RULE 2.420. PUBLIC ACCESS TO AND PROTECTION OF JUDICIAL BRANCH RECORDS

(a) Scope and Purpose. Subject to the rulemaking power of the Florida Supreme Court provided by article V, section 2, Florida Constitution, the following rule shall govern public access to and the protection of the records of the judicial branch of government. The public shall have access to all records of the judicial branch of government, except as provided below. Access to all electronic and other court records shall be governed by the Standards for Access to Electronic Court Records and Access Security Matrix, as adopted by the supreme court in Administrative Order AOSC14-19 or the then-current Standards for Access. Remote access to electronic court records shall be permitted in counties where the supreme court's conditions for release of such records are met.

(b) Definitions.

(1) "Records of the judicial branch" are all records, regardless of physical form, characteristics, or means of transmission, made or received in connection with the transaction of official business by any judicial branch entity and consist of:

(A) "court records," which are the contents of the court file, including the progress docket and other similar records generated to document activity in a case, transcripts filed with the clerk, documentary exhibits in the custody of the clerk, and electronic records, videotapes, or stenographic tapes of depositions or other proceedings filed with the clerk, and electronic records, videotapes, or stenographic tapes of court proceedings; and

(B) "administrative records," which are all other records made or received pursuant to court rule, law, or ordinance, or in connection with the transaction of official business by any judicial branch entity.

(2) "Judicial branch" means the judicial branch of government, which includes the state courts system, the clerk of court when acting as an arm of the court, The Florida Bar, the Florida Board of Bar Examiners, the Judicial Qualifications Commission, and all other entities established by or operating under the authority of the supreme court or the chief justice.

(3) "Custodian." The custodian of all administrative records of any court is the chief justice or chief judge of that court, except that each judge is the custodian of all records that are solely within the possession and control of that judge. As to all other records, the custodian is the official charged with the responsibility for the care, safekeeping, and supervision of such records. All references to "custodian" mean the custodian or the custodian's designee.

(4) "Confidential," as applied to information contained within a record of the judicial branch, means that such information is exempt from the public right of access under article I, section 24(a) of the Florida Constitution and may be released only to the persons or organizations designated by law, statute, or court order. As applied to information contained within a court record, the term "exempt" means that such information is confidential. Confidential information includes information that is confidential under this rule or under a court order entered pursuant to this rule. To the extent reasonably practicable, restriction of access to confidential information shall be implemented in a manner that does not restrict access to any portion of the record that is not confidential.

(5) "Affected non-party" means any non-party identified by name in a court record that contains confidential information pertaining to that non-party.

(6) "Filer" means any person who files a document in court records, except "filer" does not include the clerk of court or designee of the clerk, a judge, magistrate, hearing officer, or designee of a judge, magistrate or hearing officer.

(7) "Crime victim" means anyperson who has invoked the protections of Article I, Section 16(b)(5) of the Florida Constitution.

(c) Confidential and Exempt Records. The following records of the judicial branch shall be confidential:

(1) Trial and appellate court memoranda, drafts of opinions and orders, court conference records, notes, and other written materials of a similar nature prepared by judges or court staff acting on behalf of or at the direction of the court as part of the court's judicial decision-making process utilized in disposing of cases and controversies before Florida courts unless filed as a part of the court record;

(2) Memoranda or advisory opinions that relate to the administration of the court and that require confidentiality to protect a compelling governmental interest, including, but not limited to, maintaining court security, facilitating a criminal investigation, or protecting public safety, which cannot be adequately protected by less restrictive measures. The degree, duration, and manner of confidentiality imposed shall be no broader than necessary to protect the compelling governmental interest involved, and a finding shall be made that no less restrictive measures are available to protect this interest. The decision that confidentiality is required with respect to such administrative memorandum or written advisory opinion shall be made by the chief judge;

(3) (A) Complaints alleging misconduct against judges until probable cause is established;

(B) Complaints alleging misconduct against other entities or individuals licensed or regulated by the courts, until a finding of probable cause or no probable cause is established, unless otherwise provided. Such finding should be made within the time limit set by law or rule. If no time limit is set, the finding should be made within a reasonable period of time;

(4) Periodic evaluations implemented solely to assist judges in improving their performance, all information gathered to form the bases for the evaluations, and the results generated therefrom;

(5) Only the names and qualifications of persons applying to serve or serving as unpaid volunteers to assist the court, at the court's request and direction, shall be accessible to the public. All other information contained in the applications by and evaluations of persons applying to serve or serving as unpaid volunteers shall be confidential unless made public by court order based upon a showing of materiality in a pending court proceeding or upon a showing of good cause;

(6) Copies of arrest and search warrants and supporting affidavits retained by judges, clerks, or other court personnel until execution of said warrants or until a determination is made by law enforcement authorities that execution cannot be made;

(7) All records made confidential under the Florida and United States Constitutions and Florida and federal law;

(8) All records presently deemed to be confidential by court rule, including the Rules for Admission to the Bar, by Florida Statutes, by prior case law of the State of Florida, and by the rules of the Judicial Qualifications Commission;

Whether or not any motion filed under subdivision (e)(1) is agreed to by the parties, the court may in its discretion hold a hearing on such motion. Any hearing held under this subdivision must be an open proceeding, except that any person may request that the court conduct all or part of the hearing in camera to protect the interests set forth in subdivision (c). Any person may request expedited consideration of and ruling on the motion. The movant shall be responsible for ensuring that a complete record of any hearing held pursuant to this subdivision is created, either by use of a court

The court may in its discretion require prior public notice of the hearing on such a motion in accordance with the procedure for providing public notice of court orders set forth in subdivision (e)(4) or by providing such other public notice as the court deems appropriate. The court must issue a ruling on the motion within 30 days of the hearing.

(3) Any order granting in whole or in part a motion filed under subdivision (e) must state the following with as much specificity as possible without revealing the confidential information:

(D) whether the progress docket or similar records generated to document activity in the case are determined to be confidential;

(E) the particular information that is determined to be confidential;

(F) identification of persons who are permitted to view the confidential information;

(G) that the court finds that: (i) the degree, duration, and manner of confidentiality ordered by the court are no broader than necessary to protect the interests set forth in subdivision (c); and (ii) no less restrictive measures are available to protect the interests set forth in subdivision (c); and

(H) that the clerk of the court is directed to publish the order in accordance with subdivision (e)(4).

(4) Except as provided by law or court rule, notice must be given of any written order granting in whole or in part a motion made under subdivision (e)(1) as follows:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(A) within 10 days following the entry of the order, the clerk of court must post a copy of the order on the clerk's website and in a prominent public location in the courthouse; and

(B) the order must remain posted in both locations for no less than 30 days. This subdivision shall not apply to orders determining that court records are confidential under subdivision (c)(7) or (c)(8).

(5) If a nonparty requests that the court vacate all or part of an order issued under subdivision (e) or requests that the court order the unsealing of records designated as confidential under subdivision (d), the request must be made by a written motion, filed in that court, that states with as much specificity as possible the bases for the motion. The motion must set forth the specific legal authority and any applicable legal standards supporting the motion. The movant must serve all parties and all affected non-parties with a copy of the motion. Except when a motion filed under this subdivision represents that all parties and affected non-parties agree to all of the relief requested, the court must, as soon as practicable but no later than 30 days after the filing of a motion under this subdivision, hold a hearing on the motion. Regardless of whether any motion filed under this subdivision is agreed to by the parties and affected non-parties, the court may in its discretion hold a hearing on such motion. Any person may request expedited consideration of and ruling on the motion. Any hearing held under this subdivision must be an open proceeding, except that any person may request that the court conduct all or part of the hearing in camera to protect the interests set forth in subdivision (c). The court must issue a ruling on the motion within 30 days of the hearing. The movant shall be responsible for ensuring that a complete record of any hearing held under this subdivision be created, either by use of a court reporter or by any recording device that is provided as a matter of right by the court. This subdivision shall not apply to orders determining that court records are confidential under subdivision (c)(7) or (c)(8).

(f) Request to Determine Confidentiality of Court Records in Criminal Cases.

(1) Subdivisions (e) and (h) shall apply to any motion by the state, a defendant, or an affected non-party to determine the confidentiality of trial court records in criminal cases under subdivision (c), except as provided in subdivision (f)(3). As to any motion filed in the trial court under subdivision (f)(3), the following procedure shall apply:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(A) Unless the motion represents that the state, defendant(s), and all affected non-parties subject to the motion agree to all of the relief requested, the court must hold a hearing on the motion filed under this subdivision within 15 days of the filing of the motion. Any hearing held under this subdivision must be an open proceeding, except that any person may request that the court conduct all or part of the hearing in camera to protect the interests set forth in subdivision (c)(9)(A).

(B) The court shall issue a written ruling on a motion filed under this subdivision within 10 days of the hearing on a contested motion or within 10 days of the filing of an agreed motion.

(2) Subdivision (g) shall apply to any motion to determine the confidentiality of appellate court records under subdivision (c), except as provided in subdivision (f)(3). As to any motion filed in the appellate court under subdivision (f)(3), the following procedure shall apply:

(A) The motion may be made with respect to a record that was presented or presentable to a lower tribunal, but no determination concerning confidentiality was made by the lower tribunal, or a record presented to an appellate court in an original proceeding.

(B) A response to a motion filed under this subdivision may be served within 10 days of service of the motion.

(C) The court shall issue a written ruling on a motion filed under this subdivision within 10 days of the filing of a response on a contested motion or within 10 days of the filing of an uncontested motion.

(3) Any motion to determine whether a court record that pertains to a plea agreement, substantial assistance agreement, or other court record that reveals the identity of a confidential informant or active criminal investigative information is confidential under subdivision (c)(9)(A)(i), (c)(9)(A)(iii), (c)(9)(A)(v), or (c)(9)(A)(vii) of this rule may be made in the form of a written motion captioned "Motion to Determine Confidentiality of Court Records." Any motion made pursuant to this subdivision must be treated as confidential and indicated on the docket by generic title only, pending a ruling on the motion or further order of the court. As to any motion made under this subdivision, the following procedure shall apply:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(A) Information that is the subject of such motion must be treated as confidential by the clerk pending the court's ruling on the motion. Filings containing the information must be indicated on the docket in a manner that does not reveal the confidential nature of the information.

(B) The provisions of subdivisions (e)(3)(A)–(G), (g)(7), (h), and (j), shall apply to motions made under this subdivision. The provisions of subdivisions (e)(1), (e)(2), (e)(3)(H), (e)(4), and (e)(5) shall not apply to motions made under this subdivision.

(C) No order entered under this subdivision may authorize or approve the sealing of court records for any period longer than is necessary to achieve the objective of the motion, and in no event longer than 120 days. Extensions of an order issued hereunder may be granted for 60–day periods, but each such extension may be ordered only upon the filing of another motion in accordance with the procedures set forth under this subdivision. In the event of an appeal or review of a matter in which an order is entered under this subdivision, the lower tribunal shall retain jurisdiction to consider motions to extend orders issued hereunder during the course of the appeal or review proceeding.

(D) The clerk of the court shall not publish any order of the court issued hereunder in accordance with subdivision (e)(4) or (g)(4) unless directed by the court. The docket shall indicate only the entry of the order.

(4) This subdivision does not authorize the falsification of court records or progress dockets.

(g) Request to Determine Confidentiality of Appellate Court Records in Noncriminal Cases.

(1) Subdivision (e)(1) shall apply to any motion filed in the appellate court to determine the confidentiality of appellate court records in noncriminal cases under subdivision (c). Such a motion may be made with respect to a record that was presented or presentable to a lower tribunal, but no determination concerning confidentiality was made by the lower tribunal, or a record presented to an appellate court in an original proceeding.

(2) A response to a motion filed under subdivision (g)(1) may be served within 10 days of service of the motion. The court shall issue a written ruling on a written motion filed under this subdivision within 30 days of the filing of a response on a contested motion or within 30 days of the filing of an uncontested written motion.

(3) Any order granting in whole or in part a motion filed under subdivision (g)(1) must be in compliance with the guidelines set forth in subdivisions (e)(3)(A)–(e)(3)(H). Any order requiring the sealing of an appellate court record operates to also make those same records confidential in the lower tribunal during the pendency of the appellate proceeding.

(4) Except as provided by law, within 10 days following the entry of an order granting a motion under subdivision (g)(1), the clerk of the appellate court must post a copy of the order on the clerk's website and must provide a copy of the order to the clerk of the lower tribunal, with directions that the clerk of the lower tribunal shall seal the records identified in the order. The order must remain posted by the clerk of the appellate court for no less than 30 days.

(5) If a nonparty requests that the court vacate all or part of an order issued under subdivision (g)(3), or requests that the court order the unsealing of records designated as confidential under subdivision (d), the request must be made by a written motion, filed in that court, that states with as much specificity as possible the bases for the request. The motion must set forth the specific legal authority and any applicable legal standards supporting the motion. The movant must serve all parties and all affected non-parties with a copy of the motion. A response to a motion may be served within 10 days of service of the motion.

(6) The party seeking to have an appellate record sealed under this subdivision has the responsibility to ensure that the clerk of the lower tribunal is alerted to the issuance of the order sealing the records and to ensure that the clerk takes appropriate steps to seal the records in the lower tribunal.

(7) Upon conclusion of the appellate proceeding, the lower tribunal may, upon appropriate motion showing changed circumstances, revisit the appellate court's order directing that the records be sealed.

(8) Records of a lower tribunal determined to be confidential by that tribunal must be treated as confidential during any review proceedings. In any case where information has been determined to be confidential under this rule, the clerk of the lower tribunal shall so indicate in the index transmitted to the appellate court. If the information was determined to be confidential in an order, the clerk's index must identify such order by date or docket number. This subdivision does not preclude review by an appellate court, under Florida Rule of Appellate Procedure 9.100(d), or affect the standard of review by an appellate court, of an order by a lower tribunal determining that a court record is confidential.

(h) Oral Motions to Determine Confidentiality of Trial Court Records.

(1) Notwithstanding the written notice requirements of subdivision (d)(2) and written motion requirements of subdivisions (d)(3), (e)(1), and (f), the movant may make an oral motion to determine the confidentiality of trial court records under subdivision (c), provided:

(A) except for oral motions under subdivision (f)(3), the oral motion otherwise complies with subdivision (e)(1);

(B) all parties and affected non-parties are present or properly noticed or the movant otherwise demonstrates reasonable efforts made to obtain the attendance or any absent party or affected non-party;

(C) the movant shows good cause why the movant was unable to timely comply with the written notice requirements as set forth in subdivision (d)(2) or the written motion requirement as set forth in subdivision (d)(3), (e)(1), or (f), as applicable;

(D) the oral motion is reduced to written form in compliance with subdivision (d), (e)(1), or (f), as applicable, and is filed within 5 days following the date of making the oral motion;

(E) except for oral motions under subdivisions (f)(3), the provisions of subdivision (e)(2) shall apply to the oral motion, procedure and hearing;

(F) the provisions of subdivision (f)(1)(A) and (f)(1)(B) and (f)(3) shall apply to any oral motion under subdivision (f)(3); and

(G) oral motions are not applicable to subdivision (f)(2) or (g) or extensions of orders under subdivision (f)(3)(C).

(2) The court may deny any oral motion made pursuant to subdivision (h)(1) if the court finds that that movant had the ability to timely comply with the written notice requirements in subdivision (d) or the written motion requirements of (d)(3), (e)(1), or (f), as applicable, or the movant failed to provide adequate notice to the parties and affected non-parties of the confidentiality issues to be presented to the court.

(3) Until the court renders a decision regarding the confidentiality issues raised in any oral motion, all references to purported confidential information as set forth in the oral motion shall occur in a manner that does not allow public access to such information.

(4) If the court grants in whole or in part any oral motion to determine confidentiality, the court shall issue a written order that does not reveal the confidential information and complies with the applicable subdivision of this rule as follows:

(A) For any oral motion under subdivision (e) or (f)(1), except subdivisions (f)(1)(A) and (f)(1)(B), the written order must be issued within 30 days of the hearing and must comply with subdivision (e)(3).

(B) For any oral motion under subdivision (f)(3), the written order must be issued within 10 days of the hearing on a contested motion or filing of an agreed motion and must comply with subdivision (f)(3).

(i) Sanctions. After notice and an opportunity to respond, and upon determining that a motion, filing, or other activity described below was not made in good faith and was not supported by a sound legal or factual basis, the court may impose sanctions against any party or non-party and/or their attorney, if that party or non-party and/or their attorney, in violation of the applicable provisions of this rule:

(1) seeks confidential status for non-confidential information by filing a notice under subdivision (d)(2);

(2) seeks confidential status for non-confidential information by making any oral or written motion under subdivision (d)(3), (e), (f), (g), or (h);

(3) seeks access to confidential information under subdivision (j) or otherwise;

(4) fails to file a Notice of Confidential Information within Court Filing in compliance with subdivision (d)(2);

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(5) makes public or attempts to make public by motion or otherwise information that should be maintained as confidential under subdivision (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), or (h); or

(6) otherwise makes or attempts to make confidential information part of a non-confidential court record.

Nothing in this subdivision is intended to limit the authority of a court to enforce any court order entered pursuant to this rule.

(j) Procedure for Obtaining Access to Confidential Court Records.

(1) The clerk of the court must allow access to confidential court records to persons authorized by law, or any person authorized by court order.

(2) A court order allowing access to confidential court records may be obtained by filing a written motion which must:

(A) identify the particular court record(s) or a portion of the court record(s) to which the movant seeks to obtain access with as much specificity as possible without revealing the confidential information;

(B) specify the bases for obtaining access to such court records;

(C) set forth the specific legal authority for obtaining access to such court records; and

(D) contain a certification that the motion is made in good faith and is supported by a sound factual and legal basis.

(3) The movant must serve a copy of the written motion to obtain access to confidential court records on all parties and reasonably ascertainable affected non-parties and the court must hold a hearing on the written motion within a reasonable period of time.

(4) Any order granting access to confidential court records must:

(A) describe the confidential information with as much specificity as possible without revealing the confidential information, including specifying the precise location of the information within the court records;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(B) identify the persons who are permitted to view the confidential information in the court records;

(C) identify any person who is permitted to obtain copies of the confidential court records; and

(D) state the time limits imposed on such access, if any, and any other applicable terms or limitations to such access.

(5) The filer of confidential court records, that filer's attorney of record, or that filer's agent as authorized by that filer in writing may obtain access to such confidential records pursuant to this subdivision.

(6) Unless otherwise provided, an order granting access to confidential court records under this subdivision shall not alter the confidential status of the record.

(k) Procedure for Service on Victims and Affected Non-parties and When Addresses Are Confidential.

(1) In criminal cases, when the defendant is required to serve any notice or motion described in this rule on an alleged victim of a crime, service shall be on the state attorney, who shall send or forward the notice or motion to the alleged victim.

(2) Except as set forth in subdivision (k)(1), when serving any notice or motion described in this rule on any affected non-party whose name or address is not confidential, the filer or movant shall use reasonable efforts to locate the affected non-party and may serve such affected non-party by any method set forth in Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.516.

(3) Except as set forth in subdivision (k)(1), when serving any notice or motion described in this rule and the name or address of any party or affected non-party is confidential, the filer or movant must state prominently in the caption of the notice or motion "Confidential Party or Confidential Affected Non-Party — Court Service Requested." When a notice or motion so designated is filed, the court shall be responsible for providing a copy of the notice or motion to the party or affected non-party, by any method permitted in Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.516, in such a way as to not reveal the confidential information.

(l) Denial of Access Request for Administrative Records. Expedited review of denials of access to administrative records of the judicial branch shall be provided through an action for mandamus or other appropriate relief, in the following manner:

(1) When a judge who has denied a request for access to records is the custodian, the action shall be filed in the court having appellate jurisdiction to review the decisions of the judge denying access. Upon order issued by the appellate court, the judge denying access to records shall file a sealed copy of the requested records with the appellate court.

(2) All other actions under this rule shall be filed in the circuit court of the circuit in which such denial of access occurs.

(m) Procedure for Public Access to Judicial Branch Records. Requests and responses to requests for access to records under this rule shall be made in a reasonable manner.

(1) Requests for access to judicial branch records shall be in writing and shall be directed to the custodian. The request shall provide sufficient specificity to enable the custodian to identify the requested records. The reason for the request is not required to be disclosed.

(2) The custodian shall be solely responsible for providing access to the records of the custodian's entity. The custodian shall determine whether the requested record is subject to this rule and, if so, whether the record or portions of the record are exempt from disclosure. The custodian shall determine the form in which the record is provided. If the request is denied, the custodian shall state in writing the basis for the denial.

(3) Fees for copies of records in all entities in the judicial branch of government, except for copies of court records, shall be the same as those provided in section 119.07, Florida Statutes.

Committee Note

1995 Amendment. This rule was adopted to conform to the 1992 addition of article I, section 24, to the Florida Constitution. Amendments to this rule were adopted in response to the 1994 recommendations of the Study Committee on Confidentiality of Records of the Judicial Branch.

Subdivision (b) has been added by amendment and provides a definition of "judicial records" that is consistent with the definition of "court records" contained in rule 2.075(a)(1) [renumbered as 2.430(a)(1) in 2006] and the definition of "public records" contained in chapter 119, Florida Statutes. The word "exhibits" used in this definition of judicial records is intended to refer only to documentary evidence and does not refer to tangible items of evidence such as firearms, narcotics, etc. Judicial records within this definition include all judicial records and data regardless of the form in which they are kept. Reformatting of information may be necessary to protect copyrighted material. Seigle v. Barry, 422 So. 2d 63 (Fla. 4th DCA 1982), review denied, 431 So. 2d 988 (Fla. 1983).

The definition of "judicial records" also includes official business information transmitted via an electronic mail (e-mail) system. The judicial branch is presently experimenting with this new technology. For example, e-mail is currently being used by the judicial branch to transmit between judges and staff multiple matters in the courts including direct communications between judges and staff and other judges, proposed drafts of opinions and orders, memoranda concerning pending cases, proposed jury instructions, and even votes on proposed opinions. All of this type of information is exempt from public disclosure under rules 2.051(c)(1) and (c)(2) [renumbered as 2.420(c)(1) and (c)(2) in 2006]. With few exceptions, these examples of e-mail transmissions are sent and received between judicial officials and employees within a particular court's jurisdiction. This type of e-mail is by its very nature almost always exempt from public record disclosure pursuant to rule 2.051(c). In addition, official business e-mail transmissions sent to or received by judicial officials or employees using dial-in equipment, as well as the use of on-line outside research facilities such as Westlaw, would also be exempt e-mail under rule 2.051(c). On the other hand, we recognize that not all e-mail sent and received within a particular court's jurisdiction will fall into an exception under rule 2.051(c). The fact that a non-exempt e-mail message made or received in connection with official court business is transmitted intra-court does not relieve judicial officials or employees from the obligation of properly having a record made of such messages so they will be available to the public similar to any other written communications. It appears that official business e-mail that is sent or received by persons outside a particular court's jurisdiction is largely non-exempt and is subject to recording in some form as a public record. Each court should develop a means to properly make a record of non-exempt official business e-mail by either electronically storing the mail or by making a hard copy. It is important to note that, although official business communicated by e-mail transmissions is a matter of public record under the rule, the exemptions provided in rule 2.051(c) exempt many of these judge/staff transmissions from the public record. E-mail may also include transmissions that are clearly not official business and are, consequently, not required to be recorded as a public record. Each court should also publish an e-mail address for public access. The individual e-mail addresses of judicial officials and staff are exempt under rule 2.051(c)(2) to protect the compelling interests of maintaining the uninterrupted use of the computer for research, word-processing, preparation of opinions, and communication during trials, and to ensure computer security.

Subdivision (c)(3) was amended by creating subparts (a) and (b) to distinguish between the provisions governing the confidentiality of complaints against judges and complaints against other individuals or entities licensed or regulated by the Supreme Court.

Subdivision (c)(5) was amended to make public the qualifications of persons applying to serve or serving the court as unpaid volunteers such as guardians ad litem, mediators, and arbitrators and to make public the applications and evaluations of such persons upon a showing of materiality in a pending court proceeding or upon a showing of good cause.

Subdivision (c)(9) has also been amended. Subdivision (c)(9) was adopted to incorporate the holdings of judicial decisions establishing that confidentiality may be required to protect the rights of defendants, litigants, or third parties; to further the administration of justice; or to otherwise promote a compelling governmental interest. Barron v. Florida Freedom Newspapers, Inc., 531 So. 2d 113 (Fla.1988); Miami Herald Publishing Co. v. Lewis, 426 So. 2d 1 (Fla.1982). Such confidentiality may be implemented by court rule, as well as by judicial decision, where necessary for the effective administration of justice. See, e.g., Fla.R.Crim.P. 3.470, (Sealed Verdict); Fla.R.Crim.P. 3.712, (Presentence Investigation Reports); Fla.R.Civ.P. 1.280(c), (Protective Orders).

Subdivision (c)(9)(D) requires that, except where otherwise provided by law or rule of court, reasonable notice shall be given to the public of any order closing a court record. This subdivision is not applicable to court proceedings. Unlike the closure of court proceedings, which has been held to require notice and hearing prior to closure, see Miami Herald Publishing Co. v. Lewis, 426 So. 2d 1 (Fla.1982), the closure of court records has not required prior notice. Requiring prior notice of closure of a court record may be impractical and burdensome in emergency circumstances or when closure of a court record requiring confidentiality is requested during a judicial proceeding. Providing reasonable notice to the public of the entry of a closure order and an opportunity to be heard on the closure issue adequately protects the competing interests of confidentiality and public access to judicial records. See Florida Freedom Newspapers, Inc. v. Sirmons, 508 So. 2d 462 (Fla. 1st DCA 1987), approved, Barron v. Florida Freedom Newspapers, Inc., 531 So. 2d 113 (Fla.1988); State ex rel. Tallahassee Democrat v. Cooksey, 371 So. 2d 207 (Fla. 1st DCA 1979). Subdivision (c)(9)(D), however, does not preclude the giving of prior notice of closure of a court record, and the court may elect to give prior notice in appropriate cases.

2002 Court Commentary

The custodian is required to provide access to or copies of records but is not required either to provide information from records or to create new records in response to a request. Op. Atty. Gen. Fla. 80-57 (1980); Wootton v. Cook, 590 So. 2d 1039 (Fla. 1st DCA 1991); Seigle v. Barry, 422 So. 2d 63 (Fla. 4th DCA 1982).

The writing requirement is not intended to disadvantage any person who may have difficulty writing a request; if any difficulty exists, the custodian should aid the requestor in reducing the request to writing.

It is anticipated that each judicial branch entity will have policies and procedures for responding to public records requests.

The 1995 commentary notes that the definition of "judicial records" added at that time is consistent with the definition of "court records" contained in rule 2.075(a)(1) [renumbered as 2.430(a)(1) in 2006] and the definition of "public records" contained in chapter 119, Florida Statutes. Despite the commentary, these definitions are not the same. The definitions added in 2002 are intended to clarify that records of the judicial branch include court records as defined in rule 2.075(a)(1) and administrative records. The definition of records of the judicial branch is consistent with the definition of "public records" in chapter 119, Florida Statutes.

2005 Court Commentary

Under courts' inherent authority, appellate courts may appoint a special magistrate to serve as commissioner for the court to make findings of fact and oversee discovery in review proceedings under subdivision (d) of this rule. Cf. State ex rel. Davis v. City of Avon Park, 158 So. 159 (Fla. 1934) (recognizing appellate courts' inherent authority to do all things reasonably necessary for administration of justice within the scope of courts' jurisdiction, including the appointment of a commissioner to make findings of fact); Wessells v. State, 737 So. 2d 1103 (Fla. 1st DCA 1998) (relinquishing jurisdiction to circuit court for appointment of a special master to serve as commissioner for court to make findings of fact).

2007 Court Commentary

New subdivision (d) applies only to motions that seek to make court records in noncriminal cases confidential in accordance with subdivision (c)(9).

2007 Committee Commentary

Subdivision (d)(2) is intended to permit a party to make use of any court-provided recording device or system that is available generally for litigants' use, but is not intended to require the court system to make such devices available where they are not already in use and is not intended to eliminate any cost for use of such system that is generally borne by a party requesting use of such system.

Bill (This is actually the final substitute amendment. Since it has not yet been engrossed or enrolled, the line numbers may change a little) https://www.myfloridahouse.gov/Sections/Documents/loaddoc.aspx?FileName=938140.DOCX&DocumentType=Amendments&BillNumber=0337&Session=2019

The final analysis isn't complete yet. It will be posted on the main page for the bill, as will the final published Law when the Governor signs it (or not).

Summary
Courts: Provides procedures for allowing Supreme Court justices to have designated a facility in their district as their official headquarters; provides for appellate jurisdiction of circuit courts; requires specified filing fees for appeals from certain county courts; increases jurisdictional limit for actions at law by county courts on specified dates; requires Office of State Courts Administrator to submit report relating to county court jurisdiction; provides county court civil filing fees for claims of specified values; provides for distribution of fees; revises levy of certain fees for mediation & arbitration services in certain county court cases; authorizes certain defendants to demand that court issue ruling related to proper court venue; provides for award of attorney fees & costs to prevailing party; authorizes court to transfer certain civil cases if specified criteria are met.

Some Points:

- Line 598: Raises County Court civil jurisdiction to $30,000 on Jan. 1, 2020; $50,000 on Jan. 1, 2023
- Line 85: Keeps appellate jurisdiction for appeals of county civil cases to circuit court at $15,000 (I think this is only through Jan 2023)
- Line 614: Requires OSCA report on the caseload data for legislative review of the impacts
- Levels filing fee structure to keep it revenue neutral (we think)
- Clarifies that certain fees (2008-111) go to General Revenue
- Line 25: Provides for clerk use of carry forward / excess funds (with limits for several years)

This lists the Work Group membership (Line 1544, sec. 33), the definition of a completed sentence, notification process for outstanding obligations, clarifies the excluded convictions and outlines judicial discretion regarding the financial obligations. (The rest of the bill deals with supervisor of elections / DOS administrative processes).

The final analysis isn't complete yet. It will be posted on the main page for the bill, as will the final published Law when the Governor signs it (or not).

A few points:

- Line 1544: Judges are not on the work group (avoids conflicts?)
- Lines 1358: Judges may waive or reduce financial obligations or commute them to community service (I assume we would still report these to the legislature as under assessed?); cannot infringe on victim's rights (Marcy's Law?)
- Financial obligations that must be met are fines, fees and restitution (what about costs?)
- Line 1386: Sexual Offenses
- Line 1403: Murder
- Includes "Any similar offense committed in another jurisdiction which would be an offense listed in this paragraph if it had been committed in violation of the laws of this state."

4. Draft Best Practice on Providing Financial Information

Restoration of Voting Rights

Providing Individuals with Information on Financial Obligations

SUMMARY:

This Best Practice provides a model that Clerks may wish to use when responding to requests from individuals who are seeking to have their voting rights restored and who need current information on financial obligations ordered by the sentencing court.

The attached form provides a simple format for providing information to individuals about the financial obligations ordered in their most-recent, and any prior, felony convictions.

This form can be used by a Clerk to list all the financial obligations from all prior felony convictions anywhere in the State of Florida based on available CCIS data. It is anticipated that the most complete statewide data would include:

- OTHER COUNTS. The requesting individual may have been sentenced on several counts stemming from one episode. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those counts.
- PRIOR FELONY CONVICTIONS. The requesting individual may have had prior felony convictions. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those prior felony convictions.
- OTHER COUNTIES. The requesting individual may have been sentenced for prior felony convictions in other counties and have financial obligations stemming from those other felony conviction sentences. The CCIS assessments and payments can be furnished for cases filed in other counties; however, the requesting individual will need to contact that clerk's office to obtain voting rights restoration financial information.
- COURT MODIFICATIONS. The sentencing Court(s) may have entered subsequent orders, after initial sentencing, which modified the individual's financial obligations (e.g., converting certain obligations to community service).

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS:

The law (set out below) requires the completion of all terms of sentence from all felony convictions. Clerks may want to remind requesting individuals to consider:

- DIRECT PAYMENTS. The requesting individual may have met certain financial obligations (e.g., direct payment of restitution to a victim) without the Clerk having any record of that action.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- OTHER STATES. If the requesting individual has felony convictions by a Court in another state or by a federal Court that prevent the requesting individual from registering, the Clerk will not have any records related to those cases.
- DISQUALIFYING FELONIES. The requesting individual will not qualify for restoration of voting rights, regardless of meeting financial obligations, if a prior felony conviction was for murder or a felony sexual offense, as defined in section 98.0751(2)(b), Florida Statutes.

BACKGROUND:

Article VI, Secs. 4(a) and (b) of the Florida Constitution, regarding Disqualifications from Suffrage and Elections, were amended by Florida voters in the 2018 elections. Section 98.0751, Florida Statutes, was created and made effective July 1, 2019, by CS/SB 7066 – Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida, to define and implement Article VI, Secs. 4(a) and (b). A person who has been disqualified from voting based on a felony conviction for an offense other than murder or a felony sexual offense may become qualified by completing all terms of sentence.

Included within "all terms of sentence" is the payment of restitution to victims plus fines and fees ordered by the court. The relevant portions of the statutory requirements are set out below.

> 98.0751 Restoration of voting rights; termination of ineligibility subsequent to a felony conviction.—
> (2) For purposes of this section, the term:
> (a) "Completion of all terms of sentence" means any portion of a sentence that is contained in the four corners of the sentencing document, including, but not limited to:
> 5.a. Full payment of restitution ordered to a victim by the court as a part of the sentence. A victim includes, but is not limited to, a person or persons, the estate or estates thereof, an entity, the state, or the Federal Government.
> b. Full payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence or that are ordered by the court as a condition of any form of supervision, including, but not limited to, probation, community control, or parole.
> c. The financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. include only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence.

d. For the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e. and notwithstanding any other statute, rule, or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or a victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution.

e. Financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. are considered completed in the following manner or in any combination thereof:

(I) Actual payment of the obligation in full.

(II) Upon the payee's approval, either through appearance in open court or through the production of a notarized consent by the payee, the termination by the court of any financial obligation to a payee, including, but not limited to, a victim, or the court.

(III) Completion of all community service hours, if the court, unless otherwise prohibited by law or the State Constitution, converts the financial obligation to community service.

A term required to be completed in accordance with this paragraph shall be deemed completed if the court modifies the original sentencing order to no longer require completion of such term. The requirement to pay any financial obligation specified in this paragraph is not deemed completed upon conversion to a civil lien.

Section 98.075(3)(b), Florida Statutes, makes it clear that the local Supervisor of Elections is the entity that verifies and makes a final determination regarding whether a person who registers to vote is eligible pursuant to s. 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution and F.S. 98.075. Clerks should not guess, speculate, or offer opinions or advice regarding the reinstatement of voting rights under the Florida Constitution or Florida Statutes.

Notes on 9/25 draft:

Document is being provided by the clerk in the clerk of court capacity, so references to Comptroller (except in official title) removed.

Interest, collection fees, etc., not shown, since (usually) not considered for Amendment 4 purposes.

Need a column for a county to provide the numbers for other counties, which is going to be the CCIS amount and not necessarily the amounts ordered as sentencing. CCIS financial screen shows "Assessment" and "Restitution" with "Total," "Paid to Date," and "Balance Due" for each. We don't know what each Clerk is reporting to CCIS in the non-restitution money. Is it always consistent?

Amounts shown should be net amounts, so a separate column for payments is not needed. Show the net amount but also the other two data fields from CCIS (ordered and paid).

Clerk Offices will be asked to access CCIS and pull the fines and fee data from all over the state. CCIS does not necessarily have all the current amounts for that defendant at the time of the review i.e. interest that has to be calculated. Each Clerk's Office can calculate determine the amount of fines and fees owed by a defendant for the cases that are directly affecting his or her voting rights.

We understand that CCIS may not be spot on regarding any additional costs that were not imposed at the time of sentencing, which is why individuals will still need to contact the other clerk's offices, but this will give the individual and idea of what the costs are and who to contact. This aspect of the process is a customer service policy.

SANTA ROSA COMMENT ON PROCESS

Immediately after the legislation was passed the Clerk's Office in Santa Rosa, began receiving calls from various prison offices inquiring about the fines and fees that defendants owe. They contacted the Department of Corrections, Jeanne Worthington who said that she is heading a unit that will be fielding these calls and that the Clerk should send inquiries directly to her. She will then send out letter to Clerk's Office referring to specific cases within the Clerks purview to provide the amounts the defendant owed which impacted their voting rights. Those requests now go directly to the Clerk's Felony Division for response.

Ken opened the meeting asking if there were any questions or comments on the minutes, which are a good history of what is discussed at the meetings. There were no questions or comments on the minutes.

Draft Best Practice on Providing Financial Information

- Ken – Clerks seek a high comfort level with everything we do and we should, but times are changing and we have to change. We as Clerks can't focus on our individual offices. At the presentation to the Task Force, a question came up about Clerks providing information for former felons who want to make good with the state and whether we should be able to help them if they are from another county. He did mention the unified form that we are working on using CCIS information to give to people that includes information from counties other than our own. This is not what we are used to doing, but the expectation is there for us to do it. That is the whole purpose of the draft Best Practice. We do have a disclaimer saying that you should contact the individual County Clerk's office, but we will give you some information from CCIS, basic information including who you should contact for more information. We are telling the DOC to use CCIS, so we have to confident in using CCIS to give information to citizens.
- Jean Sperbeck – The form is what they were focusing on.
    - They have a draft that identifies other counties.
    - The Clerk specific information was taken out to make it more generic. They are looking at modifications to that.
    - The last draft from Richard took out the amount to clear the driver license, which is confusing.
    - The CCIS disclaimer language was put in.
- Richard Herring - he has 3 concerns.
    - Statute says the amount due is the amount ordered in the 4 corners of the sentencing document. The Legislature likes what they are doing in Miami-Dade. Because the sentence does not include financial obligations they can ignore the financial obligation. In reviewing the sentencing packets from across the state, there are examples of sentences that include financial obligations as well as sentences requiring restitution. We have to talk about sentencing documents and not weigh in on what the sentencing document is. We have to indicate the documents signed at the time of sentencing so we don't take a legal stance on this.

- We are saying that both CCIS & CMS match pretty well for financial obligations, but both match to include what was ordered at time of sentencing and amounts that have accrued. Interest is showing up in the financial obligations in CCIS and CMS. Fred had indicated that interest would not be required to be paid as part of the Restoration of Voting Rights.
- Someone comes in and is told by the Clerk that they owe $5,000 which was ordered at the time of sentencing, but they only want to pay $2,500 on that day. How does that $2,500 get split between the amounts due?

The two suggested forms were discussed.

- Jean – the wording on the form on page 6, states fees ordered at sentencing. We are not saying a sentencing document. We are not going to get into the business of it is on the document. We would only show what was due at sentencing. That would have to be resolved by litigation, not the Clerks. The amount that was assessed at sentencing will be a little less than the financial obligation showing in CCIS, but it should be a minor difference. We want to put a caveat there, so people won' be surprised if it is more.
- Matt – prefers the shorter form on page 7, which will show what is owed from CCIS data.
- Jean – she would not mind tweaking the page 6 form, reducing the number of columns.
- Ken – asked to delay the final vote on this, and asked Jean and Matt to come to a conclusion on a uniformed forms. Anything regarding driver license will be removed from the form. As discussed by Richard, the amount due will be the financial obligation due at sentencing. That is the Legislature's intent.
- Richard – we are very close. One form has 7 columns and the other has 4. They will probably end up with 5. For the language at bottom, it is a matter of how granular we get on the caveat.

This will be on the agenda for next week's call - the final form to be approved and sent to the Best Practice Committee. All on the call were in agreement.

Draft Best Practice(s) on negotiating fees, fines, costs

- Ken - This one needs some work. It is very difficult, but we do have to show different options that Clerks have. We have to be careful with this, so some of the wording on this needs to be changed. We are here to support court activity, provide the courtroom and the court clerks. We have to be careful that we maintain our neutrality.
- Tara Green – she agrees. There is concern with putting too much policy in place. How do we provide guidelines to Clerks to use without putting a policy in place and taking a strong position?
- Ken – these would be guiding principles. It was agreed at the last meeting that we would wait on this Best Practice until after the summit. Guidelines could be included on various scenarios, i.e. negotiating the collection fee and interest; negotiation the fine amount, etc. These would guiding principles that we could defend.
- Tara – yes, hopes we get some good information that we can compile and submit.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Matt Whyte – when this was getting started, he ran a monetary obligations report (as part of sentencing and adjudication of guilt) in order to see what the balances on those cases were and to see how much money is outstanding for those affected by Amendment 4. He also ran restitution. The numbers they found are pretty high. If we start waiving fines and court costs, the buckets that need those funds will not be getting the money they need. A lot is old money, but that is not the point. We can't take sides, but someone needs to speak up and say there are a lot of people affected when these monies are not being paid.
- Kelli Leighton – there is not a lot of consensus among the group at this point. As Clerk Green mentioned earlier, we will get together at the summit to try and talk about this there.
- Ken asked Richard to put this on next week's agenda as a placeholder. This is an ongoing topic that will not be discussed next week. The report will come after the summit.
- Richard – they are going to add details from the counties who are moving forward, but have not been able to find anyone who has anything in writing. Ken asked Kelli to contact Palm Beach County to see if they have anything in writing.
- Matt Whyte – The Driver License Reinstatement Program is very successful. A lot of people are making their payments who are in need of their driver license versus voting restoration.
- Tara Green – they presented at a compliance workshop and they are part of the summit to talk about their program.

Update on the Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group

Desired Interactions

- Ken - The meeting was held on Monday, September 16. Ken, Karen Rushing and Melvin Cox presented for the Clerks, providing an outline of Clerk's responsibilities. Karen Rushing discussed what we do as Clerks and the records we maintain related to CCIS. Melvin Cox discussed CCIS. The presentation was well received and there were comments afterwards. The first two Work Group meetings have been presentations with the Work Group asking questions. There has not been any discussion among the members as to how they feel about everything. The work has to be done by November. It will be interesting to see going forward if there is more engagement in the presentations. It is hard enough to come up with agreement, especially since they are a sunshine body so they cannot talk outside of the meeting. The DOS will have a heavy hand in writing this report. They will judge the tenor of the group and write the report based on that. Not sure how much direction the Task Force will have on the report.
- Richard – it won't be just the DOS writing the report. The Governor's office will have a set of recommendations that are presented to the members.
- Ken – the next meeting is in October. Doug and J.D. will miss Tuesday of the Conference to be on the Task Force.
- Richard – The DOC also presented at the meeting. There is good cooperation between the Clerks and DOC. We are working together. The comments were mostly pointing out that because these things were not important to track in the past, no one has good records on this. No one has the duty to track those records. How can we be fair to felons on this? A Democratic Senator agreed that restitution must be paid, but those records are mostly inaccurate. The DOC presentation in the packet beginning on page 18 was not shown to the Work Group.

Possible approach on critical comments

- At the first meeting of the Task Force, the DOS reported that they had positive interaction with Clerks, but sometimes information from the Clerks takes some time to receive and there are some issues with the information. We jumped on that, working with the DOE and DOS to get more information from them on what the issues were. They gave us a 4-page description of what they see the Clerks are doing outstanding and what issues they are having with getting information from Clerks. Pages 26 and 27 of the packet include specific comments. The comments were related to the Supreme Court matrix, how we document when a file is not found, issues they had with specific counties, how documents are provided (fax or email). We will reach out to each County for comments on this.
- Page 25 – looked at the entire response, complaints and responses, and turned it all into a more positive spin on what DOE would like to see from Clerks. There are 14 points that appear to be what the DOE is looking for on interactions with Clerks. We are trying to set up a meeting at the staff level to go over these items, but they are not setting up any meetings until November. This is on hold until November.
- Ken – everyone look at the list from a Clerk's perspective. Make sure these are the items that we need to discuss with DOE in November, and submit any comments to Richard.

Update on Requests for Sentencing Documents from Counties

- Richard – 44 counties from 17 circuits have responded with sentencing documents. This is very helpful. We took this to the Task Force, and it generated a lot of discussion. He has read all of the documents, and has created a spreadsheet with who responded and what documents were submitted. There were 16 points across 60 documents that were unusual and would make it difficult to know what the total amount of sentence would be. The current rules are not consistently followed in the forms that he has reviewed.
- Ken - will reach out to the counties who have not yet responded. We will put this on the next agenda. We need to talk about whether we will share this information with the Supreme Court. It shows how difficult it is with the courts sentencing in many different ways. We can't control this as Clerks, but we may want to point out to the Supreme Court that the rules are not being followed uniformly. They may be interested in the information that has been provided. The Supreme Court may want to consider uniform sentencing documents.

Update on Advisor Opinion to the Governor re. Implementation of Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment

- Richard - No updates. The biggest thing is the federal judge has said that she will not wait for the SC opinion. The Florida SC may rule before the federal judge.

Ken closed the meeting by saying that he thinks we have accomplished a lot and feels good about the progress we have made. We will have a brief call next week to approve the Best

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Practice on Providing Financial Information and then will probably not have regular meetings after that but will be on hold until until the Task Force concludes or issues come up.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:45.

Tiffany, Tara, Karen and Carolyn,

Thanks for agreeing to being on the call at 11:00 today to discuss our quick response team's charge. As I see it the following are the items contained in our charge:

- Collaborate with the Supervisors of Elections Association and the Secretary of State with any items of common interest. (This can lead into different directions.)
- Guidance to Clerks if a convicted felon contacts a Clerk's office and makes an inquiry as to fines/fees/restitution owed? (not necessarily of the county in which the fines/fees/restitution are owed)
- The whole negotiation of liens issue and the variety of ways Clerks deal with this.
- The public records requests currently being made to Clerks on the amount of fines/fees/restitution owed for their respective counties.

Let me know any items you would like added to the list for our discussion.

Talk with you at 11:00.

Amendment 4/Restoration of Voting Rights QRT Data Review Request No. 19-057

The Amendment 4 Quick Response Team (QRT) has been working with the Department of Corrections (DOC) to obtain information on recently released felons. To help understand issues that may arise, DOC provided the attached list, DOC Recent Releases by County, which contains 10 recently released individuals per county, including financial obligations. The QRT requests that you review the 10 cases in your county and provide any issues you find during your review. The review should compare the CCIS information about the individual with the information in your local CMS. Each member of the QRT has already completed this review for their county and found it to be a valuable exercise in checking our data integrity. Please provide the results of your review to Richard Herring and Kimberly Renspie at the association by close of business Friday, July 26, 2019 in order to provide this information for discussion during the Quick Response Team on Monday, July 29, 2019.

Items to be aware of:

- DC Number - This is the number assigned to an inmate by DOC. The DC number, like a social security number, is a lifetime number.
- Case number - This number is a portion of the UCN, the first 1 or 2 digits indicate the year, and the CF case type is always omitted.
- Uniform Case Number - Expect the UCN to be blank in most cases. The DOC system does not routinely maintain the UCN.

QRT review results:

- There have been name misspellings and other data entry issues.
- It should take approximately 1-2 hours to complete this exercise.

The FCCC Amendment 4 QRT is composed of the Honorable Ken Burke, CPA (Pinellas), the Honorable Tara S. Green (Clay), the Honorable Tiffany Moore Russell, Esq. (Orange), the Honorable Karen E. Rushing (Sarasota), and the Honorable Carolyn Timmann (Martin).

For questions please contact Richard Herring at (850) 264-6531 and/or Kimberly Renspie at (813) 748-4133.

Federal subpoenas being issued regarding SB 7066/Amendment 4 No. 19-060

Florida's Clerks may have been served today with subpoenas for deposition and to produce documents in the case of Jones vs. DeSantis, Civil Action No. 4:19-cv-300, now pending in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Florida. This is a case being brought to challenge the constitutionality of Senate Bill 7066, which was enacted by the 2019 Florida Legislature to implement recently adopted Amendment 4 to the Florida Constitution. This was the "Voting Restoration Amendment" that was placed on the 2018 General Election ballot by a citizen petition initiative process to allow former felons who have "completed all conditions" of their sentence to register to vote.

The subpoenas are requiring appearance for deposition and to produce voluminous records. While we do not know the extent of the intended subjects of the deposition, the document production requires records and communications regarding implementation of Amendment 4, as well as SB 7066. Further, it requires all records and communications regarding the process for determining voter ineligibility because of outstanding or financial obligations related to prior convictions.

FCCC General Counsel has been asked to review the demands and advise how Clerks should best respond. We ask that if you have been served with these or similar subpoenas, please refrain from immediately responding and advise FCCC. We would like to have a uniform, if not joint, response to limit the demands as much as possible. It is FCCC's intent to provide further guidance later this week. The Federal Rules provide 14 days from the date of service for you to object to the production of documents request.

