(I) A map indicating the locations where units so deployed are conducting their assigned mission and an explanation for the choice of such locations.

…what possible legitimate purpose is served by demanding that he Department of Defense (DOD) provide Congress with the address of the hotels in which soldiers deployed to the border to assist CBP are staying? To make sure that the breakfast bar has a waffle maker? That the bathrooms have sufficient soap and towels?

…Now, think about the harm that could come from the disclosure of such information. Imagine what would happen if it became public that the Holiday Inn in Yuma houses troops who are supporting CBP? (NB: I have no reason to believe that they do, or even if there is a Holiday Inn in Yuma.) How many sanctimonious trolls would call for a "boycott of Holiday Inn" because they are supporting the detention of "asylum seekers", and how long would it be able to oppose such efforts before tired soldiers got turned out into the streets? Worse, can you imagine what Antifa would do with this information? Protests at these locations are the baseline.

Further, what legitimate purpose is served by providing Congress with "[a] map indicating the location where units are so deployed?" The best explanation is to allow members to second guess that troops should be set up at mile marker 175 instead of mile marker 282. That said, members seem to have forgotten that there was an attack on the U.S. consulate in Benghazi seven years ago in which our ambassador was killed by terrorists. Do you really think that they have the ability to make tactical considerations about deployments along a 1,954-mile border?

Worst case scenario: This information becomes public knowledge and the information is used by drug cartels as intelligence to direct their operations. In fact, this is the most likely outcome. You do not become the head of a "multi-billion dollar, multi-national criminal enterprise" without a sophisticated intelligence operation. In this instance, your source for intelligence is not Aldrich Ames or Bob Hanssen, it would be the Congress of the United States.

But wait, you say — that cannot possibly happen. Except for the fact that paragraph 1059(f)(2) of NDAA 2016, as amended by section 1044 of NDAA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2020, would provide:

Each report submitted under this subsection shall be submitted in unclassified form and without any designation relating to dissemination control*, but may include a classified annex. [Emphasis added.]*

Good luck with keeping this information under wraps. Congress plainly wants this information to be in the public sphere.

…Fortunately, there is no similar language in S. 1215, the companion NDAA 2020 in the Senate. That said, there is no guarantee that similar language will not sneak in during conference. House Democrats really want it, obviously. It is up to the Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Sen. James Inhofe (R-Okla.), to make sure that does not occur.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, October 28, 2019 11:18 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 10/28/19

What's Happening at the Center

The Center for Immigration Studies hosted a National Press Club panel discussion on employer discrimination against native-born workers. The conversation centered on the release of a report examining real-world case studies in which the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) has sued employers for systematically favoring low-skill immigrants, in some cases that include abusive actions towards native workers. Peter Kirsanow, member of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights; and Kevin Lynn, executive director of Progressives for Immigration Reform; joined Dr. Jason Richwine to discuss the findings.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The report, as well as the video and transcript of the event, is available here.

Featured Posts

Another Reprehensible Instance of Local Police Punishing Officers for Doing Their Jobs

By Dan Cadman

Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) agents engaged in street arrests in the city of Chicago recently felt compelled to call 9-1-1 and ask for police assistance in the course of two of their operations. We now have it on good authority that the police department is contemplating disciplinary action against the officers who responded to the emergency calls. The Chicago police hierarchy is going out of its way to take action against officers who responded to a call to safeguard the public.

New Emigration (from the U.S.) Measure Shows Japan Is Favored, Iran Is not

By David North

International migration is a two-way street. We at CIS tend to spend much more time writing about the arrivals of migrants, rather than their departures. And we are much more likely to deal with non-voluntary departures (deportations) than the voluntary ones. There is one steady stream of voluntary departures that could be subject, to an extent, to public policy.I am referring to the overseas flow of America's Social Security benefit payments.

DOJ Proposes Rule to Collect DNA from Illegal Migrants Who Are Now Exempted

By Andrew R. Arthur

The Department of Justice (DOJ) is proposing to amend a regulation (implementing a federal

Overturned Migrant Boat on the Mexican Coast: Bigger Picture Takeaways

By Todd Bensman

In an era when photos of migrant tragedies become emblematic and seize the world by the heart strings statute) that exempts the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) from collecting DNA samples from certain immigration detainees. This amendment would apply primarily to aliens who are detained after entering the United States illegally or without proper documents, whose DNA is not now routinely collected. If enacted, it will better enable the government to identify aliens seeking entry who have a criminal record, or are suspects in crimes.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

comes a boat-capsizing off southern Mexico's Pacific coast. Local news photos show two dead Cameroonian migrants washed up on the sand after a lamentable mishap. There is strong anecdotal evidence, as I have reported here at CIS, that thousands more Africans than usual this year saw all of this going on with the Central Americans and, on that primary basis, decided to launch their own long journeys to illegally breach and exploit the American border loopholes at this moment of weakness.

More Blog Posts

- Grab a Cab - Don't Call H-1B - Users Uber and Lyft
- SCOTUS to Review Appeals of Credible-Fear Denials
- An Excellent Report on the Illusory and Easily Politicized Nature of Border Security Metrics
- Indian Job Shop Infosys Get Another Black Eye as Share Price Drops
- California Rubs Salt into Wounds Caused bu Illegal Aliens on Campus
- Setting the Record Straight for Beto O'Rourke
- USCIS Plays New Tunes, but the Volume Does Not Change Much
- The Least-Known Battleground in Trump's War on Illegal Immigration
- How Far Will Democrats Go to Limit Immigration Enforcement?
- Mexico Charters Jet to Deport Punjabis back to India

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, October 28, 2019 4:12 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 10/28/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 10/28/19

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

1. 10/29, DC - Discussion on Latin American responses to the Venezuelan and Nicaraguan migration crises - [New Listing]
2. 10/29, DC - House hearing on the impact of immigration policies on service members and veterans - [New Listing]
3. 10/29, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on the methodology of immigration law
4. 10/29, Cambridge, MA - Seminar on our hidden borders
5. 10/30, DC - House hearing on global terrorism and threats to the homeland
6. 10/30-11/1, Monterey, CA - CIS at conference on homeland defense/security education - [New Listing]
7. 11/4, DC - Book panel: Open Borders: The Science and Ethics of Immigration
8. 11/4, Cambridge, MA - Discussion on America's immigration dilemma
9. 11/4-6, Miami - Conference on Building a cooperative maritime response to illicit flows across the Atlantic
10. 11/5, DC - Conference on human trafficking policy - [New Listing]
11. 11/6, DC - Conference on current challenges in refugee policy - [New Listing]
12. 11/7, Tougaloo, MS - House field hearing on the impact of immigration raids on communities in Mississippi
13. 11/14, San Diego - Book panel: Migration Control
14. 11/19, DC, - Conference on migrant health in crises - [New Listing]
15. 11/19, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on moralized political messages and attitudes toward immigrants
16. 11/20-22, DC - 2019 Homeland Security Week conference
17. 11/20-24, Vancouver, BC - Immigration at the American Anthropological Association annual meeting
18. 12/2, San Diego - Seminar on dealing with unaccompanied child migrants
19. 12/4-6, San Antonio - Border Management South conference

1.

Latin American Responses to the Venezuelan and Nicaraguan Migration Crises

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8:30 a.m.-1:00 p.m. ET, Tuesday, October 29, 2019
MPI Conference Room
1400 16th Street NW, Suite 300
Washington, DC 20036
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/events/latin-american-responses-venezuelan-nicaraguan-migration-crises

Agenda and Speakers:

8:30-8:45 a.m.
Welcome Remarks and Overview
Andrew Selee, President, Migration Policy Institute (MPI)

8:45–10:15 a.m.
Regional Responses to Venezuelan Migration (Panel 1)

Frieda Roxana Del Águila Tuesta, Superintendent of Migration, Peru

Christian Krüger Sarmiento, Director, Migration Colombia

Andrés Alfonso Ramírez Silva, Director, Mexican Refugee Commission (COMAR)

Hernán Yánez González, Under Secretary of International Protection and Assistance for Immigrants, Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Human Mobility of Ecuador

Jose Tomás Vicuña, National Director, Servicio Jesuita de Migrantes, Chile

Raísa Ortiz Cetra, Member, International Team, Centro de Estudios Legales y Sociales, Argentina

Moderator:
Andrew Selee, President, MPI

10:30–11:30 a.m.
Regional Responses to Nicaraguan Outflows (Panel 2)

Carlos Andrés Torres Salas, Vice Minister of the Interior and Police, Costa Rica

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Harold Villegas-Román, Advisor to the Vice Minister of the Interior and Police; and Commissioner, Restricted Visa and Refugee Commission, Costa Rica

Alberto Cortés Ramos, Professor, Political Science Department, University of Costa Rica

Moderator:
Manuel Orozco, Director, Migration, Remittances, and Development Program, Inter-American Dialogue

11:30 a.m.–12:45 p.m.
The International Response to the Venezuelan and Nicaraguan Humanitarian Crises (Panel 3)

Chiara Cardoletti-Carroll, Deputy Regional Representative for the United States and the Caribbean, UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR)

Luca Dall'Oglio, Chief of Mission, International Organization for Migration (IOM) USA

Dana Francis, Director, Office of Assistance for Europe, Central Asia, and the Americas, Bureau of Population, Refugees, and Migration, U.S. Department of State

Betilde Muñoz-Pogossian, Director, Department of Social Inclusion, Organization of American States (OAS)

Moderator:
Juan F. Jiménez Mayor, former Prime Minister and former Minister of Justice and Human Rights, Peru

12:45–1:00 p.m.
New Approaches toward Protection and Integration in the Region?

Diego Chaves, Visiting Fellow, MPI

Jessica Bolter, Associate Policy Analyst, MPI

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

As crises continue to unfold in Venezuela and Nicaragua, more than 4.5 million people have left both of those countries, with most settling in neighboring countries in the region. To date, Latin American countries have generally responded by finding pragmatic ways to receive and integrate migrants and refugees from Venezuela and Nicaragua.

Join the Migration Policy Institute (MPI) for a series of panel discussions examining the challenges ahead as countries in the region seek to chart future strategies for responding to large-scale forced migration flows. Leading policymakers and key stakeholders from the region, as well as representatives of major international institutions involved with the regional response, will offer their views on changing entry requirements; legal pathways and asylum processes; access to education, health care, and public services; and the opportunities and challenges that these migration flows present for the future of the region.

Speakers on all the panels will speak a mix of English and Spanish, and simultaneous interpretation services will be provided.

Return to Top

****
****

2.
The Impact of Current Immigration Policies on Service Members and Veterans, and their Families

2:00 p.m., Tuesday, October 29, 2019
House Committee on the Judiciary
2141 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515
https://judiciary.house.gov/legislation/hearings/impact-current-immigration-policies-service-members-and-veterans-and-their

Witnesses:
Hector Barajas-Varela
Director and Founder, Deported Veterans Support House

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Jennie Pasquarella
Director of Immigrants' Rights, ACLU of California and Senior Staff Attorney, ACLU of Southern California

Margaret D. Stock
Immigration Attorney and Lieutenant Colonel (Retired), Military Police Corps, US Army Reserve

Mark Metcalf
Former Immigration Judge and Lieutenant Colonel, Army National Guard

Return to Top

****
****

3.
The Methodology of Immigration Law

12:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, October 29, 2019
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://mii.sociology.fas.harvard.edu/schedule

Speakers:
Tally Kritzman-Amir, Israel Institute Visiting Associate Professor of Sociology at Harvard University

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Our Hidden Borders: Guantanamo, Interdiction, and the Rise of Offshore

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Migration Policing

The Myron Weiner Seminar Series on International Migration

4:30-6:00 p.m., Tuesday, October 29, 2019
MIT Center for International Studies
1 Amherst Street, E51-095
Cambridge, MA 02142
https://calendar.mit.edu/event/our_hidden_borders_guantanamo_interdiction_and_the_rise_of_offshore_migration_policing#.Xa4MOm5Fyyd

Description: Where exactly are the United States' immigration borders? Are they simply at the edge of US sovereign territory as the fixation on walls, fences, and domestic enforcement programs would suggest? In this talk, I offer a different perspective by tracing the rise of a mobile US border regime and its extension out into ocean spaces hundreds and thousands of miles beyond US soil. Along the way, we'll examine the reimagining of Guantánamo as a model for flexible, extraterritorial migration control and the intensive litigation battles over the treatment of Haitian asylum seekers that both gave birth to the US asylum system and partially drove it into a space of oceanic exceptionalism. As we'll see, the emergence of offshore interdiction and detention reveals not only hidden features of our contemporary borderscape but the roots of a respatialization of the nation-state itself.

Speaker:
Jeffrey Kahn, Assistant Professor of Anthropology, University of California, Davis

Return to Top

****

****

5.
Global Terrorism: Threats to the Homeland, Part II

10:00 a.m., Wednesday, October 30, 2019
House Committee on Homeland Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

310 Cannon House Building
Washington, DC 20510
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/global-terrorism-threats-to-the-homeland-part-ii

Witnesses:
Kevin K. McAleenan, Acting Secretary of Homeland Security

Christopher Wray, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation

Russell Travers, Acting Director of the National Counterterrorism Center

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Homeland Defense/Security Education Summit

Conference Theme: Public Interest Security: Leveraging Education to Connect Policy and Operations with American Perspectives of Homeland Security.

Wednesday-Thursday, October 30-November 1, 2019
Monterey Conference Center
1 Portola Plaza
Monterey, CA 93940
https://www.chds.us/c/summit

Friday, November 1, 2019

9:15-10:00 a.m.
Setting the Scene – Security, Borders, and Future Challenges

Gil Kerlikowske Former Commissioner, US Customs and Border Protection and Director, White House Office of Drug Control Policy

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Glen Woodbury Director, NPS Center for Homeland Defense and Security

10:15 a.m.-12:00 p.m.
Roundtable Discussion

Border Issues – Security Challenges and Opportunities

Moderator:
Alan Bersin, Former Assistant Homeland Security Secretary, Policy and Commissioner, US Customs and Border Protection

Panelists:
Guadalupe Correa-Cabrera Schar School of Policy and Government, George Mason University

Patrick Schaefer, Director, Hunt Institute University of Texas El Paso

Blas Nuñez-Neto Senior Policy Researcher RAND Corporation

Nathan Bruggeman, JD BorderWorks Advisors LLC

Brenda Estevan Former Security Attache, Mexican Embassy Senior Advisor on International Relations, Mexican Ministry of Governance

Border Security and Human Security Research Panel Sessions

1:15–3:00 p.m.
Session 1

Panel A - Border Security: Integrated Approach

Moderator:
David Brannan NPS Center for Homeland Defense and Security

Presenters:
Border Security in the Context of Homeland Security Issues and Priorities
Dave McIntyre, Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Current Border Operations and Challenges
Mike Bailey, Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University

Terrorism as a Border Issue
Danny Davis, Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University

Understanding Border Security through Public Admin Theories and Frameworks
Sonny Smith, Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University

Panel B - International Issues in Border Security and Emergency Management

Moderator:
Karl Kim University of Hawaii

Presenters:
Global Governance of Border, Collaborating and Coordinating with International Partners
Keith Cozine St. John's University

Relating Europe's Migrant-Terrorism Experience to U.S. Border Security
Todd Bensman Center for Immigration Studies

Panel C - Innovative Approaches to Security

Moderator:
Erik Dahl NPS Center for Homeland Defense & Security National Security Affairs Department

Presenters:
Homeland Security and Public Interest & Knowledge: The Whole Community and the Citizen 2016-2018. A Pennsylvania Residents' Poll Study
Alexander Siedschlag, Pennsylvania State University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3:15–5:00 p.m.
Session 2

Panel A - Homeland Defense, Emergency Management and the Border

Moderator:
David McIntyre, Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University

Presenters:
Executing Complex Emergency Management Plans
Ted Halpin, Director, Madison County (NY) Office of Emergency Management and Communications

Doing Less with More: A Debate on International Crisis Response and Recovery
David Nitsch, Pennsylvania Emergency Management Agency

Data-Driven Analysis: A Comprehensive Review of Border Security
Kevin Peters, DHS Office of Intelligence and Analysis
Madeline Kristoff, DHS US Citizenship and Immigration Services

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Open Borders: The Science and Ethics of Immigration

5:00-6:15 p.m. EST, Monday, November 4, 2019
Cato Institute, F.A. Hayek Auditorium
1000 Massachusetts Ave, NW
Washington, DC 20001-5403
https://www.cato.org/events/open-borders-science-ethics-immigration

Speakers:
Bryan Caplan, Author and Professor of Economics, George Mason University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Zach Weinersmith, Illustrator, Saturday Morning Breakfast Cereal comic strip; New York Times bestselling author

Commentator:
Tim Kane, JP Conte Fellow in Immigration Studies at the Hoover Institution, Stanford University

Moderator:
Alex Nowrasteh, Director of Immigration Policy Studies, Center for Global Liberty and Prosperity, Cato Institute

Description: In their new graphic nonfiction book Open Borders: The Science and Ethics of Immigration, authors Bryan Caplan and Zach Weinersmith turn the heated public debate over immigration on its head by proposing a radical and controversial solution: open borders. Caplan argues that opening all borders would practically eliminate absolute poverty worldwide and usher in a booming worldwide economy?greatly benefiting all of humanity, including Americans. With a clear and conversational tone, exhaustive research, and vibrant illustrations by Zach Weinersmith of Saturday Morning Breakfast Cereal fame, Open Borders makes the case for unrestricted immigration in a new format sure to spark lively debate. Caplan and Weinersmith will be joined by Tim Kane, the JP Conte Fellow in Immigration Studies at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University, who is a supporter of liberal immigration laws but a critic of open borders. Please join us for a timely and lively discussion.

Return to Top

****
****

8.
America's Immigration Dilemma

Co-sponsors: MIT Starr Forum, MIT Center for International Studies (CIS), and The Myron Weiner Seminar Series on International Migration

1:00-2:30 p.m., Monday, November 4, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Building E15, 070 Bartos
20 Ames Street
Cambridge, MA 02142
https://calendar.mit.edu/event/StarrForumImmigrationDilemma

Speaker:
Cristina Rodríguez, Leighton Homer Surbeck Professor of Law at Yale Law School

Discussant:
Justin Steil, Assistant Professor of law and urban planning

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Atlantic Strategy Group 2019 United States: Illicit Flows Across the Atlantic: Building a Cooperative Maritime Response

Monday-Wednesday, November 4-6, 2019
Adrienne Arsht Center for Performing Arts
1300 Biscayne Blvd, Miami, FL 33132
http://www.gmfus.org/events/atlantic-strategy-group-2019-united-states-illicit-flows-across-atlantic-building-cooperative

Description: The Atlantic Strategy Group (ASG) is the core activity in our wider Atlantic work. Through twice-yearly meetings, the group has explored emerging developments in Atlantic geopolitics and geo-economics, and their implications for transatlantic partnerships. The next meeting of the ASG will be held in Miami, November 4-6, 2019, at the Adrienne Arsht Center for Performing Arts, and will address the topic of illicit trafficking across the Atlantic and the need to further develop and improve maritime security cooperation at the regional and transatlantic levels. This edition of the ASG is organized in partnership with the Policy Center for the New South, the Luso American Development Foundation, and the Green Family Foundation, and with the cooperation of I.R. Consilium.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Participation to the Atlantic Strategy Group is upon invitation only. For more information please contact Laura Basagni at lbasagni@gmfus.org.

Return to Top

****
****

10.

A Shared Global Shame: Human Trafficking Policy and Its Effectiveness in a Disruptive Environment

10:00 a.m.–12:00 p.m., Tuesday, November 5, 2019
Georgetown University Intercultural Center Auditorium
37th & O Street
Washington, DC 20057
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/a-shared-global-shame-conversation-on-human-trafficking-policy-tickets-77293594221

Featuring:
John (Jack) Scarola, Partner, Searcy, Denney, Scarola, Barnhart, and Shipley
Christine Dolan, Investigative Journalist, former CNN Political Director

The State of Human Trafficking Policy
Stephen Diaz Gavin, Partner, Rimon P.C. Law Firm
Kevin Hyland, former UK Anti-Slavery Commissioner
William "Chip" Rogers, President & CEO, American Hotel & Lodging Association

What is on the Horizon?
Bob Hamer, retired FBI Agent
Homayra Sellier, Founder & CEO, Innocence in Danger
Del Wilber, retired Department of Defense and Central Intelligence Agency

Open to all students, the public, and the media.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

11.
Current Challenges in Refugee Policy: Kids, Courts, and Refugee Resettlement in Global Perspective

9:30 a.m.-5:15 p.m., Wednesday, November 6, 2019
Georgetown University, Copley Formal Lounge
3700 O Street, NW
Washington DC 20057

Description: This conference, as part of the Global Refugee and Migration Project, examines policies toward refugee and migrant children, the role of religion and religious institutions in forced migration, procedural justice for migrants in US courts, and the challenges of religious resettlement agencies.

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Immigration Raids: Impacts and Aftermath on Mississippi Communities

10:00 a.m., Thursday, November 7, 2019
Holmes Hall Auditorium, Tougaloo College
Touglaoo, MS 39174
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/immigration-raids-impacts-and-aftermath-on-mississippi-communities

Witnesses:
TBA

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

13.

Migration Control - Book Panel

2:00-4:00 p.m., Thursday, November 14, 2019
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Speakers:

John Torpey, Presidential Professor of Sociology and History, Graduate Center, City University of New York
Director, Ralph Bunche Institute for International Studies, Graduate Center, City University of New York
Invention of the Passport, 2nd Edition

Daniel Martinez, Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Arizona
The Shadow of the Wall: Violence and Migration on the US-Mexico Border

David FitzGerald, Theodore E. Gildred Chair in US-Mexican Relations, UC San Diego
Professor of Sociology and Co-Director, Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Refuge Beyond Reach

Return to Top

****

****

14.

Migrant Health in Crises

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9:00 a.m.-2:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 19, 2019
Georgetown University, HFSC Social Room
3700 O Street, NW
Washington DC 20057

Description: This conference will include sessions on health issues at the US-Mexico border, refugee health in the Middle East and disease and displacement in Africa. Speakers include academics, medical practitioners, international organizations and health-related NGOs and government aid representatives.

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Moralized Political Messages and Attitudes Toward Immigrants

12:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 19, 2019
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/kristina-simonsen-moralized-political-messages-and-attitudes-toward-immigrants

Kristina Simonsen, Assistant Professor of Sociology, Aarhus University.

Return to Top

****
****

16.
14th Homeland Security Week

Wednesday-Friday, November 20-22, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Grand Hyatt Washington
1000 H Street NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://www.idga.org/events-homelandsecurityweek

https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/hsw-draft-agenda_VhYFVL8UUbZWEBNVzgJx8NCUOnEeFFHeCxZ8RG8k.pdf

Preliminary program:

Wednesday, November 20, 2019

9:00 a.m.
FEMA's Strategic Plan for the Future 2018-2022

-Increasing resilience through increasing disaster preparedness on a local level
-Enhance coordination with intergovernmental agencies
-Streamline FEMA's grant management and improve data analytics

9:45 a.m.
Modernizing Maritime Security And Border Management
-Future strategies of the Coast Guard
-Current theatre of operations and capability gaps
-Procurement priorities and strategic shifts

11:15 a.m.
Procurement and Border Management

-Border management modernization requirements.
-The improvement of border management integration, including tailored procurement of specialized equipment

Rose Marie Davis, Director, Innovative Program Acquisitions, Office of Field Operations, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

DOJ'S Counter-UAS Protection and Acquisition Priorities

-Pinpointing unique requirements of the DOJ to fulfill its objectives - Taking lessons from DOD's counter-UAS acquisition strategies applying them at home

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Testing and fielding counter-UAS technologies to determine the suitability of solutions

Scott Miller, Assistant Section Chief, Surveillance & Aviation, FBI

12:00 p.m.

Confronting the Opioid Crises and Protecting the American People

-Working with interagency and international partners on a comprehensive approaches
-Identifying and monitoring networks of foreign suppliers and domestic importers of fentanyl
-Increasing investigation and prosecution efforts

Combating Nuclear Terrorism: DHS's Efforts to Protect Key Cities from WMDs

-Providing local agencies with equipment for detecting nuclear material
-Training local law enforcement
-Track progress by collecting data from the key cities

Jeffrey H. Musk, Chief, Nuclear Detection Division, Nuclear Technologies Department Research & Development Directorate, Defense Threat Reduction Agency

1:30 p.m.

Challenges and Opportunities in Protecting Energy Critical Infrastructure

-Invest in next-generation physical security controls and cybersecurity technologies
-Continually analyzing and gaming the energy cyber-threat landscape
-Share and communicate cybersecurity information between the public and private sectors

Ronald Keen, Senior Energy Advisor, National Risk Management Center, CISA, DHS

Protecting the Nation's Food Supply

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Identifying sector-wide vulnerabilities and gaps
-Identifying indicators and warnings that could signify planning for an attack
-Develop mitigation strategies to reduce the threat/prevent an attack

Jennie Melin, Consumer Safety Officer, FDA

2:15 p.m.
War on Drugs: Combating Organized Drug Cartels at the Border

-Increasing cohesion between federal, state and local agencies at the border
-Partnering with foreign nations to deny drug cartels a safe haven
-Monitoring money laundering and smuggling operations to hamper drug operations

Increasing the Nation's Preparedness Against Chemical and Biological Threats

-Improving threat awareness through intelligence collecting and sharing
-Investing in advanced detection and surveillance technologies
-Putting in place responsive countermeasure policies

3:30 p.m.
Procurement standards and guideline for providing goods and services to FEMA

-Purpose and importance of current rules in place
-Providing a broad overview of federal procurement rules
-Relationship between Federal rules, State, Local and Tribal procurement rules

4:15 p.m.
Chairperson's Closing Remarks

Thursday, November 21, 2019

9:00 a.m.
Identifying and Mediating National Security Threats

-Monitoring activities of groups and movements potentially at risk for radicalization and violence

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Improving information sharing policy for the Department
-Building partnerships with nation-wide State and Major Urban Area Fusion Centers

David Glawe, Under Secretary for Intelligence and Analysis, Department of Homeland Security

9:45 a.m.
CISA's Priorities for Advancing Critical Infrastructure Protection and Resiliency

-Strategies in working with private partners to secure our infrastructure
-Priorities for coordinating national cyber security and communications integration center
-Coordinating security and resiliency efforts through public private partnerships

Brian Harrell, Assistant Director for Infrastructure Security, CISA, DHS

11:15 a.m.
DHS's Evolving Requests for DoD Support Along the South-West Border

-DHS's support requirements from April 2018 to present
-How and why those requests have evolved along with the evolving situation at the SWB
-DHS' expectations for DoD support in FY20 and beyond

LTC Kelly Brown, Senior National Guard Advisor to DHS, U.S. Army

Leadership in Cyber
-Strategic and forward thinking
-Mentoring and nurturing talent to increase potential
-Learning and improving by listening

Kevin Nally, Chief Information Officer, US Secret Service

12:00 p.m.
Engaging with the Private Sector to Better Protect Critical Infrastructures

-Weather related threats to critical supply chains

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Improving emergency protocols
-Conducting research into improving strategies and practices Kay Mereish, Senior Advisor, DHS

The race for 5G: Protecting Emerging FifthGeneration Wireless Networks

-End-to-end protection of network traffic
-Investing in R&D to address threats and vulnerabilities to mobile networks
-Improving visibility of traffic from mobile devices to detect malware, cyberattacks and data exfiltration attempts

12:30 p.m.
Interactive Discussion Groups

During this part of the conference, each attendee will have the opportunity to select three topics of their interest from the list below and will rotate between those sessions. Discussion groups are kept small to ensure all attendees get the opportunity to ask their most pressing questions, ensuring a perfectly tailored experience.

1:30 p.m.
IDG Group 1
Key to Identifying Potential Terrorists through Research

-Identity crises often plays a significant role in a person's transition to terrorism
-Often potential terrorists will take part in certain activities that raise red flags about their intents
-Connections with known terrorists online or offline are a big factor in radicalization

Allison G. Smith, Social Scientist, DHS

IDG Group 2
Using AI for Video Analysis and Increasing Security

-Improving multimedia analytics
-Increasing video data processing time through automation
-Increasing automatic threat detection

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Jeff Alstott, Program Manager, Intelligence Advanced Research Projects Activity

IDG Group 3

sUAS Threats and Policy Hurdles Facing Local Police Authorities

-sUAS threat profile for local communities
-Laws and policies limiting the abilities of local law enforcement
-Partnership opportunities with DHS to counter the threat of sUAS

IDG Group 4

Deploying Biometrics Technologies To Secure Sensitive Facilities

-Assessing security vulnerabilities of facilities
-Adding biometrics as an added layer of security
-Picking the best biometric security solutions for your facility

2:15 p.m.

Key Updates On The National Vetting Center Operations

-What are some of the lessons learned?
-Approaches to working with the IC community to support NVC's operations
-Plans for expansion of vetting and enabling advanced analytics capabilities

National Security Threats Posed by Quantum Computing & Strategies to Mitigate Them

-Deploying more resilient cryptography standards
-Investing in quantum computing solutions
-Developing partnership with private industry to share technological know how

Using Artificial Intelligence and Situational Awareness Technologies for Critical Incident Response

-Enhancing quick decision-making skills
-Improving awareness connectivity between first responders
-Improving patient outcomes and healthcare

The Future of Biometrics & Identity Technologies

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-What does the future of identity verification look like?
-Strategies and policies for biometric technology for the next 10 years
-Addressing privacy concerns and data leaks

2:45 p.m.
Improving Airport Security with the Help of AI

-Using machine learning-powered tools that can aide agents to identify threats
-accurately predict the location of threat objects on the body

Using Blockchain Technology to Improve Safety of Critical Infrastructures
-Blockchain shows promise to better protect IoT
-Improved defense mechanisms against collaborative intrusion detection

Dangers of Irregular Migration to National Security
-Human trafficking and drug smuggling networks
-Risk of potential terrorists
-Increased chance of spread of infectious diseases

Blas Nunez-Neto, Senior Policy Researcher, RAND

Transitioning Identity Management Systems To The Cloud
-Update on the development of HART
-Addressing stakeholder challenges
-Increasing collaboration and data sharing

4:00 p.m.
Promoting Best Practices and Streamlining Acquisition Management at DHS

-Establish cross-functional teams in which key stakeholders coordinate and execute the acquisition tasks
-Strategically assess agency needs and how acquisition can meet those needs
-Establish mechanisms that promote the participation of small business suppliers

4:30 p.m.
Cyber threats to critical infrastructure (what are the threats? How to counter them? How to mitigate impact of?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Bob Kolasky, Director, National Risk Management Center, CISA
Lara Schmidt, Director, Strategy, Policy, and Operations Program, RAND
Ryan Consaul, Senior International Defense Researcher, RAND

Friday, November 22, 2019

9:00 a.m.
Breaking Down the DHS Information Technology Strategic Plan 2019-2023

-Optimize workplace technologies with cost-efficient and high impact solutions
-Developing a plan for safe and swift cloud migration
-Implement data protection practices to safeguard DHS systems and applications

9:45 a.m.
Keynote Presentation -James P. O'Neill, Police Commissioner, NYPD

11:15 a.m.
The Nexus Between Homeland Defense and Homeland Security
Homeland Defense: A Whole of Nation Mission

-The strategic environment demands an urgent reexamination of Homeland Defense
-Any gaps between Homeland Defense and Homeland Security must be addressed
-DoD Mission Assurance requires whole of community partnerships

Neal Anderson, Senior Advisor to DHS, NORAD

Promoting Public-Private Partnerships to Promote Security and Increase Resilience within the Nation's Chemical Industry

-Developing and implementing partnerships -Strategies and protocols during natural disasters
-Promoting good practices among federal, state and local agencies

Eric Choy, Chief, Chemical Sector Specific Agency, CISA, DHS
Amy Graydon, Deputy Director at Infrastructure Security Compliance Division,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS
Jonathan Buckles, Section Chief, Government & Industry Affairs, DHS

12:00 p.m.
Engaging with the Private Sector to Better Protect Critical Infrastructures

-Establishing protocols to promote information sharing
-Equipping Private Sector critical infrastructure owners and the intelligence needed to protect instrumental assets
-Strengthening and expanding current partnership agreements

Modernizing CBP's IT Infrastructure to increase network resilience and streamlining CBP operations

-Implementing cloud technologies to better connect the vast CBP IT network
-Using machine learning and data analytics tools to improve CBP's threat and fraud detection capabilities
-Modernizing CBP network to increase bandwidth for all users and increasing protection against attacks

1:30 p.m.
Developing Effective Response Plans to CBRN Attacks That Minimize Risk to Personnel

-Training federal government employees in how to best respond to CBRN attacks with minimal loss of services
-Identifying new and emerging technologies in the field and finding their applications within Homeland Security

Sean Crawford, Director, Chemical, Biological, Radiological, Nuclear Office, FEMA

Investing in full spectrum impedance and denial capabilities to reduce illegal immigration, drug smuggling and human trafficking

-Increasing infrastructure investment at the border and enforcement of immigration and criminal laws
-Equipping our law enforcement professionals with the latest tools, technology, and training they need to do their job

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Collaborating with federal and local law enforcement agencies and international

2:15 p.m.

Supporting Border Response And Recovery Capabilities With And Between Federal, State, Local And Canadian Partners

-Implementing plans to promote open communication and strategies across the international boundary
-Evaluating progress toward addressing capability gaps in the Northern and Southern Border
-Policies & Plans to facilitate effective response and recovery operations

Manpower, the core of CBP: Recruiting, Hiring, training, and retaining the most qualifies people

-Enhancing recruiting and hiring efforts and reducing obstacles to attracting quality candidates
-Improving the messaging of recruitment campaigns to more closely align with CBP's mission
-Offering incentives to increase staff retention

3:15 p.m.

Intelligence Sharing Panel Discussion

Protecting the American people from ever-changing domestic and transnational threats requires a DHS that shares intelligence not only with internal agencies but also partnering federal intelligence agencies. In this panel leaders from various national intelligence agencies will discuss how far they have come since 9/11 when it comes to intelligence sharing and pinpoint areas for improvement.

Panelists:

Sean Moon, Chief, Global Strategies, Office of Strategy, Policy, and Plans, DHS

Lilian Alessa, Deputy Chief, Global Strategies, DHS

3:45 p.m.

Enforcing our Immigration Laws by Empowering and Modernizing

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE)

-Increasing the numbers of law enforcement officers and support personnel
-Investing in safe and secure detention facilities
-Partnering with foreign governments to expedite necessary removals

4:30 p.m.
Chairperson's Closing Remarks

Return to Top

****
****

17.
American Anthropological Association annual meeting

Wednesday-Sunday, November 20-24, 2019
Vancouver Convention Centre
1055 Canada Place
Vancouver, BC
V6C 0C3, Canada
https://www.americananthro.org/AttendEvents/landing.aspx?ItemNumber=14722&navItemNumber=566

Immigration-related sessions:

Wedneday, November 20, 2019

4:30 p.m.
Race, Representation and Migration

Elizabeth Ann Kozlowski – Tulane University
Sabia McCoy-Torres – Tulane University
Shao-Yun Chang – Tulane University
Sarah M. Reynolds – Tulane University
Diane Ghogomu – Tulane University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thursday, November 21, 2019

10:15 a.m.

Privatization of Migration Enforcement and Humanitarian Management in Borderland Infrastructures

Carolina Sanchez Boe – Université Paris Descartes - Sorbonne Cité
Vincent Nicolas Joos – Florida State University
Sarah Elaine Dillard Mitchell – Clark University
Asher Goldstein – Linkoping universitet

2:00 p.m.

Volunteering Compassion and Solidarity: Creating Inclusive Climates for Migrants and Refugees in Europe

Ashley Laurel Witcher – University of Amsterdam
Michael C. Ennis-McMillan – Skidmore College, Department of Anthropology
Ashley Laurel Witcher – University of Amsterdam
Nicola L. Bulled – Center for Health, Intervention, and Prevention (CHIP), at University of Connecticut
Monika Palmberger – University of Vienna
Frances Trix – Indiana University
Laura Schack – Royal Holloway, University of London
Katherine C. Donahue – Plymouth State University

9:30 p.m.

Society for the Anthropology of Europe (SAE) Café Europa: Migration and Affect

Dace A. Dzenovska – University of Oxford
Elena Popa

Friday, November 22, 2019

2:00 p.m.

Examining the Boundary and Border-Producing Practices that Immigrant Youth and Refugee Families Encounter in U.S. Institutions

Theresa A. McGinnis – Hofstra University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Sally Bonet – Colgate University
Sophia L. Ángeles – University of California, Los Angeles
Daryl M. Gordon – Adelphi University
Iris M. Ramirez – University of California, Los Angeles

4:15 p.m.

Borders, Policing, and Latinx Immigrant Vulnerability: A roundtable discussion of four new ethnographies of immigrant policing in the United States

Nolan Kline – Rollins College, Department of Anthropology
Ruth M. Gomberg-Munoz – Loyola University Chicago
Christina Marisa Getrich – University of Maryland, College Park
Nolan Kline – Rollins College, Department of Anthropology
William D. Lopez – University of Michigan School of Public Health
Jeremy Slack – The University of Texas at El Paso
Heide Castaneda – University of South Florida
Sarah B. Horton – University of Colorado Denver, Department of Anthropology

Migration, mobilities and "vitality' in la francophonie canadienne

Gabrielle Breton-Carbonneau – Ontario Institute for Studies in Education/University of Toronto
Thierry Deshayes – Université de Montréal
Monica Heller – University of Toronto; Yves Frenette
Patricia Lamarre – University of Montreal
Carsten Quell – Treasury Board of Canada Secretariat

Migration, Placemaking and the Interrogation of Nation-based Discourses

Glynis George
Nicola Mooney
Jennifer Cook – Southern Methodist University
Mark McIntyre – University of Victoria
Diane Riskedahl – University of Toronto Scarborough

Migration, scale, language ideologies

Adrienne Lo – University of Waterloo

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Elise C. Berman – University of North Carolina, Charlotte
Lydia Catedral – City University of Hong Kong
Kathryn C. Hardy – Ashoka University
Adrienne Lo – University of Waterloo
Sibusiwe Dube – Pennsylvania State University
Cecile Vigouroux - Simon Fraser University

Saturday, November 23, 2019

8:00 a.m.

Class Acts: Migration and Social Mobility in Africa and its Diasporas

Pamela Feldman-Savelsberg – Carleton College
Cati Coe – Rutgers University, Camden
Julia Pauli – University of Hamburg, Germany
Yolanda D. Covington-Ward – University of Pittsburgh
Chelsie Yount-Andre – University of Montpellier, France
Abdoulaye Kane – University of Florida
Lena Luise Kroeker – Bayreuth University

Ethnicity, Migration, and Labor in Modern Turkey

Deniz Duruiz – Northwestern University
Elif Irem Az – Columbia University
Nikolaos Michailidis – Princeton University
Onur Gunay – Princeton University
Elif Babul – Mount Holyoke College
Salih Can Aciksoz – University of California, Los Angeles

10:15 a.m.

Executive Session - Oral Presentation Session - The Migrant Caravan and Legacies of Violence: The Changing Climate of Immigration and Asylum at the U.S./Mexican Border and Beyond

Timothy J. Smith – Appalachian State University
Ellen Moodie – University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign, Department of Anthropology
Jon Horne Carter – Appalachian State University
M. Gabriela Torres – Wheaton College

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Victoria D. Sanford – CUNY - Herbert H Lehman College
Mariana Mora – CIESAS
Lynn M. Stephen – University of Oregon
Ruth M. Gomberg-Munoz – Loyola University Chicago

Articulating Morality in Return Migration

Valerio Simoni – The Graduate Institute, Geneva
Jeremie Voirol – Graduate Institute Geneva
Mikaela H. Rogozen-Soltar – University of Nevada Reno, Department of Anthropology
Paul Stoller – West Chester University
Marina V. Sapritsky-Nahum – London, UK
Ellen Oxfeld – Middlebury College
Jarrett Zigon – University of Virginia
Edward F. Fischer – Vanderbilt University

2:00 p.m.

Coming of Age Between the US, Mexico, and Central America's Northern Triangle: Youth, Im/migration, and Education - Session 1

Michelle Bellino – University of Michigan, SOE
Edmund T. Hamann – University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Department of Teaching, Learning, & Teacher Educ.
Maxie Gluckman – University of California, San Diego
Gabrielle Oliveira – Boston College
Susan C. Bibler Coutin – University of California, Irvine
Andrea E. Dyrness – University of Colorado, Boulder
Ariel Borns – University of Wisconsin - Madison

Familiar Strangers: The Making and Continuity of Canada-U.S. State-sanctioned 'Seasonal' Migrant Labor

Luis F.B. Plascencia
Christian Zlolniski – University of Texas Arlington
David Griffith – East Carolina University
Stephanie Mayell; Lidia Esther Munoz

Meeting of SUNTA's Committee on Refugees & Immigrants (CORI)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Suzanne Scheld – California State University, Northridge
Faedah M. Totah – Virginia Commonwealth University School of World Studies

4:15 p.m.

Coming of Age Between the US, Mexico, and Central America's Northern Triangle: Youth, Im/migration, and Education - Session 2 (of 2)

Maxie Gluckman – University of California, San Diego
Michelle Bellino – University of Michigan, SOE;
Edmund T. Hamann – University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Department of Teaching, Learning, & Teacher Educ.
Jen Stacy – California State University, Dominguez Hills
David Martinez-Prieto – University of Texas at San Antonio
Bradley A. Levinson – Indiana University, Bloomington

Mobile Solidarities: Thinking About Migration Through Kinship and Indebtedness

Fiori Sara Berhane – Brown University
Carla Hung – Arizona State University
Lilith Mahmud – University of California, Irvine
Jamie Fuller – University of Florida
Justinas Stankus
Sarah A. Smith – SUNY - Old Westbury

Sunday, November 24, 2019

10:15 a.m.

Cultural Capital, Immigration, and Bilingual Acquisition: Transnational and Transgenerational Perspectives of Chinese Parents' and Communities' Practices in Canada

Guofang Li – University of British Columbia
Caroline Chung-Hsuan Locher-Lo – University of British Columbia
Ai Mizuta – University of British Columbia
Cindy Lau – University of British Columbia
Zhuo Sun – University of British Columbia

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

18.

Suffer the Little Children: Unaccompanied Child Migrants and the Geopolitics of Compassion in Postwar America

12:00-1:00 p.m., Monday, December 2, 2019
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer---Bradford-12-2-19.pdf

Speakers:
Anita Casavantes Bradford
Associate Professor of Chicano/Latino Studies and History, UC Irvine
Co-Director, UC-Cuba Multi Campus Academic Initiative

Discussant:
John Skrentny
Professor of Sociology, UC San Diego
Director, Yankelovich Center for Social Science Research, UC San Diego

Return to Top

****

****

19.

Border Management South

Wednesday-Friday, December 4-6, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hilton Garden Inn San Antonio
8101 Pat Booker Rd.
Live Oak, Texas, 78233, USA
https://www.idga.org/events-bordermanagementsummit/landing/official-border-management-south-brochure
https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/border-management-south-2019.pdf

Overview: The southern border shared between Canada, Mexico, and the U.S. is an enormous economic gateway for the United States, but it requires control, safety and modernization to maintain it. Enforcing laws and securing the border is a top priority for the Department of Homeland Security. As time passes, the need for operator driven policies and solutions, modern devices, and fully integrated border becomes more crucial.

This year's Border Management South Summit will aim to connect local, federal and state officials to discuss the top challenges and priorities in the field. Interactive group discussions and panels will address procurement initiatives and aligning border solutions with development of operators.

Agenda:

Focus Day, Wednesday, December 4, 2019

8:50 a.m.
CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.
USING THE INTEGRATION OF IT SYSTEMS TO ENHANCE RESPONSE AT THE BORDER

The U.S./Mexico border is in need of becoming a fully integrated border. This session will evaluate how communication between law enforcement officials and security personnel will be seamless and sufficient using integration strategies.

* Understanding how the integration of technological systems will enhance communication across the border
* Enhancing border mobility

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Managing information data flow across the border

10:30 a.m.

OPTIMIZING THE USE OF SECURITY PERSONNEL USING SECURITY APPLICATIONS

This session will provide a break down of how the use of advanced analytics can transform and protect the border. Advanced analytics will be able to detect security breaches from objects, unauthorized people and more. Security personnel will be able to receive knowledge of potential threats and act accordingly and in a timely manner.

* Using AI and ML to not only stockpile data, but also manage it
* Utilizing analytical tools to enhance perimeter protection
* Enabling security personnel to recognize threats using intelligent video

12:30 p.m.

ANALYZING DATA TO PREDICT FUTURE EVENTS AND OUTCOMES

Data will only become sufficient and useful if it is then transformed into action. Join us as we learn about the transforming of paper data into visionary plans and help detect future events. Information management allows room for improvement to border services and protection of citizens.

* Managing current data and transforming it into visionary plans and action
* Collecting and exploiting data to drive border decision making Timothy Bennett, Science and Technology Directorate, Department of Homeland Security

Thursday, December 5, 2019

8:50 a.m.

CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.

TEXAS IN REAL-TIME: RESPONDING AT THE BORDER

* Gain insight on how front line law enforcement officials are tackling border issues in real-time

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Sheriff Waybourn, Tarrant County Sheriff Joe Frank Martinez, Del Val Verde County

9:45 a.m.

ANALYZING THE U.S. BORDER AS A SYSTEM: THE MEMBRANE, THE SURVEILLANCE AND THE HUMAN ELEMENT

In order to effectively secure the U.S. / Mexico border, it should be thought of as a system divided into three parts. A representative of the DHS will outline ways of uniting the organizational structure and breaking down each border element into compartments that work together to provide one outcome - effective border security.

* Evaluating the border as a whole system and not in parts
* Identifying the humanity aspect when working at the border

11:00 a.m.

ADVANCING ALL SITUATIONAL AND DOMAIN AWARENESS TO SUPPORT BORDER MISSIONS

Supporting border missions through situational and all domain awareness allows room to address challenges and provides understanding on how to respond in a threatening environment. Custom Border Patrol representatives will share how to appropriately notice changes across the border and respond rapidly.

* Building and sustaining situational awareness in a threat environment
* Using all domain awareness to predict future actions and threats
* Being aware of air, land and maritime border challenges and opportunities

Jennifer Barreras-Rawls, Operations Section Chief of Joint Task Force West, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

11:45 a.m.

ENSURING INTELLIGENCE DRIVEN OPERATIONS IN A THREAT ENVIRONMENT

It is important to use intelligence for improvement of the border system as a whole. Understanding how to share intelligence between partners and how to utilize the data given is a key component in securing the border.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Understanding a threat environment using information and data
* Sharing Intelligence between Law Enforcement Enterprise Partners
Brad Skinner, Deputy Director Office of Field Operations Laredo Field Office, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

* Advancing the border using intelligence and innovative technology
* Enhancing operation objectives to increase border protection productivity
* Bringing the human element back into border management

1:30 p.m.

USING A SCIENTIFIC APPROACH TO ADDRESS BORDER CHALLENGES

Scientific breakthroughs and advancements have caused a huge gateway for the use of CIP and enhancing threat management. Here you will understand how intelligence pictures and process help conquer nearby threats.

* Using common intelligence pictures to showcase threat capabilities
* Establishing the ability to detect threats beyond the border
* Deploying a systematic process for analyzing and distributing data

2:15 p.m.

ENHANCING PARTNERSHIPS AND ENFORCEMENT COOPERATION

Establishing partnerships will assist the border in creating meaningful relationships and thus, actively creating new ways to guard the U.S. / Mexico Border. Utilizing department-wide cooperation and international input will help overcome border threats.

* Establishing a unity of effort approach to effectively guard the U.S/Mexico Border
* Building international partnerships to effectively detect threats
* Enhancing supply chain security to conduct thorough examinations at the border
Ismael Navarez Jr., Special Agent in Charge, IRS

3:00 p.m.

ADVANCING THE BORDER WITH THE MODEL PORTS PROGRAM

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Model Ports Program was designed to improve overall experience and operations at the port of entry. This session will showcase the reasoning and effectiveness behind the Model Ports Program.

* Improving wait time monitoring and processing
* Conducting meetings with senior level industry leaders for establish goals and monitoring techniques
* Using Public-Private Partnerships to enhance operation at the ports of entry

Friday, December 6, 2019

8:50 a.m.
CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.
PROCUREMENT: FUTURE INITIATIVES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY

A DHS representative will disclose the 2020 Vision for the Department of Homeland Security. Attendees will understand where important investments are being made and how future policy will evolve border management.

* The 2020 outlook for the U.S./Mexico Border
* How policy changes will provide solutions to current border challenges
* Understanding future border investments
Rose Marie Davis, Director innovation Program Acquisitions, DHS

9:45 a.m.
IMMIGRATION OF FAMILIES ACROSS THE BORDER

The border is currently filled with multiple families including children seeking to come to the U.S. Due to the increase of migrants, facilities constantly become over crowded. Gain insights on how to ensure maintenance of facilities and navigate current and future border policies to secure the border.

* Maintaining protocol and policies when dealing with families at border
* Creating a safe and ethical environment at the U.S. /Mexico border
Robert Gross, DHS Attaché, Department of Homeland Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

11:00 a.m.

PROMOTING INNOVATION AND INTEGRITY AMONGST PERSONNEL

Training personnel on how to react in force situations and maintaining DHS ethical standards is important. Join us as we evaluate new initiatives taking place to reconstruct and advance CBP's organizational structure.

* Reconstructing the border's organizational structure
* Ensuring ethical conduct and integrity along the border
* Advancing training initiatives in assisting use of force situations

11:45 a.m.

PREVENTING COUNTERTERRORISM AND TRANSNATIONAL CRIME AT THE BORDER

Joining forces across law enforcement allows one to maximize its resources and enhance operational integration. Leaders of the Department of Homeland Security will share how the interaction of global partners will assist with reducing crime and potential threats.

* Joining forces with local, state, and federal law enforcement to increase resources
* Using integrated operations to detect weapons and disrupt illegal crossings
* Expanding mobility to quicken response to threats John Jones, Divisional Director Intelligence and Counterterrorism, Texas Department of Public Safety

1:30 p.m.

ADVANCING BORDER TRADING IN ORDER TO PROTECT THE U.S.

Implementing strategies and trade intelligence will protect against unlawful items from entering. This session will break down the use of trade intelligence in real time and how it will shape enforcement efforts.

* Collaborating with advanced technology and enforcement to intercept high-risk shipment
* Responding to border risk in real-time using trade intelligence
* Integration of law enforcement to help protect the border from illegal trade

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, October 29, 2019 10:07 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: More than one in five US residents does not speak English at home

Share Tweet Forward

67.3 Million U.S. Residents Spoke a Foreign Language at Home in 2018

In nine states, one in four residents now speaks a language other

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

than English at home

Washington, D.C. (October 29, 2019) – A report by the Center for Immigration Studies, based on newly released Census Bureau data, finds that 67.3 million residents in the United States now speak a language other than English at home, a number equal to the entire population of France. The number has nearly tripled since 1980, and more than doubled since 1990. In some states, the growth was even more pronounced. All language figures in Census Bureau data are for persons five years of age and older.

Steven Camarota, co-author of the report and the Center's director of research, said, "That more than one in five US residents now speaks a language other than English at home is certainly significant. But perhaps even more important, since 1980 the number who speaks a foreign language at home has more than tripled in 23 states, including in Tennessee, Arkansas, South Carolina, Kentucky, Idaho, Alabama and Oklahoma, which are not traditionally thought of areas of high immigrant settlement."

Among the findings:

• In 2018, a record 67.3 million U.S. residents (native-born, legal immigrants, and illegal immigrants) spoke a language other than English at home. The number has more than doubled since 1990 and almost tripled since 1980.

• Since 1980, the number who speak a foreign language at home grew nearly seven times faster than the number who speak only English at home. Even since 2010, when the number speaking a foreign language at home was already very large, the number of foreign-language speakers increased more than twice as fast as that of English speakers.

• As a share of the population, 21.9 percent of U.S. residents speak a foreign language at home — more than double the 11 percent in 1980.

• In nine states, more than one in four residents now speaks a language other than English at home. These nine states account for two-thirds of all foreign-language speakers. In contrast, in 1980 foreign-language speakers were one in four residents in just two states (New Mexico and Hawaii); and these two states accounted for just 3 percent of all foreign language speakers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

• The states with the largest share of their populations speaking a foreign language at home in 2018 were California (45 percent), Texas (36 percent), New Mexico (34 percent), New Jersey (32 percent), New York and Nevada (each 31 percent), Florida (30 percent), Arizona and Hawaii (each 28 percent), and Massachusetts (24 percent).

• States with the largest percentage increase in those speaking a foreign language at home from 1980 to 2018 are Nevada (up 1,088 percent), Georgia (up 952 percent), North Carolina (up 802 percent), Virginia (up 488 percent), Tennessee (up 459 percent), Arkansas (up 445 percent), Washington (up 432 percent), South Carolina (up 398 percent), Florida (up 393 percent), Utah (up 383 percent), and Oregon (up 380 percent).

• States with the largest percentage increase in the number of those speaking a foreign language at home since 2010 are North Dakota (up 63 percent), Utah (up 29 percent), Iowa (up 24 percent), Florida, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Washington, Maryland and Nevada (each up 23 percent), Oregon and Tennessee (each up 22 percent), North Carolina and Kentucky (each up 21 percent), and South Carolina (up 20 percent).

• In America's five largest cities, just under half (48 percent) of residents now speak a language other than English at home. In New York City it is 49 percent; in Los Angeles it is 59 percent; in Chicago it is 36 percent; in Houston it is 50 percent; and in Phoenix it is 38 percent.

• In 2018, there were 90 cities and Census Designated Places (CDP) with populations of at least 63,000 in which a majority of residents spoke a foreign language at home. These include Hialeah, Fla., and Laredo, Texas (each 89 percent); East Los Angeles (88 percent); and Passaic, N.J. (78 percent).

• In 2018, there were 229 cities and CDPs in which more than one in three residents spoke a language other than English at home. Some of these places may be surprising: Providence, R.I. (50 percent); Allentown, Pa. (48 percent); Germantown, Md. (46 percent); Centerville, Va. (44 percent); New Rochelle, N.Y. (42 percent); West Valley City, Utah (39 percent); Springdale, Ark. (35 percent); and Troy, Mich. (34 percent).

• The largest numerical increases in those who speak a language other than English at home between 2010 and 2018 were among speakers of Spanish (up

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4.5 million), Chinese (up 663,000), Arabic (up 394,000), Hindi (up 265,000), Tagalog (up 187,000), Telugu (up 177,000), Vietnamese (up 161,000), Bengali (up 152,000), Portuguese (up 128,000), and Tamil (up 124,000). Telugu and Tamil are spoken in India, Tagalog is the national language of the Philippines, and Bengali is spoken in India and is also the national language of Bangladesh.

• Languages with more than a million people who speak it at home in 2018 were Spanish (41.5 million), Chinese (3.5 million), Tagalog (1.8 million), Vietnamese (1.5 million), Arabic (1.3 million), French (1.2 million), and Korean (1.1 million).

• There are now more people who speak Spanish at home in the United States than in any country in Latin America with the exception of Mexico, Colombia, and Argentina.

• Of those who speak a foreign language at home, 25.6 million (38 percent) told the Census Bureau that they speak English less than very well. This figure is entirely based on the opinion of the respondent; the Census Bureaus does not measure language skills.

• Of those who speak a foreign language at home, 45 percent were born in the United States.

Visit Website

Further Reading:

Taking English Seriously

Millions of Immigrants Became Citizens without Basic English Literacy

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Wednesday, October 30, 2019 7:05 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: VIDEO AND REPORT: Discrimination at the high and low ends of the labor market

Lawsuits Show Foreign-Born Workers Favored over the Native-Born

Panel Video: Discrimination at the high and low ends of the labor market

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (October 30, 2019) - A new Center for Immigration Studies report examines Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) lawsuits and finds a high frequency of job discrimination against American workers in the low-wage labor market.

Jason Richwine, an independent policy analyst and the author of the report, selected 21 real-world cases that illustrate the negative effects of immigration on native workers. From Colorado to Georgia, from Illinois to Oklahoma and North Carolina, the author exposes a bias toward immigrant workers, impacting job availability and wages for Americans, particularly black Americans.

The discriminatory actions described in the EEOC lawsuits include: requiring background checks of non-Hispanic American applicants but not the foreign-born Hispanic applicants; employing recruitment techniques designed to keep black Americans from hearing about job openings; falsely telling native-born workers that there are no job openings; enforcing different production standards depending on national origin; establishing phony employment lines and sign-up sheets; and requiring Spanish-language skills even when they are not necessary for the job.

Richwine comments, "The consistency and extent of these EEOC lawsuits paint a disturbing picture of U.S. companies appearing to prefer low-skill foreign-born workers over their native-born counterparts, particularly blacks. The discrimination against U.S.-born workers is neither subconscious nor subtle."

The panel discussion where the report was released included Peter Kirsanow, a member of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, who said that the Center's report comports with his experience as a labor employment lawyer over the last 40 years and with the findings of the Civil Rights Commission on the effects of illegal immigration on black workers. Kevin Lynn, executive director of Progressives for Immigration Reform, emphasized that employer discrimination impacts workers at the high end of the labor market as well, particularly in areas of science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM).

The report, plus the video and transcript of the panel discussion, are available at: https://cis.org/Report/EEOC-lawsuits-native-immigrant

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, October 31, 2019 8:45 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: PANEL: Terrorist Migration Across Europe's Borders: Lessons for American Border Security

UPCOMING PANEL: Terrorist Migration Across Europe's Borders – Lessons for American Border Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (October 31, 2019) – The Center for Immigration Studies will host a panel discussion Wednesday, November 6, on how migration and terrorism have combined to be a destructive force in Europe and what America can learn from the European experience. The starting point for conversation will be a Center report documenting Europe's migrant terrorism experience, analyzing the U.S. threat, and proposing U.S. border security improvements.

Todd Bensman, senior national security fellow at the Center, said, "What has happened in Europe – an outbreak of terrorist acts by asylum-seeking migrants who were systematically smuggled over its land borders – should finally be widely acknowledged as proof-of-concept that unguarded land borders and broken border management systems anywhere are vulnerable to a new terror travel tactic. The concept is no longer theoretical and warrants more thorough study so that lessons can be learned and applied to American border security and immigration policy."

When: Wednesday, November 6, 2019, at 9:30 a.m.
Where: National Press Club, Zenger Room, 529 14th St. NW, 13th Floor, Washington, D.C.
Stream: Facebook Live, YouTube Live
Participants:

TODD BENSMAN serves as the Center's Senior National Security Fellow. Prior to joining CIS, Bensman worked at the Texas Department of Public Safety's Intelligence and Counterterrorism Division. Bensman has more than 20 years of experience as an award-winning journalist covering national security topics, with particular focus on the Texas border.

JAMES G. CONWAY served as a special agent for the FBI focused on international terrorism for over 25 years. He established an intelligence program and working group with Mexican counterparts to track "special interest alien" migrants from Muslim-majority countries who were being smuggled to the U.S. southern border.

ROBIN SIMCOX currently serves as Margaret Thatcher Fellow for The Heritage Foundation, where he specializes in counterterrorism and national security. Simcox authored "The Asylum-Terror Nexus: How Europe Should Respond," a study of migrants who applied for asylum in Europe and went on to conduct terror attacks.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, October 31, 2019 7:27 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 10/31/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Reading, 10/31/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. State Department immigrant visas by post, September 2019
2. DHS report on Assessment of the Migrant Protection Protocols
3. CRS report on DHS component funding for FY 2020
4. GAO reports on aid to Central America and homeland security acquisitions
5. Senate testimony on sanctuary jurisdictions and threat to public safety
6. House testimony on addressing human trafficking through inter-government cooperation
7. House testimony on the impact of immigration policies on service members and veterans
8. U.S. Commission on Civil Rights report on the plight of illegal entrants at the SW border
9. Report to Congress on Proposed Refugee Admissions for FY 2020
10. Ireland: Statistics on foreign nationals employment and benefit eligibility
11. Finland: Population statistics
12. Belgium: Birth statistics
13. Netherlands: Population statistics
14. E.U.: Statistics on residence permits issued in member states

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

15. SCOTUSblog preview and analysis of Barton v. Barr and Kansas v. Garcia
16. Eight research papers from the Administration of Immigration Conference
17. "Morning Consult/BPC Survey Finds Room for Compromise on Immigration..."
18. "The indirect gender discrimination of skill-selective immigration policies"
19. "Five-Year Waiting Period Is a Barrier to Immigrant Health Care Access"
20. Three new working papers from the National Bureau of Economic Research
21. Three new reports and features from the Migration Policy Institute
22. Three new discussion papers from the Institute for the Study of Labor
23. Twelve new papers from the Social Science Research Network
24. Twenty new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
25. "Legal Migration for Work and Training: Mobility Options to Europe for Those Not in Need of Protection"
26. U.K.: New briefing paper from MigrationWatch

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

27. U.K.: New report from the Oxford Refugee Studies Centre

BOOKS

28. Putting Family First: Migration and Integration in Canada
29. At Europe's Edge: Migration and Crisis in the Mediterranean
30. Undocumented Migration
31. India's Low-Skilled Migration to the Middle East: Policies, Politics and Challenges
32. African Footballers in Europe: Migration, Community, and Give Back Behaviours
33. East to West Migration: Russian Migrants in Western Europe

JOURNALS

34. Comparative Migration Studies
35. Identities: Global Studies in Culture and Power
36. International Migration
37. Migration Studies
38. Mobilities
39. Population, Space and Place

1.

Immigrant Visas by Post, September 2019

U.S. Department of State, Bureau of Consular Affairs

https://travel.state.gov/content/dam/visas/Statistics/Immigrant-Statistics/MonthlyIVIssuances/SEPTEMBER%202019%20-%20IV%20Issuances%20by%20Post%20and%20Visa%20Class.pdf

Return to Top

****

****

2.

Assessment of the Migrant Protection Protocols (MPP)

Department of Homeland Security, October 28, 2019

https://www.dhs.gov/sites/default/files/publications/assessment_of_the_migrant_protection_protocols_mpp.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

3.
New from the Congressional Research Service

Comparing DHS Component Funding, FY2020: In Brief
October 15, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R45972.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

4.
New from the General Accountability Office

U.S. Assistance to Central America: Department of State Should Establish a Comprehensive Plan to Assess Progress toward Prosperity, Governance, and Security
GAO-19-590, Published: September 26, 2019. Released: October 28, 2019
Report: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/701750.pdf
Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/products/GAO-19-590

Homeland Security Acquisitions: Opportunities Exist to Further Improve DHS's Oversight of Test and Evaluation Activities
GAO-20-20, October 24, 2019
Report: https://www.gao.gov/reports/GAO-20-20/
Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/products/GAO-20-20

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

5.
Tuesday, October 22, 2019
Senate Committee on the Judiciary
https://www.judiciary.senate.gov/meetings/sanctuary-jurisdictions-the-impact-on-public-safety-and-victims

Sanctuary Jurisdictions: The Impact on Public Safety and Victims

Witness testimony:

Panel I

Timothy S. Robbins
Acting Executive Associate Director
Enforcement Removal Operations
United States Immigration and Customs Enforcement
Department of Homeland Security
https://www.judiciary.senate.gov/download/robbins-testimony

R. Andrew Murray
United States Attorney
Western District of North Carolina
Charlotte, NC
https://www.judiciary.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Murray%20Testimony1.pdf

Panel II

Mary Ann Mendoza
Angel Mom and Co-Founder
Angelfamilies.com
Mesa, AZ
https://www.judiciary.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Mendoza%20Testimony.pdf

Andy Harvey
Former Chief of Police
City of Palestine

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Palestine, TX
https://www.judiciary.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Harvey%20Testimony.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Monday, October 28, 2019
House Committee on Homeland Security
Subcommittee: Intelligence and Counterterrorism
https://homeland.house.gov/tackling-human-trafficking-assessing-federal-state-and-local-information-sharing-efforts

Tackling Human Trafficking: Assessing Federal, State and Local Information Sharing Efforts

Opening statement:
Subcommittee Chairman Max Rose
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/102819%20IC%20Rose%20Opening%20Statement.pdf

Witness testimony:

Christine Shaw Long, Executive Director, North Carolina Human Trafficking Commission, North Carolina Judicial Branch
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Long.pdf

Ronnie A. Martinez, Special Agent in Charge, Homeland Security Investigations, Charlotte Field Office, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, Department of Homeland Security
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony%20-Martinez.pdf

Carl L. Wall, II, Special Agent in Charge, North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation, Human Trafficking Unit
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Wall.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Aundrea Azelton, Chief Deputy, Randolph County, North Carolina Sheriff's Office
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Azelton.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Tuesday, October 29, 2019
House Committee on the Judiciary
https://judiciary.house.gov/legislation/hearings/impact-current-immigration-policies-service-members-and-veterans-and-their

The Impact of Current Immigration Policies on Service Members and Veterans, and their Families

Witness testimony:

Hector Barajas-Varela
Director and Founder, Deported Veterans Support House
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20191029/110150/HHRG-116-JU01-Wstate-Barajas-VarelaH-20191029.pdf

Jennie Pasquarella
Director of Immigrants' Rights, ACLU of California and Senior Staff Attorney, ACLU of Southern California
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20191029/110150/HHRG-116-JU01-Wstate-PasquarellaJ-20191029.pdf

Margaret D. Stock
Immigration Attorney and Lieutenant Colonel (Retired), Military Police Corps, US Army Reserve
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20191029/110150/HHRG-116-JU01-Wstate-StockM-20191029.pdf

Mark Metcalf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Former Immigration Judge and Lieutenant Colonel, Army National Guard
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20191029/110150/HHRG-116-JU01-Wstate-MetcalfM-20191029.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Trauma at the Border: The Human Cost of Inhumane Immigration Policies
The United States Commission on Civil Rights, October 24, 2019
https://www.usccr.gov/pubs/2019/10-24-Trauma-at-the-Border.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Report to Congress on Proposed Refugee Admissions for FY 2020
American Immigration Lawyers Association, September 26, 2019
https://www.aila.org/File/Related/19092701a.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Foreign Nationals: PPSN Allocations, Employment and Social Welfare Activity
Irish Central Statistics Office, October 25, 2019
https://www.cso.ie/en/releasesandpublications/er/fnaes/foreignnationalsppsnallocationsemploymentandsocialwelfareactivity2018/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Excerpt: Personal Public Service Numbers (PPSN) were assigned to 75,720 foreign nationals aged 15 years and over in 2013. Of those, 31,545 (41.7%) had employment activity in the year following allocation of PPSN, while 19,541 (25.8%) had employment activity at any time during 2018.

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Finland's preliminary population figure 5,525,487 at the end of September
Statistics Finland, October 24, 2019
https://www.stat.fi/til/vamuu/2019/09/vamuu_2019_09_2019-10-24_tie_001_en.html

Excerpt: According to Statistics Finland's preliminary data, Finland's population at the end of September was 5,525,487. During January-September Finland's population increased by 7,568 persons. The reason for the population increase was migration gain from abroad: the number of immigrants was 13,388 higher than that of emigrants. The number of births was 5,387 lower than that of deaths.
. . .
Altogether 24,618 persons immigrated to Finland from abroad and 11,230 persons emigrated from Finland during January-September period. The number of immigrants was 929 higher and the number of emigrants 4,442 lower than in the previous year. In all, 7,038 of the immigrants and 7,660 of the emigrants were Finnish citizens.

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Birth rate keeps decreasing in 2018
Statistics Belgium, October 23, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://statbel.fgov.be/en/themes/population/births-and-fertility

Summary: 117,800 babies were born in Belgium in 2018, i.e. a decrease of 1.1 % compared to 2017. This is what emerged from the provisional statistics on births in the year 2018. This statistic is based on the National Register of natural persons, pending detailed information from the statistical bulletins of births.

The mean age of women at childbirth in Belgium is 30.7 years. It is significantly higher in Brussels (31.8 years) than in Flanders and Wallonia (30.6 years and 30.5 years, respectively). The proportion of births to foreign mothers still remains the majority in Brussels, where it stands at 51.6%. It is only 21.8% in the Flemish Region and 18.5% in Wallonia. Finally, the total fertility rate still decreases to 1.61 child per woman. It is also higher in Brussels (1.75) than in the other regions

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Population growth already at the same level as 2018
Statistics Netherlands, October 31, 2019
https://www.cbs.nl/en-gb/news/2019/44/population-growth-already-at-the-same-level-as-2018

Excerpt: The population of the Netherlands is growing relatively rapidly this year. In the period up to and including September, 208 thousand immigrants settled here while 121 thousand emigrants left. Net migration therefore stood at 87 thousand, i.e. nearly 20 thousand up on the same period last year. Furthermore, 15 thousand inhabitants were added because the number of births exceeded the number of deaths. The number of births remained at a similar level as in the first three quarters of 2018, but mortality was down by over 3 thousand.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

14.

First residence permits issued in the EU Member States remain above 3 million in 2018

Main beneficiaries from Ukraine and China

Eurostat, October 25, 2019

https://ec.europa.eu/eurostat/documents/2995521/10189082/3-25102019-AP-EN.pdf/95e08bc8-476d-1f7d-a519-300bdec438cb

Excerpt: Highest number of first residence permits issued in Poland, Germany and the United Kingdom

In 2018, one out of five first residence permits was issued in Poland (635 000, or 20% of total permits issued in the EU), followed by Germany (544 000, or 17%), the United Kingdom (451 000, or 14%), France (265 000, or 8%), Spain (260 000, also 8%), Italy (239 000, or 7%) and Sweden (125 000, or 4%). Compared to the population of each Member State, the highest rates of first resident permits issued in 2018 were recorded in Malta (35 permits issued per thousand population), Cyprus (24), Poland (17), Slovenia (14) and Luxembourg (13). For the EU as a whole in 2018, 6 first residence permits were issued per thousand population.

Return to Top

****

****

15.

Argument preview: Can a noncitizen be "inadmissible" if they are not seeking admission to the U.S.?

By Jayesh Rathod

SCOTUSblog, October 28, 2019

https://www.scotusblog.com/2019/10/argument-preview-can-a-noncitizen-be-inadmissible-if-they-are-not-seeking-admission-to-the-u-s/

Argument analysis: Justices probe the limits of prosecutions of noncitizens under state identity-theft laws

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Pratheepan Gulasekaram
SCOTUSblog, October 17, 2019
https://www.scotusblog.com/2019/10/argument-analysis-justices-probe-the-limits-of-prosecutions-of-noncitizens-under-state-identity-theft-laws/

Return to Top

****
****

16.
The Administration of Immigration Conference Center for the Study of the Administrative State, George Mason University, October 25, 2019 https://administrativestate.gmu.edu/events/the-administration-of-immigration/

Research Papers:

A Seat at the Table for Citizens: Why the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) Applies to Immigration and How Best to Implement this Long Overdue Reform
Julie Axelrod, Chief Litigation Counsel, Center for Immigration Studies
https://administrativestate.gmu.edu/wp-content/uploads/sites/29/2019/10/Axelrod-A-Seat-at-the-Table-For-Citizens.pdf

Silence and the Second Wall
Ming Hsu Chen, Associate Professor of Law and Faculty-Director, Immigration Law and Policy Society, University of Colorado Boulder, Colorado Law School, and Zachary R. New, Joseph & Hall P.C.
https://administrativestate.gmu.edu/wp-content/uploads/sites/29/2019/10/Chen-New-Silence-and-the-Second-Wall.pdf

E-Verify: Mining Government Databases to Deter Employment of Unauthorized Aliens
William W. Chip, Member, Board of Directors, Center for Immigration Studies https://administrativestate.gmu.edu/wp-content/uploads/sites/29/2019/10/Chip-E-Verify.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Forgotten FISA Court: Exploring the Inactivity of the ATRC
Aram A. Gavoor, Visiting Professor of Law, The George Washington University Law School, and Timothy Belsan
https://administrativestate.gmu.edu/wp-content/uploads/sites/29/2019/10/Gavoor-Belsan-The-Forgotten-FISA-Court.pdf

Chevron*'s Asylum: Re-Assessing Deference in Refugee Cases
Michael Kagan, Joyce Mack Professor of Law, University of Nevada, Las Vegas, William S. Boyd School of Law
https://administrativestate.gmu.edu/wp-content/uploads/sites/29/2019/10/Kagan-Chevrons-Asylum.pdf

"Crimes Involving Moral Turpitude": The Puzzling and Persistent (and Constitutional) Immigration Law Doctrine
Craig S. Lerner, Professor of Law, Antonin Scalia Law School, George Mason University
https://administrativestate.gmu.edu/wp-content/uploads/sites/29/2019/10/Lerner-Crimes-Involving-Moral-Turpitude.pdf

Litigating Citizenship
Cassandra Burke Robertson, John Deaver Drinko – BakerHostetler Professor of Law, and Director, Center for Professional Ethics, Case Western Reserve University School of Law; and Irina D. Manta, Visiting Professor at the St. John's University School of Law, and Professor of Law and Founding, Director of the Center for Intellectual Property Law at the Maurice A. Deane School of Law at Hofstra University
https://administrativestate.gmu.edu/wp-content/uploads/sites/29/2019/10/Robertson-Manta-Litigating-Citizenship.pdf

Recalibrating Judicial Review in Immigration Adjudication
Christopher Walker, Associate Professor of Law, The Ohio State University, Moritz College of Law
https://administrativestate.gmu.edu/wp-content/uploads/sites/29/2019/10/Walker-Recalibrating-Judicial-Review-In-Immigration-Adjudication.pdf

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

17.

Morning Consult/BPC Survey Finds Room for Compromise on Immigration; Border Wall a Barrier to Negotiation

Bipartisan Policy Center, September 25, 2019

https://bipartisanpolicy.org/blog/immigration-poll/

Return to Top

****

****

18.

The indirect gender discrimination of skill-selective immigration policies

By Desiree Lim

Critical Review of International Social and Political Philosophy

Vol. 22, No. 7, November 2019

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13698230.2018.1479812

Return to Top

****

****

19.

Five-Year Waiting Period Is a Barrier to Immigrant Health Care Access

By Laura Harker

Georgia Budget and Policy Institute, October 21, 2019

https://gbpi.org/2019/five-year-waiting-period-barrier-immigrant-health/

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

20.

New from the National Bureau of Economic Research

Immigrants' Changing Labor Market Assimilation in the United States During the Age of Mass Migration
By William J. Collins and Ariell Zimran
NBER Working Paper No. w26414, October 2019
http://www.nber.org/papers/w26414

Intergenerational Mobility of Immigrants in the US Over Two Centuries
By Ran Abramitzky, Leah Platt Boustan, Elisa Jácome, and Santiago Pérez
NBER Working Paper No. 26408, October 2019
http://www.nber.org/papers/w26408

Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor, Your High-Skilled Labor: H-1B Lottery Outcomes and Entrepreneurial Success
By Stephen G. Dimmock, Jiekun Huang, and Scott J. Weisbenner
NBER Working Paper No. 26392, October 2019
https://www.nber.org/papers/w26392

Return to Top

****
****

21.

New from the Migration Policy Institute

Legal Migration for Work and Training: Mobility Options to Europe for Those Not in Need of Protection
By Hanne Beirens, Camille Le Coz, Kate Hooper, Karoline Popp, Jan Schneider, and Jeanette Süss
October 2019
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/legal-migration-work-and-training-mobility-options-europe

"Cubicle Activism": Companies Face Growing Demands from Workers to

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cut Ties with ICE and Others in Immigration Arena
By Muzaffar Chishti and Jessica Bolter
Migration Information Source Policy Beat, October 30, 2019
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/cubicle-activism-companies-face-worker-demands-cut-ties-ice

As More Migrants from Africa and Asia Arrive in Latin America, Governments Seek Orderly and Controlled Pathways
By Caitlyn Yates
Migration Information Source Feature, October 22, 2019
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/extracontinental-migrants-latin-america

Return to Top

****
****

22.
New from the Institute for the Study of Labor

The Heterogeneous Effects of Workers' Countries of Birth on Over-Education
By Valentine Jacobs, Benoît Mahy, Francois Rycx, and Mélanie Volral
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12705, October 2019
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12705/the-heterogeneous-effects-of-workers-countries-of-birth-on-over-education

Cognitive and Non-Cognitive Abilities of Immigrants: New Perspectives on Migrant Quality from a Selective Immigration Country
By Maryam Naghsh Nejad and Stefanie Schurer
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12700, October 2019
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12700/cognitive-and-non-cognitive-abilities-of-immigrants-new-perspectives-on-migrant-quality-from-a-selective-immigration-country

Passports for Sale: The Political Economy of Conflict and Cooperation in a Meta-Club
By Kai A. Konrad and Ray Rees

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

IZA Discussion Paper No. 12696, October 2019
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12696/passports-for-sale-the-political-economy-of-conflict-and-cooperation-in-a-meta-club

Return to Top

****
****

23.
New from the Social Science Research Network

1. Slamming the Golden Door: Canada-U.S. Migration Policy and Asylum Seekers
By Robert Falconer, University of Calgary
The School of Public Policy Publications, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3472407

2. Executive Overreaching in Immigration Adjudication
By Fatma E. Marouf, Texas A&M University School of Law
Tulane Law Review, Vol. 93, No. 4, 2019
Texas A&M University School of Law Legal Studies Research Paper Forthcoming
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3476734

3. Immigration and Libertarianism: Open Borders versus Directionalism
By J.C. Lester, London School of Economics
Posted: October 25, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3470727

4. Factors Influencing the Health and Safety of Temporary Foreign Workers in Skilled and Low-Skilled Occupations in Canada
By Codillo Leonor, Independent; Katherine Lippel, University of Ottawa - Civil Law Section; and Delphine Nakache, University of Ottawa, Faculty of Law
New Solutions: A Journal of Environmental and Occupational Health Policy, 29(3), 422-458 (2019)
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3470386

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

5. Understanding Immigration Detention: Causes, Conditions, and Consequences
By Emily Ryo, University of Southern California Gould School of Law
Annual Review of Law and Social Science, Vol. 15, pp. 97-115, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3472509

6. Immigration Unilateralism and American Ethnonationalism
By Robert L. Tsai, Temple University Beasley School of Law
Loyola University Chicago Law Journal, Vol. 51, No. 1, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3469218

7. Closing the Border
By Jonathan Riedel, New York University (NYU), School of Law, Students
New York University Law Review, Forthcoming
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3468829

8. Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor, Your High-Skilled Labor: H-1B Lottery Outcomes and Entrepreneurial Success
By Stephen G. Dimmock, Nanyang Technological University - Division of Finance; Jiekun Huang, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign - Department of Finance; and Scott J. Weisbenner, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign - Department of Finance;
Posted: October 22, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3468544

9. The 2015 EU-Africa Joint-Valletta Action Plan on Immigration: 'Shared Solidarity' and Its Various Meanings
By Mahama Tawat, Higher School of Economics, National Research University and Eileen Lamptey, Independent
Posted: October 22, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3460975

10. Presidential Ideology and Immigrant Detention
By Catherine Y. Kim, Brooklyn Law School and Amy Semet, Columbia University
Duke Law Journal, Forthcoming
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3465859

11. Deporting America's Children: The Demise of Discretion and Family

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Values in Immigration Law
By Lori A. Nessel, Seton Hall University School of Law
Posted: October 17, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3465936

12. Smart(er) Enforcement: Rethinking Removal, Structuring Proportionality, and Imagining Graduated Sanctions
By Daniel Kanstroom, Boston College Law School
Journal of Law and Politics, Vol. 30, No. 4, 2015
Boston College Law School Legal Studies Research Paper Forthcoming
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3470265

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

1. Groups sue to block Trump administration from denying visas to immigrants who can't afford health care
October 31, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/groups-sue-to-block-trump-administration-from-denying-visas-to-immigrants-who-cant-afford-health-car.html

2. Trump administration challenging California sanctuary law in Supreme Court
October 30, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/trump-administration-challenging-california-sanctuary-law-in-supreme-court.html

3. Debate: America Needs a 21st Century Equivalent of the Ellis Island Open Border Immigration Policy
October 29, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/debate-america-needs-a-21st-century-equivalent-of-the-ellis-island-open-border-immigration-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

policy.html

4. Argument Preview in Barton v. Barr
October 29, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/argument-preview-in-barton-v-barr.html

5. New TPS Change for El Salvador
October 28, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/new-tps-change-for-el-salvador.html

6. Another strike for poor immigrants seeking citizenship
October 28, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/another-strike-for-poor-immigrants-seeking-citizenship.html

7. Upcoming DACA Arguments in the Supreme Court: Ted Olson and Janet Napolitano Defend DACA
October 28, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/upcoming-daca-arguments-in-the-supreme-court-ted-olson-and-janet-napalitano-defend-daca-.html

8. Extraterritorial Rights in Border Enforcement
By Fatma E. Marouf
October 28, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/immigration-article-of-the-day-extraterritorial-rights-in-border-enforcement-by-fatma-e-marouf.html

9. Deporting America's Children: The Demise of Discretion and Family Values in Immigration Law
By Lori A. Nessel
October 27, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/immigration-article-of-the-day-deporting-americas-children-the-demise-of-discretion-and-family-value.html

10. Most state DMVs have not turned over driver records to Census

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Bureau, despite requests
October 24, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/most-state-dmvs-have-not-turned-over-driver-records-to-census-bureau-despite-requests.html

11. Immigration Article of the Day: The Law Against Family Separation
By Carrie Cordero, Heidi Li Feldman, and Chimène Keitner
October 23, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/immigration-article-of-the-day-the-law-against-family-separation-by-carrie-cordero-heidi-li-feldman-.html

13. Vacancies Act may impede selection of DHS Acting Secretary
October 22, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/vacancies-act-may-impede-selection-of-dhs-acting-secretary.html

14. White House Jockeying Over New DHS Secretary
October 22, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/ken-cuccinelli-mark-morgan-the-drama-continues-over-who-will-be-president-trumps-next-secretary-of-homela.html

15. Supreme Court Accepts Review in Three Immigration Cases in October Alone
October 21, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/supreme-court-accepts-review-in-three-immigration-cases-in-october-alone.html

16. Big Brother Gets Bigger? U.S. immigration officials plans to collect DNA samples from asylum-seekers
October 21, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/big-brother-gets-bigger-us-immigration-officials-plans-to-collect-dna-samples-from-asylum-seekers.html

17. Denying Citizenship: Immigration Enforcement and Citizenship Rights in the United States
By Emily Ryo and Ian Peacock
October 21, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/immigration-article-of-the-day-denying-citizenship-immigration-enforcement-and-citizenship-rights-in.html

18. Supreme Court Accepts Review in Two immigration Judicial Review Cases
October 18, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/supreme-court-accepts-review-in-two-immigration-judicial-review-cases.html

19. U.S. Department of Justice Prosecuted a Record-Breaking Number of Immigration-Related Cases in Fiscal Year 2019
October 18, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/us-department-of-justice-prosecuted-a-record-breaking-number-of-immigration-related-cases-in-fiscal-.html

20. Supreme Court Hears Argument in Kansas v. Garcia, Immigration Federal Preemption Case
October 17, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/10/supreme-court-hears-argument-inkansas-v-garcia-immigration-federal-preemption-case.html

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Legal Migration for Work and Training: Mobility Options to Europe for Those Not in Need of Protection
The Expert Council of German Foundations on Integration and Migration, October 2019
https://www.svr-migration.de/wp-content/uploads/2019/10/SVR-FB_Study_Mobility_Options_to_Europe.pdf

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

26.
Non-EU immigration
MigrationWatchUK Briefing Paper No. 467, October 18, 2019
https://www.migrationwatchuk.org/briefing-paper/467/non-eu-immigration

Return to Top

****
****

27.
New from the Oxford Refugee Studies Centre

Syrian refugees' return from Lebanon
By Tamirace Fakhoury and Derya Ozkul
Forced Migration Review, October 15, 2019
https://www.rsc.ox.ac.uk/publications/syrian-refugees2019-return-from-lebanon

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Putting Family First: Migration and Integration in Canada
By Harald Bauder

UBC Press, 288 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 0774861266, $58.47
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0774861266/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 0774861274, 120 pp., $35.95

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0774861274/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1213 KB, ASIN: B07RB2M7ZY, $22.48

Book Description: When migrants reach their new home, we often interpret their settlement and integration as an individual process driven largely by the labour market. But family plays a crucial role. Putting Family First investigates the experience of immigrant families settling in the Greater Toronto area, from newcomers' initial reception to their deep involvement in and attachment to their receiving society. Contributors explore such themes as the policy environment, children and youth, gender, labour markets and work, and community supports in order to illustrate how the family context can be mobilized to facilitate the successful integration of newcomers.

Return to Top

****
****

29.
At Europe's Edge: Migration and Crisis in the Mediterranean
By Ċetta Mainwaring

Oxford University Press, 240 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 0198842511, $80.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0198842511/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1198 KB, ASIN: B07X5BRL8W, $76.00

Book Description: The Mediterranean Sea is now the deadliest region in the world for migrants. Although the death toll has been rising for many years, the EU response remains fragmented and short sighted. Politicians frame these migration flows as an unprecedented crisis and emphasize migration control at the EU's external boundaries. In this context, At Europe's Edge investigates why the EU prioritizes the fortification of its external borders; why migrants nevertheless continue to cross the Mediterranean and to die at sea; and how EU member states on the southern periphery respond to their new role as migration gatekeepers. The book addresses these questions by examining the relationship between the EU and Malta, a small state with an outsized role in migration politics as EU policies place it at the crosshairs of migration flows and controls. The chapters combine ethnographic methods with macro-level analyses to weave together policymaker, practitioner, and migrant experiences, and demonstrate how the Mediterranean is an important space for the contested construction of 'Europe'. This book provides rich insight into the unexpected level of influence Malta exerts on EU migration governance, as well as the critical role migrants and their clandestine journeys play in animating EU and Maltese migration policies, driving international relations, and producing Malta's political power. By centring on the margins, the book pushes the boundaries of our knowledge of the global politics of migration, asylum, and border security.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

30.

Undocumented Migration

By Roberto G. Gonzales, Nando Sigona, Martha C. Franco, and Anna Papoutsi

Polity, 192 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1509506942, $62.24
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1509506942/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1509531807, $22.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1509531807/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 456 KB, ASIN: B07Z2C7JJH, $21.80

Book Description: Undocumented migration is a global and yet elusive phenomenon. Despite contemporary efforts to patrol national borders and mass deportation programs, it remains firmly placed at the top of the political agenda in many countries where it receives hostile media coverage and generates fierce debate. However, as this much-needed book makes clear, unauthorized movement should not be confused or crudely assimilated with the social reality of growing numbers of large, settled populations lacking full citizenship and experiencing precarious lives.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

From the journeys migrants take to the lives they seek on arrival and beyond, Undocumented Migration provides a comparative view of how this phenomenon plays out, looking in particular at the United States and Europe. Drawing on their extensive expertise, the authors breathe life into the various issues and debates surrounding migration, including the experiences and voices of migrants themselves, to offer a critical analysis of a hidden and too often misrepresented population.

Return to Top

****

****

31.

India's Low-Skilled Migration to the Middle East: Policies, Politics and Challenges

By S. Irudaya Rajan and Prem Saxena

Palgrave Macmillan, 370 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 9811392234, $149.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/9811392234/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 6364 KB, ASIN: B07Z1PQY22, $139.00

Book Description: This book provides new insights and research studies on how developing countries come to terms with the nationalisation policies of Gulf economies that provide employment for their nationals. Focusing on regions and countries that have traditionally been overlooked, it includes studies on labour migration from Egypt to the Middle East and from the Philippines to Lebanon, migrant experiences and policy prospects in Saudi Arabia and Lebanon, and Indian migration to the Gulf.

The book fills a critical gap in migration research by studying migration from various Indian states, such as Tamil Nadu, Telugu-speaking states (Telangana and Andhra Pradesh), Rajasthan and Uttar Pradesh. It also explores the unexpected phenomenon of demographic windows of economic opportunity (not documented in demographic literature) observed in a few Arab countries due to older migrant expatriates returning to their home country; the impact of international out-migration on intergenerational educational mobility among children in migrant-sending households in Kerala; and forced migration of Kerala Muslims to the Gulf.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

32.

African Footballers in Europe: Migration, Community, and Give Back Behaviours

By Ernest Yeboah Acheampong, Malek Bouhaouala, and Michel Raspaud

Routledge, 180 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 0367262975, $130.37
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0367262975/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 7970 KB, ASIN: B07YGVY9KQ, 178 pp., $49.95

Book Description: African Footballers in Europe traces the social and economic evolution of African football and examines the strategies and resources that players mobilise in their migrations, with a particular focus on 'Give Back Behaviours' (how players contribute to their countries or communities of origin). It shines new light on contemporary migrations, labour markets in sport, and processes of development in Africa.

Using a multidisciplinary approach and Weberian methodology to analyse players' 'Give Back' behaviour, the book highlights the complex rationale behind this behaviour, based on a combination of social, cultural, and economic elements. It features interviews with former and current African professional players, providing a vivid picture of the role of communities in players' migration projects, the allure of the European football market, and investment initiatives that can contribute to local and regional development.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is a vital read for academics, researchers, and students of sport sciences, sociology of sport, sport management, sociology, geography, political sciences, management, sociology of Africa, migration studies, sociology of the labour market, and economic sociology. It is also an important resource for professional organisations, NGOs, football agents, football administrators, federations, confederations, and governments.

Return to Top

****

****

33.

East to West Migration: Russian Migrants in Western Europe

By Helen Kopnina

Routledge, 252 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 0754641708, $133.35
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0754641708/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 3323 KB, ASIN: B07YN541P3, 178 pp., $57.95

Book Description: The collapse of the communist regimes in Eastern Europe brought widespread fear of a 'tidal wave' of immigrants from the East into Western Europe. Quite apart from the social and political importance, East-West migration also poses a challenge to established theories of migration, as in most cases the migrant flow cannot be categorised as either refugee movement or a labour migration. Indeed much of the trans-border movement is not officially recognised, as many migrants are temporary, commuting, 'tourists' or illegal, and remain invisible to the authorities. This book focuses on Russian migration into Western Europe following the break-up of the Soviet Union. Helen Kopnina explores the concept of 'community' through an examination of the lives of Russian migrants in two major European cities, London and Amsterdam. In both cases Kopnina finds an 'invisible community', inadequately defined in existing literature. Arguing that Russian migrants are highly diverse, both socially and in terms of their views and adaptation strategies, Kopnina uncovers a community divided by mutual antagonisms, prompting many to reject the idea of belonging to a community at all. Based on extensive interviews, this fascinating and unique ethnographic account of the 'new migration' challenges the underlying assumptions of traditional migration studies and post-modern theories. It provides a powerful critique for the study of new migrant groups in Western Europe and the wider process of European identity formation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

34.

Comparative Migration Studies

Vol. 7, No. 42-44, October 23, 28, 29, 2019

http://www.comparativemigrationstudies.com/

Latest Articles:

Transnational migration, health and well-being: Nigerian parents in Ireland and the Netherlands

By Allen White, Bilisuma B. Dito, Angela Veale, and Valentina Mazzucato

https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0147-1

Citizenship acquisition of Turkish immigrants in Canada and Germany: a comparative analysis

By Deniz Yetkin Aker

https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0149-z

Stratified membership: health care access for urban refugees in Turkey

By Wanda Spahl and August Österle

https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0148-0

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

35.

Identities: Global Studies in Culture and Power

Vol. 26, No. 6, October 2019

https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/gide20/26/6

Selected articles:

Transnational ties and ethnic identities in the parental homeland: second-generation Indian Americans in India

By Sonali Jain

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1070289X.2018.1441689

The making of a 'risk population': categorisations of Roma and ethnic boundary-making among Czech- and Slovak-speaking migrants in Glasgow

By Taulant Guma

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1070289X.2018.1441690

Using reflexivity to explain variations in migration among the highly-skilled

By Maarja Saar

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1070289X.2017.1412179

Ethno-cultural diversity and the limits of the inclusive nation

By Marco Antonsich and Enza Roberta Petrillo

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1070289X.2018.1494968

'Bushfalling': the ambiguities of role identities experienced by self-sponsored Cameroonian students in Flanders (Belgium)

By Presca E. Wanki and Ine Lietaert

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1070289X.2018.1475975

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

36.

International Migration

Vol. 57, No. 5, October 2019

https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/toc/14682435/current

Articles:

PEACEKEEPING AND TRAFFICKING

The Impact of UN Peacekeeping Operations on Human Trafficking

By Cale Horne and Morgan Barney

https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12606

REMITTANCES, INVESTMENT, GROWTH, AND OTHER EFFECTS

How Do Workers' Remittances Respond to Lending Rates?

By Gazi M. Hassan and Mark J. Holmes

https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12445

Migrant Remittances as a Source of Financing for Entrepreneurship

By Jakhongir Kakhkharov

https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12531

Remittances, Institutions and Growth in Africa

By Prosper Chitambara

https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12542

Social Welfare and Remittances to Older Adults in Two Caribbean Cities

By Nekehia T. Quashie

https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12591

Workers' Remittances and Domestic Investment in South Asia: A Comparative Econometric Inquiry

By Shujaat Abbas

https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12612

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Does Remittance Outflow Stimulate or Retard Economic Growth?
By Khalid Khan Chi-Wei Su Ran Tao Lin Yang
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12615

The Heterogeneous Impact of International Migration on Left-behind Households: Evidence from Bangladesh
By Donato Romano and Silvio Traverso
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12620

Determinants of remittances in Egypt: Do macroeconomic instability and oil price matter?
By Selçuk Akçay and Alper Karasoy
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12625

MIGRATION DRIVERS AND DECISIONS

Economic Migration and Communal Violence in Pakistan
By Raymond Kuo
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12590

Who's About to Leave? A Global Survey of Aspirations and Intentions to Migrate
By Silvia Migali and Marco Scipioni
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12617

Female Immigrant Entrepreneurs: More Than a Family Strategy
By Deborah De Luca Maurizio Ambrosini
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12564

MIGRATION ASPECTS OF EDUCATION

Enrolment in Mathematics and Physics at The Advanced Level in Secondary School Among Two Generations of Highly Skilled Immigrants
By Sabina Lissitsa and Svetlana Chachashvili-Bolotin
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12550

Studying to Stay: Understanding Graduate Visa Policy Content and Context in the United States and Australia
By Adam Grimm

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12561

You Have to Start from Scratch and You Need Someone by Your Side": Perspectives of Parents and Teachers on Immigrant Students' Adaptation to School
By Adi Binhas and Liat Yaknich
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12608

Return to Top

****
****

37.
Migration Studies
Vol. 7, No. 3, September 2019
https://academic.oup.com/migration/issue/7/3

Articles:

Migrants' transnational political engagement in Spain and Italy
By Luis Eduardo Guarnizo, Ali R Chaudhary, Ninna Nyberg Sørensen
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mnx061
Abstract View article

Homeless in the house of God? An investigation of home and homelessness among undocumented migrants living in a Brussels church
By Shannon Damery
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny004

Plastic hospitality: The empty signifier at the EU's Mediterranean border
By Daniela DeBono
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mnz015

The international diffusion of expatriate dual citizenship
By Maarten Vink, Arjan H Schakel, David Reichel, Ngo Chun Luk, Gerard-René de Groot

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mnz011

Social Networks in Urban Situations: Analyses of Personal Relationships in Central African Towns.
By Dorothy Takyiakwaa
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny045

The Three Ages of Algerian Emigration. By Abdelmalek Sayad.
By Thomas Lacroix and Julie Lemoux
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny046

A classic re-examined: Zelinsky's hypothesis of the mobility transition
By Ronald Skeldon
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny019

Developing a new master's program in International Migration Studies in New York City
By Els de Graauw
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny047

Return to Top

****
****

38.
Mobilities
Vol. 14, No. 5, October 2019
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/rmob20/14/5

Selected articles:

The political mobilities of reporting: tethering, slickness and asylum control
By Daniel X.O. Fisher, Andrew Burridge, and Nick Gill
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/17450101.2019.1607049

Dynamics of precarity among 'new migrants': exploring the worker–capital

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

relation through mobilities and mobility power
By Tom Vickers, John Clayton, Hilary Davison, Lucinda Hudson, Maria A Cañadas, Paul Biddle, and Sara Lilley
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/17450101.2019.1611028

Family involved or left behind in migration? A family-centred perspective towards Estonia-Finland cross-border commuting
By Keiu Telve
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/17450101.2019.1600885

Migration as hope and depression: existential im/mobilities in and beyond Egypt
By Harry Pettit and Wiebe Ruijtenberg
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/17450101.2019.1609193

Return to Top

****
****

39.
Population, Space and Place
Vol. 25, No. 7, October 2019
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/toc/15448452/current

Selected articles:

Ethnicity and neighbourhood attainment in England and Wales: A study of second generations' spatial integration
By Carolina V. Zuccotti
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2252

Ethnic residential segregation: A matter of ethnic minority household characteristics?
By Ad Coenen, Pieter-Paul Verhaeghe, and Bart Van de Putte
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2244

Egohoods that segregate. Immigrants, social contexts, and income

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

penalties
By Davide Zampatt,i Gabriele Ballarino, and Flaminio Squazzoni
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2263

Occupational experiences of high-skilled intra-EU immigrants in a transnational space? How European physicians in Germany perceive their career prospects
By Regina Becker
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2245

Determinants of immigrants' concentration at local level in Spain: Why size and position still matter
By Ana Viñuela, Diana Gutiérrez Posada, and Fernando Rubiera Morollón
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2247

Lifestyle migrants or "environmental refugees"?—Resisting urban risks
By Linda Persson
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2254

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, November 1, 2019 4:48 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 11/1/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 11/1/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew R. Arthur, David North, Jessica Vaughan, and John Miano
2. "Stapling Green Cards to Diplomas Is Stupid and Suicidal," Michelle Malkin
3. "Illegal Immigration Is the Reason California Is Burning," Wayne Allyn Root
4. "Most Migrant Smugglers Are US Citizens, Not Cartels," Cathy Burke
5. "No More Sanctuary Cities," John and Andy Schlafly
6. "The Supreme Court Should Kill DACA," Robert VerBruggen
7. "The 'Farm Workforce Modernization Act'," Robert VerBruggen
8. "A Dishonest Report on Immigration Detention," Peter Kirsanow
9. "The Civil Rights Commission's Dishonest Report on Immigration Detention," Paul Mirengoff
10. "Democrats Have Turned California into a Problem-Plagued Burning Nightmare," Victor Davis Hanson
11. "Trump Is Delivering on His Promise to Fix Our Broken Immigration System," Brandon Judd
12. "Mexico Reports 250% Spike in Africans Trying to Enter U.S. Through Border," Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles
13. "There He Goes Again – Biden Lies Once More About Trump and MS-13," Pawel Styrna
14. "Democrats Move to Create New Protected Class – Climate Refugees," Jennifer G. Hickey
15. "Employment Commission Finds African-Americans Passed Over in Favor of Hispanic Immigrant Workers," Bob Dane
16. "Canada Triangulates Toward More Immigration," Bob Dane
17. "States Targeting Private Prisons Are Aiming to Protect Illegal Aliens," David Jaroslav
18. "Please Treat Me Like an Illegal Immigrant," Howie Carr
19. "It's Not 'Racist' to Oppose Unchecked Immigration," Sharyl Attkisson
20. "Mexico Sends Indian Illegals Back to India; Mexico Blocking Brazilians; AMLO Still Praising Trump," Allan Wall

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

21. "As California Burns, LA TIMES Still Banging the Drum for Illegals," Brenda Walker
22. "ICE SVU Saboteurs Withdraw Trump-Ordered Fines for Illegals Who Fail to Depart," Federale
23. "Fairfax County, Virginia Presents Dire Warning to America," Fletch Daniels
24. "Nearly 1M Illegals Apprehended in FY '19, Total Larger Than 90 Percent of U.S. Cities," R. Cort Kirkwood
25. "When Minorities Become Majorities: The Tyranny of Minorities," Frosty Wooldridge
26. "How Governments Use Immigration to Boost Their Economies," Michelle Jamrisko, Jason Clenfield, Sandrine Rastello, and Matthew Bristow
27. "Why E-Verify Is Failing," Alex Nowrasteh
28. "America Needs a 21st Century Equivalent of the Ellis Island Open Border Immigration Policy," Shikha Dalmia
29. "USCIS Changes Policy on Fee Waivers, Potentially Deterring Thousands of Citizenship Applications," Melissa Cruz
30. "New Process in El Paso Seeks to Deport Asylum Seekers in Less Than Ten Days," Katie Shepherd
31. "Prop. 187 Timeline: The Rise and Fall of California's Anti-Immigrant Law," Gustavo Arellano
32. "Children of Poor Immigrants Rise, Regardless of Where They Come From," Emily Badger
33. "New Immigration Bill Threatens Undocumented, International Students," Nathaniel Sweet
34. "Trump's Hostility to Immigration Runs Contrary to the Facts," Anne O Krueger

1.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

A Quid Pro Quo in the Immigration Deal with El Salvador

November 1, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Quid-Pro-Quo-Immigration-Deal-El-Salvador

What to Do About Corporate H-1B Abusers

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

October 31, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/What-Do-about-Corporate-H1B-Abusers

ICE Nixes Improbably High Fines for Alien Scofflaws, but Now What?

October 29, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/ICE-Nixes-Improbably-High-Fines-Alien-Scofflaws-Now-What

Memo to Trump: To Get Anything Done, You Have to Appoint People Who Agree with You.

October 27, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Memo-Trump-Get-Anything-Done-You-Have-Appoint-People-Who-Agree-You

Why Is the U.S. Government Providing Visas to Affiliates of a Designated Foreign Terrorist Organization?

October 26, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Why-US-Government-Providing-Visas-Affiliates-Designated-Foreign-Terrorist-Organization

By Andrew R. Arthur

Are Criminal Aliens Above the Law?

'Progressives' engage in blatant discrimination while the press scribbles. What would 'Doonesbury' think?

November 1, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Are-Criminal-Aliens-Above-Law

Are Immigration Advocates Pro-Drunk Driver?

What would "Quincy, M.E." say?

October 31, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Are-Immigration-Advocates-ProDrunk-Driver

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

AG Issues Guidelines on State Criminal-Sentence Modifications
Returning to logic and uniformity by returning to the INA
October 30, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/AG-Issues-Guidelines-State-CriminalSentence-Modifications

AG: Multiple DUI Convictions Are Indicia Alien Lacks 'Good Moral Character'
Not a hard and fast rule, but both a statutory and discretionary consideration on a 'coveted and scarce form of relief'
October 28, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/AG-Multiple-DUI-Convictions-Are-Indicia-Alien-Lacks-Good-Moral-Character

By David North

H-1B Employers Are Highly Unlikely to Appeal an H-1B Denial
November 1, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/H1B-Employers-Are-Highly-Unlikely-Appeal-H1B-Denial

EB-5 Booster Reminds Us (Inadvertently) of the EB-5/Suicide Connection
October 31, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/EB5-Booster-Reminds-Us-Inadvertently-EB5Suicide-Connection

When DHS Says 'No' in an EB-5 Case, It Prevails
October 29, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/When-DHS-Says-No-EB5-Case-It-Prevails

By Jessica M. Vaughan

Senate Action on Big Tech Green Card Bill S.386/S.2603
October 31, 2019
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://cis.org/Vaughan/Senate-S386-HR1044-S2603-Country-Cap

By John Miano

PBS Frontline Documentary a Good Example of Media Transforming Facts to Fit Their Narrative
October 30, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Miano/PBS-Frontline-Documentary-Good-Example-Media-Transforming-Facts-Fit-Their-Narrative

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Stapling Green Cards to Diplomas Is Stupid and Suicidal
What Millennials and post-Millenials need to know about the suicidal open-borders campaign by cheap-labor corporatists to undercut American graduates.
By Michelle Malkin
American Greatness, October 30, 2019
. . .
https://amgreatness.com/2019/10/30/stapling-green-cards-to-diplomas-is-stupid-and-suicidal/

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Illegal Immigration Is the Reason California Is Burning
By Wayne Allyn Root
Newsmax.com, October 31, 2019
. . .
https://www.newsmax.com/wayneallynroot/california-fires-power-outage-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

immigration/2019/10/31/id/939607/

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Most Migrant Smugglers Are US Citizens, Not Cartels
By Cathy Burke
Newsmax.com, October 31, 2019
. . .
https://www.newsmax.com/newsfront/smugglers-border-citizens-migrants/2019/10/31/id/939681/

Return to Top

****
****

5.
No More Sanctuary Cities
By John and Andy Schlafly
Townhall.com, October 30, 2019
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/johnandandyschlafly/2019/10/30/no-more-sanctuary-cities-n2555548

Return to Top

****
****

6.
The Supreme Court Should Kill DACA
It's an unlawful program and Trump was right to end it.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Robert VerBruggen
National Review Online, October 31, 2019
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/2019/10/daca-supreme-court-should-end-unlawful-program/

Return to Top

****
****

7.
The 'Farm Workforce Modernization Act'
This is not a good trade for immigration skeptics.
By Robert VerBruggen
National Review Online, October 30, 2019
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/farm-workforce-modernization-act-amnesty-pork-e-verify/

Return to Top

****
****

8.
A Dishonest Report on Immigration Detention
It contains many mischaracterizations.
By Peter Kirsanow
National Review Online, October 29, 2019
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/a-dishonest-report-on-immigration-detention/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

9.

The Civil Rights Commission's Dishonest Report on Immigration Detention

By Paul Mirengoff

PowerLine.com, October 30, 2019

. . .

https://www.powerlineblog.com/archives/2019/10/the-civil-rights-commissions-dishonest-report-on-immigration-detention.php

Return to Top

****

****

10.

Democrats Have Turned California into a Problem-Plagued Burning Nightmare

By Victor Davis Hanson

Fox News, October 31, 2019

. . .

https://www.foxnews.com/opinion/victor-davis-hanson-california-premodern

Return to Top

****

****

11.

Trump Is Delivering on His Promise to Fix Our Broken Immigration System

By Brandon Judd

Washington Examiner, November 1, 2019

. . .

https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/op-eds/trump-is-delivering-on-his-promise-to-fix-our-broken-immigration-system

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Mexico Reports 250% Spike in Africans Trying to Enter U.S. Through Border Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles, October 29, 2019
. . .
https://www.judicialwatch.org/corruption-chronicles/mexico-reports-250-spike-in-africans-trying-to-enter-u-s-through-border/

Return to Top

****
****

13.
There He Goes Again – Biden Lies Once More About Trump and MS-13
By Pawel Styrna
ImmigrationReform.com, November 1, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/01/biden-ms-13-animals-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Democrats Move to Create New Protected Class – Climate Refugees
By Jennifer G. Hickey
ImmigrationReform.com, October 30, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/10/30/climate-change-refugees-democrats-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Employment Commission Finds African-Americans Passed Over in Favor of Hispanic Immigrant Workers
By Bob Dane
ImmigrationReform.com, October 29, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/10/29/cheap-labor-immigrants-minorities-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Canada Triangulates Toward More Immigration
By Bob Dane
ImmigrationReform.com, October 25, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/10/25/canada-election-immigration-limits-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

17.

States Targeting Private Prisons Are Aiming to Protect Illegal Aliens

By David Jaroslav

ImmigrationReform.com, October 25, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/10/25/private-prisons-illegal-aliens-end-enforcement-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

18.

Please Treat Me Like an Illegal Immigrant

By Howie Carr

The Boston Herald, October 29, 2019

. . .

https://www.bostonherald.com/2019/10/29/please-treat-me-like-an-illegal-immigrant/

Return to Top

****

****

19.

It's Not "Racist" to Oppose Unchecked Immigration

By Sharyl Attkisson

SharylAttkisson.com, October 27, 2019

. . .

https://sharylattkisson.com/2019/10/analyst-its-not-racist-to-oppose-unchecked-immigration/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

20.

Mexico Sends Indian Illegals Back to India; Mexico Blocking Brazilians; AMLO Still Praising Trump

By Allan Wall

VDare.com, October 27, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/said-in-spanish-mexico-sends-indian-illegals-back-to-india-mexico-blocking-brazilians-amlo-still-praising-trump-etc-6-items

Return to Top

****

****

21.

As California Burns, LA TIMES Still Banging the Drum for Illegals

By Brenda Walker

VDare.com Blog, October 29, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/brenda-walker-as-california-burns-la-times-still-banging-the-drum-for-illegals

Return to Top

****

****

22.

ICE SVU Saboteurs Withdraw Trump-Ordered Fines for Illegals Who Fail to Depart

By Federale

VDare.com Blog, October 26, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/ice-svu-saboteurs-withdraw-trump-ordered-fines-for-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

illegals-who-fail-to-depart

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Fairfax County, Virginia Presents Dire Warning to America
By Fletch Daniels
American Thinker, October 30, 2019
. . .
https://www.americanthinker.com/articles/2019/10/fairfax_county_virginia_presents_dire_warning_to_america.html

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Nearly 1M Illegals Apprehended in FY '19, Total Larger Than 90 Percent of U.S. Cities
By R. Cort Kirkwood
The New American, November 1, 2019
. . .
https://www.thenewamerican.com/usnews/item/33907-nearly-1m-illegals-apprehended-in-fy-19-total-larger-than-90-percent-of-u-s-cities

Return to Top

****
****

25.
When Minorities Become Majorities: The Tyranny of Minorities

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Frosty Wooldridge
NewsWithViews.com, October 28, 2019
. . .
https://newswithviews.com/when-minorities-become-majorities-the-tyranny-of-minorities/

Return to Top

****
****

26.
How Governments Use Immigration to Boost Their Economies
People from abroad bring brains and energy, but there's always the risk of a backlash.
By Michelle Jamrisko, Jason Clenfield, Sandrine Rastello, and Matthew Bristow
Bloomberg News, October 30, 2019
. . .
https://www.bloomberg.com/news/features/2019-10-30/how-governments-use-immigration-to-boost-their-economies

Return to Top

****
****

27.
Why E-Verify Is Failing
By Alex Nowrasteh
Politico.com, October 29, 2019
. . .
https://www.cato.org/publications/commentary/why-e-verify-failing

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

28.

America Needs a 21st Century Equivalent of the Ellis Island Open Border Immigration Policy

By Shikha Dalmia

Reason Magazine, October 28, 2019

. . .

https://reason.com/2019/10/28/america-needs-a-21st-century-equivalent-of-the-ellis-island-open-border-immigration-policy/

Return to Top

****

****

29.

USCIS Changes Policy on Fee Waivers, Potentially Deterring Thousands of Citizenship Applications

By Melissa Cruz

ImmigrationImpact.com, October 30, 2019

. . .

http://immigrationimpact.com/2019/10/30/uscis-changes-fee-waivers-policy/#.XbyXtm5Fyyc

Return to Top

****

****

30.

New Process in El Paso Seeks to Deport Asylum Seekers in Less Than Ten Days

By Katie Shepherd

ImmigrationImpact.com, October 28, 2019

. . .

http://immigrationimpact.com/2019/10/28/prompt-asylum-claim-review-process/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

31.

Prop. 187 Timeline: The Rise and Fall of California's Anti-Immigrant Law

By Gustavo Arellano

The Los Angeles Times, October 29, 2019

. . .

https://www.latimes.com/california/story/2019-10-06/proposition-187-timeline

Return to Top

****

****

32.

Children of Poor Immigrants Rise, Regardless of Where They Come From

A pattern that has persisted for a century: They tend to outperform children of similarly poor native-born Americans.

By Emily Badger

The New York Times, October 28, 2019

. . .

https://www.nytimes.com/2019/10/28/upshot/immigration-america-rise-poor.html

Return to Top

****

****

33.

New Immigration Bill Threatens Undocumented, International Students

By Nathaniel Sweet

The Oracle, October 31, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
http://www.usforacle.com/2019/10/31/new-immigration-bill-threatens-undocumented-international-students/

Return to Top

****
****

34.
Trump's Hostility to Immigration Runs Contrary to the Facts
By Anne O Krueger
The Mail and Guardian (South Africa), October 29, 2019
. . .
https://mg.co.za/article/2019-10-28-trumps-hostility-to-immigration-runs-contrary-to-the-facts

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, November 4, 2019 11:06 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 11/4/19

Featured Posts

Is Canada Number One in Refugee Resettlement?
By Nayla Rush

Why Is the U.S. Government Providing Visas to Affiliates of a

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

According to a recent Pew Research Center analysis of new data from the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), Canada resettled more refugees than the United States in 2018. This contradicts the analysis I shared last March in which I stated that the United States resettled more refugees than any other nation in both 2017 and 2018. I based my conclusion on a statistical snapshot of UNHCR's resettlement activities in 2018 (figures are for the calendar year) that had the United States as the top resettlement submission and destination country in 2018

EB-5 Booster Reminds Us (Inadvertently) of the EB-5/Suicide Connection

By David North

The EB-5 irony is so thick that you can spread it like peanut butter. We would not have known about this except for a letter-writing supporter of the embattled immigrant investor program. (This is the arrangement that grants a family-sized set of green cards to aliens who place $500,000 — soon to be $900,000 — in a U.S. government-designated, but not guaranteed, investment.)

Designated Foreign Terrorist Organization?

By Dan Cadman

Addameer, a Palestinian advocacy group that focuses on Palestinians detained by Israel for security violations, including active participation in terrorist acts, is touring the United States. Addameer's tour is supported in part by a group called the the U.S. Palestinian Community Network (USPCN). This shouldn't be a surprise, because Addameer is closely aligned with the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP), a designated foreign terrorist organization.

AG Issues Guidelines on State Criminal-Sentence Modifications

By Andrew R. Arthur

On October 25, 2019, Attorney General (AG) William Barr issued a decision in Matter of Thomas and Matter of Thompson, which will return logic, order, and consistency to assessments by immigration judges (IJs) and the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) of their review of "state-court orders that modify, clarify, or otherwise alter a criminal alien's sentence". The AG will make it easier for those adjudicators to determine whether individual criminal aliens are removable.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

More Blog Posts

- Are Immigration Advocates Pro-Drunk Driver?
- Senate Action on Big Tech Green Card Bill S.386/S.2603
- What to Do about Corporate H-1B Abusers
- PBS Frontline Documentary a Good Example of Media Transforming Facts For Their Narrative
- When DHS Says 'No' in an EB-5 Case, It Prevails
- ICE Nixes Improbably High Fines for Alien Scofflaws, but Now What?
- AG: Multiple DUI Convictions Are Indicia Alien Lacks 'Good Moral Character'
- Memo to Trump: To Get Anything Done, You Have to Appoint People Who Agree with You.
- Blistering Dissent Underscores Ninth Circuit's Failure to Statute
- House Democrats Want to Know Where Soldiers on the Border Work and Sleep
- Mexico's Latest Migrant Apprehension Numbers
- Supreme Court Forced to Play Whack-a-Mole on Immigration

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, November 4, 2019 1:44 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 11/4/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 11/4/19

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

1. 11/4, DC - Book panel: Open Borders: The Science and Ethics of Immigration
2. 11/4, Cambridge, MA - Discussion on America's immigration dilemma
3. 11/4-6, Miami - Conference on Building a cooperative maritime response to illicit flows across the Atlantic
4. 11/5, DC - Senate hearing on threats to the homeland - [New Listing]
5. 11/5, DC - Conference on human trafficking policy
6. 11/6, DC - CIS panel on lessons for U.S. border security from terrorist migration across Europe's borders - [New Listing]
7. 11/6, DC - Conference on current challenges in refugee policy
8. 11/7, Tougaloo, MS - House field hearing on the impact of immigration raids on communities in Mississippi
9. 11/8, Cambridge, MA - Discussion on Syria and forced displacement - [New Listing]
10. 11/12, Cambridge, MA - Discussion on comparative immigration regimes in Europe and the world - [New Listing]
11. 11/13-14, Davis, CA - Law symposium on the 25th anniversary of Proposition 187 - [New Listing]
12. 11/14, San Diego - Book panel: Migration Control
13. 11/19, DC, - Conference on migrant health in crises
14. 11/19, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on moralized political messages and attitudes toward immigrants
15. 11/20-22, DC - 2019 Homeland Security Week conference
16. 11/20-24, Vancouver, BC - Immigration at the American Anthropological Association annual meeting
17. 12/2, San Diego - Seminar on dealing with unaccompanied child migrants
18. 12/4-6, San Antonio - Border Management South conference
19. 12/12-13, Paris - Annual conference on immigration in OECD countries - [New Listing]

1.
Open Borders: The Science and Ethics of Immigration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

5:00-6:15 p.m. EST, Monday, November 4, 2019
Cato Institute, F.A. Hayek Auditorium
1000 Massachusetts Ave, NW
Washington, DC 20001-5403
https://www.cato.org/events/open-borders-science-ethics-immigration

Speakers:
Bryan Caplan, Author and Professor of Economics, George Mason University

Zach Weinersmith, Illustrator, Saturday Morning Breakfast Cereal comic strip; New York Times bestselling author

Commentator:
Tim Kane, JP Conte Fellow in Immigration Studies at the Hoover Institution, Stanford University

Moderator:
Alex Nowrasteh, Director of Immigration Policy Studies, Center for Global Liberty and Prosperity, Cato Institute

Description: In their new graphic nonfiction book Open Borders: The Science and Ethics of Immigration, authors Bryan Caplan and Zach Weinersmith turn the heated public debate over immigration on its head by proposing a radical and controversial solution: open borders. Caplan argues that opening all borders would practically eliminate absolute poverty worldwide and usher in a booming worldwide economy?greatly benefiting all of humanity, including Americans. With a clear and conversational tone, exhaustive research, and vibrant illustrations by Zach Weinersmith of Saturday Morning Breakfast Cereal fame, Open Borders makes the case for unrestricted immigration in a new format sure to spark lively debate. Caplan and Weinersmith will be joined by Tim Kane, the JP Conte Fellow in Immigration Studies at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University, who is a supporter of liberal immigration laws but a critic of open borders. Please join us for a timely and lively discussion.

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2.

America's Immigration Dilemma

Co-sponsors: MIT Starr Forum, MIT Center for International Studies (CIS), and The Myron Weiner Seminar Series on International Migration

1:00-2:30 p.m., Monday, November 4, 2019
Building E15, 070 Bartos
20 Ames Street
Cambridge, MA 02142
https://calendar.mit.edu/event/StarrForumImmigrationDilemma

Speaker:
Cristina Rodríguez, Leighton Homer Surbeck Professor of Law at Yale Law School

Discussant:
Justin Steil, Assistant Professor of law and urban planning

Return to Top

****
****

3.

Atlantic Strategy Group 2019 United States: Illicit Flows Across the Atlantic: Building a Cooperative Maritime Response

Monday-Wednesday, November 4-6, 2019
Adrienne Arsht Center for Performing Arts
1300 Biscayne Blvd, Miami, FL 33132
http://www.gmfus.org/events/atlantic-strategy-group-2019-united-states-illicit-flows-across-atlantic-building-cooperative

Description: The Atlantic Strategy Group (ASG) is the core activity in our wider Atlantic work. Through twice-yearly meetings, the group has explored emerging developments in Atlantic geopolitics and geo-economics, and their implications for transatlantic partnerships. The next meeting of the ASG will be held in Miami, November 4-6, 2019, at the Adrienne Arsht Center for Performing Arts, and will address the topic of illicit trafficking across the Atlantic and the need to further develop and improve maritime security cooperation at the regional and transatlantic levels. This edition of the ASG is organized in partnership with the Policy Center for the New South, the Luso American Development Foundation, and the Green Family Foundation, and with the cooperation of I.R. Consilium.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Participation to the Atlantic Strategy Group is upon invitation only. For more information please contact Laura Basagni at lbasagni@gmfus.org.

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Threats to the Homeland

2:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 5, 2019
Senate Committee on Homeland Security & Governmental Affairs
340 Dirksen Senate Office Building, SH 216
Washington, DC, 20510
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/threats-to-the-homeland

Witnesses:
Kevin K. McAleenan, Acting Secretary
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
Acting Secretary McAleenan will be accompanied by Hon. David Glawe, Under Secretary for Intelligence & Analysis

Christopher A. Wray, Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation

Russell Travers, Acting Director
National Counterterrorism Center

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

5.

A Shared Global Shame: Human Trafficking Policy and Its Effectiveness in a Disruptive Environment

10:00 a.m.–12:00 p.m., Tuesday, November 5, 2019
Georgetown University Intercultural Center Auditorium
37th & O Street
Washington, DC 20057
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/a-shared-global-shame-conversation-on-human-trafficking-policy-tickets-77293594221

Featuring:
John (Jack) Scarola, Partner, Searcy, Denney, Scarola, Barnhart, and Shipley
Christine Dolan, Investigative Journalist, former CNN Political Director

The State of Human Trafficking Policy
Stephen Diaz Gavin, Partner, Rimon P.C. Law Firm
Kevin Hyland, former UK Anti-Slavery Commissioner
William "Chip" Rogers, President & CEO, American Hotel & Lodging Association

What is on the Horizon?
Bob Hamer, retired FBI Agent
Homayra Sellier, Founder & CEO, Innocence in Danger
Del Wilber, retired Department of Defense and Central Intelligence Agency

Open to all students, the public, and the media.

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

6.

Terrorist Migration Across Europe's Borders – Lessons for American Border Security

9:30 a.m., Wednesday, November 6, 2019
National Press Club, Zenger Room
529 14th St. NW, 13th Floor
Washington, D.C. 20045
https://cis.org/Press-Release/Panel-Terrorist-Migration-Across-Europes-Borders

Description: The Center for Immigration will host a panel discussion Wednesday, November 6, on how migration and terrorism have combined to be a destructive force in Europe and what America can learn from the European experience. The starting point for conversation will be a Center report documenting Europe's migrant terrorism experience, analyzing the U.S. threat, and proposing U.S. border security improvements.

"What happened to Europe and is still happening – an outbreak of violent jihadist acts by asylum-seeking migrants who were systematically smuggled over its land borders – should finally be widely acknowledged as proof-of-concept that unguarded land borders and broken border management systems anywhere are vulnerable to a terror travel tactic that was only recently regarded as theoretical or unworthy of consideration," said Todd Bensman, senior national security fellow at the Center. "Only by acknowledging what happened can the threat be more thoroughly studied for lessons applicable to American border security and immigration policy."

Participants:
Todd Bensman, CIS Senior National Security Fellow. Prior to joining CIS, Bensman worked at the Texas Department of Public Safety's Intelligence and Counterterrorism Division. Bensman has more than 20 years of experience as an award-winning journalist covering national security topics, with particular focus on the Texas border.

James G. Conway, Former Special Agent for the FBI focused on international terrorism for over 25 years. He established an intelligence program and working group with Mexican counterparts to track "special interest alien" migrants from Muslim-majority countries who were being smuggled to the U.S. southern border.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Robin Simcox, Margaret Thatcher Fellow for The Heritage Foundation, where he specializes in counterterrorism and national security. Simcox authored "The Asylum-Terror Nexus: How Europe Should Respond," a study of migrants who applied for asylum in Europe and went on to conduct terror attacks.

Stream: Facebook Live, YouTube Live

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Current Challenges in Refugee Policy: Kids, Courts, and Refugee Resettlement in Global Perspective

9:30 a.m.-5:15 p.m., Wednesday, November 6, 2019
Georgetown University, Copley Formal Lounge
3700 O Street, NW
Washington DC 20057
https://berkleycenter.georgetown.edu/events/current-challenges-in-refugee-policy

Description: From hardening policies on the border to drastic cuts in refugee resettlement numbers, U.S. policies toward refugees have undergone a sea change in the past year. This conference will examine four key aspects of this changing reality: policies toward refugee and migrant children, the role of religion and religious institutions in forced migration, procedural justice for migrants in U.S. courts, and the particular challenges and future outlook of refugee resettlement agencies.

This conference reflects the work of the Global Refugee and Migration Project, a collaborative 18-month initiative of Georgetown's Institute for the Study of International Migration and its Berkley Center for Religion, Peace, and World Affairs. Through this initiative, Georgetown faculty and students have carried out research, organized public meetings and research seminars, and disseminated policy recommendations and scholarship to a broad audience. This conference offers an opportunity to reflect on the work accomplished over the course of the initiative, as well as the current state and future directions of global refugee policy.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Schedule:

9:30-9:45 a.m.
Welcome

Thomas Banchoff, Office of the Vice President for Global Engagement
Katharine Donato, Institute for the Study of International Migration

9:45-11:00 a.m.
Global Policies and Best Practices for Children on the Move

Ashley Feasley, U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops
Maria Odom, Kids in Need of Defense (KIND)
Lauren Olosky, Georgetown University
Morgan Smith, Georgetown University

Moderator:
Elizabeth Ferris, Institute for the Study of International Migration

11:15 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Forced Migration: What's Religion Got to Do with It?

Jocelyne Cesari, Berkley Center for Religion, Peace, and World Affairs
Elizabeth Ferris, Institute for the Study of International Migration
David Hollenbach, Berkley Center for Religion, Peace, and World Affairs
Katherine Marshall, Berkley Center for Religion, Peace, and World Affairs

Moderator:
Michael Kessler, Berkley Center for Religion, Peace, and World Affairs

12:30-2:00 p.m.
Lunch and Keynote Address
Eric Schwartz, Refugees International

2:00-3:15 p.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Courts and Procedural Justice

Claudia Cubas, CAIR Coalition
Cecilia Li, Georgetown University
Emily Ryo, University of Southern California Gould School of Law

Moderator:
Katharine Donato, Institute for the Study of International Migration

3:30-4:45 p.m.
The Future of U.S. Refugee Resettlement Policy

Nazanin Ash, International Rescue Committee
Jen Smyers, Church World Service
Naomi Steinberg, HIAS
Jenny Yang, World Relief

Moderator:
Anne Richard, Institute for the Study of International Migration

4:45-5:00 p.m.
Closing Remarks
Shaun Casey, Berkley Center for Religion, Peace, and World Affairs

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Immigration Raids: Impacts and Aftermath on Mississippi Communities

10:00 a.m., Thursday, November 7, 2019
Holmes Hall Auditorium, Tougaloo College
Touglaoo, MS 39174
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/immigration-raids-impacts-and-aftermath-on-mississippi-communities

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Witnesses:
TBA

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Syria, Forced Displacement and the Rise of Refugee Rentierism in the European Periphery

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, November 8, 2019
Hoffmann Room, Adolphus Busch Hall
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2019/11/syria-displacement-refugee-tsourapas

Description: As the number of refugees globally reaches new records, European and North American states are developing diverse yet similar strategies that link their management of forced displacement to closer cooperation with host states of first asylum in their periphery. How has the Syrian refugee crisis affected European foreign policy and what are the implications for refugee host states in the Middle East?

Gerasimos Tsourapas identifies a global shift towards the commodification of forced migration, as host states of first asylum are offered economic and political rewards in exchange for serving as buffer zones against asylum-seekers reaching Europe and North America. By focusing on European foreign policy towards the three major host states of Syrian refugees (Jordan, Lebanon, and Turkey) in the 2015-2016, he examines the rise of “refugee rentier states,” namely states seeking to leverage their position as host states of displaced communities for material gain.

Through the lens of power politics, the EU-Turkey Deal as well as the Jordan and Lebanon Compacts are indicative of an increasing trend in terms of leveraging refugee populations for political and economic advantage across the Global South. The speaker argues for the emergence of a novel research agenda around migration diplomacy and discusses the implications of refugee rent-seeking behavior for the international system.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speaker:
Gerasimos Tsourapas, Senior Lecturer in Middle East Politics, University of Birmingham; Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Crossroads: Comparative Immigration Regimes in Europe and the World

2:30-4:00 p.m., Tuesday, November 12, 2019
Goldman Room, Adolphus Busch Hall
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2019/11/immigration-regimes-europe-world

Description: Europe is at the center of countervailing trends in the governance of global migration. Justin Gest will present findings of his book Crossroads: Comparative Immigration Regimes in a World of Demographic Change (Cambridge University Press, 2018), which he co-authored with Anna Boucher. The study offers a unique analysis of immigration governance across fourteen European states, and thirty countries worldwide. Relying on a database of immigration demographics in the world's most important destinations, it presents a novel taxonomy and an analysis of what drives different approaches to immigration policy over space and time.

Speaker:
Justin Gest, Assistant Professor of Public Policy, Schar School of Policy, Government and International Affairs, George Mason University

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

11.

The 25th Anniversary of Proposition 187: Challenges and Opportunities for Immigrant Integration and Political Identity in California

UC Davis Law Review Symposium
Wednesday-Thursday, November 13-14, 2019
King Hall Room 1001
UC Davis School of Law
Davis, CA 95616
https://lawreview.law.ucdavis.edu/symposia/2019-fall-nov/

Description: California Proposition 187, passed in 1994, was the first modern anti-immigrant state legislation. While the United States District Court for the Central District of California ruled the law unconstitutional soon after its passage, the law's effects on immigration policies and the Latinx community in California remain. The UC Davis School of Law and UC Davis Law Review are hosting a panel and an academic symposium to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the passage of Prop. 187 on November 13-14, 2019. The panel will feature litigators who challenged Prop. 187 in the courts. The academic symposium will discuss the influence Prop. 187 had on immigration at the state and federal levels, the political environment in California, and Latinx and immigrant communities in four panel discussions. Join us in exploring the legislation and the legal scholarship around the current state of affairs for Latinx 25 years after Prop. 187.

Speakers:
Marisa Abrajano
Professor, Political Science, UC San Diego

Vibiana Andrade
General Counsel, Los Angeles County Office of Education

Maria Blanco
Executive Director, UC Immigrant Legal Services Center

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Beth Caldwell
Professor of Legal Analysis, Southwestern School of Law

Rose Cuison-Villazor
Professor of Law, Rutgers Law School

Lisa Garcia Bedolla
Vice-Provost, Graduate Studies, UC Berkeley

Oded Gurantz
Assistant Professor, Truman School of Public Affairs, University of Missouri

Robert Irwin
Professor of Spanish, UC Davis School of Law

Kevin Johnson
Dean and Professor of Law, UC Davis School of Law

Rachel Moran
Professor of Law, UCLA School of Law

Giovanni Peri
Professor, Department of Economics, UC Davis

Huyen Pham
Professor of Law, Texas A&M

Robyn Rodriguez
Professor, Asian American Studies, UC Davis

Thomas Saenz
President and General Counsel, Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund

Shayak Sarkar
Acting Professor of Law, UC Davis School of Law

Leticia Saucedo
Professor of Law, UC Davis School of Law

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Rick Su
Professor of Law, University of North Carolina School of Law

Angie Wei
Chief Deputy Cabinet Secretary for Policy Development, Gov. Gavin Newsom's Office

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Migration Control - Book Panel

2:00-4:00 p.m., Thursday, November 14, 2019
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Speakers:

John Torpey, Presidential Professor of Sociology and History, Graduate Center, City University of New York
Director, Ralph Bunche Institute for International Studies, Graduate Center, City University of New York
Invention of the Passport, 2nd Edition

Daniel Martinez, Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Arizona
The Shadow of the Wall: Violence and Migration on the US-Mexico Border

David FitzGerald, Theodore E. Gildred Chair in US-Mexican Relations, UC San Diego
Professor of Sociology and Co-Director, Center for Comparative Immigration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Studies, UC San Diego
Refuge Beyond Reach

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Migrant Health in Crises

9:00 a.m.-2:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 19, 2019
Healey Family Student Center Social Room
Tondorf Road
Washington, DC 20007
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/migrant-health-in-crises-a-one-day-symposium-tickets-79257712953

Description: While there is growing recognition of the scale of international migration and displacement, less attention has been paid to the particular health needs of migrants and displaced persons. This Symposium, jointly organized by the Center for Global Health Science and Security and the Department of Family Medicine at Georgetown University School of Medicine and the Institute for the Study of International Migration at Georgetown's School of Foreign Service, will bring together a range of academics and practitioners to consider the particular health challenges facing migrants and refugees.

This Symposium will convene subject matter experts from humanitarian organizations, governments, and academic partners from around the world to address some of the most pressing issues surrounding the health of displaced populations, both domestically and abroad. The discussion will be organized around three focus areas that impact migrant health in crises, each with a regional focus:

Program:

8:30-9:00 a.m.
Forced Displacement and Health Overview

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dr. Katharine Donato & Dr. Erin Sorrell, Georgetown University

9:00-10:30 a.m.

Infectious disease, conflict and displacement: focus on Africa

Moderator:

Dr. Claire Standley, Georgetown University

Melissa Horn, Lead Protection Sector Advisor, Office of U.S. Foreign Disaster Assistance, USAID

Dr. Yves Giebens, Health Coordinator, International Committee of the Red Cross, Jerusalem

Dr. Reem Musa, Médecins sans Frontières, Brussels

Dr. Bernard Nahlen, Director Eck Institute for Global Health, University of Notre Dame

10:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Refugee Healthcare in host countries: focus on MENA

Moderator:

Dr. Elizabeth Ferris, Georgetown University

Dr. Paul Spiegel, Director of Center for Humanitarian Health and Professor, Department of International Health, Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health.

Dr. Dani Poole, Neukom Institute for Computational Science, Dartmouth College

Dr. Aisha Jumaan, Founder and President, Yemen Relief and Reconstruction Foundation

Eskinder Negash, President and CEO, U.S. Committee for Refugees and Immigrants

12:45-2:15 p.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Border Health: focus on US-Mexico border

Moderator:
Dr. Ranit Mishori, Georgetown University

Dr. Aleksander Anikov, Regional Migration Health Specialist for the Americas, International Organization for Migration

Dr. Ciro Ugarte, Director Health Emergencies Department Pan American Health Organization

Dr. Alan Shapiro, Senior Medical Director of Community Pediatric Programs, Clinical Assistant Professor Albert Einstein College of Medicine and Department of Pediatrics, Montefiore Health Systems.

Kathryn Hampton - Director of Asylum Program, Physicians for Human Rights

2:15-2:30 p.m.
Closing Remarks
Dr. Katharine Donato and Dr. Erin Sorrell, Georgetown University

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Moralized Political Messages and Attitudes Toward Immigrants

12:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 19, 2019
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/kristina-simonsen-moralized-political-messages-and-attitudes-toward-immigrants

Kristina Simonsen, Assistant Professor of Sociology, Aarhus University.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

15.

14th Homeland Security Week

Wednesday-Friday, November 20-22, 2019
Grand Hyatt Washington
1000 H Street NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://www.idga.org/events-homelandsecurityweek

https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/hsw-draft-agenda_VhYFVL8UUbZWEBNVzgJx8NCUOnEeFFHeCxZ8RG8k.pdf

Preliminary program:

Wednesday, November 20, 2019

9:00 a.m.

FEMA's Strategic Plan for the Future 2018-2022

-Increasing resilience through increasing disaster preparedness on a local level
-Enhance coordination with intergovernmental agencies
-Streamline FEMA's grant management and improve data analytics

9:45 a.m.

Modernizing Maritime Security And Border Management

-Future strategies of the Coast Guard
-Current theatre of operations and capability gaps
-Procurement priorities and strategic shifts

11:15 a.m.

Procurement and Border Management

-Border management modernization requirements.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-The improvement of border management integration, including tailored procurement of specialized equipment

Rose Marie Davis, Director, Innovative Program Acquisitions, Office of Field Operations, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

DOJ'S Counter-UAS Protection and Acquisition Priorities

-Pinpointing unique requirements of the DOJ to fulfill its objectives - Taking lessons from DOD's counter-UAS acquisition strategies applying them at home
-Testing and fielding counter-UAS technologies to determine the suitability of solutions

Scott Miller, Assistant Section Chief, Surveillance & Aviation, FBI

12:00 p.m.
Confronting the Opioid Crises and Protecting the American People

-Working with interagency and international partners on a comprehensive approaches
-Identifying and monitoring networks of foreign suppliers and domestic importers of fentanyl
-Increasing investigation and prosecution efforts

Combating Nuclear Terrorism: DHS's Efforts to Protect Key Cities from WMDs

-Providing local agencies with equipment for detecting nuclear material
-Training local law enforcement
-Track progress by collecting data from the key cities

Jeffrey H. Musk, Chief, Nuclear Detection Division, Nuclear Technologies Department Research & Development Directorate, Defense Threat Reduction Agency

1:30 p.m.
Challenges and Opportunities in Protecting Energy Critical Infrastructure

-Invest in next-generation physical security controls and cybersecurity

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

technologies
-Continually analyzing and gaming the energy cyber-threat landscape
-Share and communicate cybersecurity information between the public and private sectors

Ronald Keen, Senior Energy Advisor, National Risk Management Center, CISA, DHS

Protecting the Nation's Food Supply

-Identifying sector-wide vulnerabilities and gaps
-Identifying indicators and warnings that could signify planning for an attack
-Develop mitigation strategies to reduce the threat/prevent an attack

Jennie Melin, Consumer Safety Officer, FDA

2:15 p.m.
War on Drugs: Combating Organized Drug Cartels at the Border

-Increasing cohesion between federal, state and local agencies at the border
-Partnering with foreign nations to deny drug cartels a safe haven
-Monitoring money laundering and smuggling operations to hamper drug operations

Increasing the Nation's Preparedness Against Chemical and Biological Threats

-Improving threat awareness through intelligence collecting and sharing
-Investing in advanced detection and surveillance technologies
-Putting in place responsive countermeasure policies

3:30 p.m.
Procurement standards and guideline for providing goods and services to FEMA

-Purpose and importance of current rules in place
-Providing a broad overview of federal procurement rules
-Relationship between Federal rules, State, Local and Tribal procurement rules

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4:15 p.m.
Chairperson's Closing Remarks

Thursday, November 21, 2019

9:00 a.m.
Identifying and Mediating National Security Threats

-Monitoring activities of groups and movements potentially at risk for radicalization and violence
-Improving information sharing policy for the Department
-Building partnerships with nation-wide State and Major Urban Area Fusion Centers

David Glawe, Under Secretary for Intelligence and Analysis, Department of Homeland Security

9:45 a.m.
CISA's Priorities for Advancing Critical Infrastructure Protection and Resiliency

-Strategies in working with private partners to secure our infrastructure
-Priorities for coordinating national cyber security and communications integration center
-Coordinating security and resiliency efforts through public private partnerships

Brian Harrell, Assistant Director for Infrastructure Security, CISA, DHS

11:15 a.m.
DHS's Evolving Requests for DoD Support Along the South-West Border

-DHS's support requirements from April 2018 to present
-How and why those requests have evolved along with the evolving situation at the SWB
-DHS' expectations for DoD support in FY20 and beyond

LTC Kelly Brown, Senior National Guard Advisor to DHS, U.S. Army

Leadership in Cyber

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Strategic and forward thinking
-Mentoring and nurturing talent to increase potential
-Learning and improving by listening

Kevin Nally, Chief Information Officer, US Secret Service

12:00 p.m.
Engaging with the Private Sector to Better Protect Critical Infrastructures

-Weather related threats to critical supply chains
-Improving emergency protocols
-Conducting research into improving strategies and practices Kay Mereish, Senior Advisor, DHS

The race for 5G: Protecting Emerging FifthGeneration Wireless Networks

-End-to-end protection of network traffic
-Investing in R&D to address threats and vulnerabilities to mobile networks
-Improving visibility of traffic from mobile devices to detect malware, cyberattacks and data exfiltration attempts

12:30 p.m.
Interactive Discussion Groups

During this part of the conference, each attendee will have the opportunity to select three topics of their interest from the list below and will rotate between those sessions. Discussion groups are kept small to ensure all attendees get the opportunity to ask their most pressing questions, ensuring a perfectly tailored experience.

1:30 p.m.
IDG Group 1
Key to Identifying Potential Terrorists through Research

-Identity crises often plays a significant role in a person's transition to terrorism
-Often potential terrorists will take part in certain activities that raise red flags about their intents
-Connections with known terrorists online or offline are a big factor in radicalization

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Allison G. Smith, Social Scientist, DHS

IDG Group 2
Using AI for Video Analysis and Increasing Security

-Improving multimedia analytics
-Increasing video data processing time through automation
-Increasing automatic threat detection

Jeff Alstott, Program Manager, Intelligence Advanced Research Projects Activity

IDG Group 3
sUAS Threats and Policy Hurdles Facing Local Police Authorities

-sUAS threat profile for local communities
-Laws and policies limiting the abilities of local law enforcement
-Partnership opportunities with DHS to counter the threat of sUAS

IDG Group 4
Deploying Biometrics Technologies To Secure Sensitive Facilities

-Assessing security vulnerabilities of facilities
-Adding biometrics as an added layer of security
-Picking the best biometric security solutions for your facility

2:15 p.m.
Key Updates On The National Vetting Center Operations

-What are some of the lessons learned?
-Approaches to working with the IC community to support NVC's operations
-Plans for expansion of vetting and enabling advanced analytics capabilities

National Security Threats Posed by Quantum Computing & Strategies to Mitigate Them

-Deploying more resilient cryptography standards
-Investing in quantum computing solutions
-Developing partnership with private industry to share technological know how

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Using Artificial Intelligence and Situational Awareness Technologies for Critical Incident Response

-Enhancing quick decision-making skills
-Improving awareness connectivity between first responders
-Improving patient outcomes and healthcare

The Future of Biometrics & Identity Technologies

-What does the future of identity verification look like?
-Strategies and policies for biometric technology for the next 10 years
-Addressing privacy concerns and data leaks

2:45 p.m.
Improving Airport Security with the Help of AI

-Using machine learning-powered tools that can aide agents to identify threats
-accurately predict the location of threat objects on the body

Using Blockchain Technology to Improve Safety of Critical Infrastructures
-Blockchain shows promise to better protect IoT
-Improved defense mechanisms against collaborative intrusion detection

Dangers of Irregular Migration to National Security
-Human trafficking and drug smuggling networks
-Risk of potential terrorists
-Increased chance of spread of infectious diseases

Blas Nunez-Neto, Senior Policy Researcher, RAND

Transitioning Identity Management Systems To The Cloud
-Update on the development of HART
-Addressing stakeholder challenges
-Increasing collaboration and data sharing

4:00 p.m.
Promoting Best Practices and Streamlining Acquisition Management at DHS

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Establish cross-functional teams in which key stakeholders coordinate and execute the acquisition tasks
-Strategically assess agency needs and how acquisition can meet those needs
-Establish mechanisms that promote the participation of small business suppliers

4:30 p.m.
Cyber threats to critical infrastructure (what are the threats? How to counter them? How to mitigate impact of?

Bob Kolasky, Director, National Risk Management Center, CISA
Lara Schmidt, Director, Strategy, Policy, and Operations Program, RAND
Ryan Consaul, Senior International Defense Researcher, RAND

Friday, November 22, 2019

9:00 a.m.
Breaking Down the DHS Information Technology Strategic Plan 2019-2023

-Optimize workplace technologies with cost-efficient and high impact solutions
-Developing a plan for safe and swift cloud migration
-Implement data protection practices to safeguard DHS systems and applications

9:45 a.m.
Keynote Presentation -James P. O'Neill, Police Commissioner, NYPD

11:15 a.m.
The Nexus Between Homeland Defense and Homeland Security
Homeland Defense: A Whole of Nation Mission

-The strategic environment demands an urgent reexamination of Homeland Defense
-Any gaps between Homeland Defense and Homeland Security must be addressed
-DoD Mission Assurance requires whole of community partnerships

Neal Anderson, Senior Advisor to DHS, NORAD

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Promoting Public-Private Partnerships to Promote Security and Increase Resilience within the Nation's Chemical Industry

-Developing and implementing partnerships -Strategies and protocols during natural disasters
-Promoting good practices among federal, state and local agencies

Eric Choy, Chief, Chemical Sector Specific Agency, CISA, DHS
Amy Graydon, Deputy Director at Infrastructure Security Compliance Division, DHS
Jonathan Buckles, Section Chief, Government & Industry Affairs, DHS

12:00 p.m.
Engaging with the Private Sector to Better Protect Critical Infrastructures

-Establishing protocols to promote information sharing
-Equipping Private Sector critical infrastructure owners and the intelligence needed to protect instrumental assets
-Strengthening and expanding current partnership agreements

Modernizing CBP's IT Infrastructure to increase network resilience and streamlining CBP operations

-Implementing cloud technologies to better connect the vast CBP IT network
-Using machine learning and data analytics tools to improve CBP's threat and fraud detection capabilities
-Modernizing CBP network to increase bandwidth for all users and increasing protection against attacks

1:30 p.m.
Developing Effective Response Plans to CBRN Attacks That Minimize Risk to Personnel

-Training federal government employees in how to best respond to CBRN attacks with minimal loss of services
-Identifying new and emerging technologies in the field and finding their applications within Homeland Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Sean Crawford, Director, Chemical, Biological, Radiological, Nuclear Office, FEMA

Investing in full spectrum impedance and denial capabilities to reduce illegal immigration, drug smuggling and human trafficking

-Increasing infrastructure investment at the border and enforcement of immigration and criminal laws
-Equipping our law enforcement professionals with the latest tools, technology, and training they need to do their job
-Collaborating with federal and local law enforcement agencies and international

2:15 p.m.
Supporting Border Response And Recovery Capabilities With And Between Federal, State, Local And Canadian Partners

-Implementing plans to promote open communication and strategies across the international boundary
-Evaluating progress toward addressing capability gaps in the Northern and Southern Border
-Policies & Plans to facilitate effective response and recovery operations

Manpower, the core of CBP: Recruiting, Hiring, training, and retaining the most qualifies people

-Enhancing recruiting and hiring efforts and reducing obstacles to attracting quality candidates
-Improving the messaging of recruitment campaigns to more closely align with CBP's mission
-Offering incentives to increase staff retention

3:15 p.m.
Intelligence Sharing Panel Discussion

Protecting the American people from ever-changing domestic and transnational threats requires a DHS that shares intelligence not only with internal agencies but also partnering federal intelligence agencies. In this panel leaders from various national intelligence agencies will discuss how far they have come since 9/11 when it comes to intelligence sharing and pinpoint areas for improvement.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Panelists:
Sean Moon, Chief, Global Strategies, Office of Strategy, Policy, and Plans, DHS

Lilian Alessa, Deputy Chief, Global Strategies, DHS

3:45 p.m.
Enforcing our Immigration Laws by Empowering and Modernizing Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE)

-Increasing the numbers of law enforcement officers and support personnel
-Investing in safe and secure detention facilities
-Partnering with foreign governments to expedite necessary removals

4:30 p.m.
Chairperson's Closing Remarks

Return to Top

****
****

16.
American Anthropological Association annual meeting

Wednesday-Sunday, November 20-24, 2019
Vancouver Convention Centre
1055 Canada Place
Vancouver, BC
V6C 0C3, Canada
https://www.americananthro.org/AttendEvents/landing.aspx?ItemNumber=14722&navItemNumber=566

Immigration-related sessions:

Wedneday, November 20, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4:30 p.m.

Race, Representation and Migration

Elizabeth Ann Kozlowski – Tulane University
Sabia McCoy-Torres – Tulane University
Shao-Yun Chang – Tulane University
Sarah M. Reynolds – Tulane University
Diane Ghogomu – Tulane University

Thursday, November 21, 2019

10:15 a.m.

Privatization of Migration Enforcement and Humanitarian Management in Borderland Infrastructures

Carolina Sanchez Boe – Université Paris Descartes - Sorbonne Cité
Vincent Nicolas Joos – Florida State University
Sarah Elaine Dillard Mitchell – Clark University
Asher Goldstein – Linkoping universitet

2:00 p.m.

Volunteering Compassion and Solidarity: Creating Inclusive Climates for Migrants and Refugees in Europe

Ashley Laurel Witcher – University of Amsterdam
Michael C. Ennis-McMillan – Skidmore College, Department of Anthropology
Ashley Laurel Witcher – University of Amsterdam
Nicola L. Bulled – Center for Health, Intervention, and Prevention (CHIP), at University of Connecticut
Monika Palmberger – University of Vienna
Frances Trix – Indiana University
Laura Schack – Royal Holloway, University of London
Katherine C. Donahue – Plymouth State University

9:30 p.m.

Society for the Anthropology of Europe (SAE) Café Europa: Migration and Affect

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dace A. Dzenovska – University of Oxford
Elena Popa

Friday, November 24, 2019

2:00 p.m.

Examining the Boundary and Border-Producing Practices that Immigrant Youth and Refugee Families Encounter in U.S. Institutions

Theresa A. McGinnis – Hofstra University
Sally Bonet – Colgate University
Sophia L. Ángeles – University of California, Los Angeles
Daryl M. Gordon – Adelphi University
Iris M. Ramirez – University of California, Los Angeles

4:15 p.m.

Borders, Policing, and Latinx Immigrant Vulnerability: A roundtable discussion of four new ethnographies of immigrant policing in the United States

Nolan Kline – Rollins College, Department of Anthropology
Ruth M. Gomberg-Munoz – Loyola University Chicago
Christina Marisa Getrich – University of Maryland, College Park
Nolan Kline – Rollins College, Department of Anthropology
William D. Lopez – University of Michigan School of Public Health
Jeremy Slack – The University of Texas at El Paso
Heide Castaneda – University of South Florida
Sarah B. Horton – University of Colorado Denver, Department of Anthropology

Migration, mobilities and "vitality' in la francophonie canadienne

Gabrielle Breton-Carbonneau – Ontario Institute for Studies in Education/University of Toronto
Thierry Deshayes – Université de Montréal
Monica Heller – University of Toronto; Yves Frenette
Patricia Lamarre – University of Montreal
Carsten Quell – Treasury Board of Canada Secretariat

Migration, Placemaking and the Interrogation of Nation-based Discourses

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Glynis George
Nicola Mooney
Jennifer Cook – Southern Methodist University
Mark McIntyre – University of Victoria
Diane Riskedahl – University of Toronto Scarborough

Migration, scale, language ideologies

Adrienne Lo – University of Waterloo
Elise C. Berman – University of North Carolina, Charlotte
Lydia Catedral – City University of Hong Kong
Kathryn C. Hardy – Ashoka University
Adrienne Lo – University of Waterloo
Sibusiwe Dube – Pennsylvania State University
Cecile Vigouroux - Simon Fraser University

Saturday, November 23, 2019

8:00 a.m.
Class Acts: Migration and Social Mobility in Africa and its Diasporas

Pamela Feldman-Savelsberg – Carleton College
Cati Coe – Rutgers University, Camden
Julia Pauli – University of Hamburg, Germany
Yolanda D. Covington-Ward – University of Pittsburgh
Chelsie Yount-Andre – University of Montpellier, France
Abdoulaye Kane – University of Florida
Lena Luise Kroeker – Bayreuth University

Ethnicity, Migration, and Labor in Modern Turkey

Deniz Duruiz – Northwestern University
Elif Irem Az – Columbia University
Nikolaos Michailidis – Princeton University
Onur Gunay – Princeton University
Elif Babul – Mount Holyoke College
Salih Can Aciksoz – University of California, Los Angeles

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

10:15 a.m.

Executive Session - Oral Presentation Session - The Migrant Caravan and Legacies of Violence: The Changing Climate of Immigration and Asylum at the U.S./Mexican Border and Beyond

Timothy J. Smith – Appalachian State University
Ellen Moodie – University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign, Department of Anthropology
Jon Horne Carter – Appalachian State University
M. Gabriela Torres – Wheaton College
Victoria D. Sanford – CUNY - Herbert H Lehman College
Mariana Mora – CIESAS
Lynn M. Stephen – University of Oregon
Ruth M. Gomberg-Munoz – Loyola University Chicago

Articulating Morality in Return Migration

Valerio Simoni – The Graduate Institute, Geneva
Jeremie Voirol – Graduate Institute Geneva
Mikaela H. Rogozen-Soltar – University of Nevada Reno, Department of Anthropology
Paul Stoller – West Chester University
Marina V. Sapritsky-Nahum – London, UK
Ellen Oxfeld – Middlebury College
Jarrett Zigon – University of Virginia
Edward F. Fischer – Vanderbilt University

2:00 p.m.

Coming of Age Between the US, Mexico, and Central America's Northern Triangle: Youth, Im/migration, and Education - Session 1

Michelle Bellino – University of Michigan, SOE
Edmund T. Hamann – University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Department of Teaching, Learning, & Teacher Educ.
Maxie Gluckman – University of California, San Diego
Gabrielle Oliveira – Boston College
Susan C. Bibler Coutin – University of California, Irvine
Andrea E. Dyrness – University of Colorado, Boulder
Ariel Borns – University of Wisconsin - Madison

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Familiar Strangers: The Making and Continuity of Canada-U.S. State-sanctioned 'Seasonal' Migrant Labor

Luis F.B. Plascencia
Christian Zlolniski – University of Texas Arlington
David Griffith – East Carolina University
Stephanie Mayell; Lidia Esther Munoz

Meeting of SUNTA's Committee on Refugees & Immigrants (CORI)

Suzanne Scheld – California State University, Northridge
Faedah M. Totah – Virginia Commonwealth University School of World Studies

4:15 p.m.

Coming of Age Between the US, Mexico, and Central America's Northern Triangle: Youth, Im/migration, and Education - Session 2 (of 2)

Maxie Gluckman – University of California, San Diego
Michelle Bellino – University of Michigan, SOE;
Edmund T. Hamann – University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Department of Teaching, Learning, & Teacher Educ.
Jen Stacy – California State University, Dominguez Hills
David Martinez-Prieto – University of Texas at San Antonio
Bradley A. Levinson – Indiana University, Bloomington

Mobile Solidarities: Thinking About Migration Through Kinship and Indebtedness

Fiori Sara Berhane – Brown University
Carla Hung – Arizona State University
Lilith Mahmud – University of California, Irvine
Jamie Fuller – University of Florida
Justinas Stankus
Sarah A. Smith – SUNY - Old Westbury

Sunday, November 24, 2019

10:15 a.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cultural Capital, Immigration, and Bilingual Acquisition: Transnational and Transgenerational Perspectives of Chinese Parents' and Communities' Practices in Canada

Guofang Li – University of British Columbia
Caroline Chung-Hsuan Locher-Lo – University of British Columbia
Ai Mizuta – University of British Columbia
Cindy Lau – University of British Columbia
Zhuo Sun – University of British Columbia

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Suffer the Little Children: Unaccompanied Child Migrants and the Geopolitics of Compassion in Postwar America

12:00-1:00 p.m., Monday, December 2, 2019
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer---Bradford-12-2-19.pdf

Speakers:
Anita Casavantes Bradford
Associate Professor of Chicano/Latino Studies and History, UC Irvine
Co-Director, UC-Cuba Multi Campus Academic Initiative

Discussant:
John Skrentny
Professor of Sociology, UC San Diego
Director, Yankelovich Center for Social Science Research, UC San Diego

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

18.

Border Management South

Wednesday-Friday, December 4-6, 2019
Hilton Garden Inn San Antonio
8101 Pat Booker Rd.
Live Oak, Texas, 78233, USA
https://www.idga.org/events-bordermanagementsummit/landing/official-border-management-south-brochure
https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/border-management-south-2019.pdf

Overview: The southern border shared between Canada, Mexico, and the U.S. is an enormous economic gateway for the United States, but it requires control, safety and modernization to maintain it. Enforcing laws and securing the border is a top priority for the Department of Homeland Security. As time passes, the need for operator driven policies and solutions, modern devices, and fully integrated border becomes more crucial.

This year's Border Management South Summit will aim to connect local, federal and state officials to discuss the top challenges and priorities in the field. Interactive group discussions and panels will address procurement initiatives and aligning border solutions with development of operators.

Agenda:

Focus Day, Wednesday, December 4, 2019

8:50 a.m.
CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.
USING THE INTEGRATION OF IT SYSTEMS TO ENHANCE RESPONSE AT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

THE BORDER

The U.S./Mexico border is in need of becoming a fully integrated border. This session will evaluate how communication between law enforcement officials and security personnel will be seamless and sufficient using integration strategies.

* Understanding how the integration of technological systems will enhance communication across the border
* Enhancing border mobility
* Managing information data flow across the border

10:30 a.m.

OPTIMIZING THE USE OF SECURITY PERSONNEL USING SECURITY APPLICATIONS

This session will provide a break down of how the use of advanced analytics can transform and protect the border. Advanced analytics will be able to detect security breaches from objects, unauthorized people and more. Security personnel will be able to receive knowledge of potential threats and act accordingly and in a timely manner.

* Using AI and ML to not only stockpile data, but also manage it
* Utilizing analytical tools to enhance perimeter protection
* Enabling security personnel to recognize threats using intelligent video

12:30 p.m.

ANALYZING DATA TO PREDICT FUTURE EVENTS AND OUTCOMES

Data will only become sufficient and useful if it is then transformed into action. Join us as we learn about the transforming of paper data into visionary plans and help detect future events. Information management allows room for improvement to border services and protection of citizens.

* Managing current data and transforming it into visionary plans and action
* Collecting and exploiting data to drive border decision making Timothy Bennett, Science and Technology Directorate, Department of Homeland Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thursday, December 5, 2019

8:50 a.m.
CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.
TEXAS IN REAL-TIME: RESPONDING AT THE BORDER

* Gain insight on how front line law enforcement officials are tackling border issues in real-time
Sheriff Waybourn, Tarrant County Sheriff Joe Frank Martinez, Del Val Verde County

9:45 a.m.
ANALYZING THE U.S. BORDER AS A SYSTEM: THE MEMBRANE, THE SURVEILLANCE AND THE HUMAN ELEMENT

In order to effectively secure the U.S. / Mexico border, it should be thought of as a system divided into three parts. A representative of the DHS will outline ways of uniting the organizational structure and breaking down each border element into compartments that work together to provide one outcome - effective border security.

* Evaluating the border as a whole system and not in parts
* Identifying the humanity aspect when working at the border

11:00 a.m.
ADVANCING ALL SITUATIONAL AND DOMAIN AWARENESS TO SUPPORT BORDER MISSIONS

Supporting border missions through situational and all domain awareness allows room to address challenges and provides understanding on how to respond in a threatening environment. Custom Border Patrol representatives will share how to appropriately notice changes across the border and respond rapidly.

* Building and sustaining situational awareness in a threat environment
* Using all domain awareness to predict future actions and threats
* Being aware of air, land and maritime border challenges and opportunities

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Jennifer Barreras-Rawls, Operations Section Chief of Joint Task Force West, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

11:45 a.m.

ENSURING INTELLIGENCE DRIVEN OPERATIONS IN A THREAT ENVIRONMENT

It is important to use intelligence for improvement of the border system as a whole. Understanding how to share intelligence between partners and how to utilize the data given is a key component in securing the border.

* Understanding a threat environment using information and data
* Sharing Intelligence between Law Enforcement Enterprise Partners

Brad Skinner, Deputy Director Office of Field Operations Laredo Field Office, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

* Advancing the border using intelligence and innovative technology
* Enhancing operation objectives to increase border protection productivity
* Bringing the human element back into border management

1:30 p.m.

USING A SCIENTIFIC APPROACH TO ADDRESS BORDER CHALLENGES

Scientific breakthroughs and advancements have caused a huge gateway for the use of CIP and enhancing threat management. Here you will understand how intelligence pictures and process help conquer nearby threats.

* Using common intelligence pictures to showcase threat capabilities
* Establishing the ability to detect threats beyond the border
* Deploying a systematic process for analyzing and distributing data

2:15 p.m.

ENHANCING PARTNERSHIPS AND ENFORCEMENT COOPERATION

Establishing partnerships will assist the border in creating meaningful relationships and thus, actively creating new ways to guard the U.S. / Mexico Border. Utilizing department-wide cooperation and international input will help overcome border threats.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Establishing a unity of effort approach to effectively guard the U.S/Mexico Border
* Building international partnerships to effectively detect threats
* Enhancing supply chain security to conduct thorough examinations at the border
Ismael Navarez Jr., Special Agent in Charge, IRS

3:00 p.m.
ADVANCING THE BORDER WITH THE MODEL PORTS PROGRAM

The Model Ports Program was designed to improve overall experience and operations at the port of entry. This session will showcase the reasoning and effectiveness behind the Model Ports Program.

* Improving wait time monitoring and processing
* Conducting meetings with senior level industry leaders for establish goals and monitoring techniques
* Using Public-Private Partnerships to enhance operation at the ports of entry

Friday, December 6, 2019

8:50 a.m.
CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.
PROCUREMENT: FUTURE INITIATIVES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY

A DHS representative will disclose the 2020 Vision for the Department of Homeland Security. Attendees will understand where important investments are being made and how future policy will evolve border management.

* The 2020 outlook for the U.S./Mexico Border
* How policy changes will provide solutions to current border challenges
* Understanding future border investments
Rose Marie Davis, Director innovation Program Acquisitions, DHS

9:45 a.m.
IMMIGRATION OF FAMILIES ACROSS THE BORDER

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The border is currently filled with multiple families including children seeking to come to the U.S. Due to the increase of migrants, facilities constantly become over crowded. Gain insights on how to ensure maintenance of facilities and navigate current and future border policies to secure the border.

* Maintaining protocol and policies when dealing with families at border
* Creating a safe and ethical environment at the U.S. /Mexico border
Robert Gross, DHS Attaché, Department of Homeland Security

11:00 a.m.

PROMOTING INNOVATION AND INTEGRITY AMONGST PERSONNEL

Training personnel on how to react in force situations and maintaining DHS ethical standards is important. Join us as we evaluate new initiatives taking place to reconstruct and advance CBP's organizational structure.

* Reconstructing the border's organizational structure
* Ensuring ethical conduct and integrity along the border
* Advancing training initiatives in assisting use of force situations

11:45 a.m.

PREVENTING COUNTERTERRORISM AND TRANSNATIONAL CRIME AT THE BORDER

Joining forces across law enforcement allows one to maximize its resources and enhance operational integration. Leaders of the Department of Homeland Security will share how the interaction of global partners will assist with reducing crime and potential threats.

* Joining forces with local, state, and federal law enforcement to increase resources
* Using integrated operations to detect weapons and disrupt illegal crossings
* Expanding mobility to quicken response to threats John Jones, Divisional Director Intelligence and Counterterrorism, Texas Department of Public Safety

1:30 p.m.

ADVANCING BORDER TRADING IN ORDER TO PROTECT THE U.S.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Implementing strategies and trade intelligence will protect against unlawful items from entering. This session will break down the use of trade intelligence in real time and how it will shape enforcement efforts.

* Collaborating with advanced technology and enforcement to intercept high-risk shipment
* Responding to border risk in real-time using trade intelligence
* Integration of law enforcement to help protect the border from illegal trade

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Immigration in OECD Countries - 9th Annual International Conference

Thursday-Friday, December 12-13, 2019
OECD Boulogne Conference Centre - 46
quai Alphonse Le Gallo
92100 Boulogne-Billancourt
Paris, France
http://www.cepii.fr/CEPII/en/evenements/abstract.asp?IDReu=472

Description: The conference will examine the economic aspects of international migration in OECD countries by mapping the migratory flows and defining their socio-economic determinants and consequences. Topics of interest for the conference include, among others, the determinants of immigration to the OECD, migrants' self-selection, the labor market and public finance effects of immigration, as well as migrants and refugees social, political and economic integration.

The Keynote speakers are:

Uta Schoenberg, University College of London
Paolo Pinotti, Bocconi University
Thierry Mayer, Sciences Po

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, November 5, 2019 4:42 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: TUESDAY PANEL: Terrorist Migration Across Europe's Borders

Share Tweet Forward

TUESDAY PANEL 9:30AM

Terrorist Migration Across Europe's Borders –

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Lessons for American Border Security

Washington, D.C. (November 5, 2019) - The Center for Immigration Studies will host a panel discussion Wednesday, November 6, on how migration and terrorism have combined to be a destructive force in Europe and what America can learn from the European experience. The starting point for conversation will be a Center report documenting Europe's migrant terrorism experience, analyzing the U.S. threat, and proposing U.S. border security improvements.

When: Wednesday, November 6, 2019, at 9:30 a.m.
Where: National Press Club, Zenger Room, 529 14th St. NW, 13th Floor, Washington, D.C.
Stream: Facebook Live, YouTube Live

Participants:
TODD BENSMAN serves as the Center's Senior National Security Fellow. Prior to joining CIS, Bensman worked at the Texas Department of Public Safety's Intelligence and Counterterrorism Division. Bensman has more than 20 years of experience as an award-winning journalist covering national security topics, with particular focus on the Texas border.
JAMES G. CONWAY served as a special agent for the FBI focused on international terrorism for over 25 years. After 9/11, he was appointed Program Manager of Counterterrorism and Counter-intelligence in the U.S. Embassy in Mexico City. There, he established a national security program that focused, in part, on the threat of "special interest alien" migration from Muslim-majority countries across the U.S. southern border.
ROBIN SIMCOX currently serves as Margaret Thatcher Fellow for The Heritage Foundation, where he specializes in counterterrorism and national security. Simcox authored "The Asylum-Terror Nexus: How Europe Should Respond," a study of migrants who applied for asylum in Europe and went on to conduct terror attacks.

Todd Bensman, senior national security fellow at the Center, said, "What has happened in Europe – an outbreak of terrorist acts by asylum-seeking migrants who were systematically smuggled over its land borders – should finally be widely acknowledged as proof-of-concept that unguarded land borders and broken border management systems anywhere are vulnerable to a new terror travel tactic. The concept is no longer theoretical and warrants more thorough study so that lessons can be learned and applied to American border security and immigration policy."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Further reading

Eight Recommendations to Congress and the White House to Counter Potential Terror Travel to the U.S. Southern Border

Terrorist Infiltration Threat at the Southwest Border The national security gap in America's immigration enforcement debate

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Wednesday, November 6, 2019 12:00 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: NEW REPORT/PANEL TODAY 9:30AM: Terrorist Migration Across Borders

Share Tweet Forward

WEDNESDAY PANEL 9:30AM

Terrorist Migration Across Europe's Borders –

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Lessons for American Border Security

Washington, D.C. (November 5, 2019) - The Center for Immigration Studies will host a panel discussion Wednesday, November 6, on how migration and terrorism have combined to be a destructive force in Europe and what America can learn from the European experience. The starting point for conversation will be a Center report documenting Europe's migrant terrorism experience, analyzing the U.S. threat, and proposing U.S. border security improvements.

When: Wednesday, November 6, 2019, at 9:30 a.m.
Where: National Press Club, Zenger Room, 529 14th St. NW, 13th Floor, Washington, D.C.
Report: https://cis.org/Report/What-Terrorist-Migration-Over-European-Borders-Can-Teach-About-American-Border-Security
Stream: Facebook Live, YouTube Live

Participants:
TODD BENSMAN serves as the Center's Senior National Security Fellow. Prior to joining CIS, Bensman worked at the Texas Department of Public Safety's Intelligence and Counterterrorism Division. Bensman has more than 20 years of experience as an award-winning journalist covering national security topics, with particular focus on the Texas border.
JAMES G. CONWAY served as a special agent for the FBI focused on international terrorism for over 25 years. After 9/11, he was appointed Program Manager of Counterterrorism and Counter-intelligence in the U.S. Embassy in Mexico City. There, he established a national security program that focused, in part, on the threat of "special interest alien" migration from Muslim-majority countries across the U.S. southern border.
ROBIN SIMCOX currently serves as Margaret Thatcher Fellow for The Heritage Foundation, where he specializes in counterterrorism and national security. Simcox authored "The Asylum-Terror Nexus: How Europe Should Respond," a study of migrants who applied for asylum in Europe and went on to conduct terror attacks.

Todd Bensman, senior national security fellow at the Center, said, "What has happened in Europe – an outbreak of terrorist acts by asylum-seeking migrants who were systematically smuggled over its land borders – should finally be widely acknowledged as proof-of-concept that unguarded land borders and broken border management systems anywhere are vulnerable to a new terror travel tactic. The concept is no longer theoretical and warrants more thorough study so that lessons can be learned and applied to American border security and immigration policy."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Further reading

Eight Recommendations to Congress and the White House to Counter Potential Terror Travel to the U.S. Southern Border

Terrorist Infiltration Threat at the Southwest Border The national security gap in America's immigration enforcement debate

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, November 8, 2019 1:13 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: CIS Submits Amicus Brief in support of American Tech Workers

Center for Immigration Studies Submits Amicus Brief in support of American Tech Workers

#NationalSTEMDay

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (November 8, 2019) - The Center for Immigration Studies (CIS) celebrates National STEM Day by filing an amicus brief with the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in support of Washington Alliance of Technology Workers. The amicus brief informs the court of the policy context of the Optional Practical Training (OPT) Program at issue in The Washington Alliance of Technology Workers ("Washtech") v. U.S. Department of Homeland Security, emphasizing the negative effects of OPT on American workers as well as the fiscal health of the nation's Social Security, Medicare, and Unemployment Trust Funds.

This large scale foreign labor program permits the pushing aside of hundreds of thousands of U.S. college graduates by foreign nationals every year and particularly impacts STEM students; foreign national students with STEM degrees are granted three years of work authorization (and an exemption from payroll taxes), two more years than those with non-STEM degrees. Ironically, middle schools and high schools celebrate National STEM Day, encouraging American students to study and pursue careers in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math, while U.S. immigration policy makes it difficult for them to find employment and depresses the wages keeping American students from entering the STEM fields.

The lawsuit presents the federal courts with two simple questions of law: (1) does DHS have the authority to allow aliens to remain in the country on student visas when they are no longer students, and (2) does DHS have the authority to allow these aliens to work? These simple questions have been before the courts for over a decade of litigation.

Read the Center's amicus brief here: https://cis.org/Testimony/Brief-Amicus-Curiae-Support-Plaintiffs-Motion-Summary-Judgment-Washington-Alliance
Learn more about this case here:
https://cis.org/Miano/11-Years-and-Counting-Lawsuit-Challenging-OPT-Guestworker-Program

Highlights:

I. The OPT Program is a regressive income transfer program, which takes $2.4 billion a year from Congressionally-mandated Social Security, Medicare, and Federal Unemployment Insurance Trust Funds for the elderly, the ailing, and the unemployed, and gives it to corporations that discriminate against American citizen graduates.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

II. The OPT Program eliminates approximately 300,000 jobs for Americans and permanent residents at any given time and suppresses wages.

III. The Optional Practical "Training" Program is a misnomer: there is virtually no training involved. It is likely the second largest foreign worker program in the United States

IV. The OPT program lacks transparency, with both government and media concealing its true costs both to the treasury and on American wages.

V. The abuses in this program were made possible because the creation of the program by executive fiat was a violation of the democratic process.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, November 8, 2019 3:55 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 11/8/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 11/8/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "All You Americans Are Fired," Mark Krikorian
2. "Howdy, Hater!," Mark Krikorian
3. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew R. Arthur, David North, Nayla Rush, Todd Bensman, and Jerry Kammer
4. "When Mexican Cartels Slaughter Americans," Michael Cutler
5. "Three Cheers for Refugee Reduction," Michelle Malkin
6. " 'All You Americans Are Fired' - Blacks First?," Peter Kirsanow
7. "More Is More: Caplan and 'Open Borders'," Kevin D. Williamson
8. "Immigration Enforcement Is More Popular Than President Trump," Jim Geraghty
9. "New Data Reveal President Trump's 'Remain in Mexico' Immigration Policy Is Extremely Effective," Chris Enloe
10. "California's War on Citizenship," Jarrett Stepman
11. "California Dems Show Us The Future. Run For Your Lives!," Ann Coulter
12. "Illegal Alien Learns Detention Is Not a Luxury Hotel, Files Lawsuit," Brian Lonergan
13. "Thousands of Migrants Are Voluntarily Going Home After Being Sent Back to Mexico Under Trump Policy: DHS," Janita Kan
14. "Illegal Alien Returns Stateside Ten Days After Deportation, Assaults Ex-Girlfriend at Knife Point, and Steals Car," Timothy Meads
15. "While ICE Tries to Protect Us From Dangerous Criminals, the Media Wrongly Accuses Agency of Killing Detainees," Daniel Horowitz
16. "Free of Charge," Seth Barron
17. "Are Sanctuary Policies the Canary in the Coal Mine?," Ira Mehlman
18. "A Cop's-Eye View from a Sanctuary Jurisdiction," ImmigrationReform.com
19. "Sheriff Who Frees Illegal Alien Convicted of Child Sex Crimes Says Enforcing Immigration Law Not Part of His Duties," Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles
20. "Politics and Immigration: TPS Extended Again," Jack Martin
21. "Ten Reasons I Like Donald Trump, From a Female, Former-Democrat

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigrant," Saritha Prabhu
22. "Trump's Other Immigration Policies Are Popular and Moving Forward," Tim Chapman
23. "Trump's Border Wall Request Equals 0.1% of Federal Spending; House Appropriators Offer $0," Terence P. Jeffrey
24. "Warren: How Does $20.5 Trillion in New Spending for Medicare for All — Plus Amnesty for Illegals - Sound?," Allahpundit
25. "Bishops Stage Pro-Immigration Border Mass in Texas," Thomas D. Williams
26. "Drug Cartels in Our Backyard – Just Ask ICE," Howie Carr
27. "Immigration, Not White Suburbs, Turning VA Blue. GOP Still Can Win With Sailer Strategy—But Ultimately Needs An Immigration Moratorium," Washington Watcher II
28. "Jeff Sessions Reportedly to Run For Senate Again — Will Trump Kill His Candidacy?," Washington Watcher II
29. "Trump's Failure to Get Immigration Patriot DHS Chief Reveals Perilous State of His Presidency (And GOP Pettiness)," Washington Watcher II
30. "Montgomery County, DC Suburb, Reverses Course, Will Allow ICE to Arrest Some Illegals in its Jail," Thomas Lifson
31. "What Happens When We Lose Our Core Identity in America," Frosty Wooldridge
32. "When Mexico's Immigration Troubles Came From Americans Crossing the Border," H.W. Brands
33. "All the President's Immigration Lawsuits," Stuart Anderson
34. "A Small Immigration Step," The Albany Times Union
35. "An Immigration Deal on Farmworkers Could Be a Starting Point on a Bigger Solution," The San Francisco Chronicle
36. "Border Agents Can Now Get Classified Intelligence Information. Experts Call That Dangerous.," Melissa del Bosque
37. "In Blue New Jersey, a Conservative Backlash on Immigration," Tracey Tully
38. "Is Trump Trying to Unleash the Border Patrol on All of America?," Bonnie Kristian
39. "Trump's Asylum Ban Could Apply Retroactively to Thousands of Migrants Even Though Officials Promised It Wouldn't," Dara Lind
40. "What's Happened to the People Returned to Mexico Under the Migrant Protection Protocols?," Katy Murdza
41. "What Is Next for Trump's Health Care Ban?," Melissa Cruz

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1.

'All You Americans Are Fired'

When hiring illegal aliens was outlawed 33 years ago, Democrats feared legal immigrants would face job discrimination. It's turned out quite the opposite.

By Mark Krikorian

American Greatness, November 5, 2019

. . .

https://amgreatness.com/2019/11/05/all-you-americans-are-fired/

Return to Top

****

****

2.

Howdy, Hater!

By Mark Krikorian

The Corner at National Review Online, November 7, 2019

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/howdy-hater/

Return to Top

****

****

3.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

Did the Twitter Spy Commit Naturalization Fraud?

November 8, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Did-Twitter-Spy-Commit-Naturalization-Fraud

Another Local Officer Under the Gun for Cooperating with ICE

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This time in Boston
November 7, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Another-Local-Officer-Under-Gun-Cooperating-ICE

The Certification Power Is Simply an Exercise of the AG's Duty to Faithfully Execute the Law
November 6, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Certification-Power-Simply-Exercise-AGs-Duty-Faithfully-Execute-Law

By Andrew R. Arthur

Grammar at Issue in SCOTUS Argument on 42A Cancellation
'Renders ... inadmissible' and the rotten fish
November 8, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Grammar-Issue-SCOTUS-Argument-42A-Cancellation

D.C. District Judge Denies Injunction in Visa Lottery Case
If you can't afford a passport, can you really afford to live in the United States?
November 7, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/DC-District-Judge-Denies-Injunction-Visa-Lottery-Case

AG Certification Explained
A legal way for the AG to set immigration policy and guide IJ and BIA discretion
November 5, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/AG-Certification-Explained

Wanted: More Child Predators in Buncombe County, N.C.?
When preposterous policy meets irresponsible reality, you get bunk
November 4, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Wanted-More-Child-Predators-Buncombe-County-NC

By David North

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Who Is Hurt when Colleges Cater to Illegal Alien Students? Not the Elite
November 4, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Who-Hurt-when-Colleges-Cater-Illegal-Alien-Students-Not-Elite

Supreme Court May Hear an EB-5 Case on the Disgorgement of $35 Million
November 4, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Supreme-Court-May-Hear-EB5-Case-Disgorgement-35-Million

By Nayla Rush

The International Rescue Committee: Federally Funded, but Working to Undermine Federal Policy
November 5, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Rush/International-Rescue-Committee-Federally-Funded-Working-Undermine-Federal-Policy

By Todd Bensman

Mexico-Based Smuggler Trafficked Six People From Terrorist Hotbed Over U.S. Border
November 6, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/MexicoBased-Smuggler-Trafficked-Six-People-Terrorist-Hotbed-Over-US-Border

By Jerry Kammer

On Prop 187's Anniversary: A Sarcastic Tribute in the LA Times
November 4, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Kammer/Prop-187s-Anniversary-Sarcastic-Tribute-LA-Times

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

4.

When Mexican Cartels Slaughter Americans

Weeks earlier, Senate declared: 'No emergency on the border."

By Michael Cutler

FrontPageMag.com, November 7, 2019

. . .

https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2019/11/when-mexican-cartels-slaughter-americans-michael-cutler/

Return to Top

****

****

5.

Three Cheers for Refugee Reduction

By Michelle Malkin

Townhall.com, November 6, 2019

. . .

https://townhall.com/columnists/michellemalkin/2019/11/06/three-cheers-for-refugee-reduction-n2555982

Return to Top

****

****

6.

'All You Americans Are Fired' — Blacks First?

By Peter Kirsanow

The Corner at National Review Online, November 7, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/all-you-americans-are-fired-blacks-first/

Return to Top

****
****

7.
More Is More: Caplan and 'Open Borders'
By Kevin D. Williamson
The Corner at National Review Online, November 6, 2019
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/more-is-more-caplan-and-open-borders/

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Immigration Enforcement Is More Popular Than President Trump
Immigration issues are important to Americans, we just seem to not want to hear Trump talk about them.
By Jim Geraghty
The Corner at National Review Online, November 6, 2019
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/immigration-enforcement-is-more-popular-than-president-trump/

Return to Top

****
****

9.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

New Data Reveal President Trump's 'Remain in Mexico' Immigration Policy Is Extremely Effective

The policy was recently expanded

By Chris Enloe

The Blaze, November 3, 2019

. . .

https://www.theblaze.com/news/new-data-reveal-president-trumps-remain-in-mexico-immigration-policy-is-extremely-effective

Return to Top

****

****

10.

California's War on Citizenship

By Jarrett Stepman

The Daily Signal, October 20, 2019

. . .

https://www.dailysignal.com/2019/10/20/californias-war-on-citizenship/

Return to Top

****

****

11.

California Dems Show Us The Future. Run For Your Lives!

By Ann Coulter

VDare.com, November 6, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/ann-coulter-california-dems-show-us-the-future-run-for-your-lives

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

12.

Illegal Alien Learns Detention Is Not a Luxury Hotel, Files Lawsuit

By Brian Lonergan

Immigration Reform Law Institute, November 6, 2019

. . .

https://www.irli.org/single-post/2019/11/05/Illegal-Alien-Learns-Detention-Is-Not-a-Luxury-Hotel-Files-Lawsuit

Return to Top

****

****

13.

Thousands of Migrants Are Voluntarily Going Home After Being Sent Back to Mexico Under Trump Policy: DHS

By Janita Kan

The Epoch Times, November 3, 2019

. . .

https://www.theepochtimes.com/thousands-of-migrants-are-voluntarily-going-home-after-being-sent-back-to-mexico-under-trump-policy-dhs_3135430.html

Return to Top

****

****

14.

Illegal Alien Returns Stateside 10 Days After Deportation, Assaults Ex-Girlfriend at Knife Point, and Steals Car

By Timothy Meads

Townhall.com, November 4, 2019

. . .

https://townhall.com/tipsheet/timothymeads/2019/11/04/deported-illegal-alien-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

returns-stateside-immediately-assaults-exgirlfriend-at-knife-point-and-steals-car-n2555845

Return to Top

****
****

15.
While ICE Tries to Protect Us From Dangerous Criminals, the Media Wrongly Accuses Agency of Killing Detainees
By Daniel Horowitz
Conservative Review, November 5, 2019
. . .
https://www.conservativereview.com/news/ice-tries-protect-us-dangerous-criminals-media-wrongly-accuses-agency-killing-detainees/

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Free of Charge
For Bill de Blasio and other progressives, newcomers to the U.S. have no obligations.
By Seth Barron
City Journal, Autumn 2019
. . .
https://www.city-journal.org/government-benefits-immigrants

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

17.

Are Sanctuary Policies the Canary in the Coal Mine?

By Ira Mehlman

ImmigrationReform.com, November 5, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/05/sanctuary-policy-new-york-justice-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

18.

A Cop's-Eye View from a Sanctuary Jurisdiction

By Guest Opinion

ImmigrationReform.com, November 5, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/05/sanctuary-policy-police-viewpoint-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

19.

Sheriff Who Frees Illegal Alien Convicted of Child Sex Crimes Says Enforcing Immigration Law Not Part of His Duties

Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles, November 5, 2019

. . .

https://www.judicialwatch.org/corruption-chronicles/sheriff-who-frees-illegal-alien-convicted-of-child-sex-crimes-says-enforcing-immigration-law-not-part-of-his-duties/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

20.
Politics and Immigration: TPS Extended Again
By Jack Martin
ImmigrationReform.com, November 8, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/08/tps-trump-administration-illegal-immigration-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Ten Reasons I Like Donald Trump, From a Female, Former-Democrat Immigrant
Donald Trump is the perfect president to counter the D.C. swamp and the foreign policy blob.
By Saritha Prabhu
The Federalist, November 4, 2019
. . .
https://thefederalist.com/2019/11/04/10-reasons-i-like-donald-trump-from-a-female-former-democrat-immigrant/

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Trump's Other Immigration Policies Are Popular and Moving Forward
By Tim Chapman
The Los Angeles Daily News, November 1, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.dailynews.com/2019/11/01/trumps-other-immigration-policies-are-popular-and-moving-forward-tim-chapman/

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Trump's Border Wall Request Equals 0.1% of Federal Spending; House Appropriators Offer $0
By Terence P. Jeffrey
CNSNews.com, November 7, 2019
. . .
https://www.cnsnews.com/article/washington/terence-p-jeffrey/trumps-border-wall-request-equals-01-federal-spending-house

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Warren: How Does $20.5 Trillion in New Spending for Medicare for All — Plus Amnesty for Illegals - Sound?
By Allahpundit
HotAir.com, November 1, 2019
. . .
https://hotair.com/archives/allahpundit/2019/11/01/warren-20-5-trillion-new-spending-medicare-plus-amnesty-illegals-sound/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

25.

Bishops Stage Pro-Immigration Border Mass in Texas

By Thomas D. Williams

Breitbart.com News, November 2, 2019

. . .

https://www.breitbart.com/immigration/2019/11/02/bishops-stage-pro-immigration-border-mass-in-texas/

Return to Top

****

****

26.

Drug Cartels in Our Backyard – Just Ask ICE

By Howie Carr

The Boston Herald, November 5, 2019

. . .

https://www.bostonherald.com/2019/11/05/howie-carr-drug-cartels-in-our-backyard-just-ask-ice/

Return to Top

****

****

27.

Immigration, Not White Suburbs, Turning VA Blue. GOP Still Can Win With Sailer Strategy—But Ultimately Needs An Immigration Moratorium

By Washington Watcher II

VDare.com, November 7, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/immigration-not-white-suburbs-turning-va-blue-gop-still-can-win-with-sailer-strategy-but-ultimately-needs-an-immigration-moratorium

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Jeff Sessions Reportedly to Run For Senate Again — Will Trump Kill His Candidacy?
By Washington Watcher II
VDare.com Blog, November 6, 2019
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/jeff-sessions-reportedly-to-run-for-senate-again-will-trump-kill-his-candidacy

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Trump's Failure to Get Immigration Patriot DHS Chief Reveals Perilous State of His Presidency (And GOP Pettiness)
By Washington Watcher II
VDare.com, November 1, 2019
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/trump-s-failure-to-get-immigration-patriot-dhs-chief-reveals-perilous-state-of-his-presidency-and-gop-pettiness

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Montgomery County, DC Suburb, Reverses Course, Will Allow ICE to Arrest Some Illegals in its Jail

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Thomas Lifson
American Thinker Blog, November 6, 2019
. . .
https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2019/11/montgomery_county_dc_suburb_reverses_course_will_allow_ice_to_arrest_some_illegals_in_its_jail.html

Return to Top

****
****

31.
What Happens When We Lose Our Core Identity in America
By Frosty Wooldridge
NewsWithViews.com, November 7, 2019
. . .
https://newswithviews.com/what-happens-when-we-lose-our-core-identity-in-america/

Return to Top

****
****

32.
When Mexico's Immigration Troubles Came From Americans Crossing the Border
By H.W. Brands
Smithsonian Magazine, October 22, 2019
. . .
https://www.smithsonianmag.com/history/americans-illegally-immigrated-mexico-180973306/

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

33.

All the President's Immigration Lawsuits

By Stuart Anderson

Forbes.com, November 5, 2019

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2019/11/05/all-the-presidents-immigration-lawsuits/#6e553b557d8e

Return to Top

****

****

34.

A Small Immigration Step

The Albany Times Union, November 4, 2019

. . .

https://www.timesunion.com/opinion/article/Editorial-A-small-immigration-step-14809014.php

Return to Top

****

****

35.

An Immigration Deal on Farmworkers Could Be a Starting Point on a Bigger Solution

The San Francisco Chronicle, October 31, 2019

. . .

https://www.sfchronicle.com/opinion/editorials/article/Editorial-An-immigration-deal-on-farmworkers-14690870.php

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

36.
Border Agents Can Now Get Classified Intelligence Information. Experts Call That Dangerous.
By Melissa del Bosque
Government Executive, November 1, 2019
. . .
https://www.govexec.com/management/2019/11/border-agents-can-now-get-classified-intelligence-information-experts-call-dangerous/161022/

Return to Top

****
****

37.
In Blue New Jersey, a Conservative Backlash on Immigration
By Tracey Tully
The New York Times, November 8, 2019
. . .
https://www.nytimes.com/2019/11/08/nyregion/nj-immigration-ice.html

Return to Top

****
****

38.
Is Trump Trying to Unleash the Border Patrol on All of America?
By Bonnie Kristian
TheWeek.com, October 29, 2019
. . .
https://theweek.com/articles/874991/trump-trying-unleash-border-patrol-all-america?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

utm_campaign=newsletter&utm_source=afternoon&utm_medium=11_05_19-article_1-874991

Return to Top

****
****

39.
Trump's Asylum Ban Could Apply Retroactively to Thousands of Migrants Even Though Officials Promised It Wouldn't
By Dara Lind
Pro Publica, October 22, 2019
. . .
https://www.propublica.org/article/trumps-asylum-ban-could-apply-retroactively-to-thousands-of-migrants-even-though-officials-promised-it-wouldnt

Return to Top

****
****

40.
What's Happened to the People Returned to Mexico Under the Migrant Protection Protocols?
By Katy Murdza
ImmigrationImpact.com, November 6, 2019
. . .
http://immigrationimpact.com/2019/11/06/whats-happened-people-remain-in-mexico-program/#.XcXDiW5Fyyc

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

41.

What Is Next for Trump's Health Care Ban?

By Melissa Cruz

ImmigrationImpact.com, November 4, 2019

. . .

http://immigrationimpact.com/2019/11/04/what-is-next-health-care-ban/#.XcXD6m5Fyyc

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:

Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, November 11, 2019 10:24 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 11/11/19

Share Tweet Forward

What's Happening at the Center

We recently hosted a National Press Club panel discussion on how migration and terrorism have combined to be a destructive force in Europe and what America can learn from the European experience. CIS National Security Fellow

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Todd Bensman's paper was the basis for the discussion. Bensman was joined by James Conway, who served as a special agent for the FBI focused on international terrorism for over 25 years, and Robin Simcox, the Margaret Thatcher Fellow at the Heritage Foundation, where he specializes in counterterrorism and national security.

Bensman's report, along with a video and transcript of the panel discussion, is available here.

Featured Posts

Who Is Hurt when Colleges Cater to Illegal Alien Students? Not the Elite

By David North

Who is hurt when America's colleges and universities not only admit illegal aliens as students, but give them special benefits like tuition at in-state rates? It is not the elite. It is not those whose parents are paying full tuition, or those who have no trouble being admitted. Unfortunately, most media coverage of these matters is centered on heroes and heroines, students who have overcome their illegal status to be accepted on campus, rather than dealing with the subject from an objective view. In most of this coverage the whole concept that benefits provided to one group means a lack of benefits for another is rarely mentioned.

Wanted: More Child Predators in Buncombe County, N.C.?

By Andrew R. Arthur

I've learned two things in 27 years of work in immigration: (1) Some ideas are so dumb only smart people can think them up; and (2) A lot of things may sound righteous in the abstract, but can lead to tragic consequences in the concrete. Buncombe County, N.C., reinforced both of these ideas when on October 29, 2019, it released a criminal alien child sex offender instead of handing him over to ICE. The criminal alien in question is Marvin Ramirez Torres, a Salvadoran national who is illegally present in the United States. On that basis alone, he is subject to removal.

Another Local Officer Under the Gun for Cooperating with ICE

By Dan Cadman

This is the third occasion in a relatively short period of time in which I've raised the issue of

On Prop 187's Anniversary: A Sarcastic Tribute in the LA Times

By Jerry Kammer

In 1994, Proposition 187 roiled the state of California, aiming to stop illegal immigration by denying education and other social services sanctuary jurisdictions going after their own police officers for working with — or even, in one instance responding to a 911 call from — Immigration and Customs Enforcement agents. The most recent instance came to light in Boston during the latter part of October. Sanctuary jurisdictions claim that this barring of cooperation or any kind of contact between police and ICE is for the good of the "immigrant community" because it instills the trust needed for police to be effective at their work.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

to illegal immigrants. Then as now, the fiscal and social consequences of illegal immigration head the list of those problems. It was the failure of federal enforcement of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 that allowed the mass illegal immigration that prompted Proposition 187. Now no proposal for "comprehensive immigration reform" can succeed without a commitment to enforce the limits included in those proposals.

More Blog Posts

- Did Twitter Spy Commit Naturalization Fraud?
- Grammar at Issue in SCOTUS Argument on 42A Cancellation
- D.C. District Judge Denies Injunction in Visa Lottery Case
- Mexico-Based Smuggler Trafficked Six People From Terrorist Hotbed Over U.S. Border
- Montgomery County Backtracks on ICE Policy
- The Certification Power Is Simply an Exercise of the AG's Duty to Faithfully Execute the Law
- The International Rescue Committee: Federally Funded, but Working to Undermine Federal Policy
- AG Certification Explained
- Supreme Court May Hear an EB-5 Case on the Disgorgement of $355 Million
- Are Criminal Aliens Above the Law?
- A Quid Pro Quo in the Immigration Deal with El Salvador
- H-1B Employers Are Highly Unlikely to Appeal an H-1B Denial

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, November 11, 2019 4:13 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 11/11/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 11/11/19

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

1. 11/12, Cambridge, MA - Discussion on comparative immigration regimes in Europe and the world
2. 11/12, Gainesville, FL - Lecture on right-wing populist parties and border issues - [New Listing]
3. 11/13, DC - Senate hearing on yearly review of migration at the SW border - [New Listing]
4. 11/13-14, Davis, CA - Law symposium on the 25th anniversary of Proposition 187
5. 11/14, San Diego - Book panel: Migration Control
6. 11/15, Philadelphia - Workshop on race, ethnicity, and immigration - [New Listing]
7. 11/18, Nationwide - Webinar on hot topics at the intersection of immigration and employment law - [New Listing]
8. 11/19, DC, - Conference on migrant health in crises
9. 11/19, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on moralized political messages and attitudes toward immigrants
10. 11/20-22, DC - 2019 Homeland Security Week conference
11. 11/20-24, Vancouver, BC - Immigration at the American Anthropological Association annual meeting
12. 11/22, Waltham, MA - CIS at book discussion: *Who's Funding America's Destruction? - [New Listing]
13. 12/2, San Diego - Seminar on dealing with unaccompanied child migrants
14. 12/4-6, San Antonio - Border Management South conference
15. 12/12-13, Paris - Annual conference on immigration in OECD countries
16. 1/13/20, San Diego - Book discussion: Citizenship in Hard Times - [New Listing]

1.
Crossroads: Comparative Immigration Regimes in Europe and the World

2:30-4:00 p.m., Tuesday, November 12, 2019
Goldman Room, Adolphus Busch Hall

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2019/11/immigration-regimes-europe-world

Description: Europe is at the center of countervailing trends in the governance of global migration. Justin Gest will present findings of his book Crossroads: Comparative Immigration Regimes in a World of Demographic Change (Cambridge University Press, 2018), which he co-authored with Anna Boucher. The study offers a unique analysis of immigration governance across fourteen European states, and thirty countries worldwide. Relying on a database of immigration demographics in the world's most important destinations, it presents a novel taxonomy and an analysis of what drives different approaches to immigration policy over space and time.

Speaker:
Justin Gest, Assistant Professor of Public Policy, Schar School of Policy, Government and International Affairs, George Mason University

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Right-Wing Populist Parties and Border Issues. Toward a Global Perspective

2:30-3:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 12, 2019
Center for European Studies, Turlington Hall, 3310
University of Florida
Gainesville, FL 32611
http://www.latam.ufl.edu/calendar/events/2019/right-wing-populist-parties-and-border-issues-toward-a-global-perspective.php

Speaker:
Oscar Mazzoleni, Professor of political science at the University of Lausanne, Switzerland, and currently Visiting Scholar at Columbia University, NYC.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: The lecture will focus on the border issues in right-wing populist strategies. Although this linkage is rarely considered by scholarship, one might argue the construction of new borders, bridging anti-immigration stances and sovereignty claim, is part of a global trend. In order to highlight this argument, some Western and Central European as well as recent U.S. experiences will be addressed.

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Unprecedented Migration at the U.S. Southern Border: The Year in Review

9:30 a.m., Wednesday, November 13, 2019
Senate Committee on Homeland Security
Senate Dirksen Building, SD-342
Washington, DC, 20510
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/unprecedented-migration-at-the-us-southern-border-the-year-in-review

Witnesses:

Mark A. Morgan, Acting Commissioner
U.S. Customs and Border Protection
U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Kenneth T. Cuccinelli, Acting Director
U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services
U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Derek N. Benner, Acting Deputy Director
U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement
U.S. Department of Homeland Security

James McHenry, Director
Excecutive Office for Immigration Review

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

U.S. Department of Justice

Return to Top

****
****

4.

The 25th Anniversary of Proposition 187: Challenges and Opportunities for Immigrant Integration and Political Identity in California

UC Davis Law Review Symposium
Wednesday-Thursday, November 13-14, 2019
King Hall Room 1001
UC Davis School of Law
Davis, CA 95616
https://lawreview.law.ucdavis.edu/symposia/2019-fall-nov/

Description: California Proposition 187, passed in 1994, was the first modern anti-immigrant state legislation. While the United States District Court for the Central District of California ruled the law unconstitutional soon after its passage, the law's effects on immigration policies and the Latinx community in California remain. The UC Davis School of Law and UC Davis Law Review are hosting a panel and an academic symposium to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the passage of Prop. 187 on November 13-14, 2019. The panel will feature litigators who challenged Prop. 187 in the courts. The academic symposium will discuss the influence Prop. 187 had on immigration at the state and federal levels, the political environment in California, and Latinx and immigrant communities in four panel discussions. Join us in exploring the legislation and the legal scholarship around the current state of affairs for Latinx 25 years after Prop. 187.

Speakers:
Marisa Abrajano
Professor, Political Science, UC San Diego

Vibiana Andrade
General Counsel, Los Angeles County Office of Education

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maria Blanco
Executive Director, UC Immigrant Legal Services Center

Beth Caldwell
Professor of Legal Analysis, Southwestern School of Law

Rose Cuison-Villazor
Professor of Law, Rutgers Law School

Lisa Garcia Bedolla
Vice-Provost, Graduate Studies, UC Berkeley

Oded Gurantz
Assistant Professor, Truman School of Public Affairs, University of Missouri

Robert Irwin
Professor of Spanish, UC Davis School of Law

Kevin Johnson
Dean and Professor of Law, UC Davis School of Law

Rachel Moran
Professor of Law, UCLA School of Law

Giovanni Peri
Professor, Department of Economics, UC Davis

Huyen Pham
Professor of Law, Texas A&M

Robyn Rodriguez
Professor, Asian American Studies, UC Davis

Thomas Saenz
President and General Counsel, Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund

Shayak Sarkar

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Acting Professor of Law, UC Davis School of Law

Leticia Saucedo
Professor of Law, UC Davis School of Law

Rick Su
Professor of Law, University of North Carolina School of Law

Angie Wei
Chief Deputy Cabinet Secretary for Policy Development, Gov. Gavin Newsom's Office

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Migration Control - Book Panel

2:00-4:00 p.m., Thursday, November 14, 2019
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Description: This panel will summarize and critically assess three new books on migration control and its effects. The authors will discuss how forms of control that today are taken for granted were invented, the types and consequences of enforcement at the border and far beyond the national territory, and the experiences of people whose attempts to cross borders collide with government efforts to deter them.

Speakers:

John Torpey, Presidential Professor of Sociology and History, Graduate Center,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

City University of New York
Director, Ralph Bunche Institute for International Studies, Graduate Center, City University of New York
Invention of the Passport, 2nd Edition

Daniel Martinez, Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Arizona
The Shadow of the Wall: Violence and Migration on the US-Mexico Border

David FitzGerald, Theodore E. Gildred Chair in US-Mexican Relations, UC San Diego
Professor of Sociology and Co-Director, Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Refuge Beyond Reach

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Race, Ethnicity, and Immigration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, November 15, 2019
Sociology Conference Room, McNeil 367
University of Pennsylvania, Department of Sociology
Philadelphia, PA 19104-6299
https://sociology.sas.upenn.edu/events/2019/11/15/race-ethnicity-and-immigration-tba

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Hot Topics at the Intersection of Immigration and Employment Law Webinar

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1:00-2:00 p.m., Monday, November 18, 2019
https://www.mbbanyc.org/event/mbbalearns-hot-topics-at-the-intersection-of-immigration-and-employment-law/?instance_id=465

https://www.eventbrite.com/e/mbbalearns-hot-topics-at-the-intersection-of-immigration-and-employment-law-webinar-tickets-78958425777

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Migrant Health in Crises

9:00 a.m.-2:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 19, 2019
Healey Family Student Center Social Room
Tondorf Road
Washington, DC 20007
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/migrant-health-in-crises-a-one-day-symposium-tickets-79257712953

Description: While there is growing recognition of the scale of international migration and displacement, less attention has been paid to the particular health needs of migrants and displaced persons. This Symposium, jointly organized by the Center for Global Health Science and Security and the Department of Family Medicine at Georgetown University School of Medicine and the Institute for the Study of International Migration at Georgetown's School of Foreign Service, will bring together a range of academics and practitioners to consider the particular health challenges facing migrants and refugees.

This Symposium will convene subject matter experts from humanitarian organizations, governments, and academic partners from around the world to address some of the most pressing issues surrounding the health of displaced populations, both domestically and abroad. The discussion will be organized around three focus areas that impact migrant health in crises, each with a regional focus:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Program:

8:30-9:00 a.m.

Forced Displacement and Health Overview

Katharine Donato & Erin Sorrell, Georgetown University

9:00-10:30 a.m.

Infectious disease, conflict and displacement: focus on Africa

Moderator:

Claire Standley, Georgetown University

Melissa Horn, Lead Protection Sector Advisor, Office of U.S. Foreign Disaster Assistance, USAID

Yves Giebens, Health Coordinator, International Committee of the Red Cross, Jerusalem

Reem Musa, Médecins sans Frontières, Brussels

Bernard Nahlen, Director Eck Institute for Global Health, University of Notre Dame

10:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Refugee Healthcare in host countries: focus on MENA

Moderator:

Elizabeth Ferris, Georgetown University

Paul Spiegel, Director of Center for Humanitarian Health and Professor, Department of International Health, Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health.

Dani Poole, Neukom Institute for Computational Science, Dartmouth College

Aisha Jumaan, Founder and President, Yemen Relief and Reconstruction Foundation

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Eskinder Negash, President and CEO, U.S. Committee for Refugees and Immigrants

12:45-2:15 p.m.

Border Health: focus on US-Mexico border

Moderator:

Ranit Mishori, Georgetown University

Aleksander Anikov, Regional Migration Health Specialist for the Americas, International Organization for Migration

Ciro Ugarte, Director Health Emergencies Department Pan American Health Organization

Alan Shapiro, Senior Medical Director of Community Pediatric Programs, Clinical Assistant Professor Albert Einstein College of Medicine and Department of Pediatrics, Montefiore Health Systems.

Kathryn Hampton - Director of Asylum Program, Physicians for Human Rights

2:15-2:30 p.m.

Closing Remarks

Dr. Katharine Donato and Dr. Erin Sorrell, Georgetown University

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Moralized Political Messages and Attitudes Toward Immigrants

12:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 19, 2019

William James Hall, Room 450

33 Kirkland Street

Cambridge, MA 02138

https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/kristina-simonsen-moralized-political-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

messages-and-attitudes-toward-immigrants

Kristina Simonsen, Assistant Professor of Sociology, Aarhus University.

Return to Top

****

****

10.

14th Homeland Security Week

Wednesday-Friday, November 20-22, 2019
Grand Hyatt Washington
1000 H Street NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://www.idga.org/events-homelandsecurityweek

https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/hsw-draft-agenda_VhYFVL8UUbZWEBNVzgJx8NCUOnEeFFHeCxZ8RG8k.pdf

Preliminary program:

Wednesday, November 20, 2019

9:00 a.m.

FEMA's Strategic Plan for the Future 2018-2022

-Increasing resilience through increasing disaster preparedness on a local level
-Enhance coordination with intergovernmental agencies
-Streamline FEMA's grant management and improve data analytics

9:45 a.m.

Modernizing Maritime Security And Border Management

-Future strategies of the Coast Guard
-Current theatre of operations and capability gaps
-Procurement priorities and strategic shifts

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

11:15 a.m.

Procurement and Border Management

-Border management modernization requirements.
-The improvement of border management integration, including tailored procurement of specialized equipment

Rose Marie Davis, Director, Innovative Program Acquisitions, Office of Field Operations, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

DOJ'S Counter-UAS Protection and Acquisition Priorities

-Pinpointing unique requirements of the DOJ to fulfill its objectives - Taking lessons from DOD's counter-UAS acquisition strategies applying them at home
-Testing and fielding counter-UAS technologies to determine the suitability of solutions

Scott Miller, Assistant Section Chief, Surveillance & Aviation, FBI

12:00 p.m.

Confronting the Opioid Crises and Protecting the American People

-Working with interagency and international partners on a comprehensive approaches
-Identifying and monitoring networks of foreign suppliers and domestic importers of fentanyl
-Increasing investigation and prosecution efforts

Combating Nuclear Terrorism: DHS's Efforts to Protect Key Cities from WMDs

-Providing local agencies with equipment for detecting nuclear material
-Training local law enforcement
-Track progress by collecting data from the key cities

Jeffrey H. Musk, Chief, Nuclear Detection Division, Nuclear Technologies Department Research & Development Directorate, Defense Threat Reduction Agency

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1:30 p.m.

Challenges and Opportunities in Protecting Energy Critical Infrastructure

-Invest in next-generation physical security controls and cybersecurity technologies
-Continually analyzing and gaming the energy cyber-threat landscape
-Share and communicate cybersecurity information between the public and private sectors

Ronald Keen, Senior Energy Advisor, National Risk Management Center, CISA, DHS

Protecting the Nation's Food Supply

-Identifying sector-wide vulnerabilities and gaps
-Identifying indicators and warnings that could signify planning for an attack
-Develop mitigation strategies to reduce the threat/prevent an attack

Jennie Melin, Consumer Safety Officer, FDA

2:15 p.m.

War on Drugs: Combating Organized Drug Cartels at the Border

-Increasing cohesion between federal, state and local agencies at the border
-Partnering with foreign nations to deny drug cartels a safe haven
-Monitoring money laundering and smuggling operations to hamper drug operations

Increasing the Nation's Preparedness Against Chemical and Biological Threats

-Improving threat awareness through intelligence collecting and sharing
-Investing in advanced detection and surveillance technologies
-Putting in place responsive countermeasure policies

3:30 p.m.

Procurement standards and guideline for providing goods and services to FEMA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Purpose and importance of current rules in place
-Providing a broad overview of federal procurement rules
-Relationship between Federal rules, State, Local and Tribal procurement rules

4:15 p.m.
Chairperson's Closing Remarks

Thursday, November 21, 2019

9:00 a.m.
Identifying and Mediating National Security Threats

-Monitoring activities of groups and movements potentially at risk for radicalization and violence
-Improving information sharing policy for the Department
-Building partnerships with nation-wide State and Major Urban Area Fusion Centers

David Glawe, Under Secretary for Intelligence and Analysis, Department of Homeland Security

9:45 a.m.
CISA's Priorities for Advancing Critical Infrastructure Protection and Resiliency

-Strategies in working with private partners to secure our infrastructure
-Priorities for coordinating national cyber security and communications integration center
-Coordinating security and resiliency efforts through public private partnerships

Brian Harrell, Assistant Director for Infrastructure Security, CISA, DHS

11:15 a.m.
DHS's Evolving Requests for DoD Support Along the South-West Border

-DHS's support requirements from April 2018 to present
-How and why those requests have evolved along with the evolving situation at the SWB
-DHS' expectations for DoD support in FY20 and beyond

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

LTC Kelly Brown, Senior National Guard Advisor to DHS, U.S. Army

Leadership in Cyber
-Strategic and forward thinking
-Mentoring and nurturing talent to increase potential
-Learning and improving by listening

Kevin Nally, Chief Information Officer, US Secret Service

12:00 p.m.
Engaging with the Private Sector to Better Protect Critical Infrastructures

-Weather related threats to critical supply chains
-Improving emergency protocols
-Conducting research into improving strategies and practices Kay Mereish, Senior Advisor, DHS

The race for 5G: Protecting Emerging FifthGeneration Wireless Networks

-End-to-end protection of network traffic
-Investing in R&D to address threats and vulnerabilities to mobile networks
-Improving visibility of traffic from mobile devices to detect malware, cyberattacks and data exfiltration attempts

12:30 p.m.
Interactive Discussion Groups

During this part of the conference, each attendee will have the opportunity to select three topics of their interest from the list below and will rotate between those sessions. Discussion groups are kept small to ensure all attendees get the opportunity to ask their most pressing questions, ensuring a perfectly tailored experience.

1:30 p.m.
IDG Group 1
Key to Identifying Potential Terrorists through Research

-Identity crises often plays a significant role in a person's transition to terrorism

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Often potential terrorists will take part in certain activities that raise red flags about their intents
-Connections with known terrorists online or offline are a big factor in radicalization

Allison G. Smith, Social Scientist, DHS

IDG Group 2
Using AI for Video Analysis and Increasing Security

-Improving multimedia analytics
-Increasing video data processing time through automation
-Increasing automatic threat detection

Jeff Alstott, Program Manager, Intelligence Advanced Research Projects Activity

IDG Group 3
sUAS Threats and Policy Hurdles Facing Local Police Authorities

-sUAS threat profile for local communities
-Laws and policies limiting the abilities of local law enforcement
-Partnership opportunities with DHS to counter the threat of sUAS

IDG Group 4
Deploying Biometrics Technologies To Secure Sensitive Facilities

-Assessing security vulnerabilities of facilities
-Adding biometrics as an added layer of security
-Picking the best biometric security solutions for your facility

2:15 p.m.
Key Updates On The National Vetting Center Operations

-What are some of the lessons learned?
-Approaches to working with the IC community to support NVC's operations
-Plans for expansion of vetting and enabling advanced analytics capabilities

National Security Threats Posed by Quantum Computing & Strategies to Mitigate Them

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Deploying more resilient cryptography standards
-Investing in quantum computing solutions
-Developing partnership with private industry to share technological know how

Using Artificial Intelligence and Situational Awareness Technologies for Critical Incident Response

-Enhancing quick decision-making skills
-Improving awareness connectivity between first responders
-Improving patient outcomes and healthcare

The Future of Biometrics & Identity Technologies

-What does the future of identity verification look like?
-Strategies and policies for biometric technology for the next 10 years
-Addressing privacy concerns and data leaks

2:45 p.m.
Improving Airport Security with the Help of AI

-Using machine learning-powered tools that can aide agents to identify threats
-accurately predict the location of threat objects on the body

Using Blockchain Technology to Improve Safety of Critical Infrastructures
-Blockchain shows promise to better protect IoT
-Improved defense mechanisms against collaborative intrusion detection

Dangers of Irregular Migration to National Security
-Human trafficking and drug smuggling networks
-Risk of potential terrorists
-Increased chance of spread of infectious diseases

Blas Nunez-Neto, Senior Policy Researcher, RAND

Transitioning Identity Management Systems To The Cloud
-Update on the development of HART
-Addressing stakeholder challenges
-Increasing collaboration and data sharing

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4:00 p.m.

Promoting Best Practices and Streamlining Acquisition Management at DHS

-Establish cross-functional teams in which key stakeholders coordinate and execute the acquisition tasks
-Strategically assess agency needs and how acquisition can meet those needs
-Establish mechanisms that promote the participation of small business suppliers

4:30 p.m.

Cyber threats to critical infrastructure (what are the threats? How to counter them? How to mitigate impact of?

Bob Kolasky, Director, National Risk Management Center, CISA
Lara Schmidt, Director, Strategy, Policy, and Operations Program, RAND
Ryan Consaul, Senior International Defense Researcher, RAND

Friday, November 22, 2019

9:00 a.m.

Breaking Down the DHS Information Technology Strategic Plan 2019-2023

-Optimize workplace technologies with cost-efficient and high impact solutions
-Developing a plan for safe and swift cloud migration
-Implement data protection practices to safeguard DHS systems and applications

9:45 a.m.

Keynote Presentation -James P. O'Neill, Police Commissioner, NYPD

11:15 a.m.

The Nexus Between Homeland Defense and Homeland Security
Homeland Defense: A Whole of Nation Mission

-The strategic environment demands an urgent reexamination of Homeland Defense
-Any gaps between Homeland Defense and Homeland Security must be addressed

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-DoD Mission Assurance requires whole of community partnerships

Neal Anderson, Senior Advisor to DHS, NORAD

Promoting Public-Private Partnerships to Promote Security and Increase Resilience within the Nation's Chemical Industry

-Developing and implementing partnerships -Strategies and protocols during natural disasters
-Promoting good practices among federal, state and local agencies

Eric Choy, Chief, Chemical Sector Specific Agency, CISA, DHS
Amy Graydon, Deputy Director at Infrastructure Security Compliance Division, DHS
Jonathan Buckles, Section Chief, Government & Industry Affairs, DHS

12:00 p.m.
Engaging with the Private Sector to Better Protect Critical Infrastructures

-Establishing protocols to promote information sharing
-Equipping Private Sector critical infrastructure owners and the intelligence needed to protect instrumental assets
-Strengthening and expanding current partnership agreements

Modernizing CBP's IT Infrastructure to increase network resilience and streamlining CBP operations

-Implementing cloud technologies to better connect the vast CBP IT network
-Using machine learning and data analytics tools to improve CBP's threat and fraud detection capabilities
-Modernizing CBP network to increase bandwidth for all users and increasing protection against attacks

1:30 p.m.
Developing Effective Response Plans to CBRN Attacks That Minimize Risk to Personnel

-Training federal government employees in how to best respond to CBRN

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

attacks with minimal loss of services
-Identifying new and emerging technologies in the field and finding their applications within Homeland Security

Sean Crawford, Director, Chemical, Biological, Radiological, Nuclear Office, FEMA

Investing in full spectrum impedance and denial capabilities to reduce illegal immigration, drug smuggling and human trafficking

-Increasing infrastructure investment at the border and enforcement of immigration and criminal laws
-Equipping our law enforcement professionals with the latest tools, technology, and training they need to do their job
-Collaborating with federal and local law enforcement agencies and international

2:15 p.m.
Supporting Border Response And Recovery Capabilities With And Between Federal, State, Local And Canadian Partners

-Implementing plans to promote open communication and strategies across the international boundary
-Evaluating progress toward addressing capability gaps in the Northern and Southern Border
-Policies & Plans to facilitate effective response and recovery operations

Manpower, the core of CBP: Recruiting, Hiring, training, and retaining the most qualifies people

-Enhancing recruiting and hiring efforts and reducing obstacles to attracting quality candidates
-Improving the messaging of recruitment campaigns to more closely align with CBP's mission
-Offering incentives to increase staff retention

3:15 p.m.
Intelligence Sharing Panel Discussion

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Protecting the American people from ever-changing domestic and transnational threats requires a DHS that shares intelligence not only with internal agencies but also partnering federal intelligence agencies. In this panel leaders from various national intelligence agencies will discuss how far they have come since 9/11 when it comes to intelligence sharing and pinpoint areas for improvement.

Panelists:
Sean Moon, Chief, Global Strategies, Office of Strategy, Policy, and Plans, DHS

Lilian Alessa, Deputy Chief, Global Strategies, DHS

3:45 p.m.
Enforcing our Immigration Laws by Empowering and Modernizing Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE)

-Increasing the numbers of law enforcement officers and support personnel
-Investing in safe and secure detention facilities
-Partnering with foreign governments to expedite necessary removals

4:30 p.m.
Chairperson's Closing Remarks

Return to Top

****
****

11.
American Anthropological Association annual meeting

Wednesday-Sunday, November 20-24, 2019
Vancouver Convention Centre
1055 Canada Place
Vancouver, BC
V6C 0C3, Canada
https://www.americananthro.org/AttendEvents/landing.aspx?ItemNumber=14722&navItemNumber=566

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration-related sessions:

Wedneday, November 20, 2019

4:30 p.m.
Race, Representation and Migration

Elizabeth Ann Kozlowski – Tulane University
Sabia McCoy-Torres – Tulane University
Shao-Yun Chang – Tulane University
Sarah M. Reynolds – Tulane University
Diane Ghogomu – Tulane University

Thursday, November 21, 2019

10:15 a.m.
Privatization of Migration Enforcement and Humanitarian Management in Borderland Infrastructures

Carolina Sanchez Boe – Université Paris Descartes - Sorbonne Cité
Vincent Nicolas Joos – Florida State University
Sarah Elaine Dillard Mitchell – Clark University
Asher Goldstein – Linkoping universitet

2:00 p.m.
Volunteering Compassion and Solidarity: Creating Inclusive Climates for Migrants and Refugees in Europe

Ashley Laurel Witcher – University of Amsterdam
Michael C. Ennis-McMillan – Skidmore College, Department of Anthropology
Ashley Laurel Witcher – University of Amsterdam
Nicola L. Bulled – Center for Health, Intervention, and Prevention (CHIP), at University of Connecticut
Monika Palmberger – University of Vienna
Frances Trix – Indiana University
Laura Schack – Royal Holloway, University of London
Katherine C. Donahue – Plymouth State University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9:30 p.m.

Society for the Anthropology of Europe (SAE) Café Europa: Migration and Affect

Dace A. Dzenovska – University of Oxford
Elena Popa

Friday, November 24, 2019

2:00 p.m.

Examining the Boundary and Border-Producing Practices that Immigrant Youth and Refugee Families Encounter in U.S. Institutions

Theresa A. McGinnis – Hofstra University
Sally Bonet – Colgate University
Sophia L. Ángeles – University of California, Los Angeles
Daryl M. Gordon – Adelphi University
Iris M. Ramirez – University of California, Los Angeles

4:15 p.m.

Borders, Policing, and Latinx Immigrant Vulnerability: A roundtable discussion of four new ethnographies of immigrant policing in the United States

Nolan Kline – Rollins College, Department of Anthropology
Ruth M. Gomberg-Munoz – Loyola University Chicago
Christina Marisa Getrich – University of Maryland, College Park
Nolan Kline – Rollins College, Department of Anthropology
William D. Lopez – University of Michigan School of Public Health
Jeremy Slack – The University of Texas at El Paso
Heide Castaneda – University of South Florida
Sarah B. Horton – University of Colorado Denver, Department of Anthropology

Migration, mobilities and "vitality' in la francophonie canadienne

Gabrielle Breton-Carbonneau – Ontario Institute for Studies in Education/University of Toronto
Thierry Deshayes – Université de Montréal
Monica Heller – University of Toronto; Yves Frenette

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Patricia Lamarre – University of Montreal
Carsten Quell – Treasury Board of Canada Secretariat

Migration, Placemaking and the Interrogation of Nation-based Discourses

Glynis George
Nicola Mooney
Jennifer Cook – Southern Methodist University
Mark McIntyre – University of Victoria
Diane Riskedahl – University of Toronto Scarborough

Migration, scale, language ideologies

Adrienne Lo – University of Waterloo
Elise C. Berman – University of North Carolina, Charlotte
Lydia Catedral – City University of Hong Kong
Kathryn C. Hardy – Ashoka University
Adrienne Lo – University of Waterloo
Sibusiwe Dube – Pennsylvania State University
Cecile Vigouroux - Simon Fraser University

Saturday, November 23, 2019

8:00 a.m.
Class Acts: Migration and Social Mobility in Africa and its Diasporas

Pamela Feldman-Savelsberg – Carleton College
Cati Coe – Rutgers University, Camden
Julia Pauli – University of Hamburg, Germany
Yolanda D. Covington-Ward – University of Pittsburgh
Chelsie Yount-Andre – University of Montpellier, France
Abdoulaye Kane – University of Florida
Lena Luise Kroeker – Bayreuth University

Ethnicity, Migration, and Labor in Modern Turkey

Deniz Duruiz – Northwestern University
Elif Irem Az – Columbia University
Nikolaos Michailidis – Princeton University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Onur Gunay – Princeton University
Elif Babul – Mount Holyoke College
Salih Can Aciksoz – University of California, Los Angeles

10:15 a.m.

Executive Session - Oral Presentation Session - The Migrant Caravan and Legacies of Violence: The Changing Climate of Immigration and Asylum at the U.S./Mexican Border and Beyond

Timothy J. Smith – Appalachian State University
Ellen Moodie – University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign, Department of Anthropology
Jon Horne Carter – Appalachian State University
M. Gabriela Torres – Wheaton College
Victoria D. Sanford – CUNY - Herbert H Lehman College
Mariana Mora – CIESAS
Lynn M. Stephen – University of Oregon
Ruth M. Gomberg-Munoz – Loyola University Chicago

Articulating Morality in Return Migration

Valerio Simoni – The Graduate Institute, Geneva
Jeremie Voirol – Graduate Institute Geneva
Mikaela H. Rogozen-Soltar – University of Nevada Reno, Department of Anthropology
Paul Stoller – West Chester University
Marina V. Sapritsky-Nahum – London, UK
Ellen Oxfeld – Middlebury College
Jarrett Zigon – University of Virginia
Edward F. Fischer – Vanderbilt University

2:00 p.m.

Coming of Age Between the US, Mexico, and Central America's Northern Triangle: Youth, Im/migration, and Education - Session 1

Michelle Bellino – University of Michigan, SOE
Edmund T. Hamann – University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Department of Teaching, Learning, & Teacher Educ.
Maxie Gluckman – University of California, San Diego

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Gabrielle Oliveira – Boston College
Susan C. Bibler Coutin – University of California, Irvine
Andrea E. Dyrness – University of Colorado, Boulder
Ariel Borns – University of Wisconsin - Madison

Familiar Strangers: The Making and Continuity of Canada-U.S. State-sanctioned 'Seasonal' Migrant Labor

Luis F.B. Plascencia
Christian Zlolniski – University of Texas Arlington
David Griffith – East Carolina University
Stephanie Mayell; Lidia Esther Munoz

Meeting of SUNTA's Committee on Refugees & Immigrants (CORI)

Suzanne Scheld – California State University, Northridge
Faedah M. Totah – Virginia Commonwealth University School of World Studies

4:15 p.m.
Coming of Age Between the US, Mexico, and Central America's Northern Triangle: Youth, Im/migration, and Education - Session 2 (of 2)

Maxie Gluckman – University of California, San Diego
Michelle Bellino – University of Michigan, SOE;
Edmund T. Hamann – University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Department of Teaching, Learning, & Teacher Educ.
Jen Stacy – California State University, Dominguez Hills
David Martinez-Prieto – University of Texas at San Antonio
Bradley A. Levinson – Indiana University, Bloomington

Mobile Solidarities: Thinking About Migration Through Kinship and Indebtedness

Fiori Sara Berhane – Brown University
Carla Hung – Arizona State University
Lilith Mahmud – University of California, Irvine
Jamie Fuller – University of Florida
Justinas Stankus
Sarah A. Smith – SUNY - Old Westbury

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Sunday, November 24, 2019

10:15 a.m.

Cultural Capital, Immigration, and Bilingual Acquisition: Transnational and Transgenerational Perspectives of Chinese Parents' and Communities' Practices in Canada

Guofang Li – University of British Columbia
Caroline Chung-Hsuan Locher-Lo – University of British Columbia
Ai Mizuta – University of British Columbia
Cindy Lau – University of British Columbia
Zhuo Sun – University of British Columbia

Return to Top

****
****

12.

Who's Funding America's Destruction?

7:00-9:00 p.m., Friday, November 22, 2019
Bentley University, LaCava Center
175 Forest Street
Waltham, MA 02452
http://www.bostonbroadside.com/showcase/michell-malkin-jessica-vaugn-bentley-university-friday-nov-22nd-2019/

Speakers:
Michelle Malkin, book author

Jessica Vaughan, Center for Immigration Studies

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

13.

Suffer the Little Children: Unaccompanied Child Migrants and the Geopolitics of Compassion in Postwar America

12:00-1:00 p.m., Monday, December 2, 2019
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer---Bradford-12-2-19.pdf

Speakers:
Anita Casavantes Bradford
Associate Professor of Chicano/Latino Studies and History, UC Irvine
Co-Director, UC-Cuba Multi Campus Academic Initiative

Discussant:
John Skrentny
Professor of Sociology, UC San Diego
Director, Yankelovich Center for Social Science Research, UC San Diego

Return to Top

****
****

14.

Border Management South

Wednesday-Friday, December 4-6, 2019
Hilton Garden Inn San Antonio
8101 Pat Booker Rd.
Live Oak, Texas, 78233, USA
https://www.idga.org/events-bordermanagementsummit/landing/official-border-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

management-south-brochure
https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/border-management-south-2019.pdf

Overview: The southern border shared between Canada, Mexico, and the U.S. is an enormous economic gateway for the United States, but it requires control, safety and modernization to maintain it. Enforcing laws and securing the border is a top priority for the Department of Homeland Security. As time passes, the need for operator driven policies and solutions, modern devices, and fully integrated border becomes more crucial.

This year's Border Management South Summit will aim to connect local, federal and state officials to discuss the top challenges and priorities in the field. Interactive group discussions and panels will address procurement initiatives and aligning border solutions with development of operators.

Agenda:

Focus Day, Wednesday, December 4, 2019

8:50 a.m.
CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.
USING THE INTEGRATION OF IT SYSTEMS TO ENHANCE RESPONSE AT THE BORDER

The U.S./Mexico border is in need of becoming a fully integrated border. This session will evaluate how communication between law enforcement officials and security personnel will be seamless and sufficient using integration strategies.

* Understanding how the integration of technological systems will enhance communication across the border
* Enhancing border mobility
* Managing information data flow across the border

10:30 a.m.
OPTIMIZING THE USE OF SECURITY PERSONNEL USING SECURITY

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

APPLICATIONS

This session will provide a break down of how the use of advanced analytics can transform and protect the border. Advanced analytics will be able to detect security breaches from objects, unauthorized people and more. Security personnel will be able to receive knowledge of potential threats and act accordingly and in a timely manner.

* Using AI and ML to not only stockpile data, but also manage it
* Utilizing analytical tools to enhance perimeter protection
* Enabling security personnel to recognize threats using intelligent video

12:30 p.m.
ANALYZING DATA TO PREDICT FUTURE EVENTS AND OUTCOMES

Data will only become sufficient and useful if it is then transformed into action. Join us as we learn about the transforming of paper data into visionary plans and help detect future events. Information management allows room for improvement to border services and protection of citizens.

* Managing current data and transforming it into visionary plans and action
* Collecting and exploiting data to drive border decision making Timothy Bennett, Science and Technology Directorate, Department of Homeland Security

Thursday, December 5, 2019

8:50 a.m.
CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.
TEXAS IN REAL-TIME: RESPONDING AT THE BORDER

* Gain insight on how front line law enforcement officials are tackling border issues in real-time
Sheriff Waybourn, Tarrant County Sheriff Joe Frank Martinez, Del Val Verde County

9:45 a.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ANALYZING THE U.S. BORDER AS A SYSTEM: THE MEMBRANE, THE SURVEILLANCE AND THE HUMAN ELEMENT

In order to effectively secure the U.S. / Mexico border, it should be thought of as a system divided into three parts. A representative of the DHS will outline ways of uniting the organizational structure and breaking down each border element into compartments that work together to provide one outcome - effective border security.

* Evaluating the border as a whole system and not in parts
* Identifying the humanity aspect when working at the border

11:00 a.m.

ADVANCING ALL SITUATIONAL AND DOMAIN AWARENESS TO SUPPORT BORDER MISSIONS

Supporting border missions through situational and all domain awareness allows room to address challenges and provides understanding on how to respond in a threatening environment. Custom Border Patrol representatives will share how to appropriately notice changes across the border and respond rapidly.

* Building and sustaining situational awareness in a threat environment
* Using all domain awareness to predict future actions and threats
* Being aware of air, land and maritime border challenges and opportunities

Jennifer Barreras-Rawls, Operations Section Chief of Joint Task Force West, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

11:45 a.m.

ENSURING INTELLIGENCE DRIVEN OPERATIONS IN A THREAT ENVIRONMENT

It is important to use intelligence for improvement of the border system as a whole. Understanding how to share intelligence between partners and how to utilize the data given is a key component in securing the border.

* Understanding a threat environment using information and data
* Sharing Intelligence between Law Enforcement Enterprise Partners

Brad Skinner, Deputy Director Office of Field Operations Laredo Field Office,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

U.S. Customs and Border Protection

* Advancing the border using intelligence and innovative technology
* Enhancing operation objectives to increase border protection productivity
* Bringing the human element back into border management

1:30 p.m.

USING A SCIENTIFIC APPROACH TO ADDRESS BORDER CHALLENGES

Scientific breakthroughs and advancements have caused a huge gateway for the use of CIP and enhancing threat management. Here you will understand how intelligence pictures and process help conquer nearby threats.

* Using common intelligence pictures to showcase threat capabilities
* Establishing the ability to detect threats beyond the border
* Deploying a systematic process for analyzing and distributing data

2:15 p.m.

ENHANCING PARTNERSHIPS AND ENFORCEMENT COOPERATION

Establishing partnerships will assist the border in creating meaningful relationships and thus, actively creating new ways to guard the U.S. / Mexico Border. Utilizing department-wide cooperation and international input will help overcome border threats.

* Establishing a unity of effort approach to effectively guard the U.S/Mexico Border
* Building international partnerships to effectively detect threats
* Enhancing supply chain security to conduct thorough examinations at the border

Ismael Navarez Jr., Special Agent in Charge, IRS

3:00 p.m.

ADVANCING THE BORDER WITH THE MODEL PORTS PROGRAM

The Model Ports Program was designed to improve overall experience and operations at the port of entry. This session will showcase the reasoning and effectiveness behind the Model Ports Program.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Improving wait time monitoring and processing
* Conducting meetings with senior level industry leaders for establish goals and monitoring techniques
* Using Public-Private Partnerships to enhance operation at the ports of entry

Friday, December 6, 2019

8:50 a.m.
CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.
PROCUREMENT: FUTURE INITIATIVES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY

A DHS representative will disclose the 2020 Vision for the Department of Homeland Security. Attendees will understand where important investments are being made and how future policy will evolve border management.

* The 2020 outlook for the U.S./Mexico Border
* How policy changes will provide solutions to current border challenges
* Understanding future border investments
Rose Marie Davis, Director innovation Program Acquisitions, DHS

9:45 a.m.
IMMIGRATION OF FAMILIES ACROSS THE BORDER

The border is currently filled with multiple families including children seeking to come to the U.S. Due to the increase of migrants, facilities constantly become over crowded. Gain insights on how to ensure maintenance of facilities and navigate current and future border policies to secure the border.

* Maintaining protocol and policies when dealing with families at border
* Creating a safe and ethical environment at the U.S. /Mexico border
Robert Gross, DHS Attaché, Department of Homeland Security

11:00 a.m.
PROMOTING INNOVATION AND INTEGRITY AMONGST PERSONNEL

Training personnel on how to react in force situations and maintaining DHS ethical standards is important. Join us as we evaluate new initiatives taking place to reconstruct and advance CBP's organizational structure.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Reconstructing the border's organizational structure
* Ensuring ethical conduct and integrity along the border
* Advancing training initiatives in assisting use of force situations

11:45 a.m.

PREVENTING COUNTERTERRORISM AND TRANSNATIONAL CRIME AT THE BORDER

Joining forces across law enforcement allows one to maximize its resources and enhance operational integration. Leaders of the Department of Homeland Security will share how the interaction of global partners will assist with reducing crime and potential threats.

* Joining forces with local, state, and federal law enforcement to increase resources
* Using integrated operations to detect weapons and disrupt illegal crossings
* Expanding mobility to quicken response to threats John Jones, Divisional Director Intelligence and Counterterrorism, Texas Department of Public Safety

1:30 p.m.

ADVANCING BORDER TRADING IN ORDER TO PROTECT THE U.S.

Implementing strategies and trade intelligence will protect against unlawful items from entering. This session will break down the use of trade intelligence in real time and how it will shape enforcement efforts.

* Collaborating with advanced technology and enforcement to intercept high-risk shipment
* Responding to border risk in real-time using trade intelligence
* Integration of law enforcement to help protect the border from illegal trade

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

15.

Immigration in OECD Countries - 9th Annual International Conference

Thursday-Friday, December 12-13, 2019
OECD Boulogne Conference Centre - 46
quai Alphonse Le Gallo
92100 Boulogne-Billancourt
Paris, France
http://www.cepii.fr/CEPII/en/evenements/abstract.asp?IDReu=472

Description: The conference will examine the economic aspects of international migration in OECD countries by mapping the migratory flows and defining their socio-economic determinants and consequences. Topics of interest for the conference include, among others, the determinants of immigration to the OECD, migrants' self-selection, the labor market and public finance effects of immigration, as well as migrants and refugees social, political and economic integration.

The Keynote speakers are:

Uta Schoenberg, University College of London
Paolo Pinotti, Bocconi University
Thierry Mayer, Sciences Po

Return to Top

****
****

16.

Citizenship in Hard Times

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, January 13, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer-Final---Goodman-1-13-20.pdf

Sara Wallace Goodman, Associate Professor of Political Science, UC Irvine
Co-Director, Jack W. Peltason Center for the Study of Democracy, UC Irvine

Description: What do citizens do in times of democratic crisis? When democracy is under threat, do everyday citizens activate and mobilize, or do they hunker down, demobilize, and express greater support for homogeneity (like speaking English)? Scholars, pundits and policy experts have largely focused on elite behavior and institutional guardrails, but the citizenry is a foundation to any story about democracy under threat. This book is the first to examine civic obligation in unsettled democratic times from the perspective of citizens themselves. It employs a three-country study of the US, UK, and Germany, to examine how democratic citizens define obligation and for whom, comparing native-born and naturalized citizens. Findings highlight the importance of how democratic problems are framed, and puts forward a number of policy prescriptions for overhauling civic education.

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, November 14, 2019 4:36 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 11/14/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Reading, 11/14/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. EOIR adjudication statistics
2. Senate testimony on year in review of migration at the SW border
3. Senate testimony on threats to the homeland
4. House testimony on impact and aftermath of Mississippi immigration raids
5. U.S. Supreme Court oral arguments in DHS v. Regents of the University of California and Hernandez v. Mesa
6. Canada: Study on trends in citizen rates among new immigrants
7. Finland: Statistics on unemployment among immigrants
8. Norway: Statistics on educational attainment among persons with foreign backgrounds
9. Belgium: Statistics on naturalizations
10. Switzerland: Report on reasons for migration and conditions upon arrival
11. N.Z.: Statistics on international migration

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

12. SCOTUSblog analysis of DHS v. Regents of the University of California and Hernandez v. Mesa
13. Two new reports from the Pew Research Center
14. "Border Breakdown: The U.S. Immigration Crisis Continues to Confound"
15. "Early Warning Signals: Winners and Losers in the Global Race for Talent"
16. "How many undocumented immigrants are in the United States and who are they?"
17. "The Long-Term Impact of DACA: Forging Futures Despite DACA's Uncertainty Findings from the National UnDACAmented Research Project"
18. Two new features from the Migration Policy Institute
19. Two new discussion papers from the Institute for the Study of Labor
20. Twelve new papers from the Social Science Research Network
21. Eight new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
22. "Human rights aspects of immigrant and refugee integration policies (2019)"
23. "Desperate Journeys - January-September 2019"

BOOKS

24. What Do We Know and What Should We Do About Immigration?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

25. Refugees From Revolution: U.S. Policy And Third World Migration
26. Sanctuary cities and urban struggles: Rescaling migration, citizenship, and rights
27. Debating and Defining Borders: Philosophical and Theoretical Perspectives
28. The Making of the Conservative Party's Immigration Policy
29. The Atlas of Migration in Europe: A Critical Geography of Migration Policies
30. European Citizenship and Identity Outside of the European Union: Europe Outside Europe?
31. Transnational Immigrants: Redefining Identity and Citizenship
32. Extending Protection to Migrant Populations in Europe: Old and New Minorities

JOURNALS

33. Citizenship Studies
34. Forced Migration Review
35. Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
36. Latino Studies

1.

Executive Office for Immigration Review Adjudication Statistics

Immigration Judge (IJ) Hiring
October 2019
https://www.justice.gov/eoir/page/file/1104846/download

Immigration Judge Complaints
October 2019
https://www.justice.gov/eoir/page/file/1104851/download

Pending Unaccompanied Alien Child (UAC) Cases
October 23, 2019
https://www.justice.gov/eoir/page/file/1060871/download

Credible Fear Review and Reasonable Fear Review Decisions
October 2019
https://www.justice.gov/eoir/page/file/1104856/download

Total Asylum Applications

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

October 23, 2019
https://www.justice.gov/eoir/page/file/1106366/download

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Wednesday, November 13, 2019
Senate Committee on Homeland Security
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/unprecedented-migration-at-the-us-southern-border-the-year-in-review

Unprecedented Migration at the U.S. Southern Border: The Year in Review

Member Statements:

Chairman Ron Johnson
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Opening%20Statement-Johnson-2019-11-13.pdf

Ranking Member Gary C. Peters
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Opening%20Statement-Peters-2019-11-131.pdf

Witness testimony:

Mark A. Morgan, Acting Commissioner
U.S. Customs and Border Protection
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Morgan-2019-11-13.pdf

Kenneth T. Cuccinelli, Acting Director
U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Cuccinelli-2019-11-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

13.pdf

Derek N. Benner, Acting Deputy Director
U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Benner-2019-11-13.pdf

James McHenry, Director
Excecutive Office for Immigration Review
U.S. Department of Justice
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-McHenry-2019-11-13.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Tuesday, November 5, 2019
Senate Committee on Homeland Security & Governmental Affairs
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/threats-to-the-homeland

Threats to the Homeland

Chairman Ron Johnson
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Opening%20Statement-Johnson-2019-11-05.pdf

Ranking Member Gary C. Peters
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Opening%20Statement-Peters-2019-11-05.pdf

Witness testimony:

David J. Glawe
Under Secretary Office of Intelligence and Analysis
U.S. Department of Homeland Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Glawe-2019-11-05-REVISED1.pdf

Christopher A. Wray, Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Wray-2019-11-05.pdf

Russell Travers, Acting Director
National Counterterrorism Center
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Travers-2019-11-05.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Thursday, November 7, 2019
House Committee on Homeland Security
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/immigration-raids-impacts-and-aftermath-on-mississippi-communities

Immigration Raids: Impacts and Aftermath on Mississippi Communities

Chairman Bennie Thompson Opening Statement
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/BGT110719.pdf

Witness testimony:

Panel I
Cliff Johnson, Director, MacArthur Justice Center, University of Mississippi School of Law
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Johnson2.pdf

Father Odel Medina, Pastor, St. Anne Catholic Church, Carthage, Mississippi
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Medina.pdf

Constance Slaughter-Harvey, President of the Board, Legacy Education and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Empowerment Foundation
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Slaughter-Harvey.pdf

Lorena Quiroz-Lewis, Lead Organizer, Working Together Mississippi, Mississippi Immigrant Coalition
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Quiroz-Lewis.pdf

Panel II
Jere Miles, Special Agent in Charge, Homeland Security Investigations, Immigration and Customs Enforcement, U.S. Department of Homeland Security
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Miles.pdf

Mike Lee, Sheriff, Scott County, Mississippi
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Lee.pdf

William Truly, Mayor, Canton, Mississippi
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Truly.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Department of Homeland Security v. Regents of the University of California
In the Supreme Court of the United States, No. 18-587
Argued: November 12, 2019
https://www.scotusblog.com/case-files/cases/department-of-homeland-security-v-regents-of-the-university-of-california/

Issues: (1) Whether the Department of Homeland Security's decision to wind down the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals policy is judicially reviewable; and (2) whether DHS's decision to wind down the DACA policy is lawful.

Hernandez v. Mesa
In the Supreme Court of the United States, No. 17-1678
Argued: November 12, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.scotusblog.com/case-files/cases/hernandez-v-mesa-2/

Issues: Whether, when the plaintiffs plausibly allege that a rogue federal law-enforcement officer violated clearly established Fourth and Fifth amendment rights for which there is no alternative legal remedy, the federal courts can and should recognize a damages claim under Bivens v. Six Unknown Named Agents of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics.

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Study: Trends in the citizenship rate among new immigrants to Canada
Statistics Canada, November13,2019
https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/en/daily-quotidien/191113/dq191113b-eng.pdf?st=XhEaJowG

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Registered unemployed among immigrants
5.5% of immigrants are registered as unemployed Q3 2019
Statistics Norway, November 13, 2019
https://www.ssb.no/en/arbeid-og-lonn/statistikker/innvarbl/kvartal

Return to Top

****
****

8.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

At least one-fourth of persons with foreign background had completed tertiary level qualifications
Statistics Finland, November 5, 2019
https://www.stat.fi/til/vkour/2018/vkour_2018_2019-11-05_tie_001_en.html

Summary: By the end of 2018, altogether 3,399,532 persons, or 73 per cent of the population aged 15 or over had completed a post-comprehensive level qualification. The share of persons with an educational qualification grew by one percentage point from the year before. Seventy-six per cent of the population with Finnish background had completed post-comprehensive level qualifications, while the corresponding share for persons with foreign background was 51 per cent.

Return to Top

****
****

9.
2,539 naturalisations in August
Statistics Belgium, November 7, 2019
https://statbel.fgov.be/en/themes/population/changes-nationality

Summary: In August 2019, 2,539 persons obtained the Belgian nationality. The main countries of origin of naturalised Belgians in August are Morocco, Romania, the United Kingdom, Italy and the Democratic Republic of Congo.

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Reasons for migration and conditions upon arrival: differences by nationality groups
Swiss Federal Statistical Office, November 5, 2019
https://www.bfs.admin.ch/bfs/en/home/news/whats-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

new.assetdetail.10489612.html

Return to Top

****
****

11.
International migration: September 2019
Statistics New Zealand, November 11, 2019
https://www.stats.govt.nz/information-releases/international-migration-september-2019

Summary:

Annual
Year ended September 2019 (compared with year ended September 2018) provisional estimates:

migrant arrivals – 150,000 (± 1,500), up 6 percent
migrant departures – 95,300 (± 1,300), up 3 percent annual net migration gain – 54,600 (± 1,800), up from 49,500 (± 200).

For migrant arrivals in the September 2019 year, New Zealand citizens were the largest group with 34,700 (± 500) arrivals. The next largest groups were citizens of:

China – 17,300 (± 300)
India – 12,400 (± 200)
South Africa – 10,500 (± 200)
Australia – 9,400 (± 500)
Philippines – 8,400 (± 200).

For migrant departures in the September 2019 year, New Zealand citizens were the largest group with 47,900 (± 900) departures. The next largest groups were citizens of:

China – 8,000 (± 200)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

United Kingdom – 5,800 (± 200)
Australia – 4,100 (± 200)
India – 4,200 (± 100).

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Argument analysis: Justices torn, hard to read in challenge to decision to end DACA
By Amy Howe
SCOTUSblog, November 12, 2019
https://www.scotusblog.com/2019/11/argument-analysis-justices-torn-hard-to-read-in-challenge-to-decision-to-end-daca/#more-290185

Argument analysis: Justices divided in cross-border shooting case
By Amy Howe
SCOTUSblog, November 12, 2019
https://www.scotusblog.com/2019/11/argument-analysis-justices-divided-in-cross-border-shooting-case/

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Europe's Unauthorized Immigrant Population Peaks in 2016, Then Levels Off
New estimates find half live in Germany and the United Kingdom
By Phillip Connor and Jeffrey S. Passel
Pew Research Center, November 13, 2019
https://www.pewresearch.org/global/2019/11/13/europes-unauthorized-immigrant-population-peaks-in-2016-then-levels-off/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

What's happening at the U.S.-Mexico border in 5 charts
By John Gramlich and Luis Noe-Bustamante
Fact Tank, November 1, 2019
https://www.pewresearch.org/fact-tank/2019/11/01/whats-happening-at-the-u-s-mexico-border-in-5-charts/

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Border Breakdown: The U.S. Immigration Crisis Continues to Confound
What's causing the record influx of immigrants at the southern border, where are they coming from, and how will a recent change in asylum laws affect the flow?
By Jeh Johnson, Andrew Selee, and Julia Preston
Carnegie Reporter, November 6, 2019
https://www.carnegie.org/news/articles/border-breakdown-us-immigration-crisis-continues-confound/

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Early Warning Signals: Winners and Losers in the Global Race for Talent
Graduate Management Admissions Council, November 2019
https://www.gmac.com/-/media/files/gmac/research/talent-mobility/gmac-white-paper-early-warning-signals.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

16.

How many undocumented immigrants are in the United States and who are they?

By Elaine Kamarck and Christine Stenglein

Brookings Institution Policy 2020, November 12, 2019

https://www.brookings.edu/policy2020/votervital/how-many-undocumented-immigrants-are-in-the-united-states-and-who-are-they/

Return to Top

****

****

17.

The Long-Term Impact of DACA: Forging Futures Despite DACA's Uncertainty Findings from the National UnDACAmented Research Project (NURP)

By Roberto G. Gonzales, Sayil Camacho, Kristina Brant, and Carlos Aguilar

Immigration Initiative at Harvard, Special Report No. 1, November 2019

https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/files/hii/files/final_daca_report.pdf

Return to Top

****

****

18.

New from the Migration Policy Institute

Dependent on Remittances, Tajikistan's Long-Term Prospects for Economic Growth and Poverty Reduction Remain Dim

By Edward Lemon

Migration Information Source Feature, November 14, 2019

https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/dependent-remittances-tajikistan-prospects-dim-economic-growth

Sub-Saharan African Immigrants in the United States

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Carlos Echeverria-Estrada and Jeanne Batalova
Migration Information Source Spotlight, November 6, 2019 https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/sub-saharan-african-immigrants-united-states

Return to Top

****
****

19.
New from the Institute for the Study of Labor

Police Trust and Domestic Violence: Evidence from Immigration Policies
By Catalina Amuedo-Dorantes and Esther Arenas-Arroyo
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12721, October 2019
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12721/police-trust-and-domestic-violence-evidence-from-immigration-policies

Migration Networks and Location Decisions: Evidence from U.S. Mass Migration
By Bryan Stuart and Evan J. Taylor
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12709, October 2019
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12709/migration-networks-and-location-decisions-evidence-from-us-mass-migration

Return to Top

****
****

20.
New from the Social Science Research Network

1. Questioning Unaccompanied Immigrant Children: Lessons from Developmental Science on Forensic Interviewing Jodi Quas, University of California, Irvine - Department of Criminology, Law and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Society and Thomas D. Lyon, University of Southern California Gould School of Law
SRCD Child Evidence Brief, No. 6, October 2019
USC Legal Studies Research Papers Series No. 19-33
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3485056
https://www.srcd.org/research/questioning-unaccompanied-immigrant-children-lessons-developmental-science-forensic

2. Reframing Taxigration
By Jacqueline Lainez Flanagan, American University Washington College of Law
Posted: November 14, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3481554

3. 287(g) Agreements in the Trump Era
By Huyen Pham, Texas A&M University School of Law
Washington and Lee Law Review, Vol. 75, No. 3, 2018
Texas A&M University School of Law Legal Studies Research Paper Forthcoming
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3485021
https://scholarlycommons.law.wlu.edu/wlulr/vol75/iss3/3/

4. The Trauma of Trump's Family Separation and Child Detention Actions: A Children's Rights Perspective
By Jonathan Todres, Georgia State University College of Law and Daniela Villamizar Fink, Sonoda Law Firm
Washington Law Review, Vol. 95, No. 1, 2020
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3481435
http://www.law.washington.edu/WLR/

5. Trump's 'Immployment' Law Agenda: Intensifying Employment-Based Enforcement and Un-Authorizing the Authorized
By Kati L. Griffith and Shannon Gleeson, Cornell University - School of Industrial and Labor Relations
Posted: November 11, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3478758

6. Understanding Immigration Detention: Causes, Conditions, and Consequences

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Emily Ryo, University of Southern California Gould School of Law
Annual Review of Law and Social Science, Vol. 15, pp. 97-115, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3472509
https://www.researchgate.net/publication/333074183_Understanding_Immigration_Detention_Causes_Conditions_and_Consequences

7. What Matter of Soram Got Wrong: 'Child Abuse' Crimes that May Trigger Deportation Are Constantly Evolving and Even Target Good Parents
By Kari E. Hong, Boston College - Law School and Philip Torrey, Harvard Law School
Amicus Harvard Civil Rights- Civil Liberties Law Review (CR-CL), Oct 15 2019
Boston College Law School Legal Studies Research Paper No. 515
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3481994
https://harvardcrcl.org/what-matter-of-soram-got-wrong-child-abuse-crimes-that-may-trigger-deportation-are-constantly-evolving-and-even-target-good-parents/

8. Rodrigo's Rebuke: Originary Violence and U.S. Border Policy
By Richard Delgado, University of Alabama - School of Law
53 U.C. Davis L. Rev. Online 33 (2019)
U of Alabama Legal Studies Research Paper No. 3481320
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3481320
https://lawreview.law.ucdavis.edu/online/53/53-online-Delgado-Rebuke.pdf

9. What Are We Missing? Explaining Immigrant-Origin Voter Turnout with Standard and Immigrant-Specific Theories
By Dennis Spies, University of Cologne; Sabrina Mayer, University of Duisburg-Essen - Institute of Political Science; and Achim Goerres, University of Duisburg-Essen - Institute of Political Scien
Forthcoming in Electoral Studies
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3476639
https://www.researchgate.net/publication/336892197_What_are_we_missing_Explaining_immigrant-origin_voter_turnout_with_standard_and_immigrant-specific_theories

10. Citizenship Delayed: Civil Rights and Voting Rights Implications of the Backlog in Citizenship and Naturalization Applications
By Ming Hsu Chen, University of Colorado Law School; Center for the Study of Law & Society; University of Colorado, Boulder - Political Science
Colorado State Advisory Committee

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

U.S. Commission on Civil Rights
University of Colorado Law Review Forum, Vol. 91, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3464315
https://www.usccr.gov/pubs/2019/09-12-Citizenship-Delayed-Colorado-Naturalization-Backlog.pdf

11. Chevron and the Attorney General's Certification Power
By Jonathan Riedel, New York University (NYU), School of Law, Students
Posted: November 4, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3468826
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/immigration-article-of-the-day-chevron-and-the-attorney-generals-certification-power-by-jonathan-rie.html

12. Empirical Evidence on Labor Profile Competencies of Mexican Immigrants to the United States of America
By Azucena Leticia Herrera Aguado, Benemérita Universidad Autónoma de Puebla (BUAP) and Jorge González, The University of Texas-Rio Grande Valley
Global Journal of Business Research, v. 13 (2) p. 61-79, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3460806
https://ideas.repec.org/a/ibf/gjbres/v13y2019i2p61-79.html

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

1. An asylum officer blows the whistle on remain in Mexico
November 14, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/an-asylum-officer-blows-the-whistle-on-remain-in-mexico.html

2. Chad Wolf sworn in as Acting DHS Secretary, Cucinelli tapped as Deputy

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

November 14, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/chad-wolf-sworn-in-as-acting-dhs-secretary-cucinelli-tapped-as-deputy.html

3. The Most Immigrant Friendly City? The Winner is ... Chicago
November 14, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/the-most-immigrant-friendly-city-the-winner-is-chicago.html

4. The Implications of the DACA Cases in the Supreme Court
November 11, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/the-implications-of-the-daca-cases-in-the-supreme-court.html

5. The Trump Administration Is Proposing To Become One Of Just Four Countries In The World To Charge A Fee For Asylum
November 9, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/the-trump-administration-is-proposing-to-become-one-of-just-four-countries-in-the-world-to-charge-a-fee-for-asylum.html

6. Garrett Epps: The Fragility of Immigrants' Constitutional Protections
November 9, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/garrett-epps-the-fragility-of-immigrants-constitutional-protections.html

7. Hard to Call the Outcome in Barr v. Barton
November 5, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/hard-to-call-the-outcome-in-barr-v-barton.html

8. Guest Post: The Full Extremity of the Government's Position in Barton v. Barr
By Nancy Morawetz
November 4, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/guest-post-the-full-extremity-of-the-governments-position-in-barton-v-barr-by-nancy-morawetz.html

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

22.

Human rights aspects of immigrant and refugee integration policies (2019)

A comparative assessment in selected Council of Europe member states

Council of Europe, October 2019

https://edoc.coe.int/en/migration/7908-human-rights-aspects-of-immigrant-and-refugee-integration-policies.html

Return to Top

****

****

23.

Desperate Journeys - January-September 2019

Refugee and Migrant Children arriving in Europe and how to Strengthen their Protection

UNHCR, October 13, 2019

https://data2.unhcr.org/en/documents/download/71703

Return to Top

****

****

24.

What Do We Know and What Should We Do About Immigration?

By Jonathan Portes

SAGE Publications Ltd, 104 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1526464411, $44.99

http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1526464411/centerforimmigra

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Paperback, ISBN: 152646442X, 102 pp., $11.98
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/152646442X/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 608 KB, ASIN: B07NQNC9LR, $8.00

Book Description: What Do We Know and What Should We Do About Immigration? Is part of a new book series offering short, up-to-date overviews of key issues often misrepresented or simplified in the mainstream media. In this book, Professor Jonathan Portes examines the subject of immigration, providing readers with a short history of immigration in the UK, followed by a detailed discussion of 'What We Know' about the economic and social impact of immigration.

Portes addresses commonly asked questions such as: does immigration reduce job opportunities for those born in the UK, or push down wages? What is the impact of immigration on the public finances and public services? and, what has the impact of free movement of people been, both in the UK and the rest of the EU?

The author then proposes 'What We Should Do" about immigration, investigating what a post-Brexit immigration system should look like, and what, if anything, do we need to promote integration?

Intended for anyone seeking a quick and authoritative understanding of immigration in the UK.

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Refugees From Revolution: U.S. Policy And Third World Migration
By Peter Koehn

Routledge, 463 pp.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hardcover, ISBN: 036728541X, $108.25
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/036728541X/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 0813377196, $19.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0813377196/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 5523 KB, ASIN: B07TMGVPCD, 479 pp., $49.95

Book Description: This book relates social constraints and opportunities to micro-level exile decision making. It focuses on Cuban, Indo-Chinese, Ethiopian, Eritrean and Iranian exile communities in the United States. The book analyzes the origins of these large groups of exiles and their treatment under US policy.

Return to Top

****
****

26.
Sanctuary cities and urban struggles: Rescaling migration, citizenship, and rights
By Jonathan Darling and Harald Bauder

Manchester University Press, 288 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1526134918, $93.41
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1526134918/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1660 KB, ASIN: B07WHR4R5H, $120.00

Book Description: Sanctuary Cities and Urban Struggles makes the first sustained intervention into exploring how cities are challenging the primacy of the nation-state as the key guarantor of rights and entitlements. It brings together cutting-edge scholars of political geography, urban geography, citizenship studies, socio-legal studies and refugee studies to explore how urban social movements, localised practices of belonging and rights claiming, and diverse articulations of sanctuary are reshaping the governance of migration. By offering a collection of empirical cases and conceptualisations that move beyond 'seeing like a state', Sanctuary Cities and Urban Struggles proposes not a singular alternative but rather a set of interlocking sites and scales of political imagination and practice. In an era when migrant rights are under attack and nationalism is on the rise, the topic of how citizenship, rights and mobility can be recast at the urban scale is more relevant than ever.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

27.

Debating and Defining Borders: Philosophical and Theoretical Perspectives

By Anthony Cooper and Søren Tinning

Routledge, 284 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 0815357176, $122.06
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0815357176/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 2775 KB, ASIN: B07VZXVC69, $57.95

Book Description: This book brings together insights from border scholars and philosophers to ask how we are to define and understand concepts of borders today. Borders have a defining role in contemporary societies. Take, for example, the 2016 US election and the UK Brexit referendum, and subsequent debate, where the rhetoric and symbolism of border controls proved fundamental to the outcomes. However, borders are also becoming ever more multifaceted and complex, representing intersections of political, economical, social, and cultural interests.

For some, borders are tangible, situated in time and place; for others, the nature of borders can be abstracted and discussed in general terms. By discussing borders philosophically and theoretically, this edited collection tackles head on the most defi ning and challenging questions within the fi eld of border studies regarding the defi nition of its very object of study. Part 1 of the book consists of theoretical contributions from border scholars, Part 2 takes a philosophical approach, and Part 3 brings together chapters where philosophy and border studies are directly related.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Borders intersect with the key issues of our time, from migration, climate change vulnerability, terror, globalization, inequality, and nationalism, to intertwining questions of culture, identity, ideology, and religion. This book will be of interest to those studying in these fields, and most especially to researchers of border studies and philosophy.

Return to Top

****
****

28.
The Making of the Conservative Party's Immigration Policy
By Rebecca Partos

Routledge, 199 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1138541567, $99.94
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138541567/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1338 KB, ASIN: B07SLN3P5T, 193 pp., $54.95

Book Description: This book explains the development of the Conservative Party's immigration policy during the seven decades since 1945, up to today. By bringing together existing theories from the fields of political science and migration studies, this book offers a new model of party policy-making, which could be modified and tested in other contexts.

Grounded in rigorous scholarship, but of interest to general readers as well as specialists and students, this book provides a thoughtful and engaging account of the making of modern Britain. The book draws on 30 interviews with figures who were at the heart of policy-making, from Kenneth Clarke and Douglas Hurd, to Damian Green and Gavin Barwell, to reveal that the 'national mood' often has more impact on policy-making than the empirics of the situation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This book will be of key interest to scholars, students and readers interested in British politics; immigration and migration studies; Conservative Party politics; and, more broadly, public policy, political parties and European and comparative politics.

Return to Top

****

****

29.

The Atlas of Migration in Europe: A Critical Geography of Migration Policies

By Migreurop

Routledge, 180 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1138392847, $108.28
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138392847/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1138392863, $33.85
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138392863/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 26765 KB, ASIN: B07RZM4DXD, $31.16

Book Description: This book follows the journeys of those fleeing war, poverty or political crises, risking their lives as they attempt to find sanctuary in Europe. Over the past 25 years, almost 40,000 migrants have been reported missing or died due to drowning or exhaustion on the borders of Europe. 6,000 migrants died in 2016 alone, making it the deadliest year on record.

Growing numbers of arrivals since 2015 have caused a wave of panic to sweep across the countries of the European Union, which has responded with an increasingly entrenched policy – the only one it considers appropriate – of fortifying its external borders. As a result, numerous walls and fences have sprung up to "regulate the flows", new camps have been opened and reception centres have been set up beyond the frontiers of Europe, all accompanied by the steady militarisation of surveillance and repression. The EU has thus been just as active in precipitating this "migrant crisis" as it has been in prolonging its effects. Indeed, this crisis calls into question the entire European system for border management and policies on immigration and reception.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Deconstructing preconceptions, changing the way we see others, probing borders and mapping the nexus of control and detention, the collection of articles, maps, photographs and illustrations in this Atlas provide an important critical geography of migration policies. Perfect for journalists, activists, students of geopolitics at school or university, this Atlas seeks, above all, to give migrants a voice.

Return to Top

****
****

30.
European Citizenship and Identity Outside of the European Union: Europe Outside Europe?
By Agnieszka Weinar

Routledge, 154 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1138543632, $100.98
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138543632/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 3221 KB, ASIN: B07TP5NQNG, $49.95

Book Description: This book critically engages with the concept of European identity and citizenship, and the role of the European Union in diaspora, membership and emigration policies.

It presents original research on European governance of emigration and citizenship and considers European integration in a global context. It questions whether there can be a European diaspora outside the European Union, if European governance of emigration is possible, and whether the EU can or should govern its diasporas in the global era. By engaging with concepts of European citizenship, diaspora and identity, the author examines the weak meaning of Europe for EU nationals living abroad and finds that European public spaces, present and sustained within the European Union territory, are largely not exported outside of it. Equal treatment and equal rights become empty concepts for Europeans leaving the European Union as they lose their European citizenship.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of European Union politics, European studies, migration studies, American and Canadian studies, and the sociology of migration.

Return to Top

****

****

31.

Transnational Immigrants: Redefining Identity and Citizenship

By Uma Sarmistha

Springer, 127 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 9811385416, $70.01
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/9811385416/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 7766 KB, B07VCZTPMT, $66.90

Book Description: This book provides a detailed account of transnational practices undertaken by Indian 'high-tech' workers living in the United States. It describes the complexities and challenges of adapting to a new culture while clinging to tradition. Asian-Indians represent a significant part of the professional and 'high-tech' workforce in the United States, and the majority are temporary workers, working on contractual jobs (H1-B and L1 work visa category). Further, it is not unusual for Indian immigrant workers to marry and have children while working in the U.S. Gradually, they learn to negotiate the U.S. cultural terrain in both their place of work and at home in the U.S. As such there is the potential that they will become transnational, developing new identities and engaging in cultural and social practices from two different nations: India and the U.S. Against this background, the book describes the nature and extent of transnational practices adopted by high-tech Indian workers employed in the United States on temporary work visas.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The study reveals that the temporary stay of these professionals and their families in the U.S. necessitates day-to-day balancing of two cultures in terms of food, clothing, recreation, and daily activities, creating a transnational lifestyle for these young professionals. Transnational activities at the workplace, which are forced by the work culture of the MNCs that employ them, can be considered as 'transnationalism from above.' Simultaneously, being bi-lingual at home, cooking and eating Indian and Western food, socializing with Indian and American friends outside work, and all the cultural activities they perform on a day-to-day basis, indicates 'transnationalism from below'. The book is of interest to researchers and academics working on issues relating to culture, social change, migration and development.

Return to Top

****
****

32.

Extending Protection to Migrant Populations in Europe: Old and New Minorities

By Roberta Medda-Windischer, Caitlin Boulter, and Tove H. Malloy

Routledge, 192 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 113859072X, $100.98
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/113859072X/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 2589 KB, ASIN: B07VBBG6KX, $49.95

Book Description: This comprehensive and innovative volume focuses on the usefulness and relevance of extending the scope of protections already in place for national minorities ('old minorities') to migrant populations ('new minorities') in Europe.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Delving into a highly relevant but under-researched issue, the book examines the feasibility of expanding the system of protection for national minorities to migrant groups, as well as considering issues of diversity, security, socio-economic concerns and identity. Taking a multidisciplinary perspective, and combining insights from political science, law, sociology and anthropology, it asks the central question of how far the extension of policies and rights currently specific to national minorities is conceptually meaningful and beneficial to the integration of 'new' minorities. In doing so, it questions the feasibility and appropriateness of extending the scope of the protections already in place for national minorities to other categories of population.

This book will be of key interest to scholars, students and practitioners of European Union politics, migration studies, minority studies and more broadly of sociology, international law and human rights.

