FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT
SUBSECTIONS OF TITLE 5, UNITED STATES CODE, SECTION 552

Exemptions

Exemption (b)(1): Records that contain information that is classified for national security purposes.

Exemption (b)(2): Records that are related solely to the internal personnel rules and practices of an agency.

Exemption (b)(3): Allows for the withholding of information prohibited from disclosure by another federal statute provided that one of two disjunctive requirements are met: the statute either "(A)(i) requires that the matters be withheld from the public in such a manner as to leave no discretion on the issue, or (A)(ii) establishes particular criteria for withholding or refers to particular types of matters to be withheld."

Exemption (b)(4): Records that contain trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a person that is privileged or confidential.

Exemption (b)(5): Inter- or intra-agency records that are normally privileged in the civil discovery context. The three most frequently invoked privileges are the deliberative process privilege, the attorney work-product privilege, and the attorney-client privilege:

- Deliberative process privilege – Under the deliberative process privilege, disclosure of these records would injure the quality of future agency decisions by discouraging the open and frank policy discussions between subordinates and superiors.
- Attorney work-product privilege – Records prepared by or at the direction of a FinCEN attorney.
- Attorney-client privilege – Records of communications between an attorney and his/her client relating to a matter for which the client has sought legal advice, as well as facts divulged by client to attorney and any opinions given by attorney based on these.

Exemption (b)(6): Records that contain identifying information that applies to a particular individual when the disclosure of such information "would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy." This requires the balancing of the public's right to disclosure against the individual's right to privacy.

Exemption (b)(7)(A): Records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes, but only to the extent that production of such law enforcement records or information...could reasonably be expected to interfere with law enforcement proceedings.

Exemption (b)(7)(C): Records containing law enforcement information when disclosure "could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy" based upon the traditional recognition of strong privacy interests ordinarily appropriated in law enforcement records.

Exemption (b)(7)(E): Records compiled for law enforcement purposes, the release of which would disclose techniques and/or procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law.

On January 12, 2018, CRCL received an email from (b) (6) of the Lutheran Immigration and Refugee Service addressed to (b) (6) regarding family separation of asylum seekers at the border for the purpose of criminal prosecutions. The correspondence includes examples of family separation cases that include due process concern. Specifically separating parents from children so that criminal prosecutions under 1325 or 1326 can occur, impediments to access to legal representation, and verbal abuse including attempts to persuade parents from seeking asylum. LIRS alleges that in each case, there are gaps in information due to the fact that ORR does not access to information from CBP such as the child's I-213, Form 93, and other information about the child's parent. Parents of UAC's who are referred to USMS or ICE custody, often face delayed court dates which makes it difficult for ICE to arrange for reunification prior to the parent's departure. LIRS provides four cases that demonstrate obstacles that impede the children's access to due process and in effect thwart the child's ability to seek legal relief. 1) (b) (6) age 9. Father is (b) (6). Upon apprehension at the border, the parent was referred for criminal prosecution for reentry, separated from his child and transferred to USMS custody due to illegal reentry. LIRS located the father but (b) (6), (b) (7)(F) reprimanded the case manager for trying to give the father legal advice. The case manager tried to add money to the father's account so she continue to contact him but the Officer stated, "We're done now, I'm not doing this." The case manager reported the incident and the Officer is no longer involved in this case. 2) (b) (6) age 3. Father: (b) (6). ORR was not provided access to the I-213, Form 93, and other crucial information there LIRS cannot report the individuals who apprehended or interviewed the father. They were separated due to the father's prior history of illegal entry. It is believed he was transferred to USMS custody then subsequently to ICE custody. He has since been deported back to his country of origin. The case manager had to call the UAC's mother in Guatemala to get information. 3) (b) (6) age 7. Mother: (b) (6). Minor USC: (b) (6) age 3, transferred to AZ CPS custody. They were apprehended near San Luis, AZ border. The mother was transferred to ICE detention despite being an asylum-seeker. The mother was told that she might have to stay in detention for over six months if she pursued an asylum case. She ultimately decided not to pursue a claim because she would face prolonged separation from her children. She was able to reunify with her USC son before he was in CPS custody for over 9- days which would initiate a child welfare proceeding. 4) (b) (6) age 2. Father: (b) (6). According to the SIR, minor reports that she was travelling with her mother. The SIR states that minor was separated from her mother at the time of apprehension. SIR notes a discrepancy regarding identity of minor's mother - minor's NTA lists (b) (6) as minor's mother, but SIR indicates that minor's biological mother is (b) (6). Minor stated that her mother's name is (b) (6), (b) (7)(F), (b) (5). The I-213 narrative does not contain any indication of who, if anyone, was with minor when she was apprehended. As noted in SIR, the I-213 narrative indicates that (b) (6) (note that second surname was given as (b) (6) in SIR) is minor's mother. I-213 lists an address for (b) (6) in Richmond, VA (in two places, I-213 uses abbreviation "VI," but in a third place spells out "Virginia," which is consistent with 804 area code in phone number provided). I-213 does not indicate whether minor was able to contact (b) (6) after being apprehended. I-213 makes no mention of (b) (6) or of any discrepancy regarding minor's parentage. Minor reports fear of persecution or torture if she returns to El Salvador.	CBP	Due Process		Unaccompanied minor	FAMILY SEPARATION	Rio Grande Valley Centralized Processing Center		McAllen	Texas - TX

