Greetings,

We are looking to process Representative Killebrew's reimbursement from Annual Meeting but do need a sign-off from Rep Fischer or Rep LaRosa. If you can print the attached form and sign, that's great. Otherwise a written confirmation will suffice. We just need our Chairs to be in the loop and accountable for the state fund.

Thank you and let me know if there are any questions!

Greetings,

We are looking to process Representative Killebrew's reimbursement from Annual Meeting but do need a sign-off from Rep Fischer or Rep LaRosa. If you can print the attached form and sign, that's great. Otherwise a written confirmation will suffice. We just need our Chairs to be in the loop and accountable for the state fund.

Thank you and let me know if there are any questions!

Dear Members of the Communications and Technology Task Force,

Greetings! I trust you are all doing well and ready for the Annual Meeting in August. If you have not yet registered, you may do so using this link. If you are interested in submitting policy for consideration, remember that today, Monday, July 1 is the 45-day policy submission deadline. Please email any policy to me at jhauenschild@alec.org or feel free to reach out if you have any questions.

I am in the process of finalizing speakers for the Task Force meeting. Right now, topics to discuss include blockchain, internet privacy, internet mapping, smart cities, and facial recognition technologies. Also, during the Thursday plenary breakfast, we will likely be hosting a discussion regarding online speech. We are still in the process of confirming speakers. This is a discussion you will not want to miss.

The Copia Institute, in partnership with NetChoice, released a report entitled "Don't Shoot the Message Board." The Report, for the first time, tries to measure the actual economic impact of CDA Section 230. Among other things, the report tried to compare investment in tech startups in the United States, where Section 230 provides robust intermediate liability, and Europe, where intermediate liability protections are not as strong.

Speaking of online speech, I have been thinking a lot recently about allegations of bias. In case you missed it, Project Veritas released a slew of documents trying to show that Google is biased against conservatives. The evidence is really nothing new, but the resulting furor from the right raises some interesting questions, including:

- So what? Aren't YouTube and Google private platforms? In American society, can't private choose to associate with speech, or not associate with speech, for any reason?
- Employees of any stripe, including non-tech companies, have biases, including political biases. This does not mean that the companies for which they work are biased. Why are tech companies any different?
- If the allegation is that tech companies have too much of a left-leaning bias, who defines "left-leaning bias?" Can a company have too much of a "right-leaning bias." If the argument is that tech companies should be viewpoint neutral, doesn't that mean Hobby Lobby or Masterpiece should be "viewpoint neutral" too and be compelled to provide products or services with which they disagree?
- If the answer is that the government should step in, doesn't that require the government to look at the content of speech and make a value judgment, at the least whether speech is "conservative" or "not conservative"? If the government is making a value judgment on the content of speech, doesn't this violate the First Amendment, especially if the purpose of the judgment is to compel platforms to carry more "conservative" speech?

Finally, I look forward to seeing as many of you as possible during the Annual Meeting!
Regards,

Jonathon Hauenschild
Director, Communications and Technology Task Force

What We Are Writing

► Success can be fleeting. Just ask Microsoft's Internet Explorer, AOL's Instant Messenger, BlackBerry, or Myspace, which were once considered the tech giants of the day. The dynamic nature of the internet should assuage any concerns that a specific platform is "too dominant."

► Uber and gig economy platforms provide new opportunities for people to define their own success. The gig economy is disrupting the concept of work—people no longer need to sit behind a desk for eight hours a day. By increasing worker choice of how to make a living and providing workers the power to define their own success, the gig economy is just starting to increase individual liberty and tap into the life changing potential of innovation.

What I Am Reading

A recent report by security experts concluded that Huawei's telecommunications equipment is vulnerable to attacks from third parties. The report did not go so far as to accuse Huawei of deliberate espionage but concluded that the vulnerabilities represent a pattern of poor security decisions that would potentially put entire networks, such as the emerging 5G networks, at risk.

► Mary Meeker just released her annual Internet Trends report. The report revealed that American tech companies continue to grow and, of the top 30 companies by market capitalization, 18 are American, including the top 5 and 8 of the top 10. A few Chinese companies place in the top ten, as well.

► Senator Ron Wyden, who along with former Republican Chris Cox, authored Section 230 sat down with Reason. In the interview, Senator Wyden explained why Section 230 does not require political neutrality and is essential for the continued growth of the internet. Section 230 protects innovators and encourages the development of platforms that would eventually compete with the current dominant platforms.

State Chairs September Update Call
Friday, September 20 at Noon Eastern

Email not displaying correctly?
View it in your browser.

Dear State Chairs,

Thank you for leading your state delegations. Coming off the ALEC Annual Meeting in Austin, I'm sure you felt the energy throughout the conference. We presented a dramatic shift in meeting programming including experiential learning opportunities, field trips and trainings to complement the robust policy offering ALEC is known for—and it showed. We had stronger legislator participation at this meeting than we have at any meeting over the past five years.

And now, with the launch of the five-year strategic plan (available here), we are poised to accelerate legislator engagement and recruitment to ensure the continued focus on free enterprise and individual liberty in the states.

Over the coming months, paired with the rollout of ALEC CONNECT, we will be unveiling an updated legislator and private sector partner recruitment suite and a new state chair manual. These assets will be supported by a reinvigorated membership team and streamlined business process to make sure you can focus your time and energy on recruiting and engaging leaders and partners in your state.