Return to Top

****
****

33.
Citizenship Studies
Vol. 23, No. 8, November 2019
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/ccst20/23/8

Selected articles:

Claiming rights in exile: women's insurgent citizenship practices in the Thai-Myanmar borderlands
By Elisabeth Olivius
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1664408

Immigrant meanings of citizenship: mobility, stability, and recognition
By Simon Roland Birkvad
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1664402

Deliberative citizenship: a critical reappraisal
By William Smith

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1664404

The emergence of 'citizenship' in popular discourse: the case of Scotland
By Mairin Hennebry-Leung and Florence Bonacina-Pugh
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1645812

Defending popular sovereignty: discursive conflict in French and Swedish parliamentary debates on immigrant voting rights (1968-2017)
By Agustín Goenaga
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1677556

Return to Top

****
****

34.
Forced Migration Review
October 2019
https://www.fmreview.org/return/contents

Articles:

Preventing displacement, addressing root causes and the promise of the Global Compact on Refugees
By Volker Türk
https://www.fmreview.org/return/turk

Shifting power and changing practice to support locally led peace building
By Alex Shoebridge
https://www.fmreview.org/return/shoebridge

Land and conflict: taking steps towards peace
By Oumar Sylla, Ombretta Tempra, Filiep Decorte, Clarissa Augustinus, and Ismael Frioud
https://www.fmreview.org/return/sylla-tempra-decorte-augustinus-frioud

Community-level conflict prevention and peace building in DRC and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Somalia
By Wale Osofisan and Shuna Keen https://www.fmreview.org/return/osofisan-keen

Gang violence, GBV and hate crime in Central America: State response versus State responsibility
By Vickie Knox
https://www.fmreview.org/return/knox

The Palestinian refugee question: root causes and breaking the impasse
By Francesca P Albanese and Damian Lilly
https://www.fmreview.org/return/albanese-lilly

Resilience spaces: rethinking protection
By Pablo Cortés Ferrández
https://www.fmreview.org/return/cortesferrandez

Return to Top

****
****

35.
Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
Vol. 45, No. 16, December 2019
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/cjms20/45/16

Special Issue: Transnational Families in Global Migration: Navigating Economic Development and Life Cycles Across Blurred and Brittle Borders

Articles:

Transnational families negotiating migration and care life cycles across nation-state borders
By Deborah Fahy Bryceson
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1547017

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Beyond breadwinning: Ghanaian transnational fathering in the Netherlands
By Miranda Poeze
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1547019

Parental migration and disruptions in everyday life: reactions of left-behind children in Southeast Asia
By Theodora Lam and Brenda S.A. Yeoh
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1547022

Here or there? Gendered return migration to Bolivia from Spain during economic crisis and fluctuating migration policies
By Raquel Martínez-Buján
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1547023

Transnational migration and the involuntary return of undocumented migrants across the Cambodian–Thai border
By Robert Nurick and Sochanny Hak
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1547024

Tourist brides and migrant grooms: Cuban–Danish couples and family reunification policies
By Nadine T. Fernandez
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1547025

Transnational mobility and cross-border family life cycles: A century of Welsh-Italian migration
By Emanuela Bianchera, Robin Mann, and Sarah Harper
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1547026

+++

Vol. 45, No. 15, December 2019
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/cjms20/45/15?nav=tocList

Selected articles:

Migration and queer mobilisations: how migration facilitates cross-border LGBTQ activism

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Phillip M. Ayoub and Lauren Bauman
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1497955

Evaluating the effects of immigrant integration policies in Western Europe using a difference-in-differences approach
By Michael Neureiter
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1505485

Perceived discrimination as a major factor behind return migration? The return of Turkish qualified migrants from the USA and Germany
By Meltem Yilmaz Sener
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1524292

A division of labour? Labour market segmentation by region of origin: the case of intra-EU migrants in the UK, Germany and Denmark
By Jonas Felbo-Kolding, Janine Leschke, and Thees F. Spreckelsen
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1518709

Does selective acculturation work? Cultural orientations, educational aspirations and school effort among children of immigrants in Norway
By Jon Horgen Friberg
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2019.1602471

The impact of school tracking on school misconduct: variations by migration background in England, The Netherlands, and Sweden
By Sara Geven
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2019.1600402

From irregular migration to radicalisation? Fragile borders, securitised development and the government of Moroccan youth
By Lorena Gazzotti
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1493914

New patterns of ethnic diversity: exploring the residential geographies of mixed-ethnicity individuals in Sydney, Australia
By Alexander Tindale
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1467267

The hope of a better life? Exploring the challenges faced by migrant Roma

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

families in Ireland in relation to children's education
By Patricia Kennedy and Karen Smith
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1471344

Rhythms of 'Free' movement*: migrants' bodies and time under South Korean visa regime
By June Hee Kwon
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1482740

Return to Top

****
****

36.
Latino Studies
Vol. 17, No. 4, December 2019
https://link.springer.com/journal/41276/17/3

Selected articles:

The adaptation path of transnational students in Mexico: Linguistic and identity challenges in Mexican schools
By Colette Despagne and Mónica Jacobo Suárez
https://link.springer.com/article/10.1057/s41276-019-00207-w

Vulnerability, precarity and the people in debates over immigration in local newspapers
By Jolanta A. Drzewiecka, Gian-Louis Hernandez, and Somava Pande
https://link.springer.com/article/10.1057/s41276-019-00208-9

Transiciones e Incertidumbres: Migration from El Salvador, Honduras and Guatemala
By Denise N. Obinna
https://link.springer.com/article/10.1057/s41276-019-00209-8

The cost of citizenship: Assimilation and survival in Cristela
By Doug P. Bush

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://link.springer.com/article/10.1057/s41276-019-00206-x

Fleeing home: Notes on the Central American caravan in its transit to reach the US–Mexico border
By Veronica Montes
https://link.springer.com/article/10.1057/s41276-019-00214-x

Mobilization beyond deportation: An interview with Yolanda Varona, founder of DREAMers Moms USA/Tijuana AC
By Guadalupe Chavez
https://link.springer.com/article/10.1057/s41276-019-00213-y

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mark Krikorian

From:	Mark Krikorian
Sent:	Thursday, November 14, 2019 6:20 PM
To:	Law, Robert T
Subject:	Fwd: Resume
Attachments:	Rob Randolph resume.pdf

Got your text. I'd sent this to Kathy a few weeks ago, don't know if she was interested. -- MK

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Mark Krikorian <msk@cis.org>
Date: Fri, Oct 18, 2019, 11:42 AM
Subject: Resume
To: Kathy Nuebel Kovarik [redacted] (b)(6)

Kathy: Ken had called a while back and asked for suggestions for regulatory lawyers. This guy does tax, apparently, which isn't the same thing, but I thought I'd pass it along. I met him this week at a Trump-friendly conference and he's very interested in the issue. Do with this what you will.. -- MK

---------- Forwarded message ---------
From: Robert Randolph [redacted] (b)(6)
Date: Thu, Oct 17, 2019 at 4:17 PM
Subject: Follow up
To: <msk@cis.org>

Dear Mark,

It was great to meet you at the conference yesterday. I have been reading and appreciating your commentary for several years now--and then to get to share a table with you at lunch!

As I mentioned, I am interested in working on immigration law/policy and am wondering if there are areas in the government where I could help. It is an important issue and this feels like an important time. I have a longstanding interest. I took a course on immigration law in law school, and followed that with an independent study on a citizenship issue. I have read books on the subject by you, George Borjas, and Roy Beck. Prior to law school, I worked for several years as a print journalist in Mexico, where I covered the economy, trade, agriculture, and general national news. I do not of course claim expertise in immigration law per se, although I do have training in another complex regulatory regime (tax law).

(As an aside, I have been doing preliminary thinking on an interpretive theory relating to the Fourteenth Amendment and jus soli citizenship that I have not seen raised anywhere.)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I would be grateful for any advice or other ideas you may have, and would certainly welcome staying in touch in general. Please let me know if I can provide further information.

Best regards,

Rob Randolph

P.S. You can find additional information on the "Whole30" diet we briefly talked about at the following link. I have decided to do another 30 days, starting tomorrow.

https://whole30.com/discover/

--

Mark Krikorian, Executive Director
Center for Immigration Studies
1629 K Street NW, Suite 600
Washington, DC 20006
o. (202) 466-8185 c. (202) 288-4560
msk@cis.org www.cis.org
Twitter: @MarkSKrikorian

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(b)(6)

BAR STATUS

EDUCATION

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Sunday, November 17, 2019 7:47 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 11/17/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 11/17/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "When SCOTUS Rules on DACA, Then What?," Mark Krikorian
2. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew R. Arthur, David North, John Miano, and Jason Peña
3. "The Left's Immigration Laws: The Ultimate Con Game," Michael Cutler
4 "Bernie Leads His Party to Open Borders," Pat Buchanan
5. "Meet the 'American Students Last' Lobby," Michelle Malkin
6. "Overturning DACA Would Be a Win for the Constitution," David Harsanyi
7. "Bernie Unveils Radical Immigration Plan – No Deportations, ICE, Border Patrol," Jack Davis
8. "Bottom Line: Do Illegal Aliens Matter More Than American Citizens?," Daniel Horowitz
9. "N.C.'s Dem Guv Protects Non-Citizen Voters as 2020 Election Nears," Jared Harris
10. "Governor Shields Non-Citizen Voters in North Carolina," Bob Dane
11. "DACA Arrives at the Supreme Court," John Hinderaker
12. "Are Conservative Immigration Restrictionists Racist?," Ben Shapiro
13. " 'She's Literally Protected to Lie': Immigration Chief Reacts to 'White Supremacist' Accusation From Debbie Wasserman Schultz," Jason Hopkins
14 "Supreme Court's Conservative Majority Appears Poised to Allow Trump Admin to End DACA," Zachary Evans
15. "Open-Borders Hispanic Archbishop Will Lead US Conference of Catholic Bishops," M. Catharine Evans
16. "DACA's Day in Court," National Review Online
17. "Northwestern University's Student Paper Ignores the First Amendment," Jennifer G. Hickey
18. "A Cop's-Eye View: A Bit About Me and the Sanctuary Jurisdiction I Patrol," ImmigrationReform.com
19. "In Praise of Tight Labor Markets," Ira Mehlman
20. "NC Sanctuary Sheriff Asks for the Impossible to Excuse His Outrageous Actions," David Jaroslav

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

22. "Can Republicans Afford to be Pro-Immigrant?," Bryan Caplan
23. "Immigration Patriot Jeff Sessions Again Bound For Senate — If Trump Overcomes His Pettiness," Washington Watcher II
24. "Yes, SPLC (And Ayatollah Ahmari), of Course Stephen Miller Reads VDARE.com — Just Not Enough," James Fulford
25. "Americans Gain Jobs in October; Immigrants Leaving in Record Numbers! Is Trump Quietly (!) Doing Something Right (!!)?," Edwin S. Rubenstein
26. "If Congress Had Any Pride, It Would Set Immigration Policy," George Will
27. "Bernie Sanders's Immigration Plan: What Happens on Day 2?," Martin W. Lester
28. "Abolish ICE ... and Then What?," Peter L. Markowitz
29. "The Real Immigration Crisis," Charles Kenny
30. "There's Room in the Center for Immigration Reform," Jim Fossel
31. "One Way or Another, the Supreme Court Is Likely to Let Trump End DACA," Ian Millhiser
32. "Why the Arguments Against Immigration Are so Popular," The Economist
33. "What DACA Means to Me: A Dreamer Explains the Value of the Obama-era Program as it Hangs in the Balance," Parveen Singh
34. "For Undocumented Immigrants, Our Enforcement Policies Drive a Public Mental Health Crisis," Josue De Luna Navarro
35. "Trump Has Bulldozed Over Congress on Immigration. Will Lawmakers Ever Act?," Catherine Rampell
36. "Proposed Asylum Fees Are Part of a Bid to Make Immigrants to the US Fund Their Own Red Tape," Sarah R. Sherman-Stokes
37. "Bernie Sanders's Immigration Plan Puts the Rights of Workers into Focus," Nicole Narea and Tara Golshan
38. "The Supreme Court Heard a Major Case on DACA. Here's What You Need to Know.," Jorge Loweree

1.

When SCOTUS Rules on DACA, Then What?

By Mark Krikorian

The Corner at National Review Online, November 12, 2019

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/when-scotus-rules-on-daca-then-what/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

2.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

Following the DACA Case at SCOTUS
November 15, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Following-DACA-Case-SCOTUS

Why Charging a Fee for Asylum Is Not Wrong
November 14, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Why-Charging-Fee-Asylum-Not-Wrong

By Andrew R. Arthur

UACs and HHS: 17 Years of What Not to Do
Of exploding whales and cruelty toward children
November 14, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/UACs-and-HHS-17-Years-What-Not-Do

Does the United States Even Have an Immigration Policy Anymore?
Caught between Scylla and Charybdis
November 14, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Does-United-States-Even-Have-Immigration-Policy-Anymore

The Supreme Court Should End DACA, and Return Power to Congress
Then, let the compromise begin
November 13, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Supreme-Court-Should-End-DACA-and-Return-Power-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Congress

Andrew Arthur Discusses DACA SCOTUS Case
Originally Aired by FOX News on November 12, 2019
November 12, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Andrew-Arthur-Discusses-DACA-SCOTUS-Case

Arizona Is the Hole in the 'Remain in Mexico' Net
Officials need to act — fast
November 12, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Arizona-Hole-Remain-Mexico-Net

Bernie Sanders Releases His Immigration Plan
An unserious proposal with serious consequences
November 11, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Bernie-Sanders-Releases-His-Immigration-Plan

Daniel Cameron: Kentucky's Immigration Hawk
McConnell protégé signals support for enforcement
November 8, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Daniel-Cameron-Kentuckys-Immigration-Hawk

By Jason Richwine

More False Claims About DACA Recipients, this Time from a Supreme Court Justice
November 13, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Richwine/More-False-Claims-About-DACA-Recipients-Time-Supreme-Court-Justice

By David North

One of the Worst Foreign Farm Labor Programs Just Got a Little Better
November 15, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://cis.org/North/One-Worst-Foreign-Farm-Labor-Programs-Just-Got-Little-Better

New Twist on Birthright Citizenship Scene
November 14, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/New-Twist-Birthright-Citizenship-Scene

EB-5 Bill Would Override Pending Regulations
Tens of thousands could be paroled in, effectively erasing the annual cap
November 8, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/EB5-Bill-Would-Override-Pending-Regulations

By John Miano

What Is DACA?
Is it a rule or is it prosecutorial discretion?
November 15, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Miano/What-DACA

Media Serves Up Advocacy, Not Legal Analysis, on DACA
November 13, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Miano/Media-Serves-Advocacy-Not-Legal-Analysis-DACA

Court Rules that American Worker Plaintiffs Have Standing in H-4 EAD Lawsuit
November 9, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Miano/Court-Rules-American-Worker-Plaintiffs-Have-Standing-H4-EAD-Lawsuit

By Jason Peña

Asylum Requests in Mexico Triple Compared to Last Year
November 12, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Asylum-Requests-Mexico-Triple-Compared-Last-Year

At One Migrant Shelter on the Border, Most of the Minors are Mexican November 11, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/One-Migrant-Shelter-Border-Most-Minors-are-Mexican Mexican Authorities Identify Migrants with Ties to Terrorism

November 9, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Mexican-Authorities-Identify-Migrants-Ties-Terrorism

Return to Top

****
****

3.
The Left's Immigration Laws: The Ultimate Con Game
Undermining public safety, public health, national security and the jobs and wages of American workers.
By Michael Cutler
FrontPageMag.com, November 11, 2019
. . .
https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2019/11/lefts-immigration-laws-ultimate-con-game-michael-cutler/

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Bernie Leads His Party to Open Borders
By Pat Buchanan
Townhall.com, November 12, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/patbuchanan/2019/11/12/bernie-leads-his-party-to-open-borders-n2556311

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Meet the 'American Students Last' Lobby
By Michelle Malkin
Townhall.com, November 13, 2019
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/michellemalkin/2019/11/13/meet-the-american-students-last-lobby-n2556395

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Overturning DACA Would Be a Win for the Constitution
By David Harsanyi
The Corner at National Review Online, November 13, 2019
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/daca-supreme-court-case-overturning-would-be-win-for-constitution/

Return to Top

****
****

7.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Bernie Unveils Radical Immigration Plan – No Deportations, ICE, Border Patrol

By Jack Davis

WorldNetDaily.com, November 8, 2019

. . .

https://www.wnd.com/2019/11/bernie-sanders-unveils-radical-immigration-plan-calling-end-deportations-dismantling-ice-cbp/?utm_source=Email&utm_medium=wnd-brief&utm_campaign=dailypm&utm_content=brief

Return to Top

****

****

8.

Bottom Line: Do Illegal Aliens Matter More Than American Citizens?

By Daniel Horowitz

Conservative Review, November 13, 2019

. . .

https://www.conservativereview.com/news/bottom-line-illegal-aliens-matter-american-citizens/

Return to Top

****

****

9.

N.C.'s Dem Guv Protects Non-Citizen Voters as 2020 Election Nears

By Jared Harris

WorldNetDaily.com, November 8, 2019

. . .

https://www.wnd.com/2019/11/ncs-dem-governor-protects-non-citizen-voters-2020-election-nears/?utm_source=Email&utm_medium=wnd-brief&utm_campaign=dailypm&utm_content=brief

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

10.

Governor Shields Non-Citizen Voters in North Carolina

By Bob Dane

ImmigrationReform.com, November 12, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/12/election-fraud-north-carolina-illegals-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

11.

DACA's Day in Court

By Paul Mirengoff

PowerLine Blog, November 12, 2019

. . .

https://www.powerlineblog.com/archives/2019/11/dacas-day-in-court.php

Return to Top

****

****

12.

Are Conservative Immigration Restrictionists Racist?

By Ben Shapiro

The Daily Signal, November 13, 2019

. . .

https://www.dailysignal.com/2019/11/13/are-conservative-immigration-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

restrictionists-racist/

Return to Top

****
****

13.
'She's Literally Protected to Lie': Immigration Chief Reacts to 'White Supremacist' Accusation From Debbie Wasserman Schultz
By Jason Hopkins
Conservative Daily News, November 1, 2019
. . .
https://www.conservativedailynews.com/2019/11/shes-literally-protected-to-lie-immigration-chief-reacts-to-white-supremacist-accusation-from-debbie-wasserman-schultz/

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Supreme Court's Conservative Majority Appears Poised to Allow Trump Admin to End DACA
By Zachary Evans
National Review Online, November 12, 2019
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/news/supreme-courts-conservative-majority-appears-poised-to-allow-trump-admin-to-end-daca/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

15.

Open-Borders Hispanic Archbishop Will Lead US Conference of Catholic Bishops

By M. Catharine Evans

AmericanThinker, November 13, 2019

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2019/11/open_borders_hispanic_archbishop_will_lead_us_conference_of_catholic_bishops.html

Return to Top

****

****

16.

DACA's Day in Court

National Review Online, November 12, 2019

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/2019/11/supreme-court-daca-case-immigration-policy/

Return to Top

****

****

17.

Northwestern University's Student Paper Ignores the First Amendment

By Jennifer G. Hickey

ImmigrationReform.com, November 12, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/12/immigration-college-campus-free-speech-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

18.

A Cop's-Eye View: A Bit About Me and the Sanctuary Jurisdiction I Patrol

By Guest Opinion

ImmigrationReform.com, November 12, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/12/sanctuary-policy-police-officers-ice-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

19.

In Praise of Tight Labor Markets

By Ira Mehlman

ImmigrationReform.com, November 11, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/11/guest-workers-workforce-jobs-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

20.

NC Sanctuary Sheriff Asks for the Impossible to Excuse His Outrageous Actions

By David Jaroslav

ImmigrationReform.com, November 11, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/11/ice-sheriffs-criminal-aliens-sanctuary-immigrationreform-com/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

21.
DACA Arrives at the Supreme Court
By John Hinderaker
PowerLine Blog, November 11, 2019
. . .
https://www.powerlineblog.com/archives/2019/11/daca-arrives-at-the-supreme-court.php

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Can Republicans Afford to be Pro-Immigrant?
By Bryan Caplan
The Library of Economics and Liberty, November 12, 2019
. . .
https://www.econlib.org/can-republicans-afford-to-be-pro-immigrant/

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Immigration Patriot Jeff Sessions Again Bound For Senate — If Trump Overcomes His Pettiness
By Washington Watcher II
VDare.com, November 14, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/immigration-patriot-jeff-sessions-again-bound-for-senate-if-trump-overcomes-his-pettiness

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Yes, SPLC (And Ayatollah Ahmari), of Course Stephen Miller Reads VDARE.com — Just Not Enough
By James Fulford
VDare.com, November 12, 2019
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/yes-splc-and-ayatollah-ahmari-of-course-stephen-miller-reads-vdare-com-just-not-enough

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Americans Gain Jobs in October; Immigrants Leaving in Record Numbers! Is Trump Quietly (!) Doing Something Right (!!)?
By Edwin S. Rubenstein
VDare.com, November 8, 2019
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/national-data-americans-gain-jobs-in-october-immigrants-leaving-in-record-numbers-is-trump-quietly-doing-something-right

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

26.

If Congress Had Any Pride, It Would Set Immigration Policy

By George Will

The Enterprise-Record, November 10, 2019

. . .

https://www.chicoer.com/2019/11/10/if-congress-had-any-pride-it-would-set-immigration-policy/

Return to Top

****

****

27.

Bernie Sanders's Immigration Plan: What Happens on Day 2?

By Martin W. Lester

TheHill.com, November 14, 2019

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/469935-bernie-sanders-immigration-plan-what-happens-on-day-2

Return to Top

****

****

28.

Abolish ICE ... and Then What?

By Peter L. Markowitz

The Yale Law Journal, November 7, 2019

. . .

https://www.yalelawjournal.org/forum/abolish-ice-and-then-what

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

29.

The Real Immigration Crisis

The Problem Is Not Too Many, But Too Few

By Charles Kenny

Foreign Affairs Magazine, November 11, 2019

. . .

https://www.foreignaffairs.com/articles/2019-11-11/real-immigration-crisis

Return to Top

****

****

30.

There's Room in the Center for Immigration Reform

While there is deep disagreement on the partisan extremes, most Americans would support sensible reforms to increase legal immigration.

By Jim Fossel

CentralMaine.com, November 10, 2019

. . .

https://www.centralmaine.com/2019/11/10/jim-fossel-theres-room-in-the-center-for-immigration-reform/

Return to Top

****

****

31.

One Way or Another, the Supreme Court Is Likely to Let Trump End DACA

The DACA arguments went better than expected for DREAMers, but that's probably not enough to save them.

By Ian Millhiser

VOX.com, November 12, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.vox.com/policy-and-politics/2019/11/12/20961371/daca-supreme-court-dreamers-gorsuch-kavanaugh

Return to Top

****
****

32.
Why the Arguments Against Immigration Are so Popular
But wildly exaggerated
The Economist, November 14, 2019
. . .
https://www.economist.com/special-report/2019/11/14/why-the-arguments-against-immigration-are-so-popular

Return to Top

****
****

33.
What DACA Means to Me: A Dreamer Explains the Value of the Obama-era Program as it Hangs in the Balance
By Parveen Singh
The New York Daily News, November 12, 2019,
. . .
https://www.nydailynews.com/opinion/ny-oped-what-daca-means-to-me-20191112-k2nzwgpmzzfofa5lxfmjpccgyi-story.html

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

34.

For Undocumented Immigrants, Our Enforcement Policies Drive a Public Mental Health Crisis

By Josue De Luna Navarro

USA Today, November 12, 2019

. . .

https://www.usatoday.com/story/opinion/voices/2019/11/12/daca-undocumented-immigrants-mental-health-stress-trauma-column/2562126001/

Return to Top

****

****

35.

Trump Has Bulldozed Over Congress on Immigration. Will Lawmakers Ever Act?

By Catherine Rampell

The Washington Post, November 14, 2019

. . .

https://www.washingtonpost.com/opinions/trump-has-bulldozed-over-congress-on-immigration-will-lawmakers-ever-act/2019/11/14/67401466-0722-11ea-8292-c46ee8cb3dce_story.html

Return to Top

****

****

36.

Proposed Asylum Fees Are Part of a Bid to Make Immigrants to the US Fund Their Own Red Tape

By Sarah R. Sherman-Stokes

The Hartford Courant, November 15, 2019

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://www.courant.com/sns-proposed-asylum-fees-are-part-of-a-bid-to-make-immigrants-to-the-us-fund-their-own-red-tape-126890-20191115-story.html

Return to Top

****
****

37.
Bernie Sanders's Immigration Plan Puts the Rights of Workers into Focus
He's making the argument that his ideas on labor and immigration are compatible.
By Nicole Narea and Tara Golshan
VOX.com, November 7, 2019
. . .
https://www.vox.com/policy-and-politics/2019/11/7/20951821/bernie-sanders-immigration-plan-worker-rights-legalization-labor

Return to Top

****
****

38.
The Supreme Court Heard a Major Case on DACA. Here's What You Need to Know.
ImmigrationImpact.com, November 13, 2019
By Jorge Loweree
. . .
http://immigrationimpact.com/2019/11/13/supreme-court-daca-what-you-need-to-know/#.XdGey8-Wzoc

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, November 18, 2019 7:55 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 11/18/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 11/18/19

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

1. 11/19, DC, - Conference on migrant health in crises
2. 11/19, DC - House hearing on the human rights and legal implications of DHS' 'Remain in Mexico' policy - [New Listing]
3. 11/19, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on moralized political messages and attitudes toward immigrants
4. 11/20-22, DC - 2019 Homeland Security Week conference
5. 11/20-24, Vancouver, BC - Immigration at the American Anthropological Association annual meeting
6. 11/21, DC - Discussion on immigration and Christianity at the border - [New Listing]
7. 11/22, San Ysidro, CA - House field hearing on the humanitarian aspects of the US migratory crisis - [New Listing]
8. 11/22, Waltham, MA - CIS at book discussion: *Who's Funding America's Destruction?
9. 12/2, San Diego - Seminar on dealing with unaccompanied child migrants
10. 12/4, Canada/USA - Webinar on municipal leadership on immigrant attraction and retention - [New Listing]
11. 12/4-6, San Antonio - Border Management South conference
12. 12/5, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on the impact of tactical infrastructure on the US-Mexican border - [New Listing]
13. 12/12-13, Paris - Annual conference on immigration in OECD countries
14. 1/13/20, San Diego - Book discussion: Citizenship in Hard Times
15. 1/16-17/20, Paris - OECD conference on migration and integration policies - [New Listing]

1.
Migrant Health in Crises

9:00 a.m.-2:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 19, 2019
Healey Family Student Center Social Room
Tondorf Road
Washington, DC 20007

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.eventbrite.com/e/migrant-health-in-crises-a-one-day-symposium-tickets-79257712953

Description: While there is growing recognition of the scale of international migration and displacement, less attention has been paid to the particular health needs of migrants and displaced persons. This Symposium, jointly organized by the Center for Global Health Science and Security and the Department of Family Medicine at Georgetown University School of Medicine and the Institute for the Study of International Migration at Georgetown's School of Foreign Service, will bring together a range of academics and practitioners to consider the particular health challenges facing migrants and refugees.

This Symposium will convene subject matter experts from humanitarian organizations, governments, and academic partners from around the world to address some of the most pressing issues surrounding the health of displaced populations, both domestically and abroad. The discussion will be organized around three focus areas that impact migrant health in crises, each with a regional focus:

Program:

8:30-9:00 a.m.
Forced Displacement and Health Overview
Katharine Donato and Erin Sorrell, Georgetown University

9:00-10:30 a.m.
Infectious disease, conflict and displacement: focus on Africa

Moderator:
Claire Standley, Georgetown University

Melissa Horn, Lead Protection Sector Advisor, Office of U.S. Foreign Disaster Assistance, USAID

Yves Giebens, Health Coordinator, International Committee of the Red Cross, Jerusalem

Reem Musa, Médecins sans Frontières, Brussels

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Bernard Nahlen, Director Eck Institute for Global Health, University of Notre Dame

10:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Refugee Healthcare in host countries: focus on MENA

Moderator:

Elizabeth Ferris, Georgetown University

Paul Spiegel, Director of Center for Humanitarian Health and Professor, Department of International Health, Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health.

Dani Poole, Neukom Institute for Computational Science, Dartmouth College

Aisha Jumaan, Founder and President, Yemen Relief and Reconstruction Foundation

Eskinder Negash, President and CEO, U.S. Committee for Refugees and Immigrants

12:45-2:15 p.m.

Border Health: focus on US-Mexico border

Moderator:

Ranit Mishori, Georgetown University

Aleksander Anikov, Regional Migration Health Specialist for the Americas, International Organization for Migration

Ciro Ugarte, Director Health Emergencies Department Pan American Health Organization

Alan Shapiro, Senior Medical Director of Community Pediatric Programs, Clinical Assistant Professor Albert Einstein College of Medicine and Department of Pediatrics, Montefiore Health Systems.

Kathryn Hampton - Director of Asylum Program, Physicians for Human Rights

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2:15-2:30 p.m.
Closing Remarks
Dr. Katharine Donato and Dr. Erin Sorrell, Georgetown University

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Examining the Human Rights and Legal Implications of DHS' 'Remain in Mexico' Policy

10:00 AM, Tuesday, November 19, 2019
House Committee on Homeland Security
Subcommittee on Border Security, Facilitation, & Operations
310 Cannon House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/examining-the-human-rights-and-legal-implications-of-dhs-remain-in-mexico-policy

Witnesses:

Laura Peña, Pro Bono Counsel, American Bar Association Commission on Immigration

Erin Thorn Vela, Staff Attorney, Racial and Economic Justice Program, Texas Civil Rights Project

Todd Schneberk, MD, Assistant Professor of Emergency Medicine, Co-Director, Human Rights Collaborative, Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California, Asylum Network Clinician, Physicians for Human Rights

Michael Knowles, President, AFGE Local 1924, Special Representative, AFGE National CIS Council 119

Thomas Homan, Former Acting Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, Department of Homeland Security (minority witness)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Moralized Political Messages and Attitudes Toward Immigrants

12:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 19, 2019
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/kristina-simonsen-moralized-political-messages-and-attitudes-toward-immigrants

Kristina Simonsen, Assistant Professor of Sociology, Aarhus University.

Return to Top

****
****

4.
14th Homeland Security Week

Wednesday-Friday, November 20-22, 2019
Grand Hyatt Washington
1000 H Street NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://www.idga.org/events-homelandsecurityweek

https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/hsw-draft-agenda_VhYFVL8UUbZWEBNVzgJx8NCUOnEeFFHeCxZ8RG8k.pdf

Preliminary program:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Wednesday, November 20, 2019

9:00 a.m.

FEMA's Strategic Plan for the Future 2018-2022

-Increasing resilience through increasing disaster preparedness on a local level
-Enhance coordination with intergovernmental agencies
-Streamline FEMA's grant management and improve data analytics

9:45 a.m.

Modernizing Maritime Security And Border Management

-Future strategies of the Coast Guard
-Current theatre of operations and capability gaps
-Procurement priorities and strategic shifts

11:15 a.m.

Procurement and Border Management

-Border management modernization requirements.
-The improvement of border management integration, including tailored procurement of specialized equipment

Rose Marie Davis, Director, Innovative Program Acquisitions, Office of Field Operations, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

DOJ'S Counter-UAS Protection and Acquisition Priorities

-Pinpointing unique requirements of the DOJ to fulfill its objectives - Taking lessons from DOD's counter-UAS acquisition strategies applying them at home
-Testing and fielding counter-UAS technologies to determine the suitability of solutions

Scott Miller, Assistant Section Chief, Surveillance & Aviation, FBI

12:00 p.m.

Confronting the Opioid Crises and Protecting the American People

-Working with interagency and international partners on a comprehensive approaches

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Identifying and monitoring networks of foreign suppliers and domestic importers of fentanyl
-Increasing investigation and prosecution efforts

Combating Nuclear Terrorism: DHS's Efforts to Protect Key Cities from WMDs

-Providing local agencies with equipment for detecting nuclear material
-Training local law enforcement
-Track progress by collecting data from the key cities

Jeffrey H. Musk, Chief, Nuclear Detection Division, Nuclear Technologies Department Research & Development Directorate, Defense Threat Reduction Agency

1:30 p.m.
Challenges and Opportunities in Protecting Energy Critical Infrastructure

-Invest in next-generation physical security controls and cybersecurity technologies
-Continually analyzing and gaming the energy cyber-threat landscape
-Share and communicate cybersecurity information between the public and private sectors

Ronald Keen, Senior Energy Advisor, National Risk Management Center, CISA, DHS

Protecting the Nation's Food Supply

-Identifying sector-wide vulnerabilities and gaps
-Identifying indicators and warnings that could signify planning for an attack
-Develop mitigation strategies to reduce the threat/prevent an attack

Jennie Melin, Consumer Safety Officer, FDA

2:15 p.m.
War on Drugs: Combating Organized Drug Cartels at the Border

-Increasing cohesion between federal, state and local agencies at the border

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Partnering with foreign nations to deny drug cartels a safe haven
-Monitoring money laundering and smuggling operations to hamper drug operations

Increasing the Nation's Preparedness Against Chemical and Biological Threats

-Improving threat awareness through intelligence collecting and sharing
-Investing in advanced detection and surveillance technologies
-Putting in place responsive countermeasure policies

3:30 p.m.
Procurement standards and guideline for providing goods and services to FEMA

-Purpose and importance of current rules in place
-Providing a broad overview of federal procurement rules
-Relationship between Federal rules, State, Local and Tribal procurement rules

4:15 p.m.
Chairperson's Closing Remarks

Thursday, November 21, 2019

9:00 a.m.
Identifying and Mediating National Security Threats

-Monitoring activities of groups and movements potentially at risk for radicalization and violence
-Improving information sharing policy for the Department
-Building partnerships with nation-wide State and Major Urban Area Fusion Centers

David Glawe, Under Secretary for Intelligence and Analysis, Department of Homeland Security

9:45 a.m.
CISA's Priorities for Advancing Critical Infrastructure Protection and Resiliency

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Strategies in working with private partners to secure our infrastructure
-Priorities for coordinating national cyber security and communications integration center
-Coordinating security and resiliency efforts through public private partnerships

Brian Harrell, Assistant Director for Infrastructure Security, CISA, DHS

11:15 a.m.

DHS's Evolving Requests for DoD Support Along the South-West Border

-DHS's support requirements from April 2018 to present
-How and why those requests have evolved along with the evolving situation at the SWB
-DHS' expectations for DoD support in FY20 and beyond

LTC Kelly Brown, Senior National Guard Advisor to DHS, U.S. Army

Leadership in Cyber

-Strategic and forward thinking
-Mentoring and nurturing talent to increase potential
-Learning and improving by listening

Kevin Nally, Chief Information Officer, US Secret Service

12:00 p.m.

Engaging with the Private Sector to Better Protect Critical Infrastructures

-Weather related threats to critical supply chains
-Improving emergency protocols
-Conducting research into improving strategies and practices Kay Mereish, Senior Advisor, DHS

The race for 5G: Protecting Emerging FifthGeneration Wireless Networks

-End-to-end protection of network traffic
-Investing in R&D to address threats and vulnerabilities to mobile networks
-Improving visibility of traffic from mobile devices to detect malware, cyberattacks and data exfiltration attempts

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

12:30 p.m.

Interactive Discussion Groups

During this part of the conference, each attendee will have the opportunity to select three topics of their interest from the list below and will rotate between those sessions. Discussion groups are kept small to ensure all attendees get the opportunity to ask their most pressing questions, ensuring a perfectly tailored experience.

1:30 p.m.

IDG Group 1

Key to Identifying Potential Terrorists through Research

-Identity crises often plays a significant role in a person's transition to terrorism
-Often potential terrorists will take part in certain activities that raise red flags about their intents
-Connections with known terrorists online or offline are a big factor in radicalization

Allison G. Smith, Social Scientist, DHS

IDG Group 2

Using AI for Video Analysis and Increasing Security

-Improving multimedia analytics
-Increasing video data processing time through automation
-Increasing automatic threat detection

Jeff Alstott, Program Manager, Intelligence Advanced Research Projects Activity

IDG Group 3

sUAS Threats and Policy Hurdles Facing Local Police Authorities

-sUAS threat profile for local communities
-Laws and policies limiting the abilities of local law enforcement
-Partnership opportunities with DHS to counter the threat of sUAS

IDG Group 4

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Deploying Biometrics Technologies To Secure Sensitive Facilities

-Assessing security vulnerabilities of facilities
-Adding biometrics as an added layer of security
-Picking the best biometric security solutions for your facility

2:15 p.m.
Key Updates On The National Vetting Center Operations

-What are some of the lessons learned?
-Approaches to working with the IC community to support NVC's operations
-Plans for expansion of vetting and enabling advanced analytics capabilities

National Security Threats Posed by Quantum Computing & Strategies to Mitigate Them

-Deploying more resilient cryptography standards
-Investing in quantum computing solutions
-Developing partnership with private industry to share technological know how

Using Artificial Intelligence and Situational Awareness Technologies for Critical Incident Response

-Enhancing quick decision-making skills
-Improving awareness connectivity between first responders
-Improving patient outcomes and healthcare

The Future of Biometrics & Identity Technologies

-What does the future of identity verification look like?
-Strategies and policies for biometric technology for the next 10 years
-Addressing privacy concerns and data leaks

2:45 p.m.
Improving Airport Security with the Help of AI

-Using machine learning-powered tools that can aide agents to identify threats
-accurately predict the location of threat objects on the body

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Using Blockchain Technology to Improve Safety of Critical Infrastructures
-Blockchain shows promise to better protect IoT
-Improved defense mechanisms against collaborative intrusion detection

Dangers of Irregular Migration to National Security
-Human trafficking and drug smuggling networks
-Risk of potential terrorists
-Increased chance of spread of infectious diseases

Blas Nunez-Neto, Senior Policy Researcher, RAND

Transitioning Identity Management Systems To The Cloud
-Update on the development of HART
-Addressing stakeholder challenges
-Increasing collaboration and data sharing

4:00 p.m.
Promoting Best Practices and Streamlining Acquisition Management at DHS

-Establish cross-functional teams in which key stakeholders coordinate and execute the acquisition tasks
-Strategically assess agency needs and how acquisition can meet those needs
-Establish mechanisms that promote the participation of small business suppliers

4:30 p.m.
Cyber threats to critical infrastructure (what are the threats? How to counter them? How to mitigate impact of?

Bob Kolasky, Director, National Risk Management Center, CISA
Lara Schmidt, Director, Strategy, Policy, and Operations Program, RAND
Ryan Consaul, Senior International Defense Researcher, RAND

Friday, November 22, 2019

9:00 a.m.
Breaking Down the DHS Information Technology Strategic Plan 2019-2023

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

-Optimize workplace technologies with cost-efficient and high impact solutions
-Developing a plan for safe and swift cloud migration
-Implement data protection practices to safeguard DHS systems and applications

9:45 a.m.
Keynote Presentation -James P. O'Neill, Police Commissioner, NYPD

11:15 a.m.
The Nexus Between Homeland Defense and Homeland Security
Homeland Defense: A Whole of Nation Mission

-The strategic environment demands an urgent reexamination of Homeland Defense
-Any gaps between Homeland Defense and Homeland Security must be addressed
-DoD Mission Assurance requires whole of community partnerships

Neal Anderson, Senior Advisor to DHS, NORAD

Promoting Public-Private Partnerships to Promote Security and Increase Resilience within the Nation's Chemical Industry

-Developing and implementing partnerships -Strategies and protocols during natural disasters
-Promoting good practices among federal, state and local agencies

Eric Choy, Chief, Chemical Sector Specific Agency, CISA, DHS
Amy Graydon, Deputy Director at Infrastructure Security Compliance Division, DHS
Jonathan Buckles, Section Chief, Government & Industry Affairs, DHS

12:00 p.m.
Engaging with the Private Sector to Better Protect Critical Infrastructures

-Establishing protocols to promote information sharing
-Equipping Private Sector critical infrastructure owners and the intelligence needed to protect instrumental assets
-Strengthening and expanding current partnership agreements

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Modernizing CBP's IT Infrastructure to increase network resilience and streamlining CBP operations

-Implementing cloud technologies to better connect the vast CBP IT network
-Using machine learning and data analytics tools to improve CBP's threat and fraud detection capabilities
-Modernizing CBP network to increase bandwidth for all users and increasing protection against attacks

1:30 p.m.
Developing Effective Response Plans to CBRN Attacks That Minimize Risk to Personnel

-Training federal government employees in how to best respond to CBRN attacks with minimal loss of services
-Identifying new and emerging technologies in the field and finding their applications within Homeland Security

Sean Crawford, Director, Chemical, Biological, Radiological, Nuclear Office, FEMA

Investing in full spectrum impedance and denial capabilities to reduce illegal immigration, drug smuggling and human trafficking

-Increasing infrastructure investment at the border and enforcement of immigration and criminal laws
-Equipping our law enforcement professionals with the latest tools, technology, and training they need to do their job
-Collaborating with federal and local law enforcement agencies and international

2:15 p.m.
Supporting Border Response And Recovery Capabilities With And Between Federal, State, Local And Canadian Partners

-Implementing plans to promote open communication and strategies across the international boundary
-Evaluating progress toward addressing capability gaps in the Northern and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Southern Border
-Policies & Plans to facilitate effective response and recovery operations

Manpower, the core of CBP: Recruiting, Hiring, training, and retaining the most qualifies people

-Enhancing recruiting and hiring efforts and reducing obstacles to attracting quality candidates
-Improving the messaging of recruitment campaigns to more closely align with CBP's mission
-Offering incentives to increase staff retention

3:15 p.m.
Intelligence Sharing Panel Discussion

Protecting the American people from ever-changing domestic and transnational threats requires a DHS that shares intelligence not only with internal agencies but also partnering federal intelligence agencies. In this panel leaders from various national intelligence agencies will discuss how far they have come since 9/11 when it comes to intelligence sharing and pinpoint areas for improvement.

Panelists:
Sean Moon, Chief, Global Strategies, Office of Strategy, Policy, and Plans, DHS

Lilian Alessa, Deputy Chief, Global Strategies, DHS

3:45 p.m.
Enforcing our Immigration Laws by Empowering and Modernizing Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE)

-Increasing the numbers of law enforcement officers and support personnel
-Investing in safe and secure detention facilities
-Partnering with foreign governments to expedite necessary removals

4:30 p.m.
Chairperson's Closing Remarks

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

5.

American Anthropological Association annual meeting

Wednesday-Sunday, November 20-24, 2019
Vancouver Convention Centre
1055 Canada Place
Vancouver, BC
V6C 0C3, Canada
https://www.americananthro.org/AttendEvents/landing.aspx?ItemNumber=14722&navItemNumber=566

Immigration-related sessions:

Wedneday, November 20, 2019

4:30 p.m.

Race, Representation and Migration

Elizabeth Ann Kozlowski – Tulane University
Sabia McCoy-Torres – Tulane University
Shao-Yun Chang – Tulane University
Sarah M. Reynolds – Tulane University
Diane Ghogomu – Tulane University

Thursday, November 21, 2019

10:15 a.m.

Privatization of Migration Enforcement and Humanitarian Management in Borderland Infrastructures

Carolina Sanchez Boe – Université Paris Descartes - Sorbonne Cité
Vincent Nicolas Joos – Florida State University
Sarah Elaine Dillard Mitchell – Clark University
Asher Goldstein – Linkoping universitet

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2:00 p.m.

Volunteering Compassion and Solidarity: Creating Inclusive Climates for Migrants and Refugees in Europe

Ashley Laurel Witcher – University of Amsterdam
Michael C. Ennis-McMillan – Skidmore College, Department of Anthropology
Ashley Laurel Witcher – University of Amsterdam
Nicola L. Bulled – Center for Health, Intervention, and Prevention (CHIP), at University of Connecticut
Monika Palmberger – University of Vienna
Frances Trix – Indiana University
Laura Schack – Royal Holloway, University of London
Katherine C. Donahue – Plymouth State University

9:30 p.m.

Society for the Anthropology of Europe (SAE) Café Europa: Migration and Affect

Dace A. Dzenovska – University of Oxford
Elena Popa

Friday, November 24, 2019

2:00 p.m.

Examining the Boundary and Border-Producing Practices that Immigrant Youth and Refugee Families Encounter in U.S. Institutions

Theresa A. McGinnis – Hofstra University
Sally Bonet – Colgate University
Sophia L. Ángeles – University of California, Los Angeles
Daryl M. Gordon – Adelphi University
Iris M. Ramirez – University of California, Los Angeles

4:15 p.m.

Borders, Policing, and Latinx Immigrant Vulnerability: A roundtable discussion of four new ethnographies of immigrant policing in the United States

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Nolan Kline – Rollins College, Department of Anthropology
Ruth M. Gomberg-Munoz – Loyola University Chicago
Christina Marisa Getrich – University of Maryland, College Park
Nolan Kline – Rollins College, Department of Anthropology
William D. Lopez – University of Michigan School of Public Health
Jeremy Slack – The University of Texas at El Paso
Heide Castaneda – University of South Florida
Sarah B. Horton – University of Colorado Denver, Department of Anthropology

Migration, mobilities and "vitality' in la francophonie canadienne

Gabrielle Breton-Carbonneau – Ontario Institute for Studies in Education/University of Toronto
Thierry Deshayes – Université de Montréal
Monica Heller – University of Toronto; Yves Frenette
Patricia Lamarre – University of Montreal
Carsten Quell – Treasury Board of Canada Secretariat

Migration, Placemaking and the Interrogation of Nation-based Discourses

Glynis George
Nicola Mooney
Jennifer Cook – Southern Methodist University
Mark McIntyre – University of Victoria
Diane Riskedahl – University of Toronto Scarborough

Migration, scale, language ideologies

Adrienne Lo – University of Waterloo
Elise C. Berman – University of North Carolina, Charlotte
Lydia Catedral – City University of Hong Kong
Kathryn C. Hardy – Ashoka University
Adrienne Lo – University of Waterloo
Sibusiwe Dube – Pennsylvania State University
Cecile Vigouroux - Simon Fraser University

Saturday, November 23, 2019

8:00 a.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Class Acts: Migration and Social Mobility in Africa and its Diasporas

Pamela Feldman-Savelsberg – Carleton College
Cati Coe – Rutgers University, Camden
Julia Pauli – University of Hamburg, Germany
Yolanda D. Covington-Ward – University of Pittsburgh
Chelsie Yount-Andre – University of Montpellier, France
Abdoulaye Kane – University of Florida
Lena Luise Kroeker – Bayreuth University

Ethnicity, Migration, and Labor in Modern Turkey

Deniz Duruiz – Northwestern University
Elif Irem Az – Columbia University
Nikolaos Michailidis – Princeton University
Onur Gunay – Princeton University
Elif Babul – Mount Holyoke College
Salih Can Aciksoz – University of California, Los Angeles

10:15 a.m.

Executive Session - Oral Presentation Session - The Migrant Caravan and Legacies of Violence: The Changing Climate of Immigration and Asylum at the U.S./Mexican Border and Beyond

Timothy J. Smith – Appalachian State University
Ellen Moodie – University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign, Department of Anthropology
Jon Horne Carter – Appalachian State University
M. Gabriela Torres – Wheaton College
Victoria D. Sanford – CUNY - Herbert H Lehman College
Mariana Mora – CIESAS
Lynn M. Stephen – University of Oregon
Ruth M. Gomberg-Munoz – Loyola University Chicago

Articulating Morality in Return Migration

Valerio Simoni – The Graduate Institute, Geneva
Jeremie Voirol – Graduate Institute Geneva
Mikaela H. Rogozen-Soltar – University of Nevada Reno, Department of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Anthropology
Paul Stoller – West Chester University
Marina V. Sapritsky-Nahum – London, UK
Ellen Oxfeld – Middlebury College
Jarrett Zigon – University of Virginia
Edward F. Fischer – Vanderbilt University

2:00 p.m.

Coming of Age Between the US, Mexico, and Central America's Northern Triangle: Youth, Im/migration, and Education - Session 1

Michelle Bellino – University of Michigan, SOE
Edmund T. Hamann – University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Department of Teaching, Learning, & Teacher Educ.
Maxie Gluckman – University of California, San Diego
Gabrielle Oliveira – Boston College
Susan C. Bibler Coutin – University of California, Irvine
Andrea E. Dyrness – University of Colorado, Boulder
Ariel Borns – University of Wisconsin - Madison

Familiar Strangers: The Making and Continuity of Canada-U.S. State-sanctioned 'Seasonal' Migrant Labor

Luis F.B. Plascencia
Christian Zlolniski – University of Texas Arlington
David Griffith – East Carolina University
Stephanie Mayell; Lidia Esther Munoz

Meeting of SUNTA's Committee on Refugees & Immigrants (CORI)

Suzanne Scheld – California State University, Northridge
Faedah M. Totah – Virginia Commonwealth University School of World Studies

4:15 p.m.

Coming of Age Between the US, Mexico, and Central America's Northern Triangle: Youth, Im/migration, and Education - Session 2 (of 2)

Maxie Gluckman – University of California, San Diego
Michelle Bellino – University of Michigan, SOE;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Edmund T. Hamann – University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Department of Teaching, Learning, & Teacher Educ.
Jen Stacy – California State University, Dominguez Hills
David Martinez-Prieto – University of Texas at San Antonio
Bradley A. Levinson – Indiana University, Bloomington

Mobile Solidarities: Thinking About Migration Through Kinship and Indebtedness

Fiori Sara Berhane – Brown University
Carla Hung – Arizona State University
Lilith Mahmud – University of California, Irvine
Jamie Fuller – University of Florida
Justinas Stankus
Sarah A. Smith – SUNY - Old Westbury

Sunday, November 24, 2019

10:15 a.m.
Cultural Capital, Immigration, and Bilingual Acquisition: Transnational and Transgenerational Perspectives of Chinese Parents' and Communities' Practices in Canada

Guofang Li – University of British Columbia
Caroline Chung-Hsuan Locher-Lo – University of British Columbia
Ai Mizuta – University of British Columbia
Cindy Lau – University of British Columbia
Zhuo Sun – University of British Columbia

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Christianity at the Border: Immigration Today

Co-sponsored with: National Review Institute

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

6:00-8:00 p.m., Thursday, November 21, 2019
Catholic Information Center
1501 K Street NW Suite 175
Washington, DC 20005
https://cicdc.org/event/christianity-at-the-border-immigration-today/

Speakers:
Jenny Yang, Senior Vice President of Public Affairs at World Relief where she provides oversight for all advocacy initiatives and policy positions at World Relief and leads the organization's strategy regarding public relations.

Nathan Bult, Vice President of Public and Government Affairs at Bethany Christian Services. Prior to joining Bethany, he served as a senior communications adviser at the Department of Health and Human Services. Nathan began his career working for a member of the U.S. House of Representatives where he served seven years.

Ashley Feasley, Director of Policy for Migration and Refugee Services at the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops. Prior to working at USCCB, Ashley worked as the Director of Advocacy for the Catholic Legal Immigration Network (CLINIC).

Kathryn Jean Lopez, Senior Fellow at the National Review Institute where she directs the Center for Religion, Culture, and Civil Society, and editor-at-large of National Review. She is also a nationally syndicated columnist with Andrews McMeel Universal.

Live Streamed

RSVP: https://cicdc.org/event/christianity-at-the-border-immigration-today/#event-rsvp-form

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

7.

Humanitarian Aspects of the United States Migratory Crisis

2:00 p.m. PST, Friday, November 22, 2019
House Committee on Foreign Affairs
Subcommittee: Africa, Global Health, Global Human Rights and International Organizations
4235 Beyer Blvd
San Ysidro, CA 92173
https://foreignaffairs.house.gov/hearings?ID=9CBB112F-2678-4386-82CF-D19050AAB790

Witnesses:

Charanya Krishnaswami
Americas Advocacy Director, Amnesty International USA

Nana Gyamfi
Executive Director, Black Alliance for Just Immigration

Return to Top

****
****

8.

Who's Funding America's Destruction?

7:00-9:00 p.m., Friday, November 22, 2019
Bentley University, LaCava Center
175 Forest Street
Waltham, MA 02452
http://www.bostonbroadside.com/showcase/michell-malkin-jessica-vaugn-bentley-university-friday-nov-22nd-2019/

Speakers:
Michelle Malkin, book author

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Jessica Vaughan, Center for Immigration Studies

Return to Top

****
****

9.

Suffer the Little Children: Unaccompanied Child Migrants and the Geopolitics of Compassion in Postwar America

12:00-1:00 p.m., Monday, December 2, 2019
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer---Bradford-12-2-19.pdf

Speakers:
Anita Casavantes Bradford
Associate Professor of Chicano/Latino Studies and History, UC Irvine
Co-Director, UC-Cuba Multi Campus Academic Initiative

Discussant:
John Skrentny
Professor of Sociology, UC San Diego
Director, Yankelovich Center for Social Science Research, UC San Diego

Return to Top

****
****

10.

A Roadmap to Regional Prosperity: Municipal leadership on Immigrant

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Attraction and Retention

Cities of Migration Webinar
Wednesday, December 4, 2019
Canada/USA
https://mail.google.com/mail/u/0?ui=2&ik=a3c447f095&view=lg&permmsgid=msg-f%3A1650103000313891161&ser=1

Description: Beyond welcoming, how can municipal leadership create the conditions for the long-term success and well-being of newcomers, their families and every resident in the community? Population decline and economic development needs are driving many small and mid-sized cities across Canada and the United States to invest in immigration as a strategy to unlock their community's future. Municipal leaders are mobilizing new stakeholders, including employers, chambers of commerce, local NGOs, public institutions and multiple levels of government to align economic development and immigration goals for community health and well-being.

Join us online to learn how municipal leadership in Moncton (Atlantic Canada) and Anchorage (Alaska, U.S.A.) are designing a roadmap to their immigrant future through action-oriented strategies for inclusive community growth.

Unable to attend?

* Email us your questions to the presenters in advance!
* Tweet your questions to @CitiesMigration
* Watch it later! Register now and receive an email notification when archived presentations are online

Register: https://www.eventbrite.com/e/webinar-a-roadmap-to-regional-prosperity-municipal-leadership-on-immigrant-attraction-and-retention-registration-76459856489

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

11.

Border Management South

Wednesday-Friday, December 4-6, 2019
Hilton Garden Inn San Antonio
8101 Pat Booker Rd.
Live Oak, Texas, 78233, USA
https://www.idga.org/events-bordermanagementsummit/landing/official-border-management-south-brochure
https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/border-management-south-2019.pdf

Overview: The southern border shared between Canada, Mexico, and the U.S. is an enormous economic gateway for the United States, but it requires control, safety and modernization to maintain it. Enforcing laws and securing the border is a top priority for the Department of Homeland Security. As time passes, the need for operator driven policies and solutions, modern devices, and fully integrated border becomes more crucial.

This year's Border Management South Summit will aim to connect local, federal and state officials to discuss the top challenges and priorities in the field. Interactive group discussions and panels will address procurement initiatives and aligning border solutions with development of operators.

Agenda:

Focus Day, Wednesday, December 4, 2019

8:50 a.m.
CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.
USING THE INTEGRATION OF IT SYSTEMS TO ENHANCE RESPONSE AT THE BORDER

The U.S./Mexico border is in need of becoming a fully integrated border. This session will evaluate how communication between law enforcement officials and security personnel will be seamless and sufficient using integration strategies.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Understanding how the integration of technological systems will enhance communication across the border
* Enhancing border mobility
* Managing information data flow across the border

10:30 a.m.

OPTIMIZING THE USE OF SECURITY PERSONNEL USING SECURITY APPLICATIONS

This session will provide a break down of how the use of advanced analytics can transform and protect the border. Advanced analytics will be able to detect security breaches from objects, unauthorized people and more. Security personnel will be able to receive knowledge of potential threats and act accordingly and in a timely manner.

* Using AI and ML to not only stockpile data, but also manage it
* Utilizing analytical tools to enhance perimeter protection
* Enabling security personnel to recognize threats using intelligent video

12:30 p.m.

ANALYZING DATA TO PREDICT FUTURE EVENTS AND OUTCOMES

Data will only become sufficient and useful if it is then transformed into action. Join us as we learn about the transforming of paper data into visionary plans and help detect future events. Information management allows room for improvement to border services and protection of citizens.

* Managing current data and transforming it into visionary plans and action
* Collecting and exploiting data to drive border decision making Timothy Bennett, Science and Technology Directorate, Department of Homeland Security

Thursday, December 5, 2019

8:50 a.m.

CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9:00 a.m.

TEXAS IN REAL-TIME: RESPONDING AT THE BORDER

* Gain insight on how front line law enforcement officials are tackling border issues in real-time

Sheriff Waybourn, Tarrant County Sheriff Joe Frank Martinez, Del Val Verde County

9:45 a.m.

ANALYZING THE U.S. BORDER AS A SYSTEM: THE MEMBRANE, THE SURVEILLANCE AND THE HUMAN ELEMENT

In order to effectively secure the U.S. / Mexico border, it should be thought of as a system divided into three parts. A representative of the DHS will outline ways of uniting the organizational structure and breaking down each border element into compartments that work together to provide one outcome - effective border security.

* Evaluating the border as a whole system and not in parts
* Identifying the humanity aspect when working at the border

11:00 a.m.

ADVANCING ALL SITUATIONAL AND DOMAIN AWARENESS TO SUPPORT BORDER MISSIONS

Supporting border missions through situational and all domain awareness allows room to address challenges and provides understanding on how to respond in a threatening environment. Custom Border Patrol representatives will share how to appropriately notice changes across the border and respond rapidly.

* Building and sustaining situational awareness in a threat environment
* Using all domain awareness to predict future actions and threats
* Being aware of air, land and maritime border challenges and opportunities

Jennifer Barreras-Rawls, Operations Section Chief of Joint Task Force West, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

11:45 a.m.

ENSURING INTELLIGENCE DRIVEN OPERATIONS IN A THREAT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ENVIRONMENT

It is important to use intelligence for improvement of the border system as a whole. Understanding how to share intelligence between partners and how to utilize the data given is a key component in securing the border.

* Understanding a threat environment using information and data
* Sharing Intelligence between Law Enforcement Enterprise Partners
Brad Skinner, Deputy Director Office of Field Operations Laredo Field Office, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

* Advancing the border using intelligence and innovative technology
* Enhancing operation objectives to increase border protection productivity
* Bringing the human element back into border management

1:30 p.m.
USING A SCIENTIFIC APPROACH TO ADDRESS BORDER CHALLENGES

Scientific breakthroughs and advancements have caused a huge gateway for the use of CIP and enhancing threat management. Here you will understand how intelligence pictures and process help conquer nearby threats.

* Using common intelligence pictures to showcase threat capabilities
* Establishing the ability to detect threats beyond the border
* Deploying a systematic process for analyzing and distributing data

2:15 p.m.
ENHANCING PARTNERSHIPS AND ENFORCEMENT COOPERATION

Establishing partnerships will assist the border in creating meaningful relationships and thus, actively creating new ways to guard the U.S. / Mexico Border. Utilizing department-wide cooperation and international input will help overcome border threats.

* Establishing a unity of effort approach to effectively guard the U.S/Mexico Border
* Building international partnerships to effectively detect threats
* Enhancing supply chain security to conduct thorough examinations at the border

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ismael Navarez Jr., Special Agent in Charge, IRS

3:00 p.m.

ADVANCING THE BORDER WITH THE MODEL PORTS PROGRAM

The Model Ports Program was designed to improve overall experience and operations at the port of entry. This session will showcase the reasoning and effectiveness behind the Model Ports Program.

* Improving wait time monitoring and processing
* Conducting meetings with senior level industry leaders for establish goals and monitoring techniques
* Using Public-Private Partnerships to enhance operation at the ports of entry

Friday, December 6, 2019

8:50 a.m.

CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.

PROCUREMENT: FUTURE INITIATIVES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY

A DHS representative will disclose the 2020 Vision for the Department of Homeland Security. Attendees will understand where important investments are being made and how future policy will evolve border management.

* The 2020 outlook for the U.S./Mexico Border
* How policy changes will provide solutions to current border challenges
* Understanding future border investments

Rose Marie Davis, Director innovation Program Acquisitions, DHS

9:45 a.m.

IMMIGRATION OF FAMILIES ACROSS THE BORDER

The border is currently filled with multiple families including children seeking to come to the U.S. Due to the increase of migrants, facilities constantly become over crowded. Gain insights on how to ensure maintenance of facilities and navigate current and future border policies to secure the border.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Maintaining protocol and policies when dealing with families at border
* Creating a safe and ethical environment at the U.S. /Mexico border
Robert Gross, DHS Attaché, Department of Homeland Security

11:00 a.m.

PROMOTING INNOVATION AND INTEGRITY AMONGST PERSONNEL

Training personnel on how to react in force situations and maintaining DHS ethical standards is important. Join us as we evaluate new initiatives taking place to reconstruct and advance CBP's organizational structure.

* Reconstructing the border's organizational structure
* Ensuring ethical conduct and integrity along the border
* Advancing training initiatives in assisting use of force situations

11:45 a.m.

PREVENTING COUNTERTERRORISM AND TRANSNATIONAL CRIME AT THE BORDER

Joining forces across law enforcement allows one to maximize its resources and enhance operational integration. Leaders of the Department of Homeland Security will share how the interaction of global partners will assist with reducing crime and potential threats.

* Joining forces with local, state, and federal law enforcement to increase resources
* Using integrated operations to detect weapons and disrupt illegal crossings
* Expanding mobility to quicken response to threats John Jones, Divisional Director Intelligence and Counterterrorism, Texas Department of Public Safety

1:30 p.m.

ADVANCING BORDER TRADING IN ORDER TO PROTECT THE U.S.

Implementing strategies and trade intelligence will protect against unlawful items from entering. This session will break down the use of trade intelligence in real time and how it will shape enforcement efforts.

* Collaborating with advanced technology and enforcement to intercept high-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

risk shipment
* Responding to border risk in real-time using trade intelligence
* Integration of law enforcement to help protect the border from illegal trade

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Wounding Wall: Injury and Rescue on the U.S.-Mexico Border

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, December 5, 2019
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/wounding-wall-injury-and-rescue-us-mexico-border-ieva-jusionyte-harvard-university

Speaker:
Ieva Jusionyte, Harvard University

Description: Intensified criminalization of immigration since the 1990s, aggravated by concerns with terrorism in the aftermath of 9/11, led the United States government to designate the border with Mexico as a source of threats and waging there a series of "wars": against drugs, against terrorism, and now against migrants and refugees. The wall is a key component of what the Border Patrol calls "tactical infrastructure," a weapon against those who try to cross into the United States without authorization. Based on ethnographic fieldwork with emergency responders on both sides of the border in Arizona and Sonora, where they rescue wounded migrants as well as fight fires and contain toxic spills that know no political jurisdictions, this talk examines the politics of injury and rescue in the militarized region. Operating in this area, firefighters and paramedics are torn between their mandate as frontline state actors and their responsibility as professional rescuers, between the limits of law and pull of ethics. From this vantage they witness and experience firsthand the negative effects of deploying both the built environment and the natural topography in the name of national security.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Immigration in OECD Countries - 9th Annual International Conference

Thursday-Friday, December 12-13, 2019
OECD Boulogne Conference Centre - 46
quai Alphonse Le Gallo
92100 Boulogne-Billancourt
Paris, France
http://www.cepii.fr/CEPII/en/evenements/abstract.asp?IDReu=472

Description: The conference will examine the economic aspects of international migration in OECD countries by mapping the migratory flows and defining their socio-economic determinants and consequences. Topics of interest for the conference include, among others, the determinants of immigration to the OECD, migrants' self-selection, the labor market and public finance effects of immigration, as well as migrants and refugees social, political and economic integration.

The Keynote speakers are:

Uta Schoenberg, University College of London
Paolo Pinotti, Bocconi University
Thierry Mayer, Sciences Po

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Citizenship in Hard Times

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, January 13, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer-Final---Goodman-1-13-20.pdf

Sara Wallace Goodman, Associate Professor of Political Science, UC Irvine
Co-Director, Jack W. Peltason Center for the Study of Democracy, UC Irvine

Description: What do citizens do in times of democratic crisis? When democracy is under threat, do everyday citizens activate and mobilize, or do they hunker down, demobilize, and express greater support for homogeneity (like speaking English)? Scholars, pundits and policy experts have largely focused on elite behavior and institutional guardrails, but the citizenry is a foundation to any story about democracy under threat. This book is the first to examine civic obligation in unsettled democratic times from the perspective of citizens themselves. It employs a three-country study of the US, UK, and Germany, to examine how democratic citizens define obligation and for whom, comparing native-born and naturalized citizens. Findings highlight the importance of how democratic problems are framed, and puts forward a number of policy prescriptions for overhauling civic education.

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready

Ministerial and Forum on Migration
Thursday-Friday, January 16-17, 2020
OECD Conference Centre, Paris
2, rue André Pascal, 75775 Paris Cedex 16, France

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/

Description: Under the title "Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready", Ministers responsible for migration and integration issues from all OECD countries and from selected non-OECD countries will have the opportunity to exchange their views on their countries' challenges, opportunities, and best practices in a Ministerial Meeting to be held on 17 January 2020 in Paris.

Notably Ministers will address:

* Innovative Approaches to managing Economic Migration
* Partnerships to improve Migration Enforcement and Compliance
* Innovative Approaches to Integration
* Engaging the Whole of Society and Improving Co-ordination

Ministers will also set out their priorities for Migration and Integration Policy work of the OECD.

Conference agenda to be available soon.

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, November 19, 2019 5:03 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New Data Shows Falloff in Immigration in 2017

Share Tweet Forward

New Data Shows Falloff in Immigration in 2017

Decline does not reflect recent surge at southwest border

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (November 19, 2019) – A new analysis from the Center for Immigration Studies shows 1.45 million new legal and illegal immigrants settled in the United States in 2017, less than the 1.75 million in 2016 or the 1.62 million in 2015. The decline in arrivals in 2017 may be due to the increased enforcement efforts, lower refugee admissions, and more robust vetting of applicants undertaken by the Trump administration. The analysis is based on newly released data from the Census Bureau's 2018 American Community Survey (ACS), which allows for a more detailed look at the nation's demographics than last month's more generalized ACS information.

"New arrivals fell in 2017, but the number coming remains very high at nearly 1.5 million a year," said Steven Camarota the Center's Director of Research and co-author of the analysis. "Moreover, the falloff may be temporary, as this data does not reflect the dramatic surge in illegal immigrant families and unaccompanied minors apprehended at the southern border and released into the country in 2018 and 2019."

Highlights:

• Newly released data from the 2018 American Community Survey (ACS) shows 1.45 million immigrants (legal and illegal) arrived in 2017. This may indicate an end to the post-2011 surge in new arrivals. Between 2011 and 2016, the number of new immigrants arriving annually increased steadily from 1.08 million immigrants to 1.75 million immigrants. (Figure 1)

• While lower than in 2016 and 2015, the 1.45 million immigrants who came in 2017 roughly match the level in 2014 and was higher than any year between 2002 to 2013. (Figure 1)

• The decline in new arrivals was very broad, impacting ever major sending region. As a result, the relative shares that each region accounted for held roughly constant between 2016 and 2017. (Figure 2, Table 1)

• As was the case in 2016, Latin America (37 percent) was the top sending region, accounting for a slightly larger share of new immigrants than East and South Asia (36 percent) combined. East and South Asia accounted for the largest share of new immigrants from 2010 to 2015.3 (Figure 2, Table 1)

• While the number of arrivals in 2017 from every region was lower than in two

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

prior years, the number coming from just about every part of the world was still higher in 2017 than it was between 2002 and 2013. (Figure 2, Table 1)

• Data for the first six months of 2018 indicates that the number of new arrivals may be similar to 2017, however this number is only preliminary. (Figure 1)

Visit Website

Further Reading:

Immigrants are Coming to America at Older Ages

Record 44.5 Million Immigrants in 2017

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, November 22, 2019 4:05 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 11/22/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 11/22/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Nobody Expects the SPLC Inquisition!," Mark Krikorian
2. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew R. Arthur, David North, Jason Richwine, and Jason Peña
3. "Oregon Judge Says ICE Can't Arrest Criminal Aliens at Courthouses. ICE Reminds Her Who's in Charge," Daniel Horowitz
4. "Pew Research: 6-in-11 Americans Want More Deportations of Illegal Aliens," John Binder
5. "More Than 100,000 DACA Applicants Have Been Arrested—Murder, Rape, DUI," Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles
6. "The 'Welfare Magnet' for Immigrants," Robert VerBruggen
7. "North Carolina Sheriffs Attack ICE to Hide the Failures of Sanctuary Policies," Tobias Hoonhout
8. "Why Rich People Love Poor Immigrants," David Lee
9. "Now is the Time for a Full and Transparent Debate About DACA," Jennifer G. Hickey
10. "Mexico's Grant of Asylum to Exiled Bolivian President Undermines Its Immigration Policy," Matthew Tragesser
11. "When the Villain Is Obama, Not Trump, News Suddenly Becomes Not Worth Reporting," Kyle Smith
12. "Sanctuary Cities Start Rejecting Democrat's Immigration Enforcement Policies," Jim Kouri
13. "Fiona Hill, Alexander Vindman and the problem of dual citizenship," Monica Showalter
14. "Mexican Immigrant Jose Gomez, New Leader of America's Catholic Bishops, Has a Top Priority. It's Not Sacking Pervert Priests," Eugene Gant
15. "DHS Deep State STILL Dragging Feet on Normal Immigration Enforcement, Especially Raids," Federale
16. "The Groyper Wars on Immigration Are The Debate That American Nationalism Needs," Washington Watcher II
17. " 'Restitution-Based Immigration Reform' - The New Name for Amnesty,"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington Watcher II
18. "These Immigration Reforms Will Make America Good as Well as Great," Bruce Riley Ashford
19. "Trump Plans Far-Reaching Set of New Immigration Regulations," Stuart Anderson
20. "Misguided Immigration Policies Are Endangering America's AI Edge," Zachary Arnold
21. "H-1B Visas a Boon to Aging U.S. Work Force. Someone Tell Trump.," The San Diego Union-Tribune
22. "Trump Administration Shows that DACA Applicants Have a Comparatively Low Arrest Rate," Alex Nowrasteh
23. "New Policy Banning H-2A Sheepherders Shows Need for Congress to Act," David Bier
24. "Police Are on the Front Lines of the Immigration Debate. We're Going to Have to Handle This Without Congress," Andy Harvey
25. "Are Trump's Border Policies Driving Down Illegal Immigration?," Jonathan Haggerty
26. "The Best Alternative for Fixing Our Current Illegal Immigration Policy," Jonathan Haggerty
27. "John Cornyn's Weaselly Immigration Record," Gus Bova
28. "The Supreme Court May Criminalize Immigrant Advocacy," Lorelei Laird
29. "A Plea to the Supreme Court for DACA, and for Immigrants, From Lexington's Bishop," John Stowe
30. "Trump Administration Begins Sending Asylum Seekers to Guatemala," Aaron Reichlin-Melnick
31. "Under Siege, DACA Needs Urgent Protection," The Daily Californian

1.

Nobody Expects the SPLC Inquisition!

Today's Left attempts to "completely destroy" its enemies by concocting outlandish guilt-by-association smears. In American politics, we don't expect the Spanish Inquisition—but it's here nonetheless.

By Mark Krikorian

American Greatness, November 20, 2019

. . .

https://amgreatness.com/2019/11/20/nobody-expects-the-splc-inquisition/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

2.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

An Alien Obstructs His Deportation? Prosecute Him
November 21, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Alien-Obstructs-His-Deportation-Prosecute-Him

By Andrew R. Arthur

'Accompanied Minor Child' — The Disturbing New Trend in Border Entries Prosecute the parents and guardians to keep the trend from rising
November 22, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Accompanied-Minor-Child-Disturbing-New-Trend-Border-Entries

DHS and DOJ Issue Rule on Third-Country Asylum Agreements
Putting diplomacy into action
November 21, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/DHS-and-DOJ-Issue-Rule-ThirdCountry-Asylum-Agreements

WaPo Tries Its Hand at Explaining Immigration Detention
But instead opts for Trump bashing — next time call your local pundit
November 20, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/WaPo-Tries-Its-Hand-Explaining-Immigration-Detention

USCIS Releases Interesting Data on DACA Criminality
Wait — they aren't all Rhodes scholars?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

November 20, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/USCIS-Releases-Interesting-Data-DACA-Criminality

DHS Proposes New Employment Rule for Asylum Applicants

Resetting the clock to root out frivolous claims and curb illegal entries

November 19, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/DHS-Proposes-New-Employment-Rule-Asylum-Applicants

By David North

Birthright Citizenship in the Commonwealth vs. the United States

November 22, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/North/Birthright-Citizenship-Commonwealth-vs-United-States

This Is a Help-Wanted Ad Tolerated by the OPT Program

November 19, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/North/HelpWanted-Ad-Tolerated-OPT-Program

Genuine Foreign Students Decline in Number, but Alien Grads Masquerading as OPT 'Students' Increase Nearly 10 Percent

November 18, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/North/Genuine-Foreign-Students-Decline-Number-Alien-Grads-Masquerading-OPT-Students-Increase-Nearly

By Jason Richwine

How Many Illegal Immigrants May Be Eligible for a Future DACA?

November 18, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Richwine/How-Many-Illegal-Immigrants-May-Be-Eligible-Future-DACA

By Jason Peña

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Survey Finds Nearly Half of Migrants in Juarez Consider Staying in Mexico

November 19, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Pena/Survey-Finds-Nearly-Half-Migrants-Juarez-Consider-Staying-Mexico

Haitians Try to Storm Mexican Immigration Office

November 18, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Pena/Haitians-Try-Storm-Mexican-Immigration-Office

Return to Top

****

****

3.

Oregon Judge Says ICE Can't Arrest Criminal Aliens at Courthouses. ICE Reminds Her Who's in Charge

By Daniel Horowitz

Conservative Review, November 18, 2019

. . .

https://www.conservativereview.com/news/oregon-judge-says-ice-cant-arrest-criminal-aliens-courthouses-ice-reminds-whos-charge/

Return to Top

****

****

4.

Pew Research: 6-in-11 Americans Want More Deportations of Illegal Aliens

By John Binder

Breitbart.com News, November 17, 2019

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2019/11/17/pew-research-6-in-11-americans-want-more-deportations-illegal-aliens/?utm_source=deployer&utm_medium=email&utm_campaign=newslink&utm_term=members&utm_content=20191119194441

Return to Top

****
****

5.
More Than 100,000 DACA Applicants Have Been Arrested—Murder, Rape, DUI
Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles, November 19, 2019
. . .
https://www.judicialwatch.org/corruption-chronicles/more-than-100000-daca-applicants-have-been-arrested-murder-rape-dui/

Return to Top

****
****

6.
The 'Welfare Magnet' for Immigrants
Immigrants were more likely to come to Denmark when they could get more welfare there.
By Robert VerBruggen
The Corner at National Review Online, November 18, 2019
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/immigration-study-welfare-magnet-hypothesis-denmark/

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

7.

North Carolina Sheriffs Attack ICE to Hide the Failures of Sanctuary Policies

By Tobias Hoonhout

National Review Online, November 14, 2019

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/2019/11/immigration-enforcement-sanctuary-city-policies-north-carolina-failure/

Return to Top

****

****

8.

Why Rich People Love Poor Immigrants

By David Lee

American Thinker, November 20, 2019

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/articles/2019/11/why_rich_people_love_poor_immigrants.html

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Now is the Time for a Full and Transparent Debate About DACA

By Jennifer G. Hickey

ImmigrationReform.com, November 19, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/19/daca-congress-supreme-court-immigrationreform-com/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Mexico's Grant of Asylum to Exiled Bolivian President Undermines Its Immigration Policy
By Matthew Tragesser
ImmigrationReform.com, November 14, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/14/mexico-asylum-dictators-migrants-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

11.
When the Villain Is Obama, Not Trump, News Suddenly Becomes Not Worth Reporting
By Kyle Smith
The New York Post, November 20, 2019
. . .
https://nypost.com/2019/11/20/when-the-villain-is-obama-not-trump-news-suddenly-becomes-not-worth-reporting/

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Sanctuary Cities Start Rejecting Democrat's Immigration Enforcement Policies

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

NewsWithViews.com, November 12, 2019
By Jim Kouri
. . .
https://newswithviews.com/sanctuary-cities-start-rejecting-democrats-immigration-enforcement-policies/

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Fiona Hill, Alexander Vindman and the Problem of Dual Citizenship
By Monica Showalter
American Thinker Blog, November 22, 2019
. . .
https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2019/11/fiona_hill_alexander_vindman_and_the_problem_of_dual_citizenship.html

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Mexican Immigrant Jose Gomez, New Leader of America's Catholic Bishops, Has a Top Priority. It's Not Sacking Pervert Priests.
By Eugene Gant
VDare.com, November 21, 2019
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/mexican-immigrant-jose-gomez-new-leader-of-america-s-catholic-bishops-has-a-top-priority-it-s-not-sacking-pervert-priests

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

15.

DHS Deep State STILL Dragging Feet on Normal Immigration Enforcement, Especially Raids

By Federale

VDare.com blog, November 21, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/dhs-deep-state-still-dragging-feet-on-normal-immigration-enforcement-especially-raids

Return to Top

****

****

16.

The Groyper Wars on Immigration Are the Debate That American Nationalism Needs

By Washington Watcher II

VDare.com, November 18, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/the-groyper-wars-on-immigration-are-the-debate-that-american-nationalism-needs

Return to Top

****

****

17.

"Restitution-Based Immigration Reform" - The New Name for Amnesty

By Washington Watcher II

VDare.com blog, November 19, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/restitution-based-immigration-reform-the-new-name-for-amnesty

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

18.
These Immigration Reforms Will Make America Good as Well as Great
By Bruce Riley Ashford
Fox News, November 17, 2019
. . .
https://www.foxnews.com/opinion/bruce-ashford-immigration-reform

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Trump Plans Far-Reaching Set of New Immigration Regulations
By Stuart Anderson
Forbes.com, November 21, 2019
. . .
https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2019/11/21/trump-plans-far-reaching-set-of-new-immigration-regulations/#15c62265262a

Return to Top

****
****

20.
Misguided Immigration Policies Are Endangering America's AI Edge
The White House has voiced support for “merit-based” immigration, but in practice, stringent new adjudication policies have made applying for skilled
By Zachary Arnold

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Defense One, November 18, 2019

. . .

https://www.defenseone.com/ideas/2019/11/misguided-immigration-policies-are-endangering-americas-ai-edge/161366/

Return to Top

****

****

21.

H-1B Visas a Boon to Aging U.S. Work Force. Someone Tell Trump.

The San Diego Union-Tribune, November 19, 2019

. . .

https://www.sandiegouniontribune.com/opinion/editorials/story/2019-11-19/h1b-visas-approval-rate-skilled-workers-trump

Return to Top

****

****

22.

Trump Administration Shows that DACA Applicants Have a Comparatively Low Arrest Rate

By Alex Nowrasteh

Cato At Liberty blog, November 18, 2019

. . .

https://www.cato.org/blog/trump-administration-shows-daca-applicants-have-comparatively-low-arrest-rate

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

23.

New Policy Banning H-2A Sheepherders Shows Need for Congress to Act

By David Bier

Cato At Liberty blog, November 15, 2019

. . .

https://www.cato.org/blog/new-policy-banning-h-2a-sheepherders-shows-need-congress-act

Return to Top

****

****

24.

Police Are on the Front Lines of the Immigration Debate. We're Going to Have to Handle This Without Congress

Public safety requires police to work with and serve immigrant communities.

By Andy Harvey

The Dallas Morning News, November 20, 2019

. . .

https://www.dallasnews.com/opinion/commentary/2019/11/20/police-are-on-the-front-lines-of-the-immigration-debate-and-were-going-to-have-to-handle-this-without-the-help-of-congress/

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Are Trump's Border Policies Driving Down Illegal Immigration?

Protecting national security and public safety means allowing law enforcement to focus its finite resources on those who threaten it most.

By Jonathan Haggerty

The National Interest, November 17, 2019

. . .

https://nationalinterest.org/feature/are-trump's-border-policies-driving-down-illegal-immigration-96896

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

26.

The Best Alternative for Fixing Our Current Illegal Immigration Policy

By Jonathan Haggerty

TheHill.com, November 19, 2019

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/471034-the-best-alternative-for-fixing-our-current-illegal-immigration-policy

Return to Top

****

****

27.

John Cornyn's Weaselly Immigration Record

How to say one thing and do another.

By Gus Bova

The Texas Observer, November 19, 2019

. . .

https://www.texasobserver.org/john-cornyn-immigration-record/

Return to Top

****

****

28.

The Supreme Court May Criminalize Immigrant Advocacy

The case could let the government prosecute people for routine legal work or even sympathetic tweets.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Lorelei Laird
Slate.com, November 18, 2019
. . .
https://slate.com/news-and-politics/2019/11/supreme-court-criminalize-immigration-advocacy-sineneng-smith.html

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Trump Administration Begins Sending Asylum Seekers to Guatemala
By Aaron Reichlin-Melnick
ImmigrationImpact.com, November 20, 2019
. . .
http://immigrationimpact.com/2019/11/20/trump-sending-asylum-seekers-to-guatemala/

Return to Top

****
****

30.
A Plea to the Supreme Court for DACA, and for Immigrants, From Lexington's Bishop
By John Stowe
The Lexington Herald-Leader, November 11, 2019
. . .
https://www.kentucky.com/opinion/op-ed/article237242914.html

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

31.

Under Siege, DACA Needs Urgent Protection

Undocumented students' future hangs precariously in the balance.

The Daily Californian, November 19, 2019

. . .

https://www.dailycal.org/2019/11/19/under-siege-daca-needs-urgent-protection/

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, November 25, 2019 4:30 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New York's New Driver's License Law Creates Public Safety Danger

Share

Tweet

Forward

New York's New Driver's License Law Creates Public Safety Danger

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (November 25, 2019) - A new report by the Center for Immigration Studies examines the potential impact of New York State's Driver's License Access and Privacy Act, the "Green-Light law". The new law provides illegal aliens the means to obtain valid identification and has the effect of shielding them from detection. The New York law, which follows the lead of several other states in diminishing the amount of documentary evidence needed to secure a driver's license, will result in the vast majority of these new driver's licenses being based on a document issued by any number of foreign governments that cannot be verified by any U.S. entity. New Jersey is considering a similar law.

One component of the law prohibits Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) and Customs and Border Protection (CBP) from accessing N.Y. Department of Motor Vehicles (NYDMV) records and information. This prohibition will disrupt CBP inspections at Ports of Entry (POE) as well as hinder ICE and Border Patrol in the course of their daily operations.

The Green-Light law undermines U.S. security in the following ways:

- It provides aliens illegally in the United States and/or others with nefarious intentions a method to obtain a legitimate, state-issued document for identification;
- It requires New York State to issue an identity document based upon information provided by a foreign government with no provision to verify the accuracy of the information;
- It prohibits Immigration and Customs Enforcement and Customs and Border Protection from using information maintained by NYDMV; and
- It creates numerous paradoxical law enforcement relationships that inhibit public safety and immigration enforcement.

The report concludes that the federal government should not simply surrender to the unreasonable and potentially unconstitutional limitations imposed on federal immigration and local law enforcement agencies by this law. The study identifies several ways to circumvent and counteract provisions in the Green-Light law, including the withholding of relevant federal funding for the state, filing lawsuits against New York for attempting to preempt federal authority, and persistent litigation by the U.S. Attorney's Office, ICE, and CBP to obtain subpoena compliance.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, November 25, 2019 11:38 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 11/25/19

Share Tweet Forward

What's Happening at the Center

Dr. Steven Camarota and Karen Zeigler analyze newly released public-use data from the Census Bureau's 2018 American Community Survey that shows 1.45 million new legal and illegal immigrants settled in the United States in

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2017, fewer than the 1.75 million in 2016 or the 1.62 million in 2015. The new data does not capture most of the surge in illegal immigrant families and unaccompanied minors released into the United States at the southwest border in 2018 because it was collected before the dramatic increase. But the falloff in arrivals in 2017 may be due to increased enforcement efforts, lower refugee admissions, and more robust vetting of applicants undertaken by the Trump administration.

Featured Posts

The Supreme Court Should End DACA, and Return Power to Congress

By Andrew R. Arthur

On November 12, 2019, the Supreme Court heard arguments on the authority of Article III courts to review the September 2017 decision of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) to wind down the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program, and alternatively whether DHS's decision was lawful. Contrary to the various findings of those lower courts, DHS's decision to rescind DACA is not reviewable under the Administrative Procedures Act (APA)

EB-5 Bill Would Override Pending Regulations

By David North

A disastrous bill on the EB-5 (immigrant investor) program, covered with attractive cake frosting, looms just off the floor of the U.S. Senate. It would simultaneously parole in some 73,000 aliens on either the EB-5 waiting list or with un-acted-upon petitions, most immediately and some over the next three years, thus blowing away the long-established 10,000 yearly limit on this program.

Why Charging a Fee for Asylum Is Not Wrong

By Dan Cadman

Much ado has been made over the proposal by the Trump administration to begin, for the first time, charging fees to file for asylum. Keep in mind that all of the time spent on asylum applications is time not spent doing work examining applications and petitions for which it is receiving fees.

What is DACA?

By John Miano

I previously wrote about how the elite media has totally ignored the legal issues in its coverage of the DACA case before the Supreme Court. I thought I would fill in some of the gaps left by the press's gross malpractice here. My only real interest in DACA is over the alien employment issue. However, more

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thus, in a very real sense, it's a double-whammy for fee-paying aliens and naturalization applicants.

USCIS Releases Interesting Data on DACA Criminality

By Andrew R. Arthur

On November 16, 2019, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) issued a press release that highlighted arrests and convictions among the 888,818 aliens who have requested Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA). It relates to a November 2019 update on the USCIS report "DACA Requestors with an IDENT Response". To say that it is eye-opening and goes against the popular narrative would be an understatement.

mundane issues of administrative law are likely to dominate the Supreme Court's opinions.

.

SCOTUS Hears Arguments in Border Patrol Shooting Case

By Dan Cadman

At about the same time that the Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS) entertained oral arguments in the DACA case, it was also hearing oral arguments — for the second time — in the case of Hernandez v. Mesa. That case involved the shooting death of 15-year-old Sergio Hernandez, a Mexican citizen standing on the Mexico side of the border, by Jesus Mesa Jr., a U.S. Border Patrol agent.

More Blog Posts

- DHS and DOJ Issue Rule on Third-Country Asylum Agreements
- An Alien Obstructs His Deportation? Prosecute Him
- WaPo Tries its Hand at Explaining Immigration Detention
- This Is a Help-Wanted Ad Tolerated by the OPT Program
- Survey FInds nearly of Migrants in Juarez Consider Staying in Mexico
- DHS Proposes New Employment Rule for Asylum Applications
- Haitians Try to Storm Mexican Immigration Office
- How Many Illegal Immigrants May be Eligible for a Future DACA?
- UACs and HHS: 17 Years of What Not to Do
- One of the Worst Foreign Farm Labor Programs Just Got a Little Better
- Following the DACA Case at SCOTUS

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Does the United States Even Have an Immigration Policy Anymore?
- New Twist on Birthright Citizenship Scene
- Media Serves Up Advocacy, Not Legal Analysis, on DACA
- More False Claims About DACA Recipients, this Time from a Supreme Court Justice
- Asylum Requests in Mexico Triple Compared to Last Year
- Arizona Is the Hole in the 'Remain in Mexico' Net
- Bernie Sanders Releases His immigration Plan
- At One Migrant on the Border, Most of the Minors Mexican
- Court Rules that American Worker Plaintiffs Have Standing in H-4 EAD Lawsuit
- Mexican Authorities Identify Migrant Ties to Terrorism
- Daniel Cameron: Kentucky's Immigration Hawk
- Guatemala Works to Slow Migrant Flow to U.S.

Video:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Andrew Arthur discusses DACA being presented to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, November 26, 2019 11:18 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 11/26/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 11/26/19

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

1. 12/2, San Diego - Seminar on dealing with unaccompanied child migrants
2. 12/4-6, San Antonio - Border Management South conference
3. 12/12-13, Paris - Annual conference on immigration in OECD countries
4. 1/2-5, DC - Immigration at the Association of American Law Schools annual meeting - [New Listing]
5. 1/3-6, New York, NY - Immigration at the American Historical Association annual meeting - [New Listing]
6. 1/3-6, San Diego - Immigration at the American Economic Association annual meeting - [New Listing]
7. 1/13, San Diego - Book discussion: Citizenship in Hard Times - [New Listing]
8. 1/16, Paris - OECD forum on building a whole-of-society approach to emerging migration and integration challenges - [New Listing]
9. 1/17, Paris - Conference on making migration and integration policies future ready - [New Listing]
10. 1/19-21, Cairo - IOM/OECD International Forum on Migration Statistics - [New Listing]
11. 2/24, San Diego - Seminar on the White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression - [New Listing]

1.

Suffer the Little Children: Unaccompanied Child Migrants and the Geopolitics of Compassion in Postwar America

12:00-1:00 p.m., Monday, December 2, 2019
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer---

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Bradford-12-2-19.pdf

Speakers:
Anita Casavantes Bradford
Associate Professor of Chicano/Latino Studies and History, UC Irvine
Co-Director, UC-Cuba Multi Campus Academic Initiative

Discussant:
John Skrentny
Professor of Sociology, UC San Diego
Director, Yankelovich Center for Social Science Research, UC San Diego

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Border Management South

Wednesday-Friday, December 4-6, 2019
Hilton Garden Inn San Antonio
8101 Pat Booker Rd.
Live Oak, Texas, 78233, USA
https://www.idga.org/events-bordermanagementsummit/landing/official-border-management-south-brochure
https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/border-management-south-2019.pdf

Overview: The southern border shared between Canada, Mexico, and the U.S. is an enormous economic gateway for the United States, but it requires control, safety and modernization to maintain it. Enforcing laws and securing the border is a top priority for the Department of Homeland Security. As time passes, the need for operator driven policies and solutions, modern devices, and fully integrated border becomes more crucial.

This year's Border Management South Summit will aim to connect local, federal and state officials to discuss the top challenges and priorities in the field.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Interactive group discussions and panels will address procurement initiatives and aligning border solutions with development of operators.

Agenda:

Focus Day, Wednesday, December 4, 2019

8:50 a.m.
CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.
USING THE INTEGRATION OF IT SYSTEMS TO ENHANCE RESPONSE AT THE BORDER

The U.S./Mexico border is in need of becoming a fully integrated border. This session will evaluate how communication between law enforcement officials and security personnel will be seamless and sufficient using integration strategies.

* Understanding how the integration of technological systems will enhance communication across the border
* Enhancing border mobility
* Managing information data flow across the border

10:30 a.m.
OPTIMIZING THE USE OF SECURITY PERSONNEL USING SECURITY APPLICATIONS

This session will provide a break down of how the use of advanced analytics can transform and protect the border. Advanced analytics will be able to detect security breaches from objects, unauthorized people and more. Security personnel will be able to receive knowledge of potential threats and act accordingly and in a timely manner.

* Using AI and ML to not only stockpile data, but also manage it
* Utilizing analytical tools to enhance perimeter protection
* Enabling security personnel to recognize threats using intelligent video

12:30 p.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ANALYZING DATA TO PREDICT FUTURE EVENTS AND OUTCOMES

Data will only become sufficient and useful if it is then transformed into action. Join us as we learn about the transforming of paper data into visionary plans and help detect future events. Information management allows room for improvement to border services and protection of citizens.

* Managing current data and transforming it into visionary plans and action
* Collecting and exploiting data to drive border decision making Timothy Bennett, Science and Technology Directorate, Department of Homeland Security

Thursday, December 5, 2019

8:50 a.m.
CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.
TEXAS IN REAL-TIME: RESPONDING AT THE BORDER

* Gain insight on how front line law enforcement officials are tackling border issues in real-time
Sheriff Waybourn, Tarrant County Sheriff Joe Frank Martinez, Del Val Verde County

9:45 a.m.
ANALYZING THE U.S. BORDER AS A SYSTEM: THE MEMBRANE, THE SURVEILLANCE AND THE HUMAN ELEMENT

In order to effectively secure the U.S. / Mexico border, it should be thought of as a system divided into three parts. A representative of the DHS will outline ways of uniting the organizational structure and breaking down each border element into compartments that work together to provide one outcome - effective border security.

* Evaluating the border as a whole system and not in parts
* Identifying the humanity aspect when working at the border

11:00 a.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ADVANCING ALL SITUATIONAL AND DOMAIN AWARENESS TO SUPPORT BORDER MISSIONS

Supporting border missions through situational and all domain awareness allows room to address challenges and provides understanding on how to respond in a threatening environment. Custom Border Patrol representatives will share how to appropriately notice changes across the border and respond rapidly.

* Building and sustaining situational awareness in a threat environment
* Using all domain awareness to predict future actions and threats
* Being aware of air, land and maritime border challenges and opportunities
Jennifer Barreras-Rawls, Operations Section Chief of Joint Task Force West, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

11:45 a.m.
ENSURING INTELLIGENCE DRIVEN OPERATIONS IN A THREAT ENVIRONMENT

It is important to use intelligence for improvement of the border system as a whole. Understanding how to share intelligence between partners and how to utilize the data given is a key component in securing the border.

* Understanding a threat environment using information and data
* Sharing Intelligence between Law Enforcement Enterprise Partners
Brad Skinner, Deputy Director Office of Field Operations Laredo Field Office, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

* Advancing the border using intelligence and innovative technology
* Enhancing operation objectives to increase border protection productivity
* Bringing the human element back into border management

1:30 p.m.
USING A SCIENTIFIC APPROACH TO ADDRESS BORDER CHALLENGES

Scientific breakthroughs and advancements have caused a huge gateway for the use of CIP and enhancing threat management. Here you will understand how intelligence pictures and process help conquer nearby threats.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Using common intelligence pictures to showcase threat capabilities
* Establishing the ability to detect threats beyond the border
* Deploying a systematic process for analyzing and distributing data

2:15 p.m.

ENHANCING PARTNERSHIPS AND ENFORCEMENT COOPERATION

Establishing partnerships will assist the border in creating meaningful relationships and thus, actively creating new ways to guard the U.S. / Mexico Border. Utilizing department-wide cooperation and international input will help overcome border threats.

* Establishing a unity of effort approach to effectively guard the U.S/Mexico Border
* Building international partnerships to effectively detect threats
* Enhancing supply chain security to conduct thorough examinations at the border

Ismael Navarez Jr., Special Agent in Charge, IRS

3:00 p.m.

ADVANCING THE BORDER WITH THE MODEL PORTS PROGRAM

The Model Ports Program was designed to improve overall experience and operations at the port of entry. This session will showcase the reasoning and effectiveness behind the Model Ports Program.

* Improving wait time monitoring and processing
* Conducting meetings with senior level industry leaders for establish goals and monitoring techniques
* Using Public-Private Partnerships to enhance operation at the ports of entry

Friday, December 6, 2019

8:50 a.m.

CHAIRMAN'S OPENING REMARKS

9:00 a.m.

PROCUREMENT: FUTURE INITIATIVES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A DHS representative will disclose the 2020 Vision for the Department of Homeland Security. Attendees will understand where important investments are being made and how future policy will evolve border management.

* The 2020 outlook for the U.S./Mexico Border
* How policy changes will provide solutions to current border challenges
* Understanding future border investments
Rose Marie Davis, Director innovation Program Acquisitions, DHS

9:45 a.m.
IMMIGRATION OF FAMILIES ACROSS THE BORDER

The border is currently filled with multiple families including children seeking to come to the U.S. Due to the increase of migrants, facilities constantly become over crowded. Gain insights on how to ensure maintenance of facilities and navigate current and future border policies to secure the border.

* Maintaining protocol and policies when dealing with families at border
* Creating a safe and ethical environment at the U.S. /Mexico border
Robert Gross, DHS Attaché, Department of Homeland Security

11:00 a.m.
PROMOTING INNOVATION AND INTEGRITY AMONGST PERSONNEL

Training personnel on how to react in force situations and maintaining DHS ethical standards is important. Join us as we evaluate new initiatives taking place to reconstruct and advance CBP's organizational structure.

* Reconstructing the border's organizational structure
* Ensuring ethical conduct and integrity along the border
* Advancing training initiatives in assisting use of force situations

11:45 a.m.
PREVENTING COUNTERTERRORISM AND TRANSNATIONAL CRIME AT THE BORDER

Joining forces across law enforcement allows one to maximize its resources and enhance operational integration. Leaders of the Department of Homeland

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Security will share how the interaction of global partners will assist with reducing crime and potential threats.

* Joining forces with local, state, and federal law enforcement to increase resources
* Using integrated operations to detect weapons and disrupt illegal crossings
* Expanding mobility to quicken response to threats John Jones, Divisional Director Intelligence and Counterterrorism, Texas Department of Public Safety

1:30 p.m.
ADVANCING BORDER TRADING IN ORDER TO PROTECT THE U.S.

Implementing strategies and trade intelligence will protect against unlawful items from entering. This session will break down the use of trade intelligence in real time and how it will shape enforcement efforts.

* Collaborating with advanced technology and enforcement to intercept high-risk shipment
* Responding to border risk in real-time using trade intelligence
* Integration of law enforcement to help protect the border from illegal trade

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Immigration in OECD Countries - 9th Annual International Conference

Thursday-Friday, December 12-13, 2019
OECD Boulogne Conference Centre - 46
quai Alphonse Le Gallo
92100 Boulogne-Billancourt
Paris, France
http://www.cepii.fr/CEPII/en/evenements/abstract.asp?IDReu=472

Description: The conference will examine the economic aspects of international migration in OECD countries by mapping the migratory flows and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

defining their socio-economic determinants and consequences. Topics of interest for the conference include, among others, the determinants of immigration to the OECD, migrants' self-selection, the labor market and public finance effects of immigration, as well as migrants and refugees social, political and economic integration.

The Keynote speakers are:

Uta Schoenberg, University College of London
Paolo Pinotti, Bocconi University
Thierry Mayer, Sciences Po

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Association of American Law Schools annual meeting

Thursday-Sunday, January 2–5, 2020
Marriott Wardman Park
2660 Woodley Road NW
Washington, DC 20008
https://am.aals.org/

Immigration-related sessions:

Friday, January 3, 2020

8:30-10:15 a.m.
Immigration Control and Environmental Regulation: Toward Justice?

Natural disasters and social conflicts spurred by deteriorating environmental conditions and climate change are driving people to move across borders. Economically disadvantaged communities, racial minorities, and indigenous people are often in the first wave of displaced people in the world's poorer countries. These same communities are also the most heavily impacted by pollution and environmental degradation in the places that they live and work in the United States. This panel will explore the issues of immigration and environmental regulation. How do environmental regulatory and deregulatory schemes in the U.S. impact immigrant communities? How have arguments about the effects of immigrants on the environment been used to restrict migration and the rights of migrants? How should existing domestic and international legal frameworks governing migration be revised to respond to environmentally motivated migration?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1:30-3:15 p.m.

Exploring Immigrant Justice from Intersectional Perspectives

This panel will consider justice for immigrants. Since the 2016 election, Trump's policies and discourse surrounding immigration have fundamentally challenged the pillars of democracy. In the process of regulating who can come in and remain in the US, immigration law and policy touches on how we conceive of family, work, criminal justice, civil rights, and international law. This program focuses on those engaged in teaching and scholarship that is intersectional with immigration law such as criminal law, employment and labor rights, human rights, and community economic development. In particular, it seeks to create a dialogue between clinical and non-clinical faculty and consider how such perspectives could help push the boundaries of what justice looks like for immigrant communities.

3:30-5:15 p.m.

New Voices in Immigration Law: Works in Progress

New voices in immigration law will have the opportunity to present works-in-progress and receive feedback from senior scholars. Presenters were selected from a call for papers.

Saturday, January 4, 2020

10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

The Challenge of International Law in Dealing with the Causes of the Global Refugee Crisis: Climate Change, Armed Conflict, and Gross Human Rights Abuses Perpetrated by State and Non-State Actors

Most scholarly attention has focused on the receiving countries' harsh response to the worldwide refugee crisis. Relatively few scholars have focused on its causes—why so many, primarily from the Global South, have left their homes. Our main program will attempt to answer this critical question and analyze the role of international law.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1:30-3:15 p.m.

Federal Courts at the Border

In recent years, growing dysfunction in the United States' immigration system has put pressure upon the federal courts to play a central role in lawmaking at the nation's border. Disputes about asylum and refugee policy, the proposed border wall, cross-border shootings, and the application of the Suspension Clause to undocumented immigrants have underscored the difficult role of federal courts at the border. This panel will consider federal court doctrines that bear upon the availability of judicial review at the border, asking whether and to what extent those doctrines create zones free from judicial oversight. It will also ask in what ways recent challenges to immigration law and policy have shaped the doctrines of federal courts law. Finally, the panel will look to see what light disputes at the border may shed upon the design of and practical constraints upon the federal courts system.

Sunday, January 5, 2020

8:30-10:15 a.m.

Recent Developments: How Easily Can Agencies Change Regulatory Policy in Immigration & Civil Rights?

The use of guidance documents in regulatory agencies is one of the most challenging aspects of administrative law. When an agency uses a guidance document to change or make policy, it need not provide notice to the public or allow comment on the new rule. This makes change easier, faster, and less subject to review. Under previous administrations, guidance documents were used to implement policies in many subject areas, including civil rights and immigration. The current administration has rolled back many of these policies. This program consists of a moderated panel on recent developments in the use of guidance documents.The speakers will highlight two reports to the Administrative Conference of the United States proposing changes to Administrative Procedure Act and an executive order mandating increased use of notice and comment. They will comment on controversies involving DACA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

and Title IX that demonstrate the stakes of change.

3:30-5:15 p.m.

Scaling the Invisible Wall: Bureaucratic Controls Over Legal Immigration

This session will examine the "invisible wall," a term that refers to non-statutory hurdles faced by legal immigrants. Executive branch actions at times affect access to legal immigration despite statutory opportunities. Changes in agency policy, changes in agency mood, or other phenomena can narrow the availability of legal opportunities for immigration. Examples of the invisible wall include preventing asylum seekers from accessing the border, increased denial rates of applications for legal status, and slower processing times of applications for legal status. The invisible wall implicates separation of powers principles because it questions the boundaries of executive branch enforcement. It also challenges notions of transparency in administrative law and raises questions about how attorneys should respond to the challenges of the invisible wall. The invisible wall also highlights the need to explore the principles that should influence the design and governance of a legal immigration system.

Return to Top

****

****

5.

American Historical Association annual meeting

Friday-Monday, January 3-6, 2020
The New York Hilton
1335 Avenue of the Americas
The Sheraton New York
811 7th Avenue
New York, NY
https://www.historians.org/annual-meeting

Conference program to be added soon.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

6.

American Economic Association annual meeting

Friday-Sunday, January 3-6, 2020
San Diego Marriott Marquis & Marina
Manchester Grand Hyatt San Diego
San Diego, CA
https://www.aeaweb.org/conference/about
https://www.aeaweb.org/conference/2020-general-information

Immigration-related sessions:

Friday, January 3, 2020

8:00-10:00 a.m.

The Effect of Immigrants on Economic and Political Outcomes in the United States

Diversity in Schools: Immigrants and the Educational Performance of Natives
David Figlio, Northwestern University
Paola Giuliano, University of California-Los Angeles
Riccardo Marchingiglio, Northwestern University
Umut Ozek, American Institutes for Research
Paola Sapienza, Northwestern University

Changing In-Group Boundaries: The Role of New Immigrant Waves in the United States
Vasiliki Fouka, Stanford University
Soumyajit Mazumder, Harvard University
Marco Tabellini, Harvard Business School

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration, Innovation and Growth
Konrad Burchardi, Institute for International Economic Studies (IIES)
Thomas Chaney, Sciences Po
Tarek Hassan, Boston University
Lisa Tarquinio, Boston University
Stephen J. Terry, Boston University

Migration and Housing
Paper Session

International Student Migration and Local Housing Markets
Tatiana Mocanu, University of Illinois
Pedro Tremacoldi-Rossi, University of Illinois

A Tale of Two Cities: The Impact of Cross-Border Migration on Hong Kong's Housing Market
Maggie Hu, Chinese University of Hong Kong
Yi Fan, National University of Singapore
Xinwei Wan, University of Cambridge

A World Divided: Refugee Centers, House Prices, and Household Preferences
Martijn Droes, University of Amsterdam
Hans Koster, VU University Amsterdam

Migration and Location Choice
Paper Session

Borrowing Constraints, Migrant Selection, and the Dynamics of Return and Repeat Migration
Joseph-Simon Goerlach, Bocconi University

10:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Migration and Development

Paper Session
Southern (American) Hospitality: Italians in Argentina and the United States during the Age of Mass Migration
Santiago Perez, University of California-Davis

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Like an Ink Blot on Paper: Testing the Diffusion Hypothesis of Mass Migration, Italy 1876-1920
Ariell Zimran, Vanderbilt University and NBER

2:30-4:30 p.m.
Effects of Immigration on American Science and Innovation
Paper Session

From Immigrants to Americans: Race and Assimilation During the Great Migration
Vasiliki Fouka, Stanford University
Shom Mazumder, Harvard University
Marco Tabellini, Harvard University

Immigration and Entrepreneurship in the United States
Pierre Azoulay, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Benjamin F. Jones, Northwestern University
J. Daniel Kim, University of Pennsylvania
Javier Miranda, U.S. Census Bureau

Immigrant Entrepreneurship: Job Creation, Job Quality, and Innovation
Sari Pekkala Kerr, Wellesley College
William Kerr, Harvard University

Immigration Quotas and American Science
Petra Moser, New York University
Shmuel San, New York University

Saturday, January 4, 2020

8:00-10:00 a.m.
Consequences of Forced Migration
Paper Session

Forced Migration and Human Capital: Evidence from Post-WWII Population Transfers
Pauline A. Grosjean, University of New South Wales
Sascha Becker, University of Warwick

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Irena Grosfeld, Paris School of Economics
Nico Voigtländer, University of California-Los Angeles
Ekaterina Zhuravskaya, Paris School of Economics

Brothers or Invaders? How Crises-Driven Migrants Shape Voting Behaviour
Sandra Rozo, University of Southern California
Juan F. Vargas, Del Rosario University

Impact of Syrian Refugees on Education Outcomes in Jordan
Thomas Ginn, Stanford University
Ragui Assaad, University of Minnesota
Mohamed Saleh, Toulouse School of Economics

Refugee Crisis, Flight to Safety and Entrepreneurship
Cevat Giray Aksoy, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development
Nicolas Ajzenman, Inter-American Development Bank
Sergei Guriev, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development

Immigration and Assimilation
Paper Session

Perceptions of Immigrants and Support for Immigration
Alberto Alesina, Harvard University
Stefanie Stantcheva, Harvard University

Rationing Determines Immigrant Composition and Outcomes
Edward Lazear, Stanford University

Discrimination, Assimilation and Immigrant Outcomes in the Age of Mass Migration
Ran Abramitzky, Stanford University
Leah Boustan, Princeton University
Katherine Eriksson, University of California-Davis
Stephanie Hao, Princeton University

Determinants and Effects of Migration
Paper Session

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

How Immigration Can Raise Wages in Pakistan
Ayesha Mehtab, COMSATS University-Islamabad

The Impact of Syrian Refugees on Native Mortality in Turkey
Aysun Aygun, Istanbul Technical University
Murat Kirdar, Bogazici University

Do French Migration Policies Affect Immigrants Inflows in the MENA Region?
Ines Trojette, ESPI Paris
Doslalo Millogo, University of Norbert-Zongo

Comparing Middle Eastern Migration to Europe, Latin America, and North America
Hisham Foad, San Diego State University

Sunday, January 5, 2020

8:00-10:00 a.m.
Immigration
Paper Session

A Teacher Likes Having Me in Class: Do Migrant Students Leave Behind?
Jianhao Chen, University of Illinois-Chicago

The Role of Immigrants in the US Labor Market and Chinese Import Competition
Chan Yu, University of Texas-Austin

Forced Migration and the Educational Attainment of Second and Third Generations
Anica Kramer, University of Bamberg, RWI, and IZA

Poor Voters, Taxation and the Size of the Welfare State
Arnaud Chevalier, Royal Holloway University of London
Benjamin Elsner, University College Dublin
Andreas Lichter, University of Duesseldorf
Nico Pestel, Institute of Labor Economics (IZA)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration and Housing Rents: The 2015 Refugee Crisis in Germany
Kathleen Kuerschner Rauck, Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg
Michael Kvasnicka, Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg

Unauthorized Immigration Regulation and Labor Productivity: Evidence from Establishment-Level Data
Iftekhar Hasan, Fordham University
Incheol Kim, University of Texas-Rio Grande Valley
Xiaojing Yuan, University of Massachusetts-Lowell

Comparing Poverty of Refugees and Their Hosts

The Syrian Refugee Life Study
Samuel Leone, University of California-Berkeley
Edward Miguel, University of California-Berkeley
Sandra Rozo, University of Southern California
Emma Smith, Harvard University

Collecting Representative Panel Data in a Refugee Setting- Evidence from Bangladesh
C. Austin Davis, American University
Ahmed Mushfiq Mobarak, Yale University
Paula López-Peña, Yale University

Is Imputing Poverty Efficient? An Example from Refugee Data in Chad
Theresa Beltramo, United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees
Ibrahima Sarr, World Bank
Paolo Verme, World Bank
Hai-Anh Deng, World Bank

10:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Economic Consequences of Immigration Policy
Paper Session

Chain Reaction? The Population Spillovers of Immigrant Legalization
Elizabeth U. Cascio, Dartmouth College
Ethan G. Lewis, Dartmouth College

The Rise and Fall of the Know-Nothing Party

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Marcella Alsan, Stanford University
Katherine Eriksson, University of California-Davis
Gregory Niemesh, Miami University

How Do Restrictions on High-Skilled Immigration Affect Offshoring? Evidence from the H-1B Program
Britta Glennon, University of Pennsylvania

The Labor Market Effects of Immigration Enforcement
Chloe N. East, University of Colorado-Denver
Annie Hines, University of California-Davis
Philip Luck, University of Colorado-Denver
Hani Mansour, University of Colorado-Denver
Andrea Velasquez, University of Colorado-Denver

1:00-3:00 p.m.
Causes of Populism and Its Related Political Preferences
Paper Session

Unemployment, Immigration, and Populism: Evidence from Two Quasi-Natural Experiments in the United States
Shuai Chen, LISER

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Citizenship in Hard Times

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, January 13, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Final---Goodman-1-13-20.pdf

Sara Wallace Goodman, Associate Professor of Political Science, UC Irvine
Co-Director, Jack W. Peltason Center for the Study of Democracy, UC Irvine

Description: What do citizens do in times of democratic crisis? When democracy is under threat, do everyday citizens activate and mobilize, or do they hunker down, demobilize, and express greater support for homogeneity (like speaking English)? Scholars, pundits and policy experts have largely focused on elite behavior and institutional guardrails, but the citizenry is a foundation to any story about democracy under threat. This book is the first to examine civic obligation in unsettled democratic times from the perspective of citizens themselves. It employs a three-country study of the US, UK, and Germany, to examine how democratic citizens define obligation and for whom, comparing native-born and naturalized citizens. Findings highlight the importance of how democratic problems are framed, and puts forward a number of policy prescriptions for overhauling civic education.

Return to Top

****
****

8.
OECD High-Level Policy Forum: Building a Whole-of-Society Approach to Emerging Migration and Integration Challenges

Thursday, January 16, 2020
OECD Conference Centre 2
rue André-Pascal 75775
Paris CEDEX 16 France
https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/Migration-Integration-Policy-Forum-2020-EN.pdf

Program:

9:30-10:00 a.m.
Welcoming Remarks

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mr. Angel Gurría, OECD Secretary-General

Chair or Vice-Chair of the OECD Migration and Integration Ministerial Meeting

10:00-11:00 a.m.

Preparing for the future: lessons from global migration over the past decade

This introductory panel (5-6 participants) will discuss the experiences of countries regarding large migration inflows, and the lessons learned moving forward. It will involve high-level representatives from the UN and from selected OECD countries that have - or had - a key role in contexts of dealing with large migration inflows, as well as the president of a leading think tank. 11:00 – 11:30 Elevator pitches for the Innovation Lab Following a call for proposals with member countries, 10 selected innovative projects related to migration and integration from across OECD countries will be presented in short, 1-minute "elevator pitches". More detailed presentations of these projects will be made throughout the day in the hall of the OECD Conference Centre.

11:45 a.m.-1:00 p.m.

Foresight: the future of migration and integration

Presentation and discussion in break-out groups of the results of the foresight exercise of the OECD, focusing on four themes:

(i) the impact of new technologies on migration control and enforcement as well as on

(ii) integration services delivery; and on

(iii) the role of regional and local authorities and

(iv) the role of corporations in migration and integration management in 2035.

2:30-3:45 p.m.

Parallel Sessions

1) Engaging with civil society – new approaches in the integration of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

migrants

New and innovative approaches that have been taken throughout OECD countries to leverage civil society in promoting the integration of migrants – notably with respect to social integration. This session will present and discuss some of these.

2) Innovations in language training

This session will present and discuss innovative approaches to language learning – either through new technologies or through innovation in course design and outreach.

3) Matching migrants with employment opportunities

A key issue with which many countries are struggling is to match migrants' skills with available employment opportunities, notably, but not exclusively, for refugees. This requires skills being assessed upfront and migrants being put in touch with relevant employers.

4) Innovation in skills partnerships

Skills partnerships are an increasingly important tool for matching talent in origin countries with labour needs in destination countries, while avoiding negative impacts on the origin country. This session will discuss some recent policy innovations in this field.

4:00-4:30 p.m.

A conversation on the global competition for talent

This session will bring together a high-level representative from emerging economies and a global thought leader from an OECD country to discuss the global competition for talent.

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready

Friday, January 17, 2020
OECD Conference Centre 2
rue André-Pascal 75775
Paris CEDEX 16 France
https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/

Description: Under the title "Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready", Ministers responsible for migration and integration issues from all OECD countries and from selected non-OECD countries will have the opportunity to exchange their views on their countries' challenges, opportunities, and best practices in a Ministerial Meeting to be held on 17 January 2020 in Paris.

Notably Ministers will address:

* Innovative Approaches to managing Economic Migration
* Partnerships to improve Migration Enforcement and Compliance
* Innovative Approaches to Integration
* Engaging the Whole of Society and Improving Co-ordination

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ministers will also set out their priorities for Migration and Integration Policy work of the OECD.

Conference agenda will be added when available.

Return to Top

****

****

10.

International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS)

Sunday-Tuesday, January 19-21
Cairo, Egypt
https://gmdac.iom.int/iom-oecd-undesa-organise-second-international-forum-migration-statistics

Description: Migration remains at the top of policy agendas in many countries worldwide. The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration (GCM) and the Global Compact on Refugees (GCR) recognize the need for reliable, disaggregated statistics on migration that are nationally relevant and internationally comparable. However still today, there is scarcity of basic data on international migration and existing data are not fully analysed, utilized or shared.
The International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS) is a unique, global platform devoted to improving data on migration in all its dimensions.

Organised by the International Organization for Migration (IOM), Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) and the UN Department of Economic and Social Affairs (UN DESA), the IFMS offers space for dialogue for a broad range of actors, from national and regional authorities, NGOs, international agencies and the private sector. The first meeting of the IFMS, took place in Paris, France, from 15 to 16 January 2018, and it included 240 speakers and over 350 participants from 90 countries, representing national statistical offices, international organizations, non-governmental organizations and academic institutions.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

IFMS 2020

The second IFMS aims to mobilise expertise from a wide range of disciplines – such as statistics, economics, demography, sociology, geospatial science, and information technology – to improve the collection and analysis of migration data worldwide. The Forum will take place in Cairo, Egypt on 19-21 January 2020.

It will explore innovative ways to measure population mobility and to generate timely statistics, by bringing together a broad range of participants to share and to discuss new data initiatives and examples of success in the field of migration data. The Forum will also provide a unique opportunity for policy-makers to have direct contact with migration data experts and to use their expertise to feed policy evaluations and to identify best policy options.

The focus on data capacity building comes from the recognition that implementing the commitments of international processes comes with significant challenges for National Statistical Offices, which often have limited capacities to collect, analyse and manage data relevant to migration.

The plenary sessions of the Forum will be organised around the following six themes:

* Strengthening data for policy: ensuring effective data communication and examining existing gaps in migration statistics to determine what is needed to address policy concerns;
* Data collection and innovation: Lessons and new approaches to the collection of migration data, including from 2020 censuses and administrative sources, and the potential of technologically-driven solutions, including big data;
* Cooperation and data governance: exploring ways to strengthen stakeholder coordination and the exchange and sharing of data;
* Capacity development and financing: identifying strategies to enhance data literacy as well as institutional capacities to collect, analyse and disseminate data;
* Measuring progress on the SDGs and other global commitments: data challenges, initiatives and indicators-based approaches to monitoring;
* Improving the availability of data on migrants in vulnerable situations: disaggregating statistics by migratory status, age and sex - analysing challenges, opportunities and best practices.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

11.

Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Speakers:
S. Deborah Kang, Visiting Scholar, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Associate Professor of History, California State University San Marcos

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, November 28, 2019 9:41 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 11/28/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Reading, 11/28/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. State Department Visa Bulletin - December 2019
2. DHS OIG report on major management performance challenges facing department
3. USCIS report on DACA requestors with an IDENT response
4. CRS reports on SW border trends, processing aliens, interior arrests, expedited removal, FY20 refugee ceiling/allocations
5. House testimony on human rights and legal implications of 'Remain in Mexico' policy
6. House testimony on humanitarian aspects of U.S. migratory crisis
7. U.S. Supreme Court ruling in U.S. v. Evelyn Sineneng-Smith
8. Canada: Reports on temporary foreign workers and social achievement of children of immigrant backgrounds
9. Norway: Population statistics
10. Finland: Population statistics
11. Austria: Population statistics

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

12. TRAC report on growth in ICE detentions
13. Pew Research center reports on TPS recepients and estimating unauthorized immigrant population in Europe
14. "How to Upgrade Germany's Policy Towards African Countries on Migration"
15. NPR report on U.S.-Canada border community's culture changes
16. Two new working papers from the National Bureau of Economic Research
17. Four new reports and features from the Migration Policy Institute
18. New discussion paper from the Institute for the Study of Labor
19. Six new papers from the Social Science Research Network
20. Sixteen new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
21. U.K.: New briefing paper from MigrationWatch

BOOKS

22. A Research Agenda for Migration and Health
23. Migration and Integration: The Case for Liberalism with Borders

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

24. Open Borders: The Science and Ethics of Immigration
25. America for Americans: A History of Xenophobia in the United States
26. Migration and Islamic Ethics: Issues of Residence, Naturalization and Citizenship
27. The In-Between Spaces of Asylum and Migration: A Participatory Visual Approach
28. Migration: The Challenge of European States
29 . The Outsiders: Refugees in Europe Since 1492

JOURNALS

30. Georgetown Immigration Law Journal
31. Journal of Ethnic and Racial Studies
32. Mobilities
33. Refugee Survey Quarterly

1.
Visa Bulletin For December 2019
Number 36, Volume X
https://travel.state.gov/content/dam/visas/Bulletins/visabulletin_december2019.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Major Management and Performance Challenges Facing the Department of Homeland Security
DHS OIG Report No. OIG-20-02, November 13, 2019
https://www.oig.dhs.gov/sites/default/files/assets/2019-11/OIG-20-02-Nov19.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3.

DACA Requestors With an IDENT Response (2019 Update)
USCIS Office of Policy and Strategy, November 2019
https://www.uscis.gov/sites/default/files/USCIS/Resources/Reports%20and%20Studies/Immigration%20Forms%20Data/Static_files/DACA_Requestors_IDENT_Nov._2019.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

4.

New from the Congressional Research Service

Immigration: Recent Apprehension Trends at the U.S. Southwest Border
November 19, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R46012.pdf

Processing Aliens at the U.S.-Mexico Border: Recent Policy Changes
CRS in Focus, November 15, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/IF11363.pdf

Immigration Arrests in the Interior of the United States: A Brief Primer CRS Legal Sidebar, November 14, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/LSB10362.pdf

Expedited Removal of Aliens: An Introduction
CRS in Focus, November 12, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/IF11357.pdf

FY2020 Refugee Ceiling and Allocations
CRS Insight, November 7, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/IN11196.pdf

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

5.
Tuesday, November 19, 2019
House Committee on Homeland Security
Subcommittee on Border Security, Facilitation, & Operations
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/examining-the-human-rights-and-legal-implications-of-dhs-remain-in-mexico-policy

Examining the Human Rights and Legal Implications of DHS' 'Remain in Mexico' Policy

Opening statements:
Subcommittee Chairwoman Kathleen Rice
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/111919%20Rice%20BSFO%20Opening%20Statement.pdf

Chairman Bennie Thompson
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/111919%20BGT%20BSFO%20Opening%20Statement.pdf

Witness testimony:
[See hearing video at link above]

Laura Peña, Pro Bono Counsel, American Bar Association Commission on Immigration

Erin Thorn Vela, Staff Attorney, Racial and Economic Justice Program, Texas Civil Rights Project

Todd Schneberk, MD, Assistant Professor of Emergency Medicine, Co-Director, Human Rights Collaborative, Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California, Asylum Network Clinician, Physicians for Human Rights

Michael Knowles, President, AFGE Local 1924, Special Representative, AFGE National CIS Council 119

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thomas Homan, Former Acting Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement, Department of Homeland Security (minority witness)

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Friday, November 22, 2019
House Committee on Foreign Affairs
Subcommittee: Africa, Global Health, Global Human Rights and International Organizations
https://foreignaffairs.house.gov/hearings?ID=9CBB112F-2678-4386-82CF-D19050AAB790

Humanitarian Aspects of the United States Migratory Crisis

Witness testimony:

Charanya Krishnaswami
Americas Advocacy Director, Amnesty International USA

Nana Gyamfi
Executive Director, Black Alliance for Just Immigration

Return to Top

****
****

7.
United States, Petitioner v. Evelyn Sineneng-Smith
In the Supreme Court of the United States, No. 19-67
Motion to extend the time to file the briefs on the merits granted, November 15, 2019 https://www.supremecourt.gov/search.aspx?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

filename=/docket/docketfiles/html/public/19-67.html

Question Presented: Whether the federal criminal prohibition against encouraging or inducing illegal immigration for commercial advantage or private financial gain, in violation of 8 U.S.C. 1324(a)(l)(A)(iv) and (B)(i), is facially unconstitutional.

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Study: Temporary foreign workers in the Canadian labour force: Open versus employer-specific work permits
Statistics Canada, November 18, 2019
https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/en/daily-quotidien/191118/dq191118b-eng.pdf?st=7y4_-3UU

Study: Educational and labour market outcomes of children with an immigrant background by their region of origin, 2006 and 2016
November 15, 2019
https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/daily-quotidien/191115/dq191115c-eng.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Population
Statistics Norway, November 20, 2019
https://www.ssb.no/en/befolkning/statistikker/folkemengde/kvartal

Summary: 11,190 more residents in third quarter.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Net immigration
6,190

Immigration
15,009

Emigration
8,819

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Finland's preliminary population figure 5,526,306 at the end of October
Statistics Finland, November 26, 2019
https://www.stat.fi/til/vamuu/2019/10/vamuu_2019_10_2019-11-26_tie_001_en.html

Summary: According to Statistics Finland's preliminary data, Finland's population was 5,526,306 at the end of October. Our country's population increased by 8,387 persons during January-October. The reason for the increase was migration gain from abroad, since immigration exceeded emigration by 14,982. The number of births was 6,207 lower than that of deaths.

Population in core urban areas growing due to persons of foreign background
November 22, 2019
https://www.stat.fi/til/vaerak/2018/01/vaerak_2018_01_2019-11-22_tie_001_en.html

The share of those living in core urban areas of the population of the whole country has increased by five percentage points in 20 years. Fifty-five per cent of persons of Finnish background lived in urban core areas at the end of 1998 and 59 per cent at the end of 2018. Eighty-three per cent of persons of foreign background lived in urban core areas at the end of 1998 and 85 per cent at the end of 2018.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Over the past 20 years, the population in urban core areas has grown by 450,000 persons. Of this growth, 258,000 persons or more than one-half are of foreign background. Over the same period, the share of persons of foreign background in the population of core urban areas has increased from three per cent to ten per cent.

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Austrian population runs towards 9.9 million inhabitants until 2080; labour force increases by 4%
Statistics Austria, November 22, 2019
http://www.statistik.at/web_en/press/122072.html

Excerpt: Increase of the foreign-born population

In 2018, about 1.71 million foreign-born people lived in Austria. This averages 19% of the total population. The number of this population group will rise to 2.22 million (+30%) by 2040 and to 2.67 million (+56%) by 2080. The share of the foreign-born population will increase to 24% (2040) and 27% (2080), respectively. Currently, 36% of the Viennese population is born abroad; this percentage will increase to over 40% after 2030.

+++

Number of naturalisations increased by 9.2% during the first three quarters of 2019
November 20, 2019
http://www.statistik.at/web_de/presse/122085.html

Summary: 7,610 persons acquired Austrian citizenship from January to September 2019, according to Statistics Austria. The number of naturalisations increased by 9.2% compared to the first nine months of 2018 (6 971 naturalisations). Females accounted for 54.2% of all naturalisations, children and juveniles up to 18 years of age for 34.6%. Over a third of the new citizens had already been born in Austria (34.7%).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In the first three quarters of 2019, the largest groups of naturalised people were former citizens of Bosnia and Herzegovina (819), Turkey (669), Serbia (642), Kosovo (473), the Russian Federation (310), Afghanistan (278), Romania (273) and Ukraine (270). About half (49.1%) of all naturalised persons held citizenship of one of these eight countries before being naturalised.

Return to Top

****
****

12.
New from the Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse, Syracuse University

Growth in ICE Detention Fueled by Immigrants with No Criminal Conviction
November 26, 2019
https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/583/

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Many immigrants with Temporary Protected Status face uncertain future in U.S.
By D'Vera Cohn, Jeffrey S. Passel, and Kristen Bialik
Pew Research Center, November 27, 2019
https://www.pewresearch.org/fact-tank/2019/11/27/immigrants-temporary-protected-status-in-us/

Q&A: How We Estimated the Number of Unauthorized Immigrants in

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Europe
By Jens Manuel Krogstad
Pew Research Center Fact Tank, November 15, 2019
https://www.pewresearch.org/fact-tank/2019/11/15/qa-how-pew-research-center-estimated-the-number-of-unauthorized-immigrants-in-europe/

Return to Top

****
****

14.
How to Upgrade Germany's Policy Towards African Countries on Migration
By Jessica Bither and Astrid Ziebarth
The German Marshall Fund of the U.S., November 18, 2019 http://www.gmfus.org/publications/how-upgrade-germanys-policy-towards-african-countries-migration

Return to Top

****
****

15.
U.S.-Canada Border Community's Culture Changes As Security Tightens
By John Burnett
National Public Radio, November 21, 2019 (Audio file)
https://www.npr.org/2019/11/21/781138076/u-s-canada-border-communitys-culture-changes-as-security-tightens

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

16.

New from the National Bureau of Economic Research

The Effects of Foreign-Born Peers in US High Schools and Middle Schools

By Jason Fletcher, Jinho Kim, Jenna Nobles, Stephen Ross, and Irina Shaorshadze

NBER Working Paper No. w26491, November 2019

https://www.nber.org/papers/w26491

The Welfare Magnet Hypothesis: Evidence From an Immigrant Welfare Scheme in Denmark

By Ole Agersnap, Amalie Sofie Jensen, and Henrik Kleven

NBER Working Paper No. 26454, November 2019

https://www.nber.org/papers/w26454

Return to Top

****

****

17.

New from the Migration Policy Institute

Volunteers and Sponsors: A Catalyst for Refugee Integration?

By Susan Fratzke and Emma Dorst

November 2019

https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/volunteers-sponsors-refugee-integration

Creating a Home in Canada: Refugee Housing Challenges and Potential Policy Solutions

By Damaris Rose

November 2019

https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/canada-refugee-housing-challenges-policy-solutions

Health Insurance Coverage of Immigrants and Latinos in the Kansas City

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Metro Area
By Randy Capps and Ariel G. Ruiz Soto
MPI Policy Brief, November 19, 2019
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/health-insurance-immigrants-latinos-kansas-city

Will Supreme Court Ruling on DACA Finally Force Congress to Break the Ice on Immigration Reform?
By Muzaffar Chishti and Jessica Bolter
Migration Information Source Policy Beat, November 21, 2019
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/supreme-court-daca-ruling-congress-immigration-reform

Return to Top

****
****

18.
New from the Institute for the Study of Labor

The Impact of Medicaid on Medical Utilization in a Vulnerable Population: Evidence from COFA Migrants
By Timothy J. Halliday, Randall K. Q. Akee, Tetine Sentell, Megan Inada, Jill Miyamura
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12779, November 2019
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12779/the-impact-of-medicaid-on-medical-utilization-in-a-vulnerable-population-evidence-from-cofa-migrants

Return to Top

****
****

19.
New from the Social Science Research Network

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1. Jailing Immigrant Detainees: A National Study of County Participation in Immigration Detention, 1983-2013
By Emily Ryo, University of Southern California Gould School of Law and Ian Peacock, University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA)
Posted: November 25, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3486094

2. Aspiring Americans Thrown Out in the Cold: The Discriminatory Use of False Testimony Allegations to Deny Naturalization
By Nermeen Arastu, CUNY School of Law
66 UCLA Law Rview 1078, Forthcoming
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3487044

3. The Comprehensive Wealth of Older Immigrants and Natives
By David A. Love, Williams College Department of Economics and Lucie Schmidt, Williams College Department of Economics
Social Security Bulletin. 79(4): 25-68, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3486278

4. Reframing Taxigration
By Jacqueline Lainez Flanagan, American University Washington College of Law
Posted: November 14, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3481554

5. Regaining Control? The Political Impact of Policy Responses to Refugee Crises
By Omer Solodoch, Tel Aviv University - Department of Political Science
Posted: November 19, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3484753

6. Cast in the Same Mould: How Politics During the Impressionable Years Shapes Attitudes Towards Immigration in Later Life
By Anne-Marie Jeannet and Lenka Dražanová, European University Institute - Migration Policy Centre
Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies Research Paper No. RSCAS 2019/79
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3489216

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

20.

Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

1. Immigration Litigation in the Time of Trump
By Shoba Sivaprasad Wadhia
November 26, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/immigration-article-of-the-day-immigration-litigation-in-the-time-of-trump-by-shoba-sivaprasad-wadhi-1.html

2. Proposed Changes to USCIS Rules for H1-B, H-4, EB-5, L-visas
November 25, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/proposed-changes-to-uscis-rules-for-h1-b-h-4-l-visas.html

3. Another Immigration Case for the Supreme Court? United States v. California
November 24, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/another-immigration-case-for-the-supreme-court-united-states-v-california.html

4. Trump's latest gambit: Send asylum seekers to 'Safe Third Countries' that are less than safe
November 24, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/trumps-latest-gambit-send-asylum-seekers-to-safe-third-countries-that-are-less-than-safe.html

5. Trump's 'Immployment' Law Agenda: Intensifying Employment-Based Enforcement and Un-Authorizing the Authorized
By Kati L. Griffith and Shannon Gleeson
November 24, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/immigration-article-of-the-day-trumps-immployment-law-agenda-intensifying-employment-based-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

enforceme.html

6. Enter at Your Own Risk: Criminalizing Asylum-Seekers
By Thomas M. McDonnell and Vanessa H. Merton
November 22, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/immigration-article-of-the-day-enter-at-your-own-risk-criminalizing-asylum-seekers-by-thomas-m-mcdon.html

7. New Homeland Security Asylum Rule Allows Removal to Central American Countries That Have Signed Agreements With the U.S.
November 21, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/new-homeland-security-asylum-rule-allows-removal-to-central-american-countries-that-have-signed-agreements-with-the-us.html

8. Supreme Court sets briefing in case reviewing immigration advocacy as violation of statute prohibiting enouragement of unlawful presence
November 20, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/supreme-court-reviewing-immigration-advocacy-as-free-speech-vs-encouragement.html

9. Inspector General sounds warning about lack of permanent senior leadership at DHS
November 20, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/inspector-general-sounds-warning-about-lack-of-permanent-senior-leadership-at-dhs.html

10. President Trump's Latest Efforts to Stop the Flow of Central American Asylum Seekers to the United States
November 19, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/president-trumps-latest-efforts-to-stop-the-flow-of-central-american-asylum-seekers-to-the-united-st.html

11. Guest Post: RELIANCE INTERESTS AND FUTURE DACA LITIGATION
By Geoffrey A. Hoffman
November 18, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/guest-post-reliance-interests-and-future-daca-litigation-by-geoffrey-a-hoffman.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

12. Judge prosecuted for noncooperation with ICE [UPDATED 11/20/2019]
November 17, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/immigration-judge-prosecuted-for-noncooperation-with-ice.html

13. Immigration in the Supreme Court, 2019 Term: DACA, Judicial Review, Federalism, Etc.
November 16, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/1-the-daca-cases-there-are-three-consolidated-cases-in-which-three-circuits-found-that-the-trump-administrations-rescis.html

14. Guest Post: Lindsay M. Harris, Silence is Not an Option: We Cannot Sign On to New Asylum Policies
November 15, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/guest-post-lindsay-m-harris-silence-is-not-an-option-we-cannot-sign-on-to-new-asylum-policies.html

15. Oregon Restricts ICE Arrests at Oregon Courts
November 15, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/oregon-restricts-ice-arrests-at-oregon-courts.html

16. Immigration Article of the Day: Is Affording Undocumented Immigrants Health Coverage a Radical Proposal?
By Lawrence O. Gostin
November 15, 2019
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/immigration-article-of-the-day-is-affording-undocumented-immigrants-health-coverage-a-radical-propos.html

Return to Top

****
****

21.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Asylum
MigrationWatch UK Briefing Paper No. 468, November 27, 2019
https://www.migrationwatchuk.org/briefing-paper/468/asylum

Return to Top

****
****

22.
A Research Agenda for Migration and Health

By K. Bruce Newbold and Kathi Wilson

Edward Elgar Pub., 176 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1786438356, $120.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1786438356/centerforimmigra

Book Description: Elgar Research Agendas outline the future of research in a given area. Leading scholars are given the space to explore their subject in provocative ways, and map out the potential directions of travel. They are relevant but also visionary.

International migration has emerged as one of the most pressing issues faced by national and regional governments in our modern world. This Research Agenda provides much-needed discussion on the health of migrants, and fundamental research directions for the future. The editors draw together key contributions that address people with a range of immigration statuses, including refugees.

Written by leading experts in the field, chapters explore the evolving nature of health, from how this is experienced by migrants in their countries of origin, to the impact of the immigrant journey and experiences in their country of residence. Topical and timely, the Research Agenda offers key insights into previously underdeveloped areas of study, including an analysis of female migrants, a discussion of immigration relative to the Global South, and the relationship between climate change, migration and health.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

An important read for human geography scholars, this will be particularly useful for those looking into population and health geography and demography. It will also be beneficial to sociology and anthropology scholars interested in immigration and health.

Return to Top

****

****

23.

Migration and Integration: The Case for Liberalism with Borders

By Tom Farer

Cambridge University Press, 272 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1108485715, $84.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1108485715/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1108707505, 276 pp., $28.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1108707505/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 2032 KB, ASIN: B07ZTQLWYH, $23.00

Book Description: Migration and Integration clarifies and proposes answers for all of the politically toxic questions associated with large-scale migration from the Global South to the Western liberal democracies. Driven by the conviction that the Alt-Right is using the issues of migration and integration effectively to batter the defenses of liberal democracy, Professor Tom Farer argues that despite its strength, the moral case for open borders should be rejected and that while broadly tolerant of different life styles, the state should enforce core liberal values. Examining closely the policies and practices of various European states, Farer draws on their experience, contrasts it with that of the United States, and provides a detailed strategy for addressing the issues of who should be allowed to enter, how migrant families should be integrated and cultural conflicts resolved. This remarkable elaboration of a liberal position on migration and integration to which moderate conservatives could adhere combines powerful analysis with passionate advocacy.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Open Borders: The Science and Ethics of Immigration
By Bryan Caplan and Zach Weinersmith

First Second, 256 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1250316979, $14.89
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1250316979/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1250316960, $14.86
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1250316960/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 229339 KB, ASIN: B07YRKYKZ3, $9.99

Book Description: American policy-makers have long been locked in a heated battle over whether, how many, and what kind of immigrants to allow to live and work in the country. Those in favor of welcoming more immigrants often cite humanitarian reasons, while those in favor of more restrictive laws argue the need to protect native citizens.

But economist Bryan Caplan adds a new, compelling perspective to the immigration debate: He argues that opening all borders could eliminate absolute poverty worldwide and usher in a booming worldwide economy? greatly benefiting humanity.

With a clear and conversational tone, exhaustive research, and vibrant illustrations by Zach Weinersmith, Open Borders makes the case for unrestricted immigration easy to follow and hard to deny.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

25.

America for Americans: A History of Xenophobia in the United States

By Erika Lee

Basic Books, 432 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1541672607, $31.72

http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1541672607/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 9883 KB, ASIN: B07P7GCS3K, $18.99

Book Description: The United States is known as a nation of immigrants. But it is also a nation of xenophobia. In America for Americans, Erika Lee shows that an irrational fear, hatred, and hostility toward immigrants has been a defining feature of our nation from the colonial era to the Trump era. Benjamin Franklin ridiculed Germans for their "strange and foreign ways." Americans' anxiety over Irish Catholics turned xenophobia into a national political movement. Chinese immigrants were excluded, Japanese incarcerated, and Mexicans deported. Today, Americans fear Muslims, Latinos, and the so-called browning of America.

Forcing us to confront this history, America for Americans explains how xenophobia works, why it has endured, and how it threatens America. It is a necessary corrective and spur to action for any concerned citizen.

Return to Top

****

****

26.

Migration and Islamic Ethics: Issues of Residence, Naturalization and Citizenship

By Ray Jureidini and Said Fares Hassan

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Brill Academic Pub., 154 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 9004406409, $87.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/9004406409/centerforimmigra

Book Description: Migration and Islamic Ethics, Issues of Residence, Naturalization and Citizenship addresses how Islamic ethical and legal traditions can contribute to current global debates on migration and displacement; how Islamic ethics of mu®akha, iyfa, ijra, amn, jiwr, sutra, kafla, among others, may provide common ethical grounds for a new paradigm of social and political virtues applicable to all humanity, not only Muslims. The present volume more broadly defines the Islamic tradition to cover not only theology but also to encompass ethics, customs and social norms, as well as modern political, humanitarian and rights discourses. The first section addresses theorizations and conceptualizations using contemporary Islamic examples, mainly in the treatment of asylum-seekers and refugees; the second, contains empirical analyses of contemporary case studies; the third provides historical accounts of Muslim migratory experiences"

Return to Top

****
****

27.
The In-Between Spaces of Asylum and Migration: A Participatory Visual Approach
By Zoë O'Reilly

Palgrave Macmillan, 303 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 3030291707, $84.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/3030291707/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 39522 KB, ASIN: B081LV6S2L, $84.99

Book Description: Based on ethnographic research with asylum seekers living in a 'direct provision' centre in Ireland, and comprising participatory visual methods, this work offers a unique examination of the 'direct provision' system that analyses the tensions between exclusion and marginalization, and involvement and engagement with local communities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

It gives voice to the perspectives of residents themselves through an analysis of photographic images and texts created by the participants of the project, providing fresh insight into the everyday experiences of living in these liminal zones between borders, and the various forms of attachment, engagement and belonging that they create. While the book's empirical focus is on the Irish context, the analysis sheds light on broader policies and experiences of exclusion and the increasing number of liminal spaces between and within borders in which people seeking protection wait.

Situated at the intersection of social anthropology, human geography and participatory arts and visual culture, it will appeal to scholars and students focusing on migration and asylum, ethnicity and integration, as well as those with an interest in participatory and visual research methods.

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Migration: The Challenge of European States
By Jaroslav Mihalik and Jakub Bardovic

ibidem Press, 236 pp.

Paperback, ISBN: 3838213440, $100.98
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/3838213440/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 936 KB, ASIN: B07Z8GYH9C, 221 pp., $24.99

Book Description: In the United States as well as in Europe, migration and migration policy are one of the top issues. This timely volume gathers distinguished authors from academic institutions throughout Europe, addressing the growing importance of migration policy making and the refugee crisis that

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

European Union member states and other countries are currently facing. By focusing on the most important effects that the migration from Third World countries has brought to the European Union, they provide a critical overview of the politicization, securitization, and social discourse of migration. The authors analyze the effects on public administration and governance and also discuss the rise of the radical right in EU member states, the rise of populism, and the alienation of citizens from formal politics which is also caused by the growing interest in security and public safety. The pan-European character of the publication's scope is vested in its narration; the contributors cover the situation in Western Europe, the critical positions of the Visegrad countries as well as foreign policy making in Slovenia and the Western Balkans. Moreover, the authors address case studies from states such as Armenia and Moldova, including their labor migrants in the Western world.

The collection is completed by contrasting and discussing the immigration policies of countries that are well-known for their open and liberal immigration activities such as Australia, Canada, New Zealand, and the United States.

Return to Top

****

****

29.

The Outsiders: Refugees in Europe Since 1492

By Philipp Ther and Jeremiah Riemer (Translator)

Princeton University Press, 304 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 0691179522, $21.05
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0691179522/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 10113 KB, ASIN: B07W4XT63X, 348 pp., $16.17

Book Description: European history has been permeated with refugees. The Outsiders chronicles every major refugee movement since 1492, when the Catholic rulers of Spain set in motion the first mass flight and expulsion in modern European history. Philipp Ther provides needed perspective on today's

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

“refugee crisis,” demonstrating how Europe has taken in far greater numbers of refugees in earlier periods of its history, in wartime as well as peacetime. His sweeping narrative crosses the Mediterranean and the Atlantic, taking readers from the Middle East to the shores of America.

In this compelling book, Ther examines the major causes of mass flight, from religious intolerance and ethnic cleansing to political persecution and war. He describes the perils and traumas of flight and explains why refugees and asylum seekers have been welcomed in some periods?such as during the Cold War?and why they are rejected in times such as our own. He also examines the afterlives of the refugees in the receiving countries, which almost always benefited from admitting them. Tracing the lengthy routes of the refugees, he reconceptualizes Europe as a unit of geography and historiography. Turning to the history of refugees in the United States, Ther also discusses the anti-refugee politics of the Trump administration, explaining why they are un-American and bad for the country.

By setting mass flight against fifteen biographical case studies, and drawing on his subjects’ experiences, itineraries, and personal convictions, Ther puts a human face on a global phenomenon that concerns all of us.

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Georgetown Immigration Law Journal
Vol, 33, No. 3, Spring 2019
https://www.law.georgetown.edu/immigration-law-journal

Removals to Somalia in Light of the Convention against Torture: Recent Evidence from Somali Bantu Deportees
By Daniel J. Van Lehman and Estelle M. McKee
https://www.law.georgetown.edu/immigration-law-journal/in-print/volume-33-number-3-spring-2019/removals-to-somalia-in-light-of-the-convention-against-torture-recent-evidence-from-somali-bantu-deportees/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

31.

Journal of Ethnic and Racial Studies

Vol. 43, No. 1, January 2020

https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/rers20/43/1

Special Issue: Children of immigrants in the age of deportation

Articles:

Bifurcated immigration and the end of compassion

By Alejandro Portes

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667515

Creating the exclusionist society: from the War on Poverty to the war on immigrants

By Douglas S. Massey

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667504

The students we share: falling through the cracks on both sides of the US-Mexico border

By Patricia Gándara

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667514

DACAmented in the age of deportation: navigating spaces of belonging and vulnerability in social and personal live

By Roberto G. Gonzales, Kristina Brant & Benjamin Roth

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667506

An imperfect realignment: the movement of children of immigrants and their families from the United States to Mexico

By Rubén Hernández-León, Víctor Zúñiga, and Sarah M. Lakhani

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667508

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hope turned sour: second-generation incorporation and mobility in U.S. new immigrant destinations
By Helen B. Marrow
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667505

Integrating Hispanic immigrant youth: perspectives from white and black Americans in emerging Hispanic communities and schools
By Krista M. Perreira, Stephanie Potochnick, and M. Priscilla Brietzke
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667512

The value of reproduction: multiple livelihoods, cultural labor, and immigrants in Iowa and North Carolina
By David Griffith
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667509

Infrastructures of repression and resistance: how Tennesseans respond to the immigration enforcement regime
By Meghan Conley and Jon Shefner
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667513

The integration paradox: contrasting patterns in adaptation among immigrant children in Central New Jersey
By Patricia Fernández-Kelly
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667510

Coming of age before the great expulsion: the story of the CILS-San Diego sample 25 years later
By Cynthia Feliciano and Rubén G. Rumbaut
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667507

The changing U.S. Latinx immigrant population: demographic trends with implications for employment, schooling, and population Integration
By Richard Durán
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667516

The model minority stereotype and the national identity question: the challenges facing Asian immigrants and their children
By Min Zhou and Carl L. Bankston III
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1667511

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

32.
Mobilities
Vol. 14, No. 6, November 2019
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/rmob20/14/6

Selected articles:

Creative city, mobility, and creativity: Finnish artists in Berlin
By Johanna Hautala and Paulina Nordström
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/17450101.2019.1616445

The Eurostars go global: young Europeans' migration to Asia for distinction and alternative life paths
By Helena Hof
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/17450101.2019.1643164

Return to Top

****
****

33.
Refugee Survey Quarterly
Vol. 38, No. 4, December 2019
https://academic.oup.com/rsq/issue/38/4

Articles:

By José H Fischel de Andrade
https://academic.oup.com/rsq/article-abstract/38/4/341/5586850?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

redirectedFrom=fulltext

By Jari Pirjola
https://academic.oup.com/rsq/article-abstract/38/4/363/5581822?redirectedFrom=fulltext

By Matthew Zagor
https://academic.oup.com/rsq/article-abstract/38/4/387/5640425?redirectedFrom=fulltext

By Ayse Safak Ayvazoglu and Filiz Kunuroglu
https://academic.oup.com/rsq/article-abstract/38/4/425/5580629?redirectedFrom=fulltext

By Abdullah Omar Yassen
https://academic.oup.com/rsq/article-abstract/38/4/448/5585402?redirectedFrom=fulltext

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Sunday, December 1, 2019 7:16 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 12/1/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 12/1/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Andrew R. Arthur, Dan Cadman, Todd Bensman, David North, Jason Peña, and Jerry Kammer
2. "Sanctuary Cities Continue to Obstruct ICE," Michael Cutler
3. "Trump's Asylum Policies Are Lawful and Needed to Secure the Border," Ken Cuccinelli
4. "Sanctuaries to Release Illegal Immigrants Jailed for Rape, Murder, Child Molestation," Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles
5. "The Impact of Designating Mexican Cartels a 'Foreign Terrorist Organization'," Hollie McKay
6. "The Real Purpose Behind the Immigration Debate," Patrick Garry
7. "Mexico Stomps Feet Over Trump Pledge to Designate Cartels as Terrorists," Luis Miguel
8. "Designate Mexican Drug Cartels as Foreign Terrorist Organizations," Mark Everette
9. "Progressives Decry Fake ICE university – Turns Out It Was Created Under President Obama," Sam Dorman
10. "AOC Owes The People of America A Public Apology," Judi McLeod
11. "My Parents Are Immigrants, But Joe Biden Is Right: Undocumented Immigrant Felons Should Be Deported," Giancarlo Sopo
12. "National Security Protected by Conservative EB-5 Reform Bill," Beau Rothschild
13. "Angel Mom Issues Challenge to Bernie After He Threatens to Break Up ICE," Erin Coates
14. " 'Die Hard' Actor Slams Democrats for Immigration Policy," Andrew J. Sciascia
15. "Huffpost Writer Decries Trump Dismantling Permissive Asylum Policy," Jack Martin
16. "The Rotten Fruits of America's 'Farm Workforce Modernization Act'," Bob Dane
17. "Trump Deals, Central Americans, Asylum and Nayib Bukele," Allan Wall

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

18. "Sanctuary Cities Won't Fix Problems," The Boston Herald
19. "Philadelphia Releases Serial Child Rapist Illegal Alien Twice Despite Detainer," Jazz Shaw
21. "Greediest Cases: NEW YORK TIMES Solicits Donations for Illegal Alien College Student," Brenda Walker
21. "Babies vs. Immigrants: Must We Really Choose?," Lyman Stone
22. "Why We Need State-Based Immigration Visas," Alex Nowrasteh
23. "Trump's Policies at the Border Weren't Designed to Keep Out Mexican Asylum Seekers — Until Now," Nicole Narea
24. "Trump's Agreements in Central America Are Dismantling the Asylum System as We Know It," Nicole Narea
25. "A Court Stops Another Shameful Trump Immigration Policy — For Now," Scott Martelle
26. "The Principles of Trump University Now Apply to Our Immigration Policy," Charles P. Pierce
27. "What We Owe the World's Refugees: Reject the Administration's Effort to Undermine International and U.S. Humanitarian Law," Mark Hetfield, John L. McCullough and Krish O'Mara Vignarajah
28. "How California's Prop. 187 Is Still Shaping Immigration Policy — 25 Years After It Passed," Andrea Silva
29. "Talking Turkey About America's Most Pressing Issues," Wendy Feliz
30. "Trump Got His Wall, After All," Rachel Morris

1.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Andrew R. Arthur

WaPo Strikes (Out) Again (and Again) on Immigration
And some unwanted bipartisan agreement in Maryland
November 29, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/WaPo-Strikes-Out-Again-and-Again-Immigration

What Do Voters Really Think About Immigration?
Interesting takeaways from a report apparently prepared for Democratic group
November 27, 2019
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://cis.org/Arthur/What-Do-Voters-Really-Think-About-Immigration

Campo Drive-Through Shows Why We Need a Wall Upgrade
A wake-up call: It could have been a truck full of drugs
November 27, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Campo-DriveThrough-Shows-Why-We-Need-Wall-Upgrade

Statistics Reveal the Scope of the Asylum Backlog
A lot of asylum claims, but few asylum grants
November 25, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Statistics-Reveal-Scope-Asylum-Backlog

UN Backpedals on Child Detention Claims
No immigration claim is too unbelievable if it makes Trump look bad
November 23, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/UN-Backpedals-Child-Detention-Claims

By Dan Cadman

Hypocrisy, Thy Name Is "Volag"
Resettlement contractors back state nullification of immigration law, then argue in court that states have no say in refugee placement
November 25, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Hypocrisy-Thy-Name-Volag

Another Missed Opportunity to Fix VAWA
November 23, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Another-Missed-Opportunity-Fix-VAWA

It's Time to Designate Cartels as Foreign Terrorist Organizations
November 27, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Its-Time-Designate-Cartels-Foreign-Terrorist-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Organizations

By Todd Bensman

Hold Off: Designating Mexican Cartels as Terrorists Could Dilute War on Jihadists
November 27, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/Hold-Designating-Mexican-Cartels-Terrorists-Could-Dilute-War-Jihadists

Crowd-Funded 'We Build the Wall' Starts Texas Project Despite 'Butterfly People', 'Rogue Priests', and 'Freaks'
November 26, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/CrowdFunded-We-Build-Wall-Starts-Texas-Project

By David North

What About the 172,000 DACA Dropouts? A Question Not Raised
November 25, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/What-About-172000-DACA-Dropouts-Question-Not-Raised

By Jason Peña

Military on Mexico's Southern Border Cuts Migrant Flow
November 25, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Military-Mexicos-Southern-Border-Cuts-Migrant-Flow

By Jerry Kammer

On Thanksgiving: The Poetry and Prose of Immigration and the Statue of Liberty
November 27, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Kammer/Thanksgiving-Poetry-and-Prose-Immigration-and-Statue-Liberty

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Sanctuary Cities Continue to Obstruct ICE
Protecting criminal aliens while endangering innocent victims.
By Michael Cutler
FrontPageMag.com, November 27, 2019
. . .
https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2019/11/sanctuary-cities-continue-obstruct-ice-michael-cutler/

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Trump's Asylum Policies Are Lawful and Needed to Secure the Border
By Ken Cuccinelli
The Los Angeles Times, November 24, 2019
. . .
https://www.latimes.com/opinion/story/2019-11-24/trump-asylum-border

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Sanctuaries to Release Illegal Immigrants Jailed for Rape, Murder, Child Molestation
Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles, November 27, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.judicialwatch.org/corruption-chronicles/sanctuaries-to-release-illegal-immigrants-jailed-for-rape-murder-child-molestation/

Return to Top

****
****

5.
The Impact of Designating Mexican Cartels a 'Foreign Terrorist Organization'
By Hollie McKay
FoxNews.com, November 30, 2019
https://www.foxnews.com/world/mexican-cartels-foreign-terrorist-organization-impact

Return to Top

****
****

6.
The Real Purpose Behind the Immigration Debate
How progressive framing of the immigration issue exposes their true vision for America.
By Patrick Garry
Human Events Online, November 21, 2019
. . .
https://humanevents.com/2019/11/21/the-real-purpose-behind-the-immigration-debate/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

7.

Mexico Stomps Feet Over Trump Pledge to Designate Cartels as Terrorists

By Luis Miguel

The New American, November 30, 2019

. . .

https://www.thenewamerican.com/world-news/north-america/item/34190-mexico-stomps-feet-over-trump-pledge-to-designate-cartels-as-terrorists

Return to Top

****

****

8.

Designate Mexican Drug Cartels as Foreign Terrorist Organizations

Let's stop kidding ourselves. They are terrorists.

By Mark Everette

Human Events Online, November 11, 2019

. . .

https://humanevents.com/2019/11/11/designate-mexican-drug-cartels-as-foreign-terrorist-organizations/

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Progressives Decry Fake ICE university – Turns Out It Was Created Under President Obama

By Sam Dorman

FoxNews.com, November 30, 2019

. . .

https://www.foxnews.com/politics/fake-university-michigan-ice-obama

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

10.

AOC Owes The People of America A Public Apology

By Judi McLeod

Canada Free Press, November 28, 2019

. . .

https://canadafreepress.com/article/aoc-owes-the-people-of-america-a-public-apology

Return to Top

****

****

11.

My Parents Are Immigrants, But Joe Biden Is Right: Undocumented Immigrant Felons Should Be Deported

Immigration activists and opportunistic politicians are quick to denounce border enforcement measures while being short on specifics and long on platitudes.

By Giancarlo Sopo

The Federalist, November 23, 2019

. . .

https://thefederalist.com/2019/11/23/my-parents-are-immigrants-but-joe-biden-is-right-undocumented-immigrant-felons-should-be-deported/

Return to Top

****

****

12.

National Security Protected by Conservative EB-5 Reform Bill

By Beau Rothschild

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Townhall.com, November 25, 2019

. . .

https://townhall.com/columnists/beaurothschild/2019/11/25/national-security-protected-by-conservative-eb5-reform-bill-n2557033

Return to Top

****

****

13.

Angel Mom Issues Challenge to Bernie After He Threatens to Break Up ICE

By Erin Coates

The Western Journal, November 29, 2019

. . .

https://www.westernjournal.com/angel-mom-issues-challenge-bernie-threatens-break-ice/

Return to Top

****

****

14.

'Die Hard' Actor Slams Democrats for Immigration Policy

By Andrew J. Sciascia

The Western Journal, November 13, 2019

. . .

https://www.wnd.com/2019/11/die-hard-actor-robert-davi-slams-democrats-immigration-policy/

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

15.

Huffpost Writer Decries Trump Dismantling Permissive Asylum Policy

By Jack Martin

ImmigrationReform.com, November 26, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/26/asylum-policy-media-bias-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

16.

The Rotten Fruits of America's 'Farm Workforce Modernization Act'

By Bob Dane

ImmigrationReform.com, November 25, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/25/farmers-congress-illegal-labor-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

17.

Trump Deals, Central Americans, Asylum and Nayib Bukele

By Allan Wall

VDare.com Blog, November 29, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/trump-deals-central-americans-asylum-and-nayib-bukele

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

18.

Sanctuary Cities Won't Fix Problems

The Boston Herald, November 30, 2019

. . .

https://www.bostonherald.com/2019/11/30/sanctuary-cities-wont-fix-problems/

Return to Top

****

****

19.

Philadelphia Releases Serial Child Rapist Illegal Alien Twice Despite Detainer

By Jazz Shaw

HotAir.com, November 30, 2019

. . .

https://hotair.com/archives/jazz-shaw/2019/11/30/philadelphia-releases-serial-child-rapist-illegal-alien-twice-despite-detainer/

Return to Top

****

****

20.

Greediest Cases: NEW YORK TIMES Solicits Donations for Illegal Alien College Student

By Brenda Walker

VDare.com Blog, December 1, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/greediest-cases-new-york-times-solicits-donations-for-illegal-alien-college-student

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

21.

Babies vs. Immigrants: Must We Really Choose?

By Lyman Stone,

Institute for Family Studies, November 26, 2019

. . .

https://ifstudies.org/blog/babies-vs-immigrants-must-we-really-choose

Return to Top

****

****

22.

Why We Need State-Based Immigration Visas

By Alex Nowrasteh

CATO Institute, November 20, 2019

. . .

https://www.cato.org/publications/commentary/why-we-need-state-based-immigration-visas

Return to Top

****

****

23.

Trump's Policies at the Border Weren't Designed to Keep Out Mexican Asylum Seekers — Until Now

By Nicole Narea

VOX.com, November 27, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.vox.com/policy-and-politics/2019/11/27/20982671/trump-border-mexican-asylum-seeker-migrant-metering-harp-pacr-pilot-program-el-paso-camps

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Trump's Agreements in Central America Are Dismantling the Asylum System as We Know It
The administration has started sending migrants back to Guatemala.
By Nicole Narea
VOX.com, November 20, 2019
. . .
https://www.vox.com/2019/9/26/20870768/trump-agreement-honduras-guatemala-el-salvador-explained

Return to Top

****
****

25.
A Court Stops Another Shameful Trump Immigration Policy — For Now
By Scott Martelle
The Los Angeles Times, November 27, 2019
. . .
https://www.latimes.com/opinion/story/2019-11-27/court-stops-trump-immigration-policy-healthcare

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

26.

The Principles of Trump University Now Apply to Our Immigration Policy

A new low for the United States of America.

By Charles P. Pierce

Esquire.com, November 27, 2019

. . .

https://www.esquire.com/news-politics/politics/a30028616/ice-fake-university-scam-deport-immigrants/

Return to Top

****

****

27.

What We Owe the World's Refugees: Reject the Administration's Effort to Undermine International and U.S. Humanitarian Law

By Mark Hetfield, John L. McCullough and Krish O'Mara Vignarajah

The New York Daily News, November 24, 2019

. . .

http://www.nydailynews.com/opinion/ny-oped-what-we-owe-the-worlds-refugees-20191124-bl2gpox6rvdhljeaevpm7aeygy-story.html

Return to Top

****

****

28.

How California's Prop. 187 Is Still Shaping Immigration Policy — 25 Years After It Passed

States and localities are increasingly where immigration policy is being made

By Andrea Silva

The Washington Post, November 25, 2019

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.washingtonpost.com/politics/2019/11/25/how-californias-prop-is-still-shaping-immigration-policy-years-after-it-passed/

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Talking Turkey About America's Most Pressing Issues
By Wendy Feliz
ImmigrationImpact.com, November 26, 2019
. . .
http://immigrationimpact.com/2019/11/26/talking-immigration-on-thanksgiving/#.XeQV0c-WybY

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Trump Got His Wall, After All
By Rachel Morris
Huffington Post, November 24, 2019
. . .
https://www.huffpost.com/highline/article/invisible-wall/

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, December 2, 2019 8:34 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Should Mexican Cartels Be Designated as Foreign Terrorist Organizations?

Share Tweet Forward

Point/Counterpoint: Should Mexican Cartels Be Designated as Foreign Terrorist Organizations?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C (December 2, 2019) – The Center for Immigration Studies presents arguments for and against the Trump administration's actions to designate some Mexican drug trafficking cartels as Foreign Terrorist Organizations (FTO). An FTO designation triggers powerful American authorities to freeze financial assets, prosecute for activities that support terrorism, and bar entry into the country.

CIS fellow Dan Cadman urges the designation of cartels as FTOs, arguing, "Nine dual-citizen U.S./Mexican Mormons were murdered recently in Mexico, U.S. diplomatic personnel have been brazenly attacked and U.S. enforcement agents murdered on the Mexican side when it suits cartel interests. In U.S. border states and major metropolitan areas, many drug-related murders are the direct result of struggles for control between cartels." Cadman continues, "We must up our own game. Official designation brings with it a multiplicity of legal authorities and penalties that can make a difference in how the United States responds, in our own interest, to the struggle for control of Mexico."

CIS fellow Todd Bensman argues that the U.S. hold off designating Mexican Cartels as FTOs as the action could dilute "America's war on some 70 currently designated Islamic terrorist groups that aspire, emphatically unlike any of Mexico's cartels, to kill as many Americans as possible on American soil the present war on Jihadists." He continues, "The sometimes shrill calls, with each new gun battle or atrocity, that Mexican cartels imminently threaten U.S. national security don't hold up under scrutiny, at least not without more evidence. If the U.S. government insists on adding a massive layer of new terrorists to existing U.S. counterterrorism systems, plans for how to resource it and allocate the greater burden among agencies, without taking from the war on terror, should be laid out first."

FTO designation is a powerful tool. So should the U.S. designate Mexico's major cartels as foreign terrorist organizations under Section 219 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA)? Section 219 provides that the secretary of state may designate a group as a FTO on finding that it engages in terrorist activity as defined at INA Section 212(a)(3) or terrorism as defined at 22 U.S.C. Section 2656f(d)(2). Does Mexican Cartel conduct meet the threshold definitions, including specifically as a threat to the national security of the United States?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, December 2, 2019 11:00 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Remember CIS on Giving Tuesday

Share Tweet Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

#GivingTuesday
Remember the Center for Immigration Studies on December 3

With a staff of less than two dozen people, the Center for Immigration Studies has been instrumental in many of the changes that we've seen over the past three years, including key improvements in interior enforcement, security vetting, refugee resettlement, and visa rules.

Even Vox, the "explanatory journalism" site that is hostile to our point of view, reluctantly acknowledged this in a recent article: "The Center of Immigration Studies, which advocates for lowering immigration levels overall, has influenced many of the Trump administration's restrictive immigration policies."

We regularly consult with the White House and executive agencies, testify before Congress and educate lawmakers. We also punch above our weight in the media, competing with the much larger and better funded organizations pushing for an anti-borders agenda that creates fiscal deficits and social upheaval while marginalizing the most vulnerable.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We are the only research group making the case for a tighter immigration policy. As Peter Kirsanow, a member of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, explains, "Their studies are indispensable to the work we do at the Civil Rights Commission and, in fact, indispensable to the discourse on the debate on immigration nationwide. Had it not been for the groundwork done by the Center for Immigration Studies our immigration policy would be radically different right now."

We are making a difference and our voice in the debate is critical. With your (tax-deductible) support, we can continue our important work.

Donate

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, December 5, 2019 3:38 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 12/5/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 12/5/19

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

1. 12/12-13, Paris - Annual conference on immigration in OECD countries
2. 1/2-5, DC - Immigration at the Association of American Law Schools annual meeting
3. 1/3-6, New York, NY - Immigration at the American Historical Association annual meeting - [Updated with program]
4. 1/3-6, San Diego - Immigration at the American Economic Association annual meeting
5. 1/13, San Diego - Book discussion: Citizenship in Hard Times
6. 1/16, Paris - OECD forum on building a whole-of-society approach to emerging migration and integration challenges
7. 1/16-19, DC - Immigration at the Society for Social Work and Research annual conference - [New Listing]
8. 1/17, Paris - Conference on making migration and integration policies future ready
9. 1/19-21, Cairo - IOM/OECD International Forum on Migration Statistics
10. 1/21-24, Quito, Ecuador - Annual Mayoral Forum on Human Mobility, Migration and Development - [New Listing]
11. 1/23, Toronto - Discussion on Civil society and the everyday politics of the global refugee regime - [New Listing]
12. 2/4, Toronto - Discussion on State responsibilities towards refugees under the 1967 Protocol to the 1951 Convention - [New Listing]
13. 2/24, San Diego - Seminar on the White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression
14. 2/27, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migrant lives at Israel's margins - [New Listing]
15. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary - [New Listing]

1.

Immigration in OECD Countries - 9th Annual International Conference

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thursday-Friday, December 12-13, 2019
OECD Boulogne Conference Centre - 46
quai Alphonse Le Gallo
92100 Boulogne-Billancourt
Paris, France
http://www.cepii.fr/CEPII/en/evenements/abstract.asp?IDReu=472

Description: The conference will examine the economic aspects of international migration in OECD countries by mapping the migratory flows and defining their socio-economic determinants and consequences. Topics of interest for the conference include, among others, the determinants of immigration to the OECD, migrants' self-selection, the labor market and public finance effects of immigration, as well as migrants and refugees social, political and economic integration.

The Keynote speakers are:

Uta Schoenberg, University College of London
Paolo Pinotti, Bocconi University
Thierry Mayer, Sciences Po

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Association of American Law Schools annual meeting

Thursday-Sunday, January 2–5, 2020
Marriott Wardman Park
2660 Woodley Road NW
Washington, DC 20008
https://am.aals.org/

Immigration-related sessions:

Friday, January 3, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8:30-10:15 a.m.

Immigration Control and Environmental Regulation: Toward Justice?

Natural disasters and social conflicts spurred by deteriorating environmental conditions and climate change are driving people to move across borders. Economically disadvantaged communities, racial minorities, and indigenous people are often in the first wave of displaced people in the world's poorer countries. These same communities are also the most heavily impacted by pollution and environmental degradation in the places that they live and work in the United States. This panel will explore the issues of immigration and environmental regulation. How do environmental regulatory and deregulatory schemes in the U.S. impact immigrant communities? How have arguments about the effects of immigrants on the environment been used to restrict migration and the rights of migrants? How should existing domestic and international legal frameworks governing migration be revised to respond to environmentally motivated migration?

1:30-3:15 p.m.

Exploring Immigrant Justice from Intersectional Perspectives

This panel will consider justice for immigrants. Since the 2016 election, Trump's policies and discourse surrounding immigration have fundamentally challenged the pillars of democracy. In the process of regulating who can come in and remain in the US, immigration law and policy touches on how we conceive of family, work, criminal justice, civil rights, and international law. This program focuses on those engaged in teaching and scholarship that is intersectional with immigration law such as criminal law, employment and labor rights, human rights, and community economic development. In particular, it seeks to create a dialogue between clinical and non-clinical faculty and consider how such perspectives could help push the boundaries of what justice looks like for immigrant communities.

3:30-5:15 p.m.

New Voices in Immigration Law: Works in Progress

New voices in immigration law will have the opportunity to present works-in-progress and receive feedback from senior scholars. Presenters were selected from a call for papers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Saturday, January 4, 2020

10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

The Challenge of International Law in Dealing with the Causes of the Global Refugee Crisis: Climate Change, Armed Conflict, and Gross Human Rights Abuses Perpetrated by State and Non-State Actors

Most scholarly attention has focused on the receiving countries' harsh response to the worldwide refugee crisis. Relatively few scholars have focused on its causes—why so many, primarily from the Global South, have left their homes. Our main program will attempt to answer this critical question and analyze the role of international law.

1:30-3:15 p.m.

Federal Courts at the Border

In recent years, growing dysfunction in the United States' immigration system has put pressure upon the federal courts to play a central role in lawmaking at the nation's border. Disputes about asylum and refugee policy, the proposed border wall, cross-border shootings, and the application of the Suspension Clause to undocumented immigrants have underscored the difficult role of federal courts at the border. This panel will consider federal court doctrines that bear upon the availability of judicial review at the border, asking whether and to what extent those doctrines create zones free from judicial oversight. It will also ask in what ways recent challenges to immigration law and policy have shaped the doctrines of federal courts law. Finally, the panel will look to see what light disputes at the border may shed upon the design of and practical constraints upon the federal courts system.

Sunday, January 5, 2020

8:30-10:15 a.m.

Recent Developments: How Easily Can Agencies Change Regulatory Policy in Immigration & Civil Rights?

The use of guidance documents in regulatory agencies is one of the most challenging aspects of administrative law. When an agency uses a guidance document to change or make policy, it need not provide notice to the public or allow comment on the new rule. This makes change easier, faster, and less subject to review. Under previous administrations, guidance documents were used to implement policies in many subject areas, including civil rights and immigration. The current administration has rolled back many of these policies. This program consists of a moderated panel on recent developments in the use of guidance documents. The speakers will highlight two reports to the Administrative Conference of the United States proposing changes to Administrative Procedure Act and an executive order mandating increased use of notice and comment. They will comment on controversies involving DACA and Title IX that demonstrate the stakes of change.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3:30-5:15 p.m.

Scaling the Invisible Wall: Bureaucratic Controls Over Legal Immigration

This session will examine the "invisible wall," a term that refers to non-statutory hurdles faced by legal immigrants. Executive branch actions at times affect access to legal immigration despite statutory opportunities. Changes in agency policy, changes in agency mood, or other phenomena can narrow the availability of legal opportunities for immigration. Examples of the invisible wall include preventing asylum seekers from accessing the border, increased denial rates of applications for legal status, and slower processing times of applications for legal status. The invisible wall implicates separation of powers principles because it questions the boundaries of executive branch enforcement. It also challenges notions of transparency in administrative law and raises questions about how attorneys should respond to the challenges of the invisible wall. The invisible wall also highlights the need to explore the principles that should influence the design and governance of a legal immigration system.

Return to Top

****

****

3.

American Historical Association annual meeting

Friday-Monday, January 3-6, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The New York Hilton
1335 Avenue of the Americas
The Sheraton New York
811 7th Avenue
New York, NY
https://www.historians.org/annual-meeting

Immigration-related sessions:

Friday, January 3, 2020

1:30-3:00 p.m.
Liberty, Legitimacy, and Forced Migrations across Empires: Refugees in the Ottoman, Russian, and Hapsburg Empires, 1848–1920

Papers:
Fight, Flight, and Negotiating the Road Back Home: Hungarian and Polish '48ers under Ottoman Protection
Jared Manasek, Pace University

Leaving the Ottoman Empire: Muslim Return Migration to Russia and Refugee Crises on the Russo-Ottoman Border, 1865–80
Vladimir Hamed-Troyansky, Columbia University, Harriman Institute

Bounding Communities: Identifying Immigrants in the Late Ottoman Empire, 1908–14
Ella Fratantuono, University of North Carolina at Charlotte

State Legitimacy and Refugee Settlement on the Frontier of Southern Syria, 1878–1920
Patrick Adamiak, University of California, San Diego

Session Abstract: From 1848 to the end of WWI, millions of migrants crossed the changing boundaries of the Russian, Ottoman, and Hapsburg Empires. These migrants fled consolidating state control over spaces, which was accompanied not only by greater control over movement but also by a politics geared toward homogenizing populations. In turn, in an era of hardening exclusive nationalisms, migrants sought refuge among coreligionists or co-ethnics with increasing frequency. The papers in this panel engage specifically with migration and settlement around the Black Sea, ranging from the flight of Hungarians and Poles into the Ottoman Empire following the political upheaval of 1848 to the movement of Circassians, Chechens, and Daghestanis into the Balkans, Anatolia, and Syria. Taken together, they consider anew the applicability of frameworks of "forced" or "free," emphasize the agency of refugees, explore how empires' responses to movement intertwined with new claims of legitimacy internationally and within their territories, and evaluate how migrants engaged with and became discursively attached to concepts of coercion and liberty in pre- and post-revolutionary contexts.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The field of migration history has long grappled with the conceptual distinction between "free" and forced migrations. In the past two decades, scholars working in the field have explored the complexity of migrants' motivations. They have excavated the ways in which scholars' categorizations of movement have led to a concurrent segmentation and even racialization of various migrations. For example, historians have outlined how the distinction between forced and free contributed to American exceptionalism in its "nation of immigrants" myth, cast movement occurring beyond the Atlantic as different from the industrialized "age of mass migration," or suggested that even within a world economic system, those outside of Transatlantic systems moved only in response to European penetration and economic integration. This panel applies those insights to an essential and understudied geography that encompasses different degrees, agents, and experiences of violence and coercion, and in which people moved within complex and existing trans-imperial networks that themselves involved enslavement and coercion.

Each paper on this panel evaluates migration outcomes from the perspectives of migrants and states. The papers revisit questions of how religion shaped the directionality and experiences of migrants in an era in which political rights were increasingly tied to ethno-religious categories. Rather than simple stories of the "unmixing of peoples" according to religion, the papers open up new venues to consider the importance, if any, that migrants attached to religion as they moved within and between empires. While the panel is interested in the experiences of migrants themselves, it is likewise interested in the ways in which migrations shaped shifting claims of legitimacy among imperial states, highlighting the promises and failures of developing infrastructures of aid, measurement, and territoriality. In doing so, the panel contributes to scholarship on the long history of displacement and administrative response in the making of post-Hapsburg, post-Ottoman, and post-Russian states.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Other Illegals: Unauthorized European Immigration to the US in the 20th Century

Papers:

White Illegals: Italian Migrants and the Rise of a Global Regime of Immigration Restriction
Maddalena Marinari, Gustavus Adolphus College

Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression
S. Deborah Kang, California State University, San Marcos

The Privileges of Illegality: Unauthorized Italian Immigration to the United States and Adjustment of Status in the 20th Century
Danielle Battisti, University of Nebraska, Omaha

3:30-5:00 p.m.

In the Hands of the People: Negotiating US Immigration Policy from Below

Papers:

Alien Contract Labor Law and the Problem of Imported Labor in Gilded Age America
Hidetaka Hirota, Sophia University

To Have Your Chop Suey and Eat It Too: Chinese Restaurant Owners' Battle for Immigration Privileges, 1897–1919
Heather R. Lee, NYU Shanghai

The War Brides Acts and Engagements under Military Rule
Julian Lim, Arizona State University

Session Abstract: This panel suggests how individuals affected by discriminatory laws and policies found that by acting collectively, they could ameliorate those provisions of discriminatory legislation that most menaced their rights and interests. Presenters focus on three particular areas where the law significantly shaped Americans' and foreigners' lives: labor, business, and marriage. In oftentimes forgotten ways, small actors in the past stood their ground, when American policies and enforcers attempted to strip rights from them. As individuals, they usually fail, but through collective efforts, they have successfully pushed against interests and forces much larger than themselves. This panel provides new perspectives on agency in the history of US immigration law by analyzing how ordinary Americans and immigrants endorsed, challenged, and manipulated the law outside policymakers' offices.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The panelists examine collective efforts influencing the inclusions and exclusions of American immigration law. Hidetake Hirota focuses on the 1885 Alien Contract Labor Law, showing how fear of foreign workers inspired racial nationalism among US voters in all states. Hirota argues that question of immigration control was elevated from a regional issue confined to coastal states to one that unified white natives against racialized foreigners. Heather Lee shifts the conversation from the advocates to the subjects of restrictive immigration laws. Lee demonstrates that the numerous court appeals and challenges brought by the Chinese changed the enforcement of Chinese exclusion laws in meaningful ways in the early twentieth century. The Chinese created breathing room under the suffocating blanket of Chinese Exclusion, which aimed to end most, if not all, their emigration to the United States. Julian Lim demonstrates how immigrants leveraged federal immigration laws against discriminatory state laws. She traces how the War Brides Acts of the post-World War II era created an opening for certain U.S. soldiers to bring their foreign wives and fiancees to the United States. In particular, she examines the interracial unions between American soldiers - both black and white servicemen - and European and Asian women, and the ways in which such federally-sanctioned interracial unions challenged state anti-miscegenation laws.

These histories disrupt the clean lines of historical specialization, bringing together the fields of foreign policy, legal history, labor history, social history, and the history of capitalism to bear on immigration history. The panel also offers an alternative conceptualization of agency, one that gives weight to how actors leveraged their differing subject positions.

These histories of the American past urge us to pay attention to the small scale strategies of people on the ground. In moment of heightened racial nationalism, the proclamations from the Oval Office and the halls of Congress provide parts of the whole. The average advocate and subject create meaning and intention out of federal legislation. On the battlegrounds of immigration offices, these parties negotiate the actual borders between inclusion and exclusion. This panel is sponsored by the Immigration and Ethnic History Society. Two senior historians of American immigration, Alan Kraut and Lucy Salyer, will serve as chair and commentator, respectively.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Saturday, January 4, 2020

8:30-10:00 a.m.

Migrants' Nature: Mobility, Labor, and the Environment in Latin America and the Caribbean

Papers:

Drought and Diaspora: Mexican Mennonite "Braceros" and Northern Mexico's Mid-20th-Century Drought
Ben Nobbs-Thiessen, Washington State University

Migrant Workers and the Turtle Trade in the Brazilian Amazon at the Turn of the 20th Century
Thaís Sant'ana, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

"Great Calamities": Spaniards, Africans, and the Laboring Environments of Late Colonial Cuba, 1851–92
Oscar de la Torre, University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Servants of the Seasons: Glimpses of Labor Mobility across the Early Americas
Molly A. Warsh, University of Pittsburgh

Session Abstract: This panel examines the links between migration, labor and the natural world in both the early modern and modern contexts of Latin America and the Caribbean. The featured papers offer comparative and ecological perspectives on the movement of unsettled peoples within regions and across borders, on the ways migrant workers build their own society-nature relations in their destinations, and on these processes' implications. A close look at African and indigenous laborers conducting seasonal work in the early-modern Americas reveals important connections between itinerant labor and climate change, and challenges conventional narratives of slavery and freedom. In late colonial Cuba, unhealthy laboring environments threatened the lives of both Spanish and African workers, and became one of the most important factors in shaping the social crisis that affected the island in the context of Cuban struggle for independence. In the Brazilian Amazon at the turn of the twentieth century, the local government's attempt to limit the trade in turtles encountered resistance among caboclo migrant workers who helped promote a public debate on natural resource conservation, cultural tradition, and state intervention in the region's economy. In mid-twentieth-century Northern Mexico, devastating droughts led low-German speaking Mennonites to become seasonal "braceros." They helped foster, as a consequence, a culture of long-distance migration that transformed farming in Northern Mexico and in Mennonite colonies of Canada.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The papers in this panel critically engage several linked questions. How can we understand labor and mobility from an ecological perspective? How does the environment inform the experiences of migrant workers? How can historians assess freedom of choice in scenarios where changes in the natural world and the work of migrants are interconnected? How do ecological perspectives on migrants and nature reframe long-standing issues and debates in the history of Latin America and the Caribbean?

In highlighting the multiform relationship between human agency and the environment, this panel moves beyond the human-nature dichotomy. Instead, it proposes new avenues for conceptualizing how migrant workers shaped spatial, cultural, ecologic, political and economic processes and outcomes in Latin America and the Caribbean.

10:30 a.m.-12:00 p.m.

The Changing History of Immigration in NYC: Digital Community Archivists

Papers:

NHPRC Project in Flushing High School

John Ronzino, high school teacher

NHPRC Project in Xavier High School

Stephen F. Haller, Xavier High School

NHPRC Project at the High School for Environmental Studies

Jeremy Mellema, high school teacher

NHPRC Project at Brooklyn Tech

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Judith Jeremie, high school teacher; Sean McManamon, Brooklyn Technical High School

NHPRC Project at Eleanor Roosevelt High School
Jennifer Stalec, high school teacher

Session Abstract: Funded by the National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC), the Queens Immigration Project employs inquiry-based approaches to family history for New York City Public School grade 10 teachers who wish to inspire their students to employ historical methods and thinking, while learning research and digital literacy skills. The goal of the project is to develop curricula and resources to inspire inquiry-based that addresses questions of globalization and immigration and to engage teachers and students in the research and re-use of extant, freely available digital historical records.

Over the past two years, teachers have employed the project to collect students' immigration stories about their families and their neighborhoods. Students have documented the push and pull factors of immigration, and they have documented how their neighborhoods have changed over time by capturing oral histories of neighbors, friends, and family and researching the events that people described and creating an artifact to share through EngageNY, New York's open educational resource platform.
In this practicum, the two Principal Investigators (Kathy Shaughnessy and Elaine Carey) and the grant project assistant, John Ronzino, will present the NHPRC platform as a tool for teachers.

Diasporas Imagined and Created: Migrants, Exiles, and Refuges in Africa, Europe, and the Americas

Papers:
Making the Gulf World: 19th-Century Migrations in and in between Cuba, Mexico, and the United States
Dalia A. Muller, State University of New York, University at Buffalo

From Sojourn to Settlement: The 20th-Century Migration of Highly Skilled Nigerians to the United States
Mary E. Dillard, Sarah Lawrence College

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Religion and Migration: Stories from African Lisbon
Michelle Johnson, Bucknell University

Session Abstract: Migration is an integral part of human societies, across all historical eras. People's acts of migration globally reveal a great deal about the individual and collective experience. In light of people's growing comfort with leaving home to seek out opportunities, in parts of the world with little immediate connection to the familiar, combined with growing discomfort and concerns over climate change, economic instabilities, and political authoritarianism it is critical that historians look to and work more closely with the sciences and social sciences to make sense of and write narratives of migration. This panel examines migrations within and out of previously colonized societies. Drawing on various forms of social science and humanities data and methodologies, these papers provide important insights into rationales, approaches, and sensibilities individuals have to migration as well as how places, identities, and the sense of belonging are being made in the process of these various forced and chosen migrations.

Shifting the Boundaries of Inclusion: Immigrant Rights in the 20th-Century United States

Papers:
From Civil Rights to Human Rights: The Origins of the Immigrant Rights Movement
Maggie Elmore, University of Notre Dame

"An Act of Public Witness": Sanctuary, Religious Spaces, and Immigration Activism in Midwestern Sanctuary Movements
Sergio M. González, Marquette University

"To Reward the Wrong Way Is Not the American Way": Welfare, Immigrants' Rights, and the Battle over Benefits
Sarah Coleman, Texas State University

Session Abstract: "Shifting the Boundaries of Inclusion: Immigrant Rights in the Twentieth Century United States" consists of three papers that consider how different groups - religious organizations, civil rights groups, international human rights activists, and immigration restrictionists - sought to define immigrants rights in the late 20th century United States. At the core of the panel, is a historical analysis of the nature of American identity in the post-Civil Rights Era. The panel examines competing claims of citizenship. It expands our understanding of citizenship and belonging by placing efforts to define immigrant rights within the larger context of battles over the meaning and nature of the US's social contract. In so doing, the panel contributes to emerging scholarship on the immigrant rights movement, as well as the post 1960s US political landscape.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Taken together, these three papers reveal the contested battles to expand and restrict the circle of inclusion in the 20th century United States. Elmore's paper highlights how immigrant rights activists attempted to use the language of human rights to secure justice for undocumented immigrants. Gonzalez reveals how religious organizations took the lead in providing sanctuary for Central American refugees, creating a political movement in which people of faith challenged the limitations of US refugee and asylee policies. Coleman's paper traces the convergence immigrant restrictionists and welfare reformers whose efforts ultimately ushered in a new era in US immigration policy. Collectively, these papers reveal the legal, social, and political challenges that immigrants and their advocates have faced in attempting to secure immigrants' inclusion into the broader social fabric of the United States.

Our panel also raises questions about the relationship between the state and the non citizen residents. To what rights are immigrants in the United States entitled? What responsibilities does the state have to noncitizen residents - both documented and undocumented? In what ways have immigrant rights groups and immigration restrictionists sought to expand or limit the boundaries of inclusion? How might this history help us to better understand contemporary debates about the status of undocumented peoples and immigration restriction? S. Deborah Kang, whose recent scholarship highlights the relationship between law and society at the nation's borders, will provide the comment and chair the panel.

Sunday, January 5, 2020

8:30-10:00 a.m.

The Go-Betweens: Youth, Migration, and Knowledge Transfer

Papers:

Going Native: Teaching Indigenous Knowledge in Protestant Mission

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Schools, 1900–30
Elisabeth Engel, German Historical Institute Washington

"What They Should Know": The Role of Knowledge for Missionary and Indigenous Children
Simone Laqua-O'Donnell, University of Birmingham

Routes of Knowledge: Growing Up German in Chile, 1900–50
H. Glenn Penny, University of Iowa

Knowing Race: African Youth in France at the End of Empire
Emily Marker, Rutgers University–Camden

Session Abstract: Knowledge is a matter for grown-ups, or so scholarship in the history of knowledge would seem to suggest. Children and adolescents have scarcely figured in the rapidly growing literature on the history of knowledge, be it as subjects of adult study or as knowledge actors in their own right. The proposed session seeks not only to address this research lacuna but also to open new avenues of inquiry by focusing on two distinctive yet highly diverse groups: first, young people who migrated to new knowledge cultures and, second, children and adolescents who didn't migrate but were confronted with "migrated" knowledge from abroad that often became hegemonic within their own cultures.

Working at the intersection of knowledge, migration, colonial history and youth studies, the session participants aim to demonstrate that studying young people in transnational, colonial and migration-related contexts can reveal unrecognized but socially relevant processes of knowledge formation and underappreciated connections among producers and translators of knowledge. The four papers will shed new light on these connections by considering young people in different settings of migration and knowledge circulation. The session will demonstrate the value of employing a broad understanding of knowledge that extends beyond formally educated actors and academically sanctioned knowledge orders.

Recent scholarship has built important foundations for such a knowledge-centered inquiry, but it also points to desiderata. Historians of education and historians of migration have so far focused on concepts like assimilation and cultural conflict, and they have usually viewed young people as passive receivers of a hegemonic knowledge transmitted to them. The organizers and participants of this session, which brings together scholars from the history of the Americas, European history, and global history, propose another perspective. They argue that we can productively apprehend young people as historical actors who were able to translate between cultures and produce new knowledge in processes of migration and cultural translation. Because of their grounding in multiple cultures, young migrants often became important go-betweens, as young people did in colonial and post-colonial contexts. The panelists argue that young people modified migrated knowledge and turned knowledge produced for and conveyed to them into new and often subversive bodies of knowledge co-created by them.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Two of four papers will explore the knowledge young migrants produced in transnational settings. Simone Laqua-O'Donnell presents a case study on missionary families before World War I. Emily Marker considers students from Africa in France after 1945. The other two papers will reflect on situations where knowledge rather than young people migrated: Protestant mission schools in British colonies in Sub-Sahara Africa (Elisabeth Engel) and German schools in Chile (Glenn Penny). In his comment, Swen Steinberg will consider the points of intersection of these four case studies from a theoretical perspective and on the constellation of young people, knowledge, and migration as a promising field of historical investigation.

10:30 a.m.-12:00 p.m.

Immigration, Refugees, and Anti-Semitism: American Dilemmas

Papers:

Are Professors Worth Saving? American Universities' Life-and-Death Decisions on Refugees from Nazi Europe

Laurel Leff, Northeastern University

New Research on America's Responses to the International Refugee Crises in the 1930s and Today

Rafael Medoff, David S. Wyman Institute for Holocaust Studies

Spreading Nazi Anti-Semitism on the American Campus

Stephen Norwood, University of Oklahoma

Session abstract: U.S. immigration policy, and Americans' responses to international refugee crises, were matters of intense public debate in the 1930s, as they are today. In this session, three of the leading scholars in the field of American responses to Nazism and the Holocaust will present their latest research on Americans' responses, and the factors that shaped them. Dr. Medoff will examine heretofore unexplored aspects of the U.S. government's immigration policy, then and now; Prof. Leff will address the question of how American universities responded to the plight of European refugee scholars; and Prof. Norwood will explore efforts by the Nazi regime to spread antisemitism on American campuses, and how those efforts affected public opinion and policy. The audience for this session will include scholars of immigration history, racism, U.S. foreign policy, Jewish history, and the Holocaust.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

4.
American Economic Association annual meeting

Friday-Sunday, January 3-6, 2020
San Diego Marriott Marquis & Marina
Manchester Grand Hyatt San Diego
San Diego, CA
https://www.aeaweb.org/conference/about
https://www.aeaweb.org/conference/2020-general-information

Immigration-related sessions:

Friday, January 3, 2020

8:00-10:00 a.m.
The Effect of Immigrants on Economic and Political Outcomes in the United States

Diversity in Schools: Immigrants and the Educational Performance of Natives

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

David Figlio, Northwestern University
Paola Giuliano, University of California-Los Angeles
Riccardo Marchingiglio, Northwestern University
Umut Ozek, American Institutes for Research
Paola Sapienza, Northwestern University

Changing In-Group Boundaries: The Role of New Immigrant Waves in the United States
Vasiliki Fouka, Stanford University
Soumyajit Mazumder, Harvard University
Marco Tabellini, Harvard Business School

Immigration, Innovation and Growth
Konrad Burchardi, Institute for International Economic Studies (IIES)
Thomas Chaney, Sciences Po
Tarek Hassan, Boston University
Lisa Tarquinio, Boston University
Stephen J. Terry, Boston University

Migration and Housing

Paper Session:

International Student Migration and Local Housing Markets
Tatiana Mocanu, University of Illinois
Pedro Tremacoldi-Rossi, University of Illinois

A Tale of Two Cities: The Impact of Cross-Border Migration on Hong Kong's Housing Market
Maggie Hu, Chinese University of Hong Kong
Yi Fan, National University of Singapore
Xinwei Wan, University of Cambridge

A World Divided: Refugee Centers, House Prices, and Household Preferences
Martijn Droes, University of Amsterdam
Hans Koster, VU University Amsterdam

Migration and Location Choice

Paper Session:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Borrowing Constraints, Migrant Selection, and the Dynamics of Return and Repeat Migration
Joseph-Simon Goerlach, Bocconi University

10:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Migration and Development

Paper Session:
Southern (American) Hospitality: Italians in Argentina and the United States during the Age of Mass Migration
Santiago Perez, University of California-Davis

Like an Ink Blot on Paper: Testing the Diffusion Hypothesis of Mass Migration, Italy 1876-1920
Ariell Zimran, Vanderbilt University and NBER

2:30-4:30 p.m.
Effects of Immigration on American Science and Innovation
Paper Session:

From Immigrants to Americans: Race and Assimilation During the Great Migration
Vasiliki Fouka, Stanford University
Shom Mazumder, Harvard University
Marco Tabellini, Harvard University

Immigration and Entrepreneurship in the United States
Pierre Azoulay, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Benjamin F. Jones, Northwestern University
J. Daniel Kim, University of Pennsylvania
Javier Miranda, U.S. Census Bureau

Immigrant Entrepreneurship: Job Creation, Job Quality, and Innovation
Sari Pekkala Kerr, Wellesley College
William Kerr, Harvard University

Immigration Quotas and American Science
Petra Moser, New York University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Shmuel San, New York University

Saturday, January 4, 2020

8:00-10:00 a.m.

Consequences of Forced Migration

Paper Session:

Forced Migration and Human Capital: Evidence from Post-WWII Population Transfers

Pauline A. Grosjean, University of New South Wales
Sascha Becker, University of Warwick
Irena Grosfeld, Paris School of Economics
Nico Voigtländer, University of California-Los Angeles
Ekaterina Zhuravskaya, Paris School of Economics

Brothers or Invaders? How Crises-Driven Migrants Shape Voting Behaviour

Sandra Rozo, University of Southern California
Juan F. Vargas, Del Rosario University

Impact of Syrian Refugees on Education Outcomes in Jordan

Thomas Ginn, Stanford University
Ragui Assaad, University of Minnesota
Mohamed Saleh, Toulouse School of Economics

Refugee Crisis, Flight to Safety and Entrepreneurship

Cevat Giray Aksoy, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development
Nicolas Ajzenman, Inter-American Development Bank
Sergei Guriev, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development

Immigration and Assimilation

Paper Session:

Perceptions of Immigrants and Support for Immigration

Alberto Alesina, Harvard University
Stefanie Stantcheva, Harvard University

Rationing Determines Immigrant Composition and Outcomes

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Edward Lazear, Stanford University

Discrimination, Assimilation and Immigrant Outcomes in the Age of Mass Migration
Ran Abramitzky, Stanford University
Leah Boustan, Princeton University
Katherine Eriksson, University of California-Davis
Stephanie Hao, Princeton University

Determinants and Effects of Migration
Paper Session:

How Immigration Can Raise Wages in Pakistan
Ayesha Mehtab, COMSATS University-Islamabad

The Impact of Syrian Refugees on Native Mortality in Turkey
Aysun Aygun, Istanbul Technical University
Murat Kirdar, Bogazici University

Do French Migration Policies Affect Immigrants Inflows in the MENA Region?
Ines Trojette, ESPI Paris
Doslalo Millogo, University of Norbert-Zongo

Comparing Middle Eastern Migration to Europe, Latin America, and North America
Hisham Foad, San Diego State University

Sunday, January 5, 2020

8:00-10:00 a.m.
Immigration
Paper Session:

A Teacher Likes Having Me in Class: Do Migrant Students Leave Behind?
Jianhao Chen, University of Illinois-Chicago

The Role of Immigrants in the US Labor Market and Chinese Import Competition

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Chan Yu, University of Texas-Austin

Forced Migration and the Educational Attainment of Second and Third Generations
Anica Kramer, University of Bamberg, RWI, and IZA

Poor Voters, Taxation and the Size of the Welfare State
Arnaud Chevalier, Royal Holloway University of London
Benjamin Elsner, University College Dublin
Andreas Lichter, University of Duesseldorf
Nico Pestel, Institute of Labor Economics (IZA)

Immigration and Housing Rents: The 2015 Refugee Crisis in Germany
Kathleen Kuerschner Rauck, Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg
Michael Kvasnicka, Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg

Unauthorized Immigration Regulation and Labor Productivity: Evidence from Establishment-Level Data
Iftekhar Hasan, Fordham University
Incheol Kim, University of Texas-Rio Grande Valley
Xiaojing Yuan, University of Massachusetts-Lowell

Comparing Poverty of Refugees and Their Hosts

The Syrian Refugee Life Study
Samuel Leone, University of California-Berkeley
Edward Miguel, University of California-Berkeley
Sandra Rozo, University of Southern California
Emma Smith, Harvard University

Collecting Representative Panel Data in a Refugee Setting- Evidence from Bangladesh
C. Austin Davis, American University
Ahmed Mushfiq Mobarak, Yale University
Paula López-Peña, Yale University

Is Imputing Poverty Efficient? An Example from Refugee Data in Chad
Theresa Beltramo, United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees
Ibrahima Sarr, World Bank

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Paolo Verme, World Bank
Hai-Anh Deng, World Bank

10:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Economic Consequences of Immigration Policy

Paper Session:

Chain Reaction? The Population Spillovers of Immigrant Legalization
Elizabeth U. Cascio, Dartmouth College
Ethan G. Lewis, Dartmouth College

The Rise and Fall of the Know-Nothing Party
Marcella Alsan, Stanford University
Katherine Eriksson, University of California-Davis
Gregory Niemesh, Miami University

How Do Restrictions on High-Skilled Immigration Affect Offshoring? Evidence from the H-1B Program
Britta Glennon, University of Pennsylvania

The Labor Market Effects of Immigration Enforcement
Chloe N. East, University of Colorado-Denver
Annie Hines, University of California-Davis
Philip Luck, University of Colorado-Denver
Hani Mansour, University of Colorado-Denver
Andrea Velasquez, University of Colorado-Denver

1:00-3:00 p.m.

Causes of Populism and Its Related Political Preferences

Paper Session:

Unemployment, Immigration, and Populism: Evidence from Two Quasi-Natural Experiments in the United States
Shuai Chen, LISER

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

5.

Citizenship in Hard Times

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, January 13, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer-Final---Goodman-1-13-20.pdf

Sara Wallace Goodman, Associate Professor of Political Science, UC Irvine
Co-Director, Jack W. Peltason Center for the Study of Democracy, UC Irvine

Description: What do citizens do in times of democratic crisis? When democracy is under threat, do everyday citizens activate and mobilize, or do they hunker down, demobilize, and express greater support for homogeneity (like speaking English)? Scholars, pundits and policy experts have largely focused on elite behavior and institutional guardrails, but the citizenry is a foundation to any story about democracy under threat. This book is the first to examine civic obligation in unsettled democratic times from the perspective of citizens themselves. It employs a three-country study of the US, UK, and Germany, to examine how democratic citizens define obligation and for whom, comparing native-born and naturalized citizens. Findings highlight the importance of how democratic problems are framed, and puts forward a number of policy prescriptions for overhauling civic education.

Return to Top

****
****

6.

OECD High-Level Policy Forum: Building a Whole-of-Society Approach to Emerging Migration and Integration Challenges

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thursday, January 16, 2020
OECD Conference Centre 2
rue André-Pascal 75775
Paris CEDEX 16 France
https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/Migration-Integration-Policy-Forum-2020-EN.pdf

Program:

9:30-10:00 a.m.
Welcoming Remarks

Mr. Angel Gurría, OECD Secretary-General

Chair or Vice-Chair of the OECD Migration and Integration Ministerial Meeting

10:00-11:00 a.m.
Preparing for the future: lessons from global migration over the past decade

This introductory panel (5-6 participants) will discuss the experiences of countries regarding large migration inflows, and the lessons learned moving forward. It will involve high-level representatives from the UN and from selected OECD countries that have - or had - a key role in contexts of dealing with large migration inflows, as well as the president of a leading think tank. 11:00 – 11:30 Elevator pitches for the Innovation Lab Following a call for proposals with member countries, 10 selected innovative projects related to migration and integration from across OECD countries will be presented in short, 1-minute "elevator pitches". More detailed presentations of these projects will be made throughout the day in the hall of the OECD Conference Centre.

11:45 a.m.-1:00 p.m.
Foresight: the future of migration and integration

Presentation and discussion in break-out groups of the results of the foresight exercise of the OECD, focusing on four themes:

(i) the impact of new technologies on migration control and enforcement as well

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

as on

(ii) integration services delivery; and on

(iii) the role of regional and local authorities and

(iv) the role of corporations in migration and integration management in 2035.

2:30-3:45 p.m.

Parallel Sessions

1) Engaging with civil society – new approaches in the integration of migrants

New and innovative approaches that have been taken throughout OECD countries to leverage civil society in promoting the integration of migrants – notably with respect to social integration. This session will present and discuss some of these.

2) Innovations in language training

This session will present and discuss innovative approaches to language learning – either through new technologies or through innovation in course design and outreach.

3) Matching migrants with employment opportunities

A key issue with which many countries are struggling is to match migrants' skills with available employment opportunities, notably, but not exclusively, for refugees. This requires skills being assessed upfront and migrants being put in touch with relevant employers.

4) Innovation in skills partnerships

Skills partnerships are an increasingly important tool for matching talent in origin countries with labour needs in destination countries, while avoiding negative impacts on the origin country. This session will discuss some recent policy innovations in this field.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4:00-4:30 p.m.

A conversation on the global competition for talent

This session will bring together a high-level representative from emerging economies and a global thought leader from an OECD country to discuss the global competition for talent.

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

Return to Top

****

****

7.

Society for Social Work and Research annual conference

Reducing Racial and Economic Inequality

Thursday-Sunday, January 16–19, 2020
Marriott Marquis
901 Massachusetts Ave NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://secure.sswr.org/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration-related sessions:

Thursday, January 17, 2020

1:30-3:00 p.m.

Examining Stress in Lives of Immigrants

The Effects of Caregiving, Self-Efficacy and Stigma on Wellness Among Asian-American Family Caregivers of People with Mental Illness
Meekyung Han, PhD, San Jose State University; Sadhna Diwan, PhD, San Jose State University

Venezuelan Youth in Diaspora: A Multisite Study of Crisis Migration and Cultural Stress
Christopher Salas-Wright, PhD, Boston University; Mariana Cohen, Boston University; Patricia Andrade, Raices Venezolanas; Jose Rodriguez, Iglesia Episcopal Jesús de Nazaret; Mariana Sanchez, PhD, Florida International University; Seth Schwartz, PhD, University of Miami

Personal Well-Being, Resilience, Social Support and Psychological Distress Among Burmese Resettled Adults in the United States
Kareen Tonsing, PhD, Oakland University; Martha Vungkhanching, Ph.D., California State University, Fresno

The Loneliness Absorbs and Oppresses: Social Integration Barriers, Social Isolation and the Health Behaviors of Latino Immigrant Day Laborers
Jennifer Siegel, MSW, University of Maryland at Baltimore; Gabriel Fiallos, University of Maryland, Baltimore; Priya Sharma, University of Maryland, Baltimore; Nalini Negi, Ph.D., University of Maryland at Baltimore

Healthcare Literacy & Utilization

Changes in Immigration Policy and the Mental Health of Recent Mexican American Immigrants
Robin Gearing, PhD, University of Houston; Micki Washburn, PhD, University of Houston; Luis Torres, PhD, University of Houston; Alberto Cabrera, MSW, University of Houston; L. Christian Gearing, MSW, University of Houston; Robin Gearing, PhD, University of Houston

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Testing Competing Models of Somatization in a Sample of Somali Refugees Living in Urban Kenya
Claire Luce, MSW, Virginia Commonwealth University; Laura Swan, MSW, Virginia Commonwealth University; Shelby McDonald, PhD, Virginia Commonwealth University; Hyojin Im, PhD, Virginia Commonwealth University

Mental Health Needs and Healthcare Access Among Venezuelan Immigrants in Central Florida
Tracy Wharton, PhD, LCSW, University of Central Florida; Andres Cubillo-Novella, PhD, Pontificia Javeriana University; Matthew Abrams, BS, University of Central Florida; Gilarys Garcia, BSW, University of Central Florida; Heather Peralta, PhD, RN, University of Central Florida

Health Literacy and Healthcare Use Among Karen Refugees
Isok Kim, PhD, University at Buffalo; Wooksoo Kim, PhD, University at Buffalo; Krisztina Baltimore, MSW, University at Buffalo; Biplab Bhattacharya, State University of New York at Buffalo; Mary Keovisai, MA, MSW, State University of New York at Buffalo; Li Lin, PhD, State University of New York at Buffalo

3:15-4:45 p.m.

Exploring Mental Health Correlates

Trends and Mental Health Correlates of Discrimination Among Latin American and Asian Immigrants in the United States
Christopher Salas-Wright, PhD, Boston University; Michael Vaughn, PhD, Saint Louis University; Trenette Goings, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; Sehun Oh, PhD, University of Texas at Austin; Jorge Delva, PhD, Boston University; Mariana Cohen, Boston University; Seth Schwartz, PhD, University of Miami

Meanings of Resilience and Mental Health Among Syrian Refugees: Findings from Two Countries
Asli Yalim, PhD, University of Central Florida

Do Family Relation and Immigration Influence Mental Health Service Use Among Asian Americans?
Xiaochuan Wang, PhD, University of Central Florida

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Structural Determinants of Mental Health Vulnerabilities and Access to Services Among Asian Immigrant Men in Toronto, Canada
Ran Hu, MSW, MA, University of Toronto; Kenneth Fung, MD, FRCPC, MSc, University of Toronto; Josephine Wong, RN, PhD, Ryerson University

Friday, January 17, 2020

8:00-9:30 a.m.

Health Status of Immigrants

Perception of the Affordable Care Act Among Korean Americans
Chung Hyeon Jeong, MSW, University of Southern California; Hyunsung Oh, PhD, MSW, Arizona State University; Lawrence Palinkas, PhD, University of Southern California

Determinants of Healthcare Use Among Refugees from Burma
Isok Kim, PhD, University at Buffalo; Wooksoo Kim, PhD, University at Buffalo

Health and Mental Health Experiences of Latina Immigrant Women during the Perinatal Period
Maria Pineros Leano, PhD, MSW, MPH, Boston College; Laura Crowley, BA, Boston College; Natalia Pineros Leano, Universidad de la Sabana

Gaining through Giving: A National Study of Volunteering and Health Status Among Immigrants in Canada
Jacky Ka Kei Liu, MSW, University of Calgary; Yeonjung Lee, PhD, University of Calgary

2:00-3:30 p.m.

Interpersonal Violence and Mental Health

Pathways between Economic Insecurity, Sexual Violence, and Depression Among Urban Refugee and Displaced Adolescents and Youth in Kampala, Uganda
Carmen Logie, MSW, PhD, University of Toronto; Moses Okumu, MSW, University of Toronto; Simon Mwima, Uganda Ministry of Health; Senkosi Balyejjusa, Uganda Christian University; Robert Hakiza, Young African Refugees For Integral Development

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Controlling Behaviors, Intimate Partner Violence, Depression, and Social Adaptation Among Immigrant Women in South Korea
Hyun Lee, MSW, Yonsei University; Jae Yop Kim, PhD, Yonsei University; Lkhamkhuu Munkhnaran, Yonsei University; Boyoung Nam, MSW, University of Maryland Baltimore

Exploring Exclusionary and Fragmented Healthcare Access for Undocumented Women Immigrant Survivors of Intimate Partner Violence
Miriam Valdovinos, PhD, University of Denver; Sarah Dodd, MSW, University of Connecticut; Maritza Vasquez Reyes, MA, LCSW, University of Connecticut

Complexity of Men's of Experiences of Violence in Northern Uganda: Victim, Perpetrator, Bystander
Steve Friedman, MSW, School for Social Work

3:45-5:15 p.m.

Multifold Impact of the Border Crisis

Preventing Family Separation: Child Custody and Family Deportation Planning with Undocumented Latinx Families
Jodi Berger Cardoso, PhD, University of Houston; Liza Barros Lane, PhD, Baylor College of Medicine; Monica Faulkner, PhD, LMSW, University of Texas at Austin; Jennifer Scott, Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge; Natalia Giraldo-Santiago, MSW, University of Houston

Educational Inclusion for Special Needs Students in a Refugee Camp: How Is School Setting Related to Children's Wellbeing?
Thomas M. Crea, PhD, Boston College; Kerri Evans, MSW LCSW, Boston College; Robert Hasson, MSW, Boston College; Kelsey Werner, MSW, Boston College; Elizabeth Wanjiku, Jesuit Refugee Service; Gregory St. Arnold, Jesuit Refugee Service

"I Want to Feel Safe at My School. I Want to Feel like I Belong": Exploring Muslim Refugee Students' Levels of Engagement in Schools
Ashley Cureton, PhD, The Johns Hopkins University

Developing Peer-to-Peer Support for Foreign-Born High School Students: Using Youth-Led Community-Based Participatory Research to Assess & Address Needs

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Abbie Frost, Ph.D., Simmons University School of Social Work; Hugo Kamya, PhD, Simmons University School of Social Work

5:30-7:00 p.m.

Immigration Detention: The Racialized Response to Violence and Trauma

Sergio Serna, LCSW, University of California, Los Angeles, Angela Garcia, B.A., University of California, Los Angeles, Anthony GÃ³mez, B.A., University of California, Los Angeles, Fatima Gonzalez, B.A., University of California, Los Angeles and Marianna Hernandez, B.A., University of California, Los Angeles

Background: Recent data indicate the U.S. apprehended 92,607 migrants at the U.S.-Mexico border in March, 2019, the highest monthly total since April, 2007. (Pew Research) The recent wave of migration has been marked by two unique factors: refugees are migrating as family units more than ever and the number of people from El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras together accounted for the bulk of apprehensions. In February, 2019, days after the Trump Administration declared a National Emergency at the border, four Latinx students from the Master's in Social Welfare program at UCLA, arrived in the rural town of Dilley, Texas. Joining volunteer lawyers, the team's role was to provide legal assistance to detained mothers and children undergoing the Credible Fear Interview process. The students, accompanied by department faculty, embarked on an intensely personal and professionally poignant journey to address this humanitarian crisis. In collaboration with Dilley's on-the-ground legal team, the students conducted interviews of women and their children to determine their clients' strongest claims for asylum. While seeking and documenting their testimonies, students learned of women's harrowing accounts of traversing multiple countries with their young children, their terrifying crossing at the Rio Grande, and dehumanizing conditions in U.S. Customs and Border Patrol facilities.

Methods: As a result of the experience, the team created a set of tools for advocates assisting newly arrived Central American refugees. The three key resources include: (1) an educational and outreach video documenting the experience of volunteer advocates and their clients; (2) a case example demonstrating the utility of exploring trauma narratives for providers struggling with secondary trauma; and (3) transdisciplinary recommendations aimed to decrease re-traumatization of detained immigrant clients through use of trauma-informed perspectives and practices.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Results: The perpetuation of dangerously false narratives, racialized narratives, paints Central American refugees as criminals. This is facilitated by existing systems of oppression including racism. The fact that these sentiments are promoted by the world's highest political office has broad implications for both micro and macro-level social work practice. Through disseminating these additional tools to better address the needs of newly arrived Central American refugees, this toolkit seeks to document helpful responses to the real national emergency—xenophobia.

Conclusions and Implications: Continued conversation must bring together researchers, educators, students and staff of organizations serving the most vulnerable racial/ethnic minorities whose life experiences led them to the U.S. We must acknowledge that a legal perspective alone is insufficient, akin to working with one hand tied behind our backs. The law often operates in a black and white paradigm, making it sometimes difficult to recognize the humanity of all people. Through dialogue we look to demonstrate why and how social workers and their perspective is uniquely suited for intervening with this population. This work is rooted in the narratives of the women and their children, those who participated in this journey and those seeking to provide culturally humble services and effective policy advocacy on behalf of impacted communities—all of which will serve as a continuous reminder of the power of resilience.

Understanding Economic Inequality in Immigrant Lives

Emerging Health and Economic Inequality Among U.S. Citizen Minors in Mexico
Jodi Berger Cardoso, PhD, University of Houston; Sharon Borja, PhD, University of Houston

Immigrant Women, Violence, and Economic Oppression
Arlette Vila, PhD, University of Texas at Austin; Elizabeth Pomeroy, PhD, University of Texas at Austin

Mothering in Contexts of Economic Inequality, Violence and Transnational Mobility: A Qualitative Study with Asylum-Seeking Mothers from Central America
Maria Emilia Bianco, MSW and Masters in Communications, Boston College

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Exploring Determinants of Employment Among Resettled Refugee Women in the United States
Erum Agha, MSW, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Saturday, January 18, 2020

9:45-11:15 a.m.

Improving health care delivery

"How Will I Take Her to Have Her Vaccinated?": Threats to Healthcare Access Among Syrian Refugees in Lebanon
Cindy Sousa, PhD, MSW, MPH, Bryn Mawr College; Bree Akesson, PhD, Wilfrid Laurier University; Dena Badawi, University of Waterloo

Adaptation of Immigrants & Refugees

Reimagining Successful Aging Among Latinx Communities in the United States
Rocio Calvo, PhD, Boston College; Nacho Gimenez-Nadal, PhD, Universidad de Zaragoza

Gender Inequality in Assimilation across Immigrant Generations
Felix Muchomba, PhD, Rutgers University; Neeraj Kaushal, PhD, Columbia University

Institutional Innovation amidst the Demise of the Refugee Resettlement Sector
Jessica Darrow, PhD, University of Chicago

On Being Black, Muslim, and a Refugee: Stories of Somalis in Chicago
Ifrah Magan, PhD, New York University

4:00-5:30 p.m.

Immigration Status As a Social Determinant of Racial and Economic Inequality

The resurgence of anti-immigrant sentiment in immigrant receiving countries, like the United States and Canada, represents a pressing social just concern especially for undocumented immigrants who face the threat of deportation along with racial discrimination and economic insecurity. As Sociologist

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Roberto Gonzalez (2015) has argued, immigration status functions as a “master status” in the lives of immigrants through organizing the social, political, and economic resources available to immigrants as well as processes of stigmatization and discrimination that negatively impact people who are constructed in media and political rhetoric as "illegal," "criminal",' or "threats" to society.

The following papers present research from Canada and the United States to develop a cross-national understanding of the discriminatory effects of anti-immigrant sentiment and accompanying structural inequalities on the well-being of undocumented or precarious status immigrants, with direct implications for social work practice.

The first paper links macro and micro practice, through a psychoanalytic analysis of news coverage of the Trump administration's rhetoric of the “migration crisis” in the United States. Using select psychoanalytic constructs, Lee & Bhuyan present a critical discourse analysis of the Trump Administration's response to asylum claims related to domestic violence and gang violence. Their findings illustrate how political construction of the feared bad object/immigrants corresponds with construction of the imagined good object/nationalism as exemplified by Trump's motto – Making America Great Again (MAGA). Lee & Bhuyan discuss how attention to veiled racist political discourse can be addressed in clinical practice.

Park and colleagues' survey of social workers' attitudes towards immigrants in the United States indicate a troubling degree of anti-immigrant sentiment among social workers who do not perceive immigrants as facing discrimination and endorse anti-immigrant views towards undocumented immigrants. Park and colleagues call for deepening social workers' knowledge of structural barriers faced by immigrants, particularly related to race and national origin, towards improving outcomes for immigrants seeking social services.

Drawing upon research on immigrant settlement service in Ontario, Canada, Bhuyan and Schmidt employ an intersectional, gender-based analysis of racial and economic inequality in the lives of refugee claimants, low-skilled temporary foreign workers, international students, and immigrants with less access to financial capital. Their findings illustrate how gender, precarious status, racialization and financial security increase immigrant women's vulnerability to long periods of family separation, employer abuse and exploitation, and limited access to social and health services.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The final paper focusses on how immigrant families prepare their children for enduring racial and structural inequalities. Cross reports findings from a mixed-methods longitudinal study with Latinx immigrant parents in the United States. This research identifies how Latinx parents mobilize cultural practices to mitigate the threat of deportation and prepare their children to face experiences of discrimination outside of the home.

A Critical Discourse Analysis of Anti-Immigration Policies and Media Discourse in the United States: Politics of Global Anxiety from Psychoanalytic Perspectives
Eunjung Lee, PhD, University of Toronto; Rupaleem Bhuyan, PhD, University of Toronto

Perceptions of Structural Inequality and Attitudes Towards Undocumented Immigrants Among U.S. Social Workers
Yoosun Park, PhD, Smith College; Maria Torres, PhD, Smith College; Andrew Rundle, DrPH, Columbia University

Precarious Immigrant Pathways: A Gender-Based Analysis of Racial and Economic Insecurity for Immigrant Women in Canada
Rupaleem Bhuyan, PhD, University of Toronto; Catherine Schmidt, MSW, University of Toronto

Socialization Practices Latinx Immigrant Parents Utilize to Prepare Their Children for Anti-Immigrant Discrimination
Fernanda Cross, PhD, University of Michigan-Ann Arbor

Sunday, January 19, 2020

11:30 a.m.-1:00 p.m.

Access to Services for Latinx Immigrant Families

Efforts to reduce racial and economic inequalities should address not only their effects on mental health but also on improving access to mental health services. Latinx immigrant families have been shown to experience gains in mental health outcomes upon arrival, relative to the non-immigrant population. However, these gains erode over time and from one generation to another, with poor mental health exceeding that of the general population. This symposium explains the difficulties associated with the Latinx immigrant experience in the United States and outlines interventions aimed to increase access and utilization of mental health services for Latinx immigrant families. The first panelist describes the need for access to services for Latinx caregivers of children with developmental disabilities. The study targets the unique experiences of Texan families, as little is known about this population. Texas is unique in that it is comprised of a racial/ethnically (58.3% reported racial/ethnic minority) and linguistically (36% speak non-English language in home) diverse population. Subsequently, it is important to assess service access and receipt in Central Texas to determine if available services and supports are adequate for the needs of the community. The purpose of this needs assessment study is to fill these gaps in knowledge and determine the diagnostic and service needs of children with ASD and their families in Central Texas utilizing a mixed-methods approach. The second panelist addresses issues of child behavioral problems related to immigration stressors, through a community-based parenting intervention with Latinx immigrant family populations. Low-income Latinx immigrant families are exposed to multiple immigration-related challenges. These stressors place Latinx youth at high risk for experiencing various problematic behaviors (e.g., drug use). This presentation will describe strategies to effectively engage and retain underserved Latinx families in community-based parenting prevention programs. The third panelist describes the perceived mental health needs of emerging adults from immigrant Latinx families, highlighting the social determinants of mental health burden and participants' preferences for a mental health intervention that leverages the existing infrastructure of the Ventanillas de Salud (VDS; Health Window). A model of health located within the Mexican Consulate General of Austin, the VDS connects consulate patrons to appropriate health services. A discussant will conclude the symposium with a discussion of how these interventions can be implemented and disseminated to promote mental health equity among often-underserved Latinx immigrant populations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Identifying the Needs of Latino Immigrant Children with ASD in Central Texas: Results from a Mixed-Methods Needs Assessment

Sandy Magana, PhD, The University of Texas at Austin; Sandra Vanegas, PhD, Southwest Texas State University; Weiwen Zeng, MSSc, University of Texas at Austin

Addressing Adversity and Discrimination in Intervention Curriculum and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Delivery: Lessons Learned in Parenting Prevention Research with Low-Income Latinx Immigrant Families
Ruben Parra-Cardona, PhD, University of Texas at Austin

Mental Health Access to Immigrant Latinx Emerging Adults
Carmen Valdez, PhD, The University of Texas at Austin; Ashley Ables, BA, University of Texas at Austin; Kevin Wagner, BA, University of Texas at Austin; Alice Villatoro, PhD, University of Texas at Austin

Assessing Mental Health Interventions

A Randomized Clinical Trial Testing a Screening, Brief Intervention, & Referral to Treatment Intervention for Mental Health Among Refugees in Malaysia
Stacey Shaw, PhD, Brigham Young University; Lynette Randall, BSW, Brigham Young University; Latifa Ali, Brigham Young University; Hamid Karim, Brigham Young University; Louisa Gilbert, PhD, Columbia University

Psychometric Qualities of Measurement Tools Used in Research on Refugee Youth Mental Health: Findings from a Systematic Review
Kristan Armstrong, MSW, LCSW, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Shandra Forrest-Bank, PhD, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Mary Held, PhD, LCSW, The University of Tennessee; Omotola Akinsola, MSW, University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Mental Health Interventions for African Immigrants and Refugees Resettled in the Western Nations: A Systematic Review
Evalyne Orwenyo, MA, MSW, Rutgers University; Betty Tonui, MSW, University of Texas at Arlington; Cecilia Mengo, PhD, Ohio State University

Addressing Mental Health Disparities in Resettled Refugees: The Promise of Family-Based Prevention
Theresa Betancourt, ScD, Boston College; Jenna Berent, Boston College; Jordan Farrar, PhD, Boston College

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8.

Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready

Friday, January 17, 2020
OECD Conference Centre 2
rue André-Pascal 75775
Paris CEDEX 16 France
https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/

Description: Under the title "Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready", Ministers responsible for migration and integration issues from all OECD countries and from selected non-OECD countries will have the opportunity to exchange their views on their countries' challenges, opportunities, and best practices in a Ministerial Meeting to be held on 17 January 2020 in Paris.

Notably Ministers will address:

* Innovative Approaches to managing Economic Migration
* Partnerships to improve Migration Enforcement and Compliance
* Innovative Approaches to Integration
* Engaging the Whole of Society and Improving Co-ordination

Ministers will also set out their priorities for Migration and Integration Policy work of the OECD.

Conference agenda will be added when available.

Return to Top

****
****

9.

International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS)

Sunday-Tuesday, January 19-21, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cairo, Egypt
https://gmdac.iom.int/iom-oecd-undesa-organise-second-international-forum-migration-statistics

Description: Migration remains at the top of policy agendas in many countries worldwide. The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration (GCM) and the Global Compact on Refugees (GCR) recognize the need for reliable, disaggregated statistics on migration that are nationally relevant and internationally comparable. However still today, there is scarcity of basic data on international migration and existing data are not fully analysed, utilized or shared.
The International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS) is a unique, global platform devoted to improving data on migration in all its dimensions. Organised by the International Organization for Migration (IOM), Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) and the UN Department of Economic and Social Affairs (UN DESA), the IFMS offers space for dialogue for a broad range of actors, from national and regional authorities, NGOs, international agencies and the private sector. The first meeting of the IFMS, took place in Paris, France, from 15 to 16 January 2018, and it included 240 speakers and over 350 participants from 90 countries, representing national statistical offices, international organizations, non-governmental organizations and academic institutions.
IFMS 2020

The second IFMS aims to mobilise expertise from a wide range of disciplines – such as statistics, economics, demography, sociology, geospatial science, and information technology – to improve the collection and analysis of migration data worldwide. The Forum will take place in Cairo, Egypt on 19-21 January 2020.

It will explore innovative ways to measure population mobility and to generate timely statistics, by bringing together a broad range of participants to share and to discuss new data initiatives and examples of success in the field of migration data. The Forum will also provide a unique opportunity for policy-makers to have direct contact with migration data experts and to use their expertise to feed policy evaluations and to identify best policy options.

The focus on data capacity building comes from the recognition that implementing the commitments of international processes comes with significant challenges for National Statistical Offices, which often have limited capacities to collect, analyse and manage data relevant to migration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The plenary sessions of the Forum will be organised around the following six themes:

* Strengthening data for policy: ensuring effective data communication and examining existing gaps in migration statistics to determine what is needed to address policy concerns;
* Data collection and innovation: Lessons and new approaches to the collection of migration data, including from 2020 censuses and administrative sources, and the potential of technologically-driven solutions, including big data;
* Cooperation and data governance: exploring ways to strengthen stakeholder coordination and the exchange and sharing of data;
* Capacity development and financing: identifying strategies to enhance data literacy as well as institutional capacities to collect, analyse and disseminate data;
* Measuring progress on the SDGs and other global commitments: data challenges, initiatives and indicators-based approaches to monitoring;
* Improving the availability of data on migrants in vulnerable situations: disaggregating statistics by migratory status, age and sex - analysing challenges, opportunities and best practices.

Return to Top

****
****

10.
The 6th Mayoral Forum on Human Mobility, Migration and Development

Tuesday-Friday, January 21-24, 2020
Centro de Convenciones Metropolitano
Quito, Ecuador
http://gfmd.org/meetings/ecuador2019/summit

Description: The Government of the Republic of Ecuador, in its capacity as 2019 Chair of the Global Forum on Migration and Development (GFMD), will be hosting the Twelfth GFMD Summit Meeting on 20-24 January 2020 in Quito, Ecuador, open to Member States and Observers of the United Nations, and other GFMD Observers. The Twelfth GFMD Summit will be the climax of the Ecuador GFMD Chairmanship.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Twelfth GFMD Summit will be opened by High Level officials of the Government of the Republic of Ecuador. It is expected to be attended by Ministers and Vice Ministers from all regions of the world, and a broad range of policy-makers and practitioners in migration and development fields.

From the outset, a central focus of the GFMD 2019 Chairmanship has been continuing the global dialogue on migration in the changed policy landscape following the affirmation of the Global Compact on Refugees (GCR) and Global Compact for Migration (GCM), the review of the implementation of migration-related commitments in the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda through the High-level Political Forum, and the enhancement of the GFMD process through the follow up of the recommendations of the GFMD Ten-Year Review Report.

The Ecuadorian Chairmanship is focused on the central theme: “Sustainable approaches to human mobility: Upholding rights, strengthening state agency, and advancing development through partnerships and collective action.”

The substantive agenda of the Quito GFMD Summit focuses on three Roundtable (RT) themes, to be discussed in six RT sessions:

(1) Coordinated responses to mixed movements: Partnerships and collective action to protect rights

Roundtable 1.1: Providing regular pathways from crisis to safety

Roundtable 1.2: Facilitating social and economic inclusion

(2) Migration narratives and communication: What role, responsibility and resources do governments have?

Roundtable 2.1: Shaping public narratives on migration and migrants

Roundtable 2.2: Communicating effectively with migrants

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(3) Addressing human mobility as part of urban and rural development strategies

Roundtable 3.1: Supporting arrival cities through policy coherence and multi-stakeholder partnerships

Roundtable 3.2: Harnessing migration for rural transformation and development

In line with the tradition of the GFMD, the three-day GFMD Summit program will include inaugural and closing ceremonies, as well as Roundtable discussions and special sessions on the GFMD Platform for Partnerships and the Future of the Forum open to Friends of the Forum. Additionally, this year, for the first time, the three multi-stakeholder mechanisms of the GFMD – the Civil Society Days, the Business Meeting and the Mayoral Forum – will be held in the same space and integrated into the overall program of the GFMD Summit. The 'Common Space' sessions will provide an opportunity for the multi-stakeholder representatives from all mechanisms to mingle and share ideas in unified shared events.

For more details, please refer to the Provisional Programme for 20-24 January 2020 and Logistics Note with practical information for participating delegations.

Registration for the Quito GFMD Summit will be coursed through the GFMD Support Unit in Geneva (registration2019@gfmd.org). For logistical considerations, all delegations are encouraged to complete online registration via gfmd.org until 13 December 2019.

The Ecuadorian GFMD Chair looks forward to welcoming your government / organization's delegation to the Twelfth GFMD Summit.

Return to Top

****

****

11.

Civil society and the everyday politics of the global refugee regime: Early lessons from the Local Engagement Refugee Research Network (LERRN)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

12:30-2:30 p.m., Thursday, January 23, 2020
York University
626 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto, ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-civil-society-and-the-everyday-politics-of-the-global-refugee-regime-early-lessons-from-the-local-engagement-refugee-research-network-lerrn

Speaker:
James Milner, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Carleton University

Description: While there is a rich literature on the politics of the global refugee regime and the politics of asylum in the global South, there has been less systematic treatment of the role of civil society actors in navigating the everyday politics of the regime, especially in the global South, which hosts 80% of the world's refugees. This gap is surprising given the literature on the role that civil society plays in other global regimes and the range of civil society actors engaged with the work of the global refugee regime. In response, the Local Engagement Refugee Research Network (LERRN) was launched in 2018 as a partnership between four Canadian universities, INGO partners, and working groups in Kenya, Tanzania, Lebanon and Jordan, which include local academics, national NGOs and refugee-led initiatives from each context. This presentation will share the early results of LERRN and its work to understand the everyday politics of the global refugee regime.

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Beyond the 1951 Convention: What are State responsibilities towards refugees according to the 1967 Protocol

12:30-2:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 4, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

York University
519 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-tbc-2

Speaker:
Robert Barsky, Canada Research Chair: Law, Narrative and Border Crossing, Department of Law and Legal Studies, Carleton University

Description: Prof. Barsky will discuss the letters, minutes of meetings, memos, and reports that pertain to the negotiations leading up to the 1967 Protocol. These documents show that the ambitions of the 19 legal experts who convened in Bellagio in 1965 were far more wide-ranging than simply removing the temporal (pre-1951) and geographical (Europe) limitations of the 1951 Convention. Rather, the documents reveal complex discussions about how to create a stand-alone treaty that would expand the Convention's reach and render it more adaptable to new refugee situations, while not impeding any more expansive regional instruments that might come to be adopted.

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speakers:
S. Deborah Kang, Visiting Scholar, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Associate Professor of History, California State University San Marcos

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Indignity and Indignation: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
Lower Level Library
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/speaker-series-sarah-willen-professor-anthropology-and-director-research-program-global

Speaker:
Sarah Willen, Professor of Anthropology and Director of the Research Program on Global Health and Human Rights, University of Connecticut

Description: Sarah Willen is the author of Fighting for Dignity: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins. In Fighting for Dignity, Sarah S. Willen explores what happened when the Israeli government launched an aggressive deportation campaign targeting newly arrived migrants from countries as varied as Ghana and the Philippines, Nigeria, Colombia, and Ukraine. Although the campaign was billed as a solution to high unemployment, it had another goal as well: to promote an exclusionary vision of Israel as a Jewish state in which non-Jews have no place. The deportation campaign quickly devastated Tel Aviv's migrant communities and set the stage for even more aggressive antimigrant and antirefugee policies in the years to come.

Fighting for Dignity traces the roots of this deportation campaign in Israeli history and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and shows how policies that illegalize

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

and criminalize migrants wreak havoc in their lives, endanger their health, and curtail the human capacity to flourish. Children born to migrant parents are especially vulnerable to developmental and psychosocial risks. Drawing on nearly two decades of ethnographic engagement in homes and in churches, medical offices, advocacy organizations, and public spaces, Willen shows how migrants struggle to craft meaningful, flourishing lives despite the exclusions and vulnerabilities they endure. To complement their perspectives, she introduces Israeli activists who reject their government's exclusionary agenda and strive to build bridges across difference, repair violations of migrants' dignity, and resist policies that violate their own moral convictions. Willen's vivid and unflinching ethnography challenges us to reconsider our understandings of global migration, human rights, the Middle East— and even dignity itself.

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, December 6, 2019 6:24 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 12/6/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 12/6/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Walls Can Work, But Not on Their Own," Mark Krikorian
2. "A Nobel Prize Winner Who Is Out of Touch with Reality," Jason Richwine
3. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew R. Arthur, David North, Todd Bensman, and Jason Peña
4. "Citizen Revolt: Resist Refugee Resettlement Dumps," Michelle Malkin
5. "Virtue Signaling: The Last Refuge of Virginia's Governor Northam," Pawel Styrna
6. "House Education Committee Earns a Failing Grade for Politicized Hearing," Jennifer G. Hickey
7. "ICE Fake University Reactions Expose Some 'Grade A' Hypocrites," Jennifer G. Hickey
8. "Huffpost Writer Decries Trump Dismantling Permissive Asylum Policy," Jack Martin
9. "Democrats to America: Be Grateful for Your Dispossession," Matthew Boose
10. "Activist Judge Negates One of the Oldest Rules of U.S. Immigration Law," Kris Kobach
11. "Get Immigration Terms Straight: For Starters, So-Called Dreamers Are Aliens, and They're Not Undocumented," Lew Jan Olowski
12. "Visa Overstays Aren't the Biggest Problem with Illegal Immigration — the Southern Border Is," Eddie Scarry
13. "Clinton Colluder Protects Cartels," Lloyd Billingsley
14. "The Most Important Issues For Conservatives, and Why None of Them May Matter in the End," Scott Morefield
15. "I Toured an Immigration Detention Facility. Here's What I Saw.," Terry Schilling
16. "Border Dilemmas Are the Same for Trump or Obama," Holman W. Jenkins, Jr.
17. "The Washington Post's Double Standard on Immigration and Guns," Ryan McMaken
18. "Buttigieg Agrees That Illegal Aliens Are 'Reclaiming Stolen Land'," Jazz

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Shaw
19. "Don't Buy the Elise Stefanik Hype — She's an Immigration Booster (and a Buttigieg Buddy)," Washington Watcher II
20. "How Climate Change Influences Immigration to the United States," Deborah Jian Lee
21. "Here's Why the Rejection Rate for Asylum Seekers Has Exploded in America's Largest Immigration Court in NYC," Paul Moses and Tim Healy
22. "The Overlooked Undocumented Immigrants: From India, China, Brazil," Miriam Jordan
23. "Abolish Immigration Prisons," César Cuauhtémoc García Hernández
24. "E-Verify for Florida Is Just More Immigration Politics," Randy Schultz
25. "Trump Has Built a Wall of Bureaucracy to Keep Out the Very Immigrants He Says He Wants," Sinduja Rangarajan
26. "McKinsey's Complicity in Immigration Cruelty," David Dayen
27. "Martin O'Malley Says Not Standing Up to Trump Officials on Immigration Is 'Irresponsible'," Matthew Rozsa
28. "Immigration Courts Further Limit Legal Help Available to People Facing Deportation," Kristin Macleod-Ball
29. "Migrants in France Are Paying the Price for Macron's Hard Line on Immigration," Karina Piser
30. "Why Europe's Immigration Policies Are Not Converging," Erica Consterdine and James Hampshire

1.

Walls Can Work, But Not on Their Own

By Mark Krikorian

The Corner at National Review Online, December 6, 2019

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/walls-can-work-but-not-on-their-own/

Return to Top

****

****

2.

A Nobel Prize Winner Who Is Out of Touch with Reality

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Jason Richwine
The Corner at National Review Online, December 4, 2019
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/a-nobel-prize-winner-who-is-out-of-touch-with-reality/

Return to Top

****
****

3.
CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

Is Encouraging or Inducing the Illegal Entry of Aliens 'Constitutionally Protected Speech'?
December 5, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Encouraging-or-Inducing-Illegal-Entry-Aliens-Constitutionally-Protected-Speech

Are We as a Nation Invested in a Principled Stand Against Terror or Not?
Delaying an Irish terrorist's deportation was a mistake
December 5, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Are-We-Nation-Invested-Principled-Stand-Against-Terror-or-Not

ICE's Fake University: A Sting, not Entrapment
But ongoing, unglamorous work to address foreign student violators still isn't happening
December 3, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/ICEs-Fake-University-Sting-not-Entrapment

By Andrew R. Arthur

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

O'Malley v. Cuccinelli on 'Kids in Cages'
Blather or blarney? Why not both!
December 5, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/OMalley-v-Cuccinelli-Kids-Cages

What Does TRAC's New 'Non-Criminal' Detention Data Mean?
Confusing report leaves out key information
December 3, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/What-Does-TRACs-New-NonCriminal-Detention-Data-Mean

Another Sanctuary City with Its Priorities Way Out of Whack
The 'Philadelphia Story' meets 'The Omen'
December 2, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Another-Sanctuary-City-Its-Priorities-Way-Out-Whack

Safe Third Country or Baltimore?
You'd be surprised — the facts are the facts
December 2, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Safe-Third-Country-or-Baltimore

By David North

Nibble, Nibble: House Votes to Extend E Visas to Portuguese Business People
December 6, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Nibble-Nibble-House-Votes-Extend-E-Visas-Portuguese-Business-People

Law360 Joins the Silence on Employer Subsidies in the OPT Program
December 3, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Law360-Joins-Silence-Employer-Subsidies-OPT-Program

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Report Shows that Our Government Uses More than 2,000 H-1B Workers
December 2, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Report-Shows-Our-Government-Uses-More-2000-H1B-Workers

Three Non-DHS Entities Find a Massive OPT Fraud
December 2, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Three-NonDHS-Entities-Find-Massive-OPT-Fraud

By Todd Bensman

Texas Rio Grande Wall Project by Crowdfunded Nonprofit Builder Runs Aground on Litigation
December 6, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/Texas-Rio-Grande-Wall-Project-Crowdfunded-Nonprofit-Builder-Runs-Aground-Litigation

The Tunnels Under Hungary's Fence Are Inconsequential
A few dozen get through, versus hundreds of thousands before
December 4, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/Tunnels-Under-Hungarys-Fence-Are-Inconsequential

By Jason Peña

New Bolivian Government Deports Hundreds of Cubans and Venezuelans
December 5, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/New-Bolivian-Government-Deports-Hundreds-Cubans-and-Venezuelans

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

4.

Citizen Revolt: Resist Refugee Resettlement Dumps

By Michelle Malkin

Townhall.com, December 5, 2019

. . .

https://townhall.com/columnists/michellemalkin/2019/12/05/citizen-revolt-resist-refugee-resettlement-dumps-n2557494

Return to Top

****

****

5.

Virtue Signaling: The Last Refuge of Virginia's Governor Northam

By Pawel Styrna

ImmigrationReform.com, December 4, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/04/refugee-resettlement-virginia-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

6.

House Education Committee Earns a Failing Grade for Politicized Hearing

By Jennifer G. Hickey

ImmigrationReform.com, December 6, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/06/education-illegal-immigrants-congress-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

7.

ICE Fake University Reactions Expose Some "Grade A" Hypocrites

By Jennifer G. Hickey

ImmigrationReform.com, December 3, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/03/media-ice-visa-fraud-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

8.

Huffpost Writer Decries Trump Dismantling Permissive Asylum Policy

By Jack Martin

ImmigrationReform.com, November 26, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/11/26/asylum-policy-media-bias-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Democrats to America: Be Grateful for Your Dispossession

By Matthew Boose

American Greatness, December 5, 2019

. . .

https://amgreatness.com/2019/12/05/democrats-to-america-be-grateful-for-your-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

dispossession/

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Activist Judge Negates One of the Oldest Rules of U.S. Immigration Law
By Kris Kobach
Breitbart.com News, November 30, 2019
. . .
https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2019/11/30/kobach-activist-judge-negates-one-of-the-oldest-rules-of-u-s-immigration-law/

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Get Immigration Terms Straight: For Starters, So-Called Dreamers Are Aliens, and They're Not Undocumented
By Lew Jan Olowski
New York Daily News, December 2, 2019
. . .
https://www.nydailynews.com/opinion/ny-oped-get-immigration-terms-straight-20191202-a5hyq4sutjcgzbpzr2ydn76joe-story.html

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Visa Overstays Aren't the Biggest Problem with Illegal Immigration — the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Southern Border Is
By Eddie Scarry
Washington Examiner, December 2, 2019
. . .
https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/visa-overstays-arent-the-biggest-problem-with-illegal-immigration-the-southern-border-is

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Clinton Colluder Protects Cartels
Mexican foreign minister Marcelo Ebrard opposes terrorist designation for murderous cartels.
By Lloyd Billingsley
FrontPageMag.com, December 2, 2019
. . .
https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2019/12/clinton-colluder-protects-cartels-lloyd-billingsley/

Return to Top

****
****

14.
The Most Important Issues For Conservatives, and Why None of Them May Matter in the End
In other words - if we lose the immigration battle, we lose the war, for good.
By Scott Morefield
Townhall.com, December 2, 2019
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/scottmorefield/2019/12/02/the-most-important-issues-for-conservatives-and-why-none-of-them-may-matter-in-the-end-n2557305

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

15.
I Toured an Immigration Detention Facility. Here's What I Saw.
By Terry Schilling
Townhall.com, December 4, 2019
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/terryschilling/2019/12/04/i-toured-an-immigration-detention-facility-heres-what-i-saw-n2557464

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Border Dilemmas Are the Same for Trump or Obama
Two global news agencies withdraw a story when they realize it scandalized the wrong president.
By Holman W. Jenkins, Jr.
The Wall Street Journal, November 29, 2019
. . .
https://www.wsj.com/articles/border-dilemmas-are-the-same-for-trump-or-obama-11575063189

Return to Top

****
****

17.
The Washington Post's Double Standard on Immigration and Guns

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Ryan McMaken
Mises Institute, December 3, 2019
. . .
https://mises.org/wire/washington-posts-double-standard-immigration-and-guns

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Buttigieg Agrees That Illegal Aliens Are "Reclaiming Stolen Land"
By Jazz Shaw
HotAir.com, December 2, 2019
. . .
https://hotair.com/archives/jazz-shaw/2019/12/02/buttigieg-agrees-illegal-aliens-reclaiming-stolen-land/

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Don't Buy the Elise Stefanik Hype — She's an Immigration Booster (and a Buttigieg Buddy)
By Washington Watcher II
VDare.com, December 3, 2019
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/don-t-buy-the-elise-stefanik-hype-she-s-an-immigration-booster-and-a-buttigieg-buddy

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

20.

How Climate Change Influences Immigration to the United States

Protracted drought and crop failures are part of why people in Central America are fleeing their homes.

By Deborah Jian Lee

Yale Climate Connections, December 4, 2019

. . .

https://www.yaleclimateconnections.org/2019/12/how-climate-change-influences-immigration-to-the-united-states/

Return to Top

****

****

21.

Here's Why the Rejection Rate for Asylum Seekers Has Exploded in America's Largest Immigration Court in NYC

"It's basically like the same problem with putting quotas on police officers for tickets."

By Paul Moses and Tim Healy

The Daily Beast, December 2, 2019

. . .

https://www.thedailybeast.com/heres-why-the-rejection-rate-for-asylum-seekers-has-exploded-in-americas-largest-immigration-court-in-nyc

Return to Top

****

****

22.

The Overlooked Undocumented Immigrants: From India, China, Brazil

President Trump has focused on blocking unauthorized crossings on the Southern border. But nearly half of those who are in the country unlawfully actually entered with permission.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Miriam Jordan
The New York Times, December 3, 2019
. . .
https://www.nytimes.com/2019/12/01/us/undocumented-visa-overstays.html

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Abolish Immigration Prisons
We should shut down these institutions, end the suffering they cause and redirect the money.
By César Cuauhtémoc García Hernández
The New York Times, December 2, 2019
. . .
https://www.nytimes.com/2019/12/02/opinion/immigration-detention-prison.html

Return to Top

****
****

24.
E-Verify for Florida Is Just More Immigration Politics
By Randy Schultz
The South Florida Sun Sentinel, December 3, 2019
. . .
https://www.sun-sentinel.com/opinion/commentary/fl-op-com-schultz-e-verify-florida-immigration-20191203-5arqilgesbff7km64j57oqgzr4-story.html

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

25.

Trump Has Built a Wall of Bureaucracy to Keep Out the Very Immigrants He Says He Wants

By Sinduja Rangarajan

Mother Jones, December 2, 2019

. . .

https://www.motherjones.com/politics/2019/12/trump-h1b-visa-immigration-restrictions/

Return to Top

****

****

26.

McKinsey's Complicity in Immigration Cruelty

By David Dayen

American Prospect blog, December 4, 2019

. . .

https://prospect.org/blogs/tap/mckinseys-complicity-in-immigration-cruelty/

Return to Top

****

****

27.

Martin O'Malley Says Not Standing Up to Trump Officials on Iimmigration Is "Irresponsible"

Former Maryland Gov. Martin O'Malley had a heated debate with Trump's acting Deputy Secretary of Homeland Security

By Matthew Rozsa

Salon.com, December 1, 2019

. . .

https://www.salon.com/2019/12/01/exclusive-martin-omalley-advises-americans-against-silence-toward-trump-immigration-officials/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Immigration Courts Further Limit Legal Help Available to People Facing Deportation
By Kristin Macleod-Ball
ImmigrationImpact.com, December 3, 2019
. . .
http://immigrationimpact.com/2019/12/03/immigration-courts-limit-friend-of-the-court/#.XerMwW5Fyyc

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Migrants in France Are Paying the Price for Macron's Hard Line on Immigration
By Karina Piser
World Politics Review, December 5, 2019
. . .
https://www.worldpoliticsreview.com/articles/28390/in-macron-s-france-immigration-policy-is-getting-more-restrictive

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Why Europe's Immigration Policies Are Not Converging

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Erica Consterdine and James Hampshire
The London School of Economics blog, December 3, 2019
. . .
https://blogs.lse.ac.uk/europpblog/2019/12/03/why-europes-immigration-policies-are-not-converging/

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, December 9, 2019 11:09 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 12/9/19

Share Tweet Forward

Featured Posts

It's Time to Designate Cartels as Foreign Terrorist Organizations
By Dan Cadman

Hold Off: Designating Mexican Cartels as Terrorists Could Dilute War on Jihadists

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

After nine dual-citizen U.S./Mexican Mormons were murdered in Sonora State proximate to the U.S. border, President Trump reacted on Twitter by urging the president of Mexico to declare war on the cartels, one of which was responsible for the shocking butchery of women and children. He offered help, including use of our military. Designation carries with it a variety of sanctions, penalties, and authorities that are desirable from enforcement and intelligence perspectives.

By Todd Bensman
President Donald Trump has revealed that his administration is well on its way to formally designating Mexico's drug-trafficking cartels as Foreign Terrorist Organizations, the same as ISIS or al-Qaeda. Should such a designation actually go through, it is argued, an arsenal of American authorities used to suppress the likes of ISIS would supposedly be wheeled into a fight to preserve U.S. national security from the Mexican cartels.

UN Backpedals on Child Detention Claims

By Andrew R. Arthur
Agence France Presse reported that "[a]n independent UN expert has apologized for misspeaking during a news conference in Geneva this week, correcting his claim that more than 100,000 children were being held in migration-related US detention." The whole kerfuffle simply underscores the fact that no international immigration claim is too unbelievable if it makes the Trump administration — and by extension in the international community, the United States — look bad

What About the 172,000 DACA Dropouts? A Question Not Raised

By David North
We keep hearing about the Supreme Court, the Trump administration, and the DACA population of relatively young illegal aliens now temporarily in legal status as if this group were a single grouping. That is not the case. The Department of Homeland Security, over the last seven years, has granted DACA status to some 825,000 aliens, but more than 172,000 of them, or about 21 percent, have dropped out of the program, leaving about 653,000.

ICE's Fake University: A Sting, not Entrapment

By Dan Cadman
When ICE shut down the university, it went after the aliens who, looking for a way to pose as foreign students

Safe Third Country or Baltimore?

By Andrew R. Arthur
In a November 21, 2019, post, I wrote about an interim final rule that modifies existing regulations to implement Asylum Cooperative

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

while in fact doing other things like working illegally, had registered at the university rather than attend accredited institutions where they would have been expected to actually study and learn before being granted a degree. Needless to say, in short order, a number of progressives of an open-borders mindset began howling about ICE's dirty underhanded entrapment of those poor innocents who got lured in and find themselves in legal troubles now.

Agreements ("safe third-country agreements") the United States has entered into with El Salvador, Guatemala, and Honduras, allowing asylum officers and immigration judges to send third-country asylum applicants to one of those three countries to apply for asylum. Despite claims that those countries are too dangerous for asylum seekers, each is safer than my erstwhile hometown of Baltimore, Md.

More Blog Posts

- Is Encouraging or Inducing the Ilegal Entry of Aliens 'Constitutionally Protected Speech'?
- New Bolivian Government Deports Hundreds of Cuban and Venezuelans
- O'Malley v. Cuccinelli on 'Kids in Cages'
- Are We as a Nation Invested in a Principled Stand Against Terror or Not?
- The Tunnels Under Hungary's Fence Are Inconsequential
- What Does TRAC's New 'Non-Criminal' Detention Data Mean?
- LAW360 Joins the Silence on Employer Subsidies in the OPT Program
- Anthony Sanctuary City with Its Priorities Way Out of Whack
- Report Shows that Our Government Uses More than 2,000 H-1B Workers
- Three Non-DHS Entities Find a Massive OPT Fraud
- WaPo Strikes (Out) Again (and Again) on Immigration
- On Thanksgiving: The Poetry and Prose of Immigration and the Statue of Liberty
- What Do Voters Really Think About Immigration?
- Crowd-Funded 'We Build the Wall' Starts Texas Project Despite 'Butterfly People', 'Rogue Priests', and 'Freaks'
- Campo Drive-Through Shows Why We Need a Wall Upgrade
- Hypocrisy, Thy Name is "Volag"
- Military on Mexico's Southern Border Cuts Migrant Flow

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Statistics Reveal the Scope of the Asylum Backlog
- Another Missed Opportunity to Fix VAWA
- How Aliens and Their Advocates Will Try to Defeat the Asylum Regulations
- Barriers Shift Drug Smuggling Away from the Border
- Birthright Citizenship in the Commonwealth vs. the United States
- Nobody Expects the SPLC Inquisition

Video:

Author Michelle Malkin discusses her new book, "Open Borders Inc.: Who's Funding America's Destruction?". The event was hosted by SafeBoston on November 22 and was moderated by Jessica Vaughan, the Center's Director of Policy Studies.

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, December 10, 2019 4:35 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: A Terrible Bill: Farm Workforce Modernization Act

Share Tweet Forward

Congress Should Vote Against Farming Like It's 1699

Farm Bill slows the modernization of farming

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (December 10, 2019) - The House is expected to vote Wednesday on the hilariously misnamed Farm Workforce Modernization Act, which would "modernize" agricultural labor right back to the 17th century.

At the core of the bill are several indentured-labor schemes intended to tie current illegal aliens and future "temporary" workers to farm jobs for four to 10 years, before giving them green cards. The reason for the indenture system is that farmers know from experience that once the illegal aliens or visa workers get green cards, almost all will flee the medieval labor system that prevails in much of fresh fruit and vegetable agriculture.

Fact sheets on the bill are here and here. It provides immediate amnesty to illegal aliens (and their dependents) who have (or claim to have) worked at least part time in agriculture over the past two years. The number of beneficiaries is estimated to be at least 1.5 million.

To prevent the newly legalized illegals from running off to take construction or service jobs in town, the bill gives them a new "Certified Agricultural Worker" visa, which they need to keep for a period of time before becoming free workers. For those who'd already worked illegally in farming for at least 10 years, the period of indenture would be four years; eight years for those who'd been working in farming for less than 10 years. Only after putting in their time would the amnestied illegals be able to upgrade to get green cards and leave plantation labor behind. A separate 10-year period of indenture for a green card is established for legal workers on the existing (numerically unlimited) H-2A farmworker visa -- that's where future indentured will come from after today's illegals all get their green cards and hightail it out of the fields.

The bill also mandates use of E-Verify, but only in agriculture -- where it would no longer be needed, because with this kind of sweet deal, who'd bother to hire new illegals?

The bill, H.R. 5038, is co-sponsored by 28 Democrats and 25 Republicans, and was okayed by the House Judiciary Committee last month, without any hearings.

The problems with this 224-page contrivance are several. First, the amnesty.

Read the entire article at https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/farming-like-its-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1699/.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, December 12, 2019 12:00 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New Estimate: 72,000 Births Annually to Tourists, Foreign Students and Other Visitors

Share Tweet Forward

New Estimate: 72,000 Births Annually to Tourists, Foreign Students and Other Visitors

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (December 12, 2019) – Two new analyses by the Center for Immigration Studies estimate that there are 39,000 births a year to foreign students, guest workers and others on long-term temporary visa, plus an additional 33,000 births annually to tourists – 72,000 in total. Those born to these "non-immigrants," as the government refers to them, are awarded U.S. citizenship because they were born in the United States and not because a parent was a U.S. citizen or a Lawful Permanent Resident (green card holders). These births are in addition to the nearly 300,000 births each year to illegal immigrants.

Our analysis does not address the controversial question of whether the U.S. Constitution actually requires "birthright citizenship," as it is often called, to anyone born in the United States regardless of the parents' immigration status. Rather, our estimates inform that discussion by estimating the scale of births to non-immigrants, which is one part of the birthright citizenship controversy that is seldom considered.

"Our analysis makes clear that the number of children born to visitors is not trivial; and over time the numbers are substantial," said Steven Camarota, the report's lead author and the Center's Director of Research. "It seems doubtful that the framers of the Fourteenth Amendment could have anticipated that tens of thousands of people each year would automatically be granted citizenship simply because their parents were on a temporary visit to the United States at the time of their birth."

Analysis: Birth Tourism
Analysis: Births to Long-term Temporary Visa Holders

Births to Long-Term Temporary Visitors:

- The government estimates that in 2016 there were 800,000 women age 18 to 44 in the country on long-term non-immigrant visas, primarily foreign students, guest workers, and exchange visitors.

- Based on a comparable population of women in Census Bureau data, we estimate there are 49 births per thousand to these women for a total of 39,000 births annually or 390,000 each decade.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- The birth rate for non-immigrants aged 18-44 is relatively low compared to the 77 births per-thousand for immigrant women generally. However the total number of births to temporary visitors is still large because so many foreign students, guest workers and exchange visitors have been allowed into the country.

- We estimate that at least 90 percent of the fathers of children born to non-immigrant women were not U.S. citizens, almost all them on temporary visa themselves or illegal immigrants. This means at least 35,000 children were born to a non-immigrant mother and were awarded U.S. citizenship at birth solely because they were born on U.S. soil and not because their parents were citizens or Lawful Permanent Residents (green card holders).

Birth Tourism

- Many news stories in recent years have focused on "birth tourism," which describes the phenomenon of pregnant women coming to America shortly before their due dates so their children are born in the United States and are awarded U.S. citizenship.

- Based on a comparison of birth records and Census Bureau data, we estimate there were 33,000 births to women on tourist visas in the second half of 2016 and the first half of 2017. This translates to perhaps 330,000 such births each decade.

- While there is significant uncertainty around this number, our new estimate is very similar to our prior estimate for second half of 2011 and first half of 2012.

- It should be emphasized that the small number of mothers who provide a foreign address on birth documents are probably not birth tourists, as those engaged in birth tourism likely list a U.S. address so they can receive birth certificates and passports before returning to their home countries. These addresses are typically a relative's or a residence arranged by those "selling" birth tourism services.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Further Reading:

Births to Legal and Illegal Immigrants in the US

Mark Krikorian Discusses Birth Tourism

Birthright Citizenship: An Overview

DHS Files Many Indictments in an Attack on Birth Tourism

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, December 12, 2019 7:36 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 12/12/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Reading, 12/12/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

ATTN Federal employees: The Center's Combined Federal Campaign number is 10298.

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. DHS OIG report on the lack of technology needed to track separated migrant families
2. GAO reports on arrests, detentions, and removals, and immigration-related prosecutions
3. House testimony on the impact of immigration policies on children
4. FRB-Boston report on the possible role of immigration in population replacement in northern New England
5. Canada: Education levels of immigrants in Canada and the US, and public pensions for low-income immigrants
6. U.K.: Quarterly migration statistics
7. Belgium: Naturalization statistics
8. Czech Rep.: Population statistics

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

9. SCOTUSblog analysis of Guerrero-Lasprilla v. Barr and Ovalles v. Barr
10. TRAC report on ICE detention of immigrants with serious criminal convictions
11. New working paper from the National Bureau of Economic Research
12. Three new features from the Migration Policy Institute
13. Three new discussion papers from the Institute for the Study of Labor
14. Eight new papers from the Social Science Research Network
15. Thirteen new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
16. "How Can I Get My Papers? Lessons From a Decade of Online Legal Intakes for Undocumented Immigrants"
17. "Mixed Migration Review 2019"
18. European Policy Centre report on building a new European consensus on migration
19. IOM World Migration Report, 2020
20. U.K.: New briefing paper from MigrationWatch
21. : Three new features from the Oxford Refugee Studies Centre

BOOKS

22. Undoing Homogeneity in the Nordic Region: Migration, Difference and the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Politics of Solidarity
23. Bordering
24. Cultures of Transnationality in European Migration: Subjectivity, Family and Inequality
25. Migration, Borders and Citizenship: Between Policy and Public Spheres
26. Migration and the Refugee Dissensus in Europe: Borders, Security and Austerity

JOURNALS
27. Comparative Migration Studies
28. International Migration
29. Journal of Ethnic and Racial Studies
30. Journal on Migration and Human Security
31. Journal of Refugee Studies

****
****

1.
DHS Lacked Technology Needed to Successfully Account for Separated Migrant Families
DHS OIG Report No. OIG-20-06, November 25, 2019
https://www.oig.dhs.gov/sites/default/files/assets/2019-11/OIG-20-06-Nov19.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

2.
New from the General Accountability Office

Immigration Enforcement: Arrests, Detentions, and Removals, and Issues Related to Selected Populations
GAO-20-36, December 5, 2019
Report: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/703032.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/products/GAO-20-36

Immigration Enforcement: Immigration-Related Prosecutions Increased from 2017 to 2018 in Response to U.S. Attorney General's Direction
GAO-20-172, December 3, 2019
Report: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/702965.pdf
Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/products/GAO-20-172

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Wednesday, December 4, 2019
House Committee on Education and Labor
https://edlabor.house.gov/hearings/growing-up-in-fear-how-the-trump-administrations-immigration-policies-are-harming-children-

Growing Up in Fear: How the Trump Administration's Immigration Policies Are Harming Children

Opening statements:
Chairman Bobby Scott
https://edlabor.house.gov/imo/media/doc/RCS%20OS%20120419.pdf

Witness testimony:

Gabriela Barajas-Gonzalez
Assistant Professor, Department of Population Health
NYU School of Medicine
Mountainside, NJ
https://edlabor.house.gov/imo/media/doc/BarajasGonzalezTestimony120419.pdf

Pedro Martinez
Superintendent
San Antonio Independent School District
San Antonio, TX

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://edlabor.house.gov/imo/media/doc/MartinezTestimony1204191.pdf

Mark H. Metcalf
Former Immigration Judge
Lancaster, KY
https://edlabor.house.gov/imo/media/doc/MetcalfTestimony120419.pdf

Olanrewaju Falusi
Pediatrician and Executive Committee Member, American Academy of Pediatrics' Council on Immigrant Child and Family Health
Past President, American Academy of Pediatrics' D.C. Chapter
Washington, D.C.
https://edlabor.house.gov/imo/media/doc/FalusiTestimony120419.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Aging and Declining Populations in Northern New England: Is There a Role for Immigration?
By Riley Sullivan
Federal Reserve Bank of Boston Research Paper, July 17, 2019
https://www.bostonfed.org/publications/new-england-public-policy-center-regional-briefs/2019/aging-and-declining-populations-in-northern-new-england.aspx

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Over-education among university-educated immigrants in Canada and the United States
Statistics Canada, December 3, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/en/daily-quotidien/191203/dq191203b-eng.pdf?st=kWSZrCMl

Examining the effect of public pension benefits on the low income of senior immigrants
December 3, 2019
https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/en/daily-quotidien/191203/dq191203c-eng.pdf?st=NjWBni2w

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Migration Statistics Quarterly Report: November 2019
U.K. Office for National Statistics, November 28, 2019
https://www.ons.gov.uk/peoplepopulationandcommunity/populationandmigration/internationalmigration/bulletins/migrationstatisticsquarterlyreport/november2019

Summary: In the year ending June 2019, long-term international migration continued to add to the UK population, as an estimated 212,000 more people moved to the UK with an intention to stay for 12 months or more than left the UK (net migration). Over the year, 609,000 people moved to the UK (immigration) and 397,000 people left the UK (emigration).

Long-term net migration, immigration and emigration have remained broadly stable since the end of 2016.

Since 2016, there has been a decrease in immigration for work; over the same period, immigration for study has been gradually increasing.

There are different patterns for EU and non-EU migration (note from March 2016, no preliminary adjustments were applied to EU migration estimates; as such, we have made our best assessment based on all the available evidence):

EU net migration has fallen since 2016, although more EU citizens arrive long-term than leave; this is because of a gradual increase in EU citizens leaving as well as a decrease in those coming to the UK over the same time period.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The fall in immigration for work has mainly been because of a decrease in EU citizens coming to the UK looking for work, particularly those from the EU8; for non-EU citizens, all available data sources have shown increases in the numbers coming to the UK for work since 2014.

Non-EU net migration has gradually increased since 2013, as immigration has risen and emigration remained broadly stable for this group.

The rise in non-EU immigration is mainly because of a gradual increase in those coming to the UK for formal study, a trend reflected in all available data sources with sponsored study visa applications for universities at the highest level on record.

Return to Top

****
****

7.
3,475 naturalisations in September
Statistics Belgium, December 5,2019
https://statbel.fgov.be/en/themes/population/changes-nationality

Summary: In September 2019, 3,475 persons obtained the Belgian nationality. The main countries of origin of naturalised Belgians in September are Morocco, Romania, Afghanistan, the United Kingdom and Poland.

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Population change - 1st-3rd quarter of 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Number of live births slightly decreased year-on-year
Statistics Czech Republic, December 12, 2019
https://www.czso.cz/csu/czso/ari/population-change-1st-3rd-quarter-of-2019

Excerpt: The population of the Czech Republic increased by 31.4 thousand to 10.68 million persons during the first three quarters of 2019. Most increase was due to international migration. Both the number of live births and deaths slightly decreased year-on-year. The number of marriages also went down in comparison with the first three quarters of the previous year.

According to the preliminary statistical balance the population of the Czech Republic increased by 31.4 thousand to 10.68 million persons in the period from 1 January to 30 September. Ninety-five per cent of the increase was caused by international migration, as the number of immigrants exceeded the number of emigrants by 29.9 thousand. Another 1.5 thousand inhabitants was added by natural change.

. . .

Due to international migration, the population of the Czech Republic increased by 29.9 thousand persons during the first three quarters of 2019. The international migration flows of both immigrants and emigrants increased year-on-year; the net migration rose by 2.2 thousand in the year-on-year comparison. A total of 49.2 thousand people immigrated to the Czech Republic from abroad and 19.3 thousand people emigrated from the Czech Republic. Foreign migration was continued to dominate by nationals of Ukraine, who prevailed among both immigrants and emigrants, and they also reached the highest positive net migration (13.1 thousand). The second highest was the net migration of Slovak nationals (3.2 thousand). Then the migration balance of Romanian nationals (1.5 thousand) and Russian nationals (1.4 thousand) followed. The migration balance of Czechs was negative (-1.3 thousand).

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Argument analysis: Justices consider federal courts' statutory authority to review decisions from the Board of Immigration Appeals

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Kit Johnson
SCOTUSblog.com, December 10, 2019
https://www.scotusblog.com/2019/12/argument-analysis-justices-consider-federal-courts-statutory-authority-to-review-decisions-from-the-board-of-immigration-appeals/

Excerpt: On Monday, the Supreme Court heard oral argument in the consolidated cases of Guerrero-Lasprilla v. Barr and Ovalles v. Barr. These cases focus on the meaning of a single statutory provision: 8 U.S.C. § 1252(a)(2)(D).

The parties agree the statute means that U.S. courts of appeals are authorized to consider "questions of law" raised in appeals by noncitizens convicted of certain crimes from decisions by the Board of Immigration Appeals regarding their removal from the United States. They also agree that courts of appeals have no jurisdiction to consider other questions raised by such cases. Finally, the parties agree that Congress drafted this statute in response to the Supreme Court's decision in Immigration & Naturalization Service v. St. Cyr, in which the court warned that preventing review of legal questions in this type of appeal would create "substantial constitutional questions."

Where the parties diverge is in their understanding of the breadth of the phrase "questions of law."

Return to Top

****
****

10.
New from the Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse, Syracuse University

ICE Detains Fewer Immigrants with Serious Criminal Convictions Under Trump Administration
December 6, 2019
https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/585/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Excerpt: While the total number of detainees with a criminal record has been fairly constant, TRAC found that the composition has been shifting. The number of individuals convicted of serious felonies fell from between 7,500 and 8,000 in 2017 to just above 6,000 in April of this year. Those convicted of serious felonies have been replaced by an increasing number of detainees who have committed at most misdemeanors - what ICE labels as Level 3 offenses - such as unlawful entry or traffic-related violations.