(b) (6) writes that Tahirih legal staff observed that CBP is engaging in "unlawful coercive conduct . . . toward asylum seekers and others." Specifically, on June 4, 2018, staff observed criminal proceedings before Magistrate Judge (b) (6) at Federal Court in McAllen, Texas. (b) (6) writes that at least half of the individuals present were mothers and fathers whose children DHS had "forcibly taken" pursuant to the zero tolerance policy. The letter continues, "According to several parents, CBPOfficials told them that if they pled guilty to the charge that day, they would be reunited with their children. Many asked whether this was true. One mother repeatedly sought reassurance from our staff that her guilty plea would result in reunification with her child. She was very distraught because her daughter has epilepsy and she had no way of knowing whether she was receiving her seizure medication. Another mother who had never been away from her five year-old daughter explained how the girl was screaming and vomiting as she was taken None of the parents we spoke with knew where their children were or when they would see them. They had not been in contact with them for several days, were given no telephone access, and were not told the name or address of the facility where they might be. . . . A mother seeking asylum was told by CBP that they needed to take her son away for a few minutes to give him a shower. After some time, she asked where he was, and the official said he had been taken away and CBP did not know when she would see him again." 904		Contact-DHS-18-3276	Closed	Contact		Info Layer - No Response necessary	07/12/2018	06/20/2018	06/20/2018	THIS MATTER INVOLVES AN UNACCOMPANIED MINOR/FAMILY SEPARATIONOn June 20, 2018, CRCL received correspondence from (b) (6) age 15, regarding allegations that CBP separated her from her mother and that ICE coerced her mother into signing forms to enable her to speak to her daughter. According to the ORR case manager (CM), the CM was facilitating a phone call between the minor and her mother (b) (6) who is currently being held in ICE custody. (b) (6) asked to speak to the CM, and sounded very upset, and was crying. (b) (6) reported that the ICE officer who coordinated the phone call had forced her to sign a document right before she spoke to the minor. CM asked (b) (6) to clarify if this was Officer (b) (6) and she stated that it was. As per FFS guidance, CM had sent an amended document to the ICE officer, Officer (b) (6), that morning for (b) (6) to sign. This document that was provided stated that the previous repatriation form (signed by (b) (6) on 6/8/18) should no longer apply; the document indicated that (b) (6) wants the minor to be reunified with the sponsor/ aunt. CM also included a Letter of Designation for the mother to sign. The CM asked the ICE Officer via email if he would be able to give these documents to the UC's mother to sign, and Officer (b) (6) stated that he would have the UC's mother sign them. However, (b) (6) reported to the CM that she was not given this option by the ICE officer, and instead the ICE officer reportedly her, "You can't just change your mind! You signed the original repatriation form already, requesting to have your daughter deported! Now you HAVE to write that you want your daughter deported!" (b) (6) reported to the CM that for this reason, she felt pressured into doing what she was told by the ICE officer, and writing that she wanted her daughter deported, on the bottom of the amended document that the CM had provided. She explained that she felt intimidated by the ICE officer, and was under the impression that if she did not sign and do exactly as she was told, he would not allow her to speak to her daughter. After the mother signed the document as she had been instructed to do, the mother reported that she told the ICE officer, "I do not want my daughter, (b) (6) to be deported--she and I both talked last week, and we both want for her to go live with her aunt!" The mother reportedly also told the ICE officer that her daughter's case manager (b) (6) had been in contact with her, and was helping them to reunify (b) (6) with her aunt/sponsor. The mother informed CM that the ICE officer had become irate with her, allegedly yelling, "You are nothing but a dirty criminal, a dog. You and your daughter are both going to be deported back to "your country"" (emphasized with contempt). The mother stated that at this moment, she felt very scared and intimidated, and was upset by what she had been told by this Officer. The mother also reported that the Officer allegedly told her that her daughter had no other option but to be deported along with her, and would not from HHS regarding Unaccompanied Child (UAC). The article reports that Central American men who CBP separated from their children and who are in ICE detention in the IAH Polk County Secure Adult Detention Center have been told that they will be reunited with their children if they agree to sign a voluntary departure order. According to the article, a 24-year-old detainee said that he "abandoned his asylum case and agreed to sign voluntary deportation paperwork Friday out of 'desperation' to see his 6-year-old daughter, who was separated from him after the pair illegally crossed the border in late May." The detainee said that he was told that he would not be deported without his daughter. The article reports that migrants detained at the Livingston facility have reported that they were told the same information. ICE said that it could not respond or research "vague allegations." The article reports that attorneys think that it's unlikely that the government will be able to honor these agreements; many immigrant parents have been placed in removal proceedings and some have already been deported without their children. The article reports that immigrant children, as young as three years old, are being ordered into court for their own deportation proceedings. The article quotes an attorney, Ms. (b) (6) who said, "parents typically have been tried along with young children and have explained the often-violent circumstances that led them to seek asylum in the U.S. . . . The parent might be the only one who knows why they fled from the homecountry, and the child is in a disadvantageous position to defend themselves." The article quoted child development and psychology experts who have grave reservations about the practice: "Given the trauma the children faced in their home country that spurred their families to flee and the pain of being separated from a parent, the expectation that children can mount a legal defense is "unconscionable," said Dr. (b) (6), director of the division of developmental-behavioral pediatrics at New York University School of Medicine. "It's certainly grossly inappropriate," said (b) (6), who is a member of the American Academy of Pediatrics advocacy committee. "I'm ashamed that we're doing this." Leaders at three legal services organizations and a private firm confirmed that the children are being served with notices to appear in court. They are not entitled to an attorney but rather are given a list of legal services organizations that might help them."	ICE	Due Process		Unaccompanied minor	FAMILY SEPARATION	Courthouse