This Friday's state chair call is an important touch point for the State Chair program. This week, you'll receive your ALEC Connect account information from Jason Bethke. On Friday—via screen share—Jason will offer a live-demo of the platform and answer questions about how to use the new resource.

We'll also introduce the new membership team—Aaron Gillham (who you all know well), Will Davies and Hunter Hamberlin—as well as their regions. In advance of the call, please download this map to acquaint yourself with your ALEC staff representative. Following the state chair call, Aaron, Will and Hunter will reach out and plan individual state calls where we can learn more about your specific needs as well as key organizing dates and other details that will help ALEC show up at the right place and time to recruit and grow the ALEC network.

I'm looking forward to this Friday's call and all the opportunity ahead. Please see below for the agenda and dial-in/screen-share info.

Best,
Bill Meierling
EVP, External Relations
American Legislative Exchange Council

As always—and if you haven't yet done so—please consider verifying or updating your contact information so we can ensure the best and most timely possible contact related to state chair business.

Please also download this state chair calendar item to make finding dial in information easy:

Please join the call at noon ET on Friday, September 20 using the information below:

Brad, Mike, Jason Brook and Brooke,

We are looking forward to the upcoming Austin Annual Meeting. Please see below for the list of Florida registrants as of COB yesterday.

9 legislators from Florida thus far with more than 900 attendees. We expect numbers to surge in the next week as the model policy submission deadline has passed.

Thanks for your recruitment efforts thus far. Please let me know if we can provide any specific material that will help drive attendance from Florida. In advance of the Orlando Annual Meeting next year, we want as many Floridians to see what ALEC is all about as a precursor to your big Annual Meeting next year.

Also, the training track is looking really good. Check your meeting email from Courtney Cook last Tuesday. It has great promotional material on message and campaign trainings that your members might appreciate.

I'll be sending this list weekly between now and the meeting.

Best,
Bill

Dear ALEC Leaders,

If we haven't met already, my name is Tori Eberlein and I am the Director of Private Sector Partnerships and Engagement at ALEC. I will be overseeing the ALEC activities at the NCSL Legislative Summit in Nashville this year. In addition to our exhibit booth (booth #230 – please stop by and say hello!) we are hosting a reception for ALEC members on Wednesday, August 7th from 4:30 PM – 6:00 PM at Margaritaville Nashville (322 Broadway). The goal is to provide ALEC members with an opportunity to connect with their peers and bring prospective members into the ALEC network. As members of ALEC Leadership, we hope that you will prioritize attending this event and bring members of your delegations. This event is open to non-members as well so please feel free to bring your colleagues who you think should be involved!

You and your colleagues may register for the event here: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/alec-reception-during-the-2019-ncsl-legislative-summit-registration-66493228035>

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out: (303) 910-8879. I have also copied Aaron Gillham and Giovanni Triana from ALEC who will be onsite, as well.

Thank you for all you do for ALEC and we look forward to seeing you in Nashville!

Best,

Tori

Dear State Chairs,

This is a follow up message to the notice sent last Friday for the July State Chair Call on July 19, 2019, from noon – 1:00 PM ET. Following this email, you will receive a calendar request.

Annual Meeting is one month away, and the energy around the meeting continues to mount. Our program is looking great with nearly 50 policies under consideration or sunset review (look for an email this afternoon or check here for a list of all Annual Meeting policy, once posted) and a full slate of workshops and trainings.

I'm particularly excited about two things happening for the first time at this Annual Meeting:

- Our friends at Teneo will host a Teneo Causes Showcase on Thursday, August 15. Teneo Causes is an accelerator for freedom. Causes directly accelerates hundreds of ventures to drive the liberty movement and our shared ideas forward. At the Causes Showcase, legislators will learn about new businesses solving problems. From 3D-printed neighborhoods to big data solving the human trafficking crisis, the Causes Showcase is a can't miss opportunity to learn and interact with creators and disruptors creating positive community change.
- Longtime ALEC partner John Jackson will unveil a special opportunity to ALEC Members to recommend nonprofits for the new $250,000 Peterson Prize in Venture Philanthropy. Jackson and his company, Hoplin Jackson Charitable Advisors, will host an "Incubation Station" at the Annual Meeting in the exhibit hall where he will accept nominations for the award.

A full brief on this Friday's State Chair Call is included at the bottom of this email. As always, please check your SPAM and make ALEC as a 'safe sender' to ensure you receive ongoing communications from the ALEC team.

Best,

Bill

Please join your colleagues from across the states on the July State Chair Call, next Friday, July 19, at noon ET.

The Austin Annual Meeting is just around the corner, and we're seeing a surge in attendees thanks to your recruitment efforts—thank you. I'm equally pleased to see travel reimbursement fundraising continue as both public and private sector leaders work to generate interest and support for ALEC members and meetings. We are just about to eclipse 1,000 attendees and expect several hundred more registrants before we meet in just five weeks.

We passed the 45-Day deadline for policy submission last week and intend to distribute all draft model policy to the ALEC membership early next week. On the July State Chair Call, Vice President of Policy Michael Bowman and Chief Economist Jonathan Williams will present an overview of policies under consideration, so you are prepared to talk to your delegations and think about task force assignments or additional legislative recruitment. (Over the long term, we would like to see an ALEC policy champion from every state on every task force.)