As shown in more detail in Table 1 below, ICE's data reveal that the fraction of detainees that ICE classifies as least serious, or Level 3 offenders, has climbed steadily from just over 6,000 (or 39 percent of the total detainees with criminal convictions in 2015) to nearly 9,500 (or 54 percent) in 2019. At the same time, detainees classified as serious Level 1 offenders declined from nearly 7,500 (or 47 percent) under the Obama administration to around 6,000 (or 34 percent) during the Trump administration.

The number of Level 2 detainees is remarkably unchanging across these four years, hovering somewhat above 2,000 detainees, or between 12 and 14 percent of all detainees with criminal convictions, on any given day.

Return to Top

****

****

11.

New from the National Bureau of Economic Research

The Effects of Immigration on the Economy: Lessons from the 1920s Border Closure

By Ran Abramitzky, Philipp Ager, Leah Platt Boustan, Elior Cohen, and Casper W. Hansen

NBER Working Paper No. 26536, December 2019

https://www.nber.org/papers/w26536

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

12.

New from the Migration Policy Institute

Refugee Sponsorship Programs: A Global State of Play and Opportunities for Investment

By Susan Fratzke, Lena Kainz, Hanne Beirens, Emma Dorst, and Jessica Bolter

MPI Policy Brief, December 2019

https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/refugee-sponsorship-programs-opportunities-investment

Top 10 Migration Issues of 2019

Migration Information Source, December 9, 2019

https://www.migrationpolicy.org/programs/migration-information-source/top-10-migration-issues-2019

Temporary Visa Holders in the United States

By Brittany Blizzard and Jeanne Batalova

Migration Information Source Spotlight, December 5, 2019

https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/temporary-visa-holders-united-states

Return to Top

****

****

13.

New from the Institute for the Study of Labor

The Social Preferences of the Native Inhabitants, and the Decision How Many Asylum Seekers to Admit

By Oded Stark, Marcin Jakubek, and Krzysztof Szczygielski

IZA Discussion Paper No. 12803, November 2019

https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12803/the-social-preferences-of-the-native-inhabitants-and-the-decision-how-many-asylum-seekers-to-admit

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Refugees' and Irregular Migrants' Self-Selection into Europe: Who Migrates Where?
By Cevat Giray Aksoy and Panu Poutvaara
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12800, November 2019
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12800/refugees-and-irregular-migrants-self-selection-into-europe-who-migrates-where

The Effect of E-Verify Laws on Crime
By Brandyn Churchill, Andrew Dickinson, Taylor Mackay, and Joseph J. Sabia
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12798, November 2019
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12798/the-effect-of-e-verify-laws-on-crime

Return to Top

****
****

14.
New from the Social Science Research Network

1. Immigration Demand and the Boomerang of Deportation Policies
By Christian Ambrosius, Free University of Berlin (FUB) Institute of Latin American Studies and David A. Leblang, University of Virginia College of Arts and Sciences
Posted: December 9, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3491522
https://sistemas.colmex.mx/Reportes/LACEALAMES/LACEA-LAMES2019_paper_166.pdf

2. Deporting Chevron: Why the Attorney General's Immigration Decisions Should not Receive Chevron Deference
By Richard Frankel, Drexel University Thomas R. Kline School of Law
Drexel University Thomas R. Kline School of Law Legal Studies Research Paper No. 2019-W-02
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3492115

3. Becoming Unconventional: Constricting the 'Particular Social Group'

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ground for Asylum
By Fatma E. Marouf, Texas A&M University School of Law
North Carolina Journal of International Law, Vol. 44, pp. 487-517, 2019
Texas A&M University School of Law Legal Studies Research Paper No. 19-68
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3498455
https://scholarship.law.tamu.edu/cgi/viewcontent.cgi?article=2311&context=facscholar

4. Reliance Interests and Future DACA Litigation
By Geoffrey A. Hoffman, University of Houston Law Center
Posted: December 4, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3489484
https://www.lexisnexis.com/legalnewsroom/immigration/b/insidenews/posts/reliance-interests-and-future-daca-litigation-prof-geoffey-a-hoffman

5. Does Birthplace Diversity Affect Economic Complexity? Cross-Country Evidence
By Dany Bahar, Brookings Institution; Harvard University Center for International Development (CID); Hillel Rapoport, Paris School of Economics (PSE); and Riccardo Turati, Catholic University of Louvain (UCL) School of Economic and Social Research (IRES)
CESifo Working Paper No. 7950
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3493662
https://ideas.repec.org/p/ces/ceswps/_7950.html

6. Taxation as a Means of Migration Control: The Case of Hungary
By Luc Leboeuf, Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology and Alice Pirlot, University of Oxford Said Business School; Catholic University of Louvain (UCL)
Luc Leboeuf & Alice Pirlot, "Taxation as a Means of Migration Control: The Case of Hungary" (2019) 47(3) Intertax, pp. 291-297.
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3482357
https://www.kluwerlawonline.com/abstract.php?area=Journals&id=TAXI2019026

7. Aspiring Americans Thrown Out in the Cold: The Discriminatory Use of False Testimony Allegations to Deny Naturalization
By Nermeen Arastu, CUNY School of Law
66 UCLA Law Rview 1078, Forthcoming

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3487044
https://www.uclalawreview.org/aspiring-americans-thrown-out-in-the-cold/

8. The Comprehensive Wealth of Older Immigrants and Natives
Social Security Bulletin. 79(4): 25-68, 2019
By David A. Love and Lucie Schmidt, Williams College - Department of Economics
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3486278
https://www.ssa.gov/policy/docs/ssb/v79n4/v79n4p25.html

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

1. Joe Biden Announces His Immigration Program
December 12, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/joe-biden-announces-his-immigration-program.html

2. Reentry Services for the Removed by Katie Tinto
December 12, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/immigration-article-of-the-day-reentry-services-for-the-removed-f.html

3. Second appeals court backs lifting injunction on Trump 'public charge' rule
December 10, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/second-appeals-court-backs-lifting-injunction-on-trump-public-charge-rule.html

4. Ninth Circuit Stays Injunction of Trump Public Charge Rule

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

December 8, 2019

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/ninth-circuit-stays-injunction-of-trump-public-charge-rule.html

5. Trump is trying to make it too expensive for poor American immigrants to stay

December 8, 2019

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/trump-is-trying-to-make-it-too-expensive-for-poor-american-immigrants-to-stay.html

6. Immigrants' access to legal assistance further diminished by EOIR memo

December 7, 2019

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/the-justice-department-recently-issueda-policy-memo-that-would-limit-immigrants-ability-to-rely-on-friends-of-the-court-for-l.html

7. ICE bought state driver's license records to track undocumented immigrants

December 4 , 2019

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/ice-bought-state-drivers-license-records-to-track-undocumented-immigrants.html

8. How McKinsey Helped the Trump Administration Detain and Deport Immigrants

December 4, 2019

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/how-mckinsey-helped-the-trump-administration-detain-and-deport-immigrants.html

9. From the Bookshelves: Perchance to DREAM: A Legal and Political History of the DREAM Act and DACA

By Michael A. Olivas

December 3, 2019

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/from-the-bookshelves-perchance-to-dream-a-legal-and-political-history-of-the-dream-act-and-daca-by-m.html

10. Is OPT in peril? Colleges sign amicus brief opposing end of OPT
December 2, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/is-opt-in-peril.html

11. A Fact Worth Remembering: Half of Undocumented Immigrants are Visa Overstays
December 2, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/a-fact-worth-remembering-half-of-undocumented-immigrants-are-visa-overstays.html

12. DHS Lacked Technology Needed to Successfully Account for Separated Migrant Families
December 1, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/dhs-lacked-technology-needed-to-successfully-account-for-separated-migrant-families.html

13. States Push Back Against ICE Courthouse Arrests
November 30, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/11/states-push-back-against-ice-courthouse-arrests.html

Return to Top

****
****

16.
How Can I Get My Papers? Lessons From a Decade of Online Legal Intakes for Undocumented Immigrants
Immigrants Rising, December 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://immigrantsrising.org/wp-content/uploads/Immigrants-Rising_How-Can-I-Get-My-Papers.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Mixed Migration Review 2019
Zolberg Institute, November 2019
https://zolberginstitute.org/wp-content/uploads/2019/11/Mixed-Migration-Review-2019.pdf#page=157

Return to Top

****
****

18.
From Tampere 20 to Tampere 2.0: Towards a New European Consensus on Migration
By Philippe De Bruycker, Marie De Somer, and Jean-Louis De Brouwer European Policy Centre, November 2019
http://odysseus-network.eu/wp-content/uploads/2019/12/Publication-Final-3.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

19.
World Migration Report, 2020
International Organization for Migration, December 2019
https://publications.iom.int/system/files/pdf/wmr_2020.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

20.
An Australian-style cap on work permits
MigrationWatch UK, December 3, 2019
https://www.migrationwatchuk.org/briefing-paper/469/an-australian-style-cap-on-work-permits

Return to Top

****
****

21.
New from the Oxford Refugee Studies Centre

Transnationalism
By Derya Ozkul
SAGE Publishing, December 1, 2019
https://www.rsc.ox.ac.uk/publications/transnationalism

The Duties of Refugees
By Matthew J Gibney
The Political Philosophy of Refuge, November 25, 2019
https://www.rsc.ox.ac.uk/publications/the-duties-of-refugees

Humanitarian Versus Development Aid for Refugees: Evidence from a Regression Discontinuity Design
By Claire MacPherson and Olivier Sterck
Centre for the Study of African Economies Working Paper WPS/2019-15, October 30, 2019
https://www.rsc.ox.ac.uk/publications/humanitarian-versus-development-aid-for-refugees-evidence-from-a-regression-discontinuity-design

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

22.

Undoing Homogeneity in the Nordic Region: Migration, Difference and the Politics of Solidarity

By Suvi Keskinen, Unnur Dís Skaptadóttir, and Mari Toivanen

Routledge, 224 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1138564273, $101.63
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138564273/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1054 KB, ASIN: B07S1Q7X32, $57.95

Book Description: This book critically engages with dominant ideas of cultural homogeneity in the Nordic countries and contests the notion of homogeneity as a crucial determinant of social cohesion and societal security. Showing how national identities in the Nordic region have developed historically around notions of cultural and racial homogeneity, it exposes the varied histories of migration and the longstanding presence of ethnic minorities and indigenous people in the region that are ignored in dominant narratives. With attention to the implications of notions of homogeneity for the everyday lives of migrants and racialised minorities in the region, as well as the increasing securitisation of those perceived not to be part of the homogenous nation, this volume provides detailed analyses of how welfare state policies, media, and authorities seek to manage and govern cultural, religious, and racial differences. With studies of national minorities, indigenous people and migrants in the analysis of homogeneity and difference, it sheds light on the agency of minorities and the intertwining of securitisation policies with notions of culture, race, and religion in the government of difference. As such it will appeal to scholars and students in social sciences and humanities with interests in race and ethnicity, migration, postcolonialism, Nordic studies, multiculturalism, citizenship, and belonging.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

23.

Bordering

By Nira Yuval-Davis, Georgie Wemyss, and Kathryn Cassidy

Polity, 240 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 150950494X, $58.76
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/150950494X/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1509504958, $18.09
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1509504958/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 543 KB, ASIN: B07SYS5PV2, $17.19

Book Description: Controlling national borders has once again become a key concern of contemporary states and a highly contentious issue in social and political life. But controlling borders is about much more than patrolling territorial boundaries at the edges of states: it now comprises a multitude of practices that take place at different levels, some at the edges of states and some in the local contexts of everyday life – in workplaces, in hospitals, in schools – which, taken together, construct, reproduce and contest borders and the rights and obligations associated with belonging to a nation-state.

This book is a systematic exploration of the practices and processes that now define state bordering and the role it plays in national and global governance. Based on original research, it goes well beyond traditional approaches to the study of migration and racism, showing how these processes affect all members of society, not just the marginalized others. The uncertainties arising from these processes mean that more and more people find themselves living in grey zones, excluded from any form of protection and often denied basic human rights.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

24.

Cultures of Transnationality in European Migration: Subjectivity, Family and Inequality

By Karolina Barglowski

Routledge, 236 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1138557943, $105.59
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138557943/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1487 KB, ASIN: B07SR5XQ4N, $57.95

Book Description: Transnational mobility in the EU has become a key factor for supranational integration, equal life chances and socioeconomic prosperity. This book explores the cultural and social patterns that shape people's migration, the historical and contemporary patterns of their movement, and the manifold consequences of their migration for themselves and their families.

Exploring the links between social and spatial mobility, the book draws attention to the complexity of moving and staying, as ways in which social inequalities are shaped and reinforced. Grounded in research conducted in Germany and Poland, the book develops the concept of "cultures of transnationality" to analytically frame the variety of expectations involved in migration, and how they shape migration dispositions, opportunities, and outcomes.

Cultures of Transnationality in European Migration will be of broad interest to scholars and students of transnational migration, European development, cultural sociology, intersectionality and subjectivity. Specifically, it will appeal to scholars interested in the cultural ramifications of moving and staying as well as those interested in the interplay of gender, ethnicity and class, in the making of social inequality.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

25.

Migration, Borders and Citizenship: Between Policy and Public Spheres

By Maurizio Ambrosini, Manlio Cinalli, and David Jacobson

Palgrave Macmillan, 309 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 3030221563, $97.74
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/3030221563/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 4878 KB, ASIN: B07WWBCMQM, $20.52

Book Description: TThis edited collection goes beyond the limited definition of borders as simply dividing lines across states, to uncover another, yet related, type of division: one that separates policies and institutions from public debate and contestation.

Bringing together expertise from established and emerging academics, it examines the fluid and varied borderscape across policy and the public domains. The chapters encompass a wide range of analyses that covers local, national and transnational frameworks, policies and private actors. In doing so, Migration, Borders and Citizenship reveals the tensions between border control and state economic interests; legal frameworks designed to contain criminality and solidarity movements; international conventions, national constitutions and local migration governance; and democratic and exclusive constructions of citizenship.

This novel approach to the politics of borders will appeal to sociologists, political scientists and geographers working in the fields of migration, citizenship, urban geography and human rights; in addition to students and scholars of security studies and international relations.

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

26.

Migration and the Refugee Dissensus in Europe: Borders, Security and Austerity

By Nicos Trimikliniotis

Routledge, 256 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1138335118, $155.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138335118/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 4452 KB, ASIN: B07YCY2Z3Q, $57.95

Book Description: This book provides an explanation for the fundamental disagreement pertaining to immigration and asylum in Europe.

Since the collapse of consensus with the end of the Cold War, immigration and asylum have increasingly emerged as a central socio-political issue in Europe. The present work attempts to move beyond the complexity of 'managing' migratory flows by focusing on the most daunting issues arising from the response to the 'refugee crisis' in Europe. This debate is intimately connected to borders, security, belonging, citizenship and labour precarity/inequality. The book addresses some crucial dimensions related to the migration and asylum dissensus by providing an integrated frame of analysis from the point of view of resistance, rather than that of power. It connects notions of belonging and the migrant integration with the processes of de-democratisation, racist populism, citizenship and authoritarian migration regimes, and contributes towards a theory of the asylum and immigration dissensus by examining the potential for transition towards a society of equality and rights. The author proposes that the encounter(s) with surplus populations in Europe, which result in the multiplication of liminal regimes as well as spaces for resistance, generates potential for social imaginaries, promising a society unimaginable in previous epochs.

This book will be of much interest to students of migration and border studies, global governance, European politics and International Relations.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

27.

Comparative Migration Studies

Vol. 7, Nos. 45-47, December 2, 11, 2019

http://www.comparativemigrationstudies.com/

Latest Articles:

Gendered dynamics of transnational social protection

By Başak Bilecen, Karolina Barglowski, Thomas Faist, and Eleonore Kofman

https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0161-3

The impact of externalized migration governance on Turkey: technocratic migration governance and the production of differentiated legal status

By Ayşen Üstübici

https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0159-x

Contested externalisation: responses to global inequalities

By Thomas Faist

https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0158-y

Return to Top

****

****

28.

International Migration

Vol. 57, No. 6, December 2019

https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/toc/14682435/current

Articles:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

SPECIAL ISSUE: THE GLOBAL COMPACT FOR SAFE, ORDERLY AND REGULAR MIGRATION AND THE GLOBAL COMPACT ON REFUGEES

The Global Compacts on Refugees and for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration: Introduction to the Special Issue
By Elizabeth E. Ferris and Susan F. Martin
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12668

The Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration: What's Next
By António Vitorino
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12672

The Global Compact on Refugees: A Historic Achievement
By Filippo Grandi
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/epdf/10.1111/imig.12671

HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE NON-BINDING NATURE OF THE COMPACTS

Not Bound but Committed: Operationalizing the Global Compact on Refugees
By Geoff Gilbert
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12632

From Zero to Hero? An analysis of the human rights protections within the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration (GCM)
By Elspeth Guild, Tugba Basaran, and Kathryn Allinson
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12609

Protecting and Benchmarking Migrants' Rights: An Analysis of the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration
By Justin Gest, Ian M. Kysel, and Tom K. Wong
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12635

POLICY ISSUES IN BOTH COMPACTS

Labour Market Realism and the Global Compacts on Migration and Refugees
By Philip Martin and Martin Ruhs
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12626

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Detention under the Global Compacts in the Light of Refugee and Human Rights Law Standards
By Izabella Majcher
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12641

Closing the Gap? Gender and the Global Compacts for Migration and Refugees
By Jenna L. Hennebry and Allison J. Petrozziello
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12640

Shortcomings and/or Missed Opportunities of the Global Compacts for the Protection of Forced Migrants
By Liliana Lyra, Jubilut Melissa, and Martins Casagrande
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12663

International Travel Security and the Global Compacts on Refugees and Migration
By Rey Koslowski
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12639

NEXUS BETWEEN HUMAN MOBILITY AND DEVELOPMENT

"The GCR and the Role of Development Actors with Refugees: A Game-Changer, or More of the Same?"
By Sarah Deardorff Miller
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12633

STAKEHOLDERS: PARTICIPANTS IN DRAFTING AND RESPONSIBILITIES FOR IMPLEMENTATION

National Governance Frameworks in the Global Compact on Refugees: Dangers and Opportunities
By Emily E. Arnold-Fernández
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12643

Share the Burden or Pass it on?
By Markus Rudolf
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12652

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Impact of GCR on Local Governments and Syrian Refugees in Turkey
By Başak Kale and Murat Erdoğan
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12658

Tokens or Stakeholders in Global Migration Governance? The Role of Affected Communities and Civil Society in the Global Compacts on Migration and Refugees
By Stefan Rother and Elias Steinhilper
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12646

REGIONAL PERSPECTIVES

Role of Regional Consultative Processes in the lead up to the Negotiations of Global Compact on Migration: The Case of Africa
By Olawale Maiyegun
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12604

The European Union and the Background of the Global Compacts
By Emma Martín Díaz Juan Pablo Aris Escarcena
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12665

The UN Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration: Its Impact on Asia
By Binod Khadria Narender Thakur Imelda Nicolas Takgon Lee Jigmin Yang Ychen Jang
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12654

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Journal of Ethnic and Racial Studies
Vol. 43, No. 3, January 2020
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/rers20/43/3

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Issue in progress.

Articles:

Reflections and directions for research in refugee studies
By Alice Bloch
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/01419870.2020.1677928

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Journal on Migration and Human Security
Online first, December 11, 2019
https://journals.sagepub.com/toc/mhs/current

Selected article:

Putting Americans First: A Statistical Case for Encouraging Rather than Impeding and Devaluing US Citizenship
By Donald Kerwin and Robert Warren
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/full/10.1177/2331502419894286

Return to Top

****
****

31.
Journal of Refugee Studies
Vol. 32, No. 4, December 2019
https://academic.oup.com/jrs/issue/32/4

Articles:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

'What Does the Term Refugee Mean to You?': Perspectives from Syrian Refugee Women in Lebanon
By Angela Gissi
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey046

Process in the Community, Detain Offshore or 'Turn Back the Boats'? Predicting Australian Asylum-seeker Policy Support from False Beliefs, Prejudice and Political Ideology
By Lisa K Hartley, Joel R Anderson, and Anne Pedersen
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey048

Motherhood as Identity: African Refugee Single Mothers Working the Intersections
By Julian Grant and Pauline B Guerin
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey049

Syrian Refugees as Seasonal Migrant Workers: Re-Construction of Unequal Power Relations in Turkish Agriculture
By Deniz Pelek
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey050

An Examination of a University-based Refugee Speaker Series
By Dennis D Long, Cynthia H Geer, and Megan E Zarnitz
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey051

From Recipients of Aid to Shapers of Policies: Conceptualizing Government–United Nations Relations during the Syrian Refugee Crisis in Lebanon
By Carmen Geha and Joumana Talhouk
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey052

The Discursive Governance of Forced-Migration Management: The Turkish Shift from Reticence to Activism in Asia
By Umut Korkut
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey053

Assessing the Civil Society's Role in Refugee Integration in Turkey: NGO-R as a New Typology
By Ulaş Sunata and Salih Tosun

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey047

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Sunday, December 15, 2019 1:18 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 12/15/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 12/15/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Farming Like It's 1699," Mark Krikorian
3. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, Steven A. Camarota, Jessica Vaughan, David North, Nayla Rush, and Todd Bensman
3. "Like in Europe, America's Broken Asylum System Enables Terrorist Infiltration Over the U.S.-Mexico Border," Todd Bensman
4. "Bloomberg: Unacceptable Presidential Candidate," Michael Cutler
5. "Congress Should Reject Amnesty for Illegal Agricultural Workers," Daren Bakst
6. "Blood on Open Borders Boston's Hands," Michelle Malkin
7. "New ICE Numbers Show Just How Much the Border Crisis Has Hurt Interior Immigration Enforcement," Nate Madden
8. "2,500 Murder Arrests? New ICE Report Reveals Massive Illegal Alien Crime Wave," Daniel Horowitz
9. "Who's Doing The Raping? Immigrants — But Don't Ask 'LAW & ORDER SVU'!," Ann Coulter
10. "N.Y. is 13th State to Give Illegal Immigrants Driver's Licenses; Free Childcare to Sign Them Up," Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles
11. "Making Progress at the Border Is Making Progressives Unhappy," Jennifer G. Hickey
12. "Swelling Tide of African Migrants Challenges U.S.," Bob Dane
13. "Defense of Farm Workforce Bill Falls Woefully Short," Preston Huennekens
14. "Michelle Malkin Exposes Soros and the Globalist Mass-Migration Racket," Pawel Styrna
15. "The Cato Institute's Factually Flawed Attitude Toward Terrorism Is Disturbing," Spencer Raley
16. "Immigrant Workforce Falls For Third Straight Month! Is Trump's 'Invisible Wall' Working?," Edwin S. Rubenstein
17. "Drop in Border Crossings Shows That For Now, Mexico IS the Wall," James Fulford
18. "Islamists and the Border," Anne Christine Hoff
19. "Good Morals Are Key to Becoming a U.S. Citizen. These Unlawful Acts Could Block Immigrants," Daniel Shoer Roth
20. "The Trump Administration's Deportation Régime Is Faltering," Alex

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Nowrasteh
21. "Immigrants Don't Litter More than Native-Born Americans: Evidence from American Cities," Alex Nowrasteh and Andrew C. Forrester
22. "Farm Workforce Bill Offers Historic Opportunity," John C. Watkins and Craig Regelbrugge
23. "Massachusetts Must be National Leader on Immigration," The Worcester Business Journal
24. "Joe Biden's Immigration Plan, Explained," Nicole Narea
25. "The Number of People in ICE Detention with Criminal Records Continues to Drop," Aaron Reichlin-Melnick

1.
Farming Like It's 1699
The Farm Workforce Modernization Act is going to a vote on Wednesday.
By Mark Krikorian
The Corner at National Review Online, December 10, 2019
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/farming-like-its-1699/

****
****

2.
CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

DOD Inspector General Kowtows to Democratic Demands to Investigate Trump Troop Deployments at the Southern Border
December 12, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/DOD-Inspector-General-Kowtows-Democratic-Demands-Investigate-Trump-Troop-Deployments

Using the Military to Wedge Open the Door to Another Non-Amnesty Amnesty
December 10, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Using-Military-Wedge-Open-Door-Another-NonAmnesty-Amnesty

How Was the Pensacola Attacker Admitted to the U.S.? And How Did He Have a Gun?
December 9, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/How-Was-Pensacola-Attacker-Admitted-US-And-How-Did-He-Have-Gun

By Andrew R. Arthur

Takeaways from ICE Enforcement and Removal Operations Report
Not a pretty picture
December 14, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Takeaways-ICE-Enforcement-and-Removal-Operations-Report

ICE Report Supports My Analysis
Sometimes, it's not good to be correct
December 13, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/ICE-Report-Supports-My-Analysis

Andrew Arthur Discusses the Pensacola Navy Base Shooting
First aired on FOX December 10, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Andrew-Arthur-Discusses-Pensacola-Navy-Base-Shooting

DHS Begins Third-Country Family Transfers
The beginning of a process to end smuggling and share burdens
December 12, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/DHS-Begins-ThirdCountry-Family-Transfers

An Illogical Response to Local Immigration Detention
NIMBYism at its worst — out of sight, out of mind

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

December 11, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Illogical-Response-Local-Immigration-Detention

CBP Encounters at Southwest Border Fall for Sixth Straight Month, No Thanks to Congress

'It's a mixed up, muddled up, shook up world'

December 10, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/CBP-Encounters-Southwest-Border-Fall-Sixth-Straight-Month-No-Thanks-Congress

Pensacola Shooting Shows Limits of Foreign Vetting

An intelligence failure that demonstrates the need for travel restrictions

December 9, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Pensacola-Shooting-Shows-Limits-Foreign-Vetting

By Steven A. Camarota

There Are an Estimated 39,000 Births Annually to Foreign Students, Guestworkers, and Other Long-Term Temporary Visitors

December 11, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Camarota/Estimated-39000-Births-NonImmigrants

By Jessica M. Vaughan

Interior Enforcement Slumps Due to Border Crisis, Lack of Resources, Sanctuaries, and Systemic Dysfunction

December 14, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Vaughan/Interior-Enforcement-Slumps-Due-Border-Crisis-Lack-Resources-Sanctuaries-and-Systemic

Senate Action on Big Tech Green Card Bill S.386/S.2603

December 12, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Vaughan/Senate-S386-HR1044-S2603-Country-Cap

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By David North

When Is a Birthright Citizenship Issue Not an Immigration Issue?
When it relates to U.S. nationals in American Samoa
December 13, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/When-Birthright-Citizenship-Issue-Not-Immigration-Issue

Three EB-5 Applicants with Ties to North Korean, Iranian, and Chinese Militaries
The investor-visa program continues to embarrass itself by the rascals it attracts
December 13, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Three-EB5-Applicants-Ties-North-Korean-Iranian-and-Chinese-Militaries

DHS Hides the Expanding Size of OPT Program, and Its Subsidies
December 9, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/DHS-Hides-Expanding-Size-OPT-Program-and-Its-Subsidies

By Nayla Rush

Lots of Useful Information in the Refugee Report to Congress
December 13, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Rush/Lots-Useful-Information-Refugee-Report-Congress

By Todd Bensman

Bill Would Designate Mexican Cartels as Something Other Than Terrorists
Offers the same weapons (deportation, freezing assets, etc.) without overwhelming counter-terrorism apparatus
December 13, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/Bill-Would-Designate-Mexican-Cartels-Something-Other-Terrorists

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Part III: Like in Europe, America's Broken Asylum System Enables Terrorist Infiltration Over the U.S.-Mexico Border
By Todd Bensman
Townhall.com, December 9, 2019
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/toddbensman/2019/12/09/part-iii-like-in-europe-americas-broken-asylum-system-enables-terrorist-infiltration-over-the-usmexico-border-n2557629

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Bloomberg: Unacceptable Presidential Candidate
An unapologetic advocate for open borders.
By Michael Cutler
FrontPageMag.com, December 11, 2019
. . .
https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2019/12/bloomberg-uacceptable-presidential-candidate-michael-cutler/

Return to Top

****
****

5.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Congress Should Reject Amnesty for Illegal Agricultural Workers
By Daren Bakst
The Heritage Foundation, December 10, 2019
. . .
https://www.heritage.org/immigration/report/congress-should-reject-amnesty-illegal-agricultural-workers

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Blood on Open Borders Boston's Hands
By Michelle Malkin
Townhall.com, December 11, 2019
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/michellemalkin/2019/12/11/blood-on-open-borders-bostons-hands-n2557803

Return to Top

****
****

7.
New ICE Numbers Show Just How Much the Border Crisis Has Hurt Interior Immigration Enforcement
By Nate Madden
Conservative Review, December 11, 2019
. . .
https://www.conservativereview.com/news/new-ice-numbers-show-just-much-border-crisis-hurt-interior-immigration-enforcement/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

8.

2,500 Murder Arrests? New ICE Report Reveals Massive Illegal Alien Crime Wave

By Daniel Horowitz

Conservative Review, December 12, 2019

. . .

https://www.conservativereview.com/news/2500-murder-arrests-new-ice-report-reveals-massive-illegal-alien-crime-wave/

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Who's Doing The Raping? Immigrants — But Don't Ask 'LAW & ORDER SVU'!

By Ann Coulter

Townhall.com, December 11, 2019

. . .

https://townhall.com/columnists/anncoulter/2019/12/11/whos-doing-the-raping-dont-ask-law-amp-order-svu-n2557864

Return to Top

****

****

10.

N.Y. is 13th State to Give Illegal Immigrants Driver's Licenses; Free Childcare to Sign Them Up

Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles, December 6, 2019

. . .

https://www.judicialwatch.org/corruption-chronicles/n-y-is-13th-state-to-give-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

illegal-immigrants-drivers-licenses-free-childcare-to-sign-them-up/

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Making Progress at the Border Is Making Progressives Unhappy
By Jennifer G. Hickey
ImmigrationReform.com, December 11, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/11/border-security-congress-ice-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Swelling Tide of African Migrants Challenges U.S.
By Bob Dane
ImmigrationReform.com, December 11, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/11/african-migrants-border-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Defense of Farm Workforce Bill Falls Woefully Short
By Preston Huennekens

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ImmigrationReform.com, December 11, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/11/illegal-workers-farm-bill-congress-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

14.

Michelle Malkin Exposes Soros and the Globalist Mass-Migration Racket

By Pawel Styrna

ImmigrationReform.com, December 10, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/10/open-borders-book-malkin-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

15.

The Cato Institute's Factually Flawed Attitude Toward Terrorism Is Disturbing

By Spencer Raley

ImmigrationReform.com, December 12, 2019

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/12/foreign-nationals-terrorism-cato-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

16.

Immigrant Workforce Falls For Third Straight Month! Is Trump's "Invisible Wall" Working?

By Edwin S. Rubenstein

VDare.com, December 9, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/national-data-immigrant-workforce-falls-for-third-straight-month-is-trump-s-invisible-wall-working

Return to Top

****

****

17.

Drop in Border Crossings Shows That For Now, Mexico IS the Wall

By James Fulford

VDare.com, December 12, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/drop-in-border-crossings-shows-that-for-now-mexico-is-the-wall

Return to Top

****

****

18.

Islamists and the Border

By Anne Christine Hoff

AmericanThinker, December 9, 2019

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/articles/2019/12/islamists_and_the_border_.html#ixzz680NHF1nR

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

19.

Good Morals Are Key to Becoming a U.S. Citizen. These Unlawful Acts Could Block Immigrants

By Daniel Shoer Roth

The Miami Herald, December 14, 2019

. . .

https://www.miamiherald.com/news/local/immigration/article238364473.html

Return to Top

****

****

20.

The Trump Administration's Deportation Régime Is Faltering

By Alex Nowrasteh

CATO at Liberty Blog, December 12, 2019

. . .

https://www.cato.org/blog/trump-administrations-deportation-regime-faltering

Return to Top

****

****

21.

Immigrants Don't Litter More than Native-Born Americans: Evidence from American Cities

By Alex Nowrasteh and Andrew C. Forrester

CATO at Liberty Blog, December 11, 2019

. . .

https://www.cato.org/blog/immigrants-dont-litter-more-native-born-americans-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

evidence-american-cities

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Farm Workforce Bill Offers Historic Opportunity
By John C. Watkins and Craig Regelbrugge
The Richmond Times-Dispatch, December 9, 2019
. . .
https://www.richmond.com/opinion/columnists/john-c-watkins-and-craig-regelbrugge-column-farm-workforce-bill/article_6359495f-b828-507f-8df6-f071b64d22fa.html

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Massachusetts Must be National Leader on Immigration
The Worcester Business Journal, December 9, 2019
. . .
https://www.wbjournal.com/article/massachusetts-must-be-national-leader-on-immigration

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Joe Biden's Immigration Plan, Explained
It starts reckoning with the Obama administration's legacy, but stops short of some big progressive reforms.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Nicole Narea
VOX.com, December 12, 2019
. . .
https://www.vox.com/policy-and-politics/2019/12/12/21012462/biden-immigration-obama-deportations-trump-asylum

Return to Top

****
****

25.
The Number of People in ICE Detention with Criminal Records Continues to Drop
By Aaron Reichlin-Melnick
ImmigrationImpact.com, December 11, 2019
. . .
http://immigrationimpact.com/2019/12/11/immigrants-with-criminal-records-in-ice-detention/

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

From: Center for Immigration Studies <center@cis.org>
Sent: Monday, December 16, 2019 11:15 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 12/16/19

Immigration Events, 12/16/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 1/2-5, DC - Immigration at the Association of American Law Schools annual meeting
2. 1/3-6, New York, NY - Immigration at the American Historical Association annual meeting
3. 1/3-6, San Diego - Immigration at the American Economic Association annual meeting
4. 1/13, San Diego - Book discussion: Citizenship in Hard Times
5. 1/16, Paris - OECD forum on building a whole-of-society approach to emerging migration and integration challenges
6. 1/16-19, DC - Immigration at the Society for Social Work and Research annual conference
7. 1/17, Paris - Conference on making migration and integration policies future ready
8. 1/17-18, Copenhagen, Denmark - Conference on forced displacement - [New Listing]
9. 1/19-21, Cairo - IOM/OECD International Forum on Migration Statistics

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

10. 1/21-24, Quito, Ecuador - Annual Mayoral Forum on Human Mobility, Migration and Development
11. 1/23, Toronto - Discussion on Civil society and the everyday politics of the global refugee regime
12. 2/4, Toronto - Discussion on State responsibilities towards refugees under the 1967 Protocol to the 1951 Convention
13. 2/17-21, San José, Costa Rica - World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges
14. 2/24, San Diego - Seminar on the White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression
15. 2/27, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migrant lives at Israel's margins
16. 3/11-12, San Antonio - Border Security Expo - [New Listing]
17. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary
18. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention - [New Listing]

1.

Association of American Law Schools annual meeting

Thursday-Sunday, January 2–5, 2020
Marriott Wardman Park
2660 Woodley Road NW
Washington, DC 20008
https://am.aals.org/

Immigration-related sessions:

Friday, January 3, 2020

8:30-10:15 a.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Control and Environmental Regulation: Toward Justice?

Natural disasters and social conflicts spurred by deteriorating environmental conditions and climate change are driving people to move across borders. Economically disadvantaged communities, racial minorities, and indigenous people are often in the first wave of displaced people in the world's poorer countries. These same communities are also the most heavily impacted by pollution and environmental degradation in the places that they live and work in the United States. This panel will explore the issues of immigration and environmental regulation. How do environmental regulatory and deregulatory schemes in the U.S. impact immigrant communities? How have arguments about the effects of immigrants on the environment been used to restrict migration and the rights of migrants? How should existing domestic and international legal frameworks governing migration be revised to respond to environmentally motivated migration?

1:30-3:15 p.m.

Exploring Immigrant Justice from Intersectional Perspectives

This panel will consider justice for immigrants. Since the 2016 election, Trump's policies and discourse surrounding immigration have fundamentally challenged the pillars of democracy. In the process of regulating who can come in and remain in the US, immigration law and policy touches on how we conceive of family, work, criminal justice, civil rights, and international law. This program focuses on those engaged in teaching and scholarship that is intersectional with immigration law such as criminal law, employment and labor rights, human rights, and community economic development. In particular, it seeks to create a dialogue between clinical and non-clinical faculty and consider how such perspectives could help push the boundaries of what justice looks like for immigrant communities.

3:30-5:15 p.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003856

New Voices in Immigration Law: Works in Progress

New voices in immigration law will have the opportunity to present works-in-progress and receive feedback from senior scholars. Presenters were selected from a call for papers.

Saturday, January 4, 2020

10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

The Challenge of International Law in Dealing with the Causes of the Global Refugee Crisis: Climate Change, Armed Conflict, and Gross Human Rights Abuses Perpetrated by State and Non-State Actors

Most scholarly attention has focused on the receiving countries' harsh response to the worldwide refugee crisis. Relatively few scholars have focused on its causes—why so many, primarily from the Global South, have left their homes. Our main program will attempt to answer this critical question and analyze the role of international law.

1:30-3:15 p.m.

Federal Courts at the Border

In recent years, growing dysfunction in the United States' immigration system has put pressure upon the federal courts to play a central role in lawmaking at the nation's border. Disputes about asylum and refugee policy, the proposed border wall, cross-border shootings, and the application of the Suspension Clause to undocumented immigrants have underscored the difficult role of federal courts at the border. This panel will consider federal court doctrines that bear upon the availability of judicial review at the border, asking whether and to what extent those doctrines create zones free from judicial oversight. It will also ask in what ways recent challenges to immigration law and policy have shaped the doctrines of federal courts law. Finally, the panel will look to see what light

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003857

disputes at the border may shed upon the design of and practical constraints upon the federal courts system.

Sunday, January 5, 2020

8:30-10:15 a.m.

Recent Developments: How Easily Can Agencies Change Regulatory Policy in Immigration & Civil Rights?

The use of guidance documents in regulatory agencies is one of the most challenging aspects of administrative law. When an agency uses a guidance document to change or make policy, it need not provide notice to the public or allow comment on the new rule. This makes change easier, faster, and less subject to review. Under previous administrations, guidance documents were used to implement policies in many subject areas, including civil rights and immigration. The current administration has rolled back many of these policies. This program consists of a moderated panel on recent developments in the use of guidance documents.The speakers will highlight two reports to the Administrative Conference of the United States proposing changes to Administrative Procedure Act and an executive order mandating increased use of notice and comment. They will comment on controversies involving DACA and Title IX that demonstrate the stakes of change.

3:30-5:15 p.m.

Scaling the Invisible Wall: Bureaucratic Controls Over Legal Immigration

This session will examine the “invisible wall,” a term that refers to non-statutory hurdles faced by legal immigrants. Executive branch actions at times affect access to legal immigration despite statutory opportunities. Changes in agency policy, changes in agency mood, or other phenomena can narrow the availability of legal opportunities for immigration. Examples of the invisible wall include preventing asylum seekers from accessing the border, increased denial rates of applications for legal status, and slower processing times of applications for legal status. The invisible wall implicates separation of powers principles because it questions the boundaries of executive branch enforcement. It also challenges notions of transparency in administrative law and raises questions about how attorneys should respond to the challenges of the invisible wall. The invisible wall also highlights the need to explore the principles that should influence the design and governance of a legal immigration system.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

2.

American Historical Association annual meeting

Friday-Monday, January 3-6, 2020
The New York Hilton
1335 Avenue of the Americas
The Sheraton New York
811 7th Avenue
New York, NY
https://www.historians.org/annual-meeting

Immigration-related sessions:

Friday, January 3, 2020

1:30-3:00 p.m.

Liberty, Legitimacy, and Forced Migrations across Empires: Refugees in

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

the Ottoman, Russian, and Hapsburg Empires, 1848–1920

Papers:

Fight, Flight, and Negotiating the Road Back Home: Hungarian and Polish '48ers under Ottoman Protection

Jared Manasek, Pace University

Leaving the Ottoman Empire: Muslim Return Migration to Russia and Refugee Crises on the Russo-Ottoman Border, 1865–80

Vladimir Hamed-Troyansky, Columbia University, Harriman Institute

Bounding Communities: Identifying Immigrants in the Late Ottoman Empire, 1908–14

Ella Fratantuono, University of North Carolina at Charlotte

State Legitimacy and Refugee Settlement on the Frontier of Southern Syria, 1878–1920

Patrick Adamiak, University of California, San Diego

Session Abstract: From 1848 to the end of WWI, millions of migrants crossed the changing boundaries of the Russian, Ottoman, and Hapsburg Empires. These migrants fled consolidating state control over spaces, which was accompanied not only by greater control over movement but also by a politics geared toward homogenizing populations. In turn, in an era of hardening exclusive nationalisms, migrants sought refuge among coreligionists or co-ethnics with increasing frequency. The papers in this panel engage specifically with migration and settlement around the Black Sea, ranging from the flight of Hungarians and Poles into the Ottoman Empire following the political upheaval of 1848 to the movement of Circassians, Chechens, and Daghestanis into the Balkans, Anatolia, and Syria. Taken together, they consider anew the applicability of frameworks of "forced" or "free," emphasize the agency of refugees, explore how empires' responses to movement intertwined with new claims of legitimacy internationally and within their territories, and evaluate how migrants engaged with and became discursively attached to concepts of coercion and liberty in pre- and post-revolutionary contexts.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The field of migration history has long grappled with the conceptual distinction between “free” and forced migrations. In the past two decades, scholars working in the field have explored the complexity of migrants’ motivations. They have excavated the ways in which scholars’ categorizations of movement have led to a concurrent segmentation and even racialization of various migrations. For example, historians have outlined how the distinction between forced and free contributed to American exceptionalism in its “nation of immigrants” myth, cast movement occurring beyond the Atlantic as different from the industrialized “age of mass migration,” or suggested that even within a world economic system, those outside of Transatlantic systems moved only in response to European penetration and economic integration. This panel applies those insights to an essential and understudied geography that encompasses different degrees, agents, and experiences of violence and coercion, and in which people moved within complex and existing trans-imperial networks that themselves involved enslavement and coercion.

Each paper on this panel evaluates migration outcomes from the perspectives of migrants and states. The papers revisit questions of how religion shaped the directionality and experiences of migrants in an era in which political rights were increasingly tied to ethno-religious categories. Rather than simple stories of the “unmixing of peoples” according to religion, the papers open up new venues to consider the importance, if any, that migrants attached to religion as they moved within and between empires. While the panel is interested in the experiences of migrants themselves, it is likewise interested in the ways in which migrations shaped shifting claims of legitimacy among imperial states, highlighting the promises and failures of developing infrastructures of aid, measurement, and territoriality. In doing so, the panel contributes to scholarship on the long history of displacement and administrative response in the making of post-Hapsburg, post-Ottoman, and post-Russian states.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003861

The Other Illegals: Unauthorized European Immigration to the US in the 20th Century

Papers:

White Illegals: Italian Migrants and the Rise of a Global Regime of Immigration Restriction

Maddalena Marinari, Gustavus Adolphus College

Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression

S. Deborah Kang, California State University, San Marcos

The Privileges of Illegality: Unauthorized Italian Immigration to the United States and Adjustment of Status in the 20th Century

Danielle Battisti, University of Nebraska, Omaha

3:30-5:00 p.m.

In the Hands of the People: Negotiating US Immigration Policy from Below

Papers:

Alien Contract Labor Law and the Problem of Imported Labor in Gilded Age America

Hidetaka Hirota, Sophia University

To Have Your Chop Suey and Eat It Too: Chinese Restaurant Owners' Battle for Immigration Privileges, 1897–1919

Heather R. Lee, NYU Shanghai

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003862

The War Brides Acts and Engagements under Military Rule

Julian Lim, Arizona State University

Session Abstract: This panel suggests how individuals affected by discriminatory laws and policies found that by acting collectively, they could ameliorate those provisions of discriminatory legislation that most menaced their rights and interests. Presenters focus on three particular areas where the law significantly shaped Americans' and foreigners' lives: labor, business, and marriage. In oftentimes forgotten ways, small actors in the past stood their ground, when American policies and enforcers attempted to strip rights from them. As individuals, they usually fail, but through collective efforts, they have successfully pushed against interests and forces much larger than themselves. This panel provides new perspectives on agency in the history of US immigration law by analyzing how ordinary Americans and immigrants endorsed, challenged, and manipulated the law outside policymakers' offices.

The panelists examine collective efforts influencing the inclusions and exclusions of American immigration law. Hidetake Hirota focuses on the 1885 Alien Contract Labor Law, showing how fear of foreign workers inspired racial nationalism among US voters in all states. Hirota argues that question of immigration control was elevated from a regional issue confined to coastal states to one that unified white natives against racialized foreigners. Heather Lee shifts the conversation from the advocates to the subjects of restrictive immigration laws. Lee demonstrates that the numerous court appeals and challenges brought by the Chinese changed the enforcement of Chinese exclusion laws in meaningful ways in the early twentieth century. The Chinese created breathing room under the suffocating blanket of Chinese Exclusion, which aimed to end most, if not all, their emigration to the United States. Julian Lim demonstrates how immigrants leveraged federal immigration laws against discriminatory state laws. She traces how the War Brides Acts of the post-World War II era created an opening for certain U.S. soldiers to bring their foreign wives and fiancees to the United States. In particular, she examines the interracial unions between American soldiers - both black and white servicemen - and European and Asian women, and the ways in which such federally-sanctioned interracial unions challenged state anti-miscegenation laws.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003863

These histories disrupt the clean lines of historical specialization, bringing together the fields of foreign policy, legal history, labor history, social history, and the history of capitalism to bear on immigration history. The panel also offers an alternative conceptualization of agency, one that gives weight to how actors leveraged their differing subject positions.

These histories of the American past urge us to pay attention to the small scale strategies of people on the ground. In moment of heightened racial nationalism, the proclamations from the Oval Office and the halls of Congress provide parts of the whole. The average advocate and subject create meaning and intention out of federal legislation. On the battlegrounds of immigration offices, these parties negotiate the actual borders between inclusion and exclusion. This panel is sponsored by the Immigration and Ethnic History Society. Two senior historians of American immigration, Alan Kraut and Lucy Salyer, will serve as chair and commentator, respectively.

Saturday, January 4, 2020

8:30-10:00 a.m.

Migrants' Nature: Mobility, Labor, and the Environment in Latin America and the Caribbean

Papers:

Drought and Diaspora: Mexican Mennonite "Braceros" and Northern Mexico's Mid-20th-Century Drought

Ben Nobbs-Thiessen, Washington State University

Migrant Workers and the Turtle Trade in the Brazilian Amazon at the Turn

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

of the 20th Century

Thaís Sant'ana, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

"Great Calamities": Spaniards, Africans, and the Laboring Environments of Late Colonial Cuba, 1851–92

Oscar de la Torre, University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Servants of the Seasons: Glimpses of Labor Mobility across the Early Americas

Molly A. Warsh, University of Pittsburgh

Session Abstract: This panel examines the links between migration, labor and the natural world in both the early modern and modern contexts of Latin America and the Caribbean. The featured papers offer comparative and ecological perspectives on the movement of unsettled peoples within regions and across borders, on the ways migrant workers build their own society-nature relations in their destinations, and on these processes' implications. A close look at African and indigenous laborers conducting seasonal work in the early-modern Americas reveals important connections between itinerant labor and climate change, and challenges conventional narratives of slavery and freedom. In late colonial Cuba, unhealthy laboring environments threatened the lives of both Spanish and African workers, and became one of the most important factors in shaping the social crisis that affected the island in the context of Cuban struggle for independence. In the Brazilian Amazon at the turn of the twentieth century, the local government's attempt to limit the trade in turtles encountered resistance among caboclo migrant workers who helped promote a public debate on natural resource conservation, cultural tradition, and state intervention in the region's economy. In mid-twentieth-century Northern Mexico, devastating droughts led low-German speaking Mennonites to become seasonal "braceros." They helped foster, as a consequence, a culture of long-distance migration that transformed farming in Northern Mexico and in Mennonite colonies of Canada.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The papers in this panel critically engage several linked questions. How can we understand labor and mobility from an ecological perspective? How does the environment inform the experiences of migrant workers? How can historians assess freedom of choice in scenarios where changes in the natural world and the work of migrants are interconnected? How do ecological perspectives on migrants and nature reframe long-standing issues and debates in the history of Latin America and the Caribbean?

In highlighting the multiform relationship between human agency and the environment, this panel moves beyond the human-nature dichotomy. Instead, it proposes new avenues for conceptualizing how migrant workers shaped spatial, cultural, ecologic, political and economic processes and outcomes in Latin America and the Caribbean.

10:30 a.m.-12:00 p.m.

The Changing History of Immigration in NYC: Digital Community Archivists

Papers:

NHPRC Project in Flushing High School

John Ronzino, high school teacher

NHPRC Project in Xavier High School

Stephen F. Haller, Xavier High School

NHPRC Project at the High School for Environmental Studies

Jeremy Mellema, high school teacher

NHPRC Project at Brooklyn Tech

Judith Jeremie, high school teacher; Sean McManamon, Brooklyn Technical High School

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

NHPRC Project at Eleanor Roosevelt High School

Jennifer Stalec, high school teacher

Session Abstract: Funded by the National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC), the Queens Immigration Project employs inquiry-based approaches to family history for New York City Public School grade 10 teachers who wish to inspire their students to employ historical methods and thinking, while learning research and digital literacy skills. The goal of the project is to develop curricula and resources to inspire inquiry-based that addresses questions of globalization and immigration and to engage teachers and students in the research and re-use of extant, freely available digital historical records.

Over the past two years, teachers have employed the project to collect students' immigration stories about their families and their neighborhoods. Students have documented the push and pull factors of immigration, and they have documented how their neighborhoods have changed over time by capturing oral histories of neighbors, friends, and family and researching the events that people described and creating an artifact to share through EngageNY, New York's open educational resource platform.
In this practicum, the two Principal Investigators (Kathy Shaughnessy and Elaine Carey) and the grant project assistant, John Ronzino, will present the NHPRC platform as a tool for teachers.

Diasporas Imagined and Created: Migrants, Exiles, and Refuges in Africa, Europe, and the Americas

Papers:

Making the Gulf World: 19th-Century Migrations in and in between Cuba, Mexico, and the United States

Dalia A. Muller, State University of New York, University at Buffalo

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003867

From Sojourn to Settlement: The 20th-Century Migration of Highly Skilled Nigerians to the United States

Mary E. Dillard, Sarah Lawrence College

Religion and Migration: Stories from African Lisbon

Michelle Johnson, Bucknell University

Session Abstract: Migration is an integral part of human societies, across all historical eras. People's acts of migration globally reveal a great deal about the individual and collective experience. In light of people's growing comfort with leaving home to seek out opportunities, in parts of the world with little immediate connection to the familiar, combined with growing discomfort and concerns over climate change, economic instabilities, and political authoritarianism it is critical that historians look to and work more closely with the sciences and social sciences to make sense of and write narratives of migration. This panel examines migrations within and out of previously colonized societies. Drawing on various forms of social science and humanities data and methodologies, these papers provide important insights into rationales, approaches, and sensibilities individuals have to migration as well as how places, identities, and the sense of belonging are being made in the process of these various forced and chosen migrations.

Shifting the Boundaries of Inclusion: Immigrant Rights in the 20th-Century United States

Papers:

From Civil Rights to Human Rights: The Origins of the Immigrant Rights Movement

Maggie Elmore, University of Notre Dame

"An Act of Public Witness": Sanctuary, Religious Spaces, and Immigration Activism in Midwestern Sanctuary Movements

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Sergio M. González, Marquette University

“To Reward the Wrong Way Is Not the American Way": Welfare, Immigrants’ Rights, and the Battle over Benefits

Sarah Coleman, Texas State University

Session Abstract: “Shifting the Boundaries of Inclusion: Immigrant Rights in the Twentieth Century United States” consists of three papers that consider how different groups - religious organizations, civil rights groups, international human rights activists, and immigration restrictionists - sought to define immigrants rights in the late 20th century United States. At the core of the panel, is a historical analysis of the nature of American identity in the post-Civil Rights Era. The panel examines competing claims of citizenship. It expands our understanding of citizenship and belonging by placing efforts to define immigrant rights within the larger context of battles over the meaning and nature of the US’s social contract. In so doing, the panel contributes to emerging scholarship on the immigrant rights movement, as well as the post 1960s US political landscape.

Taken together, these three papers reveal the contested battles to expand and restrict the circle of inclusion in the 20th century United States. Elmore’s paper highlights how immigrant rights activists attempted to use the language of human rights to secure justice for undocumented immigrants. Gonzalez reveals how religious organizations took the lead in providing sanctuary for Central American refugees, creating a political movement in which people of faith challenged the limitations of US refugee and asylee policies. Coleman’s paper traces the convergence immigrant restrictionists and welfare reformers whose efforts ultimately ushered in a new era in US immigration policy. Collectively, these papers reveal the legal, social, and political challenges that immigrants and their advocates have faced in attempting to secure immigrants’ inclusion into the broader social fabric of the United States.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003869

Our panel also raises questions about the relationship between the state and the non citizen residents. To what rights are immigrants in the United States entitled? What responsibilities does the state have to noncitizen residents - both documented and undocumented? In what ways have immigrant rights groups and immigration restrictionists sought to expand or limit the boundaries of inclusion? How might this history help us to better understand contemporary debates about the status of undocumented peoples and immigration restriction? S. Deborah Kang, whose recent scholarship highlights the relationship between law and society at the nation's borders, will provide the comment and chair the panel.

Sunday, January 5, 2020

8:30-10:00 a.m.

The Go-Betweens: Youth, Migration, and Knowledge Transfer

Papers:

Going Native: Teaching Indigenous Knowledge in Protestant Mission Schools, 1900–30

Elisabeth Engel, German Historical Institute Washington

"What They Should Know": The Role of Knowledge for Missionary and Indigenous Children

Simone Laqua-O'Donnell, University of Birmingham

Routes of Knowledge: Growing Up German in Chile, 1900–50

H. Glenn Penny, University of Iowa

Knowing Race: African Youth in France at the End of Empire

Emily Marker, Rutgers University–Camden

Session Abstract: Knowledge is a matter for grown-ups, or so scholarship in the history of knowledge would seem to suggest. Children and adolescents have scarcely figured in the rapidly growing literature on the history of knowledge, be it as subjects of adult study or as knowledge actors in their own right. The proposed session seeks not only to address this research lacuna but also to open new avenues of inquiry by focusing on two distinctive yet highly diverse groups: first, young people who migrated to new knowledge cultures and, second, children and adolescents who didn't migrate but were confronted with "migrated" knowledge from abroad that often became hegemonic within their own cultures.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Working at the intersection of knowledge, migration, colonial history and youth studies, the session participants aim to demonstrate that studying young people in transnational, colonial and migration-related contexts can reveal unrecognized but socially relevant processes of knowledge formation and underappreciated connections among producers and translators of knowledge. The four papers will shed new light on these connections by considering young people in different settings of migration and knowledge circulation. The session will demonstrate the value of employing a broad understanding of knowledge that extends beyond formally educated actors and academically sanctioned knowledge orders.

Recent scholarship has built important foundations for such a knowledge-centered inquiry, but it also points to desiderata. Historians of education and historians of migration have so far focused on concepts like assimilation and cultural conflict, and they have usually viewed young people as passive receivers of a hegemonic knowledge transmitted to them. The organizers and participants of this session, which brings together scholars from the history of the Americas, European history, and global history, propose another perspective. They argue that we can productively apprehend young people as historical actors who were able to translate between cultures and produce new knowledge in processes of migration and cultural translation. Because of their grounding in multiple cultures, young migrants often became important go-betweens, as young people did in colonial and post-colonial contexts. The panelists argue that young people modified migrated knowledge and turned knowledge produced for and conveyed to them into new and often subversive bodies of knowledge co-created by them.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Two of four papers will explore the knowledge young migrants produced in transnational settings. Simone Laqua-O'Donnell presents a case study on missionary families before World War I. Emily Marker considers students from Africa in France after 1945. The other two papers will reflect on situations where knowledge rather than young people migrated: Protestant mission schools in British colonies in Sub-Sahara Africa (Elisabeth Engel) and German schools in Chile (Glenn Penny). In his comment, Swen Steinberg will consider the points of intersection of these four case studies from a theoretical perspective and on the constellation of young people, knowledge, and migration as a promising field of historical investigation.

10:30 a.m.-12:00 p.m.

Immigration, Refugees, and Anti-Semitism: American Dilemmas

Papers:

Are Professors Worth Saving? American Universities' Life-and-Death Decisions on Refugees from Nazi Europe

Laurel Leff, Northeastern University

New Research on America's Responses to the International Refugee Crises in the 1930s and Today

Rafael Medoff, David S. Wyman Institute for Holocaust Studies

Spreading Nazi Anti-Semitism on the American Campus

Stephen Norwood, University of Oklahoma

Session Abstract: U.S. immigration policy, and Americans' responses to

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003872

international refugee crises, were matters of intense public debate in the 1930s, as they are today. In this session, three of the leading scholars in the field of American responses to Nazism and the Holocaust will present their latest research on Americans' responses, and the factors that shaped them. Dr. Medoff will examine heretofore unexplored aspects of the U.S. government's immigration policy, then and now; Prof. Leff will address the question of how American universities responded to the plight of European refugee scholars; and Prof. Norwood will explore efforts by the Nazi regime to spread antisemitism on American campuses, and how those efforts affected public opinion and policy. The audience for this session will include scholars of immigration history, racism, U.S. foreign policy, Jewish history, and the Holocaust.

Return to Top

****

****

3.

American Economic Association annual meeting

Friday-Sunday, January 3-6, 2020
San Diego Marriott Marquis & Marina
Manchester Grand Hyatt San Diego
San Diego, CA 92101
https://www.aeaweb.org/conference/about
https://www.aeaweb.org/conference/2020-general-information

Immigration-related sessions:

Friday, January 3, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8:00-10:00 a.m.

The Effect of Immigrants on Economic and Political Outcomes in the United States

Diversity in Schools: Immigrants and the Educational Performance of Natives

David Figlio, Northwestern University

Paola Giuliano, University of California-Los Angeles

Riccardo Marchingiglio, Northwestern University

Umut Ozek, American Institutes for Research

Paola Sapienza, Northwestern University

Changing In-Group Boundaries: The Role of New Immigrant Waves in the United States

Vasiliki Fouka, Stanford University

Soumyajit Mazumder, Harvard University

Marco Tabellini, Harvard Business School

Immigration, Innovation and Growth

Konrad Burchardi, Institute for International Economic Studies (IIES)

Thomas Chaney, Sciences Po

Tarek Hassan, Boston University

Lisa Tarquinio, Boston University

Stephen J. Terry, Boston University

Migration and Housing

Paper Session:

International Student Migration and Local Housing Markets

Tatiana Mocanu, University of Illinois

Pedro Tremacoldi-Rossi, University of Illinois

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003874

A Tale of Two Cities: The Impact of Cross-Border Migration on Hong Kong's Housing Market

Maggie Hu, Chinese University of Hong Kong

Yi Fan, National University of Singapore

Xinwei Wan, University of Cambridge

A World Divided: Refugee Centers, House Prices, and Household Preferences

Martijn Droes, University of Amsterdam

Hans Koster, VU University Amsterdam

Migration and Location Choice

Paper Session:

Borrowing Constraints, Migrant Selection, and the Dynamics of Return and Repeat Migration

Joseph-Simon Goerlach, Bocconi University

10:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Migration and Development

Paper Session:

Southern (American) Hospitality: Italians in Argentina and the United States during the Age of Mass Migration

Santiago Perez, University of California-Davis

Like an Ink Blot on Paper: Testing the Diffusion Hypothesis of Mass Migration, Italy 1876-1920

Ariell Zimran, Vanderbilt University and NBER

2:30-4:30 p.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003875

Effects of Immigration on American Science and Innovation

Paper Session:

From Immigrants to Americans: Race and Assimilation During the Great Migration

Vasiliki Fouka, Stanford University

Shom Mazumder, Harvard University

Marco Tabellini, Harvard University

Immigration and Entrepreneurship in the United States

Pierre Azoulay, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Benjamin F. Jones, Northwestern University

J. Daniel Kim, University of Pennsylvania

Javier Miranda, U.S. Census Bureau

Immigrant Entrepreneurship: Job Creation, Job Quality, and Innovation

Sari Pekkala Kerr, Wellesley College

William Kerr, Harvard University

Immigration Quotas and American Science

Petra Moser, New York University

Shmuel San, New York University

Saturday, January 4, 2020

8:00-10:00 a.m.

Consequences of Forced Migration

Paper Session:

Forced Migration and Human Capital: Evidence from Post-WWII Population Transfers

Pauline A. Grosjean, University of New South Wales

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003876

Sascha Becker, University of Warwick
Irena Grosfeld, Paris School of Economics
Nico Voigtländer, University of California-Los Angeles
Ekaterina Zhuravskaya, Paris School of Economics

Brothers or Invaders? How Crises-Driven Migrants Shape Voting Behaviour
Sandra Rozo, University of Southern California
Juan F. Vargas, Del Rosario University

Impact of Syrian Refugees on Education Outcomes in Jordan
Thomas Ginn, Stanford University
Ragui Assaad, University of Minnesota
Mohamed Saleh, Toulouse School of Economics

Refugee Crisis, Flight to Safety and Entrepreneurship
Cevat Giray Aksoy, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development
Nicolas Ajzenman, Inter-American Development Bank
Sergei Guriev, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development

Immigration and Assimilation

Paper Session:

Perceptions of Immigrants and Support for Immigration
Alberto Alesina, Harvard University
Stefanie Stantcheva, Harvard University

Rationing Determines Immigrant Composition and Outcomes
Edward Lazear, Stanford University

Discrimination, Assimilation and Immigrant Outcomes in the Age of Mass Migration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003877

Ran Abramitzky, Stanford University
Leah Boustan, Princeton University
Katherine Eriksson, University of California-Davis
Stephanie Hao, Princeton University

Determinants and Effects of Migration
Paper Session:

How Immigration Can Raise Wages in Pakistan
Ayesha Mehtab, COMSATS University-Islamabad

The Impact of Syrian Refugees on Native Mortality in Turkey
Aysun Aygun, Istanbul Technical University
Murat Kirdar, Bogazici University

Do French Migration Policies Affect Immigrants Inflows in the MENA Region?
Ines Trojette, ESPI Paris
Doslalo Millogo, University of Norbert-Zongo

Comparing Middle Eastern Migration to Europe, Latin America, and North America
Hisham Foad, San Diego State University

Sunday, January 5, 2020

8:00-10:00 a.m.
Immigration
Paper Session:

A Teacher Likes Having Me in Class: Do Migrant Students Leave Behind?
Jianhao Chen, University of Illinois-Chicago

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Role of Immigrants in the US Labor Market and Chinese Import Competition

Chan Yu, University of Texas-Austin

Forced Migration and the Educational Attainment of Second and Third Generations

Anica Kramer, University of Bamberg, RWI, and IZA

Poor Voters, Taxation and the Size of the Welfare State

Arnaud Chevalier, Royal Holloway University of London

Benjamin Elsner, University College Dublin

Andreas Lichter, University of Duesseldorf

Nico Pestel, Institute of Labor Economics (IZA)

Immigration and Housing Rents: The 2015 Refugee Crisis in Germany

Kathleen Kuerschner Rauck, Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg

Michael Kvasnicka, Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg

Unauthorized Immigration Regulation and Labor Productivity: Evidence from Establishment-Level Data

Iftekhar Hasan, Fordham University

Incheol Kim, University of Texas-Rio Grande Valley

Xiaojing Yuan, University of Massachusetts-Lowell

Comparing Poverty of Refugees and Their Hosts

The Syrian Refugee Life Study

Samuel Leone, University of California-Berkeley

Edward Miguel, University of California-Berkeley

Sandra Rozo, University of Southern California

Emma Smith, Harvard University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003879

Collecting Representative Panel Data in a Refugee Setting- Evidence from Bangladesh

C. Austin Davis, American University

Ahmed Mushfiq Mobarak, Yale University

Paula López-Peña, Yale University

Is Imputing Poverty Efficient? An Example from Refugee Data in Chad

Theresa Beltramo, United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees

Ibrahima Sarr, World Bank

Paolo Verme, World Bank

Hai-Anh Deng, World Bank

10:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Economic Consequences of Immigration Policy

Paper Session:

Chain Reaction? The Population Spillovers of Immigrant Legalization

Elizabeth U. Cascio, Dartmouth College

Ethan G. Lewis, Dartmouth College

The Rise and Fall of the Know-Nothing Party

Marcella Alsan, Stanford University

Katherine Eriksson, University of California-Davis

Gregory Niemesh, Miami University

How Do Restrictions on High-Skilled Immigration Affect Offshoring? Evidence from the H-1B Program

Britta Glennon, University of Pennsylvania

The Labor Market Effects of Immigration Enforcement

Chloe N. East, University of Colorado-Denver

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003880

Annie Hines, University of California-Davis
Philip Luck, University of Colorado-Denver
Hani Mansour, University of Colorado-Denver
Andrea Velasquez, University of Colorado-Denver

1:00-3:00 p.m.

Causes of Populism and Its Related Political Preferences

Paper Session:

Unemployment, Immigration, and Populism: Evidence from Two Quasi-Natural Experiments in the United States

Shuai Chen, LISER

Return to Top

****

****

4.

Citizenship in Hard Times

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, January 13, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer-Final---Goodman-1-13-20.pdf

Sara Wallace Goodman, Associate Professor of Political Science, UC Irvine

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Co-Director, Jack W. Peltason Center for the Study of Democracy, UC Irvine

Description: What do citizens do in times of democratic crisis? When democracy is under threat, do everyday citizens activate and mobilize, or do they hunker down, demobilize, and express greater support for homogeneity (like speaking English)? Scholars, pundits and policy experts have largely focused on elite behavior and institutional guardrails, but the citizenry is a foundation to any story about democracy under threat. This book is the first to examine civic obligation in unsettled democratic times from the perspective of citizens themselves. It employs a three-country study of the US, UK, and Germany, to examine how democratic citizens define obligation and for whom, comparing native-born and naturalized citizens. Findings highlight the importance of how democratic problems are framed, and puts forward a number of policy prescriptions for overhauling civic education.

Return to Top

****

****

5.

OECD High-Level Policy Forum: Building a Whole-of-Society Approach to Emerging Migration and Integration Challenges

Thursday, January 16, 2020
OECD Conference Centre 2
rue André-Pascal 75775
Paris CEDEX 16 France
https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/Migration-Integration-Policy-Forum-2020-EN.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Program:

9:30-10:00 a.m.

Welcoming Remarks

Mr. Angel Gurría, OECD Secretary-General

Chair or Vice-Chair of the OECD Migration and Integration Ministerial Meeting

10:00-11:00 a.m.

Preparing for the future: lessons from global migration over the past decade

This introductory panel (5-6 participants) will discuss the experiences of countries regarding large migration inflows, and the lessons learned moving forward. It will involve high-level representatives from the UN and from selected OECD countries that have - or had - a key role in contexts of dealing with large migration inflows, as well as the president of a leading think tank. 11:00 – 11:30 Elevator pitches for the Innovation Lab Following a call for proposals with member countries, 10 selected innovative projects related to migration and integration from across OECD countries will be presented in short, 1-minute "elevator pitches". More detailed presentations of these projects will be made throughout the day in the hall of the OECD Conference Centre.

11:45 a.m.-1:00 p.m.

Foresight: the future of migration and integration

Presentation and discussion in break-out groups of the results of the foresight exercise of the OECD, focusing on four themes:

(i) the impact of new technologies on migration control and enforcement as well as on

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(ii) integration services delivery; and on

(iii) the role of regional and local authorities and

(iv) the role of corporations in migration and integration management in 2035.

2:30-3:45 p.m.

Parallel Sessions

1) Engaging with civil society – new approaches in the integration of migrants

New and innovative approaches that have been taken throughout OECD countries to leverage civil society in promoting the integration of migrants – notably with respect to social integration. This session will present and discuss some of these.

2) Innovations in language training

This session will present and discuss innovative approaches to language learning – either through new technologies or through innovation in course design and outreach.

3) Matching migrants with employment opportunities

A key issue with which many countries are struggling is to match migrants' skills with available employment opportunities, notably, but not exclusively, for refugees. This requires skills being assessed upfront and migrants being put in touch with relevant employers.

4) Innovation in skills partnerships

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Skills partnerships are an increasingly important tool for matching talent in origin countries with labour needs in destination countries, while avoiding negative impacts on the origin country. This session will discuss some recent policy innovations in this field.

4:00-4:30 p.m.

A conversation on the global competition for talent

This session will bring together a high-level representative from emerging economies and a global thought leader from an OECD country to discuss the global competition for talent.

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

6.

Society for Social Work and Research annual conference

Reducing Racial and Economic Inequality

Thursday-Sunday, January 16–19, 2020
Marriott Marquis
901 Massachusetts Ave NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://secure.sswr.org/

Immigration-related sessions:

Thursday, January 17, 2020

1:30-3:00 p.m.

Examining Stress in Lives of Immigrants

The Effects of Caregiving, Self-Efficacy and Stigma on Wellness Among Asian-American Family Caregivers of People with Mental Illness
Meekyung Han, PhD, San Jose State University; Sadhna Diwan, PhD, San Jose State University

Venezuelan Youth in Diaspora: A Multisite Study of Crisis Migration and Cultural Stress
Christopher Salas-Wright, PhD, Boston University; Mariana Cohen, Boston University; Patricia Andrade, Raices Venezolanas; Jose Rodriguez, Iglesia Episcopal Jesús de Nazaret; Mariana Sanchez, PhD, Florida International University; Seth Schwartz, PhD, University of Miami

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Personal Well-Being, Resilience, Social Support and Psychological Distress Among Burmese Resettled Adults in the United States
Kareen Tonsing, PhD, Oakland University; Martha Vungkhanching, Ph.D., California State University, Fresno

The Loneliness Absorbs and Oppresses: Social Integration Barriers, Social Isolation and the Health Behaviors of Latino Immigrant Day Laborers
Jennifer Siegel, MSW, University of Maryland at Baltimore; Gabriel Fiallos, University of Maryland, Baltimore; Priya Sharma, University of Maryland, Baltimore; Nalini Negi, Ph.D., University of Maryland at Baltimore

Healthcare Literacy & Utilization

Changes in Immigration Policy and the Mental Health of Recent Mexican American Immigrants
Robin Gearing, PhD, University of Houston; Micki Washburn, PhD, University of Houston; Luis Torres, PhD, University of Houston; Alberto Cabrera, MSW, University of Houston; L. Christian Gearing, MSW, University of Houston; Robin Gearing, PhD, University of Houston

Testing Competing Models of Somatization in a Sample of Somali Refugees Living in Urban Kenya
Claire Luce, MSW, Virginia Commonwealth University; Laura Swan, MSW, Virginia Commonwealth University; Shelby McDonald, PhD, Virginia Commonwealth University; Hyojin Im, PhD, Virginia Commonwealth University

Mental Health Needs and Healthcare Access Among Venezuelan Immigrants in Central Florida
Tracy Wharton, PhD, LCSW, University of Central Florida; Andres Cubillo-Novella, PhD, Pontificia Javeriana University; Matthew Abrams, BS, University of Central Florida; Gilarys Garcia, BSW, University of Central Florida; Heather

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003887

Peralta, PhD, RN, University of Central Florida

Health Literacy and Healthcare Use Among Karen Refugees
Isok Kim, PhD, University at Buffalo; Wooksoo Kim, PhD, University at Buffalo; Krisztina Baltimore, MSW, University at Buffalo; Biplab Bhattacharya, State University of New York at Buffalo; Mary Keovisai, MA, MSW, State University of New York at Buffalo; Li Lin, PhD, State University of New York at Buffalo

3:15-4:45 p.m.

Exploring Mental Health Correlates

Trends and Mental Health Correlates of Discrimination Among Latin American and Asian Immigrants in the United States
Christopher Salas-Wright, PhD, Boston University; Michael Vaughn, PhD, Saint Louis University; Trenette Goings, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; Sehun Oh, PhD, University of Texas at Austin; Jorge Delva, PhD, Boston University; Mariana Cohen, Boston University; Seth Schwartz, PhD, University of Miami

Meanings of Resilience and Mental Health Among Syrian Refugees: Findings from Two Countries
Asli Yalim, PhD, University of Central Florida

Do Family Relation and Immigration Influence Mental Health Service Use Among Asian Americans?
Xiaochuan Wang, PhD, University of Central Florida

Structural Determinants of Mental Health Vulnerabilities and Access to Services Among Asian Immigrant Men in Toronto, Canada
Ran Hu, MSW, MA, University of Toronto; Kenneth Fung, MD, FRCPC, MSc, University of Toronto; Josephine Wong, RN, PhD, Ryerson University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Friday, January 17, 2020

8:00-9:30 a.m.

Health Status of Immigrants

Perception of the Affordable Care Act Among Korean Americans
Chung Hyeon Jeong, MSW, University of Southern California; Hyunsung Oh, PhD, MSW, Arizona State University; Lawrence Palinkas, PhD, University of Southern California

Determinants of Healthcare Use Among Refugees from Burma
Isok Kim, PhD, University at Buffalo; Wooksoo Kim, PhD, University at Buffalo

Health and Mental Health Experiences of Latina Immigrant Women during the Perinatal Period
Maria Pineros Leano, PhD, MSW, MPH, Boston College; Laura Crowley, BA, Boston College; Natalia Pineros Leano, Universidad de la Sabana

Gaining through Giving: A National Study of Volunteering and Health Status Among Immigrants in Canada
Jacky Ka Kei Liu, MSW, University of Calgary; Yeonjung Lee, PhD, University of Calgary

2:00-3:30 p.m.

Interpersonal Violence and Mental Health

Pathways between Economic Insecurity, Sexual Violence, and Depression Among Urban Refugee and Displaced Adolescents and Youth in Kampala, Uganda
Carmen Logie, MSW, PhD, University of Toronto; Moses Okumu, MSW, University of Toronto; Simon Mwima, Uganda Ministry of Health; Senkosi Balyejjusa, Uganda Christian University; Robert Hakiza, Young African

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003889

Refugees For Integral Development

Controlling Behaviors, Intimate Partner Violence, Depression, and Social Adaptation Among Immigrant Women in South Korea
Hyun Lee, MSW, Yonsei University; Jae Yop Kim, PhD, Yonsei University; Lkhamkhuu Munkhnaran, Yonsei University; Boyoung Nam, MSW, University of Maryland Baltimore

Exploring Exclusionary and Fragmented Healthcare Access for Undocumented Women Immigrant Survivors of Intimate Partner Violence
Miriam Valdovinos, PhD, University of Denver; Sarah Dodd, MSW, University of Connecticut; Maritza Vasquez Reyes, MA, LCSW, University of Connecticut

Complexity of Men's of Experiences of Violence in Northern Uganda: Victim, Perpetrator, Bystander
Steve Friedman, MSW, School for Social Work

3:45-5:15 p.m.

Multifold Impact of the Border Crisis

Preventing Family Separation: Child Custody and Family Deportation Planning with Undocumented Latinx Families
Jodi Berger Cardoso, PhD, University of Houston; Liza Barros Lane, PhD, Baylor College of Medicine; Monica Faulkner, PhD, LMSW, University of Texas at Austin; Jennifer Scott, Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge; Natalia Giraldo-Santiago, MSW, University of Houston

Educational Inclusion for Special Needs Students in a Refugee Camp: How Is School Setting Related to Children's Wellbeing?
Thomas M. Crea, PhD, Boston College; Kerri Evans, MSW LCSW, Boston College; Robert Hasson, MSW, Boston College; Kelsey Werner, MSW, Boston College; Elizabeth Wanjiku, Jesuit Refugee Service; Gregory St. Arnold, Jesuit

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Refugee Service

"I Want to Feel Safe at My School. I Want to Feel like I Belong": Exploring Muslim Refugee Students' Levels of Engagement in Schools
Ashley Cureton, PhD, The Johns Hopkins University

Developing Peer-to-Peer Support for Foreign-Born High School Students: Using Youth-Led Community-Based Participatory Research to Assess & Address Needs
Abbie Frost, Ph.D., Simmons University School of Social Work; Hugo Kamya, PhD, Simmons University School of Social Work

5:30-7:00 p.m.

Immigration Detention: The Racialized Response to Violence and Trauma
Sergio Serna, LCSW, University of California, Los Angeles, Angela Garcia, B.A., University of California, Los Angeles, Anthony GÃ³mez, B.A., University of California, Los Angeles, Fatima Gonzalez, B.A., University of California, Los Angeles and Marianna Hernandez, B.A., University of California, Los Angeles

Background: Recent data indicate the U.S. apprehended 92,607 migrants at the U.S.-Mexico border in March, 2019, the highest monthly total since April, 2007. (Pew Research) The recent wave of migration has been marked by two unique factors: refugees are migrating as family units more than ever and the number of people from El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras together accounted for the bulk of apprehensions. In February, 2019, days after the Trump Administration declared a National Emergency at the border, four Latinx students from the Master's in Social Welfare program at UCLA, arrived in the rural town of Dilley, Texas. Joining volunteer lawyers, the team's role was to provide legal assistance to detained mothers and children undergoing the Credible Fear Interview process. The students, accompanied by department faculty, embarked on an intensely personal and professionally poignant journey to address this humanitarian crisis. In collaboration with Dilley's on-the-ground

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

legal team, the students conducted interviews of women and their children to determine their clients' strongest claims for asylum. While seeking and documenting their testimonies, students learned of women's harrowing accounts of traversing multiple countries with their young children, their terrifying crossing at the Rio Grande, and dehumanizing conditions in U.S. Customs and Border Patrol facilities.

Methods: As a result of the experience, the team created a set of tools for advocates assisting newly arrived Central American refugees. The three key resources include: (1) an educational and outreach video documenting the experience of volunteer advocates and their clients; (2) a case example demonstrating the utility of exploring trauma narratives for providers struggling with secondary trauma; and (3) transdisciplinary recommendations aimed to decrease re-traumatization of detained immigrant clients through use of trauma-informed perspectives and practices.

Results: The perpetuation of dangerously false narratives, racialized narratives, paints Central American refugees as criminals. This is facilitated by existing systems of oppression including racism. The fact that these sentiments are promoted by the world's highest political office has broad implications for both micro and macro-level social work practice. Through disseminating these additional tools to better address the needs of newly arrived Central American refugees, this toolkit seeks to document helpful responses to the real national emergency—xenophobia.

Conclusions and Implications: Continued conversation must bring together researchers, educators, students and staff of organizations serving the most vulnerable racial/ethnic minorities whose life experiences led them to the U.S. We must acknowledge that a legal perspective alone is insufficient, akin to working with one hand tied behind our backs. The law often operates in a black and white paradigm, making it sometimes difficult to recognize the humanity of all people. Through dialogue we look to demonstrate why and how social workers and their perspective is uniquely suited for intervening with this population. This work is rooted in the narratives of the women and their children, those who participated in this journey and those seeking to provide culturally humble services and effective policy advocacy on behalf of impacted communities—all of which will serve as a continuous reminder of the power of resilience.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003892

Understanding Economic Inequality in Immigrant Lives

Emerging Health and Economic Inequality Among U.S. Citizen Minors in Mexico
Jodi Berger Cardoso, PhD, University of Houston; Sharon Borja, PhD, University of Houston

Immigrant Women, Violence, and Economic Oppression
Arlette Vila, PhD, University of Texas at Austin; Elizabeth Pomeroy, PhD, University of Texas at Austin

Mothering in Contexts of Economic Inequality, Violence and Transnational Mobility: A Qualitative Study with Asylum-Seeking Mothers from Central America
Maria Emilia Bianco, MSW and Masters in Communications, Boston College

Exploring Determinants of Employment Among Resettled Refugee Women in the United States
Erum Agha, MSW, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Saturday, January 18, 2020

9:45-11:15 a.m.

Improving health care delivery

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"How Will I Take Her to Have Her Vaccinated?": Threats to Healthcare Access Among Syrian Refugees in Lebanon
Cindy Sousa, PhD, MSW, MPH, Bryn Mawr College; Bree Akesson, PhD, Wilfrid Laurier University; Dena Badawi, University of Waterloo

Adaptation of Immigrants & Refugees

Reimagining Successful Aging Among Latinx Communities in the United States
Rocio Calvo, PhD, Boston College; Nacho Gimenez-Nadal, PhD, Universidad de Zaragoza

Gender Inequality in Assimilation across Immigrant Generations
Felix Muchomba, PhD, Rutgers University; Neeraj Kaushal, PhD, Columbia University

Institutional Innovation amidst the Demise of the Refugee Resettlement Sector
Jessica Darrow, PhD, University of Chicago

On Being Black, Muslim, and a Refugee: Stories of Somalis in Chicago
Ifrah Magan, PhD, New York University

4:00-5:30 p.m.

Immigration Status As a Social Determinant of Racial and Economic Inequality

The resurgence of anti-immigrant sentiment in immigrant receiving countries, like the United States and Canada, represents a pressing social just concern especially for undocumented immigrants who face the threat of deportation along with racial discrimination and economic insecurity. As Sociologist Roberto Gonzalez (2015) has argued, immigration status functions as a “master status” in the lives of immigrants through organizing the social, political, and economic resources available to immigrants as well as processes of stigmatization and discrimination that negatively impact people who are constructed in media and political rhetoric as "illegal," "criminal",' or "threats" to society.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The following papers present research from Canada and the United States to develop a cross-national understanding of the discriminatory effects of anti-immigrant sentiment and accompanying structural inequalities on the well-being of undocumented or precarious status immigrants, with direct implications for social work practice.

The first paper links macro and micro practice, through a psychoanalytic analysis of news coverage of the Trump administration's rhetoric of the “migration crisis” in the United States. Using select psychoanalytic constructs, Lee & Bhuyan present a critical discourse analysis of the Trump Administration's response to asylum claims related to domestic violence and gang violence. Their findings illustrate how political construction of the feared bad object/immigrants corresponds with construction of the imagined good object/nationalism as exemplified by Trump's motto – Making America Great Again (MAGA). Lee & Bhuyan discuss how attention to veiled racist political discourse can be addressed in clinical practice.

Park and colleagues' survey of social workers' attitudes towards immigrants in the United States indicate a troubling degree of anti-immigrant sentiment among social workers who do not perceive immigrants as facing discrimination and endorse anti-immigrant views towards undocumented immigrants. Park and colleagues call for deepening social workers' knowledge of structural barriers faced by immigrants, particularly related to race and national origin, towards improving outcomes for immigrants seeking social services.

Drawing upon research on immigrant settlement service in Ontario, Canada, Bhuyan and Schmidt employ an intersectional, gender-based analysis of racial and economic inequality in the lives of refugee claimants, low-skilled temporary foreign workers, international students, and immigrants with less access to financial capital. Their findings illustrate how gender, precarious status, racialization and financial security increase immigrant women's vulnerability to long periods of family separation, employer abuse and exploitation, and limited access to social and health services.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003895

The final paper focusses on how immigrant families prepare their children for enduring racial and structural inequalities. Cross reports findings from a mixed-methods longitudinal study with Latinx immigrant parents in the United States. This research identifies how Latinx parents mobilize cultural practices to mitigate the threat of deportation and prepare their children to face experiences of discrimination outside of the home.

A Critical Discourse Analysis of Anti-Immigration Policies and Media Discourse in the United States: Politics of Global Anxiety from Psychoanalytic Perspectives
Eunjung Lee, PhD, University of Toronto; Rupaleem Bhuyan, PhD, University of Toronto

Perceptions of Structural Inequality and Attitudes Towards Undocumented Immigrants Among U.S. Social Workers
Yoosun Park, PhD, Smith College; Maria Torres, PhD, Smith College; Andrew Rundle, DrPH, Columbia University

Precarious Immigrant Pathways: A Gender-Based Analysis of Racial and Economic Insecurity for Immigrant Women in Canada
Rupaleem Bhuyan, PhD, University of Toronto; Catherine Schmidt, MSW, University of Toronto

Socialization Practices Latinx Immigrant Parents Utilize to Prepare Their Children for Anti-Immigrant Discrimination
Fernanda Cross, PhD, University of Michigan-Ann Arbor

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003896

Sunday, January 19, 2020

11:30 a.m.-1:00 p.m.

Access to Services for Latinx Immigrant Families

Efforts to reduce racial and economic inequalities should address not only their effects on mental health but also on improving access to mental health services. Latinx immigrant families have been shown to experience gains in mental health outcomes upon arrival, relative to the non-immigrant population. However, these gains erode over time and from one generation to another, with poor mental health exceeding that of the general population. This symposium explains the difficulties associated with the Latinx immigrant experience in the United States and outlines interventions aimed to increase access and utilization of mental health services for Latinx immigrant families. The first panelist describes the need for access to services for Latinx caregivers of children with developmental disabilities. The study targets the unique experiences of Texan families, as little is known about this population. Texas is unique in that it is comprised of a racial/ethnically (58.3% reported racial/ethnic minority) and linguistically (36% speak non-English language in home) diverse population. Subsequently, it is important to assess service access and receipt in Central Texas to determine if available services and supports are adequate for the needs of the community. The purpose of this needs assessment study is to fill these gaps in knowledge and determine the diagnostic and service needs of children with ASD and their families in Central Texas utilizing a mixed-methods approach. The second panelist addresses issues of child behavioral problems related to immigration stressors, through a community-based parenting intervention with Latinx immigrant family populations. Low-income Latinx immigrant families are exposed to multiple immigration-related challenges. These stressors place Latinx youth at high risk for experiencing various problematic behaviors (e.g., drug use). This presentation will describe strategies to effectively engage and retain underserved Latinx families in community-based parenting prevention programs. The third panelist describes the perceived mental health needs of emerging adults from immigrant Latinx families, highlighting the social determinants of mental health burden and participants' preferences for a mental health intervention that leverages the existing infrastructure of the Ventanillas de Salud (VDS; Health Window). A model of health located within the Mexican Consulate General of Austin, the VDS connects consulate patrons to appropriate health services. A discussant will conclude the symposium with a discussion of how these interventions can be implemented and disseminated to promote mental health equity among often-underserved Latinx immigrant populations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Identifying the Needs of Latino Immigrant Children with ASD in Central Texas: Results from a Mixed-Methods Needs Assessment
Sandy Magana, PhD, The University of Texas at Austin; Sandra Vanegas, PhD, Southwest Texas State University; Weiwen Zeng, MSSc, University of Texas at Austin

Addressing Adversity and Discrimination in Intervention Curriculum and Delivery: Lessons Learned in Parenting Prevention Research with Low-Income Latinx Immigrant Families
Ruben Parra-Cardona, PhD, University of Texas at Austin

Mental Health Access to Immigrant Latinx Emerging Adults
Carmen Valdez, PhD, The University of Texas at Austin; Ashley Ables, BA, University of Texas at Austin; Kevin Wagner, BA, University of Texas at Austin; Alice Villatoro, PhD, University of Texas at Austin

Assessing Mental Health Interventions

A Randomized Clinical Trial Testing a Screening, Brief Intervention, & Referral to Treatment Intervention for Mental Health Among Refugees in Malaysia
Stacey Shaw, PhD, Brigham Young University; Lynette Randall, BSW, Brigham Young University; Latifa Ali, Brigham Young University; Hamid Karim, Brigham

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Young University; Louisa Gilbert, PhD, Columbia University

Psychometric Qualities of Measurement Tools Used in Research on Refugee Youth Mental Health: Findings from a Systematic Review
Kristan Armstrong, MSW, LCSW, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Shandra Forrest-Bank, PhD, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Mary Held, PhD, LCSW, The University of Tennessee; Omotola Akinsola, MSW, University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Mental Health Interventions for African Immigrants and Refugees Resettled in the Western Nations: A Systematic Review
Evalyne Orwenyo, MA, MSW, Rutgers University; Betty Tonui, MSW, University of Texas at Arlington; Cecilia Mengo, PhD, Ohio State University

Addressing Mental Health Disparities in Resettled Refugees: The Promise of Family-Based Prevention
Theresa Betancourt, ScD, Boston College; Jenna Berent, Boston College; Jordan Farrar, PhD, Boston College

Return to Top

****
****

7.

Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready

Friday, January 17, 2020
OECD Conference Centre 2
rue André-Pascal 75775
Paris CEDEX 16 France

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/

Description: Under the title "Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready", Ministers responsible for migration and integration issues from all OECD countries and from selected non-OECD countries will have the opportunity to exchange their views on their countries' challenges, opportunities, and best practices in a Ministerial Meeting to be held on 17 January 2020 in Paris.

Notably Ministers will address:

* Innovative Approaches to managing Economic Migration
* Partnerships to improve Migration Enforcement and Compliance
* Innovative Approaches to Integration
* Engaging the Whole of Society and Improving Co-ordination

Ministers will also set out their priorities for Migration and Integration Policy work of the OECD.

Conference agenda will be added when available.

Return to Top

****
****

8.

Conference on Forced Displacement

Friday-Saturday, January 17-18, 2020
UN City, Copenhagen, Denmark

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://epod.cid.harvard.edu/sites/default/files/2019-06/Call%20for%20papers_updated.pdf

Description: In 2018 the number of refugees, asylum-seekers and internally-displaced people reached its highest level since the creation of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) after the Second World War. In recent years, the World Bank Group (WBG) and UNHCR have significantly stepped up the scale and scope of their joint initiatives on forced displacement. On the data side, these two organizations have recently established the Joint Data Center on Forced Displacement (JDC) in Copenhagen, Denmark, thanks to a generous contribution from the Danish government. Part of the JDC mandate is to stimulate further interest and research around data on forcibly displaced populations.

Recognizing the need for robust evidence to inform policy decisions and program and project design, the JDC is partnering with the Population Studies and Training Center at Brown University and the Evidence for Policy Design (EPoD) and Middle East Initiative (MEI) at Harvard University to organize an international research conference on forced displacement to be held January 17-18, 2020 at the U.N. City in Copenhagen, Denmark. The goals of the conference are to focus attention on emerging scholarship and establish links between researchers and data providers to promote new work on this important topic.

Papers presented at the conference will be eligible for consideration for a special issue on Forced Displacement in The Journal of Development Economics. Details of the submission process will be provided at the conference. Presenters are not required to submit conference papers to this special issue.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

9.

International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS)

Sunday-Tuesday, January 19-21, 2020
Cairo, Egypt
https://gmdac.iom.int/iom-oecd-undesa-organise-second-international-forum-migration-statistics

Description: Migration remains at the top of policy agendas in many countries worldwide. The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration (GCM) and the Global Compact on Refugees (GCR) recognize the need for reliable, disaggregated statistics on migration that are nationally relevant and internationally comparable. However still today, there is scarcity of basic data on international migration and existing data are not fully analysed, utilized or shared.

The International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS) is a unique, global platform devoted to improving data on migration in all its dimensions. Organised by the International Organization for Migration (IOM), Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) and the UN Department of Economic and Social Affairs (UN DESA), the IFMS offers space for dialogue for a broad range of actors, from national and regional authorities, NGOs, international agencies and the private sector. The first meeting of the IFMS, took place in Paris, France, from 15 to 16 January 2018, and it included 240 speakers and over 350 participants from 90 countries, representing national statistical offices, international organizations, non-governmental organizations and academic institutions.
IFMS 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The second IFMS aims to mobilise expertise from a wide range of disciplines – such as statistics, economics, demography, sociology, geospatial science, and information technology – to improve the collection and analysis of migration data worldwide. The Forum will take place in Cairo, Egypt on 19-21 January 2020.

It will explore innovative ways to measure population mobility and to generate timely statistics, by bringing together a broad range of participants to share and to discuss new data initiatives and examples of success in the field of migration data. The Forum will also provide a unique opportunity for policy-makers to have direct contact with migration data experts and to use their expertise to feed policy evaluations and to identify best policy options.

The focus on data capacity building comes from the recognition that implementing the commitments of international processes comes with significant challenges for National Statistical Offices, which often have limited capacities to collect, analyse and manage data relevant to migration.

The plenary sessions of the Forum will be organised around the following six themes:

* Strengthening data for policy: ensuring effective data communication and examining existing gaps in migration statistics to determine what is needed to address policy concerns;
* Data collection and innovation: Lessons and new approaches to the collection of migration data, including from 2020 censuses and administrative sources, and the potential of technologically-driven solutions, including big data;
* Cooperation and data governance: exploring ways to strengthen stakeholder coordination and the exchange and sharing of data;
* Capacity development and financing: identifying strategies to enhance data literacy as well as institutional capacities to collect, analyse and disseminate

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

data;
* Measuring progress on the SDGs and other global commitments: data challenges, initiatives and indicators-based approaches to monitoring;
* Improving the availability of data on migrants in vulnerable situations: disaggregating statistics by migratory status, age and sex - analysing challenges, opportunities and best practices.

Return to Top

****
****

10.

The 6th Mayoral Forum on Human Mobility, Migration and Development

Tuesday-Friday, January 21-24, 2020
Centro de Convenciones Metropolitano
Quito, Ecuador
http://gfmd.org/meetings/ecuador2019/summit

Description: The Government of the Republic of Ecuador, in its capacity as 2019 Chair of the Global Forum on Migration and Development (GFMD), will be hosting the Twelfth GFMD Summit Meeting on 20-24 January 2020 in Quito, Ecuador, open to Member States and Observers of the United Nations, and other GFMD Observers. The Twelfth GFMD Summit will be the climax of the Ecuador GFMD Chairmanship.

The Twelfth GFMD Summit will be opened by High Level officials of the Government of the Republic of Ecuador. It is expected to be attended by Ministers and Vice Ministers from all regions of the world, and a broad range of policy-makers and practitioners in migration and development fields.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

From the outset, a central focus of the GFMD 2019 Chairmanship has been continuing the global dialogue on migration in the changed policy landscape following the affirmation of the Global Compact on Refugees (GCR) and Global Compact for Migration (GCM), the review of the implementation of migration-related commitments in the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda through the High-level Political Forum, and the enhancement of the GFMD process through the follow up of the recommendations of the GFMD Ten-Year Review Report.

The Ecuadorian Chairmanship is focused on the central theme: "Sustainable approaches to human mobility: Upholding rights, strengthening state agency, and advancing development through partnerships and collective action."

The substantive agenda of the Quito GFMD Summit focuses on three Roundtable (RT) themes, to be discussed in six RT sessions:

(1) Coordinated responses to mixed movements: Partnerships and collective action to protect rights

Roundtable 1.1: Providing regular pathways from crisis to safety

Roundtable 1.2: Facilitating social and economic inclusion

(2) Migration narratives and communication: What role, responsibility and resources do governments have?

Roundtable 2.1: Shaping public narratives on migration and migrants

Roundtable 2.2: Communicating effectively with migrants

(3) Addressing human mobility as part of urban and rural development strategies

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Roundtable 3.1: Supporting arrival cities through policy coherence and multi-stakeholder partnerships

Roundtable 3.2: Harnessing migration for rural transformation and development

In line with the tradition of the GFMD, the three-day GFMD Summit program will include inaugural and closing ceremonies, as well as Roundtable discussions and special sessions on the GFMD Platform for Partnerships and the Future of the Forum open to Friends of the Forum. Additionally, this year, for the first time, the three multi-stakeholder mechanisms of the GFMD – the Civil Society Days, the Business Meeting and the Mayoral Forum – will be held in the same space and integrated into the overall program of the GFMD Summit. The 'Common Space' sessions will provide an opportunity for the multi-stakeholder representatives from all mechanisms to mingle and share ideas in unified shared events.

For more details, please refer to the Provisional Programme for 20-24 January 2020 and Logistics Note with practical information for participating delegations.

Registration for the Quito GFMD Summit will be coursed through the GFMD Support Unit in Geneva (registration2019@gfmd.org). For logistical considerations, all delegations are encouraged to complete online registration via gfmd.org until 13 December 2019.

The Ecuadorian GFMD Chair looks forward to welcoming your government / organization's delegation to the Twelfth GFMD Summit.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

11.

Civil society and the everyday politics of the global refugee regime: Early lessons from the Local Engagement Refugee Research Network (LERRN)

12:30-2:30 p.m., Thursday, January 23, 2020
York University
626 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto, ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-civil-society-and-the-everyday-politics-of-the-global-refugee-regime-early-lessons-from-the-local-engagement-refugee-research-network-lerrn

Speaker:
James Milner, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Carleton University

Description: While there is a rich literature on the politics of the global refugee regime and the politics of asylum in the global South, there has been less systematic treatment of the role of civil society actors in navigating the everyday politics of the regime, especially in the global South, which hosts 80% of the world's refugees. This gap is surprising given the literature on the role that civil society plays in other global regimes and the range of civil society actors engaged with the work of the global refugee regime. In response, the Local Engagement Refugee Research Network (LERRN) was launched in 2018 as a partnership between four Canadian universities, INGO partners, and working groups in Kenya, Tanzania, Lebanon and Jordan, which include local academics, national NGOs and refugee-led initiatives from each context. This presentation will share the early results of LERRN and its work to understand the everyday politics of the global refugee regime.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

12.

Beyond the 1951 Convention: What are State responsibilities towards refugees according to the 1967 Protocol

12:30-2:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 4, 2020
York University
519 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-tbc-2

Speaker:
Robert Barsky, Canada Research Chair: Law, Narrative and Border Crossing, Department of Law and Legal Studies, Carleton University

Description: Prof. Barsky will discuss the letters, minutes of meetings, memos, and reports that pertain to the negotiations leading up to the 1967 Protocol. These documents show that the ambitions of the 19 legal experts who convened in Bellagio in 1965 were far more wide-ranging than simply removing the temporal (pre-1951) and geographical (Europe) limitations of the 1951 Convention. Rather, the documents reveal complex discussions about how to create a stand-alone treaty that would expand the Convention's reach and render it more adaptable to new refugee situations, while not impeding any more expansive regional instruments that might come to be adopted.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

13.

World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges

Monday-Friday, February 17-21, 2020

Radisson San José

Calle Central y Tercera Av. 15

San José, Costa Rica

https://10times.com/conferenciamundial-iarmj

Description: The World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges is themed as A New World on the Move: The Realities of Irregular Mass Migration and the Challenges Facing Asylum and Immigration Judges Background and it is indeed a great opportunity for the Americas Chapter of the IARMJ to focus on the increase of mixed flows of people who cross international borders, whether forced to seek international protection or migrants with other characteristics and profiles.

Return to Top

****

****

14.

Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Depression

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Speakers:
S. Deborah Kang, Visiting Scholar, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Associate Professor of History, California State University San Marcos

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Indignity and Indignation: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
Lower Level Library
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/speaker-series-sarah-willen-professor-anthropology-and-director-research-program-global

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speaker:

Sarah Willen, Professor of Anthropology and Director of the Research Program on Global Health and Human Rights, University of Connecticut

Description: Sarah Willen is the author of Fighting for Dignity: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins. In Fighting for Dignity, Sarah S. Willen explores what happened when the Israeli government launched an aggressive deportation campaign targeting newly arrived migrants from countries as varied as Ghana and the Philippines, Nigeria, Colombia, and Ukraine. Although the campaign was billed as a solution to high unemployment, it had another goal as well: to promote an exclusionary vision of Israel as a Jewish state in which non-Jews have no place. The deportation campaign quickly devastated Tel Aviv's migrant communities and set the stage for even more aggressive antimigrant and antirefugee policies in the years to come.

Fighting for Dignity traces the roots of this deportation campaign in Israeli history and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and shows how policies that illegalize and criminalize migrants wreak havoc in their lives, endanger their health, and curtail the human capacity to flourish. Children born to migrant parents are especially vulnerable to developmental and psychosocial risks. Drawing on nearly two decades of ethnographic engagement in homes and in churches, medical offices, advocacy organizations, and public spaces, Willen shows how migrants struggle to craft meaningful, flourishing lives despite the exclusions and vulnerabilities they endure. To complement their perspectives, she introduces Israeli activists who reject their government's exclusionary agenda and strive to build bridges across difference, repair violations of migrants' dignity, and resist policies that violate their own moral convictions. Willen's vivid and unflinching ethnography challenges us to reconsider our understandings of global migration, human rights, the Middle East— and even dignity itself.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003911

****

****

16.

Border Security Expo

Wednesday-Thursday, March 11-12, 2020
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center
900 E Market Street
San Antonio, TX 78205
https://www.bordersecurityexpo.com/

Conference agenda:

Keynotes:
Ronald D. Vitiello, Deputy Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

Vice Admiral Scott Buschman, Director, Joint Task Force-East

Scott A. Luck, Deputy Chief, U.S. Border Patrol

John P. Sanders, Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Panels:
National Vetting Center: What is It? What isn't It? And How Will It Change the Way We Protect the Homeland?
This session will focus on the National Vetting Center (NVC) and how it will complement the National Targeting Center (NTC). Experts from the NVC, NTC, as well as other members of the Intelligence Community, will discuss why the NVC is critical to the Homeland and next steps. The NVC will be operational at the time of the Expo, enabling the audience and panels to discuss the implementation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mass Migration and Unaccompanied Children: Financial and National Security Impacts

This panel will be comprised of experts from ICE Homeland Security Investigations assigned to the U.S., Mexico, and Central America. The panel will discuss the financial impact on the U.S., Mexico, and Central American countries in addressing the issues related mass migration and unaccompanied children attempting to enter the U.S. The panel will discuss human trafficking, organized human smuggling organizations, and national security issues relating to mass migration and unaccompanied children. The panel will provide publicly releasable information relating to "The Caravan" that reached the U.S./Border in November 2018.

Border: Wall – Ports – System(s) – Technology – Infrastructure – Integration – Modernization

Panel will discuss the immediate, near term, and out-year capability requirements, goals, and vision for border operations including infrastructure updates; technology needs, requirements, and planning; initiatives; modernization; and deployments.

Model Port: How Technology, Public-Private Partnerships, and Innovation Will Continue to Change the Way Ports-of-Entry Operate

This panel will be comprised of experts from the federal/local governments and industry. It will highlight what will take place at the POE in Donna, Texas and why it is important to the country's national and economic security. Technology will play a key role in defining the Model Port. A representative from the City of Donna will explain why this investment is important to the local community. CBP Headquarters staff will address the Donation Assistance Program and why it is necessary to make the Model Port a reality.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A Dialogue with Tenoch Moreno, General Customs Administration, Mexico: Current Operations and Future Thoughts

Procurement: Keeping Industry Current in the Complex Area of Government Procurement and the Mission Needs of Border Operators

This is a must-attend session for those who plan to compete for government contracts. Rules and regulations change frequently, and new requirements are placed on industry. Industry must have a clear understanding of the mission needs of the border operators. Government and industry experts will discuss best practices and explain how to best leverage the many opportunities that support the daily mission of CBP and other agencies. Government panelists will include Senior Executives from CBP procurement and the new office of Operations Support.

Complete conference agenda will be available at end of December.

Return to Top

****

****

17.

Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

Return to Top

****
****

18.
The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center

U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics

2 Massachusetts Ave, NE 20002

Washington, DC

http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:

Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, December 17, 2019 7:52 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 12/17/19

Share Tweet Forward

What's Happening at the Center

Two new analyses by the Center for Immigration Studies estimate that there are 39,000 births a year to foreign students, guest workers and others on long-term temporary visas, plus an additional 33,000 births annually to tourists – totaling

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

72,000. Those born to these "non-immigrants," as the government refers to them, are awarded U.S. citizenship because they were born in United States and not because a parent was a U.S. citizen or a Lawful Permanent Resident (green card holders). These births are in addition to the nearly 300,000 births each year to illegal immigrants.

"Our analysis makes clear that the number of children born to visitors is not trivial; and over time the numbers are substantial," said Steven Camarota, the report's lead author and the Center's Director of Research. "It seems doubtful that the framers of the Fourteenth Amendment could have anticipated that tens of thousands of people each year would automatically be granted citizenship simply because their parents were on a temporary visit to the United States at the time of their birth."

Read the analyses here

Featured Posts

Pensacola Shooting Shows Limits of Foreign Vetting

By Andrew R. Arthur

On December 6, 2019, a 21-year-old second lieutenant in the Royal Saudi Air Force, Mohammed Alshamrani, committed what the FBI is investigating as an act of terrorism when he opened fire in a classroom at Pensacola Naval Air Station in Florida. Three were killed and eight were wounded in that incident. Alshamrani's actions underscore the need for more vetting of all foreign nationals coming to the United States, and at the same time the logic of the president's much-criticized travel restrictions.

Texas Rio Grande Wall Project by Crowdfunded Nonprofit Builder Runs Aground on Litigation

By Todd Bensman

Three EB-5 Applicants with Ties to North Korean, Iranian, and Chinese Militaries

By David North

The Center, long dubious about the EB-5 (immigrant investor) program, has now found three different EB-5 investors who have – apparently separately – made serious money while undermining U.S. national security through trade with North Korea, Iran, and China. Additionally, at least two of the investors are accused of using the EB-5 program to further launder their illegal proceeds.

Using the Military to Wedge Open the Door to Another Non-Amnesty Amnesty

By Dan Cadman

Sen. Tammy Duckworth (D-Ill.) has

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The demand by President Trump's Office of the U.S. Attorney for a temporary work stoppage at the site near Mission, Texas, comes on the heels of a state judge's order that construction stop until separate objections by the National Butterfly Center upstream can be fully assessed. The upshot of these legal moves is that several miles of wall will not go up on the planned timeline of mid-January.

introduced a bill called the "Military Families Parole In Place Act", S. 2797. The bill proposes to oblige the secretary of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) to grant immigration paroles, in one-year increments, to dependent family members of active-duty military, as well as of veterans who were not dishonorably discharged. Even if illegally in the United States, they would be allowed to stay, and if outside of the United States, the plain language of the bill would require their admission.

More Blog Posts

- ICE Report Supports My Analysis
- Senate Action on Big Tech Green Card Bill S.386/S.2603
- DHS Begins Third-Country Family Transfers
- Indian Riots About Anti-Muslim Legislation Relate to an Amnesty Law
- DOD Inspector General Kowtows to Democratic Demands to Investigate Trump Troop Deployments at the Southern Border
- There May Be 33,000 Birth Tourists Annually
- An Illigocial Response to Local Immigration Detention
- Farming Like It's 1699
- CPB Encounters at Southwest Border Fall for Sixth Straight Month, No Thanks to Congress
- How Was the Pensacola Attacker Admitted to the U.S.? And How Did He Have a Gun?
- DHS Hides Expanding Size of OPT Program, and Its Subsides
- Nibble, Nibble: House Votes to Extend E Visas to Portuguese Business People

Video:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Andrew Arthur, the Center's Resident Fellow in Law and Policy, discusses the shooting by a Saudi military trainee at Pensacola Navy base.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, December 17, 2019 9:31 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: EVENT: A conversation with CBP Acting Commissioner Mark Morgan

EVENT: A conversation with U.S. Customs and Border Protection Acting Commissioner Mark Morgan

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (December 17, 2019) – Mark Morgan, Acting Commissioner of U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP), will be featured in an Immigration Newsmaker conversation hosted by the Center for Immigration Studies on Friday, December 20, at 1 p.m. at the National Press Club. Please RSVP to Marguerite Telford via email if you would like to reserve a seat; media is given priority. In addition, the event will be streamed on Facebook Live and Youtube Live.

Mr. Morgan oversees "the largest law enforcement agency and second-largest revenue-collecting source in the federal government." Since taking his position as Acting Commissioner of CBP in July, Mr. Morgan has worked to address the southern border crisis and implemented policies contributing to a slow-down in the number of new illegal arrivals.

The conversation, moderated by Jessica Vaughan, the Center's director of policy studies, will cover such topics as the situation at the border, criminal threats – including cartel operatives and gang members, processing of asylum seekers, and border infrastructure.

When: Friday, December 20, 2019, at 1:00 p.m.

Where: National Press Club, 529 14th St. NW, 13th Floor, Washington, D.C.

The Immigration Newsmaker series provides an opportunity for government agency heads, members of Congress, and other policymakers to discuss their priorities and explore the challenges they face. The events, held at the National Press Club, are seated, on-the-record conversations between the guest and a member of the CIS staff. See previous interviews here.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, December 19, 2019 3:15 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Redistributes Political Power

Share

Tweet

Forward

Immigration Redistributes Political Power

States with fewer immigrants (legal & illegal) will have 26 fewer House seats & electoral votes

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (December 19, 2019) - A new Center for Immigration Studies report examines the impact of legal and illegal immigration on the apportionment of seats in the U.S. House of Representatives and votes in the Electoral College. House seats and electoral votes are based on total state populations, not citizenship. By adding significantly to the population of some states compared to others, legal and illegal immigration reduces the political power of low-immigration states, which are comprised mostly of U.S. citizens, and redistributes it to high-immigration states.

"States that receive relatively few immigrants may think immigration has little effect on them. But in fact, immigration significantly reduces their representation in Washington," said Steven Camarota, the Center's Director of Research and co-author of the report. "When making immigration policy, the impact of increased numbers on the redistribution of power should at least be considered. The presence of large numbers of foreign-born residents – whether naturalized citizens, green card holders, guestworkers, foreign students, or illegal aliens – impacts many aspects of American life, including apportionment."

View the report at:: https://cis.org/Report/Impact-Legal-and-Illegal-Immigration-Apportionment-Seats-US-House-Representatives-2020.

Among the findings:

• The presence of all foreign-born persons (naturalized citizens, legal residents, guestworkers, foreign students, and illegal aliens) and their U.S.-born minor children will redistribute 26 seats in the House in 2020.
• To put this number in perspective, changing the party of 21 members of the current Congress would flip the majority in the U.S. House.
• The presence of all immigrants and their U.S.-born minor children will cause OH to have three fewer seats in 2020 than it otherwise would have had but for the presence of immigrants and their minor children in other states. MI and PA will have two fewer; and AL, AR, GA, ID, IN, IA, KY, LA, MN, MS, MO, NC, OK, RI, SC, TN, UT, WV, and WI will each have one fewer seat. CA will have 11 more seats in 2020 than it otherwise would have; NY and TX will have four more seats each; FL will have three more seats; NJ will have two more seats; and IL and MA will each have one additional seat.
• Of the 26 seats that will be lost, 24 are from states that voted for Donald Trump in 2016. Of states that will gain political power from immigration, 19 seats will go to the solidly Democratic states of CA, NY, NJ, MA, and IL. TX is the only solidly Republican state that gains, while FL is a swing state.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

• Looking at immigrants (naturalized citizens, legal permanent residents, guestworkers, foreign students and illegal aliens), but not their U.S.-born minor children, will redistribute 18 seats in the House in 2020. OH will have two fewer seats than it otherwise would have had but for the presence of immigrants in other states. AL, GA, ID, IA, IN, KY, LA, MI, MN, MO, NC, OK, PA, TN, UT, and WV will each have one fewer seat. CA will have seven more seats in 2020 than it otherwise would. NY and FL will have three more each; TX and NJ will have two more seats; and IL will have one more seat.

• Looking at non-citizens and their U.S.-born minor children redistributes 10 seats, with OH, MI, AL, ID, MN, MO, WV, TN, PA, and RI each having one fewer seat. CA will have four more seats than it otherwise would have; TX will have three more seats; and NY, FL, and NJ will have one additional seat each.

• Looking at only non-citizens (legal residents and illegal immigrants) redistributes eight seats, with OH, MI, MO, MN, AL, ID, WV, and RI each having one fewer seat in 2020 due to the presence of non-citizens in other states. CA will have three additional seats; TX will have two more seats; and FL, NJ, and NY will each have one more seat.

• Illegal immigrants and their U.S.-born minor children will redistribute five seats in 2020, with OH, MI, AL, MN, and WV each losing one seat in 2020 that they otherwise would have had. CA and TX will each have two additional seats, and NY will have one additional seat.

• Illegal immigrants alone in the 2020 will redistribute three seats, with OH, AL, and MN each having one fewer seat than they otherwise would have had, while CA, NY, and TX will have one additional seat.

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, December 19, 2019 11:58 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: CIS 2020 Border Tour

Share Tweet Forward

2020 Southwest Border Tour
Hosted by the Center for Immigration Studies

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Our next border tour will begin in El Paso this April. During the week-long excursion, we will explore the city and spend a day across the river in Juarez. We will visit White Sands, New Mexico and the surrounding borderlands. Along the way we will meet with border officials, locals, reporters, and academics while sampling the local fare and absorbing the region's rich culture and history. The tour will be led by Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Jerry Kammer. More information on this invaluable opportunity to see the border and learn more about the immigration issue is available here. Contact John Wahala at jaw@cis.org if you are interested in joining us.

Visit Website

Further Reading:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Add links to related topics, blogs, publications here.

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, December 20, 2019 2:29 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: The Lee-Durbin "Big Tech" Green Card Bill S.386

Share Tweet Forward

The Lee-Durbin Big Tech Green Card Bill S.386

More foreign workers in de facto residency replacing U.S. workers, but less diversity

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (December 20, 2019) - Senator Mike Lee (R-UT) has agreed to new provisions that will further distort the US labor market and displace American college graduates from jobs in order to secure Sen. Dick Durbin's (D-IL) support for the Fairness for High Skilled Immigrants Act (S. 386). The resulting bill goes well beyond dealing with the lop-sided waiting list caused by an influx of visa workers from India. It also creates a new form of long-term residency called "early filing," allowing those arriving on certain temporary visas to bypass the annual green card limits and stay indefinitely if they have an employer sponsor.

Under the bill, those on a long-term temporary visa who can secure a job offer requiring a college degree will, after a wait of 270 days, be able to obtain a three-year renewable work permit and permission to travel in and out of the country. It will be a status comparable to permanent residency with a green card, but without having to wait in line or be restricted by annual immigration limits. It will potentially apply to hundreds of thousands of people each year, including foreign students, exchange visitors, NAFTA workers, investors, and more.

Supporters of fast-tracking the visa workers who are now on the waiting list say that eliminating the per country cap is "number neutral" and will not increase the number of green cards awarded nor increase the cap on guestworkers. This is true, but because it gives visa workers a no-strings work permit that is not linked to a Department of Labor-approved work arrangement and specific employer, these workers will no longer be considered part of the numerically limited H-1B program, and those visa numbers will be available to employers to bring in new visa workers from abroad. In addition, the "early filing" work permits will undoubtedly attract significantly more applicants from abroad to come in on other temporary statuses that formerly offered no easy path to a green card. So while there might not be more green cards issued, there definitely will be more foreign workers in de facto residency.

Read the complete analysis of the new provisions: https://cis.org/Vaughan/Senate-S386-HR1044-Country-Cap#update
Archived articles on S386: https://cis.org/Archive-Senate-Action-Big-Tech-Green-Card-Bill-S386
Fact Sheet on House companion bill HR1044: https://cis.org/Vaughan/Fact-Sheet-HR-1044-Fairness-High-Skilled-Immigrants-Act

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Some of the flaws of the Durbin-Lee bill:

- does not include reforms to ensure that visa workers are highly skilled or highly paid;
- everyone with a qualifying job offer gets to stay with a renewable work permit;
- does not explicitly prevent employers from replacing US workers with visa workers;
- does not tighten the skills or occupational or educational standards for visas;
- does not increase the total number of green cards;
- increases the number of "temporary" visa workers who expect to stay; and
- encourages more employers to lower their labor costs by hiring foreign workers who gain access to the labor market by obtaining a temporary visa.

This bill would dramatically change our employment green card distribution system by eliminating a safeguard that prevents green card numbers from being monopolized by citizens of one or two countries. Known as the “per country cap,” this provision ensures that the employment-based visas are available to a truly global pool of talent in a wide variety of occupational sectors. It should not be scrapped; eliminating it would benefit one industry (Big Tech) and two groups of applicants (Indian tech workers and Chinese investors) and squeeze out all others.

Jessica Vaughan, the director of policy studies for the Center for Immigration Studies, writes, “This bill is anything but fair to U.S. workers, because it strengthens and perpetuates a system that is actively displacing them. It offers a major concession to employers who have bypassed U.S. workers for decades, without reforming the system to reduce guestworker admissions or prevent employers from replacing U.S. workers.”

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This email was sent to (b)(6)
why did I get this? unsubscribe from this list update subscription preferences
Center for Immigration Studies · 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 · Washington, DC 20006 · USA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, December 20, 2019 3:23 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 12/20/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 12/20/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, Jessica Vaughan, and David North
2. "Five Ways America Should Secure the Border Against European-Style Terrorist Infiltration," Todd Bensman
3. "House Democrats and Republicans Collude on Dangerous Immigration Bill," Michael Cutler
4. "Trump Must Go After New York's Violation of Federal Immigration Law, Daniel Horowitz
5. "Out of the Shadows... and Into the Voting Booth?," Michelle Malkin
6. "America's Immigration Dilemma," Jason D. Hill
7. "A New Federal Report Illustrates the Damage Wrought by America's Open Borders," Mark Metcalf
8. "Illegals and the American Birthright," Noel S. Williams
9. "Lax Immigration Enforcement Is Killing Americans," Paul Mirengoff
10. "Border Patrol Agent Nick Ivie Was Killed By Smugglers, Not Friendly Fire," Rachel Alexander
11. "Sanders Wants a Pathway to Citizenship for Illegal Immigrants. What if They're on Welfare?," Eddie Scarry
12. "Two More States Giving License to the Normalization of Illegal Aliens," Jennifer G. Hickey
13. "Call Mexico's Cartels What They Are: Terrorists," Bob Dane
14. "Move Over Chicken Little. Maine's Business Leaders Have Got You Beat," Ira Mehlman
15. "New York to Begin Offering Driver's Licenses to Illegal Aliens This Week," Jazz Shaw
16. "Illegals Get Drivers Licenses in New York, Americans 'Hardest Hit' — by Hit and Run Drivers," James Fulford
17. "VOX's Victory—Spanish Patriots Get a Spain-First Voice in Parliament," Allan Wall
18. "House Dems Overwhelmingly Reject Motion to Condemn Illegal Immigrant Voting," Pamela Geller
19. "Trump Admin's 'Remain in Mexico' Asylum Rule Dramatically Cuts Down Migrant Acceptance Rate," Washington Watcher II

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

20. "Big Ag Amnesty Argument Shows GOP Progress—And Mounting Democratic Craziness. Could Be Good For Trump 2020.," Washington Watcher II
21. "Senate Sneaks in Secret Amnesty For Liberians in Spending Bill — Time to Wake Up Trump!," Washington Watcher II
22. "GOP Sen. Mike Lee Predicts Quick Passage of S.386 Visa-to-Voter Bill," Neil Munro
23. "Customs and Immigration Should Not Have Been Merged and Should Be Separated Again," David Ware
24. "Why Immigration Is so Important in the Global Race for Talent," Adi Gaskell
25. "Expect More Lawsuits and Restrictions on H-1B Visas in 2020," Stuart Anderson
26. "The Changing Face of Immigration," Alicia A. Caldwell
27. "The Radical Immigration Changes Under Trump That Went Unnoticed," Annalisa Merelli
28. "FACT: Immigration Made America Great," Stratfor Worldview
29. "Three Ways Our Immigration System Can Eliminate Barriers to Becoming a US Citizen," Melissa Cruz
30. "Joe Biden Wants to Allow States and Localities to Issue Immigration Visas," David Bier
31. "Trump's Border Wall Wouldn't Stop Most Illegal Immigration or Drugs. So What Is it for?," The Washington Post
32. "Trump Administration's Immigration Fees Would Hurt Immigrants in Philly and Nationwide," Cathryn Miller-Wilson

1.
CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

A Harsh Glimpse into What Cartel Rivals Say and Do to One Another and Corrupt Officials
December 19, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Harsh-Glimpse-What-Cartel-Rivals-Say-and-Do-One-Another-and-Corrupt-Officials

In Dealing with the Cartels, Is It Terrorist Designation or Nothing?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

December 19, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Dealing-Cartels-It-Terrorist-Designation-or-Nothing

When the Justice System Tilts Toward Aliens

December 17, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/When-Justice-System-Tilts-Toward-Aliens

By Andrew R. Arthur

Liberian Amnesty Stuffed into NDAA 2020

It's overbroad, sets a bad precedent, and has nothing to do with defense

December 20, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Liberian-Amnesty-Stuffed-NDAA-2020

Bad Border Reporting Requirement Stripped Out of NDAA 2020

As I take possibly undeserved credit

December 19, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Bad-Border-Reporting-Requirement-Stripped-Out-NDAA-2020

Why Is 'Parole in Place' in the NDAA?

Sympathetic cases legislate bad law

December 18, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Why-Parole-Place-NDAA

Circuit Court Rules Government Can Detain on Immigration Grounds Pending Prosecution

The triumph of logic over obfuscation

December 18, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Circuit-Court-Rules-Government-Can-Detain-Immigration-Grounds-Pending-Prosecution

Rep. Van Drew Joins the GOP

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The name might sound familiar
December 17, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Rep-Van-Drew-Joins-GOP

ICE Report: 'Alternatives to Detention' Don't Work
December 16, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/ICE-Report-Alternatives-Detention-Dont-Work

By Jessica M. Vaughan

Senate Action on Big Tech Green Card Bill S.386
December 18, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Vaughan/Senate-S386-HR1044-Country-Cap

By David North

How to Eliminate the Visa Waiting Lists Without a Massive Influx of New Aliens
December 20, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/How-Eliminate-Visa-Waiting-Lists-Without-Massive-Influx-New-Aliens

Looseness of OPT Rules Exposed in an Ad for a Wedding Coordinator
December 19, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Looseness-OPT-Rules-Exposed-Ad-Wedding-Coordinator

Cato's Approach to Backlogged Visas: All Aspirations Should Be Honored
December 18, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Catos-Approach-Backlogged-Visas-All-Aspirations-Should-Be-Honored

If an EB-5 Convict's Business Wins in Court, Shouldn't the Prison

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Sentence Be Mentioned?
December 17, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/If-EB5-Convicts-Business-Wins-Court-Shouldnt-Prison-Sentence-Be-Mentioned

A Good Court Ruling on Alien Workers Coming from an Unexpected Place
December 16, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Good-Court-Ruling-Alien-Workers-Coming-Unexpected-Place

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Part IV: Five Ways America Should Secure the Border Against European-Style Terrorist Infiltration
By Todd Bensman
Townhall.com, December 16, 2019
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/toddbensman/2019/12/16/part-iv-five-ways-america-should-secure-the-border-against-europeanstyle-terrorist-infiltration-n2558042

Return to Top

****
****

3.
House Democrats and Republicans Collude on Dangerous Immigration Bill
Legislation ignores findings of the 9/11 Commission.
By Michael Cutler

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FrontPageMag.com, December 18, 2019

. . .

https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2019/12/house-democrats-and-republicans-collude-dangerous-michael-cutler/

Return to Top

****

****

4.

Trump Must Go After New York's Violation of Federal Immigration Law

By Daniel Horowitz

Conservative Review, December 16, 2019

. . .

https://www.conservativereview.com/news/trump-must-go-new-yorks-violation-federal-immigration-law/

Return to Top

****

****

5.

Out of the Shadows... and Into the Voting Booth?

By Michelle Malkin

Townhall.com, December 18, 2019

. . .

https://townhall.com/columnists/michellemalkin/2019/12/18/out-of-the-shadows-and-into-the-voting-booth-n2558185

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

6.

America's Immigration Dilemma

What makes an immigrant culturally qualified to enter the United States?

By Jason D. Hill

FrontPageMag.com, December 18, 2019

. . .

https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2019/12/our-immigration-dilemma-jason-d-hill/

Return to Top

****

****

7.

A New Federal Report Illustrates the Damage Wrought by America's Open Borders

By Mark Metcalf

TheHill.com, December 13, 2019

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/360073-a-new-federal-report-illustrates-the-damage-wrought-by-americas-open#BOTTOM-STORY-SOCIALS

Return to Top

****

****

8.

Illegals and the American Birthright

By Noel S. Williams

American Thinker, December 18, 2019

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/articles/2019/12/illegals_and_the_american_birthright.html

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

9.

Lax Immigration Enforcement Is Killing Americans

By Paul Mirengoff

Powerline Blog December 16, 2019

. . .

https://www.powerlineblog.com/archives/2019/12/lax-immigration-enforcement-is-killing-americans.php

Return to Top

****

****

10.

Border Patrol Agent Nick Ivie Was Killed by Smugglers, Not Friendly Fire

By Rachel Alexander

Townhall.com, December 16, 2019

. . .

https://townhall.com/columnists/rachelalexander/2019/12/16/border-patrol-agent-nick-ivie-was-killed-by-smugglers-not-friendly-fire-n2558043

Return to Top

****

****

11.

Sanders Wants a Pathway to Citizenship for Illegal Immigrants. What if They're on Welfare?

By Eddie Scarry

Washington Examiner, December 19, 2019

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/bernie-sanders-wants-a-pathway-to-citizenship-for-illegal-immigrants-what-if-theyre-on-welfare

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Two More States Giving License to the Normalization of Illegal Aliens
By Jennifer G. Hickey
ImmigrationReform.com, December 17, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/17/drivers-licenses-illegals-states-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Call Mexico's Cartels What They Are: Terrorists
By Bob Dane
ImmigrationReform.com, December 17, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/17/mexico-cartels-terrorists-congress-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Move Over Chicken Little. Maine's Business Leaders Have Got You Beat

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Ira Mehlman
ImmigrationReform.com, December 16, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/16/daca-maine-illegal-immigration-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

15.
New York to Begin Offering Driver's Licenses to Illegal Aliens This Week
By Jazz Shaw
HotAir.com, December 14, 2019
. . .
https://hotair.com/archives/jazz-shaw/2019/12/14/new-york-begin-offering-drivers-licenses-illegal-aliens-week/

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Illegals Get Drivers Licenses in New York, Americans "Hardest Hit"—By Hit and Run Drivers
By James Fulford
VDare.com blog, December 16, 2019
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/illegals-get-drivers-licenses-in-new-york-americans-hardest-hit-by-hit-and-run-drivers

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

17.

VOX's Victory—Spanish Patriots Get a Spain-First Voice in Parliament

By Allan Wall

VDare.com, December 17, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/said-in-spanish-vox-s-victory-spanish-patriots-get-a-spain-first-voice-in-parliament

Return to Top

****

****

18.

House Dems Overwhelmingly Reject Motion to Condemn Illegal Immigrant Voting

By Pamela Geller

DC Dirty Laundry, December 9, 2019

. . .

https://dcdirtylaundry.com/house-dems-overwhelmingly-reject-motion-to-condemn-illegal-immigrant-voting/

Return to Top

****

****

19.

Trump Admin's 'Remain in Mexico' Asylum Rule Dramatically Cuts Down Migrant Acceptance Rate

By Washington Watcher II

VDare.com, December 17, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/trump-admin-s-remain-in-mexico-asylum-rule-dramatically-cuts-down-migrant-acceptance-rate

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

20.

Big Ag Amnesty Argument Shows GOP Progress—And Mounting Democratic Craziness. Could Be Good For Trump 2020.

By Washington Watcher II

VDare.com, December 16, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/big-ag-amnesty-argument-shows-gop-progress-and-mounting-democratic-craziness-could-be-good-for-trump-2020

Return to Top

****

****

21.

Senate Sneaks in Secret Amnesty For Liberians in Spending Bill — Time to Wake Up Trump!

By Washington Watcher II

VDare.com, December 18, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/senate-sneaks-in-secret-amnesty-for-liberians-in-spending-bill-time-to-wake-up-trump

Return to Top

****

****

22.

GOP Sen. Mike Lee Predicts Quick Passage of S.386 Visa-to-Voter Bill

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Neil Munro
Breitbart.com News, December 18, 2019
. . .
https://www.breitbart.com/economy/2019/12/18/mike-lee-predicts-quick-passage-of-s-386-green-card-giveaway/

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Customs and Immigration Should Not Have Been Merged and Should Be Separated Again
By David Ware
NOQ Report, December 15, 2019
. . .
https://noqreport.com/2019/12/15/customs-immigration-not-merged-separated/

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Why Immigration Is so Important in the Global Race for Talent
By Adi Gaskell
Forbes.com, December 17, 2019
. . .
https://www.forbes.com/sites/adigaskell/2019/12/17/why-immigration-is-so-important-in-the-global-race-for-talent/#4c1473910222

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

25.

Expect More Lawsuits and Restrictions on H-1B Visas in 2020

By Stuart Anderson

Forbes.com, December 16, 2019

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2019/12/16/expect-more-lawsuits-and-restrictions-on-h-1b-visas-in-2020/#6114162767c8

Return to Top

****

****

26.

The Changing Face of Immigration

Most of those crossing into the U.S. illegally used to be Mexican men seeking work. Now it is families and unaccompanied minors from Central America seeking asylum.

By Alicia A. Caldwell

The Wall Street Journal, December 17, 2019

. . .

https://www.wsj.com/articles/the-changing-face-of-immigration-11576630807

Return to Top

****

****

27.

The Radical Immigration Changes Under Trump That Went Unnoticed

By Annalisa Merelli

Quartz, December 17, 2019

. . .

https://qz.com/1760536/the-radical-immigration-changes-under-trump-that-went-unnoticed/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

28.
FACT: Immigration Made America Great
An American experience.
By Stratfor Worldview
The National Interest, December 15, 2019
. . .
https://nationalinterest.org/blog/buzz/fact-immigration-made-america-great-105282

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Three Ways Our Immigration System Can Eliminate Barriers to Becoming a US Citizen
By Melissa Cruz
ImmigrationImpact.com, December 19, 2019
. . .
http://immigrationimpact.com/2019/12/19/three-ways-to-become-a-us-citizen/#.Xf0aWG5Fyyc

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Joe Biden Wants to Allow States and Localities to Issue Immigration Visas
An interesting idea.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By David Bier
The National Interest, December 15, 2019
. . .
https://nationalinterest.org/blog/buzz/joe-biden-wants-allow-states-and-localities-issue-immigration-visas-105032

Return to Top

****
****

31.
Trump's Border Wall Wouldn't Stop Most Illegal Immigration or Drugs. So What Is it for?
The Washington Post, December 15, 2019
. . .
https://www.washingtonpost.com/opinions/trumps-border-wall-wouldnt-stop-most-illegal-immigration-or-drugs-so-what-is-it-for/2019/12/15/dffc76d0-1161-11ea-bf62-eadd5d11f559_story.html

Return to Top

****
****

32.
Trump Administration's Immigration Fees Would Hurt Immigrants in Philly and Nationwide
By Cathryn Miller-Wilson
The Philadelphia Inquirer, December 15, 2019
. . .
https://www.inquirer.com/opinion/commentary/immigration-fees-trump-administration-philadelphia-pennsylvania-20191215.html

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, December 23, 2019 1:24 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: VIDEO: Newsmaker with CBP Head Mark Morgan

VIDEO: Newsmaker with CBP Head Mark Morgan

More than 450 miles of wall expected to be completed or in the works by the end of 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (December 23, 2019) – Video and transcript are now available from Friday's Center for Immigration Studies Immigration Newsmaker conversation with U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) Acting Commissioner Mark Morgan. Mr. Morgan spoke with Jessica Vaughan, the Center's director of policy studies, emphasizing progress on the border wall, the ongoing crisis at the southwest border, the increase in migration from extra-continental countries, drug smuggling, the dangers of New York's new driver's license law, and work on an entry-exit tracking system.

Video: https://cis.org/Immigration-Newsmaker/Conversation-Customs-Border-Protection-Mark-Morgan
Transcript: https://cis.org/Transcript/Conversation-Customs-Border-Protection-Mark-Morgan

Highlights from Commissioner Morgan:

Southwest Border Update

"[Cartels and human smuggling organizations] saw that we were making progress towards stemming the flow of illegal immigration from the Northern Triangle countries, really taking billions of dollars out of their pockets, and they shifted. So they're shifting towards supporting additional migration from extra-continental countries as well as Mexican nationals...Indians, Africans, Haitians, Brazilians, I mean, the list goes on and on and on...we're seeing thousands of each of those groups. And we're seeing – from this time last year we're seeing an increase sometimes 200, 300 percent of what we saw last year."

"The families from the Northern Triangle countries – and again, since May that's gone down 85 percent, overall the flow has gone down 70 percent – we're still at crisis numbers. We're still averaging between 1,400 and 1,500 daily."

"Congress has still failed to pass a single piece of meaningful legislation that would address this [immigration crisis]...It would take them 15 minutes, single piece of paper, and they could end probably 90, 95 percent of this immigration crisis that we're in. It would say three things. It would address the Flores Settlement Agreement... [allow us to send] unaccompanied minors from the Northern Triangle countries [to their home countries] and the credible fear standard...I'd probably throw in there give ICE some more bed space."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"Regardless of how great Mexico's stepping up and the Northern Triangle countries, at the end the United States, we cannot rely on other countries to fix our broken system... to have a durable, lasting solution to fixing our current legal framework, Congress has to act."

"What we're seeing now is an increase in the extra-continentals and we're seeing an increase in Mexican nationals, single adults and families, of which those initiatives right now with Mexico aren't being applied. But we're working with Mexico to expand that. We're also working with the government of Guatemala and Honduras on the ACA, the Asylum Cooperative Agreement, to also expand that so that they will also receive Mexican nationals as well."

"The ironic thing is right now we have other countries that are stepping up, seeing this as a regional crisis, addressing it as a regional crisis, and they're actually doing more to help us than our own Congress is."

"We just released funding back to the Northern Triangle countries, millions of dollars specifically designed to improve their asylum capacity as well as their interior enforcement ability to go after the cartels and the smuggling organizations."

National Security Crisis (Drugs, Cartels, and Gangs)

Last year, CBP apprehended "Over a thousand gang members... seized over 800,000 pounds of drugs. Think about that stat: 800,000 pounds. Air and Marine Branch, they contributed to, with other partners, another 300,000 pounds of drugs. The four hard narcotics – heroin, meth, fentanyl, cocaine – all those hard narcotics went up last year. Fentanyl, RGV alone – one sector out of nine sectors – seized 11 pounds. That's enough to kill 2 million people in the United States."

"Every town, city, and state in this country is a border town, city, and state, and because mark my words, if you have a meth overdose in Ohio, for example, mark my words, that meth came from the southwest border."

"When we talk about the crisis at the border, when we talk about the need for a wall as one tool, it's not just about stemming the flow of illegal immigration. It's about also stopping the drugs pouring into this country that killed 68,000 people last year."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"Why is there so much violence in Mexico? Why are the cartels warring with each other for control over the plaza, control over the smuggling routes? Because it's so profitable... it's a multibillion-dollar industry for them every single year. We estimate that the cartels, over $60 billion that they have."

A conservative estimate of cartel revenue from smuggling - $4 billion a year.

The Wall

Addressing some false narratives. A wall "is something that the experts have asked for. This is something that the Border Patrol agents and the leadership has asked for. This isn't something that the president asked for. This president asked the experts what they needed and he's delivering on what they have asked for."

"When you talk about the wall, it's not just a wall; it's a wall system. And it's not just a wall system; it's a part of a multilayer strategy of infrastructure, technology, and personnel. Everywhere along the southwest border where those three approaches have coalesced together effectively in a strategic location, it has absolutely made an impact both on the illegal flow of migration as well as drugs and bad people, every single place that that has been implemented. And we have the data and we can show that."

"I can say without hesitation, without doubt, every mile of new wall that's being built, this country is more safe because of it, because it absolutely increases the Border Patrol's operational capacity to be able to do what they need to do."

"... when I say I want the wall, it's not a political statement for me; it's from a law enforcement perspective. It's having the honor to be in this position and give the tools – the most effective tools – to the men and women of the Border Patrol..."

"This new funding that came [$1.375 billion] I'm absolutely confident not only are we going to, you know, get to somewhere between 4(00), 450 miles that are built, but I think we're actually going to exceed that. I think we're going to have more miles either under contract, being built, or ready to be built even exceeds the 450 by the end of 2020."

"Throughout the southwest border, all 2,000 miles, we estimated at least 150,000 [evaded our security at the border]. I think that's conservative. I think it's higher...a lot of people will say, well, those numbers are small. Well, how many is acceptable? How many? How many – how many rapists, how many murderers, how many pedophiles are acceptable? How many gang members? How many MS-13 members are acceptable for us to allow into this country? That's the question we should be asking. From my perspective, law enforcement for a lot of decades trying to safeguard this country, the answer is easy. It's zero. That's why we need to strengthen our borders. That's why we need the wall, along with other things."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Border Patrol Agents

"There were 4,900 rescues by Border Patrol agents and officers last year. So they saw somebody in need. They didn't stop to say, wait a minute, are you trying to illegally enter this country? No, they didn't ask that. They didn't ask, hey, what's your nationality? No, that didn't happen. What they saw is somebody, a human being, in need, and they immediately went into action..."

"Healthcare. We average between 70 to 80 hospital visits just along the southwest border every day."

Entry-Exit System

"We've expanded [biometric entry-exit] to 16 airports ...What I like to say we do is not facial recognition because recognition takes on a different kind of term. Really, what CBP is doing is facial comparison... And that's a very important distinction. So we actually have a database, right, a manifest where we have those photos, and we actually compare that one to one...sometimes when you look at facial recognition you're thinking some sort of surveillance program. That's not what we're doing."

"We have put millions and millions through this new biometric facial comparison process at a 98 to 99 percent accuracy rate."

"On the land side... in 2020 we're going to expand it to four areas on the southwest border."

New York's "Green Light Law"

"I can't have enough strong reaction. It's reckless. It's irresponsible. It's politics at its worst. I'm telling you – I'm telling the American people that this policy by New York will absolutely make this country less safe."

"Anytime you take a legitimate law enforcement tool away from a law enforcement entity, think about that: you're reducing their ability to safeguard this country every single time you're taking away a tool. That's exactly what this – has happened."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Further Reading:

https://cis.org/Report/New-York-GreenLight-Law-Creates-Serious-and-Unprecedented-Hurdles-Immigration-Enforcement

https://cis.org/Bensman/Next-Influx-Entire-Worlds-Poor-and-Dispossessed

https://cis.org/Bensman/Encampment-International-Migrants-Mexico-Reminds-Homeland-Security-Must-Vet-Ever-More

https://cis.org/Arthur/Campo-DriveThrough-Shows-Why-We-Need-Wall-Upgrade

https://cis.org/Arthur/If-You-Are-Just-Now-Angry-About-UAC-Detention-You-Havent-Been-Paying-Attention

https://cis.org/Arthur/Border-Patrol-Agent-Dies-Desert

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

From: Center for Immigration Studies <center@cis.org>
Sent: Monday, December 23, 2019 2:58 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 12/23/19

Immigration Events, 12/23/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 1/2-5, DC - Immigration at the Association of American Law Schools annual meeting
2. 1/3-6, New York, NY - Immigration at the American Historical Association annual meeting
3. 1/3-6, San Diego - Immigration at the American Economic Association annual meeting
4. 1/13, San Diego - Book discussion: Citizenship in Hard Times
5. 1/15, DC - Annual U.S.-Mexico security conference - [New Listing]
6. 1/16, Paris - OECD forum on building a whole-of-society approach to emerging migration and integration challenges
7. 1/16-19, DC - Immigration at the Society for Social Work and Research annual conference
8. 1/17, Paris - Conference on making migration and integration policies future ready
9. 1/17-18, Copenhagen, Denmark - Conference on forced displacement
10. 1/19-21, Cairo - IOM/OECD International Forum on Migration Statistics

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

11. 1/21-24, Quito, Ecuador - Annual Mayoral Forum on Human Mobility, Migration and Development

12. 1/21, Florence, Italy - Lecture on the democratic case for immigration in the EU - [New Listing]

13. 1/23, Toronto - Discussion on Civil society and the everyday politics of the global refugee regime

14. 1/23, Canada/North America - Webinar on local strategies to support immigrant business and local prosperity - [New Listing]

15. 1/24-25, Dubai, U.A.E. - EB-5 investors conference - [New Listing]

16. 2/3, San Diego - Seminar on emigrant political rights in Latin America - [New Listing]

17. 2/4, Toronto - Discussion on State responsibilities towards refugees under the 1967 Protocol to the 1951 Convention

18. 2/14, Los Angeles - Lecture on explaining state responses to refugees - [New Listing]

19. 2/17-21, San José, Costa Rica - World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges

20. 2/24, San Diego - Seminar on the White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression

21. 2/27, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migrant lives at Israel's margins

22. 3/11-12, San Antonio - Border Security Expo

23. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary

24. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention - [New Listing]

25. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of fake news - [New Listing]

1.

Association of American Law Schools annual meeting

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thursday-Sunday, January 2–5, 2020
Marriott Wardman Park
2660 Woodley Road NW
Washington, DC 20008
https://am.aals.org/

Immigration-related sessions:

Friday, January 3, 2020

8:30-10:15 a.m.

Immigration Control and Environmental Regulation: Toward Justice?

Natural disasters and social conflicts spurred by deteriorating environmental conditions and climate change are driving people to move across borders. Economically disadvantaged communities, racial minorities, and indigenous people are often in the first wave of displaced people in the world's poorer countries. These same communities are also the most heavily impacted by pollution and environmental degradation in the places that they live and work in the United States. This panel will explore the issues of immigration and environmental regulation. How do environmental regulatory and deregulatory schemes in the U.S. impact immigrant communities? How have arguments about the effects of immigrants on the environment been used to restrict migration and the rights of migrants? How should existing domestic and international legal frameworks governing migration be revised to respond to environmentally motivated migration?

1:30-3:15 p.m.

Exploring Immigrant Justice from Intersectional Perspectives

This panel will consider justice for immigrants. Since the 2016 election, Trump's policies and discourse surrounding immigration have fundamentally challenged

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

the pillars of democracy. In the process of regulating who can come in and remain in the US, immigration law and policy touches on how we conceive of family, work, criminal justice, civil rights, and international law. This program focuses on those engaged in teaching and scholarship that is intersectional with immigration law such as criminal law, employment and labor rights, human rights, and community economic development. In particular, it seeks to create a dialogue between clinical and non-clinical faculty and consider how such perspectives could help push the boundaries of what justice looks like for immigrant communities.

3:30-5:15 p.m.

New Voices in Immigration Law: Works in Progress

New voices in immigration law will have the opportunity to present works-in-progress and receive feedback from senior scholars. Presenters were selected from a call for papers.

Saturday, January 4, 2020

10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

The Challenge of International Law in Dealing with the Causes of the Global Refugee Crisis: Climate Change, Armed Conflict, and Gross Human Rights Abuses Perpetrated by State and Non-State Actors

Most scholarly attention has focused on the receiving countries' harsh response to the worldwide refugee crisis. Relatively few scholars have focused on its causes—why so many, primarily from the Global South, have left their homes. Our main program will attempt to answer this critical question and analyze the role of international law.

1:30-3:15 p.m.

Federal Courts at the Border

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In recent years, growing dysfunction in the United States' immigration system has put pressure upon the federal courts to play a central role in lawmaking at the nation's border. Disputes about asylum and refugee policy, the proposed border wall, cross-border shootings, and the application of the Suspension Clause to undocumented immigrants have underscored the difficult role of federal courts at the border. This panel will consider federal court doctrines that bear upon the availability of judicial review at the border, asking whether and to what extent those doctrines create zones free from judicial oversight. It will also ask in what ways recent challenges to immigration law and policy have shaped the doctrines of federal courts law. Finally, the panel will look to see what light disputes at the border may shed upon the design of and practical constraints upon the federal courts system.

Sunday, January 5, 2020

8:30-10:15 a.m.

Recent Developments: How Easily Can Agencies Change Regulatory Policy in Immigration & Civil Rights?

The use of guidance documents in regulatory agencies is one of the most challenging aspects of administrative law. When an agency uses a guidance document to change or make policy, it need not provide notice to the public or allow comment on the new rule. This makes change easier, faster, and less subject to review. Under previous administrations, guidance documents were used to implement policies in many subject areas, including civil rights and immigration. The current administration has rolled back many of these policies. This program consists of a moderated panel on recent developments in the use of guidance documents.The speakers will highlight two reports to the Administrative Conference of the United States proposing changes to Administrative Procedure Act and an executive order mandating increased use of notice and comment. They will comment on controversies involving DACA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003966

and Title IX that demonstrate the stakes of change.

3:30-5:15 p.m.

Scaling the Invisible Wall: Bureaucratic Controls Over Legal Immigration

This session will examine the "invisible wall," a term that refers to non-statutory hurdles faced by legal immigrants. Executive branch actions at times affect access to legal immigration despite statutory opportunities. Changes in agency policy, changes in agency mood, or other phenomena can narrow the availability of legal opportunities for immigration. Examples of the invisible wall include preventing asylum seekers from accessing the border, increased denial rates of applications for legal status, and slower processing times of applications for legal status. The invisible wall implicates separation of powers principles because it questions the boundaries of executive branch enforcement. It also challenges notions of transparency in administrative law and raises questions about how attorneys should respond to the challenges of the invisible wall. The invisible wall also highlights the need to explore the principles that should influence the design and governance of a legal immigration system.

Return to Top

****

****

2.

American Historical Association annual meeting

Friday-Monday, January 3-6, 2020
The New York Hilton
1335 Avenue of the Americas

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Sheraton New York
811 7th Avenue
New York, NY
https://www.historians.org/annual-meeting

Immigration-related sessions:

Friday, January 3, 2020

1:30-3:00 p.m.

Liberty, Legitimacy, and Forced Migrations across Empires: Refugees in the Ottoman, Russian, and Hapsburg Empires, 1848–1920

Papers:

Fight, Flight, and Negotiating the Road Back Home: Hungarian and Polish '48ers under Ottoman Protection
Jared Manasek, Pace University

Leaving the Ottoman Empire: Muslim Return Migration to Russia and Refugee Crises on the Russo-Ottoman Border, 1865–80
Vladimir Hamed-Troyansky, Columbia University, Harriman Institute

Bounding Communities: Identifying Immigrants in the Late Ottoman Empire, 1908–14
Ella Fratantuono, University of North Carolina at Charlotte

State Legitimacy and Refugee Settlement on the Frontier of Southern Syria, 1878–1920
Patrick Adamiak, University of California, San Diego

Session Abstract: From 1848 to the end of WWI, millions of migrants crossed the changing boundaries of the Russian, Ottoman, and Hapsburg Empires.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

These migrants fled consolidating state control over spaces, which was accompanied not only by greater control over movement but also by a politics geared toward homogenizing populations. In turn, in an era of hardening exclusive nationalisms, migrants sought refuge among coreligionists or co-ethnics with increasing frequency. The papers in this panel engage specifically with migration and settlement around the Black Sea, ranging from the flight of Hungarians and Poles into the Ottoman Empire following the political upheaval of 1848 to the movement of Circassians, Chechens, and Daghestanis into the Balkans, Anatolia, and Syria. Taken together, they consider anew the applicability of frameworks of "forced" or "free," emphasize the agency of refugees, explore how empires' responses to movement intertwined with new claims of legitimacy internationally and within their territories, and evaluate how migrants engaged with and became discursively attached to concepts of coercion and liberty in pre- and post-revolutionary contexts.

The field of migration history has long grappled with the conceptual distinction between "free" and forced migrations. In the past two decades, scholars working in the field have explored the complexity of migrants' motivations. They have excavated the ways in which scholars' categorizations of movement have led to a concurrent segmentation and even racialization of various migrations. For example, historians have outlined how the distinction between forced and free contributed to American exceptionalism in its "nation of immigrants" myth, cast movement occurring beyond the Atlantic as different from the industrialized "age of mass migration," or suggested that even within a world economic system, those outside of Transatlantic systems moved only in response to European penetration and economic integration. This panel applies those insights to an essential and understudied geography that encompasses different degrees, agents, and experiences of violence and coercion, and in which people moved within complex and existing trans-imperial networks that themselves involved enslavement and coercion.

Each paper on this panel evaluates migration outcomes from the perspectives

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003969

of migrants and states. The papers revisit questions of how religion shaped the directionality and experiences of migrants in an era in which political rights were increasingly tied to ethno-religious categories. Rather than simple stories of the "unmixing of peoples" according to religion, the papers open up new venues to consider the importance, if any, that migrants attached to religion as they moved within and between empires. While the panel is interested in the experiences of migrants themselves, it is likewise interested in the ways in which migrations shaped shifting claims of legitimacy among imperial states, highlighting the promises and failures of developing infrastructures of aid, measurement, and territoriality. In doing so, the panel contributes to scholarship on the long history of displacement and administrative response in the making of post-Hapsburg, post-Ottoman, and post-Russian states.

The Other Illegals: Unauthorized European Immigration to the US in the 20th Century

Papers:

White Illegals: Italian Migrants and the Rise of a Global Regime of Immigration Restriction

Maddalena Marinari, Gustavus Adolphus College

Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression

S. Deborah Kang, California State University, San Marcos

The Privileges of Illegality: Unauthorized Italian Immigration to the United States and Adjustment of Status in the 20th Century

Danielle Battisti, University of Nebraska, Omaha

3:30-5:00 p.m.

In the Hands of the People: Negotiating US Immigration Policy from

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003970

Below

Papers:

Alien Contract Labor Law and the Problem of Imported Labor in Gilded Age America

Hidetaka Hirota, Sophia University

To Have Your Chop Suey and Eat It Too: Chinese Restaurant Owners' Battle for Immigration Privileges, 1897–1919

Heather R. Lee, NYU Shanghai

The War Brides Acts and Engagements under Military Rule

Julian Lim, Arizona State University

Session Abstract: This panel suggests how individuals affected by discriminatory laws and policies found that by acting collectively, they could ameliorate those provisions of discriminatory legislation that most menaced their rights and interests. Presenters focus on three particular areas where the law significantly shaped Americans' and foreigners' lives: labor, business, and marriage. In oftentimes forgotten ways, small actors in the past stood their ground, when American policies and enforcers attempted to strip rights from them. As individuals, they usually fail, but through collective efforts, they have successfully pushed against interests and forces much larger than themselves. This panel provides new perspectives on agency in the history of US immigration law by analyzing how ordinary Americans and immigrants endorsed, challenged, and manipulated the law outside policymakers' offices.

The panelists examine collective efforts influencing the inclusions and exclusions of American immigration law. Hidetake Hirota focuses on the 1885 Alien Contract Labor Law, showing how fear of foreign workers inspired racial nationalism among US voters in all states. Hirota argues that question of immigration control was elevated from a regional issue confined to coastal states to one that unified white natives against racialized foreigners. Heather Lee shifts the conversation from the advocates to the subjects of restrictive immigration laws. Lee demonstrates that the numerous court appeals and challenges brought by the Chinese changed the enforcement of Chinese exclusion laws in meaningful ways in the early twentieth century. The Chinese created breathing room under the suffocating blanket of Chinese Exclusion, which aimed to end most, if not all, their emigration to the United States. Julian Lim demonstrates how immigrants leveraged federal immigration laws against discriminatory state laws. She traces how the War Brides Acts of the post-World War II era created an opening for certain U.S. soldiers to bring their foreign wives and fiancees to the United States. In particular, she examines the interracial unions between American soldiers - both black and white servicemen - and European and Asian women, and the ways in which such federally-sanctioned interracial unions challenged state anti-miscegenation laws.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003971

These histories disrupt the clean lines of historical specialization, bringing together the fields of foreign policy, legal history, labor history, social history, and the history of capitalism to bear on immigration history. The panel also offers an alternative conceptualization of agency, one that gives weight to how actors leveraged their differing subject positions.

These histories of the American past urge us to pay attention to the small scale strategies of people on the ground. In moment of heightened racial nationalism, the proclamations from the Oval Office and the halls of Congress provide parts of the whole. The average advocate and subject create meaning and intention out of federal legislation. On the battlegrounds of immigration offices, these parties negotiate the actual borders between inclusion and exclusion. This panel is sponsored by the Immigration and Ethnic History Society. Two senior historians of American immigration, Alan Kraut and Lucy Salyer, will serve as chair and commentator, respectively.

Saturday, January 4, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003972

8:30-10:00 a.m.

Migrants' Nature: Mobility, Labor, and the Environment in Latin America and the Caribbean

Papers:

Drought and Diaspora: Mexican Mennonite "Braceros" and Northern Mexico's Mid-20th-Century Drought

Ben Nobbs-Thiessen, Washington State University

Migrant Workers and the Turtle Trade in the Brazilian Amazon at the Turn of the 20th Century

Thaís Sant'ana, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

"Great Calamities": Spaniards, Africans, and the Laboring Environments of Late Colonial Cuba, 1851–92

Oscar de la Torre, University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Servants of the Seasons: Glimpses of Labor Mobility across the Early Americas

Molly A. Warsh, University of Pittsburgh

Session Abstract: This panel examines the links between migration, labor and the natural world in both the early modern and modern contexts of Latin America and the Caribbean. The featured papers offer comparative and ecological perspectives on the movement of unsettled peoples within regions and across borders, on the ways migrant workers build their own society-nature relations in their destinations, and on these processes' implications. A close look at African and indigenous laborers conducting seasonal work in the early-modern Americas reveals important connections between itinerant labor and climate change, and challenges conventional narratives of slavery and freedom. In late colonial Cuba, unhealthy laboring environments threatened the lives of both Spanish and African workers, and became one of the most important factors in shaping the social crisis that affected the island in the context of Cuban struggle for independence. In the Brazilian Amazon at the turn of the twentieth century, the local government's attempt to limit the trade in turtles encountered resistance among caboclo migrant workers who helped promote a public debate on natural resource conservation, cultural tradition, and state intervention in the region's economy. In mid-twentieth-century Northern Mexico, devastating droughts led low-German speaking Mennonites to become seasonal "braceros." They helped foster, as a consequence, a culture of long-distance migration that transformed farming in Northern Mexico and in Mennonite colonies of Canada.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003973

The papers in this panel critically engage several linked questions. How can we understand labor and mobility from an ecological perspective? How does the environment inform the experiences of migrant workers? How can historians assess freedom of choice in scenarios where changes in the natural world and the work of migrants are interconnected? How do ecological perspectives on migrants and nature reframe long-standing issues and debates in the history of Latin America and the Caribbean?

In highlighting the multiform relationship between human agency and the environment, this panel moves beyond the human-nature dichotomy. Instead, it proposes new avenues for conceptualizing how migrant workers shaped spatial, cultural, ecologic, political and economic processes and outcomes in Latin America and the Caribbean.

10:30 a.m.-12:00 p.m.

The Changing History of Immigration in NYC: Digital Community Archivists

Papers:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003974

NHPRC Project in Flushing High School

John Ronzino, high school teacher

NHPRC Project in Xavier High School

Stephen F. Haller, Xavier High School

NHPRC Project at the High School for Environmental Studies

Jeremy Mellema, high school teacher

NHPRC Project at Brooklyn Tech

Judith Jeremie, high school teacher; Sean McManamon, Brooklyn Technical High School

NHPRC Project at Eleanor Roosevelt High School

Jennifer Stalec, high school teacher

Session Abstract: Funded by the National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC), the Queens Immigration Project employs inquiry-based approaches to family history for New York City Public School grade 10 teachers who wish to inspire their students to employ historical methods and thinking, while learning research and digital literacy skills. The goal of the project is to develop curricula and resources to inspire inquiry-based that addresses questions of globalization and immigration and to engage teachers and students in the research and re-use of extant, freely available digital historical records.

Over the past two years, teachers have employed the project to collect students' immigration stories about their families and their neighborhoods. Students have documented the push and pull factors of immigration, and they have documented how their neighborhoods have changed over time by capturing oral histories of neighbors, friends, and family and researching the events that people described and creating an artifact to share through

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003975

EngageNY, New York's open educational resource platform.

In this practicum, the two Principal Investigators (Kathy Shaughnessy and Elaine Carey) and the grant project assistant, John Ronzino, will present the NHPRC platform as a tool for teachers.

Diasporas Imagined and Created: Migrants, Exiles, and Refuges in Africa, Europe, and the Americas

Papers:

Making the Gulf World: 19th-Century Migrations in and in between Cuba, Mexico, and the United States

Dalia A. Muller, State University of New York, University at Buffalo

From Sojourn to Settlement: The 20th-Century Migration of Highly Skilled Nigerians to the United States

Mary E. Dillard, Sarah Lawrence College

Religion and Migration: Stories from African Lisbon

Michelle Johnson, Bucknell University

Session Abstract: Migration is an integral part of human societies, across all historical eras. People's acts of migration globally reveal a great deal about the individual and collective experience. In light of people's growing comfort with leaving home to seek out opportunities, in parts of the world with little immediate connection to the familiar, combined with growing discomfort and concerns over climate change, economic instabilities, and political authoritarianism it is critical that historians look to and work more closely with the sciences and social sciences to make sense of and write narratives of migration. This panel examines migrations within and out of previously colonized societies. Drawing on various forms of social science and humanities data and methodologies, these papers provide important insights into rationales, approaches, and sensibilities individuals have to migration as well as how places, identities, and the sense of belonging are being made in the process of these various forced and chosen migrations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003976

Shifting the Boundaries of Inclusion: Immigrant Rights in the 20th-Century United States

Papers:

From Civil Rights to Human Rights: The Origins of the Immigrant Rights Movement

Maggie Elmore, University of Notre Dame

"An Act of Public Witness": Sanctuary, Religious Spaces, and Immigration Activism in Midwestern Sanctuary Movements

Sergio M. González, Marquette University

"To Reward the Wrong Way Is Not the American Way": Welfare, Immigrants' Rights, and the Battle over Benefits

Sarah Coleman, Texas State University

Session Abstract: "Shifting the Boundaries of Inclusion: Immigrant Rights in the Twentieth Century United States" consists of three papers that consider how different groups - religious organizations, civil rights groups, international human rights activists, and immigration restrictionists - sought to define immigrants rights in the late 20th century United States. At the core of the panel, is a historical analysis of the nature of American identity in the post-Civil Rights Era. The panel examines competing claims of citizenship. It expands our understanding of citizenship and belonging by placing efforts to define immigrant rights within the larger context of battles over the meaning and nature of the US's social contract. In so doing, the panel contributes to emerging scholarship on the immigrant rights movement, as well as the post 1960s US political landscape.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003977

Taken together, these three papers reveal the contested battles to expand and restrict the circle of inclusion in the 20th century United States. Elmore's paper highlights how immigrant rights activists attempted to use the language of human rights to secure justice for undocumented immigrants. Gonzalez reveals how religious organizations took the lead in providing sanctuary for Central American refugees, creating a political movement in which people of faith challenged the limitations of US refugee and asylee policies. Coleman's paper traces the convergence immigrant restrictionists and welfare reformers whose efforts ultimately ushered in a new era in US immigration policy. Collectively, these papers reveal the legal, social, and political challenges that immigrants and their advocates have faced in attempting to secure immigrants' inclusion into the broader social fabric of the United States.

Our panel also raises questions about the relationship between the state and the non citizen residents. To what rights are immigrants in the United States entitled? What responsibilities does the state have to noncitizen residents - both documented and undocumented? In what ways have immigrant rights groups and immigration restrictionists sought to expand or limit the boundaries of inclusion? How might this history help us to better understand contemporary debates about the status of undocumented peoples and immigration restriction? S. Deborah Kang, whose recent scholarship highlights the relationship between law and society at the nation's borders, will provide the comment and chair the panel.

Sunday, January 5, 2020

8:30-10:00 a.m.

The Go-Betweens: Youth, Migration, and Knowledge Transfer

Papers:

Going Native: Teaching Indigenous Knowledge in Protestant Mission

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Schools, 1900–30

Elisabeth Engel, German Historical Institute Washington

“What They Should Know”: The Role of Knowledge for Missionary and Indigenous Children

Simone Laqua-O'Donnell, University of Birmingham

Routes of Knowledge: Growing Up German in Chile, 1900–50

H. Glenn Penny, University of Iowa

Knowing Race: African Youth in France at the End of Empire

Emily Marker, Rutgers University–Camden

Session Abstract: Knowledge is a matter for grown-ups, or so scholarship in the history of knowledge would seem to suggest. Children and adolescents have scarcely figured in the rapidly growing literature on the history of knowledge, be it as subjects of adult study or as knowledge actors in their own right. The proposed session seeks not only to address this research lacuna but also to open new avenues of inquiry by focusing on two distinctive yet highly diverse groups: first, young people who migrated to new knowledge cultures and, second, children and adolescents who didn’t migrate but were confronted with “migrated” knowledge from abroad that often became hegemonic within their own cultures.

Working at the intersection of knowledge, migration, colonial history and youth studies, the session participants aim to demonstrate that studying young people in transnational, colonial and migration-related contexts can reveal unrecognized but socially relevant processes of knowledge formation and underappreciated connections among producers and translators of knowledge. The four papers will shed new light on these connections by considering young people in different settings of migration and knowledge circulation. The session will demonstrate the value of employing a broad understanding of knowledge that extends beyond formally educated actors and academically sanctioned knowledge orders.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003979

Recent scholarship has built important foundations for such a knowledge-centered inquiry, but it also points to desiderata. Historians of education and historians of migration have so far focused on concepts like assimilation and cultural conflict, and they have usually viewed young people as passive receivers of a hegemonic knowledge transmitted to them. The organizers and participants of this session, which brings together scholars from the history of the Americas, European history, and global history, propose another perspective. They argue that we can productively apprehend young people as historical actors who were able to translate between cultures and produce new knowledge in processes of migration and cultural translation. Because of their grounding in multiple cultures, young migrants often became important go-betweens, as young people did in colonial and post-colonial contexts. The panelists argue that young people modified migrated knowledge and turned knowledge produced for and conveyed to them into new and often subversive bodies of knowledge co-created by them.

Two of four papers will explore the knowledge young migrants produced in transnational settings. Simone Laqua-O'Donnell presents a case study on missionary families before World War I. Emily Marker considers students from Africa in France after 1945. The other two papers will reflect on situations where knowledge rather than young people migrated: Protestant mission schools in British colonies in Sub-Sahara Africa (Elisabeth Engel) and German schools in Chile (Glenn Penny). In his comment, Swen Steinberg will consider the points of intersection of these four case studies from a theoretical perspective and on the constellation of young people, knowledge, and migration as a promising field of historical investigation.

10:30 a.m.-12:00 p.m.

Immigration, Refugees, and Anti-Semitism: American Dilemmas

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003980

Papers:

Are Professors Worth Saving? American Universities' Life-and-Death Decisions on Refugees from Nazi Europe

Laurel Leff, Northeastern University

New Research on America's Responses to the International Refugee Crises in the 1930s and Today

Rafael Medoff, David S. Wyman Institute for Holocaust Studies

Spreading Nazi Anti-Semitism on the American Campus

Stephen Norwood, University of Oklahoma

Session Abstract: U.S. immigration policy, and Americans' responses to international refugee crises, were matters of intense public debate in the 1930s, as they are today. In this session, three of the leading scholars in the field of American responses to Nazism and the Holocaust will present their latest research on Americans' responses, and the factors that shaped them. Dr. Medoff will examine heretofore unexplored aspects of the U.S. government's immigration policy, then and now; Prof. Leff will address the question of how American universities responded to the plight of European refugee scholars; and Prof. Norwood will explore efforts by the Nazi regime to spread antisemitism on American campuses, and how those efforts affected public opinion and policy. The audience for this session will include scholars of immigration history, racism, U.S. foreign policy, Jewish history, and the Holocaust.

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003981

3.

American Economic Association annual meeting

Friday-Sunday, January 3-6, 2020
San Diego Marriott Marquis & Marina
Manchester Grand Hyatt San Diego
San Diego, CA 92101
https://www.aeaweb.org/conference/about
https://www.aeaweb.org/conference/2020-general-information

Immigration-related sessions:

Friday, January 3, 2020

8:00-10:00 a.m.

The Effect of Immigrants on Economic and Political Outcomes in the United States

Diversity in Schools: Immigrants and the Educational Performance of Natives

David Figlio, Northwestern University
Paola Giuliano, University of California-Los Angeles
Riccardo Marchingiglio, Northwestern University
Umut Ozek, American Institutes for Research
Paola Sapienza, Northwestern University

Changing In-Group Boundaries: The Role of New Immigrant Waves in the United States

Vasiliki Fouka, Stanford University
Soumyajit Mazumder, Harvard University
Marco Tabellini, Harvard Business School

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration, Innovation and Growth

Konrad Burchardi, Institute for International Economic Studies (IIES)

Thomas Chaney, Sciences Po

Tarek Hassan, Boston University

Lisa Tarquinio, Boston University

Stephen J. Terry, Boston University

Migration and Housing

Paper Session:

International Student Migration and Local Housing Markets

Tatiana Mocanu, University of Illinois

Pedro Tremacoldi-Rossi, University of Illinois

A Tale of Two Cities: The Impact of Cross-Border Migration on Hong Kong's Housing Market

Maggie Hu, Chinese University of Hong Kong

Yi Fan, National University of Singapore

Xinwei Wan, University of Cambridge

A World Divided: Refugee Centers, House Prices, and Household Preferences

Martijn Droes, University of Amsterdam

Hans Koster, VU University Amsterdam

Migration and Location Choice

Paper Session:

Borrowing Constraints, Migrant Selection, and the Dynamics of Return and Repeat Migration

Joseph-Simon Goerlach, Bocconi University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003983

10:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Migration and Development

Paper Session:

Southern (American) Hospitality: Italians in Argentina and the United States during the Age of Mass Migration

Santiago Perez, University of California-Davis

Like an Ink Blot on Paper: Testing the Diffusion Hypothesis of Mass Migration, Italy 1876-1920

Ariell Zimran, Vanderbilt University and NBER

2:30-4:30 p.m.

Effects of Immigration on American Science and Innovation

Paper Session:

From Immigrants to Americans: Race and Assimilation During the Great Migration

Vasiliki Fouka, Stanford University

Shom Mazumder, Harvard University

Marco Tabellini, Harvard University

Immigration and Entrepreneurship in the United States

Pierre Azoulay, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Benjamin F. Jones, Northwestern University

J. Daniel Kim, University of Pennsylvania

Javier Miranda, U.S. Census Bureau

Immigrant Entrepreneurship: Job Creation, Job Quality, and Innovation

Sari Pekkala Kerr, Wellesley College

William Kerr, Harvard University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003984

Immigration Quotas and American Science

Petra Moser, New York University

Shmuel San, New York University

Saturday, January 4, 2020

8:00-10:00 a.m.

Consequences of Forced Migration

Paper Session:

Forced Migration and Human Capital: Evidence from Post-WWII Population Transfers

Pauline A. Grosjean, University of New South Wales

Sascha Becker, University of Warwick

Irena Grosfeld, Paris School of Economics

Nico Voigtländer, University of California-Los Angeles

Ekaterina Zhuravskaya, Paris School of Economics

Brothers or Invaders? How Crises-Driven Migrants Shape Voting Behaviour

Sandra Rozo, University of Southern California

Juan F. Vargas, Del Rosario University

Impact of Syrian Refugees on Education Outcomes in Jordan

Thomas Ginn, Stanford University

Ragui Assaad, University of Minnesota

Mohamed Saleh, Toulouse School of Economics

Refugee Crisis, Flight to Safety and Entrepreneurship

Cevat Giray Aksoy, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development

Nicolas Ajzenman, Inter-American Development Bank

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003985

Sergei Guriev, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development

Immigration and Assimilation

Paper Session:

Perceptions of Immigrants and Support for Immigration

Alberto Alesina, Harvard University

Stefanie Stantcheva, Harvard University

Rationing Determines Immigrant Composition and Outcomes

Edward Lazear, Stanford University

Discrimination, Assimilation and Immigrant Outcomes in the Age of Mass Migration

Ran Abramitzky, Stanford University

Leah Boustan, Princeton University

Katherine Eriksson, University of California-Davis

Stephanie Hao, Princeton University

Determinants and Effects of Migration

Paper Session:

How Immigration Can Raise Wages in Pakistan

Ayesha Mehtab, COMSATS University-Islamabad

The Impact of Syrian Refugees on Native Mortality in Turkey

Aysun Aygun, Istanbul Technical University

Murat Kirdar, Bogazici University

Do French Migration Policies Affect Immigrants Inflows in the MENA Region?

Ines Trojette, ESPI Paris

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Doslalo Millogo, University of Norbert-Zongo

Comparing Middle Eastern Migration to Europe, Latin America, and North America

Hisham Foad, San Diego State University

Sunday, January 5, 2020

8:00-10:00 a.m.

Immigration

Paper Session:

A Teacher Likes Having Me in Class: Do Migrant Students Leave Behind?

Jianhao Chen, University of Illinois-Chicago

The Role of Immigrants in the US Labor Market and Chinese Import Competition

Chan Yu, University of Texas-Austin

Forced Migration and the Educational Attainment of Second and Third Generations

Anica Kramer, University of Bamberg, RWI, and IZA

Poor Voters, Taxation and the Size of the Welfare State

Arnaud Chevalier, Royal Holloway University of London

Benjamin Elsner, University College Dublin

Andreas Lichter, University of Duesseldorf

Nico Pestel, Institute of Labor Economics (IZA)

Immigration and Housing Rents: The 2015 Refugee Crisis in Germany

Kathleen Kuerschner Rauck, Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg

Michael Kvasnicka, Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003987

Unauthorized Immigration Regulation and Labor Productivity: Evidence from Establishment-Level Data

Iftekhar Hasan, Fordham University

Incheol Kim, University of Texas-Rio Grande Valley

Xiaojing Yuan, University of Massachusetts-Lowell

Comparing Poverty of Refugees and Their Hosts

The Syrian Refugee Life Study

Samuel Leone, University of California-Berkeley

Edward Miguel, University of California-Berkeley

Sandra Rozo, University of Southern California

Emma Smith, Harvard University

Collecting Representative Panel Data in a Refugee Setting- Evidence from Bangladesh

C. Austin Davis, American University

Ahmed Mushfiq Mobarak, Yale University

Paula López-Peña, Yale University

Is Imputing Poverty Efficient? An Example from Refugee Data in Chad

Theresa Beltramo, United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees

Ibrahima Sarr, World Bank

Paolo Verme, World Bank

Hai-Anh Deng, World Bank

10:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Economic Consequences of Immigration Policy

Paper Session:

Chain Reaction? The Population Spillovers of Immigrant Legalization

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003988

Elizabeth U. Cascio, Dartmouth College
Ethan G. Lewis, Dartmouth College

The Rise and Fall of the Know-Nothing Party
Marcella Alsan, Stanford University
Katherine Eriksson, University of California-Davis
Gregory Niemesh, Miami University

How Do Restrictions on High-Skilled Immigration Affect Offshoring? Evidence from the H-1B Program
Britta Glennon, University of Pennsylvania

The Labor Market Effects of Immigration Enforcement
Chloe N. East, University of Colorado-Denver
Annie Hines, University of California-Davis
Philip Luck, University of Colorado-Denver
Hani Mansour, University of Colorado-Denver
Andrea Velasquez, University of Colorado-Denver

1:00-3:00 p.m.
Causes of Populism and Its Related Political Preferences
Paper Session:

Unemployment, Immigration, and Populism: Evidence from Two Quasi-Natural Experiments in the United States
Shuai Chen, LISER

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003989

4.

Citizenship in Hard Times

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, January 13, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer-Final---Goodman-1-13-20.pdf

Sara Wallace Goodman, Associate Professor of Political Science, UC Irvine
Co-Director, Jack W. Peltason Center for the Study of Democracy, UC Irvine

Description: What do citizens do in times of democratic crisis? When democracy is under threat, do everyday citizens activate and mobilize, or do they hunker down, demobilize, and express greater support for homogeneity (like speaking English)? Scholars, pundits and policy experts have largely focused on elite behavior and institutional guardrails, but the citizenry is a foundation to any story about democracy under threat. This book is the first to examine civic obligation in unsettled democratic times from the perspective of citizens themselves. It employs a three-country study of the US, UK, and Germany, to examine how democratic citizens define obligation and for whom, comparing native-born and naturalized citizens. Findings highlight the importance of how democratic problems are framed, and puts forward a number of policy prescriptions for overhauling civic education.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

5.

Eighth Annual U.S.-Mexico Security Conference: Taking Stock of Mexico's Security Landscape One Year On

8:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m., Wednesday, January 15, 2019
Woodrow Wilson Center, 6th Floor
Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center
1300 Pennsylvania Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20004-3027
https://www.wilsoncenter.org/event/eighth-annual-us-mexico-security-conference-taking-stock-mexicos-security-landscape-one-year

Description: The Wilson Center's Mexico Institute invites you to its eighth annual Mexican security review. The forum will examine the pressing security challenges Mexico faces, such as the record number of homicides in 2019, and how it plans to respond. Other topics to be covered will include efforts to fight corruption and impunity; trends in security and migration enforcement on Mexico's southern border; the status of U.S.-Mexico security cooperation; and how illegal drug markets are evolving in Mexico and the United States. Two new research papers, one on the formation of Mexico's National Guard, and the other on countering the evolving drug trade in the Americas, will be presented. The conference will feature leading policy analysts from Mexico and the United States.

We hope you will be able to join us for this informative event.

Speakers:
Alejandro Hope, Security Analyst

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

David Shirk, Global Fellow, Mexico Institute, Wilson Center; Associate Professor, University of San Diego; Director, Justice in Mexico Project

Edna Jaime, Global Fellow, Mexico Institute, Wilson Center; Director General, México Evalúa

Iñigo Guevara, Director at Jane's Aerospace, Defense and Security

Maureen Meyer, Director for Mexico and Migrant Rights, Washington Office on Latin America

Celina Realuyo, Professor of Practice, William J. Perry Center for Hemispheric Defense Studies, The National Defense University

Eric L. Olson, Global Fellow, Mexico Institute, Wilson Center; Director of the Central America- D.C. Platform, Seattle International Foundation

Full agenda forthcoming.

Return to Top

****
****

6.

OECD High-Level Policy Forum: Building a Whole-of-Society Approach to Emerging Migration and Integration Challenges

Thursday, January 16, 2020
OECD Conference Centre 2
rue André-Pascal 75775

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Paris CEDEX 16 France
https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/Migration-Integration-Policy-Forum-2020-EN.pdf

Program:

9:30-10:00 a.m.
Welcoming Remarks

Mr. Angel Gurría, OECD Secretary-General

Chair or Vice-Chair of the OECD Migration and Integration Ministerial Meeting

10:00-11:00 a.m.
Preparing for the future: lessons from global migration over the past decade

This introductory panel (5-6 participants) will discuss the experiences of countries regarding large migration inflows, and the lessons learned moving forward. It will involve high-level representatives from the UN and from selected OECD countries that have - or had - a key role in contexts of dealing with large migration inflows, as well as the president of a leading think tank. 11:00 – 11:30 Elevator pitches for the Innovation Lab Following a call for proposals with member countries, 10 selected innovative projects related to migration and integration from across OECD countries will be presented in short, 1-minute "elevator pitches". More detailed presentations of these projects will be made throughout the day in the hall of the OECD Conference Centre.

11:45 a.m.-1:00 p.m.
Foresight: the future of migration and integration

Presentation and discussion in break-out groups of the results of the foresight

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

exercise of the OECD, focusing on four themes:

(i) the impact of new technologies on migration control and enforcement as well as on

(ii) integration services delivery; and on

(iii) the role of regional and local authorities and

(iv) the role of corporations in migration and integration management in 2035.

2:30-3:45 p.m.

Parallel Sessions

1) Engaging with civil society – new approaches in the integration of migrants

New and innovative approaches that have been taken throughout OECD countries to leverage civil society in promoting the integration of migrants – notably with respect to social integration. This session will present and discuss some of these.

2) Innovations in language training

This session will present and discuss innovative approaches to language learning – either through new technologies or through innovation in course design and outreach.

3) Matching migrants with employment opportunities

A key issue with which many countries are struggling is to match migrants' skills with available employment opportunities, notably, but not exclusively, for refugees. This requires skills being assessed upfront and migrants being put in touch with relevant employers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4) Innovation in skills partnerships

Skills partnerships are an increasingly important tool for matching talent in origin countries with labour needs in destination countries, while avoiding negative impacts on the origin country. This session will discuss some recent policy innovations in this field.

4:00-4:30 p.m.

A conversation on the global competition for talent

This session will bring together a high-level representative from emerging economies and a global thought leader from an OECD country to discuss the global competition for talent.

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003995

Return to Top

****

****

7.

Society for Social Work and Research annual conference

Reducing Racial and Economic Inequality

Thursday-Sunday, January 16–19, 2020
Marriott Marquis
901 Massachusetts Ave NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://secure.sswr.org/

Immigration-related sessions:

Thursday, January 17, 2020

1:30-3:00 p.m.

Examining Stress in Lives of Immigrants

The Effects of Caregiving, Self-Efficacy and Stigma on Wellness Among Asian-American Family Caregivers of People with Mental Illness
Meekyung Han, San Jose State University; Sadhna Diwan, San Jose State University

Venezuelan Youth in Diaspora: A Multisite Study of Crisis Migration and Cultural Stress

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Christopher Salas-Wright, Boston University; Mariana Cohen, Boston University; Patricia Andrade, Raices Venezolanas; Jose Rodriguez, Iglesia Episcopal Jesús de Nazaret; Mariana Sanchez, Florida International University; Seth Schwartz, University of Miami

Personal Well-Being, Resilience, Social Support and Psychological Distress Among Burmese Resettled Adults in the United States
Kareen Tonsing, Oakland University; Martha Vungkhanching, California State University, Fresno

The Loneliness Absorbs and Oppresses: Social Integration Barriers, Social Isolation and the Health Behaviors of Latino Immigrant Day Laborers
Jennifer Siegel, University of Maryland at Baltimore; Gabriel Fiallos, University of Maryland, Baltimore; Priya Sharma, University of Maryland, Baltimore; Nalini Negi, University of Maryland at Baltimore

Healthcare Literacy & Utilization

Changes in Immigration Policy and the Mental Health of Recent Mexican American Immigrants
Robin Gearing, University of Houston; Micki Washburn, University of Houston; Luis Torres, University of Houston; Alberto Cabrera, University of Houston; L. Christian Gearing, University of Houston; Robin Gearing, University of Houston

Testing Competing Models of Somatization in a Sample of Somali Refugees Living in Urban Kenya
Claire Luce, Virginia Commonwealth University; Laura Swan, Virginia Commonwealth University; Shelby McDonald, Virginia Commonwealth University; Hyojin Im, Virginia Commonwealth University

Mental Health Needs and Healthcare Access Among Venezuelan Immigrants in Central Florida

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003997

Tracy Wharton, University of Central Florida; Andres Cubillo-Novella, Pontificia Javeriana University; Matthew Abrams, University of Central Florida; Gilarys Garcia, University of Central Florida; Heather Peralta, RN, University of Central Florida

Health Literacy and Healthcare Use Among Karen Refugees
Isok Kim, University at Buffalo; Wooksoo Kim, University at Buffalo; Krisztina Baltimore, University at Buffalo; Biplab Bhattacharya, State University of New York at Buffalo; Mary Keovisai, MA, State University of New York at Buffalo; Li Lin, State University of New York at Buffalo

3:15-4:45 p.m.

Exploring Mental Health Correlates

Trends and Mental Health Correlates of Discrimination Among Latin American and Asian Immigrants in the United States
Christopher Salas-Wright, Boston University; Michael Vaughn, Saint Louis University; Trenette Goings, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; Sehun Oh, University of Texas at Austin; Jorge Delva, Boston University; Mariana Cohen, Boston University; Seth Schwartz, University of Miami

Meanings of Resilience and Mental Health Among Syrian Refugees: Findings from Two Countries
Asli Yalim, University of Central Florida

Do Family Relation and Immigration Influence Mental Health Service Use Among Asian Americans?
Xiaochuan Wang, University of Central Florida

Structural Determinants of Mental Health Vulnerabilities and Access to Services Among Asian Immigrant Men in Toronto, Canada
Ran Hu, University of Toronto; Kenneth Fung, University of Toronto; Josephine

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Wong, Ryerson University

Friday, January 17, 2020

8:00-9:30 a.m.

Health Status of Immigrants

Perception of the Affordable Care Act Among Korean Americans
Chung Hyeon Jeong, University of Southern California; Hyunsung Oh, Arizona State University; Lawrence Palinkas, University of Southern California

Determinants of Healthcare Use Among Refugees from Burma
Isok Kim, University at Buffalo; Wooksoo Kim, University at Buffalo

Health and Mental Health Experiences of Latina Immigrant Women during the Perinatal Period
Maria Pineros Leano, Boston College; Laura Crowley, Boston College; Natalia Pineros Leano, Universidad de la Sabana

Gaining through Giving: A National Study of Volunteering and Health Status Among Immigrants in Canada
Jacky Ka Kei Liu, University of Calgary; Yeonjung Lee, University of Calgary

2:00-3:30 p.m.

Interpersonal Violence and Mental Health

Pathways between Economic Insecurity, Sexual Violence, and Depression Among Urban Refugee and Displaced Adolescents and Youth in Kampala, Uganda
Carmen Logie, University of Toronto; Moses Okumu, University of Toronto; Simon Mwima, Uganda Ministry of Health; Senkosi Balyejjusa, Uganda Christian University; Robert Hakiza, Young African Refugees For Integral

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-003999

Development

Controlling Behaviors, Intimate Partner Violence, Depression, and Social Adaptation Among Immigrant Women in South Korea
Hyun Lee, Yonsei University; Jae Yop Kim, Yonsei University; Lkhamkhuu Munkhnaran, Yonsei University; Boyoung Nam, University of Maryland Baltimore

Exploring Exclusionary and Fragmented Healthcare Access for Undocumented Women Immigrant Survivors of Intimate Partner Violence
Miriam Valdovinos, University of Denver; Sarah Dodd, University of Connecticut; Maritza Vasquez Reyes, University of Connecticut

Complexity of Men's of Experiences of Violence in Northern Uganda: Victim, Perpetrator, Bystander
Steve Friedman, School for Social Work

3:45-5:15 p.m.

Multifold Impact of the Border Crisis

Preventing Family Separation: Child Custody and Family Deportation Planning with Undocumented Latinx Families
Jodi Berger Cardoso, University of Houston; Liza Barros Lane, Baylor College of Medicine; Monica Faulkner, University of Texas at Austin; Jennifer Scott, Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge; Natalia Giraldo-Santiago, University of Houston

Educational Inclusion for Special Needs Students in a Refugee Camp: How Is School Setting Related to Children's Wellbeing?
Thomas M. Crea, Boston College; Kerri Evans, Boston College; Robert Hasson, Boston College; Kelsey Werner, Boston College; Elizabeth Wanjiku, Jesuit Refugee Service; Gregory St. Arnold, Jesuit Refugee Service

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"I Want to Feel Safe at My School. I Want to Feel like I Belong": Exploring Muslim Refugee Students' Levels of Engagement in Schools
Ashley Cureton, The Johns Hopkins University

Developing Peer-to-Peer Support for Foreign-Born High School Students: Using Youth-Led Community-Based Participatory Research to Assess & Address Needs
Abbie Frost, Simmons University School of Social Work; Hugo Kamya, Simmons University School of Social Work

5:30-7:00 p.m.

Immigration Detention: The Racialized Response to Violence and Trauma
Sergio Serna, University of California, Los Angeles, Angela Garcia, University of California, Los Angeles, Anthony Gamez, University of California, Los Angeles, Fatima Gonzalez, University of California, Los Angeles and Marianna Hernandez, B.A., University of California, Los Angeles

Background: Recent data indicate the U.S. apprehended 92,607 migrants at the U.S.-Mexico border in March, 2019, the highest monthly total since April, 2007. (Pew Research) The recent wave of migration has been marked by two unique factors: refugees are migrating as family units more than ever and the number of people from El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras together accounted for the bulk of apprehensions. In February, 2019, days after the Trump Administration declared a National Emergency at the border, four Latinx students from the Master's in Social Welfare program at UCLA, arrived in the rural town of Dilley, Texas. Joining volunteer lawyers, the team's role was to provide legal assistance to detained mothers and children undergoing the Credible Fear Interview process. The students, accompanied by department faculty, embarked on an intensely personal and professionally poignant journey to address this humanitarian crisis. In collaboration with Dilley's on-the-ground legal team, the students conducted interviews of women and their children to determine their clients' strongest claims for asylum. While seeking and documenting their testimonies, students learned of women's harrowing accounts of traversing multiple countries with their young children, their terrifying crossing at the Rio Grande, and dehumanizing conditions in U.S. Customs and Border Patrol facilities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Methods: As a result of the experience, the team created a set of tools for advocates assisting newly arrived Central American refugees. The three key resources include: (1) an educational and outreach video documenting the experience of volunteer advocates and their clients; (2) a case example demonstrating the utility of exploring trauma narratives for providers struggling with secondary trauma; and (3) transdisciplinary recommendations aimed to decrease re-traumatization of detained immigrant clients through use of trauma-informed perspectives and practices.

Results: The perpetuation of dangerously false narratives, racialized narratives, paints Central American refugees as criminals. This is facilitated by existing systems of oppression including racism. The fact that these sentiments are promoted by the world's highest political office has broad implications for both micro and macro-level social work practice. Through disseminating these additional tools to better address the needs of newly arrived Central American refugees, this toolkit seeks to document helpful responses to the real national emergency—xenophobia.

Conclusions and Implications: Continued conversation must bring together researchers, educators, students and staff of organizations serving the most vulnerable racial/ethnic minorities whose life experiences led them to the U.S. We must acknowledge that a legal perspective alone is insufficient, akin to working with one hand tied behind our backs. The law often operates in a black and white paradigm, making it sometimes difficult to recognize the humanity of all people. Through dialogue we look to demonstrate why and how social workers and their perspective is uniquely suited for intervening with this population. This work is rooted in the narratives of the women and their children, those who participated in this journey and those seeking to provide culturally humble services and effective policy advocacy on behalf of impacted communities—all of which will serve as a continuous reminder of the power of resilience.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Understanding Economic Inequality in Immigrant Lives

Emerging Health and Economic Inequality Among U.S. Citizen Minors in Mexico
Jodi Berger Cardoso, University of Houston; Sharon Borja, University of Houston

Immigrant Women, Violence, and Economic Oppression
Arlette Vila, University of Texas at Austin; Elizabeth Pomeroy, University of Texas at Austin

Mothering in Contexts of Economic Inequality, Violence and Transnational Mobility: A Qualitative Study with Asylum-Seeking Mothers from Central America
Maria Emilia Bianco, Boston College

Exploring Determinants of Employment Among Resettled Refugee Women in the United States
Erum Agha, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Saturday, January 18, 2020

9:45-11:15 a.m.

Improving health care delivery

"How Will I Take Her to Have Her Vaccinated?": Threats to Healthcare Access Among Syrian Refugees in Lebanon

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cindy Sousa, Bryn Mawr College; Bree Akesson, Wilfrid Laurier University; Dena Badawi, University of Waterloo

Adaptation of Immigrants & Refugees

Reimagining Successful Aging Among Latinx Communities in the United States
Rocio Calvo, Boston College; Nacho Gimenez-Nadal, Universidad de Zaragoza

Gender Inequality in Assimilation across Immigrant Generations
Felix Muchomba, Rutgers University; Neeraj Kaushal, Columbia University

Institutional Innovation amidst the Demise of the Refugee Resettlement Sector
Jessica Darrow, University of Chicago

On Being Black, Muslim, and a Refugee: Stories of Somalis in Chicago
Ifrah Magan, New York University

4:00-5:30 p.m.

Immigration Status As a Social Determinant of Racial and Economic Inequality

The resurgence of anti-immigrant sentiment in immigrant receiving countries, like the United States and Canada, represents a pressing social just concern especially for undocumented immigrants who face the threat of deportation along with racial discrimination and economic insecurity. As Sociologist Roberto Gonzalez (2015) has argued, immigration status functions as a “master status” in the lives of immigrants through organizing the social, political, and economic resources available to immigrants as well as processes of stigmatization and discrimination that negatively impact people who are constructed in media and political rhetoric as "illegal," "criminal",' or "threats" to society.

The following papers present research from Canada and the United States to develop a cross-national understanding of the discriminatory effects of anti-immigrant sentiment and accompanying structural inequalities on the well-being of undocumented or precarious status immigrants, with direct implications for social work practice.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The first paper links macro and micro practice, through a psychoanalytic analysis of news coverage of the Trump administration's rhetoric of the "migration crisis" in the United States. Using select psychoanalytic constructs, Lee & Bhuyan present a critical discourse analysis of the Trump Administration's response to asylum claims related to domestic violence and gang violence. Their findings illustrate how political construction of the feared bad object/immigrants corresponds with construction of the imagined good object/nationalism as exemplified by Trump's motto – Making America Great Again (MAGA). Lee & Bhuyan discuss how attention to veiled racist political discourse can be addressed in clinical practice.

Park and colleagues' survey of social workers' attitudes towards immigrants in the United States indicate a troubling degree of anti-immigrant sentiment among social workers who do not perceive immigrants as facing discrimination and endorse anti-immigrant views towards undocumented immigrants. Park and colleagues call for deepening social workers' knowledge of structural barriers faced by immigrants, particularly related to race and national origin, towards improving outcomes for immigrants seeking social services.

Drawing upon research on immigrant settlement service in Ontario, Canada, Bhuyan and Schmidt employ an intersectional, gender-based analysis of racial and economic inequality in the lives of refugee claimants, low-skilled temporary foreign workers, international students, and immigrants with less access to financial capital. Their findings illustrate how gender, precarious status, racialization and financial security increase immigrant women's vulnerability to long periods of family separation, employer abuse and exploitation, and limited access to social and health services.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The final paper focusses on how immigrant families prepare their children for enduring racial and structural inequalities. Cross reports findings from a mixed-methods longitudinal study with Latinx immigrant parents in the United States. This research identifies how Latinx parents mobilize cultural practices to mitigate the threat of deportation and prepare their children to face experiences of discrimination outside of the home.

A Critical Discourse Analysis of Anti-Immigration Policies and Media Discourse in the United States: Politics of Global Anxiety from Psychoanalytic Perspectives
Eunjung Lee, University of Toronto; Rupaleem Bhuyan, University of Toronto

Perceptions of Structural Inequality and Attitudes Towards Undocumented Immigrants Among U.S. Social Workers
Yoosun Park, Smith College; Maria Torres, Smith College; Andrew Rundle, Columbia University

Precarious Immigrant Pathways: A Gender-Based Analysis of Racial and Economic Insecurity for Immigrant Women in Canada
Rupaleem Bhuyan, University of Toronto; Catherine Schmidt, University of Toronto

Socialization Practices Latinx Immigrant Parents Utilize to Prepare Their Children for Anti-Immigrant Discrimination
Fernanda Cross, University of Michigan-Ann Arbor

Sunday, January 19, 2020

11:30 a.m.-1:00 p.m.

Access to Services for Latinx Immigrant Families

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-004006

Efforts to reduce racial and economic inequalities should address not only their effects on mental health but also on improving access to mental health services. Latinx immigrant families have been shown to experience gains in mental health outcomes upon arrival, relative to the non-immigrant population. However, these gains erode over time and from one generation to another, with poor mental health exceeding that of the general population. This symposium explains the difficulties associated with the Latinx immigrant experience in the United States and outlines interventions aimed to increase access and utilization of mental health services for Latinx immigrant families. The first panelist describes the need for access to services for Latinx caregivers of children with developmental disabilities. The study targets the unique experiences of Texan families, as little is known about this population. Texas is unique in that it is comprised of a racial/ethnically (58.3% reported racial/ethnic minority) and linguistically (36% speak non-English language in home) diverse population. Subsequently, it is important to assess service access and receipt in Central Texas to determine if available services and supports are adequate for the needs of the community. The purpose of this needs assessment study is to fill these gaps in knowledge and determine the diagnostic and service needs of children with ASD and their families in Central Texas utilizing a mixed-methods approach. The second panelist addresses issues of child behavioral problems related to immigration stressors, through a community-based parenting intervention with Latinx immigrant family populations. Low-income Latinx immigrant families are exposed to multiple immigration-related challenges. These stressors place Latinx youth at high risk for experiencing various problematic behaviors (e.g., drug use). This presentation will describe strategies to effectively engage and retain underserved Latinx families in community-based parenting prevention programs. The third panelist describes the perceived mental health needs of emerging adults from immigrant Latinx families, highlighting the social determinants of mental health burden and participants' preferences for a mental health intervention that leverages the existing infrastructure of the Ventanillas de Salud (VDS; Health Window). A model of health located within the Mexican Consulate General of Austin, the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

VDS connects consulate patrons to appropriate health services. A discussant will conclude the symposium with a discussion of how these interventions can be implemented and disseminated to promote mental health equity among often-underserved Latinx immigrant populations.

Identifying the Needs of Latino Immigrant Children with ASD in Central Texas: Results from a Mixed-Methods Needs Assessment
Sandy Magana, The University of Texas at Austin; Sandra Vanegas, Southwest Texas State University; Weiwen Zeng, University of Texas at Austin

Addressing Adversity and Discrimination in Intervention Curriculum and Delivery: Lessons Learned in Parenting Prevention Research with Low-Income Latinx Immigrant Families
Ruben Parra-Cardona, University of Texas at Austin

Mental Health Access to Immigrant Latinx Emerging Adults
Carmen Valdez, The University of Texas at Austin; Ashley Ables, University of Texas at Austin; Kevin Wagner, University of Texas at Austin; Alice Villatoro, University of Texas at Austin

Assessing Mental Health Interventions

A Randomized Clinical Trial Testing a Screening, Brief Intervention, & Referral to Treatment Intervention for Mental Health Among Refugees in Malaysia
Stacey Shaw, Brigham Young University; Lynette Randall, Brigham Young University; Latifa Ali, Brigham Young University; Hamid Karim, Brigham Young University; Louisa Gilbert, Columbia University

Psychometric Qualities of Measurement Tools Used in Research on Refugee Youth Mental Health: Findings from a Systematic Review
Kristan Armstrong, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Shandra Forrest-Bank, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Mary Held, The University of Tennessee;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS-19-0654-B-004008

Omotola Akinsola, University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Mental Health Interventions for African Immigrants and Refugees Resettled in the Western Nations: A Systematic Review
Evalyne Orwenyo, Rutgers University; Betty Tonui, University of Texas at Arlington; Cecilia Mengo, Ohio State University

Addressing Mental Health Disparities in Resettled Refugees: The Promise of Family-Based Prevention
Theresa Betancourt, Boston College; Jenna Berent, Boston College; Jordan Farrar, Boston College

Return to Top

****
****

8.

Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready

Friday, January 17, 2020
OECD Conference Centre 2
rue André-Pascal 75775
Paris CEDEX 16 France
https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/

Description: Under the title "Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready", Ministers responsible for migration and integration issues from all OECD countries and from selected non-OECD countries will have the opportunity to exchange their views on their countries' challenges, opportunities, and best practices in a Ministerial Meeting to be held on 17

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

January 2020 in Paris.

Notably Ministers will address:

* Innovative Approaches to managing Economic Migration
* Partnerships to improve Migration Enforcement and Compliance
* Innovative Approaches to Integration
* Engaging the Whole of Society and Improving Co-ordination

Ministers will also set out their priorities for Migration and Integration Policy work of the OECD.

Conference agenda will be added when available.

Return to Top

****
****

9.

Conference on Forced Displacement

Friday-Saturday, January 17-18, 2020
UN City, Copenhagen, Denmark
https://epod.cid.harvard.edu/sites/default/files/2019-06/Call%20for%20papers_updated.pdf

Description: In 2018 the number of refugees, asylum-seekers and internally-displaced people reached its highest level since the creation of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) after the Second World War. In recent years, the World Bank Group (WBG) and UNHCR have significantly stepped up the scale and scope of their joint initiatives on forced displacement. On the data side, these two organizations have recently established the Joint Data Center on Forced Displacement (JDC) in Copenhagen, Denmark, thanks to a generous contribution from the Danish government. Part of the JDC mandate is to stimulate further interest and research around data on forcibly displaced populations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Recognizing the need for robust evidence to inform policy decisions and program and project design, the JDC is partnering with the Population Studies and Training Center at Brown University and the Evidence for Policy Design (EPoD) and Middle East Initiative (MEI) at Harvard University to organize an international research conference on forced displacement to be held January 17-18, 2020 at the U.N. City in Copenhagen, Denmark. The goals of the conference are to focus attention on emerging scholarship and establish links between researchers and data providers to promote new work on this important topic.

Papers presented at the conference will be eligible for consideration for a special issue on Forced Displacement in The Journal of Development Economics. Details of the submission process will be provided at the conference. Presenters are not required to submit conference papers to this special issue.

Return to Top

****

****

10.

International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Sunday-Tuesday, January 19-21, 2020
Cairo, Egypt
https://gmdac.iom.int/iom-oecd-undesa-organise-second-international-forum-migration-statistics

Description: Migration remains at the top of policy agendas in many countries worldwide. The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration (GCM) and the Global Compact on Refugees (GCR) recognize the need for reliable, disaggregated statistics on migration that are nationally relevant and internationally comparable. However still today, there is scarcity of basic data on international migration and existing data are not fully analysed, utilized or shared.

The International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS) is a unique, global platform devoted to improving data on migration in all its dimensions. Organised by the International Organization for Migration (IOM), Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) and the UN Department of Economic and Social Affairs (UN DESA), the IFMS offers space for dialogue for a broad range of actors, from national and regional authorities, NGOs, international agencies and the private sector. The first meeting of the IFMS, took place in Paris, France, from 15 to 16 January 2018, and it included 240 speakers and over 350 participants from 90 countries, representing national statistical offices, international organizations, non-governmental organizations and academic institutions.
IFMS 2020

The second IFMS aims to mobilise expertise from a wide range of disciplines – such as statistics, economics, demography, sociology, geospatial science, and information technology – to improve the collection and analysis of migration data worldwide. The Forum will take place in Cairo, Egypt on 19-21 January 2020.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

It will explore innovative ways to measure population mobility and to generate timely statistics, by bringing together a broad range of participants to share and to discuss new data initiatives and examples of success in the field of migration data. The Forum will also provide a unique opportunity for policy-makers to have direct contact with migration data experts and to use their expertise to feed policy evaluations and to identify best policy options.

The focus on data capacity building comes from the recognition that implementing the commitments of international processes comes with significant challenges for National Statistical Offices, which often have limited capacities to collect, analyse and manage data relevant to migration.

The plenary sessions of the Forum will be organised around the following six themes:

* Strengthening data for policy: ensuring effective data communication and examining existing gaps in migration statistics to determine what is needed to address policy concerns;
* Data collection and innovation: Lessons and new approaches to the collection of migration data, including from 2020 censuses and administrative sources, and the potential of technologically-driven solutions, including big data;
* Cooperation and data governance: exploring ways to strengthen stakeholder coordination and the exchange and sharing of data;
* Capacity development and financing: identifying strategies to enhance data literacy as well as institutional capacities to collect, analyse and disseminate data;
* Measuring progress on the SDGs and other global commitments: data challenges, initiatives and indicators-based approaches to monitoring;
* Improving the availability of data on migrants in vulnerable situations: disaggregating statistics by migratory status, age and sex - analysing challenges, opportunities and best practices.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

11.

The 6th Mayoral Forum on Human Mobility, Migration and Development

Tuesday-Friday, January 21-24, 2020
Centro de Convenciones Metropolitano
Quito, Ecuador
http://gfmd.org/meetings/ecuador2019/summit

Description: The Government of the Republic of Ecuador, in its capacity as 2019 Chair of the Global Forum on Migration and Development (GFMD), will be hosting the Twelfth GFMD Summit Meeting on 20-24 January 2020 in Quito, Ecuador, open to Member States and Observers of the United Nations, and other GFMD Observers. The Twelfth GFMD Summit will be the climax of the Ecuador GFMD Chairmanship.

The Twelfth GFMD Summit will be opened by High Level officials of the Government of the Republic of Ecuador. It is expected to be attended by Ministers and Vice Ministers from all regions of the world, and a broad range of policy-makers and practitioners in migration and development fields.

From the outset, a central focus of the GFMD 2019 Chairmanship has been continuing the global dialogue on migration in the changed policy landscape following the affirmation of the Global Compact on Refugees (GCR) and Global Compact for Migration (GCM), the review of the implementation of migration-related commitments in the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda through the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

High-level Political Forum, and the enhancement of the GFMD process through the follow up of the recommendations of the GFMD Ten-Year Review Report.

The Ecuadorian Chairmanship is focused on the central theme: "Sustainable approaches to human mobility: Upholding rights, strengthening state agency, and advancing development through partnerships and collective action."

The substantive agenda of the Quito GFMD Summit focuses on three Roundtable (RT) themes, to be discussed in six RT sessions:

(1) Coordinated responses to mixed movements: Partnerships and collective action to protect rights

Roundtable 1.1: Providing regular pathways from crisis to safety

Roundtable 1.2: Facilitating social and economic inclusion

(2) Migration narratives and communication: What role, responsibility and resources do governments have?

Roundtable 2.1: Shaping public narratives on migration and migrants

Roundtable 2.2: Communicating effectively with migrants

(3) Addressing human mobility as part of urban and rural development strategies

Roundtable 3.1: Supporting arrival cities through policy coherence and multi-stakeholder partnerships

Roundtable 3.2: Harnessing migration for rural transformation and development

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In line with the tradition of the GFMD, the three-day GFMD Summit program will include inaugural and closing ceremonies, as well as Roundtable discussions and special sessions on the GFMD Platform for Partnerships and the Future of the Forum open to Friends of the Forum. Additionally, this year, for the first time, the three multi-stakeholder mechanisms of the GFMD – the Civil Society Days, the Business Meeting and the Mayoral Forum – will be held in the same space and integrated into the overall program of the GFMD Summit. The 'Common Space' sessions will provide an opportunity for the multi-stakeholder representatives from all mechanisms to mingle and share ideas in unified shared events.

For more details, please refer to the Provisional Programme for 20-24 January 2020 and Logistics Note with practical information for participating delegations.

Registration for the Quito GFMD Summit will be coursed through the GFMD Support Unit in Geneva (registration2019@gfmd.org). For logistical considerations, all delegations are encouraged to complete online registration via gfmd.org until 13 December 2019.

The Ecuadorian GFMD Chair looks forward to welcoming your government / organization's delegation to the Twelfth GFMD Summit.

Return to Top

****

****

12.

The Democratic Case for Immigration in the European Union

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Tuesday, January 21, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Seminar Room, Villa Malafrasca
Migration Policy Centre
Villa Malafrasca
Via Boccaccio 151
I-50133 Florence – Italy
http://www.migrationpolicycentre.eu/events/the-democratic-case-for-immigration-in-the-european-union/

Abstract: In this talk, Rainer Bauböck will present three challenges to the view that democratic self-determination justifies immigration control. He proposes, first, that the reason why democratic states have immigration control powers is not that they are democratic, but that they are independent states. Exercising this power is legitimate when immigration control is needed to preserve the conditions for democratic self-government. Second, he will argue that democratic norms provide positive reasons for promoting free international movement and admission claims for family migrants, economic migrants and refugees. Third, he will suggest that current disputes over immigration policy in the European Union reflect deeper conflicts between open and closed conceptions of democracy. If this is correct, then choosing closure over openness may put the future of democracy itself at risk and should thus not be regarded as an issue of legitimate democratic self-determination.

Return to Top

****
****

13.

Civil society and the everyday politics of the global refugee regime: Early lessons from the Local Engagement Refugee Research Network (LERRN)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

12:30-2:30 p.m., Thursday, January 23, 2020
York University
626 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto, ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-civil-society-and-the-everyday-politics-of-the-global-refugee-regime-early-lessons-from-the-local-engagement-refugee-research-network-lerrn

Speaker:
James Milner, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Carleton University

Description: While there is a rich literature on the politics of the global refugee regime and the politics of asylum in the global South, there has been less systematic treatment of the role of civil society actors in navigating the everyday politics of the regime, especially in the global South, which hosts 80% of the world's refugees. This gap is surprising given the literature on the role that civil society plays in other global regimes and the range of civil society actors engaged with the work of the global refugee regime. In response, the Local Engagement Refugee Research Network (LERRN) was launched in 2018 as a partnership between four Canadian universities, INGO partners, and working groups in Kenya, Tanzania, Lebanon and Jordan, which include local academics, national NGOs and refugee-led initiatives from each context. This presentation will share the early results of LERRN and its work to understand the everyday politics of the global refugee regime.

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

14.

Webinar: Inroads to Entrepreneurship: Local strategies to support immigrant business and local prosperity

1:00 p.m. EST, Thursday, January 23, 2020
Cities of Migration
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/webinar-inroads-to-entrepreneurship-local-strategies-to-support-immigrant-business-and-local-registration-83328721449

Speakers:
Janet Moser, Managing Director, Immigration Services, Ignite Fredericton (Fredericton, News Brunswick, Canada)

As Managing Director of Immigration Services Janet brings over 30 years of professional experience. From business owner, to career councillor for local post secondary colleges Janet is a professional who strives for excellence of those she is working with and for. Along with her years of experience Janet is a connector, negotiator, liaison and advocate working between government and private industry involving the development and startup success of immigrant investors in Fredericton and across New Brunswick. Janet has been involved in the creation and management of immigrant entreprenurial settlement programming for the past ten years. Most recently she transitioned into an exciting new role to oversee the build of Fredericton's five-year innovative immigration and population growth strategy as well as the leading the Local Immigration Partnership.

Reem Ali, Community Development Worker, New Canadians Centre Peterborough (Peterborough, Ontario, Canada)

Reem is the Community Development Worker, leading projects at the New Canadians Centre that focus on the economic and social empowerment of newcomers. She also coordinates working groups under the Peterborough Immigration Partnership that focus on refugee and immigrant integration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Reem has an MSc in Biochemistry from McMaster University and an MPA from Carleton University. She started her career in life sciences as a Researcher and Lecturer at Trent University. Her passion for international development led her to Egypt, where she spent 6 years specializing in the field of child rights and working with local and international organizations, most notably CIDA, UNICEF, and the Drosos Foundation. She continues to teach at Trent University in the International Development Studies department.

In 2018, Reem was a recipient of the Greater Peterborough Chamber of Commerce's '4 Under 40' award. The '4 Under 40' awards are designed to recognize four individuals in our community who are under the age of 40 and who are making their mark in the Peterborough area. Reem was also a recipient of the inaugural Peterborough-Kawartha Women's Leadership Awards in October 2018.

Description: With retirement rates outpacing workforce growth in communities across regional and rural Canada, smaller cities and towns are looking for new ways to bolster the local economy. For many, that means investing in strategies for the reception and integration of immigrant entrepreneurs. Whether running a small business or investing in a new start-up, entrepreneurship has always been a route for immigrants to establish and sustain themselves in new communities. Research suggests that local communities that are willing to invest in entrepreneurism are investing in strategies that will advance innovation and spur creativity for the benefit of all residents (Kao et al. 2002).

Immigrants face the same challenges in starting a new business as entrepreneurs anywhere. Additional roadblocks can include language, limited knowledge of local markets, regulatory issues, access to credit or vital business networks. What can smaller cities do to support aspiring immigrant entrepreneurs and ensure they lay down the roots for a successful business and new life in the community?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Join us online to learn how the cities of Fredericton (NB) and Peterborough (ON) are providing inroads to entrepreneurism and economic inclusion for newcomers.

Learn about Good Ideas:

* In Fredericton, New Brunswick (CA): The innovative Business Immigrant Mentorship was launched in 2009 by the Fredericton Chamber of Commerce, and became a launching pad for a City led business incubator and centre that supports immigrant entrepreneurs from networking to training to advocacy, including Planet Hatch and Ignite Fredericton

* In Peterborough, Ontario (CA): the Newcomer Kitchen Peterborough focuses on empowering newcomer women through cooking, learning workplace English and entrepreneurial skills.

The Immigrant Futures project explores new perspectives on the challenges and opportunities of immigration in Canada's small cities, towns and regions. The Immigrant Futures webinar series is presented in partnership with Hire Immigrants-Magnet, Hamilton Economic Development, the City of Moncton, The Halifax Partnership and the Leeds Grenville Local Immigration Partnership; with support from Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC).

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

15.

2020 EB-5 and Uglobal Immigration Expo

Friday-Saturday, January 24-25, 2020
Radisson Blu Hotel, Dubai Waterfront
Dubai, United Arab Emirates
https://www.eb5investors.com/conferences/2020-eb5-dubai

Description: In light of Dubai becoming a magnet for foreign high net worth individuals with more than 8,600 multi-millionaires, EB5 Investors Magazine is excited to host the 2020 EB-5 Expo Dubai on Jan. 24-25. We are proudly presenting you with a gathering of industry leaders, who will share their insight and expertise during two days of educational, interactive panels about United States' EB-5 immigrant investor program and other global migration programs.

Join us to network with EB-5 regional centers, law firms, service providers, migration agencies and potential investors.

Why Attend This Event?

Ultra-high net worth individuals are forecasted to grow more than 20% in the Middle East region in the upcoming five years.

More than one quarter of all UHNWIs in the Middle East are considering to permanently emigrate to another country.

UAE ranks among the top 5 countries in the world with the highest number of millionaire inflows in 2018 and half of them have settled in Dubai.

UAE continues to be a hub with more than 8 million expats and global migrants.

Dubai has emerged as the world's fifth most important hub for wealthy individuals.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

More than 60 percent of the second-passport UHNWIs candidates are from the MENA region.

Who Will Attend This Event?

Learn and network in an exclusive, cross-cultural setting among the world's key players in the global immigration investment market.

HNWIs
Foreign Intermediaries & Wealth Managers
Migration Agents
Real Estate Developers
Immigration Attorneys
EB-5 Regional Centers
Service Providers

Return to Top

****
****

16.

Emigrant Political Rights in Latin America: A configurational analysis approach

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 3, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Speaker:
Leydy Diossa-Jimenez
Visiting Graduate Student, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
PhD Candidate, UC Los Angeles

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Beyond the 1951 Convention: What are State responsibilities towards refugees according to the 1967 Protocol

12:30-2:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 4, 2020
York University
519 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-tbc-2

Speaker:
Robert Barsky, Canada Research Chair: Law, Narrative and Border Crossing, Department of Law and Legal Studies, Carleton University

Description: Prof. Barsky will discuss the letters, minutes of meetings, memos,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

and reports that pertain to the negotiations leading up to the 1967 Protocol. These documents show that the ambitions of the 19 legal experts who convened in Bellagio in 1965 were far more wide-ranging than simply removing the temporal (pre-1951) and geographical (Europe) limitations of the 1951 Convention. Rather, the documents reveal complex discussions about how to create a stand-alone treaty that would expand the Convention's reach and render it more adaptable to new refugee situations, while not impeding any more expansive regional instruments that might come to be adopted.

Return to Top

****

****

18.

Discrimination and Delegation: Explaining State Responses to Refugees

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, February 14, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14186

Speaker:
Lamis Abdelaaty, Assistant Professor, Political Science, Syracuse University

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the "delegation puzzle"). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

Return to Top

****

****

19.

World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges

Monday-Friday, February 17-21, 2020
Radisson San José
Calle Central y Tercera Av. 15
San José, Costa Rica
https://10times.com/conferenciamundial-iarmj

Description: The World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges is themed as A New World on the Move: The Realities of Irregular Mass Migration and the Challenges Facing Asylum and Immigration Judges Background and it is indeed a great opportunity for the Americas Chapter of the IARMJ to focus on the increase of mixed flows of people who cross international borders, whether forced to seek international protection or migrants with other characteristics and profiles.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

20.

Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Speakers:
S. Deborah Kang, Visiting Scholar, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Associate Professor of History, California State University San Marcos

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

21.

Indignity and Indignation: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
Lower Level Library
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/speaker-series-sarah-willen-professor-anthropology-and-director-research-program-global

Speaker:
Sarah Willen, Professor of Anthropology and Director of the Research Program on Global Health and Human Rights, University of Connecticut

Description: Sarah Willen is the author of Fighting for Dignity: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins. In Fighting for Dignity, Sarah S. Willen explores what happened when the Israeli government launched an aggressive deportation campaign targeting newly arrived migrants from countries as varied as Ghana and the Philippines, Nigeria, Colombia, and Ukraine. Although the campaign was billed as a solution to high unemployment, it had another goal as well: to promote an exclusionary vision of Israel as a Jewish state in which non-Jews have no place. The deportation campaign quickly devastated Tel Aviv's migrant communities and set the stage for even more aggressive antimigrant and antirefugee policies in the years to come.

Fighting for Dignity traces the roots of this deportation campaign in Israeli history and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and shows how policies that illegalize and criminalize migrants wreak havoc in their lives, endanger their health, and curtail the human capacity to flourish. Children born to migrant parents are especially vulnerable to developmental and psychosocial risks. Drawing on nearly two decades of ethnographic engagement in homes and in churches, medical offices, advocacy organizations, and public spaces, Willen shows how migrants struggle to craft meaningful, flourishing lives despite the exclusions and vulnerabilities they endure. To complement their perspectives, she introduces Israeli activists who reject their government's exclusionary agenda and strive to build bridges across difference, repair violations of migrants' dignity, and resist policies that violate their own moral convictions. Willen's vivid and unflinching ethnography challenges us to reconsider our understandings of global migration, human rights, the Middle East— and even dignity itself.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

22.

Border Security Expo

Wednesday-Thursday, March 11-12, 2020
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center
900 E Market Street
San Antonio, TX 78205
https://www.bordersecurityexpo.com/

Conference agenda:

Keynotes:
Ronald D. Vitiello, Deputy Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

Vice Admiral Scott Buschman, Director, Joint Task Force-East

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Scott A. Luck, Deputy Chief, U.S. Border Patrol

John P. Sanders, Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Panels:

National Vetting Center: What is It? What isn't It? And How Will It Change the Way We Protect the Homeland?

This session will focus on the National Vetting Center (NVC) and how it will complement the National Targeting Center (NTC). Experts from the NVC, NTC, as well as other members of the Intelligence Community, will discuss why the NVC is critical to the Homeland and next steps. The NVC will be operational at the time of the Expo, enabling the audience and panels to discuss the implementation.

Mass Migration and Unaccompanied Children: Financial and National Security Impacts

This panel will be comprised of experts from ICE Homeland Security Investigations assigned to the U.S., Mexico, and Central America. The panel will discuss the financial impact on the U.S., Mexico, and Central American countries in addressing the issues related mass migration and unaccompanied children attempting to enter the U.S. The panel will discuss human trafficking, organized human smuggling organizations, and national security issues relating to mass migration and unaccompanied children. The panel will provide publicly releasable information relating to "The Caravan" that reached the U.S./Border in November 2018.

Border: Wall – Ports – System(s) – Technology – Infrastructure – Integration – Modernization

Panel will discuss the immediate, near term, and out-year capability requirements, goals, and vision for border operations including infrastructure updates; technology needs, requirements, and planning; initiatives; modernization; and deployments.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Model Port: How Technology, Public-Private Partnerships, and Innovation Will Continue to Change the Way Ports-of-Entry Operate

This panel will be comprised of experts from the federal/local governments and industry. It will highlight what will take place at the POE in Donna, Texas and why it is important to the country's national and economic security. Technology will play a key role in defining the Model Port. A representative from the City of Donna will explain why this investment is important to the local community. CBP Headquarters staff will address the Donation Assistance Program and why it is necessary to make the Model Port a reality.

A Dialogue with Tenoch Moreno, General Customs Administration, Mexico: Current Operations and Future Thoughts

Procurement: Keeping Industry Current in the Complex Area of Government Procurement and the Mission Needs of Border Operators

This is a must-attend session for those who plan to compete for government contracts. Rules and regulations change frequently, and new requirements are placed on industry. Industry must have a clear understanding of the mission needs of the border operators. Government and industry experts will discuss best practices and explain how to best leverage the many opportunities that support the daily mission of CBP and other agencies. Government panelists will include Senior Executives from CBP procurement and the new office of Operations Support.

Complete conference agenda will be available at end of December.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

23.

Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

24.

The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE
Washington, DC 20002
http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speaker:

Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the University of London

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through 'golden doors'. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Our mailing address is:

Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maggy Smith

From:	Maggy Smith
Sent:	Friday, December 27, 2019 2:14 PM
To:	Law, Robert T
Subject:	You have less than a week left, Law

Law,

There is less than a week left in the year.

That means your opportunity to make a tax-deductible gift to Heritage is almost past. With you by our side, we can tackle all the issues America faces, and advance the conservative principles you hold dear.

This link is the fastest, most secure way to make your tax-deductible gift before the end of the year: https://secured.heritage.org/_2019/end-of-year

Wishing you a happy New Year,

Maggy Smith
Membership Programs
The Heritage Foundation

P.S. You've been a great support to The Heritage Foundation, which is why I wanted to reach out to you now. Can I count on you? Support Heritage today to preserve your values now and into the future: https://secured.heritage.org/_2019/end-of-year

The Heritage Foundation

The Heritage Foundation | 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

(b)(6)

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted] If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, December 27, 2019 3:33 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 12/27/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Reading, 12/27/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. State Department Visa Bulletin - January 2020
2. DHS Office of Immigration Statistics reports
3. ICE enforcement and removal operations report
4. CBP Snapshot on operations
5. USCIS policy alert on nationalization requirement of good moral character
6. CRS reports on DHS appropriations, immigration detainers, homeland security issues in Congress
7. Canada: Population statistics, immigrant integration and achievement
8. Norway: Immigrant integration and public attitudes toward immigration
9. Finland: Population statistics
10. Slovak Rep.: Population statistics
11. E.U.: Statistics on migrant integration and asylum applications
12. Australia: Population statistics

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

13. Two new reports from TRAC
14. New report from the Pew Research Center
15. "Does Deporting Immigrants Lower Crime? Evidence from Secure Communities"
16. New report and feature from the Migration Policy Institute
17. New discussion paper from the Institute for the Study of Labor
18. Seven new papers from the Social Science Research Network
19. Twenty new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
20. U.K.: New working paper from the Oxford Refugee Studies Centre

BOOKS

21. Nowhere Countries: Exclusion of Non-citizens from Rights Through Extra-territoriality at Home
22. Stagnant Dreamers: How the Inner City Shapes the Integration of the Second Generation
23. Voices of African Immigrants in Kentucky: Migration, Identity, and Transnationality
24. Women and Borders: Refugees, Migrants and Communities
25. Socially Undocumented: Identity and Imigration Justice
26. Cities and Labour Immigration: Comparing Policy Responses in Amsterdam, Paris, Rome and Tel Aviv

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

27. The Korean Diaspora in Post War Japan: Geopolitics, Identity and Nation-Building
28. Saudi Arabia and Indonesian Networks: Migration, Education, and Islam

JOURNALS

29. Comparative Migration Studies
30. Demograpy
31. International Journal of Refugee Law
32. Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
33. Migration Studies
34. The Social Contract

1.
Visa Bulletin For January 2020
Vol. X, No. 37
https://travel.state.gov/content/dam/visas/Bulletins/visabulletin_january2020.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

2.
New from the DHS Office of Immigration Statistics

Adjustments to Lawful Permanent Residence by Year of Entry: FY 2000-2018
December 19, 2019
https://www.dhs.gov/immigration-statistics/readingroom/LPR/LPR-adjustment-by-year-of-entry

Lawful Permanent Residents Flow Report: FY 2018
December 19, 2019
https://www.dhs.gov/immigration-statistics/lawful-permanent-residents

Naturalizations Flow Report: FY 2018
December 19, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.dhs.gov/immigration-statistics/naturalizations

Refugees and Asylees Flow Report: FY 2018
November 18, 2019
https://www.dhs.gov/immigration-statistics/refugees-asylees

Nonimmigrant Admissions Flow Report: FY 2018
November 18, 2019
https://www.dhs.gov/immigration-statistics/nonimmigrant

Legal Immigration and Adjustment of Status Report FY 2019, Q1
December 19, 2019
https://www.dhs.gov/immigration-statistics/special-reports/legal-immigration

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Immigration and Customs Enforcement FY 2019 Enforcement and Removal Operations Report
December 2019
https://www.ice.gov/sites/default/files/documents/Document/2019/eroReportFY2019.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Customs and Border Protection Snapshop, November 2019
A Summary of CBP Facts and Figures
https://www.cbp.gov/sites/default/files/assets/documents/2019-Nov/CBP-Snapshot-Nov-2019.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

5.
USCIS Policy Alert, PA-2019-11
Conditional Bar to Good Moral Character for Unlawful Acts
December 13, 2019
https://www.uscis.gov/sites/default/files/policymanual/updates/20191213-GMCUnlawfulActs.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

6.
New from the Congressional Research Service

Department of Homeland Security Appropriations: FY2020
December 11, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R46113.pdf

Trends in the Timing and Size of DHS Appropriations: In Brief
Updated December 6, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R44604.pdf

Immigration Detainers: Background and Recent Legal Developments
CRS Legal Sidebar, December 2, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/LSB10375.pdf

Selected Homeland Security Issues in the 116th Congress Updated November 26, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R45701.pdf

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

7.

Canada's population estimates, third quarter 2019

Statistics Canada, December 19, 2019

https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/daily-quotidien/191219/dq191219c-eng.pdf

Excerpt: Canada's population increased by 208,234 from July 1 to October 1, 2019, driven mainly by an influx of immigrants and non-permanent residents. This was the first time that Canada's population increased by more than 200,000 in a single quarter. This gain represents a quarterly population increase of 0.6%, the largest growth observed since the beginning of the period covered by the current demographic accounting system (July 1971). On October 1, 2019, Canada's population was estimated at 37,797,496.

International migration—both permanent and temporary—accounted for 83.4% of the total Canadian population growth in the third quarter, a share that continues to increase. The rest of the gain (16.6%) was the result of natural increase, or the difference between the number of births and deaths. The contribution of natural increase is expected to continue on a downward trend, as a result of population aging and of fertility levels remaining low.

+++

Changes in outcomes of immigrants and non-permanent residents, 2017

December 16, 2019

https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/daily-quotidien/191216/dq191216b-eng.pdf

+++

Study: Immigrant skill utilization: Immigrants with STEM education and trends in over-education

December 13, 2019

https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/daily-quotidien/191213/dq191213d-eng.pdf

Excerpt: Among immigrants with a doctoral degree in a STEM field, the rate of employment in a STEM occupation (62%) was similar to the rate observed among their Canadian-born counterparts (61%). These immigrants earned about 9% less annually than Canadian-born workers with similar socio-demographic characteristics. About two-thirds (63%) of immigrants with a doctoral degree in a STEM field were educated in Canada, the United States, the United Kingdom, or France. Immigrants educated in these four Western countries had outcomes similar to those of the Canadian-born, while those educated elsewhere did less well.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In comparison, 39% of immigrants with a bachelor's degree in a STEM field worked in a STEM occupation, compared with 47% among Canadian-born workers with the same level of education. Immigrants with a bachelor's degree in a STEM field earned 28% less annually than their Canadian-born counterparts. About one-quarter of immigrants with a bachelor's degree in a STEM field were educated in Canada, the United States, the United Kingdom, or France.

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Introduction programme for immigrants
Statistics Norway, December 19, 2019
https://www.ssb.no/en/utdanning/statistikker/introinnv/aar-tidligere-deltakere

Summary: 63% of the participants in the introduction programme are working or studying after one year.

+++

Attitudes towards immigrants and immigration
December 17, 2019
https://www.ssb.no/en/befolkning/statistikker/innvhold/aar

Summary: 56% think that the opportunities for refugees and asylum seekers to obtain a residence permit in Norway should remain the same as today

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Finland's preliminary population figure 5,527,405 at the end of November
Statistics Finland, December 20, 2019
https://www.stat.fi/til/vamuu/2019/11/vamuu_2019_11_2019-12-20_tie_001_en.html

Summary: According to Statistics Finland's preliminary data, Finland's population was 5,527,405 at the end of November. Our country's population increased by 9,486 persons during January-November. The reason for the increase was migration gain from abroad, since immigration exceeded emigration by 16,779. The number of births was 6,946 lower than that of deaths.

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Stock of population in the SR on 30th September 2019
Statistics Slovak Republic, December 16, 2019
https://slovak.statistics.sk/wps/portal/ext/products/informationmessages/inf_sprava_detail/!ut/p/z1/tZHBbslwDIafhmOw26RJemyR1sIQEkMMmsuUljAyaFqgKmNPvzDtyqYd5ott2fr02z8oWINyurevurON0wffF4q_zMVYpmmQlKZTiuPJ42KWjx7CbBnBMyhQlevabgdFU571jhhHrNsSve8G6IvmVHta7ww5tyfdXwfYn0239zlAVulQxoRrqgnTRhO9wZJsmalCKrkRIb3h28puoGAi5BwDQWKMDWF8G5B4E0oSaY6UisClmMLqN73Kj_FOJAgL4zxDfa2NsiRnYooop1mE4yRfPsVzSjGh3ws_cAqvQ9zVEQhY9dZcYOlu3znA4o9n5ggTULash5eqHuJQSIFUCMlCFvOI0ptv9u14Vlk3p3Gdee9g_R_utHUt6ZVM8o90RrJV8gkpg3Qg/dz/d5/L2dBISEvZ0FBIS9nQSEh/

Summary: As of September 30, 2019 the Slovak Republic had 5,456,362

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

inhabitants.

In the third quarter of 2019, there were 15,618 live births and 12,480 deaths in the SR.

The natural increase reached the value of 3,138.

The net foreign migration reached 967 persons (there were 2,069 immigrants and 1,102 emigrants).

The total increase of the population of the Slovak Republic was 4,105 persons.

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Key figures on migrant integration in the EU
Eurostat, December 18, 2019
https://ec.europa.eu/eurostat/web/products-eurostat-news/-/EDN-20191218-1

+++

First-time asylum applicants up by 12% in Q3 2019
December 17, 2019
https://ec.europa.eu/eurostat/web/products-eurostat-news/-/DDN-20191217-2

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Australia's population grows by 1.5 per cent
Australian Bureau of Statistics, December 19, 2019
https://www.abs.gov.au/ausstats/abs%40.nsf/mediareleasesbyCatalogue/CA19

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

99BAEAA1A86ACA25765100098A47?OpenDocument

Summary: Australia's population grew by 1.5 per cent during the year ending 30 June 2019, according to the latest figures released by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS).

ABS Demography Director Beidar Cho said: "The population at 30 June 2019 was 25.4 million people, following an annual increase of 381,600 people."

Natural increase accounted for 37.5 per cent of annual population growth, while net overseas migration accounted for the remaining 62.5 per cent.
. . .
There were 536,000 overseas migration arrivals and 297,700 departures during the year ending 30 June 2019, resulting in net overseas migration of 238,300 people. Net overseas migration did not change compared to the previous year.

Return to Top

****
****

13.
New from the Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse, Syracuse University

Contrasting Experiences: MPP vs. Non-MPP Immigration Court Cases
December 19, 2019
https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/587/

Excerpt: According to Immigration Court records through the end of November 2019, over 56,000 immigrants have been sent back to Mexico to await their immigration hearings under the Migration Protection Protocols (MPP), also known as "Remain in Mexico." In the months after the program was announced last January, the number of immigrants forced to await their hearings in Mexico climbed rapidly. Although arrests by Customs and Border Protection along the southwest border peaked in May, the number of immigrants assigned to the MPP program climbed throughout the summer months until peaking in August.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

New Immigration Court Data Released, Even More Records Missing Despite Assurances

December 18, 2019

https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/586/

Excerpt: Despite assurances that the next release of data on Immigration Court proceedings by the Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR) would be reviewed for accuracy, the new data released late last Friday revealed continuing quality issues. In fact, even greater numbers of previously released records were inexplicably missing.

TRAC raised concerns to EOIR leadership after finding significant irregularities in previously published data (report available here), and sent a letter (available here) to the Director McHenry. To illustrate the problem, that letter enclosed a list of 1,507 applications for relief which were present in EOIR's August 2019 release but were missing from EOIR's September 2019 release. The missing cases included many asylum applications, both pending and closed. TRAC asked that Director McHenry resolve these issues, disclose the steps his agency was taking to prevent these issues in the future, and correct counterfactual statements made by his office. TRAC offered its assistance and support so that the agency could in the future provide the public with more accurate and reliable data.

. . .

Even after OIT's review, TRAC found that none of the 1,507 missing applications for relief were restored in EOIR's latest release. To the contrary, more records of all types were now missing from the latest data. For example, TRAC found 3,799 relief applications previously included in EOIR's August 2019 release were now missing from last Friday's release. This included 1,714 applications for asylum that have either been withheld from the public or apparently deleted from the court's files.

Return to Top

****

****

14.

19 striking findings from 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By John Gramlich
Pew Research Service Fact Tank, December 13, 2019
https://www.pewresearch.org/fact-tank/2019/12/13/19-striking-findings-from-2019/

3. The U.S. no longer leads the world in admitting refugees.

Summary: Canada resettled more refugees than the U.S. did in 2018, marking the first time the U.S. did not lead the world on this measure since Congress created the nation's refugee program in 1980. While Canada resettled 28,000 refugees in 2018 – similar to its total in 2017 – the U.S. resettled 23,000, down from 33,000 the year before and far below a recent high of 97,000 in 2016. The U.S. had previously admitted more refugees each year than all other countries combined.

Looking ahead, the number of refugees resettled in the U.S. is likely to decrease further: The Trump administration set a new cap of 18,000 refugees in the 2020 fiscal year.

The foreign-born share of the U.S. population is at its highest point since 1910.

Summary: Nearly 14% of people living in the U.S. in 2017 were born in another country, extending a steady increase over the past few decades. In absolute numbers, more than 44 million immigrants lived in the U.S. – more than in any other country in the world.

11. The number of people living in the U.S. without authorization has decreased over the past decade, driven by a sharp decline in unauthorized immigrants from Mexico.

Summary: As a result, Mexicans no longer account for the majority of unauthorized immigrants in the country. In 2007, there were 12.2 million unauthorized immigrants in the U.S., including 6.9 million Mexicans. By 2017, there were 10.5 million unauthorized immigrants, including 4.9 million Mexicans.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

15.
Does Deporting Immigrants Lower Crime? Evidence from Secure Communities
By Annie Laurie Hines and Giovanni Peri
EconoFact, December 11, 2019
https://econofact.org/does-deporting-immigrants-lower-crime-evidence-from-secure-communities

Return to Top

****
****

16.
New from the Migration Policy Institute

Integrating Refugees and Asylum Seekers into the German Economy and Society: Empirical Evidence and Policy Objectives
By Herbert Brücker, Philipp Jaschke, and Yuliya Kosyakova
December 2019
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/integrating-refugees-asylum-seekers-germany

USCIS Fee Increase Proposed Rule Could Represent the Latest Step in Reshaping Immigration to United States
By Jessica Bolter and Doris Meissner
December 2019
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/news/uscis-fee-hike-could-be-latest-step-reshape-immigration

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

17.

New from the Institute for the Study of Labor

Effect of Immigration on Depression among Older Natives in Western Europe

By José J. Escarce and Lorenzo Rocco

IZA Discussion Paper No. 12829, December 2019

https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12829/effect-of-immigration-on-depression-among-older-natives-in-western-europe

Return to Top

****

****

18.

New from the Social Science Research Network

1. The Legacy of Historical Emigration: Evidence from Italian Municipalities

By Erminia Florio, University of Rome Tor Vergata, Department of Economics and Finance

CEIS Working Paper No. 478

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3503513

https://econpapers.repec.org/paper/rtvceisrp/478.htm

2. Coordinating Community Reintegration Services for 'Deportable Alien' Defendants: A Moral and Financial Imperative

ByAmy Kimpel, University of Alabama School of Law

Florida Law Review, Vol. 70, 2018

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3493264

http://www.floridalawreview.com/2019/coordinating-community-reintegration-services-deportable-alien-defendants-moral-financial-imperative/

3. Criminalizing Immigrant Entrepreneurs (and Their Lawyers)

By Eric Amarante, University of Tennessee College of Law

Boston College Law Review, Vol. 61, No. 4, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3498464

4. Immigration in Europe in the Mid-2010s: 'A Migration Crisis'?
By Gérard-François Dumont, University of Paris 4 Sorbonne Population & Avenir, No. 744, Septiembre-Octubre 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3493548
https://www.researchgate.net/publication/337533370_L%27immigration_en_Europe_au_milieu_des_annees_2010_une_crise_migratoire_Immigration_in_Europe_in_the_mid-2010s_a_migration_crisis

5. When 'Material' Loses Meaning: Matter of A-C-M- and the Material Support Bar to Asylum
By Tyler Anne Lee, Columbia Human Rights Law Review; Columbia University
Columbia Human Rights Law Review, Vol. 51
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3427472
http://hrlr.law.columbia.edu/hrlr/when-material-loses-meaning-matter-of-a-c-m-and-the-material-support-bar-to-asylum/

6. Why the Legal Strategy of Exploiting Immigrant Families Should Worry Us All
By Jamie R. Abrams, University of Louisville Louis D. Brandeis School of Law
Harvard Law & Policy Review, Vol. 14, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3496042

7. The Myth of Enforcing Border Security Versus the Reality of Enforcing Dominant Masculinities
By Jamie R. Abrams, University of Louisville Louis D. Brandeis School of Law
California Western Law Review, Vol. 56, 2019
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3490823

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1. Congress investigating immgrant detainees' medical care
December 27, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/house-subcommittee-investigating-immgrant-detainees-medical-care.html

2. How U.S. Immigration Policy Changed This Year -- in 10 minutes
December 26, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/how-us-immigration-policy-changed-this-year-in-10-minutes.html

3. An Immigrant's Christmas Eve
December 24, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/an-immigrants-christmas-eve.html

4. An Immigrant's Christmas Eve, 1979
December 24, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/an-immigrants-christmas-eve-1979.html

5. How ICE Uses Social Media to Surveil and Arrest Immigrants
December 24, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/how-ice-uses-social-media-to-surveil-and-arrest-immigrants.html

6. Pete Buttigieg unveils his immigration plan
December 23, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/pete-buttigieg-unveils-his-immigration-plan.html

7. What's next in the privatization of immigration? Privatized visa processing
December 22, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/whats-next-in-the-privatization-of-immigration-privatized-visa-processing.html

8. Surprise, Surprise: Few Asylum-Seekers Winning Cases Under 'Remain In Mexico' Program
December 22, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/surprise-surprise-.html

9. Executive Office for Immigration Review to Swear in 28 Immigration Judges, Bringing Judge Corps to Highest Level in History
December 21, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/executive-office-for-immigration-review-to-swear-in-28-immigration-judges-bringing-judge-corps-to-highest-level-in-history.html

10. Legal challenge to State Department public charge rules
December 20, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/legal-challenge-to-state-department-public-charge-rules.html

11. The Most Disturbing and Most Inspiring Immigration Stories of 2019
December 20, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/year-in-review-significant-and-disturbing-immigration-stories-of-2019.html

12. Lawsuit says immigration courts are deportation machines
December 19, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/lawsuit-says-immigration-courts-are-deportation-machines.html

13. The Beat Goes On! Joint Notice of Proposed Rulemaking to Restrict Certain "Criminal Aliens'" Eligibility for Asylum
December 18, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/the-beat-goes-on-department-of-justice-and-department-of-homeland-security-to-publish-joint-notice-o.html

14. USCIS Expands Guidance Related to Naturalization Requirement of Good Moral Character
December 18, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/uscis-expands-guidance-related-to-naturalization-requirement-of-good-moral-character.html

15. Must Watch TV: 60 Minutes Interview with El Salvador's President
December 17, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/must-watch-tv-60-minutes-interview-with-el-salvadors-president.html

16. From the Bookshelves: A Federal Right to Education: Fundamental Questions for Our Democracy
By Kimberly Jenkins Robinson
December 17, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/from-the-bookshelves-a-federal-right-to-education-fundamental-questions-for-our-democracy-by-kimberl.html

17. How Birthright Citizenship Could Threaten the "Samoan Way"
December 17, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/how-birthright-citizenship-could-threaten-the-samoan-way-.html

18. What Will Conservative Win in UK Mean for Immigration?
December 16, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/what-will-conservative-win-in-uk-mean-for-immigration-.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

19. Top 10 Immigration Stories of 2019
December 16, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/top-10-immigration-stories-of-2019.html

20. Judge rules American Samoans are birthright citizens, merit passports
December 13, 2019
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/judge-rules-american-samoans-are-us-citizens-merit-passports.html

Return to Top

****
****

20.
New from the Oxford Refugee Studies Centre

The Rohingya refugee crisis: rethinking solutions and accountability
By Brian Gorlick
RSC Working Paper Series 131, December 18, 2019
https://www.rsc.ox.ac.uk/publications/the-rohingya-refugee-crisis-rethinking-solutions-and-accountability

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Nowhere Countries: Exclusion of Non-citizens from Rights Through Extra-territoriality at Home
By Pauline Maillet

Martinus Nijhoff/Brill, ??? pp.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hardcover, 9004383492, $168.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/9004383492/centerforimmigra

Book Description: In Nowhere Countries: Exclusion of Non-citizens from Rights through Extra-territoriality at Home, Pauline Maillet proposes to render visible the mechanisms by which states make their territory disappear to prevent asylum seekers? arrival. Using legal analysis and ethnography, this book traces how several states have created spaces deemed extra-territorial.

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Stagnant Dreamers: How the Inner City Shapes the Integration of the Second Generation
By Maria G. Rendon

Russell Sage Foundation, 320 pp.

Paperback, 0871547082, $39.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0871547082/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1159 KB, ASIN: B07Z2W4JNX, 352 pp., $31.16

Book Description: A quarter of young adults in the U.S. today are the children of immigrants, and Latinos are the largest minority group. In Stagnant Dreamers, sociologist and social policy expert María Rendón follows 42 young men from two high-poverty Los Angeles neighborhoods as they transition into adulthood. Based on in-depth interviews and ethnographic observations with them and their immigrant parents, Stagnant Dreamers describes the challenges they face coming of age in the inner city and accessing higher education and good jobs, and demonstrates how family-based social ties and community institutions can serve as buffers against neighborhood violence, chronic poverty, incarceration, and other negative outcomes.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Neighborhoods in East and South Central Los Angeles were sites of acute gang violence that peaked in the 1990s, shattering any romantic notions of American life held by the immigrant parents. Yet, Rendón finds that their children are generally optimistic about their life chances and determined to make good on their parents' sacrifices. Most are strongly oriented towards work. But despite high rates of employment, most earn modest wages and rely on kinship networks for labor market connections. Those who made social connections outside of their family and neighborhood contexts, more often found higher quality jobs. However, a middle-class lifestyle remains elusive for most, even for college graduates.

Rendón debunks fears of downward assimilation among second-generation Latinos, noting that most of her subjects were employed and many had gone on to college. She questions the ability of institutions of higher education to fully integrate low-income students of color. She shares the story of one Ivy League college graduate who finds himself working in the same low-wage jobs as his parents and peers who did not attend college. Ironically, students who leave their neighborhoods to pursue higher education are often the most exposed to racism, discrimination, and classism.

Rendón demonstrates the importance of social supports in helping second-generation immigrant youth succeed. To further the integration of second-generation Latinos, she suggests investing in community organizations, combating criminalization of Latino youth, and fully integrating them into higher education institutions. Sta*Stagnant Dreamers* presents a realistic yet hopeful account of how the Latino second generation is attempting to realize its vision of the American dream.

Return to Top

****

****

23.

Voices of African Immigrants in Kentucky: Migration, Identity, and Transnationality

By Francis Musoni, Iddah Otieno, and Angene Wilson

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

University Press of Kentucky, 226 pp.

Hardcover, 0813178606, $46.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0813178606/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 5474 KB, ASIN: B07TVW4YMG, 220 pp., $47.50

Book Description: Following historical and theoretical overview of African immigration, the heart of this book is based on oral history interviews with forty-seven of the more than twenty-two thousand Africa-born immigrants in Kentucky. From a former ambassador from Gambia, a pharmacist from South Africa, a restaurant owner from Guinea, to a certified nursing assistant from the Democratic Republic of Congo -- every immigrant has a unique and complex story of their life experiences and the decisions that led them to emigrate to the United States. The compelling narratives reveal why and how the immigrants came to the Bluegrass state -- whether it was coming voluntarily as a student or forced because of war -- and how they connect with and contribute to their home countries as well as to the US. The immigrants describe their challenges -- language, loneliness, cultural differences, credentials for employment, ignorance towards Africa, and racism -- and positive experiences such as education, job opportunities, and helpful people. One chapter focuses on family -- including interviews with the second generations -- and how the immigrants identify themselves.

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Women and Borders: Refugees, Migrants and Communities
By Seema Shekhawat and Emanuela C. Del Re

I.B. Tauris, 264 pp.

Hardcover, 1784539570, $86.45
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1784539570/centerforimmigra

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Paperback, 0755601130, $39.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0755601130/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 570 KB, ASIN: B07S3GS85P, $35.95

Book Description: Borders - whether settled or contested, violent or calm, closed or open - may have a direct, and often acute, human impact. Those affected may be people living nearby, those attempting to cross them and even those who succeed in doing so. At the border, vulnerable refugee and migrant communities, especially women, are exposed to state-centred boundary practices, paving the way for both their alienation and exploitation. The militarization of borders subjugates the very position of women in these marginalized areas and often subjects them to further victimization, which is facilitated by patriarchal socio-cultural practice. Structural violence is endemic to these regions and gender interlocks with their perimeters to reinforce and shape violence. This book locates gender and violence along geographical edges and critically examines the gendered experiences of women as global border residents and border crossers. Broadly, it explores two questions. First, what are women's experiences of engaging with borders? Second, where are women positioned in the theory and practice of marking, remarking and demarking these margins?

Offering a nuanced and thorough approach, this book suggests that research on borders and violence needs to focus on how bordered violence shapes the embodiment of gender identity and norms and how they are challenged. It examines an array of issues including forced migration, trafficking and cross-border ties to explore how gender and borders intersect.

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Socially Undocumented: Identity and Imigration Justice
By Amy Reed-Sandoval

Oxford University Press, 240 pp.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hardcover, 0190619805, $99.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0190619805/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 0190619813, $35.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0190619813/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1142 KB, ASIN: B082XHBM2Z, $34.99

Book Description: What does it really mean to be "undocumented," particularly in the contemporary United States? Political philosophers, immigration policy makers, and others have tended to define the term "undocumented migrant" legalistically-that is, in terms of lacking legal authorization to live and work in one's current country of residence. In Socially Undocumented, Reed-Sandoval challenges this "legalistic understanding" by arguing that being socially undocumented is to possess a real, visible, and embodied social identity that does not always track one's legal status. She further argues that achieving immigration justice in the U.S. (and elsewhere) requires a philosophical understanding of the racialized, class-based, and gendered components of socially undocumented identity and oppression.

Socially Undocumented offers a new vision of immigration justice by integrating a descriptive and phenomenological account of socially undocumented identity with a normative and political account of how the oppression with which it is associated ought to be dealt with as a matter of social justice. It also addresses concrete ethical challenges such as the question of whether open borders are morally required, the militarization of the Mexico-U.S. border, the perilous journey that many migrants undertake to get to the United States, the difficult experiences of the women who cross U.S. borders seeking prenatal care while pregnant, and more.

Return to Top

****

****

26.

Cities and Labour Immigration: Comparing Policy Responses in

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Amsterdam, Paris, Rome and Tel Aviv
By Michael Alexander

Routledge, 256 pp.

Hardcover, 0815388055, $140.80
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0815388055/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 1138262552, 48.49
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138262552/centerforimmigra

4004 KB, ASIN: B00AFSQTA2, $46.07

Book Description: Using a unique analytical framework based on host-stranger relations, this book explores the response of cities to the arrival and settlement of labour immigrants. Comparing the local policies of four cities - Paris, Amsterdam, Rome and Tel Aviv - Michael Alexander charts the development of migrant policies over time and situates them within the broader social context. Grounded in multi-city, multi-domain empirical findings, the work provides a fuller understanding of the interaction between cities and their migrant populations. Filling a gap in existing literature on migrant policy between national-level theorizing and local-level study, the book will provide an important basis for future research in the area.

Return to Top

****
****

27.
The Korean Diaspora in Post War Japan: Geopolitics, Identity and Nation-Building
By Myung Ja Kim

I.B. Tauris, 288 pp.

Hardcover, 1784537675, $59.40
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1784537675/centerforimmigra

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Paperback, 0755601033, $39.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0755601033/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1738 KB, ASIN: B07P7T1HXL, $35.95

Book Description: The indistinct status of the Zainichi has meant that, since the late 1940s, two ethnic Korean associations, the Chongryun (pro-North) and the Mindan (pro-South) have been vying for political loyalty from the Zainichi, with both groups initially opposing their assimilation in Japan. Unlike the Korean diasporas living in Russia, China or the US, the Zainichi have become sharply divided along political lines as a result. Myung Ja Kim examines Japan's changing national policies towards the Zainichi in order to understand why this group has not been fully integrated into Japan. Through the prism of this ethnically Korean community, the book reveals the dynamics of alliances and alignments in East Asia, including the rise of China as an economic superpower, the security threat posed by North Korea and the diminishing alliance between Japan and the US. Taking a post-war historical perspective, the research reveals why the Zainichi are vital to Japan's state policy revisionist aims to increase its power internationally and how they were used to increase the country's geopolitical leverage.With a focus on International Relations, this book provides an important analysis of the mechanisms that lie behind nation-building policy, showing the conditions controlling a host state's treatment of diasporic groups.

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Saudi Arabia and Indonesian Networks: Migration, Education, and Islam
By Sumanto Al Qurtuby

I.B. Tauris, 256 pp.

Hardcover, 1838602208, $99.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1838602208/centerforimmigra

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Kindle, 930 KB, ASIN: B082NL22FL, $103.50

Book Description: What is the relationship between Saudi Arabia and Indonesia? For centuries, Indonesians have travelled to Saudi Arabia and have been deeply involved in education, scholarship and the creation of centres for Islamic learning in the country. Yet the impact of this type of migration has not yet been the focus of scholarly research and little is known about the important intellectual connections that now exist.

This book examines Indonesian educational migrants and intellectual travellers in Saudi Arabia including students, researchers, teachers and scholars to provide a unique portrait of the religious and intellectual linkages between the two countries. Based on in-depth interviews and questionnaires, Sumanto Al Qurtuby identifies the "Indonesian legacy" in Saudi Arabia and examines in turn how the host country's influential Islamic scholars have impacted on Indonesian Muslims. The research sheds light on the dynamic history of Saudi Arabian-Indonesian relations and the intellectual impact of Indonesian migrants in Saudi Arabia.

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Comparative Migration Studies
Vol. 7, No 48, December 17, 2019
http://www.comparativemigrationstudies.com/

Latest Articles:

Externalization at work: responses to migration policies from the Global South
By Inka Stock, Aysen Ustubici, and Susanne U. Schultz
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0161-3

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Demography
Vol. 56, No. 6, December 2019
https://link.springer.com/journal/13524/56/6

Selected article:

Immigration and the Wage Distribution in the United States
By Ken-Hou Lin and Inbar Weiss
https://link.springer.com/article/10.1007/s13524-019-00828-9

Return to Top

****
****

31.
International Journal of Refugee Law
Vol. 31, Nos. 2-3, June-October 2019
https://academic.oup.com/ijrl/issue/31/2-3

Articles:

Reconsidering African Refugee Law
By David James Cantor and Farai Chikwanha
https://doi.org/10.1093/ijrl/eez032

The Supervision (or Not) of the 1969 OAU Refugee Convention
By Marina Sharpe
https://doi.org/10.1093/ijrl/eez025

Who Is a Refugee in Africa? A Principled Framework for Interpreting and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Applying Africa's Expanded Refugee Definition
By Tamara Wood
https://doi.org/10.1093/ijrl/eez026

Mauritian Courts and the Protection of the Rights of Asylum Seekers in the Absence of Dedicated Legislation
By Jamil Ddamulira Mujuzi
https://doi.org/10.1093/ijrl/eez036

Return to Top

****
****

32.
Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
Vol. 45, No. 17, December 2019
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/cjms20/45/17

Articles:

Slippery discrimination: a review of the drivers of migrant and minority housing disadvantage
By Sue Lukes, Nigel de Noronha, and Nissa Finney
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1480996

The roles of social housing providers in creating 'integrated' communities
By Nissa Finney, Bethan Harries, James Rhodes, and Kitty Lymperopoulou
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1480997

Diversity in place: narrations of diversity in an ethnically mixed, urban area
By Bethan Harries, Bridget Byrne, James Rhodes, and Stephanie Wallace
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1480998

The rise and fall of the 'inner city': race, space and urban policy in postwar England
By James Rhodes and Laurence Brown
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1480999

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Local deprivation and the labour market integration of new migrants to England
By Ken Clark, Lindsey Garratt, Yaojun Li, Kitty Lymperopoulou, and William Shankley
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1481000

How is the benefit of mixed social networks altered by neighbourhood deprivation for ethnic groups?
By Simon Peters, Nissa Finney, and Dharmi Kapadia
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1481002

Return to Top

****
****

33.
Migration Studies
Vol. 7, No. 4, December 2019
https://academic.oup.com/migration/issue/7/4

Articles:

Untold stories: Jamaican transnational mothers in New York City
By Derrace Garfield McCallum
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny017

Young Somalis' social identity in Sweden and Britain: The interplay of group dynamics, socio-political environments, and transnational ties in social identification processes
By Sarah Scuzzarello, Benny Carlson
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny013

Immigration detention: An Anglo model
By Cetta Mainwaring, Maria Lorena Cook
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny015

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Paper integration: The structural constraints and consequences of the US refugee resettlement program
By Molly Fee
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny016

'I was professor in India and here I am a taxi driver': Middle class Indian migrants to New Zealand
By Yasmin Hussain
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny025

Living the spectre of forced return: negotiating deportability in British immigration detention
By Sarah Turnbull
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny024

Return to Top

****
****

34.
The Social Contract
Vol. 30, No. 1, Fall 2019
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/index.shtml

Articles:

A Note from the Editor: John Tanton and Thirty Years of The Social Contract
By Wayne Lutton
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-editor.shtml

The End of an Era: John Tanton (1934-2019) and The Social Contract (1990-2019)
By The Editors
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-end-of-an-era.shtml

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visionary, Ecological Prophet, Heretic - R.I.P. John Tanton, M.D.
By Leon Kolankiewicz
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-kolankiewicz.shtml

Tribute to John Tanton
By Fred Elbel
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc_30_1_elbel.shtml

A Visionary, 'Renaissance Man'
By Sharon Barnes
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-barnes.shtml

John's Jades: Recollections at the celebration of the life of John Tanton
By Roy H. Beck
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-beck.shtml

Fond Memories of John Tanton: The 'Grand Master of Life'
By Denis McCormack
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-mccormack.shtml

Candidate Tanton
By Rick Oltman
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-oltman-candidate-tanton.shtml

Same Hacks Smearing John Tanton Are Shilling for Soros
By James Kirkpatrick
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-kirkpatrick.shtml

Of Conspiracy Theories and Funhouse Mirrors
By The Editors
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-editors-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3.shtml

John and Mary Lou Tanton: An Appreciation
By Richard D. Lamm
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-lamm.shtml

The Relationship of Legal to Illegal Immigration
By John H. Tanton, M.D.
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-tanton-1.shtml

John Tanton, Citizen Activist
By Alan Wall
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-wall.shtml

On John Tanton and The Camp of the Saints
By Michelle Malkin
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-malkin.shtml

A Citizen Who Took Up Arms for His Country
By Peter Brimelow
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-brimelow.shtml

Summary Thoughts on Immigration Policy
By John H. Tanton, M.D.
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tscc-30-1-tanton-summary-thoughts.shtml

Fundamentals
By John H. Tanton, M.D.
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-tanton-fundamentals.shtml

Some Concluding Thoughts on John Tanton
By The Editors
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-editors-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

concluding-thoughts.shtml

Enabling Asylum Fraud - The Strange Case of a Federal Employees Union
By Carl F. Horowitz
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-horowitz.shtml

How Montgomery County, Maryland Protects Illegal Aliens
By Dave Gibson
https://www.thesocialcontract.com/artman2/publish/tsc_30_1/tsc-30-1-gibson.shtml

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Sunday, December 29, 2019 1:30 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 12/29/19

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 12/29/19

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Immigration and Political Power," Mark Krikorian
2. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, David North, Todd Bensman, and John Miano
3. "New York State Blocks ICE and Border Patrol Access to DMV Database," Michael Cutler
4. "Jill Biden, Meet Cpl. Ronil Singh and Deputy Brian Ishmael," Michelle Malkin
5. "Why Congress Should Reject Amnesty for Illegal Agricultural Workers," Daren Bakst
6. "Chief Border Enforcement Official Casts Doubt on Goal to Build Wall by 2021," Mairead McArdle
7. "Vote Rigging Via Mass Immigration," Pawel Styrna
8. "Foreign Criminals Are Victims: Welcome to the New Way Forward," Matt O'Brien
9. "Full Stop at New York's Obstructionist 'Green Light' Law," Bob Dane
10. "The Supreme Court Could End Sanctuary Policies Nationwide," David Jaroslav
11. "Promises Kept: Trump's Border Plan Is Working," Monica Showalter
12. "Pete Buttigieg Doesn't Have a Plan on Immigration. He Has a Welcome Mat," Eddie Scarry
13. "Report: Immigration Will Give Democrats 24 More House Seats From Trump States After 2020 Census," Fuzzy Slippers
14. "Unnoticed, Democrat Presidential Candidates Have Quietly Gone Nuts on Immigration," J.F. Thomas
15. "Arizona Border Success Shows the Federal Government CAN Do Its Job... When It Wants To," James Kirkpatrick
16. "Controlled Opposition—GOP Governors Determined to Import 'Refugees', James Kirkpatrick
17. "Time to Give American Samoans U.S. Citizenship," Rachel Alexander
18. "San Francisco, Hostage to the Homeless," Heather Mac Donald
19. "Merry Refugeemas! Saint Negligence Promises a Fake Asylum Seeker for Every Supporter of Amnesty!," Bubbaken Managua
20. "Rapid Population Growth Leads to Controversial Redistricting of Howard

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

County, MD Schools," Christy Shaw
21. "Jill Biden Visits Refugees in Mexico, 'It's Not Who We Are'," Karen Townsend
22. "Identifying America's Enemies: Judges and Politicians Handing Out Licenses to Illegals," Bradlee Dean
23. "Illegal Immigration Set to Take Away House Seats from Red States in Next Census," Eric Lendrum
24. "Green Light Law Puts New York in Conflict with Immigration Policies," Assemblyman Will Barclay
25. "What Does a Non-Race-Based Immigration Program Look Like? Look to the UK and Australia," Nolan Rappaport
26. "Top Issues in Immigration in 2019," Andy J. Semotiuk
27. "Immigrant Neighborhoods Correlated with Fewer Trash Complaints in San Francisco," Alex Nowrasteh and Andrew C. Forrester
28. "Sensible Bipartisan Immigration Reform Makes Progress – a True Christmas Miracle," Ali Noorani
29. "Democratic Candidates Field Softball Questions on Immigration," Marcia Brown
30. "Trump's Adverse Foreign Policy on Immigration and the Way Forward," Cristian Ramos-Miranda
31. "We Can't Obtain Immigration Justice in a World of Borders and Nations," Rebecca Centeno
32. "White Nationalist Media Is Shaping US Immigration Policy," Brendan Smialowski
33. "No Room at the Inn, 2019: The Spirit of the Christmas Season Is Lost as America Adopts More Anti-Refugee Policies," The New York Daily News
34. "Immigration Detention Is Part of Mass Incarceration: The Case for Abolishing ICE and Everything Else," Cora Currier

1.

Immigration and Political Power

By Mark Krikorian

The Corner at National Review Online, December 27, 2019

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/immigration-and-political-power/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

2.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

MS-13 Sweep in Long Island Shows the Value of Cooperative Law Enforcement

But will county officials honor ICE detainers filed against the alien gang members arrested?

December 23, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/MS13-Sweep-Long-Island-Shows-Value-Cooperative-Law-Enforcement

By Andrew R. Arthur

Heartwarming Story About Violation of the Immigration Laws

WaPo not entirely clear on the endgame

December 27, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Heartwarming-Story-About-Violation-Immigration-Laws

Why Is 'Parole in Place' in the NDAA?

Sympathetic cases legislate bad law

December 26, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Why-Parole-Place-NDAA

Sanctuary City Released Human Rights Violator

And then NYC hit the snooze button on this wake-up call

December 21, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Sanctuary-City-Released-Human-Rights-Violator

By David North

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Audit of Controversial, EB-5 Funded Charter School Foretells Bankruptcy
December 27, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Audit-Controversial-EB5-Funded-Charter-School-Foretells-Bankruptcy

Suppose Trump Could Create 1.2 Million Good Jobs with a Pen Stroke
December 23, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Suppose-Trump-Could-Create-12-Million-Good-Jobs-Pen-Stroke

Differential Impact of Foreign Students and Workers from China and India
December 20, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Differential-Impact-Foreign-Students-and-Workers-China-and-India

By Todd Bensman

Six-Month AP Investigation of Migrant-Smuggling Business in Mexico Reveals Potency of Trump Policies
A holiday-season gift for the White House
December 23, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/SixMonth-AP-Investigation-MigrantSmuggling-Business-Mexico-Reveals-Potency-Trump-Policies

By John Miano

When the Wolves Guard the Sheep
President Trump hasn't fulfilled his promise to protect tech workers
December 27, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Miano/When-Wolves-Guard-Sheep

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

3.

New York State Blocks ICE and Border Patrol Access to DMV Database

Cuomo's gift to ISIS, the drug cartels, and human traffickers.

By Michael Cutler

FrontPageMag.com, December 27, 2019

. . .

https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2019/12/new-york-state-blocks-ice-and-border-patrol-access-michael-cutler/

Return to Top

****

****

4.

Jill Biden, Meet Cpl. Ronil Singh and Deputy Brian Ishmael

By Michelle Malkin

Townhall.com, December 25, 2019

. . .

https://townhall.com/columnists/michellemalkin/2019/12/25/jill-biden-meet-cpl-ronil-singh-and-deputy-brian-ishmael-n2558516

Return to Top

****

****

5.

Why Congress Should Reject Amnesty for Illegal Agricultural Workers

By Daren Bakst

Heritage Foundation, December 27, 2019

. . .

https://www.heritage.org/agriculture/commentary/why-congress-should-reject-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

amnesty-illegal-agricultural-workers

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Chief Border Enforcement Official Casts Doubt on Goal to Build Wall by 2021
By Mairead McArdle
National Review Online, December 26, 2019
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/news/chief-border-enforcement-official-casts-doubt-on-goal-to-build-wall-by-2021/

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Vote Rigging Via Mass Immigration
By Pawel Styrna
ImmigrationReform.com, December 23, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/23/illegal-immigration-voting-census-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Foreign Criminals Are Victims: Welcome to the New Way Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Matt O'Brien
ImmigrationReform.com, December 20, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/20/illegal-aliens-crime-congress-sanctuary-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Full Stop at New York's Obstructionist 'Green Light' Law
By Bob Dane
ImmigrationReform.com, December 19, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/19/full-stop-ny-green-light-law/

Return to Top

****
****

10.
The Supreme Court Could End Sanctuary Policies Nationwide
By David Jaroslav
ImmigrationReform.com, December 18, 2019
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2019/12/18/supreme-court-sanctuary-policy-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

11.

Promises Kept: Trump's Border Plan Is Working

By Monica Showalter

American Thinker blog, December 29, 2019

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2019/12/promises_kept_trumps_border_plan_is_working.html

Return to Top

****

****

12.

Pete Buttigieg Doesn't Have a Plan on Immigration. He Has a Welcome Mat

By Eddie Scarry

Washington Examiner, December 23, 2019

. . .

https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/pete-buttigieg-doesnt-have-a-plan-on-immigration-he-has-a-welcome-mat

Return to Top

****

****

13.

Report: Immigration Will Give Democrats 24 More House Seats From Trump States After 2020 Census

By Fuzzy Slippers

Legal Insurrection, December 23, 2019

. . .

https://legalinsurrection.com/2019/12/report-immigration-will-give-democrats-24-more-house-seats-from-trump-states-after-2020-census/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

14.

Unnoticed, Democrat Presidential Candidates Have Quietly Gone Nuts on Immigration

By J.F. Thomas

VDare.com, December 22, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/unnoticed-democrat-presidential-candidates-have-quietly-gone-nuts-on-immigration

Return to Top

****

****

15.

Arizona Border Success Shows the Federal Government CAN Do Its Job... When It Wants To

By James Kirkpatrick

VDare.com blog, December 27, 2019

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/arizona-border-success-shows-the-federal-government-can-do-its-job-when-it-wants-to

Return to Top

****

****

16.