"We were representing a 3-year-old in court recently who had been separated from the parents. And the child -- in the middle of the hearing -- started climbing up on the table," said (b) (6) of Immigrant Defenders Law Center in Los Angeles. "It really highlighted the absurdity of what we're doing with these kids." Although unaccompanied minors have typically been tried on their own, Trump's 'zero tolerance policy' has meant that young children who were separated from their parents are put in this predicament. In prior administrations, only minors who were crossing the border unaccompanied, who were never so young, were tried without their parents. Children are often not aware of the reason why they were coming to the United States, or if they were seeking asylum, and this harms their defense. It increases the possibility that this child will be deported and also makes it more difficult for the child to be reunited with their parents."https://www.texastribune.org/2018/06/27/immigrant-toddlers-ordered-appear-court-alone/amp/CRCL already processed the incoming article as Contact-DHS-18-3386	CBP,DHS	Due Process		Unaccompanied minor	FAMILY SEPARATION	Courthouse

According to the article, "[t]he building is not licensed by Arizona to hold children, and the contractor, MVM Inc., has claimed publicly that it does not operate 'shelters or any other type of housing' for children." However, a neighbor took video showing "workers pulling up in white vans and leading dazed children into the building." A spokesman for the contractor stated the building "is not a shelter or a child care facility. ... It's a temporary holding place" for childrenbeing flown out of the Phoenix airport to other locations." The article reports that on June 22, 2018, neighbors observed "five unmarked white vans that hold about 12 passengers each pull up to take children away." On August 7, 2018 CRCL received an email correspondence from (b) (6) of the Young Center for Immigrant Children's Rights on behalf of minor (b) (6) age 3. (b) (6) says that the minor, her mother, (b) (6) and her two older sisters with U.S. citizenship status entered the U.S. on or about May 12, 2018. The sisters with U.S. citizenship (b) (6) age 17 and (b) (6) currently reside in Porterville, California with the one of their older brothers (b) (6) age 19). The minor has been separated from her mother for over 80 days. (b) (6) requests the immediate reunification of the minor and her mother. (b) (6) recommends that as long as the minor and her mother are separated, ORR and ICE should ensure regular visitation and daily communication between the minor and her mother. (b) (6) states the minor was not separated from her mother due to risk of abuse or neglect, and therefore there is no reason for the continued separation. (b) (6) also states that "in the weeks following their separation, (the minor) was inconsolable after (phone calls with her mother) and when she talks to her mother now she asks her mother to come get her and take her home." The HHS Child Advocate Recommendation and Appointment Form states there is no potential sponsor for the minor, as the sponsor indicated by the mother has been unresponsive. In the letter, the advocates urge the reunification of (b) (6) age 2, and his mother, (b) (6). The letter states that ICE separated two-year-old (b) (6) from his mother at a moment of intense vulnerability, after they were apprehended and placed in an ICE holding cell. (b) (6) has never before been separated from his mother, who is distraught over the separation from (b) (6) and her five-monthold U.S. Citizen daughter, who, currently, is in the care of a family friend, (b) (6), in Texas. The letter states that (b) (6) well-being is declining; he is showing signs of distress, is irritable, cries, and shows signs of separation anxiety when he leaves his case manager and clinician's offices. Just last week, he was taken to an urgent care facility because he broke out in hives all over his body. Emotional stress is a potential cause of hives on the skin. The letter states that the advocates have determined that it is in (b) (6) best interests to be immediately reunified with his mother. They alleged that while in ICE custody they were not given the opportunity to say goodbye to their mother, and weren't notified that they would be separated. An employee at the facility with the initials IN allegedly told the siblings "you are never going to see your mother again." They also report witnessing other abuses in ICE custody, such as employees grabbing children and kicking them in the torso to wake them up or get their attention. (b) (6) alleged that CBP officers told her if she didn't sign deportation papers she would never see her daughter again. After refusing, her daughter was separated and she was transferred to the Port Isabel Detention Center. She was eventually reunified with her daughter during the court-ordered process. 