Today, Tuesday, July 14, the American Workforce Policy Advisory Board, co-chaired by Advisor to the President Ivanka Trump and Secretary of Commerce Wilbur Ross, launched the “Find Something New” advertising campaign to raise awareness about the multiple pathways to career success for American students and workers across our country.

 TWEET: @IvankaTrump Whether you're entering the workforce for the 1st time or need to pivot and retrain due to Covid-19, explore all your options to acquire in-demand job skills at FindSomethingNew.org

The ads direct audiences to FindSomethingNew.org, a new website with resources to help American workers and students identify and pursue the right path for their career goals. The website offers an interactive tool that recommends education pathways for each user and information about rising careers to consider. Pathways featured include online learning, professional certification programs, associate's degrees, and vocational, technical and trades education. The campaign ads feature stories from real individuals who found fulfilling careers after embracing new ways of learning.

Funding for the campaign has been provided by 20 organizations who are committed to promoting workforce readiness for the American public, including: Apple, AT&T Inc., Boys & Girls Club of America, Business Roundtable, CISCO Systems, Inc. Duke Energy Corporation, General Motors Company, The Home Depot, IBM, Johnson & Johnson, JP Morgan Chase & Co., Lockheed Martin, National Association of Manufacturers, SAP America, SHRM, United Technologies Corporation, U.S. Chamber of Commerce Foundation, VISA, Walmart, and Western Governors University, along with in-kind contributions from organizations such as the American Association of Community Colleges.

Background on the American Workforce Policy Advisory Board President Trump created the American Workforce Policy Advisory Board with Executive Order 13845, "Establishing the President's National Council for the American Worker." The American Workforce Policy Advisory Board was tasked with providing advice and recommendations to the interagency National Council for the American Worker on ways to encourage the private sector and educational institutions to combat the skills crisis by investing in and increasing demand-driven education, training, and re-training, including training through apprenticeships and work-based learning opportunities. The President participated in the first American Workforce Policy Advisory Board meeting on March 6, 2019 in the East Room. He welcomed the new Board members and tasked them with developing recommendations to ensure America's workers had the skills and talent necessary to maintain America's dominance in the decades to come. Read more here, WSJ: Training for the Jobs of Tomorrow – A New White House Initiative Will Tackle the Challenges Technology Poses to the Workforce.

Background on the Pledge to America's Workers: As part of the National Council for the American Worker, the Trump Administration is engaging companies and trade groups throughout the country to sign the Pledge to America's Workers—committing to expand programs that educate, train, and reskill American workers from high-school age to near-retirement. Since President Trump signed the Executive Order, more than 430 companies and organizations have signed the Pledge, contributing to over 16 MILLION new education and training opportunities for American students and workers over the next five years. A bipartisan majority (37) of our Nation's Governors – including Governor Kim Reynolds (Iowa) and Governor Eric Holcomb (Indiana) have also signed the pledge demonstrating their commitment to find workers with specific skill sets to fill an increasing number of job openings. And America's mayors are supporting this important initiative (USCM 87th Annual Meeting: Resolution on Workforce Development).

Recent Action: On Friday, June 26, the American Workforce Policy Advisory Board – chaired by Ivanka Trump (Advisor to the President) and Secretary Wilbur Ross (U.S. Department of Commerce) – hosted its 6th meeting at the White House. Governor Kim Reynolds (Iowa) and Eric Holcomb (Indiana) joined private and public sector partners for a discussion on the past year's activities around developing a campaign to promote multiple pathways to career success, the need to modernize candidate recruitment and hiring practices, and encouraging employer-led training investments in education and workforce. In conjunction with the meeting, President Trump signed an Executive Order extending the Board and Council for the American Worker for another year as well as an Executive Order encouraging skills-based hiring in the Federal government. State and Local Leaders,

Throughout President Trump's first three years in office, America witnessed a historic economic expansion. The unemployment rate reached its lowest level on record for many demographic groups, and companies often struggled to find workers to fill open positions. The COVID-19 pandemic has temporarily disrupted the livelihoods of American workers and businesses in unprecedented ways. But amid this seismic shift in the landscape of work, the U.S. economy and spirit are proving resilient. See, for example, Trouncing Expectations by 10 Million Jobs, the Labor Market's Comeback Has Begun.

Today, Friday, June 26, the American Workforce Policy Advisory Board – chaired by Ivanka Trump (Advisor to the President) and Secretary Wilbur Ross (U.S. Department of Commerce) – is hosting its 6th meeting at the White House. In conjunction with the meeting, President Trump will sign an Executive Order extending the Board and Council for the American Worker (more below) for another year as well as an Executive Order encouraging skills-based hiring in the Federal government. Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

State and Local Leaders –

We hope that you will join us in championing today's historic announcement. Today, August 13, President Donald J. Trump, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu of Israel, and Sheikh Mohammed Bin Zayed, Crown Prince of Abu Dhabi and Deputy Supreme Commander of the United Arab Emirates spoke and agreed to the full normalization of relations between Israel and the United Arab Emirates. Find a full statement here.

 @realDonaldTrump: HUGE breakthrough today! Historic Peace Agreement between our two GREAT friends, Israel and the United Arab Emirates!

"Everybody said this would be impossible," President Trump said from the Oval Office. "This is a truly historic moment. Not since the Israel-Jordan peace treaty was signed more than 25 years ago has so much progress been made towards peace in the Middle East."

 @WhiteHouse: This historic diplomatic breakthrough will advance peace in the Middle East region and is a testament to the bold diplomacy and vision of the 3 leaders and the courage of the UAE & Israel to chart a new path that will unlock the region's great potential.

This historic diplomatic breakthrough will advance peace in the Middle East region and is a testament to the bold diplomacy and vision of the three leaders and the courage of the United Arab Emirates and Israel to chart a new path that will unlock the great potential in the region. All three countries face many common challenges and will mutually benefit from today's historic achievement. Below, find additional information.

President Donald J. Trump Has Secured a Historic Deal Between Israel and the United Arab Emirates to Advance Peace and Prosperity In the Region

Our vision is one of peace, security, and prosperity—in this region, and in the world. Our goal is a coalition of nations who share the aim of stamping out extremism and providing our children a hopeful future that does honor to God. - President Donald J. Trump

SECURING A HISTORIC AGREEMENT

President Donald J. Trump has secured the first agreement to normalize relations between Israel and a major Arab country in decades.

- President Donald J. Trump has brokered an agreement to normalize relations between the United Arab Emirates and Israel – the first such agreement between Israel and a major Arab country since 1994.
- The countries have committed to the exchange of embassies and ambassadors, and to begin cooperation in a broad range of fields including education, healthcare, trade, and security.
- This historic breakthrough is the most significant step toward peace in the Middle East in over 25 years.
 - The United Arab Emirates is the first major Arab state to recognize Israel since the Israel-Jordan Peace Treaty was signed on October 26, 1994.

SHAPING PEACE THROUGH BOLD LEADERSHIP

President Trump recognized it was time for a new approach to achieve peace, security, and opportunity for the people of the Middle East.

- This historic breakthrough was made possible by President Trump's leadership and expertise as a dealmaker.
- The President built trust with our regional allies and reoriented their strategic calculus by identifying shared interests and common opportunities, moving them away from perpetuating old conflicts.
- This deal provides a foundation for further advances toward regional peace in the future.
- The United States believes that more Arab and Muslim countries will follow the United Arab Emirates' lead and normalize relations with Israel.

BUILDING A MORE PEACEFUL AND PROSPEROUS REGION

This agreement will help put the region on a truly transformative path: one with stability, security, and opportunity.

- This agreement is a major breakthrough for Muslims throughout the world who wish to come in peace to pray at the Al Aqsa Mosque, as they will now be able to fly to Tel Aviv through Abu Dhabi to do so and will be welcomed.
- By encouraging more visits, it will help counter the extremists who use the false narrative that the Al Aqsa Mosque is under attack and that Muslims cannot pray at this holy site.
- Expanded business and financial ties between these two thriving economies will also accelerate growth and economic opportunity across the Middle East.
- This agreement will allow further advancement of the President's vision for finding a comprehensive, fair, realistic, and lasting peace between Israel and the Palestinians and in the region.

Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

State and Local Leaders –

We hope that you will join us in championing today's historic announcement. Today, August 13, President Donald J. Trump, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu of Israel, and Sheikh Mohammed Bin Zayed, Crown Prince of Abu Dhabi and Deputy Supreme Commander of the United Arab Emirates spoke and agreed to the full normalization of relations between Israel and the United Arab Emirates. Find a full statement here.

 @realDonaldTrump: HUGE breakthrough today! Historic Peace Agreement between our two GREAT friends, Israel and the United Arab Emirates!

"Everybody said this would be impossible," President Trump said from the Oval Office. "This is a truly historic moment. Not since the Israel-Jordan peace treaty was signed more than 25 years ago has so much progress been made towards peace in the Middle East."

 @WhiteHouse: This historic diplomatic breakthrough will advance peace in the Middle East region and is a testament to the bold diplomacy and vision of the 3 leaders and the courage of the UAE & Israel to chart a new path that will unlock the region's great potential.

This historic diplomatic breakthrough will advance peace in the Middle East region and is a testament to the bold diplomacy and vision of the three leaders and the courage of the United Arab Emirates and Israel to chart a new path that will unlock the great potential in the region. All three countries face many common challenges and will mutually benefit from today's historic achievement. Below, find additional information.

Sincerely,

The White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

President Donald J. Trump Has Secured a Historic Deal Between Israel and the United Arab Emirates to Advance Peace and Prosperity In the Region

Our vision is one of peace, security, and prosperity—in this region, and in the world. Our goal is a coalition of nations who share the aim of stamping out extremism and providing our children a hopeful future that does honor to God. - President Donald J. Trump

President Donald J. Trump has secured the first agreement to normalize relations between Israel and a major Arab country in decades.

- President Donald J. Trump has brokered an agreement to normalize relations between the United Arab Emirates and Israel – the first such agreement between Israel and a major Arab country since 1994.
- The countries have committed to the exchange of embassies and ambassadors, and to begin cooperation in a broad range of fields including education, healthcare, trade, and security.
- This historic breakthrough is the most significant step toward peace in the Middle East in over 25 years.
 - The United Arab Emirates is the first major Arab state to recognize Israel since the Israel-Jordan Peace Treaty was signed on October 26, 1994.

SHAPING PEACE THROUGH BOLD LEADERSHIP

President Trump recognized it was time for a new approach to achieve peace, security, and opportunity for the people of the Middle East.

- This historic breakthrough was made possible by President Trump’s leadership and expertise as a dealmaker.
- The President built trust with our regional allies and reoriented their strategic calculus by identifying shared interests and common opportunities, moving them away from perpetuating old conflicts.
- This deal provides a foundation for further advances toward regional peace in the future.
- The United States believes that more Arab and Muslim countries will follow the United Arab Emirates’ lead and normalize relations with Israel.

BUILDING A MORE PEACEFUL AND PROSPEROUS REGION

This agreement will help put the region on a truly transformative path: one with stability, security, and opportunity.

- This agreement is a major breakthrough for Muslims throughout the world who wish to come in peace to pray at the Al Aqsa Mosque, as they will now be able to fly to Tel Aviv through Abu Dhabi to do so and will be welcomed.
- By encouraging more visits, it will help counter the extremists who use the false narrative that the Al Aqsa Mosque is under attack and that Muslims cannot pray at this holy site.
- Expanded business and financial ties between these two thriving economies will also accelerate growth and economic opportunity across the Middle East.
- This agreement will allow further advancement of the President’s vision for finding a comprehensive, fair, realistic, and lasting peace between Israel and the Palestinians and in the region.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

About: Opportunity Zones are economically distressed communities, defined by individual census tract, nominated by America's governors, and certified by the U.S. Secretary of the Treasury via his delegation of that authority to the Internal Revenue Service. Under certain conditions, new investments in Opportunity Zones may be eligible for preferential tax treatment. There are 8,764 Opportunity Zones in the United States with approximately 3,500 located in rural zip codes and many of which have experienced a lack of investment for decades. The Opportunity Zones initiative is not a top-down government program from Washington but an incentive to spur private and public investment in America's underserved communities.

Subject: Call For Student Submissions Reminder: Building the Movement - America's Youth Celebrate 100 Years of Women's Suffrage (July 6 Deadline)

EXTERNAL: This email originated from outside the kcmo.org organization. Use caution and examine the sender address before replying or clicking links.

State and Local Leaders –

We want to provide a reminder for the Office of the First Lady Melania Trump's initiative – Building the Movement: America's Youth Celebrate 100 Years of Women's Suffrage – honoring the centennial anniversary of the 19th amendment, which gave American women the right to vote. The initiative encourages students in grades 3-12 from across the United States and its territories for submissions depicting individuals, objects, and events representing the women's suffrage movement. One submitted artwork will be chosen from each of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, America Samoa, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands for display alongside images of women's suffrage parades, marches, and gatherings that took place at or around the White House. The submission deadline is on July 6, 2020. We hope that you will share information about this initiative in your communities and encourage student submissions. All applicants will receive a thank you note signed by the First Lady, thanking them for their participation in this special exhibit honoring the women's suffrage movement.

Frequently Asked Questions

- How can I help? We encourage you to share information about this exciting opportunity in your States and communities directly with families and students, through newsletters, and on social media.
- Where should students submit their finished artwork? Students are to individually submit their artwork through the link provided in the press release below. That link can also be found here.
- Should students write their names or other information on their artwork? Students should not include their name or other information on their artwork. All identification and other information (like artwork title) should be provided in the submission field via the registration/submission link.
- Are photos or digitally generated submissions allowed? No. Artwork guidance and requirements are outlined in the press release below and here.
- Who and how will submissions be chosen? One submitted artwork will be chosen from each of the 50 States and the District of Columbia, America Samoa, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. The focus of the competition is educating American's children on the history and impact of the Women's Suffrage movement, not solely on artistic talent. Please see the below press release (also here) for more information.
- Is there a social media release kit? Please feel free to use the above graphic. Follow the First Lady on Twitter and Facebook for more information and social media material.
- What is the deadline? Artwork must be submitted by Monday, July 6.

Sincerely,

The White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

Office of the First Lady

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
June 15, 2020

Building the Movement: America's Youth Celebrate 100 Years of Women's Suffrage
Call for Submissions

First Lady Melania Trump is excited to announce Building the Movement: America's Youth Celebrate 100 Years of Women's Suffrage, an exhibit honoring the centennial anniversary of the ratification of the 19th amendment, which gave American women the right to vote. The exhibit will launch this August and will showcase artwork by young Americans depicting this historic milestone. To create this exhibit, the First Lady is asking students across the United States and its territories for submissions depicting individuals, objects, and events representing the women's suffrage movement. Their artwork will appear alongside images of women's suffrage parades, marches, and gatherings that took place at or around the White House.

"As we celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the 19th Amendment, it's important to include our children in the conversation so they can learn and understand the history behind the women's suffrage movement" said First Lady Melania Trump. "For decades, women leaders lobbied, marched, and protested for equality and their right to vote in the United States. It is my hope that this project will both support and expand the important conversations taking place on equality and the impact of peaceful protests, while encouraging children to engage in the history behind this consequential movement in their own home state."

The White House is encouraging submissions from students in grades 3-12, and will select one artwork to be included in the exhibit from each of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, America Samoa, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. All applicants will receive a thank you note signed by the First Lady, thanking them for their participation in this special exhibit honoring the women's suffrage movement.

Submission applications can be found HERE. Entries must be received by July 6, 2020 at 5:00 p.m. ET.

To be considered, artwork must meet the following requirements:

1. Two-dimensional, created on an 8"x 8" piece of paper. To submit, parents and guardians are asked to upload an image of your child's artwork which can be a simple snapshot taken with a camera or a cell phone. Winners will be asked to send their original artwork via mail at a later date.
2. Include a statement (up to 300 characters) about the artwork and how it represents women's suffrage.
3. Be based on one of the following categories: Suffragists, Suffrage Symbols, or Suffrage Events.
 - Suffragists: Portray a suffragist who inspires you. Many brave individuals dedicated themselves to fighting for women's right to vote. Depict one of the well-known woman from the national movement or someone who did work in your state/territory.
 - Suffrage Symbols: Create your own button, ribbon, or sign. Activists and supporters wore buttons with messages such as “Votes for Women” or carried signs with statements to President Wilson: “Mr. President: How Long Must Women Wait for Liberty?”

- Suffrage Events: Depict a historic march, protest, or other event related to the women’s suffrage movement. This can be a national happening or something from your state/territory.

To learn more about the women’s suffrage movement, please visit the Women’s Suffrage Centennial Commission website and review their state toolkits for more information on what happened in your state!

State and Local Leaders –

On Monday, June 15, the Office of the First Lady Melania Trump announced the release of the Building the Movement: America's Youth Celebrate 100 Years of Women's Suffrage, an exhibit honoring the centennial anniversary of the ratification of the 19th amendment which gave American women the right to vote. The exhibit will launch this August (2020) and will showcase artwork by young Americans depicting this historic milestone. To create this exhibit, the First Lady is asking students in grades 3-12 from across the United States and its territories for submissions depicting individuals, objects, and events representing the women's suffrage movement. One submitted artwork will be chosen from each of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, America Samoa, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. The artwork will appear alongside images of women's suffrage parades, marches, and gatherings that took place at or around the White House. All applicants will receive a thank you note signed by the First Lady, thanking them for their participation in this special exhibit honoring the women's suffrage movement.

Building the Movement: America's Youth Celebrate 100 Years of Women's Suffrage
Call for Submissions

First Lady Melania Trump is excited to announce Building the Movement: America's Youth Celebrate 100 Years of Women's Suffrage, an exhibit honoring the centennial anniversary of the ratification of the 19th amendment, which gave American women the right to vote. The exhibit will launch this August and will showcase artwork by young Americans depicting this historic milestone. To create this exhibit, the First Lady is asking students across the United States and its territories for submissions depicting individuals, objects, and events representing the women's suffrage movement. Their artwork will appear alongside images of women's suffrage parades, marches, and gatherings that took place at or around the White House.

"As we celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the 19th Amendment, it's important to include our children in the conversation so they can learn and understand the history behind the women's suffrage movement" said First Lady Melania Trump. "For decades, women leaders lobbied, marched, and protested for equality and their right to vote in the United States. It is my hope that this project will both support and expand the important conversations taking place on equality and the impact of peaceful protests, while encouraging children to engage in the history behind this consequential movement in their own home state."

The White House is encouraging submissions from students in grades 3-12, and will select one artwork to be included in the exhibit from each of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, America Samoa, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. All applicants will receive a thank you note signed by the First Lady, thanking them for their participation in this special exhibit honoring the women's suffrage movement.

Submission applications can be found HERE. Entries must be received by July 6, 2020 at 5:00 p.m. ET.

To be considered, artwork must meet the following requirements:

1. Two-dimensional, created on an 8"x 8" piece of paper. To submit, parents and guardians are asked to upload an image of your child's artwork which can be a simple snapshot taken with a camera or a cell phone. Winners will be asked to send their original artwork via mail at a later date.
2. Include a statement (up to 300 characters) about the artwork and how it represents women's suffrage.
3. Be based on one of the following categories: Suffragists, Suffrage Symbols, or Suffrage Events.
 - Suffragists: Portray a suffragist who inspires you. Many brave individuals dedicated themselves to fighting for women's right to vote. Depict one of the well-known woman from the national movement or someone who did work in your state/territory.
 - Suffrage Symbols: Create your own button, ribbon, or sign. Activists and supporters wore buttons with messages such as "Votes for Women" or carried signs with statements to President Wilson: "Mr. President: How Long Must Women Wait for Liberty?"
 - Suffrage Events: Depict a historic march, protest, or other event related to the women's suffrage movement. This can be a national happening or something from your state/territory.

To learn more about the women's suffrage movement, please visit the Women's Suffrage Centennial Commission website and review their state toolkits for more information on what happened in your state!

Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) Extended Through August: On July 4, President Trump signed legislation (S. 4116) reauthorizing the Paycheck Protection Program through August 8, 2020. Enacted in March as part of the CARES Act, the $669 billion program has approved more than 4.8 million loans totaling more than $520 billion and supporting over 51 million jobs to date. The extension of the program through August will make available the remaining $134 billion to small businesses and qualifying entities. Learn more about the PPP here.

Department of the Treasury's OIG released reporting requirements for CRF recipients: On July 2, Department of the Treasury's Office of Inspector General (OIG) released a memorandum with instructions for recipients of the CARES Act's Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF). The OIG memorandum provides instructions for CRF recipients for record keeping and reporting. As stated in the CARES Act, Treasury's OIG is responsible for monitoring and oversight of the CRF payments. Please note that the first quarterly report is due on July 17. For questions on the memorandum or for help with the reporting requirements please contact Treasury OIG at CARES@oig.treas.gov.

U.S. Department of the Treasury Issues Updated Coronavirus Relief Fund FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On June 24, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. Among other new guidance, the updated Q/A provides that States, Tribes, and localities can use Coronavirus Relief Fund dollars for the 25% FEMA cost share. The updated FAQ's can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.

- Note Treasury's July 8 revisions regarding whether CRF payments can be used to cover increased administrative leave costs of public employees who could not telework in the event of a stay at home order or a case of COVID-19 in the workplace. Per the updated FAQ's, "the statute requires that payments be used only to cover costs that were not accounted for in the budget most recently approved as of March 27, 2020. As stated in the Guidance, a cost meets this requirement if either (a) the cost cannot lawfully be funded using a line item, allotment, or allocation within that budget or (b) the cost is for a substantially different use from any expected use of funds in such a line item, allotment, or allocation. If the cost of an employee was allocated to administrative leave to a greater extent than was expected, the cost of such administrative leave may be covered using payments from the Fund."

FEMA Releases Guidance on Federal Cost Share for Public Assistance Program : On July 2, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released clear guidance on how FEMA will treat the multiple sources of funding as they relate to the public assistance program and its cost share requirements. Generally, funding from other federal agencies cannot be used to meet the FEMA public assistance non-federal cost share requirement. For COVID-19, however, there are two exceptions: Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) dollars – mentioned above – and Department of House and Urban Development's Community Disaster Block Grant (CDBG-CV).

Department of Education Launches New Student-Centered Grant Competition to Spur Short-Term Education Opportunities : U.S. Secretary of Education Betsy DeVos announced a new higher education discretionary grant program designed to provide students the opportunity to develop new skills, provide innovators and inventors the resources to expand existing businesses or build new ones, and encourage institutions of higher education to foster business development and innovation as America begins to recover from COVID-19-related disruptions to education and our economy. The CARES Act provided $307.5 million for discretionary grants, which the Secretary has chosen to divide between two competitions: $127.5 million for the Reimagine Workforce Preparation Grant and $180 million for the Rethink K-12 Education Models Grant.

Indian Health Service Announces National Expansion of the Community Health: The Indian Health Service is announcing the national expansion of the Community Health Aide Program. The program provides education and training of tribal community health providers to increase access to quality health care, health promotion and disease prevention services. As an expansion of the Alaska Community Health Aide Program, the national CHAP will be consistent with the Alaska model and will foster innovative service delivery for the IHS by augmenting the existing workforce with mid-level paraprofessionals, utilizing culturally competent providers, and providing workforce development opportunities for locally developed staff.

EPA Approves First Surface Disinfectant Products Tested on the SARS-CoV-2 Virus : Throughout the COVID-19 public health emergency, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has worked to provide the American public with information about how to safely and effectively kill the novel coronavirus, SARS-CoV-2, on surfaces. On July 6, EPA approved two products, Lysol Disinfectant Spray (EPA Reg No. 777-99) and Lysol Disinfectant Max Cover Mist (EPA Reg No. 777-127), based on laboratory testing that shows the products are effective against SARS-CoV-2. "EPA is committed to identifying new tools and providing accurate and up-to-date information to help the American public protect themselves and their families from the novel coronavirus," said EPA Administrator Andrew Wheeler. "EPA's review of products tested against this virus marks an important milestone in President Trump's all of government approach to fighting the spread of COVID-19."

HHS Launches 'Surge' COVID-19 Testing in Hotspot Jurisdictions in Florida, Louisiana and Texas: On July 7, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) announced free COVID-19 testing in Jacksonville, Florida; Baton Rouge, Louisiana; and Edinburg, Texas. Surge testing efforts will temporarily increase federal support to communities where there has been a recent and intense level of new cases and hospitalizations related to the ongoing outbreak. The three jurisdictions identified are seeing significant increases in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations and could potentially benefit from additional opportunities to identify new cases, especially for people who are asymptomatic.

HHS, DOD Collaborate with Novavax to Produce Millions of COVID-19 Investigational Vaccine Doses in Commercial-Scale Manufacturing Demonstration Projects: On July 7, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and Department of Defense (DoD) yesterday jointly announced a $1.6 billion agreement with Novavax, Inc. of Gaithersburg, Maryland, to demonstrate commercial-scale manufacturing of the company's COVID-19 investigational vaccine. By funding this manufacturing effort, the federal government will own the 100 million doses of investigational vaccine expected to result from the demonstration projects. This step builds toward the Trump Administration's Operation Warp Speed goal to begin delivering 300 million of doses of safe and effective vaccine to the American people in 2021.

HHS, DOD Collaborate with Regeneron on Large-Scale Manufacturing Demonstration Project of COVID-19 Investigational Therapeutic Treatment: The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and Department of Defense announced an agreement with Regeneron, Inc. of Tarrytown, New York, to demonstrate commercial-scale manufacturing of the company's COVID-19 investigational anti-viral antibody treatment, REGN-COV2. By funding this manufacturing effort, the federal government will own the doses expected to result from the demonstration project.

NIH launches Clinical Trials Network to Test COVID-19 Vaccines and Other Prevention Tools : The National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), part of the National Institutes of Health, has established a new clinical trials network that aims to enroll thousands of volunteers in large-scale clinical trials testing a variety of investigational vaccines and monoclonal antibodies intended to protect people from COVID-19. The COVPN is a functional unit of "Operation Warp Speed," a partnership led by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to invest in and coordinate the development, manufacturing and distribution of COVID-19 diagnostics, therapeutics and vaccines. White House COVID-19 National Briefing Call Readout

July 8, 2020

White House National Economic Council

Larry Kudlow (Assistant to the President for Economic Policy) provided an economic and recovery update. Kudlow noted many areas of the country, like New York and New Jersey, have seen significant drops in their overall COVID-19 but noted case increases in certain States, including in Florida, Arizona, and Texas. He emphasized that the current data shows the economy is in a "V-shaped" recovery and projections point to strong GDP growth through the end of the year and into 2021. Kudlow did note that increasing cases in certain parts of the country could have an impact. He encouraged Americans to demonstrate "coronavirus courtesy" in practicing good practices, like social distancing and personal hygiene. See more from Larry Kudlow in an interview on CNBC's "Squawk Box" here.

White House Coronavirus Task Force

Ambassador Birx discussed recent COVID-19 positive case surges noting that there is evidence of mitigation measures beginning to flatten the curve in Arizona and Florida. Ambassador Birx thanked the State, local, and Tribal leaders on the call and across the country for their on-the-ground work and leadership and stressed the importance of implementing and following appropriate mitigation measures. The Ambassador also highlighted her recent travel to Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas to meet with State, local, and Tribal leaders. Read more insight from Dr. Birx from the White House Coronavirus Task Force briefing on July 8 here.

Surgeon General Jerome Adams noted the importance of partnerships at every level noting his motto is Better Health through Better Partnerships and emphasized that one of the most important antidotes to COVID-19 is individual behavior. He highlighted a public service announcement (PSA) he recently released – COVID Stops With Me – and encouraged everyone to share broadly. The Surgeon General walked through efforts the Administration has and continues to take to support COVID-19 response and recovery, particularly for disadvantaged communities. This includes:

- Supporting more than 600 community-based testing sites. 70% of those sites are located in socially vulnerable areas, as categorized by housing situations, race, ethnicity and language barriers.
- Ensuring testing at 93 percent of America's community health centers, which predominately serve low-income areas and communities of color.
- Allocating ~ $15 billion to Medicaid providers and $10 billion to safety net hospitals, sources of care for our most vulnerable.
- Requiring that all testing data reported by states include information on race, ethnicity, and ZIP code, so we can continue focusing our strategy on the hardest-hit communities.
- Deregulating telemedicine, making on-going care for many medical conditions safe, accessible, and convenient for millions of patients and their healthcare professionals.

RADM Schwartz provided additional information on the Administration's support of community-based testing sites for COVID-19. She noted that the Administration initially stood-up 41 federal sites in 12 states and has since moved to a public-private partnership model supporting over 600 locations in 48 states and the District of Columbia. Learn more here.

U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs

- Secretary Wilkie provided an overview of the VA and its ongoing mission alongside COVID-19 response and support. The VA is the largest integrated health care system in the United States, providing care at 1,243 health care facilities, including 170 VA Medical Centers and 1,063 outpatient sites. The VA serves more than 9 million enrolled veterans. Secretary Wilkie highlighted that the COVID-19 pandemic has impacted veterans in many ways – of the >9 million enrolled veterans the VA serves, some 21,000 have tested positive for COVID-19 (more than 16,000 have fully recovered to date). The VA has surged resources and staff to support ongoing recovery, including deploying nearly 700 staff members to community nursing homes and over 400 to State Veterans Homes (learn more about the VA's ongoing COVID-19 support here). The VA has also drastically expanded the use of telehealth to support veteran care. Secretary Wilkie noted that the VA conducted approximately 900,000 tele-mental-health calls in the month of April alone (the VA typically conducts 40,000 tele-mental-health calls per month). A helpful COVID-19 fact sheet for veterans can be found here.

American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) COVID-19 Planning Considerations: Guidance for School Re-entry (Full Guidance Here)

Excerpt from guidance: “the AAP strongly advocates that all policy considerations for the coming school year should start with a goal of having students physically present in school. The importance of in-person learning is well-documented, and there is already evidence of the negative impacts on children because of school closures in the spring of 2020. Lengthy time away from school and associated interruption of supportive services often results in social isolation, making it difficult for schools to identify and address important learning deficits as well as child and adolescent physical or sexual abuse, substance use, depression, and suicidal ideation. This, in turn, places children and adolescents at considerable risk of morbidity and, in some cases, mortality. Beyond the educational impact and social impact of school closures, there has been substantial impact on food security and physical activity for children and families.”

Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) Extended Through August: On July 4, President Trump signed legislation (S. 4116) reauthorizing the Paycheck Protection Program through August 8, 2020. Enacted in March as part of the CARES Act, the $669 billion program has approved more than 4.8 million loans totaling more than $520 billion and supporting over 51 million jobs to date. The extension of the program through August will make available the remaining $134 billion to small businesses and qualifying entities. Learn more about the PPP here.

Department of the Treasury's OIG released reporting requirements for CRF recipients: On July 2, Department of the Treasury's Office of Inspector General (OIG) released a memorandum with instructions for recipients of the CARES Act's Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF). The OIG memorandum provides instructions for CRF recipients for record keeping and reporting. As stated in the CARES Act, Treasury's OIG is responsible for monitoring and oversight of the CRF payments. Please note that the first quarterly report is due on July 17. For questions on the memorandum or for help with the reporting requirements please contact Treasury OIG at CARES@oig.treas.gov.

U.S. Department of the Treasury Issues Updated Coronavirus Relief Fund FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On June 24, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. Among other new guidance, the updated Q/A provides that States, Tribes, and localities can use Coronavirus Relief Fund dollars for the 25% FEMA cost share. The updated FAQ's can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.

- Note Treasury's July 8 revisions regarding whether CRF payments can be used to cover increased administrative leave costs of public employees who could not telework in the event of a stay at home order or a case of COVID-19 in the workplace. Per the updated FAQ's, "the statute requires that payments be used only to cover costs that were not accounted for in the budget most recently approved as of March 27, 2020. As stated in the Guidance, a cost meets this requirement if either (a) the cost cannot lawfully be funded using a line item, allotment, or allocation within that budget or (b) the cost is for a substantially different use from any expected use of funds in such a line item, allotment, or allocation. If the cost of an employee was allocated to administrative leave to a greater extent than was expected, the cost of such administrative leave may be covered using payments from the Fund."

FEMA Releases Guidance on Federal Cost Share for Public Assistance Program : On July 2, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released clear guidance on how FEMA will treat the multiple sources of funding as they relate to the public assistance program and its cost share requirements. Generally, funding from other federal agencies cannot be used to meet the FEMA public assistance non-federal cost share requirement. For COVID-19, however, there are two exceptions: Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) dollars – mentioned above – and Department of House and Urban Development's Community Disaster Block Grant (CDBG-CV).

Department of Education Launches New Student-Centered Grant Competition to Spur Short-Term Education Opportunities : U.S. Secretary of Education Betsy DeVos announced a new higher education discretionary grant program designed to provide students the opportunity to develop new skills, provide innovators and inventors the resources to expand existing businesses or build new ones, and encourage institutions of higher education to foster business development and innovation as America begins to recover from COVID-19-related disruptions to education and our economy. The CARES Act provided $307.5 million for discretionary grants, which the Secretary has chosen to divide between two competitions: $127.5 million for the Reimagine Workforce Preparation Grant and $180 million for the Rethink K-12 Education Models Grant.

Indian Health Service Announces National Expansion of the Community Health: The Indian Health Service is announcing the national expansion of the Community Health Aide Program. The program provides education and training of tribal community health providers to increase access to quality health care, health promotion and disease prevention services. As an expansion of the Alaska Community Health Aide Program, the national CHAP will be consistent with the Alaska model and will foster innovative service delivery for the IHS by augmenting the existing workforce with mid-level paraprofessionals, utilizing culturally competent providers, and providing workforce development opportunities for locally developed staff.

EPA Approves First Surface Disinfectant Products Tested on the SARS-CoV-2 Virus : Throughout the COVID-19 public health emergency, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has worked to provide the American public with information about how to safely and effectively kill the novel coronavirus, SARS-CoV-2, on surfaces. On July 6, EPA approved two products, Lysol Disinfectant Spray (EPA Reg No. 777-99) and Lysol Disinfectant Max Cover Mist (EPA Reg No. 777-127), based on laboratory testing that shows the products are effective against SARS-CoV-2. "EPA is committed to identifying new tools and providing accurate and up-to-date information to help the American public protect themselves and their families from the novel coronavirus," said EPA Administrator Andrew Wheeler. "EPA's review of products tested against this virus marks an important milestone in President Trump's all of government approach to fighting the spread of COVID-19."

HHS Launches 'Surge' COVID-19 Testing in Hotspot Jurisdictions in Florida, Louisiana and Texas: On July 7, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) announced free COVID-19 testing in Jacksonville, Florida; Baton Rouge, Louisiana; and Edinburg, Texas. Surge testing efforts will temporarily increase federal support to communities where there has been a recent and intense level of new cases and hospitalizations related to the ongoing outbreak. The three jurisdictions identified are seeing significant increases in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations and could potentially benefit from additional opportunities to identify new cases, especially for people who are asymptomatic.

HHS, DOD Collaborate with Novavax to Produce Millions of COVID-19 Investigational Vaccine Doses in Commercial-Scale Manufacturing Demonstration Projects: On July 7, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and Department of Defense (DoD) yesterday jointly announced a $1.6 billion agreement with Novavax, Inc. of Gaithersburg, Maryland, to demonstrate commercial-scale manufacturing of the company's COVID-19 investigational vaccine. By funding this manufacturing effort, the federal government will own the 100 million doses of investigational vaccine expected to result from the demonstration projects. This step builds toward the Trump Administration's Operation Warp Speed goal to begin delivering 300 million of doses of safe and effective vaccine to the American people in 2021.

HHS, DOD Collaborate with Regeneron on Large-Scale Manufacturing Demonstration Project of COVID-19 Investigational Therapeutic Treatment: The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and Department of Defense announced an agreement with Regeneron, Inc. of Tarrytown, New York, to demonstrate commercial-scale manufacturing of the company's COVID-19 investigational anti-viral antibody treatment, REGN-COV2. By funding this manufacturing effort, the federal government will own the doses expected to result from the demonstration project.

NIH launches Clinical Trials Network to Test COVID-19 Vaccines and Other Prevention Tools : The National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), part of the National Institutes of Health, has established a new clinical trials network that aims to enroll thousands of volunteers in large-scale clinical trials testing a variety of investigational vaccines and monoclonal antibodies intended to protect people from COVID-19. The COVPN is a functional unit of "Operation Warp Speed," a partnership led by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to invest in and coordinate the development, manufacturing and distribution of COVID-19 diagnostics, therapeutics and vaccines. White House COVID-19 National Briefing Call Readout

White House National Economic Council

Larry Kudlow (Assistant to the President for Economic Policy) provided an economic and recovery update. Kudlow noted many areas of the country, like New York and New Jersey, have seen significant drops in their overall COVID-19 but noted case increases in certain States, including in Florida, Arizona, and Texas. He emphasized that the current data shows the economy is in a "V-shaped" recovery and projections point to strong GDP growth through the end of the year and into 2021. Kudlow did note that increasing cases in certain parts of the country could have an impact. He encouraged Americans to demonstrate "coronavirus courtesy" in practicing good practices, like social distancing and personal hygiene. See more from Larry Kudlow in an interview on CNBC's "Squawk Box" here.

White House Coronavirus Task Force

Ambassador Birx discussed recent COVID-19 positive case surges noting that there is evidence of mitigation measures beginning to flatten the curve in Arizona and Florida. Ambassador Birx thanked the State, local, and Tribal leaders on the call and across the country for their on-the-ground work and leadership and stressed the importance of implementing and following appropriate mitigation measures. The Ambassador also highlighted her recent travel to Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas to meet with State, local, and Tribal leaders. Read more insight from Dr. Birx from the White House Coronavirus Task Force briefing on July 8 here.

Surgeon General Jerome Adams noted the importance of partnerships at every level noting his motto is Better Health through Better Partnerships and emphasized that one of the most important antidotes to COVID-19 is individual behavior. He highlighted a public service announcement (PSA) he recently released – COVID Stops With Me – and encouraged everyone to share broadly. The Surgeon General walked through efforts the Administration has and continues to take to support COVID-19 response and recovery, particularly for disadvantaged communities. This includes:

- Supporting more than 600 community-based testing sites. 70% of those sites are located in socially vulnerable areas, as categorized by housing situations, race, ethnicity and language barriers.
- Ensuring testing at 93 percent of America's community health centers, which predominately serve low-income areas and communities of color.
- Allocating ~ $15 billion to Medicaid providers and $10 billion to safety net hospitals, sources of care for our most vulnerable.
- Requiring that all testing data reported by states include information on race, ethnicity, and ZIP code, so we can continue focusing our strategy on the hardest-hit communities.
- Deregulating telemedicine, making on-going care for many medical conditions safe, accessible, and convenient for millions of patients and their healthcare professionals.

RADM Schwartz provided additional information on the Administration's support of community-based testing sites for COVID-19. She noted that the Administration initially stood-up 41 federal sites in 12 states and has since moved to a public-private partnership model supporting over 600 locations in 48 states and the District of Columbia. Learn more here.

