Hi Deirdre,

I personally did the tour with one of the Powerhouse staff in the entire building from the 2nd floor to the 9th floor in the west building last night prior to conducting the tour with the Congresswoman's office and all of the executive staff. The temperatures were in the low 70's to nearly 80 degrees in the cells and housing units, these readings were taken with an air thermometer. The institution was within heating compliance and everything was operating normally. If it was any different trust and believe I would be the first to raise the issue. I really appreciate your concerns and also appreciate you clearing this matter with the press as well. Please don't hesitate to call me to clarify any concerns in the near future, I believe we both have the same goal and it is to fix the problems of the institution for the inmate population and Correction Officers. As I stated before this situation goes hand in hand, inmates moral in the prison dictates how the prison is ran on a safety and security level for both Officers and inmates.

Hi (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)

Thanks for taking the late-night tour to check on the heat. Our clients said it was out Wednesday and Thursday and very cold in their cells on 53, 62, and 73 and then sputtering on and off Friday. I will let the press know that it was checked last night on the 4th and 7th floor cells and it was good. You know I share your concern for CO safety. Let me know if I can help.

DEFENDANT'S SUBMISSION OF MEDICAL SUMMARY FOR RESENTENCING ON REMAND

Pursuant to a Privacy Act request made in early December, which Regional Counsel for the Bureau of Prisons requested that defense counsel use in lieu of a subpoena, the defense received about a week ago a 180-page file of BOP medical records concerning the defendant, Rafil Dhafir. At the request of defense counsel, the defendant's brother, Mazin Dhafir, M.D., of Grand Island, NY, reviewed these records and wrote a "plain English" summary of them for the Court and counsel. The records fully support the description of the defendant's current health problems, as described in the defendant's Memorandum on Resentencing and his Reply Memorandum. (No new issue is raised.) The summary is attached to this Submission. The complete records have also been provided to counsel for the government.

Re: Rafil A. Dhafir

To Whom It May Concern:

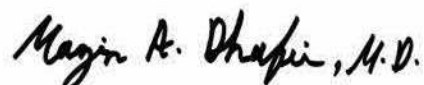

I have reviewed the 180 pages of the medical records of Rafil Dhafir, with many of his personal statements regarding his health for the last several months. The summary of these records regarding the status of his health, with my medical comments, are as the following:

1. Many of his medical problems were diagnosed soon after his imprisonment in February of 2003. This would include high blood pressure, high cholesterol, high blood sugar, and gout. The lack of special diet in prison can only make these serious diseases worse.
2. Gout can cause severe inflammation of joints which restricts the movement.
3. For several years, he has been suffering from the left foot tissue inflammation (known as fasciitis) with severe pain on walking causing him to restrict his movement and exercise, if any.
4. He has hernia (i.e. bulging of the bowels through the wall of the abdomen) on each groin, especially the right side. Since August/2010, his right sided hernia has been causing frequent attacks of pain due to pressure on the abdominal wall and restriction of bowel muscle activities. Once he stands up, the hernia bulges more and causes unbearable pain forcing him to sit down or lay flat. This has restricted his movement and activities tremendously.
5. The operation on his right hernia , dated 4/28/2011, was not successful since the site of the operation opened up again in August/2011, causing the hernia to come back allover again and has not been treated yet ever since.
6. The untreated severe Shoulders Tendinitis (Joint Tendon Inflammation) with severe pain since August/2007 has restricted his ability to move and/or exercise.

7. His Cataract (clouded eye lenses) of both eyes has limited his movement and activities to the point that he can not see his own food without his eyeglasses.
8. The untreated severe low back pain since December/2011 has even made it impossible to go anywhere with further restriction of movement and activities.
9. The main side effect of restricted movement is weight gain and loss of muscle strength especially around joints. Both of these issues are pushing or will push his blood pressure, cholesterol and sugar to get worse. This can only lead to heart attack or stroke where half of the body can be completely paralyzed. The more the muscles lose strength, the more joint restrictions will be and the more loss of activity occur and the more weight gain he will have. It is a vicious cycle of uncontrollable medical events.
10. The emotional stress related to the constant severe pain of the hernias, the shoulders, the left foot and the lower back and the broken tooth (which have never been fixed since December/2009), can only lead to high blood pressure and stroke.
11. Untreated hernia can cause , eventually, twisted bowels leading to bowel obstruction, gangrene (i.e. death of tissue) , and death.

In summary, it is my professional medical opinion that my brother, Rafil Dhafir, during his imprisonment, has suffered a dangerous combination of multiple medical events and has developed a mutually aggravating set of conditions, all of which is likely to lead to heart attack, stroke and quite possibly even his premature death.

MEMORANDUM FOR ALL REGIONAL DIRECTORS

FROM: Bradley T. Gross
Assistant Director
for Administration

SUBJECT: Buildings and Facilities Master Planning

The reduction of Modernization and Repair (M&R) funds we have received over the last several years is affecting the maintenance of our facilities. We are experiencing more catastrophic failures of major systems and equipment. During these times of M&R budget constraints, the BOP must become proactive and identify these major failures before they arise.

Due to the type and scope of infrastructure emergencies we are experiencing, I am requesting that during the Master Planning sessions accomplished this year, we narrow our focus to infrastructure and life safety. Please focus attention on major systems (e.g. HVAC, electrical, water, sewer), major assets (e.g. fences, elevators), and building envelopes (e.g. roofs, walls/support structures). These items should be observed during the Annual Buildings and Grounds Condition Assessment and reviewed by the Executive Staff and Facility Manager.

If there are any questions, please contact me or have your staff contact Ponciano J. Rangel III, Chief, Facilities Management Branch, at (202) 514-6464.

Someday We'll All Be Free - Donny Hathaway

Observations common to all units:

Pitch black in cells. Too dark to see medication labels or food given to eat.

No ability to make medical requests through the computer system.

Not able to obtain medication refills because the medical computer system is down. (Pill line still coming around, so those inmates who do not need new medical care or do not need a refill are receiving their medications.)

No family calls since Sunday, January 27, 2019.

No access to corrlinks since Sunday January 27, 2019.

No legal visits since Sunday, January 27, 2019.

Cannot review discovery because too dark in cells and computers not working.

No access provided to law library.

No clean clothes or sheets since Sunday, January 27, 2019. (Including no clean underwear)

Commissary closed since Friday, January 25, 2019, so cannot purchase additional clothing or food or stamps. Inmates who had not previously purchased additional clothes from commissary were wearing only short-sleeved shirt and light cotton pants. Inmates without stamps cannot write to their families.

Repeatedly required to eat meals in total darkness without being able to see their food.

No extra blankets or clothing provided.

Specific Housing Units:

Heat and access to hot water for showering varied from unit to unit, as did amount of time of lockdowns since the fire.

SHU (9th Floor)

Escorted by SHU Lt. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) who seemed caring and concerned. He explained that the main power conductor for the building had burned down on Sunday evening. The inmates on this unit were largely calm and primarily worried by the dark and not being able to leave their cells for rec.

The cells are pitch black inside. Emergency lighting in hallways. Inmates do not have flashlights or any other way to see in their cells.

Lt. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) confirmed the following: No one in SHU has been out of their cells at all (except a couple of medical cases) since Sunday. Ordinarily have one hour of recreation outside of cell each per day, but not this week. No family calls. No legal access. No extra blankets. No laundry. Ordinarily heat food on the units, but the food heater has no power, so now the food comes up from the kitchen and loses heat rapidly, but they try to serve it as fast as they can. Most SHU cells have two inmates, which presents safety concerns without lights, so the COs are trying to walk the unit more regularly. Even the SHU medical room has no lighting. Laundry delivered to the unit February 1, 2019 (for first time in a week). Lt. hopes to distribute clean underwear, socks, etc. this weekend.

The east side of the SHU (facing away from the water) was relatively warm. The west side (Range 4) was significantly colder. Inmates on that side appeared to be wrapped in blankets and towels. (Inmates on the other side were dressed normally).

A couple of SHU inmates told me that the ceiling in their cells was leaking and water from the last rain/snow wetting their beds. This, in combination with the cold, and no laundry for a week is very difficult, they said. I asked the Lt if anything could be done about water coming down onto people's beds in the freezing cold, and he said (with sympathy) no, that the roof has significant leaks that have not been fixed. The SHU inmates were receiving a hot meal when I was there.

We were permitted in an empty cell on the east side and the temperature felt okay, perhaps in the 60s.

We tested the shower water in an empty cell, and it went up to tepid after a few minutes.

Inmates repeatedly reported they were cold, needed clean underwear at the least, and felt awful from being in total darkness.

Notes on specific inmates I was able to speak to:

Inmate in cell 114 reported that ceiling is leaking over his bed (top bunk) and his sheets are wet, and now getting frozen. He has no other place to sleep (floor is cold concrete; he has a cellmate in the other bunk). Lt. confirms that several cells have leaking ceilings that have not been repaired.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)

Has Sickle Cell anemia and has not received medical care. Is on SHU until can receive medical attention (not in SHU for disciplinary issues). Is cold and scared.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Sam Jacobsen and Sabrina Shroff)

Wrapped in towels and blankets. Having trouble breathing.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)

Feels his mental health degrading from sitting in cell in dark for a week.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Julia Gatto)

He has hot water in his shower.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Jonathan Marvinny)

Please contact my lawyer.

Eighth Floor Housing Units

Everyone locked in. AW informs us this is only because of the count. We were only able to speak to the orderlies, because the count actively occurring at this time. Temperature fine in common areas. Emergency lighting in common areas. Pitch black in cells. We were not able to go into a cell.

AW informed us the inmates have had hot meals every day. The orderlies said today was the first day of hot food, previously it was cold food for every meal since the fire. They then looked at the AW and asked “are we going to get in trouble for saying that?”

K81 (cadre unit. 21 inmates)

Everyone locked in except the two orderlies. Temperature in common room fine.

K82 (cadre unit. 78 inmates)

Everyone locked in. Temperature in common room fine.

K84 (21 pre-trial inmates)

Everyone locked in. Temperature in common room fine.

K83 (59 pre-trial inmates)

Everyone locked in. Temperature in common room fine.

Seventh floor

Everyone was still locked in, even though the count was over, which the Assistant Warden now explained was because the elevators had been down this morning. It was again significantly colder on the unit facing the water. The inmates in the western facing unit were wrapped head to toe in blankets and towels. I spoke to many inmates through their cell doors. They said they had been locked in all day. No shower since Wednesday, and then only scant hot water. Cold food until today and they have to eat in their pitch black cells. Numerous inmates described asking for and not receiving medical care. Inmates who have run out of medication cannot receive refills, they are being told, until the computers come back up. One inmate who takes ten medications said he has his pills but can't see which is which. Inmates with asthma repeatedly reported trouble breathing in the cold. Several inmates taking medicine for bipolar disorder don't have their medication.

All were very upset about the lack of information as to when they will be able to speak to their families or lawyers.

The other side of the building was warmer. One unit on the 7th floor was let out just as we walked in. Many people wanted to speak to me, often on behalf of other inmates they were worried about for health reasons, including a young man with Crohn's Disease who looked emaciated, and a federal defender client whom I know about because he has repeatedly swallowed razor blades - he has not had psych medication for four days. An inmate with a gunshot wound to his hand showed me pus-filled bandages that have not been changed for two weeks.

J71

Count has ended but everyone is still locked in. AW says this is because elevators were out in the building earlier in the day, with only one elevator working. Inmates are angry and pounding on their cell doors and pressing their emergency buttons. Inmates tell us that they have been locked in all day with no explanation. Pitch black in cells.

AW says hot food every day. Inmates (including orderlies serving food) say today (February 1) is first day with hot food since the fire. They were previously let out to the common area, as usual, to eat their meals, but today have been forced to eat their meals in their cells in the dark.

Same clothes all week because no laundry.

Inmates say hot water in showers for only a few minutes and they all have to share those minutes. Investigator (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) and I test water and after a few minutes, it is fairly hot.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)

Tap water from the pipes seems polluted and to have particles in it.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Mitchell Elman)

Feels like he is in solitary, locked in the dark, with no ability to talk to anyone.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Gary Villaneuva)

Water very dirty. He and his cellmate experiencing constant diarrhea since Monday. Both are visibly (through cell window) wrapped in blankets and towels head to toe.

J72 (111 inmates)

All still locked in, despite count being over for some time. Two inmates being let out at a time to get their meals and then return to their dark cells and be locked in to eat.

We tested the shower water, which was relatively warm. Common room temperature was fine.

AW says other than today they have been out and about as regular since the fire. Every inmate (English and Spanish speakers, even an inmate I spoke to in French) contradicts this and says they have been let out of their cells in the days since the fire for a couple hours in the morning and a couple hours in the afternoon, but otherwise locked in.

Inmates on this unit report variable temperatures. On one side, their cells are very hot. No ventilation at all. On other side of the unit, feel cold wind coming out from the cracks of the cells.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Ben Yaster)

Severe asthma. When at home, uses oxygen mask, particularly at night. Given inhaler here, but gasping for breath. Yesterday pressed emergency button and told CO his chest was hurting and he felt like he was suffocating. CO closed door and did not return. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)'s cell mate expressed concern for him and said that he hears him gasp all night.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: David Touger)

Older man with congestive heart failure, allowed to have cell door open to speak to us. Explained he was blinded by a handball while at MDC and has hemorrhaging in his eye. Was taken to hospital 10 days after the incident, despite asking for medical care immediately, and doctors said he needed surgery or would go blind in that eye. No surgery has been provided. His eye is burning. Can't put in additional medical copouts because the computers are down.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C)

Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)

Congestive heart failure, kidney failure, prescribed 10 medications but can't see which is which in the dark and is afraid to take wrong one / wrong quantity. Went to (b)(7)(E); (b)(7)(F) when had heart attack but now needs follow up care.

J73

Inmates on this unit reported more significant lockdowns. They also had been locked in all day Friday, but also were locked down on Thursday, January 31, other than to eat meals and shower.

I could feel cold air from their cells blowing out the cracks and into the warmer air of the common room.

Sixth Floor

Inmates had been calling our office frantically on Thursday afternoon about the cold but we had heard no word from them all day Friday. All were locked in and they said they had been since yesterday afternoon. West side of building again much colder. I could feel cold wind through the cracks in the doors and inmates were covered head to toe with blankets and towels. These units had a panicky feeling. Many inmates reported untreated colds and flu. One man showed us his infected open leg wound through the cell window and told us his colitis is so bad that he woke up bloody - and no fresh sheets are available. He shoved his medical records through the door crack and the USAO Investigator and I saw that indeed he has colitis and an infected wound and seizure disorder. No clean underwear or socks for a week. Mostly cold food. Several inmates have sentencing next week and haven't been able to speak to their lawyers. No extra blankets provided (the AW agreed with this but said she would check the heat when I pointed out the cold gusts from their cells). Many inmates noted they are pre-trial and yet being treated like they are in SHU. They were very upset to not even be allowed into the common areas that have the emergency lights. Several inmates showed me cups with brown or cloudy water from the tap and said it is not drinkable.

Acrid smell on the floor, particularly the upper tier.

The following inmates were on the sixth floor, but I did not note their units.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Gary Becker) (DAB)
Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) showed us his swollen leg that had an open, and visibly infected wound and described waking up that morning in a small pool of blood on his sheets from his colitis. (He also noted that because they are locked in and have no access to clean sheets, he will sleep on the bloody sheets.). Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) put his medical records from (b)(7)(E); (b)(7)(F) through the crack in the door. The records indicated a wound that will not heal and requires antibiotic treatment daily, ulcerative colitis and seizure disorder. Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) indicated that since returning from the hospital he has not received antibiotic cream and the wound has worsened. He has been told by the COs to wash it with soap and water. There is no longer soap available on his unit because commissary is closed and the soap has run out.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Roland Acevedo)
Sentenced 12/6/18 and designated but has not been transferred. Fell off top bunk earlier in the week and badly hurt his foot. It is swollen and bruised. He has asked for medical attention but not received it.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyers: Marc Agnifilo and Teny Geragos)
So cold in his cell that water in drinking cup is freezing over. Acrid smell in his cell from the vents, and he is waking up with headaches. Wearing 7-8 layers of clothing.

Spoke to an inmate whose name I could not hear who said he has a four-week RICO trial coming up before Judge Gardephe (lawyer: Bryan Konoski) and has not been able to speak to his lawyer and has not received the 3500 material.

Unit 61

Inmates are out of their cells and receiving meals. They report having been locked down all day until we arrived. Numerous inmates complain of getting colds and flu from the cold cells and lack of hot shower water. Some inmates are dressed only in short sleeved shirts and say they did not have money to purchase warm clothes in commissary before the fire. They have run out of soap and toothpaste and commissary is closed.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Michael Padden)
Serious psychiatric history of suicide attempts. Has not received his psych meds. Needs his asthma pump. Freezing cold in cell.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (sentenced inmate)

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (Lawyer: Dawn Cardi)
Had a seizure yesterday, pressed the emergency button. No one ever came. (history of seizures documented. Has medication but it does not always prevent the seizures).

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Ashley Burrell)
Finger numb, needs x-ray. Was in court today and AUSA reported conditions to judge that were not accurate.

Unit 63

Significantly colder on this unit. Cold air actively blowing out of the vents in the cells, including one we are allowed to enter.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)
Has not received his psych meds. Suffering dental pain.

Unit 62

Locked in continuously since noon on Thursday. (AW says not true, they were out yesterday afternoon, but inmates of various languages and all sides of the unit confirm this lockdown. When I ask AW why our office received no legal calls at all from this unit since Thursday afternoon, she did not have a response.)

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Justine Harris)
Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was wearing three sets of thermals (top and bottom), two pairs of socks and a sweatshirt and sweatpants. He reported that when they were on lockdown, he was let out of his cell to go see the psychiatrist. On the way back, he stopped at the phone that calls to the Federal Defenders Office to let us know that his unit was on full lockdown all day. When the officers saw him on the telephone, they directed him to hang up. A full team of officers then went to his cell and searched it, throwing his legal mail on the floor. Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) also showed us through the cell door a cup of water he had just filled from the sink tap in his cell. It appeared brown. He asked for clean water in order to take his psychiatric medications.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Jeff Lichtman)

For several weeks, his toilet has been overflowing and will not flush. He had repeatedly requested it be fixed prior to the power issues, and it was not. Now he is locked down in his cell in the dark with it overflowing and has been required to eat his meals in close proximity to it. He has asthma, which is being aggravated by the cold.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Jeff Patel)

Needs his seizure medication.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (lawyer: Clay Kaminsky)

Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) had a hard time getting out of bed, where he was wrapped in a mound of clothes and blankets. He said he had the flu and had not received medical attention. His cell mate was visibly worried about him, but said they have limited ability to communicate with each other because Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) is a Spanish speaker.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)

For those that may not have been in the past or are new to your role, please ensure you putting your eyes on these items, having meetings to discuss the institutions needs, and are directly involved in the Master Planning session. As indicated in the attached, focus should be major systems, major assets, and building envelopes (structure). Please give me, or Mike Bond, a call if you have any questions about the process and expectations of Master Planning. Thanks in advance!

MEMORANDUM FOR ALL REGIONAL DIRECTORS

FROM: Bradley T. Gross
Assistant Director
for Administration

SUBJECT: Buildings and Facilities Master Planning

The reduction of Modernization and Repair (M&R) funds we have received over the last several years is affecting the maintenance of our facilities. We are experiencing more catastrophic failures of major systems and equipment. During these times of M&R budget constraints, the BOP must become proactive and identify these major failures before they arise.

Due to the type and scope of infrastructure emergencies we are experiencing, I am requesting that during the Master Planning sessions accomplished this year, we narrow our focus to infrastructure and life safety. Please focus attention on major systems (e.g. HVAC, electrical, water, sewer), major assets (e.g. fences, elevators), and building envelopes (e.g. roofs, walls/support structures). These items should be observed during the Annual Buildings and Grounds Condition Assessment and reviewed by the Executive Staff and Facility Manager.

If there are any questions, please contact me or have your staff contact Ponciano J. Rangel III, Chief, Facilities Management Branch, at (202) 514-6464.

S&E Expenditures - $66,391.12 for supplies and $14,331.50 in overtime costs. The second TDY crew just departed back to their home institutions on March 16, 2019. The next overtime expenditure report will not be available later this week.

B&F Project 2D2N - This project has been awarded for to Miller-Remick, LLC in the amount of $437,388.55. This is for A&E services to find a root cause, perform a survey for any other possible electrical issues at MDC Brooklyn. The tasks are, conduct testing on all 480 volt and above electrical components, to provide an Arc flash study and will provide a design and necessary drawings in order to make repairs and replace to the switchboard #3 that failed.

The A&E firm will be on site Monday morning, March 18 & 19, 2019, to begin a survey the electrical system and to collect data needed for the Arc Flash and Coordination Studies. The performance period is 73 calendar days to complete all work.

The facility management team at MDC Brooklyn has provided to the lead contractor (Constellation Energy) that is overseeing the UESC for the MDC, the list of repair issues identified by our TDY staff. We are anticipating these repairs will be completed by April 5, 2019.

The automatic transfer switch that will be used to tie in the emergency generator and priority #3 switchgear was received and the contractor will be on site to begin installation on Thursday, March 21, 2019. It is anticipated this work will be completed before Tuesday March 26, 2019.

Re: Shutdown-Related Disruptions at MCC and MDC

Dear Mr. Johnson and Ms. McFarland:

We write on behalf of our client, the Federal Defenders of New York, to address ongoing disruptions to services at MCC and MDC following the government shutdown. During the shutdown, court-appointed defense lawyers have been prevented, repeatedly, from meeting with their clients. Cancellations and restrictions of legal visiting hours – often imposed with little or no prior notice – interfere with the constitutional rights of people at both facilities. And the unpredictability of visiting schedules is a drain on the Defenders' limited resources. We ask that the Bureau of Prisons immediately establish and maintain predictable and regular visiting hours. We are available at your earliest convenience to discuss exact parameters.

We also seek information about medical services and social visits at MCC and MDC, as we have received reports that the people held at those facilities have been denied medical care and are no longer permitted to see their loved ones. If we cannot reach a reasonable agreement to ensure that the constitutional rights of everyone housed at MCC and MDC are being honored, we will consider other available options, including filing a lawsuit seeking injunctive relief.

Legal Visitation

As you know, legal visiting has been cancelled or significantly delayed at both MCC and MDC repeatedly during the government shutdown. Legal visiting was cancelled or delayed for multiple hours at MCC on, at least, January 1, 11, 12, 13, 20, and 21, and at MDC on, at least, January 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 11, 14, and 21. While the Defenders are grateful for the regular updates you have provided about the status of legal visiting, it is not tenable to place defense counsel in the position of waiting until the morning to find out, each day, whether client visitation will be possible. Last-minute scheduling changes and unexpected closings impose significant burdens on the Defenders and other defense lawyers, particularly those who have to travel long distances to meet with clients at these facilities, need to arrange for interpreters or other experts to attend meetings with their clients, or have a time-sensitive matter to discuss. In addition, on several recent occasions at the MDC, when legal visiting was open, attorneys waited up to two hours to see a client, with lines out the door of the facility. Last-minute disruptions prevent attorneys from counseling their clients, and also fray the attorney-client relationship because the client cannot trust that an attorney will visit him as promised.

As a result of the delays and closings, multiple defendants have been unable to meet with their attorneys. These include defendants who were prevented from meeting with their lawyers this past weekend despite trial or important court proceedings scheduled for the coming week. You have informed our client that the limitations on legal visiting have been, at least in part, a result of employees' unwillingness to accept overtime shifts when they are not being paid, and of increases in the number of employees calling in sick. We understand and appreciate these very real difficulties, and the Defenders – who may soon run out of funding because of the shutdown as well – sympathize with the plight of unpaid government employees. But the answer cannot be to deny access to counsel.

Disruptions to legal visiting at MCC and MDC violate the clients' Sixth Amendment right to counsel. As the Supreme Court has recognized, "to deprive a person of counsel during the period prior to trial may be more damaging than denial of counsel during the trial itself." Maine v. Moulton, 474 U.S. 159, 170 (1985). BOP policies that result in "unpredictable, substantial delays in meeting with clients" present a clear case of "unreasonable interference" with Sixth Amendment rights. Benjamin v. Fraser, 264 F.3d 175, 179, 185 (2d Cir. 2001). The disruptions are especially troubling for clients who are prevented from meeting with counsel on the eve of key events in their criminal cases. Those clients and others have also been deprived of their Fifth Amendment rights of access to court. Id. at 187.

Medical Care and Social Visits

We have heard reports that the shutdown has affected medical care at both MCC and MDC, and that some people at those facilities have not received prescribed medications or needed medical treatment. Serene Gregg, president of American Federation of Government Employees Local 3148, painted a particularly grave picture of the situation at MCC: "We are providing inadequate medical care at this point," and "don't have the medical providers" to provide treatment. Joseph Goldstein et al., Shutdown Prompts Hunger Strike at Manhattan Jail as Family Visits Are Canceled, New York Times (Jan. 14, 2019), <https://www.nytimes.com/2019/01/14/nyregion/shutdown-hunger-strike-federal-jail.html>.

We have also heard reports that social visiting has been almost completely suspended. This has meant that people held at MCC and MDC – whether detained pre- or post-trial – are being prevented from seeing their loved ones.

Given the disruptions to legal visiting, it has been difficult to confirm the extent to which Fifth Amendment rights to adequate medical care, and rights of intimate association, are being infringed at MCC and MDC. We look forward to discussing the status of medical care and social visiting at these facilities and how existing shortfalls can be addressed.

We understand that the shutdown has led to staffing shortfalls throughout the BOP. It has also affected the Department of Justice and the courts. We do not want to increase the burdens on either the executive or the judiciary by filing a lawsuit unless it becomes absolutely necessary. But it is imperative that the Defenders and other criminal defense lawyers be able to meet with their clients. Over the last few weeks, unpredictable and irregular visiting hours have made that impossible. Although the shutdown itself is not within your control, your response to it is. And the response cannot be to deprive the people under your supervision of legal assistance to which they are constitutionally entitled. We are committed to working with you to devise a working solution for the challenges posed by the shutdown – specifically, a solution in which legal visiting hours are reasonable in length and held on a consistent and predictable basis. Only by ensuring that defense lawyers and their clients can plan around a set schedule, rather than wait every day to see whether legal visiting will be permitted, will the clients' constitutional rights be guaranteed.

We are available to discuss reasonable proposals to address these issues any time in the next 36 hours. You can reach me at 212-763-0889, or shecker@kaplanhecker.com.

Very truly yours,

Sean Hecker

I have reviewed the mold inspection report conducted by Testor Technology Environmental Services, Inc. on March 13, 2019. Three samples were collected and analyzed for aerosolized fungal spores. Two samples were collected on the third floor within Classrooms 1&2 and one sample was collected outside as a baseline. The results indicate that the fungal concentration inside is lower than outside. The average indoor level was 77.5 spores/m³ and the outdoor concentration was 2.5x higher at 200 spores/m³. These results indicate that your remediation efforts have been successful.

Feel free to call me to discuss further.

CLIENT REFERENCE: Mold Insp.

JOB ADDRESS: 80 29th Street, Brooklyn, NY, Client designated areas

We are pleased to present you with a TESTOR close-out document for environmental services at the location address listed above.

TESTOR (Testor Technology Environmental Services, Inc.) conducted a mold inspection at the above referenced site on March 13, 2019. Samples were collected by our NYS Certified Mold Inspector (b)(6). Three (3) mold air samples were collected and transported by Chain of Custody to San Air Technologies Laboratory for analysis. Sample analysis was performed by San Air Technologies Laboratory

Two (2) samples were collected within Classroom 1 and Classroom 2 which represents the indoor air samples. One (1) sample was collected Outside which represents the baseline (outdoor) levels.

Currently, there are no numerical levels that are considered acceptable standards for mold spore counts; however, the EPA recommends that mold spore levels indoors read at or below baseline (outdoor) levels. There is no evidence of mold amplification at this site.

Please refer to the attached report.

Please be aware that full payment within fifteen (15) days of service completion is required and very much appreciated.

Thank you for your business.

Sincerely,

Partial Power Outage at the Metropolitan Detention Center Brooklyn, NY

Brooklyn, NY: Metropolitan Detention Center (MDC) Brooklyn experienced a partial power outage, due to a fire in the switch gear room. The West building has limited power in some areas; however, the East building was unaffected. All areas have lights that are on the emergency lighting circuit which is being fed by the utility company.

The new electrical panel was installed by an outside contractor today, and a work ticket has been submitted by the electrical contractor to schedule a work crew to restore power to the new temporary service switch. The facility is working to restore power as expeditiously as possible; the current estimate is that the work is expected be completed by Monday, February 4, 2019.

Inmates have hot water for showers and hot water in the sinks in the cell. Essential personal hygiene items and medical services continue to be provided. New York City Emergency Services is providing blankets to MDC Brooklyn, and inmates will receive additional blankets and clothing today. The inmate telephones, inmate computers, and inmate televisions have no electrical power at this time, because of the electrical issue. The inmate's public defender phones are operational. Staff telephones in the unit officer stations are operational.

Tours of the facility were provided to representatives and staff from the United States Congress. All representatives were able to walk the facility, talk to inmates and staff and observe institution conditions.

Metropolitan Detention Center Brooklyn is an administrative security facility that currently houses 1,654 male and female offenders in Brooklyn, NY. Visiting has been temporarily suspended, due to the partial power outage. Visitors should continue to check the public website (www.bop.gov) for any updates regarding visiting.

Congress of the United States

Washington, DC 20515

February 6, 2019

Michael E. Horowitz
Inspector General of the United States Department of Justice
U.S. Department of Justice
Office of the Inspector General
950 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Suite 4706
Washington, D.C. 20530-0001

Dear Inspector General Horowitz:

We are writing to express concerns over recent events at the Bureau of Prisons' (BOP) Metropolitan Detention Center (MDC) in Brooklyn, NY. This past weekend, it was reported that over 1,600 detainees and employees at the correctional facility remained in a building that had serious heating and electrical issues for nearly a week during polar vortex conditions.¹ The grave nature of these circumstances were muddled until press coverage revealed the extent of the MDC's problems.

We believe there are ample grounds for your office to review the conditions at Brooklyn MDC. It is still unclear why the facility had prolonged issues with heating and electricity. It is understood that the facility kept detainees on lockdown without appropriate access to medical services. Further, attorneys and paralegal staff reported that detainees lacked access to extra blankets and could not purchase extra sweatshirts at the commissary during the height of this crisis. All the while, it is alleged that management at MDC did not activate and follow their emergency plan.

The lackluster response from the facility's leadership cannot be categorized as anything less than inappropriate given the circumstances. Instead of offering proactive solutions and executing its emergency plan, MDC Brooklyn failed in its duties until public pressure and demands for answers reached a tipping point. Leadership at BOP facilities must be consistent with our values, and ensure that detainees have access to humane shelter conditions. The arguably abusive practices arising out of this incident, including the fact that detainees were kept on lockdown in near-freezing conditions, is unacceptable.

Given the above, we request:

- the Evaluation and Inspections Division review the Management practices at this facility—such review should also examine whether the MDC fully followed its emergency plans. Such inquiry, in addition, examine the chain of command at the facility, including the respective decision-making authority that is in cases when the warden is not physically present at the facility;
- a review of medical care given to detainees during this period, including the lack of electricity for CPAP machines and the exacerbation of conditions such as asthma by the cold conditions; and
- a review of the extended denial of access to counsel for detainees by MDC, leaving detainees unable to address their cases or assert their rights about these conditions during this time period;
- an audit of whether contractors at MDC fulfilled their duties related to repairing or replacing heating, ventilation, and air conditioning (HVAC), electrical, or similar infrastructure on or about the week of January 28th, 2019. Such audit should also examine whether contractor malfeasance was a contributing factor leading to the loss of heat and electricity on or about the week of January 28th, 2019.

As Members of Congress, it is our responsibility to ensure that detainees are treated fairly and afforded humane living conditions while in federal custody. Given the severity of these circumstances, we request a formal response from your office no later than ten (10) calendar days from the date of this correspondence.

Ton going on re MDC. We will need to add this to DAG agenda. I have already spoken to DAG today...this is really bad. Good news is, there is nothing you could have done had you been here...need a part to come in. Anyway, just sending this to you to put on radar for your return.

Nicole,

My client (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was stabbed in the head on Tuesday, 2/19. He told me that he was taken to medical, where the bleeding was stopped and x-rays were taken. Can you please advise as to his present condition?

This is the third time he has been assaulted at the facility. Yesterday, 2/20, Judge Donnelly signed an order directing that he be moved to the MCC given the MDC's apparent inability to keep him safe. Inmate locator reflects that he is still at the MDC. I am hoping that is out of date. Can you please confirm his whereabouts?

Thank you,

Gentlemen,

Attached is a sample of the (b)(7)(E); (b)(7)(F) forms. We can get the ball rolling on our end with a memo and we can catch up with the preliminary report when we receive it (as long as Mr. Carvajal gives us the OK). The important thing is to worry about (b)(7)(E); (b)(7)(F). We can follow up with Central Office resources as deemed appropriate by the AD/Director.

We will begin an initial (b)(7)(E); (b)(7)(F) as soon as we receive the initial information

If there is anything anyone needs from me or the Intelligence Section prior to us receiving the (b)(7)(E); (b)(7)(F) please let me know. Also, please ensure (b)(7)(E); (b)(7)(F).

Subject: FIRST STEP ACT Policy Changes
Attachments: TEXT.htm, 5575_001_FSChanges.pdf, 5050_049 Draft FSA Changes PROGRAM STATEMENT.pdf

Eric,

Per your discussion with Hugh, please find attached the first two policy updates related to the FIRST STEP Act.