2. (b) (6) alleged that she was separated from her two children by CBP, and a CBP officer told her it was because she was "punished for coming here." In ICE custody at Eloy, an officer forced her to sign a form, refusing her repeated requests for information on what it was. She was eventually reunified with her children during the court-ordered process. 3. (b) (6) was given for (b) (6) in the complaint, but appears to be incorrect. 3. (b) (6) alleged that she was separated from her child by CBP, and when CBP officers took her to court he told her, "You are going to be deported and your son is going to be placed for adoption." While she was in detention at South Texas, her son underwent emergency surgery, but she was never informed about the procedure or asked to give her consent. She was eventually reunified with her son during the court-ordered process. 4. (b) (6) alleged that CBP told her she would go to prison and be separated from her daughter, even though they presented themselves at the San Luis port of entry. She informed CBP that her daughter had recently had heart surgery and couldn't handle stress, but they separated them anyway. At Irwin she became so frustrated with ICE officers refusing to give her information, that she contemplated suicide. She and her daughter were eventually released. 5. (b) (6) was separated from her son by CBP, and was told by CBP officers that she would never see her son again. ICE officers at Eloy gave her a form with her son's name on it, and wouldn't tell her what the form was. She signed it because she thought it would help reunify them. She and her son were eventually released. 6. (b) (6) alleged that after CBP separated her from her child, she was held in CBP detention for eight days in terrible conditions before being transferred to La Salle where she endured verbal attacks by ICE officers. She and her son were reunited at South Texas Family Center. 7. (b) (6) alleged that he was separated from his son by CBP, and was then transferred to Stewart, where the guards were very aggressive towards detainees. He alleged that an ICE officer forced him to sign a form without explanation. After 100 days in custody, he still has not received his credible fear interview. 8. 1033	18-12-DHS-0733	Contact-DHS-18-4129	Open	Complaint		Assign Complaint		09/13/2018	09/13/2018	On September 13, 2017, the New Yorker published an article entitled "The Case for Reuniting "Ineligible" Families Separated at the Border." The article states that when federal judge [REDACTED] ordered family reunification for the more than 2,500 migrant children who had been forcibly separated from their parents at the border, he granted the government some discretion. If parents were deemed "unfit," either by the Department of Health and Human Services or ICE, then the government could skip over them as it moved to meet a series of deadlines to comply with the court order. The article alleges that a month and a half after the last of those deadlines has passed, more than 400 children remain separated from their parents; that 300 parents have already been removed without their children; and that dozens of others have been barred from seeing their children because of "red flags," involving some form of criminal activity. The article gives an example of an ICE detainee from El Salvador separated from her three year old son. ICE has accused her of being involved with "terrorist organizations" in El Salvador an allusion to the country's notorious street gangs, an accusation which she denies. She claims to be the victim of gangs, not a member. The article also notes the declining health of both the woman and her son while in detention. (b) (6) alleged that CBP told her she would go to prison and be separated from her daughter, even though they presented themselves at the San Luis port of entry. She informed CBP that her daughter had recently had heart surgery and couldn't handle stress, but they separated them anyway. At Irwin she became so frustrated with ICE officers refusing to give her information, that she contemplated suicide. She and her daughter were eventually released. (b) (6) alleges that CBP detained him and his two-year-old daughter (b) (6) on or about July 5, 2019, near McAllen, Texas. (b) (6) is a native Mam speaker who has only a very limited understanding of Spanish. (b) (6) alleges that he presented a birth certificate demonstrating that he is his daughter's father, but the