U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs

- Secretary Wilkie provided an overview of the VA and its ongoing mission alongside COVID-19 response and support. The VA is the largest integrated health care system in the United States, providing care at 1,243 health care facilities, including 170 VA Medical Centers and 1,063 outpatient sites. The VA serves more than 9 million enrolled veterans. Secretary Wilkie highlighted that the COVID-19 pandemic has impacted veterans in many ways – of the >9 million enrolled veterans the VA serves, some 21,000 have tested positive for COVID-19 (more than 16,000 have fully recovered to date). The VA has surged resources and staff to support ongoing recovery, including deploying nearly 700 staff members to community nursing homes and over 400 to State Veterans Homes (learn more about the VA's ongoing COVID-19 support here). The VA has also drastically expanded the use of telehealth to support veteran care. Secretary Wilkie noted that the VA conducted approximately 900,000 tele-mental-health calls in the month of April alone (the VA typically conducts 40,000 tele-mental-health calls per month). A helpful COVID-19 fact sheet for veterans can be found here.

American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) COVID-19 Planning Considerations: Guidance for School Re-entry (Full Guidance Here)

Excerpt from guidance: “the AAP strongly advocates that all policy considerations for the coming school year should start with a goal of having students physically present in school. The importance of in-person learning is well-documented, and there is already evidence of the negative impacts on children because of school closures in the spring of 2020. Lengthy time away from school and associated interruption of supportive services often results in social isolation, making it difficult for schools to identify and address important learning deficits as well as child and adolescent physical or sexual abuse, substance use, depression, and suicidal ideation. This, in turn, places children and adolescents at considerable risk of morbidity and, in some cases, mortality. Beyond the educational impact and social impact of school closures, there has been substantial impact on food security and physical activity for children and families.”

President Trump Hosts Law Enforcement Roundtable: On Monday, President Trump held a roundtable discussion with law enforcement officials at the White House, where officers discussed responsible ideas for reform and ways for police officers to act as better friends for their communities. "There's a reason for our less crime – it's because we have great law enforcement. I'm very proud of them. There won't be defunding, there won't be dismantling of our police, and there are not going to be any disbanding of our police," the President stated. Find a video recap here.

HHS Announces Enhanced Provider Portal, Relief Fund Payments for Safety Net Hospitals, Medicaid & CHIP Providers: On June 9, HHS announced additional distributions from the Provider Relief Fund to eligible Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) providers that participate in State Medicaid and CHIP programs. HHS expects to distribute approximately $15 billion to eligible providers that participate in State Medicaid and CHIP programs and have not received a payment from the Provider Relief Fund General Allocation. HHS is also announcing the distribution of $10 billion in Provider Relief Funds to safety net hospitals that serve our most vulnerable citizens.

HUD Provides Remaining $2.96 Billion in CARES Act Funding for Homeless Populations Amid Coronavirus Recovery: On June 9, HUD Secretary Ben Carson announced the allocation of $2.96 billion in Emergency Solutions Grants (ESG) funding to support homeless Americans and individuals at risk of becoming homeless because of hardships such as job loss, wage reduction, or illness due to COVID-19. This funding is in addition to $1 billion of ESG grants announced within a week of President Trump signing the CARES Act. View state and territory funding allocations here.

Economic Development Administration Grant Applications Still Open: On May 7, the Department of Commerce announced the Department's Economic Development Administration (EDA) will allocate $1.5 B in CARES Act funds to aid communities across the country in preventing, preparing for, and responding to the coronavirus pandemic. EDA will make CARES Act Recovery Assistance grants under the authority of the Economic Adjustment Assistance (EAA) program, which is intended to be flexible and responsible to the economic development needs and priorities of local and regional stakeholders. More information, including how communities can apply, can be found here. Also find other EDA grant and loan award announcements here.

USDA Ensures All Kids Can Get Free Meals This Summer as Nation Reopens : On June 10, USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue

announced a nationwide extension of another key flexibility for USDA's child nutrition programs. This waiver allows local partners, who have been working overtime serving meals to kids during the health crisis, the ability to continue serving free meals to all children – regardless of where they live – for the remainder of the summer. This action is part of USDA's ongoing commitment to making it as easy as possible for local program operators to get food to children impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic.

CMS Issues Guidance Encouraging Reopening of Healthcare Facilities: On June 9, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services released a guide for patients and beneficiaries as they consider their in-person care options. During the height of the pandemic, many healthcare systems and patients postponed non-emergency, in-person care in order to keep patients and providers safe and to ensure capacity to care for COVID-19 patients. As states and regions across the United States see a decline in cases of COVID-19, CMS is providing these recommendations to ensure that non-emergency healthcare resumes safely and that patients are receiving needed in-person treatment that may have been postponed due to the public health emergency.

Treasury Continues Distribution of Economic Impact Payments: As of June 3, the U.S. Department of the Treasury and IRS have distributed more than 159 million Economic Impact Payments, worth more than $267 billion, in two months. Payments have been sent to all eligible Americans for whom the IRS has the necessary information to make a payment. These totals do not include the more than $2.5 billion that have been delivered to U.S. territories for payment to territory residents.

Federal Reserve Expand Main Street Lending Program: On June 8, the Federal Reserve Board announced its Main Street Lending Program to allow more small and medium-sized businesses to be able to receive support. The Board lowered the minimum loan amount, raised the maximum loan limit, adjusted the principal repayment schedule to begin after two years, and extended the term to five years, providing borrowers with greater flexibility in repaying the loans. The Board expects the Main Street program to be open for lender registration soon and to be actively buying loans shortly afterwards. More on the MLP here.

IRS Warns Against COVID-19 Fraud; Other Financial Schemes: On June 8, the Internal Revenue Service reminded taxpayers to guard against tax fraud and other related financial scams related to COVID-19. In the last few months, the IRS Criminal Investigation division (CI) has seen a variety of Economic Impact Payment (EIP) scams and other financial schemes looking to take advantage of unsuspecting taxpayers. CI continues to work with law enforcement agencies domestically and abroad to educate taxpayers about these scams and investigate the criminals perpetrating them during this challenging time.

SBA Announces New Paycheck Protection Program Flexibilities: On June 8, the U.S. Small Business Administration and U.S. Department of the Treasury announced new PPP flexibilities following passage of the Paycheck Protection Program Flexibility Act. SBA, in consultation with Treasury, will promptly issue rules and guidance, a modified borrower application form, and a modified loan forgiveness application implementing these legislative amendments to the PPP.

FEMA Begins Distribution of Emergency Food and Shelter Program Funding: On June 8, the Federal Emergency Management Agency announced the distribution of $320 million to assist organizations in communities across the country dedicated to providing food, shelter and supportive services to people with economic emergencies, including our nation's hungry and homeless populations. Find more DHS and FEMA support actions here.

U.S. Department of Labor Awards Nearly $239 Million in Dislocated Worker Grants in Response to the Coronavirus Public Health Emergency: On June 8, the U.S. Department of Labor announced the award of three Dislocated Worker Grants (DWGs) totaling $16,836,480 to help address the workforce-related impacts of the coronavirus public health emergency. These awards are funded under the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act, which provided $345 million for DWGs to prevent, prepare for and respond to the coronavirus. This latest award follows five previous waves of funding, bringing the total amount awarded to states and territories to $238,881,438.

FDA Reissues Emergency Use Authorizations Revising Which Types of Respirators Can be Decontaminated for Reuse: In response to public health and safety concerns about the appropriateness of decontaminating certain respirators, the FDA announced the agency is reissuing certain emergency use authorizations (EUAs) to specify which respirators are appropriate for decontamination. Based on the FDA's increased understanding of the performance and design of these respirators, the FDA has decided that certain respirators should not be decontaminated for reuse by health care personnel.

FEMA Releases Mass Care Delivery Guidance: On June 10, the Federal Emergency Management Agency issued guidance to assist State, tribal and territorial governments in planning mass care delivery. Given the unique circumstances presented by a pandemic environment, planning is critical to ensure resources, facilities, and workers are in place to provide shelter services and maintain health and well-being of both survivors and workers. The Mass Care/Emergency Assistance Pandemic Planning Considerations guide provides information on sheltering, feeding, evacuation and the federal resource request process.

President's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice Continues Hearing on Community Engagement: On June 9, the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice continued its hearing on community engagement. The hearing was conducted via teleconference and featured expert witnesses who provided testimony and answered questions from the commissioners. More here.

White House COVID-19 National Briefing Call Readout

White House Coronavirus Task Force

According to Dr. Birx, a recent study from Nature suggests that the United States prevented over 3 million coronavirus deaths as a result of mitigation efforts from the President and Administration alongside that of the American people. Another study found that the shutdown efforts prevented 50 million additional coronavirus cases. Taken together, the two reports, which used different methods to reach similar conclusions suggest that the aggressive and unprecedented shutdowns were effective at halting the exponential spread of the novel coronavirus. Find more from the Washington Post here (Shutdowns prevented 60 million coronavirus infections in the U.S., study finds).

U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development

- The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development recently announced the allocation of nearly $3 billion in Emergency Solution Grants to support those at risk of homelessness because of job loss, wage reduction, or illness due to COVID-19. HUD has allocated nearly $4 billion overall for coronavirus relief.
- The White House Opportunity and Revitalization Council is shifting its focus to drive recovery in minority communities, which have been disproportionately hit by the coronavirus pandemic. This includes at developing and implementing policy solutions around a host of shared priorities, including community revitalization, criminal justice reform, and improving health outcomes for disadvantaged and all Americans. President Trump has directed the White House Opportunity and Revitalization Council. Find more in an interview with Brooke Rollins (Acting Director of the White House Domestic Policy Council) here: White House Domestic Policy Chief Says White House Working Through Proposals to Unify Country.
- HUD is beginning preparation for hurricane season through briefings with senior leadership, review of disaster recovery procedures, and dialogue with stakeholder groups. Find more Hurricane Assistance and Recovery resources from HUD here.

U.S. Department of Labor (DOL)

- Pundits were stunned when they first saw the monthly jobs report for May. After “experts” projected that the United States would lose 7.5 million jobs last month, the economy added 2.5 million—the biggest monthly gain in history. Sectors that saw the most significant job growth were hospitality, construction, education, health services, and retail. Overall, the national unemployment rate declined by 1.4%. Find more from the Department of Labor’s May 2020 Employment Situation Report.
- DOL has awarded $238.8 Million in National Dislocated Worker Grants to 53 states and territories in response to COVID-19. The funding supports, in part, employment and training activities for grant participants.
- DOL recently awarded 20 grants totaling nearly $24 million as part of the Job Corps Scholars Program, a new national demonstration project aimed at providing at-risk youth with job skills instruction, educational opportunities and individualized employment counseling. The grantees include accredited, two-year, public community colleges; accredited, public two- and four-year historically black colleges and universities (HBCU); and accredited tribally controlled colleges and universities (TCCU) that will serve Job Corps-eligible youth and young adults from 16 to 24 years of age.
- The Occupational Health and Safety Administration (OSHA) remains committed to maintaining a safe and healthy workplace for all Americans. OSHA has established a COVID-19 webpage providing general information and technical guidance for preventing

U.S. Department of Education (ED)

- Secretary Betsey DeVos: “Looking ahead just a few weeks to this fall...bottom line: school quite simply must be in session. It’s critical to students, to families, to our economy.”
- Federal Student Loans: In March, ED provided relief to millions of borrowers by suspending federally held student loan payments and setting interest rates at 0% for 60 days. This action was extended through September 30, 2020, following passage of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act. Additionally, ED announced it would halt all collection actions and wage garnishments for at least 60 days and refund approximately $1.8 million in offsets to more than 830,000 borrowers.
- CARES Act Implementation:
 - On April 14, ED announced the Governor’s Emergency Education Relief Fund with “few bureaucratic strings attached” so that governors would be empowered to best serve students at all levels in the ways that will work best in their state, based on local needs. To date, 99% of this emergency funding has been awarded.
 - On April 23, ED announced the Elementary and Secondary Schools Emergency Relief Fund for immediate needs, such as tools and resources for distance education, ensuring student health and safety, and developing and implementing plans for the next school year.
 - ED also announced two discretionary grant competitions, totaling $307.5 million, for states to create adaptable, innovative learning opportunities for K-12 and postsecondary learners. The Rethink K-12 Education Models Grant is aimed at opening new, ways for students to access their education. The Reimagining Workforce Preparation Grants are designed to expand short-term programs and work-based learning programs to get Americans back to work and support small businesses.
 - The Higher Education Relief Fund has provided $13.95 billion to postsecondary students and institutions.
 - ED made available half that amount for colleges and universities to provide students direct emergency cash grants to assist them with expenses related to disruptions to their educations, including course materials, technology, food, housing, health care, and childcare. An additional $6.2 billion was allocated to institutions of higher education to cover costs related to COVID-19. To date, 96% of this emergency funding has been awarded.
 - ED also made available approximately $1.4 billion to Minority Serving Institutions (including HBCUs), institutions that serve low-income students, and institutions that to date have not otherwise received $500,000 in relief funds.

announced a nationwide extension of another key flexibility for USDA's child nutrition programs. This waiver allows local partners, who have been working overtime serving meals to kids during the health crisis, the ability to continue serving free meals to all children – regardless of where they live – for the remainder of the summer. This action is part of USDA's ongoing commitment to making it as easy as possible for local program operators to get food to children impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic.

CMS Issues Guidance Encouraging Reopening of Healthcare Facilities: On June 9, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services released a guide for patients and beneficiaries as they consider their in-person care options. During the height of the pandemic, many healthcare systems and patients postponed non-emergency, in-person care in order to keep patients and providers safe and to ensure capacity to care for COVID-19 patients. As states and regions across the United States see a decline in cases of COVID-19, CMS is providing these recommendations to ensure that non-emergency healthcare resumes safely and that patients are receiving needed in-person treatment that may have been postponed due to the public health emergency.

Treasury Continues Distribution of Economic Impact Payments: As of June 3, the U.S. Department of the Treasury and IRS have distributed more than 159 million Economic Impact Payments, worth more than $267 billion, in two months. Payments have been sent to all eligible Americans for whom the IRS has the necessary information to make a payment. These totals do not include the more than $2.5 billion that have been delivered to U.S. territories for payment to territory residents.

Federal Reserve Expand Main Street Lending Program: On June 8, the Federal Reserve Board announced its Main Street Lending Program to allow more small and medium-sized businesses to be able to receive support. The Board lowered the minimum loan amount, raised the maximum loan limit, adjusted the principal repayment schedule to begin after two years, and extended the term to five years, providing borrowers with greater flexibility in repaying the loans. The Board expects the Main Street program to be open for lender registration soon and to be actively buying loans shortly afterwards. More on the MLP here.

IRS Warns Against COVID-19 Fraud; Other Financial Schemes: On June 8, the Internal Revenue Service reminded taxpayers to guard against tax fraud and other related financial scams related to COVID-19. In the last few months, the IRS Criminal Investigation division (CI) has seen a variety of Economic Impact Payment (EIP) scams and other financial schemes looking to take advantage of unsuspecting taxpayers. CI continues to work with law enforcement agencies domestically and abroad to educate taxpayers about these scams and investigate the criminals perpetrating them during this challenging time.

SBA Announces New Paycheck Protection Program Flexibilities: On June 8, the U.S. Small Business Administration and U.S. Department of the Treasury announced new PPP flexibilities following passage of the Paycheck Protection Program Flexibility Act. SBA, in consultation with Treasury, will promptly issue rules and guidance, a modified borrower application form, and a modified loan forgiveness application implementing these legislative amendments to the PPP.

FEMA Begins Distribution of Emergency Food and Shelter Program Funding: On June 8, the Federal Emergency Management Agency announced the distribution of $320 million to assist organizations in communities across the country dedicated to providing food, shelter and supportive services to people with economic emergencies, including our nation's hungry and homeless populations. Find more DHS and FEMA support actions here.

U.S. Department of Labor Awards Nearly $239 Million in Dislocated Worker Grants in Response to the Coronavirus Public Health Emergency: On June 8, the U.S. Department of Labor announced the award of three Dislocated Worker Grants (DWGs) totaling $16,836,480 to help address the workforce-related impacts of the coronavirus public health emergency. These awards are funded under the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act, which provided $345 million for DWGs to prevent, prepare for and respond to the coronavirus. This latest award follows five previous waves of funding, bringing the total amount awarded to states and territories to $238,881,438.

FDA Reissues Emergency Use Authorizations Revising Which Types of Respirators Can be Decontaminated for Reuse: In response to public health and safety concerns about the appropriateness of decontaminating certain respirators, the FDA announced the agency is reissuing certain emergency use authorizations (EUAs) to specify which respirators are appropriate for decontamination. Based on the FDA's increased understanding of the performance and design of these respirators, the FDA has decided that certain respirators should not be decontaminated for reuse by health care personnel.

FEMA Releases Mass Care Delivery Guidance: On June 10, the Federal Emergency Management Agency issued guidance to assist State, tribal and territorial governments in planning mass care delivery. Given the unique circumstances presented by a pandemic environment, planning is critical to ensure resources, facilities, and workers are in place to provide shelter services and maintain health and well-being of both survivors and workers. The Mass Care/Emergency Assistance Pandemic Planning Considerations guide provides information on sheltering, feeding, evacuation and the federal resource request process.

President's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice Continues Hearing on Community Engagement: On June 9, the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice continued its hearing on community engagement. The hearing was conducted via teleconference and featured expert witnesses who provided testimony and answered questions from the commissioners. More here.

State, Local, and Tribal Leaders –

Thank you to everyone that joined the White House COVID-19 National Briefing Call with State, Local, and Tribal Leaders on May 13. We were pleased to have U.S. Department of Transportation Secretary Elaine Chao join alongside Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Administrator Seema Verma, HHS Assistant Secretary for Health Brett Giroir, and other Federal agency partners. We also welcomed special guest, Governor Greg Abbott of Texas, who outlined the State of Texas' plan for disbursing recent CARES Act Coronavirus Relief Fund dollars to counties and cities throughout the State (see Letter from Governor Abbott, Lt. Governor Dan Patrick, and State Leaders to County and City Leaders here).

To date, White House components and Federal agencies have held at least 250 Coronavirus briefings (events, briefings, meetings, conference calls) reaching over 111,000 State, local and tribal leaders. Also this week, President Trump hosted Governors Jared Polis (CO) and Doug Burgum (ND) to discuss their ongoing Coronavirus response efforts and plans to reopen their economies. We appreciate your partnership in this All-of-America response and look forward to continued engagement and robust coordination. Our next National Briefing Call will be on Wednesday, May 20, at 11:00 AM Eastern Time. The invitation will be forthcoming. Below, please find a recap of this week's briefing call. We would also like to highlight several recent important announcements from the White House and Federal agencies.

- President Donald Trump Announces Operation Warp Speed To Develop Coronavirus Vaccine: On May 15 in the White House Rose Garden, President Trump announced the launch of Operation Warp Speed to deliver safe and effective coronavirus treatments and vaccines as quickly as possible. Operation Warp Speed marks a massive science, industrial, and logistical endeavor unlike anything the country has seen since the Manhattan Project. President Trump has directed nearly $10 billion to Operation Warp Speed through funding that was included in the CARES Act.
- President Donald Trump Visits Allentown, Pennsylvania and Outlines Administration Efforts to Ensure a Fully Stocked, Resilient National Stockpile: On May 14, President Donald J. Trump visited Allentown, Pennsylvania and toured and delivered remarks at Owens & Minor, Inc. Distribution Center, a 137 year-old American medical distributor that has sent millions of N95 masks, surgical gowns, and gloves to hospitals and surgery centers across the country to respond to COVID-19. The President outlined how the Administration is working to ensure a fully stocked, resilient national stockpile and a domestic industrial base capable of meeting any future challenges.
- Vice President Mike Pence Announces New Members of the White House Coronavirus Task Force: On May 15, Vice President Mike Pence announced five new individuals to the White House Coronavirus Task Force. The give new members are: Sonny Perdue (Secretary of Agriculture), Gene Scalia (Secretary of Labor), Dr. Francis Collins (Director of the National Institutes of Health), Dr. Peter Marks (FDDA Director of the Center for Biologics Evaluation and Research), and Thomas Engels (Administrator of the Health Resources and Services Administration).
- U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development Allocates Third Wave of CARES Act Funding Providing $1 Billion for Communities to Bolster Coronavirus Response and Relief Efforts: On May 11, HUD Secretary Ben Carson announced the allocation of $1 billion through the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program to States and insular areas in response to COVID-19. Every State and Insular Area will receive a portion of the relief funds. More here. To date, HUD has provided over $3 billion in CDBG funding nationwide to help communities acutely combat coronavirus and alleviate economic hardship.
- Federal Housing Administration Extends Foreclosure and Eviction Moratorium for Single Family Homeowners: On May 14, FHA announced an extension of its foreclosure and eviction moratorium through June 30, 2020, for homeowners with FHA-insured Single Family mortgages, while also supporting new FHA-insured mortgage originations through an extension of temporary policy flexibilities for lenders and appraisers. The extensions will support the President's economic recovery efforts as the Nation continues to work to defeat the COVID-19 invisible enemy. White House COVID-19 National Briefing Call Readout May 13, 2020

Topline

- PPE Distribution: As of May 5, FEMA, HHS, and the private sector combined have coordinated the delivery of or are currently shipping: 92.7 million N95 respirators, 133.7 million surgical masks, 10.5 million face shields, 22.5 million surgical gowns, 989 million gloves, 10,663 ventilators and 8,450 federal medical station beds. Please note that these numbers do not include resources provided to States and localities through coordinated public-private partnerships, like Project Air Bridge, and other sources.
- Testing Update: As of May 14, CDC, State, and local public health labs and other laboratories have tested more than 9.5 million samples. As of May 12, the FDA has issued 95 individual emergency use authorizations for test kit manufacturers and laboratories, including 12 antibody tests and 1 antigen test.

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS)

- President Trump Announces Additional Resources for States, Territories, and Tribes to Meet Testing Goals: On Monday, May 11, President Donald J. Trump announced additional actions to ensure States, Territories, and Tribes have the resources they need to meet their testing goals. These additional resources include $11 billion in combined stimulus funding as well as approximately 12 million swabs to supplement private sector resources. By the end of the week, more than 300 retail testing sites will be operational to serve Americans in 47 States and D.C., prioritizing access to underserved communities. More here (The United States Has Built the World's Leading Coronavirus Testing System).
- Trump Administration Is Providing Support for Our Nation's Senior During the Coronavirus Pandemic: On April 30, President Trump delivered remarks on the many ways the Administration is protecting America's seniors from the COVID-19 pandemic and will continue to do so as we start the process of opening up America again. Among additional actions, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) will send supplemental shipments of personal protective equipment to all 15,400 Medicaid and Medicare-certified nursing homes in America. In addition, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid (CMS) is providing States with $81 million from the CARES Act to increase their inspections of nursing homes at this crucial time. More here. Concurrently, CMS also announced a new, independent Commission that will conduct a comprehensive assessment of the nursing home response to the coronavirus pandemic.
- HHS and Federal Government Continue to Partner with Private Sector in Supporting Community-Based Testing Sites for COVID-19: HHS has partnered with pharmacy and retail companies to accelerate testing for more Americans in more communities across the country.
- CMS Issues Nursing Homes Best Practices Toolkit to Combat COVID-19: On May 13, under the direction of President Trump, CMS released a new toolkit developed to aid nursing homes, Governors, states, departments of health, and other agencies who provide oversight and assistance to these facilities, with additional resources to aid in the fight against the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic within nursing homes. The toolkit builds upon previous actions taken by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), which provide a wide range of tools and guidance to states, healthcare providers and others during the public health emergency. More here.

- CMS Announces Call for Nominations for Contractor-Led Coronavirus Commission on Safety and Quality in Nursing Homes: On May 14, as a part of President Trump's plan to Open Up America Again, CMS announced a call for nominations for the new contractor-led Coronavirus Commission on Safety and Quality in Nursing Homes to help inform immediate and future responses to COVID-19 within these facilities. This independent Commission's work will build on the Administration's long history of decisive actions to protect nursing home residents.

- Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Providing Unprecedented Resources in Response to COVID-19: CDC received supplemental funds through Congressional appropriations, including the CARES Act. These supplemental support a wide range of critical activities including epidemiology, surveillance, contact tracing, lab testing and diagnostics, guidance, health department readiness and coordination, and travel health outreach. Examples of how this funding is supporting State, Local, Tribal and Territorial Public Health Organizations include:

- $640 million has been awarded to Epidemiology and Laboratory Capacity (ELC) grantees for coronavirus surveillance and disease tracking;
- $750 million has been awarded for Urgent Response Needs for States, Localities, and Territories through the crisis cooperative agreement;
- $159 million has been announced as a new grant funding opportunity for tribes.

U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA)

- USDA Soon To Take Applications for Coronavirus Food Assistance Program: On April 17, USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue announced the Coronavirus Food Assistance program to assist farmers and ranchers who have suffered losses during the 2020 marketing year due to COVID-19. CFAP will use funding and authorities provided in the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act, the Families First Coronavirus Response Act, and other USDA existing authorities. This $19 billion immediate relief program includes direct support to agricultural producers as well as the Food Box Distribution Program (see below). More information on CFAP can be found here. An updated list of FAQ's can be found here.

- USDA Launches Farmers to Families Food Box Program: On April 15, USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue and Ivanka Trump visited Coastal Sunbelt Produce wholesaler to celebrate the launch of USDA's $3 billion Farmers to Families Food Box program. The program is part of the $19 billion coronavirus farmer's assistance program included in the CARES Act. Through this program, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) is partnering with national, regional and local suppliers, whose workforce has been significantly impacted by the closure of restaurants, hotels and other food service businesses, to purchase up to $3 billion in fresh produce, dairy and meat products. The program will purchase $461 million in fresh fruits and vegetables, $317 million in a variety of dairy products, $258 million in meat products and $175 million in a combination box of fresh produce, dairy or meat products. Find approved contractors for the program here and a list of FAQ's here.

- U.S. Department of Agriculture Continues to Award High-Speed Broadband Grants: USDA, through the ReConnect Pilot Program, continues to award high-speed broadband development grants to rural communities throughout the country. Recent examples include Iowa (USDA Invests More Than \$500,000 in High-Speed Broadband in Rural Iowa), Michigan (USDA Invests \$22.5 Million in High-Speed Broadband for Rural Michigan), New Hampshire (USDA Invests \$2 Million in High-Speed Broadband in Rural New Hampshire), and New Mexico (USDA Invests \$23 Million in High-Speed Broadband in Rural New Mexico).

- U.S. Department of Agriculture Extends Flexibilities, Paves the Way for Meals for Kids to Continue Through Summer: On May 15, USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue announced the extension of three nationwide waivers, giving child nutrition program operators the flexibility they need to feed children while promoting social distancing and keeping families safe during the COVID-19 pandemic. Throughout the pandemic, schools and local program sponsors have used flexibilities provided by USDA to find creative ways to feed kids, such as setting up drive-thru pick-ups and delivering meals on bus routes. With the extension of these waivers, these innovative models can continue, without interruption, while state and local social distancing orders remain in place.

U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT)

- DOT Nearing Completion of $10 B in FAA CARES Act Grants: The FAA continues to issue almost $10 billion in CARES Act airport grants to 3,200 commercial service and general aviation airport sponsors across all 50 states and 5 U.S. territories. Through May 12, 1,650 allocations have been awarded with a total obligated value of $7.2 billion. Funds are awarded when recipients finalize their contract with the FAA. The funds are available for airport capital expenditures, airport operating expenses including payroll and utilities, and airport debt payments. The CARES Act also provides funds to increase the Federal share to 100 percent for FY 2020 Airport Improvement Program (AIP) and Supplemental Discretionary grants. More here.

- DOT Continues to Invest in Nation's Transit Infrastructure: Millions of Americans rely on public transit to get to work and access critical services. The Federal Transit Administration worked in record time to apportion $25 billion in the first six days after the passage of the CARES Act. In the coming months, FTA anticipates investing more than $600 million in competitive funding for transit infrastructure across the nation. More here.

Supplies and Other Essential Goods: To ensure the continued free flow of critical relief supplies and other essential goods, FHWA clarified States' authority to issue permits for overweight vehicles and loads during national emergencies. With the critical freight demand came the need to encourage States to keep the National Network open to commercial traffic and to keep rest areas open for commercial truck drivers to park and safely rest. As restaurants began to limit access and service, FHWA issued a Notice of Enforcement Discretion to temporarily allow States to permit food trucks at Interstate Rest Areas to feed commercial truck drivers. More from the FHWA here.

· Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration Supporting America's Truckers: DOT coordinated within the administration to get over one million of the first federally-procured cloth face coverings distributed to long-haul truckers. The Department is currently coordination for our critical workers in transit as well. On May 14, FMCSA published a final rule updating hours of service (HOS) rules to increase safety on America's roadways by updating existing regulations for commercial motor vehicle (CMV) drivers. "The Department of Transportation and the Trump Administration listened directly to the concerns of truckers seeking rules that are safer and have more flexibility—and we have acted. These updated hours of service rules are based on the thousands of comments we received from the American people. These reforms will improve safety on America's roadways and strengthen the nation's motor carrier industry," said FMCSA Acting Administrator Jim Mullen. More here.

U.S. Department of Commerce (DOC)

· U.S. Department of Commerce Announces Availability of $1.5 Billion in CARES Act Funds to Aid Communities Impacted by the Coronavirus Pandemic: On May 7, the Department of Commerce announced the Department's Economic Development Administration (EDA) is now accepting applications from eligible grantees for CARES Act supplemental funds intended to help communities prevent, prepare for, and respond to the coronavirus. Under this announcement, EDA will make CARES Act Recovery Assistance grants under the authority of the Economic Adjustment Assistance (EAA) program, which is intended to be flexible and responsible to the economic development needs and priorities of local and regional stakeholders. More information, including how communities can apply, can be found here.

· President Trump Signs Executive Order to Secure America's Seafood Supply Chain and Bring Jobs Home: On May 6, President Trump signed an Executive Order to increase America's competitiveness in the seafood industry and protect the seafood supply chain. This order instructs agencies to expand sustainable seafood production in the United States thereby solidifying our Nation's food security, protect American jobs in the seafood industry, and create new jobs in the United States. More here. President Trump also announced the availability of $300 million from the Department of Commerce to support fishermen and related businesses hurt by the Coronavirus. Allocations by State can be found here.

U.S. Department of the Treasury (DT)

· Treasury Begins Distribution of Coronavirus Relief Fund Dollars to Native American Tribes: The President signed the CARES Act into law, providing $8 billion to address coronavirus preparedness, response, and recovery for American Indians and Alaska Natives. On May 5, Treasury and the U.S. Department of the Interior announced initial allocations of this funding, totaling nearly $5 billion, which represents one of the largest programmatic investments in Indian Country in our Nation's history.

· Treasury Updates Guidance and FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On May 4, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. Among other updates, Treasury provides that "as a matter of administrative convenience in light of the emergency nature of this program, a State, territorial, local, or Tribal government may presume that payroll costs for public health and public safety employees are payments for services substantially dedicated to mitigating or responding to the COVID-19 public health emergency." The updated FAQ's can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.

· Treasury Updates Guidance and FAQ's for Economic Impact Payments: Millions of Americans have already received their Economic Impact Payments authorized by the CARES Act. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) continues to calculate and automatically send the Payments to most eligible individuals, however some may have to provide additional information to the IRS to get their Payments. More information here.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA)

· SBA Continues to Deliver Unprecedented Relief to the Nation's Small Businesses: Through the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) authorized under the CARES Act, the SBA is delivering unprecedented relief to the Nation's Small Businesses. In the first round of funding alone, the agency processed more than 14 years' worth of loans in less than 14 days. With an additional $310 billion in authorized funding, SBA continues to authorize PPP loans. In Round II, 5,425 lenders have approved over 2.4 million loans averaging $74,304 per loan. More here. A list of frequently asked questions can be found here. Additional questions should be referred to local and regional offices (here).

· SBA Announces Reopening of Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) Program and Makes Available to U.S. Agricultural Businesses Impacted by COVID-19 Pandemic: On May 4, SBA announced the reopening of the EIDL program and EIDL Advance programs and expanded eligibility to agricultural businesses impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. More here. More on SBA coronavirus relief options, including EIDL, here.

State, Local, and Tribal Leaders –

Thank you to everyone that joined the White House COVID-19 National Briefing Call with State, Local, and Tribal Leaders on Wednesday, May 20. We were honored to be joined by First Lady Melania Trump, who discussed her BE BEST Initiative and the Administration's commitment to ensuring the physical and mental wellbeing of all Americans, including vulnerable children (see attached). You can find a readout of the First Lady's remarks here (Readout from the State and Local Stakeholder Call on COVID-19 Response). We were also joined by Brooke Rollins (Assistant to the President for Strategic Initiatives and Acting Director of the Domestic Policy Council), HHS Secretary Alex Azar, FDA Commissioner Stephen Hahn, and Rosemary Lahasky (Special Assistant to the President and Director of Domestic Initiatives).

We appreciate your partnership in this All-of-America response and look forward to continued engagement and robust coordination. In the past month alone, President Trump and Vice President Pence have collectively met in-person with 13 Governors (AR, CO, FL, GA, IA, KS, LA, MN, ND, NJ, NY, TN) illustrating the Administration's ongoing commitment to work in a bipartisan fashion with State, local, and Tribal officials. And on Thursday, May 21, President Trump joined African American leaders in Detroit, Michigan for a roundtable discussion on community revitalization, particularly in distressed communities and those disproportionately impacted by COVID-19. Below, please find a recap of this week's briefing call. We would also like to highlight several recent important announcements from the White House and Federal agencies.

- President Trump Issues Proclamation on Honoring the Victims of the Novel Coronavirus Pandemic: On Friday, May 22, President Trump issued a Presidential Proclamation honoring the victims of the novel coronavirus pandemic. In honoring all of those that have lost their lives, the proclamation orders that the flag of the United States shall be flown at half-staff at the White House and upon all public buildings and grounds of the Federal Government in the District of Columbia and throughout the United States and its Territories and possessions until sunset, May 24, 2020.
- President Trump Signs Executive Order on Regulatory Relief to Support Economic Recovery: On May 19, President Trump signed an executive order to slash red tape in order to revitalize the economy and get Americans back to work. The Executive Order builds on continuing Administration efforts to put people over paperwork. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic alone, the Administration has taken over 600 regulatory actions, including suspensions, waivers, and enforcement discretions. With the executive order, President Trump is directing agencies to use all emergency authorities to identify regulations that can be withdrawn or waived to promote job creation and economic growth. Read more here (WSJ: The Covid-19 Deregulation). We look forward to continuing to work with State, local, and Tribal partners on promoting deregulation and/or smart regulation.
- American Workforce Advisory Board Releases Recommendations on Building a Resilient and Agile Workforce: On May 19th, the American Workforce Policy Advisory Board, made up of members including the CEOs of Apple, Walmart, IBM, governors, mayors, education and non-profit leaders, put forth a set of recommendations for how to build a resilient and agile workforce powered by our greatest asset -- skilled American workers. The COVID-19 pandemic is underscoring the wide-ranging impact of existing disparities in access to technology, broadband, and digital literacy from how and whether students can access remote learning options to an individual's ability to access telehealth, access new opportunities previously unavailable, and engage regularly in the digital economy. Companies and educational institutions must be nimble and flexible in the delivery systems of high quality, relevant, affordable, and verified skills training. Find the Call to Action here. Learn more about the American Workforce Policy Advisory Board here. Also see Ivanka Trump, All-Star Group Advise Aiding American Workers with 'Unprecedented Investment' in Technology.

- USDA To Provide $1 Billion in Loan Guarantees for Rural Businesses and Ag Producers : On May 22, USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue announced that the Department is making available up to $1 billion in loan guarantees to help rural businesses meet their working capital needs during the COVID-19 pandemic. More here. Additionally, agricultural producers that are not eligible for USDA Farm Service Agency loans may receive funding under USDA Business & Industry CARES Act Program provisions. More here.
- USDA Updates Guidance for the Coronavirus Food Assistance Program (CFAP): On April 17, USDA announced the Coronavirus Food Assistance Program (CFAP), which will provide up to $16 billion in direct payments to deliver relief to farmers and ranchers across the country impacted by COVID-19. USDA will begin accepting CFAP applications on May 26. In addition to this direct support to farmers and ranchers, USDA's Farmers to Families Food Box program is partnering with regional and local distributors, whose workforces have been significantly impacted by the closure of many restaurants, hotels, and other food service entities, to purchase $3 billion in fresh produce, dairy, and meat and deliver boxes to Americans in need. Find approved contractors for the program here and a list of FAQ's here.
- U.S. Department of the Treasury Delivering Millions of Economic Impact Payments by Prepaid Debit Card : On May 18, Treasury and the IRS began sending nearly 4 million Economic Impact Payments (EIPs) by prepaid debit card. EIP Card recipients can make purchases, get cash from in-network ATMs, and transfer funds to their personal bank account without incurring any fees. Treasury has already delivered more than 140 million Economic Impact Payments worth $239 billion to Americans by direct deposit to accounts at financial institutions, Direct Express card accounts, and by check.
- U.S. Department of Energy Announces $53 Million for Small Business Research and Development Grants : On May 21, the U.S. Department of Energy announced 256 grants totaling $53 million to 211 small businesses in 35 States and the District of Columbia. The Phase I grants will allow small businesses to research technical feasibility of new innovations that advance the mission of the Department.
- DHS Announces Extension of Agreements with Canada and Mexico to Limit All Non-Essential Cross-Border Travel: On May 20, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security announced the extension of non-essential travel across the U.S.-Mexico and U.S. Canada borders in order to limit the further spread of the Coronavirus. These measures were implemented on March 21, 2020 and were originally in place for 30 days, subject to reevaluation and further extension in light of the fluid nature of the coronavirus pandemic. On April 20, 2020, these measures were extended for an additional 30 days and, on May 19, 2020, these measures were once again extended until June 22, 2020.
- FEMA Releases COVID-19 Pandemic Operation Guidance for the 2020 Hurricane Season : In preparing for the 2020 hurricane season, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released guidance to State, local, Tribal, and Territorial officials to help them prepare for response and recovery operations. While the document focuses on hurricane season preparedness, most planning considerations can also be applied to any disaster operation in the COVID-19 environment, including no-notice incidents, spring flooding and wildfire seasons, and typhoon response.

Sincerely,

The White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

Additional Guidance & Resources

HHS Announces $500 Million Distribution to Tribal Hospitals, Clinics, and Urban Health Centers: On May 22, the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) announced $500 million in payments from the CARES Act

Provider Relief Fund to the Indian Health Service (IHS) and tribal hospitals, clinics, and urban health centers to support the tribal response to COVID-19. This funding provides vital support to these healthcare facilities, which in some cases may be the only healthcare facility within a day's traveling distance for those served. Combined with previous funding, this distribution brings the total amount of new resources to the Indian health system to $2.4 billion dollars.

