beaten back the pharmaceutical industry and are prepared to give Medicare the power to negotiate lower drug prices and to prevent an increase in health insurance premiums for millions of families with coverage under the Affordable Care Act. Families all over the nation will sleep easier if Congress takes this action. The Senate should move forward, pass it before the August recess, and get it to my desk so I can sign it.

This will not only lower the cost of prescription drugs and health care for families, it will reduce the deficit and help fight inflation.

I want to thank Leader Schumer for his dogged and determined effort to produce the strongest possible bill to bring down costs, reduce the deficit, and combat the climate crisis while boosting our energy security – even offering significant compromises to try to reach an agreement. I also want to thank Speaker Pelosi for her leadership – thanks to her hard work, the House passed a strong bill on climate change and reducing costs last year. Now, Congress must act quickly and get legislation to my desk to deliver for American families."

Recent Administration Action on Reproductive Rights

- The President's Executive Order Protecting Access to Reproductive Health Services: On 7/8/22, the President issued an Executive Order outlining actions to safeguard access to reproductive health care services, including abortion and contraception; protect the privacy of patients and their access to accurate information; promote the safety and security of patients, providers, and clinics; and coordinate the implementation of Federal efforts.

- Protecting Emergency Medical Care: On 7/11/22, HHS issued guidance affirming that the Emergency Medical Treatment Active Labor Act (EMTALA) protects providers that offer abortion services in emergency situations. Secretary Becerra also issued a letter to providers making clear that federal law preempts state law restricting access to abortion in emergency situations.

- Guidance to Retail Pharmacies: On 7/13/22, HHS issued guidance to roughly 60,000 U.S. retail pharmacies to remind them of their obligations under federal civil rights laws to ensure access to comprehensive reproductive health care services. The guidance makes clear that as recipients of federal financial assistance, pharmacies are prohibited under law from discriminating on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, and disability in their programs and activities. This includes supplying medications; making determinations regarding the suitability of a prescribed medication for a patient; and advising patients about medications and how to take them.

- DOJ Reproductive Rights Task Force: On 7/12/22, the DOJ announced a Reproductive Rights Task Force, which will monitor and evaluate state and local actions that infringe on federal protections relating to the provision or pursuit of reproductive care, impair women's ability to seek reproductive care where it's legal, impair individuals' ability to inform and counsel each other about the reproductive care that is available in other states, ban medication abortion, or impose criminal or civil liability on federal employees who provide legal reproductive health services.

- Protecting Privacy and Sensitive Health Data

    - The FTC: On 7/12/22, the FTC committed to fully enforcing the law against illegal use and sharing of highly sensitive data, including location and health information contained in fertility and period tracking data. The FTC urged companies to consider that sensitive data is protected by numerous state and federal laws, claims that data is "anonymous" are often deceptive, and the FTC has a track record of cracking down on companies that misuse consumer data.

    - HHS: On 6/29/22, HHS issued guidance to address how the HIPAA Privacy Rule protects the privacy of individuals' protected health information, including information related to reproductive health care. The guidance helps ensure doctors and other medical providers and health plans know that, with limited exceptions, they are not required – and in many cases, are not permitted – to disclose patients' private information, including to law enforcement. HHS also issued a how-to guide for consumers on steps they can take to make sure they're protecting their personal data on mobile apps.

    - Defending the Right to Travel: On 6/24/22, President Biden reaffirmed the Attorney General's statement that women must remain free to travel safely to another state to seek the care they need. President Biden committed his administration to defending "that bedrock right."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Calling for the Establishment of Abortion Rights into Federal Law: President Biden continues to call on Congress to codify the right to abortion into federal law. On 6/30/22, the President said he would support changing the filibuster rules to codify Roe v. Wade into law. On 7/12/22, the White House released Statements of Administration Policy on H.R. 8296 –Women's Health Protection Act of 2022 and H.R. 8297 – Ensuring Access to Abortion Act of 2022.

- ReproductiveRights.gov: The Administration launched ReproductiveRights.gov, a website on people's right to access reproductive health care, including birth control, abortion services, other preventive health services, and health insurance coverage.

USDA Makes It Easier for American Farmers to Grow Food, Ease Burdens for American Families

This week, the Biden Administration announced additional steps it's taking to support U.S. farmers in their work to stabilize food prices and feed Americans and the world amidst continuing challenges such as the COVID-19 pandemic, supply chain disruptions, and the invasion of Ukraine by Russia. The U.S. Department of Agriculture is reducing the economic risk of raising two crops on the same land in one year, making it easier for U.S. farmers to grow food in America, increase food supply, and lower food costs for American families. This action is part of a broader set of commitments made earlier this year by President Biden and Secretary Vilsack to increase domestic food production amid potential global food shortages related to the invasion of Ukraine.

To reduce the risk of raising two crops on the same land in one year – a practice known as double cropping - USDA's Risk Management Agency (RMA) is expanding double crop insurance opportunities in over 1,500 counties where double cropping is viable. "In May, I joined President Biden at the O'Connor farm in Kankakee, Illinois, to announce a series of actions to help farmers do what they do — grow food for American families and the rest of the world.

This week, USDA is making good on one of those commitments and making it easier to plant double crops and sharing some of the financial risk by making crop insurance more available in over 1,500 counties," said Secretary Vilsack. "We live in a challenging time, but I put my trust in the American farmer and U.S. agriculture to help keep the food we need affordable and available. The Biden administration and USDA will continue to find ways to ease burdens on American farmers and lower costs for American families such as expanded double crop options through crop insurance."

Bipartisan Economic Experts and Former Treasury Secretaries Support The Inflation Reduction Act

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Former Treasury Secretaries' Statement on Inflation Reduction Act

Five former Treasury secretaries — including Hank Paulson, who served under President George W. Bush — signed a statement strongly backing the "Inflation Reduction Act" brokered by Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer and Sen. Joe Manchin (D-W.Va.).

Why it matters: The bipartisan support will help the White House and Democrats push back against the Republican contention that millions of Americans who make under $400,000 a year would see their taxes rise.

- The others who signed on are Robert Rubin and Larry Summers (President Clinton), Tim Geithner and Jacob Lew (President Obama).
- Senate votes are expected to begin later this week on the health, climate and tax plan.

"As former Treasury Secretaries of both Democratic and Republican Administrations," the statement says, "we support the Inflation Reduction Act which is financed by prudent tax policy that will collect more from top-earners and large corporations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

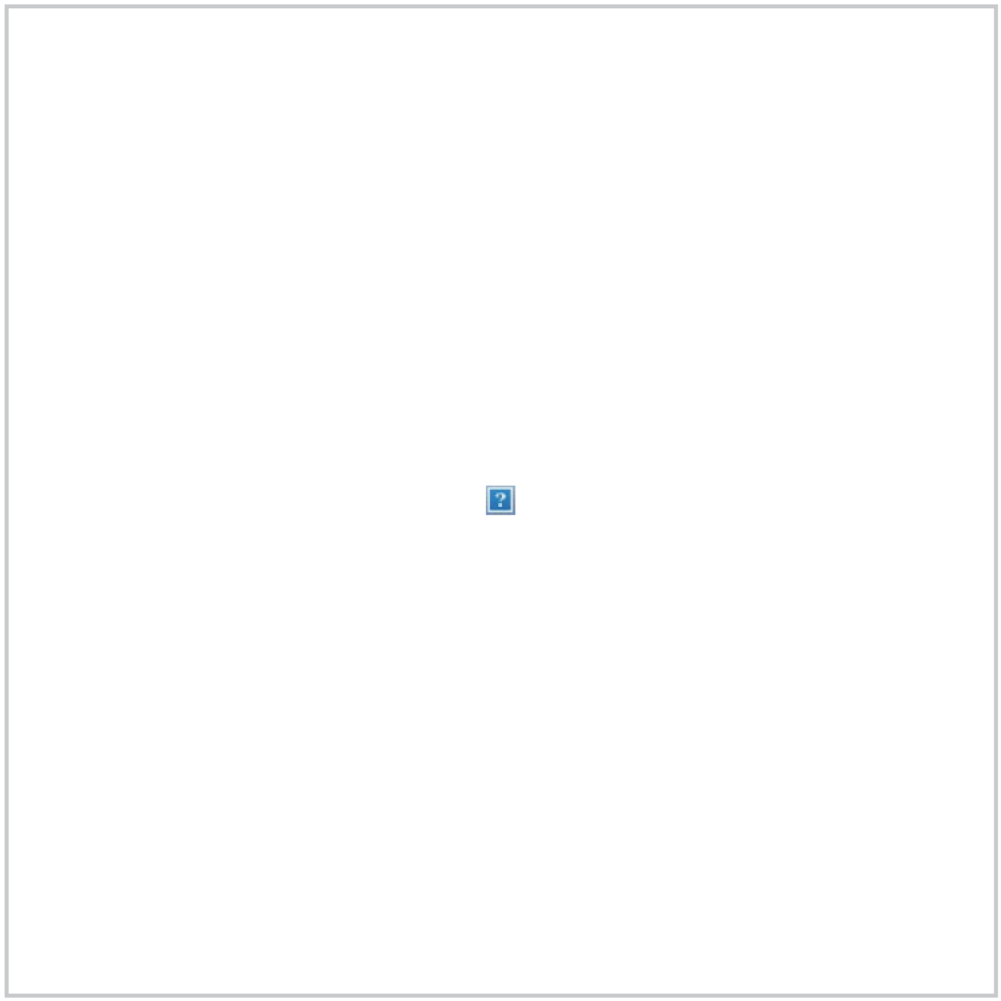
"Taxes due or paid will not increase for any family making less than $400,000/year. And the extra taxes levied on corporations do not reflect increases in the corporate tax rate, but rather the reclaiming of revenue lost to tax avoidance and provisions benefitting the most affluent.

The selective presentation by some of the distributional effects of this bill neglects benefits to middle-class families from reducing deficits, from bringing down prescription drug prices, and from more affordable energy. This legislation will help increase American competitiveness, address our climate crisis, lower costs for families, and fight inflation — and should be passed immediately by Congress."

Statement by President Biden on the July Jobs Report



Today, the unemployment rate matches the lowest it's been in more than 50 years: 3.5%. More people are working than at any point in American history. That's millions of families with the dignity and peace of mind that a paycheck provides. And, it's the result of my economic plan to build the economy from the bottom up and middle out. I ran for president to rebuild the middle class – there's more work to do, but today's jobs report shows we are making significant progress for working families.

Statement by President Joe Biden on All-Time Low Uninsured Rate

Every American has the right to the peace of mind that comes with access to affordable, quality health care. No one should worry about whether they can pay for their doctor or choose between paying rent and filing a prescription. Today, we are closer than ever to making that principle a reality. The lowest percentage of Americans are uninsured today – eight percent – in history.

This progress did not happen by accident. More than 35 million Americans are enrolled in Affordable Care Act related coverage – the highest total on record. This includes over 21 million people who are enrolled in the ACA's expansion of Medicaid, coverage that is denied to nearly four million Americans who live in states that have refused to expand Medicaid. And, since the beginning of my Administration, 5 million more people have gained health insurance coverage – in significant part because of the improvements to the ACA in the American Rescue Plan.

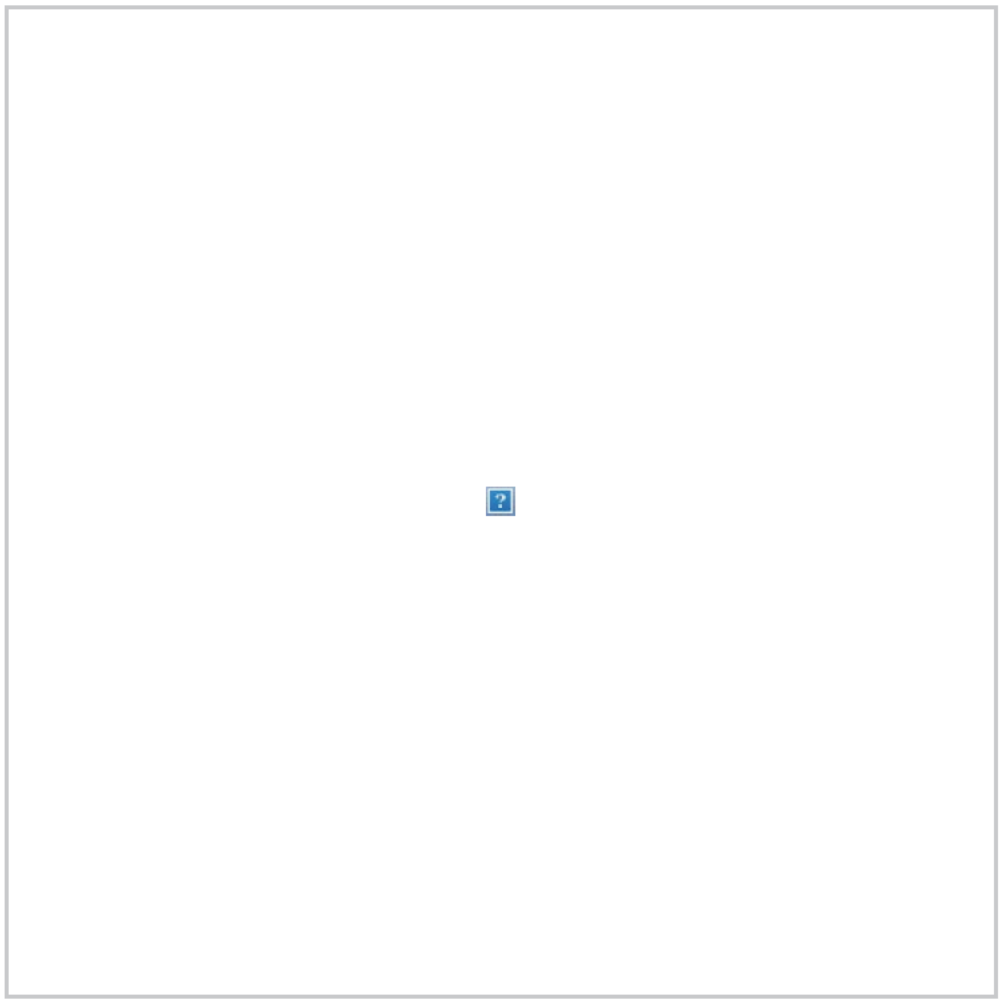
When I ran for office, I said we needed to protect and build on the Affordable Care Act. The Inflation Reduction Act will do just that – it will lock in an average $800 a year savings in health insurance premiums for 13 million Americans and prevent 3 million Americans from becoming uninsured. I urge Congress to pass this legislation swiftly to lower health care costs and make health insurance coverage more accessible for families across the country.



