State of Wisconsin
2019 - 2020 LEGISLATURE

PRELIMINARY DRAFT - NOT READY FOR INTRODUCTION

2019 SENATE RESOLUTION

Relating to: acknowledging that the Communist Party of China deliberately and intentionally misled the world on the Wuhan Coronavirus and standing in solidarity with the Chinese people to condemn the actions of the Communist Party of China.

Whereas, the State of Wisconsin is currently in a state of emergency due to the rising spread of the Coronavirus that originated in the Wuhan Province of China, as the number of infected individuals in Wisconsin rose to over 700 and also consisted of 8 deaths as of March 26, 2020; and

Whereas, the Chinese people are a great people, and heirs to one of the greatest civilizations in human history, held hostage by a brutal and oppressive regime these past 70 years; and

Whereas, the Communist Party of China has engaged in a continued pattern of human and natural rights abuses perpetrated by the country's communist administration, including the Communist Party's treatment of Tibet, the internment and "reeducation" of 1.5 million Muslim Uyghurs in concentration camps, the enactment of a one–child policy responsible for aborting hundreds of millions of children, the majority of them female, a record of organ harvesting and forced sterilization, crackdown on the Tiananmen protests, and restrictions on individual expression and religious practice; and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Whereas, the Communist Party of China has repeatedly demonstrated a lack of interest in respecting international norms, including a history of currency manipulation, intellectual property theft, and restricting Chinese market access, while receiving the condemnation of numerous American Presidents and Legislators from both political parties for these practices; and

Whereas, the Communist Party of China, led by President Xi Jinping, has moved to consolidate power, scrapping term limits to create a de facto life term for the President of China and continually squashing democratic–based initiatives in and outside of mainland China; and

Whereas, the Chinese government is currently engaging in a barrage of misinformation throughout all corners of the globe, attempting to pass off the responsibility of their negligent and reckless response to the virus; and

Whereas, the Chinese government has imprisoned their own citizens who dared disseminate accurate information on the Coronavirus, destroyed early samples of the virus, refused to release timely and accurate information on the virus, and continued to allow infected individuals to leave the Wuhan Province after reasonable evidence of person–to–person contamination was present; and

Whereas, reports have indicated that had the Chinese Government acted in a more efficient, transparent, and responsible way, cases worldwide of the virus may have been limited by 95 percent; and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Whereas, on February 5, 2020, the first confirmed case of Coronavirus was identified in Wisconsin; and

Whereas, on February 26, 2020, and again on March 10, 2020, the Chinese Consulate reached out to the Wisconsin Senate President requesting that the Senate pass a resolution — written by the Chinese Consulate — including propaganda and falsehoods such as:

"China has been transparent and quick in sharing key information of the virus with the WHO and the international community, thus creating a window of opportunity for other countries to make timely response"

Whereas, the Wisconsin State Senate deems it necessary and prudent to combat the spread of misinformation propagated by the Communist Party of China and the need to push back on the claims that the virus originated anywhere but China; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, That the Wisconsin Senate acknowledges that the Communist Party of China has deliberately and intentionally misled the world, suppressed vital information on the statistics and spread of the Wuhan Coronavirus both domestically and abroad, allowed millions of individuals to travel outside of the province and country despite clear warnings that the virus could be transmitted person–to–person, and engaged in active suppression and persecution of individuals looking to truthfully discuss information related to the Coronavirus, which has led to a global pandemic the likes of which has not been seen for generations; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Wisconsin Senate hereby stands in solidarity with the Chinese people, condemning the actions of the Communist Party of China in the strongest possible terms, and acknowledges that millions, both in China and around the world, are at risk of illness and death due to the negligence and hostile actions of the Chinese Communist Party.

Dear Rep. Felzkowski,
Please consider accounting as an essential service. I would love to stay holed up in my home however, my office services MANY small and micro businesses that rely on me and my staff to guide them through these tough storms. The steps and details necessary to receive the available help may appear easy to some of us but, to my clients it could be extremely overwhelming and a matter of their business survival.

The extension of time to file tax returns may relieve some pressure from my office but, as stated by many it is very important to get the refunds back into the hands of the people that need it most. The clients I serve are too complicated for them to try and file their returns themselves. They too will be relying on us to provide this function in as speedy a time as we can.

We are receiving calls from loggers in the Northwoods that depend on tourism and forestry, and they are very worried that not exempting forestry will result in more economic fall-out than is necessary. The loggers tend to work alone or in 2-person teams, so they are already social distancing and with the same person daily. With the storms from last year, there are billions of board feet that need to get cleaned up by early summer or the wood fiber will be useless, causing even more economic harm to landowners who were counting on that logging check. For those that are not familiar, wood can spoil much like milk does if it is not processed in a timely manner. As such, the mills would hopefully remain open as well as they are the businesses processing the wood in a timely manner.

A business owner reached out to us indicating that they hope the brush and broom industry will remain essential, as their products help businesses stay clean during the pandemic.

Marshfield Clinic Health System

1000 North Oak Avenue
Marshfield, WI 54449

The Honorable Andrea Palm
Secretary Designate
Wisconsin Department of Health Services
1 West Wilson Street
Madison, WI 53703

Dear Secretary Designate Palm:

As the entire health care industry mobilizes to confront the arrival of COVID-19 across the United States, I write on behalf of Marshfield Clinic Health System ("MCHS") to request Wisconsin Department of Health Services support in obtaining a waiver of certain Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) regulatory requirements relative to a new hospital our system in in the process of operationalizing in Minocqua, Wisconsin.

Since late 2018, MCHS, (through its subsidiary MCHS Hospitals, Inc.), has been building a new hospital in Minocqua, Wisconsin, a town in northern Wisconsin that is a regional hub for a number of small communities in its proximity. The hospital will do business as Marshfield Medical Center- Minocqua. Minocqua is located in an area designated as a health professional shortage area ("HPSA"). The facility will have 14 in-patient beds that can be doubled if necessary to deal with an influx of patients in emergency circumstances, 14 more pre- and post-surgical beds, 5 maternity beds, as well as 12 emergency room beds. Construction is substantially complete and we are preparing for the final inspection by the Wisconsin Department of Health Services Office of Plan Review and Inspection, which is the last contingency to securing hospital licensure. The final inspection is tentatively scheduled for April 1, 2020. We are optimistic that at the conclusion of this visit, or within days thereafter, we will receive our hospital license. Once we secure hospital licensure, MCHS will be in a position to open the hospital and deliver hospital services to patients.

We will seek certification for Medicare and Medicaid as indicated on the hospital license application and we intend to secure accreditation through The Joint Commission ("TJC"). For purposes of Medicare certification, TJC will conduct a certification survey. Upon completion of the survey, WI Department of Health Services ("WI DHS") will require a copy of TJC's confirmation letter along with a copy of their most current survey report indicating the facility has been surveyed and meets the standards required for Medicare certification. WI DHS's recommendation to CMS Centers for Medicare certification will be based on the TJC's survey.

Unfortunately, our ability to move expeditiously through the accreditation process and secure Medicare certification has been impeded. In response to the COVID-19 outbreak, TJC recently announced that beginning March 16, 2020, it has suspended all TJC surveying. TJC notified CMS of its decision and CMS has agreed. TJC said it anticipates that survey delays as well as other activities will be on hold at least until the end of April; however, it is conducting planning scenarios that assume longer periods of suspension.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In light of the current circumstances we are uncertain whether TJC will be able to conduct a full survey of the facility for purposes of Medicare certification in the near future (let alone the early survey scheduled with TJC for April 7).

It is imperative that everything possible is done to prevent any unnecessary delay in operationalizing our new hospital facility which includes its certification in Medicare. Bringing the facility online as soon as possible would be an important expansion of acute care capacity in northern Wisconsin (particularly in this HPSA designated area), bringing high-quality care closer to patients. Most importantly, this expansion of capacity would help alleviate stress on health care facilities in the region and could lead to us mitigating the adverse impact of COVID-19 in the region. Given the significant government payor mix in the region, operating the hospital without Medicare certification for an unknown and extended period of time would be financially catastrophic for our system. MCHS needs to ensure it will receive reimbursement from both government and private payors for health care services rendered at the facility. For all of these reasons, MCHS is making the following request to the Centers of Medicare and Medicaid Services:

> Pursuant to its authority under section 1135 of the Social Security Act, MCHS requests CMS grant a waiver of all hospital survey and certification requirements required for Medicare certification of Marshfield Medical Center- Minocqua so as to enable it to bill and collect from CMS for Medicare enrollees, the State of WI for Medicaid program enrollees, and private insurance entities for health care services rendered at the new hospital. Furthermore, we are asking for this waiver to remain in effect until a full Medicare certification survey can be completed by TJC and accreditation is received. In the event the Stafford Act emergency designation is cancelled or rescinded, we request that this waiver be extended for a period of one year from the date on which the Stafford Act designation is cancelled or rescinded. We will act in good faith to complete the certification survey through TJC as expeditiously as possible, but given the circumstances, we have no control over that process.

We implore you to support this request and include it in any 1135 waiver request put forward by DHS to CMS.

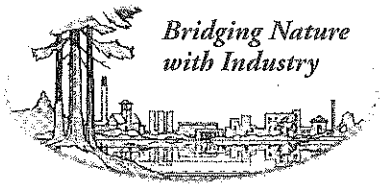
To be clear, grant of the waiver would be contingent on Marshfield Medical Center- Minocqua receiving a hospital license from WI DHS. Assuming that happens and assuming CMS grants this waiver request, we will request CMS issue a provider number that the hospital can use for billing purposes upon grant of the 1135 waiver. The issuance of the state operating license and MCHS's long track record of success as a nationally-recognized health care organization would ensure adequate safeguards for the communities we serve while we aggressively pursue Joint Commission accreditation and at the same time begin providing care that will be critically needed as COVID-19 becomes more prevalent nationwide.

MCHS is uniquely qualified as a trusted member of our community to responsibly bring this facility online. We have a long history in the community and recent experience in operationalizing new facilities. MCHS has been a local leader in providing medical care in Minocqua for over 20 years, with a robust ambulatory clinic and physician offices in town. We have also been the largest source of staff for a long-time hospital facility in the community operated by another entity that no longer meets the needs of our patients in our professional opinion. We understand the market, know our patients and understand how to best deliver care to our friends and neighbors. Furthermore, in late 2018, we opened Marshfield Medical Center – Eau Claire in the western half of our service area. The invaluable insights we gained as an organization as we brought that entity on board would serve us well as we bring the Minocqua facility online.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In light of the urgent need, we request your approval of the 1135 waiver of the CMS survey and certification requirements for a new hospital to be eligible to bill CMS and get reimbursement for services rendered as specifically set forth in this letter. We stand ready to discuss this topic further with you at your earliest convenience. If you have any questions please do not hesitate to reach out to Dan Kirschnick (kirschnik.daniel@marshfieldclinic.org), Brad Wolters (wolters.bradley@marshfieldclinic.org) and Ryan Natzke (natzke.ryan@marshfieldclinic.org).

Concurrent with this request, we have submitted a direct request to CMS (copy of which is included for your review). This has been done to ensure we pursue all avenues for this critical request, but we do not want this multi-pronged approach to inhibit consideration of this important request.



Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Susan L. Turney, MD

Dear Rep. Felzkowski,

I am writing to you to draw your attention to a lingering economic problem and opportunity in Northern Wisconsin, and also to immediately aid in the national wide pandemic of COVID-19. I know you are aware of the long saga regarding the paper mill in Park Falls. Currently, the mill (Park Falls Development, LLC) is sitting idle (but being maintained and heated) and up to this week, was planning on restarting operations in mid-April 2020. The products they were going to make have had their contracts rescinded due to grave economic fears. However, the nation currently needs certain paper products more than ever: paper/fiber for masks, personal protection equipment, single-use toweling, etc. The paper mill is sitting here now, capable of making all the paper grades needed at this time of national crisis. The paper industry is always near full capacity as the paper machines must be running continuously to be viable. I can't imagine a better mill to immediately bring back online in the time required (immediate), with a relatively small investment. Its design and nimble abilities make it ideal to serve at this time for the variety of products needed.

Due to the cancellation of orders, their projected cash flow is gone. In the upcoming talks about stimulus to the economy, I urge you to consider advocating for loan guarantees, 0% financing,grants, etc., in order to get this mill back online to serve the nation. Up to a $10 million loan guarantee/grants/0% financing (or combination) would be enough to immediately bring the mill back up, and allow expedited startup of pulp production on the paper machines. The owners have worked tirelessly to come up with a plan to restart this facility, and like so many businesses, the rug has been pulled out from underneath them. Also, this facility would supply critical support to the local job market, while other employers are shutting down (including the broader supply chain). The physical nature of the mill also ensures a safe working environment relative to the orders surrounding the pandemic (spacing, atmospheric conditions, air flow, etc.).

The principal in charge of operations is Mr. Nick Gehre. His phone number is 906-282-1281 or ngehre@parkfallsindmgt.com . He has worked tirelessly to get this mill restarted and is ready to work for a new purpose for the mill. If you have any questions, feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Michael Bablick

To; our Republican Representatives,

As I sit and pen this letter to you, while I watch Governor Cuomo talk about stage two in the re-opening of New York, while we here in Wisconsin are stuck for more than another month of a safer at home order from a tyrannical Governor. It seems there is no plan to re-open Wis., just chaos.

I am a father of two daughters who I have raised as conservatives. My wife and I have been married for 20 years. I have been a proud union teamster member employed at UPS for 32 years, and I have learned from Ronald Reagan that voting for conservative republicans is in my best interest as an American.

On Election day this year, we went to our polling place to vote, this was going to be our 18-year-old daughter's first time to vote, we were stunned to see at least a 4-hour wait which would have put us there probably until midnight. Since my wife and I at this point still have jobs, we could not stay and we did not vote. How disturbing, many vehicles pulled into the parking lot and when they saw the line, they also left. We have both voted consistently since we were in our teens. We have shied away from the absentee voting because of the voter fraud that always seems to be associated with it, we prefer to vote in person. They would only let one person in at a time and then virtually sanitizing the entire area after they voted. It seemed intentional and a little ridiculous, they do less at the grocery stores. If this is the case in November, the Republicans are in trouble.

It seems as though lately the republicans are always playing defense instead of offense. What are you going to do to get our Wis. economy open and going again? What about making sure we have a fair election in November, by then our second daughter will be 18 and able to vote. That is four conservative republicans in this house, hopefully, our votes will count in November. All the liberal democrats want to do is continue the chaos and uncertainty of this pandemic to their advantage, which I am afraid is going to lead to Republican loss, like it did for a very good constitutional judge Daniel Kelly.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

P.S This letter was sent to Senator Tom Tiffany, Representative Rob Swearingen, U.S. Senator Ron Johnson, and candidate for State Senate Mary Felzkowski.

Sincerely,

Heather Fairchild

We had another person email on this. Because it's federal, I said we hadn't heard any complaints yet and that they might want to check with Senator Ron Johnson's office to see if he can confirm this, and pass along concerns if it's true.

Just wanted you to be aware when you respond to Julio.

Dear Wisconsin Election Commission,

I am writing to file an official complaint regarding the decision made by election officials in Dane County, Milwaukee County, and other jurisdictions in the State of Wisconsin to ignore the procedures and definitions when determining whether an elector is an indefinitely confined voter. If different processes and procedures are to be incorporated in the electoral process due to a state emergency, that decision can and should be made by the Wisconsin Election Commission, not a county or municipal clerk.

I do not disagree, that this is one of those times. I recognize the COVID-19 has caused anxiety for many older Americans and we must be fluid when administering our April 7th election. This includes, but is not limited to, special considerations for poll workers and safety measures for early voting and Election Day activity.

With that said, safeguards can and should be incorporated into the process. For example: According to the CDC, if a citizen is 60 or older or has an immune deficiency, they should remain in their home. A statement to that effect should be made by the requester. Furthermore, the requester should already be a registered voter to be allowed to forgo the photo ID requirement. Additionally, the indefinitely confined form, if not already on file, should only be used for this election and cannot be renewed.

I am asking the Wisconsin Election Commission to order these local clerks to follow the laws covering indefinitely confined voters as currently written unless the Commission votes to make temporary changes to the procedures in place in response to the current state health emergency. Please do NOT allow local clerks, county clerks or a local election commissions to make decision that will disenfranchise electors in other areas of the state!

Sincerely,

Kathy Bernier

WISCONSIN MANUFACTURERS & COMMERCE

Bipartisan Liability Protections for Businesses

Protecting Wisconsin employers from frivolous lawsuits related to COVID-19 will give businesses certainty and stability in these uncertain times, preventing more layoffs and helping businesses stay afloat during and after the crisis. Litigation can bankrupt companies small and large during even the best economic times, and any company who is following the law and public health advice shouldn't have to fear facing expensive, unnecessary lawsuits from plaintiff attorneys. Liability protections will also provide Wisconsin manufacturers incentive to step up and help the state in providing equipment to address the shortage due to COVID-19.

1. Liability protections for employers' keeping their workers and workplaces safe

   Enact liability protections, including a temporary exception to the Wisconsin Fair Employment Act, that allow businesses to screen their employees and other visitors (e.g. temperature scan) for illness prior to entrance to the employer's facility. Further, provide liability protections for employers who require employees to engage in proper hygiene procedures.

2. Liability limitations for manufacturers of PPE and COVID-19 treatment equipment.

   Enact liability protection for manufacturers of all types of respirator masks certified by the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Welfare and any manufacturer who chooses to repurpose their facilities to manufacture personal protective equipment or equipment used to treat COVID-19. Bipartisan legislation was passed in Kentucky and signed into law that would protect manufacturers of personal protective equipment or personal hygiene supplies related to COVID-19 from ordinary negligent and product liability claims.[1]

3. Liability limitations for health care providers.

   Enact liability protection for healthcare providers to allow those treating COVID-19 patients to act quickly and effectively without fear of facing expensive lawsuits when they are acting in good faith. Liability protections will give providers flexibility to treat more patients and in innovative ways during this crisis. There are many avenues that the Legislature can take to protect healthcare providers and workers.

Subject: Can you read this?

Carol,

Thank you for reaching out to me. I totally understand where you are coming from, especially because in our area, there is a much larger elderly population, and our polling places already have fewer people to run the polls. You are right that Governor Evers refuses to move that date, has said so repeatedly, and has encouraged everyone to vote absentee when at all possible, and there's really nothing I can do to force his hand. The fact of the matter is that the law/his emergency powers do not actually allow for him to change or postpone that date on his own. This, at least, does give me some comfort, because it means that one politician cannot take away our constitutional rights to vote just on a whim. These are certainly extraordinary circumstances, for sure. One big concern with moving this election so close to the date is that there are already 100,000 absentee ballots out there that have been returned to the clerks to be counted. On those ballots are votes for local positions all over the state. If Governor Evers were to move the election date, many, many local positions would remain vacant during that time, sometimes crippling a local government's ability to make moves to respond to the public health emergency we are currently in. It's also difficult to say when that date should be postponed to because we do not yet know how long the public health emergency will be in place.

The federal government is close to passing a federal stimulus package that will have some funds available to aid local governments. This will allow more flexibility for clerks to be able to do what they need to to make sure this election is as safe as possible for all, including for poll workers. It is the Election Commission's job to work with all municipal clerks to ensure that this happens, and that all clerks have the resources they need to make that possible. In reference to the change you suggested, I have heard that some locations are looking at purchasing pens so that every voter can use their own pen to sign the book and vote with it, and then take it with them. Your suggestion is interesting, and would be something I'd bring up with your municipal clerk to see if they've talked to the elections commission about flexibility there. It may be that state law prohibits anyone but the voter from signing.

Coronavirus and the fall out has created some really impossible situations, and this is one of them. If you are uncomfortable going to the polls to work or to vote, I think you have every right to stay home, and to vote absentee. I know some clerks (and the elections commission) are working on recruiting college students and non-essential employees out of work to work the polls in place of those who don't feel comfortable. If you're wanting to avoid getting sick, I'd talk to your municipal clerk about it and see what parameters they are putting into place to make the day as safe as possible.

Subject: Can you read this?

Thank you for reaching out to me on the April 7th election. I wanted to provide more information to explain why I did not support Governor Evers' last minute ask to move the election date.

First and foremost, I do want to say that I absolutely understand where you are coming from and the concerns raised by people that do not think an April 7th election can be done safely. I think that an election like the ones we have seen in the past would be a cause for concern with packed polling places. Thankfully, the state of Wisconsin gives its voters options, and for the last three weeks, we have been encouraging everyone to request their absentee ballot.

Over 1.3 million people have requested their absentee ballot, which is a record-breaking amount of people, especially for a spring election. This means that over 1.3 million people will have already voted and will be staying home, which is great news for our polling places. For reference, just over 1.2 million people total voted in the 2019 spring election. We quite possibly might see more people voting absentee in this election than the total number of voters in the last spring election! So when it comes to in-person voting on Election Day, we are going to see far fewer people going to the polls. I know my polling place and many others are doing drive thru voting, so you don't even have to go into the polling place to vote in person. Our clerks are doing everything they can to limit person-to-person contact.

Now back to moving the election date. Tomorrow, thousands of local government positions like County Executive, Mayor, City Council, Town Board, and judgeships will be on the ballot. During a global pandemic, it would be extremely dangerous for all of these positions to become vacant with no one in place to make decisions or to allocate funds, especially for such a long, unspecified and unknown period of time. I have heard a lot of people, including Governor Evers, suggest that we could just allow the people currently serving to continue in their positions until the election is rescheduled. There is no mechanism for the Legislature, the Governor, or local governments to allow for this by tomorrow. It would require a change to our state's constitution, which would require the legislature to pass a resolution in two consecutive sessions, and then a majority vote in favor by the people on the ballot through referendum. The legislature simply cannot do it, and certainly couldn't do it three days before an election. Even if the legislature were to vote to do this, and the governor were to sign it, it would not be upheld in court. So moving the election date means that our local governments will be immobilized for months.

Governor Evers knows this. He knows that the legislature cannot do what he is asking us to do, and has been saying so publicly for over two weeks. He has been telling legislative leaders and the public for weeks that we cannot and will not move the election for the very reason I just described. And yet, on Friday, three days before the election, he changed his mind. To me, that is not a sign of leadership, but of a last minute effort on his part to shift the blame. Regardless of why, the fact is that we did not come into session on Saturday because there is nothing under the law that would allow for us to do we he asked us to do.

Almost immediately after Governor Evers announced his plan on Friday, several of the local clerks in my district reached out to me asking me not to approve of his plan. They also cannot do what Governor

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Evers is suggesting they do. A mail-in balloting system cannot be done in Wisconsin on this kind of timeline, something the Elections Commission has expressed to the Legislature and to Governor Evers.

Please know that I agree with you that this is a serious situation, and we need to take precautions. We haven't seen positive cases in Lincoln or Langlade County yet, and I absolutely want to keep it that way. The fact remains that when I took the oath of office, I swore as your legislator to uphold the law and the constitution. I cannot do what Governor Evers asked me to do, but I can continue to do what I have been doing for the last two weeks, which is everything I can to make sure our poll workers have what they need to run this election smoothly. I have been encouraging people who are at risk or don't feel comfortable to stay home and vote absentee. I am so grateful that our state gives voters options when it comes to voting because it is exactly what will allow for this election to continue safely. I am also grateful for the 2,434 National Guard men and women who are being deployed to support polling places today and tomorrow.

If we continue to work together, we will make it through to the other side. If you want to talk further about this, please let me know and I can give you a call.

Thank you for your time,

Mary

Connecting Essential Workforce Families to Child Care

The Department of Children and Families (DCF) is excited to launch two new tools to help connect essential workforce families to local, safe child care. Healthcare workers and essential employees are now able to submit a request for care through the department's updated Child Care Finder or proactively view up-to-date availability across the state using the department's new child care map.

Providing child care to the essential workforce is critical to flattening the curve of COVID-19 in Wisconsin. To meet this need, Governor Evers created the Child Care for Essential Workers Taskforce. Led by DCF, the taskforce worked with the Early Childhood Association (WECA) and Supporting Families Together Association (SFTA) to connect essential workforce families in need of child care with locally available child care resources. To date, the taskforce has accomplished:

An initial assessment of supply and demand
In partnership with the Wisconsin Hospitals Association, DCF surveyed health providers to identify how many staff needed child care. Additionally, DCF surveyed early childhood providers and individual educators to identify how many centers would remain open and whether individual educators would be willing to continue providing child care.

Developed an application to automate the collection of supply and demand information
DCF launched a rapid acceleration of IT projects to begin automating this system.

- Child care providers can now update their status (open/closed) as well as how many child care slots they have available by updating their page in Provider Portal
- Essential workforce families can submit their child care requests through Child Care Finder. Additionally, they can proactively search for available child care using DCF's new Child Care Map which is updated daily.
- Early childhood educators can submit their availability to serve families in center-based care, in an essential families' home, or at a new emergency child care center.

Published guidance to promote the health and well-being of children and the early childhood workforce
In coordination with the Department of Health Services (DHS), DCF has provided ongoing guidance to child care providers, including templates and suggested policies/procedures to implement during COVID-19.

Matching essential workforce families with local child care
DCF, WECA, and local Child Care Resource and Referral Agencies are utilizing these newly updated applications to "match" families with child care. Additionally, texting services, emails, and phone calls are being utilized to identify the urgency of requests and to update families with information on their requests. This process is ongoing, and families will likely experience delays in being matched with available care.

Opening emergency child care centers
DCF is working with health care providers, child care centers, community organizations like YMCAs, schools, and other partners to open emergency child care centers for essential workforce families. New centers will be opened as demand for child care increases. DCF has provided guidance and resources for organizations interested in opening child care centers.

For any questions regarding this effort, please contact DCFMBCOVID19@wisconsin.gov.

Good morning-

Thank you for taking time to read my letter regarding childcare in Wisconsin! I would be more than happy to have a conversation with Rep. Felzkowski. Our situation with the need for childcare in Wisconsin is an issue that needs some attention at the state level.

Good morning Karen,

Thank you for reaching out to our office. You are absolutely correct that childcare facilities and childcare and early education providers are one of the backbones of our society- and this crisis has shone a bright light on that. We understand and fully appreciate that some of the directives and suggestions from DCF to the child care centers have been unrealistic, and know many child care workers are baffled on how they are supposed to make sure toddlers under their care are social distancing.

I can assure you that all of your suggested policy measures will likely be a part of the conversations the legislature and governor are having as we navigate how the state addresses this situation and assess our state's available resources for the response to COVID-19.

If you would be interested, I know Rep. Felzkowski would love to have a phone conversation with you, and other child care providers in the Northwoods, to hear your suggestions and discuss the situation.

Our office is here to assist you- please continue to reach out if there is anything we can help with.

Thank you,

Subject: Support the early care and education workforce on the front lines of the COVID19 pandemic.

Mary Felzkowski (Czaja),

My name is Karen Grund. I am an owner/ operator at Karen's Family Childcare in Merrill. I'm writing today to ask you to support the early care and education professionals in our state. Early care and education has been urged to stay open under the "Safer at Home" order, to prepare to welcome the children of essential workers and to stand in the front line of this pandemic. This overlooked, under-funded, fragile field that has always been the workforce behind our state's workforce, is now called to meet this urgent growing need. Still a driver of our economy, child care is now also the backbone to our state's response to COVID19; how can essential workers provide health care and other emergency services without it? Early care and education programs must be financially supported now and in the future so that they are able to continue to serve Wisconsin families. Here's what we are asking you to support:

1. A not less than $250/week "essential child care worker payment", or hazard payment, over and above regular pay to serve as an incentive to recruit providers and support their valuable service.
2. Health care coverage for early childhood educators and child care providers who, often without adequate health insurance, are putting their own well-being in jeopardy in order to continue to care for children. Keep in mind that NO young child abides by physical distancing, and young children are NOT immune to the virus. While symptoms in children generally seem to be milder, they spread the virus in the same way adults do. And unfortunately, the first infant death due to COVID-19 was just reported on Sunday, March 29.
3. A temporary "license-exempt" status for an early childhood educator going into an essential worker's home to care for their children in the event that the essential worker qualifies for

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Wisconsin Shares as a financial support for child care payment.

4. Grants to child care programs, based on March 1, 2020 enrollment, to make up for lost revenue and increased expenses as they ensure continued care for essential worker families and/or have temporarily closed due to COVID19.

We are depending on you to prioritize the health and well-being of early educators and the early care and education sector, so they can do the important work our state requires of them right now.

Sincerely,

Karen Grund

Hey John,

No it's not. Everyone is supposed to be social distancing, and only leaving the house when absolutely necessary. Being a witness for a voter is in that category, and you can still do that while social distancing and not spreading germs. You certainly don't have to do it for anyone if it makes you uncomfortable, but it's not against the order.

Hey Helen,

Thank you for your email. I don't disagree with anything you are saying, which is why it is so important that we continue to encourage everyone to vote absentee, or vote in person on the day of if they feel comfortable doing so. We will also be encouraging low risk, healthy individuals to become poll workers so that those who don't feel comfortable can stay home. This will hopefully help local clerks continue to run this election smoothly and safely.

I agree with you that the mail in ballot suggestion is just not an option, and it is not something the legislature will be pursuing. I have already heard from several clerks who do not have the ability to mail out ballots to every person in the amount of time before April 7th. Apart from that, you are right that the voters who have moved would still receive ballots at the address on file, allowing for any voter at that address to send in that ballot. There is absolutely no way to secure the integrity of the election.

Thank you again for reaching out. I appreciate it!

Hi, I am hopeful that the Republicans at least trying to stand up to the shenanigans that the Democrats are bringing to us. I am sorry to say they have presented themselves as the party who lie, cheat, steal, and God knows what to get control of the Government. I really do think they are pulling together to steal the April 7th election. I am pretty sure you can quote me on this "there is a "bag" of uncounted damaged ballots we just found" that needs to be redone and added. ....:(

I would imagine the 205,000 voters who should have been removed from the roles have already absentee voted for the Democrat favorite. What good is the "law" if no one follows it? The latest idea of sending "every" registered voter a "mail in" ballot is just plain ridiculous. What about all the people who voted already? Our current Governor is an embarrassment. Is there anything the honest people in office can do about it? Is there anything us citizens who feel like our votes don't matter anymore can do? Honestly this is truly sad and this is how many of us really feel.

Anyway thank you for your consideration.

Thank you for your email. The governor does not have the ability to pass an emergency order moving the election date, and local clerks do not have the ability to close a polling location. They are required by law to be open and to accept votes on election day, which will be April 7th. Governor Evers has repeatedly indicated the election date will not be moved, and there is nothing that legislators can do to force him to move it, so my goal at this point is to make sure that all of the polling places have what they need to operate this election safely. The best thing everyone can do that does not want to go in person is to request their absentee ballot before April 7th. Voters cannot be disenfranchised if they exercise their voting rights in this way. Otherwise, in-person voting is still required. If you hear from a clerk in the 35th district that is having trouble, please let me know and I will help them communicate their concerns to the elections Commission, whose first priority and job right now is to help the clerks run this election smoothly and safely.

Dear Representative Felzkowski,

I have heard that we will not be voting in person, and even if we can most small communities are not open for voting.
I would like an emergency order to move the election to a date that is safe from Covid-19 scare. The Governor or ANY clerks in the state of Wisconsin do not have the right to take away our voting rights. They also do not have the right to CHANGE the law to serve those who they support and disenfranchise the rest of the voters in the state of Wisconsin. No ballot harvesting should also NEVER be allowed.

Thank you for your service to us.

And...Thank you for you consideration,
Helen G. Petersen

Thank you for getting back to me again. I know we are on the same page but I have to complain during this terrible injustice to the citizens of Wisconsin.
I am glad they said something to them. That may or may not help, the clerks are apparently making their own decisions.. Apparently Wisconsin has become a banana republic and the Democrats are making all the rules. I feel that we have no recourse and the election for April and most likely the Presidential election in November is a sham. It's not your fault Mary, I appreciate that you get back to me.
I was wrong about the 200005 voters who should already have been removed from the voter roles. It is actually more like 200009. In addition, Milwaukee and Madison have had 2 weeks to vote and they got to vote on SATURDAY AND SUNDAY too. Where are the rest of the state's citizens rights to do this, this is not fair. We should ALL have the same voting hours and rights. These tactics have disenfranchised everyone else in the state other than the Milwaukee and Madison areas, all while claiming they need more time so they aren't. This is terrible for the integrity of our elections.

Also, the mail in ballot requests are going to people who have already voted in person, what would be stopping a person from requesting a ballot and voting more than once? And...what about those who did not have to prove they are the person. What about all those who already voted? This is just a HUGE opportunity to cheat. Yep the Wisconsin supreme court election is lost.
The Governor of this state doesn't care about any people other than his union groups, the road builders, and the teachers. He is even worse than Doyle at least he didn't leave for the day at 1 PM. ...That we know of...I really miss Scott Walker, he was the best Governor the state ever had in my lifetime.
I have heard that some are floating it out that the entire national election should be by mail. If that happens we are LOST.

Thank You again,
Helen Petersen

Helen,

Thank you for your reply and your questions. I wanted to address a couple of things. 1. I totally agree with you on early voting. This is why, last session, we tried to make early voting uniform so that the whole state is treated the same. I agree with you that it is a disadvantage to our smaller communities who do not have the manpower to be open all the time, let alone on Saturdays and Sundays. Unfortunately, after we passed that bill, a judge struck it down and ruled it unconstitutional.

Regarding getting an absentee ballot twice, this is not likely because the clerks keep track of everyone who has requested a ballot. If you've already requested one, they are not going to send you another. The request also goes in the vote book. This prevents people from being able to vote absentee AND vote in person because it will say in the book that an absentee ballot was requested and sent back.

I know it's so frustrating. COVID has created a lot of impossible situations that are sometimes made even worse by the decisions of our Governor. Please know that you are not the only one who feels this way and he's got a LOT of eyes on him right now, watching every move he makes. The legislature will continue to be the check on the Executive branch we need to be, rest assured.

Mary

This is not just about the election, this is about trying to contain covid 19. Bringing a lot of people together in one place is not a good idea. It's bad enough that a lot of people have to go out to work, get medical attention and necessities. I'm sorry but I don't believe an election is essential right now, we could bend the rules and not sweat the little things to make it safer. So far we have been lucky in Lincoln County, will we be after April 7th? Thank you

Hey Louise,

Thank you for your email. I will reach out to DHS and see if they have specific resources that can answer some of these questions. I know that we continue to learn more and more about the virus as the pandemic continues. The answer may be that we simply don't know for sure yet, but if we do know and I can put you to a resource, I will.

Thank you for your email and I'll be in touch. Thanks!

Subject: Coronavirus Questions

Louise Doescher

March 31, 2020

Mary, I watch news and listen to the TV news for hours daily. I have become more and more confused in the protocol to use in staying safe with this virus pandemic.

One thing we certainly do not need is confusion at this dire time. I compiled a few of my own questions here. It sure would be nice if the government local or state or federal would come out with some clear guidelines to help the people.

I am on my 20th day of self-isolation.

I HAVE SOME QUESTIONS ABOUT SANITIZING AND HOW LONG THE VIRUS CAN LIVE ON DIFFERENT SURFACES.....AND AND AND...

MAIL: How should we be handling mail?
If we leave it sit in our garage or even in our house for how long, before the virus dies?

DOES the virus die after being on surfaces? I heard a health care worker say that on a surface (forgot which one) it can live up to 7 days. Is this true? Exactly what surfaces should we be the most cautious about?

What might be a way to sanitize mail? Mail carriers do not wear gloves, or might. Mine has done it both ways as I watched. The mail could be contaminated from outside or the contents could be.

GLOVES: Wouldn't it be safer to wear gloves if we go out to stores? Of course if we go from store to store, shouldn't we sanitize the gloves before and after each store? Wouldn't the gloves be safer than our more porous skin with fingernails etc?

What about our clothing and shoes? Do we strip down after every trip out? Take off our shoes and dip them in disinfectant before going into our homes? Italian survivor says shoes carry viruses. Have we thought about that ?

MASKS: To wear or not to wear the mask in this pandemic is the question. I believe that I know that wearing masks was downplayed to preserve the public from buying and or hoarding masks that the Health Care workers so desperately need.

Something is better than nothing, right? We can sew masks. If we sew them and wash in between uses. But we have been told that masks do not help.

Common sense tells us that any mask might help stop the spread. We would have to decontaminate the mask every time we use it on going out, and we could not count on it 100% but even if it stopped one person from receiving or giving one another he virus, wouldn't it be worth using?

Mixed messages prevail.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

And perhaps in another email, I will ask questions about the money that is to come from the government. There is mass confusion also about how this will be distributed as well.

It would be of great service to have answers to my questions. Thanks for doing a great job. Louise

Summary: COVID-19: How can I help with voting?

Description: I want to help with the voting on 7 April. Please let me know what I have to do.

Hey Robert,

Thank you for the question. If you are wanting to request an absentee ballot, you have until Thursday to do that. Here is the information I sent out in my e-update yesterday. Please go to the website to request your ballot. If you have trouble, please let me know!

You can still request your absentee ballot, last day for online registration!
Absentee voting is still a great option for those that would like to vote but also want to stay home. Please use this as a great way to slow the spread and keep ourselves and poll workers safe.
For those of you that have not have voted absentee before, absentee voting is easy and you can do it without leaving their home. There are 3 ways voters can request an absentee ballot. You can:
1. Go online to request an absentee ballot at myvote.wi.gov. This is the easiest method. Attached is a graphic you are welcome to use that outlines the step-by-step process for requesting an absentee ballot online – all you need is a photo of your ID to complete the request.
2. Use the US mail to request an absentee ballot. Go to https://elections.wi.gov/forms/el-121-english and print off the absentee ballot request form, fill it out, and mail it in. Voters will need to know their local clerk contact information as well as enclose a copy of their photo ID with the mail in request.
3. Request an absentee ballot by emailing or faxing their local clerk.
For mail, email, and fax requests (options 2 and 3 above), voters will need to find their municipal clerk contact information. A directory of municipal clerks can be found here.
All absentee ballot requests must be made by Thursday, April 2nd at 5:00PM for the April 7th election.
Please note that, TODAY, March 30th is the last day for online voter registration. You can also register by contacting your local municipal clerk. They can use this form to find their local clerk's contact information.

Thank you for your question and allowing me to explain why a total mail-in ballot election at this point is not a feasible option.

1. There is no way to secure the vote. Mail in ballots would require eliminating voter ID.

2. It would eliminate same day registration as only registered voters as of the time the ballots went out would be allowed to vote.

3. The current registered voter list includes 200,000 voters who the Elections Commission suspects have moved. If those ballots are sent, anyone at those addresses could fill them out and return them.

4. The Elections Commission themselves say they don't have the infrastructure necessary to conduct an election this way.

5. Washington state, who does handle elections this way, has warned against trying to move to this system in haste.

6. I have already heard from several clerks just in my district who have said they simply do not have the time or resources before April 7th to mail ballots to all registered voters. Most of them are already spending their nights and weekends as it is trying to send out ballots to those that have already requested them.

I wish the Governor had consulted with the Elections Commission before asking the legislature to move in this direction. They could have provided him with valuable information on why this isn't feasible right now, with the election less than a week and a half away. I totally understand where you are coming from and also want to make sure that our election is as safe as possible for everyone involved. We need to do everything we can to protect voters and also protect the integrity of the election itself. I will be sending out information later today encouraging low risk, healthy adults (like college students currently back at home) to become poll workers, so that those who don't feel comfortable going to the polls can stay home and vote absentee. The Elections Commission is also offering COVID-19 specific online training for clerks on how to keep their polling places safe.

Subject: Child Care Taskforce & New Resources

Dear Legislators,

Providing child care to the essential workforce is critical to flattening the curve of COVID-19 in Wisconsin. To meet this need, Governor Evers created the Child Care for Essential Workers Taskforce. Led by the Department of Children and Families (DCF), the taskforce is working with the Early Childhood Association (WECA) and Supporting Families Together Association (SFTA) to connect essential workforce families in need of child care with locally available child care resources.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DCF is excited to launch two new tools to help connect essential workforce families to local, safe child care. Healthcare workers and essential employees are now able to submit a request for care through the department's updated Child Care Finder or proactively view up-to-date availability across the state using the department's new child care map.

Please see the attached resources for more information regarding the Child Care for Essential Workers Taskforce and relevant information for parents. More information for providers, essential workers and families can be found on the DCF COVID-19 Child Care webpage.

We ask that you please spread the word about the website and the map in your communities to our essential workforce families in need of child care. For any questions regarding this effort, please contact dcfmbcovid19@wisconsin.gov.

Sincerely,
Nadya

Thank you for your email. Governor Evers made the decision all on his own to do a stay at home order. The legislature had no say, and in fact, we had been told for several days leading up to the order by Governor Evers' staff that he would NOT be putting a stay-at-home order in place. I totally understand where you are coming from and agree that it is a frustrating and impossible situation for our business owners and those who work for them.

Summary: COVID-19: Pollworkers

Description: Hi, Mary,
I am replying to your note asking for poll workers during this difficult time we currently find ourselves in. First, I am amazed the state hasn't gone to absentee votes only. I would NEVER go out to a poll place and vote. I have already completed my absentee vote and it's mailed back. Easy peezzy. Why hasn't the state gone in this direction? Are you willing to risk the health of the public while we do our civic duty and vote?
Also, my 82 year old mother is one of the polling workers in our township. Your township. There is no way in hell that we would let her go to the polls or anywhere actually. In fact, the entire election board in this township is an age group of high risk people. I feel the state has done an injustice to the voters of this state by not making absentee voting the ONLY way to vote during this unprecedented time we are in. I only see 2 options. 1) Absentee voting. Or, 2) delay the voting. Postpone it for a month or two. Voting at a polling place just isn't an option with the Coronavirus being spread around as easily as it is. You are putting ALL of the poll workers at risk.
I see no way of making a poll place sanitary enough for an election. Who will do cleaning between voters? Who will be the crowd control? Adding people only puts more people at risk.
Yes we are in a mess. Currently the state is under a "stay at home" order. I didn't know it meant stay at home except to vote. Really?
So your request for polling volunteers just doesn't sit well in this house. Sorry.
Jim

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Jim,

First, thank you for your reply, I appreciate your candor and honesty. I know right now can be a really scary and impossible time. I totally support your mother staying home. I don't think that anyone who feels unsafe or at risk should be at the polls on election day. Governor Evers has said over and over that the election date will not be moving, so my main goal at this point is to help our clerks make sure this election runs as smoothly and safely as possible. I don't think it's a good idea for people who are at risk to be working the polls on Election Day, but I do support those who are healthy and low-risk taking on the task. The fact of the matter is that polling places are required by law to be open on Election Day, so I want to make sure our clerks have the help they need from those willing to give it. I TOTALLY support people voting absentee if they can or want to, and I have been encouraging this from Day 1. You may be surprised to hear that I actually have gotten a lot of calls from people who only want to vote in person, and really do not want to vote absentee, so there are people all across the spectrum on this issue. Our goal is to make sure that you can vote, no matter which way you choose to do it.

Regarding mail-in ballots, it's just not a feasible option, and is even less so for areas like ours where our clerks do not have as much help as larger communities. In our state overall, this just not a feasible option for several reasons:

1. There is no way to secure the vote. Mail in ballots would require eliminating voter ID.

2. It would eliminate same day registration as only registered voters at of the time the ballots went out would be allowed to vote.

3. The current registered voter list includes 200,000 voters who the Elections Commission suspects have moved. If those ballots are sent, anyone at those addresses could fill them out and return them.

4. The Elections Commission themselves say they don’t have the infrastructure necessary to conduct an election this way.

5. Washington state, who does handle elections this way, has warned against trying to move to this system in haste.

6. I have already heard from several clerks just in my district (and am still receiving emails as we speak!) who have said they simply do not have the time or resources before April 7th to mail ballots to all registered voters. This was the case on Friday, and it's the case now. Most of them are already spending their nights and weekends as it is trying to send out ballots to those that have already requested them. When Governor Evers was asked about this, he said "it wouldn't be easy." That's it. There was no plan to figure out how to help our clerks get it done.

I totally understand where you are coming from. COVID has created a lot of impossible situations, and this is one of them. We need to do everything we can to protect voters and also protect the integrity of the election itself. Thankfully, the Elections Commission is offering COVID-19 specific online training for clerks on how to keep their polling places safe, and offering online training for the poll workers like I mentioned yesterday.

Thank you for voting, and for again for your honesty and taking the time to email me.

Mary Felzkowski

You sent a well informed response to my email. Thanks.

I know we are in a pickle with the virus. I guess Governor Evers should have made decisions a while ago concerning this as we all know April 7th was coming up. Also, the May election. I don’t agree with him. I know he has a lot of decisions to make that aren’t popular. But, he has made a “stay at home” order and I totally agree. The virus is too communal. And why everyone in this country isn’t under that order I am not sure.

I am thankful you are working at appeasing everyone. No, I don’t understand it. I don’t know why would anyone would want to go to the polls. Vote, yes I completely understand why people want to vote. It’s our duty. As far as the voter id and absentee voting (mail in ballots). When I did my absentee ballot, I had to be registered for it to work. Isn’t that voter id? I would not want voter id to not work. It’s very important. Yes, I agree, I wouldn’t freely mail out the ballots to every voter, they would all have to be registered and individually request the ballot on line. As far as same day registration, yes, that would be an issue. So many issues, what to do??? Oh, maybe postpone the election. Oh well….

Thanks again, Mary, for the hard fight.

Its not feasible because you Republicans didn't work with Governor Evers when he first requested. You don't want people to have the freedom to vote without false barriers. Like Drivers License at voting poles, You should be ashamed of yourself.

I am a Vietnam Veteran , served my country and saw many a young man die for the freedom and right to vote.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Republicans have spent all their time trying to restrict that right.

Patrick,

He made this request last Friday, three days ago. At that time, clerks started reaching out to me immediately asking us not to do this because there was not feasible way for them to send ballots to everyone in their jurisdictions. This request was not more feasible then and it's not feasible now. However, the legislature is looking at extending the amount of time clerks have to count their ballots. It is also looking at allowing all ballots postmarked on election day to be counted.

I totally disagree with you that I don't want people to have the freedom to vote, and I am doing everything I can to help our clerks run this election smoothly. If you don't believe that voting at the polls on election day is safe, then I would suggest you vote absentee. You have until April 2nd to request your ballot.

Thank you for your service,

Mary Felzkowski

Like I told Tom Tiffany. You Republicans try and take away Health Care from those who need it. Support a President in your Party who Lies and is in competent.

Like I said 50,000 young men and women of all walks of life and nationality gave there lives so people like you could take away their rights. You are the Party of Lies and deceit.

I will do everything I can to make sure no one votes for you or Tom Tiffany. I do recall when Scott Walker and you Republicans supported a budget that attempted to eliminate Freedom of Information in the state. That way you could hide what you are doing. Also, you passed legislation that eliminated your requirement to disclose who you political contributors are.

Your Republican Hero from Wisconsin, Ron Johnson, Who believes that the Cure is worse than the problem. Meaning Money and Economy over Lives of the citizens who pay the bills. That is what Republicans stand for. Money over Liberty and Freedom.

Pat Zimick

Pat,

You are certainly entitled to your own opinion, Pat. I do appreciate you taking the time to reach out, even if we disagree.

Summary: COVID-19: Postpone the Election - more data

Description: Daer Representative Fealzowski:

I am again writing you to beg that you lead an effort to delay and reschedule the upcoming elections in Wisconsin.

There are several reasons I feel it is even more urgent now including the following:

The White House Coronavirus Leader Estimates Covid-19 Deaths to Spike at the time of Wisconsin's Election
The chart below was delivered during today's White House Coronavirus briefing:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Said simply, Wisconsin is planning to hold an election when risk of Covid-19 death is at its highest. Furthermore, the potential number of Covid-19 fatalities is unprecedentedly high.

Elections Require Poll Workers and Voters to Engage in High Risk Activities
Voters and poll workers are required to engage in many activities which violate the CDC guidelines related to Covid-19 including:

- Inspection of the voters Drivers Licenese by the poll worker;
- Poll worker looks up voters record and presents it for signature by the voter;
- The ballot is cast which requires (1) voters to come into contact with a high use machinery / booths / ballot boxes and (2) poll workers to resolve machine problems; and,
- Ballots are tabulated requiring poll workers to come into contact with machines / booths / ballot boxes that have been used by all voters.

More importantly, we are unaware of any actions taken by the state (such as the provision of masks and gloves) to protect the safety of poll workers and voters nor are we aware of any procedures / materials that have been allocated to sanitization of public use facilities and equipment.

Many Poll Workers Have Refused to Work the Upcoming Election
As I mentioned in my prior email, my wife has been a poll worker for over six years. As she has spoken to other poll workers it has become clear that a significant percentage are (rightly) refusing to work the upcoming election because they are in high risk groups. I suspect this is the normal case throughout the state. Without massive training, none of which has been scheduled, one wonders how there will be integrity in the results of the upcoming election. Furthermore, any training would require that the CDC guidelines on social distancing be violated as they would involve demonstration of processes and equipment that can only be done at close quarters.

Asking for Volunteers who are not at Risk is Irresponsible
At a time of national emergency, it is simply irresponsible to expose capable workers to safety risks that may limit their future usefulness to the community. Said simply, do we want our young civic minded people working an election of minor importance or delivering groceries to the needy during the largest health crisis in modern times?

The Results of an April 7th Election are Likely to be Challenged for Legitimacy
There are many reasons an election held this April may not reflect the will of the people and should therefore be challenged including:

- Conflicting orders by the Governor. On the one hand the Governor has asked Wisconsin residents to stay at home until late April. On the other, he and the legislature are holding an election during this period.
- Untrained poll workers. Due to the point above, it is likely that a large percentage of poll workers will be new, casting doubt on the ability to have balanced party representation and, more importantly, introducing a high likelihood of flawed process.
- Over-dependence on Absentee Ballots. As the name implies, Absentee Ballots are intended to provide a vehicle for people who will be away from their polling place to cast a vote. In the April 7th election, Wisconsin is suggesting that Absentee Ballots be used for residents who have access to their polling place. Not only does this present an untested burden on a process designed for limited volume which introduces high chance for error that will undermine the legitimacy of the result, the alternative has been poorly communicated and many voters will be denied their opportunity to vote simply because they did not know to request an Absentee Ballot.

Going forward with an election with any of the above risks would be irresponsible — continuing in the presence of all of them seems negligent. Holding the April 7th election could have catastrophic cost, measured in lives while delaying the election presents nothing but a legislative challenge.

Mary, I hope we can count on you to take appropriate and urgent action. Please feel free to advise us all on the steps you have taken and anything we can do to avoid this potential catastrophe.

Best regards,

Steve Balow

Hey Mary,

I apologize I did not get back to you sooner. Your e-mail ended up in my junk folder. They called us the next day and we are all taken care of. Thank you so much we truly appreciate it. I feel so fortunate because there is a whole conversation on my friends Facebook page of people unable to get through and all different kinds of situations. Thank you again I don't know how long it would have taken without your help.

Thank you so much for getting back to me so quickly. I truly appreciate it. I understand that these are difficult and unprecedented times and we appreciate you taking the time to help us. Thank you for your kind words of congratulations we are very happy to have her home.

As far as the federal refund I will contact Senator Ron Johnson with my concerns. The irs website and app have said the same thing for 43 days now. It reads " Your tax return is still being processed. A refund date will be provided when available." . Thank you for pointing me in the right direction as to who to contact in that matter.

After speaking with my mom shortly after sending the last email it was brought to my attention that we have actually met. Although it was what feels like a lifetime ago. I was a teenager and a completely different person than I am now. It is funny to look back and see how things change. I do believe you still know my parents though, Rick and Jan Arends.

Thank you again for all your efforts and help. I look forward to hearing back from you.

Thank you for your email and letting me know what you are struggling with. Congratulations on your new baby! That is very exciting, but also an added stresser on top of an already unprecedented situation here in Wisconsin. I will reach out to the department and see if I can have someone reach out to you on the unemployment. Regarding the federal tax refund, that unfortunately is not a state issue, so I don't have a contact for you at the IRS. You could contact Senator Ron Johnson on that. What does the website say when you check on the status of your refund? https://sa.www4.irs.gov/irfof/lang/en/irfofgetstatus.jsp

Congratulations again and I will see if I can get someone from DWD in touch with you. Unfortunately, the current situation has caused an enormous increase in the amount of people trying to file claims, so the staff at DWD are doing everything they can to keep up with the very large volume of calls that come in each day. I know they are also working on issues that arise with the website.

I will be in touch!

Dear Mary,

I was referred to you and given your e-mail in regards to my husband having an extremely hard time getting through to unemployment. We are now on day three of attempting to talk to someone. We started the process online as suggested but then towards the end of setting up his account he was told he needed to call and speak to someone to verify his account. We have been trying for days now and we can't get through. We just brought our premature baby home after a nearly 10 week stay at the NICU. She is on oxygen and part of the high risk category for this virus and every virus. We were starting to struggle before but had almost gotten our feet back underneath us when he got laid off from work this week. We need to get through in order to start to file weekly claims online and each day we can't file is another day closer to this having a severe and lasting impact on us. An impact that could be almost if not impossible to come back from. We've also been waiting well over 21 days for our federal tax refund. We can't get ahold of anyone at the irs either. I'm sure you can understand how scary, frustrating and stressful this all is especially with an new preemie baby. Any help or advice you can give us is beyond appreciated. Thank you so much for your time and efforts.

Sincerely,
Betsy and Garrett Beilke

Hey Dorothy,

So the wayside you are talking about was purchased by Lincoln County in 2014, so I reached out to the county to get more information. They indicated that the bathroom facilities have been closed because of the total disregard for the bathroom facilities. So much debris and garbage had been dumped into the toilets, that the county was unable to hire a septic pumper to pump facility. They smelt so bad that the county needed to close them. They also indicated that the maintenance cost increased dramatically.

I hope that helps!

Thanks,

Mary, I read in your email that rest areas are open and it made me think of something I would like to know but don't know who to contact. Hoping you can help me. I am wondering why the wayside at Hwy 8 and Cty A just north of Tomahawk has been closed for a few years? They put in the parking lot for trailer for ATV's and snowmobiles to unload and then closed the bathroom. This didn' make much sense to me. People are going to need a restroom after traveling her and also before loading up and heading home. Thank you for all the info you provide in your emails. Dorothy Jorgensen

I talked him through his concerns, and let him know what DHS is expecting as far as when the virus infections to peak in Wisconsin, and what that will mean for summer. Also assured him that the National Guard is already trained for emergency response if they need to be mobilized, either to help with the virus or to respond to mass hysteria. He seems concerned that people are going to be coming from hot spots once summer hits and will bring the infection with him. I talked him through the timeline and said that hopefully, once the peak happens, the amount of people infected will continue on the downward trend, and once we get through Memorial Day, hopefully the people traveling to their cabins in the North won't be infected or will have immunity.

Good morning Micki,

Thank you for reaching out to our office. You are absolutely correct that childcare facilities and childcare and early education providers are one of the backbones of our society- and this crisis has shone a bright light on that. We understand and fully appreciate that some of the directives and suggestions from DCF to the child care centers have been unrealistic, and know many child care workers are baffled on how they are supposed to make sure toddlers under their care are social distancing.

I can assure you that all of your suggested policy measures will likely be a part of the conversations the legislature and governor are having as we navigate how the state addresses this situation and assess our state's available resources for the response to COVID-19.

If you would be interested, I know Rep. Felzkowski would love to have a phone conversation with you, and other child care providers in the Northwoods, to hear your suggestions and discuss the situation.

Subject: Support the early care and education workforce on the front lines of the COVID19 pandemic.

Mary Felzkowski (Czaja),
My name is Micki. I am the Assistant Director of Childcaring, your local child care resource and referral agency in central Wisconsin. I'm writing today to ask you to support the early care and education professionals in our state. Early care and education has been urged to stay open under the "Safer at Home" order, to prepare to welcome the children of essential workers and to stand in the front line of this pandemic. This overlooked, under-funded, fragile field that has always been the workforce behind our state's workforce, is now called to meet this urgent growing need. Still a driver of our economy, child care is now also the backbone to our state's response to COVID19; how can essential workers provide health care and other emergency services without it? Early care and education programs must be financially supported now and in the future so that they are able to continue to serve Wisconsin families. Here's what we are asking you to support:
1. A not less than $250/week "essential child care worker payment", or hazard payment, over and above regular pay to serve as an incentive to recruit providers and support their valuable service.
2. Health care coverage for early childhood educators and child care providers who, often without adequate health insurance, are putting their own well-being in jeopardy in order to continue to care for children. Keep in mind that NO young child abides by physical distancing, and young children are NOT immune to the virus. While symptoms in children generally seem to be milder, they spread the virus in the same way adults do. And unfortunately, the first infant death due to COVID-19 was just reported on Sunday, March 29.
3. A temporary "license-exempt" status for an early childhood educator going into an essential worker's home to care for their children in the event that the essential worker qualifies for Wisconsin Shares as a financial support for child care payment.
4. Grants to child care programs, based on March 1, 2020 enrollment, to make up for lost revenue and increased expenses as they ensure continued care for essential worker families and/or have temporarily closed due to COVID19.
We are depending on you to prioritize the health and well-being of early educators and the early care and education sector, so they can do the important work our state requires of them right now.
Sincerely,
Micki Krueger

Hey Victoria,

Thank you for the heads up! I reached out to the county clerk of Langlade County because they communicate with their local clerks on a regular basis, and I wanted to see if she's been having trouble getting ahold of your clerk. She said that your ballot was mailed out yesterday, and it may just be that your clerk does not need any volunteers. I know it's frustrating and it would have been helpful to just receive a call or email back from the clerk telling you that information. I think the clerks are all extremely swamped right now because they are receiving more requests for absentee ballots than ever before, and there is a lot of work to be done by each clerk to make sure polling places are safe and secure this year. I have asked the county clerk for more information about other polling places in your area so that you may be able to volunteer somewhere else. There are some jobs that's don't require you to live in the municipality, but only in the county, and so on. I'll reach out when I hear more from that county clerk!

Thank you SO much for your willingness to work at the polls on April 7th. You are truly helping keep our election system in place, and also helping those at risk say home.

Something I think you should be made aware of. It appears some of the small town clerks have went MIA. (overwhelmed?) I understand with this crisis we all need to do our part. Gov. Evers has stressed this spring election is going to happen. I personally gave our town clerk my information during the February primary to volunteer after one of the workers told me we were short handed for this season. (pre-Co19) Told she had one other name and would be in contact with us for the 2 hour training soon. Nothing. Now this could be a problem with the stay at home situation, totally understand. BUT, she is now totally MIA. Not returning phone messages as we attempted to get absentee ballots so I mailed the forms we received from a mass mailing with needed photo of ID's last week to her with no response. I bring this to your attention because after talking with voters in other small towns, this seems to not be an isolated situation. If widespread, this could have a huge impact on the outcome of some very important elections/issues, not to mention the legal can of worms this could open up. Just thought you should know what's going on.
Praying for your safety and the well being of your loved ones,

Subject: RE: Unemployment Benefits: Repeal the waiting period

Denise,

Thank you for sending this email and letting me know how COVID is impacting you. This is one of the policies we are looking at as we discuss potential legislation to help Wisconsinites and small business weather this storm. I appreciate your input and will make sure this is something discussed at length. Now that the federal stimulus package has been passed and signed, we are waiting for the Legislative Fiscal Bureau to finish preparing their memo on exactly what the package does, and if Wisconsin will need to change state law in any way. Unemployment insurance is one of the areas we are looking at closely to make sure Wisconsinites can access those federal benefits.

Stay healthy,

Mary Felzkowski

Mary Felzkowski (Czaja),
Repeal the one week waiting period for unemployment benefits. This action will make a difference for working families who are suddenly and unexpectedly facing job loss due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
Working families need bold support from our leaders as we together face economic insecurity and health and safety danger amid the coronavirus public health emergency.
The Wisconsin Legislature must come together immediately to repeal the one-week unemployment insurance benefit waiting period.

Summary: COVID-19: Postpone the election

Description: Hi Mary:

Thank you for your thoughtful response.

I guess we are going to agree to disagree about this. For whatever it is worth,

- What is unmanageable? How can a state issue an order for all citizens to stay home and call rescheduling an election unmanageable.
- Who cares how many ballots have been sent out? Destroy them and inform voters they will have to recast their ballot. I'm sure everybody can easily understand that.
- Extend the election until after the health risk abates … what is so hard about that? Are you seriously saying that the government can restrict people from working but can't figure out when it's safe to hold an election? Don't set a date until you have more information.
- Destroy all votes that have been cast. So what? It takes less than an hour for most people to vote … given the health threats you are creating asking people to endure to vote in the midst of this crisis, it seems trivial to recast a vote. Heck, I'll give you a slogan for free: "Save a life, recast your vote"
- As for the local government positions, make a case-by-case decision. Frankly, given that so much of society is shut down it seems the demand for many of the positions up for election would be diminished. But, here is another simple idea: until the election, current officials serve. And, hopefully we're not talking about anything more than a few weeks or a month … hard to see how that is worth the risk to life an election will cause.

This will be my final email on this subject. I know there are at least five lawsuits regarding the upcoming election. I hope they are all successful. More importantly, if the state is being sued now, imagine the liability if even one person gets Covid-19 from voting. You and the rest of our state government are running a terrible and unjustifiable risk.

