RE: FOIA Request No. 2019-05253

Dear Mr. McGrath:

This is the seventh rolling release in response to the above-referenced Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request submitted by Bianca Tylek, Worth Rises Executive Director and Austin Evers, American Oversight Executive Director. Additional determinations and releases will be forthcoming.

Enclosed with this determination letter are 337 pages of records processed in response to Request No. 2019-05253. After careful review, our office determined 111 pages are appropriate for release in full, 218 pages are appropriate for release in part, seven (7) pages should be withheld in their entirety, and one (1) page was nonresponsive. Records were redacted pursuant to the following FOIA exemptions:

(b)(4) - allows the withholding of records related to trade secrets and other confidential business information;

(b)(5) - allows the withholding of certain inter-agency and intra-agency communications protected by the deliberative process privilege, the attorney work-product privilege, and/or the attorney-client privilege;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(b)(6) - allows the withholding of records or information when release thereof would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of third parties;

(b)(7)(C) - allows the withholding of records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes when release thereof could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of third parties;

(b)(7)(E) - allows the withholding of records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes when release thereof would disclose techniques and procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions; and

(b)(7)(F) - allows the withholding of records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes when release thereof could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or personal safety of an individual.

See 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(b)(4), (b)(5), (b)(6), (b)(7)(C), (b)(7)(E), and (b)(7)(F). Copies of releasable records are enclosed.

If you have questions about this response please feel free to contact the undersigned: 202-616-7750; 320 First Street NW, Suite 936, Washington, DC 20534; or ogc_efoia@bop.gov.

Hi Brad,

Thanks again for your willingness to speak with us tomorrow, we look forward to it. Regarding your ask around read ahead materials, we have not been asking folks to prepare anything ahead of our conversations, and we will provide more background information during the call. Overall we will ask about your background, relationship with CoreCivic, the value CoreCivic brings, and what additional value CoreCivic may bring by placing additional emphasis on environmental/social/governance (ESG) factors. We have a number of questions we will ask in support, but it will be a rather free flowing conversation.

Report Language:
General Provisions – Department of Justice Sec. ##. The Committee is concerned with the cost and safety of the Bureau's growing backlog of repair and replacement needs of their aging infrastructure. With the additional funding for Buildings and Facilities, the Bureau Director is directed to issue a competitive procurement to modernize and replace up to three of its oldest facilities through engaging the private sector through direct BOP operational lease agreements. The Committee requests that the Bureau brief the Committees on Appropriations on their progress with this procurement within 90 days after the enactment of this bill.

4) Specific information describing this request:
Item/Project Name: BOP Facility Replacements Using Operational Leases With Private Sector
Service/Agency: Department of Justice
Appropriations Account: Federal Prison Systems / Salaries & Expenses / Contract Confinement
Line Item or PE Title: (as applicable) N/A Line Number: (as applicable) N/A
PE Number: (as applicable) N/A
Change from President's FY19 Budget Request (PBR): (i.e. "support the PBR" or "PBR + amount")

In FY19, support $991 million, same as the FY19 President's Budget Request

5) Brief description of program or project and justification for proposed bill or report language:

With one-third of the facilities operated by the Bureau of Prisons (BOP) being over 50 years old, repair and maintenance costs associated with these aging assets is expected to increase exponentially in the coming years. In fact, the Government Accountability Office (GAO) has reported that the BOP has a backlog of over 220 major repair and replacement projects totaling $430 million. With the BOP stating that more than half of the facilities in their system are in some state of acute stress, the need for new prison replacement is evident. However, limited resources and competing priorities oftentimes result in delays in funding these necessary investments.

The private sector can help address this funding gap by providing private sector financing for these important infrastructure projects. This access to capital allows government to address its needs quickly while at the same time partnering with the private sector which has vast experience managing complex prison construction projects. Moreover, this mechanism would not only include the delivery of the asset for government through an operational lease but also include all the repairs and maintenance on the facility, resulting in long-term budget certainty on all costs associated with their building and facility infrastructure.

