Dear Mr. Evers:

This responds to your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request dated August 17, 2020 in which you seek access to Postal Service records concerning:

1. All email communications (including email messages, email attachments, complete email chains, calendar invitations, or attachments thereto) (a) sent by the USPS officials named below (b) to any non-governmental email address attributed to Postmaster General DeJoy between June 15, 2020 and the date of the search.

USPS Officials:

- a) Any person serving in the capacity of Chief of Staff or Deputy Chief of Staff to Mr. DeJoy
- b) Any person serving in the capacity of Scheduler or Executive Assistant to Mr. DeJoy
- c) Any person serving in the capacity of Senior Advisor to Mr. DeJoy

2. All emails communications (including email messages, email attachments, and complete email chains) between June 15, 2020 and the date of the search sent from (a) any non-governmental email address attributed to Postmaster General DeJoy to (b) any governmental email address associated with Postmaster General DeJoy. Please include all messages, including those that have been forwarded to Mr. DeJoy's governmental email address or on which Mr. DeJoy's governmental email address is carbon copied.

Based on your description of records sought, your request was referred to the Office of the Postmaster General (OPMG). The Information Catalog Program (ICP) Office performed an email records search and located 96 pages responsive to your request.

Enclosed are 96 pages of record material; 2 pages are released in their entirety and 94 pages contain redactions pursuant to FOIA Exemption 3 in conjunction with U.S.C. § 410(c)(2), Exemption 5, 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(5), and Exemption 6, 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(6). The redacted material is indicated with the applied exemption annotated.

Exemption 3 allows an agency to withhold information that is "specifically exempted from disclosure by statute." 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(3). Section 410(c)(2) of the Postal Reorganization Act qualifies as an Exemption 3 statute. 39 U.S.C. § 410(c)(2). Section 410(c)(2) permits the Postal Service to withhold "information of a commercial nature, including trade secrets, whether or not obtained from a person outside the Postal Service, which under good business practice would not be publicly disclosed." 39 U.S.C. § 410(c)(2). Information of a commercial nature under Section 410(c)(2) is broadly defined to include all information that "relates to commerce, trade, profit, or the Postal Service's ability to conduct itself in a businesslike manner." 39 C.F.R. § 265.14(b)(3). In determining whether particular information is commercial in nature, the Postal Service considers six factors relating to whether the information is more akin to its role as a business entity, a competitor in the market or a provider of basic public services. See 39 C.F.R. § 265.14(b)(3)(i). In addition, the Postal Service has identified an extensive, though not exhaustive, list of information that is commercial in nature and thus, exempt from disclosure under Section 410(c)(2). See 39 C.F.R. § 265.14(b)(3)(ii).

Here, we find that the information redacted in the responsive documents, such as financial information and email addresses, qualifies as “information of a commercial nature” under Section 410(c)(2). We also find that this information would not be released “under good business practice,” as it is proprietary. Accordingly, this information is exempt from disclosure under Exemption 3 of the FOIA and Section 410(c)(2).

Exemption 5 permits the Postal Service to withhold “inter-agency or intra-agency memorandums or letters which would not be available by law to a party other than an agency in litigation with the agency, provided that the deliberative process privilege shall not apply to records created 25 years or more before the date on which the records were requested.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(5). Courts have found Exemption 5 to “exempt those documents, and only those documents, that are normally privileged in the civil discovery context,” including the deliberative process privilege, the attorney-client privilege, and the attorney work-product privilege. NLRB v. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 421 U.S. 132, 149 (1975); see Martin v. Office of Special Counsel, 819 F.2d 1181, 1184 (D.C. Cir. 1987). To meet the “inter-agency or intra-agency memorandums” threshold requirement, the “source [of the withheld records] must be a Government agency,” Dep’t of the Interior v. Klamath Water Users Protective Ass’n, 532 U.S. 1, 2 (2001), or the source of the withheld records could be a consultant if the agency sought outside advice and the consultant functioned as an agency employee in providing advice similar to that of an agency employee. See Nat’l Inst. Of Military Justice v. Dep’t of Defense, 404 F. Supp. 2d 325, 345 (D.D.C. 2005).

The deliberative process privilege of Exemption 5 protects from disclosure records that reflect opinions, advice, recommendations, and other deliberations comprising part of a process by which federal governmental decisions and policies are formulated. Dep’t of the Interior v. Klamath Water Users Protective Ass’n, 532 U.S. 1, 8 (2001). The privilege protects pre-decisional, deliberative records that were created less than 25 years before the date on which the records were requested. 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(5). Certain records withheld here consist of drafts of remarks, or staff advice and suggestions all of which are pre-decisional and deliberative in nature. These documents contain opinions, analysis, advice, and recommendations to be used in the decision-making process regarding the subject matter of the request, and therefore are within the scope of the deliberative process privilege. They have accordingly been withheld from disclosure.

Under Exemption 6, the Postal Service may withhold “personnel files and medical files and similar files the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(6). This exemption covers all records and information about an individual and is not limited to intimate details or highly personal information. See U.S. Dep’t of State v. Wash. Post Co., 456 U.S. 595, 600–02 (1982). Exemption 6 protects records and information that expressly identify an individual, as well as records and information from which an individual’s identity could be deduced. Id.

The personal privacy interests protected under Exemption 6 include, but are not limited to, an individual’s interest in avoiding embarrassment, harassment, retaliation, annoyance or other adverse effect that would result from the public disclosure of the information pertaining to the individual.

Under Exemption 6, a requester may overcome an individual’s privacy interest only if the requester shows that the requester seeks to advance a public interest and disclosure of the records will advance that public interest. See Nat’l Archives & Records Admin. v. Favish, 541 U.S. 157, 172 (2004). The only public interest cognizable under Exemption 6 is the extent to which public disclosure of the record or information would significantly contribute to public understanding of the federal government's operations or activities. Id. Under Exemption 6, even a very slight privacy interest by an individual may be enough "to outweigh a negligible or non-existent public interest." U.S. Dep't of Def. v. Fed. Labor Relations Auth., 510 U.S. 487, 497, 500 (1994).

Here, the records responsive to your request contain personal information, for example, pertaining to a non-USPS employee email address or personal email addresses. These individuals have a privacy interest in their private or work email address. You did not provide any information about how release of this record would contribute to the public's understanding of the operations or activities of the Postal Service. Therefore, we are this personal information contained on the responsive record pursuant to Exemption 6.

If you are not satisfied with the response to this request, you may file an administrative appeal within 90 days of the date of this response letter by writing to the General Counsel U.S. Postal Service 475 L'Enfant Plaza SW Washington, DC 20260 or via email at FOIAAppeal@usps.gov. Your appeal must be postmarked or electronically transmitted within 90 days of the date of the response to your request. The letter of appeal should include, as applicable:

- (1) A copy of the request, of any notification of denial or other action, and of any other related correspondence;
- (2) The FOIA tracking number assigned to the request;
- (3) A statement of the action, or failure to act, from which the appeal is taken;
- (4) A statement identifying the specific redactions to responsive records that the requester is challenging;
- (5) A statement of the relief sought; and
- (6) A statement of the reasons why the requester believes the action or failure to act is erroneous.