I think, in your heart, you know our government is doing the wrong thing. I could care less what the Governor says … he is wrong. The Elections Commission is wrong. There is simply no way to get in to vote and get out quickly without running a high risk of contamination. If there were the state would not be shut down.

Do the right thing.

Hey Steve,

I appreciate you providing this information and taking the time to send me the screen shots as well. That's really helpful. You and I have already talked through this a bit, but I'm hoping I can help explain why people are hesitant to move the election.

- Moving the date in the middle of voting and especially so close to the election date creates so much unmanageable chaos.
- Over 1 million absentee ballots have already been sent out, and the deadline to request one is not until tomorrow, so I am sure we will see that number grow even more. The question becomes, what do we do with all of the absentee ballots that have already been sent and already turned in?
- Here are just some of the other questions that come up when discussing moving the election:
  - How long do we extend the election? Some people have mentioned the May 12th special election date and I totally understand wanting to use that date. What if we are still under social distancing, and have to consider moving the date again?
  - What if something happens between now and then and voters demand they be given the chance to change or re-cast their vote?
  - What do we do for the local government positions that are going to be vacant while we wait for the new election date? What if local governments can't respond to this or another crisis because decision makers aren't in place to make those decisions?

Ultimately, everyone has a fundamental right to respond to their government by voting in elections. I totally understand where everyone is coming from on postponing. Our reality is that the Governor has said the date is not going to move and the legislature cannot move it without him. The Elections Commission has said the date is not going to move, and now the court is signally today that they are not going to order the date to move. Knowing this information, my number one goal and my job right now is to help our amazing clerks run their polling places safely and efficiently, so that everyone can get in to vote, and get out quickly. We have been encouraging anyone and everyone who does not feel safe going out to vote absentee and thankfully so many people are choosing to do that. This means that all of those people are going to stay home on Election Day, making it so much easier to social distance and avoid the spread. The National Guard will be helping man the polls that day, and the Elections Commission is providing extra supplies to clerks, as well as extra COVID specific training. There is also funding included in the federal stimulus package to help with the increase costs of administering the election. If we all continue to work together, we can make sure that voting on April 7th is done safely.

Thank you again for your emails. I know you are reaching out because you care about the safety of everyone in Wisconsin, and I really respect that.

Dear Representative Felzkowski:

Last night the University of Wisconsin live streamed a broadcast recording Covid-19 which featured Dr. Nasia Safdar whose qualifications are summarized below:

During the broadcast, Dr Safdar presented the following chart:

I'd like to point out two things:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- As you can see from the cluster diagram on the right hand side of the chart, early in the outbreak people were not practicing social distancing which made it difficult for medical workers to identify and isolate people who were exposed and could transmit the virus. However, with social distancing this problem has become much less dangerous and our health care professionals are finding they can spend more time on treatment and less time on tracking. This has obvious advantages. However, holding an election with open polling places will put the state back into the early more dangerous cluster model. Given this understanding, holding an election presents an obvious increase to the risk of the public and the health care system which is both irresponsible and intolerable.
- The broadcast was widely watched with over 5,500 live views. This number will increase substantially as the broadcast is available for replay and was first seen only 16 ours ago. You have the opportunity to do the right thing and avoid what is likely to be a crisis of public confidence in our elected officials.

Do the right thing. Reschedule the election.

Good afternoon Walter,

All insurance companies have already been covering the costs of testing from very close to the beginning of the pandemic, United States-wide. I have not supported expanding badger care in the past, and do not think now is the time to do that. Those that would be covered by Badger Care expansion can currently receive heavily subsided care from the Federal Exchange. There is not a coverage gap in Wisconsin, so I am confident that access to care here in our state is already available. If you are hearing from people who are having trouble getting signed up, please let me know and my office can help them.

Thank you again for your email and your thoughts. Please feel free to send me your thoughts in the future,

Hello. I'm writing to encourage Wisconsin to expand Medicaid to help expand coronavirus care in three main ways:
1) We need to broaden eligibility,
2) Ensure that eligible residents are enrolled or do enroll in Medicaid, and
3) Submit additional waivers to CMS seeking greater flexibility in coverage and care access

As your constituent I implore our State Legislature to convene and quickly and bipartisanly act to pass full Medicaid Expansion up to 138% FPL.

After talking her through it, she was getting the election date confused with Governor Evers' call to do mail-in balloting, which I said the legislature does not support. I reiterated that Governor Evers has said repeatedly he will not move the election, so even if every member of the legislature wanted it, he could still veto it. She said some members of the legislature do want it, and I agreed.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
April 1, 2020
Contact: Linda Benesch, lbenesch@socialsecurityworks.org
(Washington, DC) — The following is a statement from Nancy Altman, President of Social Security Works, in response to the recently released IRS guidance indicating that Social Security beneficiaries, SSI recipients, and veterans receiving pensions can't get their $1200 CARES Act payments without filing a tax return:
"This is outrageous. The $1200 payments could easily be added automatically to the benefits these people already receive every month. The CARES Act specifically gives the Treasury Department the authority to do so. Instead, the Trump Administration is throwing up an unnecessary barrier that will make it harder for seniors, people with disabilities, and veterans to get the payments they desperately need. In the middle of a pandemic to which they are most vulnerable, the groups can't afford any delay.
In 2008, 3.5 million Social Security beneficiaries and veterans never received a stimulus payment that they were owed. They were blocked by the nonsensical requirement that they file a tax return, even though they owed no taxes. The same will happen now; indeed, it is highly likely it will be worse due to the chaos of the pandemic. Millions of people who need these payments won't get them. At best, the payments will be delayed – even though the federal government pays these people benefits right now, each and every month.
The Trump Administration must reverse course immediately and make a clear public statement that all Social Security beneficiaries, SSI recipients, and veterans receiving pensions will get their $1200 payments without filing a tax return. And then the government should pay — without delay — what it owes."

Hi Karen,

I understand that is a very frightening and frustrating situation. The Department is not violating any laws or executive orders. They have implemented a number of changes at their facilities (including eliminating large group dining) to protect against the spread of the virus. The details can be found here: https://doc.wi.gov/Pages/COVID19(Coronavirus)/FAQS/COVID19FAQs.aspx

They do not have the authority to release individuals before their mandatory release date and at this time there is no discussion of amending that. The Department is taking care of individuals in their custody and as of this morning, no one in their care has tested positive for COVID-19.

It must be very difficult to be apart from your son at a time like this. The Department has worked with CenturyLink to set up 2 free weekly 15 minute phone calls for every individual during the length of this crisis and I hope you are able to connect with him.

Please let me know if the website does not answer all your questions and my staff and I will work with the Department to find more information.

Hi Bob,

Thank you for reaching out with your thoughts. I understand your point and I don't believe anyone has stated that we will not reach into our rainy day fund to support our communities, businesses and families during this public health emergency. The issue being discussed now is that the state's legislative fiscal bureau is working to analyze how much federal funding we will be getting, and we want to ensure that the funding the state puts in complements the federal funds and goes where it is most needed.

Thank you for your comments as always.

Hope you're staying safe,

Representative Felzkowski,
I see there is a debate going on about having enough money currently to support possible new programs to help business and workers in the state.
I'd suggest that denying the need for a program due to a shortage of money denies the fact that money has been put into the general fund or rainy day fund. I believe that the fund is very much for a situation that is developing due to the coronavirus.
Perhaps there is not a need currently, but I think possible scenarios should be developed in case the need for more help is needed. Look at the programs that might be needed and discuss a prudent amount that could be taken from the fund.
Thank you.

Hey Kathy,

Thank you for your email and reaching out! I appreciate you thinking about this. The Department of Health Services finally added to their website with the percentage of positive cases that are currently hospitalized, but I do not believe that is being broken down by county at this time. I did just receive some helpful information from the Wisconsin Hospital Information that includes some of what you are getting at, and I've attached that to this email here: this infographic. WHA is expecting to see more detailed regional information in the coming days. If you click around this site, DHS has added new data today that breaks it down by more than just county, including age bracket, sex, and others. https://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/outbreaks/index.htm

Regarding respirators, masks, gowns, etc. Yes all of that data is being tracked by the Department of Health Services, although it's more difficult to release the information because it changes so rapidly. Many companies have stepped up to manufacture masks and respirators, so as they produce more, Wisconsin will have more in stock. There is also a statewide effort to collect these types of materials from people and businesses that are willing to donate them. I also know that people at home are allowed to sew masks for hospitals as long as it follows an approved pattern. I also know the Governor just moved to spend several hundreds of millions of dollars on more of the items you listewd. So, rest assured, the tracking is happening on that front, it's just a hard number to get out there.

I hope this is helpful! Thank you again for reaching out. I really appreciate it.

I see many Governors talking stats about preparedness, but cannot find much information on Wisconsin. I know the websites that show cases & deaths by county etc., but what are the numbers as far as hospital beds, respirators, masks, gowns, gloves etc.? Does anyone actually know or are we sticking our heads in the sand (inside our homes, of course) and riding this out blind?
A lot of people are looking for this info.. I think many would take it more seriously if they knew how many/few ICU beds were available. I live in Merrill, we haven't had any recorded cases....yet, but the stats would be good if only because it shows someone is actually counting. We here about people in other areas who were told they are "probably positive" but haven't been tested so their families are still going out to the store etc.. That's crazy! We should be better than this.

Is there a resource? If not can you find someone who knows and get them to share?

Thank you!

I understand your frustration, but that's just not the case. Federal law supersedes anything we would do on the state level, so it's important that we work in tandem as we address the needs of the pandemic head on. If we were to pass legislation without knowing what is in the federal bill, we would miss changes to current law that we would have needed to pass to make sure federal funding is accessible. A big one would be changes needed to access unemployment insurance benefits passed on the federal level. As you have been laid off, that will certainly impact you and we want to get it right. We have received the memo we were waiting for from LFB on the stimulus package, so we are currently working on finalizing a legislative package that we will pass in Wisconsin very soon.

I can also understand your frustration over being laid off but the legislature did not make the decision to close down your employer. Governor Evers did, and he did it entirely alone without legislator input.

The delay has occurred because we in Wisconsin needed to wait until the federal legislation was passed and signed. The Legislative Fiscal Bureau is currently working on a memo that goes into the federal stimulus in detail, and will tell us exactly where we need to amend state law to be able to adopt what the federal government has passed. Once we know, we can fold some or all of those suggestions into legislation that we will pass on the state level.

I hope this is helpful information. Have a good night,

Summary: COVID-19: contract - rent issues

Description: From: Rep.Felzkowski
Sent: Wednesday, April 1, 2020 9:55 AM
To: Nancy Teal <greenwing107@gmail.com>
Subject: RE: Mary, Question for you

Hey Nancy,

I totally understand where you are coming from. Just to give you another scenario, landlords are not allowed to terminate contracts or evict anyone who cannot pay their rent because of lost income or whatever happens due to COVID, so the order can go both ways. Governor Evers has said that all those who can continue to pay their rent should, just as all landlords must keep their tenants, no matter what, right now, regardless of whether rent is paid. The other avenue available for you is to apply for an SBA loan, so that during this time, you are still able to pay your bills, like rent. Also, on the federal level, the federal stimulus bill was just passed and signed by President Trump. In that legislation, I believe those who are self employed are temporarily allowed to apply for unemployment. We are waiting on a Legislative Fiscal Bureau document that will help us Wisconsin legislators confirm that or not. But I'm guessing that would also be an avenue for you to help with funding while things are shut down?

Again, I totally understand what you are saying, and how, especially in your circumstances, it seems totally unfair. This is happening in a lot of different fields right now. For example, I know a lot of day care centers that have closed are still requiring their families to pay full tuition, even though the kids are not going to the center. The center says they need to keep that income so that there is a day care center to open when this is all over, but for those families, I'm sure they feel it is unfair (which I totally understand). The families have the ability to pull their kids' contracts with the centers so they don't have to pay, but then they also lose their spots for their kids when they day care opens, as a lot of them have waitlists. This kind of the same as your situation. You could decide with the landlord to pull your contract, but then you could lose your spot after things open up again. This is ultimately why DATCP is encouraging people to come to agreements together. Has anyone talked to the landlord about cutting rates while closed? That way, you are not paying the full amount, and they are also not taking a full loss.

COVID is causing a lot of impossible situations for people all over. I wish there was an easier answer. Please let me know if you have additional thoughts,

Mary

Mary,

Thank you for your response and the time you took to look into this matter for us. It would be commercial rental. If this does not fall under the jurisdiction of the DATCP, what agency would govern commercial rentals in the same manner as residential?

My understanding of your response is, a tenant would be required to continue paying rent for a property that they cannot access, or use to generate income, per the rental agreement. They would be fulfilling their part, while the owner would not. The landlord would then be able to pay expenses and maintain their building, while the tenants would be unable to produce any income to pay their own expenses, in addition to being required to pay for something they have no access to. Given that no one knows how long the mandated closure will last, it could turn out to be a substantial loss / hardship for a single parent raising a family and maintaining a home to meet financial obligations. It is not my intention to submit an argument, but to ask if there is another avenue available to address this issue.

Thanks again,

Nancy Teal

On Tue, Mar 31, 2020 at 6:02 PM Rep.Felzkowski <Rep.Felzkowski@legis.wisconsin.gov> wrote:
Hey Nancy,

I heard back from DATCP. They said that residential rental is under their jurisdiction, but commercial rental is out of their authority, so I wasn't sure exactly which one you were using. DATCP said it appears you have a period tenancy based on a month-to-month rental agreement (verbal agreement). They indicated that a tenant like you would still owe rent until either you or the landlord gave notice that the agreement was going to be terminated. Given the Governor's Executive Order, there are no terminations during this time period, so it would appear you would need to continue to pay rent per your agreement.

Governor Evers and DATCP are encouraging all parties to work together during this time to try and reach mutual agreements.

My contact also would also strongly recommend looking into the US Small Business Administration (SBA) assistance packages that are just starting to roll out. I just saw this local news story today (and it includes a link to more information about applying for SBA): https://www.nbc15.com/content/news/SBA-details-disaster-loan-assistance-to-Wis-small-businesses-569260021.html

Subject: 2020 Car License Plate Renewal Increase as a result of buying a hybrid

Dear Rep. Felzkowski:

I recently received my Wisconsin 2020 license plate renewal for my 2018 Toyota Highlander Hybrid and had a somewhat unpleasant surprise. That is, the State of Wisconsin has now decided to charge an additional $75 per year per Wisconsin statute 341.25(1)(L) for hybrid owners. I've attached a copy of my license plate renewal which indicates this.

Can you please tell me what the rational was for our State Government to pass this tax?

I'm now very disappointed and disillusioned that I bought a hybrid vehicle. I can very clearly recall at the time of this purchase the car sales person telling me that for the additional $1,200 I was paying for the privilege of owning a hybrid that it might not pay off in my case. Why? Because he said hybrids are better suited for if you do a lot of city driving vs. highway driving.

Well, as you already know, living in the northwoods is primarily about highway driving.

None the less, at the time I thought I don't mind paying a little bit more if I can help our environment out, reduce our country's dependence on fossil fuels, etc.

Now I feel like a complete idiot for having those thoughts!

Again, I would appreciate your feedback on the rational for charging an additional amount for the license plate renewal when any hybrid owner has already paid an additional amount for the privilege of owning a hybrid.

Thank-you.

Hey Mike,

Thank you for reaching out on the hybrid fee on your 2018 vehicle. I can understand your frustration, but at least wanted to provide you with an explanation for why this was included in the biennial budget. Right now, the vast majority of Wisconsin's funding for road repair and maintenance comes from the gas tax and registration fees. A non-hybrid vehicle currently pays for the usage of that driver on the road through the gas tax. However, a hybrid does not pay as much tax because it does not use as much gas. Therefore, the driver of a hybrid is not paying the same for use of the same roads as a the driver of a vehicle that uses fuel. To help increase that equality, Wisconsin now has a hybrid fee so that all drivers on the road are paying for the system they drive on, through either the gas tax or the registration fees. I have heard this characterized as penalizing those who are more fuel conscious, and it really has absolutely nothing to do with penalizing at all. It's about creating fairness among all drivers.

I hope that makes sense. Over time, with more fuel efficient vehicles, especially with how many companies are now making fully electric vehicles, the gas tax will continue to become less and less effective at providing all of the funds needed for road repair and maintenance. We will need to continue to have these conversations because our transportation and roads will still need funding, regardless of fuel efficiency. I know I have heard from people in the district that support some kind of tolling, which is a mileage based system, but we would need to seek a federal exemption for that. Please let me now if you'd like to discuss this further.

Dear Rep Felzkowski:

Thank-you for the very prompt response!

I appreciate the answer but I have to say with that kind of thought process to charge people more for their license plate that get higher gas mileage, than you would think there would be higher license fees for smaller cars and more fuel efficient cars. You would also think that the license plate renewal for a completely electric car should be more than for a hybrid.

I'm curious, do you know what the extra license plate surcharge is for an all electric car that uses no gasoline at all and thus, pays no fuel taxes?

I would also be remiss in not wishing you and your family well during this very strange time of our country.

Take care,

Mike Flock

Mike,

Thank you for response. Yes, there is a fee on electric vehicles. It's actually larger, again because of how much they contribute to pay for the transportation system. They pay $100, rather than $75 for hybrids, because no fuel tax is collected for them at all (as you suspected should be the case).

I understand where you are coming from and think this conversation will continue as more companies are going toward all electric cars. When you talk about fuel economy, who pays more (hybrid, electric, of total fuel) is really dependent on how much a person is driving that particular vehicle. Because you are using your hybrid for long commutes, you are likely not paying as much into the transportation system between your hybrid fee and the gas tax that you do pay as a regular fuel SUV or car that drives the same mileage. I think this is why there have been a lot of different conversations about models Wisconsin could adopt to be the most fair to each driver. There have been discussions about tolling, or about a mileage based system that would actually charge you per mile driven (which would seem to get at the fairness issue you are talking about). However, mileage based, while more fair, would apply only to registered drivers in Wisconsin, not really capturing all the truck and travel traffic from out of state that also impact our road integrity. Tolling would only be allowed on newly constructed bridges and roadways, or we would need a waiver from the Federal government (not likely). It's really a complicated issue, and one that's hard to navigate perfectly, especially when talking about raising fees or taxes on people.

I appreciate your feedback. I know this will come up again, likely next session, so it's something I'll bring me with me when discussing it with other legislators. I also wish your family well, we are all surviving and doing our best to stay healthy.

Summary: COVID-19: child care issues

Description: Good morning Crystal,

Thank you for reaching out to our office. You are absolutely correct that childcare facilities and childcare and early education providers are one of the backbones of our society- and this crisis has shone a bright light on that. We understand and fully appreciate that some of the directives and suggestions from DCF to the child care centers have been unrealistic, and know many child care workers are baffled on how they are supposed to make sure toddlers under their care are social distancing.

I can assure you that all of your suggested policy measures will likely be a part of the conversations the legislature and governor are having as we navigate how the state addresses this situation and assess our state's available resources for the response to COVID-19.

If you would be interested, I know Rep. Felzkowski would love to have a phone conversation with you, and other child care providers in the Northwoods, to hear your suggestions and discuss the situation.

Our office is here to assist you- please continue to reach out if there is anything we can help with.

Mary Felzkowski (Czaja),
My name is Crystal. I am the owner at Crystal's Country Childcare in Merrill. I'm writing today to ask you to support the early care and education professionals in our state. Early care and education has been urged to stay open under the "Safer at Home" order, to prepare to welcome the children of essential workers and to stand in the front line of this pandemic. This overlooked, under-funded, fragile field that has always been the workforce behind our state's workforce, is now called to meet this urgent growing need. Still a driver of our economy, child care is now also the backbone to our state's response to COVID19; how can essential workers provide health care and other emergency services without it? Early care and education programs must be financially supported now and in the future so that they are able to continue to serve Wisconsin families. Here's what we are asking you to support:
1. A not less than $250/week "essential child care worker payment", or hazard payment, over and above regular pay to serve as an incentive to recruit providers and support their valuable service.
2. Health care coverage for early childhood educators and child care providers who, often without adequate health insurance, are putting their own well-being in jeopardy in order to continue to care for children. Keep in mind that NO young child abides by physical distancing, and young children are NOT immune to the virus. While symptoms in children generally seem to be milder, they spread the virus in the same way adults do. And unfortunately, the first infant death due to COVID-19 was just reported on Sunday, March 29.
3. A temporary "license-exempt" status for an early childhood educator going into an essential worker's home to care for their children in the event that the essential worker qualifies for Wisconsin Shares as a financial support for child care payment.
4. Grants to child care programs, based on March 1, 2020 enrollment, to make up for lost revenue and increased expenses as they ensure continued care for essential worker families and/or have temporarily closed due to COVID19.
We are depending on you to prioritize the health and well-being of early educators and the early care and education sector, so they can do the important work our state requires of them right now.

Good morning Todd,

Thank you for sending this email and letting me know how COVID is impacting you. This is one of the policies we are looking at as we discuss potential legislation to help Wisconsinites and small business weather this storm. I appreciate your input and will make sure this is something discussed at length. Now that the federal stimulus package has been passed and signed, we are waiting for the Legislative Fiscal Bureau to finish preparing their memo on exactly what the package does, and if Wisconsin will need to change state law in any way. Unemployment insurance is one of the areas we are looking at closely to make sure Wisconsinites can access those federal benefits.

Stay safe,

Working families need bold support from our leaders as we together face economic insecurity and health and safety danger amid the coronavirus public health emergency.
The Wisconsin Legislature must come together immediately to repeal the one-week unemployment insurance benefit waiting period.

We are going to be in a clerk crisis next. The absentee tracking has completely bogged my office down. County Clerk offices are too lean to absorb this. County Administrations do not support our office enough. I may have to pull the plug on providing WisVote.

Our muni clerks have had it. My best ones are probably in their last term if they will even finish. My new ones are like, "what did I sign up for?"

My office should be subsidized by the state if I am to continue WisVote.

Allison relayed to one of my muni's that they are required by statute to put return postage on return envelopes. I cannot find this in statute. Our Governor appears absolutely clueless on the election process at this time.

Something needs to change. The WisVote program is great but the amount of work it has created has exceeded the clerks wage and manning.

Thank you!

Mary Felzkowski (Czaja),
As your constituent, I'm writing to urge you to support efforts that seek to establish a medical marijuana access program in Wisconsin (AB 570 / SB 507).

Passage of this legislation will offer qualified patients state-sanctioned access to a therapy that may offer them significant benefits. Thirty-three states and the District of Columbia already offer similar patient protections. Data from other states finds that the enactment of medical marijuana access is associated with lower rates of opioid abuse and mortality, and does not negatively impact workplace safety, teen use, or motor vehicle safety. Legislation that sought to provide patients with legal access to cannabidiol, a single compound in the marijuana plant, is not sufficiently addressing patients' needs. Wisconsin patients deserve the option to legally access a botanical product that is objectively safer than the litany of pharmaceutical drugs it could replace.
The results of a recent statewide poll commissioned by Marquette Law School show that 83% of Wisconsinites support legalizing medical cannabis. It is time for our state laws to reflect the views of the majority of voters and to address the best interests of our patient community.

Hi Stamena,

Thank you so much for reaching out. Currently, we are closed until further notice. We are keeping our fingers crossed that we will be able to reopen by Summer, but like many organizations we are in limbo. In the meantime, we are distributing food to our families once per week. They pick up 10 meals for the week (2 meals per day for 5 days) on Monday. We have over 131 youth in Langlade County who are picking up and I expect we will have more the longer this continues. We hope that this combined with what the Unified School District of Antigo is providing for food, will help fill the gap of food insecurity in Langlade County.

We have also been trying to connect each week with our youth via phone calls and sending postcards to let them know we are thinking about them. I think the hardest part for us is knowing that some of our kids are at home in a less than ideal situation and depend on the Club for a consistent caring adults.

Again, thank you for reaching out and thank you for all the work that you do in Madison. We truly appreciate your hard work on behalf of the district.

Summary: COVID-19: Wisconsin Renters are Worried

Description: Hello!
I was recently added to a Facebook group discussing the recent freeze on evictions and foreclosures. There is a lot of anxiety surrounding what will happen to people who were unable to pay the bills when the freeze is over. Many are worried that the stimulus check will not be enough to cover their basic needs and housing costs if they are forced to come up with backpay.
Many people are calling to "cancel rent" and "give the houses to the tenants". Even as a renter myself, I find this unfeasible and see the potential to create a second blow to the economy as property managers are unable to pay their employees or hire anyone for needed maintenance, property owners unable to pay their property taxes, and so on down the line. I was wondering if you had anything related to this problem in the works, and would like to offer the solution that those of us not prone to socialist delusions and far-left rhetoric had come up with.
Perhaps the state government could work with property owners to cover up to a certain percentage of the backpay if they allow the tenants time to come up with the backpay without a late charge; also, perhaps we could negotiate with banks to tack missed monthly payments onto then expected end of the mortgage.
We know this solution isn't perfect, but we don't want to cripple our local and state economies. We hope this suggestion is the very least helpful in getting a discussion going and a brainstorming started.
Thank you for your time,
Angelica Sack

Hi Angel,

Thank you so much for reaching out to our office. As we start looking into this issue for you, could you provide your address for our records?

Thank you,

Stamena Ivanov

I'd rather not give out my personal address, as I am contacting you on the behalf a large group from across the state of Wisconsin.

Thank you

Hi Angel,

I appreciate that. However, it is procedure for us to ask so we can reach out to your representative and work with them on this as well. It is customary in the legislature to do this, since we all represent a different geographic portion of the state and your personal representative might have more information for developments in your area. I would greatly appreciate the opportunity to connect you with your legislator- and if that is something you have already done, communicate with them so we are not doubling up on work during this hectic time.

Thank you,

Description: Dear Representative Mary Felzkowski,

My name is Kim Boucha and I live in Tomahawk.

Almost everyone knows that our federal government is on a dangerous course. The unsustainable debt combined with crushing regulations on states and business is a recipe for disaster.

What is less known is that the Founders gave state legislatures the power to act as a final check on abuses of power by Washington, DC. Article V of the US Constitution authorizes the state legislatures to call a convention for proposing needed amendments to the Constitution.

Citizens for Self-Governance has launched the Convention of States Project to call an Article V convention to propose only amendments that would impose fiscal restraints on the federal government, limit its power and jurisdiction, and impose term limits on its officials and members of Congress.

I support this approach. I want our state to be one of the necessary 34 states to pass a resolution calling for this kind of Article V Convention. You can find a copy of the model resolution and the Handbook for Legislators and Citizens (which explains the process and answers many questions) here:
https://conventionofstates.com/handbook_pdf

I ask that you support the Convention of States Project and consider becoming a co-sponsor of the resolution.

Please respond to my request by informing the national COS team of your position, or sending them any questions you may have: info@cosaction.com or (540) 441-7227.

Thank you so much for your service to the people of our district.

Summary: COVID-19: Does not think a judge should be able to change elections

Description: Dale called upset that votes will start trickling out on Tuesday, but won't be closed until the 13th, giving both parties the ability to call for more absentee ballots. I let him know that the judge issued a clarification that the votes can be counted, but clerks cannot release the results until April 13th when all ballots are received.

He does not think one man should have the power to change state law like this.

Summary: COVID-19: Does not want golf courses reopened

Subject: GOLF COURSES

Good morning,

This morning April, 3rd the Greenbay channel 11 news had a story about golf courses and they wanted to open now that it is spring.
They said the golf course association has a petition going around so that golf courses are listed as "essential".
I a furious to say the least!
I do not think I should risk dying so someone can go play golf.

One course owner said she has been in business for 55 years and is not ready to give up. Well there are an awful lot of businesses closed and loosing their incomes now, she would not be alone if she can not open.
If you let golf courses open then all business should open, all businesses are essential to one degree or another!

PLEASE DO NOT LET THIS HAPPEN, DO NOT LET GOLF COURSES OPEN UP!

IF YOU DO WISCONSIN IS DOOMED TO BE THE NEXT NEW YORK!!!!

Hey Jody,

Yes there is a petition to reopen golf courses, but only with certain parameters in place, like allowing people to self-pay so there's not a need for people to interact. So it would essentially be a mechanism to allow for people to get some exercise, use their own equipment, and still social distance. I don't believe that the use of carts would be a part of that either. So if it were to happen, I don't think an open golf course pre-COVID would look the same as an open golf course during COVID.

Just wanted to clarify what I've been hearing and why I signed a letter supporting it. I agree with you completely that every business and worker is essential in one way or another, so if we can be thoughtful about how businesses operate, or don't, during this pandemic, we can hopefully continue protecting Wisconsinites, both from getting the illness, and by promoting good mental health, which is also important. If we can do that, we can also reduce the amount of economic fallout that we will all have to deal with together after the outbreak passes.

Thank you again for your thoughts. Please let me know if you have anything else you'd like to discuss! Hope you have a good day,

I am so disappointed in your decision to sign.
Have you been out and about? People are not practicing distancing, go to any store that is open, watch the people. I even have a friend who called and invited us over for steak dinner this Saturday to help them celebrate their anniversary. We have not left the house in weeks and will not go to their house, they don't get it.
People don't get it, and people need the direction that has come down.
Golfing will be there, April is pretty iffy for golfers anyway, why can't they wait until May? Those who are following the safer at home orders are waiting.

Jody,

I understand what you are saying, and I am absolutely not saying that people should not social distance. They should be because we need to get to the other side of this. However, what your friend is doing and the suggestion to open golf courses aren't really the same thing. The thing with golf courses is that there's really very little risk of spreading the virus if you're out, walking the course, and using your own equipment. People are cooped up in their own homes going a little (or a lot!) stir crazy, and this would be just one thing people can look forward to that will not negatively impact our ability to fight the outbreak. It's the same reason Governor Evers and the DNR have left all of the State Parks open (and have waived fees!), so that people can get out and about without interacting with each other. I see no problem with that, and actually think it's a good thing.

Summary: Expressing issues with his MCO

Description: Dan has communicated with our office many times on a variety of different issues over the last several months all centering on the care he believes she should be receiving from his MCO. He is unhappy with the level of care he is receiving from Inclusa. We have intervened on his behalf with DHS and to Inclusa directly on many occasions. It has become clear after working with Dan a lot that he is challenging to communicate with for all involved. He can be very demanding and very flippant with those he works with. Most recently, we have tried to help him clarify his needs with us so we can help convey that to Inclusa. This has only caused more issues. Here is as sample correspondence from him this week:

I have told all the things I need help with INCLUDING a need to get my wheelchair up and running, van repaired,
Clean,
Organize,
Cook food,
Shop,
STair chair,
Ramp,
Lawn care,
my boys rubber stamped,
Social security taken care of as I can't do the stress, etc, etc...
Come on people, STOP MAKING BELIEVE I NEVER EVER SAID THIS SHIT IN THE PAST...

As an example, Dan is very angry that Inclusa will not solve his social security issues. It has been explained to him that this is a federal program, and he will need to call them to talk through his issues there. He refuses to do that, and insults his care team for abandoning him.

Dan reaches out to a new person each time he hits a wall with the people he is communicating with at that time (right now, our office and Senator Tiffany's). He is demanding many different types of care that his benefit package through Inclusa does not include. This has been conveyed to him time and time again, but Inclusa also tries to help him obtain what is not covered through other means.

After talking with Senator Tiffany's office, it seems that Dan is best served by continuing to encourage him to work with his management team, where it is clear they are trying to work with him on his needs. We will both continue to monitor the situation to make sure that Dan is not being abused or ignored.

For the future, Inclusa does have a signed release of information for our office in the event that we need them to share details with us. Our contact at Inclusa for him is:

Summary: Update Election Law

Description: Mary Felzkowski (Czaja),
We call on the state legislature to pass bipartisan legislation ahead of the April 7 Spring Election to:
• Automatically mail every registered voter an absentee ballot
• Count all absentee ballots postmarked by Election Day
• Give local election clerks more time to count absentee ballots
In this unusual election, Wisconsin voters and local election officials need to ensure every single voter can safely participate in our democracy.
We need the state legislature to act now.

Birnamwood, Wisconsin 54414

Susan,

Thank you for your question and allowing me to explain why a total mail-in ballot election at this point is not a feasible option.

1. There is no way to secure the vote. Mail in ballots would require eliminating voter ID.

2. It would eliminate same day registration as only registered voters as of the time the ballots went out would be allowed to vote.

3. The current registered voter list includes 200,000 voters who the Elections Commission suspects have moved. If those ballots are sent, anyone at those addresses could fill them out and return them.

4. The Elections Commission themselves say they don't have the infrastructure necessary to conduct an election this way.

5. Washington state, who does handle elections this way, has warned against trying to move to this system in haste.

6. I have already heard from several clerks just in my district who have said they simply do not have the time or resources before April 7th to mail ballots to all registered voters. Most of them are already spending their nights and weekends as it is trying to send out ballots to those that have already requested them.

I wish the Governor had consulted with the Elections Commission before asking the legislature to move in this direction. They could have provided him with valuable information on why this isn't feasible right now, with the election less than a week and a half away. I totally understand where you are coming from and also want to make sure that our election is as safe as possible for everyone involved. We need to do everything we can to protect voters and also protect the integrity of the election itself. I will be sending out information later today encouraging low risk, healthy adults (like college students currently back at home) to become poll workers, so that those who don't feel comfortable going to the polls can stay home and vote absentee. The Elections Commission is also offering COVID-19 specific online training for clerks on how to keep their polling places safe.

Thank you again for your email,

Description: Shannon,

Thank you for sending this email and letting me know how COVID is impacting you. This is one of the policies we are looking at as we discuss potential legislation to help Wisconsinites and small business weather this storm. There seems to be broad support for temporarily repealing the waiting period so that those trying to access unemployment benefits can do so, so I would expect to see this in the legislation the Legislature passes in the near future.

I appreciate your time and the information you shared. Stay safe,

Subject: Unemployment Benefits: Repeal the waiting period

Mary Felzkowski (Czaja),
Repeal the one week waiting period for unemployment benefits. This action will make a difference for working families who are suddenly and unexpectedly facing job loss due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
Working families need bold support from our leaders as we together face economic insecurity and health and safety danger amid the coronavirus public health emergency.
The Wisconsin Legislature must come together immediately to repeal the one-week unemployment insurance benefit waiting period.
Most of us have now been denied a week of unemployment and this only makes the struggle more real. Families that live week to week with little children, sick children, single parents this struggle is real. Please see the issue that you have decided to ignore. Help isn't coming fast enough!

Summary: COVID-19: Election Law

Description: Hey Tracy,

I just wanted to let you know that we are hearing from a lot of counties and local clerks with the same concerns. It's just not feasible to put something like this in place and the legislature will not be pursuing it. We all care about making sure this election is safe and runs smoothly, and I think a Mail-in ballot system at this point in the election goes in the opposite direction. The items that you mentioned you have no problem with are some items that legislators are currently reviewing.

Thank you again for your time and all the work you are putting in to help this election continue,

Subject: Elections

Good Afternoon,
I received the attached email from Jamie Kuhn, Director of Outreach for Governor Evers, this afternoon. I am very concerned with the Governor's request to Legislature to make changes to elections laws this close to an election. I sent a response to Mr. Kuhn and wanted to send my concerns to you. I hope that I can convey my thoughts in a way that impresses upon you the need to stop moving forward with trying to send absentee ballots to every voter in Wisconsin. Mr. Kuhn stated in his email that the Governor has asked the Legislature to pass legislation for three items.

- Allow absentee ballots postmarked the day of the election to be counted. I have no major issues with this, however, I think the legislation should state they would still need to arrive by the Friday after the election. It was done this way in the past and is doable.
- Extend the time period to give clerks extra time to count the influx of absentee ballots. I have no major concerns with this one either as long as the extended timeline doesn't interfere with the Counties ability to complete the Board of Canvass on time.
- Allow voters the opportunity to vote from home by sending an absentee ballot to every registered voter. This raises a number of large concerns for my office and a number of the municipal clerks in the county that I have heard from. In Oneida County we have approximately 24,000 registered voters. In the 2016 April General Election (which is the election that most closely resembles this one) we had 15,492 voters vote. This was the number that I and the municipal clerks used when determining how many ballots to order and have available for April 7. We do not have ballots available for every voter. We do not have envelopes available to mail a ballot to every voter. We do not have the time it would take or the staff that it would take to mail a ballot to every voter. I don't envy the Governor the position that he finds himself in right now with COVID-19 or with this election. I think that you would find that Clerks feel very strongly about making sure that every voter has the opportunity to vote, however, sending ballots to every voter is not the way to do it with less than 2 weeks before the election. In Oneida County we have 21 municipalities and only 3 of those are staffed by full-time clerks. The other 18 of those are part-time clerks, many of whom have other jobs. They are already overwhelmed, overworked and overbudget due to the high volume of absentee requests. To expect them to somehow miraculously get ballots out to every elector is shortsighted, it can not happen. I listened to an interview with the Governor this afternoon and a reporter from our area asked him how Clerks were going to accomplish getting a ballot to every elector when there aren't supplies available to do that. The response from the Governor was that it wouldn't be easy. That is a very flippant response for such a large task that may be asked of our clerks. The interview then went to Ryan from the SEOC (I think that's what he said) and Ryan said that the WEC and SEOC has procured over 600,000 ballots for clerks across the state. That isn't accurate. They ordered and supplied over 600,000 envelopes to clerks and that was amazing, however, that isn't even a fraction of what will be needed if we have to mail a ballot to every elector. In Oneida County I received 7000 envelopes (I am so appreciative of those), however, we have 24,000 voters. In order to mail a ballot to an elector it costs $1.00 per voter. That's $24,000 that our municipalities will have to come up with to send the envelopes. I urge our Legislators to rethink making any law changes that would require an absentee ballot be sent to every voter.

Thank you for taking the time to read my email.

Thank you for your response and for listening to the Clerks. I appreciate that the legislature is listening to our concerns.

Does not understand why would have people packed in lines at the polling places, spreading the virus. I explained the current number of absentee ballots that have been sent out currently, and that that number is almost going to eclipse the total number of voters in previous elections, so there shouldn't be lines at the polling places. Walked through what different clerks are doing, including the drive up option. Talked about Vietnam, and what we would be doing if a bomb fell on Chicago. Talked about the deaths in NYC. I told him more about what Wisconsin is experiencing as far as numbers so far.

He was very grateful someone answered. Says he's tried his Senator, the Governor's office. He hasn't been able to get through to anyone. Is hoping things go well Tuesday, but doesn't think that will be the case.

He then became agitated, and wanted to know if Mary supported getting rid of the waiting period for good. I said that I had not spoken with her about that so I did not know where she stood on it, but that my understanding was the legislation would be a temporary change. He asked a lot of leading questions like "so Mary's not going to fight to have this dropped permanently?" I said I did not say that, but that I was not sure where she stood on the issue. He asked me why the waiting period is in place. I explained why, and he said that we should just fully fund it all the time no matter what.

Walter,

Thanks for your email. Yes, a majority of poll workers are elderly, this is exactly why I sent out the email! We are hoping to see more low-risk healthy individuals volunteer so that those at higher risk don't feel bad about saying home. Thankfully, over 1 million absentee ballots have been requested. For reference, the last two elections, the primary election didn't see more than 1.2 million voters statewide (both in person and absentee). So we aren't going to be seeing the lines and packed polling places like we would normally because, thankfully, most people have chosen to stay home and vote that way. I voted absentee, but my husband and I are trying to find a place to volunteer so we can help out. Please let me know if you know of anyone who is interested! Also, anyone who wants to stay home to protect themselves absolutely should.

New Adjuvants in the Pipeline = More Profits, Questionable Safety
By the Children's Health Defense Team
Many people are particularly worried about the safety of vaccine adjuvants—formulations added to vaccines to increase their potency and efficacy. At the December Global Vaccine Safety Summit, the Coordinator of WHO's Initiative for Vaccine Research candidly conceded that these concerns are justified, acknowledging adjuvants' association with systemic adverse events and stating that vaccines without adjuvants are preferable to vaccines with adjuvants.

Vaccine manufacturers are headed in the opposite direction though, rushing to develop and use more adjuvants because modern synthetic vaccines need more of a "helping hand" to prod the immune system into action. However, vaccine makers are also giddy at new proprietary adjuvants' potential to launch highly profitable next-generation vaccines.

The True Cost of Autism:

Recently Del Bigtree's The Highwire had an interview with political economist, Dr. Toby Rogers, that should have everyone's attention. Dr. Toby Rogers is a researcher who has looked at the science and added up the costs of autism. In short, Toby thinks the economics of autism will bury us.

PFAS are fluorinated chemicals used in many industries and consumer products including cookware, clothing, and food packaging. They are known as "forever chemicals" because they don't break down in the environment; instead they can accumulate in ecosystems, animals and humans causing harm.

PFAS have been phasing out of clothing and food packaging since 2015, but I still question the safety of chemicals that are used as replacements. And in the case of PFAS, the damage may already be in motion and continue to expand as the chemicals circulate through the environment.

Can Baby Teeth Predict Neuro-developmental Disorders?
By Clare Ongera, Focus for Health

Two separate studies using the baby teeth of twins have indicated that exposure to heavy metals at high levels can be toxic for brain development and is linked to autism and its severity.

When considering the fact that approximately 1 in 59 U.S children are identified as autistic by the U.S Center for Disease Control and prevention, baby teeth analysis has groundbreaking potential in the understanding of how autism develops and how it might be prevented.

Summary: COVID-19: Why is it taking 3-4 days to get a result for Coronavirus test in Wisconsin?

Description: Why is it taking 3-4 days to get a result for Coronavirus test in Wisconsin? Seems ridiculous!!! It's not that way in other states??
Sent from my iPhone

Hey Andrew,

I looked all over the website to see if there was anything on the length of time for the testing. I'm guessing 3-4 days isn't accurate, but is there anything from DHS I can send our constituent on this?

Sorry to bother you!

Liz

Not a problem at all. The testing itself (i.e. once the specimen reaches the state lab or a private lab) only takes a day or so. However, getting the specimen transported can add additional time. So depending on how far away it's coming from, as well as its order in the testing queue, that is where you might see the full process from start - being seen by a provider - to finish - receiving results - take longer.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hey Carol,

Thanks for your email. I actually hadn't seen that statistic. Can you tell me where you saw that? I have reached out to DHS just to see if they have any facts on how long the tests are taking. I guessing that the length of time has improved greatly as more testing sites pop up around the United States.

Thanks,

Mary Felzkowski

A friend of mine had a test done at our hospital yesterday, and was told she would get results in 2-4 days! Is this the current practice in place? Thank you for your prompt response, I really appreciate it!
Sent from my iPhone

Hey Carol,

I just received this email from the Department of Health Services: "The testing itself (i.e. once the specimen reaches the state lab or a private lab) only takes a day or so. However, getting the specimen transported can add additional time. So depending on how far away it's coming from, as well as its order in the testing queue, that is where you might see the full process from start - being seen by a provider - to finish - receiving results - take longer." Wisconsin is taking in tests from all over the region for the time being, so that transport can be a bigger factor. Once the test is received, it is processed quickly.

I hope this helps!

Mary Felzkowski

My concern is that's a lot of time that more people are being exposed, by not getting a more rapid result response. Why isn't each lab in the state having there own test kits, to do an immediate test/ results? Thank you

---

So my understanding is that while the test was taken at the hospital, the specimen must then be transported to a testing site. Because all tests are being sent to that spot, there is then a queue of specimens to be tested, therefore accounting for the estimate of 2-4 days.

Thank you,

Mary

Yes apparently that is the procedure at present time.

I totally understand the concern and think hospitals and the like are doing the best they can with what they have access to at this time. Testing for the virus is not as simple and other more common tests. There are specific chemicals needed to test for coronavirus that are dwindling in supply as the number of tests nationally and globally grows. Rather than spreading those supplies around sparsely, they are concentrating them in one place so that they can be put to the best use. As the confirmed cases are in southern Wisconsin right now, it makes more sense for the testing to also be done in Southern Wisconsin. As the pandemic continues, the response will become more coordinated and streamlined, but the supplies need to be created and dispersed. With everything changing so frequently, it's simply hard to keep up. I think that's why all of us need to be patient and self-quarantine if we believe we've been infected, but otherwise follow CDC recommendations, which is to be really cautious about skin contact and good hygiene.

I hope your friend hears sooner rather than later and that the test comes back negative. Thanks,

Mary

Thank you again for your response even tho it's not the answer I was hoping for. Soo the propaganda that our mostly always untruthful, uneducated, president thinks he know it all, is again spreading misleading information that there are enough kits everywhere. As you maybe can tell I'm not a fan of the con artist and his groupies. How can 1 man have changed our whole government, constitutional values, and respect for others. I'm so saddened by what's happening, 1 man can bully with tweets , and make common sense, kindness and laws disappear. I'm sorry just had to vent, I'm hoping some women with values can turn this around, and maybe you can push for better testing practices. Again, I thank you for your response and listening to me. Something or someone needs to step up and change things! Thank you, sincerely, Carol Woody

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Description: I would like to know if the State legislature voted on the Governor's decision to close our school districts? Do you realise the pressure this puts on families in Antigo who do not have daycare arrangements for the next three week?

Good evening,

Thank you for your email. We did not vote on this in the Legislature. Governor Evers has the executive power to make this decision on his own. I totally understand where you are coming from and it's something we are hearing from all over the state, and in the U.S. in general. The Coronavirus is causing a lot of impossible situations that we are all going to have to work through together. I have heard that, with the college campuses also closing, there are a lot of college kids interested in helping with the day care shortage.

Mary Felzkowski

Thank you for responding. I think there needs to be further discussion at the State level on the Governor's power to make these decisions. Is this the new normal? Each year during the flu season there are new viruses that cause illness.

Hey Andrew,

At this point, I'm not 100% sure what to do with this information, other than send it to you! Do with it what you will.

We had a constituent reach out who said that she went to a grocery store up North. In the buffet area, the glass dividers from the foods were moved or not completely down. Her concern was that it was right at head level for sick kids who are sneezing and coughing on the food. She didn't have any pictures or anything, but just wanted us to pass it along as a public health concern during the COVID response. She suggested requirements that the food be completely protected from the public by glass.

Hope you are all holding up over there!

Dear Rep. Felzkowski:

I just became aware of a recent court decision dangerously impacting waterfront property owners rights. I was pleased to learn there has been legislative action to restore waterfront property owners’ rights, especially for those who live along a flowage.

I strongly urge you to support AB 551/ SB 501 and help restore these rights for all property owners. We hold these rights sacred in Wisconsin, and your vote to support AB 551/ SB 501 will help ensure these rights are never infringed upon again.

We are so blessed in Wisconsin to have access to so many great waterways. Your vote in support of AB 551/ SB 501 will continue our grand tradition of protecting property rights.

Dear Representative Mary Felzkowski,

My name is Richard Marien and I live in Antigo.

Almost everyone knows that our federal government is on a dangerous course. The unsustainable debt combined with crushing regulations on states and business is a recipe for disaster.

What is less known is that the Founders gave state legislatures the power to act as a final check on abuses of power by Washington, DC. Article V of the US Constitution authorizes the state legislatures to call a convention for proposing needed amendments to the Constitution.

Citizens for Self-Governance has launched the Convention of States Project to call an Article V convention to propose only amendments that would impose fiscal restraints on the federal government, limit its power and jurisdiction, and impose term limits on its officials and members of Congress.

I support this approach. I want our state to be one of the necessary 34 states to pass a resolution calling for this kind of Article V Convention. You can find a copy of the model resolution and the Handbook for Legislators and Citizens (which explains the process and answers many questions) here:
https://conventionofstates.com/handbook_pdf

I ask that you support the Convention of States Project and consider becoming a co-sponsor of the resolution.

Please respond to my request by informing the national COS team of your position, or sending them any questions you may have: info@cosaction.com or (540) 441-7227.

Thank you so much for your service to the people of our district.

Kris,

Thanks for your email. I'm not really sure what you are talking about, but is there something my office can help you with? There are a lot of locations that are currently low on supplies, but stores are working diligently to constantly restock. Stores themselves are instituting limits on how much of one item can be purchased so they can better control their own stock. Government officials have also been asking the public to buy less as we move through the situation.

Thank you again for your email,

Mary

Seriously, where is your voice regarding testing kits for this virus so healthcare is not impaired? By Republicans promoting this epidemic as a HOAX and FAKE news has shown the American people that your group cannot be trusted. In January when this virus first appeared in the US, you and your party should have immediately began working with the healthcare industry to develop testing kits and not spread propaganda about HOAXES and FAKE NEWS. We are now behind the eight ball with testing kit availability. I was just at the food market today, the meat counters are scarce, milk is becoming scarce. I was told the grocery chain was only receiving about 30 % of their orders. How does this help people like the disabled, indigent, elderly. What is wrong with you. Do you not have any conscience at all!

Kris,

I think literally everyone working on this is just doing the best they can, including stores trying to keep things stocked. The reality of what our daily lives looks like has been changing rapidly. I can tell that you are very upset, and I can certainly understand where you are coming from from your perspective. Federal and state governments continue to work to make sure that all testing is available. Part of the problem is that the actual testing is time consuming, but teams are working on that and each day, response gets better.

If there is something you need help with, please let my team know and we will do everything we can.

Thanks,

Mary

Mary,

I am a healthcare professional, the actual testing has nothing to do with there not being enough testing kits available. You and your party are responsible for this pandemic, for not being pro active. If something would have been done in January there would have been enough testing kits to go around to test everyone.

Kris,

Thank you for everything you are doing to help fight against coronavirus. I'm sorry you feel the way you do, but if you need anything in the future, let me know.

Doug,

Thank you for your email. I totally understand the confusion, the anger, and the true panic for what will happen to our small businesses. I have asked that a legal memo be drafted to specifically answer your question, but I wanted to get back to you with a short answer at first. There is statutory authority that provides precedence for Governor Evers' current actions. Under Wis. Stat. § 252.02 (3), The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) may "close schools and forbid public gatherings in schools, churches, and other places to control outbreaks and epidemics." This section is specifically cited as authorization for the DHS order. DHS also has the ability to "promulgate and enforce rules or issue orders for…the control and suppression of communicable diseases" (Wis. Stat. § 252. 02 (4)), as well as the power to "authorize and implement all emergency measures necessary to control communicable diseases" (Wis. Stat. § 252.02 (6)).

I will get you the more official memo once I have it, but I hope this information is helpful. I have asked that they address the constitutional concern over the right to assemble, which is a very valid question.

Thank you again for your email, I hope to get back to you soon.

Summary: COVID-19: Can health food stores stay open?

Description: Dear Rep. Mary J. Felzkowski,

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, local governments are putting restrictions on businesses in order to prevent the virus' spread. In many cases this is appropriate, but it is equally important that essential businesses such as health food stores stay open. These stores carry products such as dietary supplements, healthy food options, products to replenish electrolytes, and many other such products that can help us stay healthy and boost our immune systems during the pandemic.

Our community needs these stores open. And because space is typically quite limited, community businesses would likely not meet or exceed gathering limits. While the spread of COVID-19 has brought this country to a stop, natural product stores across the country have a unique responsibility to their communities to remain open and provide products that support wellness.

Please allow these important stores to stay open!

Summary: COVID-19: 50 people gathering comment

Description: Called wanting to make a comment about the Governor banning gatherings of 50 people or more. Said he understands the precautions needed to fight COVID, just does not think Governor Evers has the power to ban anything from his chair, and thinks we need to do everything we can to prevent him from stealing our constitutional rights.

I also sent him a follow up email from Mary just to let him know Mary agrees with his concerns.

Hey Marlon,

I just wanted to reach out and thank you for calling. My staff let me know you called with concerns about the 50 person gathering prohibitions. I agree with you that we need to monitor this situation and make sure that the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Governor is not doing anything to scale back our constitutional rights. I agree with you that we need to take precautions, but that cannot come at the expense of our rights. Rest assured, we will be watching him very closely.

Thank you again and I hope everything is going well for you,

Mary Felzkowski

Thank you for your reply. The problem is that governor Eavers has already broken the law by infringing or denying a constitutional right to freedom of peaceful assembly. I think that any time a constitutional rights infringed it needs to be nipped in the bud and some legal action should be taken against the governors office immediately. Watching him is just letting him get away with infringing the peoples rights. This is not a laughing matter. I realize public safety is of the upmost importance and everyone should be urged very strongly to stick to these guidelines of safety and health. But banning private businesses and private citizens from peacefully assembling is a constitution violation already. Of course those of us who have already been watching governor Eavers know that he has no respect for Constitution or the rights of the people because of course he thinks that he and other socialist know better than we do how to run our lives.

It doesn't matter to me how far any legal action would get in today's world what's important to me is that somebody files it and that it's out in the open for everyone to see so that the governor knows he can't just get away with it without any repercussions. Please take a stand against the banning of free citizens assembling as they see fit and where they see fit it is not the right of the government to tell the citizens what they can and cannot do when it is an issue of constitutional rights.

I think you're doing a great job as are many in our state government level but because people don't take decisive ACTION when these things occur they think they can just get away with it in perpetuity. Another instance is Democrats refusing to remove people from voter rolls when the indications are these people should not be on them. I don't even think it's a difficult issue. These people need to be removed from the elections board if they're not going to follow the law in the court order. And that starts with legal action against Each and everyone who opposes that court order. If we opposed a court order we would be put in jail. The elections board our servants of the people and when they refuse to uphold a court order they are in violation of the law and they should be arrested and put in jail until they decide to change their mind to be in line with the law. Representatives are not above the law and they are not above the citizens and I cannot understand why legal action has not been taken against these lawbreakers already. if we cannot trust our elected and appointed representatives do you have the courage to take legal action when it is necessary then we have lost the battle already. Please let me see some action on this issue I'm sick and tired of elections being dictated by questionable votes. If the timeline Has a cut off for ballots to be cast it needs to be adhered to without excuse. If ballots were lost and not found until after the cut off then it is the clerk and the transporter that should be in legal jeopardy but the boats cannot be counted because the law is the law. I really need to see some forthright courage from my representatives and those of my fellow citizens. No law can be made that is repugnant to the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. If representatives ignorantly or intentionally make such laws The citizens are not bound to follow them and no officer of the law is required to enforce them. I think every representative should be required to take a constitution 101 course to prove they have knowledge of the peoples rights and proper governance before they can fail to run for office. Hillsdale College in Michigan has free constitution courses available to anyone who signs up. There's no excuse for any representative not to have full knowledge of the constitution and be willing to go as far as laying down their own life to protect it. That's what we hire representatives for. I love my state and my country and treasure my constitution and rights above all else because I know it is unique in all the world and all history there is no other government like it and if we do not protect it vehemently it will cease to exist and we will spiral down into tyranny yet again.

Thank you for your efforts. Please do your best to impress upon all of the other representatives how important this issue is. Our freedom and liberty depends on all of you☐☐

Hey Troy,

Thank you for reaching out on this. It's a question I expect to get frequently now that bars and restaurants have forced closure. We on the Assembly leadership team are working with the Senate and Governor Evers to hopefully put together a legislative plan that will help people all over Wisconsin. This is an idea we have all been asked about and I will make sure it is discussed today as we continue working toward a plan.

Hang in there, Troy. This whole crisis is putting everyone in a lot of impossible situations, and I sincerely hope that you are able to stay open through it all. Thank you for doing everything you can to do that will still being safe. Please reach out again if you have any additional questions in the meantime.

Thanks,

Hi Mary-

Taking a shot here, trying to lookout for our employees. Is there a way that legislature could discuss waiving the one-week waiting period for unemployment comp. We are running as long as we can during this time but in the drastic event of a government shutdown on industry a temporary waiver of the one-week period would help people out a lot. We are just trying to prepare for everything.

Have a good one Mary and stay safe!

Hey Andi,

I just received this from DSPS. Please let me know that you received it and whether this addresses your concerns. If not, let me know!

Good afternoon,

Due to the disruptions to higher education caused by the COVID-19 (Coronavirus) the Wisconsin Distance Learning Authorization Board (DLAB) is honoring the U.S. Department of Education's guidance stating that it is "providing broad approval to institutions to use online technologies to accommodate students on a temporary basis." Please see the Department's guidance in its entirety for more information.
https://ifap.ed.gov/electronic-announcements/030520Guidance4interruptionsrelated2CoronavirusCOVID19

Therefore, institutions not approved for participation in the State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement will have the ability to accommodate students using online technologies on a temporary basis with no repercussions from the DLAB. This special accommodation will remain in place until May 31, 2020 and will be reconsidered at that time to determine if an extension to that timeframe is necessary.

Additional information will be posted on the Department website later today regarding this issue.

Thank you.

Mike

Hello Representative Felzkowski,

The underlined statement is what Sue Kolve the Owner of the Salon Professional Academy in Onalaska experienced yesterday.
I too have made many calls and sent email with no response.
Shawn Raukman from PHD Academy in Eau Claire has only heard from the EAB which oversees Massage and they granted emergency online approval.
Can you help us with our Cosmetology, Esthiology and Nail Technology Programs?

I reached out to the DSPS yesterday and I was directed to Licensing and Credentials. I am trying to get Temporary Approval of Distance Education. This is the first step in this process. Once we complete this process with the State we are able to move forward with our Accreditors and the Department of Education.
I asked to speak directly to Secretary Crim, Deputy Secretary Trammell, or Assistant Deputy Secretary Hereth....I was told I could only be transferred to a department . I did leave a message have not heard from anyone. Sent email , no response called back and receptionist assured me that she would pass my contact information on to Sam...the Supervisor and he would get this in the hands of the right person. Still no word from anyone.
If you can help me in anyway.....the Governor has ordered all schools to close today at 5pm.With State Approval I am confident that we will be able to continue teaching our students. The theory portion of our curriculum and a little of the practical portion of our curriculum can be taught online. There are 2 textbook companies that provide online formats for the programs we offer. Pivot Point and Milady both offer Cosmetology and Esthetics online curriculum.
This link will take you to a spreadsheet that will show the progress each State has made . I would like to add our State Approval to this sheet!

Subject: RE: Friday Evening Coronavirus Update

Hey Louise,

Your first email actually referenced rest stops, so I reached out to DOT on that point specifically because WIsDOT controls the rest stops, where many truckers choose to sleep overnight. The truck stops are currently closed to dine in, but are still able to provide take out food. My office reached out to the ones in my district last week and many are currently offering take out at this time. Hopefully truckers continue to use the rest stops for sleeping and bathroom breaks.

Thank you again for reaching out, I really appreciate you looking out for those that may not have the ability to reach out to me!

Mary Felzkowski

I didn't write to you about the rest stops. I wrote to you about the restaurants closing..... the truck stops.....where all folks can go to eat. I hope that was clear. I know nothing first hand. Louise

I found this on the internet..... on facebook and I am concerned about the truckers. I have been hearing things from a trucker I know.

Here is the post. Please do what you can to help truckers. Without them goods will not come in and there will be panic in our land.

 Written by Sean, a local trucker ***
In all this craziness I want you take a minute and think about the American truck driver and pray for them as well in all this chaos! Hours of service rules have been lifted to let truck drivers run longer if hauling supplies directly impacted by covid-19. Yet the government is shutting down rest areas, truck stops are closing there bathrooms and showers. These truckers have no where to pull off to get rest, use a bathroom, or shower. Yet they are expected to do their best to deliver these products on time to make sure we have what we need and have our supplies for our bathrooms, showers, refrigerators etc. A truck drivers life on the road has always been hard, but now it is extremely harder! But as long as they're allowed, you can bet that they will still get the job done and keep America running! Please pray! Better yet call your representatives and demand some help for our truckers. CALL YOUR REPRESENTATIVES..... regarding the truckers. Help them.(I added this last line) Louise
Hey Diana,

We just got this from a constituent. Is it true that rest areas are shut down to the point where the truckers are not able to pull off to sleep? If so, is there any guidance from Gov. Evers on what truckers should do in the mean time?

Thank you!!

Liz

We'll have a press release coming out later today. No, rest areas are not closed. WI rest areas are open.

I believe this came to be a rumor yesterday when PA closed their rest areas, or so I've heard.

Hey Louise,

Just wanted to get back to you that Wisconsin Rest Areas are open and have not closed. They will be putting out a statement about that later today so truckers know, but WisDOT thinks this became a rumor because Pennsylvania closed their rest areas.

Thank you again for reaching out!

Mary Felzkowski

Thanks for the reply. I hope that they can get food on the road. Rest areas are one thing but they do not have food in them. I know people are concerned about the truckers. This might be a blessing in disguise as they need to appreciate our truckers (and farmers).

A friend of my son who is a trucker, told him that their boss told them to carry a gun if they had a legal one to carry. People are scared.

I do not like President Trump at all, but now finally I think a lot is being done as it should be done. Louise

Summary: COVID-19: Please don't shut down CDL driving schools

Description: Tim reached out to both our office and Senator Tiffany's office. Chris from Tiffany's office reached out to WisDOT. Their response is on top, Tim's original concern is on the bottom.

Hey Christopher –

First, just want to be clear that WisDOT did not close any driving schools.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

And, even though Governor Evers did order schools to close, a CDL school is considered a business.

We prepared the following talking points:

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation is encouraging drivers to use its online services to the greatest extent possible. https://wisconsindot.gov/Pages/home.aspx

Services that are not eligible for online processing, like knowledge tests and CDL licensure, will continue to be handled via DMV service centers. Please visit the online DLGuide before coming to an office to complete your application, submit it electronically and make an appointment. DMV offices are exercising social distancing standards, and having an appointment will ensure your transaction is handled in an efficient manner.