- a) PS5575.01, Staff Personal Weapons Storage;
- b) PS505.049, Compassionate Release/Reduction in Sentence

The drafts show the highlighted changes relevant to the new law. (Also note that due to one of my pet peeves, I updated the term "personally owned" throughout the weapons policy to say "personally-owned" as the term is used as an adjective in the policy and thus grammatically, should be hyphenated :-). If you would prefer I remove those changes, I will.) Thanks. --Sonya

Staff Personal Weapons Storage

Approved: Hugh J. Hurwitz
Acting Director, Federal Bureau of Prisons

1. PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This Program Statement updates Bureau policy regarding staff storage of personally-owned weapons on institution grounds, including parking facilities, and on reservation housing, including mobile home sites. Carrying or using personally-owned weapons while on duty is prohibited. Staff are authorized to carry concealed firearms on the premises outside of the secure perimeter of the institution. This Program Statement does not, however, exempt staff from Federal, state, or local laws for any firearms-related activities off the premises of the institution, such as purchasing, registering, licensing, or permissible use. This Program Statement does not apply to non-institution facilities (e.g., Central Office, regional offices, or training centers).

A Warden may temporarily suspend a staff member's privilege of firearms storage in response to an alleged offense by an employee or any allegation, after documentation, which may adversely affect the Warden's confidence in the employee or the security or orderly operation of the institution.

This policy supersedes the sections relating to personal weapons storage of the following Program Statements:

- Staff Entrance and Search Procedures (3/24/2016), Section 2, Definitions (language relevant to firearms).
- Mobile Home Sites, Staff Housing (10/11/2011), Section 6.i., Firearms.
- Property Management Manual (3/13/2015), Chapter 13, Section 7.b., Firearms.

a. Program Objectives. The expected results of this program are:

- Staff may be able to store one personally owned handgun (a firearm that has a short stock and is designed to be held and fired with one hand) on Bureau facilities under the provisions of this Program Statement.
- Staff living on institution grounds, including mobile home sites, will be allowed to store personally owned weapons in institution armories.
- There will be an accounting of all staff-owned weapons on Government property.

b. Summary of Changes

- This policy has been updated to reflect new requirements in relation to the FIRST STEP Act, specifically 18 USC 4050.

c. Institution Supplement. None required. Should local facilities make any changes outside the required changes in the national policy or establish any local procedures to implement the national policy, the local Union may invoke to negotiate procedures or appropriate arrangements.

2. HANDGUN STORAGE

Staff working at Bureau facilities who are permitted to carry personally-owned handgun(s) in accordance with applicable Federal, state, or local laws may store one personally-owned handgun and up to 60 rounds of ammunition in a locked private vehicle parked on Bureau grounds. A personally-owned handgun and ammunition must be locked in a hard-sided gun case designed for that purpose, supplied by the employee. The case must be secured to the vehicle and not be visible from outside the vehicle. Weapons are not permitted in General Services Administration (GSA)-leased buildings or parking facilities.

At Bureau facilities that have gun lockers, staff may store one personally-owned handgun and up to 60 rounds of ammunition in a designated locker while on the grounds.

Except as noted in Section 3 below, staff who live in reservation housing, including mobile home sites, may store one personally-owned handgun and up to 60 rounds of ammunition on institution grounds. The handgun and ammunition must be stored in a hard-sided gun case as described above, that is secured out of sight.

The Warden may impose an annual accountability check.

3. STORAGE OF PERSONAL WEAPONS IN INSTITUTION ARMORIES

Staff who live in reservation housing, including mobile home sites, may store personally-owned weapons (such as, but not limited to, handguns, rifles, crossbows, bows, arrows, ammunition, or pellet guns) in the institution armory. For accountability purposes, a log will be maintained for all personally-owned weapons stored in the armory.

4. INSTITUTION GUN LOCKERS

At detention centers (FDCs, MCCs, MDCs) with little or no parking, gun lockers will be installed by the Administration Division. Gun lockers will not be installed at non-institution facilities (e.g., Central Office, regional offices, or training centers).

5. STAFF PERSONAL WEAPONS DECLARATION

Form BP-A0584, Staff Personal Weapons Declaration, must be submitted and approved prior to bringing personal weapons onto Bureau grounds. Copies of the BP-A0584 will be maintained by the Captain, the Security Officer, and Human Resources. The form must be kept current by all staff who:

- Bring or store personally-owned handgun(s) and ammunition on Bureau grounds.
- Store personally-owned weapons in institution armories.
- Live in reservation housing, including mobile home sites, whether or not they own personal weapons.

Compassionate Release/Reduction in Sentence: Procedures for Implementation of 18 U.S.C. §§ 3582(c)(1)(A) and 4205(g)

Approved: XXXXXXXXX

Director, Federal Bureau of Prisons

1. PURPOSE AND SCOPE

§571.60 Purpose and scope.

Under 18 U.S.C. 4205(g), a sentencing court, on motion of the Bureau of Prisons, may make an inmate with a minimum term sentence immediately eligible for parole by reducing the minimum term of the sentence to time served. Under 18 U.S.C. 3582(c)(1)(A), a sentencing court, on motion of the Director of the Bureau of Prisons, may reduce the term of imprisonment of an inmate sentenced under the Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984.

18 U.S.C. 3582 was amended by the First Step Act of 2018, revisions noted below.

The Bureau uses 18 U.S.C. 4205(g) and 18 U.S.C. 3582(c)(1)(A) in particularly extraordinary or compelling circumstances which could not reasonably have been foreseen by the court at the time of sentencing.

For the purposes of this Program Statement, the terms “compassionate release” and “reduction in sentence” are used interchangeably.

In deciding whether to file a motion under either 18 U.S.C. 4205(g) or 18 U.S.C. 3582(c)(1)(A), the Bureau of Prisons (BOP) should consider whether the inmate’s release would pose a danger to the safety of any other person or the community.

Under 18 USC 3582 (d)(2)(3), the Bureau ensures that all facilities regularly and visibly post, including in prisoner handbooks, staff training materials, and facility law libraries and medical and hospice facilities, and make available to prisoners upon demand, notice of—

(i) a defendant's ability to request a sentence reduction pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A);

(ii) the procedures and timelines for initiating and resolving requests described in clause (i); and

(iii) the right to appeal a denial of a request described in clause (i) after all administrative rights to appeal within the Bureau of Prisons have been exhausted.

Federal Regulations from 28 CFR are in this type.

§572.40 Compassionate release under 18 U.S.C. 4205(g).

18 U.S.C. 4205(g) was repealed effective November 1, 1987, but remains the controlling law for inmates whose offenses occurred prior to that date. For inmates whose offenses occurred on or after November 1, 1987, the applicable statute is 18 U.S.C. 3582(c)(1)(A). Procedures for compassionate release of an inmate under either provision are contained in 28 CFR part 571, subpart G.

a. Program Objectives. The expected results of this program are:

- A motion for a modification of a sentence will be made to the sentencing court only in particularly extraordinary or compelling circumstances that could not reasonably have been foreseen by the court at the time of sentencing.
- The public will be protected from undue risk by careful review of each compassionate release request.
- Compassionate release motions will be filed with the sentencing judge in accordance with the statutory requirements of 18 U.S.C. 3582 (e)(1)(A) or 4205(g).

b. Summary of Changes

Policy Rescinded

~~P5050.48 — Compassionate Release; Procedures For Implementation of 18 U.S.C. 3582 (e)(1)(A) & 4205(g) (4/22/13)~~

P 5050.49 CN-1 Compassionate Release/Reduction in Sentence: Procedures for Implementation of 18 U.S.C. §§ 3582(c)(1)(A) and 4205(g)

The following have been added to this version of the Program Statement:

- Requirements of section 603(b) of the First Step Act, codified at 18 USC § 3582

2. INITIATION OF REQUEST – EXTRAORDINARY OR COMPELLING CIRCUMSTANCES

§ 571.61 Initiation of request – extraordinary or compelling circumstances.

a. A request for a motion under 18 U.S.C. 4205(g) or 3582(c)(1)(A) shall be submitted to the Warden. Ordinarily, the request shall be in writing, and submitted by the inmate. An inmate may initiate a request for consideration under 18 U.S.C. 4205(g) or 3582(c)(1)(A) only when there are particularly extraordinary or compelling circumstances which could not reasonably have been foreseen by the court at the time of sentencing. The inmate's request shall at a minimum contain the following information:

(1) The extraordinary or compelling circumstances that the inmate believes warrant consideration.

(2) Proposed release plans, including where the inmate will reside, how the inmate will support himself/herself, and, if the basis for the request involves the inmate's health, information on where the inmate will receive medical treatment, and how the inmate will pay for such treatment.

b. The Bureau of Prisons processes a request made by another person on behalf of an inmate in the same manner as an inmate's request. Staff shall refer a request received at the Central Office to the Warden of the institution where the inmate is confined.

A request for a RIS is considered "submitted" for the purposes of 18 USC §3582 (c)(1), when received by the Warden in accordance with this section.

3. REQUESTS BASED ON MEDICAL CIRCUMSTANCES

The criteria for a reduction in sentence (RIS) request may include the following:

a. Terminal Medical Condition. RIS consideration may be given to inmates who have been diagnosed with a terminal, incurable disease and whose life expectancy is eighteen (18) months or less, and/or has a disease or condition with an end-of-life trajectory under 18 USC § 3582(d)(1). The BOP's consideration should include assessment of the primary (terminal) disease, prognosis, impact of other serious medical conditions of the inmate, and degree of functional impairment (if any). Functional impairment (e.g., limitations on activities of daily living such as feeding and dressing oneself) is not required for inmates diagnosed with terminal medical conditions; however, functional impairment may be a factor when considering the inmate's ability or inability to reoffend.

Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3582(d)(2)(A), in the case of a diagnosis of a terminal illness, the Bureau of Prisons shall, subject to confidentiality requirements:

- (i) not later than 72 hours after the diagnosis notify the defendant's attorney, partner, and family members of the defendant's condition and inform the defendant's attorney, partner, and family members that they may prepare and submit on the defendant's behalf a request for a sentence reduction pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A);
- (ii) not later than 7 days after the date of the diagnosis, provide the defendant's partner and family members (including extended family) with an opportunity to visit the defendant in person;
- (iii) upon request from the defendant or his attorney, partner, or a family member, ensure that Bureau of Prisons employees assist the defendant in the preparation, drafting, and submission of a request for a sentence reduction pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A); and
- (iv) not later than 14 days of receipt of a request for a sentence reduction submitted on the defendant's behalf by the defendant or the defendant's attorney, partner, or family member, process the request.

The statutory time frames of section 3582(d)(2)(A), begin once the Clinical Director of an institution makes a terminal diagnosis. Once the diagnosis is made, the Clinical Director will inform the Warden and the appropriate Unit Manager as soon as possible so as to ensure requirements are met.

If the inmate is physically/psychologically able, the inmate should consent to notifications above using BOP Form A0192, Release of Information Consent, or equivalent written authorization.

If a visit is denied for security concerns, as reflected in 18 U.S.C. § 3582(d)(3)(J), the reasons should be documented.

The Warden will forward the information indicated in Section 8 of this policy, below, to Central Office within 14 days.

b. Debilitated Medical Condition. RIS consideration may also be given to inmates who have an incurable, progressive illness or who have suffered a debilitating injury from which they will not recover. The BOP should consider a RIS if the inmate is:

- Completely disabled, meaning the inmate cannot carry on any self-care and is totally confined to a bed or chair; or
- Capable of only limited self-care and is confined to a bed or chair more than 50% of waking hours.

The BOP's review should also include any cognitive deficits of the inmate (e.g., Alzheimer's disease or traumatic brain injury that has affected the inmate's mental capacity or function). A cognitive deficit is not required in cases of severe physical impairment, but may be a factor when considering the inmate's ability or inability to reoffend.

Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3582(d)(2)(B), in the case of an inmate unable to submit a request for a RIS BOP institution staff shall:

(i) inform the defendant's attorney, partner, and family members that they may prepare and submit on the defendant's behalf a request for a sentence reduction pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A)

(ii) accept and process a request for sentence reduction that has been prepared and submitted on the defendant's behalf by the defendant's attorney, partner, or family member under clause (i); and

(iii) upon request from the defendant or his attorney, partner, or family member, ensure that Bureau of Prisons employees assist the defendant in the preparation, drafting, and submission of a request for a sentence reduction pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A).

All RIS requests should be assessed using the factors outlined in Section 7.

4. REQUESTS BASED ON NON-MEDICAL CIRCUMSTANCES – ELDERLY INMATES

The criteria for a RIS request may include the following:

- a. “New Law” Elderly Inmates. Inmates sentenced for an offense that occurred on or after November 1, 1987 (e.g., “new law”), who are age 70 years or older and have served 30 years or more of their term of imprisonment.¹

¹ These criteria are different from those provided in 18 U.S.C 3582(c)(1)(a)(ii), which states that a court, upon motion of the BOP Director, may reduce a sentence term if it finds that “the defendant is at least 70 years of age, has served at least 30 years in prison, pursuant to a sentence imposed under section 3559(c), for the offense or offenses for which the defendant is currently imprisoned, and a determination has been made by the Director of the Bureau of Prisons that the defendant is not a danger to the safety of any other person or the community, as provided under section 3142(g).”

b. Elderly Inmates with Medical Conditions. Inmates who fit the following criteria:

- Age 65 and older.
- Suffer from chronic or serious medical conditions related to the aging process.
- Experiencing deteriorating mental or physical health that substantially diminishes their ability to function in a correctional facility.
- Conventional treatment promises no substantial improvement to their mental or physical condition.
- Have served at least 50% of their sentence.

Additionally, for inmates in this category, the BOP should consider the following factors when evaluating the risk that an elderly inmate may reoffend:

- The age at which the inmate committed the current offense.
- Whether the inmate suffered from these medical conditions at the time the inmate committed the offense.
- Whether the inmate suffered from these medical conditions at the time of sentencing and whether the Presentence Investigation Report (PSR) mentions these conditions.

The BOP Medical Director will develop and issue medical criteria to help evaluate the inmate's suitability for consideration under this RIS category.

c. Other Elderly Inmates. Inmates age 65 or older who have served the greater of 10 years or 75% of the term of imprisonment to which the inmate was sentenced.

Elderly inmates who were age 60 or older at the time they were sentenced ordinarily should not be considered for RIS if their current conviction is listed in the Categorization of Offenses Program Statement.

All RIS requests should be assessed using the factors outlined in Section 7.

5. REQUESTS BASED ON NON-MEDICAL CIRCUMSTANCES – DEATH OR INCAPACITATION OF THE FAMILY MEMBER CAREGIVER.

The criteria for a RIS request may include the death or incapacitation of the family member caregiver of an inmate's child, e.g., RIS requests from inmates whose biological or legally adopted child or children ("child") are suddenly without a family member caregiver due to that caregiver's death or incapacitation.

For these requests, “child” means a person under the age of 18 and “incapacitation” means the family member caregiver suffered a severe injury (e.g., auto accident) or suffers from a severe illness (e.g., cancer) that renders the caregiver incapable of caring for the child.

In reviewing these requests, BOP should assess, based on the information provided, whether release of the inmate to care for the inmate’s child is in the best interest of the child.

a. First Stage of the Warden’s Review. The following information should be provided by the inmate to the Warden in writing for RIS requests based on the death or incapacitation of the family member caregiver:

- A statement that explains that the inmate’s family member caregiver has died or become incapacitated and that person was the caregiver for the inmate’s biological or legally adopted child.
- A statement that this person was the only family member capable of caring for the inmate’s child.
- The name of the deceased or incapacitated family member caregiver and the relationship of that person to the inmate (e.g., spouse, common-law spouse, mother, sister) and statement that the caregiver is a family member of the child.
- For requests based on a deceased family member caregiver, an official copy of the family member caregiver’s death certificate.
- For requests based on an incapacitated family member caregiver, verifiable medical documentation of the incapacitation.
- Verifiable documentation that the inmate is the parent of the child. Acceptable documentation includes birth certificates, adoption papers, or verification of the inmate’s paternity.
- Verifiable documentation providing the name and age of the child.
- A clear statement and documentation that the inmate has a release plan, including housing, and the financial means to care for the child immediately upon the inmate’s release.
- Authorization from the inmate for the BOP to obtain any information or documents from any individual, medical entity or doctor, or any government agency about the inmate, family members, and minor child.

The Warden may deny the inmate’s request at the institution level of review if the Warden finds that the inmate has not provided adequate information and documentation as set forth above.

b. Second Stage of the Warden’s Review. Even if the inmate provides adequate and sufficient information and documentation set forth above regarding the RIS request, further investigation is appropriate. At this stage, the Warden should convene a committee consisting of the inmate’s unit manager, correctional counselor, and any other relevant staff (social worker, physician, psychologist, etc.) to investigate the facts and circumstances provided by the inmate and to review supporting letters and documents before the Warden makes a recommendation to approve or deny the RIS request. The additional information and supporting documentation gathered by the committee for the Warden's review should include:

- A general description of the child's physical and mental condition.
- A description of the nature of the child's care both during the inmate's pre-arrest and pre-sentence period, and during the inmate's current incarceration.
- Letters or documentation that the deceased/incapacitated family member was and still is the only family member caregiver capable of caring for the inmate's minor child. These letters or documentation should include:
 - Information indicating whether this family member was, in fact, caring for the child during the inmate's incarceration and immediately prior to the family member's death or incapacitation.
 - An explanation of who has been caring for the child since the family member's death or incapacitation.
 - If the child is in foster care, documentation verifying that the inmate will be able to immediately obtain custody of the child.

All RIS requests should be assessed using the factors outlined in Section 7 as well as the following factors.

- Has the inmate committed violent acts before or during the period of incarceration as reflected in the PSR, institutional disciplinary records, or other appropriate documentation?
- Did the inmate have drugs, drug paraphernalia, firearms, or other dangerous substances in the home while caring for the child prior to incarceration?
- To what degree has the inmate had contact with or cared for the child prior to arrest, pretrial or pre-sentence, and during incarceration? Staff should review institution records for evidence of contact (telephone, mail, email, visiting log, etc.).
- Is there any evidence of child abuse, neglect, or exploitation in the PSR or other documents?
- Are there any documents regarding the inmate's parenting skills or obligations (e.g., child support orders, restraining orders for physical or emotional abuse of spouse, registered partner or children, certificates for classes in anger management or other types of counseling, removal of child from the home for any reasons)?
- Are there records regarding the termination of parental rights or loss of custody of the inmate's (other) child?
- Does the inmate have a detainer as a deportable alien to a country other than where the child resides?
- Has the inmate received public funding or had a job with a living wage for any period of time prior to incarceration?
- Has the inmate engaged in programming (e.g., parenting, anger management) during incarceration that would indicate efforts to improve parenting skills or that would indicate a commitment to caring for the child upon release?

Wardens should also consider any additional reliable documentation (e.g., letters of support from family members, neighbors, doctors, hospitals, and state or local agencies). Documentation may be obtained with the assistance of the Office of Probation and Pretrial Services. Wardens should also consider whether the inmate participated in the Inmate Financial Responsibility Program and any information relating to the inmate's substance abuse treatment, physical/mental/emotional health, and work evaluations during incarceration.

The care of a child may be requested to be a condition of the inmate's release to a supervised release term. Thus, failure to care for the child may result in a finding of a supervised release violation and return to custody.

6. REQUESTS BASED ON NON-MEDICAL CIRCUMSTANCES – INCAPACITATION OF A SPOUSE OR REGISTERED PARTNER

The criteria for a RIS request may include the incapacitation of an inmate's spouse or registered partner when the inmate would be the only available caregiver for the spouse or registered partner.

For these requests, "spouse" means an individual in a relationship with the inmate, where that relationship has been legally recognized as a marriage, including a legally-recognized common-law marriage. "Registered partner" means an individual in a relationship with the inmate, where that relationship has been legally recognized as a civil union or registered domestic partnership.

The relationship should have been established before the inmate's offense date of arrest, and should be verified by information in the PSR or other administratively acceptable documentation (e.g. marriage certificate).

For these requests, "incapacitation" means the inmate's spouse or registered partner has:

- Suffered a serious injury, or a debilitating physical illness and the result of the injury or illness is that the spouse or registered partner is completely disabled, meaning that the spouse or registered partner cannot carry on any self-care and is totally confined to a bed or chair; or
- A severe cognitive deficit (e.g., Alzheimer's disease or traumatic brain injury that has severely affected the spouse's or registered partner's mental capacity or function), but may not be confined to a bed or chair.

For these requests, the inmate should demonstrate that the inmate is the only available caregiver for the spouse or registered partner, meaning there is no other family member or adequate care option that is able to provide primary care for the spouse or registered partner.

a. First Stage of the Warden's Review. The following information should be provided by the inmate to the Warden in writing for RIS requests based on the incapacitation of the spouse or registered partner:

- Statement that explains that the inmate's spouse or registered partner has become incapacitated.
- Statement that the inmate is the only family member capable of caring for the spouse or registered partner.
- Verifiable medical documentation of the incapacitation of the spouse or registered partner.
- A clear statement and documentation of the inmate's release plan, including housing, and the financial means to care for the spouse or registered partner immediately upon release.
- Written authorization from the inmate and others (as needed) for the BOP to obtain any information or documents from any individual, medical entity or doctor, or any government agency about the inmate, the spouse or registered partner, or other family members.

The Warden may deny the inmate's request at the institution level of review if the Warden finds that the inmate has not provided adequate information and documentation as set forth above.

b. Second Stage of the Warden's Review. Even if the inmate provides adequate and sufficient information and documentation set forth above regarding the RIS request, further investigation is appropriate. At this stage, the Warden should convene a committee consisting of the inmate's unit manager, correctional counselor and any other relevant staff (social worker, physician, psychologist, etc.) to investigate the facts and circumstances provided by the inmate and to review supporting letters and documents before the Warden makes a recommendation to approve or deny the RIS request. The information and supporting documentation gathered by the committee for the Warden's review should include:

- A general description of the spouse's or registered partner's physical and mental condition.
- A description of the nature of the spouse's or registered partner's care, as relevant, during the inmate's pre-arrest and pre-sentence period, and during the inmate's current incarceration.
- Letters or documentation indicating whether the inmate is the only family member caregiver capable of caring for the spouse or registered partner. This should include an explanation of who has been caring for the spouse or registered partner during the inmate's period of incarceration, as relevant.
- Letters or documentation indicating the spouse or registered partner is, or would be, supportive of the inmate's release, and of the inmate assuming the role of the primary caregiver.

All RIS requests should be assessed using the factors outlined in Section 7 as well as the following factors.

- Has the inmate committed violent acts before or during the period of incarceration, as reflected in the PSR, institution disciplinary records, or other appropriate documentation?
- To what extent would the inmate and spouse or registered partner be relying on publicly available resources (e.g., financial or medical) to provide care to the spouse or registered partner?
- Has the inmate ever been charged with, or convicted of, a crime of domestic violence?
- Did the inmate share a residence with the spouse or registered partner prior to the period of incarceration?
- Did the inmate have drugs, drug paraphernalia, firearms, or other dangerous substances in the home shared with the spouse or registered partner prior to incarceration?
- To what degree has the inmate had contact with (or cared for) the spouse or registered partner prior to arrest, pretrial or pre-sentence, and during incarceration? Staff should review institution records for evidence of contact (telephone, mail, email, visiting log, etc.).
- Is there any evidence of abuse or neglect involving the spouse or registered partner in the PSR or other documents?
- Are there any documents regarding the inmate's custodial skills or obligations (e.g., child support orders, restraining orders for physical or emotional abuse of spouse or registered partner or children, certificates for classes in anger management or other types of counseling, removal of children from the home for any reasons)?
- Does the inmate have a detainer as a deportable alien to a country other than where the spouse or registered partner resides?
- Has the inmate received public funding or had a job with a living wage for any period of time prior to incarceration?
- Has the inmate engaged in programming (e.g., anger management, financial responsibility program) during incarceration that would indicate efforts to improve custodial skills and/or that would indicate a commitment to the inmate's spouse or registered partner upon release?

Wardens should also consider any additional reliable documentation (e.g., letters of support from family members, neighbors, doctors, hospitals, and state or local agencies). Documentation may be obtained with the assistance of the Office of Probation and Pretrial Services.

The care of the spouse or registered partner may be requested to be a condition of the inmate's release to a supervised release term. Thus, failure to care for the spouse or registered partner may result in a finding of a supervised release violation and return to custody.

7. FACTORS AND EVALUATION OF CIRCUMSTANCES IN RIS REQUESTS

For all RIS requests, the following factors should be considered:

- Nature and circumstances of the inmate's offense.
- Criminal history.
- Comments from victims.
- Unresolved detainers.
- Supervised release violations.
- Institutional adjustment.
- Disciplinary infractions.
- Personal history derived from the PSR.
- Length of sentence and amount of time served. This factor is considered with respect to proximity to release date or Residential Reentry Center (RRC) or home confinement date.
- Inmate's current age.
- Inmate's age at the time of offense and sentencing.
- Inmate's release plans (employment, medical, financial).
- Whether release would minimize the severity of the offense.

When reviewing RIS requests, these factors are neither exclusive nor weighted. These factors should be considered to assess whether the RIS request presents particularly extraordinary and compelling circumstances.

Overall, for each RIS request, the BOP should consider whether the inmate's release would pose a danger to the safety of any other person or the community.

8. APPROVAL OF REQUEST

§571.62 Approval of request.

a. The Bureau of Prisons makes a motion under 18 U.S.C. 4205(g) or 3582(c)(1)(A) only after review of the request by the Warden, the General Counsel, and either the Medical Director for medical referrals or the Assistant Director, Correctional Programs Division for non-medical referrals, and with the approval of the Director, Bureau of Prisons.

(1) The Warden shall promptly review a request for consideration under 18 U.S.C. 4205(g) or 3582(c)(1)(A). If the Warden, upon an investigation of the request determines that the request warrants approval, the Warden shall refer the matter in writing with recommendation to the Office of General Counsel.

The Warden's referral at a minimum must include the following:

- a. The Warden's written recommendation as well as any other pertinent written recommendations or comments made by staff during the institution review of the request.
- b. A complete copy of Judgment and Commitment Order or Judgment in a Criminal Case and sentence computation data.
- c. A progress report that is not more than 30 days old. All detainers and holds should be resolved prior to the Warden's submission of a case under 18 U.S.C. 3582 (c)(1)(A) or 4205(g). If a pending charge or detainer cannot be resolved, an explanation of the charge or conviction status is needed.
- d. All pertinent medical records if the reason for the request involves the inmate's health. Pertinent records include, at a minimum, a Comprehensive Medical Summary by the attending physician, which should also include an estimate of life expectancy, and all relevant test results, consultations, and referral reports/opinions.
- e. The referral packet must include, when available, a copy of the Presentence Investigation and Form U.S.A. 792, Report on Convicted Offender by U.S. Attorney, Custody Classification form, Notice of Action forms, Probation form 7a, information on fines, CIM Case Information Summary (BP-A0339), and any other documented information that is pertinent to the request. In the absence of a Form U.S.A. 792, the views of the prosecuting Assistant U.S. Attorney may be solicited; those views should be made part of the Warden's referral memo.
- f. If the inmate is subject to the Victim and Witness Protection Act of 1982 (VWPA), confirmation of notification to the appropriate victim(s) or witness(es) must be incorporated into the Warden's referral. A summary of any comments received must also be incorporated into the referral. If the inmate is not subject to the VWPA, a statement to that effect must be in the referral.
- g. For a request under 18 U.S.C. 3582(c)(1)(A), when a term of supervised release follows the term of imprisonment, confirmation that release plans have been approved by the appropriate U.S. Probation Office must be included in the referral. If the inmate will be released to an area outside the sentencing district, the U.S. Probation Office assuming supervision must be contacted. If no supervision follows the term of imprisonment, release plans must still be developed.
- h. The development of release plans must include, at a minimum, a place of residence and the method of financial support, and may require coordination with various segments of the community, such as hospices, the Department of Veterans Affairs or veterans' groups, Social Security Administration, welfare agencies, local medical organizations, or the inmate's family.

i. Because there is no final agency decision until the Director has reviewed the request, staff at any level may not contact the sentencing judge or solicit the judge's opinion through other officers of the court.

(2) If the General Counsel determines that the request warrants approval, the General Counsel shall solicit the opinion of either the Medical Director or the Assistant Director, Correctional Programs Division depending upon the nature of the basis for the request. With this opinion, the General Counsel shall forward the entire matter to the Director, Bureau of Prisons, for final decision.

(3) If the Director, Bureau of Prisons, grants a request under 18 U.S.C. 4205(g), the Director will contact the U.S. Attorney in the district in which the inmate was sentenced regarding moving the sentencing court on behalf of the Bureau of Prisons to reduce the minimum term of the inmate's sentence to time served. If the Director, Bureau of Prisons, grants a request under 18 U.S.C. 3582(c)(1)(A), the Director will contact the U.S. Attorney in the district in which the inmate was sentenced regarding moving the sentencing court on behalf of the Director of the Bureau of Prisons to reduce the inmate's term of imprisonment to time served.

b. Upon receipt of notice that the sentencing court has entered an order granting the motion under 18 U.S.C. 4205(g), the Warden of the institution where the inmate is confined shall schedule the inmate for hearing on the earliest Parole Commission docket.

Institution staff prepare an amended Sentence Data Summary for use at this hearing. Staff provide a copy of the most recent progress report to the Parole Commission.

Upon receipt of notice that the sentencing court has entered an order granting the motion under 18 U.S.C. 3582(c)(1)(A), the Warden of the institution where the inmate is confined shall release the inmate forthwith.

c. In the event the basis of the request is the medical condition of the inmate, staff shall expedite the request at all levels.

A request for an expedited review permits the review process to be expedited, but does not lessen the requirement that documentation be provided.

9. DENIAL OF REQUEST

§571.63 Denial of request.

a. When an inmate's request is denied by the Warden, the inmate will receive written notice and a statement of reasons for the denial. The inmate may appeal the denial through the Administrative Remedy Procedure (28 CFR part 542, subpart B).

b. When an inmate's request for consideration under 18 U.S.C. 4205(g) or 3582(c)(1)(A) is denied by the General Counsel, the General Counsel shall provide the inmate with a written notice and statement of reasons for the denial. This denial constitutes a final administrative decision.

c. When the Director, Bureau of Prisons, denies an inmate's request, the Director shall provide the inmate with a written notice and statement of reasons for the denial within 20 workdays after receipt of the referral from the Office of General Counsel. A denial by the Director constitutes a final administrative decision.

d. Because a denial by the General Counsel or Director, Bureau of Prisons, constitutes a final administrative decision, an inmate may not appeal the denial through the Administrative Remedy Procedure.

Under 18 USC 3582 (c) (1), an inmate may file a request for a reduction in sentence with the sentencing court after receiving the denial from the General Counsel, or the lapse of 30 days from the receipt of such a request by the Warden of the inmate's facility, whichever is earlier.

10. INELIGIBLE OFFENDERS

§571.64 Ineligible offenders.

The Bureau of Prisons has no authority to initiate a request under 18 U.S.C. 4205(g) or 3582(c)(1)(A) on behalf of state prisoners housed in Bureau of Prisons facilities or D.C. Code offenders confined in federal institutions. The Bureau of Prisons cannot initiate such a motion on behalf of federal offenders who committed their offenses prior to November 1, 1987, and received non-parolable sentences.

11. TRACKING REDUCTION IN SENTENCE REQUESTS

To ensure consistent handling and documentation of RIS requests, Wardens must identify a staff member to serve as an institution RIS Coordinator (IRC) and an alternate. The principal responsibility of the IRC is to receive and document RIS requests and other RIS-related information in the RIS electronic tracking database.

For each RIS request, the following information is entered into the RIS tracking database by the IRC:

- Inmate's full name.
- Federal register number.
- Date of birth and age.
- Institution.
- Date RIS request received by institution.
- Reason for RIS request.
- Whether staff assisted the inmate with submitting the RIS request
- Whether the request was submitted by a third party (attorney, partner, family member).
- Disposition of request (e.g., approval or denial).
- Reason for disposition.
- Date of disposition of request.

At the Central Office (CO) level, information regarding RIS requests is entered into the database by RIS Coordinators in the Office of General Counsel, the Health Services Division, and the Correctional Programs Division. The following information is entered into the RIS tracking database by CO staff:

- Date RIS request received by CO.
- Director's final decision.

12. ANNUAL REPORT

Under 18 U.S.C. § 3582 (d)(3), not later than December 21, 2019, and once every year thereafter, the Director of the Bureau of Prisons shall submit to the Committee on the Judiciary of the Senate and the Committee on the Judiciary of the House of Representatives a report on requests for sentence reductions pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A), which shall include a description of, for the previous year—

(A) the number of prisoners granted and denied sentence reductions, categorized by the criteria relied on as the grounds for a reduction in sentence;

(B) the number of requests initiated by or on behalf of prisoners, categorized by the criteria relied on as the grounds for a reduction in sentence;

(C) the number of requests that Bureau of Prisons employees assisted prisoners in drafting, preparing, or submitting, categorized by the criteria relied on as the grounds for a reduction in sentence, and the final decision made in each request;

(D) the number of requests that attorneys, partners, or family members submitted on a defendant's behalf, categorized by the criteria relied on as the grounds for a reduction in sentence, and the final decision made in each request;

(E) the number of requests approved by the Director of the Bureau of Prisons, categorized by the criteria relied on as the grounds for a reduction in sentence;

- (F) the number of requests denied by the Director of the Bureau of Prisons and the reasons given for each denial, categorized by the criteria relied on as the grounds for a reduction in sentence;
- (G) for each request, the time elapsed between the date the request was received by the warden and final decision, categorized by the criteria relied on as the grounds for a reduction in sentence;
- (H) for each request, the number of prisoners who died while their request was pending and, for each, the amount of time that had elapsed between the date the request was received by the Bureau of Prisons, categorized by the criteria relied on as the grounds for a reduction in sentence;
- (I) the number of Bureau of Prisons notifications to attorneys, partners, and family members of their right to visit a terminally ill defendant as required under paragraph (2)(A)(ii) and, for each, whether a visit occurred and how much time elapsed between the notification and the visit;
- (J) the number of visits to terminally ill prisoners that were denied by the Bureau of Prisons due to security or other concerns, and the reasons given for each denial; and
- (K) the number of motions filed by defendants with the court after all administrative rights to appeal a denial of a sentence reduction had been exhausted, the outcome of each motion, and the time that had elapsed between the date the request was first received by the Bureau of Prisons and the date the defendant filed the motion with the court.