- HHS Provides $225 Million for COVID-19 Testing in Rural Communities: On May 20, HHS announced the distribution of $225 million to Rural Health Clinics (RHCs) for COVID-19 testing. These investments will support over 4,500 RHCs across the country to support COVID-19 testing efforts and expand access to testing in rural communities. Rural Health Clinics are a special designation given to health care practices in underserved rural areas by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) that help ensure access to care for rural residents.
- CDC Issues Additional Reopening Guidance to Assist State, Local, and Tribal Leaders: CDC has issues a set of health considerations to be used by summer camps, schools, youth sports organizations, institutes of higher education, and restaurants and bars, that are open. Decisions and strategies about how to operate are implemented at the state, tribal, local, and territorial levels because every locale is different, and individual jurisdictions have the authority and local awareness needed to protect their communities.
- CDC Outlines Resources to Assist States to Open: On May 20, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention released a summary of CDC's initiatives, activities, and tools in support of the whole-of-government response to COVID-19. The document includes information on general and healthcare surveillance as well as previously posted guidance on infection control, contact tracing, and testing. Additionally, the document includes a standardized way to look at the gating criteria in the Opening Up America Again guidance and tools to assist establishments after they open.
- DOEd Releases Considerations for Institutes of Higher Education: On May 21, the U.S. Department of Education, in coordination with the CDC, outlined considerations for some institutes of higher education (IHE) to help protect students and employees. IHEs vary considerably in geographic location, size, and structure. As such, IHE officials can determine, in collaboration with state and local health officials, whether and how to implement these considerations while adjusting to meet the unique needs and circumstances of the IHE and local community.
- FEMA Issues Updated Guidance on PPE Packages for Nursing Homes: Under the direction of the White House Coronavirus Task Force, FEMA is coordinating two shipments totaling a 14-day supply of personal protective equipment (PPE) to nearly 15,000 nursing homes across the Nation. The mission supplements existing efforts to ensure nursing homes across the country have PPE during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. FEMA is coordinating shipping of PPE to Medicaid- and Medicare-certified nursing homes based on input from the American Health Care Association to serve as a bridge between other PPE shipments. More here.

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS)

- President Donald Trump Announces Operation Warp Speed To Develop Coronavirus Vaccine: On May 15 in the White House Rose Garden, President Trump announced the launch of Operation Warp Speed to deliver safe and effective coronavirus treatments and vaccines as quickly as possible. Operation Warp Speed marks a massive science, industrial, and logistical endeavor unlike anything the country has seen since the Manhattan Project. President Trump has directed nearly $10 billion to Operation Warp Speed through funding that was included in the CARES Act.
- President Trump Announces Additional Resources for States, Territories, and Tribes to Meet Testing Goals: On Monday, May 11, President Donald J. Trump announced additional actions to ensure States, Territories, and Tribes have the resources they need to meet their testing goals. These additional resources include $11 billion in combined stimulus funding as well as approximately 12 million swabs to supplement private sector resources. By the end of the week, more than 300 retail testing sites will be operational to serve Americans in 47 States and D.C., prioritizing access to underserved communities. More here (The United States Has Built the World's Leading Coronavirus Testing System).
- HHS and Federal Government Continue to Partner with Private Sector in Supporting Community-Based Testing Sites for COVID-19: HHS has partnered with pharmacy and retail companies to accelerate testing for more Americans in more communities across the country. This includes helping stand-up more than 300 community-based testing sites in 44 states. Learn more and find a community-based testing site near you here.
- FDA Continues to Expand COVID-19 Testing: The dedicated staff at FDA has been working around the clock focusing on facilitating medical countermeasures to diagnose, treat and prevent the disease, and surveilling the medical product and food supply chains for potential shortages or disruptions and helping to mitigate such impacts, as necessary to protect the health of Americans. Every action the FDA has taken during this public health emergency to address the COVID-19 pandemic has balanced the urgent need to make tests available with the most appropriate level of oversight that ensures accurate tests are being deployed. As of May 20, FDA has granted more than 104 emergency use authorizations, which include the first antigen test, 91 molecular tests, and 12 antibody tests. Importantly, FDA has posted a list of antibody tests that are being removed from the "notification list" of tests being offered under the Policy for Coronavirus Disease-2019 Tests During the Public Health Emergency. More here.

WELL-BEING

Well-being focuses on children's emotional, social, and physical health, all of which may be affected by the changes that result from the response to COVID-19

- The COVID-19 pandemic has led to an increase in anxiety, depression, loneliness, isolation, and fear for many Americans, including children
- Children need the support of healthy, caring adults who can help them understand the changes in the world around them as we begin to safely reopen our country
- Supporting the emotional well-being of all Americans during COVID-19 will help protect children from the effects of opioid addiction and overdose and from domestic violence, child abuse, and suicide
- The Trump Administration has increased resources to support mental health and well-being during this difficult time, recognizing that emotional and social well-being are as much of a priority as physical health and safety
- HHS and SAMHSA have released emergency grant funding to states, tribes, and territories for substance use disorder treatment, mental health services, and suicide prevention during the COVID-19 pandemic
- The Trump Administration has made child welfare a priority by providing guidance and best practices for remote or virtual court hearings in child welfare cases and supporting caseworkers by allowing videoconferencing for monthly visits
- Free and confidential help is always available through the Disaster Distress Helpline, National Suicide Prevention Lifeline, National Runaway Safeline, National Domestic Hotline, and National Human Trafficking Hotline

State, Local, and Tribal Leaders –

Thank you to everyone that joined the White House COVID-19 National Briefing Call with State, Local, and Tribal Leaders on Wednesday, May 20. We were honored to be joined by First Lady Melania Trump, who discussed her BE BEST Initiative and the Administration's commitment to ensuring the physical and mental wellbeing of all Americans, including vulnerable children (see attached). You can find a readout of the First Lady's remarks here (Readout from the State and Local Stakeholder Call on COVID-19 Response). We were also joined by Brooke Rollins (Assistant to the President for Strategic Initiatives and Acting Director of the Domestic Policy Council), HHS Secretary Alex Azar, FDA Commissioner Stephen Hahn, and Rosemary Lahasky (Special Assistant to the President and Director of Domestic Initiatives).

We appreciate your partnership in this All-of-America response and look forward to continued engagement and robust coordination. In the past month alone, President Trump and Vice President Pence have collectively met in-person with 13 Governors (AR, CO, FL, GA, IA, KS, LA, MN, ND, NJ, NY, TN) illustrating the Administration's ongoing commitment to work in a bipartisan fashion with State, local, and Tribal officials. And on Thursday, May 21, President Trump joined African American leaders in Detroit, Michigan for a roundtable discussion on community revitalization, particularly in distressed communities and those disproportionately impacted by COVID-19. Below, please find a recap of this week's briefing call. We would also like to highlight several recent important announcements from the White House and Federal agencies.

- President Trump Issues Proclamation on Honoring the Victims of the Novel Coronavirus Pandemic: On Friday, May 22, President Trump issued a Presidential Proclamation honoring the victims of the novel coronavirus pandemic. In honoring all of those that have lost their lives, the proclamation orders that the flag of the United States shall be flown at half-staff at the White House and upon all public buildings and grounds of the Federal Government in the District of Columbia and throughout the United States and its Territories and possessions until sunset, May 24, 2020.
- President Trump Signs Executive Order on Regulatory Relief to Support Economic Recovery: On May 19, President Trump signed an executive order to slash red tape in order to revitalize the economy and get Americans back to work. The Executive Order builds on continuing Administration efforts to put people over paperwork. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic alone, the Administration has taken over 600 regulatory actions, including suspensions, waivers, and enforcement discretions. With the executive order, President Trump is directing agencies to use all emergency authorities to identify regulations that can be withdrawn or waived to promote job creation and economic growth. Read more here (WSJ: The Covid-19 Deregulation). We look forward to continuing to work with State, local, and Tribal partners on promoting deregulation and/or smart regulation.
- American Workforce Advisory Board Releases Recommendations on Building a Resilient and Agile Workforce: On May 19th, the American Workforce Policy Advisory Board, made up of members including the CEOs of Apple, Walmart, IBM, governors, mayors, education and non-profit leaders, put forth a set of recommendations for how to build a resilient and agile workforce powered by our greatest asset -- skilled American workers. The COVID-19 pandemic is underscoring the wide-ranging impact of existing disparities in access to technology, broadband, and digital literacy from how and whether students can access remote learning options to an individual's ability to access telehealth, access new opportunities previously unavailable, and engage regularly in the digital economy. Companies and educational institutions must be nimble and flexible in the delivery systems of high quality, relevant, affordable, and verified skills training. Find the Call to Action here. Learn more about the American Workforce Policy Advisory Board here. Also see Ivanka Trump, All-Star Group Advise Aiding American Workers with 'Unprecedented Investment' in Technology.

- USDA To Provide $1 Billion in Loan Guarantees for Rural Businesses and Ag Producers : On May 22, USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue announced that the Department is making available up to $1 billion in loan guarantees to help rural businesses meet their working capital needs during the COVID-19 pandemic. More here. Additionally, agricultural producers that are not eligible for USDA Farm Service Agency loans may receive funding under USDA Business & Industry CARES Act Program provisions. More here.
- USDA Updates Guidance for the Coronavirus Food Assistance Program (CFAP): On April 17, USDA announced the Coronavirus Food Assistance Program (CFAP), which will provide up to $16 billion in direct payments to deliver relief to farmers and ranchers across the country impacted by COVID-19. USDA will begin accepting CFAP applications on May 26. In addition to this direct support to farmers and ranchers, USDA's Farmers to Families Food Box program is partnering with regional and local distributors, whose workforces have been significantly impacted by the closure of many restaurants, hotels, and other food service entities, to purchase $3 billion in fresh produce, dairy, and meat and deliver boxes to Americans in need. Find approved contractors for the program here and a list of FAQ's here.
- U.S. Department of the Treasury Delivering Millions of Economic Impact Payments by Prepaid Debit Card : On May 18, Treasury and the IRS began sending nearly 4 million Economic Impact Payments (EIPs) by prepaid debit card. EIP Card recipients can make purchases, get cash from in-network ATMs, and transfer funds to their personal bank account without incurring any fees. Treasury has already delivered more than 140 million Economic Impact Payments worth $239 billion to Americans by direct deposit to accounts at financial institutions, Direct Express card accounts, and by check.
- U.S. Department of Energy Announces $53 Million for Small Business Research and Development Grants : On May 21, the U.S. Department of Energy announced 256 grants totaling $53 million to 211 small businesses in 35 States and the District of Columbia. The Phase I grants will allow small businesses to research technical feasibility of new innovations that advance the mission of the Department.
- DHS Announces Extension of Agreements with Canada and Mexico to Limit All Non-Essential Cross-Border Travel: On May 20, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security announced the extension of non-essential travel across the U.S.-Mexico and U.S. Canada borders in order to limit the further spread of the Coronavirus. These measures were implemented on March 21, 2020 and were originally in place for 30 days, subject to reevaluation and further extension in light of the fluid nature of the coronavirus pandemic. On April 20, 2020, these measures were extended for an additional 30 days and, on May 19, 2020, these measures were once again extended until June 22, 2020.
- FEMA Releases COVID-19 Pandemic Operation Guidance for the 2020 Hurricane Season : In preparing for the 2020 hurricane season, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released guidance to State, local, Tribal, and Territorial officials to help them prepare for response and recovery operations. While the document focuses on hurricane season preparedness, most planning considerations can also be applied to any disaster operation in the COVID-19 environment, including no-notice incidents, spring flooding and wildfire seasons, and typhoon response.

Sincerely,

The White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

Additional Guidance & Resources

HHS Announces $500 Million Distribution to Tribal Hospitals, Clinics, and Urban Health Centers: On May 22, the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) announced $500 million in payments from the CARES Act

Provider Relief Fund to the Indian Health Service (IHS) and tribal hospitals, clinics, and urban health centers to support the tribal response to COVID-19. This funding provides vital support to these healthcare facilities, which in some cases may be the only healthcare facility within a day's traveling distance for those served. Combined with previous funding, this distribution brings the total amount of new resources to the Indian health system to $2.4 billion dollars.

- HHS Provides $225 Million for COVID-19 Testing in Rural Communities: On May 20, HHS announced the distribution of $225 million to Rural Health Clinics (RHCs) for COVID-19 testing. These investments will support over 4,500 RHCs across the country to support COVID-19 testing efforts and expand access to testing in rural communities. Rural Health Clinics are a special designation given to health care practices in underserved rural areas by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) that help ensure access to care for rural residents.
- CDC Issues Additional Reopening Guidance to Assist State, Local, and Tribal Leaders: CDC has issues a set of health considerations to be used by summer camps, schools, youth sports organizations, institutes of higher education, and restaurants and bars, that are open. Decisions and strategies about how to operate are implemented at the state, tribal, local, and territorial levels because every locale is different, and individual jurisdictions have the authority and local awareness needed to protect their communities.
- CDC Outlines Resources to Assist States to Open: On May 20, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention released a summary of CDC's initiatives, activities, and tools in support of the whole-of-government response to COVID-19. The document includes information on general and healthcare surveillance as well as previously posted guidance on infection control, contact tracing, and testing. Additionally, the document includes a standardized way to look at the gating criteria in the Opening Up America Again guidance and tools to assist establishments after they open.
- DOEd Releases Considerations for Institutes of Higher Education: On May 21, the U.S. Department of Education, in coordination with the CDC, outlined considerations for some institutes of higher education (IHE) to help protect students and employees. IHEs vary considerably in geographic location, size, and structure. As such, IHE officials can determine, in collaboration with state and local health officials, whether and how to implement these considerations while adjusting to meet the unique needs and circumstances of the IHE and local community.
- FEMA Issues Updated Guidance on PPE Packages for Nursing Homes: Under the direction of the White House Coronavirus Task Force, FEMA is coordinating two shipments totaling a 14-day supply of personal protective equipment (PPE) to nearly 15,000 nursing homes across the Nation. The mission supplements existing efforts to ensure nursing homes across the country have PPE during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. FEMA is coordinating shipping of PPE to Medicaid- and Medicare-certified nursing homes based on input from the American Health Care Association to serve as a bridge between other PPE shipments. More here.

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS)

- President Donald Trump Announces Operation Warp Speed To Develop Coronavirus Vaccine: On May 15 in the White House Rose Garden, President Trump announced the launch of Operation Warp Speed to deliver safe and effective coronavirus treatments and vaccines as quickly as possible. Operation Warp Speed marks a massive science, industrial, and logistical endeavor unlike anything the country has seen since the Manhattan Project. President Trump has directed nearly $10 billion to Operation Warp Speed through funding that was included in the CARES Act.
- President Trump Announces Additional Resources for States, Territories, and Tribes to Meet Testing Goals: On Monday, May 11, President Donald J. Trump announced additional actions to ensure States, Territories, and Tribes have the resources they need to meet their testing goals. These additional resources include $11 billion in combined stimulus funding as well as approximately 12 million swabs to supplement private sector resources. By the end of the week, more than 300 retail testing sites will be operational to serve Americans in 47 States and D.C., prioritizing access to underserved communities. More here (The United States Has Built the World's Leading Coronavirus Testing System).
- HHS and Federal Government Continue to Partner with Private Sector in Supporting Community-Based Testing Sites for COVID-19: HHS has partnered with pharmacy and retail companies to accelerate testing for more Americans in more communities across the country. This includes helping stand-up more than 300 community-based testing sites in 44 states. Learn more and find a community-based testing site near you here.
- FDA Continues to Expand COVID-19 Testing: The dedicated staff at FDA has been working around the clock focusing on facilitating medical countermeasures to diagnose, treat and prevent the disease, and surveilling the medical product and food supply chains for potential shortages or disruptions and helping to mitigate such impacts, as necessary to protect the health of Americans. Every action the FDA has taken during this public health emergency to address the COVID-19 pandemic has balanced the urgent need to make tests available with the most appropriate level of oversight that ensures accurate tests are being deployed. As of May 20, FDA has granted more than 104 emergency use authorizations, which include the first antigen test, 91 molecular tests, and 12 antibody tests. Importantly, FDA has posted a list of antibody tests that are being removed from the "notification list" of tests being offered under the Policy for Coronavirus Disease-2019 Tests During the Public Health Emergency. More here.

U.S. Department of the Treasury (DT)

- Treasury Begins Distribution of Coronavirus Relief Fund Dollars to Native American Tribes: The President signed the CARES Act into law, providing $8 billion to address coronavirus preparedness, response, and recovery for American Indians and Alaska Natives. On May 5, Treasury and the U.S. Department of the Interior announced initial allocations of this funding, totaling nearly $5 billion, which represents one of the largest programmatic investments in Indian Country in our Nation's history.

Treasury Updates Guidance and FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On May 4, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. Among other updates, Treasury provides that “as a matter of administrative convenience in light of the emergency nature of this program, a State, territorial, local, or Tribal government may presume that payroll costs for public health and public safety employees are payments for services substantially dedicated to mitigating or responding to the COVID-19 public health emergency.” The updated FAQ’s can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.

- Treasury Updates Guidance and FAQ’s for Economic Impact Payments: Millions of Americans have already received their Economic Impact Payments authorized by the CARES Act. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) continues to calculate and automatically send the Payments to most eligible individuals, however some may have to provide additional information to the IRS to get their Payments. More information here.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA)

- SBA Continues to Deliver Unprecedented Relief to the Nation’s Small Businesses: Through the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) authorized under the CARES Act, the SBA is delivering unprecedented relief to the Nation’s Small Businesses. In the first round of funding alone, the agency processed more than 14 years’ worth of loans in less than 14 days. With an additional $310 billion in authorized funding, SBA continues to authorize PPP loans. In Round II, 5,425 lenders have approved over 2.4 million loans averaging $74,304 per loan. More here. A list of frequently asked questions can be found here. Additional questions should be referred to local and regional offices (here).
- Treasury and SBA Release New Information Regarding the Paycheck Protection Program:
- SBA Announces Reopening of Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) Program and Makes Available to U.S. Agricultural Businesses Impacted by COVID-19 Pandemic: On May 4, SBA announced the reopening of the EIDL program and EIDL Advance programs and expanded eligibility to agricultural businesses impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. More here. More on SBA coronavirus relief options, including EIDL, here.

WELL-BEING

Well-being focuses on children's emotional, social, and physical health, all of which may be affected by the changes that result from the response to COVID-19

- The COVID-19 pandemic has led to an increase in anxiety, depression, loneliness, isolation, and fear for many Americans, including children
- Children need the support of healthy, caring adults who can help them understand the changes in the world around them as we begin to safely reopen our country
- Supporting the emotional well-being of all Americans during COVID-19 will help protect children from the effects of opioid addiction and overdose and from domestic violence, child abuse, and suicide
- The Trump Administration has increased resources to support mental health and well-being during this difficult time, recognizing that emotional and social well-being are as much of a priority as physical health and safety
- HHS and SAMHSA have released emergency grant funding to states, tribes, and territories for substance use disorder treatment, mental health services, and suicide prevention during the COVID-19 pandemic
- The Trump Administration has made child welfare a priority by providing guidance and best practices for remote or virtual court hearings in child welfare cases and supporting caseworkers by allowing videoconferencing for monthly visits
- Free and confidential help is always available through the Disaster Distress Helpline, National Suicide Prevention Lifeline, National Runaway Safeline, National Domestic Hotline, and National Human Trafficking Hotline

State, Local, and Tribal Leaders –

Thank you to everyone that joined the White House COVID-19 National Briefing Call with State, local, and Tribal Leaders on Wednesday, May 27. We were joined by Kellyanne Conway (Assistant to the President & Senior Counselor), Paul Ray (Administrator, Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs in the White House Office of Management and Budget), Ken Cuccinelli (Acting Deputy Secretary, U.S. Department of Homeland Security), Brian Montgomery (Deputy Secretary, U.S. Department of Housing & Urban Development), Dr. Grant Baldwin (Director, Division of Overdose Prevention, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention), Carlos Castillo (Deputy Administrator for Resilience, Federal Emergency Management Agency), and Margaret Everson (Counselor to the Secretary, U.S. Department of the Interior) to discuss the Trump Administration's ongoing recovery and response efforts in partnership with State, local, and Tribal leaders from across the country. Below, please find a recap of this week's briefing call as well as several recent important announcements – including updated Coronavirus Relief Fund FAQ's – from the White House and Federal agencies.

Recent Announcements

- President Trump Announces Lower Out of Pocket Insulin Costs for Medicare's Seniors: Under President Trump's leadership, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) announced that over 1,750 standalone Medicare Part D prescription drug plans and Medicare Advantage plans with prescription drug coverage have applied to offer lower insulin costs through the Part D Senior Savings Model for the 2021 plan year. Across the Nation, participating enhanced Part D plans will provide many seniors with Medicare access to a broad set of insulins at a maximum $35 copay for a month's supply of each type of insulin (read more here). This announcement builds on previous actions taken by the Administration to improve the accessibility, quality, and affordability of healthcare and prescription drugs for our Nation's seniors. Average basic premiums for Medicare Part D prescription drug plans are the lowest in 7 years and have fallen by 13.5 percent since 2017, saving beneficiaries $1.9 billion in premium costs. Just last year, the President signed an Executive Order to empower seniors with more choice and access in healthcare and improve the fiscal sustainability of Medicare. This order will eliminate unnecessary barriers and combat fraud, waste, and abuse in Medicare, improving the program and maximizing freedom for patients and providers.
- President Trump Signs Executive Order on Regulatory Relief to Support Economic Recovery: On May 19, President Trump signed an executive order to slash red tape in order to revitalize the economy and get Americans back to work. The Executive Order builds on continuing Administration efforts to put people over paperwork. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic alone, the Administration has taken over 600 regulatory actions, including suspensions, waivers, and enforcement discretions. With the executive order, President Trump is directing agencies to use all emergency authorities to identify regulations that can be withdrawn or waived to promote job creation and economic growth. Read more here (WSJ: The Covid-19 Deregulation). We look forward to continuing to work with State, local, and Tribal partners on promoting deregulation and/or smart regulation.
- President Trump Announces Extended National Guard Title 32 Status: On May 28, President Trump announced his intent to extend the Title 32 orders through mid-August. The President's current authority provides governors continued command of their National Guard forces, while being 100% federally funded under Title 32, enabling these states to use the additional resources to meet the missions necessary in the whole-of-America COVID-19 response. 49 States and Territories have received Title 32 Status. Current orders expire on June 24.

- U.S. Department of the Treasury Issues Updated Coronavirus Relief Fund FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On May 28, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. The updated FAQ's can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.
- Small Business Administration and Treasury Department Announce $10 Billion for CDFIs to Participate in the Paycheck Protection Program: On May 28, SBA announced that it is setting aside $10 billion of Round 2 funding for the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) to be lent exclusively by Community Development Financial Institutions (CDFIs). CDFIs work to expand economic opportunity in low-income communities by providing access to financial products and services for local residents and businesses. These dedicated funds will further ensure that the PPP reaches all communities in need of relief during the COVID-19 pandemic - a key priority for President Trump. As of May 23, 2020, CDFIs have approved more than $7 billion ($3.2 billion in Round 2) in PPP loans. The additional $6.8 billion will ensure that entrepreneurs and small business owners in all communities have easy access to the financial system, and that they receive much-needed capital to maintain their workforces.
- USDA Announces $281 Million in Rural Water And Wastewater Infrastructure Improvements in 36 States and Puerto Rico: On May 27, USDA announced that the department is investing $281 million in 106 projects to improve water and wastewater infrastructure in rural communities in 36 states and Puerto Rico. USDA is funding the projects through the Water and Waste Disposal Loan and Grant program.
- Bureau of Land Management Proposed Expedited Review of Timber Salvage Projects: On May 28, BLM announced a proposal to establish a new categorical exclusion (CX) under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), which would streamline the agency's review of routine timber salvage projects and operations. This proposal would contribute to rural economies, accelerate reestablishment of native resilient forest tree species and reduce future wildfire fuel loads, while diminishing hazards to wildland firefighters, the public and infrastructure from dead and dying trees. Read more about the Administration's NEPA modernization efforts here.
- U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development Allocates Third Wave of CARES Act Funding Providing $1 Billion for Communities to Bolster Coronavirus Response and Relief Efforts: On May 11, HUD Secretary Ben Carson announced the allocation of $1 billion through the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program to States and insular areas in response to COVID-19. Every State and Insular Area will receive a portion of the relief funds. More here. To date, HUD has provided over $3 billion in CDBG funding nationwide to help communities acutely combat coronavirus and alleviate economic hardship.
- Federal Housing Administration Extends Foreclosure and Eviction Moratorium for Single Family Homeowners: On May 14, FHA announced an extension of its foreclosure and eviction moratorium through June 30, 2020, for homeowners with FHA-insured Single Family mortgages, while also supporting new FHA-insured mortgage originations through an extension of temporary policy flexibilities for lenders and appraisers. The extensions will support the President's economic recovery efforts as the Nation continues to work to defeat the COVID-19 invisible enemy. More from HUD Secretary Ben Carson on actions taken to safeguard the American renter and homeowner against impacts of coronavirus here.

We greatly appreciate your continued efforts in this whole-of-government, all-of-America response to the COVID-19 pandemic. As you know, our citizens are best served when response is locally executed, State managed and Federally supported. The Federal government scales best practices, coordinates key priorities, provides regulatory flexibilities, guidance, and resources to supplement, but not replace, private sector, local, and State resources. The White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs (WH IGA) will continue to share pertinent information as it becomes available. Please do not hesitate to reach out to our office if we can be of assistance. As a reminder, WH IGA is the primary liaison between the White House and the country's State and local elected officials and Tribal Governments.

water to nutritional drinks for diabetics, and everything in between – at eight (8) distribution centers in the U.S., Puerto Rico and Guam. FEMA has also updated the approach to incident management by formalizing prioritization on restoring community lifelines after disaster. Additionally, we have increased Urban Search & Rescue capabilities and embedded staff in 22 states. Find a readout from President Trump and Vice President Pence’s Briefing on the 2020 Hurricane Season here.

- FEMA Releases COVID-19 Pandemic Operation Guidance for the 2020 Hurricane Season : In preparing for the 2020 hurricane season, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released guidance to State, local, Tribal, and Territorial officials to help them prepare for response and recovery operations. While the document focuses on hurricane season preparedness, most planning considerations can also be applied to any disaster operation in the COVID-19 environment, including no-notice incidents, spring flooding and wildfire seasons, and typhoon response.
- FEMA Streamlines SAFER Grant Program in Response to COVID-19: While the SAFER grants have been helping fire departments and their communities for many years, they are even more critically important to those departments seeking grants. Fortunately, Acting Secretary Wolf has streamlined the SAFER grant program to ensure these critically important funds can be used to the maximum benefit of their communities. For the FY 2019 SAFER Grant Program, the Acting Secretary waived the Cost Share, Salary Cap, Supplanting, and Minimum Budget requirements. DHS/FEMA will provide fire departments with 100 percent of the funding needed to hire firefighters for each of the next three years. Learn more here.
- FEMA Begins Distribution of Infrared Thermometers To States, Tribes, and Territories To Aid in Reopening Efforts: To support the Nation’s safe reopening, the Federal government – through FEMA – is provisioning an initial supply of non-contact infrared thermometers (NCIT) for businesses and other essential workers in every State, Territory, and the District of Columbia. NCITs should be used in accordance with CDC guidance for businesses and employers and OSHA guidance for preparing workplaces for identifying potentially ill individuals including employees, customers, vendors or other visitors.
- FEMA Expands Crisis Counseling in the Wake of COVID-19: To date, crisis counseling service grants have been made available to a total of 46 states and the District of Columbia to support programs providing free, confidential counseling through community-based outreach and educational services. The mission of the Crisis Counseling Program (CCP) is to help individuals and communities recover from the psychological effects of disasters through community-based outreach and educational services. The program supports short-term interventions to assist disaster survivors in understanding their current situation and reactions, mitigating stress, promoting the use or development of coping strategies, providing emotional support, and encouraging links with other individuals and agencies who may help survivors in their recovery process. People who seek help through the program remain anonymous. Crisis counselors do not keep individual records or case files kept and avoid classifying, labeling, or diagnosing individuals in any way. U.S. Department of Homeland Security

- President Trump Issues Proclamation Suspending Entry of Non-U.S. Citizens from Brazil into the United States: In order to limit the further spread of coronavirus from outside the Nation’s borders, President Trump has and continues to take decisive action to restrict travel from hot spots around the globe, including China (January 31), Iran (February 29), and Europe/Schengen Area (March 11). On May 24, President Trump took decisive action to protect our country by suspending the entry of aliens who have been in Brazil during the 14-day period before seeking admittance to the United States. As of May 23, 2020, Brazil had 310,087 confirmed cases of COVID-19, which is the third highest number of confirmed cases in the world. The action will help ensure foreign nationals who have been in Brazil do not become a source of additional infections in the United States. These new restrictions do not apply to the flow of commerce between the United States and Brazil. Find the Proclamation here.
- DHS Announces Extension of Agreements with Canada and Mexico to Limit All Non-Essential Cross-Border Travel: On May 20, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security announced the extension of non-essential travel across the U.S.-Mexico and U.S. Canada borders in order to limit the further spread of the Coronavirus. These measures were implemented on March 21, 2020 and were originally in place for 30 days, subject to reevaluation and further extension in light of the fluid nature of the coronavirus pandemic. On April 20, 2020, these measures were extended for an additional 30 days and, on May 19, 2020, these measures were once again extended until June 22, 2020.

U.S. Department of the Interior

- Department of the Interior is Reopening the Nation’s National Parks and Public Lands : The Nation’s National Parks and public lands are important resources to States, local communities, and the public at large. National Parks, National Wildlife Refuges, National Monuments and other public lands managed by Interior hosted an estimated 486 million recreational visits in FY 2018—up from 473 million in FY 2016. These visits supported an estimated $58 billion in economic output and an estimated 452,000 jobs nationwide. Working in close partnership with States and Tribes, the Department of the Interior has opened over 70 percent of the Nation’s National Parks in addition to nearly all of the 500 million acres the Department stewards for the American people across all public lands. The department is committed to working with states and local officials to be able to support the Nation’s gateway communities and help support the safe reopening of their economies. Park Specific status can be found on the National Park website (i.e. Canyonlands and Yellowstone). Wildlife Refuge status can be found on the Fish & Wildlife website (i.e. Moapa Valley Wildlife Refuge and Santa Ana National Wildlife Refuge).
- National Park Service Guidance Provides Guidance for Visitors to Recreate Responsibly: The National Park Service (NPS) is closely monitoring and responding to the COVID-19 pandemic. Following guidance from the White House, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and state and local officials, NPS continue to adapt to changing conditions while maintaining public access at a majority of NPS sites. State, Local, and Tribal Leaders –

Thank you to everyone that joined the White House COVID-19 National Briefing Call with State, local, and Tribal Leaders on Wednesday, May 27. We were joined by Kellyanne Conway (Assistant to the President & Senior Counselor), Paul Ray (Administrator, Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs in the White House Office of Management and Budget), Ken Cuccinelli (Acting Deputy Secretary, U.S. Department of Homeland Security), Brian Montgomery (Deputy Secretary, U.S. Department of Housing & Urban Development), Dr. Grant Baldwin (Director, Division of Overdose Prevention, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention), Carlos Castillo (Deputy Administrator for Resilience, Federal Emergency Management Agency), and Margaret Everson (Counselor to the Secretary, U.S. Department of the Interior) to discuss the Trump Administration's ongoing recovery and response efforts in partnership with State, local, and Tribal leaders from across the country. Below, please find a recap of this week's briefing call as well as several recent important announcements – including updated Coronavirus Relief Fund FAQ's – from the White House and Federal agencies.

Recent Announcements

- President Trump Announces Lower Out of Pocket Insulin Costs for Medicare's Seniors: Under President Trump's leadership, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) announced that over 1,750 standalone Medicare Part D prescription drug plans and Medicare Advantage plans with prescription drug coverage have applied to offer lower insulin costs through the Part D Senior Savings Model for the 2021 plan year. Across the Nation, participating enhanced Part D plans will provide many seniors with Medicare access to a broad set of insulins at a maximum $35 copay for a month's supply of each type of insulin (read more here). This announcement builds on previous actions taken by the Administration to improve the accessibility, quality, and affordability of healthcare and prescription drugs for our Nation's seniors. Average basic premiums for Medicare Part D prescription drug plans are the lowest in 7 years and have fallen by 13.5 percent since 2017, saving beneficiaries $1.9 billion in premium costs. Just last year, the President signed an Executive Order to empower seniors with more choice and access in healthcare and improve the fiscal sustainability of Medicare. This order will eliminate unnecessary barriers and combat fraud, waste, and abuse in Medicare, improving the program and maximizing freedom for patients and providers.
- President Trump Signs Executive Order on Regulatory Relief to Support Economic Recovery: On May 19, President Trump signed an executive order to slash red tape in order to revitalize the economy and get Americans back to work. The Executive Order builds on continuing Administration efforts to put people over paperwork. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic alone, the Administration has taken over 600 regulatory actions, including suspensions, waivers, and enforcement discretions. With the executive order, President Trump is directing agencies to use all emergency authorities to identify regulations that can be withdrawn or waived to promote job creation and economic growth. Read more here (WSJ: The Covid-19 Deregulation). We look forward to continuing to work with State, local, and Tribal partners on promoting deregulation and/or smart regulation.
- President Trump Announces Extended National Guard Title 32 Status: On May 28, President Trump announced his intent to extend the Title 32 orders through mid-August. The President's current authority provides governors continued command of their National Guard forces, while being 100% federally funded under Title 32, enabling these states to use the additional resources to meet the missions necessary in the whole-of-America COVID-19 response. 49 States and Territories have received Title 32 Status. Current orders expire on June 24.

- U.S. Department of the Treasury Issues Updated Coronavirus Relief Fund FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On May 28, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. The updated FAQ's can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.
- Small Business Administration and Treasury Department Announce $10 Billion for CDFIs to Participate in the Paycheck Protection Program: On May 28, SBA announced that it is setting aside $10 billion of Round 2 funding for the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) to be lent exclusively by Community Development Financial Institutions (CDFIs). CDFIs work to expand economic opportunity in low-income communities by providing access to financial products and services for local residents and businesses. These dedicated funds will further ensure that the PPP reaches all communities in need of relief during the COVID-19 pandemic - a key priority for President Trump. As of May 23, 2020, CDFIs have approved more than $7 billion ($3.2 billion in Round 2) in PPP loans. The additional $6.8 billion will ensure that entrepreneurs and small business owners in all communities have easy access to the financial system, and that they receive much-needed capital to maintain their workforces.
- USDA Announces $281 Million in Rural Water And Wastewater Infrastructure Improvements in 36 States and Puerto Rico: On May 27, USDA announced that the department is investing $281 million in 106 projects to improve water and wastewater infrastructure in rural communities in 36 states and Puerto Rico. USDA is funding the projects through the Water and Waste Disposal Loan and Grant program.
- Bureau of Land Management Proposed Expedited Review of Timber Salvage Projects: On May 28, BLM announced a proposal to establish a new categorical exclusion (CX) under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), which would streamline the agency's review of routine timber salvage projects and operations. This proposal would contribute to rural economies, accelerate reestablishment of native resilient forest tree species and reduce future wildfire fuel loads, while diminishing hazards to wildland firefighters, the public and infrastructure from dead and dying trees. Read more about the Administration's NEPA modernization efforts here.
- U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development Allocates Third Wave of CARES Act Funding Providing $1 Billion for Communities to Bolster Coronavirus Response and Relief Efforts: On May 11, HUD Secretary Ben Carson announced the allocation of $1 billion through the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program to States and insular areas in response to COVID-19. Every State and Insular Area will receive a portion of the relief funds. More here. To date, HUD has provided over $3 billion in CDBG funding nationwide to help communities acutely combat coronavirus and alleviate economic hardship.
- Federal Housing Administration Extends Foreclosure and Eviction Moratorium for Single Family Homeowners: On May 14, FHA announced an extension of its foreclosure and eviction moratorium through June 30, 2020, for homeowners with FHA-insured Single Family mortgages, while also supporting new FHA-insured mortgage originations through an extension of temporary policy flexibilities for lenders and appraisers. The extensions will support the President's economic recovery efforts as the Nation continues to work to defeat the COVID-19 invisible enemy. More from HUD Secretary Ben Carson on actions taken to safeguard the American renter and homeowner against impacts of coronavirus here.

We greatly appreciate your continued efforts in this whole-of-government, all-of-America response to the COVID-19 pandemic. As you know, our citizens are best served when response is locally executed, State managed and Federally supported. The Federal government scales best practices, coordinates key priorities, provides regulatory flexibilities, guidance, and resources to supplement, but not replace, private sector, local, and State resources. The White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs (WH IGA) will continue to share pertinent information as it becomes available. Please do not hesitate to reach out to our office if we can be of assistance. As a reminder, WH IGA is the primary liaison between the White House and the country's State and local elected officials and Tribal Governments.

This funding provides vital support to these healthcare facilities, which in some cases may be the only healthcare facility within a day's traveling distance for those served. Combined with previous funding, this distribution brings the total amount of new resources to the Indian health system to $2.4 billion dollars.
- HHS Announces $15 Million to Combat COVID-19 Pandemic in Rural Tribal Communities: On May 28, HHS awarded $15 million to 52 Tribes, Tribal organizations, urban Indian health organizations, and other health services providers to Tribes across 20 states to prepare, prevent, and respond to COVID-19 in rural tribal communities. These awards are funded through the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act that President Trump signed into law on Friday, March 27, 2020. HRSA made awards to Federally Recognized Tribes and other tribal organizations based on their needs and capacity to implement COVID-19 related activities in their rural communities. Tribes could request up to $300K in funding for these activities through the Rural Tribal COVID-19 Response (RTCR) program.
- CDC Issues Additional Reopening Guidance to Assist State, Local, and Tribal Leaders: CDC has issues a set of health considerations to be used by summer camps, schools, youth sports organizations, institutes of higher education, and restaurants and bars, that are open. Recent Announcements

- President Trump Announces Lower Out of Pocket Insulin Costs for Medicare's Seniors: Under President Trump's leadership, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) announced that over 1,750 standalone Medicare Part D prescription drug plans and Medicare Advantage plans with prescription drug coverage have applied to offer lower insulin costs through the Part D Senior Savings Model for the 2021 plan year. Across the Nation, participating enhanced Part D plans will provide many seniors with Medicare access to a broad set of insulins at a maximum $35 copay for a month's supply of each type of insulin (read more here). This announcement builds on previous actions taken by the Administration to improve the accessibility, quality, and affordability of healthcare and prescription drugs for our Nation's seniors. Average basic premiums for Medicare Part D prescription drug plans are the lowest in 7 years and have fallen by 13.5 percent since 2017, saving beneficiaries $1.9 billion in premium costs. Just last year, the President signed an Executive Order to empower seniors with more choice and access in healthcare and improve the fiscal sustainability of Medicare. This order will eliminate unnecessary barriers and combat fraud, waste, and abuse in Medicare, improving the program and maximizing freedom for patients and providers.
- President Trump Signs Executive Order on Regulatory Relief to Support Economic Recovery: On May 19, President Trump signed an executive order to slash red tape in order to revitalize the economy and get Americans back to work. The Executive Order builds on continuing Administration efforts to put people over paperwork. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic alone, the Administration has taken over 600 regulatory actions, including suspensions, waivers, and enforcement discretions. With the executive order, President Trump is directing agencies to use all emergency authorities to identify regulations that can be withdrawn or waived to promote job creation and economic growth. Read more here (WSJ: The Covid-19 Deregulation). We look forward to continuing to work with State, local, and Tribal partners on promoting deregulation and/or smart regulation.
- President Trump Announces Extended National Guard Title 32 Status: On May 28, President Trump announced his intent to extend the Title 32 orders through mid-August. The President's current authority provides governors continued command of their National Guard forces, while being 100% federally funded under Title 32, enabling these states to use the additional resources to meet the missions necessary in the whole-of-America COVID-19 response. 49 States and Territories have received Title 32 Status. Current orders expire on June 24.