officer, who processed him and spoke to him only in Spanish, was "leading him to recant his statement that he was the father." (b) (6) alleges that "no Mam interpreter was provided for [him] during his communication Due to this confusion and language barrier, the official accused (b) (6) of lying about his relationship to his daughter and used the confusion to justify separation between the father and daughter." (b) (6) and (b) (6) write that they learned of (b) (6) situation and notified DHS and ORR of the "unlawful family separation" on July 13, 2018. (b) (6) writes that "on or about July 20, CBP official (b) (6) responded via letter to our notification stating that DHS was going to undertake DNA testing to confirm parentage." According to the correspondence, Texas Civil Rights Project negotiated the testing and requested "that (b) (6) be provided a Mam interpreter to provide informed consent . . ." According to the Young Center representative, Yuma agents wrongfully separated the UAC from his father, (b) (6) because the child's birth certificate did not contain the father's name, even though the UAC, as well as his mother and grandparents, verified that (b) (6) was the biological father. The Young Center then demanded that "ICE and ORR" conduct a DNA test. The father's I-213 information said nothing about being apprehended with a child or of a claimed parental relationship. Nor did the record contain any identifying information for the child. The child's I-213 states (b) (6) is a 9 year old juvenile who is unaccompanied" and the Narrative described that the child was encountered with "his brother." There is no indication in either I-213 that a parental claim was made or that the family was separated. The article reports that on July 15, 2018, ORR transported 37 migrant children who had been separated from their parents to the Port Isabel Detention Center at Los Fresnos. The article reports that ICE was not prepared to accept the children or facilitate their reunification with their parents, as a result of which the children were held in vans for up to 39 hours. Most children spent approximately 23 hours in the vehicles. The article reports that at 10:30 pm on July 15, 2018, eight hours after the children had arrived at Port Isabel, a BCFS regional director wrote an email to the ORR contractor company's CEO and president says that 37 children were waiting and not one had yet been processed for reunification. The article reported that "[d]espite notifications from HHS that children would be arriving, ICE officers kept to their regular schedule, clocking out for the day while the parking lot filled with children . . . The articles report on the deteriorating conditions in which CBP is detaining minors at the Clint Border Patrol Station and the Centralized Processing Center in McAllen, Texas, referred to as Ursula. The articles reports that attorneys and physicians who visited the facilities as monitors for the Flores settlement witnessed minors sleeping on the concrete floor with the lights on constantly; the minors had no access to soaps, basic hygiene, and inadequate access to medical care, basic sanitation, water or adequate food. A physician, (b) (5) states that the conditions in which CBP was detaining infants was particularly appalling: teenage mothers could not wash their children's bottle and CBP failed to provide children older than six months with age-appropriate food options, including pureed food. 1155	20-01-DHS-0071	Contact-DHS-20-0168	Open	Complaint		Assign Complaint		10/29/2019	10/29/2019	On August 23, 2018, CRCL reviewed information regarding 14 parents who were separated from their children while in DHS custody, including claims of coercion, verbal abuse, being forced to sign documents, disregard for child health conditions, and language access issues. 1 (b) (5) alleged that CBP officers told her if she didn't sign deportation papers she would never see her daughter again. After refusing, her daughter was separated and she was transferred to the Port Isabel Detention Center. She was eventually reunified with her daughter during the court-ordered process.2 (b) (5) alleged that she was separated from her two children by CBP, and a CBP officer told her it was because she was "punished for coming here." In ICE custody at Eloy, an officer forced her to sign a form, refusing her repeated requests for information on what it was. She was eventually reunified with her children during the court-ordered process. (b) (5) was given for (b) (5) in the complaint, but appears to be incorrect).3 (b) (5) alleged that she was separated from her child by CBP, and when CBP officers took her to court he told her, "You are going