In addition, we'll have several special presentations from ALEC members and partners related to activities and opportunities at the Austin meeting:

- Arizona Representative Becky Nutt, Chairwoman of the ALEC Rural Caucus, will discuss caucus goals and strategy as well as provide information on how your members can become more involved.
- American City County Exchange Director Jon Russell will present the agenda for the city/county meeting and highlight how your local decisionmakers can get more involved at the Annual Meeting and on an ongoing basis. This is the sixth ACCE Annual Meeting collocated with ALEC, and we want to continue to grow the program.
- Longtime ALEC partner John Jackson will unveil a special opportunity to ALEC Members to recommend nonprofits for the new $250,000 Peterson Prize in Venture Philanthropy. Jackson and his company, Hoplin Jackson Charitable Advisors, will host an "Incubation Station" at the Annual Meeting in the exhibit hall where he will accept nominations for the award. Charities — or their new projects — that are less than five years old will be favored. This is an excellent opportunity for members of your delegation to promote and spotlight good work being done in their local communities. Pre-conference inquiries about the award may be sent to John@hoplinjackson.org or Nicole@hoplinjackson.org.

Finally, as ALEC continues to serve as the voice of the states in Washington, DC, Karla Jones and Michael Slabinski will discuss two very important legislator letters to Congress in support of the USMCA trade agreement and worker freedom.

ALEC continues to grow, and ALEC members continue to do great things in the states. As you know,

ALEC legislator members are 2.71 times as effective at collaboration, introduction and passage of policy across the states. The reason is simple—the network and shared policy knowledge engendered in the ALEC membership. And, that network begins with your leadership. Thanks for all you do. I’m looking forward to seeing you in Austin.

Sincerely,

Bill Meierling

Dear State Chairs,

I'm looking forward to seeing you next week. Thanks to your recruitment efforts, we are going to welcome nearly 1,400 attendees and a higher overall percentage of legislators to the 46th ALEC Annual Meeting. We also have many first-ever events next week. From the Teneo Causes showcase with startup founders and CEO to the parole reentry simulation and tour of the Community First Village, meeting attendees will have an incredible opportunity to meet, learn and have a little fun. Beginning tomorrow, meeting attendees will receive daily look-ahead emails profiling exciting new opportunities at the Annual Meeting. Please check your inboxes for emails from Lisa B Nelson, Bill Meierling and/or Courtney Cook. When you receive them, consider forwarding them to your delegations (regardless of whether or not they plan to attend).

The State Chair Meeting will take place on Wednesday morning in Room 202 of the JW Marriott Austin. The agenda is included below.

We have some exciting developments to discuss regarding the future of member engagement at ALEC. We have great things in store.

Best,
Bill

Parents, make your trip to this year's ALEC Annual Meeting a Family Affair. With the ALEC Kids' Congress, there's fun for the whole family!

We recognize that it can be tough to leave the family at home on trips like this, so why not bring them with you?

ACCENT on Children's Arrangements, Inc. is thrilled to be partnering with the American Legislative Exchange Council to provide an exciting on-site children's program tailored especially for the children of the ALEC. Children ages 12 months to 17 years are welcome to participate in ALEC Kids' Congress. With activities such as arts & crafts, field trips, movies and more, your children will be begging to come back to Kids' Congress. Our goal is to entertain your child (ren) in a safe environment, so that you can attend the meeting with the peace of mind that they are being taken care of and having a great time too. We've even heard comments from some of you that are envious of the Kids' Congress Agenda!

CEO Update September 2019: ALEC Reimagined - We Believe

Email not displaying correctly?
View it in your browser.

Dear Jason,

2019 has been an incredible year for ALEC. Following the successful completion of a three-year strategic plan to bring ALEC to its 45th Anniversary, we've launched a new five-year plan to continue the organization's growth trajectory and prepare it for a new generation of legislative leader and private sector stakeholder. We are looking to the future to ensure ALEC continues to be a resource for generations to come.

In this CEO Update, I'd like to share with you some of the changes and new offerings coming from ALEC—you've already experienced some of the positive change at our recent ALEC Annual Meeting where we had stronger legislative participation than at any meeting in the past five years, and you're about to experience a great deal more change focused on promoting ALEC value and connecting members with the resources they need both digitally and at ALEC briefings and meetings around the country.

But first, I'd like to reaffirm what we believe, who we are and what we do:

Together, we advance individual liberty and free enterprise in the states. We believe the solutions to our nations' most pressing challenges are found in the laboratories of democracy—the states. We work together, in partnership, across industry and geography to find and accelerate the best policy ideas into action.

ALEC – the American Legislative Exchange Council – is the nation’s premier free market organization of and for legislators. We equip decisionmakers with the tools and resources needed to make sound policy and supports these efforts with a national network of experts from industry, academia and the NGO community.

ALEC recruits innovative leaders who share a commitment to individual liberty and free enterprise. From policy debate and research support to training and networking, ALEC is a valuable resource to the leaders of today and tomorrow – at every stage of public service.

Together, we are on a journey to advance this creed and our valuable exchange. ALEC with its partner local organization ACCE and strong alumni network in statewide and federal office is the only organization that engages decisionmakers and leaders at every level of government throughout the arc of one’s public service.

ALEC is and will remain the premier resource for free market legislative solutions development. And, ALEC reimagined will expand value and service to members. We will accomplish this through: Reimagined meetings, more frequent local engagements and companion digital resources.