Governor Evers closed public and private Wisconsin Schools. Although called a CDL Training School, your institution is a business which is not covered under the school closing order.
https://evers.wi.gov/Documents/EO/SignedSchoolClosure.pdf

The Governor's executive orders on mass gatherings orders apply statewide. All persons and businesses should review those orders to determine how they apply to any particular business.

We are utilizing Google Hangout for others to be present and engage in discussion as needed. We are also livestreaming the meeting in an attempt to minimize those dropping in physically. Absolutely NOT. The virus did not originate in Wisconsin, every one infected got it from some one who travelled outside the state and came in/back. Even if you call it community spread, the community spread is happening in areas predominantly of high population density. Italy for example seems to be experiencing the most severe spread. Rome 2.9 million extreme high rate of international tourism, pop. density similar to Milwaukee, but Milan 1.2 million, in the city proper has pop. density in some places near 50,000/sq.mi.. 10 times that of Milwaukee. In rural Wisconsin we are about 15-25 people/sq.mi.. E. coli isn't the fatality rate as high as 15-20%? We don't shut down every restaurant and bar, just the one that got people sick. No proof whatsoever anybody contracted covid 19 from any restaurant, bar, or dental clinic. Population density is the major factor. Quarantine every one who traveled outside the state and shut down Milwaukee and Madison. Look at the demographics of every area in the world or USA, you will see the highest number and rate of spread is in areas of population density exceeding 3000/sq.m.. Thank you for your responses, no need to answer, just keep fighting for what is right.

Thank you for your follow up. Of the cases that are positive in Wisconsin, there are now several that have contracted COVID-19 through community spread, so these are people who have no known connection to someone with COVID or anyone who has travelled. Because of that, they absolutely could have contracted it from a bar, or a dental office, or a restaurant. There is no way of knowing exactly where they contracted it. You are right that none of the cases are yet in Northern Wisconsin and I am grateful for that.

Although I do agree that we need to respond accordingly to make sure this virus does not continue to spread, I am just as concerned as you are that our response is overblown, and that the negative impact to our economy will outweigh the positives. Please know that Republicans are pushing the Governor for answers and questioning absolutely every decision he makes. At the end of the day, he has statutory authority to make every single one of the decisions he has been making.

I'm sorry, I know this is not what you want to hear. We will do everything within our power to protect Wisconsinites, both from COVID and from the economic downturn it has caused.

Limiting seating in restaurants seemed to be a reasonable precaution to make. However, closing all restaurants state wide is ridiculous on its face. 72 cases? That's it? Not one covid19 within 100 miles of Antigo, and every restaurant had to close? Sounds more like the work of tyrants and deep state bureaucracy than reasonable precautions. This is wrong!

I ate lunch at El Tequilla restaurant in Antigo yesterday about 12:45 pm. Out of 14 tables in the north side of the dining area, only 4 tables were occupied. Normally this restaurant is nearly 100% capacity at lunch. It is evident that people who are concerned were already avoiding public places without the restaurant needing to restrict access to '10'. With no covid 19 case within 100 miles, this looks far more like a deep state socialist exercise to ban constitutional rights to free enterprise and right to peaceably assemblies.

No one in the state of Wisconsin has contracted covid 19 from a restaurant, bar, or dental office. The latest and closest covid 19 cases to northern Wisconsin were all from people who were returning from international travel. So are the republicans in Madison going to continue to allow a madman impose financial ruin on 232000 Wisconsin citizens formerly employed in restaurants bars and dental clinics? STOP THE MADMAN in Madison!!

Jim,

Thank you for your follow up. Of the cases that are positive in Wisconsin, there are now several that have contracted COVID-19 through community spread, so these are people who have no known connection to someone with COVID or anyone who has travelled. Because of that, they absolutely could have contracted it from a bar, or a dental office, or a restaurant. There is no way of knowing exactly where they contracted it. You are right that none of the cases are yet in Northern Wisconsin and I am grateful for that.

Although I do agree that we need to respond accordingly to make sure this virus does not continue to spread, I am just as concerned as you are that our response is overblown, and that the negative impact to our economy will outweigh the positives. Please know that Republicans are pushing the Governor for answers and questioning absolutely every decision he makes. At the end of the day, he has statutory authority to make every single one of the decisions he has been making.

I'm sorry, I know this is not what you want to hear. We will do everything within our power to protect Wisconsinites, both from COVID and from the economic downturn it has caused.

Mary

Subject: Another Constituent Case

Hey Diana,

We've heard from another constituent on an issue she is having. She called to let us know that her driver's license is expiring on April 10th, but that she is down in Florida for the winter until April 15th. When she contacted the DMV, they told her that she needs to renew in person because she is due for a new photo. She offered to go to the Florida DOT to have a photo taken that could be sent to WisDOT, but the DMV said that is not possible. She is driving back to Wisconsin from Florida, so allowing for the license to expire for the week is also not an option for her.

We did let her know that it seems like the in-person is a department policy, and that she was responsible for taking care of this before leaving for her trip in December. However, we did let her know that we would reach out to DOT to see if there is anything at all she can do. Is there any option for extension, or any way she could use the old photo while also committing to coming in to taking a new one after she gets back? She is still offering to go to the Florida DOT. I'm sure she would be interested in any alternative that would prevent her from needing to come home a week early.

Thank you for your time and looking into this issue! We appreciate any thoughts you have.

Thanks!

Stephanie,

Thank you for reaching out to me. Legislative leaders are currently working with Governor Evers to talk about a legislative package that may be needed to address COVID-19. The federal government did just pass legislation that does extend paid family leave benefits as you suggest. Your emails talk about YMCAs in general, but do you know if the YMCAs in our area have closed?

Thanks,

Subject: Please support YMCAs in COVID-19 relief proposals

Dear Rep. Felzkowski, I am writing to urge you to support a proposal to address the financial strain YMCAs across the state are currently experiencing due to the COVID-19 pandemic. As nonprofits, YMCAs are extremely dependent financially on the money received from their membership, programming and donations. YMCAs have been forced to either close their doors or reduce service capacity in order to help combat the spread of COVID-19. As stewards of healthy living and social responsibility, YMCAs want to open their doors again and continue to serve the local community during and after this crisis. However, many Ys might not be able to do so without substantial financial assistance. As such, I urge you to support a benefits package that calls for the State Government to allow: • Funding for YMCAs to operate during and in the wake of this pandemic; • Access to unemployment insurance when a YMCA exercises an NPI in response to the Governor's call for social distancing, but with some economic relief to the YMCA from the state towards the unemployment insurance costs since no revenue would be generated during the NPI period; and • Expansion of Paid Family Leave benefits to employees for themselves if they are exposed to, exhibit symptoms of, or have officially exposed to COVID-19. Thank you for your valued support! Stephanie Dahlquist 1398 Meister Stockley Rd, Pelican Lake, WI 54463, Repeal the one week waiting period for unemployment benefits. This action will make a difference for working families who are suddenly and unexpectedly facing job loss due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Working families need bold support from our leaders as we together face economic insecurity and health and safety danger amid the coronavirus public health emergency.
The Wisconsin Legislature must come together immediately to repeal the one-week unemployment insurance benefit waiting period.

Nice to see Gary being honored for his work with snowmobiling. He deserves it. Too bad he supports/rides a foreign made brand of snowmobile (Ski-doo) that is working diligently to put our two American snowmobile brands (Arctic Cat & Polaris) out of business.

There are so many other snowmobile club members (myself included) that volunteer countless hours and personal resources with little or no recognition. Snowmobiling is an important part of Wisconsin's economy. I feel it's long past time that people who demonstrate a dedicated commitment to the building and maintenance of the trail system deserve something more than just a plaque and a pat on the back. Without us the entire sport and the industry as a whole will collapse.

Thank you for your continued good work, Mary.

Does the Coronavirus Pandemic Serve a Global Agenda? – Health Authorities Remain Silent on Efficient Covid-19 Treatment

By Senta Depuydt, Guest Contributor
For those who follow the global immunization agenda and its implementation on different continents, the announcement of a new pandemic didn't come as a surprise. "Pandemic preparedness" has been well-funded and a buzz word for a long time before becoming a priority at the last G7 summits, the Davos World Economic Forum and other meetings of global governance. The latest simulation for preparedness was Event 201, a rehearsal of a coronavirus pandemic organized on October 18, 2019 in New York by Johns Hopkins University, the Gates Foundation and the World Economic Forum.

The Presidential election campaign in the United States and the controversial mandatory measles vaccination law in Germany provided perfect timing. What better than viral terror to influence public opinion and health policies on vaccine battles raging on both sides of the Atlantic?

CHD's Brief to the European Court of Human Rights

By Mary Holland, CHD General Counsel and Vice Chair
In Europe, when it comes to lawsuits related to human rights, once people have exhausted domestic remedies, they can sue their own country in the European Court of Human Rights (ECHR) – and sometimes win, often changing policies across the 49 countries subject to the ECHR's jurisdiction.

The ECHR's Grand Chamber for especially important cases is now reviewing the issue of compulsory vaccine mandates for school attendance in member countries. The case the Court will decide arises from a vaccine mandate law in the Czech Republic. With the assistance of Senta Depuydt and the European Forum for Vaccine Vigilance, Children's Health Defense was able to submit a "friend of the court" brief on this matter.

5G AirGig: What Is It and Should You Be Worried?

By Dafna Tachover, Director, CHD's Stop 5G and Wireless Harms Project
AirGig is a new technology developed by AT&T to transfer Wi-Fi and wireless data over power lines using 4G LTE and 5G millimeter waves. It turns existing power lines into transmitters. According to AT&T's glowing press releases, AirGig could even replace cell towers.

What AT&T does not spell out in its glossy communications is that AirGig will make it impossible to escape exposure to wireless radiation, even in our homes. AirGig will saturate our environment—every inch of it—with close-proximity, high-intensity radiation.

Description: How is the stimulus checks thing going

Kati,

Thank you for your email. The stimulus package discussion is something going on at the federal level in Congress. It is my understanding that Republicans offered a $1 trillion stimulus package in the Senate. The latest I have seen is that the package was voted on recently, and failed on a 49-49 vote. I am sure they will continue to work on a package, but I would encourage you to reach out to Senator Johnson to learn more about the inner workings of that process.

Thank you again for your email, have a great Monday!

Mary

Kati,

The Oshkosh office would be closest to you. If you would rather email, you can fill out the form on this website as well.

Description: John,

There has been no indication that anything on in person voting has changed. I would recommend reaching out to your municipal clerk to see what they have to say. At this point, Governor Evers has indicated that April 7th will continue to be the election date, so it is up to the polling places to make sure they are doing what they need to for social distancing and safety.

Please let me know if you need any other information after speaking with the clerk! Thank you,

Dear Representative Felzkowski:

I forgot to mention a few other bits of information that might be helpful to people:

- Trend lines (we see daily case counts but it's hard to remember what yesterday, much less the beginning of the week looked like);

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Comparisons to other geographies (is the US more like China or Italy);
- Comparisons to other health hazards (is this worse than the flu or H1N1).

Not that I think there is someone in our district that should be doing this … but, perhaps in the state or even at the University?

I am happy to provide assistance if there was an interest in providing such information.

Again, thanks for the fine work.

Best,

Dear Representative Felzkowski:

This is the second time I've written but the message is the same: Thanks for the great job you are doing. It helps to think our local Representative is involved and on top of things.

I have a small suggestion as well. Namely, as we move forward it would be helpful to know a bit more about the people who have contracted the virus. For each category (tested, tested positive, recovered and fatality) it would be helpful to know things like:

- The age groups in each category;
- Number of hospital admissions vs in-home for people who have tested positive;
- Any treatment regimens that are gaining wide acceptance (Zpack, etc); and,
- Number of people in each category (especially fatalities) with an underlying health condition.s

While I am sure there is a balance between patient confidentiality and public awareness, I am hopeful that people might even agree to some information about them being included in general statistics.

Last night, my brother-in-law called to say that his brother-in-law Gary knew one of the state's Covid-19 fatalities. It was particularly unsettling to hear that people had talked to the person in the morning and he said things we fine — only to pass away that evening. Given that Gary has had contact with the victim (who was on an Egyptian cruise), are left to speculate if there are any lessons to be learned.

Again, thanks for the fine work.

Net neutrality is the First Amendment of the Internet, essential to everyone's rights to connect and communicate online. Without net neutrality protections, phone and cable companies can block, throttle and otherwise interfere with our access to sites and services online - yet the FCC voted to take away these critical net neutrality protections. As your constituent, I urge you to enact net neutrality legislation at the state level and defend the open Internet.

Hey Kyler,

Thank you for your email. You and I have emailed on this topic quite a bit, so you know that I'm a big supporter of Medical Marijuana and bringing it to Wisconsin. I am the author of the only Republican-led bill at this time. I will continue to fight for this policy in Wisconsin, because I believe it is vital for those who are suffering and looking for ways just to get back to some normalcy as they fight their illnesses.

Thank you for being an advocate for this! I really appreciate the support.

Re: Please bring medical cannabis to our state
Dear Representative Felzkowski,
Seriously ill patients cannot afford to wait.
Medical cannabis offers relief to people suffering from cancer treatments, PTSD, multiple sclerosis, seizures, and a host of other debilitating ailments.
Thirty-three states have changed their laws to allow patients with serious medical conditions to safely access medical cannabis from state-regulated providers. Nationwide, 80% to 90% of voters are supportive, and voters have approved medical marijuana laws in some of the most conservative states, including North Dakota, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Utah.
Here in Wisconsin on Election Day 2018, voters approved advisory measures on medical cannabis. In all 11 counties and two cities where questions about allowing medical cannabis were on the ballot, they received between 67% and 89% of the vote.
Please let me know if you will listen to voters and support a carefully crafted, well-regulated medical cannabis bill.
Thank you.

It will do irreparable damage to our economy. While I am fortunate enough to be able to work from home, many of my family members are not. They will almost certainly lose their jobs over this. I also strongly oppose the Governor's orders as I see this as an abuse of power since he is dictating that private businesses close if they are not what he deems "essential."

Our leadership team asked for a breakdown of what essential vs. non-essential businesses would look like, and the Governor's office said they did not have a list like this because they were not considering shutting down businesses. Unfortunately, not three days later, he has changed his tune, and did so without informing the legislature first. I wish I had more information for you and the loved ones you speak of, but I am only learning about this through the news at this point. I am hoping to send out an e-update this afternoon with more details as soon as we receive them from the Governor's office.

Dear Rep. Felzkowski:

I just became aware of a recent court decision dangerously impacting waterfront property owners rights. I was pleased to learn there has been legislative action to restore waterfront property owners’ rights, especially for those who live along a flowage.

I strongly urge you to support AB 551/ SB 501 and help restore these rights for all property owners. We hold these rights sacred in Wisconsin, and your vote to support AB 551/ SB 501 will help ensure these rights are never infringed upon again.

We are so blessed in Wisconsin to have access to so many great waterways. Your vote in support of AB 551/ SB 501 will continue our grand tradition of protecting property rights.

He has tenants whose businesses are closed, so what is he supposed to do when they inevitably come to him saying they can't pay their rent. He could probably defer, but how is he supposed to re-coup those funds? He said that if the government is going to prvent everyone from operating, they should also be recouping everyone for their business losses. Wanted to talk to Mary so I provided his contact information and she called today.

1. Financial institutions and services. Banks, credit unions, and other depository or lending institutions; licensed financial service providers; insurance services; personnel necessary to perform essential functions at broker dealers and investment advisor offices.

I hope this is helpful to you! Please let me know if you have any additional questions,

Please consider accounting as an essential service. I would love to stay holed up in my home however, my office services MANY small and micro businesses that rely on me and my staff to guide them through these tough storms. The steps and details necessary to receive the available help may appear easy to some of us but, to my clients it could be extremely overwhelming and a matter of their business survival.

The extension of time to file tax returns may relieve some pressure from my office but, as stated by many it is very important to get the refunds back into the hands of the people that need it most. The clients I serve are too complicated for them to try and file their returns themselves. They too will be relying on us to provide this function in as speedy a time as we can.

Please allow me to continue to help my neighbors and community.

Hey Lindy,

Thank you for reaching out. I know municipal clerks are working with the Elections Commission on the guidance for April 7th. Governor Evers has stated continuously that he doesn't believe we can move the election date, especially now that absentee ballots are already out there. The other concern is that, if the election date is postponed, you will have vacancies all over the state for local government positions. In a public health emergency, we need to make sure we have people serving in those positions so local governments can vote and make decisions for their area. I would reach out to your municipal clerk to learn more about what they are learning from the Elections Commission. Some of the ideas I've heard include spreading out the voting booths themselves to ensure adequate spacing between people, and some are purchasing pens so that each voter can take the pen with them, rather than having to share pens, as is usually done. I have also heard that the elections commission is also considering training college students who are interested in working at the polls so that some of our more elderly poll workers can stay home if they want to.

With Governor Evers' Stay At Home order coming out later this afternoon, we may learn more on this front, but as of right now, I have heard that nothing is changing for the election. Please let me know if you have more questions I can look into after you speak with the clerk. I'm also attaching a document I received from the Elections Commission.

Thank you and stay safe!

Mary

Description: PLEASE do what it takes to temporarily change the laws to allow therapists to hold counseling sessions over the phone and for them to be billed to insurance.

Mental health crises are already at an all time high - people need to be to able to continue their services to avoid relapses in substance abuse, worsening depression, suicidal thoughts - I urge you for the safety of our therapists and their families to allow counselors to hold sessions over the phone or via Skype. Other medical professionals have masks and gowns that they can wear - therapists do not have that and are in a closed room with individuals who may be sick and yet still need mental health care.

Hey Pam,

I reached out to the Department of Health Services with your concerns. I've also heard other concerns about telehealth, so I am certain DHS is looking into where flexibility can happen without a law change.

Thank you!

Please be proactive and do whatever is necessary for people to continue to get the help they desperately need. Our legislators and insurance companies need to make this happen - it is not only everyone's physical health that is at stake, but also their mental health.

Subject: COVID-19 and the April Primary

Good morning,

As Town Clerk, of the Town of Enterprise in Oneida County, I am writing this to express my concern regarding the status of our upcoming April primary-election.

With insufficient assistance from the WEC, and our own County and local resources being overly strained, I cannot guarantee the safety of my poll workers or citizens on election day. Lack of proper PPE and sanitizing supplies, along with the majority of staff and voters in our community being in a high-risk category, could lead to disastrous consequences. With the importance that has been placed on the COVID-19 issue, at both State and the Federal level, this is an absurd level of risk for our community to take.

WEC guidance in this area has been both lacking in realistic solutions, and blatantly incorrect in some of its' interpretations of CDC guidelines. Frankly, there is no possible way for us to realistically minimize contact between poll workers and voters to a safe level.

I would request that all efforts be made to consider rescheduling the election to a later date, possibly to coincide with the 7th district special election in May.

Thank-you for both your time and consideration in this matter.

Good morning,

As promised, I am reaching out with more information regarding Governor Evers' new "stay at home" order. I have attached the order for you, but it is very long. The section that will cover you is the following found on page 12:

h. Weddings, funerals, and religious entities. Religious facilities, entities, groups, and gatherings, and weddings and funerals, except that any gathering shall include fewer than 10 people in a room or confined space at a time and individuals shall adhere to Social Distancing Requirements as much as possible.

From what you told me on the phone, this should allow for you to offer virtual services, but again I think the recommendation would be for you to have your staff work remotely if they have the ability to do so.

Sorry, one more thing, in case this is not being corrected yet.

The reference on the Order under 13 x. i., is 12b., 12d., and 12e.

There is no 12b., 12d., and 12e on the Order. I think the correct reference is supposed to be 13b., 13d., and 13e.

12 must have been added afterwards, and the reference not corrected. I had two questions from operators on that already.

I sent this to the Governor's office so they know about the error.

Hey Ben,

As promised, I've attached a copy of Governor Evers' Stay at home order. It is very long, so I wanted to provide you with different sections they may apply to you, depending on how you classify your business.

(on page 13) r. Supplies for Essential Businesses and Operations and Essential Governmental Functions. Businesses that sell, manufacture, or supply other Essential Businesses and Operations and Essential Governmental Functions with the support or supplies necessary to operate, including computers; audio and video electronics; household appliances; IT and telecommunication equipment; hardware; paint; flat glass; electrical, plumbing, and heating materials; construction materials and equipment; sanitary equipment; personal hygiene products; food, food additives, ingredients, and components; medical and orthopedic equipment; firearm and ammunition suppliers and retailers for purposes of safety and security; optics and photography equipment; diagnostic; food and beverages; chemicals; paper and paper products; soaps and detergents.

(on page 5) Healthcare and Public Health Operations. For purposes of this Order, individuals may leave their residence to work for or obtain services at any Healthcare and Public Health Operations.
Healthcare and Public Health Operations includes, but is not limited to: hospitals; medical facilities; clinics; ambulatory surgery centers for response to urgent health issues or related COVID-19 activities; manufacturers, technicians, logistics, and warehouse operators and distributors of medical equipment, personal protective equipment (PPE), medical gases, pharmaceuticals, blood and blood products, vaccines, testing materials, laboratory supplies, cleaning, sanitizing disinfecting or sterilization supplies, and tissue and paper towel products; dental offices; pharmacies; public health entities, including those that compile, model, analyze, and communicate public health information; pharmaceutical, pharmacy, medical device and equipment, and biotechnology companies (including operations, research and development, manufacture, and supply chain); healthcare information technology companies; organizations collecting blood, platelets, plasma, and other necessary materials; obstetricians, gynecologists, and midwife practices; eye care centers, including those that sell glasses and contact lenses; home health agencies and providers; mental health and substance abuse providers; detoxification and alcohol or drug treatment programs and facilities; syringe access programs, and naloxone distribution programs; other healthcare facilities and suppliers and providers of any related or any ancillary healthcare services; entities that transport and dispose of medical materials and remains; personal care agencies; hospices; allied health providers; acupuncturists; massage therapists; chiropractors; and adult family homes.

If you aren't sure if either of these will cover you, the next best step will be for you to reach out to WEDC who will help you determine if you are essential. Here is a link for WEDC that might also be helpful: https://wedc.org/essentialbusiness/. There is a contact number there you can call to reach out. I sent him a copy of the order to review. He said that he was not sure based on the order if they are essential. I gave him the contact information for WEDC so he could call them directly to figure out if he is essential or not.

Hey Jeff,

Here is the order. It is 16 pages long. Please go through it carefully, and see if any of what is included as exempt or essential applies to you. If you think it does, nothing more needs to be done. If you don't think it does, then we will need to contact WEDC to see what they say. If they say you are non-essential, then we can make a request from our office to classify your business as essential. There is no guarantee that the request will be granted, but we'll cross that bridge when we get to it.

Thank you!

Liz

Liz,

Thank you for supplying the order.

We've read through the order and have determined that per Paragraph 13 section v, we do provide footwear to the industries we've highlighted on the attached copy. Given this, are we correct in determining we are considered an Essential business?

Sincerely,

Jeff Burns
President

Hey Jeff,

I think you could be covered under that section, but Rep. Felzkowski's office can't really determine that for you, only WEDC can. So at this point if you are unsure, I would recommend reaching out to them directly to see what their determination is. If you go to this link, https://wedc.org/essentialbusiness/, it's a good resource and has a contact number at the bottom. I'm guessing they are being inundated with calls, but I would try that number now, and then give it a while if you can't get through immediately. If you're still having trouble getting through to them, that we can try to help you do that.

I hope this helps!

Subject: Re: checking in Another question came up regarding unemployment; Do you have clarification on unemployment eligibility after April 2nd? Example; if a company is considered an essential company and stays open but an employee chooses not to come to work due to the COVID-19 executive order and they feel that the company is not an essential company, would they be eligible for unemployment under the bill that was passed?

Thank you Mary

Hey Angela,

I reached out to DWD on this and will get back to you when I know more.

Thank you!

Mary

Hey Angie,

I got an answer for you on this. https://dwd.wisconsin.gov/covid19/public/er.htm This is a site for FAQs DWD is getting. Here is the question that seems to pertain to yours:

Can I stay home if I'm not sick but want to avoid getting sick by not being around others?

- Check with your employer about its policies in this respect. There is no requirement that an employer allow healthy employees to stay home from work, and generally an employee who stays home when not sick has no protection from any adverse employer action taken because that employee stayed home. However, an employer could choose to allow such absences or authorize the use of paid time off for this purpose. Similarly, an employer may allow you to work from home. Check with your employer about work at home options.
- If the employee does not have either a serious health condition, or a family member with a serious health condition whom the employee is caring for, then this type of absence is not protected by state or federal FMLA.

Please let me know if you have any additional questions!

Mary

Thank you Mary, I have shared the link on my business resource page.

Much appreciated.

Description: Our excuse of a Governor continues to prove he's a clueless empty suit! This Wuhan virus is a medical emergency, but it's not even close to a national or state crisis that warrants a half baked martial law declaration! I have rights, and this empty suit of a governor is not going to infringe on my freedoms!!!

My family and I will follow national guidance for the Wuhan virus, but this clown governor I simply ignore. He's governor due to voter fraud in Dane and Milwaukee county, and due to a Pot referendum! He's illegitimate as far as I'm concerned!!!

My wife and I will be moving to the Tomahawk area this summer and look forward to supporting and having you as our representative in Madison!

Regards

Kevin and Patti Colloton

Kevin and Patti,

Thank you for your email. I totally understand the frustration and I share it. Unfortunately, the Governor has the statutory authority to create all of the orders he's given. My main goal at this point is to make sure that everyone affected has all of the information they need, and that we can all hopefully weather this storm together. One silver lining is that the Governor cannot extend the public health emergency past 60 days without legislative approval.

I am happy to hear you'll be moving to Tomahawk, we will be happy to have you!

I know my staff had said that you were already set up for grab and go meals. Is this something you are still able to do with the new Governor's order from yesterday? My office is often contacted about this, so I'm just checking in with my districts to learn more about what is available.

Summary: COVID-19: Will we be able to drive to other cities during Safer at Home Order?

Description: Will we be able to drive to cities near where we live?

Hey Randy,

The order technically prohibits all travel except for travel on the "essential travel" list, so it would depend on why you are going to cities near where you live.

According to the order, this is what it says about travel on page 4:

Prohibited and permitted travel. All forms of travel are prohibited, except for Essential Travel as defined in this Order. Individuals riding on public transit must comply with Social Distancing Requirements to the greatest extent possible.

Then on page 15, it explains what Essential travel means:

15. Essential Travel. Individuals engaged in any Essential Travel must comply with Social Distancing Requirements to the extent possible. For the purposes of this Order, Essential Travel includes:
a. Any travel related to the provision of or access to Essential Activities, Special Situations, Essential Governmental Functions, Essential Businesses and Operations, or Minimum Basic Operations.
b. Travel to care for elderly, minors, dependents, persons with disabilities, or other vulnerable persons.
c. Travel to or from educational institutions for purposes of receiving materials for distance learning, for receiving meals, or any other related services.
d. Travel to return to a place of residence from outside the jurisdiction.
e. Travel required by law enforcement or court order, including to transport children pursuant to a custody agreement.
f. Travel required for non-residents to return to their place of residence outside Wisconsin. Individuals are strongly encouraged to verify that their transportation out of Wisconsin remains available and functional prior to commencing such travel.

I hope this information is helpful. Please let me know if you have any questions. I have also attached a copy of the order for you.

Good afternoon Jim,

Yes, you should be covered by the order on Page 12:

Critical trades. Building and Construction Tradesmen and Tradeswomen, and other trades including but not limited to plumbers, electricians, carpenters, laborers, sheet metal, iron workers, masonry, pipe trades, fabricators, finishers, exterminators, pesticide application, cleaning and janitorial staff for commercial and governmental properties, security staff, operating engineers, HVAC, painting, moving and relocation services, forestry and arborists, and other service providers who provide services that are necessary to maintaining the safety, sanitation, and essential operation of residences, Essential Activities, Essential Governmental Functions, and Essential Businesses and Operations.

If you are still in doubt, you should reach out to WEDC who is making "essential" determinations, but the order seems to specifically cover you.

Thank you!

Hey Melinda,

You are absolutely right that the Department of Workforce Development has be overrun with calls as businesses are forced to shut their doors. They did indicate to us that people will have an easier time if they apply online, so that the call lines can be kept open for more complex cases. If you know of people who are experiencing significant delays, have them reach out to me via email and I can check with DWD on my end. Unfortunately, with the increased flow of requests, the delay may be something we all need to be patient with, but I will absolutely call the department on their behalf if they reach out!

The National Plan to Vaccinate Every American
By Barbara Loe Fisher

Scientists at the National Institutes of Health are working with a biotech company to quickly start clinical trials of an experimental messenger RNA vaccine and fast track it to licensure. The FDA has not yet licensed messenger RNA vaccines that use part of the RNA of a virus to manipulate the body's immune system into stimulating a potent immune response. It looks like the coronavirus vaccine will be the first genetically engineered messenger RNA vaccine to be fast tracked to licensure, just like Gardasil was the first genetically engineered virus-like particle vaccine to be fast tracked to licensure.

There likely will be lots of questions about whether the fast tracked coronavirus vaccine was studied long enough to adequately demonstrate safety, especially for people who have trouble resolving strong inflammatory responses in their bodies and may be at greater risk for vaccine reactions. However, there is no question about what will happen if the Centers for Disease Control's (CDC) Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) recommends that all Americans get the newly licensed coronavirus vaccine.

The government has a National Vaccine Plan. It is a Plan designed to make sure you, your child and everyone in America gets every dose of every vaccine that government officials recommend now and in the future.

CO House Committee Acts to Prevent Investigations of Parents Based Solely on Child's Vaccination History

By Theresa Wrangham

In the Colorado House of Representatives, a bill (HB20-1297) protecting parents from investigations by Child Protective Services and charges of child abuse or neglect based solely on a child's vaccination status cleared its first legislative hurdle on March 13 with a unanimous vote of support from the House Public Health Care & Human Service Committee. Committee chair Representative Jonathan Singer (D) stated that he would renew his request for the Speaker of the House to add him as Co-Prime sponsor with sponsors Representative Mark Baisley (R) and Senator Paul Lundeen (R). The bill's primary House sponsor, Representative Baisley, worked with many members of the committee and stakeholders to win bipartisan support for the bill.

The bill has not been published with amendments passed by the House committee because the Colorado's legislature has suspended activity until March 30. However, the intent of the bill is to clarify and add existing statutory language to appropriately appear under Colorado's Children's Code. The bill prohibits the use of a child's vaccination status from being used as the sole premise to either initiate an investigation of child abuse or neglect, or being used as a determining factor in reaching a finding of child abuse or neglect. The bill also protects parental and guardian decisions to delay or decline one or more vaccines outside of school vaccine exemption status.

Cry for Vaccine Freedom Wall Reports
Below are two reports posted on NVIC's Cry for Vaccine Freedom Wall describing shaming, coercion and punishment by employers and legislators of Americans defending their human right to exercise informed consent to medical risk-taking.

Nurse Forced to Resign After 40 Years of Service

"After being a nurse for over 40 years I was forced to resign from a profession I loved because I refused to get an Influenzas injection. This was mandated at the hospital, and they would not allow me to wear a mask instead. I also had a letter from my Allergist stating I reacted to the mandated flu injection from the previous year. I left two messages with the hospital's infection control physician who refused to accept my Allergist's letter. She never returned my calls. I resigned rather than being forced to receive another Influenza vaccine."

Fear of Being Hunted Down and Forced to Vaccinate

"Our Senate majority leader has declared 'war' on his constituents after we peacefully protested and voiced our opposition to forced vaccination in order to attend school. He has now introduced legislation that will force vaccination, but will eliminate parental rights and allow minors to have informed consent. We feel very threatened as he is proposing vaccine registries and religious schools to post unvaccinated student rates on every entrance. I feel that they may hunt down myself and my children and force vaccination on us against our will."

In addition to the Cry for Vaccine Freedom Wall, NVIC's website provides visitors with other ways to access, report and share information about vaccination. You can:

* File a vaccine reaction report describing a vaccine reaction, injury or death with NVIC's 36-year old Vaccine Reaction Registry.

* Post a vaccine reaction report describing a vaccine reaction, injury or death and include a photo or video on the online Memorial for Vaccine Victims.

* Post a vaccine failure report if a vaccine failed to protect you or your child from disease on the Vaccine Failure Wall.

Thank you for reaching out. I am with you on a lot of this and have been talking to a lot of really frustrated people, especially in our area because, you are right, we haven't had any confirmed cases. Yes, I think the short answer is that Governor Evers could have done it differently, but he has chosen not to do that. I know it is a really frustrating, but my main goal is to get everyone the information they need to get through this in one piece.

Thank you for hanging in there. I hope the weather lets you both get some rest,

Contact Date: 03/24/2020 Contact Type: Phone Call

Summary: COVID-19: Absentee Ballot Question and COVID concerns

Description: Davina called with several points.
1. Does the stay at home order prevent her from seeing her family? I told her that, unless she is taking care of someone who is ill, or they live in the same household, then yes technically the order does prevent that. She was very angry and wants to know who Evers thinks he is. I told her that Mary agrees and is equally frustrated.
2. She asked about Absentee Ballots (email I sent her after the call below).

Good afternoon Davina,

Thank you for your conversation today. I called the Elections Commission and I did get clarification on our absentee ballot question. Here is what I found out:
1. You can request an absentee ballot and still vote on election day as long as you do not send your absentee ballot in or turn it into the Clerk at any time.
2. I asked the Commission how they prevent double voting in these scenarios. Here is what they told me:
a. The municipal clerk has a list of every person that was sent an absentee ballot. If one was sent to you, it will say so in the voting book (the book you sign when voting in person). If a voter has already returned their absentee ballot, it will also say that in the voting book and the poll worker will not allow that person to vote again.
b. If the absentee voter turns in their ballot on voting day, then the book would not say whether they have returned the ballot. In that case, the poll worker would ask the voter if they have returned their ballot, to which they will say yes or no. If they say no, the poll worker will let them vote.
c. If a person does double vote, the absentee ballot is still counted, so the voting book will then show that the person turned in a ballot and voted in person. In those cases, that person is then referred to the District Attorney for voter fraud.

I hope this helps! I'm also attaching a copy of the Governor's Stay At Home Order.

Thank you again for your call,

Liz

Prohibited and permitted travel. All forms of travel are prohibited, except for Essential Travel as defined in this Order. Individuals riding on public transit must comply with Social Distancing Requirements to the greatest extent possible.

Then on page 15, it explains what Essential travel means:

15. Essential Travel. Individuals engaged in any Essential Travel must comply with Social Distancing Requirements to the extent possible. For the purposes of this Order, Essential Travel includes:
a. Any travel related to the provision of or access to Essential Activities, Special Situations, Essential Governmental Functions, Essential Businesses and Operations, or Minimum Basic Operations.
b. Travel to care for elderly, minors, dependents, persons with disabilities, or other vulnerable persons.
c. Travel to or from educational institutions for purposes of receiving materials for distance learning, for receiving meals, or any other related services.
d. Travel to return to a place of residence from outside the jurisdiction.
e. Travel required by law enforcement or court order, including to transport children pursuant to a custody agreement.
f. Travel required for non-residents to return to their place of residence outside Wisconsin. Individuals are strongly encouraged to verify that their transportation out of Wisconsin remains available and functional prior to commencing such travel.

If your son and grandson's travel does not fall under any of the essential travel items, then Governor Evers' order would prohibit their travel.

Summary: COVID-19: Can I travel to move?
Description: Hey Mary!☺ Question from a lost college student on social media!♀

UW-Stevens Point is having their students move out this weekend. I have a 2 hour slot on Friday, am I still allowed to drive there & do that? I ask because some resources say that you can be fined for not staying home (unless for necessities) and Carson (my bf) was going to help me, and he's even afraid on getting in trouble driving to Tomahawk to help.

I totally understand if you don't have an answer, or apologize if I asked you an obvious question.

I appreciate your continuous work to alert & advocate for our community!☺☐☺☐

Here is what I responded:

So in the order, it does stipulate that you can travel to care for a family member. In my mind, moving a kid out of college is absolutely essential travel, you don't have a choice. Governor Evers said in his press conference yesterday that the state patrol is not going to be pulling people over to give fines, and that he hopes people will voluntarily comply. If UW SP is having their students move out, my guess is law enforcement is aware and will not be giving any families trouble. And because it's your stuff you're moving out, you are absolutely able to travel to do that. If you can't do it by yourself, I would say it's probably save to bring your boyfriend.

Good morning John,

Thank you for your email and your question. All I can do is give you the information I am working with today. Governor Evers continues to signal that he will not be pursuing an Election Day change for April 7th. Polling places are statutorially required to be open, so based on that, yes, in-person voting should be an option. Everyone is encouraging absentee balloting to promote social distancing as much as possible. I do want to mention that, this morning. Green Bay sued the state of Wisconsin over the election, suggesting that the state needs to move to only mail-in ballots for April 7th. Theoretically, the judge overseeing the case could side with Green Bay and institute that, but there is no information at all to suggest that that will happen. I just wanted to mention it so you have all the information I have.

I hope this is helpful to you, please let me know if you need any help with absentee ballots.

Religious facilities, entities, groups, and gatherings, and weddings and funerals, except that any gathering shall include fewer than 10 people in a room or confined space at a time and individuals shall adhere to Social Distancing Requirements as much as possible.

Rep. Felzkowski,

Thank you for the information regarding Governor Ever's safe at home directive.

I have a deep concern regarding the April 7 election. I don't understand why the governor refuses to postpone the election. Many other states have postponed elections until a later date in spring. If Wisconsin is in such dire straits that businesses must close, why continue with the election at this time? In my opinion, it reeks of political subterfuge.

I don't favor only voting absentee and I don't favor eliminating a photo ID.

Is there anything I can do to make sure Wisconsin has a fair election in April?

Yes, I have requested and received my absentee ballot and mailed it today.

Sincerely,
Patrice Flock

Summary: Having issues with his title company and satellite imaging

Description: Lincoln County-
400 North Cleveland Street, Merrill (primary residence)
Cottage: 2559 Lake Bosobic Road (cottage)
Donald Hanneman
715-536-5479
Last year, satellite went over and re-did the map for property lines, had a cottage on Lake Bosobic
Don wanted to sell the cottage, and wanted to get it registered. He went to the title company by the court house.
Title company is telling him: Satellite imaging took 75 feet of his and give it to the neighbor to the north. So there were two owners that have that 75 feet. Another property lost their deck from this process and was given to another property that isn't owned by anyone. There was a major trickle effect amongst all the properties in this area.
Has maps that go all the way back to 1942 that show the property lines that are on his title currently but the title company won't use those anymore, so they won't give him a clean title to sell. This is the same issue others have.

Surveyor said $4000-$7000 to fix the issue because of the domino effect of all the different properties.

He onyl wants to sell for $62,000, so he thinks spending that amount of money on fixing this issue he didn't cause will just eat into the small amount he's getting from the sale.

Asked all these people, mapping people, no one can give him a direct answer on it. Went to the tax people, and says that he's been paying taxes on 75 feet that isn't his? How is he still paying taxes on it. Would like backpay on the taxes he was paying.

I asked him if he had a surveyor come out to locate the stakes. He says he knows where the stakes are. He says his neighbor got a lawyer and they said it would take forever to right this wrong.

If he has owned it for 20 years, then he can claim it for himself. Wants to get a lawyer to take it to court. Is afraid of the negative repercussions and the cost from the lawyer.

The Town of Merrill, owns some property. A 50 ft turnaround was built and the agreement was made between the town and another woman, but not with him, who owns the land and the well on it.

I've reached out to leg council to see if there is any background information on this kind of issue. Will update as I find more.

Summary: COVID 19: how will this situation affect our ability to vote?

Subject: vote

Hi Mary!

My wife and I would like to vote on April 7th, but we do not know how to access the voter registration form and any other necessary information. I'm 83 and my wife is 79 and our children do not live close by to help us. Ron Johnson's office is difficult to access,too. We called Madison, but no return call has been placed to our address. We'll vote absentee if we can or will vote on site if that is possible. Can you help? Our number is715-453-4311

Also, we visit our library often and they do not even have a message that explains how we can access books or papers. At least they could have a message to let us know how they are handling this crisis. Thank you .....Earl and Sandra Hanson

Good morning Earl,

Thank you for reaching out! I can certainly help you access an absentee ballot for sure. I apologize about you not being able to get ahold of anyone, it's been a crazy time for a lot of places as staff transition from the office to working at home. Here is the information I provided in my e-update that went out yesterday. Please look it over and let me know how I can help you with any of the steps. The easiest way to get your ballots is to go with #1.

Governor Evers has continued to signal that there will be no change to the April 7th Election Date. I wanted to provide you with more information about absentee voting. Social distancing recommendations will be harder to follow on election day – so absentee voting is a great way to slow the spread and keep ourselves and poll workers safe.
For those of you that have not have voted absentee before, absentee voting is easy and you can do it without leaving their home. There are 3 ways voters can request an absentee ballot. You can:
1. Go online to request an absentee ballot at myvote.wi.gov. This is the easiest method. Attached is a graphic you are welcome to use that outlines the step-by-step process for requesting an absentee ballot online – all you need is a photo of your ID to complete the request.
2. Use the US mail to request an absentee ballot. Go to https://elections.wi.gov/forms/el-121-english and print off the absentee ballot request form, fill it out, and mail it in. Voters will need to know their local clerk contact information as well as enclose a copy of their photo ID with the mail in request.
3. Request an absentee ballot by emailing or faxing their local clerk.
For mail, email, and fax requests (options 2 and 3 above), voters will need to find their municipal clerk contact information. A directory of municipal clerks can be found here.
All absentee ballot requests must be made by Thursday, April 2nd at 5:00PM for the April 7th election.
Please note that, as of right now, online voter registration remains open until March 30th. You can also register by contacting your local municipal clerk. They can use this form to find their local clerk's contact information.

If you would like to be added to my e-update list, please let me know! Also, which library do you go to? I can reach out to them to see what their plans are so you have more information. I think everyone is just trying to figure things out as this is a really unpredecented situation for all of us.

Thank you!

Subject: RE: Governor Evers' Stay-At-Home Order- Coronavirus Update

Hey Vicki,

Thank you for reaching out to me. I totally understand where you are coming from, especially because in our area, there is a much larger elderly population, and our polling places already have fewer people to run the polls. You are right that Governor Evers refuses to move that date, has said so repeatedly, and has encouraged everyone to vote absentee when at all possible, and there's really nothing I can do to force his hand. I agree that it does give out mixed signals that everyone must stay home, but let's have a lot of people in the same place for voting. The fact of the matter is that the law/his emergency powers do not actually allow for him to change or postpone that date on his own. This, at least, does give me some comfort, because it means that one politician cannot take away our constitutional rights to vote just on a whim. These are certainly extraordinary circumstances, for sure. One big concern with moving this election so close to the date is that there are already 100,000 absentee ballots out there that have been returned to the clerks to be counted. On those ballots are votes for local positions all over the state. If Governor Evers were to move the election date, many, many local positions would remain vacant during that time, sometimes crippling a local government's ability to make moves to respond to the public health emergency we are currently in. It's also difficult to say when that date should be postponed to because we do not yet know how long the public health emergency will be in place. The deadline to register online has been extended by a federal judge until March 30th, so with people being able to access absentee ballots until April 2nd, I'm really hoping everyone who does not want to leave their house uses that option.

The federal government is close to passing a federal stimulus package that will have some funds available to aid local governments. This will allow more flexibility for clerks to be able to do what they need to to make sure this election is as safe as possible for all, including for poll workers. It is the Election Commission's job to work with all municipal clerks to ensure that this happens, and that all clerks have the resources they need to make that possible. I have heard that some locations are looking at purchasing pens so that every voter can use their own pen to sign the book and vote with it, and then take it with them.

Coronavirus and the fall out has created some really impossible situations, and this is one of them. If you are uncomfortable going to the polls to work or to vote, I think you have every right to stay home, and to vote absentee. I know some clerks (and the elections commission) are working on recruiting college students and non-essential employees out of work to work the polls in place of those who don't feel comfortable. If you're wanting to avoid getting sick, I'd talk to your municipal clerk about it and see what parameters they are putting into place to make the day as safe as possible.

As we've seen over the last two weeks, this situation can change drastically from day to day, so I will continue to keep you in the loop if anything changes. Thank you again for your time and sharing your thoughts with me,

Mary

Dear Representative Mary Felzkowski,

My name is Timothy Micke and I live in Aniwa.

Almost everyone knows that our federal government is on a dangerous course. The unsustainable debt combined with crushing regulations on states and business is a recipe for disaster.

What is less known is that the Founders gave state legislatures the power to act as a final check on abuses of power by Washington, DC. Article V of the US Constitution authorizes the state legislatures to call a convention for proposing needed amendments to the Constitution.

Citizens for Self-Governance has launched the Convention of States Project to call an Article V convention to propose only amendments that would impose fiscal restraints on the federal government, limit its power and jurisdiction, and impose term limits on its officials and members of Congress.

I support this approach. I want our state to be one of the necessary 34 states to pass a resolution calling for this kind of Article V Convention. You can find a copy of the model resolution and the Handbook for Legislators and Citizens (which explains the process and answers many questions) here:
https://conventionofstates.com/handbook_pdf

I ask that you support the Convention of States Project and consider becoming a co-sponsor of the resolution.

Please respond to my request by informing the national COS team of your position, or sending them any questions you may have: info@cosaction.com or (540) 441-7227.

Subject: Governor Evers - Stay at HOME ORDER

Dear Representative Felzkowski,

I am against the extended Safer at Home order that Governor Evers forced on us Wednesday March 25th at 8:00am which will extend until April 24th. I am following the 15 day Stay at Home order the President has issued - this was sensible and smart. Now I feel that we need to GET BACK TO WORK as soon as possible - especially in areas that are not seeing a spike in Covid 19 cases.

WE are not the State of New York! To date we have 5 deaths in the Great State of Wisconsin from Covid-19 and, as of today we have 457 confirmed cases. We have tested 8237 Wisconsinites and if my calculations are correct 94.5% of the the people who were tested DO NOT HAVE THE VIRUS.

Data from the CDC in 2017 shows we lost 11,680 lives to Heart Disease, 11,318 to cancer, Accidents took 3,746 lives. To compare "Apples to Apples" we lost 974 lives to the Flu/Pneumonia in 2017. As of Feb 24th we lost 17 people to Snowmobiling - are we going to outlaw snowmobiles? I feel it is tragic that we lost those 5 lives but what will be the cost of lives when people lose their JOBS and our economy crashes? At some point our employers will not be able to continue to keep us on the payroll - of course all of you in the legislator will continue to get a check. What about the people who work in the service industry - Bartenders, Waitstaff, Retail Employees, Sales Personnel, Salon Workers, etc. Currently a lot of these people are already out of a job! How will these people take care of their families in the long term?

We have approximately 44 Counties who have not seen 1 COVID-19 case as of today. We have 5.7 million residents in the State of Wisconsin and of that 457 have been identified with the Covid-19. How does this justify shutting down our whole state to business and our right to work?

The State of South Dakota is using a County by County order which seems reasonable to me. You can not compare Milwaukee County with Counties who do not even have a single case of this virus.

I am a law abiding citizens that wants to GET BACK to WORK within reason. I expect our Governor to treat us as ADULTS and not Children who need direction. I can make informed decisions and act responsible!

I was lucky to meet you last year at a "Town Hall" and felt that you are a common sense Legislator and we really need to you to help us be heard with our Governor. He has over reacted and needs to get Wisconsin back to work using common sense. For the record my county still does not have one case of Covid-19.

Respectfully.

Tracy,

Thank you for your email. I totally understand the frustration, and I think it's something a lot of people, especially in the north, are feeling. I wanted to send you the updated outbreak information from today: https://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/outbreaks/index.htm. We are currently at 707 positive tests, with 37 counties currently impacted. The last two days, there has been a jump of 120 positives each day. Ultimately, I agree with you that treating the whole state the same when there are not positive tests in the North can be really frustrating and seemingly unfair. Unfortunately, Governor Evers has chosen to make the stay at home order statewide, and there is nothing the legislature can do to impact that because he has emergency powers to issue these orders. My main goal at this point is to be an information source for my district and make sure that everyone who is impacted can make it to the other side of this situation intact. I hope I can help anyone who is having trouble getting connected with an agency, or finding the answers they need.

Thank you for your email, and I hope that you and your family are doing okay,

Kathleen,

Outdoor activity is essential travel, so yes! Fishing is absolutely allowed. Everyone doing outdoor activity must still utilize social distancing and stay at least 6 feet from anyone not in their household. There is no limit to how far you can travel for outdoor activity. The DNR is simply suggesting staying closer to home, but you can drive over county lines to fish. I think there is a concern that a lot of people may travel to their second homes to congregate, which can create new issues, so the order technically states that you must stay within your primary residence. Having said that, if you travel back to your primary residence after fishing, I don't think any violations of the order have occurred.

Thank you for reaching out! Please let me know if you run into any issues with this or anything else.

Just wanted to let you know my staff let me know you called. Thank you for reaching out on the election. It's a really tough situation but it's looking like the date is not going to move, and ultimately, Governor Evers is making that decision. Please let me know if I can be helpful at all throughout this stay at home order. I know we are all going to have growing pains from the adjustment.

Have a good day,

Mary Felzkowski (Czaja),
Net neutrality is the First Amendment of the Internet, essential to everyone's rights to connect and communicate online. Without net neutrality protections, phone and cable companies can block, throttle and otherwise interfere with our access to sites and services online - yet the FCC voted to take away these critical net neutrality protections. As your constituent, I urge you to enact net neutrality legislation at the state level and defend the open Internet.

Subject: Up coming elections

Mary, this is a cry for help. It is NOT political As you know, WI has an election scheduled for April 7. Our Governor is refusing to change that date. Banks, churches, restaurants,beauty and tattoo parlors are closed. Funerals and weddings are postponed. And yet, elections must go on all while using "best practices" . Absentee ballots are encouraged. Wonderful! However, those absentee ballots still need to be processed by poll workers. The majority of poll workers are retirees. And I'm one of them. How can we do our work while practicing "social distancing" and keeping people out of our face?
Please, please let's just make one change. Allow me to simply check off the voter in the poll book. Waive the requirement that he sign the book. This simple change would keep the voter away from my face. A relative small best practice change!

Carol,

Thank you for reaching out to me. I totally understand where you are coming from, especially because in our area, there is a much larger elderly population, and our polling places already have fewer people to run the polls. You are right that Governor Evers refuses to move that date, has said so repeatedly, and has encouraged everyone to vote absentee when at all possible, and there's really nothing I can do to force his hand. The fact of the matter is that the law/his emergency powers do not actually allow for him to change or postpone that date on his own. This, at least, does give me some comfort, because it means that one politician cannot take away our constitutional rights to vote just on a whim. These are certainly extraordinary circumstances, for sure. One big concern with moving this election so close to the date is that there are already 100,000 absentee ballots out there that have been returned to the clerks to be counted. On those ballots are votes for local positions all over the state. If Governor Evers were to move the election date, many, many local positions would remain vacant during that time, sometimes crippling a local government's ability to make moves to respond to the public health emergency we are currently in. It's also difficult to say when that date should be postponed to because we do not yet know how long the public health emergency will be in place.

The federal government is close to passing a federal stimulus package that will have some funds available to aid local governments. This will allow more flexibility for clerks to be able to do what they need to to make sure this election is as safe as possible for all, including for poll workers. It is the Election Commission's job to work with all municipal clerks to ensure that this happens, and that all clerks have the resources they need to make that possible. In reference to the change you suggested, I have heard that some locations are looking at purchasing pens so that every voter can use their own pen to sign the book and vote with it, and then take it with them. Your suggestion is interesting, and would be something I'd bring up with your municipal clerk to see if they've talked to the elections commission about flexibility there. It may be that state law prohibits anyone but the voter from signing.

Coronavirus and the fall out has created some really impossible situations, and this is one of them. If you are uncomfortable going to the polls to work or to vote, I think you have every right to stay home, and to vote absentee. I know some clerks (and the elections commission) are working on recruiting college students and non-essential employees out of work to work the polls in place of those who don't feel comfortable. If you're wanting to avoid getting sick, I'd talk to your municipal clerk about it and see what parameters they are putting into place to make the day as safe as possible.

As we've seen over the last two weeks, this situation can change drastically from day to day, so I will continue to keep you in the loop if anything changes. Thank you again for your time and sharing your thoughts with me,

Mary

Description: Her husband is in pain and isn't being allowed to see his physical therapist because it's considered non urgent but planned parenthood is allowed to be open. She is pissed off. Why are physical therapists shut down but PP is exempt when her husband is in pain.

Note: physical therapists haven't been shut down, it is likely that particular therapist has chosen to stop appointments that are not high priority. It is up to them, not the government.

Totally understand how frustrating it is that planned parenthood can be open. Their physical therapist hasn't been shut down, he or she is likely just trying to manage their own workload and exposure by limiting appointments to urgent needs only until the peak of exposure passes. Encourage them to have a conversation with their doctor to talk about how they will get through the next month without his appointments, and get suggestions from PT on that so he's not just floating out there with no information. He could also see if there is another physical therapist that does have more availability right now that he could see in the mean time.

He says he lives in Post Lake. He is furious that the golf courses are closed. This is a form of outdoor recreation and a great way for seniors to be outside and get some exercise. Please re-open them. Illinois closed theirs with their shutdown, but re-opened them 4 days later. Wisconsin needs to do the same.

I left a voicemail for him detailing what you and the Legislature are doing to convince the Governor to re-open the golf courses. Let him know he could call back any time if he has more questions or concerns.

He called back- Ken Lewis. He lives in Elcho and works as a building project manager. Golf is one of his ways to de-stress with his buddies. He ran through how golf works for a long time and explained how you stand apart from people. He is incredibly grateful we called him back, I let him know you signed on to the letter, he really appreciates your attention and what you are doing.

I am a poll worker and have decided not to work the election and vote with an absentee ballot. I find that holding this election doesn't make common sense with the stay safe at home order due to the Covid 19 virus. The poll workers in my city are mostly in the at risk category. Why would we put them and the voters at risk? Why isn't the election being postponed or mail only?

- He is turning 65, and his wife is turning 63, and both were going to retire soon, but coronavirus has led to them not being able to do that. They need his wife's income to keep the farm going. He blames the PSC because their inadequate testing led to 8 years of lost profit for his farm

Darlene,

Thank you for your email. All of the information we have at this time suggests that COVID is not airborne. Yes, we do know that it can be transmitted through the air from an infected person, say, through a sneeze. That is not the same thing as being an airborne illness, which would allow for COVID to be spread from person to person over long distances. We continue to learn new things about COVID, and I am committed to sharing those facts with my district as they become available. There are a lot of false information sources out there, so I am also committed to avoiding furthering hysteria. I have not seen anything concrete yet, including from the CDC, that would suggest this illness lives in the air. I absolutely agree with you that we need to take this seriously and take precautions. I spent a lot of my time on the radio this morning talking about how we can all do that. Nothing I said on the radio was suggesting we shouldn't be taking precautions, or that we should be ignoring pleas to social distance. I think we can do that without promoting panic.

Thank you for everything you are doing on the frontlines. I absolutely support our health care professionals. I wouldn't have made it through cancer twice without them.

I cannot say how appalling it was to hear you on WJJQ this morning saying Covid 19 is NOT airborne!! People are not isolating as it is! It is Airborne! That's why we as healthcare workers are wearing N95 masks and working in negative pressure rooms! It can remain airborne at least 3 hours. Get your facts straight. We need your support as nurses not your foolish statements. I'm asking you to talk to WJJQ and retract your statement.

Summary: COVID-19: Help with unemployment?

Description: Dear Mary,

I was referred to you and given your e-mail in regards to my husband having an extremely hard time getting through to unemployment. We are now on day three of attempting to talk to someone. We started the process online as suggested but then towards the end of setting up his account he was told he needed to call and speak to someone to verify his account. We have been trying for days now and we can't get through. We just brought our premature baby home after a nearly 10 week stay at the NICU. She is on oxygen and part of the high risk category for this virus and every virus. We were starting to struggle before but had almost gotten our feet back underneath us when he got laid off from work this week. We need to get through in order to start to file weekly claims online and each day we can't file is another day closer to this having a severe and lasting impact on us. An impact that could be almost if not impossible to come back from. We've also been waiting well over 21 days for our federal tax refund. We can't get ahold of anyone at the irs either. I'm sure you can understand how scary, frustrating and stressful this all is especially with an new preemie baby. Any help or advice you can give us is beyond appreciated. Thank you so much for your time and efforts.

Betsy,

Thank you for your email and letting me know what you are struggling with. Congratulations on your new baby! That is very exciting, but also an added stresser on top of an already unprecedented situation here in Wisconsin. I will reach out to the department and see if I can have someone reach out to you on the unemployment. Regarding the federal tax refund, that unfortunately is not a state issue, so I don't have a contact for you at the IRS. You could contact Senator Ron Johnson on that. What does the website say when you check on the status of your refund? https://sa.www4.irs.gov/irfof/lang/en/irfofgetstatus.jsp

Congratulations again and I will see if I can get someone from DWD in touch with you. Unfortunately, the current situation has caused an enormous increase in the amount of people trying to file claims, so the staff at DWD are doing everything they can to keep up with the very large volume of calls that come in each day. I know they are also working on issues that arise with the website.

I will be in touch!

Mary Felzkowski

Mary,

Thank you so much for getting back to me so quickly. I truly appreciate it. I understand that these are difficult and unprecedented times and we appreciate you taking the time to help us. Thank you for your kind words of congratulations we are very happy to have her home.

As far as the federal refund I will contact Senator Ron Johnson with my concerns. The irs website and app have said the same thing for 43 days now. It reads " Your tax return is still being processed. A refund date will be provided when available." . Thank you for pointing me in the right direction as to who to contact in that matter.

After speaking with my mom shortly after sending the last email it was brought to my attention that we have actually met. Although it was what feels like a lifetime ago. I was a teenager and a completely different person than I am now. It is funny to look back and see how things change. I do believe you still know my parents though, Rick and Jan Arends.

Thank you again for all your efforts and help. I look forward to hearing back from you.

Description: Bill called to express that he would be against this. He knows the clerks don't have time to send a ballot to everyone, and it's made even worse by having all those voters on the rolls who have likely moved. Thinks that doing this will just increase the likelihood of misconduct, especially because of counties like Dane and Milwaukee. I told him we are staying on top of it, and that at least the Elections Commission has come out stating that COVID-19 cannot be used as an excuse for being indefinitely confined so that Voter ID does not have to be used.

Summary: COVID-19: Offering Telehealth Services for patients with WI State Medicaid

Description: Hello Rep. Felzkowski,

I am a Registered Dietitian Nutritionist certified in the State of WI. I work for Marshfield Clinic in Merrill, WI. Our clinic will be open 2 days per week beginning next week due to the COVID-19 crisis. I may be providing telehealth services from my home. Per State of WI Medicaid, I use an onsite provider as a "billing override or incident to" when billing for services. Because I will be working from home, I wonder if I will be able to provide telehealth services to this population during the State of Emergency declared by Govenor Evers, given there will not be a provider onsite.

Can you tell me if this Medicaid rule(to bill incident to)is still in place, or if due to the State of Emergency it has been liberalized?

Thank you for your assistance. I hope you are well.

Mary, this is a cry for help. It is NOT political As you know, WI has an election scheduled for April 7. Our Governor is refusing to change that date. Banks, churches, restaurants,beauty and tattoo parlors are closed. Funerals and weddings are postponed. And yet, elections must go on all while using "best practices" . Absentee ballots are encouraged. Wonderful! However, those absentee ballots still need to be processed by poll workers. The majority of poll workers are retirees. And I'm one of them. How can we do our work while practicing "social distancing" and keeping people out of our face?
Please, please let's just make one change. Allow me to simply check off the voter in the poll book. Waive the requirement that he sign the book. This simple change would keep the voter away from my face. A relative small best practice change!

Subject: RE: Up coming elections

Carol,

Thank you for reaching out to me. I totally understand where you are coming from, especially because in our area, there is a much larger elderly population, and our polling places already have fewer people to run the polls. You are right that Governor Evers refuses to move that date, has said so repeatedly, and has encouraged everyone to vote absentee when at all possible, and there's really nothing I can do to force his hand. The fact of the matter is that the law/his emergency powers do not actually allow for him to change or postpone that date on his own. This, at least, does give me some comfort, because it means that one politician cannot take away our constitutional rights to vote just on a whim. These are certainly extraordinary circumstances, for sure. One big concern with moving this election so close to the date is that there are already 100,000 absentee ballots out there that have been returned to the clerks to be counted. On those ballots are votes for local positions all over the state. If Governor Evers were to move the election date, many, many local positions would remain vacant during that time, sometimes crippling a local government's ability to make moves to respond to the public health emergency we are currently in. It's also difficult to say when that date should be postponed to because we do not yet know how long the public health emergency will be in place.

The federal government is close to passing a federal stimulus package that will have some funds available to aid local governments. This will allow more flexibility for clerks to be able to do what they need to to make sure this election is as safe as possible for all, including for poll workers. It is the Election Commission's job to work with all municipal clerks to ensure that this happens, and that all clerks have the resources they need to make that possible. In reference to the change you suggested, I have heard that some locations are looking at purchasing pens so that every voter can use their own pen to sign the book and vote with it, and then take it with them. Your suggestion is interesting, and would be something I'd bring up with your municipal clerk to see if they've talked to the elections commission about flexibility there. It may be that state law prohibits anyone but the voter from signing.