to be deported and your son is going to be placed for adoption." While she was in detention at South Texas, her son underwent emergency surgery, but she was never informed about the procedure or asked to give her consent. She was eventually reunified with her son during the court-ordered process.4 (b) (5) alleged that CBP told her she would go to prison and be separated from her daughter, even though they presented themselves at the San Luis port of entry. She informed CBP that her daughter had recently had heart surgery and couldn't handle stress, but they separated them anyway. At Irwin she became so frustrated with ICE officers refusing to give her information, that she contemplated suicide. She and her daughter were eventually released. 5 (b) (5) was separated from her son by CBP, and was told by CBP officers that she would never see her son again. ICE officers at Eloy gave her a form with her son's name on it, and wouldn't tell her what the form was. She signed it because she thought it would help reunify them. She and her son were eventually released. 6 (b) (5) alleged that after CBP separated her from her child, she was held in CBP detention for eight days in terrible conditions before being transferred to La Salle where she endured verbal attacks by ICE officers. She and her son were reunited at South Texas Family Center. 7 (b) (5) alleged that he was separated from his son by CBP, and was then transferred to Stewart, where the guards were very aggressive towards detainees. He alleged that an ICE officer forced him to sign a form without explanation. After 100 days in custody, he still has not received his credible fear interview.8 (b) (5) alleged that CBP officers were verbally abusive, telling that immigrants came to "live off of their tax money." UAC alleges that on or about February 22, 2019, he was apprehended and then separated from his extended family and placed in a holding cell for eight days. UAC alleges that he was then transferred to an adult detention center and when trying to inform officers that he was a minor, he was called a liar. UAC was allegedly held there for 11 days before he was transferred to another adult detention center in Sibola, New Mexico where he was detained for another 22 days. It was at this facility where UAC was allegedly allowed to make a three-minute phone call to his mother who subsequently contacted the Guatemalan consulate. According to the correspondence, ORR appointed the Young Center to serve as the infant's Child Advocate pursuant to the Wilberforce Trafficking Victims Prot. Reauth. Act. The Young Center believes the amount of time the infant has been in custody is not in the child's best interests recommends that the infant be repatriated with his father in Guatemala. According to the correspondence, on April 29, 2019, the minor was brought to the US by his mother, (b) (6) with the permission of his father, (b) (6). Per the correspondence, upon apprehension, the infant was separated from his mother as she was referred for prosecution, and the infant was transferred to ORR custody on May 2, 2019. Per the correspondence, on September 18, 2019, the infant's mother was convicted and sentenced to one year and a day in federal custody, and on that day, she made she requested that her son be returned to the care of his father in Guatemala. The infant's father reportedly also expressed his desire that his son be immediately returned to his care. According to the correspondence, the infant has been in ORR custody for approximately six months and repatriation has been requested since September 18. Reportedly, on September 19, 2019, the Young Center submitted a best interests recommendation which was forwarded to ICE Supervisory Detention and Deportation Officer Non-Detained/Field Office Juvenile Coordinator Program (FOJC) with a request to cancel the infant's Notice to Appear (NTA). According to the correspondence, the NTA was not cancelled, but rather was forwarded to the Office of Chief Counsel (OCC) on September 20, 2019 "for legal sufficiency review/for filing with EOIR." Further, per the correspondence, after significant advocacy efforts, the FOJC requested that OCC retrieve the file from EOIR due to extenuating circumstances and for purposes of reunifying the child with his father - the file was then pulled from the Court. However, reportedly ICE's Juvenile and Family Residential Management Unit (JFRMU) intervened to demand that the infant's case be brought before the immigration court - JFRMU stated that ICE will not repatriate any more children without a court order (b) (6), (b) (7)(E)	CBP	Due Process		Unaccompanied minor	FAMILY SEPARATION	El Paso POE		El Paso	Texas - TX