Statement by President Joe Biden on Defeat of Kansas Ballot Measure Threatening Women's Right to Abortion

The Supreme Court's extreme decision to overturn Roe v. Wade put women's health and

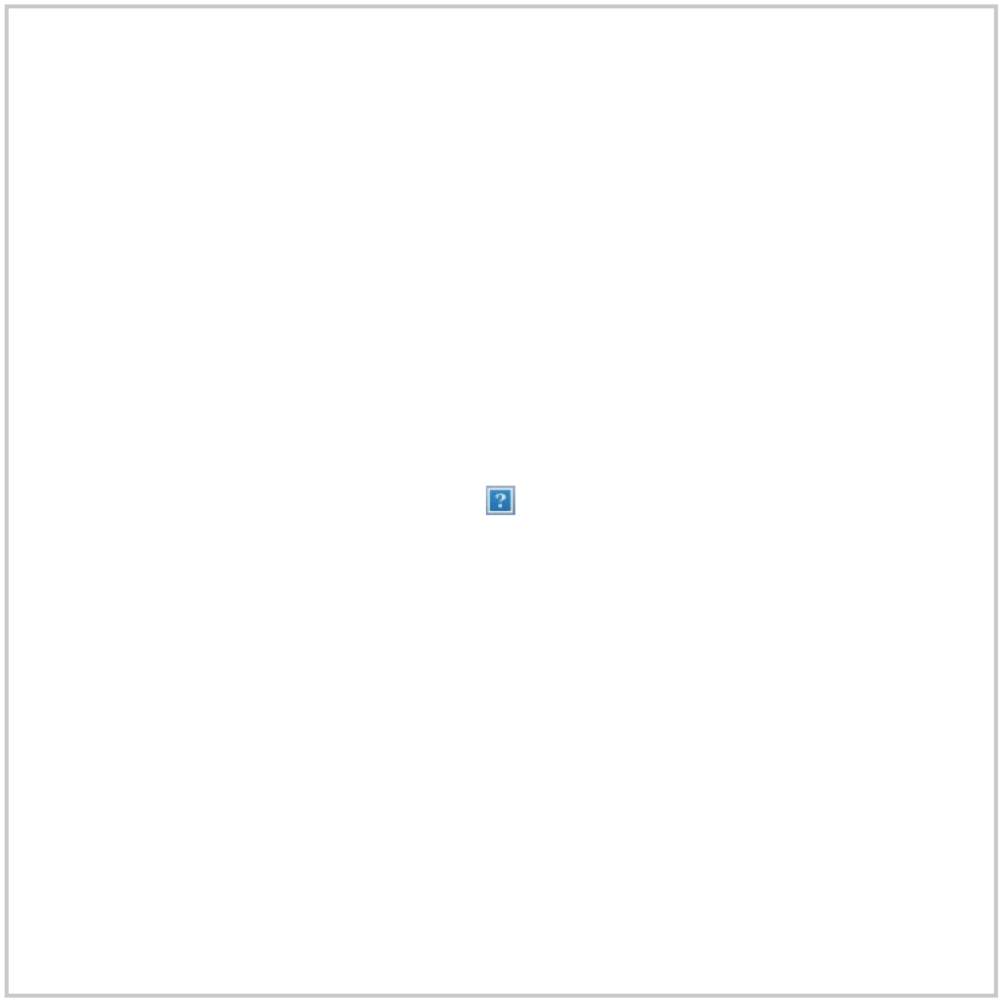
lives at risk. Tonight, the American people had something to say about it. Voters in Kansas turned out in record numbers to reject extreme efforts to amend the state constitution to take away a woman's right to choose and open the door for a state-wide ban. This vote makes clear what we know: the majority of Americans agree that women should have access to abortion and should have the right to make their own health care decisions.

Congress should listen to the will of the American people and restore the protections of Roe as federal law. While that is the only way to secure a woman's right to choose, my Administration will continue to take meaningful action to protect women's access to reproductive health care. We will continue to act where we can to protect women's reproductive rights and access to care. And, the American people must continue to use their voices to protect the right to women's health care, including abortion.



Statement by President Joe Biden on Senate Passage of the Bipartisan PACT Act

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

While we can never fully repay the enormous debt we owe to those who have worn the uniform, today, the United States Congress took important action to meet this sacred obligation. The bipartisan Sergeant First Class Heath Robinson Honoring Our PACT Act of 2022 is the biggest expansion of benefits for service-connected health issues in 30 years and the largest single bill ever to comprehensively address exposure to burn pits.

I called for this legislation in my State of the Union address, as part of my Unity Agenda to help bring together our nation. Congress has delivered a decisive and bipartisan win for America's veterans. I want to thank Chair Tester and Ranking Member Moran as well as Chair Takano and Ranking Member Bost for their tireless work to pass this major reform, and the courageous veterans and advocates whose tenacity and heart ensured this legislation got done.

For the millions of veterans who may have been exposed to harmful toxins, this bill means quicker access to health care services and other benefits. This could be the difference between life and death for many suffering from toxic related illnesses. For the spouse or child of a servicemember who died from toxic exposure, struggling to put their lives back together, this bill will be a lifeline. It means a monthly stipend for a surviving spouse and kids, and access to tuition benefits to help cover the cost of college. It means access to life insurance, home loan assistance, and help with health care. It matters.

I have long said we have a lot of obligations as a nation, but we have only one sacred obligation – to prepare and equip those we send to war and to take care of them and their families when they come home.

I look forward to signing this bill, so that veterans and their families and caregivers impacted by toxic exposures finally get the benefits and comprehensive health care they earned and deserve.

White House Releases Fact Sheets Highlighting President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure Law's Progress Nationwide

This week, the White House released updated fact sheets highlighting how President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure is delivering results for all 50 states, territories, the District of Columbia, and Tribal communities.

Eight months following the passage of the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law, the Biden-Harris Administration has made unprecedented investments in all 50 states and territories to build a better America that delivers for all communities. Since November 2021, President Biden and Vice President Harris have left no community behind in their efforts to rebuild America's infrastructure.

The Bipartisan Infrastructure Law is rebuilding our roads and bridges, replacing lead pipes to provide clean water, providing high-speed internet to every family in America, delivering cheaper and cleaner energy to households and businesses, and creating good-paying jobs. Since signing the law, the Biden-Harris Administration has hit the ground running to make major progress.

Biden-Harris Administration Announces over $1 Billion in Project Selections Make Communities More Resilient to Climate Change and Extreme Weather Events

This week, Vice President Kamala Harris, Homeland Security Secretary Alejandro N. Mayorkas, and FEMA Administrator Deanne Criswell announced the selections for $1.16 billion in climate resilience funding through two competitive grant programs to help communities across the nation enhance climate and disaster resiliency.

The selections include large resilience projects funded by the Building Resilient Infrastructure and Communities (BRIC) national competition and Flood Mitigation Assistance (FMA) community-wide flood mitigation projects. Selections are from Fiscal Year 2021 funding round with $1 billion made available through BRIC and $160 million made available for Flood Mitigation Assistance.

“Climate change poses a very real threat to the safety, security, and prosperity of the United States,” said Homeland Security Secretary Alejandro N. Mayorkas. “Its impacts are being felt in real time and are felt most acutely by the nation’s most vulnerable communities. While we can’t eliminate the threats we face as a nation, we can and must build our resilience against those threats – and that is why we are making this announcement today – because, together, we are building climate resilience.”

Biden-Harris Administration Declares Monkeypox a Public Health Emergency

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra announced today that he will declare the ongoing spread of monkeypox virus in the United States a Public Health Emergency (PHE). This action will further strengthen and accelerate the Biden-Harris Administration's response in recognition of the continued rapid transmission of monkeypox in the U.S. and globally, and to signal the seriousness and urgency with which the Administration is responding. The announcement comes on the heels of President Biden appointing Robert Fenton of the Federal Emergency Management Agency as White House National Monkeypox Response Coordinator and Dr. Demetre Daskalakis of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention as White House National Monkeypox Response Deputy Coordinator.

This week, President Biden named FEMA's Robert Fenton as the White House National

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Monkeypox Response Coordinator and Dr. Demetre Daskalakis as the White House National Monkeypox Response Deputy Coordinator. Fenton and Daskalakis will lead the Administration's strategy and operations to combat the current monkeypox outbreak, including equitably increasing the availability of tests, vaccinations and treatments.

Robert Fenton currently serves as Regional Administrator for FEMA Region 9 in the American West, with nearly 50 million people in his area of responsibility. One of the Nation's most experienced and effective emergency management leaders, Robert Fenton has twice served as Acting Administrator of FEMA and led multiple challenging prevention, response and recovery operations throughout his long and distinguished career, including for natural disasters, disease outbreaks, and complex humanitarian operations.

Demetre Daskalakis, a leading public health expert, is currently Director of the CDC Division of HIV Prevention. Widely known as a national expert on health issues affecting the LGBGQIA+ communities, his clinical practice has focused on providing care for the underserved LGBTQIA+ communities. He previously oversaw management of infectious diseases for the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, one of the largest departments in the nation – including in serving as incident commander for the City's COVID-19 response.

Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) Program

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

On October 6, 2021, the U.S. Department of Education announced a change to the Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) program rules for a limited time as a result of the COVID-19 national emergency. Millions of non-profit and government employees have federal student loans and may now be eligible for loan forgiveness or additional credit through the temporary changes, known as the Limited PSLF Waiver. Under normal PSLF rules, borrowers must make 120 payments on a Direct Loan while on a qualifying repayment plan and employed by a qualifying public service employer. Now, for a limited period of time, federal student loan borrowers may receive credit for past periods of repayment that would otherwise not qualify for PSLF. Borrowers can apply for the waiver at www.studentaid.gov/pslfwaiver.

The waiver will run through October 31, 2022. This means some borrowers will need to consolidate and/or submit a PSLF form – the single application used for a review of employment certification, payment counts, and processing of forgiveness – on or before October 31, 2022, to have previously ineligible payments counted. After October 31, 2022, normal PSLF rules will apply.

We encourage you to take action to help elevate the PSLF program amongst government employees.

The State Board of Elections voted unanimously to certify the Green Party as an official political party, but the deadline for new candidates was July 1; now a court order or legislative action is the last way for the party to be on the ballot.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

From: Torrey Wasserman
To: Naught, Laura
Subject: Your human rights are being taken away. Help us fight back.
Date: Thursday, June 30, 2022 7:58:41 AM

Dear Laura,

Last Friday, the U.S. Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade, ending 50 years of federal abortion rights. We are saddened and angered by this catastrophic judicial failure. The ruling will jeopardize the health and lives of countless Americans and will have a major impact on a range of other reproductive and health services. THIS IS UNACCEPTABLE.

As we fight back, we need your support. We've been on the front lines of the fight for abortion and reproductive care for almost 60 years. We've worked with key partners to shape policies and practices that protect reproductive health for all individuals and families. We've met again and again with members of Congress and federal policymakers to make sure that public health's voice is heard. We've led calls to action and spoken out against injustice. And in September, we used a friend-of-the-court brief to call on the Supreme Court to reject state-level restrictions on abortions, outlining their danger to health. APHA is and will continue to be a force for change on reproductive health. WE WILL NOT BACK DOWN.

We ask you to support us by providing a monthly or one-time gift to strengthen our critical work in support of reproductive health and reproductive justice. We must stand together today to protect women's health, and tomorrow to protect so many fundamental rights that are on the line.

Donate Now!

APHA has been unequivocal in advocating for an individual's right to control decisions about their reproductive health and we will continue to stand in support of the personal freedom and privacy that comprehensive reproductive health care should provide all Americans, not just those living in certain states.

Please keep an eye out over the coming weeks for follow-up emails on resources, social media shareables and other ways you can get involved and make a difference.

Date: Tuesday, August 30, 2022 11:08:46 AM

Hi Michael –

- How many abortions were done in Missouri in calendar year 2021? Does this number include surgical and chemical? Please provide a breakdown of these numbers if they are reported separately.

  Missouri Recorded Abortions for 2021: Medical = 23, Surgical = 127. Total = 150

- Please provide the numbers for calendar year 2021 of Missouri women who traveled out of state to receive an abortion. Does this number include surgical and chemical? Please provide a breakdown of these numbers if they are reported separately.

  Missouri Resident Abortions for 2021: Medical = 2498, Surgical = 1141. Total = 3639

  NOTE: Per my email below, the number of Missouri resident abortions (those who go out of state) provided above include record level information we received for Missouri residents from other states, mostly Kansas, Arkansas.

  Illinois does not provide record level data back to us, They only give us an aggregate number. For example – in 2020, an estimated 6,400 abortions were performed for MO residents in IL. That's the only number we get, we will not get any more details. Based on 2020 number, it is reasonable to expect an estimated 6500 abortions to MO residents in IL. They have not yet given the number for 2021 yet. Oklahoma does not provide record level data as well. So, these will always be mentioned as "estimated".

- Please provide the number of abortions in Missouri to-date for calendar year 2022.

  For 2022: Missouri Recorded abortions thus far: 74

Please let me know if you need additional information, especially the limitations on the resident abortion data. Thanks!

Angela-

Good morning.

Here is the information you requested:

- How many abortions were done in Missouri in calendar year 2021? Does this number include surgical and chemical? Please provide a breakdown of these numbers if they are reported separately.

Missouri Recorded Abortions for 2021: Medical = 23, Surgical = 127. Total = 150

- Please provide the numbers for calendar year 2021 of Missouri women who traveled out of state to receive an abortion. Does this number include surgical and chemical? Please provide a breakdown of these numbers if they are reported separately.

Missouri Resident Abortions for 2021: Medical = 2498, Surgical = 1141. Total = 3639

NOTE: The number of Missouri resident abortions (those who go out of state) provided above include record level information we received for Missouri residents from other states, mostly Kansas, Arkansas.

Illinois does not provide record level data back to us, They only give us an aggregate number. For example – in 2020, an estimated 6,400 abortions were performed for MO residents in IL. That's the only number we get, we will not get any more details. Based on 2020 number, it is reasonable to expect an estimated 6500 abortions to MO residents in IL. They have not yet given the number for 2021 yet. Oklahoma does not provide record level data as well. So, these will always be mentioned as "estimated".

- Please provide the number of abortions in Missouri to-date for calendar year 2022.

For 2022: Missouri Recorded abortions thus far: 74

Re: Sunshine Law Request

Dear Custodian of Records:

Pursuant to the Missouri Sunshine Law, Mo. Rev. Stat. § 610.010 et seq., American Oversight makes the following request for records.

Requested Records

American Oversight requests that your office produce copies of the following records within three business days:

1. All final decision memoranda, directives, policy interpretations, or guidance provided to, signed, approved, or otherwise adopted by the Department of Health and Senior Services regarding abortion, contraception, or reproductive health following the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health.

2. All email communications (including emails, email attachments, complete email chains, calendar invitations, and calendar invitation attachments) sent by any of the officials listed below containing any of the following key terms:

Key Terms:
a. Dobbs
b. Roe
c. Abortion
d. Pregnancy
e. Pregnant
f. Terminate
g. Fetus
h. Unborn
i. "Planned Parenthood"
j. "Trigger law"
k. "Trigger ban"
l. Contraception
m. "Birth control"
n. Abortifacient
o. Mifepristone
p. Misoprostol
q. Ectopic

Officials:
i. Acting Director Paula Nickelson
ii. Deputy Director Dr. Laura Naught
iii. Michael Oldweiler, Office of Governmental Policy and Legislation

In an effort to accommodate your office and reduce the number of potentially responsive records to be processed and produced, American Oversight has limited its request to emails sent by the specified officials. To be clear, however, American Oversight still requests that complete email chains be produced, displaying both sent and received messages. This means, for example, that both Director Nickelson's response to an email containing one of the listed key terms and the initial received message are responsive to this request and should be produced.

Please provide all responsive records from June 24, 2022, through the date the search is conducted.

Fee Waiver Request

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In accordance with Mo. Rev. Stat. § 610.026.1(1), American Oversight requests a waiver of fees associated with processing this request for records. Disclosure of the requested records is in the public interest because it will likely contribute to a better understanding of relevant government procedures by the general public in a significant way. Moreover, the request is primarily and fundamentally for non-commercial purposes.

American Oversight requests a waiver of fees because disclosure of the requested information "is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of [a] public governmental body." The public has a significant interest in top state health officials' response to changes in state abortion laws. Records with the potential to shed light on this matter would contribute significantly to public understanding of operations of the government, including guidance issued by or to state health officials in the wake of the Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health decision. American Oversight is committed to transparency and makes the responses agencies provide to public records requests publicly available, and the public's understanding of the government's activities would be enhanced through American Oversight's analysis and publication of these records.

This request is primarily and fundamentally for non-commercial purposes. As a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, American Oversight does not have a commercial purpose and the release of the information requested is not in American Oversight's financial interest. American Oversight's mission is to promote transparency in government, to educate the public about government activities, and to ensure the accountability of government officials. American Oversight uses the information gathered, and its analysis of it, to educate the public through reports, press releases, or other media. American Oversight also makes materials it gathers available on its public website and promotes their availability on social media platforms, such as Facebook and Twitter.