Controlled Opposition—GOP Governors Determined to Import "Refugees"

By James Kirkpatrick

VDare.com blog, December 26, 2019

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://vdare.com/posts/controlled-opposition-gop-governors-determined-to-import-refugees

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Time to Give American Samoans U.S. Citizenship
By Rachel Alexander
Townhall.com, December 23, 2019
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/rachelalexander/2019/12/23/time-to-give-american-samoans-us-citizenship-n2558413

Return to Top

****
****

18.
San Francisco, Hostage to the Homeless
Failure to enforce basic standards of public behavior has made one of America's great cities increasingly unlivable.
By Heather Mac Donald
Autumn 2019
. . .
https://www.city-journal.org/san-francisco-homelessness

Return to Top

****
****

19.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Merry Refugeemas! Saint Negligence Promises a Fake Asylum Seeker for Every Supporter of Amnesty!
By Bubbaken Managua
Genesius Times, December 25, 2019
. . .
https://genesiustimes.com/merry-refugeemas-saint-negligence-promises-a-fake-asylum-seeker-for-every-supporter-of-amnesty/

Return to Top

****
****

20.
Rapid Population Growth Leads to Controversial Redistricting of Howard County, MD Schools
By Christy Shaw
NumbersUSA.com, December 3, 2019
. . .
https://www.numbersusa.com/blog/rapid-population-growth-leads-controversial-redistricting-howard-county-md-schools

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Jill Biden Visits Refugees in Mexico, "It's Not Who We Are"
By Karen Townsend
HotAir.com, December 24, 2019
. . .
https://hotair.com/archives/karen-townsend/2019/12/24/jill-biden-visits-refugees-mexico-not/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

22.
Identifying America's Enemies: Judges and Politicians Handing Out Licenses to Illegals
By Bradlee Dean
NewsWithViews.com, December 25, 2019
. . .
https://newswithviews.com/identifying-americas-enemies-judges-and-politicians-handing-out-licenses-to-illegals/

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Illegal Immigration Set to Take Away House Seats from Red States in Next Census
By Eric Lendrum
American Greatness, December 23, 2019
. . .
https://amgreatness.com/2019/12/23/illegal-immigration-set-to-take-away-house-seats-from-red-states-in-next-census/

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Green Light Law Puts New York in Conflict with Immigration Policies
By Assemblyman Will Barclay
Oswego County News Now, December 22, 2019
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://www.oswegocountynewsnow.com/opinion/green-light-law-puts-new-york-in-conflict-with-immigration/article_a645f040-24c8-11ea-adbd-e7370bdad37b.html

Return to Top

****
****

25.
What Does a Non-Race-Based Immigration Program Look Like? Look to the UK and Australia
By Nolan Rappaport
TheHill.com, December 22, 2019
. . .
https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/475677-what-does-a-non-race-based-immigration-program-look-like-look-to-the-uk

Return to Top

****
****

26.
Top Issues in Immigration in 2019
By Andy J. Semotiuk
Forbes.com, December 23, 2019
. . .
https://www.forbes.com/sites/andyjsemotiuk/2019/12/23/top-issues-in-immigration-in-2019/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

27.

Immigrant Neighborhoods Correlated with Fewer Trash Complaints in San Francisco

By Alex Nowrasteh and Andrew C. Forrester

CATO at Liberty blog, December 18, 2019

. . .

https://www.cato.org/blog/immigrant-neighborhoods-correlated-fewer-trash-complaints-san-francisco

Return to Top

****

****

28.

Sensible Bipartisan Immigration Reform Makes Progress – a True Christmas Miracle

By Ali Noorani

Fox News, December 23, 2019

. . .

https://www.foxnews.com/opinion/ali-noorani-sensible-bipartisan-immigration-reform-makes-progress-a-true-christmas-miracle

Return to Top

****

****

29.

Democratic Candidates Field Softball Questions on Immigration

The Trump administration has intensified its assault on protections for immigrants and asylum seekers, but you wouldn't know it from watching Thursday's debate.

By Marcia Brown

The American Prospect, December 23, 2019

. . .

https://prospect.org/politics/democratic-candidates-field-softball-questions-on-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

immigration/

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Trump's Adverse Foreign Policy on Immigration and the Way Forward
By Cristian Ramos-Miranda
International Policy Digest, December 29, 2019
. . .
https://intpolicydigest.org/2019/12/29/trump-s-adverse-foreign-policy-on-immigration-and-the-way-forward/

Return to Top

****
****

31.
We Can't Obtain Immigration Justice in a World of Borders and Nations
By Rebecca Centeno
Truthout, December 26, 2019
. . .
https://truthout.org/articles/we-cant-obtain-immigration-justice-in-a-world-of-borders-and-nations/

Return to Top

****
****

32.
White Nationalist Media Is Shaping US Immigration Policy
By Brendan Smialowski

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Truthout, December 25, 2019

. . .

https://truthout.org/audio/white-nationalist-media-is-shaping-us-immigration-policy/

Return to Top

****

****

33.

No Room at the Inn, 2019: The Spirit of the Christmas Season Is Lost as America Adopts More Anti-Refugee Policies

The New York Daily News, December 24, 2019

. . .

http://www.nydailynews.com/opinion/ny-edit-refugees-20191224-ly3pqqfn3rejtforqjgzdmp63m-story.html

Return to Top

****

****

34.

Immigration Detention Is Part of Mass Incarceration: The Case for Abolishing ICE and Everything Else

By Cora Currier

The Intercept, December 28 2019

. . .

https://theintercept.com/2019/12/28/book-review-immigration-detention-history-policy/

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, December 30, 2019 2:00 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 12/30/19

Share Tweet Forward

Featured Posts

Interior Enforcement Slumps Due to Border Crisis, Lack of Resources, Sanctuaries, and Systemic

Liberian Amnesty Stuffed into NDAA 2020
By Andrew R. Arthur

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dysfunction
By Jessica Vaughan
Earlier this week ICE released its 2019 report on enforcement activity. While overall removals increased due to a record number of illegal arrivals at the southwest border, removals from the interior declined by 10 percent. Meanwhile, ICE's caseload grew by 24 percent, with more than 630,000 cases added to its docket, which has grown to a record high of more than three million cases.

Section 7611 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2020 grants a generous amnesty to Liberian nationals. Sen. Jack Reed (D-R.I.), has stated that this provision will "impact about 4,000 Liberians who have been legally living in the United States," but it will likely "impact" at a minimum thousands more. It sets a bad precedent that all but guarantees future amnesties.

Six-Month AP Investigation of Migrant-Smuggling Business in Mexico Reveals Potency of Trump Policies
By Todd Bensman
For anyone who wanted an end to mass illegal immigration of Central Americans over the southern border, the AP story is a holiday season gift. It provides a granular view of exactly how and why the president's efforts to stymie a mass migration of Central American family units despite an uncooperative Congress — a combination of foreign diplomatic initiatives and innovative deterrence policies

Lots of Useful Information in the Refugee Report to Congress
By Nayla Rush
The United States still leads the humanitarian effort to help refugees and asylees on her soil and abroad. The U.S. humanitarian protection strategy encompasses not just thousands of resettled refugees and asylum seekers on its own territory, but also millions of refugees in host countries close to their homes. U.S. humanitarian assistance reaches tens of millions of displaced and crisis-affected people worldwide, including those who will never be considered or qualify for resettlement in a third country

MS-13 Sweep in Long Island Shows the Value of Cooperative Law Enforcement
By Dan Cadman
In recent years, Suffolk County, on

Cato's Approach to Backlogged Visas: All Aspirations Should Be Honored
By David North
The Cato Institute's immigration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Long Island in New York, has experienced a wave of brutal crimes attributable to the transnational criminal organization MS-13. Now prosecutors and police authorities have announced a major sweep in the county that netted nearly 100 suspects.

policy regarding the backlog of green card applications is roughly this: Everyone who has successfully applied should be admitted. That this would add nearly five million people in the current backlogs to the usual 1.1 million new legal immigrants a year — no other country in the world admits as many.

More Blog Posts

- Suppose Trump Could Create 1.2 Million Good Jobs with a Pen Stroke
- Sanctuary City Released Human Rights Violator
- Differential Impact of Foreign Students and Workers from China and India
- How to Eliminate the Visa Waiting Lists Without a Massive Influx of New Aliens
- Senate Action on Big Tech Green Card Bill S.386
- SCOTUS to Consider 'Burden of Proof' for Relief Where Crime Is in Dispute
- Bad Border Reporting Requirement Stripped Out of NDAA 2020
- A Harsh Glimpse into What Cartel Rivals Say and Do to One Another and Corrupt Officials
- Looseness of OPT Rules Exposed in an Ad for a Wedding Coordinator
- In Dealing with the Cartels, Is It terrorist Designation or Nothing?
- Circuit Court Rules Government Can Detain on Immigration Grounds Pending Prosecution
- When the Justice System Tilts Toward Aliens
- Rep. Van Drew Joins the GOP
- If an EB-5 Convict's Business Wins in Court, Shouldn't the Prison Sentence Be Mentioned?
- A Good Court Ruling on Alien Workers Coming from an Unexpected Place
- ICE Report 'Alternatives to Detention' Don't Work
- Takeaways from ICE Enforcement and Removal Operations Report
- Bill Would Designate Mexican Cartels as Something Other Than Terrorists
- When Is a Birthright Citizenship Not an Immigration Issue?

Video:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mark Morgan, Acting Commissioner of U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP), was featured in an Immigration Newsmaker conversation hosted by the Center for Immigration Studies on December 20 at the National Press Club.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2019 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maggy Smith

From: Maggy Smith
Sent: Monday, December 30, 2019 7:12 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Your deadline is coming up

Law,

There's only one day left to stand with Heritage and advance conservative policy victories at the start of 2020. Please make your year-end gift now .

Your tax-deductible gift to Heritage before tomorrow will empower conservative solutions to issues like healthcare reform, immigration reform, and voter fraud.

Time is running short. Please make your year-end contribution before tomorrow night to make your gift count for 2019.

Thank you for fighting for the vision of America you hold dear.

Best,

Maggy Smith
Membership Programs
The Heritage Foundation

P.S.: America must pick up the pace in 2020. Heritage stands ready to lead the way with a proven record of conservative policy impact, but you're the key to our success. Support Heritage today with your year-end gift: https://secured.heritage.org/_2019/end-of-year

The Heritage Foundation

The Heritage Foundation | 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted] (b)(6) If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Kay Coles James

From:	Kay Coles James
Sent:	Tuesday, December 31, 2019 8:27 AM
To:	Law, Robert T
Subject:	It's time to rally!

Law,

Today is the last day of the year. Your special year-end gift before midnight tonight is the fuel we need to power our efforts to defend your values in the next year.

Starting tomorrow, Americans face a critical decision between staying the course of the Founders—or of throwing away everything we've built in the last two hundred years. The voices of conservatives like you and me must be front and center in the debate.

Now is the time to rally!

Join the movement and advance your values into the next decade: https://secured.heritage.org/_2019/end-of-year

Be a part of the movement that proves the power of our founding values. Activate your Heritage membership today and defend our values in 2020, when so much is at stake.

This secure link is the fastest, easiest way for you to activate your membership and receive your Heritage membership card: https://secured.heritage.org/_2019/end-of-year

You are a constant reminder that our conservative principles are worth fighting for each and every day. Thank you for everything you do.

All the best,

Kay C. James
President

P.S. With so much at stake next year, we can't waste a single moment. Your gift before midnight tonight will advance your principles now, and for years to come: https://secured.heritage.org/_2019/end-of-year

The Heritage Foundation

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(b)(6)

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted]. If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maggy Smith

From: Maggy Smith
Sent: Tuesday, December 31, 2019 4:03 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Only hours left...

Law,

Tonight is the deadline. I wanted to send you a reminder that this is your last chance to make a tax-deductible gift before 2019 is over.

Will you defend your principles of limited government, individual liberty, traditional American values, a welcoming but fair immigration system, the right to life and property, and a strong national defense with a special year-end gift now?

Your support will enable us to defend your principles next year.

Thank you for standing with Heritage!

Best,

Maggy Smith
Membership Programs
The Heritage Foundation

P.S. Your support in 2019 gives us the boost we need to advance conservative principles in 2020. Stand with us now:https://secured.heritage.org/_2019/end-of-year

The Heritage Foundation

The Heritage Foundation | 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

(b)(6)

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted] If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, January 3, 2020 4:19 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 1/3/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 1/3/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, and David North
2. "Trump at the Border," Rich Lowry
3. "Trump Administration Expands 'Remain in Mexico' Policy," Zachary Evans
4. "Trump's Immigration Policy Is Finally Putting American Workers First," Scott Ruesterholz
5. "Nothing Says 'Happy New Year' Quite Like Giving Taxpayer-Funded Health Care to Illegal Aliens," Beth Baumann
6. "Trump's 'Failures'," Victor Davis Hanson
7. "As DACA Ends, Deportation Proceedings Begin," Jazz Shaw
8. "No, Pete Buttigieg, Jesus Wasn't a Refugee, and He Doesn't Endorse Your Immigration Policies," Lew Jan Olowski
9. "DHS to Investigate Driver's Licenses for Illegal Aliens," Andrea Widburg
10. "Trump Administration to Go After States Allowing Illegal Immigrants to Obtain Driver's Licenses," Matt Margolis
11. "In California, More Free Rides for Illegal Aliens," Andrea Widburg
12. "A Warning From Europe," Pawel Styrna
13. "Did President Trump Forget to Leave a Message for AT&T?," Jennifer G. Hickey
14. "How Congress Helps Central American Gangs Recruit in U.S.," Bob Dane
15. "'Leftugees': Red States Must Defend Themselves From the Blue-State Exodus," Jason Orestes
16. "Our Broken Immigration System Encourages Using 'Recycled' Migrant Children as Smuggling Pawns," Jason Piccolo
17. "Officials Who Flouted Law on Immigration, Marriage, Demand Blind Obedience to Gun Grab," WorldNetDaily.com
18. "The Immigration Issue Simplified for Congress," James Zumwalt
19. "Removal of DACA Recipients Has Begun: It Didn't Take a Crystal Ball to See DACA Would Not End Well," Nolan Rappapor
20. "The Great Divide: Congress, Voters on Immigration," Joe Guzzardi
21. "Will Treason Lobby's Asian Overclass Importation/ Ag Amnesty Bills Be Slipped Through Senate Next Week?," Washington Watcher II
22. "DACA Deportations Gear Up with Predictable Media 'Sob Story' Response," Brenda Walker

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

23. "Trump Deports Illegals Obama Would Have Welcomed," Brenda Walker
24. "Tom Homan Predicts the Border Will 'Collapse' if Democrats Win in 2020'," James Kirkpatrick
25. "ICE Reports Confirm: It's Time to End the Sanctuary Cities Scandal," A.W. Morgan
26. "Like Them or Not, Trump Policies Are Reducing Immigration," Michael Smolens
27. "A Global View of Immigration: Making Sense of Today's Tensions," Ruth Holmes
28. "Five Workplace Immigration Developments to Watch in 2020," Laura D. Francis
29. "Looking Back on Trump Administration's Tough Talk on Immigration," Joel Rose
30. "Top 10 Legal Immigration Predictions for 2020," Boundless.com
31. "A Guide to Trump's Immigration Policies," Boundless.com
32. "Congressional Republicans Dominate High Immigration Periods," David Bier
33. "Immigration: America's Saving Grace," Vincient Arnold
34. "Immigrants at His Properties and Nobody Really Cares?," Jack Holmes
35. "Honduras Asylum Agreement Unlawful and Unsafe for Migrants," Raul Reyes
36. "Mexico Has Become the Wall: What a Trip Across the Border Showed Me," Murad Awawdeh

1.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

The Pretzel Logic of Some Asylum Seekers
January 3, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Pretzel-Logic-Some-Asylum-Seekers

Does Turnover in the Immigration Judge Corps Really Signify that Something Is Amiss?
January 2, 2020
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://cis.org/Cadman/Does-Turnover-Immigration-Judge-Corps-Really-Signify-Something-Amiss

Another Shining Example of Sanctuary Policies Making Communities 'Safer'
January 2, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Another-Shining-Example-Sanctuary-Policies-Making-Communities-Safer

Does Granting Temporary Immigration Benefits Truly Create 'Reliance Interests' that Must Be Extended into Infinity?
December 31, 2019
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Does-Granting-Temporary-Immigration-Benefits-Truly-Create-Reliance-Interests-Must-Be

By Andrew R. Arthur

Joe Biden's Immigration Plan
The former vice president should know better
January 3, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Joe-Bidens-Immigration-Plan

What Kind of Country Are We, and Do We Want to Be?
The American people actually get a choice
January 2, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/What-Kind-Country-Are-We-and-Do-We-Want-Be

Mississippi Raids Net Americans Jobs
ICE enforcement pays off
January 2, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Mississippi-Raids-Net-Americans-Jobs

DHS to Open 'Tent Courts' to Public
Likely less exciting than you would be led to believe

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

January 1, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/DHS-Open-Tent-Courts-Public

'Pete' Buttigieg Releases His Immigration Plan

Gutting enforcement and promoting amnesty — for starters

December 30, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Pete-Buttigieg-Releases-His-Immigration-Plan

By David North

One of the Most Obscure Green Card Categories: Abused Parents of U.S. Citizens

December 31, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/North/One-Most-Obscure-Green-Card-Categories-Abused-Parents-US-Citizens

Message for anonymous@anonymous.com

December 30, 2019

. . .

https://cis.org/North/Message-anonymousanonymouscom

Return to Top

****

****

2.

Trump at the Border

The wall was a fantastical idea, but Trump actually has a good story to tell at the border with Mexico's recent cooperation.

By Rich Lowry

The Corner at National Review Online, December 28, 2019

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/trump-at-the-border/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Trump Administration Expands 'Remain in Mexico' Policy
By Zachary Evans
National Review Online, January 3, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/news/trump-administration-expands-remain-in-mexico-policy/

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Trump's Immigration Policy Is Finally Putting American Workers First
By Scott Ruesterholz
Townhall.com, January 3, 2020
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/scottruesterholz/2020/01/03/trumps-immigration-policy-is-finally-putting-american-workers-first-n2558886

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Nothing Says 'Happy New Year' Quite Like Giving Taxpayer-Funded Health Care to Illegal Aliens
By Beth Baumann
Townhall.com, January 1, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://townhall.com/tipsheet/bethbaumann/2020/01/01/nothing-says-happy-new-year-quite-like-giving-taxpayer-funded-health-care-to-il-n2558798

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Trump's 'Failures'
By Victor Davis Hanson
American Greatness, December 29, 2019
. . .
amgreatness.com/2019/12/29/trumps-failures/

Return to Top

****
****

7.
As DACA Ends, Deportation Proceedings Begin
By Jazz Shaw
HotAir.com, December 30, 2019
. . .
https://hotair.com/archives/jazz-shaw/2019/12/30/daca-ends-deportation-proceedings-begin/

Return to Top

****
****

8.
No, Pete Buttigieg, Jesus Wasn't a Refugee, and He Doesn't Endorse Your

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Policies

The 'Jesus was a refugee' trope is tired and inaccurate. It's time for leftist politicians to stop exploiting Christmas by making false arguments about history.

By Lew Jan Olowski

The Federalist, December 30, 2019

. . .

https://thefederalist.com/2019/12/30/no-pete-buttigieg-jesus-wasnt-a-refugee-and-he-doesnt-endorse-your-immigration-policies/

Return to Top

****

****

9.

DHS to Investigate Driver's Licenses for Illegal Aliens

By Andrea Widburg

American Thinker blog, January 2, 2020

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2020/01/dhs_to_investigate_drivers_licenses_for_illegal_aliens.html#ixzz69vExWLbP

Return to Top

****

****

10.

Trump Administration to Go After States Allowing Illegal Immigrants to Obtain Driver's Licenses

By Matt Margolis

PJMedia.com, January 2, 2020

. . .

https://pjmedia.com/trending/trump-administration-to-go-after-states-allowing-illegal-immigrants-to-obtain-drivers-licenses/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

11.

In California, More Free Rides for Illegal Aliens

By Andrea Widburg

American Thinker blog, January 2, 2020

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2020/01/in_california_more_free_rides_for_illegal_aliens.html

Return to Top

****

****

12.

A Warning From Europe

By Pawel Styrna

ImmigrationReform.com, January 2, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/02/mass-immigration-policy-europe-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

13.

Did President Trump Forget to Leave a Message for AT&T?

By Jennifer G. Hickey

ImmigrationReform.com, January 3, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/03/h-1b-foreign-workers-att-trump-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

14.
How Congress Helps Central American Gangs Recruit in U.S.
By Bob Dane
ImmigrationReform.com, January 2, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/02/gangs-ms-13-congress-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

15.
'Leftugees': Red States Must Defend Themselves From the Blue-State Exodus
By Jason Orestes
Washington Examiner, December 27, 2019
. . .
https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/leftugees-red-states-must-defend-themselves-from-the-blue-state-exodus

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Our Broken Immigration System Encourages Using 'Recycled' Migrant

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Children as Smuggling Pawns
By Jason Piccolo
Washington Examiner, December 26, 2019
. . .
https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/our-broken-immigration-system-encourages-using-recycled-migrant-children-as-smuggling-pawns

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Officials Who Flouted Law on Immigration, Marriage, Demand Blind Obedience to Gun Grab
WorldNetDaily.com, December 27, 2019
. . .
https://www.wnd.com/2019/12/officials-flouted-law-marriage-immigration-now-demand-blind-obedience-gun-grab/

Return to Top

****
****

18.
The Immigration Issue Simplified for Congress
By James Zumwalt
WorldNetDaily.com, December 11, 2019
. . .
https://www.wnd.com/2019/12/immigration-issue-simplified-congress/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

19.

Removal of DACA Recipients Has Begun: It Didn't Take a Crystal Ball to See DACA Would Not End Well

By Nolan Rappapor

TheHill.com, December 29, 2019

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/476151-removal-of-daca-recipients-has-begun-it-didnt-take-a-crystal-ball-to-see

Return to Top

****

****

20.

The Great Divide: Congress, Voters on Immigration

By Joe Guzzardi

The Daily Herald (IL), January 1, 2020

. . .

https://www.dailyherald.com/discuss/20200101/the-great-divide-congress-voters-on-immigration

Return to Top

****

****

21.

Will Treason Lobby's Asian Overclass Importation/Ag Amnesty Bills Be Slipped Through Senate Next Week?

By Washington Watcher II

VDare.com, January 3, 2020

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/will-treason-lobby-s-asian-overclass-importation-ag-amnesty-bills-be-slipped-through-senate-next-week

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

22.
DACA Deportations Gear Up with Predictable Media "Sob Story" Response
By Brenda Walker
VDare.com blog, January 1, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/daca-deportations-gear-up-with-predictable-media-sob-story-response

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Trump Deports Illegals Obama Would Have Welcomed
By Brenda Walker
VDare.com blog, January 1, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/trump-deports-illegals-obama-would-have-welcomed

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Tom Homan Predicts the Border Will "Collapse" if Democrats Win in 2020'
By James Kirkpatrick
VDare.com blog, December 31, 2019
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://vdare.com/posts/tom-homan-predicts-the-border-will-collapse-if-democrats-win-in-2020

Return to Top

****
****

25.
ICE Reports Confirm: It's Time to End the Sanctuary Cities Scandal
By A.W. Morgan
VDare.com, December 30, 2019
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/ice-reports-confirm-it-s-time-to-end-the-sanctuary-cities-scandal

Return to Top

****
****

26.
Like Them or Not, Trump Policies Are Reducing Immigration
By Michael Smolens,
The San Diego Union-Tribune, January 1, 2020
. . .
https://www.sandiegouniontribune.com/columnists/story/2020-01-01/column-like-them-or-not-trump-policies-are-reducing-immigration

Return to Top

****
****

27.
A Global View of Immigration: Making Sense of Today's Tensions

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Ruth Holmes
Relocate.com, December 30, 2019
. . .
https://www.relocatemagazine.com/articles/international-assignments-a-global-view-of-immigration-making-sense-of-todays-tensions-worldwideerc-wi19-rholmes

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Five Workplace Immigration Developments to Watch in 2020
Laura D. Francis
Bloomberg Law, December 31, 2019
. . .
https://news.bloomberglaw.com/tech-and-telecom-law/five-workplace-immigration-developments-to-watch-in-2020

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Looking Back on Trump Administration's Tough Talk on Immigration
By Joel Rose
Delaware Public Media, December 31, 2019
. . .
https://www.delawarepublic.org/post/looking-back-trump-administrations-tough-talk-immigration

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

30.

Top 10 Legal Immigration Predictions for 2020

Think 2019 was bad? Get ready for executive orders, midnight regs, and unfavorable SCOTUS rulings.

Boundless.com, January 2, 2020

. . .

https://www.boundless.com/blog/legal-immigration-predictions-2020/

Return to Top

****

****

31.

A Guide to Trump's Immigration Policies

What the President has done, and what it means for immigrants.

Boundless.com, December 30, 2019

. . .

https://www.boundless.com/blog/trump-immigration-policies/

Return to Top

****

****

32.

Congressional Republicans Dominate High Immigration Periods

By David Bier

CATO at Liberty blog, December 30, 2019

. . .

https://www.cato.org/blog/congressional-republicans-dominate-high-immigration-periods

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

33.
Immigration: America's Saving Grace
By Vincient Arnold
The Richmond Times-Dispatch, January 1, 2020
. . .
https://www.richmond.com/opinion/columnists/vincient-arnold-column-immigration-america-s-saving-grace/article_bfba5d44-a8a8-5ded-8b2c-2aac9dbe4bc1.html

Return to Top

****
****

34.
Immigrants at His Properties and Nobody Really Cares?
That seems to be the state of affairs, this time after a report on his Virginia winery after some were fired.
By Jack Holmes
Esquire.com, January 2, 2020
. . .
https://www.esquire.com/news-politics/a30379305/trump-winery-undocumented-workers-fired/

Return to Top

****
****

35.
Honduras Asylum Agreement Unlawful and Unsafe for Migrants
By Raul Reyes
TheHill.com, December 27, 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/476053-honduras-asylum-agreement-unlawful-and-unsafe-for-migrants

Return to Top

****

****

36.
Mexico Has Become the Wall: What a Trip Across the Border Showed Me
By Murad Awawdeh
The New York Daily News, December 28, 2019
. . .
http://www.nydailynews.com/opinion/ny-oped-what-i-saw-at-the-border-20191228-jonnpbuxo5bxnje6zefq6mdhpq-story.html

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, January 6, 2020 5:45 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 1/6/20

Featured Posts

One of the Most Obscure Green Card Categories: Abused Parents of U.S. Citizens

When the Wolves Guard the Sheep
By John Miano

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By David North

One of the most obscure, least attractive, and hardest-to-secure ways of getting green card status is to claim that the alien has been abused or battered by one's citizen children. Green card holders, on the other hand, can beat up on their parents to their hearts' content and it will not produce any immigration benefits for the victims.

American tech workers campaigned hard for President Trump during the 2016 presidential campaign. During the campaign, candidate Trump promised major changes to the H-1B visa program whose very purpose is to replace Americans with cheap foreign labor. With the 2020 election approaching, now is a good time to access what Trump has done to fulfill that promise.

Another Shining Example of Sanctuary Policies Making Communities 'Safer'

By Dan Cadman

On December 17, shortly before her 52nd birthday, Annette Conquering Bear was struck by a car and killed within steps of her home in Denver, while walking back from a short shopping trip with her husband. The individual who killed her fled without stopping. The suspect — was one Juan Sanchez, native and citizen of Mexico, a six-time prior deportee with three drunk-driving arrests prior to the drunk-driving arrest and release that took place shortly before his deadly hit-and-run.

Mississippi Raids Net American Jobs

By Andrew R. Arthur

The New York Times reported a follow-up to an August 7, 2019, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement operation in which the agency executed criminal search warrants at seven agricultural processing plants owned by five employers in Mississippi. Not surprisingly, it found that the operation "opened up jobs for American workers". The article makes clear that American workers, and in particular local African-Americans, were able to find better jobs at the particular site.

More Blog Posts

- The Pretzel Logic of Some Asylum Seekers
- What Kind of Country Are We, and Do We Want to Be?
- Does Turnover in the Immigration Judge Corps Really Signify that Something Is Amiss?
- DHS to Open 'Tent Courts' to Public

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Does Granting Temporary Immigration Benefits Truly Create 'Reliance Interests' that Must Be Extended into Infinity
- Message for anonymous@anonymous.com
- 'Pete' Buttigieg Releases His Immigration Plan
- Immigration and Political Power
- Heartwarming Story About Violation of the Immigration Laws
- Audit of Controversial, EB-5 Funded Charter School Foretells Bankruptcy
- Why Is 'Parole in Place' in the NDAA?

Video

Mark Krikorian, the Center's Executive Director, discusses immigration's cumulative effect on apportionment in the House of Representatives and the Electoral College.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, January 6, 2020 5:16 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 1/6/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 1/6/20

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 1/13, San Diego - Book discussion: Citizenship in Hard Times
2. 1/15, DC - Annual U.S.-Mexico security conference
3. 1/16, Paris - OECD forum on building a whole-of-society approach to emerging migration and integration challenges
4. 1/16-19, DC - Immigration at the Society for Social Work and Research annual conference
5. 1/17, Paris - Conference on making migration and integration policies future ready
6. 1/17-18, Copenhagen, Denmark - Conference on forced displacement
7. 1/19-21, Cairo - IOM/OECD International Forum on Migration Statistics
8. 1/21-24, Quito, Ecuador - Annual Mayoral Forum on Human Mobility, Migration and Development
9. 1/21, Florence, Italy - Lecture on the democratic case for immigration in the EU
10. 1/23, New York, NY - Report and discussion on statelessness in the U.S. - [New Listing]
11. 1/23, Toronto - Discussion on Civil society and the everyday politics of the global refugee regime
12. 1/23, Canada/North America - Webinar on local strategies to support immigrant business and local prosperity
13. 1/24-25, Dubai, U.A.E. - EB-5 investors conference
14. 1/29, Brooklyn, NY - Lecture on threats posed by increased immigration enforcement - [New Listing]
15. 2/3, San Diego - Seminar on emigrant political rights in Latin America
16. 2/4, Toronto - Discussion on State responsibilities towards refugees under the 1967 Protocol to the 1951 Convention
17. 2/14, Los Angeles - Lecture on explaining state responses to refugees
18. 2/17-21, San José, Costa Rica - World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges
19. 2/20-22, Charleston, SC - Conference on current trends in immigration research and activism - [New Listing]
20. 2/24, San Diego - Seminar on the White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression
21. 2/27, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migrant lives at Israel's margins
22. 3/11-12, San Antonio - Annual border security expo

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

23. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary
24. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention
25. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of fake news
26. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law - [New Listing]

1.
Citizenship in Hard Times
12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, January 13, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer-Final---Goodman-1-13-20.pdf

Sara Wallace Goodman, Associate Professor of Political Science, UC Irvine
Co-Director, Jack W. Peltason Center for the Study of Democracy, UC Irvine

Description: What do citizens do in times of democratic crisis? When democracy is under threat, do everyday citizens activate and mobilize, or do they hunker down, demobilize, and express greater support for homogeneity (like speaking English)? Scholars, pundits and policy experts have largely focused on elite behavior and institutional guardrails, but the citizenry is a foundation to any story about democracy under threat. This book is the first to examine civic obligation in unsettled democratic times from the perspective of citizens themselves. It employs a three-country study of the US, UK, and Germany, to examine how democratic citizens define obligation and for whom, comparing native-born and naturalized citizens. Findings highlight the importance of how democratic problems are framed, and puts forward a number of policy prescriptions for overhauling civic education.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

2.

Eighth Annual U.S.-Mexico Security Conference: Taking Stock of Mexico's Security Landscape One Year On

8:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m., Wednesday, January 15, 2019
Woodrow Wilson Center, 6th Floor
Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center
1300 Pennsylvania Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20004-3027
https://www.wilsoncenter.org/event/eighth-annual-us-mexico-security-conference-taking-stock-mexicos-security-landscape-one-year

Description: The Wilson Center's Mexico Institute invites you to its eighth annual Mexican security review. The forum will examine the pressing security challenges Mexico faces, such as the record number of homicides in 2019, and how it plans to respond. Other topics to be covered will include efforts to fight corruption and impunity; trends in security and migration enforcement on Mexico's southern border; the status of U.S.-Mexico security cooperation; and how illegal drug markets are evolving in Mexico and the United States. Two new research papers, one on the formation of Mexico's National Guard, and the other on countering the evolving drug trade in the Americas, will be presented. The conference will feature leading policy analysts from Mexico and the United States.

We hope you will be able to join us for this informative event.

Speakers:
Alejandro Hope, Security Analyst

David Shirk, Global Fellow, Mexico Institute, Wilson Center; Associate Professor, University of San Diego; Director, Justice in Mexico Project

Edna Jaime, Global Fellow, Mexico Institute, Wilson Center; Director General, México Evalúa

Iñigo Guevara, Director at Jane's Aerospace, Defense and Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maureen Meyer, Director for Mexico and Migrant Rights, Washington Office on Latin America

Celina Realuyo, Professor of Practice, William J. Perry Center for Hemispheric Defense Studies, The National Defense University

Eric L. Olson, Global Fellow, Mexico Institute, Wilson Center; Director of the Central America- D.C. Platform, Seattle International Foundation

Full agenda forthcoming.

Return to Top

****
****

3.
OECD High-Level Policy Forum: Building a Whole-of-Society Approach to Emerging Migration and Integration Challenges

Thursday, January 16, 2020
OECD Conference Centre 2
rue André-Pascal 75775
Paris CEDEX 16 France
https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/Migration-Integration-Policy-Forum-2020-EN.pdf

Program:

9:30-10:00 a.m.
Welcoming Remarks

Mr. Angel Gurría, OECD Secretary-General

Chair or Vice-Chair of the OECD Migration and Integration Ministerial Meeting

10:00-11:00 a.m.
Preparing for the future: lessons from global migration over the past

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

decade

This introductory panel (5-6 participants) will discuss the experiences of countries regarding large migration inflows, and the lessons learned moving forward. It will involve high-level representatives from the UN and from selected OECD countries that have - or had - a key role in contexts of dealing with large migration inflows, as well as the president of a leading think tank. 11:00 – 11:30 Elevator pitches for the Innovation Lab Following a call for proposals with member countries, 10 selected innovative projects related to migration and integration from across OECD countries will be presented in short, 1-minute "elevator pitches". More detailed presentations of these projects will be made throughout the day in the hall of the OECD Conference Centre.

11:45 a.m.-1:00 p.m.

Foresight: the future of migration and integration

Presentation and discussion in break-out groups of the results of the foresight exercise of the OECD, focusing on four themes:

(i) the impact of new technologies on migration control and enforcement as well as on

(ii) integration services delivery; and on

(iii) the role of regional and local authorities and

(iv) the role of corporations in migration and integration management in 2035.

2:30-3:45 p.m.

Parallel Sessions

1) Engaging with civil society – new approaches in the integration of migrants

New and innovative approaches that have been taken throughout OECD countries to leverage civil society in promoting the integration of migrants – notably with respect to social integration. This session will present and discuss some of these.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2) Innovations in language training

This session will present and discuss innovative approaches to language learning – either through new technologies or through innovation in course design and outreach.

3) Matching migrants with employment opportunities

A key issue with which many countries are struggling is to match migrants' skills with available employment opportunities, notably, but not exclusively, for refugees. This requires skills being assessed upfront and migrants being put in touch with relevant employers.

4) Innovation in skills partnerships

Skills partnerships are an increasingly important tool for matching talent in origin countries with labour needs in destination countries, while avoiding negative impacts on the origin country. This session will discuss some recent policy innovations in this field.

4:00-4:30 p.m.

A conversation on the global competition for talent

This session will bring together a high-level representative from emerging economies and a global thought leader from an OECD country to discuss the global competition for talent.

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Society for Social Work and Research annual conference

Reducing Racial and Economic Inequality

Thursday-Sunday, January 16–19, 2020
Marriott Marquis
901 Massachusetts Ave NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://secure.sswr.org/

Immigration-related sessions:

Thursday, January 17, 2020

1:30-3:00 p.m.
Examining Stress in Lives of Immigrants

The Effects of Caregiving, Self-Efficacy and Stigma on Wellness Among Asian-American Family Caregivers of People with Mental Illness
Meekyung Han, San Jose State University; Sadhna Diwan, San Jose State University

Venezuelan Youth in Diaspora: A Multisite Study of Crisis Migration and Cultural Stress
Christopher Salas-Wright, Boston University; Mariana Cohen, Boston University; Patricia Andrade, Raices Venezolanas; Jose Rodriguez, Iglesia Episcopal Jesús de Nazaret; Mariana Sanchez, Florida International University; Seth Schwartz, University of Miami

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Personal Well-Being, Resilience, Social Support and Psychological Distress Among Burmese Resettled Adults in the United States
Kareen Tonsing, Oakland University; Martha Vungkhanching, California State University, Fresno

The Loneliness Absorbs and Oppresses: Social Integration Barriers, Social Isolation and the Health Behaviors of Latino Immigrant Day Laborers
Jennifer Siegel, University of Maryland at Baltimore; Gabriel Fiallos, University of Maryland, Baltimore; Priya Sharma, University of Maryland, Baltimore; Nalini Negi, University of Maryland at Baltimore

Healthcare Literacy & Utilization

Changes in Immigration Policy and the Mental Health of Recent Mexican American Immigrants
Robin Gearing, University of Houston; Micki Washburn, University of Houston; Luis Torres, University of Houston; Alberto Cabrera, University of Houston; L. Christian Gearing, University of Houston; Robin Gearing, University of Houston

Testing Competing Models of Somatization in a Sample of Somali Refugees Living in Urban Kenya
Claire Luce, Virginia Commonwealth University; Laura Swan, Virginia Commonwealth University; Shelby McDonald, Virginia Commonwealth University; Hyojin Im, Virginia Commonwealth University

Mental Health Needs and Healthcare Access Among Venezuelan Immigrants in Central Florida
Tracy Wharton, University of Central Florida; Andres Cubillo-Novella, Pontificia Javeriana University; Matthew Abrams, University of Central Florida; Gilarys Garcia, University of Central Florida; Heather Peralta, RN, University of Central Florida

Health Literacy and Healthcare Use Among Karen Refugees
Isok Kim, University at Buffalo; Wooksoo Kim, University at Buffalo; Krisztina Baltimore, University at Buffalo; Biplab Bhattacharya, State University of New York at Buffalo; Mary Keovisai, MA, State University of New York at Buffalo; Li Lin, State University of New York at Buffalo

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3:15-4:45 p.m.

Exploring Mental Health Correlates

Trends and Mental Health Correlates of Discrimination Among Latin American and Asian Immigrants in the United States
Christopher Salas-Wright, Boston University; Michael Vaughn, Saint Louis University; Trenette Goings, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; Sehun Oh, University of Texas at Austin; Jorge Delva, Boston University; Mariana Cohen, Boston University; Seth Schwartz, University of Miami

Meanings of Resilience and Mental Health Among Syrian Refugees: Findings from Two Countries
Asli Yalim, University of Central Florida

Do Family Relation and Immigration Influence Mental Health Service Use Among Asian Americans?
Xiaochuan Wang, University of Central Florida

Structural Determinants of Mental Health Vulnerabilities and Access to Services Among Asian Immigrant Men in Toronto, Canada
Ran Hu, University of Toronto; Kenneth Fung, University of Toronto; Josephine Wong, Ryerson University

Friday, January 17, 2020

8:00-9:30 a.m.

Health Status of Immigrants

Perception of the Affordable Care Act Among Korean Americans
Chung Hyeon Jeong, University of Southern California; Hyunsung Oh, Arizona State University; Lawrence Palinkas, University of Southern California

Determinants of Healthcare Use Among Refugees from Burma
Isok Kim, University at Buffalo; Wooksoo Kim, University at Buffalo

Health and Mental Health Experiences of Latina Immigrant Women during the Perinatal Period
Maria Pineros Leano, Boston College; Laura Crowley, Boston College; Natalia

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Pineros Leano, Universidad de la Sabana

Gaining through Giving: A National Study of Volunteering and Health Status Among Immigrants in Canada
Jacky Ka Kei Liu, University of Calgary; Yeonjung Lee, University of Calgary

2:00-3:30 p.m.
Interpersonal Violence and Mental Health

Pathways between Economic Insecurity, Sexual Violence, and Depression Among Urban Refugee and Displaced Adolescents and Youth in Kampala, Uganda
Carmen Logie, University of Toronto; Moses Okumu, University of Toronto; Simon Mwima, Uganda Ministry of Health; Senkosi Balyejjusa, Uganda Christian University; Robert Hakiza, Young African Refugees For Integral Development

Controlling Behaviors, Intimate Partner Violence, Depression, and Social Adaptation Among Immigrant Women in South Korea
Hyun Lee, Yonsei University; Jae Yop Kim, Yonsei University; Lkhamkhuu Munkhnaran, Yonsei University; Boyoung Nam, University of Maryland Baltimore

Exploring Exclusionary and Fragmented Healthcare Access for Undocumented Women Immigrant Survivors of Intimate Partner Violence
Miriam Valdovinos, University of Denver; Sarah Dodd, University of Connecticut; Maritza Vasquez Reyes, University of Connecticut

Complexity of Men's of Experiences of Violence in Northern Uganda: Victim, Perpetrator, Bystander
Steve Friedman, School for Social Work

3:45-5:15 p.m.
Multifold Impact of the Border Crisis

Preventing Family Separation: Child Custody and Family Deportation Planning with Undocumented Latinx Families
Jodi Berger Cardoso, University of Houston; Liza Barros Lane, Baylor College of Medicine; Monica Faulkner, University of Texas at Austin; Jennifer Scott,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge; Natalia Giraldo-Santiago, University of Houston

Educational Inclusion for Special Needs Students in a Refugee Camp: How Is School Setting Related to Children's Wellbeing?
Thomas M. Crea, Boston College; Kerri Evans, Boston College; Robert Hasson, Boston College; Kelsey Werner, Boston College; Elizabeth Wanjiku, Jesuit Refugee Service; Gregory St. Arnold, Jesuit Refugee Service

"I Want to Feel Safe at My School. I Want to Feel like I Belong": Exploring Muslim Refugee Students' Levels of Engagement in Schools
Ashley Cureton, The Johns Hopkins University

Developing Peer-to-Peer Support for Foreign-Born High School Students: Using Youth-Led Community-Based Participatory Research to Assess & Address Needs
Abbie Frost, Simmons University School of Social Work; Hugo Kamya, Simmons University School of Social Work

5:30-7:00 p.m.

Immigration Detention: The Racialized Response to Violence and Trauma

Sergio Serna, University of California, Los Angeles, Angela Garcia, University of California, Los Angeles, Anthony Gamez, University of California, Los Angeles, Fatima Gonzalez, University of California, Los Angeles and Marianna Hernandez, B.A., University of California, Los Angeles

Background: Recent data indicate the U.S. apprehended 92,607 migrants at the U.S.-Mexico border in March, 2019, the highest monthly total since April, 2007. (Pew Research) The recent wave of migration has been marked by two unique factors: refugees are migrating as family units more than ever and the number of people from El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras together accounted for the bulk of apprehensions. In February, 2019, days after the Trump Administration declared a National Emergency at the border, four Latinx students from the Master's in Social Welfare program at UCLA, arrived in the rural town of Dilley, Texas. Joining volunteer lawyers, the team's role was to provide legal assistance to detained mothers and children undergoing the Credible Fear Interview process. The students, accompanied by department faculty, embarked on an intensely personal and professionally poignant journey to address this humanitarian crisis. In collaboration with Dilley's on-the-ground legal team, the students conducted interviews of women and their children to determine their clients' strongest claims for asylum. While seeking and documenting their testimonies, students learned of women's harrowing accounts of traversing multiple countries with their young children, their terrifying crossing at the Rio Grande, and dehumanizing conditions in U.S. Customs and Border Patrol facilities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Methods: As a result of the experience, the team created a set of tools for advocates assisting newly arrived Central American refugees. The three key resources include: (1) an educational and outreach video documenting the experience of volunteer advocates and their clients; (2) a case example demonstrating the utility of exploring trauma narratives for providers struggling with secondary trauma; and (3) transdisciplinary recommendations aimed to decrease re-traumatization of detained immigrant clients through use of trauma-informed perspectives and practices.

Results: The perpetuation of dangerously false narratives, racialized narratives, paints Central American refugees as criminals. This is facilitated by existing systems of oppression including racism. The fact that these sentiments are promoted by the world's highest political office has broad implications for both micro and macro-level social work practice. Through disseminating these additional tools to better address the needs of newly arrived Central American refugees, this toolkit seeks to document helpful responses to the real national emergency—xenophobia.

Conclusions and Implications: Continued conversation must bring together researchers, educators, students and staff of organizations serving the most vulnerable racial/ethnic minorities whose life experiences led them to the U.S. We must acknowledge that a legal perspective alone is insufficient, akin to working with one hand tied behind our backs. The law often operates in a black and white paradigm, making it sometimes difficult to recognize the humanity of all people. Through dialogue we look to demonstrate why and how social workers and their perspective is uniquely suited for intervening with this population. This work is rooted in the narratives of the women and their children, those who participated in this journey and those seeking to provide culturally humble services and effective policy advocacy on behalf of impacted communities—all of which will serve as a continuous reminder of the power of resilience.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Understanding Economic Inequality in Immigrant Lives

Emerging Health and Economic Inequality Among U.S. Citizen Minors in Mexico
Jodi Berger Cardoso, University of Houston; Sharon Borja, University of Houston

Immigrant Women, Violence, and Economic Oppression
Arlette Vila, University of Texas at Austin; Elizabeth Pomeroy, University of Texas at Austin

Mothering in Contexts of Economic Inequality, Violence and Transnational Mobility: A Qualitative Study with Asylum-Seeking Mothers from Central America
Maria Emilia Bianco, Boston College

Exploring Determinants of Employment Among Resettled Refugee Women in the United States
Erum Agha, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Saturday, January 18, 2020

9:45-11:15 a.m.

Improving health care delivery

"How Will I Take Her to Have Her Vaccinated?": Threats to Healthcare Access Among Syrian Refugees in Lebanon
Cindy Sousa, Bryn Mawr College; Bree Akesson, Wilfrid Laurier University; Dena Badawi, University of Waterloo

Adaptation of Immigrants & Refugees

Reimagining Successful Aging Among Latinx Communities in the United States
Rocio Calvo, Boston College; Nacho Gimenez-Nadal, Universidad de Zaragoza

Gender Inequality in Assimilation across Immigrant Generations

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Felix Muchomba, Rutgers University; Neeraj Kaushal, Columbia University

Institutional Innovation amidst the Demise of the Refugee Resettlement Sector
Jessica Darrow, University of Chicago

On Being Black, Muslim, and a Refugee: Stories of Somalis in Chicago
Ifrah Magan, New York University

4:00-5:30 p.m.

Immigration Status As a Social Determinant of Racial and Economic Inequality

The resurgence of anti-immigrant sentiment in immigrant receiving countries, like the United States and Canada, represents a pressing social just concern especially for undocumented immigrants who face the threat of deportation along with racial discrimination and economic insecurity. As Sociologist Roberto Gonzalez (2015) has argued, immigration status functions as a “master status” in the lives of immigrants through organizing the social, political, and economic resources available to immigrants as well as processes of stigmatization and discrimination that negatively impact people who are constructed in media and political rhetoric as "illegal," "criminal",' or "threats" to society.

The following papers present research from Canada and the United States to develop a cross-national understanding of the discriminatory effects of anti-immigrant sentiment and accompanying structural inequalities on the well-being of undocumented or precarious status immigrants, with direct implications for social work practice.

The first paper links macro and micro practice, through a psychoanalytic analysis of news coverage of the Trump administration's rhetoric of the “migration crisis” in the United States. Using select psychoanalytic constructs, Lee & Bhuyan present a critical discourse analysis of the Trump Administration's response to asylum claims related to domestic violence and gang violence. Their findings illustrate how political construction of the feared bad object/immigrants corresponds with construction of the imagined good object/nationalism as exemplified by Trump's motto – Making America Great Again (MAGA). Lee & Bhuyan discuss how attention to veiled racist political discourse can be addressed in clinical practice.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Park and colleagues' survey of social workers' attitudes towards immigrants in the United States indicate a troubling degree of anti-immigrant sentiment among social workers who do not perceive immigrants as facing discrimination and endorse anti-immigrant views towards undocumented immigrants. Park and colleagues call for deepening social workers' knowledge of structural barriers faced by immigrants, particularly related to race and national origin, towards improving outcomes for immigrants seeking social services.

Drawing upon research on immigrant settlement service in Ontario, Canada, Bhuyan and Schmidt employ an intersectional, gender-based analysis of racial and economic inequality in the lives of refugee claimants, low-skilled temporary foreign workers, international students, and immigrants with less access to financial capital. Their findings illustrate how gender, precarious status, racialization and financial security increase immigrant women's vulnerability to long periods of family separation, employer abuse and exploitation, and limited access to social and health services.

The final paper focusses on how immigrant families prepare their children for enduring racial and structural inequalities. Cross reports findings from a mixed-methods longitudinal study with Latinx immigrant parents in the United States. This research identifies how Latinx parents mobilize cultural practices to mitigate the threat of deportation and prepare their children to face experiences of discrimination outside of the home.

A Critical Discourse Analysis of Anti-Immigration Policies and Media Discourse in the United States: Politics of Global Anxiety from Psychoanalytic Perspectives
Eunjung Lee, University of Toronto; Rupaleem Bhuyan, University of Toronto

Perceptions of Structural Inequality and Attitudes Towards Undocumented Immigrants Among U.S. Social Workers
Yoosun Park, Smith College; Maria Torres, Smith College; Andrew Rundle, Columbia University

Precarious Immigrant Pathways: A Gender-Based Analysis of Racial and Economic Insecurity for Immigrant Women in Canada
Rupaleem Bhuyan, University of Toronto; Catherine Schmidt, University of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Toronto

Socialization Practices Latinx Immigrant Parents Utilize to Prepare Their Children for Anti-Immigrant Discrimination

Fernanda Cross, University of Michigan-Ann Arbor

Sunday, January 19, 2020

11:30 a.m.-1:00 p.m.

Access to Services for Latinx Immigrant Families

Efforts to reduce racial and economic inequalities should address not only their effects on mental health but also on improving access to mental health services. Latinx immigrant families have been shown to experience gains in mental health outcomes upon arrival, relative to the non-immigrant population. However, these gains erode over time and from one generation to another, with poor mental health exceeding that of the general population. This symposium explains the difficulties associated with the Latinx immigrant experience in the United States and outlines interventions aimed to increase access and utilization of mental health services for Latinx immigrant families. The first panelist describes the need for access to services for Latinx caregivers of children with developmental disabilities. The study targets the unique experiences of Texan families, as little is known about this population. Texas is unique in that it is comprised of a racial/ethnically (58.3% reported racial/ethnic minority) and linguistically (36% speak non-English language in home) diverse population. Subsequently, it is important to assess service access and receipt in Central Texas to determine if available services and supports are adequate for the needs of the community. The purpose of this needs assessment study is to fill these gaps in knowledge and determine the diagnostic and service needs of children with ASD and their families in Central Texas utilizing a mixed-methods approach. The second panelist addresses issues of child behavioral problems related to immigration stressors, through a community-based parenting intervention with Latinx immigrant family populations. Low-income Latinx immigrant families are exposed to multiple immigration-related challenges. These stressors place Latinx youth at high risk for experiencing various problematic behaviors (e.g., drug use). This presentation will describe strategies to effectively engage and retain underserved Latinx families in community-based parenting prevention programs. The third panelist describes the perceived mental health needs of emerging adults from immigrant Latinx families, highlighting the social determinants of mental health burden and participants' preferences for a mental health intervention that leverages the existing infrastructure of the Ventanillas de Salud (VDS; Health Window). A model of health located within the Mexican Consulate General of Austin, the VDS connects consulate patrons to appropriate health services. A discussant will conclude the symposium with a discussion of how these interventions can be implemented and disseminated to promote mental health equity among often-underserved Latinx immigrant populations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Identifying the Needs of Latino Immigrant Children with ASD in Central Texas: Results from a Mixed-Methods Needs Assessment
Sandy Magana, The University of Texas at Austin; Sandra Vanegas, Southwest Texas State University; Weiwen Zeng, University of Texas at Austin

Addressing Adversity and Discrimination in Intervention Curriculum and Delivery: Lessons Learned in Parenting Prevention Research with Low-Income Latinx Immigrant Families
Ruben Parra-Cardona, University of Texas at Austin

Mental Health Access to Immigrant Latinx Emerging Adults
Carmen Valdez, The University of Texas at Austin; Ashley Ables, University of Texas at Austin; Kevin Wagner, University of Texas at Austin; Alice Villatoro, University of Texas at Austin

Assessing Mental Health Interventions

A Randomized Clinical Trial Testing a Screening, Brief Intervention, & Referral to Treatment Intervention for Mental Health Among Refugees in Malaysia
Stacey Shaw, Brigham Young University; Lynette Randall, Brigham Young University; Latifa Ali, Brigham Young University; Hamid Karim, Brigham Young University; Louisa Gilbert, Columbia University

Psychometric Qualities of Measurement Tools Used in Research on Refugee Youth Mental Health: Findings from a Systematic Review
Kristan Armstrong, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Shandra Forrest-Bank, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Mary Held, The University of Tennessee; Omotola Akinsola, University of Tennessee, Knoxville

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mental Health Interventions for African Immigrants and Refugees Resettled in the Western Nations: A Systematic Review
Evalyne Orwenyo, Rutgers University; Betty Tonui, University of Texas at Arlington; Cecilia Mengo, Ohio State University

Addressing Mental Health Disparities in Resettled Refugees: The Promise of Family-Based Prevention
Theresa Betancourt, Boston College; Jenna Berent, Boston College; Jordan Farrar, Boston College

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready

Friday, January 17, 2020
OECD Conference Centre 2
rue André-Pascal 75775
Paris CEDEX 16 France
https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/

Description: Under the title "Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready", Ministers responsible for migration and integration issues from all OECD countries and from selected non-OECD countries will have the opportunity to exchange their views on their countries' challenges, opportunities, and best practices in a Ministerial Meeting to be held on 17 January 2020 in Paris.

Notably Ministers will address:

* Innovative Approaches to managing Economic Migration
* Partnerships to improve Migration Enforcement and Compliance
* Innovative Approaches to Integration
* Engaging the Whole of Society and Improving Co-ordination

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ministers will also set out their priorities for Migration and Integration Policy work of the OECD.

Program:

9:30-10:00 a.m.
Welcoming Remarks
Angel Gurría, OECD Secretary-General
Karin Keller-Sutter, Federal Councillor, Chair of the Ministerial, Switzerland

10:00-11:00 a.m.
Preparing for the future: lessons from global migration over the past decade

This introductory panel will discuss the experiences of countries regarding large migration inflows, and the lessons learned moving forward. It will involve high-level representatives from the UN and from selected OECD countries that have - or had - a key role in contexts of dealing with large migration inflows, as well as the president of a leading think tank.

Annette Widmann-Mauz - Minister of State and Federal Government Commissioner for Migration, Refugees and Integration, Germany

George Koumoutsakos - Alternate Minister of Citizen Protection, Greece

Gillian Triggs - Assistant High Commissioner for Protection, Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR)

Demetrios G. Papademetriou - Distinguished Transatlantic Fellow and President Emeritus, Migration Policy Institute

11:00-11:30 a.m.
Elevator pitches for the Innovation Lab

Following a call for proposals with member countries, 10 selected innovative projects related to migration and integration from across OECD countries will be presented in short, 1-minute “elevator pitches”. Further detailed presentations of these and other selected innovative projects will be made throughout the day in the OECD Conference Centre room CC9.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Duo for Jobs (Belgium)

Responsible AI in immigration decision-making (Canada)

Integral Actions (Colombia)

Integration Centers (Czech Republic)

Serious board game about migration governance (European Union)

Virtual Welcome Center (Germany)

CONNGI - Coordinamento Nazionale Nuove Generazioni Italiane (Italy)

Mana Aki: Building intercultural competence in New Zealand's public service (New Zealand)

Wroclaw on tongues of the world (Poland)

Power Coders (Switzerland)

Hej Framling! (Sweden)

11:45 a.m.-1:30 p.m.
Foresight: the future of migration and integration

Presentation and discussion in break-out groups of the results of a foresight exercise of the OECD, focusing migration and integration in 2035. The session will be divided in four parallel themes:

(a) The impact of new technologies on migration control and enforcement

Nina Gregori - Executive Director, European Asylum Support Office (EASO)

Ola Henrikson – Director, Regional Office for the EU, Norway and Switzerland, International Organization for Migration (IOM)

(b) The impact of new technologies on integration services delivery

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cornelia Lüthy - Vice-Director, State Secretariat for Migration (SEM), Federal Department of Justice and Police, Switzerland

Agnes Fontana – Director, Reception and Support for Foreigners and Nationality at the Ministry of the Interior, France - TBC

(c) The role of regional and local authorities

Bart Somers - Vice Minister-President, Flemish Government, Belgium

Lena Metlege Diab - The Honourable Minister of Immigration, Nova Scotia, Canada

(d) The role of corporations in migration and integration management

Anne Duncan – Global Vice-President, International Women's Forum

Pierre Gattaz – President, BusinessEurope - TBC

1:00-2:30 p.m.
Lunch Break (special VIP lunch with keynote speech)
Miguel Ángel Moratinos, High Representative for the United Nations Alliance of Civilizations (UNAOC)

2:30-3:45 p.m.
Parallel Sessions

A) Engaging with civil society – new approaches in the integration of migrants
New and innovative approaches that have been taken throughout OECD countries to leverage civil society in promoting the integration of migrants – notably with respect to social integration. This session will present and discuss some of these.

Keizo Yamawaki – Professor, Meiji University, Tokyo, Japan

Lizette Risgaard – President, Danish Trade Union Confederation, Denmark

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maria Nyman – Secretary-General, Caritas Europe

Kostas Bakoyannis - Major of Athens, Greece

B) Innovations in language training

This session will present and discuss innovative approaches to language learning – either through new technologies or through innovation in course design and outreach.

Haviv Katzav - Acting Director General, Ministry of Aliyah and Integration, Israel

Uta Saumweber-Meyer - Director-General for Integration, Federal Office for Migration and Refugees, Germany

Sonja Hämäläinen - Director for Migration, Ministry of Labour and the Economy, Finland

Michel Boiron – Director General, Centre d'Approches Vivantes des Langues et des Médias (CAVILAM), France

C) Matching migrants with employment opportunities

A key issue with which many countries are struggling is to match migrants' skills with available employment opportunities, notably, but not exclusively, for refugees. This requires skills being assessed upfront and migrants being put in touch with relevant employers.

Guro Angell Gimse – State Secretary, Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs, Norway

Fraser Valentine - Assistant Deputy Minister of Settlement and Integration, Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship, Canada

Petra Draxl – Managing Director of the Public Employment Service Vienna (AMS), Austria

Ruth Annus - Director General of Citizenship and Migration Policy Department, Ministry of Interior, Estonia

D) Innovation in skills partnerships

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Skills partnerships are an increasingly important tool for matching talent in origin countries with labour needs in destination countries, while avoiding negative impacts on the origin country. This session will discuss some recent policy innovations in this field.

Zsuzsanna Jakab - Deputy Director-General, World Health Organization (WHO)

Michael Spindelegger - Director General, International Centre for Migration Policy Development (ICMPD)

Leonie Gebers – State Secretary, Federal Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs, Germany

José Alarcon Hernández – Director General of Migration, Ministry of Employment, Migration and Social Affairs, Spain

4:00-4:30 p.m.

A conversation on the global competition for talent

This session will bring together a high-level representative from emerging economies and a global thought leader from an OECD country to discuss the global competition for talent.

XU Ganlu - Vice-Minister of Public Security and Head of National Immigration Administration, China

Ylva Johannsson - European Commissioner for Home Affairs, European Commission - TBC

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

5:45-6:00 p.m.

Concluding remarks

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Gabriela Ramos - OECD Chief of Staff and Sherpa to the G20

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Conference on Forced Displacement

Friday-Saturday, January 17-18, 2020
UN City, Copenhagen, Denmark
https://epod.cid.harvard.edu/sites/default/files/2019-06/Call%20for%20papers_updated.pdf

Description: In 2018 the number of refugees, asylum-seekers and internally-displaced people reached its highest level since the creation of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) after the Second World War. In recent years, the World Bank Group (WBG) and UNHCR have significantly stepped up the scale and scope of their joint initiatives on forced displacement. On the data side, these two organizations have recently established the Joint Data Center on Forced Displacement (JDC) in Copenhagen, Denmark, thanks to a generous contribution from the Danish government. Part of the JDC mandate is to stimulate further interest and research around data on forcibly displaced populations.

Recognizing the need for robust evidence to inform policy decisions and program and project design, the JDC is partnering with the Population Studies and Training Center at Brown University and the Evidence for Policy Design (EPoD) and Middle East Initiative (MEI) at Harvard University to organize an international research conference on forced displacement to be held January 17-18, 2020 at the U.N. City in Copenhagen, Denmark. The goals of the conference are to focus attention on emerging scholarship and establish links between researchers and data providers to promote new work on this important topic.

Papers presented at the conference will be eligible for consideration for a special issue on Forced Displacement in The Journal of Development

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Economics. Details of the submission process will be provided at the conference. Presenters are not required to submit conference papers to this special issue.

Return to Top

****

****

7.

International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS)

Sunday-Tuesday, January 19-21, 2020
Cairo, Egypt
https://gmdac.iom.int/iom-oecd-undesa-organise-second-international-forum-migration-statistics

Description: Migration remains at the top of policy agendas in many countries worldwide. The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration (GCM) and the Global Compact on Refugees (GCR) recognize the need for reliable, disaggregated statistics on migration that are nationally relevant and internationally comparable. However still today, there is scarcity of basic data on international migration and existing data are not fully analysed, utilized or shared.

The International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS) is a unique, global platform devoted to improving data on migration in all its dimensions. Organised by the International Organization for Migration (IOM), Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) and the UN Department of Economic and Social Affairs (UN DESA), the IFMS offers space for dialogue for a broad range of actors, from national and regional authorities, NGOs, international agencies and the private sector. The first meeting of the IFMS, took place in Paris, France, from 15 to 16 January 2018, and it included 240 speakers and over 350 participants from 90 countries, representing national statistical offices, international organizations, non-governmental organizations and academic institutions.
IFMS 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The second IFMS aims to mobilise expertise from a wide range of disciplines – such as statistics, economics, demography, sociology, geospatial science, and information technology – to improve the collection and analysis of migration data worldwide. The Forum will take place in Cairo, Egypt on 19-21 January 2020.

It will explore innovative ways to measure population mobility and to generate timely statistics, by bringing together a broad range of participants to share and to discuss new data initiatives and examples of success in the field of migration data. The Forum will also provide a unique opportunity for policy-makers to have direct contact with migration data experts and to use their expertise to feed policy evaluations and to identify best policy options.

The focus on data capacity building comes from the recognition that implementing the commitments of international processes comes with significant challenges for National Statistical Offices, which often have limited capacities to collect, analyse and manage data relevant to migration.

The plenary sessions of the Forum will be organised around the following six themes:

* Strengthening data for policy: ensuring effective data communication and examining existing gaps in migration statistics to determine what is needed to address policy concerns;

* Data collection and innovation: Lessons and new approaches to the collection of migration data, including from 2020 censuses and administrative sources, and the potential of technologically-driven solutions, including big data;

* Cooperation and data governance: exploring ways to strengthen stakeholder coordination and the exchange and sharing of data;

* Capacity development and financing: identifying strategies to enhance data literacy as well as institutional capacities to collect, analyse and disseminate data;

* Measuring progress on the SDGs and other global commitments: data challenges, initiatives and indicators-based approaches to monitoring;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Improving the availability of data on migrants in vulnerable situations: disaggregating statistics by migratory status, age and sex - analysing challenges, opportunities and best practices.

Return to Top

****

****

8.

The 6th Mayoral Forum on Human Mobility, Migration and Development

Tuesday-Friday, January 21-24, 2020
Centro de Convenciones Metropolitano
Quito, Ecuador
http://gfmd.org/meetings/ecuador2019/summit

Description: The Government of the Republic of Ecuador, in its capacity as 2019 Chair of the Global Forum on Migration and Development (GFMD), will be hosting the Twelfth GFMD Summit Meeting on 20-24 January 2020 in Quito, Ecuador, open to Member States and Observers of the United Nations, and other GFMD Observers. The Twelfth GFMD Summit will be the climax of the Ecuador GFMD Chairmanship.

The Twelfth GFMD Summit will be opened by High Level officials of the Government of the Republic of Ecuador. It is expected to be attended by Ministers and Vice Ministers from all regions of the world, and a broad range of policy-makers and practitioners in migration and development fields.

From the outset, a central focus of the GFMD 2019 Chairmanship has been continuing the global dialogue on migration in the changed policy landscape following the affirmation of the Global Compact on Refugees (GCR) and Global Compact for Migration (GCM), the review of the implementation of migration-related commitments in the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda through the High-level Political Forum, and the enhancement of the GFMD process through the follow up of the recommendations of the GFMD Ten-Year Review Report.

The Ecuadorian Chairmanship is focused on the central theme: “Sustainable approaches to human mobility: Upholding rights, strengthening state agency, and advancing development through partnerships and collective action."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The substantive agenda of the Quito GFMD Summit focuses on three Roundtable (RT) themes, to be discussed in six RT sessions:

(1) Coordinated responses to mixed movements: Partnerships and collective action to protect rights

Roundtable 1.1: Providing regular pathways from crisis to safety

Roundtable 1.2: Facilitating social and economic inclusion

(2) Migration narratives and communication: What role, responsibility and resources do governments have?

Roundtable 2.1: Shaping public narratives on migration and migrants

Roundtable 2.2: Communicating effectively with migrants

(3) Addressing human mobility as part of urban and rural development strategies

Roundtable 3.1: Supporting arrival cities through policy coherence and multi-stakeholder partnerships

Roundtable 3.2: Harnessing migration for rural transformation and development

In line with the tradition of the GFMD, the three-day GFMD Summit program will include inaugural and closing ceremonies, as well as Roundtable discussions and special sessions on the GFMD Platform for Partnerships and the Future of the Forum open to Friends of the Forum. Additionally, this year, for the first time, the three multi-stakeholder mechanisms of the GFMD – the Civil Society Days, the Business Meeting and the Mayoral Forum – will be held in the same space and integrated into the overall program of the GFMD Summit. The 'Common Space' sessions will provide an opportunity for the multi-stakeholder representatives from all mechanisms to mingle and share ideas in unified shared events.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

For more details, please refer to the Provisional Programme for 20-24 January 2020 and Logistics Note with practical information for participating delegations.

Registration for the Quito GFMD Summit will be coursed through the GFMD Support Unit in Geneva (registration2019@gfmd.org). For logistical considerations, all delegations are encouraged to complete online registration via gfmd.org until 13 December 2019.

The Ecuadorian GFMD Chair looks forward to welcoming your government / organization's delegation to the Twelfth GFMD Summit.

Return to Top

****

****

9.

The Democratic Case for Immigration in the European Union

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Tuesday, January 21, 2020
Seminar Room, Villa Malafrasca
Migration Policy Centre
Villa Malafrasca
Via Boccaccio 151
I-50133 Florence – Italy
http://www.migrationpolicycentre.eu/events/the-democratic-case-for-immigration-in-the-european-union/

Abstract: In this talk, Rainer Bauböck will present three challenges to the view that democratic self-determination justifies immigration control. He proposes, first, that the reason why democratic states have immigration control powers is not that they are democratic, but that they are independent states. Exercising this power is legitimate when immigration control is needed to preserve the conditions for democratic self-government. Second, he will argue that democratic norms provide positive reasons for promoting free international movement and admission claims for family migrants, economic migrants and refugees. Third, he will suggest that current disputes over immigration policy in the European Union reflect deeper conflicts between open and closed

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

conceptions of democracy. If this is correct, then choosing closure over openness may put the future of democracy itself at risk and should thus not be regarded as an issue of legitimate democratic self-determination.

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Report and Event on Statelessness in the United States

2:00-4:30 p.m., Thursday, January 23, 2020
Center for Migration Studies of New York — 6th Floor
307 E 60th Street
New York, NY 10022,
https://cmsny.org/event/statelessness-united-states-2020/

Description: Join the Center for Migration Studies of New York (CMS) for a presentation on its new report on statelessness in the United States.

In October 2017, CMS initiated a study to map the stateless population in the United States; that is persons living in the United States who do not have nationality in any country. It ultimately produced a report – using a unique methodology – that provides estimates and profiles of US residents who are potentially stateless or potentially at risk of statelessness.

In conjunction with the release of its report, CMS will share and discuss its findings with experts, practitioners and advocates for stateless persons. This event is free, but advance registration is required.

Speakers:
Danah Abdulaziz, Founding Member, United Stateless

David Baluarte, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and Associate Clinical Professor of Law, Washington and Lee University School of Law

Laura Bingham, Senior Managing Legal Officer for Equality and Inclusion, Open

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Society Justice Initiative

Karina Clough, Founding Member, United Stateless

Lindsay Jenkins, Protection Officer, UNHCR Regional Office for the USA and the Caribbean

And the authors of the new CMS report:
Donald Kerwin, Executive Director, Center for Migration Studies

Daniela Alulema, Director of Programs, Center for Migration Studies

Mike Nicholson, Researcher, Center for Migration Studies

Robert Warren, Senior Visiting Fellow, Center for Migration Studies

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Civil society and the everyday politics of the global refugee regime: Early lessons from the Local Engagement Refugee Research Network (LERRN)

12:30-2:30 p.m., Thursday, January 23, 2020
York University
626 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto, ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-civil-society-and-the-everyday-politics-of-the-global-refugee-regime-early-lessons-from-the-local-engagement-refugee-research-network-lerrn

Speaker:
James Milner, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Carleton University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: While there is a rich literature on the politics of the global refugee regime and the politics of asylum in the global South, there has been less systematic treatment of the role of civil society actors in navigating the everyday politics of the regime, especially in the global South, which hosts 80% of the world's refugees. This gap is surprising given the literature on the role that civil society plays in other global regimes and the range of civil society actors engaged with the work of the global refugee regime. In response, the Local Engagement Refugee Research Network (LERRN) was launched in 2018 as a partnership between four Canadian universities, INGO partners, and working groups in Kenya, Tanzania, Lebanon and Jordan, which include local academics, national NGOs and refugee-led initiatives from each context. This presentation will share the early results of LERRN and its work to understand the everyday politics of the global refugee regime.

Return to Top

****
****

12.

Webinar: Inroads to Entrepreneurship: Local strategies to support immigrant business and local prosperity

1:00 p.m. EST, Thursday, January 23, 2020
Cities of Migration
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/webinar-inroads-to-entrepreneurship-local-strategies-to-support-immigrant-business-and-local-registration-83328721449

Speakers:
Janet Moser, Managing Director, Immigration Services, Ignite Fredericton (Fredericton, News Brunswick, Canada)

As Managing Director of Immigration Services Janet brings over 30 years of professional experience. From business owner, to career councillor for local post secondary colleges Janet is a professional who strives for excellence of those she is working with and for. Along with her years of experience Janet is a connector, negotiator, liaison and advocate working between government and private industry involving the development and startup success of immigrant investors in Fredericton and across New Brunswick. Janet has been involved in the creation and management of immigrant entreprenurial settlement programming for the past ten years. Most recently she transitioned into an exciting new role to oversee the build of Fredericton's five-year innovative immigration and population growth strategy as well as the leading the Local Immigration Partnership.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Reem Ali, Community Development Worker, New Canadians Centre Peterborough (Peterborough, Ontario, Canada)

Reem is the Community Development Worker, leading projects at the New Canadians Centre that focus on the economic and social empowerment of newcomers. She also coordinates working groups under the Peterborough Immigration Partnership that focus on refugee and immigrant integration.

Reem has an MSc in Biochemistry from McMaster University and an MPA from Carleton University. She started her career in life sciences as a Researcher and Lecturer at Trent University. Her passion for international development led her to Egypt, where she spent 6 years specializing in the field of child rights and working with local and international organizations, most notably CIDA, UNICEF, and the Drosos Foundation. She continues to teach at Trent University in the International Development Studies department.

In 2018, Reem was a recipient of the Greater Peterborough Chamber of Commerce's '4 Under 40' award. The '4 Under 40' awards are designed to recognize four individuals in our community who are under the age of 40 and who are making their mark in the Peterborough area. Reem was also a recipient of the inaugural Peterborough-Kawartha Women's Leadership Awards in October 2018.

Description: With retirement rates outpacing workforce growth in communities across regional and rural Canada, smaller cities and towns are looking for new ways to bolster the local economy. For many, that means investing in strategies for the reception and integration of immigrant entrepreneurs. Whether running a small business or investing in a new start-up, entrepreneurship has always been a route for immigrants to establish and sustain themselves in new communities. Research suggests that local communities that are willing to invest in entrepreneurism are investing in strategies that will advance innovation and spur creativity for the benefit of all residents (Kao et al. 2002).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigrants face the same challenges in starting a new business as entrepreneurs anywhere. Additional roadblocks can include language, limited knowledge of local markets, regulatory issues, access to credit or vital business networks. What can smaller cities do to support aspiring immigrant entrepreneurs and ensure they lay down the roots for a successful business and new life in the community?

Join us online to learn how the cities of Fredericton (NB) and Peterborough (ON) are providing inroads to entrepreneurism and economic inclusion for newcomers.

Learn about Good Ideas:

* In Fredericton, New Brunswick (CA): The innovative Business Immigrant Mentorship was launched in 2009 by the Fredericton Chamber of Commerce, and became a launching pad for a City led business incubator and centre that supports immigrant entrepreneurs from networking to training to advocacy, including Planet Hatch and Ignite Fredericton

* In Peterborough, Ontario (CA): the Newcomer Kitchen Peterborough focuses on empowering newcomer women through cooking, learning workplace English and entrepreneurial skills.

The Immigrant Futures project explores new perspectives on the challenges and opportunities of immigration in Canada's small cities, towns and regions. The Immigrant Futures webinar series is presented in partnership with Hire Immigrants-Magnet, Hamilton Economic Development, the City of Moncton, The Halifax Partnership and the Leeds Grenville Local Immigration Partnership; with support from Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC).

Return to Top

****

****

13.

2020 EB-5 and Uglobal Immigration Expo

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Friday-Saturday, January 24-25, 2020
Radisson Blu Hotel, Dubai Waterfront
Dubai, United Arab Emirates
https://www.eb5investors.com/conferences/2020-eb5-dubai

Description: In light of Dubai becoming a magnet for foreign high net worth individuals with more than 8,600 multi-millionaires, EB5 Investors Magazine is excited to host the 2020 EB-5 Expo Dubai on Jan. 24-25. We are proudly presenting you with a gathering of industry leaders, who will share their insight and expertise during two days of educational, interactive panels about United States' EB-5 immigrant investor program and other global migration programs.

Join us to network with EB-5 regional centers, law firms, service providers, migration agencies and potential investors.

Why Attend This Event?

Ultra-high net worth individuals are forecasted to grow more than 20% in the Middle East region in the upcoming five years.

More than one quarter of all UHNWIs in the Middle East are considering to permanently emigrate to another country.

UAE ranks among the top 5 countries in the world with the highest number of millionaire inflows in 2018 and half of them have settled in Dubai.

UAE continues to be a hub with more than 8 million expats and global migrants.

Dubai has emerged as the world's fifth most important hub for wealthy individuals.

More than 60 percent of the second-passport UHNWIs candidates are from the MENA region.

Who Will Attend This Event?

Learn and network in an exclusive, cross-cultural setting among the world's key players in the global immigration investment market.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

HNWIs
Foreign Intermediaries & Wealth Managers
Migration Agents
Real Estate Developers
Immigration Attorneys
EB-5 Regional Centers
Service Providers

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Threats from Within: The Rise of the Immigration Police State

6:30–8:00 p.m., Wednesday, January 29, 2020
Brooklyn Historical Society
128 Pierrepont St
Brooklyn, NY 11201
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/threats-from-within-the-rise-of-the-immigration-police-state-tickets-86726468201

Description: With White Nationalism on the rise, increased militarization of the border, and inhumane practices justified by "America First," our land of opportunity is now the land of nightmares for immigrants seeking a better life.

Elizabeth F. Cohen, professor of political science at Syracuse University, confronts this new normal in her book Illegal: How America's Lawless Immigration Regime Threatens Us All and shows how the rising tide of nationalism and unfettered policing of immigrants threaten citizen and non-citizen alike.

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

15.

Emigrant Political Rights in Latin America: A configurational analysis approach

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 3, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Speaker:
Leydy Diossa-Jimenez
Visiting Graduate Student, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
PhD Candidate, UC Los Angeles

Return to Top

****
****

16.

Beyond the 1951 Convention: What are State responsibilities towards refugees according to the 1967 Protocol

12:30-2:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 4, 2020
York University
519 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-tbc-2

Speaker:
Robert Barsky, Canada Research Chair: Law, Narrative and Border Crossing, Department of Law and Legal Studies, Carleton University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: Prof. Barsky will discuss the letters, minutes of meetings, memos, and reports that pertain to the negotiations leading up to the 1967 Protocol. These documents show that the ambitions of the 19 legal experts who convened in Bellagio in 1965 were far more wide-ranging than simply removing the temporal (pre-1951) and geographical (Europe) limitations of the 1951 Convention. Rather, the documents reveal complex discussions about how to create a stand-alone treaty that would expand the Convention's reach and render it more adaptable to new refugee situations, while not impeding any more expansive regional instruments that might come to be adopted.

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Discrimination and Delegation: Explaining State Responses to Refugees

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, February 14, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14186

Speaker:
Lamis Abdelaaty, Assistant Professor, Political Science, Syracuse University

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the "discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the "delegation puzzle"). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

18.
World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges

Monday-Friday, February 17-21, 2020
Radisson San José
Calle Central y Tercera Av. 15
San José, Costa Rica
https://10times.com/conferenciamundial-iarmj

Description: The World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges is themed as A New World on the Move: The Realities of Irregular Mass Migration and the Challenges Facing Asylum and Immigration Judges Background and it is indeed a great opportunity for the Americas Chapter of the IARMJ to focus on the increase of mixed flows of people who cross international borders, whether forced to seek international protection or migrants with other characteristics and profiles.

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Southeastern Immigration Studies Association Conference

Current Trends in Immigration Research and Activism

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thursday-Saturday, February 20-22, 2020
The Citadel
Charleston, SC
https://sites.google.com/view/southeasternimmigrationstudies

[Conference details will be available soon.]

Return to Top

****
****

20.
Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Speakers:
S. Deborah Kang, Visiting Scholar, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Associate Professor of History, California State University San Marcos

Return to Top

****
****

21.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Indignity and Indignation: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
Lower Level Library
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/speaker-series-sarah-willen-professor-anthropology-and-director-research-program-global

Speaker:
Sarah Willen, Professor of Anthropology and Director of the Research Program on Global Health and Human Rights, University of Connecticut

Description: Sarah Willen is the author of Fighting for Dignity: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins. In Fighting for Dignity, Sarah S. Willen explores what happened when the Israeli government launched an aggressive deportation campaign targeting newly arrived migrants from countries as varied as Ghana and the Philippines, Nigeria, Colombia, and Ukraine. Although the campaign was billed as a solution to high unemployment, it had another goal as well: to promote an exclusionary vision of Israel as a Jewish state in which non-Jews have no place. The deportation campaign quickly devastated Tel Aviv's migrant communities and set the stage for even more aggressive antimigrant and antirefugee policies in the years to come.

Fighting for Dignity traces the roots of this deportation campaign in Israeli history and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and shows how policies that illegalize and criminalize migrants wreak havoc in their lives, endanger their health, and curtail the human capacity to flourish. Children born to migrant parents are especially vulnerable to developmental and psychosocial risks. Drawing on nearly two decades of ethnographic engagement in homes and in churches, medical offices, advocacy organizations, and public spaces, Willen shows how migrants struggle to craft meaningful, flourishing lives despite the exclusions and vulnerabilities they endure. To complement their perspectives, she introduces Israeli activists who reject their government's exclusionary agenda and strive to build bridges across difference, repair violations of migrants' dignity, and resist policies that violate their own moral convictions. Willen's vivid and unflinching ethnography challenges us to reconsider our understandings of global migration, human rights, the Middle East— and even dignity itself.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

22.

Border Security Expo

Wednesday-Thursday, March 11-12, 2020
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center
900 E Market Street
San Antonio, TX 78205
https://www.bordersecurityexpo.com/

Conference agenda:

Keynotes:

Ronald D. Vitiello, Deputy Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

Vice Admiral Scott Buschman, Director, Joint Task Force-East

Scott A. Luck, Deputy Chief, U.S. Border Patrol

John P. Sanders, Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Panels:

National Vetting Center: What is It? What isn't It? And How Will It Change the Way We Protect the Homeland?

This session will focus on the National Vetting Center (NVC) and how it will complement the National Targeting Center (NTC). Experts from the NVC, NTC, as well as other members of the Intelligence Community, will discuss why the NVC is critical to the Homeland and next steps. The NVC will be operational at the time of the Expo, enabling the audience and panels to discuss the implementation.

Mass Migration and Unaccompanied Children: Financial and National Security Impacts

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This panel will be comprised of experts from ICE Homeland Security Investigations assigned to the U.S., Mexico, and Central America. The panel will discuss the financial impact on the U.S., Mexico, and Central American countries in addressing the issues related mass migration and unaccompanied children attempting to enter the U.S. The panel will discuss human trafficking, organized human smuggling organizations, and national security issues relating to mass migration and unaccompanied children. The panel will provide publicly releasable information relating to "The Caravan" that reached the U.S./Border in November 2018.

Border: Wall – Ports – System(s) – Technology – Infrastructure – Integration – Modernization

Panel will discuss the immediate, near term, and out-year capability requirements, goals, and vision for border operations including infrastructure updates; technology needs, requirements, and planning; initiatives; modernization; and deployments.

Model Port: How Technology, Public-Private Partnerships, and Innovation Will Continue to Change the Way Ports-of-Entry Operate

This panel will be comprised of experts from the federal/local governments and industry. It will highlight what will take place at the POE in Donna, Texas and why it is important to the country's national and economic security. Technology will play a key role in defining the Model Port. A representative from the City of Donna will explain why this investment is important to the local community. CBP Headquarters staff will address the Donation Assistance Program and why it is necessary to make the Model Port a reality.

A Dialogue with Tenoch Moreno, General Customs Administration, Mexico: Current Operations and Future Thoughts

Procurement: Keeping Industry Current in the Complex Area of Government Procurement and the Mission Needs of Border Operators

This is a must-attend session for those who plan to compete for government contracts. Rules and regulations change frequently, and new requirements are placed on industry. Industry must have a clear understanding of the mission needs of the border operators. Government and industry experts will discuss best practices and explain how to best leverage the many opportunities that support the daily mission of CBP and other agencies. Government panelists will include Senior Executives from CBP procurement and the new office of Operations Support.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Complete conference agenda will be available at end of December.

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

Return to Top

****
****

24.
The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE
Washington, DC 20002
http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

Speaker:
Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the University of London

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through 'golden doors'. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

Return to Top

****
****

26.
Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56,
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Kay Coles James, The Heritage Foundation

From: Kay Coles James, The Heritage Foundation
Sent: Wednesday, January 8, 2020 4:32 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: You're Invited: Promoting Innovation & Competitiveness of HBCUs (Jan. 23)

Join The Honorable Kay Coles James,
President of The Heritage Foundation, for the Inaugural 2020 Historically Black Colleges and Universities Forum

"Promoting Innovation & Competitiveness of HBCUs"

THURSDAY, JANUARY 23, 2020

8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.
(detailed schedule below)

The Heritage Foundation | Washington, DC

Please RSVP here.

8:00 a.m.
Breakfast Reception

9:00 a.m.
Forum Part I:
HBCUs: American Assets, The Value Proposition
Opportunities to Leverage HBCU Programs Toward Innovation, Global Competitiveness & Military Preparedness
The Need for HBCUs toward Innovation, Global Competitiveness and Military Preparedness

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

12:30 p.m.

Lunch Reception

1:35 p.m.

Forum Part II:

Strategies for Leveraging HBCU Programs Toward Innovation, Global Competitiveness & Military Preparedness

Fireside Chat: Preserving Our History

Presented By
The Heritage Foundation and The HBCU Working Group

We believe the historical significance of HBCUs must be preserved, and the present-day value of HBCUs must be bolstered. HBCUs are an American asset, and the country must recognize the role of HBCUs in innovation and competitiveness.

Engage with prominent leaders who value HBCUs and believe the most effective solutions for preserving these institutions are consistent with the ideas and principles that foster freedom, opportunity, prosperity, and a flourishing civil society. To RSVP or for questions and additional information, please contact Danielle Bonnesen at 202.608.6152 or Danielle.Bonnesen@heritage.org

Featured Speakers

Mr. David J. Albritton, President, General Motors Defense & Naval Academy Graduate

Lt. General Gwen Bingham, US Army (Retired), Former Commander, TACOM Life Cycle Management Command

Dr. Lindsay Burke, Director, Center for Education Policy and Will Skillman Fellow in Education, The Heritage Foundation

Mr. Ronal E. Butler, President, Networking & Engineering Technologies, Inc.

Dr. James Carafano, Vice President, Kathryn and Shelby Cullom Davis Institute for National Security and Foreign Policy, and the E. W. Richardson Fellow, The Heritage Foundation

Lt. General Bruce Crawford, Deputy Chief of Staff for Information Management, Department of the Army

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dr. Rodney Ellis, Chancellor, Southern University at Shreveport. Dr. Ellis and Member of the President's Board of Advisors for the WHI HBCU

Mr. Eric Eversole, Vice President, U.S. Chamber of Commerce and President, Hiring Our Heroes

Lt. General Robert Ferrell, US Army (Retired), Vice President, Worldwide Technology

Dr. Wayne Frederick, President, Howard University

Dr. David Frey, Professor of History and Founding Director of Center for Holocaust and Genocide Studies, United States Military Academy at West Point

General Carter Ham, US Army (Retired), President and Chief Executive Officer, Association of the United States Army

Dr. Billy Hawkins, President, Talladega College; Senior UNCF President and Member of the Trump PBA chaired by Johnny Taylor

Dr. Leonard Haynes, Senior Advisor to the Under Secretary, U.S. Department of Education

Mr. Johnathan Holifield, Executive Director, White House Initiative on Historically Black Colleges and Universities, White House Domestic Policy Council, U.S. Department of Education

The Honorable Kay Coles James, President, The Heritage Foundation

Major Priscilla W. Locke, US Army (Retired)

Col. James Raftery, Depart. Head, Professor of Electrical Engineering at the United States Military Academy

Mr. Jack Spencer, VP Institute of Economic Freedom, The Heritage Foundation

Major General William Walker, Commanding General, District of Columbia National Guard

Mr. Marshall M. 'Will' Williams, Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Army

Dr. Charmaine Yoest, Vice President, Institute for Family, Community, and Opportunity, and the Joseph C. and Elizabeth A. Anderlik Fellow, The Heritage Foundation

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Heritage Foundation

214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

(b)(6)

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted] If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, January 9, 2020 8:11 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 1/9/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Reading, 1/9/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. DHS Yearbook of Immigration Statistics, 2018
2. Latest issue of CBP Frontline Magazine
3. GAO report on DHS acquisitions
4. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling in Border Network for Human Rights v. Trump
5. Netherlands: Population statistics
6. Belgium: Monthly naturalization statistics
7. Greece: Population and migration flow statistics

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

8. Rasmussen Reports weekly immigration index
9. TRAC report on asylum cases in FY2019
10. CATO policy brief on immigrants' deportations, local crime, and police effectiveness
11. "California's Future: Population"
12. New working paper from the National Bureau of Economic Research
13. New report and feature from the Migration Policy Institute
14. Nine new papers from the Social Science Research Network
15. Seven new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
16. U.K.: New briefing paper from MigrationWatch
17. Report on the enforcement deficit in returning irregularly staying migrants
18. Human Rights Watch report on Rohingya refugee children in Bangladesh

BOOKS

19. Migration and Integration: The Case for Liberalism with Borders
20. Immigration and the American Ethos
21. The Migration Myth in Policy and Practice: Dreams, Development and Despair
22. Current Challenges in Migration Policy and Law
23. Reimagining North African immigration: Identities in flux in French literature, television, and film
24. Living Tangier: Migration, Race, and Illegality in a Moroccan City

JOURNALS

25. International Migration Review
26. Journal on Migration and Human Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

27. Journal of Refugee Studies
28. Population, Space and Place
29. REMHU
30. The Centre on Migration, Policy, and Society

1.
Yearbook of Immigration Statistics 2018
DHS Office of Immigration Statistics, January 6, 2020
https://www.dhs.gov/immigration-statistics/yearbook/2018

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Frontline Magazine
Vol. 11, No. 3, Winter 2020
https://www.cbp.gov/frontline-magazine/frontline-vol11-iss3

Latest articles:

Border Crisis: CBP's Response
By John Davis
https://www.cbp.gov/frontline/border-crisis-cbp-s-response

Wall Construction Continues as Part of a Holistic Approach to Stop Illegal Immigration
By John Davis
https://www.cbp.gov/frontline/wall-construction-continues-part-holistic-approach-stop-illegal-immigration

Stopping Smugglers
How CBP's Aircraft Search Team uncovers internal conspiracies with the airlines
By Marcy Mason
https://www.cbp.gov/frontline/stopping-smugglers-how-cbps-aircraft-search-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

team-uncovers-internal-conspiracies-airlines

Return to Top

****
****

3.
New from the General Accountability Office

Homeland Security Acquisitions: Outcomes Have Improved but Actions Needed to Enhance Oversight of Schedule Goals
GAO-20-170SP, December 19, 2019
Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/products/GAO-20-170SP
Report: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/703419.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Border Network for Human Rights v. Trump
In the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, No. 19-51144
Grant of stay of the district court's injunction pending appeal, January 8, 2020 https://www.politico.com/f/?id=0000016f-8846-dcf7-a96f-c97ef7220000

Summary: The federal appeals court lifted a lower court's order blocking the administration from tapping into military funds to help construct President Trump's long-sought wall along the southern border.

The decision comes less than a month after Judge David Briones of the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas dealt a blow to Trump by ruling in favor of an argument by El Paso County, Texas, and the Border Network for Human Rights that using billions in Pentagon funds for a border wall represented an overreach.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Over 17.4 million inhabitants in the Netherlands
Statistics Netherlands, January 3, 2020
https://www.cbs.nl/en-gb/news/2020/01/over-17-4-million-inhabitants-in-the-netherlands

Excerpt: Half of immigrants from within Europe

Of all immigrants who settled in the Netherlands in 2019, almost half came from within Europe (of whom 85 percent from another EU country). Eighteen percent of the immigrants came from Asia, with India and China accounting for the largest groups. For 2019, the number of asylum migrants is estimated at 16 thousand, i.e. nearly 6 percent of total immigration.

In 2019, immigration from all continents showed a year-on-year increase, on balance. The same applied to native Dutch remigrants. Consistent with the previous year, 35 thousand native Dutch people returned to the Netherlands, while the number of native Dutch emigrants declined by 3 thousand to a total of 39 thousand.

Return to Top

****
****

6.
3,893 naturalisations in October
Statistics Belgium, January 9, 2020
https://statbel.fgov.be/en/themes/population/changes-nationality

Summary: In October 2019, 3,893 persons obtained the Belgian nationality. The main countries of origin of naturalised Belgians in October are Morocco,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Romania, Italy, Poland and The Democratic Republic of Congo.

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Estimated Population (1.1.2019) and Migration Flows (2018)
Hellenic Statistical Authority, December 31,2019
https://www.statistics.gr/documents/20181/f2a9256c-024b-3bc3-8ef8-d8377cfa3e8c

Summary: With respect to the above, the population of Greece on 1st January 2019 is estimated at 10,724,599 persons (5,208,293 males and 5,516,306 females), decreased by 0.15% in comparison to the respective population on 1st January 2018 which amounted to 10,741,165 persons

This development is the result of the natural decrease of the population, which amounted to 33,006 persons (86,440 births as opposed to 119,446 deaths of usual residents in the Greek territory) and the net migration, estimated at 16,440 persons (positive balance).

The population aged 0-14 years accounts for 14.3% of the total population, whereas 63.6% corresponds to the population aged 15-64 and 22.1% to the population 65 years and over. The ageing ratio (population aged 65 years and over to the population aged 0-14 years) amounted to 153.8.

Net migration is estimated at 16,440 persons corresponding to the difference between 119,489 immigrants and 103,049 emigrants. In 2017 net migration was estimated at 8,920 persons (112,247 immigrants and 103,327 emigrants, Table 3, Graph 7). It should be noted that immigration data also includes persons living in the country at 1.1.2019 as a result of the refugee crisis.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

8.

Rasmussen Reports Weekly Immigration Index

January 7, 2020

https://www.rasmussenreports.com/public_content/politics/immigration_index/immigration_index_jan07

Excerpt: When it comes to legal immigration, 48% say the government should be adding no more than 750,000 new immigrants each year, with 34% who say it should be fewer than 500,000. Thirty-eight percent (38%) favor adding one million or more legal newcomers per year, with 11% who say the figure should be higher than 1.5 million. Fifteen percent (15%) are undecided.

Sixty percent (60%) of voters favor allowing legal immigrants to bring only their spouse and minor children with them. Just 30% support allowing them to eventually bring other adult relatives in a process that can include extended family and their spouses' families.

When businesses say they are having trouble finding Americans to take jobs in construction, manufacturing, hospitality and other service work, 60% believe it is better for the businesses to raise the pay and try harder to recruit non-working Americans even it if causes prices to rise. Only 24% disagree and feel it is better for the country to bring in new foreign workers to help keep business costs and prices down, but 16% are not sure which is better.

Return to Top

****

****

9.

New from the Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse, Syracuse University

Record Number of Asylum Cases in FY 2019

January 6, 2020

https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/588/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Excerpt:

Wait Times, Representation, and Denial Rates

Overall, asylum applicants waited on average 1,030 days - or nearly three years - for their cases to be decided. But many asylum applicants waited even longer: a quarter of applicants waited 1,421 days, or nearly four years, for their asylum decision. Not surprisingly, applicants who were not represented by an attorney and thus less able to present an effective case received a faster decision than those applicants who did have an attorney. Figure 2 compares represented and non-represented asylum cases.

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Immigrants' Deportations, Local Crime, and Police Effectiveness
By Annie Laurie Hines and Giovanni Peri
CATO Institute Research Briefs in Economic Policy No. 196, January 8, 2020
. . .
https://www.cato.org/publications/research-briefs-economic-policy/immigrants-deportations-local-crime-police

Return to Top

****
****

11.
California's Future: Population
By Hans Johnson and Marisol Cuellar Mejia
Public Policy Institute of California, January 2020
. . .
https://www.ppic.org/wp-content/uploads/californias-future-population-january-2020.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

12.
New from the National Bureau of Economic Research

Diversity, Immigration, and Redistribution
By Alberto F. Alesina and Stefanie Stantcheva
NBER Working Paper No. 26620, January 2020
https://www.nber.org/papers/w26620

Return to Top

****
****

13.
New from the Migration Policy Institute

Beyond Work: Reducing Social Isolation for Refugee Women and Other Marginalized Newcomers
By Natalia Banulescu-Bogdan
January 2020
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/reducing-social-isolation-refugee-women-newcomers

Refugee Sponsorship Programs: A Global State of Play and Opportunities for Investment
By Susan Fratzke, Lena Kainz, Hanne Beirens, Emma Dorst, and Jessica Bolter
Policy Brief, December 2019
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/refugee-sponsorship-programs-opportunities-investment

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

14.

New from the Social Science Research Network

1. Family Separation As Slow Death

By Stephen Lee, University of California, Irvine School of Law

Columbia Law Review, Vol. 119, No. 8, 2019

UC Irvine School of Law Research Paper No. 2020-02

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3516161

2. Peer Effects in Stock Market Participation: Evidence from Immigration

By Anastasia Girshina, Swedish House of Finance; Thomas Y. Matha, Banque centrale du Luxembourg; and Michael Ziegelmeyer, Banque centrale du Luxembourg

ECB Working Paper No. 2340

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3515394

3. In Defense of Nationwide Injunctions

By Amanda Frost, American University - Washington College of Law

New York University Law Review, Vol. 93, 2018

American University, WCL Research Paper No. 2018-10

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3112776

4. The German Consumer Bankruptcy Law and Moral Hazard – The Case of Indebted Immigrants

By Mevliyar Er, Independent

Journal of Financial Regulation and Compliance, Doi 10.1108/JFRC-04-2018-0064 (Forthcoming)

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3406198

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

5. Enter at Your Own Risk: Criminalizing Asylum-Seekers
By Thomas M. McDonnell, Elisabeth Haub School of Law at Pace University and Vanessa Merton, Elisabeth Haub School of Law at Pace University
51 Columbia Human Rights Law Review 1, 2019
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3502556

6. Sanctuary States
By Rose Cuison Villazor, Rutgers Law School and Alma Godinez-Navarro Southwestern Law Review, Forthcoming
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3501781

7. Social, Psychological, and Demographic Characteristics of Dehumanization: The Case of Immigration
By David Markowitz, Stanford University and Paul Slovic,Decision Research; University of Oregon
Posted: January 1, 2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3503023

8. The Political Economy of the Virtual Wall
By Christopher J. Coyne and Nathan Goodman, George Mason University Department of Economics
Posted: January 1, 2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3495305

9. Immigrants Learn English: Immigrant's Language Acquisition Rates by Country of Origin and Demographics since 1900
By Michelangelo Landgrave, University of California, Riverside (UCR) Department of Political Science
Research and Policy Brief No. 14
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3499150

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

15.

Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

1. The Beat Goes On: The Trump Administration to Send Mexican Asylum-Seekers to Guatemala

January 8, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/the-beat-goes-on-the-trump-administration-to-send-mexican-asylum-seekers-from-mexico-to-guatemala.html

2. When "Material" Loses Meaning: Matter of A-C-M- and the Material Support Bar to Asylum

By Tyler Ann Lee

January 8, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/immigration-article-of-the-day-when-material-loses-meaning-matter-of-a-c-m-and-the-material-support-.html

3. Ninth Circuit to Hear Arguments on Whether Asylum Seekers Turned Back at Ports of Entry Should be Subject to Asylum Ban

January 7, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/ninth-circuit-to-hear-arguments-on-whether-asylum-seekers-turned-back-at-ports-of-entry-should-be-su.html

4. DHS to share administrative records on citizenship with census bureau

January 4, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/dhs-to-share-administrative-records-on-citizenship-with-census-bureau.html

5. Happy New Year! Trump administration seeks review of state DMV laws on immigration enforcement

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

January 1, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/happy-new-year-us-seeks-review-of-state-dmv-laws-on-immigration-enforcement.html

6. US Census Bureau: Net International Migration Projected to Fall to Lowest Levels This Decade

December 31, 2019

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/us-census-bureau-net-international-migration-projected-to-fall-to-lowest-levels-this-decade.html

7. Trump administration begin to ramp up DACA removals?

December 28, 2019

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2019/12/trump-administration-begin-to-ramp-up-daca-removals.html

Return to Top

****

****

16.

The Prime Minister's pledge on immigration after Brexit

MigrationWatch UK Briefing Paper No. 470, December 31, 2019

https://www.migrationwatchuk.org/briefing-paper/470/the-prime-ministers-pledge-on-immigration-after-brexit

Return to Top

****

****

17.

An EU Regularization Directive. An effective solution to the enforcement deficit in returning irregularly staying migrants

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Kevin Fredy Hinterberger
Maastricht Journal of European and Comparative Law, December 19, 2019
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/1023263X19866541

Return to Top

****
****

18.
"Are We Not Human?"
Denial of Education for Rohingya Refugee Children in Bangladesh
Human Rights Watch, December 3, 2019
https://www.hrw.org/report/2019/12/03/are-we-not-human/denial-education-rohingya-refugee-children-bangladesh

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Migration and Integration: The Case for Liberalism with Borders
By Tom Farer

Cambridge University Press, 282 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1108485715, $80.71
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1108485715/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1108707505, 212 pp., $28.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1108707505/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 2032 KB, ASIN: B07ZTQLWYH, $13.95

Book Description: Migration and Integration clarifies and proposes answers for all of the politically toxic questions associated with large-scale migration from the Global South to the Western liberal democracies. Driven by the conviction that the Alt-Right is using the issues of migration and integration effectively to batter the defenses of liberal democracy, Professor Tom Farer argues that despite its strength, the moral case for open borders should be rejected and that while broadly tolerant of different life styles, the state should enforce core liberal values. Examining closely the policies and practices of various European states, Farer draws on their experience, contrasts it with that of the United States, and provides a detailed strategy for addressing the issues of who should be allowed to enter, how migrant families should be integrated and cultural conflicts resolved. This remarkable elaboration of a liberal position on migration and integration to which moderate conservatives could adhere combines powerful analysis with passionate advocacy.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

20.

Immigration and the American Ethos

By Morris Levy and Matthew Wright

Cambridge University Press, 240 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1108488811, $98.26
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1108488811/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1108738877, 212 pp., $20.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1108738877/centerforimmigra

Book Description: What do Americans want from immigration policy and why? In the rise of a polarized and acrimonious immigration debate, leading accounts see racial anxieties and disputes over the meaning of American nationhood coming to a head. The resurgence of parochial identities has breathed new life into old worries about the vulnerability of the American Creed. This book tells a different story, one in which creedal values remain hard at work in shaping ordinary Americans' judgements about immigration. Levy and Wright show that perceptions of civic fairness - based on multiple, often competing values deeply rooted in the country's political culture - are the dominant guideposts by which most Americans navigate immigration controversies most of the time and explain why so many Americans simultaneously hold a mix of pro-immigrant and anti-immigrant positions. The authors test the relevance and force of the theory over time and across issue domains.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

21.

The Migration Myth in Policy and Practice: Dreams, Development and Despair

By AKM Ahsan Ullah and Md Shahidul Haque

Springer, 221 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 9811517533, $99.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/9811517533/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 2064 KB, ASIN: B083FYMG11, $89.00

Book Description: This book investigates the long-term impact of migration on development, engaging in a thorough analysis of the pertinent factors in migration. Migration scholars and stakeholders have long placed emphasis on the necessity of migration for development. At the heart of this book is the question: Has migration made development necessary, or is it the other way around? While existing literature is predominantly occupied with positive impressions about the migration-development nexus, this book challenges associated pervasive generalizations about the impact of migration, indicating that migration has not impacted all regions equally. This volume thus grapples with the different extents to which migration has impacted development by delving into the social costs that migrants often pay in the long run. With empirical support, this book proffers that some countries are becoming over-dependent on migration. A excellent resource for both policymakers working on migration policy, and scholars in international relations, migration and development studies, this book presents a range of innovative ideas in relation to the remittance-development nexus.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Current Challenges in Migration Policy and Law
By Emília Lana de Freitas Castro and Sergio Maia Tavares Marques

Transnational Press London, 128 pp.

Paperback, ISBN: 1910781770, $22.50
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1910781770/centerforimmigra

Book Description: This book emerges from those fruitful discussions as a collection of some of the matters presented, whose authors have virtuously stood out. Just as the previous books that arose from other TMC editions, Current Challenges in Migration Policy and Law gives the opportunity not only to experienced professors and researches but especially to young scholars to divulge their studies and present their experiences in the various research fields migration can be discussed, rethought and further developed.We are thankful to Transnational Press London as it believed in our aspirations as editors and it stimulated us to be protagonists in the process of editing and building up this book the way we believed it would contribute to the current discussions on migration. As scholars and young researchers, we are delighted by this opportunity created by Professor Sirkeci.“International migration is one of the most challenging and critical factors shaping the future of societies and economies today. Its accumulated complexity challenges academics, politicians, professionals and citizens. Bringing together the voices of authors from diverse countries and backgrounds, belonging to a new generation of researchers, this book brings new clues to understand how modern policies are built and new tools to act for a better world.”– João Peixoto, Lisbon School of Economics and Management (ISEG), Universidade de Lisboa,

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

23.

Reimagining North African immigration: Identities in flux in French literature, television, and film

By Véronique Machelidon and Patrick Saveau

Manchester University Press, 272 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 071909948X, $85.25
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/071909948X/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 640 KB, ASIN: B07WFQ3PHN, $65.97

Book Description: This volume takes the pulse of French post-coloniality by studying representations of trans-Mediterranean immigration to France in recent literature, television and film. The writers and filmmakers examined have found new ways to conceptualize the French heritage of immigration from North Africa and to portray the state of multiculturalism within – and in spite of – a continuing Republican framework. Their work deflates stereotypes, promotes respect for cultural and ethnic minorities and gives a new dignity to subjects supposedly located on the margins of the Republic. Establishing a productive dialogue with Marianne Hirsch's ground-breaking concept of postmemory, this volume provides a much-needed vocabulary for rethinking the intergenerational legacy of trans-Mediterranean immigrants.

Return to Top

****

****

24.

Living Tangier: Migration, Race, and Illegality in a Moroccan City

By Abdelmajid Hannoum

University of Pennsylvania Press, 312 pp.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hardcover, ISBN: 071909948X, $85.25
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/071909948X/centerforimmigra

Book Description: Since the early 1990s, new migratory patterns have been emerging in the southern Mediterranean. Here, a large number of West Africans and young Moroccans, including minors, make daily attempts to cross to Europe. The Moroccan city of Tangier, because of its proximity to Spain, is one of the main gateways for this migratory movement. It has also become a magnet for middle- and working-class Europeans seeking a more comfortable life.

Based on extensive fieldwork, Living Tangier examines the dynamics of transnational migration in a major city of the Global South and studies African "illegal" migration to Europe and European "legal" migration to Morocco, looking at the itineraries of Europeans, West Africans, and Moroccan children and youth, their strategies for crossing, their motivations, their dreams, their hopes, and their everyday experiences. In the process, Abdelmajid Hannoum examines how Moroccan society has been affected by the flows of migrants from both West Africa and Europe, focusing on race relations and analyzing issues related to citizenship and social inequality. Living Tangier considers what makes the city one of the most attractive for migrants preparing to cross to Europe and illustrates not only how migrants live in the city but also how they live the city—how they experience it, encounter its people, and engage its culture, walk its streets, and participate in its events.

Reflecting on his own experiences and drawing on the work of Hannah Arendt, Edward Said, Tayeb Saleh, Amin Maalouf, and Dany Laferrière, Hannoum provokes new questions in order to reconfigure migration as a postcolonial phenomenon and interrogate how Moroccan society responds to new cultural processes.

Return to Top

****

****

25.

International Migration Review

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Vol. 53, No. 4, December 2019
https://journals.sagepub.com/toc/mrxa/current

Articles:

Immigration Enforcement and Migrant Precarity

Health and Mental Health Effects of Local Immigration Enforcement
By Julia Shu-Huah Wang and Neeraj Kaushal
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318791978

From Open Doors to Closed Gates: Intragenerational Reverse Incorporation in New Immigrant Destinations
By Jennifer Jones
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318791982

Indigenous Places and the Making of Undocumented Status in Mexico-US Migration
By Asad L. Asad and Jackelyn Hwang
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318801059

Generation, Family, and Social Change

Partner Type Attitudes of Parents and Adolescents: Understanding the Decline in Transnational Partnerships among Turkish Migrants in Flanders
By Amelie Van Pottelberge, Emilien Dupont, Frank Caestecker, Bart Van de Putte, and John Lievens
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318794152

Language Use and Children's BMI Growth among Second-Generation Immigrants in the United Kingdom
By Sara Giunti and Filippo Oncini
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318798336

Exploring Ethnic and Generational Differences in Gender Role Attitudes among Immigrant Populations in Britain: The Role of Neighborhood Ethnic Composition
By Senhu Wang and Rory Coulter
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318802780

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Selectivity, Immigration Policy, and Differentiated Outcomes

Educational Selectivity and Language Acquisition among Recently Arrived Immigrants
By Christoph Sporlein and Cornelia Kristen
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318798343

The Impact of Tourist Visas on Intercontinental South-South Migration: Ecuador's Policy of "Open Doors" as a Quasi-Experiment
By Luisa Feline Freier and Kyle Holloway
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318801068

Gender, Work, and Migrant Precarity

Financial Crisis and Migrant Domestic Workers in Spain: Employment Opportunities and Conditions during the Great Recession
By Zenia Hellgren and Inmaculada Serrano
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318798341

Serial Labor Migration: Precarity and Itinerancy among Filipino and Indonesian Domestic Workers
By Rhacel Salazar Parreñas, Rachel Silvey, Maria Cecilia Hwang, and Carolyn Areum Choi
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318804769

Return to Top

****
****

26.
Journal on Migration and Human Security
Online first, December 20, 2019
https://journals.sagepub.com/toc/mhs/current

Selected article:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DACA and the Supreme Court: How We Got to This Point, a Statistical Profile of Who Is Affected, and What the Future May Hold for DACA Beneficiaries
By Daniela Alulema
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/full/10.1177/2331502419893674

Return to Top

****
****

27.
Journal of Refugee Studies
Vol. 32, Special Issue No. 1, December 2019
https://academic.oup.com/jrs/issue/32/Special_Issue_1

Articles:

New Perspectives on the European Refugee Crisis. An Empirical Review.
Introduction to the special issue
By Theoni Stathopoulou and Terje Andreas Eikemo
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez096

Accommodation as Displacement: Notes from Refugee Camps in Greece in 2016
By George Kandylis
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey065

Safety, Health and Trauma among Newly Arrived Refugees in Greece
By Theoni Stathopoulou, Lydia Avrami, Anastasia Kostaki, Jennifer Cavounidis, and Terje Andreas Eikemo
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez034

Non-communicable Diseases among Refugee Claimants in Greek Refugee Camps: Are Their Health-care Needs Met?
By Signe Smith Jervelund, Oda Nordheim, Theoni Stathopoulou, and Terje Andreas Eikemo
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez064

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Asylum-seeking Parents' Reports of Health Deterioration in Their Children since Fleeing Their Home Country
By Christopher Jamil De Montgomery, Theoni Stathopoulou, and Terje Andreas Eikemo
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez018

Gender, Parenthood and Feelings of Safety in Greek Refugee Centres
By Frida Bjorneseth, Martin Smidt, and Jakub Stachowski
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez039

Experiences of Discrimination and Self-reported Health
By Carolin Rapp, Valentina Cardozo, Terje Andreas Eikemo, and Theoni Stathopoulou
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez027

Infectious-disease Screening and Vaccination for Refugees and Asylum Seekers Entering Europe in 2015–16: A Scoping Study of Six European Union Countries
By Pierluca Piselli, Mariya Samuilova, Kayvan Bozorgmehr, Giuseppe Ippolito, and Roumyana Petrova-Benedict
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez042

Questionnaire Design and Translation for Refugee Populations: Lessons Learned from the REHEAL Study
By Theoni Stathopoulou, Elica Krajčeva, Natalja Menold, and Steve Dept
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez045

Is the Strengths and Difficulties Questionnaire with a Trauma Supplement a Valuable Tool in Screening Refugee Children for Mental Health Problems?
By Karin Fangstrom, Anton Dahlberg, Kajsa Ådahl, Hanna Rask, and Raziye Salari
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey073

Is the Refugee Health Screener a Useful Tool when Screening 14- to 18-Year-Old Refugee Adolescents for Emotional Distress?
By Anna Sarkadi, Anna Bjarta, Anna Leiler, and Raziye Salari
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey072

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Culturally Sensitive PTSD Screening in Non-Western Youth: Reflections and Indications for Mental Health Practitioners
By James Michael Perry, Camilla Modesti, Alessandra Talamo, and Giampaolo Nicolais
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez053

European Asylum Policies and the Stranded Asylum Seekers in Southeastern Europe
By Marko Valenta, Moa Nyamwathi Lønning, Jo Jakobsen, and Drago Zuparic-Iljic
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey063

Media Framing Dynamics of the 'European Refugee Crisis': A Comparative Topic Modelling Approach
By Tobias Heidenreich, Fabienne Lind, Jakob-Moritz Eberl, and Hajo G Boomgaarden
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez025

Identifying Refugees and Other Migrant Groups in European Large-scale Surveys: An Explorative Analysis of Integration Outcomes by Age Upon Arrival, Reasons for Migration and Country-of-birth Groups Using the European Union Labour Force Survey 2014 Ad Hoc Module
By Erling F Solheim and Daniel La Parra-Casado
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez044

Integrating Refugee Children and Youth: A Scoping Review of English and German Literature
By Paul Pritchard, Débora B Maehler, Steffen Potzschke, and Howard Ramos
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez024

Public Attitudes towards Refugees in Germany: What Drives Attitudes towards Refugees in Comparison with Immigrant Workers from European Union Countries?
By Nadine Meidert and Carolin Rapp
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez046

Effects of the Refugee Crisis on Perceptions of Asylum Seekers in Recipient Populations

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Lise Lund Bjanesoy
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fey070

Does Individual Health Have Implications for Individuals' Attitudes towards Minority Groups? A Case Study from the Greek Population
By Jonathan Hall, Carolin Rapp, and Terje Andreas Eikemo
https://doi.org/10.1093/jrs/fez043

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Population, Space and Place
Vol. 26, No. 1, January 2020
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/toc/15448452/current

Selected articles:

Does moving in childhood and adolescence affect residential mobility in adulthood? An analysis of long-term individual residential trajectories in 11 European countries
By Aude Bernard and Sergi Vidal
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2286

Revisiting geographies of temporalities: The significance of time in migrant responses to Brexit
By Anna Gawlewicz and Tiina Sotkasiira
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2275

Socio-spatial inequalities and dynamics of rich and poor enclaves in three French cities: A policy of social mixing under test
By Kawtar Najib
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2280

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

29.

REMHU - Revista Interdisciplinar da Mobilidade Humana

Ano XXVII, No. 57, December 2019

http://remhu.csem.org.br/index.php/remhu

Approaches and perspectives on human mobility

English-language articles and abstracts:

Mobility

By Noel Salazar

http://remhu.csem.org.br/index.php/remhu/article/view/1248

The human mobility in the web of State words

By Gennaro Avallone

http://remhu.csem.org.br/index.php/remhu/article/view/1225

Territories of Mobility in Dispute: Critical Cartographies for the Analysis of Migrations and Borders in the South American Space

By Lourdes Basualdo, Eduardo Domenech, and Evangelina Pérez

http://remhu.csem.org.br/index.php/remhu/article/view/1263

Migration Mobility

a critical approach to hydraulic metaphors

By Gustavo Dias

http://remhu.csem.org.br/index.php/remhu/article/view/1228

The Migration Systems Approach Revisited

A Theoretical Proposal for the Study of the Migration System of Latin America and the Caribbean

By Marta Carballo de La Riva, Enara Echart Muñoz, María Del Carmen Villarreal Villamar

http://remhu.csem.org.br/index.php/remhu/article/view/1228

The central place of migrations in the reproduction of advanced societies

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Alejandro Canales
http://remhu.csem.org.br/index.php/remhu/article/view/1205

Rethinking migrations from a multilevel transition framework
By Marden Barbosa de Campos
http://remhu.csem.org.br/index.php/remhu/article/view/1240

From the age of migration to the decline of migration?
The mobility transition revisited
By João Peixoto
http://remhu.csem.org.br/index.php/remhu/article/view/1213

From uncrossable walls to transitable borders
By Juan Carlos Velasco
http://remhu.csem.org.br/index.php/remhu/article/view/1249

The United Nations International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights protection regime for migrants, refugees and refugees
By Renato Zerbini Ribeiro Leão
http://remhu.csem.org.br/index.php/remhu/article/view/1236

Immigration, the death of non-humans and the idolatry
By Jung Mo Sung
http://remhu.csem.org.br/index.php/remhu/article/view/1252

Return to Top

****
****

30.
The Centre on Migration, Policy, and Society (COMPAS)
Fall 2019
https://www.compas.ox.ac.uk/publications/journal/

Latest article:

Transitory Legality: The Health Implication of Ending DACA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Marie L. Mallet and Lisa Garcia Bedolla
https://www.compas.ox.ac.uk/2019/transitory-legality-the-health-implication-of-ending-daca/

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, January 10, 2020 4:23 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 1/10/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 1/10/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, David North, Todd Bensman, and Jason Peña
2. "Iranian Terror Threat Exacerbated by Sanctuary Policies," Michael Cutler
3. "Pre- and Post-Citizens," Victor Davis Hanson
4. "Who Decides Who Gets In?," Michelle Malkin
5. "CNN, Fox News Fixate On Iran—Ignore Mexican Invasion," Ann Coulter
6. "Federal Judges Continue Repealing 2016 Election, Declare Open Borders," Daniel Horowitz
7. "Least Surprising News in History—Congressional Budget Office Finds Immigration Hurts American Workers," James Kirkpatrick
8. "How Many More Illegals Can State Afford?," Chris Powell
9. "Bill Lee's Refugee Decision Could Perpetuate Disingenuous International Cycle," Don Barnett
10. "Tax-Exempt Entities That Wanted State to Accept Refugees Should Support Them," Stephen Morris
11. "Trump Wins His First Sanctuary City Fight," Ken Sondik
12. "Report: Democrats in New York Might Pass a New Law That Will Allow Illegal Immigrants to Register to Vote," Natalie D.
13. "Trump Wins in Court on Border Wall," Paul Mirengoff
14. "In 2019 Over 90% of Illegal Aliens Arrested in U.S. Had Criminal Convictions, Pending Charges," Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles
15. "Iran Backed Terrorist Group in Central and South America Should Raise Concerns," Matthew Tragesser
16. "Wages are Rising for Low-Income Workers," Preston Huennekens
17. "Hollywood's Latest Illegal Alien Fantasy," Matt O'Brien
18. "Politico Misfires With Latest Borderline Report," Bob Dane
19. "Illegal Immigrant 'Party of Five' Reboot: 'What's the Matter With This Country?'," Lindsay Kornick
20. "Congress and Voters Divided on Immigration," Joe Guzzardi
21. "At the Appointed Hour 2020: What Is America Doing to Itself?," Frosty Wooldridge
22. "Needed: a Commonsense Approach to Immigration," Stuart Wesbury
23. "GOP Governors Who Embrace Refugees Deserve Conservative Support,"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Brad Polumbo
24. "The H-2A Touchback Requirement Makes No Economic or Security Sense," David Bier
25. "Want to Create an Immigration System That Works? Look to Airbnb," Ryan Bourne
26. "New Immigration Fees to Hit Businesses Hard," Stuart Anderson
27. "The Outlook On Immigration in 2020," Stuart Anderson
28. "Immigrants Are an Economic Boon to America," Jerry Haar
29. "Immigration and the Prison Industrial Complex," Andrew Moss
30. "It's a Dark Time to be Undocumented, But the Faith of My Immigrant Family Gives Me Hope," Juan Carlos Cerda
31. "The Resistance, as Organized by Immigration Lawyers," Razvan Sibii
32. "Are the Trump Administration's Immigration Policies Just or Unjust for Immigrant Children in Particular and the Country in General?," Victoria A. Anyikwa, Christina Tecson, and Berta Capano
33. "What Are the Proposed New Bars to Asylum?," Emma Winger
34. "Four Ways USCIS' Proposed Fee Increase Fails to Solve the Agency's Problems," Melissa Cruz
35. "The Political History of Locking Up Immigrants in the US," César Cuauhtémoc García Hernández

1.
CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

DHS Belatedly Initiates Analysis of State Laws Granting Driver's Licenses and IDs to Illegal Aliens
January 9, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/DHS-Belatedly-Initiates-Analysis-State-Laws-Granting-Drivers-Licenses-and-IDs-Illegal-Aliens

By Andrew R. Arthur

Fifth Circuit Clears Trump Wall Construction
Military funding can be used
January 10, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Fifth-Circuit-Clears-Trump-Wall-Construction

Interesting Immigration Court and BIA Statistics
But helpful charts could use better explanations
January 9, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Interesting-Immigration-Court-and-BIA-Statistics

Clinton Failed to Decertify the Immigration Judges' Union — Will Trump Succeed?
January 8, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Clinton-Failed-Decertify-Immigration-Judges-Union-Will-Trump-Succeed

Migrants Sent Back at Nogales, Ariz.
Closing a geographic loophole in the 'Remain in Mexico' asylum program
January 7, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Migrants-Sent-Back-Nogales-Ariz

Detention Facility Company Sues California Over AB-32
California law bans private detention facilities — sort of
January 7, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Detention-Facility-Company-Sues-California-Over-AB32

The Myth of Moderate Joe Biden
Are amnesty, taxpayer support for immigrants, and open borders mainstream?
January 6, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Myth-Moderate-Joe-Biden

By David North

DoL's Debarments Lists of Bad H-2A and H-2B Employers Get Longer
January 7, 2020
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://cis.org/North/DoLs-Debarments-Lists-Bad-H2A-and-H2B-Employers-Get-Longer

Some Additional Thoughts About Those Iranian Students in the U.S.
January 6, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Some-Additional-Thoughts-about-Those-Iranian-Students-US

300,00 Alien Workers Paid an 8 Percent Bonus Because They Are Not Americans
January 6, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/30000-Alien-Workers-Paid-8-Percent-Bonus-Because-They-Are-Not-Americans

By Todd Bensman

In Case You Missed It, CBP Chief Confirmed 'Extra-Continental' Migration as a 2020 Priority
January 4, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/Case-You-Missed-It-CBP-Chief-Confirmed-ExtraContinental-Migration-2020-Priority

By Jason Peña

Nicaraguan Migrants Travel to Panama After Northern Neighbors Tighten Borders
January 9, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Nicaraguan-Migrants-Travel-Panama-After-Northern-Neighbors-Tighten-Borders

Mexico Confirms: New Migrant Caravan Bound for U.S
January 8, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Mexico-Confirms-New-Migrant-Caravan-Bound-US

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Iranian Terror Threat Exacerbated by Sanctuary Policies
Exposing the politicians' deadly lies.
By Michael Cutler
FrontPageMag.com, January 8, 2020
. . .
https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/01/iranian-terror-threat-exacerbated-sanctuary-michael-cutler/

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Pre- and Post-Citizens
On the meaning of citizenship in the twenty-first century.
By Victor Davis Hanson
The New Criterion, January 2020
. . .
https://newcriterion.com/issues/2020/1/pre-post-citizens

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Who Decides Who Gets In?
By Michelle Malkin
Townhall.com, January 8, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/michellemalkin/2020/01/08/who-decides-who-gets-in-n2559144

Return to Top

****
****

5.
CNN, Fox News Fixate On Iran—Ignore Mexican Invasion
By Ann Coulter
VDare.com, January 8, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/ann-coulter-cnn-fox-news-fixate-on-iran-ignore-mexican-invasion

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Federal Judges Continue Repealing 2016 Election, Declare Open Borders
By Daniel Horowitz
The Conservative Review, January 10, 2020
. . .
https://www.conservativereview.com/news/federal-judges-continue-repealing-2016-election-declare-open-borders/

Return to Top

****
****

7.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Least Surprising News in History—Congressional Budget Office Finds Immigration Hurts American Workers
By James Kirkpatrick
VDare.com blog, January 9, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/least-surprising-news-in-history-congressional-budget-office-finds-immigration-hurts-american-workers

Return to Top

****
****

8.
How Many More Illegals Can State Afford?
By Chris Powell
The News-Times (CT), January 10, 2020
. . .
https://www.newstimes.com/opinion/article/How-many-more-illegals-can-state-afford-14963284.php

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Bill Lee's Refugee Decision Could Perpetuate Disingenuous International Cycle
By Don Barnett
The Tennessean, January 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.tennessean.com/story/opinion/2020/01/09/tennessee-refugee-decision-keeps-costly-immigration-pipeline-moving/2844480001/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

10.
Tax-Exempt Entities That Wanted State to Accept Refugees Should Support Them
By Stephen Morris
The Tennessean, January 8, 2020
. . .
https://www.tennessean.com/story/opinion/2020/01/08/tax-exempt-entities-wanted-state-accept-refugees-should-support-them/2837013001/

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Trump Wins His First Sanctuary City Fight
Just before Christmas, the Ninth Circuit rejected Los Angeles's petition to reconsider its ruling upholding the administration's COPS rules.
By Ken Sondik
American Spectator, January 8, 2020
. . .
https://spectator.org/trump-wins-his-first-sanctuary-city-fight/

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Report: Democrats in New York Might Pass a New Law That Will Allow Illegal Immigrants to Register to Vote
By Natalie D.
ConservativeUS.com, January 9, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://conservativeus.com/report-democrats-in-new-york-might-pass-a-new-law-that-will-allow-illegal-immigrants-to-register-to-vote/

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Trump Wins in Court on Border Wall
By Paul Mirengoff
PowerLine blog, January 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.powerlineblog.com/archives/2020/01/trump-wins-in-court-on-border-wall.php

Return to Top

****
****

14.
In 2019 Over 90% of Illegal Aliens Arrested in U.S. Had Criminal Convictions, Pending Charges
Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles, January 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.judicialwatch.org/corruption-chronicles/in-2019-over-90-of-illegal-aliens-arrested-in-u-s-had-criminal-convictions-pending-charges/

Return to Top

****
****

15.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Iran Backed Terrorist Group in Central and South America Should Raise Concerns
By Matthew Tragesser
ImmigrationReform.com, January 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/09/border-security-iran-terrorism-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Wages are Rising for Low-Income Workers
By Preston Huennekens
ImmigrationReform.com, January 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/09/rising-wages-media-bias-immigrants-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Hollywood's Latest Illegal Alien Fantasy
By Matt O'Brien
ImmigrationReform.com, January 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/09/hollywood-illegal-immigrants-media-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

18.

Politico Misfires With Latest Borderline Report

By Bob Dane

ImmigrationReform.com, January 8, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/08/media-bias-border-security-politico-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

19.

Illegal Immigrant 'Party of Five' Reboot: 'What's the Matter With This Country?'

By Lindsay Kornick

Media Research Center Newsbusters, January 8, 2020

. . .

https://www.newsbusters.org/blogs/culture/lindsay-kornick/2020/01/08/illegal-immigrant-party-five-reboot-asks-whats-matter

Return to Top

****

****

20.

Congress and Voters Divided on Immigration

By Joe Guzzardi

NewsPressNow.com, January 4, 2020

. . .

https://www.newspressnow.com/opinion/congress-and-voters-divided-on-immigration/article_71922fe4-2e37-11ea-9ec0-ab6edfcb40f3.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

21.

At the Appointed Hour 2020: What Is America Doing to Itself?

By Frosty Wooldridge

NewsWithViews.com, January 6, 2020

. . .

https://newswithviews.com/at-the-appointed-hour-2020-what-is-america-doing-to-itself/

Return to Top

****

****

22.

Needed: a Commonsense Approach to Immigration

By Stuart Wesbury

Lancaster Online, January 5, 2020

. . .

https://lancasteronline.com/opinion/columnists/needed-a-commonsense-approach-to-immigration/article_fa1c247a-2e3a-11ea-9d81-7b976ca85823.html

Return to Top

****

****

23.

GOP Governors Who Embrace Refugees Deserve Conservative Support

By Brad Polumbo

Washington Examiner, January 8, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/actually-tucker-carlson-its-a-good-thing-that-17-gop-governors-are-accepting-refugees

Return to Top

****
****

24.
The H-2A Touchback Requirement Makes No Economic or Security Sense
By David Bier
CATO at Liberty blog, January 10, 2020
. . .
https://www.cato.org/blog/h-2a-touchback-requirement-makes-no-economic-or-security-sense

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Want to Create an Immigration System That Works? Look to Airbnb
By Ryan Bourne
CATO Institute, January 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.cato.org/publications/commentary/want-create-immigration-system-works-look-airbnb

Return to Top

****
****

26.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

New Immigration Fees to Hit Businesses Hard
By Stuart Anderson
Forbes.com, January 8, 2020
. . .
https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/01/08/new-immigration-fees-to-hit-businesses-hard/#2e9df3f22b22

Return to Top

****
****

27.
The Outlook On Immigration in 2020
By Stuart Anderson
Forbes.com, January 6, 2020
. . .
https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/01/06/the-outlook-on-immigration-in-2020/#1a89ff583abd

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Immigrants Are an Economic Boon to America
By Jerry Haar
TheHill.com, January 7, 2020
. . .
https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/477154-immigrants-are-an-economic-plus-for-the-nation

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

29.

Immigration and the Prison Industrial Complex

By Andrew Moss

CounterPunch, January 8, 2020

. . .

https://www.counterpunch.org/2020/01/08/immigration-and-the-prison-industrial-complex/

Return to Top

****

****

30.

It's a Dark Time to be Undocumented, But the Faith of My Immigrant Family Gives Me Hope

Travel is risky for my parents, but that couldn't keep them from my cousin's first communion

By Juan Carlos Cerda

The Dallas Morning News, January 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.dallasnews.com/opinion/commentary/2020/01/05/its-a-dark-time-to-be-undocumented-but-the-faith-of-my-immigrant-family-gives-me-hope/

Return to Top

****

****

31.

The Resistance, as Organized by Immigration Lawyers

By Razvan Sibii

The Daily Hampshire Gazette (MA), January 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.gazettenet.com/Columnist-Razvan-Sibii-31696618

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

32.

Policy Point-Counterpoint: Are the Trump Administration's Immigration Policies Just or Unjust for Immigrant Children in Particular and the Country in General?

By Victoria A. Anyikwa, Christina Tecson, and Berta Capano

International Science Review, Vol. 95, No. 3, January 2020

. . .

https://digitalcommons.northgeorgia.edu/cgi/viewcontent.cgi

Return to Top

****

****

33.

What Are the Proposed New Bars to Asylum?

By Emma Winger

ImmigrationImpact.com, January 8, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/01/08/what-are-new-asylum-restrictions/

Return to Top

****

****

34.

Four Ways USCIS' Proposed Fee Increase Fails to Solve the Agency's Problems

By Melissa Cruz

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ImmigrationImpact.com, January 6, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/01/06/uscis-fee-increase-solve-problems/

Return to Top

****

****

35.

The Political History of Locking Up Immigrants in the US

By César Cuauhtémoc García Hernández

The Los Angeles Times, January 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.latimes.com/opinion/story/2020-01-05/immigrants-prisons-cold-war-era-eisenhower

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:

Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, January 13, 2020 7:11 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: VIDEO Immigration Brief: The Numbers Matter

Share

Tweet

Forward

Immigration Brief: The Numbers Matter

A record 45.8 million foreign-born people reside in the United States. Immigrants, legal and illegal, arrive in the United States at an estimated rate of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1.5 million annually, with a resulting cultural, social, economic, and fiscal impact on the country in areas such as schools, infrastructure, and healthcare. Dr. Steven Camarota emphasizes the impact on the 25-30 metro areas which will be receiving most of the 75 million immigrants who will be arriving by 2060 absent change in immigration policy.

Dr. Steven Camarota, Director of Research, discusses immigration numbers and the implications for American society.

Related Articles:

Projecting the Impact of Immigration on the U.S. Population

On Immigration, Trump Needs to Focus on the Numbers

Immigration Brief: How Many Immigrants are in the United States?

Immigration Brief: The Immigrant Population

Immigration Brief: Chain Migration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, January 13, 2020 4:47 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 1/13/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 1/13/20

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 1/14, DC - House hearing on DHS efforts to prevent child deaths in immigration custody - [New Listing]
2. 1/14, DC - House hearing on low morale at DHS - [New Listing]
3. 1/15, DC - House hearing on strengthening security and the rule of law in Mexico - [New Listing]
4. 1/15, DC - Annual U.S.-Mexico security conference
5. 1/16, Paris - OECD forum on building a whole-of-society approach to emerging migration and integration challenges
6. 1/16-19, DC - Immigration at the Society for Social Work and Research annual conference
7. 1/17, Paris - Conference on making migration and integration policies future ready
8. 1/17-18, Copenhagen, Denmark - Conference on forced displacement
9. 1/19-21, Cairo - IOM/OECD International Forum on Migration Statistics
10. 1/21-24, Quito, Ecuador - Annual Mayoral Forum on Human Mobility, Migration and Development
11. 1/21, Florence, Italy - Lecture on the democratic case for immigration in the EU
12. 1/23, DC- MPI webinar on employment services for refugees - [New Listing]
13. 1/23, New York, NY - Report and discussion on statelessness in the U.S.
14. 1/23, Toronto - Discussion on Civil society and the everyday politics of the global refugee regime
15. 1/23, Canada/North America - Webinar on local strategies to support immigrant business and local prosperity
16. 1/24-24, Dubai, U.A.E. - EB-5 investors conference
17. 1/29, Brooklyn, NY - Lecture on threats posed by increased immigration enforcement
18. 2/3, San Diego - Seminar on emigrant political rights in Latin America
19. 2/4, Toronto - Discussion on State responsibilities towards refugees under the 1967 Protocol to the 1951 Convention
20. 2/14, Los Angeles - Lecture on explaining state responses to refugees
21. 2/17-21, San José, Costa Rica - World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges
22. 2/20-22, Charleston, SC - Conference on current trends in immigration research and activism
23. 2/24, San Diego - Seminar on the White Russian Refugees and the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression
24. 2/27, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migrant lives at Israel's margins
25. 3/2-4, DC - Certificate program course in international migration studies - [New Listing]
26. 3/11-12, San Antonio - Annual border security expo
27. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary
28. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention
29. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of fake news
30. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law

1.
Assessing the Adequacy of DHS Efforts to Prevent Child Deaths in Custody

10:00 1.m., Tuesday, January 14, 2020
House Committee on Homeland Security
Subcommittee on Border Security, Facilitation, & Operations
310 Cannon House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/seventeen-years-later_why-is-morale-at-dhs-still-low

Witnesses:
Brian Hastings, Chief, Law Enforcement Operations, U.S. Border Patrol, U.S. Customs and Border Protection, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Alex Eastman, MD, MPH, FACS, FAEMS, Senior Medical Officer - Operations, Countering Weapons of Mass Destruction Office, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2.

Seventeen Years Later: Why is Morale at DHS Still Low

2:00 p.m., Tuesday, January 14, 2020
House Committee on Homeland Security
Subcommittee on Oversight, Management, & Accountability
310 Cannon House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/seventeen-years-later_why-is-morale-at-dhs-still-low

Witnesses:

Angela Bailey, Chief Human Capital Officer, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Chris Currie, Director, Homeland Security and Justice Team, U.S. Government Accountability Office

Max Stier, President and CEO, Partnership for Public Service

Return to Top

****
****

3.

Strengthening Security and the Rule of Law in Mexico

2:00 p.m., Wednesday, January 15, 2020
House Committee on Foreign Affairs
Subcommittee on Western Hemisphere, Civilian Security, and Trade
2172 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515
https://foreignaffairs.house.gov/hearings?ID=2B0107B2-E7EC-4095-A010-31994B3D0D6F

Witnesses:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

David Shirk, Professor of Political Science, University of San Diego

Maureen Meyer, Director for Mexico and Migrant Rights, Washington Office on Latin America

Richard G. Miles, Senior Associate (Non-resident), Americas Program, Center for Strategic & International Studies

Return to Top

****

****

4.

Eighth Annual U.S.-Mexico Security Conference: Taking Stock of Mexico's Security Landscape One Year On

8:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m., Wednesday, January 15, 2019
Woodrow Wilson Center, 6th Floor
Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center
1300 Pennsylvania Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20004-3027
https://www.wilsoncenter.org/event/eighth-annual-us-mexico-security-conference-taking-stock-mexicos-security-landscape-one-year

Description: The Wilson Center's Mexico Institute invites you to its eighth annual Mexican security review. The forum will examine the pressing security challenges Mexico faces, such as the record number of homicides in 2019, and how it plans to respond. Other topics to be covered will include efforts to fight corruption and impunity; trends in security and migration enforcement on Mexico's southern border; the status of U.S.-Mexico security cooperation; and how illegal drug markets are evolving in Mexico and the United States. Two new research papers, one on the formation of Mexico's National Guard, and the other on countering the evolving drug trade in the Americas, will be presented. The conference will feature leading policy analysts from Mexico and the United States.

We hope you will be able to join us for this informative event.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speakers:
Alejandro Hope, Security Analyst

David Shirk, Global Fellow, Mexico Institute, Wilson Center; Associate Professor, University of San Diego; Director, Justice in Mexico Project

Edna Jaime, Global Fellow, Mexico Institute, Wilson Center; Director General, México Evalúa

Iñigo Guevara, Director at Jane's Aerospace, Defense and Security

Maureen Meyer, Director for Mexico and Migrant Rights, Washington Office on Latin America

Celina Realuyo, Professor of Practice, William J. Perry Center for Hemispheric Defense Studies, The National Defense University

Eric L. Olson, Global Fellow, Mexico Institute, Wilson Center; Director of the Central America- D.C. Platform, Seattle International Foundation

Full agenda forthcoming.

Return to Top

****
****

5.
OECD High-Level Policy Forum: Building a Whole-of-Society Approach to Emerging Migration and Integration Challenges

Thursday, January 16, 2020
OECD Conference Centre 2
rue André-Pascal 75775
Paris CEDEX 16 France
https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/Migration-Integration-Policy-Forum-2020-EN.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Program:

9:30-10:00 a.m.

Welcoming Remarks

Mr. Angel Gurría, OECD Secretary-General

Chair or Vice-Chair of the OECD Migration and Integration Ministerial Meeting

10:00-11:00 a.m.

Preparing for the future: lessons from global migration over the past decade

This introductory panel (5-6 participants) will discuss the experiences of countries regarding large migration inflows, and the lessons learned moving forward. It will involve high-level representatives from the UN and from selected OECD countries that have - or had - a key role in contexts of dealing with large migration inflows, as well as the president of a leading think tank. 11:00 – 11:30 Elevator pitches for the Innovation Lab Following a call for proposals with member countries, 10 selected innovative projects related to migration and integration from across OECD countries will be presented in short, 1-minute "elevator pitches". More detailed presentations of these projects will be made throughout the day in the hall of the OECD Conference Centre.

11:45 a.m.-1:00 p.m.

Foresight: the future of migration and integration

Presentation and discussion in break-out groups of the results of the foresight exercise of the OECD, focusing on four themes:

(i) the impact of new technologies on migration control and enforcement as well as on

(ii) integration services delivery; and on

(iii) the role of regional and local authorities and

(iv) the role of corporations in migration and integration management in 2035.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2:30-3:45 p.m.

Parallel Sessions

1) Engaging with civil society – new approaches in the integration of migrants

New and innovative approaches that have been taken throughout OECD countries to leverage civil society in promoting the integration of migrants – notably with respect to social integration. This session will present and discuss some of these.

2) Innovations in language training

This session will present and discuss innovative approaches to language learning – either through new technologies or through innovation in course design and outreach.

3) Matching migrants with employment opportunities

A key issue with which many countries are struggling is to match migrants' skills with available employment opportunities, notably, but not exclusively, for refugees. This requires skills being assessed upfront and migrants being put in touch with relevant employers.

4) Innovation in skills partnerships

Skills partnerships are an increasingly important tool for matching talent in origin countries with labour needs in destination countries, while avoiding negative impacts on the origin country. This session will discuss some recent policy innovations in this field.

4:00-4:30 p.m.

A conversation on the global competition for talent

This session will bring together a high-level representative from emerging economies and a global thought leader from an OECD country to discuss the global competition for talent.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

Return to Top

****

****

6.

Society for Social Work and Research annual conference

Reducing Racial and Economic Inequality

Thursday-Sunday, January 16–19, 2020
Marriott Marquis
901 Massachusetts Ave NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://secure.sswr.org/

Immigration-related sessions:

Thursday, January 17, 2020

1:30-3:00 p.m.

Examining Stress in Lives of Immigrants

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Effects of Caregiving, Self-Efficacy and Stigma on Wellness Among Asian-American Family Caregivers of People with Mental Illness
Meekyung Han, San Jose State University; Sadhna Diwan, San Jose State University

Venezuelan Youth in Diaspora: A Multisite Study of Crisis Migration and Cultural Stress
Christopher Salas-Wright, Boston University; Mariana Cohen, Boston University; Patricia Andrade, Raices Venezolanas; Jose Rodriguez, Iglesia Episcopal Jesús de Nazaret; Mariana Sanchez, Florida International University; Seth Schwartz, University of Miami

Personal Well-Being, Resilience, Social Support and Psychological Distress Among Burmese Resettled Adults in the United States
Kareen Tonsing, Oakland University; Martha Vungkhanching, California State University, Fresno

The Loneliness Absorbs and Oppresses: Social Integration Barriers, Social Isolation and the Health Behaviors of Latino Immigrant Day Laborers
Jennifer Siegel, University of Maryland at Baltimore; Gabriel Fiallos, University of Maryland, Baltimore; Priya Sharma, University of Maryland, Baltimore; Nalini Negi, University of Maryland at Baltimore

Healthcare Literacy & Utilization

Changes in Immigration Policy and the Mental Health of Recent Mexican American Immigrants
Robin Gearing, University of Houston; Micki Washburn, University of Houston; Luis Torres, University of Houston; Alberto Cabrera, University of Houston; L. Christian Gearing, University of Houston; Robin Gearing, University of Houston

Testing Competing Models of Somatization in a Sample of Somali Refugees Living in Urban Kenya
Claire Luce, Virginia Commonwealth University; Laura Swan, Virginia Commonwealth University; Shelby McDonald, Virginia Commonwealth University; Hyojin Im, Virginia Commonwealth University

Mental Health Needs and Healthcare Access Among Venezuelan Immigrants in

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Central Florida
Tracy Wharton, University of Central Florida; Andres Cubillo-Novella, Pontificia Javeriana University; Matthew Abrams, University of Central Florida; Gilarys Garcia, University of Central Florida; Heather Peralta, RN, University of Central Florida

Health Literacy and Healthcare Use Among Karen Refugees
Isok Kim, University at Buffalo; Wooksoo Kim, University at Buffalo; Krisztina Baltimore, University at Buffalo; Biplab Bhattacharya, State University of New York at Buffalo; Mary Keovisai, MA, State University of New York at Buffalo; Li Lin, State University of New York at Buffalo

3:15-4:45 p.m.

Exploring Mental Health Correlates

Trends and Mental Health Correlates of Discrimination Among Latin American and Asian Immigrants in the United States
Christopher Salas-Wright, Boston University; Michael Vaughn, Saint Louis University; Trenette Goings, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; Sehun Oh, University of Texas at Austin; Jorge Delva, Boston University; Mariana Cohen, Boston University; Seth Schwartz, University of Miami

Meanings of Resilience and Mental Health Among Syrian Refugees: Findings from Two Countries
Asli Yalim, University of Central Florida

Do Family Relation and Immigration Influence Mental Health Service Use Among Asian Americans?
Xiaochuan Wang, University of Central Florida

Structural Determinants of Mental Health Vulnerabilities and Access to Services Among Asian Immigrant Men in Toronto, Canada
Ran Hu, University of Toronto; Kenneth Fung, University of Toronto; Josephine Wong, Ryerson University

Friday, January 17, 2020

8:00-9:30 a.m.

Health Status of Immigrants

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Perception of the Affordable Care Act Among Korean Americans
Chung Hyeon Jeong, University of Southern California; Hyunsung Oh, Arizona State University; Lawrence Palinkas, University of Southern California

Determinants of Healthcare Use Among Refugees from Burma
Isok Kim, University at Buffalo; Wooksoo Kim, University at Buffalo

Health and Mental Health Experiences of Latina Immigrant Women during the Perinatal Period
Maria Pineros Leano, Boston College; Laura Crowley, Boston College; Natalia Pineros Leano, Universidad de la Sabana

Gaining through Giving: A National Study of Volunteering and Health Status Among Immigrants in Canada
Jacky Ka Kei Liu, University of Calgary; Yeonjung Lee, University of Calgary

2:00-3:30 p.m.

Interpersonal Violence and Mental Health

Pathways between Economic Insecurity, Sexual Violence, and Depression Among Urban Refugee and Displaced Adolescents and Youth in Kampala, Uganda
Carmen Logie, University of Toronto; Moses Okumu, University of Toronto; Simon Mwima, Uganda Ministry of Health; Senkosi Balyejjusa, Uganda Christian University; Robert Hakiza, Young African Refugees For Integral Development

Controlling Behaviors, Intimate Partner Violence, Depression, and Social Adaptation Among Immigrant Women in South Korea
Hyun Lee, Yonsei University; Jae Yop Kim, Yonsei University; Lkhamkhuu Munkhnaran, Yonsei University; Boyoung Nam, University of Maryland Baltimore

Exploring Exclusionary and Fragmented Healthcare Access for Undocumented Women Immigrant Survivors of Intimate Partner Violence
Miriam Valdovinos, University of Denver; Sarah Dodd, University of Connecticut; Maritza Vasquez Reyes, University of Connecticut

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Complexity of Men's of Experiences of Violence in Northern Uganda: Victim, Perpetrator, Bystander
Steve Friedman, School for Social Work

3:45-5:15 p.m.

Multifold Impact of the Border Crisis

Preventing Family Separation: Child Custody and Family Deportation Planning with Undocumented Latinx Families
Jodi Berger Cardoso, University of Houston; Liza Barros Lane, Baylor College of Medicine; Monica Faulkner, University of Texas at Austin; Jennifer Scott, Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge; Natalia Giraldo-Santiago, University of Houston

Educational Inclusion for Special Needs Students in a Refugee Camp: How Is School Setting Related to Children's Wellbeing?
Thomas M. Crea, Boston College; Kerri Evans, Boston College; Robert Hasson, Boston College; Kelsey Werner, Boston College; Elizabeth Wanjiku, Jesuit Refugee Service; Gregory St. Arnold, Jesuit Refugee Service

"I Want to Feel Safe at My School. I Want to Feel like I Belong": Exploring Muslim Refugee Students' Levels of Engagement in Schools
Ashley Cureton, The Johns Hopkins University

Developing Peer-to-Peer Support for Foreign-Born High School Students: Using Youth-Led Community-Based Participatory Research to Assess & Address Needs
Abbie Frost, Simmons University School of Social Work; Hugo Kamya, Simmons University School of Social Work

5:30-7:00 p.m.

Immigration Detention: The Racialized Response to Violence and Trauma
Sergio Serna, University of California, Los Angeles, Angela Garcia, University of California, Los Angeles, Anthony Gamez, University of California, Los Angeles, Fatima Gonzalez, University of California, Los Angeles and Marianna Hernandez, B.A., University of California, Los Angeles

Background: Background: Recent data indicate the U.S. apprehended 92,607 migrants at the U.S.-Mexico border in March, 2019, the highest monthly total

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

since April, 2007. (Pew Research) The recent wave of migration has been marked by two unique factors: refugees are migrating as family units more than ever and the number of people from El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras together accounted for the bulk of apprehensions. In February, 2019, days after the Trump Administration declared a National Emergency at the border, four Latinx students from the Master's in Social Welfare program at UCLA, arrived in the rural town of Dilley, Texas. Joining volunteer lawyers, the team's role was to provide legal assistance to detained mothers and children undergoing the Credible Fear Interview process. The students, accompanied by department faculty, embarked on an intensely personal and professionally poignant journey to address this humanitarian crisis. In collaboration with Dilley's on-the-ground legal team, the students conducted interviews of women and their children to determine their clients' strongest claims for asylum. While seeking and documenting their testimonies, students learned of women's harrowing accounts of traversing multiple countries with their young children, their terrifying crossing at the Rio Grande, and dehumanizing conditions in U.S. Customs and Border Patrol facilities.

Methods: As a result of the experience, the team created a set of tools for advocates assisting newly arrived Central American refugees. The three key resources include: (1) an educational and outreach video documenting the experience of volunteer advocates and their clients; (2) a case example demonstrating the utility of exploring trauma narratives for providers struggling with secondary trauma; and (3) transdisciplinary recommendations aimed to decrease re-traumatization of detained immigrant clients through use of trauma-informed perspectives and practices.

Results: The perpetuation of dangerously false narratives, racialized narratives, paints Central American refugees as criminals. This is facilitated by existing systems of oppression including racism. The fact that these sentiments are promoted by the world's highest political office has broad implications for both micro and macro-level social work practice. Through disseminating these additional tools to better address the needs of newly arrived Central American refugees, this toolkit seeks to document helpful responses to the real national emergency—xenophobia.

Conclusions and Implications: Continued conversation must bring together researchers, educators, students and staff of organizations serving the most vulnerable racial/ethnic minorities whose life experiences led them to the U.S.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We must acknowledge that a legal perspective alone is insufficient, akin to working with one hand tied behind our backs. The law often operates in a black and white paradigm, making it sometimes difficult to recognize the humanity of all people. Through dialogue we look to demonstrate why and how social workers and their perspective is uniquely suited for intervening with this population. This work is rooted in the narratives of the women and their children, those who participated in this journey and those seeking to provide culturally humble services and effective policy advocacy on behalf of impacted communities—all of which will serve as a continuous reminder of the power of resilience.

Understanding Economic Inequality in Immigrant Lives

Emerging Health and Economic Inequality Among U.S. Citizen Minors in Mexico
Jodi Berger Cardoso, University of Houston; Sharon Borja, University of Houston

Immigrant Women, Violence, and Economic Oppression
Arlette Vila, University of Texas at Austin; Elizabeth Pomeroy, University of Texas at Austin

Mothering in Contexts of Economic Inequality, Violence and Transnational Mobility: A Qualitative Study with Asylum-Seeking Mothers from Central America
Maria Emilia Bianco, Boston College

Exploring Determinants of Employment Among Resettled Refugee Women in the United States
Erum Agha, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Saturday, January 18, 2020

9:45-11:15 a.m.

Improving health care delivery

"How Will I Take Her to Have Her Vaccinated?": Threats to Healthcare Access Among Syrian Refugees in Lebanon
Cindy Sousa, Bryn Mawr College; Bree Akesson, Wilfrid Laurier University;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dena Badawi, University of Waterloo

Adaptation of Immigrants & Refugees

Reimagining Successful Aging Among Latinx Communities in the United States
Rocio Calvo, Boston College; Nacho Gimenez-Nadal, Universidad de Zaragoza

Gender Inequality in Assimilation across Immigrant Generations
Felix Muchomba, Rutgers University; Neeraj Kaushal, Columbia University

Institutional Innovation amidst the Demise of the Refugee Resettlement Sector
Jessica Darrow, University of Chicago

On Being Black, Muslim, and a Refugee: Stories of Somalis in Chicago
Ifrah Magan, New York University

4:00-5:30 p.m.

Immigration Status As a Social Determinant of Racial and Economic Inequality

The resurgence of anti-immigrant sentiment in immigrant receiving countries, like the United States and Canada, represents a pressing social just concern especially for undocumented immigrants who face the threat of deportation along with racial discrimination and economic insecurity. As Sociologist Roberto Gonzalez (2015) has argued, immigration status functions as a “master status” in the lives of immigrants through organizing the social, political, and economic resources available to immigrants as well as processes of stigmatization and discrimination that negatively impact people who are constructed in media and political rhetoric as "illegal," "criminal",' or "threats" to society.

The following papers present research from Canada and the United States to develop a cross-national understanding of the discriminatory effects of anti-immigrant sentiment and accompanying structural inequalities on the well-being of undocumented or precarious status immigrants, with direct implications for social work practice.

The first paper links macro and micro practice, through a psychoanalytic analysis of news coverage of the Trump administration's rhetoric of the "migration crisis" in the United States. Using select psychoanalytic constructs, Lee & Bhuyan present a critical discourse analysis of the Trump Administration's response to asylum claims related to domestic violence and gang violence. Their findings illustrate how political construction of the feared bad object/immigrants corresponds with construction of the imagined good object/nationalism as exemplified by Trump's motto – Making America Great Again (MAGA). Lee & Bhuyan discuss how attention to veiled racist political discourse can be addressed in clinical practice.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Park and colleagues' survey of social workers' attitudes towards immigrants in the United States indicate a troubling degree of anti-immigrant sentiment among social workers who do not perceive immigrants as facing discrimination and endorse anti-immigrant views towards undocumented immigrants. Park and colleagues call for deepening social workers' knowledge of structural barriers faced by immigrants, particularly related to race and national origin, towards improving outcomes for immigrants seeking social services.

Drawing upon research on immigrant settlement service in Ontario, Canada, Bhuyan and Schmidt employ an intersectional, gender-based analysis of racial and economic inequality in the lives of refugee claimants, low-skilled temporary foreign workers, international students, and immigrants with less access to financial capital. Their findings illustrate how gender, precarious status, racialization and financial security increase immigrant women's vulnerability to long periods of family separation, employer abuse and exploitation, and limited access to social and health services.

The final paper focusses on how immigrant families prepare their children for enduring racial and structural inequalities. Cross reports findings from a mixed-methods longitudinal study with Latinx immigrant parents in the United States. This research identifies how Latinx parents mobilize cultural practices to mitigate the threat of deportation and prepare their children to face experiences of discrimination outside of the home.

A Critical Discourse Analysis of Anti-Immigration Policies and Media Discourse in the United States: Politics of Global Anxiety from Psychoanalytic Perspectives
Eunjung Lee, University of Toronto; Rupaleem Bhuyan, University of Toronto

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Perceptions of Structural Inequality and Attitudes Towards Undocumented Immigrants Among U.S. Social Workers
Yoosun Park, Smith College; Maria Torres, Smith College; Andrew Rundle, Columbia University

Precarious Immigrant Pathways: A Gender-Based Analysis of Racial and Economic Insecurity for Immigrant Women in Canada
Rupaleem Bhuyan, University of Toronto; Catherine Schmidt, University of Toronto

Socialization Practices Latinx Immigrant Parents Utilize to Prepare Their Children for Anti-Immigrant Discrimination
Fernanda Cross, University of Michigan-Ann Arbor

Sunday, January 19, 2020

11:30 a.m.-1:00 p.m.

Access to Services for Latinx Immigrant Families

Efforts to reduce racial and economic inequalities should address not only their effects on mental health but also on improving access to mental health services. Latinx immigrant families have been shown to experience gains in mental health outcomes upon arrival, relative to the non-immigrant population. However, these gains erode over time and from one generation to another, with poor mental health exceeding that of the general population. This symposium explains the difficulties associated with the Latinx immigrant experience in the United States and outlines interventions aimed to increase access and utilization of mental health services for Latinx immigrant families. The first panelist describes the need for access to services for Latinx caregivers of children with developmental disabilities. The study targets the unique experiences of Texan families, as little is known about this population. Texas is unique in that it is comprised of a racial/ethnically (58.3% reported racial/ethnic minority) and linguistically (36% speak non-English language in home) diverse population. Subsequently, it is important to assess service access and receipt in Central Texas to determine if available services and supports are adequate for the needs of the community. The purpose of this needs assessment study is to fill these gaps in knowledge and determine the diagnostic and service needs of children with ASD and their families in Central Texas utilizing a mixed-methods approach. The second panelist addresses issues of child behavioral problems related to immigration stressors, through a community-based parenting intervention with Latinx immigrant family populations. Low-income Latinx immigrant families are exposed to multiple immigration-related challenges. These stressors place Latinx youth at high risk for experiencing various problematic behaviors (e.g., drug use). This presentation will describe strategies to effectively engage and retain underserved Latinx families in community-based parenting prevention programs. The third panelist describes the perceived mental health needs of emerging adults from immigrant Latinx families, highlighting the social determinants of mental health burden and participants' preferences for a mental health intervention that leverages the existing infrastructure of the Ventanillas de Salud (VDS; Health Window). A model of health located within the Mexican Consulate General of Austin, the VDS connects consulate patrons to appropriate health services. A discussant will conclude the symposium with a discussion of how these interventions can be implemented and disseminated to promote mental health equity among often-underserved Latinx immigrant populations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Identifying the Needs of Latino Immigrant Children with ASD in Central Texas: Results from a Mixed-Methods Needs Assessment
Sandy Magana, The University of Texas at Austin; Sandra Vanegas, Southwest Texas State University; Weiwen Zeng, University of Texas at Austin

Addressing Adversity and Discrimination in Intervention Curriculum and Delivery: Lessons Learned in Parenting Prevention Research with Low-Income Latinx Immigrant Families
Ruben Parra-Cardona, University of Texas at Austin

Mental Health Access to Immigrant Latinx Emerging Adults
Carmen Valdez, The University of Texas at Austin; Ashley Ables, University of Texas at Austin; Kevin Wagner, University of Texas at Austin; Alice Villatoro, University of Texas at Austin

Assessing Mental Health Interventions

A Randomized Clinical Trial Testing a Screening, Brief Intervention, & Referral to Treatment Intervention for Mental Health Among Refugees in Malaysia
Stacey Shaw, Brigham Young University; Lynette Randall, Brigham Young University; Latifa Ali, Brigham Young University; Hamid Karim, Brigham Young University; Louisa Gilbert, Columbia University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Psychometric Qualities of Measurement Tools Used in Research on Refugee Youth Mental Health: Findings from a Systematic Review
Kristan Armstrong, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Shandra Forrest-Bank, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Mary Held, The University of Tennessee; Omotola Akinsola, University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Mental Health Interventions for African Immigrants and Refugees Resettled in the Western Nations: A Systematic Review
Evalyne Orwenyo, Rutgers University; Betty Tonui, University of Texas at Arlington; Cecilia Mengo, Ohio State University

Addressing Mental Health Disparities in Resettled Refugees: The Promise of Family-Based Prevention
Theresa Betancourt, Boston College; Jenna Berent, Boston College; Jordan Farrar, Boston College

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready

Friday, January 17, 2020
OECD Conference Centre 2
rue André-Pascal 75775
Paris CEDEX 16 France
https://www.oecd.org/migration/ministerial/

Description: Under the title "Making Migration and Integration Policies Future Ready", Ministers responsible for migration and integration issues from all OECD countries and from selected non-OECD countries will have the opportunity to exchange their views on their countries' challenges, opportunities, and best practices in a Ministerial Meeting to be held on 17 January 2020 in Paris.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Notably Ministers will address:

* Innovative Approaches to managing Economic Migration
* Partnerships to improve Migration Enforcement and Compliance
* Innovative Approaches to Integration
* Engaging the Whole of Society and Improving Co-ordination

Ministers will also set out their priorities for Migration and Integration Policy work of the OECD.

Program:

9:30-10:00 a.m.
Welcoming Remarks
Angel Gurría, OECD Secretary-General
Karin Keller-Sutter, Federal Councillor, Chair of the Ministerial, Switzerland

10:00-11:00 a.m.
Preparing for the future: lessons from global migration over the past decade

This introductory panel will discuss the experiences of countries regarding large migration inflows, and the lessons learned moving forward. It will involve high-level representatives from the UN and from selected OECD countries that have - or had - a key role in contexts of dealing with large migration inflows, as well as the president of a leading think tank.

Annette Widmann-Mauz - Minister of State and Federal Government Commissioner for Migration, Refugees and Integration, Germany

George Koumoutsakos - Alternate Minister of Citizen Protection, Greece

Gillian Triggs - Assistant High Commissioner for Protection, Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR)

Demetrios G. Papademetriou - Distinguished Transatlantic Fellow and President Emeritus, Migration Policy Institute

11:00-11:30 a.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Elevator pitches for the Innovation Lab

Following a call for proposals with member countries, 10 selected innovative projects related to migration and integration from across OECD countries will be presented in short, 1-minute “elevator pitches”. Further detailed presentations of these and other selected innovative projects will be made throughout the day in the OECD Conference Centre room CC9.

Duo for Jobs (Belgium)

Responsible AI in immigration decision-making (Canada)

Integral Actions (Colombia)

Integration Centers (Czech Republic)

Serious board game about migration governance (European Union)

Virtual Welcome Center (Germany)

CONNGI - Coordinamento Nazionale Nuove Generazioni Italiane (Italy)

Mana Aki: Building intercultural competence in New Zealand’s public service (New Zealand)

Wroclaw on tongues of the world (Poland)

Power Coders (Switzerland)

Hej Framling! (Sweden)

11:45 a.m.-1:30 p.m.
Foresight: the future of migration and integration

Presentation and discussion in break-out groups of the results of a foresight exercise of the OECD, focusing migration and integration in 2035. The session will be divided in four parallel themes:

(a) The impact of new technologies on migration control and enforcement

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Nina Gregori - Executive Director, European Asylum Support Office (EASO)

Ola Henrikson – Director, Regional Office for the EU, Norway and Switzerland, International Organization for Migration (IOM)

(b) The impact of new technologies on integration services delivery

Cornelia Lüthy - Vice-Director, State Secretariat for Migration (SEM), Federal Department of Justice and Police, Switzerland

Agnes Fontana – Director, Reception and Support for Foreigners and Nationality at the Ministry of the Interior, France - TBC

(c) The role of regional and local authorities

Bart Somers - Vice Minister-President, Flemish Government, Belgium

Lena Metlege Diab - The Honourable Minister of Immigration, Nova Scotia, Canada

(d) The role of corporations in migration and integration management

Anne Duncan – Global Vice-President, International Women's Forum

Pierre Gattaz – President, BusinessEurope - TBC

1:00-2:30 p.m.
Lunch Break (special VIP lunch with keynote speech)
Miguel Ángel Moratinos, High Representative for the United Nations Alliance of Civilizations (UNAOC)

2:30-3:45 p.m.
Parallel Sessions

A) Engaging with civil society – new approaches in the integration of migrants
New and innovative approaches that have been taken throughout OECD countries to leverage civil society in promoting the integration of migrants –

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

notably with respect to social integration. This session will present and discuss some of these.

Keizo Yamawaki – Professor, Meiji University, Tokyo, Japan

Lizette Risgaard – President, Danish Trade Union Confederation, Denmark

Maria Nyman – Secretary-General, Caritas Europe

Kostas Bakoyannis - Major of Athens, Greece

B) Innovations in language training

This session will present and discuss innovative approaches to language learning – either through new technologies or through innovation in course design and outreach.

Haviv Katzav - Acting Director General, Ministry of Aliyah and Integration, Israel

Uta Saumweber-Meyer - Director-General for Integration, Federal Office for Migration and Refugees, Germany

Sonja Hamalainen - Director for Migration, Ministry of Labour and the Economy, Finland

Michel Boiron – Director General, Centre d'Approches Vivantes des Langues et des Médias (CAVILAM), France

C) Matching migrants with employment opportunities

A key issue with which many countries are struggling is to match migrants' skills with available employment opportunities, notably, but not exclusively, for refugees. This requires skills being assessed upfront and migrants being put in touch with relevant employers.

Guro Angell Gimse – State Secretary, Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs, Norway

Fraser Valentine - Assistant Deputy Minister of Settlement and Integration, Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship, Canada

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Petra Draxl – Managing Director of the Public Employment Service Vienna (AMS), Austria

Ruth Annus - Director General of Citizenship and Migration Policy Department, Ministry of Interior, Estonia

D) Innovation in skills partnerships

Skills partnerships are an increasingly important tool for matching talent in origin countries with labour needs in destination countries, while avoiding negative impacts on the origin country. This session will discuss some recent policy innovations in this field.

Zsuzsanna Jakab - Deputy Director-General, World Health Organization (WHO)

Michael Spindelegger - Director General, International Centre for Migration Policy Development (ICMPD)

Leonie Gebers – State Secretary, Federal Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs, Germany

José Alarcon Hernández – Director General of Migration, Ministry of Employment, Migration and Social Affairs, Spain

4:00-4:30 p.m.

A conversation on the global competition for talent

This session will bring together a high-level representative from emerging economies and a global thought leader from an OECD country to discuss the global competition for talent.

XU Ganlu - Vice-Minister of Public Security and Head of National Immigration Administration, China

Ylva Johannsson - European Commissioner for Home Affairs, European Commission - TBC

4:30-5:45 p.m.

Ministerial panel: A whole-of-society response to future migration and integration challenges

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This high-level closing session will act as a bridge between the policy forum and the ministerial meeting on the following day and will involve a selection of Ministers.

5:45-6:00 p.m.
Concluding remarks
Gabriela Ramos - OECD Chief of Staff and Sherpa to the G20

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Conference on Forced Displacement

Friday-Saturday, January 17-18, 2020
UN City, Copenhagen, Denmark
https://epod.cid.harvard.edu/sites/default/files/2019-06/Call%20for%20papers_updated.pdf

Description: In 2018 the number of refugees, asylum-seekers and internally-displaced people reached its highest level since the creation of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) after the Second World War. In recent years, the World Bank Group (WBG) and UNHCR have significantly stepped up the scale and scope of their joint initiatives on forced displacement. On the data side, these two organizations have recently established the Joint Data Center on Forced Displacement (JDC) in Copenhagen, Denmark, thanks to a generous contribution from the Danish government. Part of the JDC mandate is to stimulate further interest and research around data on forcibly displaced populations.

Recognizing the need for robust evidence to inform policy decisions and program and project design, the JDC is partnering with the Population Studies and Training Center at Brown University and the Evidence for Policy Design (EPoD) and Middle East Initiative (MEI) at Harvard University to organize an international research conference on forced displacement to be held January

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

17-18, 2020 at the U.N. City in Copenhagen, Denmark. The goals of the conference are to focus attention on emerging scholarship and establish links between researchers and data providers to promote new work on this important topic.

Papers presented at the conference will be eligible for consideration for a special issue on Forced Displacement in The Journal of Development Economics. Details of the submission process will be provided at the conference. Presenters are not required to submit conference papers to this special issue.

Return to Top

****
****

9.
International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS)

Sunday-Tuesday, January 19-21, 2020
Cairo, Egypt
https://gmdac.iom.int/iom-oecd-undesa-organise-second-international-forum-migration-statistics

Description: Migration remains at the top of policy agendas in many countries worldwide. The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration (GCM) and the Global Compact on Refugees (GCR) recognize the need for reliable, disaggregated statistics on migration that are nationally relevant and internationally comparable. However still today, there is scarcity of basic data on international migration and existing data are not fully analysed, utilized or shared.

The International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS) is a unique, global platform devoted to improving data on migration in all its dimensions. Organised by the International Organization for Migration (IOM), Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) and the UN Department of Economic and Social Affairs (UN DESA), the IFMS offers space for dialogue for a broad range of actors, from national and regional authorities, NGOs, international agencies and the private sector. The first meeting of the IFMS, took place in Paris, France, from 15 to 16 January 2018, and it included 240 speakers and over 350 participants from 90 countries, representing national statistical offices, international organizations, non-governmental organizations and academic institutions.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

IFMS 2020

The second IFMS aims to mobilise expertise from a wide range of disciplines – such as statistics, economics, demography, sociology, geospatial science, and information technology – to improve the collection and analysis of migration data worldwide. The Forum will take place in Cairo, Egypt on 19-21 January 2020.

It will explore innovative ways to measure population mobility and to generate timely statistics, by bringing together a broad range of participants to share and to discuss new data initiatives and examples of success in the field of migration data. The Forum will also provide a unique opportunity for policy-makers to have direct contact with migration data experts and to use their expertise to feed policy evaluations and to identify best policy options.

The focus on data capacity building comes from the recognition that implementing the commitments of international processes comes with significant challenges for National Statistical Offices, which often have limited capacities to collect, analyse and manage data relevant to migration.

The plenary sessions of the Forum will be organised around the following six themes:

* Strengthening data for policy: ensuring effective data communication and examining existing gaps in migration statistics to determine what is needed to address policy concerns;
* Data collection and innovation: Lessons and new approaches to the collection of migration data, including from 2020 censuses and administrative sources, and the potential of technologically-driven solutions, including big data;
* Cooperation and data governance: exploring ways to strengthen stakeholder coordination and the exchange and sharing of data;
* Capacity development and financing: identifying strategies to enhance data literacy as well as institutional capacities to collect, analyse and disseminate data;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Measuring progress on the SDGs and other global commitments: data challenges, initiatives and indicators-based approaches to monitoring;
* Improving the availability of data on migrants in vulnerable situations: disaggregating statistics by migratory status, age and sex - analysing challenges, opportunities and best practices.

Return to Top

****

****

10.

The 6th Mayoral Forum on Human Mobility, Migration and Development

Tuesday-Friday, January 21-24, 2020
Centro de Convenciones Metropolitano
Quito, Ecuador
http://gfmd.org/meetings/ecuador2019/summit

Description: The Government of the Republic of Ecuador, in its capacity as 2019 Chair of the Global Forum on Migration and Development (GFMD), will be hosting the Twelfth GFMD Summit Meeting on 20-24 January 2020 in Quito, Ecuador, open to Member States and Observers of the United Nations, and other GFMD Observers. The Twelfth GFMD Summit will be the climax of the Ecuador GFMD Chairmanship.

The Twelfth GFMD Summit will be opened by High Level officials of the Government of the Republic of Ecuador. It is expected to be attended by Ministers and Vice Ministers from all regions of the world, and a broad range of policy-makers and practitioners in migration and development fields.

From the outset, a central focus of the GFMD 2019 Chairmanship has been continuing the global dialogue on migration in the changed policy landscape following the affirmation of the Global Compact on Refugees (GCR) and Global Compact for Migration (GCM), the review of the implementation of migration-related commitments in the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda through the High-level Political Forum, and the enhancement of the GFMD process through the follow up of the recommendations of the GFMD Ten-Year Review Report.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Ecuadorian Chairmanship is focused on the central theme: “Sustainable approaches to human mobility: Upholding rights, strengthening state agency, and advancing development through partnerships and collective action.”

The substantive agenda of the Quito GFMD Summit focuses on three Roundtable (RT) themes, to be discussed in six RT sessions:

(1) Coordinated responses to mixed movements: Partnerships and collective action to protect rights

Roundtable 1.1: Providing regular pathways from crisis to safety

Roundtable 1.2: Facilitating social and economic inclusion

(2) Migration narratives and communication: What role, responsibility and resources do governments have?

Roundtable 2.1: Shaping public narratives on migration and migrants

Roundtable 2.2: Communicating effectively with migrants

(3) Addressing human mobility as part of urban and rural development strategies

Roundtable 3.1: Supporting arrival cities through policy coherence and multi-stakeholder partnerships

Roundtable 3.2: Harnessing migration for rural transformation and development

In line with the tradition of the GFMD, the three-day GFMD Summit program will include inaugural and closing ceremonies, as well as Roundtable discussions and special sessions on the GFMD Platform for Partnerships and the Future of the Forum open to Friends of the Forum. Additionally, this year, for the first time, the three multi-stakeholder mechanisms of the GFMD – the Civil Society Days, the Business Meeting and the Mayoral Forum – will be held in the same space and integrated into the overall program of the GFMD Summit. The ‘Common Space’ sessions will provide an opportunity for the multi-stakeholder representatives from all mechanisms to mingle and share ideas in unified shared events.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

For more details, please refer to the Provisional Programme for 20-24 January 2020 and Logistics Note with practical information for participating delegations.

Registration for the Quito GFMD Summit will be coursed through the GFMD Support Unit in Geneva (registration2019@gfmd.org). For logistical considerations, all delegations are encouraged to complete online registration via gfmd.org until 13 December 2019.

The Ecuadorian GFMD Chair looks forward to welcoming your government / organization's delegation to the Twelfth GFMD Summit.

Return to Top

****

****

11.

The Democratic Case for Immigration in the European Union

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Tuesday, January 21, 2020
Seminar Room, Villa Malafrasca
Migration Policy Centre
Villa Malafrasca
Via Boccaccio 151
I-50133 Florence – Italy
http://www.migrationpolicycentre.eu/events/the-democratic-case-for-immigration-in-the-european-union/

Abstract: In this talk, Rainer Baubock will present three challenges to the view that democratic self-determination justifies immigration control. He proposes, first, that the reason why democratic states have immigration control powers is not that they are democratic, but that they are independent states. Exercising this power is legitimate when immigration control is needed to preserve the conditions for democratic self-government. Second, he will argue that democratic norms provide positive reasons for promoting free international movement and admission claims for family migrants, economic migrants and refugees. Third, he will suggest that current disputes over immigration policy in the European Union reflect deeper conflicts between open and closed conceptions of democracy. If this is correct, then choosing closure over openness may put the future of democracy itself at risk and should thus not be regarded as an issue of legitimate democratic self-determination.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Employment Services for Refugees: Leveraging Mainstream U.S. Systems and Funding

2:00 p.m. EST, Thursday, January 23, 2020
MPI Webinar
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/events/employment-services-refugees-mainstream-us

Description: A key goal of the U.S. refugee resettlement program is to help refugees rapidly find employment. While refugees do work at high rates, and entry-level jobs are often available in today's tight labor market, service providers sometimes struggle to help refugees into jobs that provide long-term career pathways and upward mobility.

Such challenges are compounded by the pressures and challenges of the current environment around refugee resettlement, in a context of greatly reduced refugee arrivals, strains on local resettlement organizations—many of which have ended or reduced operations—and uncertainty about which states and counties will be resettling refugees in the years ahead. Under these circumstances, two activities can be key parts of a broader strategy for sustaining and improving employment services for refugees: Partnerships with experts in workforce development strategies, and access to federal workforce development funding.

Join Migration Policy Institute (MPI) researchers and other experts on this webinar as they explore what these approaches can look like in practice.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speakers will discuss the possibilities for collaboration between refugee resettlement and mainstream workforce services, and funding streams such as Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) programs, SNAP Employment and Training funds, Pell grants, and more to help refugees find better jobs. State leaders in Michigan and Washington State will also share how they have leveraged such funding to support their refugee employment services.

Speakers:
Essey Workie, Senior Policy Analyst, Migration Policy Institute

Amanda Bergson-Shilcock, Senior Fellow, National Skills Coalition

Sarah Peterson, Chief, Office of Refugee and Immigrant Assistance, and Washington State Refugee Coordinator, Economic Services Administration, Washington State Department of Social and Health Services

Karen Phillippi, Director, New American Integration, Office of Global Michigan, Department of Labor and Economic Opportunity

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Report and Event on Statelessness in the United States

2:00-4:30 p.m., Thursday, January 23, 2020
Center for Migration Studies of New York — 6th Floor
307 E 60th Street
New York, NY 10022,
https://cmsny.org/event/statelessness-united-states-2020/

Description: Join the Center for Migration Studies of New York (CMS) for a presentation on its new report on statelessness in the United States.

In October 2017, CMS initiated a study to map the stateless population in the United States; that is persons living in the United States who do not have nationality in any country. It ultimately produced a report – using a unique methodology – that provides estimates and profiles of US residents who are potentially stateless or potentially at risk of statelessness.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In conjunction with the release of its report, CMS will share and discuss its findings with experts, practitioners and advocates for stateless persons. This event is free, but advance registration is required.

Speakers:
Danah Abdulaziz, Founding Member, United Stateless

David Baluarte, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and Associate Clinical Professor of Law, Washington and Lee University School of Law

Laura Bingham, Senior Managing Legal Officer for Equality and Inclusion, Open Society Justice Initiative

Karina Clough, Founding Member, United Stateless

Lindsay Jenkins, Protection Officer, UNHCR Regional Office for the USA and the Caribbean

And the authors of the new CMS report:
Donald Kerwin, Executive Director, Center for Migration Studies

Daniela Alulema, Director of Programs, Center for Migration Studies

Mike Nicholson, Researcher, Center for Migration Studies

Robert Warren, Senior Visiting Fellow, Center for Migration Studies

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Civil society and the everyday politics of the global refugee regime: Early

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

lessons from the Local Engagement Refugee Research Network (LERRN)

12:30-2:30 p.m., Thursday, January 23, 2020
York University
626 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto, ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-civil-society-and-the-everyday-politics-of-the-global-refugee-regime-early-lessons-from-the-local-engagement-refugee-research-network-lerrn

Speaker:
James Milner, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Carleton University

Description: While there is a rich literature on the politics of the global refugee regime and the politics of asylum in the global South, there has been less systematic treatment of the role of civil society actors in navigating the everyday politics of the regime, especially in the global South, which hosts 80% of the world's refugees. This gap is surprising given the literature on the role that civil society plays in other global regimes and the range of civil society actors engaged with the work of the global refugee regime. In response, the Local Engagement Refugee Research Network (LERRN) was launched in 2018 as a partnership between four Canadian universities, INGO partners, and working groups in Kenya, Tanzania, Lebanon and Jordan, which include local academics, national NGOs and refugee-led initiatives from each context. This presentation will share the early results of LERRN and its work to understand the everyday politics of the global refugee regime.

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Webinar: Inroads to Entrepreneurship: Local strategies to support immigrant business and local prosperity

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1:00 p.m. EST, Thursday, January 23, 2020
Cities of Migration
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/webinar-inroads-to-entrepreneurship-local-strategies-to-support-immigrant-business-and-local-registration-83328721449

Speakers:
Janet Moser, Managing Director, Immigration Services, Ignite Fredericton (Fredericton, News Brunswick, Canada)

As Managing Director of Immigration Services Janet brings over 30 years of professional experience. From business owner, to career councillor for local post secondary colleges Janet is a professional who strives for excellence of those she is working with and for. Along with her years of experience Janet is a connector, negotiator, liaison and advocate working between government and private industry involving the development and startup success of immigrant investors in Fredericton and across New Brunswick. Janet has been involved in the creation and management of immigrant entreprenurial settlement programming for the past ten years. Most recently she transitioned into an exciting new role to oversee the build of Fredericton's five-year innovative immigration and population growth strategy as well as the leading the Local Immigration Partnership.

Reem Ali, Community Development Worker, New Canadians Centre Peterborough (Peterborough, Ontario, Canada)

Reem is the Community Development Worker, leading projects at the New Canadians Centre that focus on the economic and social empowerment of newcomers. She also coordinates working groups under the Peterborough Immigration Partnership that focus on refugee and immigrant integration.

Reem has an MSc in Biochemistry from McMaster University and an MPA from Carleton University. She started her career in life sciences as a Researcher and Lecturer at Trent University. Her passion for international development led her to Egypt, where she spent 6 years specializing in the field of child rights and working with local and international organizations, most notably CIDA, UNICEF, and the Drosos Foundation. She continues to teach at Trent University in the International Development Studies department.

In 2018, Reem was a recipient of the Greater Peterborough Chamber of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Commerce's '4 Under 40' award. The '4 Under 40' awards are designed to recognize four individuals in our community who are under the age of 40 and who are making their mark in the Peterborough area. Reem was also a recipient of the inaugural Peterborough-Kawartha Women's Leadership Awards in October 2018.

Description: With retirement rates outpacing workforce growth in communities across regional and rural Canada, smaller cities and towns are looking for new ways to bolster the local economy. For many, that means investing in strategies for the reception and integration of immigrant entrepreneurs. Whether running a small business or investing in a new start-up, entrepreneurship has always been a route for immigrants to establish and sustain themselves in new communities. Research suggests that local communities that are willing to invest in entrepreneurism are investing in strategies that will advance innovation and spur creativity for the benefit of all residents (Kao et al. 2002).

Immigrants face the same challenges in starting a new business as entrepreneurs anywhere. Additional roadblocks can include language, limited knowledge of local markets, regulatory issues, access to credit or vital business networks. What can smaller cities do to support aspiring immigrant entrepreneurs and ensure they lay down the roots for a successful business and new life in the community?

Join us online to learn how the cities of Fredericton (NB) and Peterborough (ON) are providing inroads to entrepreneurism and economic inclusion for newcomers.

Learn about Good Ideas:

* In Fredericton, New Brunswick (CA): The innovative Business Immigrant Mentorship was launched in 2009 by the Fredericton Chamber of Commerce, and became a launching pad for a City led business incubator and centre that supports immigrant entrepreneurs from networking to training to advocacy, including Planet Hatch and Ignite Fredericton

* In Peterborough, Ontario (CA): the Newcomer Kitchen Peterborough focuses on empowering newcomer women through cooking, learning workplace English and entrepreneurial skills.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Immigrant Futures project explores new perspectives on the challenges and opportunities of immigration in Canada's small cities, towns and regions. The Immigrant Futures webinar series is presented in partnership with Hire Immigrants-Magnet, Hamilton Economic Development, the City of Moncton, The Halifax Partnership and the Leeds Grenville Local Immigration Partnership; with support from Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC).

Return to Top

****
****

16.
2020 EB-5 and Uglobal Immigration Expo

Friday-Saturday, January 24-25, 2020
Radisson Blu Hotel, Dubai Waterfront
Dubai, United Arab Emirates
https://www.eb5investors.com/conferences/2020-eb5-dubai

Description: In light of Dubai becoming a magnet for foreign high net worth individuals with more than 8,600 multi-millionaires, EB5 Investors Magazine is excited to host the 2020 EB-5 Expo Dubai on Jan. 24-25. We are proudly presenting you with a gathering of industry leaders, who will share their insight and expertise during two days of educational, interactive panels about United States' EB-5 immigrant investor program and other global migration programs.

Join us to network with EB-5 regional centers, law firms, service providers, migration agencies and potential investors.

Why Attend This Event?

Ultra-high net worth individuals are forecasted to grow more than 20% in the Middle East region in the upcoming five years.

More than one quarter of all UHNWIs in the Middle East are considering to permanently emigrate to another country.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

UAE ranks among the top 5 countries in the world with the highest number of millionaire inflows in 2018 and half of them have settled in Dubai.

UAE continues to be a hub with more than 8 million expats and global migrants.

Dubai has emerged as the world's fifth most important hub for wealthy individuals.

More than 60 percent of the second-passport UHNWIs candidates are from the MENA region.

Who Will Attend This Event?

Learn and network in an exclusive, cross-cultural setting among the world's key players in the global immigration investment market.

HNWIs
Foreign Intermediaries & Wealth Managers
Migration Agents
Real Estate Developers
Immigration Attorneys
EB-5 Regional Centers
Service Providers

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Threats from Within: The Rise of the Immigration Police State

6:30–8:00 p.m., Wednesday, January 29, 2020
Brooklyn Historical Society
128 Pierrepont St
Brooklyn, NY 11201
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/threats-from-within-the-rise-of-the-immigration-police-state-tickets-86726468201

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: With White Nationalism on the rise, increased militarization of the border, and inhumane practices justified by "America First," our land of opportunity is now the land of nightmares for immigrants seeking a better life.

Elizabeth F. Cohen, professor of political science at Syracuse University, confronts this new normal in her book Illegal: How America's Lawless Immigration Regime Threatens Us All and shows how the rising tide of nationalism and unfettered policing of immigrants threaten citizen and non-citizen alike.

Return to Top

****
****

18.

Emigrant Political Rights in Latin America: A configurational analysis approach

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 3, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Speaker:
Leydy Diossa-Jimenez
Visiting Graduate Student, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
PhD Candidate, UC Los Angeles

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

19.

Beyond the 1951 Convention: What are State responsibilities towards refugees according to the 1967 Protocol

12:30-2:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 4, 2020
York University
519 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-tbc-2

Speaker:
Robert Barsky, Canada Research Chair: Law, Narrative and Border Crossing, Department of Law and Legal Studies, Carleton University

Description: Prof. Barsky will discuss the letters, minutes of meetings, memos, and reports that pertain to the negotiations leading up to the 1967 Protocol. These documents show that the ambitions of the 19 legal experts who convened in Bellagio in 1965 were far more wide-ranging than simply removing the temporal (pre-1951) and geographical (Europe) limitations of the 1951 Convention. Rather, the documents reveal complex discussions about how to create a stand-alone treaty that would expand the Convention's reach and render it more adaptable to new refugee situations, while not impeding any more expansive regional instruments that might come to be adopted.

Return to Top

****
****

20.

Discrimination and Delegation: Explaining State Responses to Refugees

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, February 14, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14186

Speaker:
Lamis Abdelaaty, Assistant Professor, Political Science, Syracuse University

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the "discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the "delegation puzzle"). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

Return to Top

****
****

21.
World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges

Monday-Friday, February 17-21, 2020
Radisson San José
Calle Central y Tercera Av. 15
San José, Costa Rica
https://10times.com/conferenciamundial-iarmj

Description: The World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges is themed as A New World on the Move: The Realities of Irregular Mass Migration and the Challenges Facing Asylum and Immigration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Judges Background and it is indeed a great opportunity for the Americas Chapter of the IARMJ to focus on the increase of mixed flows of people who cross international borders, whether forced to seek international protection or migrants with other characteristics and profiles.

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Southeastern Immigration Studies Association Conference

Current Trends in Immigration Research and Activism

Thursday-Saturday, February 20-22, 2020
The Citadel
Charleston, SC
https://sites.google.com/view/southeasternimmigrationstudies

[Conference details will be available soon.]

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Speakers:
S. Deborah Kang, Visiting Scholar, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Associate Professor of History, California State University San Marcos

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Indignity and Indignation: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
Lower Level Library
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/speaker-series-sarah-willen-professor-anthropology-and-director-research-program-global

Speaker:
Sarah Willen, Professor of Anthropology and Director of the Research Program on Global Health and Human Rights, University of Connecticut

Description: Sarah Willen is the author of Fighting for Dignity: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins. In Fighting for Dignity, Sarah S. Willen explores what happened when the Israeli government launched an aggressive deportation campaign targeting newly arrived migrants from countries as varied as Ghana and the Philippines, Nigeria, Colombia, and Ukraine. Although the campaign was billed as a solution to high unemployment, it had another goal as well: to promote an exclusionary vision of Israel as a Jewish state in which non-Jews have no place. The deportation campaign quickly devastated Tel Aviv's migrant communities and set the stage for even more aggressive antimigrant and antirefugee policies in the years to come.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Fighting for Dignity traces the roots of this deportation campaign in Israeli history and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and shows how policies that illegalize and criminalize migrants wreak havoc in their lives, endanger their health, and curtail the human capacity to flourish. Children born to migrant parents are especially vulnerable to developmental and psychosocial risks. Drawing on nearly two decades of ethnographic engagement in homes and in churches, medical offices, advocacy organizations, and public spaces, Willen shows how migrants struggle to craft meaningful, flourishing lives despite the exclusions and vulnerabilities they endure. To complement their perspectives, she introduces Israeli activists who reject their government's exclusionary agenda and strive to build bridges across difference, repair violations of migrants' dignity, and resist policies that violate their own moral convictions. Willen's vivid and unflinching ethnography challenges us to reconsider our understandings of global migration, human rights, the Middle East— and even dignity itself.

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-703 - Newcomers to Citizens: Immigrant Integration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Wednesday, March 2-4, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=14536

Course Description: With a record 200 million people living outside their country of birth, immigration is a global phenomenon with profound demographic, economic, social, and political implications for both sending and receiving countries. The debate over immigration law and policy has become increasingly volatile and, in some instances, characterized by misinformation, hate, and xenophobia. Beyond the politics of immigration, genuine challenges to immigrant integration abound. Successful integration of immigrants is critical to the long-term prosperity of host countries that rely on immigrants as workers, consumers, taxpayers, innovators, and entrepreneurs in light of their aging native-born populations and lower birth rates. In this course we will explore integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving countries--such as the United States and Canada and new countries of permanent immigration such as France, Germany, the United Kingdom. We will raise questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity. We will also discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism, paradigms that challenge an integrationist reading of migration. Using case studies from North America and Europe we will pay special attention to the different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation on their road from newcomers to citizens.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Discuss the integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving and source countries.
* Recognize questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity.
* Discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism.
* Compare different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation.

Instructor: Jennifer Wistrand

Notes: This course is an open enrollment course. No application is required and registration is available by clicking "Add to Cart." Current students must register with their Georgetown NetID and password. New students will be prompted to create an account prior to registration.

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

26.

Border Security Expo

Wednesday-Thursday, March 11-12, 2020
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center
900 E Market Street
San Antonio, TX 78205
https://www.bordersecurityexpo.com/

Conference agenda:

Keynotes:
Ronald D. Vitiello, Deputy Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

Vice Admiral Scott Buschman, Director, Joint Task Force-East

Scott A. Luck, Deputy Chief, U.S. Border Patrol

John P. Sanders, Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Panels:
National Vetting Center: What is It? What isn't It? And How Will It Change the Way We Protect the Homeland?
This session will focus on the National Vetting Center (NVC) and how it will complement the National Targeting Center (NTC). Experts from the NVC, NTC, as well as other members of the Intelligence Community, will discuss why the NVC is critical to the Homeland and next steps. The NVC will be operational at the time of the Expo, enabling the audience and panels to discuss the implementation.

Mass Migration and Unaccompanied Children: Financial and National Security Impacts
This panel will be comprised of experts from ICE Homeland Security Investigations assigned to the U.S., Mexico, and Central America. The panel will discuss the financial impact on the U.S., Mexico, and Central American countries in addressing the issues related mass migration and unaccompanied children attempting to enter the U.S. The panel will discuss human trafficking, organized human smuggling organizations, and national security issues relating to mass migration and unaccompanied children. The panel will provide publicly releasable information relating to "The Caravan" that reached the U.S./Border in November 2018.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Border: Wall – Ports – System(s) – Technology – Infrastructure – Integration – Modernization

Panel will discuss the immediate, near term, and out-year capability requirements, goals, and vision for border operations including infrastructure updates; technology needs, requirements, and planning; initiatives; modernization; and deployments.

Model Port: How Technology, Public-Private Partnerships, and Innovation Will Continue to Change the Way Ports-of-Entry Operate

This panel will be comprised of experts from the federal/local governments and industry. It will highlight what will take place at the POE in Donna, Texas and why it is important to the country's national and economic security. Technology will play a key role in defining the Model Port. A representative from the City of Donna will explain why this investment is important to the local community. CBP Headquarters staff will address the Donation Assistance Program and why it is necessary to make the Model Port a reality.

A Dialogue with Tenoch Moreno, General Customs Administration, Mexico: Current Operations and Future Thoughts

Procurement: Keeping Industry Current in the Complex Area of Government Procurement and the Mission Needs of Border Operators

This is a must-attend session for those who plan to compete for government contracts. Rules and regulations change frequently, and new requirements are placed on industry. Industry must have a clear understanding of the mission needs of the border operators. Government and industry experts will discuss best practices and explain how to best leverage the many opportunities that support the daily mission of CBP and other agencies. Government panelists will include Senior Executives from CBP procurement and the new office of Operations Support.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Complete conference agenda will be available at end of December.

Return to Top

****
****

27.
Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

28.
The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE
Washington, DC 20002
http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

Speaker:
Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the University of London

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through 'golden doors'. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56,
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, January 14, 2020 7:03 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 1/14/20

Featured Posts

In Case you Missed It, CBP Confirmed 'Extra-Continental' Migration as a 2020 Priority

300,000 Alien Workers Paid an 8 Percent Bonus Because They Are Not Americans

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Todd Bensman
This new year, one of the most consequential trends to follow on the border security front is this: a surge of "extra-continental" migrants from countries far beyond Mexico and Central America, and how the nation will head it off. The question American homeland security is duty-bound to answer is whether any of them are war criminals, murderers, terrorists, or agents of espionage.

By David North
Though the press seems to keep it a secret, and the government permits it to continue, there are 300,000 or so alien workers in the United States who are given an 8 percent-plus bonus each year simply because they are neither U.S. citizens nor green cardholders!

Detention Facility Company Sues California Over AB-32
By Andrew R. Arthur
On December 30, 2019, private detention facility provider The GEO Group, Inc. filed a complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of California against California Governor Gavin Newsom and state Attorney General Xavier Becerra. Seeking an injunction of the state's enforcement of California Assembly Bill 32. The bill appears to be primarily focused on immigration detention.

Mexico Confirms: New Migrant Caravan Bound for U.S.
By Jason Peña
Mexico's Interior Secretary, Olga Sanchez Cordero, confirmed the formation of a United States-bound migrant caravan commencing in Honduras. The caravan is slated to leave the Honduran city of San Pedro Sula by mid-January. The government of Mexico is preparing for the arrival of the Central American caravan.

More Blog Posts

- Interesting Immigration Court and BIA Statistics
- DHS Belatedly Initiates Analysis of State Laws Granting Driver's Licenses and ID's to Ilegal Aliens
- Nicaraguans Migrants Travel to Panama After Northern Neighbors Tighten Borders
- Clinton Failed to Decertify the Immigration Judges' Union - Will Trump Succeed?
- Migrants Sent Back at Nogales, Ariz.
- DoL's Debarments Lists of Bad H-2A and H-2B Employers Get Longer

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Some Additional Thoughts about Those Iranian Students in the U.S.
- The Myth of Moderate Joe Biden
- Oklahoma Still Shows the Way on Collecting Taxes from Illegal Aliens
- Will Iran's Response to Solemani's Killing Implicate U.S. Foreign Student Policies?
- Joe Biden's Immigration Plan

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maggy Smith

From:	Maggy Smith
Sent:	Tuesday, January 14, 2020 8:05 AM
To:	Law, Robert T
Subject:	We need you now more than ever

Law,

It's a new year, and that means a fresh set of challenges for you and me.

Liberals in congress vote along party lines instead of considering what's really best for you or your family. They only care about their narrow political views and will stop at nothing to undermine the progress you're making to advance conservative policy victories that actually work for the American people.

You and I must stand up to them in 2020, and we need to start now.

When you activate your Heritage membership, you will preserve and advance conservative change in America.

Please use this secure link to activate your membership today:
https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

Best,

Maggy Smith
Membership Programs
The Heritage Foundation

P.S. The left will stop at nothing to bully conservatives throughout this critical year. But the best way to beat a bully is to stand up to them. Defend yourself and your principles by using this link today:
https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

The Heritage Foundation

The Heritage Foundation | 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

(b)(6)

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted] If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maggy Smith

From: Maggy Smith
Sent: Wednesday, January 15, 2020 8:33 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Are you coming?

Law,

Will you become a Heritage Foundation member/renew your Heritage Foundation membership in 2020?

As a Heritage member, you can bring real conservative change to America. Now more than ever, we need you on our team in 2020. Help us provide the intellectual firepower to defend America's resurgence, and promote the timeless conservative values and principles you hold dear.

Could you take just a minute to activate your Heritage membership? Join now by clicking this link: https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

Best,

Maggy Smith
Membership Programs
The Heritage Foundation

P.S. You make America work, and Heritage needs you on our team to win. Join The Heritage Foundation now by clicking here: https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

The Heritage Foundation

The Heritage Foundation | 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

(b)(6)

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted]. If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mark Krikorian

From:	Mark Krikorian
Sent:	Thursday, January 16, 2020 8:50 PM
To:	Law, Robert T
Subject:	Re: USCIS Final FY 2019 Statistics Available

Rob: I want to make sure I'm not misunderstanding -- we gave out only 577,000 green cards last year? Or is that only adjustments, not new arrivals. -- MK

On Thu, Jan 16, 2020 at 1:10 PM U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services <uscis@public.govdelivery.com> wrote:

WASHINGTON— U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) final fiscal year (FY) 2019 agency statistics are now available online. These statistics include naturalizations, green cards, employment authorizations and protected populations, among other categories. The agency's FY 2019 asylum statistics are available here.

Highlights:

USCIS naturalized 834,000 new citizens in FY 2019 – an 11 year high in new oaths of citizenship. USCIS granted lawful permanent residence to nearly 577,000 individuals and in FY 2019, the number of applications pending for green cards and naturalizations was reduced by 14 percent and 12 percent respectively.

The agency received nearly 2.2 million employment authorization applications. Furthermore, USCIS approved more than 500,000 petitions for non-immigrant workers in FY 2019, including specialty occupation, temporary agricultural and non-agricultural, and other workers.

USCIS also processed more than 40 million cases through E-Verify.

USCIS granted immigration relief to more than 25,000 individuals, including victims of trafficking, crime and Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) recipients – an eight percent increase from FY 2018.

USCIS is committed to administering our nation's immigration system and safeguarding it's integrity while fulfilling our mission to efficiently and fairly adjudicate the applications of those seeking lawful status in the U.S.

For more information on USCIS and our programs, please visit uscis.gov or follow us on Twitter (@uscis), Instagram (/uscis), YouTube (/uscis), and Facebook (/uscis).

Please do not reply to this message. See our Contact Us page for phone numbers and e-mail addresses.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

STAY CONNECTED:

SUBSCRIBER SERVICES:
Manage Preferences | Unsubscribe | Help

Update your subscriptions, modify your password or email address, or stop subscriptions at any time on your Subscriber Preferences Page. You will need to use your email address to log in. If you have questions or problems with the subscription service, please contact Subscriber Help.

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services sending to msk@cis.org 20 Massachusetts Ave NW, Washington DC 20529 1-800-375-5283

--

Mark Krikorian, Executive Director
Center for Immigration Studies
1629 K Street NW, Suite 600
Washington, DC 20006
o. (202) 466-8185 c. (202) 288-4560
msk@cis.org www.cis.org
Twitter: @MarkSKrikorian

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Law, Robert T

From: Law, Robert T
Sent: Friday, January 17, 2020 1:18 AM
To: Mark Krikorian
Subject: Re: USCIS Final FY 2019 Statistics Available

That number is just adjustment of status and doesn't include green cards issued by DOS abroad.

Sent from my iPhone

On Jan 17, 2020, at 3:50 AM, Mark Krikorian <msk@cis.org> wrote:

?

Rob: I want to make sure I'm not misunderstanding -- we gave out only 577,000 green cards last year? Or is that only adjustments, not new arrivals. -- MK

On Thu, Jan 16, 2020 at 1:10 PM U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services <uscis@public.govdelivery.com> wrote:

WASHINGTON— U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) final fiscal year (FY) 2019 agency statistics are now available online. These statistics include naturalizations, green cards, employment authorizations and protected populations, among other categories. The agency's FY 2019 asylum statistics are available here.

Highlights:

USCIS naturalized 834,000 new citizens in FY 2019 – an 11 year high in new oaths of citizenship. USCIS granted lawful permanent residence to nearly 577,000 individuals and in FY 2019, the number of applications pending for green cards and naturalizations was reduced by 14 percent and 12 percent respectively.

The agency received nearly 2.2 million employment authorization applications. Furthermore, USCIS approved more than 500,000 petitions for non-immigrant workers in FY 2019, including specialty occupation, temporary agricultural and non-agricultural, and other workers.

USCIS also processed more than 40 million cases through E-Verify.

USCIS granted immigration relief to more than 25,000 individuals, including victims of trafficking, crime and Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) recipients – an eight percent increase from FY 2018.

USCIS is committed to administering our nation's immigration system and safeguarding it's integrity while fulfilling our mission to efficiently and fairly adjudicate the applications of those seeking lawful status in the U.S.

For more information on USCIS and our programs, please visit uscis.gov or follow us on Twitter (@uscis), Instagram (/uscis), YouTube (/uscis), and Facebook (/uscis).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Please do not reply to this message. See our Contact Us page for phone numbers and e-mail addresses.

STAY CONNECTED:

SUBSCRIBER SERVICES:
Manage Preferences | Unsubscribe | Help

Update your subscriptions, modify your password or email address, or stop subscriptions at any time on your Subscriber Preferences Page. You will need to use your email address to log in. If you have questions or problems with the subscription service, please contact Subscriber Help.

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services sending to msk@cis.org 20 Massachusetts Ave NW, Washington DC 20529 1-800-375-5283

--

Mark Krikorian, Executive Director
Center for Immigration Studies
1629 K Street NW, Suite 600
Washington, DC 20006
o. (202) 466-8185 c. (202) 288-4560
msk@cis.org www.cis.org
Twitter: @MarkSKrikorian

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maggy Smith

From:	Maggy Smith
Sent:	Friday, January 17, 2020 8:27 AM
To:	Law, Robert T
Subject:	Are you with us on this?

Law,

You are already a loyal friend of the conservative movement—now, we want you on our team.

You and I have the resources and determination to build and promote the change our country needs. But to put those resources into action, but we need you.

In this critical year, the liberals in the House are determined to tear down the policy progress we've made, brick by brick. Stand with us to protect our conservative victories at all costs.

When you become a Heritage member, you bring conservative policy solutions to key decision makers in Washington and to our fellow Americans.

Activate your Heritage membership today and you will protect and advance conservative change in America when it's needed most.

Sign up to be a Heritage member today!

Thank you for your continued support of conservative principles.

Best,

Maggy Smith
Membership Programs
The Heritage Foundation

P.S. Don't let liberals get away with wrecking the conservative policy victories of recent years. Join the fight by becoming a Heritage member by clicking this secure link: https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

The Heritage Foundation

The Heritage Foundation | 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted] If you want to change your

(b)(6)

DHS-19-0654-B-004287

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, January 17, 2020 3:54 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 1/17/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 1/17/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Refugees and Local Control," Mark Krikorian
2. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, David North, Todd Bensman, and Jason Peña
3. "I'm a Liberal Who Thinks Immigration Must Be Restricted," Jerry Kammer
4. "Saudi's Terrorist Massacre at Florida Naval Base Highlights the Weakness of U.S. Vetting," Andrew C. McCarthy
5. "Mass Migration Is Immoral," Scott Morefield
6. "The Role of Skills in U.S. Immigration Policy, in One Chart," Robert VerBruggen
7. "Ron DeSantis's E-Verify Fight Might Make Him Trump's Best Successor," Ryan Girdusky
8. "Texas Catholic Bishops Are Critical, But in the Pews, Immigration Views Are Split," Jim Henson and Joshua Blank
9. "Tom Homan: On Illegal Immigration, Democratic Presidential Candidates Should Answer These Crucial Questions," Bradford Betz
10. "ICE Subpoenas Denver Law Enforcement Over Sanctuary City Policy," Eric Lendrum
11. "Immigration Enthusiasts: Forget Integration, We Need Disintegration," Bob Dane
12. "Caravan Season Warming Up in Honduras," Bob Dane
13. "Texas Governor Says 'No Mas' on Refugees," Bob Dane
14. "The Downside to Declining Apprehensions on the Southern Border," Jennifer G. Hickey
15. "18 Republican Governors Ask For More Muslim Refugees As 'Christian Charity'," Bradlee Dean
16. "Debate Shows Dem Immigration Policies so Bad Trump Doesn't Have to DO Anything to Win 2020 - Just Not Be a Democrat," Peter Brimelow
17. "Deep State Saboteurs In EOIR Immigration "Courts" Can't Even Keep Out Illegal Alien LAWYERS," Federale
18. "Refugees Or Replacement? Florida's DeSantis, Georgia's Kemp Face Decision That Will Shape Their Future - And America's," Washington Watcher II
19. "December Data Shows Trump Triumph on Immigrant Population, Worker Displacement — But Will He Throw It Away?," Edwin S. Rubenstein

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

20. "CA Gov. Newsom Wants to Fund Health Care for Illegal Immigrant Seniors," Leslie Eastman
21. "Tom Steyer: Americans Must Provide Cheap Housing to Illegal Immigrants," Neil Munro
22. "This Immigration Attorney Understands Her Clients. She's Undocumented, Too," Steve Lopez
23. "The Different Faces of Immigration," Daniel McLaughlin
24. "Elizabeth Warren's False Claim That the Filibuster Stopped Immigration Reform," Salvador Rizzo
25. "To Win on Immigration, We Have to Lead With Love," Suzette Brooks Masters
26. "Why Hostility to Immigration Runs So Deep," Noah Smith
27. "New Data: Legal Immigration Has Declined Under Trump," Stuart Anderson
28. "How America's Weak Immigration Means a Weak Economy," John Kristof
29. "Can Populist Economics Coexist With Pro-Immigrant Policies?," Dylan Matthews
30. "Relearning Old Lessons: What a Forgotten Novel Can Teach Us About Immigration in 2020," Anne Boyd Rioux
31. "What We Know About USCIS' New H-1B Cap Registration System," Leslie Dellon
32. "Changes to Work Permit Eligibility Leave Asylum Seekers Without a Job," Melissa Cruz
33. "A Vacation at the Border: Seeing the Immigration Humanitarian Crisis Up Close," Phil Wilson
34. "'I Am an Immigrant': Clinic Staff Make Case for Empathy, Assistance," Barbara Cioffi
35. "In 2020, Let's Recognize Immigration as a Reproductive Justice Issue," Tina Vasquez

1.

Refugees and Local Control

By Mark Krikorian

The Corner at National Review Online, January 13, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/refugees-and-local-control/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

2.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

The Implications of the Non-Delegation Doctrine for Immigration Control and Enforcement

Part I: The Immigration Examinations Fee Account

January 15, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Implications-NonDelegation-Doctrine-Immigration-Control-and-Enforcement

Clueless in the House

January 14, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Clueless-House

Analyzing Asylum Court Appearances: Falling Off The TRAC Again

January 13, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Analyzing-Asylum-Court-Appearances-Falling-TRAC-Again

By Andrew R. Arthur

Federal Judge Blocks Refugee Resettlement Executive Order

When is a consultation not a cons

January 17, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Federal-Judge-Blocks-Refugee-Resettlement-Executive-Order

Trump Win in Decision on Family Separations

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Judge rules government is not 'systematically separating families at the border'
January 15, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Trump-Win-Decision-Family-Separations

Is There 100 Miles of New Border Wall, or Not?
It doesn't make much difference — keep building
January 14, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/There-100-Miles-New-Border-Wall-or-Not

Wall Street Journal Article Proves My Point on 'Tent Courts'
Not much exciting to see here — except the photographs
January 13, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Wall-Street-Journal-Article-Proves-My-Point-Tent-Courts

Did 98.7 Percent of Non-Detained Asylum Seekers Really Attend All of Their Asylum Hearings?
I am a little skeptical — because my son and I did the math
January 10, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Did-987-Percent-NonDetained-Asylum-Seekers-Really-Attend-All-Their-Asylum-Hearings

By David North

The Do's and Don'ts of Handling Immigration Law Enforcement Tips
January 17, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Dos-and-Donts-Handling-Immigration-Law-Enforcement-Tips

The Migration Problems of Harry and Meghan
Or, Prince Harry, a chain migrant?
January 16, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Migration-Problems-Harry-and-Meghan

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Marginal School, Blackballed by Other Colleges, Can't Accept F-1 Students
January 14, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Marginal-School-Blackballed-Other-Colleges-Cant-Accept-F1-Students

By Todd Bensman

U.S.-Bound Migrants Gambling on Trump Defeat in November
'I want Trump out!'
January 17, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/Migrants-Hope-Trump-Loses-Election

By Jason Peña

Migrant Caravan Bound for U.S
January 16, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Migrant-Caravan-Bound-US

Mexican Authorities Arrest Over 700 Migrants in Four Days
January 14, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Mexican-Authorities-Arrest-Over-700-Migrants-Four-Days

Return to Top

****
****

3.
I'm a Liberal Who Thinks Immigration Must Be Restricted
Immigration can invigorate the country. But when it is poorly managed, it can cause social division — just as it's doing right now.
By Jerry Kammer
The New York Times, January 16, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.nytimes.com/2020/01/16/opinion/immigration-democrats.html?action=click&module=Opinion&pgtype=Homepage

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Saudi's Terrorist Massacre at Florida Naval Base Highlights the Weakness of U.S. Vetting
Though the shooter acted alone, the U.S. is expelling 21 Saudi trainees for newly uncovered jihadist social-media content and contact with child pornography.
By Andrew C. McCarthy
National Review Online, January 15, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/2020/01/saudi-terror-attack-florida-naval-base-exposes-weakness-of-us-vetting/

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Mass Migration Is Immoral
By Scott Morefield
Townhall.com, January 13, 2020
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/scottmorefield/2020/01/13/mass-migration-is-immoral-n2559394

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

6.

The Role of Skills in U.S. Immigration Policy, in One Chart

By Robert VerBruggen

The Corner at National Review Online, January 10, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/the-role-of-skills-in-u-s-immigration-policy-in-one-chart/

Return to Top

****

****

7.

Ron DeSantis's E-Verify Fight Might Make Him Trump's Best Successor

By Ryan Girdusky

Washington Examiner, January 14, 2020

. . .

https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/ron-desantiss-e-verify-fight-might-make-him-trumps-best-successor

Return to Top

****

****

8.

Texas Catholic Bishops Are Critical, But in the Pews, Immigration Views Are Split

Gov. Greg Abbott's decision to opt out of the federal refugee program is unpopular with Catholic bishops, but might find more favor among Republicans in Catholic congregations.

By Jim Henson and Joshua Blank

The Texas Tribune, January 15, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.texastribune.org/2020/01/15/texas-bishops-critical-abbott-refugees-congregation-views-split/

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Tom Homan: On Illegal Immigration, Democratic Presidential Candidates Should Answer These Crucial Questions
By Bradford Betz
FoxNews Wilmington, January 15, 2020
. . .
https://foxwilmington.com/headlines/tom-homan-on-illegal-immigration-democratic-presidential-candidates-should-answer-these-crucial-questions/

Return to Top

****
****

10.
ICE Subpoenas Denver Law Enforcement Over Sanctuary City Policy
By Eric Lendrum
American Greatness, January 16, 2020
. . .
https://amgreatness.com/2020/01/16/ice-subpoenas-denver-law-enforcement-over-sanctuary-city-policy/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

11.

Immigration Enthusiasts: Forget Integration, We Need Disintegration

By Bob Dane

ImmigrationReform.com, January 16, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/16/mass-immigration-integration-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

12.

Caravan Season Warming Up in Honduras

By Bob Dane

ImmigrationReform.com, January 14, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/14/migrant-caravan-honduras-border-security-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

13.

Texas Governor Says 'No Mas' on Refugees

By Bob Dane

ImmigrationReform.com, January 13, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/13/refugees-texas-trump-administration-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

14.

The Downside to Declining Apprehensions on the Southern Border

By Jennifer G. Hickey

ImmigrationReform.com, January 14, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/14/northern-border-security-canada-threats-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

15.

18 Republican Governors Ask For More Muslim Refugees As "Christian Charity"

By Bradlee Dean

NewsWithViews.com, January 15, 2020

. . .

https://newswithviews.com/18-republican-governors-ask-for-more-muslim-refugees-as-christian-charity/

Return to Top

****

****

16.

Debate Shows Dem Immigration Policies so Bad Trump Doesn't Have to DO Anything to Win 2020 — Just Not Be a Democrat

By Peter Brimelow

VDare.com blog, January 16, 2020

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/debate-shows-dem-immigration-policies-so-bad-trump-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

doesn-t-have-to-do-anything-to-win-2020-just-not-be-a-democrat

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Deep State Saboteurs In EOIR Immigration "Courts" Can't Even Keep Out Illegal Alien LAWYERS
By Federale
VDare.com blog, January 15, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/deep-state-saboteurs-in-eoir-immigration-courts-can-t-even-keep-out-illegal-alien-lawyers

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Refugees Or Replacement? Florida's DeSantis, Georgia's Kemp Face Decision That Will Shape Their Future — And America's
By Washington Watcher II
VDare.com, January 13, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/refugees-or-replacement-florida-s-desantis-georgia-s-kemp-face-decision-that-will-shape-their-future-and-america-s

Return to Top

****
****

19.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

December Data Shows Trump Triumph on Immigrant Population, Worker Displacement — But Will He Throw It Away?
By Edwin S. Rubenstein
VDare.com, January 12, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/national-data-december-data-shows-trump-triumph-on-immigrant-population-worker-displacement-but-will-he-throw-it-away

Return to Top

****
****

20.
CA Gov. Newsom Wants to Fund Health Care for Illegal Immigrant Seniors
Newsom naively believes this is the crisis California needs to address.
By Leslie Eastman
Legal Insurrection, January 12, 2020
. . .
https://legalinsurrection.com/2020/01/ca-gov-newsom-wants-to-fund-health-care-for-illegal-immigrant-seniors/

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Tom Steyer: Americans Must Provide Cheap Housing to Illegal Immigrants
By Neil Munro
Breitbart.com, January 13, 2020
. . .
https://www.breitbart.com/economy/2020/01/13/tom-steyer-americans-must-provide-cheap-housing-to-illegal-immigrants/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

22.
This Immigration Attorney Understands Her Clients. She's Undocumented, Too
By Steve Lopez
The Los Angeles Times, January 11, 2020
. . .
https://www.latimes.com/california/story/2020-01-11/this-immigration-attorney-understands-her-clients-shes-undocumented-too

Return to Top

****
****

23.
The Different Faces of Immigration
By Daniel McLaughlin
The Post-Journal (Jamestown, NY), January 11, 2020
. . .
https://www.post-journal.com/life/viewpoints/2020/01/the-different-faces-of-immigration/

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Elizabeth Warren's False Claim That the Filibuster Stopped Immigration Reform
By Salvador Rizzo
The Washington Post, January 10, 2020
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.washingtonpost.com/politics/2020/01/10/elizabeth-warrens-false-claim-that-filibuster-stopped-immigration-reform/

Return to Top

****
****

25.
To Win on Immigration, We Have to Lead With Love
We default to an "us versus them" dichotomy, when we should be talking about communities and how we can make them work for everyone.
By Suzette Brooks Masters
Nation of Change, January 11, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationofchange.org/2020/01/11/to-win-on-immigration-we-have-to-lead-with-love/

Return to Top

****
****

26.
Why Hostility to Immigration Runs So Deep
By Noah Smith
Bloomberg News, January 13, 2020
. . .
https://finance.yahoo.com/news/why-hostility-immigration-runs-deep-143016075.html

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

27.

New Data: Legal Immigration Has Declined Under Trump

By Stuart Anderson

Forbes.com, January 13, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/01/13/new-data-legal-immigration-has-declined-under-trump/#3b71e9506e99

Return to Top

****

****

28.

How America's Weak Immigration Means a Weak Economy

By John Kristof

The Orange County Register, January 14, 2020

. . .

https://www.ocregister.com/2020/01/14/how-americas-weak-immigration-means-a-weak-economy/

Return to Top

****

****

29.

Can Populist Economics Coexist With Pro-Immigrant Policies?

A new study finds that the more immigrants people believe there are, the less supportive they are of progressive programs.

By Dylan Matthews

VOX.com, January 15, 2020

. . .

https://www.vox.com/future-perfect/2020/1/15/21065368/immigration-misperceptions-taxes-spending-nativism-study-alesina-stantcheva

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

30.

Relearning Old Lessons: What a Forgotten Novel Can Teach Us About Immigration in 2020

Anne Boyd Rioux on Martha Gellhorn's A Stricken Field

By Anne Boyd Rioux

Literary Hub, January 13, 2020

. . .

https://lithub.com/relearning-old-lessons-what-a-forgotten-novel-can-teach-us-about-immigration-in-2020/

Return to Top

****

****

31.

What We Know About USCIS' New H-1B Cap Registration System

By Leslie Dellon

ImmigrationImpact.com, January 16, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/01/16/uscis-h1b-cap-registration-system/

Return to Top

****

****

32.

Changes to Work Permit Eligibility Leave Asylum Seekers Without a Job

By Melissa Cruz

ImmigrationImpact.com, January 13, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/01/13/work-permit-changes-asylum-seekers/

Return to Top

****
****

33.
A Vacation at the Border: Seeing the Immigration Humanitarian Crisis Up Close
By Phil Wilson
The Daily Hampshire Gazette (MA), January 10, 2020
. . .
https://www.gazettenet.com/vacation-to-the-border-30913736

Return to Top

****
****

34.
'I Am an Immigrant': Clinic Staff Make Case for Empathy, Assistance
By Barbara Cioffi
The Williamsport (PA) Sun-Gazette, January 13, 2020
. . .
https://www.sungazette.com/news/top-news/2020/01/i-am-an-immigrant-clinic-staff-make-case-for-empathy-assistance/

Return to Top

****
****

35.
In 2020, Let's Recognize Immigration as a Reproductive Justice Issue

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Tina Vasquez
Truthout, January 1, 2020
. . .
https://truthout.org/articles/in-2020-lets-recognize-immigration-as-a-reproductive-justice-issue/

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Kay Coles James

From: Kay Coles James
Sent: Saturday, January 18, 2020 8:31 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Membership Question

Law,

2020 is a make or break year for conservatives. We must unleash our economy by making the tax cuts permanent, we must secure the border, and we must continue efforts to rebuild our military strength. If we fail, we will cede every inch of ground we have gained to the socialist agenda in Congress.

You can't afford to sit this year out. Become a member of The Heritage Foundation today: https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

Thank you for your unwavering support of the conservative movement.

All the best,

Kay C. James
President

P.S. Conservative policy victories in 2020 are riding on your support. Join us in making 2020 a conservative year to remember! Join us now: https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

The Heritage Foundation

The Heritage Foundation | 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as (b)(6) [redacted] If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maggy Smith

From: Maggy Smith
Sent: Monday, January 20, 2020 8:06 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: I haven't heard from you

Law,

2020 is already shaping up to be a challenging year for conservatives. Liberals in Congress are ready to undo the policy victories of recent years, and go even farther than they have before.

To protect our conservative policy victories and win new ones, we have to stick together this year and stay motivated.

Thousands of members have already confirmed their Heritage membership for 2020, but I couldn't help but notice that your name was missing.

It surprised me not seeing your name, because I know you value the conservative principles of free enterprise, limited government, individual freedom, traditional American values, and a strong national defense.

Will you activate your Heritage membership here for this year? This page is the fastest, most secure way to ensure that your Heritage membership is activated for 2020: https://secured.heritage.org/_2020

Join and continue to fight for your principles.

Thank you! I appreciate your generous support.

Best,

Maggy Smith
Membership Programs

The Heritage Foundation

The Heritage Foundation | 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

(b)(6)

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails a[redacted] If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, January 20, 2020 1:29 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Video: How Trump's Policies Ended the Mass Migration Crisis on Mexico's Southern Border — For Now

Share Tweet Forward

CIS Reports From Guatemala-Mexico Border

Video Report: How Trump's Policies Ended the Mass Migration Crisis on Mexico's Southern Border — For Now

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (January 20, 2020) - President Trump, not the divided U.S. Congress, can be credited with ending the mass illegal migration crisis at the border. Absent permanent legislative prescriptions by that Congress, Trump's success is tenuous and impermanent because, as this video report from Mexico's southern border shows, it depends almost entirely on political winds in other countries, especially Mexico, and on the whims of their leaders.
Understanding how and why the wave broke is essential to future responses to similar unwanted population transfers over the U.S.-Mexico and Mexico-Guatemala borders, especially as new Central American migrant caravans form and set out to test the new defenses.

CIS Senior National Security Fellow Todd Bensman commented, "Few in the United States are giving the administration credit, but a great many migrants trapped along the Mexico-Guatemala blame President Donald Trump for their inability to reach the U.S. border. Many are deciding to stay in Mexico for the next 10 months in a gambit that Trump will lose the election and Democrats will clear the path of his obstructions." He continued, "They discovered what I did on this trip: under the Trump administration, the route to America is no longer wide-open."

Bensman recently returned from Mexico's southern border with Guatemala, spending almost two weeks in Tapachula, Chiapas, and Guatemala's northern highlands, where he interviewed migrants, government officials, and military personnel.

A collection of Bensman's reports: https://cis.org/Immigration-Topic/Guatemala-Mexico-Border-Report Video Report:https://cis.org/Bensman/Video-Report-How-Trumps-Policies-Ended-Mass-Migration-Crisis-Mexicos-Southern-Border-Now

Related Articles:

#1
#2
#3

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, January 20, 2020 4:07 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 1/20/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 1/20/20

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 1/21, DC - Discussion on new U.S. asylum and refugee policies - [New Listing]
2. 1/21-24, Quito, Ecuador - Annual Mayoral Forum on Human Mobility, Migration and Development
3. 1/21, Florence, Italy - Lecture on the democratic case for immigration in the EU
4. 1/23, DC- MPI webinar on employment services for refugees
5. 1/23, New York, NY - Report and discussion on statelessness in the U.S.
6. 1/23, Toronto - Discussion on Civil society and the everyday politics of the global refugee regime
7. 1/23, Canada/North America - Webinar on local strategies to support immigrant business and local prosperity
8. 1/24-24, Dubai, U.A.E. - EB-5 investors conference
9. 1/28, Toronto - Seminar on refugee rights, capabilities and legal empowerment - [New Listing]
10. 1/29, Brooklyn, NY - Lecture on threats posed by increased immigration enforcement
11. 2/3, San Diego - Seminar on emigrant political rights in Latin America
12. 2/4, Cambridge, MA - Seminar on the Lebanese response to the Syrian refugee influx- [New Listing]
13. 2/4, Toronto - Discussion on State responsibilities towards refugees under the 1967 Protocol to the 1951 Convention
14. 2/14, Los Angeles - Lecture on explaining state responses to refugees
15. 2/17-21, San José, Costa Rica - World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges
16. 2/20-22, Charleston, SC - Conference on current trends in immigration research and activism
17. 2/24, San Diego - Seminar on the White Russian refugees and the development of American immigration and refugee law during the Great Depression
18. 2/27, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migrant lives at Israel's margins
19. 2/28, Los Angeles - Conference on the Venezuela refugee crisis - [New Listing]
20. 3/2-4, DC - Certificate program course in international migration studies
21. 3/11-12, San Antonio - Annual border security expo
22. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

23. 3/13, Los Angeles - Book discussion: Refuge Beyond Reach - [New Listing]
24. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention
25. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration - [New Listing]
26. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of fake news
27. 4/24, Pittsburgh - Lecture on a comprehensive approach to the issue of immigration - [New Listing]
28. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law

1.
International Forum on Migration Statistics (IFMS)

4:00-5:30 p.m., Tuesday, January 21, 2020
Intercultural Center Executive Conference Room, 7th Floor
Georgetown University
3300 Whitehaven St, NW
Washington DC 20007
https://isim.georgetown.edu/2020/01/18/upcoming-event-asylum-seeking-in-the-trump-era-a-conversation-with-uscis-officers/

Description: Michael Knowles and Jason Marks will speak about new asylum and refugee policies implemented during the Trump administration. As members of the American Federation of Government Employees' National Citizenship and Immigration Services Council 119, they have been outspoken in the media, Congress, and in Friends of the Court (Amicus Curiae) briefs. They support challenges to these policies, and protections for federal employees who have spoken out on these issues.

Return to Top

****
****

2.
The 6th Mayoral Forum on Human Mobility, Migration and Development

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Tuesday-Friday, January 21-24, 2020
Centro de Convenciones Metropolitano
Quito, Ecuador
http://gfmd.org/meetings/ecuador2019/summit

Description: The Government of the Republic of Ecuador, in its capacity as 2019 Chair of the Global Forum on Migration and Development (GFMD), will be hosting the Twelfth GFMD Summit Meeting on 20-24 January 2020 in Quito, Ecuador, open to Member States and Observers of the United Nations, and other GFMD Observers. The Twelfth GFMD Summit will be the climax of the Ecuador GFMD Chairmanship.

The Twelfth GFMD Summit will be opened by High Level officials of the Government of the Republic of Ecuador. It is expected to be attended by Ministers and Vice Ministers from all regions of the world, and a broad range of policy-makers and practitioners in migration and development fields.

From the outset, a central focus of the GFMD 2019 Chairmanship has been continuing the global dialogue on migration in the changed policy landscape following the affirmation of the Global Compact on Refugees (GCR) and Global Compact for Migration (GCM), the review of the implementation of migration-related commitments in the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda through the High-level Political Forum, and the enhancement of the GFMD process through the follow up of the recommendations of the GFMD Ten-Year Review Report.

The Ecuadorian Chairmanship is focused on the central theme: “Sustainable approaches to human mobility: Upholding rights, strengthening state agency, and advancing development through partnerships and collective action.”

The substantive agenda of the Quito GFMD Summit focuses on three Roundtable (RT) themes, to be discussed in six RT sessions:

(1) Coordinated responses to mixed movements: Partnerships and collective action to protect rights

Roundtable 1.1: Providing regular pathways from crisis to safety

Roundtable 1.2: Facilitating social and economic inclusion

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(2) Migration narratives and communication: What role, responsibility and resources do governments have?

Roundtable 2.1: Shaping public narratives on migration and migrants

Roundtable 2.2: Communicating effectively with migrants

(3) Addressing human mobility as part of urban and rural development strategies

Roundtable 3.1: Supporting arrival cities through policy coherence and multi-stakeholder partnerships

Roundtable 3.2: Harnessing migration for rural transformation and development

In line with the tradition of the GFMD, the three-day GFMD Summit program will include inaugural and closing ceremonies, as well as Roundtable discussions and special sessions on the GFMD Platform for Partnerships and the Future of the Forum open to Friends of the Forum. Additionally, this year, for the first time, the three multi-stakeholder mechanisms of the GFMD – the Civil Society Days, the Business Meeting and the Mayoral Forum – will be held in the same space and integrated into the overall program of the GFMD Summit. The 'Common Space' sessions will provide an opportunity for the multi-stakeholder representatives from all mechanisms to mingle and share ideas in unified shared events.

For more details, please refer to the Provisional Programme for 20-24 January 2020 and Logistics Note with practical information for participating delegations.

Registration for the Quito GFMD Summit will be coursed through the GFMD Support Unit in Geneva (registration2019@gfmd.org). For logistical considerations, all delegations are encouraged to complete online registration via gfmd.org until 13 December 2019.

The Ecuadorian GFMD Chair looks forward to welcoming your government / organization's delegation to the Twelfth GFMD Summit.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

3.

The Democratic Case for Immigration in the European Union

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Tuesday, January 21, 2020
Seminar Room, Villa Malafrasca
Migration Policy Centre
Villa Malafrasca
Via Boccaccio 151
I-50133 Florence – Italy
http://www.migrationpolicycentre.eu/events/the-democratic-case-for-immigration-in-the-european-union/

Abstract: In this talk, Rainer Baubock will present three challenges to the view that democratic self-determination justifies immigration control. He proposes, first, that the reason why democratic states have immigration control powers is not that they are democratic, but that they are independent states. Exercising this power is legitimate when immigration control is needed to preserve the conditions for democratic self-government. Second, he will argue that democratic norms provide positive reasons for promoting free international movement and admission claims for family migrants, economic migrants and refugees. Third, he will suggest that current disputes over immigration policy in the European Union reflect deeper conflicts between open and closed conceptions of democracy. If this is correct, then choosing closure over openness may put the future of democracy itself at risk and should thus not be regarded as an issue of legitimate democratic self-determination.

Return to Top

****

****

4.

Employment Services for Refugees: Leveraging Mainstream U.S. Systems

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

and Funding

2:00 p.m. EST, Thursday, January 23, 2020
MPI Webinar
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/events/employment-services-refugees-mainstream-us

Description: A key goal of the U.S. refugee resettlement program is to help refugees rapidly find employment. While refugees do work at high rates, and entry-level jobs are often available in today's tight labor market, service providers sometimes struggle to help refugees into jobs that provide long-term career pathways and upward mobility.

Such challenges are compounded by the pressures and challenges of the current environment around refugee resettlement, in a context of greatly reduced refugee arrivals, strains on local resettlement organizations—many of which have ended or reduced operations—and uncertainty about which states and counties will be resettling refugees in the years ahead. Under these circumstances, two activities can be key parts of a broader strategy for sustaining and improving employment services for refugees: Partnerships with experts in workforce development strategies, and access to federal workforce development funding.

Join Migration Policy Institute (MPI) researchers and other experts on this webinar as they explore what these approaches can look like in practice. Speakers will discuss the possibilities for collaboration between refugee resettlement and mainstream workforce services, and funding streams such as Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) programs, SNAP Employment and Training funds, Pell grants, and more to help refugees find better jobs. State leaders in Michigan and Washington State will also share how they have leveraged such funding to support their refugee employment services.

Speakers:
Essey Workie, Senior Policy Analyst, Migration Policy Institute

Amanda Bergson-Shilcock, Senior Fellow, National Skills Coalition

Sarah Peterson, Chief, Office of Refugee and Immigrant Assistance, and Washington State Refugee Coordinator, Economic Services Administration,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington State Department of Social and Health Services

Karen Phillippi, Director, New American Integration, Office of Global Michigan, Department of Labor and Economic Opportunity

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Report and Event on Statelessness in the United States

2:00-4:30 p.m., Thursday, January 23, 2020
Center for Migration Studies of New York — 6th Floor
307 E 60th Street
New York, NY 10022
https://cmsny.org/event/statelessness-united-states-2020/

Description: Join the Center for Migration Studies of New York (CMS) for a presentation on its new report on statelessness in the United States.

In October 2017, CMS initiated a study to map the stateless population in the United States; that is persons living in the United States who do not have nationality in any country. It ultimately produced a report – using a unique methodology – that provides estimates and profiles of US residents who are potentially stateless or potentially at risk of statelessness.

In conjunction with the release of its report, CMS will share and discuss its findings with experts, practitioners and advocates for stateless persons. This event is free, but advance registration is required.

Speakers:
Danah Abdulaziz, Founding Member, United Stateless

David Baluarte, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and Associate Clinical Professor of Law, Washington and Lee University School of Law

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Laura Bingham, Senior Managing Legal Officer for Equality and Inclusion, Open Society Justice Initiative

Karina Clough, Founding Member, United Stateless

Lindsay Jenkins, Protection Officer, UNHCR Regional Office for the USA and the Caribbean

And the authors of the new CMS report:
Donald Kerwin, Executive Director, Center for Migration Studies

Daniela Alulema, Director of Programs, Center for Migration Studies

Mike Nicholson, Researcher, Center for Migration Studies

Robert Warren, Senior Visiting Fellow, Center for Migration Studies

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Civil society and the everyday politics of the global refugee regime: Early lessons from the Local Engagement Refugee Research Network (LERRN)

12:30-2:30 p.m., Thursday, January 23, 2020
York University
626 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto, ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-civil-society-and-the-everyday-politics-of-the-global-refugee-regime-early-lessons-from-the-local-engagement-refugee-research-network-lerrn

Speaker:
James Milner, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Carleton University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: While there is a rich literature on the politics of the global refugee regime and the politics of asylum in the global South, there has been less systematic treatment of the role of civil society actors in navigating the everyday politics of the regime, especially in the global South, which hosts 80% of the world's refugees. This gap is surprising given the literature on the role that civil society plays in other global regimes and the range of civil society actors engaged with the work of the global refugee regime. In response, the Local Engagement Refugee Research Network (LERRN) was launched in 2018 as a partnership between four Canadian universities, INGO partners, and working groups in Kenya, Tanzania, Lebanon and Jordan, which include local academics, national NGOs and refugee-led initiatives from each context. This presentation will share the early results of LERRN and its work to understand the everyday politics of the global refugee regime.

Return to Top

****

****

7.

Webinar: Inroads to Entrepreneurship: Local strategies to support immigrant business and local prosperity

1:00 p.m. EST, Thursday, January 23, 2020
Cities of Migration
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/webinar-inroads-to-entrepreneurship-local-strategies-to-support-immigrant-business-and-local-registration-83328721449

Speakers:
Janet Moser, Managing Director, Immigration Services, Ignite Fredericton (Fredericton, News Brunswick, Canada)

As Managing Director of Immigration Services Janet brings over 30 years of professional experience. From business owner, to career councillor for local post secondary colleges Janet is a professional who strives for excellence of those she is working with and for. Along with her years of experience Janet is a connector, negotiator, liaison and advocate working between government and private industry involving the development and startup success of immigrant investors in Fredericton and across New Brunswick. Janet has been involved in the creation and management of immigrant entreprenurial settlement programming for the past ten years. Most recently she transitioned into an exciting new role to oversee the build of Fredericton's five-year innovative immigration and population growth strategy as well as the leading the Local Immigration Partnership.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Reem Ali, Community Development Worker, New Canadians Centre Peterborough (Peterborough, Ontario, Canada)

Reem is the Community Development Worker, leading projects at the New Canadians Centre that focus on the economic and social empowerment of newcomers. She also coordinates working groups under the Peterborough Immigration Partnership that focus on refugee and immigrant integration.

Reem has an MSc in Biochemistry from McMaster University and an MPA from Carleton University. She started her career in life sciences as a Researcher and Lecturer at Trent University. Her passion for international development led her to Egypt, where she spent 6 years specializing in the field of child rights and working with local and international organizations, most notably CIDA, UNICEF, and the Drosos Foundation. She continues to teach at Trent University in the International Development Studies department.

In 2018, Reem was a recipient of the Greater Peterborough Chamber of Commerce's '4 Under 40' award. The '4 Under 40' awards are designed to recognize four individuals in our community who are under the age of 40 and who are making their mark in the Peterborough area. Reem was also a recipient of the inaugural Peterborough-Kawartha Women's Leadership Awards in October 2018.

Description: With retirement rates outpacing workforce growth in communities across regional and rural Canada, smaller cities and towns are looking for new ways to bolster the local economy. For many, that means investing in strategies for the reception and integration of immigrant entrepreneurs. Whether running a small business or investing in a new start-up, entrepreneurship has always been a route for immigrants to establish and sustain themselves in new communities. Research suggests that local communities that are willing to invest in entrepreneurism are investing in strategies that will advance innovation and spur creativity for the benefit of all residents (Kao et al. 2002).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigrants face the same challenges in starting a new business as entrepreneurs anywhere. Additional roadblocks can include language, limited knowledge of local markets, regulatory issues, access to credit or vital business networks. What can smaller cities do to support aspiring immigrant entrepreneurs and ensure they lay down the roots for a successful business and new life in the community?

Join us online to learn how the cities of Fredericton (NB) and Peterborough (ON) are providing inroads to entrepreneurism and economic inclusion for newcomers.

Learn about Good Ideas:

* In Fredericton, New Brunswick (CA): The innovative Business Immigrant Mentorship was launched in 2009 by the Fredericton Chamber of Commerce, and became a launching pad for a City led business incubator and centre that supports immigrant entrepreneurs from networking to training to advocacy, including Planet Hatch and Ignite Fredericton

* In Peterborough, Ontario (CA): the Newcomer Kitchen Peterborough focuses on empowering newcomer women through cooking, learning workplace English and entrepreneurial skills.

The Immigrant Futures project explores new perspectives on the challenges and opportunities of immigration in Canada's small cities, towns and regions. The Immigrant Futures webinar series is presented in partnership with Hire Immigrants-Magnet, Hamilton Economic Development, the City of Moncton, The Halifax Partnership and the Leeds Grenville Local Immigration Partnership; with support from Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC).

Return to Top

****

****

8.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2020 EB-5 and Uglobal Immigration Expo

Friday-Saturday, January 24-25, 2020
Radisson Blu Hotel, Dubai Waterfront
Dubai, United Arab Emirates
https://www.eb5investors.com/conferences/2020-eb5-dubai

Description: In light of Dubai becoming a magnet for foreign high net worth individuals with more than 8,600 multi-millionaires, EB5 Investors Magazine is excited to host the 2020 EB-5 Expo Dubai on Jan. 24-25. We are proudly presenting you with a gathering of industry leaders, who will share their insight and expertise during two days of educational, interactive panels about United States' EB-5 immigrant investor program and other global migration programs.

Join us to network with EB-5 regional centers, law firms, service providers, migration agencies and potential investors.

Why Attend This Event?

Ultra-high net worth individuals are forecasted to grow more than 20% in the Middle East region in the upcoming five years.

More than one quarter of all UHNWIs in the Middle East are considering to permanently emigrate to another country.

UAE ranks among the top 5 countries in the world with the highest number of millionaire inflows in 2018 and half of them have settled in Dubai.

UAE continues to be a hub with more than 8 million expats and global migrants.

Dubai has emerged as the world's fifth most important hub for wealthy individuals.

More than 60 percent of the second-passport UHNWIs candidates are from the MENA region.

Who Will Attend This Event?

Learn and network in an exclusive, cross-cultural setting among the world's key players in the global immigration investment market.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

HNWIs
Foreign Intermediaries & Wealth Managers
Migration Agents
Real Estate Developers
Immigration Attorneys
EB-5 Regional Centers
Service Providers

Return to Top

****
****

9.
CRS Seminar: Refugee Dignity in Protracted Exile: Rights, Capabilities and Legal Empowerment

2:30-4:00 p.m., Tuesday, January 28, 2020
626 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
York University
Toronto ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-crs-affiliated-scholars

Speaker: Anna Purkey, lawyer, Senior Research Associate and Summer Course Director at CRS

Description: This presentation will focus on Dr. Purkey's book by the same title (Routledge, December 2019). The world today faces the prospect of larger and more protracted refugee situations than at any time in recent history. The challenge this presents requires a re-examination of the relationship of responsibility and obligation between refugees, aid providers and host states. The research presented here investigates the role that legal empowerment can play in changing the distribution of power in refugee situations and in helping to secure effective human rights and the inherent dignity of refugees in situations of protracted exile and encampment. Applying an original interdisciplinary theoretical framework that combines the capabilities approach with the fiduciary theory of public legal authority, this talk will touch upon questions relating to law, power, governance, responsibility, and accountability in refugee camps.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Anna Purkey is a lawyer, Senior Research Associate and Summer Course Director at CRS. Her research focuses on international refugee law and international human rights law with a special emphasis on protracted refugee situations and themes of human capabilities, legal empowerment, human dignity, governance, and transitional justice.

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Threats from Within: The Rise of the Immigration Police State

6:30–8:00 p.m., Wednesday, January 29, 2020
Brooklyn Historical Society
128 Pierrepont St
Brooklyn, NY 11201
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/threats-from-within-the-rise-of-the-immigration-police-state-tickets-86726468201

Description: With White Nationalism on the rise, increased militarization of the border, and inhumane practices justified by "America First," our land of opportunity is now the land of nightmares for immigrants seeking a better life.

Elizabeth F. Cohen, professor of political science at Syracuse University, confronts this new normal in her book Illegal: How America's Lawless Immigration Regime Threatens Us All and shows how the rising tide of nationalism and unfettered policing of immigrants threaten citizen and non-citizen alike.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

11.

Emigrant Political Rights in Latin America: A configurational analysis approach

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 3, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Speaker:
Leydy Diossa-Jimenez
Visiting Graduate Student, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
PhD Candidate, UC Los Angeles

Return to Top

****
****

12.

Open Borders, Local Closures: Municipal Curfews and the Lebanese Response to the Syrian Refugee Influx

The Myron Weiner Seminar Series on International Migration

12:30-2:00 p.m., Tuesday, February 4, 2020
Building 9, 451
105 Massachusetts Ave.
Cambridge, MA 02139
Center for International Studies, Room E40-496
http://calendar.mit.edu/event/OpenBordersLocalClosures#.XiYdoG5Fyyc

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: With the largest refugee population per capita in the world, Lebanon now hosts at least 1.1 million refugees alongside a local population of approximately four million. Up until late 2014, the Lebanese government maintained what has been called a policy of “no policy”: maintaining de facto open borders, little regulation of Syrians within its territory and refusing to build any formal camps to house the population. In light of this apparent state absence, municipalities emerged as the "frontline" actors in the governance of Syrians on Lebanese territory. Most prominently, municipalities across the country adopted restrictive curfews targeting Syrians.

This talk will explore her paper which seeks to explain why certain municipalities adopted curfews, while others did not? Drawing on evidence from an original dataset of spatial, demographic, electoral, and budgetary data on over 1000 Lebanese municipalities and 120 interviews and ethnographic evidence from a year of fieldwork, she finds that the variation in the implementation of municipal curfews targeting Syrians is explained not by factors related to the presence of Syrians themselves, such as demographic pressure and inter-ethnic dynamics, but rather by local electoral competition and the the spill-over effect of this competition on neighbouring areas. Contrary to much of the expectations in the literature on host-refugee dynamics and ethnic politics, she argues that local responses are driven primarily by local leaders’ need to project a sense of order to residents. In areas where neighbouring towns and villages have recourse to discriminatory curfews, mayors and municipal leaders faced greater pressure to act, and curfews present a relatively low cost policy mechanism through which to alleviate fears and project authority.

Speaker:
Lama Mourad, postdoctoral fellow at Perry World House, University of Pennsylvania, and a SSHRC-postdoctoral fellow at Harvard University and University of Pennsylvania.

Lama received her PhD from the Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto. In 2018-2019, she was a pre-doctoral fellow with the Middle East Initiative at Harvard Kennedy School of Government's Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs. She specializes in comparative politics and the politics of migration, with a regional focus on the Middle East

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

13.

Beyond the 1951 Convention: What are State responsibilities towards refugees according to the 1967 Protocol

12:30-2:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 4, 2020
York University
519 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
York University
Toronto ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-tbc-2

Speaker:
Robert Barsky, Canada Research Chair: Law, Narrative and Border Crossing, Department of Law and Legal Studies, Carleton University

Description: Prof. Barsky will discuss the letters, minutes of meetings, memos, and reports that pertain to the negotiations leading up to the 1967 Protocol. These documents show that the ambitions of the 19 legal experts who convened in Bellagio in 1965 were far more wide-ranging than simply removing the temporal (pre-1951) and geographical (Europe) limitations of the 1951 Convention. Rather, the documents reveal complex discussions about how to create a stand-alone treaty that would expand the Convention's reach and render it more adaptable to new refugee situations, while not impeding any more expansive regional instruments that might come to be adopted.

Return to Top

****

****

14.

Discrimination and Delegation: Explaining State Responses to Refugees

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, February 14, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14186

Speaker:
Lamis Abdelaaty, Assistant Professor, Political Science, Syracuse University

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the "discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the "delegation puzzle"). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

Return to Top

****
****

15.
World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges

Monday-Friday, February 17-21, 2020
Radisson San José
Calle Central y Tercera Av. 15
San José, Costa Rica

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://10times.com/conferenciamundial-iarmj

Description: The World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges is themed as A New World on the Move: The Realities of Irregular Mass Migration and the Challenges Facing Asylum and Immigration Judges Background and it is indeed a great opportunity for the Americas Chapter of the IARMJ to focus on the increase of mixed flows of people who cross international borders, whether forced to seek international protection or migrants with other characteristics and profiles.

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Southeastern Immigration Studies Association Conference

Current Trends in Immigration Research and Activism

Thursday-Saturday, February 20-22, 2020
The Citadel
Charleston, SC
https://sites.google.com/view/southeasternimmigrationstudies

[Conference details are still pending.]

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer---Kang-2-24-20.pdf

Speakers:
S. Deborah Kang, Visiting Scholar, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Associate Professor of History, California State University San Marcos

Description: During the Great Depression, states and localities expelled nearly a half-million ethnic Mexicans from the United States. Yet, in the midst of these removals, the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) launched an initiative to reform the hardships surrounding federal deportation policy. In the process, it expanded the legal architecture by which undocumented Europeans could be legalized. Drawing upon a chapter from her second book project, Undocumented Immigration and Immigration Legalization in the United States, 1906-1986, Kang will describe a legalization program created for Russian immigrants and its implications for the development of US refugee and immigration policies.

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Indignity and Indignation: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
Lower Level Library
35 Quincy Street

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/speaker-series-sarah-willen-professor-anthropology-and-director-research-program-global

Speaker:
Sarah Willen, Professor of Anthropology and Director of the Research Program on Global Health and Human Rights, University of Connecticut

Description: Sarah Willen is the author of Fighting for Dignity: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins. In Fighting for Dignity, Sarah S. Willen explores what happened when the Israeli government launched an aggressive deportation campaign targeting newly arrived migrants from countries as varied as Ghana and the Philippines, Nigeria, Colombia, and Ukraine. Although the campaign was billed as a solution to high unemployment, it had another goal as well: to promote an exclusionary vision of Israel as a Jewish state in which non-Jews have no place. The deportation campaign quickly devastated Tel Aviv's migrant communities and set the stage for even more aggressive antimigrant and antirefugee policies in the years to come.

Fighting for Dignity traces the roots of this deportation campaign in Israeli history and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and shows how policies that illegalize and criminalize migrants wreak havoc in their lives, endanger their health, and curtail the human capacity to flourish. Children born to migrant parents are especially vulnerable to developmental and psychosocial risks. Drawing on nearly two decades of ethnographic engagement in homes and in churches, medical offices, advocacy organizations, and public spaces, Willen shows how migrants struggle to craft meaningful, flourishing lives despite the exclusions and vulnerabilities they endure. To complement their perspectives, she introduces Israeli activists who reject their government's exclusionary agenda and strive to build bridges across difference, repair violations of migrants' dignity, and resist policies that violate their own moral convictions. Willen's vivid and unflinching ethnography challenges us to reconsider our understandings of global migration, human rights, the Middle East— and even dignity itself.

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

19.

Conference on the Venezuela Refugee Crisis

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-3:00 p.m., Friday, February 28, 2020
Haines Hall 352
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14189

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the "discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the "delegation puzzle"). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

20.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-703 - Newcomers to Citizens: Immigrant Integration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Wednesday, March 2-4, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=14536

Course Description: With a record 200 million people living outside their country of birth, immigration is a global phenomenon with profound demographic, economic, social, and political implications for both sending and receiving countries. The debate over immigration law and policy has become increasingly volatile and, in some instances, characterized by misinformation, hate, and xenophobia. Beyond the politics of immigration, genuine challenges to immigrant integration abound. Successful integration of immigrants is critical to the long-term prosperity of host countries that rely on immigrants as workers, consumers, taxpayers, innovators, and entrepreneurs in light of their aging native-born populations and lower birth rates. In this course we will explore integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving countries--such as the United States and Canada and new countries of permanent immigration such as France, Germany, the United Kingdom. We will raise questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity. We will also discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism, paradigms that challenge an integrationist reading of migration. Using case studies from North America and Europe we will pay special attention to the different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation on their road from newcomers to citizens.

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Discuss the integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving and source countries.
* Recognize questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity.
* Discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism.
* Compare different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation.

Instructor: Jennifer Wistrand

Notes: This course is an open enrollment course. No application is required and registration is available by clicking "Add to Cart." Current students must register with their Georgetown NetID and password. New students will be prompted to create an account prior to registration.

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Border Security Expo

Wednesday-Thursday, March 11-12, 2020
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center
900 E Market Street
San Antonio, TX 78205
https://www.bordersecurityexpo.com/

Conference agenda:

Keynotes:
Ronald D. Vitiello, Deputy Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Vice Admiral Scott Buschman, Director, Joint Task Force-East

Scott A. Luck, Deputy Chief, U.S. Border Patrol

John P. Sanders, Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Panels:

National Vetting Center: What is It? What isn't It? And How Will It Change the Way We Protect the Homeland?

This session will focus on the National Vetting Center (NVC) and how it will complement the National Targeting Center (NTC). Experts from the NVC, NTC, as well as other members of the Intelligence Community, will discuss why the NVC is critical to the Homeland and next steps. The NVC will be operational at the time of the Expo, enabling the audience and panels to discuss the implementation.

Mass Migration and Unaccompanied Children: Financial and National Security Impacts

This panel will be comprised of experts from ICE Homeland Security Investigations assigned to the U.S., Mexico, and Central America. The panel will discuss the financial impact on the U.S., Mexico, and Central American countries in addressing the issues related mass migration and unaccompanied children attempting to enter the U.S. The panel will discuss human trafficking, organized human smuggling organizations, and national security issues relating to mass migration and unaccompanied children. The panel will provide publicly releasable information relating to "The Caravan" that reached the U.S./Border in November 2018.

Border: Wall – Ports – System(s) – Technology – Infrastructure – Integration – Modernization

Panel will discuss the immediate, near term, and out-year capability requirements, goals, and vision for border operations including infrastructure updates; technology needs, requirements, and planning; initiatives; modernization; and deployments.

Model Port: How Technology, Public-Private Partnerships, and Innovation Will Continue to Change the Way Ports-of-Entry Operate

This panel will be comprised of experts from the federal/local governments and industry. It will highlight what will take place at the POE in Donna, Texas and why it is important to the country's national and economic security. Technology will play a key role in defining the Model Port. A representative from the City of Donna will explain why this investment is important to the local community. CBP Headquarters staff will address the Donation Assistance Program and why it is necessary to make the Model Port a reality.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A Dialogue with Tenoch Moreno, General Customs Administration, Mexico: Current Operations and Future Thoughts

Procurement: Keeping Industry Current in the Complex Area of Government Procurement and the Mission Needs of Border Operators

This is a must-attend session for those who plan to compete for government contracts. Rules and regulations change frequently, and new requirements are placed on industry. Industry must have a clear understanding of the mission needs of the border operators. Government and industry experts will discuss best practices and explain how to best leverage the many opportunities that support the daily mission of CBP and other agencies. Government panelists will include Senior Executives from CBP procurement and the new office of Operations Support.

Complete conference agenda will be available at end of December.

Return to Top

****

****

22.

Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Author Meets Critics Event: Refuge Beyond Reach

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14188

Speaker:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: In Refuge beyond Reach, David Scott FitzGerald traces how rich democracies have deliberately and systematically shut down most legal paths to safety. Drawing on official government documents, information obtained via WikiLeaks, and interviews with asylum seekers, he finds that for ninety-nine percent of refugees, the only way to find safety in one of the prosperous democracies of the Global North is to reach its territory and then ask for asylum. FitzGerald shows how the US, Canada, Europe, and Australia comply with the letter of law while violating the spirit of those laws through a range of deterrence methods -- first designed to keep out Jews fleeing the Nazis -- that have now evolved into a pervasive global system of "remote control." While some of the most draconian remote control practices continue in secret, Fitzgerald identifies some pressure points and finds that a diffuse humanitarian obligation to help those in need is more difficult for governments to evade than the law alone.

Return to Top

****

****

24.

The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE
Washington, DC 20002
http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

[Conference agenda has not yet been announced]

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in 2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

for national and international politics

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

26.
Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

Speaker:
Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the University of London

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through 'golden doors'. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

Return to Top

****
****

27.
The Issue of Immigration in America: Moving Beyond Walls and Open Borders

4:30–6:00 p.m., Friday, April 24, 2020
Heinz College – Hamburg Hall A301
Carnegie Mellon University
5000 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890
https://www.heinz.cmu.edu/events/the-issue-of-immigration-in-america

Description: In the United States, the issue of immigration gives rise to controversy and conflict. This issue requires us to wrestle with challenging questions about many things, including:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Who should be admitted to the US as an immigrant (family members, skilled workers, etc.)?

How many people should the US admit as immigrants (should we increase, decrease or keep current levels)?

What rules should guide the immigration process (and how should these rules be enforced)?

How should we address the problems (social, political, and economic) that cause people to migrate from their home countries?

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56,
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, January 21, 2020 11:31 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 1/21/20

What's Happening at the Center

In his New York Times piece, Jerry Kammer makes the liberal case for restricting immigration. He explains that when immigration is poorly managed, as it is right now, it causes social division and harms the most vulnerable. Like capitalism itself, it should be regulated in the national interest, not shaped to serve the free-market libertarianism of the right or the post-national humanitarianism of the left. Kammer traces the shift on the left over the years from a commitment to the rule of law and limits on immigration to an anti-borders position, justified under the banner of inclusiveness, equality, human rights, racial reconciliation and reparations for American interventions in the third world. But unfortunately, like factions on the right, tribal passions have warped the judgment of many on the left.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Featured Posts

Federal Judge Blocks Refugee Resettlement Executive Order

By Andrew R. Arthur

Judge Peter J. Messitte of the U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland issued an order granting a preliminary injunction against the Departments of State, Health and Human Services, and Homeland Security that prevents them from enforcing Executive Order 13888 and the FY 2020 Notice of Funding Opportunity for Reception and Placement Program. That order, and the opinion that accompanies it, raises the question: When is a consultation not a consultation? Answer: when a federal judge says so.

Marginal School, Blackballed by Other Colleges, Can't Accept F-1 Students

By David North

The DHS agency regulating schools for foreign students does not require that such schools be credentialed by an entity recognized by the U.S. Department of Education. That's a jaw-dropping statement, but is par for the course with the Student and Exchange Visitor Program, perhaps the most lax of the immigration enforcement agencies despite its being run by Immigration and Customs Enforcement

U.S.-Bound Migrants Gambling on Trump Defeat in November

By Todd Bensman

Honduran Katherine Cabrera is among thousands of migrants who didn't expect to get bottled up in this southern Mexican city, unable to proceed to the American border as planned, because of President

The First Caravan of 2020 Moves Towards Mexico

By Jason Pena

Guatemalan authorities, accompanied by Immigration and Customs and Enforcement (ICE) agents, dispersed a group of 300 migrants traveling with a caravan from Honduras. The

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Donald Trump's insistence that Mexico block them with troop deployments and whatever else the Mexicans could come up with.

migrants were returned to the border of Honduras by bus, putting an end to their journey to the United States.

More Blog Posts

- Migrant Caravan Bound for U.S.
- The Migration Problems of Harry and Meghan
- Trump Win in Decision on Family Separations
- The Implications of the Non-Delegation Doctrine for Immigration Control and Enforcement
- Mexican Authorities Arrest Over 700 Migrants in Four Days
- Clueless in the House
- Is There 100 Miles of New Border Wall, or Not?
- Wall Street Journal Article Proves My Point on 'Tent Courts'
- Analyzing Asylum Court Appearances: Falling Off the TRAC Again
- Did 98.7 Percent of Non-Detained Asylum Seekers Really Attend All of Their Asylum Hearings?
- Fifth Circuit Clears Trump Wall Construction

Video:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dr. Steven Camarota emphasizes the impact on the 25-30 metro areas which will be receiving most of the 75 million immigrants who will be arriving by 2060 absent change in immigration policy.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Kay Coles James

From:	Kay Coles James
Sent:	Wednesday, January 22, 2020 7:51 AM
To:	Law, Robert T
Subject:	You're Invited

Law,

The Heritage Foundation has been the True North for conservative policy since 1973. With you by our side, we can keep being America's guiding light for many years to come.

It's a crucial time for our nation. The left is relentless in pursuing its radical policy agenda. They want to destroy the Electoral College, give illegal aliens the same voting rights that you have, and trade America's founding principles for European socialism—which will create more dependence upon the government and will limit your freedoms. We need to stand up for what we believe, and we have to do it now!

With your support, Heritage can produce research and policy analysis that offers real solutions to America's problems. The ideas that win arguments, change minds, and shape history are forged here.

Through the support of our members, we can provide lawmakers representing you in Congress with conservative solutions that create more individual liberty and freedom. But we won't have the resources we need in this critical year if you aren't a member.

Use this secure link to activate your membership now: https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

Thank you for being a Heritage member.

All the best,

Kay C. James
President

P.S. You can't afford to sit this year out. Become a member of The Heritage Foundation today: https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

The Heritage Foundation

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(b)(6)

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted] If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Referred to U.S. Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, January 23, 2020 1:13 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Birth Tourism: Facts and Recommendations

Share Tweet Forward

Birth Tourism: Facts and Recommendations

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By CIS on January 23, 2020

The State Department has announced new rules to address birth tourism, which is the controversial practice of entering the United States to give birth so that the child will acquire U.S. citizenship. The prevailing interpretation of the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution granting nearly all those born here U.S. citizenship (and the ability to pass it on to their children and to sponsor relatives for green cards) has become a magnet and spawned a lucrative birth tourism industry, attracting families from all over the world. This industry has grown largely without debate in Congress or the consent of the public.

Facts on birth tourism:

- CIS estimates that birth tourism results in 33,000 births to women on tourist visas annually. We estimate that hundreds of thousands more are born to mothers who are illegal aliens or present on temporary visas.
- These births produce instant citizenship for the infant, which can lead, 21 years later, to the migration of the parents, with neither event being controlled by the numerical limits that manage most international migration.
- Some travelers misrepresent the purpose of their trip to avoid scrutiny. Passport and visa fraud are felonies and the first offense can result in a fine and/or imprisonment up to 10 years. See "False Statement in Application and Use of Passport" (18 U.S.C. § 1542), a number of other statutes may also be applicable.
- Tourists who come to the United States to give birth and receive taxpayer-funded public assistance to cover the associated costs of their births or have the expenses waived by a hospital do not have to pay back any of the funds in order to get a future tourist visa.
- Of advanced economies, Canada and the United States are the only countries that grant automatic citizenship to children born to non-citizens who are not legally resident aliens.
- A U.S. passport is an extremely useful and coveted document for terrorists, spies, and criminals, giving them ready access to virtually any country on earth where they may elect to set up operations. Such groups have recruited U.S. passport holders raised abroad.
- Birth tourism to the United States is practiced by people from around the globe, especially including citizens of China, Taiwan, Korea, Nigeria, Turkey, Russia, Brazil, and Mexico.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Chinese citizens do not require a visa to visit certain U.S. territories, such as the Commonwealth of the Northern Marianas Islands. The birth tourism industry is rampant there, with more annual births to Chinese visitors than native residents.
- Some legal scholars argue that the 14th Amendment Citizenship Clause was never intended to benefit the children of illegal aliens or legal foreign visitors temporarily present in the United States.
- The U.S. Supreme Court has held that the U.S.-born children of permanent resident aliens are covered by the Citizenship Clause, but the Court has never decided whether the same rule applies to the children of aliens whose presence in the United States is temporary or illegal.
- Some eminent scholars and jurists have concluded that it is within the power of Congress to define the scope of the Citizenship Clause through legislation and that birthright citizenship for the children of temporary visitors and illegal aliens could likely be abolished by statute without amending the Constitution.

The rules published today by the State Department on the issuance of visas in the "B" nonimmigrant classification for temporary visitors for pleasure are an appropriate response to the thousands of births resulting from fraud and the resulting benefits of citizenship that these children and their families receive. The rules state:

> Travel to the United States with the primary purpose of obtaining U.S. citizenship for a child by giving birth in the United States is an impermissible basis for the issuance of a B nonimmigrant visa. Consequently, a consular officer shall deny a B nonimmigrant visa to an alien who he or she has reason to believe intends to travel for this primary purpose.

This is a great first step, but more can be done.

Recommendations:

1. Passport issuance data must be examined to better document the frequency of birth tourism, the citizenship of those who do it, and other trends and characteristics of participants.
2. Hospitals where this is occurring should be identified, and a means to prevent parents from skipping out on payment for birth services must be found.
3. The State Department should revoke or decline to renew visas of those who have abused visa rules in connection with birth tourism, and it must be made clear that perpetrators will be fined and/or jailed under 18 U.S.C. § 1001 and other statutes.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4. A legal case needs to be instigated that will proceed through the courts and clarify the meaning of the 14th Amendment in a modern context. The Supreme Court has never ruled on the question of whether children born to tourists are to be considered U.S. citizens at birth.

Related Articles:

Video: Mark Krikorian Discusses Birth Tourism
There May Be 33,000 Birth Tourists Annually
DHS Files many Indictments in an Attack on Birth Tourism
Birthright Citizenship Overview
Birth Tourism, Belts, and Braces
Birth Tourists Come from Around the Globe

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, January 23, 2020 7:29 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 1/23/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Reading, 1/23/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. State Department Visa Bulletin - February 2020
2. USCIS report on active DACA recipients
3. Congressional Budget Office report on the economic impact of the foreign-born population
4. CRS reports on border barrier construction, DHS component funding, power to exclude aliens, other
5. GAO report on DHS employee morale survey
6. House testimony on DHS efforts to prevent child deaths in custody
7. House testimony on low employee morale at the DHS
8. House testimony on strengthening security and the rule of law in Mexico
9. Canada: Studies on the conditions of immigrants and non-permanent residents
10. Finland: Population statistics
11. Germany: Population statistics
12. N.Z.: Migration statistics

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

13. SCOTUSblog report on the government's appeal for relief on immigration rule
14. Rasmussen Reports weekly immigration indices
15. Analysis of FY2018 legal immigration statistics
16. TRAC reports on immigration court backlog and variances in asylum case decisions
17. Two new working papers from the National Bureau of Economic Research
18. Four new reports and features from the Migration Policy Institute
19. Eight new discussion papers from the Institute for the Study of Labor
20. Seven new papers from the Social Science Research Network
21. Eighteen new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
22. CATO report on immigrant and native consumption of means-tested welfare and entitlement benefits
23. "Ethical considerations in providing psychological services to unaccompanied immigrant children"
24. "How Interior Immigration Enforcement Affects Trust in Law Enforcement"
25. U.K.: Three new reports from the Oxford Refugee Studies Centre
26. "Will Skill-Based Immigration Policies Lead to Lower Remittances?"
27. "How migration policies moderate the diffusion of terrorism"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

28. Journal report on integrating the immigrant population into the city of Madrid
29. World Bank reports on migration in Libya and migration and remittances in the former Soviet Union countries of Central Asia and the South Caucasus

BOOKS

30. Migration, Identity, and Belonging: Defining Borders and Boundaries of the Homeland
31. Law and Asylum: Space, Subject, Resistance
32. Refugee Dignity in Protracted Exile: Rights, Capabilities and Legal Empowerment
33. Making Hate Pay: The Corruption of the Southern Poverty Law Center
34. The Age of Migration, Sixth Edition: International Population Movements in the Modern World
35. Documenting Americans: A Political History of National ID Card Proposals in the United States
36. Against Borders: Why the World Needs Free Movement of People
37. Citizenship and Belonging in France and North America: Multicultural Perspectives on Political, Cultural and Artistic Representations of Immigration

JOURNALS

38. Comparative Migration Studies
39. Rural Migration News
40. The Centre on Migration, Policy, and Society (COMPAS)

1.
Visa Bulletin For February 2020
Vol. X, No. 38
. . .
https://travel.state.gov/content/dam/visas/Bulletins/visabulletin_february2020.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

2.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Approximate Active DACA Recipients - September 30, 2019
U.S. Citizen and Immigration Service, January 14, 2019
Contains the number of people with a Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) expiration date on or after Sepember 30, 2019, by the month and year that their current DACA status expires. The report also contains the number of pending DACA renewal applications for DACA recipients by the month/year that their current DACA expires. People who have obtained Lawful Permanent Resident status or U.S. citizenship are excluded. Contains information on requests for Consideration of Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) through Sep. 30, 2019. The cumulative number of requests accepted for processing, biometrics appointments scheduled, requests ready for review and requests completed to-date are displayed.
. . .
https://www.uscis.gov/sites/default/files/USCIS/Resources/Reports%20and%20Studies/Immigration%20Forms%20Data/All%20Form%20Types/DACA/DACA_Population_Receipts_since_Injunction_Sep_30_2019.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

3.
The Foreign-Born Population and Its Effects on the U.S. Economy and the Federal Budget — An Overview
Congressional Budget Office, January 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.cbo.gov/system/files/2020-01/55967-CBO-immigration.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

4.
New from the Congressional Research Service

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Funding U.S.-Mexico Border Barrier Construction: Current Issues
Updated January 3, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/IN11193.pdf

Comparing DHS Component Funding, FY2020: In Brief
Updated January 3, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R45972.pdf

The Power of Congress and the Executive to Exclude Aliens: Constitutional Principles
December 30, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R46142.pdf

Legal Authority to Repurpose Funds for Border Barrier Construction
Updated December 30, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R45908.pdf

Do Warrantless Searches of Electronic Devices at the Border Violate the Fourth Amendment?
CRS Legal Sidebar, December 20, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/LSB10387.pdf

Immigration Enforcement & the Anti-Commandeering Doctrine: Recent Litigation on State Information-Sharing Restrictions
CRS Legal Sidebar, December 18, 2019
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/LSB10386.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

5.
New from the General Accountability Office

Department of Homeland Security: Employee Morale Survey Scores Highlight Progress and Continued Challenges
Statement of Christopher P Currie, Director, Homeland Security & Justice,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Homeland Security and Justice
GAO-20-349T, January 14, 2020
Report: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/703845.pdf
Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/products/GAO-20-36

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Tuesday, January 14, 2020
House Committee on Homeland Security
Subcommittee on Border Security, Facilitation, & Operations
https://homeland.house.gov/assessing-the-adequacy-of-dhs-efforts-to-prevent-child-deaths-in-custody

Assessing the Adequacy of DHS Efforts to Prevent Child Deaths in Custody

Opening Statements:
Subcommittee Chairwoman Kathleen Rice
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/011420%20Rice%20BSFO%20Opening%20Statement.pdf

Committee Chairman Bennie Thompson
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/011420%20BGT%20BSFO%20Opening%20Statement.pdf

Witness testimony:

Brian Hastings, Chief, Law Enforcement Operations, U.S. Border Patrol, U.S. Customs and Border Protection, U.S. Department of Homeland Security
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Hastings.pdf

Alex Eastman, MD, MPH, FACS, FAEMS, Senior Medical Officer - Operations, Countering Weapons of Mass Destruction Office, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-%20Eastman.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Tuesday, January 14, 2020
House Committee on Homeland Security
Subcommittee on Oversight, Management, & Accountability
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/seventeen-years-later_why-is-morale-at-dhs-still-low

Seventeen Years Later: Why is Morale at DHS Still Low

Opening Statements:
Subcommittee Chairwoman Xochitl Torres Small
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/011420%20XTS%20Opening%20Statement.pdf

Committee Chairman Bennie Thompson
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/011420%20OMA%20BGT%20Opening%20Statement.pdf

Witness testimony:

Angela Bailey, Chief Human Capital Officer, U.S. Department of Homeland Security
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Bailey.pdf

Chris Currie, Director, Homeland Security and Justice Team, U.S. Government Accountability Office
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Currie3.pdf

Max Stier, President and CEO, Partnership for Public Service
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Stier%20(Revised).pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Wednesday, January 15, 2020
House Committee on Foreign Affairs
Subcommittee on Western Hemisphere, Civilian Security, and Trade
https://foreignaffairs.house.gov/hearings?ID=2B0107B2-E7EC-4095-A010-31994B3D0D6F

Strengthening Security and the Rule of Law in Mexico

Witness testimony: [See video of hearing]
David Shirk, Professor of Political Science, University of San Diego

Maureen Meyer, Director for Mexico and Migrant Rights, Washington Office on Latin America

Richard G. Miles, Senior Associate (Non-resident), Americas Program, Center for Strategic & International Studies

Hearing video: https://foreignaffairs.house.gov/hearings?ID=2B0107B2-E7EC-4095-A010-31994B3D0D6F

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Update of the Longitudinal Immigration Database coverage
Statistics Canada, January 21, 2020
. . .
https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/en/daily-quotidien/200121/dq200121e-eng.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Changes in outcomes of immigrants and non-permanent residents, subprovincial results
January 13, 2020
. . .
https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/en/daily-quotidien/200113/dq200113d-eng.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Preliminary population statistics
Decrease in birth rate still continues Statistics Finland, January 23, 2020
. . .
https://www.stat.fi/til/vamuu/2019/12/vamuu_2019_12_2020-01-23_en.pdf

Summary: According to Statistics Finland's preliminary data, Finland's population at the end of the year was 5,527,573. During 2019 Finland's population increased by 7,568 persons. The reason for thepopulationincreasewasmigrationgainfromabro ad:thenumberofimmigrantswas17,903 higher than that of emigrants. The number of births was 7,962 lower than that of deaths. The preliminary total fertility rate was the lowest in the measuring history, 1.35.
. . .
Altogether 32,428 persons immigrated to Finland from abroad and 14,525 persons emigrated from Finland during 2018. The number of immigrants was 1,322 higher and the number of emigrants 4,616 lower than in the previousyear. In all, 8,564 of the immigrants and 9,865 of the emigrants were Finnish citizens.