This memorandum discusses the outcome of the investigation conducted by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS), Office for Civil Rights and Civil Liberties (CRCL), into allegations that U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) and U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) violated the civil rights or civil liberties of family members who were separated after crossing the U.S. border, based on inadequate or outdated policies and procedures, and with inadequate training, oversight, and documentation. On June 12, 2018, CRCL provided CBP and ICE with a draft Findings and Recommendations Memorandum (Memorandum) that discussed our findings and made two detailed recommendations. The recommendations addressed problems found with policy and procedure, documentation, oversight and information sharing.

On August 13, 2018, CBP responded to the recommendations by providing edits and comments in the CRCL Memorandum. On August 29, 2018, and March 29, 2019, ICE responded to the Memorandum in the same manner. CRCL subsequently met with both CBP and ICE to discuss the findings and recommendations. The CBP meeting was held with management staff from the CBP Office of Field Operations (OFO) and U.S. Border Patrol (USBP), and the meeting with ICE was with the ICE Juvenile and Family Residential Management Unit (JFRMU) leadership. Both Components expressed frustration with the findings, asserting that the Attorney General's Zero-Tolerance policy,¹ Executive Orders,² the Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2008,³ the Flores Settlement Agreement,⁴ and court filings all impacted their immigration responsibilities and actions, further complicating and sometimes overriding, but not diminishing their responsibilities toward policy and procedure requirements. The Components also stressed that new policies and procedures were developed prior to the Executive Order and afterward, which address some CRCL findings. CRCL notes however that CRCL was not made aware of any changes prior to development of the Memorandum and, therefore, the Memorandum did not recognize them. CBP and ICE both suggested that CRCL should issue a new document to reflect the new policies and procedures.