Coronavirus and the fall out has created some really impossible situations, and this is one of them. If you are uncomfortable going to the polls to work or to vote, I think you have every right to stay home, and to vote absentee. I know some clerks (and the elections commission) are working on recruiting college students and non-essential employees out of work to work the polls in place of those who don't feel comfortable. If you're wanting to avoid getting sick, I'd talk to your municipal clerk about it and see what parameters they are putting into place to make the day as safe as possible.

As we've seen over the last two weeks, this situation can change drastically from day to day, so I will continue to keep you in the loop if anything changes. Thank you again for your time and sharing your thoughts with me,

Mary

Subject: Rights Versus Wishes

Representative Mary Felzkowski:

Rights Versus Wishes by Walter Williams

Sen. Bernie Sanders said: "I believe that health care is a right of all people." He's not alone in that contention. That claim comes from Democrats and Republicans and liberals and conservatives.
It is not just a health care right that people claim. There are "rights" to decent housing, decent food, a decent job and prescription drugs.

In a free an Catherine Abercrombie ad moral society, do people have these rights? Let's begin by asking ourselves: What is a right?

In the standard usage of the term, a "right" is something that exists simultaneously among people. In the case of our U.S. Constitutional decree, we have the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Kyle T. Yamashita other than the duty of noninterference.

As such, a right imposes no obligation on another.

For example, the right to free speech is something we all possess simultaneously. My right to free speech imposes no obligation upon another except that of noninterference. Similarly, I have a right to travel freely. Again, that right imposes no obligation upon another except that of noninterference.

Sanders' claim that health care is a right does impose obligations upon others. We see that by recognizing that there is no Santa Claus or tooth fairy who gives resources to government to pay for medical services. Moreover, the money does not come from congressmen and state legislators reaching into their own pockets to pay for the service.
That means that in order for government to provide medical services to someone who cannot afford it, it must use intimidation, threats and coercion to take the earnings of another American to provide that service.

Let's apply this bogus concept of rights to my right to speak and travel freely. In the case of my right to free speech, it might impose obligations on others to supply me with an auditorium, microphone and audience.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

It may require newspapers or television stations to allow me to use their property to express my views. My right to travel freely might require that others provide me with resources to purchase airplane tickets and hotel accommodations. What if I were to demand that others make sacrifices so that I can exercise my free speech and travel rights, I suspect that most Americans would say, "Williams, you have rights to free speech and you have a right to travel freely, but I'm not obligated to pay for them!"

A moral vision of rights does not mean that we should not help our fellow man in need. It means that helping with health care needs to be voluntary (i.e., free market decisions or voluntary donations to charities that provide health care.) The government's role in health care is to protect this individual right to choose. As Senator Rand Paul was brave enough to say, "The basic assumption that you have a right to get something from somebody else means you have to endorse the concept of theft."

Statists go further to claim that people have a "right" to housing, to a job, to an education, to an affordable wage. These so-called rights impose burdens on others in the form of involuntary servitude. If one person has a right to something he did not earn, it means that another person does not have a right to something he did earn.

The provision by the U.S. Congress of a so-called right to health care should offend any sense of moral decency. If you're a Christian or a Jew, you should be against the notion of one American living at the expense of another. When God gave Moses the Eighth Commandment — "Thou shalt not steal" — I am sure that He did not mean, "Thou shalt not steal — unless there is a majority vote in the U.S. Congress." Walter Williams, March 11, 2020

Very informative

Happy Friday Everyone!!

I think it goes without saying that you all know how I feel about these suggestions from the governor. Not only would this be a gross violation of the law requiring photo ID to vote, they would be a logistical nightmare for our municipal clerks. Clerks are already working around the clock to fulfill absentee ballot requests, to ask them to now send a ballot to every registered voter with just over a week to go before the election, would be downright impossible.

I am not AS opposed to his points 2 and 3, simply because the clerks are inundated with so many legitimate requests for absentee ballots that it is going to be a challenge to get them out in a timely fashion for the mail to deliver them by April 7.

An alternative that would provide some relief is to allow clerks to start processing absentee ballots on April 4 for those who have tens of thousands of ballots to process.

Thanks for all you do!!

Dear Elected Official,

Thank you for your tireless efforts during these times to serve the people of your community and the people of the state of Wisconsin. Your dedication to ensuring the safety of your communities is noticed, and we appreciate your leadership. We are all in this together, and we know everyone is doing the very best they can to keep people safe.

Today, the Governor asked the legislative leadership to work together on behalf of those performing their constitutional duty to administer the elections and those who are trying to exercise their constitutional right to vote—with the safety of our people as the top priority.

While we cannot mitigate every challenge with the upcoming April election, the Governor believes we can work together to put some measures in place to protect the safety of the people of Wisconsin.

With that in mind, the Governor is asking the legislature to immediately pass legislation to do the following:

- Allow voters the opportunity to vote from home by sending an absentee ballot to every registered voter
- Allow absentee ballots postmarked the day of the election to be counted
- Extend the time period to give clerks extra time to count the influx of absentee ballots

The Governor knows we have to act quickly, ensure everyone can safely exercise their right to vote, and keep our people safe.

Please see the Governor's comments today https://vimeo.com/401229352/fecdcfacab

Words cannot express our appreciation for all your work. We know you all are out their creating solutions to challenges.

Thank you again. As this situation impacts every person in the state of Wisconsin, we thank you for your service.

Also per usual, there are no details included, especially on who would be required to send a ballot to everyone. I am already getting calls from town clerks on this and, as always, really appreciate your input.

Commercial Driver CDL Training School

Governor Tony Evers
115 E Capitol # 1
Madison, WI 53702

Governor Evers,

I am writing to appeal for the immediate and careful reopening of CDL training schools, urge you to keep the State Driver's License Agency open for obtaining the CDL after the student passes the skills test, and urge you to consider Commercial Truck Driving Schools as "essential services" in the event you are considering closing government operations. Right now, critical supplies are required to offset the effects of the coronavirus outbreak. Across the state and all around the United States, commercial motor vehicles are bringing medical supplies, food and other emergency aid to communities. Supplies cannot move without a licensed CDL driver and there is currently a need for new drivers industrywide. Our economy will be greatly impacted by the pandemic and it will be catastrophically exacerbated if new CDL drivers are not permitted to train and test for their Commercial Learner's Permit (CLP) or Commercial Driver's Licenses (CDL).

DESIGNATE CDL SCHOOLS AS "ESSENTIAL SERVICES" TO SUPPLY CHAIN

Drivers, including future drivers, are as critical to our nation's commerce as the trucks they drive. I request that if there is any state designation of "essential services" to transportation, I request that CDL training schools be added to such a list. The impact of closing of a school or the State Driver's License Agency will have major impacts on our schools and the trucking industry. Keeping CDL schools open is critical because they are essential to both short term needs for drivers moving interstate freight, but also longer term needs of the industry's ability to grow once the crisis is over and I emerge from our coronavirus hibernation.

America's driver population is also aging. With the coronavirus impacting older Americans, there is a real danger that those who are moving are freight face a higher danger if infected by coronavirus. The average age of a CDL student is 34. At this age, the complications facing such individuals are greatly reduced. Ensuring schools can train and test younger drivers remains critical to our nation's ability to move goods.

Last, given the financial impact caused by the coronavirus, I also feel that trucking is one industry that can offer employment in this time where hourly workers or other gig economy workers are not working. However, in order to get into trucking, getting training is necessary.

CLP ISSUANCE IS CRITICAL

The ability of students to take the Commercial Learner's Permit (CLP) knowledge exam is critical in ensuring the security of our supply chain. In order for a driver to operate on a public road, the "CLP holder is at all times accompanied by the holder of a valid CDL who has the proper CDL group and endorsement(s) necessary to operate the CMV. The CDL holder must at all times be physically present in the front seat of the vehicle next to the CLP holder…." [1] Training is not possible without a CLP. Therefore, it is paramount that states continue to issue CLPs.

CDL TRAINING SCHOOLS WILL ADHERE TO COVID-19 SAFETY PROTOCOLS

CDL schools are able to teach students while also adhering with COVID-19 safety protocols such temperature-taking, sanitization and social-distancing. Healthy instructors and healthy students must be able to sit together in clean trucks to continue to receive training and to continue to test for their CDL.

Lastly, as you may know, the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration has already waived the Hours of Service requirements for trucks carrying needed supplies. I anticipate the FMCSA will grant more waivers pertaining to CLP and CDL licensure timetables.

Thank you for your consideration on these important matters.

COVID-19 BACKGROUND (current as of March 17, 2020)

NOTE: The information herein is current as of 9:00 p.m. on March 17, 2020, but please know that as this is a rapidly evolving situation; there will continue to be updates and changes. This document includes all of the information the governor's office provided on March 16, 2020 in addition to updates occurring since then. New information is highlighted.

OVERVIEW

COVID-19 is a virus that has not previously infected humans and information about its rate of spread and its effects is still largely unknown, which makes it incredibly important to be highly cautious in dealing with the current situation. On March 11th, the World Health Organization officially declared COVID-19 a pandemic. Here's an update on the work done so far, the current status of COVID-19 in Wisconsin, and the steps being taken to keep families and communities safe.

Please continue to find the most current information on the DHS website, which has guidance that is updated regularly for travel, self-quarantine, and school districts, among other important information. We have also created a new site that houses resources to help direct folks to resources at our state agencies. Please share this website widely as well: wisconsin.gov/covid19.

As of today, March 17th, there have been 72 people who tested positive for COVID-19 in Wisconsin. Gov. Evers, the Department of Health Services (DHS), and the State agencies are taking this issue very seriously and precautions are being taken across Wisconsin. Gov. Evers, his administration, and staff have also been working with partners at the local and federal levels to provide the most accurate, up-to-date information possible.

We are seeing community spread of COVID-19 in Wisconsin. This means that there are people who have tested positive who have no exposures to a known case nor did they travel to a location where there is known community spread. Today, we have cases in Milwaukee, Dane and Kenosha counties indicating that there is community spread happening in Wisconsin. Social distancing will help keep you, your family, and our community from increased risk of exposure.

UPDATE ON ACTIONS THUS FAR

Earlier this month, Gov. Evers directed the DHS to provide the public and legislators from across the state an informational briefing and to give an update on the status of COVID-19. On March 13th, the governor again directed the DHS to provide an updated informational briefing (via webinar) for legislators to occur on March 18th. Please click this link to join the webinar. If you need a call in, please dial +1 646 558 8656 or +1 669 900 9128. Please note we will be taking questions via chat box, so the web-participation is best. Over the past few weeks, the DHS has also hosted regular informational calls to provide updates to members of the media so we can ensure folks across our state are receiving the most current information we have available. Gov. Evers joined the DHS informational briefing on both March 16th and March 17th to take questions from members of the press about recent announcements. In addition to the FAQ sections below, please feel free to consult the question and answer section of these briefings during which Gov. Evers and Sec.-designee Palm, among others, answer questions from members of the press.

Gov. Evers has also participated in discussions with Vice President Mike Pence and senior administration officials to receive updates on the White House Coronavirus Task Force and to share how Wisconsin and other states are responding to COVID-19. Addressing public health issues like COVID-19 requires collaboration and communication to ensure efforts are efficient and effective. Members of Gov. Evers' administration have been in regular contact with other elected officials and partners at the local, state, and federal levels, and are continuing to work together on preventing and responding to COVID-19. On March 14th, Gov. Evers sent a letter to U.S. Sens. Ron Johnson and Tammy Baldwin requesting their support for the bipartisan legislation moving through Congress that will provide free coronavirus testing, paid emergency leave, bolsters food security programs, and enhances unemployment insurance, among other important initiatives to help support our state's efforts to respond to COVID-19. The bill passed the U.S. House of Representatives on March 13th, and is awaiting U.S. Senate approval, which is expected later this week.

Making sure that folks have access to the healthcare resources, care, and treatment they need is critically important in working to manage the spread of COVID-19 in Wisconsin. On March 6th, Gov. Evers and Insurance Commissioner Mark Afable asked health plan issuers to help Wisconsinites access testing and treatment for COVID-19 and to ensure that healthcare is as accessible as possible as we continue to monitor this situation.

Gov. Evers and Commissioner Afable requested that health plan issuers waive cost-sharing for COVID-19-related laboratory testing and radiology services, prepare for increased demand for telehealth services, review readiness and responsiveness plans to new COVID-19 cases, and that health plan issuers cover the immunization for COVID-19—in the event that an immunization becomes available—at no cost-sharing for covered members. They also asked that health plan issuers be flexible on prescription drug supply limitations and early refill limitations so folks can get their medication as quickly as possible and without worrying about increased exposure or risk.

The governor and our office have also been working with U.S. Sen. Tammy Baldwin to help secure federal funding to support our efforts in responding to COVID-19 in Wisconsin. On March 11th, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) announced that Wisconsin will be receiving more than $10.2 million to support our response and prevention efforts for COVID-19. Gov. Evers and his administration are working quickly to determine how to best allocate these resources toward prevention and response across our state.

On March 11th, state agency employees also received an update on COVID-19 in Wisconsin and its effects on our workforce. On March 12th, Gov. Evers signed Executive Order #72 declaring a public health emergency in Wisconsin and hosted a press conference giving an update to the people of Wisconsin about COVID-19. Executive Order #72 directs the DHS to take all necessary and appropriate measures to prevent and respond to incidents of COVID-19 in Wisconsin, and suspends any administrative rules that the DHS finds would increase the health threat or prevent, hinder, or delay our response to the COVID-19 emergency. It also directs the Adjutant General of the Wisconsin National Guard to assist in our response to the public health emergency. Additionally, the DHS also issued new guidance regarding mass gatherings, travel, and long-term care and assisted living facilities. Please see the DHS website for these updates.

Ensuring the people of Wisconsin have continued utility access is critically important to ensure folks have access to basic necessities as the state continues plans to prevent further spread of COVID-19 through promoting social distancing, mandating school closures, etc. Thus, following the governor's public health emergency declaration, the Wisconsin Public Service Commission directed water, electric, and natural gas utilities to cease disconnecting residential service for nonpayment and also directed utilities reconnect services to dwellings that had been disconnected until the state public health emergency is lifted.

Working to prevent the spread of COVID-19 is a top priority, especially as it relates to limiting potential exposure at correctional facilities and putting other inmates at risk. Thus, yesterday, March 13th, the Department of Corrections (DOC) announced it is taking extra precautions by temporarily suspending visits at all DOC institutions in an effort to protect correctional workers and staff and the individuals who are in the DOC's care. A copy of DOC's announcement can be found here. The DOC also announced they are temporarily waiving $7 co-pay for individuals experiencing fever, cough, or shortness of breath to receive medical treatment.

Gov. Evers also directed the DHS to close all Wisconsin K-12 schools—both public and private—as part of the state's ongoing efforts to respond to and contain the spread of COVID-19 in Wisconsin. The mandated closure is effective at the end of the school day on March 18th. Gov. Evers announced on March 17th that schools will be closed for the duration of the public health emergency, indefinitely extending the previously announced April 6th resumption date. A copy of the DHS' order can be found here. The governor's office has received several inquiries from educators, parents, education stakeholders, and legislators about the order and its implications. To help provide answers, the governor's office has prepared a list of frequently asked questions and answers below. You can also find additional information on the Department of Public Instruction's website.

K-12 SCHOOL CLOSURE FAQs
Can schools close before Wednesday? Schools districts, particularly those in counties with reported cases of COVID-19, may choose to close earlier than Wednesday. The CDC has issued guidance for schools to consider when making this decision: Considerations for School Closure.
Where can I find out if schools will stay closed after April 6? Governor Evers and the Department of Health Services (DHS) will continue to put out the latest information on social media, as well as issuing media releases to ensure the public is aware of the latest decisions and guidance. Additionally, the DPI will continue to share information with schools around the state. Families should also look for information from their local schools, who may also make decisions related to additional closures.
Can schools do virtual learning? Yes. The order does not prevent a school from providing virtual instruction to pupils. The DPI provided information and resources to school districts who plan to use virtual learning time as allowed under the state administrative code provisions.
Will the required instruction hours be modified? Districts have the ability to request a waiver from the DPI regarding hours of instruction. Whether school closures are mandated by the state or locally determined due to COVID-19, the DPI will address the issue of waivers based on the severity and length of the situation. The DPI has stated they will be empathetic to the ability of a district to reasonably meet the hours requirement. The DPI does not yet know the impact of closures or their length. The DPI will do whatever they can to expedite the process surrounding waivers and meet the needs of school districts.
How will students who qualify for free or reduced lunch be supported during the closure? State and federal leaders are working to identify ways to support serving children meals during periods of school closures due to COVID-19. As a resource, the DPI has developed a webpage for options for serving children meals in a non-congregate setting in the event of a school closure due to COVID-19. The DPI submitted a Summer Food Service Program (SFSP) waiver to USDA. This request is to waive the congregate feeding requirement for SFSP meals during unanticipated school closures at school and non-school sites during a public health emergency, such as COVID-19. The waiver is for all SFSP sponsors in good standing in the state. The public notice informing the public about the proposed waiver is posted at https://dpi.wi.gov/community-nutrition/sfsp.
What supports are available for students with an IEP? The federal Department of Education (ED) issued new resources around protecting student privacy and addressing questions regarding serving students with disabilities during the COVID-19 outbreak. If a school is closed for an extended period of time (generally, more than 10 consecutive school days) and educational services are not provided to other students, then services are not required for students with disabilities during the closure. Once school resumes, local educational agencies must make every effort to implement individualized education plans, and should consider, on an individualized basis, whether and to what extent compensatory services are required due to the closure. If a school provides services through virtual learning, the school must ensure students with disabilities have equal access to the same opportunities, and that to the greatest extent possible, special education and related services are provided. Once school resumes, local educational agencies must make every effort to implement individualized education plans, and should consider, on an individualized basis, whether and to what extent compensatory services are required due to the closure.

Will school playgrounds be open? Individual districts or schools will make determinations about access to school grounds. In doing so, they should follow recommendations and guidance from the CDC, Department of Health Services, and local public health officials. However, school grounds and facilities cannot be used for instructional purposes or for extracurricular activities. This includes athletics practices or other extracurriculars that regularly occur on school grounds.
What are the implications for state testing/assessments? U.S. Department of Education (ED) indicates their goal is for all states to meet the assessment requirements under section 1111(b)(2) of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. The DPI asked each of its assessment vendors to determine whether the assessment windows can be extended. The DPI is working with these vendors to identify the feasibility of this option and will relay information to districts as soon as it becomes available. Please know the DPI is actively exploring all options, including a waiver, from ED if closures prevent statewide testing.
What are the implications for childcare/extended day programs? The order only applies to pupil instruction and extracurricular activities, not to childcare functions. For programs run in school buildings, school leaders will make determinations regarding childcare or extended day programs, and families should look to their local provider for the latest information. Early Care and Education providers participating in 3K and 4K programs offsite may continue to serve those children in their child care setting at their discretion.
Are all athletics and club sports canceled? The order requires all K-12 school buildings to be closed to extracurricular activities. If your child is involved in athletics or extra-curriculars that regularly take place in a non-school building, you should contact the provider organization regarding cancellations and follow DHS guidance regarding social distancing.
Will student graduations be affected? This closure order currently only extends through April 6; however, the current public health emergency is a rapidly evolving situation, and we will be reassessing our recommendations and requirements for schools on an ongoing basis in order to protect the health of students, educators, staff, and the public. Districts may also make independent determinations about their planned events. Please look for updates from both the DHS and local schools and districts.
What conversations should parents have with their children at home? The DPI recommends the following resource: Talking to Children about COVID-19 (Coronavirus) - A Parent Resource.
Does the order prohibit school staff from reporting to work? No. The order only applies to pupil instruction and extracurricular activities, not to other functions. School leaders will make determinations on a case-by-case basis regarding access for other purposes, such as virtual learning, cleaning, food service, payroll and clerical functions. If school facilities are used for other purposes, districts should follow guidance from public health officials to ensure that appropriate health and safety measures are in place.
Will hourly staff be paid? Gov. Evers recognizes that the closure presents challenges to students, families, educators, staff and districts, including financial impact. Local districts will need to determine how to best address the impacts of closures on hourly staff. Gov. Evers encourage districts and all employers to take whatever steps they can to minimize the economic impact to workers due to public health closures.

Grocery store inventories have been especially affected by COVID-19 as people seek to keep a two-week supply of food and necessities. Consequently, on March 14th, the governor directed the Department of Transportation (DOT) to issue COVID-19 Relief Effort Supply Permits for transporting inventory to grocery retailers affected by COVID-19. The permits allow for additional supplies to be efficiently transported over Wisconsin interstates and most highways and local roadways by increasing weight limits and waiving truck driver hours of service limitations. More information can be found on DOT's website here.

In addition to declaring a public health emergency, Executive Order #72 also declares that Wisconsin is experiencing a period of "abnormal economic disruption" because of COVID-19. This declaration authorizes DATCP to enforce Wisconsin's price gouging statute until the emergency has ended. In addition to price gouging, DATCP remains the agency charged with investigating scams and other fraudulent trade practices in Wisconsin. If you receive any constituent contacts related to suspected scams, fraud, false marketing claims, price gouging or other consumer complaints related to COVID-19, please refer those contacts to DATCP's Consumer Protection Hotline at DATCPHotline@wisconsin.gov or (800) 422-7128, or have them file an online complaint.

On March 15th, the Department of Children and Families issued new guidance for childcare, head start, and pre-K program providers. They also announced rule waivers for childcare providers and Wisconsin Shares eligibility. You can find their updates here.

As you are likely aware, 38 Wisconsinites were aboard the Grand Princess cruise ship, which was quarantined due to the COVID-19 outbreak. Gov. Evers, the Wisconsin National Guard, and the DHS, in collaboration with partners at the federal level, have been working with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and the White House to get the necessary information we need to bring these Wisconsinites home as quickly and safely as possible. Through direct outreach by the DHS and calls into the governor's office, we have also learned from passengers and family members concerning reports about conditions and that some passengers have needed medical accommodations. Our team has been working with the HHS to improve conditions and get those accommodations and medications to the passengers as soon as possible.

Initially, the HHS communicated to the governor's office that HHS would transport passengers to Wisconsin at which time the Wisconsin National Guard would transport passengers to their homes for self-isolation. Given the initial lack of details from HHS, on March 13th, Gov. Evers directed the Wisconsin National Guard to instead develop its own plans to go to all five sites to bring these Wisconsinites home. Nearly 30 Soldiers and Airmen from the Wisconsin National Guard were mobilized to state active duty after the governor declared a public health emergency Thursday, and they were standing by to transport the passengers upon landing at the National Guard's Volk Field Combat Readiness Training Center in Camp Douglas, Wisconsin.

On March 16th, Gov. Evers announced 29 Wisconsin residents who were aboard the Grand Princess cruise ship were safely transported back to Wisconsin around 4:18 am Monday morning. Two other passengers chose to remain in quarantine in Texas under the custody of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HSS), citing personal reasons. Upon return, Adjutant General Paul Knapp welcomed Wisconsinites home on behalf of Gov. Evers. Passengers received a welcome-home packet which included a letter from the governor, information about their 14 days of quarantine, and how to contact their local health department or the DHS with any questions. The governor's office has also provided direct contact information for our constituent services director to assist in providing support and assistance to help ensure passengers' transition and return to Wisconsin is as seamless and safe as possible. Upon landing at the National Guard's Volk Field Combat Readiness Training Center in Camp Douglas, Wisconsin, Guard members transported passengers home in state vans.

As of the morning of March 16, none of the returning Wisconsin citizens have tested positive for COVID-19 and all are asymptomatic, but the residents will follow Center for Disease Control and Wisconsin Department of Health Services protocols and continue to self-quarantine for the requisite 14-day period. The Soldiers and Airmen involved will self-monitor for 14 days upon the conclusion of their mission. Gov. Evers, our staff, the Wisconsin National Guard, and the DHS will continue to work with HHS to bring the remaining seven Wisconsinites home as quickly as possible and will provide updates as we get more information.

On March 16th, Gov. Evers directed the DHS to issue an order banning mass gatherings—both public and private—of 50 people or more effective at 12:01 a.m. on Tuesday, March 17th. A new order was issued on March 17th banning mass gatherings—both public and private—of 10 people or more effective at 5:00 p.m. on March 17th. Critical infrastructure and services such as grocery stores, food pantries, childcare centers, pharmacies, and hospitals, among other venues, are currently exempt from this order. "Mass gathering" is any planned or spontaneous, public or private event or convening that will bring together or is likely to bring together 10 or more people in a single room or single confined or enclosed space at the same time. Please see the order for a full list of exemptions and other details. This is not a decision the governor took lightly, but the safety of Wisconsinites, their families, and our communities has and must continue to be our top priority.

MASS GATHERINGS RESTRICTION FAQs

What is a "mass gathering"?
The order defines a "mass gathering" as any planned or spontaneous, public or private event or convening that will bring together or is likely to bring together 10 or more people in a single room or single confined or enclosed space at the same time.

Why are mass gatherings being prohibited?
DHS is intending to slow the spread of this epidemic to a level such that the healthcare system is able to maintain quality care for patients. Mass gatherings during an outbreak of a particularly infectious disease such as COVID-19 have the potential to result in large numbers of ill people that can quickly overwhelm local hospitals.

What types of spaces are subject to the order?
This order applies to all spaces where 10 or more people may gather, unless they are specifically exempt. This order may include, but is not limited to mass gatherings at: public or private schools, auditoriums, theaters, movie theaters, museums, stadiums, arenas, conference rooms, meeting halls, exhibition centers, taverns, health and fitness centers, recreation centers, licensed pools, and places of worship and religious gatherings.

- Facilities for Voting
  - Libraries when operating as polling places
- Commercial and Non-Profit Entities
  - Office spaces. Such facilities must implement social distancing, including teleworking, as much as practicable.

Please see FAQs below for additional, specific exemptions and guidance. DHS guidance regarding social distancing should still be followed in these spaces.

Does my workplace have to close?
It depends – If your workplace falls into one of the exemptions listed above, your workplace can remain open subject to any applicable conditions in the order. For example, office spaces, manufacturing facilities, processing facilities, and retail establishments are exempt. Employers should seek guidance from their local public health departments if they have questions and should follow DHS guidance regarding social distancing in the workplace.

Are banks required to close?
No. Banks are not required to close. The Department of Financial Institutions has encouraged banks and credit unions to be proactive in preventing disruption of operations.

Does this order apply to having 10 or more people my home?
No. Residential facilities are exempt.

Does this order move up the school closure timeline?
A previous order mandating the closure of public and private schools at 5pm on Wednesday, March 18th is still in effect. The previous anticipated re-opening date of April 6th has been rescinded. All schools should remain closed for instructional and extracurricular activities for the duration of the public health emergency or until a subsequent order lifts this specific restriction.

Will hospitals remain open?
Hospitals, medical facilities, and pharmacies are exempt from the order and will remain open.

Are dental offices exempt?
Yes. Dental offices fall under the healthcare exemption.

Are restaurants, bars, hotels and motels required to close?
Restaurants may remain open for take-out or delivery service only. No seating may be provided, and food may not be consumed in the restaurant. Restaurants must preserve social distancing of six feet between customers during pick up. Hotels and motels may remain open, but their restaurant facilities must comply with these restrictions. Bars must close.

Will Senior Centers remain open?
Senior Centers will not remain open unless they are located in a government facility.

Will grocery stores remain open?
Grocery stores, convenience stores, and farmer's markets are exempt from the order as long as: (1) they close all seating intended for consuming food; (2) self-service operations of salad bars and buffets is ceased; and (3) customers are prohibited from self-dispensing all unpackaged food.

Retail establishments where large numbers or people may be present but are not generally within arm's length of each other for more than 10 minutes may remain open. Indoor shopping malls must close. This exemption covers retail establishments such as salons, banks, and stores.

Are bakeries considered restaurants?
Bakeries and other food retail and food processing facilities are exempt.

Does it matter if the gathering is held outdoors?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The order applies to gatherings of 10 or more people that are held in a single room or single confined or enclosed space at the same time.
Should mass gatherings smaller than 10 be canceled? Voluntary cancelation, closure, or limitations on size of gathering beyond the requirements of the order are permitted. All gatherings that bring together or are likely to bring together less than 10 people in a single room or confined or enclosed space at the same time must: • Preserve social distancing of 6 feet between people, and • Follow all other public health recommendations issued by the Wisconsin Department of Health Service and Center for Disease Control.
Will hourly staff at affected businesses be paid? Governor Evers recognizes that the closure presents challenges to businesses across Wisconsin, including financial impact. Individual businesses will need to determine how to best address the impacts of closures on hourly staff. Governor Evers encourages business to take whatever steps they can to minimize the economic impact to workers due to public health closures, and he will work with legislative leaders to provide assistance to Wisconsinites impacted by workplace closures.
Can local government bodies of 10 or more people meet? The order specifically exempts local government facilities, so that local governments can continue to function. They should follow DHS guidance regarding social distancing, cleaning, and other measures to protect the health and safety of those in attendance. The Wisconsin Department of Justice has provided additional guidance on this topic.
How long will this order remain in effect? The order will remain in effect for the duration of the public health emergency and will be re-evaluated as updated information becomes available.
How will the order be enforced? Violation or obstruction of this order is punishable by imprisonment, fines, or both. Wis. Stat. § 252.25.

Gov. Evers, our staff, and our administration are continuing to work on U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Disaster Assistance. This is a top priority for the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) and Wisconsin Emergency Management and they are actively working to collect all the needed information from regional economic development directors across the state in order to make the SBA declaration request.

On March 17th, the DHS and Wisconsin State Laboratory of Hygiene to move to tiered COVID-19 testing to manage capacity. Despite The Wisconsin State Laboratory of Hygiene (WSLH) significantly increasing their capacity for COVID-19 testing, the number of testing specimens being received far exceeds their daily capacity. In order to conserve supplies for testing, WSLH and DHS are now prioritizing two tiers of cases for testing:

Tier One (Individuals who):

- are critically ill and receiving ICU level care with unexplained viral pneumonia or respiratory failure
- are hospitalized (non-ICU) with fever or signs and symptoms of lower respiratory tract illness (cough, shortness of breath) and either known exposure to a laboratory-confirmed COVID-19 patient or travel to an area with sustained community transmission

Tier Two (Individuals who):

- are hospitalized (non-ICU) with unexplained fever and signs/symptoms of lower respiratory tract illness
- are health care workers with unexplained fever and signs/symptoms of a lower-respiratory illness, regardless of hospitalization

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Test requests that do not meet these criteria will be sent to other labs in the state and country for testing, resulting in longer wait times. Patients without symptoms and patients with mild upper respiratory symptoms who are not health care workers should not be tested in order to ensure that there is capacity to test ill people.

The DHS will continue to hold regular informational briefings for members of the media as has been the case for the past several weeks to help ensure the most accurate and up-to-date information is consistently reported out to the public.

In addition to these efforts, effective on March 13th, the Wisconsin State Capitol suspended all Capitol tours until further notice. As of March 16th, signage has been posted at all entrances of the Capitol advising against entering if persons are exhibiting symptoms or meet other criteria described. Additionally, on March 14th, the DOA sent out correspondence to state agency employees announcing telecommuting as an option for employees whose job duties are conducive to working from home. Supervisors will approve telecommuting on case-by-case bases. State agencies are otherwise continuing normal operations at this time. The governor's office, the DOA, and the DHS continue to provide guidance for state employees and protecting the health and wellbeing of individuals who may be at a higher risk. Agencies are also continuing to review their continuity of operations plans to ensure that the business of the people of Wisconsin can continue.

NEXT STEPS
Gov. Evers, the DHS, and the governor's administration are continuing to receive consistent updates on the status of COVID-19. The governor's office will continue sharing information and provide updates as quickly as new actions or information become available. Please continue reaching out to the governor's legislative team and the DHS legislative team with any questions.

Additionally, we ask for your assistance in helping us disseminate accurate, up-to-date information so our constituents and members of the public can make informed decisions and keep themselves, family members, and neighbors safe. Please also continue to share any and all public health or COVID-19 related content from the governor's and DHS' Facebook and Twitter accounts to ensure your constituents and members of the public continue to receive accurate and current information about the status of COVID-19 in Wisconsin.

Please continue to share information with members of the public on how to prevent illness or avoid exposure to this virus. In the case of COVID-19, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) currently advises that common symptoms include flu-like symptoms (fever (100° F or higher), cough or sore throat, headache or body aches, and in some cases diarrhea and vomiting) or symptoms of respiratory illness (fever (100° F or higher), cough, and shortness of breath).

The best way to prevent illness is to avoid being exposed to this virus. In order to slow or stop the spread of these illnesses, it is critical to follow the below instructions, which is guidance from the CDC as of 3/11/2020. However, as a reminder, CDC always recommends everyday preventive actions to help prevent the spread of respiratory diseases, including:

- Avoid close contact with people who are sick.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth.
- Stay home when you are sick.
- Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces using a regular household cleaning spray or wipe.
- Follow CDC's recommendations for using a facemask.
    - CDC does not recommend that people who are well wear a facemask to protect themselves from respiratory diseases, including COVID-19.
    - Facemasks should be used by people who show symptoms of COVID-19 to help prevent the spread of the disease to others. The use of facemasks is also crucial for health workers and people who are taking care of patients with confirmed or suspected COVID-19 (at home or in a health care setting).
- Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds, especially after going to the bathroom; before eating; and after blowing your nose, coughing, or sneezing.
    - If soap and water are not readily available, use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer with at least 60% alcohol. Always wash hands with soap and water if hands are visibly dirty.
    - For information about handwashing, see CDC's Handwashing website.
    - For information specific to healthcare providers, see CDC's Hand Hygiene in Healthcare Settings.

COVID-19 BACKGROUND (current as of March 17, 2020)

NOTE: The information herein is current as of 9:00 p.m. on March 17, 2020, but please know that as this is a rapidly evolving situation; there will continue to be updates and changes. This document includes all of the information the governor's office provided on March 16, 2020 in addition to updates occurring since then. New information is highlighted.

OVERVIEW

COVID-19 is a virus that has not previously infected humans and information about its rate of spread and its effects is still largely unknown, which makes it incredibly important to be highly cautious in dealing with the current situation. On March 11th, the World Health Organization officially declared COVID-19 a pandemic. Here's an update on the work done so far, the current status of COVID-19 in Wisconsin, and the steps being taken to keep families and communities safe.

Please continue to find the most current information on the DHS website, which has guidance that is updated regularly for travel, self-quarantine, and school districts, among other important information. We have also created a new site that houses resources to help direct folks to resources at our state agencies. Please share this website widely as well: wisconsin.gov/covid19.

As of today, March 17th, there have been 72 people who tested positive for COVID-19 in Wisconsin. Gov. Evers, the Department of Health Services (DHS), and the State agencies are taking this issue very seriously and precautions are being taken across Wisconsin. Gov. Evers, his administration, and staff have also been working with partners at the local and federal levels to provide the most accurate, up-to-date information possible.

We are seeing community spread of COVID-19 in Wisconsin. This means that there are people who have tested positive who have no exposures to a known case nor did they travel to a location where there is known community spread. Today, we have cases in Milwaukee, Dane and Kenosha counties indicating that there is community spread happening in Wisconsin. Social distancing will help keep you, your family, and our community from increased risk of exposure.

UPDATE ON ACTIONS THUS FAR

Earlier this month, Gov. Evers directed the DHS to provide the public and legislators from across the state an informational briefing and to give an update on the status of COVID-19. On March 13th, the governor again directed the DHS to provide an updated informational briefing (via webinar) for legislators to occur on March 18th. Please click this link to join the webinar. If you need a call in, please dial +1 646 558 8656 or +1 669 900 9128. Please note we will be taking questions via chat box, so the web-participation is best. Over the past few weeks, the DHS has also hosted regular informational calls to provide updates to members of the media so we can ensure folks across our state are receiving the most current information we have available. Gov. Evers joined the DHS informational briefing on both March 16th and March 17th to take questions from members of the press about recent announcements. In addition to the FAQ sections below, please feel free to consult the question and answer section of these briefings during which Gov. Evers and Sec.-designee Palm, among others, answer questions from members of the press.

Gov. Evers has also participated in discussions with Vice President Mike Pence and senior administration officials to receive updates on the White House Coronavirus Task Force and to share how Wisconsin and other states are responding to COVID-19. Addressing public health issues like COVID-19 requires collaboration and communication to ensure efforts are efficient and effective. Members of Gov. Evers' administration have been in regular contact with other elected officials and partners at the local, state, and federal levels, and are continuing to work together on preventing and responding to COVID-19. March 14th, Gov. Evers sent a letter to U.S. Sens. Ron Johnson and Tammy Baldwin requesting their support for the bipartisan legislation moving through Congress that will provide free coronavirus testing, paid emergency leave, bolsters food security programs, and enhances unemployment insurance, among other important initiatives to help support our state's efforts to respond to COVID-19. The bill passed the U.S. House of Representatives on March 13th, and is awaiting U.S. Senate approval, which is expected later this week.

Making sure that folks have access to the healthcare resources, care, and treatment they need is critically important in working to manage the spread of COVID-19 in Wisconsin. On March 6th, Gov. Evers and Insurance Commissioner Mark Afable asked health plan issuers to help Wisconsinites access testing and treatment for COVID-19 and to ensure that healthcare is as accessible as possible as we continue to monitor this situation.

Gov. Evers and Commissioner Afable requested that health plan issuers waive cost-sharing for COVID-19-related laboratory testing and radiology services, prepare for increased demand for telehealth services, review readiness and responsiveness plans to new COVID-19 cases, and that health plan issuers cover the immunization for COVID-19—in the event that an immunization becomes available—at no cost-sharing for covered members. They also asked that health plan issuers be flexible on prescription drug supply limitations and early refill limitations so folks can get their medication as quickly as possible and without worrying about increased exposure or risk.

The governor and our office have also been working with U.S. Sen. Tammy Baldwin to help secure federal funding to support our efforts in responding to COVID-19 in Wisconsin. On March 11th, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) announced that Wisconsin will be receiving more than $10.2 million to support our response and prevention efforts for COVID-19. Gov. Evers and his administration are working quickly to determine how to best allocate these resources toward prevention and response across our state.

On March 11th, state agency employees also received an update on COVID-19 in Wisconsin and its effects on our workforce. On March 12th, Gov. Evers signed Executive Order #72 declaring a public health emergency in Wisconsin and hosted a press conference giving an update to the people of Wisconsin about COVID-19. Executive Order #72 directs the DHS to take all necessary and appropriate measures to prevent and respond to incidents of COVID-19 in Wisconsin, and suspends any administrative rules that the DHS finds would increase the health threat or prevent, hinder, or delay our response to the COVID-19 emergency. It also directs the Adjutant General of the Wisconsin National Guard to assist in our response to the public health emergency. Additionally, the DHS also issued new guidance regarding mass gatherings, travel, and long-term care and assisted living facilities. Please see the DHS website for these updates.

Ensuring the people of Wisconsin have continued utility access is critically important to ensure folks have access to basic necessities as the state continues plans to prevent further spread of COVID-19 through promoting social distancing, mandating school closures, etc. Thus, following the governor's public health emergency declaration, the Wisconsin Public Service Commission directed water, electric, and natural gas utilities to cease disconnecting residential service for nonpayment and also directed utilities reconnect services to dwellings that had been disconnected until the state public health emergency is lifted.

Working to prevent the spread of COVID-19 is a top priority, especially as it relates to limiting potential exposure at correctional facilities and putting other inmates at risk. Thus, yesterday, March 13th, the Department of Corrections (DOC) announced it is taking extra precautions by temporarily suspending visits at all DOC institutions in an effort to protect correctional workers and staff and the individuals who are in the DOC's care. A copy of DOC's announcement can be found here. The DOC also announced they are temporarily waiving $7 co-pay for individuals experiencing fever, cough, or shortness of breath to receive medical treatment.

Gov. Evers also directed the DHS to close all Wisconsin K-12 schools—both public and private—as part of the state's ongoing efforts to respond to and contain the spread of COVID-19 in Wisconsin. The mandated closure is effective at the end of the school day on March 18th. Gov. Evers announced on March 17th that schools will be closed for the duration of the public health emergency, indefinitely extending the previously announced April 6th resumption date. A copy of the DHS' order can be found here. The governor's office has received several inquiries from educators, parents, education stakeholders, and legislators about the order and its implications. To help provide answers, the governor's office has prepared a list of frequently asked questions and answers below. You can also find additional information on the Department of Public Instruction's website.

K-12 SCHOOL CLOSURE FAQs
Can schools close before Wednesday? Schools districts, particularly those in counties with reported cases of COVID-19, may choose to close earlier than Wednesday. The CDC has issued guidance for schools to consider when making this decision: Considerations for School Closure.
Where can I find out if schools will stay closed after April 6? Governor Evers and the Department of Health Services (DHS) will continue to put out the latest information on social media, as well as issuing media releases to ensure the public is aware of the latest decisions and guidance. Additionally, the DPI will continue to share information with schools around the state. Families should also look for information from their local schools, who may also make decisions related to additional closures.
Can schools do virtual learning? Yes. The order does not prevent a school from providing virtual instruction to pupils. The DPI provided information and resources to school districts who plan to use virtual learning time as allowed under the state administrative code provisions.
Will the required instruction hours be modified? Districts have the ability to request a waiver from the DPI regarding hours of instruction. Whether school closures are mandated by the state or locally determined due to COVID-19, the DPI will address the issue of waivers based on the severity and length of the situation. The DPI has stated they will be empathetic to the ability of a district to reasonably meet the hours requirement. The DPI does not yet know the impact of closures or their length. The DPI will do whatever they can to expedite the process surrounding waivers and meet the needs of school districts.
How will students who qualify for free or reduced lunch be supported during the closure? State and federal leaders are working to identify ways to support serving children meals during periods of school closures due to COVID-19. As a resource, the DPI has developed a webpage for options for serving children meals in a non-congregate setting in the event of a school closure due to COVID-19. The DPI submitted a Summer Food Service Program (SFSP) waiver to USDA. This request is to waive the congregate feeding requirement for SFSP meals during unanticipated school closures at school and non-school sites during a public health emergency, such as COVID-19. The waiver is for all SFSP sponsors in good standing in the state. The public notice informing the public about the proposed waiver is posted at https://dpi.wi.gov/community-nutrition/sfsp.
What supports are available for students with an IEP? The federal Department of Education (ED) issued new resources around protecting student privacy and addressing questions regarding serving students with disabilities during the COVID-19 outbreak. If a school is closed for an extended period of time (generally, more than 10 consecutive school days) and educational services are not provided to other students, then services are not required for students with disabilities during the closure. Once school resumes, local educational agencies must make every effort to implement individualized education plans, and should consider, on an individualized basis, whether and to what extent compensatory services are required due to the closure. If a school provides services through virtual learning, the school must ensure students with disabilities have equal access to the same opportunities, and that to the greatest extent possible, special education and related services are provided. Once school resumes, local educational agencies must make every effort to implement individualized education plans, and should consider, on an individualized basis, whether and to what extent compensatory services are required due to the closure.

Will school playgrounds be open? Individual districts or schools will make determinations about access to school grounds. In doing so, they should follow recommendations and guidance from the CDC, Department of Health Services, and local public health officials. However, school grounds and facilities cannot be used for instructional purposes or for extracurricular activities. This includes athletics practices or other extracurriculars that regularly occur on school grounds.
What are the implications for state testing/assessments? U.S. Department of Education (ED) indicates their goal is for all states to meet the assessment requirements under section 1111(b)(2) of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. The DPI asked each of its assessment vendors to determine whether the assessment windows can be extended. The DPI is working with these vendors to identify the feasibility of this option and will relay information to districts as soon as it becomes available. Please know the DPI is actively exploring all options, including a waiver, from ED if closures prevent statewide testing.
What are the implications for childcare/extended day programs? The order only applies to pupil instruction and extracurricular activities, not to childcare functions. For programs run in school buildings, school leaders will make determinations regarding childcare or extended day programs, and families should look to their local provider for the latest information. Early Care and Education providers participating in 3K and 4K programs offsite may continue to serve those children in their child care setting at their discretion.
Are all athletics and club sports canceled? The order requires all K-12 school buildings to be closed to extracurricular activities. If your child is involved in athletics or extra-curriculars that regularly take place in a non-school building, you should contact the provider organization regarding cancellations and follow DHS guidance regarding social distancing.
Will student graduations be affected? This closure order currently only extends through April 6; however, the current public health emergency is a rapidly evolving situation, and we will be reassessing our recommendations and requirements for schools on an ongoing basis in order to protect the health of students, educators, staff, and the public. Districts may also make independent determinations about their planned events. Please look for updates from both the DHS and local schools and districts.
What conversations should parents have with their children at home? The DPI recommends the following resource: Talking to Children about COVID-19 (Coronavirus) - A Parent Resource.
Does the order prohibit school staff from reporting to work? No. The order only applies to pupil instruction and extracurricular activities, not to other functions. School leaders will make determinations on a case-by-case basis regarding access for other purposes, such as virtual learning, cleaning, food service, payroll and clerical functions. If school facilities are used for other purposes, districts should follow guidance from public health officials to ensure that appropriate health and safety measures are in place.
Will hourly staff be paid? Gov. Evers recognizes that the closure presents challenges to students, families, educators, staff and districts, including financial impact. Local districts will need to determine how to best address the impacts of closures on hourly staff. Gov. Evers encourage districts and all employers to take whatever steps they can to minimize the economic impact to workers due to public health closures.

Grocery store inventories have been especially affected by COVID-19 as people seek to keep a two-week supply of food and necessities. Consequently, on March 14th, the governor directed the Department of Transportation (DOT) to issue COVID-19 Relief Effort Supply Permits for transporting inventory to grocery retailers affected by COVID-19. The permits allow for additional supplies to be efficiently transported over Wisconsin interstates and most highways and local roadways by increasing weight limits and waiving truck driver hours of service limitations. More information can be found on DOT's website here.

In addition to declaring a public health emergency, Executive Order #72 also declares that Wisconsin is experiencing a period of "abnormal economic disruption" because of COVID-19. This declaration authorizes DATCP to enforce Wisconsin's price gouging statute until the emergency has ended. In addition to price gouging, DATCP remains the agency charged with investigating scams and other fraudulent trade practices in Wisconsin. If you receive any constituent contacts related to suspected scams, fraud, false marketing claims, price gouging or other consumer complaints related to COVID-19, please refer those contacts to DATCP's Consumer Protection Hotline at DATCPHotline@wisconsin.gov or (800) 422-7128, or have them file an online complaint.

On March 15th, the Department of Children and Families issued new guidance for childcare, head start, and pre-K program providers. They also announced rule waivers for childcare providers and Wisconsin Shares eligibility. You can find their updates here.

As you are likely aware, 38 Wisconsinites were aboard the Grand Princess cruise ship, which was quarantined due to the COVID-19 outbreak. Gov. Evers, the Wisconsin National Guard, and the DHS, in collaboration with partners at the federal level, have been working with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and the White House to get the necessary information we need to bring these Wisconsinites home as quickly and safely as possible. Through direct outreach by the DHS and calls into the governor's office, we have also learned from passengers and family members concerning reports about conditions and that some passengers have needed medical accommodations. Our team has been working with the HHS to improve conditions and get those accommodations and medications to the passengers as soon as possible.

Initially, the HHS communicated to the governor's office that HHS would transport passengers to Wisconsin at which time the Wisconsin National Guard would transport passengers to their homes for self-isolation. Given the initial lack of details from HHS, on March 13th, Gov. Evers directed the Wisconsin National Guard to instead develop its own plans to go to all five sites to bring these Wisconsinites home. Nearly 30 Soldiers and Airmen from the Wisconsin National Guard were mobilized to state active duty after the governor declared a public health emergency Thursday, and they were standing by to transport the passengers upon landing at the National Guard's Volk Field Combat Readiness Training Center in Camp Douglas, Wisconsin.

On March 16th, Gov. Evers announced 29 Wisconsin residents who were aboard the Grand Princess cruise ship were safely transported back to Wisconsin around 4:18 am Monday morning. Two other passengers chose to remain in quarantine in Texas under the custody of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HSS), citing personal reasons. Upon return, Adjutant General Paul Knapp welcomed Wisconsinites home on behalf of Gov. Evers. Passengers received a welcome-home packet which included a letter from the governor, information about their 14 days of quarantine, and how to contact their local health department or the DHS with any questions. The governor's office has also provided direct contact information for our constituent services director to assist in providing support and assistance to help ensure passengers' transition and return to Wisconsin is as seamless and safe as possible. Upon landing at the National Guard's Volk Field Combat Readiness Training Center in Camp Douglas, Wisconsin, Guard members transported passengers home in state vans.

As of the morning of March 16, none of the returning Wisconsin citizens have tested positive for COVID-19 and all are asymptomatic, but the residents will follow Center for Disease Control and Wisconsin Department of Health Services protocols and continue to self-quarantine for the requisite 14-day period. The Soldiers and Airmen involved will self-monitor for 14 days upon the conclusion of their mission. Gov. Evers, our staff, the Wisconsin National Guard, and the DHS will continue to work with HHS to bring the remaining seven Wisconsinites home as quickly as possible and will provide updates as we get more information.

On March 16th, Gov. Evers directed the DHS to issue an order banning mass gatherings—both public and private—of 50 people or more effective at 12:01 a.m. on Tuesday, March 17th. A new order was issued on March 17th banning mass gatherings—both public and private—of 10 people or more effective at 5:00 p.m. on March 17th. Critical infrastructure and services such as grocery stores, food pantries, childcare centers, pharmacies, and hospitals, among other venues, are currently exempt from this order. "Mass gathering" is any planned or spontaneous, public or private event or convening that will bring together or is likely to bring together 10 or more people in a single room or single confined or enclosed space at the same time. Please see the order for a full list of exemptions and other details. This is not a decision the governor took lightly, but the safety of Wisconsinites, their families, and our communities has and must continue to be our top priority.

MASS GATHERINGS RESTRICTION FAQs

What is a "mass gathering"?
The order defines a "mass gathering" as any planned or spontaneous, public or private event or convening that will bring together or is likely to bring together 10 or more people in a single room or single confined or enclosed space at the same time.

Why are mass gatherings being prohibited?
DHS is intending to slow the spread of this epidemic to a level such that the healthcare system is able to maintain quality care for patients. Mass gatherings during an outbreak of a particularly infectious disease such as COVID-19 have the potential to result in large numbers of ill people that can quickly overwhelm local hospitals.

What types of spaces are subject to the order?
This order applies to all spaces where 10 or more people may gather, unless they are specifically exempt. This order may include, but is not limited to mass gatherings at: public or private schools, auditoriums, theaters, movie theaters, museums, stadiums, arenas, conference rooms, meeting halls, exhibition centers, taverns, health and fitness centers, recreation centers, licensed pools, and places of worship and religious gatherings.

Are any spaces exempt?
Yes – The order specifically exempts the following spaces:

- Transportation
  - Airports as long as restaurants within them comply with the restrictions below
  - Mass transportation
- Public, private, and charter schools only for noninstructional purposes, such as medication pickup, childcare services, providing meals, and when operating as polling places
- Childcare locations (including those that operate within a facility that is otherwise prohibited), residential care centers, and group homes.
- Hotels and motels as long as restaurants comply with the restrictions below.
- Government
  - Military and National Guard facilities

  - State and local government facilities, including government service centers, unless prohibited elsewhere in this order or another order
  - Facilities operated by the Wisconsin Legislature or Wisconsin Court System
- Relief Facilities
  - Food pantries and shelter facilities, including day centers, for individuals and families.

  - Alcohol and drug treatment centers or similar facilities
- Facilities for Voting
  - Libraries when operating as polling places
- Commercial and Non-Profit Entities
  - Office spaces. Such facilities must implement social distancing, including teleworking, as much as practicable.
  - Manufacturing, processing, distribution, and production facilities
  - Utility facilities
  - Job centers

Please see FAQs below for additional, specific exemptions and guidance. DHS guidance regarding social distancing should still be followed in these spaces.

Does my workplace have to close?
It depends – If your workplace falls into one of the exemptions listed above, your workplace can remain open subject to any applicable conditions in the order. For example, office spaces, manufacturing facilities, processing facilities, and retail establishments are exempt. Employers should seek guidance from their local public health departments if they have questions and should follow DHS guidance regarding social distancing in the workplace.

Are banks required to close?
No. Banks are not required to close. The Department of Financial Institutions has encouraged banks and credit unions to be proactive in preventing disruption of operations.

Does this order apply to having 10 or more people my home?
No. Residential facilities are exempt.

Does this order move up the school closure timeline?
A previous order mandating the closure of public and private schools at 5pm on Wednesday, March 18th is still in effect. The previous anticipated re-opening date of April 6th has been rescinded. All schools should remain closed for instructional and extracurricular activities for the duration of the public health emergency or until a subsequent order lifts this specific restriction.

Will hospitals remain open?
Hospitals, medical facilities, and pharmacies are exempt from the order and will remain open.

Are dental offices exempt?
Yes. Dental offices fall under the healthcare exemption.

Are restaurants, bars, hotels and motels required to close?
Restaurants may remain open for take-out or delivery service only. No seating may be provided, and food may not be consumed in the restaurant. Restaurants must preserve social distancing of six feet between customers during pick up. Hotels and motels may remain open, but their restaurant facilities must comply with these restrictions. Bars must close.

Will Senior Centers remain open?
Senior Centers will not remain open unless they are located in a government facility.

Will grocery stores remain open?
Grocery stores, convenience stores, and farmer's markets are exempt from the order as long as: (1) they close all seating intended for consuming food; (2) self-service operations of salad bars and buffets is ceased; and (3) customers are prohibited from self-dispensing all unpackaged food.

Will retail stores remain open?
Retail establishments where large numbers or people may be present but are not generally within arm's length of each other for more than 10 minutes may remain open. Indoor shopping malls must close. This exemption covers retail establishments such as salons, banks, and stores.

Are bakeries considered restaurants?
Bakeries and other food retail and food processing facilities are exempt.

Does it matter if the gathering is held outdoors?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The order applies to gatherings of 10 or more people that are held in a single room or single confined or enclosed space at the same time.
Should mass gatherings smaller than 10 be canceled? Voluntary cancelation, closure, or limitations on size of gathering beyond the requirements of the order are permitted. All gatherings that bring together or are likely to bring together less than 10 people in a single room or confined or enclosed space at the same time must: • Preserve social distancing of 6 feet between people, and • Follow all other public health recommendations issued by the Wisconsin Department of Health Service and Center for Disease Control.
Will hourly staff at affected businesses be paid? Governor Evers recognizes that the closure presents challenges to businesses across Wisconsin, including financial impact. Individual businesses will need to determine how to best address the impacts of closures on hourly staff. Governor Evers encourages business to take whatever steps they can to minimize the economic impact to workers due to public health closures, and he will work with legislative leaders to provide assistance to Wisconsinites impacted by workplace closures.
Can local government bodies of 10 or more people meet? The order specifically exempts local government facilities, so that local governments can continue to function. They should follow DHS guidance regarding social distancing, cleaning, and other measures to protect the health and safety of those in attendance. The Wisconsin Department of Justice has provided additional guidance on this topic.
How long will this order remain in effect? The order will remain in effect for the duration of the public health emergency and will be re-evaluated as updated information becomes available.
How will the order be enforced? Violation or obstruction of this order is punishable by imprisonment, fines, or both. Wis. Stat. § 252.25.

Gov. Evers, our staff, and our administration are continuing to work on U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Disaster Assistance. This is a top priority for the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) and Wisconsin Emergency Management and they are actively working to collect all the needed information from regional economic development directors across the state in order to make the SBA declaration request.

On March 17th, the DHS and Wisconsin State Laboratory of Hygiene to move to tiered COVID-19 testing to manage capacity. Despite The Wisconsin State Laboratory of Hygiene (WSLH) significantly increasing their capacity for COVID-19 testing, the number of testing specimens being received far exceeds their daily capacity. In order to conserve supplies for testing, WSLH and DHS are now prioritizing two tiers of cases for testing:

Tier One (Individuals who):

- are critically ill and receiving ICU level care with unexplained viral pneumonia or respiratory failure
- are hospitalized (non-ICU) with fever or signs and symptoms of lower respiratory tract illness (cough, shortness of breath) and either known exposure to a laboratory-confirmed COVID-19 patient or travel to an area with sustained community transmission

Tier Two (Individuals who):

- are hospitalized (non-ICU) with unexplained fever and signs/symptoms of lower respiratory tract illness
- are health care workers with unexplained fever and signs/symptoms of a lower-respiratory illness, regardless of hospitalization

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Test requests that do not meet these criteria will be sent to other labs in the state and country for testing, resulting in longer wait times. Patients without symptoms and patients with mild upper respiratory symptoms who are not health care workers should not be tested in order to ensure that there is capacity to test ill people.

The DHS will continue to hold regular informational briefings for members of the media as has been the case for the past several weeks to help ensure the most accurate and up-to-date information is consistently reported out to the public.

In addition to these efforts, effective on March 13th, the Wisconsin State Capitol suspended all Capitol tours until further notice. As of March 16th, signage has been posted at all entrances of the Capitol advising against entering if persons are exhibiting symptoms or meet other criteria described. Additionally, on March 14th, the DOA sent out correspondence to state agency employees announcing telecommuting as an option for employees whose job duties are conducive to working from home. Supervisors will approve telecommuting on case-by-case bases. State agencies are otherwise continuing normal operations at this time. The governor's office, the DOA, and the DHS continue to provide guidance for state employees and protecting the health and wellbeing of individuals who may be at a higher risk. Agencies are also continuing to review their continuity of operations plans to ensure that the business of the people of Wisconsin can continue.

NEXT STEPS

Gov. Evers, the DHS, and the governor's administration are continuing to receive consistent updates on the status of COVID-19. The governor's office will continue sharing information and provide updates as quickly as new actions or information become available. Please continue reaching out to the governor's legislative team and the DHS legislative team with any questions.

Additionally, we ask for your assistance in helping us disseminate accurate, up-to-date information so our constituents and members of the public can make informed decisions and keep themselves, family members, and neighbors safe. Please also continue to share any and all public health or COVID-19 related content from the governor's and DHS' Facebook and Twitter accounts to ensure your constituents and members of the public continue to receive accurate and current information about the status of COVID-19 in Wisconsin.

Please continue to share information with members of the public on how to prevent illness or avoid exposure to this virus. In the case of COVID-19, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) currently advises that common symptoms include flu-like symptoms (fever (100° F or higher), cough or sore throat, headache or body aches, and in some cases diarrhea and vomiting) or symptoms of respiratory illness (fever (100° F or higher), cough, and shortness of breath).

The best way to prevent illness is to avoid being exposed to this virus. In order to slow or stop the spread of these illnesses, it is critical to follow the below instructions, which is guidance from the CDC as of 3/11/2020. However, as a reminder, CDC always recommends everyday preventive actions to help prevent the spread of respiratory diseases, including:

- Avoid close contact with people who are sick.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth.
- Stay home when you are sick.
- Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces using a regular household cleaning spray or wipe.
- Follow CDC's recommendations for using a facemask.
    - CDC does not recommend that people who are well wear a facemask to protect themselves from respiratory diseases, including COVID-19.
    - Facemasks should be used by people who show symptoms of COVID-19 to help prevent the spread of the disease to others. The use of facemasks is also crucial for health workers and people who are taking care of patients with confirmed or suspected COVID-19 (at home or in a health care setting).
- Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds, especially after going to the bathroom; before eating; and after blowing your nose, coughing, or sneezing.
    - If soap and water are not readily available, use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer with at least 60% alcohol. Always wash hands with soap and water if hands are visibly dirty.
    - For information about handwashing, see CDC's Handwashing website.
    - For information specific to healthcare providers, see CDC's Hand Hygiene in Healthcare Settings.

Re: COVID-19 Legislation Requested Policy Considerations
Date: April 3, 2020

This memorandum includes health-related measures which we'd like to raise with you, for potential consideration to include (or not include) in the Legislature's "COVID-19" response bill.

Healthcare Workforce
(items requested on behalf of the Wisconsin Academy of Physician Assistants)

1) Suspend the Physician: PA Ratios

- Under MED 8.10(1) of the administrative code, 1 physician may supervise no more than 4 PAs.
- Governor Evers, in Emergency Order 16, raised the ratio from 1:4 to 1:8. Other states, for example, have no such ratios even during "normal" times.
- AB 575, which passed the Assembly on a voice vote in February (Senate concurrence pending) would repeal the existing physician:PA work ratios by repealing MED 8 in its entirety.
- The effective date of AB 575 is first day of the thirteenth month beginning after publication. In short, even if the Senate took up AB 575 and the Governor signed it tomorrow, it would still be a year for MED 8 to be repealed.
- The Wisconsin Academy of Physician Assistants asked the Department of Health Services (DHS) to suspend MED 8.10 in its entirely, allowing hospitals and other systems more flexibility to utilize and deploy its PAs as the entity sees fit. The hospital or the system – as the employer – would still have the authority to determine ratios (if it wants). And the underlying statutes would still require PAs be supervised by physicians.
- The key is DHS could have given hospitals and systems more flexibility than allowed under the rules, and the employer would have greater latitude regarding how to use its PAs (as it deems appropriate to ensure access to care and patient safety and quality of care is maintained).
- If a hospital, e.g., gets overwhelmed, maintaining even a looser 1:8 ratio could be a challenge, and certainly undermines flexibility. Ultimately, if this rule is suspended, the hospital makes the determination if a ratio is needed and, if so, what it is.