American Oversight has also demonstrated its commitment to the public disclosure of documents and creation of editorial content through regular substantive analyses posted to its website. Examples reflecting this commitment to the public disclosure of documents and the creation of editorial content include the posting of records and analysis related to the organization's investigations into misconduct and corruption in state governments; posting records and analysis of federal and state governments' responses to the Coronavirus pandemic; posting records received as part of American Oversight's "Audit the Wall" project to gather and analyze information related to the Trump administration's proposed construction of a barrier along the U.S.-Mexico border, and analyses of what those records reveal; and the posting of records related to an ethics waiver received by a senior Department of Justice attorney and an analysis of what those records demonstrated regarding the Department's process for issuing such waivers.

Accordingly, American Oversight qualifies for a fee waiver.

Guidance Regarding the Search & Processing of Requested Records

In connection with its request for records, American Oversight provides the following guidance regarding the scope of the records sought and the search and processing of records:

§ Please search all locations and systems likely to have responsive records, regardless of format, medium, or physical characteristics.
§ In conducting your search, please understand the terms "record," "document," and "information" in their broadest sense, to include any written, typed, recorded, graphic, printed, or audio material of any kind. We seek records of any kind, including electronic records, audiotapes, videotapes, and photographs, as well as letters, emails, facsimiles, telephone messages, voice mail messages and transcripts, notes, or minutes of any meetings, telephone conversations or discussions.
§ Our request for records includes any attachments to those records or other materials enclosed with those records when they were previously transmitted. To the extent that an email is responsive to our request, our request includes all prior messages sent or received in that email chain, as well as any attachments to the email.
§ Please search all relevant records or systems containing records regarding agency business. Do not exclude records regarding agency business contained in files, email accounts, or devices in the personal custody of your officials, such as personal email accounts or text messages.
§ In the event some portions of the requested records are properly exempt from disclosure, please disclose any reasonably segregable non-exempt portions of the requested records. If a request is denied in whole, please state specifically why it is not reasonable to segregate portions of the record for release.
§ Please take appropriate steps to ensure that records responsive to this request are not deleted by the agency before the completion of processing for this request. If records potentially responsive to this request are likely to be located on systems where they are subject to potential deletion, including on a scheduled basis, please take steps to prevent that deletion, including, as appropriate, by instituting a litigation hold on those records.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Conclusion

If you have any questions regarding how to construe this request for records or believe that further discussions regarding search and processing would facilitate a more efficient production of records of interest to American Oversight, please do not hesitate to contact American Oversight to discuss this request. American Oversight welcomes an opportunity to discuss its request with you before you undertake your search or incur search or duplication costs. By working together at the outset, American Oversight and your agency can decrease the likelihood of costly and time-consuming litigation in the future.
Where possible, please provide responsive material in an electronic format by email. Alternatively, please provide responsive material in native format or in PDF format on a USB drive. Please send any responsive material being sent by mail to American Oversight, 1030 15th Street NW, Suite B255, Washington, DC 20005. If it will accelerate release of responsive records to American Oversight, please also provide responsive material on a rolling basis.
We share a common mission to promote transparency in government. American Oversight looks forward to working with your agency on this request. If you do not understand any part of this request, please contact Mehreen Rasheed at records@americanoversight.org or (202) 848-1320. Also, if American Oversight's request for a fee waiver is not granted in full, please contact us immediately upon making such a determination.

Sincerely,

/s/ Mehreen Rasheed

Dear Dr. Florio –

Hope this mail finds you well!! This is Venkata from MO DHSS. We met a few times at various meetings pre-COVID and had some lively discussions surrounding maternal mortality and morbidity in Missouri. Karyn did discuss with me about the preeclampsia project she has been leading and consulting /collaborating with you and like she noted in the mail below the results were inconclusive / mixed. However, I am confused about your intended goal for this project and Karyn analyses. Karyn analyzed statewide data for her project which does not seem to be in line with your expectation or intent"… rising rate of pre-eclampsia over the last decade and to superimpose those numbers over our SDoH in each area".

I think it would be very helpful if you could submit a research protocol, similar to what we request from all external researchers, so that the protocol can be reviewed and data released in accordance with MO DHSS data suppression guidelines governing small numbers / small area estimates. The research protocol will also help us understand your exact data needs and will greatly reduce any confusion with respect to data use and expected outcomes. The Department's research protocol forms / process governing the use of vital statistics can be accessed at the following link: https://health.mo.gov/data/policies.php.

Please let me know if you need any additional or clarification to this extent. Please let me know if a meeting / phone call would be helpful to discuss next steps.

Thank you and we look forward to partnering with you on this project!!

Paula

Thank you again for the lovely conversation and your passion to help improve maternal health. One of the things I have been working on – again the DATA – was to show that here in Missouri we have a rising rate of pre-eclampsia over the last decade and to superimpose those numbers over our SDoH in each area. For instance, let's say we find that pre-eclampsia was rising in Cass County. We were going to compare that to certain SDoH changes like distance to grocery store or to a maternity center.

I was working with Karyn Stewart as you see below. However, it seems there has been an issue with moving forward. I was hoping you could help? This data is very important as we need to show WHY we have issues with maternal morbidity and mortality, and this is definitely a great way to do it!

Thanks for all you do! Let me know if you think this is not going to be feasible – you have such a treasure trove of data that would significantly help!

Greetings,

I hope things are well. I had a meeting with my immediate supervisor, Karen Harbert, and her and I's boss, Venkata, about this research and at this point the preeclampsia research has been sidelined, if you will.

Venkata spoke about going back to ground zero and having someone examine the aggregated data rather than year-by-year, as I had been doing, to determine if there is a statistically significant racial disparity for the aggregated data. Any findings from such analysis that took place have not been shared with me. Additionally, we are in the midst of working on our Title V Block Grant application and report.

I can revisit this issue with Karen Harbert, my immediate supervisor, but the level of support that I would have to move forward at this point in time might be minimal to nonexistent given the Block Grant submission that needs to be completed.

After I know about analysis of aggregated data, I can check back in to update you and let you know what the possibilities are.

I am very sorry about this. I'm not free to move on this in the way that I would like. I'll check back

Dear Dr. Florio –

Hope this mail finds you well!! This is Venkata from MO DHSS. We met a few times at various meetings pre-COVID and had some lively discussions surrounding maternal mortality and morbidity in Missouri. Karyn did discuss with me about the preeclampsia project she has been leading and consulting /collaborating with you and like she noted in the mail below the results were inconclusive / mixed. However, I am confused about your intended goal for this project and Karyn analyses. Karyn analyzed statewide data for her project which does not seem to be in line with your expectation or intent"… rising rate of pre-eclampsia over the last decade and to superimpose those numbers over our SDoH in each area".

I think it would be very helpful if you could submit a research protocol, similar to what we request from all external researchers, so that the protocol can be reviewed and data released in accordance with MO DHSS data suppression guidelines governing small numbers / small area estimates. The research protocol will also help us understand your exact data needs and will greatly reduce any confusion with respect to data use and expected outcomes. The Department's research protocol forms / process governing the use of vital statistics can be accessed at the following link: https://health.mo.gov/data/policies.php.

Please let me know if you need any additional or clarification to this extent. Please let me know if a meeting / phone call would be helpful to discuss next steps.

Thank you and we look forward to partnering with you on this project!!

Paula

Thank you again for the lovely conversation and your passion to help improve maternal health. One of the things I have been working on – again the DATA – was to show that here in Missouri we have a rising rate of pre-eclampsia over the last decade and to superimpose those numbers over our SDoH in each area. For instance, let's say we find that pre-eclampsia was rising in Cass County. We were going to compare that to certain SDoH changes like distance to grocery store or to a maternity center.

I was working with Karyn Stewart as you see below. However, it seems there has been an issue with moving forward. I was hoping you could help? This data is very important as we need to show WHY we have issues with maternal morbidity and mortality, and this is definitely a great way to do it!

Thanks for all you do! Let me know if you think this is not going to be feasible – you have such a treasure trove of data that would significantly help!

Greetings,

I hope things are well. I had a meeting with my immediate supervisor, Karen Harbert, and her and I's boss, Venkata, about this research and at this point the preeclampsia research has been sidelined, if you will.

Venkata spoke about going back to ground zero and having someone examine the aggregated data rather than year-by-year, as I had been doing, to determine if there is a statistically significant racial disparity for the aggregated data. Any findings from such analysis that took place have not been shared with me. Additionally, we are in the midst of working on our Title V Block Grant application and report.

I can revisit this issue with Karen Harbert, my immediate supervisor, but the level of support that I would have to move forward at this point in time might be minimal to nonexistent given the Block Grant submission that needs to be completed.

Dear Dr. Florio –

Hope this mail finds you well!! This is Venkata from MO DHSS. We met a few times at various meetings pre-COVID and had some lively discussions surrounding maternal mortality and morbidity in Missouri. Karyn did discuss with me about the preeclampsia project she has been leading and consulting /collaborating with you and like she noted in the mail below the results were inconclusive / mixed. However, I am confused about your intended goal for this project and Karyn analyses. Karyn analyzed statewide data for her project which does not seem to be in line with your expectation or intent"… rising rate of pre-eclampsia over the last decade and to superimpose those numbers over our SDoH in each area".

I think it would be very helpful if you could submit a research protocol, similar to what we request from all external researchers, so that the protocol can be reviewed and data released in accordance with MO DHSS data suppression guidelines governing small numbers / small area estimates. The research protocol will also help us understand your exact data needs and will greatly reduce any confusion with respect to data use and expected outcomes. The Department's research protocol forms / process governing the use of vital statistics can be accessed at the following link: https://health.mo.gov/data/policies.php.

Please let me know if you need any additional or clarification to this extent. Please let me know if a meeting / phone call would be helpful to discuss next steps.

Thank you and we look forward to partnering with you on this project!!

Paula

Thank you again for the lovely conversation and your passion to help improve maternal health. One of the things I have been working on – again the DATA – was to show that here in Missouri we have a rising rate of pre-eclampsia over the last decade and to superimpose those numbers over our SDoH in each area. For instance, let's say we find that pre-eclampsia was rising in Cass County. We were going to compare that to certain SDoH changes like distance to grocery store or to a maternity center.

I was working with Karyn Stewart as you see below. However, it seems there has been an issue with moving forward. I was hoping you could help? This data is very important as we need to show WHY we have issues with maternal morbidity and mortality, and this is definitely a great way to do it!

Thanks for all you do! Let me know if you think this is not going to be feasible – you have such a treasure trove of data that would significantly help!

Greetings,

I hope things are well. I had a meeting with my immediate supervisor, Karen Harbert, and her and I's boss, Venkata, about this research and at this point the preeclampsia research has been sidelined, if you will.

Venkata spoke about going back to ground zero and having someone examine the aggregated data rather than year-by-year, as I had been doing, to determine if there is a statistically significant racial disparity for the aggregated data. Any findings from such analysis that took place have not been shared with me. Additionally, we are in the midst of working on our Title V Block Grant application and report.

I can revisit this issue with Karen Harbert, my immediate supervisor, but the level of support that I would have to move forward at this point in time might be minimal to nonexistent given the Block Grant submission that needs to be completed.

After I know about analysis of aggregated data, I can check back in to update you and let you know what the possibilities are.

I am very sorry about this. I'm not free to move on this in the way that I would like. I'll check back in with you after I know more.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Please let me know if you have any thoughts about this.

Thanks,
Karyn

Hello Dr. Florio,

I hope you are doing well. I will send some of the Sdoh data I have put together later today, and I will continue to work on getting that data together this week. I would also love to help with the draft!

I just dug a little further on that as well – Emily Manley tweeted that an AG spokesperson said "Missouri law does not prohibit the use or provision of Plan B, or contraception."
12:41 PM today

So sorry for confusion on my end – it wasn't an official AG release, but just a claimed statement from them (but I typically trust what Emily puts out there)

Hi Paula - DHSS can gain more efficiencies and compliance with our EDvera Licensure Management System. We work with many state agencies to replace forms, such as your ACS Application, Abortion Clinic Application and Nursing Home Inspection Reports with a cloud-based system. EDvera is essential to speed your review, site visit, and approval processes.

Can we have a short call to explore this - would Thursday, Oct 13 at 1pm ET work for you?

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND SENIOR SERVICES WEEKLY REPORT TO THE GOVERNOR

FOR THE WEEK OF June 27, 2022

June 30, 2022

TO: Governor Parson

FROM: Paula F. Nickeson, Acting Director

THROUGH: Aaron Willard

I. Summary Message for the Governor

- DHSS' Radiological Emergency Response Program (RAD Team) was alerted on June 21 of a vehicle that was consistently exceeding radiology limits at an automotive dealership in Missouri. The next day, three members of the RAD Team traveled to investigate further. Ultimately, the survey isolated Thallium 201, which is a common radiopharmaceutical used to diagnose certain heart conditions, as the cause of the elevated levels. It was discovered that an employee of the dealership recently underwent a heart stress test. The RAD Team was able to not only narrow the Thallium source to him, but also provide valuable mitigation advice. A full narrative is attached to this report.
- As of June 28, 306 cases of Monkeypox/Orthopoxvirus have been reported from 27 states and the District of Columbia in the U.S. Internationally, 4,769 cases from 49 countries/locations have been reported. A total of two monkeypox cases have been reported in Missouri. The two cases were both from the Kansas City metropolitan area, but were not connected. Both individuals did report out-of-state travel during their period of exposure. Additional information on monkeypox provided under programmatic update.
- Platinum Neighbors (Medical Division of Platinum Team Management) out of Texas submitted a request on June 23 for extension of the temporary closure of Audrain Medical Center in Mexico and Callaway Regional Hospital in Fulton that was originally submitted by Noble Health. Platinum also submitted a change of ownership request to assume the assets of both facilities. No dates have been established as of yet for possible re-opening of these two hospitals.
- Following the Supreme Court of the United States' ruling in Dobbs that overturns Roe v. Wade, DHSS is currently reviewing regulations related to abortion facilities to ensure they're in accordance with state law.

VI. Programmatic Updates – For Situational Awareness

- For the week of June 22 to June 28, the state COVID-19 hotline received 118 calls with 5 seconds being the average speed of answer. The COVID-19 hotline is ceasing operations as of June 30, and calls will now be received by DHSS.
- COVID-19 outbreaks among long-term care facilities continue to increase. As of June 27, 304 facilities were reporting residents or staff with COVID. This is up from 174 from when we last reported on this on June 6. Overall reports are that symptoms vary from asymptomatic to very minor symptoms.
- The Section for Long-term Care Regulation (SLCR) has 25 survey team vacancies - 21 RN surveyor openings, down from 23 reported in May; three regulatory auditors, an increase of one over May, and one regulatory compliance manager.
    - Current complaint backlog stands at 2,030, down from 2,159 reported in May. For June we have received 892 complaints through June 24. SCLR should finish the month about 12% over normal volume, but despite the increase, the survey team made positive progress in reducing the backlog.
- Tri-County Care Center in Vandalia reached out to Rep. Hayden requesting assistance with identifying any possible ARPA funds to help with ongoing financial difficulties. Rep. Hayden subsequently reached out to Director Nickelson for help. Their current financial situation is not good due to a number of issues including incorrect billing and fines associated with deficiencies identified during a past survey. Shortly before the administrator retiring, she met with the Facility Board to recommend closure. The Board did not accept the recommendation and is looking for options to remain open, including hiring of an interim administrator.
- June 28 was the third anniversary for Medical Marijuana Regulation licensure program. After three years, the program has issued medical marijuana cards to 188,201 patients. Licenses have been issued to:
    - 3,117 caregivers
    - 27,458 active patient/caregiver home-cultivator licenses
    - 190 dispensaries
    - 70 manufacturers
    - 48 cultivators
    - 8 laboratory testing facilities
- CMS released a memo removing the vaccine expectations for surveyors at state agencies. What this means is that survey team members (RNs, auditors, etc.) are no longer required to be fully vaccinated or have an exemption, as a member of the survey agency. However, vaccine mandates still exist for certified hospitals and long-term care facilities. So unvaccinated survey team members will still be expected to comply with individual facility requirements for entry if unvaccinated. Work is underway to revise current Department policy to be consistent with the changes.
- The Linn Oak Rehabilitation Center, a 132-bed SNF, located in Linn has been approved a temporary closure plan. The reason for the temporary closure is staffing shortages as their current census is 44. The facility is currently working to provide notification of the temporary closure to residents, families, and staff.