Please contact Chris Hart if you have any further questions or have been served regarding this case.

Governor Ron DeSantis announced the appointments to the state's new Voting Rights Task Force today, which includes two Clerks of Court: the Honorable JD Peacock II (Okaloosa) and the Honorable Doug Chorvat Jr. (Hernando). This task force is a requirement within the language of Senate Bill 7066, which deals with the implementation of Amendment 4.

The bill establishes the task force within the Department of State (DOS), for the purpose of conducting a comprehensive review of DOS's process of verifying registered voters who have been convicted of a felony, but who may be eligible for voting rights restoration under Amendment 4. The group must submit a report of its findings, conclusions, and recommendations to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House by November 1, 2019. The report is to include recommendations for consolidating data necessary to verify the eligibility of individuals for restoration of voting rights under Amendment 4, and for a process for informing such individuals about the custodians of information needed to verify eligibility. Following the report's submission, the workgroup is dissolved.

The governor also appointed the Honorable Chris Anderson, Supervisor of Elections in Seminole County, and the Honorable Vikki Cannon, Supervisor of Elections in Nassau County. The governor's press release can be found here.

RE: Issues Pertaining to Restoration of Voting Rights

INTRODUCTION

Amendment 4 to the Florida Constitution was passed by ballot initiative in 2018 and amended Article VI, Section 4, of the Florida Constitution. Article VI, Section 4, now provides in part that "any disqualification from voting arising from a felony conviction shall terminate and voting rights shall be restored upon completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation." Art. VI, § 4(a), Fla. Const.

Implementing Legislation

Chapter 2019-162 was passed by the Florida Legislature pursuant to Senate Bill 7066 and creates section 98.0751, Florida Statutes, effective July 1, 2019. Section 98.0751 provides in pertinent part:

> (2) For purposes of this section, the term:
> (a) "Completion of all terms of sentence" means any portion of a sentence that is contained in the four corners of the sentencing document, including, but not limited to:
> 1. Release from any term of imprisonment ordered by the court as a part of the sentence;
> 2. Termination from any term of probation or community control ordered by the court as a part of the sentence;
> 3. Fulfillment of any term ordered by the court as a part of the sentence;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4. Termination from any term of supervision, which is monitored by the Florida Commission on Offender Review, including, but not limited to, parole; and

5.a. Full payment of restitution ordered to a victim by the court as part of the sentence. A victim includes, but is not limited to, a person or persons, the estate or estates thereof, an entity, the state, or the Federal Government.

b. Full payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence or that are ordered by the court as a condition of any form of supervision, including, but not limited to, probation, community control, or parole.

c. The financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. include only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence.

d. For the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e. and notwithstanding any other statute, rule, or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or a victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution.

e. Financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-paragraph b. are considered in the following manner or in any combination thereof:

(I) Actual payment of the obligation in full.

(II) Upon the payee's approval, either through appearance in open court or through the production of a notarized consent by the payee, the termination by the court of any financial obligation to payee, including but not limited to, a victim, or the court.

(III) Completion of all community service hours, if the court, unless otherwise prohibited by law or the State Constitution, converts the financial obligation to community service.

Questions Presented

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In light of the amendment to Article VI, Section 4, and the new implementing language pertaining to "completion of all terms of sentence" as set forth above, you have posed the following questions:

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest?

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by a clerk for the collection of fees, fines and court costs?

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgment/sentencing order?

Of course, the new constitutional amendment and the new statute will be subject to interpretation by the courts. To this end, case law and other interpreting authority does not yet exist. Nonetheless, you have asked us to analyze the new law in conjunction with existing Florida law and to provide our thoughts as to the questions posed. Our responses to the questions are as follows:

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest?

As set forth above, section 98.0751(2)(a) states that "completion of all terms of sentence" means full payment of restitution ordered to a victim by the court as a part of the sentence and full payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence. § 98.0751(2)(a)5.a., and b., Fla. Stat. The statute goes on to state that such financial obligations "include only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence." § 98.0751(2)(a)5.c., Fla. Stat. The statute does not address interest, nor does it address what is meant by "any fines, fees, or costs."

Pursuant to section 775.089, Florida Statutes – the criminal restitution statute – restitution may be ordered as part of a criminal sentence. § 775.089(1)(a), Fla. Stat. The outstanding unpaid amount of the restitution bears interest in accordance with section 55.03, Florida Statutes (the statutory interest statute). § 775.089(5), Fla. Stat. Thus, to the extent restitution is included in a criminal judgment sentencing order, interest accrues on such restitution pursuant to statute.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

As previously noted, there is no case law or other authority to provide guidance on this issue. Also, the Bill Analyses for CS/SB 7066, the implementing legislation, do not reference "completion of all terms of sentence." However, we believe that on the issue of interest, section 98.0751 and section 775.089 must be read pari materia. "The doctrine of pari materia is a principle of statutory construction that requires that statutes relating to the same subject or object be construed together to harmonize the statues and to give effect to the Legislature's intent." E.A.R. v. State, 4 So. 3d 614, 629 (Fla. 2009). Given the language in section 98.0751(2)(a) requiring full payment of restitution ordered as part of a sentence, and the language in section 775.089(5) mandating the accrual of interest on restitution, we believe that when read together a reasonable interpretation of the new law would be – and certainly an argument can be made – that statutory interest is an obligation incurred on the date restitution is ordered as a part of the sentence and, thus, payment of such interest is required to complete the sentence. Of course, the new law will be subject to future interpretation by courts and this has not yet occurred.

The new law also requires "[f]ull payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence." § 98.0751(2)(a), Fla. Stat. Section 938.30, Florida Statutes, provides that when a person is liable for payment of any financial obligation in a criminal case, the judgment setting forth such financial obligations "must secure all unpaid court-imposed financial obligations that are due . . . as well as interest and reasonable costs for issuing a satisfaction and recording the satisfaction in the official records." § 938.30(8), Fla. Stat. (emphasis added). The Bill Analysis for CS/SB 7086, the companion legislation to CS/SB 7086, discusses "completion of all terms of sentence," and while it does not state that interest is included within the meaning of that term, it acknowledges and quotes section 938.39(8) stating that a judgment on court-imposed financial obligations must secure "interest."

Thus, to the extent that a fine, fee, or cost is made a part of the criminal judgment/ sentencing order and interest is included in the judgment, we believe that a reasonable interpretation of the new law when read in pari materia with section 938.39 is – and an argument can be made – that payment of such interest is required to complete the sentence.

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by the clerk for the collection of fees, fines, and court costs?

It is our understanding that a collection fee paid to a collection agent is a fee that is in addition to, and is added to the balance of, the unpaid financial obligations. § 28.246(6), Fla. Stat. It is further our understanding that such fee paid to a collection agent would necessarily accrue after the date the financial obligations of the sentence are ordered.

The new law provides that "completion of all terms of sentence" means payment of "only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do[es] not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence." §

98.0751(2)(a)5.c., Fla. Stat. As noted above, there is no authority interpreting the new law. However, given the plain language of the statute, we believe it is likely that a court would find that, unless otherwise specifically ordered in the criminal judgment, fees owed to a collection agent that are in addition to, and added to the balance of, the unpaid financial obligations would not be included in the definition of "completion of all terms of sentence." See Germ v. St. Luke's Hosp. Ass'n, 993 So. 2d 576 (Fla. 1st DCA 2008) (courts should give statutory language its plain and ordinary meaning, and may not add words that were not included by the legislature).

Such plain language interpretation is reinforced by case law stating that additional costs may not be added to a sentence after a defendant begins serving the sentence. See Martinez v. State, 91 So. 3d 878 (Fla. 5th DCA 2012).

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgment/sentencing order?

Florida case law indicates that statutory financial obligations imposed by a court – such as costs of prosecution, attorney's fees, court costs under chapter 938 and criminal restitution under section 775.089 – are criminal sanctions that are ordinarily imposed during the sentencing process and are criminal sanctions. See Martinez, 91 So. 3d at 880; Woods, 879 So. 2d 651, 653 (Fla. 5th DCA 2004); State v. Sandomeno, 217 So. 3d 110, 111 (Fla. 4th DCA 2017). If such financial obligations are made a part of the criminal judgment and a condition of the sentence, the court's reduction of the amounts owed to a civil judgment or lien for enforcement purposes does not alter the criminal nature of the sanction, or the fact that it is part of the criminal sentence. Martinez, 91 So. 3d at 880 n.2. See also Cammelleri v. State, 270 So. 3d 369 (Fla. 4th DCA 2019) (civil lien for incarceration costs included in the criminal judgment was considered by the court to be part of the sentence).

Unless included in the criminal judgment, a civil judgment or lien is collateral to the criminal judgment. See Cruz v. State, 742 So. 2d 489, 490 (Fla. 3d DCA 1999). Generally, a civil judgment for money or lien is a non-criminal remedy for the recovery of an underlying debt or reimbursement of particular expenses owed. Id. A "lien" is defined as "[a] legal right or interest that a creditor has in another's property, lasting usually until a debt or duty that it secures is satisfied." BLACK'S LAW DICTIONARY (10th ed. 2014). In this regard, we believe it significant that immediately before the passage of CS/SB 7066, an amendment was rejected that contained the following language:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

> 5. Payment of all restitution, fees, or fines that are ordered by the court as part of the sentence or that are ordered by a court as a condition of any form of supervision including, but not limited to, probation, community control, or parole. A financial obligation required under this subparagraph is deemed to have been completed to the extent that the financial obligation has been converted to a civil lien.

Fla. S. Jour. 875 (Reg. Sess. May 2, 2019) (emphasis added).

There is no case law to provide guidance on this issue in the context of the new law. However, given the authority discussed above, we believe that a reasonable interpretation of the new law would be that the reduction of amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order to a civil judgment or lien does not eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as provided for in the criminal judgment/sentencing order.

We note that to the extent a trial court imposes only a civil judgment or lien for amounts owed and does not make them part of the criminal judgment and sentence, case law indicates that the financial obligations could be considered to be independent of the criminal sentence. Woods, 879 So. 2d at 653 n. 1 (where sentence included the payment of public defender's fees and trial court later tried to make payment of supplemental fees part of criminal sentence, appellate court held that request was made out of time for modification of sentence; appellate court further indicated that if the trial court had issued a civil lien for the fees, such proceeding would have been independent of the criminal proceeding); Doctor v. State, 679 So. 2d 76, 77 (Fla. 4th DCA 1996) (criminal defendant could not challenge civil restitution lien by way of rule 3.850 motion applicable to criminal sentences; civil restitution lien is not a criminal penalty); Cruz, 742 So. 2d at 490 (civil restitution lien need not be considered in a plea agreement or accepted by sentencing court).

Our research thus far has uncovered no case law to support the premise that a civil judgment issued separate and apart from a sentence would be construed as being part of the sentence.

The Amendment 4 Quick Response Team, through the FCCC, has requested and received a legal opinion from FCCC General Counsel, Greenberg Traurig, concerning several issues related to restoration of voting rights, both the constitutional and statutory language. Specifically, these issues address several of the financial aspects of the law. The full legal opinion is attached.

In brief, without the associated legal reasoning and caveats included in the legal opinion, a summary is:

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest? Only if the fine, fee, or cost is made a part of the criminal judgment/ sentencing order and interest is specifically included in the judgment.

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by a clerk for the collection of fees, fines and court costs? Unless otherwise specifically ordered in the criminal judgment, fees owed to a collection agent that are in addition to, and added to the balance of, the unpaid financial obligations would not be included in the definition of "completion of all terms of sentence."

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgment/sentencing order? The reduction of amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order to a civil judgment or lien does not eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as provided for in the criminal judgment/sentencing order.

The Amendment 4 Quick Response Team has been advised that several Clerks have received questions about the new law on restoration of voting rights and its impact on other civil rights, such as jury service, holding public office, or firearm possession.

The new law, Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida, (CS/SB 7066, 2019) distinguishes between restoration of civil rights pursuant to s. 8, Art. IV of the State Constitution and voting rights restoration pursuant to s. 4., Art. VI of the State Constitution. Section 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution and the recent amendments to Chapter 98, Florida Statutes, provide the requirements for restoration of voting rights only. Meeting those requirements does not restore other civil rights.

Persons seeking information on restoration of civil rights generally may be referred to the Florida Commission on Offender Review. The Commission's Office of Executive Clemency has rules, forms, and processes for persons seeking restoration of civil rights, pardon, firearm authority, and other forms of clemency. See: https://www.fcor.state.fl.us/restoration.shtml Specific to the right to vote, the Office of Executive Clemency website says:

> Regarding the Restoration of Civil Rights (RCR) process and the passage of Amendment Four:
> For those offenders covered by the amendment, only the right to vote, not the right to sit on a jury or the right to hold public office, is contemplated by the amendment. Restoration of the right to sit on a jury and to hold public office can only be obtained through application to the Board of Executive Clemency.
> As to those offenders not covered by the amendment, namely those convicted of murder or a felony sexual offense or those who have not completed all terms of their sentence, the restoration of the right to vote, to sit on a jury, and to hold public office can only be obtained through application to the Board of Executive Clemency.

The Amendment 4 Quick Response Team (QRT) has received copies of several requests made to individual Clerks by local Department of Corrections (DOC) offices related to restoration of voting rights. Those requests typically seek information on financial obligations for particular individuals under DOC custody or supervision. Sometimes they involve financial obligation data that does not appear to match between DOC records and the Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS).

The Amendment 4 QRT has found that once the DOC request is investigated, a clear correct answer is always available. A common theme appears to be that the two different data systems are asked slightly different questions, thus providing different answers.

The Amendment 4 QRT has established an email account, DOCRequests@FLClerks.com, to accumulate such requests from DOC.

The Amendment 4 QRT asks that each Clerk's office forward individual requests received from local DOC offices, along with the Clerk's response, to DOCRequests@FLClerks.com. We are not asking for copies of routine correspondence between a Clerk's office and a local DOC probation office, or emails relating broadly to processes and procedures. We are asking for copies of correspondence related to information on specific individuals and data or records related to restoration of voting rights for those individuals.

This will give the Amendment 4 QRT the opportunity to look for additional patterns and trends. As the patterns or trends arise, the Amendment 4 QRT will address issues with DOC or develop Best Practices for Clerks through the FCCC Best Practices Committee.
If additional clarification is needed or if there are questions, please contact Kimberly Renspie, FCCC Legislative Manager (KRenspie@FLClerks.com).

Excerpt from the Report by the Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group, pages 18-25

IV. Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group: Findings & Recommendations

During and after the presentations, Work Group members discussed the various issues they were tasked with studying. Tracking the statutory mandate, the following key points were identified:

A. The consolidation of all relevant data necessary to verify the eligibility of a registered voter for restoration of voting rights under s. 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution.

Findings:

Information detailing financial obligations as part of a person's sentence, such as fines, fees, court costs, and restitution is available, but there is no single source where the information is captured, and the payment of any financial obligations is not tracked in a uniform manner by a single entity. Data and information exists across a handful of different agencies and is maintained in varying formats. For example, the Department of Corrections maintains records of payments, if paid through the Department, made while an individual is incarcerated or under supervision. Local state attorneys may, in some instances, have records about restitution payments made either at the time of or after sentencing. Additionally, databases that contain information on the status of a convicted felon's terms of sentence have varying levels of accessibility to outside persons or entities. That said, the vast majority of the pertinent records reside with the Clerks of Court and many are available online.

More specifically, court records are required to be retained for a minimum of seventy-five years. Clerks of Courts' case management systems connect with and feed data into the Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers' Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS), which serves as a secured single point of search for statewide court case information, but solely for governmental use based on authorized level of access.

As to restitution, the Clerks of Courts represented that they would have information as to payments and satisfaction only if ordered to be paid through the Clerk of Court. Most criminal court data since 2000 has been available online with images of court records starting in 2010. Counties work daily to update their local systems.

Representative Grant presented to the Work Group regarding data flow and recommended development of APIs inside of each stakeholder group such that those APIs become the translation layer facilitating data sharing. He cautioned against centralizing data, for a number of reasons, including length of time necessary to complete same.

Recommendations:

1. Recommend enhancing the Clerk of Court's financial accounting system to include a breakdown of financial obligations by category (restitution, fines, fees, and court costs) if part of the judgment and/or sentencing document.

2. Recommend enhancing the Clerk of Court's financial accounting system to track payment of financial obligations ordered as part of the terms of sentence to determine the total amount due, the balance owed, or paid in full. Payments should be tracked for each conviction and by category (restitution, fines, fees, and court costs).

3. Recommend enhancing the Clerk of Court's financial accounting to segregate original amounts ordered as terms of the sentence from any costs and fees accrued after the sentence, such as interest or costs of collections.

4. Recommend, in conjunction with all of the above, the Florida Legislature provide funding to Clerks of Court for temporary additional manpower to enable the Clerks to bring more records dating further back in time into electronic format available online for easier accessibility to government stakeholders and members of the public involved in the restoration of rights process.

5. Recommend the Florida Legislature explore the option of developing, implementing and funding an automated and interconnected system for consolidating relevant data and tracking financial obligations related to criminal offenses for use by governmental agencies, including a public interface component for reviewing balances and payments in real-time, similar to that used by the Department of Revenue. Alternatively, recommend the Florida Legislature explore an avenue of creating a public interface component to the existing CCIS system, limited to that information necessary for a voter to ascertain his or her own eligibility. Recommend that either of these avenues take into account and consider Representative Grant's suggestions related to APIs for the sharing of data.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001083

B. The process of informing a registered voter of the entity or entities that are custodians of the relevant data necessary for verifying his or her eligibility for restoration.

Findings:

The Work Group finds that the more opportunities for a citizen to receive consistent restoration of voting rights information, the better. Starting at the point of sentencing, the Honorable Angela Cote Dempsey presented to the Work Group on sentencing processes, including the direct and collateral consequences of pleas that are required to be presented to a defendant during the plea colloquy, including but not limited to immigration consequences. Upon inquiry, Judge Dempsey confirmed that it may be possible to include voting rights information within that plea colloquy.

Department of Corrections Bureau Chief Michelle Palmer presented to the Work Group and discussed how DOC's role in voter registration is to educate and inform inmates regarding voter restoration rights and to provide a financial obligation summary at the time of release. Bureau Chief Palmer discussed DOC'S current process of fulfilling those roles for inmates who are incarcerated, and those who are being released. Bureau Chief Palmer testified that forms, examples of which were provided in materials given to Work Group members, have been created that are uniform throughout the state and are provided to all inmates successfully terminating supervision. Bureau Chief Palmer testified that beginning July 1, 2019, DOC began educating and informing all offenders regarding their restoration rights as well as providing a financial obligation summary at the time of release.

Bureau Chief Palmer testified that as DOC's process has evolved, they have enhanced trainings to include additional information during inmate orientation. As such, inmates receive the information when first received into DOC custody. In addition, they have added the information to the Compass 100, which is a program that starts about eighteen months prior to an inmate's release, so the inmate is hearing that information again. At the time of release, an inmate is again provided the same consistent and uniform information.

Bureau Chief Palmer testified that as well as providing that training to inmates, they have also added staff training. New classification and release officers are also receiving the information so they can better answer questions the inmate may have while he or she is in custody. Bureau Chief Palmer testified that at the time of release, DOC is providing that same information about restoration, along with a copy of any outstanding financial obligations that the inmate may have.

Bureau Chief Palmer stated that as part of the process, DOC reviews all sentencing orders that are available. They also review CCIS. She stated that DOC compares that information to see if there are any discrepancies between DOC's information and CCIS information. DOC communicates with the Clerk directly to ensure any discrepancies are resolved. If found, DOC tries to resolve the discrepancies prior to an inmate being released. Bureau Chief Palmer testified that the end result is that when the inmate is released, DOC provides an outstanding financial obligations summary. This includes the original financial obligation, any known payments, and the outstanding balance at the time of release. Bureau Chief Palmer noted that the outstanding balance only encompasses those cases for which the inmate is currently incarcerated. Bureau Chief Palmer testified that if an inmate is being released from incarceration into Department-monitored supervision, the financial obligation summary is not provided at the time of release from incarceration, but rather, will be provided once the offender successfully completes probation or other supervision.

Additionally, Joe Winkler, the Assistant Secretary of Community Corrections for DOC testified as to the processes DOC has for those under supervision. He testified that each year over 80,000 offenders terminate supervision, although the numbers are a little deceiving because some terminations may be a result of revocation of probation and the offender is then sentenced to prison or county jail. Others may be sentenced to a subsequent term of supervision or pretrial intervention. Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that nonetheless, DOC is still responsible for notifying approximately 60,000 offenders each year of their financial obligations upon release. He noted that successful project implementation is paramount.

Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that DOC's primary responsibility is to educate and inform as they terminate supervision. DOC made modifications to a prior process used. For offenders terminating supervision prior to July 1, 2019, DOC gave a termination letter outlining the way in which the offender could seek to get his or her civil rights restored. Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that after July 1, 2019, DOC modified that form to include the voting rights process. The updated termination supervision letter is now provided to offenders upon termination of supervision

Assistant Secretary Winkler noted that the second part of the process is still evolving. He discussed how DOC is undertaking a pilot program with four of Florida's judicial circuits (the 2nd circuit (Tallahassee); the 4th circuit (Jacksonville); the 5th circuit (Tavares); and the 20th circuit (Sarasota)). He testified that DOC is going to target offenders who are within thirty to sixty days of their termination date and give them an opportunity to attend a class at a probation office to further educate the offenders about the voting restoration process. This will include a quality video, made in consultation with the Florida Commission on Offender Review (FCOR) and Supervisors of Elections, containing information about the process and frequently asked questions. Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that they will also answer questions from offenders in attendance. These will include general questions about the restoration process and specific questions the offenders may have about their particular cases. The video will contain a consistent message applicable to all counties. Assistant Secretary Winkler noted that DOC also plans to invite people from the supervisors of elections offices to help answer some of those questions.

Assistant Secretary Winkler noted that in addition to the education component, DOC has a statutory responsibility to notify offenders in writing of their outstanding terms of supervision. This is a continuous process. He stated that the role of a probation officer is to communicate with the offender about responsibilities of compliance and monitoring. Each time the offender reports, the probation officer goes over standard and special conditions of probation imposed by the sentencing authority. If done consistently during supervision, prior to termination, the offender will know what the outstanding terms are. When an offender terminates supervision, DOC is also going to provide the closing summary. The summary outlines the conditions that the offender had while on supervision. It shows the conditions outstanding, as well as those completed. Also, whenever the offender terminates supervision, DOC is going to provide the documents to the clerk of court in the sentencing county, the releasing county, and FCOR.

The Honorable Ken Burke, CPA, Clerk of the Circuit Court and Comptroller for Pinellas County, shared during his presentation to the Work Group that the Clerks of Court, through their membership association, the Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers, have been working on a uniform form, in conjunction with DOC, such that if an individual walks into a Clerk of Court's office, the Clerk of Court would be able to access CCIS information for the individual and assist the individual with ascertaining financial obligations in multiple counties. Clerk Burke gave the example that if an individual had a felony in one county and walked into a Clerk of Court's office in another county, the Clerk in the office could locate the necessary information in CCIS, provide the individual with a uniform form, and be able to advise the individual of outstanding amounts. Clerk Burke noted that the amounts still may not include restitution. Clerk Burke noted that the Clerks of Court or the form would also provide contact information for the other Clerks.

Clerk Burke also shared that a concept is in discussion and hoped for development creating a statewide payment system. The system would accept credit card payments for outstanding obligations even though amounts are due in other circuits. Clerk Burke testified that Director Cox is helping to establish that system on a statewide basis to be able to help citizens online or in person satisfy payment obligations statewide. In response to a follow-up question, Clerk Burke confirmed that the system is not yet in place where the citizen could obtain information from one Clerk of Court about all counties or circuits, but that the Clerks of Court are continuing to work on best practices and that is the objective. Clerk Burke testified that the Clerks of Court will likely be approving a form at their next conference that will be able to be used in every county and circuit. There would be no cost to a citizen for obtaining this type of information.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001086

Recommendations:

1. Recommend that information pertaining to loss of voting rights, and subsequent restoration of rights, via clemency or Amendment IV, be initially provided to a defendant during a plea colloquy.

2. Recommend ensuring that the notice provided to convicted felons from the Florida Department of Corrections specifies that outstanding terms apply solely as to the conviction for which they are currently serving. The notice should advise that the individual will need to ascertain separately from the court of conviction, whether in-state or out-of-state, what those terms are and whether all the terms have been satisfied.

3. Recommend that each Clerk of Court designate one or more employees to act as a restoration of voting rights liaison(s) who can assist a member of the public with determining outstanding financial obligations as it relates to completion of all terms of his or her sentence and that there is a uniform process or method for sharing this information with a person who requests it.

4. Recommend that all stakeholder agencies in the process, including the Florida Department of State, the Florida Department of Corrections, Supervisors of Elections, and the Florida Commission on Offender Review, likewise designate restoration of voting rights liaisons to further assist in inter-agency information sharing.

5. Recommend that the Clerks of Court continue their diligent efforts through their membership association to adopt a uniform request and receipt of information form and to enable a statewide payment portal for citizens seeking to satisfy fees in multiple circuits.

6. Recommend requiring uniform information on the websites/handbooks for Clerks of Court, Supervisors of Elections, Florida Department of Corrections, Florida Commission on Offender Review, and Florida Department of State for persons to find out how to restore civil rights and voting rights.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001087

C. Any other relevant policies or procedures for verifying the eligibility of a registered voter for restoration of voting rights under s. 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution.

Findings:

Stephen Hebert, the Director of Clemency with the Florida Commission on Offender Review, provided an overview of FCOR's functions in considering clemency applications. Director Hebert discussed the sources of information that FCOR uses to research outstanding legal financial obligations, including interviews with the offender and victims. Director Hebert recognized FCOR's experience with reviewing court records and ascertaining legal financial obligations as being beneficial to the stakeholders involved in the restoration of voting rights process and offered FCOR's assistance, to the extent feasible with resources, in ascertaining outstanding legal fines, fees, costs, and restitution.

Senator Pizzo, the Clerks of Court, Judge Stephens, and Judge Dempsey, among other presenters, all acknowledged or discussed that judgment and sentencing documents, the key operative documents in the restoration of voting rights process, can and do look different from circuit to circuit, and even within a circuit. Judge Dempsey noted that the Florida Rules of Criminal Procedure contain a uniform judgment and sentence form, but that it is just an outline and the details of a judgment and sentence can vary. The Work Group finds that there is no current requirement that all fines, fees, and restitution be paid through the Clerks of Court, and some judgments and sentences may order that restitution be paid to a victim, for example, or that public defender or state attorney fees be paid to those offices, respectively.

Judge Dempsey discussed the work of the Florida Bar Rules of Criminal Procedure Committee in considering and acting upon proposals from groups or individuals related to criminal procedure subject matter. Judge Dempsey also brought to the Work Group's attention the Criminal Court Steering Committee that was established by the Florida Supreme Court to develop expedited recommendations to the Florida Supreme Court. The Work Group finds that either of these avenues, in addition to a possible Legislative statutory directive, may provide solutions for creating more uniformity in judgment and sentencing documents, to enhance the ability to record and track legal financial obligation requirements and payment data going forward.

Neil Volz, the Deputy Director of the Florida Rights Restoration Coalition (FRRC), presented to the Work Group on his perspectives working with returning citizens and efforts to assist such citizens in restoring their voting rights. Among other areas, Mr. Volz touched upon concerns of returning citizens related to the additional check boxes mandated to be included by Senate Bill 7066 on the voter registration application. He described the concerns as being that the citizens were being singled out and would be recorded in a separate felon database, but also noted that concerns were alleviated when citizens utilized the prior and still accepted form that contains a single non-differentiating eligibility affirmation statement.

Recommendations:

1. Recommend authorizing the Florida Commission on Offender Review to assist the Florida Department of State and create a uniform process for researching further outstanding restitution on a potential match for which information is otherwise not available or ascertainable through Clerk of Court and/or the Florida Department of Corrections records, or other applicable records after a diligent search.

2. Recommend proposing to the Florida Bar's Criminal Procedure Rules Committee or the Florida Supreme Court Criminal Court Steering Committee the development and use of a more uniform judgment and sentencing document to better inform the defendant and governmental agencies, and to provide consistency and clarity about the terms of a sentence.

3. Recommend a requirement that restitution payments, and all other fines, fees, and costs, be made through the Clerks of Court to allow for tracking.

4. Recommend that each stakeholder agency, including the COCs, DOC, FDLE, FCOR, DOS, and SOEs continue to enhance data systems and data input procedures with a focus on timely availability, accuracy, quality, and consistency of data.

5. Recommend that the three uniform statewide voter registration application felony affirmation statements set forth in section 97.052, Florida Statutes, be revisited, and consideration be given to returning to the single affirmation statement encoded in law prior to the enactment of Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida.

6. Recommend that the Florida Legislature review the Order Denying the Motion to Dismiss or Abstain and Granting a Preliminary Injunction entered in Consolidated Case Number 4:19cv300-RH/MJF, paying particular attention to the legal concepts related to ability to pay legal financial obligations. (See Appendix F).

7. The Work Group recognizes the work of the Florida Legislature in creating an alternative judicial pathway under section 98.0751(2)(a)5.d. and e., Florida Statutes, to facilitate voting and simultaneously provide relief from legal financial obligations. The Work Group recommends that, in conjunction with recommendation 6. above, the Florida Legislature consider revisiting and expanding the existing relief available under section 98.0751(2)(a)5.d. and e., which currently provides for judicial discretion in most circumstances to waive legal financial obligations or convert the obligations to community service. Such expansion of available judicial relief could include, for example, pathways:

a. for individuals uncertain about the amount of outstanding legal financial obligations to seek in a hearing format a judicial determination of amount owed; and

b. for individuals in instances in which a court is disinclined or unable to waive legal financial obligations and/or conversion to community service would not provide relief, the opportunity to demonstrate a partial or full inability to pay outstanding legal financial obligations and obtain a judicial determination on ability to pay.

Report of the Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group — No. 19-111

Date: November 15, 2019
Category: Clerk Administration, Courts

Contact: Richard Herring
Telephone: (850) 264-6531
E-mail: rherring@flclerks.com

Pursuant to CS/SB 7066, Ch. 2019-162, LOF, the Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group submitted its final report to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House on November 1, 2019. The report included recommendations for consolidating data necessary to verify the eligibility of individuals for restoration of voting rights under Amendment 4, and for a process for informing such individuals about the custodians of information needed to verify eligibility. The full report is 340 pages and can be accessed via this link. The Work Group's findings and recommendations can be found on pages 18-25 of the full report, which is included as an attachment to this advisory.

In addition to the findings and recommendations, the report also includes presentation materials and transcripts of the Work Group's meetings. A summary of the Clerk presentation to the Work Group can be found on page 16. The presentation materials for the Clerk presentation can be found on pages 84-89. A transcript of the Clerk presentation can be found via Appendix H, or on pages 254-259.

There are several appendices regarding actions taken by the Florida Supreme Court and the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Florida.

This report is being provided for informational purposes. The recommendations of the Work Group involve the Clerks and highlight the important role Clerks play in this process. Using this report, the Legislature will consider revisions to the process for the restoration of voting rights. FCCC is continuing to diligently review the final report and its impact on Clerks and their offices. The Legislative & Public Affairs team will be actively working with partners in the Legislature and monitoring proposed legislation.

As a reminder, Governor Ron DeSantis appointed the Honorable JD Peacock II (Okaloosa) and the Honorable Doug Chorvat Jr. (Hernando) to the Work Group.

For questions, please contact Richard Herring (rherring@flclerks.com) or Kimberly Renspie (krenspie@flclerks.com).

4. Update on Jones V. DeSantis case in the U.S. District Court for the Norther District of Florida - Temporary Injunction, October 18, 2019

Jones v. Desantis, U.S. District Court, Northern District of Florida Order Denying the Motion to Dismiss or Abstain and Granting a Preliminary Injunction
Friday, October 18, 2019

SUMMARY OF INJUNCTION

Federal Judge Hinkle ordered that the Secretary of State and the Supervisor of Elections "must not take any action that both (a) prevents an individual plaintiff from applying or registering to vote and (b) is based only on failure to pay a financial obligation that the plaintiff asserts the plaintiff is genuinely unable to pay." This does not prohibit the Secretary from notifying the Supervisor that a plaintiff has unpaid financial obligations that will make the plaintiff ineligible to vote unless the plaintiff shows genuine inability to pay.

Note that the "plaintiffs" are the 17 named individuals in the consolidated lawsuits.

Clerks of the Circuit Court are not mentioned specifically in the order; however, in the section on Due Process, on pages 43-46, he discusses the difficulties with records and in determining terms of sentence.

SUMMARY OF FULL ORDER

Judge Hinkle was asked to dismiss plaintiffs' claims. He notes that the plaintiffs argue that an attempt by the state to preclude them from voting because they lack the financial resources to pay certain financial obligations violates the Due Process Clause. He reasons that if plaintiffs are correct, the constitutional violation can be remedied through an injunction.

The Judge was also asked to abstain from ruling as this is a matter of state law, not federal law. He finds two countervailing arguments. First this is a voting rights case and elections are upcoming. The U.S. Supreme Court and the 11th Circuit have held that a district court does not abuse its discretion in declining to abstain in such circumstances. Second, he states that "the Florida Supreme Court's ruling on the most important part of the unclear issue of state law {payment of financial obligations} can be predicted with substantial confidence."

While he recognizes the final word on "financial obligations imposed at the time of sentencing" belongs to the Florida Supreme Court, for purposes of his order, Judge Hinkle assume the term includes fines and restitution, fees even when unrelated to culpability, and amounts even converted to civil liens, as long as these are included in the sentencing document.

He discusses the standards for injunction and the requirement that reenfranchisement must comply with the U.S. Constitution. He then lays out when the U.S. Constitution allows a state to condition reenfranchisement on payment of at least some financial obligations – specifically when a felon is able to pay but chooses not to do so. The right to vote cannot be made to depend on an individual's financial resources. He gives the example of an unconstitutional state statute that automatically restored the right to vote for felons with a net wort over $100,000 but not for other felons.

Judge Hinkle notes that the state may place the burden of establishing inability to pay on the felon, through an appropriate administrative process. He then notes that a community service option would not make the process constitutional because it would not be available for out-of-state or federal convictions, because community service hourly rates would make the option illusory for some felons, and because a community service option would require felons to miss every election until service is completed.

Judge Hinkle next discusses poll taxes under the 24th Amendment, ultimately opining that a definitive ruling is unnecessary in determining to issue a temporary injunction.

Judge Hinkle points the felon's constitutional right to due process on the question of whether all terms of sentence have been completed. He discusses but does not decide the issue of inconsistent or unavailable records. He notes that the DOS Work Group may propose a system design to improve accessibility to records. Likewise, he discusses but does not decide the issues related to the prosecution risk to plaintiffs who assert that they have completed their terms when outstanding terms remain.

In issuing the injunction, Judge Hinkle notes that "when a state wrongfully prevents an eligible citizen from voting, the harm to the citizen is irreparable" and that "the State's interest in preventing votes by ineligible voters is no greater than its interest in allowing voters by eligible voters." {emphasis in original}

5. Update on Advisory Opinion to the Governor re: Implementation of Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment

Florida Supreme Court Reply Briefs - filed October 3, 2019

REPLY BRIEF OF INTERESTED PARTY FAIR ELECTIONS CENTER

The four interested state parties urge this Court to construe the phrase "all terms of sentence" in Article VI, Section 4 of the Florida Constitution to include costs and fees. They appear to think this reading is self-evident, repeatedly stating in conclusory fashion that sentences include costs and fees. However, they fail to marshal adequate legal support for this unsubstantiated assertion.

One would think that if criminal sentences embraced costs and fees under Florida law—and that if this dovetailed with the common, popular understanding of the word "sentence"—then the state's legislators, judges, and Justices would have explicitly mentioned this and on more than one occasion. But each of these four briefs strains to present legal authorities o this Court that include costs and fees within the ambit of the "terms of sentence." The closest any of the cited statutes comes is the unremarkable statement that the assessment of certain discretionary costs and fees must be pronounced at sentencing, and the only case presented that suggests costs and fees are part of the sentence is the outlier decision in Martinez v. State, 91 So. 3d 878 (Fla. 5th DCA 2012), which is in considerable tension with this Court's decisions.

On the other side of the scale, there are countless Florida statutes and rules that distinguish between penalties and sentences, on the one hand, and costs and fees on the other. The Courts of Appeals have repeatedly characterized costs and fees as non-punitive, purely for administrative purposes, and not part of criminal sentences.

The near-total absence of statutes, rules, or judicial opinions that include costs and fees within the terms of a criminal sentence speaks volumes. Before SB 7066, the Florida Legislature had never sought to include costs and fees within the criminal sentence. Now this Court must decide whether Article VI, Section 4 of the Florida Constitution and the decades of statutory enactments and case law that inform the meaning of "terms of sentence" nevertheless give Florida lawmakers leeway to break so suddenly and completely with the settled understanding that costs and fees are non-punitive and not part of criminal sentences.

REPLY BRIEF OF INTERESTED PARTY ADAM RICHARDSON

"Completion of all terms of service" in amendment 4 encompasses only fines authorized by Florida Statutes § 775.083 in cases of imprisonment and split sentences, and in cases of only probation and community control, no financial obligations.

"[T]erms" within the meaning of Amendment 4 are those found within the four corners of the sentencing order, and a contrary interpretation would lead to an absurd result. It would be absurd to require a search of materials beyond the actual sentencing order to determine, in each case, what "all terms of the sentence" are. A cursory review of a docket in a criminal case shows multiple orders entered at the completion of the case. To determine whether he has completed all terms of his sentence under the view advanced by the Governor (and other government parties) would require a convicted felon to gather all of these documents to piece together those terms.

The Governor's question to the Court sets up a potential conflict between Amendment 4 and the statute. In In re Advisory Opinion to the Governor, 9 So. 2d 172 (Fla. 1942) the Court had earlier rendered an advisory opinion to the Governor. But he sent a request for another opinion because he remained in doubt about the interaction of a statute and a constitutional provision. Id. at 73-74. The Court wrote in the first paragraph of its advisory opinion:

Advisory opinions to the Governor are authorized by the Constitution and are therein limited to the interpretation of any portion of the Constitution upon any question affecting the executive powers and duties of the Governor. Statutes may be so interpreted in such advisory opinions only when and as they directly affect the executive powers and duties of the Governor under the Constitution.

Id. at 174 (emphasis added). The Court continued that, in the prior opinion, and "[i]n view of the express limitations upon such advisory opinions," the justices "in effect advised" on the interpretation of a statute. Id. The Court then said: "Such statute was not interpreted beyond its relation to the executive powers and duties of the Governor under the Constitution." Id.

REPLY BRIEF OF SECRETARY OF STATE, LAUREL M. LEE

An emphasis on words, not wishes. The words that millions of Floridians approved during the November 2018 General Election impose two distinct conditions for re-enfranchising felons outside of the clemency process: (1) commission of a crime other than "murder or a felony sexual offense," and (2) "completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation." Art. VI, § 4, Fla. Const. The words cannot be rewritten. Conditions imposed cannot be erased. See Lawnwood, 990 So. 2d at 510.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Semantic and syntactical games cannot deprive the words of their plain, ordinary, and fixed meaning either.

Even counsel for Amendment 4's Sponsor agreed that all means all when arguing for the amendment's inclusion on the November 2018 General Election Ballot. Sec'y Int. Br. App. at 13. His exact words were: "[A]ll terms means all 6terms within the four corners" of the sentencing document. Id. Some argue that this and other statements to the Justices of the Florida Supreme Court carry little weight. See ACLU, et al.Br. at 47. Others agree and attempt to otherwise minimize the effect of the statements made at oral argument. E.g., Raysor, et al.Br. at 46–49. Notably, however, Amendment 4's Sponsor has not retracted the statements. This silence is deafening when we consider that the Sponsor has filed an amicus curiae brief before the federal court—not this Court.

REPLY BRIEF OF INTERESTED PARTIES BONNIE RAYSOR, DIANE SHERRILL, AND LEE HOFFMAN

Article VI, § 4 of the Florida Constitution does not condition the restoration of voting rights on payment of LFOs. As explained in the Raysor parties' initial brief, the plain text of the provision excludes LFOs. The provision does not reference LFOs, and any extra-textual components read into the provision are limited to those of the same character as "parole and probation."

None of the State Parties mention, let alone address, one of the overriding principles that must guide any interpretation of Article VI, § 4: constitutional avoidance.2 Yet this Court has repeatedly held that Florida courts must construe a law "if fairly possible, as to avoid, not only the conclusion that it is unconstitutional, but also grave doubts upon that score."

The State Parties have failed to show that voters intended to impose an LFO requirement as a condition of voting. The circumstances surrounding the enactment of Amendment 4 in November of 2018 demonstrate that Florida voters intended to create a streamlined procedure for restoring the right to persons convicted of crimes other than murder or felony sexual offense. They sought to remove barriers to rights restoration and eliminate disparate treatment of individuals with past felony convictions due to arbitrary factors. And, they sought to re-enfranchise over a million Florida voters who had too long been denied the right to vote due to their past felony convictions.

Restoring the right to vote to individuals with outstanding LFOs does not conflict with the creation of additional rights for crime victims.

Statements by the sponsors do not represent the will of the voters.

GOVERNOR RON DESANTIS' REPLY BRIEF

The interested parties present various arguments in their initial briefs. Governor DeSantis raises three arguments in response and rebuttal. First, the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Governor argues that this Court has jurisdiction to answer the Governor's request for an advisory opinion under the plain language of article IV, section 1(c) of the Florida Constitution. Second, the Governor maintains that this Court should affirm that the word "sentence" legally and in common understanding means" every penalty imposed by the court when a person is found guilty of committing a crime." And third, the Governor argues that this Court should abstain from employing the canons of construction identified in several of the interested parties' initial briefs because the meaning of the constitutional phrase "completion of all terms of sentence" is plain.

REPLY BRIEF OF INTERESTED PARTIES THE AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION FOUNDATION OF FLORIDA, AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION FOUNDATION, NAACP LEGAL DEFENSE AND EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC., BRENNAN CENTER FOR JUSTICE AT NYU SCHOOL OF LAW, FLORIDA STATE CONFERENCE OF BRANCHES AND YOUTH UNITS OF THE NAACP, ORANGE COUNTY BRANCH OF THE NAACP, AND LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS OF FLORIDA

The Governor's own brief demonstrates his request falls outside Article IV, Section 1(c)'s narrow scope.

Article VI, Section 4(a)'s phrase "completion of all terms of sentence" cannot require returning citizens to pay legal financial obligations extending beyond their terms of imprisonment, parole, and probation to qualify for automatic voting restoration. The intent of the people ratifying the amendment controls, and the Court should not defer to the Legislature, let alone graft the language of SB7066 onto the Constitution. The Court should not defer to legislative interpretations of ballot initiatives. The Legislature itself did not intend SB7066 to be the permanent, definitive interpretation of Amendment 4. A plain reading of Article VI, Section 4(a) demonstrates "completion of all terms of sentence" cannot include LFOs extending beyond the terms of imprisonment, parole, or probation. "Terms" means multiple, coexisting, or consecutive terms of imprisonment, parole, or probation. The phrase "including parole or probation" must be read to exclude unending financial obligations, not to include them. Common-sense understandings of "completion of all terms of sentence" in Article VI, Section 4(a) cannot require the payment of LFOs beyond the terms of imprisonment, parole, or probation. Amendment 4's text, ballot title, and summary, and its sponsors and supporters' statements did not mislead voters or this Court.

Presentations:

Senator Jason Pizzo

Senator Pizzo testified that he is a former prosecutor from Miami-Dade County, having worked in the Miami-Dade State Attorney’s office for several years. He handled a number of cases during that time from misdemeanor through felony.

Senator Pizzo testified to his understanding of restitution as being owed to a victim; fees as being incurred as a condition or part of a term (whether probation or otherwise); and fines being by statute and attaching to any number of crimes. Senator Pizzo gave examples of statutory fines in the context of cocaine trafficking: ranging from a $50,000 fine for trafficking 28 grams – 199 grams of cocaine, to a $100,000 fine for trafficking 200 – 399 grams.

Senator Pizzo stated that he had some concerns about equity, parity, and uniformity of Senate Bill 7066 involving fines, restitution, and fees. Senator Pizzo referenced the fact that there are 20 individual circuits and that a plan rolled out under Senate Bill 7066 in one circuit may not be uniform with plans in the 19 other circuits. Senator Pizzo testified to his belief that differences could stem from differing policy, ideology, philosophy, procedure, or interpretation of the law in the circuits. Senator Pizzo noted that a couple drafters of Senate Bill 7066 were in attendance at the meeting and encouraged Work Group members to inquire of legislative intent.

Senator Pizzo explained how Miami-Dade handles judgment and sentence documents. He testified that in Miami-Dade the judgment and sentence are two separate bifurcated documents. He testified to his understanding of a sentence containing punishment – which he described as a term of years, incarceration, probation, and the restitution and fines that attach to any particular crime. He testified to a judgment in Miami-Dade often carrying a memorandum of costs, which are court costs, and that fees may also attach to it. He testified to his understanding of a term of years being indeterminate because the offender may be ordered to two years of probation, but may qualify for early termination. He testified further that probation may be extended if the window of the underlying felony allows for it based on a violation. He testified to his belief that it is impossible to ascertain what total fees might ultimately be. Senator Pizzo testified that it was his experience personally that a court will reserve at times on the amount of restitution until finite or definite figures are available. Senator Pizzo testified that as such, restitution is not always ordered at the same time that an offender pleads guilty or is found guilty at trial.

Senator Pizzo testified that an overwhelming majority of not only his own cases that he prosecuted, but those included in an audit that he had conducted involving the twenty judicial circuits, are closed by way of plea rather than by trial.

Senator Pizzo testified that Miami-Dade County is in the largest judicial circuit – with potentially 158,000 returning citizens. Senator Pizzo opined that if someone is able to enjoy a plan or procedure that is taking place in Miami-Dade County, consideration should be given to individuals in other locations such as Palm Beach or Broward Counties.

Senator Pizzo testified that he has volunteered pro bono to help anyone that wants to be able to register to vote, and that utilizing booths at various events, as well as Facebook and other social media postings are sensible means to share information. He testified that he has questions and concerns about the voter registration form. He noted that he understands the form is proceeding through rulemaking, but he believes there remains confusion about the ability to use the old form. Senator Pizzo shared community concern that checking off the third box in the felony section of the form initiates some sort of investigation. He stated that he is unsure whether it pulls the application to the side for further investigation as to whether someone does or does not qualify for registration.

Senator Pizzo noted that after the effective date for Amendment 4 on January 8th, 2019, many people registered. He inquired as to whether there would be retroactive removal, including of those convicted of a disqualifying sexual offense defined by Senate Bill 7066. Senator Pizzo noted his concern that state attorneys take a position not to prosecute anyone who registered on or after January 8, 2019, and before July 1, 2019, who may have made an erroneous determination of eligibility.

Senator Pizzo noted that there were 93,000 new voter registration applications in Miami-Dade between January 7, and July 1, 2018. He stated that in 2019, there were approximately 73,000 during that time. Senator Pizzo acknowledged that 2018 was a general election year, but expressed concern about the lower number in 2019.

Senator Pizzo testified that 10% of all outstanding felony cases have some form of restitution. He testified that it is well-settled that restitution must be paid. He testified that the interpretation in Miami-Dade is that the judgment and sentence must be bifurcated and that accordingly, the memorandum of costs and fees in the judgment, for purposes of voting, do not have to be paid. He testified that Miami-Dade is not waiving the costs, however, for all other purposes and the costs are still owed by the offender.

Senator Pizzo testified that the Miami-Dade plan also speaks to fines which are by statute. He stated that only the state attorney can waive fines. He testified that Miami-Dade County provides that if the offender is on a payment plan with good faith payment toward same, that individual should be allowed to go ahead and register to vote. He testified that all restitution has to be paid. Senator Pizzo testified that some other circuits collapse the judgment and sentence into one. He believes this creates concern about having a statewide uniform standard.

He testified that someone in Miami-Dade County may have to pay less to restore voting rights than in other circuits.

Senator Pizzo testified that a prior draft of Senate Bill 7066 or a related bill included a registry. He believes it is more difficult for an individual to determine his or her payment status if there is not a centralized database because the individual may need to check out-of-state sources, for example to determine whether legal financial obligations for an out-of-state conviction had been paid.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Senator Pizzo spoke to the Department of Corrections' (DOC) statutory obligation to inform offenders upon release about restoration of rights. Senator Pizzo opined that 30 released individuals may be going to 30 different counties and posed a question as to what information DOC will be providing to those individuals – whether it would be uniform or county specific.

