Dear Mr. Evers:

This letter is in response to the above referenced litigation. The Office of Justice Programs (OJP) has processed documents that are responsive to your request. Please see the attached interim production. We will continue to process accordingly.

After careful review of the documents, OJP has determined that these documents, totaling 38 pages, are appropriate for release with some excisions made pursuant to Exemption (b)(6) of the FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 552. Exemption (b)(6) protects information that if disclosed "would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy."

You may contact William Atkinson at (202) 307-6235, or via e-mail at William.Atkinson@ojp.usdoj.gov, for further assistance and to discuss any aspect of this production.

Alan, I hope you are doing well. We are meeting with the President's Opioid Commission on Sept. 21 at 1 pm and wanted to see if we could swing by that day discuss CARA Funding and the Bishop Amendment. which was based on the 2015Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health report co – authored by over 30 leading opioid experts titled: The Prescription Opioid Epidemic: An Evidence-Based Approach (see recommendation 4.3), which dedicated an entire section to the need for improved container security.

CARA provides that grants can be made to test and study this, but there was no specific provision for such in the last solicitation. We would like to put this on your radar as you consider your CARA program for 2018.

Thanks very much,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

From: (b)(6)
To: Dummermuth, Matt (OJP)
Subject: MTC Info
Date: Tuesday, May 7, 2019 2:28:22 PM

Matt, great talking to you. Below is some background about MTC and their DC conference. The morning of the 21st is when we would like to hear from some government officials. First Step Act would be a great topic. We really appreciate you considering this speaking opportunity.

(b)(6)

About Management and Training Corporation (MTC)
MTC is a Utah-based, family-run government contracting company. Their two primary business lines are Job Corps (a Department of Labor education program for disadvantaged youth) and corrections/detention. In corrections, they operate two Bureau of Prisons facilities, two US Marshalls facilities, and state facilities in Texas, Florida, Ohio, Idaho, Arizona, and Mississippi. In total, they house about 20,000 inmates in 21 facilities. In immigration detention, MTC provides adult-only detention in four locations for ICE in Texas, New Mexico, and California. In total, they house approximately 2,700 detainees on an average day.

May 2019 Washington DC Warden's Conference
On May 21-23, MTC will be hosting a conference/fly-in for the wardens of all of its facilities across the country and senior corporate staff, about 40 people in total. MTC will spend the afternoon of May 21st meeting with their members of Congress, and that morning on the 21st they will host speakers at the Capitol Visitors Center to discuss key issues like the role of detention in homeland security operations, and criminal justice reform. This is the 3rd year in a row MTC has hosted its wardens conference in Washington, and previous speakers have included Senator Mike Lee, Rep. Jason Chaffetz, and senior congressional staff. Speakers will be asked to discuss any topic that may be of interest to the group for 10-15 minutes, and if time allows, to answer questions for a few minutes. It's a very friendly audience and a great group of folks.

So I can't seem to catch a break. I went in to work today but came home - I think I have really over exerted myself so soon after my emergency appendectomy. I just have to take it easy this week and am hoping you'll accept my apologies but, and I like to think uncharacteristically, I am just down for the count. Would it be ok if I get in touch with you next week? In the meantime, I could talk on the phone. If not, I could send you some dates after this week where we could do lunch.

The institutional folks are telling me that we can't set this up, given that you might represent a CARA applicant while the solicitation is still open. This is simply to avoid the appearance that we gave anyone you might represent unfair assistance.

We can get together on a friendly basis, if you want, but I will not be in a position to discuss any specific grant solicitation or application in which you have a professional interest.