Gentlemen,

Attached is a sample of the staff threat initial report, checklist, and residential assessment forms. We can get the ball rolling on our end with a memo and we can catch up with the preliminary report when we receive it (as long as Mr. Carvajal gives us the OK). The important thing is to worry about staff's safety and ensure local Law Enforcement is aware and taking appropriate actions. We can follow up with Central Office resources as deemed appropriate by the AD/Director.

We will begin an initial intelligence scrub as soon as we receive the initial information

If there is anything anyone needs from me or the Intelligence Section prior to us receiving the initial report, please let me know. Also, please ensure SIS is in the loop (institution and regional office), as they will be the points of contact for us and any outside law enforcement (other than the local law enforcement already working the case), unless we are directed differently.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

NOTIFICATION OF OIG INSPECTIONS PROGRAM OF BOP INSTITUTIONS

NOTIFICATION: Effective in Calendar Year 2019, the Office of the Inspector General (OIG) Evaluation and Inspections (E&I) Division will initiate an Inspections Program of the Federal Bureau of Prison's (BOP) facilities.

I. INTRODUCTION—The OIG has determined that it can enhance the effectiveness of its oversight, and its ability to alert BOP to concerns, by conducting short notice and unannounced inspections of BOP facilities, as appropriate. In recognition of the importance of conducting inspections in a way that fully accounts for safety and security considerations, OIG and BOP jointly developed the procedures described below. These procedures apply only to the inspection of BOP facilities by OIG's E&I Division and do not encompass either OIG Audit Division or Investigation Division initiatives.

II. PURPOSES/INTENTIONS

A. The purposes of this notification are:

1. To establish an understanding of procedures and responsibilities of OIG and BOP when OIG's E&I Division initiates inspections of BOP facilities. For the purposes of this notification, "BOP facility" means the BOP facility selected for inspection, including institutions, regional offices, training centers, and the Central Office.

2. To provide advance notice and familiarity to BOP Central Office and all facility locations of the expectations of BOP staff upon OIG's E&I Division initiating inspections of BOP facilities as provided herein.

B. It is the intention of OIG and BOP that:

1. Inspections will be conducted in a manner that minimizes disruption to the safe, orderly, and secure operation of BOP facilities.

2. Inspections will ordinarily occur with prior notice, as provided herein. Unannounced inspections will occur as exceptions to this ordinary approach when OIG's E&I Division determines it impracticable or inconsistent with the purpose of the inspection to provide prior notice.

3. Inspections pursuant to this notification will generally occur in two stages. On the first day, OIG's E&I inspection team will provide a brief entrance conference, followed by an initial inspection of the subject site. The OIG's E&I inspection team may also make a limited request for the immediate production of documents/data.

On the second and subsequent days, OIG's E&I inspection team will conduct additional inspection activities usually composed of a combination of document reviews, interviews, and further inspections within the facility.

III. RECITALS

WHEREAS OIG has authority to conduct inspections of BOP facilities pursuant to the Inspector General Act of 1978, 5 U.S.C. App.3, as amended. Specifically, Section 4 of the Act provides that it shall be the duty and responsibility of the Inspector General to (1) review the programs and operations of the Department; (2) conduct activities that promote economy and efficiency or prevent and detect fraud and abuse in the Department's programs and operations; (3) keep the head of the Department informed of serious problems, abuses, and deficiencies relating to the programs and operations of the Department; and (4) recommend corrective action concerning such problems, abuses, and deficiencies.

WHEREAS BOP policy establishes procedures for unannounced arrivals from external audit authorities, which includes OIG. Specifically, BOP policy states that "ordinarily, the Bureau receives prior notification of an external audit authority's intent to review or inspect a particular site, but on rare occasions auditors may arrive unannounced." See Program Statement 1210.23, Management Control and Program Review Manual, August 21, 2002.

WHEREAS BOP policy requires that BOP respond in a timely, accurate, and concise manner to all inquiries, surveys, requests, and audits from external audit authorities, including OIG, that have an ongoing interest in BOP programs and operations for regulatory oversight, as well as inquiries reflecting the public's interests. The policy confirms that "such external evaluations can be useful to validate BOP's own internal system of checks and balances, particularly operational and program reviews."

IV. THE JOINTLY DEVELOPED INSPECTION PROCEDURES TO BE CARRIED OUT BY OIG's E&I DIVISION AND BOP

A. OIG's E&I Division will:

1. Ordinarily, provide at least 4 hours advance notice of its decision to conduct an inspection of a specified BOP facility, to the BOP point of contact (specified below). However, when OIG determines it impracticable or inconsistent with the purpose of the inspection, an unannounced inspection may occur.

2. Provide advance notice of inspections when appropriate by directly contacting the relevant BOP Regional Director by telephone to obtain the direct contact information for the Warden/Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the facility to be inspected, followed by directly contacting that Warden/CEO and informing them of the decision to conduct an inspection of that facility. In instances when advance notice will not be provided, OIG's E&I inspection team will request to speak to the Warden/CEO upon arrival at the facility. In either unannounced or short notice inspections, OIG's E&I Division will identify the name of the inspection Team Leader and the general purpose of the inspection, including the location, time, date, and expected duration of the inspection to the Warden/CEO during the initial contact. OIG is not obligated to disclose the reasons for its inspection or the person(s) who may have provided OIG with information that prompted the inspection.

3. Onsite Inspection Protocols

a. Upon arrival at the BOP facility, conduct a brief (10–15 minute) entrance conference with the Warden/CEO, or designee, and provide a copy of the initiation memorandum, as well as any immediate document/data requests for materials that BOP may have readily available. At this time, OIG's E&I Division will provide BOP with information regarding the size and identities of the persons comprising its inspection team and information regarding equipment the inspection team seeks to bring into the facility that day to conduct the inspection (e.g., government-issued smartphones, laptop computers, cameras). Personal electronics are prohibited; government-issued electronics will be permitted unless there is a specific and compelling reason why they would compromise safety and security in the BOP facility being inspected. Firearms are prohibited within secure confines. OIG's E&I inspection team will abide by applicable BOP regulations and policies regarding safety and security at the facility.

b. Except in rare circumstances, when precluded by an emergency, be immediately escorted to the portion of the BOP facility within the scope of the inspection to observe and make note of conditions. The first day of the OIG's E&I Division inspection will generally be limited to observation and physical inspection of the area(s) of the facility relevant to the inspection being conducted. Before departing the facility for the day, OIG's E&I inspection team may request readily available documents/data maintained by the facility.

c. Upon completing the first day of inspection, and in consultation with the Warden/CEO, or designee, agree on a time within the following 2 days to return and continue inspection activities. This is intended to give the Warden/CEO 1 full business day, if needed, to arrange for the availability of the personnel, documents, and working space needed by OIG's E&I inspection team and to ensure that the inspection will not affect the safety and security of the institution.

d. To the extent possible, provide general information on the subject matter of its inspection including the discipline(s) or area(s) to be inspected; the personnel, inmates, or positions of persons to be interviewed; and a general description of the types of documents that it will request for review, if any. OIG E&I inspection activities may include, but are not limited to: observation, documentation of conditions of confinement, data collection; document review (e.g., inmate case files, facility documents or policies); tours; and interviews of inmates and staff at various levels. The team will also provide information about any additional equipment (as described above) the team seeks to bring into the facility on the subsequent days of the inspection.

e. Prior to leaving the facility each day, meet with the Warden/CEO or designee to discuss the next day's anticipated activities to the extent possible. On the last day of the inspection, OIG's E&I inspection team will conduct a closeout meeting with the Warden/CEO or designee to discuss any continuing request obligations, as well as to inform BOP of what it can expect next from OIG.

4. Focus the scope and duration of the inspection to minimize disruption to the safe, orderly, and secure operation of BOP facilities. Denial of entry or other requests associated with the inspection by BOP, or a claim by OIG of BOP's unreasonable delay in cooperating with a request, will be immediately raised to BOP's Assistant Director, Program Review Division, Central Office, at 202-307-1076, by OIG's point of contact.

5. Provide BOP's Central Office point of contact an opportunity to review and comment on a working draft report of the inspection, including a sensitivity review, prior to OIG's E&I Division finalizing the report. OIG's E&I Division will provide BOP a copy of the final report and 1-day advance notice before public disclosure of the final inspection report.

6. Produce a final inspection report that fairly and accurately captures OIG inspection findings.

B. BOP will:

1. Provide a copy of this notification to all BOP Regional Directors and facility Wardens/CEOs and make it available on BOP's internal Sallyport website.

2. Provide OIG's E&I Division with an updated list of its Regional Directors and their direct telephone numbers (office and mobile) to facilitate contacting Wardens/CEOs directly when prior notice of inspections will be given. This is the responsibility of BOP's Central Office point of contact.

3. Ensure that OIG's E&I Division's access to the facility to conduct the inspection is not delayed or denied unless there are compelling reasons regarding the safe and secure operation of the BOP facility or protection of the public.

4. Facilitate OIG's E&I Division inspection by coordinating with the E&I inspection Team Leader to provide the requested office space, equipment, access, persons for interviews, etc. When OIG provides advance notice of an inspection, the BOP's facility Warden/CEO or designee who received the notification will promptly arrange for the inspection of the subject facility and ensure that the inspection can be conducted upon the arrival of OIG's E&I inspection team without jeopardizing the safe and secure operation of the facility or protection of the public. The Warden/CEO or designee must keep confidential OIG's announcement to conduct an inspection prior to the OIG's E&I inspection team's arrival and initiation of the facility inspection.

When OIG's E&I division does not provide advance notice, the institution Warden/CEO, or designee, will determine whether access can be provided as requested without jeopardizing the safety, security, and orderly operation of the facility. Additionally, the Warden/CEO at the BOP facility will immediately contact the BOP Central Office point of contact and provide notification of the inspection, regardless of whether the OIG provides advance notice of the inspection.

5. Immediately raise to BOP's Assistant Director, Program Review Division, Central Office, at 202-307-1076, any denial of entry or claim by OIG's E&I Division of BOP's unreasonable delay in cooperating with a request pertaining to an inspection.

V. POINTS OF CONTACT—The following are the points of contact for this notification. Issues not addressed by this notification should be raised to the points of contact.

A. BOP's Central Office point of contact for this notification is the Chief, External Audits, Planning and Analysis Section or designee, Program Review Division, Central Office, Washington, D.C., 202-353-3002. BOP's point of contact for providing advance notice of inspection is the facility Warden/CEO.

B. OIG's point of contact for this notification is the Assistant Inspector General, Evaluation and Inspections Division or designee, Office of the Inspector General, Washington, D.C., 202-616-4620.

Prisoners Are Humans Too! - Today is a brand new day. No longer can we keep turning a blind eye to the blatant injustices within the criminal justice system. We know the facts, we understand the statistics and we know the ones who are effected the most - us! . . . The only way to win is to stand up and demand justice. PERIOD point blank! . . . I was standing up on the inside and I'm going to continue to stand on the outside. But this fight can't be won alone. It's time for us to get on one accord. It's time to be our brothers and our sisters keepers. It's time to be a voice for the voiceless. . . First thing first, it's time to demand justice for (b)(6). A prison sentence can no longer become a death sentence. That's absolutely unacceptable, and we will not turn a blind eye to this!! All parties at fault MUST be held accountable. . . Stay tuned for updates concerning this matter. Your help and support is definitely needed. . . Prayers up for (b)(6) and her family 🙏🙏🙏 Fighting for freedom until they free them all. COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

Plaintiff Federal Defenders of New York, Inc. (the “Federal Defenders”), by and through its undersigned counsel, for its Complaint against Defendants Federal Bureau of Prisons (“BOP”) and Warden Herman Quay, alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. There is a humanitarian crisis taking place at the main federal detention facility in this District. The conditions at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn, New York (“MDC”), are inhumane, violate the constitution, and are causing irreparable harm to both MDC detainees and the Federal Defenders.

2. On Sunday, January 27, 2019, there was a fire at the MDC. The fire affected the power source for the MDC’s West Building, which houses male inmates, and resulted in what the BOP has characterized as a “partial power outage.”

3. Defendants’ response to the fire has been woefully inadequate. They have been slow to acknowledge the problem and have not taken sufficient steps to obtain temporary supplies of electricity or heat, or to repair the damage.

4. Critically, since January 27, there has been near-total cancellation of legal and family visiting for male inmates at the MDC. Defendants cancelled legal visiting each day between January 27 and February 2, and substantially curtailed visiting on February 3.

5. Further, Defendants have issued misleading statements to the public and to the courts about the significantly deleterious conditions facing MDC inmates.

6. Defendants' misstatements were made manifest when a Federal Defenders attorney was given access to the MDC—access which Defendants granted only following the issuance of an administrative order by the Chief Judge of this District. That visitation revealed that the Defendants' response to the fire has caused significant and serious deprivations of the constitutional rights of the MDC detainees.

7. The Defendants' deprivation of MDC detainees' constitutional rights has caused and is causing irreparable harm to the Federal Defenders and its clients.

THE PARTIES

8. Plaintiff Federal Defenders of New York, Inc. is a New York not-for-profit corporation with offices in Brooklyn, Central Islip, Manhattan, and White Plains, New York. Federal Defenders is dedicated to offering public defense services to indigent persons in federal criminal cases in the Eastern and Southern Districts of New York.

9. Defendant BOP is a component of the United States Department of Justice. It is the federal agency that administers federal jail and prison facilities. It is responsible for the custody and care of more than 180,000 inmates nationwide.

10. Defendant Herman Quay is the Warden of the MDC in Brooklyn.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

11. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 and 5 U.S.C. § 702. The Federal Defenders seek declaratory and injunctive relief pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 706 and 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202.

12. Venue is proper under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2) and (e)(1) because a substantial part of the events and/or omissions giving rise to the claims asserted herein occurred within this District, the Federal Defenders reside in this District, and Defendants are officers, employees, or agencies of the United States acting in their official capacity.

BACKGROUND

A. The MDC

13. The MDC is the principal federal pre-trial detention facility in this District. It is operated by Defendant BOP and led by Defendant Herman Quay, the warden of the facility.

14. The vast majority of the more than 1,600 detainees held at the facility are being held prior to trial and thus are presumed innocent of the crimes for which they may ultimately be tried.

15. The MDC is located in the Sunset Park neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York. It consists of two buildings, the West Building, which houses male inmates, and the East Building, which houses female inmates. BOP regulations, and an Institution Supplement for MDC issued by Defendant Quay, set forth specific and detailed rules for legal and social visitation.

16. The MDC's standard practice is to allow for attorney visitation from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. seven days per week.

17. MDC inmates rely heavily on electricity beyond just the basic services related to heating, ventilation, and air conditioning. For example, inmates rely on CorrLinks, the BOP's email system, to communicate with counsel and family, and also use electronic platforms to submit medical requests, prescription refills, and administrative grievances.

B. The Fire at the MDC

18. On January 27, 2019, a power source in the switch gear room in the West Building of the MDC caught fire, leading to partial yet wide-ranging power outages.

19. Following the fire, MDC inmates reported to attorneys at the Federal Defenders that there was little or no heating, no or limited hot water, minimal access to electricity, and near total lack of access to certain medical services, telephones, televisions, computers, laundry, or commissary. Inmates also reported that they smelled noxious fumes; some reported seeing BOP officers wearing masks. No masks were supplied to inmates.

20. Further, the BOP cancelled both legal and social visiting in the aftermath of the fire.

21. Legal and social visiting were cancelled entirely on January 28, January 29, January 30, January 31, February 1, and February 2.

22. On February 2, 2019, the BOP informed the Federal Defenders that legal visiting would resume at MDC the next day. On February 3, however, less than four hours after legal visiting resumed, visiting attorneys began to smell a strong chemical scent, and started coughing, when pepper spray was dispersed in the visiting room. Legal visits were then abruptly cut short, and the visiting attorneys were escorted out of the MDC. Public reports indicate that BOP officials pepper sprayed individuals that had assembled in the lobby of the MDC.

23. As a result, for each day since the fire, up to the date of this Complaint, the people housed at MDC were prevented from meeting with the attorneys that were representing them in pending criminal proceedings.

C. The BOP's Stonewalling and False Statements

24. During the week following the fire, attorneys at the Federal Defenders sought to engage with BOP officials regarding troubling reports they had received from people held at MDC.

25. BOP officials were largely non-responsive. They refused to provide detailed or accurate information about the conditions at MDC or the reasons that legal visitations were cancelled.

26. Specifically, BOP officials frequently did not respond to certain inquiries by attorneys at the Federal Defenders, and, when they did respond, they offered explanations that were inconsistent with the conditions that had been described by the MDC inmates. For example, one BOP attorney represented to a Federal Defenders attorney on two separate occasions that he was "informed that the power outage did not impact the heating in the institutions" and that "the heat is operational." As discussed below, however, the power outage following the fire had a significant impact on the MDC's heating system.

27. On January 30, 2019, a BOP official informed an attorney at the Federal Defenders that legal visitation rights would resume "as soon as [the visiting room in the West Building] is usable," but represented that "if visitation is not returned to normal by next week, a temporary procedure will be implemented to allow for legal visits to take place in the east visiting room." The BOP has never explained why that temporary procedure was not put in place immediately. That procedure is, in fact, routinely used for co-defendant meetings.

28. On February 1, 2019, Defendant Quay, the warden of the MDC, provided a purported update as to the conditions at the MDC to the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York. Defendant Quay reported the following:

Inmates have not been confined to their cells and are still allowed leisure/recreational activities. There is currently no TV/Internet. Inmates still have access to Public Defender Phones which are working. Heat has never been impacted and is monitored regularly due to the cold weather. Heat is in the high 60s and low 70s. Hot water has not been impacted as it is on the same system as the heat. There are no problems with meals, prisoner are still receiving hot meals. There is no problem with medical, medications are still delivered twice daily. The only issue related to medication is that the computers are not working so you can not request medical through the computers. Medical still can be requested through their units and also during the twice daily medical runs. The visiting room is without power which is why there was no visitations. The staff has temporary wiring in place and should have attorney visiting up today.

29. Later that day, following an order from Chief Judge Irizarry, Deirdre von Dornum, Attorney-in-Chief of the Federal Defenders for the Eastern District, visited the MDC. As set forth in detail in her declaration accompanying the Federal Defender's application for a temporary restraining order, filed contemporaneously herewith and incorporated by reference herein, von Dornum discovered that much of what Defendant Quay told the Southern District was materially false and/or misleading. For example, the attorney at Federal Defenders witnessed the following:

- a. the facility was very cold (including one unit in which cold air was blowing from facility vents), such that BOP officers were wearing multiple layers and scarves around their heads, yet many inmates were wearing only short-sleeved shirts and light cotton pants;
- b. the lights were not functioning in individual cells, leaving the cells in total darkness;
- c. inmates widely reported that they had been unable to fill medical prescriptions or request new medical care because the medical computer

- system was not in operation, leading to numerous instances in which serious medical conditions were not receiving necessary treatment;
- d. inmates were unable to submit administrative grievances;
 - e. inmates had not received clean clothing or bedding since the fire, forcing one inmate, for example, to sleep on bedding that was made bloody due to his ulcerative colitis;
 - f. large fluctuations in water temperature and potability;
 - g. one MDC official reported that certain inmates had not been allowed outside of their cells at all since the date of the fire; and
 - h. certain inmates received only cold food for the several days following the fire.

30. Despite what was witnessed by von Dornum, the BOP issued a press release the following day, February 2, 2019, which repeated certain of the materially false or misleading statements made by Defendant Quay. Most notably, the BOP press release represented that “medical services continue to be provided,” even though numerous inmates reported not receiving needed medical care.

31. On February 3, 2019, the BOP updated its press release, including three principal additions. First, that heating to the building “was not affected by the power outage.” Second, that “[m]edical staff have checked and continue to check each inmate cell-by-cell periodically and continue to dispense required medications and address the medical needs of the inmate population.” Third, that “[l]egal visits will be available today.” Of course, those first two representations wholly contradict what von Dornum learned and observed during her visit two days earlier. As for the third, as noted above, limited legal visits were permitted in the morning before legal visitation was abruptly cut short and the visiting attorneys were escorted out of the MDC.

D. The Harm to the Federal Defenders and Their Clients

32. The events described above have significantly impacted the Federal Defenders' ability to achieve the organization's principal objectives. The Federal Defenders have been unable to meet with or speak privately with their clients detained at the MDC, which has impaired client representation in several ways.

33. For example, the Federal Defenders have been unable to review discovery files with clients who are deciding whether to go to trial, how to plead, and how to frame a sentencing strategy. Additionally, presentence interviews with Federal Defenders' clients, as well as expert interviews, have been cancelled, which will significantly delay these clients' access to justice. Meeting cancellations also have lengthened Federal Defenders' clients' stays at MDC because clients being considered for reentry programs could not be interviewed and thus released into those programs.

34. The events described above have caused a significant drain on the Federal Defenders' resources. The Federal Defenders have been forced to spend significant time, focus, and resources in addressing the issues at the MDC and attempting to visit clients there.

35. The Federal Defenders (and their clients at MDC) will be irreparably harmed if the above conduct is not preliminarily and permanently enjoined.

CLAIMS

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION (Violation of the Sixth Amendment Right to Counsel)

36. The Federal Defenders incorporate all of the preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

37. The Sixth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution guarantees that “[i]n all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right . . . to have the Assistance of Counsel for his defence.” Actions that substantially interfere with the right to counsel constitute a violation of the Sixth Amendment.

38. Defendants have cancelled nearly all legal visiting in the West Building of the MDC since January 27 until the date of this Complaint. Their refusal to provide detailed information about these cancellations to defense counsel, as well as the dire conditions in which MDC inmates find themselves, have only made it more difficult for inmates to access their attorneys.

39. These actions constitute substantial interference with Federal Defender clients’ right to counsel, in violation of the Sixth Amendment.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION (Violation of the Administrative Procedure Act)

40. The Federal Defenders incorporate all of the preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

41. BOP regulations require wardens to “provide the opportunity for pretrial inmate-attorney visits on a seven-days-a-week basis.” 28 C.F.R. § 551.117(a).

42. BOP regulations also prohibit any limitation of “the frequency of attorney visits” for all inmates, and obligate wardens to “make every effort to arrange for a visit” even when an attorney is unable to provide prior notification. 28 U.S.C. § 543.13(b), (d).

43. The BOP’s failure to follow its own regulations is arbitrary and capricious and contrary to the law, and thus a violation of the Administrative Procedure Act. 5 U.S.C. § 706(2).

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

44. WHEREFORE, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court:

- a. Declare that Defendants' denial of legal visiting violates the Sixth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution by improperly interfering with the right to counsel;
- b. Declare that Defendants' denial of legal visiting arbitrarily and capriciously fails to comply with the BOP's own regulations, in violation of the Administrative Procedure Act;
- c. Preliminarily and permanently enjoin Defendants and their officers, agents, servants, employees, and attorneys, and all persons acting in concert or participation with them, from taking any actions to prevent legal visiting from taking place on a daily basis at the MDC, and from taking any action to prevent social visiting for all inmates from occurring in accordance with the MDC's normal schedule and procedures for such visits;
- d. Hold a hearing to evaluate the conditions of confinement that are infringing the constitutional rights of inmates at the MDC and require the Defendants to supply information about those conditions;
- e. Appoint a special master to inspect the MDC and undertake the factfinding necessary to determine whether Defendants are protecting the constitutional rights of inmates in their custody;
- f. Award Plaintiff's attorneys' fees, costs, and other expenses to the extent permitted by law; and
- g. Award such other and further relief as the Court determines to be just and proper.

Narrative

On February 2, 2019, protesters arrived at MDC Brooklyn and started protesting the perceived conditions inside the institution. On February 3, 2019, at approximately 12:47 p.m. the protesters pushed their way into the west building front lobby. Staff who were present in the lobby attempted to block the protesters from further entering the lobby. Staff called for assistance and when further staff arrived the protesters became violent and staff responded by using OC spray and deployment of pepperball rounds from the Pepper Ball Launcher. Staff were then able to guide the protesters out of the front lobby with no further incident. While (b)(7)(E) it was discovered on the screen name (b)(6) the following post; "This is what happened to my Sis (b)(6) Officer (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) along with Officer (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) at the Metropolitan Detention Center brutality assaulted (b)(6) (b)(6) and pepper sprayed her for no reason... This is the culture of the staff at MDC. Can you imagine what they are doing to the inmates?" In the comments section from this post, the screen name of (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) stated; "Officer (b)(6) and (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) your days are numbered... You gone learn to put your hands on my beautiful people mf.." In another response to the same post, (b)(6) continued to state; "It's ok I downloaded the video..I will get it out. Right before I kill them 2 mf officers. Now repost that @cnn. As of the righting of this report, protesters remain outside MDC Brooklyn.

On February 4, 2019, at 10:25 a.m. the east Control Center received a bomb threat from a male individual. The individual stated, "There is a bomb in the building." He then hung up with no other information given. The NYPD was contacted and the Emergency Services Unit responded to the institution. They conducted a search of the rear gate area, mail room, and staff parking lot and assessed the situation clear for the exterior of the building. An internal search was conducted inside the institution with negative results.

Given the threats to staff and the overall situation at MDC Brooklyn, it is possible Warden Quay has a threat against him.

Good morning - obviously, well aware of Brooklyn; the comments the Senator indicates about Fairton caused us pause; no incidents occurred there, so assuming it was cold temperatures due to weather only? See what you think about the first full paragraph on the second page of the attached letter if you would.

Thanks so much!! - Kevin

Hugh J. Hurwitz
Acting Director
Federal Bureau of Prisons
320 First St., NW
Washington, DC 20534

Dear Mr. Hurwitz,

I am writing to you to follow up on a conversation we had last week regarding reports of heating and electrical issues at several Bureau of Prisons (BOP) facilities. As you know, during the week of January 28, 2019, a cold front swept through the United States sending temperatures in some areas to record lows. Unfortunately, during this time, both MDC Brooklyn and FCI Fairton experienced issues with their heating and electrical units, which resulted in dangerous conditions both for people who are incarcerated at those facilities as well as those who work there. I am concerned that BOP was not properly prepared to deal with last week's extreme cold and would like to work with you to ensure that BOP has the proper policies and procedures in place to handle these situations in the future.

On February 1, 2019, The New York Times published a story that detailed awful conditions inside MDC Brooklyn, a facility that employs over 500 correctional officers and incarcerates more than 1,600 people.¹ As news began to trickle out that conditions inside the jail were deteriorating as temperatures outside dropped, BOP produced inconsistent information regarding the source of the problem. For instance, in an email BOP said that the building was "experiencing a partial power outage" but said that "[c]ells have heat and hot water, there is lighting in the common areas and inmates are receiving hot meals."²

Additionally, BOP appeared to blame Con Edison saying that it "has been dealing with numerous power emergencies in the community."³ But, the electrical company said it was not having any power issues in the area and said any outages MDC Brooklyn was experiencing must have been internal.⁴ Meanwhile, temperatures in the facility continued to drop and the Federal Defenders office said that its phones were ringing off the hook with complaints.⁵ Deirdre von Dornum, the lead defender in the Brooklyn Federal Defenders office, said that incarcerated people were "gathered around the telephones on their floors to report poor heating, little to no hot water and no lights in their cells.”⁶ Horrifying videos even emerged outside the facility that depicted incarcerated people banging loudly on the windows in protest.⁷

Additionally, my office received reports that FCI Fairton was experiencing heating issues and that blankets that were not being distributed to individuals who requested them. As you know, the facility incarcerates over 1,100 people and over 300 BOP employees work there. My staff connected with the BOP Office of Legislative Affairs and learned that the facility is now being properly heated, albeit with some temporary measures, and there are a sufficient number of blankets available should the facility experience any drop in temperature.

I appreciate your willingness to work with me on addressing these issues. It is essential that BOP provides a safe environment both for those who are incarcerated at its facilities and for those who work there as well. As part of that effort, please provide answers to the following questions:

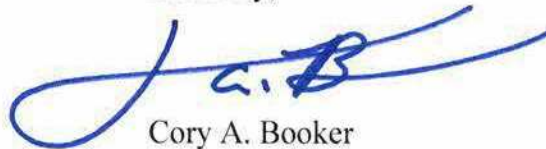

1. What steps is BOP taking to ensure that information is accurately disseminated in the future when one of its facilities is experience heating, cooling, electrical, or other technical difficulties?
2. What policies and procedures does BOP currently have in place to deal with heating, cooling, and electrical outages when paired with extreme weather incidents, including life-threatening temperatures?
 - a. Were those policies and procedures followed with respect to the incidents at MDC Brooklyn and FCI Fairton?
 - b. If those policies and procedures were not followed, please explain where and how the breakdown occurred.
 - c. Are there regulations that require BOP to maintain certain acceptable temperatures at its facilities?
 - d. If there are no existing regulations in place that requires BOP to maintain certain temperatures in its facilities, will BOP work to issue regulations that require facilities to maintain safe temperatures in its facilities?
3. Is BOP working to revise its policies and procedures that are in place to deal with heating, cooling, and electrical outages when paired with extreme weather incidents? If so, please detail the ways in which BOP is amending its procedures.

⁷ Rosenblatt, supra note 3.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

APPOINTMENT STATEMENT

The arbitrator you select is an independent contractor whose relationship is solely with the parties to the dispute. Arbitrators on the FMCS roster are subject to certain reporting requirements and to the ethical standards and procedures set forth in the Code of Professional Responsibility for Arbitrators of Labor Management Disputes and FMCS Arbitration Policies and Procedures.

However, under Federal Regulations, FMCS has no power to:

- (1) Compel parties to appear before an arbitrator;
- (2) Enforce an agreement to arbitrate;
- (3) Compel parties to arbitrate any issue;
- (4) Influence, alter, or set aside decisions of arbitrators on the Roster; or
- (5) Compel, deny, or modify payment of compensation to an arbitrator

A party who is displeased with an arbitrator or his/her decision may or may not have further avenues of redress, but FMCS is on no position to advise or assist parties who would have preferred a different result or who were not happy with the arbitrator. FMCS may note or act upon allegations of violations of the Code or its arbitration policies by arbitrators. While repeated complaints or findings of specific misconduct may result in suspension or removal of an arbitrator from the FMCS roster, FMCS is unable to take any action or provide any guidance that would alter or affect the outcome of an arbitration decision.

Your signature on the Instructions to FMCS form indicates that you understand this appointment statement.

NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS MAKING PAYMENT BY CHECK

Authorization to Convert Your Check: If you send us a check to make your payment, your check will be converted into an electronic fund transfer. “Electronic fund transfer” is the term used to refer to the process in which we electronically instruct your financial institution to transfer funds from your account to our account, rather than processing your check. By sending your completed, signed check to us, you authorize us to scan your check and to use the account information from your check to make an electronic fund transfer from your account for the same amount as the check. If the electronic fund transfer cannot be processed for technical reasons, you authorize us to process your original check.

Insufficient Funds: The electronic fund transfer from your account will usually occur within 24 hours, which is faster than a check is normally processed. Therefore, make sure there are sufficient funds available in your checking account when you send us your check. If the electronic fund transfer cannot be completed because of insufficient funds, we will not resubmit the check information for electronic fund transfer. Your bank may charge you a fee for insufficient funds.

Transaction Information: The electronic fund transfer from your account will be on the account statement you received from your financial institution. However, the transfer may be in a different place on your statement than the place where your checks normally appear. For example, it may appear under “other withdrawals” or “other transactions.” You will not receive your original check back from your financial institution. For security reasons, we will destroy your original check, but we will keep a copy of the check for record keeping purposes.

We can resume normal. Keep us posted if anything changes requiring operational changes. Coordinate with Maffeo on when the power is switched back to normal power. There will be a few minutes of disruption. You will want advance notice so you can secure before that happens.

If we have blankets in shu, hand out extras to range 4. See if we have a supply in GO just in case we can't get the heat back on and have to issue to some of the units as well.

Thanks.

I understand from multiple calls today we've had power issues. I'm aware that we are now on generator power. Here's a few things.

1. Check all areas and report any locations where lighting isn't working.
2. Let me know once our count is clear.

3. Social visiting needs to happen today.

4. If bathroom lights are out in the VR, have VR staff check out a few flashlights that visitors can utilize.

This is to inform you that this morning around 630 or so the west building experienced a electrical issue. I went and checked the utility side and found an issue. I called con Edison and they responded and are working on the issue. They had two feeders that dropped out and a blown 5000 amp fuse. They are in the process of making repairs. I have the building on generator so lights are not affected.

Yes, we are having heating issues in some areas of the institution. Yesterday, we had some of the heating coils in the air handlers break. Heat was impacted in all of the unit team areas and inmate cells in West SHU, Unit 52, Unit 62, and Unit 72. Facilities staff have been here since yesterday attempting to repair the coils. Thus far, heat was restored to West SHU. Extra blankets were provided to the inmate population in the affected areas, coffee is being served to staff on each floor, and coffee packets are being provided to inmates with the noon meal. We are hopeful the cells will all have heat by the end of the day.

Unrelated, yesterday we also had another power outage at the institution. A Con Edison transformer failed resulting in us having to go to generator power for much of the day until Con Edison restored power to the institution. The power outage delayed morning visitation until approximately 11:00 am.

Brooklyn switch gear fire

From Herman Quay

McFarland, Ray OrmondValery Logan
Date 2019/01/27 17:02
Subject: Brooklyn switch gear fire
Attachments: TEXT.htm

Boss,

Here is an update to my previous notification.

This afternoon, staff notice accumulating smoke in the first floor of the institution, particularly in the link between the East and West building. The fire department was called and investigation revealed a fire in the switch gear room. The fire was extinguished with the assistance of the fire department. The fire did not breach any other area of the institution but there was significant damage to the switch gear.

During the response, there were no injuries to staff or inmates. The institution was recalled, an emergency count was initiated and all inmates are accounted for.

The West institution is without power in some areas (the East building was unaffected). Staff offices, inmate cells, food service, r&d, and visiting are without power. Likewise, computers throughout are not operational.

We have cameras, lighting in common areas, heat, and elevator operation.

Currently, the institution is secured. Feeding tonight and tomorrow will be by bag meal in inmate cells. Medical has conducted pill line in each unit and will continue to go cell to cell tomorrow. Visiting has been canceled.

The local power company was onsite today and will be back tomorrow for further evaluation. Electrical contractors are also expected to be onsite tomorrow in an attempt to bypass the damaged switch gear to provide power to affected areas.

Unfortunately, it appears the switch gear will require replacement. I will have a cost estimate as soon as it is available.

Let me know if you require additional information.

Re: Brooklyn Power

From Herman Quay
To Ray Ormond
Date 2019/01/28 17:04
Subject: Re: Brooklyn Power
Attachments: TEXT.htm

Boss,

In response to the below allegation, the power issue previously experienced at Brooklyn is unrelated to the current switch gear fire. Previously, a large circuit breaker was shorting and preventing the institution from receiving outside power. During that outage, the institution went to generator power while contractors worked on identifying and repairing the short. The contractor did not refuse to do work; in fact, the contractor helped repair the breaker and we were able to go back to outside power. The current switch gear fire occurred in a separate area; the previously repaired breaker was undamaged and is still operational. We are not on generator power right now. Power is still running through unaffected and separate switch gear which is why we have power in some areas and not in others.

Currently, we are still experiencing power outages in some areas but have made some progress.

While lights and freezers are still out in food service, the ovens are working. We purchased flood lights for several areas, to include food service, allowing them to work in those areas. Food service is able to serve hot meals and did so for lunch and dinner today.

With the exception of the xray machine, health services (lighting and computers) is operational and will be seeing inmates in health services tomorrow.

We continue to process inmates in and out through r&d, even though the West r&d is without lighting. We put flood lights in West r&d and gave staff the option of working in East or West. With the flood lights, they have chosen to remain in the West.

The inmates have been out of their cells since lunch time, allowing them to shower and use the recreation areas and hot water dispensers. Though we have cameras, radios, and elevators fully functioning, in a abundance of caution, we added a second staff to each unit. Staff from program areas which have no power were utilized. The inmates will be secured at 8 pm. We will continue with this level of activity until power is fully restored. The biggest issue for inmates, and the courts, is the impact on visiting. There are currently no lights in the visiting room resulting in visits being suspended.

The contractor was in today and is testing impacted areas in the switch gear room to see what is functioning and what needs to be replaced. Staff are confident we will be able to convert the impacted areas to generator power by the end of the week. I do not have a price on repairs yet as they are still assessing and testing equipment; however, the repair is likely to be expensive and lengthy. The equipment is 25 years old and will likely need to be fabricated or re-engineered. If we can get the areas without power switched to the generator, they will likely be on generator power for an extended period.

Let me know if you have questions or need additional information.

"Mgt was previously informed that they knew they had a problem with the electrical system in the building. Mgt brought someone in to investigate it to be repaired but the vendor refused citing the entire system needed replacing which would take a month to do the work. They left it there unattended even against advice of the vendor, which later resulted in an explosion. Boss, Attached is today's on-site temperature readings. We have three areas that have lower than desired temperatures: Unit 62, Education, and Health Services.

Unit 62: The HVAC Foreman was adjusting the air handler unit this morning and had it turned off. The air handler for unit 62 is fully operational. It has been reset and temperatures are rising in the unit. We will continue to monitor.

Health Services: At 62.4, the department is not freezing but the temperature should be higher. The air handler unit is fully operational. The HVAC Foreman made adjustments to the air dampers and removed items blocking vents. Greater air flow should result in higher temperatures. We will continue to monitor.

Education: There are no staff in the Education department today. The air handler unit is fully operational. Again, the HVAC Foreman made adjustments to the dampers in an attempt to increase air flow. We will continue to monitor.

All other areas recorded comfortable temperatures.

I want to let them know I am addressing the misleading and inaccurate information being communicated to the courts. The information being communicated appears to be a coordinated effort by parties who would benefit from disparaging comments.

We need to let them know that our first priority is always the safety, security, and well-being of inmates, staff, and the public. Actions taken to ensure this goal may temporarily inconvenience services or individuals; however, we will not compromise this goal and take steps necessary to return to normal operations as expeditiously as possible.

Provide a narrative of the facts regarding the situation similar to what was already provided.

The goal is to counter some of the info but also let them know the false info is calculated, purposeful, and designed to compromise our relationship with the courts.

I forgot to mention we only have one elevator operational. Therefore, the inmate units are secured. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) has called the elevator company and we are waiting on them to show up. They have been down since 0900 am. I will have (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) follow up on their status.

NO NEW JAILS NYC STATEMENT:
IN RESPONSE TO JUDGE TORRES' DECISION

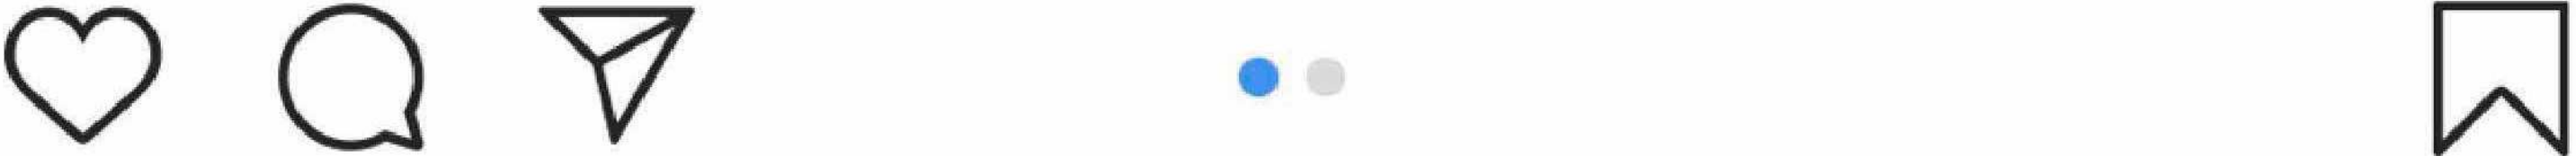

On Tuesday, February 5th, Federal District Judge Analisa Torres declined to appoint a “special master” to inspect conditions, investigate complaints, and help prevent retaliation against incarcerated people at the Metropolitan Detention Center (MDC) in Sunset Park, Brooklyn. She also ruled that there was insufficient evidence to grant the transfer of two detained people who fear retaliation after speaking out and testifying about conditions at MDC. Judge Torres’s decision was made after touring the jail and finding conditions partially improved. Judge Torres appears content that the humanitarian crisis at MDC will be resolved without oversight.

Advocates, grassroots organizers, and family members of the detainees are concerned about the well-being of individuals detained at MDC. Judge Torres’s ruling continues to uphold and protect the Bureau of Prison’s actions, which are rooted in systemic state-sanctioned violence and treat detained individuals as being unworthy of human dignity and basic human rights.

In the past week, the world has learned of the horrendous conditions faced by those detained at MDC. The lack of access to basic necessities-- including hot water, food, heat, medicine, movement, and contact with loved ones-- and human rights abuses was shared by incarcerated people and their families and amplified by community members on the ground outside the jail. The sound of detainees pounding on the walls and their screams viscerally echoed in the streets and in our hearts. We will continue to amplify their voices until harm is alleviated and basic human rights and necessities are restored.

This recent crisis at MDC has brought new attention to an old reality. What has taken place at MDC is not exceptional. Jails and prisons across New York and this country are violent, dehumanizing, and unreformable institutions that harm individuals, families, and communities. The reality is that since it was built MDC has gotten away with atrocious, violent, and dehumanizing treatment of incarcerated people. Within the past three years alone MDC guards were convicted of sexually assaulting incarcerated women; incarcerated people filed a lawsuit alleging that the jail is toxic; and the National Association of Women Judges condemned the facility’s lack of light, air, and medical services. Without sustained community pressure, courts and politicians may be fooled by the partial clean-up of common areas and cages, but we know better.

We need to hold all those responsible for the conditions at MDC accountable starting with the dismissal of Warden Herman Quay. But we cannot stop there. In response to this incident, we recognize that the emergency did not create inhumane conditions at MDC, but instead only intensified the violent nature of incarceration itself. Jails and prisons impose an endless list of dehumanizing restrictions and conditions every day.

Post

We have seen it before and we will see it again. Until we find solutions to transform individuals and communities who have caused and experienced harm, and eradicate the prison and jail industrial complex, our people and our communities will continue to suffer at the hands of this multi-generational plague. MDC is no different from the jails on Rikers Island or the four new jails Mayor Bill de Blasio plans to build. Our vision of transformative change requires reimagining our lives without policing, jails, prisons and all forms of confinement; it begins with a commitment to ending mass incarceration and our need to punish people; completely cutting our ties with the legacy of slavery; and ending the practice of caging Black, Brown, and poor people's bodies.

Ultimately, we are committed to building a world without policing and incarceration. We know that conditions at MDC and all other jails and prisons across the country will never be "fixed" and that abolishing jails and prison is the only way to ensure that the violence inherent in human caging ends. Even as we organize for abolition, we recognize the necessity and urgency of ensuring that currently incarcerated people have access to the resources they need to survive.

Thank you to the hundreds of concerned individuals, from across the globe, that have joined us on the ground, donated, and amplified our effort. Every contribution has made a huge impact on how we do the work and the ways we are able to show up for detainees and their loved ones.

-- CALL TO ACTION --

RALLY AT MDC! Thursday, February 7th, at 7 pm. Join family members, organizers, and members of #NoNewJails_NYC to show MDC Warden Herman Quay, the Federal Bureau of Prisons, and Judge Torres that we're not going anywhere until our incarcerated community members tell us to.

JOIN US at MDC to help record and circulate reports from detainees and their families about conditions at the jail. Sign up for shifts here and follow @NoNewJails_NYC, @Msbritt_305 @blackbokei and @1samanthajoh on Twitter for on-the-ground updates. Because Bureau of Prisons and MDC officials cannot be trusted to tell the truth about what is actually going on in the jail (and have been lying throughout this ordeal), we are collecting and amplifying reports from incarcerated people and their loved ones.

PACK THE COURTS! There is ongoing litigation in the federal courts about the conditions at MDC. We will continue to pack the court over the coming weeks and support family members in attending hearings. Please follow @NoNewJails_NYC on Twitter for updates about upcoming court dates and ways to support our efforts to pack the courts and support family members' attendance at hearings.

SIGN THE PETITION! Warden Quay has got to go! While we know that nothing short of release will guarantee true safety for incarcerated people, Warden Quay cannot be left in charge after presiding over this humanitarian crisis and lying about it.

Staff Threat Intelligence Review

Institution /Location:

MDC Brooklyn

Non-Inmate Subject(s):

H. Quay, Warden; E. Garcia, AW; (b)(6); (b)(7)(C), Correctional Officer; A. Johnson, Sup. Attorney; N. McFarland, Attorney, (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Computer Services Manager

Inmate(s) Subject Name and Number(s): N/ACurrent Offense(s): N/AProjected Release Date: N/ACase synopsis/threat:

On February 2, 2019, protesters arrived at MDC Brooklyn and started protesting the perceived conditions inside the institution. On February 3, 2019, at approximately 12:47 p.m. the protesters pushed their way into the west building front lobby. Staff attempted to block the protesters from entering the building further but were unsuccessful. Staff called for assistance and when additional staff arrived, the protesters became violent resulting in the use of OC spray and deployment of pepperball rounds from the Pepper Ball Launcher. Following disbursement, staff were able to guide the protesters out of the front lobby with no further incident (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)

While reviewing the social media site, Instagram, the following post was discovered with the screen name jamilatdavis; "This is what happened to my Sis @yandysmith. Officer (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) along with Officer (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) at the Metropolitan Detention Center brutality assaulted (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) and pepper sprayed her for no reason ... This is the culture of the staff at MDC. Can you imagine what they are doing to the inmates?" In the comments section from this post, the screen name of 601_goldie stated; "Officer C. Garcia and T. Dobson your days are numbered ... You gone learn to put your hands on my beautiful people mf.." In another response to the same post, 601_goldie continued to state; "It's ok I downloaded the video ... I will get it out. Right before I kill them 2 mf officers. Now repost that @cnn."

On February 4, 2019, at 10:25 a.m. the east Control Center received a bomb threat from a male individual. The individual stated, "There is a bomb in the building." He then hung up with no other information provided. The NYPD was contacted and the Emergency Services Unit responded to the institution. They conducted a search of the rear gate area, mailroom, and staff parking lot and assessed the situation around the exterior of the building. An internal search of the institution was also conducted with negative results.

On February 8, 2019, a search of Twitter located a picture of (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Computer Services Manager, with the caption "PERP." Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was activated with DCT during the incident. This photo was discovered on the Twitter account of weasel@weaselx86. Additionally, it was discovered on the account of Swat-Rat@Glavsetsurvivor, with a caption that read "Let's identify this officer. Find him and make sure he misses his hands for the rest of his life."

On February 8, 2019, staff were posted outside the parking lot to monitor protestors. As a staff vehicle was leaving the property, an unidentified individual approached staff and asked if the vehicle leaving the property was the Warden's vehicle. Responding staff took a photo of this person and it was forwarded to Central Office Intelligence Staff.

Following Warden Quay's testimony in front of a Federal Judge, local BOP investigative staff discovered a posting on the Instagram account for (b)(6); (b)(7)(C), it was discovered in pertinent part, "...Please call and demand that they meet the basic human needs and dignity of the people they are in charge of caring for. Nicole McFarland: 718-840-4200 x (b)(6); (b)(7)(C), (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) @bop.gov Adam Johnson: 718-840- (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) @bop.gov." A reply to the post, made by screen name skinn_luv, stated, "Just an FYI, McFarland's voicemail is full and Johnson's number just cuts off in mid ring. So they probably aren't bothering to check their emails either. Time to switch up tactics. Catch them sneaking out of the building or better yet find their residence where they are nice and warm and protest there too." In a second reply, skinn_luv states, "post their pics, position descriptions, allcontact info, the people above them, office locations, and any public statements and send it to every major news network."

Given the threats to staff and the overall situation at MDC Brooklyn, it is possible Warden Quay has a threat against him.

Intelligence Gathered:

- A review of (b)(7)(E) were negative of reporting on Instagram user identified as "601_goldie".
- The photo of the protestor that asked if a vehicle leaving the property belonged to the Warden was submitted for possible identification. The photo was shared with law enforcement partners and the individual was identified as (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (who is the Green Party candidate for Mayor of New York City).
- (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) is a registered sex offender and twice convicted felon, public records show. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) pleaded guilty in 2000 to an act of sodomy with a 12-year-old girl that took place in 1997 when he was 15, according to the New York Sex Offender Registry, which classifies him as a level-three sex offender. More recently, (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) pleaded guilty to burglary and identity theft charges in 2006, and served about a year-and-a-half in prison, according to records.

Recommendation:

The recent rise in violent threats and attacks on law enforcement officers (LEOs) highlight a growing anti-law enforcement sentiment and may suggest that criminal actors are becoming more emboldened and combative. This may reflect an overall rise in tensions between members of some communities and law enforcement, following a stream of adverse incidents during police encounters. Staff should increase awareness, adopt protective measure and limit an individual's digital footprint to diminish possible targeting.

All relevant information into threats made towards staff, at MDC Brooklyn, on (b)(7)(E) is being entered in a (b)(7)(E) report by the BOP representative to the Joint Terrorism Task Force.

INTELLIGENCE SECTION

Relevant information discovered: X Yes ☐ No

If yes, see attached or below

Intelligence Gathered:

Intelligence information indicates the following:

- A review of Social media shows several videos, of protests outside MDC Brooklyn, posted on the Instagram account of (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) is a self-proclaimed prison advocate and former inmate at FPC Alderson. Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C), was in Bureau custody from 8/7/2008 to 6/1/2017. She served an 18 month sentence for Wire Fraud and a 151 month sentence for Bank Fraud. She was released on 3/20/2018 via BOP Substance Abuse Release.
- One of the videos posted shows protesters inside the MDC front entrance. As the protestors continue to push into the front entrance, staff deploy chemical agents and direct all protestors outside of the property. During this, a woman (identified as (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)) is seen falling outside of the front entry doors.
- In a subsequent video from (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) a woman (identified as (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)), is seen sitting on the ground and (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) screaming "you attacked my sister." During this video, no obvious injuries are seen on Ms. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) but she appears to be affected by the deployment of the chemical agents.
- (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (the female placed on the floor) is the wife of inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (currently housed at FCI Fairton).
- Email from Ms. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) to inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) on 2/2/2019: "Uhhhgh today is going to be a crazy day! Now I'm heading down to protest. There is a federal prison in BK that has had no heat and no hot water since Monday. The inmates are getting frost bite and one has died I believe. Me, (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) and (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) are going to down sleep in the streets with a bunch of people to be in solidarity with those with out heat. I have to leave and come back because it's (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) bday and (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) baby shower. I'm getting dressed now and dropping the babies to my mama."
- A review of the Instagram account of (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) indicates a strong relationship with (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) (the wife of inmate Harris).
- During one of the videos of the incident with protestors, a Instagram user identified as "601_goldie" replies to post of the video with threatening comments towards AW Garcia (who is identified as officer C. Garcia in the post), and officer (b)(6); (b)(7)(C).
- All investigative efforts to identify the owner of the Instagram account for 601_goldie were unsuccessful.
- This incident gained significant media attention in the New York City area as well as nationally.
- Intelligence Staff have reviewed approximately 500 posts to a multitude of social media sites directly posting/re-posting videos of (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) protesting at MDC Brooklyn. (One video shows what appears to be (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) exiting the front door of the facility and falling to the ground with no assistance from anyone. The video appears to show Ms. Smith playing up the fact and screaming).

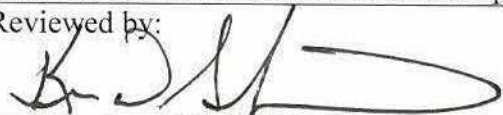

- Of the hundreds of posts to social media, there is a considerable number of the posts that directly oppose the protests and actions of the protestors.
- A review of the video that was taken by protestors, shows a staff member, later identified as (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Computer Services Manager, slap a cell phone from one of the protestors hands, (incident is being referred to OIA).
- An internet search into “(b)(6); (b)(7)(C)” revealed this: (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) is a social justice advocate and agent of change. The Bronx native works to honor the legacy of his brother (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) and mother (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) by working with elected officials, lawyers, doctors, college students and community-based organizations to change laws, policies and regulations that devastate poor communities and families that have been impacted by mass incarceration and solitary confinement in State prisons. He is the founder of Shut Down Rikers, and the (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Foundation. A civil engineer by trade, he is currently traveling the country promoting the six-part Spike TV docu-series Time: The (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Story.”

Recommendation:

Based on the high emotions depicted in the videos of the demonstration and clash with staff, it is possible an individual would act aggressively and violently towards staff (specifically AW Garcia and Officer (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)). Due to the high emotions, media attention, and belief the inmates within MDC Brooklyn were being mistreated, it is believed there is a possibility of violence towards any BOP staff member in uniform or identified in the public. All staff at MDC Brooklyn should be reminded of personal and residential security best practices. Any staff member believing they are being targeted should report the incident to the facility for inclusion of the FBI investigation into this threat.

As this incident was initiated using a video posted from inmates within the facility, it is further recommended mass searches be conducted in an attempt to locate any contraband cell phones from within the facility.

Ray let's discuss later keeping SORT there beyond tomorrow so we can be sure all protests are over. Fyi, below is what I told DOJ. Copying Sonya as well:

Apparently a protest is planned for this evening at 9pm. It's being billed as a national call in so I expect they will be broadcasting it on social media. We had planned on sending the SORT team home today but are now keeping them over until this is over. We are also bringing in another warden to ensure that we have wardens and AWs on site 24-7 until this is over. We are also notifying NYPD.

When we heard of the inhumane treatment happening to the men and women inside of #MDCBrooklyn we could not sit and wait in anticipation that Warden Quay and the Bureau of Prisons would do the right thing. We took to the streets and vowed to make as much noise as possible until the lights and heat were turned back on. We stayed put, alongside family members and activists, all staying true to the notion that these men and women, like everyone else, deserve basic human rights and common decency. After days of tears, anger, and sadness #MDCBrooklyn now has heat and electricity.

This is what community looks like. This is the power of direct action. And this is the power of the people.

Though there is light, the fight is not done. We will continue to amplify issues related to the criminal justice system, and we ask that you all continue this fight with us.

Many thanks to our courageous Justice League family. Thank you Roc Nation and the hundreds and hundreds of people who brought food and warm clothes and sent donations. STATEMENT FROM JUSTICE LEAGUE NYC RE: ENDING THE OVERNIGHT ACTIONS AT MDC BROOKLYN

First and foremost we want to thank everyone who has been out and stayed out at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn these last three plus days.

Because the heat and power have been restored, and because families' visitations resumed at 5pm this evening, Justice League NYC and our coalition partners are shutting down the overnight actions at the MDC facility.

Tomorrow we resume our fight in the courts and on the streets.

We hope you will all join our National Call tonight at 9pm ET / 6pm PT for more on what comes next.

Thank you.

Conditions in That prison under your stewardship are going viral because of the abjectly cruel conditions the 1,000 inmates are being subjected to.

No light or heat in the facility and in lockdown for a week in sub freezing conditions? This sounds like mass murder.

Remember this is not who we are supposed to be as Americans. Regardless of the crimes of the inmates, their punishment has been meted out already and freezing is not part of the rehabilitation program.

If these were dogs being held under these conditions the outrage would be palpable.

It is with great alarm as a citizen that I viewed a film the conditions in a facility under your purview where inmates were being held with no heat.

The report also suggests that detainees are being denied visitation.

The constitution affords these citizens specific rights and protection and mandates that you treat them humanely.

Are you going to continue to not protect the well being of those citizens whom you are charged with protecting while they serve their sentences?

Please respond to this and thank you for your time,

I am writing to express my concern about the power outage and conditions at the Metropolitan Detention Center there in New York City. The conditions there have resulted in a human rights violation. It is imperative that the power and heat be turned on now, and that those who are sick be treated for the harm caused them this last week. These are human beings, not animals, and truth be told we treat our animals better than this. This is not who we are as a country.

Inmates deserve to have the same conditions that are required by for any apartment building in the city, having hot water as well as a room that is heated to 60F. Furthermore, every effort should have been made to ensure that the electricity was fixed in a timely manner.

Senator Jessica Ramos also reported (<https://twitter.com/jessicaramos/status/1091807670783393792?s=20>) that the city offered generator and blanket resources to the staff, only to be rebuffed by the warden. I believe that all responsible should be fired and replaced staff who understand the need to ensure the health and safety of inmates, and that policy in your prisons should be changed accordingly.

Dear Mr. Hurwitz,

It's my understanding you are the current acting director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons & MDC Prison (located in Brooklyn, New York) is your professional jurisdiction.

I'm writing to let you know this location needs attention, as reports from inmates & their families reveal an electrical and heating shortages while we experienced dangerously low freezing temperatures. Your staff has cut-off delivery of dress-code appropriate clothing for those inside the building. Your staff has also refused press & city & state government officials access to confirm or deny these reports.

I'm sure you can agree this timing for heat & electrical outages is not at all ideal. However, it is beyond disturbing as to why this building has not been a priority for maintenance during these extreme conditions.

The inactions of your office & staff rest squarely at your feet. The expectations that inmates are somehow unworthy of having heat during negative temperatures is not merely negligent but points to, given the amount of time these vital resources have been ignored, a human right's violation. You have people in your care.

I write for you to fix this now. Stop whatever it is your doing on your Sunday & get contractors on-site to begin a full repair of the building's heating & electrical systems. Perhaps allocating the money you have saved in heating the building over the last 7 days is a start to off-setting weekend contractor costs & materials.

Families & supporters will be holding 24-hr vigil in front of MDC until this is completely repaired.

It is difficult for me to judge those I don't know but it not hard to determine your inaction (and inaction of your offices) over the last 7 days is inhumane.

Mr Hurwitz,

As one human being to another I beg you to take action to treat those detained at this facility humanely. It goes without saying humane treatment includes heating as well as nutrition and hydration.

Surely our country is better than this- the conditions we're hearing about at the facility are human rights violations. How can you allow this? You must immediately rectify the situation.

Dear Mr. Hurwitz,

I am writing to ask you, the acting director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, to take the necessary steps to restore heat and electricity to the Metro Detention Center in Brooklyn, New York. There is absolutely no reason that an entire prison of human beings- people who, despite having made bad choices, have families, dreams, first loves, favorite foods, funny stories- should have to be protesting for their basic human rights to shelter and safety. There is no reason that they should be freezing in there. There is no reason that the prisoners (and the staff as well) should be suffering, or that the public should be standing outside trying to get someone to listen and help them. This is an emergency. Please contact the warden at the detention center and use your power to get the heating and electricity up and running.

Respectfully,

Mr. Hurwitz

I am sure you are aware of what's going on in New York. You have the privilege of holding the position as Acting Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons. Please use your position to help re-establish heat, electricity and provide food for inmates.

Please also aid the staff with everything needed to operate the facility while ensuring safety. Why isn't this a priority? What is the warden doing? Why are we allowing human beings to be treated this way?

What is happening at this prison? This is a shame and we the people need to know why there is no heat or hot water since Monday. Why is this happening?

They are human beings. They are somebody's husband, dad, brother or son and deserve better treatment than this.

Isn't this human rights abuse?

Re: Move Inmates Out of Brooklyn Facility Without Heat, Electricity

Dear Acting Director:

Move inmates out of the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn until humane living conditions are restored after reports that inmates have been forced to live in freezing temperatures all week.

A rally was held outside the center Saturday following reports that hundreds of inmates have spent the past week without power, electricity or the ability to communicate with their attorneys or families.

According to Mayor Bill DeBlasio, the BOP has rejected the city's assistance to restore power and heat to the facility.

The federal government has a constitutional duty to provide those in its custody with humane living conditions. It is illegal and cruel for the Bureau of Prisons to trap those in its custody in dangerous freezing temperatures. Detainees must be treated with dignity and respect. The Bureau of Prisons must relocate those in its custody to another facility until humane living conditions can be restored at the Metropolitan Detention Center.

New York City is in the midst of one of the coldest weeks in recent history as the temperatures dropped to single digits.

Thank you for the opportunity to bring these remarks to your attention.

Yours sincerely,

The temperature conditions in the Brooklyn prison are inhumane and unacceptable. This should be corrected immediately! I would consider this situation crimes against humanity where you and anyone else in your chain of command will be held to account. This is an abomination that no living being should have to endure. I don't know how you sleep at night or look yourself in the mirror. GET THIS FIXED NOW!!!

On January 24, 2019 at 10:45 am a medical emergency was sound for Range 3 in West SHU. I responded to cell Z03-115 and saw inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) laying on the floor with a pool of blood around his head. The cellmate, inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) stated, "He was wiping water off the ceiling from the top bunk and he just slipped and fell to the floor."

When enough staff arrived, we entered the cell and safely restrained both inmates. Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was conscious and stated, "I was wiping the water the ceiling above my bed. I was standing up on the top bunk, when I fell down and hit my head against the floor." Medical Staff arrived and the inmate was taken down to the Trauma Room for treatment.

I then interviewed inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) and he stated, "It was cold so we kept the shower running. The walls were dripping with water from the steam. He was on the top bunk then I see him just fall head first to the floor." I did confirm that the cell ceiling and walls were dripping with condensation. You could easily see above the top bunk, where the inmate was wiping. The heating elements in Range 3 are working normal. The inmates had the required amount of blankets and sheets to stay warm. Photos of cell Z03-115 are attached.

And in the short term - tomorrow morning we are taking a bus of MDC family members and advocates to the Philadelphia Regional Office of the Bureau of Prisons to meet with Regional Director J. Ray Ormond. We believe it is imperative that Director Ormond and his staff hear directly from these family members so they can understand the grave concern they have for the health and safety of their loved ones. We have called to let the Director know we are coming and we hope he will prioritize these family members and meet with them.

We encourage you to call the Regional Director's office at 215-521-7301 and let his staff know how important it is for these families to be seen and heard.

And finally, if you are in the NYC area and would like to make your voice and presence felt in a most meaningful way, we hope you will

Good morning

The Contractor Checklist must be completed by the Department Head. You should receive the file with ALL completed/required documents two weeks prior to training. Once reviewed for accuracy please forward to me at least one week before training. Human Resources will not accept an incomplete file. I will process/complete the remaining items listed on the checklist. The contractor will get Fingerprinted/UA tested (on date of training). While at training each NEW contractor will receive a registration code for EQIP. EQIP must be completed by the contractor to begin Background Investigation. The contractor will have 15 WORKING DAYS to complete EQIP. If the applicant does not complete the online portion within the 15 days, he/she will be purged from the system and the entire process will need to start over. Each New contractor must be JSTARS approved before they receive a badge.

If the contractor has already completed their Background Investigation they will need to attend Contractor Training annually. It is the contractors responsibility to attend training prior to their badge expiring. The Contractor Training is a job requirement for authorization. Attending is voluntary, but if the contractor choose not to attend, he/she will not meet the requirements of the job and will therefore not be considered further. If they are already employed by the Federal government, their appointment will be terminated. The courts have upheld this principle. The annual Contractor Training is mandatory per HSPD-12 guidelines. Refreshing contractors need to complete an (NCIC annually, UA (if applicable)

Please see all forms for contractors and ensure they are complete and legible.

Moderate Risk Contractors- please ensure they complete the Additional Questions Forms that are attached to this email .

Ion Spectrometry Device Program

All visitors, including contractors and volunteers, are subject to testing through the Ion spectrometry Device Program. The possession and use of illegal substances by prison inmates seriously jeopardizes the Bureau's mission. The Ion Spectrometry Device Program is a minimally intrusive method for screening people, their belongings, mail, and packages for the presence of illegal substances.

With this advisory, all contractors and volunteers are subject to random screening by this device during their orientation or at any time upon entrance to the institution. Contractors and volunteers are free to refuse the test. However, they are required to depart the institution grounds immediately.

NAME: _____ DATE: _____

PURPOSE OF VISIT: _____

It is a Federal crime to bring upon the institution grounds any firearm, destructive device, ammunition, other object designed to be used as a weapon, narcotic drug, controlled substance, alcoholic beverage, currency, or any other object that threatens the order, discipline, or security of a prison, or the life, health, or safety of an individual without the knowledge and consent of the Warden. 18 U.S.C. §§ 1791 and 3571 provides a penalty of imprisonment for not more than twenty years, a fine of not more than $250,000 or both, to a person who provides, or attempts to provide, to an inmate any prohibited object. All persons entering upon these premises are subject to routine searches of their person, property (including vehicles), and packages. The Warden, may randomly or upon reasonable suspicion that a person may be introducing contraband or demonstrating actions that might otherwise endanger institution safety, security, or good order, may request the person, as a prerequisite to entry, to submit to a visual search, pat search, ION Spectrometry test, or other comparable test. A visitor, volunteer or contractor has the option to refuse any of the search or test or entrance procedures, with the result that the visitor will not be permitted entry to the institution.

NOTE: Your refusal of these procedures means that you will not be permitted entry to the institution, and you will be allowed to leave the institution property, unless there is a reason to detain and/or arrest you. The use of cameras or recording equipment without permission of the Warden is strictly prohibited; violators are subject to criminal prosecution.

TITLE

Metropolitan Detention Center
BROOKLYN, NY
CONTRACT WORKER AGREEMENT

One of the most negative effects on inmates as a result of incarceration is their separation and alienation from society. To minimize this effect and to normalize the institution environment as much as possible, the Federal Bureau of Prisons strongly endorses and welcomes community participation within our institutions. To be certain that our rules, regulations, and some of the potential problems which you might encounter are known to you, the following summary has been prepared for your information.

1. Contraband: Contraband is considered as anything that is not routinely issued to the inmates by the institution or authorized for possession through institution channels. If any individual becomes involved in the introduction of contraband of any type, he/she is in violation of Federal law which carries a penalty of imprisonment of not more than twenty years, a fine of not more than $250,000, or both. Therefore, do not bring anything into the institution to give an inmate. In regard to your own use, do not bring any type of weapons, drugs, alcohol or cellular phones into the institution. If you are in a continuing contract situation, you are required to read the entire program statement on contraband, which you may obtain from your supervising department head.
2. Tool Control: If applicable, all equipment, materials, or other items assigned for your use must be controlled, both for security and/or inventory purposes. Many of our tools are considered "hot" items, and must be in your possession at all times. If you are a regular contract worker, you will be required to read the entire program statement on tool control, which you may obtain from your department head.
3. Key Control: In the event you are issued keys of any type, it is important to understand that all keys are "hot" items. If you have any problems with keys, refer the situation immediately to the supervising department head or staff.
4. Inmate Contact: Although we strongly desire positive interaction between inmates and the community, this relationship must be within the bounds of Federal Prison policy. Contract workers must totally confine inmate contact to the time when they are actually within the institution. Perform no personal favors of any kind for inmates; e.g., outside telephone calls, delivery of messages, letters, etc., and bringing in unauthorized items. While you are serving as a contract worker, you are prohibited from communicating with inmates by mail and by telephone. You should avoid all close social contact with an inmate's family, friends, or any other person connected with him/her. Contract workers must have the approval from the Associate Warden (Programs) to correspond with inmates when they have a professional relationship within the institution. This correspondence should always be within the parameters of the professional relationship. If approached for any of the above or other favors, refer the incident to your supervisor immediately. You must not give money or anything of value to any inmate nor accept the same in any form, including checks, money orders, etc.
5. Hostage Policy: You may have concerns about being held hostage within a correctional institution. It is important that you understand both the possibility of this factor and our policy regarding it. If this should occur, policy applicable to institution employees will be implemented. Any hostage immediately loses his/her authority (even the Warden), regardless of rank or position. We cannot consider escape or freedom of the offender as a negotiable point. The hostage therefore, has no control over the situation. He/she must rely on the Federal Prison System's employee in command of the negotiation procedure.
6. Entrance Procedures: Enter the institution at the Front Entrance. Identify yourself to the Front Lobby Officer and inform him/her you are a contract worker. You MUST clear the entrance procedures to include clearing the metal detector, Ion Spectrometry detector etc. If clearance can not be made you will not be able to enter the institution until you do clear. Whether standing detector, hand held detector, or by a pat search. The applicable staff member will, if necessary, be contacted regarding your arrival and front lobby staff will issue your badge and ensure you have received the designated stamp of the day and that you signed in the proper log book.