In closing of his initial remarks, Senator Pizzo raised the topic of whether a court order finding satisfaction for purposes of voting will be accepted. He opined that the removal of the initial registry section of the legislation was a disservice because agencies should be able to share information. He additionally raised his concerns over federal courts potentially not following Florida law on an individual's application for waiver or conversion of legal financial obligations.

Representative James "J.W." Grant

Representative Grant testified that his presentation would discuss: 1) the statutory waiver process; and 2) ways to solve some of the challenges that have been presented by Amendment 4 and its implementing legislation.

Representative Grant testified that every bit of authority necessary to implement a circuit specific waiver process exists in the legislation. Representative Grant represented that one of the things contemplated during the legislative process was whether they would write into the statute a very specific process that mandated perhaps the chief judge's responsibility, the state attorney's responsibility, the clerk of court's responsibility, and so forth. He testified that in understanding that the circuits work very differently, it was important to the legislators, at least in the initial roll-out, that the legislation maintain the flexibility for local jurisdictions to do their work. Representative Grant testified that he had yet to hear a single issue that there is a lack of authority for local stakeholders – the clerks of court, the state attorneys, the chief judges, and others – to come together and put in place a process that is both transparent and efficient when it comes to the remedies provided by Senate Bill 7066.

Representative Grant testified that lost in the commentary by some elected officials at the local level, and just touched upon by Senator Pizzo, is respecting the waiver provided by statute. Representative Grant stated that the legislation is not ambiguous. It is explicit. The waiver process requires the termination of the financial obligation. If there are entities in the state who believe they can waive for the purpose of voting rights and simultaneously still pursue that obligation, he believes those entities are in very clear and explicit violation of the legislation that was passed.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Representative Grant highlighted why they did not include civil conversion as being a waiver in and of itself. He testified that putting a waiver in place that would eliminate financial responsibility in full was intended to be the most compassionate process to earn the right to vote while simultaneously no longer owing financial obligations. He testified that he finds it very disingenuous for some entities in the state to suggest that they can look right and say someone no longer owes the money for purposes of voting and then look left and try to chase the money down. That is why the termination of obligation exists in the statute. Representative Grant testified that the authority and ability is in place to waive legal financial obligations, including a civil lien. By contrast, conversion to a civil lien in and of itself, does not remove the financial obligation needed to be satisfied. Representative Grant reiterated that through the waiver process, an individual would not only obtain the ability to vote, but would also get his or her financial obligations terminated. Representative Grant emphasized that if entities or jurisdictions continue to look right and forego obligations for purposes of restoration of voting rights, and then look left and try to chase the money down, they are not following the language of the law and significant challenges are presented.

Representative Grant testified to the immunity from prosecution for registrations between January 8, 2019, and July 1, 2019, set forth in statute. Representative Grant also testified that it was important that exclusionary offenses in one circuit be the same as in every other circuit.

In summing up the statutory waiver process, and to make sure the intent and effecting language was clear, Representative Grant testified that legislators wanted: 1) a process that actually lifted the financial obligation off the citizen; 2) consistency of the strike zone such that the exact same offenses would be treated the same from county to county; and 3) the ability to document the outcome for all stakeholders involved in the process. Consistency of the strike zone was of critical importance. That said, they wanted the flexibility in each circuit to apply it in a process that makes the most sense for that circuit. He explained, for example, that a chief judge and a clerk could get together and determine a standard pleading that a returning citizen would use to seek waiver, or that the forum of a docket for such purposes could be designed similar to a veterans' treatment court or drug court in order to have a quick and equitable review of a process that is really an alternative to clemency.

Representative Grant reiterated that he had yet to hear from a single constitutional officer in the state of Florida who believes the legislation passed in Senate Bill 7066 in any way limits the authority such officers need to institute the waiver process and properly apply the law. Representative Grant stated that at the point that somebody can highlight any necessary authority to implement the process, legislators would certainly be all ears.

Moving from the waiver process to addressing solutions for workflow challenges, Representative Grant noted that the prior question simply asked, “Are you a convicted felon?” He testified that now the process is additionally complicated because of the numerous stakeholders brought to the table that were not necessarily at the table in the prior workflow. Thus, instead of the old workflow simply asking, “Are you a convicted felon?”, and, if the answer was, “Yes,” the individual was barred from voting, now we have a workflow that asks in some sequence: “Are you a convicted felon?”, “Were you convicted of an exclusionary offense?”, “What were the terms of your sentence?”, and “Have you completed all terms of your sentence?”

Representative Grant testified that this is not a unique problem to voting restoration. However, he believes Florida has not yet effectively handled full-scale data governance. Representative Grant stated that instead, Florida has continued to spend money on centralized databases inside of silos. He testified that the State of Florida is a large enterprise that does about 90 billion dollars in revenue per year, but there are 57 different agencies all operating in different silos, and all picking their own software vendors as well as their own standards and terminologies.

Representative Grant testified that when presented with a challenge like Amendment 4, we must wrestle with the fact that Florida has never done any of the underlying work to make it really simple and efficient such that all stakeholders can ask a question of any other stakeholder(s) involved and the sources of truth are readily designated.

Representative Grant’s recommendation to the Work Group and to the Florida Legislature in confronting different challenges is to first ask ourselves, “Do we know who the individual is?” That doesn’t necessarily require any personally identifiable information. Representative Grant testified that after an individual is identified, there is a need to identify who the sources of truth are. Representative Grant stated that the goal is in moving through a list of workflow questions, in order to get to a point where we can reliably say to someone who is attempting to get their rights restored, that they can register to vote and have no fear of any outstanding obligations, nor a “gotcha” of retroactivity. To be able to tell that individual with confidence that they have completed all terms of their sentence, and alert all stakeholders involved of the information in place.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Representative Grant testified that some of the aforementioned workflow may deal with sharing specific data, while some may be a simple query. He gave an example where Stakeholder "A" wants to query all stakeholders of whether someone has been convicted of a disqualifying offense, and in that example, there needs to be that sharing between all stakeholders. Representative Grant testified that he would strongly caution against centralizing data because it is a recipe for numerous problems and would take much longer to complete. Instead, he would strongly recommend development of APIs inside of each stakeholder group such that those APIs become the translation layer.

Representative Grant provided an analogy when speaking of APIs as being akin to an invitation of guests to one's home for a dinner party. Social constructs would allow guests into some locations in the home. A centralized database is tantamount to a construct that if a guest is given a key to the front door then the guest can go anywhere in the house. Representative Grant likened an API, on the other hand, as tantamount to giving the guest a key to a limited area of the house. He opined that there is a tendency of agencies to be hesitant giving a key to data because the agency does not want to let the recipient into the agency's entire house. He opined that such full key access is not necessary if other alternatives are explored.

Representative Grant testified that he is enthusiastic and believes that the administration is very receptive to pursuing robust data governance policies this year. This will facilitate new ways to share data safely between entities inside and outside government.

Representative Grant testified that when he says the challenges presented in the voting context are not unique, it perhaps highlights the data sharing issue more than at any other time in the past decade. Representative Grant provided an example of where data sharing is needed in another context – child welfare. He testified that the State of Florida on numerous occasions has put a registered sex offender and a child together and it happens because different databases are not shared. The same address may be provided for different people – one of whom is a sex offender – but the data check for the other individual assuming care of the child does not necessarily pull the sex offender listed at the same address from another government database. Representative Grant opined that this is indicative of the general challenges on the data governance front.

Representative Grant believes that if we can collectively go through that exercise of: A) "Can I identify who the individual is?"; B) "Who are the sources of truth for each of the questions involved in the workflow?"; and C) simultaneously or subsequently, "How do I alert every other stakeholder to the reliable answer from the source of truth?" then we can collectively get to where the initial legislation had things going. He stated that a working draft of the legislation had provisions that by 2022, a supervisor of elections had to be able to, in real time, notify an applicant whether or not they were eligible to vote, and if not, where the problems remained in the terms of the sentence. Representative Grant testified that obviously the problems with delayed implementation and why supervisors of elections cannot possibly be expected to give that answer today is because of technological infrastructure.

Representative Grant testified that the goal is to set in place a deadline to collaboratively work together to be able to give a voter or prospective voter a reliable answer about eligibility or how to clear up obligations to create eligibility. He stated that this is where legislators were trying to drive the legislation and he believes we will see them do some significant work this year on the data governance side in order to equip each of the stakeholders involved with the tools necessary to go through the process of identifying, answering from a source of truth perspective, and then notifying all stakeholders.

Florida Department of Corrections (DOC)

Bureau Chief Michelle Palmer

Bureau Chief Michelle Palmer testified that DOC's role in voter registration is to educate and inform inmates regarding voter restoration rights and to provide a financial obligation summary at the time of release.

Bureau Chief Palmer discussed DOC'S current process of fulfilling those roles for inmates who are incarcerated, and those who are being released. Bureau Chief Palmer testified that forms, examples of which were provided in materials given to Work Group members, have been created that are uniform throughout the state and are provided to all inmates successfully terminating supervision. Bureau Chief Palmer testified that beginning July 1, 2019, DOC began educating and informing all offenders regarding their restoration rights as well as providing a financial obligation summary at the time of release.

Bureau Chief Palmer testified that as DOC's process has evolved, they have enhanced trainings to include additional information during inmate orientation. As such, inmates receive the information when first received into DOC custody. In addition, they have added the information to the Conference 100, which is a program that starts about 18 months prior to an inmate's release, so the inmate is hearing that information again. At the time of release, an inmate is again provided the same consistent and uniform information.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Bureau Chief Palmer testified that as well as providing that training to inmates, they have also added staff training. New classification and release officers are also receiving the information so they can better answer questions the inmate may have while he or she is in custody.

Bureau Chief Palmer testified that at the time of release, DOC is providing that same information about restoration, along with a copy of any outstanding financial obligations that the offender may have. Bureau Chief Palmer stated that as part of process, DOC reviews all sentencing orders that are available. They also review the Clerks of Courts' Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS). She stated that DOC compares that information to see if there are any discrepancies between DOC's information and CCIS information. DOC communicates with the Clerk directly to ensure any discrepancies are resolved. If found, DOC tries to resolve the discrepancies prior to an inmate being released. Bureau Chief Palmer testified that the end result is that when the inmate is released, DOC provides an outstanding financial obligations summary. This includes the original financial obligation, any known payments, and the outstanding balance at the time of release. Bureau Chief Palmer noted that the outstanding balance only encompasses those cases for which the offender is currently incarcerated. Bureau Chief Palmer testified that if an inmate is being released from incarceration into supervision, the financial obligation summary is not provided at the time of release from incarceration, but rather, will be provided once the offender successfully completes probation or other supervision.

Joe Winkler, Assistant Secretary of Community Corrections

Joe Winkler, the Assistant Secretary of Community Corrections for DOC testified as to the processes DOC has for those under supervision. He testified that each year over 80,000 offenders terminate supervision, although the numbers are a little deceiving because some terminations may be a result of revocation of probation and the offender is then sentenced to prison or county jail. Others may be sentenced to a subsequent term of supervision or pretrial intervention. Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that nonetheless, DOC is still responsible for notifying approximately 60,000 offenders each year of their financial obligations upon release. He noted that successful project implementation is paramount.

Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that DOC's primary responsibility is to educate. DOC made modifications to a prior process used. For offenders terminating supervision prior to July 1, 2019, DOC gave a termination letter outlining the way in which the offender could seek to get his or her civil rights restored. Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that after July 1, 2019, DOC modified that form to include the voting rights process. The updated termination supervision letter is now provided to offenders upon termination of supervision

Assistant Secretary Winkler noted that the second part of the process is still evolving. He testified that DOC is undertaking a pilot program with 4 of Florida's judicial circuits (the 2nd (Tallahassee); 4th (Jacksonville); 5th (Tavares); and 20th (Sarasota) circuits). He testified that DOC is going to target offenders who are within 30 – 60 days of their termination date and give them an opportunity to attend a class at a probation office to further educate the offenders about the voting restoration process. This will include a quality video, made in consultation with the Florida Commission on Offender Review (FCOR) and supervisors of elections, containing information about the process and frequently asked questions. Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that they will also answer questions from offenders in attendance. These will include general questions about the restoration process and specific questions the offenders may have about their particular cases. The video will contain a consistent message applicable to all counties. Assistant Secretary Winkler noted that DOC also plans to invite people from the supervisors of elections offices to office to help answer some of those questions.

Assistant Secretary Winkler noted that in addition to the education component, DOC has a statutory responsibility to notify offenders in writing of their outstanding terms of supervision. This is a continuous process. He stated that the role of a probation officer is to communicate with the offender about responsibilities of compliance and monitoring. Each time the offender reports, the probation officer goes over standard and special conditions of probation imposed by the sentencing authority. If done consistently during supervision, prior to termination, the offender will know what the outstanding terms are. When an offender terminates supervision, DOC is also going to provide the closing summary. The summary outlines the conditions that the offender had while on supervision. It shows the conditions outstanding, as well as those completed. Also, whenever the offender terminates supervision, DOC is going to provide the documents to the clerk of court in the sentencing county, the releasing county, and FCOR.

Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that any time a new process is implemented, there are associated challenges. In DOC, the challenges stem from the older database, the nature of restitution, and court costs. Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that the database, known as the Offender Based Information System (OBIS), was created in 1993, and is antiquated. It was also designed as an internal database. It was never designed to see if somebody was able to have their voting rights restored. Regarding restitution, Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that if the offenders pays through DOC while on supervision, DOC sends to the victim and records it in OBIS. However, DOC no longer collects outstanding restitution after termination of supervision. The same is true for court costs. DOC collects and sends payments. However, the clerks of court maintain the accounts receivable. DOC's accounting of court costs remaining in a given case may be different from what a clerk of court has. The discrepancies may stem from the large volume of offenders placed on supervision each year and number of clerks throughout the state. Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that when they had inconsistencies in the probation office, they told staff to go ahead and try to reach out to the clerk and help resolve those discrepancies. The clerks of court are record keepers for those court costs and fees.

Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that moving forward, there are three primary areas DOC is working on. The first is communication. He testified that even before July 1, 2019, DOC started having meetings within DOC and with other entities in this room such as FCOR, the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE), and the Department of State (DOS). He testified that the goal of the meetings was to try and get a seamless process in place to not have the discrepancies.

Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that the second area of focus is internal. They have stressed the importance with leadership throughout DOC in making sure the databases are accurate. He testified that whenever DOC does the initial intake of an offender, they want to make sure the responsibilities and obligations of the sentence are inputted properly and upon release as well. He testified that the goal is to work hard on the front end so that whatever comes to FCOR and DOS on the back end, that those entities have the most accurate information possible.

Assistant Secretary Winkler testified that the third area of focus is moving toward a uniform source of collection for monetary obligations. He opined that if all stakeholders want to have a seamless process in place, it may be beneficial to look at a uniform source of collection for those monetary obligations.

In response to an inquiry from the Work Group, Assistant Secretary Winkler confirmed that the financial summary information provided to offenders upon release had some limitation in that it would only relate to the term of incarceration and/or supervision being completed. When asked as to what his vision of a uniform source of collection might entail, Assistant Secretary Winkler responded that he would defer to the Work Group on that point, but that he would like to get DOC's database out of it, as it was not designed for that process.

Clerks of Circuit Courts and Comptrollers

Honorable Ken Burke, CPA – Clerk of the Circuit Court and Comptroller for Pinellas County

The Honorable Ken Burke, CPA, Clerk of the Circuit Court and Comptroller for Pinellas County introduced himself and two colleagues as presenting as a group, on behalf of all 67 Court Clerks. Those colleagues were the Honorable Karen Rushing, Clerk of the Circuit Court and County Comptroller for Sarasota County, and Melvin Cox, Director of Information Technology for the Florida Association of Court Clerks. Clerk Burke advised that he would be discussing the Clerk's duties as they relate to court records. Clerk Rushing would be describing records in the Clerks' case maintenance systems. And Director Cox would be discussing the Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS). Clerk Burke advised that they had been collectively charged with answering 3 questions: 1) Does the necessary information exist?; 2) Where does it reside?; and 3) How can it be relied on in light of Constitutional Amendment 4?

Clerk Burke began by discussing a background of a clerk's duties. Clerk Burke testified that clerks of court have a wide range of record-keeping functions. They are also responsible for information management and financial management for both the judicial system and county government. Clerk Burke testified that each clerk is vested with a large amount of administrative and ministerial duties. Putting all those duties together – there are 926 different constitutional or statutorily mandated functions for clerks to follow. Clerk Burke testified that the clerks of courts' duties continue to change through legislation and court rules. He testified that the clerks of courts have been closely monitoring the implementation of Amendment 4. They also provided information and testimony to the Florida House and Senate related to the Amendment.

Clerk Burke testified that clerks do not determine voter eligibility. He stated that he recognizes that as the custodians of important data and information, they can assist with implementation. He testified that public records are accessible to the full extent that technology, court rules, statutes, and resources allow. He testified that most clerks throughout the state of Florida provide records on the internet through the individual clerks' websites. For some records such as family law or probate cases, a viewer has to be a registered user. Clerk Burke testified that criminal records by and large are open to the public. Certain information is redacted according to statutory requirements and court rules.

Clerk Burke testified that clerks regularly provide information on fines and fees assessed to individuals. He testified that records are available in three primary forms: paper (for older records); electronic documents (current records); and through data which is available on a local level and statewide basis in CCIS. He testified that most cases from the year 2000, and in some cases even earlier, have records on court fines and fees in an easily accessible digitized way. Clerk Burke noted that prior records related to prior offenses not related to an offender's instant term of supervision in DOC, and thus not contained in the financial obligation summary being provided upon release by DOC, will be contained in clerk records and CCIS.

Clerk Burke next discussed establishing restitution amounts. He testified that it is common for restitution to be paid outside of the clerk's collection system. He testified that in most cases, such as those involving substantial property damage or embezzlement, it is ordered to be paid directly to the victim. Clerk Burke testified that in those cases, the clerk not have a record of that payment or schedule of payment. The clerk would have a record of the sentence, but not any payment unless ordered to be paid through the clerk's office. Payment of restitution to the clerk's office is the minority of cases. Thus, there are cases where clerk records may show an outstanding balance of restitution even though it may have been paid. Clerk Burke testified that in addition, a clerk cannot track non-monetary conditions of a sentence. A sentence could include different elements in addition to incarceration and monetary items. Such elements could be undergoing drug testing, staying employed, attending school, or staying away from the victim. Clerk Burke stated that a clerk has no way of monitoring these instructions. Clerk Burke stated that the while the clerk reports a sentence as ordered by the court, the clerk is not responsible for enforcement. The clerk is responsible for monetary collection.

Clerk Burke concluded by noting that in Pinellas County, the judge reads all terms of the sentence into the record in the courtroom. Clerk Burke provided an example of a standard judgment and sentence in Pinellas County, noting that it is all contained in the same paperwork.

He pointed out that fines and fees are embedded right into a sentence the same as incarceration terms.

Honorable Karen Rushing – Clerk of the Circuit Court and County Comptroller for Sarasota County

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Transitioning from Clerk Burke's presentation, the Honorable Karen Rushing, Clerk of the Circuit Court and County Comptroller for Sarasota County, testified that the form that was shown by Clerk Burke is a form that is prescribed in rule book for sentencing. She noted that there are various standard forms and that is one of them.

Clerk Rushing testified that pursuant to Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.430, clerks are required to keep felony convictions for 75 years. She testified that judgments and sentences are also included in the official records in most instances. Clerk Rushing testified that each county has a Case Maintenance System (CMS) containing large amounts of information. She testified that although older records might be in paper form – microfilm, microfiche, or historic databases that may or may not have been converted into the new database – all the records are nevertheless all available to those who ask for information regarding the records.

Clerk Rushing pulled up and testified to a slide showing functions of CMS. Such functions include case initiation and indexing. Rules and statutes require clerks to docket (index) documents and actions taken by the clerk. Clerk Rushing testified that when someone looks at a docket, he or she sees all documents that have been filed and any action that the court may have taken – issuance of a warrant or summons, etc. CMS allows a user to search an individual by name and other pertinent data (demographics). The demographic information helps determine whether the individual located is the one sought.

Clerk Rushing testified how a docket is notated in date order so a viewer can see chronological events. Each disposition captures data elements for reporting purposes. Clerks report to many agencies, including FDLE. Reports contain information as to an individual and charges. Clerk Rushing discussed how when a case is set up on an individual, there may be multiple charges and multiple counts.

Clerk Rushing testified that clerks also have receiving capability. Clerks monitor collection of fines and court costs. The record will also contain references about other fees. Clerk Rushing testified that if a fee is not ordered payable to the clerk, the clerk may not know if the fee has been paid, or paid fully.

In response to a question from the Work Group, Clerk Rushing confirmed that the clerk's accounting system would account for fines and costs, but not necessarily as to fees and restitution. If those are ordered to be paid to the clerk, the clerk would account for them. Often, however, restitution is ordered paid directly to the victim. Clerk Rushing noted this is often seen with commercial institutions as the victim, in particular. Clerk Rushing stated that fees, such as those owed to the public defender or state attorney, are paid to the clerk and then disbursed to those entities. In those instances, the clerk would have an accounting. Clerk Rushing testified that if a judge ordered that restitution be paid to the clerk, the clerk would track the financial restitution obligations as well.

Clerk Rushing testified that CMS must satisfy the state's reporting requirements, but also what the court needs to know in order to move cases along. Clerk Rushing testified that clerks are working closely with DOC in addressing any anomalies in the system.

Melvin Cox, Director of Information Technology for the Florida Association of Court Clerks and Comptrollers

Melvin Cox, Director of Information Technology for the Florida Association of Court Clerks and Comptrollers, testified regarding CCIS, a system that all clerks participate in. Director Cox testified that CCIS utilizes standards throughout the state such as case types designated by the Florida Supreme Court. Director Cox testified that the real purpose of CCIS is to create a statewide repository and access to court data that exists in the local CMS systems. CCIS provides statewide access in a secure portal. He testified that it provides real time access by APIs and interfaces from each local CMS to CCIS. He testified there is secured access and a method to share data with a number of governmental agencies (local, state, and national).

Director Cox testified that CCIS is a mature system established in 2002. Clerks recognized the need for a centralized system. Director Cox testified that it has grown over time and has been enhanced, such as when it was enhanced to provide real time access to the information. Director Cox testified that a user can log on, search by case number or an individual's name, and find the cases he or she is looking for. It also provides, where available, access to document images or any information associated with that case.

Director Cox testified to a number of providers in the flow of data. These providers include local state law enforcement, state attorney's offices, the Department of Juvenile Justice, and others. Director Cox testified that clerks maintain the records locally in CMS. Each CMS then has real time interface with the CCIS portal. When a user logs into the CCIS portal, the user can access the information on a statewide basis.

Director Cox testified that the data available in CCIS covers all information regarding a case such as parties, the case number information on progress dockets, document images, sentencing information, and financial assessments and collections that are logged on that particular case. Director Cox testified that the scope of electronic information available in Florida is very large. He testified that CCIS currently contains 147 million cases and over 447 million searchable names. Information increases daily as information is added to the system.

Director Cox testified that after around the year 2000, most of the cases are available electronically. He testified that starting around 2010, document images are available for most cases. It was then that it became common to not only capture the information on the case, but the images associated with the case. The data and images are sourced in real time from each local system. One of the concepts of CCIS is to source the information as closely to the original source as possible. He stated that is why the information is pulled directly from CMS. Director Cox testified that older cases are not available through the local CMS systems or CCIS.

Director Cox testified that CCIS has a large user base, with almost 40,000 current active users. He stated that access is restricted to federal, state, and local agencies, and each agency is assigned a security level based upon the agency's ability to access court records. He testified that CCIS is widely used throughout the state, especially by those agencies that need to access information on a statewide basis.

In response to an inquiry from the Work Group, Director Cox confirmed that the general public does not have access to CCIS. Thus, an individual with a criminal history attempting to ascertain or get documents pertaining to convictions or obligations could not access CCIS.

Honorable Ken Burke, CPA – Clerk of the Circuit Court and Comptroller for Pinellas County (follow-up)

Clerk Burke shared, building upon the discussion of the public not having direct access to CCIS, that clerks are working on a uniform form, in conjunction with DOC, such that if an individual walks into a clerk's office, the clerk would be able to access CCIS information for the individual and assist the individual with ascertaining financial obligations. Clerk Burke gave the example that if an individual had a felony in one county and walked into another county clerk's office, the clerk in the office could locate the necessary information in CCIS, provide the individual with a uniform form, and be able to advise the individual of outstanding amounts. Clerk Burke noted that the amounts still may not include restitution. Clerk Burke noted that they would also provide contact information for the other clerks.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Clerk Burke also shared that a concept is in discussion and anticipated development creating a statewide payment system. The system would accept credit card payments for outstanding obligations even though amounts are due to other counties. Clerk Burke testified that Director Cox is helping to establish that system on a statewide system to be able to help citizens walking into any clerk's office satisfy payment obligations statewide. In response to a follow-up question, Clerk Burke confirmed that the system is not yet in place where the citizen could obtain information from one clerk about all counties, but that the clerks are continuing to work on best practices and that is the objective. Clerk Burke testified that the clerks will be approving a form at their next conference that will be able to be used in every county. There would be no cost to a citizen for obtaining this type of information.

Honorable Karen Rushing – Clerk of the Circuit Court and County Comptroller for Sarasota County (follow-up)

Clerk Rushing, in response to follow-up discussions and inquiry, advised that clerks could certainly view whenever restitution had been imposed and communicate that to an individual. The clerk would then do their best to connect the individual with whomever might be able to share records, such as the probation department. The clerk could also see if the restitution was ordered payable to the victim.

In response to a request from the Work Group to share a bit more about what types of fees exist and what happens to them in terms of payment, Clerk Rushing testified that in her experience, she sees fines, costs, and fees as somewhat of a catchall. She refers to specific statutory language that is payable to the clerk as a clerk fee and that usually is a part of the court costs. Clerk Rushing testified that she does not believe there to be any hidden fees that nobody knows about. Clerk Rushing stated that there are either fines, a statutory cost that is set out, or state attorney or public defender fees. Clerk Rushing testified that she sees that word littered throughout statutes. There could also be probationary fees. Clerk Rushing testified that the clerk would likely not know if a probationary fee was collected and whether it was owed if an individual came in to the clerk's office.

Honorable Ken Burke, CPA – Clerk of the Circuit Court and Comptroller for Pinellas County (follow-up)

Building upon Clerk Rushing's discussion of various fees and costs, Clerk Burke testified that clerks have determined, in creating a uniform form to assist individuals, that the financial obligation owed is the that was pronounced at sentencing and nothing above that. If there is interest on judgments or collection fees allowed under Florida Statutes, those amounts would not be included on amounts owed for voting restoration purposes. Clerk Burke testified that those additional amounts may be owed by that offender, but they are not included in the sentence of the court. The clerks' form would only have on it amounts based upon what the sentence of the court was at that time.

Honorable Karen Rushing – Clerk of the Circuit Court and County Comptroller for Sarasota County (follow-up)

A Work Group member inquired as to whether if someone had paid restitution, what notice of satisfaction or other document would they file with the clerk? Clerk Rushing testified that typically a clerk does not decline to file any document that an individual is trying to file in their file, so if an individual came with a receipt from the victim, for example, the clerk would file it.

Public Comment

Mark Schlakman, J.D., Florida State University

Mr. Schlakman commented that he spoke at the first Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group meeting and Senator Pizzo's remarks earlier prompted him to return. Mr. Schlakman believes January 8, 2019 – June 30, 2019, is a window that could relate to many interesting dynamics. Mr. Schlakman commented that he believes it would be an ex post facto issue if anyone that registered during that time were removed from the voter rolls. Mr. Schlakman believes the legislation was silent as to those issues, and wished to again bring it to the Work Group's attention.

Cecile Scoon, First Vice President - League of Women Voters of Florida and Action Chair of Restoration of Rights

Ms. Scoon commented regarding possible filing fees for those who wish to use the statutory method of going before a court for modification or waiver of financial obligations. Ms. Scoon asked that the work group consider any such fees and whether they might present obstacles.

Ms. Scoon commented that she appreciated the agencies presenting being candid – that some systems were not configured for the use presented today. Ms. Scoon commented that it appeared to her they were trying to do things but having difficulty accomplishing what needs to be accomplished and they did not provide a timeline for coming online. Ms. Scoon commented that the League of Women Voters' interest is in assisting individuals to understand if they are eligible to vote. Ms. Scoon commented that systems created 20 or 30 years ago were not intended to determine on a razor's edge whether someone actually paid something or not, and that a lot of the work she encounters is based on old time paper records.

Ms. Scoon commented that she thinks an access point in the clerk's office where someone can go and learn about all their cases is good, but that it is a projected plan with no time given and people are burdened and wanting to vote today. Ms. Scoon commented that gathering of information with the agency is only as good as the individual clerk's information. Ms. Scoon commented that clerks have no records of restitution and that restitution could have been paid to an individual who died or moved away. Ms. Scoon commented that she would ask the Work Group to consider issuing a statement for all state attorneys to take account of – that if someone has made a good faith effort to determine and pay financial obligations, they should have no fear of prosecution.

Commissioner Bob Ratliff, Big Bend Voting Rights Project

Former Leon County Commissioner Bob Ratliff commented that the Big Bend Voting Rights project is a group of volunteers working on registering voters. He commented that the group began January 8, 2019, with an emphasis on identifying and registering ex-felons who have completed their sentence. He commented that based on experiences of hundreds of returning citizens, almost all marginalized and know nothing about Amendment 4. Commissioner Ratliff testified that these individuals by and large do not read the newspaper, watch the news on television, nor do they go to church. He commented that they live in the shadows of society.

Commissioner Ratliff commented that these individuals are still citizens and that the right to vote for citizens is one of the most precious rights. Commissioner Ratliff commented that he wants to urge upon the Work Group to be very careful in whatever kind of screening, verifying, or data systems are recommended because the systems need to be fault-free. Commissioner Ratliff commented that he believes otherwise, it violates the right of citizens to vote.

Commissioner Ratliff commented that having served as a County Commissioner for 12 years, he is keenly aware of how local governments work and what kind of constraints exist because of staffing, resources, and data systems. He commented that the Commission during his time fully funded the Leon County Clerk of Court. Commissioner Ratliff commented that he is still trying to figure out how it everything is going to work. Commissioner Ratliff commented as to the following questions remaining for him personally – When somebody gets notice that they can't vote - how does that person go about challenging it? How does the individual know if the information relied upon is accurate? Who helps him or her? Commissioner Ratliff concluded his remarks by commenting that returning citizens deserve every bit of respect as every other citizen in the state.

Senator Jason Pizzo

Senator Pizzo returned to speak during the public comment period. Senator Pizzo commented that the only thing everyone can agree on, is that restitution has to be paid. Senator Pizzo commented that restitution is the one thing that jumps out in that the clerk's office – that has the most comprehensive of databases – does not track that. Senator Pizzo commented that this is a huge concern to him because wherever an individual goes in the 20 circuits, restitution must be paid. Senator Pizzo commented that a lot of the victims in his criminal prosecutions were elderly individuals fleeced out of savings by a caretaker. Senator Pizzo commented that he made certain to provide for restitution payable to the victim or the victim's estate, but he believes Many restitution orders do not provide for payment to the estate. Senator Pizzo commented that presumably, there could be millions of dollars in restitution where the victims have died or a commercial entity victim has closed.

Senator Pizzo commented that he is cautiously optimistic that a clerk's centralized database will be able to help individuals find out about financial obligations. Senator Pizzo commented that like his colleague, Representative Grant, he is also leery of centralized databases in practice – mainly because victim information is too readily available and he fought against that in practice. Senator Pizzo commented that what he meant to suggest was a centralized repository or administration for of all this.

Senator Pizzo commented that courts locally in Miami-Dade plan to have a separate judge in a separate courtroom just handling these waiver cases. Otherwise, it could impose a substantial labor-intensive practice upon regular court dockets. Senator Pizzo commented that the Sixth Judicial Circuit's judgment and sentenced shown by Clerk Burke looks nothing like the Miami-Dade judgment and sentence. Senator Pizzo commented that the difference creates a per se inequity where there is going to be separate treatment of individuals. Senator Pizzo commented that this has to be reconciled soon. He commented to the Work Group that they have a captive audience with a representative and a senator that can draft legislation.

Senator Pizzo commented that a number of clerks entered into agreements with collection agencies years ago. Senator Pizzo commented that the process for waiver of financial obligations may run afoul of contractual obligations with third-party companies.

Senator Pizzo commented that he believes nobody is paying anything to go reopen a case and that the legislation provides for a narrow scope under Amendment 4 where a court can modify a criminal sentence.

Senator Pizzo commented that in addition to geography and local practice, he believes inequity also arises from the varying fee schedules over the decades.

Neil Volz, Florida Rights Restoration Commission

Neil Volz with the Florida Rights Restoration Commission, commented that he is a returning citizen. He commented that he wished to say, “Thank you.” He commented that at the end of the day, the heartbeat of this conversation involves people all across the state. He commented that on January 8, 2019, he, along with other returning citizens, got to go down to the local supervisor of elections office, wave flags, and begin to feel like returning citizens. He commented that as an organization, they are operating under the law. Mr. Volz commented that he believes when people participate in society, there is less crime, and lives change. Mr. Volz commented that from their perspective, an organization that worked 7 or 8 years to get the amendment on the ballot, they look forward to working 7 or 8 more with people here to implement this in a healthy way. A way that makes our state a beacon for other states to look at. Mr. Volz commented that we are all in it together now and he is honored to participate. Mr. Volz commented that at the heart of this entire operation are friends and family members. Mr. Volz commented that the returning citizen community would love to be a positive member of this as it continues to play out.

6.E. SUMMARY OF PRESENTATIONS AND PUBLIC COMMENTS
August 19, 2019, Meeting

The August 19, 2019, meeting of the Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group contained a presentation from the following individual:

- Division Director Maria Matthews

The following individuals spoke during public comment:

- Mark Schlakman, J.D., Florida State University

The following individuals made a written comment:

- Brandon S. Peters, Florida Democratic Party

STATEMENT OF FACTS

Director Maria Matthews testified as to the following matters:

I. Voter Registration Application

• The Florida Voter Registration Application is used for new registrants, updates to voter information and/or replacement of a voter information card. See 97.052, Fla. Stat.

• The statewide voter registration application is currently under rulemaking.

• In the 2019, Legislative Session SB 7066 was passed which revised the statements on the statewide voter registration application that an applicant must affirm as to felony conviction(s). The law also defined terms in the voting rights restoration amendment in s. 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution.

II. Current Registration Processing (by reference to Voter Registration Workflow chart – See Attachment A)

• Paper voter registration applications are received through the mail, in person, from a Third Party Voter Registration Organization (3PVRO) or a Voter Registration Agency (VRA).

• Electronic registration information can also be received from Highway Safety Motor Vehicles (HSMV) electronic intake in person, Go Renew (online application with HSMV) or the Department of State (DOS) Online Voter Registration (OVR) system.

• Once the application is entered into the Florida Voter Registration System (FVRS) and everything is complete, the application is forwarded to HSMV for verification of the personal identifying number pursuant to See 97.053, Fla. Stat.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

• If verified, the County Supervisor of Elections (SOE) office makes the final call on completing the active voter registration and the applicant becomes a registered voter.

• If an identifying number could not be verified and DOS could not make the determination, the SOE sends a notice to the voter requesting proof of verification. If the individual has not submitted proof and they go to cast a ballot they can still vote a provisional ballot but will still need to provide proof of their personal identifying number in order to have their provisional ballot counted.

III. History of Felon Match Process prior to FVRS

• Prior to the implementation of FVRS in 2006 eligibility information was provided directly to the SOE offices.

o Deceased information was sent by the Department of Health (DOH).

o Felon and mentally incapacitated information was sent by the Clerk of the Court. Once identified the individual was removed immediately.

• There was no notice or opportunity to contest the findings of ineligibility although notice was required if someone was being removed for having listed a fictitious name, legal residence address.

• In 2005 the Florida Legislature added significant due processes to the law. The Department of State was then designated as the primary agency to identify potentially ineligible voters based on the information received from state agencies or any other credible and reliable sources.

IV. Felon Match Process prior to Constitutional Amendment Four and 2019 Legislation

• Once a voter is registered (and only after registering), within 24 hours the voter's record is cross checked against criminal records to determine there is no disqualification due to a felony conviction. • Automated felony information comes directly to DOS daily from the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) as automated data and the Department of Corrections (DOC) as automated matches via a web service. Federal felony (FED) information is received by fax, mail or email and is very much a manual process.

• The county Clerk of the Court (COC) may also provide felony reports along with juror change of address reports and mentally incapacitated reports. See 98.093, Fla. Stat.

o Some of these felony reports are also provided directly to the SOE's.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

• COC records are what feeds and supplies the criminal records database.

• In the daily electronic felon match process, the data is received and several criminal case records can be associated within the match.

o On average there are four to five criminal records in every match. Criminal records can also match to several voters.

o DOS has a designated bureau that conducts a manual review process to make sure files are credible and reliable.

§ To complete the manual review process, the Bureau of Voter Registration Services (BVRS) obtains documents, verifies identify and confirms the felon documents are reflective of what the court records show.

§ The documents for this research can sometimes be found online or may require a request to the local COC to obtain the appropriate documentation.

§ A demographic review is done to confirm felon and voter are the same individual by comparing information with HSMV, DOC and the Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS).

• If information cannot be located BVRS reaches out to the COC to request further information. This process can take some time depending on the county and age of the case being researched. The information is not produced in a certain time frame.

§ BVRS also has access to PACER (Public Access to Court Electric Records) for FED court records and the Inmate Records Imaging System (IRIS) which is updated by DOC.

§ In researching felony conviction information [pre-Amendment 4 and 2019 Legislation], BVRS was tasked with looking for the adjudication of guilt in a felony charge and researching any rights restoration (clemency) provided by the Florida Commission on Offender Review (FCOR.

§ If rights were restored and the individual did not have a subsequent felony conviction, then the individual remained on the voter registration rolls.

o Throughout the entire research process, the individual would remain on the voter registration rolls.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- § If the voter was determined to not have clemency, then the voter was deemed ineligible. The confirmed felon file was provided to the SOE electronically in order for the due process provision See 98.075 (7), Fla. Stat. to be followed.
- § The Supervisor of Elections makes the call on voter eligibility. If the individual is ineligible they are removed. If the voter is eligible they remain on the rolls. The entire process can take up to 120 days for final determination.

V. Felon Match Process Post Constitutional Amendment Four and 2019 Legislation (by reference to Felon Matching Workflow – See Attachment B)

Nothing has changed in the [felony] information received by DOS to identify potentially ineligible individuals. The source information received is used to determine the demographics and adjudication.

The restoration of voting rights is what has changed. DOS BVRS will now have to determine what type of felony conviction occurred.

o If the felony conviction is a murder or sexual offense, then the individual would have to obtain clemency in order to have their rights restored.

o In any other felony offense, the term of sentence will need to be researched.

- § If the individual is incarcerated or under supervision, then mostly likely the terms of sentence would not be complete (if dictated in the four corners of the judgement and sentence).
- § If the individual is not incarcerated or under supervision, then research is needed to determine if the felony adjudication is on a murder or sexual offense charge as laid out in See 97.051(2)(b) and (c) Fla. Stat., where clemency is needed for voting rights restoration.
- § If no murder or sexual offense charge is located, then all terms of the sentence will need to be researched. This research will include everything that state law has identified as part of that sentence. This research would include fine, fees and restitution.

o A completed case file would contain the following: case file review certificate, workflow that shows voter/felon match, HSMV DAVID, CCIS (including financial summary obligation) if available, court documents, other documents (arrest records), DOC screenshot and FCOR screenshot.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Nothing has changed in the SOE due process requirements. Throughout the entire felony research process, the individual remains on the rolls the entire time until a determination is made on ineligibility/removal.

VI. Questions on Presentation

Question: A Work Group member inquired on the context of the case file. Does the case file get built upon by the SOE office once received for processing?

Answer by presenter: File is complete as is. Credible and Reliable. Can call the Division with any questions. Once the SOE received information from voter it does become part of the case file. Recorded in the system as valid/invalid.

VII. Public Comment

Mark Schlakman, J.D., Florida State University

Mr. Schlakman's first minute of comment was inaudible due to the microphone being turned off. Mr. Schlakman commented, "The Legislation is silent to the window between January 8th and June 30th.regarding the context of removing voters from the rolls. Without delving into legal analysis or attempted to surmise of what the courts concluded. General observation is the concern about applying the law after the fact. Individuals could register to vote after January 8th. The legislation didn't take effect until July 1st. That is the window in which I am referring. This may have aligned with eligibility according to the express language. Hypothetically not being convicted of Murder/Sexual office. This is a reasonable argument of attempting to remove them from the rolls July 1st forward runs into a very basic problem of application of law after the fact. Raising this issue not to attempt to resolve the issue today but to underscore that context of your work that is expansive and the work that the Division does. This issue would be helpful to take into consideration. Without guidance the 67 SOE's could take a different approach to these issues. This could lead to equal protection challengers. Without delving into other issues that the courts will be weighing in on. Just wanted to let you know this is significant within your current charge irrespective of what the courts may do unless they strike the amendment altogether".

5. Draft Advisory

Restoration of Voting Rights
Providing Individuals with Information on Financial Obligations

SUMMARY:

This Advisory provides a model that Clerks may wish to use when responding to requests from individuals who are seeking to have their voting rights restored and who need current information on their financial obligations ordered by the sentencing court.

The attached form from Orange County Clerk Russell provides a simple format for providing information to individuals about the financial obligations ordered in their most-recent, and any prior, felonies.

This form can be used by a Clerk to list all the financial obligations from all prior felonies anywhere in the State of Florida based on available CCIS data. It is anticipated that the most complete statewide data would include:

- OTHER COUNTS. The requesting individual may have been sentenced on several counts stemming from one episode. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those counts.
- PRIOR FELONIES. The requesting individual may have had prior. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those prior felonies.
- OTHER COUNTIES. The requesting individual may have been sentenced for prior felonies in other counties and have financial obligations stemming from those other felony sentences.
- COURT MODIFICATIONS. The sentencing Court(s) may have entered subsequent orders, after initial sentencing, which modified the individual's financial obligations (e.g., converting certain obligations to community service).

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS:

The law (set out below) appears to require the completion of all terms of sentence from all prior felonies. Clerks may want to remind requesting individuals to consider:

- DIRECT PAYMENTS. The requesting individual may have met certain financial obligations (e.g., direct payment of restitution to a victim) without the Clerk having any record of that action.
- OTHER STATES. The requesting individual may have been sentenced for a felony by a Court in another state or by a federal Court. The Clerk will have no records related to those cases.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- DISQUALIFYING FELONIES. The requesting individual will not qualify for restoration of voting rights, regardless of meeting financial obligations, if a prior felony sentence was for murder or a felony sexual offense, as defined in section 98.0751(2)(b), Florida Statutes.

BACKGROUND:

Section 98.0751, Florida Statutes, was created effective July 1, 2019, by CS/SB 7066 – Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida. A person, who has been disqualified from voting based on a felony conviction for an offense other than murder or a felony sexual offense, may become qualified by completing all terms of sentence.

Included within "all terms of sentence" is the payment of restitution to victims plus fines and fees ordered by the court. The statutory requirement, with all its qualifications, is set out below.

> 98.0751 Restoration of voting rights; termination of ineligibility subsequent to a felony conviction.—
> (2) For purposes of this section, the term:
>
> (a) "Completion of all terms of sentence" means any portion of a sentence that is contained in the four corners of the sentencing document, including, but not limited to:
> 5.a. Full payment of restitution ordered to a victim by the court as a part of the sentence. A victim includes, but is not limited to, a person or persons, the estate or estates thereof, an entity, the state, or the Federal Government.
> b. Full payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence or that are ordered by the court as a condition of any form of supervision, including, but not limited to, probation, community control, or parole.
> c. The financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. include only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence.
> d. For the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e. and notwithstanding any other statute, rule, or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or a victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution.

e. Financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. are considered completed in the following manner or in any combination thereof:

(I) Actual payment of the obligation in full.

(II) Upon the payee's approval, either through appearance in open court or through the production of a notarized consent by the payee, the termination by the court of any financial obligation to a payee, including, but not limited to, a victim, or the court.

(III) Completion of all community service hours, if the court, unless otherwise prohibited by law or the State Constitution, converts the financial obligation to community service.

A term required to be completed in accordance with this paragraph shall be deemed completed if the court modifies the original sentencing order to no longer require completion of such term. The requirement to pay any financial obligation specified in this paragraph is not deemed completed upon conversion to a civil lien.

6. Negotiating fines, fees, and costs – Brief Update

Does not apply to restitution and the requirement to pay restitution.

A number of Clerks are interested in moving forward on this issue, but with a process that works locally. Other Clerks are concerned about "getting ahead" of the federal lawsuit and requirements specifically placed on Clerks by law.

ISSUES:

- If Clerks negotiate with individuals, those with money may be perceived as getting favorable treatment. (Note that a similar issue is raised in the federal litigation.)
- Such negotiations related to restoration of voting rights may raise the issue that Clerks should also negotiate amounts due in other areas; e.g., misdemeanors.
- If such negotiations involve individuals whose cases have already been referred to a collections agency, the cases will have to be "pulled back." This may affect the obligations created in the contracts with the collection agencies.
- Negotiations by individual Clerks should similar standards:
  - Discount in amount to be paid based on the age of the case.
  - Discount based on an affidavit signed by the individual concerning ability to pay.
  - Discount based on research performed by the Clerk's office on the individual's ability to pay.
  - Consideration of individuals who have no ability to pay now or in the foreseeable future.
- If several best practices are available as alternatives for Clerks to follow, based on local resources, can individual Clerks be criticized for not using the practice most favorable to any requesting individual?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- If the amount due is reduced, and the individual makes an initial payment with subsequent periodic payments due, does that allow immediate restoration of voting rights?
- Judicial partners in different parts of the state may react differently to any Clerk policy in this area. We have no indication that the courts or state attorneys are taking a uniform approach.
- Individual Clerks will be making decisions after negotiations with individual constituents, without those decisions being approved by a court. These decisions may impact not only moneys retained by the Clerks, but also moneys that are distributed to state entities.

REQUEST FOR CLERK PRESENTATION (received from DOS on 8/23/2019)

The Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group looks forward to hearing from you on September 6. The work group meets from 10 AM -2 PM (Eastern Time). We have allotted about 45 minutes with time for questions by the work group. Once the agenda is final, we will share.

The ask is that the Clerk of Courts' present an overview of the clerks' duties as pertains to court records, on the scope and content of CCIS and county records databases/systems, and recommendations for consolidation of all 67 clerk of court data/records including financial information including technology needs, other state models, statutory stages, etc. This would help the Work Group to formulate its own recommendations to address primarily duties 1 and 2 as appears on the attached slide.

I don't know if a visual walk-through would be possible or appropriate. The Chair, as a former judge, and the clerks of the court, are already familiar with CCIS. Additionally, I offer up the following questions from the perspective of the Division of Elections and the Supervisors of Elections that may help to inform the content of your presentation as to data/records availability and consolidation. They reflect the challenges the Division of Elections and Supervisors of Elections face in learning whether information exists, where it resides, and how it can be relied upon in light of Constitutional Amend 4 and the new law and our continuing duty to fulfill the statutory requirements to ensure the voter rolls only contain eligible voters and to assist existing and potential voters on the voter assistance hotline asking 'Where do I (a convicted felon) go to find out if I am I am now eligible to be registered and vote?'

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Court Records/CCIS

1. What is the process and timeline (daily, weekly, weekends, monthly) for updating CCIS with case disposition?
2. How far back do online records go (year)? Is it the same for all counties? Is it set out in rule?
3. Are the COC offices still in the process of making older records electronic and available online?
4. What COC offices do not have documents online?
5. What is the technology and/or procedures to enter data/records into CCIS? Manual, automated, scanned images?
6. Are there different access levels for CCIS or county court records systems (e.g., lawyers versus criminal justice agency versus public). We have had difficulty in the past obtaining arrest affidavits with SSN information which is not on the judgments or sentencing documents and needed to help establish match demographics. Luckily we have been able to get the COC Association involved to obtain this information.
7. What are the exemption and confidentiality provisions? How may those provisions limit access court records in part or in whole?
8. When are records archived?
9. What is the retention period for case documentation?
10. What should we always expect in a judgment and sentence document?
11. Should judgments always be signed by the judge? Or is a clerk signature sufficient? Why is there a difference of signatures?
12. Is there a governing uniform standard for judgments, sentences, etc.? If yes, when was it implemented? If not, are there plans to do so?
13. What is considered a sentencing document (e.g., sentence, order of violation of probation, etc.)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

14. Is a sentencing document always included with the judgment? Is that where financial obligations including restitution will always appear? If not, when would it be or why not?