As an example of this model, the Kansas Department of Corrections (KDOC) recently awarded a 20-year lease agreement to CoreCivic to build a 2,432 bed correctional facility in Lansing, Kansas. The new facility, to be designed, financed and built by CoreCivic, will replace the existing 2,405 bed Lansing Correctional Facility, which is the state's largest correctional complex for adult male inmates and which was originally built in the 1860s. CoreCivic will begin construction in the spring of 2018. The lease will commence upon completion of facility construction (spring of 2020). KDOC will operate the new facility and CoreCivic will be responsible for facility maintenance throughout the 20-year term of the lease. This project will allow the state of Kansas to have access to a modern, efficient correctional facility that is safer for inmates and employees, while allowing Kansas to avoid using their limited bonding capacity for the construction of a new correctional facility.

6) Draft of requested bill or report language, as applicable (NOTE: Proposed bill or report language must include an explanation of the problem or the issue being addressed and any amendment to existing law):

Bill Language:
General Provisions – Department of Justice
Sec. ##. Notwithstanding any other provision of law and no later than 45 days after the enactment of this Act, the Director of the Bureau of Prisons is directed to issue a competitive procurement for private sector proposals to replace the infrastructure or modernize up to three of its oldest prisons through direct BOP operational lease agreements.

Report Language:
General Provisions – Department of Justice
Sec. ##. The Committee is concerned with the cost and safety of the Bureau's growing backlog of repair and replacement needs of their aging infrastructure. With the additional funding for Buildings and Facilities, the Bureau Director is directed to issue a competitive procurement to modernize and replace up to three of its oldest facilities through engaging the private sector through direct BOP operational lease agreements. The Committee requests that the Bureau brief the Committees on Appropriations on their progress with this procurement within 90 days after the enactment of this bill.

7) Background information, other comments:

This request directs the BOP to move forward with up to 3 replacements of their oldest facilities. The BOP would enter into an operational lease with the private sector to build and lease back to the Federal Government a new / modernized facility. There are many benefits to this approach: 1) updated facilities ensures the safety and security of the guards and inmates as some of BOP's facilities are over 60 years old; 2) the ability to finance through B&F appropriations replacement facilities will take years and billions of dollars up front; 3) an operational lease allows the cost to be done on an annual basis for the lease versus a capital lease that requires all the funding up front before the facility can be built; 3) this mechanism would allow the government to still have its employees running and managing the facility; 4) the private sector can build BOP facilities up to all security levels depending upon need and overcrowding.

One of the BOP's oldest correctional facilities is USP Leavenworth (KS). Built in the early 1900s, the facility has a rated capacity of 1,605 beds and the facility currently houses more than 1,900 inmates. Due to its age and outdated design, it is estimated that the BOP spends $25 million annually on maintenance and repair of the facility.

 Congressionally-Directed Spending Items: Senator Moran will not accept recommendations for Congressionally Directed Spending Items, as defined in Senate Rule XLIV, for FY2019 appropriations bills.

I hope you are well and had a good holiday. I am traveling to Adams today for the CFM and excited and encouraged by our performance there. When you have a moment, I wanted to discuss our Eden facility. We are concerned about leaks regarding our contract future there and understand that our pipeline has been cut off though we were told it "has nothing to do with CAR 16." Damon understood from a recent conversation with Brad Gross that no decision was would be made until the next Administration was in office and everything was on the table to include a resolicitation of CAR 16. Do you have a few moments to discuss today or tomorrow? Thanks (b)(6)

Eden - Update

From (b)(6)

To Bradley T Gross (b)(6)

Date 2017/01/13 06:49

Subject: Eden - Update

Attachments: TEXT.htm

GM.....here is an update regarding Eden.....maybe more information you want or need.....Thanks.

(b)(6) follow-up with (b)(6) reiterated that Damon and other CCA officials may have received information from BOP sources that the change in administration would effect the status of the Eden facility. (b)(6) did not comment on any conversations that may have taken place.