- The Division of Senior and Disability Services (DSDS) has successfully received federal approval to modify many of our Medicaid Home and Community Based Services (HCBS) COVID-19 flexibilities. The following changes will go into effect August 1.
    - Initial and annual assessments and care planning will return to in-person visits.
    - Providers are required to resume training requirements in a modified nature.
    - All flexibilities allowing attendants to serve consumers prior to the results of a background check have been rescinded.
    - Providers are required to resume in-person supervisory and monitoring visits.

  Modifying these flexibilities were prioritized to ensure participant health, safety, and welfare. DSDS will begin communicating these changes to employees, participants, and stakeholders. Next DSDS will seek federal approval to modify other COVID-19 flexibilities such as re-instating the family caregiver prohibition.
- DHSS continues to work with local, state and national partners to respond to the 2022 outbreak of monkeypox. The expansion of testing by HHS to include national reference laboratories is expected to reduce some of the current demand on DHSS related to screening and testing for monkeypox. However, an increased demand for public health resources from DHSS and LPHAs can be expected, if there in an increase in monkeypox cases in Missouri. In addition, the CDC did indicate a likely expectation that all laboratory results (both positive and negative results) be reported to states with subsequent reporting of de-identified data to CDC. It is expected the receiving and reporting of negative test results for monkeypox will present several challenges and concerns for states, including Missouri. In addition, DHSS staff provided information and guidance to medical providers and local public health agencies through webinar hosted by Missouri Hospital Association on June 27 and during bi-weekly calls with LPHAs, respectively.
    - The U.S. Department of Health and Senior Services (HHS) and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) have announced three pillars as part of the national response. The pillars include 1) expanding testing capacity: HHS is expanding testing to include five large commercial laboratories to expand capacity directly to healthcare providers; 2) scale up availability and delivery of vaccines: an updated strategy was announced to expand access to JYNNEOS vaccine for post-exposure use to areas with the highest transmission and need, using a tiered allocation system; 3) work directly with healthcare providers to ensure they have information needed to identify and diagnose monkeypox.

Radiological Emergency Response of Strickland Automotive LLC

On June 21, 2022, the DHSS Radiological Emergency Response Program (RAD Team) received a call from the Nuclear Regulatory Commission regarding a potentially radiological source detected at TRG metal recycling in Reeds Spring, Mo. The vehicle in question was the towing vehicle – an early 2000s Chevy Silverado. The vehicle consistently exceeded the limits of a Ludlum detector and subsequent hand scan. Elevated readings were narrowed to the vehicle's glove box. Ultimately, the vehicle was denied entry into the scrap metal yard and was returned to Strickland Automotive prior to DHSS being notified. The dealership initially contacted the Missouri State Highway Patrol and was given contact information for the NRC.

DHSS' RAD Team, represented by Keith Henke, Dustin Martin and Jeremy Wilson, scheduled a trip to the dealership equipped with a Canberra Ultra Radiac for dosimetry, a Ludlum 9DP ion chamber for exposure, a FLIR R400 RID for isotope identification and a Ludlum 3001 with 44-2, 44-38 and 44-9 probes. Surveys of the towing vehicle, trailer and scrap vehicle returned no elevated radiation readings. Further discussion with the dealership identified an employee who had recently received a heart stress test. A radiopharmaceutical, later determined to be Thallium 201, was used for the procedure. Initial surveys of the employee with the Ludlum 3001 44-2 probe showed significantly elevated readings. Survey of the employee with the Ludlum 9DP ion chamber showed an exposure of approximately 300 uR/h. The Canberra Ultra Radiac showed similar readings. The FLIR R400 was used to identify the isotope as Thallium 201.

Thallium 201 is a common radiopharmaceutical used in the diagnosis of coronary artery disease and parathyroid hyperactivity. Thallium 201 has an effective half-life of 73.1 hours. We informed the employee that the Thallium 201 would remain in his system for approximately 30 days and would be continually decaying as well as excreted through urination. The employee was instructed to practice caution during urination and wash hands thoroughly prevent any contamination.

    - Providers are required to resume in-person supervisory and monitoring visits.

  Modifying these flexibilities were prioritized to ensure participant health, safety, and welfare. DSDS will begin communicating these changes to employees, participants, and stakeholders. Next DSDS will seek federal approval to modify other COVID-19 flexibilities such as re-instating the family caregiver prohibition.
- DHSS continues to work with local, state and national partners to respond to the 2022 outbreak of monkeypox. The expansion of testing by HHS to include national reference laboratories is expected to reduce some of the current demand on DHSS related to screening and testing for monkeypox. However, an increased demand for public health resources from DHSS and LPHAs can be expected, if there in an increase in monkeypox cases in Missouri. In addition, the CDC did indicate a likely expectation that all laboratory results (both positive and negative results) be reported to states with subsequent reporting of de-identified data to CDC. It is expected the receiving and reporting of negative test results for monkeypox will present several challenges and concerns for states, including Missouri. In addition, DHSS staff provided information and guidance to medical providers and local public health agencies through webinar hosted by Missouri Hospital Association on June 27 and during bi-weekly calls with LPHAs, respectively.
    - The U.S. Department of Health and Senior Services (HHS) and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) have announced three pillars as part of the national response. The pillars include 1) expanding testing capacity: HHS is expanding testing to include five large commercial laboratories to expand capacity directly to healthcare providers; 2) scale up availability and delivery of vaccines: an updated strategy was announced to expand access to JYNNEOS vaccine for post-exposure use to areas with the highest transmission and need, using a tiered allocation system; 3) work directly with healthcare providers to ensure they have information needed to identify and diagnose monkeypox.

Radiological Emergency Response of Strickland Automotive LLC

On June 21, 2022, the DHSS Radiological Emergency Response Program (RAD Team) received a call from the Nuclear Regulatory Commission regarding a potentially radiological source detected at TRG metal recycling in Reeds Spring, Mo. The vehicle in question was the towing vehicle – an early 2000s Chevy Silverado. The vehicle consistently exceeded the limits of a Ludlum detector and subsequent hand scan. Elevated readings were narrowed to the vehicle's glove box. Ultimately, the vehicle was denied entry into the scrap metal yard and was returned to Strickland Automotive prior to DHSS being notified. The dealership initially contacted the Missouri State Highway Patrol and was given contact information for the NRC.

DHSS' RAD Team, represented by Keith Henke, Dustin Martin and Jeremy Wilson, scheduled a trip to the dealership equipped with a Canberra Ultra Radiac for dosimetry, a Ludlum 9DP ion chamber for exposure, a FLIR R400 RID for isotope identification and a Ludlum 3001 with 44-2, 44-38 and 44-9 probes. Surveys of the towing vehicle, trailer and scrap vehicle returned no elevated radiation readings. Further discussion with the dealership identified an employee who had recently received a heart stress test. A radiopharmaceutical, later determined to be Thallium 201, was used for the procedure. Initial surveys of the employee with the Ludlum 3001 44-2 probe showed significantly elevated readings. Survey of the employee with the Ludlum 9DP ion chamber showed an exposure of approximately 300 uR/h. The Canberra Ultra Radiac showed similar readings. The FLIR R400 was used to identify the isotope as Thallium 201.

Thallium 201 is a common radiopharmaceutical used in the diagnosis of coronary artery disease and parathyroid hyperactivity. Thallium 201 has an effective half-life of 73.1 hours. We informed the employee that the Thallium 201 would remain in his system for approximately 30 days and would be continually decaying as well as excreted through urination. The employee was instructed to practice caution during urination and wash hands thoroughly prevent any contamination.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND SENIOR SERVICES WEEKLY REPORT TO THE GOVERNOR

FOR THE WEEK OF June 27, 2022

June 30, 2022

TO: Governor Parson

FROM: Paula F. Nickeson, Acting Director

THROUGH: Aaron Willard

I. Summary Message for the Governor

- DHSS' Radiological Emergency Response Program (RAD Team) was alerted on June 21 of a vehicle that was consistently exceeding radiology limits at an automotive dealership in Missouri. The next day, three members of the RAD Team traveled to investigate further. Ultimately, the survey isolated Thallium 201, which is a common radiopharmaceutical used to diagnose certain heart conditions, as the cause of the elevated levels. It was discovered that an employee of the dealership recently underwent a heart stress test. The RAD Team was able to not only narrow the Thallium source to him, but also provide valuable mitigation advice. A full narrative is attached to this report.
- As of June 28, 306 cases of Monkeypox/Orthopoxvirus have been reported from 27 states and the District of Columbia in the U.S. Internationally, 4,769 cases from 49 countries/locations have been reported. A total of two monkeypox cases have been reported in Missouri. The two cases were both from the Kansas City metropolitan area, but were not connected. Both individuals did report out-of-state travel during their period of exposure. Additional information on monkeypox provided under programmatic update.
- Platinum Neighbors (Medical Division of Platinum Team Management) out of Texas submitted a request on June 23 for extension of the temporary closure of Audrain Medical Center in Mexico and Callaway Regional Hospital in Fulton that was originally submitted by Noble Health. Platinum also submitted a change of ownership request to assume the assets of both facilities. No dates have been established as of yet for possible re-opening of these two hospitals.
- Following the Supreme Court of the United States' ruling in Dobbs that overturns Roe v. Wade, DHSS is currently reviewing regulations related to abortion facilities to ensure they're in accordance with state law.

VI. Programmatic Updates – For Situational Awareness

- For the week of June 22 to June 28, the state COVID-19 hotline received 118 calls with 5 seconds being the average speed of answer. The COVID-19 hotline is ceasing operations as of June 30, and calls will now be received by DHSS.
- COVID-19 outbreaks among long-term care facilities continue to increase. As of June 27, 304 facilities were reporting residents or staff with COVID. This is up from 174 from when we last reported on this on June 6. Overall reports are that symptoms vary from asymptomatic to very minor symptoms.
- The Section for Long-term Care Regulation (SLCR) has 25 survey team vacancies - 21 RN surveyor openings, down from 23 reported in May; three regulatory auditors, an increase of one over May, and one regulatory compliance manager.
    - Current complaint backlog stands at 2,030, down from 2,159 reported in May. For June we have received 892 complaints through June 24. SCLR should finish the month about 12% over normal volume, but despite the increase, the survey team made positive progress in reducing the backlog.
- Tri-County Care Center in Vandalia reached out to Rep. Hayden requesting assistance with identifying any possible ARPA funds to help with ongoing financial difficulties. Rep. Hayden subsequently reached out to Director Nickelson for help. Their current financial situation is not good due to a number of issues including incorrect billing and fines associated with deficiencies identified during a past survey. Shortly before the administrator retiring, she met with the Facility Board to recommend closure. The Board did not accept the recommendation and is looking for options to remain open, including hiring of an interim administrator.
- June 28 was the third anniversary for Medical Marijuana Regulation licensure program. After three years, the program has issued medical marijuana cards to 188,201 patients. Licenses have been issued to:
    - 3,117 caregivers
    - 27,458 active patient/caregiver home-cultivator licenses
    - 190 dispensaries
    - 70 manufacturers
    - 48 cultivators
    - 8 laboratory testing facilities
- CMS released a memo removing the vaccine expectations for surveyors at state agencies. What this means is that survey team members (RNs, auditors, etc.) are no longer required to be fully vaccinated or have an exemption, as a member of the survey agency. However, vaccine mandates still exist for certified hospitals and long-term care facilities. So unvaccinated survey team members will still be expected to comply with individual facility requirements for entry if unvaccinated. Work is underway to revise current Department policy to be consistent with the changes.
- The Linn Oak Rehabilitation Center, a 132-bed SNF, located in Linn has been approved a temporary closure plan. The reason for the temporary closure is staffing shortages as their current census is 44. The facility is currently working to provide notification of the temporary closure to residents, families, and staff.

- The Division of Senior and Disability Services (DSDS) has successfully received federal approval to modify many of our Medicaid Home and Community Based Services (HCBS) COVID-19 flexibilities. The following changes will go into effect August 1.
    - Initial and annual assessments and care planning will return to in-person visits.
    - Providers are required to resume training requirements in a modified nature.
    - All flexibilities allowing attendants to serve consumers prior to the results of a background check have been rescinded.
    - Providers are required to resume in-person supervisory and monitoring visits.

  Modifying these flexibilities were prioritized to ensure participant health, safety, and welfare. DSDS will begin communicating these changes to employees, participants, and stakeholders. Next DSDS will seek federal approval to modify other COVID-19 flexibilities such as re-instating the family caregiver prohibition.
- DHSS continues to work with local, state and national partners to respond to the 2022 outbreak of monkeypox. The expansion of testing by HHS to include national reference laboratories is expected to reduce some of the current demand on DHSS related to screening and testing for monkeypox. However, an increased demand for public health resources from DHSS and LPHAs can be expected, if there in an increase in monkeypox cases in Missouri. Missouri Gov. Mike Parson said Thursday he will not call a special session to clarify Missouri laws on ectopic pregnancies and birth control in post-Roe's wake.

What do you think about Parson's decision? Should the decision on what constitutes as a medical emergency be left up to doctors? Do lawmakers need to weigh in and clarify Missouri's abortion ban?

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Today, the America First Policy Institute (AFPI) issued the following statement from President and CEO Brooke Rollins:

"Today's historic Supreme Court decision does not mark the end of the near half-century fight for life; it correctly returns this issue to the people's elected representatives in each of the states. The hopes of future generations now rest within the purview of lawmakers, who will decide whether America will continue spiraling down the Left's extreme path of taxpayer-funded, on-demand abortion up until the moment of birth or a path of compassion, support, and care for both the lives involved in this difficult issue — the mother and the baby — and fulfilling the Founders' vision of a country that cherishes everyone's inalienable right to LIFE, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

It should also be noted that this historic day for democracy, nearly 50 years in the making, would not have been possible without the leadership and commitment to life of President Donald J. Trump. Thank you, Mr. President!"

Speaker Series: Ukraine and the Crisis of Food Security, A Conversation with Key Humanitarian Partners

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

On Tuesday, America First Policy Institute (AFPI) hosted an event to discuss the America First approach to resolving foreign policy crises. One of the most urgent consequences of Russia's invasion of Ukraine is its exacerbation of the global food crisis. America must work effectively with its partners to resolve it.

The discussion featured a keynote address by Bob Unanue, AFPI Board Member and President and CEO of Goya Foods. Mr. Unanue's remarks were followed by a panel discussion with our frontline allies assisting in humanitarian efforts. The panel featured His Excellency Szabolcs Takács, Ambassador of Hungary to the United States, His Excellency Radovan Javorčík, Ambassador of the Slovak Republic to the United States, His Excellency Andrei Muraru, Ambassador of Romania to the United States, and Mr. Adam Krzywosądzki, Deputy Chief of Mission of the Embassy of Poland.

Russia's ongoing invasion of Ukraine is causing devastating consequences, not just across Europe but around the world, and indeed, right here at home. Forty-five million people are estimated to be affected by this war. These events are ensuing as the United States experiences its own food security challenges. Rising food prices due to historic levels of inflation, accompanied by food shortages from supply chain disruption, are a glimpse of the challenges ahead for America's own food security.