Financial Information

15. What kind of financial information do clerks of court have (e.g., restitution, fines, fees, costs, etc.)?
16. What does the financial summary information section on CCIS include (e.g., restitution, fines, fees, costs, etc.)? Does or can it be broken out to include the terms within the sentence and the accrual after the sentence?
17. How is this information kept up to date and how frequently?
18. What procedure or document is provided by the clerk, if any, to an individual what he or she completes the terms of the sentence? At any stage? Prison, supervision, custody, payment of restitution/fines/fees/costs? Any recommendations for what could be developed?
19. What happens if someone fails to make a scheduled payment? Is it sent to collections?
20. At what point may the matter be converted to a civil lien and if converted to a civil lien, is that then considered a civil matter and no longer part of the sentence for the criminal record?

Access/Exchange of Information with Agencies

21. Which agencies do you share new, updated, and corrected case dispositions (FDLE, DOC, FCOR)?
22. When and how often is this information provided, and what are the conditions/constraints for being able to provide the information?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

23. Is there information that the criminal justice agencies share with Clerk of Courts? If so, what is that information especially as pertains to restitution, fines, fees and costs?

11.A. Email from Citrus concerning DOC inquiry:

I just received one of those notices (see next page for scan of DOC letter) and have attached for your review. The case was for an original sentence of 3 years' probation, the defendant violated and was then sentenced to 1 year DOC. The information on CCIS includes his original sentence, additional fees added for his violation and collection fees.

CCIS shows a total of $19,801.61. The commitment paperwork to DOC was for $18,500, which included incarceration fees (18,300) and SAO Fee $100, PD assistance $100 and outstanding PD application fee $100.00.

If comparing $ for that VOP sentence, it will not match CCIS and in this case as well as many others, ours will show the collection fees and incarceration. Melvin's team may need to address these fees and how we show sentencing fees versus other fees. Again CCIS is a snapshot in time and when they come to restore their rights we will be going by what is in our system at that time to confirm amounts due.

Similar inquiry posed to Pinellas on August 20:

> Jason Mitchell Dob: 8/31/1989 is housed here at Sumter Correctional Institution and I am trying to verify his court cost/fines with you on case # 52-1503941. His commitment paperwork indicates he owes $4650.00 and CCIS shows he owes $5,697.00. Can you please advise on what you have documented that he owes and possibly provide documentation. Thank you in advance for your help with this matter

11.B. Clerks as the Point of Contact for Consolidated Information on Restoration of Voting Rights

Issue:
The issue has been raised whether Clerks could/should be the point of consolidation for data on restoration of voting rights.

Background:
The Department of State's Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group is tasked with developing recommendations regarding:

- The consolidation of all relevant data necessary to verify the eligibility of a registered voter for restoration of voting rights. If any entity is recommended to manage the consolidated relevant data, the recommendations must provide the feasibility of such entity to manage the consolidated relevant data and a timeline for implementation of such consolidation.
- The process of informing a registered voter of the entity or entities that are custodians of the relevant data necessary for verifying his or her eligibility for restoration of voting rights.
- Any other relevant policies or procedures for verifying the eligibility of a registered voter for restoration of voting rights.

Process:
The A4 QRT should discuss the issue fully. After determining the best public policy approach for the Clerks collectively, the QRT should make a recommendation on the issue to the Executive Committee or Board of Directors.

If the recommendation is to pursue being the consolidated point of contact, the technical aspects of the issue should be presented to CIVITEK for a feasibility analysis.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

If the project is determined to be technically feasible, the recommendation should be considered by the Board of Directors for a final decision or determination of further action.

Timeframe:
The Department of State's Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group report is due by November 1, 2019. And decision by the Clerks on this issue that is made well before that date could influence those recommendations.

Pros:

- This builds on the Clerks' strengths in managing documents.
- This showcases Clerks' desire to serve their customers, constituents, and communities.
- This builds on recognition of the Clerks as the keepers of big data and may influence future decisions on matters not related to restoration of voting rights.

Cons:

- Restoration of voting rights is often painted as a partisan issue, so Clerks could be perceived by some as engaging in a partisan activity.
- Any funding for this activity is uncertain at best.
- Depending on the comprehensiveness of the data collected, this likely represents a substantial workload.
- It will require training of local staff who will be taking on new responsibilities.
- No easy method exists to capture restitution payments that have been made directly to victims in the past.

Other Considerations:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Clerk spending is limited by law to “court-related functions” (ss. 28.35 and 28.36, F.S.). A legal analysis should be performed to ensure that the issue of being the consolidated point of contact fits within the statutory limitation.
- The Department of State’s Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group will be discussing this issue. The Clerk members of that group should represent the interests of the Clerks on this issue in the discussions.
- Litigation in the Federal Courts is pending and may change the types of data and responsibilities of the Florida government entities involved in restoration of voting rights.
- This will require careful coordination and ongoing working relationships with at least:
  - Department of Corrections,
  - Sheriffs (county jails),
  - Eight counties that run their own jails,
  - Florida Department of Law Enforcement,
  - Department of State,
  - Supervisors of Elections,
  - Florida Commission on Offender Review, and
  - United States Attorney’s Offices.
- It may also require consideration of obtaining data on felonies committed outside the State of Florida.
- This is a major IT undertaking that may stress current IT development capacity, both at the Association and at the local level.
- This will have unanticipated future impacts as the Clerks manage more data; e.g., requests for information (not related to restoration of voting rights) that is not currently held by the Clerks; or an impression that the Clerks can be used to solve other, unrelated, big data problems.

Inmate Profile Summary

This report summarizes county information mandated to be collected by F.S. § 951.23(2) and submitted to Florida Department of Corrections. It provides a monthly profile of inmate populations inside Florida's detention facilities. For counties that can not submit data using standardized instruments it provides approximated data.

Table 1, pages 1 & 2, features the Average Daily Population and incarceration rate in each county.

Table 2, pages 3 & 4, lists the number and percent of felony and misdemeanor pretrial inmates at each detention facility.

The Jail Population Summary (Table 3, page 5) lists detention center totals for the year to date.

Average Daily Population

As reported, there were an estimated 55,381 inmates in Florida's county detention facilities during the month of June 2019. In comparison, in June 2018, there were 55,179 inmates incarcerated by county facilities in Florida. This is a 0.4% increase from last year.

Questions pertaining to the statistics in this report, mailing lists, jail data, F.S. § 951.23(2), or requests for additional forms should be directed to the Florida Department of Corrections Bureau of Research & Data Analysis at the e-mail address: research@FDC.MyFlorida.com

 St. Johns County implemented a temporary outdoor facility in June. Rather than show those numbers in a new report row, seperately, as reported, these numbers have been combined in the St. Johns Main Jain Facility in this report. 11.D. Draft Advisory – Compile Requests Received from DOC

The Amendment 4 Quick Response Team has received copies of several requests made to individual Clerks by local Department of Corrections offices related to restoration of voting rights. Those requests typically seek information on financial obligations for particular individuals under DOC custody or supervision. Sometimes they involve financial obligation data that does not appear to match between DOC records and CCIS.

Once the request is investigated, a clear correct answer is always available. Sometimes it is as simple as two data systems being asked slightly different questions, thus providing different answers.

The QRT has established (an email account) to accumulate such requests. We ask that each Clerk forward individual requests they receive from local DOC offices, along with the Clerk's response, to that (email account). This will give us the opportunity to look for patterns and trends. As we see issues, we will then be able to address those issues with DOC or to develop Best Practices for Clerks.

A specific example is one recent DOC request involving DOC and CCIS data that did not "match." The Association found that CCIS showed the total financials owed and paid via the pull service. While CCIS showed what is owed by the case (not the sentence), DOC was trying to match to the sentence. In this example, the individual person was first sentenced to 3 years' probation and charged all the appropriate court fees and fines. Then the person violated probation and was sentenced to incarceration on the violation of probation. This incarceration sentence came with its own set of fees and fines, which was sent to DOC on the Uniform Commitment to Custody form. So CCIS did not match what DOC had because DOC data only showed part of what is owed, specifically the incarceration sentence.

11.E. Talking point for the media

GENERAL STATEMENT:

As custodians of court records, Clerks recognize that we may play an important role providing information to individuals with felony convictions who would like to register to vote. Clerks are working together to ensure uniformity as we carry out the law the Legislature passed earlier this year.

3. Draft Best Practice on Providing Financial Information

Restoration of Voting Rights

Providing Individuals with Information on Financial Obligations

SUMMARY:

This Advisory provides a model that Clerks may wish to use when responding to requests from individuals who are seeking to have their voting rights restored and who need current information on their financial obligations ordered by the sentencing court.

The attached form provides a simple format for providing information to individuals about the financial obligations ordered in their most-recent, and any prior, felonies.

This form can be used by a Clerk to list all the financial obligations from all prior felonies anywhere in the State of Florida based on available CCIS data. It is anticipated that the most complete statewide data would include:

- OTHER COUNTS. The requesting individual may have been sentenced on several counts stemming from one episode. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those counts.
- PRIOR FELONIES. The requesting individual may have had prior felonies. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those prior felonies.
- OTHER COUNTIES. The requesting individual may have been sentenced for prior felonies in other counties and have financial obligations stemming from those other felony sentences. The CCIS assessments and payments can be furnished for cases filed in other counties; however, the requesting individual will need to contact that clerk's office to obtain voting rights restoration financial information.
- COURT MODIFICATIONS. The sentencing Court(s) may have entered subsequent orders, after initial sentencing, which modified the individual's financial obligations (e.g., converting certain obligations to community service).

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS:

The law (set out below) appears to require the completion of all terms of sentence from all prior felonies. Clerks may want to remind requesting individuals to consider:

- DIRECT PAYMENTS. The requesting individual may have met certain financial obligations (e.g., direct payment of restitution to a victim) without the Clerk having any record of that action.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- OTHER STATES. If the requesting individual has felony convictions by a Court in another state or by a federal Court that prevent the requesting individual from registering, the Clerk will not have any records related to those cases.
- DISQUALIFYING FELONIES. The requesting individual will not qualify for restoration of voting rights, regardless of meeting financial obligations, if a prior felony sentence was for murder or a felony sexual offense, as defined in section 98.0751(2)(b), Florida Statutes.

BACKGROUND:

Section 98.0751, Florida Statutes, was created effective July 1, 2019, by CS/SB 7066 – Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida. A persons who has been disqualified from voting based on a felony conviction for an offense other than murder or a felony sexual offense, may become qualified by completing all terms of sentence.

Included within "all terms of sentence" is the payment of restitution to victims plus fines and fees ordered by the court. The statutory requirement, with all its qualifications, is set out below.

> 98.0751 Restoration of voting rights; termination of ineligibility subsequent to a felony conviction.—
> (2) For purposes of this section, the term:
>
> (a) "Completion of all terms of sentence" means any portion of a sentence that is contained in the four corners of the sentencing document, including, but not limited to:
> 5.a. Full payment of restitution ordered to a victim by the court as a part of the sentence. A victim includes, but is not limited to, a person or persons, the estate or estates thereof, an entity, the state, or the Federal Government.
> b. Full payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence or that are ordered by the court as a condition of any form of supervision, including, but not limited to, probation, community control, or parole.
> c. The financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. include only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence.
> d. For the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e. and notwithstanding any other statute, rule, or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or a victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution.

e. Financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. are considered completed in the following manner or in any combination thereof:

(I) Actual payment of the obligation in full.

(II) Upon the payee's approval, either through appearance in open court or through the production of a notarized consent by the payee, the termination by the court of any financial obligation to a payee, including, but not limited to, a victim, or the court.

(III) Completion of all community service hours, if the court, unless otherwise prohibited by law or the State Constitution, converts the financial obligation to community service.

A term required to be completed in accordance with this paragraph shall be deemed completed if the court modifies the original sentencing order to no longer require completion of such term. The requirement to pay any financial obligation specified in this paragraph is not deemed completed upon conversion to a civil lien.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

POSSIBLE ITEMS FOR DISCUSSION:

1. Will a Clerk in another county always be able to differentiate between 1) financial obligations ordered at sentencing and 2) those not mentioned in sentencing documents and incurred later (such as interest and collection fees) but reported in CCIS?

2. Since this is a Best Practice on Restoration, column H on driver licenses has been dropped.

3. The form does not provide any information the Clerk may have on payments made by the individual.

4. The form could be a flexible part of this policy – we have seen 3 examples and they all work. It is the caveats that might best be uniform since the issues with using existing systems for this new reporting seem to be statewide. The caveats would include:

- Contact DOC or county detention facility regarding completion of a term incarceration or supervision, for completion of any monitored term of the sentence (such as completion of a treatment program), and for records of any fees you may have paid to those agencies.
- Clerks can't provide information on felonies in other states or in federal courts.
- Clerks can't provide information on any payment of any financial obligation that was not processed through (filed with) the Clerk (such as restitution paid directly to a victim.
- Clerks' financial payment records relate to all amounts pursuant sentencing documents as well as all other amounts assessed pursuant to statutory provisions.

4. Draft Best Practice(s) on negotiating fees, fines, costs

Section 938.30(9), F.S., provides

> The clerk of the court shall enforce, satisfy, compromise, settle, subordinate, release, or otherwise dispose of any debts or liens imposed and collected under this section in the same manner as prescribed in s. 938.29(3).

Subsection (1) provides

> Any person liable for payment of any financial obligation in any criminal case is subject to the provisions of this section. Courts operating under the provisions of this section shall have jurisdiction over such financial obligations to ensure compliance.

There are no provisions for compromising or releasing financial obligations in civil cases.

COMPROMISE

Since section 98.0751, F.S., requires financial obligations to be resolved for individuals seeking restoration of voting rights, clerks may be asked to compromise such financial obligations

Before the effective date of the constitutional amendment and the enactment of implementing legislation, clerks have haphazardly attempted to comply with the dictates of this 2013 statutory provision. Some clerks have active programs seeking to increase collections of criminal financial obligations. Other clerks have received requests on an ad hoc basis to compromise such financial obligations.

Programs/compromises utilized by some offices:

1. Payment plan, with reduced principal, with large down payment
2. Cash in full with reduced principal
3. Payment in full without collection fee
4. Payment in full with satisfaction without interest or collection fee
5. Accepting partial payment of a defendant's full share of property with a release as to that property (not a full satisfaction of judgment)

Potential pitfalls:

1. Accepting reduced principal based on large payment could be viewed as favoring those with the means to make such large payments
2. Regular waiver of collection fees can be a violation of collection agency agreements

ENFORCEMENT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Also note that sentencing for prior felonies in Florida may have occurred in other counties. Such felonies should be identified for each individual, and the individual should be directed to contact the appropriate county or counties.

These recent changes in Florida law concerning the restoration of voting rights present Clerks with three possible courses of action, which are offered as Best Practices.

1. Provide individual services as requested.

2. Develop local practices concerning the negotiation of interest and collection fees. These practices should mirror the published Operation Greenlight Best Practice.

3. Following the direction of judicial partners, support local activities aimed at promoting restoration. Such activities may fall into several categories that can be identified from local efforts that are currently underway or planned for the near future. This Best Practice identifies and summarizes those local efforts.

(We will request any such plans – to the extent they have been reduced to writing.)

Categories of active support include:

- Identifying individuals who were not ordered to pay restitution or who have been documented to have paid court-ordered restitution.
- Negotiating payment plans and notifying the State Attorney and Court of successful negotiations.
- Documenting total inability to pay for any individual who meets local standards.
- Assisting the State Attorney and Court with “rocket docket” activities.
- Preparing draft orders, as directed by the Court and acceptable to the Supervisor of Elections, that, for purposes of restoration, the individual has met the financial obligations of his or her felony sentence.

(These activities will be modified based on discussions at October’s Collections Compliance Summit.)

Division of Elections
Requests for Information from Clerks
Positive Interactions

The Division of Elections, in the Department of State, regularly contacts Clerks to request copies of documents related to the qualifications of individuals to remain electors. Over the years, the Division has identified some elements of Clerk responses that are most helpful. Those are:

1. Quick responses from Clerks to Division requests.

2. Clerks help Division decipher odd case numbers frequently received from FDLE.

3. Clerks resend documents to the Division without complaint.

4. When judgments cannot be provided, particularly for older cases, the Clerk prepares a summary sheet of the judgment.

5. The Clerk provides quick responses on requests that are not yet scanned into CCIS.

6. If the Division has a problem downloading the entire file, Clerk breaks it into manageable parts.

7. The full case file scanned is scanned into CCIS, which provides a password-protected method for government agencies to view court documents.

8. The Clerk works with the Division to establish best way for the Division to communicate requests – individual requests or daily batches, best time of day, best contacts for requests (with backup to cover unavailability).

9. When the Division makes multiple requests, the Clerk responds as soon as each is available, not in batches.

10. The Clerk provides certified copies of court minutes when judgements are not available.

11. If a requested document is not available, the Clerk responds with “met retention,” “destroyed,” or a similar specific response.

12. The Clerk provides a response for each document requested.

13. The Clerk provides a response for each document requested, providing a document (statement of diligent search?) when a document is not available or locatable.

8. Update on Advisory Opinion to the Governor re: Implementation of Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment

9/18 Brief of Mark R. Schlakman, a Florida Lawyer as an Interested Florida Resident, Joined by the Florida Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers (FACDL)

Legislative drafting in both chambers departed from the express language of the citizens' initiative Florida voters approved which upon certification became known as Amendment 4 in at least one instance. This departure resulted when a comma was inserted at a critical point in the legislation that was enacted which arguably changes the meaning and scope of "completion of all terms of sentence. "While the Court's emphasis for these purposes is upon interpretation of the relevant provision of the State Constitution rather than the legislation per se the implications of this departure offer useful perspective toward that end.

Amendment 4 expressly states "Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, any disqualification from voting arising out of a felony conviction shall terminate and voting rights shall be restored upon completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation."

upon completion of all terms of sentence, including parole or probation..."inserting a comma after completion of all terms of sentence.
In anticipation of the Court responding to the Governor's request for an Advisory Opinion, it would be disingenuous for anyone to suggest that they know what 5.1 million Florida voters understood or intended when they voted to approve Amendment 4 last November. However, it would not be unreasonable to conclude they didn't cast their votes in favor of Amendment 4 to make it more difficult for former offenders to regain voting eligibility. Given that Governor Rick Scott and the Cabinet did not require payment of fines, fees or costs for purposes of civil rights restoration including voting eligibility that would be the effect in at least certain key respects if the significance of the limiting language that arguably was undermined by errant punctuation is not considered.

9/18 Brief of Interested Party Fair Elections Center

Amendment 4, the voting rights restoration amendment approved last year, was not adopted in a vacuum. Its terms, and the preexisting laws and procedures to which they refer, had concrete meaning at the time Florida's voters overwhelmingly endorsed the restoration of voting rights to felons who had completed "all terms of sentence." Accordingly, when SB 7066 was enacted, the Florida Legislature did not—and could not—write on a blank slate, because the phrase "terms of sentence" in Article VI, Section 4 of the Florida Constitution is not merely a placeholder wholly without definition or boundaries.

SB 7066 requires the payment of some, but not all, costs and fees that are assessed against a convicted felon and used to fund various aspects of Florida's criminal justice system (hereinafter, "costs and fees"). But costs and fees bear none of the hallmarks of sentencing: (1) they are non-punitive and simply serve to compensate the government for the costs of administering criminal justice; (2) they do not vary proportionately with the seriousness of the offense or the offender's criminal history; and (3) they are neither triggered nor supported by findings of fact. Florida law, including the decisions of this Court, clearly establish that costs and fees are "mandatory, non-punitive civil remed[ies]." {citations omitted} "Costs and fees" constitute "payment [that] is remedial, and not punitive" because they "compensate[ ] the government for a loss." {citations omitted} The history, original intent, enabling statutes, and past and current implementation of Florida's costs and fees all compel the conclusion that these assessed costs and fees have been designed to fund the administration of criminal justice at the state and local levels, or to increase the prosecution's leverage in plea bargaining, but do not serve as punishment for convicted felons as part of the criminal sentence.

Furthermore, if this Court were to conclude that costs and fees are punitive "terms of sentence" within the meaning of Article VI, Section 4 and that, therefore, SB 7066 can lawfully require the payment of costs and fees, that decision would open a Pandora's box of constitutional challenges. If costs and fees were found to be terms of sentence intended to punish the convicted, then the federal and state Ex Post Facto Clauses would prohibit the retroactive application of new costs and fees and the retroactive increase of costs and fees. Such a decision would work to the detriment of Florida's ability to finance the administration of criminal justice in the long term, as only the costs and fees in existence at the time of the defendant's crime could be applied and only in the amounts then in effect. Additionally, Eighth Amendment challenges under the Excessive Fines Clause may and will be raised, particularly on behalf of indigent defendants.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9/18 Brief of Interested Party Florida House of Representatives

The Florida Constitution disqualifies a convicted felon from voting. Now that the voters have approved Amendment 4, the Constitution also terminates any disqualification arising from the felony conviction and restores the felon's voting rights "upon completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation." Art. VI, § 4(a), Fla. Const. "Terms of sentence" surely can have more than one meaning in the abstract. In a narrow sense, it could mean multiple periods of imprisonment. In a broader sense, the phrase could mean multiple components of a single sentence tied to the felony conviction that prompted the disqualification in the first place.

The context in which "terms of sentence" is used in Article VI, section 4,points to the broader meaning. Neither parole nor probation is part of a sentence of imprisonment. But the phrase "including parole or probation" modifies "terms of sentence" to provide non-exclusive exemplars of what must be completed before any restoration of voting rights. A narrow meaning—limited to imprisonment—could not bear the modifying "including" phrase that follows it.

If "terms of sentence" takes the broader meaning, of which probation and parole are only two examples, then the terms of sentence also will include other sentencing sanctions that Florida law treats as part of sentencing. Under Florida law, a "sentence" includes restitution. Indeed, failure of a court to order mandatory restitution renders the sentence incomplete. A fine is another example of a non-imprisonment sentence under Florida law. Florida law also requires that full payment of all fines, fees, and restitution be a condition of parole or probation. And Florida law authorizes a sentencing judge to extend the restitution order entered at sentencing beyond completion of probation or parole if the defendant has failed to pay the restitution.

Under Florida's criminal law, then, the typical "sentence" includes more than just imprisonment. A sentence can include a fine, restitution, fees and costs, and probation. Even a prison sentence can include a period of probation or parole, each with conditions that require full payment of restitution. All of these aspects of Florida's sentencing scheme work in tandem to achieve Florida's sentencing purposes.

Because the broader meaning of "sentence" includes financial sanctions like restitution and fines, the phrase "completion of all terms of sentence" is general enough to reasonably include payment of those obligations as a condition precedent to a felon's restoration of his voting rights. The Justices of this Court should answer the Governor's request for advice in the affirmative.

9/18 Brief of Interested Party Adam Richardson

Amendment 4 automatically restores some convicted felons' voting rights "upon completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation." The Governor has asked which financial obligations are a "term[] of sentence."

In the interpretation of a citizen-backed constitutional amendment, it is presumed the voters knew the law that existed at the time they approved it. Here, that law included the Florida Rules of Criminal Procedure, the Court-mandated forms therein, and relevant statutes that give the rules and forms context.

As the Governor and Legislature understand, only those items that are within the sentencing document or order are a term of sentence. The rules, forms, and statutes establish that "all terms of sentence" means, in cases of imprisonment or split sentence, only those fines authorized by Florida Statutes § 775.083. In cases of only probation or community control, there are no financial obligations that are a "term[] of sentence."

The Legislature passed, and the Governor signed, legislation that purported to implement Amendment 4. But Amendment 4 is self-executing and requires no implementing legislation. The new statute conflicts with Amendment 4 because it expands what financial obligations are considered a term of sentence that a convicted felon must satisfy for his or her right to vote to be automatically restored. To ensure the proper implementation of Amendment 4, the statute must give way.

First, the Governor's request is improper, and this Court should decline to issue an advisory opinion in this matter. An answer to the Governor's question would violate multiple lines of this Court's precedent on advisory opinions. Moreover, the answer to the Governor's question does not affect his executive powers and duties.

Second, if the Court decides to reach the merits, a plain reading of Amendment 4 demonstrates that "completion of all terms of sentence" cannot mandate inclusion of LFOs that extend beyond the terms of imprisonment, parole, or probation. Even assuming Amendment 4 allows inclusion of such LFOs as "terms of sentence," it cannot be read to require it—and this reading is consistent with the statement of Amendment 4's proponents cited by the Governor.

9/18 Brief of the Interested Party the Florida Senate

Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution should be interpreted based on the plain language of the text. There is no ambiguity in the text which requires resorting to an extra-textual means of interpretation.

The word "felony" is defined in the Florida Constitution and that definition is controlling.

The word "terms" means all of the various conditions and punishments a court has ordered at sentencing.

The word "sentence" means the punishment and penalties imposed pursuant to statute by the court. The parameters of a sentence are set by the Legislature and are required to be included in a written judgment. When a sentence is imposed jeopardy attaches and a defendant may challenge the sentence under Florida Rules of Criminal Procedure 3.800(b). The Legislature has statutorily concluded, and the Court has held, fines, fees, costs, and restitution are part of a sentence. Therefore, it follows that such penalties are part of a sentence for purposes of interpreting the scope of the restoration of voting rights under Article VI, section 4.

Even if the Court finds the provision ambiguous, the statutes passed by the Legislature to implement Amendment 4 resolve any ambiguity because it is the Legislature's role to implement constitutional provisions.

The Court must answer the Governor's question in the affirmative and clarify that financial obligations ordered as part of a sentence need to be completed before the restoration of voting rights.

9/18 Brief of Interested Parties, Jennifer Lavia and Carla Laroche

The Court should construe the term "sentence" in Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution in a manner that does not restrict the ability of veterans and families to access the ballot box. Following the plain meaning of Amendment 4, the Court should rule that a sentence is completed after incarceration—and does not include fines, fees, and restitution. Doing so will enable more of Florida's returning citizens to vote and would benefit Florida's veteran population with felony records, Florida's children, and Floridians, more generally.

9/18 Brief of Interested Parties Bonnie Raysor, Diane Sherrill, and Lee Hoffman

Article VI, § 4 of the Florida Constitution, which grants automatic rights restoration to otherwise eligible Floridians with past felony convictions upon completion of sentence, cannot be interpreted to require that such individuals pay off certain outstanding legal debts in order to be eligible to vote.

Article VI, § 4 states that for individuals with non-disqualifying felony convictions, "voting rights shall be restored upon completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation." Although the plain language of Article VI, § 4 clearly and unambiguously requires returning citizens to complete any term of incarceration or supervision before their rights will be restored, there is no such clear and unambiguous requirement that individuals pay off outstanding legal financial obligations ("LFOs"). Absent any directive to the contrary, this Court should find that the plain text of Article VI, § 4 does not require payment of LFOs as a condition for automatic rights restoration.

At most, Article VI, § 4 is ambiguous as to whether it requires payment of LFOs as a condition for rights restoration. Indeed, both the Governor and the Secretary of State have affirmatively argued that the phrase "completion of all terms of sentence" is "susceptible" to more than one interpretation, see State Defs.' Br. in Support of Motion to Dismiss at 13, Jones v. DeSantis, No. 4:19-cv-00300, (N.D. Fla. Aug. 2, 2019), Dkt. 97. Only after submitting that argument to the federal court assessing SB 7066 did the Governor seek the opinion of this Court on the matter. See Request for Advisory Op. at 4, Advisory Op. to the Gov. Re: Implementation of Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment, No. SC19-1341 (Fla. Aug. 9, 2019) ("Adv. Op. Request"). In light of this conceded ambiguity—and the host of constitutional and practical problems arising from an LFO requirement—the Court should interpret "completion of all terms sentence" to exclude LFOs for the purposes of automatic rights restoration.

Interpreting the phrase "all terms of sentence" to include LFOs would raise serious constitutional problems; contradict the will of the voters; and conflict with prior interpretations of "completion of sentence" for the purpose of rights restoration. Thus, the Court should interpret Article VI, § 4 of the Florida Constitution as excluding LFOs from the phrase "completion of all terms of sentence." In the alternative, it should decline to read a specific LFO requirement into the text and should instead find that "all terms of sentence" includes only such 7 terms as established by the legislature and consistent with the voters' understanding and intent at the time Article VI, § 4 was enacted.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001219

A plain language analysis of article VI, section 4(a) of the Florida Constitution reveals that the phrase “completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation ”includes the fulfillment of all fines, fees, and restitution imposed by the court at sentencing and contained in the four corners of the sentencing document.

Dictionaries confirm the plain meaning of the constitutional phrase “completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation. ”The word “completion” plainly and unambiguously means “fulfillment.” The word “all” plainly and unambiguously means “every.” The word “terms” plainly and unambiguously means “conditions.” The word “sentence” plainly and unambiguously means “the penalty imposed by the court when a person is found guilty of committing a crime.” The word “including” in context plainly and unambiguously means “comprising a part of a whole (of the judge’s sentence).” The words “parole” and “probation” are clearly defined and well-understood in their legal meanings.

When read in its entirety, the constitutional phrase “completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation” plainly means the fulfillment of: (1) every condition of the incarceration, probation, and community control imposed by the court at sentencing and contained in the four corners of the sentencing document; (2) every condition of the legal financial obligations imposed by the court at sentencing and contained in the four corners of the sentencing document; (3) every other condition imposed by the court at sentencing and contained in the four corners of the sentencing document, such as community service;3(4) every condition of the parole and any other supervision imposed by the Florida Commission on Offender Review; and (5) every condition of the probation as not otherwise specified at the time of sentencing. Consequently, the phrase “completion of all terms of sentence” plainly includes the fulfillment of all fines, fees, and restitution imposed by the court at sentencing and contained in the four corners of the sentencing document.

A common-sense understanding also dictates in favor of the Governor’s plain-language interpretation of article VI, section 4(a) of the Florida Constitution. Case law and common understanding consistently recognize that courts impose fines, fees, and restitution as parts of a sentence and thus as penalties for criminal acts. This Court should advise that the constitutional phrase "completion of all terms of sentence" plainly includes the fulfillment of all fines, fees, and restitution imposed by the court at sentencing and contained in the four corners of the sentencing document.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9/18 Initial Brief of Secretary of State Laurel Lee

Words matter. Voters considering constitutional amendments deserve to have clear and accurate ballot titles and summaries; state officials deserve clear direction on their roles and responsibilities as imposed through constitutional mandates; and this Court deserves to have honest answers, not evolving positions, when deciding whether to allow ballot initiatives to be placed on the ballot.

The plain language of Amendment 4—now codified in Article VI, sections4(a)and (b) of the Florida Constitution—states that "completion of all terms of sentence including probation and parole" isa condition for felon re-enfranchisement. This plain language includes a term of incarceration, confinement, supervision, parole, probation, fines, fees, costs, restitution, and any other legal condition imposed as part of a criminal sentence.

The plain language is supported by the intent expressed during the citizen initiative process. Voters and this Court were told that the phrase "completion of all terms of sentence" included fines, fees, costs, and restitution. Many of Amendment 4's supporters even urged then-Secretary of State Detzner to require the payment of legal financial obligations after Amendment 4 passed.

We are now told, however, that Amendment 4's meaning is not fixed. Some of the very groups that advocated for one meaning before this Court and the State's Chief Election Officer now advocate for another meaning before a federal court. The new but more permissive meaning would allow felons who have completed some of the terms of their sentence to vote. That is not what the voters approved. And that is not what this Court allowed to be placed on the ballot through Advisory Opinion to Attorney General re: Voting Restoration Amendment, 215 So. 3d 1202 (Fla. 2017).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

More fundamentally, from the Secretary's perspective, the change in position amounts to a bait-and-switch that undermines the integrity of the citizen initiative process. As the Chief Election Officer, the Secretary has a deep and abiding interest in the integrity of the process. Among other things, the process entails a determination by this Court that the words being placed before the voters are not misleading. If the words meant one thing and now mean something else, the words were misleading and should never have been included on the ballot. Only giving effect to the plain and fixed meaning of the words guards against such a rupture in the citizen initiative process where voters—not the courts, litigants, or sponsors—make fundamental changes to the Florida Constitution.

Working Draft – Disclaimer language for DOC to include in its documents provided to releases

Ken - The language is now clearer. Is there a general consensus and agreement that this language is fine as presented on page 2 of the agenda packet? With no objection, the language was approved.

Working Draft – Advisory on Providing Financial Information

- Ken – the Citrus County form was attached to the packet. This is the Advisory that will go out after it is approved.
- Jean Sperbeck – Column G (Amount to Restore Voting rights) is the most important. Column H (Amount to Clear Driver's License) is also important. Do we want to leave that in?
- Carolyn Timmann – should we be really clear on the form that it is based on the records in the individual county? The amount to restore voting rights language makes her nervous. We don't know that amount, and we do not want to be the one saying they have met all the requirements.

- Jean Sperbeck – should it be changed to state the amount imposed at the time of sentencing or some language like that?
- Carolynn Timmann – that would make her feel better. Some type of disclaimer that this is just for the individual county.
- Ken – this form is not for just that particular county. The object of this form is that it would for all counties listed. An appropriate disclaimer could be included stating that these records came from CCIS and there may be differences with the individual counties. Ken asked Jean to come up with a sample disclaimer to be placed on the bottom of the form stating that it is always best to check with the individual county. Jean responded saying that there is language at the bottom of the form regarding questions should be directed to the Clerk of Court in the sentencing county, but she will add additional information to this.
- Richard Herring – the caveat at the bottom is what we talked about during the August 29th meeting, making this disclaimer and the CCIS disclaimer as similar as possible.
- Ken - what is timing of getting this out after Jean tweaks the form?
- Richard Herring – it depends if this is brought back to the next meeting for final approval, and then 1 to 1 ½ days after that.
- Ken – with an abundance of caution, we will carry this over for another week before we send it out. Any further comments or questions should be sent to Jean and Richard.

Negotiating fees/fines/cost converted to civil judgments

Richard Herring, Jared Brooks and Kelli Merritt are working on a Best Practice for this.

- Richard – they have had a few email exchanges on this. Looking at negotiating on interest may be agreeable to all.
- Ken – there is no uniformity on how we approach this, but the Best Practice could recognize a Payment Plan model with different options that Clerks could consider – no negotiation, negotiating interest fees. The Work Group needs to look at what other Clerks are doing to be put into a menu option for all Clerks to access.
- Tara Green – suggested following the same Best Practice being established through the Compliance initiative.
- Jared Brooks – the challenge will be what to put in it. They will get a working draft in place and schedule a call to work through it for a final proposal.
- Ken – from a Clerk standpoint, he wants to know what the models are and if the committee thinks they are workable. If he looks at the Best Practice model he wants to learn from it so he knows what to follow. It would be helpful for Clerks to be able to look at these models knowing they are well thought out. Part of the Best Practice has to be an education factor dealing with how each model works.
- Tara Green – this is a topic up for discussion at the Collections Summit in October. They will be identifying models that are out there with the goal of putting something in place to provide guidance for Clerks. This can educate the Clerk's offices on what is being done across the state and how it can be used in their own offices. This will be included in the Compliance Procedures and there may be a document produced.
- Ken – 100 percent agrees with this, and wants to make sure the effort is coordinated. Should our group follow up with the Collections Summit?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Tara – agreed, saying that this group can work jointly with the Collections Summit Group.
- Carolyn Timmann – this is a much bigger issue than what we are talking about with the Best Practice. There are many out there who have a different sentiment, including the Legislature. We don't want to put anything in writing without gauging that temperature. We don't know the status of the lawsuit or the implementing bill. We first need to gauge the temperature, and tying in the Legislative Committee chair is very important.
- Ken – we don't even know what those models are. They may be something the legislature applauds. We do need to consider the legislative impact on this. We have to be sensitive. This will be a continuing issue.
- Carolyn Timmann – from a policy perspective, the most recent statement is to go back to court.
- There are cases other than the Restoration of Voting Rights that negotiating fees could be considered.
- Stacy Butterfield – that is a good point. This is something that we should consider.
- Karen – if we have a lot of different ways of negotiating fines across the state that just leads to a lawsuit that we would be on the wrong side of. We were trying to get this as organized as possible. We will work on this as an ongoing issue will all comments.

Update on the Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group

The meeting was moved to next Monday, September 16. On page 7 of the agenda is the notice of the cancellation from the Department of State. Ken, Karen Rushing and Melvin Cox will be presenting for the Clerks.

Information from Division of Elections, Richard Herring

A. Summary of Division of Elections presentation on sources of information about potentially ineligible voters – the Department of State is designated as the primary agency to identify ineligible voters based on information received from various agencies. A list of those agencies was included in the presentation.
B. Division of Elections response or our request for specifics about data from Clerks – a list was provided of the issues/challenges, with examples, that the DOE has encountered when obtaining court records from the Clerks.
    - Karen Rushing – they did look at the Sarasota County issues, and did find that they did send letters and did tell them that they did not have the records to provide. They have switched from email to fax due to county requirements. She will send the document to Richard.
    - Ken – this type of thing gives us the opportunity to establish a mailbox box where these types of questions/suggestions could be sent to. This could be a better way to communicate before it becomes an issue. A standard could be put in place for dealing with the Department of State.
    - Karen Rushing – the more uniform we can be is a good idea in theory, but it does look like they have a contact name in the counties.
    - Ken – we don't notify them when the person on their list is no longer with the office. We need a procedure on notifications when the contact person changes. Ken, Richard and Karen will work on putting together a document for the committee's consideration on how to standardize this process. Richard will also reach out to the counties where there are specific concerns to learn the Clerk's side.

Draft Advisory – Compile requests received from DOC

- Ken - Requests have been made to individual Clerks by local Department of Corrections (DOC) offices related to restoration of voting rights. The Amendment 4 QRT has established an email account to accumulate these requests from DOC. An Advisory will be sent out asking each Clerk's office to forward the individual requests received from their local DOC offices, along with the Clerk's response to the DOCRequests@FLClerks.cm. The Committee will address the issues with DOC or develop a Best Practice.
- Karen Rushing – are you saying all work or only problematic work?
- Ken – questions regarding voter restoration rights saying there is a discrepancy.
- Richard – we are not looking for requests regarding processes or procedures, but the requests that are requesting data.
- Ken – we want to see what they send to you and what you send back to them. How can we improve the wording in this advisory?
- Karen Rushing – any work that requires a response to reconcile the record. Include the inquiry and the response. Ken stated that this language will be included.
- Bill Burgess – pulled up one of the letters that they received from the DOC, which Ken asked Richard and Kim to send to the group.

Issue: Request to Clerks for documents filed at Felony sentencing

Ken sent out a request to all Clerks to send a sample of the "Felony Judgment and Sentence" documents used in their counties. The committee will create a library of the documents used by the various judges that show the sentence including any fines/fee/costs and restitution (when applicable).

Status of Governor's Request for Advisory Opinion

- Ken – do you think federal lawsuit will they wait for response from Florida Supreme Court?
- Richard – the federal court does like to follow local Supreme Court. He would be surprised if the Federal court did not at least wait until then. He does not know how quickly they want to move on this.

Another other issues:

There will be a session at the Fall Conference on Amendment 4. Tiffany Moore Russell, Matt Whyte and a representative from the DOC will present with Ken serving as facilitator.

Citrus County – County Detention Facility

There are 9 counties where the Sheriff does not run the jail. Information regarding Amendment 4 is being shared with those in the 9 counties responsible for running the jails.

Ken ended the meeting by saying that he appreciates everyone's active involvement in this committee.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The meeting was adjourned at 3:19.

Good afternoon Judge Lester,

One of the many committees that I participate on include a QR (quick response) team looking at the implementation of Amendment 4: Restoration of Voting Rights. As you can imagine, there are a lot of nuisances as it relates to determining if a convicted felon has "completed all terms of a sentence". As part of our work, we requested a legal opinion from our association's outside general counsel (Greenberg Traurig) to gain some insight as it relates to several key questions in determining "completion". I wanted to share the legal opinion with for informational purposes only as I thought you would find it interesting, particularly as it relates to Criminal Judgments reduced to Civil Judgments/Liens.

Always happy to discuss and keep you in the loop. I don't think we, in Clay, are going to get a huge wave of individuals looking to restore their voting rights but it is interesting to know the amount of work in required to gain clarification on the intent of Amendment 4.

RE: Issues Pertaining to Restoration of Voting Rights

INTRODUCTION

Amendment 4 to the Florida Constitution was passed by ballot initiative in 2018 and amended Article VI, Section 4, of the Florida Constitution. Article VI, Section 4, now provides in part that "any disqualification from voting arising from a felony conviction shall terminate and voting rights shall be restored upon completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation." Art. VI, § 4(a), Fla. Const.

Implementing Legislation

Chapter 2019-162 was passed by the Florida Legislature pursuant to Senate Bill 7066 and creates section 98.0751, Florida Statutes, effective July 1, 2019. Section 98.0751 provides in pertinent part:

> (2) For purposes of this section, the term:
> (a) "Completion of all terms of sentence" means any portion of a sentence that is contained in the four corners of the sentencing document, including, but not limited to:
> 1. Release from any term of imprisonment ordered by the court as a part of the sentence;
> 2. Termination from any term of probation or community control ordered by the court as a part of the sentence;
> 3. Fulfillment of any term ordered by the court as a part of the sentence;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4. Termination from any term of supervision, which is monitored by the Florida Commission on Offender Review, including, but not limited to, parole; and

5.a. Full payment of restitution ordered to a victim by the court as part of the sentence. A victim includes, but is not limited to, a person or persons, the estate or estates thereof, an entity, the state, or the Federal Government.

b. Full payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence or that are ordered by the court as a condition of any form of supervision, including, but not limited to, probation, community control, or parole.

c. The financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. include only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence.

d. For the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e. and notwithstanding any other statute, rule, or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or a victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution.

e. Financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-paragraph b. are considered in the following manner or in any combination thereof:

(I) Actual payment of the obligation in full.

(II) Upon the payee's approval, either through appearance in open court or through the production of a notarized consent by the payee, the termination by the court of any financial obligation to payee, including but not limited to, a victim, or the court.

(III) Completion of all community service hours, if the court, unless otherwise prohibited by law or the State Constitution, converts the financial obligation to community service.

Questions Presented

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In light of the amendment to Article VI, Section 4, and the new implementing language pertaining to "completion of all terms of sentence" as set forth above, you have posed the following questions:

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest?

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by a clerk for the collection of fees, fines and court costs?

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgment/sentencing order?

Of course, the new constitutional amendment and the new statute will be subject to interpretation by the courts. To this end, case law and other interpreting authority does not yet exist. Nonetheless, you have asked us to analyze the new law in conjunction with existing Florida law and to provide our thoughts as to the questions posed. Our responses to the questions are as follows:

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest?

As set forth above, section 98.0751(2)(a) states that "completion of all terms of sentence" means full payment of restitution ordered to a victim by the court as a part of the sentence and full payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence. § 98.0751(2)(a)5.a., and b., Fla. Stat. The statute goes on to state that such financial obligations "include only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence." § 98.0751(2)(a)5.c., Fla. Stat. The statute does not address interest, nor does it address what is meant by "any fines, fees, or costs."

Pursuant to section 775.089, Florida Statutes – the criminal restitution statute – restitution may be ordered as part of a criminal sentence. § 775.089(1)(a), Fla. Stat. The outstanding unpaid amount of the restitution bears interest in accordance with section 55.03, Florida Statutes (the statutory interest statute). § 775.089(5), Fla. Stat. Thus, to the extent restitution is included in a criminal judgment sentencing order, interest accrues on such restitution pursuant to statute.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

As previously noted, there is no case law or other authority to provide guidance on this issue. Also, the Bill Analyses for CS/SB 7066, the implementing legislation, do not reference "completion of all terms of sentence." However, we believe that on the issue of interest, section 98.0751 and section 775.089 must be read pari materia. "The doctrine of pari materia is a principle of statutory construction that requires that statutes relating to the same subject or object be construed together to harmonize the statues and to give effect to the Legislature's intent." E.A.R. v. State, 4 So. 3d 614, 629 (Fla. 2009). Given the language in section 98.0751(2)(a) requiring full payment of restitution ordered as part of a sentence, and the language in section 775.089(5) mandating the accrual of interest on restitution, we believe that when read together a reasonable interpretation of the new law would be – and certainly an argument can be made – that statutory interest is an obligation incurred on the date restitution is ordered as a part of the sentence and, thus, payment of such interest is required to complete the sentence. Of course, the new law will be subject to future interpretation by courts and this has not yet occurred.

The new law also requires "[f]ull payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence." § 98.0751(2)(a), Fla. Stat. Section 938.30, Florida Statutes, provides that when a person is liable for payment of any financial obligation in a criminal case, the judgment setting forth such financial obligations "must secure all unpaid court-imposed financial obligations that are due . . . as well as interest and reasonable costs for issuing a satisfaction and recording the satisfaction in the official records." § 938.30(8), Fla. Stat. (emphasis added). The Bill Analysis for CS/SB 7086, the companion legislation to CS/SB 7086, discusses "completion of all terms of sentence," and while it does not state that interest is included within the meaning of that term, it acknowledges and quotes section 938.39(8) stating that a judgment on court-imposed financial obligations must secure "interest."

Thus, to the extent that a fine, fee, or cost is made a part of the criminal judgment/ sentencing order and interest is included in the judgment, we believe that a reasonable interpretation of the new law when read in pari materia with section 938.39 is – and an argument can be made – that payment of such interest is required to complete the sentence.

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by the clerk for the collection of fees, fines, and court costs?

It is our understanding that a collection fee paid to a collection agent is a fee that is in addition to, and is added to the balance of, the unpaid financial obligations. § 28.246(6), Fla. Stat. It is further our understanding that such fee paid to a collection agent would necessarily accrue after the date the financial obligations of the sentence are ordered.

The new law provides that "completion of all terms of sentence" means payment of "only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do[es] not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence." §

98.0751(2)(a)5.c., Fla. Stat. As noted above, there is no authority interpreting the new law. However, given the plain language of the statute, we believe it is likely that a court would find that, unless otherwise specifically ordered in the criminal judgment, fees owed to a collection agent that are in addition to, and added to the balance of, the unpaid financial obligations would not be included in the definition of "completion of all terms of sentence." See Germ v. St. Luke's Hosp. Ass'n, 993 So. 2d 576 (Fla. 1st DCA 2008) (courts should give statutory language its plain and ordinary meaning, and may not add words that were not included by the legislature).

Such plain language interpretation is reinforced by case law stating that additional costs may not be added to a sentence after a defendant begins serving the sentence. See Martinez v. State, 91 So. 3d 878 (Fla. 5th DCA 2012).

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgment/sentencing order?

Florida case law indicates that statutory financial obligations imposed by a court – such as costs of prosecution, attorney's fees, court costs under chapter 938 and criminal restitution under section 775.089 – are criminal sanctions that are ordinarily imposed during the sentencing process and are criminal sanctions. See Martinez, 91 So. 3d at 880; Woods, 879 So. 2d 651, 653 (Fla. 5th DCA 2004); State v. Sandomeno, 217 So. 3d 110, 111 (Fla. 4th DCA 2017). If such financial obligations are made a part of the criminal judgment and a condition of the sentence, the court's reduction of the amounts owed to a civil judgment or lien for enforcement purposes does not alter the criminal nature of the sanction, or the fact that it is part of the criminal sentence. Martinez, 91 So. 3d at 880 n.2. See also Cammelleri v. State, 270 So. 3d 369 (Fla. 4th DCA 2019) (civil lien for incarceration costs included in the criminal judgment was considered by the court to be part of the sentence).

Unless included in the criminal judgment, a civil judgment or lien is collateral to the criminal judgment. See Cruz v. State, 742 So. 2d 489, 490 (Fla. 3d DCA 1999). Generally, a civil judgment for money or lien is a non-criminal remedy for the recovery of an underlying debt or reimbursement of particular expenses owed. Id. A "lien" is defined as "[a] legal right or interest that a creditor has in another's property, lasting usually until a debt or duty that it secures is satisfied." BLACK'S LAW DICTIONARY (10th ed. 2014). In this regard, we believe it significant that immediately before the passage of CS/SB 7066, an amendment was rejected that contained the following language:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

> 5. Payment of all restitution, fees, or fines that are ordered by the court as part of the sentence or that are ordered by a court as a condition of any form of supervision including, but not limited to, probation, community control, or parole. A financial obligation required under this subparagraph is deemed to have been completed to the extent that the financial obligation has been converted to a civil lien.

Fla. S. Jour. 875 (Reg. Sess. May 2, 2019) (emphasis added).