Instead, (b)(6) explained to (b)(6) that the letter CCA received in September 2016 eliminating them from the competitive range is still effective. As such, PMB and the DSCC have begun working on a ramp down plan that will result in a ramp down to remove all inmates from the facility by April 30th. (b)(6) stated that they have not told their staff at the facility of the status of their CAR 16 proposal. He expressed concern that our on-site staff may be leaking the information. He further stated that it may be the SSIM. (b)(6) told him she would discuss it with our on-site CO and (b)(6) cautioned him that when the Environmental Assessment (EA) is published, it will become public information that the Eden facility is no longer being considered for award. (b)(6) asked (b)(6) if she would share the date of the EA with him. (b)(6) didn't commit to do so but is looking into it.

Please let me know if you need anymore information.

funny - that's not what I told Damon. I said that we don't know what's going to happen after we have a new administration and his guess is as good as mine as to what will happen. Don't even recall Eden coming up in the conversation.

I'm checking-in to see how this is going. Are we operational at this point? A few questions:

- Are we "live" with connectivity?
- If we are live, do we know how many phones are available to detainees?
- Do we have the postings up for the phones?
- Anything else that I need to know that I'm not asking?

Good morning Mr. Gross, attached you will find the documentation from the City of Pecos Public Works Department which provides verification the most recent water samples are good. They have indicated follow up testing will occur next week. Moving forward, the facility will follow the recommendations of periodic "flushing" to preclude this issue.

If you need any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me.

RE: RC3 Admin Building

Dear Mr. Garnto,

The City of Pecos was informed late afternoon February 20, 2019 by the Odessa Lab that the water sample taken at the Reeves County Detention Center was positive on the bacteriological test. The area where the sample was taken was R3 Admin Building. This sample had a result below the minimum free chlorine residual requirement by TCEQ which is 0.2 mg/L.

Later that afternoon, the City of Pecos tested the areas outside surrounding the RCDC and the pump station near the ground storage tank at the RCDC site. They all had a free chlorine residual between .75 and .81 mg/L.

With RCDC 1 & 2 not in service the water circulation is minimal and causes contamination because of poor circulation. It is very important that you take care of this matter since it is inside your compound area, especially the area in RCDC 3 offices.

The recommendation that we, Public Works, spoke to you about was to add chlorine to your ground storage tanks and elevated tank and flush out the entire system at RCDC to insure that your water system is disinfected properly.

On February 21, 2019 our [(b)(6)] tested the maintenance office at 9:45am and had a free chlorine residual of 0.48 mg/L. At 9:46am the AW Complex was tested and had a free chlorine residual of 0,41 mg/L. At 9:47am the Food Service area was tested and had a free chlorine residual of 0.74 mg/L. These areas were in no harm at all. The area of concern was the R3 Admin Building and after the recommendations were taken by RCDC staff it was tested at 2:30pm and the result was 2.02mg/L. This is a good sample.

We advise that you keep a detention time for the chlorine to do its job and on Monday February 25, 2019 we will come out and take "Repeat Sample" at R3 Admin Building plus another 3 samples upstream and downstream of the original sample site.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Please talk to your maintenance employees and stress the importance of doing maintenance such as flushing the fire hydrants in the entire facility on a scheduled basis throughout the year.

Sincerely,

(b)(6)

Public Works Director
City of Pecos

Brad,

I hope you are doing well. I was wondering if we could get Damon on Director Inch's calendar in the next few weeks? I know he is busy getting acclimated but just wanted to come in for an introduction. Thanks for your consideration. Take care.

funny - that's not what I told Damon. I said that we don't know what's going to happen after we have a new administration and his guess is as good as mine as to what will happen. Don't even recall Eden coming up in the conversation.