It is in America's interest to lead global efforts, address these urgent challenges, and work with other nations in a strategic and effective way where the burden is distributed equally with our allies. Recently, AFPI published two pieces – an overview of America First foreign policy principles and an essay series, "Maintaining America's Superpower Status," – that explain how America works with allies and adversaries to advance Americans' interests abroad.

As the United States works with its allies to address food shortages and end Russia's war on Ukraine, we must continue to advocate for alliances built on equal contributions and ensure the American people and their interests are protected.

Welcome to the America First Agenda from the America First Policy Institute (AFPI).

Every day, the men and women of AFPI work to change America for the better. We are out there crafting policy, counseling policymakers, amplifying activists, battling the media, and doing absolutely everything we can to build an America where Americans come first. Of course, it is in the name—and it is in our actions. What you read here is not just another policy institution's list of activities. Every single item is a spark that will start a fire for freedom. President and CEO of AFPI Brooke Rollins released the following statement last Friday regarding the landmark decision and the future of life in our Nation:

"Today's historic Supreme Court decision does not mark the end of the near half-century fight for life; it correctly returns this issue to the people's elected representatives in each of the states. The hopes of future generations now rest within the purview of lawmakers, who will decide whether America will continue spiraling down the Left's extreme path of taxpayer-funded, on-demand abortion up until the moment of birth or a path of compassion, support, and care for both the lives involved in this difficult issue — the mother and the baby — and fulfilling the Founders' vision of a country that cherishes everyone's inalienable right to LIFE, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Our discussion was highlighted by Senator Cindy Hyde-Smith (R-MS), and included a panel of prominent figures in the pro-life movement, including AFPI President and CEO Brooke Rollins, Civil Rights Icon Dr. Alveda King, Pastor Paula White-Cain, and Father Frank Pavone.

The event underscored the fact that overturning Roe v. Wade will not mean that abortion is illegal nationally—it means that the abortion issue will be returned to legislative bodies, where the people can pass the laws they choose through their elected representatives.

According to polling done by Scott Rasmussen, 71% of Americans support legal limits on abortion while only 17% think abortion should be legal at any point in pregnancy. Even more significantly, 73% of voters think that there are two lives to consider in the abortion debate: the life of the mother AND the life of the unborn child. AFPI recently gave voice to many Americans through the following op-ed: Radical Abortion Policies Do Not 'Follow The Science,' Or The American Conscience

Unfortunately, the Left wants to continue expanding this radicalism by guaranteeing taxpayer funding for abortion and guaranteeing the "right" to abortion up to the point of birth through federal and state legislation. To learn more on the Left's radicalism, check out this recent AFPI paper: Who Are the Real Abortion Radicals? A Comparative Perspective

Unlike the Left, the America First Movement, which AFPI proudly supports, stands for BOTH lives at stake in the abortion debate: the mother AND the unborn child. The pro-life movement emphasizes choice and compassion rather than judgment and condemnation, and we stand as the real pro-woman movement because we offer women options such as foster care, adoption, and assistance rather than just abortion. Check out this recent op-ed to learn more: The Pro-Life Movement Is the Real Pro-Woman Movement

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

With the recent decision on Dobbs, the America First Policy Institute will continue to lead by educating Americans and state policymakers on ways to protect life. We look forward to working with you in the defense of life at all its stages.

- At 4:00pm EDT, the Vice President will convene state legislative leaders from Indiana, Florida, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Montana who are fighting on the frontlines to protect reproductive rights. The Vice President's and the participants' opening remarks will be livestreamed on whitehouse.gov/live/.

KEY ASSETS

- FACT SHEET: President Biden to Sign Executive Order Protecting Access to Reproductive Health Care Services

THE EXECUTIVE ORDER

The Executive Order builds on the actions the Administration has already taken to defend reproductive rights by:

- Safeguarding access to reproductive health care services, including abortion and contraception – building on steps HHS has already taken to ensure medication abortion, emergency contraception, long-acting contraception is as widely available as possible and the Attorney-General's commitment to fight any attack by a state or local official who attempts to interference with women exercising their right to travel out of state for medical care.
- Protecting the privacy of patients and their access to accurate information – building on steps HHS Office of Civil Rights has taken to ensure doctors and medical providers and plans know that they are not required – with limited exceptions – to disclose patients' private information.
- Promoting the safety and security of patients, providers, and clinics; and
- Coordinating the implementation of Federal efforts to protect reproductive rights and access to health care.

Thank you,

White House Intergovernmental Affairs.

FACT SHEET: President Biden Issues Executive Order at the First Meeting of the Task Force on Reproductive Healthcare Access

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

FACT SHEET:
President Biden Issues Executive Order at the First Meeting of the Task Force on Reproductive Healthcare Access

President Biden will issue an Executive Order on Securing Access to Reproductive and Other Healthcare Services, building on actions that the Biden-Harris Administration has taken to protect access to reproductive healthcare services and defend women's fundamental rights. The President kick off the Vice President's first meeting of the Task Force on Reproductive Healthcare Access. At the meeting, the Cabinet will discuss their progress and the path forward to address the women's health crisis in the wake of the Supreme Court's decision in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization.

EXECUTIVE ORDER ON SECURING ACCESS TO REPRODUCTIVE AND OTHER HEALTHCARE SERVICES

Through today's Executive Order, the President will announce actions to:

- Support Patients Traveling Out of State for Medical Care. The Executive Order directs the Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS) to consider action to advance access to reproductive healthcare services, including through Medicaid for patients who travel out of state for reproductive healthcare services. This directive is in line with the President and the Attorney General's clear statements on the Administration's commitment to defending the bedrock right to travel across state lines to seek reproductive healthcare in states where those services remain legal.

- Ensure Health Care Providers Comply with Federal Non-Discrimination Law. The Executive Order directs the Secretary of HHS to consider all appropriate actions to ensure health care providers comply with Federal non-discrimination laws so that women receive medically necessary care without delay. These actions could include providing technical assistance for health care providers who may be confused or unsure of their obligations in the aftermath of the Supreme Court decision in Dobbs; convening providers to convey information on their obligations and the potential consequences of non-compliance; and issuing additional guidance or taking other appropriate action in response to any complaints or reports of non-compliance with federal non-discrimination laws.

- Promote Research and Data Collection on Maternal Health Outcomes. To accurately measure the impact that diminishing access to reproductive health care services has on women's health, the Executive Order directs the Secretary of HHS to evaluate and improve research, data collection, and data analysis efforts at the National Institutes of Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention on maternal health and other health outcomes.

INTERAGENCY TASK FORCE ON REPRODUCTIVE HEALTHCARE ACCESS

The President will sign the Executive Order at the first meeting of the interagency Task Force on Reproductive Healthcare Access. After the President signs the Executive Order, Cabinet heads will report on the progress they have made in implementing the President's July 8, 2022 Executive Order on Protecting Access to Reproductive Healthcare Services, as well as related actions to defend reproductive rights.

Established by Executive Order, the Task Force on Reproductive Healthcare Access is co-chaired by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, Xavier Becerra, and the Director of the White House Gender Policy Council, Jennifer Klein. The Task Force coordinates and drives efforts across the Federal government to protect access to reproductive healthcare services and defend reproductive rights.
Offices across the White House – including the Office of the Vice President, the Office of White House Counsel, the Domestic Policy Council, the National Economic Council, the National Security Council, the Office of Intergovernmental Affairs, and the Office of Science and Technology Policy – also serve on the Task Force alongside the following Federal agencies:

- Department of Health and Human Services
- Department of Defense
- Department of Education
- Department of Homeland Security
- Department of Justice
- Department of Labor
- Department of the Treasury

TODAY'S ANNOUNCEMENTS BUILD ON ADMINISTRATION'S ACTIONS TO PROTECT ACCESS TO REPRODUCTIVE HEALTHCARE

Today's announcements build on the actions the Biden-Harris Administration has already taken to protect access to healthcare, including abortion and contraception, in the wake of the Supreme Court's decision in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization.

President Biden continues to call on Congress to codify the right to abortion into federal law and has said he would support changing the filibuster rules to codify Roe v. Wade into law. The White House has also released Statements of Administration Policy supporting H.R. 8296 – Women's Health Protection Act of 2022 and H.R. 8297 – Ensuring Access to Abortion Act of 2022.

The Administration has also taken immediate action to:

- Protect Access to Reproductive Healthcare Services: The President issued an Executive Order outlining actions to safeguard access to reproductive health care services, including abortion and contraception; protect the privacy of patients and their access to accurate information; promote the safety and security of patients, providers, and clinics; and coordinate the implementation of Federal efforts.

- Defend the Right to Travel: On 6/24/22, President Biden reaffirmed the Attorney General's statement that women must remain free to travel safely to another state to seek the care they need. President Biden committed his administration to defending "that bedrock right." Today's actions build upon this commitment and direct HHS to explore supports for women traveling out of state to seek medical care.

- Protect Emergency Medical Care: DOJ filed a lawsuit seeking to enjoin Idaho's abortion prohibition, which makes abortion a crime even when necessary to prevent serious risks to the health of pregnant patients. The suit asserts that Idaho's law conflicts with, and is therefore preempted by, the Emergency Medical Treatment Active Labor Act (EMTALA), which requires providers to offer stabilizing treatment, including abortion services if necessary, in certain emergency situations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This litigation follows guidance issued by HHS affirming EMTALA's requirements, as well as a letter from Secretary Becerra to providers making clear that federal law preempts state law restricting access to abortion in emergency situations.

- Strengthen Nondiscrimination in Healthcare. HHS announced a proposed rule to strengthen nondiscrimination in health care. The proposed rule implements Section 1557 of the Affordable Care Act and affirms protections consistent with President Biden's executive orders on nondiscrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity.

- Issue Guidance to Retail Pharmacies. HHS issued guidance to roughly 60,000 U.S. retail pharmacies to remind them of their obligations under federal civil rights laws to ensure access to comprehensive reproductive health care services. The guidance makes clear that as recipients of federal financial assistance, pharmacies are prohibited under law from discriminating on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, and disability in their programs and activities. This includes supplying medications; making determinations regarding the suitability of a prescribed medication for a patient; and advising patients about medications and how to take them.

- Take Action Against Illegal Use and Sharing of Sensitive Data. The Federal Trade Commission committed to fully enforcing the law against illegal use and sharing of highly sensitive data, including location and health information contained in fertility and period tracking data. The FTC urged companies to consider that sensitive data is protected by numerous state and federal laws, claims that data is "anonymous" are often deceptive, and the FTC has a track record of cracking down on companies that misuse consumer data.

- Protect Patient Privacy under HIPAA. HHS issued guidance to address how the HIPAA Privacy Rule protects the privacy of individuals' protected health information, including information related to reproductive health care. The guidance helps ensure doctors and other medical providers and health plans know that, with limited exceptions, they are not required – and in many cases, are not permitted – to disclose patients' private information, including to law enforcement. HHS also issued a how-to guide for consumers on steps they can take to make sure they're protecting their personal data on mobile apps.

- Request Information on Data Privacy from Mobile Providers. The Federal Communications Commission Chairwoman wrote to the top 15 mobile providers requesting information about their data retention and data privacy policies and general practices, consistent with the President's commitment to protecting Americans' privacy.

- Launch a DOJ Reproductive Rights Task Force: The DOJ

announced a Reproductive Rights Task Force, which will monitor and evaluate state and local actions that infringe on federal protections relating to the provision or pursuit of reproductive care, impair women's ability to seek reproductive care where it's legal, impair individuals' ability to inform and counsel each other about the reproductive care that is available in other states, ban medication abortion, or impose criminal or civil liability on federal employees who provide legal reproductive health services.

- Convene Attorneys to Defend Reproductive Rights. The Department of Justice and the Office of White House Counsel convened more than 200 lawyers and advocates from private firms, bar associations, legal aid organizations, reproductive rights groups, and law schools across the country on Friday, July 29 for the first convening of pro-bono attorneys, as called for in the Executive Order. The convening closed with a call to action from the Second Gentleman, urging firms to commit a minimum of 500 hours to defending reproductive rights and justice.

- Provide Access to Accurate Information and Legal Resources. HHS launched ReproductiveRights.gov, a website on people's right to access reproductive health care, including birth control, abortion services, other preventive health services, and health insurance coverage. DOJ also launched justice.gov/reproductive-rights, a webpage that provides a centralized online resource of the Department's work to protect access to reproductive healthcare services.

President Biden Signs the Bipartisan Safer Communities Act into Law

Yesterday, President Biden signed into law the Bipartisan Safer Communities Act, historic legislation that will reduce gun violence and save lives.

The President has worked on this issue his entire career, and knows both how hard it is and what it takes – he was there 30 years ago, the last time this country passed meaningful gun safety laws.

We have lost too many to gun violence. When the President traveled to Uvalde, he heard a clear message: do something. Yesterday, we did.

This bill doesn't do everything the President wanted want it to, but it does include actions he has long called for and that will save lives:

- It funds crisis intervention, including red flag laws to keep guns out of the hands of people who are a danger to themselves and to others.
- It finally closes what's known as the "boyfriend loophole," so if you assault your girlfriend or boyfriend you can't buy or own a gun.
- It requires young people aged 18-21 to undergo enhanced background checks.
- It includes the first federal law that makes gun trafficking and straw purchases distinct federal crimes.
- It clarifies who needs to register as a federally licensed gun dealer and run background

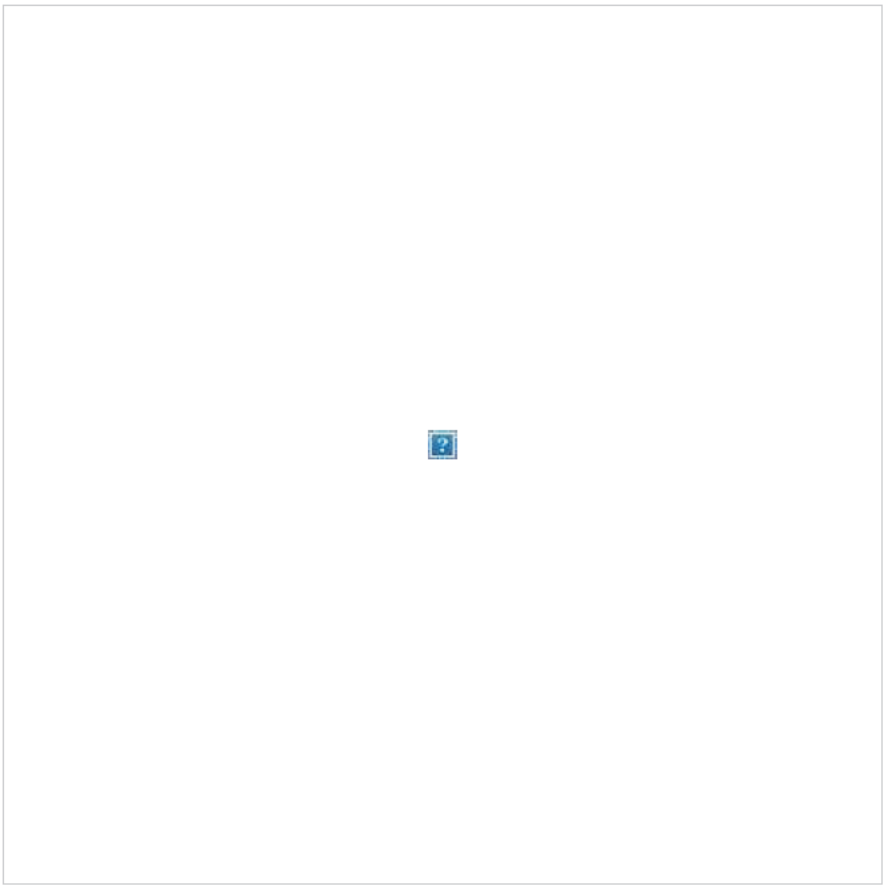
checks before selling a gun.