There is no case law to provide guidance on this issue in the context of the new law. However, given the authority discussed above, we believe that a reasonable interpretation of the new law would be that the reduction of amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order to a civil judgment or lien does not eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as provided for in the criminal judgment/sentencing order.

We note that to the extent a trial court imposes only a civil judgment or lien for amounts owed and does not make them part of the criminal judgment and sentence, case law indicates that the financial obligations could be considered to be independent of the criminal sentence. Woods, 879 So. 2d at 653 n. 1 (where sentence included the payment of public defender's fees and trial court later tried to make payment of supplemental fees part of criminal sentence, appellate court held that request was made out of time for modification of sentence; appellate court further indicated that if the trial court had issued a civil lien for the fees, such proceeding would have been independent of the criminal proceeding); Doctor v. State, 679 So. 2d 76, 77 (Fla. 4th DCA 1996) (criminal defendant could not challenge civil restitution lien by way of rule 3.850 motion applicable to criminal sentences; civil restitution lien is not a criminal penalty); Cruz, 742 So. 2d at 490 (civil restitution lien need not be considered in a plea agreement or accepted by sentencing court).

Our research thus far has uncovered no case law to support the premise that a civil judgment issued separate and apart from a sentence would be construed as being part of the sentence.

Prior Releases, Melissa Geist for Tiffany Moore Russell

They will have a draft document to review on a process to handle those who have been released prior to the bill becoming effective.

From the agenda, we will look at the items involving Fred Baggett

I. FCCC Process for approving requests for legal opinions
J. Possible issues for legal opinion

Richard reported that after the initial meeting with DOC, he met with Fred and discussed which items we could, and should, get a legal opinion on, how do we ask the right questions, what we should not ask, what we should not get anything in writing on, and which are Best Practices that we need a policy on. Fred stated they have gone through the items and broken out what they discussed were the core legal issues and tried to prioritize for timing and put together into a combined opinion on issues that are similar and related. Ken expressed an interest in questions regarding whether we consider interest and costs as conditions of the sentence to be fulfilled. The initial opinion is that interest is not a condition of the sentence. It may be elsewhere, but not as a condition of sentence. Fred stated that this is an issue that can be looked at. Starting from there and going through other issues, they have found a lot of things that the Clerks might want to do to help the process but are not required to do. They hope to have answers to the priority questions as soon as possible. Ken stated that part of this is the legal responsibility, but the other part is the public relations and political angle of how we handle things. From the public relations and good services angle, helping to ensure the information DOC and the Clerks gives to people is correct is important, so we need to let the DOC know what the correct numbers are. The goal is to be as fair as possible to citizens without incurring additional cost. Another issue is people not going back to the county where they committed the felony but going to another Clerk's office asking for information on what they owe. We don't want to have to tell a person to go back to the county where the crime was committed.

Carolyn stated that one of the concerns and challenges from the public relations and good public service angle is looking at the data from the DOC for differences to make sure it is correct and quality data. People will be coming to our offices thinking we are wrong and place the fault with us. We need to work with the DOC on the front end, looking at the data and looking for a way to fix the data that is not correct. It is important that we get in front of this, and where we can demonstrate collaboration the better off we will be. If we do nothing, Clerks will come out with a black eye. The data that has been submitted is fairly good so far. The Martin County data does match. They had the OR discrepancy fixed, so it is all good now. Angela asked if the data sets on the 10 cases would be provided, and Ken replied we would be asking the remainder of the Clerks to do the same.

Ken stated that some Clerks are under the impression when you convert a fine to a Civil lien it is not sent to collections. We need a legal opinion on this. Fred indicated that the initial finding is that this does not eliminate the debt, but further research is being done on this.

Another area that is a priority is public access to CCIS. Fred and Richard discussed how this question would be asked. CCIS maintains no records, it maintains data from the Clerks. It has access to records but does not maintain them so it is not the depository of court records. Richard and Fred will go over this subject to determine what the question should be as this is something that we have to be careful about. Ken asked anyone on the call with an opinion on this matter to call Fred and Richard directly.

Kathy stated that part of the bill addressed the local county detention facilities, asking if we will be taking that as well. Ken stated that we are working with DOC on this. Bill Burgess followed up with Pinellas County Records Management, and they were not familiar with this and had no plan in place for this. Matt Whyte shared that the General Counsel for the Sheriff in Manatee has already created a form.

There was discussion on the sentencing documents and whether incarceration fees are included. As more information and clarification is needed on this topic this will need to be addressed as part of the legal opinion.

When asked about the work group that is to be appointed, Fred stated that they have not heard anything yet. Carolyn went on to say that it is not on the appointments website yet.

Richard stated that the responses they have gotten back on the 10 cases per county have shown some issues between the CCIS and CMS data. To address the concern of whether the data is correct, it is important to point out that the data only relates to a particular case and that money may be owed on any additional cases.

- Kathy Davis, Citrus – With their system when you look at CCIS, you are basically looking at the data from your CMS. Everything did match since she was looking at their CMS data in CCIS.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Bill Burgess, Pinellas – They are still looking at the problems they had with restitution data.
- Matt Whyte, Manatee – CCIS is pulling their data so it should be the same, but they did have one case where there were number discrepancies between CMS and CCIS. They have not been able to see what that happened.

When asked if we were ready to move forward asking the additional counties to complete the survey, Ken responded by saying that we need to let them know how important it is to complete the survey, and how long it takes. There is nothing that can be done about Clerks who do not complete the survey. Richard will prepare an email to go out from Stacy Butterfield and Ken asking Clerks to complete the survey.

From the Agenda, Richard reported on the following items:

Results of 7/12 meeting with DOC.

This was a great opportunity to build rapport. A wide range of issues were discussed, and DOC did agree to provide us with:

- Explanation of case numbers, and issues with the case numbers.
- Possibility of providing DOB for each individual to the Clerks.
- Provide a list of DOC offense codes
- Possibility of identifying releases with prior DOC supervision for other offenses. There was push back on this due to the frequent changes to the lists and liability associated with providing the list. However, if Clerks really need this, they will work with us on it.
- Willing to consider adding a qualifier in the documents they file that the documents relate only to the current sentence and that terms of prior sentences would also have to be completed.
- Willing to participate in our Fall Conference A4 QRT session if required.

DOC raised two issues for Clerks:

- There are having some difficulty filing in Miami-Dade County.
    - Melvin will be on the calls starting next week. He will work on this issue with DOC.
- DOC-Sheriff-Clerk pilot for paperless sentencing orders. Kimberly mentioned that the DOC originally requested 14 counties to be part of the pilot (counties that deliver directly to Reception Medical Center, Lake Butler). Currently 6 counties are participating. Carolyn asked Kimberly to send out more information on this as to which offices agreed to be part of the pilot and which have not participated. Ken stated that this could be a breakdown in communication. Angela stated that the Citrus Clerk's office is willing to participate.

All on the call agreed to keep sharing ideas and talking about problems and concerns. There was concern about errors in the documents. Examples of errors that are found by Clerks will be included in a list to be forwarded to DOC to help them minimize errors on their end.

Kathy Davis asked if we can propose a procedure or method of what will be done if these errors are found. When a person has already left, how do we get them the correct paperwork? Ken stated that one of the things we are doing with the test data is to find out information on problem areas. We have not worked out how to fix the problems or if we want to fix problems. The idea here is going forward can we make it a better process to get correct information. In the interest of time today, we will forgo discussion on this. How we make corrections is a whole different topic. Richard went on to say that when he passes these issues to DOC he can point out that someone probably will want to follow up on these types of concerns.

Status of Best Practice on Clerk's answering Restoration Questions about Cases in Other Counties

This topic will be included in next week's report. Ken went on to say that this will be the featured item of the call and asked Richard to let him know how much time on the agenda was needed.

F. Negotiating fees/fines/cost converted to civil judgments; establish a subcommittee

This is a big issue which is too big for this group to tackle. A committee needs to be established to look at this and come up with standards and recommendations. Tiffany Moore Russel stated that Jared Brooks is already doing research on this. Carolyn will speak with her compliance manager regarding this. The committee will be made up of 3-4 attorneys and 3-4 court staff from Clerk's office throughout the state, making sure different sized counties are included.

G. Suggestions for A QRT presentation at Fall Conference

There will be a presentation on this topic at the Fall Conference, and we will issue an invitation to a representative from the DOC to attend. We will work with Kristin, FCCC, on planning this.

H. Clerk Timmann's legislative talking points

Clerk Timmann will send the list of talking points to Ken who will distribute them to the group.

Any additional items:

- Richard Herring – has reached out to the SA Association, and they are not taking any position on this. Individual SA's are talking about doing different things, but don't see them as being a partner to us. He would like to reach out to the Sheriff's Association and establish a working relationship with them. Ken responded by saying that would be great. We do have a good working relationship with them, and it would be good to keep them informed.
- Tiffany Moore Russell – no
- Carolyn Timmann – no. She appreciates this and sees it as an opportunity to be looking at all of our date and improving on what we have and get rid of discrepancies and misconceptions about the data.
- Angela Vick – no
- Fred Baggett – this is a good approach from the legal and operations side. He hopes to have something back next week on the legal opinions, especially the priority issues.
- Bill Burgess asked if anything had been heard about the UNC number being on some cases and not others. Richard replied that the DOC system does not have a required field for UCN's, so it is not always included. We are still working with them on this. Kimberly Renspie went on to say that they believe certain counties reach a higher number of felonies than others so it may be truncated for that reason. They are checking on this and will get back in touch.

- MD –asked if they could receive their list of cases sooner than later so they could starting working on them. Ken replied that their information would be sent now, but they would be working on a correspondence tomorrow to get the message and information out to all counties. Richard added that he would have a draft to discuss with Ken.

Ken closed the meeting stating that the next meeting will be held next Monday, July 22 at 2:00 p.m.

The meeting was adjourned at 3:11 p.m.

Ken opened the meeting by stating that he had an opportunity to watch the first meeting of the Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group meeting. It was a short meeting, starting at 2 and ending at 2:45, with no drama. There was little discussion, and two reports were presented. Richard Herring reported that the first presentation by Maria Matthews, the Director of the Division of Elections, went over the databases that the Division uses to check felony convictions and other court records to determine eligibility. The Clerk's offices were mentioned many times in the presentation since the Clerk's offices are relied upon for informational purposes. The second presentation was made by an FSU professor regarding possible constitutional issues with the 6 month window.

- Karen Rushing – she heard comments about how the Clerks of Court respond in different amounts of time. The message, although kind and gentle, was that you never can tell how long it is going to take to get the information. This is something we have to get an answer to and fix.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Ken – he sent an email to Kim, Richard and Melvin about this same thing yesterday, wondering what records she was talking about. She commented the wait was weeks and months.
- Karen Rushing – verification of information relating to judges. It depends on the Clerk as to how long it takes. We can't be premiere if this is the type of information that is going out.
- Ken suggested that we not focus on this issue today. It will be an agenda item on next week's call. Richard will contact the Director to get more information on what she was referring to.
- Carolyn Timmann – perhaps they a list we can see to figure out to respond and where we can help.
- Kim Renspie– at the Work Group meeting it was announced that next week they would be hearing from the Clerks of Court which caused people in the room to look at each other since this is the first any Clerk people had heard of this. This will be on the topic of CCIS as well as the general overview of what we can do. Kim called Amber at the Division of Elections to find out exactly what they are looking for and is waiting for a return call or email and will let Ken know as soon as she does so they do whatever they can to help the Work Group. This was a surprise, but they are all doing everything possible to develop a game plan. The next Work Group meeting is on September 6 at 10 a.m.
- Ken – the focus should be on CCIS and the Clerk's role in that. The presentation should be done by Richard and Melvin Cox.
- Melvin Cox – their focus will be on the next meeting and supporting Richard, Ken and the Clerks on the response team and to provide what is need for the presentation on the 6th.

Agenda Item #7. Update on Clerk Review of CCIS and CMS for 10 DOC Cases per County

Ken was pleased to announce that 64 of 67 counties have completed the review. The request for this review was first sent as an advisory and followed up by an email from Ken to the counties who had not yet completed the review. The District Directors will be asked to contact the remaining three counties. Questions/comments regarding the data:

- Kim Renspie - she is working on updating the report with the current information.
- Carolyn Timmann – will the report be sent out after the summary is completed?
- Ken – the reports will be sent to the Quick Response Team. In the initial report there were a lot of discrepancies which were minor in nature.
- Richard Herring - some of the Clerks did a deep dive and looked in far more detail than others, identifying issues with the Public Defender information, incorrect name spellings, etc. There were a number of those kinds of issues, and most were not the things we asked that specifically be compared on the financial side. The initial problem was with the DOC case numbers, but that has been corrected by DOC. Anything truly related to CCIS was in the minority. All issues will be listed on the spreadsheet as it may provide value as we move forward with this exercise.
- Melvin Cox – they will get back next week with data quality issues with CCIS.
- Ken – it looks like we have good assurance of data in CCIS financials. We should be pleased with that. Some had concerns that the information would not be as good as it is. There are other things we can work on to make better, but we should pat ourselves on the back for the quality of data in CCIS. Good job to Melvin Cox and Linda Doggett.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Draft Disclaimers, Jared Brooks

Ken forwarded an email to the group with disclaimer language provided by Matt Whyte and Jared Brooks. Jared stated that he and Matt worked with the legal panel group on the disclaimers, and that the edits from last week's call were included.

DOS Disclaimer:

The Clerk of the Court from the county of sentencing has provided the following information regarding outstanding financial obligations. The balance may include unpaid restitution, court costs, fees or fines.
This information does not include any outstanding financial obligations from any other felony offense. The purpose of this letter is to assist you with completing the remaining terms of your sentence as outlined in Florida Statute 98.0751. Any questions in reference to your financial obligations should be directed to the Clerk of Court in the county of sentencing.

- Ken – this will be on next week's agenda for a vote.
- Karen Rushing – does this contradict the legal opinion regarding any interest from nonpayment would be considered part of the original sentence? She read the opinion to mean it did require interest be paid.
- Fred Baggett – thinks the distinction is the completion of the sentences for purposes of registering to vote. It does not include interest that was provided in judgment and sentence. That does not mean that all obligations of the felon have to be paid. Any obligation outside the sentence such as interest and collection fees not included in the sentence is still assessed but not a prerequisite for registering to vote.
- Ken – Karen, Fred and Jared will look at the disclaimer regarding the interest to see if it contradicts the opinion in any way, and will send any modifications to Richard to be distributed before next week's meeting.

CCIS Disclaimer:

Pursuant to Florida Statute 98.0751, the following information is provided to assist the named offender with completing all terms of sentence in case(s) specifically identified in this document. While efforts have been made to provide credible and reliable information, the offender is advised to contact the Florida Department of Corrections and the Clerk(s) of Court where the offender was sentenced for a current list of outstanding terms and financial obligations in this or any other case. The terms and financial obligations stated herein were obtained from the Florida Comprehensive Case Information System and do not include any terms or financial obligations imposed by a Federal court or a court in another state. Nothing in this document modifies, satisfies, or negates any lawful sentence of obligation that was imposed by a sentencing court. The offender's local Supervisor of Elections makes the final determination whether the offender who registers to vote is eligible pursuant to Florida Statute 98.0751 and Article VI, Sec. 4 of the Florida Constitution.

- Ken – asked Fred and Jean Sperbeck to take a look at this before we take action on this next week.
- Carolyn Timmann – thinks it sounds great and technically correct but wonders if it can be simplified a little bit. The language can be confusing with some not being able to understand it.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Ken – does not disagree. People will look at the face of the document and information that is being provided to them. We need to take a look at this to see if we can make is simpler and more direct.
- Add CCIS in parenthesis.
- Jean Sperbeck – she will work on simplifying the disclaimer.
- Tiffany Moore Russell – if we go back and look at the original disclaimer, it was simpler but we did not want the first draft. Perhaps we can look at both drafts for a medium approach.
- Ken – we don't want to go back to the first option because it put too much of a burden on the Clerks.
- Matt Whyte – there could be a happy medium between the two with a simpler explanation of the information that needs to be conveyed, but we don't want to take too much of the needed information out. They will work on looking for a simpler option.
- Richard Herring – the disclaimer on the CCIS screen needs to be run by Melvin Cox and his group. People access this for a lot of reasons, not just ex-felons. The disclaimer would be read by people who are looking for information for a different purpose.
- Ken – thought the DOC was taking a screen shot of CCIS and this is where the disclaimer would be.
- Richard Herring – there are two different approaches – a statement in CCIS that we could control and a disclaimer that DOC would put in their packet of information. If this is for the DOC disclaimer, it can be very specific.
- Matt Whyte – this draft was originally intended for DOC to put with their document but similar to what would go on the CCIS financial page.
- Ken – the DOC was giving out a sheet saying see attached financial information which was a screen shot of CCIS data. That is why we thought this disclaimer was important to have in that packet of information being given to the felon.
- Matt Whyte – it is not the same wording on the CCIS page.
- Ken – between now and next week, we need to figure out these disclaimers and where they belong.
- Tara Green – recommends Melvin Cox and the CCIS team look at including on the financial information screen a button that would take someone trying to restore their voting rights to another page with more specific information.
- Ken – a convicted felon will not be able to view the CCIS for that, and Richard agreed. DOC has access but not the felon.
- Carolyn Timmann – it is interesting that no one wants to include a disclaimer that the best way for them to get their full list of cases is to go to the FDLE site and run the criminal history. There is a cost for that. FDLE is not giving out that information, but DOC may want to include that.
- Ken - how do you propose we make that known?
- Richard Herring – we can bring that to the mix in conversations that FDLE is the custodian of the criminal history.
- Ken – Carolyn and Richard will come up with a plan to follow up on this.

Draft Advisory on Providing Financial Information (Orange model)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Richard Herring stated that on last week's call there was discussion on sending out the model as an Advisory. This is a very lengthy advisory which includes a one page form and a series of considerations that people need to be aware of.

- Ken – we need to make sure that the form would provide a list of the counties that the person had felonies in, to include our own county and any other counties.
- Richard – yes, the list would have to be provided by the Clerk's office that the person went to for the information.
- Ken – a sample of the Orange County from should include a list of counties, so it is clear that the office is providing all information that is shown in CCIS.
- Ken – are we comfortable with moving this along today or do we need more time to review?
- Tiffany Moore Russell – will there be pushback from some counties on this with asking that each of their staff members provide this information to people asking for it?
- Ken – we have to do this. We have to respond to our citizens. We should be able to go in to CCIS to see how much someone owes in ours own county and other counties. The volume will be relatively small. He does not think it will be an overwhelming amount of work. We are trying to make this as easy as possible for people to get this information.
- Tiffany Moore Russell – she agrees, but has heard the opposite form a lot of voices. The language will need to be changed once the disclaimers are approved.
- Ken – this will be deferred until next week so the forms can be reviewed. Any concerns should be sent to Ken or Richard prior to the next meeting. The form will be revised with the final disclaimer and we will add other counties' information to the sample that will be sent out.

Negotiating Fees/Fines/Costs Converted to Civil Judgments (Not on Agenda)

Jared reported that a conference call is scheduled for next Wednesday with Attorneys and Operations staff to start talking about this.

- Tara Green – the upcoming DL reinstatement days should be considered in this discussion.
- Ken – one issue involves a person who comes in owing $1,200 but that is negotiated down when the person makes full payment, but if a person asks to go on a payment plan we don't negotiate. Is that the proper way to handle that by negotiating only when getting full payment? With Clerks doing different things across the state, we can be accused of discriminatory practices. Is that a Civil Rights issue? He hopes these issues will be taken under consideration.
- Tara Green – you are right, that is why we have not come out with recommendations. A representative from the Palm Beach County should be included in this Work Group.
- Karen Rushing – an idea for the Work Group to consider is that interest for those who have failed to pay their fines should be easy to negotiate.
- Carolyn Timmann – agrees with this suggestion to negotiate on interest and collection fees. We need to look to see what will be considered equitable and not biased.
- Linda Doggett – The Florida Rights Restoration Coalition has made comments about Miami Dade being proactive. The clerk there is researching the sentence obligations when people approach them about voting rights. A clerk does the research and schedules them for court date where restitution would be on a payment plan so that they can vote even if they have not paid all of other fines.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Ken – he saw that article 3 weeks ago, and will send it to the group. He also sent that article to Representative Sprowls and Representative Grant and both expressed outrage at that. This may be an issue for the Judiciary when they go for funding. There may be some conversation with the Legislature on this with the Judiciary going against the intent of their legislation. This will be difficult, but Clerks cannot look like we are challenging this effort.
- Carolyn Timmann – As CCOC Legislative Chair she can see where the Legislature would be concerned. This is not just the judge, but the State Attorney in Miami-Dade.
- Tiffany Moore Russell – received a call from her Senator and Chief Judge. There is no interest in spearheading this, and they are not doing this in Orange County. This will open a whole can or worms.
- Jared Brooks – he talked to Broward County, and they are not doing this like Miami-Dade.

Discussion of Amendment 4 Quick Response Team Panel at Fall Conference

This will be discussed separately.

Updates on Other Government Entities Involved in Restoration of Voting Rights

Richard – at the last meeting, there were 3 issues he was asked to raise with DOC on financial obligation information provided to people recently released by DOC:

- Inconsistencies on amount due with DOC showing no restitution due and CCIS showing money due. DOC is looking at this
- Attachment showed 3 case numbers but the CCIS print out showed only one case. DOC will work with their data folks on this.
- The Pinellas Clerk received an email from DOC asking for information on court costs/fines, related to a particular case, at the request of an inmate.

DOC has been very responsive with any issues we have brought to their attention. We asked them to watch for these types of issues, as will we, and give us early warning so we can develop advisories or best practices.

Cathy Davis asked if there was a way to include a disclaimer on the DOC from regarding additional fees owned to the Clerk, and Ken responded by saying that we are getting ready to modify the form. They are very receptive to modifying the form.

Ken closed the meeting by saying that when this team was formed, it was recognized that staff input was needed. Ken is grateful to Chris Hart for assigning Richard Herring and Kim Renspie to the team. They have made tremendous contributions to this effort, as have Melvin Cox, Matt Whyte and Jared Brooks.

Next week's meeting will be through WebEx.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:12 a.m.

Ken Burke opened the meeting and took roll call. Minutes of the meeting are being taken and will be sent out to the participants.

Richard Herring prepared an agenda for the meeting. Richard will be meeting with DOC to discuss any issues that we have identified with them. They are willing to listen to our concerns. They have provided a list of 10 recent releases per county. When asked if we wanted to send these lists out to all of the counties, Ken responded that this should be kept with the committee first. The committee counties will go through the exercise before getting the other Clerk's offices involved so that we can give pointers and good information to them about what to look for. Part of the process is to double check to verify that CCIS and the case management systems are the same.

Ken stated that one of the challenges is that DOC only has case numbers for the most recent cases but not the whole history of cases where money is still owed. If the person had a prior felony, the information was not accurate. Any prior conviction amounts were left off. We are attempting to find out why only current cases are listed. We want DOC to go back and look at all cases, so that we don't have to second guess DOC. This could cause a problem if we have information that is different from the DOC. Richard stated that any of these types of issues should be sent to him to present to the DOC, such as issues with uniform case numbers, prior convictions, etc., and whether they need to include a disclaimer regarding CCIS data.

Bill Burgess and Ken Burke provided the following information on the cases from Pinellas County:

- It took 2 employees 1 hour to check the 10 cases.
- Six of the ten cases were accurate.
- We did not use CCIS data. We used our internal Odyssey system to come up with the correct amounts owed. This is the concern – we want to make sure that DOC matches this data. The concern is that CCIS is not accurate. Tiffany Moore Russell shared that they compared Odyssey to CCIS and they were the same.
- Bill did spot check and for the most part, it was accurate.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Restitution is a big problem. CCIS did not have information if there was restitution to be paid directly to the victim.

Melissa Geist, Orange County, provided the following information on cases from Orange County:

- It took them 2 hours to complete.
- For some cases they had to go to FDLE for the case numbers to cross reference with Odyssey.
- Everything matched perfectly.
- There were no examples of restitution paid directly to the victim.

Ken stated that we will give these pointers from Bill and Melissa to the rest of the Clerks when sending out these forms to them. We will let them know that they should be able to get this done in a two-hour timeframe. We are trying to make sure the data is accurate and consistent throughout the state.

Carolyn Timmann stated they ran through a lot of these this weekend and there were challenges that they came across:

- Some had no case numbers.
- Multiple cases in other counties.
- Bulk scanning is their biggest issue. Judgements, sentencing and financial information was not individually scanned. It was bulk scanned so the information cannot be easily found. Tara Green stated that this will also be a problem for Clay County.
- Judgement and sentencing was recorded in Official Records, but when they converted to a new system the original index did not covert. They are working with the vendor now to fix this.
- Not all restitution orders used to be recorded.
- Some look like sexual crime convictions. There is an issue with the statues disappearing when you open the record. This appears to be an issue with CCIS that will hopefully be a simple fix.
- Name misspellings. It would be helpful for DOC to provide date of birth.
- Amount owed discrepancy. For old data you must go and physically verify if the amount was reduced due to community service, etc.
- No restitution was listed on the case number provided by DOC, but the person had restitution on another cases that was due and not listed.
- Their system does not show credit for restitution.

Ken stated that this has brought up a lot of bigger issues. Carolyn stated that most of the issues were with the first case she worked on. She spent over 2 hours on the first case because it opened up these issues. They did have some accurate cases. The problem is with the old convictions, 2014 and before. Bill Burgess stated that the oldest case they looked at was 2006 and it was accurate, and Melissa had a 2001 case that was accurate. Ken/Bill stated that they did not go to the Official Records in Pinellas. They took the information from Case Management. Carolyn stated that this has been very useful to her staff and asked if DOC had an automated list of releases as they are coming out so the cases could be check.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

When asked what criteria was being used, when the case was created versus the release date, Ken replied that the date provided by DOC was used and not random dates.

Tiffany Moore Russell stated that we are talking about the most recently released, but there are a lot of citizens who have been released over the years, and we need to come up with procedures for that as well. Ken stated that we need to concentrate on this effort first. Orange County and Pinellas County are already completed, with Martin County in the process. Clay, Sarasota and Manatee need to complete the process (Monday at the latest). We will be able to provide helpful hits and a checklist to the other counties to use when reviewing their 10 cases. The objective is quality control on CCIS data.

Richard Herring

- Clerks will need to identify issues with legacy systems, and what improvements can be made with the information provided by DOC.
- Fall Conference - Ken stated that we do want to designate a time slot for a session on Amendment 4 at the fall conference. This should be a long session. We may want to include a representative from the DOC and Jamie Grant from the Legislature to participate in this session.
- Disclaimer - Do we want to write a disclaimer as it relates to CCIS and Clerk's data? Ken stated that we should conduct our study first to find out where the problems are before we come up with a disclaimer. Carolyn stated that she would send a list of talking points that she used when she was speaking to the Legislature on this.

Tiffany Moore Russell stated that a Best Practice is needed on how to handle a person coming in to our office asking if they owe money even if the felony did not occur in our county. We would look up in CCIS for information from another county, but would need to include a disclaimer that the information is not coming from our own county. Ken asked Tiffany to spearhead this effort, and she agreed that she would work on this with Richard.

Ken asked if there were any other concerns or comments:

Tara Green

- No, right on track. While we are gathering these questions and challenges on behalf of the Clerks, are we going to turn our work over to the work group that is being established by Governor DeSantis? Ken stated that it is not clear what our role with the work group will be. We are trying to make sure that we are coordinated with the DOC and the information we are providing. This will be a head start for the group with the Clerks doing their due diligence and pointing out any issues they have found. Carolyn stated that it is important for us to be organized as we identify the challenges and bring these forward to the work group with ideas for legislative changes and to set up a statewide system, which is part of the mission of the work group.

Tiffany Moore Russell

- No, on track.

Carolyn Timmann

- With part of the mission of the work group to come up with the statewide database and system to determine the status of cases, Clerks may be asked that CCIS be used as the master clearing house. We have built up to the legislature that we can do it all and that CCIS is a good master system. We should be able to answer yes to this question, but if the answer is no, we have to able to explain why not.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Richard Herring

- Will make sure Melvin Cox is included on the next call.
- Will talk to Chris Hart regarding Carolyn's comments on CCIS. CCIS has been operating at a deficit. If it becomes the statewide database there needs to be funding from the state for this.

Cheri Vancura

- No issues.

Melissa Geist

- No issues.

Savannah Sullivan

- No issues

The next conference call be held next Monday, July 15, at 2:00 p.m.

Ron,

Hope you are doing well and are recovering from the legislative session.

Sharon Bock, the Clerks' Association President, appointed a small workgroup (4) of Clerks with the task of dealing with issues related to Amendment 4. Part of our workgroup charge is to reach out to your association. Is it possible we can set up a conference call with you in the next week to discuss if bills passed by the legislature this session have influenced how the Supervisors are dealing with Amendment 4? It would be good to hear an update from you on the issues Supervisors are experiencing with particular interest in any that may involve Clerks' offices. If there are issues that involve Clerks from the Supervisors viewpoint, the workgroup would like to identify them to our members and come up with strategies to handle them in a uniform manner.

Thanks for your help. It's good our two groups communicate well on the issues related to the amendment.

Looking forward to hearing back from you.

2 quick thoughts.

CCIS disclaimer - the idea for this arose from DOC using CCIS to give new releases information on costs they own. Clerks worried that this might create a "gotcha" when the person thought they owed $x, then went to the Clerk and found out they owed several times that amount because they had prior felonies with unpaid costs. Putting a disclaimer on the CCIS financial screen would inform the individual (receiving a screenshot form DOC) that other costs might also be involved in restoration of voting rights.

DOS statement - I think we should address only what information individuals can seek from the Clerks. DOS needs to get "approved" language separately from DOC, county jails, federal prisons, and any other parties they identify as sources of information.

Good Afternoon All,

Hope all is well. We've been assigned our task from the Amendment 4 QRT. The team would like for us to draft a best practices for negotiation of fines/fees/costs converted to civil judgments by September 20, 2019. Jean- I know you have quite a bit of experience with Best Practices so I wanted to get your opinion on whether this deadline is realistic? I'd like to schedule a conference call for the workgroup to discuss the best practices. Please let me know your availability for a call next week.

Additionally, Clerk Burke would like for us to review the following and draft language by Monday, August 12th at 2 p.m.:

1. Page 18 of our meeting packet includes a CCIS disclaimer. Will your workgroup review the wording and provide a properly worded disclaimer?
2. Page 2 of our meeting packet includes a uniform statement that DOC has drafted some initial language. Their draft is problematic in that includes information that the Clerk cannot provide. Will your workgroup please take a look at this language and provide more acceptable language to be used?

Another suggestion using language from below as well as in the Constitution and the applicable statute:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Pursuant to Florida Statute 98.0751, the following information is provided to assist the named offender with completing all terms of sentence in the case(s) specifically identified in this document. While efforts have been made to provide credible and reliable information, the offender is advised to contact the Florida Department of Corrections and the Clerk(s) of Court where the offender was sentenced for a current list of outstanding terms and financial obligations in this or any other case. The terms and financial obligations stated herein were obtained from the Florida Comprehensive Case Information System and do not include any terms or financial obligations imposed by a Federal court or a court in another state. Nothing in this document modifies, satisfies, or negates any lawful sentence or obligation that was imposed by a sentencing court. The offender's local Supervisor of Elections makes the final determination whether the offender who registers to vote is eligible pursuant to Florida Statute 98.0751 and Article VI, Sec. 4 of the Florida Constitution.

Greetings,

Let this serve as a reminder of our meeting on Monday (Aug 12) at 2:00 PM by conference call. You should have received the Outlook appointment. Attached are several items of interest for your review prior to our call. The first item is our notes from last week’s call. We will approve the two draft advisories as part of our meeting agenda. JD was kind enough to forward to me the letter he received through his service on the Restoration of Voting Rights Task Force. The attached letter contains the dates of the Task Force meetings.

Jared will report on the two suggestions for wording that his group was assigned during last week’s call.

Richard will provide an update on the study of the counties who have responded comparing CCIS with CMS data. I will respond on my outreach to those counties that have yet to respond.

Look forward to our call.

RON DESANTIS
GOVERNOR

August 9, 2019

Honorable Charles T. Canady
Chief Justice and the Justices of the Supreme Court of Florida
Tallahassee, Florida

Dear Chief Justice Canady and Justices of the Supreme Court of Florida:

Pursuant to Article IV, section 1(c) of the Florida Constitution, I hereby request your opinion on a question involving the interpretation of a portion of the Constitution affecting my executive powers and duties. The question pertains to the meaning of Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution as it affects my constitutional power as the supreme executive to take care that the laws be faithfully executed and to transact all necessary business with the officers of the government under Article IV, section 1(a) of the Florida Constitution. This question also affects my direct administration and supervision of the Department of State under Article IV, section 6 of the Florida Constitution to ensure the proper administration of voter registration and disqualification.

On November 6, 2018, Florida voters approved a constitutional amendment, known as Amendment 4, to automatically restore voting rights for some convicted felons—namely, felons who have been convicted of offenses other than murder or a "felony sexual offense" upon "completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation." See Art. VI, § 4, Fla. Const. (2018). I request your interpretation of whether "completion of all terms of sentence" encompasses financial obligations, such as fines, fees and restitution ("legal financial obligations" or "LFOs") imposed by the court in the sentencing order.

Prior to Amendment 4's placement on the ballot, this Court was asked to determine whether the amendment met the legal requirements under Florida's Constitution. On March 6, 2017, during a colloquy between the justices and Amendment 4's sponsor, Floridians for a Fair Democracy ("Sponsor"), this Court was assured the Amendment presented a "fair question" and "clear explanation" to voters. SC16-1981).[1] Addressing a question posed by Justice Polston as to whether "completion of [all] terms" included "full payment of any fines," the Sponsor responded, "Yes, sir . . . All terms means all terms within the four corners." Id. at 4. Justice Lawson similarly asked, "You said that terms of sentence includes fines and costs . . . that's the way it's generally pronounced in criminal court, would it also include restitution when it was ordered to the victim as part of the sentence?" Id. at 10. The Sponsor answered, "Yes." Id. Justice Pariente posited the inclusion of fees, fines, and restitution as part of the completion of sentence "would actually help the state because if fines, costs and restitution are a requirement . . . for those that want to vote, there's a big motivation to pay unpaid costs, fines and restitution." Id. at 11. Ultimately, the Court found Amendment 4 clearly and unambiguously informed voters the chief purpose of the proposed amendment was to "automatically restore voting rights to felony offenders, except those convicted of murder or felony sexual offenses, upon completion of all terms of their sentence." Advisory Op., 215 So. 3d at 1208 (emphasis added).

In alignment with the colloquy with the Florida Supreme Court, after Amendment 4 was approved by voters, the ACLU of Florida, League of Women Voters of Florida, LatinoJustice, and the Florida Rights Restoration Coalition delivered a letter to former Secretary of State Ken Detzner regarding implementation of Amendment 4. Exhibit 1, December 13, 2018 Letter. In part, the letter explained,

> The phrase "completion of all terms of sentence" includes any period of incarceration, probation, parole and financial obligations imposed as part of an individual's sentence. The financial obligations may include restitution and fines, imposed as part of a sentence or a condition of probation under existing Florida statute. Fees not specifically identified as part of a sentence or a condition of probation are therefore not necessary for 'completion of sentence' and thus, do not need to be paid before an individual may register. We urge the Department to take this view in reviewing eligibility of individuals registered to vote as outlined in Chapter 98, Florida Statutes.

Ex. 1, p. 3 (emphasis added).

During the 2019 Legislative Session, legislators in both chambers debated legislative implementation of Amendment 4. Ultimately, both chambers passed CS/SB 7066 and, on June 28, 2019, I signed it into law. See Ch. 2019-162, Laws of Fla. In relevant part, chapter 2019-162, section 25, Laws of Florida, creating section 98.0751, Florida Statutes, provided guidance on restoration of voting rights and determination of ineligibility pursuant to the amendment of Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution. "[c]ompletion of all terms of sentence" as "any portion of a sentence that is contained in the four corners of the sentencing document." § 98.0751(2)(a), Fla. Stat. (2019). The Legislature provided five categories of terms included in the sentencing document: (1) release from any term of imprisonment; (2) termination of any term of probation or community control; (3) fulfillment of any term ordered by the court as part of the sentence; (4) termination from any term of supervision monitored by the Florida Commission on Offender Review; and (5) full payment of LFOs ordered by the court as part of the sentence. See § 98.0751(2)(a)1.-5., Fla. Stat. (2019).

On June 15, 2019, Luis Mendez filed a complaint in the Northern District of Florida seeking injunctive and declaratory relief and mandamus challenging chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida. In part, Mendez alleges chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida, violates Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution because it adds requirements for the restoration of voting rights above what was prescribed in the Florida Constitution. Additional complaints were filed by numerous plaintiffs, including organizations referenced above, alleging provisions of chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida violate the First, Eighth, Fourteenth and Twenty-Fourth Amendments of the United States Constitution. These challenges are only directed at chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida, and do not question the constitutionality of Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution.

Article IV, section 1(a) of the Florida Constitution prescribes the supreme executive power shall be vested in the Governor, that he "shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed" and "transact all necessary business with the officers of government." Article IV, section 6 of the Florida Constitution places direct administration and supervision of all functions of the executive branch, including the Department of State, under the constitutional authority of the Governor. See also § 20.02(3), Fla. Stat. (the administration of any executive branch entity shall at all times be under the constitutional executive authority of the Governor"); § 20.10, Fla. Stat. (creating the Department of State, headed by the Secretary of State who is appointed by the Governor). Furthermore, the Secretary of State is the chief elections officer with the responsibility to maintain uniformity in the interpretation and implementation of voter registration and election laws. See § 97.012, Fla. Stat.

The Executive Branch is entrusted with implementing voter registration. See Part II of chapter 97 and chapter 98, Fla. Stat. Specifically, section 98.075(5), Florida Statutes, directs the Department of State to identify registered voters for eligibility under Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution and section 98.0751, Florida Statutes. It is ultimately my responsibility, through the Department of State, to "protect the integrity of the electoral process" by maintaining accurate and current voter registration records, including ensuring only eligible voters remain on the statewide voter registration system. See also §§ 98.075(1), 98.035, Fla. Stat. Essential to my duty is a proper interpretation of Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution.

I, as Governor of Florida, have the constitutional responsibility and duty to take care that the Constitution and laws of Florida are faithfully executed. I, as Governor of Florida, have the constitutional duty to transact business with officers of government, including, but not limited to, local supervisors of elections, local clerks of court, the Florida Department of Corrections, the

Florida Department of Law Enforcement, the Florida Commission on Offender Review and the Florida Department of State regarding the collection of information related to the eligibility of voters under Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution. We share the task of protecting the integrity of elections throughout Florida. I, as Governor of Florida, want to ensure the proper implementation of Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution and, if applicable, chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida. This includes the ability to direct the Department of State to fully implement Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution by determining whether a convicted felon has completed all terms of their sentence, including the satisfaction of LFOs. I will not infringe on the proper restoration of an individual's right to vote under the Florida Constitution.

Understanding there is ongoing litigation in federal court challenging chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida under the First, Eighth, Fourteenth and Twenty-Fourth Amendments of the United States Constitution, I do not ask this Court to address any issues regarding chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida or the United States Constitution.

Therefore, I respectfully request an opinion of the Justices of the Supreme Court of Florida as to the question of whether "completion of all terms of sentence" under Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution includes the satisfaction of all legal financial obligations—namely fees, fines and restitution ordered by the court as part of a felony sentence that would otherwise render a convicted felon ineligible to vote.

Sincerely,

Ron DeSantis

Secretary of State

Re: Implementation of Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment

Dear Secretary Detzner:

On November 6, 2018, Florida voters approved Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment with a vote of 64.55 % in support, reflecting the clear will of the people of Florida that those individuals with felony convictions who have paid their debt to society have their eligibility to vote restored to them. We write to request that you take immediate administrative action to coordinate with relevant state and local agencies as required by Chapter 98 Florida Statues and to provide guidance to relevant state and local agencies on the proper administration of voting registration for this newly enfranchised population of Florida's citizens as soon as possible. To that end, we would like to take this opportunity to share our analysis and views on various provisions of the Amendment and corresponding issues.

Amendment 4 is Self-Executing

Amendment 4 is self-executing in that the mandatory provisions of the amendment are effective on the implementation date (Jan. 8, 2019). This is the very position that the State of Florida has acknowledged in its own legal filings in the Hand v. Scott case. The Amendment alters Florida Constitution Article VI, Section 4. Disqualifications, to state as follows:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(a) No person convicted of a felony, or adjudicated in this or any other state to be mentally incompetent, shall be qualified to vote or hold office until restoration of civil rights or removal of disability. Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, any disqualification from voting arising from a felony conviction shall terminate and voting rights shall be restored upon completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation.

(b) No person convicted of murder or a felony sexual offense shall be qualified to vote until restoration of civil rights. [...].

That language is specific and unambiguous. As the Florida Supreme Court stated in its unanimous opinion approving the amendment for placement on the ballot, "Read together, the title and summary would reasonably lead voters to understand that the chief purpose of the amendment is to automatically restore voting rights to felony offenders, except those convicted of murder or felony sexual offences, upon completion of all terms of their sentence. (emphasis added.) Advisory Opinion to the Attorney General Re: Voting Restoration Amendment, 215 So. 2d 1202,1208 (Fla. 2017).

Since these mandatory provisions will now be in the Florida constitution, the Legislature does not need to pass implementing legislation in order for the amendment to go into effect. That said, the Legislature should exercise its normal and proper oversight function of relevant state agencies to ensure that they implement the amendment in accordance with the will of Florida's voters and without delay.

The burden is on the state, not the individual, to establish whether a voter is ineligible utilizing current administrative practices, databases and resources as defined in Chapter 98 and other relevant provisions of the Florida Statutes.

The plain language of the Amendment makes clear that it restores the voting rights of Floridians with felony convictions after they complete "all terms of their sentence including parole or probation." The Amendment does not apply to those who have completed a sentence for murder or a felony sex offense. Individuals in those categories can only have their right to vote restored by the Governor and the Board of Executive Clemency.

Pursuant to Article XI, Section 5 (3), the Amendment goes into effect on January 8, 2019. Thus, starting January 8th, any individual with a felony conviction who has completed all the terms of their sentence should register to vote by completing a voter registration form.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Completion of all terms of Sentence

The phrase "completion of all terms of sentence" includes any period of incarceration, probation, parole and financial obligations imposed as part of an individual's sentence. These financial obligations may include restitution and fines, imposed as part of a sentence or a condition of probation under existing Florida statute. Fees not specifically identified as part of a sentence or a condition of probation are therefore not necessary for 'completion of sentence' and thus, do not need to be paid before an individual may register. We urge the Department to take this view in reviewing the eligibility of individuals registered to vote as outlined in Chapter 98, Florida Statutes.

Existing Voter Registration Forms are Sufficient

We assert that the uniform stateside voter registration application is sufficient to immediately register individuals impacted by the Amendment's provisions. Question #2 of that form asks individuals to "affirm that I am not a convicted felon, or if I am, my right to vote has been restored." The responsibility of the citizen is to honestly affirm that, by completing the terms of their sentence, their voting rights have been restored. Individuals may also register via the Florida Online Voter Registration System at https://registertovoteflorida.gov/.

Process to Confirm Eligibility is Already in Place

The existing provisions of Chapter 98 of the Florida Statutes provide the Department with sufficient authority to coordinate across state and local agency databases to identify impacted individuals, to promptly and efficiently register to vote those individuals who wish to do so, and to confirm their eligibility in the same way the Department confirms the eligibility of all other Florida residents when they complete a voter registration application.

We understand that the current registration process includes the following steps:

- An individual returns a completed voter registration form to the Supervisor of Elections;
- The Supervisor transmits an electronic copy of the application to the Department of State Division of Elections;
- The individual who completed the form is at that time considered registered and will receive a voter ID card in the mail;
- The Department of State then has the duty to review the voter's registration to determine if there is credible information that the voter is ineligible;

This is the very same process that should be used to register those impacted by Amendment 4.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In closing, we appreciate the difficult task you face in administering elections in Florida. We hope that the discussion above will help you ensure that Amendment 4 is implemented in a timely and smooth fashion, without delay or undue burden on individual eligible voters. Florida's citizens spoke clearly on election day and we look forward to working with you to ensure their will is carried out.

4. Draft Advisory on Legal Opinion

FCCCC has requested and received a legal opinion from our Counsel concerning several issues related to restoration of voting rights, both the constitutional and statutory language. Specifically, these issues address several of the financial aspects of the law. The full legal opinion is attached.

In brief, without the associated legal reasoning and caveats included in the legal opinion, a summary is:

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest? Only if the fine, fee, or cost is made a part of the criminal judgment/ sentencing order and interest is specifically included in the judgment.

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by a clerk for the collection of fees, fines and court costs? Unless otherwise specifically ordered in the criminal judgment, fees owed to a collection agent that are in addition to, and added to the balance of, the unpaid financial obligations would not be included in the definition of "completion of all terms of sentence."

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgment/sentencing order? The reduction of amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order to a civil judgment or lien does not eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as provided for in the criminal judgment/sentencing order.

5. Update on information received from DOC

- In the sample of 10/county provided to us, the first 2 digits of the case number were an issue. DOC had a system problem with leading zeros ("06" for 2006). They have corrected the problem and provided us with the previous 10-per-county list with leading zeros fixed.
- Adding DOB is something they can do. They have provided the previous 10-per-county list with DOB added.
- DOC has provided their list of offense descriptions matched to specific statutes and their "code" for each. This is a lengthy (45-page) list that we will be happy to share upon request.
- Citrus identified 3 issues. 1) Documents with bad information drawn from another county. DOC included the issue in a statewide meeting and will address it as both a systems issue and a training issue. 2) Citrus asked DOC to refile the documents, raising the issue of how the releasee would get the corrected information. DOC will develop a way to deal with this. 3) A restitution payee was incorrectly identified in the DOC documents. DOC will correct their internal process to fix this issue.
- Volusia raised an issue about contacting DOC concerning individuals on probation since multiple counties may be involved. DOC responded: "There are instances when an offender is sentenced in one county, then supervised in another county (the county they live in). The Clerks may not know the county of supervision; therefore, questions should be referred to the county of sentence. By clicking the following link, Probation Offices, each Clerk will be able to determine the office that coincides with the county of sentence. It would probably be a good idea for the Clerks to address court related fees, charges, and costs if they receive phone calls directly as they have a system to maintain accounts for those monetary obligations. "
  http://www.dc.state.fl.us/cc/index.html
- We also asked DOC about release documentation provided to individuals on probation who completed supervision in prior years. DOC responded: "For offenders who have terminated supervision, we provide the offender with a Termination Letter; however, supervision documents maintained by Community Corrections are destroyed three years after the offender terminates supervision."

9A. DRAFT ADVISORY

Restoration of Voting Rights – Effect on Other Rights

Several Clerks have received questions about the new law on restoration of voting rights and its impact on other rights, such as jury service, holding public office, or firearm possession.

The new law, Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida, (CS/SB 7066 from the 2019 legislative session) distinguishes between restoration of civil rights pursuant to s. 8, Art. IV of the State Constitution and voting rights restoration pursuant to s. 4., Art. VI of the State Constitution. Section 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution and the recent amendments to Chapter 98, Florida Statutes, provide the requirements for restoration of voting rights only. Meeting those requirements does not restore other rights.

Persons seeking information on restoration of civil rights generally may be referred to the Florida Commission on Offender Review. The Commission's Office of Executive Clemency has rules, forms, and processes for persons seeking restoration of civil rights, pardon, firearm authority, and other forms of clemency. See: https://www.fcor.state.fl.us/restoration.shtml

Specific to the right to vote, the Office of Executive Clemency website says:

> Regarding the Restoration of Civil Rights (RCR) process and the passage of Amendment Four:
> For those offenders covered by the amendment, only the right to vote, not the right to sit on a jury or the right to hold public office, is contemplated by the amendment. Restoration of the right to sit on a jury and to hold public office can only be obtained through application to the Board of Executive Clemency.
> As to those offenders not covered by the amendment, namely those convicted of murder or a felony sexual offense or those who have not completed all terms of their sentence, the restoration of the right to vote, to sit on a jury, and to hold public office can only be obtained through application to the Board of Executive Clemency.

Public Records Policy of the Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers

Policy

Pursuant to article 1, section 24 of the Florida Constitution, it is the policy of the Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers (FCCC) to permit certain records to be inspected and copied by any person desiring to do so, at any reasonable time, under reasonable conditions, and under supervision by the custodian of records.

Agency held records, except those specifically precluded from disclosure by statutory exemption, shall be available, in any form and format used by the agency, to all citizens for inspection or copying under the supervision of the records custodian or designee during normal business hours.

