Dear Mr. Evers:

In response to *American Oversight v. Exemption definitions can be found at the following link https://www.cbp.gov/sites/default/files/assets/documents/2019-Dec/definitions-exemptions-foia_0.pdf .

This completes CBP's final response to this request. If you have questions or concerns regarding this interim response, you may contact Assistant United States Attorney Diana V. Valdiva at diana.valdivia@usdoj.gov, or phone number (202) 252-2545.

TEDS	SEC533
Pregnant Detainees and Juveniles: Barring exigent circumstances, officers/agents must not use restraints on pregnant detainees or juveniles unless they have demonstrated or threatened violent behavior, have a history of criminal and/or violent activity, or an articulable likelihood of escape exists. Even in the extraordinary circumstance when restraints are deemed necessary, no detainee known to be pregnant will be restrained in a face-down position, on her back, or in a restraint belt that constricts the area of the pregnancy. All exceptions must be documented in the appropriate electronic system(s) of record, including the facts and the reasoning behind the decision. Post-delivery Recuperation: A detainee in post-delivery recuperation must not be restrained absent extraordinary circumstances that render restraints absolutely necessary. Active Labor or Delivery: Restraints are never permitted on detainees who are in active labor or delivery.	(a) Except as provided in subsection (b), none of the funds made available in this Act may be used to place restraints on a woman in the custody of the Department of Homeland Security (including during transport, in a detention facility, or at an outside medical facility) who is pregnant or in post-delivery recuperation. (b) Subsection (a) shall not apply with respect to a pregnant woman if (1) an appropriate official of the Department of Homeland Security makes an individualized determination that the woman (A) is a serious flight risk, and such risk cannot be prevented by other means; or (B) poses an immediate and serious threat to harm herself or others that cannot be prevented by other means; or (2) a medical professional responsible for the care of the pregnant woman determines that the use of therapeutic restraints is appropriate for the medical safety of the woman. (c) If a pregnant woman is restrained pursuant to subsection (b), only the safest and least restrictive restraints, as determined by the appropriate medical professional treating the woman, may be used. In no case may restraints be used on a woman who is in active labor or delivery, and in no case may a pregnant woman be restrained in a face-down position with four-point restraints, on her back, or in a restraint belt that constricts the area of the pregnancy. A pregnant woman who is immobilized by restraints shall be positioned, to the maximum extent feasible, on her left side.

Section 533 Pregnant Detainees. CBP has already self-imposed reporting requirements consistent with Section 533 through implementation of the CBP National Standards on Transport, Escort, Detention, and Search (TEDS) policy. In the extraordinary circumstance when restraints are deemed necessary for a known or reported pregnant detainee, the event, circumstances, and rationale behind the decision are already recorded in the appropriate electronic system(s) of record (USBP: e3DM and OFO: Sigma). While the external requirements are unnecessary, the existing reporting satisfies the "chain of command" and the "exceptions" reporting requirements.

Section 532 Congressional Visits. Following intense Congressional interest in CBP facilities during the UAC crisis of 2014, CBP established policies to facilitate Congressional requests for visits and tours. These protocols attempt to mitigate the impact Congressional visits could pose to security, daily operations, and detainee privacy & safety, by including, among other things:

- Requesting pre-coordination with Congressional delegations to ensure we are able to address all questions and concerns of Members.
- Vetting for Congressional staff, including "special guests" of members.
- Allowing for special consideration for Members of Congress requesting entry outside of the routine process as soon as operationally possible.

CoS,

The answer to number 4 is no, we do not track.

As a heads up we also provided (b)(6);(b)(7)(C) with below info:

Medical Care (Updated 03/01/2019)

- USBP Agents referred approximately 12,000 individuals for medical treatment during FY 2018.
- Currently, USBP is sending an average of 55.8 people per day for medical treatment.
  - During December of 2019 this was as many as 63 per day.
- We are on track to refer over 31,000 illegal aliens for medical treatment this year.
- Since December 22, 2018, 269 UACs, 2,012 single adults and 1,654 family units have received medical treatment.
- Since December 22, 2018, USBP Agents have spent 55,671. hours at a hospital or medical facility performing hospital watch.
  - This equates to just under 5,5567 shifts of hospital watch in 70 days.
  - Over the past 70 days USBP has expended 2,218,489.35 salary hours to perform hospital watch on detainees. (GS 12/05 rate $39.85 / hour X 55,671 hours=$2,218,489.35)
  - Projected yearly cost $11,567,837 in salary expenses to perform hospital watch on detainees.
- 76.5% of detainees in USBP Custody that receive medical treatment are from the Northern Triangle Countries (Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras).

Hi everyone-

Sending this now in the event you'd like to get it out of the way, but it's not due back to DHS until Monday morning. I'm even adding a little reminder chime on this email (if I did it right!) for Monday morning in case folks want to set this aside.

I hope you all have a nice weekend!

Good afternoon and happy Friday!

I think the hearing prep with S1 went well this afternoon. There are a few get-backs from CBP that we are tracking. Please send the responses to the SAG (cc'd here) by Monday, March 4th at 9:30am. I recognize this is a quick turn over the weekend, but the next prep sessions are taking place on Monday afternoon.

Please let me know if you have any questions on the below:

1. We need talking points on the improved speed of the execution of the wall due to partnership with USACE. How has this process improved? How fast are we now implementing building the wall compared to the past without the USACE?
2. Where did the $200 million from FY17 to FY18 piece of obligations go to?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3. (b)(6);(b)(7)(C) Chief Provost mentioned that you could get talking points on eminent domain. What is the process we use and how long does it generally take (average 6 months?)?
4. Does CBP track the number of stillborn deaths or miscarriages for people within CBP custody? If so, what is this number over the past 3 years.

Have a wonderful weekend!