- U.S. Department of the Treasury Issues Updated Coronavirus Relief Fund FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On May 28, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. The updated FAQ's can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.
- Small Business Administration and Treasury Department Announce $10 Billion for CDFIs to Participate in the Paycheck Protection Program: On May 28, SBA announced that it is setting aside $10 billion of Round 2 funding for the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) to be lent exclusively by Community Development Financial Institutions (CDFIs). CDFIs work to expand economic opportunity in low-income communities by providing access to financial products and services for local residents and businesses. These dedicated funds will further ensure that the PPP reaches all communities in need of relief during the COVID-19 pandemic - a key priority for President Trump. As of May 23, 2020, CDFIs have approved more than $7 billion ($3.2 billion in Round 2) in PPP loans. The additional $6.8 billion will ensure that entrepreneurs and small business owners in all communities have easy access to the financial system, and that they receive much-needed capital to maintain their workforces.
- USDA Announces $281 Million in Rural Water And Wastewater Infrastructure Improvements in 36 States and Puerto Rico: On May 27, USDA announced that the department is investing $281 million in 106 projects to improve water and wastewater infrastructure in rural communities in 36 states and Puerto Rico. USDA is funding the projects through the Water and Waste Disposal Loan and Grant program.
- Bureau of Land Management Proposed Expedited Review of Timber Salvage Projects: On May 28, BLM announced a proposal to establish a new categorical exclusion (CX) under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), which would streamline the agency's review of routine timber salvage projects and operations. This proposal would contribute to rural economies, accelerate reestablishment of native resilient forest tree species and reduce future wildfire fuel loads, while diminishing hazards to wildland firefighters, the public and infrastructure from dead and dying trees. Read more about the Administration's NEPA modernization efforts here.
- U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development Allocates Third Wave of CARES Act Funding Providing $1 Billion for Communities to Bolster Coronavirus Response and Relief Efforts: On May 11, HUD Secretary Ben Carson announced the allocation of $1 billion through the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program to States and insular areas in response to COVID-19. Every State and Insular Area will receive a portion of the relief funds. More here. To date, HUD has provided over $3 billion in CDBG funding nationwide to help communities acutely combat coronavirus and alleviate economic hardship.
- Federal Housing Administration Extends Foreclosure and Eviction Moratorium for Single Family Homeowners: On May 14, FHA announced an extension of its foreclosure and eviction moratorium through June 30, 2020, for homeowners with FHA-insured Single Family mortgages, while also supporting new FHA-insured mortgage originations through an extension of temporary policy flexibilities for lenders and appraisers. The extensions will support the President's economic recovery efforts as the Nation continues to work to defeat the COVID-19 invisible enemy. More from HUD Secretary Ben Carson on actions taken to safeguard the American renter and homeowner against impacts of coronavirus here.

We greatly appreciate your continued efforts in this whole-of-government, all-of-America response to the COVID-19 pandemic. As you know, our citizens are best served when response is locally executed, State managed and Federally supported. The Federal government scales best practices, coordinates key priorities, provides regulatory flexibilities, guidance, and resources to supplement, but not replace, private sector, local, and State resources. The White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs (WH IGA) will continue to share pertinent information as it becomes available. Please do not hesitate to reach out to our office if we can be of assistance. As a reminder, WH IGA is the primary liaison between the White House and the country's State and local elected officials and Tribal Governments.

- HHS Announces $500 Million Distribution to Tribal Hospitals, Clinics, and Urban Health Centers: On May 22, the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) announced $500 million in payments from the CARES Act Provider Relief Fund to the Indian Health Service (IHS) and tribal hospitals, clinics, and urban health centers to support the tribal response to COVID-19. This funding provides vital support to these healthcare facilities, which in some cases may be the only healthcare facility within a day's traveling distance for those served. Combined with previous funding, this distribution brings the total amount of new resources to the Indian health system to $2.4 billion dollars.
- HHS Announces $15 Million to Combat COVID-19 Pandemic in Rural Tribal Communities: On May 28, HHS awarded $15 million to 52 Tribes, Tribal organizations, urban Indian health organizations, and other health services providers to Tribes across 20 states to prepare, prevent, and respond to COVID-19 in rural tribal communities. These awards are funded through the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act that President Trump signed into law on Friday, March 27, 2020. HRSA made awards to Federally Recognized Tribes and other tribal organizations based on their needs and capacity to implement COVID-19 related activities in their rural communities. Tribes could request up to $300K in funding for these activities through the Rural Tribal COVID-19 Response (RTCR) program.
- CDC Issues Additional Reopening Guidance to Assist State, Local, and Tribal Leaders: CDC has issues a set of health considerations to be used by summer camps, schools, youth sports organizations, institutes of higher education, and restaurants and bars, that are open. Decisions and strategies about how to operate are implemented at the state, tribal, local, and territorial levels because every locale is different, and individual jurisdictions have the authority and local awareness needed to protect their communities.
- CDC Outlines Resources to Assist States to Open: On May 20, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention released a summary of CDC's initiatives, activities, and tools in support of the whole-of-government response to COVID-19. The document includes information on general and healthcare surveillance as well as previously posted guidance on infection control, contact tracing, and testing. Additionally, the document includes a standardized way to look at the gating criteria in the Opening Up America Again guidance and tools to assist establishments after they open.
- CMS Issues Nursing Homes Best Practices Toolkit to Combat COVID-19: On May 13, under the direction of President Trump, CMS released a new toolkit developed to aid nursing homes, Governors, states, departments of health, and other agencies who provide oversight and assistance to these facilities, with additional resources to aid in the fight against the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic within nursing homes. The toolkit builds upon previous actions taken by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), which provide a wide range of tools and guidance to states, healthcare providers and others during the public health emergency. More here.
- FEMA Issues Updated Guidance on PPE Packages for Nursing Homes: Under the direction of the White House Coronavirus Task Force, FEMA is coordinating two shipments totaling a 14-day supply of personal protective equipment (PPE) to nearly 15,000 nursing homes across the Nation. The mission supplements existing efforts to ensure nursing homes across the country have PPE during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. FEMA is coordinating shipping of PPE to Medicaid- and Medicare-certified nursing homes based on input from the American Health Care Association to serve as a bridge between other PPE shipments. More here.

Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA)

- FEMA Prepares for 2020 Hurricane Season: Currently FEMA has $78.7 Billion available in the Disaster Relief Fund. To enable a swift response, FEMA has stocked and pre-positioned supplies that might be needed in a shelter – from bottled water to nutritional drinks for diabetics, and everything in between – at eight (8) distribution centers in the U.S., Puerto Rico and Guam. FEMA has also updated the approach to incident management by formalizing prioritization on restoring community lifelines after disaster. Additionally, we have increased Urban Search & Rescue capabilities and embedded staff in 22 states. Find a readout from President Trump and Vice President Pence’s Briefing on the 2020 Hurricane Season here.

- FEMA Releases COVID-19 Pandemic Operation Guidance for the 2020 Hurricane Season : In preparing for the 2020 hurricane season, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released guidance to State, local, Tribal, and Territorial officials to help them prepare for response and recovery operations. While the document focuses on hurricane season preparedness, most planning considerations can also be applied to any disaster operation in the COVID-19 environment, including no-notice incidents, spring flooding and wildfire seasons, and typhoon response.
- FEMA Streamlines SAFER Grant Program in Response to COVID-19: While the SAFER grants have been helping fire departments and their communities for many years, they are even more critically important to those departments seeking grants. Fortunately, Acting Secretary Wolf has streamlined the SAFER grant program to ensure these critically important funds can be used to the maximum benefit of their communities. For the FY 2019 SAFER Grant Program, the Acting Secretary waived the Cost Share, Salary Cap, Supplanting, and Minimum Budget requirements. DHS/FEMA will provide fire departments with 100 percent of the funding needed to hire firefighters for each of the next three years. Learn more here.
- FEMA Begins Distribution of Infrared Thermometers To States, Tribes, and Territories To Aid in Reopening Efforts: To support the Nation’s safe reopening, the Federal government – through FEMA – is provisioning an initial supply of non-contact infrared thermometers (NCIT) for businesses and other essential workers in every State, Territory, and the District of Columbia. NCITs should be used in accordance with CDC guidance for businesses and employers and OSHA guidance for preparing workplaces for identifying potentially ill individuals including employees, customers, vendors or other visitors.
- FEMA Expands Crisis Counseling in the Wake of COVID-19: To date, crisis counseling service grants have been made available to a total of 46 states and the District of Columbia to support programs providing free, confidential counseling through community-based outreach and educational services. The mission of the Crisis Counseling Program (CCP) is to help individuals and communities recover from the psychological effects of disasters through community-based outreach and educational services. The program supports short-term interventions to assist disaster survivors in understanding their current situation and reactions, mitigating stress, promoting the use or development of coping strategies, providing emotional support, and encouraging links with other individuals and agencies who may help survivors in their recovery process. People who seek help through the program remain anonymous. Crisis counselors do not keep individual records or case files kept and avoid classifying, labeling, or diagnosing individuals in any way. More here.

U.S. Department of Homeland Security

- President Trump Issues Proclamation Suspending Entry of Non-U.S. Citizens from Brazil into the United States: In order to limit the further spread of coronavirus from outside the Nation’s borders, President Trump has and continues to take decisive action to restrict travel from hot spots around the globe, including China (January 31), Iran (February 29), and Europe/Schengen Area (March 11). On May 24, President Trump took decisive action to protect our country by suspending the entry of aliens who have been in Brazil during the 14-day period before seeking admittance to the United States. As of May 23, 2020, Brazil had 310,087 confirmed cases of COVID-19, which is the third highest number of confirmed cases in the world. The action will help ensure foreign nationals who have been in Brazil do not become a source of additional infections in the United States. These new restrictions do not apply to the flow of commerce between the United States and Brazil. Find the Proclamation here.
- DHS Announces Extension of Agreements with Canada and Mexico to Limit All Non-Essential Cross-Border Travel: On May 20, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security announced the extension of non-essential travel across the U.S.-Mexico and U.S. Canada borders in order to limit the further spread of the Coronavirus. These measures were implemented on March 21, 2020 and were originally in place for 30 days, subject to reevaluation and further extension in light of the fluid nature of the coronavirus pandemic. On April 20, 2020, these measures were extended for an additional 30 days and, on May 19, 2020, these measures were once again extended until June 22, 2020.

U.S. Department of the Interior

- Department of the Interior is Reopening the Nation’s National Parks and Public Lands : The Nation’s National Parks and public lands are important resources to States, local communities, and the public at large. National Parks, National Wildlife Refuges, National Monuments and other public lands managed by Interior hosted an estimated 486 million recreational visits in FY 2018—up from 473 million in FY 2016. These visits supported an estimated $58 billion in economic output and an estimated 452,000 jobs nationwide. Working in close partnership with States and Tribes, the Department of the Interior has opened over 70 percent of the Nation’s National Parks in addition to nearly all of the 500 million acres the Department stewards for the American people across all public lands. The department is committed to working with states and local officials to be able to support the Nation’s gateway communities and help support the safe reopening of their economies. Park Specific status can be found on the National Park website (i.e. Canyonlands and Yellowstone). Wildlife Refuge status can be found on the Fish & Wildlife website (i.e. Moapa Valley Wildlife Refuge and Santa Ana National Wildlife Refuge).
- National Park Service Guidance Provides Guidance for Visitors to Recreate Responsibly: The National Park Service (NPS) is closely monitoring and responding to the COVID-19 pandemic. Following guidance from the White House, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and state and local officials, NPS continue to adapt to changing conditions while maintaining public access at a majority of NPS sites. Find guidance for visitors here and more general information here.

U.S. Department of the Treasury (DT)

- Treasury Begins Distribution of Coronavirus Relief Fund Dollars to Native American Tribes: The President signed the CARES Act into law, providing $8 billion to address coronavirus preparedness, response, and recovery for American Indians and Alaska Natives. On May 5, Treasury and the U.S. Department of the Interior announced initial allocations of this funding, totaling nearly $5 billion, which represents one of the largest programmatic investments in Indian Country in our Nation's history.
- Treasury Updates Guidance and FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On May 28, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. The updated FAQ's can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.
- Treasury Updates Guidance and FAQ's for Economic Impact Payments: Millions of Americans have already received their Economic Impact Payments authorized by the CARES Act. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) continues to calculate and automatically send the Payments to most eligible individuals, however some may have to provide additional information to the IRS to get their Payments. More information here.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA)

- SBA Continues to Deliver Unprecedented Relief to the Nation's Small Businesses: Through the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) authorized under the CARES Act, the SBA is delivering unprecedented relief to the Nation's Small Businesses. In the first round of funding alone, the agency processed more than 14 years' worth of loans in less than 14 days. With an additional $310 billion in authorized funding, SBA continues to authorize PPP loans. In Round II, 5,425 lenders have approved over 2.4 million loans averaging $74,304 per loan. More here. A list of frequently asked questions can be found here. Additional questions should be referred to local and regional offices (here).
- Treasury and SBA Release New Information Regarding the Paycheck Protection Program:
- SBA Announces Reopening of Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) Program and Makes Available to U.S. Agricultural Businesses Impacted by COVID-19 Pandemic: On May 4, SBA announced the reopening of the EIDL program and EIDL Advance programs and expanded eligibility to agricultural businesses impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. More here. More on SBA coronavirus relief options, including EIDL, here.

State, Local, and Tribal Leaders –

Thank you to everyone who joined the White House COVID-19 National Briefing Call with State, local, and Tribal Leaders on Wednesday, June 3. We were joined by Chad Wolf (Acting Secretary, U.S. Department of Homeland Security), Jeffrey Rosen (United States Deputy Attorney General), Major General Michael Taheri (Assistant to the Chief of the National Guard Bureau), Dr. Robert Redfield (Director, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention), Seema Verma (Administrator, Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services), and VADM Jerome Adams (U.S. Surgeon General). In addition to continuing to support State, local, and Tribal COVID-19 response and recovery efforts, the Administration is committed to keeping our communities safe while we collectively seek justice and reform for George Floyd and his family. As stated by President Trump in the Rose Garden on Monday, June 1, “America is founded upon the rule of law. It is the foundation of our prosperity, our freedom, and our very way of life. But where there is no law, there is no opportunity. Where there is no justice, there is no liberty. Where there is no safety, there is no future.” Or as stated by the President on May 30th, “I stand before you as a friend and ally to every American seeking justice and peace. And I stand before you in firm opposition to anyone exploiting this tragedy to loot, rob, attack, and menace. Healing, not hatred; justice, not chaos are the mission at hand.”

We look forward to continuing our engagement with you and your colleagues on issues important to your States, districts, and communities. This includes on shared, bipartisan priorities like community revitalization, criminal justice reform, and improving health outcomes for disadvantaged and all Americans. In that regard, President Trump has directed the White House Opportunity and Revitalization Council, chaired by HUD Secretary Ben Carson, to develop and implement a bipartisan, comprehensive strategy for helping distressed communities across the country. Find more in an interview with Brooke Rollins (Acting Director of the White House Domestic Policy Council) here: White House Domestic Policy Chief Says White House Working Through Proposals to Unify Country. Below, please find a recap of this week’s briefing call as well as several recent important announcements.

Recent Announcements

Trouncing Expectations by 10 Million Jobs, the Labor Market’s Comeback Has Begun: The Bureau of Labor Statistics’ May Employment Situation report shows that the United States economy added 2.5 million jobs last month, and the unemployment rate fell from 14.7 percent to 13.3 percent. Employment increased significantly in leisure and hospitality (1.2 million), construction (464,000), education and health services (424,000), retail trade (368,000), and manufacturing (225,000). These job gains surprised forecasters, given many States were only beginning to reopen their economies during the reports’ survey reference periods (the week/pay period that includes May 12). The median of all private sector forecasts predicted 7.5 million job losses in May and an unemployment rate of 19.2 percent. More here.

President Trump Signs Paycheck Protection Program Flexibility Act of 2020: On June 5 in White House Rose Garden, President Trump signed the Paycheck Protection Program Flexibility Act of 2020. Among other provisions, the Act modifies the Paycheck Protection Program allowing businesses qualify for loan forgiveness up to $10 million if they meet certain criteria. The Act also extends the period in which business can spend funds in order to have them forgiven.

Vice President Mike Pence Meets with Community Leaders to Discuss Protests, Racial Injustice: On June 5, Vice President Mike Pence met with community leaders at the Hope Christian Church in Prince George's County, MD to discuss the protests going on around the nation to address racial injustice. You can view the listening session here and find remarks here.

First Lady Melania Trump Participates in Zoom Meeting with Experts on Social Emotional Learning: On June 4, First Lady Melania Trump and U.S. Education Secretary Betsy DeVos participated in a Zoom meeting for a briefing by Karen Baicker, executive director of the Yale Child Study Center-Scholastic Collaborative for Child and Family Resilience and Denise Daniels, author of "The Moodsters" and "First Aid for Feelings," on Social Emotional Learning Techniques (SEL) and the mental health implications of COVID-19 as it relates to children and families. Among other topics, the First Lady, Secretary DeVos and participants spoke about the major mental health challenges that impact our young people and what can be done to address this and how parents can best collaborate with mental health professionals and school officials during these uncertain times.

President Trump Signs Executive Order on Accelerating the Nation's Economic Recovery from the COVID-19 Emergency by Expediting Infrastructure Investments and Other Activities: On June 4, President Trump signed an Executive Order that would expedite permitting for infrastructure projects, building on earlier orders to ease regulations for industry. The order directs federal agencies, including Interior, Agriculture and Defense departments and the Army Corps of Engineers, to hasten the permitting processes required under the National Environmental Policy Act, the Endangered Species Act and Clean Water Act. Read more here. On May 19, President Trump signed an Executive Order to slash red tape in order to revitalize the economy and get Americans back to work. Find more on the Administration's efforts to put people over paperwork here. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic alone, the Administration has taken over 600 regulatory actions, including suspensions, waivers, and enforcement discretions.

HHS Announces New Laboratory Data Reporting Guidance for COVID-19 Testing: On June 4, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services announced new Guidance that specifies what additional data must be reported to HHS by laboratories along with Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) test results. The requirements include demographic data like race, ethnicity, age, and sex. This data will provide information needed to better monitor disease incidence and trends by initiating epidemiologic case investigations, assisting with contact tracing, assessing availability and use of testing resources, and anticipating potential supply chain issues.

HHS Awards $20.3 Million to Expand the Addiction Workforce in Underserved Communities: On June 2, HHS awarded $20.3 million to 44 recipients to increase the number of fellows at accredited addiction medicine and addiction psychiatry fellowship programs. The awardees will train addiction specialists at facilities in high need communities that integrate behavioral and primary care services. These awards demonstrate the Trump Administration's commitment to help Americans suffering from opioid use disorder and other substance use disorders. Awardees will invest in clinical training of addiction medicine and addiction psychiatry subspecialists to combat the opioid crisis.

HHS Provides an Additional $250 Million to Help U.S. Health Care Systems Response to COVID-19: On June 2, HHS announced the allocation of an additional $250 million to aid U.S. health care systems treating patients and responding to the COVID-19 pandemic. As authorized by the CARES act, HHS has now provided a total of $350 million to health care systems for pandemic response, including $100 million released in April 2020.

Federal Reserve Updates Terms and Eligibility for Municipal Liquidity Facility: On April 9, the Department of Treasury and Federal Reserve launched a Main Street Business Lending program and a Municipal Liquidity Facility (MLF) to support the flow of credit to American workers, businesses, States, counties, and cities across the Nation impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. The MLF will provide up to $500 billion in direct financing to States and eligible units of local government (counties with > 500,000 population and cities with > 250,000 population) to help ensure they have the funds necessary to provide essential services to citizens and respond to the COVID-19 pandemic. To expand the availability of the MLF in those States without units of local governments meeting the population thresholds, governors in 20 states now have the ability to designate at least one additional city or county to participate in the program under updated guidelines, which can be found here. according to guidelines issued Wednesday. More information on the MLF can be found here.

DOJ Awards Nearly $400 Million for Law Enforcement Hiring to Advance Community Policing: On June 2, the U.S. Department of Justice announced nearly $400 million in grant funding through the Department's Office of Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS Office) COPS Hiring Program (CHP). The Attorney General announced funding awards to 596 law enforcement agencies across the nation, which allows those agencies to hire 2,732 additional full-time law enforcement professionals. The awards announced are inclusive of the $51 million announced in May as part of Operation Relentless Pursuit.

USDA Issues First Coronavirus Food Assistance Program Payments: On June 4, USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue announced the USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) has already approved more than $545 million in payments to producers who have applied for the Coronavirus Food Assistance program. FSA began taking applications on May 26, and the agency has received over 86,000 applications for this important relief program. The top five states for CFAP payments are Illinois, Kansas, Wisconsin, Nebraska, and South Dakota. Learn more about the CFAP program, which provides $16 billion in direct payments to deliver relief to farmers and ranchers across the country here.

Small Business Administration and Treasury Department Announce $10 Billion for CDFIs to Participate in the

White House COVID-19 National Briefing Call Readout

I. Keeping America's Communities Safe

Department of Homeland Security (DHS)

- DHS Supporting States and Local Governments to Keep Communities Safe: As a department with numerous law enforcement and intelligence capabilities, DHS is taking action to prevent, respond to, and mitigate civil unrest in the United States at the National, State, and local levels. DHS is providing local and State law enforcement with intelligence, information and surveillance assets to track these groups instigating the violence. DHS has also deployed CBP and ICE law enforcement officers to assist partners on the ground. DHS continues to work alongside together federal agencies and the President to restore peace to our streets and neighbors. Contact DHS Intergovernmental Affairs for resources at dhs.iga@hq.dhs.gov and learn more about the Homeland Security Grant Program here.
- DHS Cyber Security and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) Providing Support to State and local Governments: DHS CISA continues to provide support to State and local governments across the country who are responding to the COVID-19 pandemic and current events. On May 29, CISA released the first of six "Cyber Essentials" toolkits to assist State and local officials and private sector stakeholders in establishing a "culture of cyber readiness" that will lead to security investments, risk awareness, and collaboration with trusted third parties. The first of these toolkits is focused on how small businesses can set the right tone for their organization and work with their staff to develop the right policies. Future documents will address asset protection, access control, the importance of backups and incident response and recovery. Also, on May 15, CISA published guidance for 911 centers regarding pandemics. The guidelines aim to assist public safety partners across all levels of government when developing plans and actions regarding governance, procedures, staffing, and cleaning and disinfecting in response to a pandemic.

Department of Justice (DOJ)

- DOJ Providing Support to State and Local Governments to Keep Communities Safe: As stated by Attorney General Bill Barr, "The greatness of our nation comes from our commitment to the rule of law. The outrage of our national community about what happened to George Floyd in Minneapolis is real and legitimate. Accountability for his death must be addressed, and is being addressed, through the regular process of our criminal justice system, both at the state and at the federal level." To support State and local governments in maintaining order, all DOJ components have contributed manpower and members of federal workforce have been deputized to allow them to provide peacekeeping functions.
- DOJ Activates Joint Terrorism Task Forces: DOJ has also responded by activating the existing network of 56 regional FBI Joint Terrorism Task Forces to identify criminal organizers and instigators and to coordinate federal resources with our state and local partners. The JTTFs are well-suited to this task because they combine intelligence and operational resources and federal and local law enforcement. All JTTF command centers are currently operating on a 24/7 basis. Collaboration with operations and intelligence sharing is critical to disrupting the radicalization of violence we continue to see across the country aimed at civilians, peaceful protesters and the law enforcement community. DOJ and the Administration want mayors to have the conviction to request and utilize all available resources at the State, local and federal level to combat violence and best protect the members of our communities across the country.

Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI)

- FBI Providing Support to State, Local, and Federal Law Enforcement Partners: The FBI is supporting State, local, and Federal law enforcement partners with maintaining public safety in the communities they serve. Efforts are focused on identifying, investigating, and disrupting individuals that are inciting violence and engaging in criminal activity. The FBI has stood up 24-hour command posts in each of 56 field offices, as well as a national command post at FBI Headquarters. FBI is supporting with personnel resources upon the request of law enforcement partners. FBI has set up locally based intelligence teams to gather information about criminal activity and violent actors. FBI is soliciting tips, leads, and video regarding criminal activities via the National Threat Operations Center \(NTOC\). FBI is sharing threat information with partners so to anticipate where law enforcement attention will be needed to ensure the safety of our communities.

Department of Defense (DOD)

- DOD Providing Support to State and Local Governments: Through the National Guard Bureau, the Department of Defense is helping State and local governments respond to COVID-19 and keep communities safe. The National Guard is part of the communities and is prepared to assist law enforcement in keeping communities safe. To date, 31 state Governors have called up about 30K National Guardsmen in support of the response to protests. This is in addition to the 40K National Guardsmen and women who are providing support in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. The number surpasses the more than 51,000 Guard members activated after Hurricane Katrina struck the Gulf Coast in 2005, which was the Guard's largest previous domestic response in recent years. Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS)

Protecting Nursing Home Residents and Workers: This week, CMS sent a letter from Administrator Verma & CDC Director Robert Redfield to every Governor from regarding the National Healthcare Safety Network for America's Medicaid and Medicare-certified nursing homes. As we look ahead to re-open America, CMS and CDC are taking action and urging States to keep nursing home residents safe by focusing testing on nursing homes and other vulnerable populations. States were provided detailed information regarding State-specific data reported from nursing homes. You can find additional information, including guidance around infection control and best practices to protect nursing home residents, here. To protect some of our nation's most vulnerable citizens, the Trump Administration is taking the following actions:

- CMS is increasing penalties for noncompliance with longstanding infection control requirements.
- CMS is ensuring States conduct necessary surveys of nursing homes by tying survey funding to State Survey Agency performance.
- CMS is continuing the deployment of its network of Quality Improvement Organizations to provide an array of assistance and work with governors to target assistance to facilities that have experience outbreaks.
- CDC is assessing and providing guidance and technical assistance to improve infection control practices to nursing homes and State health departments.

CMS Issues Nursing Homes Best Practices Toolkit to Combat COVID-19: On May 13, under the direction of President Trump, CMS released a new toolkit developed to aid nursing homes, Governors, states, departments of health, and other agencies who provide oversight and assistance to these facilities, with additional resources to aid in the fight against the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic within nursing homes. The toolkit builds upon previous actions taken by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), which provide a wide range of tools and guidance to states, healthcare providers and others during the public health emergency. State, Local, and Tribal Leaders –

Thank you to everyone who joined the White House COVID-19 National Briefing Call with State, local, and Tribal Leaders on Wednesday, June 3. We were joined by Chad Wolf (Acting Secretary, U.S. Department of Homeland Security), Jeffrey Rosen (United States Deputy Attorney General), Major General Michael Taheri (Assistant to the Chief of the National Guard Bureau), Dr. Robert Redfield (Director, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention), Seema Verma (Administrator, Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services), and VADM Jerome Adams (U.S. Surgeon General). In addition to continuing to support State, local, and Tribal COVID-19 response and recovery efforts, the Administration is committed to keeping our communities safe while we collectively seek justice and reform for George Floyd and his family. As stated by President Trump in the Rose Garden on Monday, June 1, “America is founded upon the rule of law. It is the foundation of our prosperity, our freedom, and our very way of life. But where there is no law, there is no opportunity. Where there is no justice, there is no liberty. Where there is no safety, there is no future.” Or as stated by the President on May 30th, “I stand before you as a friend and ally to every American seeking justice and peace. And I stand before you in firm opposition to anyone exploiting this tragedy to loot, rob, attack, and menace. Healing, not hatred; justice, not chaos are the mission at hand.”

We look forward to continuing our engagement with you and your colleagues on issues important to your States, districts, and communities. This includes on shared, bipartisan priorities like community revitalization, criminal justice reform, and improving health outcomes for disadvantaged and all Americans. In that regard, President Trump has directed the White House Opportunity and Revitalization Council, chaired by HUD Secretary Ben Carson, to develop and implement a bipartisan, comprehensive strategy for helping distressed communities across the country. Find more in an interview with Brooke Rollins (Acting Director of the White House Domestic Policy Council) here: White House Domestic Policy Chief Says White House Working Through Proposals to Unify Country. Below, please find a recap of this week’s briefing call as well as several recent important announcements.

Recent Announcements

Trouncing Expectations by 10 Million Jobs, the Labor Market’s Comeback Has Begun: The Bureau of Labor Statistics’ May Employment Situation report shows that the United States economy added 2.5 million jobs last month, and the unemployment rate fell from 14.7 percent to 13.3 percent. Employment increased significantly in leisure and hospitality (1.2 million), construction (464,000), education and health services (424,000), retail trade (368,000), and manufacturing (225,000). These job gains surprised forecasters, given many States were only beginning to reopen their economies during the reports’ survey reference periods (the week/pay period that includes May 12). The median of all private sector forecasts predicted 7.5 million job losses in May and an unemployment rate of 19.2 percent. More here.

President Trump Signs Paycheck Protection Program Flexibility Act of 2020: On June 5 in White House Rose Garden, President Trump signed the Paycheck Protection Program Flexibility Act of 2020. Among other provisions, the Act modifies the Paycheck Protection Program allowing businesses qualify for loan forgiveness up to $10 million if they meet certain criteria. The Act also extends the period in which business can spend funds in order to have them forgiven.

Vice President Mike Pence Meets with Community Leaders to Discuss Protests, Racial Injustice: On June 5, Vice President Mike Pence met with community leaders at the Hope Christian Church in Prince George's County, MD to discuss the protests going on around the nation to address racial injustice. You can view the listening session here and find remarks here.

First Lady Melania Trump Participates in Zoom Meeting with Experts on Social Emotional Learning: On June 4, First Lady Melania Trump and U.S. Education Secretary Betsy DeVos participated in a Zoom meeting for a briefing by Karen Baicker, executive director of the Yale Child Study Center-Scholastic Collaborative for Child and Family Resilience and Denise Daniels, author of "The Moodsters" and "First Aid for Feelings," on Social Emotional Learning Techniques (SEL) and the mental health implications of COVID-19 as it relates to children and families. Among other topics, the First Lady, Secretary DeVos and participants spoke about the major mental health challenges that impact our young people and what can be done to address this and how parents can best collaborate with mental health professionals and school officials during these uncertain times.

President Trump Signs Executive Order on Accelerating the Nation's Economic Recovery from the COVID-19 Emergency by Expediting Infrastructure Investments and Other Activities: On June 4, President Trump signed an Executive Order that would expedite permitting for infrastructure projects, building on earlier orders to ease regulations for industry. The order directs federal agencies, including Interior, Agriculture and Defense departments and the Army Corps of Engineers, to hasten the permitting processes required under the National Environmental Policy Act, the Endangered Species Act and Clean Water Act. Read more here. On May 19, President Trump signed an Executive Order to slash red tape in order to revitalize the economy and get Americans back to work. Find more on the Administration's efforts to put people over paperwork here. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic alone, the Administration has taken over 600 regulatory actions, including suspensions, waivers, and enforcement discretions.

HHS Announces New Laboratory Data Reporting Guidance for COVID-19 Testing: On June 4, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services announced new Guidance that specifies what additional data must be reported to HHS by laboratories along with Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) test results. The requirements include demographic data like race, ethnicity, age, and sex. This data will provide information needed to better monitor disease incidence and trends by initiating epidemiologic case investigations, assisting with contact tracing, assessing availability and use of testing resources, and anticipating potential supply chain issues.

HHS Awards $20.3 Million to Expand the Addiction Workforce in Underserved Communities: On June 2, HHS awarded $20.3 million to 44 recipients to increase the number of fellows at accredited addiction medicine and addiction psychiatry fellowship programs. The awardees will train addiction specialists at facilities in high need communities that integrate behavioral and primary care services. These awards demonstrate the Trump Administration's commitment to help Americans suffering from opioid use disorder and other substance use disorders. Awardees will invest in clinical training of addiction medicine and addiction psychiatry subspecialists to combat the opioid crisis.

HHS Provides an Additional $250 Million to Help U.S. Health Care Systems Response to COVID-19: On June 2, HHS announced the allocation of an additional $250 million to aid U.S. health care systems treating patients and responding to the COVID-19 pandemic. As authorized by the CARES act, HHS has now provided a total of $350 million to health care systems for pandemic response, including $100 million released in April 2020.

Federal Reserve Updates Terms and Eligibility for Municipal Liquidity Facility: On April 9, the Department of Treasury and Federal Reserve launched a Main Street Business Lending program and a Municipal Liquidity Facility (MLF) to support the flow of credit to American workers, businesses, States, counties, and cities across the Nation impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. The MLF will provide up to $500 billion in direct financing to States and eligible units of local government (counties with > 500,000 population and cities with > 250,000 population) to help ensure they have the funds necessary to provide essential services to citizens and respond to the COVID-19 pandemic. To expand the availability of the MLF in those States without units of local governments meeting the population thresholds, governors in 20 states now have the ability to designate at least one additional city or county to participate in the program under updated guidelines, which can be found here. according to guidelines issued Wednesday. More information on the MLF can be found here.

DOJ Awards Nearly $400 Million for Law Enforcement Hiring to Advance Community Policing: On June 2, the U.S. Department of Justice announced nearly $400 million in grant funding through the Department's Office of Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS Office) COPS Hiring Program (CHP). The Attorney General announced funding awards to 596 law enforcement agencies across the nation, which allows those agencies to hire 2,732 additional full-time law enforcement professionals. The awards announced are inclusive of the $51 million announced in May as part of Operation Relentless Pursuit.

USDA Issues First Coronavirus Food Assistance Program Payments: On June 4, USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue announced the USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) has already approved more than $545 million in payments to producers who have applied for the Coronavirus Food Assistance program. FSA began taking applications on May 26, and the agency has received over 86,000 applications for this important relief program. The top five states for CFAP payments are Illinois, Kansas, Wisconsin, Nebraska, and South Dakota. Learn more about the CFAP program, which provides $16 billion in direct payments to deliver relief to farmers and ranchers across the country here.

Small Business Administration and Treasury Department Announce $10 Billion for CDFIs to Participate in the Paycheck Protection Program: On May 28, SBA announced that it is setting aside $10 billion of Round 2 funding for the

Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) to be lent exclusively by Community Development Financial Institutions (CDFIs). CDFIs work to expand economic opportunity in low-income communities by providing access to financial products and services for local residents and businesses. These dedicated funds will further ensure that the PPP reaches all communities in need of relief during the COVID-19 pandemic - a key priority for President Trump. As of May 23, 2020, CDFIs have approved more than $7 billion ($3.2 billion in Round 2) in PPP loans. The additional $6.8 billion will ensure that entrepreneurs and small business owners in all communities have easy access to the financial system, and that they receive much-needed capital to maintain their workforces.

FEMA Releases COVID-19 Pandemic Operation Guidance for the 2020 Hurricane Season : In preparing for the 2020 hurricane season, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released guidance to State, local, Tribal, and Territorial officials to help them prepare for response and recovery operations. While the document focuses on hurricane season preparedness, most planning considerations can also be applied to any disaster operation in the COVID-19 environment, including no-notice incidents, spring flooding and wildfire seasons, and typhoon response.

I. Keeping America's Communities Safe

Department of Homeland Security (DHS)

- DHS Supporting States and Local Governments to Keep Communities Safe: As a department with numerous law enforcement and intelligence capabilities, DHS is taking action to prevent, respond to, and mitigate civil unrest in the United States at the National, State, and local levels. DHS is providing local and State law enforcement with intelligence, information and surveillance assets to track these groups instigating the violence. DHS has also deployed CBP and ICE law enforcement officers to assist partners on the ground. DHS continues to work alongside other federal agencies and the President to restore peace to our streets and neighbors. Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

State Leaders & Staff,

Thank you for joining us for our briefing call to discuss President Trump's unprecedented actions to provide resources to those whose jobs have been impacted by the coronavirus pandemic.

President Trump, recognizing the acute financial distress affecting families across the country, has worked to quickly provide $44 billion in relief to supplement unemployment benefits. The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) is assisting in providing benefits from the Disaster Relief Fund (DRF) in partnership with the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL), to empower States to deliver continued financial relief to Americans who are suffering from unemployment due to COVID-19.

President Trump has authorized FEMA to use Stafford Act disaster relief funds to provide supplemental payments for lost wages due to the COVID-19 pandemic. FEMA will administer the lost wages assistance program that authorizes States to provide a $400 weekly payment. The Federal contribution from the DRF will be $300 per person per week. State's 25% cost share, required under DRF, can be met by their aggregate state unemployment insurance benefit. If a state chooses, they can provide an additional $100 per person per week using Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) or other State funds they can bring the total amount up to $400 for eligible recipients. States must apply through Grants.gov by September 10, 2020.

To learn more about how your State can utilize the Federal support that the President has dedicated to State unemployment assistance programs, please see the resources and information below.

SUPPORTING AMERICAN FAMILIES IMPACTED BY THE CORONAVIRUS

President Trump is taking action to ensure Americans who have lost their job and want nothing more than to return to work have the unemployment benefits they need during this crisis.

- Many American workers have been forced out of their job due to the coronavirus, and want nothing more than to return to work.
 - President Trump is committed to helping Americans get back to work safely as soon as possible, understanding the vital importance of the dignity of work.
- Democrats have purposefully failed to come to the table to pass additional relief in hopes that ruining people's lives will win them electoral points. This is insane and dangerous.
 - The original CARES Act had $150 billion in additional unemployment benefits, at $600/week, which expired at the end of July.

- The President is dedicating additional Federal dollars to continue to provide benefits for Americans who want to get back to work but have been affected by the pandemic.

- The funds will be available for those who qualify by, among other things, receiving $100/week of existing assistance and certify that they have lost their jobs due to COVID-19.
- The benefit will provide $400 a week to Americans out of work – though a State can always provide additional.
- The funds will be available through December, or until the Federal funding in the Disaster Relief Fund reduces to $25 billion, which will ensure that Federal Government has sufficient funds to pay for unexpected expenditures during hurricane season, or other immediate needs.
- States are called to use their existing funds, such as those allocated through the Coronavirus Relief Fund, to pay for their 25 percent share.
 - States, as of the end of June, had more the $80 billion remaining in Coronavirus Relief Fund dollars.
- The President is acting where the Democrats are putting people's futures at risk. Our Nation needs leadership during a pandemic, not games.

Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

State Leaders & Staff,

Thank you for joining us for our briefing call to discuss President Trump's unprecedented actions to provide resources to those whose jobs have been impacted by the coronavirus pandemic.

President Trump, recognizing the acute financial distress affecting families across the country, has worked to quickly provide $44 billion in relief to supplement unemployment benefits. The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) is assisting in providing benefits from the Disaster Relief Fund (DRF) in partnership with the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL), to empower States to deliver continued financial relief to Americans who are suffering from unemployment due to COVID-19.

President Trump has authorized FEMA to use Stafford Act disaster relief funds to provide supplemental payments for lost wages due to the COVID-19 pandemic. FEMA will administer the lost wages assistance program that authorizes States to provide a $400 weekly payment. The Federal contribution from the DRF will be $300 per person per week. State's 25% cost share, required under DRF, can be met by their aggregate state unemployment insurance benefit. If a state chooses, they can provide an additional $100 per person per week using Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) or other State funds they can bring the total amount up to $400 for eligible recipients. States must apply through Grants.gov by September 10, 2020.

To learn more about how your State can utilize the Federal support that the President has dedicated to State unemployment assistance programs, please see the resources and information below.

America's Mayors,

Thank you for joining yesterday's White House Briefing Call with America's Mayors as the Administration works to ensure that justice is served for George Floyd and his family. While we seek justice and reform, we also have a duty to keep our communities safe in partnership with you and State and local officials from across the country. As stated by President Trump in the Rose Garden on Monday, June 1, "America is founded upon the rule of law. It is the foundation of our prosperity, our freedom, and our very way of life. But where there is no law, there is no opportunity. Where there is no justice, there is no liberty. Where there is no safety, there is no future." Or as stated by the President on May 30th, "I stand before you as a friend and ally to every American seeking justice and peace. And I stand before you in firm opposition to anyone exploiting this tragedy to loot, rob, attack, and menace. Healing, not hatred; justice, not chaos are the mission at hand."

We appreciate your partnership and that of your State, local, and tribal colleagues from around the country. We recognize the enormous burdens and challenges you face in your communities to respond to and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic but also ensuring that Americans can have their voices heard in a peaceful and lawful manner. And while we might have our disagreements from time to time, none of us should allow that fact to get in the way of serving our fellow citizens. We continue to remain committed to continue to engage in bipartisan, productive dialogue with you and State and local elected officials around the country. This includes on issues pertinent to your communities and on shared priorities, like community revitalization, criminal justices reform, and improving health outcomes. As mentioned on the call, President Trump has directed the White House Opportunity and Revitalization Council, chaired by HUD Secretary Ben Carson, to develop and implement a bipartisan, comprehensive strategy for helping distressed communities across the country. Find more in an interview with Brooke Rollins (Acting Director of the White House Domestic Policy Council) here: White House Domestic Policy Chief Says White House Working Through Proposals to Unify Country.

As always, please do not hesitate to reach out if we can be of assistance. We look forward to continuing to work and collaborate with you in moving our country forward.

White House Briefing Call with America's Mayors June 2, 2020

Department of Justice (DOJ)

As Attorney General Barr has stated, the voices of peaceful and legitimate protests have been hijacked by outside violent radical elements that are exploiting the situation to pursue their own separate, violent, and extremist agenda. To respond, DOJ has surged federal law enforcement resources to specific locations to assist with quelling unrest and maintaining order. All DOJ components have contributed manpower and members of federal workforce have been deputized to allow them to provide peacekeeping functions in support of state/local authorities.

DOJ has also responded by activating the existing network of 56 regional FBI Joint Terrorism Task Forces to identify criminal organizers and instigators and to coordinate federal resources with our state and local partners. The JTTFs are well-suited to this task because they combine intelligence and operational resources and federal and local law enforcement. All JTTF command centers are currently operating on a 24/7 basis. Collaboration with operations and intelligence sharing is critical to disrupting the radicalization of violence we continue to see across the country aimed at civilians, peaceful protesters and the law enforcement community. DOJ and the Administration want mayors to have the conviction to request and utilize all available resources at the State, local and federal level to combat violence and best protect the members of our communities across the country.

Over the coming days, the nation's U.S. Attorneys will be reaching out to Mayors across the country to offer support to their public safety efforts.

Learn more about DOJ's work with:

- The President's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice to ensure trust and accountability of law enforcement in all communities
- Office of Justice Programs
- Office of Community Oriented Policing Services \(COPS\)
- Grants for State and local law enforcement

Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI)

The FBI is supporting State, local, and Federal law enforcement partners with maintaining public safety in the communities they serve. Efforts are focused on identifying, investigating, and disrupting individuals that are inciting violence and engaging in criminal activity. The FBI has stood up 24-hour command posts in each of 56 field offices, as well as a national command post at FBI Headquarters. FBI is supporting with personnel resources upon the request of law enforcement partners. FBI has set up locally based intelligence teams to gather information about criminal activity and violent actors. FBI is soliciting tips, leads, and video regarding criminal activities via the National Threat Operations Center \(NTOC\). FBI is sharing threat information with partners so to anticipate where law enforcement attention will be needed to ensure the safety of our communities.

Department of Homeland Security (DHS)

As a department with numerous law enforcement and intelligence capabilities, DHS is taking action to prevent, respond to, and mitigate the ongoing civil unrest in the United States at the national, State, and local levels. DHS is providing local and State law enforcement with intelligence, information and surveillance assets to track these the groups instigating the violence. DHS has also deployed CBP and ICE law enforcement officers to assist partners on the ground. DHS continues to work alongside together federal agencies and the President to restore peace to our streets and neighbors. Contact DHS Intergovernmental Affairs for resources at dhs.iga@hq.dhs.gov and learn more about the Homeland Security Grant Program here.

DHS's Cyber Security and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) also continues to provide support to State and local governments across the country who are responding to the COVID-19 pandemic and current events. On May 29, CISA released the first of six "Cyber Essentials" toolkits to assist State and local officials and private sector stakeholders in establishing a "culture of cyber readiness" that will lead to security investments, risk awareness, and collaboration with trusted third parties. The first of these toolkits is focused on how small businesses can set the right tone for their organization and work with their staff to develop the right policies. Future documents will address asset protection, access control, the importance of backups and incident response and recovery. Also, on May 15, CISA published guidance for 911 centers regarding pandemics. The guidelines aim to assist public safety partners across all levels of government when developing plans and actions regarding governance, procedures, staffing, and cleaning and disinfecting in response to a pandemic.

Department of Defense (DOD)

As we collectively navigate COVID-19 and other events as a country, the Department of Defense has stood with us every step of the way. The National Guard is part of the communities and is prepared to assist law enforcement in keeping communities safe. To date, 31 state Governors have called up about 30K National Guardsmen in support of the response to protests. This is in addition to the 40K National Guardsmen and women who are providing support in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. The number surpasses the more than 51,000 Guard members activated after Hurricane Katrina struck the Gulf Coast in 2005, which was the Guard's largest previous domestic response in recent years. Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA)

The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Administration's (SAMHSA) Disaster Distress Helpline – 1-800-985-5990 (or text TalkWithUs to 66746) – provides 24/7, 365-day-a-year crisis counseling and support to anyone who is seeking help in coping with the mental or emotional effects caused by developments related to the coronavirus pandemic. America's Mayors,

Yesterday in the Rose Garden, President Trump reiterated his Administration's commitment to ensuring that justice is served for George Floyd and his family. President Trump also promised to not let the "righteous cries of peaceful protestors to be drowned out by an angry mob." The remarks follow those on May 30th in Florida where the President emphatically stated, "We will stand with the family of George Floyd with the peaceful protesters and with every law-abiding citizen who wants decency, civility, safety, and security."

As a reminder, TODAY, Tuesday, June 2, at 1:30 PM Eastern Time, please join the White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs (IGA) for a discussion on Federally-supported efforts for keeping American communities safe in partnership with State and local leaders. The call will include remarks from Senior Administration Officials (see below) and conversation with call participants. Please note that this is a principal level call and the invitation is non-transferable. While we can accommodate senior staff, remarks from participating mayors will be prioritized. Please also note that this call is in addition to our national briefing call on Wednesday, June 3.

Katrina,

This is the recurring issue we have had babysitting EEOC Administrative Judges who have no intention of either telling the truth, obeying the law, or following EEOC policy and procedure because if they did so they would find themselves permanently detained in a maximum security prison. The Judges are unqualified, irresponsible, bad children, and criminals. I literally provide them with confessions from superior judges that have admitted to committing treason on permanent public record and they just babble on with juvenile gibberish and keep doing wrong like they were before seemingly oblivious to the fact that they have been corrected by a far more qualified and responsible adult for their atrocious and totally unacceptable behavior. It is getting extremely old constantly babysitting these rude, disrespectful, disobedient children. That has been going on for more than a decade and more than half a million American's have died at a cost exceeding $4 trillion to taxpayers all because they can't respect another human being or obey the law. It's outrageous! Their law professors should be tarred and feathered and the trustees from these so-called academic institutions which produced these imbeciles should be reassigned as village idiots or placed in stocks on their respective campuses for students, parents, and the community to throw rotten fruit at them.

AMERICAN

Regards,

Dr. Robert G. Modrall

This motion has yet to be acknowledged or granted by the EEOC Administrative Judge. This has been a recurring issue with unqualified, irresponsible, disrespectful, biased, discriminating EEOC Administrative Judge's. People are dying because these children who should never have been allowed to obtain a Bar License were somehow admitted as Federal Judges. I believe that would be the Senate's failure to do its due diligence which is not surprising because if Marsha Blackburn and her colleagues on the Judiciary Committee had read or if the material was not above their grade level and reading comprehension they would have known that Justice Brett Kavanaugh was trafficking heroin the entire time he has sat the bench and committing atrocity crimes and egregious civil/human rights abuses on Federal whistleblowers. Also, that I had irrefutable PROOF of this in the US Supreme Court Journal long before President Trump was elected. This totally unacceptable juvenile behavior must be addressed. It has gone on for decades. You corrupt imbeciles in the beltway are making life a miserable, impossible, never ending, living hell for the rest of us.

Katrina,

This is the recurring issue we have had babysitting EEOC Administrative Judges who have no intention of either telling the truth, obeying the law, or following EEOC policy and procedure because if they did so they would find themselves permanently detained in a maximum security prison. The Judges are unqualified, irresponsible, bad children, and criminals. I literally provide them with confessions from superior judges that have admitted to committing treason on permanent public record and they just babble on with juvenile gibberish and keep doing wrong like they were before seemingly oblivious to the fact that they have been corrected by a far more qualified and responsible adult for their atrocious and totally unacceptable behavior. It is getting extremely old constantly babysitting these rude, disrespectful, disobedient children. That has been going on for more than a decade and more than half a million American's have died at a cost exceeding $4 trillion to taxpayers all because they can't respect another human being or obey the law. It's outrageous! Their law professors should be tarred and feathered and the trustees from these so-called academic institutions which produced these imbeciles should be reassigned as village idiots or placed in stocks on their respective campuses for students, parents, and the community to throw rotten fruit at them.

Dr. Robert G. Modrall

This motion has yet to be acknowledged or granted by the EEOC Administrative Judge. This has been a recurring issue with unqualified, irresponsible, disrespectful, biased, discriminating EEOC Administrative Judge's. People are dying because these children who should never have been allowed to obtain a Bar License were somehow admitted as Federal Judges. I believe that would be the Senate's failure to do its due diligence which is not surprising because if Marsha Blackburn and her colleagues on the Judiciary Committee had read or if the material was not above their grade level and reading comprehension they would have known that Justice Brett Kavanaugh was trafficking heroin the entire time he has sat the bench and committing atrocity crimes and egregious civil/human rights abuses on Federal whistleblowers. Also, that I had irrefutable PROOF of this in the US Supreme Court Journal long before President Trump was elected. This totally unacceptable juvenile behavior must be addressed. It has gone on for decades. You corrupt imbeciles in the beltway are making life a miserable, impossible, never ending, living hell for the rest of us.

Katrina,

This email proves beyond any shadow of doubt that ALL of the Agency Inspector General's and EEOC Director's need to be fired and criminally prosecuted. We are dealing with unqualified bad little children. Many of the EEOC Administrative Judge's also who are all incapable of telling the truth or obeying the law because if they were to do so they would be permanently detained in a maximum security Federal penitentiary.

Regards,

Dr. Robert G. Modrall

FBI EEOC:

AMERICAN

MO-KANSASCITY-MAYOR-20-2195-A-000130

There was yet another incident of threats and hostile retaliation by 2 US Marshall's and an FBI Agent today despite multiple US Marshall's Internal Affairs complaints in the ROI to USA-2018-00254. This has been going on for more than a decade since I disciplined former Director Mueller for his totally unacceptable behavior and illicit criminal misconduct in 2009. I contacted the USAEO Victim Ombudsman of course it will not do any good because I have already petitioned the US Supreme Court regarding Marie O'Rourke's negligence, malfeasance, and illicit criminal misconduct several years ago which is also detailed in the ROI.

US Marshalls Internal Affairs:

This is the 3rd time that you all have been contacted which is on record in multiple reports of investigation against the US DOJ regarding hostile whistleblower retaliation. I the complainant am more qualified than the Director of the US Marshalls and have already won in court against former US Attorney General Jeff Session's and the Executive Office of the US Attorney's with irrefutable PROOF that will criminally prosecute the entire Judicial Conference of the United States including its Chairman Chief Justice John G. Robert's. Abraham Lincoln stated that "We the people are the rightful master's of both Congress and the Court's." Article III of the United States Constitution states that the Judge serve during times of good behavior and their behavior most certainly has NOT been good when I have recusals from several of them who confessed on permanent public record to committing a lengthy list of felonies including treason. Please do not make me repeat myself again. This office, the DOJ, and Congress have all been TOLD and they are expected to obey exactly as they have been instructed. Yes, I realize that means a number of former and current US Senator's as well as Federal Judges will be going to prison for a very long time. They should have obeyed the law in the first place and this would not be necessary. My 5 year old niece was playing in the yard while I was patching the driveway when these ignorant juvenile delinquent domestic terrorists stormed in making threats with loaded weapons. There were 3 vehicles. Two US Marshal's and an FBI Agent got out of their vehicles. I have irrefutable PROOF from 2009, since Bob Mueller was FBI Director, that the Bureau is a thief, a murderer, and has been trafficking cocaine, heroin, methamphetamines, refusing Witness Protection, threatening whistleblowers, physically torturing whistleblowers, etc. It is getting extremely old babysitting these trashy loser junkies and sexual predators.

Katrina,

This email proves beyond any shadow of doubt that ALL of the Agency Inspector General's and EEOC Director's need to be fired and criminally prosecuted. We are dealing with unqualified bad little children. Many of the EEOC Administrative Judge's also who are all incapable of telling the truth or obeying the law because if they were to do so they would be permanently detained in a maximum security Federal penitentiary.

Regards,

Dr. Robert G. Modrall

US Marshall's Internal Affairs complaints in the ROI to USA-2018-00254. This has been going on for more than a decade since I disciplined former Director Mueller for his totally unacceptable behavior and illicit criminal misconduct in 2009. I contacted the USAEO Victim Ombudsman of course it will not do any good because I have already petitioned the US Supreme Court regarding Marie O'Rourke's negligence, malfeasance, and illicit criminal misconduct several years ago which is also detailed in the ROI.

US Marshalls Internal Affairs:

This is the 3rd time that you all have been contacted which is on record in multiple reports of investigation against the US DOJ regarding hostile whistleblower retaliation. I the complainant am more qualified than the Director of the US Marshalls and have already won in court against former US Attorney General Jeff Session's and the Executive Office of the US Attorney's with irrefutable PROOF that will criminally prosecute the entire Judicial Conference of the United States including its Chairman Chief Justice John G. Robert's. Abraham Lincoln stated that "We the people are the rightful master's of both Congress and the Court's." Article III of the United States Constitution states that the Judge serve during times of good behavior and their behavior most certainly has NOT been good when I have recusals from several of them who confessed on permanent public record to committing a lengthy list of felonies including treason. Please do not make me repeat myself again. This office, the DOJ, and Congress have all been TOLD and they are expected to obey exactly as they have been instructed. Yes, I realize that means a number of former and current US Senator's as well as Federal Judges will be going to prison for a very long time. They should have obeyed the law in the first place and this would not be necessary. My 5 year old niece was playing in the yard while I was patching the driveway when these ignorant juvenile delinquent domestic terrorists stormed in making threats with loaded weapons. There were 3 vehicles. Two US Marshal's and an FBI Agent got out of their vehicles. I have irrefutable PROOF from 2009, since Bob Mueller was FBI Director, that the Bureau is a thief, a murderer, and has been trafficking cocaine, heroin, methamphetamines, refusing Witness Protection, threatening whistleblowers, physically torturing whistleblowers, etc. It is getting extremely old babysitting these trashy loser junkies and sexual predators.

State and Local Leaders –

On Saturday, June 13, President Donald J. Trump delivered the commencement address for the Class of 2020 at the United States Military Academy at West Point. In his speech to West Point graduates, the President saluted the service and sacrifice of the cadets, celebrated the storied heritage of West Point, and reaffirmed America's commitment to a strong military that is united in defense of our nation and inspired by our founding principles. The President also thanked all of the men and women of our Armed Forces, including the National Guard, and specifically highlighted the Guard's response to recent challenges from hurricanes and natural disasters to ensuring peace, safety, and the constitutional rule of law on our streets.

You can find the President's full commencement address here and a full video from the event here. Below, find highlighted remarks from the address. And behalf of the White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs, congratulations to the West Point Class of 2020 and a sincere thanks to the men and women of our Armed Forces for your sacrifice for and dedication to the United States of America.

President Donald J. Trump: On behalf of our entire nation, CONGRATULATIONS to the incredible West Point Class of 2020!

The White House: President @realDonaldTrump toured the grounds of @WestPoint USMA prior to the 2020 Graduation Ceremony!

The White House: "Few words in the English language and few places in history have commanded as much awe and admiration as West Point."

The White House: "With the grace of God and the heroes of West Point, America will always prevail. Nothing will stand in your way, nothing will slow you down, and nothing will stop the West Point Class of 2020 from achieving a true and lasting victory." — President @realDonaldTrump

The White House: "We are restoring the fundamental principles that the job of the American soldier is not to rebuild foreign nations, but defend—and defend strongly—our nation from foreign enemies."

The White House: President @realDonaldTrump has overseen a colossal investment in the United States Armed Forces.

The White House: Today's graduates came from all walks of life—and are joined together in a common mission "to protect our country, to defend our people, and to carry on the traditions of freedom, equality, and liberty that so many gave their lives to secure."

U.S. Military Academy at West Point: Congratulations to #USMA2020! Good luck on your future endeavors as leaders of character. #LongGrayLine #WithVisionWeLead #CallToServe

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE 2020 GRADUATES

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “On behalf of our entire nation, let me say congratulations to the incredible West Point class of 2020. Congratulations.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “To the 1,107 cadets who today become the newest officers in the most exceptional army ever to take the field of battle, I am here to offer America’s salute. Thank you for answering your nation’s call.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “You came to West Point because you know the truth: America is the greatest country in human history, and the United States Military is the greatest force for peace and justice the world has ever known.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “Today, each of you becomes another link in that unbroken chain, forged in the crucible known as the United States Military Academy, the greatest on Earth. It has given you soldiers that you can rely on to your right and to your left. And now we are entrusting you with the most noble task any warrior has ever had the privilege to carry out: the task of preserving American liberty.”

WEST POINT’S STORIED HISTORY

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “Few words in the English language and few places in history have commanded as much awe and admiration as West Point. This premier military academy produces only the best of the best, the strongest of the strong, and the bravest of the brave. West Point is a universal symbol of American gallantry, loyalty, devotion, discipline, and great skill.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “Across this hallowed plain have passed many of the greatest and most fearsome soldiers that ever lived.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “West Point is still the indispensable post for America, the vital ground that must not lose. And the survival of our nation still depends on a great chain reaching out from this place -- one made not of iron, but of flesh and blood, of memory and spirit, of sheer faith and unyielding courage.”

UNITY

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “The members of this class have come from every state in our union. You have come from the farms and the cities, from states big and small, and from every race, religion, color, and creed. But when you entered these grounds, you became part of one team, one family, proudly serving one great American nation.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “You became brothers and sisters pledging allegiance to the same timeless principles, joined together in a common mission to protect our country, to defend our people, and to carry on the traditions of freedom, equality, and liberty that so many gave their lives to secure.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “You exemplify the power of shared national purpose to transcend all differences and achieve true

unity. Today, you graduate as one class, and you embody one noble creed: duty, honor, country.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “The Army exists to preserve the republic and the strong foundations upon which it stands: family, God, country, liberty, and justice.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “The survival of America and the endurance of civilization itself depends on the men and women just like each of you. ... What has historically made America unique is the durability of its institutions against the passions and prejudices of the moment. When times are turbulent, when the road is rough, what matters most is that which is permanent, timeless, enduring, and eternal.”

HONORING SERVICE MEMBERS’ SACRIFICES

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “As Commander-in-Chief, I never forget for one instant the immense sacrifices we ask of those who wear this nation’s uniform.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “We thank every citizen who wears a uniform in selfless service to our nation.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “The depth and breadth of the U.S. Military’s contributions to our society are an everlasting inspiration to us all.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “I want to take this opportunity to thank all members of America’s Armed Forces in every branch -- active duty, National Guard, and reserve -- who stepped forward to help battle the invisible enemy -- the new virus that came to our shores from a distant land called China. We will vanquish the virus. We will extinguish this plague.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “I also want to thank the men and women of our National Guard who respond with precision to so many recent challenges, from hurricanes and natural disasters, to ensuring peace, safety, and the constitutional rule of law on our streets.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “No evil force on Earth can match the noble power and righteous glory of the American warrior.”

BUILDING UP OUR MILITARY

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “We are ending the era of endless wars. In its place is a renewed, clear-eyed focus on defending America’s vital interests. It is not the duty of U.S. troops to solve ancient conflicts in faraway lands that many people have never even heard of. We are not the policemen of the world. But let our enemies be on notice: If our people are threatened, we will never, ever hesitate to act.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “After years of devastating budget cuts and a military that was totally depleted from these endless wars, we have invested over 2 trillion -- trillion; that’s with a “T” -- dollars in the most powerful fighting force, by far, on the planet Earth.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “We are building new ships, bombers, jet fighters, and helicopters by the hundreds; new tanks, military satellites, rockets, and missiles; even a hypersonic missile that goes 17 times faster than the fastest missile currently available in the world and can hit a target 1,000 miles away within 14 inches from center point.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “For the first time in 70 years, we established a new branch of the United States military: the Space Force. It’s a big deal.”

PRESIDENT TRUMP: “The savage ISIS caliphate has been 100 percent destroyed under the Trump administration, and its barbaric leader, al-Baghdadi, is gone, killed, over. And the world’s number-one terrorist, Qasem Soleimani, is likewise dead.”

Additional Background

On March 5, 2019, the President signed Executive Order 13861, establishing a three-year effort known as the President's Roadmap to Empower Veterans and End a National Tragedy of Suicide (PREVENTS). PREVENTS created an interagency task force to lead the development and implementation of a national, comprehensive roadmap to change how our nation treats mental health and understands suicide prevention. The PREVENTS objective is to change the culture around mental health and prevent suicide — among not just Veterans but all Americans. More information here. President Trump releases PREVENTS roadmap, a nationwide plan for ending suicide among Veterans and all Americans

WASHINGTON – The U.S Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) announced today the release of the President's Roadmap to Empower Veterans and End a National Tragedy of Suicide (PREVENTS), an historic, nationwide plan to raise awareness about mental health, connect Veterans and others at risk of suicide to federal and local resources, and facilitate focused and coordinated research into suicide.

The roadmap is the result of an Executive Order President Trump signed March 5, 2019, calling on the Departments of Veterans Affairs, Defense, Health and Human Services and several others to develop a comprehensive strategy for ending the national tragedy of suicide.

The order was signed as data continue to show 132 Americans, including 20 service members, former never federally activated guard and reserve members, and Veterans; die on average each day by suicide.

"Veteran suicide is a tragedy this country started measuring in the decades following the Civil War, but one that sadly went unaddressed for generations," said President Trump. "Today, my administration is taking steps to ensure the men and women who bravely fought for us when they were called will be given the care and attention, they need during some of their darkest hours. Our Veterans will lead the way for all Americans as we end the stigma that for too long has kept us from talking openly about mental health and thwarted our efforts to provide the kind of assistance and support that will save lives.”

“Suicide prevention is VA’s highest clinical priority, and the department is taking significant steps to address the issue,” said VA Secretary Robert Wilkie. “But just as there is no single cause of suicide, no single organization can end Veteran suicide alone. That’s why PREVENTS aims to bring together stakeholders across all levels of government and in the private sector to work side by side to provide our Veterans with the mental health and suicide prevention services they need. By employing a public-health approach to suicide prevention, President Trump’s roadmap will equip communities to help Veterans get the right care, whenever and wherever they need it.”

The PREVENTS Task Force is co-chaired by White House Domestic Policy Council Director Brooke Rollins and Secretary Wilkie, and the roadmap released today calls for several steps to be taken to further this critical national goal, many of which are already underway:

National Suicide Prevention Activation Campaign

This summer, the PREVENTS Task Force will launch a nationwide public health campaign aimed at educating Americans that suicide is preventable, creating awareness of mental health and suicide prevention best practices with a call to action for ALL Americans to take the PREVENTS Pledge to Prevent Suicide.

A primary goal of the campaign is to change the culture surrounding issues related to suicide and mental health. The campaign will stress everyone has a role to play in the well-being of family members, friends and coworkers. It will create awareness about risk and protective factors and encourage people to reach out to those who may be struggling.

The campaign will rely on coordinated messaging from all levels of government and non-government partners, as well as national digital, radio and television public service announcements. Efforts will focus on dissemination in states with a high concentration of Veterans. It will also rely on high-profile ambassadors who will help amplify these messages, including Second Lady Karen Pence, and U.S. Surgeon General Jerome Adams.

Improving Suicide Prevention Research

Too often, efforts have focused on a one-size-fits-all approach to suicide prevention that fails to consider an individual’s specific risk factors. As a key element of the roadmap, PREVENTS will launch the National Research Strategy to accelerate the development and implementation of effective solutions to help prevent Veteran suicide.

A critical first step toward this goal is the optimization of the current research ecosystem, which will accelerate the impact of Veteran suicide research by enhancing interagency collaboration, evaluating the role of open science practices, leveraging team science and enhancing data resources and analysis. The PREVENTS Task Force will have an initial assessment of the current research landscape by the end of 2020 and will simultaneously work with Task Force agencies and non-governmental partners to begin moving toward this exciting goal.

The development of the National Research Strategy will result in an increase in focus on the isolation of risk factors and an identification of the most effective treatment practices and interventions for Veterans. This all of government and all of nation approach will lead to a dramatic shift in the ability to prevent suicide for Veterans and all Americans.

Building Partnerships

The PREVENTS Task Force has built relationships with dozens of organizations across the country, including faith-based groups, universities, non-profits, corporations, small businesses as well as state and local governments. The Task Force will continue to expand these relationships in order to share best practices for promoting mental health, ensuring awareness of and access to federal, state, local and tribal resources, and coordinating and implementing the public awareness campaign across sectors. The Task Force will encourage all 50 states, the U.S. Territories and the District of Columbia to sign the PREVENTS proclamation affirming their commitment to preventing suicide among Veterans and all of their citizens.

The PREVENTS Task Force has already connected with more than 150 known community boards, 27 statewide suicide prevention teams and Building Healthy Military Communities, a pilot initiative with seven partnering states. The Task Force has also completed an initial analysis of funding that will be available for suicide prevention efforts. During the next several months, PREVENTS will be implementing a plan to improve coordination among grant programs and develop a strategy to fill gaps through additional funding as well as additional public-private partnerships.

The PREVENTS Task Force is working with communities and stakeholders to develop and further efforts focused on coordinated systems of care. Government and non-government entities alike have a critical role to play in ensuring a comprehensive system of support.

State, Local, and Tribal Leaders –

On Wednesday, June 3, at 3:00 PM Eastern Time, please join the White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs for a national briefing call. We will be joined by Senior Administration Officials (see below) for a discussion on Federally-supported public safety efforts following the tragic death of George Floyd and continue the dialogue on the important partnership in COVID-19 response and recovery. Registration instructions are below.

My Administration is fully committed that for George and his family, justice will be served. He will not have died in vain. But we cannot allow the righteous cries of peaceful protesters to be drowned out by an angry mob. – President Donald J. Trump (June 1, remarks).

“We will stand with the family of George Floyd with the peaceful protesters and with every law-abiding citizen who wants decency, civility, safety, and security. We are working toward a more just society, but that means building up, not tearing down; joining hands, not hurling fists; standing in solidarity, not surrendering to hostility.” – President Donald J. Trump (May 30, remarks)

COVID-19: Important Resources for State, Local, and Tribal Officials

- Guidelines for Opening Up America Again: On Thursday, April 16, President Trump and the White House Coronavirus Task Force unveiled new guidelines (download here) for the reopening of America. Developed by the top medical experts from across the Government and based on verifiable metrics regarding the situation on the ground, the guidelines outline a phased return to reopening and include specific steps for State, Local, and Tribal officials to follow in tailoring their response. The guidelines also set clear benchmarks on new cases, testing, and hospital resources for States to meet to proceed toward a phased reopening. In the days and weeks ahead, the Administration plans to continue robust coordination and outreach with State, Local, and Tribal leaders as we collectively work to reopen the country.
- Up-To-Date Information: The most up-to-date, verified information and guidance can be found via the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Coronavirus Disease 2019 website – www.coronavirus.gov. The Coronavirus Task Force holds frequent briefings, which can be viewed live here.
- COVID-19 Response and Recovery Primer: Response and recovery efforts are locally executed, state managed, and federally supported. Recent Announcements

- June Jobs Report "Smashes Expectations": Thursday, July 2, the Bureau of Labor Statistics released jobs numbers for June that far eclipsed economists' expectations. Our Nation's economy has broken another record as 4.8 million jobs were added in June, bringing the economic comeback to 7.5 million jobs added over the past two months. Employment increased significantly for most major sectors, with the largest gains in leisure and hospitality (2.1 million), retail trade (740,000), education and health services (568,000), and manufacturing (356,000). The overall unemployment rate fell by 2.2 points to 11.1%, beating forecasters' expectations by 1.4%. These data show Americans are returning to the workforce, and our nation's economy continues to recover. Read more here.
- U.S. Department of the Treasury Issues Updated Coronavirus Relief Fund FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On June 24, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. Among other new guidance, the updated Q/A provides that States, Tribes, and localities can use Coronavirus Relief Fund dollars for the 25% FEMA cost share. The updated FAQ's can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.

- FEMA Releases Guidance on Federal Cost Share for Public Assistance Program: On July 2, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released clear guidance on how FEMA will treat the multiple sources of funding as they relate to the public assistance program and its cost share requirements. Generally, funding from other federal agencies cannot be used to meet the FEMA public assistance non-federal cost share requirement. For COVID-19, however, there are two exceptions: Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) dollars – mentioned above – and Department of House and Urban Development's Community Disaster Block Grant (CDBG-CV).
- Centers for Disease Control & Prevention (CDC) Publishes New Guidance for K-12 Schools and Higher Education Institutions: On June 30, CDC published new guidance for K-12 schools and higher education institutions as they begin to reopen. The guidance offers considerations for ways in which schools can help protect students, teachers, administrators, and staff and slow the spread of COVID-19. The full guidance for K-12 School Administrators can be found here. The full guidance for Higher Education Administrators can be found here.
- Department of Education Launches New Student-Centered Grant Competition to Spur Short-Term Education Opportunities: U.S. Secretary of Education Betsy DeVos announced a new higher education discretionary grant program designed to provide students the opportunity to develop new skills, provide innovators and inventors the resources to expand existing businesses or build new ones, and encourage institutions of higher education to foster business development and innovation as America begins to recover from COVID-19-related disruptions to education and our economy. The CARES Act provided $307.5 million for discretionary grants, which the Secretary has chosen to divide between two competitions: $127.5 million for the Reimagine Workforce Preparation Grant and $180 million for the Rethink K-12 Education Models Grant.
- Indian Health Service Announces National Expansion of the Community Health: The Indian Health Service is announcing the national expansion of the Community Health Aide Program. The program provides education and training of tribal community health providers to increase access to quality health care, health promotion and disease prevention services. As an expansion of the Alaska Community Health Aide Program, the national CHAP will be consistent with the Alaska model and will foster innovative service delivery for the IHS by augmenting the existing workforce with mid-level paraprofessionals, utilizing culturally competent providers, and providing workforce development opportunities for locally developed staff.

- June Jobs Report "Smashes Expectations": Thursday, July 2, the Bureau of Labor Statistics released jobs numbers for June that far eclipsed economists' expectations. Our Nation's economy has broken another record as 4.8 million jobs were added in June, bringing the economic comeback to 7.5 million jobs added over the past two months. Employment increased significantly for most major sectors, with the largest gains in leisure and hospitality (2.1 million), retail trade (740,000), education and health services (568,000), and manufacturing (356,000). The overall unemployment rate fell by 2.2 points to 11.1%, beating forecasters' expectations by 1.4%. These data show Americans are returning to the workforce, and our nation's economy continues to recover. Read more here.
- U.S. Department of the Treasury Issues Updated Coronavirus Relief Fund FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On June 24, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. Among other new guidance, the updated Q/A provides that States, Tribes, and localities can use Coronavirus Relief Fund dollars for the 25% FEMA cost share. The updated FAQ's can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.

- FEMA Releases Guidance on Federal Cost Share for Public Assistance Program: On July 2, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released clear guidance on how FEMA will treat the multiple sources of funding as they relate to the public assistance program and its cost share requirements. Generally, funding from other federal agencies cannot be used to meet the FEMA public assistance non-federal cost share requirement. For COVID-19, however, there are two exceptions: Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) dollars – mentioned above – and Department of House and Urban Development's Community Disaster Block Grant (CDBG-CV).
- Centers for Disease Control & Prevention (CDC) Publishes New Guidance for K-12 Schools and Higher Education Institutions: On June 30, CDC published new guidance for K-12 schools and higher education institutions as they begin to reopen. The guidance offers considerations for ways in which schools can help protect students, teachers, administrators, and staff and slow the spread of COVID-19. The full guidance for K-12 School Administrators can be found here. The full guidance for Higher Education Administrators can be found here.
- Department of Education Launches New Student-Centered Grant Competition to Spur Short-Term Education Opportunities: U.S. Secretary of Education Betsy DeVos announced a new higher education discretionary grant program designed to provide students the opportunity to develop new skills, provide innovators and inventors the resources to expand existing businesses or build new ones, and encourage institutions of higher education to foster business development and innovation as America begins to recover from COVID-19-related disruptions to education and our economy. The CARES Act provided $307.5 million for discretionary grants, which the Secretary has chosen to divide between two competitions: $127.5 million for the Reimagine Workforce Preparation Grant and $180 million for the Rethink K-12 Education Models Grant.
- Indian Health Service Announces National Expansion of the Community Health: The Indian Health Service is announcing the national expansion of the Community Health Aide Program. The program provides education and training of tribal community health providers to increase access to quality health care, health promotion and disease prevention services. As an expansion of the Alaska Community Health Aide Program, the national CHAP will be consistent with the Alaska model and will foster innovative service delivery for the IHS by augmenting the existing workforce with mid-level paraprofessionals, utilizing culturally competent providers, and providing workforce development opportunities for locally developed staff.

COVID-19: Important Resources for State, Local, and Tribal Officials

- Guidelines for Opening Up America Again: On April 16, President Trump and the White House Coronavirus Task Force unveiled guidelines (download here) for the reopening of America. Developed by the top medical experts from across the Government and based on verifiable metrics regarding the situation on the ground, the guidelines outline a phased return to reopening and include specific steps for State, Local, and Tribal officials to follow in tailoring their response. The guidelines also set clear benchmarks on new cases, testing, and hospital resources for States to meet to proceed toward a phased reopening. In the days and weeks ahead, the Administration plans to continue robust coordination and outreach with State, Local, and Tribal leaders as we collectively work to reopen the country.
- Opening Up America Again Testing Overview and Testing Blueprint: On April 27, President Trump and the White House Coronavirus Task Force unveiled the Opening Up American Again Testing Overview and Testing Blueprint designed to facilitate State development and implementation of the robust testing plans and rapid response programs described in the President's Opening Up America Again Guidelines. The Testing Blueprint sets forth the partnership between Federal, State, local, and tribal governments, along with the private-sector and professional associations, all of which will play important roles in meeting the Nation's testing needs.
- Up-To-Date Information: The most up-to-date, verified information and guidance can be found via the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Coronavirus Disease 2019 website – www.coronavirus.gov. The Coronavirus Task Force holds frequent briefings, which can be viewed live here.