7. Identification Procedures: You will be photographed and an identification badges will be maintained for you in the Front Lobby/Control Room at the Federal Correctional Institution. This is necessary for positive identification. You must also be identified before entering the institution so therefore a valid I.D. must be presented.
8. Handling Sensitive Information/ Computer Security: This information requires protection due to the risk of loss or harm that could result in the accidental or intentional disclosure, modification, or destruction of sensitive information. Also to ensure proper use and dissemination of information obtained while using institution computers, network accounts and user log in security. Computer safety and Information Security is also important to ensure proper use of computers so sensitive information is not inadvertently disclosed.
9. Standards of Employee Conduct: As a contractor with the Bureau of Prisons, you are held to the same standards as an employee. Critical areas of concern are Inappropriate/Sexual contact with an inmate, contact with an inmates family, ex-offender, and Criminal Charges pressed against you while under contract.
10. Safety Issues: Several tools can be utilized to assist you in a emergency situation. Body Alarms are radios with an alarm which can be activated by depressing the orange button located on top of the radio. If a body alarm is activated, the Lieutenant or Captain are the only staff that can clear the alarm. When using a body alarm make sure you talk clearly informing staff of the situation while paying attention to details involved. Use of the telephone can assist you in two ways. By dialing 222 the phone functions as a body alarm. This allows staff in control to notify all radio units that a staff member needs assistance. A no dial can be activated by knocking the receiver off the hook which opens up the communication so control can hear what's happening. Verification that you are not under duress must be established by returning a call to control from the same line the no dial was made by. This is preferably done by another staff member.
11. Orientation Verification: After your verification procedure has been completed, you will be asked to sign the Contract Employee Agreement which states that you understand all of the above factors, accept the responsibilities, and have read all applicable program statements
12. You have been informed and fully understand that in the event of your termination as a regular contract worker, you will not be permitted to subsequently visit an inmate confined in this institution on a social or personal basis, and as a condition of your acceptance as a regular contract worker, you fully agree to this provision.

I have read and received a copy of this memo pertaining to contract worker orientation.

I agree to abide by the regulations and rules contained herein.

This is an update as to MDC Brooklyn electrical issues. After many hours of troubleshooting by Square D, H.O Penn and in house staff we were able to restore power but the 3 generators failed and need further troubleshooting and parts. We still need further testing and troubleshooting of the ATS for Distribution #3. We have a Emergency generator being delivered today Sunday January 6th and the electrician will be on site Monday to connect it so we have a backup generator on standby till our 3 generators are repaired and tested. Because of the power failure we lost our UPS'S on the 9th floor and are working on bringing in a Representative to troubleshooting the UPS's. The distribution #3 breaker would not hold in the closed position causing the outage, square D Representative was able to have the buildings switchgear drawings emailed to him from his main office and was able to further troubleshooting the breaker. We now have a digital copy of the prints and once normal funding becomes available we will have the drawings printed and laminated and stored in the switchgear room.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) you are approved to do what is needed to bring emergency generators and power back up. Deficit authority can be used up to $75,000.00. Please keep us in the loop and if you anticipate the amount to exceed that amount. I will also advise the regional director as well.

This is to inform you that on Friday January 4, 2019 MDC Brooklyn experienced a power issue at 6:30am. Immediate actions were taken and the generators were put on. MDC Brooklyn staff along with Power Secure (contractor from energy project) started troubleshooting the issue. Distribution panel #3 has a short between B and C phase for a unknown reason. I called in Square D Representative to further assist with troubleshooting and around 2:30 am Saturday morning during further troubleshooting of the ATS switch the generator shut off and dropped the load for half of what the generators were supplying. We did NOT lose entire power to the building as the local utility power is available, just distribution 3 load is dead. I called in HO Penn for there assistance with the generator. The contractor is on site as of this email. The generators are not picking up the load because of under voltage. We will be requesting an Emergency funding as this is an Emergency power outage.

I know today in particular is going to be busy.

When you get a chance, let me know the status of the following items:

When will the parking signs be in and installed? The signs were ordered awaiting delivery
When will the front door closure at DM be repaired/replaced? I just heard about this I will have staff look at the door to see what needs to be done
What is the status of the DM security contract? The paperwork was sent to Contracting (11/14) and the last we were told >>> (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) 12/3/2018 1:54 PM >>>

I just submitted the Market Research and will try to get the solicitation out shortly after the 1st of next month. Again, the EDOA is April, but if there are no delays or hiccups, then it can be well before then. I will keep you posted. I will need the revised IGE and RP, though, prior to submitting the solicitation for our internal review so please send ASAP, thanks! If not received, it will cause delays. I do understand your need and want to try to get this done as quickly as I can for you.

Sorry for delay it's been a busy day. We got range 4 fixed, J72 cells fixed, food service area fixed. 42 cells should be done in a little while if all goes good. Tomorrow we will continue to work on other cell areas. We had a few coils frozen that need to defrost before work can be done on them. We had a sprinkler head pop off this afternoon in the east building and power house was able to secure it. It will be repaired tomorrow by the plumbers.

Dayton manor - MCC TDY apartment pipe bursted causing issues to Lt. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Lt.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) and Counselor (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) apartment all staff have been notified of the issue. We also had another pipe break in an empty apartment which caused water to go into the B storage room. I will send an email out in the morning so staff can check there belongs.

FROM:

SUBJECT:

Rent Payments During the Government Shutdown

As you know, during the government shutdown, pay can be disrupted. We missed our first paycheck this past week and as a result, there was no automatic rent payment made.

Staff should not be concerned with rent payments at Dayton Manor during the duration of the shutdown. Automatic rent withdrawals will be made from paychecks for missed payments after a budget is passed and pay commences. In the meantime and until the shutdown ends, no rent payments are expected.

MEMORANDUM FOR JUDI SIMON GARRETT, ASSISTANT DIRECTOR,
INFORMATION, POLICY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS DIVISION

THRU: J. Ray Ormond, Regional Director

FROM:  H. Quay, Warden

SUBJECT: Request for Two Smartphones

This memorandum is to request authorization for two smartphones to be issued to the General Foreman at MDC Brooklyn. These devices will allow them to maintain constant contact with their staff and building tenants at staff housing after hours in case of emergencies. Due to the age of Dayton Manor, the supervisors receive and make calls with more frequency and regularity. When dealing with staff housing, many emergencies are considered to be life safety issues that demand immediate attention. When the elevators go down, or the boilers shut down, the supervisors must correspond with staff, tenants and contractors to ensure the building is on line as soon as possible.

Additionally, with all the many different contractors, most correspondence takes place after hours. The General Foreman also oversee three power plants, which operate 24 hours a day, seven days a week. By having remote access capabilities it will allow them to fulfill the mission of the Facilities operations. The two users would be (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) and (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)

We are working on the heating issues and will check the areas you listed below, the plumbers have been working with HVAC on making repairs to heating coils so the hot water dispensers will get looked at once we are done with the buildings heat issues. We are trying our best to make sure the building is ready for the next few days of freezing temps. Building 4 is MCC NY issue and I have spoken to the Executive Assistant at MCC NY to provide assistance by providing him the name of a plumbing contractor that can help them since we are dealing with all the issues at Brooklyn.

My power house staff will continue to monitor the building on all shifts and keep Facilities management aware of any issues as they arise.

When the Director visits, plan to bring him back to show him where the fire was and have one of the heating units out, staged in the Facilities area, so you can show him the coil work.

The Public Defender complained of a leak in one of the cells in SHU.

After speaking with (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) he stated it was cell 115 and that the leak has not yet been addressed.

I contacted SHU Lieutenant (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) and asked him to move the inmate in 115 to a different cell, and keep 115 empty until the leak is addressed.

What is happening at this prison? This is a shame and we the people need to know why there is no heat or hot water since Monday. Why is this happening? They are human beings. They are somebody's husband, dad, brother or son and deserve better treatment than this.

Isn't this human rights abuse?

Good evening Warden,

I have been made aware there has been no heat in the institution all day on the coldest day of the winter and I would like a continual updates on whats going on and What is the agency doing about keeping the staff and inmates warm since temp are plunging again to the teens tonight. This is clearly a condition of employment and is on its way of becoming a sickly building to the staff and the inmate population.

FYI: I was also informed that there is a water leakage from the 7th to the 5th floor as well, which probably is happening due to the water pipes freezing.

I will be waiting for your response to what the agency plans are regarding heating the building.

Respectfully,

As discussed this morning:

On the Monday after BRO gained momentum in the media, there were 7 voice mails on the general voicemail in the office from concerned citizens.....some included use of excessive profanity; a couple were to just make sure we knew about Brooklyn; and the others were calling for immediate/prompt action to the media accounts of events at the institution.

Since then, only 2 other calls have been fielded - one regarding the heat/lack of perceived action; the other stating the toilets were backing up, the inmates did not have enough toilet paper, and the commissary did not sell toilet paper.

I would also reach out to SER and see how their Marianna plan. Much smaller institution but is a starting point. Let me know by COB. Thanks.

Just spoke to Herman. He checked his personal (work) and Warden emails. Nothing since Monday night from the union, which he responded to and has since made the repairs we previously discussed. Ironically, he just spoke to the Union President, who is working in the elevators today, and the Union President never mentioned anything about the heat during their conversation. They talked about a luncheon for staff. Herman is going to have Facilities staff do temp checks in each area and send me the results. He's also going to check back with the Union President and see if there are issues that have not been brought to Herman's attention and if there are things we need to do for staff until final repairs are completed. I'll let you know once I get and update later today. Thanks.

As Acting Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons I implore you to restore heat, electricity and anything else the inmates of MDC on 29th St. in Brooklyn need. They are suffering under unacceptable and inhumane conditions.

I am writing to you from Iowa City, Iowa.

You must have heat and other basic necessities returned to the Detention Center, or move the residents to a safe place.

You are treating those human beings with cruelty and disrespect.

This is not American, and this is not how we treat people.

This is shameful and horrific. I am sharing this story far and wide on social media, as are thousands of people.

Director Hurwitz and Assistant Director Gross,

It is with great alarm as a citizen that I viewed a film the conditions in a facility under your purview where inmates were being held with no heat. The report also suggests that detainees are being denied visitation. The constitution affords these citizens specific rights and protection and mandates that you treat them humanely. Are you going to continue to not protect the well being of those citizens whom you are charged with protecting while they serve their sentences? Please respond to this and thank you for your time,

Acting Director, Dave, Ray, and Herman,

OIG initially was to depart the facility today at 3:00 p.m. However, 2 auditors departed and 3 stayed behind to continue staff interviews.

At approximately 7:15 p.m., I asked the auditors if they were done for the day. The lead auditor stated he wanted to conduct temperature checks of at least one housing unit on each floor including showers using OIG's own equipment before they leave for the night.

We are waiting for OIG's equipment to arrive before testing begins.

All applicable institution staff have been notified and facility staff will be walking with us during this tour.

If there are any questions please let me know.

Thanks,

Joe

Just for situational awareness - ensuring neither of you are not caught unaware. My SORT network gave me a heads up.

SORT operators from FMC Devens have been assigned as a protective detail/escort tomorrow; they'll meet up with Joe Pecoraio in advance who will be driving us to the institution. I guess there was some concern with all the activity as of late with media and what not.

See you in the lobby in the morning.

Director Hurwitz and Assistant Director Gross,

It is with great alarm as a citizen that I viewed a film the conditions in a facility under your purview where inmates were being held with no heat. The report also suggests that detainees are being denied visitation.

The constitution affords these citizens specific rights and protection and mandates that you treat them humanely.

Are you going to continue to not protect the well being of those citizens whom you are charged with protecting while they serve their sentences?

OIG Departure - MDC Brooklyn

Subject: OIG Departure - MDC Brooklyn

Acting Director, Dave, and Ray,

Please be advised OIG departed the facility at approximately 4:15 p.m.

During the close-out, OIG stated we would receive some type of report rather quickly and presumes the BOP will have a chance to review the report for comments before being released publicly. OIG did not provide any intel on how the facility handled the power outage from their perspective.

At the completion of the audit, the facility was able to complete almost 90% of the OIG documentation request which OIG took with them at their departure.

I want to give Warden Quay and his staff a special thank you for their hard work and professionalism this week in handling the OIG interviews, tours, and document request.

If there are any questions please let me know.

Thanks,

Joe

With all the negative media attention resulting in threats of violence against the institution, I encourage everyone to take necessary precautions when reporting to and departing from work. Staff have been confronted by protesters and cars blocked from departing institution property. Wearing BOP identifiable clothing in public is not advised at this time. Likewise, if possible, staff are encourage to depart with other staff members to provide safety in numbers.

Thus far, there have been no violent interactions; however, they are getting close to staff, yelling insults, and taking photos and video. NYPD is on-site to assist if needed.

Please stay safe.

Acting Director, Dave, Ray, and Herman,

OIG initially was to depart the facility today at 3:00 p.m. However, 2 auditors departed and 3 stayed behind to continue staff interviews.

At approximately 7:15 p.m., I asked the auditors if they were done for the day. The lead auditor stated he wanted to conduct temperature checks of at least one housing unit on each floor including showers using OIG's own equipment before they leave for the night.

We are waiting for OIG's equipment to arrive before testing begins.

All applicable institution staff have been notified and facility staff will be walking with us during this tour.

If there are any questions please let me know.

Thanks,

Joe

I'm hearing mgt was previously informed that they knew they had a problem with the electrical system in the building. Mgt brought someone in to investigate it to be repaired but the vendor refused citing the entire system needed replacing which would take a month to do the work. They left it there unattended even against advice of the vendor, which later resulted in an explosion. The Local says the place is running on generators and once it goes off there would be absolutely no power in the entire building. Hope everyone speaking to you are informing you of the seriousness of the matter because it's serious given the expected weather patterns over the next few weeks.

Boss, just a heads-up. The NY Post just put out an article about the heat being down in BRO again. It is false and I confirmed with BRO that the heat is fully operational. I worked with IPPA on a response and we sent it to the one of the authors of the article informing them that the heat is operational.

I'll continue to monitor and keep you posted.

Hugh - Looks like they sent the complaint on the 22nd, prior to the unit team areas being repaired; Herman's email and the Warden box weren't included on the 22nd email. Eric received his message at 9:30pm last night. The unit team heat wasn't repaired until 6pm last night. Not sure if anyone would have been in those areas after 6pm to know if it was on or gave it time to get the temp back up. Let me have Herman get unit team area temperatures for me and I'll let you know what I find out. Thanks.

Update 2/7/19

From BRO/Warden~
To BRO/Everyone
Date 2019/02/07 09:09
Subject: Update 2/7/19
Attachments: TEXT.htm

A quick update for this morning... Last night, things were pretty smooth. There was only a handful of protesters in front of the building and no concerns were presented. We continue to run operations inside the institution as normal.

Our response teams from BRO and OTV continue to be staged in and around the institution. We anticipate the Command Center and the teams remaining active through this weekend and into next week as a precaution.

Intelligence indicates there is a planned protest at the institution tonight at 7:00 pm to protest the recent decision by a judge which was favorable to the institution.

We continue to pass intelligence information to the FBI regarding threats and the disturbance in the lobby. The FBI is working to identify responsible individuals and build their case in order to make arrests.

We will have additional visitors in the institution today and through the weekend from the Office of the Inspector General. Cooperation with their review is required.

As always, be safe and if you have suggestions, please communicate them. Take care.

SORT operators from FMC Devens have been assigned as a protective detail/escort tomorrow; they'll meet up with Joe Pecoraio in advance who will be driving us to the institution. I guess there was some concern with all the activity as of late with media and what not.

See you in the lobby in the morning.

On 1/21 when heat was lost to some areas, no temperature checks were taken. The Food Service, Health Services, and Education areas were not identified on 1/21 as having a heating issue. On 1/22, when conducting checks throughout the institution, it was determined these areas were not receiving sufficient heat. Further checks revealed the fans controlling air flow to the areas had to be reset which fixed the issue. Those areas did not have broken coils.

Good Morning,

I am sure you are either sleeping or just waking up in your warm home. I think it is disgusting and inhumane to allow thousands of humans to be without any type of heat. These are people and crazy thing is your job is to rehabilitate not murder by leaving them subject to hypothermia and pneumonia which many of them will probably have. It is sad that you all did not find urgency in restoring heat to the facility and I am sure no heaters are given because of the presumed safety risk. I would hope that this situation is handled. To keep humans in lockdown for weeks at a time because you all are not completing the necessary preventative maintenance to make the place you Incage them with in habitable is disgusting.

Someone who goes home to their own home with heat and electricity for that long of a period yet punishes another human for ones own inability to perform the job should no longer be in charge. These are human beings you are assigned to rehabilitate not to judge, look down on, and take your own personal frustrations out on. If you don't like your job find a new one and if you don't want to find a new job do your job to your best capabilities.

Fixing heat in certain areas is not enough. Your budget is not more important than another humans life. Anybody who understands business knows that you all are taking your time to get bids and literally could have the heat fixed tomorrow but you're not doing that because you are worried about funding. Those men and women matter to someone even if they don't matter to you all. Don't be suprised when citizens begin to call for resignations and holding people accountable. Don't be surprised when your jobs are in jeopardy because you didn't have concern for another humans life.

Have a great day! Hopefully you're warm, because a lot of people are not.

Wanted to know 1.) why there was never a conversion to generators and 2.) why inmates weren't moved to largely empty building next door (where women and folks in solitary are contained on two floors).

Do what is within your reach so that this situation is resolved as soon as possible. I feel hand tied because I live in Puerto Rico and I can not even be there giving support. I know you can do something for all those people who despite their mistakes are still human beings. Thanks for the management you can perform.

Subject: Update 2/8/19
Attachments: TEXT.htm

A quick update from last night... Protesters did assemble in front of the institution last night beginning around 7:00 pm. The numbers grew to approximately 75 individuals. There were no incidents involving the protesters and they departed at approximately 9:30 pm.

The institution continues to run normal on the inside. BRO DCT, OTV DCT, and DEV SORT are on-site to assist with institution and perimeter security. The Command Center remains open to monitor and report activities. SIS is still monitoring (b)(7)(E) Food Service is still preparing extra meals for staff.

On a different note, there was an inmate fight in unit 53 last night involving several inmates affiliated with the Bloods gang. The fight involved the use of lock in socks and three inmates were transported to a local hospital. There was no OC deployment and there were no staff injuries. The unit remains secure this morning as we attempt to determine the cause of the fight.

Thank you for your continued efforts. Take care and be safe.

Hugh - MDC Brooklyn started having some heating issues in portions of the institution yesterday. Some of the heating coils in the air handlers broke and heat was impacted in all of the unit team areas and inmate cells in West SHU, Unit 52, Unit 62, and Unit 72. Facilities staff have been there since yesterday attempting to repair the coils. Thus far, heat was restored to West SHU. Extra blankets were provided to the inmate population in the affected areas, coffee is being served to staff on each floor, and coffee packets are being provided to inmates with the noon meal. They are hopeful the cells will all have heat by the end of the day.

Unrelated, yesterday they also had another power outage at the institution. A Con Edison transformer failed resulting in them having to go to generator power for much of the day until Con Edison restored power to the institution. The power outage delayed morning visitation until approximately 11:00 am.

Dear Mr. Hurwitz,

As Acting Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, I urge you to relocate the prisoners at the Brooklyn, NY Metropolitan Detention Center who have been in freezing conditions, without electricity (and in some cases, without access to medical equipment) since January 27th, until such time as the electricity is restored.

Conditions at the MDC right now are inhumane and unconstitutionally cruel. Please take action immediately. I also ask you to investigate why the warden has allowed this situation to persist so long already.

Thank you.

She called...her info is from PD and it was not good. I explained the heat but she is not satisfied. I assured her inmates have access to additional blankets, etc. She claims inmates have not had change of blankets or underwear, and Ray is confirming they are getting clean clothes and sheets.

She is most upset about the power situation. Does not understand why we cant bring in generators to get cell lights on or bring in portable lights. Ray, can we get anything from NY Emergency Ops or otherwise?

I spoke to Ray, contractor says can't get part until Monday and then Con Ed and contractor can repair Monday. This is not acceptable, and Ray/Herman are going to push contractor or look for another vendor. Sonya/Jen if we are not going to get fixed tomorrow we are going to need to tell Nadler/Velazquez/Gillibrand before they find out otherwise. This is going to be a huge problem for us.

I am concerned about Jeffries visit as the cells will be dark by then.

As Acting Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, I implore you to help restore electricity, heat, and anything else that the inmates (who are human beings) need for survival, and also what the staff needs to operate the facility properly and humanely.

If these prisoners were rats or some other animal, the SPCA and animal rights activists would be banging down your door. But these prisoners aren't animals. They are people! Human beings! This is a human rights issue that must be addressed. I am writing from Canada, and the World is watching.

Please find out why the warden has not made this a priority and forced citizens to stand vigil for basic human rights.

Yours earnestly and sincerely,

I'm hearing mgt was previously informed that they knew they had a problem with the electrical system in the building. Mgt brought someone in to investigate it to be repaired but the vendor refused citing the entire system needed replacing which would take a month to do the work. They left it there unattended even against advice of the vendor, which later resulted in an explosion. The Local says the place is running on generators and once it goes off there would be absolutely no power in the entire building. Dear Mr. Hurwitz,

I am writing to ask you, the acting director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, to take the necessary steps to restore heat and electricity to the Metro Detention Center in Brooklyn, New York. There is absolutely no reason that an entire prison of human beings- people who, despite having made bad choices, have families, dreams, first loves, favorite foods, funny stories- should have to be protesting for their basic human rights to shelter and safety. There is no reason that they should be freezing in there. There is no reason that the prisoners (and the staff as well) should be suffering, or that the public should be standing outside trying to get someone to listen and help them. This is an emergency. Please contact the warden at the detention center and use your power to get the heating and electricity up and running.

Respectfully,

Boss, just a heads-up. The NY Post just put out an article about the heat being down in BRO again. It is false and I confirmed with BRO that the heat is fully operational. I worked with IPPA on a response and we sent it to the one of the authors of the article informing them that the heat is operational.

I'll continue to monitor and keep you posted.

As we discussed, if all goes well this week, I think we can be back to normal by Friday. We are still (b)(7)(E) (b)(7)(E) for a possible protest on Wednesday, 2/13. If it is peaceful, I think we will be able to move forward with the plan to resume normal operations.

Below is the proposed departure and demobilization dates for the respective teams:

PHL DCT - Friday, 2/15
BRO DCT - Friday, 2/15

Bradley - Thursday, 2/14
Colbert - Thursday, 2/14
Sorenson - Thursday, 2/14

As an aside, we are seeing social medial posts asking individuals to flood NERO with calls and emails.

Eric received his message at 9:30pm last night. The unit team heat wasn't repaired until 6pm last night. Not sure if anyone would have been in those areas after 6pm to know if it was on or gave it time to get the temp back up. There are still negative (b)(7)(E) but that has not resulted in a physical presence at the institution. As a result, we will attempt to resume normal operations tomorrow.

DEV SORT left this afternoon and PHL DCT will depart tomorrow. Our DCT will remain with a presence at the entrance throughout the weekend. The Command Center will be shut down tomorrow.

The temporary fencing will remain in place but staff will be able to use the West entrance. Staff are still permitted to dress down and remove name tags until further notice.

Fwd: Oral Argument Today in Federal Defenders v. Federal Bureau of Prisons

Date 2019/03/01 14:22
Subject: Fwd: Oral Argument Today in Federal Defenders v. Federal Bureau of Prisons

Warden-

Today, March 1, 2019, Holly and I attended the oral argument in the above-referenced case in front of the Honorable Margo K. Brodie in the Eastern District of New York.

The focus of today's oral argument was whether plaintiff—The Federal Defenders of New York—was the proper party to bring an access to counsel claim. The Court asked questions of counsel for both parties regarding the appropriate standard to apply when considering questions of standing and whether a cause of action could be brought and by whom.

Ultimately, she decided that the Sixth Amendment Right to Counsel was a personal right, belonging to the accused and the accused alone. The Federal Defenders' rights were derivative in nature, and as such, could not be asserted vicariously. Although she found that plaintiff had constitutional standing, which she characterized as a low threshold inquiry, she did not find that plaintiff was within the "zone of interest" with respect to the right asserted. She denied the application for a preliminary injunction, but offered plaintiff the opportunity to amend the complaint. Plaintiff indicated that were they to do so, they would file an amended complaint by March 8, 2019. The judge was unsure whether a new plaintiff could meet the standard, but would entertain the motion.

Finally, Plaintiff asked that the notice provision (where the MDC would have to notify the Court and Federal Defenders of any two-hour interruption of legal visits within 24 hours) be kept in place. The Court declined, stating that she has no reason to believe the Warden would not continue to have attorney visits. She did point out that the recent cancellations of legal visits were due to emergent conditions, and was an anomaly compared to our normal practices. Nevertheless, she left available to plaintiff the option to come back to her and make an applications for a TRO should any further interruptions occur. She made clear she would happily sign one.

Accordingly, it is our strong recommendation

The institution is preparing to remove underground oil storage tanks in compliance with environmental regulations. Before the contractor can begin the underground storage tank project, oil must be removed. Facilities began running the boiler on oil to use up the reserve oil. The oil was running too rich which caused the smoke stack to emit smoke in the area of 2nd Avenue and 30th Street, which is near the bravo units. The units near the smoke stack experienced a puff of smoke upon startup. The boiler was switched back over to natural gas. A contractor will be coming in to tune the boilers for both oil and gas operations. All areas have been inspected and found safe by Facilities and the New York City Fire Department. Facilities staff are changing air filters in affected areas to remove any lingering odor.

Subject: Restore Heat and Light ASAP at Brooklyn MDC

Re: Malfunctioning heat and light in some sections of Brooklyn MDC

I am very concerned about recent reports from defenders, inmates, BOP employees, and the press that state that parts of Brooklyn MDC are facing temperatures in the 30s and 40s and are forbidden from seeing visitors, accessing medical care, or making calls to family.

Please restore heat as a number one priority, as inmates are facing sickness and possible hypothermia. Before the contractors arrive tomorrow, please provide more blankets and temporary sources of heat today, even hot drinks, to the cells.

The Bureau of Prisons website states that its founding mission is to "to provide more progressive and humane care for federal inmates." Prisoners and pretrial detainees must not be left in the cold and dark while Brooklyn MDC delays or takes days/weeks to fix the problem. If the heat problem cannot be fixed immediately, MDC must provide blankets and temporary sources of heat today. Anything else is inhumane and not worthy of BOP's stated mission. Please recognize the lack of heat in winter as a health emergency and expedite solutions immediately. The rest of the nation is watching.

Sincerely,

- 1) "Protocol" for adjusting dampers when temperature begins dropping in any area: Facilities/Powerhouse Staff are notified by staff in the affected area. Facilities Staff go to the dampers/equipment supplying heat to that specific unit or office area and make adjustments to the airflow (adjust dampers). Once system begins supplying heat, provide time for temperature in building to rise.
- 2) Status of A&E: Statement of work is being drafted and will be approved by 2/7/19. RCA will be submitted to FAO by 2/7/19, and FAO has already been contacted and advised of the urgent and compelling need of these services. Facilities Administrator indicated that should push FAO to process within 1 to 2 weeks.
- 3) Scope of A&E: Assess "electrical distribution system, substations, primary switchgear, secondary switchgear, transformers, generators, conductors, breakers, protective and control relays, and meters". It's a complete investigation and assessment of the existing conditions. Firm wil submit a report describing recommended fixes for entire electrical system.

The next couple of nights are supposed to get into the low 20s. Are we prepared for that? Should we have someone checking and recording temps through the weekend?

On a bigger picture, I think we need to be ready to pull inmates out on a moments notice in the event the heat or electricity go down again. The plan we discussed before took 4 days using our buses. Are there other resources out there to do faster? Other regions? Usms? Etc? We cleared marianna in 24 hours. I think that needs to be our goal. Let's discuss.

Good Morning Hugh - my name is (b)(6) Executive Deputy Commissioner, NYS DOCCS. My Commissioner, (b)(6) and I have been reading the papers about MDC and wanted to offer any assistance.

We called MDC and spoke to Deputy Captain (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) to offer assistance. He indicated that you had heat and hot water and were on secondary power. When asked if he needed any assistance he said he could use 500-700 blankets.

We have arranged for a staff person to come in and will be transporting 1,000 blankets from Albany, NY to MDC. ETA is approximately 4 hours.

The Deputy Capt said power should be restored tomorrow, however, If there is any further assistance we can offer please let us know. My cell phone number is (b)(6)

She called...her info is from PD and it was not good. I explained the heat but she is not satisfied. I assured her inmates have access to additional blankets, etc. She claims inmates have not had change of blankets or underwear, and Ray is confirming they are getting clean clothes and sheets.

She is most upset about the power situation. Does not understand why we cant bring in generators to get cell lights on or bring in portable lights. Ray, can we get anything from NY Emergency Ops or otherwise?

I spoke to Ray, contractor says can't get part until Monday and then Con Ed and contractor can repair Monday. This is not acceptable, and Ray/Herman are going to push contractor or look for another vendor. Sonya/Jen if we are not going to get fixed tomorrow we are going to need to tell Nadler/Velazquez/Gillibrand before they find out otherwise. This is going to be a huge problem for us.

I am concerned about Jeffries visit as the cells will be dark by then.

A quick update from last night... Protesters did assemble in front of the institution last night beginning around 7:00 pm. The numbers grew to approximately 75 individuals. There were no incidents involving the protesters and they departed at approximately 9:30 pm.

The institution continues to run normal on the inside. BRO DCT, OTV DCT, and DEV SORT are on-site to assist with institution and perimeter security. The Command Center remains open to monitor and report activities. SIS is still (b)(7)(E) Food Service is still preparing extra meals for staff.

On a different note, there was an inmate fight in unit 53 last night involving several inmates affiliated with the Bloods gang. The fight involved the use of lock in socks and three inmates were transported to a local hospital. There was no OC deployment and there were no staff injuries. The unit remains secure this morning as we attempt to determine the cause of the fight.

Thank you for your continued efforts. Take care and be safe.

Also there are reports of ambulances at the institution where they taking out inmates or staff and protesters involved in the incident this morning?

I am going to need to speak with you all tomorrow morning as early as possible because we have an 11 am hearing in edny now. I am going to need some assistance with who is capable of testifying about the current state as well as progress and whole back story. I am going to try to get this by phone but can't promise.

I will also need someone from medical to address each of the individual complaints from defense counsel and for bail hearings. It is going to be a process and may necessitate going to see each inmate and figuring out what to do with then.

On Sunday, January 27, 2019, at approximately 12:55 P.M. Distribution System #3 (Switch Gear) located in the 2nd floor Mechanical Room of the West Building, caught fire and experienced unrepairable damage. The fire department was called immediately upon discovery of the fire incident, and arrived at approximately 1:08 P.M. The fire department utilized water to extinguish the fire. Several staff members donned self contained breathing apparatuses (SCBA's) to open doors giving the fire department access into the area of the fire location. Subsequently, the damaged sustained has resulted in the institution being partially without power. It appears the institution will remain with partial power for an extended period, until the necessary repairs are made. There were no serious staff injuries (mainly only reports of smoke inhalation), and no inmate injuries sustained as a result of the incident. Additionally, all fire suppressant and fire alarm systems remain fully operational. Property loss is in excess of $100,000.00.

Consistent with our discussion this morning, if OAG is going to ask OIG to engage, perhaps what OIG should focus on is whether BOP institution emergency and contingency planning is sufficient and appropriate to address power outages and natural disasters. Kevin,

We worked with Jennifer and Joe from Legislative Affairs on the inquiry from Senator Booker. The heating incident dates back to a few month ago. Specifically, on December 11, 2018, two of three boilers malfunctioned at the powerhouse, which provide heat and hot water to the institution. The third boiler was operating, however, it was a smaller boiler that could not provide the capacity needed to heat the entire institution. The institution was placed on modified operations to ensure equitable distribution of the limited supply of heat and hot water. It was determined a portable boiler would be required to restore normal operations to the facility. A request for $60,000 was made and approved to rent a portable boiler.

On December 14, 2018, instillation of the portable boiler began. This work was completed on December 15, 2018, and the institution returned to normal operations. During this period of time, the institution was never without any heat. The third boiler remained operational and although temporary, provided a sufficient amount of heat to the institution.

On January 14, 2019, the approved contractor began work to evaluate and repair the two malfunctioning boilers at the powerhouse. The repairs are still being completed and it is estimated to be completed in three weeks.

On January 23-24, 2019, there was one occasion that all heat in B Unit was lost, due to the heating coils. When this occurred, Executive Staff personally went to B Unit and handed all inmates additional blankets. This ensured all inmates had at a minimum, three blankets.

Currently, the institution's heat and hot water are fully operating. Temperatures inside building are ranging between 70 and 72 degrees. Hot water is being supplied to all areas at approximate 160 degrees. If there is any additional problem with heat the institution currently has on hand approximate 1000 additional blankets that could be provided to inmates if it ever becomes necessary.

If you need any additional information please let me know.

Mike

I expect we may start getting calls (media/Hill) on why these two facilities were handled differently. I'd like to make sure we are on the same page as what I am telling ODAG. My initial thinking is as follows...please let me know if I am missing something:

--BRO had heat; their power was out in cells but on elsewhere. The BRO power outage was not impacting our ability to safely and securely run the facility.

--Power at BRO was expected to be returned before all the inmates could even be moved out. The heating outage at TI was expected to last much longer.

--BRO impacted the entire facility so moving inmates involved relocating 1600 inmates. TI was only two housing units impacting approx 230 inmates.

--They house different populations - BRO houses pre-sentence detainees. We cannot just move them anywhere, and they must be housed separately from sentenced inmates. As pre-sentence inmates they consist of all security levels and their criminal history, backgrounds, and gang affiliations are mostly unknown.