Return to Top

****
****

11.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Population growth in 2019 expected to be lowest since 2012
Number of inhabitants in Germany increased by roughly 200,000 compared with 2018
Statistics Germany, January 17, 2020
. . .
https://www.destatis.de/EN/Press/2020/01/PE20_022_12411.html

Summary: According to first estimates of the Federal Statistical Office (Destatis), approximately 200,000 more people were living in Germany at the end of 2019 than a year earlier. Standing at 83.2 million, the country's population reached another record high. However, the population growth was much smaller than in the years 2013 to 2018. A similarly weak growth was last recorded in 2012. Since the time Germany was reunited nearly three decades ago, the country's population has mainly been growing; exceptions were the years 1998 and 2003 to 2010. This population growth has exclusively been due to net immigration. Without the migration surplus, the population would have fallen since 1972 because more people died than were born in each year ever since.

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Net migration high but down from peak
Statistics New Zealand, January 22, 2020
. . .
https://www.stats.govt.nz/news/net-migration-high-but-down-from-peak

Summary: Today's release of updated migration estimates indicates New Zealand's annual net migration for the year ended May 2019 was 46,100 (± 800), Stats NZ said today. This is down 9,400 from the estimate released in December 2019 due to improved linking.
. . .
Fewer migrant arrivals for year ended May 2019 in latest estimates

In the year ended May 2019, there were provisionally 135,600 migrant arrivals, down 6,100 from the year ended May 2018 and down 10,900 from the year ended July 2016 peak (146,600).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Migrant departures were 89,500, up 2,700 from the previous year and up 6,800 from the year ended July 2016.

Migrant arrivals and departures include the flows of New Zealand citizens as well as the flows of non-New Zealand citizens as both affect the population living in New Zealand.

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Government comes to court for relief on immigration rule
By Amy Howe
SCOTUSblog, January 13, 2020
. . .
https://www.scotusblog.com/2020/01/government-comes-to-court-for-relief-on-immigration-rule/

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Rasmussen Reports Weekly Immigration Index
January 21, 2020
https://www.rasmussenreports.com/public_content/politics/immigration_index/immigration_index_jan21

Excerpt: In an effort to control illegal immigration, 67% believe the government should mandate that all employers use the federal electronic E-Verify system to help ensure that they hire only legal workers for U.S. jobs. Only 21% disagree,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

but 12% are are not sure.

Sixty percent (60%) of voters favor giving lifetime work permits to most of the approximately two million illegal residents who came to this country when they were minors, with 35% who Strongly Favor it. Thirty-three percent (33%) oppose lifetime work permits for these illegal immigrants, but that includes just 17% who are Strongly Opposed.

Voters are closely divided, however, when it comes to the estimated 12 million illegal residents of all ages who currently reside in the United States. Forty-six percent (46%) favor giving lifetime work permits to most of these illegal immigrants, including 21% who Strongly Favor such action. Forty-seven percent (47%) are opposed with 28% who are Strongly Opposed.

+++

Rasmussen Reports Weekly Immigration Index
January 14, 2020
https://www.rasmussenreports.com/public_content/politics/immigration_index/immigration_index_jan14

Excerpt: When it comes to legal immigration, 46% say the government should be adding no more than 750,000 new immigrants each year, with 32% who say it should be fewer than 500,000. Thirty-eight percent (38%) favor adding one million or more legal newcomers per year, including 11% who say the figure should be higher than 1.5 million. Fifteen percent (15%) are undecided.

Fifty-nine percent (59%) of voters favor allowing legal immigrants to bring only their spouse and minor children with them. Just 30% support allowing them to eventually bring other adult relatives in a process that can include extended family and their spouses' families. Eleven percent (11%) are not sure.

Only 26% of voters think Congress should increase the number of foreign workers taking higher-skill U.S. jobs. Fifty-seven percent (57%) believe instead that the country already has enough talented people to train and recruit for most of those jobs. Seventeen percent (17%) are undecided.

The Census Bureau projects that current immigration policies are responsible for most U.S. population growth and will add 75 million people over the next 40 years. In terms of the effect on the overall quality of life in the United States, just 33% of voters want to continue immigration-driven population growth at the current levels. Forty-two percent (42%) favor slowing down immigration-driven population growth, while 13% want to have no such population growth at all.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Analysis of FY2018 Legal Immigration Statistics
National Foundation for American Policy Brief, January 2020
. . .
https://nfap.com/wp-content/uploads/2020/01/Analysis-of-FY-2018-Legal-Immigration-Statistics.NFAP-Policy-Brief.January-2020.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

16.
New from the Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse, Syracuse University

Cubans, Venezuelans, and Nicaraguans Increase in Immigration Court Backlog
January 21, 2020
https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/591/

Excerpt:
Still Not Enough Judges
Despite the many actions by the Trump Administration designed to stem the growth in the Immigration Court backlog, the court's backlog continues to climb. In just the three-month period from October through December 2019 the backlog has grown by 65,929 new cases. The court ended December 2019 with

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1,089,696[1] in its active backlog[2]. Three months earlier at the end of FY 2019 (September 2019) the active backlog stood at 1,023,767.

During the first three months of FY 2020 (October 2019 - December 2019), the pace of court case completions is up compared to the same period from the previous year (October 2018 - December 2018). This should not be surprising. The court hired 92 new judges during FY 2019 and, unlike last year at this time, the court isn't stymied by the partial government shutdown. But the flow of new cases continues to outpace completions.

Asylum Decisions Vary Widely Across Judges and Courts - Latest Results
January 13, 2020
https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/590/

Excerpt: Twelve immigration courts accumulated denial rates above 90%. This included Jena, a small court with two judges, where 99 percent of 397 asylum applications - and 100 percent of Judge Crooks' 226 cases - were denied. It also included larger courts: Atlanta denied over 97 percent of over 2,000 asylum applications, Las Vegas denied 93 percent of its 2,000 applications, and Conroe denied 92 percent of just over 850 applications. In contrast, only seven immigration courts deny less than 50 percent of cases: Newark (49%), Phoenix (48%), Chicago (47%), Boston (42%), Honolulu (31%), San Francisco (30%), and New York (26%).

These top five busiest courts discussed above include 166 Immigration Judges - roughly a third of all judges - working at an average pace of about 86 asylum cases per year[2]. Of the 27 judges with over 1,000 completed cases, 20 work in one of these five courts. Houston and New York are home to the three judges with more than 2,000 decisions - Judges Endelman, Bhagat, and Laforest - who collectively decided nearly 7,100 cases during this six year period, as many as the 61 judges with the least decisions on record combined. In contrast to judges in the busiest five courts, the remaining two-thirds of judges completed an average of 54 asylum cases per year. Outliers such as Judge Parchert in Seattle and Judge Williams in Baltimore, who completed, on average, 284 and 245 cases per year respectively, buck this trend.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

17.

New from the National Bureau of Economic Research

States Taking the Reins? Employment Verification Requirements and Local Labor Market Outcomes

By Shalise Ayromloo, Benjamin Feigenberg, and Darren Lubotsky

NBER Working Paper No. 26676, January 2020

https://www.nber.org/papers/w26676

Caught between Cultures: Unintended Consequences of Improving Opportunity for Immigrant Girls

By Gordon B. Dahl, Cristina Felfe, Paul Frijters, and Helmut Rainer

NBER Working Paper No. 26674, January 2020

https://www.nber.org/papers/w26674

Return to Top

****

****

18.

New from the Migration Policy Institute

Rebuilding Community after Crisis: Striking a New Social Contract for Diverse Societies

By Demetrios G. Papademetriou and Meghan Benton

January 2020

. . .

https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/rebuilding-community-after-crisis-transatlantic-council-statement

Global Demand for Medical Professionals Drives Indians Abroad Despite Acute Domestic Health-Care Worker Shortages

By Margaret Walton-Roberts and S. Irudaya Rajan

Migration Information Source Feature, January 23, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/global-demand-medical-professionals-drives-indians-abroad

Chinese Immigrants in the United States
By Carlos Echeverria-Estrada and Jeanne Batalova
Migration Information Source Spotlight, January 15, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/chinese-immigrants-united-states

Welcome Wears Thin for Colombians in Ecuador as Venezuelans Become More Visible
By Jeffrey D. Pugh, Luis F. Jiménez, and Bettina Latuff
Migration Information Source Feature, January 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/welcome-wears-thin-for-colombians-ecuador

Return to Top

****
****

19.
New from the Institute for the Study of Labor

Ethnic Networks and the Employment of Asylum Seekers: Evidence from Germany
By Felix Stips and Krisztina Kis-Katos
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12903, January 2020
. . .
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12903/ethnic-networks-and-the-employment-of-asylum-seekers-evidence-from-germany

Social Assistance Receipt among Young Adults Grown up in Different Neighbourhoods of Metropolitan Sweden
By Bjorn Anders Gustafsson, Katarina Katz, and Torun Osterberg
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12880, January 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12880/social-assistance-receipt-among-young-adults-grown-up-in-different-neighbourhoods-of-metropolitan-sweden

Is Immigration Enforcement Shaping Immigrant Marriage Patterns?
By Catalina Amuedo-Dorantes, Esther Arenas-Arroyo, and Chunbei Wang
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12876, January 2020
. . .
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12876/is-immigration-enforcement-shaping-immigrant-marriage-patterns

Priority to Unemployed Immigrants? A Causal Machine Learning Evaluation of Training in Belgium
By Bart Cockx, Michael Lechner, and Joost Bollens
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12875, January 2020
. . .
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12875/priority-to-unemployed-immigrants-a-causal-machine-learning-evaluation-of-training-in-belgium

Can Sanctuary Polices Reduce Domestic Violence?
By Catalina Amuedo-Dorantes and Monica Deza
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12868, January 2020
. . .
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12868/can-sanctuary-polices-reduce-domestic-violence

Refugees and Foreign Direct Investment: Quasi-Experimental Evidence from U.S. Resettlements
By Anna Maria Mayda, Christopher Parsons, Han Pham, and Pierre-Louis Vézina
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12860, January 2020
. . .
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12860/refugees-and-foreign-direct-investment-quasi-experimental-evidence-from-us-resettlements

Cooperation in a Fragmented Society: Experimental Evidence on Syrian Refugees and Natives in Lebanon
By Michalis Drouvelis, Bilal Malaeb, Michael Vlassopoulos, and Jackline Wahba

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

IZA Discussion Paper No. 12858, January 2020

. . .

https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12858/cooperation-in-a-fragmented-society-experimental-evidence-on-syrian-refugees-and-natives-in-lebanon

Drivers of Cultural Participation of Immigrants: Evidence from an Italian Survey

Enrico Bertacchini, Alessandra Venturini, Roberto Zotti

IZA Discussion Paper No. 12854, January 2020

. . .

https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12854/drivers-of-cultural-participation-of-immigrants-evidence-from-an-italian-survey

Return to Top

****

****

20.

New from the Social Science Research Network

1. Immigration and Wage Dynamics in Germany

By Sabine Klinger, Government of the Federal Republic of Germany, Institute for Employment Research (IAB); Anvar Musayev, International Monetary Fund (IMF); Jean-Marc Natal, Swiss National Bank; and Enzo Weber, University of Regensburg

IMF Working Paper No. 19/301

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3524320

2. Legal Status and Local Spending: The Distributional Consequences of the 1986 IRCA

By Navid Sabet, Ludwig Maximilian University of Munich (LMU) Faculty of Economics and Christoph Winter, Ludwig Maximilian University of Munich

CESifo Working Paper No. 7611

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3378821

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3. The Image of Immigration in American Media Discourse (the Case of Internet Memes)
By Svetlana Kanashina, Moscow State Institute of International Relations (MGIMO)
Posted: January 20, 2020
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3497470

4. Diversity, Immigration, and Redistribution
By Alberto F. Alesina, Harvard University Department of Economics and Stefanie Stantcheva, Harvard University Department of Economics
CEPR Discussion Paper No. DP14254
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3518593

5. Immigration and Preferences for Redistribution in Europe
By Alberto F. Alesina, Harvard University Department of Economics; Elie Murard, IZA; and Hillel Rapoport, Paris School of Economics (PSE)
CEPR Discussion Paper No. DP14211
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3518549

6. Hong Kong's Strict Immigration Control: The Family As the Unit of Non-protection and Deprivation of Human Rights Protection
By P.Y. Lo, The University of Hong Kong
Posted: January 10, 2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3507902

7. Against the Wind—Sustainability, Migration, Presidential Discretion
By Steven Ferrey, Suffolk University Law School
Columbia Journal of Environmental Law Vol. 44, No. 341
Suffolk University Law School Research Paper No. 19-13
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3516284

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

21.

Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

1. Pregnancy ban to take effect this week

January 23, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/pregnancy-ban-to-take-effect-this-week-developing-story.html

2. Democratic Member of Congress Facing Denaturalization and More?

January 23, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/congressman-facing-denaturalization-and-more.html

3. Climate Refugees: UN Says People Fleeing Climate Crisis Cannot Be Forced To Return Home

January 21, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/climate-refugees-un-says-people-fleeing-climate-crisis-cannot-be-forced-to-return-home.html

4. Trump Confirms Intent to Expand Muslim Ban

January 21, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/trump-confirms-intent-to-expand-muslim-ban.html

5. Government immigration policies are harming trafficking survivors

January 21, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/government-immigration-policies-are-harming-trafficking-survivors.html

6. Expanding Criminal Bars to Asylum Nonsensical

January 20, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/expanding-criminal-bars-to-asylum-nonsensical.html

7. Birthright tourism moves birthright citizenship debate... abroad
January 19, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/airline-required-woman-to-take-pregnancy-test-to-.html

8. Library of Congress: Birthright Citizenship Around the World
January 18, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/library-of-congress-birthright-citizenship-around-the-world-.html

9. Comments Needed! 3 Days to Repsond to CFR Proposal on Criminal Asylum Bars
January 17, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/comments-needed-3-days-to-repsond-to-cfr-proposal-on-criminal-asylum-bars.html

10. I'm a "Liberal" Who Thinks Immigration Must Be Restricted. Hmmmmmmm
January 17, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/im-a-liberal-who-thinks-immigration-must-be-restricted-hmmmmmmm.html

11. Immigration Article of the Day: Sanctuary States
By Rose Cuison Villazor and Alma Godinez-Navarro
January 16, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/sanctuary-states-by-rose-cuison-villazor-and-alma-godinez-navarro-southwestern-law-review-symposium-issue-abstract-th.html

12. Trump administration Asks Supreme Court to Stay "Public Charge" Injunction

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

January 14, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/trump-administration-asks-supreme-court-to-stay-public-charge-injunction.html

13. Immigration Article of the Day: Why the Legal Strategy of Exploiting Immigrant Families Should Worry Us All

By Jamie R. Abrams

January 14, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/immigration-article-of-the-day-why-the-legal-strategy-of-exploiting-immigrant-families-should-worry-.html

14. Michael Kagan's grading of the top candidates' immigration platforms

January 13, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/michael-kagans-grading-of-the-top-candidates-immigration-platforms.html

15. Identifying the Bodies of Migrants

January 13, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/identifying-the-bodies-of-migrants.html

16. Meghan Markle and Prince Harry's New Roles Could Impact Meghan's Immigration Status—and Their Taxes

January 12, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/meghan-markle-and-prince-harrys-new-roles-could-impact-meghans-immigration-statusand-their-taxes.html

17. California court of appeal: Orange County Beach City Cannot Opt Out of California Sanctuary State Law

January 11, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/california-court-of-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

appeal-orange-county-beach-city-cannot-opt-out-of-california-sanctuary-state-law.html

18. Two Parents Sue Over Family Separation Policy
January 10, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/two-parents-sue-over-family-separation-policy.html

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Immigrant and Native Consumption of Means-Tested Welfare and Entitlement Benefits in 2016: Evidence from the Survey of Income and Program Participation
By Tu Le and Alex Nowrasteh
Immigration Research and Policy Brief No. 15, January 14, 2020
. . .
https://www.cato.org/publications/immigration-research-policy-brief/immigrant-native-consumption-means-tested-welfare

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Ethical considerations in providing psychological services to unaccompanied immigrant children
By Genevieve F. Dash
Ethics & Behavior, Vol. 30, No. 2, February 2020
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/10508422.2019.1623031

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

24.
How Interior Immigration Enforcement Affects Trust in Law Enforcement
By Tom K. Wong, S. Deborah Kang, Carolina Valdivia, and Josefina Espino Perspectives on Politics, Cambridge University Press, January 14, 2020
. . .
https://www.cambridge.org/core/journals/perspectives-on-politics/article/how-interior-immigration-enforcement-affects-trust-in-law-enforcement/1D3021F5802F2E0FCEF741BDAEAB47A0

Return to Top

****
****

25.
New from the Oxford Refugee Studies Centre

Overcoming refugee containment and crisis
By Cathryn Costello
Cambridge University Press, January 14, 2020
. . .
https://www.rsc.ox.ac.uk/publications/overcoming-refugee-containment-and-crisis

The 'host' label: forming and transforming a community identity at the Kakuma Refugee Camp
By Cory Rodgers
Journal of Refugee Studies, January 13, 2020
. . .
https://www.rsc.ox.ac.uk/publications/the-2018host2019-label-forming-and-transforming-a-community-identity-at-the-kakuma-refugee-camp

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Rohingya refugee crisis: rethinking solutions and accountability
By Brian Gorlick
RSC Working Paper Series 131, December 18, 2019
https://www.rsc.ox.ac.uk/publications/the-rohingya-refugee-crisis-rethinking-solutions-and-accountability

Return to Top

****
****

26.
Will Skill-Based Immigration Policies Lead to Lower Remittances? An Analysis of the Relations between Education, Sponsorship, and Remittances
By Sankar Mukhopadhyay and Miaomiao Zou
Journal of Developmental Studies, Vol. 56, No. 3, March 2020
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/00220388.2019.1585812

Return to Top

****
****

27.
How migration policies moderate the diffusion of terrorism
By Tobias Bohmelt and Vincenzo Bove
European Journal of Political Research, Vol. 59, No. 1, February 2020
. . .
https://ejpr.onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/1475-6765.12339

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

28.

Integrating the immigrant population into the city of Madrid (Spain): preliminary data about the sociolinguistic attitudes of the host community

By Maria Sancho-Pascual

Journal of Multilingual and Multicultural Development, Vol. 41, Nos. 1, 2, January 2020

. . .

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/01434632.2019.1621880

Return to Top

****

****

29.

Migration in Libya: A Spatial Network Analysis

By Michele Di Maio Valerio, Leone Sciabolazza, and Vasco Molini

World Bank Policy Research Working Paper 9110, January 2020

. . .

https://openknowledge.worldbank.org/bitstream/handle/10986/33194/Migration-in-Libya-A-Spatial-Network-Analysis.pdf

Migration and Remittances in the Former Soviet Union Countries of Central Asia and the South Caucasus: What Are the Long-Term Macroeconomic Consequences?

By Martin Brownbridge and Sudharshan Canagarajah

World Bank Policy Research Working Paper 9111, January 2020

. . .

https://openknowledge.worldbank.org/bitstream/handle/10986/33195/Migration-and-Remittances-in-the-Former-Soviet-Union-Countries-of-Central-Asia-and-the-South-Caucasus-What-Are-the-Long-Term-Macroeconomic-Consequences.pdf

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

30.

Migration, Identity, and Belonging: Defining Borders and Boundaries of the Homeland

By Margaret E. Franz and Kumarini Silva

Routledge, 200 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1138602906, $155.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138602906/centerforimmigra

Book Description: This volume responds to the question: How do you know when you belong to a country? In other words, when is the nation-state a homeland? The boundaries and borders defining who belongs and who does not proliferate in the age of globalization, although they may not coincide with national jurisdictions. Contributors to this collection engage with how these boundaries are made and sustained, examining how belonging is mediated by material relations of power, capital, and circuits of communication technology on the one side and representations of identity, nation, and homeland on the other. The authors' diverse methodologies, ranging from archival research, oral histories, literary criticism, and ethnography attend to these contradictions by studying how the practices of migration and identification, procured and produced through global exchanges of bodies and goods that cross borders, foreclose those borders to (re)produce, and (re)imagine the homeland and its boundaries.

Return to Top

****
****

31.

Law and Asylum: Space, Subject, Resistance

By Simon Behrman

Routledge, 298 pp.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hardcover, ISBN: 1138304174, $155.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138304174/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 0367900270, $47.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0367900270/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 4619 KB, ASIN: B07DV79DFG, $47.95

Book Description: In contrast to the claim that refugee law has been a key in guaranteeing a space of protection for refugees, this book argues that law has been instrumental in eliminating spaces of protection, not just from one's persecutors but also from the grasp of sovereign power. By uncovering certain fundamental aspects of asylum as practised in the past and in present day social movements, namely its concern with defining space rather than people and its role as a space of resistance or otherness to sovereign law, this book demonstrates that asylum has historically been antagonistic to law and vice versa. In contrast, twentieth-century refugee law was constructed precisely to ensure the effective management and control over the movements of forced migrants. To illustrate the complex ways in which these two paradigms – asylum and refugee law – interact with one another, this book examines their historical development and concludes with in-depth studies of the Sanctuary Movement in the United States and the Sans-Papiers of France.

The book will appeal to researchers and students of refugee law and refugee studies; legal and political philosophy; ancient, medieval and modern legal history; and sociology of political movements.

Return to Top

****

****

32.

Refugee Dignity in Protracted Exile: Rights, Capabilities and Legal Empowerment

By Anna Lise Purkey

Routledge, 218 pp.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hardcover, ISBN: 0367349531, $153.60
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0367349531/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 6163 KB, ASIN: B08259MX5Z, $54.95

Book Description: This book investigates how effective human rights and the inherent dignity of refugees can be secured in situations of protracted exile and encampment. The book deploys an innovative human rights-based capabilities approach to address fundamental questions relating to law, power, governance, responsibility, and accountability in refugee camps.

Adopting an original theoretical framework, the author demonstrates that legal empowerment can change the distribution of power in a given refugee situation, facilitating the exercise of individual agency and assisting in the reform of the opportunity structure available to the individual. Thus, by helping to increase the capability of refugees to participate actively in the decisions that most affect their core rights and interests, participatory approaches to legal empowerment can also assist in securing other capabilities, ultimately ensuring that refugees are able to live dignified lives while in protracted exile.

Ultimately, the book demonstrates that legal empowerment of refugees can bring lasting benefits in establishing trust between refugees, the state, and local communities. It will be of interest to researchers within the fields of refugee studies, international law, development studies, and political science, as well as to policy-makers and practitioners working in the fields of refugee assistance and humanitarian intervention.

Return to Top

****
****

33.
Making Hate Pay: The Corruption of the Southern Poverty Law Center
By Tyler O'Neil

Bombardier Books, 240 pp.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Paperback, ISBN: 1642934399, $16.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1642934399/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 2937 KB, ASIN: B08427QD2N, $9.99

Book Description: The Southern Poverty Law Center started with noble intentions and has done much good over the years, but a pernicious corruption has undermined the organization's original mission and contributed to a climate of fear and hostility in America. Hotels, web platforms, and credit card companies have blacklisted law-abiding Americans because the SPLC disagrees with their political views. The SPLC's false accusations have done concrete harm, costing the organization millions in lawsuits. A deranged man even attempted to commit mass murder, having been inspired by the SPLC's rhetoric.

How did a civil rights group dedicated to saving the innocent from the death penalty become a pernicious threat to America's free speech culture? How did an organization dedicated to fighting poverty wind up with millions in the Cayman Islands? How did a civil rights stalwart find itself accused of racism and sexism?

Making Hate Pay tells the inside story of how the SPLC yielded to many forms of corruption, and what it means for free speech in America today. It also explains why Corporate America, Big Tech, government, and the media are wrong to take the SPLC's disingenuous tactics at face value, and the serious damage they cause by trusting this corrupt organization.

Return to Top

****
****

34.
The Age of Migration, Sixth Edition: International Population Movements in the Modern World
By Hein de Haas, Stephen Castles, et al.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Guilford Press, 443 pp.

Paperback, ISBN: 1462542891, $45.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1462542891/centerforimmigra

Book Description: Migration is a central dynamic in globalization that is recasting contemporary states and societies in distinctive, powerful ways. Now with more balanced coverage of Western and non-Western regions, this leading text has been revised and updated with the latest theories, policy information, and interdisciplinary research. The book explores the causes, dynamics, and consequences of international population movements, as well as the experiences of migrants themselves. Chapters examine migration trends and patterns in all major world regions, how migration transforms both destination and origin societies, and the effects of migration and increasing ethnic diversity on national identity and politics. Useful pedagogical features include boxed case studies; extensive tables, graphs, and maps; end-of-chapter Guides to Further Reading; and a companion website with additional case studies, PowerPoint slides, and other resources for students and instructors.

New to This Edition:
*A wealth of new data, increased attention to non-Western regions and perspectives, and stronger analysis of long-term trends.

*Chapter critically evaluating different categories used to describe migrants and analyze migration, including a myth-busting discussion of "climate refugees."

*Chapter on the evolution and effectiveness of migration policies.

*Chapter on how migration affects origin countries.

*Expanded coverage of the former Soviet Union and Eastern Europe.

*Analyses of timely topics, including anti-immigrant politics and Islamophobia; migration policies under Trump; large-scale refugee movements; the growth of new types of mobility for such purposes as education, marriage or retirement; and the tools governments use to control migration (the "Migration Policy Toolbox").

*Glossary of key terms, which are highlighted throughout the text.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

35.
Documenting Americans: A Political History of National ID Card Proposals in the United States
By Magdalena Krajewska

Cambridge University Press, 296 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 9781316510100, $79.78
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/9781316510100/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1316649482, 301 pp., $31.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1316649482/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1873 KB, ASIN: B074XF8N5K, 290 pp., $26.00

Book Description: This is the first and only comprehensive, book-length political history of national ID card proposals and developments in identity policing in the United States. The book focuses on the period from 1915 to 2016, including the post-9/11 debates and policy decisions regarding the introduction of technologically-advanced identification documents. Putting the United States in comparative perspective and connecting the vital issues of immigration and homeland security, Magdalena Krajewska shows how national ID card proposals have been woven into political conflict across a variety of policy fields. Findings contradict conventional wisdom, debunking two common myths: that Americans are opposed to national ID cards and that American policymakers never propose national ID cards. Dr Krajewska draws on extensive archival research; high-level interviews with politicians, policymakers, and ID card technology experts in Washington, DC and London; and public opinion polls.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

36.

Against Borders: Why the World Needs Free Movement of People

By Alex Sager

Rowman & Littlefield Publishers, 146 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1786606275, $90.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1786606275/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1786606283, $26.06
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1786606283/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 395 KB, ASIN: B083YXNLJD, 290 pp., $28.50

Book Description: This book provides a philosophical defence of open borders. Two policy dogmas are the right of sovereign states to restrict immigration and the infeasibility of opening borders. These dogmas persist in face of the human suffering caused by border controls and in spite of a global economy where the mobility of goods and capital is combined with severe restrictions on the movement of most of the world's poor. Alex Sager argues that immigration restrictions violate human rights and sustain unjust global inequalities, and that we should reject these dogmas that deprive hundreds of millions of people of opportunities solely because of their place of birth. Opening borders would promote human freedom, foster economic prosperity, and mitigate global inequalities. Sager contends that studies of migration from economics, history, political science, and other disciplines reveal that open borders are a feasible goal for political action, and that citizens around the world have a moral obligation to work toward open borders.

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

37.

Citizenship and Belonging in France and North America: Multicultural Perspectives on Political, Cultural and Artistic Representations of Immigration

By Ramona Mielusel and Simona Emilia Pruteanu

Palgrave Macmillan, 260 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 3030301575, $109.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/3030301575/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 728 KB, ASIN: B083RS97W3, $99.00

Book Description: The first decades of the new millennium have been marked by major political changes. Although The West has wished to revisit internal and international politics concerning migration policies, refugee status, integration, secularism, and the dismantling of communitarianism, events like the Syrian refugee crisis, the terrorist attacks in France in 2015-2016, and the economic crisis of 2008 have resurrected concepts such as national identity, integration, citizenship and re-shaping state policies in many developed countries. In France and Canada, more recent public elections have brought complex democratic political figures like Emmanuel Macron and Justin Trudeau to the public eye. Both leaders were elected based on their promising political agendas that aimed at bringing their countries into the new millennium; Trudeau promotes multiculturalism, while Macron touts the diverse nation and the inclusion of diverse ethnic communities to the national model. This edited collection aims to establish a dialogue between these two countries and across disciplines in search of such discursive illustrations and opposing discourses. Analyzing the cultural and political tensions between minority groups and the state in light of political events that question ideas of citizenship and belonging to a multicultural nation, the chapters in this volume serve as a testimonial to the multiple views on the political and public perception of multicultural practices and their national and international applicability to our current geopolitical context.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

38.
Comparative Migration Studies
Vol. 8, No. 1-2, January 13, 16, 2020
http://www.comparativemigrationstudies.com/

Latest Articles:

Framing migration in the southern Mediterranean: how do civil society actors evaluate EU migration policies? The case of Tunisia
By Ferruccio Pastore and Emanuela Roman
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0160-4

Atypical citizenship regimes: comparing legal and political conceptualizations
By Daniel Naujoks
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0156-0

Return to Top

****
****

39.
Rural Migration News
Vol. 26, No. 1, January 2020
https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/

IMMIGRATION

Immigration, Politics
As President Trump reaches three years in office, what are his major effects on immigration? Trump issued executive orders to implement three campaign promises soon after taking office in January 2017: building a wall on the Mexico-US border, increasing deportations, and reducing refugee admissions overall and barring visitors from particular countries, the so-called Muslim ban.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .

https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/more.php?id=2381

DHS: CBP, ICE, USCIS

The Department of Homeland Security's acting secretary, Kevin McAleenan, resigned after six months in October 2019. Under McAleenan, the US signed agreements with Guatemala, El Salvador, and Honduras that require non-citizens passing through these countries to seek asylum there rather than in the US.

For example, Salvadorans and Hondurans who pass through Guatemala and Mexico en route to the US to apply for asylum could be returned to Guatemala to seek asylum there. In January 2020, DHS was reportedly considering sending Mexican asylum seekers to Guatemala.

. . .

https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/more.php?id=2382

H-2A; H-2B: AEWR, FWMA

DOL certified 257,666 jobs to be filled with H-2A workers in FY19, up 11 percent from FY18. The top five H-2A states, Florida, Georgia, Washington, California, and North Carolina, accounted for over half of the H-2A jobs certified. Two-thirds of H-2A job requests are made between January and June.

. . .

https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/more.php?id=2383

Canada, Mexico

The United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement (USMCA) was poised to be ratified by all three countries after Democrats in December 2019 won additions to ensure that Mexico enforces its labor laws in ways that should raise Mexican labor costs.

Trump promised that the USMCA would return auto jobs to the US, since the North American content requirement was raised from 62.5 to 75 percent, and 40 to 45 percent of auto components must be made by workers earning at least $16 an hour to trade freely. A fourth of the new vehicles sold in the US are assembled in Canada or Mexico.

. . .

https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/more.php?id=2384

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Europe, Asia

Almost nine million foreigners applied for asylum in the major EU countries between 2003 and 2017, including 1.2 million in 2015-16. About 30 percent were recognized as in need of protection during their first adjuration, and half of these or a sixth were recognized as refugees (the others received some form of temporary protected status). An additional 10 percent received refugee status or TPS after appeals of negative first decisions.

. . .

https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/more.php?id=2385

Global Trends

The IOM's World Migration Report 2020 surveyed trends in international migration, noting that UN's DESA estimated there were 272 million international migrants in 2019, up from 221 million in 2010. The number of international migrants has tripled since 1970, and the migrant share of the world's population rose from 2.3 percent to 3.5 percent of the world's 7.7 billion people in 2019.

. . .

https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/more.php?id=2386

Return to Top

****

****

40.

The Centre on Migration, Policy, and Society (COMPAS)

Winter 2020

https://www.compas.ox.ac.uk/publications/journal/

Latest article:

Self-employment and reason for migration: are those who migrate for asylum different from other migrants?

By Zovanga L. Kone, Isabel Ruiz, and Carlos Vargas-Silva

https://www.compas.ox.ac.uk/2020/self-employment-and-reason-for-migration-are-those-who-migrate-for-asylum-different-from-other-migrants/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maggy Smith

From: Maggy Smith
Sent: Friday, January 24, 2020 7:52 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Are you there?

Law,

I've sent you a few emails in the last two weeks, but haven't heard back from you yet. I hope you are planning to become a Heritage Foundation member this year before the deadline of January 31st.

I'd be incredibly grateful if you would stand with us this year so we can fight back against bad liberal ideas together, and for conservative principles. As soon as you join, I'll send your membership card for 2020.

Here's your secure link to activate your membership and get your card:
https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

Thank you for being a Heritage member.

Best,

Maggy Smith
Membership Programs

P.S. You are getting this email because you believe in a conservative future. Join The Heritage Foundation today to preserve America through this secure link:
https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

The Heritage Foundation

The Heritage Foundation | 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted] (b)(6) If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, January 24, 2020 8:07 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 1/24/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 1/24/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Trump's Blind Spot on Immigration," Mark Krikorian
2. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, David North, Todd Bensman, Jason Peña, and Julie Axelrod
3. "Illegal Immigrant Caravans and Criminal Catholics," Michelle Malkin
4. "Biden Says Only Felons Should Be Deported and He Doesn't 'Count Drunk Driving as a Felony'," Tobias Hoonhout
5. "Biden Calls DACA Recipients 'More American Than Most Americans'," Tobias Hoonhout
6. "Sanders Floats 'Moratorium on 99 Percent' of Deportations, Demolition of Border Wall," Zachary Evans
7. "America Turns the Corner at Last," Conrad Black
8. "Why Criminal Prosecution Might Be the Least of Ilhan Omar's Legal Concerns," Matthew Kolken
9. "Trump's New 'Birth Tourism' Policy Enforces Current Immigration Law," Brandon Judd
10. "Democrats' Deadly Docu-Drama," Lloyd Billingsley
11. "Virginia AG's Immigration Hypocrisy," Matt O'Brien
12. "Nonpartisan Immigration Report Shows How THESE Policies Are Hurting Americans," Ira Mehlman
13. "Sanctuary City Pays Illegal Alien Arrested for DUI Cash Settlement Over Immigration Hold," Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles
14. "Stark Contrast – Bernie Sanders Says He Will 'Look At' Tearing Down Existing U.S/Mexico Border Wall," Sundance
15. "Good News From Mexico," John Hinderaker
16. "New Immigration Series 'Little America' Puts Big Focus on Deportation, Illegals," Lindsay Kornick
17. "Illegal Border Crossings Plunge in Arizona," Jazz Shaw
18. "Trump to Take on Birth Tourism... Finally," Jazz Shaw
19. "ICE to NYC: This Is Not a Request. It's a Demand," Jazz Shaw
20. "Being A Brown Immigrant Gives You No Pass For Racism Against Trump Supporters," Saritha Prabhu
21. "The Time Is Now for E-Verify Across Florida," Rep. Matt Gaetz
22. "How Far Will New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio Go to Protect

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Undocumented Aliens?," Nolan Rappaport
23. "Guatemalans Who Don't Speak Spanish: LA OPINION Warns Illegals Where Not To Go;...," Allan Wall
24. "Everyone Is Wrong on Skilled Immigration," Neil Patel
25. "Working To Welcome Refugees From Coast to Coast," Rachel Wisthuff
26. "Why Reducing the Refugee Cap Is Bad Finance," Lamine Zarrad
27. "Immigrants Today: Not Much Different From the Past," Milton Ezrati
28. "The True Cost of the EU's Border Security Boom," Charlotte Gifford
29. "Supreme Court DACA Decision Isn't Just About Dreamers – It's About Whether the White House Has to Tell the Truth," Morgan Marietta
30. "When Politicians Turn Immigration Into a 'Crisis,' They Hurt Their Own People," Megan A. Carney
31. "Scoop: 'Birth Tourism' Is Trump's Next Immigration Target," Stef W. Kight and Jonathan Swan
32. "Government Immigration Policies Are Harming Trafficking Survivors," Evangeline M. Chan
33. " 'He Has Made Wild Shifts': How Bernie Sanders Has Changed His Approach to Immigration," Nidhi Prakash
34. "Talented Immigrants Make the U.S. Richer, Not Poorer," Noah Smith
35. "Times Taps White Nationalist Organization for Thought-Provoking Perspective on Immigration," Ben Mathis-Lilley
36. "New York Times Runs Anti-Immigration Op-Ed by Noted Hate Group," Sebastian Murdock
37. "The Injustice of This Moment Is Not an 'Aberration'," Michelle Alexander

1.

Trump's Blind Spot on Immigration

A more moderate level of immigration is both good policy and good politics. Cheap foreign labor is cheap foreign labor, whether it's legal or illegal, permanent or temporary, blue-collar or white-collar.

By Mark Krikorian

American Greatness, January 18th, 2020

. . .

https://amgreatness.com/2020/01/18/trumps-blind-spot-on-immigration/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

2.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

Barely a Year after Global Compacts, UN Is Already Trying to Limit National Sovereignty over Migration
January 24, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Barely-Year-after-Global-Compacts-UN-Already-Trying-Limit-National-Sovereignty-over

ICE Begins Using Civil Subpoenas to Demand Information the Law Obliges Sanctuaries to Provide Anyway
January 21, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/ICE-Begins-Using-Civil-Subpoenas-Demand-Information-Law-Obliges-Sanctuaries-Provide-Anyway

By Andrew R. Arthur

'Remain in Mexico' Is Working — And Better Fences Are Being Built
The U.S. government should advertise in the Northern Triangle
January 21, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Remain-Mexico-Working-And-Better-Fences-Are-Being-Built

Alien Rapes 92-Year-Old after ICE Detainer Was Ignored
Does New York have a "Death Wish"?
January 20, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Alien-Rapes-92YearOld-after-ICE-Detainer-Was-Ignored

By David North

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Minor Migration Memos: Iran's Treaty Investors and New Jersey's H-4 Students
January 24, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Minor-Migration-Memos-Irans-Treaty-Investors-and-New-Jerseys-H4-Students

Birth Tourism, Belts, and Braces
January 22, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Birth-Tourism-Belts-and-Braces

Department of Education Agrees with CIS on Two Marginal Colleges
January 20, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Department-Education-Agrees-CIS-Two-Marginal-Colleges

By Todd Bensman

Why the 2020 Caravans Threaten the Fragile Success of Trump's Border Policies
January 24, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/Why-2020-Caravans-Threaten-Fragile-Success-Trumps-Border-Policies

Video Report: How Trump's Policies Ended the Mass Migration Crisis on Mexico's Southern Border — For Now
January 20, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/Video-Report-How-Trumps-Policies-Ended-Mass-Migration-Crisis-Mexicos-Southern-Border-Now

By Jason Peña

Over 400 Caravan Migrants Arrested for Crossing into Mexico Illegally
January 21, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Over-400-Caravan-Migrants-Arrested-Crossing-Mexico-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Illegally

Another Caravan Heads North, This One from El Salvador
January 21, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Another-Caravan-Heads-North-One-El-Salvador

Migrant Caravan Bound for U.S
January 16, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Migrant-Caravan-Bound-US

By Julie Axelrod

50th Anniversary of NEPA: Five Decades of Ignoring the Environmental Impacts of Immigration
January 20, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Axelrod/50th-Anniversary-NEPA-Five-Decades-Ignoring-Environmental-Impacts-Immigration

By CIS

Birth Tourism: Facts and Recommendations
January 23, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Immigration-Studies/Birth-Tourism-Facts-and-Recommendations

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Illegal Immigrant Caravans and Criminal Catholics
By Michelle Malkin
Townhall.com, January 22, 2020
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://townhall.com/columnists/michellemalkin/2020/01/22/illegal-immigrant-caravans-and-criminal-catholics-n2559915

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Biden Says Only Felons Should Be Deported and He Doesn't 'Count Drunk Driving as a Felony'
By Tobias Hoonhout
National Review Online, January 21, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/news/biden-says-only-felons-should-be-deported-and-he-doesnt-count-drunk-driving-as-a-felony/

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Biden Calls DACA Recipients 'More American Than Most Americans'
By Tobias Hoonhout
National Review Online, January 24, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/news/biden-calls-daca-recipients-more-american-than-most-americans/

Return to Top

****
****

6.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Sanders Floats 'Moratorium on 99 Percent' of Deportations, Demolition of Border Wall
By Zachary Evans
January 20, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/news/bernie-sanders-floats-moratorium-on-99-percent-of-deportations-demolition-of-border-wall/

Return to Top

****
****

7.
America Turns the Corner at Last
On energy and immigration, the U.S. is ending decades of mismanagement.
By Conrad Black
National Review Online, January 22, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/2020/01/america-turns-the-corner-at-last/

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Why Criminal Prosecution Might Be The Least Of Ilhan Omar's Legal Concerns
Rep. Ilhan Omar needs competent immigration counsel to ensure that there is no threat of her losing her citizenship, or, worse, deportation.
By Matthew Kolken
The Federalist, January 21, 2020
. . .
https://thefederalist.com/2020/01/21/why-criminal-prosecution-might-be-the-least-of-ilhan-omars-legal-concerns/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Trump's New 'Birth Tourism' Policy Enforces Current Immigration Law
By Brandon Judd
Fox News, January 24, 2020
. . .
https://www.foxnews.com/opinion/trumps-new-policy-on-birth-tourism-enforces-current-immigration-law-brandon-judd

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Democrats' Deadly Docu-Drama
How California Dems abet document fraud, shelter criminals and empower cop-killers.
By Lloyd Billingsley
FrontPageMag.com, January 22, 2020
. . .
https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/01/democrats-deadly-docu-drama-lloyd-billingsley/

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Virginia AG's Immigration Hypocrisy
By Matt O'Brien

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

TheHill.com, January 21, 2020

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/478452-virginia-ags-immigration-hypocrisy

Return to Top

****

****

12.

Nonpartisan Immigration Report Shows How THESE Policies Are Hurting Americans

By Ira Mehlman

Fox News, January 19, 2020

. . .

https://www.foxnews.com/opinion/ira-mehlman-immigration-policies-nation

Return to Top

****

****

13.

Sanctuary City Pays Illegal Alien Arrested for DUI Cash Settlement Over Immigration Hold

Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles, January 24, 2020

. . .

https://www.judicialwatch.org/corruption-chronicles/sanctuary-city-pays-illegal-alien-arrested-for-dui-cash-settlement-over-immigration-hold/

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

14.

Stark Contrast – Bernie Sanders Says He Will "Look At" Tearing Down Existing U.S/Mexico Border Wall

By Sundance

The Conservative Treehouse, January 20, 2020

. . .

https://theconservativetreehouse.com/2020/01/20/stark-contrast-bernie-sanders-says-he-will-look-at-tearing-down-existing-u-s-mexico-border-wall/

Return to Top

****

****

15.

Good News From Mexico

By John Hinderaker

Power Line blog, January 18, 2020

. . .

https://www.powerlineblog.com/archives/2020/01/good-news-from-mexico.php

Return to Top

****

****

16.

New Immigration Series 'Little America' Puts Big Focus on Deportation, Illegals

By Lindsay Kornick

NewsBusters.org, January 20, 2020

. . .

https://www.newsbusters.org/blogs/culture/lindsay-kornick/2020/01/20/apple-tvs-little-america-spotlights-deportation-illegal

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

17.

Illegal Border Crossings Plunge in Arizona

By Jazz Shaw

HotAir.com, January 20, 2020

. . .

https://hotair.com/archives/jazz-shaw/2020/01/20/illegal-border-crossings-plunge-arizona/

Return to Top

****

****

18.

Trump to Take on Birth Tourism... Finally

By Jazz Shaw

HotAir.com, January 20, 2020

. . .

https://hotair.com/archives/jazz-shaw/2020/01/20/trump-take-birth-tourism-finally/

Return to Top

****

****

19.

ICE to NYC: This Is Not a Request. It's a Demand

By Jazz Shaw

HotAir.com, January 19, 2020

. . .

https://hotair.com/archives/jazz-shaw/2020/01/19/ice-nyc-not-request-demand/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

20.

Being A Brown Immigrant Gives You No Pass For Racism Against Trump Supporters

As a long-time legal immigrant, I don't agree with the view that the country is filled with racism and white nationalism, or that open borders is the answer to past sins.

By Saritha Prabhu

The Federalist, January 17, 2020

. . .

https://thefederalist.com/2020/01/17/being-a-brown-immigrant-gives-you-no-pass-for-racism-against-trump-supporters/

Return to Top

****
****

21.

The Time Is Now for E-Verify Across Florida

By Rep. Matt Gaetz

The Tallahassee Democrat, January 20, 2020

. . .

https://www.tallahassee.com/story/opinion/2020/01/20/time-now-e-verify-across-florida-rep-matt-gaetz/4499683002/

Return to Top

****
****

22.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

How Far Will New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio Go to Protect Undocumented Aliens?
By Nolan Rappaport
TheHill.com, January 22, 2020
. . .
https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/479340-how-far-will-new-york-city-mayor-bill-de-blasio-go-to-protect

Return to Top

****
****

23.
SAID IN SPANISH: Guatemalans Who Don't Speak Spanish: LA OPINION Warns Illegals Where Not To Go ...
Guatemalans Protect Guatemalans In U.S. Immigration Courts
By Allan Wall
VDare.com, January 22, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/said-in-spanish-guatemalans-who-don-t-speak-spanish-la-opinion-warns-illegals-where-not-to-go-chapo-s-daughter-launches-el-chapo-beer-etc-4-items

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Everyone Is Wrong on Skilled Immigration
By Neil Patel
BizPac Review, January 17, 2020
. . .
https://www.bizpacreview.com/2020/01/17/neil-patel-everyone-is-wrong-on-skilled-immigration-876525

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Working to Welcome Refugees From Coast to Coast

By Rachel Wisthuff

Forbes.com, January 21, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/unicefusa/2020/01/21/working-to-welcome-refugees-from-coast-to-coast/#442d0a11ec01

Return to Top

****

****

26.

Why Reducing the Refugee Cap Is Bad Finance

By Lamine Zarrad

Forbes.com, January 21, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/forbesfinancecouncil/2020/01/21/why-reducing-the-refugee-cap-is-bad-finance/#608edaa341e7

Return to Top

****

****

27.

Immigrants Today: Not Much Different From the Past

By Milton Ezrati

Forbes.com, January 20, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.forbes.com/sites/miltonezrati/2020/01/20/immigrants-today-not-much-different-from-the-past/#36bfa8bb3067

Return to Top

****
****

28.
The True Cost of the EU's Border Security Boom
By Charlotte Gifford
World Finance, January 21, 2020
. . .
https://www.worldfinance.com/featured/the-true-cost-of-the-eus-border-security-boom

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Supreme Court DACA Decision Isn't Just About Dreamers – It's About Whether the White House Has to Tell the Truth
By Morgan Marietta
The Conversation, January 15, 2020
. . .
https://theconversation.com/supreme-court-daca-decision-isnt-just-about-dreamers-its-about-whether-the-white-house-has-to-tell-the-truth-129214?utm_medium=Social&utm_source=Twitter#Echobox=1579134407

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

30.

When Politicians Turn Immigration Into a 'Crisis,' They Hurt Their Own People

By Megan A. Carney

The Conversation, January 22, 2020

. . .

https://theconversation.com/when-politicians-turn-immigration-into-a-crisis-they-hurt-their-own-people-128965

Return to Top

****

****

31.

Scoop: "Birth Tourism" Is Trump's Next Immigration Target

By Stef W. Kight and Jonathan Swan

Axios.com, January 19, 2020

. . .

https://www.axios.com/trump-rule-state-department-deny-visas-birth-tourism-81ba35e2-9c4a-42c8-9d15-ff2810e323fd.html

Return to Top

****

****

32.

Government Immigration Policies Are Harming Trafficking Survivors

By Evangeline M. Chan

TheHill.com, January 20, 2020

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/479034-government-immigration-policies-are-harming-trafficking-survivors

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

33.
“He Has Made Wild Shifts”: How Bernie Sanders Has Changed His Approach to Immigration
Bernie Sanders used to get knocked over his immigration record. He has spent years talking with activists and shifting his approach.
By Nidhi Prakash
BuzzFeed News, January 19, 2020
. . .
https://www.buzzfeednews.com/article/nidhiprakash/bernie-sanders-immigration-record

Return to Top

****
****

34.
Talented Immigrants Make the U.S. Richer, Not Poorer
Immigration foes cling to a caricature of who is allowed to live and work in the country.
By Noah Smith
Bloomberg.com, January 23, 2020
. . .
https://www.bloomberg.com/opinion/articles/2020-01-23/u-s-immigration-screens-for-education-talent-and-ambition

Return to Top

****
****

35.
Times Taps White Nationalist Organization for Thought-Provoking

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Perspective on Immigration
By Ben Mathis-Lilley
Slate.com, January 17, 2020
. . .
https://slate.com/news-and-politics/2020/01/times-op-ed-white-nationalist-center-for-immigration-studies.html

Return to Top

****
****

36.
New York Times Runs Anti-Immigration Op-Ed by Noted Hate Group
The Center for Immigration Studies, an anti-immigration think tank, is categorized as a hate group by the Southern Poverty Law Center.
By Sebastian Murdock
Huffington Post, January 17, 2020
. . .
https://www.huffpost.com/entry/new-york-times-anti-immigration-op-ed-hate-group_n_5e21d9d8c5b673621f752f9c

Return to Top

****
****

37.
The Injustice of This Moment Is Not an 'Aberration'
From mass incarceration to mass deportation, our nation remains in deep denial.
By Michelle Alexander
The New York Times, January 17, 2020
. . .
https://www.nytimes.com/2020/01/17/opinion/sunday/michelle-alexander-new-jim-crow.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maggy Smith

From: Maggy Smith
Sent: Saturday, January 25, 2020 8:11 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Any word?

Law,

I took another look at our membership records hoping to find your name, but I see that you still haven't become a Heritage Foundation member for 2020. The Friday deadline is quickly approaching, so I want to make sure you have every chance to get your membership card!

Here's your secure link to activate your Heritage membership for 2020 now!

It only takes a few minutes, and would be a huge help as we fight to protect and advance your conservative principles in the new year.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Best,

Maggy Smith
Membership Programs

P.S. If you don't activate your membership, we won't be able to send you special invitations, this year's member card, or exclusive updates and insider news. Moreover, you'll leave our ability to stop the advancing progressive agenda to chance. Please act now: https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

The Heritage Foundation

The Heritage Foundation | 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted] (b)(6) f you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, January 27, 2020 9:07 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 1/27/20

Share

Tweet

Forward

Featured Posts

50th Anniversary of NEPA: Five Decades of Ignoring the Environmental Impacts of ICE Begins Using Subpoenas to Demand Information the Law Obliges Sanctuaries to Provide Anyway

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration
By Julie Axelrod
Commonly known as the "Magna Carta" of environmental law, NEPA requires "all federal agencies" to evaluate the environmental impacts of their actions. Despite the many environmental reviews conducted by federal agencies over 50 years, not one includes any examination of the impacts of the myriad "actions" that permit large numbers of foreign nationals to enter and settle in the United States

Birth Tourism, Belts, and Braces
By David North
Birth tourism, as my colleagues and I have argued over the years, is a problem because it not only allows instant citizenship for the infant involved, it grants immigration benefits to that child's parents 21 years later — all without any governmental control, and all beyond the numerical ceilings that control most legal immigration. CIS has estimated that there are about 33,000 such births a year.

By Dan Cadman
The Associated Press published an article entitled, "Immigration agency subpoenas sanctuary city law enforcement", detailing how agents at Immigration and Customs Enforcement are using civil subpoenas to demand that Denver city officials produce records relating to individuals who came into police custody and were then released despite the fact that they were "wanted for deportation".

Over 400 Caravan Migrants Arrested for Crossing into Mexico Illegally
By Jason Pena
The mass apprehensions began when an approximate 500 migrants charged across the Suchiate River from the Guatemalan side to reach Mexican territory. Scores of migrants resisted and evaded apprehension. Rocks and punches directed toward authorities.

More Blog Posts

- 'Remain in Mexico' Is Working - And Better Fences Are Being Built
- Another Caravan Heads North, Thus One from El Salvador
- Video Report: How Trump's Policies Ended the Mass Migration Crisis on Mexico's Southern Border - For Now
- Alien Rapes 92-Year-Old after ICE Detainer Was Ignored
- Department of Education Agrees with CIS on Two Marginal Colleges
- The Do's and Don'ts of Handling Immigration Law Enforcement Tips

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Video:

Center for Immigration Studies National Security Fellow, Todd Bensman, reports on the Central American migrant caravan from the Mexico-Guatemala border.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, January 27, 2020 4:40 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 1/27/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 1/27/20

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 1/28, Toronto - Seminar on refugee rights, capabilities and legal empowerment
2. 1/29, DC - CIS at House hearing on independence, due process and the U.S. immigration courts - [New Listing]
3. 1/29, Brooklyn, NY - Lecture on threats posed by increased immigration enforcement
4. 2/3, San Diego - Seminar on emigrant political rights in Latin America
5. 2/4, Cambridge, MA - Seminar on the Lebanese response to the Syrian refugee influx
6. 2/4, Toronto - Discussion on State responsibilities towards refugees under the 1967 Protocol to the 1951 Convention
7. 2/6, DC - USCIS webinar on the H-1B electronic registration process - [New Listing]
8. 2/7, DC - Discussion on the merits of a state-based visa system - [New Listing]
9. 2/7, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on democracy and immigrant welfare rights - [New Listing]
10. 2/14, Los Angeles - Lecture on explaining state responses to refugees
11. 2/17-21, San José, Costa Rica - World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges
12. 2/20-22, Charleston, SC - Conference on current trends in immigration research and activism
13. 2/24, San Diego - Seminar on the White Russian refugees and the development of American immigration and refugee law during the Great Depression
14. 2/26-28, Arlington, VA - Biometrics for government and law enforcement conference - [New Listing]
15. 2/27, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migrant lives at Israel's margins
16. 2/28, Los Angeles - Conference on the Venezuela refugee crisis
17. 3/2-4, DC - Certificate program course in international migration studies
18. 3/11-12, San Antonio - Annual border security expo
19. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary
20. 3/13, Los Angeles - Book discussion: Refuge Beyond Reach
21. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention
22. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

23. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of fake news
24. 4/24, Pittsburgh - Lecture on a comprehensive approach to the issue of immigration
25. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law

1.
Refugee Dignity in Protracted Exile: Rights, Capabilities and Legal Empowerment

2:30-4:00 p.m., Tuesday, January 28, 2020
626 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
York University
Toronto ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-crs-affiliated-scholars

Speaker: Anna Purkey, lawyer, Senior Research Associate and Summer Course Director at CRS

Description: This presentation will focus on Dr. Purkey's book by the same title (Routledge, December 2019). The world today faces the prospect of larger and more protracted refugee situations than at any time in recent history. The challenge this presents requires a re-examination of the relationship of responsibility and obligation between refugees, aid providers and host states. The research presented here investigates the role that legal empowerment can play in changing the distribution of power in refugee situations and in helping to secure effective human rights and the inherent dignity of refugees in situations of protracted exile and encampment. Applying an original interdisciplinary theoretical framework that combines the capabilities approach with the fiduciary theory of public legal authority, this talk will touch upon questions relating to law, power, governance, responsibility, and accountability in refugee camps.

Anna Purkey is a lawyer, Senior Research Associate and Summer Course Director at CRS. Her research focuses on international refugee law and international human rights law with a special emphasis on protracted refugee situations and themes of human capabilities, legal empowerment, human dignity, governance, and transitional justice.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Courts in Crisis: The State of Judicial Independence and Due Process in U.S. Immigration Courts

9:30 a.m., Wednesday, January 29, 2020
House Committee on the Judiciary
Subcommittee on Immigration and Citizenship
2141 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515
https://judiciary.house.gov/calendar/eventsingle.aspx?EventID=2757

Witnesses:
Andrew R.Arthur
Resident Fellow in Law and Policy, Center for Immigration Studies

Jeremy McKinney
Second Vice President, American Immigration Lawyers Association

Judy Perry Martinez
President, American Bar Association

AshleyTabbador
President, National Association of Immigration Judges

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Threats from Within: The Rise of the Immigration Police State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

6:30–8:00 p.m., Wednesday, January 29, 2020
Brooklyn Historical Society
128 Pierrepont St
Brooklyn, NY 11201
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/threats-from-within-the-rise-of-the-immigration-police-state-tickets-86726468201

Description: With White Nationalism on the rise, increased militarization of the border, and inhumane practices justified by "America First," our land of opportunity is now the land of nightmares for immigrants seeking a better life.

Elizabeth F. Cohen, professor of political science at Syracuse University, confronts this new normal in her book Illegal: How America's Lawless Immigration Regime Threatens Us All and shows how the rising tide of nationalism and unfettered policing of immigrants threaten citizen and non-citizen alike.

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Emigrant Political Rights in Latin America: A configurational analysis approach

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 3, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html

Speaker:
Leydy Diossa-Jimenez
Visiting Graduate Student, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

San Diego
PhD Candidate, UC Los Angeles

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Open Borders, Local Closures: Municipal Curfews and the Lebanese Response to the Syrian Refugee Influx

The Myron Weiner Seminar Series on International Migration

12:30-2:00 p.m., Tuesday, February 4, 2020
Building 9, 451
105 Massachusetts Ave.
Cambridge, MA 02139
Center for International Studies, Room E40-496
http://calendar.mit.edu/event/OpenBordersLocalClosures#.XiYdoG5Fyyc

Description: With the largest refugee population per capita in the world, Lebanon now hosts at least 1.1 million refugees alongside a local population of approximately four million. Up until late 2014, the Lebanese government maintained what has been called a policy of “no policy”: maintaining de facto open borders, little regulation of Syrians within its territory and refusing to build any formal camps to house the population. In light of this apparent state absence, municipalities emerged as the "frontline" actors in the governance of Syrians on Lebanese territory. Most prominently, municipalities across the country adopted restrictive curfews targeting Syrians.

This talk will explore her paper which seeks to explain why certain municipalities adopted curfews, while others did not? Drawing on evidence from an original dataset of spatial, demographic, electoral, and budgetary data on over 1000 Lebanese municipalities and 120 interviews and ethnographic evidence from a year of fieldwork, she finds that the variation in the implementation of municipal curfews targeting Syrians is explained not by factors related to the presence of Syrians themselves, such as demographic pressure and inter-ethnic dynamics, but rather by local electoral competition and the the spill-over effect of this competition on neighbouring areas. Contrary to much of the expectations in the literature on host-refugee dynamics and ethnic politics, she argues that local responses are driven primarily by local leaders' need to project a sense of order to residents. In areas where neighbouring towns and villages have recourse to discriminatory curfews, mayors and municipal leaders faced greater pressure to act, and curfews present a relatively low cost policy mechanism through which to alleviate fears and project authority.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speaker:
Lama Mourad, postdoctoral fellow at Perry World House, University of Pennsylvania, and a SSHRC-postdoctoral fellow at Harvard University and University of Pennsylvania.

Lama received her PhD from the Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto. In 2018-2019, she was a pre-doctoral fellow with the Middle East Initiative at Harvard Kennedy School of Government's Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs. She specializes in comparative politics and the politics of migration, with a regional focus on the Middle East

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Beyond the 1951 Convention: What are State responsibilities towards refugees according to the 1967 Protocol

12:30-2:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 4, 2020
York University
519 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
York University
Toronto ON M3J 1P3
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/crs-seminar-tbc-2

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speaker:
Robert Barsky, Canada Research Chair: Law, Narrative and Border Crossing, Department of Law and Legal Studies, Carleton University

Description: Prof. Barsky will discuss the letters, minutes of meetings, memos, and reports that pertain to the negotiations leading up to the 1967 Protocol. These documents show that the ambitions of the 19 legal experts who convened in Bellagio in 1965 were far more wide-ranging than simply removing the temporal (pre-1951) and geographical (Europe) limitations of the 1951 Convention. Rather, the documents reveal complex discussions about how to create a stand-alone treaty that would expand the Convention's reach and render it more adaptable to new refugee situations, while not impeding any more expansive regional instruments that might come to be adopted.

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Overview of the H-1B Electronic Registration Process: A Webinar for Registrants

2:00-3:30 p.m. ET, Thursday, February 6, 2020
U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services
Tomich Conference Center
111 Massachusetts Ave.
NW, Washington, DC
https://www.uscis.gov/outreach/overview-h-1b-electronic-registration-process-a-webinar-registrants

Description: During this webinar, USCIS representatives will provide an instructional presentation of the new H-1B electronic registration process in myUSCIS for registrants. Another webinar specifically tailored for attorneys and representatives will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 11.

On Jan. 9, USCIS published a Federal Register notice to formally announce the implementation of the H-1B electronic registration process for fiscal year 2021

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

H-1B cap-subject petitions.

H-1B cap-subject petitioners, including those eligible for the advanced degree exemption, are required to first register prospective beneficiaries electronically with USCIS and pay the associated H-1B registration fee in order to enter the beneficiaries into the selection process for filing an H-1B cap-subject petition for FY 2021.

We are hosting this webinar to allow users to familiarize themselves with the new electronic registration process.

To Register:

Visit our webinar registration page.
Enter your email address and select “Submit.”
Select “Subscriber Preferences.”
Select the “Event Registration” tab.
Complete the questions and select “Submit.”

Once we process your registration for the webinar, you will receive a confirmation email with additional details.

If you have any questions, or if you have not received a confirmation email within two business days, please email us at public.engagement@uscis.dhs.gov.

To request a disability accommodation to participate in this engagement, email us at public.engagement@uscis.dhs.gov by Feb. 3.

Note to media: This webinar is not for press purposes. Please contact the USCIS Press Office at 202-272-1200 for any media inquiries.

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8.

State-Based Visas: Should States Lead on Immigration?

9:00-10:15 a.m. EST, February 7, 2020
Cato Institute
1000 Massachusetts Ave, NW
Washington, DC 20001-5403
https://www.cato.org/events/state-based-visas-should-states-lead-on-immigration

Speakers:
Gary Herbert, Governor of Utah

Rep. John Curtis (R-Utah)

Moderator:
Alex Nowrasteh, Director of Immigration Studies, Cato Institute.

Description: Reforming the immigration visa system is crucial for the future of the United States. In late 2019, Rep. John Curtis (R-UT), supported by Gov. Gary Herbert, introduced a bill to create a state-based visa system. Curtis's proposal adopts a major component of the Canadian immigration system: visas sponsored by individual states rather than the federal government. Under the legislation, the federal government maintains control over admissions, security checks, and other necessary criteria, while the state governments gain power to select individual migrants and regulate their activity within the state. Each state would get an average of 10,000 visas a year: 5,000 guaranteed for each state and an additional number assigned based on population.

With the partisan gridlock that has characterized Washington politics for at least the past two decades, can and should states lead the way on immigration by utilizing a state-based visa system? Join the Cato Institute's Alex Nowrasteh for a panel discussion with Representative Curtis and Governor Herbert for a policy deep dive on how state-based visas can reform our nation's broken immigration system.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

9.

Democracy and Immigrant Welfare Rights

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, February 7, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/02/democracy-immigrant-welfare

Speaker:
Friederike Römer
Postdoctoral Researcher, CRC Global Dynamics of Social Polity, University of Bremen
John F. Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: Do countries with stronger democracies grant immigrants more welfare rights than countries where democracy is less developed? Comparative empirical analyses of immigrant welfare rights are often restricted to developed democracies in Europe.

This presentation will discuss democracy as the backdrop and as an explanatory factor for formulating and testing hypotheses on immigrant welfare rights.

Return to Top

****

****

10.

Discrimination and Delegation: Explaining State Responses to Refugees

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, February 14, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14186

Speaker:
Lamis Abdelaaty, Assistant Professor, Political Science, Syracuse University

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the "discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the "delegation puzzle"). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

Return to Top

****
****

11.
World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges

Monday-Friday, February 17-21, 2020
Radisson San José
Calle Central y Tercera Av. 15
San José, Costa Rica
https://10times.com/conferenciamundial-iarmj

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: The World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges is themed as A New World on the Move: The Realities of Irregular Mass Migration and the Challenges Facing Asylum and Immigration Judges Background and it is indeed a great opportunity for the Americas Chapter of the IARMJ to focus on the increase of mixed flows of people who cross international borders, whether forced to seek international protection or migrants with other characteristics and profiles.

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Southeastern Immigration Studies Association Conference

Current Trends in Immigration Research and Activism

Thursday-Saturday, February 20-22, 2020
The Citadel
Charleston, SC
https://sites.google.com/view/southeasternimmigrationstudies

[Conference details are still pending.]

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer---Kang-2-24-20.pdf

Speakers:
S. Deborah Kang, Visiting Scholar, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Associate Professor of History, California State University San Marcos

Description: During the Great Depression, states and localities expelled nearly a half-million ethnic Mexicans from the United States. Yet, in the midst of these removals, the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) launched an initiative to reform the hardships surrounding federal deportation policy. In the process, it expanded the legal architecture by which undocumented Europeans could be legalized. Drawing upon a chapter from her second book project, Undocumented Immigration and Immigration Legalization in the United States, 1906-1986, Kang will describe a legalization program created for Russian immigrants and its implications for the development of US refugee and immigration policies.

Return to Top

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Biometrics for Government & Law Enforcement 2020

Wednesday-Friday, February 26-28, 2020
Key Bridge Marriott
1401 Lee Highway

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Arlington, VA 22209
https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/iqpcbiometricsgovlaw2020main952gw9IGMFCGt7uAhGjn0ptF7KpEyrOqVDDuc8qj8.pdf

Program agenda:

Wednesday, February 26, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Integrating Biometric Capabilities into the National Counterterrorism Effort

* Biometric technologies of interest to supplement NCTC mission sets
* Efforts to share terrorism information analysis across the CT enterprise
* NCTC vision for biometric utilization: necessary next steps

Pete Hall, Acting Deputy Director, NCTC

10:30 a.m.
Making the Invisible Visible: Utilizing Biometrics to Stop Crime

Biometric data can be used to provide valuable investigative leads and supplement investigative capabilities. The FBI is continuously expanding its use with identity intelligence, to include DNA, fingerprints, video surveillance and iris recognition. Speaker will discuss emerging technologies and ways to leverage these tools.

Tina Delgado, Section Chief, FBI Laboratory

12:30 p.m.
Delta Looks Ahead: Partnering with CBP and TSA

Delta Airlines was the first airline to collaborate with Customs Border Protection and the Transportation Security Administration to install the first ever fully biometric terminal in Atlanta. This partnership will create a seamless experience for the everyday traveler.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Providing smooth and excellent customer experience for travelers using facial recognition
* Cutting down time spent before flights and increase customer interactions with employees
* Enhancing security at airline touch points

Filipe Pereira dos Reis, Regional Director Airport Passenger Cargo and Security, International Air Transport Association UIT

Tuesday, February 27, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Advancing Biometrics with Customs and Border: What does the future hold?

* Advancing passenger systems and passenger name records with biometrics
* Monitoring security at all modes of transportation, air, land, and sea
* Centralizing access to biometric data Nael Samha, Director Passenger Systems and Biometrics, Customs and Border Protection

9:45 a.m.
How HSI is currently utilizing various types of Biometric and cutting edge technologies to aid in its investigations

* AI/machine learning – S/A Ben Teed
* Rapid DNA/Biometrics – Section Chief Brandon Stiefer
* Biometric Identification Transnational Migration Alert Program (BITMAP)

Section Chief Hillary Hodge

11:00 a.m.
Enhancing Security with Multi-modal Authentication Systems

Multimodal biometric systems allow multiple methods of identification which creates stronger security. They are more accurate, reliable, and provide less room for vulnerability against attacks.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Replacing passwords with multi-modal biometrics to provide convenience and low password management costs
* Increasing verification accuracy to enhance protection
* Combining biometrics with cloud based solutions

11:45 a.m.
NIST continues effort to develop standards, measurement methods and best practices to deliver superior image based biometrics analytics
Craig Watson, Image Group Manager, NIST

1:30 p.m.
Utilizing Biometrics to Maximize Efficiency in Processing and Authenticating Immigration Requests

Brian Broderick, Deputy Chief Identity and information Management Division, Immigration Records Identity Services

2:15 p.m.
Incorporating Behavioral Biometrics in Ensuring Safety and Continuous Authentication

Analyzing the behavior of humans such as their speech, key strokes, gait, signature and cognition is starting to become more acceptable for the everyday consumer. The next step is to use it to maintain top notch security in government and corporations.

* Using behavioral biometrics as a form of user authentication

Tuesday, February 28, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Operation of Customs and Border Protection Entry/Exit Program

The Customs and Border Protection Entry/Exit Program was established to protect and prevent a threat during transportation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Confirming foreign departures from top U.S. airports using facial recognition software
* Completing CBP's overall goal of enhancing security for public safety

Jeni Best, Acting Director Biometric Exit Strategic Transformation, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

10:30 a.m.

The Future of the Department of Homeland Security and Evolving Biometrics

The Department of Homeland Security is moving towards centralizing biometric data. DHS is seeking to expand their data analysis capabilities for biometrics in ways that can change the game forever.

* Moving the Homeland Advanced Recognition to cloud base systems
* Analyzing matched faces, fingers prints, and Irises using HART
* Analyzing the future of biometrics technology and DHS's utilization

Arun Vemury, Director of Biometric and Identity Technology Center, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

12:00 p.m.

Using Machine Learning/ AI in Biometrics to Enhance Security Efforts

The combination of both AI and Biometrics will help strengthen security across facilities. Artificial intelligence is a useful tool in both multimodal and behavioral biometrics.

* Reducing the tolerance for error
* Learning and accounting for subtle changes in an individual's behavior
* Using AI to keep systems up to date and decrease false positives by analyzing things like handwritten or typing biometrics

12:45 p.m.

The US Army and the development of the 'Next Generation of Biometric Collection'

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The US Army is transforming their use of biometrics with a new biometric collection data system. Although the current tool, 'The Biometric Automated Tool Set' is still effective, the new system will have enormous benefits.

* Utilizing a light weight and more compact device for face scanning
* Getting DNA and voice biometric systems on a contactless basis without requiring human contact EAB

1:30 p.m.
Vein Biometrics: Are Hand Gestures The New Replacements to Passwords

Vein biometrics is a new and upcoming form of biometric data and is said to be the most secure form yet.

* Using finger vein recognition to access software – all you need to do is wave
* Reducing the risk of hacking threats and stolen biometrics

2:15 p.m.
Helping to combat crime: Using Biometrics to Bring Your Children Home

* Utilizing biometric data and technology to find missing children
* Sharing data and findings across different sectors

Carol Schweizer, Supervisor Case Manager, Forensics National Center for Missing and Exploited Children
Colin McNally, National Center for Missing and Exploited Children

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Indignity and Indignation: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
Lower Level Library

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/speaker-series-sarah-willen-professor-anthropology-and-director-research-program-global

Speaker:
Sarah Willen, Professor of Anthropology and Director of the Research Program on Global Health and Human Rights, University of Connecticut

Description: Sarah Willen is the author of Fighting for Dignity: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins. In Fighting for Dignity, Sarah S. Willen explores what happened when the Israeli government launched an aggressive deportation campaign targeting newly arrived migrants from countries as varied as Ghana and the Philippines, Nigeria, Colombia, and Ukraine. Although the campaign was billed as a solution to high unemployment, it had another goal as well: to promote an exclusionary vision of Israel as a Jewish state in which non-Jews have no place. The deportation campaign quickly devastated Tel Aviv's migrant communities and set the stage for even more aggressive antimigrant and antirefugee policies in the years to come.

Fighting for Dignity traces the roots of this deportation campaign in Israeli history and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and shows how policies that illegalize and criminalize migrants wreak havoc in their lives, endanger their health, and curtail the human capacity to flourish. Children born to migrant parents are especially vulnerable to developmental and psychosocial risks. Drawing on nearly two decades of ethnographic engagement in homes and in churches, medical offices, advocacy organizations, and public spaces, Willen shows how migrants struggle to craft meaningful, flourishing lives despite the exclusions and vulnerabilities they endure. To complement their perspectives, she introduces Israeli activists who reject their government's exclusionary agenda and strive to build bridges across difference, repair violations of migrants' dignity, and resist policies that violate their own moral convictions. Willen's vivid and unflinching ethnography challenges us to reconsider our understandings of global migration, human rights, the Middle East— and even dignity itself.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

16.

Conference on the Venezuela Refugee Crisis

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-3:00 p.m., Friday, February 28, 2020
Haines Hall 352
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14189

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the "discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the "delegation puzzle"). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

17.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-703 - Newcomers to Citizens: Immigrant Integration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Wednesday, March 2-4, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=14536

Course Description: With a record 200 million people living outside their country of birth, immigration is a global phenomenon with profound demographic, economic, social, and political implications for both sending and receiving countries. The debate over immigration law and policy has become increasingly volatile and, in some instances, characterized by misinformation, hate, and xenophobia. Beyond the politics of immigration, genuine challenges to immigrant integration abound. Successful integration of immigrants is critical to the long-term prosperity of host countries that rely on immigrants as workers, consumers, taxpayers, innovators, and entrepreneurs in light of their aging native-born populations and lower birth rates. In this course we will explore integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving countries--such as the United States and Canada and new countries of permanent immigration such as France, Germany, the United Kingdom. We will raise questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity. We will also discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism, paradigms that challenge an integrationist reading of migration. Using case studies from North America and Europe we will pay special attention to the different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation on their road from newcomers to citizens.

Course Objectives:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Discuss the integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving and source countries.
* Recognize questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity.
* Discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism.
* Compare different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation.

Instructor: Jennifer Wistrand

Notes: This course is an open enrollment course. No application is required and registration is available by clicking "Add to Cart." Current students must register with their Georgetown NetID and password. New students will be prompted to create an account prior to registration.

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Border Security Expo

Wednesday-Thursday, March 11-12, 2020
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center
900 E Market Street
San Antonio, TX 78205
https://www.bordersecurityexpo.com/

Conference agenda:

Keynotes:
Ronald D. Vitiello, Deputy Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Vice Admiral Scott Buschman, Director, Joint Task Force-East

Scott A. Luck, Deputy Chief, U.S. Border Patrol

John P. Sanders, Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Panels:

National Vetting Center: What is It? What isn't It? And How Will It Change the Way We Protect the Homeland?

This session will focus on the National Vetting Center (NVC) and how it will complement the National Targeting Center (NTC). Experts from the NVC, NTC, as well as other members of the Intelligence Community, will discuss why the NVC is critical to the Homeland and next steps. The NVC will be operational at the time of the Expo, enabling the audience and panels to discuss the implementation.

Mass Migration and Unaccompanied Children: Financial and National Security Impacts

This panel will be comprised of experts from ICE Homeland Security Investigations assigned to the U.S., Mexico, and Central America. The panel will discuss the financial impact on the U.S., Mexico, and Central American countries in addressing the issues related mass migration and unaccompanied children attempting to enter the U.S. The panel will discuss human trafficking, organized human smuggling organizations, and national security issues relating to mass migration and unaccompanied children. The panel will provide publicly releasable information relating to "The Caravan" that reached the U.S./Border in November 2018.

Border: Wall – Ports – System(s) – Technology – Infrastructure – Integration – Modernization

Panel will discuss the immediate, near term, and out-year capability requirements, goals, and vision for border operations including infrastructure updates; technology needs, requirements, and planning; initiatives; modernization; and deployments.

Model Port: How Technology, Public-Private Partnerships, and Innovation Will Continue to Change the Way Ports-of-Entry Operate

This panel will be comprised of experts from the federal/local governments and industry. It will highlight what will take place at the POE in Donna, Texas and why it is important to the country's national and economic security. Technology will play a key role in defining the Model Port. A representative from the City of Donna will explain why this investment is important to the local community. CBP Headquarters staff will address the Donation Assistance Program and why it is necessary to make the Model Port a reality.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A Dialogue with Tenoch Moreno, General Customs Administration, Mexico: Current Operations and Future Thoughts

Procurement: Keeping Industry Current in the Complex Area of Government Procurement and the Mission Needs of Border Operators

This is a must-attend session for those who plan to compete for government contracts. Rules and regulations change frequently, and new requirements are placed on industry. Industry must have a clear understanding of the mission needs of the border operators. Government and industry experts will discuss best practices and explain how to best leverage the many opportunities that support the daily mission of CBP and other agencies. Government panelists will include Senior Executives from CBP procurement and the new office of Operations Support.

Complete conference agenda will be available at end of December.

Return to Top

****

****

19.

Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

Return to Top

****
****

20.
Author Meets Critics Event: Refuge Beyond Reach

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14188

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: In Refuge beyond Reach, David Scott FitzGerald traces how rich democracies have deliberately and systematically shut down most legal paths to safety. Drawing on official government documents, information obtained via WikiLeaks, and interviews with asylum seekers, he finds that for ninety-nine percent of refugees, the only way to find safety in one of the prosperous democracies of the Global North is to reach its territory and then ask for asylum. FitzGerald shows how the US, Canada, Europe, and Australia comply with the letter of law while violating the spirit of those laws through a range of deterrence methods -- first designed to keep out Jews fleeing the Nazis -- that have now evolved into a pervasive global system of "remote control." While some of the most draconian remote control practices continue in secret, Fitzgerald identifies some pressure points and finds that a diffuse humanitarian obligation to help those in need is more difficult for governments to evade than the law alone.

Return to Top

****
****

21.
The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE
Washington, DC 20002

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

[Conference agenda has not yet been announced]

Return to Top

****

****

22.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in 2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and for national and international politics

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

Speaker:
Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the University of London

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through 'golden doors'. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

Return to Top

****
****

24.
The Issue of Immigration in America: Moving Beyond Walls and Open Borders

4:30–6:00 p.m., Friday, April 24, 2020
Heinz College – Hamburg Hall A301
Carnegie Mellon University
5000 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890
https://www.heinz.cmu.edu/events/the-issue-of-immigration-in-america

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: In the United States, the issue of immigration gives rise to controversy and conflict. This issue requires us to wrestle with challenging questions about many things, including:

Who should be admitted to the US as an immigrant (family members, skilled workers, etc.)?

How many people should the US admit as immigrants (should we increase, decrease or keep current levels)?

What rules should guide the immigration process (and how should these rules be enforced)?

How should we address the problems (social, political, and economic) that cause people to migrate from their home countries?

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56,
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maggy Smith

From: Maggy Smith
Sent: Wednesday, January 29, 2020 10:21 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Please Act Now

Law,

I just walked out of our final membership team meeting of the month, and I wanted to remind you that you haven't activated your Heritage membership this year. The deadline is Friday, so please act quickly!

We need you to join us. Help us push back against radical liberals who are determined to undo our conservative policy victories. We can't do it alone.

I know you wouldn't want your Heritage membership to expire. Your membership has accomplished so much in advancing your principles of limited government and individual liberty.

Now, in this critical year, the conservative movement needs you most.

Here's your secure link to activate your membership today: https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

Thank you so much for all you do for Heritage!

Best,

Maggy Smith
Membership Programs

P.S. Please don't abandon the progress you've made in advancing your principles of free enterprise, limited government, individual freedom, traditional American values, and a strong national defense to chance this year. This is the time for all conservatives to rally. Please act now: https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

The Heritage Foundation

The Heritage Foundation | 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted] (b)(6) If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ries, Lora

From:	Ries, Lora
Sent:	Wednesday, January 29, 2020 12:54 PM
To:	Law, Robert T
Subject:	FW: Letter to Wolf asking for more foreign workers

Rob,
Can I give you a call re this H-2B letter?
Thanks.
-Lora

From: Howell, Mike <Mike.Howell@heritage.org>
Sent: Wednesday, January 29, 2020 1:28 PM
To: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Subject: Letter to Wolf asking for more foreign workers

https://www.rounds.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/H2B%20Visa%20Letter%20to%20Acting%20Secretary%20Wolf.pdf

---

Mike Howell
Senior Advisor, Executive Branch Relations
x1545

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Wednesday, January 29, 2020 4:52 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: The State of U.S. Immigration Courts

The State of U.S. Immigration Courts

CIS fellow testifies before House Judiciary Committee

Washington, D.C. (January 29, 2020) – The U.S. House Judiciary

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Committee's Subcommittee on Immigration and Citizenship examined "The State of Judicial Independence and Due Process in U.S. Immigration Courts" today. The nation's 465 immigration judges serving in the 63 immigration courts face many challenges, including a caseload of more than one million pending cases, not counting hundreds of thousands that are administratively closed.

Just returned from visiting the U.S. southern border, tent courts, and a residential detention center, Andrew Arthur, the Center's resident fellow in law and policy and past immigration judge, testified that "The administration, and in particular DOJ, have responded to that crisis where Congress has not. Using their certification authority, the last three attorneys general have created bright-line rules for immigration judges (IJs) and the BIA to follow on continuances, adjudicating asylum claims, and assessing the immigration consequences of post-conviction relief, among other issues. The administration has fought for funding and worked with our regional partners to craft policies to turn off the magnets that draw migrants to enter illegally."

Arthur concluded, "These policies, though controversial, have worked, and done so consistent with due process. December 2019 saw the lowest number of migrants apprehended at the border in 15 months."

Performance metrics for IJs, instituted in October 2018, have also been controversial, but Arthur noted that last year, IJs completed more than 275,000 cases, 92 percent more than in FY 2016, with just 97 IJ complaints, 42 percent fewer than four years before. Furthermore, the number of circuit-court remands to EOIR (602) is the lowest in the last 12 years, and just over one-third of the number of remands in FY 2008 (1,799).

Arthur's testimony: https://cis.org/Testimony/Courts-Crisis-State-Judicial-Independence-and-Due-Process-US-Immigration-Courts

Arthur also spoke out strongly against creating an independent Article I court, placing the courts outside the executive branch. He pointed out the importance of having the Attorney General involved due to the role foreign policy needs to play, the likelihood that in the future Congress could cut resources if they disagree with its opinions, and the serious constitutional issues. Arthur recommended providing judges more resources and bright-line rules and taking actions to shut off the magnet that attracts so many aliens to the U.S.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Arthur notes that "The creation of an Article I court will not address any of the issues that the panel was focused on—backlogs, inconsistent grant rates among immigration judges, ineffective service of hearing notices, and the treatment of alien minors. Those are all issues that are best dealt with by EOIR, with appropriate oversight by the Department of Justice and Congress. The real issue facing the immigration courts is the increase in the backlog of cases, which was caused by the surge of migrants at the southern border. That surge was caused by loopholes in the law those migrants, and their smugglers, exploited to gain entry to the United States. The proposal to move the immigration judges and Board of Immigration Appeals to an Article I court is a solution in search of a problem."

Interesting Immigration Court and BIA Statistics
The Massive Increase in the Immigration Court Backlog
Senate Testimony: Strengthening and Reforming America's Immigration Court System
Immigration Myths vs Facts vs 'Round Table'
On the Notion of Article I Immigration Courts

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Maggy Smith

From:	Maggy Smith
Sent:	Thursday, January 30, 2020 7:49 AM
To:	Law, Robert T
Subject:	24 Hours Remain

Dear XXXNameXXX,

Our membership drive ends tomorrow, activate your membership with the Heritage Foundation today.

When you become a Heritage member, you push conservative policies like border security and immigration reform, making the tax cut permanent, and Obamacare repeal to the Trump administration and Congress.

In the last three years, America has become freer and more prosperous. Our economy is booming, and more people are working than at any point in our great nation's history.

But all of this is at risk in this critical year—please don't leave your progress to chance.

Use this link to activate your Heritage membership for 2020 today:
https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

Thank you so much for your support. We can't restore America without you.

Best,

Maggy Smith
Membership Programs

P.S. Joining Heritage means we can fight together for border security, strong education reforms, and greater election integrity. None of us can fight liberals by ourselves. Band together with us today:
https://secured.heritage.org/_2020/kickoff

The Heritage Foundation

The Heritage Foundation | 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, D.C. 20002 | (800) 546-2843

(b)(6)

You are subscribed to Heritage Foundation e-mails as [redacted]. If you want to change your e-mail preferences, please click here to update your subscription.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, January 31, 2020 10:02 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 1/31/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 1/31/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, David North, Todd Bensman, Jason Peña, John Miano, and Jerry Kammer
2. "Why It's Safe to Declare Trump Victory Over the 2019 Migrant Crisis. But Violent Caravans Aim to Take It Away," Todd Bensman
3. "By Turning Back Caravans, Mexico Is Acting as Trump's Border Wall, Critics Say," Patrick J. McDonnell and Kate Linthicum
4. "Credit Trump With Immigration Policy Innovations," Neil Patel
5. "SCOTUS: Trump's Immigration 'Public Charge' Rule is Good to Go Pending Appeals," Kemberlee Kaye
6. "Supremes Give Trump Border Victory, Spank Lower Courts for 'Cosmic' Injunctions," WorldNetDaily.com, January 27, 2020
7. "A Blow For Liberation From Left-Wing Judges," John Hinderaker
8. "Mexico Is Paying for Trump's Wall," Wayne Allyn Root
9. "Legal Immigration Reform Needed, Too – THIS System Would Ensure a Better Future for All," Helen Raleigh
10. "Dreaming of a Dreamer Deal," Jim Geraghty
11. "Illegal Immigrants Shouldn't Get Social Security Benefits," Rep. Ted Budd
12. "Democrats Defend Drunk Drivers," Lloyd Billingsley
13. "Commissar Sanders Already Prepping Executive Orders on Open Borders and Abortion," Daniel Greenfield
14. "De Blasio's 'Sanctuary City' Laws Leave NYC at the Mercy of Dangerous Criminals," Miranda Devine
15. "Democrats Don't Care About American Lives," Lloyd Marcus
16. "Protesting Immigration Judges Have It All Wrong," Matt O'Brien
17. "Making Victims Out of Terrorists to Slander President Trump," Matt O'Brien
18. "Don't Dilute Our State's Already Lax Immigration Enforcement," The Lowell Sun
19. "A Rare Display of Nonpartisanship on Immigration," Joe Guzzardi
20. "Elitist Ivanka Trump Wants More Skilled Immigration – But What Does She Really Know?," Joe Guzzardi
21. "It's Super Bowl Time and ICE SVU Isn't Arresting Illegal Aliens," Federale
22. "ICE Fights Back Against New York's Anarcho-Tyranny—Trump MUST Make Sanctuary Cities Key 2020 Issue," Washington Watcher II

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

23. "Showdowns on the Suchiate, Falling Border Crossings—Trump Forcing Mexico to Block the Central American Immivasion," Allan Wall
24. "What Do Immigrants Want and How Do They Get It?," Andy J. Semotiuk
25. "Democrats Need to Listen to Neil Gorsuch's Surprisingly Good Idea," Ian Millhiser
26. "The Liberal Case for Immigration Should Include National Security," Mauro Guillen
27. "Foreign Brains Help America Compete," Zachary Arnold and Remco Zwetsloot
28. "Trump's Immigration Victory Targets Migrants on Food Stamps," Rachel Sandler
29. "ICE Says It Will Deport Dreamers. Will the Supreme Court Let It?," Alida Garcia
30. "Immigration Law Is a Mystery and a Mastery of Obfuscation," Margaret Stock
31. "Trump's Goal of Keeping Out Low-Income Immigrants Just Got a Big Boost From the Supreme Court," Nicole Narea
32. "The Lie of the Immigrant Welfare Queen," Shikha Dalmia
33. "Immigrants Who Rely on Public Benefits Are Actually Essential to the US Economy," Annalisa Merelli
34. "It's Time to Don Mourning Clothes for the America We Knew. Poor Immigrants, Stay Away.," Fabiola Santiago
35. " 'American Dirt' Tries to Pretend That Immigration Isn't Political," Julissa Arce
36. "Covering Immigration in the Time of Trump," Brendan Fitzgerald
37. "Pregnancy Profiling: Latest Nativist Immigration Policy From Trump," By Dina Francesca Haynes
38. "What's Happening to Trump's Travel Ban?," Walter Ewing

1.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

Ask for Something, Offer Nothing: California's Way of Struggling Out of the Bag It Has Put Itself Into

January 28, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://cis.org/Cadman/Ask-Something-Offer-Nothing-Californias-Way-Struggling-Out-Bag-It-Has-Put-Itself

Using Bonds to Reinforce the New Birth Tourism Restrictions
January 27, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Using-Bonds-Reinforce-New-Birth-Tourism-Restrictions

By Andrew R. Arthur

More Proof Walls Work: Mexico, DHS Close Huge Border Tunnel
But don't the drugs come through the ports?
January 31, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/More-Proof-Walls-Work-Mexico-DHS-Close-Huge-Border-Tunnel

Courts in Crisis: The State of Judicial Independence and Due Process in U.S. Immigration Courts
Testimony Before the House Judiciary Committee, Subcommittee on Immigration and Citizenship
January 29, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Testimony/Courts-Crisis-State-Judicial-Independence-and-Due-Process-US-Immigration-Courts

By David North

Obscure DHS Statistical Set Reveals Decline of Marginal Colleges
January 31, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Obscure-DHS-Statistical-Set-Reveals-Decline-Marginal-Colleges

Big Tech Unwittingly Creates Argument Against OPT Program
January 29, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Big-Tech-Unwittingly-Creates-Argument-Against-OPT-Program

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Todd Bensman

Human-Smuggling 'Polleros' Bypassing Mexico's National Guard Deployment Despite Its Relative Success
'The immigrants are getting behind us'
January 30, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/HumanSmuggling-Polleros-Bypassing-Mexicos-National-Guard-Deployment-Despite-Its-Relative

Video: 'Extra-Continental' Migration to Southern Border
U.S. lags Mexico in addressing this misunderstood next threat
January 29, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/Video-ExtraContinental-Migration-Southern-Border

By Jason Peña

Mexico Deports More than 2,000 Caravan Migrants to Honduras
January 28, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Mexico-Deports-More-2000-Caravan-Migrants-Honduras

Another Migrant Caravan from El Salvador Prepares to Head to the U.S.
January 28, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Another-Migrant-Caravan-El-Salvador-Prepares-Head-US

By John Miano

SCOTUS Ruling on Public-Charge Regulation Could Help Dissuade 'Lawfare' Against Trump Policies
January 30, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Miano/SCOTUS-Ruling-PublicCharge-Regulation-Could-Help-Dissuade-Lawfare-Against-Trump-Policies

By Jerry Kammer

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Kudos to Jason DeParle for His New Book on Immigration
An immigration expansionist who merits attention beyond his tribe
January 30, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Kammer/Kudos-Jason-DeParle-His-New-Book-Immigration

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Why It's Safe to Declare Trump Victory Over the 2019 Migrant Crisis. But Violent Caravans Aim to Take It Away
By Todd Bensman
Townhall.com, January 27, 2020
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/toddbensman/2020/01/27/why-its-safe-to-declare-trump-victory-over-the-2019-migrant-crisis-but-violent-caravans-aim-to-take-it-away-n2560113

Return to Top

****
****

3.
By Turning Back Caravans, Mexico Is Acting as Trump's Border Wall, Critics Say
By Patrick J. McDonnell and Kate Linthicum
The Los Angeles Times, January 24, 2020
. . .
https://www.latimes.com/world-nation/story/2020-01-24/in-turning-back-caravans-mexico-becomes-trumps-wall

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

4.

Credit Trump With Immigration Policy Innovations

By Neil Patel

The Boston Herald, January 26, 2020

. . .

https://www.bostonherald.com/2020/01/26/credit-trump-with-immigration-policy-innovations/

Return to Top

****

****

5.

SCOTUS: Trump's Immigration "Public Charge" Rule is Good to Go Pending Appeals

By Kemberlee Kaye

Legal Insurrection, January 27, 2020

. . .

https://legalinsurrection.com/2020/01/scotus-trumps-immigration-public-charge-rule-is-good-to-go-pending-appeals/

Return to Top

****

****

6.

Supremes Give Trump Border Victory, Spank Lower Courts for 'Cosmic' Injunctions

U.S. judges get scolded for wildly overstepping their authority

WorldNetDaily.com, January 27, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.wnd.com/2020/01/supremes-give-trump-border-victory-spank-lower-courts-cosmic-injunctions/

Return to Top

****
****

7.
A Blow For Liberation From Left-Wing Judges
By John Hinderaker
PowerLine blog, January 27, 2020
. . .
https://www.powerlineblog.com/archives/2020/01/a-blow-for-liberation-from-left-wing-judges.php

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Mexico Is Paying for Trump's Wall
By Wayne Allyn Root
Townhall.com, January 26, 2020
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/wayneallynroot/2020/01/26/mexico-is-paying-for-trumps-wall-n2560095

Return to Top

****
****

9.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Legal Immigration Reform Needed, Too – THIS System Would Ensure a Better Future for All
By Helen Raleigh
Fox News, January 27, 2020
. . .
https://www.foxnews.com/opinion/helen-raleigh-legal-immigration-reform-needed-too-this-system-would-ensure-a-better-future-for-all

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Dreaming of a Dreamer Deal
By Jim Geraghty
National Review Online, January 27, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/2020/01/dreaming-of-a-dreamer-deal/

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Illegal Immigrants Shouldn't Get Social Security Benefits
By Rep. Ted Budd
Washington Examiner, January 29, 2020
. . .
https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/op-eds/rep-ted-budd-illegal-immigrants-shouldnt-get-social-security-benefits

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

12.

Democrats Defend Drunk Drivers

DUI defender and DACA fan Joe Biden picks up a key California endorsement.

By Lloyd Billingsley

FrontPageMag.com, January 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/01/democrats-defend-drunk-drivers-lloyd-billingsley

Return to Top

****

****

13.

Commissar Sanders Already Prepping Executive Orders on Open Borders and Abortion

By Daniel Greenfield

FrontPageMag.com, January 30, 2020

. . .

https://www.frontpagemag.com/point/2020/01/commissar-sanders-already-prepping-executive-daniel-greenfield/

Return to Top

****

****

14.

De Blasio's 'Sanctuary City' Laws Leave NYC at the Mercy of Dangerous Criminals

By Miranda Devine

The New York Post, January 29, 2020

. . .

https://nypost.com/2020/01/29/de-blasios-sanctuary-city-laws-leave-nyc-at-the-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

mercy-of-dangerous-criminals-devine/

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Democrats Don't Care About American Lives
By Lloyd Marcus
American Thinker, January 30, 2020
. . .
https://www.americanthinker.com/articles/2020/01/democrats_dont_care_about_american_lives.html

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Protesting Immigration Judges Have It All Wrong
By Matt O'Brien
ImmigrationReform.com, January 28, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/27/visas-foreign-nationals-terrorism-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Making Victims Out of Terrorists to Slander President Trump
By Matt O'Brien

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ImmigrationReform.com, January 27, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/01/27/visas-foreign-nationals-terrorism-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Don't Dilute Our State's Already Lax Immigration Enforcement
The Lowell Sun, January 28, 2020
. . .
https://www.lowellsun.com/2020/01/28/dont-dilute-our-states-already-lax-immigration-enforcement/

Return to Top

****
****

19.
A Rare Display of Nonpartisanship on Immigration
By Joe Guzzardi
The Post-Independent (CO), January 29, 2020
. . .
https://www.postindependent.com/opinion/columns/guzzardi-column-a-rare-display-of-nonpartisanship-on-immigration/

Return to Top

****
****

20.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Elitist Ivanka Trump Wants More Skilled Immigration – But What Does She Really Know?
By Joe Guzzardi
Medium.com, January 15, 2020
. . .
https://medium.com/@pajoeguzzardi/elitist-ivanka-trump-wants-more-skilled-immigration-but-what-does-she-really-know-a64d6f28a52d

Return to Top

****
****

21.
It's Super Bowl Time and ICE SVU Isn't Arresting Illegal Aliens
By Federale
VDare.com, January 28, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/it-s-super-bowl-time-and-ice-svu-isn-t-arresting-illegal-aliens

Return to Top

****
****

22.
ICE Fights Back Against New York's Anarcho-Tyranny—Trump MUST Make Sanctuary Cities Key 2020 Issue
By Washington Watcher II
VDare.com, January 28, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/ice-fights-back-against-new-york-s-anarcho-tyranny-trump-must-make-sanctuary-cities-key-2020-issue

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

23.

SAID IN SPANISH: Showdowns on the Suchiate, Falling Border Crossings —Trump Forcing Mexico to Block the Central American Immivasion

By Allan Wall

VDare.com, January 27, 2020

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/said-in-spanish-showdowns-on-the-suchiate-falling-border-crossings-trump-forcing-mexico-to-block-the-central-american-immivasion

Return to Top

****

****

24.

What Do Immigrants Want and How Do They Get It?

By Andy J. Semotiuk

Forbes.com, January 30, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/andyjsemotiuk/2020/01/30/what-do-immigrants-want-and-how-do-they-get-it/#65128a0f20cd

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Democrats Need to Listen to Neil Gorsuch's Surprisingly Good Idea

Sometimes, it's better to give your opponent what they want.

By Ian Millhiser

VOX.com, January 29, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.vox.com/2020/1/29/21094603/supreme-court-decision-on-immigration-neil-gorsuch-democrats

Return to Top

****
****

26.
The Liberal Case for Immigration Should Include National Security
By Mauro Guillen
TheHill.com, January 28, 2020
. . .
https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/480326-the-liberal-case-for-immigration-should-include-national-security

Return to Top

****
****

27.
Foreign Brains Help America Compete
STEM grads rely on OPT, an embattled visa program.
By Zachary Arnold and Remco Zwetsloot
The Wall Street Journal, January 29, 2020
. . .
https://www.wsj.com/articles/foreign-brains-help-america-compete-11580341875

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

28.

Trump's Immigration Victory Targets Migrants on Food Stamps

By Rachel Sandler

Forbes.com, January 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/rachelsandler/2020/01/27/supreme-court-allows-trump-to-enforce-rule-penalizing-migrants-on-food-stamps-medicaid/#58e8f77449d3

Return to Top

****

****

29.

ICE Says It Will Deport Dreamers. Will the Supreme Court Let It?

By Alida Garcia

Newsweek.com, January 30, 2020

. . .

https://www.newsweek.com/ice-says-it-will-deport-dreamers-will-supreme-court-let-it-opinion-1484875

Return to Top

****

****

30.

Immigration Law Is a Mystery and a Mastery of Obfuscation

By Margaret Stock

The Alaska Landmine, January 25, 2020

. . .

https://alaskalandmine.com/landmines/immigration-law-is-a-mystery-and-a-mastery-of-obfuscation/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

31.

Trump's Goal of Keeping Out Low-Income Immigrants Just Got a Big Boost From the Supreme Court

The justices voted 5-4 to allow the "public charge" rule to go into effect.

By Nicole Narea

VOX.com, January 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.vox.com/policy-and-politics/2020/1/27/21080072/public-charge-rule-benefits-immigrant-supreme-court

Return to Top

****

****

32.

The Lie of the Immigrant Welfare Queen

By Shikha Dalmia

TheWeek.com, January 28, 2020

. . .

https://theweek.com/articles/889620/lie-immigrant-welfare-queen

Return to Top

****

****

33.

Immigrants Who Rely on Public Benefits Are Actually Essential to the US Economy

By Annalisa Merelli

Quartz.com, January 30, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://qz.com/1790918/immigrants-who-use-public-benefits-are-essential-to-us-economy/

Return to Top

****
****

34.
It's Time to Don Mourning Clothes for the America We Knew. Poor Immigrants, Stay Away.
By Fabiola Santiago
The Miami Herald, January 28, 2020
. . .
https://www.miamiherald.com/news/local/news-columns-blogs/fabiola-santiago/article239710063.html#storylink=cpy

Return to Top

****
****

35.
"American Dirt" Tries to Pretend That Immigration Isn't Political
As a formerly undocumented Mexican immigrant, I've longed for more books telling our stories to be published and celebrated. Jeanine Cummins' American Dirt is not what I was hoping for.
By Julissa Arce
BuzzFeed, January 29, 2020
. . .
https://www.buzzfeednews.com/article/julissaarce/american-dirt-jeanine-cummins-immigration

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

36.

Covering Immigration in the Time of Trump

By Brendan Fitzgerald

Columbia Journalism Review, January 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.cjr.org/politics/immigration-journalism-trump-migratory-notes.php

Return to Top

****

****

37.

Pregnancy Profiling: Latest Nativist Immigration Policy From Trump

By Dina Francesca Haynes

TheHill.com, January 27, 2020

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/healthcare/480024-pregnancy-profiling-latest-nativist-immigration-policy-from-trump

Return to Top

****

****

38.

What's Happening to Trump's Travel Ban?

By Walter Ewing

ImmigrationImpact.com, January 27, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/01/27/whats-happening-to-trumps-travel-ban/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Saturday, February 1, 2020 12:45 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: DHS Announces Expansion of Travel Restrictions

Share Tweet Forward

DHS Announces Expansion of Travel Restrictions

Washington, D.C. (February 1, 2020) – Citing national security interests, DHS has announced new travel restrictions for six countries, to take effect February

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

22. DHS and State Department officials say that as many as 12,400 immigrant visa applicants could be affected (based on 2018 issuances from those countries), but of course there will be waivers. The policy applies to anyone who has not been issued a visa within the next three weeks.

Burma, Eritrea, Kyrgyzstan, Nigeria - all immigrant visas fall under the ban Sudan and Tanzania - only lottery immigrant visas banned

Visas already issued will remain valid (presumably even if travel takes place after the restrictions go into effect), and applicants from these countries will automatically be considered for a waiver (whether they ask for one or not).

Jessica Vaughan, the Center's director of policy studies, commented, "Citizens of listed countries can still obtain long and short-term 'temporary' visas, including work and student programs. This begs the question: if the country's identification security and risk profile is a problem, shouldn't we also bar temporary applicants, where scrutiny is even more cursory?"

Acting DHS Secretary Wolf spoke to the need for the restrictions, "It is logical and essential to thoroughly screen and vet everyone seeking to travel or immigrate to the United States. However, there are some countries from whom the U.S. does not receive the necessary information about its travelers and, as a result, pose a national security or public safety risk that warrants tailored travel restrictions."

Five of the six – all but Kyrgyzstan – have been listed by federal immigration officials as also being "recalcitrant" or "at risk of being designated recalcitrant", that is, failing to readily accept their citizens back after deportation.

The administration makes the restrictions as permitted by Section 212(f) of the INA which states, in pertinent part:

Whenever the President finds that the entry of any aliens or of any class of aliens into the United States would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, he may by proclamation, and for such period as he shall deem necessary, suspend the entry of all aliens or any class of aliens as immigrants or nonimmigrants, or impose on the entry of aliens any restrictions he may deem to be appropriate.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

US Invokes Visa Sanctions against Six Nations

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, February 3, 2020 11:14 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 2/3/20

What's Happening at the Center

Last Wednesday, Andrew Arthur testified on the current crisis in the immigration courts before the U.S. House Subcommittee on Immigration and Citizenship. The courts, which face a crushing backlog of cases, have been inadequately funded and have suffered from a lack of appropriate guidance and oversight for decades. They have borne the consequences of various, and shifting, executive-branch immigration policies and priorities, as well as loopholes created by statute and poorly reasoned judicial opinions that have encouraged migrants to enter and remain in the United States illegally. Arthur explains that the Trump administration reforms have begun to ease these tremendous burdens on the courts. And he warns against abandoning the current system entirely to create an independent Article I immigration court. A video of his statement and a link to his entire lengthy and detailed testimony is available here.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Center has testified before Congress more than 130 times, more than any private group on either side of the immigration debate.

Featured Posts

Birth Tourism: Facts and Recommendations
By CIS
The State Department has announced new rules to address birth tourism, which is the controversial practice of entering the United States to give birth so that the child will acquire U.S. citizenship. The prevailing interpretation of the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution granting nearly all those born here U.S. citizenship (and the ability to pass it on to their children and to sponsor relatives for green cards) has become a magnet and spawned a lucrative birth tourism industry, attracting families from all over the world.

Human-Smuggling 'Pollers' Bypassing Mexico's national Guard Deployment Despite Its Relative Success

More Proof Walls Work: Mexico, DHS Close Huge Border Tunnel
By Andrew R. Arthur
U.S. Customs and Border Protection revealed that the agency and its "partners" discovered a tunnel that ran more than three-quarters of a mile from Tijuana, Mexico, to Otay Mesa, Calif. That tunnel undermines (no pun intended) claims that infrastructure along the border doesn't work. In fact, it has literally forced criminal organizations underground to push their illicit and deadly products into the United States.

Another Migrant Caravan from El Salvador Prepares to Head to the U.S.
By Jason Pena
Mexican immigration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Todd Bensman

The Mexican deployment of 6,000 national guard troops undergirds a broader policy response demanded of Mexico by President Donald Trump, under threat of crippling trade tariffs, to end the migration tsunami that put nearly a million Central Americans inside the United States during 2018-2019.

officials said another migrant caravan from El Salvador (not the previous one) is slated for departure on January 31. Like the earlier caravans, migrants will travel to Mexico with the objective of reaching the United States. Several deported Honduran migrants told authorities they would return in the new caravan, named the "Devil's Caravan".

More Blog Posts

- Obscure DHS Statistical Set Reveals Decline of Marginal Colleges
- Kudos to Jason DeParle for His New Book on Immigration
- Video: 'Extra-Continental' Migration to Southern Border
- Big Tech Unwittingly Creates Argument Against OPT Program
- Mexico Deports More than 2,000 Caravan Migrants to Honduras
- Ask for Something, Offer Nothing: California's Way of Struggling Out of the bag It Put Itself Into
- Peru Creates Task Force to Curb Rise in Venezuelan Migrant Crime
- Using Bonds to Reinforce the New Borth Tourism Restrictions
- Video: Why the 2020 Caravans Threaten the Fragile Success of Trump's Border Policies
- Barley a Year after Global Compacts, UN is Already Trying to Limit national Sovereignty over Migration
- Minor Migration Memos: Iran's Treaty Investors and New Jersey's H-4 Students

Video

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies National Security Fellow, Todd Bensman, explains the rising prevalence of 'extra-continental' migrants in southern Mexico.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, February 4, 2020 7:30 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 2/4/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 2/4/20

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 2/5, DC - House hearing on homeland security priorities in the Arctic - [New Listing]
2. 2/6, DC - House hearing on DHS use of facial recognition and other biometric technologies - [New Listing]
3. 2/6, DC - USCIS webinar on the H-1B electronic registration process
4. 2/7, DC - Discussion on proposals for state-based visas
5. 2/7, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on democracy and immigrant welfare rights
6. 2/12, DC - MPI webinar on the differing state approaches to English learner policies under ESSA - [New Listing]
7. 2/14, Los Angeles - Lecture on explaining state responses to refugees
8. 2/17-21, San José, Costa Rica - World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges
9. 2/20-22, Charleston, SC - Conference on current trends in immigration research and activism
10. 2/24, San Diego - Seminar on the White Russian refugees and the development of American immigration and refugee law during the Great Depression
11. 2/26-28, Arlington, VA - Biometrics for government and law enforcement conference
12. 2/27, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migrant lives at Israel's margins
13. 2/28, Los Angeles - Conference on the Venezuela refugee crisis
14. 3/2-4, DC - Certificate program course on international migration studies
15. 3/11-12, San Antonio - Annual border security expo
16. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary
17. 3/13, Los Angeles - Book discussion: Refuge Beyond Reach
18. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention
19. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration
20. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of fake news
21. 4/24, Pittsburgh - Lecture on a comprehensive approach to the issue of immigration
22. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law
23. 5/6-8, DC - Certificate program course on immigration policy - [New Listing]

1.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Northern Northern Border: Homeland Security Priorities in the Arctic, Part II

10:00 a.m., Wednesday, February 5, 2020
House Committee on Homeland Security
Subcommittee on Transportation & Maritime Security
310 Cannon House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/the-northern-northern-border-homeland-security-priorities-in-the-arctic-part-ii

Witnesses:
Admiral Charles Ray, Vice Commandant, U.S. Coast Guard

Michael Murphy, Deputy Assistant Secretary for European and Eurasian Affairs, Department of State

Marie Mak, Director for Contracting & National Security Acquisitions, Government Accountability Office

Return to Top

****
****

2.
About Face: Examining the Department of Homeland Security's Use of Facial Recognition and Other Biometric Technologies, Part II

10:00 a.m., Thursday, February 6, 2020
House Committee on Homeland Security
310 Cannon House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/about-face-examining-the-department-of-homeland-securitys-use-of-facial-recognition-and-other-biometric-technologies-part-ii

Witnesses:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

John Wagner, Deputy Executive Assistant Commissioner, Office of Field Operations, U.S. Customs and Border Protection, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Peter Mina, Deputy Officer for Programs and Compliance, Office for Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Charles Romine, Ph.D., Director of the Information Technology Laboratory, National Institute of Standards and Technology, U.S. Department of Commerce

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Overview of the H-1B Electronic Registration Process: A Webinar for Registrants

2:00-3:30 p.m. ET, Thursday, February 6, 2020
U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services
Tomich Conference Center
111 Massachusetts Ave.
NW, Washington, DC
https://www.uscis.gov/outreach/overview-h-1b-electronic-registration-process-a-webinar-registrants

Description: During this webinar, USCIS representatives will provide an instructional presentation of the new H-1B electronic registration process in myUSCIS for registrants. Another webinar specifically tailored for attorneys and representatives will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 11.

On Jan. 9, USCIS published a Federal Register notice to formally announce the implementation of the H-1B electronic registration process for fiscal year 2021 H-1B cap-subject petitions.

H-1B cap-subject petitioners, including those eligible for the advanced degree exemption, are required to first register prospective beneficiaries electronically

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

with USCIS and pay the associated H-1B registration fee in order to enter the beneficiaries into the selection process for filing an H-1B cap-subject petition for FY 2021.

We are hosting this webinar to allow users to familiarize themselves with the new electronic registration process.

To Register:

Visit our webinar registration page.
Enter your email address and select “Submit.”
Select “Subscriber Preferences.”
Select the “Event Registration” tab.
Complete the questions and select “Submit.”

Once we process your registration for the webinar, you will receive a confirmation email with additional details.

If you have any questions, or if you have not received a confirmation email within two business days, please email us at public.engagement@uscis.dhs.gov.

To request a disability accommodation to participate in this engagement, email us at public.engagement@uscis.dhs.gov by Feb. 3.

Note to media: This webinar is not for press purposes. Please contact the USCIS Press Office at 202-272-1200 for any media inquiries.

Return to Top

****
****

4.
State-Based Visas: Should States Lead on Immigration?

9:00-10:15 a.m. EST, February 7, 2020
Cato Institute

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1000 Massachusetts Ave, NW
Washington, DC 20001-5403
https://www.cato.org/events/state-based-visas-should-states-lead-on-immigration

Speakers:
Gary Herbert, Governor of Utah

Rep. John Curtis (R-Utah)

Moderator:
Alex Nowrasteh, Director of Immigration Studies, Cato Institute.

Description: Reforming the immigration visa system is crucial for the future of the United States. In late 2019, Rep. John Curtis (R-UT), supported by Gov. Gary Herbert, introduced a bill to create a state-?based visa system. Curtis's proposal adopts a major component of the Canadian immigration system: visas sponsored by individual states rather than the federal government. Under the legislation, the federal government maintains control over admissions, security checks, and other necessary criteria, while the state governments gain power to select individual migrants and regulate their activity within the state. Each state would get an average of 10,000 visas a year: 5,000 guaranteed for each state and an additional number assigned based on population.

With the partisan gridlock that has characterized Washington politics for at least the past two decades, can and should states lead the way on immigration by utilizing a state-?based visa system? Join the Cato Institute's Alex Nowrasteh for a panel discussion with Representative Curtis and Governor Herbert for a policy deep dive on how state-?based visas can reform our nation's broken immigration system.

Return to Top

****

****

5.
Democracy and Immigrant Welfare Rights

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, February 7, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/02/democracy-immigrant-welfare

Speaker:
Friederike Römer
Postdoctoral Researcher, CRC Global Dynamics of Social Polity, University of Bremen
John F. Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: Do countries with stronger democracies grant immigrants more welfare rights than countries where democracy is less developed? Comparative empirical analyses of immigrant welfare rights are often restricted to developed democracies in Europe.

This presentation will discuss democracy as the backdrop and as an explanatory factor for formulating and testing hypotheses on immigrant welfare rights.

Return to Top

****
****

6.
An Uneven Landscape: The Differing State Approaches to English Learner Policies under ESSA

MPI Webinar
2:00 p.m. EST, Wednesday, February 12, 2020
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/events/state-approaches-english-learner-policies-under-essa

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: The federal Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) elevated states' responsibility to improve English language proficiency for English Learners (ELs), as well as their academic achievement. ESSA's first stage of implementation required states to develop and submit their plans for executing the new law to the U.S. Department of Education. Highly technical, these state plans are usually difficult for parents and even educators to understand.

The Migration Policy Institute's (MPI) National Center on Immigrant Integration Policy, in partnership with state-based EL organizations and immigrant policy organizations, has endeavored to ensure that state ESSA plans create the optimal conditions for EL achievement.

In its latest work in this area, MPI is releasing the results of its comprehensive review of state ESSA plans for all 50 states and the District of Columbia, with a focus on EL policies. The compendium, The Patchy Landscape of State English Learner Policies under ESSA, reveals a picture of great variability across states' approaches to ensuring accountability for the success of their EL students.

The report's findings will be unveiled during a webinar on February 12. MPI and EL state policy experts will share how states have approached ESSA implementation, and areas where the law and state efforts to support ELs can be improved.

Speakers:
Julie Sugarman, Senior Policy Analyst for PreK-12 Education, Migration Policy Institute

Kim Sykes, Director of Education Policy, New York Immigration Coalition

Moderator:
Delia Pompa, Senior Fellow for Education Policy, Migration Policy Institute

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

7.

Discrimination and Delegation: Explaining State Responses to Refugees

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, February 14, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14186

Speaker:
Lamis Abdelaaty, Assistant Professor, Political Science, Syracuse University

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the "discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the "delegation puzzle"). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

Return to Top

****
****

8.

World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges

Monday-Friday, February 17-21, 2020
Radisson San José

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Calle Central y Tercera Av. 15
San José, Costa Rica
https://10times.com/conferenciamundial-iarmj

Description: The World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges is themed as A New World on the Move: The Realities of Irregular Mass Migration and the Challenges Facing Asylum and Immigration Judges Background and it is indeed a great opportunity for the Americas Chapter of the IARMJ to focus on the increase of mixed flows of people who cross international borders, whether forced to seek international protection or migrants with other characteristics and profiles.

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Southeastern Immigration Studies Association Conference

Current Trends in Immigration Research and Activism

Thursday-Saturday, February 20-22, 2020
The Citadel
Charleston, SC
https://sites.google.com/view/southeasternimmigrationstudies

[Conference details are still pending.]

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Depression

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer---Kang-2-24-20.pdf

Speakers:
S. Deborah Kang, Visiting Scholar, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Associate Professor of History, California State University San Marcos

Description: During the Great Depression, states and localities expelled nearly a half-million ethnic Mexicans from the United States. Yet, in the midst of these removals, the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) launched an initiative to reform the hardships surrounding federal deportation policy. In the process, it expanded the legal architecture by which undocumented Europeans could be legalized. Drawing upon a chapter from her second book project, Undocumented Immigration and Immigration Legalization in the United States, 1906-1986, Kang will describe a legalization program created for Russian immigrants and its implications for the development of US refugee and immigration policies.

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Biometrics for Government & Law Enforcement 2020

Wednesday-Friday, February 26-28, 2020
Key Bridge Marriott

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1401 Lee Highway
Arlington, VA 22209
https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/iqpcbiometricsgovlaw2020main952gw9lGMFCGt7uAhGjn0ptF7KpEyrOqVDDuc8qj8.pdf

Program agenda:

Wednesday, February 26, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Integrating Biometric Capabilities into the National Counterterrorism Effort

* Biometric technologies of interest to supplement NCTC mission sets
* Efforts to share terrorism information analysis across the CT enterprise
* NCTC vision for biometric utilization: necessary next steps

Pete Hall, Acting Deputy Director, NCTC

10:30 a.m.
Making the Invisible Visible: Utilizing Biometrics to Stop Crime

Biometric data can be used to provide valuable investigative leads and supplement investigative capabilities. The FBI is continuously expanding its use with identity intelligence, to include DNA, fingerprints, video surveillance and iris recognition. Speaker will discuss emerging technologies and ways to leverage these tools.

Tina Delgado, Section Chief, FBI Laboratory

12:30 p.m.
Delta Looks Ahead: Partnering with CBP and TSA

Delta Airlines was the first airline to collaborate with Customs Border Protection and the Transportation Security Administration to install the first ever fully biometric terminal in Atlanta. This partnership will create a seamless experience for the everyday traveler.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Providing smooth and excellent customer experience for travelers using facial recognition
* Cutting down time spent before flights and increase customer interactions with employees
* Enhancing security at airline touch points

Filipe Pereira dos Reis, Regional Director Airport Passenger Cargo and Security, International Air Transport Association UIT

Tuesday, February 27, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Advancing Biometrics with Customs and Border: What does the future hold?

* Advancing passenger systems and passenger name records with biometrics
* Monitoring security at all modes of transportation, air, land, and sea
* Centralizing access to biometric data Nael Samha, Director Passenger Systems and Biometrics, Customs and Border Protection

9:45 a.m.
How HSI is currently utilizing various types of Biometric and cutting edge technologies to aid in its investigations

* AI/machine learning – S/A Ben Teed
* Rapid DNA/Biometrics – Section Chief Brandon Stiefer
* Biometric Identification Transnational Migration Alert Program (BITMAP)

Section Chief Hillary Hodge

11:00 a.m.
Enhancing Security with Multi-modal Authentication Systems

Multimodal biometric systems allow multiple methods of identification which creates stronger security. They are more accurate, reliable, and provide less room for vulnerability against attacks.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Replacing passwords with multi-modal biometrics to provide convenience and low password management costs
* Increasing verification accuracy to enhance protection
* Combining biometrics with cloud based solutions

11:45 a.m.
NIST continues effort to develop standards, measurement methods and best practices to deliver superior image based biometrics analytics
Craig Watson, Image Group Manager, NIST

1:30 p.m.
Utilizing Biometrics to Maximize Efficiency in Processing and Authenticating Immigration Requests

Brian Broderick, Deputy Chief Identity and information Management Division, Immigration Records Identity Services

2:15 p.m.
Incorporating Behavioral Biometrics in Ensuring Safety and Continuous Authentication

Analyzing the behavior of humans such as their speech, key strokes, gait, signature and cognition is starting to become more acceptable for the everyday consumer. The next step is to use it to maintain top notch security in government and corporations.

* Using behavioral biometrics as a form of user authentication

Tuesday, February 28, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Operation of Customs and Border Protection Entry/Exit Program

The Customs and Border Protection Entry/Exit Program was established to protect and prevent a threat during transportation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Confirming foreign departures from top U.S. airports using facial recognition software
* Completing CBP's overall goal of enhancing security for public safety

Jeni Best, Acting Director Biometric Exit Strategic Transformation, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

10:30 a.m.

The Future of the Department of Homeland Security and Evolving Biometrics

The Department of Homeland Security is moving towards centralizing biometric data. DHS is seeking to expand their data analysis capabilities for biometrics in ways that can change the game forever.

* Moving the Homeland Advanced Recognition to cloud base systems
* Analyzing matched faces, fingers prints, and Irises using HART
* Analyzing the future of biometrics technology and DHS's utilization

Arun Vemury, Director of Biometric and Identity Technology Center, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

12:00 p.m.

Using Machine Learning/ AI in Biometrics to Enhance Security Efforts

The combination of both AI and Biometrics will help strengthen security across facilities. Artificial intelligence is a useful tool in both multimodal and behavioral biometrics.

* Reducing the tolerance for error
* Learning and accounting for subtle changes in an individual's behavior
* Using AI to keep systems up to date and decrease false positives by analyzing things like handwritten or typing biometrics

12:45 p.m.

The US Army and the development of the 'Next Generation of Biometric Collection'

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The US Army is transforming their use of biometrics with a new biometric collection data system. Although the current tool, 'The Biometric Automated Tool Set' is still effective, the new system will have enormous benefits.

* Utilizing a light weight and more compact device for face scanning
* Getting DNA and voice biometric systems on a contactless basis without requiring human contact EAB

1:30 p.m.
Vein Biometrics: Are Hand Gestures The New Replacements to Passwords

Vein biometrics is a new and upcoming form of biometric data and is said to be the most secure form yet.

* Using finger vein recognition to access software – all you need to do is wave
* Reducing the risk of hacking threats and stolen biometrics

2:15 p.m.
Helping to combat crime: Using Biometrics to Bring Your Children Home

* Utilizing biometric data and technology to find missing children
* Sharing data and findings across different sectors

Carol Schweizer, Supervisor Case Manager, Forensics National Center for Missing and Exploited Children
Colin McNally, National Center for Missing and Exploited Children

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Indignity and Indignation: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Lower Level Library
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/speaker-series-sarah-willen-professor-anthropology-and-director-research-program-global

Speaker:
Sarah Willen, Professor of Anthropology and Director of the Research Program on Global Health and Human Rights, University of Connecticut

Description: Sarah Willen is the author of Fighting for Dignity: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins. In Fighting for Dignity, Sarah S. Willen explores what happened when the Israeli government launched an aggressive deportation campaign targeting newly arrived migrants from countries as varied as Ghana and the Philippines, Nigeria, Colombia, and Ukraine. Although the campaign was billed as a solution to high unemployment, it had another goal as well: to promote an exclusionary vision of Israel as a Jewish state in which non-Jews have no place. The deportation campaign quickly devastated Tel Aviv's migrant communities and set the stage for even more aggressive antimigrant and antirefugee policies in the years to come.

Fighting for Dignity traces the roots of this deportation campaign in Israeli history and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and shows how policies that illegalize and criminalize migrants wreak havoc in their lives, endanger their health, and curtail the human capacity to flourish. Children born to migrant parents are especially vulnerable to developmental and psychosocial risks. Drawing on nearly two decades of ethnographic engagement in homes and in churches, medical offices, advocacy organizations, and public spaces, Willen shows how migrants struggle to craft meaningful, flourishing lives despite the exclusions and vulnerabilities they endure. To complement their perspectives, she introduces Israeli activists who reject their government's exclusionary agenda and strive to build bridges across difference, repair violations of migrants' dignity, and resist policies that violate their own moral convictions. Willen's vivid and unflinching ethnography challenges us to reconsider our understandings of global migration, human rights, the Middle East— and even dignity itself.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

13.

Conference on the Venezuela Refugee Crisis

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-3:00 p.m., Friday, February 28, 2020
Haines Hall 352
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14189

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the "discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the "delegation puzzle"). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

14.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-703 - Newcomers to Citizens: Immigrant Integration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Wednesday, March 2-4, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=14536

Course Description: With a record 200 million people living outside their country of birth, immigration is a global phenomenon with profound demographic, economic, social, and political implications for both sending and receiving countries. The debate over immigration law and policy has become increasingly volatile and, in some instances, characterized by misinformation, hate, and xenophobia. Beyond the politics of immigration, genuine challenges to immigrant integration abound. Successful integration of immigrants is critical to the long-term prosperity of host countries that rely on immigrants as workers, consumers, taxpayers, innovators, and entrepreneurs in light of their aging native-born populations and lower birth rates. In this course we will explore integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving countries--such as the United States and Canada and new countries of permanent immigration such as France, Germany, the United Kingdom. We will raise questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity. We will also discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism, paradigms that challenge an integrationist reading of migration. Using case studies from North America and Europe we will pay special attention to the different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation on their road from newcomers to citizens.

Course Objectives:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Discuss the integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving and source countries.
* Recognize questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity.
* Discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism.
* Compare different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation.

Instructor: Jennifer Wistrand

Notes: This course is an open enrollment course. No application is required and registration is available by clicking "Add to Cart." Current students must register with their Georgetown NetID and password. New students will be prompted to create an account prior to registration.

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Border Security Expo

Wednesday-Thursday, March 11-12, 2020
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center
900 E Market Street
San Antonio, TX 78205
https://www.bordersecurityexpo.com/

Conference agenda:

Keynotes:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ronald D. Vitiello, Deputy Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

Vice Admiral Scott Buschman, Director, Joint Task Force-East

Scott A. Luck, Deputy Chief, U.S. Border Patrol

John P. Sanders, Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Panels:

National Vetting Center: What is It? What isn't It? And How Will It Change the Way We Protect the Homeland?

This session will focus on the National Vetting Center (NVC) and how it will complement the National Targeting Center (NTC). Experts from the NVC, NTC, as well as other members of the Intelligence Community, will discuss why the NVC is critical to the Homeland and next steps. The NVC will be operational at the time of the Expo, enabling the audience and panels to discuss the implementation.

Mass Migration and Unaccompanied Children: Financial and National Security Impacts

This panel will be comprised of experts from ICE Homeland Security Investigations assigned to the U.S., Mexico, and Central America. The panel will discuss the financial impact on the U.S., Mexico, and Central American countries in addressing the issues related mass migration and unaccompanied children attempting to enter the U.S. The panel will discuss human trafficking, organized human smuggling organizations, and national security issues relating to mass migration and unaccompanied children. The panel will provide publicly releasable information relating to "The Caravan" that reached the U.S./Border in November 2018.

Border: Wall – Ports – System(s) – Technology – Infrastructure – Integration – Modernization

Panel will discuss the immediate, near term, and out-year capability requirements, goals, and vision for border operations including infrastructure updates; technology needs, requirements, and planning; initiatives; modernization; and deployments.

Model Port: How Technology, Public-Private Partnerships, and Innovation Will Continue to Change the Way Ports-of-Entry Operate

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This panel will be comprised of experts from the federal/local governments and industry. It will highlight what will take place at the POE in Donna, Texas and why it is important to the country's national and economic security. Technology will play a key role in defining the Model Port. A representative from the City of Donna will explain why this investment is important to the local community. CBP Headquarters staff will address the Donation Assistance Program and why it is necessary to make the Model Port a reality.

A Dialogue with Tenoch Moreno, General Customs Administration, Mexico: Current Operations and Future Thoughts

Procurement: Keeping Industry Current in the Complex Area of Government Procurement and the Mission Needs of Border Operators

This is a must-attend session for those who plan to compete for government contracts. Rules and regulations change frequently, and new requirements are placed on industry. Industry must have a clear understanding of the mission needs of the border operators. Government and industry experts will discuss best practices and explain how to best leverage the many opportunities that support the daily mission of CBP and other agencies. Government panelists will include Senior Executives from CBP procurement and the new office of Operations Support.

Complete conference agenda will be available at end of December.

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Author Meets Critics Event: Refuge Beyond Reach

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14188

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: In Refuge beyond Reach, David Scott FitzGerald traces how rich democracies have deliberately and systematically shut down most legal paths to safety. Drawing on official government documents, information obtained via WikiLeaks, and interviews with asylum seekers, he finds that for ninety-nine percent of refugees, the only way to find safety in one of the prosperous democracies of the Global North is to reach its territory and then ask for asylum. FitzGerald shows how the US, Canada, Europe, and Australia comply with the letter of law while violating the spirit of those laws through a range of deterrence methods -- first designed to keep out Jews fleeing the Nazis -- that have now evolved into a pervasive global system of "remote control." While some of the most draconian remote control practices continue in secret, Fitzgerald identifies some pressure points and finds that a diffuse humanitarian obligation to help those in need is more difficult for governments to evade than the law alone.

Return to Top

****
****

18.
The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, DC 20002
http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

[Conference agenda has not yet been announced]

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in 2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and for national and international politics

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

20.
Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

Speaker:
Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the University of London

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through 'golden doors'. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

Return to Top

****
****

21.
The Issue of Immigration in America: Moving Beyond Walls and Open Borders

4:30–6:00 p.m., Friday, April 24, 2020
Heinz College – Hamburg Hall A301
Carnegie Mellon University
5000 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890
https://www.heinz.cmu.edu/events/the-issue-of-immigration-in-america

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: In the United States, the issue of immigration gives rise to controversy and conflict. This issue requires us to wrestle with challenging questions about many things, including:

Who should be admitted to the US as an immigrant (family members, skilled workers, etc.)?

How many people should the US admit as immigrants (should we increase, decrease or keep current levels)?

What rules should guide the immigration process (and how should these rules be enforced)?

How should we address the problems (social, political, and economic) that cause people to migrate from their home countries?

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56,
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-716 - Immigration Policy

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, May 6-8, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=29908153

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Description: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

The course also examines policies related to forced migration, including refugee resettlement, asylum and temporary protected status. These issues will be discussed in a comparative framework, analyzing how other countries address issues affecting the United States. The course will examine the role of federal, state and local authorities in implementing policy reforms. It also examines the role of public opinion and various interest groups in affecting policy formulation.

Students will be required to write a 10-page paper, due after the course completion, on a specific reform issue.

Section Notes: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2020 7:10 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 2/6/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Reading, 2/6/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. CBP statistics
2. GAO report on U.S. ports of entry
3. House testimony on facial recognition and biometric technologies
4. House testimony on DHS priorities in the Arctic
5. House testimony on judicial independence and due process in U.S. immigration courts
6. U.S. Supreme Court ruling in DHS v. New York, et al.
7. Canada: Report on the comparative mobility of refugees and economic immigrants
8. Netherlands: Statistics on migration from the U.K.
9. Belgium: Monthly naturalization statistics
10. Switzerland: Statistics on dual citizenship

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

11. SCOTUSblog report on Supreme Court action on the public charge rule
12. Rasmussen Reports weekly immigration index
13. TRAC report on use of video in place of in-person immigration court hearings
14. Two new features from the Migration Policy Institute
15. New discussion paper from the Institute for the Study of Labor
16. Fourteen new papers from the Social Science Research Network
17. Thirty new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
18. U.K.: Two new briefing papers from MigrationWatch
19. HRW report: Deported to Danger

BOOKS

20. Illegal: How America's Lawless Immigration Regime Threatens Us All
21. Fencing in Democracy: Border Walls, Necrocitizenship, and the Security State
22. The International Organization for Migration: Challenges, Commitments, Complexities
23. The Mobility of Displaced Syrians: An Economic and Social Analysis
24. Migration, Identity, and Belonging: Defining Borders and Boundaries of the Homeland
25. Socially Undocumented: Identity and Immigration Justice
26. American Dirt

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

JOURNALS

27. Comparative Migration Studies
28. International Migration
29. International Migration Review
30. IZA Journal of Migration
31. Journal of Ethnic and Racial Studies

1.

Southwest Border Migration FY 2020

U.S. Customs and Border Protection, February 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.cbp.gov/newsroom/stats/sw-border-migration

Return to Top

****

****

2.

New from the General Accountability Office

U.S. Ports of Entry: Update on CBP Public-Private Partnership Programs

GAO-20-255R, January 30, 2020

Report: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/704191.pdf

Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/products/GAO-20-255R

Return to Top

****

****

3.

Thursday, February 6, 2020

House Committee on Homeland Security

https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/about-face-examining-the-department-of-homeland-securitys-use-of-facial-recognition-and-other-biometric-technologies-part-ii

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

About Face: Examining the Department of Homeland Security's Use of Facial Recognition and Other Biometric Technologies, Part II

Member statements:
Committee Chairman Bennie G. Thompson Opening Statement
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/020620%20BGT%20Statement.pdf

Witness testimony:
John Wagner, Deputy Executive Assistant Commissioner, Office of Field Operations, U.S. Customs and Border Protection, U.S. Department of Homeland Security
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Wagner2.pdf

Peter Mina, Deputy Officer for Programs and Compliance, Office for Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, U.S. Department of Homeland Security
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Mina.pdf

Charles Romine, Ph.D., Director of the Information Technology Laboratory, National Institute of Standards and Technology, U.S. Department of Commerce
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Romine1.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Wednesday, February 5, 2020
House Committee on Homeland Security
Subcommittee on Transportation & Maritime Security
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/the-northern-northern-border-homeland-security-priorities-in-the-arctic-part-ii

The Northern Northern Border: Homeland Security Priorities in the Arctic, Part II

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Member statements:
Subcommittee Chairman Lou Correa Opening Statement
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/020520%20Correa%20Opening%20Statement.pdf

Committee Chairman Bennie G. Thompson Opening Statement
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/020520%20BGT%20Opening%20Statement.pdf

Witness testimony:
Admiral Charles Ray, Vice Commandant, U.S. Coast Guard
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Ray.pdf

Michael Murphy, Deputy Assistant Secretary for European and Eurasian Affairs, Department of State
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/DAS%20Murphy%20Testimony%20Arctic%20Security%20Hearing%201.pdf

Marie Mak, Director for Contracting & National Security Acquisitions, Government Accountability Office
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony-Mak1.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Wednesday, January 29, 2020
House Committee on the Judiciary
Subcommittee on Immigration and Citizenship
https://judiciary.house.gov/calendar/eventsingle.aspx?EventID=2757

Courts in Crisis: The State of Judicial Independence and Due Process in U.S. Immigration Courts

Witness testimony:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Andrew R.Arthur
Resident Fellow in Law and Policy, Center for Immigration Studies
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20200129/110402/HHRG-116-JU01-Wstate-ArthurA-20200129-U5.pdf

Jeremy McKinney
Second Vice President, American Immigration Lawyers Association
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20200129/110402/HHRG-116-JU01-Wstate-McKinneyJ-20200129.pdf

Judy Perry Martinez
President, American Bar Association
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20200129/110402/HHRG-116-JU01-Wstate-PerryMartinezJ-20200129.pdf

Ashley Tabbador
President, National Association of Immigration Judges
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20200129/110402/HHRG-116-JU01-Wstate-TabaddorA-20200129.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Department of Homeland Security, et al. v. New York, et al.
on Application for Stay, [January 27, 2020]
Supreme Court of the United States, No. 19A785
https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/19a785_j4ek.pdf

Summary: The application for stay presented to JUSTICE GINSBURG and by her referred to the Court is granted, and the District Court's October 11, 2019 orders granting a preliminary injunction are stayed pending disposition of the Government's appeal in the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit and disposition of the Government's petition for a writ of certiorari, if such writ is timely sought. Should the petition for a writ of certiorari be denied, this stay shall terminate automatically. In the event the petition for a writ of certiorari is granted, the stay shall terminate upon the sending down of the judgment of this Court. JUSTICE GINSBURG, JUSTICE BREYER, JUSTICE SOTOMAYOR, and JUSTICE KAGAN would deny the application. JUSTICE GORSUCH, with whom JUSTICE THOMAS joins, concurring in the grant of stay. On October 10, 2018, the Department of Homeland Security began a rulemaking process to define the term "public charge," as it is used in the Nation's immigration laws. Approximately 10 months and 266,000 comments later, the agency issued a final rule. Litigation swiftly followed, with a number of States, organizations, and individual plaintiffs variously alleging that the new definition violates the Constitution, the Administrative Procedure Act, and the immigration laws themselves. These plaintiffs have urged courts to enjoin the rule's enforcement not only as it applies to them, or even to some definable group having something to do with their claimed injury, but as it applies to anyone.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

7.

Study: Are refugees more likely to leave initial destinations than economic immigrants?

Statistics Canada, January 28, 2020

https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/en/daily-quotidien/200128/dq200128d-eng.pdf?st=_44eI8Js

Excerpt: Based on the Longitudinal Immigration Database, the study examined immigrants who landed in Canada between 2000 and 2014, and who were aged 20 to 54 at the time of landing. Census metropolitan areas (CMAs) and census agglomerations were used as geographic units (cities) to measure immigrants' mobility.

Because most economic class immigrants make their own choice about where to settle in Canada, they are more likely to end up in a large city, whereas the initial geographic location of refugees is strongly influenced by government resettlement programs. Government-assisted refugees (GARs) are assigned to one of many designated communities based on a pre-approved regional quota of refugee allocation and the match between a refugee's needs and community resources. Privately sponsored refugees (PSRs) are received by their sponsors, who are scattered across the country.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

8.

More British people moving to the Netherlands

Statistics Netherlands, January 31, 2020

. . .

https://www.cbs.nl/en-gb/news/2020/05/more-british-people-moving-to-the-netherlands

Summary: The number of British citizens moving from the UK to the Netherlands increased further in 2019. Emigration from the UK has already accelerated since 2015, even before a British majority voted in favour of an exit from the EU on 23 June 2016. At the same time, Dutch emigration to the UK showed further decline. Statistics Netherlands (CBS) reports this today on Brexit Day.

In 2019, 2.6 thousand native Dutch people (i.e. people born in the Netherlands) emigrated to the United Kingdom. This is the smallest number in twenty years. Dutch emigration to the UK has shown a substantial decline since 2015. The number of Dutch migrants returning from the UK did not increase last year. On balance, only a few hundred Dutch migrants moved to the UK in 2019. The number still stood at slightly under 2.3 thousand in 2015.

Slightly fewer asylum seekers and following relatives

January 31, 2020

. . .

https://www.cbs.nl/en-gb/news/2020/05/slightly-fewer-asylum-seekers-and-following-relatives

Summary: In 2019, the Netherlands received 22.5 thousand asylum seekers and 4.2 thousand following family members. The total is marginally lower than in 2018. Syrians and Eritreans still constitute the largest two groups. The number of asylum seekers from Nigeria and Syria increased most significantly. Statistics Netherlands (CBS) reports this based on new figures provided by the Dutch Immigration and Naturalisation Service (IND).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In 2019, the number of first asylum requests was up by more than 2 thousand, while family reunification was down by 2.3 thousand year-on-year. The total number of asylum seekers and following relatives has been in decline since 2015.

Return to Top

****
****

9.
2,918 naturalisations in November
Statistics Belgium, February 6, 2020
. . .
https://statbel.fgov.be/en/themes/population/changes-nationality

Summary: In November 2019, 2,918 persons obtained the Belgian nationality. The main countries of origin of naturalised Belgians in November are Morocco, Romania, Poland, The Democratic Republic of Congo and Italy.

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Dual citizenship in 2018
Swiss Federal Statistical Office, January 30, 2020
. . .
https://www.bfs.admin.ch/bfs/en/home/news/whats-new.gnpdetail.2020-0173.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Permanent Swiss resident population aged 15 or over by dual citizenship and acquisition of Swiss citizenship

. . .
https://www.bfs.admin.ch/bfs/en/home/news/whats-new.assetdetail.11587504.html

Permanent Swiss resident population aged 15 or over with dual citizenship by acquisition of Swiss citizenship and the ten most frequent second citizenships

. . .
https://www.bfs.admin.ch/bfs/en/home/news/whats-new.assetdetail.11587503.html

Permanent Swiss resident population aged 15 or over with dual citizenship by canton

. . .
https://www.bfs.admin.ch/bfs/en/home/news/whats-new.assetdetail.11587501.html

Permanent Swiss resident population aged 15 or over with dual citizenship by second citizenship

. . .
https://www.bfs.admin.ch/bfs/en/home/news/whats-new.assetdetail.11587502.html

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Government gets green light to implement "public charge" rule pending appeals
By Amy Howe
SCOTUSblog.com, January 27, 2020
. . .
https://www.scotusblog.com/2020/01/government-gets-green-light-to-implement-public-charge-rule-pending-appeals/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Summary: Today a divided Supreme Court granted the Trump administration's request for permission to enforce a rule known as the "public charge" rule, governing the admission of immigrants to the United States. The government had argued that it would suffer "effectively irreparable harm" if it could not implement the new rule while it appeals a pair of orders by a federal district court in New York. In a brief order, the court temporarily put the lower court's rulings on hold until the government's appeals to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 2nd Circuit and, if necessary, the Supreme Court, are resolved.

The rule that the government will now be able to enforce interprets a provision of federal immigration law that bans noncitizens from receiving a green card if the government believes that they are likely to become a "public charge" – that is, reliant on government assistance. In August 2019, the Department of Homeland Security defined "public charge" to refer to noncitizens who receive a variety of government benefits, including cash, health care or housing, for more than 12 months over a three-year period. The rule also considers factors such as age, employment history and finances to determine whether a noncitizen might become a public charge in the future.

Return to Top

****

****

12.

Rasmussen Reports Weekly Immigration Index

February 4, 2020

https://www.rasmussenreports.com/public_content/politics/immigration_index/immigration_index_feb04

Excerpt: Legal immigration has averaged around a million annually in recent years, but 48% say the government should be adding no more than 750,000 new immigrants each year, with 33% who say it should be fewer than 500,000. Thirty-six percent (36%) favor adding one million or more legal newcomers per year, including 11% who say the figure should be higher than 1.5 million. Sixteen percent (16%) are undecided.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Census Bureau projects that current immigration policies are responsible for most U.S. population growth and will add 75 million people over the next 40 years. In terms of the effect on the overall quality of life in the United States, only 34% want to continue immigration-driven population growth at the current levels. Forty-four percent (44%) favor slowing down immigration-driven population growth, while 13% want to have no such population growth at all.

Return to Top

****
****

13.
New from the Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse, Syracuse University

Use of Video in Place of In-Person Immigration Court Hearings
January 28, 2020
. . .
https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/593/

Excerpt:
Video Hearings May Be Undercounted

TRAC's analysis in this report should be viewed as a preliminary but necessary first-step in understanding the current use of videoconferencing in immigration proceedings. We note that the Immigration Court records may, in fact, understate the current use of video hearings. For instance, despite widespread reporting on the use of video in hearings conducted in so-called tent cities as part of the MPP "Remain in Mexico" program, TRAC noticed that those hearings do not typically appear to be identified as video hearings in court records. Despite this caveat, we hope this study contributes to the bourgeoning public discussion about the magnitude and role of the use of video hearings in the Immigration Courts.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

14.

New from the Migration Policy Institute

Ally or Exploiter? The Smuggler-Migrant Relationship Is a Complex One
By Jasper Gilardi
Migration Information Source Feature, February 5, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/ally-or-exploiter-smuggler-migrant-relationship-complex-one

Despite Trump Invitation to Stop Taking Refugees, Red and Blue States Alike Endorse Resettlement
By Muzaffar Chishti and Sarah Pierce
Migration Information Source Policy Beat, January 29, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/despite-trump-invitation-stop-taking-refugees-red-and-blue-states-alike-endorse-resettlement

Return to Top

****
****

15.

New from the Institute for the Study of Labor

Ethnic Attrition, Assimilation, and the Measured Health Outcomes of Mexican Americans
By Francisca M. Antman, Brian Duncan, and Stephen Trejo
IZA Discussion Paper No. 12952, January 2020
. . .
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12952/ethnic-attrition-assimilation-and-the-measured-health-outcomes-of-mexican-americans

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

16.

New from the Social Science Research Network

1. The Labor Market Integration of Refugee Migrants in High-Income Countries

By Courtney Brell, University College London; Christian Dustmann, University College London; and Ian Preston, University College London - Department of Economics

CESifo Working Paper No. 8050

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3526605

https://ideas.repec.org/p/crm/wpaper/2001.html

2. The Contribution of Skilled Immigrants to US Innovation in the First Half of the 20th Century

By Elior Cohen, University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA) Department of Economics

Posted: January 27, 2020

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3513622

https://paa.confex.com/paa/2018/meetingapp.cgi/Paper/18385

3. Immigrant Entrepreneurship in Croatia: Exploring Its Potential, (Rising) Barriers and Integration Patterns

By Ruzica Simic Banovic, University of Zagreb, Faculty of Law; Mirela Alpeza, J.J. Strossmayer University in Osijek; and Jan Brzozowski, Cracow University of Economics

Posted: February 4, 2020

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3528132

https://www.bib.irb.hr/1034211

4. Gifts of the Immigrants, Woes of the Natives: Lessons from the Age of Mass Migration

By Marco Tabellini, Harvard Business School

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CEPR Discussion Paper No. DP14317

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3526042
https://academic.oup.com/restud/article-abstract/87/1/454/5486071?redirectedFrom=fulltext

5. In Defense of Nationwide Injunctions

By Amanda Frost, American University Washington College of Law
New York University Law Review, Vol. 93, 2018
American University, WCL Research Paper No. 2018-10
Last revised: January 8, 2020

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3112776
https://www.nyulawreview.org/issues/volume-93-number-5/in-defense-of-nationwide-injunctions/

6. Legal Status and Local Spending: The Distributional Consequences of the 1986 IRCA

By Navid Sabet, Ludwig Maximilian University of Munich Faculty of Economic and Christoph Winter, Ludwig Maximilian University of Munich Munich Graduate School of Economics
CESifo Working Paper No. 7611

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3378821
https://www.cesifo.org/en/publikationen/2019/working-paper/legal-status-and-local-spending-distributional-consequences-1986

7. Enter at Your Own Risk: Criminalizing Asylum-Seekers

By Thomas M. McDonnell, Elisabeth Haub School of Law at Pace University and Vanessa Merton, Elisabeth Haub School of Law at Pace University
51 Columbia Human Rights Law Review 1, 2019

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3502556
http://hrlr.law.columbia.edu/hrlr/enter-at-your-own-risk-criminalizing-asylum-seekers/

8. Hong Kong's Strict Immigration Control: The Family as the Unit of Non-Protection and Deprivation of Human Rights Protection

P.Y. Lo, The University of Hong Kong

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Posted: January 10, 2020

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3507902
https://www.researchgate.net/publication/338187648_Hong_Kong's_Strict_Immigration_Control_The_Family_as_the_Unit_of_Non-_protection_and_Deprivation_of_Human_Rights_Protection

9. Against the Wind—Sustainability, Migration, Presidential Discretion

Steven Ferrey, Suffolk University Law School
Columbia Journal of Environmental Law Vol. 44, No. 341, Suffolk University Law School Research Paper No. 19-13

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3516284
https://docplayer.net/149848108-Against-the-wind-sustainability-migration-presidential-discretion.html

10. The Labor Market Integration of Refugee Migrants in High-Income Countries

By Courtney Brell, University College London; Christian Dustmann, University College London; and Ian Preston, University College London - Department of Economic
CESifo Working Paper No. 8050

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3526605
https://www.cream-migration.org/publ_uploads/CDP_01_20.pdf

11. Caught between Cultures: Unintended Consequences of Improving Opportunity for Immigrant Girls

By Gordon B. Dahl, UC San Diego Department of Economics; Christina Felfe, University of St. Gallen; Paul Frijters, Queensland University of Technology; and Helmut Rainer, CESifo
CESifo Working Paper No. 8045

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3526600
https://www.futureworldfoundation.org/Content/Article.aspx?ArticleID=25161

12. Mediation: A More Therapeutic Approach to Refugee Family Reunion Law

By James Marson, Sheffield Hallam University Department of Law and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Criminology and Katy Ferris, Assistant Professor in Business Law
Posted: January 27, 2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3514144

13. Migration and Imitation
By Olena Ivus, Smith School of Business; Alireza Naghavi, University of Bologna Department of Economics; and Larry D. Qiu, The University of Hong Kong Faculty of Business and Economics
Posted: January 27, 2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3512957
https://ideas.repec.org/p/csl/devewp/457.html

14. Servant Leadership and Presidential Immigration Politics: Inspiration from the Foot-Washing Ritual
By Victor C. Romero, The Pennsylvania State University Law School
26 Wash. & Lee. J. Civ. Rts. & Soc. Just. 147 (2019).
Penn State Law Research Paper No. 01-2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3524573
https://scholarlycommons.law.wlu.edu/crsj/vol26/iss1/5/

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

1. Counterintuitive results on Climate change and US-Mexico Migration
February 6, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/counterintuitive-results-on-climate-change-and-us-mexico-migration.html

2. Floating Barriers Coming to Aegean Sea

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

February 6, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/floating-barriers-coming-to-aegean-sea.html

3. Fox News: Small Iowa city sees economic boom amid immigration surge

February 6, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/fox-news-small-iowa-city-sees-economic-boom-amid-immigration-surge.html

4. The Immigration State of the Union

February 5, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/the-immigration-state-of-the-union.html

5. One Year After His Arrest by ICE, 21 Savage's Immigration Case Is Far From Over

February 4, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/one-year-after-his-arrest-by-ice-21-savages-immigration-case-is-far-from-over.html

6. ICE at Super Bowl 54

February 2, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/ice-at-super-bowl-54.html

7. A Humanitarian Catastrophe at the Border: One Year of the 'Migrant Protection Protocols'

February 2, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/a-humanitarian-catastrophe-at-the-border-one-year-of-the-migrant-protection-protocols.html

8. Trump's expanded travel ban will hit Nigerians the hardest

February 2, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/trumps-expanded-travel-ban-will-hit-nigerians-the-hardest.html

9. GoDaddy founder to cover tuition for ASU undocumented students
February 2, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/godaddy-founder-to-cover-tuition-for-asu-undocumented-students.html

10. Breaking news: Trump bans travel from China, Quarantines US Citizens
January 31, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/breaking-news-trump-bans-travel-from-china-quarantines-us-citizens-returning-from-china.html

11. Supreme Court allows public charge clause that kept Nazi-era refugees from the US
January 31, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/supreme-court-allows-public-charge-clause-that-kept-nazi-era-refugees-from-the-us.html

12. Venezuelans, Cubans and Nicaraguans seeking U.S. asylum in larger numbers
January 31, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/venezuelans-cubans-and-nicaraguans-seeking-us-asylum-in-larger-numbers.html

13. A social virus: anti-immigrant and anti-Chinese sentiment spreading with coronavirus [UPDATED]
January 31, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/anti-immigrant-and-anti-chinese-sentiment-spreading-with-coronavirus.html

14. USCIS Announces Public Charge Rule Implementation Following

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Supreme Court Stay of Nationwide Injunctions
January 31, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/uscis-announces-public-charge-rule-implementation-following-supreme-court-stay-of-nationwide-injunctions.html

15. 7th Circuit is aghast at 'obduracy' of Board of Immigration Appeals, which refused to implement its decision
January 31, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/7th-circuit-is-aghast-at-obduracy-of-board-of-immigration-appeals-which-refused-to-implement-its-decision.html

16. Use of Video in Place of In-Person Immigration Court Hearings
January 29, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/use-of-video-in-place-of-in-person-immigration-court-hearings.html

17. Brazil Swept into MPP Protocols
January 29, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/brazil-swept-into-mpp-protocols.html

18. American Immigration Council: Policies Affecting Asylum Seekers at the Border The Migrant Protection Protocols, Prompt Asylum Claim Review, Humanitarian Asylum Review Process, Metering, Asylum Transit Ban, and How They Interact
January 29, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/american-immigration-council-policies-affecting-asylum-seekers-at-the-border-the-migrant-protection-.html

19. Legal, Non-Governmental Experts File Amicus in Flores v. Barr Arguing 9th Circuit Should Uphold Historic Settlement to Prevent U.S.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Violations of Treaty and Customary International Law
By Ian M. Kysel
January 29, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/title-legal-non-governmental-experts-file-amicus-in-flores-v-barr-arguing-9th-circuit-should-uphold-.html

20. Thoughts on Public Charge Stay Order and Nationwide Injunctions
By Geoffrey A. Hoffman
January 29, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/thoughts-on-public-charge-stay-order-and-nationwide-injunctions-by-geoffrey-a-hoffman.html

21. Immigration and the U.S. Labor Market: A Look Ahead
By Harry J. Holzer
January 28, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/immigration-article-of-the-day-immigration-and-the-us-labor-market-a-look-ahead-by-harry-j-holzer.html

22. More Musings on Anti-Birth-Tourism Efforts
January 27, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/more-musings-on-anti-birth-tourism-efforts.html

23. Supreme Court Allows Trump Administration to Put New Public Charge Rule Into Effect
January 27, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/breaking-news-supreme-court-allows-trump-administration-to-put-new-public-charge-rule-into-effect.html

24. Immigration judges are quitting or retiring early because of Trump policies

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

January 27, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/immigration-judges-are-quitting-or-retiring-early-because-of-trump-policies.html

25. Trump to expand travel ban

January 27, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/trumps-to-expand-travel-ban.html

26. Ohio judge says he relies on a hunch to call ICE when he suspects defendants are undocumented

January 27, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/ohio-judge-says-he-relies-on-a-hunch-to-call-ice-when-he-suspects-defendants-are-undocumented.html

27. Clinton and Obama Laid the Groundwork for Donald Trump's War on Immigrants

January 26, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/clinton-and-obama-laid-the-groundwork-for-donald-trumps-war-on-immigrants.html

28. New Chief for CBP

January 24, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/new-chief-for-cbp.html

29. "Birth Tourism": Huge Problem or Myth?

January 24, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/birth-tourism-huge-problem-or-myth.html

30. DNA Collection at the Border Threatens the Privacy of All Americans

January 23, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/dna-collection-at-the-border-threatens-the-privacy-of-all-americans-1.html

Return to Top

****
****

18.
16 million workers in the UK would see their jobs open to worldwide competition
MigrationWatch UK Briefing Paper No. 472, February 3, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationwatchuk.org/briefing-paper/472/16-million-workers-in-the-uk-would-see-their-jobs-open-to-worldwide-competition

The post-Brexit immigration system
MigrationWatch UK Briefing Paper No. 471, January 24, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationwatchuk.org/briefing-paper/471/the-post-brexit-immigration-system

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Deported to Danger
United States Deportation Policies Expose Salvadorans to Death and Abuse
By Elizabeth G. Kennedy, Alison Parker, and Clara Long
Human Rights Watch, February 5, 2020
. . .
https://www.hrw.org/report/2020/02/05/deported-danger/united-states-deportation-policies-expose-salvadorans-death-and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

20.
Illegal: How America's Lawless Immigration Regime Threatens Us All
By Elizabeth F. Cohen

Basic Books, 272 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 154169984X, $21.72
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/154169984X/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 3122 KB, 209 pp., ASIN: B07RJR5413, $16.99

Book Description: Under the Trump administration, US immigration agencies terrorize the undocumented, target people who are here legally, and even threaten the constitutional rights of American citizens. How did we get to this point?

In Illegal, Elizabeth F. Cohen reveals that our current crisis has roots in early twentieth century white nationalist politics, which began to reemerge in the 1980s. Since then, ICE and CBP have acquired bigger budgets and more power than any other law enforcement agency. Now, Trump has unleashed them. If we want to reverse the rising tide of abuse, Cohen argues that we must act quickly to rein in the powers of the current immigration regime and revive saner approaches based on existing law. Going beyond the headlines, Illegal makes clear that if we don't act now all of us, citizen and not, are at risk.

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Fencing in Democracy: Border Walls, Necrocitizenship, and the Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

State
By Miguel Díaz-Barriga and Margaret E. Dorsey

Duke University Press Books, 200 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1478006056, $91.92
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1478006056/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1478006935 $24.94
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1478006935/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 24455 KB, ASIN: B083R6HN7N, $13.99

Book Description: Border walls permeate our world, with more than thirty nation-states constructing them. Anthropologists Margaret E. Dorsey and Miguel Díaz-Barriga argue that border wall construction manifests transformations in citizenship practices that are aimed not only at keeping migrants out but also at enmeshing citizens into a wider politics of exclusion. For a decade, the authors studied the U.S.-Mexico border wall constructed by the Department of Homeland Security and observed the political protests and legal challenges that residents mounted in opposition to the wall. In Fencing in Democracy Dorsey and Díaz-Barriga take us to those border communities most affected by the wall and often ignored in national discussions about border security to highlight how the state diminishes citizens' rights. That dynamic speaks to the citizenship experiences of border residents that is indicative of how walls imprison the populations they are built to protect. Dorsey and Díaz-Barriga brilliantly expand conversations about citizenship, the operation of U.S. power, and the implications of border walls for the future of democracy.

Return to Top

****
****

22.
The International Organization for Migration: Challenges, Commitments, Complexities
By Megan Bradley

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Routledge, 160 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1138818933, $155.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138818933/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1138818968, $44.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138818968/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 2158 KB, ASIN: B0849KLGYR, $44.99

Book Description: Since its establishment in 1951, the International Organization for Migration (IOM) has expanded from a small, regionally specific, logistically focused outfit into a major international organization involved in an almost dizzying array of activities related to human mobility. In 2016, IOM joined the UN system and has rebranded itself as the "UN migration agency." Despite its dramatic expansion and increasing influence, IOM remains understudied.

This book provides an accessible, incisive introduction to IOM, focusing on its humanitarian activities and responses to forced migration – work that now makes up the majority of the organization's budget, staff, and field presence. IOM's humanitarian work is often overlooked or dismissed as a veil for its involvement in other activities that serve states' interests in restricting migration. In contrast, Bradley argues that understanding IOM's involvement in humanitarian action and work with displaced persons is pivotal to comprehending its evolution and contemporary significance. Examining tensions and controversies surrounding the agency's activities, including in the complex cases of Haiti and Libya, the book considers how IOM's structure, culture, and internal and external power struggles have shaped its behaviour. It demonstrates how IOM has grown by acting as an entrepreneur, cultivating autonomy and influence well beyond its limited formal mandate.

The International Organization for Migration is essential reading for students and scholars of migration, humanitarianism, and international organizations.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

23.

The Mobility of Displaced Syrians: An Economic and Social Analysis
By World Bank

World Bank, 278 pp.

Paperback, ISBN: 1464814015, $49.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1464814015/centerforimmigra

Book Description: The war in Syria, now in its eighth year, continues to take its toll on the Syrian people. More than half of the population of Syria remains displaced; 5.6 million persons are registered as refugees outside of the country and another 6.2 million are displaced within Syria s borders. The internally displaced persons include 2 million school-age children; of these, less than half attend school. Another 739,000 Syrian children are out of school in the five neighborhood countries that host Syria's refugees. The loss of human capital is staggering, and it will create permanent hardships for generations of Syrians going forward.

Despite the tragic prospects for renewed fighting in certain parts of the country, an overall reduction in armed conflict is possible going forward. However, international experience shows that the absence of fighting is rarely a singular trigger for the return of displaced people. Numerous other factors including improved security and socioeconomic conditions in origin states, access to property and assets, the availability of key services, and restitution in home areas play important roles in shaping the scale and composition of the returns. Overall, refugees have their own calculus of return that considers all of these factors and assesses available options.

The Mobility of Displaced Syrians: An Economic and Social Analysis sheds light on the 'mobility calculus' of Syrian refugees. While dismissing any policies that imply wrongful practices involving forced repatriation, the study analyzes factors that may be considered by refugees in their own decisions to relocate. It provides a conceptual framework, supported by data and analysis, to facilitate an impartial conversation about refugees and their mobility choices. It also explores the diversified policy toolkit that the international community has available and the most effective ways in which the toolkit can be adapted to maximize the well-being of refugees, host countries, and the people in Syria.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

24.

Migration, Identity, and Belonging: Defining Borders and Boundaries of the Homeland

By Margaret E. Franz and Kumarini Silva

Routledge, 188 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1138602906, $155.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1138602906/centerforimmigra

Book Description: This volume responds to the question: How do you know when you belong to a country? In other words, when is the nation-state a homeland? The boundaries and borders defining who belongs and who does not proliferate in the age of globalization, although they may not coincide with national jurisdictions. Contributors to this collection engage with how these boundaries are made and sustained, examining how belonging is mediated by material relations of power, capital, and circuits of communication technology on the one side and representations of identity, nation, and homeland on the other. The authors' diverse methodologies, ranging from archival research, oral histories, literary criticism, and ethnography attend to these contradictions by studying how the practices of migration and identification, procured and produced through global exchanges of bodies and goods that cross borders, foreclose those borders to (re)produce, and (re)imagine the homeland and its boundaries.

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

25.

Socially Undocumented: Identity and Immigration Justice

By Amy Reed-Sandoval

Oxford University Press, 240 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 0190619805, $85.50
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0190619805/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 0190619813, $35.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0190619813/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1142 KB, ASIN: B082XHBM2Z, $19.24

Book Description: What does it really mean to be "undocumented," particularly in the contemporary United States? Political philosophers, immigration policy makers, and others have tended to define the term "undocumented migrant" legalistically-that is, in terms of lacking legal authorization to live and work in one's current country of residence. In Socially Undocumented, Reed-Sandoval challenges this "legalistic understanding" by arguing that being socially undocumented is to possess a real, visible, and embodied social identity that does not always track one's legal status. She further argues that achieving immigration justice in the U.S. (and elsewhere) requires a philosophical understanding of the racialized, class-based, and gendered components of socially undocumented identity and oppression.

Socially Undocumented offers a new vision of immigration justice by integrating a descriptive and phenomenological account of socially undocumented identity with a normative and political account of how the oppression with which it is associated ought to be dealt with as a matter of social justice. It also addresses concrete ethical challenges such as the question of whether open borders are morally required, the militarization of the Mexico-U.S. border, the perilous journey that many migrants undertake to get to the United States, the difficult experiences of the women who cross U.S. borders seeking prenatal care while pregnant, and more.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

26.

American Dirt

By Jeanine Cummins

Flatiron Books, 400 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1250209765, $16.79
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1250209765/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 4878 KB, ASIN: B07QQLCZY1, 387 pp., $14.99

Book Description: Lydia Quixano Pérez lives in the Mexican city of Acapulco. She runs a bookstore. She has a son, Luca, the love of her life, and a wonderful husband who is a journalist. And while there are cracks beginning to show in Acapulco because of the drug cartels, her life is, by and large, fairly comfortable.

Even though she knows they'll never sell, Lydia stocks some of her all-time favorite books in her store. And then one day a man enters the shop to browse and comes up to the register with a few books he would like to buy—two of them her favorites. Javier is erudite. He is charming. And, unbeknownst to Lydia, he is the jefe of the newest drug cartel that has gruesomely taken over the city. When Lydia's husband's tell-all profile of Javier is published, none of their lives will ever be the same.

Forced to flee, Lydia and eight-year-old Luca soon find themselves miles and worlds away from their comfortable middle-class existence. Instantly transformed into migrants, Lydia and Luca ride la bestia—trains that make their way north toward the United States, which is the only place Javier's reach doesn't extend. As they join the countless people trying to reach el norte, Lydia soon sees that everyone is running from something. But what exactly are they running to?

American Dirt will leave readers utterly changed. It is a literary achievement filled with poignancy, drama, and humanity on every page. It is one of the most important books for our times.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Already being hailed as "a Grapes of Wrath for our times" and "a new American classic," Jeanine Cummins's American Dirt is a rare exploration into the inner hearts of people willing to sacrifice everything for a glimmer of hope.

Return to Top

****
****

27.
Comparative Migration Studies
Vol. 8, Nos. 4, 5, January 22 and February 3, 2020
http://www.comparativemigrationstudies.com/

Latest Articles:

Rethinking minority status and 'visibility'
By Miri Song
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0162-2

Commemorating the deadly other side of externalized borders through "migrant-martyrs", sacrifices and politizations of (irregular) migration on the international migrants' day in Mali
By Almamy Sylla and Susanne U. Schultz
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0167-x

Return to Top

****
****

28.
International Migration
Vol. 58, No. 1, January 2020
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/toc/14682435/current

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Articles:

SPECIAL ISSUE: EXPLORING THE LIVED EXPERIENCES OF INTRA-EU MOBILITY IN AN ERA OF COMPLEX ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL CHANGE

Special Issue Introduction: Exploring the Lived Experiences of Intra-EU Mobility in an Era of Complex Economic and Political Change
By Russell King and Manolis Pratsinakis
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12682

A Crisis-Driven Migration? Aspirations and Experiences of the Post-2008 South European Migrants in London
By Manolis Pratsinakis, Russell King, Carmen Leon Himmelstine, and Caterina Mazzilli
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12583

Overcoming "Crisis": Mobility Capabilities and "stretching" a Migrant Identity among Young Irish in London and Return Migrants
By Aija Lulle, Liam Coakley, and Piaras MacÉinrí
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12577

Post-2008 Multi-Sited Household Practices: Between Morocco, Spain and Norway
By Dominique Jolivet
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12554

The Ambiguity of Return Migration: Prolonged Crisis and Uncertainty in the Life Strategies of Young Romanian and Latvian Returnees
By Elina Apsite-Berina, Mădălina-Elena Manea, and Maris Berzins
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12580

(New) Bulgarian Enlighteners and Ambassadors? The Reinvention of National Identity in Times of Crisis
By Elena Genova
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12592

EU Children in Brexit Britain: Re-Negotiating Belonging in Nationalist

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Times
By Elisabetta Zontini and Davide Però
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12581

Long-Term Care Crisis in The Netherlands and Migration of Live-in Care Workers: Transnational Trajectories, Coping Strategies and Motivation Mixes
By María Bruquetas-Callejo
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12628

Integration Needs and Support Offered: The Effects of Support on Young Spaniards in Germany
By Mustafa Aksakal and Kerstin Schmidt
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12613

Far from a Burden: EU Migrants as Pioneers of a European Social Protection System from Below
By Marie Godin
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12651

Commentary: A Citizenship without Social Rights? EU Freedom of Movement and Changing Access to Welfare Rights
By Roxana Barbulescu Adrian Favell
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12607

Immigration, Bureaucracies and Policy Formulation: The Case of Quebec
By Mireille Paquet
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12555

Temporary Labour–Migration System and Long–term Residence Strategies in the United Arab Emirates
By Marko Valenta Kaley Elizabeth Knowlton Jo Jakobsen Mouawiya Al Awad Zan Strabac
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12551

Latin Americans and Caribbeans in Europe: A Cross-Country Analysis
By Jordi Bayona-i-Carrasco Rosalia Avila-Tàpies
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12565

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Implications of Collection of Excessive Brokerage Fees for Migrant Workers in the Domestic Care Sector in Israel
By Gal Talit, Yoram Ida, and Sigal Levy
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12571

Return to Top

****
****

29.
International Migration Review
Online first, January 2020
https://journals.sagepub.com/toc/mrxa/current

Latest Articles:

Immigration System, Labor Market Structures, and Overeducation of High-Skilled Immigrants in the United States and Canada
By Yao Lu and Feng Hou
January 30, 2020
. . .
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/full/10.1177/0197918319901263

Translating People and Policy: The Role of Maid Agents in Brokering between Employers and Migrant Domestic Workers in Singapore's Migration Industry
By Kellynn Wee, Charmian Goh, and Brenda S.A. Yeoh
January 23, 2020
. . .
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/full/10.1177/0197918319897570

What Is the Size and Legal Composition of the US Foreign-Born Population?
By Guillermina Jasso and Mark R. Rosenzweig
January 21, 2020
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi.org/10.1177/0197918319893287

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

30.
IZA Journal of Migration
Vol. 11, No. 1, January 2020
https://content.sciendo.com/view/journals/izajodm/11/1/izajodm.11.issue-1.xml

Latest articles:

The Role of Migration Experience in Migrants' Destination Choice
By Eugenia M. Chernina
https://content.sciendo.com/view/journals/izajodm/11/1/article-20200001.xml

Return to Top

****
****

31.
Journal of Ethnic and Racial Studies
Vol. 43, No. 4, March 2020
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/rers20/43/4

Articles:

From white to what? MENA and Iranian American non-white reflected race
By Neda Maghbouleh
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1599130

Seeing whites: views of black Brazilians in Rio de Janeiro
By Graziella Moraes Silva, Luciana Souza Leão, and Barbara Grillo
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1585897

Who are the transnationals? Institutional categories beyond "migrants"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Cathrine Talleraas
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1599133

United in diversity? Religious categorization in the German 2011 census
By Jana Catalina Glaese
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1588986

The economic advancement of European minority immigrants to the USA
By Elyakim Kislev
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1591630

Disharmonious Chinese ethnic business: intergroup stereotypes among Chinese migrant employees in Australia
By Yao-Tai Li
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1599132

The Ummah racial project: Arab satellite television, Islamic movements, and the construction of Spanish Moroccan identity
By Anwar Ouassini
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1587174

Anti-social behaviour in the square. Differentiation mechanisms among non-native groups in a peripheral neighbourhood of Barcelona
By Diana Mata-Codesal
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1599131

Restrictive borders and rights: attitudes of the Danish public to asylum seekers
By Adi Hercowitz-Amir and Rebeca Raijman
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1606435

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, February 6, 2020 9:02 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: DHS Blocks New Yorkers from Trusted Traveler Programs

DHS Blocks New Yorkers from Trusted Traveler Programs

State Driver's License Law Creates National Security Concerns

Washington, D.C. (February 6, 2020) - Acting Secretary of Homeland Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Chad Wolf announced on Wednesday the termination of eligibility for enrollment and re-enrollment in Trusted Traveler Programs (TTP) for residents of New York. It was important for the Department to act due to significant public safety, national security, and document integrity concerns stemming from the state's new driver's license law. The Center for Immigration Studies highlighted these security problems in a November report, New York Green-Light law Creates Serious and Unprecedented Hurdles for Immigration Enforcement.

A letter from DHS to New York officials outlines the restrictions, which apply to: Global Entry, NEXUS, the Secure Electronic Network for Travelers Rapid Inspection (SENTRI) program, and the Free and Secure Trade (FAST) program. These programs provide expedited and preferential entry procedures to travelers who meet certain requirements. The restrictions will also impact those attempting to export New York vehicles. DHS officials estimated 40,000 vehicles will be impacted.

TPPs, which rely in large part on states to verify individual's identities, can no longer trust the New York driver's license. New York's new Green-Light law, enacted in December, permits driver's licenses to be issued to illegal aliens and others lacking authenticatable identity documents. In addition, the law prohibits DHS immigration enforcement agencies from accessing motor vehicle and driver information.

CIS Director of Policy Studies Jessica Vaughan said: "New York's law is the most egregious in the nation, and it creates unacceptable security and safety risks to everyone, for the sole purpose of protecting those who are living here illegally. The Department cannot stand by and watch a state obstruct federal authority and create problems for everyone. It will be interesting to see if frequent travelers from New York are willing to be inconvenienced for the sake of illegal aliens. This is not necessarily the last word from DHS, so other states that are considering this should take note."

The Green-Light law undermines U.S. security in the following ways:

- It relaxes the documentation standards for licenses, requiring the motor vehicle agency to accept unverifiable documents, including foreign-issued documents such as consular ID cards. This enables illegal aliens and/or others with nefarious intent with a method to obtain a legitimate, state-issued document for identification.
- It prohibits ICE and CBP officers and agents from accessing information maintained by NYDMV. This prevents the Border Patrol, for example, from obtaining any routine information on NY-tagged vehicles entering the United States at any port of entry.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Ironically, DHS agencies will have more cooperation and information-sharing with Canada, a foreign nation, than the state of New York.

Related Articles:
New York Green-Light Law Creates Serious and Unprecedented Hurdles for Immigration Enforcement

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Sunday, February 9, 2020 1:22 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 2/9/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 2/9/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, David North, and Jason Peña
2. "The Truth About the 'Public Charge' Immigration Rule," Dave Seminara
3. "Criminals Would be Protected From Deportation Under Bill AOC and Other House Democrats Back," Tucker Carlson
4. "ICE, CBP Purchase Phone Location Data to Enforce Immigration Law: Report," Tobias Hoonhout
5. "DHS Bans New Yorkers from Trusted Traveler Programs over Sanctuary Law Allowing Illegal Immigrants to Receive Driver Licenses," Tobias Hoonhout
6. "Trump Accuses Dems of Sheltering Illegal Immigrant Criminals Rather Than Creating 'A Sanctuary for Law-Abiding Americans'," Tobias Hoonhout
7. "Virtue Signaling Can Carry a Cost," Paul Mirengoff
8. "Trump Moves (Modestly) Against Birth Tourism," John Hinderaker
9. "Seventy-Five Percent of Illegal Immigrants Skip Deportation Hearings, Hiding Out in US," Paul Bedard
10. "Illegal Immigrants Cost Taxpayers $6.5K a Year Each: Report," Paul Bedard
11. "Pelosi 'Ripped Our Hearts Out' Tearing Up That Speech Says Brother of Man Killed by Illegal Alien," Tom Tillison
12. "An Al Qaeda Leader Came to America as a Refugee, And Applied for Disability for Bullet Wounds," Daniel Greenfield
13. "No Experience Required: US Hiring Immigration Judges Who Don't Have Any Immigration Law Experience," Nolan Rappaport
14. "Jorge Ramos: 'Mexico Is Now the Wall'," John Sexton
15. "AMLO Sees Migrant Caravans 'Waning'," Jazz Shaw
16. "The Myth of Pete Buttigieg, 'Moderate'," Christopher Bedford
17. "The Far-Left Is Now Saying the Superbowl Halftime Show Was a Protest of the 'Kids in Cages' Policy," Alex D.
18. "Illegal Immigrants Buy, Rent Kids for Easier U.S. Entry, Guatemalan With Fake Son Jailed," Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles
19. "State of the Union Gets Immigration Almost Right," Igor Magalhaes
20. "So 'Liberal Restrictionist' Jerry Kammer Got to Publish a New York Times Op-Ed. But Only by Conceding the Case for Amnesty.," Nicholas Stix

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

21. "Iowa Caucus: Bernie Sanders Wins Nearly All Non-English Speaking Immigrant Voters," John Binder
22. "President Trump Misses an Opportunity Tuesday Night," Joe Guzzardi
23. "Protecting Venezuelans at Odds With Trump Immigration Agenda," Stuart Anderson
24. "The Next Harmful Immigration Move Against International Students," Stuart Anderson
25. "Indians Immigrating to Canada at an Astonishing Rate," Stuart Anderson
26. "U.S. Could Actually Use More Nigerian Immigrants," Justin Fox
27. "Donald Trump Didn't Need the Wall," Nicole Narea
28. "Are the Courts Beginning to Move in Favor of Trump's Immigration Policies?," Jonathan Blitz
29. "A National Survey on Immigration Led Me to a Rural Iowa Town Changed by Immigrants," Andrea Tudhope
30. "Hey Dems: Want to Help Immigrants? Stop Promising Universal Freebies," Shikha Dalmia
31. "In Brown Type: New Immigration Rule Is Shortsighted," Jaya Padmanabhan
32. "On Immigration, Supreme Court Wrong to Allow 'Public Charge' Rule," Raul Reyes
33. "Get the Candidates Talking About Immigration," Alejandro Urrutia
34. "Trump's Speech Was a Nationalist, Anti-Immigrant, Socialism-Hating Game Show," Sam Brodey, Spencer Ackerman, and Asawin Suebsaeng
35. "Trump Got His Wish. Mexico Is Now the Wall," Jorge Ramos
36. " 'New Deal for New Americans' Will Reform Immigration Policy and Strengthen Our Nation ," Angelica Salas and Manuel Pastor
37. "Trump's Immigration Crackdown Has Taken a Dystopian Turn," Eric Lutz

1.
CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

The President's SOTU Address Highlights the Evil of Sanctuaries
February 6, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Presidents-SOTU-Address-Highlights-Evil-Sanctuaries

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

U.S. Secrets Continue to Hemorrhage through Flawed Policies Governing Students, Scholars, and Institutions of Research and Learning
February 4, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/US-Secrets-Continue-Hemorrhage-through-Flawed-Policies-Governing-Students-Scholars-and

U.S. Invokes Visa Sanctions Against Six Nations
February 1, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/US-Invokes-Visa-Sanctions-Against-Six-Nations

By Andrew R. Arthur

New York's 'Green-Light Law': A Boon to Frat Boys
As well as criminals and terrorists
February 7, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/New-Yorks-GreenLight-Law-Boon-Frat-Boys

Almost Seven Out of 10 Families Are No-Shows in 10 Immigration Courts
'Asylees' or economic migrants?
February 7, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Almost-Seven-Out-10-Families-Are-NoShows-10-Immigration-Courts

The View from the Family Detention Center in Dilley
Kids in classrooms, not cages — with karaoke
February 6, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/View-Family-Detention-Center-Dilley

Tent Courts Aren't Tents — and Provide Due Process
Inside the Laredo MPP hearing facility, and then the view from the other side
February 4, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Tent-Courts-Arent-Tents-and-Provide-Due-Process

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The View from Laredo
Not enough Border Patrol agents or infrastructure
February 3, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/View-Laredo

By David North

A Proposed Charter School, with Both EB-5 and Gulen Cult Ties, Is Doomed
February 6, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Proposed-Charter-School-Both-EB5-and-Gulen-Cult-Ties-Doomed

An Exchange of Comments about a California University
February 5, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Exchange-Comments-about-California-University

DHS Experiments with Chinese EB-5 Applications — What Happens Next?
February 3, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/DHS-Experiments-Chinese-EB5-Applications-What-Happens-Next

Business Colleague of Jared Kushner Charged in EB-5 Suit
February 3, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Business-Colleague-Jared-Kushner-Charged-EB5-Suit

By Jason Peña

Ecuador Moves to Limit Crimes Committed by Foreign Nationals
February 7, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Ecuador-Moves-Limit-Crimes-Committed-Foreign-Nationals

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

2.

The Truth About the 'Public Charge' Immigration Rule

Trump's regulation is a response to a real problem, and it's nowhere near as draconian as critics say.

By Dave Seminara

The Wall Street Journal, February 3, 2020

. . .

https://www.wsj.com/articles/the-truth-about-the-public-charge-immigration-rule-11580773460

Return to Top

****

****

3.

Criminals Would be Protected From Deportation Under Bill AOC and Other House Democrats Back

By Tucker Carlson

Fox News, February 6, 2020

. . .

https://www.foxnews.com/opinion/tucker-carlson-criminals-would-be-protected-from-deportation-under-bill-aoc-and-other-house-democrats-back

Return to Top

****

****

4.

ICE, CBP Purchase Phone Location Data to Enforce Immigration Law: Report

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Tobias Hoonhout
National Review Online, February 7, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/news/ice-cbp-purchase-phone-location-data-to-enforce-immigration-law-report/

Return to Top

****
****

5.
DHS Bans New Yorkers from Trusted Traveler Programs over Sanctuary Law Allowing Illegal Immigrants to Receive Driver Licenses
By Tobias Hoonhout
National Review Online, February 6, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/news/dhs-bans-new-yorkers-from-trusted-traveler-programs-over-sanctuary-law-allowing-illegal-immigrants-to-receive-driver-licenses/

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Trump Accuses Dems of Sheltering Illegal Immigrant Criminals Rather Than Creating 'A Sanctuary for Law-Abiding Americans'
By Tobias Hoonhout
National Review Online, February 4, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/news/state-of-the-union-address-trump-accuses-democrats-of-sheltering-illegal-immigrant-criminals-rather-than-creating-a-sanctuary-for-law-abiding-americans/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

7.

Virtue Signaling Can Carry a Cost

By Paul Mirengoff in Immigration, Trump Admninistration

Power Line Blog, February 7, 2020

. . .

https://www.powerlineblog.com/archives/2020/02/virtue-signaling-can-carry-a-cost.php

Return to Top

****

****

8.

Trump Moves (Modestly) Against Birth Tourism

By John Hinderaker

Power Line Blog, February 1, 2020

. . .

https://www.powerlineblog.com/archives/2020/02/trump-moves-modestly-against-birth-tourism.php

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Seventy-Five Percent of Illegal Immigrants Skip Deportation Hearings, Hiding Out in US

By Paul Bedard

Washington Examiner, February 7, 202

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/washington-secrets/75-of-illegal-immigrants-skip-deportation-hearings-hiding-out-in-us

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Illegal Immigrants Cost Taxpayers $6.5K a Year Each: Report
By Paul Bedard
Washington Examiner, February 5, 202
. . .
https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/washington-secrets/report-illegal-immigrants-cost-taxpayers-6-500-a-year-each

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Pelosi 'Ripped Our Hearts Out' Tearing Up That Speech Says Brother of Man Killed by Illegal Alien
By Tom Tillison
BizPacReview.com, February 5, 2020
. . .
https://www.bizpacreview.com/2020/02/05/pelosi-ripped-our-hearts-out-tearing-up-that-speech-says-brother-of-man-killed-by-illegal-alien-883530

Return to Top

****
****

12.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

An Al Qaeda Leader Came to America as a Refugee, And Applied for Disability for Bullet Wounds

How Biden helped an Al-Qaeda leader come to the USA.

Daniel Greenfield

FrontPageMag.com, February 6, 2020

. . .

https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/02/al-qaeda-leader-came-america-refugee-and-applied-daniel-greenfield/

Return to Top

****

****

13.

No Experience Required: US Hiring Immigration Judges Who Don't Have Any Immigration Law Experience

By Nolan Rappaport

TheHill.com, February 3, 2020

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/481152-us-hiring-immigration-judges-who-dont-have-any-immigration-law-experience

Return to Top

****

****

14.

Jorge Ramos: "Mexico Is Now the Wall"

By John Sexton

HotAir.com, February 7, 2020

. . .

https://hotair.com/archives/john-s-2/2020/02/07/jorge-ramos-mexico-allow-central-american-caravans-pass-way-america/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

15.

AMLO Sees Migrant Caravans "Waning"

By Jazz Shaw

HotAir.com, February 1, 2020

. . .

https://hotair.com/archives/jazz-shaw/2020/02/01/amlo-sees-migrant-caravans-waning/

Return to Top

****

****

16.

The Myth of Pete Buttigieg, 'Moderate'

From health care and abortion to guns and immigration, and from the Supreme Court to the Electoral College, the man is decidedly a radical.

By Christopher Bedford

TheFederalist.com, February 3, 2020

. . .

https://thefederalist.com/2020/02/03/the-myth-of-pete-buttigieg-moderate/

Return to Top

****

****

17.

The Far-Left Is Now Saying the Superbowl Halftime Show Was a Protest of the "Kids in Cages" Policy

By Alex D.

Right Journalism, February 3, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.rightjournalism.com/the-far-left-is-now-saying-the-superbowl-halftime-show-was-a-protest-of-the-kids-in-cages-policy-video/

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Illegal Immigrants Buy, Rent Kids for Easier U.S. Entry, Guatemalan With Fake Son Jailed
Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles, January 30, 2020
. . .
https://www.judicialwatch.org/corruption-chronicles/illegal-immigrants-buy-rent-kids-for-easier-u-s-entry-guatemalan-with-fake-son-jailed/

Return to Top

****
****

19.
State of the Union Gets Immigration Almost Right
By Igor Magalhaes
Townhall.com, February 6, 2020
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/igormagalhaes/2020/02/06/state-of-the-union-gets-immigration-almost-right-n2560834

Return to Top

****
****

20.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

So "Liberal Restrictionist" Jerry Kammer Got to Publish a NEW YORK TIMES Op-Ed. But Only by Conceding the Case for Amnesty.
By Nicholas Stix
VDare.com, February 4, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/so-liberal-restrictionist-jerry-kammer-got-to-publish-a-new-york-times-op-ed-but-only-by-conceding-the-case-for-amnesty

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Iowa Caucus: Bernie Sanders Wins Nearly All Non-English Speaking Immigrant Voters
By John Binder
Breitbart.com News, February 6, 2020
. . .
https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2020/02/06/bernie-sanders-won-nearly-all-non-english-speaking-immigrants/

Return to Top

****
****

22.
President Trump Misses an Opportunity Tuesday Night
SOTU Was the Time to Distance Himself from Presidential Challengers
By Joe Guzzardi
Patch.com, February 5, 2020
. . .
https://patch.com/district-columbia/washingtondc/president-trump-misses-opportunity-tuesday-night

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

23.

Protecting Venezuelans at Odds With Trump Immigration Agenda

By Stuart Anderson

Forbes.com, February 6, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/02/06/protecting-venezuelans-at-odds-with-trump-immigration-agenda/#18bb8afd4eb8

Return to Top

****

****

24.

The Next Harmful Immigration Move Against International Students

By Stuart Anderson

Forbes.com, February 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/02/05/the-next-harmful-immigration-move-against-international-students/#7305bd0846fc

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Indians Immigrating to Canada at an Astonishing Rate

By Stuart Anderson

Forbes.com, February 3, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/02/03/indians-immigrating-to-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

canada-at-an-astonishing-rate/#22f904962b5f

Return to Top

****
****

26.
U.S. Could Actually Use More Nigerian Immigrants
A new ban from the White House hits one of the most successfully integrated groups in the country.
By Justin Fox
Bloomberg News, February 5, 2020
. . .
https://www.bloomberg.com/opinion/articles/2020-02-04/trump-immigration-ban-from-nigeria-overlooks-integration-success

Return to Top

****
****

27.
Donald Trump Didn't Need the Wall
His State of the Union address was a showcase of how he has reshaped the immigration system.
By Nicole Narea
VOX.com, February 4, 2020
. . .
https://www.vox.com/policy-and-politics/2020/2/4/21115084/trump-wall-border-immigrants-sotu-state-union

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

28.

Are the Courts Beginning to Move in Favor of Trump's Immigration Policies?

By Jonathan Blitz

The New Yorker, February 6, 2020

. . .

https://www.newyorker.com/news/daily-comment/are-the-courts-beginning-to-move-in-favor-of-trumps-immigration-policies

Return to Top

****

****

29.

A National Survey on Immigration Led Me to a Rural Iowa Town Changed by Immigrants

By Andrea Tudhope

WFYI.org News, February 6, 2020

. . .

https://www.wfyi.org/news/articles/a-national-survey-on-immigration-led-me-to-a-rural-iowa-town-changed-by-immigrants

Return to Top

****

****

30.

Hey Dems: Want to Help Immigrants? Stop Promising Universal Freebies

A Harvard study's findings show how not to fight the restrictionist disinformation campaign.

By Shikha Dalmia

Reason.com, February 3, 2020

. . .

https://reason.com/2020/02/03/hey-dems-want-to-help-immigrants-stop-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

promising-universal-freebies/

Return to Top

****
****

31.
In Brown Type: New Immigration Rule Is Shortsighted
On January 27, the Supreme Court, in a narrow 5-4 vote, gave the go-ahead to the Trump administration to implement its public charge rule
By Jaya Padmanabhan
The San Francisco Examiner, February 6, 2020
. . .
https://www.sfexaminer.com/news-columnists/in-brown-type-new-immigration-rule-is-shortsighted/

Return to Top

****
****

32.
On Immigration, Supreme Court Wrong to Allow 'Public Charge' Rule
By Raul Reyes
TheHill.com, February 4, 2020
. . .
https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/481336-on-immigration-supreme-court-wrong-to-allow-public-charge-rule

Return to Top

****
****

33.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Get the Candidates Talking About Immigration
By Alejandro Urrutia
The Concord Monitor, February 4, 2020
. . .
https://www.concordmonitor.com/Immigration-and-the-primary-32361653

Return to Top

****
****

34.
Trump's Speech Was a Nationalist, Anti-Immigrant, Socialism-Hating Game Show
The 2020 State of the Union didn't bother sneering at impeachment. Trump took a different sort of victory lap—one heavy on spectacle.
By Sam Brodey, Spencer Ackerman, and Asawin Suebsaeng
The Daily Beast, February 5, 2020
. . .
https://www.thedailybeast.com/trump-2020-state-of-the-union-address-nationalist-anti-immigrant-socialism-hating-game-show

Return to Top

****
****

35.
Trump Got His Wish. Mexico Is Now the Wall
The American immigration system needs a complete makeover, but López Obrador's government shouldn't act as an extension of the Border Patrol.
By Jorge Ramos
The New York Times, February 7, 2020
. . .
https://www.nytimes.com/2020/02/07/opinion/international-world/mexico-migrants.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

36.

'New Deal for New Americans' Will Reform Immigration Policy and Strengthen Our Nation

By Angelica Salas and Manuel Pastor

The Sacramento Bee, February 8, 2020

. . .

https://www.sacbee.com/opinion/california-forum/article240022993.html

Return to Top

****

****

37.

Trump's Immigration Crackdown Has Taken a Dystopian Turn

The government's use of cell phone location data at the border is raising alarms about a creeping surveillance state.

By Eric Lutz

Vanity Fair, February 7, 2020

. . .

https://www.vanityfair.com/news/2020/02/trump-immigration-crackdown-has-taken-a-dystopian-turn-cell-phone-data

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, February 10, 2020 4:15 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: House Envy Motivates Guatemala's Mass Migration to the U.S. Border

Share

Tweet

Forward

House Envy Motivates Guatemala's Mass Migration to the U.S. Border

Violence and Persecution are Not Push Factors

YALAMBOJOCH, Guatemala (February 10, 2020) – A new Center for

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Studies video report highlights the impact house envy plays in the mass exodus from Yalambojoch, a highland Guatemalan village of indigenous Mayan descendants. The desire for a bigger and better house is a common primary motivation for sending family members to work illegally in the United States; this same pattern is suggested throughout Huehuetenango province.

Hearing that bringing a child would enable quick release into the United States under the Flores legal loophole, triggered the massive emigration, which has left behind only an estimated 300 of Yalambojoch's 1,500 residents. The desire for more house than needed as a common primary motivation stands at sharp variance with "push factors" most often cited to explain and justify the mass U.S.-bound exodus of at least 300,000 Guatemalans during 2018 and 2019, the majority of them indigenous peoples from this mountainous region.

Video report: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NEARv_Bhxus

Read entire report here: https://cis.org/Bensman/House-Envy-Unacknowledged-Real-Motivation-Behind-Guatemalas-Mass-Migration-American-Border

Hundreds of thousands of U.S. asylum petitions filed by Guatemalans claim government persecution and imminent bodily harm. However, the mayor, vice mayor, and every villager interviewed during a two-day visit in January told CIS that violent crime was nonexistent, so absent in fact that police are not necessary; informal local civil patrols take care of any petty crime issues. Government persecution hasn't occurred in decades either. This means there is a high probability of large-scale asylum fraud, and that Guatemala is a safe third country for migrant nationals to be deported to apply for asylum.

Todd Bensman, the Center's senior national security fellow and author of the report, said, "The media has ignored the impact big-house status plays in families sending members to spend years working in the U.S. – even when the El Salvadoran father and child drowned in the Rio Grande in 2019 in route to the U.S. for this purpose, it was not mentioned as part of the story. 'House envy' does not qualify any of these individuals for asylum and only delays the processing of applicants who truly are fleeing violence and/or persecution."

Bensman cites two academic sources who have been calling for additional focused study of this house envy phenomenon.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Related Articles:

U.S.-Bound Migrants Gambling on Trump Defeat in November

Video Report: How Trump's Policies Ended the Mass Migration Crisis on Mexico's Southern Border — For Now

Video: Why the 2020 Caravans Threaten the Fragile Success of Trump's Border Policies

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, February 10, 2020 6:26 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 2/10/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 2/10/20

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 2/12, DC - House markup of H.R. 2214, the National Origin-Based Antidiscrimination for Nonimmigrants (NO BAN) Act - [New Listing]
2. 2/12, DC - MPI webinar on the differing state approaches to English learner policies under ESSA
3. 2/13, DC - House hearing on assessing U.S. security assistance to Mexico - [New Listing]
4. 2/14, Los Angeles - Lecture on explaining state responses to refugees
5. 2/17-21, San José, Costa Rica - World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges
6. 2/20, St. Petersburg, FL - CIS at discussion on nativism and immigration - [New Listing]
7. 2/20, Aspen, CO - Discussion on U.S. relations with the Northern Triangle countries - [New Listing]
8. 2/20-22, Charleston, SC - Conference on current trends in immigration research and activism - [Updated with agenda]
9. 2/24, DC - Lecture on humanizing migration and border security - [New Listing]
10. 2/24, San Diego - Seminar on the White Russian refugees and the development of American immigration and refugee law during the Great Depression
11. 2/26-28, Arlington, VA - Biometrics for government and law enforcement conference
12. 2/27, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migrant lives at Israel's margins
13. 2/28, Los Angeles - Conference on the Venezuela refugee crisis
14. 3/2-4, DC - Certificate program course on international migration studies
15. 3/4, New York, NY - Discussion on public preferences for limits and conditions on asylum policies - [New Listing]
16. 3/11-12, San Antonio - Annual border security expo
17. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary
18. 3/13, Los Angeles - Book discussion: Refuge Beyond Reach
19. 3/24, New York, NY - Book discussion: The Shifting Border - [New Listing]
20. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention
21. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration
22. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of fake news

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

23. 4/24, Pittsburgh - Lecture on a comprehensive approach to the issue of immigration
24. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law
25. 5/6-8, DC - Certificate program course on immigration policy

1.
Markup - H.R. 2214, the National Origin-Based Antidiscrimination for Nonimmigrants Act or the NO BAN Act

10:00 a.m., Wednesday, February 12, 2020
House Committee on the Judiciary
2141 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515
https://judiciary.house.gov/calendar/eventsingle.aspx?EventID=2795

Return to Top

****
****

2.
An Uneven Landscape: The Differing State Approaches to English Learner Policies under ESSA

MPI Webinar
2:00 p.m. EST, Wednesday, February 12, 2020
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/events/state-approaches-english-learner-policies-under-essa

Description: The federal Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) elevated states' responsibility to improve English language proficiency for English Learners (ELs), as well as their academic achievement. ESSA's first stage of implementation required states to develop and submit their plans for executing the new law to the U.S. Department of Education. Highly technical, these state plans are usually difficult for parents and even educators to understand.

The Migration Policy Institute's (MPI) National Center on Immigrant Integration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Policy, in partnership with state-based EL organizations and immigrant policy organizations, has endeavored to ensure that state ESSA plans create the optimal conditions for EL achievement.

In its latest work in this area, MPI is releasing the results of its comprehensive review of state ESSA plans for all 50 states and the District of Columbia, with a focus on EL policies. The compendium, The Patchy Landscape of State English Learner Policies under ESSA, reveals a picture of great variability across states' approaches to ensuring accountability for the success of their EL students.

The report's findings will be unveiled during a webinar on February 12. MPI and EL state policy experts will share how states have approached ESSA implementation, and areas where the law and state efforts to support ELs can be improved.

Speakers:
Julie Sugarman, Senior Policy Analyst for PreK-12 Education, Migration Policy Institute

Kim Sykes, Director of Education Policy, New York Immigration Coalition

Moderator:
Delia Pompa, Senior Fellow for Education Policy, Migration Policy Institute

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Assessing U.S. Security Assistance to Mexico

9:00 a.m., Thursday, February 13, 2020
House Committee on Foreign Affairs
Subcommittee on Western Hemisphere, Civilian Security, and Trade
2172 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515
https://foreignaffairs.house.gov/hearings?ID=39F49766-FD4D-42CB-B8F3-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

7762A7387BAC

Witnesses:
Hugo Rodriguez
Deputy Assistant Secretary, Bureau of Western Hemisphere Affairs, U.S. Department of State

Richard Glenn
Deputy Assistant Secretary, Bureau of International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs, U.S. Department of State

Barbara Feinstein
Deputy Assistant Administrator, Bureau for Latin America and the Caribbean, United States Agency for International Development

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Discrimination and Delegation: Explaining State Responses to Refugees

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, February 14, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14186

Speaker:
Lamis Abdelaaty, Assistant Professor, Political Science, Syracuse University

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the "discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the “delegation puzzle”). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

5.
World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges

Monday-Friday, February 17-21, 2020
Radisson San José
Calle Central y Tercera Avenue 15
San José, Costa Rica
https://10times.com/conferenciamundial-iarmj

Description: The World Conference of the International Association of Refugee and Migration Judges is themed as A New World on the Move: The Realities of Irregular Mass Migration and the Challenges Facing Asylum and Immigration Judges Background and it is indeed a great opportunity for the Americas Chapter of the IARMJ to focus on the increase of mixed flows of people who cross international borders, whether forced to seek international protection or migrants with other characteristics and profiles.

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

6.

Nativism & Immigration: Time to Close the Gates?

St. Petersburg Conference on World Affairs

11:20 a.m., Thursday, February 20, 2020
USFSP University Student Center
200 6th Ave S.
St. Petersburg, FL 33701
https://stpetersburgconferenceonworldaffairs.com/schedule/details

Panelists:
Raymond Arsenault
John Hope Franklin Professor of Southern History at the University of South Florida, St. Petersburg, where he has taught since 1980. A specialist in the political, social, environmental, and civil rights

Andrew "Art" Arthur
Resident Fellow in Law and Policy for the Center for Immigration Studies, a Washington, DC-based research institute that examines the impact of immigration on American society. He began his legal career

Bruce Eberle
Under Bruce's leadership, Eberle Associates has received numerous regional, national, and international awards for excellence in direct mail fund raising. But more important by far, Eberle Associates has become the most efficient and effective

Return to Top

****
****

7.

Edlis Neeson Great Decisions: U.S. Relations with the Northern Triangle

6:30-8:30 p.m. MT, Thursday February 20, 2020
Aspen Institute, Koch Building

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1000 N. Third Street
Aspen, CO 81611
https://www.aspeninstitute.org/events/edlis-neeson-great-decisions-climate-change-and-the-global-order-2-3-2/

Description: In this eight-week series, participants gather to discuss key foreign policy issues facing the world today. Lead by volunteer moderators, participants will engage in moderated discussions with their fellow citizens. This year's topics will include Climate Change and the Global Order, India and Pakistan, Red Sea Security, The Rebirth of Russian Influence, U.S. Relations with the Northern Triangle, China's Road into Latin America, Fragmentation of the EU, and Artificial Intelligence and Data.
February 20: U.S. Relations with the Northern Triangle

Combating illegal immigration has become a priority of the Trump administration. The Northern Triangle of Central America, made up of Honduras, El Salvador, and Guatemala, is a special target of the administration, which hold the nations responsible for the large flow of migrants from Latin America to the U.S. With funds from the U.S. cut, how can the Northern Triangle countries curtail migration?
Thursdays from 6:30-8:30 p.m. beginning Thursday, January 23, running through Thursday, March 12 in the Koch Building at the Aspen Institute.

Fee: $225, includes all sessions, readings and light refreshments.

This program is currently full. If you would like to be added to the waitlist, please contact Katie.Carlsen@aspeninst.org.

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Southeastern Immigration Studies Association Conference

Current Trends in Immigration Research and Activism

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thursday-Saturday, February 20-22, 2020
The Citadel
Charleston, SC
https://sites.google.com/view/southeasternimmigrationstudies

Conference agenda:

Friday, February 21, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.
Session One
Room One - Refugees

"He's Not Heavy, but He's Not My Brother": Evaluating Mixed Support among Asian Americans toward Syrian Refugees
Shyam Krishnan Sriram, Butler University
Chloe McCarthy, University of Nottingham

Local Host City Implementation of National Refugee Policy: A Comparative Case Study
Emma Cregg, College of Charleston

Every Campus A Refuge: Dignity and Justice in Refugee Resettlement
Diya Abdo, Guilford College
Kathleen Herbst, Guilford College
Hsar (Ree Ree) Wei, Guilford College

Room Two - Education

Learning Difference, Division, and Unity: Schools and Boundary-Making in the "New Latinx South"
Rebeca Gamez, John Hopkins University

Migrant and Refugee Students In Online Writing Courses: Their Stories
Kevin Depew, Old Dominion University

What "Counts" as Education Policy for Immigrant Students?: Effects of US Federal and State Immigration/Immigrant Policy on K-12 Immigrant Students and Families

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Leslie Gautsch, UC San Diego

Room 3 - Criminality

Predatory Street Targeting of Immigrants: Offender Perspectives
Krystlelynn Caraballo, Georgia State University

Immigrants of Color Living Under Crimmigration Law
Natalie Cholula, UNC Greensboro

The Automobile and Anti-Immigration Movements: From Licensing to Drunk Driving Crackdowns
Joseph Rodriguez, University of Wisconson-Milwaukee

Alumni Center-Symposium
Voces Comunitarias: Collaboration, Leadership, Engagement and Translation & Interpreting

Araceli Hernández-Laroche-USC Upstate
Maria Francisco Montesó-USC Upstate
Begoña Caballero-García-Wofford College

10:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Session 2
Room 1 - Asylum Seekers

Allard-Asylum Seeking as Moral Agency under Constraint
Silas Allard, Emory University

The Spaces of Gender-Based Asylum
Pooja Dadhania, California Western School of Law

Understanding the Post Resettlement Process: In-depth Analysis of the Burmese Refugee Population in Knoxville
Melissa Holmes, Refugee Integration through Community Outreach

Room 2 - History

The Jewish Roots of American Refugee Policy

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Shyam Krishnan Sriram, Butler University
Victoria Combs, Butler University
Cole McNamara, Butler University

Halting & Holding
Smita Gosh, Georgetown University

Trump's Use of Executive Powers to Make Immigration Policy
Michele Waslin, George Mason University

Room 3 - Immigration Detention/Legal System
We Don't Want Prettier Jails: How to Shut Down
Azadeh Shahshahani, Project South

The Role of Immigration Attorneys in Case-Selection, Preparation, and Navigating an Uncertain Field
Dylan Farrell-Bryan, University of Pennsylvania

Using Technology at the Border and Detention Centers Can Drive Policy Change
Damjan Denoble, frontera TECH

Alumni Center-Symposium

Notes from the (Under) Ground: A Panel of Local Advocates offers Insight from Charleston, SC
Aimee Herring, Charleston County Adult Education

1:30-3:00 p.m.
Session 3
Room 1 - Higher Education Room 2-Dreamers/Youth Advocacy

Fostering a Critical Immigration Perspective: A New Approach to Academic Activism and Advocacy
Juan Jose Bustamante, University of Arkansas

Representation and the Academic Profession
Hector Diaz, University of South Carolina

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Engaging Undergraduates through Creative Inquiry
Mikel Cole, Clemson University
Stephanie Schenck, Clemson University
Angela Naimou, Clemson University

Room 2 - Dreamers/Youth Advocacy

Pre- DACA Returnees and the Pursuit of the American Dream South of the Border
Eleanor Petrone, Western Carolina University

Student DREAMers Alliance: Raising a Generation of Advocates and Leaders
James Campbell, Carolina High School
Adela Mendoza, Hispanic Alliance
Dina Estrada, Hispanic Alliance

Nested Socio-Legal Contexts: Undocumented Young Adults Navigating Belonging in Georgia
Edelina Burciaga, University of Colorado-Denver

Room 3 - Public Opinion towards Immigration

Polarization and U.S. Public Opinion on Immigration
Charles D. Brockett, Sewanee: The University of the South

A(mass)ing Counternarratives in Mediatized Debates about Immigration in the Aftermath(s) of an ICE Raid
Jennifer Reynolds, University of South Carolina

Discrimination in New Immigrant Destinations: A Comparison of Southeast Asians in Taiwan and Latin American Immigrants in the American Southeast
Shuchi Huang, College of Charleston
Will McCorkle, College of Charleston

Symposium
The Scars They Carry: Patterns of Abuse in Asylum-Seekers in South Carolina and the Development of the MUSC Asylum Clinic

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Brian Elmore, Medical University of South Carolina

3:15-4:45 p.m.

Session 4

Room 1 - Regional Collaboration

Foster regional collaboration to spur immigrant inclusion

Jordyne Krumroy, Welcoming America

Rhizomatic Citizenship as Democratic Practice

Cathryn Bennett, UNC-Greensboro

Marina Lambrinou, UNC-Greensboro

Building a collective resistance to defeat racism, Islamophobia, and anti-immigrant attacks

Manzoor Cheema-Project South

Azadeh Shahshahani-Project South

Room 2 - 287g

Fighting back against Local Police Collaboration with ICE and Winning

Adelina Nicholls, Project South

Rethinking the "Gold Standard" of Racial Profiling: §287(g), Secure Communities and Racially Discrepant Police Power

Austin Kocher, Syracuse University

Local Resistance to 287(g) and Immigration Enforcement in Knox County, Tennessee

De Ann Pendry, University of Tennessee

Room 3 - Teachers

I am more than a "glorified translator": Latinx (immigrant) educators in South Carolina

Tim Monreal, University of South Carolina

"When the teacher says, I'm surprised they let you back into the country..' where do we belong?" Educator responses and undocumented youth experiences of belonging and discrimination in a southeastern school

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Sophia Rodriguez, UNC-Greensboro
Marina Lambrinou, UNC-Greensboro

“Teach Your Children Well": Correlating Religious Affiliation and Immigration Attitudes among Educators
Will McCorkle, College of Charleston
Shyam Krishnan Sriram, Butler University

Symposium
Where do you fall on the deportation spectrum?
Felicia Arriaga-Appalachian State University
Ian Foley, Appalachian State University
Beau Groover, Appalachian State University
Jessie Rios, Appalachian State University

Saturday, February 22, 2020

9:30-11:00 a.m.
Session 5
Room 1 - Trauma

Immigrants and Domestic Violence in Charlotte-Mecklenburg
Claire Schuch, UNC-Charlotte

Coping together: a mixed-methods exploration on how Mexican American adolescents and their parents cope in response to ethnic-racial discrimination
Michelle Y. Martin Romero, UNC-Chapel Hill
Laura M. Gonzalez, UNC-Greensboro
Gabriela Livas Stein, UNC-Greensboro

Trauma-informed care for immigrant students? Exploring the role of school social workers
Karen Andrea Flynn, University of South Carolina
Benjamin J. Roth, University of South Carolina
Leticia Villarreal Sosa, Dominican University
Sophia Rodriguez, UNC-Greensboro

Room 2 - Welcoming Immigrant Communities

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Welcoming cities in unwelcoming states: The challenges of immigrant integration in North Carolina
Maggie Commins, Queens University of Charlotte

From Municipal to Regional Immigrant Integration in a Major Emerging Gateway: Creating a Community to Plan a Welcoming Metro Atlanta
Paul N. McDaniel, Kennesaw State University
Darlene Xiomara Rodriguez, Kennesaw State University
Jordyne Krumroy, Welcoming America

State Immigrant Inclusivity & English Learner Education in the Every Student Succeeds Act: Approaching or Departing Equity?
Leslie Gautsch, UC-San Diego
Rebecca Callahan, UC San Diego
Megan Hopkins, UC San Diego

Room 3 - Activism

HB 3404: Expanding Access to Education and professional Opportunities for immigrants in S.C.
Sarai Bautista, Upstate DREAMers
Aylin Gomez

Building Networks of Change in a New Immigrant Destination in the New South
Nina Cano, Charleston Immigrant Coalition
Fernando Soto, Charleston Immigrant Coalition

Symposium
Migration Policy Solutions
Nancy A. Aguirre, The Citadel

Book Reading- Immigrant Narratives in the American South: Charting Here, Home, and Healing
Cinelle Barnes, Local Immigrant Author and Activist

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

9.

Humanizing Migration and Border Security

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020
Arrupe Hall, Multipurpose Room
Georgetown University
3700 O Street NW
Washington, DC 20057
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/humanizing-migration-and-border-security-tickets-92994323525

Description: ISIM will host John Moore, a Pulitzer Prize and World Press winning documentary photographer, on campus. Moore is a graduate of the University of Texas at Austin, where he studied Radio-Television-Film. While on campus, he will do two presentations. In the first, he will discuss his work aimed to humanize the issue of immigration and border security. His talk will draw from photographs of migrants taken at the southern U.S. border and at other borders worldwide. In the second event, he will present photographs of the wildlife survivors from the continuing bushfires in Australia. This is new work which will be part of a major exhibit in New York City later this year.

Return to Top

****

****

10.

Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer---Kang-2-24-20.pdf

Speakers:
S. Deborah Kang, Visiting Scholar, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Associate Professor of History, California State University San Marcos

Description: During the Great Depression, states and localities expelled nearly a half-million ethnic Mexicans from the United States. Yet, in the midst of these removals, the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) launched an initiative to reform the hardships surrounding federal deportation policy. In the process, it expanded the legal architecture by which undocumented Europeans could be legalized. Drawing upon a chapter from her second book project, Undocumented Immigration and Immigration Legalization in the United States, 1906-1986, Kang will describe a legalization program created for Russian immigrants and its implications for the development of US refugee and immigration policies.

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Biometrics for Government & Law Enforcement 2020

Wednesday-Friday, February 26-28, 2020
Key Bridge Marriott
1401 Lee Highway
Arlington, VA 22209
https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/iqpcbiometricsgovlaw2020main952gw9IGMFCGt7uAhGjn0ptF7KpEyrOqVDDuc8qj8.pdf

Program agenda:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Wednesday, February 26, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Integrating Biometric Capabilities into the National Counterterrorism Effort

* Biometric technologies of interest to supplement NCTC mission sets
* Efforts to share terrorism information analysis across the CT enterprise
* NCTC vision for biometric utilization: necessary next steps

Pete Hall, Acting Deputy Director, NCTC

10:30 a.m.
Making the Invisible Visible: Utilizing Biometrics to Stop Crime

Biometric data can be used to provide valuable investigative leads and supplement investigative capabilities. The FBI is continuously expanding its use with identity intelligence, to include DNA, fingerprints, video surveillance and iris recognition. Speaker will discuss emerging technologies and ways to leverage these tools.

Tina Delgado, Section Chief, FBI Laboratory

12:30 p.m.
Delta Looks Ahead: Partnering with CBP and TSA

Delta Airlines was the first airline to collaborate with Customs Border Protection and the Transportation Security Administration to install the first ever fully biometric terminal in Atlanta. This partnership will create a seamless experience for the everyday traveler.

* Providing smooth and excellent customer experience for travelers using facial recognition
* Cutting down time spent before flights and increase customer interactions with employees
* Enhancing security at airline touch points

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Filipe Pereira dos Reis, Regional Director Airport Passenger Cargo and Security, International Air Transport Association UIT

Tuesday, February 27, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Advancing Biometrics with Customs and Border: What does the future hold?

* Advancing passenger systems and passenger name records with biometrics
* Monitoring security at all modes of transportation, air, land, and sea
* Centralizing access to biometric data Nael Samha, Director Passenger Systems and Biometrics, Customs and Border Protection

9:45 a.m.
How HSI is currently utilizing various types of Biometric and cutting edge technologies to aid in its investigations

* AI/machine learning – S/A Ben Teed
* Rapid DNA/Biometrics – Section Chief Brandon Stiefer
* Biometric Identification Transnational Migration Alert Program (BITMAP)

Section Chief Hillary Hodge

11:00 a.m.
Enhancing Security with Multi-modal Authentication Systems

Multimodal biometric systems allow multiple methods of identification which creates stronger security. They are more accurate, reliable, and provide less room for vulnerability against attacks.

* Replacing passwords with multi-modal biometrics to provide convenience and low password management costs
* Increasing verification accuracy to enhance protection
* Combining biometrics with cloud based solutions

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

11:45 a.m.

NIST continues effort to develop standards, measurement methods and best practices to deliver superior image based biometrics analytics

Craig Watson, Image Group Manager, NIST

1:30 p.m.

Utilizing Biometrics to Maximize Efficiency in Processing and Authenticating Immigration Requests

Brian Broderick, Deputy Chief Identity and information Management Division, Immigration Records Identity Services

2:15 p.m.

Incorporating Behavioral Biometrics in Ensuring Safety and Continuous Authentication

Analyzing the behavior of humans such as their speech, key strokes, gait, signature and cognition is starting to become more acceptable for the everyday consumer. The next step is to use it to maintain top notch security in government and corporations.

* Using behavioral biometrics as a form of user authentication

Tuesday, February 28, 2020

8:50 a.m.

Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.

Operation of Customs and Border Protection Entry/Exit Program

The Customs and Border Protection Entry/Exit Program was established to protect and prevent a threat during transportation.

* Confirming foreign departures from top U.S. airports using facial recognition software
* Completing CBP's overall goal of enhancing security for public safety

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Jeni Best, Acting Director Biometric Exit Strategic Transformation, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

10:30 a.m.

The Future of the Department of Homeland Security and Evolving Biometrics

The Department of Homeland Security is moving towards centralizing biometric data. DHS is seeking to expand their data analysis capabilities for biometrics in ways that can change the game forever.

* Moving the Homeland Advanced Recognition to cloud base systems
* Analyzing matched faces, fingers prints, and Irises using HART
* Analyzing the future of biometrics technology and DHS's utilization

Arun Vemury, Director of Biometric and Identity Technology Center, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

12:00 p.m.

Using Machine Learning/ AI in Biometrics to Enhance Security Efforts

The combination of both AI and Biometrics will help strengthen security across facilities. Artificial intelligence is a useful tool in both multimodal and behavioral biometrics.

* Reducing the tolerance for error
* Learning and accounting for subtle changes in an individual's behavior
* Using AI to keep systems up to date and decrease false positives by analyzing things like handwritten or typing biometrics

12:45 p.m.

The US Army and the development of the 'Next Generation of Biometric Collection'

The US Army is transforming their use of biometrics with a new biometric collection data system. Although the current tool, 'The Biometric Automated Tool Set' is still effective, the new system will have enormous benefits.

* Utilizing a light weight and more compact device for face scanning

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Getting DNA and voice biometric systems on a contactless basis without requiring human contact EAB

1:30 p.m.

Vein Biometrics: Are Hand Gestures The New Replacements to Passwords

Vein biometrics is a new and upcoming form of biometric data and is said to be the most secure form yet.

* Using finger vein recognition to access software – all you need to do is wave
* Reducing the risk of hacking threats and stolen biometrics

2:15 p.m.

Helping to combat crime: Using Biometrics to Bring Your Children Home

* Utilizing biometric data and technology to find missing children
* Sharing data and findings across different sectors

Carol Schweizer, Supervisor Case Manager, Forensics National Center for Missing and Exploited Children
Colin McNally, National Center for Missing and Exploited Children

Return to Top

****
****

12.

Indignity and Indignation: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
Lower Level Library
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/speaker-series-sarah-willen-professor-anthropology-and-director-research-program-global

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speaker:
Sarah Willen, Professor of Anthropology and Director of the Research Program on Global Health and Human Rights, University of Connecticut

Description: Sarah Willen is the author of Fighting for Dignity: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins. In Fighting for Dignity, Sarah S. Willen explores what happened when the Israeli government launched an aggressive deportation campaign targeting newly arrived migrants from countries as varied as Ghana and the Philippines, Nigeria, Colombia, and Ukraine. Although the campaign was billed as a solution to high unemployment, it had another goal as well: to promote an exclusionary vision of Israel as a Jewish state in which non-Jews have no place. The deportation campaign quickly devastated Tel Aviv's migrant communities and set the stage for even more aggressive antimigrant and antirefugee policies in the years to come.

Fighting for Dignity traces the roots of this deportation campaign in Israeli history and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and shows how policies that illegalize and criminalize migrants wreak havoc in their lives, endanger their health, and curtail the human capacity to flourish. Children born to migrant parents are especially vulnerable to developmental and psychosocial risks. Drawing on nearly two decades of ethnographic engagement in homes and in churches, medical offices, advocacy organizations, and public spaces, Willen shows how migrants struggle to craft meaningful, flourishing lives despite the exclusions and vulnerabilities they endure. To complement their perspectives, she introduces Israeli activists who reject their government's exclusionary agenda and strive to build bridges across difference, repair violations of migrants' dignity, and resist policies that violate their own moral convictions. Willen's vivid and unflinching ethnography challenges us to reconsider our understandings of global migration, human rights, the Middle East— and even dignity itself.

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Conference on the Venezuela Refugee Crisis

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-3:00 p.m., Friday, February 28, 2020
Haines Hall 352
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14189

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the "discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the "delegation puzzle"). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

Return to Top

****
****

14.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-703 - Newcomers to Citizens: Immigrant Integration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Wednesday, March 2-4, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=14536

Course Description: With a record 200 million people living outside their country of birth, immigration is a global phenomenon with profound demographic, economic, social, and political implications for both sending and receiving countries. The debate over immigration law and policy has become increasingly volatile and, in some instances, characterized by misinformation, hate, and xenophobia. Beyond the politics of immigration, genuine challenges to immigrant integration abound. Successful integration of immigrants is critical to the long-term prosperity of host countries that rely on immigrants as workers, consumers, taxpayers, innovators, and entrepreneurs in light of their aging native-born populations and lower birth rates. In this course we will explore integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving countries--such as the United States and Canada and new countries of permanent immigration such as France, Germany, the United Kingdom. We will raise questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity. We will also discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism, paradigms that challenge an integrationist reading of migration. Using case studies from North America and Europe we will pay special attention to the different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation on their road from newcomers to citizens.

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Discuss the integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving and source countries.
* Recognize questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

place and identity.
* Discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism.
* Compare different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation.

Instructor: Jennifer Wistrand

Notes: This course is an open enrollment course. No application is required and registration is available by clicking "Add to Cart." Current students must register with their Georgetown NetID and password. New students will be prompted to create an account prior to registration.

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

15.
A Need for Control? Political Trust and Public Preferences for Asylum

Presented by Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School

6:00-7:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 4, 2020
Theresa Lang Community and Student Center
I 202, Arnold Hall
The New School
66 West 12th Street
New York, NY 10011
https://event.newschool.edu/zolbergseriesruhs

Speaker:
Dr. Martin Ruhs, Chair in Migration Studies and Deputy Director of the Migration Policy Centre
The European University Institute

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: Europeans want to protect refugees, but they prefer a policy approach that sets limits and conditions. This discussion will provide the first-ever analysis of the structure of public preferences for asylum and refugee policy in Europe, a highly politicized policy area that has attracted little scholarly attention to date.

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Border Security Expo

Wednesday-Thursday, March 11-12, 2020
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center
900 E Market Street
San Antonio, TX 78205
https://www.bordersecurityexpo.com/

Conference agenda:

Keynotes:
Ronald D. Vitiello, Deputy Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

Vice Admiral Scott Buschman, Director, Joint Task Force-East

Scott A. Luck, Deputy Chief, U.S. Border Patrol

John P. Sanders, Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Panels:
National Vetting Center: What is It? What isn't It? And How Will It Change the Way We Protect the Homeland?
This session will focus on the National Vetting Center (NVC) and how it will complement the National Targeting Center (NTC). Experts from the NVC, NTC, as well as other members of the Intelligence Community, will discuss why the NVC is critical to the Homeland and next steps. The NVC will be operational at the time of the Expo, enabling the audience and panels to discuss the implementation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mass Migration and Unaccompanied Children: Financial and National Security Impacts

This panel will be comprised of experts from ICE Homeland Security Investigations assigned to the U.S., Mexico, and Central America. The panel will discuss the financial impact on the U.S., Mexico, and Central American countries in addressing the issues related mass migration and unaccompanied children attempting to enter the U.S. The panel will discuss human trafficking, organized human smuggling organizations, and national security issues relating to mass migration and unaccompanied children. The panel will provide publicly releasable information relating to "The Caravan" that reached the U.S./Border in November 2018.

Border: Wall – Ports – System(s) – Technology – Infrastructure – Integration – Modernization

Panel will discuss the immediate, near term, and out-year capability requirements, goals, and vision for border operations including infrastructure updates; technology needs, requirements, and planning; initiatives; modernization; and deployments.

Model Port: How Technology, Public-Private Partnerships, and Innovation Will Continue to Change the Way Ports-of-Entry Operate

This panel will be comprised of experts from the federal/local governments and industry. It will highlight what will take place at the POE in Donna, Texas and why it is important to the country's national and economic security. Technology will play a key role in defining the Model Port. A representative from the City of Donna will explain why this investment is important to the local community. CBP Headquarters staff will address the Donation Assistance Program and why it is necessary to make the Model Port a reality.

A Dialogue with Tenoch Moreno, General Customs Administration, Mexico: Current Operations and Future Thoughts

Procurement: Keeping Industry Current in the Complex Area of Government Procurement and the Mission Needs of Border Operators

This is a must-attend session for those who plan to compete for government contracts. Rules and regulations change frequently, and new requirements are placed on industry. Industry must have a clear understanding of the mission needs of the border operators. Government and industry experts will discuss best practices and explain how to best leverage the many opportunities that support the daily mission of CBP and other agencies. Government panelists will include Senior Executives from CBP procurement and the new office of Operations Support.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Complete conference agenda will be available at end of December.

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Author Meets Critics Event: Refuge Beyond Reach

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14188

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: In Refuge beyond Reach, David Scott FitzGerald traces how rich democracies have deliberately and systematically shut down most legal paths to safety. Drawing on official government documents, information obtained via

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

WikiLeaks, and interviews with asylum seekers, he finds that for ninety-nine percent of refugees, the only way to find safety in one of the prosperous democracies of the Global North is to reach its territory and then ask for asylum. FitzGerald shows how the US, Canada, Europe, and Australia comply with the letter of law while violating the spirit of those laws through a range of deterrence methods -- first designed to keep out Jews fleeing the Nazis -- that have now evolved into a pervasive global system of "remote control." While some of the most draconian remote control practices continue in secret, Fitzgerald identifies some pressure points and finds that a diffuse humanitarian obligation to help those in need is more difficult for governments to evade than the law alone.

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Book Discussion: 'The Shifting Border'

Presented by Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School.

6:00-7:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 24, 2020
Theresa Lang Community and Student Center
Starr Foundation Hall, U L102, University Center
The New School
66 West 12th Street
New York, NY 10011
https://event.newschool.edu/bookdiscussiontheshiftingborde

Speaker:
Ayelet Shacher, Professor of Law, Political Science, and Global Affairs
Toronto University

Description: We tend to think of a border as a static line, but recent bordering techniques have broken away from the map, as governments have developed legal tools to limit the rights of migrants before and after they enter a country's territory. The consequent detachment of state power from any fixed geographical marker has created a new paradigm: the shifting border, an adjustable legal construct untethered in space. This transformation upsets our assumptions about waning sovereignty, while also revealing the limits of the populist push toward border-fortification. It also presents a tremendous opportunity to rethink states' responsibilities to migrants. This book proposes a new, functional approach to human mobility and access to membership in a world where borders, like people, have the capacity to move.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

20.
The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE
Washington, DC 20002
http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

[Conference agenda has not yet been announced]

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in 2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and for national and international politics

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

Speaker:
Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the University of London

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through 'golden doors'. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

23.

The Issue of Immigration in America: Moving Beyond Walls and Open Borders

4:30–6:00 p.m., Friday, April 24, 2020
Heinz College – Hamburg Hall A301
Carnegie Mellon University
5000 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890
https://www.heinz.cmu.edu/events/the-issue-of-immigration-in-america

Description: In the United States, the issue of immigration gives rise to controversy and conflict. This issue requires us to wrestle with challenging questions about many things, including:

Who should be admitted to the US as an immigrant (family members, skilled workers, etc.)?

How many people should the US admit as immigrants (should we increase, decrease or keep current levels)?

What rules should guide the immigration process (and how should these rules be enforced)?

How should we address the problems (social, political, and economic) that cause people to migrate from their home countries?

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

24.

Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56,
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-716 - Immigration Policy

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, May 6-8, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=29908153

Course Description: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

The course also examines policies related to forced migration, including refugee resettlement, asylum and temporary protected status. These issues will be discussed in a comparative framework, analyzing how other countries address issues affecting the United States. The course will examine the role of federal, state and local authorities in implementing policy reforms. It also examines the role of public opinion and various interest groups in affecting policy formulation.

Students will be required to write a 10-page paper, due after the course completion, on a specific reform issue.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Section Notes: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, February 10, 2020 9:56 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: DOJ Moves against Sanctuary Jurisdictions

Department of Justice Moves against Sanctuary Jurisdictions

"Immigration Enforcement is an Essential Part of Law Enforcement"

Washington, D.C. (February, 10, 2020) - Speaking at the National Sheriffs'

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Association Conference, Attorney General William Barr announced that the Department of Justice (DOJ) would be taking a variety of new actions against sanctuary jurisdictions (see the updated CIS map listing these jurisdictions). Barr stated that sanctuary policies jeopardize public safety and violate the supremacy clause of the Constitution by inhibiting immigration enforcement. He spelled out a series of options, from lawsuits to debarment from funds to potential criminal prosecution under the harboring provisions of federal law.

Barr emphasized that sanctuary policies protect criminal aliens, estimated at approximately two million. In most jurisdictions ICE is able to initiate the removal of criminal aliens as soon as state and local charges are disposed of, but now too many sanctuary jurisdictions routinely jeopardize public safety by "thwarting the ability of federal officers to take custody and thereby help them escape back in to the community…Their express purpose is to shelter aliens whom local law enforcement has already arrested for other crimes."

Jessica Vaughan, the Center's director of policy studies, said: "Attorney General Barr articulated the problems with sanctuary policies in a measured, compelling, no-nonsense way. He explained how sanctuary policies are not only a public safety hazard, but unlawful and unconstitutional to boot. We have seen that sanctuary politicians will not reverse these policies on their own, even in the wake of tragedies."

Vaughan continued, "According to ICE, more than 10,000 criminal aliens freed by sanctuaries have re-offended after release. It's appropriate that the federal government step in to protect our communities and defend the authority of immigration enforcement agencies. Barr clearly means business. Every sanctuary jurisdiction and every state and local lawmaker considering enacting such a policy should take his speech as a warning"

Barr announced several specific actions the DOJ is taking, including suing the New Jersey Governor and Attorney General for prohibiting state officials from sharing vital information about criminal aliens with U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE). He also highlighted a complaint against King County, Washington for forbidding DHS for deporting aliens using the area International Airport, and a lawsuit filed against California's prohibition of privately run immigration detention facilities.

Barr stated that the DOJ will be "reviewing the practices, policies, and laws of other jurisdictions across the country…in particular the criminal statute that prohibits the harboring or shielding of aliens in the United States." Further, he said the DOJ would be looking at potential prosecution of individual officials, including district attorneys who have been charging non-citizens with lesser offenses to enable them to avoid potential deportation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Barr's speech ended with a warning, "We will consider taking action against any jurisdiction that, or any politician who, unlawfully obstructs the federal enforcement of immigration law."

Related Articles:
Map: Sanctuary Cities, Counties, and States
Video Immigration Brief: Sanctuary Cities
Identifying the Super-Sanctuaries
Five Rape Arrests Underscore the Hypocrisy of Sanctuary Policies

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, February 14, 2020 9:57 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 2/14/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 2/14/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, Steven A. Camarota/Karen Zeigler, David North, and Jason Peña
2. "Pelosi Attacks Trump For Protecting American Lives," Michael Cutler
3. "Attorney General William Barr's Righteous War on 'Sanctuary' Insanity," Bob McManus
4. "House Democrats' Immigration Bill Would Use Tax Dollars to Import Crime to America," Nolan Rappaport
5. "A Limo Driver's Route to Citizenship: Why Merit-Based Immigration Works," Bradley A. Blakeman
6. "Virginia May Become 14th State to Give Illegal Immigrants Driver's Licenses," Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles
7. "Rep. Mike Gallagher Files Bill Giving Immigration Judges Contempt Authority. It's About Time.," Cully Stimson, GianCarlo Canaparo, and Antonio Apolito
8. "Bloomberg Pledges to Investigate ICE and End Trump Policies in Newly Unveiled Immigration Plan," Jason Hopkins
9. " 'The Most Radical Piece of Immigration Legislation': Experts, GOP React to Dems' 'New Way Forward' Bill," Jason Hopkins
10. "While Democrats Think This Bill Will Increase Illegal Immigration, The Opposite Will Happen," John R. Lott, Jr.
11. "Illegal Alien Gang Member Who Avoided Deportation Seeks Sanctuary in Church," Daniel Horowitz
12. "Bernie and Buttigieg on Immigration," Preston Huennekens
13. "Justice Department Readies a Significant Escalation to Counter Sanctuary Policies," Jennifer G. Hickey
14. "U.S. Blocks Immigrant Visas, But Leaves the Door Open for Mischief," Bob Dane
15. "Illegal Alien Deported for Killing Four Children in Car Crash Arrested for Re-Entry," Ryan Foley
16. "National Data: TREMENDOUS Trump Triumph—January Data Show Continued Immigrant Population Collapse," Edwin S. Rubenstein
17. "Trump's Deal With Mexico Still Holding," Allan Wall
18. "Sanders Emerges as Post-1965 Immigrants' Choice—Which Means Trump

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Will Beat Him," Washington Watcher II
19. "Racial Composition of Sponsors of the Open Borders 'New Way Forward Act'," Audacious Epigone
20. "DOJ Indicts Chinese Military Officers in Massive Data Breach. So Why Isn't China Facing a Visa Ban?," Ira Mehlman
21. "Immigration to America Is Down. Wages Are Up," The Economist
22. "Democratic Senators Protest Trump's Anti-Asylum Policies," Marcia Brown
23. "Despite Impeachment, Immigration Still Dominates Spanish-Language Evening Newscasts," Jorge Bonilla and Rich Noyes
24. "Jorge Ramos Outraged at Mexican President's Policy for Controlling Migration at Mexico," Kathleen Krumhansl
21. "Immigration to America Is Down. Wages Are Up," The Economist
22. "Democratic Senators Protest Trump's Anti-Asylum Policies," Marcia Brown
23. "Despite Impeachment, Immigration Still Dominates Spanish-Language Evening Newscasts," Jorge Bonilla and Rich Noyes
24. "Jorge Ramos Outraged at Mexican President's Policy for Controlling Migration at Mexico," Kathleen Krumhansl
25. "Jorge Ramos Tosses Softballs to Elizabeth Warren on Immigration," Jorge Bonilla
26. "How to Take on The Deadly Drug Cartels That Run the U.S.-Mexico Border," Pedro Gonzalez
27. "First DHS, Now DoJ: Trump Administration Opens New Front in Legal War Against Sanctuary Cities," Ed Morrissey
28. "New Yorkers Axed From Trusted Traveler Programs in Trump Administration Plan to Punish Immigrant-Friendly States: Leaked Memo," Dave Goldiner
29. "A Group of Agents Rose Through the Ranks to Lead the Border Patrol. They're Leaving It in Crisis.," Melissa del Bosque
30. "Trump's Ban on Nigerian Immigrants Will Hurt His Defense Strategy," John Campbell
31. "Questions Linger on How State Dept. Employees Will Carry Out New 'Birth Tourism' Policy," Courtney Bublé
32. "Border Patrol Officials Dodged Congress' Questions About Migrant Children's Deaths," Robert Moore
33. "Hundreds of County Jails Detained Immigrants for ICE," Emily Ryo and Ian Peacock
34. "These Humanitarian Aid Workers' Convictions Were Overturned. Here's How it Sets Precedent for Future Protection.," Katy Murdza
35. "Trump Bars New Yorkers From Traveler Programs Over State's Refusal to

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cooperate With ICE," Emma Winger
36. "The Deep Roots of Trump's Anti-Immigrant Policies," Daniel Denvir
37. "Ban ICE Collaborators From Recruiting at U.Va.," Jacob Wartel

1.
CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

Jump-Starting the Federal Engine to Push Back Against Sanctuaries
February 11, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/JumpStarting-Federal-Engine-Push-Back-Against-Sanctuaries

By Andrew R. Arthur

New York's 'Green Light' To Crime and Terrorism
So easy, a 'barely literate' homicidal maniac could exploit it
February 12, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/New-Yorks-Green-Light-Crime-and-Terrorism

New York City Shooting Proves the Dangers of Sanctuary Policies
I warned you — almost three years ago
February 10, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/New-York-City-Shooting-Proves-Dangers-Sanctuary-Policies

By Steven A. Camarota and Karen Zeigler

The Impact of Non-Citizens on Political Representation in the House of Representatives
February 13, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Camarota/Impact-NonCitizens-Political-Representation-House-Representatives

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By David North

Four Shrinking Universities that Major in Foreign Students
February 13, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Four-Shrinking-Universities-Major-Foreign-Students

Reports on the Number of Subsidized OPT Workers Are Opaque and Tardy
February 11, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Reports-Number-Subsidized-OPT-Workers-Are-Opaque-and-Tardy

By Jason Peña

Honduras Intensifies Border Security to Counter Illegal Immigration
February 11, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Honduras-Intensifies-Border-Security-Counter-Illegal-Immigration

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Pelosi Attacks Trump For Protecting American Lives
Does expansion of entry restriction for aliens strengthen or weaken national security?
By Michael Cutler
FrontPageMag.com, February 11, 2020
. . .
https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/02/pelosi-attacks-trump-protecting-american-lives-michael-cutler/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Attorney General William Barr's Righteous War on 'Sanctuary' Insanity
By Bob McManus
The New York Post, February 12, 2020
. . .
https://nypost.com/2020/02/12/attorney-general-william-barrs-righteous-war-on-sanctuary-insanity/

Return to Top

****
****

4.
House Democrats' Immigration Bill Would Use Tax Dollars to Import Crime to America
By Nolan Rappaport
TheHill.com, February 13, 2020
. . .
https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/482910-house-democrats-immigration-bill-would-use-tax-dollars-to-import-crime-to

Return to Top

****
****

5.
A Limo Driver's Route to Citizenship: Why Merit-Based Immigration Works
By Bradley A. Blakeman
TheHill.com, February 11, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/482429-a-limo-drivers-route-to-citizenship-why-merit-based-immigration-works

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Virginia May Become 14th State to Give Illegal Immigrants Driver's Licenses Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles, February 10, 2020
. . .
https://www.judicialwatch.org/corruption-chronicles/virginia-may-become-14th-state-to-give-illegal-immigrants-drivers-licenses/

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Rep. Mike Gallagher Files Bill Giving Immigration Judges Contempt Authority. It's About Time.
By Cully Stimson, GianCarlo Canaparo, and Antonio Apolito
The Daily Signal, January 31, 2020
. . .
https://www.dailysignal.com/2020/01/31/rep-mike-gallagher-files-bill-giving-immigration-judges-contempt-authority-its-about-time/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8.

Bloomberg Pledges to Investigate ICE and End Trump Policies in Newly Unveiled Immigration Plan

By Jason Hopkins

Business and Politics Review, February 10, 2020

. . .

https://www.bizpacreview.com/2020/02/10/bloomberg-pledges-to-investigate-ice-and-end-trump-policies-in-newly-unveiled-immigration-plan-885552

Return to Top

****

****

9.

'The Most Radical Piece of Immigration Legislation': Experts, GOP React to Dems' 'New Way Forward' Bill

By Jason Hopkins

Business and Politics Review, February 8, 2020

. . .

https://www.bizpacreview.com/2020/02/08/the-most-radical-piece-of-immigration-legislation-experts-gop-react-to-dems-new-way-forward-bill-884650

Return to Top

****

****

10.

While Democrats Think This Bill Will Increase Illegal Immigration, The Opposite Will Happen

By John R. Lott, Jr.

Townhall.com, February 11, 2020

. . .

https://townhall.com/columnists/johnrlottjr/2020/02/11/while-democrats-think-this-bill-will-increase-illegal-immigration-it-will-do-the-opposite-n2561126

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Illegal Alien Gang Member Who Avoided Deportation Seeks Sanctuary in Church
By Daniel Horowitz
Conservative Review, February 13, 2020
. . .
https://www.conservativereview.com/news/horowitz-illegal-alien-gang-member-avoided-deportation-seeks-sanctuary-church/

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Bernie and Buttigieg on Immigration
By Preston Huennekens
ImmigrationReform.com, February 13, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/02/13/democrats-presidential-candidates-immigration-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Justice Department Readies a Significant Escalation to Counter Sanctuary Policies
By Jennifer G. Hickey

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ImmigrationReform.com, February 12, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/02/12/sanctuary-policy-justice-department-lawsuit-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

14.

U.S. Blocks Immigrant Visas, But Leaves the Door Open for Mischief

By Bob Dane

ImmigrationReform.com, February 10, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/02/10/travel-ban-visa-restrictions-trump-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

15.

Illegal Alien Deported for Killing Four Children in Car Crash Arrested for Re-Entry

By Ryan Foley

ImmigrationReform.com, February 10, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/02/10/illegal-alien-criminals-border-security-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

16.

National Data: TREMENDOUS Trump Triumph—January Data Show Continued Immigrant Population Collapse

By Edwin S. Rubenstein

VDare.com, February 10, 2020

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/national-data-tremendous-trump-triumph-january-data-show-continued-immigrant-population-collapse

Return to Top

****

****

17.

Trump's Deal With Mexico Still Holding

By Allan Wall

VDare.com, February 13, 2020

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/said-in-spanish-trump-s-deal-with-mexico-still-holding-the-devil-s-caravan-disappears-etc-five-items

Return to Top

****

****

18.

Sanders Emerges as Post-1965 Immigrants' Choice—Which Means Trump Will Beat Him

By Washington Watcher II

VDare.com, February 9, 2020

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/sanders-emerges-as-post-1965-immigrants-choice-which-means-trump-will-beat-him

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Racial Composition of Sponsors of the Open Borders "New Way Forward Act"
By Audacious Epigone
VDare.com blog, February 12, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/audacious-epigone-racial-composition-of-sponsors-of-the-open-borders-new-way-forward-act

Return to Top

****
****

20.
DOJ Indicts Chinese Military Officers in Massive Data Breach. So Why Isn't China Facing a Visa Ban?
By Ira Mehlman
CNS News, February 11, 2020
. . .
https://cnsnews.com/commentary/ira-mehlman/doj-indicts-chinese-military-officers-massive-data-breach-so-why-isnt-china

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Immigration to America Is Down. Wages Are Up
Are the two related?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Economist, February 13, 2020

. . .

https://www.economist.com/united-states/2020/02/13/immigration-to-america-is-down-wages-are-up

Return to Top

****

****

22.

Democratic Senators Protest Trump's Anti-Asylum Policies

Lawmakers' letter warns deportation agreements with Central American countries may violate both international and domestic refugee law.

By Marcia Brown

The American Prospect, February 7, 2020

. . .

https://prospect.org/justice/democratic-senators-protest-trumps-anti-asylum-policies/

Return to Top

****

****

23.

Despite Impeachment, Immigration Still Dominates Spanish-Language Evening Newscasts

By Jorge Bonilla and Rich Noyes

Newsbusters.org, February 10, 2020

. . .

https://www.newsbusters.org/blogs/latino/jorge-bonilla/2020/02/10/despite-impeachment-immigration-still-dominates-spanish

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

24.

Jorge Ramos Outraged at Mexican President's Policy for Controlling Migration at Mexico

By Kathleen Krumhansl

Newsbusters.org, February 11, 2020

. . .

https://www.newsbusters.org/blogs/latino/kathleen-krumhansl/2020/02/11/jorge-ramos-outraged-amlo´s-policy-controlling-migration

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Jorge Ramos Tosses Softballs to Elizabeth Warren on Immigration

By Jorge Bonilla

Newsbusters.org, February 10, 2020

. . .

https://www.newsbusters.org/blogs/latino/jorge-bonilla/2020/02/10/jorge-ramos-pitches-softball-practice-elizabeth-warren

Return to Top

****

****

26.

How to Take on The Deadly Drug Cartels That Run the U.S.-Mexico Border

By Pedro Gonzalez

The Federalist, February 11, 2020

. . .

https://thefederalist.com/2020/02/11/how-to-take-on-the-deadly-drug-cartels-that-run-the-u-s-mexico-border/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

27.

First DHS, Now DoJ: Trump Administration Opens New Front in Legal War Against Sanctuary Cities

By Ed Morrissey

HotAir.com, February 11, 2020

. . .

https://hotair.com/archives/ed-morrissey/2020/02/11/first-dhs-now-doj-trump-administration-opens-new-front-legal-war-sanctuary-cities/

Return to Top

****

****

28.

New Yorkers Axed From Trusted Traveler Programs in Trump Administration Plan to Punish Immigrant-Friendly States: Leaked Memo

By Dave Goldiner

The New York Daily News, February 11, 2020

. . .

https://www.nydailynews.com/news/politics/ny-trump-trusted-traveler-homeland-security-20200211-trtp7h3xkfbi5amynbyq6eox3y-story.html

Return to Top

****

****

29.

A Group of Agents Rose Through the Ranks to Lead the Border Patrol.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

They're Leaving It in Crisis.
By Melissa del Bosque
Government Executive, February 10, 2020
. . .
https://www.govexec.com/defense/2020/02/group-agents-rose-through-ranks-lead-border-patrol-theyre-leaving-it-crisis/162990/

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Trump's Ban on Nigerian Immigrants Will Hurt His Defense Strategy
By John Campbell
Government Executive, February 4, 2020
. . .
https://www.defenseone.com/ideas/2020/02/trump-administration-bans-immigrants-nigeria/162872/

Return to Top

****
****

31.
Questions Linger on How State Dept. Employees Will Carry Out New 'Birth Tourism' Policy
The rule "almost demands discrimination in order for it to be implemented," said an expert.
By Courtney Bublé
Government Executive, January 30, 2020
. . .
https://www.govexec.com/oversight/2020/01/top-senate-democrats-question-trump-administrations-birth-tourism-crackdown/162726/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

32.

Border Patrol Officials Dodged Congress' Questions About Migrant Children's Deaths

The chair of a House Homeland Security subcommittee reprimanded Border Patrol officials for concealing information about migrant children's deaths. Officials did not respond to the chairwoman's criticism.

By Robert Moore

Government Executive, January 15, 2020

. . .

https://www.govexec.com/management/2020/01/border-patrol-officials-dodged-congress-questions-about-migrant-childrens-deaths/162455/

Return to Top

****

****

33.

Hundreds of County Jails Detained Immigrants for ICE

Between 1983 and 2013, the number of immigrants detained in rural county jails has increased.

By Emily Ryo and Ian Peacock

Government Executive, February 11, 2020

. . .

https://www.govexec.com/management/2020/02/hundreds-county-jails-detained-immigrants-ice/163026/

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

34.

These Humanitarian Aid Workers' Convictions Were Overturned. Here's How it Sets Precedent for Future Protection.

By Katy Murdza

ImmigrationImpact.com, February 13, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/02/13/humanitarian-aid-workers-convictions-overturned/

Return to Top

****

****

35.

Trump Bars New Yorkers From Traveler Programs Over State's Refusal to Cooperate With ICE

By Emma Winger

ImmigrationImpact.com, February 10, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/02/10/new-york-traveler-programs-ice/

Return to Top

****

****

36.

The Deep Roots of Trump's Anti-Immigrant Policies

By Daniel Denvir

Jacobin Magazine, February 8, 2020

. . .

https://jacobinmag.com/2020/02/donald-trump-anti-immigration-policies-history-muslim-ban-racism

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

37.

Ban ICE Collaborators From Recruiting at U.Va.

The terror induced by ICE and CBP is only possible with the aid of private companies

By Jacob Wartel

The Daily Cavalier, February 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.cavalierdaily.com/article/2020/02/wartel-ban-ice-collaborators-from-recruiting-at-uva

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, February 18, 2020 9:23 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 2/18/20

Featured Posts

The Impact of Non-Citizens on Political Representation in the House of Representatives

New York's 'Green Light' To Crime and Terrorism
By Andrew R. Arthur

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Steven A. Camarota and Karen Zeigler

At present, the apportionment of House seats to each state and the drawing of district lines are based on total population — not citizenship. The nation's 22 million non-citizens, slightly less than half of whom are here illegally, are not evenly distributed across congressional districts.

Four Shrinking Universities that Major in Foreign Students

By David North

For reasons unknown — certainly not because of actions taken by the Department of Homeland Security — four universities that major in foreign students, and provide them with federally subsidized work permits, have shrunk in one way or another in the last couple of years.

House Envy: The Unacknowledged Real Motivation Behind Guatemala's Mass Migration to the American Border

By Todd Bensman

The Domingo family's long-term plan to send sons and daughters — small children at the time — to work in the United States when they grew up took root a decade ago, when a neighbor built an ornate mansion among the traditional mud-brick homes typical of this highland

The "Green-Light" law significantly undermines the federal government's efforts to secure our borders, and to identify aliens unlawfully present in the United States. Preventing illegal aliens from obtaining valid identification documents is key to that effort, because without those documents, it will be difficult, if not impossible, for those aliens to live in the United States illegally.

Jump-Starting the Federal Engine to Push Back Against Sanctuaries

By Dan Cadman

William Barr, attorney general of the United States, has announced a series of steps that are designed to push back, and ultimately crush, the so-called "sanctuary" movement by state and local jurisdictions, which purport to "make communities safer" but in fact do nothing but provide shelter for alien criminals to continue to damage and victimize those communities.

Honduras Intensifies Border Security to Counter Illegal Immigration

By Jason Peña

In the past six months, the government of Honduras has implemented a wave of border security measures to prevent migrants from entering. Honduran law enforcement began fortifying vulnerable border regions with new physical barriers and Migration Control Police Force personnel.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Guatemalan village of indigenous
Mayan descendants.

More Blog Posts

- Reports on the Number of Subsidized OPT Workers Are Opaque and Tardy
- New York City Shooting Proves the Dangers of Sanctuary Policies
- New York's 'Green-Light Law': A Boon to Frat Boys
- Ecuador Moves to Limit Crimes Committed by Foreign Nationals
- Almost Seven Out of 10 Families Are No-Shows in 10 Immigration Courts
- The President's SOTU Address Highlights the Evil of Sanctuaries
- The View from the Family Detention Center in Dilley
- A Proposed Charter School, with Both EB-5 and Gulen Cult Ties, Is Doomed
- An Exchange of Comments about a California University
- Tent Courts Aren't Tents - and Provide Due Process
- U.S. Secrets Continue to Hemorrhage through Flawed Policies Governing Students, Scholars, and Institutions of Research and Learning
- The View from Laredo
- DHS Experiments with Chinese EB-5 Applications - What Happens Next?
- Business Colleague of Jared Kushner Charged in EB-5 Suit
- U.S. Invokes Visa Sanctions Against Six Nations

Video:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Jerry Kammer, Senior Research Fellow at the Center, discusses his forthcoming book on the evolution of the Democratic immigration policy stance and the current legislative debate.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Law, Robert T

From: Law, Robert T
Sent: Tuesday, February 18, 2020 9:24 AM
To: Center for Immigration Studies
Subject: Automatic reply: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 2/18/20

I am out of the office through February 21. Please contact Nathan Stiefel (Deputy) or Jared Culver (senior advisor). I can be reached a[redacted] (b)(6) or urgent matters.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, February 18, 2020 4:37 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 2/18/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 2/18/20

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 2/20, St. Petersburg, FL - CIS at discussion on nativism and immigration
2. 2/20, Aspen, CO - Discussion on U.S. relations with the Northern Triangle countries
3. 2/20-22, Charleston, SC - Conference on current trends in immigration research and activism
4. 2/20, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on social cross-pressures and immigration attitudes in Sweden - [New Listing]
5. 2/24, DC - Lecture on humanizing migration and border security
6. 2/24, San Diego - Seminar on the White Russian refugees and the development of American immigration and refugee law during the Great Depression
7. 2/25, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on the failed accession of Turkey to the European Union and the migrant crisis - [New Listing]
8. 2/26-28, Arlington, VA - Biometrics for government and law enforcement conference
9. 2/27, DC - U.S. launch of IOM's World Migration Report 2020 - [New Listing]
10. 2/27, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migrant lives at Israel's margins
11. 2/28, Los Angeles - Conference on the Venezuela refugee crisis
12. 3/2-4, DC - Certificate program course on international migration studies
13. 3/4, New York, NY - Discussion on public preferences for limits and conditions on asylum policies
14. 3/11-12, San Antonio - Annual border security expo
15. 3/12, Toronto - Workshop on collaborative efforts to support Central American migrants - [New Listing]
16. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary
17. 3/13, Los Angeles - Book discussion: Refuge Beyond Reach
18. 3/24, New York, NY - Book discussion: The Shifting Border
19. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention
20. 3/31, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on the contexts of reception that make asylum seekers feel welcome in Germany - [New Listing]
21. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration
22. 4/22, Los Angeles - Lecture on Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain - [New Listing]
23. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of fake news

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

24. 4/24, Pittsburgh - Lecture on a comprehensive approach to the issue of immigration
25. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law
26. 5/6-8, DC - Certificate program course on immigration policy

1.
Nativism & Immigration: Time to Close the Gates?

St. Petersburg Conference on World Affairs

11:20 a.m., Thursday, February 20, 2020
USFSP University Student Center
200 6th Ave S.
St. Petersburg, FL 33701
https://stpetersburgconferenceonworldaffairs.com/schedule/details

Panelists:
Raymond Arsenault
John Hope Franklin Professor of Southern History at the University of South Florida, St. Petersburg, where he has taught since 1980. A specialist in the political, social, environmental, and civil rights

Andrew "Art" Arthur
Resident Fellow in Law and Policy for the Center for Immigration Studies, a Washington, DC-based research institute that examines the impact of immigration on American society. He began his legal career

Bruce Eberle
Under Bruce's leadership, Eberle Associates has received numerous regional, national, and international awards for excellence in direct mail fund raising. But more important by far, Eberle Associates has become the most efficient and effective

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2.

Edlis Neeson Great Decisions: U.S. Relations with the Northern Triangle

6:30-8:30 p.m. MT, Thursday February 20, 2020
Aspen Institute, Koch Building
1000 N. Third Street
Aspen, CO 81611
https://www.aspeninstitute.org/events/edlis-neeson-great-decisions-climate-change-and-the-global-order-2-3-2/

Description: In this eight-week series, participants gather to discuss key foreign policy issues facing the world today. Lead by volunteer moderators, participants will engage in moderated discussions with their fellow citizens. This year's topics will include Climate Change and the Global Order, India and Pakistan, Red Sea Security, The Rebirth of Russian Influence, U.S. Relations with the Northern Triangle, China's Road into Latin America, Fragmentation of the EU, and Artificial Intelligence and Data.
February 20: U.S. Relations with the Northern Triangle

Combating illegal immigration has become a priority of the Trump administration. The Northern Triangle of Central America, made up of Honduras, El Salvador, and Guatemala, is a special target of the administration, which hold the nations responsible for the large flow of migrants from Latin America to the U.S. With funds from the U.S. cut, how can the Northern Triangle countries curtail migration?
Thursdays from 6:30-8:30 p.m. beginning Thursday, January 23, running through Thursday, March 12 in the Koch Building at the Aspen Institute.

Fee: $225, includes all sessions, readings and light refreshments.

This program is currently full. If you would like to be added to the waitlist, please contact Katie.Carlsen@aspeninst.org.

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3.

Southeastern Immigration Studies Association Conference

Current Trends in Immigration Research and Activism

Thursday-Saturday, February 20-22, 2020
The Citadel
Charleston, SC
https://sites.google.com/view/southeasternimmigrationstudies

Conference agenda:

Friday, February 21, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.
Session One
Room One - Refugees

"He's Not Heavy, but He's Not My Brother": Evaluating Mixed Support among Asian Americans toward Syrian Refugees
Shyam Krishnan Sriram, Butler University
Chloe McCarthy, University of Nottingham

Local Host City Implementation of National Refugee Policy: A Comparative Case Study
Emma Cregg, College of Charleston

Every Campus A Refuge: Dignity and Justice in Refugee Resettlement
Diya Abdo, Guilford College
Kathleen Herbst, Guilford College
Hsar (Ree Ree) Wei, Guilford College

Room Two - Education

Learning Difference, Division, and Unity: Schools and Boundary-Making in the "New Latinx South"
Rebeca Gamez, John Hopkins University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Migrant and Refugee Students In Online Writing Courses: Their Stories
Kevin Depew, Old Dominion University

What "Counts" as Education Policy for Immigrant Students?: Effects of US Federal and State Immigration/Immigrant Policy on K-12 Immigrant Students and Families
Leslie Gautsch, UC San Diego

Room 3-Criminality

Predatory Street Targeting of Immigrants: Offender Perspectives
Krystlelynn Caraballo, Georgia State University

Immigrants of Color Living Under Crimmigration Law
Natalie Cholula, UNC Greensboro

The Automobile and Anti-Immigration Movements: From Licensing to Drunk Driving Crackdowns
Joseph Rodriguez, University of Wisconson-Milwaukee

Alumni Center-Symposium
Voces Comunitarias: Collaboration, Leadership, Engagement and Translation & Interpreting

Araceli Hernández-Laroche-USC Upstate
Maria Francisco Montesó-USC Upstate
Begoña Caballero-García-Wofford College

10:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Session 2
Room 1-Asylum Seekers

Allard-Asylum Seeking as Moral Agency under Constraint
Silas Allard, Emory University

The Spaces of Gender-Based Asylum
Pooja Dadhania, California Western School of Law

Understanding the Post Resettlement Process: In-depth Analysis of the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Burmese Refugee Population in Knoxville
Melissa Holmes, Refugee Integration through Community Outreach

Room 2-History

The Jewish Roots of American Refugee Policy
Shyam Krishnan Sriram, Butler University
Victoria Combs, Butler University
Cole McNamara, Butler University

Halting & Holding
Smita Gosh, Georgetown University

Trump's Use of Executive Powers to Make Immigration Policy
Michele Waslin, George Mason University

Room 3-Immigration Detention/Legal System
We Don't Want Prettier Jails: How to Shut Down
Azadeh Shahshahani, Project South

The Role of Immigration Attorneys in Case-Selection, Preparation, and Navigating an Uncertain Field
Dylan Farrell-Bryan, University of Pennsylvania

Using Technology at the Border and Detention Centers Can Drive Policy Change
Damjan Denoble, frontera TECH

Alumni Center-Symposium

Notes from the (Under) Ground: A Panel of Local Advocates offers Insight from Charleston, SC
Aimee Herring, Charleston County Adult Education

1:30-3:00 p.m.
Session 3
Room 1-Higher Education Room 2-Dreamers/Youth Advocacy

Fostering a Critical Immigration Perspective: A New Approach to

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Academic Activism and Advocacy
Juan Jose Bustamante, University of Arkansas

Representation and the Academic Profession
Hector Diaz, University of South Carolina

Engaging Undergraduates through Creative Inquiry
Mikel Cole, Clemson University
Stephanie Schenck, Clemson University
Angela Naimou, Clemson University

Room 2-Dreamers/Youth Advocacy

Pre- DACA Returnees and the Pursuit of the American Dream South of the Border
Eleanor Petrone, Western Carolina University

Student DREAMers Alliance: Raising a Generation of Advocates and Leaders
James Campbell, Carolina High School
Adela Mendoza, Hispanic Alliance
Dina Estrada, Hispanic Alliance

Nested Socio-Legal Contexts: Undocumented Young Adults Navigating Belonging in Georgia
Edelina Burciaga, University of Colorado-Denver

Room 3-Public Opinion towards Immigration

Polarization and U.S. Public Opinion on Immigration
Charles D. Brockett, Sewanee: The University of the South

A(mass)ing Counternarratives in Mediatized Debates about Immigration in the Aftermath(s) of an ICE Raid
Jennifer Reynolds, University of South Carolina

Discrimination in New Immigrant Destinations: A Comparison of Southeast Asians in Taiwan and Latin American Immigrants in the American Southeast

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Shuchi Huang, College of Charleston
Will McCorkle, College of Charleston

Symposium
The Scars They Carry: Patterns of Abuse in Asylum-Seekers in South Carolina and the Development of the MUSC Asylum Clinic
Brian Elmore, Medical University of South Carolina

3:15-4:45 p.m.
Session 4
Room 1-Regional Collaboration

Foster regional collaboration to spur immigrant inclusion
Jordyne Krumroy, Welcoming America

Rhizomatic Citizenship as Democratic Practice
Cathryn Bennett, UNC-Greensboro
Marina Lambrinou, UNC-Greensboro

Building a collective resistance to defeat racism, Islamophobia, and anti-immigrant attacks
Manzoor Cheema-Project South
Azadeh Shahshahani-Project South

Room 2-287g
Fighting back against Local Police Collaboration with ICE and Winning
Adelina Nicholls, Project South

Rethinking the "Gold Standard" of Racial Profiling: §287(g), Secure Communities and Racially Discrepant Police Power
Austin Kocher, Syracuse University

Local Resistance to 287(g) and Immigration Enforcement in Knox County, Tennessee
De Ann Pendry, University of Tennessee

Room 3-Teachers

I am more than a "glorified translator": Latinx (immigrant) educators in

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

South Carolina
Tim Monreal, University of South Carolina

"When the teacher says, I'm surprised they let you back into the country..' where do we belong?" Educator responses and undocumented youth experiences of belonging and discrimination in a southeastern school
Sophia Rodriguez, UNC-Greensboro
Marina Lambrinou, UNC-Greensboro

"Teach Your Children Well": Correlating Religious Affiliation and Immigration Attitudes among Educators
Will McCorkle, College of Charleston
Shyam Krishnan Sriram, Butler University

Symposium
Where do you fall on the deportation spectrum?
Felicia Arriaga-Appalachian State University
Ian Foley, Appalachian State University
Beau Groover, Appalachian State University
Jessie Rios, Appalachian State University

Saturday, February 22, 2020

9:30-11:00 a.m.
Session 5
Room 1-Trauma

Immigrants and Domestic Violence in Charlotte-Mecklenburg
Claire Schuch, UNC-Charlotte

Coping together: a mixed-methods exploration on how Mexican American adolescents and their parents cope in response to ethnic-racial discrimination
Michelle Y. Martin Romero, UNC-Chapel Hill
Laura M. Gonzalez, UNC-Greensboro
Gabriela Livas Stein, UNC-Greensboro

Trauma-informed care for immigrant students? Exploring the role of school social workers

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Karen Andrea Flynn, University of South Carolina
Benjamin J. Roth, University of South Carolina
Leticia Villarreal Sosa, Dominican University
Sophia Rodriguez, UNC-Greensboro

Room 2-Welcoming Immigrant Communities
Welcoming cities in unwelcoming states: The challenges of immigrant integration in North Carolina
Maggie Commins, Queens University of Charlotte

From Municipal to Regional Immigrant Integration in a Major Emerging Gateway: Creating a Community to Plan a Welcoming Metro Atlanta
Paul N. McDaniel, Kennesaw State University
Darlene Xiomara Rodriguez, Kennesaw State University
Jordyne Krumroy, Welcoming America

State Immigrant Inclusivity & English Learner Education in the Every Student Succeeds Act: Approaching or Departing Equity?
Leslie Gautsch, UC-San Diego
Rebecca Callahan, UC San Diego
Megan Hopkins, UC San Diego

Room 3-Activism

HB 3404: Expanding Access to Education and professional Opportunities for immigrants in S.C.
Sarai Bautista, Upstate DREAMers
Aylin Gomez

Building Networks of Change in a New Immigrant Destination in the New South
Nina Cano, Charleston Immigrant Coalition
Fernando Soto, Charleston Immigrant Coalition

Symposium
Migration Policy Solutions
Nancy A. Aguirre, The Citadel

Book Reading- Immigrant Narratives in the American South: Charting

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Here, Home, and Healing
Cinelle Barnes, Local Immigrant Author and Activist

Return to Top

****
****

4.
The Popularization of Unpopular Ideas: Social Cross-Pressures and Immigration Attitudes in Sweden

2:00-3:30 p.m., Friday, February 21, 2020
Hoffmann Room, 27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/02/state-and-capitalism-since-1800

Description: How do ideas that are broadly unpopular in a society spread among citizens? To answer this question the speakers will examine the development of anti-immigrant sentiment over time in Sweden. Although Sweden has been known as one of the most tolerant countries in the world, Swedish attitudes toward immigrants have hardened over the past decade, and a radical right party has gained supporters and legislative seats. The speakers will discuss adolescent Swedes and members of their social networks to establish the factors that prompt individuals to shift their attitudes about immigrants and argue that when a respondent's friends disagree on the subject of immigrants, he or she becomes less tolerant of immigrants over time (and more likely to support the radical right). This influence is most significant for those whose parents are particularly pro-immigrant. The speakers will discuss the effect of friend discordance to be strongest when one's friends supply information by suggesting politically relevant websites to the respondent. These new insights align with existing accounts of the powerful role of interpersonal contexts in shaping citizen attitudes. Yet, in contrast with the dominant view that politically diverse social ties can bolster the health of a democratic system, the results suggest a rather bleak narrative in which exposure to cross-pressures weakens key liberal democratic values.