- And it provides historic funding to address the youth mental health crisis in this country, especially the trauma experienced by survivors of gun violence.
- And it invests in anti-violence programs to work directly with people who are most likely to commit gun crimes or become victims of gun crimes.

At a time when it seems impossible to get anything done in Washington, bipartisan lawmakers and President Biden delivered for the American people.

And the President believes that if we can reach a compromise on guns, we ought to be able to reach compromise on other critical issues, from veteran's health care to cutting-edge American innovation and more.

Remarks on the Supreme Court Decision to Overturn Roe v. Wade



The Supreme Court expressly took away a Constitutional right from the American people. New extreme state laws will jeopardize the health of millions of women without exceptions for rape or incest.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The President and his administration will use its lawful powers to protect women's right to travel and access medication.

The Supreme Court of the United States expressly took away a Constitutional right from the American people that it had already recognized. It's never been done. And as a result, the health and lives of women are now at risk. The Administration will use its lawful power, but Congress must act. And the American people can have the final word and act with their vote.

President Biden Calls for a Three-Month Federal Gas Tax Holiday

The price of gas is up dramatically around the world, and by almost $2 per gallon in America, since Putin began amassing troops on the border of Ukraine. President Biden understands that high gas prices pose a significant challenge for working families. That's why he has taken action in recent months to boost the supply of oil and gas, including an historic release from the Strategic Petroleum Reserve, and encouraging oil companies and refiners to boost capacity and output to get more supply on the market.

President Biden has called on Congress and states to take additional legislative action to provide direct relief to American consumers who have been hit with Putin's Price Hike. Specifically, he is calling on Congress to suspend the federal gas tax for three months, through September, without taking any money away from the Highway Trust Fund. And he is calling on states to take similar action to provide some direct relief, whether suspending their own gas taxes or helping consumers in other ways.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Federal Gas Tax Holiday

Right now, the federal government charges an 18 cent tax per gallon of gasoline and a 24 cent tax per gallon of diesel. Those taxes fund critical highways and public transportation, through the Highway Trust Fund. But in this unique moment, with gas prices near $5 a gallon on average across the country, President Biden is calling on Congress to suspend the gas tax for three months – until the end of September – to give Americans a little extra breathing room as they deal with the effects of Putin's war in Ukraine.

The President is also calling on Congress to make sure that a gas tax holiday has no negative effect on the Highway Trust Fund. With our deficit already down by a historic $1.6 trillion this year, the President believes that we can afford to suspend the gas tax to help consumers while using other revenues to make the Highway Trust Fund whole for the roughly $10 billion cost. This is consistent with legislation proposed in the Senate and the House to advance a responsible gas tax holiday.

President Biden understands that a gas tax holiday alone will not, on its own, relieve the run up in costs that we've seen. But the President believes that at this unique moment when the war in Ukraine is imposing costs on American families, Congress should do what it can to provide working families breathing room.

State and Local Action

In addition to federal gas tax relief, the President is calling on state and local governments to provide additional consumer relief. Already, some states and local governments have acted: for example, in Connecticut and New York, governors temporarily suspended their gas taxes, and in Illinois and Colorado, governors delayed planned tax and fee increases. And, around the country, in states like Michigan and Minnesota, states and local leaders are considering a number of forms of consumer relief – from temporary suspensions and pauses on state sales tax on gas to consumer rebates and relief payments. The President believes more states and local governments should do so.

Ongoing Actions to Blunt the Impact of the Putin Price Hike

These announcements follow a series of actions the President has taken to lower gas prices for American families.

- The President announced the release of a record 1 million barrels per day from our Strategic Petroleum Reserve, which just last week a leading oil market analyst confirmed has been critical to keeping prices from rising even more.
- He rallied international partners to join us, releasing a combined 240 million barrels of oil on the market.
- He expanded access to biofuels like E15—gasoline that uses a 15 percent ethanol blend—to increase supply and lower prices at thousands of gas stations across the country.
- He and his Administration are engaging with oil and refining companies to ask them to work with the Administration to bring forward concrete solutions that increase refinery capacity and output. Secretary Granholm is meeting with these CEOs this week.

Already, the United States produced more oil under the first year of this Administration than it did under the first two years of the prior Administration, and is on track to set new records next year. At the same time, the President understands that our efforts to increase energy production in the near-term must be coupled with medium- and long-term efforts to transition our economy away from fossil fuels produced by autocrats and to clean energy.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Biden Administration Launches New Federal-State Offshore Wind Partnership to Grow American-Made Clean Energy

This week, the White House joined with eleven governors from up and down the East Coast to launch a new Federal-State Offshore Wind Implementation Partnership that will accelerate the growing offshore wind industry. The partnership will support efforts to provide Americans with cleaner and cheaper energy, create good-paying jobs, and make historic investments in new American energy supply chains, manufacturing, shipbuilding, and servicing.

As a first step of this Partnership, the White House and governors are announcing commitments to collaborate on expanding key elements of the offshore wind supply chain, from manufacturing facilities to port capabilities to workforce development. The Administration is also announcing steps to advance a National Offshore Wind Supply Chain Roadmap and designating offshore wind vessels as Vessels of National Interest to facilitate more offshore wind construction.

After years of Americans facing energy uncertainty, President Biden has taken decisive action to jumpstart the American offshore wind industry. He set a bold goal of deploying 30 gigawatts (GW) of offshore wind by 2030, enough to power 10 million homes with clean energy, support 77,000 jobs, and spur $12 billion per year in private investment in offshore wind projects. Since then, the Biden Administration has approved the first large-scale projects, established new wind energy areas, and held record-breaking wind auctions—signature achievements that advance the President's commitment to tackle the climate crisis and strengthen American energy security.

These bold actions have unleashed historic private sector investments to expand an American-made wind energy supply chain. In 2021 alone, investors announced $2.2 billion in new funding, including commitments to develop nine major manufacturing facilities to produce the foundations, towers, cables, and blades of offshore wind turbines. Supplier contracts to provide materials and services to offshore wind projects more than doubled. And historic project labor agreements are helping to grow a diverse union workforce and support training programs.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

More opportunities are ahead, including an estimated $109 billion revenue opportunity across the offshore wind supply chain this decade, and East Coast Governors are laying the groundwork to seize them. Having already set commitments to procure nearly 40 GW of offshore wind, these states are providing a strong demand signal for clean energy that will lower energy costs for American families while protecting them from volatile fossil fuel price spikes. Collaboration between state and federal governments already is helping to create good-paying jobs and establish a durable domestic supply chain to facilitate the responsible development of America's world-class offshore wind resource. The Biden-Harris Administration is committed to further partnering with states to maximize benefits to American workers and communities.

Biden-Harris Adminsitration Announces New Part Raises & Supports for Wildland Firefighter Workforce From Bipartisan Infrastructure Law

Our nation's wildland firefighters safeguard vital benefits for communities across the nation: protecting our nation's critical infrastructure, defending lives and private property from the risk of catastrophic wildfire, preserving forests so they can help us combat climate change, and protecting landscapes that contain cultural and natural resources of significance and value to Tribes, provide habitat to fish and wildlife, and serve as a source of drinking water for more than 60 million people. Investing in our wildland firefighting workforce is a matter of national security as there are more than 460 million acres of land at moderate to very high risk from wildfire this year, and the number of acres burned in 2021 is the highest on record.

For decades, Federal wildland firefighters have faced the challenges of longer, more severe fire years with pay that has lagged behind their counterparts. Shifting development patterns, land and fire management decisions, and climate change have turned fire "seasons" into fire "years" in which increasingly destructive fires are exceeding available Federal firefighting resources. Federal firefighters also lack an official, uniform occupational series and a clear path for career advancement through the Federal government.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Biden-Harris Administration has announced a series of bold steps to increase pay, create new mental wellness and health supports, and establish a new wildland fire management job series for federal firefighters. These unprecedented actions on behalf of the wildland firefighter workforce are funded by $600 million from President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure Law. These measures are a significant step forward that will deliver an immediate, temporary pay raise to Federal wildland firefighters across the nation, and sets Federal agencies on a path to continue working with stakeholders towards an updated, competitive, and equitable pay structure, along with a support system that will address the many challenges that have plagued our wildland firefighter workforce for decades.

INCREASING PAY

Under President Biden's 2021 initiatives to support federal wildland firefighters and ensure they receive a minimum of $15 per hour, more than 11,300 firefighters received pay increases last year at a cost of $24.3 million. This increase in the minimum wage was a critical first step for the dignity and respect of all Federal employees. Over the coming summer months, the Administration is implementing a new set of temporary pay increases that will put retroactive pay (from October 1, 2021) into wildland firefighter pockets increasing their bi-weekly pay, up to the lesser of $20,000 or 50% of their annual base salary through September 2023. The Federal agencies will begin processing these payments in the coming weeks, with additional payments to occur throughout July and into August. The $600 million in the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law serves as a bridge for two years as the Administration works with Congress on longer-term reforms.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CREATING NEW SUPPORTS FOR FIREFIGHTERS

During a visit to the National Interagency Fire Center (NIFC) last week, Secretary of the Interior Deb Haaland announced the establishment of an interagency wildland firefighter health and wellbeing program. Wildland firefighters work in incredibly stressful environments that can take a significant toll on their overall health and wellbeing, as well as on those who love them. Standing up a targeted interagency effort to provide trauma-informed mental health care is critical. The Bipartisan Infrastructure Law directs the Departments of the Interior (DOI) and Agriculture (USDA) to increase focus on wildland firefighters' physical and mental wellbeing. The newly established joint DOI- U.S. Forest Service program will address mental health needs, including post-traumatic stress disorder care for permanent, temporary, seasonal and year-round wildland firefighters at both agencies, along with addressing environmental hazards to minimize on-the-job exposure for wildland firefighters. The joint program will also connect existing efforts and establish year-round prevention and mental health training for wildland firefighters and create critical incident stress management staffing response. The Forest Service along with each of DOI's wildland fire management bureaus — the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and National Park Service — will also add staffing capacity specifically to focus on mental health and employee support efforts for firefighters.

The Bipartisan Infrastructure Law also provides increased support to the Joint Fire Science Program, an interagency partnership with USDA's U.S. Forest Service that funds wildfire science research projects. A total of $3.1 million will be used to support research towards a better understanding of firefighter mental health, landscape resiliency, and other climate-related studies on the beneficial uses of prescribed fire, carbon storage, and greenhouse gas and smoke emissions.

IMPROVING RECRUITMENT AND RETENTION

Because the pay increase under the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law is temporary, the Biden-Harris Administration supports a new firefighter pay structure that is both sufficiently competitive and equitable to address longstanding nationwide recruitment and retention challenges and consider the longer work shifts, pressures and risks associated with these jobs. The Administration is committed to working with Congress to secure much needed investments and to grow this critical workforce. The costs in firefighter turnover brought about by not having an adequately compensated and supported firefighting workforce will far exceed the amount needed to invest in them.

ESTABLISHING NEW WILDLAND FIRE MANAGEMENT OCCUPATIONAL SERIES

The U.S. Office of Personnel Management (OPM) has taken the necessary step of creating the Wildland Fire Management occupational series established under the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law. No such series has existed for 50 years. The new occupational series better identifies Federal firefighters with the work they do. It defines the duties of wildland firefighters and is responsive to the calls of firefighters and their unions to provide opportunities for career advancement. It also gives a boost to recruiting, as agencies can now post clear job opportunity announcements that specifically target people interested in wildland firefighting jobs. And it will help with retention, as our wildland firefighter workforce will benefit from a clear career path with detailed requirements for advancement, providing wildland firefighters with a job title and description that more accurately reflects their contributions.

Agencies will implement the new series in the coming months, though current Federal firefighters will be able to choose whether to opt-in to the new Wildland Fire Management series or stay in their current occupations. Once fully implemented, the series will provide a solid foundation for recruitment and retention, further strengthening our wildland firefighter workforce and contributing to the fire safety of communities across our Nation.

President Biden's Maternal Health Blueprint Delivers for Women, Mothers, and Families

On Friday, the White House released the Biden-Harris Administration's Blueprint for Addressing the Maternal Health Crisis, a whole-of-government approach to combatting maternal mortality and morbidity. For far too many mothers, complications related to pregnancy, childbirth, and postpartum can lead to devastating health outcomes — including hundreds of deaths each year. This maternal health crisis is particularly devastating for Black women, Native women, and women in rural communities who all experience maternal mortality and morbidity at significantly higher rates than their white and urban counterparts.

Under President Biden and Vice President Harris's leadership, this Administration is now taking the next step towards a future where the United States will be the best country in the world to have a baby. The Biden-Harris Administration is committed to cutting the rates of maternal mortality and morbidity, reducing the disparities in maternal health outcomes, and improving the overall experience during and after pregnancy for people across the country. This commitment will require bold, unprecedented action through a whole-of-government strategy.

To start, the Administration is calling on Congress to improve and expand coverage by closing the Medicaid coverage gap and requiring continuous Medicaid coverage for 12 months postpartum, as well as making the significant investments included in the President's FY23 budget to reduce maternal morbidity and mortality.

The Administration also recognizes that addressing the maternal health crisis in the United States requires immediate action. That is why, in addition to urging Congressional action, the White House has mobilized over a dozen federal agencies to develop the White House Blueprint for Addressing the Maternal Health Crisis. The Blueprint outlines five priorities to improve maternal health and outcomes in the United States:

• Increasing access to and coverage of comprehensive high-quality maternal health services, including behavioral health services.
• Ensuring women giving birth are heard and are decisionmakers in accountable systems of care.
• Advancing data collection, standardization, harmonization, transparency, and research
• Expanding and diversifying the perinatal workforce.
• Strengthening economic and social supports for people before, during, and after pregnancy.

Title IX 50th Anniversary

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Statement by President Joe Biden on the 50th Anniversary of Title IX

"Over the last fifty years, our nation has made monumental progress in advancing equity and equality for all students, including by narrowing gender gaps in sports, expanding opportunities in science and technology fields, and protecting students from sex discrimination, including sex-based harassment and sexual violence.

This is what America is all about: possibilities. Millions of women and girls have benefited from the change that Title IX helped make possible. More women and girls are participating and excelling in countless fields—from professional sports, to science, math, and technology than ever before. Their leadership, achievements, and success bear out the legacy of countless women throughout history who fought hard for a place at the table and for equal opportunity in all fields.

Yet there is more work to do. As we look to the next fifty years, I am committed to protecting this progress and working to achieve full equality, inclusion, and dignity for women and girls, LGBTQI+ Americans, all students, and all Americans.

My Administration will continue to fight tirelessly to realize the promise of Title IX—that every person deserves an opportunity to pursue their education free from discrimination and realize their full potential."

U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Announces Notice of Funding Opportunity to Address Unsheltered Homelessness

The Biden Administration through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) released a first-of-its-kind package of resources to address unsheltered homelessness and homeless encampments, including funds set aside specifically to address homelessness in rural communities.

The $365 million package includes grant funds along with additional vouchers that will enhance communities' capacity to humanely and effectively address unsheltered homelessness by connecting vulnerable individuals and families to housing, health care, and supportive services. This Initiative for Unsheltered and Rural Homelessness being made available by HUD strongly promotes partnerships with health care organizations, public housing authorities and mainstream housing providers, and people with lived experience and expertise of homelessness.