I hope you are well and had a good holiday. I am traveling to Adams today for the CFM and excited and encouraged by our performance there. When you have a moment, I wanted to discuss our Eden facility. We are concerned about leaks regarding our contract future there and understand that our pipeline has been cut off though we were told it "has nothing to do with CAR 16." Damon understood from a recent conversation with Brad Gross that no decision was would be made until the next Administration was in office and everything was on the table to include a resolicitation of CAR 16. Do you have a few moments to discuss today or tomorrow? Thanks

>>> LaVaughn Garnto 2/21/2019 11:44 AM >>>

The Town of Pecos City Water Department took water samples at the facility yesterday. All samples were fine in the inmate living areas, food service and areas inside the secure perimeter, however the Administration Building tested positive for ECOLI Bacteria. Therefore only the admin building is restricted to boil before consumption and maintenance is trying to determine the water issue for this building only. Boil notices have been posted in the Admin Building and BOP has been notified for their building as well.

As the city inspector explained it, the Admin Building and BOP Building are at "the end of the line" and the only troubled areas. He asked us to keep the sink faucets running for about an hour and open the fire hose stand pipes in this building for a couple of hours to flush the system and he will re-test tomorrow.

Hugh - I hope the new year finds you well. As we continue to work with the administration on criminal justice reform and with the recent signing of the First Step Act (FSA) I am requesting a meeting with you and your health care team to discuss how Wellpath can share its evidence based practices and outcomes with the Bureau. Specifically, with its federal, state, private, and local partners in most of the country. Wellpath's CEO, Jorge Dominicis will be part of this meeting and is excited to discuss how Wellpath (a recent joining of two great companies Correct Care Solutions and California Medical Group Companies) has developed extensive outcome data and other evidence based tools related to several aspects of correctional health care.

Please advise on what dates may work for you in January. We are coordinating meetings with the administration and congress as well. Thank you as always. I look forward to seeing you again soon. All the best.

Hi Brad,

(b)(6)

(b)(6) If these bills are passed will they have a big impact on your population? (b)(6)

(b)(6)

Bill

Senators Release New Criminal Justice Bill

By Todd Ruger, CQ

Senators unveiled a new bipartisan criminal justice bill late Thursday that they say has the support of more than 60 senators and President Donald Trump, but still faces political hurdles to get to the Senate floor this year.

The legislation (S 3649) combines prison measures to help federal prisoners better rejoin society with four sentencing provisions that would to give judges more discretion as well as lower terms for crack cocaine, firearms and minor drug offenders, according to a summary released by the authors.

Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Charles E. Grassley, R-Iowa, in a news release with Sen. Richard J. Durbin, D-Ill., highlighted the broad range of support for the legislation, including the backing of Trump on Wednesday. The details of the agreement had already been discussed before the bill was released.

"This bill represents the culmination of a lot of hard work by lawmakers and advocates from across the political spectrum," Grassley said. "President Trump has shown real leadership to advance these important reforms – the most significant in a generation. We have a real opportunity to make these important reforms a reality before the end of the year."

Durbin called it "the best chance in a generation to make meaningful changes in our federal drug sentencing laws."

"We cannot squander it," Durbin said. "These reforms help relieve our overcrowded prisons, redirect funding to addiction treatment, help keep our communities safe, and restore faith in our justice system."

Joining the bill were Republican Sens. Mike Lee of Utah and Lindsey Graham of South Carolina, and Democratic Sens. Cory Booker of New Jersey and Sheldon Whitehouse of Rhode Island.

Cosponsors are Republican Sens. Tim Scott of South Carolina, Joni Ernst of Iowa, Jerry Moran of Kansas and Democratic Sens. Patrick J. Leahy of Vermont, Amy Klobuchar of Minnesota and Chris Coons of Delaware.

The bill comes after long negotiations in the Senate and with the White House, but it remains unclear if it will reach the floor during the lame duck. Majority Leader Mitch McConnell, R-Ky., at one point said he would do a whip count and bring it to the floor if it had more than 60 votes, but has since said it must be weighed against other priorities in the time before the new Congress.

Durbin, in a committee hearing Thursday, said waiting until the next Congress would mean starting all over. And Grassley has made a personal plea to McConnell to allow a vote this year, but there are opponents among the Republican caucus who might make it a time-consuming floor process.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMITTEE on the JUDICIARY

The revised First Step Act of 2018 (S.3649)

Reducing Federal Recidivism and Crime

- Provides for increased programming designed to reduce recidivism and provides incentives for participation in those programs

- Implements a post-sentencing dynamic risk assessment system to determine an inmate's risk of committing more crimes upon release from prison.

- Establishes eligibility criteria for and incentivizes participation in evidence-based recidivism reduction programs by allowing prisoners to earn time credits for prerelease custody (defined as residential reentry centers or, for low risk prisoners, home confinement). For example, a prisoner may earn 10 days of time credit for every 30 days of successful participation in a recidivism-reduction program or other eligible activity.

- Renders violent and high-risk criminals convicted of certain serious offenses ineligible for the pre-release custody program, including dangerous sexual offenders, murderers, and others.

Preparing Inmates for Successful Return to Society

- Provides more meaningful employment and training opportunities for inmates by expanding the federal prison industries program

- Requires the Bureau of Prisons (BOP) to submit a report and evaluation of the current pilot program to treat heroin and opioid abuse through medication—assisted treatment.

- Extends the compassionate elderly release provision from the Second Chance Act that allows the prisoner to request for his or her compassionate release if he or she meets the requirements set out in the law.

- Codifies BOP's rules on using restraints on pregnant inmates, which generally prohibit the use of restraints on pregnant inmates except those who are an immediate and credible flight risk or threat of harm to herself, the baby or others.

- Mandates inmates be housed no more than 500 miles from the prisoner's primary residence and grants authority for prisoners to save earnings in an escrow account used for pre-release expenses, such as transportation and housing.

- Clarifies the formula by which the BOP calculates good time credit (time off for good behavior) in line with original Congressional intent. Under current law, prisoners can earn up to 54 days per year for good behavior in prison, but technicalities in the law keep prisoners on early release from utilizing those days.

Enhancing Prison Security and Officer Safety

- Requires the Director of BOP to provide a secure storage area outside the secure perimeter for employees to store firearms or to allow for vehicle lock boxes for firearms.

- Directs the Director of BOP to provide de-escalation training as part of the regular training requirements of correctional officers.

Reforming Federal Prison Sentencing

- Clarification of 18 U.S.C. § 924(c) – S.1917 Section 104 applied prospectively: This section clarifies that the enhanced mandatory minimum sentence for using a firearm during a crime of violence or drug crime is limited to offenders who have previously been convicted and served a sentence for such an offense. Previously the courts interpreted this law intended for repeat offenders as applying also to first-time offenders, sometimes requiring courts to impose overly harsh, decades-long sentences for charges brought in a single indictment.

- Reform to 21 U.S.C. 841 & 851 - S.1917 Section 101 applied prospectively: The section modifies and focuses sentencing enhancements to serious drug felons and expands them to serious violent felons. The enhanced mandatory minimums for prior drug felons are reduced: the three-strike penalty is reduced from life imprisonment to 25 years, and the 20-year minimum is reduced to 15 years. The offenses that trigger these enhanced minimum sentences are also reformed. Currently, those offenses are prior drug felonies. This section applies these penalties to all offenders convicted of a serious drug felony or a serious violent felony

- Expansion of existing federal safety valve for mandatory minimum sentencing – S.1917 Section 102 applied prospectively: This section expands the existing safety valve to include offenders with up to four criminal history points, excluding 1-point offenses, such as minor misdemeanors. However, offenders with prior "3 point" felony convictions (sentences exceeding one year and one month) or prior "2 point" violent offenses (violent offenses with sentences of at least 60 days) will not be eligible for the safety valve absent a judicial finding that those prior offenses substantially overstate the defendant's criminal history and danger of recidivism. Consistent with existing law, a judge cannot apply the safety valve unless the defendant has fully cooperated with law enforcement and has not used or threatened to use violence or firearms, caused death or serious bodily injury, or was an organizer, leader, manager, or supervisor of others in connection with the offense.