Request: For the duration of the COVID-19 public health emergency, suspend MED 8.10(1) in the COVID-19 legislation. This is already part of AB 575, no need to wait.

2) Suspend the 15-Minute Rule

- AB 575 would repeal the 15-minute rule by repealing MED 8 in its entirety. Again, this doesn't take effect until the first day of the thirteenth month beginning after publication.
- Specifically, under MED 8.10(2) of the administrative code, the supervising physician must be available within 15 minutes for consultation by a PA. The consultation may be either in person or by telecommunications or other means.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- This, too, WAPA asked DHS to suspend, which did not occur.
- The bottom line is if healthcare systems get overwhelmed and/or physicians are getting sick, maintaining compliance with a 15-minute communication rule could be a challenge.

Request: For the duration of the COVID-19 public health emergency, suspend MED 8.10(2) in the COVID-19 legislation. Again, no need to wait for AB 575.

3) Remove the Prohibition of PA Self-Employment

- AB 575 would allow PAs to be self-employed (but would not allow independent practice). Same delayed effective date: first day of the thirteenth month beginning after publication.
- Other states are loosening (or have already loosened) such restrictions by allowing PAs to be self-employed. Again, the point here is flexibility for the hospitals and the healthcare systems. If Wisconsin allowed PAs to be self-employed, PAs could be utilized as independent contractors (if desired by hospitals and systems) (and they would still be supervised by physicians).
- Governor Evers or DHS Secretary-designee Palm could not do this by order because the statutes ban self-employment, as do the rules.

Request: For the duration of the COVID-19 public health emergency, suspend MED 8.09 and amend s. 448.21 of the statutes in the COVID-19 legislation to allow PAs to be self-employed.

Overall, PAs would still be supervised by physicians under these suggestions. AB 575 would change that, but that seemed a bit much to push right now and we can wait for the Senate to concur in AB 575. If these three suggestions are included in the COVID-19 bill, hospitals and healthcare systems would have a lot more flexibility in how they use their PAs.

Medical Assistance Program
(items requested on behalf of the Alliance of Health Insurers)

1) Temporary changes to Medicaid for State to qualify for enhanced FMAP (LRB 5920/P2 Bill Sections: 75(10))

- Fiscal implementations, due to increased utilization and enrollment from COVID-19, are currently unknown.
- Under, the Families First Coronavirus Relief (FFCRA) provides for a 6.2% increase in Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (FMAP) for states during the calendar year in which the public health emergency declared remains in place.
- Enhanced FMAP will allow the state to maintain an estimated $150 million per quarter in additional GPR savings.
- The enhanced FMAP will be needed to ensure Medicaid is adequately funded.

Request: Allow DHS to suspend current copayment/premium requirements/the substance abuse treatment needs question for childless adults under MA in order to receive the enhanced FMAP.

2) Preserve actuarially-sound Medicaid managed care rates

- The Department of Health Services submitted a 1135 waiver request to Joint Finance Committee, however statutory authority is needed for DHS to submit the waiver to federal government.
- DHS' 1135 Waiver request includes a broad provision to waive the requirement for actuarially-sound Medicaid managed care rates.
- DHS explained their intent for the inclusion of this item was to ensure smaller, more vulnerable behavioral health providers be paid even if they cannot perform services due to quarantine, presumably to help ensure behavioral health providers financially weather the COVID-19 crisis.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Waiving the broad requirement for actuarially-sound Medicaid managed care rates for this narrow reason is unnecessary and jeopardizes a core value of managed care.
- If desired, DHS can provide financial support to smaller, more vulnerable behavioral health providers outside of the managed care rate setting process.

Request: Direct DHS to exclude this provision from the 1135 Waiver prior to submission to the federal CMS. This direction can take the form of a letter request to revise the 1135 Waiver or if necessary, statutory language in COVID-19 legislation. Allow DHS to provide financial assistance to vulnerable providers outside of the managed care rate-setting process.

Commercial Insurance
(items requested on behalf of the Alliance of Health Insurers)

1) Cost Sharing for COVID-19 Testing and Treatment (LRB 5920/P2 Bill Sections: 61 & 66)
- LRB 5920/P2 prohibits cost-sharing for testing for and treatment of (including prescription drugs) COVID-19.
- Health insurance providers are already moving quickly to ensure costs are not a barrier to individuals receiving COVID-19 testing and treatment.
- In addition, these provisions are duplicative of existing requirements in federal law.

Request: No inclusion of duplicative cost-sharing provisions.

2) Prohibit Coverage Discrimination Based on COVID-19 (LRB 5920/P2 Bill Sections: 29, 30, 32, 44, 45, 60, 62, 63 & 64)
- LRB 5920/P2 Creates non-discrimination provisions related to COVID-19 diagnosis, i.e., for enrollment, renewal, basis for cancellation, or basis for rates.
- State and federal law currently provide consumers with robust non-discrimination protections for the issuance, maintenance, and rating of health insurance coverage.
- Duplicative of current law and unnecessary.

Request: No inclusion of duplicative discrimination coverage prohibitions.

3) Prohibit Policy Cancellation During Public Health Emergency for Premium Nonpayment (LRB 5920/P2 Bill Section: 75 (3))
- LRB 5920/P2 prohibits cancellation of coverage for nonpayment of premiums until 90 days after premium was due (limited to the COVID-19 public health emergency).
- Overly broad and conflicts with federal guidance.

Request: No inclusion of prohibitions of policy cancellations for premium nonpayment.

4) Telehealth Coverage Parity (LRB 5920/P2 Bill Section: 29, 30, 32, 44, 45, 58 & 65)
- LRB 5920/P2 creates a telehealth coverage parity mandate (not limited to the COVID-19 public health emergency or any other public health emergency).
- Health insurance providers are already taking significant efforts to expand access to telehealth.
- Provisions are unnecessary.

Request: No inclusion of telehealth coverage parity mandate.

5) Prescription Drug Limits (LRB 5920/P2 Bill Sections: 59 & 67)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Under LRB 5920/P2, during a public health emergency, if a pharmacist cannot contact the prescriber, the pharmacist may – one time – extend a prescription without approval by the prescriber. A pharmacist may not extend a prescription if the prescriber has indicated no extensions are permitted. A prescription for a controlled substance may not be extended.
- Potentially harmful to Wisconsin patients and could lead to stockpiling and, ultimately, drug shortages. This result would harm Wisconsin patients.

Request: No inclusion of prescription refill provisions.

6) Out-of-Network Charges and Payments During a Public Health Emergency (LRB 5920/P2 Bill Section: 57)

- LRB 5920/P2 creates a "surprise billing" provision such that during a public health emergency, an enrollee cannot be charged more for seeing an out-of-network provider (if an in-network provider is not available) for services related to why the emergency was declared; the plan would be required to reimburse the out-of-network provider 250 percent of the Medicare rate and the out-of-network provider may not balance bill the enrollee (applies to any public health emergency).
- Provision needs to ensure patients are held financially harmless if they must be seen by an out-of-network provider for COVID-19 diagnosis and/or treatment.

Request: Because costs vary by geographic region and types of providers, we ask that you work closely with AHI, AHIP, and WAHP regarding the payment benchmark provision and inclusion of an explicit requirement that the rate be accepted as payment in-full, with no balance bills sent to the patient and that this be strictly limited to the COVID19 public health crisis.

Hi Jalen,

I hope you are doing well and staying safe! I wanted to reach out and share a resource guide our office has put together directing our constituents to the resources we are being asked for most often during this time. We have partnered with our local essential businesses to put this guide up at places around town people still visit, like our grocery stores and pharmacies. Our goal is make sure as many people have this information as possible. If the Tomahawk Leader has space to print any or all of the attached guide, we would appreciate you helping us share these resources.

Please feel free to review, and let me know if this is something you guys would be interested in doing. We know your paper can reach constituents who maybe don't have broadband and access to the internet, and we want to make sure they know where to go if they need help during this uncertain time.

Thanks again Jalen!

Hi Lisa,

I hope you are doing well and staying safe! I wanted to reach out and share a resource guide our office has put together directing our constituents to the resources we are being asked for most often during this time. We have partnered with our local essential businesses to put this guide up at places around town people still visit, like our grocery stores and pharmacies. Our goal is make sure as many people have this information as possible. If the Antigo Daily Journal has space to print any or all of the attached guide, we would appreciate you helping us share these resources.

Please feel free to review, and let me know if this is something your paper would be interested in doing. We know your paper can reach constituents who maybe don't have broadband and access to the internet, and we want to make sure they know where to go if they need help during this uncertain time.

Thanks again Lisa!

Re: Governor Evers Tourism Marketing proposals

We are all experiencing the tremendous impact of COVID-19 on our health and our economy. Wisconsin's tourism industry has been decimated with the closing of tourism businesses and cancellations of lodging reservations, conventions, sports tournaments and events. The state's destination marketing organizations (convention & visitors bureaus and chambers of commerce), funded largely by room tax, are facing 30-70 percent budget cuts, laying off staff and slashing marketing budgets for the remainder of their year.

Clearly, there will be a sharp decline in available marketing dollars when the tourism industry, our municipalities, and the State of Wisconsin will need it most, when the outbreak ceases. Very little of the Federal and State recovery programs presented thus far will help Destination Marketing Organizations as most are structured as 501(c)(6) organizations and do not qualify for many of the SBA and WEDC loan and grant programs. Therefore, Governor Evers proposal to infuse $5 million in destination marketing grants and cooperative marketing programs is vital and we urge your support. We request the legislature include this critical programmatic funding in the COVID-19 bill package.

We are hopeful that COVID-19 will subside during the summer, Wisconsin's peak travel and tourism season, and restrictions on group gatherings and human movement may be lifted. According to a Longwoods International survey of 1000 U.S. adults this week, 72% are still planning travel within six months and more are considering drive-to versus a fly-to destinations. This is hopeful news for Wisconsin's tourism industry and we need to be prepared.

The Governor's proposed programs will provide much needed marketing grants and cooperative marketing programs to Wisconsin tourism's industry so that they can rebound from the devasting losses as soon as possible. Without these funds, there will not be efficient destination marketing staff and dollars available to invite our visitors when the time is right.

Wisconsin's tourism industry achieves a return on investment of 8 to 1: $8 in tax revenue per $1 promotional spend. In 2018, the tourism economy generated $1.6 billion in state and local revenue and generated 199,000 jobs. By funding these marketing programs, you can help us get this vital Wisconsin industry back on its feet, and in turn help all of Wisconsin.

Re: Governor Evers Tourism Industry Relief Proposals

We are all experiencing the tremendous impact of COVID-19 on our health and our economy. Wisconsin's tourism industry has been decimated with the closing of tourism businesses and cancellations of conventions and events.

Governor Evers recently released his second package of comprehensive Legislative proposals providing COVID-19 relief and support. Within the package we would like to highlight seven of the proposals in which TFW has unified support:

1.) Create and fund a Regional Destination Marketing Organization Grant Program.
2.) Create and fund Co-Op Marketing Program Grants.
3.) Waive certain parameters related to the Work-Share Program due to a PHE, specifically eliminating the current 20-employee minimum.
4.) Provide increased WEDC funds for grants to support small businesses and workers.
5.) Provide flexibility for municipalities to implement payment delays and multiple installments of three or more for property taxes.
6.) Repeal the one-week waiting period for unemployment insurance (included in the Governor's first proposal).
7.) Provide protections for businesses from UI rate increases due to employee layoffs caused by the public health emergency.

Other items not included in the Governor's proposal that we support are:

1.) Ensure that reimbursements owed by the state for overpayments of estimated taxes are issued immediately.
2.) Provide a 90-day extension for all state tax payments.

The Tourism industry in Wisconsin has come to almost a complete halt. The cash flow stoppage has forced the vast majority of those involved in the tourism industry to lay off a significant portion of our employees, stopping their ability to meet basic costs of doing business.

The state's destination marketing organizations, funded largely by room tax, are facing 30-70 percent budget cuts, laying off staff and slashing marketing budgets for the remainder of their year. Clearly, there will be a sharp decline in available marketing dollars when the tourism industry, our municipalities, and the State of Wisconsin will need it most, when the outbreak ceases.

Subject: DWD Update on Unemployment Insurance Developments

Thank you for all of your service to your constituents. I greatly appreciate your willingness to navigate this unprecedented challenge together to address the needs of the people of our state.

Most of you are already familiar with the Department of Workforce Development's COVID-19 website (available here), which provides answers to frequently asked questions about our programs. While I hope you find this information helpful, I wanted to also provide you with this more detailed update on specific issues related to Unemployment Insurance (UI) to help you respond to your constituents with the most up-to-date information and guidance.

Initial Claims

As you are well aware, Wisconsin has experienced unprecedented numbers of UI claims filed in recent weeks. From Sunday, March 15, when we began to see the effects of Governor Evers' declared public health emergency, to yesterday, March 30, 222,271 initial claims for benefits were filed. During the same period last year, we had 12,982. For context, the 115,679 new applications filed last week was more than twice the amount than any week during the Great Recession.

For the latest daily claim filing numbers, you may visit our newly created webpage here.

Applying online

Applying online remains the most efficient method of application. Over 99% of the people who have applied during that time frame have been able to successfully start, complete, and file their claim for unemployment benefits. I ask that you please urge your constituents to first attempt to file online if at all possible here so that the phone lines are open for people who have been specifically instructed to call DWD or for those people who do not have access to a computer or internet.

Call Volume

Last week, the UI Division received more than 1.5 million calls, an increase of 6,208% over last year's busiest weekly call volume. Last Thursday alone, UI received 400,000 calls between 6 and 10 a.m., at times receiving 160 calls per second. The unprecedented number of calls overloaded the system, as it was not built to handle this type of call volume. We have since increased their phone capacity to allow 690 simultaneous calls.

Even with that technological improvement and the increased call center staffing and modified call-in requirements I describe below, it is likely that callers will still experience long wait times. I respectfully ask for your and their continued patience and understanding as we try to manage this historic call volume.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

System Efficiencies

We know that one of the greatest frustrations you are hearing from your constituents has been when their online application requires them to call in to verify information and they are not able to get through. I am happy to share that, as of last Friday, applicants will be notified that our staff will call them back within three business days to assist them in completing the claim. We have assigned eight claims specialists the job of making these calls.

Other steps we have taken to reduce the need for claimants to call include the following:

- * Cleared approximately 430,000 usernames that were created between 2012-2016, reducing confusion for claimants who forgot they had usernames from years ago and reducing calls to the IT Solutions Center.
- * Updated our system so that claimants can change their last name using the online Initial Claim or the stand-alone application in our claimant portal, eliminating the need to call a claims specialist to do this for them.
- * Updated videos on "How to Apply for Unemployment," "How to File Weekly Claims," and "How to Create a Username and Password" to reflect the current processes, adding information that has changed due to COVID-19.
- * Modified our policies and programming to allow claimants to back-date initial claims on the internet two weeks without creating an issue. Previously, they were required to do this within the first week.
- * Modified our policies and programming to allow claimants up to 28 days to complete an initial application. Previously, if a claimant started an initial application and was directed to contact us or and got stuck and needed assistance, they had only 14 days to do so before the system would erase their information.
- * Created and updated online FAQs for claimants and employers about the eligibility and application process.
- * Developed pop-up messages on the website that feature the most pertinent information people need to know.

Staffing Levels

Even with these system improvements, the historic number of first-time filers are overwhelming our Help Center. Our current staff are working overtime and we are working to bring on additional staff to address the load. Prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, our UI call center consisted of 57 employees. The UI Division has since reassigned another 35 its employees to the call center and has reached out to former employees to see if any are interested in helping. Yesterday, we trained another 40 staff from the Division of Employment and Training to answer phones, help with general inquiries, and take initial and weekly claims from people unable to use the internet. We are in the process of identifying an additional 80 staff from DWD and other state agencies to answer calls, respond to claimant emails, and process paperwork and system rejects. We also put out a recruitment to hire 36 claim specialists and have already received over 500 applications. We are grateful for the response, but understand that the onboarding will take approximately six weeks.

While we are proud of our efforts so far to grow capacity and build efficiencies, we welcome your feedback and ideas for continued improvement.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Federal Legislation and the Waiting Week

As you also know, Congress has passed three corona virus-related pieces of legislation in the last month. The latter two contain significant provisions related to paid leave and UI, including the opportunity for claimants to receive an additional $600 per week and to extend benefits to independent contractors and others who are self-employed. Last Saturday, I signed an agreement with the U.S. Department of Labor so that Wisconsin residents can take advantage of these benefits.

As is typically the case after passage of large-scale federal legislation, federal agencies are developing guidance on how states can or must implement the new federal law. Once received, we will program our systems to accommodate the changes. We will continue to update our FAQs on how your constituents can take advantage of these new programs as guidance becomes available. Again, I urge you to remind your constituents that many of their questions can be answered by consulting these FAQs.

One of the most common questions we have received from your offices has been about Wisconsin's "Waiting Week." Currently, Wisconsin state law requires that those who are found eligible for unemployment insurance must wait one week after becoming unemployed through no fault of their own before they can start claiming benefits. The CARES Act provides states full federal funding for the first week of benefits, but only for those states that do not impose this waiting period. I urge you to please vote to repeal Wisconsin's waiting period. Doing so will allow your constituents impacted by the pandemic access to this much-needed income during their first week of unemployment, with no impact to Wisconsin's UI trust fund.

Again, thank you for your time, collaboration, and swift action to repeal Wisconsin's one-week waiting period. Please feel free to contact me or DWD's Legislative Liaison John Keckhaver if you would like to discuss any of these topics further.

Sincerely,

Caleb Frostman
Secretary

Subject: Education Response Package Questions

Hey Heather,

Hope you're doing well!
Mary just met (via Zoom) with her superintendents in CESA 9 and they brought up several points she wanted to me reach out to you on.

The superintendents are asking for waivers for:

- Wisconsin Educator Effectiveness System
- Wisconsin Civics Graduation Exam
- School Start Date

I notice on the DPI website (https://dpi.wi.gov/cal/innovation/waivers), there are COVID-19 waiver options for the educator effectiveness and the civics graduation exam, but according to some of our superintendents, the DPI deputy superintendent told them legislative approval would be needed for some, if not all of these waivers. Mary wanted to bring this to your attention and see if this is something currently being discussed for the package?

Additionally, they are asking for flexibility in their summer school start times and programs. This is something I was going to reach out to Leg Council on, but wanted to run past you in case your team already has a plan to address this.

Please let me know if there's anything Liz and I can do to assist during this time.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Speaker Robin Vos

FROM: Joseph T. Kreye, legal services manager

DATE: March 20, 2020

SUBJECT: Election questions

Questions

This memorandum addresses your questions regarding the current declared emergency and how it affects the spring election. Specifically, you asked whether the governor, the Wisconsin Elections Commission, or local officials could change the way the election is administered. In short, neither WEC nor any local official has authority to modify the applicable statutory requirements related to any process concerning election administration. In addition, I do not believe that the governor's powers under a declared state of emergency allow the governor to change the statutorily required process for conducting an election.

Analysis

Current law allows an eligible voter to register prior to an election online, in person, or by mail. The deadlines are as follows: for online registration, 11.59 p.m. on the third Wednesday preceding the election; for in-person registration, 5 p.m. on the third Wednesday preceding the election; and for registrations by mail, the registration must be received or postmarked no later than 5 p.m. on the third Wednesday preceding the election.[1] No name may be added to the registration list after the close of registration.[2] This gives the municipal clerk sufficient time to prepare poll books.

In addition to voting at the polling place on Election Day, current law allows an eligible voter to vote by absentee ballot. A request to vote absentee may be made by mail, online, or in person.[3] There are deadlines that apply to receiving absentee ballots as well. An application for an absentee

[1] Wis. Stat. § 6.28 (1) (a).
[2] Wis. Stat. § 6.29 (1). Wis. Stat. § 6.29 (2) (a) does allow an eligible voter to register at the close of business at the clerk's office on the Friday before the election if the clerk has delegated responsibility for maintaining the electronic list to an agent.
[3] Wis. Stat. § 6.86 (1) (a) 1. The statute also allows a person to request to receive absentee ballots for all elections automatically or to receive an absentee ballot by an agent or a special voting deputy dispatched to a residential care facility.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ballot by mail must be received no later than 5 p.m. on the fifth day preceding the election and the last day for receiving an absentee ballot in person is the Sunday before the election.[4]

Finally, the dates on which regular elections are held are specified by statute. Under Wis. Stat. § 5.02 (21), the spring election is always the first Tuesday in April.

Current law does not give WEC or local government officials authority to modify these procedures. The WEC is currently in the process of helping the local clerks find appropriate, alternate locations for voting and recruit election officials, duties clearly within the WEC's statutory authority. WEC has published the following guidance to the clerks and board of election commissioners regarding the current emergency situation and the upcoming spring election:

WEC guidance

The guidance document is a good summary of what the WEC and the local election officials may to do to prepare for the election under the current circumstances.

With regard to what the governor can do to change the administration of the upcoming election, the governor has issued an executive order declaring a public health emergency under Wis. Stat. § 323.10. Current law enumerates several ongoing duties and powers that the governor may exercise during a state of emergency. The governor may, for example, issue "such orders as he or she deems necessary for the security of persons and property."[5] The governor may also suspend "the provisions of any administrative rule if the strict compliance with that rule would prevent, hinder, or delay necessary actions to respond to the disaster."[6]

Conclusion

Importantly, current law does not give the governor power to suspend statutes during a declared emergency. The legislature granted the governor the power to suspend administrative rules during an emergency. Had the legislature intended to give the governor the power to suspend provisions of the statutes—a significant delegation of the legislature's lawmaking power to the governor—it would have done so in no uncertain terms. This is the legislature's core power and its delegation cannot simply be inferred. For this reason, I do not believe that the authority of the governor to issue orders "necessary for the security of persons and property" is broad enough to allow the governor to suspend statutes and, therefore, the governor may not alter the administration of an election, the administration of which is controlled by statute.[7]

If you have any questions or require additional information, please feel free to call or e-mail me.

[4] Wis. Stat. § 6.86 (1) (b).
[5] Wis. Stat. § 323.12 (4) (b).
[6] Wis. Stat. § 323.12 (4) (d).
[7] WEC has promulgated some rules related to voter registration under Wis. Admin. Code chs. EL 3 and 6, but those rules hew closely to the statutory requirements and generally exist to fill in the details.

Subject: Elections Absentee Ballot Question
Attachments: EMO12-SaferAtHome.pdf

Good afternoon Davina,

Thank you for your conversation today. I called the Elections Commission and I did get clarification on our absentee ballot question. Here is what I found out:

1. You can request an absentee ballot and still vote on election day as long as you do not send your absentee ballot in or turn it into the Clerk at any time.
2. I asked the Commission how they prevent double voting in these scenarios. Here is what they told me:
    a. The municipal clerk has a list of every person that was sent an absentee ballot. If one was sent to you, it will say so in the voting book (the book you sign when voting in person). If a voter has already returned their absentee ballot, it will also say that in the voting book and the poll worker will not allow that person to vote again.
    b. If the absentee voter turns in their ballot on voting day, then the book would not say whether they have returned the ballot. In that case, the poll worker would ask the voter if they have returned their ballot, to which they will say yes or no. If they say no, the poll worker will let them vote.
    c. If a person does double vote, the absentee ballot is still counted, so the voting book will then show that the person turned in a ballot and voted in person. In those cases, that person is then referred to the District Attorney for voter fraud.

I hope this helps! I'm also attaching a copy of the Governor's Stay At Home Order.

Thank you again for your call,

Hey Rosemary,

Thank you so much for your call today and for letting me share some extra information. Here is the document I was referencing on the phone, and I hope to have Rep. Felzkowski give you a call sometime today.

Thank you again for reaching out and sharing your thoughts! I hope you know that Mary really does care about how this is affecting you, and hopefully there is something we'll be able to do something to help. I did just hear on the Governor's press conference that the elections commission is working as quickly as possible to provide all clerks with needed materials like hand sanitizer. Hopefully we will know more about that in the next day or so.

Subject: elections response

Carol,

Thank you for reaching out to me. I totally understand where you are coming from, especially because in our area, there is a much larger elderly population, and our polling places already have fewer people to run the polls. You are right that Governor Evers refuses to move that date, has said so repeatedly, and has encouraged everyone to vote absentee when at all possible, and there's really nothing I can do to force his hand. The fact of the matter is that the law/his emergency powers do not actually allow for him to change or postpone that date on his own. This, at least, does give me some comfort, because it means that one politician cannot take away our constitutional rights to vote just on a whim. These are certainly extraordinary circumstances, for sure. One big concern with moving this election so close to the date is that there are already 100,000 absentee ballots out there that have been returned to the clerks to be counted. On those ballots are votes for local positions all over the state. If Governor Evers were to move the election date, many, many local positions would remain vacant during that time, sometimes crippling a local government's ability to make moves to respond to the public health emergency we are currently in. It's also difficult to say when that date should be postponed to because we do not yet know how long the public health emergency will be in place.

The federal government is close to passing a federal stimulus package that will have some funds available to aid local governments. This will allow more flexibility for clerks to be able to do what they need to to make sure this election is as safe as possible for all, including for poll workers. It is the Election Commission's job to work with all municipal clerks to ensure that this happens, and that all clerks have the resources they need to make that possible. In reference to the change you suggested, I have heard that some locations are looking at purchasing pens so that every voter can use their own pen to sign the book and vote with it, and then take it with them. Your suggestion is interesting, and would be something I'd bring up with your municipal clerk to see if they've talked to the elections commission about flexibility there. It may be that state law prohibits anyone but the voter from signing.

Coronavirus and the fall out has created some really impossible situations, and this is one of them. If you are uncomfortable going to the polls to work or to vote, I think you have every right to stay home, and to vote absentee. I know some clerks (and the elections commission) are working on recruiting college students and non-essential employees out of work to work the polls in place of those who don't feel comfortable. If you're wanting to avoid getting sick, I'd talk to your municipal clerk about it and see what parameters they are putting into place to make the day as safe as possible.

As we've seen over the last two weeks, this situation can change drastically from day to day, so I will continue to keep you in the loop if anything changes. Thank you again for your time and sharing your thoughts with me,

Mary

WHEREAS, on April 5, 2020, Vice Admiral Jerome Adams, the United States Surgeon General, stated that the impact COVID-19 will have on the United States this week is "our Pearl Harbor moment, our 9/11 moment, and it's not going to be localized, it's going to be happening all over the country and I want America to understand that."

WHEREAS, as of April 5, 2020, 2,267 Wisconsinites have tested positive for COVID-19, 624 Wisconsinites have been hospitalized due to COVID-19, and 68 Wisconsinites have passed away as a result of COVID-19, 241,703 individuals in the United States have tested positive for COVID-19, and 5,854 have passed away as a result of COVID-19, and, worldwide, more than 1,100,000 people have tested positive for COVID-19, and more than 62,000 people have passed away as a result of COVID-19;

WHEREAS, Section 5.02(21) of the Wisconsin Statutes mandates that the spring election be held on the first Tuesday in April, which this year is April 7, 2020;

WHEREAS, the Spring 2020 election includes a broad variety of important matters, including: presidential preference primaries for both major national political parties; a State-wide referendum on a proposed amendment to the Wisconsin Constitution; 132 county, school district, and local referenda; an election for a seat as a justice of the Wisconsin Supreme Court; elections for 3 seats as judges of the Wisconsin Court of Appeals; elections for 34 seats as judges of county circuit courts; elections for 102 seats as judges of municipal courts; elections for 1,596 county supervisors and officers; elections for 763 alders, mayors, and other city offices; elections for 464 village board trustees, board members, and other offices; elections for 291 town supervisors, clerks, and other offices; elections for 565 seats on the boards of common, union, and unified school districts; and elections for 12 seats as supervisors on the boards of sanitary districts;

WHEREAS,
every voter who visits the polls, but also for every Wisconsinite who might come voters face significant risks of exposure to someone infected with COVID-19 by engaging in the process of in-person voting;

WHEREAS, poll workers face even greater risks of exposure to COVID-19, because serving as poll workers will require them to come into close proximity with dozens, if not hundreds, of voters as they facilitate voters casting in-person ballots;

WHEREAS, in-person voting on April 7 creates a danger of COVID-19 exposure not only for those who serve as poll workers and in contact with one of those people in the weeks that follow;

WHEREAS, the extensive work of conducting an election in Wisconsin typically requires assistance from approximately 30,000 poll workers;

WHEREAS, due to staffing challenges created by the COVID-19 public health emergency, municipalities across the state project significant shortfalls of thousands of poll workers necessary to administer the Spring 2020 election;

WHEREAS, shortfalls in the number of poll workers are requiring municipalities around the state to consolidate polling places, which will necessarily mean larger crowds and greater exposure for those poll workers administering each polling place, as well as for those Wisconsinites who visit those polling places to cast in-person ballots;

WHEREAS, among these consolidations are the City of Waukesha, which has consolidated its polling locations from 15 to one location, the City of Milwaukee, which has consolidated its polling locations from 182 to five locations, which is a loss of over 97% of its polling locations, and the City of Green Bay, which has consolidated its polling locations from 31 to 2 locations;

WHEREAS, even with the aforementioned consolidations of polling locations, as of April 2, 2020, the Wisconsin Elections Commission estimates that municipalities still need an additional 5,250 poll workers;

WHEREAS, as Wisconsinites respond to the current public health emergency by conforming their conduct to Emergency Order #12 and social distancing guidance, municipal clerks are already reporting an unprecedented increase in requests for mail-in absentee ballots;

WHEREAS, on April 2, 2020, the Honorable William M. Conley, District Judge for the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Wisconsin, ordered absentee ballots in the Spring 2020 election on April 7 may be received until 4:00 p.m. on April 13, 2020, absentee ballot requests may be made until 5:00 p.m. on April 3, 2020, and absentee voters may be relieved of the witness signature if they provide affirmation that they are unable to safely obtain such a signature;

WHEREAS, the intervening parties in the aforementioned case immediately appealed the case to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit and, most recently, the Supreme Court of the United States, potentially jeopardizing the commonsense relief ordered by Judge Conley and creating further uncertainty;

WHEREAS, the State of Michigan held a statewide election on March 10, 2020, and it is suspected that in-person voting led to the spread of COVID-19 in Michigan at a faster rate than the neighboring State of Ohio, which postponed its election;

WHEREAS, in light of the current public health emergency, it is incumbent upon the State of Wisconsin to take all reasonable steps to protect the constitutional right to vote;

WHEREAS, on April 3, 2020, I called a special session of the Wisconsin Legislature to act upon legislation to allow all Wisconsinites the opportunity to vote safely by mail;

Notwithstanding the delayed beginning of the term for such offices, the terms of all such offices shall expire as if the Spring 2020 election occurred as initially scheduled and all terms of office began as would be anticipated under such circumstances.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great seal of the State of Wisconsin to be affixed. Done in the City of Madison this sixth day of April in the year of two thousand twenty.

Farmer Resources, COVID-19 Pandemic

Small Business Federal Disaster Loans

The Wisconsin Small Business Development Center (SBDC) and its partners are helping small businesses apply for federal disaster loans to mitigate the substantial economic injury as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. The Wisconsin SBDC, a resource partner of the federal Small Business Administration (SBA), has created a web page to help business owners understand the qualifications and application process. Consultants across the network's 13 locations are working remotely via phone, email, and virtual tools to assist clients. The Wisconsin SBA and its other SBA resource partners (including the Wisconsin Women's Business Initiative Corporation (WWBIC), Western Wisconsin Women's Business Center, SCORE, and the Veterans Business Outreach Center) are also already working to assist their clients.

To learn more about the federal small business disaster loans and to apply, contact the Wisconsin Small Business Development Center at 608-210-6700, or go to wisconsinsbdc.org/services/covid-19/disasterloans/. You may also contact the federal SBA office directly at 800-659-2955, or www.sba.gov/disaster.

Small Business 20/20 Program

The Small Business 20/20 Program through the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) provides grant funds to approved community development financial institutions (CDFIs), such as many local community banks and credit unions. Approved CDFIs will award grants of up to $20,000 to their existing loan clients to assist with cash-flow challenges resulting from COVID-19. Businesses that are not currently CDFI clients are not eligible to access these funds, but WEDC will work to expand access to funding through other programs as more resources become available. You may contact your current loan provider(s) to see if you qualify, and for more information.

Unemployment Insurance

The federal government has expanded unemployment benefits to cover more workers including self-employed and independent contractors. Right now, states pay between $250-500/week to a worker in unemployment, and they base it on a percentage of a worker's paycheck, usually between 1/3 to 1/2 of prior earnings. An additional $600/week per worker in unemployment has also been passed by the federal government – this increase only lasts until July 31st.

Apply for unemployment benefits online at dwd.wisconsin.gov/ui/, or by calling 608-266-3131 (please note that phone lines have been very busy due to the current high volume of calls).

Small Business Federal Disaster Loans

The Wisconsin Small Business Development Center (SBDC) and its partners are helping small businesses apply for federal disaster loans to mitigate the substantial economic injury as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. The Wisconsin SBDC, a resource partner of the federal Small Business Administration (SBA), has created a web page to help business owners understand the qualifications and application process. Consultants across the network's 13 locations are working remotely via phone, email, and virtual tools to assist clients. The Wisconsin SBA and its other SBA resource partners (including the Wisconsin Women's Business Initiative Corporation (WWBIC), Western Wisconsin Women's Business Center, SCORE, and the Veterans Business Outreach Center) are also already working to assist their clients.

To learn more about the federal small business disaster loans and to apply, contact the Wisconsin Small Business Development Center at 608-210-6700, or go to wisconsinsbdc.org/services/covid-19/disasterloans/. You may also contact the federal SBA office directly at 800-659-2955, or www.sba.gov/disaster.

Small Business 20/20 Program

The Small Business 20/20 Program through the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) provides grant funds to approved community development financial institutions (CDFIs), such as many local community banks and credit unions. Approved CDFIs will award grants of up to $20,000 to their existing loan clients to assist with cash-flow challenges resulting from COVID-19. Businesses that are not currently CDFI clients are not eligible to access these funds, but WEDC will work to expand access to funding through other programs as more resources become available. You may contact your current loan provider(s) to see if you qualify, and for more information.

Unemployment Insurance

The federal government has expanded unemployment benefits to cover more workers including self-employed and independent contractors. Right now, states pay between $250-500/week to a worker in unemployment, and they base it on a percentage of a worker's paycheck, usually between 1/3 to 1/2 of prior earnings. An additional $600/week per worker in unemployment has also been passed by the federal government – this increase only lasts until July 31st.

Apply for unemployment benefits online at dwd.wisconsin.gov/ui/, or by calling 608-266-3131 (please note that phone lines have been very busy due to the current high volume of calls).

March 17, 2020

TO: Members
Wisconsin Legislature

FROM: Bob Lang, Director

SUBJECT: U.S. House of Representatives Legislation Passed in Response to Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19)

On March 14, 2020, the U.S. House of Representatives passed legislation in response to the outbreak of respiratory disease caused by the coronavirus designated as SARS-CoV-2. The disease caused by this coronavirus is named "coronavirus disease 2019" or "COVID-19." The bill passed by the House (H.R. 6201), known as the "Families First Coronavirus Response Act," contains provisions addressing a range of the health and economic impacts of COVID-19. This memorandum provides a summary of key provisions of H.R. 6201, as well as the budgetary impact of those provisions on Wisconsin, to the extent that these impacts are currently known. In some cases, the scope and impact of some provisions would be dependent upon guidance and regulations issued by the administering federal agencies. As of the date of this memorandum, H.R. 6201 has not been acted upon by the U.S. Senate.

Emergency Unemployment Insurance Stabilization and Access Act of 2020

H.R. 6201 would apportion $1,000,000,000 to states for administering unemployment insurance (UI) claims. Under the bill, $500 million would be used to provide immediate additional funding to all states for staffing, technology, systems, and other administrative costs. To be eligible to receive administrative grants, the state must: (a) require employers to provide notification of potential UI eligibility to laid-off workers; (b) provide workers with at least two ways to apply for benefits, with available options being in-person application, online, and by phone; and (c) notify applicants when an application is received and being processed, and, if the application cannot be processed, provide information to the applicant about how to ensure successful processing. These state requirements would likely not require legislative action.

The remaining $500 million apportioned to states would be reserved for those states in which the number of unemployment claims has increased by at least 10% over the same quarter of the previous calendar year. Additionally, a state must have demonstrated steps it has taken or will take to ease eligibility requirements and access to unemployment compensation for claimants, including: (a) waiving work search requirements; (b) waiving the waiting week requirement; and (c) directly or indirectly relieving benefit charges for claimants and employers directly impacted by COVID–19 due to an illness in the workplace or direction from a public health official to isolate or quarantine workers.

Under s. 108.04(2)(bd)2. of the Wisconsin statutes, the Department of Workforce Development (DWD) may, by rule, establish work search waivers if doing so is necessary to comply with a requirement under federal law or is specifically allowed under federal law. DWD submitted a scope statement (SS 008-20) on March 13, 2020, to modify certain work search requirements, including: (a) a rule to modify provisions of DWD 127, related to work search actions and work search waivers for unemployment claimants who are currently laid off but who are job-attached, otherwise eligible for unemployment benefits, and who are isolated or quarantined due to COVID-19; and (b) a rule to modify provisions of DWD 128, related to the requirement of availability for work for individuals who are currently laid off but who are job-attached, otherwise eligible for unemployment benefits, and who are isolated or quarantined due to COVID-19. Legislative action would likely not be required to address the work search waiver requirements in H.R. 6201.

Under s. 108.04 (3) of the statutes, a claimant's waiting period for unemployment benefits is defined as the first week of a claimant's benefit year for which the claimant has timely applied and is otherwise eligible for regular benefits. DWD is not specifically authorized to waive the current law waiting week requirement. Legislative action would likely be required to waive the waiting week requirement to comply with the provisions of H.R. 6201.

The bill would require a state to directly or indirectly relieve benefit charges for claimants and employers directly impacted by COVID–19 due to an illness in the workplace or direction from a public health official to isolate or quarantine workers. In Wisconsin, an employer's account balance is the net of all UI tax payments less UI benefit charges for that employer. Legislative action would likely be required to waive benefit charges to such accounts for claimants and employers.

The bill would also provide full federal funding for extended unemployment compensation benefits for states, rather than 50% under current law, through December 31, 2020, for states that meet eligibility for administrative grants, as described previously. Additionally, the bill would waive, through December 31, 2020, current law prohibiting federal funding for payments during the first week of unemployment compensation eligibility, if the state provides for such payments. States providing for a first week of unemployment compensation benefits would, therefore, be eligible for federal funding through the 2020 calendar year under the bill, if state law allows such payments.

Emergency Family and Medical Leave Expansion Act

The bill would amend the federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) of 1993 to:

a. Modify eligibility from the effective date of the bill until December 31, 2020, to allow an employee who has been employed for at least 30 calendar days by an employer with fewer than 500 employees to take qualifying leave related to the coronavirus public health emergency.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

b. Specify that a qualifying need for leave related to the coronavirus public health emergency would include: (a) to comply with a recommendation or order by a public official having jurisdiction or a health care provider on the basis that the physical presence of the employee on the job would jeopardize the health of others because of the exposure of the employee to coronavirus or exhibition of symptoms of coronavirus by the employee and the employee is unable to both perform the functions of the position and comply with such recommendation or order; (b) to care for a family member with respect to whom a public official having jurisdiction or a health care provider makes a determination that the presence of the family member in the community would jeopardize the health of other individuals in the community because of exposure of the family member to coronavirus or exhibition of symptoms of coronavirus by the family member; or (c) to care for the son or daughter (under 18 years of age) of the employee if the school or place of care has been closed, or the child care provider of the child is unavailable due to the public health emergency. The term public health emergency means an emergency with respect to the coronavirus (SARS-CoV-2 or another coronavirus with pandemic potential) that is declared by a federal, state, or local authority.

c. In general, provide 14 days of unpaid leave for qualifying purposes related to the coronavirus public health emergency. An employee may substitute accrued vacation leave, personal leave, or medical or sick leave for unpaid leave. An employer may not require that an employee substitute paid leave for unpaid leave. Under current law, eligible employees may generally take up to 12 weeks of FMLA leave for various qualifying purposes. While the bill would expand qualifying purposes as noted above, through December 31, 2020, it would not increase the total amount of FMLA leave an employee could take.

d. Specify that employers provide paid leave for qualifying periods of leave related to the coronavirus public health emergency that exceed 14 days in an amount that is not less than two-thirds of the employee's regular rate of pay and that is based on the number of hours the employee would otherwise be normally scheduled to work. Alternatively, if an employer is unable to determine with certainty the number of hours the employee would have worked, the employer must use the daily average number of hours the employee was scheduled to work over the previous six months or, if the employee did not work over such period, the reasonable expectation of the employee at the time of hiring of the average number of hours the employee would normally be scheduled to work.

e. Require employees to provide notice of leave to the employer as practicable, in any case where the necessity for leave is foreseeable.

f. Specify that an employee of an employer that employs fewer than 25 employees is not entitled to be restored by the employer to the position held by the employee when the leave commenced or an equivalent position with equivalent benefits, pay, and other terms and conditions if the following conditions are met: (1) the employee takes leave related to the coronavirus public health emergency; (2) the position held by the employee when the leave commenced does not exist due to economic conditions or other changes in operating conditions of the employer that affect employment and are caused by a public health emergency during the period of leave; (3) the employer makes reasonable efforts to restore the employee to a position equivalent to the position the employee held; and (4) if such reasonable efforts fail, the employer makes reasonable efforts to contact the employee if an equivalent position becomes available during the one-year period beginning on the earlier of the date on which the qualifying need for leave concludes or the date that is 12 weeks after the date on which the employee's leave commences.

g. Specify that an employer that is signatory to a multiemployer collective bargaining agreement may, consistent with its bargaining obligations and agreement, fulfill its obligations to provide paid leave after 14 days by making contributions to a multiemployer fund, plan, or program based on the paid leave each of its employees is entitled to while working under the collective bargaining agreement, provided that it enables employees to secure pay from the fund, plan, or program based on hours they have worked under the collective bargaining agreement for paid leave taken related to the coronavirus public health emergency.

h. Specify, with respect to leave taken related to the coronavirus public health emergency, that: (a) parent means a biological, foster, or adoptive parent of the employee, a stepparent of the employee, a parent-in-law of the employee, a parent of a domestic partner of the employee, or a legal guardian or other person who stood in loco parentis to an employee when the employee was a child; and (b) family member means a parent, spouse, or son or daughter (under 18 years of age) of the employee, an individual who is a pregnant woman, senior citizen, individual with a disability, or has access or functional needs (individuals with access and functional needs may include, but are not limited to, children, older adults, persons with limited English proficiency, and persons with limited access to transportation) and who is also a son or daughter of the employee, a next of kin of the employee or a person for whom the employee is next of kin, or a grandparent or grandchild of the employee.

i. Authorize the Secretary of Labor to issue regulations for good cause to exclude certain health care providers and emergency responders from the definition of eligible employee, and to exempt small businesses with fewer than 50 employees from the requirements of the bill when the imposition of such requirements would jeopardize the viability of the business.

The provisions relating to emergency family and medical leave, above, would take effect no later than 15 days after the date of the enactment of the bill.

Emergency Paid Sick Leave Act

Under the bill, employees would be entitled to paid sick leave for any of the following uses: (a) to self-isolate, if the employee is diagnosed with coronavirus; (b) to obtain medical diagnosis or care for coronavirus symptoms; (c) to comply with a recommendation or order by a public official or health care provider if the employee's physical presence on the job would jeopardize the health of others because of coronavirus or coronavirus symptoms; (d) to care for or assist the employee's family member who is diagnosed with or experiencing symptoms of coronavirus or whose physical presence on the job would jeopardize the health of others because of coronavirus or coronavirus symptoms; or (e) to care for the employee's child, if the school or place of care has been closed or the child care provider is unavailable due to coronavirus. Duration of employment would not be a factor in paid sick time eligibility under the bill. The bill would take effect no later than 15 days after the date of enactment, and its provisions would expire on December 31, 2020.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Employees who meet the above criteria for paid sick leave would be entitled to 80 hours of paid sick leave for full-time employees, and a number of hours equal to the number of hours that the employee works, on average, over a two-week period for part-time employees. Paid sick leave time would end effective at the beginning of the employee's first work-shift following the termination of the qualified need for sick leave time.

Under the bill, if an employer's policy already provides paid sick leave (on the day before the date of enactment of the bill), paid sick time under the bill would be available to employees in addition to existing paid sick leave policies. Employers could not change their existing paid sick leave policies on or after the bill's enactment or require employees to search for or find a replacement employee while the employee is using paid sick time. In addition, an employer could not require an employee to use other paid sick leave provided to the employee before the employee uses the paid sick time under the bill.

Employers would be required to post notices to employees of the requirements described in the bill in conspicuous places on the premises of the employer, where notices are customarily posted. The Secretary of Labor would be required to make a model of a notice publicly available, no later than seven days after the date of enactment.

Employers could not discharge, discipline, or in any other manner discriminate against an employee who takes leave under the bill or files a complaint or proceeding or testifies under or related to the provisions of the bill. An employer who violates the unlawful termination provision or the unpaid sick leave provision would be considered to have violated the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) of 1938 and would be subject to penalties. The bill would not require financial or other reimbursement to an employee from an employer upon the employee's separation from employment for paid sick time under the bill that has not been used by the employee.

Under the bill, if an employer is signatory to a multiemployer collective bargaining agreement, the employer could fulfill its obligations under the bill by making contributions to a multiemployer fund, plan, or program based on the hours of eligible paid sick time under the bill, consistent with bargaining obligations and the collective bargaining agreement, provided that the fund, plan, or program enables employees to secure pay based on hours they have worked under the agreement and for uses specified under the bill. The bill would not be construed to diminish the rights or benefits that employees are otherwise entitled to.

The bill would define the following terms:

"Child" - a biological, foster, or adopted child, a stepchild, a child of a domestic partner, a legal ward, or a child of a person standing in loco parentis under 18 years of age.

"Coronavirus" - SARS-CoV-2 or another coronavirus with pandemic potential.

"Employer" - a person who is a covered employer (defined below), an entity employing a state employee, an employing office, or an executive agency.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"Covered Employer" - any person engaged in commerce or any industry or activity affecting commerce that: (a) in the case of a private entity or individual, employs fewer than 500 employees; and (b) in the case of a public agency or any other entity that is not private, employs one or more employees, including persons acting directly or indirectly in the interest of an employer in relation to an employee and any successor in interest of an employer, any "public agency," and the Government Accountability Office and Library of Congress. This section also defines the terms "public agency," commerce," and "persons."

"Family Member" - a parent, spouse, or child of an employee, or an individual who is a pregnant woman, senior citizen, individual with a disability, or has access or functional needs and who is also a sibling of the employee, a next of kin of the employee, a person for whom the employee is next of kin, or a grandparent or grandchild of the employee.

"Paid Sick Time" - an increment of compensated leave that is provided by an employer for use during an absence from employment for a reason described in the bill and is calculated based on the employee's required compensation and the number of hours the employee would otherwise be normally scheduled to work. An employee's required compensation is not less than the greater of the following: (a) the employee's regular rate of pay; (b) the minimum wage rate in effect; or (c) the minimum wage rate in effect for the employee in the applicable state or locality. An employee's required compensation for special rule of care for family members would be two-thirds of the employee's required compensation. In the case of part-time employees with varying schedules (where an employer is unable to determine with certainty the number of hours an employee would have worked if such employee had not taken paid sick time), the employer would be required to use the following in place of such a number: (a) a number equal to the average number of hours that the employee was scheduled per day over the six-month period ending on the date on which the employee takes the paid sick time, including hours for which the employee took leave of any type; or (b) if the employee did not work over such period, the reasonable expectation of the employee at the time of hiring of the average number of hours per day that the employee would normally be scheduled to work. If an employee receives paid sick time under the bill, an employer may require the employee to follow reasonable notice procedures in order to continue receiving paid sick time.

The bill would additionally define the terms "domestic partner" (including the term "committed relationship"), "employee," "FLSA terms" (including "employ" and "state"), "FMLA terms" (including "health care provider" and "next of kin"), "parent," "public health emergency," and "spouse."

Refundable Federal Tax Credits for Qualified Emergency Leave

H.R. 6201 would create refundable tax credits that employers and self-employed individuals could claim for certain paid leave provided in calendar year 2020 against their federal payroll taxes and self-employment taxes. Under state law, Wisconsin provides its own tax credits and generally does not conform to federal tax credits. The following section provides information regarding the federal tax provisions of H.R. 6201.

Sick Leave Credit. H.R. 6201 would provide a refundable payroll tax credit to certain private sector and nonprofit employers equal to 100% of the "qualified sick leave wages" paid by the employer in a calendar quarter. Qualified sick leave wages would be defined as wages which are required to be paid by an employer under the Emergency Paid Sick Leave Act (EPSLA, described previously). The amount of qualified sick leave wages could not exceed $200 for each day that an employee is paid such wages. However, the limit for qualified sick leave wages eligible for the credit would be $511 for any day in which any portion of the day is paid sick time used for: (a) self-isolation because the employee is diagnosed with coronavirus; (b) obtaining a medical diagnosis or care if such employee is experiencing symptoms of coronavirus; or (c) complying with a recommendation or order by a public health official with jurisdiction or a health care provider on the basis that the presence of the employee on the job would jeopardize the health of others because of exposure of the employee to coronavirus or because the employee is exhibiting coronavirus symptoms.

The aggregate number of days for which the payroll tax credit could be claimed could not exceed the excess of ten over the aggregate number of days that an individual is paid qualified sick leave wages for any preceding calendar quarter.

Family and Medical Leave Credit. H.R. 6201 would also provide a refundable payroll tax credit to certain private sector and nonprofit employers equal to 100% of the "qualified family leave wages" paid by the employer in a calendar quarter. Qualified family leave wages would be defined as wages required to be paid by an employer under the Emergency Family and Medical Leave Expansion Act (EFMLEA, also described previously) because of a qualifying need related to a public health emergency. The amount of qualified family leave wages for purposes of the payroll tax credit could not exceed $200 for any day that an individual receives such wages, and could not exceed $10,000 in the aggregate with respect to all calendar quarters.

Credits for Self-Employed Individuals. Both refundable credits described above would also be provided for self-employed individuals against their self-employment taxes owed. A credit would be provided equal to 100% of the "qualified sick leave equivalent amount" of the individual, or 67% of such amounts if the employee uses paid sick leave to care for their family member who is experiencing symptoms of coronavirus or is otherwise deemed to need self-isolation for the reasons described above, or to care for their child if the child's school or place of care has been closed, or the child care provider is unavailable, due to coronavirus. This qualified sick leave equivalent amount would be defined as the number of days during the taxable year that an individual is unable to perform services in a trade or business (for reasons which would otherwise qualify the individual for paid leave under the sick leave credit) multiplied by the lesser of $200 ($511 if the higher limit would have applied under the sick leave credit) or the average daily self-employment income of the individual. The total number of applicable days for which the credit could be claimed could not exceed the excess of ten days over the number of days that an individual is considered unable to work (as described above) in all preceding taxable years.

Another credit would be provided equal to 100% of the "qualified family leave equivalent amount" of the individual. Such amount would be determined by multiplying the number of days (not to exceed 50) during the taxable year that an individual is unable to perform services in the trade or business (for reasons which would otherwise qualify the individual for paid leave under the family and medical leave credit) by the lesser of $200 or the average daily self-employment income of the individual.

The average daily self-employment income for both credits would mean an individual's net earnings from self-employment for the taxable year divided by 260.

Each possession of the United States that bases its income tax laws on those of the U.S. and that incurs a revenue loss from implementing the aforementioned provisions would be reimbursed in amounts determined by the Secretary of the Treasury. A U.S. possession that does not base its income tax laws on those of the U.S. would be eligible to be paid amounts estimated by the Secretary of the Treasury as being equal to the aggregate benefits that would have been provided under the above provisions had the possession adhered to U.S. income tax laws.

General Provisions. Neither credit described above would apply to any federal, state, or local governmental employer, and neither credit would be allowed against wages for which a federal employer credit for paid family and medical leave is claimed. For self-employed individuals, each credit would be proportionally reduced by the number of days an individual is unable to work but received wages required to be paid by an employer under the EPSLA or EFMLEA. Any such wages required would not be considered wages for purposes of the federal payroll tax.

The Secretary of the Treasury would be required to prescribe any necessary regulations and guidance to fulfill the provisions of each credit. H.R. 6201 would transfer moneys from the general fund to the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and the Disability Insurance Trust Fund in the amount of money which would have been transferred to each trust fund under current law but would not be transferred as a result of the credits provided under H.R. 6201.

H.R. 6201 would provide $15 million to the Internal Revenue Service for taxpayer services for the purposes of carrying out the Families First Coronavirus Response Act.

Applicability. Each credit would apply only to wages paid from the date selected by the Secretary of the Treasury under H.R. 6201 through December 31, 2020.

Health Programs

Medical Assistance -- Temporary Increase to the Federal MA Matching Percentage. The bill contains the following provisions relating to a temporary increase to the federal medical assistance percentage (FMAP), as described below.

Increase to the Federal Medicaid FMAP and the Impact on MA Program Budget. H.R. 6201 would increase the FMAP by 6.2 percentage points during any calendar quarter for which a federal public health emergency is in effect, provided the state meets certain requirements (described below). The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) Secretary declared a public health emergency, retroactive to January 27, 2020. Consequently, the enhanced FMAP would apply, at a minimum, during the first quarter of 2020 (January to March of 2020), and would continue until the end of the calendar quarter during which the public health emergency declaration order is terminated.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

WI-REP-20-0887-A-000608

Under the MA program, the FMAP determines the percentage of eligible benefit costs that are paid by the federal government. Currently, the state's FMAP is 59.36%, meaning the state pays 40.64% of eligible MA benefit costs. As a result of the H.R. 6201, the state's FMAP would increase to 65.56%, decreasing the state's share to 34.44%. At current MA spending levels, this increase to the state's FMAP would shift approximately $150 million of state GPR costs to federal funds for each quarter that the federal public health emergency is in effect, or approximately $600 million for a full year. Therefore, without any changes to total program costs, the state would realize GPR savings relative to the current GPR budget for the program.

However, the net impact on the state GPR budget for MA would ultimately depend upon the impact of the COVID-19 epidemic on the MA program. The epidemic will likely affect MA expenditures in two ways. First, MA costs will increase as a result of treatment rendered to individuals contracting the disease. Second, the epidemic will have economic impacts resulting in a loss of income and employment for some households. As a consequence, MA enrollment is likely to increase in the coming months as more individuals become eligible for the program. While the health system costs associated with treating COVID-19 illness will eventually subside, the economic impacts of the epidemic, along with its effect on MA program enrollment, may last longer than the public health emergency.

State Requirements for Receiving Enhanced FMAP. In order to qualify for the higher FMAP, states would need to meet certain requirements related to enrollment eligibility standards and processes, applicable during the federal public health emergency. These provisions apply to beneficiaries whose coverage is either provided through the state Medicaid plan (standard eligibility and benefits) or through federal waivers.

First, a qualifying state could not adopt more restrictive eligibility standards, methodologies, or procedures for their Medicaid programs than were in effect on January 1, 2020. Second, the state could not charge a higher premium for any eligibility groups than was in effect on January 1, 2020. Third, the state could not terminate or deny the enrollment of any individual for a reason other than a failure to satisfy financial, categorical, or state residency requirements, for the duration of the federal public health emergency. Fourth, the state must provide coverage of COVID-19 testing and treatment for Medicaid beneficiaries without cost sharing. Finally, the state could not conduct periodic income checks, including automated income checks (for the purpose of determining income eligibility), more frequently than once every 12 months.

These provisions would require Wisconsin to modify some MA enrollment and eligibility standards and processes on a temporary basis, although in some areas the nature of these modifications remains uncertain. Department of Health Services (DHS) indicates that the Department is reviewing the legislation and would likely need guidance from the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) to further evaluate what steps would be needed. In general, this analysis would center primarily on two areas, the applicability of the law to recently implemented provisions of the state's federal waiver for childless adult coverage, and the program's process for reviewing income changes for the purposes of determining program eligibility.

With respect to childless adult coverage, the state implemented some provisions of a federal demonstration waiver on February 1, 2020, that have a bearing on childless adult eligibility. Starting on that date, childless adults who newly enroll or renew MA coverage, and who have a household income above 50% of the federal poverty level are required to pay a monthly premium. The premium is $8 per household, or $4 if the childless adult is found to meet criteria for certain healthy behaviors. In addition, as a condition of eligibility, childless adults are required to complete a substance abuse treatment needs question upon enrollment or renewal. Since neither of these provisions was in effect on January 1, 2020, and since both could be characterized as more restrictive eligibility standards, methodologies, or procedures, the state could be found ineligible for enhanced FMAP under H.R. 6201 if their application is not suspended during the federal public health emergency.

With respect to income verification, H.R. 6201 specifies that, as a condition of eligibility for enhanced FMAP, states may not conduct income checks or eligibility redeterminations more frequently than once every 12 months. The state currently uses a 12-month schedule for a comprehensive review of program eligibility, but also uses automated income checks to track any increase in household earnings in the interim period prior to renewal that may make a person ineligible for MA benefits. It remains uncertain if the provisions of H.R. 6201 would prohibit these automated income checks or restrict how they are used in determining eligibility.

This office is consulting with legislative attorneys and DHS to determine what statutory changes, if any, would be needed to comply with these provisions.

MA -- Coverage of COVID-19 Testing Without Cost Sharing. H.R. 6201 would require state Medicaid programs to provide coverage, without cost sharing requirements, for in vitro diagnostic products for the detection of the virus that causes COVID-19.

The bill would allow state Medicaid programs, at the option of the state, to provide coverage for COVID-19 testing for uninsured individuals. The FMAP for this coverage would be 100% (no state share). The state would need to submit a state Medicaid plan amendment to CMS to offer this coverage.

Coverage of COVID-19 Testing Without Cost-Sharing. In addition to the provisions relating to testing MA enrollees for COVID-19, as described above, the bill would require other health care plans to provide coverage of COVID-19 testing without cost sharing, including Medicare, private health plans and insurance policies, federal employee health plans, Veterans Affairs health, Tricare, and Indian Health Service.

National Disaster Medical System. The National Disaster Medical System is a coordinated effort by the U.S. DHHS, the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of Defense, and the Department of Veterans Affairs to support state and local authorities during and following a public health emergency. The system may be activated to provide health services, health-related social services, and other appropriate human service, including paying claims as reimbursement for health services.

H.R. 6201 would provide $1.0 billion to fund the following services for uninsured individuals: (a) diagnostic products for the detection of SARS-CoV-2 or the diagnosis of the virus that causes

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COVID-19; and (b) items and services furnished to an individual during health care provider office visits, urgent care center visits, and emergency room visits that result in an order for, or administration of, a diagnostic product, but only to the extent such items and services relate to the furnishing or administration of such product or to the evaluation of such individual for the purposes of determining the need of such individual for such product.

For these purposes, the bill would define an uninsured individual as an individual who is not enrolled in federal health programs specified in the bill or a group health plan or health insurance coverage offered by a health issuer in the group or individual market.

Nutrition Programs

SNAP -- Flexibility for Low-Income Jobless Workers. Under Wisconsin law, able-bodied adults without dependents (ABAWDs) are generally required to fulfill the work requirement established under federal rule to ensure ongoing eligibility for FoodShare or supplemental nutrition assistance program (SNAP) benefits. ABAWDs who do not meet the federal work requirement are only eligible to receive FoodShare benefits for three months in a 36-month period.

Under H.R. 6201, during a public health emergency, work requirements for SNAP could not be used to limit eligibility for SNAP, unless an individual does not comply with the requirements of a state work program or workfare program. This prohibition would last through the end of the month subsequent to the month the public health emergency declaration by the DHHS Secretary is lifted.

Additionally, beginning the month subsequent to the month the public health emergency declaration is lifted, the state agency would be required to disregard any period during which an individual received SNAP benefits prior to such month.

SNAP -- Flexibilities in a Public Health Emergency. Under H.R. 6201, in the event of a public health emergency declaration as declared by the DHHS Secretary, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Secretary would be: (a) required to provide a requesting state agency the authority to provide emergency SNAP benefits to existing SNAP households up to the maximum monthly allotment for the household size, if the state agency provides sufficient data to support such a request; (b) authorized to adjust issuance methods and application and reporting requirements under federal law to be consistent with what is practicable under actual conditions in affected areas, if requested by a state agency or by guidance in consultation with the state agencies; (c) required to make publicly available on the USDA website within 10 days of receipt, or issuance, the following information: (1) any request submitted by a state agency under these provisions, (2) the Secretary's approval or denial of each such request, and (3) any guidance issued under part (b); and (d) required to, within 18 months after the public health emergency declaration is lifted, submit a report to the House and Senate Agriculture Committees with a description of measures taken to address the food security needs of affected populations during the emergency, any information or data supporting state agency requests, any additional measures that states requested that were not approved, and recommendations for changes to the Secretary's authority under the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008 to assist the Secretary, states, and localities in preparation for any future health emergencies.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

WI-REP-20-0887-A-000611

Free and Reduced-Price Lunch -- Additional SNAP Assistance and Waivers. H.R. 6201 specifies that during fiscal year 2020, if a school is closed for at least five consecutive days during a public health emergency when the school would otherwise be in session, a household containing at least one child who is eligible for a free or reduced-price meal would also be eligible for additional aid under SNAP.

The bill would allow the USDA Secretary to approve state agency plans for temporary emergency standards of eligibility and levels of benefits under the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008 for households with eligible children. Such plans would be required to provide for supplemental allotments to households already receiving benefits, as well as issuances to households that do not currently receive benefits. The amount of the assistance would be provided in an amount determined by the Secretary, not less than the value of meals at the free rate over the course of five school days for each eligible child in the household. Assistance could be provided through the EBT card system.

The bill would allow the USDA Secretary to authorize state educational agencies and school food authorities administering a school lunch program to release to appropriate officials administering SNAP such information as may be necessary. The Secretary could waive the limits on certification periods, reporting requirements, and other administrative requirements that would otherwise apply. The bill would also allow the Secretary to purchase commodities for emergency distribution in any area of the United States during a public health emergency designation during fiscal year 2020.

The bill would appropriate to the Secretary such amounts as are necessary to carry out this section, including $100 million to remain available through September 30, 2021, for grants to the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and American Samoa for nutrition assistance in response to a COVID-19 public health emergency, if such amounts are designated by Congress as being for an emergency requirement pursuant to the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985.

The bill would allow the USDA Secretary to grant a waiver of federal requirements under the National School Lunch Act or Child Nutrition Act that would increase federal costs. This provision would apply to a waiver requested by a state or eligible service provider for the purposes of providing meals and meal supplements during a school closure due to COVID-19.

The bill would allow the USDA Secretary to establish a waiver allowing non-congregate feeding under a child and adult care food program, if such waiver is for the purpose of providing meals and meal supplements under the program with appropriate safety measures with respect to COVID-19. Additionally, the waiver program could relax requirements related to the nutritional content of meals served if the following apply: (a) the waiver is necessary to provide meals and meal supplements under a qualified program; and (b) there is a supply chain disruption with respect to foods served under the program due to COVID-19.

The waiver would apply automatically to any state that chooses to be subject to the waiver. Any state that receives the waiver would be required to submit a report to the Secretary with the following information, not more than one year after the waiver was received: (a) a summary of the use of the waiver by the state and by eligible service providers; and (b) a description of whether the waiver resulted in improved services to children. The waiver authority expires on September 30, 2020.

This provision would allow programs serving school lunches or breakfasts or participating in a child and adult care food program or a summer food service program to provide meals under those programs that can be taken and consumed away from the service site. Such meals would not be eligible for federal reimbursement under current federal law. (No such provision applies under state law.) The provision would also provide flexibility in the event of a food supply chain disruption.

WIC Supplemental Food Program -- Waiver of Certain Conditions of Certification. Under federal law, with limited exceptions, women and children who wish to be certified to participate in the women, infants and children (WIC) supplemental food program must be physically present at each certification or recertification determination in order to be eligible for the program. In addition, all WIC participants must be determined to have a nutritional risk, which may require that applicants meet anthropometric (body measurement) and bloodwork requirements.

The bill would permit the DHHS Secretary of the state agency that administers the WIC program [in Wisconsin, DHS] to request a waiver of the physical presence, anthropometric, and bloodwork requirements that WIC applicants would otherwise be required to meet in order to be eligible for WIC. If the waiver request were approved by the USDA, the requirements would not apply during any portion of the emergency period. This waiver authority would expire on September 30, 2020.

If a state waiver is requested and approved, each local WIC agency that uses the waiver would be required to submit a report to DHS that includes a summary of the use of the waiver by the local agency and a description of whether the waiver resulted in improved services to women, infants and children. These reports would be due within one year after the date the local agency uses the waiver. Each state agency that receives a waiver would be required to submit a report to USDA that includes a summary of the information provided by the local WIC agencies.

WIC Supplemental Food Program -- Waiver of Certain Administrative Requirements. Federal law authorizes USDA to implement administrative requirements relating to the WIC supplemental food program. These requirements, codified under 7 CFR Part 246, relate to all aspects of the program, including general provisions, state and local agency eligibility, participant eligibility, participant benefits, state agency provisions, monitoring and review, and other miscellaneous provisions.

H.R. 6201 would permit the state administering agency to request a waiver of any "qualified administrative requirement" relating to the program, which is defined as any regulatory requirement that the USDA Secretary determines: (a) cannot be met by a state agency due to COVID-19; and (b) the modification or waiver of which is necessary to provide assistance under the WIC supplemental food program.

If a state waiver is requested and approved, the state agency must, within one year after the date the agency received the waiver, submit a report to USDA that includes a summary of the use of the waiver by the state agency, and a description of whether the waiver resulted in improved services to women, infants and children. The USDA's authority to grant waivers would expire on September 30, 2020.

Aging and Disability Services Programs -- Nutrition Services. The federal Older Americans Act funds a broad range of social services and programs for individuals who are 60 years old and older. These services include supportive services, congregate nutrition services (meals served at group sites), home delivered nutrition services, family caregiver support, community services employment, the long-term care ombudsman program, and services to prevent the abuse, neglect and exploitation of older persons.

Title III of the act authorizes grants for state and community programs on aging. In federal fiscal year 2019-20, the total federal funding amount allocated for services funded under Title III was approximately $1.314 billion, of which Wisconsin's allocation was approximately $23.8 million (approximately 1.8% of the total).

The federal legislation would provide an additional $250 million to increase funding for home-delivered nutrition services ($160 million), congregate nutrition services ($80 million), and nutrition services for Native Americans ($10 million). Based on the current federal fiscal year allocation of these funds, it is estimated that Wisconsin would receive approximately $4.5 million in additional federal funds under Title III.

The Older Americans Act limits the amount of the federal grant award that can be used for eligible purposes, and specifies that the federal funding may pay for up to 85 percent of the total cost of supportive services, senior centers and nutrition services, with at least 15 percent of eligible service costs paid by state and local funds. Under the bill, this state match requirement, as it applies to the supplemental funding, would not apply.

Supplemental Federal Appropriations

Under the title "Second Coronavirus Preparedness and Response Supplemental Appropriations Act, 2020," the bill appropriates moneys to federal agencies for the federal fiscal year ending September 30, 2020, as identified below. The appropriations are not specific to Wisconsin, but rather for each identified federal agency and program. The bill specifies that the appropriated amounts are designated as being for an emergency requirement under the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, but requires that monies are available "only if the President subsequently so designates all such amounts and transmits such designations to the Congress."

TO: Members of the Wisconsin State Legislature

FROM: Eric Borgerding, President/CEO
Kyle O'Brien, Senior Vice President Government Relations

RE: Wisconsin Hospital Association Reaction to the Governor's COVID 19 Proposals

When lawmakers talk about needing to support those on the front lines, they must mean our state's hospitals, physicians, nurses, support staff and other health care providers. In any legislation taken up by the Assembly and the Senate in response to the COVID 19 pandemic, ensuring Wisconsin hospitals have the resources to continue operation should be the state's top priority. As WHA has reviewed legislation proposed by Governor Evers, we wanted to communicate our support of several provisions and offer modifications to others.

Resources for Personal Protective Equipment, Testing Supplies & Other Hospital Related Costs: As hospitals are experiencing significant shortages in Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) and testing supplies, $100 million in GPR funding included in Governor Evers' proposal will directly help hospitals acquire needed resources to test and treat patients with COVID 19. Wisconsin hospitals are not only experiencing shortages in supplies, they are also experiencing increased prices on those same materials that are in demand.

In addition, hospitals are now being put in the difficult position of identifying staffing needs necessary to respond to the coming emergency while also ensuring that financial resources exist to meet payroll into the future. This funding pool can be used to stabilize current staffing, support staff overtime costs and, when possible, hire additional staff, helping to alleviate this burden.

In addition, it is important for policymakers to realize that the biggest financial stress on hospitals right now are lost revenues from following US Surgeon General and CMS directives to halt elective and certain other scheduled procedures. WHA requests that lawmakers ensure that provisions providing financial support for hospitals allow the use of state funding to make-up for revenue losses.

It is important to note that even after halting certain scheduled and elective procedures, hospitals still do not have enough PPE to meet current demand. Shortages of PPE will directly impact when hospitals can restart elective and scheduled procedures and begin to recover on their own from the staggering financial losses now mounting every day.

Hospital Funding and Stability: Hospitals large and small are facing significant cash flow problems as a result of cancelling elective procedures under government directives to protect the public health, with estimated hospital revenue losses of $170 million per week in Wisconsin. When adding health system physician and clinic services, the weekly revenue losses grow to $266 million. Cash flow problems for hospitals result in reductions in health care workforce and reductions in access to care, two consequences Wisconsin cannot afford right now.

We know that support from the federal government will not be enough to ensure our state's hospitals are protected from this crisis. As the Legislative Fiscal Bureau writes in their April 1 memo, "it is unknown how much funding, if any, Wisconsin healthcare providers will receive" from the federal CARES Act. From estimates based on AHA recommendations, it appears the proportion attributable to Wisconsin hospitals could be only $275 million – possibly less. At the hospital rate, estimated hospital funding from the CARES Act would cover only 11 days' worth of revenue losses during the public health emergency - which we are now already passed.

We are glad to see that the Governor has already recognized this need and has prioritized hospital funding in his COVID Response package, including another $75 million in supplemental payments to hospitals. Any and all financial resources the legislature can provide to hospitals are needed.

Our neighboring state legislatures and Governors have allocated hundreds of millions of dollars to support their hospitals and health care providers. We ask the legislature to do the same in Wisconsin and prioritize hospitals, the providers on the front lines of defense, during this crisis.

Hospital/Healthcare Data: WHA has consistently supported expanding the collection and reporting of COVID-19 data. This includes aggregated statewide and regional information related to COVID-19 positive patients in hospitals and should include other health care facilities with capacity used to treat COVID-19 patients. The WHA Information Center, operating as the entity under ch. 153 and charged with collecting and reporting hospital and ambulatory surgery center data, could synthesize and facilitate the dissemination of important information to assist with public and private emergency planning efforts. For 16 years, WHAIC has produced accurate and timely hospital datasets, analyses, and reports. Relying on WHAIC's expertise, the legislature could create a new report in ch. 153, that would require WHAIC to produce and publish daily updated public health emergency dashboards based on healthcare emergency preparedness program information the state collects from hospitals.

Safe Harbor Protections for Health Care Providers Throughout a Public Health Emergency: WHA, alongside several physician groups, support the extension of certain liability protections to health care providers during a public health emergency, which many states across the country already have done. Without action to address our liability standards during a public health crisis, physicians and hospital administrators are concerned that some providers will be hesitant to provide care during a very difficult time.

Healthcare Workforce Licensing: We request you incorporate the changes made in LRB 5957 (Sen. Kooyenga/Rep. Kurtz/Rep. Sanfelippo) as an amendment to LRB 5920/P2, which would create a more streamlined recognition of out-of-state licenses for those in good-standing and ensure that health care providers can practice to the top of their education, training and experience as delegated by a physician or established in a health care facility protocol.

The legislation does the latter by clarifying that no credentialing board can sanction a professional as long as the bill's criteria for physician delegation/licensed health care facility protocol are met. In a time of crisis, providers should not have to fear credentialing sanction for something they are trained and capable of doing under a delegated act or in a licensed health care facility.

Telehealth Parity - LRB 5920/P2, Section 65: This provision appears intended to require parity for telehealth services, which WHA fully supports especially during a time when the public is practicing social distancing and staying home. We are concerned that the language in the bill may not allow all providers within the insurer's network to provide and be paid for telehealth services. That is, if a patient's usual in-network provider is available and able provide the service via telehealth, that physician should be allowed to do so, and the patient shouldn't have to be required to use a more limited telehealth network. Therefore, we recommend the language in Section 65 be modified. One suggestion for doing so is:

No disability insurance policy or self-insured health plan may deny coverage and payment for any covered health care treatment or service rendered via telehealth by an in-network provider to a patient if the same treatment or service is covered if rendered face-to-face by the in-network provider.

Worker's Compensation Coverage for COVID 19 Exposure: It is the opinion of some, including the state Department of Workforce Development, that health care workers exposed to COVID 19 are not eligible for worker's compensation claims unless they test positive for COVID 19 and can prove the disease was acquired at work. The details on this are important, since the limited amount of testing capacity in our state means some health care workers may not be able to receive a test. Therefore, health care workers exposed to COVID 19 and in isolation/quarantine as a result of that exposure should be eligible for worker's compensation benefits.

Although we have not reviewed the recommended statutory language included in the Governor's second proposal, we believe it will create a presumption standard that is appropriate. The legislation can go further by covering employer-required isolation and quarantine as a worker's compensation benefit during the public health emergency.

Out-of-Network (Surprise) Billing – LRB 5920/P2, Section 57: In the context of this emergency, we recognize that there may be unavoidable reasons why patients will be seeking out of network care. For ease of administration and for the time and purposes of this emergency only, we will not oppose the benchmark rate if it remains at 250% of Medicare or higher. However, we remain opposed to a benchmark rate as a long term solution to the issue of surprise billing.

With respect to the specific language in Section 57 of LRB-5920/P2: There seems to be a contradiction between 609.205 (1) (a) and 609.205 (2) (a) and (b). The bill would require that cost sharing be no greater than the enrollee would be pay if in-network; however the latter paragraph requires the health care facility to accept the insurer payment as payment in full, and not charge the enrollee an amount that exceeds the insurer payment.

We recommend that section 609.25 (a) and (b) be modified to allow the provider to collect cost sharing so long as that cost sharing does not exceed the amount the enrollee would pay in-network.

Insurer Payment of Premium - LRB 5920/P2, Section 75 (3): According to this provision, for the duration of the public health emergency, no insurer may cancel any policy of insurance for nonpayment of premiums until at least 90 days after the unpaid premium was due. We recommend clarifying that the policy may not be canceled retroactively, and that the insurer is responsible for payment of all claims for services provided during the 90-day "grace period".

Hey Paulette,

Just wanted to let you know my staff let me know you called. Thank you for reaching out on the election. It's a really tough situation but it's looking like the date is not going to move, and ultimately, Governor Evers is making that decision. Please let me know if I can be helpful at all throughout this stay at home order. I know we are all going to have growing pains from the adjustment.

Have a good day,

Subject: For your review, both Stamena and I have looked this over. Let's talk about it over the phone

Thank you for reaching out to me on the April 7th election. I wanted to provide more information to explain why I did not support Governor Evers' last minute ask to move the election date.

First and foremost, I do want to say that I absolutely understand where you are coming from and the concerns raised by people that do not think an April 7th election can be done safely. I think that an election like the ones we have seen in the past would be a cause for concern with packed polling places. Thankfully, the state of Wisconsin gives its voters options, and for the last three weeks, we have been encouraging everyone to request their absentee ballot.

Over 1.3 million people have requested their absentee ballot, which is a record-breaking amount of people, especially for a spring election. This means that over 1.3 million people will have already voted and will be staying home, which is great news for our polling places. For reference, just over 1.2 million people total voted in the 2019 spring election. We quite possibly might see more people voting absentee in this election than the total number of voters in the last spring election! So when it comes to in-person voting on Election Day, we are going to see far fewer people going to the polls. I know my polling place and many others are doing drive thru voting, so you don't even have to go into the polling place to vote in person. Many other polling locations have put in place a number of social distancing safeguards, and I truly believe that the image of 'crowds' at the polls is not one that will take place. Our local clerks have been preparing with the Elections Commission to hold this election in a manner tailored to the current public health emergency. Our clerks are doing everything they can to limit person-to-person contact.

Now back to moving the election date. Tomorrow, thousands of local government positions like County Executive, Mayor, City Council, Town Board, and judgeships will be on the ballot. During a global pandemic, it would be extremely dangerous for all of these positions to become vacant with no one in place to make decisions or to allocate funds, especially for such a long, unspecified and unknown period of time. I have heard a lot of people, including Governor Evers, suggest that we could just allow the people currently serving to continue in their positions until the election is rescheduled. There is no mechanism for the Legislature, the Governor, or local governments to allow for this by tomorrow. It would require a change to our state's constitution, which would require the legislature to pass a resolution in two consecutive sessions, and then a majority vote in favor by the people on the ballot through referendum. The legislature simply cannot do it, and certainly couldn't do it three days before an election. Even if the legislature were to vote to do this, and the governor were to sign it, it would not be upheld in court. So moving the election date means that our local governments will be immobilized for months.

Governor Evers knows this. He knows that the legislature cannot do what he is asking us to do, and has been saying so publicly for over two weeks. He has been telling legislative leaders and the public for weeks that we cannot and will not move the election for the very reason I just described. And yet, on Friday, three days before the election, he changed his mind. To me, that is not a sign of leadership, but of a last minute effort on his part to shift the blame. Regardless of why, the fact is that we did not come into session on Saturday because there is nothing under the law that would allow for us to do we he asked us to do.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Almost immediately after Governor Evers announced his plan on Friday, several of the local clerks in my district reached out to me asking me not to approve of his plan. They also cannot do what Governor Evers is suggesting they do. A mail-in balloting system cannot be done in Wisconsin on this kind of timeline, something the Elections Commission has expressed to the Legislature and to Governor Evers.

Please know that I agree with you that this is a serious situation, and we need to take precautions. We haven't seen positive cases in Lincoln or Langlade County yet, and I absolutely want to keep it that way. The fact remains that when I took the oath of office, I swore as your legislator to uphold the law and the constitution. I cannot do what Governor Evers asked me to do, but I can continue to do what I have been doing for the last two weeks, which is everything I can to make sure our poll workers have what they need to run this election smoothly. I have been encouraging people who are at risk or don't feel comfortable to stay home and vote absentee. I am so grateful that our state gives voters options when it comes to voting because it is exactly what will allow for this election to continue safely. I am also grateful for the 2,434 National Guard men and women who are being deployed to support polling places today and tomorrow.

If we continue to work together, we will make it through to the other side. If you want to talk further about this, please let me know and I can give you a call.

Thank you for your time,

Mary

Hi Meagan

We are behind in tracking absentee ballots for both April and May in WisVote. I have our county board organizational meeting and orientation for new members looming.

My office cannot sustain its current load. It is me and my deputy. I also have my own election and campaign to run as well. I would take a beating, from some, if I cut off our muni clerks as our WisVote reliers. The absentee tracking is way too cumbersome.

I understand that this is in statute. Us clerks, and I think I can speak for a high percentage of us (cty and muni), have absolutely had it with this. It has spoiled our election experiences.

I am willing to sit on any committees designed to reconfigure our state voting. I am not suggesting a complete revamp, but maybe that is what will come of it.

I know you are busy and I do not need a reply. I just want you to know how many of us are feeling. I do not like to complain without a solution. We have town halls and town clerks that do not have internet or cell service. I can count probably 5 municipal clerks that will hang up a ton of experience if

I cut them off. I have two really good newer clerks, that have large municipalities and are reliers, that have had it with our process.

If we are to remain status quo, I believe counties should be subsidized to hire county staff and municipalities to pay their clerks more. They have been consumed by this through an already very stressful time. When our legislators agreed on this they did not account for the work it would create.

One last thing, I found it ridiculous that anyone can claim that by having the election, we were putting our electors at risk. You had to be living under a rock or coming out of a coma to not have heard about absentee and early voting? Our society cannot keep catering to the "underprivileged/under informed", whom choose to be and stay there! Maybe we could put them to work tracking these abs ballots? It is ironic that some people don't have enough work, and some have too much:)

Thanks for all you do Meagan - I know you are in a tough spot!

I think your idea is a very good one, of a work group to take a look at the current process and the shifts in voter behavior and needs and see what we can suggest in terms of legislative or procedural changes to consider. Especially for those of you in CD7 we should have a discussion soon to see how we might be able to provide additional support or help create additional efficiencies.

Hey Jeff,

Thank you for taking the time to speak with me on the phone. Attached and below is the information, text, and MP3 of the PSA we discussed.

As I mentioned, the language was written in conjunction with the Elections Commission and this is a non-partisan, non-political reminder of how people can vote during this unprecedented situation.

The recording is a sample made by a radio station and you are more than welcome to make your own. The only ask by the Commission is you stick to the same language and information shared.

Some stations have begun running this Public Service Announcement where they have recent openings in their rotation.

Additionally, like we talked about, our office will be making the ask that healthy individuals, who are able and comfortable, to sign up to be poll workers on election day. Our office would appreciate if you can join us in spreading the message so our local clerks have the manpower and assistance they need on election day.

Thank you again for your time, Jeff, and please let me know if this is something your station will be able to do and if you have any questions.

Hope you're staying safe!

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- After repeatedly urging voters to request absentee ballots for the April 7 election to avoid going to the polls amid the coronavirus pandemic, Gov. Tony Evers today called on the Legislature to change state law so all registered voters could be mailed one.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In a video message on Twitter, Evers also called for ballots postmarked by Election Day to be counted and for local election officials to be given more time to count them.

The move comes 11 days out from the election. Evers, who has repeatedly rebuffed calls to delay the vote, didn't call for delaying the vote in his message today.

"The bottom line is that everybody should be able to participate in our Democracy," Evers said in the video.

So far, four federal lawsuits have been filed seeking changes to the upcoming April 7 election due to concerns over COVID-19. That includes calls to mail ballots to all registered voters and to push back the deadline for clerks to receive and count absentee ballots. Now, those ballots must be received by 8 p.m. on Election Day to be counted.

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- Wisconsin and national Republicans today asked the U.S. Supreme Court to step into the fight over how absentee ballots will be handled in the state's spring election amid the COVID-19 pandemic.

After a federal appeals court rebuffed their request, Republicans urged the justices to stay a U.S. judge's decision allowing absentee ballots received after Tuesday to still be counted so long as local clerks receive them by April 13.

The state and national Republican parties, along with GOP lawmakers, asked the court to issue a stay no later than Monday to ensure absentee ballots must be postmarked by Election Day to be counted.

In today's filing, they argued, "requiring a state to permit unlimited absentee voting for almost a week after election day presents significant dangers to election integrity, voter confidence and the orderly administration of an election that already has strained state resources due to the difficult circumstances associated with COVID-19."

U.S. Judge Wiliam Conley ordered three changes to Tuesday's election: pushing back by one day the deadline to request an absentee ballot; extending until 4 p.m. April 13 the deadline for absentee ballots to be returned; and suspending enforcement of a state requirement that those voting absentee have a witness sign the envelope in which they return the ballot.

The 7th Circuit Court of Appeals late Friday rejected the GOP request to overturn the extended deadline for absentee ballots, which normally must be in by 8 p.m. on Election Day. But it also reversed Conley's order on witness signatures.

Conley issued the orders after chiding the gov and lawmakers for not pushing back the election in light of the pandemic, though he added it wasn't his place to do so. His order is also meant to account for the now more than 1.2 million absentee ballots that have been requested. That number now exceeds the number of votes cast overall in last year's state Supreme Court race.

In today's filing, Republicans argued the issue of late-arriving "ballots is premature and could be addressed when and only if the predicted mail delays actually materialize."

-- Meanwhile, Gov. Tony Evers late this afternoon chided GOP lawmakers after they gaveled in and quickly recessed the special session he called to move to a mail-in spring election that would include pushing back to May the deadlines to request and receive ballots.

Evers urged the public to contact their lawmakers to urge them to push back the election, accusing Republicans of "playing politics with public safety and ignoring the urgency of this public health crisis."

"It's time for every Republican legislator to do their jobs and take a vote on this commonsense proposal to extend the election date so everyone can vote safely from home," Evers said.

After Evers yesterday issued his call for the special session, Senate Majority Leader Scott Fitzgerald, R-Juneau, and Assembly Speaker Robin Vos, R-Rochester, slammed the move as typical of the "feckless" leadership they said Evers has shown during the health crisis. They also insisted Tuesday's election should go on as planned.

WisPolitics Alert -- 3 April 2020

Exclusively for WisPolitics Subscribers - DO NOT FORWARD

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- A federal appeals court tonight denied emergency requests from Republicans to stay a judge's ruling pushing back to April 13 the deadline for absentee ballots to be returned in Wisconsin's spring election.

The 7th Court of Appeals also rejected a request from GOP lawmakers as well as the state and national Republican parties to stay Judge William Conley's order that gave Wisconsin voters an additional day to request absentee ballots in light of the COVID-19 pandemic that led to the guv issuing a stay-at-home order for the state. That order had pushed the deadline to 5 p.m. today.

But the appeals court put on hold one piece of Conley's ruling. He had ordered clerks to accept absentee ballots without a witness statement if voters submitted a statement explaining why they couldn't safely obtain a signature from someone else on the envelope they used to mail back the ballot.

The court ruled Conley didn't give enough weight to the state's interest in enforcing that requirement to prevent fraud. It also noted the Wisconsin Elections Commission had posted guidance for voters struggling to safely find a witness for their ballot in light of the public health emergency.

"With the absentee ballot receipt date being extended to April 13, 2020, voters have more time to take advantage of one or another of the Commission's suggestions for obtaining a signature," the court wrote. "So, too, do we have every reason to believe the Commission, in keeping with the forward-leaning action it has taken thus far to accommodate voters' interests while also striving to ensure their safety, will continue to consider yet other ways for voters to satisfy the statutory signature requirement (if possible, for example, by maintaining the statutory presence requirement but not requiring the witness's physical signature)."

Conley has also rejected the state Legislature's motion to intervene in the suit. But the 7th Circuit overturned that decision.

Republicans still have the option to appeal Conley's decision on the merits. It also could take the emergency appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- A federal appeals court tonight denied emergency requests from Republicans to stay a judge's ruling pushing back to April 13 the deadline for absentee ballots to be returned in Wisconsin's spring election.

The 7th Court of Appeals also rejected a request from GOP lawmakers as well as the state and national Republican parties to stay Judge William Conley's order that gave Wisconsin voters an additional day to request absentee ballots in light of the COVID-19 pandemic that led to the guv issuing a stay-at-home order for the state. That order had pushed the deadline to 5 p.m. today.

But the appeals court put on hold one piece of Conley's ruling. He had ordered clerks to accept absentee ballots without a witness statement if voters submitted a statement explaining why they couldn't safely obtain a signature from someone else on the envelope they used to mail back the ballot.

The court ruled Conley didn't give enough weight to the state's interest in enforcing that requirement to prevent fraud. It also noted the Wisconsin Elections Commission had posted guidance for voters struggling to safely find a witness for their ballot in light of the public health emergency.

"With the absentee ballot receipt date being extended to April 13, 2020, voters have more time to take advantage of one or another of the Commission's suggestions for obtaining a signature," the court wrote. "So, too, do we have every reason to believe the Commission, in keeping with the forward-leaning action it has taken thus far to accommodate voters' interests while also striving to ensure their safety, will continue to consider yet other ways for voters to satisfy the statutory signature requirement (if possible, for example, by maintaining the statutory presence requirement but not requiring the witness's physical signature)."

Conley has also rejected the state Legislature's motion to intervene in the suit. But the 7th Circuit overturned that decision.

Republicans still have the option to appeal Conley's decision on the merits. It also could take the emergency appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- State Rep. David Bowen, D-Milwaukee, announced today he has tested positive for COVID-19.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Bowen, who is currently in quarantine at home, is the first state lawmaker to publicly announce contracting the disease. Bowen said he was notified by the Shorewood Health Department he had come in contact with a local elected official who had tested positive and immediately went into quarantine.

After showing symptoms, he was tested. He said it is imperative that people take the pandemic seriously.

“Even if you are young and typically healthy, it's even more important that you heed the call to stay home, take care of your family, and not spread the virus to others who are vulnerable,” Bowen said.

See the release here.

-- Gov. Tony Evers’ chief legal counsel said on a conference call today the coming order requiring Wisconsin residents to largely stay at home is expected to maintain the current policy allowing bars and restaurants to do takeout and delivery.

Gov. Tony Evers earlier today said his order will largely shutter non-essential businesses and travel, but he didn’t offer details.

The guv and his Chief Legal Counsel Ryan Nilsestuen didn’t offer many additional details during today’s conference call on the coming “stay-at-home” order.

Still, the guv pointed out the federal government has created a definition of essential and nonessential businesses, though he said there will be a “Wisconsin vantage point” so the state list won’t be identical.

Evers also said on today’s conference call the order he issues tomorrow will include a “buffer” allowing people time to comply. He didn’t provide specifics.

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- The Democratic National Convention Committee announced today the party's Milwaukee convention will be delayed until the week of August 17 due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The convention had been slated to run from July 13-16.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

“In our current climate of uncertainty, we believe the smartest approach is to take additional time to monitor how this situation unfolds so we can best position our party for a safe and successful convention,” said Joe Solmonese, CEO of the Democratic National Convention Committee in a release. “During this critical time, when the scope and scale of the pandemic and its impact remain unknown, we will continue to monitor the situation and follow the advice of health care professionals and emergency responders.”

DNC Chair Tom Perez said safety is the top priority.

"Ultimately, the health and safety of our convention attendees and the people of Milwaukee is our top priority,” Perez said. “And we will continue to be in contact with local, state, and federal health officials as we monitor this fluid situation.”

The release said the major venues for the convention, including the Fiserv Forum, the Wisconsin Center District and hotel accommodations, remain available for August.

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- Gov. Tony Evers this afternoon announced he is calling the Legislature into special session tomorrow to take up legislation that would allow an all-mail spring election.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In a video posted to social media, Evers said he wants lawmakers to OK sending a ballot by May 19 to every registered voter who hasn't already requested one. He also wants a deadline of May 26 for those ballots to be received.

While Evers has the power to call a special session, he can't force lawmakers to meet. GOP leaders a week ago rejected a call from Evers to mail absentee ballots to all registered voters in time to cast them for the Tuesday election.

Evers' latest call comes after a federal judge pushed back to April 13 the deadline for absentee ballots in Tuesday's election to be received.

Republicans have indicated plans to appeal that ruling.

Evers' fellow Dems have also been critical of the guv for not pushing harder to move back the election date.

WisPolitics Alert -- 28 March 2020

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- Gov. Tony Evers is asking for more than $800 million to address the COVID-19 pandemic in a sweeping bill that would also halt enforcement of voter ID, ban evictions, and prevent the layoffs of school employees during a public health emergency.

The proposal, which the Evers administration released late Saturday, also would give the Department of Health Services unlimited spending and position authority during a public health emergency.

GOP legislative leaders indicated in a letter earlier today the "current general fund balance can't support" the proposal.

They also urged the Evers administration to move quickly to use the state's share of an estimated $2.3 billion coming to Wisconsin as part of the federal relief package to buy needed personal protection equipment.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The proposal also calls for a host of provisions to address the impact on state residents amid a ban on nonessential travel and an order that has forced many businesses to close.

Along with suspending the voter ID requirement during a public health emergency, the bill calls for allowing voting by mail and a longer window to register online. The bill also calls for pushing back the deadline for receipt of an absentee ballot. It would have to be postmarked by Election Day rather than received by 8 p.m. on Election Day as currently required.

The bill also would allow the Department of Administration to print absentee ballots for local governments.

The biggest pieces of the package include: up to $300 million for the Department of Military Affairs; up to $200 million for the Department of Administration; $100 million to expand programs for the working poor; and $100 million in grants to health care providers.

The package also would provide local governments with a 1 percent increase in aids for 2020, a boost of about $7.5 million.

The order includes a host of businesses that will be allowed to remain open from grocery stores and pharmacies to auto repair shops and banks.

The order also doesn't apply to those businesses that provide food, shelter, social services and "other necessities of life for economically disadvantaged or otherwise vulnerable individuals."

Evers' order lays out details of the "safer-at-home" order he previewed yesterday. It also bans nonessential travel.

Speaking with reporters on a Department of Health Services media briefing, Evers' Chief Legal Counsel Ryan Nilsestuen said personal care businesses "will not be able to be open, period."

"It's like restaurants where you can pick up at the counter, that would be allowed," said Palm.

Subject: ALERT! Federal judge dismisses Green Bay suit seeking election changes

WisPolitics Alert -- 27 March 2020

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- A federal judge late today dismissed a suit Green Bay filed seeking changes to the April 7 election due to the COVID-19 pandemic, ruling he lacked jurisdiction.

U.S. Judge William C. Griesbach noted cities are barred from suing their parent states.

Green Bay Mayor Eric Genrich was also included in the suit in his individual capacity. But Griesbach ruled allegations that the mayor may have trouble voting absentee to be too speculative and lack plausibility because of his position.

Griesbach also ruled a claim by one individual was not "enough to create the standing Plaintiffs need to invoke federal intervention in state laws governing elections."

"The court's decision is not intended to minimize the serious difficulties the City and its officials are facing in attempting to conduct the upcoming election," Griesbach wrote. "The court is saying only that the City and its mayor are not the proper parties to bring such a claim in federal court."

The suit is one of four that have been filed in federal court seeking changes to the April 7 election. Griesbach noted a group of citizens raising similar issues filed one of them in the Western District of Wisconsin. If the judge in that case finds they have standing, Griesbach wrote, that court will address the questions raised in the Green Bay suit.

The Green Bay suit sought to cancel in-person voting for the April 7 election and instead allow clerks to mail ballots to all registered voters, as a way to fight coronavirus. The city also sought to give local clerks until June 2 to count all returned ballots.

-- A federal judge today refused to delay Wisconsin's April 7 election, but he pushed back to April 13 the deadline for absentee ballots to be received so they can be counted in the spring races, which include the presidential primaries.

Under current law, today was the final day to request an absentee ballot. U.S. Judge James Conley pushed that back to 5 p.m. tomorrow.

He also enjoined the state from enforcing a requirement that those voting absentee have a witness if they are unable to safely do so.

Subject: ALERT! Federal judge pushes back deadline to register online for absentee ballot in spring election

WisPolitics Alert -- 20 March 2020

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- A federal judge tonight pushed back the deadline to register electronically to vote in the spring election, citing the impact of the coronavirus.

Judge William Conley also denied two other requests from state and national Dems as they sought to relax Wisconsin regulations on absentee ballots. But he reserved the option for Dems to again ask him to extend the deadline for counting absentee ballots if they can show there's a need to do so.

Wednesday was the deadline to register online or by mail ahead of the April 7 election. Those who failed to meet the deadline would've had to appear in person at a clerk's office to register in order to receive an absentee ballot. They also would've had the option to go to the polls on Election Day.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Conley noted the public health concerns of exposure to the coronavirus in ordering an extension until March 30 to register online, noting the "excruciating dilemma" faced by those who didn't register by Wednesday: "either venture into public spaces, contrary to public directives and health guidelines or stay at home and lose the opportunity to vote."

He didn't extend the deadline to register by mail, as Dems had asked. Conley ruled doing so would've given some voters a "false sense of confidence" their mail-in registration would've been received in time to vote absentee in the April 7 election.

Conley also rejected a request to suspend the photo ID requirements for voting absentee and another requiring voters to provide proof of residency documents with their registration requests until the COVID-19 crisis is over.

Dems also sought to extend the deadline for an absentee ballot to be received in order for it to be counted. Currently, absentee ballots have to be received by 8 p.m. on Election Day. The suit asked that they instead be postmarked by Election Day and received by municipal clerks within 10 days of the April 7 election.

Conley wrote while the argument may have merit, he wants more evidence before granting an extension.

-- State Sen. Fred Risser, the longest serving state lawmaker in the nation's history, announced today he won't seek reelection this fall after more than six decades in the Wisconsin Legislature.

Meanwhile, state Rep. Chris Taylor, a Madison Dem and member of the Joint Finance Committee, said she isn't seeking reelection to her Assembly seat this fall and won't be running for any other legislative seat in 2020. She had been considered a top candidate to run for Risser's seat once he retired.

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- Senate Minority Leader Jennifer Shilling, D-La Crosse, announced today she won't seek reelection this fall, saying it was time to put her family first after two decades in the Legislature.

Shilling said her two children are now in high school and middle school and "time with our boys at home is fading."

"I do not leave with regrets, I leave with wonder - wonder about the future, about what will be," Shilling said. "Wonder about what lies ahead, and a wonder of new ways that I will continue to be able to serve my community, and others."

Shilling, 50, beat then-GOP Sen. Dan Kapanke, of La Crosse, in a 2011 recall election to claim the Senate seat after 11 years in the Assembly. Her fellow Dem senators then elected her minority leader starting with the 2015 session as she navigated the caucus through the final term of GOP Gov. Scott Walker and the first two years of Dem Gov. Tony Evers.

Kapanke has already announced plans to run again for the seat, which is a top target for Republicans this fall.

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- The state Supreme Court this afternoon overturned Tony Evers' order pushing back in-person voting until June, putting the spring election back on hours after he sought to delay it amid the COVID-19 pandemic.

Evers' order was enjoined in its entirety in the 4-2 ruling other than a provision calling the Legislature into a special session tomorrow to pick a new date for in-person voting. That provision is now moot with the election moving forward.

The order didn't include the court's reasoning, saying a more comprehensive opinion will follow.

Liberal justices Ann Walsh Bradley and Rebecca Dallet dissented.

Conservative Daniel Kelly didn't participate.

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- A split U.S. Supreme Court ruled this evening that absentee ballots must be postmarked by tomorrow in order to be counted in Wisconsin's spring election, adding yet another legal twist as voters decide the presidential primary, a Supreme Court race and hundreds of local offices.

Under the court's order, absentee ballots must be postmarked by election day and received by 4 p.m. April 13 or hand-delivered to local clerks by 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The ruling comes after the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals had upheld a lower court ruling that the crush of absentee ballots requested for the spring election would count so long as they were received by 4 p.m. April 13, regardless of the postmark.

Typically, absentee ballots must be received by 8 p.m. on Election Day to count.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The 5-4 majority ruled extending the date ballots may be cast an additional six days "after the scheduled election day fundamentally alters the nature of the election."

WisPolitics Alert -- 27 March 2020

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- Declaring "Wisconsin is in the midst of election chaos," the state GOP late this afternoon asked the Supreme Court to rule county clerks don't have the authority to allow all voters to escape the voter ID requirements for absentee voting due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The filing comes on the heels of four separate federal lawsuits seeking to change the rules for how the April 7 election is conducted, each arguing that the coronavirus outbreak demands changes in procedures to protect voters and poll workers.

Still, the state GOP urged the state Supreme Court to make clear the guv's stay-at-home order "does not and cannot affect the rules and procedures under" Wisconsin's election laws.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In particular, the suit targets the guidance clerks in Dane and Milwaukee counties have issued that voters can avoid the voter ID requirements for casting an absentee ballot by declaring themselves "indefinitely confined" due to the pandemic.

Under state law, voters who are "indefinitely confined due to age, illness, infirmity or disability" can request absentee ballots without uploading a copy of their voter ID. Once they make the declaration, they will receive an absentee ballot for each election going forward until they are "no longer confined or fail to return a ballot."

The party asked the Wisconsin Supreme Court to take original jurisdiction in its suit and issue a temporary injunction ordering the advice to be removed from public display and new statements issued "correcting their interpretation of Wisconsin's election law."

Dane County Clerk Scott McDonell said he hadn't seen the suit and couldn't respond until after conferring with legal counsel. Still, he said he is following advice he has received from the Elections Commission.

"I will fully comply with it, and I am complying with it," he said.

Read the documents:
https://www.wispolitics.com/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/200327Memo.pdf
https://www.wispolitics.com/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/200327Motion.pdf
https://www.wispolitics.com/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/200327Petition.pdf

-- Meanwhile, the state's top elections official says it would be inappropriate for voters to use the "indefinitely confined designation" simply as a way to get around the voter ID requirement for those voting absentee.

Still, Elections Commission Administrator Meagan Wolfe wrote in a memo to commissioners ahead of a meeting today it is up to individuals to determine on their own if they meet the standard. She noted the "unique circumstances of the current public health crisis" and the ensuing travel restrictions, which has caused issues for those who have an ID but lack the technology at home to include a copy with their absentee ballot.

The issue has popped up because the clerks for Dane and Milwaukee counties have advised voters they can use the designation if they're having an issue meeting the photo ID requirements for their absentee ballots during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The move has prompted at least one complaint filed with the commission.

Wolfe wrote commission staff has told clerks if they don't believe voters understood the declaration while requesting an absentee ballot, they can contact them for confirmation of their status. Still, clerks should use "appropriate discretion" and any request for information shouldn't be "accusatory in nature."

https://elections.wi.gov/sites/elections.wi.gov/files/2020-03/3.27.20%20Commission%20Materials.pdf

-- DHS Secretary Andrea Palm late this afternoon issued an order to simplify healthcare license renewals during the public health emergency.

The order also encourages recently retired professionals with expired licenses to re-enter practice and creates a path for licensed practitioners from other states to work in Wisconsin without first getting a state credential. It also eliminates time limits for temporary licenses.

-- The state Supreme Court has barred Dane County Clerk Scott McDonell from advising all voters they could qualify as indefinitely confined because of Gov. Tony

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Evers' stay-at-home order, avoiding the requirement to provide a copy of their photo ID when voting absentee.

The court ordered McDonell to refrain from issuing guidance on indefinitely confined status outside the measures approved by the Elections Commission last week.

Under that guidance, voters can claim the status based on age, physical illness, infirmity or being disabled for an indefinite period and cannot use it "simply as a means to avoid the photo ID requirement."

McDonell had argued that he updated his original advice in a March 25 social media post with a stance in line with the advice approved by the Elections Commission. The court noted that didn't prevent McDonell from offering erroneous advice in the future.

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- Gov. Tony Evers, who has in the past suggested he doesn't have the power to change tomorrow's spring election date on his own, today issued an executive order pushing back in-person voting to June 9 to avoid exposing voters and poll workers to COVID-19.

Evers' move comes after GOP lawmakers rejected his last-minute request to meet in special session to conduct the spring election by mail and push back deadlines to May to request and receive an absentee ballot.

It also comes amid a flurry of federal court action impacting the spring election and growing attention nationally to the possibility of Wisconsin moving forward with its election amid a growing public health emergency.

In a statement, Evers bemoaned GOP lawmakers declining to act on his request.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"But as municipalities are consolidating polling locations, and absent legislative or court action, I cannot in good conscience stand by and do nothing," Evers said. "The bottom line is that I have an obligation to keep people safe, and that's why I signed this executive order today."

The guv's office said ballots already cast will remain valid and be tallied in conjunction with the new in-person voting date.

Hey Pam,

I just wanted to send you a quick note that the legislature will not be moving forward with a mail-in ballot initiative. It just is not feasible for the reasons you listed and more. I have already heard from many clerks, like yourself, that just do not have the manpower to do this, even if it were possible for the state to get the clerks the materials they needed in time.

Thank you for sharing your thoughts with us! It's really important for us to hear from everyone around the state about this.

Subject: April 7th Election concerns

Good Morning Shawano County Legislators

I received an email from Jamie Kuhn, Director of Outreach for Governor Evers, on Friday afternoon. I am very concerned with the Governor's request to Legislature to make changes to elections laws this close to an election. I hope that I can convey my thoughts in a way that impresses upon you the need to stop moving forward with trying to send absentee ballots to every voter in Wisconsin. Mr. Kuhn stated in his email that the Governor has asked the Legislature to pass legislation for three items.

1. Allow absentee ballots postmarked the day of the election to be counted. I have no major issues with this, however, I think the legislation should state they would still need to arrive by the Friday after the election. It was done this way in the past and is doable.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2. Extend the time period to give clerks extra time to count the influx of absentee ballots. I have no major concerns with this one either as long as the extended timeline doesn't interfere with the County's ability to complete the Board of Canvass on time.

3. Allow voters the opportunity to vote from home by sending an absentee ballot to every registered voter. This raises a number of large concerns for my office and a number of the municipal clerks in the county that I have heard from. In Shawano County we have approximately 23,000 registered voters. We do not have ballots available for every voter. We do not have envelopes available to mail a ballot to every voter. We do not have the time it would take or the staff that it would take to mail a ballot to every voter.

I don't envy the Governor the position that he finds himself in right now with COVID-19 or with this election. I think that you would find that Clerks feel very strongly about making sure that every voter has the opportunity to vote, however, sending ballots to every voter is not the way to do it with just over a week before the election. In Shawano County we have 38 municipalities and only 7 of those are staffed by full-time clerks. The other 31 of those are part-time clerks, many of whom have other jobs. They are already overwhelmed, overworked and overbudget due to the high volume of absentee requests. To expect them to somehow miraculously get ballots out to every elector is shortsighted, it cannot happen.

I listened to an interview with the Governor this afternoon and a reporter asked him how Clerks were going to accomplish getting a ballot to every elector when there aren't supplies available to do that. The response from the Governor was that it wouldn't be easy. That is a very flippant response for such a large task that may be asked of our clerks. The interview then went to Ryan from the SEOC and Ryan said that the WEC and SEOC has procured over 600,000 ballots for clerks across the state. That isn't accurate. They ordered and supplied over 600,000 absentee envelopes to clerks and that was amazing (Shawano County received 1,000), however, that isn't even a fraction of what will be needed if we have to mail a ballot to every elector. Shawano County would has close to 23,000 registered voters. In order to mail a ballot to an elector, it costs $1.00 per voter for just the postage to send and receive the ballot. That's $23,000 that our municipalities will have to come up with to send the absentee ballots.

I strongly urge our Legislators to rethink making any law changes that would require an absentee ballot be sent to every voter.

Thank you for your consideration.

Pamela Schmidt
Shawano County Clerk

The trip has been canceled because of the COVID-19 outbreak, which is bad enough, but when they wanted to get there down payment back each student was charged $1900.00. I think this is outrageous. There are students that had to raise the money themselves and now they want to keep $1900.00 from each of them. Please advise.

Good evening everyone,

I know there has been a lot of confusion today so I wanted to provide all of you with information so you are prepared for tomorrow.

The April 7th Spring Election will be happening tomorrow and polling places will be open.

If you need information about where your polling place is located, please go to the following site, or let me know what your address is and I can send you the location. https://myvote.wi.gov/en-US/FindMyPollingPlace

Municipal and county clerks have been working around the clock to make sure each polling place is safe and adheres to social distancing. I know a lot of polling places are doing drive-thru voting, which will allow for voters to stay in your car and avoid person-to-person contact. If you feel most comfortable wearing Personal Protective Equipment, like gloves, or a mask, or a scarf, I encourage everyone to do that.

For those of you that received an absentee ballot but have not yet returned them to your clerk, your absentee ballot needs to be postmarked by tomorrow, April 7th.

COVID-19 has been a really trying time for everyone, and I think we can all agree that this is not an optimal situation. Although frustrating, we can do this. I will be driving around polling places tomorrow in my area just to see if there is any help I can give. If you have thoughts or concerns, I am available tonight, tomorrow, or at any time. Please reach out to me.

Thank you and have a good night,

Alex Sabo, the trip director for the school called back

- They know people are upset- it appears most families have made their peace with this
- The company is a private company- they sent out a letter explaining thecancellation and also reminded everyone of the cancellation policy in the contract that was signed- this is covered under that
- The company is a good company that has worked with the school for 26 years- the deposit covers money they had already spent on lodging and what not for the hotels in Europe
- This is what contracts are for and everyone is doing their best- but this is a cut and dry situation
- The school emailed lester and asked for a phone number so Alex could speak with him and run through this
- It doesn't appear the school will be suing the company or anything of the sort
- A contract is a contract
- They know its frustrating
- You can tell him they have emailed and it is our understanding they are reaching out and hope to speak with him over the phone

Good Day My Dearest in Christ Jesus,

My name is Mrs.Norah Jane a nationality of United state of America . I am married to late Mr. Alexandria Paul who worked with Kuwait embassy for nine years before he died in the year October 2007. We were married for twenty years with a child. My Husband died after an illness that lasted for four days May his Soul rest in perfect peace Amen.

Before his death we were both born again Christians. When my late husband was alive he deposited the sum of (thirteen Million U.S.Dollars) with one of good private banks here in Turkey presently, this money is still with the bank. Recently my Doctor told me that I would not last for the next two months due to my cancer problem, though what disturbs me most is my stroke. Having known my condition I decided to donate this fund to church or better still a Christian individual that will utilize this money the way I am going to instruct here in. more especially earthquake victims in Haiti and also any organization of your choice, the poor and the motherless babies. I want a person or church that will use this fund to churches, orphanages, research centers and widows propagating the word of God and to ensure that the house of God is maintained.

The Bible made us to understand that blessed is the hand that giveth. I took this decision because I have no child that will inherit this money and my husband's relatives are not Christians and I don't want my family hard earned money to be misused by unbelievers, I don't want a situation where this money will be used in an ungodly manner. Hence the reason for taking this bold decision. I am not afraid of death hence I know that I am going to be in the bosom of the Lord. Exodus! 14 VS 14 says that the lord will fight my case and I shall hold my peace. I will like you to understand that my contact to you is a divine direction from God, I don't want any of my husband family relatives to receive this money but I know that With God all things are possible.

Remain blessed in the name of the Lord.

Yours Sister in Christ

Mrs.Norah Jane.

Subject: Caucus push for absentee voting: PSA radio ad

Dear Members and Staff:

Last Friday afternoon, on the member conference call our office was asked to coordinate a caucus effort to ask our local radio stations to run public service announcements (PSAs) promoting absentee voting.

We worked with the Elections Commission on the content and one of our local radio stations did a sample recording.

We were able to get SEVEN stations in our listening area to run these PSAs for FREE. They were all really nice about it, and since they have lost some local advertising they have the room in their rotations. We simply explained that it was a PSA to encourage absentee voting, and does not endorse any candidate or party.

If your office is willing to make a few phone calls and ask your radio stations to run it, all we ask is that you tell us who you are asking so we can make a list of stations already being contacted so we don't duplicate efforts. Also, the station is welcome to do a new recording but they should stick to the informational/instructional part of the script! The approved script and a recording are attached to this email.

We asked the broadcasters association for a list but they wouldn't share, so we are kind of on our own. I know a lot of us have good relationships with our local stations, so hopefully you know a few people you can call.

Stations already playing the PSA include WLKG, WSLD, WCLO, WJVL, WWHG, WBEL, and WGEZ.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Feel free to try your local cable too – we already asked Spectrum!

Thanks everyone! We only have until April 2nd so time is of the essence!

Will you work on this with our radio stations today? If you talk to them on the phone, you can also let them know we are pushing healthy, low risk individuals to become poll workers, and will be putting that into an e-update and on our facebook. Mary thought it would be great if the radios would mention it periodically so people I know poll workers are needed.

Hi Diana,

I am passing along an email that we received from Tim Kordula of Karl's Transport. Karl's Transport has worked with the department in the past, and Mr. Kordula offers a number of great ideas in this trying time. Is the DOT taking into consideration any of these issues, and are any of these ideas options that could be considered during this state health emergency?

Senator Tiffany and Rep Felzkowsi,
Attached is a letter I am attempting to send to Governor Evers' office. I know we are in trying times, the switchboard has not emptied any voicemails throughout the day, as with everything else this is important and should be addressed. Trucking and trucking education is more critical than ever in this current crisis. If you would please take a look at what we are asking for CDL schools and the DMV, and feel free to contact me at ANY time regarding this.

Thank you for your time!

Respectfully,

Tim Kordula

Good evening Ben,

I just wanted to email you to let you know I did not forget about your questions from this morning. Unfortunately, Governor Evers has chosen not to provide any information to Legislators as we try to navigate this mess. What I do know is that he plans to sign the order tomorrow. We have asked repeatedly for the essential vs. non-essential list, which he will not give, and I honestly believe he hasn't finished yet. I will update you once I know more, and hopefully that will be midday tomorrow.

Thanks again for reaching out to us,

Just another thought this morning on this, and I think it would be worth the "look and see" to justify support for rural providers.

It's my understanding/recollection that no childcare provider can have more than 50 kids, correct? Else, I'll stand corrected.

So, in our urban/suburban, where some may have had well in excess of 50, they had to cut back, but as unfortunately some of those families with kids attending pulled their kids due to layoff, concerns, etc., I'd like to assume that the forced reduction helped to backfill among all providers so they are able to sustain.

Just a thought - again, know you are being overwhelmed with more requests for support and assistance, but trying to look at this through a justified lens and give some ideas for justification for your consideration.

Thanks,

regulation and requirements, both for the business and individuals, yet the compensation for providers is minimal relative to the credential requirement (hence high turnover in employees/providers), so unfortunately what is before us will certainly compound this challenge, or indirectly provide an opportunity for employees/providers who must layoff to find work in areas of essential function during these times, and then do they stay there after this passes?

I wonder if this is a matter that can at least be addressed for the very small, rural childcare providers. As example, is this the same challenge in suburban/urban area due to demographics and many more in those areas serving in essential functions, therefore still needing the daycare, where maybe as a percentage, more of our families are employed in non-essential occupations as a percentage. Trying to figure an angle based upon data of what is that could justify how you and any of your colleagues in the legislature could look at this.

I can understand and appreciate these are VERY complicated times for you as legislators, with more of these types of emails and outreach as I can imagine, yet, does this one warrant a view through a different lense due to the rural dynamic?

I would be more than willing to contribute in any conversation towards a solution in this matter...I will do some further thinking as to how we could find a solution.

Emily, I have looped both Representative Felzkowski and Representative Nygren's offices in this as it very well may be a matter before providers in their respective areas of representation.

Dear Legislators,

Providing child care to the essential workforce is critical to flattening the curve of COVID-19 in Wisconsin. To meet this need, Governor Evers created the Child Care for Essential Workers Taskforce. Led by the Department of Children and Families (DCF), the taskforce is working with the Early Childhood Association (WECA) and Supporting Families Together Association (SFTA) to connect essential workforce families in need of child care with locally available child care resources.

DCF is excited to launch two new tools to help connect essential workforce families to local, safe child care. Healthcare workers and essential employees are now able to submit a request for care through the department's updated Child Care Finder or proactively view up-to-date availability across the state using the department's new child care map.

Please see the attached resources for more information regarding the Child Care for Essential Workers Taskforce and relevant information for parents. More information for providers, essential workers and families can be found on the DCF COVID-19 Child Care webpage.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We ask that you please spread the word about the website and the map in your communities to our essential workforce families in need of child care. For any questions regarding this effort, please contact dcfmbcovid19@wisconsin.gov.

Sincerely,
Nadya

We are going to be in a clerk crisis next. The absentee tracking has completely bogged my office down. County Clerk offices are too lean to absorb this. County Administrations do not support our office enough. I may have to pull the plug on providing WisVote.

Our muni clerks have had it. My best ones are probably in their last term if they will even finish. My new ones are like, "what did I sign up for?"

My office should be subsidized by the state if I am to continue WisVote.

Allison relayed to one of my muni's that they are required by statute to put return postage on return envelopes. I cannot find this in statute. Our Governor appears absolutely clueless on the election process at this time.

Something needs to change. The WisVote program is great but the amount of work it has created has exceeded the clerks wage and manning.

Thank you!

Our muni clerks have had it. My best ones are probably in their last term if they will even finish. My new ones are like, "what did I sign up for?"

My office should be subsidized by the state if I am to continue WisVote.

Allison relayed to one of my muni's that they are required by statute to put return postage on return envelopes. I cannot find this in statute. Our Governor appears absolutely clueless on the election process at this time.

Something needs to change. The WisVote program is great but the amount of work it has created has exceeded the clerks wage and manning.

Thank you!

Subject: CLP Waivers

Hello Representative Felzkowski,
I hope this finds you safe and healthy!
I did send this to Senator Tiffany as well as Governor Evers,

Yesterday the FMCSA announced a waiver that would allow State third party CDL examiners to administer the Commercial Drivers Learners permits. As you may know, the Statewide Department of Motor vehicles are now on an appointment only and we are having issues getting our current trainees their CLP's. Wisconsin has not come on board with this waiver yet and I don't know that they will unfortunately. With the current situation, we very well could have a driver shortage when this is all over. Some of our drivers are already contemplating leaving the industry and that is just here. We need to keep the new drivers coming in and trained properly, but without a CLP that is impossible.
We will be asking the FMCSA to expand on this to also allow schools to administer this test on a permanent basis. The skills testing is already done solely by third parties in Wisconsin.
Who better to administer a knowledge test than those who actually teach the knowledge.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Right now though, we need the State to be onboard and allow Wisconsin's third party examiners to administer these tests.
With the Pandemic, keeping drivers and giving them the training they need is definitely a challenge. We have thought outside the box on social distancing and have installed "sneeze" guards in our training trucks and purchased all we need to be compliant. We need our drivers on the road.
I have attached the waiver, and I appreciate all you have always done for us in the past and in the future.
Take care, be safe and have a wonderful Easter!

Dear Republican Colleagues,

As you may have heard, the Dane County Clerk and the Milwaukee Election officials decided to broadly interpret, “indefinitely confined” voting procedures. Under the circumstances with our elderly population, their health conditions and their electronic capabilities, this actually does need to be considered. Much of the electoral processes for this April Election is challenging, to say the least. My disgust with how this has transpired is liberal election officials are trying to give themselves the edge over the rest of the State by not going through the Wisconsin Election Commission. If accommodations need to be made that is where it starts. All electors should be given a level playing field. This action by local elected officials outside the legal process is despicable.

My official complaint is filed with WEC and as far as I know the only official complaint. Please be advised. I am looking for consistency state-wide. ALL elderly electors who fear going out of their home can and should be afforded the same opportunity as Dane County and Milwaukee County Voters.

Sincerely,

State Senator

Louise Doescher

March 31, 2020

Mary, I watch news and listen to the TV news for hours daily. I have become more and more confused in the protocol to use in staying safe with this virus pandemic.

One thing we certainly do not need is confusion at this dire time. I compiled a few of my own questions here. It sure would be nice if the government local or state or federal would come out with some clear guidelines to help the people.

I am on my 20th day of self-isolation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I HAVE SOME QUESTIONS ABOUT SANITIZING AND HOW LONG THE VIRUS CAN LIVE ON DIFFERENT SURFACES.....AND AND AND...

MAIL: How should we be handling mail?
If we leave it sit in our garage or even in our house for how long, before the virus dies?

DOES the virus die after being on surfaces? I heard a health care worker say that on a surface (forgot which one) it can live up to 7 days. Is this true? Exactly what surfaces should we be the most cautious about?

What might be a way to sanitize mail? Mail carriers do not wear gloves, or might. Mine has done it both ways as I watched. The mail could be contaminated from outside or the contents could be.

GLOVES: Wouldn't it be safer to wear gloves if we go out to stores? Of course if we go from store to store, shouldn't we sanitize the gloves before and after each store? Wouldn't the gloves be safer than our more porous skin with fingernails etc?

What about our clothing and shoes? Do we strip down after every trip out? Take off our shoes and dip them in disinfectant before going into our homes? Italian survivor says shoes carry viruses. Have we thought about that?

MASKS: To wear or not to wear the mask in this pandemic is the question. I believe that I know that wearing masks was downplayed to preserve the public from buying and or hoarding masks that the Health Care workers so desperately need.

Something is better than nothing, right? We can sew masks. If we sew them and wash in between uses. But we have been told that masks do not help.

Common sense tells us that any mask might help stop the spread. We would have to decontaminate the mask every time we use it on going out, and we could not count on it 100% but even if it stopped one person from receiving or giving one another he virus, wouldn't it be worth using?

Mixed messages prevail.

And perhaps in another email, I will ask questions about the money that is to come from the government. There is mass confusion also about how this will be distributed as well.

It would be of great service to have answers to my questions. Thanks for doing a great job. Louise

In all this craziness I want you take a minute and think about the American truck driver and pray for them as well in all this chaos! Hours of service rules have been lifted to let truck drivers run longer if hauling supplies directly impacted by covid-19. Yet the government is shutting down rest areas, truck stops are closing there bathrooms and showers. These truckers have no where to pull off to get rest, use a bathroom, or shower. Yet they are expected to do their best to deliver these products on time to make sure we have what we need and have our supplies for our bathrooms, showers, refrigerators etc. A truck drivers life on the road has always been hard, but now it is extremely harder! But as long as they're allowed, you can bet that they will still get the job done and keep America running! Please pray! Better yet call your representatives and demand some help for our truckers.

Please find attached a letter from the Wisconsin Assisted Living Association (WALA) explaining provider challenges associated with COVID-19 crisis and policy and funding requests to help alleviate some pressures on the profession.

Thank you,

The Greatest Challenges Affecting Assisted Living

Based on feedback – WALA leadership has identified what we believe are the three highest-priority issues facing the assisted living profession during this COVID-19 crisis:

1) Caregiver and Staffing Shortages

Attracting Employees \ Caregivers. Provide additional funding to assisted living facilities in the Family Care program by way of increased reimbursement to acknowledge the significant increased labor costs now required to attract and retain individuals to work in assisted living facilities during the COVID-19 public health crisis.

Providers Cannot Compete with the Recent Increased Unemployment Benefits. The profession requests the Governor and Legislature to consider implementing policies to promote unemployment beneficiaries to seek work in sectors experiencing employee shortages during the COVID-19 public health crisis. Further, we are requesting the state of Wisconsin to consider creative flexibilities and solutions that would allow the additional federal unemployment benefit dollars be used instead as temporary wage enhancer incentives for individuals who work at an assisted living facility.

Request Higher Reimbursement and Financial Assistance Regardless of Payor Source. The staffing shortage crisis is affecting all assisted living providers, regardless of whether the population served is comprised of Medicaid \ Family Care or private pay. WALA requests that financial assistance be provided to all assisted living facilities regardless of provider type.

2) Personal Protection Equipment(PPE)

It is important in the effort to contain the spread of COVID-19 in assisted living facilities and in the goal of recruiting caregivers and other staff in assisted living that the state ensure sufficient distribution of appropriate personal protection equipment (PPE) to assisted living and all providers of long-term care services. Doing so will protect the residents and employees along with preventing the spread of COVID-19.

3) Regulatory Flexibility

The COVID-19 public health crisis has caused our members to make use with less while providing increased care and services to their residents. We understand the Department of Health Services (DHS) is currently reviewing waivers to some of the regulations that govern our profession. This includes DHS administrative rules under Chapters 83, 88, and 89. We are requesting waivers where our members are unable to comply with the regulations. For example, we are unable to obtain tuberculosis testing for staff as hospitals and clinics are unable to complete these tests at this time. In addition, many assisted living facilities are facing staffing shortages, additional workloads, and higher staff turnover due to COVID-19. We are requesting a waiver or timeline extensions of rules for required staff training be allowed to acknowledge the situation providers are facing and allow them to focus efforts on providing care and services to their residents as quickly as possible.

Subject: COVID-19 and the April Primary

Good morning,

As Town Clerk, of the Town of Enterprise in Oneida County, I am writing this to express my concern regarding the status of our upcoming April primary-election.

With insufficient assistance from the WEC, and our own County and local resources being overly strained, I cannot guarantee the safety of my poll workers or citizens on election day. Lack of proper PPE and sanitizing supplies, along with the majority of staff and voters in our community being in a high-risk category, could lead to disastrous consequences. With the importance that has been placed on the COVID-19 issue, at both State and the Federal level, this is an absurd level of risk for our community to take.

WEC guidance in this area has been both lacking in realistic solutions, and blatantly incorrect in some of its' interpretations of CDC guidelines. Frankly, there is no possible way for us to realistically minimize contact between poll workers and voters to a safe level.

I would request that all efforts be made to consider rescheduling the election to a later date, possibly to coincide with the 7th district special election in May.

Thank-you for both your time and consideration in this matter.

Good morning,

Attached is Emergency Order #12. This is the “Safer at Home” order the Governor announced yesterday. These are important steps to ensure we are working to slow the spread of COVID-19, and we all need to do our part and work together to protect each other. The Governor did not take this decision lightly, but it is a necessary step in our response to COVID-19.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Individuals do not need special permission to leave their homes, but they must comply with this Order as to when it is permissible to leave home. Similarly, if a business is an Essential Business or Operation as defined in this order, it does not need documentation or certification to continue its work that is done in compliance with this Order.

It is important for legislative offices and businesses to read the order before asking questions. The order contains detailed information regarding the exemptions that will be helpful for answering questions. After reviewing the order if a business still has a question or is not exempted but believes their business is doing essential work, WEDC will be reviewing those cases. Folks can visit https://wedc.org/essentialbusiness for more information.

As always, if you need additional information or have questions please feel free to call or email me.

Subject: RE: COVID-19 Emergency Orders

Good morning,

Attached is Emergency Order #12. This is the "Safer at Home" order the Governor announced yesterday. These are important steps to ensure we are working to slow the spread of COVID-19, and we all need to do our part and work together to protect each other. The Governor did not take this decision lightly, but it is a necessary step in our response to COVID-19.

Individuals do not need special permission to leave their homes, but they must comply with this Order as to when it is permissible to leave home. Similarly, if a business is an Essential Business or Operation as defined in this order, it does not need documentation or certification to continue its work that is done in compliance with this Order.

It is important for legislative offices and businesses to read the order before asking questions. The order contains detailed information regarding the exemptions that will be helpful for answering questions. After reviewing the order if a business still has a question or is not exempted but believes their business is doing essential work, WEDC will be reviewing those cases. Folks can visit https://wedc.org/essentialbusiness for more information.

As always, if you need additional information or have questions please feel free to call or email me.

Thanks,
ZM

Subject: Covid-19 Plea

Dear Representative Felzowski,

My name is Mark Ruvel. I operate the Champion Care network, with 1 skilled nursing facility (The Bay at Eastview) and 1 assisted living center (The Bay at Garden View) located in your district. In these facilities, I have approximately 75 residents and 90 staffers that are on the frontlines of the fight against Covid-19.

Under the recently passed Families First Coronavirus Response Act, Congress appropriated approximately 580 Million dollars for Wisconsin to fight the Coronavirus pandemic. Congress also passed the CARES Act, which appropriates another $150 billion dollars for state and local governments through a yet to be determined formula. I recognize that there are many competing priorities for the best way to fight the virus, but I want you to realize that our facilities are running critically low on the Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) and staffing needed to keep our residents safe.

To that end, I'm asking that you please reach out to Governor Evers and the Wisconsin Department of Health Services to urge them to allocate at least 20% of any Congressional funding be used specifically to help the long-term care facilities in the state. We will use these funds to engage new staff, retain existing staff and obtain PPE that is essential in containing the spread of the infection.

If you have any questions or need more facts regarding the situation on the ground, please reach out to me at (347) 409-9617 or via email at mark@championhcare.com.

Representative, you are in a prime position to literally save lives. It's as simple as that. By helping give our heroic staff a voice in obtaining the resources they need to fight this threat, you are helping your constituents and the great state of Wisconsin deal with the greatest challenge many of us have ever faced.

Subject: Covid-19 Plea

Dear Representative Felzowski,

My name is Mark Ruvel. I operate the Champion Care network, with 1 skilled nursing facility (The Bay at Eastview) and 1 assisted living center (The Bay at Garden View) located in your district. In these facilities, I have approximately 75 residents and 90 staffers that are on the frontlines of the fight against Covid-19.

Under the recently passed Families First Coronavirus Response Act, Congress appropriated approximately 580 Million dollars for Wisconsin to fight the Coronavirus pandemic. Congress also passed the CARES Act, which appropriates another $150 billion dollars for state and local governments through a yet to be determined formula. I recognize that there are many competing priorities for the best way to fight the virus, but I want you to realize that our facilities are running critically low on the Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) and staffing needed to keep our residents safe.

To that end, I'm asking that you please reach out to Governor Evers and the Wisconsin Department of Health Services to urge them to allocate at least 20% of any Congressional funding be used specifically to help the long-term care facilities in the state. We will use these funds to engage new staff, retain existing staff and obtain PPE that is essential in containing the spread of the infection.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

If you have any questions or need more facts regarding the situation on the ground, please reach out to me at (347) 409-9617 or via email at mark@championhcare.com.

Representative, you are in a prime position to literally save lives. It's as simple as that. By helping give our heroic staff a voice in obtaining the resources they need to fight this threat, you are helping your constituents and the great state of Wisconsin deal with the greatest challenge many of us have ever faced.

Sincerely,

Mark Ruvel, LNHA

Representatives and Senators,

Recently, WisPolitics distributed summaries of the Republican Legislature's draft legislation relating to the COVID-19 public health emergency. Actual bill language has not yet been released.

matching percentage, which will help Wisconsin address the COVID-19 public health emergency. We were also pleased to see many unneeded mandates – such as COVID-19 treatments and telehealth coverage parity – were not included. Health plans have been proactive and are already providing such coverage without cost-sharing, obviating the need for new state mandates.

The attached memorandum details concerns with two provisions described in what was released by WisPolitics, one related to the nondiscrimination provisions (which appears to prohibit rating of groups, not just individuals, based on COVID-19) and one related to the prohibition on "balanced billing" (the language of which appears would force plans to out-of-network providers more than what is paid to in-network providers).

Subject: Destinations WI & Let's Minocqua - Covid 19 Tourism Crisis

Hello friends,

Let's Minocqua Visitors Bureau + Chamber of Commerce and the entire Wisconsin tourism industry have been decimated with the required closing of tourism businesses and limitations on group meetings resulting in cancellations of lodging reservations, conventions, sports tournaments and events. The state's destination marketing organizations, funded largely by room tax, are facing 30-70 percent budget cuts. Many are laying off staff and slashing marketing budgets for the remainder of their year including our organization.

In Minocqua, Arbor Vitae, and Woodruff (our room tax zone) we are expecting room tax revenue losses to be 40%. Cancelled group travel events, festivals, and run economic impact revenue loss is expected to be roughly $500,000 and counting. Our organization is expecting to furlough and layoff employees mid-May and many of our businesses are terrified of never opening again after they close up shop due to no revenue stream. This is dire straights for us and our Northwoods economy.

Frankly, very little of the Federal and State recovery programs presented thus far will help Destination Marketing Organizations. Most are structured as 501(c)-(6) organizations and do not qualify for many of the proposed SBA and WEDC loan and grant programs.

I was pleased to see that Governor Evers has proposed to infuse $5 million in destination marketing grants and cooperative marketing programs. These programs will be essential to Let's Minocqua and Wisconsin's tourism industry and I ask that you support keeping these programs in any final legislation.

I am hopeful that COVID-19 will subside during the summer, Wisconsin's peak travel and tourism season, and restrictions on group gatherings and human movement may be lifted. According to a Longwoods International survey of 1000 U.S. adults this week, 72% are still planning travel within six months. This is hopeful news for Wisconsin's tourism industry and we need to be prepared. Without these funds, there will not be efficient marketing dollars and campaigns available to invite our visitors when the time is right.

Wisconsin's tourism industry achieves a return on investment of 8 to 1: $8 in tax revenue per $1 promotional spend. In 2018, the tourism economy generated $1.6 billion in state and local revenue and generated 199,000 jobs. By funding these marketing programs, you can help us get this vital Wisconsin industry back on its feet, and in turn, help all of Wisconsin.

Thank you for your consideration. I am available at any time if you would like to speak with me personally. My mobile number is 920-740-5122.
Keep up the great work and I hope you are and yours are safe and healthy.

Best,

Attached please find a SAMPLE letter you could send to constituents regarding the COVID 19 situation. Many of you budgeted for "end of session letters" and this letter can be used for that purpose.

This letter was written in a way that it gives citizens information on where to go for information rather than provide specific details (which could change from day to day).

It includes resource information for employees, employers, and people who are at higher risk. Therefore, you can send it to the general population without needing to over-task LTSB with providing specific lists. How many you send out is up to you and is partly a function of your particular office balance.

A couple additional notes:

- You should be mailing these 1st class (in order to meet the April 15 deadline date for mail);
- If you do not have enough envelopes, you should determine the size of your mailing ASAP and get enough in advance. Also, if you are using blank envelopes, you will need return address stickers;
- Page staff are in the building and can assist with folding and stuffing.
- Yes, the letter contains web addresses. We tried to keep them as simple as possible since this letter will be printed and people will have to type them in. If you share on social media or in an e-update, the links will work.

A couple additional notes:

- You should be mailing these 1st class (in order to meet the April 15 deadline date for mail);
- If you do not have enough envelopes, you should determine the size of your mailing ASAP and get enough in advance. Also, if you are using blank envelopes, you will need return address stickers;
- Page staff are in the building and can assist with folding and stuffing.
- Yes, the letter contains web addresses. We tried to keep them as simple as possible since this letter will be printed and people will have to type them in. If you share on social media or in an e-update, the links will work.

Federal Programs/Benefits

As you know, the federal government has passed several COVID-19 response packages. As part of these developments, some Wisconsinites will be able to access additional unemployment benefits. We are updating our systems and creating the tools necessary to provide these.

We expect to take applications for the Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA) program the week of April 21, 2020. PUA temporarily expands UI eligibility to those who are otherwise ineligible for state UI benefits, including those who are self-employed, free lancers, independent contractors, and part-time workers impacted by COVID-19. Workers will be eligible for retroactive benefits (as far back as Feb. 2, 2020) and can receive benefits for up to 39 weeks. The PUA benefit amount is calculated as 1% of last year's total income earned, with weekly minimum and maximum benefit rates of $163 and $370, respectively.

The CARES Act also created the Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation (FPUC) program, which provides an additional $600 per week through July 31, 2020 to those who are eligible for UI or PUA benefits. Wisconsin hopes to take initial claims the week of April 21, 2020 and start making these payments the week of April 26, 2020.

Our website will contain information on these new programs and how and if one needs to apply in order to receive them. https://dwd.wisconsin.gov/ui/

We also continue to update our FAQs: https://dwd.wisconsin.gov/covid19/public/ui.htm. We urge you to share these resources with your constituents.

UI Application Process

We thought it might be useful to describe the steps involved in the UI process, and to provide typical timeframes for those steps, as a way of informing your constituents of what they can expect. First, applicants apply by making an "initial claim." Approximately 99 percent of the time, this occurs online. If need be, someone can apply by phone as well. In some cases, when someone applies online, they may need to follow up with our staff to verify some information. If that occurs, they will receive a call from our UI staff within five business days. The claimant is told that they will get a call from UI staff within that timeframe.

After that initial claim, the first week of eligibility is known as the "waiting week." During this time, an eligible claimant does not receive a benefit. After the waiting week passes, a claimant will file their first "weekly claim." Payments are typically sent out within a few days of that first weekly claim. The vast majority of payments are made by direct deposit, with the remainder by issuing reloadable debit cards.

If someone's application is lacking important information or if there is something that needs to be investigated, that can add several days or more to the process, depending on how quickly that information is obtained. Claimants are told those issues will be resolved within 21 business days. Approximately 97 percent of those adjudications are taking place within 21 business days. Some cases are more complex than others.

Several helpful documents and videos on how to apply can be found at the website as well.

DWD Staffing Measures

To handle the record volume of unemployment claims, DWD has taken extensive internal steps to meet the demand. For example:

- * Over 150 unemployment Insurance Division's (UI) employees are working overtime.
- * Trained and transferred 35 employees from another DWD division to assist the UI call center, with an additional 45 being trained for part-time assistance.
- * Recruiting to hire 36 claim specialists.
- * Hiring up to 25 positions to work on manual tasks for claims and 60 limited-term employees to process paperwork.
- * Assigned eight employees to make outgoing calls to applicants whose online applications required contact with DWD staff.
    - * Online claimants who were previously instructed to call DWD now receive a message that a claims specialist will call them back within five business days to assist them in completing their initial claim. These claim specialists have cleared more than 1,000 claims since this began on March 27.
- * Successfully recruited UI retirees to return to DWD to help as limited-term employees.

DWD IT Measures

- * Extended allowable time to complete application filing to 28 days (was 14 days).
- * Updating FAQs on a consistent basis.
- * Acquired additional trunk to allow for greater call inbound and outbound center functionality during excessive call periods.
- * Updated videos on "How to Apply for Unemployment," "How to File Weekly Claims," and "How to Create a Username and Password."
- * Claimants can change their last name using claimant portal.

Hi, LESN friends,

I hope that you and your families, friends, and coworkers are all safe and healthy out there!

I know that all of you are in varying stages of legislative session—whether you're already out sine die, taking an extended recess, or plowing onward. I wanted to pass along Education Commission of the States' updated COVID-19 resource, which includes passed and pending state and local responses to COVID-19, including how states are addressing items such as instructional time, teacher training, assessments, meals, and continuity of services for all types of student. You can find that resource here. It will also be updated weekly.

If you don't subscribe to EdClips, ECS' daily roundup of education policy news, I recommend that as well. Beyond EdClips' traditional focus on education policy news, we'll be including more timely COVID-19 updates there. You can sign up for EdClips and other ECS mailings here.

Finally, if you or one of your legislators has a question about COVID-19 response or anything else, please don't hesitate to reach out! We're also happy to make connections between you or a legislator and a policymaker in another state so that you can talk things out one-on-one.

Here to help,

Subject: Education Research Question from Rep. Mary Felzkowski

Hi Wendy,

I hope you're doing well! Rep. Felzkowski had a research question that she thinks will affect multiple states and was wondering if this is something NCSL would be able to look into for us. Would you be able to forward this to the Education Research Team?

Last week, she met with a coalition of rural superintendents who shared that they were incredibly concerned about the Higher Learning Commission's ruling on increased training hours for teachers. Our state, like many others in the Midwest and around the country, is struggling with a lack of individuals entering into the teaching profession. This problem is dually exacerbated for rural school districts who have an even more difficult time recruiting new teachers. Representative Felzkowski's question is this: How are other states reacting to the increased requirements and approaching what appears to be an undue burden on an already burdened profession?

Below is a portion of an email from one of the superintendents which might help kick-start your research (the attachment is also from the superintendent's email). Please let me know if you think this is something NCSL will be able to look into for us.

Thank you!

Stamena Ivanov

1) HLC's rules are set, they are not wavering in this and there's nothing that will change their position. The following is a link to their website as to who the HLC is, etc.:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

https://www.hlcommission.org/

2) As the first attached document shows, the adverse implications of this matter are going to be catastrophic throughout Wisconsin and our collective efforts to curtail post-secondary debt, and time to work, contributing to the plight that is facing all public and private businesses and entities, and that's finding talent. I do not need to comment any further as to how this all ties together in the growth and progression of our state, you're well aware I know, as it's what you all strive to do in your work each day...to move our economy and society forward.

Coincidentally, this email just came from Midwestern Higher Education Compact
- https://www.mhec.org/

The matter at hand as you can see is well beyond the borders of only Wisconsin, and I'm proud to say that Wisconsin is already ahead in this work due to the efforts of NEWERA (Northeast Wisconsin Educational Resource Alliance) - https://www.neweraonline.org/

NEWERA has already put a database/locator together for interested teachers, yet even with this, there are challenges, ESPECIALLY in math. Math content courses are far and few, very high-level and with minimal availability. My math teacher has been tirelessly trying to pursue courses, yet those available in his schedule are found out of state, and defer to those interested, or they are offered during his workday. Additionally, and it is what it is, the courses are very rigorous...he began on this past year and dropped after a week as it was consuming any and all of his time he had outside of teaching and the other roles he serves to the school and school-community.

Yet, to also put into perspective, what we're up against, are the following numbers completed by a survey of NWTC of its certified high school instructors at this time in their technical college region here in Northeast Wisconsin - I can assume you'll see similar in any other region throughout the state:

RIGHT NOW THERE ARE = 154 General Studies Transcribed credit teachers in NWTC's entire region of service

ONLY 18 currently meet HLC (only 12% of the teachers currently offering dual credit)

14 are undecided if they are pursuing HLC credentials

50 are not pursuing HLC credentials (so 1/3 aren't even interested in pursuing, even with free tuition - most schools have moved away from models of compensation that offer greater compensation solely based on credit attainment, hence why we're proposing an incentive model as shared in my previous email today)

32 will start pursuing HLC credentials

40 have not responded with their plan (I assume this means they're likely not interested in this matter, hence no reply)

So, based on the above, and making some fair assumptions, Northeast Wisconsin alone will likely lose more than one-half of it's currently accredited instructors that offer post-secondary coursework at the secondary level - CATASTROPHIC!!!

Hoping we can continue moving this conversation forward.

Best,

Ben

Dear Colleagues,

MHEC is working on creating a searchable database high school teachers can use to find the graduate courses they need to qualify under HLC guidelines to teach concurrent enrollment courses in high schools. We are seeking feedback from folks at institutions who run such graduate courses and programs and those who run concurrent enrollment programs. If you are such a person, or if you know such a person and can forward this request to that individual, please consider taking a look at the two documents linked below:

WTA WISCONSIN TOWNS ASSOCIATION
Empowering Town Officials

Town Clerks, Chairs, and Supervisors:

Our staff cannot recall a time in the last two decades where we have received as many phone calls and emails as in the last 10 days. Out of the hundreds of questions and concerns, a great number have pertained to the election. Every single person that has called our legal hotline with an opinion about elections has asked for them to be postponed. They have cited, among other things, severe lack of poll workers, mental stress, and obvious physical dangers. Yesterday, one town had all 9 poll workers quit in mass. That town currently has none.

I have personally spoken with several of you who are currently in fine shape. You have plenty of poll workers and feel your town can adequately address the need to protect mental and physical health while ensuring nobody is disenfranchised. Unfortunately, this is likely the anomaly.

Our election system is only as strong as the weakest link. For reasons outside of their control, many towns have serious doubts about the viability of an April 7th election. If even a few towns falter, the whole system's integrity is in jeopardy.

At the request of the Board of Directors, I am offering you the opportunity to sign a letter that will be delivered to the Governor, Senate Majority Leader, and Assembly Speaker. It will also be released to the media. If you would like your name to appear on the letter, please email Sandy Wanta at sandy.wanta@wisctowns.com or call her at 715-526-3157 no later than 3pm on Friday March 27th. Please indicate your name, town name, town position, and county.

We are also requesting that you contact your legislators and the Governor directly with your opinion, regardless of what that is (postpone or not), if you are so inclined. You can find out who your legislators are here - http://maps.legis.wisconsin.gov/?single=y&lat=&lon=&address= The Governor's office phone number is 608-266-1212.

Happy Friday Everyone!!

I think it goes without saying that you all know how I feel about these suggestions from the governor. Not only would this be a gross violation of the law requiring photo ID to vote, they would be a logistical nightmare for our municipal clerks. Clerks are already working around the clock to fulfill absentee ballot requests, to ask them to now send a ballot to every registered voter with just over a week to go before the election, would be downright impossible.

I am not AS opposed to his points 2 and 3, simply because the clerks are inundated with so many legitimate requests for absentee ballots that it is going to be a challenge to get them out in a timely fashion for the mail to deliver them by April 7.

An alternative that would provide some relief is to allow clerks to start processing absentee ballots on April 4 for those who have tens of thousands of ballots to process.

Thanks for all you do!!

Dear Elected Official,

Thank you for your tireless efforts during these times to serve the people of your community and the people of the state of Wisconsin. Your dedication to ensuring the safety of your communities is noticed, and we appreciate your leadership. We are all in this together, and we know everyone is doing the very best they can to keep people safe.

Today, the Governor asked the legislative leadership to work together on behalf of those performing their constitutional duty to administer the elections and those who are trying to exercise their constitutional right to vote—with the safety of our people as the top priority.

While we cannot mitigate every challenge with the upcoming April election, the Governor believes we can work together to put some measures in place to protect the safety of the people of Wisconsin.

With that in mind, the Governor is asking the legislature to immediately pass legislation to do the following:

- Allow voters the opportunity to vote from home by sending an absentee ballot to every registered voter
- Allow absentee ballots postmarked the day of the election to be counted
- Extend the time period to give clerks extra time to count the influx of absentee ballots

The Governor knows we have to act quickly, ensure everyone can safely exercise their right to vote, and keep our people safe.

Please see the Governor's comments today https://vimeo.com/401229352/fecdcfacab

Words cannot express our appreciation for all your work. We know you all are out their creating solutions to challenges.

Thank you again. As this situation impacts every person in the state of Wisconsin, we thank you for your service.

Hello Everyone,

With the passage of the Governor's "Safer-at-Home" order creating some confusion within the business community, we have been trying to get additional guidance regarding what businesses are considered essential.

Many offices have forwarded to our office specific businesses they would like clarity on. We've been working with the Governor's office and WEDC to provide that clarity.

While I continue to wait on a couple of determinations, I thought that it might be helpful to everyone to know the determinations I've already received. I have placed this information in a google doc. I will update it as I receive more information.

If offices have received clarifications from the Governor's office or WEDC on their own, I hope that you would be willing to share it with the caucus. If you can forward the email response you received, I will add it to the list.

If you continue to receive essential business questions, please forward them to our office.

THE WHITE HOUSE

State & Local Leaders –

Thank you for joining the White House COVID-19 briefing call with Vice President Mike Pence and Senior Administration Officials on Wednesday, March 18. We appreciate your partnership in this whole-of-government, all-of-America approach to address COVID-19 and recognize the important role you play in keeping Americans safe and healthy. As an immediate follow-up to the call, we hope that you will share CDC's mitigation guidelines – 15 Days to Slow the Spread – publicly through social media, newsletters, and other channels. We also want to highlight a few key actions on items discussed on the call. As a reminder, response and recovery is locally executed, state managed, and federally supported. Please continue to work with your local emergency management offices up through your State Emergency Management Agencies (here), all of which are in close coordination with FEMA and HHS.

COVID-19: Background & Additional Information

Background

Under the leadership of President Trump and Vice President Pence, the full weight of the U.S. Government is working to protect the health and safety of the American people. Since the beginning of the outbreak, President Trump has taken unprecedented steps – including prudent travel restrictions and an early containment strategy – to protect the health of Americans in response to the coronavirus. In January, the President formed a Coronavirus Task Force, led by Vice President Mike Pence and comprised of subject-matter experts, to organize a whole-of-government response (President Donald J. Trump Has Taken Unprecedented Steps to Respond To the Coronavirus and Protect the Health and Safety of Americans). The Coronavirus Task Force and broader Administration have and will continue to work with State-Local-Tribal officials and private sector and non-profit partners in preparing for and responding to the Coronavirus. It is important to note that the threat of serious illness to the average American remains low. All agencies are working aggressively to monitor this continuously evolving situation and to keep our stakeholders informed. We appreciate your partnership in this whole-of-government, all-of-America response.

FEMA Releases Guidance On Public Assistance for States, Local Governments, and Eligible Non-Profits
The Administration continues to place its full weight and resources behind the response to COVID-19. FEMA currently has over $500 million in available balances in the Disaster Relief Fund (DRF) Base to support all 56 States and Territories for COVID-19 response efforts, including for direct Federal assistance, temporary facilities, commodities, equipment, and emergency operation costs. On March 17th, the Administration submitted a request to Congressional Appropriators for additional fiscal year (FY) 2020 funding in the amount of $45.8 billion and the necessary authorities to address ongoing preparedness and response efforts. Included in this request is $2 billion in the Disaster Relief Fund Base Account to ensure there are resources available to support continued disaster operations. State, Territorial, Tribal, local government entities and certain private non-profit (PNP) organizations are eligible to apply for Public Assistance. States, Tribal and Territorial governments do not need to request separate emergency declarations to receive FEMA assistance under this nationwide declaration. The emergency declaration will reimburse for eligible emergency protective measures taken to respond to the COVID-19 emergency at the direction or guidance of public health officials under Category B of FEMA's Public Assistance program. FEMA will not duplicate assistance provided by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), to include the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), or other federal agencies. President Donald J. Trump Directs FEMA Support Under Emergency Declaration for COVID-19
The federal government continues to take aggressive and proactive steps to address the COVID-19 threat as the health and safety of the American people remain a top priority (President Donald J. Trump Has Mobilized the Full Resources of the Federal Government to Respond to the Coronavirus). On Friday, March 13, President Trump declared a nationwide emergency pursuant to Sec. 501(b) of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, 42 U.S.C. 5121-5207 (the "Stafford Act") (Letter from President Donald J. Trump on Emergency Determination Under the Stafford Act). This increases federal support to the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) in its role as the lead federal agency for the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic response. As a result of the President's decisive, unprecedented action, FEMA is directed to assist state, local, tribal, territorial governments and other eligible entities with the health and safety actions they take on behalf of the American public. FEMA actions will be in support of HHS and in coordination with state, tribal and territorial governments. Eligible emergency protective measures taken at the direction or guidance of public health officials in response to this emergency, and not supported by the authorities of another federal agency, will be reimbursed strictly under the FEMA Public Assistance program. FEMA assistance will be provided at a 75 percent Federal cost share. Reimbursable activities typically include emergency protective measures such as the activation of State Emergency Operations Centers, National Guard costs, law enforcement and other measures necessary to protect public health and safety. Federal Agency Programs & Action Overview

U.S. Department of Health & Human Services (HHS)

- The Department of Health and Human Services is committed to providing as much information as possible to prepare communities for response to COVID-19. The Department, through the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the Food and Drug Administration, and other agencies, continuously provide guidance to healthcare providers, laboratories, communities, and state and local officials for dealing with suspected or confirmed cases of COVID-19. The most up-to-date information can be found at www.coronavirus.gov.
- Guidance
    - CDC released their Implementation of Mitigation Strategies for Communities with Local COVID-19 Transmission. This is a guide for communities describing possible coronavirus transmission. Community mitigation strategies are often the most available interventions to help slow the transmission of COVID-19 in communities.
    - CMS released guidance for nursing homes. The guidance can be found here. The Press Release can be found here.
    - CDC released updated guidance on infection prevention and control recommendations for healthcare workers. Healthcare workers are fighting this outbreak on the front lines, and this guidance is intended to provide assistance to healthcare settings that are handling suspected or confirmed cases of COVID-19. This guidance is applicable to all U.S. healthcare settings.
- Regulatory Flexibilities - The President's emergency declaration gives HHS important powers to enhance state and local communities' ability to respond to the outbreak, including flexibility around Medicare and Medicaid rules.
    - Flexibility and Relief for State Medicaid Agencies: The national emergency declaration also enables CMS to grant state and territorial Medicaid agencies a wider range of flexibilities under section 1135 waivers. States and territories are now encouraged to assess their needs and request these available flexibilities, which are outlined in the Medicaid and CHIP Disaster Response Toolkit. Examples of flexibilities available to states under section 1135 waivers include the ability to permit out-of-state providers to render services, temporarily suspend certain provider enrollment and revalidation requirements to promote access to care, allow providers to provide care in alternative settings, waive prior authorization requirements, and temporarily suspend certain pre-admission and annual screenings for nursing home residents. For more information and to access the toolkit, visit here.
    - Waivers and Flexibilities for Hospitals and other Healthcare Facilities: CMS will temporarily waive or modify certain Medicare, Medicaid, and CHIP requirements. CMS will also issue several blanket waivers, listed on the website below, and the CMS Regional Offices will review other provider-specific requests. These waivers provide continued access to care for beneficiaries. For more information on the waivers CMS has granted, visit here.
    - Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) Nursing Home Guidance: As you know, nursing homes and their residents are vulnerable populations for COVID-19. This week, CMS released updated guidance for infection control and prevention of COVID-19 in Nursing Homes which can be found here (3/9). The Press Release can be found here and all CMS guidance related to COVID-19 can be found here.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

    - Expanded Telehealth Coverage (3/17): The Trump Administration announced expanded Medicare telehealth coverage that will enable beneficiaries to receive a wider range of healthcare services from their doctors without having to travel to a healthcare facility. More here.
- Testing - As part of the ongoing and aggressive commitment to address the coronavirus outbreak, the FDA updated a policy originally issued on Feb. 29 on diagnostic testing for coronavirus (COVID-19) in order to achieve more rapid testing capacity in the U.S. The guidance provides more specific details for the laboratory and commercial manufacturer communities, including:
    - First, FDA is putting in place a policy for states to take responsibility for tests developed and used by laboratories in their states, similar to the action the FDA granted to the New York State Department of Health last week. States can set up a system in which they take responsibility for authorizing such tests and the laboratories will not engage with the FDA.
    - Second, FDA is expanding who the policy outlined in the Feb. 29 guidance applies to. The policy was originally applicable only to laboratories that are certified to perform high-complexity testing consistent with requirements under the Clinical Laboratory Improvement Amendments. Under the update published today, the agency does not intend to object to commercial manufacturers distributing and labs using new commercially developed tests prior to the FDA granting an EUA, under certain circumstances.
    - Finally, FDA's updated policy provides recommendations for test developers who may wish to develop serological tests for use during this coronavirus outbreak. Serological tests measure the amount of antibodies or proteins present in the blood when the body is responding to a specific infection.
- Wednesday, March 12, CDC announced the imminent release of almost $600 million to support state and local authorities respond to the COVID-19 outbreak. Full funding amounts are here.
- The U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps has deployed hundreds of officers to help with this response. As America's Health Responders, the Commissioned Corps is currently very involved in assisting the CDC with airport screenings, deploying staff to support hospitals, among other important missions. Find out more about Commissioned Corps activities here.
- Part of preparedness includes a robust blood supply. The current situation around COVID-19 heightens the need for a ready blood supply, please encourage your health community members to keep their appointments to donate blood.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA)

- The U.S. Small Business Administration is offering designated states and territories low-interest federal disaster loans for working capital to small businesses suffering substantial economic injury as a result of the Coronavirus (COVID-19). Upon a request received from a state's or territory's Governor, SBA will issue under its own authority, as provided by the Coronavirus Preparedness and Response Supplemental Appropriations Act that was recently signed by the President, an Economic Injury Disaster Loan declaration.
- Any such Economic Injury Disaster Loan assistance declaration issued by the SBA makes loans available statewide to small businesses and private, non-profit organizations to help alleviate economic injury caused by the Coronavirus (COVID-19).
- SBA's Office of Disaster Assistance will coordinate with the state's or territory's Governor to submit the request for Economic Injury Disaster Loan assistance.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Once a declaration is made, the information on the application process for Economic Injury Disaster Loan assistance will be made available to affected small businesses within the state.
- These loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable and other bills that can't be paid because of the disaster's impact. The interest rate is 3.75% for small businesses. The interest rate for non-profits is 2.75%.
- SBA offers loans with long-term repayments in order to keep payments affordable, up to a maximum of 30 years. Terms are determined on a case-by-case basis, based upon each borrower's ability to repay.
- SBA's Economic Injury Disaster Loans are just one piece of the expanded focus of the federal government's coordinated response, and the SBA is strongly committed to providing the most effective and customer-focused response possible.
- For additional information, please visit the SBA disaster assistance website at SBA.gov/Disaster.

U.S. Department of Education (DoED)

- The Department of Education has established a dedicated Coronavirus webpage, which includes resources for institutions of higher education and for K-12.
    - The website includes guidance for students at institutions of higher education, and covers Coronavirus-related scenarios that could impact students who are enrolled in study abroad programs, students who meet full-time requirements but fall below 12 credit hours, students who are quarantined and miss class, campuses that have temporarily stopped offering ground-based classes to prevent the spread of Coronavirus, and foreign schools that serve Americans who receive Federal financial aid. Also see a letter from the Office for Civil Rights that addresses potential discrimination associated with coronavirus.
- On Friday, March 20, the Department of Education announced the suspension of federal student loan payments and waiving interest during the national emergency. All borrowers with federally held student loans will automatically have their interest rates set to 0% for a period of at least 60 days. In addition, each of these borrowers will have the option to suspend their payments for at least two months to allow them greater flexibility during the national emergency. More here.
- The Department has provided additional information for families and communities including:
    - Information regarding certain flexibilities under the Every Student Succeeds Act, or "ESSA;" (more here)
    - Information regarding services to children with disabilities; (more here)
    - A fact sheet from the Office for Civil Rights on the risk of Coronavirus in schools while protecting the civil rights of students; and a short webinar on Online Education and Website Accessibility;
    - Information on the Family Education Records Privacy Act, or "FERPA," as it pertains to K-12 and higher education students (more here);
    - Information for Accrediting Agencies Regarding Temporary Flexibilities Provided to Coronavirus Impacted Institutions or Accrediting Agencies (more here).
- The Department will continue to update its website, ed.gov/coronavirus. Please direct education related questions to COVID-19@ed.gov.

U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT)

- The U.S. Department of Transportation, in its important supporting role, has and will continue to coordinate with transportation stakeholders, foreign counterparts and other federal agencies to manage the risk in the United States.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- The U.S. government's travel restrictions and advisories have been a remarkably effective 'first layer' of containment. These travel requirements delayed the arrival of the virus to the United States, giving the nation precious time to prepare further measures, and plan for mitigation. This achievement took the cooperation of nearly 200 commercial airlines, a like number of overseas airports, and the Civil Aviation Authority of China.
- DOT continues to ensure: an active air bridge remains in place for the safe return of Americans from affected areas; airlines are funneling passenger flights to one of the eleven designated U.S. airports equipped to health-screen Americans returning from affected areas; continued air and sea cargo traffic between the US and China; health protocols are established to protect the crews of aircraft continuing to fly between the US and foreign locations; and, dissemination of health messages about the virus, for airlines to use to inform their passengers.
- External Stakeholder outreach is being actively conducted throughout the modes of transportation in DOT. DOT has already hosted calls with stakeholders for the Federal Aviation Administration, Federal Transit Authority, Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration, and others. Additional calls are scheduled for outreach to additional stakeholders in all surface transportation, maritime, and labor.
- On March 13, USDOT issued a national emergency declaration to provide hours-of-service regulatory relief to commercial vehicle drivers transporting emergency relief to the nationwide COVID-19 outbreak. The declaration does not cover routine commercial deliveries, or transportation of mixed loads of essential supplies and/or persons and goods or persons not related to emergency needs. Effective immediately, the declaration will remain in effect for the duration of the emergency or until 11:59 P.M. (ET), April 11, 2020, whichever occurs sooner. Learn more here.

U.S. Department of Labor (DOL)

- The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) developed COVID-19 planning guidance for employers to implement engineering, administrative, and work practice controls and personal protective equipment (PPE). The guidance is intended for planning purposes – employers and workers should use the planning guidance to help identify risk levels in workplace settings and to determine any appropriate control measures to implement.
- DOL announced new guidance outlining flexibilities that States have in administering their unemployment (UI) programs to assist Americans affected by the COVID-19 outbreak. Under the guidance, federal law permits significant flexibility for states to amend their laws to provide UI benefits in multiple scenarios related to COVID-19. Learn more here.
- On March 14, DOL issued new temporary enforcement guidance for respirator fit-testing in healthcare during the COVID-19 outbreak. The temporary guidance is aimed at ensuring healthcare workers have full access to needed N95 respiratory protection. OSHA recommends that employers supply healthcare personnel who provide direct care to patients with known or suspected coronavirus with other respirators that provide equal or higher protection, such as N99 or N100 filtering facepieces, reusable elastomeric respirators with appropriate filters or cartridges, or powered air purifying respirators. Learn more here.
- On March 18, DOL announced availability of up to $100 Million in National Health Emergency Dislocated Worker Grants (DWGs) in response to COVID-19. The DWGs are intended to provide eligible participants with both disaster-relief employment and employment training services. These participants can include dislocated workers, workers who were laid-off as a result of the disaster, self-employed individuals who are unemployed or underemployed as a result of the disaster, and long-term unemployed individuals. Learn more here.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- The Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP) issued a National Interest Exemption Memorandum to further facilitate response efforts for COVID-19. OFCCP will grant a limited, three-month exemption and waiver from some requirements of the laws administered by the agency.
- The Wage and Hour Division (WHD) has developed frequently asked questions documents highlighting application of the Fair Labor Standards Act and Family and Medical Leave Act during a public health emergency. Learn more here.

U.S. Department of Housing & Urban Development (HUD)

- The health and well-being of our country's most vulnerable citizens is Secretary Ben Carson's highest priority. At the direction of Secretary Carson senior HUD, officials have developed an Infectious Disease Toolkit for Continuum of Care homeless shelters (CoC). This includes specific documents addressing preparedness in shelters and encampment settings. More here.
- On Wednesday, March 18, Secretary Carson, in consultation with the Coronavirus Task Force, announced the suspension of all foreclosure and evictions for single family homeowners with FHA-insured mortages for 60 days. The guidance applies to homewoekrs with FHA-insured Title II Single Family forward and Home Equity Conversion (reverse) mortgages, and directs mortgage servicers to:
    - Halt all new foreclosure actions and suspend all foreclosure actions currently in process; and
    - Cease all evictions of persons from FHA-insured single-family properties.
- HUD has sent communication to CoC and Housing Opportunities for Persons With AIDS (HOPWA) grantees, highlighting the importance of infectious disease preparedness and linking to CDC and Healthcare for the Homeless resources: Infectious Disease Preparedness Among Homeless Assistance Providers.
- HUD released a quick guide to CDBG eligible activities to support infectious disease response. Grantees should coordinate with local health authorities before undertaking any activity to support State or local pandemic response. The guide can be found here.
- HUD is coordinating with the CDC, Healthcare for the Homeless, United States Interagency Council on Homelessness (USICH) on messaging and cross-promoting resource materials. This will continue on an ongoing basis. Also, the Department is reaching out to Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) and Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) for future coordination.
- HUD has plenty of resources for your communities including:
    - Communities can use their unspent Emergency Solutions Grants and Continuum of Care Program funds to help address needs related to coronavirus. Additionally, a portion of CDBG funds are also available for public services, including health care.
    - Technical Assistance is available for ESG and CoC Program recipients if requested. Additionally, communities that want to amend their CDBG plans, can reach out to their CPD representative if they need assistance.

U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA)

- USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue announced proactive flexibilities to allow meal service during school closures to minimize potential exposure to the coronavirus. During an unexpected school closure, schools can leverage their participation in one of USDA's summer meal programs to provide meals at no cost to students. Under normal circumstances, those meals must be served in a group setting. However, in a public health emergency, the law allows USDA the authority to waive the group setting meal requirement, which is vital during a social distancing situation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

    - USDA and President Trump have been in communication with Food and Grocery Stakeholders and Executives to discuss the impact COVID-19 has on America's food supply chain. More here.
    - USDA announced a collaboration with the Baylor Collaborative on Hunger and Poverty, McLane Global, PepsiCo, and others to deliver nearly 1,000,000 meals a week to students in rural schools closed due to COVID-19. More here.
    - Businesses or groups interested in helping should email: feedingkids@usda.gov.
- USDA intends to use all available program flexibilities and contingencies to serve program participants across our 15 nutrition programs. USDA has already begun to issue waivers to ease program operations and protect the health of participants. USDA is receiving requests for waivers on an ongoing basis.
- The food supply chain remains strong. Critical services, including Food Safety Inspections Services (FSIS), Animal Plan Health Inspection Service (APHIS), and Food and Nutrition Service (FNS), continue to serve the American people. More here.
- For more information about the coronavirus response across USDA, please visit: www.usda.gov/coronavirus.

U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA)

- The Department of Veterans Affairs has implemented an aggressive public health response to protect and care for Veterans in the face of this emerging health risk. We are working directly with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and other federal partners to monitor the outbreak of the virus. These measures include outreach to Veterans and staff, clinical screening at VA health care facilities, and protective procedures for patients admitted to community living centers and spinal cord injury units.
- Any Veteran with symptoms such as fever, cough or shortness of breath should immediately contact their local VA facility. You can find the closest VA facility here. VA urges Veterans to call before visiting. Veterans can sign into My HealtheVet to send a secure message to VA or use telehealth options to explain their condition and receive a prompt diagnosis.
- The VA has setup a website for veterans here: https://www.publichealth.va.gov/n-coronavirus/

U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS)

- Actions by DHS and the administration are decreasing the strain on public health officials by screening incoming travelers, expediting the processing of U.S. citizens returning from China, and ensuring resources are focused on the health and safety of the American people. It is important to recognize, that while there is a significant focus on containing and mitigating the spread of COVID-19, all departments and agencies of DHS are continuing to perform their regular duties with no impact on their mission.
- DHS is working to recognize, detect, and assist individuals attempting to enter the U.S. through our, airports, land ports, or waterways who may be carrying the virus: Cruise Lines International Association, CDC, USCG, and CBP. DHS is working with the Department of State, HHS, and the senior public health leadership with the Government of Mexico to prepare for any COVID-19 cases identified along the South West Border. This effort includes coordination with state, and local Public Health Officials to develop reporting and response courses of action.
    - On Thursday, March 12, President Donald J. Trump signed a Presidential Proclamation, which suspends the entry of most foreign nationals who have been in certain European countries at any point during the 14 days prior to their scheduled arrival to the United States. AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Malta, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, and Switzerland. This does not apply to legal permanent residents, (generally) immediate family members of U.S. citizens, and other individuals who are identified in the proclamation.

    - In furtherance of Presidential Proclamations 9984, 9992, 9993, and 9994, which bans the entry of non-U.S. citizens who are from or recently been in China, Iran, or certain European countries, the Department of Homeland Security issued a Notice of Arrival Restrictions requiring American citizens, legal permanent residents, and their immediate families who are returning home to the U.S. to travel through one of 13 airports upon arrival to the U.S., submit to an enhanced entry screening and self-quarantine for 14 days once they reach their final destination. More here.
- The Cyber & Infrastructure Security Agency issued guidance and an accompanying list intended to support State, local, and industry partners in identifying the critical infrastructure sectors and the essential workers needed to maintain the services and functions Americans depend on daily and that need to be able to operate resiliently during the COVID-19 pandemic response. More here.

In a letter addressed to USPS IG Tammy Whitcomb, the pair said mail played an "outsized role" in the April 7 election due to a surge in absentee ballot requests over the COVID-19 pandemic.

"Unfortunately, there have been numerous accounts from the state that USPS failed to fulfill that critical function for some voters," the letter read. "It is critical that you quickly identify what has gone wrong and propose solutions that USPS can swiftly implement."

The letter then cited reports of tubs full of absentee ballots meant for Appleton and Oshkosh that turned up in a Milwaukee processing center after the polls had already closed and the ballots were obsolete, as well as reports from the Village of Fox Point that USPS returned "multiple batches" of ballots without an explanation.

-- In the wake of Bernie Sanders ending his presidential campaign, Rep. David Bowen says the Vermont Independent will be "key on the campaign trail" to helping Joe Biden defeat President Trump.

But Bowen told WisPolitics.com he believes the extent to which Sanders' supporters embrace Biden depends on how willing the former vice president is to fold Sanders' progressive policies into his agenda.

"I would say that's one of the things that was very, very hard to see and get done in 2016," the Milwaukee Dem said in an interview. "He has a huge opportunity to bring everybody into the fold and to make sure that the agenda reflects the will of the Democratic Party's base."

Sanders on Wednesday announced he would suspend his presidential campaign but stay on the ballot to continue collecting delegates for the August Dem convention in Milwaukee in order to "exert significant influence over the party platform."

Bowen said he backed the move, noting a number of outstanding primary elections ahead of the convention. He conceded that "we all know Joe Biden is the nominee" but added: "It's important that people still get a chance to vote the way they want to."

"There's still people just like me that really appreciate the chance to be able to vote for his agenda and his leadership," he said.

Still, Bowen said he believes Sanders will be an active surrogate supporting Biden, noting he did the same for Hilary Clinton after conceding the Dem presidential nomination in 2016.

"I would see it no different this time around," he said. "I know that he's going to do everything he can to defeat Donald Trump."

-- A coalition of business groups, led by Wisconsin Manufacturers & Commerce, is asking Gov. Tony Evers to set a "firm" date to begin reopening the state's economy as the guv's stay-at-home order expires later this month.

In a letter, the trade groups and chambers of commerce argued that "no one expects that our economy would go back to 'business as usual' on April 24." But choosing a date would allow businesses to prepare a "strategic and well-planned approach" to put the economy back on track. That includes time to recall furloughed employees, restock supplies and reengage supply chains.

In the letter, the business groups noted the state's unemployment rate is estimated at around 13.4 percent, which would be a state record.

"Businesses and their employees find themselves in times of unprecedented hardship and uncertainty," they wrote. "Wisconsin needs to bring certainty to workers and businesses alike by setting a firm date to begin the process of reopening our economy on April 24 -- the end date for the Safer at Home order."

When asked if the stay-at-home order would be extended, DHS Secretary Andrea Palm said in a webinar that the goal is to "get to a place where we are very actively managing this outbreak with the tools we have like contact tracing, like testing, to manage it in an active way so that folks can begin to return to normal life and normal business."

"I do not think folks should expect that we're going to flip a switch and that's all going to happen at once," she said.

The guv's office didn't immediately respond yesterday afternoon to a request for comment.

-- Rep. Jim Steineke in this week's GOP radio address said Republican lawmakers are asking Gov. Tony Evers to spend the federal coronavirus stimulus package on "things that will matter the most to our state."

The Kaukauna Republican said Evers has "sole discretion" over the incoming federal aid of some $2 billion. And he said a GOP letter to Evers recommends the money go towards healthcare, businesses, workers and local governments.

"With families already struggling, now is not the time for tax increases or other economically detrimental policies," he said.

But he also slammed "legislative inaction and disappointing decisions" for requiring an in-person election to go forward in the first place.

"From Milwaukee to Green Bay to Eau Claire, Wisconsinites had to make the difficult decision between protecting their health and safety or exercising their fundamental right to vote," Evers said. "Folks, that's a choice nobody should ever have to make."

The guv recommended people maintain social distancing and monitor themselves for possible COVID-19 symptoms over the following weeks.

Speaking to constituents during a tele-town hall last night, the Town of Vermont Dem said the package set to come out at the end of April would also include aid for teenagers who were put out of work by the virus but are still dependents of their parents.

Pocan also said he is working on reopening the Affordable Care Act enrollment period and providing other healthcare alternatives for those who remain uninsured and worry about contracting the virus. He aims for coronavirus tests to be free to all Americans, no matter the status of their healthcare.

Pocan urged constituents to be patient, explaining that Wisconsin is not receiving the necessary amounts of protective equipment at this time, because the hotspots of the virus are being prioritized at the federal level.

"We'll get through this, we're Wisconsin," said Pocan.

WI election a lesson for the nation, but legal experts divided on what that lesson is

... Wisconsin is the only state in the nation to hold a presidential primary election in April, when the COVID-19 pandemic is expected to surge. Ten other states have put primaries on hold or moved to mail-in voting. "I think every other state made the right call," said [OSU Law prof.] Foley ... [rehash pre-election court rulings] ... [UW Law prof. Yablon said voters sickened at election likely can't sue those who permitted the election,] "Those officials typically have at least partial immunity from suits for damages." [said Karofsky, if close loser, unlikely to succeed in court] "Those courts have been willing to tolerate a fair bit of imperfection in electoral processes. She would likely need to offer fairly compelling evidence of misconduct, such as officials improperly rejecting lawfully cast ballots." ... Karofsky has already hinted at the possibility of litigation. "It's too early right now to think about what legal remedies may be available" ... [Voces' Norman said Voces-LOWV et.al. "soon" to discuss suit] "As we did in (last week's) lawsuit, we would likely work in alliance with other organizations rather than go it alone." ... [UW prof. Schweber said,] "The key event here was the Republicans declining to postpone the election -- it is generally impossible in our system to bring a claim against a government for not doing something." ... [US Supreme's 5-4 ruling] "is an ominous sign ... Imagine also that the president, continuing to minimize the threat posed by the virus, tells his supporters that they should go out and vote anyway. Monday's decision suggests that the Supreme Court wouldn't care," [wrote U-Mich. Law prof.] Litman. [Foley said unanimous upholding April 13 ballot acceptance is good sign,] "Wisconsin has done us a favor," he said. [but outstanding absentees outnumbering win margin would complicate matters] ... "I think judges -- on both the legal left and the legal right -- try to call them as they see them," [WILL's Esenberg] said ... "because of differences in constitutional philosophy, not partisanship." ... [UW prof. Owens said] arguments might center on racial disparities and the 14th Amendment's equal protection clause. ... "U.S. Supreme Court already showed that it thinks the federal courts should tread very carefully here. ... If Wisconsin law does not allow the Governor to do what he did, they should direct their ire at ... the Governor, the legislature, the mayors and city councils across the state." Yablon: "When the right to vote is threatened and courts fail to help safeguard it, the public's faith in the judiciary likely takes a hit, especially when the public suspects that partisan motives may have been at work."

Liberals contend they were shut out of WI Supreme Court election deliberations

... Court rejected a request from Pines to submit a friend-of-the-court brief on behalf of [SEIU] and others that wanted to see the election delayed. The justices didn't grant the request because they determined it was submitted too late. ... "There are rules that the Supreme Court requires all people who appear before them to follow -- except when they don't enforce the rules," Madison attorney Lester Pines said. "It does certainly lend an appearance of favoritism." ... "If Mr. Pines wanted to be heard, he needed to get his submission done immediately because the court is under no obligation to wait for him," [WILL's] Esenberg said by email. "He could have done what we did. He did not." ... Court spokesman Tom Sheehan said none of the communications, including those from conservatives, arrived in time ... did not say whether the court would handle future filings the way it had in the election case. [RPW, Counties'] Attorneys ... did not immediately respond Thursday to Pines' criticism or say why they submitted letters rather than friend-of-the-court briefs.

US Sens. Baldwin, Johnson call for USPS to investigate undelivered absentee ballots
... [letter to IG Whitcomb] citing reported delivery failures in Appleton, Oshkosh and Fox Point Village and saying they are "concerned there may be more examples" of missing ballots. ... How many ballots were not delivered is the big unanswered question. ... [probe needed] so absentee voting procedures are "strictly and effectively followed" during upcoming elections. WEC cited record 1.3M absentee ballots requested, about 235K had not yet been returned as of Thursday. ... [unknown how many] were completed by voters and mailed back ... [rehash Feyen, Albrecht, Botcher] ... [liberal] Better Wisconsin Together ... received > 2,000 reports of missing ballots through a website it created to track them. ... [most likely after Monday's announced results, especially if races are close]. WEC's Wolfe said all online requests were transferred to proper clerk. WI election a lesson for the nation, but legal experts divided on what that lesson is

... Wisconsin is the only state in the nation to hold a presidential primary election in April, when the COVID-19 pandemic is expected to surge. Ten other states have put primaries on hold or moved to mail-in voting. "I think every other state made the right call," said [OSU Law prof.] Foley ... [rehash pre-election court rulings] ... [UW Law prof. Yablon said voters sickened at election likely can't sue those who permitted the election,] "Those officials typically have at least partial immunity from suits for damages." [said Karofsky, if close loser, unlikely to succeed in court] "Those courts have been willing to tolerate a fair bit of imperfection in electoral processes. She would likely need to offer fairly compelling evidence of misconduct, such as officials improperly rejecting lawfully cast ballots." ... Karofsky has already hinted at the possibility of litigation. "It's too early right now to think about what legal remedies may be available" ... [Voces' Norman said Voces-LOWV et.al. "soon" to discuss suit] "As we did in (last week's) lawsuit, we would likely work in alliance with other organizations rather than go it alone." ... [UW prof. Schweber said,] "The key event here was the Republicans declining to postpone the election -- it is generally impossible in our system to bring a claim against a government for not doing something." ... [US Supreme's 5-4 ruling] "is an ominous sign ... Imagine also that the president, continuing to minimize the threat posed by the virus, tells his supporters that they should go out and vote anyway. Monday's decision suggests that the Supreme Court wouldn't care," [wrote U-Mich. Law prof.] Litman. [Foley said unanimous upholding April 13 ballot acceptance is good sign,] "Wisconsin has done us a favor," he said. [but outstanding absentees outnumbering win margin would complicate matters] ... "I think judges -- on both the legal left and the legal right -- try to call them as they see them," [WILL's Esenberg] said ... "because of differences in constitutional philosophy, not partisanship." ... [UW prof. Owens said] arguments might center on racial disparities and the 14th Amendment's equal protection clause. ... "U.S. Supreme Court already showed that it thinks the federal courts should tread very carefully here. ... If Wisconsin law does not allow the Governor to do what he did, they should direct their ire at ... the Governor, the legislature, the mayors and city councils across the state." Yablon: "When the right to vote is threatened and courts fail to help safeguard it, the public's faith in the judiciary likely takes a hit, especially when the public suspects that partisan motives may have been at work."

The justices didn't grant the request because they determined it was submitted too late. ... "There are rules that the Supreme Court requires all people who appear before them to follow -- except when they don't enforce the rules," Madison attorney Lester Pines said. "It does certainly lend an appearance of favoritism." ... "If Mr. Pines wanted to be heard, he needed to get his submission done immediately because the court is under no obligation to wait for him," [WILL's] Esenberg said by email. "He could have done what we did. He did not." ... Court spokesman Tom Sheehan said none of the communications, including those from

The Madison Club

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- A coalition of groups has filed a federal lawsuit seeking to delay the April 7 election until at least after Gov. Tony Ever's stay-at-home order expires.

The suit, filed late yesterday, also wants the deadline pushed back to June 2 for municipal clerks to count all ballots returned by mail.

It is the fourth federal suit filed seeking changes to the upcoming April 7 election due to concerns over COVID-19. Gov. Tony Evers and GOP legislative leaders have resisted calls to push back the election. Instead, they have encouraged those concerned about being exposed to coronavirus at the polls to vote absentee.

So far, a federal judge has pushed back until Monday the deadline to register online to cast a ballot in the spring election. Meanwhile, the judge in a suit filed by Green Bay said yesterday he expects to issue a ruling by Monday on the city's request to cancel in-person voting, push back the election and allow clerks to mail ballots to registered voters.

The new suit was filed by a coalition that includes groups such as Souls to the Polls, an alliance of more than African-American church leaders in the Milwaukee area, the American Federation of Teachers and SEIU Wisconsin State Council. The League of Women Voters of Wisconsin, which is also a party in a separate suit challenging witness requirements for absentee ballots, is also a plaintiff.

It argues the COVID-19 pandemic is leaving municipalities "functionally unable" to comply with orders from the Wisconsin Elections Commission to conduct in-person voting at all of their polling sites due to factors such as workers who are begging off for fears of being exposed to the virus.

What's more, the suit argues, the crush of absentee requests has resulted in long delays sending ballots to voters. This raises the potential they will be disenfranchised if they don't return them by 8 p.m. Election Day, the plaintiffs say.

Along with pushing back the election, the suit seeks the suspension of several election laws such as voter ID until at least after Evers' stay-at-home order ends April 24.

-- The state's workplace smoking ban that will have been in effect for a decade this July was one of Sen. Fred Risser's signature legislative accomplishments.

In a 2010 interview on the eve of the statewide ban going into effect, Risser noted he authored legislation two decades prior that banned smoking in the Capitol.

"The caucus rooms were so smoke-filled that you couldn't concentrate," Risser said.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Risser, 92, announced yesterday he will retire.

Risser is in his 64th year as a Wisconsin legislator, making him the longest-serving state or national legislator in U.S. history. His office also said he is the last World War II veteran still remaining in either the state or nation's legislatures.

Risser, an attorney, was elected to the Assembly in 1956 before winning his Senate seat in 1962 and going on to serve in various leadership roles in the chamber, including Senate president.

-- Former state Rep. Kelda Roys, D-Madison, formally announced this morning that she's running for Risser's seat.

Roys tweeted her announcement this morning.

"Exciting news! I'm running for State Senate, to succeed Sen. Fred Risser. His service is an inspiration, and I'm excited to get to work building a Democratic majority and enacting progressive legislation for Wisconsin," she wrote.

She has run for Congress and governor.

Three Dems had already registered to run for Risser's seat prior to his announcement: William Henry Davis III, a write-in candidate for lt. guv in 2018; Nada Elmikashfi, whose website says she will graduate from UW-Madison in May and is a member of the Sustainable Madison Committee; and Aisha Suraya Moe, who graduated from UW-Madison in December.

Others considering a bid include state Rep. Shelia Stubbs, D-Madison, and longtime Dem activist Scot Ross.

-- The Wisconsin Elections Commission says a third party mailer by a Washington, D.C.,-based firm is confusing voters for its similarities to an absentee ballot request form.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The mailer is labeled a "Vote at home ballot form" and encourages voters to request absentee ballots. The form is actually from the "Center for Voter information," which has a Madison return address but is based out of D.C.

"If you have already requested an absentee ballot, you do not need to return this request form," said the commission's Meagan Wolfe, "You can go online to MyVote.WI.gov, and check the status of your existing absentee ballot request."

Third party mailers are legal and may encourage voters to request absentee ballots, but the commission recommends voters examine the mailers closely, "especially the instructions on where to send registration forms or applications."

-- AG Josh Kaul and 27 attorneys general are demanding the U.S. Department of Education provide financial protections for student loan debtors during the national economic downturn.

The AGs in a letter requested Education Secretary Betsy DeVos implement emergency measures to: halt collections; enroll all borrowers at risk of delinquency in a $0-per-month Income Driven Repayment plan; and extend relief availability to all affected by the current COVID-19 economic crisis.

"We should be doing what we can to provide relief to those whose ability to repay student loan debt has been impacted by the coronavirus," Kaul said in a statement. "The federal government should act to implement these emergency measures."

-- Gov. Tony Evers discussed the details of his "Safer at Home" order in this week's Dem radio address.

Evers highlighted how the stay-at-home order to prevent the spread of coronavirus doesn't ban people from walking their dogs or riding a bike outside. But he did recommend people "don't take any unnecessary trips" to limit potential exposure.

"Issuing a Safer at Home order isn't something I thought we'd have to do, it's not something I wanted to do, and it's not something I take lightly," He said. "We're all in this together, and we need to help stop the spread of COVID-19... to ensure our doctors, nurses and healthcare workers have the opportunity to do their important work."

-- In this week's GOP address, Assembly Speaker Robin Vos thanked Wisconsinites "for coming together in this crisis."

"Whether you agree or disagree with Gov. Evers' 'Safer at Home' order, we have to follow it," the Rochester Republican said. "We all want Wisconsin to reopen as soon as possible."

Vos also said it was "good to hear" that national lawmakers are close to passing another stimulus bill that would offer funds to businesses, people and state and local governments.

County Clerks' Guidance On Voter ID Law Amid Pandemic Irks Wisconsin GOP
Third Federal Lawsuit Filed Over State's April 7 Election During New Coronavirus Pandemic ... on Election Day or how to help people vote in the run up to an election." Christenson decried "typical grandstanding by the party." Rep. In a state used to political drama, WI's April 7 election is awash in doubt, dispute and uncertainty
... Through an accident of timing, the state's April election has become both a trial run and a test case for how (and whether) to conduct elections amid the coronavirus crisis. "You are sort of the guinea pig on all this," said [U-Fla. Prof.] McDonald ... Voters are participating in this transformation away from in-person voting on an unprecedented scale. ... A state where voting by mail has never even approached 10% of the vote is attempting, essentially overnight, to conduct an election largely by mail. ... As of March 16, 134,556 absentee ballots had been requested statewide. By March 19, that grew to 315,429. By March 23, it grew to 482,321. As of Thursday, the total was 699,431. ... fewer than 70,000 mail ballots were cast in Wisconsin in the April 2019 election ... "It's heartening to see people do it -- to try to engage in social distancing not only for their own well-being but also for the poll workers," McDonald said ... I think we need to balance the consequences on turnout (from forging ahead with scheduled elections amid the pandemic) with the risks of postponing elections, which is a very dangerous precedent," said [V-Tech prof.] Jewett ... "Wisconsin is trying to do this in a matter of weeks. Presumably, if the situation still looks dire (in the fall), states will begin to implement (mail) at least a few months ahead of time," she said. ... But in the case of Wisconsin's April 7 election, it is everything else about the event that is cloaked in doubt and dispute, including how it will be conducted and whether it will happen at all.