CRCL agrees that many changes were occurring and have occurred since the investigation, regarding the policies and procedures regulating family separation within DHS as a whole, and within CBP and ICE. These changes, in particular those made during the spring of 2018, render some discussion areas in the Memorandum outdated. However, CRCL does not believe that the recommendations made in the Memorandum are moot or obsolete. In fact, CRCL has continued to receive allegations claiming wrongful family separation since family separations related to Zero Tolerance officially ended on June 21, 2018 (a total of 267). CRCL has reviewed the CBP and ICE arrest and detention records for many of those new separations, and believes the Memorandum's recommendations are still relevant and critically important.⁵

² On June 20, 2018, President Trump signed Executive Order 13841. See 83 Fed. Reg. 29435 (2018) (the "Executive Order"), ending family separation, stating, "It is the policy of this Administration to rigorously enforce our immigration laws ... It is also the policy of this Administration to maintain family unity, including by detaining alien families together where appropriate and consistent with law and available resources." (s. 1)

⁴ Flores v. Reno (the "Flores Settlement"). See, e.g., Flores v. Reno, 681 F. Supp. 665 (C.D. Cal. 1997).

⁵ CBP informed CRCL, and ICE confirmed, that CBPs I-213 encounter information automatically populates in the EARM Encounter record. If, as CBP stated in its responses to CRCL, information is not being transferred from CBP's systems to ICE's EARM system, this is problematic since separations are generally initiated by CBP and, without the

The CRCL reviews make relevant the CRCL recommendations, which are broad in nature and address areas related to implementation of policies and procedures and documentation, which, based on our investigation and reviews of current allegations, still remain problematic. Therefore, this revised Memorandum does not re-evaluate the components' policies and procedures, or lack thereof, rather it contains only CRCL's revised Recommendations.

⁶ On June 25, 2019, CRCL Officer Cameron Quinn sent an email to CBP, ICE, and HHS leadership following up on testimony from Acting Secretary McAleenan to the Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee suggesting that CRCL review DHS and HHS procedures related to family separation. Officer Quinn requested the establishment of a high-level working group to begin the process. This effort is currently underway and tracks Recommendation #1 in this memorandum. CRCL expects the first meeting to occur in July 2019.

2. Process Improvements

- a. OFO and USBP officers and agents should ensure that family separation decisions, the reasons underlying decision, and the separation processes are relayed to the family members in a language they understand, and allow, when appropriate, the family members to communicate before physical transfer to ICE or ORR custody occurs. These actions should be recorded in the component's electronic record system.⁷
- b. OFO and USBP should ensure that the family information sections within their electronic systems (SIGMA, e3DM, or any newly developed system) require officers and agents to input complete and detailed family information into the I-213, including:
 - Accurate spelling of each separated family member's name, date of birth, and A-number.⁸
 - Detailed articulation of the reasons for the family separation, which should include the identity of the OFO or USBP supervisor, Chief, or Watch Commander who reviewed and approved the separation.
 - (b)(5)
 - The name and location of placement facilities for each family member (when known) to include transfers between CBP facilities.

⁸ If the subject does not have any documents, CBP may confirm with the subject about the spelling of their name.

3. (b)(5)

It is CRCL's statutory role to advise Department leadership and personnel about civil rights and civil liberties issues, ensuring respect for civil rights and civil liberties in policy decisions, and implementation of those decisions. These recommendations are issued pursuant to that role; we believe they can assist in making CBP and ICE the best agencies possible. We appreciate the work that has already been done by CBP and ICE to address family separation, but more needs to be done to ensure clarity, consistency, and accurate recordkeeping. We look forward to working with you to develop the Joint Operations Guide. If you have any questions, please contact the Director of the Compliance Branch, Dana Salvano-Dunn, at (b)(6) or (b)(6).