Meetings

I’m sure you felt the energy throughout the Austin Annual Meeting. We presented a dramatic shift in meeting programming including experiential learning opportunities, field trips, and trainings to complement the robust policy offering ALEC is known for—and it showed. Future meetings, including the States and Nation Policy Summit in Scottsdale from December 4-6

(registration is open) will be another exciting step in our journey together.

Membership

The five-year plan includes deployment of membership representatives to the states in a new field director program designed to directly link ALEC members and stakeholders with the resources and staff support needed to catalyze increased success. We will focus not only on the existing ALEC family, but work to educate all state and local elected officials with free market education messages. To advance this goal, we are developing new materials and streamlined business process to ensure your time and energy is focused on solutions development.

ALEC CONNECT

ALEC CONNECT is a new member resource—announced at the Annual Meeting and launching this week. It is an online collaboration space for the 21st century, CONNECT puts our national network of state leaders at your fingertips. It's a discussion forum and online resource library where you can ask questions and find solutions.

Together, we advance individual liberty and free enterprise in the states. These new resources will ensure we are linked together in a network and focused on real solutions for the future of our country. I'm energized by what's in store and excited about what we will do together.

Sincerely,

Lisa B. Nelson

Commerce, Insurance and Economic Development Task Force August 6, 2019

Task Force Updates

Dear Task Force Members,

I would like to welcome Michael Slabinski as the new Director of the Commerce, Insurance and Economic Development Task Force. Mike has been with ALEC and CIED for the last two years and has also spent time as part of the American City County Exchange (ACCE). Throughout his time on CIED and ACCE he has focused on topics like land use and zoning, labor and business regulations. He is excited to build out the task force subcommittees, strengthen the executive committee and grow the task force as a whole. This upcoming Annual Meeting will be his 6th meeting with ALEC.

We look forward to seeing you all in Austin.

Best,

Michael Bowman, VP of Policy

4. Resolution Urging Congress to Act to Provide Access to Banking Services to Cannabis and Cannabis-Related Businesses
5. Electronic Pay Choice Act

We start off at 8:30am on Wednesday morning with our Labor and Business Regulation subcommittee where we will go over three occupational licensing reform policies. We then have our Transportation and Infrastructure subcommittee where we will hear about high speed trains and emerging transportation technology. At our Financial Services subcommittee, we will discuss the Electronic Pay Choice Act that is up for renewal and the cannabis banking model.

We are also participating in a joint subcommittee working group with the Civil Justice task force on Administrative Law from 10:00-10:55.

We are excited to follow up on the success of our previous public sector union reform meetings with a dedicated Worker Freedom meeting between 11:00-11:45. If you are interested in attending, please respond to this email so we can get a better idea of how many people will be in attendance. We plan on bringing together legislators and members from other task forces to hear about the progress made since the Janus decision and the different types of public sector union policies in the states.

After the opening lunch, there is a “Paid Family Leave: Politics, Policy Proposals and Potential Pitfalls” workshop from 4:15-5:00pm.

The CIED Task Force Meeting is on Thursday from 2:30-5:30.

Some of the topics the task force will hear include autonomous vehicles, housing affordability and economic development education savings accounts.

Dear State Chairs,

Please see the monthly state chair call notice included below my signature. Momentarily, I'll forward a calendar item (also downloadable in the meeting notice below). As always, at 5:59 PM ET, please check your spam and mark ALEC.org as a safe sender/domain.

This Friday is an important call. We'll introduce new membership representatives, discuss their regions and next outreaches to you, and we'll offer a live demo of ALEC CONNECT – the ALEC member portal. ALEC CONNECT is resource that connects members with research, member policy discussion forums and myriad customer service tools that let members edit their information; view, sign up and submit travel reimbursement requests related to meetings, and chat with ALEC membership support. As we prepare for the States & Nation Policy Summit in Scottsdale this December, this tool will make your jobs easier and provide great benefit to your delegations.

Between now and Friday, you will receive login credentials from Jason Bethke. And, if possible, we'd like you to join the uberconference call from a computer where you can watch the screen share/demo. (instructions below)

Dear State Chairs,

Thank you for leading your state delegations. Coming off the ALEC Annual Meeting in Austin, I'm sure you felt the energy throughout the conference. We presented a dramatic shift in meeting programming including experiential learning opportunities, field trips and trainings to complement the robust policy offering ALEC is known for—and it showed. We had stronger legislator participation at this meeting than we have at any meeting over the past five years.

And now, with the launch of the five-year strategic plan (available here), we are poised to accelerate legislator engagement and recruitment to ensure the continued focus on free enterprise and individual liberty in the states.

Over the coming months, paired with the rollout of ALEC CONNECT, we will be unveiling an updated legislator and private sector partner recruitment suite and a new state chair manual. These assets will be supported by a reinvigorated membership team and streamlined business process to make sure you can focus your time and energy on recruiting and engaging leaders and partners in your state.

This Friday's state chair call is an important touch point for the State Chair program. This week, you'll receive your ALEC Connect account information from Jason Bethke. On Friday—via screen share—Jason will offer a live-demo of the platform and answer questions about how to use the new resource.

We'll also introduce the new membership team—Aaron Gillham (who you all know well), Will Davies and Hunter Hamberlin—as well as their regions. In advance of the call, please download this map to acquaint yourself with your ALEC staff representative. Following the state chair call, Aaron, Will and Hunter will reach out and plan individual state calls where we can learn more about your specific needs as well as key organizing dates and other details that will help ALEC show up at the right place and time to recruit and grow the ALEC network.

I'm looking forward to this Friday's call and all the opportunity ahead. Please see below for the agenda and dial-in/screen-share info.

Hello Representative Fischer,

The amount that is allowed to be reimbursed is completely up to the state chairs in each state. Florida currently has $19,954.49 in the state fund. I've attached a list of all legislative and staff registrants from the meeting. There are a few listed that are not active ALEC members (indicated in the spreadsheet) and I suspect most state chairs will not plan to reimburse them.

Also attached is the reimbursement form which will need to be filled and signed by a state chair. Of course legislators should submit receipts for their expenses too. All of this can be emailed back to me and I'll pass them along to our finance team.

I hope this information helps - let me know if there are any other questions!

Greetings,

We are looking to process Representative Killebrew's reimbursement from Annual Meeting but do need a sign-off from Rep Fischer or Rep LaRosa. If you can print the attached form and sign, that's great. Otherwise a written confirmation will suffice. We just need our Chairs to be in the loop and accountable for the state fund.

Thank you and let me know if there are any questions!

Dear ALEC Board of Directors and Public Sector Chairs,

I want to remind you of the exciting opportunity you have to nominate a deserving organization from your home state brought to ALEC by longtime friend and supporter John Jackson. Through ALEC, the Gregor G. Peterson Foundation will award a $250,000 grant: The Gregor G. Peterson Prize in Venture Philanthropy. The $250,000 award will be given to new nonprofit organizations addressing community challenges in innovative ways. Programs five-years-old or younger will be considered as well as new initiatives within an existing 501c3. The award will be offered at the ALEC States and Nations Policy Summit meeting in Scottsdale December 4-6. Please use this link www.petersonventureprize.com to access the nomination form.

The deadline for submission is quickly approaching on September 15, and you are the people best positioned to know who is doing the most good in the most innovative ways across your state. They already have several submissions, but we want to be sure we have a fantastic collection of efforts. Please take this opportunity to reach out to John and Nicole at HoplinJackson to learn more about the prize or recommend a promising project. John@hoplinjackson.org or Nicole@HoplinJackson.org. Thank you for helping us provide this special opportunity to growing charities.

Campaign Training Sessions at ALEC

The 2019 ALEC Annual Meeting is the perfect place to prepare for 2020. From policy briefings to campaign and message training, ALEC is your one stop shop for the total alignment of your strategy.

ALEC will host a variety of trainings from Wednesday, August 14 – Friday, August 16, with trainers such as Kentucky Chief Leadership Officer Asa James Swan, ALEC Alumnus and former member of congress, Randy Forbes, and the only pollster to get the Trump nomination right—Robert Cahaly from Trafalgar Group.

Read on for the schedule and training information:

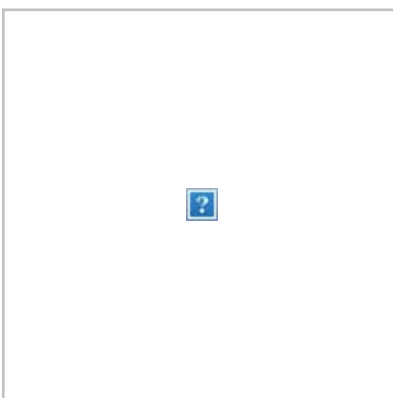

Asa James Swan

Everybody wins when a leader gets better. Leaders set the temperature and define group values both overtly and subtly. An angry, outraged or cynical leader pushes people away while a joyful and patient leader builds winning movements. Learn from Kentucky State Leadership Officer Asa James Swan at the ALEC Annual Meeting about how you can become a winning leader.

Victorious warriors win first and then go to war, while defeated warriors go to war first and then seek to win. Crafting a winning campaign strategy before the battle lines are drawn contributes to success. Participate in a strategy session with ALEC alumnus, former member of congress and Naval War College Distinguished Senior Fellow Randy Forbes on strategy and winning.

Dr. Timothy Daughtry

Dr. Daughtry will show how political policies ultimately rest on the moral foundations of a culture and how the success of the left's "long march" strategy demands more effective messaging strategies from the center-right mainstream. Topics include:

- Why facts and logic are not enough
- How left, right, and center make moral judgments in politics
- Using the Drama Triangle to control the "deep narrative" of a campaign

- The 3R method for getting off defense and gaining the offensive

Standards are Policy, and They Change the Way We Live

Bartlett Cleland - Center for Innovation and Technology

State legislators are keenly aware of the public policy choices they face every day. They are also well tuned to most of the public policy decisions that are made elsewhere, such as in Washington, DC, or in county and city councils around their states. However, some very consequential public policy challenges are found in standards setting bodies where few would even think to look. One such body is the International Organization for Standardization, another is the Sustainability Accounting Standards Board.

The International Organization for Standardization, or ISO, is an international organization created “to facilitate the international coordination and unification of industrial standards.” Such standards are generally a good thing, as they help consumers to understand the quality and safety of products and services. Businesses also benefit as these standards help to increase productivity and reduce costs. But understanding how these standards are developed and by whom is critical to understanding the importance of the “right” standards being created, and to understanding the critical debate now underway.

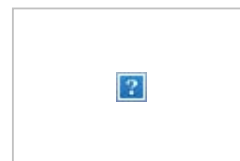

At the ISO, the standards are developed by experts from around the world in the particular subject area where the standards will be applied. The benefit is that a great deal of knowledge and expertise pours into the creation of the standard. But the creation of the “wrong” standard, one that does not reflect what is already under way in industry, can cause industry to have to reimagine their processes and controls costing time and money. This has happened in the past and cost US industry precious time and resources.

As Europe moved to push the globalization of a standard for quality assurance the US was caught somewhat flat-footed. As Europe unified around a standard, the American National Standards Institute began a long, and losing battle to adjust the standard to fit the way that US companies were already doing business. Once the standard, ISO 9000, was approved and became globally accepted, the US had to change how it did business to be able to compete internationally, and incur the costs to conform to a different way of manufacturing and providing services. The US had to catch up with Europe. Even by 1999 the UK still had twice as many companies that were ISO 9000 certified and Germany had as many as the US, despite both countries and their economies being much smaller. The US had failed to identify this key policy shift, largely because the US failed to fully engage from across disciplines, from industry and local, state and federal government.

The same is happening again, this time with a standard for innovation management. The table stakes are even higher. Some of our global competition is investing heavily in making sure their view of innovation wins as a global standard. Countries, such as China, are aggressively pushing their own interest in the development of innovation standards. Oddly, but following the historic pattern, US company representation at the standard setting meetings is minimal, with the US in general having the lowest participation of any country. Robust representation at the global standards setting meetings by government and US companies is just the minimum requirement for the protection of innovation done the right way. As more and more of our nation's wealth and success is grounded in intellectual property and innovation a bad result could be dire for our economy and for US citizens.

Another important standards development is happening in the realm of accounting. The Sustainability Accounting Standards Board (SASB) Foundation was created to "establish industry-specific disclosure standards across environmental, social, and governance topics that facilitate communication between companies and investors about financially material, decision-useful information. Such information should be relevant, reliable and comparable across companies on a global basis." The idea is to develop accounting standards for specific sustainability metrics, because SASB believes that climate-related financial disclosures are most useful to economic decision-makers.

The SASB has a similar structure to the Financial Accounting Standards Board or FASB, which establishes financial accounting and reporting standards for public and private companies and not-for-profit organizations that follow Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP). Without such standards businesses could interpret financial information in whatever way makes them look best. In other words, accounting standards improve the transparency of financial reporting, and provide a means for objective auditing, upon which many financial decisions rest. The SASB would create a world where investors would be provided financial data shaped by standards that are intended to include “sustainability matters” that are financially material. Obviously, one open question is defining sustainability particularly and reaching an understanding of when sustainability, or lack thereof, creates a financial event. Regardless of one’s view the resulting impact will be a quite noticeable policy shift.

Standards are policy. Many people tune out at the very mention of standards, but they are part of the public policy world as their impact can be broad and dramatic for innovation, either enabling or hobbling it. Not all national policy is made where we think, and yet the implications can be just as far reaching, if not more so.

The 46th ALEC Annual Meeting is just a few days away, and we're looking forward to seeing you there. Thank you for joining us for three days of limited government, free markets and federalism.

The full Agenda for the Annual Meeting has been released. In addition, important information for special events and media availability is available. Read on to find out more and make sure you're ready to go for next week.

What's On the Agenda?

ALEC Annual Meetings are chock-full of exciting and informative things to do. Make sure you know the dates and times for everything you're interested in. Be sure to check the full Agenda and figure out your schedule.

Special Events Just For You

From immersive hands-on trainings, to informative and inspiring visits, to morning yoga and a blood drive, there's no shortage of ways to grow and learn at this year's annual meeting. Click below to check out some of the opportunities available to you.

Event Highlight

American Federation for Children Presents: Voices for Choice

Come to the Education and Workforce Development Task Force Reception to meet two of the American Federation for Children Voices for Choice. Walter Blanks and Kenya Green will share their own stories about the life-changing effects of educational options and how they're using those stories to expand educational freedom to more families across the country.

The Reception will take place Thursday, August 15th from 5:30 PM – 6:30 PM, immediately following the Education and Workforce Development Task Force Meeting.

Stop By the ALEC Hospitality Suite

Make sure to stop by the Consumer Technology Association (CTA) hospitality suite and learn how citizens can be connected through mobility-on-demand services like Lime.

Get Your Message Heard

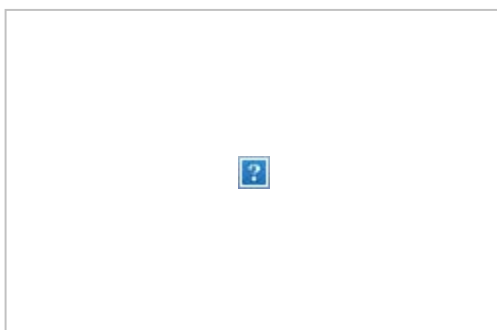

The Annual Meeting also will have numerous opportunities to make yourself available to media and bring your message to the airwaves. Several radio shows will be broadcasting live from the meeting, and as always, interviews with the ALEC Media Team are available. Click below to fill out a Media Availability Form to help us facilitate booking you.

Perception Versus Reality: Free Speech and Big Tech Is the Internet the New Town Square?