Custodian of Records

The FCCC custodian of records or his or her designee must acknowledge requests to inspect or copy records promptly and respond to such requests in good faith. A good faith response includes making reasonable efforts to determine from other offices or employees whether such records exists and, if so, the location at which the records can be accessed.

Inspections

Inspections may take place at the FCCC office located at 3544 Maclay Blvd, Tallahassee, Florida 32312. Records will be made available as quickly as practical after a request is received.

This document outlines policies, responsibilities, and describes procedures for providing access those records held by the Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers that fall under the definition of public records. It should be applied to all activities which involve public records requests. These guidelines complement, but do not replace, the requirements under the Public Records Law.

Applicable Fees

a. Copying Fees: $0.15 per single sided copy
$0.20 per double sided copy

All other fees shall be the actual cost of duplication of the record.

U.S. postage, commercial shipping carriers, or other costs incurred in the delivery of public records shall be included in the actual costs charged to the requester.

The widest possible access to existing public records is encouraged by making copies of those records available for a fee not to exceed the actual cost of duplication.

If records are requested to be sent by email, no copying fees apply. However, depending on the nature or the volume of the request, a special service charge, as outline below, may be assessed.

b. Extensive Use Charges – Extensive use charges shall not be randomly or automatically applied. Rather, each public records request must be evaluated to determine if extensive use charges are warranted. Pursuant to s. 119.07(4)(d), Florida Statutes, the FCCC may impose a special service charge when the nature or volume of the public records request is such as to require extensive use of information technology resources, or extensive clerical or supervisory assistance or both.

For purposes of the policy, "extensive clerical or supervisory assistance" is determined to be requests that require more than 30 minutes of time using information technology, resources, or labor to locate records, review records for confidential or exempt material, remove confidential or exempt material, or copy and re-file requested records.

Labor Time – When extensive clerical and/or supervisory labor time is spent in the inspection or production of a public records request, a service charge for labor should be applied by computing the actual cost of providing such labor. FCCC commercial rates are used for these rates.

Information Technology Resources – FCCC uses the costs established by the Information Technology division when charging for the extensive use of information technology resources and a copy of such documented method shall be provided upon request. Service charges shall be based on the actual cost incurred for such extensive use.

Charges Waivers – Fees or charges may be waived between FCCC and other government agencies, by agreement between management, when the recurring exchanges or data sharing between agencies negates the need to apply these fees.

c. Deposits

If, based on the nature or volume of the public records request, a charge is warranted, an estimate is required to be given to the requester before the work is done.

Payment of the estimated amount must be received before the work commences.

In the event the amount paid exceeds the actual cost, excess funds will be refunded to the requester.

Public Records Requests

FCCC accepts requests for public records in writing, by electronic mail, by telephone, by facsimile, or in person. If the request is insufficient to identify the records sought, the custodian will help the requester clarify the request. The custodian may ask the requester to complete forms to assist in defining or documenting the facts necessary for completing records requests; however, the requester is not obligated to complete these forms as a condition for obtaining the public records requested.

Requests for records are accepted and records made accessible for inspection or duplication during normal FCCC business hours, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Public Records Exemptions

FCCC is responsible for protecting information defined as confidential or as otherwise prohibited from public inspection or copying under the Public Records Law. Confidential information shall be redacted (extracted) from records prior to public release or examination of the nonexempt portions.

The FCCC Custodian is responsible for informing the requester when requests cannot be filled due to an exemption which prevents disclosure. Upon request, the provider must provide the basis for this exemption and its statutory citation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

General

The FCCC custodian is not required to give out information verbally or answer question about the records. The statutory obligation of the custodian is to provide access to or copies of existing public records.

The FCCC custodian is only required to provide records in the format in which the records are kept, as long as it a generally usable format. Custodians are not required to create a new record in a particular format or to reformat existing records in response to a request for records.

The Public Records Request Policy as adopted by the Best Practice Committee is incorporated by reference as a guide insomuch as it is applicable to the handling of general public records requests.

Ken opened the meeting by saying that he received a news alert last week saying that the Governor was asking the Supreme Court for an opinion on the interpretation of Amendment 4, but he has not seen anything else on this. Fred Baggett responded that the Governor does have the right to request an Advisory Opinion from the Supreme Court, although it is unusual. The Governor has asked the Supreme Court for an opinion on the implementation of Amendment 4 but is not sure of the details. He has not seen anything other than the clip, but it is pending and is within the Governor's authority to make such a request. Richard Herring stated that he thinks he is trying to bring in the federal courts. This would put us back to square one. Ken stated that this is something that will need to be monitored.

Update on Clerk Review of CCIS and CMS for 10 DOC Cases per County, Ken Burke and Richard Herring

Richard and Ken have been working on the survey that was sent to all clerks to compare CCIS data with CMS data to make sure it is accurate. Just this morning Ken wrote to every Clerk who had not responded to the survey. He did find that some Clerks had already responded to the survey but because of email issues the responses were not received. Those Clerks resent their surveys. Richard stated that they have been receiving responses all day, and there are only 15 counties whose responses have not been received. At this point, they are very close to receiving all responses at this point. Ken stated that the findings will be turned over to Linda Doggett, Information Technology Committee, to see if there any further quality control issues with the data. Linda responded by saying they have not looked at a lot of the data. This falls under the Data Quality Management Work Group. They are waiting on hiring the Program Manager who will deal with data quality issues. This will be good information for that effort. We will report back on this. Ken went on to say that this wok group has a specific purpose. Issues were found when the 10 cases were sent to each county to be checked, but this group will not take corrective action. The data will be turned over to CCIS and the Data Quality Management Work Group to follow up on. Melvin Cox stated that they will continue to work on this and get it going. Ken went on to say that it is very helpful when we are very specific on the type of response/information we are requesting from the Clerks instead of being broad and far reaching in the request.

Draft edits to the request from the department of State (uniform statement to provide to the Supervisors), Jared Brooks

The Department of State initially proposed the following:

To determine if you have completed all the terms of your sentence including parole or as to one or more felony convictions(s), please contact the Florida Department of Corrections and/or the Clerk of Court in the county or counties in which you were convicted. If convicted out of state, you will need to contact the Clerk of Court in the state in which you were convicted.

Jared stated that the language was cleaned up and will be discussed with Kelli Merritt tomorrow.

- Ken - he thought part of the problem was that Clerks are not able to tell someone that they have completed all the terms of the sentence. We can only give information about payment costs, fines and fees, and in some cases, restitution.
- Carolyn Timmann - we no longer have parole, so we may want to fix that. The real issue is everyone debating is what a term is. This just says if you have completed all the terms, but we don't know if they have completed probation. She would like a clarification on this.
- Ken – the DOC will be able to tell them about probation. How can this be reworded?
- Richard – does not think we need to say where they should go for anything, i.e. DOC, county jail, other states. We only need to define what the Clerks can provide. The Department of State can go to the other agencies. They are hoping to get a statement that the Supervisor can use saying what you can expect to get from the Clerks, including orders at the time of sentence, amounts to paid, etc. We need to define the information or documents that the Clerks would have in their possession.
- Karen Rushing – add restitution since it sometimes ordered.
- Jared – they will go back and take another look at this with the information that has been discussed and provided here.
- Ken – include Richard in your meetings or conference calls so that he can provide input.
- Carolyn Timmann– doesn't know why people are not being directed to the FDLE for a criminal history. Include this with the recommendation to DOS.
- Ken – The Department of State came up with this language and asked for our input.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Draft Disclaimers

That language will mirror the prior page saying that the Clerk's office can only provide what they are responsible. The Work Group can work on this and submit revised language by the end of the week.

Draft Advisory on Legal Opinion

This group asked for a legal opinion from Fred concerning several issues related to Amendment 4, which is summarized below:

- Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest? Only if the fine, fee or cost is made a part of the criminal judgment/sentencing order and interest is specifically included in the judgment.
- Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by a Clerk for the collection of fees, fine and court costs? Unless otherwise specifically ordered in the criminal judgment, fees owed to a collection agent that are in addition to, and added to the balance of, the unpaid financial obligations would not be included in the definition of all terms of sentence.
- If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgment/sentencing order? The reduction of amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order to a civil judgment or lien does not eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as provided for in the criminal judgment/sentencing order.

Several Clerks have asked if the new law has any impact on other rights, such as jury service, holding public office, or firearm possession. The restoration of rights only applies to voting rights.

When Richard asked if it was ok to send the advisories out the Clerks, Ken responded that they will work to get these out. These will be very useful to Clerks.

Update on information received form DOC, Richard Herring

Over the last month after the first meeting with DOC and continuing conversations:

- The first 2 digits of the case number were an issue. DOC had a system problem with leading zeros (06 for 2006). They have corrected the problem and provided us with the previous 10-per-couty list with leading zeros fixed.
- They have added the date of birth. They have provided the previous 10-per-county list with DOB added.
- DOC has provided their list of offense descriptions matched to specific statutes and their "code" for each.
- Citrus County identified 3 issues that were identified as internal issues that were discussed at a statewide meeting and will be addressed as a training issue.
- Volusia County raised an issue about contacting DOC concerning individuals on probation since multiple counties may be involved. DOC suggested that questions be referred to the Probation office in the county of sentence.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Release documentation provided to individuals on probation who completed supervision in prior years. DOC provides the offender with a termination letter, but the supervision documentation is destroyed 3 years after the offender terminates supervision. This is to get around some of the records retention history.
- DOC provided a listing of the DC numbers, which is DOC's unique (lifetime) identified for each individual which may have an initial alpha character.

Ken asked what was decided on the form they give each inmate as they leave prison with a summary of information on what they need to do to complete their sentence. There was discussion about that being sent to Clerks as part of the record and e-filed.

- Richard – they are filing a screen shot (financial screen) from CCIS of amounts that need to be paid. That would only relate to that case and not for priors. There is educational material that is easily understandable about what they need to do to get their voting rights back.
- Bill Burgess – just met with DOC Probation. Set up in CMS as well as portal, but DOC was not sure how to file in the portal. They will start doing that on Friday. They have 100-150 to send. He does not know if this is statewide.
- Richard – this is being done by local DOC offices. Some started the first of July, but in other parts of the state they are still struggling with this.
- Carolyn Timmann – if they are sending a screen shot from CCIS on that list of 10 they sent if someone has been convicted on 4 cases, information will only be given on the last case and not the other 3.
- Richard – this is the reason they wanted to talk about a disclaimer for the CCIS financial screen stating that this relates only to the offense you are looking up. There may be other cases. A disclaimer is needed saying this is very granular to this specific case. You may owe money on other cases. What they are getting from the Clerk's office is not all cases
- Richard - page 7 of the packet talks about a CCIS financial disclaimer. The DOC has indicted that if we have edits to what they are providing, they are willing to consider making them.
- Carolyn Timmann suggested giving them suggestions to a disclaimer in their documents they would be receptive to.

Ken emailed to the group what Pinellas County received as an example of what will be given to a released inmate.

- Bill Burgess - on the summary that Ken sent from the DOC shows no court costs or fines owing on this case, but shows State Accounts to be paid. These are DOC fees.
- Ken – on page 3, why does the balance due shows nothing owed?
- Bill Burgess – he sent this question to DOC. They will be getting back to him on that. They gave him 5 examples and he had questions on 4.
- Ken – this is a good example of what CCIS has does not match DOC.
- Richard – he is not sure data will get better so a disclaimer is need on both sides.
- Ken – page 2 and page 3 have different information. Why would current balances be zero on page 2? This is a problem we need to avoid. DOC saying people don't own anything and we say that money is owed. This will be a mess.
- Karen Rushing – this issue came up at FCTC. The point was made that we need to make sure the numbers are accurate.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Ken – we are already seeing discrepancies in the information that is provided by DOC.
- Linda Doggett – looking at what was sent, and it looks like the DOC system does not enter our court fines and fees into their system. Their system balance is zero, but the next page shows a balance due. Perhaps they could remove this from their document, or add an attachment.
- Bill Burges – this was a quick meeting with them. His understanding is that local DOC office is not entering court cost into their database. Only on PTI programs.
- Ken - a lot of conversation needs to happen with them. Being given a document with no court costs and fines and then another document says you owe $1,300 is very confusing. The press will have a heyday with this. Ken asked Richard to meet with DOC on this, and asked Karen Rushing to attend the meeting as well.
- JD Powell – sent an alternative document. This did not contain a cover letter and only appears to contain what DOC maintains.
- Linda Doggett - Clerks can talk with their local DOC about this.

Ken stated that this should be done in a statewide uniform way. There are a lot of issues here. This shows there is a definite problem that needs to be addressed. Ken and Richard will discuss this offline but all agree this needs serious follow up. Ken asked Karen Rushing to be the point person on this, and she agreed. Ken, Karen and Richard will work on this.

Update on Florida Sheriff's Association

What Sheriffs will be giving to inmates in their jails?

Kim Renspie spoke with them to today to see if there was any follow up on the conference and if they talked about this. They did not talk much about Amendment 4. Their main focus has been on hemp. It may have been discussed at the Executive Session, but the person Kim spoke with was not in that session. Kim will check further on this. Some people may not have noticed but the Sheriffs were not on the Work Group. Until they are tasked they want to stay out of this until they are told to do something. Ken stated that Statute tells them to do something. Richard stated that 56/57 Sheriffs will be doing separate policies. They have not taken any action to do anything on a statewide basis. We did share with them the set of documents provided to us regarding the Clerk's role with DOC. They have the documents and they know what DOC has been doing. They are not a top down organization on things like this.

Ken asked what had happened with the Orange County Financial Obligation form, and Richard responded that there had been no final decision on moving forward with it. Ken asked that it be put on the agenda for next week, and he will send out the form to those on the call for their review and input.

Melvin Cox stated that there was no update on the acceptance of payments in a Clerk's office for amounts due another Clerk.

Possible Policy development

A. Public Records Policy of the Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers. The Public Records Policy needs to be formally adopted. This should go to the Executive Committee on Strategic Initiative.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

B FCCC/Clerk Agreement. This 2005 CCIS Participation Agreement between the Clerks & CCIS needs to be updated. It would be a good idea to update with statutory changes to CCIS, or is it still necessary to have this agreement? When asked, Fred Baggett stated that he thinks it needs to be looked at. There are a number of changes affecting the Clerks and all public records areas. We could do more with CCIS with a little bit of tweaking, but it does need to be looked at. Linda Doggett stated that it is now being looked at and changes will be made. Ken asked Linda to bring this to Stacy Butterfield's attention.

Ken asked Richard if follow up was needed on the Volusia document. Is that document going to be shared? Laura Roth stated that there has been discussion on the Court being the payee on court-ordered financial obligations. They have a meeting with the Chief Judge on Thursday to discuss whether this will be formally adopted. She will report back after that meeting. Ken stated that this was for informational purposes only. We will hold off until we find out more on how the advisory opinion requested by the Governor plays a part in this.

Fred stated that he now has a copy of the Advisory Opinion request. In summary, it is very well written. It is a request for an opinion of the Justices of the Supreme Court as to the question of all terms of sentence under Article I, section 4 of the Florida Constitution includes the satisfaction of all legal financial obligations namely fees, fines and restitution ordered by the court as part of a felony sentence that would otherwise render a convicted felon ineligible to vote. It is a strong letter asking the Supreme Court to include fines, fees, costs and restitution as part of the sentence.

Carolyn Timmann stated that going back to the comment about local procedures, she has already met with her Chief Judge and he indicated that every judge will handle this through their normal procedures. Ken stated that our Chief Judge will probably not issue a directive to other judges on how to handle the process.

The meeting was adjourned at 3:05. The next meeting is scheduled for Monday, August 12 at 2:00 p.m.

Doug Chorvat and JD Peacock were appointed by the Governor to the Work Group. They are part of this call as observers. They need to be in a listening capacity or asking questions in compliance with the Sunshine Law. Part of our job is to support Doug and J.D. in their work. Richard Herring will be offering support to them in this effort, and will attend the work group meetings and act as support in responding to questions.

Update on Possible Issues for Request(s) for Legal Opinion(s), Fred Baggett

Fred sent the legal opinion to Ken, who had specific questions. Ken asked that Fred talk about the opinion and address the questions that he had. Fred stated that a series of questions were put to together from a compilation of issues laid out by Richard Herring and Beth Allman regarding how Amendment 4 impacts the Clerks. There are 3 issues discussed in the opinion.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest?

If the fines, fees or costs are made part of the criminal judgment/sentencing order and interest is included in that judgment, they do believe that 938.30 provides that payment of interest is required in order to complete the sentence. The law is clear that things imposed on a felon create an obligation, but anything imposed after the sentence is handed down are not part of the sentence. Payment of interest may be made part of the sentence. Ken asked Fred if he was aware of any sentence dealing with interest on restitution. Fred responded that 775.089 addresses restitution and interest. After discussion regarding accrued interest, Ken asked Carolyn Timmann to send him examples of documents with interest accrued and satisfactions where interest did not accrue. Karen Rushing asked Fred if the DOC document does not refer to interest but there is a Civil judgement, what is required. Fred responded that the judgment is Civil in nature. There is a distinction between a criminal sentence and a judgment. The judgment does not reduce the penalty in the sense of elimination. It takes the penalty in the criminal sentence and makes it a Civil debt. A recorded judgment is not the debt. It is security of payment of the debt, like a mortgage and note. You don't' satisfy the mortgage, you satisfy the underlying debt which creates a satisfaction of the mortgage. If the sentence and judgment are done at the same time and converted to a Civil lien, you still have a sentence with obligation. The Civil lien is nothing more than security of payment of the Criminal debt. Ken asked that examples be sent to Fred who will report next week on whether interest accrues or not.

Matt White asked to be included in Fred's emails.

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by the Clerk for the collection of fees, fines and court costs?

The simple answer is no if there is nothing in the sentencing order related to the payment of collection fees.

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgement/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgement/sentencing order?

The answer to this is no. Unless included in the criminal judgment, a civil judgement or lien is security for the payment of the criminal debt. No case law has been found that would support a civil judgment that is issued separate and apart form a sentence would be construed as being part of the sentence.

Fred then addressed Ken's questions:

Page 2, Item 5d – for the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e, and notwithstanding any other statue, rule or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution. The court may modify the fines and fees and other conditions of the sentence, but further down in the same section under E2, it says upon a payee's approval either through appearance in open court or through the production of a notarized consent by the payee, the termination by the court of any financial obligation to payee, including but not limited to, a victim, or the court. This is how a challenge of the sentence can be effectuated. He reads it to say the judge can modify the sentence or even eliminate it if the payee consents to it. The payee is the recipient of restitution or the Clerk. Reading those two together, the work group will have to address it as it is currently written that if the payee of the fines, fees and costs would have to consent in court or by notarized consent to agree to the judge's action.

Comments/Questions for Fred:

- Angela Vick - A large portion of the fine goes to the state. Is this just for the Clerks or for the state as well? Fred responded that the Clerk is the payee, but distributes.
- Matt White - D talks about the defendant being able to file a motion with the court to modify financial obligations. Criminal procedure talks about modifying sentences, but there is a time limit of 60 days. Does D remove that 60 day time limit? What if it is restitution? Judgments for cost of supervision, etc. are paid to the Clerk but are going to another agency (State Attorney, DOC, etc.), so would those agencies be signing off on those items. The money comes to the Clerk but we are just passing it along.
- Ken - this section gives the Clerk the right to agree to the reduction. That could be our reason when the press contacts us that it is because of the underlying distribution. We are not agreeing to reduction.
- Fred – the fidicuary responsibility is with the Clerk. The responsibility comes from Statute. This is all fodder for the work group. They will have to figure this out.
- Ken – the Clerk would only be involved if the felon petitions the court to lower fines. Should we give some guidelines to Clerks now in order to prevent issues and let them know the consequences of the actions?
- Laura Roth - they have a very different interpretation in Volusia County. At a recent meeting with the Clerk's office and other state agencies, it was agreed that the Court is the payee for the Court-ordered financial obligations. As the payee, the court may terminate any ordered fines, fees and costs. All of the agencies at the meeting agreed to this, but the Chief Judge has not given his approval. A meeting is scheduled with the Chief Judge on August 15. None of the agencies asked that they receive notification of changes. Fred stated that this is a good way around the issue and does not think anyone would be criticized for that.
- Ken - should the Clerks come up with qualifying language for this section of the bill to provide more clarity and if this should be given to the Task Force. The Task Force has 85 days to do this work and give its report to the Legislature, although it has not convened yet. They may welcome our feedback. Fred responded that an Interim Best Practice could be provided to the Task Force with an explanation of the issues, a statement that the reading of the Statute does not work, and that we are advising the Clerks to follow a procedure, i.e. Volusia County's procedure until such time as other action is taken. Clerks need some guidance on this right now.

Ken asked if there were comments or concerns with the Volusia County procedures:

- Karen Rushing stated that in Sarasota they have a different take on this. There is a donor who is interested in paying the fines of people through a foundation. She does not have a problem with Volusia's procedure, but thinks a Best Practice is needed, but the Best Practice should not prohibit other options.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ACTION ITEM: Let Clerks know we are going to enter an objection as a Best Practice. Ken will work with Fred for statewide implementation for Volusia's method.

Page 2, Item 5e (III) – who will monitor community service if a judge converts the amount owed to community service? Is there a fee for this responsibility? What happens if community service is not fulfilled?

- Fred - the law makes no reference to who would monitor it. There is no suggestion that the Clerk should monitor it. This will be an open question for the Task Force to consider in their recommendations. It is difficult to monitor community service. The completion rate is terrible with less than 40 percent of people completing the community service. There is a standard hourly rate for community service, but the judges often deviate from the standard rate. People think community service sounds good, but then change their minds. This should be a unified mandate.
- Carolyn Timmann - the judges there rarely order community service. It is not very successful. Many defendants don't want it. She does not see this as a mandate because it is so low. This could be a procedure that could be monitored through the Trail Court Administrator.
- Laura Roth - they did discuss this at the round table meeting they had. They also looked at the issues of people with orders terminating financial obligations but still have community service that has not been completed. When can they register to vote? What does it look like to get proof? If they never complete the community service, does someone have to notify the Supervisor of Elections?
- Karen Rushing - they do not do community service very often.
- Ken – this just shows how different the circuits are. There are many issues with community service, and what happens if they don't complete it.
- Carolyn Timmann – the bill does say that if it is converted to community service, they do have to complete the community service. There was not a lot of thought about the mechanism of how the notification comes forward.
- This will be a real tracking nightmare for the Supervisor of Elections.
- This will fill of lot of the session at the Fall Conference – these legal points.

ACTION ITEM: Ken will work on a communication on this point for the other Clerks. He will send out Fred's document.

Negotiating fees/fines/costs converted to civil judgments

Jared Brooks, Orange County, and Kelli Merritt, Martin County, are co-chairing this group. Jared has invited legal counsels from other Clerk's offices, and Kelli has invited operations staff to come up with Best Practices. A September 20 deadline was established for the final product.

Preliminary results of Clerk Review of CCIS and CMS for 10 Cases per County

Richard stated there are various issues with records between CMS and CCIS. They are still getting responses in and hope to get more. When they get the list in final form, it will be a good idea for everyone to take a look at. In some counties, everything matched perfectly, but many have issues.

Melvin Cox stated that there is a great CCIS data team at the office. The Data Quality Work Group is dealing with data quality issues and standards to correct the issues. The challenge will be to categorize the issues. Most issues can be corrected by going back and looking at how CMS sends to CCIS. Usually something was missing or incomplete. This is going to be an ongoing process that CCIS will support as new data is being introduced. They had advertised for a new CCIS Program Manager, which is a new position that was approved by the board. They are now interviewing for this position who will work on and manage this project going forward. Ken asked Melvin to send him the names of the Data Quality Work Group and the names of the FCCC staff to include on CCIS issues.

Carolyn Timmann – going back to Doug and JD on the phone. The only concern is that she is under subpoena for the civil case and she thinks they are looking to try and say that Clerks records have all sorts of problems. Her concern is the volume of emails going out that identify problems. Please don't send them to Carolyn, JD or Doug. Phone calls are great. Try to say this without saying too much.

Consider Advisory or Best Practice relating to Acceptance of payments in a Clerk's office for amounts due another Clerk

Tiffany Moore Russell was asked to spearhead the effort to establish a Best Practice on how to handle a person coming into our offices asking if they owe money even if the felony did not occur in our county and can we then assist them with making the payment and making sure the payment get to the appropriate county.

Melvin looked at the current payment options. The traditional method of going to the courthouse to make the payment does not allow for out of county payments. Cash, check, credit/debit card payments are accepted and are receipted directly into the local CMS. The deputy clerk is able to offer assistance with case and citation numbers, payment plan information, past due info, combining cases/payments, etc. The goal is to mimic this same standard of service for people wanting to make payments outside of our county. Most clerks have remote websites that can be used for people to make payments over the web with the website usually having access to the local CMS. However, there is limited lookup capability and websites do not accept cash or check. Some Clerks have contracted with financial institutions to accept cash payments on behalf of the Clerk, however the payments may be limited. Other payment methods include kiosks and telephone IVR payments.

Options to accepting payments for cases in other counties include:

- Directing the payer to the Clerk's' website where their case is located. A link like www.payFLclerk could be used to help in finding the proper place to make the payment. The advantage of this is using existing technology that is already set up and would require no additional integration with local CMS. However, there are cons to this. This will not satisfy all types of payments as it won't take cash or check, although Clerks can partner with AmScot or Wells Fargo. Deputy Clerks will be required to have additional training and will need to become familiar with other Clerk's websites.
- Partner with financial institutions on a state-wide basis. This option would utilize existing processes, has a potential for many easy to access locations and would offer a potential for standard integration. However, only cash payments could be accepted with no way to deal with customer service issues.
- They could develop a statewide electronic payment system integrated into all CMS systems, which would look like an e-filing portal for payments. The payer would go to the site and pay on any case. This would be a build out of a lot of the existing interfaces. There would be a cost for the time to build this system and there may be a conflict with existing provider contracts that some Clerks already have in place. This program would need to be supported with a statewide 24-7 call center so that the payer could opt to a live person if automation failed. They would be trained in how to look up payments statewide, and would be able to take payments over the phone. This could be a consideration for the future.

Any suggestions should be sent to Melvin until the new manager comes on board who will be the key of contact for CCIS issues.

Ken stated that this committee has a limited purview so that would have to through the Legislative Committee for best use of resources. Ken loves the idea of someone going into any Clerk's office and paying a fine for any office. We need a workable solution to present to the Legislature where people can pay for their entire sentence through a statewide system. Melvin stated this could go through Civitek which has an existing bank account to take payments from every Clerk in the state. Melvin suggested this be discussed at the Technology Committee meeting coming up shortly. Ken agreed saying the reason we are doing this needs to be discussed. This is a public policy issue.

Richard stated that the remaining issues on the agenda would be discussed at next week's meeting.

Any additional comments/concerns:

- Karen Rushing - we want to make sure the database is correct. We don't want people coming back saying we did it wrong. We don't want to take payments that are not accurate.
- Richard - most issues were minor or local, but because of the number of issues they do need to be looked at.
- Cathy Davis agrees with Karen. She did a search this morning looking up a felon for other cases in other counties. The name was listed several different ways – first name, middle initial, middle name. The challenge is if you know the case number errors are limited, but if you don't know the case number this could lead to problems.
- Ken stated that we need make sure the data is correct and easy to access.
- Laura Roth – no other comments.

With no other questions or comments, the meeting was adjourned at 3:37. The next call will take place on Monday, August 12, at 2:00 p.m.

Draft Advisory on Legal Opinion

FCCCC has requested and received a legal opinion from our Counsel concerning several issues related to restoration of voting rights, both the constitutional and statutory language. Specifically, these issues address several of the financial aspects of the law. The full legal opinion is attached.

In brief, without the associated legal reasoning and caveats included in the legal opinion, a summary is:

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest? Only if the fine, fee, or cost is made a part of the criminal judgment/ sentencing order and interest is specifically included in the judgment.

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by a clerk for the collection of fees, fines and court costs? Unless otherwise specifically ordered in the criminal judgment, fees owed to a collection agent that are in addition to, and added to the balance of, the unpaid financial obligations would not be included in the definition of "completion of all terms of sentence."

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgment/sentencing order? The reduction of amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order to a civil judgment or lien does not eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as provided for in the criminal judgment/sentencing order.

DRAFT ADVISORY

Restoration of Voting Rights – Effect on Other Rights

Several Clerks have received questions about the new law on restoration of voting rights and its impact on other rights, such as jury service, holding public office, or firearm possession.

The new law, Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida, (CS/SB 7066 from the 2019 legislative session) distinguishes between restoration of civil rights pursuant to s. 8, Art. IV of the State Constitution and voting rights restoration pursuant to s. 4., Art. VI of the State Constitution. Section 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution and the recent amendments to Chapter 98, Florida Statutes, provide the requirements for restoration of voting rights only. Meeting those requirements does not restore other rights.

Persons seeking information on restoration of civil rights generally may be referred to the Florida Commission on Offender Review. The Commission's Office of Executive Clemency has rules, forms, and processes for persons seeking restoration of civil rights, pardon, firearm authority, and other forms of clemency. See: https://www.fcor.state.fl.us/restoration.shtml

Specific to the right to vote, the Office of Executive Clemency website says:

> Regarding the Restoration of Civil Rights (RCR) process and the passage of Amendment Four:
> For those offenders covered by the amendment, only the right to vote, not the right to sit on a jury or the right to hold public office, is contemplated by the amendment. Restoration of the right to sit on a jury and to hold public office can only be obtained through application to the Board of Executive Clemency.
> As to those offenders not covered by the amendment, namely those convicted of murder or a felony sexual offense or those who have not completed all terms of their sentence, the restoration of the right to vote, to sit on a jury, and to hold public office can only be obtained through application to the Board of Executive Clemency.

Dear Mr. Peacock,

During the 2019 Legislative Session, the Florida Legislature created the Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group to be chaired by the Secretary of State (see section 33 of chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida as attached). On August 2, 2019, Governor Ron DeSantis appointed you as one of the members of the work group.

VI of the State Constitution, including developing recommendations as to:

- The consolidation of data necessary to verify the eligibility of a registered voter for restoration of voting rights. If any entity is recommended to manage the consolidated relevant data, the recommendations must provide the feasibility of such entity to do so and a timeline for implementation.
- The process for informing a registered voter of the entity or entities that are custodians of the relevant data necessary for verifying his or her eligibility for restoration of voting rights.
- Any other relevant policies or procedures for verifying the eligibility of a registered voter for restoration of voting rights.

The work group must submit a report to the Legislature by November 1, 2019 that includes the work group's findings, conclusions and recommendations. Upon submission of the report, the work group is discharged from further duties.

4. Working Draft – Advisory on Providing Financial Information

Restoration of Voting Rights
Providing Individuals with Information on Financial Obligations

SUMMARY:

This Advisory provides a model that Clerks may wish to use when responding to requests from individuals who are seeking to have their voting rights restored and who need current information on their financial obligations ordered by the sentencing court.

The attached form provides a simple format for providing information to individuals about the financial obligations ordered in their most-recent, and any prior, felonies.

This form can be used by a Clerk to list all the financial obligations from all prior felonies anywhere in the State of Florida based on available CCIS data. It is anticipated that the most complete statewide data would include:

- OTHER COUNTS. The requesting individual may have been sentenced on several counts stemming from one episode. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those counts.
- PRIOR FELONIES. The requesting individual may have had prior felonies. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those prior felonies.
- OTHER COUNTIES. The requesting individual may have been sentenced for prior felonies in other counties and have financial obligations stemming from those other felony sentences. The CCIS assessments and payments can be furnished for cases filed in other counties, however, the requesting individual will need to contact that clerk's office to obtain voting rights restoration financial information.
- COURT MODIFICATIONS. The sentencing Court(s) may have entered subsequent orders, after initial sentencing, which modified the individual's financial obligations (e.g., converting certain obligations to community service).

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS:

The law (set out below) appears to require the completion of all terms of sentence from all prior felonies. Clerks may want to remind requesting individuals to consider:

- DIRECT PAYMENTS. The requesting individual may have met certain financial obligations (e.g., direct payment of restitution to a victim) without the Clerk having any record of that action.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- OTHER STATES. If the requesting individual has felony convictions by a Court in another state or by a federal Court that prevent the requesting individual from registering, the Clerk will not have any records related to those cases.
- DISQUALIFYING FELONIES. The requesting individual will not qualify for restoration of voting rights, regardless of meeting financial obligations, if a prior felony sentence was for murder or a felony sexual offense, as defined in section 98.0751(2)(b), Florida Statutes.

BACKGROUND:

Section 98.0751, Florida Statutes, was created effective July 1, 2019, by CS/SB 7066 – Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida. A persons who has been disqualified from voting based on a felony conviction for an offense other than murder or a felony sexual offense, may become qualified by completing all terms of sentence.

Included within "all terms of sentence" is the payment of restitution to victims plus fines and fees ordered by the court. The statutory requirement, with all its qualifications, is set out below.

> 98.0751 Restoration of voting rights; termination of ineligibility subsequent to a felony conviction.—
> (2) For purposes of this section, the term:
>
> (a) "Completion of all terms of sentence" means any portion of a sentence that is contained in the four corners of the sentencing document, including, but not limited to:
> 5.a. Full payment of restitution ordered to a victim by the court as a part of the sentence. A victim includes, but is not limited to, a person or persons, the estate or estates thereof, an entity, the state, or the Federal Government.
> b. Full payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence or that are ordered by the court as a condition of any form of supervision, including, but not limited to, probation, community control, or parole.
> c. The financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. include only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence.
> d. For the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e. and notwithstanding any other statute, rule, or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or a victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution.

e. Financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. are considered completed in the following manner or in any combination thereof:

(I) Actual payment of the obligation in full.

(II) Upon the payee's approval, either through appearance in open court or through the production of a notarized consent by the payee, the termination by the court of any financial obligation to a payee, including, but not limited to, a victim, or the court.

(III) Completion of all community service hours, if the court, unless otherwise prohibited by law or the State Constitution, converts the financial obligation to community service.

A term required to be completed in accordance with this paragraph shall be deemed completed if the court modifies the original sentencing order to no longer require completion of such term. The requirement to pay any financial obligation specified in this paragraph is not deemed completed upon conversion to a civil lien.

7. A. Summary of Division of Elections presentation on sources of information about potentially ineligible voters

Following is a summary of the relevant portion of the presentation made by the Division director to the DOS Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group at its first meeting on August 19, 2019. This was a brief presentation, so little information was given other than the listing of sources below.

The Department of State is designated as the primary agency to identify ineligible voters based on information received from state agencies or other credible and reliable sources.

Department of State, Division of Elections, receives information from:

Clerks of Court
Individuals convicted of felonies
Individual adjudicated mentally incapacitated
Monthly jury lists – paper process – individuals excused because adjudicated mentally incapacitated, convicted of a felony, no longer live in the county
DOS consults re CCIS data and Clerk CMS
DOS requests specific Clerk records

Monthly information about Florida registered sex offenders

Department of Corrections

Florida Voter Registration System – voter records

Commission on Offender Review
Individual has had civil rights restored

U.S. Attorneys
re other states and federal courts – intermittent (daily, weekly monthly) – manual submissions by fax or mail, all paper

Federal Court database – PACER

Sources above, generally, concerning completion of sentence.

Also, Supervisors of Elections may receive some information directly – typically from the Clerk of Court. Supervisors perform "county-initiated felony matches."

DOS build a file for the individual with the (typically 4-20) pieces of relevant information and makes available to Supervisors by posting on a website. DOS monitors the website to ensure Supervisors are downloading the files. Supervisors then follow the due process requirements of s. 98.075(7), F.S.

Such files typically contain:

- DOS Case File Review Certificate
- Screenshot Bureau of Voter Registration Services (BVRS) Workflow Application Interface with voter and felon information
- Screenshot Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles' Driver License database
- Screenshot Comprehensive Case Management System (CCIS) (Including Financial Summary if available and required)

7.B. Division of Elections response to our request for specifics about data from Clerks

Division of Elections

The following is a compilation of notable highlights and challenges the Division has encountered over the years in obtaining court records in support of a voter record/felony record match that indicates a registered voter may be ineligible to be registered due to an adjudication of felony conviction without the right to vote restored.

Clerk of Court Records - Highlights:

Counties

- Overall, the counties have been very helpful. For the volume of request, they are for the most part responsive and handle them very efficiently. Most are also very good at helping us figure out the 'nonsense' case numbers we frequently receive from FDLE (e.g., Orange, Duval, and Monroe).
- We are not without error so all of the counties deserve praise for resending us court documents that have been requested in the past but misplaced by our office.
- While Duval often does not provide the judgment, they alternatively type up a summary sheet of the judgment, particularly for older cases. This mitigates misplaced or unattended requests.
- St. Lucie is an example of a county that appears to use CCIS as fully intended - with the full case file scanned, as this is an already established, password-protected way for other government agencies to view court documents. They are very quick with communication and returns on requests that are not yet scanned into CCIS. If we have a problem downloading the entire file, they break it up into manageable parts without hesitation.
- Communications with clerk of court is very important. Gadsden deserves praise for working with us to tell us that it is easier for them to receive all requests at the end of the day to process the following day. This is workable for us due to the small size of the county and ensures organization and timeliness at the clerk's office.
- Okaloosa county is very good about providing certified copies of court minutes when an actual judgment is not available.
- People and counties that stand out to us as being excellent contacts over the years
    - Brevard – Wendy Kiersted and Sandra Scheerhorn
    - Broward – Doris Pava-Ruiz
    - Charlotte – Cindee Sierant
    - Clay – Michelle Thrasher and Lisa Sanchez
    - Collier – Lorraine Stoll
    - Duval – Natayla Anderson
    - Gadsden – Perla Palomo and Kathy Young

Clerk of Court Records - Challenges

Counties in General

- Several counties have returned “file not found” or “N/A” as responses to our requests. This is different from a return of “met retention” or “destroyed” that we get with some older MM cases. We heard anecdotally from one county (Brevard) that misplaced older cases can occur if the file has been pulled several times and not placed in proper order. For example, they may scan the file barcode then scan the barcode for its location in the warehouse and sometimes the person putting it back doesn’t do this correctly for the computer to have an accurate record of the current location. This may represent an issue with following procedures for archiving.
- Several counties, including Sarasota and Duval, will not provide a statement when documents, such as arrest reports, are not available. This makes it difficult to prove insufficient documentation, especially with older cases.
- Many counties do not send all documents requested and include no response addressing the missing items. We have to reach out again for clarification as to whether they exist at all or did someone just forget to include them.
- The requesting process on the public sites for most counties since the Supreme Court order seem like overkill for another government agency’s requests. They made documents more widely accessible to the public, but we seem to have less direct access than before. Even if they are available online, we have to wait for redaction or they are difficult to locate because the images are not labeled in a way that makes them easily identifiable; they have image numbers rather than document titles, like arrest report or judgment. Many of these counties (Lee, Leon, Okaloosa, Orange, etc.) have had to create alternate ways to get the information we need to us because our requests do not fit neatly into the access matrix.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

As recently as March, Escambia has stated that they cannot grant us access to the information we need because of the matrix.

County-specific

- Bay and Jefferson
  - Counties have had issues with providing archived documents due to storm damage.
- Broward County
  - Longest wait for requested documents historically occurs with Broward County Clerk of Court Archives. Previously, all requests went to one staff but have since expanded we believe to include two other trainees. Requests for archived documents typically take 3-4 days unless sent by mail.
- Miami-Dade
  - Frequently returns the statement that the case documents are held with the Miami-Dade Police Department, not the Clerk of Court. We do not have an established relationship nor are comfortable reaching out to the police department.
  - Protracted responses which we attribute to large county, many document requests, and staffing shortage (which they have stated). The office tries to expedite responses by grouping requests in batch responses with case sheets in lieu of actual judgments. We have not seen marked difference in turnaround time.
  - We observe many more errors with felony division records (e.g., wrong case, wrong defendant, missing a requested page, etc.) than with other counties, but then again they also process a larger number of requests. Assigned staff rotates frequently which makes it difficult to circle back to the same person about the errors. Communications however have improved. Miami-Dade misdemeanor section has always been great with communication and turnaround time.
- Palm Beach
  - The clerk of court office can only provide us with docket printouts when we request older misdemeanor cases since they destroy the documents after a set retention period. However, there is no written mention of this included with the printout for us to include in the case file as proof.
  - The office responds back in large batches rather than once the request is completed. While we understand the efficiencies for the clerk, it can delay being able to move forward with a potentially invalid registered voter file.
- Pasco
  - The clerk of court office has roughly 10 different contacts that our requests need to be sent to, though they usually complete the order the same day. We recommend that a general email inbox be set up to funnel requests or set up a contact group for them in our email. The latter may necessitate keeping the email distribution list current with office staff changes.

- Sarasota
  - The clerk of court office has switched to faxed requests after several emails were misplaced and only the cover sheets were printed out. I had to resend several requests by fax that were already emailed to them.

- Seminole
  - The clerk of court intake division asks that requested be faxed but we have encountered an issue with these faxes being misplaced, taken by other workers, or sitting in inboxes for far too long. Worked with Sheila McCloud and the issue got better.

8. Draft Advisory – Compile Requests Received from DOC

The Amendment 4 Quick Response Team (QRT) has received copies of several requests made to individual Clerks by local Department of Corrections (DOC) offices related to restoration of voting rights. Those requests typically seek information on financial obligations for particular individuals under DOC custody or supervision. Sometimes they involve financial obligation data that does not appear to match between DOC records and the Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS).

The Amendment 4 QRT has found that once the DOC request is investigated, a clear correct answer is always available. A common theme appears to be that the two different data systems are asked slightly different questions, thus providing different answers.

The Amendment 4 QRT has established an email account, DOCRequests@FLClerks.com, to accumulate such requests from DOC. The Amendment 4 QRT ask that each Clerk's office forward individual requests received from local DOC offices, along with the Clerk's response, to DOCRequests@FLClerks.com. This will give the Amendment 4 QRT the opportunity to look for additional patterns and trends. As the patterns or trends arise, the Amendment 4 QRT will address issues with DOC or develop Best Practices for Clerks through the FCCC Best Practices Committee.

If additional clarification is needed or if there are questions, please contact Kimberly Renspie, FCCC Legislative Manager (krenspie@gmail.com).

11.A. Citrus County – County Detention Facility

This is a summary of the steps taken in Citrus County related to Amendment 4 to ensure cooperation and partnership with local stakeholders as processes continue to develop and be implemented across the state.

Amendment 4- Restoration of Voters Rights

As with any new legislation, we analyze the impact to our office for further communication to stakeholders as well as internal set up or changes to the Clerk's current processes. FCCC sent an advisory (No. 19-052) on July 1st regarding SB7066 being signed by the Governor. This advisory defined the requirements for DOC pursuant to F.S. 940.061.

The bill directs both DOC and the administrator of the county detention facility to provide information to the prisoner upon release. We took the following steps to ensure compliance since our county facility is run by a private company.

1) At our semi-annual stakeholder meeting we provided a list of bills of interest that may impact our office as well as others. The jail is represented at this meeting.
2) We contacted County Administration, since their office oversees the contract with the jail, to be sure they were aware of the new law, specifically section 32 of F.S. 951.29 and to communicate information to Warden for implementation.
3) We pulled statistics from our CMS for the prior year to determine the number of felony cases that were sentenced to county jail for potential impact.
4) Upon further discussion with County Administration, we coordinated a meeting with jail administration, local probation and the clerk's office to discuss requirements.
5) We have been working with Jail records staff to file documents thru the e-portal and offered information on the process taken by DOC to file these documents to the clerk's thru the portal. We provided a sample of the DOC document as well as our clerk contact information sheet to assist them in compiling their release document.
6) We also requested to place contact information for future payments to the clerk in these documents.

Louisiana voting rights change not causing surge in signups
Associated Press Published 3:21 p.m. CT Sept. 1, 2019 | Updated 3:21 p.m. CT Sept. 1, 2019

BATON ROUGE — A Louisiana law change earlier this year restored voting rights to thousands of convicted felons, but at most, only a few hundred have registered to vote so far.

Data from the secretary of state's office shows modest upticks in the number of felons who have registered to vote since the law loosened March 1.

Louisiana legislators agreed to allow people on probation or parole for a felony to register to vote if they haven't been incarcerated for at least five years, a change estimated to make 36,000 felons eligible for voter registration.

But since the law took effect, 581 felons have had their voting rights restored. The secretary of state's office has said it cannot determine which were able to register specifically because of the law change.

The data shows 82 felons had their voting rights reinstated in February before the voting rights restoration took effect. By comparison, the number was 77 in March and 88 in April. The secretary of state numbers show 179 felons had their voting rights reinstated in May, followed by 99 in June and 138 in July.

Some supporters of the voting rights restoration have said officials are doing too little to reach out to the potential voters and the multistep registration process is too complicated.

What's the latest on felons' voting rights?

Apalachicola Times

By Marcia Johnson Special to the Times

Posted September 5, 2019, at 1:07 PM Updated at 1:07 PM

A. After passage of Amendment 4, our legislature created Florida Statute 98.0751 to specifically address the amendment's implementation for felons having their voting rights restored. This law says a person must have their voting rights restored upon the completion of all terms of his or her sentence. The wording, "completion of all terms of sentence" was defined as any portion of a sentence contained in the "four corners of the sentencing document." This would include full payment of court-ordered restitution, and fines and fees that are part of the sentence, regardless of whether these have been converted to a civil lien. The legislature has passed laws that require judges to impose mandatory fines, fees, and service charges. When judges waive any of these monies, clerks of court are required to report the same to the Legislature.

Under F.S. 98.0751, completion of all terms of sentence within the four corners of the sentencing document also includes release from any term of imprisonment, termination from any term of probation or community control, and termination from any supervision.

The new law requires the department of state to make an initial determination of a voter registrant's eligibility and to forward the information to the local supervisor of elections. The department of state will compare information from the clerks of court, the board of executive clemency, the Florida Department of Corrections, and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement or U.S. Attorney's office. The local supervisor of elections shall verify and make a final determination of eligibility. This law also requires the department of corrections and county jail facility administrators to notify inmates, prisoners, and offenders of all outstanding terms of sentence at the time of release or termination of a term of supervision. The department of corrections is working with the clerks of court, and each will provide the information within the office's possession.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is a complicated matter, and many different agencies are involved in determining whether all terms of a sentence have been completed. Clerks of court can look at cases and see if there are outstanding fines and fees, but determining whether restitution is owed is another issue because clerks of court aren't always responsible for collecting restitution payments. It's not unusual for restitution payments to be a condition of probation. Clerks of court can look in cases to see if a termination of probation has been filed, but clerks of court do not have records to show when inmates have completed their prison or jail sentences, and clerks of court don't have records of inmates released on supervision and whether or not those conditions have been completed. There are questions about how the process will work. Information regarding various parts of a criminal sentence can be complex, as information about fines, incarceration, restitution payments, and probation and supervision, are housed with different agencies and in different databases. Clerks of court have access to some data, but even that data won't tell the whole story for each individual.

In accordance with CS/SB 7066, Gov. Ron DeSantis announced the appointment of members to the state's Voting Rights Task Force. The task force was a requirement within the language of the new law for the purpose of conducting a comprehensive review of the department of state's process of verifying registered voters who have been convicted of a felony but may be eligible for voting rights restoration. The task force, which includes two clerks of court, must submit a report to the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House of Representatives by Nov. 1.

As an elected clerk of court, I will follow the law. From my experience working in the clerk's office for over 40 years, I know that fines, fees, service charges, and restitution are ordered in court and are a part of the sentence. Clerks of court have court budgets approved based in part on a reliance of revenues generated from fines and fees, and we are responsible for collecting them. Clerks of court, by law, shall accept partial payments, and I do so willingly and work with our defendants to decide payments that correspond to the person's ability to pay. If a felon wants rights to vote restored and still owes fines and fees, a partial payment agreement can be set up and once paid in full, voting registration could be sought.

At this point, it is my understanding completion of a sentence is defined by all conditions imposed by the sentencing judge being met, which includes payment of all monies, any incarceration in jail or prison, and successful termination of probation and supervision, which may include terms of restitution.

Each case may be different, and clerks of court likely do not have all the information because of the various agencies involved. Clerks of court are closely monitoring this issue and working with our partners to ensure the appropriate response to the directions from the task force.

Prior Releases, Melissa Geist for Tiffany Moore Russell

They will have a draft document to review on a process to handle those who have been released prior to the bill becoming effective.

From the agenda, we will look at the items involving Fred Baggett

I. FCCC Process for approving requests for legal opinions
J. Possible issues for legal opinion

Richard reported that after the initial meeting with DOC, he met with Fred and discussed which items we could, and should, get a legal opinion on, how do we ask the right questions, what we should not ask, what we should not get anything in writing on, and which are Best Practices that we need a policy on. Fred stated they have gone through the items and broken out what they discussed were the core legal issues and tried to prioritize for timing and put together into a combined opinion on issues that are similar and related. Ken expressed an interest in questions regarding whether we consider interest and costs as conditions of the sentence to be fulfilled. The initial opinion is that interest is not a condition of the sentence. It may be elsewhere, but not as a condition of sentence. Fred stated that this is an issue that can be looked at. Starting from there and going through other issues, they have found a lot of things that the Clerks might want to do to help the process but are not required to do. They hope to have answers to the priority questions as soon as possible. Ken stated that part of this is the legal responsibility, but the other part is the public relations and political angle of how we handle things. From the public relations and good services angle, helping to ensure the information DOC and the Clerks gives to people is correct is important, so we need to let the DOC know what the correct numbers are. The goal is to be as fair as possible to citizens without incurring additional cost. Another issue is people not going back to the county where they committed the felony but going to another Clerk's office asking for information on what they owe. We don't want to have to tell a person to go back to the county where the crime was committed.

Carolyn stated that one of the concerns and challenges from the public relations and good public service angle is looking at the data from the DOC for differences to make sure it is correct and quality data. People will be coming to our offices thinking we are wrong and place the fault with us. We need to work with the DOC on the front end, looking at the data and looking for a way to fix the data that is not correct. It is important that we get in front of this, and where we can demonstrate collaboration the better off we will be. If we do nothing, Clerks will come out with a black eye. The data that has been submitted is fairly good so far. The Martin County data does match. They had the OR discrepancy fixed, so it is all good now. Angela asked if the data sets on the 10 cases would be provided, and Ken replied we would be asking the remainder of the Clerks to do the same.

Ken stated that some Clerks are under the impression when you convert a fine to a Civil lien it is not sent to collections. We need a legal opinion on this. Fred indicated that the initial finding is that this does not eliminate the debt, but further research is being done on this.

Another area that is a priority is public access to CCIS. Fred and Richard discussed how this question would be asked. CCIS maintains no records, it maintains data from the Clerks. It has access to records but does not maintain them so it is not the depository of court records. Richard and Fred will go over this subject to determine what the question should be as this is something that we have to be careful about. Ken asked anyone on the call with an opinion on this matter to call Fred and Richard directly.

Kathy stated that part of the bill addressed the local county detention facilities, asking if we will be taking that as well. Ken stated that we are working with DOC on this. Bill Burgess followed up with Pinellas County Records Management, and they were not familiar with this and had no plan in place for this. Matt Whyte shared that the General Counsel for the Sheriff in Manatee has already created a form.

There was discussion on the sentencing documents and whether incarceration fees are included. As more information and clarification is needed on this topic this will need to be addressed as part of the legal opinion.

When asked about the work group that is to be appointed, Fred stated that they have not heard anything yet. Carolyn went on to say that it is not on the appointments website yet.

Richard stated that the responses they have gotten back on the 10 cases per county have shown some issues between the CCIS and CMS data. To address the concern of whether the data is correct, it is important to point out that the data only relates to a particular case and that money may be owed on any additional cases.

- Kathy Davis, Citrus – With their system when you look at CCIS, you are basically looking at the data from your CMS. Everything did match since she was looking at their CMS data in CCIS.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Bill Burgess, Pinellas – They are still looking at the problems they had with restitution data.
- Matt Whyte, Manatee – CCIS is pulling their data so it should be the same, but they did have one case where there were number discrepancies between CMS and CCIS. They have not been able to see what that happened.

When asked if we were ready to move forward asking the additional counties to complete the survey, Ken responded by saying that we need to let them know how important it is to complete the survey, and how long it takes. There is nothing that can be done about Clerks who do not complete the survey. Richard will prepare an email to go out from Stacy Butterfield and Ken asking Clerks to complete the survey.

From the Agenda, Richard reported on the following items:

Results of 7/12 meeting with DOC.

This was a great opportunity to build rapport. A wide range of issues were discussed, and DOC did agree to provide us with:

- Explanation of case numbers, and issues with the case numbers.
- Possibility of providing DOB for each individual to the Clerks.
- Provide a list of DOC offense codes
- Possibility of identifying releases with prior DOC supervision for other offenses. There was push back on this due to the frequent changes to the lists and liability associated with providing the list. However, if Clerks really need this, they will work with us on it.
- Willing to consider adding a qualifier in the documents they file that the documents relate only to the current sentence and that terms of prior sentences would also have to be completed.
- Willing to participate in our Fall Conference A4 QRT session if required.

DOC raised two issues for Clerks:

- There are having some difficulty filing in Miami-Dade County.
    - Melvin will be on the calls starting next week. He will work on this issue with DOC.
- DOC-Sheriff-Clerk pilot for paperless sentencing orders. Kimberly mentioned that the DOC originally requested 14 counties to be part of the pilot (counties that deliver directly to Reception Medical Center, Lake Butler). Currently 6 counties are participating. Carolyn asked Kimberly to send out more information on this as to which offices agreed to be part of the pilot and which have not participated. Ken stated that this could be a breakdown in communication. Angela stated that the Citrus Clerk's office is willing to participate.

All on the call agreed to keep sharing ideas and talking about problems and concerns. There was concern about errors in the documents. Examples of errors that are found by Clerks will be included in a list to be forwarded to DOC to help them minimize errors on their end.

Kathy Davis asked if we can propose a procedure or method of what will be done if these errors are found. When a person has already left, how do we get them the correct paperwork? Ken stated that one of the things we are doing with the test data is to find out information on problem areas. We have not worked out how to fix the problems or if we want to fix problems. The idea here is going forward can we make it a better process to get correct information. In the interest of time today, we will forgo discussion on this. How we make corrections is a whole different topic. Richard went on to say that when he passes these issues to DOC he can point out that someone probably will want to follow up on these types of concerns.

Status of Best Practice on Clerk's answering Restoration Questions about Cases in Other Counties

This topic will be included in next week's report. Ken went on to say that this will be the featured item of the call and asked Richard to let him know how much time on the agenda was needed.

F. Negotiating fees/fines/cost converted to civil judgments; establish a subcommittee

This is a big issue which is too big for this group to tackle. A committee needs to be established to look at this and come up with standards and recommendations. Tiffany Moore Russel stated that Jared Brooks is already doing research on this. Carolyn will speak with her compliance manager regarding this. The committee will be made up of 3-4 attorneys and 3-4 court staff from Clerk's office throughout the state, making sure different sized counties are included.

G. Suggestions for A QRT presentation at Fall Conference

There will be a presentation on this topic at the Fall Conference, and we will issue an invitation to a representative from the DOC to attend. We will work with Kristin, FCCC, on planning this.

H. Clerk Timmann's legislative talking points

Clerk Timmann will send the list of talking points to Ken who will distribute them to the group.

Any additional items:

- Richard Herring – has reached out to the SA Association, and they are not taking any position on this. Individual SA's are talking about doing different things, but don't see them as being a partner to us. He would like to reach out to the Sheriff's Association and establish a working relationship with them. Ken responded by saying that would be great. We do have a good working relationship with them, and it would be good to keep them informed.
- Tiffany Moore Russell – no
- Carolyn Timmann – no. She appreciates this and sees it as an opportunity to be looking at all of our date and improving on what we have and get rid of discrepancies and misconceptions about the data.
- Angela Vick – no
- Fred Baggett – this is a good approach from the legal and operations side. He hopes to have something back next week on the legal opinions, especially the priority issues.
- Bill Burgess asked if anything had been heard about the UNC number being on some cases and not others. Richard replied that the DOC system does not have a required field for UCN's, so it is not always included. We are still working with them on this. Kimberly Renspie went on to say that they believe certain counties reach a higher number of felonies than others so it may be truncated for that reason. They are checking on this and will get back in touch.

- MD –asked if they could receive their list of cases sooner than later so they could starting working on them. Ken replied that their information would be sent now, but they would be working on a correspondence tomorrow to get the message and information out to all counties. Richard added that he would have a draft to discuss with Ken.

Ken closed the meeting stating that the next meeting will be held next Monday, July 22 at 2:00 p.m.

The meeting was adjourned at 3:11 p.m.

Greetings,

Let this serve as a reminder of our meeting on Monday (Aug 12) at 2:00 PM by conference call. You should have received the Outlook appointment. Attached are several items of interest for your review prior to our call. The first item is our notes from last week's call. We will approve the two draft advisories as part of our meeting agenda. JD was kind enough to forward to me the letter he received through his service on the Restoration of Voting Rights Task Force. The attached letter contains the dates of the Task Force meetings.

Jared will report on the two suggestions for wording that his group was assigned during last week's call.

Richard will provide an update on the study of the counties who have responded comparing CCIS with CMS data. I will respond on my outreach to those counties that have yet to respond.

Look forward to our call.

Ken opened the meeting by asking if anyone on the call had questions regarding the revised agenda that had been sent out. There were no questions.

Doug Chorvat and JD Peacock were appointed by the Governor to the Work Group. They are part of this call as observers. They need to be in a listening capacity or asking questions in compliance with the Sunshine Law. Part of our job is to support Doug and J.D. in their work. Richard Herring will be offering support to them in this effort, and will attend the work group meetings and act as support in responding to questions.

Update on Possible Issues for Request(s) for Legal Opinion(s), Fred Baggett

Fred sent the legal opinion to Ken, who had specific questions. Ken asked that Fred talk about the opinion and address the questions that he had. Fred stated that a series of questions were put to together from a compilation of issues laid out by Richard Herring and Beth Allman regarding how Amendment 4 impacts the Clerks. There are 3 issues discussed in the opinion.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest?

If the fines, fees or costs are made part of the criminal judgment/sentencing order and interest is included in that judgment, they do believe that 938.30 provides that payment of interest is required in order to complete the sentence. The law is clear that things imposed on a felon create an obligation, but anything imposed after the sentence is handed down are not part of the sentence. Payment of interest may be made part of the sentence. Ken asked Fred if he was aware of any sentence dealing with interest on restitution. Fred responded that 775.089 addresses restitution and interest. After discussion regarding accrued interest, Ken asked Carolyn Timmann to send him examples of documents with interest accrued and satisfactions where interest did not accrue. Karen Rushing asked Fred if the DOC document does not refer to interest but there is a Civil judgement, what is required. Fred responded that the judgment is Civil in nature. There is a distinction between a criminal sentence and a judgment. The judgment does not reduce the penalty in the sense of elimination. It takes the penalty in the criminal sentence and makes it a Civil debt. A recorded judgment is not the debt. It is security of payment of the debt, like a mortgage and note. You don't' satisfy the mortgage, you satisfy the underlying debt which creates a satisfaction of the mortgage. If the sentence and judgment are done at the same time and converted to a Civil lien, you still have a sentence with obligation. The Civil lien is nothing more than security of payment of the Criminal debt. Ken asked that examples be sent to Fred who will report next week on whether interest accrues or not.

Matt White asked to be included in Fred's emails.

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by the Clerk for the collection of fees, fines and court costs?

The simple answer is no if there is nothing in the sentencing order related to the payment of collection fees.

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgement/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgement/sentencing order?

The answer to this is no. Unless included in the criminal judgment, a civil judgement or lien is security for the payment of the criminal debt. No case law has been found that would support a civil judgment that is issued separate and apart form a sentence would be construed as being part of the sentence.

Fred then addressed Ken's questions:

Page 2, Item 5d – for the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e, and notwithstanding any other statue, rule or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution. The court may modify the fines and fees and other conditions of the sentence, but further down in the same section under E2, it says upon a payee's approval either through appearance in open court or through the production of a notarized consent by the payee, the termination by the court of any financial obligation to payee, including but not limited to, a victim, or the court. This is how a challenge of the sentence can be effectuated. He reads it to say the judge can modify the sentence or even eliminate it if the payee consents to it. The payee is the recipient of restitution or the Clerk. Reading those two together, the work group will have to address it as it is currently written that if the payee of the fines, fees and costs would have to consent in court or by notarized consent to agree to the judge's action.

Comments/Questions for Fred:

- Angela Vick - A large portion of the fine goes to the state. Is this just for the Clerks or for the state as well? Fred responded that the Clerk is the payee, but distributes.
- Matt White - D talks about the defendant being able to file a motion with the court to modify financial obligations. Criminal procedure talks about modifying sentences, but there is a time limit of 60 days. Does D remove that 60 day time limit? What if it is restitution? Judgments for cost of supervision, etc. are paid to the Clerk but are going to another agency (State Attorney, DOC, etc.), so would those agencies be signing off on those items. The money comes to the Clerk but we are just passing it along.
- Ken - this section gives the Clerk the right to agree to the reduction. That could be our reason when the press contacts us that it is because of the underlying distribution. We are not agreeing to reduction.
- Fred – the fidicuary responsibility is with the Clerk. The responsibility comes from Statute. This is all fodder for the work group. They will have to figure this out.
- Ken – the Clerk would only be involved if the felon petitions the court to lower fines. Should we give some guidelines to Clerks now in order to prevent issues and let them know the consequences of the actions?
- Laura Roth - they have a very different interpretation in Volusia County. At a recent meeting with the Clerk's office and other state agencies, it was agreed that the Court is the payee for the Court-ordered financial obligations. As the payee, the court may terminate any ordered fines, fees and costs. All of the agencies at the meeting agreed to this, but the Chief Judge has not given his approval. A meeting is scheduled with the Chief Judge on August 15. None of the agencies asked that they receive notification of changes. Fred stated that this is a good way around the issue and does not think anyone would be criticized for that.
- Ken - should the Clerks come up with qualifying language for this section of the bill to provide more clarity and if this should be given to the Task Force. The Task Force has 85 days to do this work and give its report to the Legislature, although it has not convened yet. They may welcome our feedback. Fred responded that an Interim Best Practice could be provided to the Task Force with an explanation of the issues, a statement that the reading of the Statute does not work, and that we are advising the Clerks to follow a procedure, i.e. Volusia County's procedure until such time as other action is taken. Clerks need some guidance on this right now.

Ken asked if there were comments or concerns with the Volusia County procedures:

- Karen Rushing stated that in Sarasota they have a different take on this. There is a donor who is interested in paying the fines of people through a foundation. She does not have a problem with Volusia's procedure, but thinks a Best Practice is needed, but the Best Practice should not prohibit other options.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ACTION ITEM: Let Clerks know we are going to enter an objection as a Best Practice. Ken will work with Fred for statewide implementation for Volusia's method.

Page 2, Item 5e (III) – who will monitor community service if a judge converts the amount owed to community service? Is there a fee for this responsibility? What happens if community service is not fulfilled?

- Fred - the law makes no reference to who would monitor it. There is no suggestion that the Clerk should monitor it. This will be an open question for the Task Force to consider in their recommendations. It is difficult to monitor community service. The completion rate is terrible with less than 40 percent of people completing the community service. There is a standard hourly rate for community service, but the judges often deviate from the standard rate. People think community service sounds good, but then change their minds. This should be a unified mandate.
- Carolyn Timmann - the judges there rarely order community service. It is not very successful. Many defendants don't want it. She does not see this as a mandate because it is so low. This could be a procedure that could be monitored through the Trail Court Administrator.
- Laura Roth - they did discuss this at the round table meeting they had. They also looked at the issues of people with orders terminating financial obligations but still have community service that has not been completed. When can they register to vote? What does it look like to get proof? If they never complete the community service, does someone have to notify the Supervisor of Elections?
- Karen Rushing - they do not do community service very often.
- Ken – this just shows how different the circuits are. There are many issues with community service, and what happens if they don't complete it.
- Carolyn Timmann – the bill does say that if it is converted to community service, they do have to complete the community service. There was not a lot of thought about the mechanism of how the notification comes forward.
- This will be a real tracking nightmare for the Supervisor of Elections.
- This will fill of lot of the session at the Fall Conference – these legal points.

ACTION ITEM: Ken will work on a communication on this point for the other Clerks. He will send out Fred's document.

Jared Brooks, Orange County, and Kelli Merritt, Martin County, are co-chairing this group. Jared has invited legal counsels from other Clerk's offices, and Kelli has invited operations staff to come up with Best Practices. A September 20 deadline was established for the final product.

Preliminary results of Clerk Review of CCIS and CMS for 10 Cases per County

Richard stated there are various issues with records between CMS and CCIS. They are still getting responses in and hope to get more. When they get the list in final form, it will be a good idea for everyone to take a look at. In some counties, everything matched perfectly, but many have issues.

Melvin Cox stated that there is a great CCIS data team at the office. The Data Quality Work Group is dealing with data quality issues and standards to correct the issues. The challenge will be to categorize the issues. Most issues can be corrected by going back and looking at how CMS sends to CCIS. Usually something was missing or incomplete. This is going to be an ongoing process that CCIS will support as new data is being introduced. They had advertised for a new CCIS Program Manager, which is a new position that was approved by the board. They are now interviewing for this position who will work on and manage this project going forward. Ken asked Melvin to send him the names of the Data Quality Work Group and the names of the FCCC staff to include on CCIS issues.

Carolyn Timmann – going back to Doug and JD on the phone. The only concern is that she is under subpoena for the civil case and she thinks they are looking to try and say that Clerks records have all sorts of problems. Her concern is the volume of emails going out that identify problems. Please don't send them to Carolyn, JD or Doug. Phone calls are great. Try to say this without saying too much.

Consider Advisory or Best Practice relating to Acceptance of payments in a Clerk's office for amounts due another Clerk

Tiffany Moore Russell was asked to spearhead the effort to establish a Best Practice on how to handle a person coming into our offices asking if they owe money even if the felony did not occur in our county and can we then assist them with making the payment and making sure the payment get to the appropriate county.

Melvin looked at the current payment options. The traditional method of going to the courthouse to make the payment does not allow for out of county payments. Cash, check, credit/debit card payments are accepted and are receipted directly into the local CMS. The deputy clerk is able to offer assistance with case and citation numbers, payment plan information, past due info, combining cases/payments, etc. The goal is to mimic this same standard of service for people wanting to make payments outside of our county. Most clerks have remote websites that can be used for people to make payments over the web with the website usually having access to the local CMS. However, there is limited lookup capability and websites do not accept cash or check. Some Clerks have contracted with financial institutions to accept cash payments on behalf of the Clerk, however the payments may be limited. Other payment methods include kiosks and telephone IVR payments.

Options to accepting payments for cases in other counties include:

- Directing the payer to the Clerk's' website where their case is located. A link like www.payFLclerk could be used to help in finding the proper place to make the payment. The advantage of this is using existing technology that is already set up and would require no additional integration with local CMS. However, there are cons to this. This will not satisfy all types of payments as it won't take cash or check, although Clerks can partner with AmScot or Wells Fargo. Deputy Clerks will be required to have additional training and will need to become familiar with other Clerk's websites.
- Partner with financial institutions on a state-wide basis. This option would utilize existing processes, has a potential for many easy to access locations and would offer a potential for standard integration. However, only cash payments could be accepted with no way to deal with customer service issues.
- They could develop a statewide electronic payment system integrated into all CMS systems, which would look like an e-filing portal for payments. The payer would go to the site and pay on any case. This would be a build out of a lot of the existing interfaces. There would be a cost for the time to build this system and there may be a conflict with existing provider contracts that some Clerks already have in place. This program would need to be supported with a statewide 24-7 call center so that the payer could opt to a live person if automation failed. They would be trained in how to look up payments statewide, and would be able to take payments over the phone. This could be a consideration for the future.

Any suggestions should be sent to Melvin until the new manager comes on board who will be the key of contact for CCIS issues.

Ken stated that this committee has a limited purview so that would have to through the Legislative Committee for best use of resources. Ken loves the idea of someone going into any Clerk's office and paying a fine for any office. We need a workable solution to present to the Legislature where people can pay for their entire sentence through a statewide system. Melvin stated this could go through Civitek which has an existing bank account to take payments from every Clerk in the state. Melvin suggested this be discussed at the Technology Committee meeting coming up shortly. Ken agreed saying the reason we are doing this needs to be discussed. This is a public policy issue.

Richard stated that the remaining issues on the agenda would be discussed at next week's meeting.

Any additional comments/concerns:

- Karen Rushing - we want to make sure the database is correct. We don't want people coming back saying we did it wrong. We don't want to take payments that are not accurate.
- Richard - most issues were minor or local, but because of the number of issues they do need to be looked at.
- Cathy Davis agrees with Karen. She did a search this morning looking up a felon for other cases in other counties. The name was listed several different ways – first name, middle initial, middle name. The challenge is if you know the case number errors are limited, but if you don't know the case number this could lead to problems.
- Ken stated that we need make sure the data is correct and easy to access.
- Laura Roth – no other comments.

With no other questions or comments, the meeting was adjourned at 3:37. The next call will take place on Monday, August 12, at 2:00 p.m.

Draft Advisory on Legal Opinion

FCCCC has requested and received a legal opinion from our Counsel concerning several issues related to restoration of voting rights, both the constitutional and statutory language. Specifically, these issues address several of the financial aspects of the law. The full legal opinion is attached.

In brief, without the associated legal reasoning and caveats included in the legal opinion, a summary is:

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest? Only if the fine, fee, or cost is made a part of the criminal judgment/ sentencing order and interest is specifically included in the judgment.

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by a clerk for the collection of fees, fines and court costs? Unless otherwise specifically ordered in the criminal judgment, fees owed to a collection agent that are in addition to, and added to the balance of, the unpaid financial obligations would not be included in the definition of "completion of all terms of sentence."

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgment/sentencing order? The reduction of amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order to a civil judgment or lien does not eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as provided for in the criminal judgment/sentencing order.

DRAFT ADVISORY

Restoration of Voting Rights – Effect on Other Rights

Several Clerks have received questions about the new law on restoration of voting rights and its impact on other rights, such as jury service, holding public office, or firearm possession.

The new law, Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida, (CS/SB 7066 from the 2019 legislative session) distinguishes between restoration of civil rights pursuant to s. 8, Art. IV of the State Constitution and voting rights restoration pursuant to s. 4., Art. VI of the State Constitution. Section 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution and the recent amendments to Chapter 98, Florida Statutes, provide the requirements for restoration of voting rights only. Meeting those requirements does not restore other rights.

Persons seeking information on restoration of civil rights generally may be referred to the Florida Commission on Offender Review. The Commission's Office of Executive Clemency has rules, forms, and processes for persons seeking restoration of civil rights, pardon, firearm authority, and other forms of clemency. See: https://www.fcor.state.fl.us/restoration.shtml

Specific to the right to vote, the Office of Executive Clemency website says:

> Regarding the Restoration of Civil Rights (RCR) process and the passage of Amendment Four:
>
> For those offenders covered by the amendment, only the right to vote, not the right to sit on a jury or the right to hold public office, is contemplated by the amendment. Restoration of the right to sit on a jury and to hold public office can only be obtained through application to the Board of Executive Clemency.
> As to those offenders not covered by the amendment, namely those convicted of murder or a felony sexual offense or those who have not completed all terms of their sentence, the restoration of the right to vote, to sit on a jury, and to hold public office can only be obtained through application to the Board of Executive Clemency.

Dear Mr. Peacock,

During the 2019 Legislative Session, the Florida Legislature created the Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group to be chaired by the Secretary of State (see section 33 of chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida as attached). On August 2, 2019, Governor Ron DeSantis appointed you as one of the members of the work group.

The eight-member work group is directed to conduct a comprehensive review of the Department of State's process of verifying registered voters who have been convicted of a felony, but who may be eligible for restoration of voting rights under s. 4 Art. VI of the State Constitution, including developing recommendations as to:

- The consolidation of data necessary to verify the eligibility of a registered voter for restoration of voting rights. If any entity is recommended to manage the consolidated relevant data, the recommendations must provide the feasibility of such entity to do so and a timeline for implementation.
- The process for informing a registered voter of the entity or entities that are custodians of the relevant data necessary for verifying his or her eligibility for restoration of voting rights.
- Any other relevant policies or procedures for verifying the eligibility of a registered voter for restoration of voting rights.

The work group must submit a report to the Legislature by November 1, 2019 that includes the work group's findings, conclusions and recommendations. Upon submission of the report, the work group is discharged from further duties.

Karen, Tiffany and Tara,

We are the quick response team assigned to deal with issues relating to the Clerk and Amendment 4. I sent out a question to several Clerks' offices to get a very preliminary feel of how some counties deal with negotiating judgments. Those responses are included below in this email. You will see with even this small sample size we have a hodgepodge of responses. I had to leave the Legislative retreat early and was not present when the need for a quick response team was discussed. Can you enlighten me on our complete charge? In my conversation with Sharon, she asked for us to deliver a recommendation for the May 30 board meeting. If that recommendation deals with a consistent way for Clerks to deal with the negotiating of judgments, I feel the May 30 deadline is impossible. This will be a much longer process. The gathering of current methods and the appetite of Clerks to negotiate judgments will need to be assessed.

I guess our first order of business is to determine what is the charge of our team. By copying Chris Hart on this email, the request is that he assign a staff person to help with the logistics of our work. Once a person is assigned we will set up a conference call for us to initiate our work. In the meantime, if you have any insights or thoughts, please respond to this email (by reply all) and share your input.

Each of you is more qualified than I to serve as chair of the group. If you would want to volunteer to be chair, I will be more than happy to pass on the chair responsibilities to you. Just let me know.

Thanks for working on this effort.

Ken

Palm Beach Clerk's office response:

Palm Beach negotiates settlements on judgments for fines and costs. I have attached some of the documents and processes we use.

The rest of this may be too much detail but we started doing this on large, five figure cases (such as drug trafficking) by running a report to find those cases, then narrowing our focus by looking at age of case and if the defendant had a private attorney at the time of the conviction. We then sent letters (one is attached) to the last known address of the defendant and to his attorney. Once that was completed, the local defense attorneys began contacting us on these and on cases we had not reached out on. Our local defense bar and even the PD's office continues to bring all sizes of judgments to us to negotiate even though we no longer send letters.

To reach a settlement amount, we look at the age of the case, and the amount owed. If it is a large sum, we will also do a basic public record and social media search to look for additional information regarding possible ability to pay (a PowerPoint slide is attached). Once a settlement is reached, we record a satisfaction referencing FS 938 (also attached).

Manatee Clerk's office response:

Good morning. I've cut and pasted portions of an email that I sent out not too long ago in response to the same questions. . .

Section 938.30(9), F.S., (and related s. 938.29(3), F.S.) references the clerks' ability to enforce, satisfy, compromise, settle, subordinate, release, or otherwise dispose of any debt or liens imposed and collected under s. 938.30, F.S. Does this statute allow clerks to "waive or reduce" fines or costs ordered by the judge?

To answer your question, I think you're right when it comes to "liens" but not sure as to "debts." I tried to find some case law but didn't see anything on point.

FS 938.30(9) and 938.29(3) give the Clerk the authority to enforce, satisfy, compromise, settle, subordinate, release, or otherwise dispose of any debts or liens imposed or collected as part of any financial obligation in any criminal case, fees for court appointed counsel, and due process services.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The "lien" part is pretty straightforward from reading 938.30(6) and (8) and 938.29(2). Clerks are statutorily authorized to enforce, satisfy, compromise, subordinate, release, or otherwise dispose of those liens that arose from financial obligations in a criminal case.

The question is what the word "debts" means in these statutes, as there is no definition of "debts" in s. 938. Since the statutes specifically reference "liens," one would assume that "debts" means something other than "liens." Does "debts" mean financial obligations that have been ordered/imposed by the Court but not yet taken to judgment and a lien filed? If so, then Clerks would also have the authority to enforce, satisfy, compromise, subordinate, release and otherwise dispose of those monetary obligations imposed/ordered by the Court but not yet reduced to judgment. However, in practice, I don't think this is done regularly, because defendants routinely pay monetary obligations through probation, via payment plans, or through collections. In addition, if a defendant is unable to pay, she can ask the Court to take the monetary obligations to judgment at the time of sentencing or anytime thereafter upon an appropriate showing of inability to pay. See FS 938.30(2)-(6).

As for negotiating fines, fees, and other costs, Manatee does not have any written policies but will consider offers on a case-by-case basis. For example, we recently negotiated an old Trafficking fine that was taken to judgment when we were contacted by an attorney offering some money out of a partition sale. Matt

Volusia Clerk's office response:

I agree with Matt's analysis. In Volusia, we don't have policies dealing with this topic but we do on case by case basis negotiate on judgments that are at least a year old . The older the judgment, the more we are willing to compromise. The reason being that the older the judgment, the less likely someone will want to pay.

Tiffany, Tara and Carolyn,
We compiled a list of work items for our amendment 4 workgroup. We decided in our call earlier this month that we need FCCC staff support. After our meeting I reached out to Chris to obtain staff support. Chris told me last week that Richard Herring will be our staff report. I am going to schedule a phone conference with Richard for this coming week and our group. I know its a short week but think we need to get this moving along. It is good news to have Richard on board.

Subject: Amendment 4 Workgroup

Tara, Karen and Tiffany,

Just had good conversation with Ron Labasky. He is based in Tallahassee and represents the Supervisors of Elections Association.

Let me recap some of what we talked about:

- The form that Supervisors use to register voters will in all likelihood be revised. The new form will go through the administrative rule making process and probably will take months before it is put in use. Until that time the Supervisors will continue to use the existing form.
- Supervisors take people at their word filling out the form. The Supervisor does not go beyond what people attest to on the form.
- The Department of State has the responsibility to reject voter registrations and does reject voter registrations for a variety of reasons. When this occurs, the local supervisor has the responsibility to notify the voter that his/her voter registration has been rejected.
- A new area of rejection will be if the convicted felon owes court fines/fess/restitution. How the Department of State will know if the person who is a convicted Felon has outstanding court fines, fees and/or restitution due is unknown.

Items of concern for Clerks:

- Let's say a person who is a convicted felon goes to the Supervisor and attempts to register to vote and inquires if they are eligible. The Supervisor may offer that the person has to have satisfied any court fines/fees/restitution. If the person says they are unsure, there is no process in place. Will the Supervisors have access to this information? Will they send them to the Clerk? What if the crime was committed in a different county?
- Should Clerks come up with a standard form if a person who is a convicted felon inquiries about outstanding fees/fines/restitution to show the outstanding amounts? How will restitution be handled if not paid through the Clerk?
- What if the person owes court fines/fees/restitution to another county? Should we have a process where the local clerk can process that payment as part of constituent service?
- Should our workgroup make contact with the Secretary of State to find out how they will access the information on outstanding fines/fees/restitution or wait for them to contact us?

It does not appear we will have much to report at the board meeting on Thursday. There are more questions than answers at this time.

4. Working Draft – Advisory on Providing Financial Information

Restoration of Voting Rights
Providing Individuals with Information on Financial Obligations

SUMMARY:

This Advisory provides a model that Clerks may wish to use when responding to requests from individuals who are seeking to have their voting rights restored and who need current information on their financial obligations ordered by the sentencing court.

The attached form provides a simple format for providing information to individuals about the financial obligations ordered in their most-recent, and any prior, felonies.

This form can be used by a Clerk to list all the financial obligations from all prior felonies anywhere in the State of Florida based on available CCIS data. It is anticipated that the most complete statewide data would include:

- OTHER COUNTS. The requesting individual may have been sentenced on several counts stemming from one episode. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those counts.
- PRIOR FELONIES. The requesting individual may have had prior felonies. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those prior felonies.
- OTHER COUNTIES. The requesting individual may have been sentenced for prior felonies in other counties and have financial obligations stemming from those other felony sentences. The CCIS assessments and payments can be furnished for cases filed in other counties, however, the requesting individual will need to contact that clerk's office to obtain voting rights restoration financial information.
- COURT MODIFICATIONS. The sentencing Court(s) may have entered subsequent orders, after initial sentencing, which modified the individual's financial obligations (e.g., converting certain obligations to community service).

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS:

The law (set out below) appears to require the completion of all terms of sentence from all prior felonies. Clerks may want to remind requesting individuals to consider:

- DIRECT PAYMENTS. The requesting individual may have met certain financial obligations (e.g., direct payment of restitution to a victim) without the Clerk having any record of that action.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- OTHER STATES. If the requesting individual has felony convictions by a Court in another state or by a federal Court that prevent the requesting individual from registering, the Clerk will not have any records related to those cases.
- DISQUALIFYING FELONIES. The requesting individual will not qualify for restoration of voting rights, regardless of meeting financial obligations, if a prior felony sentence was for murder or a felony sexual offense, as defined in section 98.0751(2)(b), Florida Statutes.

BACKGROUND:

Section 98.0751, Florida Statutes, was created effective July 1, 2019, by CS/SB 7066 – Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida. A persons who has been disqualified from voting based on a felony conviction for an offense other than murder or a felony sexual offense, may become qualified by completing all terms of sentence.

Included within "all terms of sentence" is the payment of restitution to victims plus fines and fees ordered by the court. The statutory requirement, with all its qualifications, is set out below.

> 98.0751 Restoration of voting rights; termination of ineligibility subsequent to a felony conviction.—
> (2) For purposes of this section, the term:
>
> (a) "Completion of all terms of sentence" means any portion of a sentence that is contained in the four corners of the sentencing document, including, but not limited to:
> 5.a. Full payment of restitution ordered to a victim by the court as a part of the sentence. A victim includes, but is not limited to, a person or persons, the estate or estates thereof, an entity, the state, or the Federal Government.
> b. Full payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence or that are ordered by the court as a condition of any form of supervision, including, but not limited to, probation, community control, or parole.
> c. The financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. include only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence.
> d. For the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e. and notwithstanding any other statute, rule, or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or a victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution.

e. Financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. are considered completed in the following manner or in any combination thereof:

(I) Actual payment of the obligation in full.

(II) Upon the payee's approval, either through appearance in open court or through the production of a notarized consent by the payee, the termination by the court of any financial obligation to a payee, including, but not limited to, a victim, or the court.

(III) Completion of all community service hours, if the court, unless otherwise prohibited by law or the State Constitution, converts the financial obligation to community service.

A term required to be completed in accordance with this paragraph shall be deemed completed if the court modifies the original sentencing order to no longer require completion of such term. The requirement to pay any financial obligation specified in this paragraph is not deemed completed upon conversion to a civil lien.

7. A. Summary of Division of Elections presentation on sources of information about potentially ineligible voters

Following is a summary of the relevant portion of the presentation made by the Division director to the DOS Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group at its first meeting on August 19, 2019. This was a brief presentation, so little information was given other than the listing of sources below.

The Department of State is designated as the primary agency to identify ineligible voters based on information received from state agencies or other credible and reliable sources.

Department of State, Division of Elections, receives information from:

Clerks of Court
Individuals convicted of felonies
Individual adjudicated mentally incapacitated
Monthly jury lists – paper process – individuals excused because adjudicated mentally incapacitated, convicted of a felony, no longer live in the county
DOS consults re CCIS data and Clerk CMS
DOS requests specific Clerk records

Florida Department of Law Enforcement
Daily information about Florida felony offenders
Monthly information about Florida registered sex offenders

Department of Corrections
Daily information, through FIA web service, about felony matches
DOS consults re individuals photographs – IRIS image database

From the Department of Health:

Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles
DOS consults re identity demographics – DAVID database

Individual has had civil rights restored

U.S. Attorneys
re other states and federal courts – intermittent (daily, weekly monthly) – manual submissions by fax or mail, all paper

Federal Court database – PACER

Sources above, generally, concerning completion of sentence.

Also, Supervisors of Elections may receive some information directly – typically from the Clerk of Court. Supervisors perform "county-initiated felony matches."

DOS build a file for the individual with the (typically 4-20) pieces of relevant information and makes available to Supervisors by posting on a website. DOS monitors the website to ensure Supervisors are downloading the files. Supervisors then follow the due process requirements of s. 98.075(7), F.S.

Such files typically contain:

- DOS Case File Review Certificate
- Screenshot Bureau of Voter Registration Services (BVRS) Workflow Application Interface with voter and felon information
- Screenshot Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles' Driver License database
- Screenshot Comprehensive Case Management System (CCIS) (Including Financial Summary if available and required)
- Court Documents (at a minimum, the judgment and sentence, if separate document)

7.B. Division of Elections response to our request for specifics about data from Clerks

Division of Elections

The following is a compilation of notable highlights and challenges the Division has encountered over the years in obtaining court records in support of a voter record/felony record match that indicates a registered voter may be ineligible to be registered due to an adjudication of felony conviction without the right to vote restored.

Clerk of Court Records - Highlights:

Counties

- Overall, the counties have been very helpful. For the volume of request, they are for the most part responsive and handle them very efficiently. Most are also very good at helping us figure out the 'nonsense' case numbers we frequently receive from FDLE (e.g., Orange, Duval, and Monroe).
- We are not without error so all of the counties deserve praise for resending us court documents that have been requested in the past but misplaced by our office.
- While Duval often does not provide the judgment, they alternatively type up a summary sheet of the judgment, particularly for older cases. This mitigates misplaced or unattended requests.
- St. Lucie is an example of a county that appears to use CCIS as fully intended - with the full case file scanned, as this is an already established, password-protected way for other government agencies to view court documents. They are very quick with communication and returns on requests that are not yet scanned into CCIS. If we have a problem downloading the entire file, they break it up into manageable parts without hesitation.
- Communications with clerk of court is very important. Gadsden deserves praise for working with us to tell us that it is easier for them to receive all requests at the end of the day to process the following day. This is workable for us due to the small size of the county and ensures organization and timeliness at the clerk's office.
- Okaloosa county is very good about providing certified copies of court minutes when an actual judgment is not available.
- People and counties that stand out to us as being excellent contacts over the years
    - Brevard – Wendy Kiersted and Sandra Scheerhorn
    - Broward – Doris Pava-Ruiz
    - Charlotte – Cindee Sierant
    - Clay – Michelle Thrasher and Lisa Sanchez
    - Collier – Lorraine Stoll
    - Duval – Natayla Anderson
    - Gadsden – Perla Palomo and Kathy Young
    - Gulf – Tonya Knox

Clerk of Court Records - Challenges

Counties in General

- Several counties have returned “file not found” or “N/A” as responses to our requests. This is different from a return of “met retention” or “destroyed” that we get with some older MM cases. We heard anecdotally from one county (Brevard) that misplaced older cases can occur if the file has been pulled several times and not placed in proper order. For example, they may scan the file barcode then scan the barcode for its location in the warehouse and sometimes the person putting it back doesn’t do this correctly for the computer to have an accurate record of the current location. This may represent an issue with following procedures for archiving.
- Several counties, including Sarasota and Duval, will not provide a statement when documents, such as arrest reports, are not available. This makes it difficult to prove insufficient documentation, especially with older cases.
- Many counties do not send all documents requested and include no response addressing the missing items. We have to reach out again for clarification as to whether they exist at all or did someone just forget to include them.
- The requesting process on the public sites for most counties since the Supreme Court order seem like overkill for another government agency’s requests. They made documents more widely accessible to the public, but we seem to have less direct access than before. Even if they are available online, we have to wait for redaction or they are difficult to locate because the images are not labeled in a way that makes them easily identifiable; they have image numbers rather than document titles, like arrest report or judgment. Many of these counties (Lee, Leon, Okaloosa, Orange, etc.) have had to create alternate ways to get the information we need to us because our requests do not fit neatly into the access matrix.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

As recently as March, Escambia has stated that they cannot grant us access to the information we need because of the matrix.

County-specific

- Bay and Jefferson
  - Counties have had issues with providing archived documents due to storm damage.
- Broward County
  - Longest wait for requested documents historically occurs with Broward County Clerk of Court Archives. Previously, all requests went to one staff but have since expanded we believe to include two other trainees. Requests for archived documents typically take 3-4 days unless sent by mail.
- Miami-Dade
  - Frequently returns the statement that the case documents are held with the Miami-Dade Police Department, not the Clerk of Court. We do not have an established relationship nor are comfortable reaching out to the police department.
  - Protracted responses which we attribute to large county, many document requests, and staffing shortage (which they have stated). The office tries to expedite responses by grouping requests in batch responses with case sheets in lieu of actual judgments. We have not seen marked difference in turnaround time.
  - We observe many more errors with felony division records (e.g., wrong case, wrong defendant, missing a requested page, etc.) than with other counties, but then again they also process a larger number of requests. Assigned staff rotates frequently which makes it difficult to circle back to the same person about the errors. Communications however have improved. Miami-Dade misdemeanor section has always been great with communication and turnaround time.
- Palm Beach
  - The clerk of court office can only provide us with docket printouts when we request older misdemeanor cases since they destroy the documents after a set retention period. However, there is no written mention of this included with the printout for us to include in the case file as proof.
  - The office responds back in large batches rather than once the request is completed. While we understand the efficiencies for the clerk, it can delay being able to move forward with a potentially invalid registered voter file.
- Pasco
  - The clerk of court office has roughly 10 different contacts that our requests need to be sent to, though they usually complete the order the same day. We recommend that a general email inbox be set up to funnel requests or set up a contact group for them in our email. The latter may necessitate keeping the email distribution list current with office staff changes.

- Sarasota
  - The clerk of court office has switched to faxed requests after several emails were misplaced and only the cover sheets were printed out. I had to resend several requests by fax that were already emailed to them.

- Seminole
  - The clerk of court intake division asks that requested be faxed but we have encountered an issue with these faxes being misplaced, taken by other workers, or sitting in inboxes for far too long. Worked with Sheila McCloud and the issue got better.

8. Draft Advisory – Compile Requests Received from DOC

The Amendment 4 Quick Response Team (QRT) has received copies of several requests made to individual Clerks by local Department of Corrections (DOC) offices related to restoration of voting rights. Those requests typically seek information on financial obligations for particular individuals under DOC custody or supervision. Sometimes they involve financial obligation data that does not appear to match between DOC records and the Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS).

The Amendment 4 QRT has found that once the DOC request is investigated, a clear correct answer is always available. A common theme appears to be that the two different data systems are asked slightly different questions, thus providing different answers.

The Amendment 4 QRT has established an email account, DOCRequests@FLClerks.com, to accumulate such requests from DOC. The Amendment 4 QRT ask that each Clerk's office forward individual requests received from local DOC offices, along with the Clerk's response, to DOCRequests@FLClerks.com. This will give the Amendment 4 QRT the opportunity to look for additional patterns and trends. As the patterns or trends arise, the Amendment 4 QRT will address issues with DOC or develop Best Practices for Clerks through the FCCC Best Practices Committee.

If additional clarification is needed or if there are questions, please contact Kimberly Renspie, FCCC Legislative Manager (krenspie@gmail.com).

11.A. Citrus County – County Detention Facility

This is a summary of the steps taken in Citrus County related to Amendment 4 to ensure cooperation and partnership with local stakeholders as processes continue to develop and be implemented across the state.

Amendment 4- Restoration of Voters Rights

As with any new legislation, we analyze the impact to our office for further communication to stakeholders as well as internal set up or changes to the Clerk's current processes. FCCC sent an advisory (No. 19-052) on July 1st regarding SB7066 being signed by the Governor. This advisory defined the requirements for DOC pursuant to F.S. 940.061.

The bill directs both DOC and the administrator of the county detention facility to provide information to the prisoner upon release. We took the following steps to ensure compliance since our county facility is run by a private company.

1) At our semi-annual stakeholder meeting we provided a list of bills of interest that may impact our office as well as others. The jail is represented at this meeting.
2) We contacted County Administration, since their office oversees the contract with the jail, to be sure they were aware of the new law, specifically section 32 of F.S. 951.29 and to communicate information to Warden for implementation.
3) We pulled statistics from our CMS for the prior year to determine the number of felony cases that were sentenced to county jail for potential impact.
4) Upon further discussion with County Administration, we coordinated a meeting with jail administration, local probation and the clerk's office to discuss requirements.
5) We have been working with Jail records staff to file documents thru the e-portal and offered information on the process taken by DOC to file these documents to the clerk's thru the portal. We provided a sample of the DOC document as well as our clerk contact information sheet to assist them in compiling their release document.
6) We also requested to place contact information for future payments to the clerk in these documents.

Louisiana voting rights change not causing surge in signups
Associated Press Published 3:21 p.m. CT Sept. 1, 2019 | Updated 3:21 p.m. CT Sept. 1, 2019

BATON ROUGE — A Louisiana law change earlier this year restored voting rights to thousands of convicted felons, but at most, only a few hundred have registered to vote so far.

Data from the secretary of state's office shows modest upticks in the number of felons who have registered to vote since the law loosened March 1.

Louisiana legislators agreed to allow people on probation or parole for a felony to register to vote if they haven't been incarcerated for at least five years, a change estimated to make 36,000 felons eligible for voter registration.

But since the law took effect, 581 felons have had their voting rights restored. The secretary of state's office has said it cannot determine which were able to register specifically because of the law change.

The data shows 82 felons had their voting rights reinstated in February before the voting rights restoration took effect. By comparison, the number was 77 in March and 88 in April. The secretary of state numbers show 179 felons had their voting rights reinstated in May, followed by 99 in June and 138 in July.

Some supporters of the voting rights restoration have said officials are doing too little to reach out to the potential voters and the multistep registration process is too complicated.

What's the latest on felons' voting rights?

Apalachicola Times

By Marcia Johnson Special to the Times

Posted September 5, 2019, at 1:07 PM Updated at 1:07 PM

A. After passage of Amendment 4, our legislature created Florida Statute 98.0751 to specifically address the amendment's implementation for felons having their voting rights restored. This law says a person must have their voting rights restored upon the completion of all terms of his or her sentence. The wording, "completion of all terms of sentence" was defined as any portion of a sentence contained in the "four corners of the sentencing document." This would include full payment of court-ordered restitution, and fines and fees that are part of the sentence, regardless of whether these have been converted to a civil lien. The legislature has passed laws that require judges to impose mandatory fines, fees, and service charges. When judges waive any of these monies, clerks of court are required to report the same to the Legislature.

Under F.S. 98.0751, completion of all terms of sentence within the four corners of the sentencing document also includes release from any term of imprisonment, termination from any term of probation or community control, and termination from any supervision.

The new law requires the department of state to make an initial determination of a voter registrant's eligibility and to forward the information to the local supervisor of elections. The department of state will compare information from the clerks of court, the board of executive clemency, the Florida Department of Corrections, and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement or U.S. Attorney's office. The local supervisor of elections shall verify and make a final determination of eligibility. This law also requires the department of corrections and county jail facility administrators to notify inmates, prisoners, and offenders of all outstanding terms of sentence at the time of release or termination of a term of supervision. The department of corrections is working with the clerks of court, and each will provide the information within the office's possession.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is a complicated matter, and many different agencies are involved in determining whether all terms of a sentence have been completed. Clerks of court can look at cases and see if there are outstanding fines and fees, but determining whether restitution is owed is another issue because clerks of court aren't always responsible for collecting restitution payments. It's not unusual for restitution payments to be a condition of probation. Clerks of court can look in cases to see if a termination of probation has been filed, but clerks of court do not have records to show when inmates have completed their prison or jail sentences, and clerks of court don't have records of inmates released on supervision and whether or not those conditions have been completed. There are questions about how the process will work. Information regarding various parts of a criminal sentence can be complex, as information about fines, incarceration, restitution payments, and probation and supervision, are housed with different agencies and in different databases. Clerks of court have access to some data, but even that data won't tell the whole story for each individual.

In accordance with CS/SB 7066, Gov. Ron DeSantis announced the appointment of members to the state's Voting Rights Task Force. The task force was a requirement within the language of the new law for the purpose of conducting a comprehensive review of the department of state's process of verifying registered voters who have been convicted of a felony but may be eligible for voting rights restoration. The task force, which includes two clerks of court, must submit a report to the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House of Representatives by Nov. 1.

As an elected clerk of court, I will follow the law. From my experience working in the clerk's office for over 40 years, I know that fines, fees, service charges, and restitution are ordered in court and are a part of the sentence. Clerks of court have court budgets approved based in part on a reliance of revenues generated from fines and fees, and we are responsible for collecting them. Clerks of court, by law, shall accept partial payments, and I do so willingly and work with our defendants to decide payments that correspond to the person's ability to pay. If a felon wants rights to vote restored and still owes fines and fees, a partial payment agreement can be set up and once paid in full, voting registration could be sought.

At this point, it is my understanding completion of a sentence is defined by all conditions imposed by the sentencing judge being met, which includes payment of all monies, any incarceration in jail or prison, and successful termination of probation and supervision, which may include terms of restitution.

Each case may be different, and clerks of court likely do not have all the information because of the various agencies involved. Clerks of court are closely monitoring this issue and working with our partners to ensure the appropriate response to the directions from the task force.

Ken Burke opened the meeting by saying how much he appreciates everyone being on the webinar.