Speakers:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Jennifer Fitzgerald, Associate Professor of Political Science, University of Colorado Boulder

Volha Charnysh, Assistant Professor of Political Science, MIT

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Humanizing Migration and Border Security

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020
Arrupe Hall, Multipurpose Room
Georgetown University
3700 O Street NW
Washington, DC 20057
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/humanizing-migration-and-border-security-tickets-92994323525

Description: ISIM will host John Moore, a Pulitzer Prize and World Press winning documentary photographer, on campus. Moore is a graduate of the University of Texas at Austin, where he studied Radio-Television-Film. While on campus, he will do two presentations. In the first, he will discuss his work aimed to humanize the issue of immigration and border security. His talk will draw from photographs of migrants taken at the southern U.S. border and at other borders worldwide. In the second event, he will present photographs of the wildlife survivors from the continuing bushfires in Australia. This is new work which will be part of a major exhibit in New York City later this year.

Return to Top

****
****

6.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Legalizing the Impossible Subject: The White Russian Refugees and the Development of American Immigration and Refugee Law during the Great Depression

12:00-1:30 p.m., Monday, February 24, 2020
Center for Comparative Immigration Studies
University of California, San Diego
Eleanor Roosevelt College Provost's Building, Conference Room 115
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/events/Seminars.html
https://ccis.ucsd.edu/_files/Event%20Flyers-Programs-Agendas/Event-Flyer---Kang-2-24-20.pdf

Speakers:
S. Deborah Kang, Visiting Scholar, The Center for Comparative Immigration Studies, UC San Diego
Associate Professor of History, California State University San Marcos

Description: During the Great Depression, states and localities expelled nearly a half-million ethnic Mexicans from the United States. Yet, in the midst of these removals, the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) launched an initiative to reform the hardships surrounding federal deportation policy. In the process, it expanded the legal architecture by which undocumented Europeans could be legalized. Drawing upon a chapter from her second book project, Undocumented Immigration and Immigration Legalization in the United States, 1906-1986, Kang will describe a legalization program created for Russian immigrants and its implications for the development of US refugee and immigration policies.

Return to Top

****
****

7.
The Failed Accession of Turkey to the European Union and the Migrant Crisis

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Myron Weiner Seminar Series on International Migration

4pm to 5:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 25, 2020
MIT Building E40, Room 496
Pye Conference Room
1 Amherst St
Cambridge, MA 02142
https://cis.mit.edu/sites/default/files/documents/Migration%20Poster_022520_FailedAccessionTurkey.pdf

Speaker:
Mario Zucconi, Princeton Faculty, Visiting Lecturer in Public and International Affairs, Woodrow Wilson School.

His research has focused on transatlantic relations, East-West relations, the Balkans, Turkey and the Middle East and, most recently, on democratic transition.

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Biometrics for Government & Law Enforcement 2020

Wednesday-Friday, February 26-28, 2020
Key Bridge Marriott
1401 Lee Highway
Arlington, VA 22209
https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/iqpcbiometricsgovlaw2020main952gw9IGMFCGt7uAhGjn0ptF7KpEyrOqVDDuc8qj8.pdf

Program agenda:

Wednesday, February 26, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8:50 a.m.

Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.

Integrating Biometric Capabilities into the National Counterterrorism Effort

* Biometric technologies of interest to supplement NCTC mission sets
* Efforts to share terrorism information analysis across the CT enterprise
* NCTC vision for biometric utilization: necessary next steps

Pete Hall, Acting Deputy Director, NCTC

10:30 a.m.

Making the Invisible Visible: Utilizing Biometrics to Stop Crime

Biometric data can be used to provide valuable investigative leads and supplement investigative capabilities. The FBI is continuously expanding its use with identity intelligence, to include DNA, fingerprints, video surveillance and iris recognition. Speaker will discuss emerging technologies and ways to leverage these tools.

Tina Delgado, Section Chief, FBI Laboratory

12:30 p.m.

Delta Looks Ahead: Partnering with CBP and TSA

Delta Airlines was the first airline to collaborate with Customs Border Protection and the Transportation Security Administration to install the first ever fully biometric terminal in Atlanta. This partnership will create a seamless experience for the everyday traveler.

* Providing smooth and excellent customer experience for travelers using facial recognition
* Cutting down time spent before flights and increase customer interactions with employees
* Enhancing security at airline touch points

Filipe Pereira dos Reis, Regional Director Airport Passenger Cargo and Security, International Air Transport Association UIT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Tuesday, February 27, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Advancing Biometrics with Customs and Border: What does the future hold?

* Advancing passenger systems and passenger name records with biometrics
* Monitoring security at all modes of transportation, air, land, and sea
* Centralizing access to biometric data Nael Samha, Director Passenger Systems and Biometrics, Customs and Border Protection

9:45 a.m.
How HSI is currently utilizing various types of Biometric and cutting edge technologies to aid in its investigations

* AI/machine learning – S/A Ben Teed
* Rapid DNA/Biometrics – Section Chief Brandon Stiefer
* Biometric Identification Transnational Migration Alert Program (BITMAP)

Section Chief Hillary Hodge

11:00 a.m.
Enhancing Security with Multi-modal Authentication Systems

Multimodal biometric systems allow multiple methods of identification which creates stronger security. They are more accurate, reliable, and provide less room for vulnerability against attacks.

* Replacing passwords with multi-modal biometrics to provide convenience and low password management costs
* Increasing verification accuracy to enhance protection
* Combining biometrics with cloud based solutions

11:45 a.m.
NIST continues effort to develop standards, measurement methods and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

best practices to deliver superior image based biometrics analytics
Craig Watson, Image Group Manager, NIST

1:30 p.m.
Utilizing Biometrics to Maximize Efficiency in Processing and Authenticating Immigration Requests

Brian Broderick, Deputy Chief Identity and information Management Division, Immigration Records Identity Services

2:15 p.m.
Incorporating Behavioral Biometrics in Ensuring Safety and Continuous Authentication

Analyzing the behavior of humans such as their speech, key strokes, gait, signature and cognition is starting to become more acceptable for the everyday consumer. The next step is to use it to maintain top notch security in government and corporations.

* Using behavioral biometrics as a form of user authentication

Tuesday, February 28, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Operation of Customs and Border Protection Entry/Exit Program

The Customs and Border Protection Entry/Exit Program was established to protect and prevent a threat during transportation.

* Confirming foreign departures from top U.S. airports using facial recognition software
* Completing CBP's overall goal of enhancing security for public safety

Jeni Best, Acting Director Biometric Exit Strategic Transformation, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

10:30 a.m.

The Future of the Department of Homeland Security and Evolving Biometrics

The Department of Homeland Security is moving towards centralizing biometric data. DHS is seeking to expand their data analysis capabilities for biometrics in ways that can change the game forever.

* Moving the Homeland Advanced Recognition to cloud base systems
* Analyzing matched faces, fingers prints, and Irises using HART
* Analyzing the future of biometrics technology and DHS's utilization

Arun Vemury, Director of Biometric and Identity Technology Center, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

12:00 p.m.

Using Machine Learning/ AI in Biometrics to Enhance Security Efforts

The combination of both AI and Biometrics will help strengthen security across facilities. Artificial intelligence is a useful tool in both multimodal and behavioral biometrics.

* Reducing the tolerance for error
* Learning and accounting for subtle changes in an individual's behavior
* Using AI to keep systems up to date and decrease false positives by analyzing things like handwritten or typing biometrics

12:45 p.m.

The US Army and the development of the 'Next Generation of Biometric Collection'

The US Army is transforming their use of biometrics with a new biometric collection data system. Although the current tool, 'The Biometric Automated Tool Set' is still effective, the new system will have enormous benefits.

* Utilizing a light weight and more compact device for face scanning
* Getting DNA and voice biometric systems on a contactless basis without requiring human contact EAB

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1:30 p.m.

Vein Biometrics: Are Hand Gestures The New Replacements to Passwords

Vein biometrics is a new and upcoming form of biometric data and is said to be the most secure form yet.

* Using finger vein recognition to access software – all you need to do is wave
* Reducing the risk of hacking threats and stolen biometrics

2:15 p.m.

Helping to combat crime: Using Biometrics to Bring Your Children Home

* Utilizing biometric data and technology to find missing children
* Sharing data and findings across different sectors

Carol Schweizer, Supervisor Case Manager, Forensics National Center for Missing and Exploited Children
Colin McNally, National Center for Missing and Exploited Children

Return to Top

****
****

9.

U.S. Launch: World Migration Report 2020

10:00-11:30 a.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
CSIS Headquarters
1616 Rhode Island Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20036
https://www.csis.org/events/us-launch-world-migration-report-2020

Speakers:
Marie McAuliffe
Head of the Migration Policy Research Division at IOM, and Chief Editor of IOM's flagship World Migration Report

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Michael Clemens
Director of Migration, Displacement, and Humanitarian Policy and Senior Fellow at the Center for Global Development (CGD)

Kathleen Newland
Senior Fellow and Co-Founder of the Migration Policy Institute

CSIS Expert
Daniel F. Runde
Senior Vice President; William A. Schreyer Chair and Director, Project on Prosperity and Development

Description: In late 2019, IOM's Director General released the tenth edition of the IOM flagship publication, the World Migration Report 2020. Designed to provide the latest data and information on key migration trends around the world, the report includes analysis of global migration statistics, describes recent developments in global governance of migration as well as outlines regional dimensions of migration and displacement. Drawing upon IOM's expertise in migration operations and management, as well as the depth of knowledge of the world's leading migration academics, the report provides a wealth of material relevant to strategic policy, program and operational deliberations.

The event will be webcast live from this page.

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Indignity and Indignation: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
Lower Level Library
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/speaker-series-sarah-willen-professor-anthropology-and-director-research-program-global

Speaker:
Sarah Willen, Professor of Anthropology and Director of the Research Program on Global Health and Human Rights, University of Connecticut

Description: Sarah Willen is the author of Fighting for Dignity: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins. In Fighting for Dignity, Sarah S. Willen explores what happened when the Israeli government launched an aggressive deportation campaign targeting newly arrived migrants from countries as varied as Ghana and the Philippines, Nigeria, Colombia, and Ukraine. Although the campaign was billed as a solution to high unemployment, it had another goal as well: to promote an exclusionary vision of Israel as a Jewish state in which non-Jews have no place. The deportation campaign quickly devastated Tel Aviv's migrant communities and set the stage for even more aggressive antimigrant and antirefugee policies in the years to come.

Fighting for Dignity traces the roots of this deportation campaign in Israeli history and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and shows how policies that illegalize and criminalize migrants wreak havoc in their lives, endanger their health, and curtail the human capacity to flourish. Children born to migrant parents are especially vulnerable to developmental and psychosocial risks. Drawing on nearly two decades of ethnographic engagement in homes and in churches, medical offices, advocacy organizations, and public spaces, Willen shows how migrants struggle to craft meaningful, flourishing lives despite the exclusions and vulnerabilities they endure. To complement their perspectives, she introduces Israeli activists who reject their government's exclusionary agenda and strive to build bridges across difference, repair violations of migrants' dignity, and resist policies that violate their own moral convictions. Willen's vivid and unflinching ethnography challenges us to reconsider our understandings of global migration, human rights, the Middle East— and even dignity itself.

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

11.

Conference on the Venezuela Refugee Crisis

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-3:00 p.m., Friday, February 28, 2020
Haines Hall 352
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14189

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the "discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the "delegation puzzle"). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

12.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-703 - Newcomers to Citizens: Immigrant Integration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Wednesday, March 2-4, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=14536

Course Description: With a record 200 million people living outside their country of birth, immigration is a global phenomenon with profound demographic, economic, social, and political implications for both sending and receiving countries. The debate over immigration law and policy has become increasingly volatile and, in some instances, characterized by misinformation, hate, and xenophobia. Beyond the politics of immigration, genuine challenges to immigrant integration abound. Successful integration of immigrants is critical to the long-term prosperity of host countries that rely on immigrants as workers, consumers, taxpayers, innovators, and entrepreneurs in light of their aging native-born populations and lower birth rates. In this course we will explore integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving countries--such as the United States and Canada and new countries of permanent immigration such as France, Germany, the United Kingdom. We will raise questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity. We will also discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism, paradigms that challenge an integrationist reading of migration. Using case studies from North America and Europe we will pay special attention to the different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation on their road from newcomers to citizens.

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Discuss the integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving and source countries.
* Recognize questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity.
* Discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism.
* Compare different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation.

Instructor: Jennifer Wistrand

Notes: This course is an open enrollment course. No application is required and registration is available by clicking "Add to Cart." Current students must register with their Georgetown NetID and password. New students will be prompted to create an account prior to registration.

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

13.
A Need for Control? Political Trust and Public Preferences for Asylum

Presented by Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School

6:00-7:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 4, 2020
Theresa Lang Community and Student Center
I 202, Arnold Hall
The New School
66 West 12th Street
New York, NY 10011
https://event.newschool.edu/zolbergseriesruhs

Speaker:
Dr. Martin Ruhs, Chair in Migration Studies and Deputy Director of the Migration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Policy Centre
The European University Institute

Description: Europeans want to protect refugees, but they prefer a policy approach that sets limits and conditions. This discussion will provide the first-ever analysis of the structure of public preferences for asylum and refugee policy in Europe, a highly politicized policy area that has attracted little scholarly attention to date.

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Border Security Expo

Wednesday-Thursday, March 11-12, 2020
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center
900 E Market Street
San Antonio, TX 78205
https://www.bordersecurityexpo.com/

Conference agenda:

Keynotes:
Ronald D. Vitiello, Deputy Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

Vice Admiral Scott Buschman, Director, Joint Task Force-East

Scott A. Luck, Deputy Chief, U.S. Border Patrol

John P. Sanders, Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Panels:
National Vetting Center: What is It? What isn't It? And How Will It Change the Way We Protect the Homeland?
This session will focus on the National Vetting Center (NVC) and how it will complement the National Targeting Center (NTC). Experts from the NVC, NTC, as well as other members of the Intelligence Community, will discuss why the NVC is critical to the Homeland and next steps. The NVC will be operational at the time of the Expo, enabling the audience and panels to discuss the implementation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mass Migration and Unaccompanied Children: Financial and National Security Impacts

This panel will be comprised of experts from ICE Homeland Security Investigations assigned to the U.S., Mexico, and Central America. The panel will discuss the financial impact on the U.S., Mexico, and Central American countries in addressing the issues related mass migration and unaccompanied children attempting to enter the U.S. The panel will discuss human trafficking, organized human smuggling organizations, and national security issues relating to mass migration and unaccompanied children. The panel will provide publicly releasable information relating to "The Caravan" that reached the U.S./Border in November 2018.

Border: Wall – Ports – System(s) – Technology – Infrastructure – Integration – Modernization

Panel will discuss the immediate, near term, and out-year capability requirements, goals, and vision for border operations including infrastructure updates; technology needs, requirements, and planning; initiatives; modernization; and deployments.

Model Port: How Technology, Public-Private Partnerships, and Innovation Will Continue to Change the Way Ports-of-Entry Operate

This panel will be comprised of experts from the federal/local governments and industry. It will highlight what will take place at the POE in Donna, Texas and why it is important to the country's national and economic security. Technology will play a key role in defining the Model Port. A representative from the City of Donna will explain why this investment is important to the local community. CBP Headquarters staff will address the Donation Assistance Program and why it is necessary to make the Model Port a reality.

A Dialogue with Tenoch Moreno, General Customs Administration, Mexico: Current Operations and Future Thoughts

Procurement: Keeping Industry Current in the Complex Area of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Government Procurement and the Mission Needs of Border Operators

This is a must-attend session for those who plan to compete for government contracts. Rules and regulations change frequently, and new requirements are placed on industry. Industry must have a clear understanding of the mission needs of the border operators. Government and industry experts will discuss best practices and explain how to best leverage the many opportunities that support the daily mission of CBP and other agencies. Government panelists will include Senior Executives from CBP procurement and the new office of Operations Support.

Complete conference agenda will be available at end of December.

Return to Top

****

****

15.

Researchers & Activists Working Together to Support Central American Migrants

10:00 a.m.-1:30 p.m., Thursday, March 12, 2020
York University, 519 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto, Ontario, Canada
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/workshop-central-american-refugees-ii

Description: With the Trump administration's hard line policies at the US-Mexico border, challenges faced by migrants fleeing violence and poverty in northern Central America have been making global headlines.

On 11 March the Centre for Research on Latin America and the Caribbean (CERLAC) and the Centre for Refugee Studies (CRS) will host a public lecture highlighting the transit experiences of Central Americans as they attempt to cross multiple borders and the response of grass-roots organizations in Mexico and the US. It features three speakers working in Mexico, Guatemala, and the Mexico-US border area: activist and organizer Adalberto Ramos, and researchers Gio B'atz' (Giovanni Batz) and Elizabeth Oglesby. Commentary on implications for grassroots organizing/movement building and for Canadian policy makers will be provided by Francisco Rico-Martínez.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

To follow up on that event CRS and CERLAC are hosting a workshop to explore how university-based researchers and activists working in the field can collaborate to support Central American migrants and to work towards policy change.

Agenda:

10:00-10:10 a.m.
Welcome, acknowledgement of territory & introductions
Alan Durston

10:10-10:30 a.m.
Introducing the Canadian policy framework and Central American migrants
Sean Rehaag

10:30-11:30 a.m.
Breakout session 1: How can researchers support Central American migrants and grass roots organizations?
Co-facilitators: William Payne, Luin Goldring & Adalberto Ramos)

11:45 a.m.-12:45 p.m.
Breakout session 2: How can researchers help push for policy change?
Giovanni Batz

12:45-1:00 p.m.
Concluding thoughts: Problematizing the boundaries between action and research
Alison Crosby

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

16.

Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

Return to Top

****
****

17.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Author Meets Critics Event: Refuge Beyond Reach

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14188

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: In Refuge beyond Reach, David Scott FitzGerald traces how rich democracies have deliberately and systematically shut down most legal paths to safety. Drawing on official government documents, information obtained via WikiLeaks, and interviews with asylum seekers, he finds that for ninety-nine percent of refugees, the only way to find safety in one of the prosperous democracies of the Global North is to reach its territory and then ask for asylum. FitzGerald shows how the US, Canada, Europe, and Australia comply with the letter of law while violating the spirit of those laws through a range of deterrence methods -- first designed to keep out Jews fleeing the Nazis -- that have now evolved into a pervasive global system of "remote control." While some of the most draconian remote control practices continue in secret, Fitzgerald identifies some pressure points and finds that a diffuse humanitarian obligation to help those in need is more difficult for governments to evade than the law alone.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

18.

Book Discussion: 'The Shifting Border'

Presented by Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School.

6:00-7:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 24, 2020
Theresa Lang Community and Student Center
Starr Foundation Hall, U L102, University Center
The New School
66 West 12th Street
New York, NY 10011
https://event.newschool.edu/bookdiscussiontheshiftingborde

Speaker:
Ayelet Shacher, Professor of Law, Political Science, and Global Affairs
Toronto University

Description: We tend to think of a border as a static line, but recent bordering techniques have broken away from the map, as governments have developed legal tools to limit the rights of migrants before and after they enter a country's territory. The consequent detachment of state power from any fixed geographical marker has created a new paradigm: the shifting border, an adjustable legal construct untethered in space. This transformation upsets our assumptions about waning sovereignty, while also revealing the limits of the populist push toward border-fortification. It also presents a tremendous opportunity to rethink states' responsibilities to migrants. This book proposes a new, functional approach to human mobility and access to membership in a world where borders, like people, have the capacity to move.

Return to Top

****
****

19.

The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE
Washington, DC 20002
http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

[Conference agenda has not yet been announced]

Return to Top

****
****

20.
The contexts of reception that make asylum seekers feel welcome in Germany

12:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 31, 2020
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/rahsaan-maxwell-contexts-reception-make-asylum-seekers-feel-welcome-germany-0

Speaker:
Rahsaan Maxwell, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in 2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and for national and international politics

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain

3:00-5:00 p.m., Wednesday, April 22, 2020
Lydeen Library, Rolfe Hall West 4302
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14255

Speakers:
Susan Plann, Research Professor Emerita at UCLA in the departments of Chicana and Chicano Studies and Spanish and Portuguese and the author of Coming of Age in Madrid: An Oral History of Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors .

Abdellah Laroussi, social worker with Fundación La Merced Migraciones (Madrid), director of various residences for unaccompanied migrant youth, and prominent immigrant rights activist and spokesperson.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: According to Human Rights Watch, unaccompanied child migration is today the new normal; according to the Spanish press, it has now reached crisis proportions, and the great majority of unaccompanied foreign migrant minors in Spain are Moroccans. The topic of "Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain" is of importance for both European and African im/migration, and it also has significant implications for child migration to the U.S.

During the first half of the presentation Prof. Plann will provide an overview of unaccompanied Moroccan child migration to Spain, including the motives for their migration, how it is accomplished, their reception on Spanish shores, their status under Spanish law, and what happens when these children come of age. She will also point out notable differences between their situation in Spain and that of migrant minors in the U.S. Spain's policy toward unaccompanied child migrants, which includes a path to citizenship, may seem an attractive alternative to the American model, but Prof. Plann argues that it also has its downsides.

The second half of the presentation will feature Mr. Laroussi, himself a former Moroccan child migrant who now resides in Madrid. Social worker with the foundation Merced Migraciones and prominent immigrants' rights activist and spokesperson, Mr. Laroussi will tell his personal story and analyze the current situation of unaccompanied migrant youth in Spain, with whom he works on a daily basis.

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

Speaker:
Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the University of London

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through 'golden doors'. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

Return to Top

****
****

24.
The Issue of Immigration in America: Moving Beyond Walls and Open Borders

4:30–6:00 p.m., Friday, April 24, 2020
Heinz College – Hamburg Hall A301
Carnegie Mellon University
5000 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890
https://www.heinz.cmu.edu/events/the-issue-of-immigration-in-america

Description: In the United States, the issue of immigration gives rise to controversy and conflict. This issue requires us to wrestle with challenging

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

questions about many things, including:

Who should be admitted to the US as an immigrant (family members, skilled workers, etc.)?

How many people should the US admit as immigrants (should we increase, decrease or keep current levels)?

What rules should guide the immigration process (and how should these rules be enforced)?

How should we address the problems (social, political, and economic) that cause people to migrate from their home countries?

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56,
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Conference Program:

Monday, April 27, 2020

I. THE LEGAL MIGRATION FRAMEWORK IN THE EU – RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

9:45 a.m.
Recent legislative developments and key priorities for 2020-2021 in the EU legal migration system
Laura Corrado

10:45 a.m.
Update on the Community Code on Visas: Regulation (EU) 2019/1155 amending Regulation (EC) 810/2009
Dimitri Giotakos

12:15 p.m.
The post-Brexit UK immigration system and its impact on EU citizens

* Should business be worried by the drop in EU migration?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Current assessment of adopted measures • What additional challenges are to be expected by companies?
* Solutions for cross-border workers after Brexit Annabel Mace

II. ASPECTS OF EU AND NATIONAL LEGAL MIGRATION LAW IN A BROADER LEGISLATIVE CONTEXT

2:15 p.m.

Investor citizenship and residence schemes in the European Union: the cases of Malta, Bulgaria and Cyprus

* Investor residence schemes and EU law on legal migration
* The link between investor residence schemes and naturalisation procedures
* Areas of concern
* Risks posed by investor citizenship and residence schemes

Jelena Dzankic

3:15 p.m.

Mobility rights for third-country nationals under the EU's migration directives: posted workers and EU intra-corporate transferees – how to differentiate and ensure compliance

* Main changes introduced by the revised posted workers directive
* Facilitating intra-EU mobility by the ICT permit
* Case law of the CJEU Matthias Lommers

4:30 p.m.

The new German skilled immigration rules

Marius Tollenaere

Tuesday, April 28, 2020

III. CASE LAW OF THE CJEU AND ITS IMPACT ON EU LEGAL MIGRATION LAW

9:30 a.m.

The right to family reunification and long-term resident status in recent CJEU jurisprudence

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* G.S. and V.G. Joined cases C-381/18 and C-382/18
* Cases C-519/18 and C-706/18
* Case C-93/18: Right of residence of a third-country national who is a direct relative in the ascending line of Union citizen minors
* Case C-302/18: Conditions for the acquisition of long-term resident status
Doyin Lawunmi

IV. EXTERNAL DIMENSION OF LEGAL MIGRATION

11:00 a.m.
Developing and implementing alternative pathways for legal migration

* Socio-economic challenges
* Pilot projects for legal migration with selected third countries
* Legal migration pathways to Europe for low- and middle-skilled migrants
Silvio Grieco

V. FUTURE CHALLENGES AND OUTLOOK

12:00 p.m.
Reflections on EU legal migration law

* Assessment of the current situation
* Main challenges
* Ideas and suggestions for the future Kees Groenendijk

Return to Top

****
****

26.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-716 - Immigration Policy

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, May 6-8, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=29908153

Course Description: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

The course also examines policies related to forced migration, including refugee resettlement, asylum and temporary protected status. These issues will be discussed in a comparative framework, analyzing how other countries address issues affecting the United States. The course will examine the role of federal, state and local authorities in implementing policy reforms. It also examines the role of public opinion and various interest groups in affecting policy formulation.

Students will be required to write a 10-page paper, due after the course completion, on a specific reform issue.

Section Notes: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Wednesday, February 19, 2020 1:48 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: The Democratic Roadmap for Immigration

Share

Tweet

Forward

The Democratic Roadmap for Immigration

'New Way Forward Act' would hobble enforcement, both at the border and in the interior

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, D.C. (February 19, 2020) – A detailed analysis of the New Way Forward Act (H.R. 5383) by the Center for Immigration Studies reveals Democrats' plans for immigration enforcement if they ever regain control of the White House and Congress.

Introduced in the House of Representatives in December, and co-sponsored by the number-two Democrat on the immigration subcommittee, the bill's largest beneficiaries would be criminal aliens, the smugglers and traffickers who prey upon migrants, and the criminal cartels that benefit from their passage over the border into the United States.

Andrew Arthur, the Center's Resident Fellow in Law and Policy and author of the analysis, said "The New Way Forward Act was introduced by representatives who apparently believe that the current immigration laws are too harsh on criminal aliens in the United States, that immigration enforcement in the interior is currently too effective, and that there are not enough criminals in this country already. Regrettably, I am not exaggerating."

Arthur continued, "This bill pulls the curtain back on where Democrats want to go on immigration, if they get the power to do so. Why do I say that? The first cosponsor is Rep. Pramila Jayapal (D-Wash.), the vice-chairwoman of the Subcommittee on Immigration and Citizenship at the House Judiciary Committee (the subcommittee to which that bill has been referred). She is no backbencher unaware of what this bill would do; she is leadership on that powerful committee."

See Arthur's analysis of the proposal here: https://cis.org/Report/New-Way-Forward-Act-Roadmap-Immigration-under-Democratic-Control.

Some highlights:

- H.R. 5383, the New Way Forward Act, which has 44 cosponsors, would effectively eviscerate immigration enforcement both at the border and in the interior of the United States.
- It would all but eliminate detention for immigration purposes, and impose new burdens on our already overtaxed immigration courts.
- It would place onerous restrictions on ICE officers and Border Patrol agents in making immigration arrests — including in desolate areas of the border in the middle of the night.
- It would require those officers and agents to justify every arrest of an alien without a warrant before an immigration judge, straining to the point of elimination DHS's limited immigration-enforcement resources.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- It would create a "statute of limitations" of five years for the commencement of removal proceedings based on even the most serious criminal offenses.
- It would limit the criminal grounds of removal so significantly that only the most extreme offenses would render criminal aliens removable, and would also expand the relief available to the few aliens who would still be removable on criminal grounds.
- It would make the amendments to the criminal grounds of removal and relief retroactive, so that even criminal aliens who have been removed from the United States, but who would not have been removable had that law been in effect, could apply to have their cases reopened or reconsidered. Immigration judges and the Board of Immigration Appeals would have no discretion not to reopen or reconsider those cases.
- It would require DHS to pay to fly those criminal aliens who have been removed and who would be eligible for reopening or reconsideration thereunder back to the United States — which would result in dangerous criminal aliens being returned at taxpayer expense back to this country to commit more crimes.
- It would prevent state and local law enforcement from assisting ICE and CBP in immigration enforcement in any way, and bar the inclusion of immigration-related information into the NCIC database or its incorporated criminal history databases. This would essentially make every jurisdiction in the United States a "sanctuary jurisdiction". As a result, ICE officers would have to risk their own safety and the safety of the community as a whole to arrest dangerous criminal aliens at their homes or in public places.
- It would repeal the criminal grounds of illegal entry and reentry into the United States, encouraging fraud, enriching smugglers, traffickers, and criminal cartels, and endangering the national security and the community.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, February 20, 2020 8:16 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 2/20/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Reading, 2/20/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. State Department Visa Bulletin - March 2020
2. CRS reports on illicit drug smuggling, border barrier funding, and visa sanctions against 'recalcitrant' countries
3. GAO report on USCIS's oversight and data quality of credible and reasonable fear screenings
4. EPA IG report on management controls for Border 2020 Program Accomplishments
5. House testimony on assessing U.S. security assistance to Mexico
6. House markup of H.R. 2214, the NO BAN Act
7. Canada: Population statistics
8. Norway: Unemployment statistics for immigrants
9. Italy: Demographic indicators for 2019
10. Germany: Statistics apprentices with foreign citizenship
11. Austria: Naturalization and population statistics
12. N.Z.: International migration statistics

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

13. New report from FAIR
14. Rasmussen Reports weekly immigration index and voter views on suing sanctuary cities
15. TRAC reports on criminal immigration prosecutions and asylum decisions
16. New working paper from the National Bureau of Economic Research
17. Four new reports and features from the Migration Policy Institute
18. Three new discussion papers from the Institute for the Study of Labor
19. Nine new papers from the Social Science Research Network
20. Fifteen new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
21. CATO report: "Financing Immigration: The Financial-Market Value of a Market-Based Immigration System"
22. HLR article: "Matter of L-E-A-"
23. "Will Skill-Based Immigration Policies Lead to Lower Remittances?:"
24. "Ethical considerations in providing psychological services to unaccompanied immigrant children"
25. "Migrant Integration in Europe: Steps Towards a Comprehensive Approach"
26. U.K.: New working paper from the Oxford Refugee Studies Centre

BOOKS

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

27. The Criminalization of Immigration: Truth, Lies, Tragedy, and Consequences
28. The Americanisation of Ireland: Migration and Settlement, 1841-1925
29. Empty Planet: The Shock of Global Population Decline
30. The Shifting Border: Legal Cartographies of Migration and Mobility: Ayelet Shachar in Dialogue
31. New Chinese Migrants in New Zealand: Becoming Cosmopolitan? Roots, Emotions, and Everyday Diversity

JOURNALS

32. Citizenship Studies
33. Comparative Migration Studies
34. Identities: Global Studies in Culture and Power
35. International Migration Review

1.
Visa Bulletin For March 2020
Vol. X, No. 39
. . .
https://travel.state.gov/content/dam/visas/Bulletins/visabulletin_march2020.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

2.
New from the Congressional Research Service

Illicit Drug Smuggling Between Ports of Entry and Border Barriers
February 7, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R46218.pdf

DHS Border Barrier Funding
Updated January 29, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R45888.pdf

Immigration: "Recalcitrant" Countries and the Use of Visa Sanctions to

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Encourage Cooperation with Alien Removals
CRS In Focus, updated January 23, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/IF11025.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

3.
New from the General Accountability Office

Immigration: Actions Needed to Strengthen USCIS's Oversight and Data Quality of Credible and Reasonable Fear Screenings
GAO-20-250, February 19, 2020
Report: https://www.gao.gov/assets/gao-20-250.pdf
Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/assets/gao-20-250-highlights.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Management Controls Needed to Verify and Report Border 2020 Program Accomplishments
EPA Office of Inspector General, Report No. 20-P-0083, February 18, 2020
. . .
https://www.epa.gov/sites/production/files/2020-02/documents/_epaoig_20200218-20-p-0083.pdf

U.S.-Mexico Border 2020 Program
. . .
https://www.epa.gov/border2020

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

5.
Thursday, February 13, 2020
House Committee on Foreign Affairs
Subcommittee on Western Hemisphere, Civilian Security, and Trade
https://foreignaffairs.house.gov/hearings?ID=39F49766-FD4D-42CB-B8F3-7762A7387BAC

Assessing U.S. Security Assistance to Mexico

Witness testimony:
Hugo Rodriguez
Deputy Assistant Secretary, Bureau of Western Hemisphere Affairs, U.S. Department of State

Richard Glenn
Deputy Assistant Secretary, Bureau of International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs, U.S. Department of State

Barbara Feinstein
Deputy Assistant Administrator, Bureau for Latin America and the Caribbean, United States Agency for International Development

Hearing video at link: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_jRHGT0Auro

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Wednesday, February 12, 2020
House Committee on the Judiciary
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU00/20200212/110514/BILLS-1162214ih.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

H.R. 2214, the National Origin-Based Antidiscrimination for Nonimmigrants Act or the NO BAN Act

(Agreed to by a Roll Call Vote of 22 Ayes and 10 Nos)

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Canada's population estimates: Subprovincial areas, July 1, 2019
Statistics Canada, February 13, 2020
. . .
https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/en/daily-quotidien/200213/dq200213a-eng.pdf?st=0ULuC_-_

Summary:
Canada's population growth concentrated in urban regions, fuelled by permanent and temporary immigration

Canada continues to be more urbanized as the population of Canada's census metropolitan areas (CMAs) rose to 27.0 million (71.7%). CMAs outpaced growth in the rest of the country (1.7% versus 0.6%).

Permanent and temporary immigration continues to drive population growth in Canada's CMAs, accounting for almost all of their growth in 2018/2019. In contrast, international migration accounted for just over half of the population growth in non-CMAs of the country. This trend is linked to higher targets for permanent immigration, as defined by Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada, and to various government programs that draw many temporary workers and foreign students to the country.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

8.

Registered unemployed among immigrants

Statistics Norway, February 12, 2020

. . .

https://www.ssb.no/en/arbeid-og-lonn/statistikker/innvarbl/kvartal

Summary: 5.0 % of immigrants are registered as unemployed Q4 2019

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Demographic Indicators 2019

Italy National Institute of Statistics, February 11, 2020

https://www.istat.it/it/files//2020/02/indicatori-demografici-2019-EN.pdf

Highlights:

* 60.3 million total population
* 8.9 percent foreign nationals
* 19.6 percent born from foreign mothers
* 307,000 registrations from abroad

Return to Top

****

****

10.

Occupations with skilled labour shortage: number of new apprentices with foreign citizenship more than tripled from 2008 to 2018

German Federal Statistical Office, February 14, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.destatis.de/EN/Press/2020/02/PE20_N007_132.html

Summary: The number of new apprentices is falling less rapidly in many occupational groups of the crafts sector than the relevant average for all vocational training occupations. This is shown by a special evaluation the Federal Statistical Office (Destatis) has carried out as the Skilled Immigration Act is entering into force on 1 March 2020. The total number of new apprenticeship contracts concluded in the years 2008 to 2018 decreased by 14.1%, from 607,600 to 521,900.

In these ten years, the number of new contracts of people holding a foreign citizenship almost doubled, from 31,100 to 61,000. Over the same period, the number of new apprenticeship contracts concluded for selected shortage occupations in the crafts sector which are on the labour shortage list of the Federal Employment Agency fell only slightly by 0.8% from approximately 135,000 to 134,000.

Return to Top

****
****

11.
10,606 new Austrian citizens in 2019: number of naturalisations increased by 12.2%
Statistics Austria, February 13, 2020
. . .
https://www.statistik.at/web_en/press/122573.html

Summary: In 2019, 10,606 persons acquired Austrian citizenship (including 106 residents abroad), as Statistics Austria reports. Compared to 2018, the number of naturalisations increased by 12.2%. After an all-time high in 2003 (45,112), the number of naturalisations dropped to a minimum in 2010 (6,190). Ever since, naturalisations have been consequently increasing again.

In 2019, Austrian citizenship was granted to 3,727 persons born in Austria (35.1%), 34.6% of the naturalised were under 18 years of age. Among people naturalised in 2019, the largest groups were former citizens of Bosnia-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Herzegovina (1,183 or 11.2%), Serbia (1, 008), Turkey (912), Kosovo (688) and the Russian Federation (464).

+++

Population reaches 8.9 million at the beginning of 2020
February 12, 2020
. . .
https://www.statistik.at/web_en/press/122589.html

Summary: According to preliminary results of Statistics Austria, 8,902,600 people were living in Austria on 1 January 2020. During 2019, the resident population increased by 43, 825 (+0.5%). Hence, population growth was slightly higher than in the previous year (2018: 36,508; +0.4%).

At the beginning of 2020, some 1.49 million foreign citizens were living in Austria, representing a share of 16.7% of the total population (compared to 16.2% on 1 January 2019). Germans (200,059 persons; +4.0%) were still the largest group of foreigners living in Austria; for the first time, Romanian nationals (123,461; +9.6%) followed in the second place.

Return to Top

****
****

12.
International migration: December 2019
Statistics New Zealand, February 16, 2020
. . .
https://www.stats.govt.nz/information-releases/international-migration-december-2019

Summary: For migrant arrivals in the December 2019 year, New Zealand citizens were the largest group with 34,200 (± 700) arrivals. The next largest groups were citizens of:

China – 13,000 (± 300)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

India – 12,500 (± 300)
South Africa – 11,400 (± 200)
Philippines – 8,500 (± 200)
Australia – 7,200 (± 500.)

For migrant departures in the December 2019 year, New Zealand citizens were the largest group with 43,300 (± 900) departures. The next largest groups were citizens of:

China – 11,300 (± 500)
United Kingdom – 5,500 (± 100)
India – 5,300 (± 300)
Australia – 3,700 (± 300).

Month
December 2019 month (compared with December 2018 month) provisional estimates were:

migrant arrivals – 14,600 (± 1200), up 12 percent
migrant departures – 12,800 (± 1100), up 27 percent
net gain – 1,800 (± 1500) migrants.

December 2019 month seasonally adjusted estimates were:

migrant arrivals – 13,200 migrant departures – 9,300
net gain – 3,900.

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Small Migrant Populations, Huge Impacts.
By Matt O'Brien, Spencer Raley, and Casey Ryan Federation for American Immigration Reform Report, January 2020
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.fairus.org/sites/default/files/2020-01/Low-Immigration-States_web.pdf

Return to Top

****

****

14.

Rasmussen Reports Weekly Immigration Index

February 18, 2020

. . .

https://www.rasmussenreports.com/public_content/politics/immigration_index/immigration_index_feb18

Excerpt: Among the findings in the latest survey, 41% of Likely U.S. Voters say the government is doing too little to reduce illegal border crossings and visitor overstays, while 34% think it's doing too much. Eighteen percent (18%) rate the level of action as about right.

The sharp public political differences over illegal immigration are explained in part by the results of this question: 62% of Republicans think the government is doing too little to combat it, while 56% of Democrats say the government is doing too much. Among voters not affiliated with either major party, 41% say the government is doing too little to reduce illegal immigration vs. 29% who say it's doing too much.

Sixty-eight percent (68%) of all voters still feel the government should mandate that employers use the federal electronic E-Verify system to help ensure they hire only legal workers for U.S. jobs. Just 19% disagree, while 14% are undecided.

Fifty-eight percent (58%) believe it is better for the country if U.S. businesses raise pay and try harder to recruit non-working Americans even if it causes prices to rise. Only 26% disagree and think it's better for America if the government brings in new foreign workers to help keep business costs and prices down. Sixteen percent (16%) are not sure which option is better.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

+++

Rasmussen Reports Weekly Immigration Index
February 11, 2020
. . .
https://www.rasmussenreports.com/public_content/politics/immigration_index/immigration_index_feb11

Excerpt: Fifty-six percent (56%) favor allowing legal immigrants to bring only a spouse and minor children with them. Thirty-four percent (34%) want to allow them to bring in other adult relatives as well in a process that can include extended family and their spouses' families.

The Census Bureau projects that current immigration policies are responsible for most U.S. population growth and will add 75 million people over the next 40 years. In terms of the effect on the overall quality of life in the United States, 36% want to continue immigration-driven population growth at the current levels. Forty-one percent (41%) favor slowing down immigration-driven population growth, while 13% want to have no such population growth at all.

+++

Voters Narrowly Favor Law Allowing Crime Victims to Sue Sanctuary Cities
February 13, 2020
. . .
https://www.rasmussenreports.com/public_content/politics/current_events/immigration/voters_narrowly_favor_law_allowing_crime_victims_to_sue_sanctuary_cities

Excerpt: In response to a number of murders and other serious crimes by illegal immigrants freed by sanctuary cities, President Trump announced in last week's State of the Union address his support for a bill that would allow victims of those crimes to sue the cities. Forty-four percent (44%) of voters favor a law that would allow crime victims to sue sanctuary cities. Forty percent (40%) are opposed. Sixteen percent (16%) are not sure.

Sixty percent (60%) of Republicans favor such a law, compared to 31% of Democrats and 45% of voters not affiliated with either major political party.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

15.

New from the Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse, Syracuse University

Sharp Decline in Criminal Immigration Prosecutions

February 12, 2020

. . .

https://trac.syr.edu/tracreports/crim/594/

Excerpt: The Department of Homeland Security's three immigration enforcement agencies - Customs and Border Protection (CBP), Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), and Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) - investigate both civil and criminal violations of the law. While these agencies can institute civil enforcement actions directly, they must refer any criminal matters to the Department of Justice whose prosecutors decide whether a criminal prosecution should be filed.

As shown in Figure 1, trends for referred cases have been driven largely by CBP rather than by ICE or USCIS. CBP-referred prosecutions began around 5,000 at the beginning of 2018, then rose sharply throughout the spring of 2018 and peaked around 11,000 during June through October of 2018 before steadily declining at the end of the year.

What accounts for this pattern in CBP's criminal referrals to the Department of Justice? The simplest explanation, if the percent of criminal referrals is constant, is that increases in the number of border crossings leads to increases in referrals. Yet the trend in CBP-referred prosecutions does not map neatly onto the trend in Border Patrol apprehensions along the Southwest border. In fact, just as apprehensions began climbing sharply in March of 2019, criminal prosecutions began to fall. Figure 2 compares trends in criminal prosecutions over the last two years with Border Patrol arrests of single adults, who one might expect to be prime targets for criminal prosecution[2]. Similarly, when Border

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Patrol arrests of adults in family units are plotted against criminal prosecutions, their apprehensions followed parallel month-to-month trends to those of single adults

+++

Asylum Decisions
By Custody, Representation, Nationality, Location, Month and Year, Outcome and more Through January 2020
. . .
https://trac.syr.edu/phptools/immigration/asylum/

Return to Top

****
****

16.
New from the National Bureau of Economic Research

Immigration Lottery Design: Engineered and Coincidental Consequences of H-1B Reforms
By Parag A. Pathak, Alex Rees-Jones, and Tayfun Sonmez
NBER Working Paper No. 26767, February 2020
. . .
https://www.nber.org/papers/w26767

Ethnic Attrition, Assimilation, and the Measured Health Outcomes of Mexican Americans
By Francisca M. Antman, Brian Duncan, and Stephen J. Trejo
NBER Working Paper No. 26742, February 2020
. . .
https://www.nber.org/papers/w26742

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

17.

New from the Migration Policy Institute

The Patchy Landscape of State English Learner Policies under ESSA
By Leslie Villegas and Delia Pompa
February 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/state-english-learner-policies-essa

An Uneven Welcome: Latin American and Caribbean Responses to Venezuelan and Nicaraguan Migration
By Andrew Selee and Jessica Bolter
February 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/latam-caribbean-responses-venezuelan-nicaraguan-migration

Seasonal Worker Programs in Europe: Promising Practices and Ongoing Challenges
By Kate Hooper and Camille Le Coz
February 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/seasonal-worker-programs-europe

Frequently Requested Statistics on Immigrants and Immigration in the United States
By Jeanne Batalova, Brittany Blizzard, and Jessica Bolter
Migration Information Source Spotlight, February 14, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/frequently-requested-statistics-immigrants-and-immigration-united-states

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

18.

New from the Institute for the Study of Labor

Does Emigration Affect Pro-Environmental Behaviour Back Home? A Long-Term, Local-Level Perspective

By Artjoms Ivlevs

IZA Discussion Paper No. 12984, February 2020

. . .

https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12984/does-emigration-affect-pro-environmental-behaviour-back-home-a-long-term-local-level-perspective

Revisiting Economic Assimilation of Mexican and Central Americans Immigrants in the United States

By Giovanni Peri and Zachariah Rutledge

IZA Discussion Paper No. 12976, February 2020

. . .

https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12976/revisiting-economic-assimilation-of-mexican-and-central-americans-immigrants-in-the-united-states

Education-Occupation Mismatch and Social Networks for Hispanics in the US: Role of Citizenship

By Kusum Mundra and Fernando Rios-Avila

IZA Discussion Paper No. 12975, February 2020

. . .

https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/12975/education-occupation-mismatch-and-social-networks-for-hispanics-in-the-us-role-of-citizenship

Return to Top

****

****

19.

New from the Social Science Research Network

1. Citizen Satisfaction with Online Passport Service Innovation in

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Indonesia within an Electronic Governance Perspective
By Choirul Saleh, University of Brawijaya
International Journal of Management (IJM), 10 (6), 2019
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3523522
https://www.iaeme.com/MasterAdmin/uploadfolder/IJM_10_06_007/IJM_10_06_007.pdf

2. The Human Rights of Migrant Domestic Workers in the UK
By Dáire McCormack-George, Trinity College (Dublin) - School of Law
Posted: February 13, 2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3522677
https://www.researchgate.net/publication/338701657_The_Human_Rights_of_Migrant_Domestic_Workers_in_the_UK

3. From Immigrants to Americans: Race and Assimilation During the Great Migration
Vasiliki Fouka, Stanford University; Soumyajit Mazumder, Harvard University, Faculty of Arts and Sciences; and Marco Tabellini, Harvard Business School
CEPR Discussion Paper No. DP14396
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3535482
https://economics.mit.edu/files/15100

4. The Plenary Power Meets the Police Power: Federalism at the Intersection of Health & Immigration
By Wendy E. Parmet, Northeastern University - School of Law
American Journal of Law & Medicine, Vol. 45, pp. 224-246 (2019)
Northeastern University School of Law Research Paper No. 268-2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3524534
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0098858819860611?journalCode=jlma

5. How Promoting a Merit-Based Immigration System Can Help Alleviate the DACA Problem
By Jose Gallegos, Western State College of Law
Posted: February 8, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3519864

6. Americans in Waiting: Finding Solutions for Long Term Residents
By Shoba Sivaprasad Wadhia, The Pennsylvania State University (University Park) School of Law
46 Notre Dame J. Legis. 29 (2019)
Penn State Law Research Paper No. 2-2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3532428
https://elibrary.law.psu.edu/cgi/viewcontent.cgi?article=1387&context=fac_works

7. Immigrant Entrepreneurship in Croatia: Exploring Its Potential, (Rising) Barriers and Integration Patterns
By Ruzica Simic Banovic, University of Zagreb, Faculty of Law, Dpt of Economics; Mirela Alpeza, J.J. Strossmayer University in Osijek, Faculty of Economics in Osijek; and Jan Brzozowski, Cracow University of Economics
Posted: February 4, 2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3528132
https://www.bib.irb.hr/1034211

8. Economic Aspects of Migration Processes in Bulgaria
By Daniela Bobeva, Bulgarian Academy of Sciences - Economic Research Institute; Dimitar Zlatinov Sofia University St. Kliment Ohridski; and Eduard Marinov, New Bulgarian University
Economic Studies, Volume 28 (5), 2019
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3517626

9. Gifts of the Immigrants, Woes of the Natives: Lessons from the Age of Mass Migration
By Marco Tabellini, Harvard Business School
CEPR Discussion Paper No. DP14317
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3526042

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

20.

Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

1. DACAmented in the Age of Deportation by Roberto G. Gonzales
February 20, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/dacamented-in-the-age-of-deportation-by-roberto-g-gonzales.html

2. Immigration Not a Huge Issue at Nevada Democratic Debate, Protesters Jeer Joe Biden on Obama Immigration Record
February 20, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/immigration-not-a-huge-issue-at-nevada-democratic-debate-protesters-jeer-joe-biden-on-obama-immigrat.html

3. Brexit immigration reform to see low-skilled migrants banned from Britain this year?
February 20, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/brexit-immigration-reform-to-see-low-skilled-migrants-banned-from-britain-this-year-.html

4. Trump Administration Continues Full Court Press on "Sanctuary" States and Cities, Implicates Complex Federalism Concerns
February 19, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/trump-administration-continues-full-court-press-on-sanctuary-states-and-cities-implicates-complex-fe.html

5. "Trump's Changes to Immigration Could Take Years to Undo — Even With a New President" and "9 Ways Trump Has Overhauled Immigration to

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

the US"

February 18, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/trumps-changes-to-immigration-could-take-years-to-undo-even-with-a-new-president-and-9-ways-trump-has-overhauled-immig.html

6. Nondelegation challenge to the travel ban

February 18, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/nondelegation-challenge-to-the-travel-ban.html

7. "Hidden Weapons" of Immigration Law: Interview with AIC

February 18, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/hidden-weapons-of-immigration-law-interview-with-aic.html

8. What Detention Leaves Behind

February 17, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/what-detention-leaves-behind.html

9. Border Patrol Will Deploy Elite Tactical Agents to Sanctuary Cities

February 14, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/border-patrol-will-deploy-elite-tactical-agents-to-sanctuary-cities.html

10. Supreme Court to Decide Case About Judicial Review of Expedited Removal

February 14, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/supreme-court-to-decide-case-about-judicial-review-of-expedited-removal.html

11. 9th Cir. On "eludes examination or inspection by immigration officers"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

February 13, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/9th-cir-on-eludes-examination-or-inspection-by-immigration-officers.html

12. NY sues Trump administration over bar on Global Entry

February 11, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/trump-administration-initiates-two-more-immigration-federalism-lawsuits-ny-sues-trump-administration.html

13. Attorney General Barr announces sweeping new sanctions, 'significant escalation' against sanctuary cities

February 11, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/attorney-general-barr-announces-sweeping-new-sanctions-significant-escalation-against-sanctuary-citi.html

14. Trump Suspends Global Entry Travel Program in New York in Response to Law Allowing Undocumented Immigrants to Secure Driver's Licenses

February 7, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/trump-suspends-global-entry-travel-program-in-new-york-in-response-for-allowing-undocumented-immigra.html

15. International Office for Migration -- "We were afraid": Testimonies from the first Migrant Caravan of 2020

February 6, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/international-office-for-migration-we-were-afraid-testimonies-from-the-first-migrant-caravan-of-2020.html

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

21.

Financing Immigration: The Financial-Market Value of a Market-Based Immigration System

By Alex Nowrasteh and Andrew C. Forrester

CATO Institute Immigration Research and Policy Brief No. 16, February 12, 2020

. . .

https://www.cato.org/publications/immigration-research-policy-brief/financing-immigration-financial-market-value-market

Return to Top

****

****

22.

Matter of L-E-A-

Attorney General Overrules Finding of Family as a Social Group.

133 Harv. L. Rev. 1500, February 10, 2020

. . .

https://harvardlawreview.org/2020/02/matter-of-l-e-a/

Return to Top

****

****

23.

Will Skill-Based Immigration Policies Lead to Lower Remittances? An Analysis of the Relations between Education, Sponsorship, and Remittances

By Sankar Mukhopadhyay and Miaomiao Zou

Journal of Developmental Studies, Vol 56, No. 3, March 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/00220388.2019.1585812

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Ethical considerations in providing psychological services to unaccompanied immigrant children
By Genevieve F. Dash
Ethics and Behavior, Vol 30, No. 2, February 2020
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/10508422.2019.1623031

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Migrant Integration in Europe: Steps Towards a Comprehensive Approach
By Thomas Huddleston
OECD Forum Network, January 15, 2020
. . .
https://www.oecd-forum.org/users/344357-thomas-huddleston/posts/58338-migrant-integration-in-europe-steps-towards-a-comprehensive-approach

Return to Top

****
****

26.
New from the Oxford Refugee Studies Centre

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Perverse incentives: an analysis of the border-management industry in the United States
By Emma Montoya
Working Paper, February 13, 2020
https://www.rsc.ox.ac.uk/publications/perverse-incentives-an-analysis-of-the-border-management-industry-in-the-united-states

Return to Top

****
****

27.
The Criminalization of Immigration: Truth, Lies, Tragedy, and Consequences
By Robert Hartmann McNamara

Praeger, 219 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1440873704, $50.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1440873704/centerforimmigra

Book Description: Presents the history of immigration to the United States; its criminalization under the Trump administration; debates over criminalization; effects on immigrants, U.S. residents, and the U.S. economy; and this country's relationships with other nations.

This book offers a comprehensive understanding of past and current immigration policy in the United States and exposes falsehoods in the rhetoric and narrative portraying Latino and Mexican immigrants in the United States. Much support for intensified immigration enforcement and deportation is based on repeated statements by federal officials, including the U.S. president, that immigrants pose a threat to national security, contribute to crime, and take jobs away from native-born residents. The evidence has consistently concluded that these narratives are inaccurate.

This text examines white nationalism as a backdrop to understanding the rationale behind current immigration policy and tactics. It examines how political and economic factors, broadly defined as neoliberal policies, shape the immigration narrative. It addresses the criminal justice system's applicability to immigration, law enforcement efforts, problems with immigration courts and judges, and how the detention of immigrants is part of a larger mass incarceration of people of color. Finally, the text offers insight into the reasons for massive migration, with the United States contributing to the problem by supporting regimes that endorse or allow humanitarian crisis.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Separates fact from fiction regarding immigration problems and threats

Presents a history of immigration to the United States and contrasts past federal approaches with procedures launched by the Trump administration

Explains facts produced in research that are ignored by federal authorities pushing mistruths about immigrants

Examines the issues and problems with immigration courts and judges, and law enforcement, and shows how the immigrant detention process is part of a larger mass incarceration of people of color in the United States

Details the effects on immigrants, U.S. residents, the U.S. economy, and our relationship with other nations

Shows how the U.S. itself is at fault for helping to create conditions that spur massive migration

Return to Top

****

****

28.

The Americanisation of Ireland: Migration and Settlement, 1841-1925

By David Fitzpatrick

Cambridge University Press, 270 pp.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hardcover, ISBN: 1108486495, $39.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1108486495/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 17421 KB, ASIN: B07WSGMGS6, 263 pp., $24.49

Book Description: Irish emigration to America is one of the clichés of modern Irish history; much less familiar is the reverse process. Who were the people who chose to return to Ireland? What motivated them? How did this affect Irish society? While many European countries were somewhat Americanised in this period, the Irish case was unique as so many Irish families had members in America. The most powerful agency for Americanisation, therefore, was not popular culture but circumstantial knowledge and personal contact. David Fitzpatrick demonstrates the often unexpected ways in which the reverse effects of emigration remoulded Irish society, balancing original demographic research with fascinating individual profiles to assemble a vivid picture of a changing Ireland. He explores the transformative impact of reverse migration from America to post-Famine Ireland, and offers penetrating insights into its growing population of American-born residents.

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Empty Planet: The Shock of Global Population Decline
By Darrell Bricker and John Ibbitson

Crown, 304 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1984823213, $11.69
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1984823213/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1984823221, $13.45
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1984823221/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 2962 KB, ASIN: B07CWHYVW5, 252 pp., $12.99

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Book Description: For half a century, statisticians, pundits, and politicians have warned that a burgeoning population will soon overwhelm the earth's resources. But a growing number of experts are sounding a different alarm. Rather than continuing to increase exponentially, they argue, the global population is headed for a steep decline—and in many countries, that decline has already begun.

In Empty Planet, John Ibbitson and Darrell Bricker find that a smaller global population will bring with it many benefits: fewer workers will command higher wages; the environment will improve; the risk of famine will wane; and falling birthrates in the developing world will bring greater affluence and autonomy for women.

But enormous disruption lies ahead, too. We can already see the effects in Europe and parts of Asia, as aging populations and worker shortages weaken the economy and impose crippling demands on healthcare and social security. The United States and Canada are well-positioned to successfully navigate these coming demographic shifts--that is, unless growing isolationism leads us to close ourselves off just as openness becomes more critical to our survival than ever.

Rigorously researched and deeply compelling, Empty Planet offers a vision of a future that we can no longer prevent--but one that we can shape, if we choose.

Return to Top

****

****

30.

The Shifting Border: Legal Cartographies of Migration and Mobility: Ayelet Shachar in Dialogue

By Ayelet Shachar

Manchester University Press, 280 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1526145316, $35.95

http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1526145316/centerforimmigra

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Book Description: The border is one of the most urgent issues of our times. Traditionally, we think of a border as a hard, static line, but recent bordering techniques have broken away from the lines on the map as governments have developed sophisticated legal tools to limit the rights of migrants both before and after they enter a country's territory. The consequent detachment of state power from any fixed geographical marker has created a new paradigm: the shifting border, an adjustable legal construct untethered in space. This dramatic transformation unsettles assumptions about waning sovereignty while also revealing the limits of the populist push toward border-fortification. It also presents a tremendous opportunity to creatively rethink states' responsibilities to migrants. This book proposes a new, functional approach to human mobility and access to membership in a world where borders, like people, have the capacity to move.

Return to Top

****

****

31.

New Chinese Migrants in New Zealand: Becoming Cosmopolitan? Roots, Emotions, and Everyday Diversity

By Bingyu Wang

Routledge, 196 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 0815368208, $134.61
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0815368208/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 0367484382, 182 pp., $47.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0367484382/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 4154 KB, ASIN: B07H4XMCDN, $57.95

Book Description: There are growing waves of 'desirable' migrants from Asia moving to New Zealand, a place experiencing increasing ethnic diversity, particularly in its largest metropolitan region Auckland. In purely demographic terms much of this diversity has been generated by policy shifts since the 1980s and the adoption of a comparatively liberal immigration policy based on personal merit without discrimination on the grounds of race, national or ethnic origin. Due to these changes, migrants from China, and Asia more broadly, have become increasingly significant in migration flows into New Zealand. This in turn makes New Zealand a valuable case study for understanding how Chinese migrants integrate into and affect their host nation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Wang attempts to close a gap in contemporary research by relating cosmopolitanism to migration, particularly in the Asian context. With a cosmopolitan gaze towards migration studies, she makes four key contributions to the ongoing scholarly discussion. Firstly, this is the first comprehensive study to use cosmopolitanism as a framework to study the lives of contemporary Chinese migrants, with implications for migration studies as a whole. It sheds light on the relationship between cosmopolitanism and migrant mobility, taking a new approach to examine the living paradigms of international migrants. Secondly, this book identifies the emergence and development of cosmopolitanism outside the domain of Western middle-class groups. The concept of 'rooted cosmopolitanism' is utilised to break down the Eurocentric notion of cosmopolitanism, and to show the role played by Chinese rootedness during the process of becoming cosmopolitan and encountering diversity. Thirdly, the book advances and enriches the knowledge of studies in 'everyday cosmopolitanism', by focusing on 'cosmopolitanism from below', locating quotidian and 'down-to-earth' cosmopolitan engagements that are grounded in everyday migrant lives. Fourthly, it looks at the emotional dimension of migrants negotiating difference and engaging in cosmopolitanism, particularly the ways in which emotions undermine and promote the development of cosmopolitan sociability.

Return to Top

****

****

32.

Citizenship Studies

Vol. 24, No. 1, January 2020

https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/ccst20/24/1

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Selected articles:

Becoming a citizen through marriage: how gender, ethnicity and class shape the nation
By Anne Kristol and Janine Dahinden
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1691152

The 'affective liminality' of young immigrants in Belgium: from ruly to unruly feelings on the path towards formal citizenship
By Rachel Waerniers and Lesley Hustinx
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1700913

Horizontal citizenship in Estonia: Russian speakers in the borderland city of Narva
By Alina Jašina-Schäfer and Ammon Cheskin
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1691150

'Good residents' for themselves: psychological screening and cultural imagination of future citizenship in contemporary Israel
By Galia Plotkin Amrami and Gita Kiper
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1691153

Return to Top

****
****

33.
Comparative Migration Studies
Vol. 8, Nos. 7-10, February 13, 14, and 17, 2020
http://www.comparativemigrationstudies.com/

Latest Articles:

Ambiguous goals, uneven implementation – how immigration offices shape internal immigration control in Germany
By Caroline Schultz

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0164-0

Another nexus? Exploring narratives on the linkage between EU external migration policies and the democratization of the southern Mediterranean neighbourhood
By Luisa Faustini-Torres
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0165-z

Migration as one of several adaptation strategies for environmental limitations in Tunisia: evidence from El Faouar
By Karolina Sobczak-Szelc and Naima Fekih
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0163-1

Emigrant citizenship, privileged local belonging and the option to return: Germans on the Turkish coast
By Margit Fauser
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0155-1

Return to Top

****
****

34.
Identities: Global Studies in Culture and Power
Vol. 27, No. 2, February 2020
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/gide20/27/2

Selected articles:

Second-generation Central Americans and the formation of an ethnoracial identity in Los Angeles
By Ariana J. Valle
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1070289X.2019.1587904

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Narratives of exile twenty years on: long-term impacts of Indonesia's 1998 violence on transnational Chinese-Indonesian women
By Monika Winarnita, Carol Chan, and Leslie Butt
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1070289X.2018.1537639

Diasporic kinship hegemonies and transnational continuities in the Hmong diaspora
By Sangmi Lee
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1070289X.2018.1457347

Return to Top

****
****

35.
International Migration Review
Online first, February 2020
https://journals.sagepub.com/toc/mrxa/current

Latest Articles:

Who Signs Up for E-Verify? Insights from DHS Enrollment Records
By Pia M. Orrenius, Madeline Zavodny, and Sarah Greer
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918320901461

Copying Europe? Integration as a Citizenship Requirement in Australia
By Heli Askola
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918320902042

Mexican Consular Protection Services across the United States: How Local Social, Economic, and Political Conditions Structure the Sociolegal Support of Emigrants
By Ricardo D. Martínez-Schuldt
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918319901264

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ries, Lora

From: Ries, Lora
Sent: Friday, February 21, 2020 9:14 AM
To: Higgins, Jennifer B
Subject: Refugee questions from L. Ries

Hi, Jennifer! Hope you are doing well.
Can I give you a call later today or Monday with some refugee questions? I have a hearing next week.
Thank you.

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
202-870-8179 (M)

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Higgins, Jennifer B

From: Higgins, Jennifer B
Sent: Friday, February 21, 2020 9:24 AM
To: Ries, Lora
Subject: Re: Refugee questions from L. Ries

Sure! Great to hear from you!!

How does 2:30 today look?

Sent from my iPhone

> On Feb 21, 2020, at 10:16 AM, Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org> wrote:
>
> ?
> Hi, Jennifer! Hope you are doing well.
> Can I give you a call later today or Monday with some refugee questions? I have a hearing next week.
> Thank you.
>
> Lora Ries
> Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
> The Heritage Foundation
> 202-870-8179 (M)
>
> ---
>
> Lora Ries
> Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
> The Heritage Foundation
> 214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
> Washington, DC 20002
> 202-608-5584
> heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ries, Lora

From:	Ries, Lora
Sent:	Friday, February 21, 2020 9:27 AM
To:	Higgins, Jennifer B
Subject:	RE: Refugee questions from L. Ries

I can do that. What number should I call?
Thank you.
-Lora

From: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted] (b)(6)
Sent: Friday, February 21, 2020 10:24 AM
To: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Subject: Re: Refugee questions from L. Ries

Sure! Great to hear from you!!

How does 2:30 today look?

Sent from my iPhone

On Feb 21, 2020, at 10:16 AM, Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org> wrote:

?
Hi, Jennifer! Hope you are doing well.
Can I give you a call later today or Monday with some refugee questions? I have a hearing next week.
Thank you.

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
202-870-8179 (M)

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Higgins, Jennifer B

From: Higgins, Jennifer B
Sent: Friday, February 21, 2020 9:34 AM
To: Ries, Lora
Subject: Re: Refugee questions from L. Ries

[redacted] (b)(6)

Sent from my iPhone

On Feb 21, 2020, at 10:27 AM, Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org> wrote:

?
I can do that. What number should I call?
Thank you.
-Lora

From: Higgins, Jennifer B[redacted] (b)(6)
Sent: Friday, February 21, 2020 10:24 AM
To: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Subject: Re: Refugee questions from L. Ries

Sure! Great to hear from you!!

How does 2:30 today look?

Sent from my iPhone

On Feb 21, 2020, at 10:16 AM, Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org> wrote:

?
Hi, Jennifer! Hope you are doing well.
Can I give you a call later today or Monday with some refugee questions? I have a hearing next week.
Thank you.

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
202-870-8179 (M)

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, February 21, 2020 6:30 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 2/21/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 2/21/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Trump's Chief of Staff to American Workers: Drop Dead," Mark Krikorian
2. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, and David North
3. "The Trump Administration, Still Split on Immigration," Ramesh Ponnuru
4. "Trouble in the Workers' Paradise," Kevin D. Williamson
5. "Senate Republicans Looking to Repeat 1986 Amnesty, Seeking President Trump's Support: Sources," Daniel Horowitz
6. "Justice Still Denied for Kate Steinle," Lloyd Billingsley
7. "How the 'Interpreter' Scam Brought 75,000 Iraqis and Afghans to America," Daniel Greenfield
8. "Trump's War on Sanctuary Cities Is About More Than Politics," James Jay Carafano
9. "Trump's Counterattack on Sanctuary Cities Has Begun, and It's About Time," Hans A. von Spakovsky and Lora Ries
10. "President's Budget Rightly Makes Immigration Enforcement a Priority," Lora Ries
11. "New Confirmation That Ilhan Omar Married Her Brother in Immigration Fraud Plan," Andrea Widburg
12. "BOOM: ICE Throws Down the Gauntlet, Arresting Two Illegal Aliens in a California Courthouse," Rick Moran
13. "Leftists Turn to Banks to Abolish ICE," Matt Mackowiak
14. "Video: Omar Wants to Get Rid of ICE But Guess What Now ICE Is Looking For Her!," Alex D.
15. "'Workers of the World Unite!' - Against Reckless Immigration Policies," Brian Lonergan
16. "Trump's Crackdown on Sanctuary Cities Is Good... ," Nicholas L. Waddy
17. "Oh, the Humanity! Those Poor, Misunderstood Human Smugglers," Bob Dane
18. "Democrats Queue Up New 'Rights' at Ports of Entry," Bob Dane
19. "The Silenced Voices of the Sanctuary Debate ," Jennifer G. Hickey
20. "Too Much Immigration Activism Is Univision's Problem," Silvio Canto, Jr.
21. "Jorge Ramos Grills Biden About the Immigrant Kids Obama's Administration Locked Up," Andrea Widburg
22. "Trump Takes Aim at Sanctuary Cities," Monica Showalter

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

23. "Illegal Aliens Still Don't Fear Enforcement," Federale
24. "Donald Trump, Sanctuary State California Prepare for Immigration Battle," Joe Guzzardi
25. "Survey: Immigration Policies Driving Work Out of America," Stuart Anderson
26. "Immigrants Flock to Canada, While U.S. Declines," Stuart Anderson
27. "H-1Bs and Underemployment Rates for College Graduates," David Bier
28. "Here's a Hard Truth About Immigration: Both Sides Are Going to Have to Compromise," Frank Argote-Freyre
29. "A Sanctuary Country: 2020 Democrats Want the U.S. to Be More Like Immigrant-Friendly California," Hannah Wiley
30. "Immigration Integration: An Opportunity to Reunite America," Tenzin Seldon and Curtis S. Chin
31. "Doors Open: Public Now Allowed Access to Immigration 'Tent Courts'," The Valley Morning Star (TX)
32. "Let's Rethink the Immigration Debate," Unni Kirandumkara
33. "The Trump Administration Is Sending SWAT Teams Into So-Called Sanctuary Jurisdictions," Jorge Loweree
34. "The First Amendment Right to Encourage Illegal Immigration," Damon Root

1.

Trump's Chief of Staff to American Workers: Drop Dead

By Mark Krikorian

The Corner at National Review Online, February 21, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/trumps-chief-of-staff-to-american-workers-drop-dead/

Return to Top

****

****

2.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A Final Response about USCIS Public Charge Policy Guidance
February 18, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Final-Response-about-USCIS-Public-Charge-Policy-Guidance

A Potential Sanctuary Train Wreck in the Offing
February 18, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Potential-Sanctuary-Train-Wreck-Offing

A Tweeter Misses the Mark in Disparaging USCIS's Public Charge Guidance
February 14, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Tweeter-Misses-Mark-Disparaging-USCISs-Public-Charge-Guidance

By Andrew R. Arthur

The 'New Way Forward Act': A Roadmap for Immigration under Democratic Control Legislation for those who don't think there are enough criminals in the United States already
February 19, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Report/New-Way-Forward-Act-Roadmap-Immigration-under-Democratic-Control

Border Patrol Apprehensions Drop for the Eighth Straight Month in January Administration initiatives are paying off
February 18, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Border-Patrol-Apprehensions-Drop-Eighth-Straight-Month-January

By David North

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Accreditor of Low-Prestige Schools, ACICS, Lost Two-Thirds of Its Revenue
February 20, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Accreditor-LowPrestige-Schools-ACICS-Lost-TwoThirds-Its-Revenue

Roundup: Infosys Moves Ahead in UK, ACICS Gets Pounded by USA Today, and SEC Gets More EB-5 Disgorgements
February 19, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Roundup-Infosys-Moves-Ahead-UK-ACICS-Gets-Pounded-USA-Today-and-SEC-Gets-More-EB5

The West African Con Letter with an Immigration Angle
February 18, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/West-African-Con-Letter-Immigration-Angle

Return to Top

****
****

3.
The Trump Administration, Still Split on Immigration
White House chief of staff Mick Mulvaney's comments exemplify this divide.
By Ramesh Ponnuru
The Corner at National Review Online, February 20, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/the-trump-administration-still-split-on-immigration/

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

4.

Trouble in the Workers' Paradise

By Kevin D. Williamson

National Review Online, February 18, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/2020/02/trouble-in-the-workers-paradise/

Return to Top

****

****

5.

Senate Republicans Looking to Repeat 1986 Amnesty, Seeking President Trump's Support: Sources

By Daniel Horowitz

Conservative Review, February 17, 2020

. . .

https://www.conservativereview.com/news/horowitz-senate-republicans-looking-repeat-1986-amnesty-seeking-president-trumps-support/

Return to Top

****

****

6.

Justice Still Denied for Kate Steinle

Obama judges serve as robed politburo for Democrats.

By Lloyd Billingsley

FrontPageMag.com, February 19, 2020

. . .

https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/02/justice-still-denied-kate-steinle-lloyd-billingsley/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

7.
How the 'Interpreter' Scam Brought 75,000 Iraqis and Afghans to America
How could there be more Iraqi interpreters than there are American troops?
By Daniel Greenfield
FrontPageMag.com, February 18, 2020
. . .
https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/02/how-interpreter-scam-brought-75000-iraqis-and-daniel-greenfield/

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Trump's War on Sanctuary Cities Is About More Than Politics
By James Jay Carafano
The Heritage Foundation, February 20, 2020
. . .
https://www.heritage.org/immigration/commentary/trumps-war-sanctuary-cities-about-more-politics

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Trump's Counterattack on Sanctuary Cities Has Begun, and It's About Time
By Hans A. von Spakovsky and Lora Ries

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Heritage Foundation, February 17, 2020

. . .

https://www.heritage.org/immigration/commentary/trumps-counterattack-sanctuary-cities-has-begun-and-its-about-time

Return to Top

****

****

10.

President's Budget Rightly Makes Immigration Enforcement a Priority

By Lora Ries

The Heritage Foundation, February 14, 2020

. . .

https://www.heritage.org/immigration/commentary/presidents-budget-rightly-makes-immigration-enforcement-priority

Return to Top

****

****

11.

New Confirmation That Ilhan Omar Married Her Brother in Immigration Fraud Plan

By Andrea Widburg

American Thinker Blog, February 21, 2020

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2020/02/new_confirmation_that_ilhan_omar_married_her_brother_in_immigration_fraud_plan.html

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

12.

BOOM: ICE Throws Down the Gauntlet, Arresting Two Illegal Aliens in a California Courthouse

By Rick Moran

PJMedia, February 20, 2020

. . .

https://pjmedia.com/trending/ice-throws-down-the-gauntlet-to-challenge-california-state-law-on-arresting-illegals/

Return to Top

****

****

13.

Leftists Turn to Banks to Abolish ICE

By Matt Mackowiak

Washington Examiner, February 19, 2020

. . .

https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/leftists-turn-to-banks-to-abolish-ice

Return to Top

****

****

14.

Video: Omar Wants to Get Rid of ICE But Guess What Now ICE Is Looking For Her!

By Alex D.

Right Journalism, February 21, 2020

. . .

https://www.rightjournalism.com/video-omar-wants-to-get-rid-of-ice-but-guess-what-now-ice-is-looking-for-her/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

15.

'Workers of the World Unite!' - Against Reckless Immigration Policies

By Brian Lonergan

American Greatness, February 15, 2020

. . .

https://amgreatness.com/2020/02/15/workers-of-the-world-unite-against-reckless-immigration/

Return to Top

****

****

16.

Trump's Crackdown on Sanctuary Cities Is Good...

By Nicholas L. Waddy

American Greatness, February 14, 2020

. . .

https://amgreatness.com/2020/02/14/trumps-crackdown-on-sanctuary-cities-is-good/

Return to Top

****

****

17.

Oh, the Humanity! Those Poor, Misunderstood Human Smugglers

By Bob Dane

ImmigrationReform.com, February 21, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/02/21/humanity-human-smugglers-migrants/

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Democrats Queue Up New 'Rights' at Ports of Entry
By Bob Dane
ImmigrationReform.com, February 19, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/02/19/border-security-congress-illegal-immigrants-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

19.
The Silenced Voices of the Sanctuary Debate
By Jennifer G. Hickey
ImmigrationReform.com, February 18, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/02/18/sanctuary-policy-ice-criminal-aliens-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

20.
Too Much Immigration Activism Is Univision's Problem

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The investors decide to dump Univision. More
By Silvio Canto, Jr.
American Thinker Blog, February 17, 2020
. . .
https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2020/02/too_much_immigration_activism_is_univisions_problem.html

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Jorge Ramos Grills Biden About the Immigrant Kids Obama's Administration Locked Up
By Andrea Widburg
American Thinker Blog, February 16, 2020
. . .
https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2020/02/jorge_ramos_grills_biden_about_the_immigrant_kids_obamas_administration_locked_up.html

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Trump Takes Aim at Sanctuary Cities
By Monica Showalter
American Thinker Blog, February 15, 2020
. . .
https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2020/02/trump_takes_aim_at_sanctuary_cities.html

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

23.

Illegal Aliens Still Don't Fear Enforcement

By Federale

VDare.com Blog, February 20, 2020

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/illegal-aliens-still-don-t-fear-enforcement

Return to Top

****

****

24.

Donald Trump, Sanctuary State California Prepare for Immigration Battle

By Joe Guzzardi

Noozhawk, February 16, 2020

. . .

https://www.noozhawk.com/article/joe_guzzardi_donald_trump_sanctuary_state_california_immigration_20200216

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Survey: Immigration Policies Driving Work Out of America

By Stuart Anderson

Forbes.com, Feb 19, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/02/19/survey-immigration-policies-driving-work-out-of-america/#401d364166a7

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

26.

Immigrants Flock to Canada, While U.S. Declines

By Stuart Anderson

Forbes.com, February 18, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/02/18/immigrants-flock-to-canada-while-us-declines/#1fcb09f76e54

Return to Top

****

****

27.

H-1Bs and Underemployment Rates for College Graduates

By David Bier

CATO at Liberty Blog, February 18, 2020

. . .

https://www.cato.org/blog/h-1bs-underemployment-rates-college-graduates

Return to Top

****

****

28.

Here's a Hard Truth About Immigration: Both Sides Are Going to Have to Compromise

By Frank Argote-Freyre

NJ.com, February 17, 2020

. . .

https://www.nj.com/opinion/2020/02/heres-a-hard-truth-about-immigration-both-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

sides-are-going-to-have-to-compromise-opinion.html

Return to Top

****
****

29.
A Sanctuary Country: 2020 Democrats Want the U.S. to Be More Like Immigrant-Friendly California
By Hannah Wiley
The Sacramento Bee, February 20, 2020
. . .
https://www.sacbee.com/news/politics-government/capitol-alert/article239920158.html

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Immigration Integration: An Opportunity to Reunite America
By Tenzin Seldon and Curtis S. Chin
TheHill.com, February 15, 2020
. . .
https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/483219-immigration-integration-an-opportunity-to-reunite-america

Return to Top

****
****

31.
Doors Open: Public Now Allowed Access to Immigration 'Tent Courts'

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Valley Morning Star (TX), February 17, 2020

. . .

https://www.valleymorningstar.com/2020/02/17/editorial-doors-open-public-now-allowed-access-immigration-tent-courts/

Return to Top

****

****

32.

Let's Rethink the Immigration Debate

By Unni Kirandumkara

Virginia Mercury, February 17, 2020

. . .

https://www.virginiamercury.com/2020/02/17/lets-rethink-the-immigration-debate/

Return to Top

****

****

33.

The Trump Administration Is Sending SWAT Teams Into So-Called Sanctuary Jurisdictions

By Jorge Loweree

ImmigrationImpact.com, February 18, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/02/18/swat-teams-sanctuary-cities/

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

34.

The First Amendment Right to Encourage Illegal Immigration

What's at stake in United States v. Sineneng-Smith

By Damon Root

Reason.com, February 20, 2020

. . .

https://reason.com/2020/02/20/the-first-amendment-right-to-encourage-illegal-immigration/

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ries, Lora

From: Ries, Lora
Sent: Sunday, February 23, 2020 8:28 PM
To: Higgins, Jennifer B
Subject: FY19 admissions number

Jennifer,
You said USCIS met the refugee ceiling (30K) last year. Is the FY19 admissions number published? I'm not finding it.
Thank you.

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
202-870-8179 (M)

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Higgins, Jennifer B

From:	Higgins, Jennifer B
Sent:	Monday, February 24, 2020 6:38 AM
To:	Ries, Lora
Subject:	RE: FY19 admissions number

It is. I don't think the Report to Congress on Refugee Admissions has it because it was issued before the final numbers were in. However, WRAPSnet.org has all admissions data from essentially the start of the program. Link is here:

https://www.wrapsnet.org/documents/Refugee%20Admissions%20by%20Region%20since%201975%20as%20of%201-31-20.pdf

---

From: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Sent: Sunday, February 23, 2020 9:28 PM
To: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted] (b)(6)
Subject: FY19 admissions number

Jennifer,
You said USCIS met the refugee ceiling (30K) last year. Is the FY19 admissions number published? I'm not finding it.
Thank you.

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
202-870-8179 (M)

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, February 24, 2020 9:50 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 2/24/20

What's Happening at the Center

In his detailed analysis of the New Way Forward Act (H.R. 5383), Andrew Arthur reveals Democrats' immigration policy plans if they ever regain control of the White House and Congress. H.R. 5383, which currently has 44 co-sponsors, including the vice-chairwoman of the immigration subcommittee, would effectively eviscerate immigration enforcement both at the border and in the interior of the United States. Among other things, it would all but eliminate detention, and impose new burdens on our already overtaxed immigration courts. It would limit the criminal grounds of removal so significantly that only the most extreme offenses would render criminal aliens removable, and would also expand the relief available to the few aliens who would still be removable on criminal grounds. It would make the amendments to the criminal grounds of removal and relief retroactive, so that even criminal aliens who have been removed from the United States, but who would not have been removable had that law been in effect, could apply to have their cases reopened or reconsidered. And it would require DHS to pay to fly those criminal aliens who have been removed and who would be eligible for reopening or reconsideration back to the United States — which would result in dangerous criminal aliens being returned at taxpayer expense back to this country to commit more crimes. The bill represents the radical turn that the Democratic Party has taken on immigration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Featured Posts

A Potential Sanctuary Train Wreck in the Offing

By Dan Cadman

The most recent move by the federal government is the decision by DHS to detail Border Patrol agents to work with Immigration and Customs Enforcement in identifying and apprehending aliens who have been released by police despite the filing of detainers, and over the objections of ICE agents. They will be working specifically in key sanctuary cities all over the country, including of course San Francisco, site of the infamous Kate Steinle killing.

Roundup: Infoys Moves Ahead in UK, ACICS Gets Pounded by USA Today, and SEC Gets More EB-5 Disgorgements

By David North

There have been interesting recent developments in three quite different immigration-related stories that we have been following. The son-in-law of the president of the huge (H-1B absorbing) Indian outsourcing company Infosys. A college-accrediting entity that we have often criticized in the past for its low standards. And the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Border Patrol Apprehensions Drop for Eighth Straight Month in January

A Tweeter Misses the mark in Diparaging USCIS's Public Charge

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Andrew R. Arthur

On February 4, 2020, AP reported that the number of U.S. Customs and Border Protection border apprehensions dropped in January for the eighth month in a row, down from 144,116 in May 2019 to "about 36,000". This is the lowest number of apprehensions in almost two years, and represents a 75 percent drop over that nine-month period.

Guidance

By Dan Cadman

A correspondent to my Center for Immigration Studies email account sent me a copy of a tweet by an individual commenting about the recent policy guidance promulgated by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services in how its officers are to consider applying the recent regulatory changes to enforcement of the "public charge" provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

More Blog Posts

- Accreditor of Low-Prestige Schools, ACICS, Lost Two-Thirds of Its Revenue
- The West African Con Letter with an Immigration Angle
- A Final Response about USCIS Public Charge Policy Guidance

Videos:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mark Krikorian, the Center's Executive Director, discusses the change in Joe Biden's immigration policy stance, as well as that of the Democratic party in general.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mark Krikorian discusses immigration's effect on the demographics and politics of Nevada.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

AMERICAN
OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, February 24, 2020 4:43 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 2/24/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 2/24/20

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 2/25, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on the failed accession of Turkey to the European Union and the migrant crisis
2. 2/26-28, Arlington, VA - Biometrics for government and law enforcement conference
3. 2/27, DC - House hearing on the effect of the border wall on private and tribal landowners - [New Listing]
4. 2/27, DC - House hearing on building a diverse and inclusive workforce to meet the homeland security mission - [New Listing]
5. 2/27, DC - U.S. launch of IOM's World Migration Report 2020
6. 2/27, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migrant lives at Israel's margins
7. 2/28, Los Angeles - Conference on the Venezuela refugee crisis
8. 3/2-4, DC - Certificate program course on international migration studies
9. 3/4, DC - Senate hearing on resources and authorities needed to protect and secure the homeland - [New Listing]
10. 3/4, New York, NY - Discussion on public preferences for limits and conditions on asylum policies
11. 3/11-12, San Antonio - Annual border security expo
12. 3/12, Toronto - Workshop on collaborative efforts to support Central American migrants
13. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary
14. 3/13, Los Angeles - Book discussion: Refuge Beyond Reach
15. 3/18, Book discussion: Humanity in Crisis: Ethical and Religious Response to Refugees - [New Listing]
16. 3/24, New York, NY - Book discussion: The Shifting Border
17. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention
18. 3/31, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on the contexts of reception that make asylum seekers feel welcome in Germany
19. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration
20. 4/22, Los Angeles - Lecture on Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain
21. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of fake news
22. 4/24, Pittsburgh - Lecture on a comprehensive approach to the issue of immigration
23. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

24. 5/6-8, DC - Certificate program course on immigration policy
25. 5/21-23, New Orleans - Conference on aiding immigrant and refugee communities in the Southeast U.S. post-Hurricane Katrina - [New Listing]

1.
The Failed Accession of Turkey to the European Union and the Migrant Crisis

The Myron Weiner Seminar Series on International Migration

4pm to 5:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 25, 2020
MIT Building E40, Room 496
Pye Conference Room
1 Amherst St
Cambridge, MA 02142
https://cis.mit.edu/sites/default/files/documents/Migration%20Poster_022520_FailedAccessionTurkey.pdf

Speaker:
Mario Zucconi, Princeton Faculty, Visiting Lecturer in Public and International Affairs, Woodrow Wilson School.

His research has focused on transatlantic relations, East-West relations, the Balkans, Turkey and the Middle East and, most recently, on democratic transition.

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Biometrics for Government & Law Enforcement 2020

Wednesday-Friday, February 26-28, 2020
Key Bridge Marriott
1401 Lee Highway

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Arlington, VA 22209
https://plsadaptive.s3.amazonaws.com/eco/files/event_content/iqpcbiometricsgovlaw2020main952gw9IGMFCGt7uAhGjn0ptF7KpEyrOqVDDuc8qj8.pdf

Program agenda:

Wednesday, February 26, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Integrating Biometric Capabilities into the National Counterterrorism Effort

* Biometric technologies of interest to supplement NCTC mission sets
* Efforts to share terrorism information analysis across the CT enterprise
* NCTC vision for biometric utilization: necessary next steps

Pete Hall, Acting Deputy Director, NCTC

10:30 a.m.
Making the Invisible Visible: Utilizing Biometrics to Stop Crime

Biometric data can be used to provide valuable investigative leads and supplement investigative capabilities. The FBI is continuously expanding its use with identity intelligence, to include DNA, fingerprints, video surveillance and iris recognition. Speaker will discuss emerging technologies and ways to leverage these tools.

Tina Delgado, Section Chief, FBI Laboratory

12:30 p.m.
Delta Looks Ahead: Partnering with CBP and TSA

Delta Airlines was the first airline to collaborate with Customs Border Protection and the Transportation Security Administration to install the first ever fully biometric terminal in Atlanta. This partnership will create a seamless experience for the everyday traveler.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Providing smooth and excellent customer experience for travelers using facial recognition
* Cutting down time spent before flights and increase customer interactions with employees
* Enhancing security at airline touch points

Filipe Pereira dos Reis, Regional Director Airport Passenger Cargo and Security, International Air Transport Association UIT

Tuesday, February 27, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Advancing Biometrics with Customs and Border: What does the future hold?

* Advancing passenger systems and passenger name records with biometrics
* Monitoring security at all modes of transportation, air, land, and sea
* Centralizing access to biometric data Nael Samha, Director Passenger Systems and Biometrics, Customs and Border Protection

9:45 a.m.
How HSI is currently utilizing various types of Biometric and cutting edge technologies to aid in its investigations

* AI/machine learning – S/A Ben Teed
* Rapid DNA/Biometrics – Section Chief Brandon Stiefer
* Biometric Identification Transnational Migration Alert Program (BITMAP)

Section Chief Hillary Hodge

11:00 a.m.
Enhancing Security with Multi-modal Authentication Systems

Multimodal biometric systems allow multiple methods of identification which creates stronger security. They are more accurate, reliable, and provide less room for vulnerability against attacks.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Replacing passwords with multi-modal biometrics to provide convenience and low password management costs
* Increasing verification accuracy to enhance protection
* Combining biometrics with cloud based solutions

11:45 a.m.
NIST continues effort to develop standards, measurement methods and best practices to deliver superior image based biometrics analytics
Craig Watson, Image Group Manager, NIST

1:30 p.m.
Utilizing Biometrics to Maximize Efficiency in Processing and Authenticating Immigration Requests

Brian Broderick, Deputy Chief Identity and information Management Division, Immigration Records Identity Services

2:15 p.m.
Incorporating Behavioral Biometrics in Ensuring Safety and Continuous Authentication

Analyzing the behavior of humans such as their speech, key strokes, gait, signature and cognition is starting to become more acceptable for the everyday consumer. The next step is to use it to maintain top notch security in government and corporations.

* Using behavioral biometrics as a form of user authentication

Tuesday, February 28, 2020

8:50 a.m.
Director's Opening Remarks

9:00 a.m.
Operation of Customs and Border Protection Entry/Exit Program

The Customs and Border Protection Entry/Exit Program was established to protect and prevent a threat during transportation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Confirming foreign departures from top U.S. airports using facial recognition software
* Completing CBP's overall goal of enhancing security for public safety

Jeni Best, Acting Director Biometric Exit Strategic Transformation, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

10:30 a.m.

The Future of the Department of Homeland Security and Evolving Biometrics

The Department of Homeland Security is moving towards centralizing biometric data. DHS is seeking to expand their data analysis capabilities for biometrics in ways that can change the game forever.

* Moving the Homeland Advanced Recognition to cloud base systems
* Analyzing matched faces, fingers prints, and Irises using HART
* Analyzing the future of biometrics technology and DHS's utilization

Arun Vemury, Director of Biometric and Identity Technology Center, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

12:00 p.m.

Using Machine Learning/ AI in Biometrics to Enhance Security Efforts

The combination of both AI and Biometrics will help strengthen security across facilities. Artificial intelligence is a useful tool in both multimodal and behavioral biometrics.

* Reducing the tolerance for error
* Learning and accounting for subtle changes in an individual's behavior
* Using AI to keep systems up to date and decrease false positives by analyzing things like handwritten or typing biometrics

12:45 p.m.

The US Army and the development of the 'Next Generation of Biometric Collection'

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The US Army is transforming their use of biometrics with a new biometric collection data system. Although the current tool, 'The Biometric Automated Tool Set' is still effective, the new system will have enormous benefits.

* Utilizing a light weight and more compact device for face scanning
* Getting DNA and voice biometric systems on a contactless basis without requiring human contact EAB

1:30 p.m.

Vein Biometrics: Are Hand Gestures The New Replacements to Passwords

Vein biometrics is a new and upcoming form of biometric data and is said to be the most secure form yet.

* Using finger vein recognition to access software – all you need to do is wave
* Reducing the risk of hacking threats and stolen biometrics

2:15 p.m.

Helping to combat crime: Using Biometrics to Bring Your Children Home

* Utilizing biometric data and technology to find missing children
* Sharing data and findings across different sectors

Carol Schweizer, Supervisor Case Manager, Forensics National Center for Missing and Exploited Children
Colin McNally, National Center for Missing and Exploited Children

Return to Top

****
****

3.

Examining the Effect of the Border Wall on Private and Tribal Landowners

11:00 a.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
House Committee on Homeland Security
Subcommittee on Border Security, Facilitation, & Operations

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

310 Cannon House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/examining-the-effect-of-the-border-wall-on-private-and-tribal-landowners

Witnesses:
Ned Norris Jr., Chairman of the Tohono O'odham Nation

Reynaldo Anzaldua, Private Landowner from Hidaldo, Texas

Nayda Alvarez, Private Landowner from Roma, Texas

Jim Chilton, Private Landowner from Arivaca, Arizona (minority witness)

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Building a Diverse and Inclusive Workforce to Meet the Homeland Security Mission

2:00 p.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
House Committee on Homeland Security
Subcommittee on Oversight, Management, & Accountability
310 Cannon House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/building-a-diverse-and-inclusive-workforce-to-meet-the-homeland-security-mission

Witnesses:
Angela Bailey, Chief Human Capital Officer, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Yvonne Jones, Director, Strategic Issues, U.S. Government Accountability Office

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

5.

U.S. Launch: World Migration Report 2020

10:00-11:30 a.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
CSIS Headquarters
1616 Rhode Island Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20036
https://www.csis.org/events/us-launch-world-migration-report-2020

Speakers:
Marie McAuliffe
Head of the Migration Policy Research Division at IOM, and Chief Editor of IOM's flagship World Migration Report

Michael Clemens
Director of Migration, Displacement, and Humanitarian Policy and Senior Fellow at the Center for Global Development (CGD)

Kathleen Newland
Senior Fellow and Co-Founder of the Migration Policy Institute

CSIS Expert
Daniel F. Runde
Senior Vice President; William A. Schreyer Chair and Director, Project on Prosperity and Development

Description: In late 2019, IOM's Director General released the tenth edition of the IOM flagship publication, the World Migration Report 2020. Designed to provide the latest data and information on key migration trends around the world, the report includes analysis of global migration statistics, describes recent developments in global governance of migration as well as outlines regional dimensions of migration and displacement. Drawing upon IOM's expertise in migration operations and management, as well as the depth of knowledge of the world's leading migration academics, the report provides a wealth of material relevant to strategic policy, program and operational deliberations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The event will be webcast live from this page.

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Indignity and Indignation: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, February 27, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
Lower Level Library
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/speaker-series-sarah-willen-professor-anthropology-and-director-research-program-global

Speaker:
Sarah Willen, Professor of Anthropology and Director of the Research Program on Global Health and Human Rights, University of Connecticut

Description: Sarah Willen is the author of Fighting for Dignity: Migrant Lives at Israel's Margins. In Fighting for Dignity, Sarah S. Willen explores what happened when the Israeli government launched an aggressive deportation campaign targeting newly arrived migrants from countries as varied as Ghana and the Philippines, Nigeria, Colombia, and Ukraine. Although the campaign was billed as a solution to high unemployment, it had another goal as well: to promote an exclusionary vision of Israel as a Jewish state in which non-Jews have no place. The deportation campaign quickly devastated Tel Aviv's migrant communities and set the stage for even more aggressive antimigrant and antirefugee policies in the years to come.

Fighting for Dignity traces the roots of this deportation campaign in Israeli history and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and shows how policies that illegalize

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

and criminalize migrants wreak havoc in their lives, endanger their health, and curtail the human capacity to flourish. Children born to migrant parents are especially vulnerable to developmental and psychosocial risks. Drawing on nearly two decades of ethnographic engagement in homes and in churches, medical offices, advocacy organizations, and public spaces, Willen shows how migrants struggle to craft meaningful, flourishing lives despite the exclusions and vulnerabilities they endure. To complement their perspectives, she introduces Israeli activists who reject their government's exclusionary agenda and strive to build bridges across difference, repair violations of migrants' dignity, and resist policies that violate their own moral convictions. Willen's vivid and unflinching ethnography challenges us to reconsider our understandings of global migration, human rights, the Middle East— and even dignity itself.

Return to Top

****

****

7.

Conference on the Venezuela Refugee Crisis

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-3:00 p.m., Friday, February 28, 2020
Haines Hall 352
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14189

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: What explains state responses to the refugees they receive? This project identifies two puzzling patterns in state responses to refugees: states open their borders to some refugee groups while blocking others (the "discrimination puzzle"), and a number of countries have given the UN control of asylum procedures and refugee camps on their territory (the "delegation puzzle"). I develop a two-part framework in which policymakers in refugee-receiving countries weigh international and domestic concerns. At the international level, policymakers consider relations with the refugee-sending country. At the domestic level, policymakers consider political competition among ethnic groups. When these international and domestic incentives conflict, shifting responsibility to the UN allows policymakers to placate both refugee-sending countries and domestic constituencies.

Return to Top

****

****

8.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-703 - Newcomers to Citizens: Immigrant Integration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Wednesday, March 2-4, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=14536

Course Description: With a record 200 million people living outside their country of birth, immigration is a global phenomenon with profound demographic, economic, social, and political implications for both sending and receiving countries. The debate over immigration law and policy has become increasingly volatile and, in some instances, characterized by misinformation, hate, and xenophobia. Beyond the politics of immigration, genuine challenges to immigrant integration abound. Successful integration of immigrants is critical to the long-term prosperity of host countries that rely on immigrants as workers, consumers, taxpayers, innovators, and entrepreneurs in light of their aging native-born populations and lower birth rates. In this course we will explore integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving countries--such as the United States and Canada and new countries of permanent immigration such as France, Germany, the United Kingdom. We will raise questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity. We will also discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism, paradigms that challenge an integrationist reading of migration. Using case studies from North America and Europe we will pay special attention to the different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation on their road from newcomers to citizens.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Discuss the integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving and source countries.
* Recognize questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity.
* Discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism.
* Compare different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation.

Instructor: Jennifer Wistrand

Notes: This course is an open enrollment course. No application is required and registration is available by clicking "Add to Cart." Current students must register with their Georgetown NetID and password. New students will be prompted to create an account prior to registration.

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

9.
Resources and Authorities Needed to Protect and Secure the Homeland

2:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 4, 2020
Senate Committee on Homeland Security
SD-342 Senate Dirksen Building
Washington, DC, 20510
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/resources-and-authorities-needed-to-protect-and-secure-the-homeland

Witnesses:
TBA

Return to Top

****
****

10.
A Need for Control? Political Trust and Public Preferences for Asylum

Presented by Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School

6:00-7:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 4, 2020
Theresa Lang Community and Student Center
I 202, Arnold Hall
The New School
66 West 12th Street
New York, NY 10011
https://event.newschool.edu/zolbergseriesruhs

Speaker:
Dr. Martin Ruhs, Chair in Migration Studies and Deputy Director of the Migration Policy Centre

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The European University Institute

Description: Europeans want to protect refugees, but they prefer a policy approach that sets limits and conditions. This discussion will provide the first-ever analysis of the structure of public preferences for asylum and refugee policy in Europe, a highly politicized policy area that has attracted little scholarly attention to date.

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Border Security Expo

Wednesday-Thursday, March 11-12, 2020
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center
900 E Market Street
San Antonio, TX 78205
https://www.bordersecurityexpo.com/

Conference agenda:

Keynotes:
Ronald D. Vitiello, Deputy Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

Vice Admiral Scott Buschman, Director, Joint Task Force-East

Scott A. Luck, Deputy Chief, U.S. Border Patrol

John P. Sanders, Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Panels:
National Vetting Center: What is It? What isn't It? And How Will It Change the Way We Protect the Homeland?
This session will focus on the National Vetting Center (NVC) and how it will complement the National Targeting Center (NTC). Experts from the NVC, NTC,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

as well as other members of the Intelligence Community, will discuss why the NVC is critical to the Homeland and next steps. The NVC will be operational at the time of the Expo, enabling the audience and panels to discuss the implementation.

Mass Migration and Unaccompanied Children: Financial and National Security Impacts

This panel will be comprised of experts from ICE Homeland Security Investigations assigned to the U.S., Mexico, and Central America. The panel will discuss the financial impact on the U.S., Mexico, and Central American countries in addressing the issues related mass migration and unaccompanied children attempting to enter the U.S. The panel will discuss human trafficking, organized human smuggling organizations, and national security issues relating to mass migration and unaccompanied children. The panel will provide publicly releasable information relating to "The Caravan" that reached the U.S./Border in November 2018.

Border: Wall – Ports – System(s) – Technology – Infrastructure – Integration – Modernization

Panel will discuss the immediate, near term, and out-year capability requirements, goals, and vision for border operations including infrastructure updates; technology needs, requirements, and planning; initiatives; modernization; and deployments.

Model Port: How Technology, Public-Private Partnerships, and Innovation Will Continue to Change the Way Ports-of-Entry Operate

This panel will be comprised of experts from the federal/local governments and industry. It will highlight what will take place at the POE in Donna, Texas and why it is important to the country's national and economic security. Technology will play a key role in defining the Model Port. A representative from the City of Donna will explain why this investment is important to the local community. CBP Headquarters staff will address the Donation Assistance Program and why it is necessary to make the Model Port a reality.

A Dialogue with Tenoch Moreno, General Customs Administration, Mexico: Current Operations and Future Thoughts

Procurement: Keeping Industry Current in the Complex Area of Government Procurement and the Mission Needs of Border Operators

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is a must-attend session for those who plan to compete for government contracts. Rules and regulations change frequently, and new requirements are placed on industry. Industry must have a clear understanding of the mission needs of the border operators. Government and industry experts will discuss best practices and explain how to best leverage the many opportunities that support the daily mission of CBP and other agencies. Government panelists will include Senior Executives from CBP procurement and the new office of Operations Support.

Return to Top

****
****

12.

Researchers & Activists Working Together to Support Central American Migrants

10:00 a.m.-1:30 p.m., Thursday, March 12, 2020
York University, 519 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto, Ontario, Canada
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/workshop-central-american-refugees-ii

Description: With the Trump administration's hard line policies at the US-Mexico border, challenges faced by migrants fleeing violence and poverty in northern Central America have been making global headlines.

On 11 March the Centre for Research on Latin America and the Caribbean (CERLAC) and the Centre for Refugee Studies (CRS) will host a public lecture highlighting the transit experiences of Central Americans as they attempt to cross multiple borders and the response of grass-roots organizations in Mexico and the US. It features three speakers working in Mexico, Guatemala, and the Mexico-US border area: activist and organizer Adalberto Ramos, and researchers Gio B'atz' (Giovanni Batz) and Elizabeth Oglesby. Commentary on implications for grassroots organizing/movement building and for Canadian policy makers will be provided by Francisco Rico-Martínez.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

To follow up on that event CRS and CERLAC are hosting a workshop to explore how university-based researchers and activists working in the field can collaborate to support Central American migrants and to work towards policy change.

Agenda:

10:00-10:10 a.m.
Welcome, acknowledgement of territory & introductions
Alan Durston

10:10-10:30 a.m.
Introducing the Canadian policy framework and Central American migrants
Sean Rehaag

10:30-11:30 a.m.
Breakout session 1: How can researchers support Central American migrants and grass roots organizations? Co-facilitators: William Payne, Luin Goldring & Adalberto Ramos)

11:45 a.m.-12:45 p.m.
Breakout session 2: How can researchers help push for policy change?
Giovanni Batz

12:45-1:00 p.m.
Concluding thoughts: Problematizing the boundaries between action and research
Alison Crosby

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

Return to Top

****

****

14.
Author Meets Critics Event: Refuge Beyond Reach

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14188

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: In Refuge beyond Reach, David Scott FitzGerald traces how rich democracies have deliberately and systematically shut down most legal paths to safety. Drawing on official government documents, information obtained via WikiLeaks, and interviews with asylum seekers, he finds that for ninety-nine percent of refugees, the only way to find safety in one of the prosperous democracies of the Global North is to reach its territory and then ask for asylum. FitzGerald shows how the US, Canada, Europe, and Australia comply with the letter of law while violating the spirit of those laws through a range of deterrence methods -- first designed to keep out Jews fleeing the Nazis -- that have now evolved into a pervasive global system of "remote control." While some of the most draconian remote control practices continue in secret, Fitzgerald identifies some pressure points and finds that a diffuse humanitarian obligation to help those in need is more difficult for governments to evade than the law alone.

Return to Top

****
****

15.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Book Event: Humanity in Crisis: Ethical and Religious Response to Refugees

12:00 p.m., Wednesday, March 18, 2020
Arrupe Hall, Multipurpose Room
Georgetown University
3700 O Street NW
Washington, DC 20057
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/humanizing-migration-and-border-security-tickets-92994323525

Description: On March 18 at 12pm, ISIM will co-sponsor a book event with author David Hollenbach, the Pedro Arrupe Distinguished Research Professor and ISIM Faculty Affiliate. Professor Hollenbach's new book is titled Humanity in Crisis: Ethical and Religious Response to Refugees, and it is published by Georgetown University Press. Panelists will include Anne Richard, former assistant secretary of state for population, refugees and migration; Alex Aleinikoff, former United Nations Deputy High Commissioner for Refugees; Clemens Sedmak, professor of social ethics at the University of Notre Dame, as well as Profesor David Hollenbach. More information soon.

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Book Discussion: 'The Shifting Border'

Presented by Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School.

6:00-7:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 24, 2020
Theresa Lang Community and Student Center
Starr Foundation Hall, U L102, University Center
The New School
66 West 12th Street
New York, NY 10011
https://event.newschool.edu/bookdiscussiontheshiftingborde

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speaker:
Ayelet Shacher, Professor of Law, Political Science, and Global Affairs
Toronto University

Description: We tend to think of a border as a static line, but recent bordering techniques have broken away from the map, as governments have developed legal tools to limit the rights of migrants before and after they enter a country's territory. The consequent detachment of state power from any fixed geographical marker has created a new paradigm: the shifting border, an adjustable legal construct untethered in space. This transformation upsets our assumptions about waning sovereignty, while also revealing the limits of the populist push toward border-fortification. It also presents a tremendous opportunity to rethink states' responsibilities to migrants. This book proposes a new, functional approach to human mobility and access to membership in a world where borders, like people, have the capacity to move.

Return to Top

****
****

17.
The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE
Washington, DC 20002
http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

[Conference agenda has not yet been announced]

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

18.

The contexts of reception that make asylum seekers feel welcome in Germany

12:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 31, 2020
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/rahsaan-maxwell-contexts-reception-make-asylum-seekers-feel-welcome-germany-0

Speaker:
Rahsaan Maxwell, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Return to Top

****
****

19.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in 2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and for national and international politics

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

20.

Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain

3:00-5:00 p.m., Wednesday, April 22, 2020
Lydeen Library, Rolfe Hall West 4302
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14255

Speakers:
Susan Plann, Research Professor Emerita at UCLA in the departments of Chicana and Chicano Studies and Spanish and Portuguese and the author of Coming of Age in Madrid: An Oral History of Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors .

Abdellah Laroussi, social worker with Fundación La Merced Migraciones (Madrid), director of various residences for unaccompanied migrant youth, and prominent immigrant rights activist and spokesperson.

Description: According to Human Rights Watch, unaccompanied child migration is today the new normal; according to the Spanish press, it has now reached crisis proportions, and the great majority of unaccompanied foreign migrant minors in Spain are Moroccans. The topic of "Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain" is of importance for both European and African im/migration, and it also has significant implications for child migration to the U.S.

During the first half of the presentation Prof. Plann will provide an overview of unaccompanied Moroccan child migration to Spain, including the motives for their migration, how it is accomplished, their reception on Spanish shores, their status under Spanish law, and what happens when these children come of age. She will also point out notable differences between their situation in Spain and that of migrant minors in the U.S. Spain's policy toward unaccompanied child migrants, which includes a path to citizenship, may seem an attractive alternative to the American model, but Prof. Plann argues that it also has its downsides.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The second half of the presentation will feature Mr. Laroussi, himself a former Moroccan child migrant who now resides in Madrid. Social worker with the foundation Merced Migraciones and prominent immigrants' rights activist and spokesperson, Mr. Laroussi will tell his personal story and analyze the current situation of unaccompanied migrant youth in Spain, with whom he works on a daily basis.

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

Speaker:
Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the University of London

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through ‘golden doors’. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

22.

The Issue of Immigration in America: Moving Beyond Walls and Open Borders

4:30–6:00 p.m., Friday, April 24, 2020
Heinz College – Hamburg Hall A301
Carnegie Mellon University
5000 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890
https://www.heinz.cmu.edu/events/the-issue-of-immigration-in-america

Description: In the United States, the issue of immigration gives rise to controversy and conflict. This issue requires us to wrestle with challenging questions about many things, including:

Who should be admitted to the US as an immigrant (family members, skilled workers, etc.)?

How many people should the US admit as immigrants (should we increase, decrease or keep current levels)?

What rules should guide the immigration process (and how should these rules be enforced)?

How should we address the problems (social, political, and economic) that cause people to migrate from their home countries?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56,
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Conference Program:

Monday, April 27, 2020

I. THE LEGAL MIGRATION FRAMEWORK IN THE EU – RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

9:45 a.m.
Recent legislative developments and key priorities for 2020-2021 in the EU legal migration system
Laura Corrado

10:45 a.m.
Update on the Community Code on Visas: Regulation (EU) 2019/1155 amending Regulation (EC) 810/2009
Dimitri Giotakos

12:15 p.m.
The post-Brexit UK immigration system and its impact on EU citizens

* Should business be worried by the drop in EU migration?
* Current assessment of adopted measures • What additional challenges are to be expected by companies?
* Solutions for cross-border workers after Brexit Annabel Mace

II. ASPECTS OF EU AND NATIONAL LEGAL MIGRATION LAW IN A BROADER LEGISLATIVE CONTEXT

2:15 p.m.
Investor citizenship and residence schemes in the European Union: the cases of Malta, Bulgaria and Cyprus

* Investor residence schemes and EU law on legal migration
* The link between investor residence schemes and naturalisation procedures
* Areas of concern

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Risks posed by investor citizenship and residence schemes
Jelena Dzankic

3:15 p.m.
Mobility rights for third-country nationals under the EU's migration directives: posted workers and EU intra-corporate transferees – how to differentiate and ensure compliance

* Main changes introduced by the revised posted workers directive
* Facilitating intra-EU mobility by the ICT permit
* Case law of the CJEU Matthias Lommers

4:30 p.m.
The new German skilled immigration rules
Marius Tollenaere

Tuesday, April 28, 2020

III. CASE LAW OF THE CJEU AND ITS IMPACT ON EU LEGAL MIGRATION LAW

9:30 a.m.
The right to family reunification and long-term resident status in recent CJEU jurisprudence

* G.S. and V.G. Joined cases C-381/18 and C-382/18
* Cases C-519/18 and C-706/18
* Case C-93/18: Right of residence of a third-country national who is a direct relative in the ascending line of Union citizen minors
* Case C-302/18: Conditions for the acquisition of long-term resident status
Doyin Lawunmi

IV. EXTERNAL DIMENSION OF LEGAL MIGRATION

11:00 a.m.
Developing and implementing alternative pathways for legal migration

* Socio-economic challenges
* Pilot projects for legal migration with selected third countries

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Legal migration pathways to Europe for low- and middle-skilled migrants
Silvio Grieco

V. FUTURE CHALLENGES AND OUTLOOK

12:00 p.m.
Reflections on EU legal migration law

* Assessment of the current situation
* Main challenges
* Ideas and suggestions for the future Kees Groenendijk

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-716 - Immigration Policy

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, May 6-8, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=29908153

Course Description: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

The course also examines policies related to forced migration, including refugee resettlement, asylum and temporary protected status. These issues will be discussed in a comparative framework, analyzing how other countries address issues affecting the United States. The course will examine the role of federal, state and local authorities in implementing policy reforms. It also examines the role of public opinion and various interest groups in affecting policy formulation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Students will be required to write a 10-page paper, due after the course completion, on a specific reform issue.

Section Notes: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

25.

Building Just and Inclusive Communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama: 15 Years After Katrina

A Whole of Community Approach to Immigrants and Refugees

Thursday-Saturday, May 21-23, 2020
Loyola University New Orleans College of Law
526 Pine Street
New Orleans, LA 70118
https://cmsny.org/event/2020-whole-of-community-conference/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: The Center for Migration Studies' (CMS) Whole of Community Conference will be held this year at Loyola University New Orleans College of Law from May 21-23, 2020. At the conference, participants will explore the challenges facing diverse immigrant and refugee communities in local communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and elsewhere. The conference will feature best practices in supporting and defending these communities.

The Whole of Community Conference is a platform for community-focused collaborations among public officials, legal service providers, community organizers, community-based organizations, faith-based organizations, scholars, researchers, immigrants, refugees, and others in response to local and national immigration policies. The sponsors of this year's event will be CMS, Loyola University New Orleans College of Law and the Jesuit Social Research Institute / Loyola University New Orleans.

The conference schedule includes: optional site visits on May 21; and plenary panels and workshops on May 22 and 23. The conference fee of $50 includes lunch and refreshments throughout the event.

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ries, Lora

From:	Ries, Lora
Sent:	Wednesday, February 26, 2020 7:51 PM
To:	Higgins, Jennifer B
Subject:	RE: FY19 admissions number

Jennifer,
Thanks for sending this below. Do you have time for a very short call? (tonight or anytime tomorrow before 1:00PM). I have a few questions about items in other witness testimony.
Thanks.
-Lora

(b)(6)

From: Higgins, Jennifer B
Sent: Monday, February 24, 2020 7:38 AM
To: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Subject: RE: FY19 admissions number

It is. I don't think the Report to Congress on Refugee Admissions has it because it was issued before the final numbers were in. However, WRAPSnet.org has all admissions data from essentially the start of the program. Link is here:

https://www.wrapsnet.org/documents/Refugee%20Admissions%20by%20Region%20since%201975%20as%20of%201-31-20.pdf

From: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Sent: Sunday, February 23, 2020 9:28 PM
To: Higgins, Jennifer B
Subject: FY19 admissions number

(b)(6)

Jennifer,
You said USCIS met the refugee ceiling (30K) last year. Is the FY19 admissions number published? I'm not finding it.
Thank you.

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
202-870-8179 (M)

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Law, Robert T

From:	Law, Robert T
Sent:	Thursday, February 27, 2020 5:05 AM
To:	lora.ries@heritage.org
Subject:	Hearing
Attachments:	Temporary Protected Status Decisions Matrix 20200125.docx

Robert Law
Chief | Office of Policy & Strategy
U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services
U.S. Department of Homeland Security

(b)(6)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

TPS and DED Decisions

Country (TPS/DED)	Due Date for Next DHS Decision	Expiration Date of Wind-Down	Beneficiaries (as of 12/31/2018)
Syria (TPS)	1/30/2021	Designated through 3/31/2021	7,000
Yemen (TPS)	7/03/2021	Designated through 9/03/2021	1,511
Somalia (TPS)	7/17/2021	Designated through 9/17/2021	462
South Sudan (TPS)	9/03/2020	Designated through 11/02/2020	84
Sudan (TPS)	Terminated with 12-month delay 9/18/2017	11/02/2018 – Postponed under 10/03/2018 preliminary injunction, pending appeal.	805
Nicaragua (TPS)	Terminated with 12-month delay 11/06/2017	1/05/2019 – Postponed under 10/03/2018 preliminary injunction, pending appeal.	4,508
Nepal (TPS)	Terminated with 12-month delay 4/26/2018	6/24/2019 – Stayed under 3/12/2019 agreement, pending Ramos appeal.	14,594
Haiti (TPS)	Terminated with 18-month delay 11/20/2017	7/22/2019 – Postponed under 10/03/2018 preliminary injunction, pending appeal.	56,114
El Salvador (TPS)	Terminated with 18-month delay 1/08/2018	9/09/2019 – Postponed under 10/03/2018 preliminary injunction, pending appeal; 84 FR 59403 provides TPS for El Salvador will end no earlier than 365 days from the issuance of any appellate mandate in Ramos.	251,445
Honduras (TPS)	Terminated with 18-month delay 5/04/2018	1/05/2020 – Stayed under 3/12/2019 agreement, pending Ramos appeal.	80,570
Liberia (DED)	Terminated with 12-month delay 03/27/2018; extended an additional 12 months 3/28/2020	3/30/2020 – Motion for preliminary injunction filed 3/11/2019; FY2020 NDAA Sec. 7611 provides path to LPR status for those "continually present" in U.S. since 11/20/2014	1,100-2,200

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Higgins, Jennifer B

From: Higgins, Jennifer B
Sent: Thursday, February 27, 2020 6:45 AM
To: Ries, Lora
Subject: Re: FY19 admissions number

How about 9:30?

Sent from my iPhone

On Feb 26, 2020, at 8:51 PM, Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org> wrote:

?
Jennifer,
Thanks for sending this below. Do you have time for a very short call? (tonight or anytime tomorrow before 1:00PM). I have a few questions about items in other witness testimony.
Thanks.
-Lora

From: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted] (b)(6)
Sent: Monday, February 24, 2020 7:38 AM
To: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Subject: RE: FY19 admissions number

It is. I don't think the Report to Congress on Refugee Admissions has it because it was issued before the final numbers were in. However, WRAPSnet.org has all admissions data from essentially the start of the program. Link is here:

https://www.wrapsnet.org/documents/Refugee%20Admissions%20by%20Region%20since%201975%20as%20of%201-31-20.pdf

---

From: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Sent: Sunday, February 23, 2020 9:28 PM
To: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted] (b)(6)
Subject: FY19 admissions number

Jennifer,
You said USCIS met the refugee ceiling (30K) last year. Is the FY19 admissions number published? I'm not finding it.
Thank you.

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
202-870-8179 (M)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ries, Lora

From: Ries, Lora
Sent: Thursday, February 27, 2020 6:51 AM
To: Higgins, Jennifer B
Subject: Re: FY19 admissions number

9:30 it is. Thanks so much!

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation

From: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted] (b)(6)
Sent: Thursday, February 27, 2020 7:44:53 AM
To: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Subject: Re: FY19 admissions number

How about 9:30?

Sent from my iPhone

On Feb 26, 2020, at 8:51 PM, Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org> wrote:

?
Jennifer,
Thanks for sending this below. Do you have time for a very short call? (tonight or anytime tomorrow before 1:00PM). I have a few questions about items in other witness testimony.
Thanks.
-Lora

From: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted] (b)(6)
Sent: Monday, February 24, 2020 7:38 AM
To: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Subject: RE: FY19 admissions number

It is. I don't think the Report to Congress on Refugee Admissions has it because it was issued before the final numbers were in. However, WRAPSnet.org has all admissions data from essentially the start of the program. Link is here:

https://www.wrapsnet.org/documents/Refugee%20Admissions%20by%20Region%20since%201975%20as%20of%201-31-20.pdf

---

From: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Sent: Sunday, February 23, 2020 9:28 PM
To: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted] (b)(6)
Subject: FY19 admissions number

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Jennifer,
You said USCIS met the refugee ceiling (30K) last year. Is the FY19 admissions number published? I'm not finding it.
Thank you.

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
202-870-8179 (M)

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ries, Lora

From:	Ries, Lora
Sent:	Thursday, February 27, 2020 8:15 AM
To:	Law, Robert T
Subject:	RE: Hearing

Thanks for sending.

From: Law, Robert T [redacted] (b)(6)
Sent: Thursday, February 27, 2020 6:05 AM
To: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Subject: Hearing

Robert Law
Chief | Office of Policy & Strategy
U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
[redacted] (b)(6)

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ries, Lora

From:	Ries, Lora
Sent:	Thursday, February 27, 2020 8:51 AM
To:	Higgins, Jennifer B
Subject:	RE: FY19 admissions number

Strack piece in Time?

From: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted]
Sent: Thursday, February 27, 2020 7:45 AM (b)(6)
To: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Subject: Re: FY19 admissions number

How about 9:30?

Sent from my iPhone

On Feb 26, 2020, at 8:51 PM, Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org> wrote:

?
Jennifer,
Thanks for sending this below. Do you have time for a very short call? (tonight or anytime tomorrow before 1:00PM). I have a few questions about items in other witness testimony.
Thanks.
-Lora

From: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted] (b)(6)
Sent: Monday, February 24, 2020 7:38 AM
To: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Subject: RE: FY19 admissions number

It is. I don't think the Report to Congress on Refugee Admissions has it because it was issued before the final numbers were in. However, WRAPSnet.org has all admissions data from essentially the start of the program. Link is here:

https://www.wrapsnet.org/documents/Refugee%20Admissions%20by%20Region%20since%201975%20as%20of%201-31-20.pdf

---

From: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Sent: Sunday, February 23, 2020 9:28 PM
To: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted] (b)(6)
Subject: FY19 admissions number

Jennifer,
You said USCIS met the refugee ceiling (30K) last year. Is the FY19 admissions number published? I'm not finding it.
Thank you.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
202-870-8179 (M)

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ries, Lora

From: Ries, Lora
Sent: Thursday, February 27, 2020 8:54 AM
To: Higgins, Jennifer B
Subject: RE: FY19 admissions number

Cut and paste into her written testimony.

From: Ries, Lora
Sent: Thursday, February 27, 2020 9:51 AM
To: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted] (b)(6)
Subject: RE: FY19 admissions number

Strack piece in Time?

From: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted] (b)(6)
Sent: Thursday, February 27, 2020 7:45 AM
To: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Subject: Re: FY19 admissions number

How about 9:30?

Sent from my iPhone

On Feb 26, 2020, at 8:51 PM, Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org> wrote:

?
Jennifer,
Thanks for sending this below. Do you have time for a very short call? (tonight or anytime tomorrow before 1:00PM). I have a few questions about items in other witness testimony.
Thanks.
-Lora

From: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted] (b)(6)
Sent: Monday, February 24, 2020 7:38 AM
To: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Subject: RE: FY19 admissions number

It is. I don't think the Report to Congress on Refugee Admissions has it because it was issued before the final numbers were in. However, WRAPSnet.org has all admissions data from essentially the start of the program. Link is here:

https://www.wrapsnet.org/documents/Refugee%20Admissions%20by%20Region%20since%201975%20as%20of%201-31-20.pdf

---

From: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Sent: Sunday, February 23, 2020 9:28 PM

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

To: Higgins, Jennifer B [redacted]
Subject: FY19 admissions number

(b)(6)

Jennifer,
You said USCIS met the refugee ceiling (30K) last year. Is the FY19 admissions number published? I'm not finding it.
Thank you.

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
202-870-8179 (M)

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-5584
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, February 28, 2020 3:45 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 2/28/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 2/28/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Sanders and the Hispanic Vote: Good News and Bad News," Mark Krikorian
2. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, Nayla Rush, Jason Peña, Todd Bensman, John Miano, David North, and Julie Axelrod
3. "There Is No American Worker Shortage," Michelle Malkin
4. "Granting More Guest-worker Visas Would Hurt Blue-collar Americans," Stacy Washington
5. "Appeals Court Upholds Trump Withholding Justice Department Grants From Sanctuary Cities," William A. Jacobson
6. "Justice Sotomayor Accuses SCOTUS Conservative Majority of Pro-Trump Bias," William A. Jacobson
7. "Democrats Demand Open Borders for the Coronavirus," Daniel Greenfield
8. "ICE Should Deport George Soros as a Nazi Collaborator," Daniel Greenfield
9. "Immigration Self-Reliance Rule Begins — Ignore Scare Tactics, Here's What It Really Means," Lora Ries
10. "20-Year-Old Illegal Alien Enrolled in MD School Accused of Raping 11-Year-Old Girl," Daniel Horowitz
11. "ICE Following Law, Protecting Communities," The Boston Herald
12. "ICE Ignores California Laws and Arrests Illegal Immigrants at the Courthouse Door, Prompting Outcry From Local Officials," Natalie Dagenhardt
13. "Trump Wins Major Court Victory on Sanctuary Cities," Joseph Klein
14. "The 2nd Circuit Holds That Trump Can Withhold Federal Funds From Sanctuary Cities," Andrea Widburg
15. "A Legal Blow to 'Sanctuary' Jurisdictions," John Hinderaker
16. "Good News on Immigration," John Hinderaker
17. "What the Nevada Vote Tells Us About Latino Democrats," Paul Mirengoff
18. "Coming To America: Then And Now," Marina Medvin
19. "It's Not Just New York Residents That Gov. Cuomo Is Putting at Risk," Jennifer G. Hickey
20. "Real ID Is Finally Coming," Jack Martin
21. "The New Way Forward Act Declares War on American Sovereignty," Ryan Foley
22. "New Social Security Rule Limits Access to Non-English Speakers – This Change Could See 1000s of Illegals Lose Benefits," Alex D.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

23. "Donors Swoop in as Dems Give Trump Free Pass on Immigration," Washington Watcher II
24. "NOTHING About Immigration in Democratic Debate, Because They're All Agreed on Opening the Floodgates," James Fulford
25. "Trump Unleashes Shock Move to SPEED UP Border Wall Construction, Democrats Stunned," Joe Callen
26. "New Border Program Puts Asylum Seekers on Fast Track to Deportation," Michelle Hackman
27. "New Way Forward Act Is Totally Backward," Lance Voorhees
28. "The Exploding 110 Million More of Us Factor Within 30 Years," Frosty Wooldridge
29. "E-Verify: Will It Stop Illegal Immigration or Just Waste Everyone's Time?," Alex Nowrasteh
30. " 'Undocumented Immigrant' Versus 'Illegal Alien': Lawmakers Debate What to Call Migrants," Emma Coleman
31. "Courthouse Immigration Arrests Diminish Justice for All," The Press-Democrat (CA)
32. "Licensed Undocumented Immigrants Do Not Lead to Unsafe Roads," Jane Virgilio
33. "The Buttigieg Immigration Plan: Virtue and Economy," Martin W. Lester
34. "Surprise Trump Immigration Deal Would Boost US Economy," Josh T. Smith
35. "At Democratic Debate, Missed Opportunities on Immigration," Raul Reyes
36. "As Trump Barricades the Border, Legal Immigration Is Starting to Plunge," Zolan Kanno-Youngs
37. "Bernie Sanders's Evolution on Immigration, Explained," Nicole Narea
38. "How Stephen Miller Manipulates Donald Trump to Further His Immigration Obsession," Jonathan Blitzer
39. "With Public Charge Rule Now in Effect, Trump Achieves One of the Largest Cuts to Legal Immigration," Aaron Reichlin-Melnick
40. "Undocumented, Black, and Unseen," Denea Joseph

1.

Sanders and the Hispanic Vote: Good News and Bad News

By Mark Krikorian

The Corner at National Review Online, February 24, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/sanders-and-the-hispanic-vote-good-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

news-and-bad-news/

Return to Top

****
****

2.
CIS Immigration Posts

By Jason Richwine

The Public Charge Rule Is Hardly a 'Wealth Test'
It's a self-reliance test
February 26, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Richwine/Public-Charge-Rule-Hardly-Wealth-Test

By Dan Cadman

DOJ Creates a New Civil Denaturalization Prosecutions Unit
Where will the cases come from, if DHS agencies are not on board?
February 27, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/DOJ-Creates-New-Civil-Denaturalization-Prosecutions-Unit

Should the Federal Government Expel Chinese Journalists as a Matter of Reciprocity?
February 26, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Should-Federal-Government-Expel-Chinese-Journalists-Matter-Reciprocity

N.Y. Governor Decides He Won't Give One Federal Agency Information Owned by Another Federal Agency
February 25, 2020
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://cis.org/Cadman/NY-Governor-Decides-He-Wont-Give-One-Federal-Agency-Information-Owned-Another-Federal-Agency

Are Warrants Really Required for Border Patrol Agents to Board a Greyhound Bus?
February 24, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Are-Warrants-Really-Required-Border-Patrol-Agents-Board-Greyhound-Bus

By Andrew R. Arthur

Maryland to Consider Raft of Sanctuary Bills This Week
Endangering the public and ICE agents, and violating federal law
February 25, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Maryland-Consider-Raft-Sanctuary-Bills-Week

Joe Biden: Moratorium on Deportations in First 100 Days
Ignorance or indifference by the press? They don't know and they don't care
February 25, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Joe-Biden-Moratorium-Deportations-First-100-Days

By Nayla Rush

U.S. Was the Number-One Refugee Resettlement Country in the World in 2019
And most likely will be in 2020, as well
February 27, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Rush/US-Was-NumberOne-Refugee-Resettlement-Country-World-2019

By Jason Peña

Authorities Confirm Criminals Traveling in U.S.-Bound Caravans
February 27, 2020
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://cis.org/Pena/Authorities-Confirm-Criminals-Traveling-USBound-Caravans

By Todd Bensman

Migrant Pressure-Cooker Buildup in Balkans Holds Key Lessons for U.S.-Mexico Border Control Policy
February 25, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Bensman/Migrant-PressureCooker-Buildup-Balkans-Holds-Key-Lessons-USMexico-Border-Control-Policy

By John Miano

Ninth Circuit Judge to Congress: 'Don't leave the table and expect us to clean up.'
Public charge rule goes into effect today.
February 24, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Miano/Ninth-Circuit-Judge-Congress-Dont-leave-table-and-expect-us-clean

By David North

The Feds Break Up a Nasty, Church-Based Immigration Fraud Ring
February 24, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Feds-Break-Nasty-ChurchBased-Immigration-Fraud-Ring

By Julie Axelrod

Council on Environmental Quality Holds Public Hearing on the National Environmental Policy Act
Where are the environmental impact statements on immigration policy actions?
February 28, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Axelrod/Council-Environmental-Quality-Holds-Public-Hearing-National-Environmental-Policy-Act

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

3.
There Is No American Worker Shortage
By Michelle Malkin
Townhall.com, February 26, 2020
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/michellemalkin/2020/02/26/there-is-no-american-worker-shortage-n2561917

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Granting More Guest-worker Visas Would Hurt Blue-collar Americans
By Stacy Washington
Townhall.com, February 26, 2020
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/stacywashington/2020/02/26/granting-more-guestworker-visas-would-hurt-bluecollar-americans-n2561940

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Appeals Court Upholds Trump Withholding Justice Department Grants From Sanctuary Cities
By William A. Jacobson
Legal Insurrection, February 26, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://legalinsurrection.com/2020/02/appeals-court-upholds-trump-withholding-justice-department-grants-from-sanctuary-cities/

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Justice Sotomayor Accuses SCOTUS Conservative Majority of Pro-Trump Bias
By William A. Jacobson
Legal Insurrection, February 22, 2020
. . .
https://legalinsurrection.com/2020/02/justice-sotomayor-accuses-scotus-conservative-majority-of-pro-trump-bias/#more-309871

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Democrats Demand Open Borders for the Coronavirus
Their only hope for victory is infecting America.
By Daniel Greenfield
FrontPageMag.com, February 28, 2020
. . .
https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/02/democrats-demand-open-borders-coronavirus-daniel-greenfield/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8.

ICE Should Deport George Soros as a Nazi Collaborator

It's time for the Shadow Party's Godfather to face justice.

Daniel Greenfield

FrontPageMag.com, February 24, 2020

. . .

https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/02/ice-should-deport-george-soros-nazi-collaborator-daniel-greenfield/

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Immigration Self-Reliance Rule Begins—Ignore Scare Tactics, Here's What It Really Means

By Lora Ries

The Heritage Foundation, February 25, 2020

. . .

https://www.heritage.org/immigration/commentary/immigration-self-reliance-rule-begins-ignore-scare-tactics-heres-what-it

Return to Top

****

****

10.

20-Year-Old Illegal Alien Enrolled in MD School Accused of Raping 11-Year-Old Girl

By Daniel Horowitz

Conservative Review, February 26, 2020

. . .

https://www.conservativereview.com/news/horowitz-20-year-old-illegal-alien-enrolled-md-school-accused-raping-11-year-old-girl/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

11.
ICE Following Law, Protecting Communities
The Boston Herald, February 21, 2020
. . .
https://www.bostonherald.com/2020/02/21/ice-following-law-protecting-communities/

Return to Top

****
****

12.
ICE Ignores California Laws and Arrests Illegal Immigrants at the Courthouse Door, Prompting Outcry From Local Officials
By Natalie Dagenhardt
Right Journalism, February 24, 2020
. . .
https://www.rightjournalism.com/ice-ignores-california-laws-and-arrests-illegal-immigrants-at-the-courthouse-door-prompting-outcry-from-local-officials/

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Trump Wins Major Court Victory on Sanctuary Cities
Finally, a federal court comes to its senses on immigration.
By Joseph Klein

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FrontPageMag.com, February 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/02/trump-wins-major-court-victory-sanctuary-cities-joseph-klein/

Return to Top

****

****

14.

The 2nd Circuit Holds That Trump Can Withhold Federal Funds From Sanctuary Cities

By Andrea Widburg

American Thinker Blog, February 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2020/02/the_2nd_circuit_holds_that_trump_can_withhold_federal_funds_from_sanctuary_cities.html

Return to Top

****

****

15.

A Legal Blow to "Sanctuary" Jurisdictions

By John Hinderaker

PowerLine Blog, February 26, 2020

. . .

https://www.powerlineblog.com/archives/2020/02/a-legal-blow-to-sanctuary-jurisdictions.php

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

16.

Good News on Immigration

By John Hinderaker

PowerLine Blog, February 24, 2020

. . .

https://www.powerlineblog.com/archives/2020/02/good-news-on-immigration.php

Return to Top

****

****

17.

What the Nevada Vote Tells Us About Latino Democrats

By Paul Mirengoff

PowerLine Blog, February 24, 2020

. . .

https://www.powerlineblog.com/archives/2020/02/what-the-nevada-vote-tells-us-about-latino-democrats.php

Return to Top

****

****

18.

Coming To America: Then and Now

By Marina Medvin

Townhall.com, February 25, 2020

. . .

https://townhall.com/columnists/marinamedvin/2020/02/25/coming-to-america-then-and-now-n2561868

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

19.

It's Not Just New York Residents That Gov. Cuomo Is Putting at Risk

By Jennifer G. Hickey

ImmigrationReform.com, February 25, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/02/25/new-york-ice-green-light-law-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

20.

Real ID Is Finally Coming

By Jack Martin

ImmigrationReform.com, February 25, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/02/25/drivers-licenses-illegals-real-id-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

21.

The New Way Forward Act Declares War on American Sovereignty

By Ryan Foley

ImmigrationReform.com, February 24, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/02/24/open-borders-house-democrats-amnesty-immigrationreform-com/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

22.
New Social Security Rule Limits Access to Non-English Speakers – This Change Could See 1000s of Illegals Lose Benefits
By Alex D.
Right Journalism, February 26, 2020
. . .
https://www.rightjournalism.com/new-social-security-rule-limits-access-to-non-english-speakers-this-change-could-see-1000s-of-illegals-lose-benefits/

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Donors Swoop in as Dems Give Trump Free Pass on Immigration
By Washington Watcher II
VDare.com, February 23, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/donors-swoop-in-as-dems-give-trump-free-pass-on-immigration

Return to Top

****
****

24.
NOTHING About Immigration in Democratic Debate, Because They're All Agreed on Opening the Floodgates

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By James Fulford
VDare.com Blog, February 27, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/nothing-about-immigration-in-democratic-debate-because-they-re-all-agreed-on-opening-the-floodgates

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Trump Unleashes Shock Move to SPEED UP Border Wall Construction, Democrats Stunned
By Joe Callen
US24News.com, February 26, 2020
. . .
https://us24news.com/blog/2020/02/26/trump-unleashes-shock-move-to-speed-up-border-wall-construction-democrats-stunned/

Return to Top

****
****

26.
New Border Program Puts Asylum Seekers on Fast Track to Deportation
Trump administration policy dramatically limits time migrants have to prove they should be granted asylum; critics say it circumvents due process
By Michelle Hackman
The Wall Street Journal, February 28, 2020
. . .
https://www.wsj.com/articles/new-border-program-puts-asylum-seekers-on-fast-track-to-deportation-11582891201

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

27.

New Way Forward Act Is Totally Backward

By Lance Voorhees

American Thinker Blog, February 28, 2020

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2020/02/new_way_forward_act_is_totally_backward_.html

Return to Top

****

****

28.

The Exploding 110 Million More of Us Factor Within 30 Years

By Frosty Wooldridge

NewsWithViews.com, February 17, 2020

. . .

https://newswithviews.com/the-exploding-110-million-more-of-us-factor-within-30-years/

Return to Top

****

****

29.

E-Verify: Will It Stop Illegal Immigration or Just Waste Everyone's Time?

The program was a misfire.

By Alex Nowrasteh

The National Interest, February 26, 2020

. . .

https://nationalinterest.org/blog/buzz/e-verify-will-it-stop-illegal-immigration-or-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

just-waste-everyones-time-127402

Return to Top

****
****

30.
'Undocumented Immigrant' Versus 'Illegal Alien': Lawmakers Debate What to Call Migrants
By Emma Coleman
RouteFifty.com, February 19, 2020
. . .
https://www.routefifty.com/management/2020/02/undocumented-immigrant-illegal-alien/163211/

Return to Top

****
****

31.
Courthouse Immigration Arrests Diminish Justice for All
The Press-Democrat (CA), February 26, 2020
. . .
https://www.pressdemocrat.com/opinion/10751377-181/pd-editorial-courthouse-immigration-arrests

Return to Top

****
****

32.
Licensed Undocumented Immigrants Do Not Lead to Unsafe Roads
By Jane Virgilio

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

MassLive.com, February 26, 2020

. . .

https://www.masslive.com/news/2020/02/licensed-undocumented-immigrants-do-not-lead-to-unsafe-roads-guest-viewpoint.html

Return to Top

****

****

33.

The Buttigieg Immigration Plan: Virtue and Economy

By Martin W. Lester

TheHill.com, February 26, 2020

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/484446-the-buttigieg-immigration-plan-virtue-and-economy

Return to Top

****

****

34.

Surprise Trump Immigration Deal Would Boost US Economy

By Josh T. Smith

TheHill.com, February 23, 2020

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/484188-surprise-trump-immigration-deal-would-boost-us-economy

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

35.

At Democratic Debate, Missed Opportunities on Immigration

By Raul Reyes

TheHill.com, February 22, 2020

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/484166-at-democratic-debate-missed-opportunities-on-immigration

Return to Top

****

****

36.

As Trump Barricades the Border, Legal Immigration Is Starting to Plunge

President Trump's border wall is beginning to rise, but a thick curtain of policy changes is more responsible for suppressing the flow of immigrants into the country.

By Zolan Kanno-Youngs

The New York Times, February 24, 2020

. . .

https://www.nytimes.com/2020/02/24/us/politics/trump-border-legal-immigration.html

Return to Top

****

****

37.

Bernie Sanders's Evolution on Immigration, Explained

By Nicole Narea

Vox.com, February 25, 2020

. . .

https://www.vox.com/policy-and-politics/2020/2/25/21143931/bernie-sanders-immigration-record-explained

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

38.
How Stephen Miller Manipulates Donald Trump to Further His Immigration Obsession
Donald Trump's senior adviser has been the true driving force behind this Administration's racist agenda. How far will he go?
By Jonathan Blitzer
The New Yorker, February 21, 2020
. . .
https://www.newyorker.com/magazine/2020/03/02/how-stephen-miller-manipulates-donald-trump-to-further-his-immigration-obsession

Return to Top

****
****

39.
With Public Charge Rule Now in Effect, Trump Achieves One of the Largest Cuts to Legal Immigration
By Aaron Reichlin-Melnick
ImmigrationImpact.com, February 24, 2020
. . .
https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/02/24/trump-public-charge-rule-in-effect/

Return to Top

****
****

40.
Undocumented, Black, and Unseen

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Denea Joseph
ImmigrationImpact.com, February 27, 2020
. . .
https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/02/27/undocumented-black-immigrant-experience/#.XlI4z25FxcY

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Sunday, March 1, 2020 11:30 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: The Fiscal Impact of Refugee Resettlement

The Fiscal Impact of Refugee Resettlement

No Free Lunch for Taxpayers

Washington, D.C. (March 2, 2020) – A new report by the Center for Immigration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Studies shows the negative fiscal impact of refugee resettlement, estimating that the average refugee will cost around $60,000 in net present value over his or her lifetime, with adult refugees costing upwards of $133,000. Although refugees from earlier generations were often well-educated, today's refugees have fewer than nine years of schooling on average. Because of their low earning power and immediate access to welfare benefits, recent refugees cost the government substantially more than they contribute in taxes, even over the long term.

Dr. Steven Camarota, the Center's director of research and co-author of the report, said, "The low education attainment level of so many of today's refugees means they need a great deal of government assistance. Given these costs, policymakers have to decide if it makes more sense to settle a modest number here or help many more people overseas."

View the full report at: https://cis.org/Report/Fiscal-Impact-Refugee-Resettlement.

The key points:

- The National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine developed a model that estimates the lifetime fiscal impact of new immigrants, counting all taxes paid and services consumed at the federal, state, and local levels. Educational attainment is the most important predictor in the model. Generally speaking, highly educated immigrants will contribute more in taxes than they consume in services, while immigrants with low levels of education will contribute less than they consume.

- Based on data from the Annual Survey of Refugees, one-third of refugees between the ages of 25 and 64 completed no more than the sixth grade before their arrival in the U.S. About 53 percent have less than a high school diploma. Only 18 percent have education beyond high school.

- When we apply the education levels of refugees to the National Academies' fiscal model, we find that the average refugee will cost about

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

$36,000 in net present value over his or her lifetime. (Conceptually, "present value" means that all of the lifetime costs have been consolidated into a single upfront payment.)

- Because the National Academies model is based on all immigrants at each education level, some adjustments are required for refugees who, unlike most immigrants, impose administrative costs for resettlement and can access welfare payments immediately. After these adjustments, our cost estimate rises to $60,000 per refugee.

- Although the fiscal impact of refugees is negative overall, it differs significantly across age groups. Refugees who enter as adults (age 25 and over) have a large negative impact under every plausible model. Refugees who enter as children may have a positive impact, although this requires optimistic assumptions about mobility.

- Policymakers need to consider whether resettlement in the U.S. is the best way to help displaced people. Perhaps overseas assistance would be a more efficient use of limited public resources.

Refugees and Local Control
Lots of Useful Information in the Refugee Report to Congress
Refugee Resettlement is Costly
U.S. Was Number One Refugee Resettlement Country in the World in 2019

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, March 2, 2020 2:52 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 3/2/20

Commentary

Sanders and the Hispanic Vote: Good News and Bad News

By Mark Krikorian

National Review, February 24, 2024

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Trump's Chief of Staff to American Workers: Drop Dead
By Mark Krikorian
National Review, February 22, 2020

Featured Posts

U.S. Was the Number-One Refugee Resettlement Country in the World in 2019
And most likely will be in 2020, as well
By Nayla Rush
New data released by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) on its 2019 resettlement activities shows that the United States remains the top country for refugee resettlement. Furthermore, just like in previous years, the vast majority of refugees referred by UNHCR for resettlement in third countries in 2019 were not the most vulnerable or in urgent need of relocation. This contradicts the UN refugee agency's constant claims that resettlement is a "life-saving tool", a "critical lifeline" for refugees that needs strengthening. This also casts some doubt on UNHCR referral processes.

The Public Charge Rule is Hardly a 'Wealth Test'
By Jason Richwine
When the Trump administration tightened enforcement of the public charge rule, the media adopted a peculiar name for it — the "wealth test". That term has been used in

Maryland to Consider Raft of Sanctuary Bills This Week
By Andrew R. Arthur
The Maryland legislature will consider five separate sanctuary bills this week (HB677 and its Senate companion, SB 850; SB 649; SB 901; and SB 903). Apparently not wanting to be left out of some of the worst sanctuary legislation passed by certain of its sister states, these bills endanger the public and U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement officers and agents, as well as in one instance (at least) violate federal law.

Migrant Pressure-Cooker Buildup in Balkans Holds Key Lessons for U.S.-Mexico Border Control Policy
By Todd Bensman
A buildup of more than 50,000 migrants is pooling up in Bosnia behind a Central European dam of border fences and "push-back" policies. The U.S. and Mexican governments, which have recently built their own dams to halt mass illegal population transfers from Central America, should carefully watch how this pressure cooker situation ends for lessons that can and must be learned.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

headlines by the New York Times, Washington Post, PBS, Bloomberg News, and CNN. The linked Times article is particularly odd in that its headline mentions the "wealth test" with no qualification or scare quotes, but then the subhead refers to "the so-called public charge rule".

More Blog Posts

- Are Warrants Really Required for Border Patrol Agents to Board a Greyhound Bus?
- Should the Federal Government Expel Chinese Journalists as a Matter of Reciprocity?
- Joe Biden: Moratorium on Deportations in First 100 Days
- N.Y. Governor Decides He Won't Give One Federal Agency Information Owned by Another Federal Agency
- Ninth Circuit Judge to Congress: 'Don't leave the table and expect us to clean up.'
- The Feds Break Up a Nasty, Church-Based Immigration Fraud Ring

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

AMERICAN
OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, March 2, 2020 4:54 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 3/2/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Events, 3/2/20

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 3/2-4, DC - Certificate program course on international migration studies
2. 3/3, DC - House hearing on FY 2021 DHS budget request - [New Listing]
3. 3/4, DC - Senate hearing on resources and authorities needed to protect and secure the homeland
4. 3/4, New York, NY - Discussion on public preferences for limits and conditions on asylum policies
5. 3/5, DC - MPI webinar on green cards and public charge - [New Listing]
6. 3/11-12, San Antonio - Annual border security expo - [Updated with Agenda]
7. 3/12, Toronto - Workshop on collaborative efforts to support Central American migrants
8. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary
9. 3/13, Los Angeles - Book discussion: Refuge Beyond Reach
10. 3/16, DC - Discussion on engaging the diaspora to meet Africa's development financing needs - [New Listing]
11. 3/18, Book discussion: Humanity in Crisis: Ethical and Religious Response to Refugees
12. 3/24, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on evaluations of victimization in US asylum determinations - [New Listing]
13. 3/24, New York, NY - Book discussion: The Shifting Border
14. 3/25-28, Honolulu - Immigration at the International Studies Association annual convention - [New Listing]
15. 3/26, DC - Discussion on assessing temporary-to-permanent immigration systems in Europe and North America - [New Listing]
16. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention
17. 3/31, Fairfax, VA - Celebration of the contributions of immigrant entrepreneurs - [New Listing]
18. 3/31, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on the contexts of reception that make asylum seekers feel welcome in Germany
19. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration
20. 4/22, Los Angeles - Lecture on Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain
21. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of fake news
22. 4/24, Pittsburgh - Lecture on a comprehensive approach to the issue of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

immigration
23. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law
24. 5/6-8, DC - Certificate program course on immigration policy
25. 5/21-23, New Orleans - Conference on aiding immigrant and refugee communities in the Southeast U.S. post-Hurricane Katrina

1.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-703 - Newcomers to Citizens: Immigrant Integration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Wednesday, March 2-4, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=14536

Course Description: With a record 200 million people living outside their country of birth, immigration is a global phenomenon with profound demographic, economic, social, and political implications for both sending and receiving countries. The debate over immigration law and policy has become increasingly volatile and, in some instances, characterized by misinformation, hate, and xenophobia. Beyond the politics of immigration, genuine challenges to immigrant integration abound. Successful integration of immigrants is critical to the long-term prosperity of host countries that rely on immigrants as workers, consumers, taxpayers, innovators, and entrepreneurs in light of their aging native-born populations and lower birth rates. In this course we will explore integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving countries--such as the United States and Canada and new countries of permanent immigration such as France, Germany, the United Kingdom. We will raise questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity. We will also discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism, paradigms that challenge an integrationist reading of migration. Using case studies from North America and Europe we will pay special attention to the different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation on their road from newcomers to citizens.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Discuss the integration law, policies, judicial cases and practices in both traditional immigrant-receiving and source countries.
* Recognize questions about traditional understandings of nationality, loyalty, place and identity.
* Discuss citizenship laws, models of multicultural citizenship, as well as transnationalism and post-nationalism.
* Compare different modes of immigrant civic engagement and political participation.

Instructor: Jennifer Wistrand

Notes: This course is an open enrollment course. No application is required and registration is available by clicking "Add to Cart." Current students must register with their Georgetown NetID and password. New students will be prompted to create an account prior to registration.

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Review of the Fiscal Year 2021 Budget Request for the Department of Homeland Security

10:00 a.m., Tuesday, March 3, 2020
House Committee on Homeland Security
310 Cannon House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515
https://homeland.house.gov/a-review-of-the-fiscal-year-2021-budget-request-for-the-department-of-homeland-security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Witnesses:
Chad Wolf, Acting Secretary, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Resources and Authorities Needed to Protect and Secure the Homeland

2:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 4, 2020
Senate Committee on Homeland Security
SD-342 Senate Dirksen Building
Washington, DC, 20510
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/resources-and-authorities-needed-to-protect-and-secure-the-homeland

Witnesses:
Chad F. Wolf, Acting Secretary
U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Return to Top

****
****

4.
A Need for Control? Political Trust and Public Preferences for Asylum

Presented by Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School

6:00-7:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 4, 2020
Theresa Lang Community and Student Center
I 202, Arnold Hall
The New School

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

66 West 12th Street
New York, NY 10011
https://event.newschool.edu/zolbergseriesruhs

Speaker:
Dr. Martin Ruhs, Chair in Migration Studies and Deputy Director of the Migration Policy Centre
The European University Institute

Description: Europeans want to protect refugees, but they prefer a policy approach that sets limits and conditions. This discussion will provide the first-ever analysis of the structure of public preferences for asylum and refugee policy in Europe, a highly politicized policy area that has attracted little scholarly attention to date.

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Green Cards and Public Charge: Who Could Be Denied Based on Benefits Use?

MPI Webinar
1:00 p.m. EST, Thursday, March 5, 2020
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/events/green-cards-and-public-charge-denied-based-benefits-use

Speakers:
Randy Capps, Director of Research, U.S. Immigration Policy Program, MPI

Julia Gelatt, Senior Policy Analyst, Migration Policy Institute (MPI)

Mark Greenberg, Senior Fellow, MPI

Description: Even before the Trump administration's public-charge rule took effect on February 24, there was evidence of sizeable disenrollment from public benefit programs by legal immigrants afraid that use by themselves or their U.S.-born children could doom a future application for legal permanent residence.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

These “chilling effects” result from confusion about which benefit programs and populations are considered under the new public-charge determination, or fear that the government could change the rules in the future. Yet the number of noncitizens who could be deemed ineligible for a green card based on existing use of a public benefit is very small, as a forthcoming Migration Policy Institute (MPI) analysis will show.

Join us for this webinar, as MPI experts release their estimates of the populations that could be deemed ineligible for a green card based on existing benefits use. During the webinar, the experts also will discuss the far larger consequences of the public-charge rule, through its chilling effects and imposition of a test aimed at assessing whether green-card applicants are likely to ever use a public benefit in the future. This wealth test holds the potential to reshape legal immigration to the United States in far more significant ways than any other measure taken by the administration to date. There will be extensive time for Q&A.

Return to Top

****

****

6.

Border Security Expo

Wednesday-Thursday, March 11-12, 2020
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center
900 E Market Street
San Antonio, TX 78205
https://www.bordersecurityexpo.com/

Conference agenda:

Wednesday, March 11, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8:30–9:15 a.m.

Opening Keynote:

Robert Perez, Deputy Commissioner, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

9:15–10:15 a.m.

Plenary Panel: State of the Border: An Expansion of Historical Efforts – A Transitional Approach – Transformational Change?

10:15–11:15 a.m.

Plenary Panel: Insider Threats and the New DCSA

1:30–2:30 p.m.

Plenary Panel: Congressional Influence on Border Security

2:30–3:00 p.m.

Plenary Keynote:

Manuel Padilla, Jr., Director, Joint Task Force–West

3:00–4:00 p.m.

Plenary Panel: Domain Awareness and the Evolving Role of Border Patrol and Air & Marine Operations in Opening up the Sky

Thursday, March 12, 2020

8:30–9:30 a.m.

Plenary Keynote Panel

9:30–10:45 a.m.

Plenary Panel: Procurement Panel

10:45–11:30 a.m.

Plenary Panel: Biometrics

Keynotes:

Ronald D. Vitiello, Deputy Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

Vice Admiral Scott Buschman, Director, Joint Task Force-East

Scott A. Luck, Deputy Chief, U.S. Border Patrol

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

John P. Sanders, Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Panels:

National Vetting Center: What is It? What isn't It? And How Will It Change the Way We Protect the Homeland?

This session will focus on the National Vetting Center (NVC) and how it will complement the National Targeting Center (NTC). Experts from the NVC, NTC, as well as other members of the Intelligence Community, will discuss why the NVC is critical to the Homeland and next steps. The NVC will be operational at the time of the Expo, enabling the audience and panels to discuss the implementation.

Mass Migration and Unaccompanied Children: Financial and National Security Impacts

This panel will be comprised of experts from ICE Homeland Security Investigations assigned to the U.S., Mexico, and Central America. The panel will discuss the financial impact on the U.S., Mexico, and Central American countries in addressing the issues related mass migration and unaccompanied children attempting to enter the U.S. The panel will discuss human trafficking, organized human smuggling organizations, and national security issues relating to mass migration and unaccompanied children. The panel will provide publicly releasable information relating to "The Caravan" that reached the U.S./Border in November 2018.

Border: Wall – Ports – System(s) – Technology – Infrastructure – Integration – Modernization

Panel will discuss the immediate, near term, and out-year capability requirements, goals, and vision for border operations including infrastructure updates; technology needs, requirements, and planning; initiatives; modernization; and deployments.

Model Port: How Technology, Public-Private Partnerships, and Innovation Will Continue to Change the Way Ports-of-Entry Operate

This panel will be comprised of experts from the federal/local governments and industry. It will highlight what will take place at the POE in Donna, Texas and why it is important to the country's national and economic security. Technology will play a key role in defining the Model Port. A representative from the City of Donna will explain why this investment is important to the local community. CBP

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Headquarters staff will address the Donation Assistance Program and why it is necessary to make the Model Port a reality.

A Dialogue with Tenoch Moreno, General Customs Administration, Mexico: Current Operations and Future Thoughts

Procurement: Keeping Industry Current in the Complex Area of Government Procurement and the Mission Needs of Border Operators

This is a must-attend session for those who plan to compete for government contracts. Rules and regulations change frequently, and new requirements are placed on industry. Industry must have a clear understanding of the mission needs of the border operators. Government and industry experts will discuss best practices and explain how to best leverage the many opportunities that support the daily mission of CBP and other agencies. Government panelists will include Senior Executives from CBP procurement and the new office of Operations Support.

Complete conference agenda will be available at end of December.

Return to Top

****
****

7.

Researchers & Activists Working Together to Support Central American Migrants

10:00 a.m.-1:30 p.m., Thursday, March 12, 2020
York University, 519 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto, Ontario, Canada
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/workshop-central-american-refugees-ii

Description: With the Trump administration's hard line policies at the US-Mexico border, challenges faced by migrants fleeing violence and poverty in northern Central America have been making global headlines.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

On 11 March the Centre for Research on Latin America and the Caribbean (CERLAC) and the Centre for Refugee Studies (CRS) will host a public lecture highlighting the transit experiences of Central Americans as they attempt to cross multiple borders and the response of grass-roots organizations in Mexico and the US. It features three speakers working in Mexico, Guatemala, and the Mexico-US border area: activist and organizer Adalberto Ramos, and researchers Gio B'atz' (Giovanni Batz) and Elizabeth Oglesby. Commentary on implications for grassroots organizing/movement building and for Canadian policy makers will be provided by Francisco Rico-Martínez.

To follow up on that event CRS and CERLAC are hosting a workshop to explore how university-based researchers and activists working in the field can collaborate to support Central American migrants and to work towards policy change.

Agenda:

10:00-10:10 a.m.
Welcome, acknowledgement of territory & introductions
Alan Durston

10:10-10:30 a.m.
Introducing the Canadian policy framework and Central American migrants
Sean Rehaag

10:30-11:30 a.m.
Breakout session 1: How can researchers support Central American migrants and grass roots organizations?
Co-facilitators: William Payne, Luin Goldring & Adalberto Ramos)

11:45 a.m.-12:45 p.m.
Breakout session 2: How can researchers help push for policy change?
Giovanni Batz

12:45-1:00 p.m.
Concluding thoughts: Problematizing the boundaries between action and research

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Alison Crosby

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Author Meets Critics Event: Refuge Beyond Reach

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14188

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: In Refuge beyond Reach, David Scott FitzGerald traces how rich democracies have deliberately and systematically shut down most legal paths to safety. Drawing on official government documents, information obtained via WikiLeaks, and interviews with asylum seekers, he finds that for ninety-nine percent of refugees, the only way to find safety in one of the prosperous democracies of the Global North is to reach its territory and then ask for asylum. FitzGerald shows how the US, Canada, Europe, and Australia comply with the letter of law while violating the spirit of those laws through a range of deterrence methods -- first designed to keep out Jews fleeing the Nazis -- that have now evolved into a pervasive global system of "remote control." While some of the most draconian remote control practices continue in secret, Fitzgerald identifies

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

some pressure points and finds that a diffuse humanitarian obligation to help those in need is more difficult for governments to evade than the law alone.

Return to Top

****
****

10.

Beyond Remittances: Engaging the Diaspora to Meet Africa's Development Financing Needs

11:00 a.m.–12:30 p.m., Monday, March 16, 2020
6th Floor Flom Auditorium
Woodrow Wilson Center
1300 Pennsylvania Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20004-3027
https://www.wilsoncenter.org/event/beyond-remittances-engaging-diaspora-meet-africas-development-financing-needs

Description: According to the African Development Bank (AfDB), African countries must invest US $600-700 billion annually to meet the development needs of their growing populations. To achieve this investment goal, African governments are increasingly looking to the diaspora, amongst other measures. The African diaspora already contributes enormously to the continent's economy through remittances: in 2018, Sub-Saharan Africa received an estimated $47 billion in remittances (World Bank)—compared to an estimated $32 billion in foreign direct investment (United Nations Conference on Trade and Development). Looking beyond remittances, the diaspora community also possesses other resources including knowledge, expertise, and networks that could greatly benefit the financial, trade, and technology sectors—and be leveraged for peace—if properly engaged.

Speakers will examine the current role and future opportunities for the diaspora in Africa's economic development and peacebuilding efforts. Using several country case studies, they will assess the growing diaspora, transitions in thinking about the diaspora and its role, lessons learned from countries that have developed diaspora engagement strategies, and the potential and opportunities for fostering economic development and sustainable peace through more robust diaspora engagement. They will also offer concrete policy recommendations for African governments, stakeholders, and international partners to better engage with and leverage the diaspora to help meet Africa's development and peacebuilding needs.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speakers:
TBA

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Book Event: Humanity in Crisis: Ethical and Religious Response to Refugees

12:00 p.m., Wednesday, March 18, 2020
Arrupe Hall, Multipurpose Room
Georgetown University
3700 O Street NW
Washington, DC 20057
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/humanizing-migration-and-border-security-tickets-92994323525

Description: ISIM will co-sponsor a book event with author David Hollenbach, the Pedro Arrupe Distinguished Research Professor and ISIM Faculty Affiliate. Professor Hollenbach's new book is titled Humanity in Crisis: Ethical and Religious Response to Refugees, and it is published by Georgetown University Press. Panelists will include Anne Richard, former assistant secretary of state for population, refugees and migration; Alex Aleinikoff, former United Nations Deputy High Commissioner for Refugees; Clemens Sedmak, professor of social ethics at the University of Notre Dame, as well as Profesor David Hollenbach. More information soon.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

12.

Legal Standards and Moral Worth in Frontline Decision-Making: Evaluations of Victimization in US Asylum Determinations

12:00pm to 1:30pm, Tuesday, March 24, 2020
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/talia-shiff-legal-standards-and-moral-worth-frontline-decision-making-evaluations

Speaker:
Talia Shiff, Postdoctoral Fellow at the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs and Lecturer in Sociology at Harvard University

Return to Top

****

****

13.

Book Discussion: 'The Shifting Border'

Presented by Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School.

6:00-7:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 24, 2020
Theresa Lang Community and Student Center
Starr Foundation Hall, U L102, University Center
The New School
66 West 12th Street
New York, NY 10011
https://event.newschool.edu/bookdiscussiontheshiftingborde

Speaker:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ayelet Shacher, Professor of Law, Political Science, and Global Affairs
Toronto University

Description: We tend to think of a border as a static line, but recent bordering techniques have broken away from the map, as governments have developed legal tools to limit the rights of migrants before and after they enter a country's territory. The consequent detachment of state power from any fixed geographical marker has created a new paradigm: the shifting border, an adjustable legal construct untethered in space. This transformation upsets our assumptions about waning sovereignty, while also revealing the limits of the populist push toward border-fortification. It also presents a tremendous opportunity to rethink states' responsibilities to migrants. This book proposes a new, functional approach to human mobility and access to membership in a world where borders, like people, have the capacity to move.

Return to Top

****
****

14.
International Studies Association Annual Convention

Wednesday-Saturday, March 25-28, 2020
Hilton Hawaiian Village Waikiki Beach Resort
2005 Kalia Road
Honolulu, HI 96815
https://www.isanet.org/Conferences/Honolulu-2020
http://web.isanet.org/Web/Conferences/Honolulu2020-s/Honolulu%202020%20-%20Full%20Program.pdf

Conference program to be added soon

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

15.

Works in Progress: Assessing Temporary-to-Permanent Immigration Systems in Europe and North America

10:00-11:30 a.m., Thursday, March 26, 2020
Bipartisan Policy Center
1225 Eye Street NW, Suite 1000
Washington, DC, 20005
https://bipartisanpolicy.org/event/works-in-progress-assessing-temporary-to-permanent-immigration-systems-in-europe-and-north-america/

Speakers:
Cristobal Ramon
Senior Policy Analyst and Report Author, Bipartisan Policy Center

Julia Gelatt
Senior Policy Analyst, Migration Policy Institute

Daniel Costa
Director of Immigration Law and Policy Research, Economic Policy Institute

Moderator:
Theresa Cardinal Brown, Director of Immigration and Cross Border Policy, BPC

Description: Since the 1990s, a significant part of the reform debate on immigration has focused on whether the United States should change its legal immigration system to accept more high-skilled immigrants. President Trump and his congressional allies have argued that the United States should take cues from Canada and Australia and implement merit based systems that focus on admitting almost exclusively high-skilled migrants using a points-based assessment. However, the ways that workers on temporary visas can, or cannot, transition to permanent status rarely get discussed. When thinking about U.S. immigration reform, looking at other countries' approaches to establishing temporary-to-permanent pathways may give us insight into a path forward.

Join the Bipartisan Policy Center as it releases its latest comparative report looking at five employment-based immigration systems in Europe and North America, and what we can glean from these approaches, followed by an expert panel discussion. Coffee and light snacks will be served.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

16.
The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE
Washington, DC 20002
http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

Immigration-related sessions:

8:05 a.m.
The Migration Cost-Remittance-Consumption Pathway: Implications of High Migration Costs for Human Capital Investment in Nepal and Pakistan
Esther Bartl, The World Bank Group; Laura Caron Georgetown University; and Sundas Liaqat, The World Bank Group

Abstract: South Asian economies are major sources of international migrant labor and have experienced positive development impacts from the process. However, these countries have some of the highest migration costs in the world, and there is limited understanding of how these costs affect household welfare and behavior. This paper focuses on Nepal and Pakistan, to address this gap. In these countries, households that receive remittances spend 11% percent more on education and health than non-remittance receiving households. However, the high costs of migration tend to dampen both the propensity to remit and the amount remitted: a 1% increase in recruitment cost may decrease remittances by 0.05-0.15%. Specific interventions, such as the elimination of visa costs for Pakistani migrants could increase remittances by 2.9-5%. Policies that reduce migration costs may have large and important impacts on household investment behavior, and therefore the economic growth and development of Nepal and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Pakistan.

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Celebrating the Contributions of Immigrant Entrepreneurs

4:00-5:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 31, 2019
Johnson Center, Meeting Room C
George Mason University
4400 University Drive
Fairfax, VA 22030
https://iir.gmu.edu/events/10711

Speakers:
TBA

Return to Top

****
****

18.
The contexts of reception that make asylum seekers feel welcome in Germany

12:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 31, 2020
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/rahsaan-maxwell-contexts-reception-make-asylum-seekers-feel-welcome-germany-0

Speaker:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Rahsaan Maxwell, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in 2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and for national and international politics

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

20.
Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain

3:00-5:00 p.m., Wednesday, April 22, 2020
Lydeen Library, Rolfe Hall West 4302
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14255

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speakers:
Susan Plann, Research Professor Emerita at UCLA in the departments of Chicana and Chicano Studies and Spanish and Portuguese and the author of Coming of Age in Madrid: An Oral History of Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors .

Abdellah Laroussi, social worker with Fundación La Merced Migraciones (Madrid), director of various residences for unaccompanied migrant youth, and prominent immigrant rights activist and spokesperson.

Description: According to Human Rights Watch, unaccompanied child migration is today the new normal; according to the Spanish press, it has now reached crisis proportions, and the great majority of unaccompanied foreign migrant minors in Spain are Moroccans. The topic of "Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain" is of importance for both European and African im/migration, and it also has significant implications for child migration to the U.S.

During the first half of the presentation Prof. Plann will provide an overview of unaccompanied Moroccan child migration to Spain, including the motives for their migration, how it is accomplished, their reception on Spanish shores, their status under Spanish law, and what happens when these children come of age. She will also point out notable differences between their situation in Spain and that of migrant minors in the U.S. Spain's policy toward unaccompanied child migrants, which includes a path to citizenship, may seem an attractive alternative to the American model, but Prof. Plann argues that it also has its downsides.

The second half of the presentation will feature Mr. Laroussi, himself a former Moroccan child migrant who now resides in Madrid. Social worker with the foundation Merced Migraciones and prominent immigrants' rights activist and spokesperson, Mr. Laroussi will tell his personal story and analyze the current situation of unaccompanied migrant youth in Spain, with whom he works on a daily basis.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

21.

Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

Speaker:
Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the University of London

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through 'golden doors'. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

Return to Top

****

****

22.

The Issue of Immigration in America: Moving Beyond Walls and Open

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Borders

4:30–6:00 p.m., Friday, April 24, 2020
Heinz College – Hamburg Hall A301
Carnegie Mellon University
5000 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890
https://www.heinz.cmu.edu/events/the-issue-of-immigration-in-america

Description: In the United States, the issue of immigration gives rise to controversy and conflict. This issue requires us to wrestle with challenging questions about many things, including:

Who should be admitted to the US as an immigrant (family members, skilled workers, etc.)?

How many people should the US admit as immigrants (should we increase, decrease or keep current levels)?

What rules should guide the immigration process (and how should these rules be enforced)?

How should we address the problems (social, political, and economic) that cause people to migrate from their home countries?

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56,
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Conference Program:

Monday, April 27, 2020

I. THE LEGAL MIGRATION FRAMEWORK IN THE EU – RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

9:45 a.m.
Recent legislative developments and key priorities for 2020-2021 in the EU legal migration system

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Laura Corrado

10:45 a.m.

Update on the Community Code on Visas: Regulation (EU) 2019/1155 amending Regulation (EC) 810/2009

Dimitri Giotakos

12:15 p.m.

The post-Brexit UK immigration system and its impact on EU citizens

* Should business be worried by the drop in EU migration?
* Current assessment of adopted measures • What additional challenges are to be expected by companies?
* Solutions for cross-border workers after Brexit Annabel Mace

II. ASPECTS OF EU AND NATIONAL LEGAL MIGRATION LAW IN A BROADER LEGISLATIVE CONTEXT

2:15 p.m.

Investor citizenship and residence schemes in the European Union: the cases of Malta, Bulgaria and Cyprus

* Investor residence schemes and EU law on legal migration
* The link between investor residence schemes and naturalisation procedures
* Areas of concern
* Risks posed by investor citizenship and residence schemes

Jelena Dzankic

3:15 p.m.

Mobility rights for third-country nationals under the EU's migration directives: posted workers and EU intra-corporate transferees – how to differentiate and ensure compliance

* Main changes introduced by the revised posted workers directive
* Facilitating intra-EU mobility by the ICT permit
* Case law of the CJEU Matthias Lommers

4:30 p.m.

The new German skilled immigration rules

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Marius Tollenaere

Tuesday, April 28, 2020

III. CASE LAW OF THE CJEU AND ITS IMPACT ON EU LEGAL MIGRATION LAW

9:30 a.m.

The right to family reunification and long-term resident status in recent CJEU jurisprudence

* G.S. and V.G. Joined cases C-381/18 and C-382/18
* Cases C-519/18 and C-706/18
* Case C-93/18: Right of residence of a third-country national who is a direct relative in the ascending line of Union citizen minors
* Case C-302/18: Conditions for the acquisition of long-term resident status

Doyin Lawunmi

IV. EXTERNAL DIMENSION OF LEGAL MIGRATION

11:00 a.m.

Developing and implementing alternative pathways for legal migration

* Socio-economic challenges
* Pilot projects for legal migration with selected third countries
* Legal migration pathways to Europe for low- and middle-skilled migrants

Silvio Grieco

V. FUTURE CHALLENGES AND OUTLOOK

12:00 p.m.

Reflections on EU legal migration law

* Assessment of the current situation
* Main challenges
* Ideas and suggestions for the future Kees Groenendijk

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

24.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-716 - Immigration Policy

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, May 6-8, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=29908153

Course Description: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

The course also examines policies related to forced migration, including refugee resettlement, asylum and temporary protected status. These issues will be discussed in a comparative framework, analyzing how other countries address issues affecting the United States. The course will examine the role of federal, state and local authorities in implementing policy reforms. It also examines the role of public opinion and various interest groups in affecting policy formulation.

Students will be required to write a 10-page paper, due after the course completion, on a specific reform issue.

Section Notes: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Building Just and Inclusive Communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama: 15 Years After Katrina

A Whole of Community Approach to Immigrants and Refugees

Thursday-Saturday, May 21-23, 2020
Loyola University New Orleans College of Law
526 Pine Street
New Orleans, LA 70118
https://cmsny.org/event/2020-whole-of-community-conference/

Description: The Center for Migration Studies' (CMS) Whole of Community Conference will be held this year at Loyola University New Orleans College of Law from May 21-23, 2020. At the conference, participants will explore the challenges facing diverse immigrant and refugee communities in local communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and elsewhere. The conference will feature best practices in supporting and defending these communities.

The Whole of Community Conference is a platform for community-focused collaborations among public officials, legal service providers, community organizers, community-based organizations, faith-based organizations, scholars, researchers, immigrants, refugees, and others in response to local and national immigration policies. The sponsors of this year's event will be CMS, Loyola University New Orleans College of Law and the Jesuit Social Research Institute / Loyola University New Orleans.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The conference schedule includes: optional site visits on May 21; and plenary panels and workshops on May 22 and 23. The conference fee of $50 includes lunch and refreshments throughout the event.

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, March 5, 2020 4:29 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 3/5/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Reading, 3/5/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. DHS OIG report on ICE's criminal alien program
2. GAO report on U.S. assistance to Central America
3. Census Bureau report on population projections under alternative migration scenarios
4. Senate testimony on necessities for protecting the homeland
5. House testimony on DHS FY2021 budget request
6. House testimony on the effect of border barriers on private and tribal landowners
7. House testimony on the current state of the U.S. refugee program
8. U.S. Supreme Court decision in Kansas v. Garcia
9. U.S. Supreme Court decision in Hernandez et al. v. Mesa
10. Norway: Immigrant employment and population statistics
11. Sweden: Population statistics
12. Finland: Population statistics
13. U.K.: Immigration statistics for the year ended 12/19
14. Germany: Statistics on recognized foreign professional qualifications of health care professionals
15. E.U.: Report on overcrowding in migrant households
16. E.U.: Frontex report: 2019 in Brief

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

17. SCOTUSblog opinion analysis and argument preview
18. Rasmussen Reports weekly immigration index
19. TRAC reports on public charge cases and ICE detainer requests
20. Three new reports from the Pew Research Center
21. Two new working papers from the National Bureau of Economic Research
22. Five new reports and features from the Migration Policy Institute
23. Eight new papers from the Social Science Research Network
24. Eighteen new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
25. "The Impact of Administration Policies on Immigration Levels and Labor Force Growth"
26. "A State-by-State Look at Children of Immigrants"
27. "Economic Impact of Immigration by State"
28. "Change Is Hard: Managing Fear and Anxiety About Demographic Change and Immigration in Polarized Times"
29. "Do Immigrants Assimilate More Slowly Today Than in the Past?"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

30. "Michigan Compact on Immigration"
31. "Complex pattern of ancient immigration from Africa, Asia and Europe"

BOOKS

32. Crimmigrant Nations: Resurgent Nationalism and the Closing of Borders
33. Hidden Out in the Open: Spanish Migration to the United States (1875-1930)
34. Contemporary European Emigration: Situating Integration in New Destinations
35. The Readmission of Asylum Seekers under International Law
36. Judicial Review of Immigration Detention in the UK, US and EU From: Principles to Practice

JOURNALS

37. Comparative Migration Studies
38. CSEM Newsletter
39. Forced Migration Review
40. Georgetown Immigration Law Journal
41. International Migration Review
42. Journal on Migration and Human Security
43. Population, Space and Place

1.

U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement's Criminal Alien Program Faces Challenges

DHS OIG-20-13, February 18, 2020

. . .

https://www.oig.dhs.gov/sites/default/files/assets/2020-02/OIG-20-13-Feb20.pdf

Return to Top

****

****

2.

New from the General Accountability Office

U.S. Assistance to Central America: Status of Funding

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

GAO-20-163R, March 4, 2020
Report: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/705117.pdf
Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/products/GAO-20-163R

Return to Top

****
****

3.
A Changing Nation: Population Projections under Alternative Migration Scenarios
By Sandra Johnson
U.S. Census Bureau Report Number P25-1146, February 2020
. . .
https://www.census.gov/library/publications/2020/demo/p25-1146.html

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Wednesday, March 4, 2020
Senate Committee on Homeland Security
https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/resources-and-authorities-needed-to-protect-and-secure-the-homeland

Resources and Authorities Needed to Protect and Secure the Homeland

Witness testimony:
Chad F. Wolf, Acting Secretary, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Video of hearing: https://www.hsgac.senate.gov/templates/watch.cfm?id=B53B903E-5056-A066-60E0-E5EB55132109

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

5.
Tuesday, March 3, 2020
House Committee on Homeland Security
https://homeland.house.gov/a-review-of-the-fiscal-year-2021-budget-request-for-the-department-of-homeland-security

Review of the Fiscal Year 2021 Budget Request for the Department of Homeland Security

Member statements:
Committee Chairman Bennie Thompson
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/030320%20BGT%20Statement.pdf

Witness testimony:
Chad F. Wolf, Acting Secretary, U.S. Department of Homeland Security
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony%20-%20Wolf.pdf

Return to Top

****

****

6.
Thursday, February 27, 2020
House Committee on Homeland Security
Subcommittee on Border Security, Facilitation, & Operations
https://homeland.house.gov/activities/hearings/examining-the-effect-of-the-border-wall-on-private-and-tribal-landowners

Examining the Effect of the Border Wall on Private and Tribal Landowners

Member statements:
Committee Chairman Bennie Thompson

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/022720%20BSFO%20BGT%20Statement.pdf

Subcommittee Chairwoman Kathleen Rice
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/022720%20Rice%20BSFO%20Statement.pdf

Witness tesyimony:
Ned Norris Jr., Chairman of the Tohono O'odham Nation
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony%20-%20Norris1.pdf

Reynaldo Anzaldua, Private Landowner from Hidaldo, Texas
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony%20-%20Anzaldua1.pdf

Nayda Alvarez, Private Landowner from Roma, Texas
https://homeland.house.gov/download/alvarez-testimony

Jim Chilton, Private Landowner from Arivaca, Arizona (minority witness)
https://homeland.house.gov/imo/media/doc/Testimony%20-%20Chilton1.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Thursday, February 27, 2020
House Committee on the Judiciary
Subcommittee on Immigration and Citizenship
https://judiciary.house.gov/calendar/eventsingle.aspx?EventID=2820

The Current State of the U.S. Refugee Program

Witness tesyimony:
Biar Atem
Nevada Delegate and Board of Directors Member, Refugee Congress
. . .
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20200227/110569/HHRG-116-JU01-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Wstate-AtemB-20200227.pdf

Mario Eduardo Dorsonville-Rodrguez
Auxiliary Bishop of Washington and, Chair of the Committee on Migration, U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops
. . .
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20200227/110569/HHRG-116-JU01-Wstate-Dorsonville-RodrguezT-20200227.pdf

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security, The Heritage Foundation
. . .
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20200227/110569/HHRG-116-JU01-Wstate-RiesL-20200227.pdf

Barbara Strack
Former Chief of the Refugee Affairs Division, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services and, Curren
. . .
https://docs.house.gov/meetings/JU/JU01/20200227/110569/HHRG-116-JU01-Wstate-StrackB-20200227.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Kansas v. Garcia
Certiorari to the Supreme Court of Kansas
Supreme Court of the United States, No. 17–834
Argued October 16, 2019, Decided March 3, 2020
. . .
https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/17-834_k53l.pdf

Holding: The Kansas statutes under which respondents were convicted are not preempted expressly or by implication under the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Judgment: Reversed and remanded, 5-4, in an opinion by Justice Alito on March 3, 2020. Justice Thomas filed a concurring opinion, in which Justice Gorsuch joined. Justice Breyer filed an opinion concurring in part and dissenting in part, in which Justices Ginsburg, Sotomayor and Kagan joined.

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Hernandez et al. v. Mesa

Supreme Court of the United States, No. 17–1678

Argued November 12, 2019, Decided February 25, 2020

. . .

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/17-1678_m6io.pdf

Holding: (1) A Bivens remedy is not available when there are "special factors counselling hesitation in the absence of affirmative action by Congress," and the court recently clarified in Ziglar v. Abbasi what constitutes a special factor counselling hesitation; the court of appeals should consider how the reasoning and analysis in Ziglar bear on the question whether the parents of a victim shot by a U.S. Border Patrol agent may recover damages for his death; (2) It would be imprudent for the Supreme Court to decide Jesus Hernandez's Fourth Amendment claim when, in light of the intervening guidance provided in Abbasi, doing so may be unnecessary to resolve this particular case; and (3) with respect to Hernandez's Fifth Amendment claim, because it is undisputed that the victim's nationality and the extent of his ties to the United States were unknown to the agent at the time of the shooting, the en banc court of appeals erred in granting qualified immunity based on those facts.

Judgment: Vacated and remanded in a per curiam opinion on June 26, 2017. Justice Thomas filed a dissenting opinion. Justice Breyer filed a dissenting opinion, in which Justice Ginsburg joined. Justice Gorsuch took no part in the consideration or decision of this case.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

10.

Employment among immigrants, register-based

Statistics Norway, March 2, 2020

. . .

https://www.ssb.no/en/arbeid-og-lonn/statistikker/innvregsys/aar

Summary:

67.1% of the immigrants aged 20-66 years are employed Q4 2019

+++

Population growth at 39,400 in 2019

As 2020 began, Norway's population stood at 5,367,580. Population growth for 2019 came in at 39,400.

February 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.ssb.no/en/befolkning/artikler-og-publikasjoner/population-growth-at-39-400-in-2019

Summary:

Stable immigration count, fewer births

After the number of immigrations spiked at 79,500 in 2011, it fell quickly in the following years. In 2018, the number was 52,500, whereas the number for 2019 was 52,200. Such a meagre reduction in the number of immigrations has rarely occurred after 2011, when the recent norm has been annual declines in the thousands.

Net immigration for 2019 came in at 25,300, which is a big rise from 2018's figure of 18,100. Do note, though, that much of this increase is due to special circumstances with regards to the registering of emigrations in 2019. These resulted in the registering of about 5,000 fewer emigrations than would have been the case under normal circumstances and relate to non-Nordic EEA citizens.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Sweden's population grew by a million in the last ten years
Statistics Sweden, February 20, 2020
. . .
https://www.scb.se/en/finding-statistics/statistics-by-subject-area/population/population-composition/population-statistics/pong/statistical-news/swedens-population-2019--population-changes/

Summary: As of the end of 2019, the second decade of the millennium came to an end. On New Year's Eve, the population was 10 327 589, which is 986 907 more than on New Year's Eve ten years earlier.

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Finland's preliminary population figure 5,528,442 at the end of January
Statistics Finland, February 25, 2020
. . .
https://www.stat.fi/til/vamuu/2020/01/vamuu_2020_01_2020-02-25_tie_001_en.html

Summary: According to Statistics Finland's preliminary data, Finland's population was 5,528,442 at the end of January. Our country's population increased by 869 persons during January. The reason for the increase was migration gain from abroad, since immigration exceeded emigration by 1,127. The number of births was 671 lower than that of deaths.
. . .
According to the preliminary statistics for January, 2,231 persons immigrated to

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Finland from abroad and 1,104 persons emigrated from Finland. The number of immigrants was 569 lower and the number of emigrants 268 lower than in the corresponding period of the previous year. In all, 636 of the immigrants and 739 of the emigrants were Finnish citizens.

Return to Top

****
****

13.

Immigration statistics, year ending December 2019

Quarterly and annual statistics relating to those: coming to the UK, extending their stay, gaining citizenship, applying for asylum, and being detained or removed, as well as immigration for work, study and family reasons.
U.K. Home Office, February 27, 2020
. . .
https://www.gov.uk/government/statistics/immigration-statistics-year-ending-december-2019

Summary of latest statistics:
https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/immigration-statistics-year-ending-december-2019/summary-of-latest-statistics

Return to Top

****
****

14.

Health and nursing care: number of recognised foreign professional qualifications nearly doubled from 2016 to 2018

Qualifications from Syria recognised most often for physicians
Federal Statistical Office of Germany, March 2, 2020
. . .
https://www.destatis.de/EN/Press/2020/03/PE20_N009_212.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Summary: The German health and nursing care system is facing a skilled labour shortage. To reduce this shortage, employers are searching also for skilled labour from abroad. In 2018 alone, the professional qualifications of 10,350 nurses from abroad were recognised in Germany. With regard to the new Skilled Immigration Act, the Federal Statistical Office (Destatis) also reports that the number of qualified nursing staff was thus nearly twice as high as two years earlier (2016: 5,600).

In all of Germany, 36,400 foreign professional qualifications were recognised in 2018. The qualifications recognised were most often those of nurses (28.4%).

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Migrant integration: overcrowding rate
Eurostat, February 28, 2020
. . .
https://ec.europa.eu/eurostat/web/products-eurostat-news/-/DDN-20200228-1

Summary: In the European Union (EU), 35% of non-EU citizens were living in overcrowded households in 2018, meaning they did not have the number of rooms appropriate to the size of the household. By contrast, this rate was 17% for nationals and 20% for foreign EU citizens (i.e. EU citizens residing in another EU country).

Among EU Member States, the overcrowding rate recorded for non-EU citizens was the highest in Bulgaria (60%), Croatia (59%), Poland (56 %), Greece (55%) and Italy (54%). The lowest rates were observed in Malta (8%) and Cyprus (5%).

For foreign EU citizens, the overcrowding rate was highest in Greece and Italy (both 45%). In Malta there was not a significant number of foreign EU citizens living in overcrowded households in 2018.

The highest overcrowding rates for nationals were recorded in Romania (47%), Bulgaria (44%), Latvia (42%) and Croatia (41%), while the lowest were in

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cyprus (2%) and Ireland (1%).

Return to Top

****
****

16.
2019 in brief
Frontex, January 17, 2020
. . .
https://frontex.europa.eu/assets/Publications/General/frontex_inbrief_website_002.pdf

Summary: 2019 was an important year for Frontex, the European Border and Coast Guard Agency. It was significant because for the first time we launched a large operation outside the European Union, in Albania. It was a leap towards becoming an essential player in keeping Europe's citizens safe by securing our borders, even beyond the EU. It was also a transitional year as we began to prepare the ground for the creation of the European Border and Coast Guard standing corps that will also consist of the first European uniformed service.

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Opinion analysis: Justices block cross-border shooting lawsuit
By Amy Howe
SCOTUSblog, February 25, 2020
. . .
https://www.scotusblog.com/2020/02/opinion-analysis-justices-block-cross-border-shooting-lawsuit/

Argument preview: What process is due in streamlined administrative procedures?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Kari Hong
SCOTUSblog, February 24, 2020
. . .
https://www.scotusblog.com/2020/02/argument-preview-what-process-is-due-in-streamlined-administrative-procedures/

Argument preview: Do federal courts have jurisdiction to review a challenge to an administrative denial of relief under the Convention Against Torture?
By Jennifer Chacon Guest
SCOTUSblog, February 24, 2020
. . .
https://www.scotusblog.com/2020/02/argument-preview-do-federal-courts-have-jurisdiction-to-review-a-challenge-to-an-administrative-denial-of-relief-under-the-convention-against-torture/

Justices grant government's stay request on "public charge" rule for Illinois
By Amy Howe
SCOTUSblog, February 21, 2020
. . .
https://www.scotusblog.com/2020/02/justices-grant-governments-stay-request-on-public-charge-rule-for-illinois/

Argument preview: What does it mean to "induce" or "encourage" unlawful presence?
By Gabriel Chin
SCOTUSblog, February 19, 2020
. . .
https://www.scotusblog.com/2020/02/argument-preview-what-does-it-mean-to-induce-or-encourage-unlawful-presence/

Return to Top

****
****

18.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Rasmussen Reports Weekly Immigration Index
March 3, 2020
. . .
https://www.rasmussenreports.com/public_content/politics/immigration_index/immigration_index_mar03

Excerpt: Little changed from week to week is the sizable 68% who feel the government should mandate that employers use the federal electronic E-Verify system to help ensure they hire only legal workers for U.S. jobs. Twenty-one percent (21%) disagree, while 11% are undecided.

Also generally unchanged from past surveys is the 57% of voters who favor giving lifetime work permits to most of the approximately two million illegal residents who came to this country when they were minors, with 34% who Strongly Favor. Thirty-six percent (36%) are opposed, including 18% who are Strongly Opposed.

But just 44% favor giving lifetime work permits to most of the estimated 12 million illegal residents of all ages who currently reside in the United States, with 22% who Strongly Favor it. Forty-nine percent (49%) remain opposed, including 30% who are Strongly Opposed.

Legal immigration has averaged around a million annually in recent years, but 45% of voters believe the government should be adding no more than 750,000 new immigrants each year, with 32% who say it should be fewer than 500,000. Thirty-eight percent (38%) favor adding one million or more legal newcomers per year, including 11% who say the figure should be higher than 1.5 million. Sixteen percent (16%) are not sure.

Return to Top

****
****

19.
New from the Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse, Syracuse University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Public Charge Law is Rarely Used to Deport Immigrants—Is That About to Change?
February 28, 2020
. . .
https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/596/

Excerpt:
Less Than Half of All Public Charge Cases are Sustained in Immigration Court

Out of 4.7 million Immigration Court cases completed from October 1995 to January 2020, only 13,096 cited public charge statutes on the Notice to Appear (NTA) filed by DHS as a basis for the government seeking removal of the individual. Thus the usage of allegedly becoming a public charge as grounds for removal is also exceedingly rare in court proceedings. Court case-by-case records indicate that public charge grounds were cited in only 28 out of every 10,000 cases (0.28%), and were sustained in only 13 out of every 10,000 cases (0.13%). See Tables 2 and 3 at the end of this report.

When DHS does bring "public charge" charges against immigrants in court, it is usually cited along with other violations of the immigration rules. Only 10 percent of the time is it the sole charge. So reliance upon concerns that the immigrant is likely to become, or has become, a public charge as the sole reason for seeking removal are even rarer.

Finally, the records show that when the "public charge" rules are cited as the basis for seeking removal it is sustained less than half of the time (46%). When a "public charge" violation is the sole basis for seeking removal, it is sustained more often—71 percent of the time.

ICE Sends Detainers to 3,671 Law Enforcement Agencies in FY 2019
February 24, 2020
. . .
https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/595/

Excerpt:
A total of 3,671 law enforcement agencies (LEAs) were sent detainers by Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) officials during fiscal year 2019. This figure is based on the latest detainer-by-detainer internal ICE records obtained and analyzed by the Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse at Syracuse University. ICE issues detainers asking local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies to hold individuals up to 48 hours[1] in order to give ICE time to take them into custody and initiate deportation steps. ICE views detainers as a foundation of its Secure Communities program. According to its records, ICE sent detainers to LEAs in 2,158 counties in all 50 states.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Despite the large number of LEAs that received ICE detainer requests last year, the receipt of a request to turn someone the agency had taken into custody over to ICE was a relatively unusual event for most. A third (34%) of these law enforcement agencies received no more than three such requests during all of last year. About one in six (16%) received just a single detainer request.

Return to Top

****

****

20.

New from the Pew Research Center

Most of the 23 million immigrants eligible to vote in 2020 election live in just five states

By Luis Noe-Bustamante and Abby Budiman

Fact Tank, March 3, 2020

. . .

https://www.pewresearch.org/fact-tank/2020/03/03/most-of-the-23-million-immigrants-eligible-to-vote-in-2020-election-live-in-just-five-states/

How border apprehensions, ICE arrests and deportations have changed under Trump

By John Gramlich

Fact Tank, March 2, 2020

. . .

https://www.pewresearch.org/fact-tank/2020/03/02/how-border-apprehensions-ice-arrests-and-deportations-have-changed-under-trump/

Naturalized Citizens Make Up Record One-in-Ten U.S. Eligible Voters in

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2020

Since 2000, size of immigrant electorate nearly doubled to 23.2 million

By Abby Budiman, Luis Noe-Bustamante, and Mark Hugo Lopez

February 26, 2020

. . .

https://www.pewresearch.org/hispanic/2020/02/26/naturalized-citizens-make-up-record-one-in-ten-u-s-eligible-voters-in-2020/

Return to Top

****

****

21.

New from the National Bureau of Economic Research

Human Capital as Engine of Growth - The Role of Knowledge Transfers in Promoting Balanced Growth Within and Across Countries

By Isaac Ehrlich and Yun Pei

NBER Working Paper No. 26810, February 2020

. . .

https://www.nber.org/papers/w26810

How do U.S. Visa Policies Affect Unauthorized Immigration?

By Brian K. Kovak and Rebecca Lessem

NBER Working Paper No. 26790, February 2020

. . .

https://www.nber.org/papers/w26790

Return to Top

****

****

22.

New from the Migration Policy Institute

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Chasing Efficiency: Can Operational Changes Fix European Asylum Systems?
By Hanne Beirens
March 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/operational-changes-european-asylum-systems

Immigrant Women and Girls in the United States
By Jeanne Batalova
Migration Information Source Spotlight, March 4, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/immigrant-women-and-girls-united-states

Interlocking Set of Trump Administration Policies at the U.S.-Mexico Border Bars Virtually All from Asylum
By Muzaffar Chishti and Jessica Bolter
Migration Information Source Policy Beat, February 27, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/interlocking-set-policies-us-mexico-border-bars-virtually-all-asylum

Seasonal Worker Programs in Europe: Promising Practices and Ongoing Challenges
By Kate Hooper and Camille Le Coz
MPI Policy Brief, February 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/seasonal-worker-programs-europe

Japan's Labor Migration Reforms: Breaking with the Past?
By Deborah J. Milly
Migration Information Source Feature, February 20, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/japan-labor-migration-reforms-breaking-past

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

23.

New from the Social Science Research Network

1. The No-Existence Theory and Pre-Immigration Check-the-Box Planning

By Seth J. Entin, Holland & Knight, LLP

Tax Notes Federal, Volume 166, Number 3 (2020)

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3529423

https://www.hklaw.com/-/media/files/insights/publications/2020/01/thenoexistencetheoryandpreimmigrationcheckthebox planning.pdf?la=en

2. Constitution on ICE: A Report on Immigration Home Raid Operationsk

By Bess Chiu, Independent; Lynly Egyes, Independent; Jaya Vasandani, Independent; and Peter L. Markowitz, Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law - Yeshiva University

Cardozo Immigration Justice Clinic (2009)

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3527673

https://larc.cardozo.yu.edu/cgi/viewcontent.cgi?article=1109&context=faculty-articles

3. Darkside Discretion in Immigration Casesk

By Shoba Sivaprasad Wadhia, The Pennsylvania State University (University Park) – Penn State Law

72 Admin. L. Rev. (2020 Forthcoming)

Penn State Law Research Paper No. 03-2020

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3544110

https://elibrary.law.psu.edu/cgi/viewcontent.cgi?article=1388&context=fac_works

4. Thoughts on Public Charge Stay Order and Nationwide Injunction

By Geoffrey A. Hoffman, University of Houston Law Center

Posted: February 27, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3528306
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/01/thoughts-on-public-charge-stay-order-and-nationwide-injunctions-by-geoffrey-a-hoffman.html

5. The Character Skills of Immigrant

By Moiz Bhai, University of Arkansas at Little Rock and Pavel Dramski, New American Economy
Posted: February 26, 2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3388352

6. Secure Communities by the Numbers: An Analysis of Demographics and Due Process

By Aarti Kohli, Independent; Peter L. Markowitz, Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law Yeshiva University; Lisa Chavez, University of California, Berkeley Warren Institute of Law and Policy, U.C. Berkeley (Oct. 2011)
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3527648
https://www.semanticscholar.org/paper/Secure-communitieS-by-the-numberS-%3A-An-AnAlysis-of-Kohli-Markowitz/07dda485ababf63e032953ef2be8fe53490be040

7. Immigration in Emerging Countries: A Macroeconomic Perspective

By Agustín Arias, Central Bank of Chile and Juan Guerra-Salas, Central Bank of Chile
Central Bank of Chile Working Paper No. 857, 2019
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3523393
https://econpapers.repec.org/paper/chbbcchwp/857.htm

8. Publicly Charged: A Critical Examination of Immigrant Public Benefit Restrictions

By Cori Alonso-Yoder, American University Washington College of Law
Denver Law Review, Vol. 97, No. 1, 2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3429368 https://static1.squarespace.com/static/5cb79f7efd6793296c0eb738/t/5e4474f50b0355603b8d4ec3/1581544694145/Vol+97_Issue+1_Alonso-Yoder_PRINT.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

24.

Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

1. IOM Urges Restraint, Calls for a Humane Response on EU-Turkey Border

March 5, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/iom-urges-restraint-calls-for-a-humane-response-on-eu-turkey-border.html

2. ICE Uses Facial Recognition

March 4, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/ice-uses-facial-recognition.html

3. New Study on Assimilation Rates of Immigrants

March 3, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/new-study-on-assimilation-rates-of-immigrants.html

4. Where the Presidential Candidates Stand on Immigration

March 2, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/where-the-democratic-presidential-candidates-stand-on-immigration.html

5. ICE Uses Cellphone Location Data

March 2, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/ice-uses-cellphone-location-data.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

6. Coronavirus News: Proclamation on the Suspension of Entry as Immigrants and Nonimmigrants of Certain Additional Persons Who Pose a Risk of Transmitting Coronavirus
March 2, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/coronavirus-news-proclamation-on-the-suspension-of-entry-as-immigrants-and-nonimmigrants-of-certain-.html

7. The Trump Administration Is Gagging America's Immigration Judges
February 29, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/the-trump-administration-is-gagging-americas-immigration-judges.html

8. Second Circuit Rules for Trump Administration in Sanctuary Cities Case
February 27, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/second-circuit-rules-for-trump-administration-in-sanctuary-cities-case.html

9. Justices Seem Inclined to Find Immigration Criminal Statute to Violate the First Amendment
February 26, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/mark-joseph-stern-for-slate-recaps-the-oral-arguments-in-the-supreme-court-yesterday-inunited-states-v-sineneng-smith-h.html

10. U.S. Supreme Court argument preview: What process is due in expedited removal?
February 25, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/us-supreme-court-argument-preview-what-process-is-due-in-expedited-removal-.html

11. Legal migration to decline by one-third due to Trump policies
February 25, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/legal-migration-to-decline-by-one-third-due-to-trump-policies.html

12. Supreme Court decides cross border shooting case
February 25, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/breaking-news-supreme-court-decides-cross-border-shooting-case.html

13. DHS Implements Inadmissibility on Public Charge Grounds Final Rule
February 25, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/dhs-implements-inadmissibility-on-public-charge-grounds-final-rule.html

14. Legal immigration will decline by 30 percent next year due to Trump policies, report projects
February 25, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/legal-immigration-will-decline-by-30-percent-next-year-due-to-trump-policies-report-projects.html

15. Supreme Court argument preview: Do federal courts have jurisdiction to review a challenge to an administrative denial of relief under the Convention Against Torture?
February 25, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/supreme-court-argument-preview-do-federal-courts-have-jurisdiction-to-review-a-challenge-to-an-admin.html

16. Federal Court Stops DHS From Arresting US Citizens' Foreign Spouses During Marriage Interviews
February 24, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/federaol-court-stops-dhs-from-arresting-us-citizens-foreign-spouses-during-marriage-interviews.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

17. Tit for Tat: USCIS forbids citizenship ceremonies in sanctuary cities
February 23, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/uscis-forbids-citizenship-ceremonies-in-sanctuary-cities.html

18. Massachusetts judges ask ICE to stop deporting defendants who are pending trial without advance notice
February 22, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/02/massachusetts-judges-ask-ice-to-stop-deporting-defendants-who-are-pending-trial-without-advance-noti.html

Return to Top

****
****

25.
The Impact of Administration Policies on Immigration Levels and Labor Force Growth
National Foundation for American Policy Brief, February 2020
. . .
https://nfap.com/wp-content/uploads/2020/02/Legal-Immigration.NFAP-Policy-Brief.February-2020.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

26.
A State-by-State Look at Children of Immigrants
Urban Institute, February 2020
. . .
https://www.urban.org/policy-centers/cross-center-initiatives/low-income-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

working-families/projects/state-by-state-look-children-immigrants?cm_ven=ExactTarget&cm_cat=LHP_Children+of+Immigrants_National+Immigration&cm_pla=All+Subscribers&cm_ite=state-level+fact+sheets&cm_lm=krjohnson@ucdavis.edu&cm_ainfo=&EA&email&COI&Immigration&

Return to Top

****
****

27.
Economic Impact of Immigration by State
By Adam McCann
WalletHub.com, January 28, 2020
. . .
https://wallethub.com/edu/economic-impact-of-immigration-by-state/32248/

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Change Is Hard: Managing Fear and Anxiety About Demographic Change and Immigration in Polarized Times
By Suzette Brooks Masters
Welcoming America, January 2020
. . .
https://www.welcomingamerica.org/sites/default/files/Changeishard_FINAL.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

29.

Do Immigrants Assimilate More Slowly Today Than in the Past?

By Ran Abramitzky, Leah Boustan, and Katherine Eriksson

American Economic Review, Vol. 2, No. 1, March 2020

. . .

https://www.aeaweb.org/articles?id=10.1257/aeri.20190079&from=f

Return to Top

****

****

30.

Michigan Compact on Immigration

February 2020

. . .

https://www.micompact.org/compact

Return to Top

****

****

31.

Complex pattern of ancient immigration from Africa, Asia and Europe

Researchers reconstruct migration movements through ancient DNA

Science Daily, February 26, 2020

. . .

https://www.sciencedaily.com/releases/2020/02/200226095426.htm

Return to Top

****

****

32.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Crimmigrant Nations: Resurgent Nationalism and the Closing of Borders
By Robert Koulish, Maartje van der Woude, Ana Aliverti, Leonidas Cheliotis, Lana De Pelecijn, Steven De Ridder, and 13 more

Fordham University Press, 416 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 0823287483, $125.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0823287483/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 0823287491, $34.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0823287491/centerforimmigra

Kindle, $33.99, ASIN: B07V6ZPVQT

Book Description: As the distinction between domestic and international is increasingly blurred along with the line between internal and external borders, migrants—particularly people of color—have become emblematic of the hybrid threat both to national security and sovereignty and to safety and order inside the state. From building walls and fences, overcrowding detention facilities, and beefing up border policing and border controls, a new narrative has arrived that has migrants assume the risk for government-sponsored degradation, misery, and death. Crimmigrant Nations examines the parallel rise of anti-immigrant sentiment and right-wing populism in both the United States and Europe to offer an unprecedented look at this issue on an international level.

Beginning with the fears and concerns of immigration that predate the election of Trump, the Brexit vote, and the signing and implementation of the Schengen Agreement, Crimmigrant Nations critically analyzes nationalist state policies in countries that have criminalized migrants and categorized them as threats to national security. Highlighting a pressing and perplexing problem facing the Western world in 2020 and beyond, this collection of essays illustrates not only how anti-immigrant sentiments and nationalist discourse are on the rise in various Western liberal democracies, but also how these sentiments are being translated into punitive and cruel policies and practices that contribute to a merger of crime control and migration control with devastating effects for those falling under its reach. Mapping out how these measures are taken, the rationale behind these policies, and who is subjected to exclusion as a result of these measures, Crimmigrant Nations looks beyond the level of the local or the national to the relational dynamics between different actors on different levels and among different institutions.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

33.
Hidden Out in the Open: Spanish Migration to the United States (1875-1930)
By Phylis Cancilla Martinelli and Ana Varela-Lago

University Press of Colorado, 312 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1607327988, $73.14
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1607327988/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 1646420438, $27.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1646420438/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 4145 KB, B07MJWXG53, $17.00

Book Description: Hidden Out in the Open is the first English-language volume on Spanish migration to the United States in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. This panoramic study covers a period defined by the crucial transformations of the Progressive Era in the United States, and by similarly momentous changes in Spain following the Restoration of the Bourbon monarchy under Alfonso XII.

The chapters in this volume are geographically wide-ranging, reflecting the transnational nature of the Spanish diaspora in the Americas, encompassing networks that connected Spain, Cuba, Latin American countries, the United States, and American-controlled territories in Hawai'i and Panama. The geographic diversity reveals the different jobs immigrants engaged in, from construction gangs in the Panama Canal to mining crews in Arizona and West Virginia. Contributors analyze the Spanish experience in the United States from a variety of perspectives, discussing rural and urban enclaves, the role of the state, and the political mobilization of migrants, using a range of methodological approaches that examine ethnicity, race, gender, and cultural practices through the lenses of sociology, history, and cultural studies.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The mention of the Spanish influence in the United States often conjures up images of conquistadores and padres of old. Forgotten in this account are the Spanish immigrants who reached American shores in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Hidden Out in the Open reveals the role of the modern migration of Spaniards in this "land of immigrants" and rectifies the erasure of Spain in the American narrative. The book will be of interest to scholars and students of US history and the history of modern Spain and Europe, as well as those interested ethnic and migration/diaspora studies, Hispanic/Latino studies, and the study of working class and radicalism.

Return to Top

****
****

34.

Contemporary European Emigration: Situating Integration in New Destinations

By Brigitte Suter and Lisa Åkesson

Routledge, 176 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 0367193752, $130.97
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0367193752/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1049 KB, ASIN: B084SMJZ69, $49.95

Book Description: At a time when European unity is politically challenged by the question of immigration and integration, it is easy to overlook the fact that there are significant numbers of Europeans leaving the continent. Academically, little is known about why Europeans leave the continent, how they chose their destination, and how they experience their migrant life. Drawing on the lived experiences of contemporary European emigrants from a range of different countries, this book sheds light on how global economic, political and social transformations spur new forms of migration and mobility experiences.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Contemporary European Emigration explores how Europeans experience economic, cultural or social integration, and the power relations which play out between them and their hosts. By delving through the lenses of national and racial identity, gender, age, and profession, this book provides enticing insights into how Europeans see themselves in the world.

By shifting our focus to migrants leaving Europe and observing the emerging challenges to European superiority as they play out in the microlevel of people's everyday lives, this book provides a nuanced understanding of contemporary migration. Researchers within Migration Studies and European Studies will find this book an important addition to the literature.

Return to Top

****

****

35.

The Readmission of Asylum Seekers under International Law

By Mariagiulia Giuffré

Hart Publishing, 408 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 150990249X, $95.64
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/150990249X/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1192 KB, ASIN: B083ZT7V9S, $90.45

Book Description: This monograph could not be more timely, as discourses relating to refugees' access to territory, rescue at sea, push-back, and push-back by proxy dominate political debate. Looking at the questions which lie at the junction of migration control and refugee law standards, it explores the extent to which readmission can hamper refugees' access to protection. Though it draws mainly on European law, notably the European Convention on Human Rights, it also examines other international frameworks, including those employed by the United Nations and instruments such as the Refugee Convention. Therefore, this book is of importance to readers of international law, refugee law, human rights and migration studies at the global level. It offers an analysis of both the legal and policy questions at play, and engages fully with widely-disputed cases concerning readmission agreements, deportation with assurances and interception at sea. By so doing, this book seeks to clarify a complex field which has at times suffered from partiality in both its terminology and substance.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

36.

Judicial Review of Immigration Detention in the UK, US and EU From: Principles to Practice

By Justine N Stefanelli

Hart Publishing, 248 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1509930450, $75.50
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1509930450/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 8404 KB, ASIN: B082FWMS2H, $90.00

Book Description: Immigration detention is considered by many states to be a necessary tool in the execution of immigration policy. Despite the apparently key role it plays in immigration enforcement, the law on immigration detention is often vague, especially in relation to determining the circumstances under which prolonged detention remains lawful. As a result, the courts are frequently called upon to adjudicate these matters, with scant legal tools at their disposal. Though there have been some significant judgments on the legality of detention at the constitutional level, the extent to which these judgments have had an impact at the lower end of the judiciary is unclear. Indeed, it is the lower courts which are tasked with judging the legality of detention through habeas corpus or judicial review proceedings.

This book examines the way this has occurred in the lower courts of two jurisdictions, the UK and the US, and contrasts this practice not only in those jurisdictions, but with judgments rendered by the Court of Justice of the European Union, a constitutional court at the other end of the judicial spectrum whose judgments are applied by courts and tribunals in the EU Member States. Although these three jurisdictions use similar tests to evaluate the legality of detention, case outcomes significantly differ. Many factors contribute to this divergence, but key among them is the role that fundamental rights protection plays in each jurisdiction. Through a forensic evaluation of 191 judgments, this book compares the laws on detention in the UK, US and EU, and makes recommendations to these jurisdictions for improvement.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

37.
Comparative Migration Studies
Vol. 8, No. 11, March 4, 2020
http://www.comparativemigrationstudies.com/

Latest Articles:

Data and research to inform global policy: the global compact for safe, orderly and regular migration
By Ellen Percy Kraly and Bela Hovy
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0166-y

Return to Top

****
****

38.
CSEM Newsletter
February 29, 2020
https://www.csem.org.br/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Latest articles:

Italy's Migrant Boot Camp
We go behind the scenes at a controversial Italian boot camp for migrants.
February 28, 2020
. . .
https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/italys-migrant-boot-camp/

How the Coronavirus outbreak could hit refugees and migrants
'The healthiest and wealthiest are the ones that tend to migrate. The ones left behind are poorer and sicker.'
. . .
https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/how-the-coronavirus-outbreak-could-hit-refugees-and-migrants/

"Migration is key to the development of the region", IOM director general emphasizes during first visit to the Sahel and Senegal
. . .
https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/migration-is-key-to-the-development-of-the-region-iom-director-general-emphasizes-during-first-visit-to-the-sahel-and-senegal/

Three Cardinals appeal for relocation of refugees in Europe
February 21, 2020
. . .
https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/three-cardinals-appeal-for-relocation-of-refugees-in-europe/

Millions of children and families in Niger struggle as humanitarian needs mount – UNICEF
. . .
https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/millions-of-children-and-families-in-niger-struggle-as-humanitarian-needs-mount-unicef/

Judge finds US in contempt for deporting migrant minors
. . .
https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/judge-finds-us-in-contempt-for-deporting-migrant-minors/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

39.
Forced Migration Review
February 2020
https://www.fmreview.org/

Cities and Towns

Selected articles:

Foreword: Time for cities to take centre stage on forced migration
By Marvin Rees
https://www.fmreview.org/cities/rees

Urban planning for refugee housing: responding to urgent needs
By Jessica Sadye Wolff
https://www.fmreview.org/cities/wolff

Active citizenship in Athens
By Kareem Alkabbani, Wael Habbal. and Tom Western https://www.fmreview.org/cities/alkabbani-habbal-western

Women refugees, leisure space and the city
By Sarah Linn
https://www.fmreview.org/cities/linn

The path of least resistance? EU cities and locally organised resettlement
By Tihomir Sabchev and Moritz Baumgärtel
https://www.fmreview.org/cities/sabchev-baumgartel

Cities as partners: the case of Kampala
By Samer Saliba and Innocent Silver https://www.fmreview.org/cities/saliba-silver

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Improving information and communication to boost inclusion and self-reliance for urban refugees
By Laura Buffoni and Gail Hopkins https://www.fmreview.org/cities/buffoni-hopkins

Pakistan's urban refugees: steps towards self-reliance
By Muhammad Abbas Khan
https://www.fmreview.org/cities/abbaskhan

Places of refuge and risk: lessons from San Pedro Sula
By Yolanda Zapata
https://www.fmreview.org/cities/zapata

Effective civil society engagement with governments on issues around detention
By Grant Mitchell
https://www.fmreview.org/cities/mitchell

The spirit of Cartagena? Applying the extended refugee definition to Venezuelans in Latin America
By Cécile Blouin, Isabel Berganza, and Luisa Feline Freier
https://www.fmreview.org/cities/blouin-berganza-freier

Return to Top

****
****

40.
Georgetown Immigration Law Journal
Vol, 33, No. 3, Fall 2019
https://www.law.georgetown.edu/immigration-law-journal/

Articles:

The Strange and Unexpected Afterlife of Pereira v. Sessions
By Patrick J. Glen and Alanna R. Kennedy
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.law.georgetown.edu/immigration-law-journal/volume-34-number-1-spring-2020/the-strange-and-unexpected-afterlife-of-pereira-v-sessions/

An Analysis of the Applications and Implications of Chevron Deference in Immigration
By Jennifer Safstrom
. . .
https://www.law.georgetown.edu/immigration-law-journal/an-analysis-of-the-applications-and-implications-of-chevron-deference-in-immigration/

Return to Top

****
****

41.
International Migration Review
March 2020
https://journals.sagepub.com/toc/mrxa/current

Latest Articles:

Immigration Policy, Immigrant Skills, and Generational Dynamics

Class Background, Reception Context, and Intergenerational Mobility: A Record Linkage and Surname Analysis of the Children of Irish Immigrants
By Dylan Shane Connor
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318806891

Migration Policy and Immigrants' Labor Market Performance
By Massimiliano Tani
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318815608

The Decline in Earnings of Childhood Immigrants in the United States
By Hugh Cassidy
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318824084

Immigrant Mobility, Aspirations, and Decision-Making

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Modeling American Migration Aspirations: How Capital, Race, and National Identity Shape Americans' Ideas about Living Abroad
By Helen B. Marrow and Amanda Klekowski von Koppenfels
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318806852

Are Movers More Egalitarian than Stayers? An Intergenerational Perspective on Intra-Household Financial Decision-Making
By Şebnem Eroğlu
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318809923

The Return of Citizenship? An Empirical Assessment of Legal Integration in Times of Radical Sociolegal Transformation
By Chris Moreh, Derek McGhee, and Athina Vlachantoni
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318809924

Understanding Transnational Connections: Networks, Diasporas, Relations

Social Networks and Transnational Social Fields: A Review of Quantitative and Mixed-Methods Approaches
By Miranda Jessica Lubbers, Ashton M. Verdery, and José Luis Molina
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318812343

Macroeconomic Fluctuations in Home Countries and Immigrants' Well-Being: New Evidence from Down Under
By Ha Trong Nguyen and Alan S. Duncan
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318813975

Origin-Country Culture, Migration Sequencing, and Female Employment: Variations among Immigrant Women in the United States
By Qian He and Theodore P. Gerber
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318821651

Immigration Enforcement, the State, and Social Outcomes

The Complex Sources of Immigration Control
By Darshan Vigneswaran
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318823191

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Academic Performance of Undocumented Students in Higher Education in the United States
Amy Hsin and Holly E. Reed
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918318825478

Return to Top

****
****

42.
Journal on Migration and Human Security
Online first, March 3 and February 26, 2020
https://journals.sagepub.com/toc/mhs/current

Latest articles:

The Use of Executive Orders and Proclamations to Create Immigration Policy: Trump in Historical Perspective
By Michele Waslin
. . .
https://doi.org/10.1177/2331502420906404

Not for Adults Only: Toward a Child's Lens in Migration Policies in Asia
By Maruja M. B. Asis, Alan Feranil
. . .
https://doi.org/10.1177/2331502420907375

Reverse Migration to Mexico Led to US Undocumented Population Decline: 2010 to 2018
By Robert Warren
. . .
https://doi.org/10.1177/2331502420906125

What's Wrong with Temporary Protected Status and How to Fix It: Exploring a Complementary Protection Regime
By Bill Frelick

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/2331502419901266

Return to Top

****
****

43.
Population, Space and Place
Vol. 26, No. 2, March 2020
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/toc/15448452/current

Selected articles:

"We are all brothers here": The making of a life by Chechen refugees in Poland
By Michal Sipos
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2276

Re-emigration of foreign-born residents from Sweden: 1990–2015
By Andrea Monti
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2285

The impact of parental labour migration on left-behind children's educational and psychosocial outcomes: Evidence from Romania
By Alina Botezat and Friedhelm Pfeiffer
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2277

"Knowledge migrants" or "economic migrants"? Patterns of academic mobility and migration from Southern Europe to Mexico
By Cristóbal Mendoza, Barbara Staniscia, and Anna Ortiz
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1002/psp.2282

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, March 6, 2020 7:26 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 3/6/20

Share Tweet Forward

Immigration Opinions, 3/6/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Return to Real Charity for Refugees," Mark Krikorian
2. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, David North, Jason Peña, John Miano, and Julie Axelrod
3. "Many Guatemalans Aren't Seeking Asylum in US Over Violence, Political Persecution. They Want Giant Homes.," Todd Bensman
4. "Comprehensive Immigration Reform Should be Renamed the 'Overwhelm America Act'," Michael Cutler
5. " 'Remain-in-Mexico' Policy Is Needed to Reduce Illegal Immigration," Hans A. von Spakovsky
6. "How a Points-Based System Could Mean Better Immigration Policy," Jonathan Thomas
7. "What Part of 'NO AMNESTY' Doesn't DC Understand?," Michelle Malkin
8. "Finish the Wall," Terry Jeffrey
9. "Trafficked Part I: A Victim Speaks Out," Jason Piccolo
10. "Immigration, Wall Street, War— Why Bernie Is Still Trump's Nightmare," Ann Coulter
11. "Trump Steals Dems' Thunder With Smart Immigration Policy, Leaving Them Nothing But Illegals," Monica Showalter
12. "Venezuelan Media Starlet Who Soft-Pedaled 9/11 Just Became a Naturalized U.S. Citizen," David Paulin
13. "SCOTUS: States Can Prosecute Illegal Aliens for Stealing American IDs," John Binder
14. "Illegal Alien Fined $280 for Killing Two Officers Still Driving Freely in U.S.," John Binder
15. "Why the Right Should Make Immigration a Race Issue - and How," Prajwal Kulkarni
16. "Chicago Police, Mayor Defend Policy That Freed Illegal Alien Felon to Sexually Assault Toddler," Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles
17. "What Could Go Wrong? Lindsey Graham Leading Group Called to WH — to Talk About Amnesty," Daniel Horowitz
18. "Progressive Liberalism as Death Cult: Open Borders, Open Markets, and Coronavirus," Hezekiah Kantor
19. "Mass Immigration Is Now About 'Racial Justice,' Not America's Best

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Interests," Eddie Scarry
20. "San Fran Officials Outraged ICE Ignores 'Sanctuary State' Law," Daniel Greenfield
21. "Video: Coronavirus Threat – 328 Chinese Got Caught as They Try to Enter U.S. Illegally at the Southern Border," Natalie D.
22. "Lelling Says Sanctuary City Policies Create 'Chaotic Environment'," Adriana Cohen
23. "Unraveling California's Quick But Complete Demise," Joe Guzzardi
24. "Tucker Carlson: H-1b Visa Program Continues to Displace American Workers," Brenda Walker
25. "The Supreme Court Is Listening to the Debate Politicians Refuse to Have," Jennifer G. Hickey
26. "As Coronavirus Spreads, Southern Lawmakers Urge More Border Control," Bob Dane
27. "Immigrant Shares of the Prison Population Across 20 OECD Countries," Alex Nowrasteh
28. "Supreme Court Immigration Decision May Unleash Prosecutors," Stuart Anderson
29. "The Open Borders Trap," Jason DeParle
30. "Immigration Is Helping Shield Canada From Global Slowdown," Kim Mackrael
31. "With or Without 'Sanctuary,' Uncle Sam Always Has the Upper Hand," Ruben Navarrette Jr.
32. "As Trump Slashes All Immigration, Other Countries Open Their Doors," Walter Ewing
33. "There's No Need to Panic Over Trump's New Denaturalization Office," Melissa Cruz
34. "Trump's 'Sanctuary Cities' Siege Is a Trick," Raul Reyes
35. "Trump's Immigration Policies Will Make the Coronavirus Pandemic Worse," Wendy E. Parmet

1.

Return to Real Charity for Refugees

By Mark Krikorian

The Corner at National Review Online, March 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/return-to-real-charity-for-refugees/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

2.

CIS Immigration Posts

By Dan Cadman

DOJ Inspector General Issues a Report on 'Homegrown Violent Extremists'

Who, exactly, is "homegrown'?

March 5, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/DOJ-Inspector-General-Issues-Report-Homegrown-Violent-Extremists

More Evidence Yet of China's Systemic Penetration of U.S. Academic and Research Institutions

March 4, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/More-Evidence-Yet-Chinas-Systemic-Penetration-US-Academic-and-Research-Institutions

By Andrew R. Arthur

Ninth Circuit Doubles Down and Dithers on MPP

But it accedes to the facts on the ground — for a week

March 6, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Ninth-Circuit-Doubles-Down-and-Dithers-MPP

Incoherent Local Policy Shows Why Immigration Enforcement Should Be Left to the Experts

Pa. county demands non-existent 'judicial warrant' to hand deportable aliens over to ICE

March 5, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Incoherent-Local-Policy-Shows-Why-Immigration-Enforcement-Should-Be-Left-Experts

SCOTUS Upholds Kansas Fraud Convictions
Immigration employment verification system does not preempt states
March 4, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/SCOTUS-Upholds-Kansas-Fraud-Convictions

D.C. District Judge Finds Cuccinelli Designated USCIS Director in Violation of Law
Only applies to plaintiffs in case before the D.C. District Court
March 3, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/DC-District-Judge-Finds-Cuccinelli-Designated-USCIS-Director-Violation-Law

Ninth Circuit Blocks 'Remain in Mexico' — Sort Of Misinterpreting the INA and ignoring contrary evidence, while the clock is ticking
March 2, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Ninth-Circuit-Blocks-Remain-Mexico-Sort

Second Circuit Soundly Repudiates Arguments Made by Sanctuary Cities
On to the Supreme Court
March 1, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Second-Circuit-Soundly-Repudiates-Arguments-Made-Sanctuary-Cities

By David North

DHS to Let in 35,000 H-2B Workers Above the Current Ceiling
March 5, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/DHS-Let-35000-H2B-Workers-Above-Current-Ceiling

EB-5 Scandals Finally Reach Hawaii

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

March 5, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/North/EB5-Scandals-Finally-Reach-Hawaii

Should Migration Decisions Be Made at the National Level or Elsewhere?

March 4, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/North/Should-Migration-Decisions-Be-Made-National-Level-or-Elsewhere

Some Immigrants Are More Likely to Create Chain Migration than Others

February 28, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/North/Some-Immigrants-Are-More-Likely-Create-Chain-Migration-Others

Two Marginal Universities in Virginia Remain in Trouble with Regulators

February 28, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/North/Two-Marginal-Universities-Virginia-Remain-Trouble-Regulators

By Jason Peña

Central American Migrants, Unable to Get Asylum in the U.S., Marry Mexicans

March 6, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Pena/Central-American-Migrants-Unable-Get-Asylum-US-Marry-Mexicans

By John Miano

Still Waiting for Trump to Stop H-1Bs from Replacing U.S. Workers

March 5, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Miano/Still-Waiting-Trump-Stop-H1Bs-Replacing-US-Workers

By Julie Axelrod

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Council on Environmental Quality Holds Public Hearing on the National Environmental Policy Act

Where are the environmental impact statements on immigration policy actions?

February 28, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Axelrod/Council-Environmental-Quality-Holds-Public-Hearing-National-Environmental-Policy-Act

Return to Top

****

****

3.

Many Guatemalans Aren't Seeking Asylum in US Over Violence, Political Persecution. They Want Giant Homes.

By Todd Bensman

Townhall.com, March 3, 2020

. . .

https://townhall.com/columnists/toddbensman/2020/03/03/lust-for-giant-houses-not-violence-or-political-persecution-gives-lie-to-critics-of-trumps-safe-third-country-guatemala-policy-n2562710

Return to Top

****

****

4.

Comprehensive Immigration Reform Should be Renamed the "Overwhelm America Act"

How Sanders and radical Dems weaponize compassion to destroy America.

By Michael Cutler

FrontPageMag.com, March 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/03/comprehensive-immigration-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

reform-should-be-renamed-michael-cutler/

Return to Top

****
****

5.
"Remain-in-Mexico" Policy Is Needed to Reduce Illegal Immigration
By Hans A. von Spakovsky
Heritage Foundation, March 3, 2020
. . .
https://www.heritage.org/immigration/commentary/remain-mexico-policy-needed-reduce-illegal-immigration

Return to Top

****
****

6.
How a Points-Based System Could Mean Better Immigration Policy
By Jonathan Thomas
Social Market Foundation, March 3, 2020
. . .
http://www.smf.co.uk/how-a-points-based-system-could-mean-better-immigration-policy/

Return to Top

****
****

7.
What Part of 'NO AMNESTY' Doesn't DC Understand?
By Michelle Malkin

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

VDare.com, March 4, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/michelle-malkin-what-part-of-no-amnesty-doesn-t-dc-understand

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Finish the Wall
By Terry Jeffrey
Townhall.com, March 4, 2020
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/terryjeffrey/2020/03/04/finish-the-wall-n2563031

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Trafficked Part I: A Victim Speaks Out
By Jason Piccolo
Townhall.com, March 2, 2020
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/jasonpiccolo/2020/03/02/trafficked-part-i-a-victim-speaks-out-n2562616

Return to Top

****
****

10.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration, Wall Street, War— Why Bernie Is Stll Trump's Nightmare
By Ann Coulter
VDare.com, March 4, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/ann-coulter-immigration-wall-street-war-why-bernie-is-stll-trump-s-nightmare

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Trump Steals Dems' Thunder With Smart Immigration Policy, Leaving Them Nothing But Illegals
By Monica Showalter
American Thinker Blog, March 6, 2020
. . .
https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2020/03/trump_steals_dems_thunder_with_smart_immigration_policy_leaving_them_nothing_but_illegals.html

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Venezuelan Media Starlet Who Soft-Pedaled 9/11 Just Became a Naturalized U.S. Citizen
By David Paulin
American Thinker, March 4, 2020
. . .
https://www.americanthinker.com/articles/2020/03/venezuelan_media_starlet_who_softpedaled_911_just_became_a_naturalized_us_citizen_.html

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

13.

SCOTUS: States Can Prosecute Illegal Aliens for Stealing American IDs

By John Binder

Breitbart.com, March 3, 2020

. . .

https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2020/03/03/scotus-states-can-prosecute-illegal-aliens-for-stealing-american-ids/

Return to Top

****

****

14.

Illegal Alien Fined $280 for Killing Two Officers Still Driving Freely in U.S.

By John Binder

Breitbart.com, February 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2020/02/27/illegal-alien-fined-280-for-killing-two-law-enforcement-officers-still-driving-freely-in-u-s/amp/?__twitter_impression=true

Return to Top

****

****

15.

Why the Right Should Make Immigration a Race Issue - and How

If housing policy and health care can be viewed as reparations, then so can e-Verify. The RAISE Act is a much better reparations bill than anything Democrats have offered.

By Prajwal Kulkarni

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Federalist, February 27, 2020

. . .

https://thefederalist.com/2020/02/27/why-the-right-should-make-immigration-a-race-issue-and-how/

Return to Top

****

****

16.

Chicago Police, Mayor Defend Policy That Freed Illegal Alien Felon to Sexually Assault Toddler

Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles, March 4, 2020

. . .

https://www.judicialwatch.org/corruption-chronicles/chicago-police-mayor-defend-policy-that-freed-illegal-alien-felon-to-sexually-assault-toddler/

Return to Top

****

****

17.

What Could Go Wrong? Lindsey Graham Leading Group Called to WH — to Talk About Amnesty

By Daniel Horowitz

Conservative Review, March 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.conservativereview.com/news/horowitz-go-wrong-lindsey-graham-put-charge-amnesty-deal/

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

18.

Progressive Liberalism as Death Cult: Open Borders, Open Markets, and Coronavirus

Our elites are more interested in proving to themselves and the world that they're not xenophobes, not racist, and not against open markets to enrich the Third World than they are in their duty to our country and our citizens.

By Hezekiah Kantor

American Greatness, March 5, 2020

. . .

https://amgreatness.com/2020/03/05/progressive-liberalism-as-death-cult-open-borders-open-markets-and-coronavirus/

Return to Top

****

****

19.

Mass Immigration Is Now About 'Racial Justice,' Not America's Best Interests

By Eddie Scarry

Washington Examiner, March 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/mass-immigration-is-now-about-racial-justice-not-americas-best-interests

Return to Top

****

****

20.

San Fran Officials Outraged ICE Ignores "Sanctuary State" Law

By Daniel Greenfield

FrontPageMag.com, March 6, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.frontpagemag.com/point/2020/03/san-fran-officials-outraged-ice-ignores-sanctuary-daniel-greenfield/

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Video: Coronavirus Threat – 328 Chinese Got Caught as They Try to Enter U.S. Illegally at the Southern Border
By Natalie D.
ConservativeUS.com, March 5, 2020
. . .
https://conservativeus.com/video-coronavirus-threat-328-chinese-got-caught-as-they-try-to-enter-u-s-illegally-at-the-southern-border/

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Lelling Says Sanctuary City Policies Create 'Chaotic Environment'
By Adriana Cohen
The Boston Herald, March 1, 2020
. . .
https://www.bostonherald.com/2020/03/01/cohen-lelling-says-sanctuary-city-policies-create-chaotic-environment/

Return to Top

****
****

23.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Unraveling California's Quick But Complete Demise
By Joe Guzzardi
Cagle.com, February 3, 2020
. . .
https://www.cagle.com/joe-guzzardi/2020/02/unraveling-californias-quick-but-complete-demise

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Tucker Carlson: H-1b Visa Program Continues to Displace American Workers
By Brenda Walker
VDare.com Blog, March 5, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/tucker-carlson-h-1b-visa-program-continues-to-displace-american-workers

Return to Top

****
****

25.
The Supreme Court Is Listening to the Debate Politicians Refuse to Have
By Jennifer G. Hickey
ImmigrationReform.com, March 6, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/03/06/supreme-court-immigration-cases-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

26.

As Coronavirus Spreads, Southern Lawmakers Urge More Border Control

By Bob Dane

ImmigrationReform.com, March 2, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/03/02/border-security-diseases-coronavirus-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

27.

Immigrant Shares of the Prison Population Across 20 OECD Countries

By Alex Nowrasteh

CATO at Liberty Blog, March 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.cato.org/blog/immigrant-shares-prison-population-across-20-oecd-countries

Return to Top

****

****

28.

Supreme Court Immigration Decision May Unleash Prosecutors

The Supreme Court handed state and local prosecutors new tools to go after unauthorized immigrants and employers.

By Stuart Anderson

Forbes.com, March 4, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/03/04/supreme-court-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

immigration-decision-may-unleash-prosecutors/#24b916d86a88

Return to Top

****
****

29.

The Open Borders Trap

Trump won't stop talking and tweeting about them. But when it comes to immigration, what do Democrats actually believe?

By Jason DeParle

The New York Times, March 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.nytimes.com/2020/03/05/sunday-review/democrats-immigration.html?action=click&module=Opinion&pgtype=Homepage

Return to Top

****
****

30.

Immigration Is Helping Shield Canada From Global Slowdown

Rising numbers of immigrants and a partial focus on more potentially productive ones has expanded the workforce and boosted the economy

By Kim Mackrael

The Wall Street Journal, March 1, 2020

. . .

https://www.wsj.com/articles/immigration-is-helping-shield-canada-from-global-slowdown-11583074801

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

31.

With or Without 'Sanctuary,' Uncle Sam Always Has the Upper Hand

By Ruben Navarrette Jr.

The Longview News-Journal (TX), March 1, 2020

. . .

https://www.news-journal.com/navarrette-with-or-without-sanctuary-uncle-sam-always-has-the/article_0e623316-5b27-11ea-afbd-1b30c2ac7a6f.html

Return to Top

****

****

32.

As Trump Slashes All Immigration, Other Countries Open Their Doors

By Walter Ewing

ImmigrationImpact.com, March 4, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/03/04/immigration-down-in-united-states/#.XmLGXm5FxcY

Return to Top

****

****

33.

There's No Need to Panic Over Trump's New Denaturalization Office

By Melissa Cruz

ImmigrationImpact.com, March 5, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/03/05/denaturalization-task-force-trump/#.XmLHu25FxcY

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

34.

Trump's 'Sanctuary Cities' Siege Is a Trick

By Raul Reyes

CNN.com, February 18, 2020

. . .

https://www.realclearpolitics.com/2020/02/18/trumps_sanctuary_cities_siege_is_a_trick_501766.html

Return to Top

****

****

35.

Trump's Immigration Policies Will Make the Coronavirus Pandemic Worse

By Wendy E. Parmet

StatNews.com, March 4, 2020

. . .

https://www.statnews.com/2020/03/04/immigration-policies-weaken-ability-to-fight-coronavirus/

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, March 9, 2020 8:26 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 3/9/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center at uscissoc@uscis.dhs.gov with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

What's Happening at the Center

Advocates of expanding the number of refugees admitted to the United States make the claim that refugee resettlement improves our nation's fiscal health. In our latest report, we explain that this claim is unsupportable. Today's refugees have fewer than nine years of schooling on average. Because of their low earning power and immediate access to welfare benefits, recent refugees cost the government substantially more than they contribute in taxes, even over the long term. Our best estimate of the average lifetime fiscal cost of those refugees entering as adults (ages 25 to 64) is $133,000. While the United States may want to pay to further our humanitarian goals, resettlement here is not the most cost-effective means of aiding displaced people.

Commentary

Return to Real Charity for Refugees
By Mark Krikorian
National Review, March 6, 2020

Featured Posts

Still Waiting for Trump to Stop H-1Bs from Replacing U.S. Workers
By John Miano
The H-1B visa program is designed to replace Americans with cheap, foreign workers. For decades, employers have replaced hundreds of Americans at a time using H-1B visas. Whether the result of corporate control (e.g., Amazon over the Washington Post or Disney over ABC) or political correctness, the nation's elite media largely ignore this issue and refuse to report on cases when Americans are replaced.

SCOTUS Upholds Kansas Fraud Convictions
By Andrew R. Arthur
In a 5-4 decision, the Supreme Court reversed decisions issued by the Supreme Court of Kansas in three

DHS to Let in 35,000 H-2B Workers Above the Current Ceiling
By David North
The government is going to let in 35,000 more H-2B workers than the usual ceiling of 33,000 for the second half of the fiscal year, the Department of Homeland Security announced on March 5. This is one of the smaller foreign worker programs and is for unskilled, non-agricultural workers; it will be more than double in size for this time period.

Council on Environmental Quality Holds Public Hearing on the National Environmental Policy Act
By Julie Axelrod
The National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), which became law in 1970, mandates that agencies

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

cases involving aliens who were prosecuted for fraudulently using other people's Social Security numbers on state and federal tax-withholding forms, finding that the employment-authorization verification provisions in section 274A of the Immigration and Nationality Act did not preempt the Kansas statutes under which the three were convicted. It is a triumph of common sense over obfuscation.

analyze the environmental impacts of all of their environmentally significant actions before carrying them out. But, though the federal government's immigration programs certainly are environmentally significant actions, in the 50 years since NEPA became law, any analysis of immigration's impacts has slipped through the cracks.

More Blog Posts

- Incoherent Local Policy Shows Why Immigration Enforcement Should Be Left to the Experts
- EB-5 Scandals Finally Reach Hawaii
- DOJ Inspector General Issues a Report on 'Homegrown Violent Extremists'
- Should Migration Decision Be Made at the National Level or Elsewhere?
- More Evidence Yet of China's Systematic Penetration of U.S. Academic and Research Institutions
- D.C. District Judge Finds Cuccinelli Designated USCIS Director in Violation of Law
- Ninth Circuit Blocks 'Remain in Mexico' - Sort Of
- Second Circuit Soundly Repudiates Arguments Made by Sanctuary Cities
- Some Immigrants Are More Likely to Create Chain Migration than Others
- Two Marginal Universities in Virginia Remain in Trouble with Regulators
- Authorities Confirm Criminals Traveling in U.S.-Bound Caravans
- DOJ Creates a New Civil Denaturalization Prosecutions Unit

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, March 10, 2020 10:06 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 3/10/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center at uscissoc@uscis.dhs.gov with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Events, 3/10/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 3/11-12, San Antonio - Annual border security expo
2. 3/12, Toronto - Workshop on collaborative efforts to support Central American migrants
3. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on migration stories from interwar Hungary
4. 3/13, Cambridge, MA - Seminar on future aspirations among refugee youth in Turkey between integration and mobility - [New Listing]
5. 3/13, Los Angeles - Book discussion: Refuge Beyond Reach
6. 3/16, DC - Discussion on engaging the diaspora to meet Africa's development financing needs
7. 3/17, DC - Discussion on remittances to Latin America and the Caribbean in 2019 - [New Listing]
8. 3/17, Canada/US - Webinar on local municipalities creating conditions for success for immigrants - [New Listing]
9. 3/18, DC - Book discussion: Humanity in Crisis: Ethical and Religious Response to Refugees
10. 3/24, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on evaluations of victimization in US asylum determinations
11. 3/24, New York, NY - Book discussion: The Shifting Border
12. 3/25-28, Honolulu - Immigration at the International Studies Association annual convention - [Updated with agenda]
13. 3/26, DC - Discussion on assessing temporary-to-permanent immigration systems in Europe and North America
14. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention
15. 3/31, Fairfax, VA - Celebration of the contributions of immigrant entrepreneurs
16. 3/31, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on the contexts of reception that make asylum seekers feel welcome in Germany
17. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration
18. 4/22, Los Angeles - Lecture on unaccompanied Moroccan migrant minors in Spain
19. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

fake news
20. 4/24, Pittsburgh - Lecture on a comprehensive approach to the issue of immigration
21. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law
22. 5/6-8, DC - Certificate program course on immigration policy
23. 5/21-23, New Orleans - Conference on aiding immigrant and refugee communities in the Southeast U.S. post-Hurricane Katrina
24. 7/27-31, DC - Certificate program course on global displacement and migration studies - [New Listing]

1.
Border Security Expo

Wednesday-Thursday, March 11-12, 2020
Henry B. Gonzalez Convention Center
900 E Market Street
San Antonio, TX 78205
https://www.bordersecurityexpo.com/

Conference agenda:

Wednesday, March 11, 2020

8:30–9:15 a.m.
Opening Keynote:
Robert Perez, Deputy Commissioner, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

9:15–10:15 a.m.
Plenary Panel: State of the Border: An Expansion of Historical Efforts – A Transitional Approach – Transformational Change?

10:15–11:15 a.m.
Plenary Panel: Insider Threats and the New DCSA

1:30–2:30 p.m.
Plenary Panel: Congressional Influence on Border Security

2:30–3:00 p.m.
Plenary Keynote:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Manuel Padilla, Jr., Director, Joint Task Force–West

3:00–4:00 p.m.
Plenary Panel: Domain Awareness and the Evolving Role of Border Patrol and Air & Marine Operations in Opening up the Sky

Thursday, March 12, 2020

8:30–9:30 a.m.
Plenary Keynote Panel

9:30–10:45 a.m.
Plenary Panel: Procurement Panel

10:45–11:30 a.m.
Plenary Panel: Biometrics

Keynotes:
Ronald D. Vitiello, Deputy Director, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement

Vice Admiral Scott Buschman, Director, Joint Task Force-East

Scott A. Luck, Deputy Chief, U.S. Border Patrol

John P. Sanders, Chief Operating Officer, U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Panels:
National Vetting Center: What is It? What isn't It? And How Will It Change the Way We Protect the Homeland?
This session will focus on the National Vetting Center (NVC) and how it will complement the National Targeting Center (NTC). Experts from the NVC, NTC, as well as other members of the Intelligence Community, will discuss why the NVC is critical to the Homeland and next steps. The NVC will be operational at the time of the Expo, enabling the audience and panels to discuss the implementation.

Mass Migration and Unaccompanied Children: Financial and National Security Impacts
This panel will be comprised of experts from ICE Homeland Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Investigations assigned to the U.S., Mexico, and Central America. The panel will discuss the financial impact on the U.S., Mexico, and Central American countries in addressing the issues related mass migration and unaccompanied children attempting to enter the U.S. The panel will discuss human trafficking, organized human smuggling organizations, and national security issues relating to mass migration and unaccompanied children. The panel will provide publicly releasable information relating to "The Caravan" that reached the U.S./Border in November 2018.

Border: Wall – Ports – System(s) – Technology – Infrastructure – Integration – Modernization

Panel will discuss the immediate, near term, and out-year capability requirements, goals, and vision for border operations including infrastructure updates; technology needs, requirements, and planning; initiatives; modernization; and deployments.

Model Port: How Technology, Public-Private Partnerships, and Innovation Will Continue to Change the Way Ports-of-Entry Operate

This panel will be comprised of experts from the federal/local governments and industry. It will highlight what will take place at the POE in Donna, Texas and why it is important to the country's national and economic security. Technology will play a key role in defining the Model Port. A representative from the City of Donna will explain why this investment is important to the local community. CBP Headquarters staff will address the Donation Assistance Program and why it is necessary to make the Model Port a reality.

A Dialogue with Tenoch Moreno, General Customs Administration, Mexico: Current Operations and Future Thoughts

Procurement: Keeping Industry Current in the Complex Area of Government Procurement and the Mission Needs of Border Operators

This is a must-attend session for those who plan to compete for government contracts. Rules and regulations change frequently, and new requirements are placed on industry. Industry must have a clear understanding of the mission needs of the border operators. Government and industry experts will discuss best practices and explain how to best leverage the many opportunities that support the daily mission of CBP and other agencies. Government panelists will include Senior Executives from CBP procurement and the new office of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Operations Support.

Return to Top

****
****

2.

Researchers & Activists Working Together to Support Central American Migrants

10:00 a.m.-1:30 p.m., Thursday, March 12, 2020
York University, 519 Kaneff Tower
4700 Keele Street
Toronto, Ontario, Canada
https://crs.info.yorku.ca/archives/event/workshop-central-american-refugees-ii

Description: With the Trump administration's hard line policies at the US-Mexico border, challenges faced by migrants fleeing violence and poverty in northern Central America have been making global headlines.

On 11 March the Centre for Research on Latin America and the Caribbean (CERLAC) and the Centre for Refugee Studies (CRS) will host a public lecture highlighting the transit experiences of Central Americans as they attempt to cross multiple borders and the response of grass-roots organizations in Mexico and the US. It features three speakers working in Mexico, Guatemala, and the Mexico-US border area: activist and organizer Adalberto Ramos, and researchers Gio B'atz' (Giovanni Batz) and Elizabeth Oglesby. Commentary on implications for grassroots organizing/movement building and for Canadian policy makers will be provided by Francisco Rico-Martínez.

To follow up on that event CRS and CERLAC are hosting a workshop to explore how university-based researchers and activists working in the field can collaborate to support Central American migrants and to work towards policy change.

Agenda:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

10:00-10:10 a.m.
Welcome, acknowledgement of territory & introductions
Alan Durston

10:10-10:30 a.m.
Introducing the Canadian policy framework and Central American migrants
Sean Rehaag

10:30-11:30 a.m.
Breakout session 1: How can researchers support Central American migrants and grass roots organizations?
Co-facilitators: William Payne, Luin Goldring & Adalberto Ramos)

11:45 a.m.-12:45 p.m.
Breakout session 2: How can researchers help push for policy change?
Giovanni Batz

12:45-1:00 p.m.
Concluding thoughts: Problematizing the boundaries between action and research
Alison Crosby

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Emigration from Paradise: Migration Stories from Interwar Hungary

Harvard Center for European Studies

11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Adolphus Busch Hall, Hoffmann Room
27 Kirkland Street at Cabot Way
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2020/03/new-research-on-europe-tbd-ilse-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

lazaroms

Speaker:
Ilse Josepha Lazaroms, Lecturer, Graduate Gender Program, Department of Media and Culture Studies, Utrecht University; Research Fellow in Jewish Studies, Martin Buber Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt; German Kennedy Memorial Fellow & Visiting Scholar 2019-2020, CES, Harvard University

Description: In this talk Ilse Josepha Lazaroms will discuss the many variations of emigration and emigration narratives that existed among Jewish communities in interwar Hungary and the Hungarian diasporas. This story is a part of a larger book project entitled Emigration from Paradise: Home, Fate and Nation in Post-World War I Jewish Hungary (forthcoming with Stanford University Press). The manuscript deals with the nature of national attachment and social exclusion in 1920s East Central Europe, and Hungary in particular, as well as the ways in which the personal, social and national traumas of these years reverberate until today. The story, which is set at the point when European civilization plunged into the depths of darkness, focuses on the life-stories of individual Hungarian Jews, thereby bringing the domain of the private into the world of politics, migrations and nation states.

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Future Aspirations among Refugee Youth in Turkey between Integration and Mobility

The Myron Weiner Seminar Series on International Migration

12:30-2:000 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
MIT Building 9, Room 255
105 Mass Ave.
Cambridge, MA 02142
https://cis.mit.edu/sites/default/files/documents/Migration_031320_FutureAspirations.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speaker:
Ayşen Üstübici, Assistant Professor at Koç University Department of Sociology and the Department of Political Science. She is also a member of the executive board and vice-director of the Migration Research Center at Koç University (MiReKoc)

Abstract: Along with several urgent issues related to their wellbeing and integration, one of the pressing questions about Syrian refugees in Turkey is whether they use Turkey as a "stepping stone" to reach other countries or whether they will ever return to Syria. This paper explains the future mobility aspirations of Syrian refugee youth between the ages of 18 and 30 living in Turkey in relation to their experiences of social mobility and integration in Turkey.

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Author Meets Critics Event: Refuge Beyond Reach

UCLA Center for Study of International Migration

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, March 13, 2020
Bunche Hall, Room 10383
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14188

Speaker:
Francisco Santos Calderon, Colombia Ambassador to the United States

Andrea Castillo, Los Angeles Times

Lourdes Gouveia, Department of Sociology, University of Nebraska

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Fernando Lozano, UNAM (Mexico)

Boris Muñoz, The New York Times

Description: In Refuge beyond Reach, David Scott FitzGerald traces how rich democracies have deliberately and systematically shut down most legal paths to safety. Drawing on official government documents, information obtained via WikiLeaks, and interviews with asylum seekers, he finds that for ninety-nine percent of refugees, the only way to find safety in one of the prosperous democracies of the Global North is to reach its territory and then ask for asylum. FitzGerald shows how the US, Canada, Europe, and Australia comply with the letter of law while violating the spirit of those laws through a range of deterrence methods -- first designed to keep out Jews fleeing the Nazis -- that have now evolved into a pervasive global system of "remote control." While some of the most draconian remote control practices continue in secret, Fitzgerald identifies some pressure points and finds that a diffuse humanitarian obligation to help those in need is more difficult for governments to evade than the law alone.

Return to Top

****
****

6.

Beyond Remittances: Engaging the Diaspora to Meet Africa's Development Financing Needs

11:00 a.m.–12:30 p.m., Monday, March 16, 2020
6th Floor Flom Auditorium
Woodrow Wilson Center
1300 Pennsylvania Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20004-3027
https://www.wilsoncenter.org/event/beyond-remittances-engaging-diaspora-meet-africas-development-financing-needs

Description: According to the African Development Bank (AfDB), African countries must invest US $600-700 billion annually to meet the development needs of their growing populations. To achieve this investment goal, African governments are increasingly looking to the diaspora, amongst other measures. The African diaspora already contributes enormously to the continent's economy through remittances: in 2018, Sub-Saharan Africa received an estimated $47 billion in remittances (World Bank)—compared to an estimated $32 billion in foreign direct investment (United Nations Conference on Trade and Development). Looking beyond remittances, the diaspora community also possesses other resources including knowledge, expertise, and networks that could greatly benefit the financial, trade, and technology sectors—and be leveraged for peace—if properly engaged.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speakers will examine the current role and future opportunities for the diaspora in Africa's economic development and peacebuilding efforts. Using several country case studies, they will assess the growing diaspora, transitions in thinking about the diaspora and its role, lessons learned from countries that have developed diaspora engagement strategies, and the potential and opportunities for fostering economic development and sustainable peace through more robust diaspora engagement. They will also offer concrete policy recommendations for African governments, stakeholders, and international partners to better engage with and leverage the diaspora to help meet Africa's development and peacebuilding needs.

Speakers:
Richmond Commodore
Southern Voices Network for Peacebuilding Scholar, Policy Analyst, African Center for Economic Transformation (ACET), Ghana.

Sonia Plaza
Senior Economist, Co-chair Remittances and Diaspora KNOMAD, Finance, Competitiveness and Innovation Global Practice, Africa (East), World Bank

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Remittances to Latin America and the Caribbean in 2019

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

12:00–2:00 p.m., Tuesday, March 17, 2020
Inter-American Dialogue
1155 15th Street NW, Suite 800
Washington, DC 20005
https://www.thedialogue.org/events/remittances-to-latin-america-and-the-caribbean-2019/

Introductory Remarks:
Denisse Yanovich, Director, Development and External Relations, Inter-American Dialogue

Speakers:
Gene Nigro, Vice President of Global Business Development, Remitly

Laura Porras, Program Officer, Plan International

Liz Alicea-Velez, Director of Latin America and Caribbean, MoneyGram

Mario López, Vice Chairman, Tigo Guatemala

Piero Coen, President and CEO, Grupo Coen

Moderator:
Manuel Orozco, Director, Migration, Remittances and Development, Inter-American Dialogue

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Webinar: Immigrant FUTURES: Economy. Immigration. Communities.

Cities of Migration Webinar
1:00 p.m. EDT, Tuesday, March 17, 2020
Canada/U.S.
http://citiesofmigration.ca/webinar/webinar-immigrant-futures-economy-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

immigration-communities/

Description: Small towns, big ideas. Embarking on a local immigration strategy, especially one that ties economic growth and community sustainability to newcomer attraction and retention, means thinking differently. Newcomer friendly services and slogans aren't enough. Successful settlement and integration depends on positive labour market experiences, a robust local economy – and a place that feels like home. What can local planning and municipal councils in smaller and regional new immigrant gateways do to create the conditions for success? The Immigrant Futures project explores the challenges and opportunities of immigrant attraction and retention in small, medium and regional communities in Canada in an age of global migration.

On March 17, join us online with Kim Turner, Ryerson University; David Campbell, former Chief Economist with the Government of New Brunswick; and Tania Maksymenko, Rural Employment Initiative, Newcomer Centre of Peel, in conversation with Devon Franklin, Manager, Knowledge Mobilization & Partner Development at WES.

Learn about the new Immigrant Futures Toolkit, a multi-stakeholder planning framework, tools and resources to help city and community leaders make the case for immigration as a critical strategy for local economic development, and initiate a whole-of-community local planning process.

Speakers:
David Campbell, former Chief Economist with the Government of New Brunswick

David is the President of Jupia Consultants Inc., an economic development consulting firm based in New Brunswick. He works with communities across the country on economic development and people attraction strategy. He was formerly Chief Economist with the Government of New Brunswick. In that role he advised Cabinet on economic policy and was involved in developing important initiatives such as the Atlantic Immigration Pilot Project and the New Brunswick Growth Plan. In recent years, David has been helping communities and governments develop workforce development and immigrant attraction plans. David is a published author and columnist and is asked to speak many times a year around the country on economic development, people attraction and related topics. He write a blog covering regional economic development topics at davidwcampbell.com.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Tania Maksymenko, Training and Development Facilitator for the Rural Employment Initiative at the Newcomer Centre of Peel

Tania Maksymenko is a Training and Development Facilitator for the Rural Employment Initiative at the Newcomer Centre of Peel, Mississauga. It's a unique province-wide project that helps rural communities attract and retain newcomers. Originally from Ukraine, Tania had been living and working in New Delhi, India for 12 years before relocating to Canada in 2014. Through her work experience and personal journey, Tania has gained insight into career transitions of immigrant professionals, as well as barriers to their career success in the new labour market. Tania is a passionate social architect. She likes ideas and action. Her vision is to empower immigrant professionals in Canada: provide them with knowledge, resources and support they need to rediscover themselves in a new cultural environment and fully participate in the Canadian society. She is a co-founder and leader of a community of 4,000 Ukrainian mothers in Greater Toronto. Tania has a Master's Degree in Organizational Leadership from Azusa Pacific University (California, USA), BA in Psychology (Kyiv, Ukraine), and an eLearning certificate (University of Toronto).

Devon Franklin, Manager, Knowledge Mobilization & Partner Development, WES

Devon Franklin is the Manager of Knowledge Mobilization and Partner Development on the Global Talent Bridge team at World Education Services Canada. In her role, Devon manages the development of key partnerships with stakeholders related to the integration of skilled immigrants and refugees in Canada. Through partnerships, Devon seeks to build the capacity of Canadian organizations to improve the employment outcomes of newcomers. Previously, Devon was the Project Manager of Hire Immigrants, a program at the Global Diversity Exchange (GDX), a 'think-and-do' tank based at Ryerson University (Toronto, Canada). Hire Immigrants is an online platform for employers to find and share good practices on immigrant employment and a network hub for increased awareness of the valuable skills and talent immigrants bring to local and global businesses. Hire Immigrants is unique in its approach to immigrant employment: by focusing on the role of employers and drivers of business performance, we help identify outdated HR practices in hiring, recruitment and development, and empower employers to fully leverage immigrant talent in their workforce. Devon holds an Honours Bachelor of Arts from the University of Toronto and a Master of Arts in Immigration and Settlement Studies from Ryerson University.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

9.

Book Event: Humanity in Crisis: Ethical and Religious Response to Refugees

12:00 p.m., Wednesday, March 18, 2020
Arrupe Hall, Multipurpose Room
Georgetown University
3700 O Street NW
Washington, DC 20057
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/humanizing-migration-and-border-security-tickets-92994323525

Description: ISIM will co-sponsor a book event with author David Hollenbach, the Pedro Arrupe Distinguished Research Professor and ISIM Faculty Affiliate. Professor Hollenbach's new book is titled Humanity in Crisis: Ethical and Religious Response to Refugees, and it is published by Georgetown University Press. Panelists will include Anne Richard, former assistant secretary of state for population, refugees and migration; Alex Aleinikoff, former United Nations Deputy High Commissioner for Refugees; Clemens Sedmak, professor of social ethics at the University of Notre Dame, as well as Profesor David Hollenbach. More information soon.

Return to Top

****
****

10.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Legal Standards and Moral Worth in Frontline Decision-Making: Evaluations of Victimization in US Asylum Determinations

12:00pm to 1:30pm, Tuesday, March 24, 2020
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/talia-shiff-legal-standards-and-moral-worth-frontline-decision-making-evaluations

Speaker:
Talia Shiff, Postdoctoral Fellow at the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs and Lecturer in Sociology at Harvard University

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Book Discussion: 'The Shifting Border'

Presented by Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School.

6:00-7:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 24, 2020
Theresa Lang Community and Student Center
Starr Foundation Hall, U L102, University Center
The New School
66 West 12th Street
New York, NY 10011
https://event.newschool.edu/bookdiscussiontheshiftingborde

Speaker:
Ayelet Shacher, Professor of Law, Political Science, and Global Affairs
Toronto University

Description: We tend to think of a border as a static line, but recent bordering techniques have broken away from the map, as governments have developed

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

legal tools to limit the rights of migrants before and after they enter a country's territory. The consequent detachment of state power from any fixed geographical marker has created a new paradigm: the shifting border, an adjustable legal construct untethered in space. This transformation upsets our assumptions about waning sovereignty, while also revealing the limits of the populist push toward border-fortification. It also presents a tremendous opportunity to rethink states' responsibilities to migrants. This book proposes a new, functional approach to human mobility and access to membership in a world where borders, like people, have the capacity to move.

Return to Top

****

****

12.

International Studies Association Annual Convention

Wednesday-Saturday, March 25-28, 2020
Hilton Hawaiian Village Waikiki Beach Resort
2005 Kalia Road
Honolulu, HI 96815
https://www.isanet.org/Conferences/Honolulu-2020
http://web.isanet.org/Web/Conferences/Honolulu2020-s/Honolulu%202020%20-%20Full%20Program.pdf

Immigration-related sessions:

Wednesday, March 25, 2020

8:00-9:45 a.m.
Political Economy of migration

Closed Door Policy: Explaining the Wage Gap of Immigrants to the United States
Rita Boyajian Groh, University of Tennessee, Chattanooga

Estimating the Factors that Affect the Circular Flow of Skilled Migrants

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Between their Destination and Origin Countries
Esther Jack-Vickers, University of Massachusetts, Lowell

Italy's Silent Return to Emigration: Trends, Causes, Consequences
Francesca Fauri, University of Bologna and Donatella Strangio, Sapienza University Rome

10:00-11:45 a.m.
Climate Change and Migration

Environment-induced migration in the IR agenda: current challenges and urgent needs
Carolina de Abreu Basta Claro, University of Brasilia

Support for Climate Migrants or Rohingya? How Bangladeshis Donate to Local Humanitarian Charities
Rachel Castellano, University of Washington

Shifting gendered subjectivies: Everyday lives of Burmese climate-induced migrants in Thailand
Chung Ah Baek, University of Warwick

A fallout from 'good' citizenship?: Diversity, identity and participation at times of political crisis and stability

Effect of Dual Citizenship on Electoral Viability
Alice Yiqian Wang, Stanford University

The Right to Community Participation and Citizen Security in Colombia
Dáire McGill, University of Oxford

The gendered path to Brexit: masculine identity and Euroscepticism in the UK
Charloe Galpin, Birmingham University

Citizenship on timeout? Mapping youth perceptions of 'good' citizenship in the nexus of migration and social media
Nora Siklodi, Norwegian University of Science and Technology/University of Portsmouth

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Moving, Walking, Blocking: Conceptualizing Mobility in International Relations

Necropolics and Forced Migration in Honduras, Guatemala and El Salvador. Violence as a device of death
Ruth Elizabeth Prado, ITESO, Jesuit University of Guadalajara

Securitizing and Desecuritizing Refugees during Election Campaigns: Categorization and Labelling of Mobility in Turkey
Sezgi Karacan, University of Ottawa

Challenges of Higher Education in the Global South - Panel

The Emergence of Higher Education Networks in the Global South
Jermain Grin, American University

The International Migration of Students from the Global South: Does it Reduce or Boost Social Inequality?
Uwe Hunger, University of Muenster

12:15-2:00 p.m.
Refugees and International Migration

Refugees, education and inter-community trust: New micro-level evidence from Rohingya Refugees living in Cox's Bazaar, Bangladesh
Gudrun Østby, Peace Research Institute Oslo (PRIO) and Kendra Dupuy, Peace Research Institute Oslo (PRIO)

Fear, anxiety and emotional security after the refugee wave
Chrisan Kaunert, International Centre of Policing and Security, University of South Wales and Joana de Deus Pereira, University of South Wales - United Kingdom

The Religious Left and Right: Attitudes and Action Regarding US Immigration Policy and Border Security in Houston, Texas
Joanna U. Kaan, University of Houston - Downtown

Conservation-induced displacement and the democratic deficits of global

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

governance: a study of a village by the Sinharaja World Nature Heritage Site
Grace Cheng, San Diego State University and Upali Pannilage, University of Ruhuna

Restrictive refugee policies: A guarantee for local security?
Heidrun Bohnet, University of Geneva

Mexico's Perspective on the Central American migration Crisis
Carlos E. Juarez, Universidad de las Americas Puebla, Mexico and Juan Carlos Gachuz Maya, (UDLAP)

Discomfort in the Biopolical Heart of the State Apparatus? The case of missing asylum-seekers in Sweden
Anna Hammarstedt, Swedish Defence University

Moving people: adopting, interrogating and refuting governmental categorizations
Julia Morris, University of North Carolina, Wilmington

2:15-4:00 p.m.
Migration and Security in South Asia

Two Hard Places at Once: Pakistani Labour Migrants in the Persian Gulf
Zahra Babar, Georgetown University Qatar, Center for International and Regional Studies

4:15-6:00 p.m.
Regional Organizations and Human Rights

After Securisation: Militarisation of Governance of migration in the EU and Implications for the EU's identity
Muge Kinacioglu, Hacateepe University & Leiden University

The Dichotomy between Humanitarian practice and National Security: A comparison of EU and ASEAN migration issues.
Pakawadee Suphunchitwana, Ramkhamhaeng University

Foreign Influences on National Elections

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigrants Political Preference and Social Democratic Parties: The Quantitative Analysis on Immigrants Voting in Australian Election
Juan Chen, University of Sydney

Managing migration: histories, actors, strategies

The Internal Migration Industry in Myanmar
Darshan Vigneswaran, University of Amsterdam

Turkey's reversed liberal immigration paradox: the logic and implications of Turkey's positive rhetoric on migration on the international stage
Juliette Tolay, Penn State Harrisburg

After Cologne - Gender, Body Politics, and migration in Germany
Sabine Hirschauer, New Mexico State University

The Shifting Context of Reception for Migrants to Japan: 1970-2010
Tristan Ivory, Cornell University

Thursday, March 26, 2020

8:00-9:45 a.m.
Banks and Borders

Migration and cross-border banking: The missing link?
Alexandra Zeitz, University of Oxford

IPE- Gendering International Political Economy

Gendered Dimensions of Skilled Migrant Women: United States and Ecuador in comparative perspective due to the crisis in Venezuela
Maritza Figueroa, Pontifical Universidad Católica del Ecuador

The "Rights" Way to Care: How policies for migrant domestic work are developed
So Young Chang, GIGA German Institute of Global and Area Studies

Gender and migration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Environmental-induced migration in Mexico and Central America: A conceptual and empirical approach
Ursula Oswald Spring, National Autonomous University of Mexico

A feminist analysis of the 'embodied' experiences of Nepali women migrant workers in the Gulf countries
Hari KC, Balsillie School of International Affairs

The Personal is International: Transborder Movements and Abortion Access in the US-Mexico Borderlands
Andreanne Bissonnee, University of Quebec in Montreal

Consequences of the lack of intersectional public policies for women refugees: The cases of São Paulo and Rio de Janeiro
Mariana Almeida Silveira Corrêa, Universidade de São Paulo and Kelly Agopyan, University of São Paulo

10:00-11:45 a.m.
New Directions in Public Opinion about Foreign Policy I

Prejudice Towards Internal and Foreign migration: Combining List and Endorsement Experiments In Brazil
Feliciano de Sá Guimarães, University of São Paulo and Ivan Almeida Lopes Fernandes, UFABC

Cities in War and Peace

Cities, migration, and Insurgency in India's "Red Corridor"
Matthew Cobb, University of Arizona

Migration and the European Union

Turkey's migration management: Uncertainties arising from swift changes in the legal framework and the impact of the EU-Turkey Statement
Elif Çen, University of Cambridge and Yaşar University

The cultural and economic determinants of an-immigration attitudes and support for right-wing populism in Europe

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Daphne Halikiopoulou, University of Reading

The not-so-hidden cost of the 'Australian model.' A warning for the EU
Fabio Scarpello, University of Auckland

Managing migration in the Central Mediterranean: SAR Missions, Disembarkment, and the Politics of Saving Lives
Gemma Marolda, University of Pittsburgh

Who Emigrates? Electoral Consequences of Emigration in Eastern Europe
Junghyun Lim, University of Pittsburgh

Security and violence in colonial and post-colonial contexts

Face recognition as a postcolonial practice for migration control
Flavia Guerra-Cavalcan, Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro

12:15-2:00 p.m.
Gender, Displacement and Dispossession in the Middle East

The intersecting experience of gender, displacement(s) and politics of migration: the case of Palestinian refugees from Syria in Jordan
Afaf Jabiri, University of East London

The 'Inherent Vulnerability' of Being Female: A Gendered Analysis of Morocco's Immigration Reform
Kelsey Norman, Baker Institute, Rice University and Carrie Reiling, Washington College

Syrian Refugee Men and the Violence of Humanitarian "Vulnerability"
Lewis Turner, Arnold Bergstraesser Institute

Precarity, exclusion and everyday migrant struggles

Performing the perfect carer and ideal migrant. The ambiguity of female migration, role expectations and migrant agency in an age of global mobility.
Catherine Goetze, University of Tasmania and Georgia Spiliopoulos, University of Nongham, Ningbo, China

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Everyday Meaning Making Practices of Refugees
Mehpare Selcan Kaynak, Bogazici University and Cansu E. Dedeoglu, University of Toronto

Shared spaces, disparate horizons: the (dis)similar struggles of migrant and native squatters in São Paulo, Brazil
Diana Thomaz, Balsillie School of International Affairs

The Ability to Exclude while Claiming Inclusion: The Role of Temporary Humanitarian Visas in Reproducing Precarious Migrants
Carla Angulo-Pasel, University of Texas Rio Grande Valley

From Poverty Porn to Humanization and Resisting the Trump Administration: Interrogating the US Immigrant and Refugee Rights Spaces Through Questions of Inequality, Diversity and Representations
Sabrina Axster, Johns Hopkins University

2:15-4:00 p.m.
People on the Move law, gender, and technologies of migration

Militarization, Infrastructure and migration Management: The EU`s new Agenda on migration and its Hotspot Approach in the Mediterranean Borderscape
Bilgin Ayata, University of Basel

International soft law and local immigration policies, perspectives from Mexico City and Buenos Aires
Adriana S. Ortega, Benemérita Universidad Autónoma de Puebla (BUAP)

Race and migration Policies in a Colorblind World
Andrew Rosenberg, University of Florida

The Masculinities of Humanitarianism
Lewis Turner, Arnold Bergstraesser Institute

Mitigating Fears of Being Outnumbered: Studying Singapore's Efforts to Maintain a Chinese Majority Amidst Increasing migration
Rebecca Grace Tan, University of Bristol

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Forced migration

Forced migration from areas of limited statehood in northern Central America
Sonja C. Wolf, Centro de Investigación y Docencia Económicas (CIDE)

Transit migration and people smuggling in Asia, Africa and the Americas: a rich field for comparison
Antje Missbach, School of Social Sciences Monash University

Devolving anti-child tracking responsibilities to multinational companies: the big scam? Lessons from the field in the European Union and the Association of Southeast Asian Nations
Elisa Narminio, Waseda University & Université Libre de Bruxelles

4:15-6:00 p.m.
Plotting 'Return': Diasporas, Diplomacy and the Homeland

Kabootarbazi: Phantom Experiences, The Policies of Naming, and Illegal migration
Akta Kaushal, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa

Universalist and Particularist Diplomacy

Plyler v. Doe: The Fulcrum of Liberal American Immigration Policy
Dan Keller, Baylor University

Friday, March 27, 2020

8:00-9:45 a.m.
Problematizing Migration

Messaging and Immigration Attitudes: (How) Can They be Improved?
Ken Stallman, University of Colorado at Boulder

The excess of migrants' experiences over modern political categories
Suzana Velasco, Pontifical Catholic University of Rio de Janeiro

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Who chooses to leave? Heterogeneous migration decisions in conflict and non-conflict settings.
Jana Kuhnt, German Development Instute/Deutsches Instut für Entwicklungspolik (DIE) Constann Ruhe, Goethe-University Frankfurt am Main

Global migration Governance from Below? Civil Society and the Global Compact for migration
Stefan Rother, Arnold Bergstraesser Institute at the University of Freiburg

Environmental migration and conflict: Evidence from disaster induced displacement
Angela Chesler, University of Notre Dame

Borders and International Relations

Bringing sociology to the study of border security: a critical analysis
Cagla Luleci-Sula, Bilkent University

First Impressions at the Border: The Effects of Securitization at Europe's Frontier
Alice Vercelli, Northeastern University

Territorial Salience: A Better Predictor for Territorial War and Peace
Karthikeyan Thiagarajan, University of Central Florida

Innovating outside the 1951 Refugee Convention- A Comparative Study of UNHCR in India, Pakistan and Bangladesh
Kundan Mishra, University of Massachusetts Boston

Queer/Trans Displacement in the United States and the Theoretical Borders of Forced migration Studies
Samuel Ritholtz, University of Oxford

New Borders to migrations In South Africa: How South Africa's use of carrier sanctions has created new actors and new obstacles to migration
K. Taplin, University of Ottawa

The informalisation of EU migration cooperation with third countries
Juan Santos Vara, University of Salamanca and Laura Pascual Matellán,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

University of Salamanca

10:00-11:45 a.m.