Specifically, the package includes:

- $322 million in Continuum of Care Program grants through a Special Notice of Funding Opportunity to fund homeless outreach, permanent housing, supportive services, and other costs as part of a comprehensive community approach to solve unsheltered homelessness, including a set-aside of $54.5 million specifically for rural communities. These grants will fund projects for three-years, after which they will be eligible for renewal through the annual Continuum of Care program competition.
- $43 million to fund approximately 4,000 new incremental vouchers will be allocated via a separate notice to public housing authorities with a priority to those that are partners in comprehensive community approaches to solve homelessness. These vouchers can serve households experiencing or at-risk of homelessness; those fleeing or attempting to flee domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking; and veterans and families that include a veteran family member that meets one of the proceeding criteria. Congress has provided HUD with waiver authorities to facilitate lease-up for vulnerable households.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Statement by President Joe Biden on Climate Change

"Action on climate change and clean energy remains more urgent than ever.

So let me be clear: if the Senate will not move to tackle the climate crisis and strengthen our domestic clean energy industry, I will take strong executive action to meet this moment. My actions will create jobs, improve our energy security, bolster domestic manufacturing and supply chains, protect us from oil and gas price hikes in the future, and address climate change. I will not back down: the opportunity to create jobs and build a clean energy future is too important to relent.

Health care is also critical. After decades of fierce opposition from powerful special interests, Democrats have come together, beaten back the pharmaceutical industry and are prepared to give Medicare the power to negotiate lower drug prices and to prevent an increase in health insurance premiums for millions of families with coverage under the Affordable Care Act. Families all over the nation will sleep easier if Congress takes this action. The Senate should move forward, pass it before the August recess, and get it to my desk so I can sign it.

This will not only lower the cost of prescription drugs and health care for families, it will reduce the deficit and help fight inflation.

I want to thank Leader Schumer for his dogged and determined effort to produce the strongest possible bill to bring down costs, reduce the deficit, and combat the climate crisis while boosting our energy security – even offering significant compromises to try to reach an agreement. I also want to thank Speaker Pelosi for her leadership – thanks to her hard work, the House passed a strong bill on climate change and reducing costs last year. Now, Congress must act quickly and get legislation to my desk to deliver for American families."

Recent Administration Action on Reproductive Rights

- The President's Executive Order Protecting Access to Reproductive Health Services: On 7/8/22, the President issued an Executive Order outlining actions to safeguard access to reproductive health care services, including abortion and contraception; protect the privacy of patients and their access to accurate information; promote the safety and security of patients, providers, and clinics; and coordinate the implementation of Federal efforts.

- Protecting Emergency Medical Care: On 7/11/22, HHS issued guidance affirming that the Emergency Medical Treatment Active Labor Act (EMTALA) protects providers that offer abortion services in emergency situations. Secretary Becerra also issued a letter to providers making clear that federal law preempts state law restricting access to abortion in emergency situations.

- Guidance to Retail Pharmacies: On 7/13/22, HHS issued guidance to roughly 60,000 U.S. retail pharmacies to remind them of their obligations under federal civil rights laws to ensure access to comprehensive reproductive health care services. The guidance makes clear that as recipients of federal financial assistance, pharmacies are prohibited under law from discriminating on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, and disability in their programs and activities. This includes supplying medications; making determinations regarding the suitability of a prescribed medication for a patient; and advising patients about medications and how to take them.

- DOJ Reproductive Rights Task Force: On 7/12/22, the DOJ announced a Reproductive Rights Task Force, which will monitor and evaluate state and local actions that infringe on federal protections relating to the provision or pursuit of reproductive care, impair women's ability to seek reproductive care where it's legal, impair individuals' ability to inform and counsel each other about the reproductive care that is available in other states, ban medication abortion, or impose criminal or civil liability on federal employees who provide legal reproductive health services.

- Protecting Privacy and Sensitive Health Data

    - The FTC: On 7/12/22, the FTC committed to fully enforcing the law against illegal use and sharing of highly sensitive data, including location and health information contained in fertility and period tracking data. The FTC urged companies to consider that sensitive data is protected by numerous state and federal laws, claims that data is "anonymous" are often deceptive, and the FTC has a track record of cracking down on companies that misuse consumer data.

    - HHS: On 6/29/22, HHS issued guidance to address how the HIPAA Privacy Rule protects the privacy of individuals' protected health information, including information related to reproductive health care. The guidance helps ensure doctors and other medical providers and health plans know that, with limited exceptions, they are not required – and in many cases, are not permitted – to disclose patients' private information, including to law enforcement. HHS also issued a how-to guide for consumers on steps they can take to make sure they're protecting their personal data on mobile apps.

    - Defending the Right to Travel: On 6/24/22, President Biden reaffirmed the Attorney General's statement that women must remain free to travel safely to another state to seek the care they need. President Biden committed his administration to defending "that bedrock right."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Calling for the Establishment of Abortion Rights into Federal Law: President Biden continues to call on Congress to codify the right to abortion into federal law. On 6/30/22, the President said he would support changing the filibuster rules to codify Roe v. Wade into law. On 7/12/22, the White House released Statements of Administration Policy on H.R. 8296 –Women's Health Protection Act of 2022 and H.R. 8297 – Ensuring Access to Abortion Act of 2022.

- ReproductiveRights.gov: The Administration launched ReproductiveRights.gov, a website on people's right to access reproductive health care, including birth control, abortion services, other preventive health services, and health insurance coverage.

USDA Makes It Easier for American Farmers to Grow Food, Ease Burdens for American Families

This week, the Biden Administration announced additional steps it's taking to support U.S. farmers in their work to stabilize food prices and feed Americans and the world amidst continuing challenges such as the COVID-19 pandemic, supply chain disruptions, and the invasion of Ukraine by Russia. The U.S. Department of Agriculture is reducing the economic risk of raising two crops on the same land in one year, making it easier for U.S. farmers to grow food in America, increase food supply, and lower food costs for American families. This action is part of a broader set of commitments made earlier this year by President Biden and Secretary Vilsack to increase domestic food production amid potential global food shortages related to the invasion of Ukraine.

To reduce the risk of raising two crops on the same land in one year – a practice known as double cropping - USDA's Risk Management Agency (RMA) is expanding double crop insurance opportunities in over 1,500 counties where double cropping is viable. "In May, I joined President Biden at the O'Connor farm in Kankakee, Illinois, to announce a series of actions to help farmers do what they do — grow food for American families and the rest of the world.

This week, USDA is making good on one of those commitments and making it easier to plant double crops and sharing some of the financial risk by making crop insurance more available in over 1,500 counties," said Secretary Vilsack. "We live in a challenging time, but I put my trust in the American farmer and U.S. agriculture to help keep the food we need affordable and available. The Biden administration and USDA will continue to find ways to ease burdens on American farmers and lower costs for American families such as expanded double crop options through crop insurance."

Bipartisan Economic Experts and Former Treasury Secretaries Support The Inflation Reduction Act

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Former Treasury Secretaries' Statement on Inflation Reduction Act

Five former Treasury secretaries — including Hank Paulson, who served under President George W. Bush — signed a statement strongly backing the "Inflation Reduction Act" brokered by Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer and Sen. Joe Manchin (D-W.Va.).

Why it matters: The bipartisan support will help the White House and Democrats push back against the Republican contention that millions of Americans who make under $400,000 a year would see their taxes rise.

- The others who signed on are Robert Rubin and Larry Summers (President Clinton), Tim Geithner and Jacob Lew (President Obama).
- Senate votes are expected to begin later this week on the health, climate and tax plan.

"As former Treasury Secretaries of both Democratic and Republican Administrations," the statement says, "we support the Inflation Reduction Act which is financed by prudent tax policy that will collect more from top-earners and large corporations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

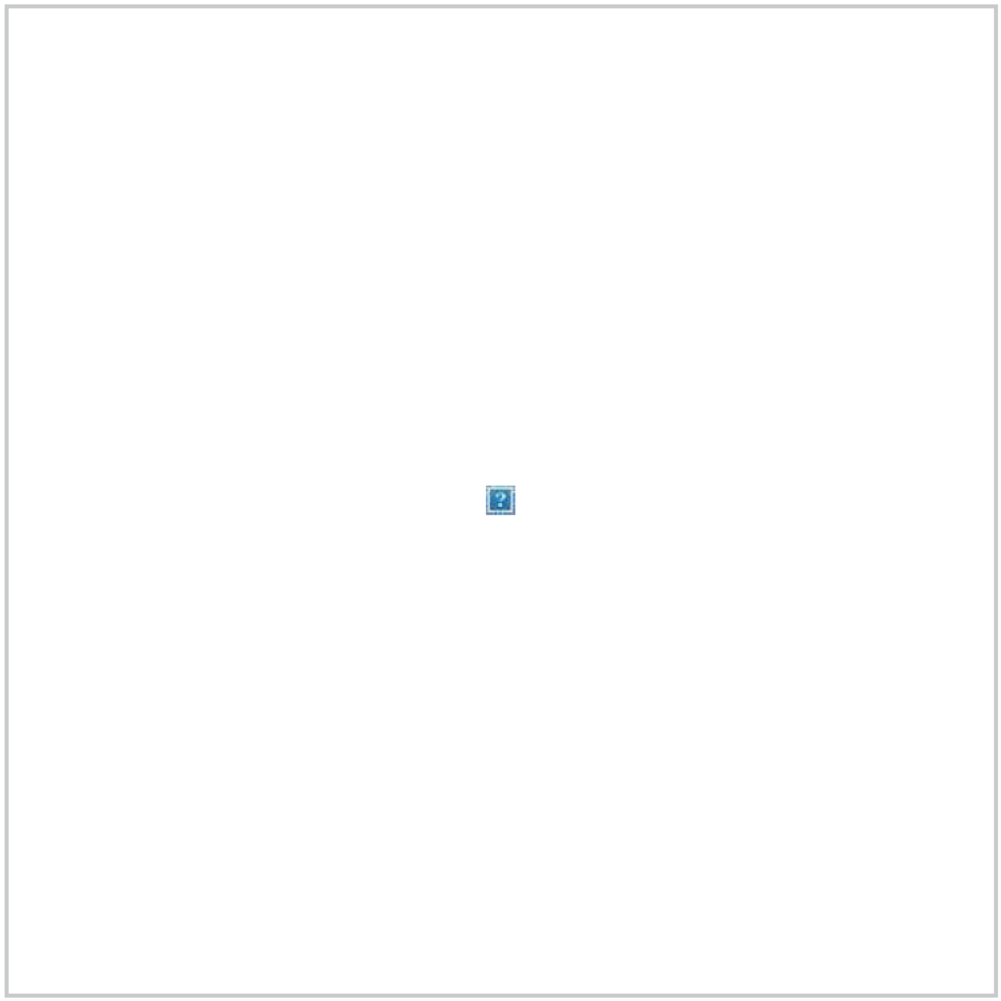
"Taxes due or paid will not increase for any family making less than $400,000/year. And the extra taxes levied on corporations do not reflect increases in the corporate tax rate, but rather the reclaiming of revenue lost to tax avoidance and provisions benefitting the most affluent.

The selective presentation by some of the distributional effects of this bill neglects benefits to middle-class families from reducing deficits, from bringing down prescription drug prices, and from more affordable energy. This legislation will help increase American competitiveness, address our climate crisis, lower costs for families, and fight inflation — and should be passed immediately by Congress."

Statement by President Biden on the July Jobs Report



Today, the unemployment rate matches the lowest it's been in more than 50 years: 3.5%. More people are working than at any point in American history. That's millions of families with the dignity and peace of mind that a paycheck provides. And, it's the result of my economic plan to build the economy from the bottom up and middle out. I ran for president to rebuild the middle class – there's more work to do, but today's jobs report shows we are making significant progress for working families.

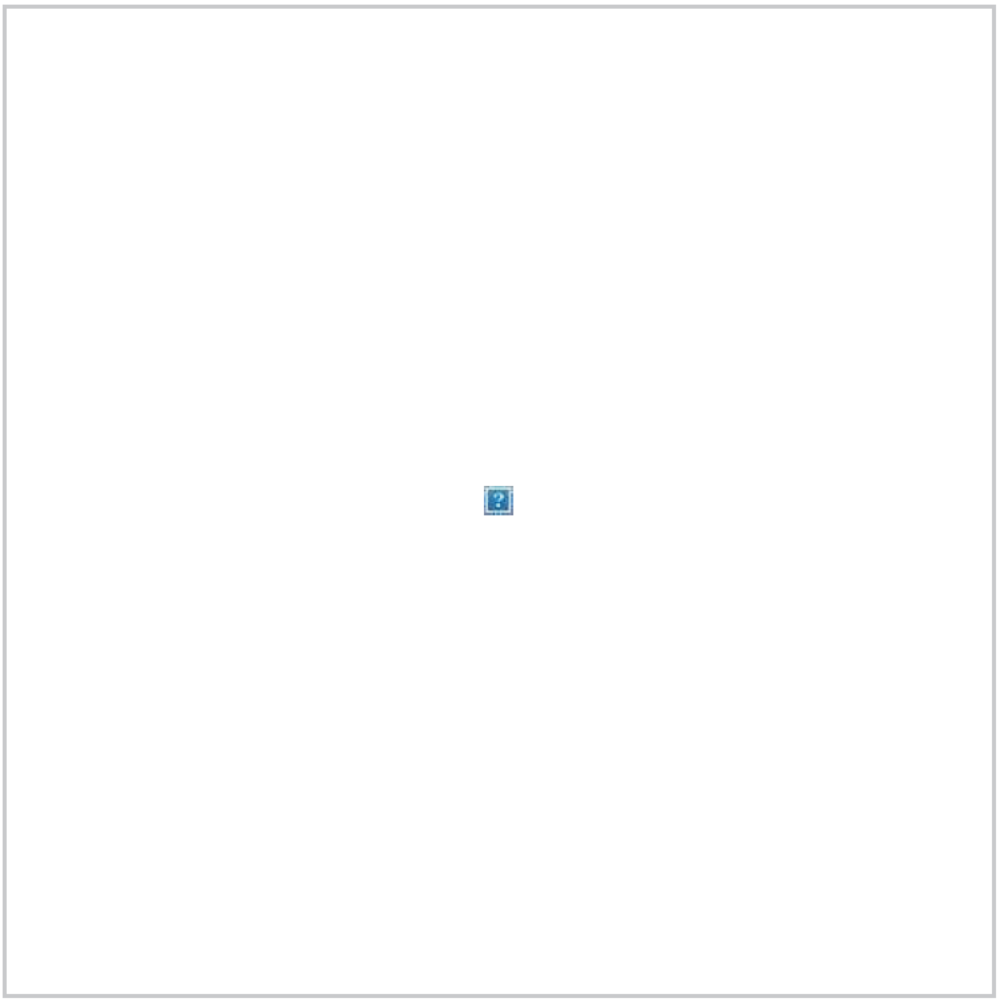
Statement by President Joe Biden on All-Time Low Uninsured Rate



Every American has the right to the peace of mind that comes with access to affordable, quality health care. No one should worry about whether they can pay for their doctor or choose between paying rent and filing a prescription. Today, we are closer than ever to making that principle a reality. The lowest percentage of Americans are uninsured today – eight percent – in history.

This progress did not happen by accident. More than 35 million Americans are enrolled in Affordable Care Act related coverage – the highest total on record. This includes over 21 million people who are enrolled in the ACA's expansion of Medicaid, coverage that is denied to nearly four million Americans who live in states that have refused to expand Medicaid. And, since the beginning of my Administration, 5 million more people have gained health insurance coverage – in significant part because of the improvements to the ACA in the American Rescue Plan.

