HHS clears the request to add the four airports (11 total), given a recent agreement with us and DHS/CPB. I do not believe a call on the topic is needed any longer.

Hope this helps,

@ScottGottliebMD

Meanwhile Comic Con will bring together 100,000 people in Seattle in a week. Into an area of America's only known, potential larger outbreak. So far, local officials and event organizer are maintaining the event with stepped up efforts at infection control and other measures.

The area is tightly connected to nation. In 2019, 46M domestic passengers passed through Seattle's airport – 8th busiest airport in U.S. by passenger numbers. There were 91 non-stop domestic destinations, with routes to California, Oregon, Alaska, and Colorado among most popular.

ECCC 2020 FAN REFUND FORM

March 4, 2020

Since its inception, fans have comprised the very core of Emerald City Comic Con and all of Reedpop. We speak daily (and at great length!) about how to always put our fans first in everything we do. The evolving situation with the COVID-19 virus and developments in and around the city of Seattle have most certainly been at the forefront of our minds as Emerald City Comic Con approaches. Our customer base is central to all Reedpop decisions, and this scenario is no different. We value all of your voices and the spectrum of feedback that we have been receiving. Knowing that no two fans are alike, we have decided to make an exception to our no refunds ticket policy for our fans who are unable or uncomfortable attending Emerald City Comic Con in light of current events.

We here at Reedpop remain dedicated to running Emerald City Comic Con but understand that not everyone will be comfortable with that decision; if you wish to forgo attending this year's edition of Emerald City Comic Con, we absolutely respect your wishes and will refund your ticket purchase (details on just how to do this will be on our website).

We are committed to following the enhanced cleaning guidelines, precautions and procedures that we recently deployed at our PAX East event in Boston and C2E2 in Chicago. We also insist that all fans, guests and exhibitors adhere to good sense and all protocols as suggested by the CDC. We are fully prepared to adjust our plans as the situation in and around Seattle develops. We are following - and will remain in compliance with - all city, state and federal guidelines. If the direction from federal, state or local official public health authorities does change between now and the show, we will adhere to that guidance, act upon it immediately, and update you.

We recognize that not everyone will agree with our decision: it is our feeling that this community values coming together and building connections, even in difficult times; that artists depend on fan relations to keep their work and careers growing; and that the very vibrancy of what makes our community special is just the type of energy and optimism that can buoy us as a broader community through these challenging and anxious times. In short, we feel we owe it to the customer to grant you the personal choice of whether or not to attend.

Our staff are fans, too, and we will be offering them the same option regarding attendance and working the show. In addition to extended daily work hours to bring you the best experience possible, incredibly long hours are dedicated yearlong to building Emerald City Comic Con. Staff are stakeholders in this event as well and we will honor their personal preferences.

Please stay in touch with us via our website and social media channels as this situation evolves. We continue to enthusiastically look forward to seeing you in Seattle very soon.

Coronavirus: Federal Funding Fact Sheet

The Administration has taken bold steps to contain and aggressively combat the spread of the virus in the Homeland. In addition, the Federal Government is working closely with state and local governments to put protective measures in place. At this time, the Administration is actively deploying necessary resources and instructing agencies to prioritize coronavirus response activities as they develop plans for spending funds available in FY 2020.

Resources Deployed

- On January 25, the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) notified Congress of its intent to use the Center for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) Infectious Diseases Rapid Response Reserve Fund to combat the virus, providing the Administration with $105 million in immediate emergency funding.
- The Administration annually deploys nearly $900 million dollars nationwide to state and local governments for public health and medical system emergency planning and response. HHS' Public Health Emergency Preparedness (PHEP) program and the Hospital Preparedness Program (HPP) provide Federal funding to 50 states, 8 territories, DC and 3 localities. Every year, PHEP and HPP provide vital resources to ensure communities and medical systems can effectively respond to infectious disease outbreaks, natural disasters, and other emergencies. PHEP has $675 million and HPP received $276 million available in FY 2020 to help communities prepare for emergencies such as this. The Federal government has invested billions of dollars over the past decade to elevate the preparedness of state and local public health systems.

Resources Available

- The Administration is prepared to tap into other sources across the Federal government to support efforts in monitoring, containing, and mitigating the risk the virus poses to the Homeland, which include:
 - HHS's Public Health and Social Services Emergency Fund (Strategic National Stockpile, Biomedical Advanced Research and Development Authority, Project Bioshield, and Hospital Preparedness Program)
 - CDC's Public Health Preparedness and Response, Emerging and Zoonotic Infectious Diseases, and Immunization and Respiratory Diseases funds
 - The National Institutes of Health's National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases
 - The Department of State's Emergencies in the Diplomatic and Consular Services and Global Health Programs
 - USAID's Global Health Programs and International Disaster Assistance
- In addition, on February 2, HHS preemptively notified Congress that it may need to use its transfer authority to deploy an additional $136 million to HHS agencies leading the response on the ground.

FY 2021 Budget*

- FY 2021 begins in October 2020. The Administration will work with Congress in the coming months to identify and prioritize any additional funding needs.
- The FY 2021 Budget prioritizes funding for CDC's infectious disease, global health, and emergency

Updated as of February 8, 2020

preparedness activities for a total of $4.3 billion, $135 million over FY 2020, including $50 million for the Infectious Diseases Rapid Response Reserve Fund.

- The Budget also requests $675 million for CDC's PHEP program to further help state and local governments' public health emergency preparedness and response operations.
- The Budget also requests $25 million to replenish USAID's Emergency Reserve Fund to rapidly respond to infectious disease outbreaks.

The referenced flight is - Delta Flight 188 from Beijing to Detroit, set to land at 6:50 PM tomorrow.

We need to get this cleared up immediately. Who's best to connect with Detroit's local CBP chapter?

DHS - When are the additional 4 airports being made public? I just saw the DHS statement go out which didn't list the new additions. Please advise as I'm starting to receive emails and want to update them as soon as possible.

Thank you,

Subject: Invitation to NSTC Fast Track Action Committee on Partnerships

Dear Colleagues,

As we all know, partnerships among U.S. Government (USG) departments and agencies, between the USG and industry, and cross-sector partnerships facilitated by the USG, can serve as force multipliers, enabling partnering organizations to achieve higher returns on investment, create efficiencies, leverage resources, and foster connections to advance common goals.

To boost the ability of departments and agencies to create, build, and manage effective partnerships in science and technology (S&T) research, development, and education we are establishing today the National Science and Technology Council (NSTC) Fast Track Action Committee (FTAC) on Partnerships. I would like to formally extend an invitation to each USG department or agency to join the FTAC on Partnerships.

A Charge to the FTAC is attached. It describes the group's purpose, objectives, and potential deliverables. Please identify a member of your staff who will participate on behalf of your department or agency and send the designated representative to NSTC Executive Director, Chloe Kontos (b)(6) by February 17, 2020. For your reference, I am attaching a list of staff who participated in an "OSTP Interagency Roundtable on Partnerships" late last year.

To kick off the new year, the creation of the FTAC, and to highlight the Administration's commitment to partnerships, please see the attached "Partnerships in Review" document, which contains an abbreviated list of recent events, reports, statements and strategies that identify accomplishments and goals with respect to partnerships. We are anxious to continue this incredible momentum!

Sincerely,

Kelvin

Dear Sir-

This below is CDC's latest update as of this morning.
The next data set will be published and shared tomorrow early am.

COVID-19 Response update Mar 3, 2020

INTERNAL - NOT FOR FURTHER DISTRIBUTION

Daily Report Summary

- Where feasible, changes in numbers will be show in red. For the US case counts (below), all counts will be shown in black, since very few are changing daily.
- Note that some confirmed cases reported in red (table 1a) are new to CDC because CDC conducted the initial testing, whereas some newly confirmed cases were previously reported as presumptive positives and thus are not truly new cases to CDC.

Joe:

Spoke with Kyle who has always been my rock solid partner at CDC.

CDC # as of this morning is 108 cases.

CDC only puts out new numbers/confirms in the mornings.

No new numbers from CDC this afternoon — although states will continue to update their respective numbers (ie some do AM updates and some do PM ones).

"India is using its massive mobile phone network to spread coronavirus awareness messages, kicking off with coughing sounds, on how to protect against the outbreak, officials said Monday.

India, the world's second-most populous nation with 1.3 billion people, has 1.1 billion mobile phone connections. The South Asia giant has so far reported 43 positive cases of the contagious disease.

Telecommunications operators were ordered to play the health ministry-approved message from Sunday, which relayed advice on how to help stop the spread of the virus.

When a user calls someone with their mobile phone, they will be played the recording -- which starts with the sound of someone coughing, followed by a 30-second audio message in Hindi or English.

"Always protect your face with a handkerchief or tissue while coughing or sneezing," the message recorded in a woman's voice said.

"Regularly clean hands with soap and avoid touching your face, eyes, or nose."

The message includes a helpline number for further information.

Cellular Operators Association of India director general Rajan S. Mathews said the mobile network had the widest reach in India, including rural areas that lack other communication and media channels."

Greetings and good morning from the City of perpetual Spring, Bogotá.

Noting the story below, in a conversation with President Duque's Chief of Staff Maria Paula, as we discussed this, she offered that President Duque met with all the Colombian TELCOMs on Saturday and got a similar agreement.

This just made we wonder if this not an excellent suggestion to go from your office to posts in the region, that if governments haven't already thought about passing information via mobile phone providers they might wish to consider it.

It would, as we have all discussed previously, place the United States as caring for the people, which is who we really are, and something our adversaries/competitors don't and will never do.

Just thought.

I'll ping when I'm back.

India uses massive mobile phone network to combat coronavirus

Agence France-Presse (English) - Mar 09, 2020 06:17

India is using its massive mobile phone network to spread coronavirus awareness messages, kicking off with coughing sounds, on how to protect against the outbreak, officials said Monday.

India, the world's second-most populous nation with 1.3 billion people, has 1.1 billion mobile phone connections. The South Asia giant has so far reported 43 positive cases of the contagious disease.

When a user calls someone with their mobile phone, they will be played the recording -- which starts with the sound of someone coughing, followed by a 30-second audio message in Hindi or English.

"Always protect your face with a handkerchief or tissue while coughing or sneezing," the message recorded in a woman's voice said.

"Regularly clean hands with soap and avoid touching your face, eyes, or nose."

The message includes a helpline number for further information.

Cellular Operators Association of India director general Rajan S. Mathews said the mobile network had the widest reach in India, including rural areas that lack other communication and media channels.

"It is going to make a lot of impact to create awareness," Mathews told AFP.

Authorities often use the large network to disseminate critical information or warnings about natural disasters like floods and cyclones.

The government recently launched a public health campaign around the virus, including advertisements in newspapers and on radio.

The virus has killed 3,825 people and infected more than 110,000 in over 100 countries after it emerged in the Chinese city of Wuhan in December.

Debi and Bob, cc'd is Ory Rinat from WH digital. He can help fix the cdc website. I spoke with him this morning he said the easiest thing would be to have some members of the cdc web site team come up and they could fix it together. Unless Veeps office is already working it I would just go.
