Subject: Speaking Invitation at The Heritage Foundation Symposium on Federalism (July 17)
Importance: High

Dear Ms. Hamilton:

I hope this email finds you well. Attached, please find a formal invitation from Heritage's President, Kay Coles James, to Lieutenant Governor Patrick to speak at The Heritage Foundation's upcoming symposium, Restoring Federalism: Giving Power Back to the States on the morning of July 17 at our headquarters in Washington, D.C. We are working on this half-day conference in coordination with the White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs. The attached invitation contains more information about the program and event details, and we have also included a draft agenda with the full list of invited speakers.

We hope Lieutenant Governor Patrick will consider joining us next month for this special program. Please don't hesitate to contact me with any questions. I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,

Jessica

Restoring Federalism: Giving Power Back to the States

The Heritage Foundation, in coordination with the White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs, is hosting a half-day symposium to highlight the importance of promoting good federalism. Bringing together the leading voices in our government and key thought leaders, we will discuss what more can be done by the Administration, what opportunities we might have in Congress to advance principles of federalism, and how outside groups and state officials might best help advance the cause of freedom. Join us for a half-day symposium, as we examine policies to promote cooperative federalism on an array of fronts.

Rick Dearborn

Distinguished Visiting Fellow in Federalism, The Heritage Foundation and Partner, The Cypress Group LLC

For the past thirty years Rick Dearborn has served two U.S. Presidents, six U.S. Senators, a premier think tank and a major trade association on Capitol Hill.

From January of 2017 until mid-March of 2018, Mr. Dearborn served The President of the United States as his Deputy Chief of Staff. Mr. Dearborn was responsible for the day-to-day operations of ~100 staff in five separate Executive Office of the President (EOP) departments

Three days after the 2016 election, President-Elect Trump tapped Vice President-elect Mike Pence to serve as Chairman of the Presidential Transition Team and asked Mr. Dearborn to serve as the Executive Director. Daily responsibility included the direction and management of the core components of the Transition Team's 600+ members.

Prior to leading the President's Transition team, Mr. Dearborn had served for twelve years from 2005 until January of 2017 as Chief of Staff to then U.S. Senator Jeff Sessions.

He served Senator Sessions for a total of eighteen and a half years having been originally hired as the Senator's Legislative Director in 1997.

In 2003, between serving as Senator Sessions' Legislative Director and Chief of Staff, Mr. Dearborn was nominated by President George W. Bush and confirmed by the U.S. Senate to become the Assistant Secretary of Energy for Congressional Affairs, where he worked with the Senate, House and Tribal Governments on the President's Energy agenda.

Prior employment has included working at the National Republican Senatorial Committee for Sens. Rudy Boschwitz and Don Nickles, The Heritage Foundation, where he was Director of Congressional Relations, and lobbying for the American Medical Association. He has served in Senate Leadership Offices as well, for Senators Trent Lott and Bob Kasten on the Senate Republican Conference, and Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison as Executive Director of the Senate Steering Committee.

Mr. Dearborn graduated from the University of Oklahoma in 1988. He and his wife, Gina split their time between homes in Alexandria, VA and Birmingham, AL.