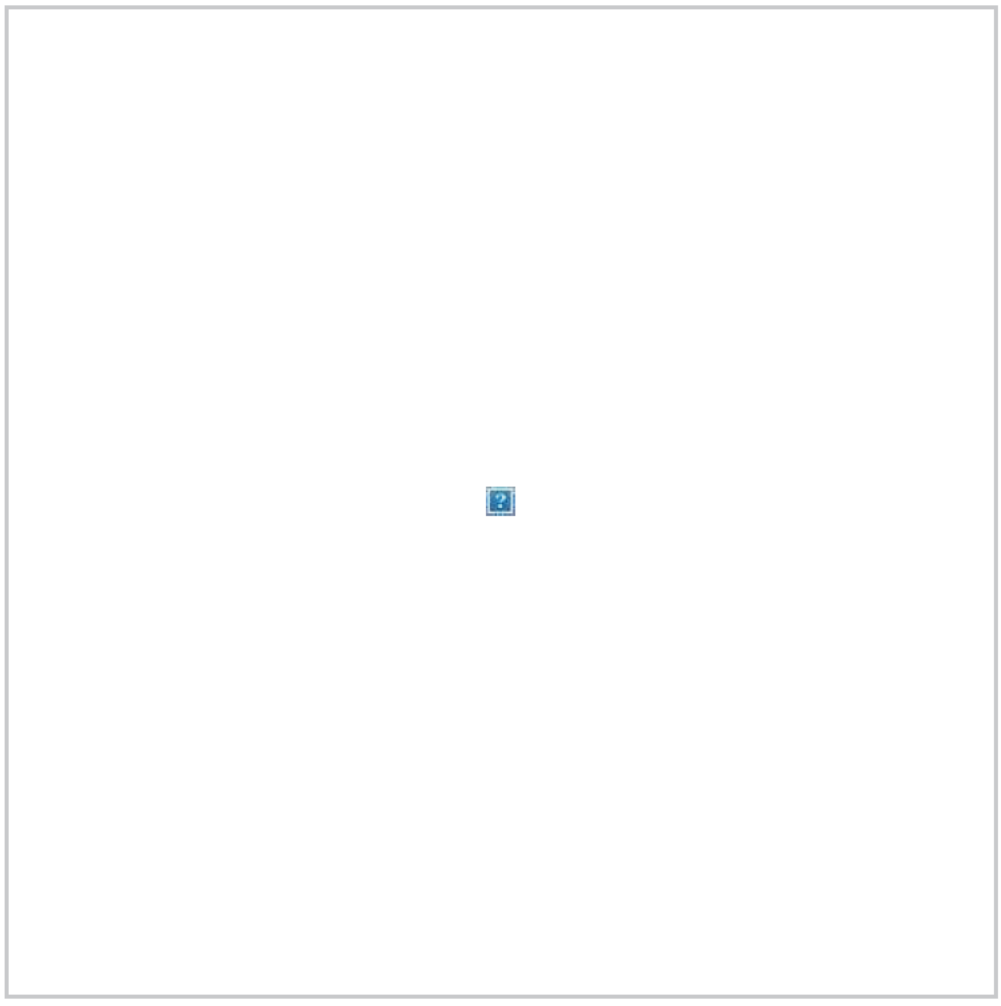
When I ran for office, I said we needed to protect and build on the Affordable Care Act. The Inflation Reduction Act will do just that – it will lock in an average $800 a year savings in health insurance premiums for 13 million Americans and prevent 3 million Americans from becoming uninsured. I urge Congress to pass this legislation swiftly to lower health care costs and make health insurance coverage more accessible for families across the country.



Statement by President Joe Biden on Defeat of Kansas Ballot Measure Threatening Women's Right to Abortion

The Supreme Court's extreme decision to overturn Roe v. Wade put women's health and lives at risk. Tonight, the American people had something to say about it. Voters in Kansas turned out in record numbers to reject extreme efforts to amend the state constitution to take away a woman's right to choose and open the door for a state-wide ban. This vote makes clear what we know: the majority of Americans agree that women should have access to abortion and should have the right to make their own health care decisions.

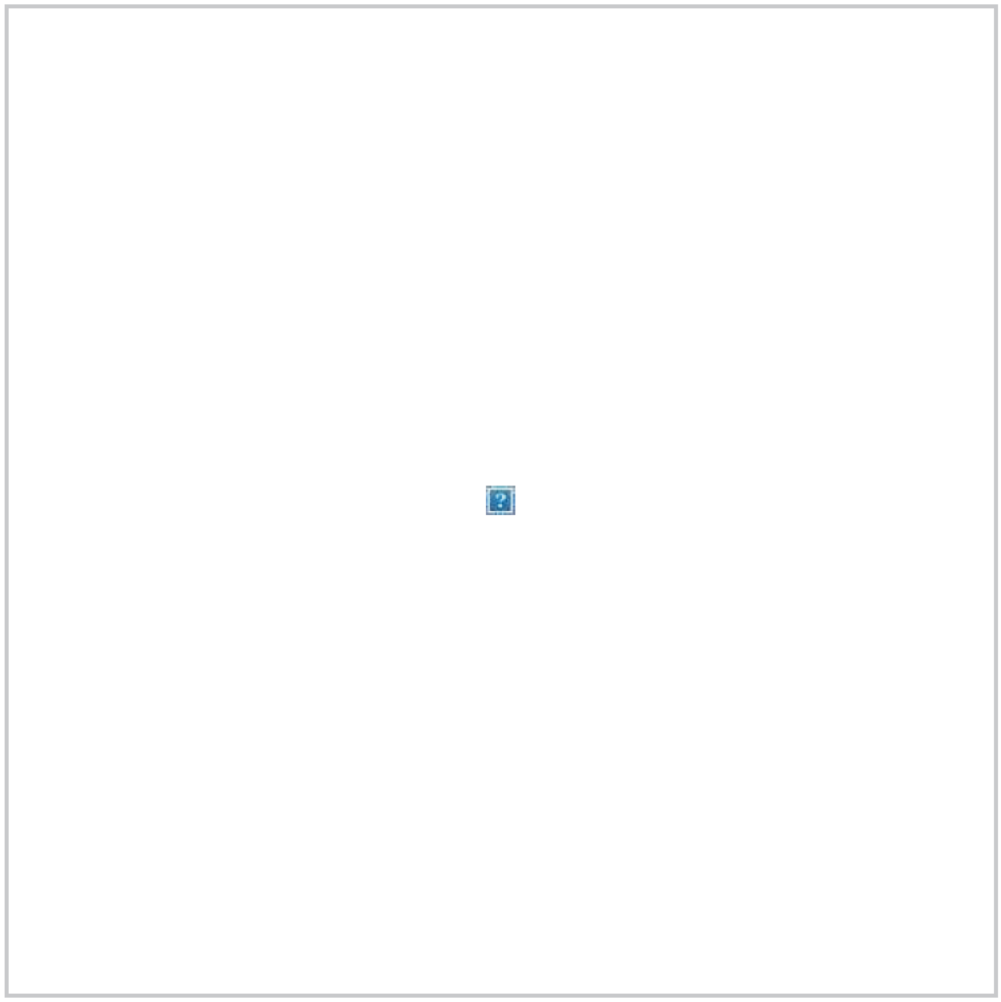
Congress should listen to the will of the American people and restore the protections of Roe as federal law. While that is the only way to secure a woman's right to choose, my Administration will continue to take meaningful action to protect women's access to reproductive health care. We will continue to act where we can to protect women's reproductive rights and access to care. And, the American people must continue to use their voices to protect the right to women's health care, including abortion.



Statement by President Joe Biden on Senate Passage of the Bipartisan PACT Act

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

While we can never fully repay the enormous debt we owe to those who have worn the uniform, today, the United States Congress took important action to meet this sacred obligation. The bipartisan Sergeant First Class Heath Robinson Honoring Our PACT Act of 2022 is the biggest expansion of benefits for service-connected health issues in 30 years and the largest single bill ever to comprehensively address exposure to burn pits.

I called for this legislation in my State of the Union address, as part of my Unity Agenda to help bring together our nation. Congress has delivered a decisive and bipartisan win for America's veterans. I want to thank Chair Tester and Ranking Member Moran as well as Chair Takano and Ranking Member Bost for their tireless work to pass this major reform, and the courageous veterans and advocates whose tenacity and heart ensured this legislation got done.

For the millions of veterans who may have been exposed to harmful toxins, this bill means quicker access to health care services and other benefits. This could be the difference between life and death for many suffering from toxic related illnesses. For the spouse or child of a servicemember who died from toxic exposure, struggling to put their lives back together, this bill will be a lifeline. It means a monthly stipend for a surviving spouse and kids, and access to tuition benefits to help cover the cost of college. It means access to life insurance, home loan assistance, and help with health care. It matters.

I have long said we have a lot of obligations as a nation, but we have only one sacred obligation – to prepare and equip those we send to war and to take care of them and their families when they come home.

I look forward to signing this bill, so that veterans and their families and caregivers impacted by toxic exposures finally get the benefits and comprehensive health care they earned and deserve.

White House Releases Fact Sheets Highlighting President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure Law's Progress Nationwide

This week, the White House released updated fact sheets highlighting how President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure is delivering results for all 50 states, territories, the District of Columbia, and Tribal communities.

Eight months following the passage of the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law, the Biden-Harris Administration has made unprecedented investments in all 50 states and territories to build a better America that delivers for all communities. Since November 2021, President Biden and Vice President Harris have left no community behind in their efforts to rebuild America's infrastructure.

The Bipartisan Infrastructure Law is rebuilding our roads and bridges, replacing lead pipes to provide clean water, providing high-speed internet to every family in America, delivering cheaper and cleaner energy to households and businesses, and creating good-paying jobs. Since signing the law, the Biden-Harris Administration has hit the ground running to make major progress.

Biden-Harris Administration Announces over $1 Billion in Project Selections Make Communities More Resilient to Climate Change and Extreme Weather Events

This week, Vice President Kamala Harris, Homeland Security Secretary Alejandro N. Mayorkas, and FEMA Administrator Deanne Criswell announced the selections for $1.16 billion in climate resilience funding through two competitive grant programs to help communities across the nation enhance climate and disaster resiliency.

The selections include large resilience projects funded by the Building Resilient Infrastructure and Communities (BRIC) national competition and Flood Mitigation Assistance (FMA) community-wide flood mitigation projects. Selections are from Fiscal Year 2021 funding round with $1 billion made available through BRIC and $160 million made available for Flood Mitigation Assistance.

“Climate change poses a very real threat to the safety, security, and prosperity of the United States,” said Homeland Security Secretary Alejandro N. Mayorkas. “Its impacts are being felt in real time and are felt most acutely by the nation’s most vulnerable communities. While we can’t eliminate the threats we face as a nation, we can and must build our resilience against those threats – and that is why we are making this announcement today – because, together, we are building climate resilience.”

Biden-Harris Administration Updates on Monkeypox Efforts

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra announced today that he will declare the ongoing spread of monkeypox virus in the United States a Public Health Emergency (PHE). This action will further strengthen and accelerate the Biden-Harris Administration's response in recognition of the continued rapid transmission of monkeypox in the U.S. and globally, and to signal the seriousness and urgency with which the Administration is responding. The announcement comes on the heels of President Biden appointing Robert Fenton of the Federal Emergency Management Agency as White House National Monkeypox Response Coordinator and Dr. Demetre Daskalakis of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention as White House National Monkeypox Response Deputy Coordinator.

This week, President Biden named FEMA's Robert Fenton as the White House National

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Monkeypox Response Coordinator and Dr. Demetre Daskalakis as the White House National Monkeypox Response Deputy Coordinator. Fenton and Daskalakis will lead the Administration's strategy and operations to combat the current monkeypox outbreak, including equitably increasing the availability of tests, vaccinations and treatments.

Robert Fenton currently serves as Regional Administrator for FEMA Region 9 in the American West, with nearly 50 million people in his area of responsibility. One of the Nation's most experienced and effective emergency management leaders, Robert Fenton has twice served as Acting Administrator of FEMA and led multiple challenging prevention, response and recovery operations throughout his long and distinguished career, including for natural disasters, disease outbreaks, and complex humanitarian operations.

Demetre Daskalakis, a leading public health expert, is currently Director of the CDC Division of HIV Prevention. Widely known as a national expert on health issues affecting the LGBGQIA+ communities, his clinical practice has focused on providing care for the underserved LGBTQIA+ communities. He previously oversaw management of infectious diseases for the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, one of the largest departments in the nation – including in serving as incident commander for the City's COVID-19 response.

Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) Program

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

On October 6, 2021, the U.S. Department of Education announced a change to the Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) program rules for a limited time as a result of the COVID-19 national emergency. Millions of non-profit and government employees have federal student loans and may now be eligible for loan forgiveness or additional credit through the temporary changes, known as the Limited PSLF Waiver. Under normal PSLF rules, borrowers must make 120 payments on a Direct Loan while on a qualifying repayment plan and employed by a qualifying public service employer. Now, for a limited period of time, federal student loan borrowers may receive credit for past periods of repayment that would otherwise not qualify for PSLF. Borrowers can apply for the waiver at www.studentaid.gov/pslfwaiver.

The waiver will run through October 31, 2022. This means some borrowers will need to consolidate and/or submit a PSLF form – the single application used for a review of employment certification, payment counts, and processing of forgiveness – on or before October 31, 2022, to have previously ineligible payments counted. After October 31, 2022, normal PSLF rules will apply.

We encourage you to take action to help elevate the PSLF program amongst government employees.

Subject: Your human rights are being taken away. Help us fight back.

Dear Laura,

Last Friday, the U.S. Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade, ending 50 years of federal abortion rights. We are saddened and angered by this catastrophic judicial failure. The ruling will jeopardize the health and lives of countless Americans and will have a major impact on a range of other reproductive and health services. THIS IS UNACCEPTABLE.

As we fight back, we need your support. We've been on the front lines of the fight for abortion and reproductive care for almost 60 years. We've worked with key partners to shape policies and practices that protect reproductive health for all individuals and families. We've met again and again with members of Congress and federal policymakers to make sure that public health's voice is heard. We've led calls to action and spoken out against injustice. And in September, we used a friend-of-the-court brief to call on the Supreme Court to reject state-level restrictions on abortions, outlining their danger to health. APHA is and will continue to be a force for change on reproductive health. WE WILL NOT BACK DOWN.

We ask you to support us by providing a monthly or one-time gift to strengthen our critical work in support of reproductive health and reproductive justice. We must stand together today to protect women's health, and tomorrow to protect so many fundamental rights that are on the line.

Donate Now!

APHA has been unequivocal in advocating for an individual's right to control decisions about their reproductive health and we will continue to stand in support of the personal freedom and privacy that comprehensive reproductive health care should provide all Americans, not just those living in certain states.

Please keep an eye out over the coming weeks for follow-up emails on resources, social media shareables and other ways you can get involved and make a difference.

Hi Joyce and Emily,

In DHSS's June 29th press release "DHSS responds to concerns about contraception use" it was stated that DHSS was reviewing regulations related to abortion facilities to ensure accordance to state law. We did see the newest one pager "Regulation of Missouri Abortion Facilities FAQs" released today but were unsure if there would be further clarification/regulations forthcoming to provide more insight for health care providers in all settings such as emergency and OB-GYN. We have quite a few medical providers reaching out to various caucus members asking when and if there will further clarification or regulation provided to the public and providers from DHSS.

Please let us know if there will be more information forthcoming and if so what the timeline of that will be.

Thanks for your time and help.

Subject: Further clarification
Date: Wednesday, July 13, 2022 2:28:03 PM

Hi Michael,

In DHSS's June 29th press release "DHSS responds to concerns about contraception use" it was stated that DHSS was reviewing regulations related to abortion facilities to ensure accordance to state law. We did see the newest one pager "Regulation of Missouri Abortion Facilities FAQs" released today but were unsure if there would be further clarification/regulations forthcoming to provide more insight for health care providers in all settings such as emergency and OB-GYN. We have quite a few medical providers reaching out to various caucus members asking when and if there will further clarification or regulation provided to the public and providers from DHSS.

Please let us know if there will be more information forthcoming and if so what the timeline of that will be.

Thanks for your time and help.

Thanks,
Emily