Power and Wealth in the Anthropocene: Bringing Illicit, Informal and Resource Economies into IPE

"We are not an Immigration Country!" Complex Political Economy, Gender, and migration in Germany

Sabine Hirschauer, New Mexico State University

The Many Faces of Populism

Immigration in the European mind: The confounding of migration from within and outside the EU

Maurits Van der Veen, College of William & Mary

Internal migration Politics 2

Staging the national Other: Internal migration within the EU and populist an-immigrant mobilization

Oliver F. Schmidtke, University of Victoria

Does Immigration from Eastern Europe Fuel Euroscepticism?

Dimiter Toshkov, Leiden University

Not local enough: Opposition to internal migration in Asia

Isabelle Cote, Memorial University of Newfoundland

Internal migration and support for separatism in southern Thailand

Bethany Ann Lacina, University of Rochester

Human Rights, Gender and (In)voluntary migration: Human, Sex and Labor Tracking

Labor NGOs and Labor Tracking: Does the Spotlight Work?

Robert G. Blanton, University of Alabama at Birmingham; Shannon Lindsey Blanton, University of Alabama at Birmingham; and Dursun Peksen, University of Memphis

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Sex Tracking and Women's Rights in India
Heather Smith-Cannoy, Arizona State University

Human Tracking and the International Labor Organization: Perspectives of the Global South
Ana Laura Anschau, Federal University of Rio Grande do Sul

Human Tracking and the Relationship Between Civil Society and Anti-Tracking Legislation
Rachel Castellano, University of Washington

Successful Human Tracking Investigations: Questioning the Law Enforcement Standard
Richard Ramm, University of Nevada Reno

Recent Developments and Challenges in Return and Circular migration: Focusing on Reintegration of Returned Emigrants, Migrant Workers and Refugees in Home Countries

Reexamining the Reintegration Policies and Practices in Assisted Voluntary Return of Refugees and Migrants from Europe ---the German Case Studies
Ryo Kuboyama, Senshu University

Swedish labour market integration of refugees: Is the right to work guaranteed?
Ikuko Sato, J.F., Oberlin University

Returning to their homeland after a protracted period of immigrant life: Interrelationships between transnationalism and return migration among Filipino migrants in Italy
Itaru Nagasaka, Hiroshima University

Integration and Mobility: Complex Reality of migration in and from Africa
Mari Katayanagi, Hiroshima University

African Security Challenges

In search for common ground: conceptual, polical, and organizational dynamics of the migration partnership between the European Union (EU) and the African Union (AU).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Alice Musabende, University of Cambridge and Maria Chiara Vinciguerra, University of Cambridge

12:15-2:00 p.m.
International migration in an Integrated World

Into the Woods: migration and the Breon Woods Institutions
Merih Angin, Koç University; Albana Shehaj, Harvard University; and Adrian Shin, University of Colorado Boulder

Get Out: How Authoritarian Governments Decide Who Emigrates
Julian Michel, University of California, Los Angeles and Margaret E. Peters University of California, Los Angeles

Compacts and Declarations: A Two-Tiered Approach to Migrants and Refugees in Global migration Governance
Nicholas Micinski, ISA Rosenau Postdoctoral Fellow, Boston University

The Global Compact on migration: the role of the EU in the global governance of migration
Juan Santos Vara, University of Salamanca and Laura Pascual Matellán, University of Salamanca

Flexible Governance and Mul-Stakeholders Negoang the Global Compact for migration from the 'cheap seats' or the 'front row'
Nicola Piper, Queen Mary University of London and Jenna Hennebry, International Migration Research Centre, Wilfrid Laurier University

International Legal Issues in Asia

An Emerging International Norm of Paid Voluntary Return or Remigration? The International Office for migration (IOM), The Netherlands, and Japan
Michael O. Sharpe, City University of New York

Spaces, Mobilities, Infrastructures II

Geoinfrastructuring border crossing and migrant (im)mobility

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Polly Pallister-Wilkins, University of Amsterdam

Bordering practices: a contribution to theory and practice through the case of Hungarian-Serb border policing practices
Beatrix Futak-Campbell, Leiden University

Borders and Outsiders: Ethnicity and Biometrics in Border Control
Samah Raq, Yale University

States and Statelessness

Marginalized and Misunderstood: How An-Rohingya Language Policies Contribute to Persecution and Forced Displacement
Lindsey Kingston, Webster University and Aroline Seibert Hanson, Arcadia University

Cycles of violence: The protection issues facing stateless adolescent Rohingya refugees
Alison Brele, King's College London

Reexamining the Dichotomy between the Nation and the Foreign: The Analogy between Statelessness and Dual Nationality
Ryo Watanuki, Osaka University of Economics and Law

No place like home? Citizens, governance, and the sovereignty of disappearing States.
Selina O'Doherty, Queens University, Belfast

A Dualism of State Sanction: The Emigrant-Citizens of Egypt and Tunisia
Ahmed Khaab, Georgetown University

2:15-4:00 p.m.
State Responses to Sudden Demographic Change

Refugees: Accounting for South America's Puzzling Generosity
Sybil Rhodes, Universidad del Centro de Estudios Macroeconómicos de Argenna

Leadership Psychology and the Restrictiveness of migration Policy: A

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cross-National Study
Dennis M. Foster, Virginia Military Institute

Modeling the Transformation of migration
Anne Marie Baylouny, Naval Postgraduate School

Roundtable
At A Crossroads: The Future of Comparative Immigration Politics

Disc. Jusn Gest, George Mason University, Part. Audie Klotz, Syracuse University Part. Harris Mylonas, George Washington University Part. Kelsey Norman, Baker Institute, Rice University

4:15-6:00 p.m.
Challenges to European Democracy

The Failure of Sea Rescue in the Mediterranean as an Expression of a Political Crisis of the EU
Patricia Schneider, Institute for Peace Research and Security Policy at the University of Hamburg (IFSH)

The EU and its sub-Self Others: The struggle against disintegration in the context of the ´migration crisis
Julia Simon, Helmut Schmidt University Hamburg

Queering IR

Everyday Racism Facing Queer Syrian Migrants and Asylum Seekers in Lebanon
Razan Ghazzawi, University of Sussex

Middle East Feminism and its contributions to International Relations

The Syrian Refugee Crisis: Gendered migration During Conflict and Marriage Patterns
Carla Abdo-Katsipis, Wesleyan University

Narratives on migrations

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Narraves of (be)longing? On the need to decolonise migration + refugee studies
Jasmin Habib, University of Waterloo

EU border and migration governance and NGOs: civil society partnership revisited
Satoko Horii, Akita International University

Expanding Theoretical Horizons: Studying Ethnic Diversity and migration in Postcolonial States
Rebecca Grace Tan, University of Bristol

The exclusionary violence of the forced migration: Venezuela´s case
Ivonne Tellez Patarroyo, Poncia Universidad Católica del Ecuador

Where are you from?: Identity and Interpretivism in migration Studies
Oanh Nguyen, University of Minnesota

Saturday, March 28, 2020

8:00-9:45 a.m.
Human Rights and migration

Safeguarding Human Rights through European Asylum Policy? An Ethnographic Investigation at a Greek Migrant Camp
Zoe Zahariadis, Vassar College and Nikolaos Zahariadis, Rhodes College

Divided Families: Impact of Family Reunicaon Policies on Syrian Refugees in Germany
Isis Nusair, Denison University

Equal Rights, Unequal Access: Citizenship, State Capacity, and Access to Social Rights
Natasha Benne, University of Puget Sound

Movement and Belonging

Variation in Home- and Host-Country Attachments among Turkish Immigrants: A Comparative Analysis

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Melanie Kolbe, Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies

Diaspora Mobilization, Political Engagement, and Rebel Group Violence
Nadia Eldemerdash, University of Nevada Las Vegas and Steven Landis, University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Opposing from afar? The activation and formation of transnational opposition against growing authoritarianism at home – The case of Turkey's Diaspora in Germany
Gözde Böcü, University of Toronto

Intersections of migration and Trade

Local Economic Benefits Increase Positivity toward Foreigners: Evidence from an Exogenous Influx of Chinese Foreign Capital
Steven Liao, University of California, Riverside; Neil Malhotra, Stanford University; and Benjamin Newman, University of California, Riverside

Job-Training, Ideas, and Values: Explaining the Link between Education and Pro-Immigrant Attitudes
Seungbin Park, University of Alabama and Kim-Lee Tuxhorn, University of Calgary

Firm Influence on Immigration in Comparative Perspective: The Power of Large Markets
Vivienne Born, Texas Woman's University

Disrupting Barriers: Automation, migration, and Trade
Eric Stein, UC Santa Barbara

Migrants, Refugees, and Power Politics

Hyperpresidentialism, migration and International Relations: Understanding Regional Reactions to the Venezuelan Displacement Crisis
Soledad Casllo Jara, Universidad del Pacíco

Migration Diplomacy as Power Politics: A Typology of migration and Refugee "Deals"
Fiona Adamson, SOAS, University of London and Gerasimos Tsourapas,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

University of Birmingham

Safeguarding Dictators: EU migration Management & Authoritarianism in Africa
Kelsey Norman, Baker Institute, Rice University and Nicholas Micinski, ISA Rosenau Postdoctoral Fellow, Boston University

Refugees, Camps, and (Global) Governance: A Comparative Study of Refugee Camps Across Jordan
Rawan Arar, University of Washington

Governing Transit migration: A Relational Approach to Polycentric Governance
Maria Koinova, Warwick University

Non-State Approaches to the Politics of Ethnic Nationalism and migration: Korea from a Comparative Perspective

Talking of a Multicultural Korea: The Prospects for Transformational Change in a Homogenous Nation-State
Timothy C. Lim, CSU, Los Angeles

Pacifying Citizenship: Two Tales of Political Incorporation in Japan and the United States
Erin Chung, Johns Hopkins University and Jaeeun Kim, University of Michigan

Dusting Off 'North Korean Identity' and Embracing Cosmopolitan Identity: North Korean Defectors' Onward migration to Australia
Kyungja Jung, University of Technology Sydney

10:00-11:45 a.m.
Contextualizing the Chinese Communist Party's Foreign Influence Activities

Channeling PRC Pressure: Media, Immigration, and Institutions in Australia and New Zealand
Eric Hundman, NYU Shanghai

Global Perspectives on migration, Refugees and Sustainable

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Development - Panel

The migration and refugee 'crisis', international law, and the backlash against human rights
Ralph Wilde, University College London

Mainstreaming migration into National Development Plans: Perspectives from Kenya
Linda Oucho, African migration and Development Policy Centre

Leaving no one behind? Achievement of SDGs 3 and 17 in relation to migrants' access to healthcare in Mexico and the US
Valeria Marina Valle, Universidad Iberoamericana Mexico City

Universal Health Coverage and migration: The Challenge of Reaching the most Vulnerable in an African Context
Dêlidji Eric Degila, Ecole Nationale d'Administraon du Bénin & Graduate Institute, Geneva

Resistance and polical mobilisation within and across diverse geographical contexts

Mobilizing and Organizing Beyond Borders: Transnational Activism in the Vietnamese Diaspora
Duyen Bui, University of Hawaii at Manoa

Migrant Workers Activism as a Form of Resistance to migration Management: The Case of Italy
Aurora Ganz, St. Andrews University

A Continent on the Move! Migration in Contemporary Latin America, the Caribbean and the United States - Panel

Lan America's Pendulum Politics: Implications for Democratic Development in the Region
Emily Acevedo, California State University, Los Angeles

Escapando la "Tierra de Gracia": Venezuelan migration in era of the "Bolivarian Revolution

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Miguel Tinker Salas, Pomona College

The Haitian Diaspora in Mexico
April Mayes, Pomona College

Loving, Loathing, and Leaving Honduras: Coups, Militarization and Displacement in Central America in the Trump Era
Suyapa Portillo Villeda, Pitzer College

Revival of the Far Right

"Lies about Migrants: Immigration policy in a me of 'post-truth' politics"
Beverly Crawford, University of California, Berkeley

The Left Behind: Emigration, Political Brain Drain, and Support for Radical-Right Pares in Europe
Paula Ganga, Columbia University and Filip Savatic, Georgetown University

12:15-2:00 p.m.
Internationalizaon, Researcher Mobility and Intellectual Exile: Shaping Institutions, Networks and Narratives beyond the Center Periphery Divide

Latin America and Syrian Conflict: Politics, Ideology and Immigration
Mehmet Ozkan, Center for Global Policy, Washington D.C.

Forced migration and Academics in Fragile Host Countries: The Case of Lebanon
Hana Addam El-Ghali, American University of Beirut

Turkey's Academics in Exile: The German Experience
Ergun OZGUR, Leibniz-Zentrum Moderner Orient, Berlin

Of Dependencies and Opportunities: Reconstructing Transnational Networks of Scholars in Exile
Carola Richter, Free University Berlin and Florian Kohstall, Free University Berlin, Cairo Office

Identity and China

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Debating Cizenship, Discussing Identity: The Children of Chinese Immigrants in Spain and their Artistic Activism
Nieves Romero-Diaz, Mount Holyoke College

East Asian Sociopolitical Challenges

Immigration Policy without Immigrants in East Asia
Erin Chung, Johns Hopkins University

The Accidental migration State: Taiwan's Transformation of the Immigration Policy in the Globalizing World (1949-1990's)
Yuki Tsuruzono, Waseda University

2:15-4:00 p.m.
Rhetoric and Politics

The Rhetoric of Immigration Enforcement
Kevin Cope, University of Virginia and Charles Crabtree, University of Michigan

The polical implicaons of South-South migration of Migrant Domestic Workers: Challenges for International Relations

Justified migrations from Central America: Asylum Caravans and Accountability Claims
Noelle K. Brigden, Marquee University

Race and Humiliation through the Kafala: the case of Ethiopian migrant domestic workers
Bina Fernandez, University of Melbourne

West African Domesc Worker migration to the Gulf: The case of Ghana as a 'newcomer'
Mary Setrana, University of Ghana and Leander Kandilige, Centre for migration Studies, University of Ghana

Title: Governing the migration of Domestic Workers in Asia: a Gender and Rights-based analysis of Bilateral Labour Agreements
Nicola Piper, Queen Mary University of London Jenna Hennebry, International migration Research Centre, Wilfrid Laurier University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Influencing International Relations from below: Philippine Migrant domestic workers as transnational political actors
Stefan Rother, Arnold Bergstraesser Institute at the University of Freiburg

Other Options, Other Worlds: Central American migration to Mexico
Marcus Boyd, University of Maryland

Forced Displacement: Causes and Solutions Using Novel Data and Methods

When to flee? Understanding patterns of displacement during the Lebanese Civil War
Tiffany Chu, Virginia Military Institute and Faten Ghosn, University of Arizona

Counterinsurgency Heuristics: Ethnicity and Forced Resettlement
Christoph Dworschak, University of Essex

The Effect of the 2015 Crisis on Attitudes towards Refugees in Europe
Lamis Abdelaaty, Syracuse University

An Examination of U.S. Refugee Policy Over Time
Rebecca Cordell, University of Texas at Dallas and Thorin M. Wright, Arizona State University

How do refugee crises end? Theory & Evidence from Syrian Refugees in Lebanon
Daniel Masterson, Stanford University and Ala' Alrababa'h, Stanford University

Women and the Economics and Violence of migration

Migrant Domestic Workers: Immigration Policies Exacerbating Gender Inequality in Japan and South Korea?
Atsuko Abe, J.F. Oberlin University, Tokyo and Jihey Bae, J.F. Oberlin University, Tokyo

Labour migration from Central Asia to Russia: Economic and Social Impact on the Societies of Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, and Uzbekistan
Irina Malyuchenko, OSCE Academy in Bishkek

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dimensions of gendered violence in forced migration research
Cita Weerich, University of Freiburg

Violence Across Borders: migration, Gender, and Subjectivity Among Rohingya Refugee Women
Farhana Rahman, University of Cambridge

4:15-6:00 p.m.
Studying Identity in the Global South

The Lost Idenes: Understanding the victimisation of migrant women across the Asian countries
Tanushree Malakar, Jawaharlal Nehru University

The Politics of Power in Human Rights

Unveiling Citizenship and Immigration in Canada v. Zunera Ishaq
Herbert McCullough, Midwestern State University

Identity and Island Politics

How State Education Shapes An-Immigrant Attitudes
Boyoon Lee, Pennsylvania State University

The Political Legacy of American Occupation on Native Hawaiian Identity
Ngoc Phan, Hawai‘i Pacific University

Fighting for Hawaiian Home Lands: Challenges to Nave Hawaiian sovereignty.
Ngoc Phan, Hawai‘i Pacific University

Taiwan Naonalism and “One China”: Examining Mainlander (waishengren) Identity
Junki Nakahara, American University

Internal Migration Politics 3

Those who leave Quebec: the politics of secondary migration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mireille Paquet, Concordia University and Catherine Xhardez, Sciences Po Paris and Université Saint-Louis

Strangers in their Homeland: Internal Migrants in Soa, Bulgaria
Chris Kostov, Schiller University

Inequality and the Individualization of Social Rights in China
Alexsia Chan, Hamilton College

Research Note on Immigrant Youth Radicalization and Terrorism: Pre-and Post migration Considerations
Haval Ahmad, Aberystwyth University and Mambo Masinda, TSAS

Communicating Human Rights

Silencing through benevolence: Turkey's 'generous' Syrian refugee policy and its impact on the (dis)empowerment of refugees
Juliee Tolay, Penn State Harrisburg

Framing of immigrants and refugees during the EU's refugee crisis: Comparing framing of different categories of migrants across East Central European and Western European countries
Jan Kovar, Institute of International Relations Prague & University of New York in Prague

Indigenous Treaties, Custodianship, and Constitutional Recognition

Transforming External Sovereignty: Indigenous Assertions of Self-determination in Trade and Global Agreements, Defense, and Immigration in Canada and New Zealand
Sheryl Lightfoot, University of British Columbia

Return to Top

****

****

13.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Works in Progress: Assessing Temporary-to-Permanent Immigration Systems in Europe and North America

10:00-11:30 a.m., Thursday, March 26, 2020
Bipartisan Policy Center
1225 Eye Street NW, Suite 1000
Washington, DC, 20005
https://bipartisanpolicy.org/event/works-in-progress-assessing-temporary-to-permanent-immigration-systems-in-europe-and-north-america/

Speakers:
Cristobal Ramon
Senior Policy Analyst and Report Author, Bipartisan Policy Center

Julia Gelatt
Senior Policy Analyst, Migration Policy Institute

Daniel Costa
Director of Immigration Law and Policy Research, Economic Policy Institute

Moderator:
Theresa Cardinal Brown, Director of Immigration and Cross Border Policy, BPC

Description: Since the 1990s, a significant part of the reform debate on immigration has focused on whether the United States should change its legal immigration system to accept more high-skilled immigrants. President Trump and his congressional allies have argued that the United States should take cues from Canada and Australia and implement merit based systems that focus on admitting almost exclusively high-skilled migrants using a points-based assessment. However, the ways that workers on temporary visas can, or cannot, transition to permanent status rarely get discussed. When thinking about U.S. immigration reform, looking at other countries' approaches to establishing temporary-to-permanent pathways may give us insight into a path forward.

Join the Bipartisan Policy Center as it releases its latest comparative report looking at five employment-based immigration systems in Europe and North America, and what we can glean from these approaches, followed by an expert panel discussion. Coffee and light snacks will be served.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

14.

The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE
Washington, DC 20002
http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

Immigration-related sessions:

8:05 a.m.

The Migration Cost-Remittance-Consumption Pathway: Implications of High Migration Costs for Human Capital Investment in Nepal and Pakistan

Esther Bartl, The World Bank Group; Laura Caron Georgetown University; and Sundas Liaqat, The World Bank Group

Abstract: South Asian economies are major sources of international migrant labor and have experienced positive development impacts from the process. However, these countries have some of the highest migration costs in the world, and there is limited understanding of how these costs affect household welfare and behavior. This paper focuses on Nepal and Pakistan, to address this gap. In these countries, households that receive remittances spend 11% percent more on education and health than non-remittance receiving households. However, the high costs of migration tend to dampen both the propensity to remit and the amount remitted: a 1% increase in recruitment cost may decrease remittances by 0.05-0.15%. Specific interventions, such as the elimination of visa costs for Pakistani migrants could increase remittances by 2.9-5%. Policies that reduce migration costs may have large and important impacts on household investment behavior, and therefore the economic growth and development of Nepal and Pakistan.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Celebrating the Contributions of Immigrant Entrepreneurs

4:00-5:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 31, 2019
Johnson Center, Meeting Room C
George Mason University
4400 University Drive
Fairfax, VA 22030
https://iir.gmu.edu/events/10711

Speakers:
TBA

Return to Top

****
****

16.
The contexts of reception that make asylum seekers feel welcome in Germany

12:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 31, 2020
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/rahsaan-maxwell-contexts-reception-make-asylum-seekers-feel-welcome-germany-0

Speaker:
Rahsaan Maxwell, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

17.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in 2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and for national and international politics

Course Objectives:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain

3:00-5:00 p.m., Wednesday, April 22, 2020
Lydeen Library, Rolfe Hall West 4302
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14255

Speakers:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Susan Plann, Research Professor Emerita at UCLA in the departments of Chicana and Chicano Studies and Spanish and Portuguese and the author of Coming of Age in Madrid: An Oral History of Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors .

Abdellah Laroussi, social worker with Fundación La Merced Migraciones (Madrid), director of various residences for unaccompanied migrant youth, and prominent immigrant rights activist and spokesperson.

Description: According to Human Rights Watch, unaccompanied child migration is today the new normal; according to the Spanish press, it has now reached crisis proportions, and the great majority of unaccompanied foreign migrant minors in Spain are Moroccans. The topic of "Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain" is of importance for both European and African im/migration, and it also has significant implications for child migration to the U.S.

During the first half of the presentation Prof. Plann will provide an overview of unaccompanied Moroccan child migration to Spain, including the motives for their migration, how it is accomplished, their reception on Spanish shores, their status under Spanish law, and what happens when these children come of age. She will also point out notable differences between their situation in Spain and that of migrant minors in the U.S. Spain's policy toward unaccompanied child migrants, which includes a path to citizenship, may seem an attractive alternative to the American model, but Prof. Plann argues that it also has its downsides.

The second half of the presentation will feature Mr. Laroussi, himself a former Moroccan child migrant who now resides in Madrid. Social worker with the foundation Merced Migraciones and prominent immigrants' rights activist and spokesperson, Mr. Laroussi will tell his personal story and analyze the current situation of unaccompanied migrant youth in Spain, with whom he works on a daily basis.

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

19.

Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

Speaker:
Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the University of London

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through 'golden doors'. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

Return to Top

****
****

20.

The Issue of Immigration in America: Moving Beyond Walls and Open Borders

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4:30–6:00 p.m., Friday, April 24, 2020
Heinz College – Hamburg Hall A301
Carnegie Mellon University
5000 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890
https://www.heinz.cmu.edu/events/the-issue-of-immigration-in-america

Description: In the United States, the issue of immigration gives rise to controversy and conflict. This issue requires us to wrestle with challenging questions about many things, including:

Who should be admitted to the US as an immigrant (family members, skilled workers, etc.)?

How many people should the US admit as immigrants (should we increase, decrease or keep current levels)?

What rules should guide the immigration process (and how should these rules be enforced)?

How should we address the problems (social, political, and economic) that cause people to migrate from their home countries?

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Conference Program:

Monday, April 27, 2020

I. THE LEGAL MIGRATION FRAMEWORK IN THE EU – RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

9:45 a.m.
Recent legislative developments and key priorities for 2020-2021 in the EU legal migration system
Laura Corrado

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

10:45 a.m.

Update on the Community Code on Visas: Regulation (EU) 2019/1155 amending Regulation (EC) 810/2009

Dimitri Giotakos

12:15 p.m.

The post-Brexit UK immigration system and its impact on EU citizens

* Should business be worried by the drop in EU migration?
* Current assessment of adopted measures
* What additional challenges are to be expected by companies?
* Solutions for cross-border workers after Brexit Annabel Mace

II. ASPECTS OF EU AND NATIONAL LEGAL MIGRATION LAW IN A BROADER LEGISLATIVE CONTEXT

2:15 p.m.

Investor citizenship and residence schemes in the European Union: the cases of Malta, Bulgaria and Cyprus

* Investor residence schemes and EU law on legal migration
* The link between investor residence schemes and naturalisation procedures
* Areas of concern
* Risks posed by investor citizenship and residence schemes

Jelena Dzankic

3:15 p.m.

Mobility rights for third-country nationals under the EU's migration directives: posted workers and EU intra-corporate transferees – how to differentiate and ensure compliance

* Main changes introduced by the revised posted workers directive
* Facilitating intra-EU mobility by the ICT permit
* Case law of the CJEU Matthias Lommers

4:30 p.m.

The new German skilled immigration rules

Marius Tollenaere

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Tuesday, April 28, 2020

III. CASE LAW OF THE CJEU AND ITS IMPACT ON EU LEGAL MIGRATION LAW

9:30 a.m.

The right to family reunification and long-term resident status in recent CJEU jurisprudence

* G.S. and V.G. Joined cases C-381/18 and C-382/18
* Cases C-519/18 and C-706/18
* Case C-93/18: Right of residence of a third-country national who is a direct relative in the ascending line of Union citizen minors
* Case C-302/18: Conditions for the acquisition of long-term resident status

Doyin Lawunmi

IV. EXTERNAL DIMENSION OF LEGAL MIGRATION

11:00 a.m.

Developing and implementing alternative pathways for legal migration

* Socio-economic challenges
* Pilot projects for legal migration with selected third countries
* Legal migration pathways to Europe for low- and middle-skilled migrants

Silvio Grieco

V. FUTURE CHALLENGES AND OUTLOOK

12:00 p.m.

Reflections on EU legal migration law

* Assessment of the current situation
* Main challenges
* Ideas and suggestions for the future Kees Groenendijk

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

22.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-716 - Immigration Policy

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, May 6-8, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=29908153

Course Description: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

The course also examines policies related to forced migration, including refugee resettlement, asylum and temporary protected status. These issues will be discussed in a comparative framework, analyzing how other countries address issues affecting the United States. The course will examine the role of federal, state and local authorities in implementing policy reforms. It also examines the role of public opinion and various interest groups in affecting policy formulation.

Students will be required to write a 10-page paper, due after the course completion, on a specific reform issue.

Section Notes: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

23.

Building Just and Inclusive Communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama: 15 Years After Katrina

A Whole of Community Approach to Immigrants and Refugees

Thursday-Saturday, May 21-23, 2020
Loyola University New Orleans College of Law
526 Pine Street
New Orleans, LA 70118
https://cmsny.org/event/2020-whole-of-community-conference/

Description: The Center for Migration Studies' (CMS) Whole of Community Conference will be held this year at Loyola University New Orleans College of Law from May 21-23, 2020. At the conference, participants will explore the challenges facing diverse immigrant and refugee communities in local communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and elsewhere. The conference will feature best practices in supporting and defending these communities.

The Whole of Community Conference is a platform for community-focused collaborations among public officials, legal service providers, community organizers, community-based organizations, faith-based organizations, scholars, researchers, immigrants, refugees, and others in response to local and national immigration policies. The sponsors of this year's event will be CMS, Loyola University New Orleans College of Law and the Jesuit Social Research Institute / Loyola University New Orleans.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The conference schedule includes: optional site visits on May 21; and plenary panels and workshops on May 22 and 23. The conference fee of $50 includes lunch and refreshments throughout the event.

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-744 - Global Displacement & Migration Studies

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Friday, July 27-31, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=31222947

Course Description: This course offers deep knowledge and information about the different groups of people on the move (labor migrants, refugees, internally displaced, asylum seekers, and others), and the multiple causes and consequences of such movements of people. It also provides a global overview of displacement and migration numbers and trends; drivers of population movements; impacts on origin, transit and host countries; and policy responses to population movements.

Specifically, the course will cover the major theoretical explanations underpinning displacement and international migration; global migration and refugee governance; differences and trends in national policies, especially refugee resettlement and labor migration; integration experiences of immigrants in host countries; and connections between migration and displacement and other issues as security, development and environmental change. Finally, the certificate will illustrate how research questions are answered in an effort to enhance existing knowledge and improve policies and practices.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Objectives:

* After completing the certificate, successful students will be able to:

* Understand current patterns and trends related to displacement and global migration, including the number and characteristics of those on the move at global, regionally and national levels

* Understand differences among those on the move, including refugees, internally displaced persons, asylum seekers and others

* Articulate the causes of displacement and migration, drawing from both theory and empirical evidence;

* Describe the global refugee and migration governance frameworks and how they articulate the rights of people on the move and the responsibilities of origin, transit and destination countries;

* Assess the interconnections between international migration and other transnational issues, such as development, security and climate change

* Discuss and articulate strengths and weaknesses of the national policy frameworks governing the admission of migrants, control of irregular migration, protection of refugees and other forced migrants, etc.

* Understand the integration process of immigrants, and the resettlement process of refugees, in destination countries

* Learn how to ask and answer relevant research questions about these issues

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $4,995.00, 60 contract hours

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, March 13, 2020 5:07 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 3/13/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Opinions, 3/13/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here: http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Tight Labor Market Is Best Social Policy," Mark Krikorian
2. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, Steven A. Camarota, Jessica M. Vaughan, David North, and Jason Peña
3. "Where Do the Candidates Stand on This Radical Immigration Plan?," Dave Seminara
4. "Joe Biden and Illegal Immigration," Peter Kirsanow
5. "To Combat Coronavirus We Must Reduce Illegal Immigration – Supreme Court Help Is Vital," Brandon Judd
6. "The U.S. Census, Illegals - and Counting Congressional Seats," Bruce Hendry
7. "Air Travel From Europe to US to Shut Down Over Coronavirus. But What About Our Southern Border?," Daniel Horowitz
8. "Four From One Massachusetts Family Killed by 'Careless' Illegal Alien Driver in Florida," Daniel Horowitz
9. "E-Verify Doesn't Need to Reject Lots of Workers to Be Effective," Robert VerBruggen
10. "Supreme Court Hands Trump Immigration Victory, Allows Enforcement of 'Remain in Mexico' Policy," Steve Straub
11. "The Complicated Issue of Border Control," Stephen Strang
12. "Judge Nukes Trump's Promise to Protect American Graduates from H-1B Outsourcing," Neil Munro
13. "A New Migrant Wave Is Building, Criminals Included," Bob Dane
14. "Trump is Not Wrong. Mexico is Paying for the Wall," Matthew Tragesser
15. "Supreme Court Sides With Trump, Overturns 9th Circuit Block on 'Remain in Mexico' Policy," Nate Madden
16. "Virginia Lawmakers Pass Bill Giving Driving Privilege Cards To Illegal Aliens," Jason Hopkins
17. "Our Southern Border Is the Polar Opposite of a Quarantine," Matt Pinsker
18. "Consequences, Not Green Cards, for Young Illegal Immigrants," Lora Ries
19. "Residents Flee New York Due to Tax Burdens, Immigration Policy and Bail

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Reform," Richard Berman
20. "Biden on Trump's 'Campaign to Terrorize Immigrants and Assault the Dignity of the Latino Community'," Terence P. Jeffrey
21. "Left Howls After Trump Orders Detained Illegals to Give DNA Samples," Monica Showalter
22. "SAID IN SPANISH (Sort of): Hispanics Feel the Bern — With the Help of a 'Mexican Redneck,' Two Illegal Aliens, and Socialism," Allan Wall
23. "Yes, Mr. President, Border Guards Can Shoot Rock Throwers in Self-Defence," Federale
24. "This Day In VDARE.com History, 2016: Minnesota Somali Youth Orgs Get Funding for Expensive Play Dates to Prevent Jihad," Brenda Walker
25. "Congress Needs to Act on Dreamers as Supreme Court Considers Immigration Program," Ryan Costello
26. "The Immigration Debate Democrats Need," James Gibney
27. "America 'Is Desperate' for Labor Yet Is Taking in Fewer Legal Immigrants Each Year," USA Today
28. "Let's Show Congress How to Cooperate on Immigration Reform," Tim Busch
29. "Trump Is Hiking Up the Price to Become an American. It's Callous Harassment," The Washington Post
30. "ICE Is Ignoring a Simple Way to Slow the Spread of Coronavirus: Let People Out of Detention," Noah Lanard
31. "The Supreme Court Keeps Handing Trump Immigration Victories. They Just Did It Again.," Noah Lanard
32. "How the Coronavirus Is Impacting Immigration," Melissa Cruz
33. "As Coronavirus Spreads, Trump Immigration Policies Endanger Public Health," Raul Reyes
34. "Trump Is Hurting the Economy by Linking Coronavirus to Immigration," Ibrahim AlHusseini

1.

Tight Labor Market Is Best Social Policy

Mick Mulvaney's comments aren't just bad politics; they're also bad policy
By Mark Krikorian
USA Today, March 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.usatoday.com/story/opinion/todaysdebate/2020/03/09/tight-labor-market-best-social-policy-editorials-debates/5007172002/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

2.

CIS Immigration Posts

By Dan Cadman

ID Theft Ruling Opens the Door to Collaborative Enforcement ... If the Feds Seize the Initiative
March 10, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/ID-Theft-Ruling-Opens-Door-Collaborative-Enforcement-If-Feds-Seize-Initiative

DNA Collection Authority Comes to DHS Nearly 15 Years After Statutory Enactment
March 10, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/DNA-Collection-Authority-Comes-DHS-Nearly-15-Years-After-Statutory-Enactment

ICE Agents Make Arrests at a California Courthouse
Who's 'defying' the law? Hint: It's not ICE
March 9, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/ICE-Agents-Make-Arrests-California-Courthouse

By Andrew R. Arthur

The Wuhan Wakeup on Immigration and Border Security
A movie I have seen before
March 13, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Wuhan-Wakeup-Immigration-and-Border-Security

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Breaking News? ICE Makes Arrest in Front of California Courthouse, Officials Lose Minds

Stop the bloviation, before somebody gets hurt

March 13, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Breaking-News-ICE-Makes-Arrest-Front-California-Courthouse-Officials-Lose-Minds

SCOTUS Stays Preliminary Injunction of 'Remain in Mexico'

Thou shalt not punt to the Supreme Court — but Congress ultimately needs to act

March 12, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/SCOTUS-Stays-Preliminary-Injunction-Remain-Mexico

WaPo Botches Reporting on AG's Torture Decision

One-sided story fails to note that Barr simply corrected an erroneous BIA decision using prevailing case law and precedent

March 11, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/WaPo-Botches-Reporting-AGs-Torture-Decision

Cut-and-Run Meets Catch-and-Release

Alien who removed ankle bracelet arrested by ICE following release due to Philadelphia sanctuary policy

March 9, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/CutandRun-Meets-CatchandRelease

By Steven A. Camarota

A Revised Estimate of Birth Tourism

The earlier estimate was incorrect; the new estimate is 20,000 to 26,000 possible birth tourists a year

March 13, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Camarota/Revised-Estimate-Birth-Tourism

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Jessica M. Vaughan

Senate Action on Big Tech Green Card Bill S.386
March 13, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Vaughan/Senate-S386-HR1044-Country-Cap

By David North

Suspending the Payroll Tax Would End OPT Subsidy
March 12, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Suspending-Payroll-Tax-Would-End-OPT-Subsidy-Coronavirus

Using 10,000 H-2B jobs for the Northern Triangle to Keep 50,000 Families at Home
March 10, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Using-10000-H2B-jobs-Northern-Triangle-Keep-50000-Families-Home

The Flimsiness of Schools Allowed to Admit Foreign Students Is Revealed
March 10, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Flimsiness-Schools-Allowed-Admit-Foreign-Students-Revealed

By Jason Peña

A Second Migrant Caravan from Honduras Heads North
Guatemalan and Mexican authorities increase border security
March 13, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Second-Migrant-Caravan-Honduras-Heads-North

Guatemala to Screen New U.S.-Bound Migrant Caravan from Honduras for Coronavirus
March 10, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Guatemala-Screen-New-USBound-Migrant-Caravan-Honduras-Coronavirus

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Where Do the Candidates Stand on This Radical Immigration Plan?
By Dave Seminara
The Wall Street Journal, March 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.wsj.com/articles/where-do-the-candidates-stand-on-this-radical-immigration-plan-11583698193

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Joe Biden and Illegal Immigration
By Peter Kirsanow
The Corner at National Review Online, March 11, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/joe-biden-and-illegal-immigration/

Return to Top

****
****

5.
To Combat Coronavirus We Must Reduce Illegal Immigration – Supreme

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Court Help Is Vital
By Brandon Judd
FoxNews.com, March 7, 2020
. . .
https://www.foxnews.com/opinion/brandon-judd-to-combat-spread-of-coronavirus-we-must-reduce-illegal-immigration-supreme-court-help-is-vital

Return to Top

****
****

6.
The U.S. Census, Illegals - and Counting Congressional Seats
The real reason a state like California treats its illegal immigrants with so much respect.
By Bruce Hendry
FrontPageMag.com, March 10, 2020
. . .
https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/03/us-census-illegals-and-counting-congressional-bruce-hendry/

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Air Travel From Europe to US to Shut Down Over Coronavirus. But What About Our Southern Border?
By Daniel Horowitz
Conservative Review, March 12, 2020
. . .
https://www.conservativereview.com/news/horowitz-air-travel-europe-us-shut-coronavirus-southern-border/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

8.

Four From One Massachusetts Family Killed by 'Careless' Illegal Alien Driver in Florida

By Daniel Horowitz

Conservative Review, March 10, 2020

https://www.conservativereview.com/news/horowitz-four-one-massachusetts-family-killed-careless-illegal-alien-driver-florida/

Return to Top

****

****

9.

E-Verify Doesn't Need to Reject Lots of Workers to Be Effective

Very few people are dumb enough to fill out a form telling the government they're trying to break the law.

By Robert VerBruggen

The Corner at National Review Online, March 13, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/e-verify-doesnt-need-to-reject-lots-of-workers-to-be-effective/

Return to Top

****

****

10.

Supreme Court Hands Trump Immigration Victory, Allows Enforcement of "Remain in Mexico" Policy

By Steve Straub

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Federalist Papers, March 11, 2020
. . .
https://thefederalistpapers.org/opinion/supreme-court-hands-trump-immigration-victory-allows-enforcement-remain-mexico-policy?fbclid=IwAR2eM4TBQX_1bHHZ93t5uK-1PWtYSc0MHer3ft4RS6yx8y_phimXinSRGfU

Return to Top

****
****

11.
The Complicated Issue of Border Control
By Stephen Strang
Townhall.com, March 12, 2020
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/stephenstrang/2020/03/12/the-complicated-issue-of-border-control-n2564615

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Judge Nukes Trump's Promise to Protect American Graduates from H-1B Outsourcing
By Neil Munro
Breitbart.com, March 12, 2020
. . .
https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2020/03/12/judge-nukes-trumps-promise-to-protect-american-graduates-from-h-1b-outsourcing/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

13.

A New Migrant Wave Is Building, Criminals Included

By Bob Dane

ImmigrationReform.com, March 11, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/03/11/migrant-caravan-public-health-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

14.

Trump is Not Wrong. Mexico is Paying for the Wall

By Matthew Tragesser

ImmigrationReform.com, March 9, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/03/09/mpp-border-wall-mexico-i-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

15.

Supreme Court Sides With Trump, Overturns 9th Circuit Block on 'Remain in Mexico' Policy

'We are gratified that the Supreme Court granted a stay'

By Nate Madden

Conservative Review, March 11, 2020

. . .

https://www.theblaze.com/news/ready-supreme-court-sides-with-trump-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

overturns-9th-circuit-block-on-remain-in-mexico-policy

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Virginia Lawmakers Pass Bill Giving Driving Privilege Cards to Illegal Aliens
By Jason Hopkins
The Daily Caller, March 9, 2020
. . .
https://dailycaller.com/2020/03/09/virginia-grants-privilege-cards-illegal-immigrants/

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Our Southern Border Is the Polar Opposite of a Quarantine
By Matt Pinsker
Townhall.com, March 9, 2020
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/mattpinsker/2020/03/09/our-southern-border-is-the-polar-opposite-of-a-quarantine-n2564107

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Consequences, Not Green Cards, for Young Illegal Immigrants

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Lora Ries
TheHill.com, March 12, 2020
. . .
https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/487215-consequences-not-green-cards-for-young-illegal-immigrants

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Residents Flee New York Due to Tax Burdens, Immigration Policy and Bail Reform
The Empire State falls from grace
By Richard Berman
The Washington Times, March 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.washingtontimes.com/news/2020/mar/9/residents-flee-new-york-due-to-tax-burdens-immigra/

Return to Top

****
****

20.
Biden on Trump's 'Campaign to Terrorize Immigrants and Assault the Dignity of the Latino Community'
By Terence P. Jeffrey
CNS News, March 11, 2020
. . .
https://cnsnews.com/article/national/cnsnewscom-staff/biden-trumps-campaign-terrorize-immigrants-and-assault-dignity

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

21.

Left Howls After Trump Orders Detained Illegals to Give DNA Samples

By Monica Showalter

American Thinker Blog, March 8, 2020

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2020/03/left_howls_after_trump_orders_detained_illegals_to_give_dna_samples.html

Return to Top

****

****

22.

SAID IN SPANISH (Sort of): Hispanics Feel the Bern — With the Help of a "Mexican Redneck," Two Illegal Aliens, and Socialism

By Allan Wall

VDare.com, March 6,2020

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/said-in-spanish-sort-of-hispanics-feel-the-bern-with-the-help-of-a-mexican-redneck-two-illegal-aliens-and-socialism

Return to Top

****

****

23.

Yes, Mr. President, Border Guards Can Shoot Rock Throwers in Self-Defence

By Federale

VDare.com, March 12, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://vdare.com/posts/yes-mr-president-border-guards-can-shoot-rock-throwers-in-self-defence

Return to Top

****
****

24.
This Day In VDARE.com History, 2016: Minnesota Somali Youth Orgs Get Funding for Expensive Play Dates to Prevent Jihad
By Brenda Walker
VDare.com, March 12, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/this-day-in-vdare-com-history-2016-minnesota-somali-youth-orgs-get-funding-for-expensive-play-dates-to-prevent-jihad

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Congress Needs to Act on Dreamers as Supreme Court Considers Immigration Program
By Ryan Costello
The Philadelphia Inquirer, March 11, 2020
. . .
https://www.inquirer.com/opinion/commentary/daca-policy-dreamers-supreme-court-trump-administration-20200311.html

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

26.

The Immigration Debate Democrats Need

Trump wants to talk about illegal immigration, but the legal system is in desperate need of reform.

By James Gibney

Bloombery.com, March 12, 2020

. . .

https://www.bloomberg.com/opinion/articles/2020-03-12/democratic-debate-biden-and-sanders-need-to-discuss-immigration

Return to Top

****

****

27.

America 'Is Desperate' for Labor Yet Is Taking in Fewer Legal Immigrants Each Year

Donald Trump says America is full, but as the baby boomers retire, more workers will be needed to finance Social Security and Medicare: Our view

USA Today, March 9, 2020

. . .

https://www.usatoday.com/story/opinion/todaysdebate/2020/03/09/legal-immigration-can-ease-labor-shortages-editorials-debates/4931447002/

Return to Top

****

****

28.

Let's Show Congress How to Cooperate on Immigration Reform

By Tim Busch

TheHill.com, March 10, 2020

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/486048-lets-show-congress-how-to-cooperate-on-immigration-reform

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Trump Is Hiking Up the Price to Become an American. It's Callous Harassment
The Washington Post, March 8, 2020
. . .
https://www.washingtonpost.com/opinions/trump-is-hiking-up-the-price-to-become-an-american-its-callous-harassment/2020/03/08/382181f2-5f28-11ea-9055-5fa12981bbbf_story.html

Return to Top

****
****

30.
ICE Is Ignoring a Simple Way to Slow the Spread of Coronavirus: Let People Out of Detention
"This is a disaster waiting to happen and there's no reason it should be."
By Noah Lanard
Mother Jones magazine, March 13, 2020
. . .
https://www.motherjones.com/politics/2020/03/ice-is-ignoring-a-simple-way-to-slow-the-spread-of-coronavirus-let-people-out-of-detention/

Return to Top

****
****

31.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Supreme Court Keeps Handing Trump Immigration Victories. They Just Did It Again.

There have been more than 1,000 reports of asylum seekers being violently attacked while stuck in Mexico.

By Noah Lanard

Mother Jones magazine, March 11, 2020

. . .

https://www.motherjones.com/politics/2020/03/the-supreme-court-keeps-handing-trump-immigration-victories-they-just-did-it-again/

Return to Top

****

****

32.

How the Coronavirus Is Impacting Immigration

By Melissa Cruz

ImmigrationImpact.com, March 9, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/03/09/coronavirus-impact-on-immigration/

Return to Top

****

****

33.

As Coronavirus Spreads, Trump Immigration Policies Endanger Public Health

By Raul Reyes

TheHill.com, March 12, 2020

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/487187-as-coronavirus-spreads-trump-immigration-policies-endanger-public-health

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

34.

Trump Is Hurting the Economy by Linking Coronavirus to Immigration

By Ibrahim AlHusseini

Newsweek.com, March 12, 2020

. . .

https://www.newsweek.com/trump-hurting-economy-linking-coronavirus-immigration-opinion-1492046

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, March 17, 2020 5:46 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 3/17/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Events, 3/17/20

☘

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 3/18, DC - Book discussion: Humanity in Crisis: Ethical and Religious Response to Refugees - [Postponed to Fall 2020]
2. 3/18-21, Atlanta - National Council on Public History annual meeting - [Cancelled - alternative plans being made]
3. 3/24, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on evaluations of victimization in US asylum determinations
4. 3/24, New York, NY - Book discussion: The Shifting Border - [Postponed]
5. 3/25-28, Honolulu - Immigration at the International Studies Association annual convention - [Cancelled]
6. 3/26, DC - Discussion on assessing temporary-to-permanent immigration systems in Europe and North America - [Livestreamed only]
7. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention - [Cancelled]
8. 3/31, Fairfax, VA - Celebration of the contributions of immigrant entrepreneurs - [See event link for updates]
9. 3/31, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on the contexts of reception that make asylum seekers feel welcome in Germany
10. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration
11. 4/16-19, Chicago - Immigration at the Midwest Political Science Association annual meeting - [Cancelled]
12. 4/22, Los Angeles - Lecture on unaccompanied Moroccan migrant minors in Spain - [Cancelled]
13. 4/22-23, Edinburgh, Scotland - Immigration at the Association for the Study of Ethnicity and Nationalism annual conference - [New Listing]
14. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of fake news - [Cancelled]
15. 4/24, Pittsburgh - Lecture on a comprehensive approach to the issue of immigration - [Cancelled]
16. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law
17. 5/6-8, DC - Certificate program course on immigration policy

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

18. 5/21-23, New Orleans - Conference on aiding immigrant and refugee communities in the Southeast U.S. post-Hurricane Katrina
19. 5/13-16, Guadalajara, Mexico - Latin American Studies Association annual meeting - [New Listing]
20. 6/29-7/10, Brussels - 2020 Summer School on EU Immigration and Asylum Law and Policy - [New Listing]
21. 7/27-31, DC - Certificate program course on global displacement and migration studies - [New Listing]
22. 9/24-26, Portland, OR - Crimmigration Control International Network of Studies conference - [New Listing]
23. 10/5-6, Ottawa - Annual Canadian immigration summit - [New Listing - rescheduled from 3/13-14]

1.
Book Event: Humanity in Crisis: Ethical and Religious Response to Refugees

12:00 p.m., Wednesday, March 18, 2020
Arrupe Hall, Multipurpose Room
Georgetown University
3700 O Street NW
Washington, DC 20057
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/humanizing-migration-and-border-security-tickets-92994323525

Description: ISIM will co-sponsor a book event with author David Hollenbach, the Pedro Arrupe Distinguished Research Professor and ISIM Faculty Affiliate. Professor Hollenbach's new book is titled Humanity in Crisis: Ethical and Religious Response to Refugees, and it is published by Georgetown University Press. Panelists will include Anne Richard, former assistant secretary of state for population, refugees and migration; Alex Aleinikoff, former United Nations Deputy High Commissioner for Refugees; Clemens Sedmak, professor of social ethics at the University of Notre Dame, as well as Profesor David Hollenbach. More information soon.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

2.

National Council on Public History annual meeting

Wednesday-Saturday, March 18-21, 2020
Atlanta, GA
https://ncph.org/news/ncph-2020-in-person-meeting-in-atlanta-cancelled-alternative-plans-afoot/

NCPH 2020 In-Person Meeting in Atlanta Cancelled; Alternative Plans Afoot

After careful deliberation and consideration of the best information available at this time, given the unfolding outbreak of COVID-19, the NCPH Board of Directors and staff have concluded, with regret, that we cannot proceed with holding the in-person 2020 NCPH annual meeting in Atlanta, Georgia as planned (March 18-21, 2020). This decision, as participants surely understand, was not made lightly. We made this decision with the health and physical safety of our attendees, staff, volunteers, and vendors foremost in our minds.

Here is what attendees need to know right now:

1. NCPH's annual meeting will be held virtually to the greatest extent possible. More information will be provided over the coming days as we consult with presenters.

2. We recommend that you do not initiate your travel to Atlanta. If you are already en route to Atlanta, you should plan to return to your home.

3. Cancel your hotel reservations today, directly with your hotel, to avoid possible penalties.

4. We are following up with presenters via a separate email that will come from a board member.

5. The decision carries with it significant financial consequences for the organization, some of which will be discussed below. We will be considering the implications of a partial refund policy in the coming weeks. No decisions can be made about refunds until the total financial impacts of this decision can be assessed; please do not query the office on this point at this time.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

3.

Legal Standards and Moral Worth in Frontline Decision-Making: Evaluations of Victimization in US Asylum Determinations

12:00pm to 1:30pm, Tuesday, March 24, 2020
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/talia-shiff-legal-standards-and-moral-worth-frontline-decision-making-evaluations

Speaker:
Talia Shiff, Postdoctoral Fellow at the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs and Lecturer in Sociology at Harvard University

Return to Top

****
****

4.

Book Discussion: 'The Shifting Border'

Presented by Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School.

6:00-7:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 24, 2020
Theresa Lang Community and Student Center
Starr Foundation Hall, U L102, University Center
The New School

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

66 West 12th Street
New York, NY 10011
https://event.newschool.edu/bookdiscussiontheshiftingborde

Speaker:
Ayelet Shacher, Professor of Law, Political Science, and Global Affairs
Toronto University

Description: We tend to think of a border as a static line, but recent bordering techniques have broken away from the map, as governments have developed legal tools to limit the rights of migrants before and after they enter a country's territory. The consequent detachment of state power from any fixed geographical marker has created a new paradigm: the shifting border, an adjustable legal construct untethered in space. This transformation upsets our assumptions about waning sovereignty, while also revealing the limits of the populist push toward border-fortification. It also presents a tremendous opportunity to rethink states' responsibilities to migrants. This book proposes a new, functional approach to human mobility and access to membership in a world where borders, like people, have the capacity to move.

Return to Top

****
****

5.
International Studies Association Annual Convention

Wednesday-Saturday, March 25-28, 2020
Hilton Hawaiian Village Waikiki Beach Resort
2005 Kalia Road
Honolulu, HI 96815
https://www.isanet.org/Conferences/Honolulu-2020
http://web.isanet.org/Web/Conferences/Honolulu2020-s/Honolulu%202020%20-%20Full%20Program.pdf

Immigration-related sessions:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Wednesday, March 25, 2020

8:00-9:45 a.m.

Political Economy of migration

Closed Door Policy: Explaining the Wage Gap of Immigrants to the United States

Rita Boyajian Groh, University of Tennessee, Chattanooga

Estimating the Factors that Affect the Circular Flow of Skilled Migrants Between their Destination and Origin Countries

Esther Jack-Vickers, University of Massachusetts, Lowell

Italy's Silent Return to Emigration: Trends, Causes, Consequences

Francesca Fauri, University of Bologna and Donatella Strangio, Sapienza University Rome

10:00-11:45 a.m.

Climate Change and Migration

Environment-induced migration in the IR agenda: current challenges and urgent needs

Carolina de Abreu Basta Claro, University of Brasilia

Support for Climate Migrants or Rohingya? How Bangladeshis Donate to Local Humanitarian Charities

Rachel Castellano, University of Washington

Shifting gendered subjectivies: Everyday lives of Burmese climate-induced migrants in Thailand

Chung Ah Baek, University of Warwick

A fallout from 'good' citizenship?: Diversity, identity and participation at times of political crisis and stability

Effect of Dual Citizenship on Electoral Viability

Alice Yiqian Wang, Stanford University

The Right to Community Participation and Citizen Security in Colombia

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dáire McGill, University of Oxford

The gendered path to Brexit: masculine identity and Euroscepticism in the UK
Charloe Galpin, Birmingham University

Citizenship on timeout? Mapping youth perceptions of 'good' citizenship in the nexus of migration and social media
Nora Siklodi, Norwegian University of Science and Technology/University of Portsmouth

Moving, Walking, Blocking: Conceptualizing Mobility in International Relations

Necropolics and Forced Migration in Honduras, Guatemala and El Salvador. Violence as a device of death
Ruth Elizabeth Prado, ITESO, Jesuit University of Guadalajara

Securitizing and Desecuritizing Refugees during Election Campaigns: Categorization and Labelling of Mobility in Turkey
Sezgi Karacan, University of Ottawa

Challenges of Higher Education in the Global South - Panel

The Emergence of Higher Education Networks in the Global South
Jermain Grin, American University

The International Migration of Students from the Global South: Does it Reduce or Boost Social Inequality?
Uwe Hunger, University of Muenster

12:15-2:00 p.m.
Refugees and International Migration

Refugees, education and inter-community trust: New micro-level evidence from Rohingya Refugees living in Cox's Bazaar, Bangladesh
Gudrun Østby, Peace Research Institute Oslo (PRIO) and Kendra Dupuy, Peace Research Institute Oslo (PRIO)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Fear, anxiety and emotional security after the refugee wave
Chrisan Kaunert, International Centre of Policing and Security, University of South Wales and Joana de Deus Pereira, University of South Wales - United Kingdom

The Religious Left and Right: Attitudes and Action Regarding US Immigration Policy and Border Security in Houston, Texas
Joanna U. Kaan, University of Houston - Downtown

Conservation-induced displacement and the democratic deficits of global governance: a study of a village by the Sinharaja World Nature Heritage Site
Grace Cheng, San Diego State University and Upali Pannilage, University of Ruhuna

Restrictive refugee policies: A guarantee for local security?
Heidrun Bohnet, University of Geneva

Mexico's Perspective on the Central American migration Crisis
Carlos E. Juarez, Universidad de las Americas Puebla, Mexico and Juan Carlos Gachuz Maya, (UDLAP)

Discomfort in the Biopolical Heart of the State Apparatus? The case of missing asylum-seekers in Sweden
Anna Hammarstedt, Swedish Defence University

Moving people: adopting, interrogating and refuting governmental categorizations
Julia Morris, University of North Carolina, Wilmington

2:15-4:00 p.m.
Migration and Security in South Asia

Two Hard Places at Once: Pakistani Labour Migrants in the Persian Gulf
Zahra Babar, Georgetown University Qatar, Center for International and Regional Studies

4:15-6:00 p.m.
Regional Organizations and Human Rights

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

After Securisation: Militarisation of Governance of migration in the EU and Implications for the EU's identity
Muge Kinacioglu, Hacateepe University & Leiden University

The Dichotomy between Humanitarian practice and National Security: A comparison of EU and ASEAN migration issues.
Pakawadee Suphunchitwana, Ramkhamhaeng University

Foreign Influences on National Elections

Immigrants Political Preference and Social Democratic Parties: The Quantitative Analysis on Immigrants Voting in Australian Election
Juan Chen, University of Sydney

Managing migration: histories, actors, strategies

The Internal Migration Industry in Myanmar
Darshan Vigneswaran, University of Amsterdam

Turkey's reversed liberal immigration paradox: the logic and implications of Turkey's positive rhetoric on migration on the international stage
Juliette Tolay, Penn State Harrisburg

After Cologne - Gender, Body Politics, and migration in Germany
Sabine Hirschauer, New Mexico State University

The Shifting Context of Reception for Migrants to Japan: 1970-2010
Tristan Ivory, Cornell University

Thursday, March 26, 2020

8:00-9:45 a.m.
Banks and Borders

Migration and cross-border banking: The missing link?
Alexandra Zeitz, University of Oxford

IPE- Gendering International Political Economy

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Gendered Dimensions of Skilled Migrant Women: United States and Ecuador in comparative perspective due to the crisis in Venezuela
Maritza Figueroa, Pontifical Universidad Católica del Ecuador

The "Rights" Way to Care: How policies for migrant domestic work are developed
So Young Chang, GIGA German Institute of Global and Area Studies

Gender and migration

Environmental-induced migration in Mexico and Central America: A conceptual and empirical approach
Ursula Oswald Spring, National Autonomous University of Mexico

A feminist analysis of the 'embodied' experiences of Nepali women migrant workers in the Gulf countries
Hari KC, Balsillie School of International Affairs

The Personal is International: Transborder Movements and Abortion Access in the US-Mexico Borderlands
Andreanne Bissonnee, University of Quebec in Montreal

Consequences of the lack of intersectional public policies for women refugees: The cases of São Paulo and Rio de Janeiro
Mariana Almeida Silveira Corrêa, Universidade de São Paulo and Kelly Agopyan, University of São Paulo

10:00-11:45 a.m.
New Directions in Public Opinion about Foreign Policy I

Prejudice Towards Internal and Foreign migration: Combining List and Endorsement Experiments In Brazil
Feliciano de Sá Guimarães, University of São Paulo and Ivan Almeida Lopes Fernandes, UFABC

Cities in War and Peace

Cities, migration, and Insurgency in India's "Red Corridor"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Matthew Cobb, University of Arizona

Migration and the European Union

Turkey's migration management: Uncertainties arising from swift changes in the legal framework and the impact of the EU-Turkey Statement
Elif Çen, University of Cambridge and Yaşar University

The cultural and economic determinants of an-immigration attitudes and support for right-wing populism in Europe
Daphne Halikiopoulou, University of Reading

The not-so-hidden cost of the 'Australian model.' A warning for the EU
Fabio Scarpello, University of Auckland

Managing migration in the Central Mediterranean: SAR Missions, Disembarkment, and the Politics of Saving Lives
Gemma Marolda, University of Pittsburgh

Who Emigrates? Electoral Consequences of Emigration in Eastern Europe
Junghyun Lim, University of Pittsburgh

Security and violence in colonial and post-colonial contexts

Face recognition as a postcolonial practice for migration control
Flavia Guerra-Cavalcan, Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro

12:15-2:00 p.m.
Gender, Displacement and Dispossession in the Middle East

The intersecting experience of gender, displacement(s) and politics of migration: the case of Palestinian refugees from Syria in Jordan
Afaf Jabiri, University of East London

The 'Inherent Vulnerability' of Being Female: A Gendered Analysis of Morocco's Immigration Reform
Kelsey Norman, Baker Institute, Rice University and Carrie Reiling, Washington College

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Syrian Refugee Men and the Violence of Humanitarian "Vulnerability"
Lewis Turner, Arnold Bergstraesser Institute

Precarity, exclusion and everyday migrant struggles

Performing the perfect carer and ideal migrant. The ambiguity of female migration, role expectations and migrant agency in an age of global mobility.
Catherine Goetze, University of Tasmania and Georgia Spiliopoulos, University of Nongham, Ningbo, China

Everyday Meaning Making Practices of Refugees
Mehpare Selcan Kaynak, Bogazici University and Cansu E. Dedeoglu, University of Toronto

Shared spaces, disparate horizons: the (dis)similar struggles of migrant and native squatters in São Paulo, Brazil
Diana Thomaz, Balsillie School of International Affairs

The Ability to Exclude while Claiming Inclusion: The Role of Temporary Humanitarian Visas in Reproducing Precarious Migrants
Carla Angulo-Pasel, University of Texas Rio Grande Valley

From Poverty Porn to Humanization and Resisting the Trump Administration: Interrogating the US Immigrant and Refugee Rights Spaces Through Questions of Inequality, Diversity and Representations
Sabrina Axster, Johns Hopkins University

2:15-4:00 p.m.
People on the Move law, gender, and technologies of migration

Militarization, Infrastructure and migration Management: The EU`s new Agenda on migration and its Hotspot Approach in the Mediterranean Borderscape
Bilgin Ayata, University of Basel

International soft law and local immigration policies, perspectives from Mexico City and Buenos Aires
Adriana S. Ortega, Benemérita Universidad Autónoma de Puebla (BUAP)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Race and migration Policies in a Colorblind World
Andrew Rosenberg, University of Florida

The Masculinities of Humanitarianism
Lewis Turner, Arnold Bergstraesser Instute

Mitigating Fears of Being Outnumbered: Studying Singapore's Efforts to Maintain a Chinese Majority Amidst Increasing migration
Rebecca Grace Tan, University of Bristol

Forced migration

Forced migration from areas of limited statehood in northern Central America
Sonja C. Wolf, Centro de Investigación y Docencia Económicas (CIDE)

Transit migration and people smuggling in Asia, Africa and the Americas: a rich field for comparison
Antje Missbach, School of Social Sciences Monash University

Devolving anti-child tracking responsibilities to multinational companies: the big scam? Lessons from the field in the European Union and the Association of Southeast Asian Nations
Elisa Narminio, Waseda University & Université Libre de Bruxelles

4:15-6:00 p.m.
Plotting 'Return': Diasporas, Diplomacy and the Homeland

Kabootarbazi: Phantom Experiences, The Policies of Naming, and Illegal migration
Akta Kaushal, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa

Universalist and Particularist Diplomacy

Plyler v. Doe: The Fulcrum of Liberal American Immigration Policy
Dan Keller, Baylor University

Friday, March 27, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8:00-9:45 a.m.

Problematizing Migration

Messaging and Immigration Attitudes: (How) Can They be Improved?
Ken Stallman, University of Colorado at Boulder

The excess of migrants' experiences over modern political categories
Suzana Velasco, Pontifical Catholic University of Rio de Janeiro

Who chooses to leave? Heterogeneous migration decisions in conflict and non-conflict settings.
Jana Kuhnt, German Development Instute/Deutsches Instut für Entwicklungspolik (DIE) Constann Ruhe, Goethe-University Frankfurt am Main

Global migration Governance from Below? Civil Society and the Global Compact for migration
Stefan Rother, Arnold Bergstraesser Institute at the University of Freiburg

Environmental migration and conflict: Evidence from disaster induced displacement
Angela Chesler, University of Notre Dame

Borders and International Relations

Bringing sociology to the study of border security: a critical analysis
Cagla Luleci-Sula, Bilkent University

First Impressions at the Border: The Effects of Securitization at Europe's Frontier
Alice Vercelli, Northeastern University

Territorial Salience: A Better Predictor for Territorial War and Peace
Karthikeyan Thiagarajan, University of Central Florida

Innovating outside the 1951 Refugee Convention- A Comparative Study of UNHCR in India, Pakistan and Bangladesh
Kundan Mishra, University of Massachusetts Boston

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Queer/Trans Displacement in the United States and the Theoretical Borders of Forced migration Studies
Samuel Ritholtz, University of Oxford

New Borders to migrations In South Africa: How South Africa's use of carrier sanctions has created new actors and new obstacles to migration
K. Taplin, University of Ottawa

The informalisation of EU migration cooperation with third countries
Juan Santos Vara, University of Salamanca and Laura Pascual Matellán, University of Salamanca

10:00-11:45 a.m.
Power and Wealth in the Anthropocene: Bringing Illicit, Informal and Resource Economies into IPE

"We are not an Immigration Country!" Complex Political Economy, Gender, and migration in Germany
Sabine Hirschauer, New Mexico State University

The Many Faces of Populism

Immigration in the European mind: The confounding of migration from within and outside the EU
Maurits Van der Veen, College of William & Mary

Internal migration Politics 2

Staging the national Other: Internal migration within the EU and populist an-immigrant mobilization
Oliver F. Schmidtke, University of Victoria

Does Immigration from Eastern Europe Fuel Euroscepticism?
Dimiter Toshkov, Leiden University

Not local enough: Opposition to internal migration in Asia
Isabelle Cote, Memorial University of Newfoundland

Internal migration and support for separatism in southern Thailand

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Bethany Ann Lacina, University of Rochester

Human Rights, Gender and (In)voluntary migration: Human, Sex and Labor Tracking

Labor NGOs and Labor Tracking: Does the Spotlight Work?
Robert G. Blanton, University of Alabama at Birmingham; Shannon Lindsey Blanton, University of Alabama at Birmingham; and Dursun Peksen, University of Memphis

Sex Tracking and Women's Rights in India
Heather Smith-Cannoy, Arizona State University

Human Tracking and the International Labor Organization: Perspectives of the Global South
Ana Laura Anschau, Federal University of Rio Grande do Sul

Human Tracking and the Relationship Between Civil Society and Anti-Tracking Legislation
Rachel Castellano, University of Washington

Successful Human Tracking Investigations: Questioning the Law Enforcement Standard
Richard Ramm, University of Nevada Reno

Recent Developments and Challenges in Return and Circular migration: Focusing on Reintegration of Returned Emigrants, Migrant Workers and Refugees in Home Countries

Reexamining the Reintegration Policies and Practices in Assisted Voluntary Return of Refugees and Migrants from Europe ---the German Case Studies
Ryo Kuboyama, Senshu University

Swedish labour market integration of refugees: Is the right to work guaranteed?
Ikuko Sato, J.F., Oberlin University

Returning to their homeland after a protracted period of immigrant life:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Interrelationships between transnationalism and return migration among Filipino migrants in Italy
Itaru Nagasaka, Hiroshima University

Integration and Mobility: Complex Reality of migration in and from Africa
Mari Katayanagi, Hiroshima University

African Security Challenges

In search for common ground: conceptual, polical, and organizational dynamics of the migration partnership between the European Union (EU) and the African Union (AU).
Alice Musabende, University of Cambridge and Maria Chiara Vinciguerra, University of Cambridge

12:15-2:00 p.m.
International migration in an Integrated World

Into the Woods: migration and the Breon Woods Institutions
Merih Angin, Koç University; Albana Shehaj, Harvard University; and Adrian Shin, University of Colorado Boulder

Get Out: How Authoritarian Governments Decide Who Emigrates
Julian Michel, University of California, Los Angeles and Margaret E. Peters University of California, Los Angeles

Compacts and Declarations: A Two-Tiered Approach to Migrants and Refugees in Global migration Governance
Nicholas Micinski, ISA Rosenau Postdoctoral Fellow, Boston University

The Global Compact on migration: the role of the EU in the global governance of migration
Juan Santos Vara, University of Salamanca and Laura Pascual Matellán, University of Salamanca

Flexible Governance and Mul-Stakeholders Negoang the Global Compact for migration from the 'cheap seats' or the 'front row'
Nicola Piper, Queen Mary University of London and Jenna Hennebry, International Migration Research Centre, Wilfrid Laurier University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

International Legal Issues in Asia

An Emerging International Norm of Paid Voluntary Return or Remigration? The International Office for migration (IOM), The Netherlands, and Japan
Michael O. Sharpe, City University of New York

Spaces, Mobilities, Infrastructures II

Geoinfrastructuring border crossing and migrant (im)mobility
Polly Pallister-Wilkins, University of Amsterdam

Bordering practices: a contribution to theory and practice through the case of Hungarian-Serb border policing practices
Beatrix Futak-Campbell, Leiden University

Borders and Outsiders: Ethnicity and Biometrics in Border Control
Samah Raq, Yale University

States and Statelessness

Marginalized and Misunderstood: How An-Rohingya Language Policies Contribute to Persecution and Forced Displacement
Lindsey Kingston, Webster University and Aroline Seibert Hanson, Arcadia University

Cycles of violence: The protection issues facing stateless adolescent Rohingya refugees
Alison Brele, King's College London

Reexamining the Dichotomy between the Nation and the Foreign: The Analogy between Statelessness and Dual Nationality
Ryo Watanuki, Osaka University of Economics and Law

No place like home? Citizens, governance, and the sovereignty of disappearing States.
Selina O'Doherty, Queens University, Belfast

A Dualism of State Sanction: The Emigrant-Citizens of Egypt and Tunisia

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ahmed Khaab, Georgetown University

2:15-4:00 p.m.

State Responses to Sudden Demographic Change

Refugees: Accounting for South America's Puzzling Generosity

Sybil Rhodes, Universidad del Centro de Estudios Macroeconómicos de Argenna

Leadership Psychology and the Restrictiveness of migration Policy: A Cross-National Study

Dennis M. Foster, Virginia Military Institute

Modeling the Transformation of migration

Anne Marie Baylouny, Naval Postgraduate School

Roundtable

At A Crossroads: The Future of Comparative Immigration Politics

Disc. Jusn Gest, George Mason University, Part. Audie Klotz, Syracuse University Part. Harris Mylonas, George Washington University Part. Kelsey Norman, Baker Institute, Rice University

4:15-6:00 p.m.

Challenges to European Democracy

The Failure of Sea Rescue in the Mediterranean as an Expression of a Political Crisis of the EU

Patricia Schneider, Institute for Peace Research and Security Policy at the University of Hamburg (IFSH)

The EU and its sub-Self Others: The struggle against disintegration in the context of the ´migration crisis

Julia Simon, Helmut Schmidt University Hamburg

Queering IR

Everyday Racism Facing Queer Syrian Migrants and Asylum Seekers in Lebanon

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Razan Ghazzawi, University of Sussex

Middle East Feminism and its contributions to International Relations

The Syrian Refugee Crisis: Gendered migration During Conflict and Marriage Patterns
Carla Abdo-Katsipis, Wesleyan University

Narratives on migrations

Narraves of (be)longing? On the need to decolonise migration + refugee studies
Jasmin Habib, University of Waterloo

EU border and migration governance and NGOs: civil society partnership revisited
Satoko Horii, Akita International University

Expanding Theoretical Horizons: Studying Ethnic Diversity and migration in Postcolonial States
Rebecca Grace Tan, University of Bristol

The exclusionary violence of the forced migration: Venezuela´s case
Ivonne Tellez Patarroyo, Poncia Universidad Católica del Ecuador

Where are you from?: Identity and Interpretivism in migration Studies
Oanh Nguyen, University of Minnesota

Saturday, March 28, 2020

8:00-9:45 a.m.
Human Rights and migration

Safeguarding Human Rights through European Asylum Policy? An Ethnographic Investigation at a Greek Migrant Camp
Zoe Zahariadis, Vassar College and Nikolaos Zahariadis, Rhodes College

Divided Families: Impact of Family Reunicaon Policies on Syrian Refugees in Germany

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Isis Nusair, Denison University

Equal Rights, Unequal Access: Citizenship, State Capacity, and Access to Social Rights
Natasha Benne, University of Puget Sound

Movement and Belonging

Variation in Home- and Host-Country Attachments among Turkish Immigrants: A Comparative Analysis
Melanie Kolbe, Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies

Diaspora Mobilization, Political Engagement, and Rebel Group Violence
Nadia Eldemerdash, University of Nevada Las Vegas and Steven Landis, University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Opposing from afar? The activation and formation of transnational opposition against growing authoritarianism at home – The case of Turkey's Diaspora in Germany
Gözde Böcü, University of Toronto

Intersections of migration and Trade

Local Economic Benefits Increase Positivity toward Foreigners: Evidence from an Exogenous Influx of Chinese Foreign Capital
Steven Liao, University of California, Riverside; Neil Malhotra, Stanford University; and Benjamin Newman, University of California, Riverside

Job-Training, Ideas, and Values: Explaining the Link between Education and Pro-Immigrant Attitudes
Seungbin Park, University of Alabama and Kim-Lee Tuxhorn, University of Calgary

Firm Influence on Immigration in Comparative Perspective: The Power of Large Markets
Vivienne Born, Texas Woman's University

Disrupting Barriers: Automation, migration, and Trade
Eric Stein, UC Santa Barbara

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Migrants, Refugees, and Power Politics

Hyperpresidentialism, migration and International Relations: Understanding Regional Reactions to the Venezuelan Displacement Crisis
Soledad Casllo Jara, Universidad del Pacíco

Migration Diplomacy as Power Politics: A Typology of migration and Refugee "Deals"
Fiona Adamson, SOAS, University of London and Gerasimos Tsourapas, University of Birmingham

Safeguarding Dictators: EU migration Management & Authoritarianism in Africa
Kelsey Norman, Baker Institute, Rice University and Nicholas Micinski, ISA Rosenau Postdoctoral Fellow, Boston University

Refugees, Camps, and (Global) Governance: A Comparative Study of Refugee Camps Across Jordan
Rawan Arar, University of Washington

Governing Transit migration: A Relational Approach to Polycentric Governance
Maria Koinova, Warwick University

Non-State Approaches to the Politics of Ethnic Nationalism and migration: Korea from a Comparative Perspective

Talking of a Multicultural Korea: The Prospects for Transformational Change in a Homogenous Nation-State
Timothy C. Lim, CSU, Los Angeles

Pacifying Citizenship: Two Tales of Political Incorporation in Japan and the United States
Erin Chung, Johns Hopkins University and Jaeeun Kim, University of Michigan

Dusting Off 'North Korean Identity' and Embracing Cosmopolitan Identity: North Korean Defectors' Onward migration to Australia
Kyungja Jung, University of Technology Sydney

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

10:00-11:45 a.m.

Contextualizing the Chinese Communist Party's Foreign Influence Activities

Channeling PRC Pressure: Media, Immigration, and Institutions in Australia and New Zealand
Eric Hundman, NYU Shanghai

Global Perspectives on migration, Refugees and Sustainable Development - Panel

The migration and refugee 'crisis', international law, and the backlash against human rights
Ralph Wilde, University College London

Mainstreaming migration into National Development Plans: Perspectives from Kenya
Linda Oucho, African migration and Development Policy Centre

Leaving no one behind? Achievement of SDGs 3 and 17 in relation to migrants' access to healthcare in Mexico and the US
Valeria Marina Valle, Universidad Iberoamericana Mexico City

Universal Health Coverage and migration: The Challenge of Reaching the most Vulnerable in an African Context
Dêlidji Eric Degila, Ecole Nationale d'Administraon du Bénin & Graduate Institute, Geneva

Resistance and polical mobilisation within and across diverse geographical contexts

Mobilizing and Organizing Beyond Borders: Transnational Activism in the Vietnamese Diaspora
Duyen Bui, University of Hawaii at Manoa

Migrant Workers Activism as a Form of Resistance to migration Management: The Case of Italy
Aurora Ganz, St. Andrews University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A Continent on the Move! Migration in Contemporary Latin America, the Caribbean and the United States - Panel

Lan America's Pendulum Politics: Implications for Democratic Development in the Region
Emily Acevedo, California State University, Los Angeles

Escapando la "Tierra de Gracia": Venezuelan migration in era of the "Bolivarian Revolution
Miguel Tinker Salas, Pomona College

The Haitian Diaspora in Mexico
April Mayes, Pomona College

Loving, Loathing, and Leaving Honduras: Coups, Militarization and Displacement in Central America in the Trump Era
Suyapa Portillo Villeda, Pitzer College

Revival of the Far Right

"Lies about Migrants: Immigration policy in a me of 'post-truth' politics"
Beverly Crawford, University of California, Berkeley

The Le Behind: Emigration, Political Brain Drain, and Support for Radical-Right Pares in Europe
Paula Ganga, Columbia University and Filip Savatic, Georgetown University

12:15-2:00 p.m.
Internationalizaon, Researcher Mobility and Intellectual Exile: Shaping Institutions, Networks and Narratives beyond the Center Periphery Divide

Latin America and Syrian Conflict: Politics, Ideology and Immigration
Mehmet Ozkan, Center for Global Policy, Washington D.C.

Forced migration and Academics in Fragile Host Countries: The Case of Lebanon
Hana Addam El-Ghali, American University of Beirut

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Turkey's Academics in Exile: The German Experience
Ergun OZGUR, Leibniz-Zentrum Moderner Orient, Berlin

Of Dependencies and Opportunities: Reconstructing Transnational Networks of Scholars in Exile
Carola Richter, Free University Berlin and Florian Kohstall, Free University Berlin, Cairo Office

Identity and China

Debating Cizenship, Discussing Identity: The Children of Chinese Immigrants in Spain and their Artistic Activism
Nieves Romero-Diaz, Mount Holyoke College

East Asian Sociopolitical Challenges

Immigration Policy without Immigrants in East Asia
Erin Chung, Johns Hopkins University

The Accidental migration State: Taiwan's Transformation of the Immigration Policy in the Globalizing World (1949-1990's)
Yuki Tsuruzono, Waseda University

2:15-4:00 p.m.
Rhetoric and Politics

The Rhetoric of Immigration Enforcement
Kevin Cope, University of Virginia and Charles Crabtree, University of Michigan

The polical implicaons of South-South migration of Migrant Domestic Workers: Challenges for International Relations

Justified migrations from Central America: Asylum Caravans and Accountability Claims
Noelle K. Brigden, Marquee University

Race and Humiliation through the Kafala: the case of Ethiopian migrant domestic workers
Bina Fernandez, University of Melbourne

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

West African Domesc Worker migration to the Gulf: The case of Ghana as a 'newcomer'
Mary Setrana, University of Ghana and Leander Kandilige, Centre for migration Studies, University of Ghana

Title: Governing the migration of Domestic Workers in Asia: a Gender and Rights-based analysis of Bilateral Labour Agreements
Nicola Piper, Queen Mary University of London Jenna Hennebry, International migration Research Centre, Wilfrid Laurier University

Influencing International Relations from below: Philippine Migrant domestic workers as transnational political actors
Stefan Rother, Arnold Bergstraesser Institute at the University of Freiburg

Other Options, Other Worlds: Central American migration to Mexico
Marcus Boyd, University of Maryland

Forced Displacement: Causes and Solutions Using Novel Data and Methods

When to flee? Understanding patterns of displacement during the Lebanese Civil War
Tiffany Chu, Virginia Military Institute and Faten Ghosn, University of Arizona

Counterinsurgency Heuristics: Ethnicity and Forced Resettlement
Christoph Dworschak, University of Essex

The Effect of the 2015 Crisis on Attitudes towards Refugees in Europe
Lamis Abdelaaty, Syracuse University

An Examination of U.S. Refugee Policy Over Time
Rebecca Cordell, University of Texas at Dallas and Thorin M. Wright, Arizona State University

How do refugee crises end? Theory & Evidence from Syrian Refugees in Lebanon
Daniel Masterson, Stanford University and Ala' Alrababa'h, Stanford University

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Women and the Economics and Violence of migration

Migrant Domestic Workers: Immigration Policies Exacerbating Gender Inequality in Japan and South Korea?
Atsuko Abe, J.F. Oberlin University, Tokyo and Jihey Bae, J.F. Oberlin University, Tokyo

Labour migration from Central Asia to Russia: Economic and Social Impact on the Societies of Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, and Uzbekistan
Irina Malyuchenko, OSCE Academy in Bishkek

Dimensions of gendered violence in forced migration research
Cita Weerich, University of Freiburg

Violence Across Borders: migration, Gender, and Subjectivity Among Rohingya Refugee Women
Farhana Rahman, University of Cambridge

4:15-6:00 p.m.
Studying Identity in the Global South

The Lost Idenes: Understanding the victimisation of migrant women across the Asian countries
Tanushree Malakar, Jawaharlal Nehru University

The Politics of Power in Human Rights

Unveiling Citizenship and Immigration in Canada v. Zunera Ishaq
Herbert McCullough, Midwestern State University

Identity and Island Politics

How State Education Shapes An-Immigrant Attitudes
Boyoon Lee, Pennsylvania State University

The Political Legacy of American Occupation on Native Hawaiian Identity
Ngoc Phan, Hawai‘i Pacific University

Fighting for Hawaiian Home Lands: Challenges to Nave Hawaiian

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

sovereignty.
Ngoc Phan, Hawai'i Pacific University

Taiwan Naonalism and "One China": Examining Mainlander (waishengren) Identity
Junki Nakahara, American University

Internal Migration Politics 3

Those who leave Quebec: the politics of secondary migration
Mireille Paquet, Concordia University and Catherine Xhardez, Sciences Po Paris and Université Saint-Louis

Strangers in their Homeland: Internal Migrants in Soa, Bulgaria
Chris Kostov, Schiller University

Inequality and the Individualization of Social Rights in China
Alexsia Chan, Hamilton College

Research Note on Immigrant Youth Radicalization and Terrorism: Pre-and Post migration Considerations
Haval Ahmad, Aberystwyth University and Mambo Masinda, TSAS

Communicating Human Rights

Silencing through benevolence: Turkey's 'generous' Syrian refugee policy and its impact on the (dis)empowerment of refugees
Juliee Tolay, Penn State Harrisburg

Framing of immigrants and refugees during the EU's refugee crisis: Comparing framing of different categories of migrants across East Central European and Western European countries
Jan Kovar, Institute of International Relations Prague & University of New York in Prague

Indigenous Treaties, Custodianship, and Constitutional Recognition

Transforming External Sovereignty: Indigenous Assertions of Self-determination in Trade and Global Agreements, Defense, and Immigration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

in Canada and New Zealand
Sheryl Lightfoot, University of British Columbia

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Works in Progress: Assessing Temporary-to-Permanent Immigration Systems in Europe and North America

10:00-11:30 a.m., Thursday, March 26, 2020
Bipartisan Policy Center
1225 Eye Street NW, Suite 1000
Washington, DC, 20005
https://bipartisanpolicy.org/event/works-in-progress-assessing-temporary-to-permanent-immigration-systems-in-europe-and-north-america/

Speakers:
Cristobal Ramon
Senior Policy Analyst and Report Author, Bipartisan Policy Center

Julia Gelatt
Senior Policy Analyst, Migration Policy Institute

Daniel Costa
Director of Immigration Law and Policy Research, Economic Policy Institute

Moderator:
Theresa Cardinal Brown, Director of Immigration and Cross Border Policy, BPC

Description: Since the 1990s, a significant part of the reform debate on immigration has focused on whether the United States should change its legal immigration system to accept more high-skilled immigrants. President Trump and his congressional allies have argued that the United States should take cues from Canada and Australia and implement merit based systems that focus on admitting almost exclusively high-skilled migrants using a points-based assessment. However, the ways that workers on temporary visas can, or cannot, transition to permanent status rarely get discussed. When thinking about U.S. immigration reform, looking at other countries' approaches to establishing temporary-to-permanent pathways may give us insight into a path forward.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Join the Bipartisan Policy Center as it releases its latest comparative report looking at five employment-based immigration systems in Europe and North America, and what we can glean from these approaches, followed by an expert panel discussion. Coffee and light snacks will be served.

Return to Top

****
****

7.
The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE
Washington, DC 20002
http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

Immigration-related sessions:

8:05 a.m.
The Migration Cost-Remittance-Consumption Pathway: Implications of High Migration Costs for Human Capital Investment in Nepal and Pakistan
Esther Bartl, The World Bank Group; Laura Caron Georgetown University; and Sundas Liaqat, The World Bank Group

Abstract: South Asian economies are major sources of international migrant labor and have experienced positive development impacts from the process. However, these countries have some of the highest migration costs in the world, and there is limited understanding of how these costs affect household welfare and behavior. This paper focuses on Nepal and Pakistan, to address this gap. In these countries, households that receive remittances spend 11% percent more on education and health than non-remittance receiving households. However, the high costs of migration tend to dampen both the propensity to remit and the amount remitted: a 1% increase in recruitment cost may decrease remittances by 0.05-0.15%. Specific interventions, such as the elimination of visa costs for Pakistani migrants could increase remittances by 2.9-5%. Policies that reduce migration costs may have large and important impacts on household investment behavior, and therefore the economic growth and development of Nepal and Pakistan.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Celebrating the Contributions of Immigrant Entrepreneurs

4:00-5:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 31, 2019
Johnson Center, Meeting Room C
George Mason University
4400 University Drive
Fairfax, VA 22030
https://iir.gmu.edu/events/10711

Speakers:
TBA

Return to Top

****
****

9.
The contexts of reception that make asylum seekers feel welcome in Germany

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

12:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 31, 2020
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/rahsaan-maxwell-contexts-reception-make-asylum-seekers-feel-welcome-germany-0

Speaker:
Rahsaan Maxwell, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and for national and international politics

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

11.

Midwest Political Science Association annual conference

Thursday-Sunday, April 16-19, 2020
Palmer House Hilton
17 East Monroe Street
Chicago, IL 60603
https://www.mpsanet.org/conference

[CANCELLED as of March 17, 2020]

Return to Top

****
****

12.

Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain

3:00-5:00 p.m., Wednesday, April 22, 2020
Lydeen Library, Rolfe Hall West 4302
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14255

Speakers:
Susan Plann, Research Professor Emerita at UCLA in the departments of Chicana and Chicano Studies and Spanish and Portuguese and the author of Coming of Age in Madrid: An Oral History of Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors .

Abdellah Laroussi, social worker with Fundación La Merced Migraciones (Madrid), director of various residences for unaccompanied migrant youth, and prominent immigrant rights activist and spokesperson.

Description: According to Human Rights Watch, unaccompanied child migration is today the new normal; according to the Spanish press, it has now reached crisis proportions, and the great majority of unaccompanied foreign migrant minors in Spain are Moroccans. The topic of "Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain" is of importance for both European and African im/migration, and it also has significant implications for child migration to the U.S.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

During the first half of the presentation Prof. Plann will provide an overview of unaccompanied Moroccan child migration to Spain, including the motives for their migration, how it is accomplished, their reception on Spanish shores, their status under Spanish law, and what happens when these children come of age. She will also point out notable differences between their situation in Spain and that of migrant minors in the U.S. Spain's policy toward unaccompanied child migrants, which includes a path to citizenship, may seem an attractive alternative to the American model, but Prof. Plann argues that it also has its downsides.

The second half of the presentation will feature Mr. Laroussi, himself a former Moroccan child migrant who now resides in Madrid. Social worker with the foundation Merced Migraciones and prominent immigrants' rights activist and spokesperson, Mr. Laroussi will tell his personal story and analyze the current situation of unaccompanied migrant youth in Spain, with whom he works on a daily basis.

Return to Top

****
****

13.

30th ASEN Annual Conference: Nationalism and Multiculturalism

Wednesday-Thursday, April 22-23, 2020
University of Edinburgh
Edinburgh, Scotland
https://asen.ac.uk/events/asen-conference/

Conference programme draft - Immigration-related sessions

Wednesday, April 22, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9:00-10:30 a.m.

Welcome Ceremony and First plenary speaker: Bikhu Parekh

10:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

PANEL SESSION 1

Diaspora Communities: Long-Distance Nationalism in Situ

Indo-Trinidadian heritage: Toronto as a diaporic context

Kathleen Boodhai

Nationalism and politics among the Chinese diaspora in the UK

Oana Burcu

How Restrictive is Liberal Nationalism's Immigration Policy?

Ranjoo Herr

Rescaling Identity in Europe: Civilisationism, Self-determinism, and Multiculturalism

Other Brexit Imaginaries: Openness and the crisis of liberal Britain

Arshad Isakjee

Rescaling the border: Simulation, sovereignty and civilisationism

Paul Richardson

Challenges to Scandinavian National Identities

From Exclusion to Establishment: Researching Anti-Political Establishment Parties in Scandinavia

Johan Andersen

3:15-4:45 p.m.

PANEL SESSION 2

Social Perceptions of Diversity : Migration in European Nations

National/ European identities and attitudes towards migrant integration:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

findings from EVS-European Values Study
Simona Guglielmi

The perception of European migrant crisis by Danish minority in Germany and German minority in Denmark. A comparative analysis of media discourses.
Sergiusz Bober

Migration and national minority communities: two sides in the debate about multiculturalism and interculturalism in Catalonia
Mariona Lladonosa

What's in a name? Children of migrants, national belonging and the politics of naming
Marco Antonsich

3:00-4:30 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 3

Indeterminate status: the Global Refugee Crisis

Nationalism and Immigration in Greece and the Netherlands: a Comparative Perspective
Thanos Koulos

Creating "refugees" within: Challenges for multiculturalism in Japan where only 20 refugees are accepted out of 20,000 applications
Naoko Hosokawa

Syrian refugees in Turkey: Challenge to Nationalism
Cigdem Nas

New Approaches in Nationalism Studies

Beyond assimilation: the compliance – resistance theory
Manolis Pratsinakis

When the Methods are Madness: Researching with Refugees in the UK
Isabella Gabrovsky

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4:00-6:00 p.m.
Plenary speaker: Christian Joppke

Thursday, April 23, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.
Populism, Multiculturalism and Internationalism in Eurasia: Negotiating Empire and its Legacies

Russia reports Western voting: transnational nationalisms versus multiculturalism
Chatterje-Doody

1:30-3:00 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 5

Minority Nationalisms in the West

Immigration and the Imagined Community: Province-wide Norm or Local-level Realities in Quebec?
Antoine Bilodeau

European stateless nationalisms facing the challenge of multiculturalism. Insights from Scotland, Catalonia, Basque Country and Flanders
Paolo Perri

Migration, Minority Groups and the Politics of Multiculturalism in Japan and Northeast Asia

The politics of local multiculturalism in the age of superdiversity and resurgent nationalism in Japan
Sachi Takaya

Challenges and Possibilities of "Multicultural Japan" – The Emergence of Minority Representatives in Japan's Political Landscape
Seiko Mimaki

Territorial Disputes in Northeast Asia: Questioning the "national

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

consciousness" paradigm
Alexander Bukh

Cultural nationalism in multicultural Japan
Fumiko Takahashi

Book Panel: Struggle over Borders
Pieter De Wilde

Disputing 'One China': Cases from Hong Kong and Taiwan

One country, two identities. In search of Hong Kong's identity
Malgorzata Osinska

'I was discriminated against because I was seen as PRC-Chinese': The negotiation between ethnicity and nationalism among Taiwanese migrants in Australia
Yao-Tai Li

Representing the Nation in Media Discourses

Cultural Boundary Drawings of German National Identity in Migrant Integration Discourses
Anja Benedikt

Book Panel: Borderline Citizen: Dispatches from the outskirts of nationhood
Robin Hemley

3:15-4:45 p.m.
Beyond the Melting Pot: Ethnicity in North America

Melting the Pot: The Rise of 'Ethnicity' in the United States
Jaakko Heiskanen

The Oxymoronic Nation: Liberal Individualism and the Invention of Color Race and Ethnicity in the United States, 1880-1920
Reynolds Scott-Childress

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Muslim Minorities in Europe

Liberal citizenship, pluralism and Muslims in Europe
Nasar Meer

Spiritualising Reason, Rationalising Spirit. Ex-, Practicing, and Converted Muslim Public Intellectuals in the German Far-Right
Julian Gopffarth

Laïcité bien comprise vs. Laïcité compromise: Senegalese Muslims in France
Olivia Till

Questioning Perceptions of National Belonging with Discourse Analysis

Discursive constructions of national identity in the Gulf States: 'Deserving citizens' and 'undeserving migrants'
Idil Akinci

Cataloguing the nation: National canons and admission to citizenship in the Netherlands and Flanders (2006-2019)
Jan Rock

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speaker:
Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the University of London

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through 'golden doors'. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

Return to Top

****
****

15.
The Issue of Immigration in America: Moving Beyond Walls and Open Borders

4:30–6:00 p.m., Friday, April 24, 2020
Heinz College – Hamburg Hall A301
Carnegie Mellon University
5000 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890
https://www.heinz.cmu.edu/events/the-issue-of-immigration-in-america

Description: In the United States, the issue of immigration gives rise to controversy and conflict. This issue requires us to wrestle with challenging questions about many things, including:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Who should be admitted to the US as an immigrant (family members, skilled workers, etc.)?

How many people should the US admit as immigrants (should we increase, decrease or keep current levels)?

What rules should guide the immigration process (and how should these rules be enforced)?

How should we address the problems (social, political, and economic) that cause people to migrate from their home countries?

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Conference Program:

Monday, April 27, 2020

I. THE LEGAL MIGRATION FRAMEWORK IN THE EU – RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

9:45 a.m.
Recent legislative developments and key priorities for 2020-2021 in the EU legal migration system
Laura Corrado

10:45 a.m.
Update on the Community Code on Visas: Regulation (EU) 2019/1155 amending Regulation (EC) 810/2009
Dimitri Giotakos

12:15 p.m.
The post-Brexit UK immigration system and its impact on EU citizens

* Should business be worried by the drop in EU migration?
* Current assessment of adopted measures
* What additional challenges are to be expected by companies?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Solutions for cross-border workers after Brexit Annabel Mace

II. ASPECTS OF EU AND NATIONAL LEGAL MIGRATION LAW IN A BROADER LEGISLATIVE CONTEXT

2:15 p.m.

Investor citizenship and residence schemes in the European Union: the cases of Malta, Bulgaria and Cyprus

* Investor residence schemes and EU law on legal migration
* The link between investor residence schemes and naturalisation procedures
* Areas of concern
* Risks posed by investor citizenship and residence schemes

Jelena Dzankic

3:15 p.m.

Mobility rights for third-country nationals under the EU's migration directives: posted workers and EU intra-corporate transferees – how to differentiate and ensure compliance

* Main changes introduced by the revised posted workers directive
* Facilitating intra-EU mobility by the ICT permit
* Case law of the CJEU Matthias Lommers

4:30 p.m.

The new German skilled immigration rules

Marius Tollenaere

Tuesday, April 28, 2020

III. CASE LAW OF THE CJEU AND ITS IMPACT ON EU LEGAL MIGRATION LAW

9:30 a.m.

The right to family reunification and long-term resident status in recent CJEU jurisprudence

* G.S. and V.G. Joined cases C-381/18 and C-382/18
* Cases C-519/18 and C-706/18

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Case C-93/18: Right of residence of a third-country national who is a direct relative in the ascending line of Union citizen minors
* Case C-302/18: Conditions for the acquisition of long-term resident status
Doyin Lawunmi

IV. EXTERNAL DIMENSION OF LEGAL MIGRATION

11:00 a.m.
Developing and implementing alternative pathways for legal migration

* Socio-economic challenges
* Pilot projects for legal migration with selected third countries
* Legal migration pathways to Europe for low- and middle-skilled migrants
Silvio Grieco

V. FUTURE CHALLENGES AND OUTLOOK

12:00 p.m.
Reflections on EU legal migration law

* Assessment of the current situation
* Main challenges
* Ideas and suggestions for the future Kees Groenendijk

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-716 - Immigration Policy

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, May 6-8, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=29908153

Course Description: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

The course also examines policies related to forced migration, including refugee resettlement, asylum and temporary protected status. These issues will be discussed in a comparative framework, analyzing how other countries address issues affecting the United States. The course will examine the role of federal, state and local authorities in implementing policy reforms. It also examines the role of public opinion and various interest groups in affecting policy formulation.

Students will be required to write a 10-page paper, due after the course completion, on a specific reform issue.

Section Notes: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

18.

Building Just and Inclusive Communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama: 15 Years After Katrina

A Whole of Community Approach to Immigrants and Refugees

Thursday-Saturday, May 21-23, 2020
Loyola University New Orleans College of Law
526 Pine Street
New Orleans, LA 70118
https://cmsny.org/event/2020-whole-of-community-conference/

Description: The Center for Migration Studies' (CMS) Whole of Community Conference will be held this year at Loyola University New Orleans College of Law from May 21-23, 2020. At the conference, participants will explore the challenges facing diverse immigrant and refugee communities in local communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and elsewhere. The conference will feature best practices in supporting and defending these communities.

The Whole of Community Conference is a platform for community-focused collaborations among public officials, legal service providers, community organizers, community-based organizations, faith-based organizations, scholars, researchers, immigrants, refugees, and others in response to local and national immigration policies. The sponsors of this year's event will be CMS, Loyola University New Orleans College of Law and the Jesuit Social Research Institute / Loyola University New Orleans.

The conference schedule includes: optional site visits on May 21; and plenary panels and workshops on May 22 and 23. The conference fee of $50 includes lunch and refreshments throughout the event.

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

19.

Latin American Studies Association annual meeting

Wednesday-Saturday, May 13-16, 2020
Guadalajara, Mexico
https://lasaweb.org/en/lasa2020/

Conference program to be available soon.

Return to Top

****
****

20.

2020 Summer School on EU Immigration and Asylum Law and Policy

Monday, June 29-Friday, July 10, 2020
Université libre de Bruxelles
Brussels, Belgium
http://odysseus-network.eu/2020-summer-school/eng/

Description: While we celebrate the 20th anniversary of our summer school, it has trained more than 2000 persons and is well known among employers considering it as an asset for job seekers. This 20th edition will focus on the new pact on migration to be presented in April by the European Commission. The objective is to give to the participants a global understanding of the immigration and asylum policies in the EU from a legal perspective. The summer school is organised by the Odysseus Network for Legal Studies on Immigration and Asylum in Europe, founded in 1999 with the support of the European Commission. In addition to classes, the summer school provides an excellent opportunity to spend an intellectually stimulating time in a group of around one hundred participants specialised in the area of asylum and immigration from all over Europe. The location of the summer school in Brussels creates a unique environment facilitating participants' interaction with European institutions. Participants in the summer school typically includes PhD and graduate students, researchers, EU and Member State officials, representatives from NGOs and International Organisations, lawyers, judges, social workers,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

etc. The classes are taught by academics originating from all EU Member States collaborating in the framework of the Odysseus Network, and by high-ranking officials from the European Institutions, particularly the European Commission. You can discover the Summer School through this video: odysseus-network.eu/2020-summer-school

Subjects:

Opening lecture

Migration flows and statistics

Free movement of EU citizens

European institutional framework.

Implications of human rights

External relations and European migration policy

European Databases (SIS, VIS, Eurodac, etc.)

External border control

European visa policy

Immigration for purposes of work

Family reunification

Status and integration of third country nationals

Smuggling and trafficking

Return and readmission

Reception conditions for asylum seekers

European concepts of refugee and of subsidiary protection

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Member States responsibility

("Dublin mechanism")

Asylum procedures

Calendar and Schedule: The first general part of the program includes 14 hours of lectures and the second and third specialised parts on immigration and asylum 30 hours in total. Each day is generally done of 2classes of 2 hours, presented with a coffeebreak in between. In order to enable participants in full-time employment to attend the classes, courses take mainly place in the afternoon between 2 pm and 6:30pm.

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-744 - Global Displacement & Migration Studies

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Friday, July 27-31, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=31222947

Course Description: This course offers deep knowledge and information about the different groups of people on the move (labor migrants, refugees, internally displaced, asylum seekers, and others), and the multiple causes and consequences of such movements of people. It also provides a global overview of displacement and migration numbers and trends; drivers of population movements; impacts on origin, transit and host countries; and policy responses to population movements.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Specifically, the course will cover the major theoretical explanations underpinning displacement and international migration; global migration and refugee governance; differences and trends in national policies, especially refugee resettlement and labor migration; integration experiences of immigrants in host countries; and connections between migration and displacement and other issues as security, development and environmental change. Finally, the certificate will illustrate how research questions are answered in an effort to enhance existing knowledge and improve policies and practices.

Course Objectives:

* After completing the certificate, successful students will be able to:

* Understand current patterns and trends related to displacement and global migration, including the number and characteristics of those on the move at global, regionally and national levels

* Understand differences among those on the move, including refugees, internally displaced persons, asylum seekers and others

* Articulate the causes of displacement and migration, drawing from both theory and empirical evidence;

* Describe the global refugee and migration governance frameworks and how they articulate the rights of people on the move and the responsibilities of origin, transit and destination countries;

* Assess the interconnections between international migration and other transnational issues, such as development, security and climate change

* Discuss and articulate strengths and weaknesses of the national policy frameworks governing the admission of migrants, control of irregular migration, protection of refugees and other forced migrants, etc.

* Understand the integration process of immigrants, and the resettlement process of refugees, in destination countries

* Learn how to ask and answer relevant research questions about these issues

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $4,995.00, 60 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

22.

Crimmigration, Capital, and Consequences, 5th Biennial CINETS Conference

Wednesday-Friday, September 24–26, 2020
Lewis and Clark Law School
10015 SW Terwilliger Blvd #7768
Portland, OR 97219
https://www.law.ox.ac.uk/news/2019-12-17-crimmigration-capital-and-consequences-5th-biennial-cinets-conference

Description: The Crimmigration Control International Network of Studies (CINETS) is pleased to invite you to our fifth biennial international conference, which will be held in partnership with Lewis & Clark's 25th annual Business Law Forum. For the first time, Oxford-based Border Criminologies will join CINETS as a co-host for this event.

Crimmigration, the merging of immigration enforcement and criminal justice regimes, has rapidly become the dominant response to human mobility around the globe. Crimmigration has emerged, ironically, in tandem with growing economic globalization. For capital, national borders have virtually disappeared, while the walls, virtual and literal, are growing higher for workers and others who need mobility to thrive, and even survive. Race, ethnicity, and personal wealth matter in who gains entry. Are fairness, justice, and inclusion, values that democratic societies hold dear, to be available only on a members-only basis? What is the role of capital in fomenting human mobility and profiting from the barriers that governments are erecting to deter immigrants? How can we resist the bordering trend that works selectively against those most in need? This conference will treat crimmigration and bordering holistically as systems nested within economy and society in subtle, and not-so-subtle, ways.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We welcome individual and panel submission (fully or partly-formed). The conference also welcomes submissions for work-in-progress sessions, including potential Border Criminologies blog posts. To apply, submit a (maximum) 200-word abstract, with a tentative title and contact information. Please indicate whether you are applying for a papers-only panel or a work-in-progress/blog post session.

Deadline for submissions is June 15, 2020. Send your submissions and questions to Richard Adams at richardadams@lclark.edu.

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Immigration and the changing nature of work

Canadian Immigration Summit 2020

[RESCHEDULED FROM MARCH 13-14, 2020]

Monday-Tuesday, October 5-6, 2020
The Shaw Center
Ottawa, Ontario, Canada
https://www.conferenceboard.ca/web/canadian-immigration-summit-2020.html

Programme:

Monday, October 5, 2020

8:20 a.m.
Opening remarks—Building an attractive and welcoming immigration system

8:40 a.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Remarks—Remaining competitive in a disruptive economy

9:00 a.m.
Keynote -Radical innovation for greater social good

9:30 a.m.
Panel presentation - Global migration trends—Systems and policies

11:00 a.m.
Concurrent Sessions (please select one)

Concurrent A1: Fostering immigrant entrepreneurship

Concurrent A2: Long-term success of international students in Canada

Concurrent A3: Paving pathways for inclusion for skilled refugees

1:00 p.m.
Concurrent Sessions (please select one)

Concurrent B1: Using technology to help immigrants and refugees

Concurrent B2: Immigrant women and the fourth industrial revolution

Concurrent B3: In-camera session for employers—Talent solutions at the intersection of immigration and long-term prosperity

2:30 p.m.
Panel presentation - Attracting an immigrant workforce: Regional approaches to immigration in the new world of work

3:30 p.m.
Panel discussion - Innovation in the workplace—The employer experience

4:45 p.m.
Day 1 roundup

Tuesday, October 6, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8:15 a.m.
Remarks—Building a forward-thinking workforce

9:00 a.m.
Keynote - Innovative solutions: Can technology help transform the labour market, reskill workers, and support lifelong learning?

10:00 a.m.
Panel discussion - Business savvy with a global mindset: Employment in the age of increased migration

11:00 a.m.
Presentation - Remaining competitive through immigration and future-thinking

11:45 a.m.
Summit closing remarks

12:00 p.m.
Conference conclusion

1:00 p.m.
Optional Workshop Attracting international investment through business succession

****

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Heritage Foundation

From: The Heritage Foundation
Sent: Wednesday, March 18, 2020 10:07 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Seven Steps for Congress and the Administration to Address COVID-19

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Image

Read the full report here! If you have any questions or would like to schedule a call with one of our experts, please contact Scott Zipperle

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Image

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Wednesday, March 18, 2020 2:52 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: DHS Should Retract Expansion of H-2B Visa Workers

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DHS Should Retract Expansion of H-2B Visa Workers

Are these visas really essential to our economy?

By Jessica M. Vaughan on March 18, 2020

Due to public health and economic conditions caused by the coronavirus pandemic, the Trump administration should cancel the announced expansion of the H-2B unskilled guestworker program, the first batch of which is scheduled to be distributed April 1. Further, there is a good case for suspending admission of all temporary workers, with few exceptions, until the crisis subsides and the economy begins to recover. The State Department has suspended visas for many exchange workers, and DHS should follow suit with respect to guestworker programs under its management. Here's why:

1. Halting admission of these workers will help prevent further spread of the coronavirus (COVID-19) into the United States. There is no easy or effective way to be sure that arriving foreign workers and their families are not bringing the coronavirus. To eliminate the risk, the government would have to screen and/or quarantine them. Even if it were possible, taxpayers should not be on the hook for that. These programs fall into the category of "non-essential travel".
2. Equally important, increasing the number of guestworkers at this time would only add to the economic distress caused by the pandemic and public response to it. Businesses are being shuttered and many thousands of workers are losing their jobs. This mass dislocation is temporary, but some jobs may be lost for many months, and others possibly for good, so if employers have a genuine need for workers, there are many Americans now available to fill those jobs.
3. Many, if not most, of the employers who have filed for H-2B workers are in sectors of the economy that are hard-hit by this crisis, according to Department of Labor H-2B statistics. More than 40 percent of the workers requested are for landscapers and groundskeepers, which is hardly a job Americans won't or can't do — already, two-thirds of groundskeepers are Americans. A large share of the rest are housekeepers, food processors, amusement park workers, waiters, and cooks. It's pretty hard to make the case that these workers are needed now.
4. The H-2B visa deal with Guatemala has been unilaterally suspended. This year, in the fourth consecutive "one-time-only" expansion of the H-2B program, the Trump administration added a new twist, setting aside 10,000 visas for workers from the three Central American countries that are the main source of the influx of families and children arriving illegally at our southern border. The visa provision helped sweeten the deal for these countries to accept certain groups of migrants caught trying to take advantage of catch-and-release policies. Now Guatemala has announced that it will cease accepting these migrants, and apparently other deportees, due to the coronavirus situation. So the administration should feel released from any obligation to offer the H-2B visas as a way to help address the border crisis.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The H-2B program is an extraneous visa category that displaces Americans, exploits workers, contributes to illegal settlement, and now presents a public-health threat. The president should start by canceling the 2020 expansion, and then suspend other temporary worker admissions. Besides helping to prevent the spread of the coronavirus, shutting off the flow of visa workers will help get more Americans back to work. This is an opportunity to see just how essential to our economy these visas really are.

Related Articles:

The H-2B Visa and Markets
The Impact of H-2B Guestworkers

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, March 19, 2020 6:52 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 3/19/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Reading, 3/19/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here: http://cis.org/donate

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. State Department Visa Bulletin - April 2020
2. DHS immigration statistics on adjustment of status, permanent residents, naturalized citizens
3. Latest articles from CBP Frontline Magazine
4. CRS reports on immigration enforcement and the anti-commandeering doctrine, sanctuary jurisdictions, and immigration generally
5. GAO reports on DHS and HHS procedures for dealing with processing of detained families
6. FRB-Dallas report on the immigration and the future of the U.S. labor market
7. U.S. Supreme Court order in DHS v. Innovation Law Lab re remain in Mexico policy
8. Norway: Statistics on births to immigrant parents
9. Sweden: Report on emigration and foreign parentage
10. U.K.: Report on settlement granting status to E.U. citizens
11. U.K.: Migration statistics quarterly report
12. Belgium: Statistics on naturalizations during December 2019
13. Slovak Rep.: Population statistics
14. Australia: Monthly statistics on overseas arrivals and departures
15. N.Z.: Statistical tables on migration for January 2020

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

16. SCOTUSblog report on Supreme Court order on remain in Mexico case
17. Rasmussen Reports weekly immigration index
18. Two new working papers from the National Bureau of Economic Research
19. Two new features from the Migration Policy Institute
20. Eight new papers from the Social Science Research Network
21. Twenty-four new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
22. CATO Institute policy brief on H-2A visas for agriculture
23. World Bank working paper on returns to low-skilled international migration
24. "International Migration and Work: Charting an Ethical Approach to the Future"
25. Three reports from the Scalabrini Center/Institute

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

BOOKS

26. Defend the Border and Save Lives: Solving Our Most Important Humanitarian and Security Crisis
27. Crisis on the Border: An Eyewitness Account of Illegal Aliens, Violent Crime, and Cartels
28. Banned: Immigration Enforcement in the Time of Trump
29. The Global Governed?: Refugees as Providers of Protection and Assistance
30. Justice for People on the Move: Migration in Challenging Times
31. What Do We Owe to Refugees?
32. Migrating to Prison: America's Obsession with Locking Up Immigrants
33. The Undocumented Americans

JOURNALS

34. Citizenship Studies
35. Comparative Migration Studies
36. CSEM Newsletter
37. Demography
38. Ethnic and Racial Studies
39. International Migration
40. International Migration Review
41. Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
42. Journal on Migration and Human Security
43. Migration Studies

1.

Visa Bulletin For April 2020

Vol. X, No. 40

. . .

https://travel.state.gov/content/dam/visas/Bulletins/visabulletin_april2020.pdf

Return to Top

****

****

2.

Legal Immigration and Adjustment of Status Report Fiscal Year 2019,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Quarter 4
DHS Office of Immigration Statistics, March 4, 2020
https://www.dhs.gov/immigration-statistics/special-reports/legal-immigration

Profiles on Lawful Permanent Residents: Fiscal Year 2018
February 3, 2020
. . .
https://www.dhs.gov/profiles-lawful-permanent-residents-fiscal-year-2018

Profiles on Naturalized Citizens
February 3, 2020
. . .
https://www.dhs.gov/profiles-naturalized-citizens

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Frontline Magazine
Vol. 11, No. 3, Winter 2020
https://www.cbp.gov/frontline

Latest articles:

Border Crisis: CBP Fights Child Exploitation
Without a choice, thousands of children are forced to make a perilous journey
By John Davis
. . .
https://www.cbp.gov/frontline/border-crisis-cbp-fights-child-exploitation

Protecting the Innocent
CBP serves as frontline defense against human trafficking and forced labor
By John Davis
. . .
https://www.cbp.gov/frontline/protecting-innocent

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

4.

New from the Congressional Research Service

Immigration Enforcement & the AntiCommandeering Doctrine: Recent Litigation on State Information-Sharing Restrictions
CRS Legal Sidebar, March 10, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/LSB10386.pdf

"Sanctuary" Jurisdictions: Policy Overview
February 21, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/IF11438.pdf

Immigration
February 18, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/IF10520.pdf

Return to Top

****

****

5.

New from the General Accountability Office

Southwest Border: Actions Needed to Address Fragmentation in DHS's Processes for Apprehended Family Members
GAO-20-274, Published February 19, 2020, Releases Released: March 18, 2020
Report: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/704710.pdf
Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/704709.pdf

Southwest Border: Actions Needed to Improve DHS Processing of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Families and Coordination between DHS and HHS
GAO-20-245, Published February 19, 2020, Releases Released: March 18, 2020
Report: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/704683.pdf
Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/704684.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

6.
How Does Immigration Fit into the Future of the U.S. Labor Market?
By Pia M. Orrenius, Madeline Zavodny, and Stephanie Gullo
FRB-Dallas Working Paper No. 2005, March 2020
. . .
https://doi.org/10.24149/wp2005

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Wolf, Sec. of Homeland, et al. v. Innovation Law Lab, et al.
Supreme Court of the United States, No. 19A960
Issued March 11, 2020
. . .
https://www.supremecourt.gov/orders/courtorders/031120zr_19m2.pdf

Ruling: The application for stay presented to Justice Kagan and by her referred to the Court is granted, and the district court's April 8, 2019 order granting a preliminary injunction is stayed pending the timely filing and disposition of a petition for a writ of certiorari. Should the petition for a writ of certiorari be denied, this stay shall terminate automatically. In the event the petition for a writ of certiorari is granted, the stay shall terminate upon the sending down of the judgment of this Court. Justice Sotomayor would deny the application.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Immigrants and Norwegian-born to immigrant parents
Statistics Norway, March 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.ssb.no/en/befolkning/statistikker/innvbef/aar

Summary:
790,497 immigrants

See table for comprehensive statistics.

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Persons with foreign born parents more likely to emigrate
Statistics Sweden, March 5, 2020
. . .
https://www.scb.se/en/finding-statistics/statistics-by-subject-area/population/population-projections/demographic-analysis-demog/pong/statistical-news/migration-childbearing-and-mortality-among-persons-born-19702018-based-on-parents-country-of-birth/

Summary: The proportion of persons who emigrate varies based on their parents' country of birth, and is largest among persons with two foreign born parents. A new report from Statistics Sweden examines certain demographic differences among Swedish born persons based on their parents' country of birth, with regard to matters such as childbearing, emigration, mortality.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Statistics Sweden produces a projection of Sweden's population every year. Assumptions are made on the future development of childbearing, migration and mortality among foreign born persons and Swedish born persons. A question at issue concerns whether or not assumptions on the Swedish born population should take into account parents' country of birth, as a growing number of people have foreign born parents.

Growing number of people with parents born outside Europe

The proportion of newborn infants with at least one foreign born parent more than doubled, from 16 percent to 38 percent, between 1970 and 2018. At the same time, the structure of the group of persons with foreign born parents has changed. The number of persons with parents born in the Nordic countries has declined and the number of persons with parents born in Europe or the rest of the world has increased.

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Three million granted status under the EU Settlement Scheme
U.K. Home Office, March 19, 2020
. . .
https://www.gov.uk/government/news/three-million-granted-status-under-the-eu-settlement-scheme

Summary: Detailed official statistics show there have been more than 3.34 million applications to the scheme up to the end of February 2020 with more than 3 million applications from England, 166,300 from Scotland, 54,500 from Wales and 55,400 from Northern Ireland.

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

11.

Migration Statistics Quarterly Report: February 2020

U.K. Office of National Statistics, February 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.ons.gov.uk/peoplepopulationandcommunity/populationandmigration/internationalmigration/bulletins/migrationstatisticsquarterlyreport/february2020

Summary: - 3. Main points

To fully understand long-term international migration trends, we need to consider all available data sources. Throughout this report, we provide our best assessment of migration trends given data availability.

In the year ending September 2019, long-term international migration continued to add to the UK population, as an estimated 240,000 more people moved to the UK with an intention to stay for 12 months or more than left the UK (net migration). Over the year, 642,000 people moved to the UK (immigration) and 402,000 people left the UK (emigration).

Long-term net migration, immigration and emigration have remained broadly stable since the end of 2016. However, there are different patterns for EU and non-EU migration – both overall and by main reason for migration.

Since 2016, there has been a decrease in immigration for work, but recently levels have remained broadly stable. Over the same period, immigration for study has been gradually increasing.

Return to Top

****

****

12.

2,622 naturalisations in December

Statistics Belgium, March 5, 2020

. . .

https://statbel.fgov.be/en/themes/population/changes-nationality

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Summary: In December 2019, 2,622 persons obtained the Belgian nationality. The main countries of origin of naturalised Belgians in December are Morocco, Romania, Italy, Poland and The United Kingdom.

Return to Top

****

****

13.

Stock of the population in the SR on 31 December 2019

Statistical Office of the Slovak Republic, March 6, 2020

. . .

https://slovak.statistics.sk/wps/portal/ext/products/informationmessages/inf_sprava_detail/!ut/p/z1/rZNNI5owFIb_ynThMuaSD0KW6Jnxo-o5jNXRbHpCAKUKOJlyY399oy46XUBnUTaEw31f3nvvA1Z4g1Wpm3ynbV6V-uiet8r_HolJMBh4IcBgRmEy_bpcjIdPZLTieI0VVqa0J7vH2yqu9R6lJcrLDOmD7YE7VOfCuTVliurTWTeXHjR1ag_uDoQTzwiBYqkZYimjSApBkOAiNpmfJUHgXe1PJk_wIuqMJlnUiBuuETNGlil16nSZNoYRX8cSv9zyhlEULWfrNYzW5Akm1BvBYrVy6X2sutu564ejcMzEDCCYjThMwvHqWUaUQkhv-g77ux5arhA-p-8IqLrtl2npPNStrKuLf_mozqDffLx1QUVrwbObZJOnb3hVXtd_xMs_e-QZ9yhhgLIk9RFjhiBJdOC2nsWGgEep4XgMeIpVHhf9N1P0oS89wnwZ-Nwn4M70CiY5z4fznbPVdn8IrsKbg7b6WO0ePmB3MfuHG3hXSf7j9VWFDtiqtOm7xZs7sfWhB7V15Qbd3pSO3NO5Sn4e7KWF4c4v3YfTtkVPtA_nU5D_NRkRCKBCBIww6XNKO9r8vz_mqSgCesnzHE0fs_kjZSq-0F-DBVLbL78BX0Rsrg!!/dz/d5/L2dBISEvZ0FBIS9nQSEh/

Summary: The Slovak Republic had 5,457,873 inhabitants as of December 31, 2019.

There were 14,092 live births and 13,792 deaths in the SR in the 4th quarter of 2019.

The natural increase reached the value of 300 persons.

The net foreign migration reached 1,211 persons (there were 1,927 immigrants and 716 emigrants).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The total increase of the population of the Slovak Republic was 1,511 persons.

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Overseas Arrivals and Departures, Australia, January 2020
Australian Bureau of Statistics, March 16, 2020
. . .
https://www.abs.gov.au/ausstats/abs@.nsf/mf/3401.0?OpenDocument

Summary: January 2020 trend estimates for short-term trips:

Overseas visitor arrivals to Australia increased 0.1% since the previous month to 788,900 trips

Australian resident returns from overseas increased 0.4% since the previous month to 969,400 trips.

Return to Top

****
****

15.
International migration: January 2020 – Infoshare tables
Statistics New Zealand, March 15, 2020
. . .
https://www.stats.govt.nz/information-releases/international-migration-january-2020-infoshare-tables

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

16.

Court grants government's request to enforce "remain in Mexico" policy

By Amy Howe

SCOTUSblog, March 11, 2020

. . .

https://www.scotusblog.com/2020/03/court-grants-governments-request-to-enforce-remain-in-mexico-policy/

Summary: Today the Supreme Court granted the Trump administration's application for permission to enforce the Migrant Protection Protocols, colloquially known as the "remain in Mexico" policy, while it appeals to the Supreme Court. Announced in December 2018, the policy allows the Department of Homeland Security to return immigrants seeking asylum to Mexico while they wait for deportation proceedings. Justice Sonia Sotomayor was the only justice to note publicly that she would have denied the government's request.

. . .

In a brief written order this afternoon, the Supreme Court gave the federal government the go-ahead to continue to enforce the policy while it appeals to the Supreme Court and, if the justices grant review, until the justices can hear oral argument and issue their decision on the merits. A spokesperson for the Department of Justice praised the ruling, writing that today's stay "prevents a district court injunction from impairing the security of our borders and the integrity of our immigration system. The Migrant Protection Protocols, implemented pursuant to express authority granted by Congress decades ago, have been critical to restoring the government's ability to manage the Southwest border and to work cooperatively with the Mexican government to address illegal immigration."

Return to Top

****

****

17.

Rasmussen Reports Weekly Immigration Index

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

March 17, 2020

. . .

https://www.rasmussenreports.com/public_content/politics/immigration_index/immigration_index_mar17

Excerpt: Similarly consistent from week to week is the 59% who think legal immigrants should only be allowed to bring their spouse and minor children with them. Thirty percent (30%) favor allowing these immigrants to eventually bring in other adult relatives in a process than can include extended family and their spouses' families which has been U.S. immigration policy for years. Twelve percent (12%) are undecided.

The Census Bureau projects that current immigration policies are responsible for most U.S. population growth and will add 75 million people over the next 40 years. Most voters still want to slow that growth. In terms of the effect on the overall quality of life in the United States, 32% want to continue immigration-driven population growth at the current levels. But 45% favor slowing down immigration-driven population growth, while 13% want to have no such population growth at all. Ten percent (10%) are undecided.

Return to Top

****

****

18.

New from the National Bureau of Economic Research

Immigration and Worker-Firm Matching

By Gianluca Orefice and Giovanni Peri

NBER Working Paper No. 26860, March 2020

. . .

https://www.nber.org/papers/w26860

Integrating Refugees: Language Training or Work-First Incentives?

By Jacob Nielsen Arendt, Iben Bolvig, Mette Foged, Linea Hasager, and Giovanni Peri

NBER Working Paper No. 26834, March 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.nber.org/papers/w26834

Return to Top

****
****

19.
New from the Migration Policy Institute

Which English Learners Count When? Understanding State EL Subgroup Definitions in ESSA Reporting
By Julie Sugarman
MPI Policy Brief, March 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/state-english-learner-subgroup-definitions-essa

As Governments Build Advanced Surveillance Systems to Push Borders Out, Will Travel and Migration Become Unequal for Some Groups?
By Carlyn Greenfield
Migration Information Source Feature, March 11, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/governments-build-advanced-surveillance-systems

Return to Top

****
****

20.
New from the Social Science Research Network

1. The Habeas Petition, And Other Options for Immigrants, in the Federal Courts

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Curtis Doebbler, Independent; Geoffrey A. Hoffman, University of Houston Law Center; and Javier Maldonado, Independent
State Bar of Texas, Federal Immigration in Litigation, Ch. 7, Forthcoming
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3556720

2. Increasing Immigrant Inclusion: Family History, Empathy, and Immigration in the United States
By Scott Williamson, Stanford University; Claire L. Adida, University of California, San Diego (UCSD); Adeline Lo, Princeton University; Melina Platas New York University Abu Dhabi; Lauren Prather, Stanford University Department of Political Science; and Seth H. Werfel, Stanford University, Department of Political Science
Immigration Policy Lab, Working Paper No. 20-01, February 202
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3541943
https://immigrationlab.org/working-paper-series/increasing-immigrant-inclusion-family-history-empathy-immigration-united-states/

3. Barricading the Immigration Courts
By Jennifer Lee Koh, University of California, Irvine School of Law
69 Duke Law Journal Online 48, 2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3537209
https://dlj.law.duke.edu/2020/02/barricadingcourts/

4. The Effects of High-Skilled Immigration on Choice of College Major, Occupation, and Earnings
Murat Demirci, Koc University Department of Economics
Posted March 16, 2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3541717

5. Citizenship Denied: Implications of the Naturalization Backlog for Noncitizens in the Military
By Ming Hsu Chen, University of Colorado Law School
Denver Law Review, Vol. 97, 2020
U of Colorado Law Legal Studies Research Paper No. 20-8
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3547114

6. Lawyers for the Undocumented: Addressing a Split Circuit Dilemma for Asylum-Seekers
By Jayanth K. Krishnan, Indiana University Maurer School of Law
Ohio State Law Journal, (2020, Forthcoming)
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3550611

7. Immigrants and the U.S. Wage Distribution
By Vasil I. Yasenov, Immigration Policy Lab
Upjohn Institute working paper; 20-320
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3537685
https://research.upjohn.org/up_workingpapers/320/

8. International Migration Management in the Age of Artificial Intelligence
By Ana Beduschi, University of Exeter
Migration Studies, Forthcoming
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3536851
https://academic.oup.com/migration/advance-article/doi/10.1093/migration/mnaa003/5732839

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

1. ICE to stop most immigration enforcement inside U.S.
March 19, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/ice-to-stop-most-immigration-enforcement-inside-us.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2. Migrants at US-Mexico border must get past cartels before their long journey ends
March 18, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/migrants-at-us-mexico-border-must-get-past-cartels-before-their-long-journey-ends.html

3. Border Patrol Labor Leader: Coronavirus pandemic requires US to adopt new policy to quickly deport illegal immigrants, Trump administration weighing sealing the southern border
March 18, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/brandon-judd-coronavirus-pandemic-requires-us-to-adopt-new-policy-to-quickly-deport-illegal-immigrants.html

4. USCIS suspending in-person services at field offices in response to covid-19
March 17, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/uscis-suspending-in-person-services-at-field-offices-in-response-to-covid-19.html

5. Reversal of Fortune? Mexico Concerned with Migration from the North
March 17, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/reversal-of-fortune-mexico-concerned-with-migration-from-the-north.html

6. Biden, Sanders Address Immigration at Democratic Presidential Debate
March 16, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/biden-sanders-address-immigration-at-democratic-presidential-debate.html

7. U.S. Removals Continue As Central America Prepares For Coronavirus
March 15, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/us-removals-continue-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

as-central-america-prepares-for-coronavirus.html

8. Remain in Mexico Policy: The Few Let In To Wait
March 15, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/remain-in-mexico-policy-the-few-let-in-to-wait.html

9. Immigration court hearings delayed, one court shut
March 14, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/immigration-court-hearings-delayed-one-court-shut.html

10. Global Migration On Pause for Coronavirus
March 13, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/global-migration-on-pause-for-coronavirus.html

11. Coronavirus could pose serious concern in ICE jails, immigration courts
March 13, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/coronavirus-could-pose-serious-concern-in-ice-jails-immigration-courts.html

12. America Leads and Others Follow… By Building Detention Camps
March 12, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/america-leads-and-others-follow-by-building-detention-camps.html

13. Economism or Humanitarianism? Sanders v. Biden
March 12, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/economism-or-humanitarianism-sanders-v-biden.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

14. Presidential Proclamation—Suspension of Entry as Immigrants and Nonimmigrants of Certain Additional Persons Who Pose a Risk of Transmitting 2019 Novel Coronavirus
March 12, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/presidential-proclamationsuspension-of-entry-as-immigrants-and-nonimmigrants-of-certain-additional-p.html

15. Public charge rule could add to visa denial surge
March 11, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/public-charge-rule-could-add-to-visa-denial-surge.html

16. US Supreme Court weighs Trump's emergency request on "remain in Mexico" policy UPDATE: Court Stays Injunction, Policy to go into effect
March 11, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/us-supreme-court-weighs-trumps-emergency-request-on-remain-in-mexico-policy.html

17. Darkside Discretion in Immigration Cases
By Shoba Sivaprasad Wadhia
March 11, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/immigration-article-of-the-day-darkside-discretion-in-immigration-cases-by-shoba-sivaprasad-wadhia.html

18. OU's Immigration Teach-In
March 10, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/ous-immigration-teach-in.html

19. Bipartisan Case Backlog and Transparency Act of 2020 introduced in Congress
March 10, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/case-backlog-and-transparency-act-of-2020-introduced-in-congress.html

20. Aspiring Americans Thrown Out in the Cold: The Discriminatory Use of False Testimony Allegations to Deny Naturalization
By Nermeen Saba Arastu
March 9, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/immigration-articlke-of-the-day-aspiring-americans-thrown-out-in-the-cold-the-discriminatory-use-of-.html

21. Lawyers for the Undocumented: Addressing a Split Circuit Dilemma for Asylum-Seekers
By Jay K. Krishnan
March 8, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/immigration-article-of-the-day-lawyers-for-the-undocumented-addressing-a-split-circuit-dilemma-for-a.html

22. The Use of Executive Orders and Proclamations to Create Immigration Policy: Trump in Historical Perspective
By Michele Waslin
March 6, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/immigration-article-of-the-day-e-use-of-executive-orders-and-proclamations-to-create-immigration-pol.html

23. Operation Palladium: ICE Enforcement in Sanctuary Cities
March 5, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/operation-palladium-ice-enforcement-in-sanctuary-cities.html

24. Ninth Circuit Refuses to Stay Injunction of Trump "Metering" Rule for Asylum Seekers

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

March 5, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/ninth-cirduit-refuses-to-stay-trump-metering-rule-for-asylum-seekers.html

Return to Top

****

****

22.

H-2A Visas for Agriculture: The Complex Process for Farmers to Hire Agricultural Guest Workers

By David Bier

CATO Institute Immigration Research and Policy Brief No. 17, March 10, 2020

. . .

https://www.cato.org/publications/immigration-research-policy-brief/h-2a-visas-agriculture-complex-process-farmers-hire

Return to Top

****

****

23.

Returns to Low-Skilled International Migration: Evidence from the Bangladesh-Malaysia Migration Lottery Program

By Mushfiq Mobarak, Iffath Sharif, and Maheshwor Shrestha

World Bank Working Paper, February 2020

. . .

https://openknowledge.worldbank.org/handle/10986/33408

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

24.

International Migration and Work: Charting an Ethical Approach to the Future

By Donald Kerwin

Center for Migration Studies, March 2020

. . .

https://cmsny.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/Future-of-Work-FINAL.pdf

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Out at Sea, Out of Sight: Filipino, Indonesian, and Vietnamese Fishermen on Taiwanese Fishing Vessels

By Maruja M.B. Asis

Scalabrini Migration Center, March 16, 2020

. . .

http://smc.org.ph/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/OUT-AT-SEA-OUT-OF-SIGHT.pdf

Sowing Hope: Agriculture as an Alternative to Migration for Young Filipinos?

By Maruja M.B. Asis

Scalabrini Migration Center, March 16, 2020

. . .

http://smc.org.ph/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/SOWING-HOPE.pdf

Labour-related experiences of Migrants and Refugees in South Africa

By Filippo Ferraro and Marinda Weideman

Scalabrini Institute for Human Mobility in Africa, March 16, 2020

. . .

http://sihma.org.za/reports/labour-related-experiences-of-migrants-and-refugees-in-south-africa

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

26.

Defend the Border and Save Lives: Solving Our Most Important Humanitarian and Security Crisis

By Tom Homan

Center Street, 272 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1546085939, $28.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1546085939/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1752 KB, ASIN: B07V1LR763, $14.99

Book Description: Former ICE Director Tom Homan has been at the forefront of the conservative fight to secure our borders and offers proof that illegal immigration is not a victimless crime.

Illegal immigration is the most controversial and emotional issue this country faces today. President Trump was elected on his promise to fix illegal immigration and build a wall on our Southern border. Because he won on this issue, the Democrats refuse to work with him, and we experienced a government shutdown as a result of this divide. The Democrats have supported funding in the past and, in his State of the Union, the President said that he wants to unify and work together to resolve this and all the other challenges facing America. The Democrats sat on their hands. They won't budge. Clearly, as a party, they don't care about the facts, only about denying whatever success they can to this president.

Former ICE Director and Fox News contributor Tom Homan knows the facts. He's spent his life on the border, and knows that if we don't control illegal immigration now, this country will continue to suffer the consequences of crime, drugs and financial strain -- and it will get much much worse.

In Defend the Border and Save Lives, Homan shares what illegal immigration is really about. Illegal immigration should not be a partisan issue. Now is the time to fix this issue that has claimed so many victims and divided this country. We need to pull the curtain back and expose what truly happens and separate facts from fiction. Illegal immigration is not a victimless crime, and the victims are the illegals and their innocent children as well as the Americans who suffer at the hand of the criminals who sneak into this country.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

27.

Crisis on the Border: An Eyewitness Account of Illegal Aliens, Violent Crime, and Cartels

By Matt C. Pinsker

Regnery Publishing, 224 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1684510104, $18.89
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1684510104/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 37512 KB, ASIN: B07YL4CB1T, 234 pp., $12.99

Book Description: Idealistic and eager to serve his country, Army Reservist JAG Captain Matt C. Pinsker volunteer to go to Laredo, Texas, for six months as a federal prosecutor, helping out the short-staffed U.S. Attorney's Office.

What he saw in Laredo changed his life, and his riveting account of the breakdown of law and order will change how you think about border security. Crisis on the Border reveals:

* That drug cartels are in control of the U.S.-Mexican border

* The horrifying viciousness of the criminals who smuggle human beings into the United States

* That drug abuse and disease are rampant among illegal aliens—many of whom have lengthy criminal records

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* That routine abuse of the U.S. asylum laws undermines legitimate asylum-seekers

* That U.S. courts are generally more lenient with illegal aliens than they would be with American citizens

* The hypocrisy behind the "children in cages" stories

* Solutions: how to solve the crisis on the border

Earnest, shocking, and revealing, Crisis on the Border is essential for understanding one of the greatest problems confronting our country.

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Banned: Immigration Enforcement in the Time of Trump
By Shoba Sivaprasad Wadhia

NYU Press, 216 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1479857467, $30.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1479857467/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 890 KB, ASIN: B07Q5G5S6F, $16.50

Book Description: Within days of taking office, President Donald J. Trump published or announced changes to immigration law and policy. These changes have profoundly shaken the lives and well-being of immigrants and their families, many of whom have been here for decades, and affected the work of the attorneys and advocates who represent or are themselves part of the immigrant community. Banned examines the tool of discretion, or the choice a government has to protect, detain, or deport immigrants, and describes how the Trump administration has wielded this tool in creating and executing its immigration policy.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Banned combines personal interviews, immigration law, policy analysis, and case studies to answer the following questions: (1) what does immigration enforcement and discretion look like in the time of Trump? (2) who is affected by changes to immigration enforcement and discretion?; (3) how have individuals and families affected by immigration enforcement under President Trump changed their own perceptions about the future?; and (4) how do those informed about immigration enforcement and discretion describe the current state of affairs and perceive the future? Shoba Sivaprasad Wadhia pairs the contents of these interviews with a robust analysis of immigration enforcement and discretion during the first eighteen months of the Trump administration and offers recommendations for moving forward.

The story of immigration and the role immigrants play in the United States is significant. The government has the tools to treat those seeking admission, refuge, or opportunity in the United States humanely. Banned offers a passionate reminder of the responsibility we all have to protect America's identity as a nation of immigrants.

Return to Top

****
****

29.

The Global Governed?: Refugees as Providers of Protection and Assistance

By Kate Pincock, Alexander Betts, et al.

Cambridge University Press, 164 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1108494943, $115.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1108494943/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 11088167033, $39.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1108816703/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 2195 KB, ASIN: B084SFDB6P, 140 pp., $32.00

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Book Description: When refugees flee war and persecution, protection and assistance are usually provided by United Nations organisations and their NGO implementing partners. In camps and cities, the dominant humanitarian model remains premised upon a provider-beneficiary relationship. In parallel to this model, however, is a largely neglected story: refugees themselves frequently mobilise to create organisations or networks as alternative providers of social protection. Based on fieldwork in refugee camps and cities in Uganda and Kenya, this book examines how refugee-led organisations emerge, the forms they take, and their interactions with international institutions. Developing an original theoretical framework based on the concept of 'the global governed', the book shows how power and hierarchy mediate the seemingly benign notion of protection. Drawing upon ideas from anthropology and international relations, it offers an alternative vision for more participatory global governance, of relevance to other policy-fields including development, humanitarianism, health, peacekeeping, and child protection.

Return to Top

****

****

30.

Justice for People on the Move: Migration in Challenging Times

By Gillian Brock

Cambridge University Press, 256 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1108477739, $84.53
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1108477739/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 2038 KB, ASIN: B0845VCHTG, $80.00

Book Description:

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

31.

What Do We Owe to Refugees?

By David Owen

Polity, 140 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1509539735, $42.32
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1509539735/centerforimmigra

Paperback, ISBN: 11509539743, $12.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1509539743/centerforimmigra

Book Description: Who are refugees? Who, if anyone, is responsible for protecting them? What forms should this protection take? In a world of people fleeing from civil wars, state failure, and environmental disasters, these are ethically and politically pressing questions.

In this book, David Owen reveals how the contemporary politics of refuge is structured by two rival historical pictures of refugees. In reconstructing this history, he advocates an understanding of refugeehood that moves us beyond our current impasse by distinguishing between what is owed to refugees in general and what is owed to different types of refugee. He provides an account of refugee protection and the forms of international cooperation required to implement it that is responsive to the claims of both refugees and states.

At a time when refugee protection is once again prominent on the international agenda, this book offers a guide to understanding the challenges this topic raises and shows why addressing it matters for all of us.

Return to Top

****

****

32.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Migrating to Prison: America's Obsession with Locking Up Immigrants
By César Cuauhtémoc García Hernández

The New Press, 224 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 1620974207, $17.25
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1620974207/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 5432 KB, ASIN: B07N8H97YY, $14.49

Book Description: A leading scholar's powerful, in-depth look at the imprisonment of immigrants addressing the intersection of immigration and the criminal justice system

For most of America's history, we simply did not lock people up for migrating here. Yet over the last thirty years, the federal and state governments have increasingly tapped their powers to incarcerate people accused of violating immigration laws. As a result, almost 400,000 people annually now spend some time locked up pending the result of a civil or criminal immigration proceeding.

In Migrating to Prison, leading scholar César Cuauhtémoc García Hernández takes a hard look at the immigration prison system's origins, how it currently operates, and why. He tackles the emergence of immigration imprisonment in the mid-1980s, with enforcement resources deployed disproportionately against Latinos, and he looks at both the outsized presence of private prisons and how those on the political right continue, disingenuously, to link immigration imprisonment with national security risks and threats to the rule of law.

Interspersed with powerful stories of people caught up in the immigration imprisonment industry, including children who have spent most of their lives in immigrant detention, Migrating to Prison is an urgent call for the abolition of immigration prisons and a radical reimagining of the United States: who belongs and on what criteria is that determination made?

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

33.

The Undocumented Americans

By Karla Cornejo Villavicencio

One World, 208 pp.

Hardcover, ISBN: 0399592687, $17.79
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0399592687/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 1945 KB, ASIN: B07H73JSTJ, 191 pp., $13.99

Book Description: Writer Karla Cornejo Villavicencio was on DACA when she decided to write about being undocumented for the first time using her own name. It was right after the election of 2016, the day she realized the story she'd tried to steer clear of was the only one she wanted to tell. So she wrote her immigration lawyer's phone number on her hand in Sharpie and embarked on a trip across the country to tell the stories of her fellow undocumented immigrants —and to find the hidden key to her own.

Looking beyond the flashpoints of the border or the activism of the DREAMers, Cornejo Villavicencio explores the lives of the undocumented—and the mysteries of her own life. She finds the singular, effervescent characters across the nation often reduced in the media to political pawns or nameless laborers. The stories she tells are not deferential or naively inspirational but show the love, magic, heartbreak, insanity, and vulgarity that infuse the day-to-day lives of her subjects.

In New York, we meet the undocumented workers who were recruited into the federally funded Ground Zero cleanup after 9/11. In Miami, we enter the ubiquitous botanicas, which offer medicinal herbs and potions to those whose status blocks them from any other healthcare options. In Flint, Michigan, we learn of demands for state ID in order to receive life-saving clean water. In Connecticut, Cornejo Villavicencio, childless by choice, finds family in two teenage girls whose father is in sanctuary. And through it all we see the author grappling with the biggest questions of love, duty, family, and survival.

In her incandescent, relentlessly probing voice, Karla Cornejo Villavicencio combines sensitive reporting and powerful personal narratives to bring to light remarkable stories of resilience, madness, and death. Through these stories we come to understand what it truly means to be a stray. An expendable. A hero. An American.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

34.
Citizenship Studies
Vol. 24, No. 2, March 2020
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/ccst20/24/2

Selected articles:

Public artivism: queering geographies of migration and social inclusivity
By Martin Zebracki
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1706447

The meanings of citizenship between resettlement and return: the case of displaced palestinians
By Jinan Bastaki
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2020.1720605

To be or not to be a refugee? Reflections on refugeehood and citizenship among Sri Lankan Tamils in India
By Anne-Sophie Bentz and Anthony Goreau-Ponceaud
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1706446

Can statelessness be legally productive? The struggle for the rights of noncitizens in Russia
By Agnieszka Kubal
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2020.1720606

Contending with neo-classical patriarchal bargain: Filipina marriage migrants' negotiations for naturalization in South Korea
By Ilju Kim and Zoua M. Vang

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1700915

Immigrants' acquisition of national citizenship in Portugal and Spain: the role of multiculturalism?
By João Miguel Duarte de Carvalho
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1707483

Return to Top

****
****

35.
Comparative Migration Studies
Vol. 8, No. 12, March 13, 2020
http://www.comparativemigrationstudies.com/

Latest Articles:

Young refugees and locals living under the same roof: intercultural communal living as a catalyst for refugees' integration in European urban communities?
By Rilke Mahieu and Rut Van Caudenberg
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0168-9

Return to Top

****
****

36.
CSEM Newsletter
March 13, 2020
https://www.csem.org.br/

Latest article:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Fears over coronavirus grip migrant camps on US-Mexico border

. . .

https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/fears-over-coronavirus-grip-migrant-camps-on-us-mexico-border/

Confusion on the Border as Appeals Court Rules Against Trump's 'Remain in Mexico' Policy

. . .

https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/confusion-on-the-border-as-appeals-court-rules-against-trumps-remain-in-mexico-policy/

Return to Top

****

****

37.

Demography

Vol. 57, No. 1, February 2020

https://link.springer.com/journal/13524/56/6

Selected article:

Immigrant Fertility in Comparative Perspective: South Africa and the United States

By Guadalupe Aguilera and Kim Korinek

https://link.springer.com/article/10.1007/s13524-019-00852-9

Return to Top

****

****

38.

Ethnic and Racial Studies

Vol. 43, No. 6, March 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/rers20/43/6?nav=tocList

Selected article:

Segmented urban space and the ethics of belonging in migrants' Johannesburg
By Elina Hankela
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1635255

That little Mexican part of me: race, place and transnationalism among U.S. African-descent Mexicans
By Laura A. Lewis
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1626016

Contact isn't enough: attitudes towards and misunderstandings about undocumented immigrants among a diverse college population
By Sarah C. Bishop and Nicholas David Bowman
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1626014

Racing "return": the diasporic return of U.S.-raised Korean Americans in racial and ethnic perspective
By Stephen Cho Suh
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1637531

Relocated ethnicities: how do national-cultural repertoires shape the ethnicities of migrants? Evidence from Israeli Mizrahim in Israel, the United States, and Germany
By Ayelet Banai and Avihu Shoshana
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1635257

Return to Top

****
****

39.
International Migration
Vol. 58, No. 2, March 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/toc/14682435/current

Articles:

Perceptual Disconnect: An Ethnographic Account of Immigrant Political Incorporation
By Daniel Fittante
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12579

Barriers to the Equal Treatment of (aspirant) Citizens: The Case of the Application of Nationality Law in Belgium
By Djordje Sredanovic
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12584

Determinants of Migrant Career Success: A Study of Recent Skilled Migrants in Australia
By Diana Rajendran, Eddy S. Ng, Greg Sears, and Nailah Ayub
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12586

Can the Concept of Lifestyle Migration be applied to Return Migration? The Case of Estonians in the UK
By Maarja Saar and Ellu Saar
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12601

Cosmopolitanism: The Foundational Ground for a More Inclusive Understanding of Belonging to Protect the Human Rights of North Korean Stateless Women
By Sil Yoon
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12602

When Political Freedom Does Not Offer Travel Freedom: The Varying Determinants of Visa-Free Travel Opportunities
By Jacob Thomas
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12603

Perceptions of Migration and Diversity by Local Public Administrators
By Tomáš Malatinec, Nataša Urbančíková, and Oto Hudec
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12605

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Labour Market and Human Capital Behaviour of Immigrant Couples: Evidence from Australia
By Sarah-Jane Derby, Asad Islam, and Russell Smyth
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12618

More than Money: The Importance of Social Exchanges for Temporary Low-Skilled Migrant Workers' Workplace Satisfaction
By Eunmi Chang, Hyun Chin, Jeongwon Lee, and Ki-Seon Chung
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12624

Doubling Up or Moving Out? The Effect of International Labor Migration on Household Size
By Kseniia Gatskova and Vladimir Kozlov
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12629

Are They Deterred by Welfare? Digging into the Drivers of Highly Skilled Temporary and Long-term Migrants in Europe
By Héctor Cebolla-Boado and María Miyar-Busto
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12631

Language Acquisition, Employment Status, and the Earnings of Jewish and Non-Jewish Immigrants in Israel
By Barry R. Chiswick, Uzi Rebhun, and Nadia Beider
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12634

Ethnic and National Sense of Belonging in Canadian Society
By Zheng Wu and Vivien W.Y. So
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12650

Nationality Policies in the Books and in Practice: Comparing Immigrant Naturalisation across Europe
By Thomas Huddleston and Swantje Falcke
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12656

Feeling Attached and Feeling Accepted: Implications for Political Inclusion among Visible Minority Immigrants in Canada
By Antoine Bilodeau, Stephen E. White, Luc Turgeon, and Ailsa Henderson
https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/imig.12657

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

40.

International Migration Review

Online first, March 2020

https://journals.sagepub.com/toc/mrxa/current

Latest Articles:

High Selection, Low Success: The Heterogeneous Effect of Migrants' Access to Employment on Their Remigration

By Louise Caron and Mathieu Ichou

https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918320904925

The Gendered Effects of Local Immigration Enforcement: Latinas' Social Isolation in Chicago, Houston, Los Angeles, and Phoenix

William Paul Simmons, Cecilia Menjívar, and Elizabeth Salerno Valdez

https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918320905504

Unsettling Events: Understanding Migrants' Responses to Geopolitical Transformative Episodes through a Life-Course Lens

By Majella Kilkey and Louise Ryan

https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0197918320905507

Return to Top

****

****

41.

Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies

Vol. 46, No. 4, January 2020

https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/cjms20/46/4

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Special Issue: The Pro-Immigrant Movement in the United States: Political Mobilization from the 2006 Immigration Protests to Trump

Articles:

Movement or moment? Lessons from the pro-immigrant movement in the United States and contemporary challenges
By Irene Bloemraad and Kim Voss
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1556447

Going national: how the fight for immigrant rights became a national social movement
By Walter J. Nicholls, Justus Uitermark, and Sander van Haperen
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1556450

Local context and labour-community immigrant rights coalitions: a comparison of San Francisco, Chicago, and Houston
By Els de Graauw, Shannon Gleeson, and Xóchitl Bada
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1556454

Yesterday they marched, today they mobilised the vote: a developmental model for civic leadership among the children of immigrants
By Veronica Terriquez and May Lin
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1556457

Do Latinos still support immigrant rights activism? Examining Latino attitudes a decade after the 2006 protest wave
By Sophia Jordán Wallace and Chris Zepeda-Millán
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1556461

The limits of rights: claims-making on behalf of immigrants
By Kim Voss, Fabiana Silva, and Irene Bloemraad
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1556463

Political mobilisation and public discourse in new immigrant destinations: news media characterisations of immigrants during the 2006 immigration marches
By Laura López-Sanders and Hana E. Brown
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1556464

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

+++

Vol. 46, No. 3, January 2020
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/cjms20/46/3

Special Issue: Contested terrain: explaining divergent patterns of public opinion towards immigration within Europe

Articles:

Contested terrain: explaining divergent patterns of public opinion towards immigration within Europe
By Anthony Heath, Eldad Davidov, Robert Ford, Eva G. T. Green, Alice Ramos, and Peter Schmidt
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2019.1550145

Contested boundaries: consensus and dissensus in European attitudes to immigration
By Anthony F. Heath and Lindsay Richards
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1550146

The skills premium and the ethnic premium: a cross-national experiment on European attitudes to immigrants
By Robert Ford and Jonathan Mellon
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1550148

Ethnic and cultural diversity in Europe: validating measures of ethnic and cultural background
By Silke L. Schneider and Anthony F. Heath
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1550150

Direct and indirect predictors of opposition to immigration in Europe: individual values, cultural values, and symbolic threat
By Eldad Davidov, Daniel Seddig, Anastasia Gorodzeisky, Rebeca Raijman, Peter Schmidt, and Moshe Semyonov
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1550152

The impact of biological and cultural racisms on attitudes towards

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

immigrants and immigration public policies
By Alice Ramos, Cicero Roberto Pereira and Jorge Vala
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1550153

Economic conditions, group relative deprivation and ethnic threat perceptions: a cross-national perspective
By Bart Meuleman, Koen Abts, Peter Schmidt, Thomas F. Pettigrew, and Eldad Davidov
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1550157

Perceptions and misperceptions: actual size, perceived size and opposition to immigration in European societies
By Anastasia Gorodzeisky and Moshe Semyonov
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1550158

When integration policies shape the impact of intergroup contact on threat perceptions: a multilevel study across 20 European countries
By Eva G. T. Green, Emilio Paolo Visintin, Oriane Sarrasin, and Miles Hewstone
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1550159

What factors explain anti-Muslim prejudice? An assessment of the effects of Muslim population size, institutional characteristics and immigration-related media claims
By Elmar Schlueter, Anu Masso, and Eldad Davidov
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1550160

Generational change and attitudes to immigration
By Lauren McLaren and Ian Paterson
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1550170

Return to Top

****
****

42.
Journal on Migration and Human Security
Online first, March 18, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://journals.sagepub.com/toc/mhs/current

Latest articles:

Building Blocks and Challenges for the Implementation of the Global Compact on Refugees in Africa
By Sergio Carciotto and Filippo Ferraro
. . .
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/2331502420908247

Return to Top

****
****

43.
Migration Studies
Vol. 8, No. 1, March 2020
https://academic.oup.com/migration/issue

Articles:

Between statistical odds and future dreams: Biographical future drafts of young migrants
By Elisabeth Schilling
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny028

Analysing inter-provincial urban migration flows in China: A new multilevel gravity model approach
By Xingna Nina Zhang, Wenfei Winnie Wang, Richard Harris, and George Leckie
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny026

Communicating borders—Governments deterring asylum seekers through social media campaigns
By Jan-Paul Brekke and Kjersti Thorbjørnsrud
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny027

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A comparative analysis of migration control strategies along the Western and Eastern Mediterranean routes: Sovereign interventions through militarization and deportation
By Özgün E Topak and Luna Vives
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny029

A scoping review of Australian studies of refugee integration: Popular definitions of integration in the Australian literature
By Peter Squires
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny032

Defiant aspirations: Migrant women's struggles for stability and upward mobility in Naples and Kuala Lumpur
By Valeria Bonatti and Parthiban Muniandy
https://doi.org/10.1093/migration/mny039

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Heritage Foundation

From: The Heritage Foundation
Sent: Friday, March 20, 2020 11:25 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: The Senate's Coronavirus Bill and Responding to COVID-19

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

The Senate's Coronavirus Bill and Responding to COVID-19 Resources

March 20, 2020

Congress and the Administration continue to take action to fight the coronavirus as American society grinds to a stand still. The Federal Government must work to keep employees tied to their employers and providing temporary and targeted relief.

Congress Should:

1. Congress's response to the economic consequences of the coronavirus should be targeted, temporary, and directed at public health efforts while limiting political abuse
2. While the CARES Act includes positive reforms, providing $200 billion in bailouts to select industries fails to meet these targeted and temporary objectives.
3. The Senate must significantly reform these special benefits to limit abuse, reduce the need for bailouts, and get aid directly to affected workers.

The Senate's Coronavirus Bill: Bailouts, Missed Opportunities, and Positive Reforms

New Report!

By Lindsey Burke, PhD, David R. Burton, Marie Fishpaw, Rachel Greszler, Adam Michel, Norbert J. Michel, PhD, Parker Sheppard, PhD, and Paul Winfree

Any action that Congress takes should be targeted, temporary, and linked directly to the coronavirus epidemic in order to address the source of the economic shock while limiting any political abuse that can develop in a moment of crisis. Unfortunately, the Senate's coronavirus bill, the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act misses this mark by including special benefits to specific industries that will exceed $200 billion. We have specified a number of proposals in other papers that would do more to help workers continue to receive paychecks while mitigating the economic effects associated with the coronavirus pandemic. Congress must resist the urge to provide special benefits to select industries and give the robust fiscal and monetary policy response that has already been enacted time to work.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

New State Department Warning Shows Travel Restrictions Key to Curbing Coronavirus
By: Lora Reis, Senior Research Fellow and Peter Brookes, Senior Research Fellow

As the State Department warns Americans not to travel internationally and advises all Americans abroad to return home or prepare to shelter in place, the U.S. continues to expand travel restrictions as a key component in the fight against the coronavirus. That advisory Thursday afternoon from the State Department comes a day after the joint announcement by the United States and Canada that our common border is closed temporarily. Flattening the coronavirus infection curve, or reducing the numbers, through social distancing, good public hygiene, and well-considered travel restrictions provides real potential benefits.

In Combating Coronavirus, Trump and Governors Act Constitutionally
By: John Malcom, Vice President, Institute for Constitutional Government

Fox News contributor Andrew Napolitano, a former judge, recently penned an article with the provocative title "Coronavirus fear lets government assault our freedom in violation of Constitution." Although Napolitano is right to be concerned, President Donald Trump and other federal, state, and local officials appear to be acting within the bounds of the Constitution in responding to the severe threat posed by spread of the new coronavirus disease, which health officials call COVID-19. Napolitano first quotes from the Supreme Court's 1866 opinion in Ex parte Milligan ("The Constitution of the United States is a law for rulers and people, equally in war and in peace, and covers with the shield of its protection all classes of men, at all times and under all circumstances.").

Curricula Resource Initiative New Resource!
By: The Center for Education Policy

These resources include school models, curricula, essays, research, and products that emphasize moral education, civics, character development, and classical content, reflecting the importance of these foundational areas to student development.

China's Anti-U.S. Coronavirus Propaganda Ridiculous—So What's Behind Beijing's Lies?
By: James Carafano, Vice President, Davis Institute

For quite some time, China has been trying to undercut the foundation of American global power. Unlike Moscow's often coarse, brutish efforts, Beijing has been stealthier than an F-35, using public diplomacy initiatives to subtly buy its way into schools, civil society and the private sector. Now, however, the mask—and the gloves—are coming off. In the last few days, the Chinese Communist Party has changed its propaganda tactics. Party officials, government representatives and state media are now overtly attacking the U.S., spreading deliberate lies about the COVID-19 outbreak.

Calculating the Coronavirus Mortality Rate? It's Complicated
By: Thomas Spoehr, Director Center for National Defense

We all like our facts simple. One of the data points that many want to know is the mortality rate for the COVID-19 illness so they can make informed risk decisions. Unfortunately, like so many other things in life, it's complicated. Even though it seems like the novel coronavirus that causes the disease health officials call COVID-19 has now been around for a while, it has only just arrived on the scene. Thus, scientists are only now starting to gain some early insights.

Costly New Sick Leave Mandate Would Hurt Businesses
By: Rachel Greszler, Research Fellow in Economics, Budget and Entitlements

Government mandates often have unintended consequences. Take mandating paid sick leave in response to the coronavirus. Even if it's temporary, it could further damage businesses harmed by the virus—and hurt the very workers it's meant to help. The vast majority—86% of full-time workers—already have access to paid sick leave. The rest primarily work for small employers or are part-time or hourly workers. Unfortunately, it's small employers and workers who don't yet have sick leave who could be most hurt by a federal mandate, and who wouldn't be helped by federally funded sick leave.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

What the Defense Production Act Is and How Can It Can Help the Government Fight COVID-19
By: Charles "Cully" Stimson, Senior Legal Fellow

We have been critical of such overuse of the Defense Production Act. But under the current circumstances, we think the administration and Congress need to use all lawful tools, including federal statutes as properly understood, to defeat the coronavirus and help America get back on her feet.

"Panic in the Streets": Life Imitates Art With Coronavirus
By: Hans Von Spokovsky,Election Law Reform Initiative and Senior Legal Fellow

In 1950, the great Hollywood director Elia Kazan produced a movie, "Panic in the Streets," about a desperate attempt to stop a pandemic (pneumonic plague, the pulmonary version of the bubonic plague, or "Black Death") from spreading out of New Orleans and across the United States. What's most interesting about that film is contrasting how the government deals with the problem in the movie versus how the government is dealing with the reality we face today.

Trump's Coronavirus National Emergency Declaration Helps Mobilize Nation
By: Kay Coles James, President of The Heritage Foundation

In many parts of our country, schools are shutting down for weeks. Businesses are sending their employees home to telework when possible. Churches and synagogues are closing their doors. Professional sports events have been canceled. More than 30 governors have declared states of emergency.

There are some who view this response to the coronavirus as an overreaction. After all, millions of Americans get the seasonal flu every year and we don't take these measures. But this isn't an overreaction. On the contrary, this is a commonsense, measured response to mitigate the spread of the coronavirus.

The Golden Age of Telehealth Is Here (Thanks to the Coronavirus)
By: Marie Fishpaw, Director, Domestic Policy Studies

The coronavirus pandemic has renewed interest in telehealth—the practice of letting patients consult with doctors directly, via phone or video-conferencing. This method of health care delivery offers obvious advantages, allowing patients to get personal medical advice quickly, without having to come to the doctor's office first. President Trump reiterated his commitment to clearing away barriers inhibiting the use of telehealth. And lawmakers have already moved to clear some away. But they can and should do more.

"Flattening the Curve" Critical to Fighting Coronavirus
By: Peter Brookes, Senior Research Fellow

Come commentators have ominously suggested that the United States is just a few days—maybe a week to 10 days—behind the crippling coronavirus crisis that is hammering Europe, especially Italy. If true, that's troubling. That said, however, taking personal responsibility for doing the right thing with public hygiene and the new (to most of us) concept of social distancing to flatten the possible infection curve could mean the difference between success and failure in fighting the virus here in this country.

Coronavirus Testing Delays Show Why Federal Health Care Rules Need Thorough Review
By: Robert Moffit, Senior Research Fellow at The Heritage Foundation

The coronavirus pandemic demonstrates with crystal clarity how the federal government's vast regulatory apparatus governing health care can be an obstacle to rapid response in a national emergency. We've seen this movie before.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The law of unintended consequences is an ironclad rule of public policy, and in health policy, that law can go berserk. The normal concerns that preoccupy economists and political scientists, wrestling with the day-to-day concerns about health care costs and access in government programs and insurance markets, pale in comparison with urgent matters of public health and safety.

Image

214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, DC 20002 | (202) 546-4400

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, March 20, 2020 4:52 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 3/20/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Opinions, 3/20/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here: http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Economic Meltdown? Mass Unemployment? Solution: More Immigration!," Mark Krikorian
2. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, David North, Jessica M. Vaughan, and Jason Peña
3. "Libertarians for Border Security?," Jason Richwine
4. "Because of the Coronavirus, Borders Suddenly Matter," Michael Cutler
5. "Crisis Socialism—No Bailouts for Open Borders Globalists!," Michelle Malkin
6. "Biden, Coronavirus, and Illegal Immigration," Peter Kirsanow
7. "To Avoid Amnesty, Agricultural Immigration Reform Must Address This Issue," Daren Bakst
8. "Biden Vows Not to Deport Illegal Alien Rapists and Murderers," Daniel Greenfield
9. "Another Illegal Immigrant Caravan Leaves Honduras for U.S.," Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles
10. "ICE Deploys New Weapon Against Dangerous Sanctuary Laws," Dale Wilcox
11. "Hire American: Halt to Immigrant Hiring Sought During Virus Crisis," Paul Bedard
12. "Trump Administration Border Policies Continue to Demonstrate Effectiveness," Dave Ray
13. "U.S. Moves to Seal Southern Border; Mexico Says Mañana," Bob Dane
14. "With 20 Percent Unemployment a Possibility, the Government Must Consider Immigration Cuts," Preston Huennekens
15. "Teaming up to Prosecute MS-13 Means Little Without Cooperation on Border Security," Jennifer G. Hickey
16. "Border Closures and the Fight Against COVID-19," Matt O'Brien
17. "Remember When Travel Bans Were Racist and Xenophobic?," Brian C. Joondeph
18. "CAIR-DFW's Immigration Double Standards," Anne-Christine Hoff

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

19. "Cato Institute in USA TODAY: 'Want to Defeat Coronavirus? Protect Legal Immigration.'," James Fulford
20. "#ICESVU Brings Back the Obama Regime Administrative Amnesty in Honor of Coronavirus. Why?," Federale
21. "Trump's Denaturalizations Expose Rampant Asylum Fraud," Federale
22. " 'That's Exactly Our Intention' - Arrest Chicago's Defiant, Illegal Immigrant Harboring Mayor Lori Lightfoot," Federale
23. " 'Never Let a Crisis Go to Waste' - Trump Should Listen to Salvini on Coronavirus, Impose Nationalist Agenda," James Kirkpatrick
24. "National Data: Pre-Corona, Immigrant Population DOWN For SIXTH Straight Month—But Wage Growth Slowed, Displacement Up.," Edwin S. Rubenstein
25. "Trump Shivs Sessions (Who May Survive) Will He Do the Same With Other Immigration Patriot Senate Candidates?," Washington Watcher II
26. "Coronavirus Raises Tough Immigration Issues For Businesses," Stuart Anderson
27. "Do Pandemics Strengthen the Case for Restricting Immigration?," Ilya Somin
28. "Want to Defeat Coronavirus? Protect Legal Immigration," David Bier
29. "H-2A Visas for Agriculture: The Complex Process for Farmers to Hire Agricultural Guest Workers," David Bier
30. "A Pandemic Should Remind Us of the Need for Immigration Reform," Nancy LeTourneau
31. "We Must Find the Will to Solve Immigration Problems," J. Doug Pruitt
32. "The Frightening Implications of a Federal Court's Latest Immigration Opinion," Ian Millhiser
33. "The Public-Charge Rule: Broad Impacts, But Few Will Be Denied Green Cards Based on Actual Benefits Use," Randy Capps, Julia Gelatt, and Mark Greenberg
34. "Coronavirus Is Spreading Across Borders, But it Is Not a Migration Problem," Natalia Banulescu-Bogdan, Meghan Benton, and Susan Fratzke
35. "Three Actions ICE Should Take Now During the Coronavirus Pandemic," Katie Shepherd
36. "The Department of Justice is Restructuring Immigration Courts in Secret," Hilda Bonilla
37. "The Supreme Court Is Closed, But Immigration Courts Are Still Packing in Dozens of People at a Time," Fernanda Echavarri

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1.

Economic Meltdown? Mass Unemployment? Solution: More Immigration!

By Mark Krikorian

The Corner at National Review Online, March 18, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/coronavirus-crisis-increased-immigration-not-solution/

Return to Top

****

****

2.

CIS Immigration Posts

By Dan Cadman

On Resisting ICE and 'Civil Disobedience'

March 19, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Resisting-ICE-and-Civil-Disobedience

Test and Remove Alien Detainees as Quickly as Possible

Don't let them stack up like cord wood, and don't release them into the streets of America

March 17, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Test-and-Remove-Alien-Detainees-Quickly-Possible

Opportunists and Simplistic Solutions: Grasping at the Coronavirus Pandemic Like a Straw

March 16, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Opportunists-and-Simplistic-Solutions-Grasping-Coronavirus-Pandemic-Straw

Mandating E-Verify: Florida Lawmakers Squander an Opportunity to Open

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Up Thousands of Jobs
March 14, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Mandating-EVerify-Florida-Lawmakers-Squander-Opportunity-Open-Thousands-Jobs

By Andrew R. Arthur

State Department Suspends Most Visa Issuances
Affects about 100 countries
March 19, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/State-Department-Suspends-Most-Visa-Issuances

Trump and Trudeau Close the U.S.-Canadian Border
Mexicans entering illegally and Europeans seeking entry at Southwest ports also to be returned?
March 19, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Trump-and-Trudeau-Close-USCanadian-Border

Biden Threatens ICE Officers for Doing Their Jobs
27 drunk-driving deaths a day are no big deal?
March 18, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Biden-Threatens-ICE-Officers-Doing-Their-Jobs

Biden: No Deportations for 100 Days, and Only Felonies Thereafter
Whatever happened to 'faithfully execute'?
March 17, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Biden-No-Deportations-100-Days-and-Only-Felonies-Thereafter

Dr. Fauci: Trump China Restrictions Slowed Spread of the Wuhan Flu
The known unknowns, and the constant known known
March 16, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Dr-Fauci-Trump-China-Restrictions-Slowed-Spread-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Wuhan-Flu

Office of Immigration Litigation's Work Does Not Threaten Judicial Independence

DOJ component represents DHS on appeals, and more

March 16, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Office-Immigration-Litigations-Work-Does-Not-Threaten-Judicial-Independence

WaPo Misses Key Points on Wuhan Flu

To flatten the curve, don't clear the detention centers and don't close the courts

March 14, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/WaPo-Misses-Key-Points-Wuhan-Flu

By David North

Will the Census Undercount the Foreign-Born? I Worry that It Will

March 19, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/North/Will-Census-Undercount-ForeignBorn-I-Worry-It-Will

Map: Sites of EB-5 Visa Fraud and Folly in the United States

By Bryan Griffith and David North

March 18, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Report/Map-Sites-EB5-Visa-Fraud-and-Folly-United-States

How Will the 'Work-at-Home' Notion Impact Our Foreign Workforces?

By David North on March 18, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/North/How-Will-WorkatHome-Notion-Impact-Our-Foreign-Workforces

By Jessica M. Vaughan

DHS Should Retract Expansion of H-2B Visa Workers

Are these visas really essential to our economy?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

March 18, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Vaughan/DHS-Should-Retract-Expansion-H2B-Visa-Workers

By Jason Peña

Mexican Businessmen Want National Guard to Continue to Stop Caravans
March 20, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Mexican-Businessmen-Want-National-Guard-Continue-Stop-Caravans

Mexico Will Screen Migrants for Coronavirus
Announcement came after confirmation of new caravans headed north
March 16, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Mexico-Will-Screen-Migrants-Coronavirus

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Libertarians for Border Security?
By Jason Richwine
The Corner at National Review Online, March 17, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/libertarians-for-border-security/?utm_source=recirc-desktop&utm_medium=homepage&utm_campaign=right-rail&utm_content=corner&utm_term=third

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4.

Because of the Coronavirus, Borders Suddenly Matter

New York State even establishes internal borders.

By Michael Cutler

FrontPageMag.com, March 18, 2020

. . .

https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/03/because-coronavirus-borders-suddenly-matter-michael-cutler/

Return to Top

****

****

5.

Crisis Socialism—No Bailouts for Open Borders Globalists!

By Michelle Malkin

VDare.com, March 17, 2020

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/michelle-malkin-crisis-socialism-no-bailouts-for-open-borders-globalists

Return to Top

****

****

6.

Biden, Coronavirus, and Illegal Immigration

By Peter Kirsanow

The Corner at National Review Online, March 17, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/biden-coronavirus-and-illegal-immigration/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

7.
To Avoid Amnesty, Agricultural Immigration Reform Must Address This Issue
By Daren Bakst
Heritage Foundation, March 19, 2020
. . .
https://www.heritage.org/agriculture/commentary/avoid-amnesty-agricultural-immigration-reform-must-address-issue

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Biden Vows Not to Deport Illegal Alien Rapists and Murderers
By Daniel Greenfield
FrontPageMag.com, March 16, 2020
. . .
https://www.frontpagemag.com/point/2020/03/biden-vows-not-deport-illegal-alien-rapists-and-daniel-greenfield/

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Another Illegal Immigrant Caravan Leaves Honduras for U.S.
Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles, March 17, 2020
. . .
https://www.judicialwatch.org/corruption-chronicles/another-illegal-immigrant-caravan-leaves-honduras-for-u-s/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

10.
ICE Deploys New Weapon Against Dangerous Sanctuary Laws
By Dale Wilcox
Townhall.com, March 19, 2020
. . .
https://townhall.com/columnists/dalewilcox/2020/03/19/ice-deploys-new-weapon-against-dangerous-sanctuary-laws-n2565254

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Hire American: Halt to Immigrant Hiring Sought During Virus Crisis
By Paul Bedard
Washington Examiner, March 20, 2020
. . .
https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/washington-secrets/hire-american-halt-to-immigrant-hiring-sought-during-virus-crisis

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Trump Administration Border Policies Continue to Demonstrate Effectiveness
By Dave Ray

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ImmigrationReform.com, March 20, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/03/20/border-security-success-trump-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

13.
U.S. Moves to Seal Southern Border; Mexico Says Mañana
By Bob Dane
ImmigrationReform.com, March 19, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/03/19/mexican-border-covid-19-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

14.
With 20 Percent Unemployment a Possibility, the Government Must Consider Immigration Cuts
By Preston Huennekens
ImmigrationReform.com, March 19, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/03/19/guest-workers-economy-recession-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

15.

Teaming up to Prosecute MS-13 Means Little Without Cooperation on Border Security

By Jennifer G. Hickey

ImmigrationReform.com, March 17, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/03/17/teaming-up-to-prosecute-ms-13-means-little-without-cooperation-on-border-security/

Return to Top

****

****

16.

Border Closures and the Fight Against COVID-19

By Matt O'Brien

ImmigrationReform.com, March 16, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/03/16/border-security-public-health-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

17.

Remember When Travel Bans Were Racist and Xenophobic?

By Brian C. Joondeph

American Thinker, March 19, 2020

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/articles/2020/03/remember_when_travel_bans_were_racist_and_xenophobic.html

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

18

CAIR-DFW's Immigration Double Standards

By Anne-Christine Hoff

American Thinker, March 14, 2020

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/articles/2020/03/cairdfws_immigration_double_standards.html

Return to Top

****

****

19.

Cato Institute in USA TODAY: "Want to Defeat Coronavirus? Protect Legal Immigration."

By James Fulford

VDare.com, March 19, 2020

. . .

https://vdare.com/posts/cato-institute-in-usa-today-want-to-defeat-coronavirus-protect-legal-immigration

Return to Top

****

****

20.

#ICESVU Brings Back the Obama Regime Administrative Amnesty in Honor of Coronavirus. Why?

By Federale

VDare.com Blog, March 19, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/icesvu-brings-back-the-obama-regime-administrative-amnesty-in-honor-of-coronavirus-why

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Trump's Denaturalizations Expose Rampant Asylum Fraud
By Federale
VDare.com Blog, March 16, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/trump-s-denaturalizations-expose-rampant-asylum-fraud

Return to Top

****
****

22.
“That’s Exactly Our Intention” - Arrest Chicago’s Defiant, Illegal Immigrant Harboring Mayor Lori Lightfoot
By Federale
VDare.com Blog, March 15, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/that-s-exactly-our-intention-arrest-chicago-s-defiant-illegal-immigrant-harboring-mayor-lori-lightfoot

Return to Top

****
****

23.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

“Never Let a Crisis Go to Waste” — Trump Should Listen to Salvini on Coronavirus, Impose Nationalist Agenda
By James Kirkpatrick
VDare.com, March 15, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/never-let-a-crisis-go-to-waste-trump-should-listen-to-salvini-on-coronavirus-impose-nationalist-agenda

Return to Top

****
****

24.
National Data: Pre-Corona, Immigrant Population DOWN For SIXTH Straight Month—But Wage Growth Slowed, Displacement Up.
By Edwin S. Rubenstein
VDare.com, March 14, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/national-data-pre-corona-immigrant-population-down-for-sixth-straight-month-but-wage-growth-slowed-displacement-up

Return to Top

****
****

25.
Trump Shivs Sessions (Who May Survive) Will He Do the Same With Other Immigration Patriot Senate Candidates?
By Washington Watcher II
VDare.com, March 13, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/trump-shivs-sessions-who-may-survive-will-he-do-the-same-with-other-immigration-patriot-senate-candidates

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

26.

Coronavirus Raises Tough Immigration Issues For Businesses

By Stuart Anderson

Forbes.com, March 16, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/03/16/coronavirus-raises-tough-immigration-issues-for-businesses/#2ee6968f4528

Return to Top

****

****

27.

Do Pandemics Strengthen the Case for Restricting Immigration?

[updated with response to Jason Richwine]

By Ilya Somin

Reason.com, March 13, 2020

. . .

https://reason.com/2020/03/13/do-pandemics-strengthen-the-case-for-restricting-immigration/

Return to Top

****

****

28.

Want to Defeat Coronavirus? Protect Legal Immigration

By David Bier

USA Today, March 15, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.usatoday.com/story/opinion/2020/03/15/defeat-coronavirus-protect-legal-immigration-columnist/5034060002/

Return to Top

****
****

29.
H-2A Visas for Agriculture: The Complex Process for Farmers to Hire Agricultural Guest Workers
By David Bier
CATO Institute, March 10, 2020
. . .
https://www.cato.org/publications/immigration-research-policy-brief/h-2a-visas-agriculture-complex-process-farmers-hire

Return to Top

****
****

30.
A Pandemic Should Remind Us of the Need for Immigration Reform
Seven years ago, there was bipartisan agreement on this issue. But Republicans chose fear over prudence.
By Nancy LeTourneau
Washington Monthly, March 19, 2020
. . .
https://washingtonmonthly.com/2020/03/19/a-pandemic-should-remind-us-of-the-need-for-immigration-reform/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

31.

We Must Find the Will to Solve Immigration Problems

By J. Doug Pruitt

The Duluth News-Tribune, March 17 2020

. . .

https://www.duluthnewstribune.com/opinion/columns/5000740-Local-View-Column-We-must-find-the-will-to-solve-immigration-problems

Return to Top

****

****

32.

The Frightening Implications of a Federal Court's Latest Immigration Opinion

The opinion is a subtle attack on the rule of law.

By Ian Millhiser

VOX.com, February 27, 2020,

. . .

https://www.vox.com/2020/2/27/21154619/trump-court-immigration-new-york-barr-anti-commandeering

Return to Top

****

****

33.

The Public-Charge Rule: Broad Impacts, But Few Will Be Denied Green Cards Based on Actual Benefits Use

By Randy Capps, Julia Gelatt, and Mark Greenberg

Migration Policy Institute, March 2020

. . .

https://www.migrationpolicy.org/news/public-charge-denial-green-cards-benefits-use

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

34.

Coronavirus Is Spreading Across Borders, But it Is Not a Migration Problem

By Natalia Banulescu-Bogdan, Meghan Benton, and Susan Fratzke
Migration Policy Institute, March 2020

. . .

https://www.migrationpolicy.org/news/coronavirus-not-a-migration-problem

Return to Top

****

****

35.

Three Actions ICE Should Take Now During the Coronavirus Pandemic

By Katie Shepherd
ImmigrationImpact.com, March 19, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/03/19/3-actions-ice-should-take-now-during-the-coronavirus-pandemic/

Return to Top

****

****

36.

The Department of Justice is Restructuring Immigration Courts in Secret

By Hilda Bonilla
ImmigrationImpact.com, March 17, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/03/17/the-department-of-justice-is-restructuring-immigration-courts-in-secret/

Return to Top

****
****

37.
The Supreme Court Is Closed, But Immigration Courts Are Still Packing in Dozens of People at a Time
By Fernanda Echavarri
MotherJones.com, March 17, 2020
. . .
https://www.motherjones.com/politics/2020/03/immigration-courts-still-open-supreme-court-closed-coronavirus/

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Saturday, March 21, 2020 9:44 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Refugees Being Resettled Despite the Coronavirus Outbreak

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share Tweet Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Refugees Are Being Resettled Despite the Coronavirus Outbreak

More than 3,000 resettled since pandemic task force was created

Washington, D.C. (March 21, 2020) – A new analysis by the Center for Immigration Studies reveals that despite tough measures undertaken by the Trump administration to limit the virus outbreak inside the United States, refugees are still being admitted into American communities. From January 29 (the day the president's Coronavirus Task Force to lead the U.S. government response to the coronavirus was formed) to March 18 (the deadline for this report), the United States resettled 3,037 refugees, including 19 Iranians (Iran is one of the countries particularly affected by the coronavirus). The day after the deadline for the report, March 19, two more refugees were admitted into the United States, both from Syria.

These thousands of refugees were allowed in despite by the admission of both chiefs of the UN High Commissioner for Human Rights and the UN High Commissioner for Refugees that 'refugees may be particularly targeted' by the coronavirus. Admission of refugees continued after the formation of the president's task force on January 29, after the World Health Organization's (WHO) declaration of the COVID-19 outbreak as a public health emergency on January 30, and even after WHO's characterization of the COVID-19 outbreak as a pandemic on March 11.

Rush, the Center's senior researcher and author of the analysis, said, "I am concerned that these refugees were not tested for the coronavirus before their arrival. I couldn't find any indication they were anywhere. Let's assume they were, and the results came back negative (we are told that even if one is tested negative it doesn't mean one is not carrying the virus), were they quarantined upon arrival? Were there any follow-ups to make sure they were fine? Were governors of the states they were placed in (such as California, Washington, Texas, New York, etc.) made aware of such arrivals and risks?"

Read the entire analysis at: https://cis.org/Rush/Refugees-Are-Being-Resettled-Despite-Coronavirus-Outbreak

The analysis suggests that in view of this dramatic health crisis, state and local officials might want to reconsider their relentless commitment to the refugee resettlement program, and finally take advantage of the opportunity given to them by President Trump to have a say in the number of refugees placed into their communities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The top-10 states where refugees were resettled from January 29, 2020 to March 18, 2020, according to the official U.S. government Refugee Processing Center portal are as follows: California, 341; Washington, 274; Texas, 207; New York, 201; Kentucky, 155; Ohio, 148; Michigan, 118; Illinois, 113; Pennsylvania, 106; and Arizona, 95.

Related Articles:

Refugees and Local Control

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Matt Eagan

From: Matt Eagan
Sent: Sunday, March 22, 2020 3:13 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Coronavirus Bill Should Be Targeted, Temporary, and Directed at Economic Fallout. The Senate Bill Does Not Pass These Tests.

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Image

Coronavirus Bill Should Be Targeted, Temporary, and Directed at Economic Fallout. The Senate Bill Does Not Pass These Tests.

March 22, 2020

Heritage Foundation President Kay C. James made the following statement on the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act:

As a nation, we are facing a genuine crisis that threatens the lives and livelihoods of many of us. Like everyone, we are deeply concerned for our families, our neighbors, our friends, and the businesses we depend on. We also are concerned by many of the provisions in the CARES Act.

Legislation to keep workers connected to employers, provide stability for businesses caught in this uncertainty, and mitigate the overall economic effects of this crisis is necessary. To best accomplish these goals, legislation must be targeted, temporary, and directed exclusively at the coronavirus. This bill does not pass those tests.

Generous bailouts for businesses and extremely broad federal assistance programs won't best help those hit hardest or get our economy back up and running when the time comes. They'll do what Washington programs often do: hurt the American people through unintended consequences while enriching a select few.

Of course, we are encouraged to see certain improvements made in the legislation, especially a number of sound tax provisions and a significant waiver of federal education mandates. Heritage's policy experts have outlined a number of proposals that would do more to help Americans suffering from the economic effects of the coronavirus pandemic.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

For a more detailed Heritage Foundation analysis, which was written in response to the initial draft of this legislation, see "Senate's Coronavirus Bill: Bailouts, Missed Opportunities, and Positive Reforms."

Image

214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, DC 20002 | (202) 546-4400

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, March 23, 2020 10:41 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 3/23/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

What's Happening at the Center

In the midst of this unprecedented shutdown of American life, the Center remains as active as ever, producing incisive analysis on all the latest immigration developments related to the Wuhan coronavirus. Mark Krikorian explains that, unbelievably, industries are using this crisis to request more foreign worker visas, citing school closures that are preventing employees from going to work. There was also a push to slip a big increase of EB-5 visas, which go overwhelmingly to wealthy Chinese investors, into the emergency stimulus bill. Jessica Vaughan explains that, just as the State Department has suspended visas for many exchange programs, the admission of all temporary workers should be suspended. Dr. Nayla Rush reveals that refugees were still being resettled during the outbreak. And Andrew Arthur, along with our other writers, continues to cover the decisions that are being made. Stay with the Center for all the latest.

Featured Posts

Refugees Are Being Resttled Despite the Coronavirus Outbreak

By Nayla Rush

Following the alarming spread of the Coronavirus or COVID-19 that appeared in China in December 2019, the world is taking extreme measures to try and contain this contagious virus that is mainly transmitted from person to person. Necessary steps undertaken by many countries, including the United States, entail travel restrictions, quarantines, closing of borders, etc.

The Wuhan Wakeup on Immigration and Border Security

A movie I have seen before

By Andrew R. Arthur

All of a sudden, the world changes. Vague and undefined "existential threats" — be they climate change, quid-pro-quos, or just the president himself — get replaced by more

Dr. Fauci: Trump China Restrictions Slowed Spread of the Wuhan Flu

The known unknowns, and the constant known known

By Andrew R. Arthur

On ABC News "This Week" on Sunday, Dr. Anthony Fauci, director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID) at the National Institutes of Health, indicated that the Trump administration's early decision to ban most travel from China slowed the spread of the Wuhan flu in the United States. Of course, the president was criticized six weeks ago when he made that decision, but that is all too unfortunately to be expected when it comes to Donald Trump and immigration.

WaPo Misses Key Points on Wuhan Flu

To flatten the curve, don't clear the imminent threats. That has been true in immigration in the past — and it is again.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .

The president's actions in response to this threat by restricting travel to the United States are consistent with his other efforts to control immigration (especially and in particular unscreened illegal immigration) to the United States to protect the homeland. Now, as before September 11, it is not only good, but responsible, to remember why the immigration laws exist to begin with. Otherwise, we will be sitting through a movie that I have already seen, one that doesn't end well.

detention centers and don't close the courts

By Andrew R. Arthur

Reducing the number of migrants who enter illegally puts CBP in a better position to medically screen those it apprehends, and can send migrants who need to be quarantined to NCEZID border "Q stations". To reduce the number of migrants, DHS needs to detain aliens who have entered illegally, and the immigration courts need to adjudicate their cases as quickly as possible. For that reason, the government should reject calls to limit detention or close non-detained immigration courts.

More Blog Posts

- The Economic Stimulus Package Should Meet Immigration Policy Needs
- A Revised Estimate of Birth Tourism
- Mandating E-Verify: Florida Lawmakers Squander an Opportunity to Open Up Thousands of Jobs
- EOIR Closes 11 Courts, Cancels Non-Detained Hearings
- Mexican Businessmen Want National Guard to Continue to Stop Caravans
- State Department Suspends Most Visa Issuances
- Will the Census Undercount the Foreign-Born? I Worry that It Will
- Trump and Trudeau Close the U.S.-Candian Border
- On Resisting ICE and 'Civil Disobedience'
- Biden Threatens ICE Officers for Doing Their Jobs
- DHS Should Retract Expansion of H-2B Visa Workers
- How Will the 'Work-at-Home' Notion Impact Our Foreign Workforces?
- Biden: No Deportations for 100 Days, and Only Felonies Thereafter
- Test and Remove Alien Detainees as Quickly as Possible
- Mexico Will Screen Migrants for Coronavirus
- Opportunists and Simplistic Solutions: Grasping at the Coronavirus

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Pandemic Like a Straw

- Office of Immigration Litigation's Work Does Not Threaten Judicial Independence
- Breaking News? ICE Makes Arrest in Front of California Courthouse, Officials Lose Minds
- Senate Action on Big Tech Green Card Bill S.386
- A Second Migrant Caravan from Honduras Heads North
- SCOTUS Stays Preliminary Injunction of 'Remain in Mexico'
- Guatemala to Screen New U.S.-Bound Migrant Caravan from Honduras for Coronavirus
- ICE Agents Make Arrests at a California Courthouse
- Suspending the Payroll Tax Would End OPT Subsidy
- WaPo Botches Reporting on AG's Torture Decision
- ID Theft Ruling Opens the Door to Collaborative Enforcement... If the Feds Seize the Initiative
- DNA Collection Authority Comes to DHS Nearly 15 After Statutory Enactment
- The Flimsiness of Schools Allowed to Admit Foreign Students Is Revealed
- Cut-and-Run Meets Catch-and-Release
- Ninth Circuit Doubles Down and Dithers on MPP
- Central American Migrants, Unable to Get Asylum in the U.S., Marry Mexicans

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

AMERICAN
OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, March 24, 2020 7:42 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Foreign Students Do Not Help the Economy

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Foreign Students Do Not Help the Economy

Washington, D.C. (March 24, 2020) – A new analysis by the Center for Immigration Studies reveals the negative impact of the foreign student program on the United States economy, contradicting the pro-foreign-student lobby, which has argued for years that the presence of such students is a huge (currently they say $45 billion-a-year) boost to the American economy. There may be non-economic reasons for a reasonably sized foreign student program, but economic reasons do not exist.

David North, a Center fellow and author of the analysis, said, "The idea that the foreign student population provides an economic boost for the U.S. is a myth. Foreign students do indeed bring in billions of dollars, but those billions are outbalanced by hidden billions in U.S. tax, endowment, and other funds spent by educational institutions subsidizing those, and other, students."

Read the entire analysis at: https://cis.org/North/Foreign-Students-Despite-Blather-Contrary-Do-Not-Help-Economy

Using rough estimations, but no rougher than those of the Institute of International Education (IIE), the source of the $45 billion figure, North found that if the students bring $45 billion or so with them, they then proceed to consume an estimated $119 billion in U.S. assets, for a net expenditure by U.S. institutions of about $74 billion a year.

Given the massive (if hidden) subsidies that foreign students receive while in school, and the even more hidden ones that many of them and their post-degree employers get through the Optional Practical Training (OPT) program, the time has come to cut back on some parts of the foreign student programs.

The report suggests several reforms to the foreign student program:

1. Stop issuing F-1 visas to those planning to attend the deeply subsidized community colleges.
2. Similarly, stop issuing F-1 visas for ESL students — one can study English anywhere in the world.
3. Demand that all schools teaching foreign students need to be accredited. (In lieu of accreditation a university, currently, may show DHS that three other institutions accept transfers from their school, an arrangement subject to some mutual back-scratching.)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4. Repeal the current provision that a foreign graduate student does not have to wait a year before working legally; currently that rule applies only to undergraduates. Or better, terminate (or at least reduce sharply) the OPT program.
5. Put the worst of the visa mills out of business.
6. Demand that incoming foreign students have passed a secure oral test indicating that they have a decent command of the English language.

Related Articles:

The Flimsiness of Schools Allowed to Admit Foreign Students Is Revealed
Accreditor of Low-Prestige Schools, ACICS, Lost Two-Thirds of Its Revenue

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Heritage Foundation

From: The Heritage Foundation
Sent: Wednesday, March 25, 2020 3:15 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: COVID-19 Policy Update

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Image

COVID-19 Policy Update

March 25, 2020

The Phase III plan is at the finish line in the Senate and the House has not yet set a timeline to take it up. Below, find the latest from Heritage on the major public policy debates surrounding COVID-19 relief.

Why Economic Freedom Is Critical to Beating the Coronavirus Pandemic
By: Kay C. James, President of The Heritage Foundation

The debate in the United States over whether to move away from free markets and toward socialism may change dramatically as the latest coronavirus spreads throughout the world. That's because in the fight against the global pandemic, we'll likely witness one of the most compelling arguments in our lifetimes emerge in favor of free-market systems—and lives will be saved in the process.

The pandemic will demonstrate that nations with the freest markets and freest people tend to have the health care systems with the greatest capacity to handle such a crisis. Free-market incentives have produced health care systems that have better capacities in terms of beds, equipment and medical personnel to handle increased caseloads. Those incentives have also spurred innovations that have led to some of the greatest medical advances in history.

The Coronavirus Game Plan—How We Got Here and Where It Ends
By: James Carafano, Vice President of the Davis Institute at The Heritage Foundation

You can endlessly debate the wisdom and timing of the administration's actions in responding to the COVID-19, or coronavirus, outbreak. But one thing seems beyond dispute: The federal government is making an all-out effort to help. Further, the innumerable press briefings and public statements leave no question as to the administration's overall game plan and what the White House sees as the likely endgame.

To make sure we're all on the same page, let's review the game plan. The first step was to slow the arrival of COVID-19 to our shores. The president did that by restricting travel from overseas—starting with China, then extending that to other nations as the disease spread.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Truth About the Charge That Trump 'Eliminated' White House Pandemic Office Before Coronavirus
By: Fred Lucas, White House Correspondent for The Daily Signal

A chief line of attack during the coronavirus crisis from former Obama administration officials and leading Democrats is that President Donald Trump shut down a White House office on pandemics that might have stopped COVID-19 from spreading—or at least alleviated the threat. The attack is based on a 2018 decision by then-national security adviser John Bolton to reorganize the White House's National Security Council.

But the top National Security Council official at the time of the change stressed that no office was closed. "We consolidated three directorates into one," Tim Morrison, former senior director for counterproliferation and biodefense on the NSC, told The Daily Signal in a phone interview. "This eliminated layers in the reporting chain and in the accountability chain."

3 Fixes to Ensure a Stable Food Supply During the Coronavirus Pandemic
By: Daren Bakst, Senior Research Fellow at The Heritage Foundation

Maintaining a safe and reliable food supply is one of the most important concerns during the coronavirus pandemic. This includes making sure there's enough food for Americans and that the food can get to American households. The Food and Drug Administration explained that there are no nationwide food shortages in the United States. This may seem like an odd statement when there are so many empty grocery store shelves. This is expected to change soon, however. Short-term inventory challenges exist, but the food supply remains in good shape. This doesn't mean we don't have challenges across the food supply chain. As the private sector adapts to meets the food needs of Americans during the pandemic, so too should government at the federal, state, and local levels. Here are three regulatory fixes that should be made immediately to help in these efforts.

A Public Health Crisis Is No Time for Private Pension Bailouts
By: Rachel Greszler, Research Fellow at The Heritage Foundation

Now is the time to address the COVID-19 crisis, not throw money at decades-long problems. House Democrats' inclusion of a massive taxpayer bailout for a select group of multiemployer or union pension plans in their most recent 1400-page pork-filled COVID-19 legislative package flies in the face of 60% of U.S. households that have suffered significant retirement account losses of their own with the stock market's roughly 25% COVID-19 tumble. A private pension bailout as a "solution" for the current situation is both ironic and disturbing. The Rehabilitation for Multiemployer Pension Plans Act, which the House of Representatives passed in July of 2019, would initially give more than $70 billion in taxpayer dollars to about 10% of the most underfunded multiemployer pension plans, allowing them to keep paying 100% of their massively over-promised and underfunded pension benefits.

America's Dual Nightmare: Coronavirus and Massive Debt
By: Romina Boccia, Director of the Center for the Federal Budget at The Heritage Foundation

Without question, the federal government has an important role in responding to major national emergencies such as the novel coronavirus pandemic. But its response should be specific and short-term. And it shouldn't push us still further into debt. Congress and the administration must stay focused on responding directly to the public health crisis, in a timely, targeted, and transparent manner, and without teeing up a public debt crisis in the process.

It won't be easy. Congress and President Trump are resorting to emergency fiscal measures, such as authorizing additional federal funding to support states in responding to the public health crisis, to keep employees attached to their employers while buffering both from undue economic hardship, and to provide temporary tax relief to affected business and individuals suffering from disruptions in cash flow. Amid all this activity, lawmakers should act with both resolve and prudence.

Avenues to Voter Fraud Have No Place in Coronavirus Bill
By: Hans A. von Spakovsky, Law Reform Initiative and Senior Legal Fellow

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We always knew that liberals considered federalizing control over elections to be an important priority. We just never dreamed it was more important than fighting the coronavirus pandemic or preserving American jobs. For years, both of us have testified before Congress about progressive designs to take over control from state election officials. Progressives long for federal mandates over how we vote, when we vote and who gets to collect absentee ballots. When Democrats took control of the House after the 2018 election, one of the many bad ideas they crammed into HR 1, the very first bill out of the chute, included "reforms" that would help Washington micromanage all elections.

Pelosi's Identity Politics Pork Barrel

By: Mike Gonzalez, Senior Fellow at The Heritage Foundation

"You never let a serious crisis go to waste," Obama adviser Rahm Emanuel said during the country's last major emergency. Now, House Speaker Nancy Pelosi is bringing this noxious idea back as she uses the coronavirus pandemic to permanently stamp identity politics on corporate America. Pelosi's coronavirus relief bill is a veritable pork barrel for programs that would force corporations receiving government aid to implement "diversity and inclusion" initiatives that have nothing to do with combating COVID-19, the disease caused by the coronavirus, and preventing its spread. In an age when the word "outrage" has lost its meaning through overuse, one is left speechless that the speaker of the House would hold the country's physical and financial health hostage in an attempt to remake the corporate world along the lines of identity politics.

Image

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

AMERICAN
OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, March 26, 2020 9:50 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 3/26/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Events, 3/26/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 3/27, Nationwide - Online discussion on migration-related issues and COVID-19 - [New Listing]
2. 3/27, DC - Society of Government Economists annual convention - [Cancelled]
3. 3/31, Nationwide - Online discussion on migration-related issues and COVID-19 - [New Listing]
4. 3/31, Cambridge, MA - Workshop on the contexts of reception that make asylum seekers feel welcome in Germany
5. 4/3, Nationwide - Online discussion on migration-related issues and COVID-19 - [New Listing]
6. 4/7, Nationwide - Online discussion on migration-related issues and COVID-19 - [New Listing]
7. 4/10, Nationwide - Online discussion on migration-related issues and COVID-19 - [New Listing]
8. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration
9. 4/16-19, Chicago - Immigration at the Midwest Political Science Association annual meeting - [Cancelled]
10. 4/22, Los Angeles - Lecture on unaccompanied Moroccan migrant minors in Spain - [Cancelled]
11. 4/22-23, Edinburgh, Scotland - Immigration at the Association for the Study of Ethnicity and Nationalism annual conference
12. 4/23, Cambridge, MA - Lecture on writing immigration history in an age of fake news - [Cancelled]
13. 4/24, Pittsburgh - Lecture on a comprehensive approach to the issue of immigration - [Cancelled]
14. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law
15. 5/6-8, DC - Certificate program course on immigration policy
16. 5/21-23, New Orleans - Conference on aiding immigrant and refugee communities in the Southeast U.S. post-Hurricane Katrina
17. 5/13-16, Guadalajara, Mexico - Latin American Studies Association annual meeting

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

18. 6/29-7/10, Brussels - 2020 Summer School on EU Immigration and Asylum Law and Policy
19. 7/27-31, DC - Certificate program course on global displacement and migration studies
20. 9/24-26, Portland, OR - Crimmigration Control International Network of Studies conference
21. 10/5-6, Ottawa - Annual Canadian immigration summit - [Rescheduled from 3/13-14]

1.
Immigration Short-takes: Mobility in the Time of COVID-19

Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility
https://zolberginstitute.org/initiatives/covid19-chats/

Description: Join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19.

Scholars and activists on migration and mobility will join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19, during the worldwide pandemic.

These short discussions, held over Zoom, will inform and engage the public through live and recorded conversations.

Discussions are held on Tuesdays and Fridays, at 1:00 p.m. ET/12:00 CT/11:00 a.m. MT/10:00 a.m. PT.

Speaker:
Shoba Sivaprasad Wadhia: Samuel Weiss Faculty Scholar; Clinical Professor of Law; Director, Center for Immigrants' Rights Clinic - Penn State Law

Join Alex Aleinikoff and Shoba Sivaprasad Wadhia, Samuel Weiss Faculty Scholar, Clinical Professor of Law, Director, Center for Immigrants' Rights Clinic at Penn State Law School, for the launch of Immigration Short-Takes: Mobility in the Time of COVID-19.

Professor Shoba Sivaprasad Wadhia is the Samuel Weiss Faculty Scholar and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Clinical Professor of Law at Penn State Law in University Park. Her research focuses on the role of prosecutorial discretion in immigration law and the intersections of race, national security and immigration. She has published more than thirty law review articles, book chapters and essays on immigration law. Her work has been published in Emory Law Journal, Texas Law Review, Washington and Lee Law Review, Harvard Latino Law Review, and Columbia Journal of Race and Law. Wadhia's first book, Beyond Deportation: The Role of Prosecutorial Discretion in Immigration Cases, was published by New York University Press in 2015, and named an honorable mention for the Eric Hoffer Book Award. Her new book, Banned: Immigration Enforcement in the Time of Trump, was released in 2019 by New York University Press. Wadhia has also co-authored an immigration textbook, Immigration and Nationality Law: Problems and Solutions, with Steve Yale-Loehr and Lenni Benson, published by Carolina Academic Press in 2019.

Join Zoom Meeting
https://NewSchool.zoom.us/j/7844236884?pwd=RXBra2NoZ0daZ0RhTDdSSDZxN0VKQT09

Password: Wadhia

One tap mobile

+16465588656,,7844236884# US (New York)
+13126266799,,7844236884# US (Chicago)

Dial by your location

+1 646 558 8656 US (New York)
+1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)
+1 253 215 8782 US
+1 301 715 8592 US
+1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)
+1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)
+39 020 066 7245 Italy
+39 021 241 28 823 Italy
+39 069 480 6488 Italy

Meeting ID: 784 423 6884

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

International Numbers: https://NewSchool.zoom.us/u/aCq57me5S

Return to Top

****

****

2.

The Society of Government Economists Annual Convention

8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Friday, March 27, 2020
Janet Norwood Conference and Training Center
U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2 Massachusetts Ave, NE
Washington, DC 20002
http://www.sge-econ.org/2020-sge-annual-conference/

Immigration-related sessions:

8:05 a.m.

The Migration Cost-Remittance-Consumption Pathway: Implications of High Migration Costs for Human Capital Investment in Nepal and Pakistan

Esther Bartl, The World Bank Group; Laura Caron Georgetown University; and Sundas Liaqat, The World Bank Group

Abstract: South Asian economies are major sources of international migrant labor and have experienced positive development impacts from the process. However, these countries have some of the highest migration costs in the world, and there is limited understanding of how these costs affect household welfare and behavior. This paper focuses on Nepal and Pakistan, to address this gap. In these countries, households that receive remittances spend 11% percent more on education and health than non-remittance receiving households. However, the high costs of migration tend to dampen both the propensity to remit and the amount remitted: a 1% increase in recruitment cost may decrease remittances by 0.05-0.15%. Specific interventions, such as the elimination of visa costs for Pakistani migrants could increase remittances by 2.9-5%. Policies that reduce migration costs may have large and important impacts on household investment behavior, and therefore the economic growth and development of Nepal and Pakistan.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Immigration Short-takes: Mobility in the Time of COVID-19

1:00 p.m., Tuesday, March 31, 2020
https://calendar.google.com/calendar/r/eventedit/copy/MGdhMGhjNTEyaXVlM2UwNW9jOHQzbThiZXNfMjAyMDAzMzFUMTcwMDAwWiBuZXdzY2hvb2wuZWR1X2gxbzV1czNmNHM3YTlpb2NudGtjb3BvMGg4QGc/Y2VudGVyQGNpcy5vcmc?sf=true

Speaker:
César Cuauhtémoc García Hernández: Associate Professor of Law, Sturm College of Law, University of Denver

Alex Aleinikoff is joined by César Cuauhtémoc García Hernández: Associate Professor of Law, Sturm College of Law, University of Denver. César Cuauhtémoc García Hernández is an associate professor at the University of Denver Sturm College of Law and a frequent commentator in national and international media. He publishes crimmigration.com, a blog about the convergence of criminal and immigration law that is a past recipient of the 100 best law blogs honor by the ABA Journal.

Join Zoom Meeting
https://NewSchool.zoom.us/j/7844236884?pwd=elp4WFI0anBlaVpNUmR5dERDbFFNUT09

Password: Hernandez

One tap mobile

+16465588656 ,,7844236884# US (New York)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

+13126266799 ,,7844236884# US (Chicago)

Dial by your location

+1 646 558 8656 US (New York)
+1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)
+1 253 215 8782 US
+1 301 715 8592 US
+1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)
+1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)
+39 020 066 7245 Italy
+39 021 241 28 823 Italy
+39 069 480 6488 Italy

Meeting ID: 784 423 6884

International Numbers: https://NewSchool.zoom.us/u/aCq57me5S

Return to Top

****
****

4.
The contexts of reception that make asylum seekers feel welcome in Germany

12:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 31, 2020
William James Hall, Room 450
33 Kirkland Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://sociology.fas.harvard.edu/event/rahsaan-maxwell-contexts-reception-make-asylum-seekers-feel-welcome-germany-0

Speaker:
Rahsaan Maxwell, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

5.

Immigration Short-takes: Mobility in the Time of COVID-19

1:00 p.m., Friday, April 3, 2020
https://calendar.google.com/calendar/r/eventedit/copy/MGdhMGhjNTEyaXVlM2UwNW9jOHQzbThiZXNfMjAyMDAzMzFUMTcwMDAwWiBuZXdzY2hvb2wuZWR1X2gxbzV1czNmNHM3YTlpb2NudGtjb3BvMGg4QGc/Y2VudGVyQGNpcy5vcmc?sf=true

Speaker:
Yael Schacher: Senior U.S. Advocate, Refugees International

Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Yael Schacher. Yael Schacher is a senior U.S. advocate at Refugees International, where she focuses on U.S. asylum, U.S. refugee admissions, temporary protected status, and immigration practices that have refugee protection implications. Prior to joining Refugees International, Yael spent a decade researching the relationship between immigration and refugee policy for her forthcoming book on the history of asylum in the U.S. since the late nineteenth century.

Join Zoom Meeting
https://NewSchool.zoom.us/j/7844236884?pwd=elp4WFI0anBlaVpNUmR5dERDbFFNUT09

Password: Hernandez

One tap mobile

+16465588656 ,,7844236884# US (New York)
+13126266799 ,,7844236884# US (Chicago)

Dial by your location

+1 646 558 8656 US (New York)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

+1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)
+1 253 215 8782 US
+1 301 715 8592 US
+1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)
+1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)
+44 131 460 1196 United Kingdom
+44 203 051 2874 United Kingdom
+44 203 481 5237 United Kingdom
+44 203 481 5240 United Kingdom

Meeting ID: 784 423 6884

International Numbers: https://NewSchool.zoom.us/u/aCq57me5S

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Immigration Short-takes: Mobility in the Time of COVID-19

1:00 p.m., Tuesday, April 7, 2020
https://calendar.google.com/calendar/r/eventedit/copy/MGdhMGhjNTEyaXVlM2UwNW9jOHQzbThiZXNfMjAyMDA0MDdUMTcwMDAwWiBuZXdzY2hvb2wuZWR1X2gxbzV1czNmNHM3YTlpb2NudGtjb3BvMGg4QGc/Y2VudGVyQGNpcy5vcmc?sf=true

Speaker:
Alan Kraut: University Professor of History and International Service at American University

Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Alan Kraut. Alan M. Kraut is a University Professor of History and International Service at American University, where he has been named Scholar/Teacher of the Year. A past president of the OAH, he is the author or editor of nine books, including the award-winning books Silent Travelers: Germs, Genes, and the "Immigrant Menace" (1994) and Goldberger's War: The Life and Work of a Public Health Crusader (2003).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Join Zoom Meeting
https://NewSchool.zoom.us/j/7844236884?pwd=elp4WFI0anBlaVpNUmR5dERDbFFNUT09

Password: Hernandez

One tap mobile

+16465588656 ,,7844236884# US (New York)
+13126266799 ,,7844236884# US (Chicago)

Dial by your location

+1 646 558 8656 US (New York)
+1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)
+1 253 215 8782 US
+1 301 715 8592 US
+1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)
+1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)
+44 131 460 1196 United Kingdom
+44 203 051 2874 United Kingdom
+44 203 481 5237 United Kingdom
+44 203 481 5240 United Kingdom

Meeting ID: 784 423 6884
International Numbers: https://NewSchool.zoom.us/u/aCq57me5S

Meeting ID: 784 423 6884

International Numbers: https://NewSchool.zoom.us/u/aCq57me5S

Return to Top

****
****

7.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Short-takes: Mobility in the Time of COVID-19

1:00 p.m., Friday, April 10, 2020
https://calendar.google.com/calendar/r/eventedit/copy/MGdhMGhjNTEyaXVIM2UwNW9jOHQzbThiZXNfMjAyMDAzMzFUMTcwMDAwWiBuZXdzY2hvb2wuZWR1X2gxbzV1czNmNHM3YTlpb2NudGtjb3BvMGg4QGc/Y2VudGVyQGNpcy5vcmc?sf=true

Speaker:
Miriam Ticktin, Associate Professor of Anthropology at The New School for Social Research

Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Miriam, who works at the intersections of the anthropology of medicine and science, law, and transnational and postcolonial feminist theory. Her research has focused in the broadest sense on what it means to make political claims in the name of a universal humanity: she has been interested in what these claims tell us about universalisms and difference, about who can be a political subject, on what basis people are included and excluded from communities, and how inequalities get instituted or perpetuated in this process.

Join Zoom Meeting
https://NewSchool.zoom.us/j/7844236884?pwd=elp4WFI0anBlaVpNUmR5dERDbFFNUT09

Password: Hernandez

One tap mobile

+16465588656 ,,7844236884# US (New York)
+13126266799 ,,7844236884# US (Chicago)

+1 646 558 8656 US (New York)
+1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)
+1 253 215 8782 US
+1 301 715 8592 US
+1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)
+1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)
+44 131 460 1196 United Kingdom

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

+44 203 051 2874 United Kingdom
+44 203 481 5237 United Kingdom
+44 203 481 5240 United Kingdom

Meeting ID: 784 423 6884

International Numbers: https://NewSchool.zoom.us/u/aCq57me5S

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in 2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and for national and international politics

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

9.

Midwest Political Science Association annual conference

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thursday-Sunday, April 16-19, 2020
Palmer House Hilton
17 East Monroe Street
Chicago, IL 60603
https://www.mpsanet.org/conference

[CANCELLED as of March 17, 2020]

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain

3:00-5:00 p.m., Wednesday, April 22, 2020
Lydeen Library, Rolfe Hall West 4302
UCLA campus
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1487
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14255

Speakers:
Susan Plann, Research Professor Emerita at UCLA in the departments of Chicana and Chicano Studies and Spanish and Portuguese and the author of Coming of Age in Madrid: An Oral History of Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors .

Abdellah Laroussi, social worker with Fundación La Merced Migraciones (Madrid), director of various residences for unaccompanied migrant youth, and prominent immigrant rights activist and spokesperson.

Description: According to Human Rights Watch, unaccompanied child migration is today the new normal; according to the Spanish press, it has now reached crisis proportions, and the great majority of unaccompanied foreign migrant minors in Spain are Moroccans. The topic of "Unaccompanied Moroccan Migrant Minors in Spain" is of importance for both European and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

African im/migration, and it also has significant implications for child migration to the U.S.

During the first half of the presentation Prof. Plann will provide an overview of unaccompanied Moroccan child migration to Spain, including the motives for their migration, how it is accomplished, their reception on Spanish shores, their status under Spanish law, and what happens when these children come of age. She will also point out notable differences between their situation in Spain and that of migrant minors in the U.S. Spain's policy toward unaccompanied child migrants, which includes a path to citizenship, may seem an attractive alternative to the American model, but Prof. Plann argues that it also has its downsides.

The second half of the presentation will feature Mr. Laroussi, himself a former Moroccan child migrant who now resides in Madrid. Social worker with the foundation Merced Migraciones and prominent immigrants' rights activist and spokesperson, Mr. Laroussi will tell his personal story and analyze the current situation of unaccompanied migrant youth in Spain, with whom he works on a daily basis.

Return to Top

****
****

11.
30th ASEN Annual Conference: Nationalism and Multiculturalism

Wednesday-Thursday, April 22-23, 2020
University of Edinburgh
Edinburgh, Scotland
https://asen.ac.uk/events/asen-conference/

Conference programme draft - Immigration-related sessions

Wednesday, April 22, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Welcome Ceremony and First plenary speaker: Bikhu Parekh

10:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

PANEL SESSION 1

Diaspora Communities: Long-Distance Nationalism in Situ

Indo-Trinidadian heritage: Toronto as a diaporic context

Kathleen Boodhai

Nationalism and politics among the Chinese diaspora in the UK

Oana Burcu

How Restrictive is Liberal Nationalism's Immigration Policy?

Ranjoo Herr

Rescaling Identity in Europe: Civilisationism, Self-determinism, and Multiculturalism

Other Brexit Imaginaries: Openness and the crisis of liberal Britain

Arshad Isakjee

Rescaling the border: Simulation, sovereignty and civilisationism

Paul Richardson

Challenges to Scandinavian National Identities

From Exclusion to Establishment: Researching Anti-Political Establishment Parties in Scandinavia

Johan Andersen

3:15-4:45 p.m.

PANEL SESSION 2

Social Perceptions of Diversity : Migration in European Nations

National/ European identities and attitudes towards migrant integration: findings from EVS-European Values Study

Simona Guglielmi

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The perception of European migrant crisis by Danish minority in Germany and German minority in Denmark. A comparative analysis of media discourses.
Sergiusz Bober

Migration and national minority communities: two sides in the debate about multiculturalism and interculturalism in Catalonia
Mariona Lladonosa

What's in a name? Children of migrants, national belonging and the politics of naming
Marco Antonsich

3:00-4:30 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 3

Indeterminate status: the Global Refugee Crisis

Nationalism and Immigration in Greece and the Netherlands: a Comparative Perspective
Thanos Koulos

Creating "refugees" within: Challenges for multiculturalism in Japan where only 20 refugees are accepted out of 20,000 applications
Naoko Hosokawa

Syrian refugees in Turkey: Challenge to Nationalism
Cigdem Nas

New Approaches in Nationalism Studies

Beyond assimilation: the compliance – resistance theory
Manolis Pratsinakis

When the Methods are Madness: Researching with Refugees in the UK
Isabella Gabrovsky

4:00-6:00 p.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Plenary speaker: Christian Joppke

Thursday, April 23, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.

Populism, Multiculturalism and Internationalism in Eurasia: Negotiating Empire and its Legacies

Russia reports Western voting: transnational nationalisms versus multiculturalism

Chatterje-Doody

1:30-3:00 p.m.

PANEL SESSION 5

Minority Nationalisms in the West

Immigration and the Imagined Community: Province-wide Norm or Local-level Realities in Quebec?

Antoine Bilodeau

European stateless nationalisms facing the challenge of multiculturalism. Insights from Scotland, Catalonia, Basque Country and Flanders

Paolo Perri

Migration, Minority Groups and the Politics of Multiculturalism in Japan and Northeast Asia

The politics of local multiculturalism in the age of superdiversity and resurgent nationalism in Japan

Sachi Takaya

Challenges and Possibilities of "Multicultural Japan" – The Emergence of Minority Representatives in Japan's Political Landscape

Seiko Mimaki

Territorial Disputes in Northeast Asia: Questioning the "national consciousness" paradigm

Alexander Bukh

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cultural nationalism in multicultural Japan
Fumiko Takahashi

Book Panel: Struggle over Borders
Pieter De Wilde

Disputing 'One China': Cases from Hong Kong and Taiwan

One country, two identities. In search of Hong Kong's identity
Malgorzata Osinska

'I was discriminated against because I was seen as PRC-Chinese': The negotiation between ethnicity and nationalism among Taiwanese migrants in Australia
Yao-Tai Li

Representing the Nation in Media Discourses

Cultural Boundary Drawings of German National Identity in Migrant Integration Discourses
Anja Benedikt

Book Panel: Borderline Citizen: Dispatches from the outskirts of nationhood
Robin Hemley

3:15-4:45 p.m.
Beyond the Melting Pot: Ethnicity in North America

Melting the Pot: The Rise of 'Ethnicity' in the United States
Jaakko Heiskanen

The Oxymoronic Nation: Liberal Individualism and the Invention of Color Race and Ethnicity in the United States, 1880-1920
Reynolds Scott-Childress

Muslim Minorities in Europe

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Liberal citizenship, pluralism and Muslims in Europe
Nasar Meer

Spiritualising Reason, Rationalising Spirit. Ex-, Practicing, and Converted Muslim Public Intellectuals in the German Far-Right
Julian Gopffarth

Laïcité bien comprise vs. Laïcité compromise: Senegalese Muslims in France
Olivia Till

Questioning Perceptions of National Belonging with Discourse Analysis

Discursive constructions of national identity in the Gulf States: 'Deserving citizens' and 'undeserving migrants'
Idil Akinci

Cataloguing the nation: National canons and admission to citizenship in the Netherlands and Flanders (2006-2019)
Jan Rock

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Writing Immigration History in an Age of Fake News

12:00-1:30 p.m., Thursday, April 23, 2020
Robinson Hall Basement Seminar Room
35 Quincy Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
https://immigrationinitiative.harvard.edu/event/writing-immigration-history-age-fake-news-katy-long-writer-and-broadcaster

Speaker:
Katy Long, Senior Research Associate at the School of Advanced Study at the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

University of London

Description: In the battle that currently rages over immigrants' place in America's future, history has been weaponized. If liberals remain convinced that America is at its very core a 'nation of immigrants': a country shaped by a constant flow of newcomers, conservatives insist that preserving historic American identity depends upon keeping an imminent immigrant 'invasion' at bay. The reality, however, is a far more less binary history than is suggested by either shrill and repetitive headlines about walls, deportations and looming crisis, or romanticized nostalgia for an era in which 'huddled masses' were ushered through 'golden doors'. At a moment when debates over immigration are at the center of a national political crisis, is there a duty to write about immigration in ways that reach beyond the seminar hall? If so, how can researchers best tell stories about the history of American Immigration in ways which engage an ever-more skeptical and polarized public.

Return to Top

****
****

13.
The Issue of Immigration in America: Moving Beyond Walls and Open Borders

4:30–6:00 p.m., Friday, April 24, 2020
Heinz College – Hamburg Hall A301
Carnegie Mellon University
5000 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890
https://www.heinz.cmu.edu/events/the-issue-of-immigration-in-america

Description: In the United States, the issue of immigration gives rise to controversy and conflict. This issue requires us to wrestle with challenging questions about many things, including:

Who should be admitted to the US as an immigrant (family members, skilled workers, etc.)?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

How many people should the US admit as immigrants (should we increase, decrease or keep current levels)?

What rules should guide the immigration process (and how should these rules be enforced)?

How should we address the problems (social, political, and economic) that cause people to migrate from their home countries?

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Conference Program:

Monday, April 27, 2020

I. THE LEGAL MIGRATION FRAMEWORK IN THE EU – RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

9:45 a.m.
Recent legislative developments and key priorities for 2020-2021 in the EU legal migration system
Laura Corrado

10:45 a.m.
Update on the Community Code on Visas: Regulation (EU) 2019/1155 amending Regulation (EC) 810/2009
Dimitri Giotakos

12:15 p.m.
The post-Brexit UK immigration system and its impact on EU citizens

* Should business be worried by the drop in EU migration?
* Current assessment of adopted measures
* What additional challenges are to be expected by companies?
* Solutions for cross-border workers after Brexit Annabel Mace

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

II. ASPECTS OF EU AND NATIONAL LEGAL MIGRATION LAW IN A BROADER LEGISLATIVE CONTEXT

2:15 p.m.

Investor citizenship and residence schemes in the European Union: the cases of Malta, Bulgaria and Cyprus

* Investor residence schemes and EU law on legal migration
* The link between investor residence schemes and naturalisation procedures
* Areas of concern
* Risks posed by investor citizenship and residence schemes

Jelena Dzankic

3:15 p.m.

Mobility rights for third-country nationals under the EU's migration directives: posted workers and EU intra-corporate transferees – how to differentiate and ensure compliance

* Main changes introduced by the revised posted workers directive
* Facilitating intra-EU mobility by the ICT permit
* Case law of the CJEU Matthias Lommers

4:30 p.m.

The new German skilled immigration rules

Marius Tollenaere

Tuesday, April 28, 2020

III. CASE LAW OF THE CJEU AND ITS IMPACT ON EU LEGAL MIGRATION LAW

9:30 a.m.

The right to family reunification and long-term resident status in recent CJEU jurisprudence

* G.S. and V.G. Joined cases C-381/18 and C-382/18
* Cases C-519/18 and C-706/18
* Case C-93/18: Right of residence of a third-country national who is a direct relative in the ascending line of Union citizen minors

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Case C-302/18: Conditions for the acquisition of long-term resident status
Doyin Lawunmi

IV. EXTERNAL DIMENSION OF LEGAL MIGRATION

11:00 a.m.
Developing and implementing alternative pathways for legal migration

* Socio-economic challenges
* Pilot projects for legal migration with selected third countries
* Legal migration pathways to Europe for low- and middle-skilled migrants
Silvio Grieco

V. FUTURE CHALLENGES AND OUTLOOK

12:00 p.m.
Reflections on EU legal migration law

* Assessment of the current situation
* Main challenges
* Ideas and suggestions for the future Kees Groenendijk

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-716 - Immigration Policy

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, May 6-8, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=29908153

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Description: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

The course also examines policies related to forced migration, including refugee resettlement, asylum and temporary protected status. These issues will be discussed in a comparative framework, analyzing how other countries address issues affecting the United States. The course will examine the role of federal, state and local authorities in implementing policy reforms. It also examines the role of public opinion and various interest groups in affecting policy formulation.

Students will be required to write a 10-page paper, due after the course completion, on a specific reform issue.

Section Notes: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****

****

16.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Building Just and Inclusive Communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama: 15 Years After Katrina

A Whole of Community Approach to Immigrants and Refugees

Thursday-Saturday, May 21-23, 2020
Loyola University New Orleans College of Law
526 Pine Street
New Orleans, LA 70118
https://cmsny.org/event/2020-whole-of-community-conference/

Description: The Center for Migration Studies' (CMS) Whole of Community Conference will be held this year at Loyola University New Orleans College of Law from May 21-23, 2020. At the conference, participants will explore the challenges facing diverse immigrant and refugee communities in local communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and elsewhere. The conference will feature best practices in supporting and defending these communities.

The Whole of Community Conference is a platform for community-focused collaborations among public officials, legal service providers, community organizers, community-based organizations, faith-based organizations, scholars, researchers, immigrants, refugees, and others in response to local and national immigration policies. The sponsors of this year's event will be CMS, Loyola University New Orleans College of Law and the Jesuit Social Research Institute / Loyola University New Orleans.

The conference schedule includes: optional site visits on May 21; and plenary panels and workshops on May 22 and 23. The conference fee of $50 includes lunch and refreshments throughout the event.

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Latin American Studies Association annual meeting

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Wednesday-Saturday, May 13-16, 2020
Guadalajara, Mexico
https://lasaweb.org/en/lasa2020/

Conference program to be available soon.

Return to Top

****
****

18.
2020 Summer School on EU Immigration and Asylum Law and Policy

Monday, June 29-Friday, July 10, 2020
Université libre de Bruxelles
Brussels, Belgium
http://odysseus-network.eu/2020-summer-school/eng/

Description: While we celebrate the 20th anniversary of our summer school, it has trained more than 2000 persons and is well known among employers considering it as an asset for job seekers. This 20th edition will focus on the new pact on migration to be presented in April by the European Commission. The objective is to give to the participants a global understanding of the immigration and asylum policies in the EU from a legal perspective. The summer school is organised by the Odysseus Network for Legal Studies on Immigration and Asylum in Europe, founded in 1999 with the support of the European Commission. In addition to classes, the summer school provides an excellent opportunity to spend an intellectually stimulating time in a group of around one hundred participants specialised in the area of asylum and immigration from all over Europe. The location of the summer school in Brussels creates a unique environment facilitating participants' interaction with European institutions. Participants in the summer school typically includes PhD and graduate students, researchers, EU and Member State officials, representatives from NGOs and International Organisations, lawyers, judges, social workers, etc. The classes are taught by academics originating from all EU Member States collaborating in the framework of the Odysseus Network, and by high-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ranking officials from the European Institutions, particularly the European Commission. You can discover the Summer School through this video: odysseus-network.eu/2020-summer-school

Subjects:

Opening lecture

Migration flows and statistics

Free movement of EU citizens

European institutional framework.

Implications of human rights

External relations and European migration policy

European Databases (SIS, VIS, Eurodac, etc.)

External border control

European visa policy

Immigration for purposes of work

Family reunification

Status and integration of third country nationals

Smuggling and trafficking

Return and readmission

Reception conditions for asylum seekers

European concepts of refugee and of subsidiary protection

Member States responsibility

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

("Dublin mechanism")

Asylum procedures

Calendar and Schedule: The first general part of the program includes 14 hours of lectures and the second and third specialised parts on immigration and asylum 30 hours in total. Each day is generally done of 2classes of 2 hours, presented with a coffeebreak in between. In order to enable participants in full-time employment to attend the classes, courses take mainly place in the afternoon between 2 pm and 6:30pm.

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-744 - Global Displacement & Migration Studies

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Friday, July 27-31, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=31222947

Course Description: This course offers deep knowledge and information about the different groups of people on the move (labor migrants, refugees, internally displaced, asylum seekers, and others), and the multiple causes and consequences of such movements of people. It also provides a global overview of displacement and migration numbers and trends; drivers of population movements; impacts on origin, transit and host countries; and policy responses to population movements.

Specifically, the course will cover the major theoretical explanations underpinning displacement and international migration; global migration and refugee governance; differences and trends in national policies, especially refugee resettlement and labor migration; integration experiences of immigrants in host countries; and connections between migration and displacement and other issues as security, development and environmental change. Finally, the certificate will illustrate how research questions are answered in an effort to enhance existing knowledge and improve policies and practices.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Objectives:

* After completing the certificate, successful students will be able to:

* Understand current patterns and trends related to displacement and global migration, including the number and characteristics of those on the move at global, regionally and national levels

* Understand differences among those on the move, including refugees, internally displaced persons, asylum seekers and others

* Articulate the causes of displacement and migration, drawing from both theory and empirical evidence;

* Describe the global refugee and migration governance frameworks and how they articulate the rights of people on the move and the responsibilities of origin, transit and destination countries;

* Assess the interconnections between international migration and other transnational issues, such as development, security and climate change

* Discuss and articulate strengths and weaknesses of the national policy frameworks governing the admission of migrants, control of irregular migration, protection of refugees and other forced migrants, etc.

* Understand the integration process of immigrants, and the resettlement process of refugees, in destination countries

* Learn how to ask and answer relevant research questions about these issues

Instructor: Katharine Donato

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Tuition: $4,995.00, 60 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

20.
Crimmigration, Capital, and Consequences, 5th Biennial CINETS Conference

Wednesday-Friday, September 24–26, 2020
Lewis and Clark Law School
10015 SW Terwilliger Blvd #7768
Portland, OR 97219
https://www.law.ox.ac.uk/news/2019-12-17-crimmigration-capital-and-consequences-5th-biennial-cinets-conference

Description: The Crimmigration Control International Network of Studies (CINETS) is pleased to invite you to our fifth biennial international conference, which will be held in partnership with Lewis & Clark's 25th annual Business Law Forum. For the first time, Oxford-based Border Criminologies will join CINETS as a co-host for this event.

Crimmigration, the merging of immigration enforcement and criminal justice regimes, has rapidly become the dominant response to human mobility around the globe. Crimmigration has emerged, ironically, in tandem with growing economic globalization. For capital, national borders have virtually disappeared, while the walls, virtual and literal, are growing higher for workers and others who need mobility to thrive, and even survive. Race, ethnicity, and personal wealth matter in who gains entry. Are fairness, justice, and inclusion, values that democratic societies hold dear, to be available only on a members-only basis? What is the role of capital in fomenting human mobility and profiting from the barriers that governments are erecting to deter immigrants? How can we resist the bordering trend that works selectively against those most in need? This conference will treat crimmigration and bordering holistically as systems nested within economy and society in subtle, and not-so-subtle, ways.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We welcome individual and panel submission (fully or partly-formed). The conference also welcomes submissions for work-in-progress sessions, including potential Border Criminologies blog posts. To apply, submit a (maximum) 200-word abstract, with a tentative title and contact information. Please indicate whether you are applying for a papers-only panel or a work-in-progress/blog post session.

Deadline for submissions is June 15, 2020. Send your submissions and questions to Richard Adams at richardadams@lclark.edu.

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Immigration and the changing nature of work

Canadian Immigration Summit 2020

[RESCHEDULED FROM MARCH 13-14, 2020]

Monday-Tuesday, October 5-6, 2020
The Shaw Center
Ottawa, Ontario, Canada
https://www.conferenceboard.ca/web/canadian-immigration-summit-2020.html

Programme:

Monday, October 5, 2020

8:20 a.m.
Opening remarks—Building an attractive and welcoming immigration system

8:40 a.m.
Remarks—Remaining competitive in a disruptive economy

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9:00 a.m.
Keynote -Radical innovation for greater social good

9:30 a.m.
Panel presentation - Global migration trends—Systems and policies

11:00 a.m.
Concurrent Sessions (please select one)

Concurrent A1: Fostering immigrant entrepreneurship

Concurrent A2: Long-term success of international students in Canada

Concurrent A3: Paving pathways for inclusion for skilled refugees

1:00 p.m.
Concurrent Sessions (please select one)

Concurrent B1: Using technology to help immigrants and refugees

Concurrent B2: Immigrant women and the fourth industrial revolution

Concurrent B3: In-camera session for employers—Talent solutions at the intersection of immigration and long-term prosperity

2:30 p.m.
Panel presentation - Attracting an immigrant workforce: Regional approaches to immigration in the new world of work

3:30 p.m.
Panel discussion - Innovation in the workplace—The employer experience

4:45 p.m.
Day 1 roundup

Tuesday, October 6, 2020

8:15 a.m.
Remarks—Building a forward-thinking workforce

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9:00 a.m.
Keynote - Innovative solutions: Can technology help transform the labour market, reskill workers, and support lifelong learning?

10:00 a.m.
Panel discussion - Business savvy with a global mindset: Employment in the age of increased migration

11:00 a.m.
Presentation - Remaining competitive through immigration and future-thinking

11:45 a.m.
Summit closing remarks

12:00 p.m.
Conference conclusion

1:00 p.m.
Optional Workshop Attracting international investment through business succession

****

Visit Website

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Sunday, March 29, 2020 2:02 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 3/29/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Opinions, 3/29/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here: http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, David North, Jessica Vaughan, and Jason Peña
2. "2020 Census Asks For Your Racial Identity, But Not if You're a Citizen," Ben Weingarten
3. "Coronavirus Will Bring a New Era of Borders, Walls, Distancing, Dispersion, and Self-Defense," James P. Pinkerton
4. "Trump's DHS Starts to Import 85,000 H-1B Graduate Gig Workers," Neil Munro
5. "The U.S. Isn't the World's Asylum," Matt O'Brien
6. "New Poll Shows Americans Agree With Trump Immigration Policies," Jonathan Hanen
7. "Global Pandemic or Not, DACA is All but Dead," Jennifer G. Hickey
8. "Illegal Alien DACA Recipients Tell the Supreme Court That the Program Should Be Preserved Due to Coronavirus," Cassandra Fairbanks
9. "AOC Complains Illegals Won't Get Rebate Check," WorldNetDaily.com
10. "Smuggling Attempts at Border Continue Despite Chinese Virus, More Sex Perverts Caught," R. Cort Kirkwood
11. "Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez Wants Coronavirus Cash Relief to Go to Illegal Aliens," Eric Lendrum
12. "Illegals Demand $1,200 Checks from Americans and Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez Steps up to the Plate for Them," Monica Showalter
13. "The Catholic Church and Immigration," Trey Brock
14. "Cannibal Man from Wuhan," Lloyd Billingsley
15. "Migrant Caravan Can't Supersede Coronavirus Concerns," The Boston Herald
16. "Mexican Protesters Demand Border With US be Closed," John Sexton
17. "Racist Mexicans Want to Ban Americans From Their Country Because of Coronavirus," Eddie Scarry
18. "Italy, Pandemic's New Epicenter, Has Lessons for the World," Jason Horowitz, Emma Bubola, and Elisabetta Povoledo

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

19. "One Good Thing About WuFlu Panic: Immigration Patriot Jeff Sessions May Now Beat RINO Tuberville in Alabama Senate Primary," Hugh McInnish
20. "Silicon Valley, and the Chinese Connection to Coronavirus Infection," James Fulford
21. "Covid-19 and Silicon Valley," Norm Matloff
22. "ICE and Border Patrol Warn: Illegal Aliens Are Dangerous in More Ways Than One," Jim Kouri
23. "Covid 19 Virus to Change the Way Humanity Lives and Travels," Frosty Wooldridge
24. "Failure to Fix Immigration Undermines Our Ability to Mitigate COVID-19," Cristobal Ramón
25. "Critics: USCIS Policies Make Immigration Difficult and Dangerous," Stuart Anderson
26. "Here's How We End U.S. Immigration Detention," Ashoka
27. "Unintended (COVID) Consequences of Tough Immigration Policies," Jeffrey Miron and Erin Partin
28. "Shutting the Door to Legal Immigration," TheWeek.com
29. "Migrants Aren't to Blame for COVID-19," Justine Calma
30. "The H-1B Registration Period Has Ended. How Did the New System Handle It?," Leslie Dellon
31. "How Coronavirus Is Changing US Asylum Policy at the Border," Aaron Reichlin-Melnick
32. "How the Coronavirus Is Disrupting USCIS Processing of Immigration Applications," Katy Murdza

1.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

ICE Should Continue to Detain Removable Aliens

March 26, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/ICE-Should-Continue-Detain-Removable-Aliens

Bailouts for Businesses? Only If They 'Hire American'

March 25, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://cis.org/Cadman/Bailouts-Businesses-Only-If-They-Hire-American

Where Is the Interagency Coordination Against Employers that Cheat Americans Out of Jobs?
March 24, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Cadman/Where-Interagency-Coordination-Against-Employers-Cheat-Americans-Out-Jobs

By Andrew R. Arthur

REAL ID Delayed Yet Again
It makes sense at the moment, but requirements should have been in place years ago
March 27, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/REAL-ID-Delayed-Yet-Again

'Remain in Mexico' Hearings Cancelled Through April 22
Program continues, though, while family unit apprehensions drop
March 26, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Remain-Mexico-Hearings-Cancelled-Through-April-22

SCOTUS Blows Up Limits on Judicial Review for Criminal Aliens
Upsetting the separation of powers
March 25, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/SCOTUS-Blows-Limits-Judicial-Review-Criminal-Aliens

DOJ Drops the Hammer on Employers Who Discriminate Against U.S. Workers
If employers are cheating, call the Protecting U.S. Workers Initiative — tell them Art sent you
March 23, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/DOJ-Drops-Hammer-Employers-Who-Discriminate-Against-US-Workers

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mexican Border Restrictions Implemented

Now, even smugglers and the cartels will feel the effects of the Wuhan flu

March 21, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Mexican-Border-Restrictions-Implemented

By David North

IRS, Which Often Ignores Migration Issues, Will Send Out the $1,200 Checks

March 27, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/North/IRS-Which-Often-Ignores-Migration-Issues-Will-Send-Out-1200-Checks

The Economic Stimulus Package Should Meet Immigration Policy Needs

March 27, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/North/Economic-Stimulus-Package-Should-Meet-Immigration-Policy-Needs

The Numerical Impact of the Coronavirus and the Trump Restrictions on Migration

March 27, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/North/Numerical-Impact-Coronavirus-and-Trump-Restrictions-Migration

ICE Should Use Its Publicists to Discourage Illegal Immigration

March 26, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/North/ICE-Should-Use-Its-Publicists-Discourage-Illegal-Immigration

Foreign Students, Despite Blather to the Contrary, Do Not Help the Economy

March 24, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/North/Foreign-Students-Despite-Blather-Contrary-Do-Not-Help-Economy

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Which Workers Organize over H-1B? Or, the World Turned Upside Down
March 21, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Which-Workers-Organize-over-H1B-Or-World-Turned-Upside-Down

By Jessica M. Vaughan

Senate Action on Big Tech Green Card Bill S.386
March 26, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Vaughan/Senate-S386-HR1044-Country-Cap

By Jason Peña

Costa Rica and Panama Loosen Borders for Thousands of U.S.-Bound Migrants
March 26, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Costa-Rica-and-Panama-Loosen-Borders-Thousands-USBound-Migrants

Hundreds of Migrants Riot to Attempt Escape at Mexican Detention Facility
March 25, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Pena/Hundreds-Migrants-Riot-Attempt-Escape-Mexican-Detention-Facility

Return to Top

****
****

2.
2020 Census Asks For Your Racial Identity, But Not if You're a Citizen
How can we square the government's willingness to ask us about race and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

origin with its unwillingness to ask about something as fundamental as citizenship?
By Ben Weingarten
The Federalist, March 27, 2020
. . .
https://thefederalist.com/2020/03/27/2020-census-asks-for-your-racial-identity-but-not-if-youre-a-citizen/

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Coronavirus Will Bring a New Era of Borders, Walls, Distancing, Dispersion, and Self-Defense
By James P. Pinkerton
Breitbart.com, March 26, 2020
. . .
https://www.breitbart.com/health/2020/03/26/pinkerton-coronavirus-will-bring-a-new-era-of-borders-walls-distancing-dispersion-and-self-defense/

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Trump's DHS Starts to Import 85,000 H-1B Graduate Gig Workers
By Neil Munro
Breitbart.com, March 27, 2020
. . .
https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2020/03/27/donald-trump-dhs-starts-to-import-85000-h-1b-graduate-gig-workers/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

5.

The U.S. Isn't the World's Asylum

By Matt O'Brien

ImmigrationReform.com, March 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/03/27/asylum-media-bias-courts-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

6.

New Poll Shows Americans Agree With Trump Immigration Policies

By Jonathan Hanen

ImmigrationReform.com, March 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/03/27/trump-immigration-poll-support-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

7.

Global Pandemic or Not, DACA is All but Dead

By Jennifer G. Hickey

ImmigrationReform.com, March 25, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/03/25/daca-supreme-court-covid-19-immigrationreform-com/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

8.

Illegal Alien DACA Recipients Tell the Supreme Court That the Program Should Be Preserved Due to Coronavirus

By Cassandra Fairbanks

Gateway Pundit, March 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.thegatewaypundit.com/2020/03/illegal-alien-daca-recipients-tell-the-supreme-court-that-the-program-should-be-preserved-due-to-coronavirus/

Return to Top

****

****

9.

AOC Complains Illegals Won't Get Rebate Check

Blasts Republicans for requring recipients to have Social Security number

WorldNetDaily.com, March 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.wnd.com/2020/03/aoc-complains-illegals-wont-get-rebate-check/

Return to Top

****

****

10.

Smuggling Attempts at Border Continue Despite Chinese Virus, More Sex Perverts Caught

By R. Cort Kirkwood

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The New American, March 27, 2020

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2020/03/illegals_demand_1200_checks_from_americans_and_alexandria_ocasiocortez_steps_up_to_the_plate_for_them.html

Return to Top

****

****

11.

Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez Wants Coronavirus Cash Relief to Go to Illegal Aliens

By Eric Lendrum

American Greatness, March 27, 2020

. . .

https://amgreatness.com/2020/03/27/alexandria-ocasio-cortez-wants-coronavirus-cash-relief-to-go-to-illegal-aliens/

Return to Top

****

****

12.

Illegals Demand $1,200 Checks from Americans and Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez Steps up to the Plate for Them

By Monica Showalter

American Thinker Blog, March 28, 2020

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2020/03/illegals_demand_1200_checks_from_americans_and_alexandria_ocasiocortez_steps_up_to_the_plate_for_them.html

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

13.
The Catholic Church and Immigration
By Trey Brock
ChurchMilitant.com, March 22, 2020
. . .
https://www.churchmilitant.com/news/article/the-catholic-church-and-immigration

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Cannibal Man from Wuhan
Lessons on immigration, law, and terrorism.
By Lloyd Billingsley
FrontPageMag.com, March 25, 2020
. . .
https://www.frontpagemag.com/fpm/2020/03/cannibal-man-wuhan-lloyd-billingsley/

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Migrant Caravan Can't Supersede Coronavirus Concerns
The Boston Herald, March 20, 2020
. . .
https://www.bostonherald.com/2020/03/20/migrant-caravan-cant-supersede-coronavirus-concerns/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

16.
Mexican Protesters Demand Border With US be Closed
By John Sexton
HotAir.com, March 26, 2020
. . .
https://hotair.com/archives/john-s-2/2020/03/26/mexican-protesters-demand-border-us-closed/

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Racist Mexicans Want to Ban Americans From Their Country Because of Coronavirus
By Eddie Scarry
Washington Examiner, March 27, 2020
. . .
https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/racist-mexicans-want-to-ban-americans-from-their-country-because-of-coronavirus

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Italy, Pandemic's New Epicenter, Has Lessons for the World
The country's experience shows that steps to isolate the coronavirus and limit

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

people's movement need to be put in place early, with absolute clarity, then strictly enforced.
By Jason Horowitz, Emma Bubola, and Elisabetta Povoledo
The New York Times, March 21, 2020
. . .
https://www.nytimes.com/2020/03/21/world/europe/italy-coronavirus-center-lessons.html

Return to Top

****
****

19.
One Good Thing About WuFlu Panic: Immigration Patriot Jeff Sessions May Now Beat RINO Tuberville in Alabama Senate Primary
By Hugh McInnish
VDare.com, March 24, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/one-good-thing-about-wuflu-panic-immigration-patriot-jeff-sessions-may-now-beat-rino-tuberville-in-alabama-senate-primary

Return to Top

****
****

20.
Silicon Valley, and the Chinese Connection to Coronavirus Infection
By James Fulford
VDare.com Blog, March 26, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/dr-norm-matloff-on-covid-19-silicon-valley-and-the-chinese-connection-to-coronavirus-infection

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

21.

Covid-19 and Silicon Valley

By Norm Matloff

Upon Closer Inspection, March 26, 2020

. . .

https://normsaysno.wordpress.com/2020/03/26/covid-19-and-silicon-valley/

Return to Top

****

****

22.

ICE and Border Patrol Warn: Illegal Aliens Are Dangerous in More Ways Than One

By Jim Kouri

News With Views, March 10, 2020

. . .

https://newswithviews.com/ice-and-border-patrol-warn-illegal-aliens-are-dangerous-in-more-ways-than-one/

Return to Top

****

****

23.

Covid 19 Virus to Change the Way Humanity Lives and Travels

By Frosty Wooldridge

NewsWithViews.com, March 19, 2020

. . .

https://newswithviews.com/covid-19-virus-to-change-the-way-humanity-lives-and-travels/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

24.

Failure to Fix Immigration Undermines Our Ability to Mitigate COVID-19

By Cristobal Ramón

TheHill.com, March 25, 2020

. . .

https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/489546-failure-to-fix-immigration-undermines-our-ability-to-mitigate-covid-19

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Critics: USCIS Policies Make Immigration Difficult and Dangerous

By Stuart Anderson

Forbes.com, March 23, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/03/23/critics-uscis-policies-make-immigration-difficult-and-dangerous/#586972696a46

Return to Top

****

****

26.

Here's How We End U.S. Immigration Detention

By Ashoka

Forbes.com, March 24, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.forbes.com/sites/ashoka/2020/03/24/heres-how-we-end-us-immigration-detention/#39352c8c1916

Return to Top

****
****

27.
Unintended (COVID) Consequences of Tough Immigration Policies
By Jeffrey Miron and Erin Partin
CATO at Liberty Blog, March 27, 2020
. . .
https://www.cato.org/blog/unintended-covid-consequences-tough-immigration-policies

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Shutting the Door to Legal Immigration
TheWeek.com, March 22, 2020
. . .
https://news.yahoo.com/shutting-door-legal-immigration-094502173.html

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Migrants Aren't to Blame for COVID-19
This is no time to crack down on immigration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Justine Calma
TheVerge.com, March 27, 2020
. . .
https://www.theverge.com/2020/3/27/21196100/immigration-borders-covid-19-coronavirus

Return to Top

****
****

30.
The H-1B Registration Period Has Ended. How Did the New System Handle It?
By Leslie Dellon
ImmigrationImpact.com, March 26, 2020
. . .
https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/03/26/h1b-registration-petition-uscis/#.Xn-9mc-WybY

Return to Top

****
****

31.
How Coronavirus Is Changing US Asylum Policy at the Border
By Aaron Reichlin-Melnick
ImmigrationImpact.com, March 23, 2020
. . .
https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/03/23/how-coronavirus-us-asylum-policy/#.Xn--FM-WybY

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

32.

How the Coronavirus Is Disrupting USCIS Processing of Immigration Applications

By Katy Murdza

ImmigrationImpact.com, March 25, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/03/25/coronavirus-uscis-immigration-applications/#.Xn_AIM-WybY

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, March 30, 2020 5:28 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Visas for Victims: A Look at the U Visa Program

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A Look at the U Visa Program

USCIS new data shows beneficiaries are illegal aliens, some with egregious violations

Washington, D.C. (March 30, 2020) – A new report by the Center for Immigration Studies focuses on the controversial U visa program, which awards lawful status and a path to a green card and citizenship for alien crime victims and their families. The report analyzes data newly released by USCIS, which will help policymakers determine appropriate reforms to ensure the program works as Congress intended, serves law enforcement, and does not shut out deserving applicants.

The annual number of U visa petitions has quintupled in the last decade, from roughly 11,000 in 2009 to 59,000 in 2018. Once approved, victims may sponsor spouses and children, or parents (if the victim is under age 21). The approval rate over 10 years is 82 percent. Just over half (56%) were for the principal applicant (the crime victim), with 44 percent approved for family members. To qualify, victims must have suffered substantial physical or mental abuse; have information of use to prosecutors; and actually be helpful to authorities in prosecuting the abuser. It is not supposed to be an automatic benefit for anyone who is the victim of a crime.

As the program has grown, there is more concern that the U visa program is vulnerable to fraud, improperly promoted by advocates, and exploited as an easy avenue to obtain legal status. Nearly all of the beneficiaries are illegal aliens, and nearly one-fifth of the approved petitioners did not have a valid passport or visa. This raises questions as to the ability of USCIS to authenticate the identity of the individual (and their derivative family members). Because the program rules allow applicants to avoid deportation and obtain a work permit for several years, even before final approval of the application, there is a powerful incentive to file a petition, even if the applicant believes it eventually will be rejected.

Jessica Vaughan, the Center's director of policy and author of the report, said, "This new data released by USCIS will be a big help to policymakers in identifying where to make changes in the U visa program. I hope they will put out more reports like this, especially looking at whether the program is helping law enforcement agencies prosecute offenders and encourage victims of serious crimes to report and work with police. Advocacy groups have agitated mainly for increasing the number of visas available and letting more categories of applicants qualify. But it's likely that Congressional intent can be fulfilled more directly by weeding out the frivolous and fraudulent petitions. That would be a better way to help the meritorious applicants."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

View the entire report at: https://cis.org/Report/Visas-Victims-Look-U-Visa-Program

The new report from USCIS examines applications filed between 2012 and 2018. Among the key findings:

- Only five percent of U visa petitioners reported having lawful immigration status at the time of application. Most (79%) reported never having lawful status and 14 percent said they were visa overstays.
- 22 percent of the petitioners reported that they had once been in deportation proceedings prior to seeking the U visa. That number has nearly doubled in the last year. Another 13 percent said that they were currently in deportation proceedings at the time they petitioned for the U visa.
- A significant share of U visa applicants are disqualified for admission to the United States, but are able to apply for a waiver of inadmissibility as a U visa applicant. The most common reason for needing a waiver was illegal presence (79%), followed by lack of a valid passport or visa (19%).
- A number of approved U visa recipients had previously committed immigration fraud (10%) or re-entered illegally after removal (8%), which are both considered serious immigration violations. Six percent of those approved for the U visa had been ordered removed at some point before.
- The largest number of petitions were filed by citizens of Mexico (68%), followed by Guatemala (7%), El Salvador (6.3%), Honduras (5.3%), India (3%) and Ecuador (1.9%).
- Fifty-eight percent of all the petitioners were women. This share has gradually decreased since 2012, when 69 percent of the petitioners were female.
- About 43 percent of the petitioners also seek to sponsor a family member/s. On average, U visa petitioners sponsored 1.5 family members.
- Roughly half (49.2%) of the family members sponsored were spouses, 42.5 percent were children, and 7.1 percent were parents.
- Of the family members, about one-fifth had been or were currently in deportation proceedings. 90 percent were also in the United States at the time of application, and 86 percent lacked lawful status.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Related Articles:

Use and Misuse of U Visa Alien Victims Crime
Some Suggestions Designed to Strengthen U Crime Victim Visa Program
The Worst Kind of Immigration Fraud
How Much Does U Visa Program Actually Help Enforce our Laws
Shadows and Lies

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, March 30, 2020 9:44 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 3/30/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Featured Posts

SCOTUS Blows Up Limits on Judicial Review for Criminal Aliens

By Andrew R. Arthur

On Monday, the Supreme Court issued a decision in Guerrero-Lasprilla v. Barr. The decision blows up what had been limited judicial review for criminal aliens, and gives aliens who have long since been ordered removed the opportunity to seek judicial review of denials of their motions to reopen their cases. Most critically, it upsets the separation of powers between Congress and the courts.

IRS, Which Often Ignores Migration Issues, Will Send Out the $1,200 Checks

By David North

It appears that the Internal Revenue Service, which tries to avoid immigration issues whenever it can, will be tasked with the distribution of the $1,200 coronavirus relief checks. I worry that large numbers of illegal aliens — those in the country for a couple of years — will get these checks.

'Remain in Mexico' Hearings Cancelled Through April 22

By Andrew Arthur

On Monday, the Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR), the Department of Justice component with jurisdiction over the immigration courts, announced that all hearings for respondents covered by the Migrant Protection Protocols ("MPP", better known as "Remain in Mexico") presently scheduled through April 22 are being rescheduled. Those hearings, and MPP itself will continue, however.

Costa Rica and Panama Loosen Border for Thousands of U.S.-Bound Migrants

By Jason Peña

The governments of Panama and Costa Rica have announced a joint plan to allow more than 2,600 U.S.-bound migrants to pass through their countries. According to authorities, the extra-continental migrant procession is composed of foreign nationals from Africa, Asia, Haiti, and Cuba. Before enacting the new border policy, the neighboring Central American nations restricted non-citizens from entering their countries to prevent the spread of coronavirus.

More Blog Posts

- Foreign Students, Despite Blather to the Contrary, Do Not Help the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Economy

- Where Is the Interagency Coordination Against Employers that Cheat Americans Out of Jobs?
- Senate Action on Big Tech Green Card Bill S.386
- ICE Should Use Its Publicists to Discourage Illegal Immigration
- ICE Should Continue to Detain Removable Aliens
- Hundreds of Migrants Riot to Attempt Escape at Mexican Detention Facility
- Bailouts for Business? Only If They 'Hire American'
- DOJ Drops the Hammer on Employers Who Discriminate Against U.S. Workers
- Which Workers Organize over H-1B? Or, the World Turned Upside Down
- Mexican Border Restrictions Implemented

Visit Website

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, March 30, 2020 7:14 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 3/30/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Events, 3/30/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 3/31, Nationwide - Online discussion on migration-related issues and COVID-19
2. 4/2, Nationwide - Webinar on impact of the Covid-19 pandemic on migrants and remittances to Latin America and the Caribbean - [New Listing]
3. 4/2, Nationwide - MPI webinar on COVID-19 in Latin America - [New Listing]
4. 4/3, Nationwide - Online discussion on migration-related issues and COVID-19
5. 4/7, Nationwide - Online discussion on migration-related issues and COVID-19
6. 4/10, Nationwide - Online discussion on migration-related issues and COVID-19
7. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration
8. 4/22-23, Edinburgh, Scotland - Immigration at the Association for the Study of Ethnicity and Nationalism annual conference
9. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law - [Postponed indefinitely]
10. 5/6-8, DC - Certificate program course on immigration policy
11. 5/21-23, New Orleans - Conference on aiding immigrant and refugee communities in the Southeast U.S. post-Hurricane Katrina
12. 5/13-16, Guadalajara, Mexico - Latin American Studies Association annual meeting - [Still scheduled]
13. 6/29-7/10, Brussels - 2020 Summer School on EU Immigration and Asylum Law and Policy
14. 7/27-31, DC - Certificate program course on global displacement and migration studies
15. 9/24-26, Portland, OR - Crimmigration Control International Network of Studies conference
16. 10/5-6, Ottawa - Annual Canadian immigration summit - [Rescheduled from 3/13-14]

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1.

Immigration Short-takes: Mobility in the Time of COVID-19

Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility
https://zolberginstitute.org/initiatives/covid19-chats/

Description: Join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19.

Scholars and activists on migration and mobility will join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19, during the worldwide pandemic.

These short discussions, held over Zoom, will inform and engage the public through live and recorded conversations.

Discussions are held on Tuesdays and Fridays, at 1:00 p.m. ET/12:00 CT/11:00 a.m. MT/10:00 a.m. PT.

1:00 p.m., Tuesday, March 31, 2020
https://calendar.google.com/calendar/r/eventedit/copy/MGdhMGhjNTEyaXVlM2UwNW9jOHQzbThiZXNfMjAyMDAzMzFUMTcwMDAwWiBuZXdzY2hvb2wuZWR1X2gxbzV1czNmNHM3YTlpb2NudGtjb3BvMGg4QGc/Y2VudGVyQGNpcy5vcmc?sf=true

Speaker:
César Cuauhtémoc García Hernández: Associate Professor of Law, Sturm College of Law, University of Denver

Alex Aleinikoff is joined by César Cuauhtémoc García Hernández: Associate Professor of Law, Sturm College of Law, University of Denver. César Cuauhtémoc García Hernández is an associate professor at the University of Denver Sturm College of Law and a frequent commentator in national and international media. He publishes crimmigration.com, a blog about the convergence of criminal and immigration law that is a past recipient of the 100 best law blogs honor by the ABA Journal.

Join Zoom Meeting
https://NewSchool.zoom.us/j/7844236884?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

pwd=elp4WFl0anBlaVpNUmR5dERDbFFNUT09

Password: Hernandez

One tap mobile

+16465588656 ,7844236884# US (New York)
+13126266799 ,7844236884# US (Chicago)

Dial by your location

+1 646 558 8656 US (New York)
+1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)
+1 253 215 8782 US
+1 301 715 8592 US
+1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)
+1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)
+39 020 066 7245 Italy
+39 021 241 28 823 Italy
+39 069 480 6488 Italy

Meeting ID: 784 423 6884

International Numbers: https://NewSchool.zoom.us/u/aCq57me5S

Return to Top

****
****

2.

Impact of the Covid-19 Pandemic on Migrants and Remittances to Latin America and the Caribbean

9:00-10:30 a.m. EDT, Thursday, April 2, 2020
Inter-American Dialogue
1155 15th Street NW, Suite 800

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Washington, DC 20005
https://www.thedialogue.org/events/online-event-impact-of-covid-19-pandemic-on-migrants-and-remittances-to-lac/

Online Webinar

Speakers:
Mariellen Jewers
Vice-President, Open Avenues Foundation

Piero Coen
President and CEO, Grupo Coen

Gene Nigro
Vice President of Global Business Development, Remitly

Moderator:
Manuel Orozco
Program Director, Migration, Remittances and Development, Inter-American Dialogue

Description: According to the Inter-American Dialogue's recently released 2019 Annual Remittances Report, family remittances to Latin America and the Caribbean last year grew by approximately six percent, totaling nearly US$100 billion. The growth in remittances stood in contrast to the region's slower economic growth of 0.6 percent according to the UN's Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean.

Moreover, given the Covid-19 pandemic and its economic implications on migrants, we forecast a negative three to five percent drop in remittances from the US in 2020 as compared to 2019, from 77 to 75 billion. The economic consequences for the region will likely be significant. Venezuela, Honduras, Nicaragua and Guatemala are among the countries with the highest levels of remittance dependence and will likely be the most affected by the remittance growth decline in 2020.

This context raises important questions about the pandemic's impact on migrants and remittances such as:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* How vulnerable are migrants to the pandemic's effects on health and economics?

* What are the economic impacts of the recession on remittance transfers?

* How are money transfer businesses coping or leveraging opportunities in this new reality?

To discuss remittance trends and the impacts of the pandemic, the Dialogue is pleased to host a webinar as part of the our Remittance Industry Observatory, an initiative that seeks to share information and analysis about the remittance market.

Follow this event on Twitter at #Remittances2019 and @The_Dialogue.

Please RSVP to receive information on how to join the webinar. We invite participants to submit questions via the "Chat" function in Zoom during the event OR email questions to meetings@thedialogue.org.

Return to Top

****
****

3.

COVID-19 in Latin America: Tackling Health Care & Other Impacts for Vulnerable Migrant Populations

11:00 a.m. ET, Thursday, April 2, 2020
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/events/covid-latin-america-health-care-impacts-migrant-populations

Description: Governments across Latin America have taken extraordinary mobility-limiting measures in recent days as the number of COVID-19 cases continues to surge, with important impacts for a region that has seen a massive scale of forced and irregular migration. Most countries in the region have ordered the full closure of their land and sea borders, and imposed stringent air travel restrictions on all foreigners. In addition, government leaders in Colombia,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Peru, and Ecuador are among those who have announced countrywide lockdowns and declared states of emergency, ordering the closure of public spaces including businesses, schools, and shelters.

This global public health crisis comes at a critical time for regional mobility and migration. Since 2015, Latin America has experienced unprecedented migration flows, with the exodus of millions from Venezuela. There are major questions about how the pandemic-related preventative measures will impact ongoing migration flows and border communities that depend on cross-border trade and services. And there are significant concerns about how COVID-19 may affect immigrant communities that do not always have access to health services. At the same time, several governments, such as those in Colombia and Argentina, are looking at creative ways of engaging immigrant health professionals in the effort to combat the spread of the virus.

This Migration Policy Institute webinar will bring together public health and migration experts to analyze the impact these preventative measures will have on vulnerable immigrants and refugees in Latin America, looking at Colombia as a case study. The speakers also will discuss how policymakers and international organizations can include migrant populations in their emergency response plans.

Speakers:
Iván Darío Gonzalez Ortiz, former Vice Minister and Acting Minister, Colombian Ministry of Health and Social Protection

Ana White, Senior Interagency Coordinator, United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR)

Julián A. Fernández Niño, Professor, Department of Public Health, Universidad del Norte (Barranquilla, Colombia)

Moderator:
Andrew Selee, President, Migration Policy Institute

Register: http://my.migrationpolicy.org/p/salsa/event/common/public/?event_KEY=89598

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

*4.

Immigration Short-takes: Mobility in the Time of COVID-19

1:00 p.m., Friday, April 3, 2020
https://calendar.google.com/calendar/r/eventedit/copy/MGdhMGhjNTEyaXVlM2UwNW9jOHQzbThiZXNfMjAyMDAzMzFUMTcwMDAwWiBuZXdzY2hvb2wuZWR1X2gxbzV1czNmNHM3YTlpb2NudGtjb3BvMGg4QGc/Y2VudGVyQGNpcy5vcmc?sf=true

Speaker:
Yael Schacher: Senior U.S. Advocate, Refugees International

Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Yael Schacher. Yael Schacher is a senior U.S. advocate at Refugees International, where she focuses on U.S. asylum, U.S. refugee admissions, temporary protected status, and immigration practices that have refugee protection implications. Prior to joining Refugees International, Yael spent a decade researching the relationship between immigration and refugee policy for her forthcoming book on the history of asylum in the U.S. since the late nineteenth century.

Join Zoom Meeting
https://NewSchool.zoom.us/j/7844236884?pwd=elp4WFI0anBlaVpNUmR5dERDbFFNUT09

Password: Hernandez

One tap mobile

+16465588656 ,7844236884# US (New York)
+13126266799 ,7844236884# US (Chicago)

Dial by your location

+1 646 558 8656 US (New York)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

+1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)
+1 253 215 8782 US
+1 301 715 8592 US
+1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)
+1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)
+44 131 460 1196 United Kingdom
+44 203 051 2874 United Kingdom
+44 203 481 5237 United Kingdom
+44 203 481 5240 United Kingdom

Meeting ID: 784 423 6884

International Numbers: https://NewSchool.zoom.us/u/aCq57me5S

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Immigration Short-takes: Mobility in the Time of COVID-19

1:00 p.m., Tuesday, April 7, 2020
https://calendar.google.com/calendar/r/eventedit/copy/MGdhMGhjNTEyaXVlM2UwNW9jOHQzbThiZXNfMjAyMDA0MDdUMTcwMDAwWiBuZXdzY2hvb2wuZWR1X2gxbzV1czNmNHM3YTlpb2NudGtjb3BvMGg4QGc/Y2VudGVyQGNpcy5vcmc?sf=true

Speaker:
Alan Kraut: University Professor of History and International Service at American University

Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Alan Kraut. Alan M. Kraut is a University Professor of History and International Service at American University, where he has been named Scholar/Teacher of the Year. A past president of the OAH, he is the author or editor of nine books, including the award-winning books Silent Travelers: Germs, Genes, and the "Immigrant Menace" (1994) and Goldberger's War: The Life and Work of a Public Health Crusader (2003).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Join Zoom Meeting
https://NewSchool.zoom.us/j/7844236884?pwd=elp4WFI0anBlaVpNUmR5dERDbFFNUT09

Password: Hernandez

One tap mobile

+16465588656 ,,7844236884# US (New York)
+13126266799 ,,7844236884# US (Chicago)

Dial by your location

+1 646 558 8656 US (New York)
+1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)
+1 253 215 8782 US
+1 301 715 8592 US
+1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)
+1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)
+44 131 460 1196 United Kingdom
+44 203 051 2874 United Kingdom
+44 203 481 5237 United Kingdom
+44 203 481 5240 United Kingdom

Meeting ID: 784 423 6884
International Numbers: https://NewSchool.zoom.us/u/aCq57me5S

Meeting ID: 784 423 6884

International Numbers: https://NewSchool.zoom.us/u/aCq57me5S

Return to Top

****
****

6.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Short-takes: Mobility in the Time of COVID-19

1:00 p.m., Friday, April 10, 2020
https://calendar.google.com/calendar/r/eventedit/copy/MGdhMGhjNTEyaXVIM2UwNW9jOHQzbThiZXNfMjAyMDAzMzFUMTcwMDAwWiBuZXdzY2hvb2wuZWR1X2gxbzV1czNmNHM3YTlpb2NudGtjb3BvMGg4QGc/Y2VudGVyQGNpcy5vcmc?sf=true

Speaker:
Miriam Ticktin, Associate Professor of Anthropology at The New School for Social Research

Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Miriam, who works at the intersections of the anthropology of medicine and science, law, and transnational and postcolonial feminist theory. Her research has focused in the broadest sense on what it means to make political claims in the name of a universal humanity: she has been interested in what these claims tell us about universalisms and difference, about who can be a political subject, on what basis people are included and excluded from communities, and how inequalities get instituted or perpetuated in this process.

Join Zoom Meeting
https://NewSchool.zoom.us/j/7844236884?pwd=elp4WFI0anBlaVpNUmR5dERDbFFNUT09

Password: Hernandez

One tap mobile

+16465588656 ,7844236884# US (New York)
+13126266799 ,7844236884# US (Chicago)

+1 646 558 8656 US (New York)
+1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)
+1 253 215 8782 US
+1 301 715 8592 US
+1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)
+1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)
+44 131 460 1196 United Kingdom

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

+44 203 051 2874 United Kingdom
+44 203 481 5237 United Kingdom
+44 203 481 5240 United Kingdom

Meeting ID: 784 423 6884

International Numbers: https://NewSchool.zoom.us/u/aCq57me5S

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in 2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and for national and international politics

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

8.