- President Donald Trump Announces Operation Warp Speed To Develop Coronavirus Vaccine: On May 15 in the White House Rose Garden, President Trump announced the launch of Operation Warp Speed to deliver safe and effective coronavirus treatments and vaccines as quickly as possible. Operation Warp Speed marks a massive science, industrial, and logistical endeavor unlike anything the country has seen since the Manhattan Project. President Trump has directed nearly $10 billion to Operation Warp Speed through funding that was included in the CARES Act.
- HHS Announces Shipments of Donated Remdesivir for Hospitalized Patients with COVID-19: On May 9, HHS announced the allocation plan for the drug remdesivir. The allocation is from a donation by Gilead Sciences, Inc. to the United States which was finalized on May 3, 2020. The donated doses of the treatment, which received an Emergency Use Authorization (EUA) from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, will be used to treat hospitalized COVID-19 patients in areas of the country hardest hit by the pandemic.
- FDA Authorizes First Standalone At-Home Sample Collection Kit: On May 16, FDA authorized an at-home sample collection kit that can then be sent to specified laboratories for COVID-19 diagnostic testing. Specifically, the FDA issued an emergency use authorization \(EUA\) to Everlywell, Inc. for the Everlywell COVID-19 Test Home Collection Kit. Everlywell's kit is authorized to be used by individuals at home who have been screened using an online questionnaire that is reviewed by a health care provider. This allows an individual to self-collect a nasal sample at home using Everlywell's authorized kit.
- President Trump Announces Additional Resources for States, Territories, and Tribes to Meet Testing Goals: On Monday, May 11, President Donald J. Trump announced additional actions to ensure States, Territories, and Tribes have the resources they need to meet their testing goals. These additional resources include $11 billion in combined stimulus funding as well as approximately 12 million swabs to supplement private sector resources. By the end of the week, more than 300 retail testing sites will be operational to serve Americans in 47 States and D.C., prioritizing access to underserved communities. Recent Announcements

- President Donald Trump Announces Operation Warp Speed To Develop Coronavirus Vaccine: On May 15 in the White House Rose Garden, President Trump announced the launch of Operation Warp Speed to deliver safe and effective coronavirus treatments and vaccines as quickly as possible. Operation Warp Speed marks a massive science, industrial, and logistical endeavor unlike anything the country has seen since the Manhattan Project. President Trump has directed nearly $10 billion to Operation Warp Speed through funding that was included in the CARES Act.
- HHS Announces Shipments of Donated Remdesivir for Hospitalized Patients with COVID-19: On May 9, HHS announced the allocation plan for the drug remdesivir. The allocation is from a donation by Gilead Sciences, Inc. to the United States which was finalized on May 3, 2020. The donated doses of the treatment, which received an Emergency Use Authorization (EUA) from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, will be used to treat hospitalized COVID-19 patients in areas of the country hardest hit by the pandemic.
- FDA Authorizes First Standalone At-Home Sample Collection Kit: On May 16, FDA authorized an at-home sample collection kit that can then be sent to specified laboratories for COVID-19 diagnostic testing. Specifically, the FDA issued an emergency use authorization \(EUA\) to Everlywell, Inc. for the Everlywell COVID-19 Test Home Collection Kit. Everlywell's kit is authorized to be used by individuals at home who have been screened using an online questionnaire that is reviewed by a health care provider. This allows an individual to self-collect a nasal sample at home using Everlywell's authorized kit.
- President Trump Announces Additional Resources for States, Territories, and Tribes to Meet Testing Goals: On Monday, May 11, President Donald J. Trump announced additional actions to ensure States, Territories, and Tribes have the resources they need to meet their testing goals. These additional resources include $11 billion in combined stimulus funding as well as approximately 12 million swabs to supplement private sector resources. By the end of the week, more than 300 retail testing sites will be operational to serve Americans in 47 States and D.C., prioritizing access to underserved communities. More here (The United States Has Built the World's Leading Coronavirus Testing System).
- SBA and Treasury Release Paycheck Protection Program Loan Forgiveness Application: On May 15, the U.S. Small Business Administration and U.S. Department of the Treasury released the PPP loan forgiveness application. The form and instructions inform borrowers how to apply for forgiveness of their PPP loans, consistent with the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act). SBA will also soon issue regulations and guidance to further assist

- President Trump Signs Executive Order on Regulatory Relief to Support Economic Recovery: On May 19, President Trump signed an executive order to slash red tape in order to revitalize the economy and get Americans back to work. The Executive Order builds on continuing Administration efforts to put people over paperwork. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic alone, the Administration has taken over 600 regulatory actions, including suspensions, waivers, and enforcement discretions. With the executive order, President Trump is directing agencies to use all emergency authorities to identify regulations that can be withdrawn or waived to promote job creation and economic growth. Read more here (WSJ: The Covid-19 Deregulation). We look forward to continuing to work with State, local, and Tribal partners on promoting deregulation and/or smart regulation.
- CDC Issues Additional Reopening Guidance to Assist State, Local, and Tribal Leaders: The CDC has issued a set of health considerations to be used by summer camps, schools, youth sports organizations, institutes of higher education, and restaurants and bars, that are open. Decisions and strategies about how to operate are implemented at the state, tribal, local, and territorial levels because every locale is different, and individual jurisdictions have the authority and local awareness needed to protect their communities. On May 22, the CDC released additional recommendations for communities of faith. The guidance is meant to help prevent exposures to COVID-19 in facilities used by communities of faith and to keep their staff and attendees as healthy as possible as they exercise their faith.

- FEMA Releases Latest State-by-State COVID-19 Resource Data: As FEMA, under the direction of the White House Task Force, has led the whole-of-America response to the COVID-19 pandemic for the past several weeks, billions of essential resources and protective equipment have been delivered throughout the nation. The federal government continues to meet demands for personal protective equipment through new acquisition, federal interagency allocation, private industry donations and the Strategic National Stockpile. Find more information for your State here. Note that these resources are separate from all supplies delivered through Project Air Bridge distributions and other public-private partnerships.
- FEMA Releases COVID-19 Pandemic Operation Guidance for the 2020 Hurricane Season : In preparing for the 2020 hurricane season, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released guidance to State, local, Tribal, and Territorial officials to help them prepare for response and recovery operations. While the document focuses on hurricane season preparedness, most planning considerations can also be applied to any disaster operation in the COVID-19 environment, including no-notice incidents, spring flooding and wildfire seasons, and typhoon response.
- President Trump Issues Proclamation Suspending Entry of Non-U.S. Citizens from Brazil into the United States: On May 24, President Trump took decisive action to protect our country by suspending the entry of aliens who have been in Brazil during the 14-day period before seeking admittance to the United States. As of May 23, 2020, Brazil had 310,087 confirmed cases of COVID-19, which is the third highest number of confirmed cases in the world. The action will help ensure foreign nationals who have been in Brazil do not become a source of additional infections in the United States. These new restrictions do not apply to the flow of commerce between the United States and Brazil. Find the Proclamation here.
- DHS Announces Extension of Agreements with Canada and Mexico to Limit All Non-Essential Cross-Border Travel: On May 20, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security announced the extension of non-essential travel across the U.S.-Mexico and U.S. Canada borders in order to limit the further spread of the Coronavirus. These measures were implemented on March 21, 2020 and were originally in place for 30 days, subject to reevaluation and further extension in light of the fluid nature of the coronavirus pandemic. On April 20, 2020, these measures were extended for an additional 30 days and, on May 19, 2020, these measures were once again extended until June 22, 2020.
- U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development Allocates Third Wave of CARES Act Funding Providing $1 Billion for Communities to Bolster Coronavirus Response and Relief Efforts: On May 11, HUD Secretary Ben Carson announced the allocation of $1 billion through the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program to States and insular areas in response to COVID-19. Every State and Insular Area will receive a portion of the relief funds. More here. To date, HUD has provided over $3 billion in CDBG funding nationwide to help communities acutely combat coronavirus and alleviate economic hardship.

- President Trump Signs Executive Order on Regulatory Relief to Support Economic Recovery: On May 19, President Trump signed an executive order to slash red tape in order to revitalize the economy and get Americans back to work. The Executive Order builds on continuing Administration efforts to put people over paperwork. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic alone, the Administration has taken over 600 regulatory actions, including suspensions, waivers, and enforcement discretions. With the executive order, President Trump is directing agencies to use all emergency authorities to identify regulations that can be withdrawn or waived to promote job creation and economic growth. Read more here (WSJ: The Covid-19 Deregulation). We look forward to continuing to work with State, local, and Tribal partners on promoting deregulation and/or smart regulation.
- CDC Issues Additional Reopening Guidance to Assist State, Local, and Tribal Leaders: The CDC has issued a set of health considerations to be used by summer camps, schools, youth sports organizations, institutes of higher education, and restaurants and bars, that are open. Decisions and strategies about how to operate are implemented at the state, tribal, local, and territorial levels because every locale is different, and individual jurisdictions have the authority and local awareness needed to protect their communities. On May 22, the CDC released additional recommendations for communities of faith. The guidance is meant to help prevent exposures to COVID-19 in facilities used by communities of faith and to keep their staff and attendees as healthy as possible as they exercise their faith.

- FEMA Releases Latest State-by-State COVID-19 Resource Data: As FEMA, under the direction of the White House Task Force, has led the whole-of-America response to the COVID-19 pandemic for the past several weeks, billions of essential resources and protective equipment have been delivered throughout the nation. The federal government continues to meet demands for personal protective equipment through new acquisition, federal interagency allocation, private industry donations and the Strategic National Stockpile. EXTERNAL: This email originated from outside the kcmo.org organization. Use caution and examine the sender address before replying or clicking links.

America's Mayors,

Yesterday in the Rose Garden, President Trump reiterated his Administration's commitment to ensuring that justice is served for George Floyd and his family. President Trump also promised to not let the "righteous cries of peaceful protestors to be drowned out by an angry mob." The remarks follow those on May 30th in Florida where the President emphatically stated, "We will stand with the family of George Floyd with the peaceful protesters and with every law-abiding citizen who wants decency, civility, safety, and security."

As a reminder, TODAY, Tuesday, June 2, at 1:30 PM Eastern Time, please join the White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs (IGA) for a discussion on Federally-supported efforts for keeping American communities safe in partnership with State and local leaders. The call will include remarks from Senior Administration Officials (see below) and conversation with call participants. Please note that this is a principal level call and the invitation is non-transferable. While we can accommodate senior staff, remarks from participating mayors will be prioritized. Recent Announcements

- June Jobs Report "Smashes Expectations": Thursday, July 2, the Bureau of Labor Statistics released jobs numbers for June that far eclipsed economists' expectations. Our Nation's economy has broken another record as 4.8 million jobs were added in June, bringing the economic comeback to 7.5 million jobs added over the past two months. Employment increased significantly for most major sectors, with the largest gains in leisure and hospitality (2.1 million), retail trade (740,000), education and health services (568,000), and manufacturing (356,000). The overall unemployment rate fell by 2.2 points to 11.1%, beating forecasters' expectations by 1.4%. These data show Americans are returning to the workforce, and our nation's economy continues to recover. Read more here.
- U.S. Department of the Treasury Issues Updated Coronavirus Relief Fund FAQ's for States, Tribes, and Local Governments: On June 24, Treasury released an updated list of Frequently Asked Questions regarding the distribution and use of Coronavirus Relief Fund funds. Among other new guidance, the updated Q/A provides that States, Tribes, and localities can use Coronavirus Relief Fund dollars for the 25% FEMA cost share. The updated FAQ's can be found here. More information on the Coronavirus Relief Fund can be found here.

- FEMA Releases Guidance on Federal Cost Share for Public Assistance Program: On July 2, the Federal Emergency Management Agency released clear guidance on how FEMA will treat the multiple sources of funding as they relate to the public assistance program and its cost share requirements. Generally, funding from other federal agencies cannot be used to meet the FEMA public assistance non-federal cost share requirement. For COVID-19, however, there are two exceptions: Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) dollars – mentioned above – and Department of House and Urban Development's Community Disaster Block Grant (CDBG-CV).
- Centers for Disease Control & Prevention (CDC) Publishes New Guidance for K-12 Schools and Higher Education Institutions: On June 30, CDC published new guidance for K-12 schools and higher education institutions as they begin to reopen. The guidance offers considerations for ways in which schools can help protect students, teachers, administrators, and staff and slow the spread of COVID-19. The full guidance for K-12 School Administrators can be found here. The full guidance for Higher Education Administrators can be found here.
- Department of Education Launches New Student-Centered Grant Competition to Spur Short-Term Education Opportunities: U.S. Secretary of Education Betsy DeVos announced a new higher education discretionary grant program designed to provide students the opportunity to develop new skills, provide innovators and inventors the resources to expand existing businesses or build new ones, and encourage institutions of higher education to foster business development and innovation as America begins to recover from COVID-19-related disruptions to education and our economy. The CARES Act provided $307.5 million for discretionary grants, which the Secretary has chosen to divide between two competitions: $127.5 million for the Reimagine Workforce Preparation Grant and $180 million for the Rethink K-12 Education Models Grant.
- Indian Health Service Announces National Expansion of the Community Health: The Indian Health Service is announcing the national expansion of the Community Health Aide Program. The program provides education and training of tribal community health providers to increase access to quality health care, health promotion and disease prevention services. As an expansion of the Alaska Community Health Aide Program, the national CHAP will be consistent with the Alaska model and will foster innovative service delivery for the IHS by augmenting the existing workforce with mid-level paraprofessionals, utilizing culturally competent providers, and providing workforce development opportunities for locally developed staff.

COVID-19: Important Resources for State, Local, and Tribal Officials

- Guidelines for Opening Up America Again: On April 16, President Trump and the White House Coronavirus Task Force unveiled guidelines (download here) for the reopening of America. Developed by the top medical experts from across the Government and based on verifiable metrics regarding the situation on the ground, the guidelines outline a phased return to reopening and include specific steps for State, Local, and Tribal officials to follow in tailoring their response. The guidelines also set clear benchmarks on new cases, testing, and hospital resources for States to meet to proceed toward a phased reopening. In the days and weeks ahead, the Administration plans to continue robust coordination and outreach with State, Local, and Tribal leaders as we collectively work to reopen the country.
- Opening Up America Again Testing Overview and Testing Blueprint: On April 27, President Trump and the White House Coronavirus Task Force unveiled the Opening Up American Again Testing Overview and Testing Blueprint designed to facilitate State development and implementation of the robust testing plans and rapid response programs described in the President's Opening Up America Again Guidelines. The Testing Blueprint sets forth the partnership between Federal, State, local, and tribal governments, along with the private-sector and professional associations, all of which will play important roles in meeting the Nation's testing needs.

Recent Law Enforcement Announcements & Funding Opportunities

Centers for Disease Control Guidance for Law Enforcement & First Responders: What law enforcement personnel need to know about Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19). More here.

The Coronavirus Relief Fund ($150 billion): Provides for payments to State, local, and tribal governments navigating the impact of COVID-19.

- Each State received a minimum of $1.25 billion with additional money based on population for COVID-19 response. More on the Coronavirus Relief Fund here.
- Treasury issued pertinent guidance regarding expenditure of CRF funds here. Through FAQ's, Treasury clarified that CRF funds can be used to cover payroll costs for public health and public safety employees. More here.

Coronavirus Emergency Supplemental Funding (CESF): Byrne JAG Grants ($850 million): To assist State, local, and tribal jurisdictions in responding to the coronavirus. These funds will go directly to State, local, and tribal governments for use by law enforcement and other disciplines.

- Application deadline: May 29, 2020
- BJA posted the solicitation for this funding on March 30, 2020.
- The CESF program page is available here.
- Applications must be submitted via OJP's Grants Management System ("GMS").

COVID-19 Public Safety Officers' Benefits (PSOB) Program: Provides death benefits to the eligible survivors of public safety officers who are fatally injured in the line of duty, disability benefits to public safety officers catastrophically injured in the line of duty, and education benefits to the eligible spouses and children of fallen and catastrophically injured officers. For information about the PSOB program or filing a claim, visit the website here.

Bureau of Prisons ($100 million): For correctional officer overtime, clean work and living environments, and PPE and supplies and inmate medical care and supplies related to COVID-19 detailed here.

FEMA Disaster Relief Fund ($45 billion): For the immediate needs of State, local, tribal, and territorial governments to protect citizens and help them recover from COVID-19.

- Application Process: To streamline the application process during the COVID-19 emergency, FEMA has developed the "COVID-19 Pandemic: Public Assistance Simplified Application." This simplified application and process to follow is explained in this FEMA Fact Sheet. Applicants are encouraged to apply as soon as possible through FEMA's Grants Portal.
- Under the Stafford Act, eligible emergency protective measures taken to respond to COVID-19 at the direction or guidance of public health officials may be reimbursed under FEMA's Public Assistance Program, Category B. FEMA will not duplicate assistance provided by HHS/CDC or other federal agencies. FEMA is legally prohibited from duplicating benefits from other sources, such as from insurance proceeds or other Federal awards. Public Assistance funding is funding of last resort. If the applicant receives funding from another source for the same work that FEMA funded, FEMA reduces the eligible cost or deobligates funding to prevent a duplication of benefits.

Local Leaders –

Repeatedly, President Trump has reiterated his Administration's commitment to ensuring that justice is served for George Floyd and his family. On May 30th in Florida, the President emphatically stated, "We will stand with the family of George Floyd with the peaceful protesters and with every law-abiding citizen who wants decency, civility, safety, and security." President Trump strongly believes in the rule of law and has directed his Administration to seek reforms that improve the relationship between law enforcement and all communities that also recognizes the sacrifice America's law enforcement families dedicate to community safety.

TODAY, Monday, June 15, at 5:00 PM Eastern Time, please join the White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs (IGA) and Office of Public Liaison (OPL) for a briefing from Senior Administration Officials (see below) on the Administration's work to keep communities safe and reform law enforcement while standing with the rule of law.

Briefing Call on President Trump's Actions to Safely Reopening America's Schools

President Trump is taking action to ensure schools safely reopen in the fall and empower parents to make decisions about their children's education. The President has made over $13 billion available to support continued education for K-12 students and has requested $105 billion in education funding as part of the next coronavirus relief bill.

In July, President Trump hosted teachers, parents, students, and other stakeholders at the White House to discuss the importance of safely reopening America's schools. To continue the discussion, tomorrow, Wednesday, August 12th, President Trump will host a conversation with parents, teachers, and health and educational experts.

Prior to this event, the Office of Intergovernmental Affairs invites you to join Department of Education Secretary Betsy DeVos and other Senior Administration Officials for a briefing call on the President and Administration's actions to ensure the safe reopening of schools. Registration instructions are below.

FACT SHEET

ENCOURAGING SCHOOLS TO REOPEN SAFELY: President Donald J. Trump is taking action to ensure schools safely reopen in the fall and empower parents to make decisions about their children's education.

- President Trump is calling for legislation to ensure that schools have the funding and incentives they need to safely reopen this fall and to empower families with school choice.
- To encourage schools to make in-person classes available this fall, the President is requesting $105 billion in education funding as part of the next coronavirus relief bill—$70 billion of which will directly support K-12 education.
 - Approximately $35 billion of the $70 billion will be reserved for schools that reopen.
- Under the President's vision, students and parents will also be offered support to allow them to choose the school options that are best for them.
- Along with any new funding, schools must innovate and employ creative methods – such as flexible schedules, cohorting, and master teaching – to keep kids and teachers safe.
- If schools do not reopen, funding should follow students so parents can send their child to the private, charter, religious, or home school of their choice.

PROVIDING FLEXIBILITY TO PARENTS: Parents should be given the flexibility to choose what option is best for the wellbeing of their child and family.

- It is vital that parents be allowed to weigh both the benefits and risks of sending their child back to school, including the level of community spread and the makeup of their household, especially for multi-generational households.
- The best available evidence indicates that COVID-19 poses relatively low risks to school-aged children.
 - Data suggests that children and adolescents under 18 years old account for under 7 percent of COVID-19 cases, and 99.96 percent of all fatalities are adults.
- Lengthy time away from school both harms a student's ability to advance academically and prevents educators from best ensuring the wellbeing of students.
- Furthermore, school closures make it difficult for parents to work, potentially hampering the financial security of millions of working American families.
 - Estimates from the Council of Economic Advisors suggest that 5.6 million parents will be unable to return to work if schools do not reopen this year.

PRIORITIZING THE WELFARE OF OUR NATION'S CHILDREN: Failure to offer in-person classes could harm students' development, especially those in disadvantaged communities.

- While studies have shown that long-term school closures adversely impact students from all backgrounds, they are especially harmful for those with fewer resources.
 - According to a survey by EdTrust, 50 percent of low-income and 42 percent of families of color lack sufficient devices at home to access distance learning.
 - McKinsey & Co. has found that school shutdowns deprive lower income students of vital support and engagement, resulting in disproportionate learning losses.
 - Another study showed that due to shutdowns last spring, the average student will begin this school year roughly 35 percent behind in reading and more than 50 percent behind in math compared to a typical year.
- Without in-person learning, educators are also unable to monitor important learning deficits, as well as report signs of abuse and address mental health problems.
 - According to Federal data, education personnel report one in five cases alleging child abuse or neglect.
- Lack of in-person learning also deprives students, especially the most disadvantaged students, of access to important services.
 - Nationwide, nearly 30 million American students rely on schools for free or reduced meals.
 - More than 70% of children receiving mental health services do so at school, and nearly all therapies for children with intellectual or physical disabilities are performed at school.

State and Local Leaders –

Today, Friday, July 24, President Donald J. Trump took historic action to deliver lower prescription drug prices to American patients. Joined by doctors, patients, State and local officials, and other invitees, the President signed four executive orders on drug pricing. The Executive Orders direct the Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS), Alex Azar, to take several steps to deliver for American patients lower costs on prescription drugs, including insulin and epinephrine, and ensure Americans are getting the lowest price possible for their drugs. More specifically, the executive orders instruct HHS to:

- End a shadowy system of kickbacks by middlemen that lurks behind the high out-of-pocket costs many Americans face at the pharmacy counter. Under this action, American seniors will directly receive these kickback as discounts in Medicare Part D. In 2018, these Part D discounts totaled more than $30 billion, representing an average discount of 26 to 30 percent.
- Require federally qualified health centers who purchase insulins and epinephrine in the 340B program to pass the savings from discounted drug prices directly on to medically underserved patients. This will increase access to life-saving insulin and epinephrine for the patients who face especially high costs among the 28 million patients who visit FQHCs every year, over six million of whom are uninsured.
- Finalize a rule allowing states to develop safe importation plans for certain prescription drugs.
- Authorize the re-importation of insulin products made in the United States if the Secretary finds re-importation is required for emergency medical care pursuant to section 801(d) of the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.
- Create a pathway for safe personal importation through the use of individual waivers to purchase drugs at lower cost from pre-authorized U.S. pharmacies.
- Take action to ensure that the Medicare program and seniors pay no more for the most costly Medicare Part B drugs than any economically comparable OECD country, ending foreign countries' free loading off the backs of American taxpayers and pharmaceutical investments. This order takes effect in 30 days unless Congress acts.

 @WhiteHouse: Americans have waited decades for Washington to take action on soaring drug prices. The wait is over. President @realDonaldTrump signed 4 sweeping Executive Orders that will lead to massive reductions in drug costs.

President Donald J. Trump Is Taking Action to Lower Drug Costs and Ensure That Americans Have Access to Life-saving Medications

Since the day I took office, I have made reducing drug prices one of my highest priorities.

- President Donald J. Trump

☐ Read the Executive Orders below

- Executive Order on Access to Affordable Life-saving Medications
- Executive Order on Increasing Drug Importation to Lower Prices for American Patients
- Executive Order on Lowering Prices for Patients by Eliminating Kickbacks to Middlemen

EXPANDING ACCESS TO LIFE-SAVING DRUGS: President Donald J. Trump is taking action to greatly improve the affordability and accessibility of life-saving prescription drugs.

- President Trump signed four Executive Orders to massively lower prescription drug costs and increase Americans' access to life-saving medications, including insulin.
- The first Order directs federally qualified health centers to pass along massive discounts on insulin and epinephrine received from drug companies to certain low-income Americans.
- The second Order will allow State plans for safe importation of certain drugs, authorize the re-importation of insulin products made in the United States, and create a pathway for widespread use of personal importation waivers at authorized pharmacies in the United States.
- The third Order will prohibit secret deals between drug manufacturers and pharmacy benefit manager middlemen, ensuring patients directly benefit from available discounts at the pharmacy counter.
- The fourth and final Order ensures that the United States pays the lowest price available in economically comparable countries for Medicare Part B drugs.
 - The United States often pays 80% more for these drugs than other developed countries.
 - It's time to reduce the price Americans pay for these costly Part B medications, and absent successful negotiations with drug company executives this Order will be implemented on August 24.

LOWERING PRESCRIPTION DRUG COSTS FOR PATIENTS: This latest action builds on the President's extensive efforts to drive down prescription drug prices for all Americans.

- Prescription drugs saw their largest annual price decrease in over half a century in 2018.
 - Average basic premiums for Medicare Part D prescription drug plans have fallen by 13.5 percent since 2017, saving beneficiaries $1.9 billion in premium costs.
- The Trump Administration has approved generic drugs at historic rates, saving patients $26 billion in the first 19 months of the President's first term alone.
- In May, the Administration announced the Part D Senior Savings Model that will provide Medicare patients options to access a broad set of insulins at a maximum $35 copay per month.
- President Trump also signed legislation ending gag clauses that prevented pharmacists from informing patients about the best prices for the medications they need.

PRIORITIZING PATIENTS: Throughout his time in office, President Trump has worked to provide Americans with the highest quality healthcare at the lowest cost.

- President Trump has vowed to always protect patients with pre-existing conditions.
- The President has increased the availability of short-term, limited duration plans and Health Reimbursement Arrangements, empowering patients with more choice in healthcare.
- To ensure access to care while reducing the risk of COVID-19 exposure for both patients and healthcare providers, the President has drastically expanded access to telehealth services.
- The President has empowered patients with more choice in healthcare by increasing the availability of lower cost health insurance plans and Health Reimbursement Arrangements.

- The Trump Administration has also taken action to improve transparency in healthcare prices, encourage competition, lower costs, and put patients in charge of their health decisions.

In 2018, these Part D discounts totaled more than $30 billion, representing an average discount of 26 to 30 percent.
- Require federally qualified health centers who purchase insulins and epinephrine in the 340B program to pass the savings from discounted drug prices directly on to medically underserved patients. This will increase access to life-saving insulin and epinephrine for the patients who face especially high costs among the 28 million patients who visit FQHCs every year, over six million of whom are uninsured.
- Finalize a rule allowing states to develop safe importation plans for certain prescription drugs.
- Authorize the re-importation of insulin products made in the United States if the Secretary finds re-importation is required for emergency medical care pursuant to section 801(d) of the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.
- Create a pathway for safe personal importation through the use of individual waivers to purchase drugs at lower cost from pre-authorized U.S. pharmacies.
- Take action to ensure that the Medicare program and seniors pay no more for the most costly Medicare Part B drugs than any economically comparable OECD country, ending foreign countries' free loading off the backs of American taxpayers and pharmaceutical investments. This order takes effect in 30 days unless Congress acts.

President Donald J. Trump Is Taking Action to Lower Drug Costs and Ensure That Americans Have Access to Life-saving Medications

Since the day I took office, I have made reducing drug prices one of my highest priorities.

- President Donald J. Trump

- Executive Order on Access to Affordable Life-saving Medications
- Executive Order on Increasing Drug Importation to Lower Prices for American Patients
- Executive Order on Lowering Prices for Patients by Eliminating Kickbacks to Middlemen

EXPANDING ACCESS TO LIFE-SAVING DRUGS: President Donald J. Trump is taking action to greatly improve the affordability and accessibility of life-saving prescription drugs.

- President Trump signed four Executive Orders to massively lower prescription drug costs and increase Americans' access to life-saving medications, including insulin.
- The first Order directs federally qualified health centers to pass along massive discounts on insulin and epinephrine received from drug companies to certain low-income Americans.
- The second Order will allow State plans for safe importation of certain drugs, authorize the re-importation of insulin products made in the United States, and create a pathway for widespread use of personal importation waivers at authorized pharmacies in the United States.
- The third Order will prohibit secret deals between drug manufacturers and pharmacy benefit manager middlemen, ensuring patients directly benefit from available discounts at the pharmacy counter.
- The fourth and final Order ensures that the United States pays the lowest price available in economically comparable countries for Medicare Part B drugs.
 - The United States often pays 80% more for these drugs than other developed countries.
 - It's time to reduce the price Americans pay for these costly Part B medications, and absent successful negotiations with drug company executives this Order will be implemented on August 24.

LOWERING PRESCRIPTION DRUG COSTS FOR PATIENTS: This latest action builds on the President's extensive efforts to drive down prescription drug prices for all Americans.

- Prescription drugs saw their largest annual price decrease in over half a century in 2018.
 - Average basic premiums for Medicare Part D prescription drug plans have fallen by 13.5 percent since 2017, saving beneficiaries $1.9 billion in premium costs.
- The Trump Administration has approved generic drugs at historic rates, saving patients $26 billion in the first 19 months of the President's first term alone.
- In May, the Administration announced the Part D Senior Savings Model that will provide Medicare patients options to access a broad set of insulins at a maximum $35 copay per month.
- President Trump also signed legislation ending gag clauses that prevented pharmacists from informing patients about the best prices for the medications they need.

PRIORITIZING PATIENTS: Throughout his time in office, President Trump has worked to provide Americans with the highest quality healthcare at the lowest cost.

- President Trump has vowed to always protect patients with pre-existing conditions.
- The President has increased the availability of short-term, limited duration plans and Health Reimbursement Arrangements, empowering patients with more choice in healthcare.
- To ensure access to care while reducing the risk of COVID-19 exposure for both patients and healthcare providers, the President has drastically expanded access to telehealth services.
- The President has empowered patients with more choice in healthcare by increasing the availability of lower cost health insurance plans and Health Reimbursement Arrangements.

- The Trump Administration has also taken action to improve transparency in healthcare prices, encourage competition, lower costs, and put patients in charge of their health decisions.

Local Leaders,

Today, Wednesday July 22, President Donald J. Trump detailed actions to assist State and local officials in combating violent crime in American cities. Standing beside Attorney General William Barr, Acting Secretary of Homeland Security Chad Wolf, and other Federal, State and local law enforcement leaders from across the country, President Trump announced the expansion of "Operation Legend," a Department of Justice (DOJ), inter-agency surge of resources into cities across the United States that are experiencing upticks in violent crime.

 President Trump: View the President's Remarks here

Operation Legend was successfully launched on July 8 in Kansas City, where four year old LeGend Taliferro was shot and killed on June 29th. Taliferro's mother, Sharon, joined President Trump for today's announcement. "This operation is personal to us. We want justice for our son and others. We have to take a stand in our communities and speak-up to help this operation be successful," she stated in remarks.

 My first duty as President is to protect the American people, and today I am taking action to fulfill that sacred obligation.

Today's announcement expands Operation Legend to Chicago, IL and Albuquerque, NM, both of which are currently experiencing a significant increase in violent crime. As part of the expansion, the Administration – led by the Department of Justice – will significantly increase personnel and resources to help State and local officials in these cities fight the high levels of violent crime, particularly gun violence. Below, find a press release detailing today's announcement.

Sincerely,

Today, Attorney General William P. Barr joined President Donald J. Trump to announce the expansion of Operation Legend to Chicago and Albuquerque. Operation Legend is a sustained, systematic and coordinated law enforcement initiative in which federal law enforcement agencies work in conjunction with state and local law enforcement officials to fight violent crime. The Operation was first launched on July 8 in Kansas City, Missouri, as a result of President Trump's promise to assist America's cities that are plagued by recent violence. Operation Legend is named after four-year-old LeGend Taliferro, who was shot and killed while he slept early in the morning of June 29 in Kansas City. The first federal arrest under Operation Legend was announced on July 20.

"The most basic responsibility of government is to protect the safety of our citizens," said Attorney General Barr. "Today, we have extended Operation Legend to Chicago and Albuquerque to protect the residents of those cities from senseless acts of deadly violence by targeting those involved in gang activity and those who use guns to commit violent crime. For decades, the Department of Justice has achieved significant success when utilizing our anti-violent crime task forces and federal law enforcement agents to enforce federal law and assist American cities which are experiencing upticks in violent crime. The Department of Justice's assets will supplement local law enforcement efforts, as we work together to take the shooters and chronic violent criminals off of our streets."

As part of Operation Legend, Attorney General Barr directed the FBI, U.S. Marshals Service, DEA, and ATF to significantly increase resources into Chicago and Albuquerque in the coming weeks to help state and local officials fight high levels of violent crime, particularly gun violence. Chicago is currently experiencing a significant increase in violent crime, with homicides currently up 51 percent over 2019. Over the weekend of

July 17, more than 60 people were shot in the city of Chicago, with 14 fatalities. Similarly, Albuquerque is currently on pace to break 2019's record for homicides in the city. On the weekend of July 10, there were four murders in Albuquerque within a 24-hour period.

In Chicago, the Department of Justice will supplement state and local law enforcement agencies by sending over 100 federal investigators from the FBI, DEA, and ATF to the city. Under the leadership of John R. Lausch Jr., U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, these investigators will complement the work already underway by existing joint federal, state and local task forces focused on combating Chicago's violent gangs, gun crime, and drug trafficking organizations. The investigatory efforts will be advanced by more than 100 members of the U.S. Marshals Service Great Lakes Task Force, which will direct violent fugitive apprehension operations within Chicago to identify wanted gang members, violent criminals, and firearms violators. The Department of Homeland Security's Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) are also committing at least 100 agents, already stationed in Chicago, to Operation Legend. HSI agents will conduct investigations into gangs, narcotics traffickers, violent offenders, and firearms traffickers.

To further support the Chicago Police Department in reducing violent crime, ATF has deployed its national Crime Gun Intelligence Mobile Command Vehicle to assist local law enforcement with analysis of crime scenes and spent shell casings through the National Integrated Ballistic Information Network (NIBIN). ATF will also make available additional resources to assist the City of Chicago in providing timely, efficient analysis of ballistic evidence from shootings in order to quickly disrupt violent criminals and prosecute those prohibited from possessing firearms under federal law.

The Bureau of Justice Assistance will make available $3.5 million in funding to reimburse the Chicago Police Department and City of Chicago for the work of local law enforcement on the federal task forces supporting Operation Legend's violent crime reduction efforts. The COPS Office has also made $9.375 million available to the Chicago Police Department to fund the hiring of 75 officers.

In Albuquerque, the Department of Justice will supplement state and local law enforcement agencies by sending more than 25 federal investigators from the FBI, DEA, and ATF to the city. Under the leadership of John C. Anderson, U.S. Attorney for the District of New Mexico, these federal investigators will work closely with the Albuquerque Police Department and the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Department, along with other local partners, through pre-existing task forces directed at combatting violent crimes. Up to ten HSI agents will assist with the efforts in Albuquerque, as well.

The Department of Justice has also made available over $1.5 million in COPS Hiring Grants to the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Department to onboard five deputies and to support additional federal task force officers committed to violent crime reduction efforts. Additionally, the COPS Office has made $9.74 million available to the Albuquerque Police Department to fund the hiring of 40 officers. Separately, the Bureau of Justice Assistance has made available $1.4 million to reimburse the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Office and Albuquerque Police Department for the work of local law enforcement on the federal task forces supporting Operation Legend's violent crime reduction efforts. The Department has also provided assistance through the Joint Law Enforcement Operations (JLEO) fund to assist reimbursement of local law enforcement serving as federal task force officers with FBI, ATF, DEA, and the U.S. Marshals Service. These JLEO funds also will be used to assist the City of Albuquerque in acquiring technology used for detection of gunshots and development of an integrated response plan to gunshots by local law enforcement.

What You Need To Know

President Trump is taking action to support American families and is urging Congress to continue his efforts to provide resources to those impacted by the coronavirus pandemic

President Trump is signing a presidential memorandum to provide temporary payroll tax relief for American families who have been hit hard by the coronavirus.

- Today, the President directed the Treasury Department to allow employers to defer payment of the employee portion of certain payroll taxes through the end of 2020.
- In the CARES Act, the Administration worked with Congress to take care of businesses by deferring the employer portion of payroll taxes through the end of the year. Today, President Trump is extending that opportunity to hard-working Americans as well.
- This limited, short-term relief will be available to Americans earning less than $100,000 a year.
- By providing this tax relief, American families will have more cash on hand during these critical next few months as we finish the job of eradicating the Chinese coronavirus.
- President Trump will encourage Congress to make this limited tax relief permanent.

President Trump is taking action to ensure Americans who have lost their job and want nothing more than to return to work have the unemployment benefits they need during this crisis.

- Many American workers have been forced out of their job due to the coronavirus, and want nothing more than to return to work.
 - President Trump is committed to helping Americans get back to work safely as soon as possible, understanding the vital importance of the dignity of work.
 - The original CARES Act had $150 billion in additional unemployment benefits, at $600/week, which expired at the end of July.
- The President is dedicating additional Federal dollars to continue to provide benefits for Americans who want to get back to work but have been affected by the pandemic.
 - The funds will be available for those who qualify by, among other things, receiving $100/week of existing assistance and certify that they have lost their jobs due to COVID-19.
 - The benefit will provide $400 a week to Americans out of work – though a State can always provide additional.
- The funds will be available through December, or until the Federal funding in the Disaster Relief Fund reduces to $25 billion, which will ensure that Federal Government has sufficient funds to pay for unexpected expenditures during hurricane season, or other immediate needs.
- States are called to use their existing funds, such as those allocated through the Coronavirus Relief Fund, to pay for their 25 percent share.
 - States, as of the end of June, had more than $80 billion remaining in Coronavirus Relief Fund dollars.

President Trump is signing an executive order to help ensure Americans facing financial hardships due to the coronavirus do not face eviction or foreclosure.

- In the face of Congressional inaction, President Trump is directing his Administration to take all lawful measures to prevent residential evictions and foreclosures resulting from financial hardships caused by COVID-19.
 - HHS and CDC will consider measures to temporarily prohibit residential evictions for failure to pay rent due to COVID-19 hardships in order to prevent the further spread of the virus.
 - HUD will prioritize federal funds that can be used to provide financial assistance to struggling renters and homeowners.
 - HUD will also work with its grantees to ensure that renters and homeowners are not forced out of their homes during the COVID pandemic.
- Prior to the passage of the CARES Act, President Trump took bold steps to protect renters and homeowners during the COVID-19 crisis.
 - HUD implemented a foreclosure and eviction moratorium for all single-family mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration.
 - The Federal Housing Finance Agency instructed Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac to suspend foreclosures for at least 60 days with an extended foreclosure suspension until at least August 31, 2020.
- With the signing of the CARES Act, President Trump created a further temporary moratorium on evictions for government-back mortgages, which ensured renters and homeowners would have a safe and secure place to call home during the pandemic.
- Congress has failed to extend this relief which expired last month and has left millions of Americans at risk of being evicted from their homes in the middle of a deadly pandemic.
- It is morally wrong and poses a public health risk to let Americans be evicted from their homes in the middle of a pandemic as a result of financial hardships through no fault of their own.
- Renters who are kicked out of their homes will likely end up crowding existing housing, entering our stressed homelessness system, or living on the street; leaving them unable to socially distance and contribute to the further spread of COVID-19.
 - As the CDC has already observed "[h]omelessness poses multiple challenges that can exacerbate and amplify the spread of COVID-19. Homeless shelters are often crowded, making social distancing difficult."
- This risk of eviction and homelessness disproportionately affects minority communities and vulnerable Americans.

President Trump is signing a presidential memorandum to provide student loan relief for Americans who have faced financial harm due to the coronavirus.

- The Administration has already taken immediate and needed action to relieve student loan borrowers by creating 0% interest and suspending loan payments, initially for 60 days.
- Although Congress took steps to continue this policy through September 30th, the President is acting to give borrowers this option through the end of the year, while the economy recovers.
- Borrowers will have the option to defer payments if it's right for them, while others may wish to use this period of zero percent interest to more quickly pay down their student loans.
- Americans affected by the pandemic should not be cast aside to fall behind on loan payments, which could have life-long impacts.

- We support the hardworking Americans who have strived to secure an education and contribute their skills to the best workforce in the world.

What You Need To Know

President Trump is taking action to support American families and is urging Congress to continue his efforts to provide resources to those impacted by the coronavirus pandemic

President Trump is signing a presidential memorandum to provide temporary payroll tax relief for American families who have been hit hard by the coronavirus.