- Retroactive Application of the Fair Sentencing Act of 2010 – S.1917 Section 105: This section allows prisoners sentenced before the Fair Sentencing Act of 2010 reduced the 100-to-1 disparity in sentencing between crack and powder cocaine to petition the court for an individualized review of their case. This reform would bring sentences imposed prior to 2010 in line with sentences imposed after the Fair Sentencing Act was passed.

Other Reforms

- Immigration Fix. To address a concern that the First Step Act, as originally drafted, might plausibly allow illegal immigrants to receive time credits and the benefit of early release or home confinement, the bill clarifies that prisoners subject to a final order of removal under 8 U.S.C. 1101, including illegal immigrants, are not eligible to apply time credits.

- Fentanyl Exclusion. To address concerns raised by law enforcement, the bill excludes prisoners from receiving time credits under the First Step Act who were convicted of fentanyl offenses involving 5 and 10 year mandatory minimums and who were organizers, leaders, managers, or supervisors of others in the offense.

- Firearm Offense Exclusion. To address concerns raised by law enforcement, the bill excludes prisoners from receiving time credits under the First Step Act who committed a felony with possession of a firearm if they are repeat offenders who have already taken advantage of recidivism programming under the First Step Act.

- Crimes Against Children Exclusion. Offenders who have committed serious crimes against children will not be able to shorten their sentences. This includes anyone convicted of sex trafficking of children (18 U.S.C. § 1591), sexual abuse of a child (18 U.S.C. §§ 2243, 2244(c)), child pornography offenses (18 U.S.C. §§ 2251, 2252, 2252A, 2260), buying and selling of children (18 U.S.C. § 2251A), or the recruitment of child soldiers (18 U.S.C. § 2442)

Section. 1. Short Title; Table of Contents

Sets forth the short title for the entire Act as the "First Step Act" and sets forth the table of contents.

TITLE I: RECIDIVISM REDUCTION

Section 101. Risk and needs assessment system

Directs the Attorney General to conduct a review of the risk and needs assessment system used by the Bureau of Prisons and develop recommendations on evidence-based recidivism reduction programs and productive activities; to conduct ongoing research and data analysis on the programming and its effectiveness; to annually review and validate the risk and needs assessment system; to update and revise the risk and needs assessment system as determined appropriate; and to report to Congress.

Requires the Attorney General, in consultation with the Independent Review Committee created by this Act, to develop and release a risk and needs assessment system that will (1) determine the recidivism risk level (minimum, low, medium, or high) of each prisoner at intake, (2) assess and determine the risk of violent or serious misconduct of each prisoner, (3) determine the type and amount of programming for each prisoner and assign programming accordingly, (4) reassess each prisoner periodically and adjust programming assignments accordingly, (5) reassign the prisoner to appropriate programs, (6) determine when to provide incentives and rewards for successful participation in programming or productive activities, and (7) determine when a prisoner is ready to transfer into prerelease custody. In developing the risk and needs assessment system, the Attorney General may use existing tools as appropriate.

The risk and needs assessment system used by the Bureau of Prisons following enactment of this Act should provide that prisoners with similar risk levels are grouped together in housing and assignment decisions to the extent practicable.

Establishes incentives and rewards for prisoners to participate in programming and activities. This includes increased family phone and visitation privileges, transfer to an institution closer to the inmate's release residence, and earned time credits. Further, the Bureau of Prisons is instructed to develop additional policies to provide appropriate incentives for successful participation in programming which may include increased commissary spending limits and product offerings, extended opportunities to access the email system, and consideration of transfer to preferred housing units.

As an incentive for participation, prisoners shall earn 10 days of time credits for each 30 days of successful participation in recidivism risk reduction programming or activities. A prisoner that is