30th ASEN Annual Conference: Nationalism and Multiculturalism

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Wednesday-Thursday, April 22-23, 2020
University of Edinburgh
Edinburgh, Scotland
https://asen.ac.uk/events/asen-conference/

Conference programme draft - Immigration-related sessions

Wednesday, April 22, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.
Welcome Ceremony and First plenary speaker: Bikhu Parekh

10:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 1

Diaspora Communities: Long-Distance Nationalism in Situ

Indo-Trinidadian heritage: Toronto as a diaporic context
Kathleen Boodhai

Nationalism and politics among the Chinese diaspora in the UK
Oana Burcu

How Restrictive is Liberal Nationalism's Immigration Policy?
Ranjoo Herr

Rescaling Identity in Europe: Civilisationism, Self-determinism, and Multiculturalism

Other Brexit Imaginaries: Openness and the crisis of liberal Britain
Arshad Isakjee

Rescaling the border: Simulation, sovereignty and civilisationism
Paul Richardson

Challenges to Scandinavian National Identities

From Exclusion to Establishment: Researching Anti-Political

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Establishment Parties in Scandinavia
Johan Andersen

3:15-4:45 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 2

Social Perceptions of Diversity : Migration in European Nations

National/ European identities and attitudes towards migrant integration: findings from EVS-European Values Study
Simona Guglielmi

The perception of European migrant crisis by Danish minority in Germany and German minority in Denmark. A comparative analysis of media discourses.
Sergiusz Bober

Migration and national minority communities: two sides in the debate about multiculturalism and interculturalism in Catalonia
Mariona Lladonosa

What's in a name? Children of migrants, national belonging and the politics of naming
Marco Antonsich

3:00-4:30 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 3

Indeterminate status: the Global Refugee Crisis

Nationalism and Immigration in Greece and the Netherlands: a Comparative Perspective
Thanos Koulos

Creating "refugees" within: Challenges for multiculturalism in Japan where only 20 refugees are accepted out of 20,000 applications
Naoko Hosokawa

Syrian refugees in Turkey: Challenge to Nationalism

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cigdem Nas

New Approaches in Nationalism Studies

Beyond assimilation: the compliance – resistance theory
Manolis Pratsinakis

When the Methods are Madness: Researching with Refugees in the UK
Isabella Gabrovsky

4:00-6:00 p.m.
Plenary speaker: Christian Joppke

Thursday, April 23, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.
Populism, Multiculturalism and Internationalism in Eurasia: Negotiating Empire and its Legacies

Russia reports Western voting: transnational nationalisms versus multiculturalism
Chatterje-Doody

1:30-3:00 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 5

Minority Nationalisms in the West

Immigration and the Imagined Community: Province-wide Norm or Local-level Realities in Quebec?
Antoine Bilodeau

European stateless nationalisms facing the challenge of multiculturalism. Insights from Scotland, Catalonia, Basque Country and Flanders
Paolo Perri

Migration, Minority Groups and the Politics of Multiculturalism in Japan and Northeast Asia

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The politics of local multiculturalism in the age of superdiversity and resurgent nationalism in Japan
Sachi Takaya

Challenges and Possibilities of "Multicultural Japan" – The Emergence of Minority Representatives in Japan's Political Landscape
Seiko Mimaki

Territorial Disputes in Northeast Asia: Questioning the "national consciousness" paradigm
Alexander Bukh

Cultural nationalism in multicultural Japan
Fumiko Takahashi

Book Panel: Struggle over Borders
Pieter De Wilde

Disputing 'One China': Cases from Hong Kong and Taiwan

One country, two identities. In search of Hong Kong's identity
Malgorzata Osinska

'I was discriminated against because I was seen as PRC-Chinese': The negotiation between ethnicity and nationalism among Taiwanese migrants in Australia
Yao-Tai Li

Representing the Nation in Media Discourses

Cultural Boundary Drawings of German National Identity in Migrant Integration Discourses
Anja Benedikt

Book Panel: Borderline Citizen: Dispatches from the outskirts of nationhood
Robin Hemley

3:15-4:45 p.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Beyond the Melting Pot: Ethnicity in North America

Melting the Pot: The Rise of 'Ethnicity' in the United States
Jaakko Heiskanen

The Oxymoronic Nation: Liberal Individualism and the Invention of Color Race and Ethnicity in the United States, 1880-1920
Reynolds Scott-Childress

Muslim Minorities in Europe

Liberal citizenship, pluralism and Muslims in Europe
Nasar Meer

Spiritualising Reason, Rationalising Spirit. Ex-, Practicing, and Converted Muslim Public Intellectuals in the German Far-Right
Julian Gopffarth

Laïcité bien comprise vs. Laïcité compromise: Senegalese Muslims in France
Olivia Till

Questioning Perceptions of National Belonging with Discourse Analysis

Discursive constructions of national identity in the Gulf States: 'Deserving citizens' and 'undeserving migrants'
Idil Akinci

Cataloguing the nation: National canons and admission to citizenship in the Netherlands and Flanders (2006-2019)
Jan Rock

Return to Top

****
****

9.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Conference Program:

Monday, April 27, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I. THE LEGAL MIGRATION FRAMEWORK IN THE EU – RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

9:45 a.m.

Recent legislative developments and key priorities for 2020-2021 in the EU legal migration system

Laura Corrado

10:45 a.m.

Update on the Community Code on Visas: Regulation (EU) 2019/1155 amending Regulation (EC) 810/2009

Dimitri Giotakos

12:15 p.m.

The post-Brexit UK immigration system and its impact on EU citizens

* Should business be worried by the drop in EU migration?
* Current assessment of adopted measures
* What additional challenges are to be expected by companies?
* Solutions for cross-border workers after Brexit Annabel Mace

II. ASPECTS OF EU AND NATIONAL LEGAL MIGRATION LAW IN A BROADER LEGISLATIVE CONTEXT

2:15 p.m.

Investor citizenship and residence schemes in the European Union: the cases of Malta, Bulgaria and Cyprus

* Investor residence schemes and EU law on legal migration
* The link between investor residence schemes and naturalisation procedures
* Areas of concern
* Risks posed by investor citizenship and residence schemes

Jelena Dzankic

3:15 p.m.

Mobility rights for third-country nationals under the EU's migration directives: posted workers and EU intra-corporate transferees – how to differentiate and ensure compliance

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Main changes introduced by the revised posted workers directive
* Facilitating intra-EU mobility by the ICT permit
* Case law of the CJEU Matthias Lommers

4:30 p.m.
The new German skilled immigration rules
Marius Tollenaere

Tuesday, April 28, 2020

III. CASE LAW OF THE CJEU AND ITS IMPACT ON EU LEGAL MIGRATION LAW

9:30 a.m.
The right to family reunification and long-term resident status in recent CJEU jurisprudence

* G.S. and V.G. Joined cases C-381/18 and C-382/18
* Cases C-519/18 and C-706/18
* Case C-93/18: Right of residence of a third-country national who is a direct relative in the ascending line of Union citizen minors
* Case C-302/18: Conditions for the acquisition of long-term resident status
Doyin Lawunmi

IV. EXTERNAL DIMENSION OF LEGAL MIGRATION

11:00 a.m.
Developing and implementing alternative pathways for legal migration

* Socio-economic challenges
* Pilot projects for legal migration with selected third countries
* Legal migration pathways to Europe for low- and middle-skilled migrants
Silvio Grieco

V. FUTURE CHALLENGES AND OUTLOOK

12:00 p.m.
Reflections on EU legal migration law

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Assessment of the current situation
* Main challenges
* Ideas and suggestions for the future Kees Groenendijk

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-716 - Immigration Policy

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, May 6-8, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=29908153

Course Description: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

The course also examines policies related to forced migration, including refugee resettlement, asylum and temporary protected status. These issues will be discussed in a comparative framework, analyzing how other countries address issues affecting the United States. The course will examine the role of federal, state and local authorities in implementing policy reforms. It also examines the role of public opinion and various interest groups in affecting policy formulation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Students will be required to write a 10-page paper, due after the course completion, on a specific reform issue.

Section Notes: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Building Just and Inclusive Communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama: 15 Years After Katrina

A Whole of Community Approach to Immigrants and Refugees

Thursday-Saturday, May 21-23, 2020
Loyola University New Orleans College of Law
526 Pine Street
New Orleans, LA 70118
https://cmsny.org/event/2020-whole-of-community-conference/

Description: The Center for Migration Studies' (CMS) Whole of Community Conference will be held this year at Loyola University New Orleans College of Law from May 21-23, 2020. At the conference, participants will explore the challenges facing diverse immigrant and refugee communities in local communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and elsewhere. The conference will feature best practices in supporting and defending these communities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Whole of Community Conference is a platform for community-focused collaborations among public officials, legal service providers, community organizers, community-based organizations, faith-based organizations, scholars, researchers, immigrants, refugees, and others in response to local and national immigration policies. The sponsors of this year's event will be CMS, Loyola University New Orleans College of Law and the Jesuit Social Research Institute / Loyola University New Orleans.

The conference schedule includes: optional site visits on May 21; and plenary panels and workshops on May 22 and 23. The conference fee of $50 includes lunch and refreshments throughout the event.

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Latin American Studies Association annual meeting

Wednesday-Saturday, May 13-16, 2020
Guadalajara, Mexico
https://lasaweb.org/en/lasa2020/

Conference program to be available soon.

Return to Top

****
****

13.
2020 Summer School on EU Immigration and Asylum Law and Policy

Monday, June 29-Friday, July 10, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Université libre de Bruxelles
Brussels, Belgium
http://odysseus-network.eu/2020-summer-school/eng/

Description: While we celebrate the 20th anniversary of our summer school, it has trained more than 2000 persons and is well known among employers considering it as an asset for job seekers. This 20th edition will focus on the new pact on migration to be presented in April by the European Commission. The objective is to give to the participants a global understanding of the immigration and asylum policies in the EU from a legal perspective. The summer school is organised by the Odysseus Network for Legal Studies on Immigration and Asylum in Europe, founded in 1999 with the support of the European Commission. In addition to classes, the summer school provides an excellent opportunity to spend an intellectually stimulating time in a group of around one hundred participants specialised in the area of asylum and immigration from all over Europe. The location of the summer school in Brussels creates a unique environment facilitating participants' interaction with European institutions. Participants in the summer school typically includes PhD and graduate students, researchers, EU and Member State officials, representatives from NGOs and International Organisations, lawyers, judges, social workers, etc. The classes are taught by academics originating from all EU Member States collaborating in the framework of the Odysseus Network, and by high-ranking officials from the European Institutions, particularly the European Commission. You can discover the Summer School through this video: odysseus-network.eu/2020-summer-school

Subjects:

Opening lecture

Migration flows and statistics

Free movement of EU citizens

European institutional framework.

Implications of human rights

External relations and European migration policy

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

European Databases (SIS, VIS, Eurodac, etc.)

External border control

European visa policy

Immigration for purposes of work

Family reunification

Status and integration of third country nationals

Smuggling and trafficking

Return and readmission

Reception conditions for asylum seekers

European concepts of refugee and of subsidiary protection

Member States responsibility

("Dublin mechanism")

Asylum procedures

Calendar and Schedule: The first general part of the program includes 14 hours of lectures and the second and third specialised parts on immigration and asylum 30 hours in total. Each day is generally done of 2classes of 2 hours, presented with a coffeebreak in between. In order to enable participants in full-time employment to attend the classes, courses take mainly place in the afternoon between 2 pm and 6:30pm.

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

14.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-744 - Global Displacement & Migration Studies

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Friday, July 27-31, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=31222947

Course Description: This course offers deep knowledge and information about the different groups of people on the move (labor migrants, refugees, internally displaced, asylum seekers, and others), and the multiple causes and consequences of such movements of people. It also provides a global overview of displacement and migration numbers and trends; drivers of population movements; impacts on origin, transit and host countries; and policy responses to population movements.

Specifically, the course will cover the major theoretical explanations underpinning displacement and international migration; global migration and refugee governance; differences and trends in national policies, especially refugee resettlement and labor migration; integration experiences of immigrants in host countries; and connections between migration and displacement and other issues as security, development and environmental change. Finally, the certificate will illustrate how research questions are answered in an effort to enhance existing knowledge and improve policies and practices.

Course Objectives:
* After completing the certificate, successful students will be able to:

* Understand current patterns and trends related to displacement and global migration, including the number and characteristics of those on the move at global, regionally and national levels

* Understand differences among those on the move, including refugees, internally displaced persons, asylum seekers and others

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Articulate the causes of displacement and migration, drawing from both theory and empirical evidence;

* Describe the global refugee and migration governance frameworks and how they articulate the rights of people on the move and the responsibilities of origin, transit and destination countries;

* Assess the interconnections between international migration and other transnational issues, such as development, security and climate change

* Discuss and articulate strengths and weaknesses of the national policy frameworks governing the admission of migrants, control of irregular migration, protection of refugees and other forced migrants, etc.

* Understand the integration process of immigrants, and the resettlement process of refugees, in destination countries

* Learn how to ask and answer relevant research questions about these issues

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $4,995.00, 60 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

15.

Crimmigration, Capital, and Consequences, 5th Biennial CINETS Conference

Wednesday-Friday, September 24–26, 2020
Lewis and Clark Law School
10015 SW Terwilliger Blvd #7768
Portland, OR 97219
https://www.law.ox.ac.uk/news/2019-12-17-crimmigration-capital-and-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

consequences-5th-biennial-cinets-conference

Description: The Crimmigration Control International Network of Studies (CINETS) is pleased to invite you to our fifth biennial international conference, which will be held in partnership with Lewis & Clark's 25th annual Business Law Forum. For the first time, Oxford-based Border Criminologies will join CINETS as a co-host for this event.

Crimmigration, the merging of immigration enforcement and criminal justice regimes, has rapidly become the dominant response to human mobility around the globe. Crimmigration has emerged, ironically, in tandem with growing economic globalization. For capital, national borders have virtually disappeared, while the walls, virtual and literal, are growing higher for workers and others who need mobility to thrive, and even survive. Race, ethnicity, and personal wealth matter in who gains entry. Are fairness, justice, and inclusion, values that democratic societies hold dear, to be available only on a members-only basis? What is the role of capital in fomenting human mobility and profiting from the barriers that governments are erecting to deter immigrants? How can we resist the bordering trend that works selectively against those most in need? This conference will treat crimmigration and bordering holistically as systems nested within economy and society in subtle, and not-so-subtle, ways.

We welcome individual and panel submission (fully or partly-formed). The conference also welcomes submissions for work-in-progress sessions, including potential Border Criminologies blog posts. To apply, submit a (maximum) 200-word abstract, with a tentative title and contact information. Please indicate whether you are applying for a papers-only panel or a work-in-progress/blog post session.

Deadline for submissions is June 15, 2020. Send your submissions and questions to Richard Adams at richardadams@lclark.edu.

Return to Top

****

****

16.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration and the changing nature of work

Canadian Immigration Summit 2020

Monday-Tuesday, October 5-6, 2020
The Shaw Center
Ottawa, Ontario, Canada
https://www.conferenceboard.ca/web/canadian-immigration-summit-2020.html

Programme:

Monday, October 5, 2020

8:20 a.m.
Opening remarks—Building an attractive and welcoming immigration system

8:40 a.m.
Remarks—Remaining competitive in a disruptive economy

9:00 a.m.
Keynote -Radical innovation for greater social good

9:30 a.m.
Panel presentation - Global migration trends—Systems and policies

11:00 a.m.
Concurrent Sessions (please select one)

Concurrent A1: Fostering immigrant entrepreneurship

Concurrent A2: Long-term success of international students in Canada

Concurrent A3: Paving pathways for inclusion for skilled refugees

1:00 p.m.
Concurrent Sessions (please select one)

Concurrent B1: Using technology to help immigrants and refugees

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Concurrent B2: Immigrant women and the fourth industrial revolution

Concurrent B3: In-camera session for employers—Talent solutions at the intersection of immigration and long-term prosperity

2:30 p.m.
Panel presentation - Attracting an immigrant workforce: Regional approaches to immigration in the new world of work

3:30 p.m.
Panel discussion - Innovation in the workplace—The employer experience

4:45 p.m.
Day 1 roundup

Tuesday, October 6, 2020

8:15 a.m.
Remarks—Building a forward-thinking workforce

9:00 a.m.
Keynote - Innovative solutions: Can technology help transform the labour market, reskill workers, and support lifelong learning?

10:00 a.m.
Panel discussion - Business savvy with a global mindset: Employment in the age of increased migration

11:00 a.m.
Presentation - Remaining competitive through immigration and future-thinking

11:45 a.m.
Summit closing remarks

12:00 p.m.
Conference conclusion

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1:00 p.m.

Optional Workshop Attracting international investment through business succession

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, March 31, 2020 4:43 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: THURSDAY STREAMED PANEL: The Protecting U.S. Workers Initiative

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

THURSDAY STREAMED PANEL 1:00 PM

The Protecting U.S. Workers Initiative

U.S. workers have an advocate at the highest level, but they need the public's help

Washington, D.C. (March 31, 2020) – The Center for Immigration Studies will host a panel discussion Thursday, April 2, on the Justice Department's "Protecting U.S. Workers Initiative", which was launched in 2017 to protect the interests of U.S. workers by cracking down on employers who are abusing temporary visa programs to deny U.S. workers job opportunities. The starting point for conversation will be a new Center report, highlighting the agencies and programs working to ensure that g American workers are not being passed over for employment by businesses who are abusing visa programs to bring in cheap labor from abroad.

Andrew Arthur, the Center's resident fellow in law and policy, said, "With the virtual shutdown of much of the U.S. economy, American workers are hurting, and jobs are scarce. Fortunately, there are agencies targeting, investigating, and bringing enforcement actions against employers who are discriminating against the American worker, and there are procedures by which the public can report fraud and abuse in temporary worker programs. But, the administration can and should do more."

When: Thursday, April 2, 1:00pm
Report: The Protecting U.S. Workers Initiative: Ensuring that "U.S. workers have the advocate they need at the highest level"
Stream: Scheduled streams will be live on both Facebook and Youtube. We will also have an unscheduled stream on our Twitter feed.
Questions for panelists: Questions can be sent prior or during the event to mrt@cis.org or on twitter to @CIS_org.

U.S. workers who believe they have been discriminated in the workplace as a result of temporary visa fraud or abuse should call IER's worker hotline at 1-800-255-7688. Employers who are aware that other businesses are abusing the temporary visa system to the detriment of American workers should call IER's employer hotline at 1-800-255-8155.

In addition, U.S. workers who are aware of an employer's fraud or abuse of one or more of those temporary visa programs, or anyone who is aware of any kind of suspected immigration benefit fraud can contact USCIS using its tip form: https://www.uscis.gov/report-fraud/uscis-tip-form/.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Finally, anyone with information that an employer of H-1B nonimmigrants has committed a violation of the provisions of that program can file a Form WH-4 with the Wage and Hour Division at DOL. Instructions can he found here: https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/forms/wh4.

Related Articles:

DOJ Drops the Hammer on Employers Who Discriminate Against U.S. Workers

Where Is the Interagency Coordination Against Employers that Cheat Americans Out of Jobs?

No Americans Need Apply

Economic Meltdown? Mass Unemployment? Solution: More Immigration!

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Ries, Lora

From: Ries, Lora
Sent: Wednesday, April 1, 2020 10:28 AM
To: Higgins, Jennifer B
Subject: Domestic Violence Asylum Claims

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Hi, Jennifer.
I hope you and your family are all healthy. We are here at chez Ries.
I'm writing a paper on immigration changes during this Admin. I'm looking for domestic violence asylum claims before and after Matter of A-B-.
Is that information public?

Thank you.

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
202-870-8179 (M)

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-6101
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Wednesday, April 1, 2020 12:35 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigrant and Native-Born Fertility, 2008 to 2018

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigrant and Native-Born Fertility, 2008 to 2018

Declining immigrant fertility highlights immigration's limited ability to slow America's aging

Washington, D.C. (April 1, 2020) – A new report from the Center for Immigration Studies reveals that immigrant fertility has declined even more steeply than that of the native-born in recent years and, as a result, immigration's small impact on the overall fertility rate has become even more modest.

Dr. Steven Camarota, the Center's director of research and co-author of the report, said, "There is no question that America is aging due to both a decline in fertility rates and increases in life expectancy. But, immigration has only a minor impact on slowing population aging because the difference between immigrant and native fertility is too small to significantly change the nation's overall birth rate. In the long run, immigration may actually add to the aging of American society, as it seems likely that immigrant fertility will soon dip below replacement level."

View the entire report at: https://cis.org/Report/Immigrant-and-NativeBorn-Fertility-2008-2018

Highlights of the report:

- The birth rate for women in their reproductive years (ages 15-50) declined nearly three times as much for immigrants (legal and illegal) as for the native-born between 2008 and 2018 - a decline of 15 births per thousand versus a decline of five births per thousand.

- Although still higher than that of the native-born, immigrant fertility has only a small impact on the nation's overall birth rate. The presence of immigrants raises the birth rate for all women in their reproductive years by just two births per thousand (3.9 percent).

- Even if the number of immigrant women ages 15-50 doubled, along with births to this population, it would still only raise the overall national birth rate an additional 2.6 percent above the current level.2

- In addition to births per thousand, fertility is often measured using the total fertility rate (TFR). The TFR reports the number of children a woman can be expected to have in her lifetime based on current patterns.

- Like the birth rate, the TFR of immigrants has declined more rapidly than that of native-born women. In 2008, immigrant women had a TFR of 2.75 children; by 2018 it had fallen to 2.15 — a 0.61-child decline. For native-born women, it declined from 2.07 to 1.74 — a 0.34-child decline.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Like births per thousand, the presence of immigrants in the country has only a small impact on the nation's overall TFR. In 2018, immigrants only increased the nation's overall TFR by 0.08 children (4.5 percent).

- The current TFR of immigrant women of 2.15 is now just above 2.1, the level necessary to replace the existing population. It seems likely that immigrant fertility will soon dip below replacement level, which means that, in the long run, immigration will add to the aging of American society.

- Another reason that immigration can add to population aging in the long-term is that for every major racial/ethnic group sending large numbers of immigrants, fertility is below the replacement level among the native-born generation.

- In 2018, three-fourths of immigrant women in their reproductive years were either Hispanic or Asian. Among native-born Hispanic women the TFR in 2018 was 1.77 children, and it was 1.58 children for native-born Asians — both well below replacement level.

- There is now little meaningful difference in the TFR's of native-born Hispanics (1.77), blacks (1.75), and whites (1.73).

- Although immigration has only a small impact on overall fertility and aging, it has a significant impact on population size. For example, new immigrants and births to immigrants between 2000 and 2018 added 35.9 million people to the country — equal to more than three-fourths of U.S. population growth over this time period.

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, April 2, 2020 8:00 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: NEW REPORT & PANEL TODAY: The Protecting U.S. Workers Initiative

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

LIVE STREAMING PANEL TODAY AT 1PM EST

New Report: The Protecting U.S. Workers Initiative

Employers are abusing temporary visa programs to deny U.S. workers job opportunities

Washington, D.C. (April 2, 2020) – The Center for Immigration Studies will host a panel discussion today, Thursday, April 2, on the Justice Department's "Protecting U.S. Workers Initiative", which was launched in 2017 to protect the interests of U.S. workers by cracking down on employers who are abusing temporary visa programs to deny U.S. workers job opportunities. The starting point for conversation will be a new Center report, highlighting the agencies and programs working to ensure that American workers are not being passed over for employment by businesses who are abusing visa programs to bring in cheap labor from abroad.

Andrew Arthur, the Center's resident fellow in law and policy and author of the report, said, "With the virtual shutdown of much of the U.S. economy, American workers are hurting, and jobs are scarce. Fortunately, there are agencies targeting, investigating, and bringing enforcement actions against employers who are discriminating against the American worker, and there are procedures by which the public can report fraud and abuse in temporary worker programs. But, the administration can and should do more."

When: Thursday, April 2, 1:00pm
Report: The Protecting U.S. Workers Initiative: Ensuring that "U.S. workers have the advocate they need at the highest level"
Stream: Scheduled streams will be live on both Facebook and Youtube. We will also have an unscheduled stream on our Twitter feed.
Questions for panelists: Questions can be sent prior or during the event to mrt@cis.org or on twitter to @CIS_org.

U.S. workers who believe they have been discriminated against in the workplace as a result of temporary visa fraud or abuse should call IER's worker hotline at 1-800-255-7688. Employers who are aware that other businesses are abusing the temporary visa system to the detriment of American workers should call IER's employer hotline at 1-800-255-8155.

In addition, U.S. workers who are aware of an employer's fraud or abuse of one or more of those temporary visa programs, or anyone who is aware of any kind of suspected immigration benefit fraud can contact USCIS using its tip form: https://www.uscis.gov/report-fraud/uscis-tip-form/.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Finally, anyone with information that an employer of H-1B nonimmigrants has committed a violation of the provisions of that program can file a Form WH-4 with the Wage and Hour Division at DOL. Instructions can he found here: https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/forms/wh4.

Related Articles:
DOJ Drops the Hammer on Employers Who Discriminate Against U.S. Workers
Where Is the Interagency Coordination Against Employers that Cheat Americans Out of Jobs?
No Americans Need Apply
Economic Meltdown? Mass Unemployment? Solution: More Immigration!

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Friday, April 3, 2020 9:56 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 4/3/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Reading, 4/3/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here: http://cis.org/donate

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. DHS fact sheet on measures on the border to limit the spread of coronavirus
1. GAO reports on H-2b visas
1. U.S. Supreme Court decision in Guerrero-Lasprilla v. Barr
4. Canada: Statistics on temporary foreign agricultural workers, 2016-18
5. E.U.: Citizenship and asylum-seeker statistics
6. Norway: Naturalization statistics
7. Sweden: Population and naturalization statistics
8. Czech Rep.: Population statistics
9. Australia: Population statistics

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

10. SCOTUSblog report on Supreme Court decision in Guerrero-Lasprilla v. Barr
11. Rasmussen Reports weekly immigration index
12. TRAC reports on distribution of residents with pending immigration hearings
13. New working paper from the National Bureau of Economic Research
14. Four new features from the Migration Policy Institute
15. Three new discussion papers from the Institute for the Study of Labor
16. Three new papers on remittances from the Inter American Dialogue
17. Six new papers from the Social Science Research Network
18. Fifteen new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
19. "Challenging Credible Fear Interview and Bond Hearing Delays"
20. "Border Walls and Crime: Evidence from the Secure Fence Act"
21. "Immigrant Access to Driver's Licenses;" legislative bulletin
22. ":Transnational death and its association with psychological distress among undocumented Mexican immigrants"
23. "The regressive power of labels of vulnerability affecting disabled asylum seekers in the UK"
24. UNHCR bulletin on halting COVID-19 and saving refugee lives

BOOKS

25. North American Borders in Comparative Perspective
26. Rethinking Anthropological Perspectives on Migration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

27. Involuntary Migration And Resettlement: The Problems and Responses of Dislocated People
28. Redefining the Immigrant South: Indian and Pakistani Immigration to Houston during the Cold War
29. Stories From a Migrant City: Living and Working Together in the Shadow of Brexit
30. Cultural Anxieties: Managing Migrant Suffering in France
31. Resident Foreigners: A Philosophy of Migration

JOURNALS

32. Citizenship Studies
33. Comparative Migration Studies
34. CSEM Newsletter
35. Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
36. Journal on Migration and Human Security
37. Regional Studies

1.

Fact Sheet: DHS Measures on the Border to Limit the Further Spread of Coronavirus

U.S. Department of Homeland Security, March 23, 2020.

. . .

https://www.dhs.gov/news/2020/03/23/fact-sheet-dhs-measures-border-limit-further-spread-coronavirus

Return to Top

****

****

2.

New from the General Accountability Office

H-2b Visas: Additional Steps Needed to Meet Employers' Hiring Needs and Protect U.S. Workers

GAO-20-230, April 1, 2020

Report: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/705639.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/705640.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

3.
Guerrero-Lasprilla v. Barr
Supreme Court of the United States, No. 18-776
Argued, December 9, 2019, Decided: March 23, 2020
https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/18-776_8759.pdf

Held: Because the Provision's phrase "questions of law" includes the application of a legal standard to undisputed or established facts, the Fifth Circuit erred in holding that it had no jurisdiction to consider petitioners' claims of due diligence for equitable tolling purposes.

(a) Nothing in the statute's language precludes the conclusion that Congress used the term "questions of law" to refer to the application of a legal standard to settled facts. Indeed, this Court has at times referred to the question whether a given set of facts meets a particular legal standard as presenting a legal inquiry.

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Agricultural sector workers from the Temporary Foreign Workers Program, 2016, 2017 and 2018
Statistics Canada, March 24, 2020
. . .
https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/en/daily-quotidien/200324/dq200324b-eng.pdf

Summary: In 2018, 49,622 temporary foreign workers filled 54,734 jobs in agricultural operations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Data on the number of temporary foreign workers employed in the agriculture sector in 2016, 2017 and 2018 are now available.

Return to Top

****
****

5.
See who acquires the citizenship of your country
Eurostat, March 30, 2020
. . .
https://ec.europa.eu/eurostat/web/products-eurostat-news/-/WDN-20200330-1

Summary: Are you aware which are the top nationalities to have been granted citizenship by your country? Or which are the main EU citizenships acquired?

Find out with Eurostat's interactive data visualisation on acquisition of citizenship which has now been updated with 2018 data.

Where asylum seekers come from and where they go
March 20, 2020
. . .
https://ec.europa.eu/eurostat/web/products-eurostat-news/-/WDN-20200320-1

Summary: Are you interested in finding out the citizenship of those seeking asylum in your country? Which EU countries receive the most asylum applications? To reply to your questions, try using our interactive visualisation, which has been updated with 2019 data.

By clicking here, you can see the top three citizenships of first-time asylum applicants in the EU Member States, the UK and EFTA countries.

It also works in reverse - you can select the applicants' country of citizenship to see the three main EU countries in which they apply for asylum.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

6.

Naturalisations

Statistics Norway, March 31, 2020

. . .

https://www.ssb.no/en/befolkning/statistikker/statsborger/aar

Summary: 13,200 naturalizations.

Return to Top

****

****

7.

Record number of Brits become Swedish citizens – three times more than a year ago

Statistics Sweden, March 19, 2020

. . .

https://www.scb.se/en/finding-statistics/statistics-by-subject-area/population/population-composition/population-statistics/pong/statistical-news/swedens-population-2019--population-changes2/

Summary: In 2019, Sweden's population increased by 97,404 people, 94 percent of whom had a foreign background and the remaining 6 percent had a Swedish background.

In total, 64,206 people were granted Swedish citizenship in 2019, which was slightly more than in 2018. British citizens who applied for and were granted Swedish citizenship was a group that increased significantly. In 2019, 4 495 British citizens were granted Swedish citizenship, which is three times more than in 2018. Immigration to Sweden decreased from 132 602 persons in 2018 to 115 805 in 2019. A large part of this decrease is due to a lower immigration rate among relatives to refugees.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

8.

Population change - year 2019

Population growth was the highest over the last 11 years

Statistics Czech Republic, March 20, 2020

. . .

https://www.czso.cz/csu/czso/ari/population-change-year-2019

Summary: In 2019, the population of the Czech Republic increased by 44.1 thousand to 10.69 million. The whole increase was ensured by international migration, while the population slightly decreased by natural change. There was a moderate year-on-year decline in the number of births. Conversely, the number of marriages slightly increased.

During the year 2019, the population of the Czech Republic rose by 44.1 thousand to 10.69 million (on 31 Dec.). The population growth was the highest over the last 11 years. The whole increase was caused by positive balance of international migration (44.3 thousand); the balance of natural change was negative. The number of deaths exceeded the number of live births by 131.

. . .

In 2019, a total of 65.6 thousand persons immigrated from abroad to the Czech Republic (by 7.4 thousand more than in a previous year). In the opposite way, the number of people emigrated from the Czech Republic was 21.3 thousand (by 1.8 thousand more year-on-year). Due to net migration, the population of the Czech Republic increased by 44.3 thousand. A higher population growth thanks to international migration was recorded in 2008 for the last time. More than 40% of net migration was formed by nationals of Ukraine (18.2 thousand); the second highest was the migration balance of Slovak nationals (4.6 thousand) and the third one belonged to Russian nationals (2.7 thousand). Statistics of international migration of Czechs recorded 2.2 thousand immigrants from abroad, and 3.8 thousand emigrants in 2019.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

9.

Australia's population grows by 1.5 per cent

Australian Bureau of Statistics, March 19, 2020

. . .

https://www.abs.gov.au/ausstats/abs%40.nsf/mediareleasesbyCatalogue/CA1999BAEAA1A86ACA25765100098A47?OpenDocument

Summary: Australia's population grew by 1.5 per cent during the year ending 30 September 2019, according to the latest figures released by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS).

ABS Demography Director Beidar Cho said: "The population at 30 September 2019 was 25.5 million people, following an annual increase of 371,100 people."

Natural increase accounted for 37.5 per cent of annual population growth, while net overseas migration accounted for the remaining 62.5 per cent.

There were 304,400 births and 165,300 deaths registered in Australia during the year ending 30 September 2019. Natural increase during this period was 139,100 people, a decrease of 6.6 per cent from the previous year.

There were 534,100 overseas migration arrivals and 302,000 departures during the year ending 30 September 2019, resulting in net overseas migration of 232,100 people. Net overseas migration was down 4.2 per cent compared to the previous year.

Return to Top

****

****

10.

Guerrero-Lasprilla v. Barr

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

SCOTUSblog, March 23, 2020

. . .

https://www.scotusblog.com/case-files/cases/guerrero-lasprilla-v-barr/

Holding: Because the phrase "questions of law" in the Immigration and Nationality Act's Limited Review Provision, 8 U.S.C. §1252(a)(2)(D), includes the application of a legal standard to undisputed or established facts, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 5th Circuit erred in holding that it had no jurisdiction to consider the petitioners' "factual" due diligence claims for equitable tolling purposes.

Judgment: Vacated and remanded, 7-2, in an opinion by Justice Breyer on March 23, 2020. Justice Thomas filed a dissenting opinion, in which Justice Alito joined as to all but Part II–A–1.

Return to Top

****

****

11.

Rasmussen Reports Weekly Immigration Index

March 31, 2020

. . .

https://www.rasmussenreports.com/public_content/politics/immigration_index/immigration_index_mar31

Excerpt: In the latest survey, 39% of Likely U.S. Voters feel the government is doing too little to reduce illegal border crossings and visitor overstays. Thirty-one percent (31%) say it is doing too much. Twenty-two percent (22%) rate the level of action as about right.

Little changed is the 68% who continue to believe the government should mandate employers to use the federal electronic E-Verify system to help ensure that they hire only legal workers for U.S. jobs. But a new low of 17% disagree, with more (15%) now undecided.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Similarly little changed from past surveys is the 58% of voters who favor giving lifetime work permits to most of the approximately two million illegal residents who came to this country when they were minors, with 33% who Strongly Favor. Thirty-four percent (34%) are opposed, including 17% who are Strongly Opposed.

But just 44% favor giving lifetime work permits to most of the estimated 12 million illegal residents of all ages who currently reside in the United States, with 20% who Strongly Favor it. Forty-nine percent (49%) remain opposed, including 30% who are Strongly Opposed. These findings also have moved little over the course of the Immigration Index's history to date.

Return to Top

****
****

12.
New from the Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse, Syracuse University

Mapping Where Immigrants Reside While Waiting For Their Immigration Court Hearing
March 24, 2020
. . .
https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/600/

Excerpt: Each of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico are home to residents with deportation cases currently pending before the Immigration Court[3]. Forty-three (43) out of fifty states have at least 1,000 deportation cases currently pending before the court. Even within states, immigrants in removal proceedings reside in more counties[4] than ever before. Altogether at least 2,733 counties have residents in removal proceedings[5]. Of these, 686 counties have 100 or more such residents and 176 have 1,000 or more.

Los Angeles County in California tops the list with the most residents waiting their hearings - 63,847. This is followed by Harris County in Texas where

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Houston is located with 51,687. Queens County in New York City ranks third with 37,428 residents waiting for hearings. In fourth place is Miami-Dade County in Florida with 27,921, followed in fifth place by Kings County in New York City with 22,559.

Return to Top

****
****

13.
New from the National Bureau of Economic Research

Migration Costs and Observational Returns to Migration in the Developing World
By David Lagakos, Samuel Marshall, Ahmed Mushfiq Mobarak, Corey Vernot, and Michael E. Waugh
NBER Working Paper No. 26868, March 2020
. . .
https://www.nber.org/papers/w26868

Return to Top

****
****

14.
New from the Migration Policy Institute

Africa Deepens its Approach to Migration Governance, But Are Policies Translating to Action?
By Camille Le Coz and Antonio Pietropolli
Migration Information Source Feature, April 2, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/africa-deepens-approach-migration-governance

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Crisis within a Crisis: Immigration in the United States in a Time of COVID-19
By Muzaffar Chishti and Sarah Pierce
Migration Information Source Policy Beat, March 26, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/crisis-within-crisis-immigration-time-covid-19

Immigrant Workers: Vital to the U.S. COVID-19 Response, Disproportionately Vulnerable
By Julia Gelatt
MPI Fact Sheet, March 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/immigrant-workers-us-covid-19-response

Amid an Unfolding Humanitarian Crisis in Syria, the European Union Faces the Perils of Devolving Migration Management to Turkey
By Diana Rayes
Migration Information Source Feature, March 20, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/amid-humanitarian-crisis-syria-eu-faces-perils-devolving-migration-third-countries

Return to Top

****
****

15.
New from the Institute for the Study of Labor

Culture and Gender Allocation of Tasks: Source Country Characteristics and the Division of Non-market Work among US Immigrants
By Francine D. Blau, Lawrence M. Kahn, Matthew Comey, Amanda Eng, Pamela Meyerhofer, Alexander Willén
IZA Discussion Paper No. 13093, March 2020
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/13093/culture-and-gender-allocation-of-tasks-source-country-characteristics-and-the-division-of-non-market-work-among-us-immigrants

Immigration History, Entry Jobs, and the Labor Market Integration of Immigrants
By Laura Ansala, Olof Aslund, and Matti Sarvimaki
IZA Discussion Paper No. 13089, March 2020
. . .
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/13089/immigration-history-entry-jobs-and-the-labor-market-integration-of-immigrants

Rational Inattention and Migration Decisions
By Simone Bertoli, Jesús Fernández-Huertas Moraga, and Lucas Guichard
IZA Discussion Paper No. 13083, March 2020
. . .
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/13083/rational-inattention-and-migration-decisions

Return to Top

****
****

16.
New from the Inter American Dialogue

Remittances to Latin America and the Caribbean in 2019: Emerging Challenges
By Manuel Orozco
March 2020
. . .
https://www.thedialogue.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/Remittances-to-the-LAC-2019_Emerging-Challenges-1.pdf

The Remittance Marketplace in 2019: The Growing Role of Digital Payments
March 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Manuel Orozco, Kathryn Klaas, and Nicole Ledesma
. . .
https://www.thedialogue.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/Remittance-Marketplace-in-2019_Growing-role-of-digital-payments-3.pdf

Migrants and the Impact of COVID-19 on Remittances
By Manuel Orozco
March 20, 2020
. . .
https://www.thedialogue.org/analysis/migrants-and-impacts-of-the-covid-19-pandemic-on-remittances/

Return to Top

****
****

17.
New from the Social Science Research Network

1. Immigration Control and Management System Using Blockchain
By Abhay Goel, Abhishek Sharma, Deepak Gupta, and Ashish Khanna Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Technology (all)
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3564189

2. The New Migration Law: Migrants, Refugee, and Citizens in an Anxious Age
By Hiroshi Motomura, University of California, Los Angeles - School of Law
105 Cornell Law Review (forthcoming 2020)
UCLA School of Law, Public Law Research Paper No. 20-06
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3564476

3. The Effects of Pre-K on Later Grade Enrollments: Is Pre-K a Welfare Magnet?
By Richard DiSalvo, Princeton University - Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs and Tarsha Vasu, University of Rochester

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Posted: April 1, 2020

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3550287

4. The Absent Rewards of Assimilation: How Ethnic Penalties Persist in the Swiss Labour Market

By Daniel Auer, WZB Berlin Social Science Center and Flavia Fossati, University of Lausanne

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3273343
https://www.researchgate.net/publication/328508161_The_absent_rewards_of_assimilation_how_ethnic_penalties_persist_in_the_Swiss_labour_market

5. The Political Economy of Populism

By Sergei Guriev, Sciences Po; Centre for Economic Policy Research (CEPR) and Elias Papaioannou, London Business School

Posted: March 19, 2020

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3542052
https://cepr.org/content/two-free-dp-downloads-27-february-2020-rising-protectionism-and-global-value-chains-and

6. Racial Profiling: Past, Present, and Future?

David A. Harris, University of Pittsburgh - School of Law

Criminal Justice, Vol. 34, p. 10, Winter 2020

U. of Pittsburgh Legal Studies Research Paper No. 2020-08

. . .

https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3543744
https://www.americanbar.org/groups/criminal_justice/publications/criminal-justice-magazine/2020/winter/racial-profiling-past-present-and-future/

Return to Top

****

****

18.

Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1. New Yorker: The Doubled Fears of the Undocumented During the Coronavirus Shutdown

By Charles Bethea

April 2, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/new-yorker-the-doubled-fears-of-the-undocumented-during-the-coronavirus-shutdown-by-charles-bethea.html

2. Proposition 187 and Its Political Aftermath: Lessons for U.S. Immigration Politics After Trump

April 1, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/proposition-187-and-its-political-aftermath-lessons-for-us-immigration-politics-after-trump.html

3. Immigration groups sue Trump administration for keeping courts open during pandemic

March 31, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/immigration-groups-sue-trump-administration-for-keeping-courts-open-during-pandemic.html

4. Trump Administration Is Deporting Unaccompanied Immigrant Kids Due To The Coronavirus

March 31, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/trump-administration-is-deporting-unaccompanied-immigrant-kids-due-to-the-coronavirus.html

5. Cornavirus, DACAamented Health Care Workers, and the Supreme Court

March 30, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/trump-administration-is-deporting-unaccompanied-immigrant-kids-due-to-the-coronavirus.html

6. Central America fears Trump could deport the coronavirus

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

March 30, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/central-america-fears-trump-could-deport-the-coronavirus.html

7. 'Like sitting ducks': Amid coronavirus, families, attorneys sound alarm over ICE detainees

March 29, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/like-sitting-ducks-amid-coronavirus-families-attorneys-sound-alarm-over-ice-detainees.html

8. Immigrant Workers: Vital to the U.S. COVID-19 Response, Disproportionately Vulnerable

March 27, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/immigrant-workers-vital-to-the-us-covid-19-response-disproportionately-vulnerable.html

9. Noncitizen Taxpayers will not get a stimulus check

March 27, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/noncitizen-taxpayers-will-not-get-a-stimulus-check.html

10. REAL ID Act implementation delayed amid covid-19 response

March 26, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/real-id-act-implementation-delayed-amid-covid-19.html

11. The Supreme Court Continues Its Move Toward Ensuring Judicial Review of Removal Orders: Guerrero-Lasprilla v. Barr

March 24, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/the-supreme-court-continues-its-move-toward-ensuring-judicial-review-of-removal-orders-.html

12. 40 years of the Refugee Act of 1980 -- The Refugee Act of 1980: A

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Forlorn Anniversary
March 22, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/40-years-of-the-efugee-act-of-1980-the-refugee-act-of-1980-a-forlorn-anniversary.html

13. President Trump halts most traffic on U.S. border with Mexico
March 21, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/president-trump-halts-most-traffic-on-us-border-with-mexico.html

14. CNN's 13 Changes to the Immigration System During the Coronavirus Pandemic
March 20, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/cnns-13-changes-to-the-immigration-system-during-the-coronavirus-pandemic.html

15. Coronavirus Is Spreading across Borders, But It Is Not a Migration Problem
March 20, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/03/coronavirus-is-spreading-across-borders-but-it-is-not-a-migration-problem.html

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Challenging Credible Fear Interview and Bond Hearing Delays
Padilla v. ICE, No. 2:18-cv-928 MJP (W.D. Wash. filed June 25, 2018)
American Immigration Council, March 2020
. . .
https://www.americanimmigrationcouncil.org/litigation/challenging-credible-fear-interview-and-bond-hearing-delays

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

20.

Border Walls and Crime: Evidence from the Secure Fence Act

By Ryan Abman and Hisham Foad

Research Briefs in Economic Policy No. 207, March 25, 2020

. . .

https://www.cato.org/publications/research-briefs-economic-policy/border-walls-crime-evidence-secure-fence-act

Return to Top

****

****

21.

Immigrant Access to Driver's Licenses

National Immigration Forum, March 13, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationforum.org/article/immigrant-access-to-drivers-licenses/

+++

Legislative Bulletin

By Danilo Zak

National Immigration Forum, March 27, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationforum.org/article/legislative-bulletin-friday-march-13-2020/

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

22.

Miles over mind: Transnational death and its association with psychological distress among undocumented Mexican immigrants

By Luz M. Garcini, Thania Galvan, Ryan Brown, Michelle Chen, Elizabeth A. Klonoff, Khadija Ziauddin, and Christopher P. Fagundes

Death Studies, Vol. 44, No. 6, June 2020

. . .

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/07481187.2019.1573862

Return to Top

****

****

23.

The regressive power of labels of vulnerability affecting disabled asylum seekers in the UK

By Rebecca Yeo,

Disability & Society, Vol. 35, No. 4, April 2020

. . .

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/09687599.2019.1639688

Return to Top

****

****

24.

Q&A: Access to health services is key to halting COVID-19 and saving refugee lives

UNHCR's leading public health expert says prevention and inclusion must be at the heart of the response for displaced people, especially in areas with weak health services.

By Jonathan Clayton in Geneva

UNHCR, March, 27 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.unhcr.org/en-us/news/latest/2020/3/5e7dab2c4/qa-access-health-services-key-halting-covid-19-saving-refugee-lives.html

Return to Top

****
****

25.
North American Borders in Comparative Perspective
By Guadalupe Correa-Cabrera and Victor Konrad

University of Arizona Press, 424 pp.

Hardcover, 0816541043, $95.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0816541043/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 0816539529, $33.55
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0816539529/centerforimmigra

Book Description: "North American Borders in Comparative Perspective provides a balanced and comparative view of borders in the diverse and dynamic region formed by Canada, the United States, and Mexico. The authors argue that North America is "not a level playing field for trade, migration, and other forms of exchange." In addition to traditional national and regional boundaries, the borders in North America are "increasingly based on wealth, race, education, and politics." By examining North America with a comparative perspective, the authors reveal "the distinctive nature of i) the over-portrayed Mexico-US border, and ii) the largely overlooked Canada-US border.""--

Return to Top

****
****

26.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Rethinking Anthropological Perspectives on Migration
By Graciela S. Cabana and Jeffery J. Clark

University Press of Florida, 362 pp.

Hardcover, 0813036070, $49.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0813036070/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 0813068193, $28.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/00813068193/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 17929 KB, ASIN: B085F385V7, $26.60

Book Description: "Cabana and Clark have chosen to base their research into migration on careful study of how real people actually behave over time and space. We are well served by this rugged empiricism and by the multidisciplinary breadth of their approach."?Dean R. Snow, Pennsylvania State University

"A thorough survey of the ways in which anthropologists across the four subfields have defined and analyzed human migration."?John H. Relethford, author of Reflections of Our Past: How Human History Is Revealed in Our Genes

All too often, anthropologists study specific facets of human migration without guidance from the other subdisciplines (archaeology, biological anthropology, cultural anthropology, and linguistics) that can provide new insights on the topic. The equivocal results of these narrow studies often make the discussion of impact and consequences speculative.

In the last decade, however, anthropologists working independently in the four subdisciplines have developed powerful methodologies to detect and assess the scale of past migrations. Yet these advances are known only to a few specialized researchers.

Rethinking Anthropological Perspectives on Migration brings together these new methods in one volume and addresses innovative approaches to migration research that emerge from the collective effort of scholars from different intellectual backgrounds. Its contributors present a comprehensive anthropological exploration of the many topics related to human migration throughout the world, ranging from theoretical treatments to specific case studies derived primarily from the Americas prior to European contact.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

27.
Involuntary Migration And Resettlement: The Problems and Responses of Dislocated People
By Art Hansen

Routledge, 348 pp.

Hardcover, 0367022435, $141.45
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0367022435/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 0367172305, $49.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0367172305/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 4066 KB, ASIN: B085VRBBYV, $49.95

Book Description: Involuntary migration occurs when there has been, or will be, a catastrophic change in people's environment and they have little or no choice but to relocate. Causes range from natural disasters to sociopolitical upheaval (war, revolution, pogrom) and even to planned changes (dams, atomic experimentation, urban renewal). Although there are excellent studies of specific instances of forced migration, this book is the first to address the broad scope of issues and the wide variety of contexts in which migration and resettlement schemes have occurred. The authors investigate the responses of dislocated people facing dislocation and resettlement and ask specifically: What are the common stresses of dislocation and resettlement? What are the patterns of individual and group reactions and strategies as people respond to the stresses and opportunities of relocation? What significant similarities and differences exist among situations of involuntary migration and how do these pressures relate to those faced by people who move voluntarily?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Redefining the Immigrant South: Indian and Pakistani Immigration to Houston during the Cold War
By Uzma Quraishi

University of North Carolina Press, 336 pp.

Hardcover, 1469655187, $90.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1469655187/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 1469655195, $29.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1469655195/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 10622 KB, B07XVJSGVZ, $22.99

Book Description: In the early years of the Cold War, the United States mounted expansive public diplomacy programs in the Global South, including initiatives with the recently partitioned states of India and Pakistan. U.S. operations in these two countries became the second- and fourth-largest in the world, creating migration links that resulted in the emergence of American universities, such as the University of Houston, as immigration hubs for the highly selective, student-led South Asian migration stream starting in the 1950s. By the late twentieth century, Houston's South Asian community had become one of the most prosperous in the metropolitan area and one of the largest in the country.

Mining archives and using new oral histories, Uzma Quraishi traces this pioneering community from its midcentury roots to the early twenty-first century, arguing that South Asian immigrants appealed to class conformity and endorsed the model minority myth to navigate the complexities of a shifting Sunbelt South. By examining Indian and Pakistani immigration to a major city transitioning out of Jim Crow, Quraishi reframes our understanding of twentieth-century migration, the changing character of the South, and the tangled politics of race, class, and ethnicity in the United States.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Stories From a Migrant City: Living and Working Together in the Shadow of Brexit
By Ben Rogaly

Manchester University Press, 224 pp.

Hardcover, 1526131749, $120.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1526131749/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 1526131730, 232 pp., $30.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1526131730/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 743 KB, ASIN: B0869PWSSF, $28.50

Book Description: Nationalists and nativists often blame the figure of the immigrant 'other' for society's ills, contrasting this with the 'local' or 'native' whose livelihood and way of life are seen as under threat from immigration. Being at ease with difference is seen as the worldview of a cosmopolitan elite. Stories from a migrant city argues for an urgent transformation of how such terms are understood and deployed. Drawing on eight years of research in an English provincial city and a biographical approach to oral history, this book challenges the ways in which people have come to be seen as 'migrants' or 'locals' and understood to have opposing interests. Non-elite cosmopolitanism is shown to be alive and well, in spite of racism, the legacies of empire and the devastating effects of four decades of neoliberalism.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

30.

Cultural Anxieties: Managing Migrant Suffering in France

By Stéphanie Larchanche

Rutgers University Press, 240 pp.

Hardcover, 081359538X, $120.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/081359538X/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 0813595371, $34.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0813595371/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 2875 KB, ASIN: B085VRBBYV, $33.20

Book Description: Cultural Anxieties is a gripping ethnography about Centre Minkowska, a transcultural psychiatry clinic in Paris, France. From her unique position as both observer and staff member, anthropologist Stéphanie Larchanché explores the challenges of providing non-stigmatizing mental healthcare to migrants. In particular, she documents how restrictive immigration policies, limited resources, and social anxieties about the “other” combine to constrain the work of state social and health service providers who refer migrants to the clinic and who tend to frame "migrant suffering" as a problem of integration that requires cultural expertise to address. In this context, Larchanché describes how staff members at Minkowska struggle to promote cultural competence, which offers a culturally and linguistically sensitive approach to care while simultaneously addressing the broader structural factors that impact migrants’ mental health. Ultimately, Larchanché identifies practical routes for improving caregiving practices and promoting hospitality—including professional training, action research, and advocacy.

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

31.

Resident Foreigners: A Philosophy of Migration

By Donatella Di Cesare

Polity, 260 pp.

Hardcover, 1509533540, $75.64
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1509533540/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 1509533559, $25.60
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1509533559/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 567 KB, B07XVJSGVZ, $26.95

Book Description: From the shores of Europe to the Mexican-US border, mass migration is one of the most pressing issues we face today. Yet at the same time, calls to defend national sovereignty are becoming ever more vitriolic, with those fleeing war, persecution, and famine vilified as a threat to our security as well as our social and economic order.

In this book, written amidst the dark resurgence of appeals to defend 'blood and soil', Donatella Di Cesare challenges the idea of the exclusionary state, arguing that migration is a fundamental human right. She develops an original philosophy of migration that places the migrants themselves, rather than states and their borders, at the centre. Through an analysis of three historic cities, Athens, Rome and Jerusalem, Di Cesare shows how we should conceive of migrants not as an other but rather as resident foreigners. This means recognising that citizenship cannot be based on any supposed connection to the land or an exclusive claim to ownership that would deny the rights of those who arrive as migrants. Instead, citizenship must be disconnected from the possession of territory altogether and founded on the principle of cohabitation – and on the ultimate reality that we are all temporary guests and tenants of the earth.

Di Cesare's argument for a new ethics of hospitality will be of great interest to all those concerned with the challenges posed by migration and with the increasingly hostile attitudes towards migrants, as well as students and scholars of philosophy and political theory.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

32.

Citizenship Studies

Vol. 24, No. 3, April 2020

https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/ccst20/24/3

Articles:

Introduction: expulsion and citizenship in the 21st century

By Rutger Birnie and Rainer Bauböck

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2020.1733260

Banishment and the pre-history of legitimate expulsion power

By Matthew J. Gibney

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1700044

The power to expel vs. the rights of migrants: expulsion and freedom of movement in the Federal Republic of Germany, 1960s—1970s

By Jannis Panagiotidis

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2020.1714876

Beyond the deportation regime: differential state interests and capacities in dealing with (non-) deportability in Europe

By Arjen Leerkes and Marieke Van Houte

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2020.1718349

When losing citizenship is fine: denationalisation and permanent expatriation

By Jules Lepoutre

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2020.1733259

Just what's wrong with losing citizenship? Examining revocation of citizenship from a non-domination perspective?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Iseult Honohan
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2019.1700045

Citizenship, domicile and deportability: who should be exempt from the state's power to expel?
By Rutger Birnie
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2020.1722412

A free movement paradox: denationalisation and deportation in mobile societies?
By Rainer Bauböck
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/13621025.2020.1733256

Return to Top

****
****

33.
Comparative Migration Studies
Vol. 8, No 13, March 23, 2020
http://www.comparativemigrationstudies.com/

Latest Articles:

After the refugee crisis: public discourse and policy change in Denmark, Norway and Sweden
By Anniken Hagelund
. . .
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0169-8

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

34.

CSEM Newsletter

March 27, 2020

https://www.csem.org.br/

Latest Articles:

Migration and migrant integration: Enabling knowledge-based approaches to migration policy

. . .

https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/migration-and-migrant-integration-enabling-knowledge-based-approaches-to-migration-policy/

Migration is helping Africa in many ways

. . .

https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/migration-is-helping-africa-in-many-ways/

Coronavirus could hit immigrant detainees hard in places that are already 'a petri dish'

March 22, 2020

. . .

https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/coronavirus-could-hit-immigrant-detainees-hard-in-places-that-are-already-a-petri-dish/

10 things you should know about coronavirus and refugees

March 22, 2020

. . .

https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/10-things-you-should-know-about-coronavirus-and-refugees/

Externalization at work: responses to migration policies from the Global South

By Inka Stock, Aysen Ustubici, and Susanne U. Schultz

. . .

https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s40878-019-0161-3

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

35.
Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
Vol. 46, No. 6, March 2020
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/cjms20/46/6

Special Issue: Political Remittances and Political Transnationalism: Practices, Narratives of Belonging and the Role of the State

Articles:

Two centuries of flows between 'here' and 'there': political remittances and their transformative potential
By Félix Krawatzek and Lea Müller-Funk
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1554282

Relief and revolution: Russian émigrés' political remittances and the building of political transnationalism
By Lynne Ann Hartnett
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1554290

Political remittances and the diffusion of a rights-based approach to migration governance: the case of the Migrant Forum in Asia (MFA)
By Nicola Piper and Stefan Rother
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1554291

Language, locality, and transnational belonging: remitting the everyday practice of cultural integration
By Félix Krawatzek and Gwendolyn Sasse
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1554295

'We're coming!' Danish American identity, fraternity, and political remittances in the era of World War II
By Iain Anderson
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1554297

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Fluid identities, diaspora youth activists and the (Post-)Arab Spring: how narratives of belonging can change over time
By Lea Müller-Funk
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1554300

The paradox of diaspora engagement: a historical analysis of Japanese state-diaspora relations
By Ayumi Takenaka
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1554301

Direct and indirect political remittances of the transnational engagement of Hungarian kin-minorities and diaspora communities
By Eszter Kovács
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1554315

Imams for the diaspora: the Turkish state's International Theology Programme
By Benjamin Bruce
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1554316

+++

Vol. 46, No. 5, February 2020
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/cjms20/46/5

Selected articles:

The working mother-in-law effect on the labour force participation of first and second-generation immigrant women in the UK
By Albert F. Arcarons
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1539268

Expectations for family transitions in young adulthood among the UK second generation
By Ann Berrington
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1539276

The puzzle of high political partisanship among ethnic minority young people in Great Britain

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Nicole Martin and Jonathan Mellon
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1539285

The relationship between political and ethnic identity among UK ethnic minority and majority populations
By Alita Nandi and Lucinda Platt
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1539286

Unravelling the 'immigrant health paradox': ethnic maintenance, discrimination, and health behaviours of the foreign born and their children in England
By Renee Luthra, Alita Nandi, and Michaela Benzeval
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1539287

Return to Top

****
****

36.
Journal on Migration and Human Security
Online first, April 1, 2020
https://journals.sagepub.com/toc/mhs/current

Latest articles:

Immigration Detention, Inc.
By Denise Gilman and Luis A. Romero
. . .
https://doi.org/10.1177/2311502418765414

Predicting Unauthorized Salvadoran Migrants' First Migration to the United States between 1965 and 2007
By Nadia Y. Flores-Yeffal and Karen A. Pren
. . .
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/2311502418765414

From Right to Permission: Asylum, Mediterranean Migrations, and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Europe's War on Smuggling
By Maurizio Albahari
. . .
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/2311502418767088

Return to Top

****
****

37.
Regional Studies
Vol. 54, No. 4, April 2020
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/cres20/current

Selected articles:

Segregation trends in Athens: the changing residential distribution of occupational categories during the 2000s?
By Thomas Maloutas and Stavros Nikiforos Spyrellis
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/00343404.2018.1556392

Regional distribution and location choices of immigrants in Germany?
By Kerstin Tanis
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/00343404.2018.1490015

Southern Europe skilled migration into Mexico: the impact of the economic crisis?
By Cristóbal Mendoza
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/00343404.2018.1447101

A spatial approach to the impact of immigration on wages: evidence from Spain?
By María Gutiérrez-Portilla, José Villaverde, Adolfo Maza, and María Hierro
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/00343404.2018.1424994

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Sunday, April 5, 2020 1:44 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 4/5/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Opinions, 4/5/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here: http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Visas for Pottersville," Mark Krikorian
2. "Can We Protect Our Agricultural Supply Chain? Sí Se Puede!," Mark Krikorian
3. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Andrew Arthur, David North, Jessica Vaughan, and John Wahala
4. "We Are All Restrictionists Now," Rich Lowry
5. "The New York Times Editorial Board Is Eager to Spread the Coronavirus Via Open Borders," Eddie Scarry
6. "Supreme Court Re-Opens Door to States' Role in Immigration Enforcement. They Should Run, Not Walk, Through It," David Jaroslav
7. "U.S. 'Waives' Through Foreign Farm Hands as Unemployment Soars," Bob Dane
8. "In a Time of Coronavirus, U.S. Begins Rapid-Fire Removals at Border," Bob Dane
9. "Analyzing FY2021's H-1B Workers," Preston Huennekens
10. "Report: India's H-1B Companies Ask Labor Department to Let Foreign Workers Stay Amid Crash," Neil Munro
11. "Illegal Border Crossing Down to 'Next to Nothing' – Less Than 150 Apprehensions a Day For Almost a Week," Cassandra Fairbanks
12. "College Republicans Release Emergency Resolution Calling for 'Immediate and Indefinite Immigration Moratorium' Amid Coronavirus Pandemic," Cassandra Fairbanks
13. "'Tough Times Call For Tough Measures': Hostility Towards Immigration Law Is Hurting the Fight for Elites' Credibility," Andrew Good
14. "In Uncertain Times, NumbersUSA Remains Steadfast in Our Fight to Protect America's Workers, Natural Resources," Eric Ruark
15. "Third World Immigrant Medical Workers Exploited by NYC Democrats," L.E. Ikenga
16. "AMLO Still Resists Closing Borders; Mexican States Take the Lead;...," Allan Wall

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

17. "Trump World Comes After Sessions, But Immigrant Patriot Message Still a Winner in Alabama," Washington Watcher II
18. "Trump Gambles on Immigrant Workers During Coronavirus," Anita Kumar
19. "Leaked Border Patrol Memo Tells Agents to Send Migrants Back Immediately — Ignoring Asylum Law," Dara Lind,
20. "Facing Coronavirus Pandemic, Trump Suspends Immigration Laws and Showcases Vision for Locked-Down Border," Arelis R. Hernández and Nick Miroff
21. "Why Undocumented Immigrants Still Fear the 2020 Census," Mary Lehman Held
22. "Migrants at US-Mexico Border Must Get Past Cartels Before Their Long Journey Ends," Paola Díaz
23. "These Taxpayers Won't Get Stimulus Checks. That's Unjust," Tim Breene
24. "The Missing Piece in the Coronavirus Stimulus Bill: Relief for Immigrants," Nicole Narea
25. "Two Years After Zero Tolerance, More Revelations About the Failures of Family Separation," Tory Johnson
26. "It's Time to Close the Immigration Courts," Aaron Reichlin-Melnick
27. "Close the Immigration Courts — Protect Immigrant Children," Maria Woltjen
28. "Why Won't the Federal Government Release Immigrant Children?," Laila L. Hlass
29. "Trump Administration Has Turned Immigration Court Into 'Public Health Hazard'," Sam Brodey and Scott Bixby
30. "Coronavirus Doesn't Care Where You Come From. Trump Still Does.

1.

Visas for Pottersville

Facing 30 percent unemployment, we're importing more foreign workers. Why?
By Mark Krikorian
American Greatness, April 2, 2020
. . .
https://amgreatness.com/2020/04/02/visas-for-pottersville/

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2.

Can We Protect Our Agricultural Supply Chain? Sí Se Puede!

By Mark Krikorian

The Corner at National Review Online, March 31, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/can-we-protect-our-agricultural-supply-chain-si-se-puede/

Return to Top

****

****

3.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Andrew R. Arthur

What Can Be Done On Immigration Now

A checklist for employees and agencies sidelined during the Wuhan virus

April 3, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/What-Can-Be-Done-Immigration-Now

The Protecting U.S. Workers Initiative

Ensuring that 'U.S. workers have the advocate they need at the highest level'

April 2, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Report/Protecting-US-Workers-Initiative

96-Minute Turnaround for Migrants at Southwest Border

Apprehensions down to fewer than 600 per day

April 1, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/96Minute-Turnaround-Migrants-Southwest-Border

Detainees Are Safer in ICE Detention

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Higher standards than the community as a whole
April 1, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Detainees-Are-Safer-ICE-Detention

The Nightmare After the Wuhan Wakeup
Bioterrorism and open borders
March 31, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Nightmare-After-Wuhan-Wakeup

By David North

Federal Agencies on H-2B: DHS Hits a Home Run, GAO an Own Goal
April 4, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Federal-Agencies-H2B-DHS-Hits-Home-Run-GAO-Own-Goal

We Should Tell the World: Stay Away from the U.S. for Your Health
April 3, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/We-Should-Tell-World-Stay-Away-US-Your-Health

DHS Makes H-1B Process Easier and the Number of Applications Rises
April 2, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/DHS-Makes-H1B-Process-Easier-and-Number-Applications-Rises

Three Bits of Good News on the Immigration Front
March 31, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Three-Bits-Good-News-Immigration-Front

By Jessica M. Vaughan

DHS Should Retract Expansion of H-2B Visa Workers
Are these visas really essential to our economy?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

April 3, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Vaughan/DHS-Should-Retract-Expansion-H2B-Visa-Workers

By John Wahala

Borders and the Order of Charity

April 1, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Wahala/Borders-and-Order-Charity

Return to Top

****

****

4.

We Are All Restrictionists Now

In the coronavirus crisis, everyone realizes the importance of borders.

By Rich Lowry

National Review Online, April 3, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/2020/04/coronavirus-pandemic-nations-realize-importance-borders/

Return to Top

****

****

5.

The New York Times Editorial Board Is Eager to Spread the Coronavirus Via Open Borders

By Eddie Scarry

Washington Examiner, April 2, 2020

. . .

https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/the-new-york-times-editorial-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

board-is-eager-to-spread-the-coronavirus-via-open-borders

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Supreme Court Re-Opens Door to States' Role in Immigration Enforcement. They Should Run, Not Walk, Through It
By David Jaroslav
ImmigrationReform.com, April 3, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/03/supreme-court-states-immigration-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

7.
U.S. 'Waives' Through Foreign Farm Hands as Unemployment Soars
By Bob Dane
ImmigrationReform.com, April 3, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/03/farm-labor-h2a-visas-trump-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

8.
In a Time of Coronavirus, U.S. Begins Rapid-Fire Removals at Border

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Bob Dane
ImmigrationReform.com, April 1, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/01/border-unaccompanied-minors-deport-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Analyzing FY2021's H-1B Workers
By Preston Huennekens
ImmigrationReform.com, April 2, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/02/h1b-visa-foreign-worker-lottery-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

10.
Report: India's H-1B Companies Ask Labor Department to Let Foreign Workers Stay Amid Crash
By Neil Munro
Breitbart.com, April 3, 2020
. . .
https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2020/04/03/indias-h-1b-companies-ask-labor-department-to-let-foreign-workers-stay-amid-crash/

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

11.

Illegal Border Crossing Down to 'Next to Nothing' – Less Than 150 Apprehensions a Day For Almost a Week

By Cassandra Fairbanks

Gateway Pundit, April 4, 2020

. . .

https://www.thegatewaypundit.com/2020/04/illegal-border-crossing-next-nothing-less-150-apprehensions-day-almost-week/

Return to Top

****

****

12.

College Republicans Release Emergency Resolution Calling for 'Immediate and Indefinite Immigration Moratorium' Amid Coronavirus Pandemic

By Cassandra Fairbanks

Gateway Pundit, March 26, 2020

. . .

https://www.thegatewaypundit.com/2020/03/college-republicans-release-emergency-resolution-calling-for-immediate-and-indefinite-immigration-moratorium-amid-coronavirus-pandemic/

Return to Top

****

****

13.

'Tough Times Call For Tough Measures': Hostility Towards Immigration Law Is Hurting the Fight for Elites' Credibility

By Andrew Good

NumersUSA.com, April 2, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://www.numbersusa.com/blog/tough-times-call-tough-measures

Return to Top

****
****

14.
In Uncertain Times, NumbersUSA Remains Steadfast in Our Fight to Protect America's Workers, Natural Resources
By Eric Ruark
NumersUSA.com, March 20 2020
. . .
https://www.numbersusa.com/blog/uncertain-times-numbersusa-remains-steradfast-our-fight-ptotect-americas-workers-natural

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Third World Immigrant Medical Workers Exploited by NYC Democrats
By L.E. Ikenga
American Thinker, April 2, 2020
. . .
https://www.americanthinker.com/articles/2020/04/third_world_immigrant_medical_workers_exploited_by_nyc_democrats_.html

Return to Top

****
****

16.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

SAID IN SPANISH: AMLO Still Resists Closing Borders; Mexican States Take The Lead;
By Allan Wall
VDare.com, March 31, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/said-in-spanish-amlo-still-resists-closing-borders-mexican-states-take-the-lead-coronavirus-a-disease-of-the-wealthy-are-mexicans-racially-resistant-politically-incorrect-pinatas-5-items

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Trump World Comes After Sessions, But Immigrant Patriot Message Still a Winner in Alabama
By Washington Watcher II
VDare.com Blog, April 2, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/trump-world-comes-after-sessions-but-immigrant-patriot-message-still-a-winner-in-alabama

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Trump Gambles on Immigrant Workers During Coronavirus
The president has angered his base by soliciting temporary foreign workers in an effort to stabilize the economy.
By Anita Kumar
Politico, April 2, 2020
. . .
https://www.politico.com/news/2020/04/02/trump-immigrant-workers-coronavirus-162177

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

19.

Leaked Border Patrol Memo Tells Agents to Send Migrants Back Immediately — Ignoring Asylum Law

By Dara Lind,

ProPublica.org, April 2, 2020

. . .

https://www.propublica.org/article/leaked-border-patrol-memo-tells-agents-to-send-migrants-back-immediately-ignoring-asylum-law

Return to Top

****

****

20.

Facing Coronavirus Pandemic, Trump Suspends Immigration Laws and Showcases Vision for Locked-Down Border

By Arelis R. Hernández and Nick Miroff

The Washington Post, April 3, 2020

. . .

https://www.washingtonpost.com/national/coronavirus-trump-immigration-border/2020/04/03/23cb025a-74f9-11ea-ae50-7148009252e3_story.html

Return to Top

****

****

21.

Why Undocumented Immigrants Still Fear the 2020 Census

By Mary Lehman Held

The Conversation.com, April 2, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://theconversation.com/why-undocumented-immigrants-still-fear-the-2020-census-132842

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Migrants at US-Mexico Border Must Get Past Cartels Before Their Long Journey Ends
By Paola Díaz
The Conversation.com, March 18, 2020
. . .
https://theconversation.com/migrants-at-us-mexico-border-must-get-past-cartels-before-their-long-journey-ends-129403

Return to Top

****
****

23.
These Taxpayers Won't Get Stimulus Checks. That's Unjust.
By Tim Breene
CNN Business Perspectives, March 26, 2020
. . .
https://www.cnn.com/2020/03/26/perspectives/stimulus-checks-undocumented-taxpayers/index.html

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

24.

The Missing Piece in the Coronavirus Stimulus Bill: Relief for Immigrants

Overlooking unauthorized immigrants in the coronavirus response could carry public health costs.

By Nicole Narea

VOX.com, April 1, 2020,

. . .

https://www.vox.com/2020/4/1/21197017/immigrants-coronavirus-stimulus-relief-bill

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Two Years After Zero Tolerance, More Revelations About the Failures of Family Separation

By Tory Johnson

ImmigrationImpact.com, April 2, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/04/02/family-separation-two-years-later/#.XokxWs-WybY

Return to Top

****

****

26.

It's Time to Close the Immigration Courts

By Aaron Reichlin-Melnick

ImmigrationImpact.com, April 1, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/04/01/coronavirus-immigration-court-hearings/#.Xokxq8-WybY

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

27.
Close the Immigration Courts — Protect Immigrant Children
By Maria Woltjen
TheHill.com, April 1, 2020
. . .
https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/490662-close-the-immigration-courts-protect-immigrant-children

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Why Won't the Federal Government Release Immigrant Children?
The coronavirus threatens to turn immigration detention centers into a "tinderbox scenario."
By Laila L. Hlass
Slate.com, March 31 2020
. . .
https://slate.com/news-and-politics/2020/03/coronavirus-immigrant-children-detention.html

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Trump Administration Has Turned Immigration Court Into 'Public Health Hazard'

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Sam Brodey and Scott Bixby
The Daily Beast, April 2, 2020
. . .
https://www.thedailybeast.com/trump-administration-has-turned-immigration-court-into-public-health-hazard

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Coronavirus Doesn't Care Where You Come From. Trump Still Does.
Hostility toward immigrants is hurting the fight against the pandemic.
The New York Times, March 31 2020
. . .
https://www.nytimes.com/2020/03/31/opinion/immigration-coronavirus-border.html

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, April 6, 2020 8:50 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 4/6/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Commentary

Visas for Pottersville

Facing 30 percent unemployment, we're importing more foreign workers. Why?

By Mark Krikorian

American Greatness, April 2, 2020

Can We Protect Our Agricultural Supply Chain? Si Se Puede!

By Mark Krikorian

National Review, March 31, 2020

Featured Posts

We Should Tell the World: Stay Away from the U.S. for Your Health

By David North

Given that we are now the epicenter of the coronavirus, and that we have more of these cases than any other nation, we should tell the world: "Don't come — it's not safe." We should make the message particularly loud and clear in the lands south of us. One of the reactions, one hopes, would be reduced illegal migration from Central America and Mexico.

The Nightmare After the Wuhan Wakeup

By Andrew R. Arthur

You do not hear much about terrorism these days, with the attention of the public focused intensively on the Wuhan virus — following the president's near-daily press briefings. The virus should be a wake-up, however, about a very real terrorist threat: bioterrorism, particularly transnational bioterrorism.

DHS Should Retract Expansion of H-2B Visa Workers

By Jessica M. Vaughan

Due to public health and economic conditions caused by the coronavirus pandemic, the Trump administration should cancel the announced expansion of the H-2B unskilled guestworker program, which would add 35,000 new unskilled workers, the first batch of which is scheduled to be distributed April 1.

IRS, Which Often Ignores Migration Issues, Will Send Out $1,200 Checks

By David North

It appears that the Internal Revenue Service, which tries to avoid immigration issues whenever it can, will be tasked with the distribution of the $1,200 coronavirus relief checks. I worry that large numbers of illegal aliens — those in the country for a couple of years — will get these checks.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

More Blog Posts

- DHS Makes H-1B Process Easier and the Number of Application Rises
- 96-Minute Turnaround for Migrants at Southwest Border
- Borders and the Order of Charity
- Detainees Are Safer in ICE Detention
- Three Bits of Good News on the Immigration Front
- REAL ID Delayed Yet Again
- The Economic Stimulus Package Should Meet Immigration Policy Needs

Video

The Center for Immigration Studies hosted a panel discussion Thursday, April 2, on the Justice Department's "Protecting U.S. Workers Initiative", which was launched in 2017 to protect the interests of U.S. workers by cracking down on employers who are abusing temporary visa programs to deny them job opportunities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, April 6, 2020 4:19 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 4/6/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Events, 4/6/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 4/6, Nationwide - Webinar on humanitarian protection in an era of pandemic - [New Listing]
2. 4/7, Nationwide - Webcast on implementing the USMCA trade deal - [New Listing]
3. 4/7, Nationwide - Webinar on DACA litigation and advocacy in the face of COVID-19 - [New Listing]
4. 4/10, Nationwide - Webinar on coronavirus as the 'Invasive Other' - [New Listing]
5. 4/14, Nationwide - Webinar on why immigrant workers are especially vulnerable to COVID-19 - [New Listing]
6. 4/14, Nationwide - Videoconference on COVID-19 and the northern border - [New Listing]
7. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration
8. 4/17, Nationwide - Webinar on the 1918 pandemic and US immigration - [New Listing]
9. 4/21, Nationwide - Webinar on COVID-19 and refugee camps - [New Listing]
10. 4/22-23, Edinburgh, Scotland - Immigration at the Association for the Study of Ethnicity and Nationalism annual conference
11. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law - [Postponed indefinitely]
12. 5/6-8, DC - Certificate program course on immigration policy
13. 5/13-16, Guadalajara, Mexico - Latin American Studies Association annual meeting - [Still scheduled]
14. 5/21-23, New Orleans - Conference on aiding immigrant and refugee communities in the Southeast U.S. post-Hurricane Katrina - [CANCELLED]
15. 6/29-7/10, Brussels - 2020 Summer School on EU Immigration and Asylum Law and Policy
16. 7/27-31, DC - Certificate program course on global displacement and migration studies
17. 9/24-26, Portland, OR - Crimmigration Control International Network of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Studies conference
18. 10/5-6, Ottawa - Annual Canadian immigration summit - [Rescheduled from 3/13-14]

1.
Humanitarian Protection in an Era of Pandemic

9:30 a.m. ET, Monday, April 6, 2020
MPI Webinar
https://www.migrationpolicy.org/events/humanitarian-protection-era-pandemic

Speakers:
Kathleen Newland, Senior Fellow, Migration Policy Institute (MPI)

Hanne Beirens, Director, MPI Europe

Sarah Pierce, Policy Analyst, MPI

Susan Fratzke, Policy Analyst and Program Coordinator, MPI

Moderator:
Meghan Benton, Director of Research, MPI International Program and MPI Europe

Description: The rapid closures of borders around the world have been among the most dramatic migration-related effects of the COVID-19 pandemic. More than 130 countries have introduced entry restrictions at their borders, the International Organization for Migration (IOM) estimates. While these closures have virtually suspended leisure and business travel across the world, the effects are proving even more severe for refugees and migrants fleeing danger. Crossing an international border to a country of safety and filing an asylum claim is no longer possible in many places—a seismic shock to the foundations of a post-World War II international protection system that relies on the goodwill of national governments to grant access to their territory for those in need.

The pandemic has also placed into stark relief the unique vulnerabilities forced migrants now confront in the face of outbreak. The reception facilities where many asylum seekers live while awaiting a verdict on their claim invite outbreaks, even in high-income countries with well-run asylum and reception systems. Infection is likely to spread even more rapidly in severely overcrowded facilities, such as the camps on the Greek islands and informal settlements in Mexican border cities where migrants awaiting U.S. asylum hearings are massed. In developing countries where access to proper health care is limited even for nationals, the consequences of the pandemic could be disastrous for refugees who often live in densely packed housing with poor sanitation. At the same time, the suspension of resettlement operations by IOM and the UN High Commissioner for Refugees has closed off a crucial lifeline for the especially vulnerable.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Please join us as we consider how the COVID-19 pandemic has affected—and perhaps, remade—the global protection systems. Meghan Benton, Director for Research of MPI's International Program, will be joined by MPI colleagues for a free-flowing conversation regarding the effects of the pandemic on asylum systems in Europe and North America, as well as those in developing regions, where 85 percent of refugees remain. In addition to considering the immediate effects the crisis has had on national asylum systems and on refugees themselves, the conversation will look ahead and begin to assess the implications for the principle of asylum and access to protection in the future.

Register: http://my.migrationpolicy.org/p/salsa/event/common/public/?event_KEY=89599

[Event has concluded but a video may be made available on the MPI website].

Return to Top

****
****

2.

WEBCAST - Implementing USMCA: A Conversation with Luz Maria de la Mora, Mexico's Undersecretary for Foreign Trade

10:30 a.m.–12:00 p.m., April 7, 2020
Woodrow Wilson Center
https://www.wilsoncenter.org/event/webcast-implementing-usmca-conversation-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

luz-maria-de-la-mora-mexicos-undersecretary-foreign

Speaker:
Luz María de la Mora, Undersecretary for Foreign Trade, Mexico

Moderator:
Earl Anthony Wayne, Public Policy Fellow,
former Career Ambassador to Afghanistan, Argentina, and Mexico

Description: In mid-March, Canada ratified the USMCA trade deal, becoming the third and final country to ratify the deal that will replace the North American Free Trade Agreement. Now that the USMCA has been approved, a new chapter for North American trade is about to begin. While the official date has not been set, all three countries have begun taking important steps to be ready for implementation. There is still much work to be done on preparing the automotive rules of origin, and Mexico must also take steps to implement its major labor reforms. Additionally, some worry that the novel coronavirus outbreak could affect the implementation timeline, as industries work to navigate possible disruption to supply chains caused by the outbreak.

Please join us for a conversation BY WEBCAST with Mexico's Undersecretary for Foreign Trade Luz María de la Mora as she discusses what Mexico anticipates as the steps ahead to implement USMCA.

Return to Top

****
****

3.
DACA Litigation and Advocacy in the Face of COVID-19

Presented by the Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School.

1:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 7, 2020
https://event.newschool.edu/st-daca

Speakers and Description: Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Muneer Ahmad,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Director of the Jerome N. Frank Legal Services Organization at Yale Law School, and Marisol Orihuela, Clinical Associate Professor at Yale Law School, to discuss DACA litigation and advocacy efforts.

Join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19.

Scholars and activists on migration and mobility will join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19, during the worldwide pandemic.

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Coronavirus as the 'Invasive Other'

Presented by the Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School.

1:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, April 10, 2020
https://event.newschool.edu/st-ticktin

Speakers and Description: Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Miriam Ticktin, Associate Professor of Anthropology at The New School for Social Research, to discuss her recent article Coronavirus Cannot Become an Excuse to Label Groups of People 'Invasive'.

Join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19.

Scholars and activists on migration and mobility will join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19, during the worldwide pandemic.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

5.
Why Immigrant Workers are Especially Vulnerable to COVID-19

Presented by the Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School

1:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 14, 2020
https://event.newschool.edu/st-gelatt

Speakers and Description: Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Julia Gelatt, Senior Policy Analyst, US Immigrant Policy Program, Migration Policy Institute, to discuss her recent report on the vulnerability of immigrant workers during COVID-19.

Join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19.

Scholars and activists on migration and mobility will join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19, during the worldwide pandemic.

Return to Top

****
****

6.
COVID-19 and the Northern Border

2:00-3:00 p.m., Tuesday, April 14, 2020
Video conference - Woodrow Wilson Center, Canadian Institute
https://www.wilsoncenter.org/event/covid-19-and-northern-border

Speakers:
Alan D. Bersin, Global Fellow, Assistant Secretary for International Affairs and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Chief Diplomatic Officer for the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Office of Policy, and Vice President of INTERPOL for the Americas Region

Kathryn Friedman, Global Fellow, Director of Cross-Border and International Research, University at Buffalo

Laurie Trautman, Global Fellow, Director, Border Policy Research Institute, Western Washington University

Solomon Wong, President and Chief Executive Officer, InterVISTAS

Moderator:
Christopher Sands, Director

Description: The Canada Institute is bringing together a panel of expert speakers for a video conference briefing to give an update on the novel Coronavirus and how Canada and the United States are working together during this crisis. During the call, speakers will discuss the details of the temporary border agreement and the impact this has on trade between our two nations.

In the wake of the novel Coronavirus outbreak, Canada and the United States agreed to temporarily restrict all non-essential travel across their shared border for the first time since September 11, 2001. This new agreement, enacted in order to protect the health and safety of their citizens, restricts travel for tourism and recreation and allows for the continuation of business travel crucial to our integrated supply chains.

Currently, $2.7 billion worth of goods crosses the Canada-U.S. border every day; yet, with markets plummeting, business closures, and an increase in unemployment, we may be headed for continued economic downturn. How is COVID-19 affecting businesses on both sides of the border? How long can we expect this to last? And what else can be done to maintain our strong economic ties?

The Canada Institute is bringing together a panel of expert speakers for a video conference briefing to give an update on the novel Coronavirus and how Canada and the United States are working together during this crisis. During the video conference, speakers will discuss the details of the temporary border agreement and the impact COVID-19 has on trade between the two nations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in 2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and for national and international politics

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

8.
The 1918 Pandemic and US Immigration

Presented by the Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School

1:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, April 17, 2020
https://event.newschool.edu/kraut

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Speakers and Description: Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Alan Kraut, University Professor of History and International Service at American University.

Join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19.

Scholars and activists on migration and mobility will join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19, during the worldwide pandemic.

Return to Top

****

****

9.

COVID-19 and Refugee Camps

Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School

1:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 21, 2020
Online-Zoom
https://event.newschool.edu/st-spiegel

Speaker:
Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Paul Spiegel, MD, MPH, Professor of the Practice, Director of the Center for Humanitarian Health at Johns Hopkins University, to discuss COVID-19 and refugee camps.

Description: Scholars and activists on migration and mobility will join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19, during the worldwide pandemic.

Join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

10.

30th ASEN Annual Conference: Nationalism and Multiculturalism

Wednesday-Thursday, April 22-23, 2020
University of Edinburgh
Edinburgh, Scotland
https://asen.ac.uk/events/asen-conference/

Conference programme draft - Immigration-related sessions

Wednesday, April 22, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.
Welcome Ceremony and First plenary speaker: Bikhu Parekh

10:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 1

Diaspora Communities: Long-Distance Nationalism in Situ

Indo-Trinidadian heritage: Toronto as a diaporic context
Kathleen Boodhai

Nationalism and politics among the Chinese diaspora in the UK
Oana Burcu

How Restrictive is Liberal Nationalism's Immigration Policy?
Ranjoo Herr

Rescaling Identity in Europe: Civilisationism, Self-determinism, and Multiculturalism

Other Brexit Imaginaries: Openness and the crisis of liberal Britain
Arshad Isakjee

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Rescaling the border: Simulation, sovereignty and civilisationism
Paul Richardson

Challenges to Scandinavian National Identities

From Exclusion to Establishment: Researching Anti-Political Establishment Parties in Scandinavia
Johan Andersen

3:15-4:45 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 2

Social Perceptions of Diversity : Migration in European Nations

National/ European identities and attitudes towards migrant integration: findings from EVS-European Values Study
Simona Guglielmi

The perception of European migrant crisis by Danish minority in Germany and German minority in Denmark. A comparative analysis of media discourses.
Sergiusz Bober

Migration and national minority communities: two sides in the debate about multiculturalism and interculturalism in Catalonia
Mariona Lladonosa

What's in a name? Children of migrants, national belonging and the politics of naming
Marco Antonsich

3:00-4:30 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 3

Indeterminate status: the Global Refugee Crisis

Nationalism and Immigration in Greece and the Netherlands: a Comparative Perspective
Thanos Koulos

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Creating "refugees" within: Challenges for multiculturalism in Japan where only 20 refugees are accepted out of 20,000 applications
Naoko Hosokawa

Syrian refugees in Turkey: Challenge to Nationalism
Cigdem Nas

New Approaches in Nationalism Studies

Beyond assimilation: the compliance – resistance theory
Manolis Pratsinakis

When the Methods are Madness: Researching with Refugees in the UK
Isabella Gabrovsky

4:00-6:00 p.m.
Plenary speaker: Christian Joppke

Thursday, April 23, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.
Populism, Multiculturalism and Internationalism in Eurasia: Negotiating Empire and its Legacies

Russia reports Western voting: transnational nationalisms versus multiculturalism
Chatterje-Doody

1:30-3:00 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 5

Minority Nationalisms in the West

Immigration and the Imagined Community: Province-wide Norm or Local-level Realities in Quebec?
Antoine Bilodeau

European stateless nationalisms facing the challenge of multiculturalism.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Insights from Scotland, Catalonia, Basque Country and Flanders
Paolo Perri

Migration, Minority Groups and the Politics of Multiculturalism in Japan and Northeast Asia

The politics of local multiculturalism in the age of superdiversity and resurgent nationalism in Japan
Sachi Takaya

Challenges and Possibilities of "Multicultural Japan" – The Emergence of Minority Representatives in Japan's Political Landscape
Seiko Mimaki

Territorial Disputes in Northeast Asia: Questioning the "national consciousness" paradigm
Alexander Bukh

Cultural nationalism in multicultural Japan
Fumiko Takahashi

Book Panel: Struggle over Borders
Pieter De Wilde

Disputing 'One China': Cases from Hong Kong and Taiwan

One country, two identities. In search of Hong Kong's identity
Malgorzata Osinska

'I was discriminated against because I was seen as PRC-Chinese': The negotiation between ethnicity and nationalism among Taiwanese migrants in Australia
Yao-Tai Li

Representing the Nation in Media Discourses

Cultural Boundary Drawings of German National Identity in Migrant Integration Discourses
Anja Benedikt

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Book Panel: Borderline Citizen: Dispatches from the outskirts of nationhood
Robin Hemley

3:15-4:45 p.m.
Beyond the Melting Pot: Ethnicity in North America

Melting the Pot: The Rise of 'Ethnicity' in the United States
Jaakko Heiskanen

The Oxymoronic Nation: Liberal Individualism and the Invention of Color Race and Ethnicity in the United States, 1880-1920
Reynolds Scott-Childress

Muslim Minorities in Europe

Liberal citizenship, pluralism and Muslims in Europe
Nasar Meer

Spiritualising Reason, Rationalising Spirit. Ex-, Practicing, and Converted Muslim Public Intellectuals in the German Far-Right
Julian Gopffarth

Laïcité bien comprise vs. Laïcité compromise: Senegalese Muslims in France
Olivia Till

Questioning Perceptions of National Belonging with Discourse Analysis

Discursive constructions of national identity in the Gulf States: 'Deserving citizens' and 'undeserving migrants'
Idil Akinci

Cataloguing the nation: National canons and admission to citizenship in the Netherlands and Flanders (2006-2019)
Jan Rock

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

11.

Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Conference Program:

Monday, April 27, 2020

I. THE LEGAL MIGRATION FRAMEWORK IN THE EU – RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

9:45 a.m.
Recent legislative developments and key priorities for 2020-2021 in the EU legal migration system
Laura Corrado

10:45 a.m.
Update on the Community Code on Visas: Regulation (EU) 2019/1155 amending Regulation (EC) 810/2009
Dimitri Giotakos

12:15 p.m.
The post-Brexit UK immigration system and its impact on EU citizens

* Should business be worried by the drop in EU migration?
* Current assessment of adopted measures
* What additional challenges are to be expected by companies?
* Solutions for cross-border workers after Brexit Annabel Mace

II. ASPECTS OF EU AND NATIONAL LEGAL MIGRATION LAW IN A BROADER LEGISLATIVE CONTEXT

2:15 p.m.
Investor citizenship and residence schemes in the European Union: the cases of Malta, Bulgaria and Cyprus

* Investor residence schemes and EU law on legal migration
* The link between investor residence schemes and naturalisation procedures
* Areas of concern
* Risks posed by investor citizenship and residence schemes

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Jelena Dzankic

3:15 p.m.

Mobility rights for third-country nationals under the EU's migration directives: posted workers and EU intra-corporate transferees – how to differentiate and ensure compliance

* Main changes introduced by the revised posted workers directive
* Facilitating intra-EU mobility by the ICT permit
* Case law of the CJEU Matthias Lommers

4:30 p.m.

The new German skilled immigration rules

Marius Tollenaere

Tuesday, April 28, 2020

III. CASE LAW OF THE CJEU AND ITS IMPACT ON EU LEGAL MIGRATION LAW

9:30 a.m.

The right to family reunification and long-term resident status in recent CJEU jurisprudence

* G.S. and V.G. Joined cases C-381/18 and C-382/18
* Cases C-519/18 and C-706/18
* Case C-93/18: Right of residence of a third-country national who is a direct relative in the ascending line of Union citizen minors
* Case C-302/18: Conditions for the acquisition of long-term resident status

Doyin Lawunmi

IV. EXTERNAL DIMENSION OF LEGAL MIGRATION

11:00 a.m.

Developing and implementing alternative pathways for legal migration

* Socio-economic challenges
* Pilot projects for legal migration with selected third countries
* Legal migration pathways to Europe for low- and middle-skilled migrants

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Silvio Grieco

V. FUTURE CHALLENGES AND OUTLOOK

12:00 p.m.
Reflections on EU legal migration law

* Assessment of the current situation
* Main challenges
* Ideas and suggestions for the future Kees Groenendijk

Return to Top

****
****

12.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-716 - Immigration Policy

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, May 6-8, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=29908153

Course Description: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

The course also examines policies related to forced migration, including refugee resettlement, asylum and temporary protected status. These issues will be discussed in a comparative framework, analyzing how other countries address issues affecting the United States. The course will examine the role of federal, state and local authorities in implementing policy reforms. It also examines the role of public opinion and various interest groups in affecting policy formulation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Students will be required to write a 10-page paper, due after the course completion, on a specific reform issue.

Section Notes: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Latin American Studies Association annual meeting

Wednesday-Saturday, May 13-16, 2020
Guadalajara, Mexico
https://lasaweb.org/en/lasa2020/

Conference program to be available soon.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

14.

Building Just and Inclusive Communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama: 15 Years After Katrina

A Whole of Community Approach to Immigrants and Refugees

Thursday-Saturday, May 21-23, 2020
Loyola University New Orleans College of Law
526 Pine Street
New Orleans, LA 70118
https://cmsny.org/event/2020-whole-of-community-conference/

Description: The Center for Migration Studies' (CMS) Whole of Community Conference will be held this year at Loyola University New Orleans College of Law from May 21-23, 2020. At the conference, participants will explore the challenges facing diverse immigrant and refugee communities in local communities in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and elsewhere. The conference will feature best practices in supporting and defending these communities.

The Whole of Community Conference is a platform for community-focused collaborations among public officials, legal service providers, community organizers, community-based organizations, faith-based organizations, scholars, researchers, immigrants, refugees, and others in response to local and national immigration policies. The sponsors of this year's event will be CMS, Loyola University New Orleans College of Law and the Jesuit Social Research Institute / Loyola University New Orleans.

The conference schedule includes: optional site visits on May 21; and plenary panels and workshops on May 22 and 23. The conference fee of $50 includes lunch and refreshments throughout the event.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

15.

2020 Summer School on EU Immigration and Asylum Law and Policy

Monday, June 29-Friday, July 10, 2020
Université libre de Bruxelles
Brussels, Belgium
http://odysseus-network.eu/2020-summer-school/eng/

Description: While we celebrate the 20th anniversary of our summer school, it has trained more than 2000 persons and is well known among employers considering it as an asset for job seekers. This 20th edition will focus on the new pact on migration to be presented in April by the European Commission. The objective is to give to the participants a global understanding of the immigration and asylum policies in the EU from a legal perspective. The summer school is organised by the Odysseus Network for Legal Studies on Immigration and Asylum in Europe, founded in 1999 with the support of the European Commission. In addition to classes, the summer school provides an excellent opportunity to spend an intellectually stimulating time in a group of around one hundred participants specialised in the area of asylum and immigration from all over Europe. The location of the summer school in Brussels creates a unique environment facilitating participants' interaction with European institutions. Participants in the summer school typically includes PhD and graduate students, researchers, EU and Member State officials, representatives from NGOs and International Organisations, lawyers, judges, social workers, etc. The classes are taught by academics originating from all EU Member States collaborating in the framework of the Odysseus Network, and by high-ranking officials from the European Institutions, particularly the European Commission. You can discover the Summer School through this video: odysseus-network.eu/2020-summer-school

Subjects:

Opening lecture

Migration flows and statistics

Free movement of EU citizens

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

European institutional framework.

Implications of human rights

External relations and European migration policy

European Databases (SIS, VIS, Eurodac, etc.)

External border control

European visa policy

Immigration for purposes of work

Family reunification

Status and integration of third country nationals

Smuggling and trafficking

Return and readmission

Reception conditions for asylum seekers

European concepts of refugee and of subsidiary protection

Member States responsibility

("Dublin mechanism")

Asylum procedures

Calendar and Schedule: The first general part of the program includes 14 hours of lectures and the second and third specialised parts on immigration and asylum 30 hours in total. Each day is generally done of 2classes of 2 hours, presented with a coffeebreak in between. In order to enable participants in full-time employment to attend the classes, courses take mainly place in the afternoon between 2 pm and 6:30pm.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

16.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-744 - Global Displacement & Migration Studies

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Friday, July 27-31, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=31222947

Course Description: This course offers deep knowledge and information about the different groups of people on the move (labor migrants, refugees, internally displaced, asylum seekers, and others), and the multiple causes and consequences of such movements of people. It also provides a global overview of displacement and migration numbers and trends; drivers of population movements; impacts on origin, transit and host countries; and policy responses to population movements.

Specifically, the course will cover the major theoretical explanations underpinning displacement and international migration; global migration and refugee governance; differences and trends in national policies, especially refugee resettlement and labor migration; integration experiences of immigrants in host countries; and connections between migration and displacement and other issues as security, development and environmental change. Finally, the certificate will illustrate how research questions are answered in an effort to enhance existing knowledge and improve policies and practices.

Course Objectives:

* After completing the certificate, successful students will be able to:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Understand current patterns and trends related to displacement and global migration, including the number and characteristics of those on the move at global, regionally and national levels

* Understand differences among those on the move, including refugees, internally displaced persons, asylum seekers and others

* Articulate the causes of displacement and migration, drawing from both theory and empirical evidence;

* Describe the global refugee and migration governance frameworks and how they articulate the rights of people on the move and the responsibilities of origin, transit and destination countries;

* Assess the interconnections between international migration and other transnational issues, such as development, security and climate change

* Discuss and articulate strengths and weaknesses of the national policy frameworks governing the admission of migrants, control of irregular migration, protection of refugees and other forced migrants, etc.

* Understand the integration process of immigrants, and the resettlement process of refugees, in destination countries

* Learn how to ask and answer relevant research questions about these issues

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $4,995.00, 60 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

17.

Crimmigration, Capital, and Consequences, 5th Biennial CINETS Conference

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Wednesday-Friday, September 24–26, 2020
Lewis and Clark Law School
10015 SW Terwilliger Blvd #7768
Portland, OR 97219
https://www.law.ox.ac.uk/news/2019-12-17-crimmigration-capital-and-consequences-5th-biennial-cinets-conference

Description: The Crimmigration Control International Network of Studies (CINETS) is pleased to invite you to our fifth biennial international conference, which will be held in partnership with Lewis & Clark's 25th annual Business Law Forum. For the first time, Oxford-based Border Criminologies will join CINETS as a co-host for this event.

Crimmigration, the merging of immigration enforcement and criminal justice regimes, has rapidly become the dominant response to human mobility around the globe. Crimmigration has emerged, ironically, in tandem with growing economic globalization. For capital, national borders have virtually disappeared, while the walls, virtual and literal, are growing higher for workers and others who need mobility to thrive, and even survive. Race, ethnicity, and personal wealth matter in who gains entry. Are fairness, justice, and inclusion, values that democratic societies hold dear, to be available only on a members-only basis? What is the role of capital in fomenting human mobility and profiting from the barriers that governments are erecting to deter immigrants? How can we resist the bordering trend that works selectively against those most in need? This conference will treat crimmigration and bordering holistically as systems nested within economy and society in subtle, and not-so-subtle, ways.

We welcome individual and panel submission (fully or partly-formed). The conference also welcomes submissions for work-in-progress sessions, including potential Border Criminologies blog posts. To apply, submit a (maximum) 200-word abstract, with a tentative title and contact information. Please indicate whether you are applying for a papers-only panel or a work-in-progress/blog post session.

Deadline for submissions is June 15, 2020. Send your submissions and questions to Richard Adams at richardadams@lclark.edu.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

18.

Immigration and the changing nature of work

Canadian Immigration Summit 2020

Monday-Tuesday, October 5-6, 2020
The Shaw Center
Ottawa, Ontario, Canada
https://www.conferenceboard.ca/web/canadian-immigration-summit-2020.html

Programme:

Monday, October 5, 2020

8:20 a.m.
Opening remarks—Building an attractive and welcoming immigration system

8:40 a.m.
Remarks—Remaining competitive in a disruptive economy

9:00 a.m.
Keynote -Radical innovation for greater social good

9:30 a.m.
Panel presentation - Global migration trends—Systems and policies

11:00 a.m.
Concurrent Sessions (please select one)

Concurrent A1: Fostering immigrant entrepreneurship

Concurrent A2: Long-term success of international students in Canada

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Concurrent A3: Paving pathways for inclusion for skilled refugees

1:00 p.m.
Concurrent Sessions (please select one)

Concurrent B1: Using technology to help immigrants and refugees

Concurrent B2: Immigrant women and the fourth industrial revolution

Concurrent B3: In-camera session for employers—Talent solutions at the intersection of immigration and long-term prosperity

2:30 p.m.
Panel presentation - Attracting an immigrant workforce: Regional approaches to immigration in the new world of work

3:30 p.m.
Panel discussion - Innovation in the workplace—The employer experience

4:45 p.m.
Day 1 roundup

Tuesday, October 6, 2020

8:15 a.m.
Remarks—Building a forward-thinking workforce

9:00 a.m.
Keynote - Innovative solutions: Can technology help transform the labour market, reskill workers, and support lifelong learning?

10:00 a.m.
Panel discussion - Business savvy with a global mindset: Employment in the age of increased migration

11:00 a.m.
Presentation - Remaining competitive through immigration and future-thinking

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

11:45 a.m.
Summit closing remarks

12:00 p.m.
Conference conclusion

1:00 p.m.
Optional Workshop Attracting international investment through business succession

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Heritage Foundation

From: The Heritage Foundation
Sent: Tuesday, April 7, 2020 10:28 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: National Coronavirus Recovery Commission Launches to 'Save Lives and Livelihoods'

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Image

PRESS RELEASE:

National Coronavirus Recovery Commission Launches to 'Save Lives and Livelihoods'

April 6, 2020

WASHINGTON—The Heritage Foundation announced today the formation of the National Coronavirus Recovery Commission, which will examine the extraordinary public health crisis facing America and the steps needed to move prudently toward recovery.

The commission will be led by Heritage Foundation President Kay C. James and includes top experts and thinkers from government, public health, disaster response and relief, academia and education, business, and the faith community. The list of commissioners is below and available at CoronavirusCommission.com.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The experts on the commission will bring their specialized experience and expertise to chart out the path to best navigate our nation through this crisis to determine when and how to begin to get Americans' lives "back to normal" again. The commission's work will consider two primary categories—crisis mitigation as well as recovery and restoration—and answer important questions that will serve as a roadmap to America's post-pandemic future.

"Good public health policy is good economic policy," said Heritage President Kay C. James. "Saving lives and saving livelihoods are part of the same road to recovery that we need to pursue today. A physically healthy America is an economically strong America, so we need to think of them in concert rather than as competing priorities."

Throughout her career, James has served on numerous boards and commissions. She also brings experience leading crisis management teams through trying times while serving as Virginia's secretary of Health and Human Resources and as the director of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management.

The National Coronavirus Recovery Commission will carefully examine decisions that policymakers are will make that significantly impact the scope of this crisis and the duration of social restrictions, economic hardship, recovery, and the potential permanent effects.

Two leading scholars and policy experts, Paul Winfree and Charmaine Yoest, will serve as the commission's executive directors.

Winfree directs Heritage's Roe Institute for Economic Policy Studies. He previously worked in the White House and Congress. His research focuses on public finance, health economics, economic history, and microeconomic modeling. Winfree is also chairman of the J. William Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board. He has a master of science in economics and economic history from the London School of Economics and Political Science and a bachelor of science in economics from George Mason University.

Yoest is vice president of Heritage's Institute for Family, Community and Opportunity. Prior to joining Heritage, she directed intergovernmental, public affairs, and public liaison programs at Office of National Drug Control Policy, and also served as assistant secretary for public affairs at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. After receiving her bachelor's degree from Wheaton College, Yoest earned a masters and Ph.D. from the University of Virginia.

The commission's initial meeting is scheduled for April 9 with additional videoconferences through the month of April. At the conclusion of the commission's meetings, the reports from each discussion will be compiled into a final report for the American people and their policymakers.

"Americans are confronting one of the greatest challenges of their lifetime and they are seeking answers for how we navigate through this crisis and toward recovery," said Rob Bluey, spokesman for the commission. "This commission will gather ideas from experts and the general public for consideration. We welcome contributions from the American people to make sure all ideas are considered and the best recommendations are ultimately made to our leaders."

The commission will provide continual updates on the crisis response and recovery and publish its recommendations on its website. For more information, follow twitter.com/covid19recovery and facebook.com/coronavirus-commission.

For media inquiries, contact Gloria Taylor at press@coronaviruscommission.com.

Commissioners

Kay C. James, Chairman
President, The Heritage Foundation

George Allen
Former U.S. Senator and Governor, Commonwealth of Virginia

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

John A. Allison IV
Director, Moelis & Co.; Former CEO, BB Former President, Cato Institute

Lawrence J. Blanford
Former President & CEO, Green Mountain Roasters

Kevin P. Chavous
President of Academics, Policy, and Schools, K12 Inc.; Former D.C. Councilman

Edwin J. Feulner
Founder, The Heritage Foundation

Timothy E. Flanigan
Chief Legal Officer, Cancer Treatment Centers of America

Dr. Bill Frist
Former U.S. Senate Majority Leader; Founder, Hope Through Healing Hands

Noe Landini
Managing Director, Junction Bakery & Bistro

Rev. Samuel Rodriguez
President, National Hispanic Christian Leadership Conference

Nelson J. Sabatini
Chairman, Health Services Cost Review Commission, State of Maryland

Joni Eareckson Tada
Founder and CEO, Joni and Friends

Frances M. Townsend
Executive Vice President, MacAndrews and Forbes Holdings, LLC; Former White House Homeland Security Adviser

Dr. Richard J. Tubb
Retired Brigadier General; White House Physician Emeritus

J.C. Watts
Former Member of U.S. House of Representatives; Founder & Chairman, J.C. Watts Companies

Gail Wilensky
Economist and Senior Fellow, Project HOPE

Robert L. Woodson Jr.
Founder and President, The Woodson Center

For more on the Coronavirus by The Heritage Foundation:

Congress Should Focus on Pandemic Control and Fix the CARES Act for an Economic Rebound
Report by Romina Boccia, Lindsey Burke, Ph.D., David Burton, Rachel Greszler, Adam Michel, Norbert Michel, Jude Schwalbach, Parker Sheppard and Paul Winfree

A stimulus package designed to increase spending will have limited effect in the face of sweeping mitigation measures that have shut down most economic activity deemed nonessential. Nor will stimulus spending on unrelated projects reduce the spread of the novel coronavirus, which is the primary cause of economic contraction. Lawmakers must stay focused on containing the pandemic through targeted, timely, and temporary measures that keep workers attached to their employers and avert widespread business failures. These policies will enable the economy to rebound once the pandemic response allows for it. Congress should fix problems introduced in the hastily drafted CARES Act, not introduce poorly targeted stimulus measures that will confuse public communication, undermine pandemic mitigation, and distort an eventual economic rebound.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Why Economic Freedom Is Critical to Beating the Coronavirus Pandemic
Commentary by Kay Coles James, President of The Heritage Foundation

The debate in the United States over whether to move away from free markets and toward socialism may change dramatically as the latest coronavirus spreads throughout the world. That's because in the fight against the global pandemic, we'll likely witness one of the most compelling arguments in our lifetimes emerge in favor of free-market systems—and lives will be saved in the process.

Energy Bailouts and Handouts Don't Belong in Coronavirus Packages
Commentary by Nick Loris, Deputy Director, Thomas A. Roe Institute

Social distancing policies at the state and level have forced businesses to close temporarily, which has led millions of Americans to worry about their financial situation. Policymakers must offer focused, temporary solutions that specifically help people who are unable to work or whose businesses have been adversely affected by the closures. In true Washington fashion, though, Congress is pushing for policies unrelated to the economic and health concerns caused by the epidemic. The latest is that House leaders want to include climate regulations on the airline industry and expand subsidies for the wind and solar industries

Coronavirus Is No Reason for the Feds to Take Over the Election Process
Commentary by Hans von Spakovsky, Senior Legal Fellow, Edwin Meese Institute for Legal and Judicial Studies

The "Natural Disaster and Emergency Ballot Act of 2020" is aptly named because it could bring an electoral disaster in November. Since Democrats took over the House in 2018, they have been pushing bills to increase federal control of our elections. Now, amid the coronavirus crisis, they seem to think the time is ripe to take another stab at it.

A Public Health Crisis Is No Time for Private Pension Bailouts
Commentary by Rachel Greszler, Research Fellow in Economics, Grover M. Hermann Center

Now is the time to address the COVID-19 crisis, not throw money at decades-long problems. House Democrats' inclusion of a massive taxpayer bailout for a select group of multiemployer, or union pension plans in their most recent 1400-page pork-filled COVID-19 legislative package flies in the face of 60% of U.S. households that have suffered significant retirement account losses of their own with the stock market's roughly 25% COVID-19 tumble. A private pension bailout as a "solution" for the current situation is both ironic and disturbing.

If you have any questions or would like to schedule a meeting with one of our experts, please contact Scott Zipperle

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Image

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, April 7, 2020 1:54 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Trump Waves in Seasonal Foreign Workers as Pandemic Peaks

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Trump Waves in Seasonal Foreign Workers as Pandemic Peaks

Stops mandatory interviews in violation of law

Washington, D.C. (April 7, 2020) – A recent Center for Immigration Studies analysis highlights the State Department's new policy, announced in late March, to not interview most applicants for seasonal guestworker visas. Aside from the absurdity of bringing in any foreign guestworkers at all at the height of a global pandemic that just threw millions of Americans out of work, this move has re-opened a security and fraud vulnerability in the temporary worker visa program that career homeland security officials have fought for years to close.

The number of visa issuances to H-2 guestworkers has more than doubled in the last decade, from 103,324 in 2010 to 280,183 in 2018. Along with the growth in numbers has been growth in fraud and abuse in both the agricultural and non-agricultural H-2 guestworker programs – as the Government Accountability Office (GAO) has pointed out in numerous (see here and here).

Jessica Vaughan, the Center's director of policy studies, writes, "Clearly the Department of Agriculture is pleased to deliver the cheap labor that U.S. growers have become accustomed to – rather than adopting farm modernization trends used successfully in the rest of the developed world."

Read the full analysis here: https://cis.org/Vaughan/Trump-Waves-Seasonal-Foreign-Workers-Pandemic-Peaks

The State Department says it considers the seasonal guestworker program to be a "national security priority." However, this position is in direct conflict with Trump's own policy moves and congressional intent. The law 8 USC 1202(h) stipulates that, with just a few exceptions, every temporary visa applicant aged 14 to 79 must be interviewed.

Vaughan writes, "Interviews are critical to preserving the integrity of our temporary visa programs – especially the guestworker programs." She adds, "Officers are trained to question applicants, screen for fraud, and educate the applicants on their rights and responsibilities as a temporary worker. Interviews are especially important given the chronic problems with fraud and abuse in these seasonal worker programs."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Related Articles:

The Protecting U.S. Workers Initiative

Visas for Pottersville

DHS Should Retract Expansion of H-2B Visa Workers

Can We Protect Our Agricultural Supply Chain? Sí Se Puede!

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Higgins, Jennifer B

From:	Higgins, Jennifer B
Sent:	Tuesday, April 7, 2020 7:24 PM
To:	Ries, Lora
Subject:	RE: Domestic Violence Asylum Claims

Hi, Lora. Sorry for the delay in responding! We are hanging in there but figuring out how to homeschool and work all at the same time!

To my knowledge, specific information re DV claims pre and post A-B- are not public. The key thing to keep in mind re A-B- is that it requires a truly case-by-case rigorous analysis of each PSG prong , so it's very difficult to provide group-based generalizations.

I hope this is helpful and you're hanging in there!

From: Ries, Lora <Lora.Ries@heritage.org>
Sent: Wednesday, April 01, 2020 11:28 AM
To: Higgins, Jennifer B
Subject: Domestic Violence Asylum Claims

(b)(6)

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Hi, Jennifer.
I hope you and your family are all healthy. We are here at chez Ries.
I'm writing a paper on immigration changes during this Admin. I'm looking for domestic violence asylum claims before and after Matter of A-B-.
Is that information public?

Thank you.

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
202-870-8179 (M)

Lora Ries
Senior Research Fellow, Homeland Security
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-608-6101
heritage.org

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

From: The Heritage Foundation
Sent: Thursday, April 9, 2020 1:47 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Defeating COVID-19—What Policymakers Can Do to Change the Conditions on the Ground

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Image

Defeating COVID-19—What Policymakers Can Do to Change the Conditions on the Ground

April 9, 2020

Summary:
COVID-19 cases are growing in the United States, and Americans are in the midst of a nationwide public health crisis. Every state faces different challenges, and the conditions for success vary greatly, based on demography, public compliance, and the capacity of medical professionals and health workers to cope with the surge in demand for medical care. While the President and federal health officials should provide vital information, guidance, and material support, state leaders can and will take the lead in combating this virus. As more tests become available, state officials will be able to adopt a broader variety of strategies than social distancing, while learning from both domestic and international experience, including the comparative performance of Italy and South Korea. Such measures can stop the spread of this virus with the help of medical professionals, and, with the cooperation of the public, reverse the rising caseloads.

Read the full report HERE!

KEY TAKEAWAYS:

1. The battle against COVID-19 will be won or lost on the ground. State and local officials must lead, with the federal government offering resources and support.
2. In tailoring strategies for their states and communities, these officials should consider approaches that have succeeded in other countries.
3. The primary goal is to halt the spread of COVID-19 as soon as possible and allow Americans to return to a more social, and productive, economic life.

With the rapid spread of COVID-19, a deadly and novel coronavirus, the American people are in the midst of a major public health crisis.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The COVID-19 caseload is growing exponentially. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), on January 22, 2020, there was just one American case of the coronavirus. By February 22, there were 15 cases; by March 22, 33,404; by March 29, 140,904; and by April 1, 213,144. The CDC reports that, as of April 6, there were 374,329 cases nationwide, and 12,064 deaths. By far, New York has consistently had the largest number of cases, followed by New Jersey and Michigan.2

In battling this virus, success will depend on strong federal–state cooperation—and even more so on the capacity and competence of governors and state public health authorities to fashion policies appropriate to the conditions on the ground.

A Federalist Approach to COVID-19

Advantages of Federalism. Fighting this disease requires presidential leadership combined with the rich arsenal of federal medical expertise in support of the states and local communities—the front lines of the response. Obviously, not all states face identical risks or have the same needs. Nor are the risks evenly distributed within states. As of April 4, as hospitals in New York City and surrounding counties braced for a surge in hospital admissions, most counties in the state reported fewer than 50 cases, and only Albany, Erie, and Monroe Counties reported more than 300 infections.

Because of the radically disparate impact of this epidemic on states and communities, decentralized power works better and more efficiently than centralized power. Innovative state public health policies can be quickly replicated by the governors of other states. Likewise, the damage of poorly conceived or executed policies can be confined within state boundaries, and policymakers can learn the lessons of misguided measures.

Under the U.S. Constitution, the police powers of the states, independent of the federal government, are enormous. In No. 45 of The Federalist, James Madison observes, "The powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the Federal Government are few and defined Governors and state public health officials have a broad range of options, ranging from public education and exhortations, mild guidance to practice social distancing, the avoidance of crowds and the practice of commonsense personal hygiene, to aggressive testing, statewide travel restrictions, stay-at-home rules, business closures, school closures, isolation of infected persons, and mandatory quarantines. Options are changing and policy is shifting as state policymakers respond to federal regulatory relief and assistance, providing new tools—such as diagnostics and anti-body testing—to become widely available. States have broad powers, giving them the flexibility to adapt to changing conditions on the ground.

Policy Options for State and Local Officials: Social Distancing vs. More Aggressive Public Health Measures. The Trump Administration has extended its "Slow the Spread" guidance for Americans beyond the initial 15 days until April 30. The President's guidance calls on Americans to listen to, and follow, the directions of state and local authorities, while avoiding social gatherings of more than 10 persons, working from home if possible, and diligently practicing personal hygiene.

Consonant with the objectives of the federal initiative, state officials are also implementing a combination of strategies—many with the force of law. These include:

- Social Distancing and Stay at Home Orders
- Aggressive Testing
- Self Isolation and Quarantine

The Path Forward: Emerging Lessons from Italy and South Korea

With the coronavirus, the U.S. and most European countries have generally adopted the tactic of social distancing and self-quarantine of infected people whose symptoms are mild enough not to require hospitalization. This is the practice pioneered in Italy, with less-than-satisfactory results. As Chart 1 shows, the number of new cases increased in Italy at a rate of more than 6,600 per day at its apparent peak on March 21. Over the next 10 days, the daily new case rate at one point dropped to just over 4,000 (March 30). During the first week of April, the daily number of new cases remained below 5,000. On April 7, 3,039 new cases were reported, the smallest number since March 13. Assuming that this encouraging trend holds, it will take some time for the number of active cases to decline sufficiently to give officials the confidence to relax the practice.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Conclusion

The highly contagious coronavirus, COVID-19, is on track to infect millions of Americans, and the virus, depending on the effectiveness of public health measures, will exact a large death toll. Government policy is critical to equipping medical providers to change this path. Every state faces different challenges, and the conditions for success vary greatly, based on demography, public compliance, and the capacity of medical professionals and health workers to cope with the surge in demand for medical care. While the President and federal health officials should provide vital information, guidance, and material and technical support, the actions of state and local officials and citizens, medical professionals, and health care workers will be decisive in this effort.

As more tests become available, state officials will be able to adopt a broader variety of strategies, ranging from social distancing to mandatory isolation and quarantine, while learning from both domestic and international experience, including the comparative performance of Italy and South Korea. Appropriate public health measures, based on state and local conditions, can arrest the rate of infection, flatten the curve, and bend it downward, so that current public health restrictions can be lifted, and Americans can soon return to a normal social and economic life.

Read the full report HERE!

Report By:
Robert E. Moffit, PhD, is Senior Fellow in Domestic Policy Studies, of the Institute for Family, Community, and Opportunity, at The Heritage Foundation. Doug Badger is Visiting Fellow in Domestic Policy Studies*

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Image

214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, DC 20002 | (202) 546-4400

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Saturday, April 11, 2020 4:51 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: MONDAY PANEL: ICE Detention and the Pandemic

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

STREAMED PANEL DISCUSSION MONDAY 1 P.M.

ICE Detention and the Pandemic

Sheriff joins CIS experts to address judge-mandated releases

The Center for Immigration Studies will host a virtual panel discussion Monday, April 13, at 1 p.m. on U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) detention and whether the institutional conditions of detention centers necessitate the release of immigrant detainees due to the coronavirus and the safety, and legal implications of releases.

Center experts will be joined by Bristol County (Mass.) Sheriff Thomas Hodgson, who has been forced by a federal judge to release 45 detainees from the Bristol House of Corrections; releases are to continue on a rolling basis.

Panelists will discuss the 2011 Operations Manual ICE Performance-Based National Detention Standards (PBNDS), revised in December 2016, and explore if facilities are set-up to deal with communicable diseases and medical emergencies. They will try to answer the question: Which scenario – release or continued detention – is the more responsible policy, for the individual detainee and for the American public?

Stream: Scheduled streams will be live at 1 p.m. Monday on both Facebook and YouTube. We will also have an unscheduled stream on our Twitter feed.
Questions: Questions can be sent prior to or during the event to mrt@cis.org or on twitter to @CIS_org.

Sheriff Hodgson said, "Ironically, of my 850 detainees/inmates, we have had no COVID 19 cases since the pandemic began and this Judge is releasing these detainees under a 'humanitarian' claim. I can think of nothing more inhumane than letting dangerous people wander around our neighborhoods, based on a claim that maybe, just maybe they could contract COVID 19 in the detention center."

"Detainees deserve to be housed in safe, healthy facilities. But policymakers must compare their situation in the facility to their safety outside of the facility, and the availability of treatment inside to that outside of the facility," said Andrew Arthur, the Center's resident fellow in law and policy and former immigration judge in a detention facility. "And, who should be making these decisions? What if a single judge says to empty the jails and detention centers completely? Judges should not be controlling policy, in this manner."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dan Cadman, a Center fellow and retired INS/ICE official, said, "Policymakers must also remember that detention often serves public safety, because most of the aliens taken into detention are convicted criminals. Once released, most of these individuals will re-offend."

Related Articles:

Detention Health Care Works the Way It Is Supposed To

Detainees Are Safer in ICE Detention

ICE Should Continue to Detain Removable Aliens

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Saturday, April 11, 2020 8:04 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 4/11/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Opinions, 4/11/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here: http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "On DACA and Health-Care Workers, Stick to the Facts," Steven Camarota
2. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, David North, Jessica Vaughan, and Jason Peña
3. "In Fight Against Coronavirus, Enforcing Immigration Laws Saves Lives," Tom Homan
4. "We Still Are Not Controlling the Borders," Kevin D. Williamson
5. "Coronavirus Is Shutting Down Illegal Immigration," Eddie Scarry
6. "Open Borders Lobby Sees COVID-19 as Sick Opportunity to Paint Immigration Enforcement in Negative Light," David Ray
7. "If America Must Be Shut Down, So Must Its Guest Worker Programs," Dale L. Wilcox
8. "Despite Hype, DACA Health-Care Workers Not Vital in Covid-19 Fight," Roy Beck
9. "Pandemics and Population: Lessons from the Coronavirus Catastrophe of 2020," Leon Kolankiewicz
10. "State and Local Politicians Move to Grant Coronavirus Relief to Illegal Aliens," Matthew Tragesser
11. "Rasmussen Poll: High Support for E-Verify, Low Support for Illegal Alien 'Lifetime Work Permits'," Ryan Foley
12. "As COVID-19 Paralyzes the Country, The Left Pushes Its Pro-Illegal-Alien Agenda," Pawel Styrna
13. "Give Illegal Aliens Checks and Stop Building the Wall?," Preston Huennekens
14. "Importing Foreign Nurses Is Not a Long-Term Solution to Staffing Shortages," Jennifer G. Hickey
15. "Stopping COVID's Other Airborne Threat," Bob Dane
16. "Open Borders Coalition Demands All Illegal Immigrants Freed from Custody Over Coronavirus," Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles
17. "Dem Lawmakers Demand Homeland Security Release All Nonviolent Illegal Immigrants Into US in Order to Prevent Spread of Coronavirus," Chris

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Enloe
18. "Open Borders Dems Threaten U.S. Health Care System," Adriana Cohen
19. "Coronavirus Shows U.S. CAN Close Southern Border. Let's Keep It That Way," Allan Wall
20. "Escape from Queens," Contra
21. "The End of America As We Knew Her," Frosty Wooldridge
22. "Meghan Markle May Have to Sponsor Prince Harry to Live in US," Sara Nathan
23. "Judges Slap Down USCIS Again On H-1B Visas," Stuart Anderson
24. "Immigration Can Save Lives During America's COVID-19 Crisis," Stuart Anderson
25. "There's Only One Thing Stopping Trump From Deporting Health Care Workers," Bill Aseltyne, Beth Essig, Debra L. Zumwalt and Abbe R. Gluck
26. "Immigrants Are Keeping America Running During This Crisis," Esther J. Cepeda
27. "...Immigrant & Refugee Professionals Could Represent a Critical Resource," Jeanne Batalova and Michael Fix
28. "Trump's Second Term Immigration Agenda," Gaby Del Valle
29. "Immigrant Detention and Removal Are Not Essential," Anne Bloomberg
30. "Immigrants Fall Into Gray Area for Battling Coronavirus," Gerelyn Terzo
31. "Start Releasing People From the Immigration Detention Centers," Mekela Goehring and Jaime Moo-Young
32. " 'Essential' Immigrant Farmworkers Struggle to Feed Themselves During Coronavirus," Danica Jorden
33. "A Progressive Immigration Policy," John Peeler

1.

On DACA and Health-Care Workers, Stick to the Facts

Don't rely on hyperbolic and exaggerated claims.

By Steven Camarota

National Review Online, April 7, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/coronavirus-crisis-daca-health-care-workers-facts/

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

2.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

The Fungible Nature of Federal Relief Funds May Put Money in the Pockets of Illegal Aliens

April 10, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Fungible-Nature-Federal-Relief-Funds-May-Put-Money-Pockets-Illegal-Aliens

By Andrew R. Arthur

With 10,000 Summary Deportations in Two Weeks, CBP Down to 100 in Custody

But Democrats oppose border shutdown

April 10, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/10000-Summary-Deportations-Two-Weeks-CBP-Down-100-Custody

Border Apprehensions Down to 4,200 per Week

But don't expect it to last if Biden gets elected

April 9, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Border-Apprehensions-Down-4200-Week

CBP Remains Busy at the Southwest Border

Human smuggling, stash houses, and a lot of drug seizures — in eight days

April 7, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/CBP-Remains-Busy-Southwest-Border

Detention Health Care Works the Way It Is Supposed To

York, Pa., detainee tests positive for the Wuhan virus

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

April 6, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Detention-Health-Care-Works-Way-It-Supposed

By David North

Recent Developments in the EB-5 (Immigrant Investor) Program

April 9, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/North/Recent-Developments-EB5-Immigrant-Investor-Program

By Jessica M. Vaughan

Trump Waves in Seasonal Foreign Workers as Pandemic Peaks

April 7, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Vaughan/Trump-Waves-Seasonal-Foreign-Workers-Pandemic-Peaks

By Jason Peña

Hundreds of Central American Migrants Left at Guatemala Border by Mexican Authorities

April 10, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Pena/Hundreds-Central-American-Migrants-Left-Guatemala-Border-Mexican-Authorities

Return to Top

****

****

3.

In Fight Against Coronavirus, Enforcing Immigration Laws Saves Lives

By Tom Homan

Fox News, April 9, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.foxnews.com/opinion/tom-homan-in-fight-against-coronavirus-enforcing-immigration-laws-saves-lives

Return to Top

****
****

4.
We Still Are Not Controlling the Borders
Another American murdered by an illegal immigrant, despite Trump's promises to end this kind of crime.
By Kevin D. Williamson
National Review Online, April 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.nationalreview.com/2020/04/trump-administration-border-security-us-borders-still-not-under-control/

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Coronavirus Is Shutting Down Illegal Immigration
By Eddie Scarry
Washington Examiner, April 10, 2020
. . .
https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/coronavirus-is-shutting-down-illegal-immigration

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

6.

Open Borders Lobby Sees COVID-19 as Sick Opportunity to Paint Immigration Enforcement in Negative Light

By David Ray

Breitbart.com, April 8, 2020

. . .

https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2020/04/08/exclusive-ray-open-borders-lobby-sees-covid-19-as-sick-opportunity-to-paint-immigration-enforcement-in-negative-light/

Return to Top

****

****

7.

If America Must Be Shut Down, So Must Its Guest Worker Programs

By Dale L. Wilcox

American Thinker, April 11, 2020

. . .

https://www.americanthinker.com/articles/2020/04/if_america_must_be_shut_down_so_must_its_guest_worker_programs_.html

Return to Top

****

****

8.

Despite Hype, DACA Health-Care workers Not Vital in Covid-19 Fight

By Roy Beck

NumbersUSA.com, April 9 2020

. . .

https://www.numbersusa.com/blog/despite-hype-daca-health-care-workers-not-vital-covid-19-fight

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Pandemics and Population: Lessons from the Coronavirus Catastrophe of 2020
By Leon Kolankiewicz
NumbersUSA.com, April 8 2020
. . .
https://www.numbersusa.com/blog/pandemics-and-population-lessons-coronavirus-catastrophe-2020

Return to Top

****
****

10.
State and Local Politicians Move to Grant Coronavirus Relief to Illegal Aliens
By Matthew Tragesser
ImmigrationReform.com, April 8, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/08/illegal-alien-benefits-states-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Rasmussen Poll: High Support for E-Verify, Low Support for Illegal Alien 'Lifetime Work Permits'

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Ryan Foley
ImmigrationReform.com, April 8, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/08/immigration-reform-public-opinion-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

12.
As COVID-19 Paralyzes the Country, The Left Pushes Its Pro-Illegal-Alien Agenda
By Pawel Styrna
ImmigrationReform.com, April 8, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/08/covid-19-illegal-benefits-agenda-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Give Illegal Aliens Checks and Stop Building the Wall?
By Preston Huennekens
ImmigrationReform.com, April 7, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/07/illegal-alien-benefits-covid-19-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

14.

Importing Foreign Nurses Is Not a Long-Term Solution to Staffing Shortages

By Jennifer G. Hickey

ImmigrationReform.com, April 7, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/07/nursing-shortage-foreign-workers-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

15.

Stopping COVID's Other Airborne Threat

By Bob Dane

ImmigrationReform.com, April 6, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/06/public-health-travel-ban-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

16.

Open Borders Coalition Demands All Illegal Immigrants Freed from Custody Over Coronavirus

Judicial Watch Corruption Chronicles, March 24, 2020

. . .

https://www.judicialwatch.org/corruption-chronicles/open-borders-coalition-demands-all-illegal-immigrants-freed-from-custody-over-coronavirus/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Dem Lawmakers Demand Homeland Security Release All Nonviolent Illegal Immigrants Into US in Order to Prevent Spread of Coronavirus
By Chris Enloe
TheBlaze.com, April 8, 2020
. . .
https://www.theblaze.com/news/dem-lawmakers-demand-homeland-security-releases-all-non-violent-illegal-immigrants-into-us

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Open Borders Dems Threaten U.S. Health Care System
By Adriana Cohen
RealClearPolitics.com, March 20, 2020
. . .
https://www.realclearpolitics.com/articles/2020/03/20/open_borders_dems_threaten_us_health_care_system_142716.html

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Said in Spanish: Coronavirus Shows U.S. CAN Close Southern Border. Let's Keep It that Way
By Allan Wall

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

VDare.com, April 6,2020

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/said-in-spanish-coronavirus-shows-u-s-can-close-southern-border-let-s-keep-it-that-way

Return to Top

****

****

20.

Escape from Queens

By Contra

Contra.substack.com, April 7, 2020

. . .

https://contra.substack.com/p/escape-from-queens

Return to Top

****

****

21.

The End of America As We Knew Her

By Frosty Wooldridge

NewsWithViews.com, April 6, 2020

. . .

https://newswithviews.com/the-end-of-america-as-we-knew-her/

Return to Top

****

****

22.

Meghan Markle May Have to Sponsor Prince Harry to Live in US

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

By Sara Nathan
The New York Post, April 1, 2020
. . .
https://pagesix.com/2020/04/01/meghan-markle-may-have-to-sponsor-prince-harry-to-live-in-us/?_ga=2.174328034.1581995480.1586612576-509473234.1564406108

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Judges Slap Down USCIS Again On H-1B Visas
By Stuart Anderson
Forbes.com, April 8, 2020
. . .
https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/04/08/judges-slap-down-uscis-again-on-h-1b-visas/#2542e6432874

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Immigration Can Save Lives During America's COVID-19 Crisis
By Stuart Anderson
Forbes.com, April 6, 2020
. . .
https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/04/06/immigration-can-save-lives-during-americas-covid-19-crisis/#5814c6552679

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

25.

There's Only One Thing Stopping Trump From Deporting Health Care Workers

If the Supreme Court affirms the administration's termination of DACA, thousands of vital health care workers could be deported.

By Bill Aseltyne, Beth Essig, Debra L. Zumwalt and Abbe R. Gluck

The New York Times, April 2, 2020

. . .

https://www.nytimes.com/2020/04/02/opinion/trump-coronavirus-daca.html

Return to Top

****

****

26.

Immigrants Are Keeping America Running During This Crisis

By Esther J. Cepeda

Pantagraph.com, April 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.pantagraph.com/opinion/columnists/cepeda-immigrants-are-keeping-america-running-during-this-crisis/article_971e6de2-e7d7-52a5-a09d-514d342f9a15.html

Return to Top

****

****

27.

As U.S. Health-Care System Buckles under Pandemic, Immigrant & Refugee Professionals Could Represent a Critical Resource

By Jeanne Batalova and Michael Fix

Migration Policy Institute, April 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.migrationpolicy.org/news/us-health-care-system-coronavirus-immigrant-professionals-untapped-resource

Return to Top

****
****

28.
Trump's Second Term Immigration Agenda
Will anyone be allowed into America?
By Gaby Del Valle
Washingtonian Magazine, April-June, 2020
. . .
https://washingtonmonthly.com/magazine/april-may-june-2020/trumps-second-term-immigration-agenda/

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Immigrant Detention and Removal Are Not Essential
By Anne Bloomberg
Jurist.org, April 10, 2020
. . .
https://www.jurist.org/commentary/2020/04/immigrant-detention-and-removal-are-not-essential/

Return to Top

****
****

30.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigrants Fall Into Gray Area for Battling Coronavirus
By Gerelyn Terzo
MsMagazine.com, April 9, 2020
. . .
https://msmagazine.com/2020/04/09/immigrants-fall-into-gray-area-for-battling-coronavirus/

Return to Top

****
****

31.
Start Releasing People From the Immigration Detention Centers
By Mekela Goehring and Jaime Moo-Young
The Denver Post, April 4, 2020
. . .
https://www.denverpost.com/2020/04/04/guest-commentary-start-releasing-people-from-the-immigration-detention-centers/

Return to Top

****
****

32.
"Essential" Immigrant Farmworkers Struggle to Feed Themselves During Coronavirus
By Danica Jorden
CommonDreams.org, April 6, 2020
. . .
https://www.commondreams.org/views/2020/04/06/essential-immigrant-farmworkers-struggle-feed-themselves-during-coronavirus

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

33.

A Progressive Immigration Policy

By John Peeler

The Susquehanna Valley Progress, April 5, 2020

. . .

https://www.dailyitem.com/opinion/a-progressive-immigration-policy/article_846435f7-68a5-5246-bdea-e820e928d8a1.html

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Sunday, April 12, 2020 4:35 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 4/12/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Events, 4/12/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 4/6, Nationwide - CIS panel discussion on whether ICE should release detainees during pandemic - [New Listing]
2. 4/14, Nationwide - Webinar on the particular vulnerability of immigrant workers to COVID-19
3. 4/14, Nationwide - Videoconference on COVID-19 and the northern border - [New Listing]
4. 4/15, Nationwide - Webcast on Covid-19 in Latin America - [New Listing]
5. 4/15-17, DC - Certificate program course on environmental displacement and migration
6. 4/17, Nationwide - Webinar on the 1918 Pandemic and US Immigration
7. 4/17, Nationwide - Livestreamed discussion on health and immigration in the era of COVID-19 - [New Listing]
8. 4/20, Nationwide - Online Event: Russia in the post-Soviet space: National identity and citizenship regime - [New Listing]
9. 4/21, Nationwide - Webinar on COVID-19 and refugee camps - [New Listing]
10. 4/22-23, Edinburgh, Scotland - Immigration at the Association for the Study of Ethnicity and Nationalism annual conference
11. 4/27-28, Brussels - Annual conference on European immigration law - [Postponed indefinitely]
12. 5/6-8, DC - Certificate program course on immigration policy
13. 5/8, Nationwide - Livestreamed discussion on immigration detention, courts, and COVID-19 - [New Listing]
14. 5/13-16, Guadalajara, Mexico - Latin American Studies Association annual meeting - [Still scheduled]
15. 6/29-7/10, Brussels - 2020 Summer School on EU Immigration and Asylum Law and Policy
16. 7/27-31, DC - Certificate program course on global displacement and migration studies
17. 8/24-29, Prague - IOM summer school on Migration Studies - [New Listing]
18. 9/24-26, Portland, OR - Crimmigration Control International Network of Studies conference

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

19. 10/5-6, Ottawa - Annual Canadian immigration summit - [Rescheduled from 3/13-14]

1.

Panel: Should ICE Release or Continue Detention for Aliens during Pandemic?

New England Sheriffs joins CIS experts to address judge-mandated releases in New England.

1:00 p.m., Monday, April 13, 2020
https://cis.org/Press-Release/Panel-Should-ICE-Release-or-Continue-Detention-Aliens-during-Pandemic

Speakers and Description: The Center for Immigration Studies will host a virtual panel discussion Monday, April 13, at 1 p.m. on U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) detention and whether the institutional conditions of detention centers necessitate the release of immigrant detainees due to the coronavirus and the safety, and legal implications of releases.

Center experts will be joined by Bristol County (Mass.) Sheriff Thomas Hodgson, who has been forced by a federal judge to release 45 detainees from the Bristol House of Corrections; releases are to continue on a rolling basis.

Panelists will discuss the 2011 Operations Manual ICE Performance-Based National Detention Standards (PBNDS), revised in December 2016, and explore if facilities are set-up to deal with communicable diseases and medical emergencies. They will try to answer the question: Which scenario – release or continued detention – is the more responsible policy, for the individual detainee and for the American public?

Stream: Scheduled streams will be live on both Facebook and YouTube. We will also have an unscheduled stream on our Twitter feed.

Questions: Questions can be sent prior or during the event to mrt@cis.org or on twitter to @CIS_org.

Sheriff Hodgson said, "Ironically, of my 850 detainees/inmates, we have had no

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COVID 19 cases since the pandemic began and this Judge is releasing these detainees under a 'humanitarian' claim. I can think of nothing more inhumane than letting dangerous people wander around our neighborhoods, based on a claim that maybe, just maybe they could contract COVID 19 in the detention center."

"Detainees deserve to be housed in safe, healthy facilities. But policymakers must compare their situation in the facility to their safety outside of the facility, and the availability of treatment inside to that outside of the facility," said Andrew Arthur, the Center's resident fellow in law and policy and former immigration judge in a detention facility. "And, who should be making these decisions? What if a single judge says to empty the jails and detention centers completely? Judges should not be controlling policy, in this manner."

Dan Cadman, a Center fellow and retired INS/ICE official, said, "Policymakers must also remember that detention often serves public safety, because most of the aliens taken into detention are convicted criminals. Once released, most of these individuals will re-offend."

Return to Top

****
****

2.
Why Immigrant Workers are Especially Vulnerable to COVID-19

Presented by the Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School

1:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 14, 2020
https://event.newschool.edu/st-gelatt

Speakers and Description: Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Julia Gelatt, Senior Policy Analyst, US Immigrant Policy Program, Migration Policy Institute, to discuss her recent report on the vulnerability of immigrant workers during COVID-19.

Join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Scholars and activists on migration and mobility will join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19, during the worldwide pandemic.

Return to Top

****

****

3.

COVID-19 and the Northern Border

2:00-3:00 p.m., Tuesday, April 14, 2020
Video conference - Woodrow Wilson Center, Canadian Institute
https://www.wilsoncenter.org/event/covid-19-and-northern-border

Speakers:
Alan D. Bersin, Global Fellow, Assistant Secretary for International Affairs and Chief Diplomatic Officer for the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Office of Policy, and Vice President of INTERPOL for the Americas Region

Kathryn Friedman, Global Fellow, Director of Cross-Border and International Research, University at Buffalo

Laurie Trautman, Global Fellow, Director, Border Policy Research Institute, Western Washington University

Solomon Wong, President and Chief Executive Officer, InterVISTAS

Moderator:
Christopher Sands, Director

Description: The Canada Institute is bringing together a panel of expert speakers for a video conference briefing to give an update on the novel Coronavirus and how Canada and the United States are working together during this crisis. During the call, speakers will discuss the details of the temporary border agreement and the impact this has on trade between our two nations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In the wake of the novel Coronavirus outbreak, Canada and the United States agreed to temporarily restrict all non-essential travel across their shared border for the first time since September 11, 2001. This new agreement, enacted in order to protect the health and safety of their citizens, restricts travel for tourism and recreation and allows for the continuation of business travel crucial to our integrated supply chains.

Currently, $2.7 billion worth of goods crosses the Canada-U.S. border every day; yet, with markets plummeting, business closures, and an increase in unemployment, we may be headed for continued economic downturn. How is COVID-19 affecting businesses on both sides of the border? How long can we expect this to last? And what else can be done to maintain our strong economic ties?

The Canada Institute is bringing together a panel of expert speakers for a video conference briefing to give an update on the novel Coronavirus and how Canada and the United States are working together during this crisis. During the video conference, speakers will discuss the details of the temporary border agreement and the impact COVID-19 has on trade between the two nations.

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Covid-19 in Latin America: The Role of Social Policy

11:00 a.m.-12:00 p.m., Wednesday, April 15, 2020
Webcast - Woodrow Wilson Center, Latin American Program
https://www.wilsoncenter.org/event/webcast-covid-19-latin-america-role-social-policy

Speakers:
Luis Miguel Castilla, Senior international consultant and former Finance

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Minister of Peru

Nora Lustig, Samuel Z. Stone Professor and Director of Commitment to Equity Institute, Tulane University

Sebastián Villarreal, Undersecretary for Social Services, Ministry of Social Development, Government of Chile

Santiago Levy, Non-resident Senior Fellow at the Brookings Institution and former Vice President for Sectors and Knowledge, IADB

Moderator:
Cynthia J. Arnson, Director, Latin American Program

Description: In Latin America and the Caribbean, the economic effects of the coronavirus pandemic have been devastating. With quarantines in place across most of the region and economic activity grinding to a halt, already-struggling economies face deep and possibly historic levels of recession. The rise in unemployment is dramatic; but particularly hard hit are those in the informal sector—over half of the labor force in the LAC region. Even before the harsh impacts of Covid-19, most informal workers lacked access to health insurance, pensions, and other forms of social protection.

What are governments in region doing to soften the economic blow for their most vulnerable citizens? Do existing high debt-to-GDP ratios make it too risky for governments to adopt expansionary social policies? If not, where will the funding for social programs come from and how can the greatest number be reached? What are the political costs of doing too little to address the rise in poverty during and after the pandemic, especially in light of last year's protest movements?

Please join us on Wednesday, April 15th, 11:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. EST, for a videoconference on the role of social policy in responding to the economic dislocations caused by the coronavirus.

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

5.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-715 - Environmental Displacement and Migration

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, April 15-17, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=26702181

Course Description: Since the earliest history of humankind, people have migrated in response to environmental change. Today there is growing concern that human-induced climate change, coupled with human settlement patterns, will lead to far greater movements of people; some movement is likely to be voluntary as people look for better opportunities elsewhere in response to changing livelihoods. Some is likely to be involuntary – either anticipatory as people see the handwriting on the wall or reactive as people have no alternative but to move. Some will be spontaneous – in the case of Puerto Rico where hundreds of thousands of people left Puerto Rico following Hurricane Maria in 2017. Some will be planned as in the case of Staten Island where people decided to move elsewhere, with government support, after Hurricane Sandy in 2012. Environmental displacement and migration are not just concerns for future generations; people are already moving. This course will begin with an examination of environmental risk due to physical processes and then review the state of theoretical knowledge about patterns of migration. The course will then look at the socio-economic, political, security, and demographic factors that affect environmental displacement and migration as well as the consequences for those who move, for the destination communities, for those left behind and for national and international politics

Course Objectives:

At the completion of the course, a successful student will be able to:

* Understand the relationship between environmental phenomena and socio-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

economic factors as drivers of displacement and migration

* Analyze the relationship between environmental risk and mobility

* Understand the normative frameworks applicable to different types of internal and cross-border migration and displacement

* Explain basic concepts, such as vulnerability, risk, disaster risk reduction, climate change mitigation and adaptation

* Identify different disciplinary approaches to environmental migration and displacement

* Recognize the different international institutional actors

Instructor: Elizabeth Ferris

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

6.
The 1918 Pandemic and US Immigration

Presented by the Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School

1:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, April 17, 2020
https://event.newschool.edu/kraut

Speakers and Description: Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Alan Kraut, University Professor of History and International Service at American University.

Join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Scholars and activists on migration and mobility will join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19, during the worldwide pandemic.

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Health and Immigration in the era of COVID-19

12-1:30 p.m., Friday, April 17, 2020
UCLA Center for the Study of International Migration
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14349

Description: Please join us in a conversation with Dr. Michael A Rodriguez regarding how COVID-19 is impacting immigrant communities.

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Online Event: Russia in the Post-Soviet Space: National Identity and Citizenship Regime

10:00-10:45 a.m., Monday, April 20, 2020
Center for Strategic and International Studies
https://www.csis.org/events/online-event-russia-post-soviet-space-national-identity-and-citizenship-regime

The event will be webcast live from this page.

Submit questions:
https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLScdamz9JWykoNDfKxBbiIEVaqIUIZ

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

t--ZEJPAsz_hQkT2FMQg/viewform

Speaker:
Igor Zevelev, Wilson Center Global Fellow

Jeffrey Mankoff, CSIS Deputy Director and Senior Fellow, Russia and Eurasia Program

Description: A lingering tension exists between the borders of the Russian Federation and the mental maps of "Russianness" in the minds of many Russians. Moscow has grappled with the question of how to address the issue of ethnic Russians in neighboring states - who often express their loyalty to Russia - in both domestic and foreign policy since 1992. Starting in 2014, the Russian government started changing Russian citizenship law to allow rapid proliferation of Russian citizenship in neighboring states. Will the new citizenship policy become the major instrument of Russian influence in the region? What will be the consequences of the transnational citizenship regime for Russian national identity?

Return to Top

****
****

9.
COVID-19 and Refugee Camps

Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School

1:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 21, 2020
Online-Zoom
https://event.newschool.edu/st-spiegel

Speaker:
Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Paul Spiegel, MD, MPH, Professor of the Practice, Director of the Center for Humanitarian Health at Johns Hopkins University, to discuss COVID-19 and refugee camps.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: Scholars and activists on migration and mobility will join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19, during the worldwide pandemic.

Join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19.

Return to Top

****
****

10.
30th ASEN Annual Conference: Nationalism and Multiculturalism

Wednesday-Thursday, April 22-23, 2020
University of Edinburgh
Edinburgh, Scotland
https://asen.ac.uk/events/asen-conference/

Conference programme draft - Immigration-related sessions

Wednesday, April 22, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.
Welcome Ceremony and First plenary speaker: Bikhu Parekh

10:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 1

Diaspora Communities: Long-Distance Nationalism in Situ

Indo-Trinidadian heritage: Toronto as a diaporic context
Kathleen Boodhai

Nationalism and politics among the Chinese diaspora in the UK
Oana Burcu

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

How Restrictive is Liberal Nationalism's Immigration Policy?
Ranjoo Herr

Rescaling Identity in Europe: Civilisationism, Self-determinism, and Multiculturalism

Other Brexit Imaginaries: Openness and the crisis of liberal Britain
Arshad Isakjee

Rescaling the border: Simulation, sovereignty and civilisationism
Paul Richardson

Challenges to Scandinavian National Identities

From Exclusion to Establishment: Researching Anti-Political Establishment Parties in Scandinavia
Johan Andersen

3:15-4:45 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 2

Social Perceptions of Diversity : Migration in European Nations

National/ European identities and attitudes towards migrant integration: findings from EVS-European Values Study
Simona Guglielmi

The perception of European migrant crisis by Danish minority in Germany and German minority in Denmark. A comparative analysis of media discourses.
Sergiusz Bober

Migration and national minority communities: two sides in the debate about multiculturalism and interculturalism in Catalonia
Mariona Lladonosa

What's in a name? Children of migrants, national belonging and the politics of naming
Marco Antonsich

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3:00-4:30 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 3

Indeterminate status: the Global Refugee Crisis

Nationalism and Immigration in Greece and the Netherlands: a Comparative Perspective
Thanos Koulos

Creating "refugees" within: Challenges for multiculturalism in Japan where only 20 refugees are accepted out of 20,000 applications
Naoko Hosokawa

Syrian refugees in Turkey: Challenge to Nationalism
Cigdem Nas

New Approaches in Nationalism Studies

Beyond assimilation: the compliance – resistance theory
Manolis Pratsinakis

When the Methods are Madness: Researching with Refugees in the UK
Isabella Gabrovsky

4:00-6:00 p.m.
Plenary speaker: Christian Joppke

Thursday, April 23, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.
Populism, Multiculturalism and Internationalism in Eurasia: Negotiating Empire and its Legacies

Russia reports Western voting: transnational nationalisms versus multiculturalism
Chatterje-Doody

1:30-3:00 p.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

PANEL SESSION 5

Minority Nationalisms in the West

Immigration and the Imagined Community: Province-wide Norm or Local-level Realities in Quebec?
Antoine Bilodeau

European stateless nationalisms facing the challenge of multiculturalism. Insights from Scotland, Catalonia, Basque Country and Flanders
Paolo Perri

Migration, Minority Groups and the Politics of Multiculturalism in Japan and Northeast Asia

The politics of local multiculturalism in the age of superdiversity and resurgent nationalism in Japan
Sachi Takaya

Challenges and Possibilities of "Multicultural Japan" – The Emergence of Minority Representatives in Japan's Political Landscape
Seiko Mimaki

Territorial Disputes in Northeast Asia: Questioning the "national consciousness" paradigm
Alexander Bukh

Cultural nationalism in multicultural Japan
Fumiko Takahashi

Book Panel: Struggle over Borders
Pieter De Wilde

Disputing 'One China': Cases from Hong Kong and Taiwan

One country, two identities. In search of Hong Kong's identity
Malgorzata Osinska

'I was discriminated against because I was seen as PRC-Chinese': The

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

negotiation between ethnicity and nationalism among Taiwanese migrants in Australia
Yao-Tai Li

Representing the Nation in Media Discourses

Cultural Boundary Drawings of German National Identity in Migrant Integration Discourses
Anja Benedikt

Book Panel: Borderline Citizen: Dispatches from the outskirts of nationhood
Robin Hemley

3:15-4:45 p.m.
Beyond the Melting Pot: Ethnicity in North America

Melting the Pot: The Rise of 'Ethnicity' in the United States
Jaakko Heiskanen

The Oxymoronic Nation: Liberal Individualism and the Invention of Color Race and Ethnicity in the United States, 1880-1920
Reynolds Scott-Childress

Muslim Minorities in Europe

Liberal citizenship, pluralism and Muslims in Europe
Nasar Meer

Spiritualising Reason, Rationalising Spirit. Ex-, Practicing, and Converted Muslim Public Intellectuals in the German Far-Right
Julian Gopffarth

Laïcité bien comprise vs. Laïcité compromise: Senegalese Muslims in France
Olivia Till

Questioning Perceptions of National Belonging with Discourse Analysis

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Discursive constructions of national identity in the Gulf States: 'Deserving citizens' and 'undeserving migrants'
Idil Akinci

Cataloguing the nation: National canons and admission to citizenship in the Netherlands and Flanders (2006-2019)
Jan Rock

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Annual Conference on European Immigration Law 2020

Monday-Tuesday, April 27-28, 2020
Academy of Europe
Avenue des Arts 56
1000 Bruxelles, Belgium
https://www.era.int/cgi-bin/cms

Objective:
The aim of this conference is to provide legal practitioners with an update on recent developments in the EU legal migration system and the mechanisms put in place to tackle labour and skills shortages and to reinforce the attractiveness of the EU for key workers. It will give them the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Key topics: Key novelties in current EU legal migration law.

Schengen Visa Code amendments

Blue Card system for highly qualified workers

Intra-Corporate Transfers Directive in practice

Implementation of the Single Permit Directive

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Family reunification of third-country nationals

Integration of third-country nationals in the EU Member States

Strengthening cooperation with non-EU countries: facilitating legal migration pathways

Employment and immigration law post-Brexit

Recent case law of European courts in legal migration matters

Conference Program:

Monday, April 27, 2020

I. THE LEGAL MIGRATION FRAMEWORK IN THE EU – RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

9:45 a.m.
Recent legislative developments and key priorities for 2020-2021 in the EU legal migration system
Laura Corrado

10:45 a.m.
Update on the Community Code on Visas: Regulation (EU) 2019/1155 amending Regulation (EC) 810/2009
Dimitri Giotakos

12:15 p.m.
The post-Brexit UK immigration system and its impact on EU citizens

* Should business be worried by the drop in EU migration?
* Current assessment of adopted measures
* What additional challenges are to be expected by companies?
* Solutions for cross-border workers after Brexit Annabel Mace

II. ASPECTS OF EU AND NATIONAL LEGAL MIGRATION LAW IN A BROADER LEGISLATIVE CONTEXT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2:15 p.m.

Investor citizenship and residence schemes in the European Union: the cases of Malta, Bulgaria and Cyprus

* Investor residence schemes and EU law on legal migration
* The link between investor residence schemes and naturalisation procedures
* Areas of concern
* Risks posed by investor citizenship and residence schemes

Jelena Dzankic

3:15 p.m.

Mobility rights for third-country nationals under the EU's migration directives: posted workers and EU intra-corporate transferees – how to differentiate and ensure compliance

* Main changes introduced by the revised posted workers directive
* Facilitating intra-EU mobility by the ICT permit
* Case law of the CJEU Matthias Lommers

4:30 p.m.

The new German skilled immigration rules

Marius Tollenaere

Tuesday, April 28, 2020

III. CASE LAW OF THE CJEU AND ITS IMPACT ON EU LEGAL MIGRATION LAW

9:30 a.m.

The right to family reunification and long-term resident status in recent CJEU jurisprudence

* G.S. and V.G. Joined cases C-381/18 and C-382/18
* Cases C-519/18 and C-706/18
* Case C-93/18: Right of residence of a third-country national who is a direct relative in the ascending line of Union citizen minors
* Case C-302/18: Conditions for the acquisition of long-term resident status

Doyin Lawunmi

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

IV. EXTERNAL DIMENSION OF LEGAL MIGRATION

11:00 a.m.

Developing and implementing alternative pathways for legal migration

* Socio-economic challenges
* Pilot projects for legal migration with selected third countries
* Legal migration pathways to Europe for low- and middle-skilled migrants

Silvio Grieco

V. FUTURE CHALLENGES AND OUTLOOK

12:00 p.m.

Reflections on EU legal migration law

* Assessment of the current situation
* Main challenges
* Ideas and suggestions for the future Kees Groenendijk

Return to Top

****

****

12.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-716 - Immigration Policy

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, May 6-8, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=29908153

Course Description: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The course also examines policies related to forced migration, including refugee resettlement, asylum and temporary protected status. These issues will be discussed in a comparative framework, analyzing how other countries address issues affecting the United States. The course will examine the role of federal, state and local authorities in implementing policy reforms. It also examines the role of public opinion and various interest groups in affecting policy formulation.

Students will be required to write a 10-page paper, due after the course completion, on a specific reform issue.

Section Notes: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

13.
Immigration Detention, Courts, and COVID-19

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, May 8, 2020
UCLA Center for the Study of International Migration
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14351

Description: Please join us in a conversation with Professor of Law Ingrid V, Eagly regarding how COVID-19 may be affecting migrants in detention

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Latin American Studies Association annual meeting

Wednesday-Saturday, May 13-16, 2020
Guadalajara, Mexico
https://lasaweb.org/en/lasa2020/

Conference program to be available soon.

Return to Top

****
****

15.
2020 Summer School on EU Immigration and Asylum Law and Policy

Monday, June 29-Friday, July 10, 2020
Université libre de Bruxelles
Brussels, Belgium
http://odysseus-network.eu/2020-summer-school/eng/

Description: While we celebrate the 20th anniversary of our summer school, it has trained more than 2000 persons and is well known among employers considering it as an asset for job seekers. This 20th edition will focus on the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

new pact on migration to be presented in April by the European Commission. The objective is to give to the participants a global understanding of the immigration and asylum policies in the EU from a legal perspective. The summer school is organised by the Odysseus Network for Legal Studies on Immigration and Asylum in Europe, founded in 1999 with the support of the European Commission. In addition to classes, the summer school provides an excellent opportunity to spend an intellectually stimulating time in a group of around one hundred participants specialised in the area of asylum and immigration from all over Europe. The location of the summer school in Brussels creates a unique environment facilitating participants' interaction with European institutions. Participants in the summer school typically includes PhD and graduate students, researchers, EU and Member State officials, representatives from NGOs and International Organisations, lawyers, judges, social workers, etc. The classes are taught by academics originating from all EU Member States collaborating in the framework of the Odysseus Network, and by high-ranking officials from the European Institutions, particularly the European Commission. You can discover the Summer School through this video: odysseus-network.eu/2020-summer-school

Subjects:

Opening lecture

Migration flows and statistics

Free movement of EU citizens

European institutional framework.

Implications of human rights

External relations and European migration policy

European Databases (SIS, VIS, Eurodac, etc.)

External border control

European visa policy

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration for purposes of work

Family reunification

Status and integration of third country nationals

Smuggling and trafficking

Return and readmission

Reception conditions for asylum seekers

European concepts of refugee and of subsidiary protection

Member States responsibility

("Dublin mechanism")

Asylum procedures

Calendar and Schedule: The first general part of the program includes 14 hours of lectures and the second and third specialised parts on immigration and asylum 30 hours in total. Each day is generally done of 2classes of 2 hours, presented with a coffeebreak in between. In order to enable participants in full-time employment to attend the classes, courses take mainly place in the afternoon between 2 pm and 6:30pm.

Return to Top

****

****

16.

Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-744 - Global Displacement & Migration Studies

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Friday, July 27-31, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=31222947

Course Description: This course offers deep knowledge and information about the different groups of people on the move (labor migrants, refugees, internally displaced, asylum seekers, and others), and the multiple causes and consequences of such movements of people. It also provides a global overview of displacement and migration numbers and trends; drivers of population movements; impacts on origin, transit and host countries; and policy responses to population movements.

Specifically, the course will cover the major theoretical explanations underpinning displacement and international migration; global migration and refugee governance; differences and trends in national policies, especially refugee resettlement and labor migration; integration experiences of immigrants in host countries; and connections between migration and displacement and other issues as security, development and environmental change. Finally, the certificate will illustrate how research questions are answered in an effort to enhance existing knowledge and improve policies and practices.

Course Objectives:
* After completing the certificate, successful students will be able to:

* Understand current patterns and trends related to displacement and global migration, including the number and characteristics of those on the move at global, regionally and national levels

* Understand differences among those on the move, including refugees, internally displaced persons, asylum seekers and others

* Articulate the causes of displacement and migration, drawing from both theory and empirical evidence;

* Describe the global refugee and migration governance frameworks and how they articulate the rights of people on the move and the responsibilities of origin, transit and destination countries;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Assess the interconnections between international migration and other transnational issues, such as development, security and climate change

* Discuss and articulate strengths and weaknesses of the national policy frameworks governing the admission of migrants, control of irregular migration, protection of refugees and other forced migrants, etc.

* Understand the integration process of immigrants, and the resettlement process of refugees, in destination countries

* Learn how to ask and answer relevant research questions about these issues

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $4,995.00, 60 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

17.
IOM Summer School on Migration Studies

Monday-Sunday, August 24-29, 2020
Charles University
Prague, Czech Republic
http://www.iom.cz/home/iom-summer-school-on-migration-studies-2020

Description: The 12th IOM Prague Summer School on Migration Studies will be held at Charles University in Prague from 24th to 29th August 2020. IOM Prague has organised the Summer School every year since 2009, and more than 600 students and professionals from almost 100 countries have attended these lectures.

The programme is open for university students (both graduate and undergraduate) as well as young professionals. Six days of lectures, workshops and discussions with experts will provide a unique opportunity to get familiar with different migration topics, including integration of migrants, trafficking in human beings, environmental migration, migration and gender, migration and health, migration and development and return migration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The application deadline is 5th April 2020. For information about the event and how to apply, please visit the programme website.

For the 2020 edition, the programme includes the following topics and experts:

* Dušan Drbohlav, Faculty of Science, Charles University in Prague - Migration Theories, Myth and Realities
* Fatima Eldiasty, UNHCR Middle East and North Africa Operations - Mixed Migration Flows
* Eric Opoku Ware, Sahara Hustlers Association Ghana - The Realities of Irregular Migration from Africa
* Michal Broža, United Nations Information Centre (UNIC) Prague - A World on the Move-Migration and Current Global Risks
* Robert Stojanov, University Padova (visiting) and Mendel University - Environmental Migration
* Tomáš Sobotka, Wittgenstein Centre Vienna - Migration and Demography
* Michal Vašecka, Bratislava International School of Liberal Arts - Integration of Migrants
* Salim Murad, EMMIR – European Master in Migration and Intercultural Relations - Migration and Ethnicity
* Petra Ezzeddine, Faculty of Humanities, Charles University - Migration and Gender
* Eva Janská, Geographic Migration Centre - Transnational Migration
* Kristýna Andrlová, UNHCR Prague - Assistance to Asylum Seekers and Refugees
* Irena Fercík Konecná, International Committee on the Rights of Sex Workers in Europe - Human Trafficking

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

18.

Crimmigration, Capital, and Consequences, 5th Biennial CINETS Conference

Wednesday-Friday, September 24–26, 2020
Lewis and Clark Law School
10015 SW Terwilliger Blvd #7768
Portland, OR 97219
https://www.law.ox.ac.uk/news/2019-12-17-crimmigration-capital-and-consequences-5th-biennial-cinets-conference

Description: The Crimmigration Control International Network of Studies (CINETS) is pleased to invite you to our fifth biennial international conference, which will be held in partnership with Lewis & Clark's 25th annual Business Law Forum. For the first time, Oxford-based Border Criminologies will join CINETS as a co-host for this event.

Crimmigration, the merging of immigration enforcement and criminal justice regimes, has rapidly become the dominant response to human mobility around the globe. Crimmigration has emerged, ironically, in tandem with growing economic globalization. For capital, national borders have virtually disappeared, while the walls, virtual and literal, are growing higher for workers and others who need mobility to thrive, and even survive. Race, ethnicity, and personal wealth matter in who gains entry. Are fairness, justice, and inclusion, values that democratic societies hold dear, to be available only on a members-only basis? What is the role of capital in fomenting human mobility and profiting from the barriers that governments are erecting to deter immigrants? How can we resist the bordering trend that works selectively against those most in need? This conference will treat crimmigration and bordering holistically as systems nested within economy and society in subtle, and not-so-subtle, ways.

We welcome individual and panel submission (fully or partly-formed). The conference also welcomes submissions for work-in-progress sessions, including potential Border Criminologies blog posts. To apply, submit a (maximum) 200-word abstract, with a tentative title and contact information. Please indicate whether you are applying for a papers-only panel or a work-in-progress/blog post session.

Deadline for submissions is June 15, 2020. Send your submissions and questions to Richard Adams at richardadams@lclark.edu.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Immigration and the changing nature of work

Canadian Immigration Summit 2020

Monday-Tuesday, October 5-6, 2020
The Shaw Center
Ottawa, Ontario, Canada
https://www.conferenceboard.ca/web/canadian-immigration-summit-2020.html

Programme:

Monday, October 5, 2020

8:20 a.m.
Opening remarks—Building an attractive and welcoming immigration system

8:40 a.m.
Remarks—Remaining competitive in a disruptive economy

9:00 a.m.
Keynote -Radical innovation for greater social good

9:30 a.m.
Panel presentation - Global migration trends—Systems and policies

11:00 a.m.
Concurrent Sessions (please select one)

Concurrent A1: Fostering immigrant entrepreneurship

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Concurrent A2: Long-term success of international students in Canada

Concurrent A3: Paving pathways for inclusion for skilled refugees

1:00 p.m.
Concurrent Sessions (please select one)

Concurrent B1: Using technology to help immigrants and refugees

Concurrent B2: Immigrant women and the fourth industrial revolution

Concurrent B3: In-camera session for employers—Talent solutions at the intersection of immigration and long-term prosperity

2:30 p.m.
Panel presentation - Attracting an immigrant workforce: Regional approaches to immigration in the new world of work

3:30 p.m.
Panel discussion - Innovation in the workplace—The employer experience

4:45 p.m.
Day 1 roundup

Tuesday, October 6, 2020

8:15 a.m.
Remarks—Building a forward-thinking workforce

9:00 a.m.
Keynote - Innovative solutions: Can technology help transform the labour market, reskill workers, and support lifelong learning?

10:00 a.m.
Panel discussion - Business savvy with a global mindset: Employment in the age of increased migration

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

11:00 a.m.

Presentation - Remaining competitive through immigration and future-thinking

11:45 a.m.

Summit closing remarks

12:00 p.m.

Conference conclusion

1:00 p.m.

Optional Workshop Attracting international investment through business succession

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, April 13, 2020 5:24 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: PANEL DISCUSSION TODAY 1 PM: ICE Detention & the Pandemic

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

STREAMED PANEL DISCUSSION MONDAY AT 1 P.M.

ICE Detention and the Pandemic

Sheriff joins CIS experts to address judge-mandated releases

The Center for Immigration Studies will host a virtual panel discussion Monday, April 13, at 1 p.m. on U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) detention and whether the institutional conditions of detention centers necessitate the release of immigrant detainees due to the coronavirus. Panelists will discuss the public safety and legal implications of releases.

Center experts will be joined by Bristol County (Mass.) Sheriff Thomas Hodgson, who has been ordered by a federal judge to release 45 detainees from the Bristol County House of Correction; releases are to continue on a rolling basis.

Panelists will discuss the ICE Performance-Based National Detention Standards (PBNDS), revised in December 2016, and explore how they apply in a pandemic or medical emergency situation. They will try to answer the question: Which scenario – release or continued detention – is the more responsible policy, for the individual detainee and for the American public?

Stream: Scheduled streams will be live at 1 p.m. Monday on both Facebook and YouTube. We will also have an unscheduled stream on our Twitter feed.
Questions: Questions can be sent prior to or during the event to mrt@cis.org or on twitter to @CIS_org.

Sheriff Hodgson said, "Ironically, of my 850 detainees/inmates, we have had no COVID 19 cases since the pandemic began and this Judge is releasing these detainees under a 'humanitarian' claim. I can think of nothing more inhumane than letting dangerous people wander around our neighborhoods, based on a claim that maybe, just maybe they could contract COVID 19 in the detention center."

"Detainees deserve to be housed in safe, healthy facilities. But policymakers must compare their situation in the facility to their safety outside of the facility, and the availability of treatment inside to that outside of the facility," said Andrew Arthur, the Center's resident fellow in law and policy and former immigration judge in a detention facility. "And, who should be making these decisions? What if a single judge says to empty the jails and detention centers completely? Judges should not be controlling policy, in this manner."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dan Cadman, a Center fellow and retired INS/ICE official, said, "Policymakers must also remember that detention often serves public safety, because most of the aliens taken into detention are convicted criminals. Once released, most of these individuals will re-offend."

Related Articles:
Detention Health Care Works the Way It Is Supposed To Detainees Are Safer in ICE Detention
ICE Should Continue to Detain Removable Aliens

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mark Krikorian

From: Mark Krikorian
Sent: Monday, April 13, 2020 5:59 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Support the Center in the Shutdown

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Support the Center in the Shutdown

In the midst of an unprecedented shutdown of American life due to the Wuhan coronavirus, the anti-border forces are as active as ever.

Industries immediately began using the crisis as a pretext for demanding more foreign worker visas, in one case citing school closures that are preventing American employees from going to work. There was also a push to slip a big increase of EB-5 visas, which go overwhelmingly to wealthy Chinese investors, into the emergency stimulus bill. And well into March, refugees were still being resettled as the pandemic raged.

Drawing on our years of research into these programs, the Center has publicized the brazen efforts to increase immigration during the greatest economic dislocation of our lifetime. We've published reports, authored op-eds, and hosted online panel discussions. We brought the attempted increase in H-2B visas to Tucker Carlson's attention, and his segment on it is the only reason the White House belatedly backed down.

Even as our staff all works from home, we remain one of the only organizations shining a light on the biased research of immigration expansionists. Throughout this quarantine, with your help, we will continue to do so.

As the economy grinds to a halt, the financial situation of nonprofits is tenuous. Please consider supporting our important work as we try to keep the immigration debate focused on the broad national interest.

Donate Here

Visit Website

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, April 14, 2020 10:18 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 4/14/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

What's Happening at the Center

In a recent piece, Director of Research Steven Camarota dispels the media narrative that DACA workers are vital to the fight against the Wuhan coronavirus. The open-borders Center for American Progress (CAP) claims that 29,000 health care workers are DACA recipients. That number seems high based on a previous analysis by the Center, but even accepting it means that DACA recipients comprise only 0.2 percent of the nation's 14.8 million health-care workers. And the data shows an additional 352,000 unemployed health-care workers could replace them. In addition, many of the health-care occupations held by DACA workers do not require high levels of training and education. Nearly one-third of the DACA health-care workers identified by CAP are home health and personal care aides. Another seven percent identify as dental assistants. Other occupations that CAP included in its analysis are animal caretakers, massage therapists, optometrists, and veterinarians. The idea that these workers are all on the "frontlines of the coronavirus response" is ridiculous.

Featured Posts

What Can Be Done on Immigration Now

By Andrew R. Arthur

This is an unusual time in U.S. immigration history. All non-essential immigration Mexico, Canada, China, and Europe is on hold. The number of migrants apprehended entering illegally is almost historically low, and those being detained are quickly processed and returned. Most non-detained immigration courts are closed. This means that there is much that immigration agencies and their employees can do to prepare for the future.

Trump Waves in Seasonal Foreign Workers as Pandemic Peaks

By Jessica M. Vaughan

The State Department will not be interviewing most applicants for seasonal guestworker visas under a new policy announced in late March. Aside from the absurdity of bringing in any foreign guestworkers at all at the height of a global pandemic that just threw millions of Americans out of work, this move has re-opened a security and fraud vulnerability in the temporary worker visa program that career homeland security officials have fought for years to close.

The Fungible Nature of Federal Relief Funds May Put Money in the Federal Agencies on H-2B: DHS Hits a Home Run, GAO an On Goal

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Pockets of Illegal Aliens

By Dan Cadman

California Governor Gavin Newsom, a Democrat, is reportedly considering providing coronavirus relief aid to illegal aliens out of the state coffers. This is something that's also been suggested by House Democrats at the federal level, but appears to be gaining no traction, I'm happy to report. It's a particularly bizarre move when the Los Angeles Times is reporting that the economic damage caused by the virus may completely deplete the state's cash reserves.

By David North

If this were a report on the nation's vanishing sports pages, the headlines would be that the Department of Homeland Security hit a grand slam homer with its actions on the H-2B foreign worker program (for unskilled, non-ag workers) on April 2, while on the day before the Government Accountability Office scored an own goal.

More Blog Posts

- Border Apprehensions Down to 4,200 per Week
- Recent Developments in the EB-5 (Immigrant Investor) Program
- CPB Remains Busy at the Southwest Border
- Detention Health Care Works the Way It Is Supposed To
- Bordertown of Laredo Requires Residents to Wear Face Masks
- More Than 8,000 Mexican Nationals Brought Home Amid Health Concerns
- The Immigrant Investor (EB-5) Program is in Long-Term Decline

Visit Website

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Wednesday, April 15, 2020 11:14 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Video Immigration Brief: The H-2B Visa - Jobs Americans Will Do

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Video Immigration Brief: The H-2B Visa - Jobs Americans Will Do

Washington, D.C. (April 16, 2020) – A new video from the Center for Immigration Studies highlights the H-2B visa program, which allows employers to bring in 66,000 foreign workers for non-agricultural, low skilled, seasonal jobs every year. The Department of Homeland Security announced in March the visa cap being raised to allow in 35,000 additional foreign workers. After much pushback, due in large part to the coronavirus' impact on unemployment, the administration suspended this increase in April.

Mark Krikorain, the Center's executive director, describes the types of jobs H-2B workers fill, their impact on American workers' wages, and the President's authority to limit their admittance if "detrimental to the interest of the United States."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Mark Krikorain, Executive Director

Related Articles:

DHS Should Retract the Expansion of H-2B Visa Workers

DHS to Let in 35,000 H-2B Workers Above the Current Ceiling

DoL's Debarments Lists Bad H-2A and H-2B Employers Get Longer

Latest Trump H-2B Increase Again Betrays American Workers

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, April 16, 2020 8:00 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: ICE Detention Centers: The Safety of Detainees and the Public

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ICE Detention Centers: The Safety of Detainees and the Public

Washington, D.C. (April 16, 2020) – Video and transcript are now available from the Center for Immigration Studies virtual panel, "ICE Detention and the Pandemic," held Monday. The Center's event provided background and analysis of detention protocol, conditions during the medical crisis, and safety and legal implications of releases.

Andrew Arthur, the Center's resident fellow in law and policy, commented that detention keeps detainees safe as it limits their exposure to the virus, unlike in the general population, and maximizes their access to medical care.

Arthur also stressed that federal law requires that these individuals be detained. Most circuits that have reviewed the matter have said that habeas is not an appropriate vehicle for district courts to review conditions of confinement, absent some sort of constitutional violation that's going to seriously impact the health or lead to the death of an individual. If the request is for equitable relief to remedy a constitutional violation, the remedy is modification of the conditions of confinement to address the alleged violation – not release.

Panelist Bristol County (Mass.) Sheriff Thomas Hodgson, who has been forced by a federal judge to release detainees from the Bristol House of Correction on humanitarian claims despite having no coronavirus cases amongst the detainees, described some of the detention protocols.

- Access to medical care 24/7
- No visitors permitted access
- No vendors permitted access
- All staff have temperature taken before entering the facility
- All units are sanitized three times a day
- A negative pressure chamber is available
- Plenty of space for isolation and quarantine

Dan Cadman, a Center fellow with over 30 years of experience at ICE and INS before that, stated that "the medical standards that are applied to immigration detainees are pretty rigorous. And they're not just in accordance with the National Detention Standards, but they meet with National Correctional Association standards."

Panel Video

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Panel Transcript
Bristol County Sheriff's Office Prisoner Release Alert System
Sheriff Thomas Hodgson's Letter to Senator Elizabeth Warren

The sheriff announced the new Prisoner Release Alert System. "Every day now we are going to release what we call the prisoner release alert, and it's going out to all the media outlets and to the people of our communities to let them know that these are the kinds of crimes that have been committed by the individuals that are being released every day by this judge." The official announcement lists many crimes, including rape, robbery, assault, fraud, and trafficking fentanyl.

In addition to serious convictions and/or charges, "some of the released detainees had final removal orders from an immigration judge to be deported to their country of origin, but are instead free to roam the neighborhoods of our communities…they will, of course, not turn themselves back in after the virus."

Mark Krikorian, the Center's executive director and moderator of the panel, reminded listeners that ICE's Victims of Immigration Crime Engagement Office, VOICE, provides a voice for victims and can be reached at 855-488-6423.

Related Articles:
Detention Health Care Works the Way It Is Supposed To Detainees Are Safer in ICE Detention
ICE Should Continue to Detain Removable Aliens
Courts Speed Illegal Immigrants Release Due to Coronavirus Fears

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, April 16, 2020 3:59 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Reading, 4/16/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Reading, 4/16/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here: http://cis.org/donate

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS

1. State Department Visa Bulletin update
2. CRS reports on entry restrictions, special visas, visa waiver, TPS, and backlog
3. GAO reports on CBP management of temp TX facility and TPS decision communications
4. FRB-Dallas report on the immigration and prospects for future U.S. economic growth
5. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling in Marisela Inestroza-Antonelli v. Barr
6. Canada: Statistics on cross-border travel for March
7. Sweden: Population projections
8. Australia: Statistics on overseas arrivals and departures for February
9. N.Z.: Statistics on international migration for February

REPORTS, ARTICLES, ETC.

10. SCOTUSblog report on NY request for temporary pause of "public charge" rule
11. Rasmussen Reports weekly immigration index
12. TRAC reports on prosecutions for harboring, removal proceedings and rural communities, detainees lacking criminal records
13. Two new working papers from the National Bureau of Economic Research
14. New report and feature from the Migration Policy Institute
15. Two new discussion papers from the Institute for the Study of Labor
16. Five new papers from the Social Science Research Network
17. Twenty new postings from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog
18. "Data for Global Migration Center Immigration Fact"
19. "Health Profile and Health Care Access of Mexican Migration Flows Traversing the Northern Border of Mexico"
20. U.K.: New briefing paper from MigrationWatch
21. U.K.: New report from the Oxford Refugee Studies Centre
22. "Towards Safer and More Productive Migration for South Asia"

BOOKS

23. Border Policing: A History of Enforcement and Evasion in North America

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

24. Permeable Borders: History, Theory, Policy, and Practice in the United States
25. North American Borders in Comparative Perspective
26. Resident Foreigners: A Philosophy of Migration
27. No Justice in the Shadows: How America Criminalizes Immigrants
28. What Do We Owe to Refugees?
29. Border Jumping and Migration Control in Southern Africa

JOURNALS

30. Comparative Migration Studies
31. CSEM Newsletter
32. Ethnic and Racial Studies
33. Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
34. Journal on Migration and Human Security
35. Mobilities
36. Rural Migration News

1.
Visa Bulletin Status Update
April 2020
. . .
https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/legal/visa-law0/visa-bulletin.html

Return to Top

****
****

2.
New from the Congressional Research Service

Entry Restrictions at the Northern and Southern Borders in Response to COVID-19
CRS Legal Sidebar, April 2, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/LSB10439.pdf

Iraqi and Afghan Special Immigrant Visa Programs

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Updated April 2, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R43725.pdf

Adding Countries to the Visa Waiver Program: Effects on National Security and Tourism
April 1, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R46300.pdf

Temporary Protected Status: Overview and Current Issues
Updated April 1, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/RS20844.pdf

The Employment-Based Immigration Backlog
March 26, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/R46291.pdf

Immigration: Public Charge
CRS In Focus, March 19, 2020
https://fas.org/sgp/crs/homesec/IF11467.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

3.
New from the General Accountability Office

Border Security: U.S. Customs and Border Protection's Management of a Temporary Facility in Texas Raised Concerns about Resources Used
GAO-20-321R, Published: March 11, 2020, Publicly Released: April 9, 2020.
Report: https://www.gao.gov/products/GAO-20-321R
Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/products/GAO-20-321R

Temporary Protected Status: Steps Taken to Inform and Communicate Secretary of Homeland Security's Decisions
GAO-20-134, April 3, 2020
Report: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/705691.pdf

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Highlights: https://www.gao.gov/assets/710/705690.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Without Immigration, U.S. Economy Will Struggle to Grow
By Pia Orrenius and Chloe Smith
Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, April 2020
. . .
https://www.dallasfed.org/research/economics/2020/0409

Return to Top

****
****

5.
Marisela Inestroza-Antonelli v. Barr
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, No. 18-60236
April 9, 2020

Petition for Review of an Order of the Board of Immigration Appeals.
. . .
http://www.ca5.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/18/18-60236-CV0.pdf

Ruling: Marisela Inestroza-Antonelli, a native Honduran citizen, filed a motion to reopen her removal proceedings on the basis of changed country conditions in Honduras. She relied in part on the alleged dismantling of institutional protections for women against gender-based violence following a 2009 military coup. Without addressing the coup, the BIA found that any change in genderbased violence was incremental or incidental and not material. Because this conclusion is not supported by the record, we grant the petition and remand.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

6.

Leading indicator of cross-border traveller volume, March 2020

Statistics Canada, April 14, 2020

. . .

https://www150.statcan.gc.ca/n1/en/daily-quotidien/200414/dq200414b-eng.pdf

Excerpt: The number of Americans and Canadians crossing the border by automobile fell drastically in the second half of March.

In March 2020, the number of Americans entering into Canada by automobile through 111 land ports declined nearly 60% compared with the same month in 2019.

Over the same period, the number of Canadians returning from the United States by automobile through these ports dropped by 45% compared with March 2019.

Restrictions of non-essential travel at the border in March dramatically altered the pattern of cross-border travel by automobile between the two countries.

Return to Top

****

****

7.

Heading toward 11 million inhabitants

Statistics Sweden, April 8, 2020

. . .

https://www.scb.se/en/finding-statistics/statistics-by-subject-area/population/population-projections/population-projections/pong/statistical-news/the-future-population-of-sweden-2020-2070/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Excerpt: By the end of 2029, the number of inhabitants is expected to be 700,000 more than today and Sweden's population will reach 11 million.

. . .

In the 2020s, 110 000 persons per year on average are estimated to immigrate to Sweden, while on average 63 000 persons per year are estimated to emigrate. Compared with the 2010s, immigration numbers are expected to be lower, mainly due to less refugee immigration. On the other hand, emigration is expected to be higher than before. One explanation is that the population will consist of more foreign born persons and Swedish born persons with foreign born parents. These groups emigrate to a larger extent than others.

Return to Top

****

****

8.

Overseas Arrivals and Departures, Australia, February 2020

Australian Bureau of Statistics, April 15, 2020

. . .

https://www.abs.gov.au/ausstats/abs%40.nsf/mediareleasesbyCatalogue/50468A19ADB8060BCA2583A500102545?OpenDocument

Excerpt: There were 785,400 Australian residents who returned from overseas in February. An increase of 5.3% from a year ago.

ABS Director of Migration Statistics, Jenny Dobak, said there was a decrease of visitors to Australia from most countries in February, and for some it was a large decrease. This coincides with the travel bans which were put in place at the beginning of February and the outbreak of COVID-19.

"Although China was previously the largest source country for visitors for this month, it had decreased by nearly 90% when compared to a year ago," she said.

Among the top ten source countries, the highest annual decreases beyond China were recorded for Hong Kong (-28%), Singapore (-25%), and Germany (-16%). An increase of 16% was recorded for those travelling to Australia from

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

India.

Return to Top

****
****

9.
International migration: February 2020
Statistics New Zealand, April 13, 2020
. . .
https://www.stats.govt.nz/information-releases/international-migration-february-2020

Excerpt: Impact of COVID–19 on international migration

Since January 2020, governments have imposed international travel restrictions in multiple countries, due to the spread of COVID-19 around the world. In March 2020, the New Zealand government introduced further measures to protect New Zealanders from the COVID-19 virus, effectively limiting travel to New Zealand and travel within New Zealand. These combined restrictions have affected the number of flights to and from New Zealand.

There are several implications of these restrictions on recent migration estimates:

* Many visitors to New Zealand, travelling on a range of visa types, have been unable to depart (Estimates as at 29 March 2020 are 160,000–180,000 visitors in New Zealand; see also earlier discussion in About 250,000 visitors in New Zealand). The number of visitors is not unusual, but their prolonged stay in New Zealand is likely to cause an initial over-estimation of migrant arrivals and net migration for the most recent months, November 2019 to February 2020. If and when these visitors depart, the provisional migrant arrival and net migration estimates for these months are likely to get revised down.

* Even if these visitors have departed, a prolonged stay in New Zealand increases their chance of being initially classified as a migrant arrival. If these visitors remain out of New Zealand, the provisional migrant arrival and net migration estimates for the months that they arrived, are likely to get revised down.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* The travel of New Zealand residents has been curtailed, resulting in relatively fewer short-term and long-term (migrant) departures of New Zealand citizens in recent weeks relative to the same period a year ago.

* In addition, migrant arrivals of New Zealand citizens have increased in recent weeks. If these people subsequently depart rather than staying long-term, then provisional migrant arrival estimates for these months are likely to get revised down.

Return to Top

****
****

10.
New York asks justices for temporary pause of "public charge" rule
By Amy Howe
SCOTUSBlog, April 13, 2020
. . .
https://www.scotusblog.com/2020/04/new-york-asks-justices-for-temporary-pause-of-public-charge-rule/#more-293053

Excerpt: The public charge rule interprets a provision of federal immigration law that bars noncitizens from receiving a green card if the government believes that they are likely to become reliant on government assistance. In August 2019, the Trump administration defined "public charge" to refer to noncitizens who receive a variety of government benefits – such as cash, health care or housing – for more than 12 months over a three-year period. Under the rule, the government also considers factors such as age, employment history and finances to determine whether someone might become a "public charge" in the future.

In their 27-page filing today, the challengers told the justices that the public charge rule has grave implications for public health during the COVID-19 crisis,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

because it deters immigrants – who fear that it will jeopardize their ability to obtain a green card – from accessing health care, including testing and treatment for the virus. In so doing, the challengers contended, the rule "makes it more likely that immigrants will suffer serious illness if infected and spread the virus inadvertently to others—risks that are heightened because immigrants make up a large proportion of the essential workers who continue to interact with the public" in positions such as home-health-care aides, custodians and cooks.

Return to Top

****

****

11.

Rasmussen Reports Weekly Immigration Index

April 14, 2020

. . .

https://www.rasmussenreports.com/public_content/politics/immigration_index/immigration_index_apr14

Excerpt: In the latest survey, 38% of Likely U.S. Voters feel the government is doing too little to reduce illegal border crossings and visitor overstays. Thirty-five percent (35%) say it is doing too much. Twenty percent (20%) rate the level of action as about right.

Sixty-four percent (64%) continue to believe the government should mandate employers to use the federal electronic E-Verify system to help ensure that they hire only legal workers for U.S. jobs. Twenty percent (20%) disagree, with 16% undecided.

A new high of 62% now favors giving lifetime work permits to most of the approximately two million illegal residents who came to this country when they were minors, with 37% who Strongly Favor it. Thirty-one percent (31%) are opposed, including 15% who remain Strongly Opposed.

Forty-seven percent (47%) also favor giving lifetime work permits to most of the estimated 12 million illegal residents of all ages who currently reside in the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

United States, including 24% who Strongly Favor such a move. This, too, is a new high. Forty-six percent (46%) are opposed, with 27% who Strongly Oppose.

Legal immigration has averaged around a million annually in recent years, but 48% of voters believe the government should be adding no more than 750,000 new immigrants each year, with 34% who say it should be fewer than 500,000. Thirty-six percent (36%) favor adding one million or more legal newcomers per year, including 11% who say the figure should be higher than 1.5 million. Sixteen percent (16%) are not sure.

Return to Top

****

****

12.

New from the Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse, Syracuse University

Along the US-Mexico Border Prosecutions for Harboring Immigrants Continue to Climb

April 13, 2020

. . .

https://trac.syr.edu/tracreports/crim/603/

Excerpt: The latest available case-by-case records tracking lead charges for February 2020 show 504 new prosecutions under federal laws prohibiting the harboring of undocumented immigrants, up from 400 during the same month last year. Eighty-six percent of new prosecutions in February took place in federal courts along the US-Mexico border. On an annual basis, harboring prosecutions reached an all-time high in FY 2019 with just shy of 5,700 new cases, up from about 4,500 in FY 2018. This growth may be at least partly attributed to a directive issued by then Attorney General Jeff Sessions in 2017 encouraging federal prosecutors to increase prosecutions against harboring.

The Hidden Impact of Removal Proceedings on Rural Communities

April 9, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/602/

Excerpt: Immigrants who are held at rural detention centers face barriers to justice over and above their non-detained counterparts. Obtaining the services of a qualified immigration attorney is even harder from behind the walls of a detention facility. When available, attorneys may charge additional fees for travelling to and from the detention center for consultations hearings. At the same time, arranging for the attorney to be paid while inside a detention facility adds additional challenges. Moreover, especially in light of the COVID-19 pandemic, arranging access to medical services may be particularly challenging when a detention facility is located in a rural county. (See TRAC's recent report on how low rates of detainees with criminal records could impact ICE's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.)

Decline in ICE Detainees with Criminal Records Could Shape Agency's Response to COVID-19 Pandemic
April 3, 2020
. . .
https://trac.syr.edu/immigration/reports/601/

Excerpt: The total number of ICE civil detainees has varied over this period. Starting from a low of 25,780 in March 2015 to a high of 55,654 in July 2019, before falling currently to 38,058. Throughout this period, however, the growth in the number of ICE detainees has been driven virtually entirely by detainees with no record of a criminal conviction, which likely includes many recently arrived asylum-seekers.

The number of ICE detainees with a criminal conviction peaked in October of 2017 at less than 20,000 (19,264), then declined steadily until today. That numbers has fallen below 15,000 during each of the past five months (November 2019 through March 2020). See Table 1 at the end of this report for actual counts. (For more information about TRAC's data sources on detainees, please see sidebar, About the Data.)

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

13.

New from the National Bureau of Economic Research

Should Germany Have Built a New Wall? Macroeconomic Lessons from the 2015-18 Refugee Wave

By Christopher Busch, Dirk Krueger, Alexander Ludwig, Irina Popova, and Zainab Iftikhar

NBER Working Paper No. 26973, April 2020

. . .

https://www.nber.org/papers/w26973

Discrimination, Migration, and Economic Outcomes: Evidence from World War I

By Andreas Ferrara and Price V. Fishback

NBER Working Paper No. 26936, April 2020

. . .

https://www.nber.org/papers/w26936

Return to Top

****

****

14.

New from the Migration Policy Institute

Immigration and U.S. National Security: The State of Play Since 9/11

By Amy Pope

April 2020

. . .

https://www.migrationpolicy.org/research/immigration-us-national-security-since-911

Venezuelan Immigrants in the United States

By Luis Hassan Gallardo and Jeanne Batalova

Migration Information Source Spotlight, April 10, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.migrationpolicy.org/article/venezuelan-immigrants-united-states

Return to Top

****
****

15.
New from the Institute for the Study of Labor

Local Governance Quality and the Environmental Cost of Forced Migration
By Cevat Giray Aksoy and Semih Tumen
IZA Discussion Paper No. 13145, April 2020
. . .
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/13145/local-governance-quality-and-the-environmental-cost-of-forced-migration

Exposure to Transit Migration, Public Attitudes and Entrepreneurship
By Nicolas Ajzenman, Cevat Giray Aksoy, and Sergei Guriev
IZA Discussion Paper No. 13130, April 2020
. . .
https://www.iza.org/publications/dp/13130/exposure-to-transit-migration-public-attitudes-and-entrepreneurship

Return to Top

****
****

16.
New from the Social Science Research Network

1. Culture and Gender Allocation of Tasks: Source Country Characteristics and the Division of Non-Market Work among US Immigrants
By Francine D. Blau, Cornell University Department of Economics; Lawrence M. Kahn, Cornell University School of Industrial and Labor Relations, et al.
DIW Berlin Discussion Paper No. 1858

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3576395
https://ideas.repec.org/p/iza/izadps/dp13093.html

2. An EU-Regularisation Directive: An Effective Solution to the Enforcement Deficit in Returning Irregularly Staying Migrants
By Kevin Fredy Hinterberger, Arbeiterkammer Wien; University of Vienna Faculty of Law
Maastricht Journal on European and Comparative Law Vol 26, Issue 6, 2019
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3522595
https://dialnet.unirioja.es/servlet/articulo?codigo=7196561

3. Doctoral Dissertation: Essays on the Political Economy of Immigration
By Sumit S. Deole, TU Dortmund University; Martin Luther Universitat Halle Wittenberg
Halle (Saale), January 2020
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3549518

4. Adultification of Immigrant Children
By Laila Hlass, Tulane University - Law School
34 Georgetown Immigration Law Journal 200 (2020)
Tulane Public Law Research Paper No. 20-4
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3564711

5. Mistreating Central American Refugees: Repeating History in Response to Humanitarian Challenges
By Bill Ong Hing, University of San Francisco School of Law
7 Hastings Race & Poverty L.J. 359 (2020)
. . .
https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/papers.cfm?abstract_id=3570069
https://repository.uchastings.edu/cgi/viewcontent.cgi?article=1151&context=hastings_race_poverty_law_journal

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

17.

Latest posts from the Immigration Law Professors' Blog

1. ICE Releases Hundreds Of Immigrants As Coronavirus Spreads in Detention Centers

April 16, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/ice-releases-hundreds-of-immigrants-as-coronavirus-spreads-in-detention-centers.html

2. Stephen Miller's hard-line policies on refugee families make a comeback

April 16, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/stephen-millers-hard-line-policies-on-refugee-families-make-a-comeback.html

3. Newsom announces $125M fund for undocumented immigrants amid coronavirus emergency

April 15, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/newsom-announces-125m-fund-for-undocumented-immigrants-amid-coronavirus-emergency.html

4. Immigrant Legal Resource Center: Denaturalization and Revocation of Naturalization

April 15, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/immigrant-legal-resource-center-denaturalization-and-revocation-of-naturalization.html

5. TPS for Venezuelans?

April 15, 2020

. . .

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/tps-for-venezuelans.html

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

6. Along the US-Mexico Border Prosecutions for Harboring Immigrants Continue to Climb
April 14, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/along-the-us-mexico-border-prosecutions-for-harboring-immigrants-continue-to-climb.html\

7. The New Migration Law: Migrants, Refugees, and Citizens in an Anxious Age
By Hiroshi Motomura
April 14, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/immigration-article-of-the-day-the-new-migration-law-migrants-refugees-and-citizens-in-an-anxious-ag.html

8. New York State Challenge to Trump "Public Charge" Rule in Supreme Court: Immigrants Are Scared of Getting Coronavirus Treatment
April 14, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/new-york-state-challenge-to-trump-public-charge-rule-in-supreme-court-immigrants-are-scared-of-getti.html

9. Coronavirus Border Expulsions: CDC's Assault on Asylum Seekers and Unaccompanied Minors
April 13, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/coronavirus-border-expulsions-cdcs-assault-on-asylum-seekers-and-unaccompanied-minors.html

10. For temporary immigrants, job loss means the loss of a visa... and elibility to stay in the US
April 13, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/for-temporary-immigrants-job-loss-means-the-loss-of-a-visa-and-elibility-to-stay-in-the-us.html

11. U.S. expels 6,300 migrants, coronavirus used to justify expulsions,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

border crossers drop -- Mission Accomplished?
April 11, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/us-expels-6300-migrants-coronavirus-used-to-justify-expulsions-border-crossers-drop-mission-accompli.html

12. Labor, Law Enforcement, and 'Normal Times': The Origins of Immigration's Home within the Department of Justice and the Evolution of Attorney General Control over Immigration Adjudications
By Jennifer Breen
April 11, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/immigration-article-of-the-day-labor-law-enforcement-and-normal-times-the-origins-of-immigrations-ho.html

13. Inside Trump's Failed Plan to Surveil the Canadian Border
April 10, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/inside-trumps-failed-plan-to-surveil-the-canadian-border.html

14. Trump Achieved Goal of Ending Asylum Thanks to COVID-19
April 10, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/trump-achieved-goal-of-ending-asylum-thanks-to-covid-19.html

15. Categorical Nonuniformity
By Sheldon Evans
April 8, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/immigration-article-of-the-day-categorical-nonuniformity-by-sheldon-evans.html

16. The Ticking Time Bomb of COVID-19 and Immigration Detention
April 7, 2020
. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/the-ticking-time-bomb-of-covid-19-and-immigration-detention.html

17. Tracking Coronavirus in Countries with and without Travel Bans
April 7, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/tracking-coronavirus-in-countries-with-and-without-travel-bans.html

18. COVID-19 Stimulus Package: What CARES Act Rebates Mean for Immigrants
April 6, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/covid-19-stimulus-package-what-cares-act-rebates-mean-for-immigrants.html

19. U.S. Passport Agencies Prioritizing Passports for Life-or-Death Emergencies: All other passport services are either on hold or subject to "significant delays."
April 6, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/us-passport-agencies-prioritizing-passports-for-life-or-death-emergencies-all-other-passport-service.html

20. Prince Harry Is Living in the U.S.—How Will That Affect His Taxes and Immigration Status?
April 5, 2020
. . .
https://lawprofessors.typepad.com/immigration/2020/04/prince-harry-is-living-in-the-ushow-will-that-affect-his-taxes-and-immigration-status.html

Return to Top

****
****

18.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Data for Global Migration Center Immigration Fact
Harvard Dataverse, April 2020
. . .
https://dataverse.harvard.edu/dataset.xhtml?persistentId=doi:10.7910/DVN/MTBJ3S

Description: Data to reproduce figure in Global Migration Center Immigration Fact on migrant deaths in the Tucson Sector (2020-04-08)

Return to Top

****
****

19.
Health Profile and Health Care Access of Mexican Migration Flows Traversing the Northern Border of Mexico
By Ana P. Martinez-Donate, Niko Verdecias, Xiao Zhang, et al.
Medical Care, Vol. 58, No. 5, May 2020
. . .
https://journals.lww.com/lww-medicalcare/Abstract/2020/05000/Health_Profile_and_Health_Care_Access_of_Mexican.9.aspx

Return to Top

****
****

20.
Is it true that Britons will not do seasonal agricultural work?
Immigration Policy Briefing Paper 393, April 9, 2020
. . .
https://www.migrationwatchuk.org/pdfs/European-Union-MW393.pdf

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

21.
New from the Oxford Refugee Studies Centre

Border Justice: Migration and Accountability for Human Rights Violations
By Cathryn Costello and Itamar Mann
German Law Journal, April 8, 2020
. . .
https://www.rsc.ox.ac.uk/publications/border-justice-migration-and-accountability-for-human-rights-violations-1

Return to Top

****
****

22.
Towards Safer and More Productive Migration for South Asia
By S. Amer Ahmed, Laurent Bossavie, Stefano Paternostro, Caglar Ozden, et al.
The World Bank, March 31, 2020
http://documents.worldbank.org/curated/en/903161585816440273/pdf/Towards-Safer-and-More-Productive-Migration-for-South-Asia.pdf

Return to Top

****
****

23.
Border Policing: A History of Enforcement and Evasion in North America
By Holly M. Karibo and George T. Díaz

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

University of Texas Press, 304 pp.

Hardcover, 1477320679, $40.99
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1477320679/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 4560 KB, ASIN: B0813XN3CX, $27.99

Book Description: An extensive history examining how North American nations have tried (and often failed) to police their borders, Border Policing presents diverse scholarly perspectives on attempts to regulate people and goods at borders, as well as on the ways that individuals and communities have navigated, contested, and evaded such regulation.

The contributors explore these power dynamics though a series of case studies on subjects ranging from competing allegiances at the northeastern border during the War of 1812 to struggles over Indian sovereignty and from the effects of the Mexican Revolution to the experiences of smugglers along the Rio Grande during Prohibition. Later chapters stretch into the twenty-first century and consider immigration enforcement, drug trafficking, and representations of border policing in reality television. Together, the contributors explore the powerful ways in which federal authorities impose political agendas on borderlands and how local border residents and regions interact with, and push back against, such agendas. With its rich mix of political, legal, social, and cultural history, this collection provides new insights into the distinct realities that have shaped the international borders of North America.

Return to Top

****
****

24.
Permeable Borders: History, Theory, Policy, and Practice in the United States
By Paul Otto and Susanne Berthier-Foglar

Berghahn Books, 268 pp.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hardcover, 1789204429, $114.75
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1789204429/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 2924 KB, ASIN: B07XL5TFX6, 240 pp., $29.82

Book Description: If the frontier, in all its boundless possibility, was a central organizing metaphor for much of U.S. history, today it is arguably the border that best encapsulates the American experience, as xenophobia, economic inequality, and resurgent nationalism continue to fuel conditions of division and limitation. This boldly interdisciplinary volume explores the ways that historical and contemporary actors in the U.S. have crossed such borders?whether national, cultural, ethnic, racial, or conceptual. Together, these essays suggest new ways to understand borders while encouraging connection and exchange, even as social and political forces continue to try to draw lines around and between people.

Return to Top

****
****

25.
North American Borders in Comparative Perspective
By Guadalupe Correa-Cabrera, Victor Konrad, and Alan Artibise

University of Arizona Press, 424 pp.

Hardcover, 0816541043, $95.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0816541043/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 0816539529, $40.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0816539529/centerforimmigra

7036 KB, ASIN: B086RK7VT7, $38.00, kindle

Book Description: "North American Borders in Comparative Perspective provides a balanced and comparative view of borders in the diverse and dynamic region formed by Canada, the United States, and Mexico. The authors

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

argue that North America is "not a level playing field for trade, migration, and other forms of exchange." In addition to traditional national and regional boundaries, the borders in North America are "increasingly based on wealth, race, education, and politics." By examining North America with a comparative perspective, the authors reveal "the distinctive nature of i) the over-portrayed Mexico-US border, and ii) the largely overlooked Canada-US border.""--

Return to Top

****
****

26.
Resident Foreigners: A Philosophy of Migration
By Donatella Di Cesare

Polity, 260 pp.

Hardcover, 1509533540, $89.22
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1509533540/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 1509533559, $25.60
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1509533559/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 567 KB, ASIN: B086FTM649, $24.32

Book Description: From the shores of Europe to the Mexican-US border, mass migration is one of the most pressing issues we face today. Yet at the same time, calls to defend national sovereignty are becoming ever more vitriolic, with those fleeing war, persecution, and famine vilified as a threat to our security as well as our social and economic order.

In this book, written amidst the dark resurgence of appeals to defend 'blood and soil', Donatella Di Cesare challenges the idea of the exclusionary state, arguing that migration is a fundamental human right. She develops an original philosophy of migration that places the migrants themselves, rather than states and their borders, at the centre. Through an analysis of three historic cities, Athens, Rome and Jerusalem, Di Cesare shows how we should conceive of migrants not as an other but rather as resident foreigners. This means recognising that citizenship cannot be based on any supposed connection to the land or an exclusive claim to ownership that would deny the rights of those who arrive as migrants. Instead, citizenship must be disconnected from the possession of territory altogether and founded on the principle of cohabitation – and on the ultimate reality that we are all temporary guests and tenants of the earth.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Di Cesare's argument for a new ethics of hospitality will be of great interest to all those concerned with the challenges posed by migration and with the increasingly hostile attitudes towards migrants, as well as students and scholars of philosophy and political theory.

Return to Top

****

****

27.

No Justice in the Shadows: How America Criminalizes Immigrants

By Alina Das

Bold Type Books, 272 pp.

Hardcover, 1568589468, $28.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1568589468/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 3915 KB, ASIN: B07W55QGFQ, 217 pp., $15.99

Book Description: Each year in the United States, hundreds of thousands of people are arrested, imprisoned, and deported, trapped in what leading immigrant rights activist and lawyer Alina Das calls the "deportation machine." The bulk of the arrests target people who have a criminal record -- so-called "criminal aliens" -- the majority of whose offenses are immigration-, drug-, or traffic-related. These individuals are uprooted and banished from their homes, their families, and their communities.

Through the stories of those caught in the system, Das traces the ugly history of immigration policy to explain how the U.S. constructed the idea of the "criminal alien," effectively dividing immigrants into the categories "good" and "bad," "deserving" and "undeserving." As Das argues, we need to confront the cruelty of the machine so that we can build an inclusive immigration policy premised on human dignity and break the cycle once and for all.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

28.

What Do We Owe to Refugees?

By David Owen

Polity, 140 pp.

Hardcover, 1509539735, $42.75
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1509539735/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 1509539743, $12.95
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/1509539743/centerforimmigra

Kindle, 208 KB, ASIN: B086G3K7Z7, $12.30

Book Description: Who are refugees? Who, if anyone, is responsible for protecting them? What forms should this protection take? In a world of people fleeing from civil wars, state failure, and environmental disasters, these are ethically and politically pressing questions.

In this book, David Owen reveals how the contemporary politics of refuge is structured by two rival historical pictures of refugees. In reconstructing this history, he advocates an understanding of refugeehood that moves us beyond our current impasse by distinguishing between what is owed to refugees in general and what is owed to different types of refugee. He provides an account of refugee protection and the forms of international cooperation required to implement it that is responsive to the claims of both refugees and states.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

At a time when refugee protection is once again prominent on the international agenda, this book offers a guide to understanding the challenges this topic raises and shows why addressing it matters for all of us.

Return to Top

****
****

29.
Border Jumping and Migration Control in Southern Africa
By Francis Musoni

Indiana University Press, 218 pp.

Hardcover, 0253047145, $85.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/0253047145/centerforimmigra

Paperback, 0253047153, $28.00
http://www.amazon.com/exec/obidos/ASIN/02530471539/centerforimmigra

ASIN: B07Z1SDTWB, $14.99, kindle

Book Description: With the end of apartheid rule in South Africa and the ongoing economic crisis in Zimbabwe, the border between these Southern African countries has become one of the busiest inland ports of entry in the world. As border crossers wait for clearance, crime, violence, and illegal entries have become rampant. Francis Musoni observes that border jumping has become a way of life for many of those who live on both sides of the Limpopo River and he explores the reasons for this, including searches for better paying jobs and access to food and clothing at affordable prices. Musoni sets these actions into a framework of illegality. He considers how countries have failed to secure their borders, why passports are denied to travelers, and how border jumping has become a phenomenon with a long history, especially in Africa. Musoni emphasizes cross-border travelers' active participation in the making of this history and how clandestine mobility has presented opportunity and creative possibilities for those who are willing to take the risk.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

30.
Comparative Migration Studies
Vol. 8, No 16, 14, April 15, 2020
http://www.comparativemigrationstudies.com/

Latest Articles:

Building inclusive cities: reflections from a knowledge exchange on the inclusion of newcomers by UK local authorities
By Jacqueline Broadhead
. . .
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/track/pdf/10.1186/s40878-020-0172-0

The Grandhotel Cosmopolis – a concrete utopia? Reflections on the mediated and lived geographies of asylum accommodation
By Marielle Zill, Bas Spierings, and Ilse Van Liempt
. . .
https://comparativemigrationstudies.springeropen.com/track/pdf/10.1186/s40878-020-0171-1

Return to Top

****
****

31.
CSEM Newsletter
April 14, 2020
https://www.csem.org.br/

Latest Articles:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Migrant ministries call for end to deportations during pandemic

. . .

https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/migrant-ministries-call-for-end-to-deportations-during-pandemic/

How COVID-19 is throttling vital migration flows

. . .

https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/how-covid-19-is-throttling-vital-migration-flows/

As Tijuana Locks Down, Migrants At U.S.-Mexico Border Stuck In Dangerous Limbo

. . .

https://www.csem.org.br/noticias/as-tijuana-locks-down-migrants-at-u-s-mexico-border-stuck-in-dangerous-limbo/

Return to Top

****

****

32.

Ethnic and Racial Studies

Vol. 43, No. 7, April 2020

https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/rers20/43/7

Selected articles:

A prospect of staying? Differentiated access to integration for asylum seekers in Germany?

By Caroline Schultz

. . .

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1640376

Between queer liberalisms and Muslim masculinities: LGBTQI+ Muslim asylum assessment in Germany?

By Mengia Tschalaer

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/01419870.2019.1640378

Return to Top

****
****

33.
Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
Vol. 46, No. 7, April 2020
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/cjms20/46/7?nav=tocList

Articles:

A ticket to mobility? Naturalisation and subsequent migration of refugees after obtaining asylum in the Netherlands
By Marloes de Hoon, Maarten Vink, and Hans Schmeets
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2019.1629894

Immigrant voters against their will: a focus group analysis of identities, political issues and party allegiances among German resettlers during the 2017 bundestag election campaign
By Achim Goerres, Sabrina J. Mayer, and Dennis C. Spies
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1503527

Prefiguration, strategic interaction and political belonging in undocumented migrant and solidarity movements
By Sander Mensink
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1561251

Social politics: the importance of the family for naturalisation decisions of the 1.5 generation
By Thomas Soehl, Roger Waldinger, and Renee Luthra
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1534584

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Political migration discourses on social media: a comparative perspective on visibility and sentiment across political Facebook accounts in Europe
By Tobias Heidenreich, Jakob-Moritz Eberl, Fabienne Lind, and Hajo Boomgaarden
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2019.1665990

Social support networks and loneliness of Polish migrants in the Netherlands
By Maja Djundeva and Lea Ellwardt
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2019.1597691

Diminishing social inequality between refugee children and their peers growing up in Denmark
By Christopher J. de Montgomery, Jørgen Holm Petersen, and Signe Smith Jervelund
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1526061

Social networking in a digital and mobile world: the case of environmentally-related migration in Bangladesh
By Ingrid Boas
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2019.1605891

Immigrant students' achievements in light of their educational aspirations and academic motivation
By Ai Miyamoto, Julian Seuring, and Cornelia Kristen
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1538772

Fatal flaws in the UK asylum decision-making system: an analysis of Home Office refusal letters
By Liza Schuster
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1552827

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The political dimension of young people's migration intentions: evidence from the Arab Mediterranean region
By Andreas Etling, Leonie Backeberg, and Jochen Tholen
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1485093

Exploring (transit) migration through a postcolonial lens: Tibetans migrating to India and beyond
By Rebecca Frilund
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1501270

'Nobody comes to Baba for advice': negotiating ageing masculinities in the Somali diaspora
By Marith Kristin Gullbekk Markussen
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1496817

Bringing children to the cities: gendered migrant parenting and the family dynamics of rural-urban migrants in China
By Yinni Peng
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1510308

Universalising the particular: strategic framing in immigrant cross-border activism
By Angela Y. McClean
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1504675

Old age facilities for German-speaking people in Thailand – a new facet of international migration in old age
By Désirée Bender, Tina Hollstein, and Cornelia Schweppe
. . .
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/1369183X.2018.1521266

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****
****

34.
Journal on Migration and Human Security
Online first, April 2020
https://journals.sagepub.com/toc/mhs/current

Latest article:

The Case for a National Legalization Program without Legislation or Executive Action: Results from Screening for Immigration Legal Options
By Jeanne M. Atkinson and Tom K. Wong
. . .
https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/full/10.1177/2311502418771915

Return to Top

****
****

35.
Mobilities
Vol. 15, No. 2, April 2020
https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/rmob20/15/2

Selected articles:

North American surrogate reproductive mobilities incited by cross-border reproductive care
By Amy Speier
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/17450101.2020.1723874

Mobilizing mobilities: birthright tourists as willful strangers in Canada
By Kristin Lozanski
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/17450101.2020.1722557

The migration map trap. On the invasion arrows in the cartography of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

migration
By Henk van Houtum and Rodrigo Bueno Lacy
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/17450101.2019.1676031

Fortress Europe's far-flung borderlands: 'Illegality' and the 'deportation regime' in France's Caribbean and Indian Ocean territories
By Catherine Benoît
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/17450101.2019.1678909

The contradictory politics of the right to travel: mobilities, borders & tourism
By Raoul V. Bianchi, Marcus L. Stephenson, and Kevin Hannam
https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/17450101.2020.1723251

Return to Top

****
****

36.
Rural Migration News
Volume 26, Number 2, April 2020
https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/

Selected articles:

IMMIGRATION

Virus, Asylum, Politics
The coronavirus, which likely originated in a food market in Wuhan in Hubei province in December 2019, changed work and personal lives in the US in March 2020. Workplaces and schools closed and people were asked to stay at home to avoid catching and spreading the virus.

DHS in March 2020 announced that foreigners who cross the Mexico-US border legally or illegally would be unable to apply for asylum in the US, and Mexico agreed to accept the return of its citizens and Central Americans. Migrant advocates decried the new policy, arguing that it violates US commitments to accept applications from asylum seekers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .

https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/more.php?id=2418

DHS: CBP, ICE, USCIS

The number of unauthorized foreigners in the US dropped from almost 12 million in 2010 to less than 11 million in 2020, as fewer new unauthorized foreigners arrived from Mexico and more unauthorized Mexicans left the US.

The number of unauthorized foreigners dropped significantly in California, New York, and New Jersey over the past decade, but rose in Texas from 1.7 million to 1.8 million. Most departures from the US were voluntary, but almost 86,000 unauthorized foreigners were deported from the interior of the US in FY19.

. . .

https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/more.php?id=2419

H-2A; H-2B

DOL certified almost 258,000 jobs to be filled with H-2A workers in FY19. Agricultural labor contractors were certified to fill 41 percent of the FY19 jobs, up from 12 percent in 2013.

DOS issued 204,800 H-2A visas in FY19, up from 196,400 in FY18, when DOS issued 180,400 H-2A visas to Mexicans (88 percent), 5,300 to Jamaicans (2.5 percent), 3,900 to Guatemalans (2 percent), and 3,600 to South Africans. H-2A workers can be recruited in 84 countries.

. . .

https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/more.php?id=2420

Canada, Mexico

The US closed its borders with Canada and Mexico to non-essential travelers in March 2020, but allowed the free flow of goods to continue. Mexico in 2019 became the major trading partner of the US, with two-way trade of $615 billion in 2019.

There were 188 million crossings over the Mexico-US border in 2019, including cars, trucks, and buses as well as pedestrians. By some estimates, a million people a day cross the Mexico-US border.

. . .

https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/more.php?id=2421

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Europe, Asia

The Turkish government in March 2020 encouraged Syrian and other migrants in the country to travel to Greece, breaking a March 2016 agreement under which Turkey blocked the exit of migrants in exchange for E6 billion in EU aid to improve conditions for Syrians and other migrants in Turkey. About half of the EU aid has been spent, and 27,000 Syrians in Turkey have been resettled in EU countries since March 2016.

. . .

https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/more.php?id=2422

Virus, Population, Trade

The coronavirus that causes the respiratory disease Covid-19 led to shutdowns of economic activity in China, Europe, North America, and many developing countries. As shutdowns extended from March into April 2020, developing economies that rely on an influx of foreign investment experienced an economic shock.

. . .

https://migration.ucdavis.edu/rmn/more.php?id=2423

Return to Top

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Saturday, April 18, 2020 12:51 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: VIRTUAL PANEL TUESDAY: America's Post-Pandemic Labor Force

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

VIRTUAL PANEL TUESDAY AT 11:00AM

America's Post-Pandemic Labor Force

Do we need millions of foreign workers?

The Center for Immigration Studies will stream a panel discussion Tuesday, April 21 at 11:00am, on the need for present levels of foreign workers in the United States at a time of high unemployment. With 20 million layoffs in just one month, and both white collar and blue collar workers being impacted, U.S. visa programs continue to bring in an historic number of workers impacting job opportunities and wages for American workers.

How many foreign workers are employed in the United States? What type of jobs are they filling? How does it impact wages for Americans? Are these jobs Americans won't do? Is a moratorium on employment-based immigration a good idea?

When: Tuesday, April 21 at 11:00am
Stream: Scheduled streams will be live on both Facebook and YouTube. We will also have an unscheduled stream on our Twitter feed.
Questions: Questions can be sent prior or during the event to mrt@cis.org or on twitter to @CIS_org.

Related Articles:
Video Immigration Brief: The H-2B Visa - Jobs Americans Will Do
Visas for Pottersville
Does the Mass Media's Hatred of Trump Trump Its Devotion to Mass Immigration?
Argument Against Agricultural and Food Processing Guestworkers During Pandemic
Government Increases Utilization of H-2A Farm Workers Now in the States
Trump Waves in Seasonal Foreign Workers as Pandemic Peaks

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Sunday, April 19, 2020 12:00 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Opinions, 4/19/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Opinions, 4/19/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here: http://cis.org/donate

This email includes a wide range of views, provided for educational purposes. Inclusion does not constitute an endorsement by the Center for Immigration Studies.

1. "Does the Media's Hatred of Trump Trump Its Devotion to Mass Immigration," Mark Krikorian
2. "CIS Immigration Blog Posts," Dan Cadman, Andrew Arthur, and David North
3. "States Shell Out Billions for Illegal Immigrants While Homeless Veterans Still Languish: Study," Andrew Mark Miller
4. "New Study: America Takes Better Care of Illegal Aliens Than Its Veterans," Matthew Tragesser
5. "Top Sheriff: Illegal Immigrants Released Over COVID-19 Will Disappear," Paul Bedard
6. "Immigration Pause Would Come After 4 Decades of Foreign Worker Inflow," John Binder
7. "Without Illegal Workers, Costco Meatpacking Plant Work Safer and Healthier?," Roy Beck
8. "New York Times Offers a Glimpse at Life Without Congestion," Jeremy Beck
9. "Fewer Drivers, Not More Roads," Amy Boylan
10. "DHS Allows Agricultural Guestworkers to Stay Indefinitely," Preston Huennekens
11. "Rep. Jayapal and Sen. Booker Call for End of Immigration Enforcement," Preston Huennekens
12. "Time to End Foreign Student Preference Programs," Jennifer G. Hickey
13. "Inside the Mass Immigration Playbook: When Your Best Arguments Fail, Make Up New Ones," Dave Ray
14. "Washington State: Buses as Rolling Sanctuaries," Matt O'Brien
15. "Funding Border Security Is Not the Reason for Lack of Preparedness to the COVID-19 Emergency," Ira Mehlman
16. "The Coronavirus Is No Reason to Waive the Rules for Immigrants," Matt O'Brien
17. "Quarantine: Good for Americans, Good for Detained Aliens," Matt O'Brien
18. "Coronavirus Pandemic," Debra Heine
19. "Judge Shelley Joseph Setting Free Illegal Immigrants the Ultimate Political

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Statement," Joe Battenfeld
20. "Coronavirus Kills Jobs - and Displacement! Immigrant Population FALLS For 7th Straight Month!," Edwin S. Rubenstein
21. "Jeff Sessions Calls for Immigration Moratorium in Response to Coronavirus Devastation," Washington Watcher II
22. "Charlie Kirk Says It's Time for an Immigration Moratorium. Where Is Congressional GOP?," Washington Watcher II
23. "Pandemics and Population: Correlation to Further Disasters for America," Frosty Wooldridge
24. "DHS Continues to Waive Laws to Speed Border Wall Build," Emma Whitford
25. "Research Provides No Basis for Pandemic Travel Bans," David J. Bier
26. "USCIS Disputes Improperly Denying 900 H-1B Visa Registrations," Stuart Anderson
27. "Trump Has Achieved His Goal of Abolishing Asylum," Bill Ong Hing
28. "Trump Is Dissolving Congress in Plain Sight, and Immigration's a Top Example," David Hernández
29. "A Cry for Justice for Detained Immigrants," Minerva G. Carcano, R Guy Erwin, Mark W. Holmerud, and Andrew A. Taylor
30. "Stephen Miller Is Exploiting the Coronavirus Crisis for His Immigration Crackdown," Eric Lutz
31. "She's an Undocumented Immigrant, a Taxpayer and an Essential Worker. But She Won't Get a Stimulus Check.," Julián Aguilar
32. "USCIS Consistently Denies H-1B Petitions. This Lawsuit Argues It's Misinterpreting the Law.," Leslie Dellon
33. "Immigrant Survivors of Domestic Violence Face Unique Risks During Coronavirus," Katie Shepherd
34. "The Disproportionate Impact of Deportations in Rural Communities," Walter Ewing

1.

Does the Media's Hatred of Trump Trump Its Devotion to Mass Immigration?

By Mark Krikorian

The Corner at National Review Online, April 16, 2020

. . .

https://www.nationalreview.com/corner/does-the-medias-hatred-of-trump-trump-its-devotion-to-mass-immigration/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

2.

CIS Immigration Blog Posts

By Dan Cadman

The Argument Against Agricultural and Food Processing Guestworkers During a Pandemic

April 18, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Cadman/Argument-Against-Agricultural-and-Food-Processing-Guestworkers-During-Pandemic

By Andrew R. Arthur

Governors Enforcing Restrictions at State Borders to Stop the Wuhan Virus

Actions politicians and pundits should keep in mind in the future

April 16, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/Governors-Enforcing-Restrictions-State-Borders-Stop-Wuhan-Virus

New Numbers on Title 42 (Public Health) Border Expulsions

But CBP still leaves a few questions unanswered

April 15, 2020

. . .

https://cis.org/Arthur/New-Numbers-Title-42-Public-Health-Border-Expulsions

Has Joe Biden Changed His Mind on a Massive Expansion of Legal Immigration?

Because he has not changed his website

April 13, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://cis.org/Arthur/Has-Joe-Biden-Changed-His-Mind-Massive-Expansion-Legal-Immigration

By David North

Airlines Getting Those Fat Subsides Should Fly Volunteer Aliens Home
April 18, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Airlines-Getting-Those-Fat-Subsides-Should-Fly-Volunteer-Aliens-Home

Government Increases Utilization of H-2A Farm Workers Now in the States
April 16, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Government-Increases-Utilization-H2A-Farm-Workers-Now-States

Members of Congress Urge White House Not to Send Those $1,200 Checks to Illegal Aliens
April 14, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Members-Congress-Urge-White-House-Not-Send-CARES-Checks-Illegal-Aliens

Those $1,200 Checks and Unemployment Insurance for Nonimmigrants
April 13, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/Those-1200-Checks-and-Unemployment-Insurance-Nonimmigrants

A Win-Win Idea — Use Idled Federal Workers to Check SSNs of Illegal Aliens
April 12, 2020
. . .
https://cis.org/North/WinWin-Idea-Use-Idled-Federal-Workers-Check-SSNs-Illegal-Aliens

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

3.

States Shell Out Billions for Illegal Immigrants While Homeless Veterans Still Languish: Study

By Andrew Mark Miller

Washington Examiner, April 14, 2020

. . .

https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/news/states-shell-out-billions-for-illegal-immigrants-while-homeless-veterans-still-languish-study

Return to Top

****

****

4.

New Study: America Takes Better Care of Illegal Aliens Than Its Veterans

By Matthew Tragesser

ImmigrationReform.com, April 16, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/16/fair-veterans-report-illegal-aliens-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

5.

Top Sheriff: Illegal Immigrants Released Over COVID-19 Will Disappear

By Paul Bedard

Washington Examiner, April 13, 2020

. . .

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/washington-secrets/top-sheriff-illegal-immigrants-released-over-covid-19-will-disappear

Return to Top

****
****

6.
Immigration Pause Would Come After Four Decades of Foreign Worker Inflow
By John Binder
Breitbart.com, April 16, 2020
. . .
https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2020/04/16/immigration-pause-four-decades-foreign-worker-inflow/

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Without Illegal Workers, Costco Meatpacking Plant Work Safer and Healthier?
By Roy Beck
NumbersUSA.com, April 16, 2020
. . .
https://www.numbersusa.com/blog/without-illegal-workers-costco-meatpacking-plant-work-safer-healthier

Return to Top

****
****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8.

New York Times Offers a Glimpse at Life Without Congestion

By Jeremy Beck

NumbersUSA.com, April 15, 2020

. . .

https://www.numbersusa.com/blog/new-york-times-offers-glimpse-life-without-congestion

Return to Top

****

****

9.

Fewer Drivers, Not More Roads

By Amy Boylan

NumbersUSA.com, April 15, 2020

. . .

https://www.numbersusa.com/blog/fewer-drivers-not-more-roads

Return to Top

****

****

10.

DHS Allows Agricultural Guestworkers to Stay Indefinitely

By Preston Huennekens

ImmigrationReform.com, April 16, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/16/guestworker-agriculture-dhs-h2a-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

11.

Rep. Jayapal and Sen. Booker Call for End of Immigration Enforcement

By Preston Huennekens

ImmigrationReform.com, April 16, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/16/congress-end-immigration-enforcement-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

12.

Time to End Foreign Student Preference Programs

By Jennifer G. Hickey

ImmigrationReform.com, April 16, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/16/foreign-student-guest-workers-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****

****

13.

Inside the Mass Immigration Playbook: When Your Best Arguments Fail, Make Up New Ones

By Dave Ray

ImmigrationReform.com, April 15, 2020

. . .

https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/15/ice-media-bias-covid-19-immigrationreform-com/

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

14.
Washington State: Buses as Rolling Sanctuaries
By Matt O'Brien
ImmigrationReform.com, April 15, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/14/fema-funding-covid-border-security-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

15.
Funding Border Security Is Not the Reason for Lack of Preparedness to the COVID-19 Emergency
By Ira Mehlman
ImmigrationReform.com, April 14, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/14/fema-funding-covid-border-security-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

16.
The Coronavirus Is No Reason to Waive the Rules for Immigrants
By Matt O'Brien
TheHill.com, April 15, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

. . .
https://thehill.com/opinion/immigration/492739-the-coronavirus-is-no-reason-to-waive-the-rules-for-immigrants

Return to Top

****
****

17.
Quarantine: Good for Americans, Good for Detained Aliens
By Matt O'Brien
ImmigrationReform.com, April 14, 2020
. . .
https://www.immigrationreform.com/2020/04/14/ice-detention-covid-19-fears-immigrationreform-com/

Return to Top

****
****

18.
Coronavirus Pandemic
By Debra Heine
American Greatness, April 17, 2020
. . .
https://amgreatness.com/2020/04/17/state-dept-resettles-over-1000-afghan-refugees-during-coronavirus-pandemic/

Return to Top

****
****

19.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Judge Shelley Joseph Setting Free Illegal Immigrants the Ultimate Political Statement
By Joe Battenfeld
The Boston Herald, April 15, 2020
. . .
https://www.bostonherald.com/2020/04/15/setting-free-illegal-immigrants-the-ultimate-political-statement/

Return to Top

****
****

20.
NATIONAL DATA: Coronavirus Kills Jobs — and Displacement! Immigrant Population FALLS For 7th Straight Month! IMMIGRATION MORATORIUM NOW!
By Edwin S. Rubenstein
VDare.com, April 12, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/articles/national-data-coronavirus-kills-jobs-and-displacement-immigrant-population-falls-for-7th-straight-month-immigration-moratorium-now

Return to Top

****
****

21.
Jeff Sessions Calls for Immigration Moratorium in Response to Coronavirus Devastation
By Washington Watcher II
VDare.com Blog, April 16, 2020
. . .
https://vdare.com/posts/jeff-sessions-calls-for-immigration-moratorium-in-response-to-coronavirus-devastation

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****

****

22.

Charlie Kirk Says It's Time for an Immigration Moratorium. Where Is Congressional GOP?

By Washington Watcher II

VDare.com, April 14, 2020

. . .

https://vdare.com/articles/charlie-kirk-says-it-s-time-for-an-immigration-moratorium-where-is-congressional-gop

Return to Top

****

****

23.

Pandemics and Population: Correlation to Further Disasters for America

By Frosty Wooldridge

NewsWithViews.com, April 16th, 2020

. . .

https://newswithviews.com/pandemics-and-population-correlation-to-further-disasters-for-america/

Return to Top

****

****

24.

DHS Continues to Waive Laws to Speed Border Wall Build

By Emma Whitford

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Law360.com, April 14, 2020

. . .

https://www.law360.com/articles/1263433/dhs-continues-to-waive-laws-to-speed-border-wall-build

Return to Top

****

****

25.

Research Provides No Basis for Pandemic Travel Bans

By David J. Bier

CATO at Liberty Blog, April 14, 2020

. . .

https://www.cato.org/blog/research-provides-no-basis-pandemic-travel-bans

Return to Top

****

****

26.

USCIS Disputes Improperly Denying 900 H-1B Visa Registrations

By Stuart Anderson

Forbes.com, April 13, 2020

. . .

https://www.forbes.com/sites/stuartanderson/2020/04/13/uscis-disputes-improperly-denying-900-h-1b-visa-registrations/#1c05461a70a6

Return to Top

****

****

27.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Trump Has Achieved His Goal of Abolishing Asylum

The pandemic has added one more insurmountable hurdle for asylum seekers.

By Bill Ong Hing

Slate.com, April 10, 2020

. . .

https://slate.com/news-and-politics/2020/04/trump-asylum-coronavirus.html

Return to Top

****

****

28.

Trump Is Dissolving Congress in Plain Sight, and Immigration's a Top Example

By David Hernández

The Fulcrum, April 10

. . .

https://thefulcrum.us/balance-of-power/donald-trump-executive-orders

Return to Top

****

****

29.

A Cry for Justice for Detained Immigrants

By Minerva G. Carcano, R Guy Erwin, Mark W. Holmerud, and Andrew A. Taylor

The San Bernardino Sun, April 15, 2020

. . .

https://www.sbsun.com/2020/04/15/a-cry-for-justice-for-detained-immigrants/

Return to Top

****

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

30.

Stephen Miller Is Exploiting the Coronavirus Crisis for His Immigration Crackdown

Trump's senior adviser is reportedly pushing to leave immigrant children in the custody of border patrol for an extended period.

By Eric Lutz

Vanity Fair, April 16, 2020

. . .

https://www.vanityfair.com/news/2020/04/stephen-miller-exploiting-coronavirus-crisis-for-his-immigration-crackdown

Return to Top

****

****

31.

She's an Undocumented Immigrant, a Taxpayer and an Essential Worker. But She Won't Get a Stimulus Check.

About 8% of Texas workers are undocumented, and because they're not eligible for stimulus payments, many are facing tough choices during the pandemic.

By Julián Aguilar

Texas Tribune, April 16, 2020

. . .

https://www.texastribune.org/2020/04/16/texas-undocumented-workers-stimulus-checks/

Return to Top

****

****

32.

USCIS Consistently Denies H-1B Petitions. This Lawsuit Argues It's Misinterpreting the Law.

By Leslie Dellon

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ImmigrationImpact.com, April 17, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/04/17/uscis-h1b-class-action-lawsuit/#.XpxqYs-WybY

Return to Top

****

****

33.

Immigrant Survivors of Domestic Violence Face Unique Risks During Coronavirus

By Katie Shepherd

ImmigrationImpact.com, April 14, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/04/14/coronavirus-domestic-violence/#.XpxrNs-WybY

Return to Top

****

****

34.

The Disproportionate Impact of Deportations in Rural Communities

By Walter Ewing

ImmigrationImpact.com, April 13, 2020

. . .

https://immigrationimpact.com/2020/04/13/deportation-rural-communities/#.XpxrC8-WybY

Return to Top

****

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, April 20, 2020 6:56 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: New from the Center for Immigration Studies, 4/20/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

What's Happening at the Center

Does the Media's Hatred for Trump Trump Its Devotion to Mass Immigration?
By Mark Krikorian
National Review, April 16, 2020

Featured Posts

Governors Enforcing Restrictions at State Borders to Stop the Wuhan Virus
By Andrew R. Arthur
In the not-so-distant past, there was a strong reluctance from individuals in certain quarters to enforce our national borders. That was then. Now, several states are insisting on enforcing their own borders, to prevent the spread of the Wuhan virus. Those state restrictions provide a lesson for immigration debates in the future.

With 10,000 Summary Deportations in Two Weeks, CBP Down to 100 in Custody
By Andrew R. Arthur
On Thursday, the Washington Post reported that more than 10,000 aliens have been summarily deported since March 21, the day after the president issued his travel restrictions along the Southwest border to stem the tide of the Wuhan virus. As a consequence, U.S. Customs and Border Protection has fewer than 100 detainees in its custody, "down from nearly 20,000 at this time last year during the border crisis."

Members of Congress Urge White House Not to Send Those $1,200 Checks to Illegal Aliens
By David North
Reps. Ken Buck (R-CO), Andy Biggs (R-AZ.), and 38 other members of Congress sent a letter to the White House on Monday encouraging the government not to send those $1,200 checks to illegal aliens. As we have written from time to time, just insisting on a Social Security number as a key to these checks is not a guarantee that the payments will not go to illegal aliens.

Hundreds of Central American Migrants Left at Guatemala Border by Mexican Authorities
By Jason Peña
Mexico's National Migration Institute left over 480 Honduran, Guatemalan, and Salvadoran migrants on the Mexico-Guatemala border. The nearly 500 Central Americans had boarded buses from several migration detention facilities throughout southern Mexico to be sent back to their countries of origin. But Guatemalan immigration agents refused to accept the migrants over fear of contracting COVID-19.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

More Blog Posts

- Government Increases Utilization of H-2A Farm Workers Now in the States
- New Numbers on Title 42 (Public Health) Border Expulsions
- Those $1,200 Checks and Unemployment Insurance for Nonimmigrants
- Has Joe Biden Changed His Mind on a Massive Expansion of Legal Immigration?
- A Win-Win Idea - Use Idled Federal Workers to Check SSNs of Illegal Aliens

Videos

Mark Krikorian, the Center's executive director, describes the types of jobs H-2B workers fill, their impact on American workers' wages, and the president's authority to limit their admittance if they are "detrimental to the interest of the United States."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Center for Immigration Studies hosted a virtual panel discussion on Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) detention and whether the institutional conditions of detention centers necessitate the release of immigrant detainees due to the Wuhan coronavirus.

Visit Website

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Kay Coles James

From: Kay Coles James
Sent: Monday, April 20, 2020 4:37 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: National Coronavirus Recovery Commission Releases First Set of Recommendations to Reopen America

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Image

Dear Law,

The coronavirus pandemic is one of the greatest challenges our nation will face in our lifetime. Earlier this month, The Heritage Foundation launched the National Coronavirus Recovery Commission comprised of experts in health care, business, government, economics, disaster relief, human behavior, and more. The commission is creating recommendations to address when and how Americans can begin to get "back to normal." Its goal is to save both lives and livelihoods.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I am pleased to announce that we are making great progress in delivering specific, actionable policy recommendations that will help federal, state, and local governments, businesses, and our civil society navigate through this crisis and toward recovery. Today, we are rolling out the first two phases of a five-phase plan to reopen America. These first two phases address how to:

- return to a more normal level of business activity at the regional level
- slow the spread of the virus while expanding testing, reporting, and contact tracing

You can find these recommendations here and view today's press release here.

President Trump is leading our nation with his plan to "Open America Again." At the same time, the National Coronavirus Recovery Commission is putting forth a rigorously devised agenda that will aid the administration in crafting a winning strategy against this invisible war and ensure the safety of the American people while getting them back to work. These recommendations are vetted by the commissioners and are the most specific, actionable policy steps yet to be put forth.

We understand that policy shapers like you are faced with some of the most consequential decisions they will likely ever have to make. The National Coronavirus Recovery Commission is eager to stand with you as we work to find our way out of this public health and economic crisis.

Sincerely,

Kay C. James
President
The Heritage Foundation

Image

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Monday, April 20, 2020 5:14 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Immigration Events, 4/20/20

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Share

Tweet

Forward

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Immigration Events, 4/20/20

Support the Center for Immigration Studies by donating on line here:
http://cis.org/donate

1. 4/20, Nationwide - Podcast - This Week in Immigration - [New Listing]
2. 4/21, Nationwide - CIS panel discussion America's post-pandemic labor force - [New Listing]
3. 4/21, Nationwide - Webinar on COVID-19 and refugee camps
4. 4/22, Nationwide - Webcast discussion on immigration and the U.S.-Mexico Border during the Pandemic - [New Listing]
5. Webinar on pandemic response and executive authority in El Salvador - [New Listing]
6. 4/22-23, Edinburgh, Scotland - Immigration at the Association for the Study of Ethnicity and Nationalism annual conference
7. 5/6-8, DC - Certificate program course on immigration policy
8. 5/8, Nationwide - Livestreamed discussion on immigration detention, courts, and COVID-19
9. 5/13-16, Guadalajara, Mexico - Latin American Studies Association annual meeting - [Still scheduled]
10. 6/29-7/10, Brussels - 2020 Summer School on EU Immigration and Asylum Law and Policy
11. 7/27-31, DC - Certificate program course on global displacement and migration studies
12 8/24-29, Prague - IOM summer school on Migration Studies
13. 9/24-26, Portland, OR - Crimmigration Control International Network of Studies conference
14. 10/5-6, Ottawa - Annual Canadian immigration summit - [Rescheduled from 3/13-14]

1.
Episode 66: This Week in Immigration

Monday, April 20, 2020
Bipartisan Policy Center podcast
https://bipartisanpolicy.org/podcast-episode/episode-66-this-week-in-

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

immigration/

Description: In this week's episode, Host Jordan LaPier sits down with BPC regulars Theresa Cardinal Brown and Cris Ramón to discuss the CDC's new Title 42 order that allows CBP to expel any migrant arriving at the U.S. border from the United States on public health grounds, the efforts of Northern Triangle countries to limit the arrival of deportations from the United States to mitigate the spread of the coronavirus, and way states and cities are providing disaster relief support to their immigrant populations during the economic fallout from the pandemic.

This podcast can also be found on Apple Podcasts, Stitcher and Google Play.

Want to listen to more podcasts focused on immigration? You can find all episodes here.

Return to Top

****
****

2.
America's Post-Pandemic Labor Force

Do we need millions of foreign workers?

11:00 a.m., Tuesday, April 21, 2020
Center for Immigration Studies virtual panel
https://cis.org/Press-Release/Panel-Americas-PostPandemic-Labor-Force

Description: The Center for Immigration Studies will stream a panel discussion on the need for present levels of foreign workers in the United States at a time of high unemployment. With 20 million layoffs in just one month, and both white collar and blue collar workers being impacted, U.S. visa programs continue to bring in an historic number of workers impacting job opportunities and wages for American workers.

How many foreign workers are employed in the United States? What type of jobs are they filling? How does it impact wages for Americans? Are these jobs Americans won't do? Is a moratorium on employment-based immigration a good idea?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Return to Top

****
****

3.
COVID-19 and Refugee Camps

Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility at The New School

1:00-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 21, 2020
Online-Zoom
https://event.newschool.edu/st-spiegel

Speaker:
Alex Aleinikoff is joined by Paul Spiegel, MD, MPH, Professor of the Practice, Director of the Center for Humanitarian Health at Johns Hopkins University, to discuss COVID-19 and refugee camps.

Description: Scholars and activists on migration and mobility will join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19, during the worldwide pandemic.

Join the Zolberg Institute in an online series of short discussions on the nexus of migration-related issues and COVID-19.

Return to Top

****
****

4.
Immigration and the U.S.-Mexico Border during the Pandemic: A

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Conversation with Members of Congress

4:00-5:00 p.m. ET, Wednesday, April 22, 2020
Woodrow Wilson Center Mexico Institute
https://www.wilsoncenter.org/event/webcast-immigration-and-us-mexico-border-during-pandemic-conversation-members-congress?emci=2cc76b3c-1280-ea11-a94c-00155d03b1e8&emdi=555eeac4-e280-ea11-a94c-00155d03b1e8&ceid=32079

Opening Remarks:
Duncan Wood, Director, Mexico Institute, Wilson Center

Speakers:
Rep. Veronica Escobar (D-TX)
Member of the House Judiciary Committee's Subcommittee on Immigration and Citizenship

Rep. Dan Crenshaw (R-TX)
Member of the House Homeland Security Committee and Ranking Member of its Oversight, Management, and Accountability Subcommittee

Moderator:
Andrew Selee, President, Migration Policy Institute

Description: As the U.S. government has implemented a raft of measures to combat the spread of COVID-19, a significant number have been in the immigration arena, touching in particular on the U.S.-Mexico border. The Mexican and U.S. administrations agreed to halt nonessential travel across the border, slowing activity across a closely interconnected and vibrant regional economy. The Trump administration also has taken a number of unprecedented measures, drawing on powers given to the Surgeon General in 1944 to block the entry of foreign nationals deemed possible health risks. As a result, border officials have expelled more than 10,000 unauthorized migrants and asylum seekers through an expedited process and largely ended access to asylum during the crisis.

In a bipartisan discussion organized by the Wilson Center's Mexico Institute and the Migration Policy Institute, two border-state members of Congress – Rep. Veronica Escobar of El Paso and Rep. Dan Crenshaw of suburban Houston – will discuss the response to the coronavirus outbreak, how it is affecting the border region, and what the future might hold.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

RSVP: https://engage.wilsoncenter.org/onlineactions/WxL1W5Z_QkW-H2gEK5_hQA2

Return to Top

****

****

5.

Pandemic Response and Executive Authority – The Case of El Salvador

10:00-11:00 a.m., Wednesday, April 22, 2020
Inter American Dialogue Online Webinar
https://www.thedialogue.org/events/online-event-pandemic-response-and-executive-authority-the-case-of-el-salvador/

Speakers:
Jose Miguel Vivanco, Executive Director, Americas Division, Human Rights Watch

Carlos Dada, Founder, El Faro

Leonor Arteaga, Senior Program Officer, Due Process of Law Foundation (DPLF); Member of the El Salvador National Commission for the Search of Disappeared Persons

Moderator:
Michael Camilleri, Director, Peter D. Bell Rule of Law Program, Inter-American Dialogue

Description: President Nayib Bukele reacted quickly to the threat of Covid-19, closing El Salvador's borders and implementing stay-at-home orders. But reports quickly emerged of arbitrary detentions by security forces enforcing Bukele's quarantine. When the Supreme Court's Constitutional Chamber ruled against the detentions, Bukele defied the court's order, and the Salvadoran military remains in the streets enforcing a lockdown in the municipality of La Libertad.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

How serious are concerns regarding human rights and the separation of powers in El Salvador, and what are the risks if the constitutional showdown continues? What limits exist on a president's authority in a time of emergency, and might other countries in the region run a similar risk of executive overreach?

Follow this event on Twitter at #ElSalvadorDDHH and @The_Dialogue.

We invite participants to submit questions using the event hashtag on Twitter OR to email questions to meetings@thedialogue.org. Please RSVP to receive dial-in information.

Return to Top

****
****

6.
30th ASEN Annual Conference: Nationalism and Multiculturalism

Wednesday-Thursday, April 22-23, 2020
University of Edinburgh
Edinburgh, Scotland
https://asen.ac.uk/events/asen-conference/

Conference programme draft - Immigration-related sessions

Wednesday, April 22, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.
Welcome Ceremony and First plenary speaker: Bikhu Parekh

10:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 1

Diaspora Communities: Long-Distance Nationalism in Situ

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Indo-Trinidadian heritage: Toronto as a diaporic context
Kathleen Boodhai

Nationalism and politics among the Chinese diaspora in the UK
Oana Burcu

How Restrictive is Liberal Nationalism's Immigration Policy?
Ranjoo Herr

Rescaling Identity in Europe: Civilisationism, Self-determinism, and Multiculturalism

Other Brexit Imaginaries: Openness and the crisis of liberal Britain
Arshad Isakjee

Rescaling the border: Simulation, sovereignty and civilisationism
Paul Richardson

Challenges to Scandinavian National Identities

From Exclusion to Establishment: Researching Anti-Political Establishment Parties in Scandinavia
Johan Andersen

3:15-4:45 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 2

Social Perceptions of Diversity : Migration in European Nations

National/ European identities and attitudes towards migrant integration: findings from EVS-European Values Study
Simona Guglielmi

The perception of European migrant crisis by Danish minority in Germany and German minority in Denmark. A comparative analysis of media discourses.
Sergiusz Bober

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Migration and national minority communities: two sides in the debate about multiculturalism and interculturalism in Catalonia
Mariona Lladonosa

What's in a name? Children of migrants, national belonging and the politics of naming
Marco Antonsich

3:00-4:30 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 3

Indeterminate status: the Global Refugee Crisis

Nationalism and Immigration in Greece and the Netherlands: a Comparative Perspective
Thanos Koulos

Creating "refugees" within: Challenges for multiculturalism in Japan where only 20 refugees are accepted out of 20,000 applications
Naoko Hosokawa

Syrian refugees in Turkey: Challenge to Nationalism
Cigdem Nas

New Approaches in Nationalism Studies

Beyond assimilation: the compliance – resistance theory
Manolis Pratsinakis

When the Methods are Madness: Researching with Refugees in the UK
Isabella Gabrovsky

4:00-6:00 p.m.
Plenary speaker: Christian Joppke

Thursday, April 23, 2020

9:00-10:30 a.m.
Populism, Multiculturalism and Internationalism in Eurasia: Negotiating

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Empire and its Legacies

Russia reports Western voting: transnational nationalisms versus multiculturalism
Chatterje-Doody

1:30-3:00 p.m.
PANEL SESSION 5

Minority Nationalisms in the West

Immigration and the Imagined Community: Province-wide Norm or Local-level Realities in Quebec?
Antoine Bilodeau

European stateless nationalisms facing the challenge of multiculturalism. Insights from Scotland, Catalonia, Basque Country and Flanders
Paolo Perri

Migration, Minority Groups and the Politics of Multiculturalism in Japan and Northeast Asia

The politics of local multiculturalism in the age of superdiversity and resurgent nationalism in Japan
Sachi Takaya

Challenges and Possibilities of "Multicultural Japan" – The Emergence of Minority Representatives in Japan's Political Landscape
Seiko Mimaki

Territorial Disputes in Northeast Asia: Questioning the "national consciousness" paradigm
Alexander Bukh

Cultural nationalism in multicultural Japan
Fumiko Takahashi

Book Panel: Struggle over Borders
Pieter De Wilde

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Disputing 'One China': Cases from Hong Kong and Taiwan

One country, two identities. In search of Hong Kong's identity
Malgorzata Osinska

'I was discriminated against because I was seen as PRC-Chinese': The negotiation between ethnicity and nationalism among Taiwanese migrants in Australia
Yao-Tai Li

Representing the Nation in Media Discourses

Cultural Boundary Drawings of German National Identity in Migrant Integration Discourses
Anja Benedikt

Book Panel: Borderline Citizen: Dispatches from the outskirts of nationhood
Robin Hemley

3:15-4:45 p.m.
Beyond the Melting Pot: Ethnicity in North America

Melting the Pot: The Rise of 'Ethnicity' in the United States
Jaakko Heiskanen

The Oxymoronic Nation: Liberal Individualism and the Invention of Color Race and Ethnicity in the United States, 1880-1920
Reynolds Scott-Childress

Muslim Minorities in Europe

Liberal citizenship, pluralism and Muslims in Europe
Nasar Meer

Spiritualising Reason, Rationalising Spirit. Ex-, Practicing, and Converted Muslim Public Intellectuals in the German Far-Right
Julian Gopffarth

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Laïcité bien comprise vs. Laïcité compromise: Senegalese Muslims in France
Olivia Till

Questioning Perceptions of National Belonging with Discourse Analysis

Discursive constructions of national identity in the Gulf States: 'Deserving citizens' and 'undeserving migrants'
Idil Akinci

Cataloguing the nation: National canons and admission to citizenship in the Netherlands and Flanders (2006-2019)
Jan Rock

Return to Top

****
****

7.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-716 - Immigration Policy

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Wednesday-Friday, May 6-8, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=29908153

Course Description: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

activities.

The course also examines policies related to forced migration, including refugee resettlement, asylum and temporary protected status. These issues will be discussed in a comparative framework, analyzing how other countries address issues affecting the United States. The course will examine the role of federal, state and local authorities in implementing policy reforms. It also examines the role of public opinion and various interest groups in affecting policy formulation.

Students will be required to write a 10-page paper, due after the course completion, on a specific reform issue.

Section Notes: U.S. Immigration Reform examines the strengths and weaknesses of current US immigration policy and proposals for its reform. The course focuses on the system for legal permanent admissions and temporary admissions (nonimmigrant categories) for work, family reunification, study, and other similar purposes. It also examines policies designed to curb unauthorized migration, assessing the effectiveness of border and interior enforcement activities.

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $1,195.00, 24 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

8.
Immigration Detention, Courts, and COVID-19

12:00-1:30 p.m., Friday, May 8, 2020
UCLA Center for the Study of International Migration
https://www.international.ucla.edu/migration/event/14351

Description: Please join us in a conversation with Professor of Law Ingrid V,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Eagly regarding how COVID-19 may be affecting migrants in detention

Return to Top

****
****

9.
Latin American Studies Association annual meeting

Wednesday-Saturday, May 13-16, 2020
Guadalajara, Mexico
https://lasaweb.org/en/lasa2020/

Conference program to be available soon.

Return to Top

****
****

10.
2020 Summer School on EU Immigration and Asylum Law and Policy

Monday, June 29-Friday, July 10, 2020
Université libre de Bruxelles
Brussels, Belgium
http://odysseus-network.eu/2020-summer-school/eng/

Description: While we celebrate the 20th anniversary of our summer school, it has trained more than 2000 persons and is well known among employers considering it as an asset for job seekers. This 20th edition will focus on the new pact on migration to be presented in April by the European Commission. The objective is to give to the participants a global understanding of the immigration and asylum policies in the EU from a legal perspective. The summer school is organised by the Odysseus Network for Legal Studies on Immigration and Asylum in Europe, founded in 1999 with the support of the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

European Commission. In addition to classes, the summer school provides an excellent opportunity to spend an intellectually stimulating time in a group of around one hundred participants specialised in the area of asylum and immigration from all over Europe. The location of the summer school in Brussels creates a unique environment facilitating participants' interaction with European institutions. Participants in the summer school typically includes PhD and graduate students, researchers, EU and Member State officials, representatives from NGOs and International Organisations, lawyers, judges, social workers, etc. The classes are taught by academics originating from all EU Member States collaborating in the framework of the Odysseus Network, and by high-ranking officials from the European Institutions, particularly the European Commission. You can discover the Summer School through this video: odysseus-network.eu/2020-summer-school

Subjects:

Opening lecture

Migration flows and statistics

Free movement of EU citizens

European institutional framework.

Implications of human rights

External relations and European migration policy

European Databases (SIS, VIS, Eurodac, etc.)

External border control

European visa policy

Immigration for purposes of work

Family reunification

Status and integration of third country nationals

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Smuggling and trafficking

Return and readmission

Reception conditions for asylum seekers

European concepts of refugee and of subsidiary protection

Member States responsibility

("Dublin mechanism")

Asylum procedures

Calendar and Schedule: The first general part of the program includes 14 hours of lectures and the second and third specialised parts on immigration and asylum 30 hours in total. Each day is generally done of 2classes of 2 hours, presented with a coffeebreak in between. In order to enable participants in full-time employment to attend the classes, courses take mainly place in the afternoon between 2 pm and 6:30pm.

Return to Top

****
****

11.
Certificate program course in International Migration Studies

XCPD-744 - Global Displacement & Migration Studies

9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., Monday-Friday, July 27-31, 2020
Georgetown University School of Continuing Studies
C-204, 640 Massachusetts Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20001
https://portal.scs.georgetown.edu/search/publicCourseSearchDetails.do?method=load&courseId=31222947

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Course Description: This course offers deep knowledge and information about the different groups of people on the move (labor migrants, refugees, internally displaced, asylum seekers, and others), and the multiple causes and consequences of such movements of people. It also provides a global overview of displacement and migration numbers and trends; drivers of population movements; impacts on origin, transit and host countries; and policy responses to population movements.

Specifically, the course will cover the major theoretical explanations underpinning displacement and international migration; global migration and refugee governance; differences and trends in national policies, especially refugee resettlement and labor migration; integration experiences of immigrants in host countries; and connections between migration and displacement and other issues as security, development and environmental change. Finally, the certificate will illustrate how research questions are answered in an effort to enhance existing knowledge and improve policies and practices.

Course Objectives:

* After completing the certificate, successful students will be able to:

* Understand current patterns and trends related to displacement and global migration, including the number and characteristics of those on the move at global, regionally and national levels

* Understand differences among those on the move, including refugees, internally displaced persons, asylum seekers and others

* Articulate the causes of displacement and migration, drawing from both theory and empirical evidence;

* Describe the global refugee and migration governance frameworks and how they articulate the rights of people on the move and the responsibilities of origin, transit and destination countries;

* Assess the interconnections between international migration and other transnational issues, such as development, security and climate change

* Discuss and articulate strengths and weaknesses of the national policy frameworks governing the admission of migrants, control of irregular migration, protection of refugees and other forced migrants, etc.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

* Understand the integration process of immigrants, and the resettlement process of refugees, in destination countries

* Learn how to ask and answer relevant research questions about these issues

Instructor: Katharine Donato

Tuition: $4,995.00, 60 contract hours

Return to Top

****
****

12.
IOM Summer School on Migration Studies

Monday-Sunday, August 24-29, 2020
Charles University
Prague, Czech Republic
http://www.iom.cz/home/iom-summer-school-on-migration-studies-2020

Description: The 12th IOM Prague Summer School on Migration Studies will be held at Charles University in Prague from 24th to 29th August 2020. IOM Prague has organised the Summer School every year since 2009, and more than 600 students and professionals from almost 100 countries have attended these lectures.

The programme is open for university students (both graduate and undergraduate) as well as young professionals. Six days of lectures, workshops and discussions with experts will provide a unique opportunity to get familiar with different migration topics, including integration of migrants, trafficking in human beings, environmental migration, migration and gender, migration and health, migration and development and return migration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The application deadline is 5th April 2020. For information about the event and how to apply, please visit the programme website.

For the 2020 edition, the programme includes the following topics and experts:

* Dušan Drbohlav, Faculty of Science, Charles University in Prague - Migration Theories, Myth and Realities
* Fatima Eldiasty, UNHCR Middle East and North Africa Operations - Mixed Migration Flows
* Eric Opoku Ware, Sahara Hustlers Association Ghana - The Realities of Irregular Migration from Africa
* Michal Broža, United Nations Information Centre (UNIC) Prague - A World on the Move-Migration and Current Global Risks
* Robert Stojanov, University Padova (visiting) and Mendel University - Environmental Migration
* Tomáš Sobotka, Wittgenstein Centre Vienna - Migration and Demography
* Michal Vašecka, Bratislava International School of Liberal Arts - Integration of Migrants
* Salim Murad, EMMIR – European Master in Migration and Intercultural Relations - Migration and Ethnicity
* Petra Ezzeddine, Faculty of Humanities, Charles University - Migration and Gender
* Eva Janská, Geographic Migration Centre - Transnational Migration
* Kristýna Andrlová, UNHCR Prague - Assistance to Asylum Seekers and Refugees
* Irena Fercík Konecná, International Committee on the Rights of Sex Workers in Europe - Human Trafficking

Return to Top

****
****

13.

Crimmigration, Capital, and Consequences, 5th Biennial CINETS Conference

Wednesday-Friday, September 24–26, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Lewis and Clark Law School
10015 SW Terwilliger Blvd #7768
Portland, OR 97219
https://www.law.ox.ac.uk/news/2019-12-17-crimmigration-capital-and-consequences-5th-biennial-cinets-conference

Description: The Crimmigration Control International Network of Studies (CINETS) is pleased to invite you to our fifth biennial international conference, which will be held in partnership with Lewis & Clark's 25th annual Business Law Forum. For the first time, Oxford-based Border Criminologies will join CINETS as a co-host for this event.

Crimmigration, the merging of immigration enforcement and criminal justice regimes, has rapidly become the dominant response to human mobility around the globe. Crimmigration has emerged, ironically, in tandem with growing economic globalization. For capital, national borders have virtually disappeared, while the walls, virtual and literal, are growing higher for workers and others who need mobility to thrive, and even survive. Race, ethnicity, and personal wealth matter in who gains entry. Are fairness, justice, and inclusion, values that democratic societies hold dear, to be available only on a members-only basis? What is the role of capital in fomenting human mobility and profiting from the barriers that governments are erecting to deter immigrants? How can we resist the bordering trend that works selectively against those most in need? This conference will treat crimmigration and bordering holistically as systems nested within economy and society in subtle, and not-so-subtle, ways.

We welcome individual and panel submission (fully or partly-formed). The conference also welcomes submissions for work-in-progress sessions, including potential Border Criminologies blog posts. To apply, submit a (maximum) 200-word abstract, with a tentative title and contact information. Please indicate whether you are applying for a papers-only panel or a work-in-progress/blog post session.

Deadline for submissions is June 15, 2020. Send your submissions and questions to Richard Adams at richardadams@lclark.edu.

Return to Top

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

****

****

14.

Immigration and the changing nature of work

Canadian Immigration Summit 2020

Monday-Tuesday, October 5-6, 2020
The Shaw Center
Ottawa, Ontario, Canada
https://www.conferenceboard.ca/web/canadian-immigration-summit-2020.html

Programme:

Monday, October 5, 2020

8:20 a.m.
Opening remarks—Building an attractive and welcoming immigration system

8:40 a.m.
Remarks—Remaining competitive in a disruptive economy

9:00 a.m.
Keynote -Radical innovation for greater social good

9:30 a.m.
Panel presentation - Global migration trends—Systems and policies

11:00 a.m.
Concurrent Sessions (please select one)

Concurrent A1: Fostering immigrant entrepreneurship

Concurrent A2: Long-term success of international students in Canada

Concurrent A3: Paving pathways for inclusion for skilled refugees

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1:00 p.m.
Concurrent Sessions (please select one)

Concurrent B1: Using technology to help immigrants and refugees

Concurrent B2: Immigrant women and the fourth industrial revolution

Concurrent B3: In-camera session for employers—Talent solutions at the intersection of immigration and long-term prosperity

2:30 p.m.
Panel presentation - Attracting an immigrant workforce: Regional approaches to immigration in the new world of work

3:30 p.m.
Panel discussion - Innovation in the workplace—The employer experience

4:45 p.m.
Day 1 roundup

Tuesday, October 6, 2020

8:15 a.m.
Remarks—Building a forward-thinking workforce

9:00 a.m.
Keynote - Innovative solutions: Can technology help transform the labour market, reskill workers, and support lifelong learning?

10:00 a.m.
Panel discussion - Business savvy with a global mindset: Employment in the age of increased migration

11:00 a.m.
Presentation - Remaining competitive through immigration and future-thinking

11:45 a.m.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Summit closing remarks

12:00 p.m.
Conference conclusion

1:00 p.m.
Optional Workshop Attracting international investment through business succession

****

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Tuesday, April 21, 2020 7:53 AM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: PANEL TODAY AT 11AM: America's Post-Pandemic Labor Force

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

PANEL DISCUSSION TODAY 11AM EST

America's Post-Pandemic Labor Force

Do we need millions of foreign workers?

Late last night President Trump announced his intent to sign an executive order to temporarily suspend immigration to the United States. This morning at 11:00am EST the Center for Immigration Studies will stream a panel discussion on the need for present levels of foreign workers in the United States at a time of high unemployment.

Is a moratorium on employment-based immigration a good idea? What are the most important visa programs for the executive order to be suspending? How many foreign workers are employed in the United States? What type of jobs are they filling? How does it impact wages for Americans? Are these jobs Americans won't do?

When: Tuesday, April 21 at 11:00am
Stream: Live on Facebook, YouTube, and Twitter.
Questions: Questions can be sent prior or during the event to mrt@cis.org or on twitter to @CIS_org.

Related Articles:
Video Immigration Brief: The H-2B Visa - Jobs Americans Will Do
Visas for Pottersville
Does the Mass Media's Hatred of Trump Trump Its Devotion to Mass Immigration?
Argument Against Agricultural and Food Processing Guestworkers During Pandemic
Government Increases Utilization of H-2A Farm Workers Now in the States
Trump Waves in Seasonal Foreign Workers as Pandemic Peaks

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Heritage Foundation

From: The Heritage Foundation
Sent: Tuesday, April 21, 2020 2:57 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Policymakers Must Resist State and Local Bailouts

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

Image

Kay C. James: Policymakers Must Resist State and Local Bailouts

April 21, 2020

WASHINGTON - This afternoon the Senate will consider legislation backed by President Trump to replenish funds in the Paycheck Protection Program. Heritage Foundation President Kay C. James released the following statement:

"It's past time for Congress to provide additional relief for small businesses. The Paycheck Protection Program helps with the primary economic goal of keeping workers connected to their jobs during this temporary crisis, which is critical to eventual economic recovery.

"Far-left politicians have held small business owners and workers hostage for weeks trying to secure no-strings-attached dollars to bail out state and local governments that have had budget problems unrelated to the current pandemic. Not only would such a bailout set the stage for future mismanagement, it is not the federal government's role to use taxpayer dollars to finance states' ordinary operations or encourage longer shutdown measures than necessary.

"While the final agreement to fund the Paycheck Protection Program fortunately doesn't include this provision, policymakers must continue to resist calls for state and local bailouts. Instead, Heritage's National Coronavirus Recovery Commission recommends that Congress provide targeted and temporary economic relief for taxpayers, families, and businesses of all sizes."

The National Coronavirus Recovery Commission brings together 17 experts whose mission is to help save both the lives and livelihoods of the American people. The commission has released 47 specific recommendations to reopen America that cover the first two phases of the commission's previously announced five-phase approach to recovery. The full list of recommendations can be found here.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Reopening America and combating the novel coronavirus requires an "all of society" approach. For example, the commission's recommendations call on governors to use local data to determine when it is safe enough to begin opening individual counties or regions and to do it as expeditiously as possible.

Read the statement online here.

Image

214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE | Washington, DC 20002 | (202) 546-4400

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Center for Immigration Studies

From: Center for Immigration Studies
Sent: Thursday, April 23, 2020 2:18 PM
To: Law, Robert T
Subject: Trump's Immigration Ban May Actually Rev Immigration Back Up

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the Federal Government. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact the USCIS Security Operations Center with questions or click the "Report Suspicious Email" button to report it as a phishing attempt.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Trump's Immigration Ban May Actually
Rev Immigration Back Up

The scandalous EB-5 program is excluded from ban

Washington, D.C. (April 23, 2020) – A new analysis by the Center for Immigration Studies concludes that the president's new executive order does not curtail immigration. It appears actually to re-start entries for select categories that had been paused indefinitely when the State Department shut down most visa adjudications on March 20, due to the pandemic. Even more concerning, it prioritizes the entry of the most scandal-ridden category of all – EB-5 – in which foreigners essentially can purchase green cards for their families.

The executive order is confusing. It suspends the entry of people who don't even have an immigrant visa yet, and who can't get one until the State Department's visa units re-open. The order also provides a large number of exceptions to the suspension, including the fraud ridden EB-5 program and the very broad exception – "Any other alien whose entry is determined to be in the national interest." If an applicant qualifies for one of these exceptions, the person now can have their immigrant visas processed and enter the United States, if able to travel here.

Read the entire analysis: https://cis.org/Vaughan/Trumps-Immigration-Ban-May-Actually-Rev-Immigration-Back

On the bright side, the adjudication of other non-essential categories is still paused, including the chain migration categories of parents and extended family, the diversity visa lottery, most employment applicants from abroad, spouses and children of green card holders, and a few others. These categories number approximately 25,000 immigrant visa applicants per month. If the suspension lasts for 60 days, this will represent a pause of about 50,000 applicants from abroad, or about 5 percent of annual immigration. There is no indication that the applications will not eventually be issued.

Most of the applicants in these categories, with the exception of the diversity visa lottery, parents, and the highest-caliber employment applicants, have already waited many years on the waiting list, so an additional wait of two months is not especially significant.

However well-intentioned, this executive order will provide little relief to Americans. The pause applies to only a tiny fraction of total annual admissions.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The order re-starts admissions that had already been paused, well before this health crisis is over and well before the employment crisis is over.

We recommend that the president take much bolder steps to help U.S. workers. For example, he should direct the Department of Labor and USCIS to review the labor certifications of thousands of pending employment-based green cards in order to ensure that the employer requests are still justifiable, that the businesses are still viable, and that the foreign workers are still needed at this time. The president should suspend all temporary work visa programs, including seasonal workers and white-collar visa workers, at least until the labor market stabilizes, or until Congress can pass needed reforms. There is no case for bringing in a million temporary visa workers when 22 million American workers are unemployed. Finally, the president should scale back the issuance of work permits to hundreds of thousands of foreign students, spouses of temporary workers, and those with unapproved pending green card applications.

Related Articles:
Trump's Ban on Migrants Does Not Cover EB-5 Families
It Takes a Willing Suspension of Disbelief to Believe in the 60 Day Immigration Moratorium
The President Suspends Immigration Temporarily

Visit Website

Copyright © 2020 Center for Immigration Studies, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:
Center for Immigration Studies 1629 K St., NW, Suite 600 Washington, DC 20006 USA

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

View this e-mail in your browser.

This is the Center for Immigration Studies CISNews e-mail list.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT