Subject: Journalists, Bristol Bay and Pebble Mine

Dear Mr. Hladick (with copy to Mark McIntyre):

Greetings! I'm writing because my organization, the Institute for Journalism & Natural Resources (IJNR), will be leading a group of 10 journalists to Alaska later this summer to learn more about Bristol Bay, its people, economy and ecosystems, the proposed Pebble Mine, and how all those things interact.

As a bit of background, IJNR is a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization dedicated to helping journalists do a more effective job of telling stories about natural resource use. Our model is a weeklong field-based training program that takes reporters out of their newsrooms and into the places where they can observe things firsthand and meet key stakeholders, including resource users, regulators, scientists, tribe members, local officials and others. We have been conducting these programs since 1995 and count nearly 1,000 working journalists as our alumni.

Obviously the EPA will play a key role in the Pebble Mine decision, so I would like to invite you to participate as a speaker in our Bristol Bay Institute, which will take place August 28-September 5. Since our program will take place in Alaska and you're based in Seattle, we would welcome you to join us via Skype or some other electronic means (though of course we would be delighted to have to join us in Alaska if that's possible). We will have a couple days in Anchorage, but we're planning for the bulk of the trip to take place in the Bristol Bay watershed itself, including Dillingham, Lake Nerka, and the villages of Igiugig and Iliamna.

I would be happy to discuss your participation and answer any questions you may have about IJNR, this particular program or anything else, at your convenience. I sincerely hope you can join us, and look forward to hearing back.

Have a great weekend, and thank you for your time.

Best,
Dave

Subject: Public deserves more transparency from EPA on Pebble

Hi Chris,

I'm interested in the Pebble Project's ongoing 404c/PD and curious as to why the Agency's news/updates are routinely funneled through activist enviro publications -- not listed on the EPA's website for the public?

I don't want to read news from Pebble Limited Partnership or NRDC – I'd prefer directly from the EPA itself.

For instance, this 07/29 piece about Region 10 'punting' on the 404c: Ariel Wittenberg of EE had it but nobody else. Why is that? When LeBron James has a leak, he consults his guy Brian Windhorst of ESPN to report it. That appears to be what's happening here.

I've had multiple cordial and polite convos with people of Region 10 on this project. I believe there's much common ground here, Chris: I respect the process and the Region 10 staff. But I'm frustrated with the EPA's lack of transparency and clarity on these 404c regulations.

Leaking to parochial activist publications is a major red flag to me. Maybe HQ is also to blame, but the public deserves much better.

Primary sources please!

Thanks,
Greg Palladino

Re: EPA Reconsideration of Proposal to Withdraw Proposed Determination to Restrict the Use of an Area as a Disposal Site; Pebble Deposit Area, Southwest Alaska — Reference docket number EPA-R10-OW-2017-0369

Dear Administrator Hladick:

Alaska Community Action on Toxics, a statewide public interest environmental health research and advocacy organization, joins with the other signatories and supports the letter submitted by Trustees for Alaska on July 17, 2019 in response to the July 26, 2019 release of an undated Memorandum from Matthew Leopold, General Counsel for the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) "directing Region 10 to continue its deliberations regarding whether to withdraw the 2014 Proposed Determination or, alternatively, decide to leave the 2014 Proposed Determination in place"[1] regarding the proposed Pebble Mine.

For the reasons identified in Trustees' comments and the July 17, 2019 letter, as well as comments prepared by EPA, the proposed project does not comply with the 404(b)(1) Guidelines. We reiterate that the DEIS is fundamentally flawed and does not demonstrate that the project will not pose unacceptable adverse impacts, as identified by EPA. We support Trustees' assertion that the reasons

Leopold, General Counsel, U.S. EPA, to Chris Hladick, Regional Administrator, Reg. 10, U.S. EPA, undated, at 2–3. The EPA is limited to these two options at this time because of the provisions established in the settlement with Pebble Limited Partnership (PLP). See 83 Fed. for issuing the Proposed Determination remain valid. Additional information since EPA issued the Proposed Determination only further support EPA's findings. A decision to withdraw the Proposed Determination would be inconsistent with the intent of the Clean Water Act and the 404(b)(1) Guidelines and arbitrary and capricious. We note that science supports the Proposed Determination, therefore, EPA should not conduct a second process to withdraw the Proposed Determination. We also agree that the EPA should maintain the suspension and stay any decision until either the time period in the settlement agreement has lapsed or a final EIS has been prepared.

It just seems to me that you are in the pockets of China and this is all about politics!

It is a shame because this will bring so much good to the people of Alaska. They need this mine, the jobs and money it will bring.

Alaska has one of the highest unemployment and spouse abuse in the country. People need jobs and this will do it.

Mr. Hladick,

I am writing to ask how EPA Region 10 will come to a recommendation on the Pebble Project PD. I'm wondering how the FEIS will be measured against the previously published Bristol Bay Watershed Assessment, the keystone document for prompting the PD. If the EPA was willing to make a determination based on three hypothetical mining scenarios, none of which were deemed acceptable, then how can the public expect the EPA to lift the PD based on PLP's currently submitted mine plan? The EPA seemed mostly to come to its conclusion based on the potential effects of a catastrophic failure. Obviously there is always a chance of this happening, no matter how remote. Can PLP actually get a fair shake when the EPA was previously willing to reject any mining scenario? It seems to me that basing a decision on the extremely remote chance of a catastrophic failure would be unreasonable.

Best,
Brian Dinizio

Dear President Trump and Acting Administrator Wheeler:

I am outraged that you plan to reverse course and green-light the proposed Pebble Mine, despite the catastrophic risks it poses to Alaska's Bristol Bay watershed, its world-renowned salmon runs, and its Native communities.

President Obama's Environmental Protection Agency proposed common-sense restrictions that would have banned this dangerous mine because of the obvious environmental risks it would pose. The EPA's recent settlement with Northern Dynasty Minerals to reverse those common-sense restrictions is a blatant giveaway to the mining industry at the expense of the American people, our environment, and our economy.

Bristol Bay's wild salmon fishery supports 14,000 jobs and is valued at more than $1.5 billion annually. It also supplies nearly half of the world's sockeye salmon. More than 65 percent of Alaskans, 80 percent of Bristol Bay residents and Native communities, and 85 percent of commercial fishermen oppose the mine.

I urge you to listen to those voices, and for the sake of the Bristol Bay watershed, its world-class salmon fishery, and its people, keep the door closed on Pebble Mine. If you don't, you will have to answer to me and hundreds of thousands of people in Alaska and across the United States and the world who stand in fervent opposition to this toxic mega-mine.

Sincerely,

David, Patty, Ashley, Palmer and Cara,

Please review changes to slide 17 and 22 at the attached link. Slide 17 includes two additional issues (scope and FA). Slide 22 includes changes to timing, audience and decision maker. I filled in the decision column because it seemed to make more sense to me to write it that way, but of course fine to change based on your review.

My current understanding of agenda, notes and meeting outcomes is as follows.

- We have talked about and are generally ok with communicating an agenda. Suggestion for an agenda: Presentation (30 minutes), Question and Answer (10 minutes), Next Steps (20 minutes). What do you think, add an agenda to the calendar invite? Other option would be for David to verbally indicate an agenda given when the presentation actually starts.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Erik will take notes, with special focus on follow-ups to inform additional future briefings. Chris or David may mention that this is happening.

- Outcome/goal will be addressed by Chris introducing the meeting and David's introduction to the presentation.

David, Patty, Ashley, Palmer and Cara,

Please review changes to slide 17 and 22 at the attached link. Slide 17 includes two additional issues (scope and FA). Slide 22 includes changes to timing, audience and decision maker. I filled in the decision column because it seemed to make more sense to me to write it that way, but of course fine to change based on your review.

My current understanding of agenda, notes and meeting outcomes is as follows.

- We have talked about and are generally ok with communicating an agenda. Suggestion for an agenda: Presentation (30 minutes), Question and Answer (10 minutes), Next Steps (20 minutes). What do you think, add an agenda to the calendar invite? Other option would be for David to verbally indicate an agenda given when the presentation actually starts.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Erik will take notes, with special focus on follow-ups to inform additional future briefings. Chris or David may mention that this is happening.

- Outcome/goal will be addressed by Chris introducing the meeting and David's introduction to the presentation.

David, Patty, Ashley, Palmer and Cara,

Please review changes to slide 17 and 22 at the attached link. Slide 17 includes two additional issues (scope and FA). Slide 22 includes changes to timing, audience and decision maker. I filled in the decision column because it seemed to make more sense to me to write it that way, but of course fine to change based on your review.

My current understanding of agenda, notes and meeting outcomes is as follows.

- We have talked about and are generally ok with communicating an agenda. Suggestion for an agenda: Presentation (30 minutes), Question and Answer (10 minutes), Next Steps (20 minutes). What do you think, add an agenda to the calendar invite? Other option would be for David to verbally indicate an agenda given when the presentation actually starts.

- Erik will take notes, with special focus on follow-ups to inform additional future briefings. Chris or David may mention that this is happening.

- Outcome/goal will be addressed by Chris introducing the meeting and David's introduction to the presentation.

This is the second of two 30-minute meetings to prepare for the May 14 policy briefing. Trying to balance schedule conflicts with expectations to send briefing materials by 3pm EST the day before.

Purpose

- Prepare for Bristol Bay R10-HQ Policy Briefing #2

Agenda

- Briefing approach (see proposed purpose, agenda and materials below)
- Supporting materials (see proposed purpose, agenda and materials below)

Repeating the approach to Check-in 1 would mean that R10 should upload supporting information to the calendar invite (and/or share by email) by 3pm EST Monday 5/13. For Check-in 1 we uploaded three documents and David sent a supporting email.

My suggestion is that we work to agree on a purpose, agenda and supporting materials and then share as appropriate. With that in mind, please provide feedback on the following purpose, agenda and materials for May 14th -

Purpose

- Update senior leadership on Pebble Mine NEPA and CWA 404 issues

Agenda

- Introductions
- Letter prep and meeting schedule
- Alaska trip
- Draft NEPA and 404 letters
- Next steps

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Draft NEPA comments
- Draft 404 comments

David, Patty, Ashley, Palmer and Cara,

Please review changes to slide 17 and 22 at the attached link. Slide 17 includes two additional issues (scope and FA). Slide 22 includes changes to timing, audience and decision maker. I filled in the decision column because it seemed to make more sense to me to write it that way, but of course fine to change based on your review.

My current understanding of agenda, notes and meeting outcomes is as follows.

- We have talked about and are generally ok with communicating an agenda. Suggestion for an agenda: Presentation (30 minutes), Question and Answer (10 minutes), Next Steps (20 minutes). What do you think, add an agenda to the calendar invite? Other option would be for David to verbally indicate an agenda given when the presentation actually starts.

- Erik will take notes, with special focus on follow-ups to inform additional future briefings. Chris or David may mention that this is happening.

- Outcome/goal will be addressed by Chris introducing the meeting and David's introduction to the presentation.