The Madison Club

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- A coalition of groups has filed a federal lawsuit seeking to delay the April 7 election until at least after Gov. Tony Ever's stay-at-home order expires.

The suit, filed late yesterday, also wants the deadline pushed back to June 2 for municipal clerks to count all ballots returned by mail.

It is the fourth federal suit filed seeking changes to the upcoming April 7 election due to concerns over COVID-19. Gov. Tony Evers and GOP legislative leaders have resisted calls to push back the election. Instead, they have encouraged those concerned about being exposed to coronavirus at the polls to vote absentee.

So far, a federal judge has pushed back until Monday the deadline to register online to cast a ballot in the spring election. Meanwhile, the judge in a suit filed by Green Bay said yesterday he expects to issue a ruling by Monday on the city's request to cancel in-person voting, push back the election and allow clerks to mail ballots to registered voters.

The new suit was filed by a coalition that includes groups such as Souls to the Polls, an alliance of more than African-American church leaders in the Milwaukee area, the American Federation of Teachers and SEIU Wisconsin State Council. The League of Women Voters of Wisconsin, which is also a party in a separate suit challenging witness requirements for absentee ballots, is also a plaintiff.

It argues the COVID-19 pandemic is leaving municipalities "functionally unable" to comply with orders from the Wisconsin Elections Commission to conduct in-person voting at all of their polling sites due to factors such as workers who are begging off for fears of being exposed to the virus.

What's more, the suit argues, the crush of absentee requests has resulted in long delays sending ballots to voters. This raises the potential they will be disenfranchised if they don't return them by 8 p.m. Election Day, the plaintiffs say.

Along with pushing back the election, the suit seeks the suspension of several election laws such as voter ID until at least after Evers' stay-at-home order ends April 24.

-- The state's workplace smoking ban that will have been in effect for a decade this July was one of Sen. Fred Risser's signature legislative accomplishments.

In a 2010 interview on the eve of the statewide ban going into effect, Risser noted he authored legislation two decades prior that banned smoking in the Capitol.

"The caucus rooms were so smoke-filled that you couldn't concentrate," Risser said.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Risser, 92, announced yesterday he will retire.

Risser is in his 64th year as a Wisconsin legislator, making him the longest-serving state or national legislator in U.S. history. His office also said he is the last World War II veteran still remaining in either the state or nation's legislatures.

Risser, an attorney, was elected to the Assembly in 1956 before winning his Senate seat in 1962 and going on to serve in various leadership roles in the chamber, including Senate president.

-- Former state Rep. Kelda Roys, D-Madison, formally announced this morning that she's running for Risser's seat.

Roys tweeted her announcement this morning.

"Exciting news! I'm running for State Senate, to succeed Sen. Fred Risser. His service is an inspiration, and I'm excited to get to work building a Democratic majority and enacting progressive legislation for Wisconsin," she wrote.

She has run for Congress and governor.

Three Dems had already registered to run for Risser's seat prior to his announcement: William Henry Davis III, a write-in candidate for lt. guv in 2018; Nada Elmikashfi, whose website says she will graduate from UW-Madison in May and is a member of the Sustainable Madison Committee; and Aisha Suraya Moe, who graduated from UW-Madison in December.

Others considering a bid include state Rep. Shelia Stubbs, D-Madison, and longtime Dem activist Scot Ross.

-- The Wisconsin Elections Commission says a third party mailer by a Washington, D.C.,-based firm is confusing voters for its similarities to an absentee ballot request form.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The mailer is labeled a "Vote at home ballot form" and encourages voters to request absentee ballots. The form is actually from the "Center for Voter information," which has a Madison return address but is based out of D.C.

"If you have already requested an absentee ballot, you do not need to return this request form," said the commission's Meagan Wolfe, "You can go online to MyVote.WI.gov, and check the status of your existing absentee ballot request."

Third party mailers are legal and may encourage voters to request absentee ballots, but the commission recommends voters examine the mailers closely, "especially the instructions on where to send registration forms or applications."

-- AG Josh Kaul and 27 attorneys general are demanding the U.S. Department of Education provide financial protections for student loan debtors during the national economic downturn.

The AGs in a letter requested Education Secretary Betsy DeVos implement emergency measures to: halt collections; enroll all borrowers at risk of delinquency in a $0-per-month Income Driven Repayment plan; and extend relief availability to all affected by the current COVID-19 economic crisis.

"We should be doing what we can to provide relief to those whose ability to repay student loan debt has been impacted by the coronavirus," Kaul said in a statement. "The federal government should act to implement these emergency measures."

-- Gov. Tony Evers discussed the details of his "Safer at Home" order in this week's Dem radio address.

Evers highlighted how the stay-at-home order to prevent the spread of coronavirus doesn't ban people from walking their dogs or riding a bike outside. But he did recommend people "don't take any unnecessary trips" to limit potential exposure.

"Issuing a Safer at Home order isn't something I thought we'd have to do, it's not something I wanted to do, and it's not something I take lightly," He said. "We're all in this together, and we need to help stop the spread of COVID-19... to ensure our doctors, nurses and healthcare workers have the opportunity to do their important work."

-- In this week's GOP address, Assembly Speaker Robin Vos thanked Wisconsinites "for coming together in this crisis."

"Whether you agree or disagree with Gov. Evers' 'Safer at Home' order, we have to follow it," the Rochester Republican said. "We all want Wisconsin to reopen as soon as possible."

Vos also said it was "good to hear" that national lawmakers are close to passing another stimulus bill that would offer funds to businesses, people and state and local governments.

County Clerks' Guidance On Voter ID Law Amid Pandemic Irks Wisconsin GOP
Third Federal Lawsuit Filed Over State's April 7 Election During New Coronavirus Pandemic ... In a state used to political drama, WI's April 7 election is awash in doubt, dispute and uncertainty
... Through an accident of timing, the state's April election has become both a trial run and a test case for how (and whether) to conduct elections amid the coronavirus crisis. "You are sort of the guinea pig on all this," said [U-Fla. Prof.] McDonald ... Voters are participating in this transformation away from in-person voting on an unprecedented scale. ... A state where voting by mail has never even approached 10% of the vote is attempting, essentially overnight, to conduct an election largely by mail. ... As of March 16, 134,556 absentee ballots had been requested statewide. By March 19, that grew to 315,429. By March 23, it grew to 482,321. As of Thursday, the total was 699,431. ... fewer than 70,000 mail ballots were cast in Wisconsin in the April 2019 election ... "It's heartening to see people do it -- to try to engage in social distancing not only for their own well-being but also for the poll workers," McDonald said ... I think we need to balance the consequences on turnout (from forging ahead with scheduled elections amid the pandemic) with the risks of postponing elections, which is a very dangerous precedent," said [V-Tech prof.] Jewett ... "Wisconsin is trying to do this in a matter of weeks. Presumably, if the situation still looks dire (in the fall), states will begin to implement (mail) at least a few months ahead of time," she said. ... But in the case of Wisconsin's April 7 election, it is everything else about the event that is cloaked in doubt and dispute, including how it will be conducted and whether it will happen at all.

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- As the state and national Republican parties moved to appeal a federal judge's ruling pushing back the deadline for absentee ballots to be received and counted,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

the state Elections Commission deadlocked in a late-night meeting on whether to do the same.

Instead, the commissioners plan to ask Judge William Conley to clarify how his order would affect statutorily mandated reporting on election night.

Republican Chair Dean Knudson called for the appeal, saying he anticipated the extension to submit an absentee ballot from April 7 to April 13 would cause the election to devolve into "a real mess" unless Conley's decision is changed.

"The way he envisions this, the election really goes on and does not end until the 13th," the former GOP lawmaker said. "That would have been fine if he would have told us to go ahead and stop election night reporting."

The commission split 3-3 on pursuing an appeal, but members agreed they needed guidance on how to handle counting ballots.

Under state law, county clerks must post unofficial Election Night returns within two hours after receiving them from municipal clerks. But neither Dems nor Republicans on the panel felt comfortable publishing returns before the deadline to cast a ballot.

Dem Mark Thomsen indicated the commission intended to send a letter asking Conley to affirm his ruling could be interpreted to allow the counting of ballots to be done ahead of the new April 13 deadline but to not have "running counts."

Thomsen said he anticipated the court would provide guidance by tomorrow if the panel delivered the letter in the morning.

-- Within hours of yesterday's ruling, both the state and national Republican parties and GOP lawmakers had filed notice of their intention to appeal the decision pushing back the deadline for absentee ballots to April 13.

State GOP Chair Andrew Hitt argued Conley's decision to push back the deadline for absentee ballots to be received, without adding a date by which they must be postmarked, had the effect of pushing back the entire election.

"Such a substantial decision normally left to our elected officials requires the review of the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals," Hitt said.

The state and national Republican parties were allowed to intervene in the suit, while GOP lawmakers weren't.

In their notice, the Republican legislators indicated plans to file an emergency appeal seeking to stay Conley's order while it is reviewed. They also want his decision rejecting their motion to intervene reversed.

-- Gov. Tony Evers praised the decision for including the "common-sense solutions that I've been advocating for."

During the early stages of the outbreak, Evers repeatedly said the April 7 election should move forward as planned, arguing a delay could leave scores of local offices vacant during a public health emergency after their terms expire later this month.

A week ago, he called on lawmakers to immediately convene and change state law to allow absentee ballots to be mailed to all registered voters. On Tuesday, his administration filed a friend-of-the-court brief in the combined lawsuit seeking changes to the election, recommending the federal judge extend various deadlines for absentee ballots. Then late Wednesday, the guv said in a statement he'd have changed the election date if he had the sole authority to do so.

Senate Majority Leader Scott Fitzgerald, R-Juneau, knocked Evers' call to change the law to allow an election conducted largely by mail as "fantasy" and slammed the guv saying he'd have changed the election date. He said Evers had "not once" mentioned moving the election before Wednesday.

Late yesterday, Evers said it was great news that voters will have more time to request and submit an absentee ballot, while clerks will have more time to count them.

"In the absence of the Legislature doing its part to ensure a fair and safe election, I appreciate that the court chose to implement some of the common-sense solutions that I've been advocating for," Evers said.

-- Thirty-one GOP lawmakers have asked DHS Secretary Andrea Palm to close standalone abortion facilities as part of the stay-at-home order she's issued, arguing the services offered there are non-essential.

Abortion opponents around the country have called for a suspension of the procedure amid the public health emergency, arguing it drains resources such as gloves and masks that could be used by health care professionals battling COVID-19. But abortion rights supporters have countered those procedures are time-sensitive and can't be delayed. Federal judges this week blocked officials in Ohio, Texas and Alabama from stopping abortions during the pandemic.

In yesterday's letter, the Wisconsin lawmakers argued abortion was a non-essential procedure.

Families of inmates fear coronavirus as researcher says control is 'nearly impossible'
... "The bottom line is that it's nearly impossible to do infection control in prisons," said [Yale prof.] Gonsalves ... The best option is to reduce the prison population, he and other epidemiologists agree. Some states have begun to do that by releasing elderly and ill prisoners, people serving time on noncriminal probation and parole revocations and people like McKinney, who don't have much time left on their sentences. Baldauff for Evers touted plans to release 65 supervised release violators from the Milwaukee Secure Detention Facility Thursday, sent there for treatment in lieu of return to prison, "We are working with stakeholders and reviewing options to safely reduce the prison population. We are taking our time to get this right because we have concerns about public safety and also about ensuring that vulnerable and at-risk individuals would have access to care and resources in their communities," does not mention compassionate release or parole commission review. Only 28 released so far. WPHA, WALHDB wrote urging Evers to release low-risk prisoners, "And these staff and other individuals live in communities where community spread of COVID-19 is occurring." -- As the state and national Republican parties moved to appeal a federal judge's ruling pushing back the deadline for absentee ballots to be received and counted,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

the state Elections Commission deadlocked in a late-night meeting on whether to do the same.

Instead, the commissioners plan to ask Judge William Conley to clarify how his order would affect statutorily mandated reporting on election night.

Republican Chair Dean Knudson called for the appeal, saying he anticipated the extension to submit an absentee ballot from April 7 to April 13 would cause the election to devolve into "a real mess" unless Conley's decision is changed.

"The way he envisions this, the election really goes on and does not end until the 13th," the former GOP lawmaker said. "That would have been fine if he would have told us to go ahead and stop election night reporting."

The commission split 3-3 on pursuing an appeal, but members agreed they needed guidance on how to handle counting ballots.

Under state law, county clerks must post unofficial Election Night returns within two hours after receiving them from municipal clerks. But neither Dems nor Republicans on the panel felt comfortable publishing returns before the deadline to cast a ballot.

Dem Mark Thomsen indicated the commission intended to send a letter asking Conley to affirm his ruling could be interpreted to allow the counting of ballots to be done ahead of the new April 13 deadline but to not have "running counts."

Thomsen said he anticipated the court would provide guidance by tomorrow if the panel delivered the letter in the morning.

-- Within hours of yesterday's ruling, both the state and national Republican parties and GOP lawmakers had filed notice of their intention to appeal the decision pushing back the deadline for absentee ballots to April 13.

State GOP Chair Andrew Hitt argued Conley's decision to push back the deadline for absentee ballots to be received, without adding a date by which they must be postmarked, had the effect of pushing back the entire election.

"Such a substantial decision normally left to our elected officials requires the review of the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals," Hitt said.

The state and national Republican parties were allowed to intervene in the suit, while GOP lawmakers weren't.

In their notice, the Republican legislators indicated plans to file an emergency appeal seeking to stay Conley's order while it is reviewed. They also want his decision rejecting their motion to intervene reversed.

-- The Wisconsin congressional delegation is joining Gov. Tony Evers' request for a federal disaster declaration due to the coronavirus pandemic.

In a letter to President Trump, the delegation highlighted predictions by the Department of Health Services and the Department of Workforce Development that hospitals could be soon overrun and unemployment has skyrocketed since the outbreak began.

The letter requests federal aid through the Stafford Act, a law Trump invoked that could deliver disaster relief to state and tribal governments.

Democratic National Convention Postponed Amid COVID-19 Concerns
... [July 13-16 event] will instead be held the week of Aug. 17, but for how many days is unknown. DNCC CEO Solmonese statement: "In our current climate of uncertainty, we believe the smartest approach is to take additional time to monitor how this situation unfolds so we can best position our party for a safe and successful convention. During this critical time, when the scope and scale of the pandemic and its impact remain unknown, we will continue to monitor the situation and follow the advice of health care professionals and emergency responders. I have always believed that American innovation and ingenuity shine brightest during our darkest days, and for that reason, I'm confident our convention planning team and our partners will find a way to deliver a convention in Milwaukee this summer that places our Democratic nominee on the path to victory in November." Mayor Barrett hailed postponement not cancellation as "really good news, at a time when everyone needed to hear really good news," confident the city's hotels and businesses will be happy to accommodate, held "a great deal of hope, that by mid-August, this will serve as a shot in the arm, for our local businesses."

Conley extended absentee receipt deadline to 4 p.m. Monday, April 13, no specific postmark date, extended absentee request until 5 p.m. Friday, grant WEC leeway to decide whether to extend that deadline on its website, will permit absentee without witness if voter affirms they were unable to get witness, "it will be left up to the individual discretion of clerks as to whether to accept a voter's excuse." WEC immediately set 8 p.m. meeting to discuss the case. DPW chair Wikler cheered, "Today's ruling is a victory for voters, for public health, and for democracy itself. Every voter must count, even during crises, and this ruling gives voters critical time to vote safely by mail." RPW, RNC vowed appeal. RPW chair Hitt decried lack of postmark date, "Such a substantial decision normally left to our elected officials requires the review of the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals. Families of inmates fear coronavirus as researcher says control is 'nearly impossible'
... "The bottom line is that it's nearly impossible to do infection control in prisons," said [Yale prof.] Gonsalves ... The best option is to reduce the prison population, he and other epidemiologists agree. Some states have begun to do that by releasing elderly and ill prisoners, people serving time on noncriminal probation and parole revocations and people like McKinney, who don't have much time left on their sentences. Baldauff for Evers touted plans to release 65 supervised release violators from the Milwaukee Secure Detention Facility Thursday, sent there for treatment in lieu of return to prison, "We are working with stakeholders and reviewing options to safely reduce the prison population. We are taking our time to get this right because we have concerns about public safety and also about ensuring that vulnerable and at-risk individuals would have access to care and resources in their communities," does not mention compassionate release or parole commission review. Only 28 released so far. WPHA, WALHDB wrote urging Evers to release low-risk prisoners, "And these staff and other individuals live in communities where community spread of COVID-19 is occurring." Waupun, Columbia, Milwaukee Secure each have staffer tested positive. DOC website says no COVID-positive inmates, but does not say how many have been tested. DOC did not respond. Inmate's fiance' said his severe cough goes untreated and he still works in library. 18 Waupun inmates isolated after contact with infected doctor, but no word on if they were tested. 1 of the 18 said no test, only temp check 5 days later, described isolation without shower for a week, released March 24 with advice to wash hands. Doc returned to work March 31. UW prof. Klingele details options to release inmates, prioritize low risk, elderly, ill, approaching release date, though some have nowhere to go, "These are hard questions, but they're ones that we need to answer quickly." WISDOM's Liners argued that Evers and prison officials have several legal options to release inmates. Forum for Understanding Prisons has staged Capitol protests, spoken to DOC Sec. Carr. "By failing to release people before COVID-19 spreads throughout Wisconsin prisons, Gov. Evers is effectively signing death warrants on hundreds or thousands of prisoners," [FUP's] Turk said in a statement. Heussner comments on inmate partner's plight.

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- Wisconsin's first deaths from COVID-19 are a Fond du Lac County man in his 50s and an Ozaukee County man in his 90s.

Gov. Tony Evers announced the deaths last night, offering his sympathies to their loved ones and all who are suffering from the virus.

The release didn't include details of how the men contracted the virus or when they first tested positive.

DHS has so far confirmed 155 cases in the state since last month. The counties with the most positive cases are: Milwaukee (62); Dane (27); Fond du Lac (14); and Waukesha (12).

"We are committed to fighting the spread of COVID-19 in Wisconsin, and I want to recognize the hard work and bravery of our nurses, doctors, state health officials, and all those on the front lines in the effort to save lives," Ever said. "Together we will get through this historic health challenge."

According to the release, the state is prioritizing the critically ill and healthcare workers for coronavirus testing due to "a shortage of ingredients needed to run the tests."

-- Milwaukee Mayor Tom Barrett is in self-quarantine after coming into contact with someone who tested positive for the coronavirus, he said in a statement last night.

"I have consulted with public health officials and they have recommended 14 days of self-quarantine and therefore that's what I will be doing," Barrett said.

Barrett said he is self-isolating and will continue working from home.

"In an effort to maintain social distancing the last several days, I have been continuing my duties and responsibilities by teleconference and videoconference and I expect to do the same during this time of self-quarantine," he said.

-- A Better Wisconsin Together Political Fund, an offshoot of a new progressive group announced earlier this year, has launched a $700,000 digital buy in the state Supreme Court race.

The group's filing with the Ethics Commission shows the money was split evenly between supporting Dane County Judge Jill Karofsky and opposing conservative Justice Daniel Kelly.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A spokesman for the group didn't immediately return a message seeking a copy of the spot.

But one spot WisPolitics.com saw on a website read Kelly was "endorsed by an extreme group that would ban birth control." Clicking on the digital ad led to a website that read across the top, "How extreme is Daniel Kelly? Too extreme."

It shows a picture of Kelly Scott Walker; the site says the former GOP guv "handpicked" the justice. The site also says Kelly "supports making all abortions illegal, banning birth control" and "supports Betsy DeVos' agenda to send our taxpayer dollars to private schools."

A Better Wisconsin Together was officially launched in January as an advocacy organization. It also created an affiliated 527 to focus on elections.

-- U.S. Sen. Ron Johnson's sale earlier this year of his ownership stake in the plastics company he helped found netted him between $5 million and $25 million, according to a filing with the Senate.

A spokesman said the move stemmed from a previously announced sale, not the coronavirus pandemic.

Johnson's filing yesterday came as some of his U.S. Senate colleagues came under intense scrutiny for dumping millions in stock after briefings on the disease.

In February, the San Francisco-based private equity firm Gryphon Investors announced it had signed an agreement for what it called a "strategic investment" in Oshkosh-based Pacur LLC. That announcement said the company's management team -- including the senator's brother and company CEO Barry Johnson -- would continue to manage the business while the family would "remain significant owners." The release didn't mention the senator.

"The transaction was the result of an investment by a private firm in Pacur that was months in the making and was unrelated to the coronavirus pandemic," said Johnson spokesman Ben Voekel, adding the senator and his wife no longer have an ownership stake in the company.

The mass selling that propelled the stock market into bear territory began Feb. 24.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

National media reported several U.S. senators sold significant amounts of stock before the market began to tumble. They include U.S. Sen. Richard Burr, R-North Carolina, who made 33 separate transactions selling between $628,000 and $1.7 million of his holdings on Feb. 13, according to ProPublica. The Senate Intelligence Committee he chairs was receiving regular updates on the disease at the time.

U.S. Sen. Tammy Baldwin's assets are in a blind trust.

-- Gov. Tony Evers in this week's Dem radio address said he was "proud, but frankly, not surprised" of Wisconsinites' efforts to combat the coronavirus outbreak.

Evers cited community spread of the virus within the state, meaning people have tested positive who have no known connection to out-of-state travel.

He recommended people practice social distancing to protect themselves and loved ones and lessen the potential exposure for healthcare workers.

"Your assistance and patience will be critical to protecting you, your family and friends, and our communities," Evers said. "We're in this together, Wisconsin. Thank you."

-- In the GOP address, Assembly Speaker Robin Vos thanked Wisconsinites "for doing their part" to move the state forward during COVID-19's spread.

The Rochester Republican asked people to support small businesses affected by a Department of Health Services order limiting mass gatherings to less than 10 people. He also said the state needs blood donations and the elderly need people to check in on them.

"I think we all can agree the residents of Wisconsin are resilient," Vos said. "We can and will get through this crisis together."

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- Wisconsin's first deaths from COVID-19 are a Fond du Lac County man in his 50s and an Ozaukee County man in his 90s.

Gov. Tony Evers announced the deaths last night, offering his sympathies to their loved ones and all who are suffering from the virus.

The release didn't include details of how the men contracted the virus or when they first tested positive.

DHS has so far confirmed 155 cases in the state since last month. The counties with the most positive cases are: Milwaukee (62); Dane (27); Fond du Lac (14); and Waukesha (12).

"We are committed to fighting the spread of COVID-19 in Wisconsin, and I want to recognize the hard work and bravery of our nurses, doctors, state health officials, and all those on the front lines in the effort to save lives," Ever said. "Together we will get through this historic health challenge."

According to the release, the state is prioritizing the critically ill and healthcare workers for coronavirus testing due to "a shortage of ingredients needed to run the tests."

-- Milwaukee Mayor Tom Barrett is in self-quarantine after coming into contact with someone who tested positive for the coronavirus, he said in a statement last night.

"I have consulted with public health officials and they have recommended 14 days of self-quarantine and therefore that's what I will be doing," Barrett said.

Barrett said he is self-isolating and will continue working from home.

"In an effort to maintain social distancing the last several days, I have been continuing my duties and responsibilities by teleconference and videoconference and I expect to do the same during this time of self-quarantine," he said.

-- A Better Wisconsin Together Political Fund, an offshoot of a new progressive group announced earlier this year, has launched a $700,000 digital buy in the state Supreme Court race.

The group's filing with the Ethics Commission shows the money was split evenly between supporting Dane County Judge Jill Karofsky and opposing conservative Justice Daniel Kelly.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A spokesman for the group didn't immediately return a message seeking a copy of the spot.

But one spot WisPolitics.com saw on a website read Kelly was "endorsed by an extreme group that would ban birth control." Clicking on the digital ad led to a website that read across the top, "How extreme is Daniel Kelly? Too extreme."

It shows a picture of Kelly Scott Walker; the site says the former GOP guv "handpicked" the justice. The site also says Kelly "supports making all abortions illegal, banning birth control" and "supports Betsy DeVos' agenda to send our taxpayer dollars to private schools."

A Better Wisconsin Together was officially launched in January as an advocacy organization. It also created an affiliated 527 to focus on elections.

-- U.S. Sen. Ron Johnson's sale earlier this year of his ownership stake in the plastics company he helped found netted him between $5 million and $25 million, according to a filing with the Senate.

A spokesman said the move stemmed from a previously announced sale, not the coronavirus pandemic.

Johnson's filing yesterday came as some of his U.S. Senate colleagues came under intense scrutiny for dumping millions in stock after briefings on the disease.

In February, the San Francisco-based private equity firm Gryphon Investors announced it had signed an agreement for what it called a "strategic investment" in Oshkosh-based Pacur LLC. That announcement said the company's management team -- including the senator's brother and company CEO Barry Johnson -- would continue to manage the business while the family would "remain significant owners." The release didn't mention the senator.

"The transaction was the result of an investment by a private firm in Pacur that was months in the making and was unrelated to the coronavirus pandemic," said Johnson spokesman Ben Voekel, adding the senator and his wife no longer have an ownership stake in the company.

The filing with the U.S. Senate shows Johnson completed the transaction March 2 for between $5 million and $25 million.

The mass selling that propelled the stock market into bear territory began Feb. 24.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

National media reported several U.S. senators sold significant amounts of stock before the market began to tumble. They include U.S. Sen. Richard Burr, R-North Carolina, who made 33 separate transactions selling between $628,000 and $1.7 million of his holdings on Feb. 13, according to ProPublica. The Senate Intelligence Committee he chairs was receiving regular updates on the disease at the time.

U.S. Sen. Tammy Baldwin's assets are in a blind trust.

-- Gov. Tony Evers in this week's Dem radio address said he was "proud, but frankly, not surprised" of Wisconsinites' efforts to combat the coronavirus outbreak.

Evers cited community spread of the virus within the state, meaning people have tested positive who have no known connection to out-of-state travel.

He recommended people practice social distancing to protect themselves and loved ones and lessen the potential exposure for healthcare workers.

"Your assistance and patience will be critical to protecting you, your family and friends, and our communities," Evers said. "We're in this together, Wisconsin. Thank you."

-- In the GOP address, Assembly Speaker Robin Vos thanked Wisconsinites "for doing their part" to move the state forward during COVID-19's spread.

The Rochester Republican asked people to support small businesses affected by a Department of Health Services order limiting mass gatherings to less than 10 people. He also said the state needs blood donations and the elderly need people to check in on them.

"I think we all can agree the residents of Wisconsin are resilient," Vos said. "We can and will get through this crisis together."

From WisPolitics.com ...

-- Senate Majority Leader Scott Fitzgerald called Gov. Tony Evers' latest effort to stage the April 7 election amid the coronavirus outbreak a "complete fantasy."

Meanwhile, the Legislature's two top Dems favored the move.

Evers early today called on the Legislature to change state law on absentee ballots so all registered voters could be mailed one.

Fitzgerald blasted the move as "a hoax" and said that "in pitching this idea, the governor is lying directly to Wisconsinites about this even being remotely possible."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"Governor Evers just proposed procuring, printing, verifying, and mandating the mailing of millions of ballots within ten days. Even he knows that's not logistically feasible," the Juneau Republican said in a statement.

Assembly Minority Leader Gordon Hintz, D-Oshkosh, said his preference is to delay the election, but he understands "even that action has consequences and lacks the immediate support necessary to happen in time for the April 7 election."

"We now need Republican leadership to step up and recognize that acting to best protect our democracy and keep people safe is both necessary and possible," Hintz said.

Senate Minority Leader Jennifer Shilling, D-La Crosse, tweeted, "We are living in an unprecedented time and I appreciate that Gov. Evers is proposing solutions to ensure full and fair elections on April 7th. Our democracy is strongest when everyone can make their voice heard and Democrats are committed to ensuring every single vote is counted."

In a video message on Twitter, Evers also called for ballots postmarked by Election Day to be counted and for local election officials to be given more time to count them.

The move comes 11 days out from the election. Evers, who has repeatedly rebuffed calls to delay the vote, didn't call for delaying the vote in his message today.

"The bottom line is that everybody should be able to participate in our democracy," Evers said in the video.

So far, four federal lawsuits have been filed seeking changes to the upcoming April 7 election due to concerns over COVID-19.

Wisconsin Institute for Law & Liberty President and General Counsel Rick Esenberg in a statement said the measures might have made sense had the state deactivated the registrations for some 200,000 voters who may have moved.

"Mailing ballots to those addresses would put those 200,000 ballots in the hands of individuals not entitled to them," Esenberg said.

He also noted the Dane and Milwaukee county clerks have urged those mailing back absentee ballots to list themselves as "indefinitely confined" to avoid having to upload an ID.

"We cannot do things that might be reasonable in other contexts when the officials who are supposed to ensure fair elections refuse to do their duty, and evade the law," Esenberg said. "Given the circumstances under which Wisconsin elections are being run, we need to take every precaution to ensure a fair election and that does not leave room for Governor Evers' current proposal."

See a story below on a Legislative Reference Bureau memo saying it "would not be appropriate" for voters to avoid presenting voter ID when requesting an absentee ballot by claiming they are indefinitely confined due to Evers' stay-at-home order.*

-- President Trump today signed a sweeping $2 trillion coronavirus relief package just hours after it cleared the House.

The chamber approved the package by voice vote, meaning members of the Wisconsin delegation weren't on the record. Still, two of the state's Republican lawmakers expressed tepid support on the floor during the more than four hours of debate ahead of the vote.

U.S. Rep. Bryan Steil, R-Janesville, labeled the package "far from perfect" but added lawmakers "cannot let the perfect be the enemy of the good."

Speaking nearly two hours later, U.S. Rep. Glenn Grothman knocked the package's price tag as being "too high" and he was concerned an unemployment insurance provision "delays the recovery."

Still, the Glenbeulah Republican said Congress "must act to calm the panic and move back to normalcy."

Speaking ahead of the vote to Wisconsin Manufacturers & Commerce, U.S. Rep. Mike Gallagher said the package "may be well spent if we can prevent the death of hundreds of thousands and keep the economy tied together with a little bit of duct tape."

But the Green Bay Republican said lawmakers couldn't continue to infuse dollars back into the country at the rate they are currently and mirrored Grothman's concerns about a "dramatic expansion" of unemployment benefits.

"I think that's a dangerous disincentive and an unintended consequence of moving so quickly and trying to strike that balance with getting relief right now versus not setting off unintended consequences," he said.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

On the other side of the aisle, U.S. Rep. Ron Kind, D-La Crosse, and Gwen Moore, D-Milwaukee, praised the package.

In a statement, Kind praised the package as an "important step toward getting businesses, working families, and health care providers the support they need."

Moore highlighted a number of aspects in the package but added "more work needs to be done."

Spokesmen for U.S. Reps. Mark Pocan, D-Town of Vermont, and Jim Sensenbrenner, R- Menomonee Falls, were not immediately available for comment.

-- While the state is much better prepared to handle economic turmoil than it was during the Great Recession, current reserves and coming federal aid may not be enough to manage a prolonged downturn, state and local finance experts say.

Former state budget director Michael Heifetz, who served under Republican Gov. Scott Walker, told WisPolitics.com the state is "reasonably well-prepared" for a slipping economy in the short term. But he said it wouldn't be able to sustain funding beyond "weeks or a short number of months" without assistance from the federal government.

"It's hard to plan for a complete shutdown of the U.S. economy," said Heifetz, who currently works as health care chief executive for Infinite Policy Solutions. "It's all hands on deck. Anything that isn't a necessity is probably being very critically analyzed."

Congress this week passed a $2 trillion economic stimulus package that would deliver roughly $150 billion to state and local governments. It unanimously passed the Senate and passed the House today by voice vote. See an NCSL analysis of federal aid to state and local governments: https://www.ncsl.org/ncsl-in-dc/publications-and-resources/coronavirus-stimulus-bill-states.aspx

Pew Research Center's Stateline service reported today that the money in the bill for state and local governments allows "some flexibility" on how it could be spent but does not address diminished tax collections caused by the slowing economy.

Pew said the money would be distributed to states based on population, but that every state would receive at least $1.25 billion, with 45 percent of a state's money saved for local governments over 500,000 residents.

While exact numbers per state have yet to be determined, Heifetz estimated Wisconsin might see around $3 billion if the disbursement formula is similar to previous federal programs.

"It's hard to say, but depending on how long this lasts and how we rebound as a community and a society, if it happens in the near term that'll be enough money," he said. "That just tells you the ambiguity."

Gov. Tony Evers' budget director, Brian Pahnke, didn't respond to a request for comment.

Wisconsin Policy Forum Research Director Jason Stein said the combination of the rainy day fund and remaining general revenue amounts to slightly less than 10 percent of the state's roughly $17.5 billion in 2019 GPR expenditures.

He called the numbers a "huge improvement" from Wisconsin's situation going into the 2007-08 Great Recession with under 2 percent GPR expenses in reserves and close to nothing in the rainy day pot. But he added that ultimately wouldn't be enough if nothing changes in the coming months.

"If you weren't taking in revenue at all, and you were spending out of the general fund at your average daily rate, that would last you roughly five weeks," Stein said.

Stein said the "clear answer" is Wisconsin does not have enough in reserve to withstand any significant recession without aid from the feds.

Before current events, the Legislative Fiscal Bureau announced at the beginning of the year that the state was expected to collect an additional $818.2 million in tax revenue over the biennium, with about half going into the rainy day fund. The budget stabilization fund totaled $654 million at the end of February, according to the latest State Investment Fund earnings report.

A recent Pew analysis of rainy day funds by state ranked Wisconsin 40th in how many days it could run on total balances (35.3). But the research did find this was the highest balance relative to spending for the state in the last 20 years.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

However, Assembly Speaker Robin Vos, R-Rochester, this week said the projected revenue is "gone" thanks to the coronavirus pandemic, and that the state must be judicious in maintaining a balanced budget.

Stein added the state unemployment insurance fund is in its strongest position in decades with more than $2 billion, including $1.9 billion in cash. But a February U.S. Department of Labor report found the fund still fell short of federal unemployment insurance recommendations and ranked 30th among states on that metric.

"We're in much better shape than we were, but the difference is we were among the least prepared states in the country and now we're in the middle of the pack," Stein said. "That's a big improvement, but it's not the same as being top of the class."

The Department of Workforce Development so far received 159,029 UI applications since March 15, 1.5 times the entire population of Green Bay.

Meanwhile, a record 3.3 million people filed for unemployment benefits nationwide last week. The previous weekly record was 695,000 set in 1982.

Stein warned the state could take up to a 14 percent GPR hit in a "moderate-to-severe" recession scenario. And local governments, which he said typically operate with razor-thin budgets already, wouldn't be able to get significant stimulus from the state due to its own economic troubles.

Wisconsin Counties Association Research Director Dale Knapp told WisPolitics county budgets "have been tight for quite a number of years and this is obviously going to put some strain on them."

He estimated up to a 13 percent decline in county sales tax revenue due to Evers' stay-at-home order and the loss of hotel and restaurant sales, in addition to a spending hike in services.

"At first blush it doesn't look like a big hit, but when you're already operating at tight margins you have got to figure out how to deal with those types of productions," Knapp said. "Any hit to your revenue source is cause for concern."

Analysts largely agreed that although the dropoff is steep, it's a real possibility that the economy could see a quick rebound whenever the pandemic is tamed. Heifetz highlighted this as one key difference between today and 2008.

"When the Great Recession was occurring, I'm not sure if we knew there was a bottom or if there was a known end," he said. "The economy itself today is foundationally strong. We can get back when this is gone, and that wasn't the case in 2008."

-- Evers today directed DHS to temporarily suspend evictions and foreclosures amid the COVID-19 pandemic.

Under the order, landlords are prohibited from evicting tenants for any reason "unless failure to proceed with the eviction will result in an imminent threat of serious physical harm to another person." It also prevents foreclosures for 60 days.

The guv's office noted the order doesn't relieve anyone's obligation to pay their rent or mortgages.

-- The Legislative Reference Bureau says it "would not be appropriate" for voters to avoid presenting voter ID when requesting an absentee ballot by claiming they are indefinitely confined due to Gov. Tony Evers stay-at-home order.

This comes after Dane County Clerk Scott McDonell and Milwaukee County Clerk George Christenson early this week urged anyone struggling to upload a photo of their voter ID to the state's MyVote website to utilize the "indefinitely confined" option. Under that process, voters are exempt from the ID requirement.

Senate Majority Leader Scott Fitzgerald, R-Juneau, and Assembly Speaker Robin Vos, R-Rochester, today blasted that move, saying in a statement "it's no surprise the liberal clerks in Dane and Milwaukee counties are encouraging people to vote illegally by not providing proper identification."

"At a time when our state should be coming together, it's sad that liberal clerks see it as an opportunity for political gain," the pair said.

In a memo prepared at Fitzgerald's request, the bureau today highlighted a number of exemptions to Evers' order and concluded those loopholes "demonstrate that not all Wisconsin residents are indefinitely confined to their homes."

"For this reason, it would seem inconsistent with current law for a clerk or other election official to suggest that every individual in this state is indefinitely confined for purposes of receiving an absentee ballot," the bureau said.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The memo concludes there are a number of penalties facing those who intentionally neglect their duties, including criminal charges and a five-year disqualification from serving as a clerk.

Wisconsin Elections Commission spokesman Reid Magney told WisPolitics.com under state law, only a poll worker can "challenge an absentee ballot for failure to adhere to voting requirements."

McDonell and Christenson were not immediately available for comment.

-- GOP state Sen. Kathy Bernier has filed a complaint asking the state Elections Commission to order the clerks in Dane and Milwaukee counties to reverse their calls to use the "indefinitely confined" option to avoid the voter ID requirement for absentee ballots.

Bernier, a former Chippewa County clerk, urged the Commission to not allow local elections officials to make a decision "that will disenfranchise electors in other areas of the state!"

-- The liberal A Better Wisconsin Together and the conservative Republican State Leadership Committee are both out with new six-figure media buys as the Supreme Court race begins the home stretch.

The buys include one spot from the Republican State Leadership Committee's Judicial Fairness Initiative that touts President Trump's endorsement of conservative Justice Daniel Kelly.

The RSLC Judicial Fairness Initiative, which made a strong final push in last year's Supreme Court race, is spending $824,446 on TV ads, according to a filing with the state Ethics Commission. The group also reported a $16,000 text message campaign supporting Kelly.

The group is out with two ads, both of which start with the narrator describing Karofsky as "dangerously soft on crime" and charging as a prosecutor she went easy on criminal predators like no jail time for a "monster" who sexually assaulted a 5-year-old girl.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Both ads say Karofsky has dangerously bad judgment.

One then switches to Kelly, calling him the "conservative choice." The narrator says Kelly is endorsed by Wisconsin law enforcement and Trump before showing a clip of the president at one of his Wisconsin rallies.

"Go vote for Justice Daniel Kelly to defend the rule of law in Wisconsin," Trump says.

The other ad doesn't mention the president's backing. Instead, after knocking Karofsky, the narrator in that ad calls Kelly the "safer choice." The narrator says Kelly "fought to protect victims of sexual assault and punish predators."

"Daniel Kelly, protecting Wisconsin and the rule of law," the spot concludes.

See the ads:

https://youtu.be/SGMquslpZZE

-- A Better Wisconsin Together praises Karofsky and knocks Kelly in its three new ads.

The group said two of the spots are running on broadcast TV in Green Bay and Milwaukee, while the third is a digital ad. The group declined to say how much it spent on the buy other than it was "significant."

But a filing with the state Ethics Commission shows A Better Wisconsin Together Political Fund has now spent $737,656 on TV, digital ads and mail supporting Karofsky and opposing Kelly.

Yesterday, the National Democratic Redistricting Committee announced it had given A Better Wisconsin Together Political Fund $150,000 to support its efforts backing Karofsky, a Dane County judge.

A 30-second TV spot charges Kelly has a "real bad" record on fighting corruption, including voting against rules to help stop it and repeatedly refusing to recuse himself "from cases where he has a major conflict of interest."

The narrator then says, "We need an independent Supreme Court justice" before going on to praise Karofsky. The spot says she's been honored for standing up for victims of sexual assault and domestic violence and isn't "beholden to an extreme agenda."

The second TV spot is a 15-second ad that has a similar line about Karofsky being honored for standing up for victims, noting she's a former prosecutor backed by "Wisconsin nurses, teachers, law enforcement and judges."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The digital ad features Patti Seger, who says she's been a domestic violence advocate for the past 36 years and has worked closely with Karofsky. She says a recent ad that implies "Jill is somehow not good on victim rights" is "completely false and a bald-faced lie."

"Jill has my respect, because she is so strong on victim advocacy, so strong in her support for victim rights," Seger says.

-- New polling from the conservative Restoration PAC has President Trump with a slight edge over Dem frontrunner Joe Biden among registered Wisconsin voters.

The poll found 48.7 percent backed the president, while 45.3 percent supported Biden.

Against Bernie Sanders, Trump was at 50.3 percent compared to 42.8 percent for the Vermont senator.

The poll, conducted March 17-19, also found Trump's job approval was 52.2 percent with 45.7 percent disapproving of his performance.

It also found a large swatch of Wisconsin voters undecided on this spring's Supreme Court race. Conservative Justice Daniel Kelly was backed by 36.3 percent, compared to 29.2 percent who supported liberal Dane County Judge Jill Karofsky.

Restoration PAC commissioned the poll, which was conducted by Hodas & Associates of Springfield, Ill. It sampled 600 registered voters via telephone with 70 percent of the live interviews done over landlines and the rest via cellphone.

The margin of error was plus or minus 3 percentage points.

The bottom line is it is going to be on April 7 and we're asking people to vote absentee. We have a democracy to participate in. I talked to the mayor of Green Bay and in the Fox Valley; they may not like it, but they're committed to make it happen.
- Gov. Tony Evers, who has so far resisted calls to delay the April 7 election, including a plea today from a bipartisan group of Fox Valley mayors. Postponing the election would require action from the Legislature and the governor, or a court order.

I no longer believe that we are able to fairly and properly administer this election without delay or postponement. I believe we're putting people at risk.

deadlocked on a proposal that would have asked Evers and the Legislature to convene a special session to give the agency flexibility to run elections safely in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic.

It's important to maintain continuity in local government. ... That's why it's so vitally important. We're going to have an election, and it's already underway.
- Elections Commission Chair Dean Knudson, a Republican appointee.

I just said I don't think that where we're at with the number of cases escalating and with the age of most of the Senate that it would be wise to pull in 120 people for the calendar, which can wait.
- Senate Majority Leader Scott Fitzgerald on his decision to postpone Tuesday's floor period. Fitzgerald said part of his thinking when Senate Republicans caucused was none of the bills awaiting Senate action are so urgent that they couldn't wait a couple of months if needed.

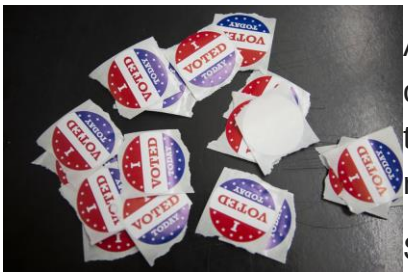
Evers orders personal care businesses shuttered to help stem coronavirus spread



Gov. Tony Evers today updated his ban on mass gatherings to shutter a wide-ranging array of personal care businesses.

The update released this afternoon orders hair salons, day spas, nail salons, barbershops, tattoo parlors, body art establishments and tanning facilities to close by 5 p.m today.

Department of Health Services Secretary Andrea Palm said hair salons could remain open to sell shampoo at the counter with appropriate social distancing, but giving haircuts “should not be happening anymore.”

Fox Valley mayors call for spring election delay, switch to entirely mail-in voting

A bipartisan group of Fox Valley mayors are calling on the Legislature and Gov. Tony Evers to delay the April 7 elections and promote mail-in ballots in response to COVID-19.

Separately, the head of the state’s municipal clerks organization said she backs the move.

But the guv and Senate Majority Leader Scott Fitzgerald, R-Juneau, continued to insist the spring election will go forward as planned.

Dem Green Bay Mayor Eric Genrich told reporters in a teleconference today that conducting the election with the normal approach would be “a logistical trainwreck,” due to the close quarters of polling stations and because many poll workers are in the most at-risk age group for the virus. He also did not rule out legal action.

Johnson says he opposes direct payments to individuals amid coronavirus pandemic as restaurants are 'desperately seeking any help'

U.S. Sen. Ron Johnson says he's opposed to the federal government making direct payments to individuals as part of a sweeping coronavirus relief plan.

Johnson, R-Oshkosh, today told a call hosted by Wisconsin Manufacturers & Commerce that he believes in a problem-solving approach and not to "pander to the crowd, not to just give away money." He argued the coronavirus has created a supply-side economic problem, not a demand-side issue.

"Just giving people checks is going to do nothing when they're hunkered down, bunkered down in their own home," he said on the call. "They don't have places to spend money on."

Unemployment fund expected to 'take a hit' as claims increase amid outbreak

The state's unemployment insurance trust fund is expected to suffer losses as many Wisconsinites are laid off due to coronavirus impacts.

"I don't think there's any doubt that the unemployment insurance fund is going to take a hit," said John Mielke, president of Associated Builders and Contractors and a member of the state's unemployment insurance advisory council.

Between Sunday and Thursday of this past week, about 46,000 unemployment insurance claims were filed in the state, according to preliminary federal figures. That's compared to just under 4,500 for the same period of 2019.

State GOP covers $6,500 forfeiture for Walker over excess campaign contributions

The state GOP has covered a $6,500 forfeiture for former Gov. Scott Walker after his campaign accepted excess contributions from the Wisconsin Realtors Association in the 2018 race, according to a settlement obtained by WisPolitics.com.

Walker emptied out his campaign account in June 2019 when he transferred $16,166 to the state GOP. That left nothing in his coffers to cover the forfeiture that was part of a settlement with the Ethics Commission

It was finalized earlier this month.

The state GOP declined comment on the arrangement. Meanwhile, the Realtors said it was an oversight that led to the group's PAC giving Walker $92,500 over the four-year cycle, $6,500 more than the state limit.

Quotes of the Week

It's time for the Legislature to do its part, just like all of us are, to help keep each other safe.

- Gov. Tony Evers in a video posted to Twitter calling a special session tomorrow for the Legislature to take up legislation that would allow an all-mail spring election. Evers said he wants lawmakers to OK sending a ballot by May 19 to every registered voter who hasn't already requested one. He also wants a deadline of May 26 for those ballots to be received. Evers said that despite efforts to increase safety amid the COVID-19 pandemic, voters and poll workers will be exposed to large groups of people and will be unable to practice social distancing, which he called "a significant concern and a very unnecessary public health risk.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Instead of remaining strong to ensure our representative democracy continues, he caves under political pressures from national liberal special interest groups.
- Senate Majority Leader Scott Fitzgerald, R-Juneau, and Assembly Speaker Robin Vos, R-Rochester, slamming Evers for the special session call.

As much as the court would prefer that the Wisconsin Legislature and Governor consider the public health ahead of any political considerations, that does not appear in the cards. Nor is it appropriate for a federal district court to act as the state's chief health official by taking that step for them.
- U.S. Judge William Conley in a decision in three consolidated cases seeking changes to the spring election. Conley declined to delay the election, but extended until 4 p.m. April 13 the deadline for absentee ballots to be received so they can be counted for the election, among other changes. Republicans are appealing the decision.

By having this additional month of breathing room, we are hoping that this will allow us then to pivot once we are moving out of these turbulent waters and use this as a very, very important shot in the arm, as I said, to moving the community forward.
- Milwaukee Mayor Tom Barrett on the Democratic National Convention in Milwaukee being pushed back to the week of August 17 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The convention was set to run July 13-16. Barrett said as excited as the city was about having the convention in July, its resources have been committed to addressing COVID-19 pandemic and the convention "immediately got moved to the back burner."

I do not leave with regrets, I leave with wonder - wonder about the future, about what will be. Wonder about what lies ahead, and a wonder of new ways that I will continue to be able to serve my community, and others.
- Senate Minority Leader Jennifer Shilling, D-La Crosse, announcing she won't seek reelection in order to spend more time with her family. Republican Dan Kapanke, who is planning to run again for the seat he lost to Shilling in a 2011 recall election, sent his "heartfelt congratulations and respect." He said Shilling "leaves a legacy of a distinguished career representing the hardworking people of Western Wisconsin." See more in the Stock Report item below.

GOP leaders slam Evers over call for special session to delay spring election

Acknowledging it's "late in the game" to ask, Gov. Tony Evers is calling a special session to move to a mail-in spring election due to rising health concerns about in-person voting and a dramatic drop in the number of polling places that will be open Tuesday.

While Evers has the power to call a special session, he can't force lawmakers to meet and take up legislation. And Senate Majority Leader Scott Fitzgerald, R-Juneau, and Assembly Speaker Robin Vos, R-Rochester, slammed the call as typical of the "feckless" leadership they said Evers has shown during the health crisis.

They insisted Tuesday's election should go on as planned, a position Evers had previously supported, and said Evers should've come to them weeks ago if he had legitimate concerns.

Dems could see advantage as absentee ballot requests surge

Voters from GOP strongholds in the Milwaukee suburbs have requested roughly half the number of absentee ballots as their counterparts in Dane and Milwaukee counties, according to the latest Wisconsin Elections Commission data.

A WisPolitics.com review of Election Day statistics from each polling place in the state from the spring 2019 election found voters in Waukesha, Ozaukee and Washington counties returned mail-in absentee ballots at a slightly higher rate than their counterparts in Dem hotbeds.

But even if those rates hold, voters in Dane and Milwaukee counties would cast some 115,000 more mail-in ballots than their counterparts in the WOW counties, based on the higher number of absentee requests reported by state elections officials. Operatives say that could mean an advantage for Dems.

Voters asked to weigh in on redistricting, victims’ rights, school spending in spring referendums

A series of 22 advisory redistricting referendums in counties and towns across the state aren’t meant to drive progressive turnout, but rather to keep up the conversation on gerrymandered districts throughout the 2020 census, one advocate says.

Sachin Chheda, chair of the Fair Elections Project, told WisPolitics.com each referendum originated from grassroots efforts within communities from Wisconsinites who want to see an end to gerrymandered maps. He said his group only delivers information to interested organizers, and conducts a bit of online advertising on the subject too.

“We’re not parachuting in and running campaigns for people,” Chheda said. “It’s literally a grassroots movement. As far as I know, only three people are paid, part-time, to work on this issue statewide, of which I’m one."

The redistricting questions are just some of the referendums on ballots this spring. The statewide referendum to implement the "Marsy's Law" crime victims bill of rights is before voters after passing two straight legislative sessions. And 56 school spending requests will go to voters, including an $87 million dollar referendum for the Milwaukee school district that attracted the endorsement of both Democratic presidential candidates, Joe Biden and Bernie Sanders. In all, the school spending issues total nearly $1.8 billion across Wisconsin.

Background checks for handgun sales skyrocket amid COVID-19 pandemic

Background checks for handgun sales in Wisconsin have skyrocketed by over 54 percent in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, while concealed-carry permit applications have seen a more modest increase.

A total of 60,581 calls were placed to the state’s “Handgun Hotline” background check service in the first three months of 2020, compared to 39,141 for the same period in 2019.

More than half of this year’s total calls so far occurred in March as the state and federal government ramped up the response to the outbreak, with Gov. Tony Evers announcing increasing restrictions on group gatherings and business activity.

Supreme Court candidate JILL KAROFSKY today filed a lawsuit seeking to force WMC and the RSLC to cease running TV ads that she says falsely suggest she was responsible for giving no jail time to a “monster” who sexually assaulted a 5-year-old girl. Online court records from the 1999 case list Karofsky as the assistant DA, but she made one appearance in July 2001, after the man reached a plea deal in March 2000. Earlier this week, Karofsky asked the Elections Commission to fine WMC and the Republican State Leadership Commission’s Judicial Fairness Initiative for making a false claim about her. The suit also charges a second ad the RSLC is running includes false assertions as well. WMC spokesman Nick Novak said in response, “WMC stands by its First Amendment right to criticize the conduct of judges and prosecutors. We will continue to exercise this right, and notably, the request for an injunction is moot given that this specific communication is no longer being broadcast or otherwise made available.”

Dear Representative Felzkowski:

This is the second time I've written but the message is the same: Thanks for the great job you are doing. It helps to think our local Representative is involved and on top of things.

I have a small suggestion as well. Namely, as we move forward it would be helpful to know a bit more about the people who have contracted the virus. For each category (tested, tested positive, recovered and fatality) it would be helpful to know things like:

- * The age groups in each category;
- * Number of hospital admissions vs in-home for people who have tested positive;
- * Any treatment regimens that are gaining wide acceptance (Zpack, etc); and,
- * Number of people in each category (especially fatalities) with an underlying health condition.s

While I am sure there is a balance between patient confidentiality and public awareness, I am hopeful that people might even agree to some information about them being included in general statistics.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Last night, my brother-in-law called to say that his brother-in-law Gary knew one of the state's Covid-19 fatalities. It was particularly unsettling to hear that people had talked to the person in the morning and he said things we fine — only to pass away that evening. Given that Gary has had contact with the victim (who was on an Egyptian cruise), are left to speculate if there are any lessons to be learned.

Again, thanks for the fine work.

During the same period last year, we had 12,982. For context, the 115,679 new applications filed last week was more than twice the amount than any week during the Great Recession. Last week, the UI Division received more than 1.5 million calls, an increase of 6,208% over last year's busiest weekly call volume. Last Thursday alone, UI received 400,000 calls between 6 and 10 a.m., at times receiving 160 calls per second. The unprecedented number of calls overloaded the system, as it was not built to handle this type of call volume. We have since increased their phone capacity to allow 690 simultaneous calls.

However, the need for a resume was always stated by DWD, so I'm sorry your wife received false information on that. I'm so sorry that someone has not been able to reach her, but I will get her on the list so someone can call her directly.

Dolores in turn did not complete the resume part on the application expecting to return to work when given all clear by employer. This held up her benefits when she needed this money to pay bills. She was unable to contact the DWD as to why benefits were withheld.

So by not helping Dolores complete her application in a proper manner and not being at her service, the DWD basically tricked her into getting screwed out of 2-weeks unemployment compensation. The 2 weeks on the back end will probably not help as she will probably be back at work by then.

Hey John,

With the increased call logs for you guys, what should I tell constituents like this to do? It looks like they've been trying for a few days to get through but haven't been able to and I think they are a little stressed because of their new baby situation.

Would love your thoughts!

Dear Mary,

I was referred to you and given your e-mail in regards to my husband having an extremely hard time getting through to unemployment. We are now on day three of attempting to talk to someone. We started the process online as suggested but then towards the end of setting up his account he was told he needed to call and speak to someone to verify his account. We have been trying for days now and we can't get through. We just brought our premature baby home after a nearly 10 week stay at the NICU. She is on oxygen and part of the high risk category for this virus and every virus. We were starting to struggle before but had almost gotten our feet back underneath us when he got laid off from work this week. We need to get through in order to start to file weekly claims online and each day we can't file is another day closer to this having a severe and lasting impact on us. An impact that could be almost if not impossible to come back from. We've also been waiting well over 21 days for our federal tax refund. We can't get ahold of anyone at the irs either. I'm sure you can understand how scary, frustrating and stressful this all is especially with an new preemie baby. Any help or advice you can give us is beyond appreciated. Thank you so much for your time and efforts.

Sincerely,
Betsy and Garrett Beilke

Dear Representative Felzkowski:

I forgot to mention a few other bits of information that might be helpful to people:

- * Trend lines (we see daily case counts but it's hard to remember what yesterday, much less the beginning of the week looked like);
- * Comparisons to other geographies (is the US more like China or Italy);
- * Comparisons to other health hazards (is this worse than the flu or H1N1).

Not that I think there is someone in our district that should be doing this … but, perhaps in the state or even at the University?

I am happy to provide assistance if there was an interest in providing such information.

Again, thanks for the fine work.

Dear Representative Felzkowski:

This is the second time I've written but the message is the same: Thanks for the great job you are doing. It helps to think our local Representative is involved and on top of things.

I have a small suggestion as well. Namely, as we move forward it would be helpful to know a bit more about the people who have contracted the virus. For each category (tested, tested positive, recovered and fatality) it would be helpful to know things like:

- * The age groups in each category;
- * Number of hospital admissions vs in-home for people who have tested positive;
- * Any treatment regimens that are gaining wide acceptance (Zpack, etc); and,
- * Number of people in each category (especially fatalities) with an underlying health condition.s

While I am sure there is a balance between patient confidentiality and public awareness, I am hopeful that people might even agree to some information about them being included in general statistics.

Last night, my brother-in-law called to say that his brother-in-law Gary knew one of the state's Covid-19 fatalities. It was particularly unsettling to hear that people had talked to the person in the morning and he said things we fine — only to pass away that evening. Given that Gary has had contact with the victim (who was on an Egyptian cruise), are left to speculate if there are any lessons to be learned.

Again, thanks for the fine work.

The Division of Food and Recreational Safety has discontinued normal inspection activities due to the COVID-19 pandemic. To ensure that new and reinstated milk producers are able to sell milk during this period, the department will use a modified version of the current Temporary License process outlined in the Dairy Plant Resource Manual. This includes issuance of a Temporary Grade A permit.

The process is as follows:

1. 1. Field representatives can email the milk producer license application (F-fd-10) to the Eau Claire office at datcpecdairy@wisconsin.gov.
2. 2. A temporary license will be issued by Eau Claire staff upon receipt of the following documents:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- * Completed and signed milk producer application.
- * Negative water test result within the past two years.
- * Negative cooling water test result within the past six months (if applicable, it must be posted in the milkhouse).
- * Signed dairy plant field representative's inspection report.
- * Social security numbers for individuals or married couples.
- * Farms with nonpressurized storage vessels (NPSV), spring boxes or wells that are not in compliance with NR812 are not eligible for a temporary license at this time, unless the application includes a copy of a DNR or a DNR agent's written approval.

3. 3. A temporary license/permit must be issued prior to the first milk pickup on the farm. The license/permit is effective on the day of the first milk shipment.
4. 4. Eau Claire staff will send the temporary licensee information to the assigned dairy sanitarian.
5. 5. The assigned sanitarian will conduct a licensing inspection as soon as possible after normal inspection activity resumes.
6. 6. If normal inspection activity does not resume within 40 days of issuance, the temporary license/permit will be extended by Eau Claire staff.

If you have any questions, please email our Eau Claire staff at datcpecdairy@wisconsin.gov.

Hello Everyone,

As you may know from an email I sent out last week, landscaping was not deemed essential by the Governor's office under his Shelter-at-home order. I wanted to update everyone on some new developments.

Under the Governor's order, Section 13a exempts any profession that is included in the federally compiled CISA list. The order specifically references the March 23rd version of this list, but also includes any subsequent versions of the list.

On March 28th, version 2.0 of the CISA list was released, and under the header Public Works and Infrastructure Support Services, landscapers were included.

With this change on the federal CISA list, landscapers would now be considered an essential business under the state order.

Under WEDC guidance, employers do not need WEDC approval if after reading the state order they believe they are considered essential.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Dear Senator Tiffany and Representative Felzkowski,

I'm writing to you today to ask for your assistance with passing some kind of legislation — or executive action or SOMEthing — to protect hospitals and healthcare workers from liability for making necessary and proper triage decisions during a surge of patients due to the coronavirus crisis.

Here at ALH, we have been creating guidelines with our Aspirus system partners for how to allocate potentially scarce resources (hospital beds, ICU beds, ventilators, etc.) when the demand exceeds our supply. These guidelines are similar to those that have previously been published by states (New York, Utah, Michigan), and they're similar those of nearly every other hospital and healthcare system everywhere. Part of my role at ALH has been to ensure that all of these guidelines are in conformity with Catholic moral thought. They are. God help us that we ever reach the point of having to put these guidelines into play.

I want to emphasize this: we sincerely desire to continue to care for our patients and families the very best way that we can. I'm not asking you for unreasonable protection---several other states have provided this kind of protection within their states for folks who are acting in good faith according to established guidelines. These are difficult times, with professionals legitimately worried about having enough PPE, bringing infections home to their families, having to work longer hours in less than optimal conditions. I'm just asking you to lighten the load by removing the threat of potential lawsuits against professionals operating in good faith. The Journal of the American Medical Association, too, Is advocating for these kinds of protections.

Thank you for your consideration and your advocacy.

Hey Andrew,

Would it be possible at all for Alfred or someone in DQA to pull the nursing homes and Assisted Living sites in the 35th district? If it's possible, would it be something we could have soon? Just trying to manage our project.

Thank you for your thoughts!

Liz