--Bed space in the NE is not as readily available. FCC Victorville has several closed units that have been used for other surge needs such as the detainees and USMS increased needs.

What is happening at this prison? This is a shame and we the people need to know why there is no heat or hot water since Monday. Why is this happening?

They are human beings. They are somebody's husband, dad, brother or son and deserve better treatment than this.

Isn't this human rights abuse?

The community should be up in arms!

Ray, Sonya raised a good question...should the A&E or someone look at whole HVAC plant as well? The boilers were the source of the heat, and even when running, appear to have some issues. Certainly heat was part of the outage, even if unjustified.

>>> Ray Ormond 2/6/2019 2:48 PM >>>

Hugh - Follow up to your two questions:

1) "Protocol" for adjusting dampers when temperature begins dropping in any area: Facilities/Powerhouse Staff are notified by staff in the affected area. Facilities Staff go to the dampers/equipment supplying heat to that specific unit or office area and make adjustments to the airflow (adjust dampers). Once system begins supplying heat, provide time for temperature in building to rise.

2) Status of A&E: Statement of work is being drafted and will be approved by 2/7/19. RCA will be submitted to FAO by 2/7/19, and FAO has already been contacted and advised of the urgent and compelling need of these services. Facilities Administrator indicated that should push FAO to process within 1 to 2 weeks.

3) Scope of A&E: Assess "electrical distribution system, substations, primary switchgear, secondary switchgear, transformers, generators, conductors, breakers, protective and control relays, and meters". It's a complete investigation and assessment of the existing conditions. Firm wil submit a report describing recommended fixes for entire electrical system.

Let me know if you need anything else on this. Thanks

Hey boss,

For tonight we actually have two floors up and running normal. The 4th and the 8th, they have been up with no issues. They are using phones and watching TVs and will be secured for the 9:30 count.

The 5th, 6th, and 7th floors have been fed. They are getting showers/using phones in a controlled manner and are being secured. The TVs are being left on in the units.

Tomorrow, we will keep running 4 and 8 normal. With extra DCT, we will open the other three floors by tier to eat. One tier will eat and then secure before the other team eats. If all goes well, we will attempt to feed lunch with normal operations.

Myself and Ms. Flowers are here through the evening. Ms. Logan will relieve Ms. Flowers at midnight. All Exec Staff will be back in at 8.

There are still protesters out front though the numbers have significantly decreased, less than 20. DCT and SORT are on site and have a relief schedule through tomorrow.

With all that has been going on, it has been difficult for me to get information out. For that, I apologize. It is never my intent to keep anyone in the dark.

I want to inform about a couple of recent incidents: the disturbance and the bomb threat.

First, on Sunday, February 3, 2019, at approximately 12:40 p.m., the protesters breached the West Building Front Lobby, becoming disruptive and aggressive towards staff. While attempting to remove them from the lobby, some attempted to assault staff. Responding staff dispersed (2) two second busts of OC and 3 to 5 OC pepper-ball rounds to gain control and restore order to the Front Lobby. During the incident, several staff received injuries that did not require outside medical attention. Staff who were maintaining building security and those who responded to the incident, did an outstanding job controlling and containing the situation and thankfully, no one was seriously injured. As the NYPD barricades did not contain the crowd, MCC New York's DCT and USP Caanan's SORT was activated and responded to the institution to provide additional building security. Emergency teams will continue to be active throughout this disturbance.

Then on Monday, February 4, 2019, a bomb threat was called into the institution. Immediately, the bomb threat contingency was initiated. The institution was secured, local resources were contacted, and internal searches were conducted. By 2:00 pm, the NYPD's Special Operations Unit and our internal searches cleared the buildings. Staff again did an outstanding job responding and taking the threat seriously. Staff tasked with continuing to run the institution also deserve recognition, we often forget that during an emergency, some necessary functions still need to occur, such as inmates needing to be accounted for and supervised and food needing to be prepared. Staff adjusted and made it happen.

For now, BRO DCT, NYM DCT, and CAA SORT, continue to be activated and onsite to assist with institution security. Additionally, for those living at Dayton Manor, an armed team member has been assigned to the lobby to provide security. Staff are asked to notify SIS if any threatening communications are received or viewed on social media.

We continue to have significant interest in how inmates are treated and though we have had numerous visits from elected officials already, we anticipate more. Today, there will be a tour by a Federal judge, several AUSAs, and Defense Attorneys.

The world is watching events here at MDC Brooklyn; I encourage staff to remain professional even in trying circumstances and prove all these inaccuracies wrong. I know it is difficult to hear the things that are being said; I know you are tired and have been working long hours for extended periods; and, I know it is scary and emotionally draining. But I also know the strength of Brooklyn staff and the support you always have for each other. Continue that support and look out for each other. If you need anything, please ask. Everything you are doing is appreciated, take care, and be safe.

My initial thought is we already know what the HVAC system needs. It needs general maintenance to be accomplished i.e. cleaning, filter changes, motor adjustments, Louver adjustments, coil cleaning, freeze pump replacement, and freeze stat repairs.

This is why we are bringing the HVAC TDY staff in to do this work. We would pay an A&E firm a lot of money to tell us what we already know needs to be accomplished based on my tour of the mechanical spaces this week.

If it is OK with you I think once the repairs are done we can have an A&E perform an HVAC survey to review all of the work that we have accomplished and to ensure proper operation.

Please let me know if you need anything clarified.

Mike

Mike,

The RD had a question that we need a quick turn-around on. As we are planning on doing project for the electrical system at BRO., can we do the same review for the heating and air conditioning? If we are doing the electric would it or not make sense to the HVAC system at the same time.

Please explain your position/decision either way. You can send it in a text/email to the RD with a cc to me - thank you.

Also a sprinkler head popped by gate 2 on the East side near the Marshall's gate. Its an isolated area. So we will need to start a fire watch for the 3rd floor East Building Rec area.

With all that has been going on, it has been difficult for me to get information out. For that, I apologize. It is never my intent to keep anyone in the dark.

I want to inform about a couple of recent incidents: the disturbance and the bomb threat.

First, on Sunday, February 3, 2019, at approximately 12:40 p.m., the protesters breached the West Building Front Lobby, becoming disruptive and aggressive towards staff. While attempting to remove them from the lobby, some attempted to assault staff. Responding staff dispersed (2) two second busts of OC and 3 to 5 OC pepper-ball rounds to gain control and restore order to the Front Lobby. During the incident, several staff received injuries that did not require outside medical attention. Staff who were maintaining building security and those who responded to the incident, did an outstanding job controlling and containing the situation and thankfully, no one was seriously injured. As the NYPD barricades did not contain the crowd, MCC New York's DCT and USP Caanan's SORT was activated and responded to the institution to provide additional building security. Emergency teams will continue to be active throughout this disturbance.

Then on Monday, February 4, 2019, a bomb threat was called into the institution. Immediately, the bomb threat contingency was initiated. The institution was secured, local resources were contacted, and internal searches were conducted. By 2:00 pm, the NYPD's Special Operations Unit and our internal searches cleared the buildings. Staff again did an outstanding job responding and taking the threat seriously. Staff tasked with continuing to run the institution also deserve recognition, we often forget that during an emergency, some necessary functions still need to occur, such as inmates needing to be accounted for and supervised and food needing to be prepared. Staff adjusted and made it happen.

For now, BRO DCT, NYM DCT, and CAA SORT, continue to be activated and onsite to assist with institution security. Additionally, for those living at Dayton Manor, an armed team member has been assigned to the lobby to provide security. Staff are asked to notify SIS if any threatening communications are received or viewed on social media.

We continue to have significant interest in how inmates are treated and though we have had numerous visits from elected officials already, we anticipate more. Today, there will be a tour by a Federal judge, several AUSAs, and Defense Attorneys.

The world is watching events here at MDC Brooklyn; I encourage staff to remain professional even in trying circumstances and prove all these inaccuracies wrong. I know it is difficult to hear the things that are being said; I know you are tired and have been working long hours for extended periods; and, I know it is scary and emotionally draining. But I also know the strength of Brooklyn staff and the support you always have for each other. Continue that support and look out for each other. If you need anything, please ask. Everything you are doing is appreciated, take care, and be safe.

Hey boss,

For tonight we actually have two floors up and running normal. The 4th and the 8th, they have been up with no issues. They are using phones and watching TVs and will be secured for the 9:30 count.

The 5th, 6th, and 7th floors have been fed. They are getting showers/using phones in a controlled manner and are being secured. The TVs are being left on in the units.

Tomorrow, we will keep running 4 and 8 normal. With extra DCT, we will open the other three floors by tier to eat. One tier will eat and then secure before the other team eats. If all goes well, we will attempt to feed lunch with normal operations.

Myself and Ms. Flowers are here through the evening. Ms. Logan will relieve Ms. Flowers at midnight. All Exec Staff will be back in at 8.

There are still protesters out front thought the numbers have significantly decreased, less than 20. DCT and SORT are on site and have a relief schedule through tomorrow.

Boss,

As I mentioned earlier, I met with Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) today and discussed our relationship. He indicated he had no concerns with our relationship or our communication. Regarding Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) he indicated one of his union board members initially sent Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) a complaint without his knowledge. He further communicated that Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) asked him about the heat last night and Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) relayed information that I told him earlier in the day (that heat was still not working in the Unit Team areas, Unit 62, and the SIS Office). He advised he did not send the information maliciously and acknowledged that work was being done to correct the issue (though he did not include information about corrective action in his correspondence with Mr. Young). He indicated he felt comfortable bringing any issue to my attention.

After our meeting, we toured the areas of the institution impacted by the loss of heat and measured the temperatures in each area. Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was able to see that the temperatures in the unit team areas had risen to acceptable levels, though he felt the temperatures should be higher. Temperature readings were in the range of 63 - 74 degrees. He did express concern about forecasted low outside temperatures and the possibility of heat failing again. I assured him we would monitor inside temperatures closely over the weekend.

Let me know if you need anything further.

Good afternoon,

I called you to give you an update on the hearing today. The good news is we're off temporary restraining orders and the public defenders didn't have the rights to bring a lawsuit against us. It's a personal issue. Therefore, the inmates would have to file the lawsuit. However, we must do whatever in our power to not cancel legal visits... (I completely understand). The court room was packed (but not as many as expected for us to have concerns). Ms McFarland will be sending you an overview of the outcome as well. Let me know if you have any questions. There was a UOF last night in SHU when temperatures were being taken. After bringing the intoxicated inmate, who created the medical emergency during our visit last night, to SHU he became disruptive and was taken to the ground. Due to SHU staff being involved in and tied up with the UOF, range temperatures were not taken.

Warden,

I received a call from our Chief Judge this evening about conditions at the MDC and concerns the judges have. There is at least one hearing scheduled for judges meeting at 1:00 on Tuesday, where they expect us to appear and report on the problems and what is being done to fix them.

In addition, a number of defendants have moved for release on bail, citing the conditions, and the individual judges are considering those motions.

One of my in-house investigators was over there this afternoon with the Chief of the Federal Defenders and I hear that, while the situation may not be wh

Ray,

Hope all is well and that your return travels were speedy and uneventful.

As discussed and request with Congressman D. Collins the other day during the visit, a video copy of the front lobby incident with the protesters is needed.

Can we get a video copy somehow in a format that can also be provided to the Congressman? Burn a CD and mail it?

Thanks so much and talk soon.

Dear Hugh Hurwitz,

As Acting Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, I urge you to move swiftly to address troubling reports of inadequate heat and electricity in Brooklyn's Metropolitan Detention Center.

More than 1,600 federal prisoners have been without heat for days as NYC experiences frigid cold temperatures.

Earlier today Representative Nydia Velazquez and other local elected officials expressed outrage after Warden Quay irresponsibly let contractors leave the facility without a real action plan to restore heat. Moreover, local prison officials are refusing NYC's offer to provide blankets and emergency generators.

This is not an acceptable way to treat any human being. You have the power and responsibility to take action. Please step up and deliver help!

Boss,

As I mentioned earlier, I met with Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) today and discussed our relationship. He indicated he had no concerns with our relationship or our communication. Regarding Mr. Young, he indicated one of his union board members initially sent Mr. Young a complaint without his knowledge. He further communicated that Mr. Young asked him about the heat last night and Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) relayed information that I told him earlier in the day (that heat was still not working in the Unit Team areas, Unit 62, and the SIS Office). He advised he did not send the information maliciously and acknowledged that work was being done to correct the issue (though he did not include information about corrective action in his correspondence with Mr. Young). He indicated he felt comfortable bringing any issue to my attention.

After our meeting, we toured the areas of the institution impacted by the loss of heat and measured the temperatures in each area. Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was able to see that the temperatures in the unit team areas had risen to acceptable levels, though he felt the temperatures should be higher. Temperature readings were in the range of 63 - 74 degrees. He did express concern about forecasted low outside temperatures and the possibility of heat failing again. I assured him we would monitor inside temperatures closely over the weekend.

Let me know if you need anything further.

Mike,

Below is an email I received on my personal email. Claims to be a reporter with the NY Times doing a story on this situation. Left me a voice mail as well saying he will publish by 10:00 am. If legit, it might help to get these answered.

Hello Warden Quay,

I just wanted to reach out to you once more and see if you're willing to provide a couple of basic facts regarding the situation inside the MDC and your handling of it last week as temperatures dropped. This article will likely go online tomorrow and we are very interested in hearing your perspective on what went wrong within the jail -- and what you and your staff did to address it.

Here are a few questions:

- *How cold did it get inside some of the cells over the last week?
- *What did you or other staff do to ensure that patients did not freeze to death?
- *Were extra blankets and cold weather clothing distributed and if so how much per inmate?
- *How would you characterize the conditions within cells on the western side of the MDC on the 6th floor and up in the SHU?
- *Were you present at the jail on Wednesday and Thursday as temperatures dropped or over the weekend?
- *What steps were taken to improve conditions inside the jail over the past two weeks?

Thank you.

Also there are reports of ambulances at the institution where they taking out inmates or staff and protesters involved in the incident this morning?

I am going to need to speak with you all tomorrow morning as early as possible because we have an 11 am hearing in edny now. Good morning Warden,

We're working on the finishing touches of the fact section of our brief in opposition to the Federal Defenders' motion for a preliminary injunction and I just want to confirm the number of days legal visiting was canceled in 2018.

I believe when we met with the AUSAs on Tuesday morning, you indicated that legal visiting was canceled on only ten (10) days in 2018. Do you happen to have the documentation that includes those numbers/dates, or are you at least comfortable that it is an accurate representation for us to include in the brief?

Thank you,

Hello Warden Quay,

I just wanted to reach out to you once more and see if you're willing to provide a couple of basic facts regarding the situation inside the MDC and your handling of it last week as temperatures dropped. This article will likely go online tomorrow and we are very interested in hearing your perspective on what went wrong within the jail -- and what you and your staff did to address it.

Here are a few questions:

*How cold did it get inside some of the cells over the last week?

*What did you or other staff do to ensure that patients did not freeze to death?

*Were extra blankets and cold weather clothing distributed and if so how much per inmate?

*How would you characterize the conditions within cells on the western side of the MDC on the 6th floor and up in the SHU?

*Were you present at the jail on Wednesday and Thursday as temperatures dropped or over the weekend?

*What steps were taken to improve conditions inside the jail over the past two weeks?

Thank you.

The following is a breakdown of our 3 boilers at USP Canaan:

On 3/4/2019, a deflection plate was installed on boiler #2. This plate lowered the stack temperature down to normal levels, and is a temporary fix.

On 3/6/2019, a deflection plate was installed on boiler #3. Again, bringing down the stack temperature to normal levels which was also a temporary fix.

As of 3/7/2019, Boiler #1 is still running. However, it is making knocking noises inside the heating tubes due to the tubes being blocked. Just to clarify, we are in good shape today as all three boilers are currently running. Because of the issues we have encountered with boilers 1 and 2, we are working to have a rental boiler on site and operational by 3/12/2019.

Any questions or concerns, let me know.

The new transfer switch is on site, the contractor will be on site within the next two weeks to install the switch. The transfer switch will allow us to go from generator to utility with a flip of a switch, because of the current issue if we lose power we would have a little bit of down time while we manually switch the wires over.

As far the A&E for the electrical system that is in FAO for review

HVAC Maintenance is moving at a nice pace, the (5) TDY staff are set to leave today with a new set of (4) to start Monday. Currently, MDC Brooklyn is experiencing a partial power outage. The institution is operating on emergency generator power, cells have heat and hot water, and there is lighting in the common areas, and inmates are receiving hot meals.

At this time, access for inmates to phones and inmate messaging, as well as commissary is temporarily affected. However, essential personal hygiene items and medical services continue to be provided.

MDC Brooklyn is not currently locked down; the institution remains secure.

MDC Brooklyn is working to expeditiously resolve the issue as soon as possible. Visitors should continue to check the public website (www.bop.gov) for any impact on visiting.

Herman - I think we've talked about most, but to make sure I don't miss something, below are the areas I need replies to (some may repeat themselves):

- 1) Inmates have access to additional blankets, etc. Claims inmates have not had change of blankets or underwear; confirm they are getting clean clothes and sheets. How recent have they exchanged both and what do they have? Does every inmate have extra blankets.
- 2) Does not understand why we can't bring in generators to get cell lights on or bring in portable lights. Can we get anything from NY Emergency Ops or otherwise?
- 3) Contractor says can't get part until Monday and then Con Ed and contractor can repair Monday. This is not acceptable; push contractor or look for another vendor. Can we drive and pick up parts? Let me know where we are. This is the biggest issue.
- 4) Status of Con Ed and contractor arrival tomorrow and status of getting terminals by tomorrow
- 5) What items have we been offered by NYC Emergency Mgmt. Have we declined anything they offered? Reason?
- 6) Status of CPAP inmates?
- 7) Has medical stopped at each cell? Anyone with blood on sheets?
- 8) Institution Security - Are protesters on sight? Are staff safe to enter/exit. Is NYPD assisting?
- 9) How many DCT staff reported? Let me know your plan to rotate them to have DCT available tonight and tomorrow.
- 10) Do we have command center, or a manned phone, for all calls/issues related to this situation?

Activists resume efforts outside Brooklyn jail after more reported heat outages

Brooklyn Daily Eagle

Following reports of more heat outages at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Sunset Park, activists have renewed demonstrations and monitoring efforts outside the federal jail, which went without power and heat amid record-low temperatures last month. On Friday, Federal Defenders of New York supervising attorney Deirdre von Dornum told the Daily News that she had "firsthand knowledge" that at least three units in MDC lacked heat. Attorneys and activists contacted by the Eagle Monday morning said they could not yet confirm accounts of heat outages at the jail. The previous heat outage, which lasted from Jan. 27 until Feb. 4, prompted large protests inside and outside the facility as freezing detainees banged on their cell windows to signal to demonstrators — including loved ones and prominent elected officials — outside the jail's walls.

Halfway house proposal draws more questions

The Rolla Daily News

<https://www.therolladailynews.com/news/20190305/halfway-house-proposal-draws-more-questions>

Plans for a federal Bureau of Prisons halfway house in Blue Summit are on hold as Jackson County legislators and Independence City Council members say they want more information. County legislators on Monday delayed voting on rezoning needed for the project. Legislators said there are concerns about which inmates would be sent there and about access to bus service that inmates would need to get to work and get to other services. "It might make the people more successful if you can get them to where the jobs are," said Legislator Tony Miller, D-Lee's Summit. Legislators suggested the Kansas City Area Transportation Authority be contacted to see if a bus stop could be put there.

Prison official arrested on bribery charges

Daily Press

A Bureau of Prisons correctional officer at the Federal Correctional Complex has been arrested on suspicion of accepting a bribe as a public official and conspiracy to provide and possess contraband in prison. The officer, 49-year-old Paul James Hayes II, was taken into custody by the U.S. Marshal Service on Thursday. He was also a lieutenant in the prison's Special Investigative Services, a unit which investigates illegal activity by correctional officers and inmates. An affidavit filed in United States District Court by federal authorities outlined the following case: Hayes, in cooperation with FCC inmates Uiese Mausali, Larry Rutkowski and others, received thousands of dollars in cash payments in exchange for smuggling contraband into the complex in 2018.

We had a meeting today, specifically with Kevin Schwinn and Allen Beard to go over what they have been able to do with these threats. They have been exhausting all their resources. I asked them to add details about 3 of the protesters that we were able to identify into their Assessment. These 3 individuals have been identified and from what I was told this information has been shared with NYPD and the FBI that are dealing with this. I will have the complete assessment in the morning and will forward to you and Ray.

Tommy/Richard,

As an update. The SIU has investigated this alleged threat through (b)(7)(E). During the investigation, a video of the incident was found on (b)(7)(E). During the video there are several people commenting on the video. They are discussing the Exec's comments about talking to a few of the protesters next week. Several commentors have taken the conversation out of context and believe there is a specific INMATE who is in need of medical attention and if he does not get medical attention by next week he will die.... This was not a comment about a threat to our staff.

If you have further questions or comments, please feel free to reach out to Tony Garrow, Chief of SIU.

Today we received a threat to Michael Carroll, Executive Assistant Northeast Region. Protesters showed up at the Regional Office to voice concerns about MDC Brooklyn. Mr. Carroll addressed the protester (approximately 15 to 20). During this one of the protesters was streaming Facebook live from their phone. MDC Brooklyn was monitoring Facebook when they noticed the live stream. One of the comments during the stream stated, "This man is dead next week!"

I have attached the screen shot and the profile picture which MDC Brooklyn was able to obtain.

We need to start a plan of action to get the x-ray machine on line. Currently we are taking a small amount of inmates to the east side for x-rays, but that will become an issue in the future. Lets not give the inmate defense lawyers ammo to take us to court on this also. Think about it.....

Dear Warden Quay and Ms. McFarland:

I have been informed that my client, (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was taken on February 3, 2019 on an emergency basis from the MDC to Brooklyn Hospital, where he remains under guard by BOP officers (not the Marshal's Service). Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) suffers from a number of very serious illnesses and conditions, including ulcerative colitis. When last seen in Unit 62 on the evening of February 1, 2019 by senior representatives of the Federal Defenders, EDNY, and the United States Attorney's Office, EDNY, Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) had a large, untreated, pus-filled open wound on his very badly swollen leg. He awoke that day in a pool of blood and the blood-stained sheets on his bed had not been changed. His cell was dark and cold. These reports, and others, are directly contrary to Ms. McFarland's statement to me on the morning of February 1, 2019 that there had been no interruptions in the delivery of heat to Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)'s unit or cell and that he had been receiving all appropriate medical care and attention, even as recently as the day before, January 31, 2019.

I would like to visit with Mr. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) in the hospital as soon as possible, preferably later this afternoon. The Marshal's Service tells me that I will not be permitted to do so without authorization from you. Please advise.

Activists resume efforts outside Brooklyn jail after more reported heat outages

Brooklyn Daily Eagle

<https://brooklyneagle.com/articles/2019/03/04/activists-resume-efforts-outside-mdc-after-more-reported-heat-outages/>

Following reports of more heat outages at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Sunset Park, activists have renewed demonstrations and monitoring efforts outside the federal jail, which went without power and heat amid record-low temperatures last month. On Friday, Federal Defenders of New York supervising attorney Deirdre von Dornum told the Daily News that she had "firsthand knowledge" that at least three units in MDC lacked heat. Attorneys and activists contacted by the Eagle Monday morning said they could not yet confirm accounts of heat outages at the jail. The previous heat outage, which lasted from Jan. 27 until Feb. 4, prompted large protests inside and outside the facility as freezing detainees banged on their cell windows to signal to demonstrators — including loved ones and prominent elected officials — outside the jail's walls.

Halfway house proposal draws more questions

The Rolla Daily News

<https://www.therolladailynews.com/news/20190305/halfway-house-proposal-draws-more-questions>

Plans for a federal Bureau of Prisons halfway house in Blue Summit are on hold as Jackson County legislators and Independence City Council members say they want more information. County legislators on Monday delayed voting on rezoning needed for the project. Legislators said there are concerns about which inmates would be sent there and about access to bus service that inmates would need to get to work and get to other services. "It might make the people more successful if you can get them to where the jobs are," said Legislator Tony Miller, D-Lee's Summit. Legislators suggested the Kansas City Area Transportation Authority be contacted to see if a bus stop could be put there.

Prison official arrested on bribery charges

Daily Press

A Bureau of Prisons correctional officer at the Federal Correctional Complex has been arrested on suspicion of accepting a bribe as a public official and conspiracy to provide and possess contraband in prison. The officer, 49-year-old Paul James Hayes II, was taken into custody by the U.S. Marshal Service on Thursday. He was also a lieutenant in the prison's Special Investigative Services, a unit which investigates illegal activity by correctional officers and inmates. An affidavit filed in United States District Court by federal authorities outlined the following case: Hayes, in cooperation with FCC inmates Uiese Mausali, Larry Rutkowski and others, received thousands of dollars in cash payments in exchange for smuggling contraband into the complex in 2018.

On February 2, 2019, protesters arrived at MDC Brooklyn and started protesting the perceived conditions inside the institution.

On February 3, 2019, at approximately 12:47 p.m. the protesters pushed their way into the west building front lobby. Staff who were present in the lobby attempted to block the protesters from further entering the lobby. Staff called for assistance and when further staff arrived the protesters became violent and staff responded by using OC spray and deployment of pepperball rounds from the Pepper Ball Launcher. Staff were then able to guide the protesters out of the front lobby with no further incident.

This is an update as to MDC Brooklyn electrical issues. After many hours of troubleshooting by Square D, H.O Penn and in house staff we were able to restore power but the 3 generators failed and need further troubleshooting and parts. We still need further testing and troubleshooting of the ATS for Distribution #3. We have a Emergency generator being delivered today Sunday January 6th and the electrician will be on site Monday to connect it so we have a backup generator on standby till our 3 generators are repaired and tested. Because of the power failure we lost our UPS'S on the 9th floor and are working on bringing in a Representative to troubleshooting the UPS's. The distribution #3 breaker would not hold in the closed position causing the outage, square D Representative was able to have the buildings switchgear drawings emailed to him from his main office and was able to further troubleshooting the breaker. We now have a digital copy of the prints and once normal funding becomes available we will have the drawings printed and laminated and stored in the switchgear room.

>>> (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) 01/05/2019 07:41 >>>

This is to inform you that on Friday January 4, 2019 MDC Brooklyn experienced a power issue at 6:30am. Immediate actions were taken and the generators were put on. MDC Brooklyn staff along with Power Secure (contractor from energy project) started troubleshooting the issue. Distribution panel #3 has a short between B and C phase for a unknown reason. I called in Square D Representative to further assist with troubleshooting and around 2:30 am Saturday morning during further troubleshooting of the ATS switch the generator shut off and dropped the load for half of what the generators were supplying. We did NOT lose entire power to the building as the local utility power is available, just distribution 3 load is dead. I called in HO Penn for there assistance with the generator. The contractor is on site as of this email. The generators are not picking up the load because of under voltage. We will be requesting an Emergency funding as this is an Emergency power outage.

Update on today's tours at MDC Brooklyn

Boss,

(b)(6) 3:45pm

The tour with Mr. Mixon was led by Associate Warden (C) Milinda King, Executive Assistant Valery Logan, Supervisory Staff Attorney Nicole McFarland, and CLC Attorney Holly Pratesi. They toured three floors and inspected the temperature in each unit. Mr. Mixon asked to see the kitchen, and appeared to be satisfied. He saw final preparations of a hot meal: chicken, rice, and black beans.

Congresswoman 4:10 pm

The tour with Congresswoman Velazquez included two of her staff, Director Mr. (b)(6) and Community Relations Director Ms. (b)(6). The tour was led by Associate Warden (P) Caryn Flowers and Executive Assistant Valery Logan. The Congresswoman and her guests appeared tense; however, their tension level visibly declined as the tour progressed. They toured eight units on three floors in addition to SHU. They appeared satisfied with the temperature in the units; however, they did have minor concerns with the temperature in the sallyport on each floor visited and the front lobby. They inspected the water temperature in the showers on each floor visited and appeared satisfied with the water temperature. Upon exiting the institution, they were greeted by about five union members. They conversed for approximately 10 minutes and appeared to exchange phone numbers.

Public Defender 4:10 pm

The tour with the Federal Public Defenders included Public Defender Deirdre Von Dornum and Senior Investigator at the US Attorney's Office (b)(6). The tour was led by Associate Warden (C) Milinda King, Supervisory Staff Attorney Nicole McFarland, and CLC Attorney Holly Pratesi. Ms. Von Dornum is going to say we were horrible. Inmates complained they were not getting medications nor refills. The majority of the inmates told them they were locked in their cells all week and have been eating in the dark. They went into many cells and they were not cold. (b)(6) seemed a lot more skeptical. In SHU, an inmate was complaining that he was freezing; however, he was not wearing a shirt. Ms. Von Dornum was prompting the inmates by asking questions such as, "Are you cold? Are you taking medication?" "Who is your lawyer?" "Who is your judge? I'll let the judge know." Ms. Von Dornum will be writing the judge this evening, so we will likely hear about this over the weekend.

Good afternoon,

Please be advised there has been an additional news report released by the media with inaccurate information titled, "Inmates Again Without Heat at Brooklyn Detention Center". Additionally, several news media has contacted the institution as well as set up outside of the institution. Currently, there isn't any verified information on social media. However, we are proactively activating the DCT team and the Command Center until further notice. We will continue to monitor the situation and keep you informed if necessary.

Good afternoon,

I called you to give you an update on the hearing today. The good news is we're off temporary restraining orders and the public defenders didn't have the rights to bring a lawsuit against us. It's a personal issue. Therefore, the inmates would have to file the lawsuit. However, we must do whatever in our power to not cancel legal visits... (I completely understand). The court room was packed (but not as many as expected for us to have concerns). Ms McFarland will be sending you an overview of the outcome as well. Let me know if you have any questions. As you are aware, yesterday following another inaccurate media report regarding lack of heat at MDC Brooklyn, the Command Center was opened and DCT activated. Temperatures in the institution continue to be taken by Facilities staff and still show temperatures in the 70s. A representative from Congresswoman Velazquez' office toured the institution last night and found the temperatures to be in the 70s. We have had no protesters and our (b)(7)(E) has given no indication that anything is planned. In fact, much of the (b)(7)(E) from individuals who have visited the institution refutes the erroneous media report.

As such, we will move to deactivate our teams today around noon. We will continue to monitor the situation and advise you of any changes. Thank you and take care.

Boss,

As I mentioned earlier, I met with Mr. [REDACTED] today and discussed our relationship. He indicated he had no concerns with our relationship or our communication. Regarding Mr. Young, he indicated one of his union board members initially sent Mr. Young a complaint without his knowledge. He further communicated that Mr. Young asked him about the heat last night and Mr. [REDACTED] relayed information that I told him earlier in the day (that heat was still not working in the Unit Team areas, Unit 62, and the SIS Office). He advised he did not send the information maliciously and acknowledged that work was being done to correct the issue (though he did not include information about corrective action in his correspondence with Mr. Young). He indicated he felt comfortable bringing any issue to my attention.

After our meeting, we toured the areas of the institution impacted by the loss of heat and measured the temperatures in each area. Mr. [REDACTED] was able to see that the temperatures in the unit team areas had risen to acceptable levels, though he felt the temperatures should be higher. Temperature readings were in the range of 63 - 74 degrees. He did express concern about forecasted low outside temperatures and the possibility of heat failing again. I assured him we would monitor inside temperatures closely over the weekend.

Let me know if you need anything further.

Also, [REDACTED] sent Eric Young an email at 9:30 last night saying there is still no heat in the unit team areas. Please walk those areas with [REDACTED] this morning and have someone take temps while your there. Need to find out from [REDACTED] why he is not coming to you about these issues and going straight to Eric to inform the Acting Director. Let me know what you find out. Thanks.

His staffer would like a POC on-site with whom to coordinate. I'm assuming it's Garcia. If so, do you have a contact number we can provide?

It's just lazy reporting. They regurgitated the Post article. It's not a new story.

Good news is that Nicole reached out to von Dornum and asked her to provide the housing units and cells and we'd investigate. She also is going to provide her with the temp logs.

So our statement can include "The BOP has contacted the Federal Defenders to determine which housing units and/or cells are being alleged to have issues. The facility is taking regular temperature readings every two hours to confirm that temperatures remain within appropriate levels. Again, despite inaccurate reporting, the heat is fully operational at the facility."

I am a reporter at The New York Times. We are scheduled to publish a story about the heat/power situation at the MDC based on several detailed reports from inmates' lawyers. We hear there has been little/no heat on several floors since Sunday and that inmates have not had adequate access to food, hot water, hygiene or phones/computers to contact relatives or request medical care. I have made several attempts to contact the MDC by phone and email for confirmation and a comment. If you could please respond at your earliest convenience. This story will run by noon tomorrow (Friday).

Many thanks,

In an attempt to escort protesters and local media, out of the lobby, they began to assault staff. Responding staff dispersed (2) two second busts of OC and 3 to 5 OC pepper-ball rounds were dispersed in order to gain control and restore order to the Front Lobby. Lawmakers say they have reached an 'agreement in principle' to avoid government shutdown

Washington Post

Brooklyn jail crisis is a civil rights issue

The Hill

<https://thehill.com/opinion/criminal-justice/429357-brooklyn-jail-crisis-a-civil-rights-issue>

Recent events in a Brooklyn federal jail revealed detainees held in subhuman and illegal conditions, without necessary medicine, heat, light and even water. But the Metropolitan Detention Center detainees were also lucky, because it is located in New York City, where public service attorneys are attentive, families are nearby to protest and draw media attention to the conditions and where a judge even paid a visit.

Call Power Breakdowns at Brooklyn Federal Prison a National Concern

The handling of the recent loss of heat and electricity for several days at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn is being investigated by the U.S. Department of Justice's Inspector General, according to a statement from the agency. "We have 122 [facilities] in all and they are mostly in disrepair and in need of many millions of dollars just to actually keep them up and running," Eric Young, president of the American Federation of Government Employees' Council of Prison Locals, said in a phone interview. Mr. Young said that, in addition to being shortchanged on capital-construction needs, the continual shift of maintenance staff and tradespeople who do facility repair and upkeep to handle the duties of Correction Officers was a nationwide problem. The 35-day Federal shutdown didn't help either, he said. In my home facility in Miami, Florida, we have elevator and roof problems that lead to more roof problems, and that was the same as what we saw in Brooklyn," he said. "You have the chronic leaks in the pipes until you get the endless amounts of black mold to the point the staff ends up calling out sick."

NYT article

Metropolitan Detention Center (MDC) Brooklyn experienced a partial power outage due to a fire in the switch gear room. The West institution has limited power in some areas (the East building was unaffected). All areas have lights that are on the emergency lighting circuit which is being feed by the utility company. (A circuit breaker had initially been tripped but has since been corrected.)

The new electrical panel is currently being installed by an outside contractor and a work ticket has been submitted by the electrical contractor to ConEd, to schedule a work crew to restore power to the new temporary service switch. Work is expected be completed by Monday February 4, 2019.

Inmates have hot water for showers and hot water in the sinks in the cell. The inmate telephones, inmate computers, and inmate televisions have no electrical power at this time because of the electrical issue. The inmate's public defender phones are operational. Staff telephones in the unit officer stations are operational.

Tours of the facility were provided to representatives from the USAO EDNY, Federal Public Defenders Office and to Congresswoman Nydia Velazquez. All representatives were able to walk the facility, talk to inmates and staff and observe that the air temperatures in the units were within acceptable ranges and hot water is available.

CAA:

On February 1, 2019, at approximately 8:15 am, inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) refused orders to submit to hand restraints and exit the holding cell to return to his assigned cell in the Special Housing Unit (SHU). Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) then escalated the situation by demonstrating imminent violence. Specifically, he stated any staff who approach him, he would assault them. The Warden authorized a use of force team to remove inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) from the cell and place him into ambulatory restraints. Confrontational avoidance procedures were initiated and inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) submitted to restraints. Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was removed from the holding cell, searched placed in ambulatory restraints and medically assessed. Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) will remain in ambulatory restraints until he displays a pattern of non-disruptive behavior. There were no injuries noted on inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) and there were no staff injuries reported.

Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was placed in ambulatory restraints at 10:00 am.

BRO:

On February 1, 2019, at approximately 9:03 a.m., the 7th floor unit Secretary activated her body alarm after inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) became insolent, and refused staff directives to return to his assigned cell. Responding staff removed inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) from the housing unit to be escorted to the Special Housing Unit, due to his disruptive behavior. Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) refused to submit to restraints and attempted to spit on staff. He was placed on the floor using the least amount of force necessary to gain control. Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was secured in restraints and escorted to West Special Housing where he was medically assessed. There was no OC used in this incident. One staff member reported an injury to his arm.

BRO:

On February 1, 2019 at 11:00 a.m., inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) reported, he had been sexually assaulted by staff the night prior during restraint check. The inmate was safe guarded as he was already single celled in West SHU. The inmate stated he would only speak with Medical and Psychology staff. At 12:00 p.m., inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was interviewed and stated he was sexually assaulted by staff last night, during the 2 hour Lt. /Medical Restraint check. Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was in full ambulatory restraints due to a previous incident for assaulting staff and disruptive behavior. At 12:15 p.m., inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was medically assessed, and it was determined to send the inmate out to the local hospital for further medical evaluations. PREA once source protocols were initiated.

ALP:

On February 1, 2019, at approximately 10:05 am, the Special Housing Unit Lieutenant reported to C range cell 132 due to an inmate having his window covered, refusing all staff orders to remove it and threatening self-harm. Specifically, inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) had his assigned cell window covered, refusing staff orders to remove it and threatening to hang himself. The inmate submitted to hand restraints and was removed the cell. He was then escorted to the C-Range holding cell where he was placed into alternate clothing, examined by Health Services and placed into hard ambulatory restraints. The inmate was then escorted to D-227 without further incident. Inmate Jordan is currently on an active Suicide Risk Management Plan. The inmate was assessed by the Staff Psychologist and it was determined that suicide watch was not warranted. Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) is a (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) male, with STG assignments of Threatening Staff, Defeating Restraints and Assaulting Correctional Staff, an extensive discipline history of Engaging in Sexual Acts, Indecent Exposure, Interfering with Security Devices and Being Disruptive. There were no inmate injuries noted. There were no staff injuries reported.

The Warden was briefed of the situation and authorized the continuation of restraints due to the inmate's behavior, threats of self-harm and clearly not being in control of his emotions. All appropriate checks were initiated and inmate Jordan will remain in restraints until he has shown a clear pattern of controlling his emotions.

FAI:

On February 1, 2019, at approximately 11:50 a.m., inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) became disruptive in the Special Housing Unit. Specifically, inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was observed by staff cutting his leg with his fingernail and wrote on the wall in blood. Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was given a direct order to cease his actions and submit to hand restraints, to which he complied. Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was removed from the cell, searched, and escorted to medical for treatment. Due to inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)'s continued disruptive behavior by inflicting self-harm in the Special Housing Unit on a Suicide Watch Risk Management Plan, he was placed into ambulatory restraints. The Warden was briefed of the situation and authorized the continuation of ambulatory restraints. Inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was placed back into Special Housing Unit without further incident.

At approximately 1:30 p.m., inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) began to hit his head against the wall. Staff took control of inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) and he was transitioned to soft four-point restraints, placed in a safety helmet and medically assessed without further incident. The Warden was contacted and authorized the continued use of soft four-point restraints.

BRO:

On February 1, 2019, at approximately 1:00 p.m., all cells at MDC Brooklyn were secured for elevator maintenance. At approximately 2:10 p.m., the G-Unit Counselor opened cell 417 in the G-42 housing unit where inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Reg. No. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) is assigned and was encouraging the housing unit to flood their cells. The Counselor entered the cell and (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) became combative and attempted to assault staff. Staff gave verbal commands with their intent to deploy OC. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) refused to comply, therefore staff administered 1-two second burst from their MK-4 OC dispenser, which proved ineffective. Staff immediately placed (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) on the ground to control his assaultive and disruptive behavior. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was then pat searched, placed in hand restraints, and escorted to the Special Housing Unit. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) was decontaminated and medically assessed on camera with minor injuries noted. One staff member reported a minor injury to the left hand. No other staff reported any injuries.

The staffer did not reference a specific cell. 62 and 53 are units, not cells.

The two hour temperature readings are random therefore we haven't taken readings in specific cells.

Lawmakers say they have reached an 'agreement in principle' to avoid government shutdown

Washington Post

https://www.washingtonpost.com/business/economy/top-lawmakers-meet-to-revive-stalled-border-talks-with-shutdown-days-away/2019/02/11/3cd0fc1a-2dff-11e9-813a-0ab2f17e305b_story.html?utm_term=.715b1c17f7d9

Key lawmakers announced a tentative deal late Monday that would avert another government shutdown at the end of the week while denying President Trump much of the money he's sought to build new walls along the U.S.-Mexico border. The agreement came together during intense hours of closed-door negotiations at the Capitol, as lawmakers resurrected talks that had fallen apart over the weekend in a dispute over new Democratic demands to limit immigrant detention. Democrats ultimately dropped some of those demands, which had come under fire from Republicans, clearing the way for a deal.

Brooklyn jail crisis is a civil rights issue

The Hill

<https://thehill.com/opinion/criminal-justice/429357-brooklyn-jail-crisis-a-civil-rights-issue>

Recent events in a Brooklyn federal jail revealed detainees held in subhuman and illegal conditions, without necessary medicine, heat, light and even water. But the Metropolitan Detention Center detainees were also lucky, because it is located in New York City, where public service attorneys are attentive, families are nearby to protest and draw media attention to the conditions and where a judge even paid a visit.

The handling of the recent loss of heat and electricity for several days at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn is being investigated by the U.S. Department of Justice's Inspector General, according to a statement from the agency. "We have 122 [facilities] in all and they are mostly in disrepair and in need of many millions of dollars just to actually keep them up and running," Eric Young, president of the American Federation of Government Employees' Council of Prison Locals, said in a phone interview. Mr. Young said that, in addition to being shortchanged on capital-construction needs, the continual shift of maintenance staff and tradespeople who do facility repair and upkeep to handle the duties of Correction Officers was a nationwide problem. The 35-day Federal shutdown didn't help either, he said. In my home facility in Miami, Florida, we have elevator and roof problems that lead to more roof problems, and that was the same as what we saw in Brooklyn," he said. "You have the chronic leaks in the pipes until you get the endless amounts of black mold to the point the staff ends up calling out sick."

Federal Workers From Florida Rally on the Hill as Second Government Shutdown Looms

State workers from the Bureau of Prisons, Transportation Security Administration and Immigration and Customs Enforcement are just some of the 800,000 workers nationally who went without pay during the country's longest-ever shutdown earlier this year. That's why Coleman Prison Union Leader Joe Rojas is in Washington this week. He says the added financial hardship of a second shutdown could force some workers to retire early or quit.

Agreed but their review provides documentation and a secondary, independent confirmation of the work and resolution. So the SOW can include a task for them to review the work we did and confirm operational compliance. The report is likely going to be FOIA-ed so we want it to be comprehensive. My two-cents.

In talking to the Facilities Administrator, we already know what the HVAC system needs. It needs general maintenance to be accomplished i.e. cleaning, filter changes, motor adjustments, Louver adjustments, coil cleaning, freeze pump replacement, and freeze stat repairs. We are bringing HVAC staff in TDY to do this work (checking on specific dates). Once the repairs are done we can have an A&E perform an HVAC survey to review all of the work that we have accomplished and to ensure proper operation.

Ray, Sonya raised a good question...should the A&E or someone look at whole HVAC plant as well? The boilers were the source of the heat, and even when running, appear to have some issues. Certainly heat was part of the outage, even if unjustified.

>>> Ray Ormond 2/6/2019 2:48 PM >>>

Hugh - Follow up to your two questions:

- 1) "Protocol" for adjusting dampers when temperature begins dropping in any area: Facilities/Powerhouse Staff are notified by staff in the affected area. Facilities Staff go to the dampers/equipment supplying heat to that specific unit or office area and make adjustments to the airflow (adjust dampers). Once system begins supplying heat, provide time for temperature in building to rise.
- 2) Status of A&E: Statement of work is being drafted and will be approved by 2/7/19. RCA will be submitted to FAO by 2/7/19, and FAO has already been contacted and advised of the urgent and compelling need of these services. Facilities Administrator indicated that should push FAO to process within 1 to 2 weeks.

3) Scope of A&E: Assess "electrical distribution system, substations, primary switchgear, secondary switchgear transformers, generators, motors, breakers, control secondary switching, transformers, generators, conductors, breakers, protective and control relays, and meters". It's a complete investigation and assessment of the existing conditions. Firm will submit a report describing recommended fixes for entire electrical system.

Let me know if you need anything else on this. Thanks

Over the last two days, I have heard from clients on three different units/floors (53, 62, and 73) that cold air is blowing out the vents in their cells and there is no heat coming

Please let us know the situation.

The heat and water leaks are the same issue. Some of the coils in a couple air handler units sprung leaks resulting in heating Staff, including the Facility Manager, have been working on repairing the coils for much of the day and will continue repairs tor Extra blankets have been handed out in affected areas to compensate for the heat issue.
You are welcome to meet with me tomorrow and I will give you an update on the progress.

Good evening Warden,

I have been made aware there has been no heat in the institution all day on the coldest day of the winter and I would like a continual updates

FYI: I was also informed that there is a water leakage from the 7th to the 5th floor as well, which probably is happening due to the water pipe

I will be waiting for your response to what the agency plans are regarding heating the building.

Freezing temps, contaminated water are inhumane; people in prison deserve better

USA Today -Opinion

<https://www.usatoday.com/story/opinion/policing/2019/02/21/congress-must-exercise-oversight-end-inhumane-conditions-inmates/2909122002/>

Last month, the federal Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn, New York, lost heat and electricity for several days, forcing nearly 1,600 incarcerated men and women to endure paralyzingly cold temperatures. Activists and politicians denounced this inhumane treatment. Family members and friends — sick with worry about their loved ones inside — joined in the protests. The Federal Bureau of Prisons and the warden of the Brooklyn facility are now being sued. Then, two weeks ago, news broke that incarcerated people had been drinking water with unsafe levels of arsenic at the U.S. Penitentiary in Atlanta. While initial tests were conducted in November, they weren't completed until recently because of delays caused by the federal government shutdown. Each person incarcerated in this country deserves basic rights, regardless of the circumstances that led to the incarceration. And Congress should exercise its oversight role and hold hearings to fully expose and understand the extent of prison negligence, and hold those accountable who continually perpetuate abuse.

First Woman Freed by Criminal Justice Reform Thanks Donald Trump at Black History Month Reception

Breitbart

<https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2019/02/21/first-woman-freed-by-criminal-justice-reform-thanks-donald-trump-at-black-history-month-reception/>

Catherine Toney, joined by her daughter and granddaughter, spoke to the group, thanking the president for signing the criminal justice reform bill that helped her win her freedom. "If it wasn't for them, I wouldn't be standing up here today," she said, noting that she was incarcerated for sixteen years before she was freed. Trump was greeted with cheers as he took the podium at the reception as several attendees wearing Make America Great Again campaign hats chanted "Trump! Trump! Trump!" The president praised African-Americans who championed civil rights and freedom in the United States. "Today we thank God for all the blessings that the African-American community continues to give our nation and we pledge our resolve to expand opportunity for Americans of every race, color, and creed," he said. Trump noted that heightened sentencing rules disproportionately affected the African-American community, which was why he signed the First STEP Act.

Former inmate's mother files suit against U.S. Penitentiary at Lewisburg

The mother of a former inmate who suffered a severe brain injury following an assault by a U.S. Penitentiary at Lewisburg cellmate in 2016 has filed a federal lawsuit alleging Warden David Ebert and staff were negligent and failed to protect him. Donna Coma, of Shelton, Washington, filed the lawsuit on behalf of her son, Charles Coma, 50, under the Federal Tort Claims Act claiming negligence, battery and assault, reckless disregard of safety and intentional infliction of emotional distress. The suit asserts that Charles Coma was sent to the Special Management Unit in the Lewisburg prison in November 2015 as punishment after his cellmate at USP Canaan assaulted several staff members. Coma was imprisoned on a robbery charge. At the SMU, he was held 23 hours a day in a small cell with another inmate whom he feared and on numerous occasions asked the staff at Lewisburg to move him to another cell, the suit said.

Disgraced Enron chief Jeffrey Skilling released from federal custody

Reuters - NBC News

<https://www.nbcnews.com/news/us-news/disgraced-enron-chief-jeffrey-skilling-released-federal-custody-n974361>

Jeffrey Skilling, the onetime chief of Enron Corp who was sentenced to 24 years in prison for his conviction on charges stemming from the company's spectacular collapse, has been released from federal custody, the Houston Chronicle reported on Thursday. A spokesman for the U.S. Bureau of Prisons confirmed to Reuters that Thursday was the date scheduled for Skilling's release but declined to provide further details, citing privacy issues. Skilling, 65, was moved in August 2018 from an Alabama prison camp to a residential re-entry facility in Houston, where Enron was based before crumbling into bankruptcy in 2001 amid revelations of widespread accounting fraud and corruption.

Hawaii Could Really Use This Federal Prison That Has Plenty Of Empty Cells

Honolulu Civil Beat

<https://www.civilbeat.org/2019/02/hawaii-could-really-use-this-federal-prison-that-has-plenty-of-empty-cells/>

State Rep. Gregg Takayama, chairman of the House public safety committee, has a big idea. He wants the state to buy the underutilized Federal Detention Center in Honolulu, a plan he thinks could save taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars and provide a quick fix to Hawaii's overcrowded corrections system. Hawaii's eight jails and prisons are jammed to the rafters, forcing the state to ship more than 1,400 people to the mainland to a private for-profit prison. Meanwhile, the Federal Detention Center, a modern high-rise built in 2001 near Daniel K. Inouye International Airport, houses only 400 prisoners but has capacity for 1,200, according to Takayama.

El Chapo's Sons Are Indicted on Drug Conspiracy Charge

New York Times

<https://www.nytimes.com/2019/02/21/nyregion/el-chapo-sons-indictment.html>

Just a day after Joaquín Guzmán Loera, the drug kingpin known as El Chapo, was convicted of all 10 counts in a drug conspiracy case in Brooklyn, the Department of Justice unsealed another indictment — against two of his younger sons. That brief four-page indictment, announced by the department on Thursday more than a week after it was unsealed on Feb. 13, charges Joaquín Guzmán López and Ovidio Guzmán López with one count of conspiracy to “knowingly, intentionally, and willfully” distribute cocaine, methamphetamine and marijuana for importation into the United States. The indictment entails a period from April 2008 — when their father was running the Sinaloa cartel with his partner, Ismael Zambada — to April 2018. The two brothers have yet to be arrested and authorities believe that they are in Mexico. If they are arrested there, the United States would have to extradite them to bring them to trial, which would be held under Judge Rudolph Contreras of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia.

The partial U.S. government shutdown is now in its third week, due largely to President Trump's insistence that Congress give him more than $5 billion for a border wall he says will keep criminals from entering the country through Mexico.

Meanwhile, the federal employees tasked with keeping the nation safe from people convicted of crimes prison guards are laboring without pay. Because the federal Bureau of Prisons is operating without funding, it has furloughed up to half of its 36,000-person staff, including many who provide therapeutic programs for prisoners and other services considered not to be essential. And the agency is asking its remaining employees to keep working unpaid, focusing on maintaining security even if that's not usually their primary job.

This could remain the state of affairs until the next pay cycle in late January at the earliest or even for months or years to come, according to Trump, who on Sunday threatened to declare a national emergency in order to bypass Congress in the funding dispute.

It's an absolute disaster, said John Kostelnik, president of the American Federation of Government Employees chapter in Victorville, California, home to one of the nation's largest concentrations of federal prison guards. I have staff that are resorting to getting second employment like Uber driving.

Kostelnik points out that many federal corrections officers had already been overwhelmed by the Trump administration's immigration policies: Victorville, for example, took in about 1,000 immigrant detainees in June.

It was a mission that was just thrown on us, Kostelnik said, adding that guards were not provided sufficient training or additional staff to handle the influx of detainees. And oh by the way, now you're not getting paid?

In an email, the Bureau of Prisons did not respond to specific questions about conditions for officers and inmates but said the lack of funds from Congress means that only those employees whose duties involve the safety of human life or the protection of property are permitted to work. The White House did not respond to a request for comment.

The shutdown is having other consequences inside federal prisons as well. At some facilities, inmate visits with their families were canceled during the holiday season due to the lack of funds, according to interviews with staff and emails with prisoners. Inmates who are terminally ill and awaiting compassionate release to die at home with their families now must wait even longer because their applications are going unread. And in at least one instance, a prison had to stop ordering food and toiletries for prisoners to purchase at commissary, an inmate said.

They're out of most of everything, Seth Piccolo, a prisoner at the Petersburg correctional facility in Virginia, wrote in an email on CorrLinks, an app used by federal inmates. Bad things seem to happen when prisoners don't get their chips...

The more urgent problem, said Robert Hood, former warden of the federal supermax penitentiary in Florence, Colorado where inmates such as Ted Kaczynski, the Unabomber, are held is the possibility of mental-health staff being furloughed for a significant period of time.

Most B.O.P. facilities will run without the myriad of programs normally offered to address the needs of dangerous or mentally ill prisoners, Hood said.

Another developing consequence of the shutdown is that the First Step Act, a celebrated prison-reform bill signed by Trump last month, may now partially be put on hold. According to the new law, the federal prison system has 210 days to develop a risk-assessment tool for evaluating which inmates can safely be released, which was already a short timeframe for it to be implemented successfully. The bureau is also supposed to be recalculating the earned good-conduct time that some prisoners should be getting off their sentences.

That's now all been sidelined, said Jack Donson, a former employee of the agency for two decades who is now a consultant and regularly communicates with staff and prisoners. Inmates are emailing prison administrators saying, Hey what's going on with my sentence? Donson said.

There are going to be inmates who are past their correct release date, he said, and that will manifest in frustration and them acting out.

The B.O.P. said in a statement that it will continue to work on the law's implementation, including by identifying prisoners who stand to be affected.

For officers, the pain of missed paychecks is just beginning to set in. Some of those furloughed have seen the shutdown as a vacation, since it's lasted only a few weeks thus far. But others who live paycheck-to-paycheck or have impending medical, childcare, mortgage or gas bills given their long drives to remote prisons are feeling increasingly desperate.

Since federal prison employees can be transferred around the country, some of those most affected are ones not getting reimbursed for travel costs. Others said they are particularly concerned about going into debt; they said that could get them fired in the future, if the agency sees them as susceptible to bribes by inmates.

Don Drewett, a corrections officer in Otisville, New York, who is also the national legislative coordinator for the Council of Prison Locals, said the shutdown will cost the government more in the long run. To avoid further lawsuits like the one already filed by two prison guards on Dec. 31, the B.O.P. may eventually have to pay extra overtime to everyone who's been working unpaid.

Here you are in this terrible setting, this slow psychological grind of working in a prison, said Drewett, and now you have to watch the news to see if you'll be getting paid?

You hear about the politics of, Oh it's just $5 billion for a border wall, get over it and fund it and then we won't have a problem. Well, I find that to be a really crass, insensitive position. That's not really understanding the human component here.

I'm hearing mgt was previously informed that they knew they had a problem with the electrical system in the building. Mgt brought someone in to investigate it to be repaired but the vendor refused citing the entire system needed replacing which would take a month to do the work. They left it there unattended even against advice of the vendor, which later resulted in an explosion. The Local says the place is running on generators and once it goes off there would be absolutely no power in the entire building. Hope everyone speaking to you are informing you of the seriousness of the matter because it's serious given the expected weather patterns over the next few weeks.

Hazelton federal prison warden to retire March 31

The Dominion Post

Joe Coakley, warden at the Hazelton federal prison complex, announced his retirement Tuesday. In an email to staff, Coakley wrote, "After 32 years of [Bureau of Prisons] service, including two tours of duty at Hazelton, I am retiring effective March 31, 2019." Coakley has been warden at the Hazelton complex since March 2016 and previously was there as an associate warden. In December, Coakley sent an email to employees, denying a New York Times report that he was going to be fired by the Bureau of Prisons (BOP) "It has been my great honor to serve as your warden," he wrote Tuesday. "I have had a full and rewarding career and I cannot think of a better duty station for which to close it out. I want to thank each and every one of you for the hard work and dedication you display every day!"

Prison employees and inmates testified Tuesday that chilly temperatures inside a New York City federal lockup came days before a fire left some inmates without heat, light, hot water, and attorney and family visits for a week. The extent of the damage from the Jan. 27 fire was described in detail at hearings in Manhattan and Brooklyn courts as advocates for the prisoners sought court intervention to force the federal government to be more forthcoming about problems at the Metropolitan Detention Center. Hai June Bencebi, a prison case manager, testified in Manhattan that she wore a hat, gloves, two scarves and a coat when she worked in her prison office a week before the fire.

Brooklyn Federal Jail Had Heat Failures Weeks Before Crisis, Employees Say

The heat at a troubled Brooklyn jail started to fail as early as mid-January, weeks before the problem erupted into a public crisis, staff members and current and former inmates testified on Tuesday at a hearing on the deteriorating conditions. The hearing, before Judge Analisa Torres of Federal District Court in Manhattan,

Justice Department to investigate federal prison in NY after weeklong power outage

New York Gov. Andrew Cuomo on Monday said the Department of Justice has launched an investigation into the federally operated prison in Brooklyn that went a week without electricity, leaving inmates without heat and hot water during the recent polar vortex. The investigation comes less than a day after power was restored at the Metropolitan Detention Center on Sunday after nearly 1,000 inmates spent a week without electricity in subzero temperatures. The outage stemmed from a Jan. 27 fire at the detention center. "In the coming days, the Department will work with the Bureau of Prisons to examine what happened and ensure the facility has the power, heat and backup systems in place to prevent the problem from re-occurring," said Wyn Hornbuckle, deputy director of public affairs for the Justice Department. Electrical power was finally restored at the Metropolitan Detention Center at about 6:30 p.m. Sunday, Hornbuckle said.

Lawsuit: Power failure at federal jail a humanitarian crisis

Newsday

A weeklong power failure at a federal detention center in Brooklyn spawned a humanitarian crisis that left inmates shivering in the dark and without access to visitors on some of the coldest days of the year, advocates said in a lawsuit filed Monday. The Federal Defenders of New York, a public defender organization, sued the Bureau of Prisons, alleging it violated the constitutional rights of inmates at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn by denying legal visits during the outage. Gov. Andrew M. Cuomo, a Democrat, and a group of Democratic state lawmakers from the city also chimed in, saying they were also considering suing over conditions at the jail, where more than 1,600 inmates are held.

Inmates again without heat at Brooklyn detention center

NY Post

<https://nypost.com/2019/03/01/inmates-again-without-heat-at-brooklyn-detention-center/>

Some inmates are again without heat at Brooklyn's Metropolitan Detention Center — where electricity and heat were out for a week earlier this year, a federal public defender said Friday. Deirdre von Dornum, the attorney-in-charge of the Federal Defenders of New York, had just been in court for a lawsuit over the previous alleged "inhuman" conditions at the jail when she made the claim. Von Dornum said she had "direct reports from inmates who had firsthand knowledge" that the heat was back out in three units of the Sunset Park jail, where she said more than 1,600 inmates are housed in 20 and 30 units. "There's freezing air coming out of the vents," von Dornum told reporters, as temperatures outside remained at slightly above-freezing.

No heat — again — at Brooklyn federal jail as temperatures slip below freezing: lawyers

Inmates at Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn are once again without heat — just one month after heat and power outages sparked outrage and protests at the jail, federal defense attorneys said Friday. Deirdre von Dornum, a lawyer with the Federal Defenders of New York, told reporters outside Brooklyn Federal Court that she had "firsthand knowledge" that at least three units in the jail had no heat. Late on Friday, she told The News that she now had reports from inmates on four units on three floors that the heat is out in their cells. "The inmates told me this in person, by email and by phone," she said. "My colleagues are hearing this from their clients, as well. They say the heat is still on in the common areas so when they are not locked in their cells they are OK. But they are locked in their cells all night long (and from my visits, not much heat from the common areas seems to penetrate the metal cell doors) and for several hours each day for counts," she said.

Attys Lose Access Fight Over NYC Jail Conditions For Now

A New York federal judge on Friday declined to renew an order mandating strict access to attorneys for inmates in a Brooklyn federal jail that had no heat for a frigid week in January, finding the lawyers who sued over the ordeal lack standing to bring Sixth Amendment claims. U.S. District Judge Margo K. Brodie issued the ruling at the close of a hearing in a suit brought by the Federal Defenders of New York against the Federal Bureau of Prisons and the warden of the Metropolitan Detention Center Brooklyn. According to the Federal Defenders' suit, after a fire took out the jail's power and heat on Jan. 27, officials did not take proper steps to repair the damage or find temporary means of heating and powering the jail. Inmates were left in icy conditions for a week and denied meetings with their attorneys or any other visits.

Hope Village, D.C.'s Notorious Halfway House, Is Sticking Around. But For How Long?

Demetric Martin is careful to say his time at the Hope Village halfway house was not all bad. Martin, who finished a recent prison sentence at Hope Village and was released in September, says some employees were fair and helpful. But he can also point to times when he felt wronged. When the mother of his children died last year, Martin says it took three hours for him to get permission to go see her at the hospital. "I'm in the office talking to them, and my cousin is like, 'You still standing here, man? Roll, bruh! Just go!'" Martin said. "But because I know the consequences and I told myself prison is not an option, I've got to be obedient to somebody that's really been disrespecting me." Martin's fears of being sent back to prison were not unfounded. He had seen it happen to a lot of men at Hope Village. A 2016 report by the nonpartisan Council for Court Excellence found that men who violated the halfway house rules were being sent to Piedmont Regional Jail in Virginia — 174 miles from the city — and then later found guilty at Hope Village hearings where they were not present.

Outsourcing Health Care Services for Federal Inmates

Corrections

According to PrisonPolicy.org, the American criminal justice system houses almost 2.3 million people in 1,719 state prisons, 102 federal prisons, 1,852 juvenile correctional facilities, 3,163 local jails and 80 Indian Country jails, as well as military prisons, immigration detention facilities, civil commitment centers, state psychiatric hospitals and U.S. territory prisons. When incarcerated, inmates typically lose much more than just their daily freedoms. They also forfeit their jobs and private health insurance. By law, federal inmates lose their right to federal insurance plans, such as Medicaid and Medicare, when they are incarcerated.

This policy also affects imprisoned veterans who are no longer eligible for health care assistance through the Veterans Affairs (VA) system. It even includes basic prescription refills, which means a majority of federal inmates must rely on the federal government and the Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP) for health care services.

'First Step' toward freedom for R.I. drug offenders

Providence Journal

<https://www.providencejournal.com/news/20190302/first-step-toward-freedom-for-ri-drug-offenders>

Authorities dubbed Joel Francisco the crown prince of the Almighty Latin Kings gang in 2005, after a judge sentenced him to life in prison for trafficking crack cocaine — the stiffest sentence ever handed down in Rhode Island for a drug crime. Tianté Greene dealt crack to an undercover officer in public housing projects in Newport, landing him 17-plus years behind bars as a career offender in 2007. Both men were sentenced under stiff mandatory-sentencing laws enacted to stamp out the crack epidemic and the violence it brought to poor communities. And in the last few weeks, both men were freed as beneficiaries of the First Step Act, a federal law passed in late December that extends sentencing relief to people convicted of crack-cocaine offenses. The law, hailed by both sides of the political aisle as much-needed criminal justice reform, allows Francisco, Greene and other crack-cocaine offenders convicted before 2010 to petition the court to have their sentences reduced.

Notes from the Field: Prison Reform Reducing Restrictive Housing for Improved Prison Outcomes

Corrections

<http://www.corrections.com/news/article/50039-notes-from-the-field-prison-reform-reducing-restrictive-housing-for-improved-prison-outcomes>

Despite a lack of evidence pointing to its benefits, restrictive housing continues to be used in every state in America. Inmates are held in tiny cells for 23 hours a day, sometimes for decades. Some are mentally ill, yet we place them in isolation, letting their demons chase them around their cells. When Governor John Hickenlooper appointed me to head the Colorado Department of Corrections in 2013, the state had begun to implement reforms to reduce restrictive housing. My predecessor, Tom Clements, initiated this work before he was murdered at his home by a former inmate in 2013. When I took office later that year, we still had 750 inmates in restrictive housing, and about half were being released directly into the community. Imagine: Two heavily protected correctional officers would remove the inmate from the cell in full chains and shackles. They would take him onto a public bus, remove the chains and shackles, provide bus fare, and let him go.

Change in how Missouri handles inmates on Medicaid could prevent their return to jail, advocates say

A simple change to state law could keep released inmates from returning to jail, overdosing on drugs or experiencing a relapse of mental illness, say advocates for two bills introduced in the Legislature. Unlike most states, Missouri terminates Medicaid health care coverage when someone is incarcerated in jail or prison. In at least 35 other states, including Illinois, Medicaid enrollment is instead suspended and reactivated upon release from a correctional facility. In general, jails and prisons pay the costs of medical care for inmates. Private insurance generally covers medical care during pretrial detention and post-release, and prisons can bill the insurance companies for eligible charges during incarceration.

Muslims in Arkansas prison sue over services

Arkansas Democrat Gazette

<https://www.arkansasonline.com/news/2019/mar/02/muslims-in-prison-sue-over-services-201/>

Three state prisoners filed suit Friday against the Arkansas Department of Correction, alleging that their civil and religious rights are being violated through prison policies forcing the Muslim men to worship with other groups, namely the Nation of Islam and the Nation of Gods and Earths. The suit is supported by the Council on American-Islamic Relations, a Washington, D.C.-based advocacy organization for Muslims. One of the plaintiffs is Gregory Houston Holt, whose 2014 challenge of the prison system's no-beard policy went all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court and was ruled unconstitutional. Two other prisoners housed along with Holt at the Tucker Maximum Security Unit in Jefferson County also are plaintiffs to the suit. They are Rodney Martin and Wayde Stewart. According to their complaint filed in the federal court for the Eastern District of Arkansas, Martin and Stewart object to being forced to attend Friday prayer services, known as Jumu'ah, along with the other groups, or risk losing their other religious accommodations, such as a different meal program during Ramadan.

Protesters try to storm Federal jail in Brooklyn with little heat or electricity

NY Times

<https://www.nytimes.com/2019/02/02/nyregion/brooklyn-federal-jail-heat.html>

Protests at a federal jail in Brooklyn that has been without power and largely without heat for over a week boiled over on Sunday afternoon, when demonstrators stormed the jail. They were stopped by a line of correction officers inside the building who apparently drove them back with pepper spray. There were no immediate reports of arrests, the police said, and out on the street in front of the jail, the Metropolitan Detention Center in Sunset Park, the protests, going on continuously since Saturday afternoon, quickly resumed. The attempt to enter the jail happened just after noon when a woman, Yvonne Morilla, 51, of Queens, walked up to the door crying, "That's my son! You got to let me go!" The scene devolved into a brief episode of chaos, with protesters pushing against the officers.

The Latest: Alabama executes inmate who wanted imam present

<https://www.apnews.com/f86216c8282b48c6be58006a66837db8>

A Muslim inmate who complained in a legal challenge that Alabama wouldn't let his Islamic spiritual adviser be present in the execution chamber has been put to death after the nation's highest court cleared the way. Authorities say 42-year-old Dominique Ray was pronounced dead Thursday night of a lethal injection at the state prison in Atmore. Ray's attorneys had challenged Alabama's execution procedure, saying it favors Christian inmates because a Christian chaplain employed by the prison typically is in the chamber during an execution. Ray requested an imam instead but that was denied. The state said it refuses to let a non-prison employee into the execution room, but agreed not to have the chaplain present.

The Hill

The Justice Department Inspector General and the Bureau of Prisons confirmed that they will investigate a recent days-long power outage at a federal detention center. House Judiciary Committee Chairman Jerrold Nadler (D-N.Y.) on Wednesday said on Twitter that the agencies responded to a request for an investigation from him, Rep. Nydia Velázquez (D-N.Y.) and more than 20 other Democrats. Nadler shared a statement from the Justice Department saying that the agency has instructed its inspector general to conduct an investigation, and saying the prison bureau will also investigate.