- Today, the President directed the Treasury Department to allow employers to defer payment of the employee portion of certain payroll taxes through the end of 2020.
- In the CARES Act, the Administration worked with Congress to take care of businesses by deferring the employer portion of payroll taxes through the end of the year. Today, President Trump is extending that opportunity to hard-working Americans as well.
- This limited, short-term relief will be available to Americans earning less than $100,000 a year.
- By providing this tax relief, American families will have more cash on hand during these critical next few months as we finish the job of eradicating the Chinese coronavirus.
- President Trump will encourage Congress to make this limited tax relief permanent.

President Trump is taking action to ensure Americans who have lost their job and want nothing more than to return to work have the unemployment benefits they need during this crisis.

- Many American workers have been forced out of their job due to the coronavirus, and want nothing more than to return to work.
 - President Trump is committed to helping Americans get back to work safely as soon as possible, understanding the vital importance of the dignity of work.
 - The original CARES Act had $150 billion in additional unemployment benefits, at $600/week, which expired at the end of July.
- The President is dedicating additional Federal dollars to continue to provide benefits for Americans who want to get back to work but have been affected by the pandemic.
 - The funds will be available for those who qualify by, among other things, receiving $100/week of existing assistance and certify that they have lost their jobs due to COVID-19.
 - The benefit will provide $400 a week to Americans out of work – though a State can always provide additional.
- The funds will be available through December, or until the Federal funding in the Disaster Relief Fund reduces to $25 billion, which will ensure that Federal Government has sufficient funds to pay for unexpected expenditures during hurricane season, or other immediate needs.
- States are called to use their existing funds, such as those allocated through the Coronavirus Relief Fund, to pay for their 25 percent share.
 - States, as of the end of June, had more than $80 billion remaining in Coronavirus Relief Fund dollars.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

As a mark of respect for the memory and longstanding public service of Representative John Lewis, of Georgia, I hereby order, by the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States of America, that the flag of the United States shall be flown at half-staff at the White House and upon all public buildings and grounds, at all military posts and naval stations, and on all naval vessels of the Federal Government in the District of Columbia and throughout the United States and its Territories and possessions through July 18, 2020. I also direct that the flag shall be flown at half-staff for the same period at all United States embassies, legations, consular offices, and other facilities abroad, including all military facilities and naval vessels and stations.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this eighteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-fifth.

Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

Local Leaders,

Today, Wednesday July 22, President Donald J. Trump detailed actions to assist State and local officials in combating violent crime in American cities. Standing beside Attorney General William Barr, Acting Secretary of Homeland Security Chad Wolf, and other Federal, State and local law enforcement leaders from across the country, President Trump announced the expansion of "Operation Legend," a Department of Justice (DOJ), inter-agency surge of resources into cities across the United States that are experiencing upticks in violent crime.

☐ President Trump: View the President's Remarks here

Operation Legend was successfully launched on July 8 in Kansas City, where four year old LeGend Taliferro was shot and killed on June 29th. Taliferro's mother, Sharon, joined President Trump for today's announcement. "This operation is personal to us. We want justice for our son and others. We have to take a stand in our communities and speak-up to help this operation be successful," she stated in remarks.

☐ My first duty as President is to protect the American people, and today I am taking action to fulfill that sacred obligation.

Today's announcement expands Operation Legend to Chicago, IL and Albuquerque, NM, both of which are currently experiencing a significant increase in violent crime. As part of the expansion, the Administration – led by the Department of Justice – will significantly increase personnel and resources to help State and local officials in these cities fight the high levels of violent crime, particularly gun violence. Below, find a press release detailing today's announcement.

Sincerely,

The White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

William F. Crozer
White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

Today, Attorney General William P. Barr joined President Donald J. Trump to announce the expansion of Operation Legend to Chicago and Albuquerque. Operation Legend is a sustained, systematic and coordinated law enforcement initiative in which federal law enforcement agencies work in conjunction with state and local law enforcement officials to fight violent crime. The Operation was first launched on July 8 in Kansas City, Missouri, as a result of President Trump's promise to assist America's cities that are plagued by recent violence.

Operation Legend is named after four-year-old LeGenD Taliferro, who was shot and killed while he slept early in the morning of June 29 in Kansas City. The first federal arrest under Operation Legend was announced on July 20.

"The most basic responsibility of government is to protect the safety of our citizens," said Attorney General Barr. "Today, we have extended Operation Legend to Chicago and Albuquerque to protect the residents of those cities from senseless acts of deadly violence by targeting those involved in gang activity and those who use guns to commit violent crime. For decades, the Department of Justice has achieved significant success when utilizing our anti-violent crime task forces and federal law enforcement agents to enforce federal law and assist American cities which are experiencing upticks in violent crime. The Department of Justice's assets will supplement local law enforcement efforts, as we work together to take the shooters and chronic violent criminals off of our streets."

As part of Operation Legend, Attorney General Barr directed the FBI, U.S. Marshals Service, DEA, and ATF to significantly increase resources into Chicago and Albuquerque in the coming weeks to help state and local officials fight high levels of violent crime, particularly gun violence. Chicago is currently experiencing a significant increase in violent crime, with homicides currently up 51 percent over 2019. Over the weekend of July 17, more than 60 people were shot in the city of Chicago, with 14 fatalities. Similarly, Albuquerque is currently on pace to break 2019's record for homicides in the city. On the weekend of July 10, there were four murders in Albuquerque within a 24-hour period.

In Chicago, the Department of Justice will supplement state and local law enforcement agencies by sending over 100 federal investigators from the FBI, DEA, and ATF to the city. Under the leadership of John R. Lausch Jr., U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, these investigators will complement the work already underway by existing joint federal, state and local task forces focused on combating Chicago's violent gangs, gun crime, and drug trafficking organizations. The investigatory efforts will be advanced by more than 100 members of the U.S. Marshals Service Great Lakes Task Force, which will direct violent fugitive apprehension operations within Chicago to identify wanted gang members, violent criminals, and firearms violators. The Department of Homeland Security's Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) are also committing at least 100 agents, already stationed in Chicago, to Operation Legend. HSI agents will conduct investigations into gangs, narcotics traffickers, violent offenders, and firearms traffickers.

To further support the Chicago Police Department in reducing violent crime, ATF has deployed its national Crime Gun Intelligence Mobile Command Vehicle to assist local law enforcement with analysis of crime scenes and spent shell casings through the National Integrated Ballistic Information Network (NIBIN). ATF will also make available additional resources to assist the City of Chicago in providing timely, efficient analysis of ballistic evidence from shootings in order to quickly disrupt violent criminals and prosecute those prohibited from possessing firearms under federal law.

The Bureau of Justice Assistance will make available $3.5 million in funding to reimburse the Chicago Police Department and City of Chicago for the work of local law enforcement on the federal task forces supporting Operation Legend's violent crime reduction efforts. The COPS Office has also made $9.375 million available to the Chicago Police Department to fund the hiring of 75 officers.

In Albuquerque, the Department of Justice will supplement state and local law enforcement agencies by sending more than 25 federal investigators from the FBI, DEA, and ATF to the city. Under the leadership of John C. Anderson, U.S. Attorney for the District of New Mexico, these federal investigators will work closely with the Albuquerque Police Department and the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Department, along with other local partners, through pre-existing task forces directed at combatting violent crimes. Up to ten HSI agents will assist with the efforts in Albuquerque, as well.

The Department of Justice has also made available over $1.5 million in COPS Hiring Grants to the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Department to onboard five deputies and to support additional federal task force officers committed to violent crime reduction efforts. Additionally, the COPS Office has made $9.74 million available to the Albuquerque Police Department to fund the hiring of 40 officers. Separately, the Bureau of Justice Assistance has made available $1.4 million to reimburse the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Office and Albuquerque Police Department for the work of local law enforcement on the federal task forces supporting Operation Legend's violent crime reduction efforts. The Department has also provided assistance through the Joint Law Enforcement Operations (JLEO) fund to assist reimbursement of local law enforcement serving as federal task force officers with FBI, ATF, DEA, and the U.S. Marshals Service. These JLEO funds also will be used to assist the City of Albuquerque in acquiring technology used for detection of gunshots and development of an integrated response plan to gunshots by local law enforcement.

Ha! No problem. I do not intend to unsubscribe.

I appreciate the clarification from AG Bill Barr that there have not been 200 arrests with Operation Legend in Kansas City. That caused quite a bit of distress here during that small period of time.

Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

Today, Wednesday July 22, President Donald J. Trump detailed actions to assist State and local officials in combating violent crime in American cities. Standing beside Attorney General William Barr, Acting Secretary of Homeland Security Chad Wolf, and other Federal, State and local law enforcement leaders from across the country, President Trump announced the expansion of "Operation Legend," a Department of Justice (DOJ), inter-agency surge of resources into cities across the United States that are experiencing upticks in violent crime.

□ President Trump: View the President's Remarks here

Operation Legend was successfully launched on July 8 in Kansas City, where four year old LeGend Taliferro was shot and killed on June 29th. Taliferro's mother, Sharon, joined President Trump for today's announcement. "This operation is personal to us. We want justice for our son and others. We have to take a stand in our communities and speak-up to help this operation be successful," she stated in remarks.

My first duty as President is to protect the American people, and today I am taking action to fulfill that sacred obligation.

Today's announcement expands Operation Legend to Chicago, IL and Albuquerque, NM, both of which are currently experiencing a significant increase in violent crime. As part of the expansion, the Administration – led by the Department of Justice – will significantly increase personnel and resources to help State and local officials in these cities fight the high levels of violent crime, particularly gun violence. Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

Local Leaders,

Today, Wednesday July 22, President Donald J. Trump detailed actions to assist State and local officials in combating violent crime in American cities. Standing beside Attorney General William Barr, Acting Secretary of Homeland Security Chad Wolf, and other Federal, State and local law enforcement leaders from across the country, President Trump announced the expansion of "Operation Legend," a Department of Justice (DOJ), inter-agency surge of resources into cities across the United States that are experiencing upticks in violent crime.

□ President Trump: View the President's Remarks here

Operation Legend was successfully launched on July 8 in Kansas City, where four year old LeGend Taliferro was shot and killed on June 29th. Taliferro's mother, Sharon, joined President Trump for today's announcement. "This operation is personal to us. We want justice for our son and others. We have to take a stand in our communities and speak-up to help this operation be successful," she stated in remarks.

□ My first duty as President is to protect the American people, and today I am taking action to fulfill that sacred obligation.

Today's announcement expands Operation Legend to Chicago, IL and Albuquerque, NM, both of which are currently experiencing a significant increase in violent crime. As part of the expansion, the Administration – led by the Department of Justice – will significantly increase personnel and resources to help State and local officials in these cities fight the high levels of violent crime, particularly gun violence. Below, find a press release detailing today's announcement.

Sincerely,

The White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs

William F. Crozer
Special Assistant to the President/Deputy Director

Today, Attorney General William P. Barr joined President Donald J. Trump to announce the expansion of Operation Legend to Chicago and Albuquerque. Operation Legend is a sustained, systematic and coordinated law enforcement initiative in which federal law enforcement agencies work in conjunction with state and local law enforcement officials to fight violent crime. The Operation was first launched on July 8 in Kansas City, Missouri, as a result of President Trump's promise to assist America's cities that are plagued by recent violence.

Operation Legend is named after four-year-old LeGend Taliferro, who was shot and killed while he slept early in the morning of June 29 in

Kansas City. The first federal arrest under Operation Legend was announced on July 20.

"The most basic responsibility of government is to protect the safety of our citizens," said Attorney General Barr. "Today, we have extended Operation Legend to Chicago and Albuquerque to protect the residents of those cities from senseless acts of deadly violence by targeting those involved in gang activity and those who use guns to commit violent crime. For decades, the Department of Justice has achieved significant success when utilizing our anti-violent crime task forces and federal law enforcement agents to enforce federal law and assist American cities which are experiencing upticks in violent crime. The Department of Justice's assets will supplement local law enforcement efforts, as we work together to take the shooters and chronic violent criminals off of our streets."

As part of Operation Legend, Attorney General Barr directed the FBI, U.S. Marshals Service, DEA, and ATF to significantly increase resources into Chicago and Albuquerque in the coming weeks to help state and local officials fight high levels of violent crime, particularly gun violence. Chicago is currently experiencing a significant increase in violent crime, with homicides currently up 51 percent over 2019. Over the weekend of July 17, more than 60 people were shot in the city of Chicago, with 14 fatalities. Similarly, Albuquerque is currently on pace to break 2019's record for homicides in the city. On the weekend of July 10, there were four murders in Albuquerque within a 24-hour period.

In Chicago, the Department of Justice will supplement state and local law enforcement agencies by sending over 100 federal investigators from the FBI, DEA, and ATF to the city. Under the leadership of John R. Lausch Jr., U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, these investigators will complement the work already underway by existing joint federal, state and local task forces focused on combating Chicago's violent gangs, gun crime, and drug trafficking organizations. The investigatory efforts will be advanced by more than 100 members of the U.S. Marshals Service Great Lakes Task Force, which will direct violent fugitive apprehension operations within Chicago to identify wanted gang members, violent criminals, and firearms violators. The Department of Homeland Security's Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) are also committing at least 100 agents, already stationed in Chicago, to Operation Legend. HSI agents will conduct investigations into gangs, narcotics traffickers, violent offenders, and firearms traffickers.

To further support the Chicago Police Department in reducing violent crime, ATF has deployed its national Crime Gun Intelligence Mobile Command Vehicle to assist local law enforcement with analysis of crime scenes and spent shell casings through the National Integrated Ballistic Information Network (NIBIN). ATF will also make available additional resources to assist the City of Chicago in providing timely, efficient analysis of ballistic evidence from shootings in order to quickly disrupt violent criminals and prosecute those prohibited from possessing firearms under federal law.

The Bureau of Justice Assistance will make available $3.5 million in funding to reimburse the Chicago Police Department and City of Chicago for the work of local law enforcement on the federal task forces supporting Operation Legend's violent crime reduction efforts. The COPS Office has also made $9.375 million available to the Chicago Police Department to fund the hiring of 75 officers.

In Albuquerque, the Department of Justice will supplement state and local law enforcement agencies by sending more than 25 federal investigators from the FBI, DEA, and ATF to the city. Under the leadership of John C. Anderson, U.S. Attorney for the District of New Mexico, these federal investigators will work closely with the Albuquerque Police Department and the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Department, along with other local partners, through pre-existing task forces directed at combatting violent crimes. Up to ten HSI agents will assist with the efforts in Albuquerque, as well.

The Department of Justice has also made available over $1.5 million in COPS Hiring Grants to the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Department to onboard five deputies and to support additional federal task force officers committed to violent crime reduction efforts. Additionally, the COPS Office has made $9.74 million available to the Albuquerque Police Department to fund the hiring of 40 officers. Separately, the Bureau of Justice Assistance has made available $1.4 million to reimburse the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Office and Albuquerque Police Department for the work of local law enforcement on the federal task forces supporting Operation Legend's violent crime reduction efforts. The Department has also provided assistance through the Joint Law Enforcement Operations (JLEO) fund to assist reimbursement of local law enforcement serving as federal task force officers with FBI, ATF, DEA, and the U.S. Marshals Service. These JLEO funds also will be used to assist the City of Albuquerque in acquiring technology used for detection of gunshots and development of an integrated response plan to gunshots by local law enforcement.

Hi John,

Wanted to follow up on this. At today's press conference the Attorney General will be accompanied by most of the Operation Legend city US Attorneys, the KCPD, other various federal and local law enforcement partners, and the families of victims including of LeGend Taliferro. As you know, the suspect in LeGend's murder was recently apprehended.

Let me know if you have any additional questions! Thanks!

President Trump's Historic Coronavirus Response

President Trump's historic coronavirus response has taken bold action to protect all Americans. By utilizing the Defense Production Act (DPA) to secure needed supplies to combat the coronavirus, the President has harnessed the power of the government paired with the innovation of the private sector leading the largest mobilization effort in the U.S. since World War II to respond to the coronavirus.

President Trump's Historic Coronavirus Response

- ☐ Took early action to cut off travel from China
- ☐ Built the world's leading testing system from nothing
- ☐ Enacted mitigation measures to slow the spread
- ☐ Mobilized public and private sectors to secure needed supplies
- ☐ Took action to protect vulnerable Americans

President Donald J. Trump Is Using Every Available Resource to Deliver a Safe and Effective Vaccine to the American People

- ☐ Launched effort to deliver a vaccine and therapeutics
- ☐ Provided support to workers & businesses
- ☐ Paved way for reopening to get America working again
- ☐ Surged resources to hot spots as they arose
- ☐ Confronted China as origin of the virus while Democrats & media cowered

In addition, the White House Council of Economic Advisors just released a report that shows the significant effects the President's policies had on our economy.

☐ @WhiteHouseCEA- JUST RELEASED: CEA's report highlighting the effects of the historic policy response during the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, averting a stark economic contraction and protecting the economic well-being of the Nation's most vulnerable.

Decisive Action to Support American Families

On Saturday, August 8, President Trump took action to support American families and is urging Congress to continue his efforts to provide resources to those impacted by the coronavirus pandemic. The President's actions include:

- Signing a presidential memorandum to provide temporary payroll tax relief for American families who have been hit hard by the coronavirus.
- Ensuring Americans who have lost their job and want nothing more than to return to work have the unemployment benefits they need during this crisis.
- Signing an executive order to help ensure Americans facing financial hardships due to the coronavirus do not face eviction or foreclosure.

33rd Governors COVID-19 Briefing

On Monday, August 10, Vice President Mike Pence and the White House Coronavirus Task Force held the 33rd Governors briefing with the chief executives of America's States, territories, and the city of Washington, DC to discuss State, local, and Federal Coronavirus response and recovery best practices.

☐ @Mike_Pence: Today, the @WhiteHouse Coronavirus Task Force continued productive conversations with America's Governors as we meet this moment together. We are working to make sure states have the resources and support they need to protect their people and see their way through this pandemic.

Chief of the National Guard Bureau, General Hokanson briefed on President Trump's unprecedented extension of Title 32 Status for the National Guard through the end of the calendar year (December 31, 2020), demonstrating once again his ongoing support of governors and State leaders to leverage all solutions to help beat the Invisible Enemy. For the first time in our Nation's history, there is a presidential disaster declaration in every State in the Nation, and in every county in every State, showing the President's commitment to every State in the Nation.

Vice President Pence also provided an update on COVID-19 response and discussed best practices with our Nation's governors on limiting coronavirus spread, including encouraging Americans to adhere to state and local guidelines and to wear face coverings when social distancing cannot be maintained. The Vice President discussed the Federal government's support for personnel at hospitals and PPE at nursing homes, CDC's guidance on encouraging schools to safely reopen in the fall, and supporting States' efforts to protect our most vulnerable citizens.

President Trump's Call with America's Sheriffs

☐ @realDonaldTrump: Thank you to Sheriff Gonzales of Bernalillo County, New Mexico, for joining my call with our Nation's sheriffs. Appreciate your partnership to help make your county safe – great comments on Operation Legend!

On Tuesday, August 11, President Donald J. Trump held a briefing call with hundreds of America's county Sheriffs from across the country. Sheriffs are on the front lines of law enforcement policy and public safety, and the President has remained committed to supporting and partnering with them on key issues and priorities including safe communities, border security, human trafficking, combating COVID-19, and disaster recovery and resilience. President Trump discussed how his Administration continues to devote unprecedented resources to our nation's sheriffs and law enforcement officers. Between FY 2017 and FY 2019, for example, the Administration has provided an estimated $2.9 billion to law enforcement for law enforcement activities through the Department of Homeland Security.

Kids First: Getting America's Children Safely Back to School

On Wednesday, August 12, President Trump and Vice President Pence welcomed a group of parents, teachers, and physicians - alongside Senior Administration Officials - to the White House to discuss how best to get American children back to school.

We know three fundamental facts that support a safe reopening:

1. Prolonged school closures inflict massive harm on children, risking their academic, social, and emotional development.
2. Children are at extremely low risk for serious illness, hospitalization, or death from COVID-19; according to all available data, far lower risk than from seasonal influenza.
3. Educating America's children is a top national priority; schools are as important, and in some cases, more important, than any other essential business.

The Trump Administration put forth recommendations to guide schools toward a pathway of safe reopening while empowering families to make the best decisions for their children. Under President Trump's leadership, children come first. To view these recommendations, click here.

The President is taking action to ensure schools safely reopen in the fall and empower parents to make decisions about their children's education. The President has made over $13 billion available to support continued education for K-12 students and has requested $105 billion in education funding as part of the next coronavirus relief bill. Unemployment Relief

President Trump, recognizing the acute financial distress affecting families across the country, has worked to quickly provide $44 billion in relief to supplement unemployment benefits. The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) is assisting in providing benefits from the Disaster Relief Fund (DRF) in partnership with the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL), to empower States to deliver continued financial relief to Americans who are suffering from unemployment due to COVID-19.

President Trump has authorized FEMA to use Stafford Act disaster relief funds to provide supplemental payments for lost wages due to the COVID-19 pandemic. FEMA will administer the lost wages assistance program that authorizes States to provide a $400 weekly payment. The Federal contribution from the DRF will be $300 per person per week. State's 25% cost share, required under DRF, can be met by their aggregate state unemployment insurance benefit. If a State chooses, they can provide an additional $100 per person per week using the Federal Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) or other State funds they can bring the total amount up to $400 for eligible recipients. States must apply through Grants.gov (Opportunity #: DHS-20-ONA-050-00-99) by September 10, 2020.

HUD Approves Flexibility for CDBG-Coronavirus Funds

On Friday, August 14, Secretary Ben Carson announced new flexibilities State and local governments can use in order to best utilize Community Development Block Grant (CDBG-CV) funds appropriated by the CARES Act, as well as other federal funds, to support their communities in the wake of the coronavirus outbreak. To date, HUD has provided over $3 billion in CDBG-CV funds nationwide to help communities combat coronavirus and alleviate economic hardship. HUD is also providing flexibility to communities who want to utilize their existing, non-CARES Act federal dollars to support their coronavirus recovery efforts.

Key new flexibilities available to communities in administering their CDBG-CV funds include:

- States may carry out activities directly or pass funds through to local governments in both rural and urban areas throughout the state. (Some funds must be set aside for rural areas.)
- Economic development rules updated and streamlined so grantees can move quickly to help small businesses, and
- Emergency payments to a provider or landlord on behalf of a family or individual, usually limited to 90 days, may extend for up to six months.

President Trump's Historic Coronavirus Response

President Trump's historic coronavirus response has taken bold action to protect all Americans. By utilizing the Defense Production Act (DPA) to secure needed supplies to combat the coronavirus, the President has harnessed the power of the government paired with the innovation of the private sector leading the largest mobilization effort in the U.S. since World War II to respond to the coronavirus.

President Trump's Historic Coronavirus Response

- ☐ Took early action to cut off travel from China
- ☐ Built the world's leading testing system from nothing
- ☐ Enacted mitigation measures to slow the spread
- ☐ Mobilized public and private sectors to secure needed supplies
- ☐ Took action to protect vulnerable Americans

President Donald J. Trump Is Using Every Available Resource to Deliver a Safe and Effective Vaccine to the American People

- ☐ Launched effort to deliver a vaccine and therapeutics
- ☐ Provided support to workers & businesses
- ☐ Paved way for reopening to get America working again
- ☐ Surged resources to hot spots as they arose
- ☐ Confronted China as origin of the virus while Democrats & media cowered

In addition, the White House Council of Economic Advisors just released a report that shows the significant effects the President's policies had on our economy.

Re: Illinois Freedom of Information Act Request

Dear FOIA Officer:

Pursuant to the Illinois Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), 5 ILCS § 140, American Oversight makes the following request for records.

The Trump administration has deployed federal law enforcement officers in problematic ways in recent months, and reports now indicate that one operation for such deployments—"Operation Legend"—has been largely unsuccessful in quelling violent crime.¹ Despite this apparent lack of success, the operation is being expanded to cities in states that may be pivotal in the coming presidential election, raising fears that the deployments are politically motivated.² American Oversight seeks records with the potential to shed light on state and local officials' communications with the Executive Office of the President in light of these deployments and other federal actions.

Requested Records

¹ Matt Zapotosky & Annie Gowen, Trump's Operation Legend Was Supposed to Combat Crime. It's Produced One Arrest, And Some See A Political Stunt, Wash. Post (July 23, 2020, 7:21 PM), https://www.washingtonpost.com/national-security/trumps-operation-legend-was-supposed-to-combat-crime-its-produced-one-arrest-and-some-see-a-political-stunt/2020/07/23/cf03eba6-cd09-11ea-91f1-28aca4d833a0_story.html.

² Kristine Phillips, Federal Agents, Officers Head to Detroit, Cleveland, Milwaukee as Operation Legend Expands, USA Today (July 29, 2020, 2:14 PM), <https://www.usatoday.com/story/news/politics/2020/07/29/operation-legend-doj-to-send-officers-to-detroit-cleveland-milwaukee/5535490002/>.

All email communications (including emails and email attachments) sent by 1) Mayor Lightfoot, Chief of Staff Maurice Classen, or Director of Intergovernmental Affairs Samantha Fields, to 2) anyone communicating from an email address ending in eop.gov.

Please provide all responsive records from July 15, 2020, through the date the search is conducted.

In an effort to accommodate your office and reduce the number of potentially responsive records to be processed and produced, American Oversight has limited its request to emails sent by the above officials. To be clear, however, American Oversight still requests that complete email chains be produced, displaying both sent and received messages. This means, for example, that both an official's response to an email from an eop.gov email address and the initial received message are responsive to this request and should be produced.

Fee Waiver Request

In accordance with 5 ILCS § 140/6(c), American Oversight requests a waiver of fees associated with processing this request for records. A waiver of fees for this request “is in the public interest” because “the principal purpose of the request is to access and disseminate information regarding the health, safety and welfare or the legal rights of the general public and is not for the principal purpose of personal or commercial benefit.”³

The public has a significant interest in Illinois officials' communications with the federal government in light of the major deployments of federal law enforcement officers to localities like Chicago.⁴ Records with the potential to shed light on this matter would contribute significantly to public understanding of operations of the interactions between state, local, and federal government, including whether the federal government is inappropriately using law enforcement officers over the objections of local leaders. American Oversight is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization committed to transparency and makes the responses agencies provide to FOIA requests publicly available. The public's understanding of the government's activities related to public health, safety, welfare, and legal rights would be enhanced through American Oversight's analysis and publication of these records.

American Oversight has also demonstrated its commitment to the public disclosure of documents and creation of editorial content through regular substantive analyses posted to its website.⁵ Examples reflecting this commitment to the public disclosure of documents and the creation of editorial content include the posting of records and analysis related to the organization's State Accountability Project covering voting rights issues in various states;⁶ posting records and analysis of federal and state governments' responses to the Coronavirus pandemic;⁷ posting records received as part of American Oversight's "Audit the Wall" project to gather and analyze information related to the Trump administration's proposed construction of a barrier along the U.S.-Mexico border, and analyses of what those records reveal;⁸ and the posting of records related to an ethics waiver received by a senior Department of Justice attorney and an analysis of what those records demonstrated regarding the Department's process for issuing such waivers.⁹

Moreover, this request is not made for a personal or commercial benefit.¹⁰ As a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, American Oversight does not have a commercial purpose and the release of the information requested is not in American Oversight's financial interest. American Oversight's mission is to promote transparency in government, to educate the public about government activities, and to ensure the accountability of government officials. American Oversight uses the information gathered, and its analysis of it, to educate the public through reports, press releases, or other media. American Oversight also makes materials it gathers available on its public website and promotes their availability on social media platforms, such as Facebook and Twitter.¹¹

In addition, because American Oversight is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization and the principal purpose of this request is “to access and disseminate information concerning news and current or passing events” and for “public research or education,” American Oversight should not be considered a “recurrent requester,” nor should this request be treated as a “voluminous request” under the Illinois FOIA. See 5 ILCS § 140/2(g)-(h).

Guidance Regarding the Search & Processing of Requested Records

In connection with its request for records, American Oversight provides the following guidance regarding the scope of the records sought and the search and processing of records:

- Our request for records includes any attachments to those records or other materials enclosed with those records when they were previously transmitted. To the extent that an email is responsive to our request, our request includes all prior messages sent or received in that email chain, as well as any attachments to the email.
- Please search all relevant records or systems containing records regarding agency business. Do not exclude records regarding agency business contained in files, email accounts, or devices in the personal custody of your officials, such as personal email accounts or text messages.
- In the event some portions of the requested records are properly exempt from disclosure, please disclose any reasonably segregable non-exempt portions of the requested records.¹² If a request is denied in whole, please state specifically why it is not reasonable to segregate portions of the record for release.
- Please take appropriate steps to ensure that records responsive to this request are not deleted by the agency before the completion of processing for this request. If records potentially responsive to this request are likely to be located on systems where they are subject to potential deletion, including on a scheduled basis, please take steps to prevent that deletion, including, as appropriate, by instituting a litigation hold on those records.

Conclusion

If you have any questions regarding how to construe this request for records or believe that further discussions regarding search and processing would facilitate a more efficient production of records of interest to American Oversight, please do not hesitate to contact American Oversight to discuss this request. American Oversight welcomes an opportunity to discuss its request with you before you undertake your search or incur search or duplication costs. By working together at the outset, American Oversight and your agency can decrease the likelihood of costly and time-consuming litigation in the future.

Where possible, please provide responsive material in an electronic format by email. Alternatively, please provide responsive material in native format or in PDF format on a USB drive. Local Officials and Leaders –

Today, jobs numbers for June far eclipsed economists' expectations. Our Nation's economy has broken another record as 4.8 million jobs were added in June, bringing the economic comeback to 7.5 million jobs added over the past two months. Employment increased significantly for most major sectors, with the largest gains in leisure and hospitality (2.1 million), retail trade (740,000), education and health services (568,000), and manufacturing (356,000). The overall unemployment rate fell by 2.2 points to 11.1%, beating forecasters' expectations by 1.4%. These data show Americans are returning to the workforce, and our nation's economy continues to recover.

And, this economic rebound is lifting up ALL Americans. African Americans gained 404,000 jobs, the second highest gain on record. The highest gain on record occurred just 2 months after President Trump signed the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act into law. The unemployment rate fell by 3.1 percentage points for Hispanic Americans and by 1.4 percentage points for African Americans. Teenagers saw a 6.7 percentage point reduction, and the female unemployment rate fell by 2.8 percentage points. President Trump Is Leading the Great American Comeback

RECORD JOBS NUMBERS

- The U.S. economy added an incredible 4.8 million jobs in June, the largest monthly increase ever recorded.
- The economy smashed expectations once again, beating estimates by 1.7 million jobs.
- Nearly 2.1 million leisure and hospitality, 740,000 retail, 356,000 manufacturing, and 158,000 construction jobs were added over the month.
- The number of jobs created in May was revised up another 190,000 jobs to 2.7 million jobs.
- The unemployment rate fell to 11.1 percent from 13.3 percent as millions of Americans got back to work, once again beating economists' predictions.
- The unemployment rate fell 1.4 percentage points more than predicted.
- An astounding 7.5 million jobs have been added over the past two months, as we begin to reverse the job losses caused by coronavirus.

LIFTING UP ALL AMERICANS

- Americans of all backgrounds saw huge gains in June as the great American comeback continues.
- Unemployment rates for Hispanic-Americans fell by 3.1 percentage points, women by 2.8 percentage points, and African-Americans by 1.4 percentage points.
- African American employment rose by 404,000 – the second largest gain on record.
- The number of African-American women employed increased by 267,000, the largest gain on record.
- The unemployment rate for Americans with a high school degree and no college dropped 3.2 percentage points.

Council of Economic Advisors: A Record 4.8 Million Jobs Created in June, Beating Record Set Last Month

Our Nation's economy has broken another record as 4.8 million jobs were added in June, bringing the economic comeback to 7.5 million jobs added over the past two months, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' June Employment Situation report.

May and June rank as the two largest monthly jobs gains in history, with June's numbers exceeding expectations once again. In June, nearly every major employment sector enjoyed a gain in jobs, with the leisure and hospitality industry seeing a gain of 2.1 million and retail trade increasing by 740,000. These gains likely reflect the reopening of State economies from May (based on the work week including May 12) through June (based on the work week including June 12).

Millions of Americans have felt the costs of the economic shutdown due to COVID-19, and while the speed of this recovery has far exceeded expectations, jobs have still not recovered the ground lost since the economic shutdown began. From February to April, nearly 22.2 million total jobs were lost. Over the past two months, 7.5 million (33.8 percent) of those jobs have returned. Figure 1 shows that while the leisure and hospitality industry saw the largest gains over the past two months, the industry still has 4.8 million jobs to make up to reach its pre-COVID level.

Additionally, the BLS June Employment Situation report estimates that the overall unemployment rate fell by a record 2.2 percentage points to 11.1 percent in June. The report also shows that the economy added 4.8 million jobs in June, the largest monthly increase ever recorded.

percentage points in June to 11.1 percent, and by 3.6 percentage points over the past two months.

The economic comeback has reduced unemployment across the board for several demographic groups. According to the BLS, the unemployment rate fell by 3.1 percentage points for Hispanic Americans and by 1.4 percentage points for Black Americans. In fact, Black Americans enjoyed the second largest employment gain on record, and female Black Americans over age 20 experienced the largest employment gain on record. Additionally, the female unemployment rate fell by 2.7 percentage points, which is larger than the decrease for men for the second straight month. As America's businesses have reopened, teenagers saw a 6.7 percentage point unemployment rate reduction last month, consistent with the large job gains in the leisure and hospitality and retail trade industries.

The successes in the jobs report should provide a source of optimism for all Americans as we look toward the future. For two consecutive months, we have experienced the largest job gains in history, and the resilience of the American people remains strong as we have recovered roughly one-third of the COVID-related job losses from March and April. As we look ahead, we should be mindful of the work that remains, so that the forgotten Americans are forgotten no more.

ICYMI | Historic Economic Revival Underway

Recent news shows signs of a historic economic revival in the United States.

CNBC: Record Jobs Gain of 4.8 Million in June Smashes Expectations; Unemployment Rate Falls to 11.1%

“Nonfarm payrolls soared by 4.8 million in June and the unemployment rate fell to 11.1% as the U.S. continued its reopening from the coronavirus pandemic, the Labor Department said Thursday. Economists surveyed by Dow Jones had been expecting a 2.9 million increase and a jobless rate of 12.4%. The report was released a day earlier than usual due to the July Fourth holiday. The jobs growth marked a big leap from the 2.7 million in May, which was revised up by 190,000. The June total is easily the largest single-month gain in U.S. history.”

BLOOMBERG: U.S. Consumer Confidence Posts Biggest Increase Since Late 2011

Our Nation's economy has broken another record as 4.8 million jobs were added in June, bringing the economic comeback to 7.5 million jobs added over the past two months, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' June Employment Situation report.

May and June rank as the two largest monthly jobs gains in history, with June's numbers exceeding expectations once again. In June, nearly every major employment sector enjoyed a gain in jobs, with the leisure and hospitality industry seeing a gain of 2.1 million and retail trade increasing by 740,000. These gains likely reflect the reopening of State economies from May (based on the work week including May 12) through June (based on the work week including June 12).

Millions of Americans have felt the costs of the economic shutdown due to COVID-19, and while the speed of this recovery has far exceeded expectations, jobs have still not recovered the ground lost since the economic shutdown began. From February to April, nearly 22.2 million total jobs were lost. Over the past two months, 7.5 million (33.8 percent) of those jobs have returned. Figure 1 shows that while the leisure and hospitality industry saw the largest gains over the past two months, the industry still has 4.8 million jobs to make up to reach its pre-COVID level.

Additionally, the BLS June Employment Situation report estimates that the overall unemployment rate fell by a record 2.2 percentage points to 11.1 percent in June, down from 13.3 percent in May. The report also shows that the economy added 4.8 million jobs in June, the largest monthly gain since the start of the pandemic. The leisure and hospitality sector added 2.1 million jobs, while retail trade added 740,000 jobs. The manufacturing sector added 356,000 jobs, and construction added 158,000 jobs. The report also shows that the economy added 7.5 million jobs over the past two months, as we begin to reverse the job losses caused by coronavirus.

percentage points in June to 11.1 percent, and by 3.6 percentage points over the past two months.

The economic comeback has reduced unemployment across the board for several demographic groups. According to the BLS, the unemployment rate fell by 3.1 percentage points for Hispanic Americans and by 1.4 percentage points for Black Americans. In fact, Black Americans enjoyed the second largest employment gain on record, and female Black Americans over age 20 experienced the largest employment gain on record. Additionally, the female unemployment rate fell by 2.7 percentage points, which is larger than the decrease for men for the second straight month. As America's businesses have reopened, teenagers saw a 6.7 percentage point unemployment rate reduction last month, consistent with the large job gains in the leisure and hospitality and retail trade industries.

The successes in the jobs report should provide a source of optimism for all Americans as we look toward the future. For two consecutive months, we have experienced the largest job gains in history, and the resilience of the American people remains strong as we have recovered roughly one-third of the COVID-related job losses from March and April. As we look ahead, we should be mindful of the work that remains, so that the forgotten Americans are forgotten no more.

ICYMI | Historic Economic Revival Underway

Recent news shows signs of a historic economic revival in the United States.

CNBC: Record Jobs Gain of 4.8 Million in June Smashes Expectations; Unemployment Rate Falls to 11.1%

“Nonfarm payrolls soared by 4.8 million in June and the unemployment rate fell to 11.1% as the U.S. continued its reopening from the coronavirus pandemic, the Labor Department said Thursday. Economists surveyed by Dow Jones had been expecting a 2.9 million increase and a jobless rate of 12.4%. The report was released a day earlier than usual due to the July Fourth holiday. The jobs growth marked a big leap from the 2.7 million in May, which was revised up by 190,000. The June total is easily the largest single-month gain in U.S. history.”

BLOOMBERG: U.S. Consumer Confidence Posts Biggest Increase Since Late 2011

“The Conference Board’s index jumped by 12.2 points to 98.1, the biggest one-month gain since late 2011, according to a report Tuesday. The median estimate in a Bloomberg survey of economists had called for a reading of 91.5.”

BUSINESS INSIDER: Top US Manufacturing Index Jumped the Most Since 1980 in June As Reopenings Spurred Growth

“A key measure of US manufacturing leaped back into growth territory in June as factories reopened and state economies turned back online. The Institute for Supply Management’s manufacturing index surged 9.5 points to 52.6 last month, its biggest increase since 1980. June’s increase brings the metric to a 14-month high and pushes it above the key threshold of 50 for the first time since February.”

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL: U.S. Retail Sales Rose Record 18% in May

“U.S. shoppers opened their pocketbooks at malls and auto dealerships in May as states eased restrictions to contain the novel coronavirus, boosting retail spending and adding another sign the economy is recovering from earlier lockdowns to contain the pandemic.”

BUSINESS INSIDER: Economic Growth 'Increased Substantially' in May as Employment Improved, Chicago Fed Says

“The central bank’s National Activity Index leaped to 2.61 last month from -17.89 in April, offering investors the latest hint of a V-shaped economic recovery. The gauge’s three-month moving average rose to -6.65 from -7.5.”

