RE: American Oversight v. DOH, No. 20-cv-2153
ICE FOIA Case Number 2020-ICLI-00061
Fifth Interim Release

Dear Mr. Evers

This is the fifth interim response to your client's Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests to U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), dated September 10, 2020, given the tracking number 2020-ICLI-00061. Your clients are seeking the following: various records relating to the decision to deploy federal law enforcement officers in response to protests, the use of force on protesters, and the refusal of some federal law enforcement officers to identify themselves.

ICE has considered this request under the FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 552, and processed 658 pages of potentially responsive records from the Directors Office. Upon review ICE has determined that 608 pages were duplicative or non-responsive in nature and 3 pages were withheld in full. ICE has determined that a total of 27 pages will have portions withheld pursuant to Exemptions 5, 6, 7(C), and 7(E) of the FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 552 as described below.

Please note that 13 pages require consultations with an outside agency.

The ICE FOIA office has applied FOIA Exemptions (b)(5), (b)(6), (b)(7)(C), and (b)(7)(E) to portions of the pages produced as described below.

FOIA Exemption 5 protects inter-agency or intra-agency memorandums or letters which not be available by law to a party other than an agency in litigation with the agency. The deliberative process privilege protects the integrity of the deliberative or decision-making processes within the agency by exempting from mandatory disclosure opinions, conclusions, and recommendations included within inter-agency or intra-agency memoranda or letters. The release of this internal information would discourage the expression of candid opinions and inhibit the free and frank exchange of information among agency personnel. The attorney work-product privilege protects documents and other memoranda prepared by an attorney in contemplation of litigation. The attorney-client privilege protects confidential communications between an attorney and his client relating to a legal matter for which the client has sought professional advice. It applies to facts divulged by a client to his attorney, and encompasses any opinions given by an attorney to his client based upon, and thus reflecting, those facts, as well as communications between attorneys that reflect client-supplied information. The attorney-client privilege is not limited to the context of litigation.

FOIA Exemption 6 exempts from disclosure personnel or medical files and similar files the release of which would cause a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. This requires a balancing of the public's right to disclosure against the individual's right to privacy. The privacy interests of the individuals in the records you have requested outweigh any minimal public interest in disclosure of the information. Any private interest you may have in that information does not factor into the aforementioned balancing test.

FOIA Exemption 7(C) protects records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes that could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. This exemption takes particular note of the strong interests of individuals, whether they are suspects, witnesses, or investigators, in not being unwarrantably associated with alleged criminal activity. That interest extends to persons who are not only the subjects of the investigation, but those who may have their privacy invaded by having their identities and information about them revealed in connection with an investigation. Based upon the traditional recognition of strong privacy interest in law enforcement records, categorical withholding of information that identifies third parties in law enforcement records is ordinarily appropriate. As such, I have determined that the privacy interest in the identities of individuals in the records you have requested clearly outweigh any minimal public interest in disclosure of the information. Please note that any private interest you may have in that information does not factor into this determination.

The ICE FOIA Office applied FOIA Exemption (b)(7)(E) to protect from disclosure an internal law enforcement sensitive investigative technique. The release of this information would disclose investigative techniques and procedures and could be reasonably expected to risk circumvention of the law.

FOIA Exemption 7(E) protects records compiled for law enforcement purposes, the release of which would disclose techniques and/or procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, or would disclose guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. I have determined that disclosure of certain law enforcement sensitive information contained within the responsive records could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. Additionally, the techniques and procedures at issue are not well known to the public.

If you have any questions about this letter, please contact DOJ Attorney Keri L. Berman at keri.l.berman@usdoj.gov.