A federal judge toured a troubled New York jail. What she found is disturbing

CNN

<https://www.cnn.com/2019/02/07/us/brooklyn-federal-jail-conditions/index.html>

Vivianne Guevara's work with the Federal Defenders of New York had taken her to the Metropolitan Detention Center many times, but the incessant pounding sound coming from inside the Brooklyn waterfront jail that day was unsettling. "It sounded like a cry for help, and I don't know Morse code or anything, so I couldn't tell if anybody was trying to send a message, but it sounded desperate, and it sounded like people who wanted to be heard," said Guevara, director of client and mitigation services for the public defender organization. "It was shocking to hear," said Guevara, who videotaped the banging of inmates she could not see.

DOJ Asks Watchdog To Investigate Heat And Power Failures At Brooklyn Jail

The Department of Justice is asking its internal inspector to investigate power and heating outages that left many inmates at a Brooklyn jail in cold and dark cells as temperatures fell below freezing in New York City. The announcement came in response to a request for an investigation by Democratic Reps. Jerrold Nadler and Nydia Velázquez of New York and other Democrats. In a statement Wednesday, the DOJ asked its watchdog, the Office of the Inspector General, to "undertake a review" and determine whether the Bureau of Prisons "responded appropriately" to the heat and power failures at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn.

"We're so excited to have a second chance and we're doing the most with it," says Mike in the video. The video was posted on "The Sorrentinos" YouTube channel while Sorrentino, 36, is serving an eight month sentence at Otisville Federal Correctional Institution in New York state for tax fraud. Mother fighting to get man who kidnapped, assaulted daughter out of Pittsburgh

A local family is demanding answers after Target 11 exclusively broke news that a Virginia man convicted in the kidnapping of a Pittsburgh 13-year-old girl is out of jail and living just a few miles from her family home. Scott Tyree served 17 years in federal prison in North Carolina on federal sex charges. Target 11 found out he was released early to a halfway house on the Boulevard of the Allies, just minutes away from Kozakiewicz's childhood home in Crafton. Her mother tells us she was shocked to hear the news. "We never in our wildest dreams thought that he would be in Pittsburgh," Mary Kozakiewicz told Target 11's Rick Earle. "That's unconscionable." Tyree took Kozakiewicz from that home when she was 13 years old. Investigators say he brought her to his home in Virginia and sexually assaulted her. She was rescued by federal agents days later.

Ex-Calumet Township trustee seeks 'elderly early release' from prison

Post Tribune

<http://www.chicagotribune.com/suburbs/post-tribune/news/ct-ptb-elgin-sentence-request-st-0208-story.html>

Former Calumet Township Trustee Mary Elgin, who is in prison after pleading guilty to public corruption charges, is asking to be released early through a new criminal justice reform law. Elgin, 74, was sentenced in May to a year and a day in prison, followed by one year of supervised release. She was also ordered to pay $15,000 in restitution to the trustee's office and $6,311 to the IRS. Rather than going to trial with her co-defendants, Elgin pleaded guilty in 2017 to two counts of wire fraud, one count of conspiracy to commit wire fraud and one count of failure to file a tax return. Elgin is set to be released from prison June 28, according to the Bureau of Prisons. She's been held at a medium security federal correctional institution in Pekin, Ill., which has an adjacent minimum security satellite camp, according to the BOP.

Additionally, we have approximately 120 protesters and 20 NYPD officers. There have been 11 staff members medically assessed with injuries at this time.. We continue to encounter issues with the protesters and families of inmates. I have also been notified we have ex-inmates from Brooklyn participating. We are responding to an incident as we speak. Inmate Message Below

Good Afternoon Warden Quay,
I had the pleasure of speaking with you today while you were at the women's facility with guest. I am terribly sorry that I interrupted you, but as you may know I am deeply troubled with what is occurring with my brother (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) # (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)
On Sunday February 3, 2019 moments after the electricity was reconnected my brother was subjected to a search of his cell due to suspicions that he, along with 4 others were the men in the videos that surfaced and were in the media. Upon a search of his cell there was neither a cell phone nor any paraphernalia pertaining to a phone. With no indications that it was my brother he was still sent to the shu. My brother has been there for almost a week now which is complete unjusticeness for several reasons. My brother for a week had to live under severe conditions such as having no heat, communication with family nor a functioning toilet in his cell. Due to no electricity my brother was mandated to be locked in after 7:30PM due to the small amount of daylight and security issues for all inmates. Having to then not only sleep in a cell with waste, he now also had to have his meals in a soiled cell. These were complete inhumane conditions. After a week of this torture my brother was then taken to the shu solemnly upon suspicion. Mr. Quay, there were about 5 inmates in the footage who were in complete disguise except for their eyes. There are about 1600 inmates housed in this facility, the vast majority with brown eyes like my brother. My question then becomes, how are you sure it is my brother in the footage and why was he the only one taken to the shu if there were about 4 others in the video? Why after so much maltreatment does my brother have to endure more? When does this stop? Please Mr. Quay I am asking for your help to investigate this situation and immediately release my brother from the shu. I will not allow your staff to keep abusing their authority and targeting my brother, placing him in the shu time after time without reason. I do not want to contact Nidia Velasquez along with other council members such as Jummane William to descriptively explain what is happening in MDC, that's why I come and ask for your help first but if by next Wednesday the day of the Shu meetings my brother isn't released I will then be forced to. I ask you to please be human Mr. Quay and do what is right. Do not let my brother suffer any longer. He already has to do time, do not let it be HARD time at your detention center. I ask you as a sister, who seeks help/ justice for her brother.

Thank You

Freezing temps, contaminated water are inhumane; people in prison deserve better

USA Today -Opinion

<https://www.usatoday.com/story/opinion/policing/2019/02/21/congress-must-exercise-oversight-end-inhumane-conditions-inmates/2909122002/>

Last month, the federal Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn, New York, lost heat and electricity for several days, forcing nearly 1,600 incarcerated men and women to endure paralyzingly cold temperatures. Activists and politicians denounced this inhumane treatment. Family members and friends — sick with worry about their loved ones inside — joined in the protests. The Federal Bureau of Prisons and the warden of the Brooklyn facility are now being sued. Then, two weeks ago, news broke that incarcerated people had been drinking water with unsafe levels of arsenic at the U.S. Penitentiary in Atlanta. While initial tests were conducted in November, they weren't completed until recently because of delays caused by the federal government shutdown. Each person incarcerated in this country deserves basic rights, regardless of the circumstances that led to the incarceration. And Congress should exercise its oversight role and hold hearings to fully expose and understand the extent of prison negligence, and hold those accountable who continually perpetuate abuse.

"If it wasn't for them, I wouldn't be standing up here today," she said, noting that she was incarcerated for sixteen years before she was freed. Trump was greeted with cheers as he took the podium at the reception as several attendees wearing Make America Great Again campaign hats chanted "Trump! Trump! Trump!" The president praised African-Americans who championed civil rights and freedom in the United States. "Today we thank God for all the blessings that the African-American community continues to give our nation and we pledge our resolve to expand opportunity for Americans of every race, color, and creed," he said. Former inmate's mother files suit against U.S. Penitentiary at Lewisburg

The mother of a former inmate who suffered a severe brain injury following an assault by a U.S. Penitentiary at Lewisburg cellmate in 2016 has filed a federal lawsuit alleging Warden David Ebert and staff were negligent and failed to protect him. Donna Coma, of Shelton, Washington, filed the lawsuit on behalf of her son, Charles Coma, 50, under the Federal Tort Claims Act claiming negligence, battery and assault, reckless disregard of safety and intentional infliction of emotional distress. The suit asserts that Charles Coma was sent to the Special Management Unit in the Lewisburg prison in November 2015 as punishment after his cellmate at USP Canaan assaulted several staff members. Coma was imprisoned on a robbery charge. At the SMU, he was held 23 hours a day in a small cell with another inmate whom he feared and on numerous occasions asked the staff at Lewisburg to move him to another cell, the suit said.

Skilling, 65, was moved in August 2018 from an Alabama prison camp to a residential re-entry facility in Houston, where Enron was based before crumbling into bankruptcy in 2001 amid revelations of widespread accounting fraud and corruption.

Hawaii Could Really Use This Federal Prison That Has Plenty Of Empty Cells

Honolulu Civil Beat

<https://www.civilbeat.org/2019/02/hawaii-could-really-use-this-federal-prison-that-has-plenty-of-empty-cells/>

State Rep. Gregg Takayama, chairman of the House public safety committee, has a big idea. He wants the state to buy the underutilized Federal Detention Center in Honolulu, a plan he thinks could save taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars and provide a quick fix to Hawaii's overcrowded corrections system. Hawaii's eight jails and prisons are jammed to the rafters, forcing the state to ship more than 1,400 people to the mainland to a private for-profit prison. Meanwhile, the Federal Detention Center, a modern high-rise built in 2001 near Daniel K. Inouye International Airport, houses only 400 prisoners but has capacity for 1,200, according to Takayama.

El Chapo's Sons Are Indicted on Drug Conspiracy Charge

Just a day after Joaquín Guzmán Loera, the drug kingpin known as El Chapo, was convicted of all 10 counts in a drug conspiracy case in Brooklyn, the Department of Justice unsealed another indictment — against two of his younger sons. That brief four-page indictment, announced by the department on Thursday more than a week after it was unsealed on Feb. 13, charges Joaquín Guzmán López and Ovidio Guzmán López with one count of conspiracy to “knowingly, intentionally, and willfully” distribute cocaine, methamphetamine and marijuana for importation into the United States. The indictment entails a period from April 2008 — when their father was running the Sinaloa cartel with his partner, Ismael Zambada — to April 2018. The two brothers have yet to be arrested and authorities believe that they are in Mexico. If they are arrested there, the United States would have to extradite them to bring them to trial, which would be held under Judge Rudolph Contreras of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia.

On Tuesday February 12, 2019 we did receive an email from Ms. (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) in regards to a new active leak in the classrooms of west education. Facilities staff were already on site in the education area escorting the mold remediation contractor. Facilities staff notified me of the leak and we sent the plumber to the area above to locate the possible leak. At about 2:00 PM today General Foreman, (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) Facility Manager (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) and Safety Specialist (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) went to the education area and looked into the room to see what if any damage was occurring. We did not enter the room as the room is still under the contractors control for mold remediation, (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) from Education came out and I explained to her the issue and where we think the water is coming from (H53 handicap shower). We are actively working on resolving this new leak. We will keep you informed as we progress.

There is currently a new leak in the space separating the classrooms, the liquid substance has been identified as being fecal matter. Could some one please come and correct this issue as prolonged inhalation of fecal matter is known to cause adverse health effects in humans. Thank you

Hi,

I'm a reporter from WNYC public radio.

The federal defenders showed me this email you sent on Monday:

"Due to staff shortages secondary to the shutdown, legal visiting at MDC Brooklyn is currently suspended today, January 14, 2018. We regret the inconvenience and will notify you immediately once visiting resumes."

The federal defenders also claim legal visits were shut on these dates, too:

1/4/2019, 1/5/2019, 1/6/2019, 1/9/2019, 1/10/2019, 1/11/2019

And they believe family visits are also affected.

True?

Could you please tell me what staff attendance is like since the shutdown, how many workers have called in sick and why that makes it too difficult to schedule lawyer visits?

Also, has this made it harder to deliver medications and schedule outdoor recreation?

Thank you,

Warden-

Today, March 1, 2019, Holly and I attended the oral argument in the above-referenced case in front of the Honorable Margo K. Brodie in the Eastern District of New York.

The focus of today's oral argument was whether plaintiff—The Federal Defenders of New York—was the proper party to bring an access to counsel claim. The Court asked questions of counsel for both parties regarding the appropriate standard to apply when considering questions of standing and whether a cause of action could be brought and by whom.

Ultimately, she decided that the Sixth Amendment Right to Counsel was a personal right, belonging to the accused and the accused alone. The Federal Defenders' rights were derivative in nature, and as such, could not be asserted vicariously. Although she found that plaintiff had constitutional standing, which she characterized as a low threshold inquiry, she did not find that plaintiff was within the "zone of interest" with respect to the right asserted. She denied the application for a preliminary injunction, but offered plaintiff the opportunity to amend the complaint. Plaintiff indicated that were they to do so, they would file an amended complaint by March 8, 2019. The judge was unsure whether a new plaintiff could meet the standard, but would entertain the motion.

Finally, Plaintiff asked that the notice provision (where the MDC would have to notify the Court and Federal Defenders of any two-hour interruption of legal visits within 24 hours) be kept in place. The Court declined, stating that she has no reason to believe the Warden would not continue to have attorney visits. She did point out that the recent cancellations of legal visits were due to emergent conditions, and was an anomaly compared to our normal practices. Nevertheless, she left available to plaintiff the option to come back to her and make an applications for a TRO should any further interruptions occur. She made clear she would happily

Accordingly, it is our strong recommendation that we do everything in our power to maintain legal visiting without interruption. (b)(5)

I conducted an interview with inmate (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) # (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) in west Special Housing Unit at Approximately 6:15 pm. He stated that he is an X-YG member, he started the gang on the street, and four(4) YG members tried to jump him in his room STATING they got orders from the street via cell phone that he was a snitch and no good..... he continued stating that he cooperated with law enforcement on his case so he is not in good with the YG members now. In addition to this info he alleged that the "Mac Ballers" are also after him to include "Blood" inmates(due to he has a big YG tattoo on his hand) here at MDC Brooklyn. He was unable to identify his attackers by name, only as 4 YG members in the unit.

THE UNIT BED BOOK WAS PROVIDED AND FIELDS WAS UNABLE OR UNWILLING TO IDENTIFY HIS ATTACKERS.

I believe this was an isolated incident stemming from his ties to the YG Gang on the street.

Please respond to this message providing the following information:

1. The reason for temperatures in various work areas falling below 68 degrees Fahrenheit
2. A plan of corrective action concerning this matter
3. What preventive measures can be taken to prevent recurrence

Recommendation

If it appears it may take an extended period of time to remediate this safety issue, during the interim, policy (PS 1600.11) does afford the use of mountable space heaters.

Nicole McFarland is a dedicated employee committed to the mission of MDC Brooklyn and the overall success of the Federal Bureau of Prisons. MDC Brooklyn is the largest administrative facility and Detention Center in the Bureau of Prisons, housing approximately 1800 pre-trial, holdover, and sentenced inmates. The unique mission of this institution makes it one of the most difficult and litigious places to work.

Ms. McFarland acts as the liaison to the two busiest court districts in the country, the Eastern and Southern Districts of New York. In furtherance of this mission, Ms. McFarland regularly appears in court to support MDC Brooklyn's decisions that are often questioned by judges and challenged by defense counsel. She has successfully defended decisions involving the placement of inmates in the Special Housing Unit, medical treatment, visiting regulations, and access to discovery. On a typical day, Ms. McFarland receives no less than 10 inquiries from outside parties regarding inmates and the conditions of confinement at the institution. Attorneys and the Courts know that Ms. McFarland will provide a timely response to their inquiries.

Ms. McFarland has helped foster an outstanding working relationship with the legal community in the New York City area. This relationship includes judges, defense counsel, and the U.S. Attorney's Office in both districts. Ms. McFarland regularly conducts tours of the institution for the judge's chambers and the U.S. Attorney's Office. Ms. McFarland's efforts in this area have been recognized and praised by the courts, the U.S. Attorneys' office, and defense counsel. Ms. McFarland also continues to provide litigation support to the U.S. Attorney's Office on many of their high profile cases. This includes settlement negotiations, litigation reports, gathering documents and assisting staff with litigation holds.

Normally, MDC Brooklyn is staffed with two attorneys to handle the extensive workload; however, for over four months in 2018, Ms. McFarland was the only attorney in the institution. She continued to perform at a high level of excellence always meeting the demands of the Court, attorneys, and staff.

Ms. McFarland has been an outstanding employee and valuable asset in legal services and in the agency as a whole. She has established herself as a hard working knowledgeable attorney heavily relied upon by Executive staff to provide guidance, support, and direction in one of the most complex institutions and judicial districts in the county.

Hopefully this works and your operational shortly.

Will wait to hear from you -

Currently, MDC Brooklyn is experiencing a partial power outage. The institution is operating on emergency generator power, cells have heat and hot water, and there is lighting in the common areas, and inmates are receiving hot meals.

At this time, access for inmates to phones and inmate messaging, as well as commissary is temporarily affected. However, essential personal hygiene items and medical services continue to be provided.

MDC Brooklyn is not currently locked down; the institution remains secure.

MDC Brooklyn is working to expeditiously resolve the issue as soon as possible. Visitors should continue to check the public website (www.bop.gov) for any impact on visiting.

Here is what Eric said, let me know what you think...

I'm hearing mgt was previously informed that they knew they had a problem with the electrical system in the building. Mgt brought someone in to investigate it to be repaired but the vendor refused citing the entire system needed replacing which would take a month to do the work. They left it there unattended even against advice of the vendor, which later resulted in an explosion. The Local says the place is running on generators and once it goes off there would be absolutely no power in the entire building. Hope everyone speaking to you are informing you of the seriousness of the matter because it's serious given the expected weather patterns over the next few weeks.

I will let you know when the count clears. I have instructed staff that we are resuming normal for visiting. We have leaks on the 9th floor and the 7th floor that facilities are working on. I have approved Con Edison for entrance in the institution so they can get the regular power on line. They have lights on in all the bathrooms (Lobby and the Visiting Rooms) so their should be no issues with visiting. The lights are up basically everywhere on backup generator power. 1. Check all areas and report any locations where lighting isn't working.
2. Let me know once our count is clear.
3. Social visiting needs to happen today.
4. If bathroom lights are out in the VR, have VR staff check out a few flashlights that visitors can utilize.

Boss,

On 1/21 when heat was lost to some areas, no temperature checks were taken. The Food Service, Health Services, and Education areas were not identified on 1/21 as having a heating issue. On 1/22, when conducting checks throughout the institution, it was determined these areas were not receiving sufficient heat. Further checks revealed the fans controlling air flow to the areas had to be reset which fixed the issue. Those areas did not have broken coils.

BRO's power outage did not impact the "entire facility"; it impacted one entire building on the campus.

Note: Reporting on both events indicates or implies that inmates were locked in their cells (i.e. the facilities were locked down). Neither was the case during the events with the exception of the later security incidents at BRO when the inmates became disruptive.

Yes, we are having heating issues in some areas of the institution. Yesterday, we had some of the heating coils in the air handlers break. Heat was impacted in all of the unit team areas and inmate cells in West SHU, Unit 52, Unit 62, and Unit 72. Facilities staff have been here since yesterday attempting to repair the coils. Thus far, heat was restored to West SHU. Extra blankets were provided to the inmate population in the affected areas, coffee is being served to staff on each floor, and coffee packets are being provided to inmates with the noon meal. We are hopeful the cells will all have heat by the end of the day.

Unrelated, yesterday we also had another power outage at the institution. A Con Edison transformer failed resulting in us having to go to generator power for much of the day until Con Edison restored power to the institution. The power outage delayed morning visitation until approximately 11:00 am.

Inmates again without heat at Brooklyn detention center

<https://nypost.com/2019/03/01/inmates-again-without-heat-at-brooklyn-detention-center/>

Some inmates are again without heat at Brooklyn's Metropolitan Detention Center — where electricity and heat were out for a week earlier this year, a federal public defender said Friday. Deirdre von Dornum, the attorney-in-charge of the Federal Defenders of New York, had just been in court for a lawsuit over the previous alleged "inhuman" conditions at the jail when she made the claim. Von Dornum said she had "direct reports from inmates who had firsthand knowledge" that the heat was back out in three units of the Sunset Park jail, where she said more than 1,600 inmates are housed in 20 and 30 units. "There's freezing air coming out of the vents," von Dornum told reporters, as temperatures outside remained at slightly above-freezing.

Daily News

Inmates at Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn are once again without heat — just one month after heat and power outages sparked outrage and protests at the jail, federal defense attorneys said Friday. Deirdre von Dornum, a lawyer with the Federal Defenders of New York, told reporters outside Brooklyn Federal Court that she had "firsthand knowledge" that at least three units in the jail had no heat. Late on Friday, she told The News that she now had reports from inmates on four units on three floors that the heat is out in their cells. "The inmates told me this in person, by email and by phone," she said. "My colleagues are hearing this from their clients, as well. They say the heat is still on in the common areas so when they are not locked in their cells they are OK. But they are locked in their cells all night long (and from my visits, not much heat from the common areas seems to penetrate the metal cell doors) and for several hours each day for counts," she said.

A New York federal judge on Friday declined to renew an order mandating strict access to attorneys for inmates in a Brooklyn federal jail that had no heat for a frigid week in January, finding the lawyers who sued over the ordeal lack standing to bring Sixth Amendment claims. U.S. District Judge Margo K. Brodie issued the ruling at the close of a hearing in a suit brought by the Federal Defenders of New York against the Federal Bureau of Prisons and the warden of the Metropolitan Detention Center Brooklyn. According to the Federal Defenders' suit, after a fire took out the jail's power and heat on Jan. 27, officials did not take proper steps to repair the damage or find temporary means of heating and powering the jail. Inmates were left in icy conditions for a week and denied meetings with their attorneys or any other visits.

Demetric Martin is careful to say his time at the Hope Village halfway house was not all bad. Martin, who finished a recent prison sentence at Hope Village and was released in September, says some employees were fair and helpful. But he can also point to times when he felt wronged. When the mother of his children died last year, Martin says it took three hours for him to get permission to go see her at the hospital. "I'm in the office talking to them, and my cousin is like, 'You still standing here, man? Roll, bruh! Just go!'" Martin said. "But because I know the consequences and I told myself prison is not an option, I've got to be obedient to somebody that's really been disrespecting me." Martin's fears of being sent back to prison were not unfounded. He had seen it happen to a lot of men at Hope Village. A 2016 report by the nonpartisan Council for Court Excellence found that men who violated the halfway house rules were being sent to Piedmont Regional Jail in Virginia — 174 miles from the city — and then later found guilty at Hope Village hearings where they were not present.

Outsourcing Health Care Services for Federal Inmates

Corrections

<http://www.corrections.com/news/article/50014-outsourcing-health-care-services-for-federal-inmates>

According to PrisonPolicy.org, the American criminal justice system houses almost 2.3 million people in 1,719 state prisons, 102 federal prisons, 1,852 juvenile correctional facilities, 3,163 local jails and 80 Indian Country jails, as well as military prisons, immigration detention facilities, civil commitment centers, state psychiatric hospitals and U.S. territory prisons. When incarcerated, inmates typically lose much more than just their daily freedoms. They also forfeit their jobs and private health insurance. By law, federal inmates lose their right to federal insurance plans, such as Medicaid and Medicare, when they are incarcerated.

This policy also affects imprisoned veterans who are no longer eligible for health care assistance through the Veterans Affairs (VA) system. It even includes basic prescription refills, which means a majority of federal inmates must rely on the federal government and the Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP) for health care services.

'First Step' toward freedom for R.I. drug offenders

Providence Journal

<https://www.providencejournal.com/news/20190302/first-step-toward-freedom-for-ri-drug-offenders>

Authorities dubbed Joel Francisco the crown prince of the Almighty Latin Kings gang in 2005, after a judge sentenced him to life in prison for trafficking crack cocaine — the stiffest sentence ever handed down in Rhode Island for a drug crime. Tianté Greene dealt crack to an undercover officer in public housing projects in Newport, landing him 17-plus years behind bars as a career offender in 2007. Both men were sentenced under stiff mandatory-sentencing laws enacted to stamp out the crack epidemic and the violence it brought to poor communities. And in the last few weeks, both men were freed as beneficiaries of the First Step Act, a federal law passed in late December that extends sentencing relief to people convicted of crack-cocaine offenses. The law, hailed by both sides of the political aisle as much-needed criminal justice reform, allows Francisco, Greene and other crack-cocaine offenders convicted before 2010 to petition the court to have their sentences reduced.

Notes from the Field: Prison Reform Reducing Restrictive Housing for Improved Prison Outcomes

Corrections

<http://www.corrections.com/news/article/50039-notes-from-the-field-prison-reform-reducing-restrictive-housing-for-improved-prison-outcomes>

Despite a lack of evidence pointing to its benefits, restrictive housing continues to be used in every state in America. Inmates are held in tiny cells for 23 hours a day, sometimes for decades. Some are mentally ill, yet we place them in isolation, letting their demons chase them around their cells. When Governor John Hickenlooper appointed me to head the Colorado Department of Corrections in 2013, the state had begun to implement reforms to reduce restrictive housing. Page 2208-0019-10278, 19-0278, 19-0280-R-001307 before he was murdered at his home by a former inmate in 2013. When I took office later that year, we still had 750 inmates in restrictive housing, and about half were being released directly into the community. Imagine: Two heavily protected correctional officers would remove the inmate from the cell in full chains and shackles. They would take him onto a public bus, remove the chains and shackles, provide bus fare, and let him go.

Change in how Missouri handles inmates on Medicaid could prevent their return to jail, advocates say

https://www.stltoday.com/news/local/metro/change-in-how-missouri-handles-inmates-on-medicaid-could-prevent/article_7f30479d-b849-5732-9001-2505be0a3800.html

A simple change to state law could keep released inmates from returning to jail, overdosing on drugs or experiencing a relapse of mental illness, say advocates for two bills introduced in the Legislature. Unlike most states, Missouri terminates Medicaid health care coverage when someone is incarcerated in jail or prison. In at least 35 other states, including Illinois, Medicaid enrollment is instead suspended and reactivated upon release from a correctional facility. In general, jails and prisons pay the costs of medical care for inmates. Private insurance generally covers medical care during pretrial detention and post-release, and prisons can bill the insurance companies for eligible charges during incarceration.

Muslims in Arkansas prison sue over services

Arkansas Democrat Gazette

<https://www.arkansasonline.com/news/2019/mar/02/muslims-in-prison-sue-over-services-201/>

Three state prisoners filed suit Friday against the Arkansas Department of Correction, alleging that their civil and religious rights are being violated through prison policies forcing the Muslim men to worship with other groups, namely the Nation of Islam and the Nation of Gods and Earths. The suit is supported by the Council on American-Islamic Relations, a Washington, D.C.-based advocacy organization for Muslims. One of the plaintiffs is Gregory Houston Holt, whose 2014 challenge of the prison system's no-beard policy went all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court and was ruled unconstitutional. Two other prisoners housed along with Holt at the Tucker Maximum Security Unit in Jefferson County also are plaintiffs to the suit. They are Rodney Martin and Wayde Stewart. According to their complaint filed in the federal court for the Eastern District of Arkansas, Martin and Stewart object to being forced to attend Friday prayer services, known as Jumu'ah, along with the other groups, or risk losing their other religious accommodations, such as a different meal program during Ramadan.

Hugh/Sonya- you may be familiar with this situation....in short, Mr. (b)(6);
(b)(7)(C) was a Correctional Officer who was stabbed in the eye at MCC New York in 1998 by one of the terrorists responsible for the first WTC bombing
(if I recall the facts correctly) - he was on OWCP until he retired in 2014/2015...his sister is his caretaker, and she periodically reaches out with complaints, threats, on a variety of issues. Most issues relate to compensation.....she has had several "handlers" over the years, most recently, NER Human Resources (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) retired a year ago).....she reached out to HRSC today about an OWCP complaint (something that DOL has not provided her), and mentioned that she will go to the media over this issue, as well the heating/electricity issues at BRO...I will ask (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) at HRSC to talk with her, and direct her to DOL. as we really have no "jurisdiction" over this issue.... just wanted everyone to be aware, in case she does contact the media, and gets any attention.....

Hi,
I'm a reporter from WNYC public radio.

The federal defenders showed me this email you sent on Monday:

"Due to staff shortages secondary to the shutdown, legal visiting at MDC Brooklyn is currently suspended today, January 14, 2018. We regret the inconvenience and will notify you immediately once visiting resumes."

The federal defenders also claim legal visits were shut on these dates, too:

1/4/2019, 1/5/2019, 1/6/2019, 1/9/2019, 1/10/2019, 1/11/2019

And they believe family visits are also affected.

True?

Could you please tell me what staff attendance is like since the shutdown, how many workers have called in sick and why that makes it too difficult to schedule lawyer visits?

Also, has this made it harder to deliver medications and schedule outdoor recreation?

Thank you,

Warden-

Today, March 1, 2019, Holly and I attended the oral argument in the above-referenced case in front of the Honorable Margo K. Brodie in the Eastern District of New York.

The focus of today's oral argument was whether plaintiff—The Federal Defenders of New York—was the proper party to bring an access to counsel claim. The Court asked questions of counsel for both parties regarding the appropriate standard to apply when considering questions of standing and whether a cause of action could be brought and by whom.

Ultimately, she decided that the Sixth Amendment Right to Counsel was a personal right, belonging to the accused and the accused alone. The Federal Defenders' rights were derivative in nature, and as such, could not be asserted vicariously. Although she found that plaintiff had constitutional standing, which she characterized as a low threshold inquiry, she did not find that plaintiff was within the "zone of interest" with respect to the right asserted. She denied the application for a preliminary injunction, but offered plaintiff the opportunity to amend the complaint. Plaintiff indicated that were they to do so, they would file an amended complaint by March 8, 2019. The judge was unsure whether a new plaintiff could meet the standard, but would entertain the motion.

Finally, Plaintiff asked that the notice provision (where the MDC would have to notify the Court and Federal Defenders of any two-hour interruption of legal visits within 24 hours) be kept in place. The Court declined, stating that she has no reason to believe the Warden would not continue to have attorney visits. She did point out that the recent cancellations of legal visits were due to emergent conditions, and was an anomaly compared to our normal practices. Nevertheless, she left available to plaintiff the option to come back to her and make an applications for a TRO should any further interruptions occur. She made clear she would happily sign one.

Accordingly, it is our strong recommendation that we do everything in our power to maintain legal visiting without interruption. (b)(5)

On 1/21 when heat was lost to some areas, no temperature checks were taken. The Food Service, Health Services, and Education areas were not identified on 1/21 as having a heating issue. On 1/22, when conducting checks throughout the institution, it was determined these areas were not receiving sufficient heat. Further checks revealed the fans controlling air flow to the areas had to be reset which fixed the issue. Those areas did not have broken coils.

1. Check all areas and report any locations where lighting isn't working.
2. Let me know once our count is clear.
3. Social visiting needs to happen today.
4. If bathroom lights are out in the VR, have VR staff check out a few flashlights that visitors can utilize.

Protesters began to gather after 7:00 pm with the group growing to about 75. It dwindled back down to about 50, then 25 within two and a half hours. They were all gone by 11.

My initial thought is we already know what the HVAC system needs. It needs general maintenance to be accomplished i.e. cleaning, filter changes, motor adjustments, Louver adjustments, coil cleaning, freeze pump replacement, and freeze stat repairs.

This is why we are bringing the HVAC TDY staff in to do this work. We would pay an A&E firm a lot of money to tell us what we already know needs to be accomplished based on my tour of the mechanical spaces this week.

If it is OK with you I think once the repairs are done we can have an A&E perform an HVAC survey to review all of the work that we have accomplished and to ensure proper operation.

Please let me know if you need anything clarified.

Mike,

The RD had a question that we need a quick turn-around on. As we are planning on doing project for the electrical system at BRO., can we do the same review for the heating and air conditioning? If we are doing the electric would it or not make sense to the HVAC system at the same time.

Please explain your position/decision either way. You can send it in a text/email to the RD with a cc to me - thank you.

Mike

'It's Cold as Hell': Inside a Brooklyn Jail's Weeklong Collapse

New York Times

<https://www.nytimes.com/2019/02/09/nyregion/brooklyn-jail-no-heat-inmates.html>

In the middle of New York City, they had been cut off from the world. It was the end of January, and hundreds of inmates at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn had been locked in their cells after an electrical fire knocked out power in the building. There, it turned out, they would spend the coldest days of the winter in darkness, largely without heat and hot water. "It's cold as hell," one inmate, Sean Daughtry, told his lawyer. He could see his breath in the weak light that slanted through his cell window. When news of how the inmates were treated reached the world outside, the warden of the federal jail, Herman E. Quay, at first denied there was any problem outside a partial loss of power. "Inmate housing units have been minimally impacted," Mr. Quay's office told The New York Times during the blackout, a message initially echoed by the Bureau of Prisons in Washington.

How We Learned About the Freezing Federal Jail in New York

<https://www.nytimes.com/2019/02/09/reader-center/metropolitan-detention-center-cold-jail.html>

After midnight on Jan. 31, the coldest day in New York City in three years, I got an email from an unfamiliar address. The subject line was "MDC Brooklyn without Power." "No heat no power no proper food," read the anonymous message. "Over 72 hours in lockdown. Please help." M.D.C. is the Metropolitan Detention Center, a federal jail on the Brooklyn waterfront that houses more than 1,600 inmates. Many of them have not been convicted and are being held before trial. Reporters at The New York Times get a lot of email. Much of it is spam, unsolicited press releases, questions or complaints about our coverage. Occasionally, there is a solid news tip. But even then, it rarely feels as urgent as this one did.

Prisoners are among the most vulnerable people in the U.S.

https://www.washingtonpost.com/outlook/2019/02/10/prisoners-are-among-most-vulnerable-people-us/?utm_term=.1eeba692cdded

The U.S. prison system is irrevocably broken, and incarcerated people remain one of the most vulnerable populations in the country. In the United States, the vast majority (67 percent) of the incarcerated are people of color and come from poor and working-class backgrounds. A significant percentage also live with mental illness. As inmates, they are unable to give consent or exercise autonomy over their treatment, and as such are wholly subject to the whims of prison officials, guards and politicians — many of whom generally do not have their best interests in mind. Headline after headline about the cruelty, neglect and violence inflicted upon incarcerated individuals by those ostensibly charged with their care make this clear. This holds especially true during periods of extreme weather, when inmates are at risk of greater danger due to poor infrastructure, aggressive guards or lack of resources.