MARKETWATCH: Philly Fed Manufacturing Index Shows Signs of Improvement in June

“A gauge of manufacturing in the mid-Atlantic region showed conditions were improving, the Philadelphia Fed said Thursday. The regional Fed’s business conditions index rose to 27.5 in June from negative 43.1 in the prior month.”

REUTERS: Pending Home Sales Jump a Record 44.3% in May

“Contracts to buy U.S. previously owned homes rebounded by the most on record in May, suggesting the housing market was starting to turn around after being hammered by the COVID-19 pandemic along with the rest of the economy. The National Association of Realtors said on Monday its Pending Home Sales Index, based on contracts signed last month, surged 44.3% last month, the largest increase since the series started in 2001, to 99.6.”

CNBC: Homebuilder Sentiment Posts Biggest Monthly Surge Ever, a Sign Housing is Rebounding from Coronavirus

“A faster-than-expected turnaround in homebuyer demand, following a sharp drop-off at the start of the coronavirus pandemic, has the nation’s homebuilders bullish on their business again. Builder sentiment jumped a striking 21 points in June to 58, the largest monthly increase ever in the National Association of Home Builders/Wells Fargo Housing Market Index. Any reading above 50 indicates a positive market.”

Fox Business’ Maria Bartiromo: “Much better than expected #Jobs June Jobs ↑ 4.8-million versus an estimate of 3-million 456-k manufacturing jobs.”

Fox Business’ Melissa Francis: “June Jobs Report CRUSHES! 4.8M Americans Went Back to Work Last Month. #Jobs!”

Allianz Chief Economic Adviser Mohamed El-Erian: “Almost every element of the #jobs report, including labor force participation and compositional aspects, is notably strong pointing to the #economy’s underlying resilience/dynamism.”

Fox Business’ Edward Lawrence: “This is amazing...a good report anywhere you look at it.”

Fox Business’ Charles Payne: “June Jobs Report Blows Away Consensus - 4.8 million Americans Went Back to Work Last Month”

Fox News’ Gianni Caldwell: “We needed some good news America and we received it today. 4.8 million jobs added to the economy and 80% of small businesses open. The great American comeback is here. We are the most resilient people the world has seen.”

Breitbart News’ John Carney: “Blowout: The U.S. Economy Added 4.8 Million Jobs in June, Unemployment Fell to 11.1%”

CNBC’s Steve Liesman: “Leisure, hospitality bringing a lot of folks back.”

CNN’s Christine Romans: “Big hiring – 4.8 million jobs hired in June.”

The Hill’s Joe Concha: “Wow- 4.8 million jobs added in June. 7.3 million jobs added in the past two months. Q2 was supposed to be disastrous on the jobs front, but recovery happening most faster than expected.”

MSNBC Economic Analyst Steven Rattner: “There’s no other way to look at this but as good news.”

MSNBC’s Stephanie Ruhle: “June is when we saw the country start to reopen. All 50 states had some level of reopening. So, it’s a big positive to see this much hiring across the board.”

National Review’s Jim Geraghty: “Holy smokes, this news is so off-the-charts good, at first glance people might think it is a misprint: The U.S. economy added 4.8 million jobs in the month of June, and the unemployment rate dropped from 13.3 percent to 11.1 percent.”

Washington Examiner’s Tiana Lowe: “June jobs report smashes expectations with record 5 million jobs restored”

Subject: What You Need To Know: President Trump Signs Historic Executive Order on Safe Policing for Safe Communities

EXTERNAL: This email originated from outside the kcmo.org organization. Use caution and examine the sender address before replying or clicking links.

State and Local Leaders –

Today, June 16, President Donald J. Trump took historic action and signed an Executive Order on Safe Policing for Safe Communities (remarks; video). Prior to the signing, the President met with families who have lost loved ones to violence – many involving deadly interactions with police – and reiterated the Administration's commitment to deliver safety and security for Americans of every race and background. The Executive Order is the product of close collaboration with law enforcement professionals, community leaders, and impacted families and demonstrates the President's commitment to decisively advance common sense reforms that improve accountability, increase transparency, and invest more resources in police training, recruiting, and community engagement. "Americans can achieve anything when we work together as one national family," President Trump stated in remarks prior to the Executive Order signing. "To go forward, we must seek cooperation, not confrontation; we must build upon our heritage, not tear it down; and we must cherish the principles of America's founding as we strive to deliver safe, beautiful, elegant justice and liberty for all."

 The White House: President @realDonaldTrump announces "historic action to deliver a future of safety and security for Americans of every race, religion, color, and creed."

 The White House: "Reducing crime and raising standards are not opposite goals. They are not mutually exclusive. They work together."

 The White House: "In order to make real progress on public safety, we have to break old patterns of failure. Many of the same politicians now presenting themselves as the solution are the same ones who have failed for decades on schools, jobs, justice, and crime."

President Trump strongly believes in the rule of law, and through the Executive Order, has directed his Administration to seek reforms that improve the relationship between law enforcement and all communities. Importantly, the Executive Order represents a commitment by the President and the Administration to support – not defund – the brave men and women of law enforcement by providing them with necessary resources to implement best practices and protect the communities they serve. Key provisions include:

- Certification: The Justice Department will now allocate certain funding only to law enforcement agencies that meet high standards for use-of-force and de-escalation, as credentialed by reputable independent bodies. As part of this new credentialing, chokeholds will be banned except if an officer's life is at risk.
- Information Sharing: The Attorney General will create a database for federal, state, and local law enforcement to track terminations, criminal convictions, and civil judgments against law enforcement officers for excessive use-of-force.
- Mental Health: To protect both officers and our most vulnerable populations, the Administration will prioritize training for police and social workers who respond to incidents involving the mentally ill, addicted, and homeless.

Legislative Action: The Administration will develop and propose new legislation to Congress to build on these policies and boost community engagement.

President Donald J. Trump Is Taking Unprecedented Steps to Strengthen Relations Between Law Enforcement and Their Communities

“We must invest more energy and resources in police training and recruiting and community engagement.” – President Donald J. Trump

IMPLEMENTING BEST PRACTICES: President Donald J. Trump is taking historic action to increase the adoption of best practices in law enforcement and support a safe and secure America.

- President Trump is issuing a new Executive Order that will encourage law enforcement agencies to implement best practices and protect the communities they serve.
 - Our law enforcement officers provide critical protection to all Americans, and we need to work collectively to strengthen relationships across our country.
- Under the Order, the Attorney General will allocate certain grant funding to only those law enforcement agencies that meet high standards, including around use-of-force and de-escalation, as credentialed by reputable independent bodies.
- The Order provides incentives for law enforcement agencies to use a nationwide database to track terminations, criminal convictions, and civil judgments against law enforcement officers for excessive use-of-force, which will create accountability between agencies.
- The Administration will prioritize training and other programs for police and social workers responding to incidents involving the mentally ill, addicted, and homeless.
- President Trump is directing his Administration to develop and propose new legislation to Congress to further the policies of the Order and build community engagement.

UNITING AMERICAN COMMUNITIES: President Trump is taking action to unite our Nation and ensure safer communities for all Americans.

- Every day, law enforcement officers make great sacrifices to keep our citizens safe.
 - Last year alone, 89 law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty.
- In 2018, our police arrested nearly 12,000 people for murder and manslaughter, 25,000 people for rape, and nearly 1.5 million for assault.
- The overwhelming majority of the law enforcement community bravely perform their duties with integrity and honor.
- Close ties between law enforcement and their communities are important in all communities.
- President Trump’s Order seeks to redouble our efforts as a Nation to engage directly with our neighbors and secure lasting relationships across all communities.

KEEPING AMERICANS SAFE: President Trump is improving fairness and equality in our criminal justice system, while keeping our communities safe.

- President Trump has led the way on groundbreaking criminal justice reform, taking a smart-on-crime approach to make our communities safer.
 - The President brought together a broad coalition including law enforcement, faith groups, community organizations, and more to support the First Step Act.
- The President established the Presidential Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice, examining how to improve community relations between the public and law enforcement.
- President Trump revitalized Project Safe Neighborhoods to help reduce violent crime in communities all around the country.
- Thanks to the President’s efforts, both the violent crime rate and murder rate in America have fallen for two consecutive years.

What They Are Saying | Support for President Trump’s Action to Promote Safe Policing and Safe Communities

Fraternal Order of Police National President Patrick Yoes: We have reviewed the language of President Trump’s Executive Order and support its goals and methodology. It strikes a great balance between the vital need for public and officer safety, and the equally vital need for lasting, meaningful, and enforceable police reform.

Fraternal Order of Police National Vice President Joe Gamaldi: I think we're going to embrace these reforms ... We heard America. We heard Americans. We were listening. We understood that reforms needed to happen. That commonsense solutions to these problems needed to be presented. And I think that's what you saw here today.

National Sheriffs' Association Incoming President Dave Mahoney: We look forward to assisting the administration and Congress to implement these orders for the betterment of law enforcement and our nation.

Major County Sheriffs of America: The Major County Sheriffs of America (MCSA) appreciates the President's action to advance law enforcement accountability and preserve public safety through his Executive Order. (tweet and full statement)

Former D.C. Police Chief Charles Ramsey: This is a good start, and you know, the acknowledgement that you need to have some kind of national database, de-escalation training, having, you know, teams of people respond to some of these calls instead of just police officers, that have the expertise to be able to, you know, de-escalate and deal with people in a mental health crisis...these are things that I think are very positive, moves in a right direction.

Brennan Center for Justice Senior Fellow Theodore Johnson: "I think the biggest thing is information sharing between federal agencies, the states, and the federal government is a good thing. The more those entities talk, which is difficult, the better it will be for those departments, as well as for the citizens that they serve."

Governor Bill Lee (TN): Proud of Director @rauschtbi for representing our state so well on the Presidential Commission on Law Enforcement. Thank you @POTUS for jumpstarting public safety reforms. (tweet)

Attorney General Ashley Moody (FL): Honored to join @realDonaldTrump and U.S. Attorney General William Barr, as the President signs an executive order to strengthen the trust between law enforcement and the communities they have sworn an oath to protect. (tweet)

Attorney General Chris Carr (GA): Today, @POTUS signed an #ExecutiveOrder with substantive and innovative solutions aimed at building #TRUST between law enforcement the communities they serve. We commend these actions, and we look forward to doing our part here in Georgia. (tweet)

Attorney General Daniel Cameron (KY): I applaud @POTUS/@realDonaldTrump's executive order today, which flatly rejects the radical notion of defunding the police in favor of reasonable, commonsense measures that will encourage safe policing and strengthen the relationship between law enforcement and our communities. (tweet)

Attorney General Alan Wilson (SC): The President's exec. order on Safe Policing brings needed improvements that will mean safer communities. Grant $ only to agencies that meet high standards, incl. improved use-of-force and de-escalation policies and training, credentialed by independent bodies.

Attorney General Sean Reyes (UT): The @WhiteHouse executive order on Safe Policing and Standards for De-escalation Training signed by @POTUS today directs grants to support peace officers in constructive community engagement and provides more resources for co-responders. ... These federal resources for peace officers and co-responders are a powerful step forward for law enforcement & the communities they selflessly serve each day. (tweet)

House Minority Leader Kevin McCarthy (CA): Today's action by President Trump marks the first step in helping our cops serve their communities better. • Better training • More transparency • New accountability.

House Minority Whip Steve Scalise (LA): @realDonaldTrump just signed a bold executive order on police reform. We must do all three: – Ensure equal justice – Support police officers who uphold their oath – Introduce better training and accountability 'Defund the police' is not a serious solution.

Sen. Tim Scott (SC): Very emotional meeting at the White House this morning with families of those killed by police in recent years. So grateful they are willing to share their powerful stories, and pleased to hear the President and AG commit to helping find answers and solutions.

Sen. Kelly Loeffler (GA): Thank you, @POTUS @realDonaldTrump, for your leadership in addressing police reforms. The solution isn't to 'defund the police,' it is to provide more support and accountability. With today's executive order, we're taking a strong step to enhanced training and communication.

Sen. Martha McSally (AZ): The executive order announced by @POTUS is a big step in the right direction & we are working in the Senate on further reforms.

Subject: What You Need To Know: President Trump Signs Historic Executive Order on Safe Policing for Safe Communities

EXTERNAL: This email originated from outside the kcmo.org organization. Use caution and examine the sender address before replying or clicking links.

State and Local Leaders –

Today, June 16, President Donald J. Trump took historic action and signed an Executive Order on Safe Policing for Safe Communities (remarks; video). Prior to the signing, the President met with families who have lost loved ones to violence – many involving deadly interactions with police – and reiterated the Administration's commitment to deliver safety and security for Americans of every race and background. The Executive Order is the product of close collaboration with law enforcement professionals, community leaders, and impacted families and demonstrates the President's commitment to decisively advance common sense reforms that improve accountability, increase transparency, and invest more resources in police training, recruiting, and community engagement. "Americans can achieve anything when we work together as one national family," President Trump stated in remarks prior to the Executive Order signing. "To go forward, we must seek cooperation, not confrontation; we must build upon our heritage, not tear it down; and we must cherish the principles of America's founding as we strive to deliver safe, beautiful, elegant justice and liberty for all."

 The White House: President @realDonaldTrump announces "historic action to deliver a future of safety and security for Americans of every race, religion, color, and creed."

 The White House: "Reducing crime and raising standards are not opposite goals. They are not mutually exclusive. They work together."

 The White House: "In order to make real progress on public safety, we have to break old patterns of failure. Many of the same politicians now presenting themselves as the solution are the same ones who have failed for decades on schools, jobs, justice, and crime."

President Trump strongly believes in the rule of law, and through the Executive Order, has directed his Administration to seek reforms that improve the relationship between law enforcement and all communities. Importantly, the Executive Order represents a commitment by the President and the Administration to support – not defund – the brave men and women of law enforcement by providing them with necessary resources to implement best practices and protect the communities they serve. Key provisions include:

- Certification: The Justice Department will now allocate certain funding only to law enforcement agencies that meet high standards for use-of-force and de-escalation, as credentialed by reputable independent bodies. As part of this new credentialing, chokeholds will be banned except if an officer's life is at risk.
- Information Sharing: The Attorney General will create a database for federal, state, and local law enforcement to track terminations, criminal convictions, and civil judgments against law enforcement officers for excessive use-of-force.
- Mental Health: To protect both officers and our most vulnerable populations, the Administration will prioritize training for police and social workers who respond to incidents involving the mentally ill, addicted, and homeless.

Legislative Action: The Administration will develop and propose new legislation to Congress to build on these policies and boost community engagement.

President Donald J. Trump Is Taking Unprecedented Steps to Strengthen Relations Between Law Enforcement and Their Communities

“We must invest more energy and resources in police training and recruiting and community engagement.” – President Donald J. Trump

IMPLEMENTING BEST PRACTICES: President Donald J. Trump is taking historic action to increase the adoption of best practices in law enforcement and support a safe and secure America.

- President Trump is issuing a new Executive Order that will encourage law enforcement agencies to implement best practices and protect the communities they serve.
 - Our law enforcement officers provide critical protection to all Americans, and we need to work collectively to strengthen relationships across our country.
- Under the Order, the Attorney General will allocate certain grant funding to only those law enforcement agencies that meet high standards, including around use-of-force and de-escalation, as credentialed by reputable independent bodies.
- The Order provides incentives for law enforcement agencies to use a nationwide database to track terminations, criminal convictions, and civil judgments against law enforcement officers for excessive use-of-force, which will create accountability between agencies.
- The Administration will prioritize training and other programs for police and social workers responding to incidents involving the mentally ill, addicted, and homeless.
- President Trump is directing his Administration to develop and propose new legislation to Congress to further the policies of the Order and build community engagement.

UNITING AMERICAN COMMUNITIES: President Trump is taking action to unite our Nation and ensure safer communities for all Americans.

- Every day, law enforcement officers make great sacrifices to keep our citizens safe.
 - Last year alone, 89 law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty.
- In 2018, our police arrested nearly 12,000 people for murder and manslaughter, 25,000 people for rape, and nearly 1.5 million for assault.
- The overwhelming majority of the law enforcement community bravely perform their duties with integrity and honor.
- Close ties between law enforcement and their communities are important in all communities.
- President Trump’s Order seeks to redouble our efforts as a Nation to engage directly with our neighbors and secure lasting relationships across all communities.

KEEPING AMERICANS SAFE: President Trump is improving fairness and equality in our criminal justice system, while keeping our communities safe.

- President Trump has led the way on groundbreaking criminal justice reform, taking a smart-on-crime approach to make our communities safer.
 - The President brought together a broad coalition including law enforcement, faith groups, community organizations, and more to support the First Step Act.
- The President established the Presidential Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice, examining how to improve community relations between the public and law enforcement.
- President Trump revitalized Project Safe Neighborhoods to help reduce violent crime in communities all around the country.
- Thanks to the President’s efforts, both the violent crime rate and murder rate in America have fallen for two consecutive years.

What They Are Saying | Support for President Trump’s Action to Promote Safe Policing and Safe Communities

Fraternal Order of Police National President Patrick Yoes: We have reviewed the language of President Trump’s Executive Order and support its goals and methodology. It strikes a great balance between the vital need for public and officer safety, and the equally vital need for lasting, meaningful, and enforceable police reform.

Fraternal Order of Police National Vice President Joe Gamaldi: I think we're going to embrace these reforms ... We heard America. We heard Americans. We were listening. We understood that reforms needed to happen. That commonsense solutions to these problems needed to be presented. And I think that's what you saw here today.

National Sheriffs' Association Incoming President Dave Mahoney: We look forward to assisting the administration and Congress to implement these orders for the betterment of law enforcement and our nation.

Major County Sheriffs of America: The Major County Sheriffs of America (MCSA) appreciates the President's action to advance law enforcement accountability and preserve public safety through his Executive Order. (tweet and full statement)

Former D.C. Police Chief Charles Ramsey: This is a good start, and you know, the acknowledgement that you need to have some kind of national database, de-escalation training, having, you know, teams of people respond to some of these calls instead of just police officers, that have the expertise to be able to, you know, de-escalate and deal with people in a mental health crisis...these are things that I think are very positive, moves in a right direction.

Brennan Center for Justice Senior Fellow Theodore Johnson: "I think the biggest thing is information sharing between federal agencies, the states, and the federal government is a good thing. The more those entities talk, which is difficult, the better it will be for those departments, as well as for the citizens that they serve."

Governor Bill Lee (TN): Proud of Director @rauschtbi for representing our state so well on the Presidential Commission on Law Enforcement. Thank you @POTUS for jumpstarting public safety reforms. (tweet)

Attorney General Ashley Moody (FL): Honored to join @realDonaldTrump and U.S. Attorney General William Barr, as the President signs an executive order to strengthen the trust between law enforcement and the communities they have sworn an oath to protect. (tweet)

Attorney General Chris Carr (GA): Today, @POTUS signed an #ExecutiveOrder with substantive and innovative solutions aimed at building #TRUST between law enforcement the communities they serve. We commend these actions, and we look forward to doing our part here in Georgia. (tweet)

Attorney General Daniel Cameron (KY): I applaud @POTUS/@realDonaldTrump's executive order today, which flatly rejects the radical notion of defunding the police in favor of reasonable, commonsense measures that will encourage safe policing and strengthen the relationship between law enforcement and our communities. (tweet)

Attorney General Alan Wilson (SC): The President's exec. order on Safe Policing brings needed improvements that will mean safer communities. Grant $ only to agencies that meet high standards, incl. improved use-of-force and de-escalation policies and training, credentialed by independent bodies.

Attorney General Sean Reyes (UT): The @WhiteHouse executive order on Safe Policing and Standards for De-escalation Training signed by @POTUS today directs grants to support peace officers in constructive community engagement and provides more resources for co-responders. ... These federal resources for peace officers and co-responders are a powerful step forward for law enforcement & the communities they selflessly serve each day. (tweet)

House Minority Leader Kevin McCarthy (CA): Today's action by President Trump marks the first step in helping our cops serve their communities better. • Better training • More transparency • New accountability.

House Minority Whip Steve Scalise (LA): @realDonaldTrump just signed a bold executive order on police reform. We must do all three: – Ensure equal justice – Support police officers who uphold their oath – Introduce better training and accountability 'Defund the police' is not a serious solution.

Sen. Tim Scott (SC): Very emotional meeting at the White House this morning with families of those killed by police in recent years. So grateful they are willing to share their powerful stories, and pleased to hear the President and AG commit to helping find answers and solutions.

Sen. Kelly Loeffler (GA): Thank you, @POTUS @realDonaldTrump, for your leadership in addressing police reforms. The solution isn't to 'defund the police,' it is to provide more support and accountability. With today's executive order, we're taking a strong step to enhanced training and communication.

Subject: What You Need To Know: The Trump Administration Is Supporting and Protecting Our Nation's Seniors

EXTERNAL: This email originated from outside the kcmo.org organization. Use caution and examine the sender address before replying or clicking links.

State and Local Leaders –

In April, President Donald J. Trump signed a Presidential Proclamation recognizing May 2020 as Older Americans Month. “My Administration remains committed to enacting policies that benefit our Nation’s older adults,” the proclamation states. On Monday, June 15 – Elder Abuse Awareness Day – President Donald J. Trump and Vice President Mike Pence participated in a roundtable discussion with Senior Administration Officials to highlight their respective efforts to safeguard America’s senior citizens (remarks; video). Older Americans have been hit especially hard by the coronavirus pandemic, and President Trump and the Administration have worked closely State and local officials, healthcare experts, and other stakeholders to protect them.

In a bipartisan effort, President Trump signed the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act to provide funding for nursing home inspections, launched an initiative to deliver personal protective equipment (PPE) to more than 15,000 nursing homes, and expanded testing facilities around the country through unprecedented private-public partnerships. And last month, President Trump announced a new program to address the rising price of insulin by providing Medicare patients with new choices of Part D plans that offer insulin at an affordable and predictable cost of no more than $35 for a month’s supply. HHS has also prohibited medical providers who take emergency COVID-19 funds from surprise billing (find more on previous Administration actions related to surprise billing here). And finally, the Administration is working with State and local leaders to crack down on elder fraud. Learn more about those efforts from the Department of Justice’s Elder Justice Initiative (EJI) here. For more, see a helpful Fact sheet below – President Trump Will Always Fight for America’s Seniors – and here (President Donald J. Trump Remains Committed to Caring for Our Nation’s Seniors During the Coronavirus Pandemic and Beyond).

Vice President Mike Pence: From the earliest days of our Administration, President @realDonaldTrump has fought tirelessly to protect our Nation’s most vulnerable. Today, we strengthened our commitment to fighting for America’s Seniors as we continue our whole-of-America response to the Coronavirus.

The White House: “The President has been focused on making sure our seniors in nursing homes are safe and protected,” @CMSGOV Administrator @SeemaCMS tells @NexstarDC’s @morganwrightTV prior to a roundtable with @realDonaldTrump at the White House.

Recent and Ongoing Supportive Actions by the Trump Administration to Support and Protect Our Nation’s Seniors

- President Trump Announces Lower Out of Pocket Insulin Costs for Medicare’s Seniors: Under President Trump’s leadership, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) announced that over 1,750 standalone Medicare Part D prescription drug plans and Medicare Advantage plans with prescription drug coverage have applied to offer lower insulin costs through the Part D Senior Savings Model for the 2021 plan year. Across the Nation, participating enhanced Part D plans will provide many seniors with Medicare access to a broad set of insulins at a maximum $35 copay for a month’s supply of each type of insulin (read more here). This announcement builds on previous actions taken by the Administration to improve the accessibility, quality, and affordability of healthcare and prescription drugs for our Nation’s seniors. Average basic premiums for Medicare Part D prescription drug plans are the lowest in 7 years and have fallen by 13.5 percent since 2017, saving beneficiaries

$1.9 billion in premium costs. Just last year, the President signed an Executive Order to empower seniors with more choice and access in healthcare and improve the fiscal sustainability of Medicare. This order will eliminate unnecessary barriers and combat fraud, waste, and abuse in Medicare, improving the program and maximizing freedom for patients and providers.

President Trump Signs Executive Order on Protecting and Improving Medicare for Our Nation's Seniors: In keeping with his pledge to defend Medicare for the nation's seniors, on October 3, 2019, President Donald Trump signed an Executive Order on Protecting and Improving Medicare for Our Nation's Seniors. The Executive Order protects and improves Medicare by providing Medicare Advantage with new tools and options for seniors, reducing unnecessary and burdensome regulations, and targeting fraud and abuse in the Medicare system. "Our vision for the future of health in America has four crucial parts: we will protect vulnerable patients; we will deliver the affordability you need; we will give you the options and control you want, and we will provide the quality you deserve," President Trump stated during the Executive Order signing at The Villages in Florida. You can find a full video of President Trump's remarks here (President Trump Delivers Remarks and Signs Executive Order) and a helpful Fact Sheet.

The Trump Administration Is Expanding Telehealth for Seniors and All Americans: Under the President's leadership and at the direction of the White House Task Force, the Trump Administration has taken historic steps to expand Americans' access to telehealth, so that patients, particularly our Medicare beneficiaries, can receive a wider range of services without having to travel to a healthcare facility (read more from Surgeon General Jerome Adams and CMS Administrator Seema Verma – Telehealth Plays Big Role in Coronavirus Cure). States are also examining their own policies to determine if there are undue barriers to maximizing telehealth service delivery for their residents in this time of national emergency. States have broad authority to deliver and reimburse Medicaid covered services through telehealth modalities, and additional federal approval is often not required to do so. The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) has issued guidance on telehealth reimbursement and coverage options in the Medicaid program here.

The Trump Administration Is Supporting Nursing Homes and Senior Care Centers During the Coronavirus Pandemic: On April 30, President Trump delivered remarks on the many ways the Administration is protecting America's seniors from the COVID-19 pandemic and will continue to do so as we start the process of opening up America again. Among additional actions, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) will send supplemental shipments of personal protective equipment to all 15,400 Medicaid and Medicare-certified nursing homes in America. In addition, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid (CMS) is providing States with $81 million from the CARES Act to increase their inspections of nursing homes at this crucial time. More here. Concurrently, CMS also announced a new, independent Commission that will conduct a comprehensive assessment of the nursing home response to the coronavirus pandemic.

CMS Unveils Enhanced Enforcement Actions Based on Nursing Home COVID-19 Data and Inspection Results: On June 1, CMS unveiled enhanced enforcement for nursing homes with violations of longstanding infection control practices. This announcement builds on the previous actions CMS has taken to ensure the safety and security of America's nursing homes as the nation battles coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19), and is a key step in the Trump Administration's Guidelines for Opening Up America Again. The enhanced and targeted accountability measures are based on early trends in the most recent data regarding incidence of COVID-19 in nursing homes, as well as data regarding the results of the agency's targeted infection control inspections. CMS is increasing enforcement (e.g., civil money penalties (CMPs)) for facilities with persistent infection control violations, and imposing enforcement actions on lower level infection control deficiencies to ensure they are addressed with increased gravity.

CMS Issues Nursing Homes Best Practices Toolkit to Combat COVID-19: On May 13, under the direction of President Trump, CMS released a new toolkit developed to aid nursing homes, Governors, states, departments of health, and other agencies who provide oversight and assistance to these facilities, with additional resources to aid in the fight against the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic within nursing homes. The toolkit builds upon previous actions taken by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), which provide a wide range of tools and guidance to states, healthcare providers and others during the public health emergency.  - This order will eliminate unnecessary barriers and combat fraud, waste, and abuse in Medicare, improving the program and maximizing freedom for patients and providers.
- Thanks to President Trump's efforts to improve healthcare for seniors, Medicare Advantage premiums have fallen 28 percent since 2017 to a 13-year low.
- Under President Trump's leadership, the Administration has worked to approve record numbers of generic drugs – offering more affordable options for seniors.
- President Trump is committed to ending the scourge of surprise medical billing and has ensured that his Administration will always protect Americans with preexisting conditions.

To give seniors better access to the care they need, President Trump is taking action to lower the price of prescription drugs.

- President Trump has prioritized lowering prescription drug prices and has taken historic steps to do so, including releasing a groundbreaking blueprint to lower drug prices across the country and issuing rules to allow the importation of certain prescription drugs from Canada.
- The Administration recently announced that many Medicare plans will be offering lower out-of-pocket insulin costs for seniors for the 2021 plan year.
 - This action will provide critical relief to the many Medicare beneficiaries who rely on insulin.
- For the third year in a row, the average basic premium for Medicare Part D prescription drug prices has declined, saving beneficiaries $1.9 billion in premiums over time.

President Trump has worked tirelessly to protect seniors and ensure that they have access to needed resources during the coronavirus pandemic.

- President Trump's "Opening Up America Again" guidelines include direction for states to take special precautions to protect our seniors.

State and Local Leaders –

In April, President Donald J. Trump signed a Presidential Proclamation recognizing May 2020 as Older Americans Month. “My Administration remains committed to enacting policies that benefit our Nation’s older adults,” the proclamation states. On Monday, June 15 – Elder Abuse Awareness Day – President Donald J. Trump and Vice President Mike Pence participated in a roundtable discussion with Senior Administration Officials to highlight their respective efforts to safeguard America’s senior citizens (remarks; video). Older Americans have been hit especially hard by the coronavirus pandemic, and President Trump and the Administration have worked closely State and local officials, healthcare experts, and other stakeholders to protect them.

In a bipartisan effort, President Trump signed the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act to provide funding for nursing home inspections, launched an initiative to deliver personal protective equipment (PPE) to more than 15,000 nursing homes, and expanded testing facilities around the country through unprecedented private-public partnerships. And last month, President Trump announced a new program to address the rising price of insulin by providing Medicare patients with new choices of Part D plans that offer insulin at an affordable and predictable cost of no more than $35 for a month’s supply. HHS has also prohibited medical providers who take emergency COVID-19 funds from surprise billing (find more on previous Administration actions related to surprise billing here). And finally, the Administration is working with State and local leaders to crack down on elder fraud. Learn more about those efforts from the Department of Justice’s Elder Justice Initiative (EJI) here. Recent and Ongoing Supportive Actions by the Trump Administration to Support and Protect Our Nation’s Seniors

- President Trump Announces Lower Out of Pocket Insulin Costs for Medicare’s Seniors: Under President Trump’s leadership, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) announced that over 1,750 standalone Medicare Part D prescription drug plans and Medicare Advantage plans with prescription drug coverage have applied to offer lower insulin costs through the Part D Senior Savings Model for the 2021 plan year. Across the Nation, participating enhanced Part D plans will provide many seniors with Medicare access to a broad set of insulins at a maximum $35 copay for a month’s supply of each type of insulin (read more here). This announcement builds on previous actions taken by the Administration to improve the accessibility, quality, and affordability of healthcare and prescription drugs for our Nation’s seniors. Average basic premiums for Medicare Part D prescription drug plans are the lowest in 7 years and have fallen by 13.5 percent since 2017, saving beneficiaries

$1.9 billion in premium costs. Just last year, the President signed an Executive Order to empower seniors with more choice and access in healthcare and improve the fiscal sustainability of Medicare. This order will eliminate unnecessary barriers and combat fraud, waste, and abuse in Medicare, improving the program and maximizing freedom for patients and providers.

President Trump Signs Executive Order on Protecting and Improving Medicare for Our Nation's Seniors: In keeping with his pledge to defend Medicare for the nation's seniors, on October 3, 2019, President Donald Trump signed an Executive Order on Protecting and Improving Medicare for Our Nation's Seniors. The Executive Order protects and improves Medicare by providing Medicare Advantage with new tools and options for seniors, reducing unnecessary and burdensome regulations, and targeting fraud and abuse in the Medicare system. "Our vision for the future of health in America has four crucial parts: we will protect vulnerable patients; we will deliver the affordability you need; we will give you the options and control you want, and we will provide the quality you deserve," President Trump stated during the Executive Order signing at The Villages in Florida. You can find a full video of President Trump's remarks here (President Trump Delivers Remarks and Signs Executive Order) and a helpful Fact Sheet.

The Trump Administration Is Expanding Telehealth for Seniors and All Americans: Under the President's leadership and at the direction of the White House Task Force, the Trump Administration has taken historic steps to expand Americans' access to telehealth, so that patients, particularly our Medicare beneficiaries, can receive a wider range of services without having to travel to a healthcare facility (read more from Surgeon General Jerome Adams and CMS Administrator Seema Verma – Telehealth Plays Big Role in Coronavirus Cure). States are also examining their own policies to determine if there are undue barriers to maximizing telehealth service delivery for their residents in this time of national emergency. States have broad authority to deliver and reimburse Medicaid covered services through telehealth modalities, and additional federal approval is often not required to do so. The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) has issued guidance on telehealth reimbursement and coverage options in the Medicaid program here.

The Trump Administration Is Supporting Nursing Homes and Senior Care Centers During the Coronavirus Pandemic: On April 30, President Trump delivered remarks on the many ways the Administration is protecting America's seniors from the COVID-19 pandemic and will continue to do so as we start the process of opening up America again. Among additional actions, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) will send supplemental shipments of personal protective equipment to all 15,400 Medicaid and Medicare-certified nursing homes in America. In addition, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid (CMS) is providing States with $81 million from the CARES Act to increase their inspections of nursing homes at this crucial time. More here. Concurrently, CMS also announced a new, independent Commission that will conduct a comprehensive assessment of the nursing home response to the coronavirus pandemic.

CMS Unveils Enhanced Enforcement Actions Based on Nursing Home COVID-19 Data and Inspection Results: On June 1, CMS unveiled enhanced enforcement for nursing homes with violations of longstanding infection control practices. This announcement builds on the previous actions CMS has taken to ensure the safety and security of America's nursing homes as the nation battles coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19), and is a key step in the Trump Administration's Guidelines for Opening Up America Again. The enhanced and targeted accountability measures are based on early trends in the most recent data regarding incidence of COVID-19 in nursing homes, as well as data regarding the results of the agency's targeted infection control inspections. CMS is increasing enforcement (e.g., civil money penalties (CMPs)) for facilities with persistent infection control violations, and imposing enforcement actions on lower level infection control deficiencies to ensure they are addressed with increased gravity.

CMS Issues Nursing Homes Best Practices Toolkit to Combat COVID-19: On May 13, under the direction of President Trump, CMS released a new toolkit developed to aid nursing homes, Governors, states, departments of health, and other agencies who provide oversight and assistance to these facilities, with additional resources to aid in the fight against the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic within nursing homes. The toolkit builds upon previous actions taken by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), which provide a wide range of tools and guidance to states, healthcare providers and others during the public health emergency. Subject: What You Need To Know: United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement Enters Into Force (TODAY, Wednesday, July 1)

State and Local Leaders –

TODAY, Wednesday, July 1, the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement (USMCA) enters into force. The USMCA delivers on President Trump's promise to replace the outdated North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) with a 21st century trade deal that marks the beginning of a historic new chapter for North American trade by supporting more balanced, reciprocal trade, leading to freer markets, fairer trade, and robust economic growth in North America (read U.S. Trade Representative Robert Lighthizer: USMCA, Replacing NAFTA Today, Is the Model for All Future Trade Agreements). The Agreement contains significant improvements and modernized approaches to rules of origin, agricultural market access, intellectual property, digital trade, financial services, labor, and numerous other sectors. These enhancements will deliver more jobs, provide stronger labor protections, and expand market access, creating new opportunities for American workers, farmers, and ranchers. You can also find additional details on the U.S. Customs & Border Protection work to implement USMCA here.

We hope that you will join with us TODAY in highlighting the USMCA's importance to your States and communities by sharing an Op-Ed, statement, press release, and/or social media post (Twitter, Facebook)– and encourage your colleagues to join with you in championing the agreement as well. Below, find additional information on the USMCA, helpful graphics to amplify your message, and statements of support from State and local leaders from across the country.

Key Takeaways

The USMCA is a complete overhaul of the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), with modern, strengthened, and rebalanced rules of trade and investment for North America. This 21st Century trade agreement sets high standards in areas that are crucial to America's continued growth, including manufacturing, digital trade, financial services, agriculture, and small business. And it's innovative provisions will help grow the economy and support additional jobs here in the United States, particularly in the manufacturing sector.

With today's entry into force, the USMCA will help address longstanding trade imbalances. Key provisions include:

- ü More North American Auto Content: Under USMCA's rules vehicles must be built with at least 75 percent of parts made in North America in order to qualify for zero tariffs, up from 62.5 percent under NAFTA. Also, 40 to 45 percent of an auto will have to be made by workers earning at least $16 an hour. Recent USTR analysis estimates that these rules will incentivize billions in new U.S. automotive investment and in new purchases of U.S.-made auto parts, and support tens of thousands of additional jobs in the U.S. automotive sector. Read the analysis here.
- ü Increased Agricultural Market Access: The USMCA provides the U.S. with greater access to Canada's dairy, poultry, and egg markets. Combined with other agricultural provisions in the agreement, the independent International Trade Commission estimates that, as a result of USMCA, U.S. agricultural exports to Canada and the rest of the world would

- ü Small and Medium Sized Businesses: The USMCA contains the first chapter of any trade agreement dedicated to Small and Medium Enterprises. The chapter will enforce new intellectual property provisions, bolster innovation, and support small businesses engaging in digital trade. Additionally, USMCA removes burdensome regulations, reduces duplicative red tape, and lowers costs that will help the 30 million U.S. small businesses that employ half the private-sector workforce and create two-thirds of all new jobs, to better compete globally.
- ü Enhanced Labor and Environmental Rights: The USMCA makes a number of significant upgrades to NAFTA's environmental and labor provisions, incorporates them into the core of the agreement, and makes them fully enforceable, which will help level the playing field for U.S. workers and businesses.
- ü Addresses Non-Market Practice and Unfair Subsidies: The agreement includes countless rules that directly address the pernicious and growing challenge of unfair subsidies and non-market practices that have the potential to disadvantage U.S. workers and businesses. These include new and enforceable provisions covering state-owned enterprises, currency manipulation, anticorruption, and combatting duty evasion.
- ü Increased Intellectual Property Protections: USMCA dramatically enhances intellectual property protections. It contains a modernized, high-standard IP chapter that provides strong and effective protection and enforcement of IP rights critical to driving innovation, creating economic growth, and supporting American jobs.
- ü Strongest Provisions on Digital Trade: The USMCA includes a first-of-its-kind chapter on digital trade that – among other things – ensures data can be transferred across borders and cracks down on data localization measures used to restrict where data can be stored and processed.

More on USMCA: Canada and Mexico are our first and third largest exports markets for United States food and agricultural products, making up 28 percent of total food and agricultural exports in 2017. These exports support more than 325,000 American jobs. In November 2018, President Trump signed the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement (USMCA) delivering on his promise to renegotiate the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) and protect American farmers, ranchers, businesses, and workers. The USMCA is a 21st century, high-standard agreement that modernizes the 25-year-old NAFTA and supports mutually beneficial trade leading to freer markets, fairer trade, and robust economic growth in North America. can find the Agreement's Text here, pertinent Fact Sheets here, and Support from State and Local Elected Officials here and here.