The Center to Protect Free Speech in collaboration with the Communications & Technology Task Force, will host an interactive reception about the internet and its role as the new "town square" in American democracy. We will ponder the question, "If the internet is the new 'town square' in American society, what role (if any) should the private sector and government play?" Concerns of censorship, government control of the internet, and a cultural shift of more and more Americans equating "speech" to "violence" has made many wonder what will the future of free speech look like in our virtual society?

Leadership Dinner

We are excited to announce we will be hosting a fireside chat with Arizona Governor Doug Ducey and Shoshana Weissmann of the R Street Institute on Occupational Licensing at the Leadership Dinner.

Governor Ducey has been a leader on limited government, free-market policy throughout his tenure as governor and we are thrilled to welcome him to the ALEC Annual Meeting.

Hello,

I hope this email finds you well. For those of you I don't know, my name is Dan Reynolds and I direct the Public Affairs efforts at ALEC. If you are receiving this email, it's because either one of my colleagues or I believe you might be interested in publicity next week. I'd love to help highlight the substantive policy work you engage in while you are at the 2019 ALEC Annual Meeting in Austin, Texas.

We will have a media row filled with radio personalities like WMAL's Larry O'Connor, Michael Medved, the Epoch Times video team, and many others.

We will also be conducting interviews from the ALEC media booth and I will have my podcast equipment with me to interview you about your work.

If you are indeed interested, please fill out this simple Google form. It will inform our Media team of your availability and we can start to book you. Fill out the comments sections for any specific topics and feel free to share this form with those who would want to engage in publicity that might not have made it on to this list.

Thank you and I look forward to a great Annual Meeting with you all!

Best,

No worries at all, Rep. LaRosa. I will set it tentatively for Friday at 3:00 as Brad is available too. We can wait to hear back from Rep. Fischer to see if that works. I am going to send a calendar invite out shortly. The call shouldn't take more than 30 minutes.

Hello Representative Fischer,

The amount that is allowed to be reimbursed is completely up to the state chairs in each state. Florida currently has $19,954.49 in the state fund. I've attached a list of all legislative and staff registrants from the meeting. There are a few listed that are not active ALEC members (indicated in the spreadsheet) and I suspect most state chairs will not plan to reimburse them.

Also attached is the reimbursement form which will need to be filled and signed by a state chair. Of course legislators should submit receipts for their expenses too. All of this can be emailed back to me and I'll pass them along to our finance team.

I hope this information helps - let me know if there are any other questions!

Greetings,

We are looking to process Representative Killebrew's reimbursement from Annual Meeting but do need a sign-off from Rep Fischer or Rep LaRosa. If you can print the attached form and sign, that's great. Otherwise a written confirmation will suffice. We just need our Chairs to be in the loop and accountable for the state fund.

Thank you and let me know if there are any questions!

Dear State Chairs,

Thank you for participating in last Friday's state chair call. We had 40 participants for the launch of ALEC Connect: the ALEC member portal. As we continue to invest resources and onboard members on the new platform (through mid-October), we are available for coaching sessions to help you get the most out of the new tool. Videos and other training resources will also be available in the coming weeks.

This week, Aaron, Will and Hunter will reach out to each of you to plan a conference call to make introductions, plan for 2020 and learn about key dates and needed resources in your state. Hunter and I had the first such call with North Dakota state chairs Representative Dan Ruby and Representative Vicki Steiner last Friday following the state chair call, and we are looking forward to the discussions with each state lead.

Please see the regional membership engagement manager map as well as the meeting minutes attached (and below). If you were unable to attend the call, but would like to listen to a recording, please reach out to me or your state member engagement manager – Aaron, Will and Hunter.

Best,

Bill

PS – Please send me the name of the person in charge of redistricting in your state.

PPS – The next state chair call will be on Friday, October 18 from noon – 1:00 PM ET

State Chairs Call – Minutes

September 20, 2019

- Call to Order – Representative Garry Smith
 - Thank you for everyone joining and welcome to the September State Chairs Call
 - ALEC Connect will be extremely helpful for us State Chairs
- Opening Remarks – Bill Meierling
 - The ALEC Annual Meeting had over 1,500 participants
 - 20% state legislators – the highest rate at an ALEC meeting
 - 300 first time attendees
 - 120 attended the first-time attendee training
 - State Chairs have an extra $2,000 to bring new attendees to the 2019 States and Nation Policy Summit. This stipend is included in the ALEC operating budget.
 - You manage the distribution and can apply it how you like: $1,000 for two attendees, $500 for four new attendees, $100 for 20 new members, etc.
 - ALEC Action will host a golf tournament following the States and Nation Policy Summit
 - Saturday December 7th 2019 after the States and Nation Policy Summit
 - Justin Hill and Tim Jones are our honorary chairs for this golf tournament
 - Interested? Tell Events Manager Gwen Hodge: ghodge@alec.org
 - Who in your state oversees redistricting? Please inform your state membership representative

- Membership Team Profile/Regions – Bill Meierling
 - Aaron Gillham, Will Davies and Hunter Hamberlin are your regional engagement representatives (Download the attached map)
 - Action: your regional engagement representative will reach out this week to plan a conference call to learn more about your state goals/needs/important dates
- ALEC Connect – Jason Bethke
 - ALEC Connect is the new collaboration and member services space for ALEC community. It provides access to:
 - Organization calendar, travel reimbursement request submission, online helpdesk
 - Research, legislator discussion forums
 - Members will be onboarded in waves through mid-October
 - Jason Bethke is available for q&a and will share video explainers on how to use the platform
 - Action Item: Please finalize your profile with a picture and post or comment within an ALEC Connect group with three tags to your post so others can easily find it

American Legislative Exchange Council

Hi Jason Fischer,

We've built a mobile app for the 46th ALEC Annual Meeting! It has all the important information you'll need for the event, and features to enhance your event experience.

Step 1: Download the App!

The first thing you'll need to do is download the app on the device you're bringing to the event.

Don't have iOS or Android? Skip Step 1 and go straight to Step 2 to verify your account and use the mobile web version of the app.

Download the App

Step 2: Verify Your Account

Then, come back to this email using the same device from Step 1 and click Verify Account to unlock all of the app's advanced features. Be sure to search for "46th ALEC Annual Meeting" in the Attendee Hub App.

Welcome to ALEC CONNECT

Hello Everyone,

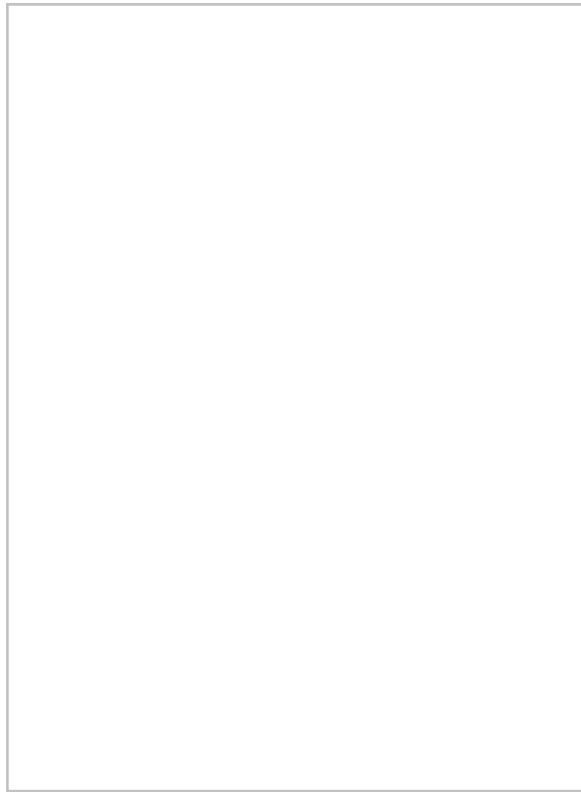

Thank you for being the first to join ALEC Connect – the newest addition in the ALEC network. It's a nonstop, 24-7 meeting filled with the nation's best policy experts. And it's always just a click away. You are the ALEC Leaders and Early Adopters who will set this system off for immediate success. Thank you for jumping in early.

For starters, I want to walk you through the first steps to set up your account. Please follow the screenshots and you will be off to the races.

Steps are included below for login, editing contact information and creating a post.

Logging into ALEC CONNECT:

1. Check your inbox for a Salesforce-generated password creation email. It will be sent by 'Members' and entitled "Your new Members password"
2. Click the link in the email and create a password for your account. Upon saving, you will be directed into ALEC Connect

Updating your profile and contact information:

1. Click 'My Profile' in the header menu, then select 'My Contact'

You're now on your Profile page

2. Click the camera icon next to the grey headshot to upload a photo of yourself
3. Click 'Edit' in the upper-right to change your phone number, address or email.

Subscribe to Task Forces and other Groups:

1. Select 'Groups' from the header menu, and then click the name of a Task Force you'd like to view.
2. You can post within the Task Force, as well as change your subscription settings in the upper-right corner. Note that you can adjust how often you receive updates from this Task Force Subscribing to a Task Force does not mean you are joining as a member. You may submit Task Force changes to ALEC staff.

Create a post with Tags in a Task Force:

1. Navigate to the Task Force you want to post in (Groups > Click the Task Force)
2. Click in the 'Post' space and draft your post. Add links or photos.
3. ALWAYS REMEMBER to tag your posts with the 3-5 most relevant key words of the topic or article.
4. ALSO TAG Members or Staff who may be relevant to the conversation.

I used the tags Virginia, Micromobility, Scooter, Transportation and CIED in my post.

Please comment on a post already made in a Task Force, in addition to making your own new post.

ALEC Connect will keep ALEC resources at your fingertips, whenever you want them. And, you can collaborate with your fellow legislators and stakeholders in a protected ALEC environment throughout the whole year. It's like a constant, digital Annual Meeting. You can stay up to date with your task force, and you can learn more about another task force of which you aren't a member. All you have to do is click subscribe. It's that simple.

Ultimately, this new system will enhance your continual stakeholder relationships from one off conversations into continual, fully-fledged discussions. ALEC Connect will accelerate our solutions-first attitude here at ALEC, and I'm excited to begin this brand-new journey with you.

All the Best,

Lisa B. Nelson

A Note from the Center VP

It's been a busy summer at the Center for State Fiscal Reform. Below you'll find some of our latest media hits and a write-up on our recent Southeastern Regional ALEC Academy. Our team is also gearing up for an event-filled August. First up, we'll host our first Great Lakes Regional Academy in Michigan. Then, we're headed to Austin, Texas for the ALEC Annual Meeting. We can't wait to see you there. If you haven't registered yet, you can do that HERE.

As always, please keep in touch and let me know whenever we can be helpful to you.