Draft edits to the request from the Department of State for a uniform statement they can provide to the supervisors. (page 2)

- Ken – likes the alternative on the screen and asked if everyone is fine with the wording.
- Jean Sperbeck – there two alternatives, which should be used? Page 2 is only one option. The first part is the initial proposal.
- Ken – the alternative is the one we want. The first is the one that we object to, which is why we came up with new wording. The decision has been made is to go with the alternative language. Richard will communicate this to the Department of State.

Draft disclaimer concerning prior felony cases (page 3-5)

- Richard Herring stated that there has not be consensus on this. They have tried to capture 3 suggested options, but there has not been a group consensus. The options listed are the latest versions. The concern is that two of the options are specific to felons. Since this is to go on the CCIS financial data screen, there will be others looking at the screen for other purposes. We may want to go with the most generic option we can use. The first is the shortest because this has to appear on a screen with a lot of information, and it is generic. He thinks the first option would meet our needs.

- Ken – the third option is the most thorough but people are looking at this screen for many other reasons. He likes the first option.
- Matt Whyte – alternative 3 is what he drafted and was for the DOC paperwork to give to the offender. He likes alternative 2.
- Jean Sperbeck – likes option 1.
- Matt Whyte – they both convey the same ideas so either is fine.
- Ken – the consensus seems to be number 1. We will go with alternative 1 unless there are objections. With no objections, we will go with alternative 1.
- Melvin Cox – will get on it as soon as possible.
- Ken – asked Richard if he thought alternative 3 should be included on the DOC documents as discussed by Matt.
- Richard - this should have been on page 5 to be included with the DOC documents. Page 5 is an alternative to options 1 and 2 on page 3. Should all three options on page 3 and 5 be considered or sent back to combine or for further consideration?
- Ken – yes, do that and come back with the recommendations.
- Richard Herring – there has been no conference call on this issue specifically. These were proposed by individual people by email to the group.
- Ken – Ken asked Richard to work with Jean Sperbeck and Matt Whyte on this for a recommendation and then send out to the group.

Draft Advisory on providing financial information (pages 6-9)

- Ken – this will be postponed until next week. This is very important to helping Clerks with an Advisory for a standard form to use statewide. We took the Orange County document to modify it to make it better. Ken asked Jean Sperbeck to discuss her review.
- Jean Sperbeck – one issue they are still running into is the problem when there is another county with a financial obligation. Will the first county be willing to pass along the information from the second county that they are seeing in CCIS, not knowing if that information may be over stated? Will Clerk 1 be willing to call Clerk 2 to verify the information?
- Ken – no, we will rely on CCIS.
- Jean Sperbeck – On the other states bullet point, she was recommending it be reworked.
- Jean Sperbeck – a big change on the Orange County summary. It does not really clarify the voting rights restitution money versus all of the money due. There is a separate balance for clearing the driver's license. She thinks there should be some note that the driver's license can be cleared with a payment plan.
- Ken asked Karen Rushing to work with Jean and Melvin Cox on this to make sure it is right before we send it out. We can only allow a one week delay on this. Karen Rushing agreed to work on this.
- Stacy Butterfield – asked that consideration be given to putting a disclaimer regarding using another county's CCIS information and it being different.
- Ken – we have that concern but this is a customer service. We as Clerks should be providing this information when customers come in to our office. That is why we did the 10 case survey to determine if the information is correct in CCIS. We should be able to rely on the CCIS data as there were only minor discrepancies in the data.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Linda Doggett – The financials in CCIS should be accurate. The information from the survey was mostly good. There were some issues after the fact but those specific issues are being worked on. In general, the information that you see in CCIS should be what you see in CMS.
- Laura Roth – agrees when CCIS pulled data it is coming back accurately. The problem is the Restoration of Voter's rights is limited. On a lot of felony cases there are several VOPs that incur a fee. The amount that you make the payment for and the ROV rights is one amount, but the total includes all kinds of fees and charge of order was originally. That is the big problem and the biggest hurdle. Not sure how to say that except contact the Clerk's office.
- Stacy Butterfield – believes the customer service aspect. Report the financial information for our own county and then list the other counties but not the financial information.
- Ken – we need a good contact name and number for every county. The worst thing we can do is turn away people from our county who want to make right on this. This is the right thing to do, helping people who come into our office. We have to figure this out. Jean Sperbeck and Karen Rushing will work on this with Laura Roth's help.
- Melvin Cox – they need to look into this. They need go back to CMS to see how that is separating it. We may need to do some CMS work first to see what level of detail is available.
- Jean Sperbeck – still provide the CCIS information but with a caveat that the amount will be different than what is in CMS. This is the amount listed, but check with the other county to be sure.

Clerks and Supervisors of Elections – Information Sharing, Matt Whyte

Matt met with the local Supervisor of Elections to discuss what the SOE does and what information they need from us in order to complete their duties. Ken provided to the group an email that Matt sent him with a recap of the meeting.

Report from Clerk Roth, Volusia County, on Court process related to financial obligations and restoration of voting rights

Laura Roth reported that the plan did not work out as they thought it would. They came up with a streamlined plan to petition the court, but their Chief Judge is not interested in doing this at this time.

Update on the Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group (page 13-26)

- JD Peacock – The first meeting was brief. There was a presentation from the Division of Elections Chief on what the process had been to put someone on the voting rolls and what they do now. There was also a comment from a professor from Florida State. The next meeting is scheduled to be a 4-hour meeting from 10-2. He does understand that the Clerks were going to be giving a presentation.
- Ken – It was mentioned during the Task Force's first meeting that the Clerks would report on CCIS, and we left that to Richard Herring and Melvin Cox to make the presentation. We have now been told it is a 45-minute presentation which is much more extensive than CCIS, with questions about operational issues and how we handle these things. Now Richard, Ken and Chris Hart discussed how this should be approached to consider all issues. It was determined that Ken, Karen Rushing and Melvin Cox would be the team making the presentation. They are working on the information to be presented being sure to be responsive to the request but making sure that political opinions are not included. This will be shown on the Florida Chanel next Friday. An alert with the link to the channel will be sent out.

- Richard Herring - there has been a lot of work done by the Association on the presentation. Roles have been assigned. We will be able to say that all of the questions will be addressed except questions on interpretations of court rules. That is the courts and not the Clerks.
- Ken – Fred Baggett will be there if any legal questions come up to help address those. We will be responding to the Task Force but will be make sure the Clerks are property represented in the presentation.
- Melvin Cox – They have been working with Richard, Ken and Chris Hart and will be ready for the presentation next Friday.

Updates on other government entities involved in restoration of voting rights (page 10)
Other Items for Discussion

- Richard Herring - the Sheriffs are continuing to stick with their own plan of individual offices making their own decision.
- Richard Herring - the DOC is more interested in issues/problems if there are trends to be addressed although they will discuss minor questions as well that are raised.
- Ken asked Fred if he had any idea on a timetable of when the Supreme Court will respond to the Governor's request and what the Advisory means to us. Fred stated that he expects the Supreme Court to issue an advisory to the Governor within the next 30 days. This is the Supreme Court advising the Governor as to the constitutionality of the law that he signed. The real reason for his request is if the Supreme Court finds that the provisions of the implementing law are constitutional that makes the federal case much harder to prove. That is where it is. It is an Advisory Opinion not applicable to any given case to advise the Governor on the constitutionality of the bill. The timetable on the federal suit is unpredictable. It could be months before we hear anything on this.
- Ken – do we know how many Clerks have been subpoenaed, and Fred responded there were 14 as of last night. There is a call this afternoon with all the counties who have noticed the Association that they have received a subpoena. There will be a discussion with the Clerk and/or the Clerk's attorneys on the coordination of responses, making sure we are doing it in a responsible and useable manner. Ken stated that he would like to listen in on the call.

Other items for discussion:

DOC inquires made to Citrus and Pinellas concerning CCIS data

Ken – DOC does not realize what regional DOC offices are communicating with Clerks. He has been receiving individual requests from regional DOC offices. Citrus has received these as well. We have been responding to them, but it has been somewhat confusing. We need to get a library of these communications so we can put a system in place in order to see what kinds of problems/questions are being asked and to come up with consistent responses. At this point, we don't know the extent of the issues or problems. We will create an Association email address to bank these questions and responses to the DOC so that we can improve the process. An advisory will be going out to all Clerks with this address asking them to forward information to that email box.

Draft Advisory – Compile requests received from DOC (page 39)

Richard Herring – page 39 has the draft of the Advisory regarding the email box. It has not been set up yet, but it will be easy for everyone to use.

Talking point for the media (page 40)

- Richard Herring – this is a brief statement stating that the Clerks recognize the important role we play in providing information to individuals with felony convictions who would like to register to vote. Clerks are working together to ensure uniformity as we carry out the law the Legislature has passed. The idea is to stay away from editorializing. We are trying to establish a uniform response by all Clerks if they are contacted by the press.
- Ken – a preamble should go with this.
- Stacy Butterfield – agrees there needs to be a preamble.

Negotiating fees/fines/cost converted to civil judgements

- Ken – there is nothing to update on this. Jared Brooks and Kelli Merritt are working on a Best Practice for this. Clerks have so many different philosophies on this, coming up with a Best Practice on negotiating may not be possible. It may be a list of alternative suggestions.
- Karen Rushing – this would need to be something that can be applied throughout the state. We do have differences. Not everyone needs to do it in the same way, but the focus should be no everyone being treated in the same manner. The different models that are suggested in the Best Practice should be bullet proof methods with no political or biased situations that can be given to anyone. What is the legal opinion regarding Amendment 4 and civil judgements?
- Ken – that is exactly what the Work Group is looking at. We have to come up with some guidance on this.
- Tara Green – this is also a challenge on the CCOC side. She would ask that she be kept in the loop on conversations on this so this can be included in their compliance initiatives.
- Ken – asked Richard to include Tara Green in the conference calls.
- Karen Rushing – it would seem that Clerks negotiating the interest on the nonpayment is a very safe landing place. The Clerks would not be interfering in any way with the court's determination and assessment. This is a safe landing for most Clerks, which takes the bias out. She hopes the committee will consider this as this seems like one safe option to consider.
- Ken – in Pinellas County, negotiated judgements are usually tied to a real estate deal or a beneficiary.

Sentencing Documents

- Ken – we need to collect sentencing documents/forms from the Clerks in order to show the different wording that is being used. There is an AO in Pinellas County directing the Clerk to enter a civil judgement for all fines and fees.
- Karen Rushing – agreed that this would be helpful. The issue is that there are various documents entered at the time of sentencing to encompass the entire sentence.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Ken – how do we handle this as the Quick Response Team?
- Karen Rushing – will send a sample to send out to clerks. Small, medium and large.
- Jean Sperbeck – Karen's point is a good one. In their county, there is a separate order for monetary terms.
- Richard Herring – refer people to Florida 3.986, which lists the form related to judgement and sentence.

Tom Harmer reported that Carolyn Timmann is still on schedule for her deposition in Tallahassee.

Ken ended the meeting by thanking the group for being on the call today. We have made some progress today, and will make even better progress on the next call.

Subject: Board meeting - Amendment 4 QRT Report

Chris and Sharon,

Unfortunately, I will be unable to participate in the Board Meeting tomorrow.

You have me down on the agenda to give an amendment 4 quick response team report. There is really not much to report. There are two big issues.

Issue 1:
One deals with the Supervisors of Elections and the Florida Dept of State. I have had communication with Ron Labasky. He represents the Supervisors in Tallahassee. We agreed to stay in contact. He suggested a workgroup of Clerks and Supervisors to work on joint issues. I said we would like that and our QRT would be glad to work with his Association. He did say the Dept of State is the organization that reviews voter registration applications and disqualifies applicants for a variety of possible reasons. The rejected application is sent back to the local Supervisor to make contact. He also stated the voter registration form will be revised. The revision will need to go through the administrative rule making process and will take months. We also talked about the possibility of clerks creating a uniform form when a convicted felon comes to a clerk's office and makes an inquiry about his/her outstanding fines and fees.

Issue #2:
The second issues deals with Clerks negotiating court fines and fees owed that have been converted into civil liens. I did a quick survey of a few counties. If that small sample is an indicator of the state, we are all over the place – from no negotiating to a county having very thorough procedures on the negotiating of liens. It will be quite a challenge to get clerks on the same page on this issue. The first challenge of the QRT is to do additional research on the variety of practices currently employed by Clerks.

Hope this helps. Let me know if the QRT is headed in the wrong direction and needs to take a turn.

In my absence, you may want to communicate the two points contained in this email. Tara and Tiffany have been updated through emails and can make comments if you think appropriate.

FCCC Board of Directors Meeting
Thursday, September 19, 2019

Item 8: DL Reinstatement QRT……..…The Honorable Tara S. Green, Chair

The purpose of this report is to provide an update to the Board of Directors on the activities of the DL Reinstatement Quick Response Team (QRT) since the Board's last meeting.

As a reminder, during that meeting, the Board approved the QRT's recommendations related to an event timeframe—Saturday, October 12 – Saturday, October 19, 2019—and event parameters:

1) allowing for the waiver of collection agency fees for full payment; and
2) allowing for the establishment of payment plans—regardless of the number of times an individual may have already been on a payment plan—and reinstating the license at the time the payment plan is established.

This information was communicated to all Clerks via Advisory Bulletin 19-077.

The QRT next met on Tuesday, September 10, via WebEx, to provide input on the statewide and local event communications materials that have been developed by the FCCC Legislative & Public Affairs team, branded as Operation Green Light, finalize the Clerk Participation Survey, and provide final input on the draft CCOC Reporting Form that has been developed pursuant to law.

Survey Results:

- 56 counties responded
  - 48 counties will participate during the established Operation Green Light timeframe; 8 counties will not
- Of the 48 counties that will participate:
  - 10 counties will hold their events on Saturday, October 12, only
  - 1 county will hold their event on Saturday, October 19, only
  - 12 counties will hold their events during regular business hours
  - 13 counties will hold their events during the week and also offer extended hours
  - 10 counties will hold an event on a Saturday and during the week (three of these counties selected Saturday, October 19)
  - 2 counties are undecided at this time
- Of the 8 counties that will not participate:
  - 6 counties are planning events, but will hold them either later in 2019 or in early 2020
  - 2 counties did not indicate planned events

Communications Materials:

FCCC has developed a robust toolkit of reference files and promotional materials to make each Clerk's event as successful as possible. These materials are currently available online via FCCC's website at: https://www.flclerks.com/general/custom.asp?page=GreenLightToolkit

This week FCCC held two, well attended WebEx trainings for the purpose of explaining the available materials and to answer any questions Clerks' office may have. In addition, FCCC is offering an up to $500 reimbursement for promotional materials to each office that plans to hold its event during the recommended dates.

Next Steps:

- Next QRT meeting will be held during the week of September 23, and additional trainings may be scheduled for all Clerks
- Phase II of Communications Materials, including an external-facing website; customizable social media content, announcement video and statewide press release; reach out to each office's event liaison to discuss specific needs; and more

President's Message

President Stacy Butterfield began by having the Board recite the Vision Statement, "To be recognized as the premier model of exceptional government." President Butterfield thanked the Board members that were able to join the meeting in person, those who were attending via WebEx, and all Clerks participating in the meeting. President Butterfield noted it was a busy week in Tallahassee with the first Interim Legislative Committee Week and thanked the Clerks who have been in Tallahassee to make presentations this week, including the Honorable Carolyn Timmann, the Honorable Ken Burke and the Honorable Karen Rushing. President Butterfield reminded everyone that the 2019 Fall Conference will be held at the TradeWinds in St. Pete Beach, October 1-4, and that the Executive Session for this conference will be held on October 1 at 10:30 a.m., as part of the pre-conference meeting day. President Butterfield noted that the Strategic Technology Committee is meeting today at 2 p.m. at the FCCC office following this meeting. President Butterfield ended her report by thanking Clerks, Clerk staff, and the FCCC professional team for their hard work with all the many projects currently taking place.

CEO Message

Chris Hart made the Board aware of a class action lawsuit filed on September 12, 2019, against CiviTek, CNI, and FCCC. The lawsuit was filed in Seminole and Orange counties. The lawsuit states that the 3.5 percent convenience fee, for credit card transactions, is excessive. Mr. Hart stated that he consulted with President

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001423

Butterfield and the Executive Committee and the decision was made to hire Barry Richard, Esq., and John Londot, Esq., of Greenberg Traurig. There was discussion on a Clerk media response and Mr. Hart stated that the FCCC Communications Team has been working with both Moore Communications and Greenberg Traurig to prepare a statement for Clerks to use in responding to possible media inquiries.

Mr. Hart then spoke to Clerks Care, the Bahamas relief effort initiated by the Honorable Joseph Smith. Clerk Smith wanted to create an initiative to assist the Registrars and the court system in the Bahamas affected by Hurricane Dorian. If the Board is agreeable, an advisory will be sent to all Clerks with the link to a GoFundMe account and logos for posting on social media. There was discussion on other fundraisers and relief efforts that Clerks have been participating in as well related to Hurricane Dorian. The Honorable Carolyn Timmann added that, in addition to monetary help, the Florida Clerks could also provide advice and/or technical assistance and support to assist the court system in the Bahamas while they are restoring service. The Board was agreeable with the Clerks Care initiative, and Mr. Hart stated that an advisory will be sent out today including the GoFundMe link and Clerks Care logo.

Mr. Hart referenced Advisory 19-087, DHSMV – Medical Review Program, as a follow-up to a recent e-mail from the Honorable Angela Vick, making FCCC aware of a letter from the Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles (DHSMV). FCCC contacted Mr. William R. Graves, DHSMV Chief, Bureau of Motorist Compliance, who provided that the letter was sent to all Clerks, Judges, and State Attorneys as an informational reminder of DHSMV's Medical Review Program. Mr. Hart encouraged all Clerks to read this advisory.

Mr. Hart provided an update on CertiClerk, the Learning Management System, which will launch by October. Mr. Hart also noted there will be demonstrations of this system available during the 2019 Fall Conference.

Mr. Hart spoke to the multiple Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability (OPPAGA) studies taking place. Specifically, he noted that FCCC has been working with OPPAGA on a request that OPPAGA received to review the practice of imposing fines, fees, and costs in criminal cases in Florida. This project is separate and apart from the ongoing study of Clerks' offices that is being conducted by MGT Consulting Group. As part of OPPAGA's review, the association has provided a number of materials to assist in OPPAGA's research, including the annual Distribution Schedule of Court-Related Filing Fees, Service Charges, Costs and Fines, the annual Assessments and Collections Report, and the current version of the Mandatory/Discretionary Form Matrix. To supplement this research, OPPAGA provided the final parameters of a CCIS data request for certain information related to criminal felony and misdemeanor cases where the Clerk File Data was on or after July 1, 2010. Following discussion with President Butterfield, this request was determined to meet the existing CCIS Reporting Process for requests from the Legislature, and the information will be provided to OPPAGA via File Transfer Protocol (FTP) by OPPAGA's deadline to receive the information. Mr. Hart stated an advisory will be sent out with information on this.

The Honorable Ken Burke inquired about the status of the audit that included the engagement of the firm Warren Averett to review the internal controls around purchasing/internal credit card programs and conference administration. Brian Machek provided that Warren Averett was onsite and met with FCCC staff this week and is currently working on the audit findings. Mr. Machek stated that Warren Averett should be providing the report by mid to late October. President Butterfield then asked for the scope of this audit, as the Audit Committee will be meeting on Monday. Clerk Burke also asked whether the audit is going to specifically look at whether fraud has been committed, or just review the internal controls. Chris Hart stated that this is an in-depth audit, and includes looking at personnel files.

FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001424

ACTION ITEM:

Item 1: Joint Rule 2.420/Amendment 6 QRT recommended position

The Honorable Ken Burke, Chair of the Rule 2.420 Quick Response Team (QRT), provided an update on the constitutional mandate made by the adoption of Amendment 6 (Marsy's Law), and applauded the Honorable Laura Roth for drafting the recommended Clerk position on the protection of victim information pursuant to Marsy's Law. Clerk Burke noted that after Board approval, this draft will be sent to all Clerks in an advisory. This will then be presented by the Amendment 6 (Marsy's Law) QRT, in conjunction with the Rule 2.420 QRT, to the Rules of Judicial Administration Committee (RJAC) at the October 18, 2019 meeting at 1:00 pm at the Tampa Airport Marriott. Clerk Burke added that all Clerks are invited to attend this meeting.

Discussion followed regarding the opportunity to add wording that would support automated redaction. Per the Honorable Laura Roth, at this time, the way redaction will be performed has not been decided. The Honorable Carolyn Timmann added that this would be handled through criminal data transparency and the opt-in form. Clerk Timmann added that she would like a way to flag a case that has an opt-in form for victims. The Honorable Linda Doggett referenced the Notice of Confidential Information (NCI) form. Clerk Timmann questioned if this form would include the data fields. Clerk Timmann also suggested these data fields be coordinated with the uniform arrest affidavit. President Butterfield summarized by stating the information presented today will be sent to all Clerks in an advisory and will then be an item for discussion on the agenda for the October 1, 2019 Executive Session at the 2019 Fall Conference.

MOTION: The Honorable John Crawford made a motion to accept the recommended Clerks' position and work of the Joint Rule 2.420/Amendment 6 QRT team as presented with the updated language. The Honorable Linda Doggett seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

Clerk Timmann then noted that in the section of the Clerks' position:

> E.) Clerks recommend that the RJA adopt language to Rule 2.420 and Rule 2.425 that would:
> a. Require law enforcement agencies to file the victim opt-in form with the case initiating documents so that protection can be accomplished from case inception;

Clerk Timmann said this section should include wording about 'victim opt-in form at case inception.' Clerk Roth said that Clerk Timmann's concern is addressed in the actual rule language. Clerk Roth stated that a. and b. under section E.) should be read together:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001425

a. Require law enforcement agencies to file the victim opt-in form with the case initiating documents so that protection can be accomplished from case inception;
b. Authorize Clerks to redact victim identifying information from the victim opt-in form and the case initiating documents upon the filing of a victim opt-in form at case inception;

After further discussion, it was decided that the language in a. would be changed to the following:

a. Require law enforcement agencies to file the victim opt-in form with the case initiating documents, or upon receipt, so that protection can be accomplished from case inception;

Item 2: FCCC Committee Charter Revisions
Sean Hudson presented the proposed changes to the Court Operations Subcommittee Charter. Mr. Hudson stated that the subcommittee discussed changing its status to that of a full committee in order to streamline the approval process for the major issues and standard work products that must be sent to the Board. The name would be changed from Court Operations Subcommittee to Court Operations Committee and would report to the Board of Directors instead of the Best Practices Committee. The committee would now have two workgroups: the Matrix workgroup and the Assessment & Collections workgroup.

MOTION: The Honorable Marcia Johnson made a motion to accept the Court Operations Committee Charter with the changes as presented. The Honorable Linda Doggett seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

Item 3: 2019 Mandatory/Discretionary Matrix
Sara Sanders explained that the Court Operations Subcommittee met on September 11, 2019, and approved the Mandatory/Discretionary Form Matrix, which includes revisions reflective of the changes made by the 2019 Legislature. Ms. Sanders also presented the 2019 Mandatory/Discretionary Form Matrix Line-by-Line Changes Guide. With the Board's approval, the Matrix will be submitted to the Florida Supreme Court by October 1, as required each year pursuant to s. 28.2457, F.S.

MOTION: The Honorable Marcia Johnson made a motion to accept the 2019 Mandatory/Discretionary Matrix with the changes as presented. The Honorable Barry Baker seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

COMMITTEE AND QRT REPORTS:
Item 8: DL Reinstatement QRT
The Honorable Tara Green, Chair, reported that during the August 27, 2019 Board meeting the Board approved the QRT's recommendations related to the Operation Green Light event timeframe, which will be Saturday, October 12 – Saturday, October 19, 2019, and event parameters that will allow for the waiver of collection agency fees for full payment and allow for the establishment of payment plans—regardless of the number of times an individual may have already been on a payment plan—and reinstating the license at the time the payment plan is established. This information was communicated to all Clerks via Advisory Bulletin 19-077.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001426

The QRT next met on Tuesday, September 10, 2019, via WebEx, to provide input on the statewide and local event communications materials that have been developed by the FCCC Legislative & Public Affairs team, branded as Operation Green Light, finalize the Clerk Participation Survey, and provide final input on the draft CCOC Reporting Form that has been developed pursuant to law. After analyzing the survey responses, of the 59 counties that responded, to date, 50 counties will participate during the established Operation Green Light timeframe; eight counties will not.

Chair Green added that FCCC has developed a robust toolkit of reference files and promotional materials to make each Clerk's event as successful as possible, and these materials are currently available online via FCCC's website. This week, FCCC held two, well attended WebEx trainings for the purpose of explaining the available materials and to answer any questions Clerks' office may have. In addition, FCCC is offering an up to $500 reimbursement for promotional materials to each office that plans to hold its event during the recommended dates. Chair Green concluded her report by announcing that the next QRT meeting will be held during the week of September 23, and additional trainings may be scheduled for all Clerks. Phase II of Communications Materials will include an external-facing website, customizable social media content, an announcement video, and statewide press release.

Melvin Cox added that the FCCC Service Desk will be staffed during the Operation Green Light hours on October 12 and October 19. Mr. Cox added that those Clerks who are offering extended hours during the week can request Service Desk support as well.

The Honorable Ken Burke, Chair, inquired as to what the mechanism for monthly reporting on the payment plans will be, so that this can be presented to the legislature. Clerk Green stated that these reporting requirements will be discussed during the FCCC/CCOC Compliance Summit scheduled in October.

President Butterfield added that Operation Green Light will also be discussed during the Executive Session at Fall Conference.

Item 7: Amendment 4 QRT

The Honorable Ken Burke reported that the Amendment 4 QRT is working on a Best Practice for negotiations on fines and fees and costs allowed by the Clerks for Criminal Judgments converted to Civil Liens. Disclaimer language has been created to facilitate communications between Clerks and the Department of Corrections (DOC). The QRT is also currently working on an advisory with instructions for providing financial information for customers who contact Clerks regarding the money they owe, including a uniform form to provide to customers. The QRT has also requested the different sentencing documents issued throughout the state. At this time, forty counties have provided these documents for review. Clerk Burke thanked Melvin Cox and the Honorable Karen Rushing for presenting Monday in front of the Restoration of Voting Rights Task Force.

The Honorable Marcia Johnson said that after listening to the presentation on Monday, she has concern with Clerks being responsible for collecting restitution. Clerk Burke stated the Clerks do not want to take on any unfunded duties. Clerk Burke added the Amendment 4 QRT is not advocating for this, or anything adverse of the statute.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001427

Item 4: Education Committee

The Honorable Carolyn Timmann presented the report and noted that the Education Committee last met on July 24, with all members in attendance. During this meeting there was discussion on how to refocus and rejuvenate conference topics and sessions. One suggestion was adding the Attorney General's office as a speaker during the Collections Summit. Clerk Timmann noted this was successful and that Chief of Staff, Emery Gainey, a former Sheriff, now in charge of victim's collections at the Attorney General's office, will be in attendance. The committee reached out to the Florida Fish and Wildlife Commission (FWC), but due to the timing of the FWC Conference, they will not attend the FCCC Fall Conference, but will attend a future conference. Clerk Timmann noted other possible topics include Sovereign Citizens, eCertification, electronic destruction of records, and homeland security. Clerk Timmann added that the Honorable Armando Ramirez had expressed concern regarding funding related to documentary stamps, and suggested that it be considered as a topic, and it was noted that there is a session scheduled for Documentary Stamp and Intangible Tax at which attorneys may be present, and concerns may be addressed at that session. Clerk Timmann noted that Representative Chris Sprowls, Representative Will Robinson, Jr., and Representative Scott Plakon will all be attending the 2019 Fall Conference. Clerk Timmann noted the New Clerk Academy will be meeting again in December 2019 and in April 2020.

Sean Hudson also noted that the Education Committee suggested that specific committees contribute suggestions for the continuing education of Clerks, based on the work of their committees, which would help build the curriculum for conferences.

President Butterfield asked that all Clerks, in their various committees, coordinate requests for conference speakers with the Honorable Barry Baker, Conference Committee Chair.

Item 5: Bylaws Committee

The Honorable JD Peacock II, Chair, presented the report and noted that the Bylaws Committee last met on September 10, 2019, and reviewed the charter and set objectives for the year. The Bylaws Committee looked at the recommendations from last year to review all committee structures. The committee voted to recommend an update to the 2019 Bylaws, replacing the title of Executive Director with the title of Chief Executive Officer throughout the document. Clerk Peacock reported that on August 27, 2019, the Board of Directors approved expanding charter duties and changing the name of the Comptroller Subcommittee to the Comptroller and Clerk to Board Committee. Clerk Peacock stated the committee requests the Board to place this recommended change to the Bylaws on the FCCC Fall Conference Executive Session agenda for a member vote.

Item 6: Legislative Committee

The Honorable Tom Bexley, Chair, stated that this is the first Legislative Committee week, and the first Legislative Update WebEx will be held tomorrow. Clerk Bexley added that all the priorities that Clerks previously approved are moving forward and this week there have been meetings with members to get the two bills filed and moving.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Clerk Bexley stated that some issues have come up that need Board attention and asked Jason Harrell to present these for consideration. Mr. Harrell then spoke to the issue of compliance and more specifically driver license suspensions. This remains a policy goal of the Legislature. Given this, there have been discussions with both the FCCC CEO and President and the contract lobbyists to try to find a way to get Clerks in a better position on this issue. The idea is to pitch the idea of Clerks being able to reduce and prevent suspensions by various news ways of increasing and focusing on compliance. This could include some technology advancements such as texting notifications, more payment locations, and some economies of scale opportunities. These details still need to be determined. It first involves education on that opportunity and then perhaps if the momentum and opportunity are there, moving towards some proviso language for a pilot project with some potential technology requests. This is still an idea in the beginning stages. But it does have tremendous opportunity to put Clerks in a much better position as part of an innovative solution.

Mr. Harrell stated that the next issue for attention by the Board is guardianship, and this week there have been several very high-level meetings with the House, Senate, and Governor's office. Mr. Harrell noted they are all very interested in a guardianship solution this year. Mr. Harrell added that the Honorable Sharon Bock was in attendance to provide her expertise. This is an issue that Clerks need to be out in front of and have the authority to work for Clerks' interests in this matter. Mr. Harrell proposed that as the House, Senate, and Governor develop their solution, the goals of the Clerks would be to protect the Clerks' role in the guardianship process, not allowing the role to be diminished, offer Clerks and specifically the alliance and existing technologies as a resource to be utilized in any legislative solution, and advocate toward a collaborative solution with all guardianship stakeholders, potentially including the creation this year of a "taskforce" via joint legislation. Mr. Harrell stated he doesn't anticipate this will be a Clerk bill. The details will be vetted through the Legislative Committee.

Clerk Bexley concluded the report by recommending these issues be part of the legislative agenda this year and after the Legislative Committee considers the issues next week, they will be brought back to the Board. President Butterfield added that there will be a legislative committee meeting to discuss these two items and all Clerks will be invited.

OTHER BUSINESS AND GENERAL DISCUSSION:

Closing Comments:

The Honorable Marcia Johnson voiced her opinion that the CiviTek Retreat need not be held again this year, based on the attendance numbers this past year.

Chris Hart reminded Clerks of the opportunity to opt in to receive all e-mails from the Legislative and Public Affairs team regarding legislative activity during the interim committee weeks and legislative session.

President Butterfield then asked for a motion to ratify the motions that were approved in the Board meeting.

MOTION: The Honorable Carolyn Timmann made a motion to ratify the motions approved today. The Honorable Marcia Johnson seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

President Butterfield reminded everyone that the Strategic Technology meeting is being held at 2 p.m. today. President Butterfield also added that the next Board meeting is scheduled for November 7, but a decision needs to be made whether to hold this meeting as a WebEx or as an in-person meeting, possibly in conjunction with Clerks at the Capitol Day in Tallahassee. President Butterfield will have FCCC send a Doodle poll to all Board members regarding holding an in-person meeting, and/or possibly moving the date to November 4, 2019.

The meeting concluded with the recitation of the FCCC Mission, "United statewide to protect the public trust."

With no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 12:19 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Financial Reports discussion points:

Year to Date Operating Results

The September operating loss is $(225,000).

For fiscal year 2019-2020, CiviTek will not be paying a monthly predetermined dividend/distribution to FCCC. We will instead transfer cash in the form of an intercompany receivable/payable as needed. In the prior year, this dividend was displayed as monthly revenue. Since the cash distributions will be a payable vs. revenues, the financial statement will more regularly reflect a monthly operating loss.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Executive Summary

Once every twenty years, Florida's Constitution provides for the creation of a thirty-seven member revision commission for the purpose of reviewing Florida's Constitution and proposing changes for voter consideration. The Commission meets for approximately one year, traveling the State of Florida, identifying issues, performing research, and possibly recommending changes to the Constitution. When the Commission met in 1998, among consideration of many other suggestions, they proposed shifting the funding of the court system from the counties to the state. As such, section 14 of Article V of the State Constitution was created and ratified by the voters to read:

> SECTION 14. Funding.—
> (b) All funding for the offices of the clerks of the circuit and county courts performing court-related functions, except as otherwise provided in this subsection and subsection (c), shall be provided by adequate and appropriate filing fees for judicial proceedings and service charges and costs for performing court-related functions as required by general law. Selected salaries, costs, and expenses of the state courts system may be funded from appropriate filing fees for judicial proceedings and service charges and costs for performing court-related functions, as provided by general law. Where the requirements of either the United States Constitution or the Constitution of the State of Florida preclude the imposition of filing fees for judicial proceedings and service charges and costs for performing court-related functions sufficient to fund the court-related functions of the offices of the clerks of the circuit and county courts, the state shall provide, as determined by the legislature, adequate and appropriate supplemental funding from state revenues appropriated by general law. (emphasis added)

The fundamental shift from county funding to being a self-funded office was a major change to how the state, and the local governments, did business. Through a newly formed entity, the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation ("CCOC"), Clerks were required to send all collections from the court-side operations to the state to get their shares returned to cover the costs of their offices.

The 2004 laws enacted to codify the changes made to Article V of the State Constitution, not only raised filing fees and associated charges, but were drafted to provide flexibility for Clerks in setting amounts adequate to cover the cost of running their office.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Prior to that time, the statutes had been written like this 2003 circuit civil filing fee:

> 28.241 (1)(a) The party instituting any civil action, suit, or proceeding in the circuit court shall pay to the clerk of that court a service charge of $40 in all cases in which there are not more than five defendants and an additional service charge of $2 for each defendant in excess of five. An additional service charge of $10 shall be paid by the party seeking each severance that is granted. An additional service charge of $35 shall be paid to the clerk for all proceedings of garnishment, attachment, replevin, and distress. An additional service charge of $8 shall be paid to the clerk for each civil action filed, $7 of such charge to be remitted by the clerk to the Department of Revenue for deposit into the General Revenue Fund unallocated. An additional charge of $2.50 shall be paid to the clerk for each civil action brought in circuit or county court, to be remitted by the clerk to the Department of Revenue for deposit into the Court Education Trust Fund.

The cost of filing a circuit civil action in 2003, and before, was $40 with additional service charges of $8, mostly for General Revenue, and $2.50 for Court Education.

Statutes were amended by the 2004 Legislature to read as seen in the following passage:

> 28.241(1)(a)1.a. ...the party instituting any civil action, suit, or proceeding in the circuit court shall pay to the clerk of that court a filing fee of up to $395 in all cases in which there are not more than five defendants and an additional filing fee of up to $2.50 for each defendant in excess of five. Of the first $200 in filing fees, $195 must be remitted to the Department of Revenue for deposit into the State Courts Revenue Trust Fund, $4 must be remitted to the Department of Revenue for deposit into the Administrative Trust Fund within the Department of Financial Services and used to fund the contract with the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation created in s. 28.35, and $1 must be remitted to the Department of Revenue for deposit into the Administrative Trust Fund within the Department of Financial Services to fund audits of individual clerks' court-related expenditures conducted by the Department of Financial Services. By the 10th of each month, the clerk shall submit that portion of the filing fees collected in the previous month which is in excess of one-twelfth of the clerk's total budget to the Department of Revenue for deposit into the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund.

The circuit civil filing fee was increased to $395, $195 of which would be used to fund the state courts system and $195 retained to fund the office of the Clerk. The court education fees were moved in another section of law and increased to $3.50.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The words “up to” were added in many places; overall the fees were greatly increased, and, as can be seen in the above two sections, many of the portions of the fees were sent to other trust funds, not just retained by the Clerk. Along with the new fees came a need for a statewide manual to provide guidance on how Clerks' offices would impose these fees consistently.

With the wording in the new statutes reading that fees were to be charged "up to" specified amounts, Clerks struggled with what should be charged in each county but that dilemma was solved by the Clerks collectively at a 2004 meeting of Florida’s Clerks of the Court. They agreed that the fees charged in all counties should be the same amounts. They felt it would help the users of the court system avoid confusion from county to county and help the CCOC better budget for anticipated statewide revenue and need.

The Distribution Schedule of Court-Related Filing Fees, Service Charges, Costs and Fines was created in 2004 to address this need and to locate all the new fees, service charges and costs, and show where they should be distributed. A work group of Clerks’ staff, specialists in the various court areas, was assembled in the later fall of 2004 and the Distribution Schedule of Court-Related Filing Fees, Service Charges, Costs and Fines was created. The work group used the remittance forms provided by the Florida Department of Revenue (DOR) to assist with their task. Having a statewide manual to be used by all Clerks was beneficial to clarify for customers what Clerks were charging for all filings fees, service charges, costs and fines, but also, to provide a uniform, statewide guide for Clerks.

In 2001, a new law required DOR to develop a website for the Clerks’ transmission of all monies due to the state. The remittance site, called the Clerk of Court Revenue Remittance System (CCRRS), was implemented the following year and was an immediate success. Clerks adapted to it readily and were able to accurately remit funds—no more checkwriting to the various state agencies. The law is shown below:

> 28.245 Transmittal of funds to Department of Revenue; uniform remittance form required.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all moneys collected by the clerks of the court as part of the clerk’s court-related functions for subsequent distribution to any state entity must be transmitted electronically, by the 10th day of the month immediately after the month in which the moneys are collected, to the Department of Revenue for appropriate distribution. A uniform remittance form provided by the Department of Revenue detailing the specific amounts due each fund must accompany such submittal. All moneys collected by the clerks of court for remittance to any entity must be distributed pursuant to the law in effect at the time of collection. (emphasis added)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The CCRRS worksheets constitute the “uniform remittance form” and seemed to dovetail into the need for a “uniform” fee schedule so that the amount of monies due each fund was much easier to determine in the local systems.

In the mid-2000s, codes linking the fine or fee breakouts in the Schedule to the CCRRS worksheets were added, such as FF51 or AC2. This addition allowed Clerks to code their financial systems in a similar manner to match to the line of the remittance worksheet that the money should be placed on, providing closer accuracy in remitting and an audit trail flowing through the local cashiering systems. Section 28.246(5), Fla. Stat., was added to require that fees collected were to be prioritized, so that monies were sent to the State General Revenue first, before those due to other court system stakeholders, or to local programs.

The priority numbers were included in the schedule at the head of each section, as seen below, and beside each line.

CODE: 28.246(5)(a)-	348 COURT-RELATED REVENUES	F=FILING FEE
PARTIAL PAYMENT	400 CIRCUIT CIVIL	S=SERV CHRG/OTHER FEE
PRIORITY	410 FILING FEES	P= FINE/PENALTY
1. DOR/GEN FUND	420 SERVICE CHARGES	C=COURT COST
2. CLERK OF COURT	430 COURT COST	M=MANDATORY
3. STATE TRUST		D=DISCRETIONARY
4. LOCAL	480 FEE & SERVICE CHARGES-SUPPORT

It is worthwhile to note that the “F/M” seen to the right of each fine or fee in the Distribution Schedule has meaning. For example, a penalty that has “P/D” to the right of the amount, implies that the Penalty is Discretionary. For some time, the association has provided a manual, called the “Mandatory/Discretionary Form Matrix” showing what monetary assessments must be imposed by the court, those that are denoted by the statutes as “Mandatory,” and which ones could be handled by the court as a “Discretionary” assessment. The “P/D” or “F/M” notation help link the Distribution Schedule and the Mandatory/Discretionary Matrix.

Letters to the immediate left of each line denoting local revenue (lr), court-related revenue (cr) and core court (cc) revenue were added to allow the court system stakeholders a better idea of what monies directly funded the court system.

Further, although not required by law, a section was added to the manual in 2011 to document recording fees for Clerks.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The most major change to the chart came with chapter 2008-111, Laws of Florida, where the Legislature again increased a number of fees and charges. The intention was to create more revenue, but not for the Clerks - for State General Revenue. To make sure the Clerks could not retain or otherwise account for any of the monies, the final section was added to the bill directing its usage:

> Section 47. Notwithstanding s. 28.36, Florida Statutes, the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation may not approve increases to the clerks' budgets based on increased revenue generated under this act. The corporation may increase the clerks' budgets in the aggregate by $1,188,184 for the period from July 1, 2008, through September 30, 2008, and $3,564,551 for the period from October 1, 2008, through June 30, 2009, for the increased duties related to paying jurors and juror meals and lodging expenses as provided in this act. These budget increases shall be considered as part of the recurring base budget of the clerks for future budgets approved pursuant to s. 28.36, Florida Statutes. (emphasis added)

The Clerk was required to collect the new fee totals, but could only retain and account for the previous amounts in his or her budget; the additional portion had to be sent to the state. As such, the Distribution Schedule had to show these fees in two parts, one that stayed with the Clerk and one that went to the State General Revenue Fund. Throughout the schedule lines can be seen like this:

SEVERANCE

cc	2	410	SEVERANCE/CLERK	$15.00	F/M	FF51	28.241(1)(a)1.c., 2.e.
cr	1	LIABILITY	CLERK OF COURT T.F/DOR/GEN FUND	$ 3.00	F/M	FF50	28.241(1)(a)1.c., 2.e.

In 2019, HB 337 codifed remitting these portions of the fees to the State General Revenue fund.

While the Distribution Schedule presents a unified approach, it also captures local assessments, like the one in s. 318.18 (14), Fla. Stat., the local government assessment of up to $15 for any infraction or violation for the purpose of replacing fine revenue in the Clerk's Fine and Forfeiture Fund.

Thus, while the Distribution Schedule provides a base for all Clerk fees, some Clerk's schedules may be slightly differnt from the statewide schedule.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Distribution Schedule was codified in Florida law in 2012 to endorse the manual as a product of the Clerk of Court and their Association.

28.42 Manual of filing fees, charges, costs, and fines.—The clerks of court, through their association and in consultation with the Office of the State Courts Administrator, shall prepare and disseminate a manual of filing fees, service charges, costs, and fines imposed pursuant to state law, for each type of action and offense, and classified as mandatory or discretionary. The manual also shall classify the fee, charge, cost, or fine as court-related revenue or noncourt-related revenue. The clerks, through their association, shall disseminate this manual to the chief judge, state attorney, public defender, and court administrator in each circuit and to the clerk of the court in each county. The clerks, through their association and in consultation with the Office of the State Courts Administrator, shall at a minimum update and disseminate this manual on July 1 of each year.

The Association staff coordinates with the Department of Revenue staff to make sure that all lines tie to the remittance worksheets. DOR revises the Clerk of Court Revenue Remittance System website to match. The Schedule is also compared with the Mandatory/Discretionary Form Matrix.

The Distribution Schedule is a living document. It has withstood the test of time and the base document has changed little, although many fines, fee areas and other breakouts have been added, along with changes to reflect yearly revisions to the laws. Every now and then, Clerk's staff may suggest an area that should be added or revised; many times, the change is suggested to an area that has been unchanged since 2004, but over the last decade or so, the workflow or business practice may have changed, necessitating revision.

The Distribution Schedule has been widely recognized and accepted by the Legislature, the trial courts, and local offices. Please use this document as a guide for setting up financial systems, fee calculations and implementing the laws of Florida.

DATE: November 4, 2019

SUBJECT: Best Practices Committee approved the following recommendations on September 20, 2019 and requests the Board of Directors to make the final approval.

Request to Redact Personal Information (Amended)

- "Home Address" exemptions includes so much more than a street address.
- Check boxes were added to the Request for Redaction form so that the requestor can select what information to redact, instead of unknowingly having every option redacted.

Judicial Case Status Table (New)

Developed in response to AOSC 12-20 Trial Court Case Definitional Framework, which requires that certain events dictate the status of court cases. This framework is intended to replace the current system of SRS reporting and is the uniform case reporting. This best practice and the judicial case status table are intended to establish a simplified, programmable methodology for identifying key events and the resulting case status associated with those events. The BPW reviewed the processes and work w/the Data Quality Workgroup to provide this committee with a joint recommendation.

Marriage License (New)

- Fees made uniform - Consistent fees across all the counties: $86.00 License application fee without premarital course discount and $61 with premarital course discount; $30 Amended license fee; $30 duplicate license fee; Ceremonial fee $30.00.
- New rules on minors clarified - No one under the age of 17 can marry. If the party is 17, they must have the written consent of their parents and the older party cannot be more than 2 years older than the minor to the DAY.
- Absent applicants addressed - Determine whether your office will issue licenses when one or both of the applicants are unable to appear at the clerk's office.
- Capacity issues addressed - Judge and clerk can issue a license if there appears to be no impediment to the marriage (clerk must accept the application but is not required to issue the license if there is an impediment to marriage).
- Identification and Social Security Number addressed
- Handling marriage licenses when amended, lost, or duplicated

PURPOSE: Operational Consistency

Viewable on Request (VOR) - to ensure that information is properly removed prior to public access, some case types and document types have a special electronic security called viewable on request. Selecting an image of a court document in cases or documents coded viewable on request will not allow the user to view the record at that point. Instead, a request is generated to a clerk, who performs a second examination of the document to remove personal identification information and information about the victims of sexual or child abuse crimes. After the clerk has completed, the requestor then receives a notice that the document is available for viewing. Once a document has been requested and reviewed, it is available for all future access without requiring a request/review.

Example (Revised for Clerk Review Purposes)

A motion to modify child support is filed on June 15, putting the case in reopen active status and starting a case reopen event block. On June 20, the other former spouse files a motion to modify time sharing, which should be tracked separately like counts, but is part of the existing case reopen event block. On June 23, an order is entered, however, the clerk does not know from the title of the document whether it disposes the 1st motion, the 2nd motion or both motions. If it disposes all pending motions, the case goes to reclosed status. However, if the order only disposes of one of the motions, then the case remains in a reopened active status because one motion is still pending, though tracking which motion might not be possible. If a second order resolves the remaining motion (it might not), then the case goes into reclosed status. Though there were two post-judgment motions, they constitntue only one case reopen block. If 3rd motion is filed after the case was reclosed, the case goes back to reopened active status and starts a second case reopen block.

Best Practice:

Judicial Case Status Table Guidelines

(Category: Consistency)

Background: AOSC14-20, Trial Court Case Event Definitional Framework, requires that certain events will dictate the status of court cases. This framework is intended to replace the current SRS system of case reporting and is the Uniform Case Reporting or UCR.

This best practice and the Judicial Case Status Table are intended to establish a simplified, programmable methodology for identifying key events and the resulting case status associated with those events.

There are three attachments. One is the Judicial Case Status Table. The other two are the Trial Court Case Event Definitional Framework from the administrative order and the Uniform Case Reporting (UCR) Project Data Collection Specification.

Definitions:

A. Judicial Case Status Table: A table similar in design to the Access Security Matrix, identifying events and case types and the resulting case status. This table only addresses the status of a case for judicial purposes, not for clerk purposes. As a result, a case that no longer requires court action may still be active for clerk purposes as the clerk is required to do additional work on the case, such as processing a foreclosure sale after the foreclosure judgment is entered.
B. Event: A filing or recordable court action that changes the status of a case. For example, the filing of a new complaint creates a new case in open active status and the court's announcement in open court (captured by clerk) of dismissal of a criminal case closes that case. The events are: (1) filing event (new case filing); (2) disposition event (closes case); (3) reopen event; (4) reclosure event; (5) event that makes the case inactive; and (6) an event that reactivates a case.
C. Case Status: One of the six statuses (states) that a case can be placed in, reflecting the case status for judicial activity purposes. These are Active (open), Inactive (open), Closed, Reopened Active, Reopened Inactive, and Reclosed.
D. Date of event or status change: The Definitional Framework provides that the date of the status change is (1) date the order is signed, (2) the clerk document date/time stamp or (3) the electronic date/time stamp associated with the action, whichever is appropriate. Recommendation is that the time stamp date on documents be used, unless there is no document generated in which case the date associated with the action be used.
E. Recordable Action: An action or 'happening' relating to court activity that would appear on a court docket or otherwise require the making of an historical record by the clerk of the courts.

Recommendations: The Best Practices Committee, appointed by the President of the Florida Court Clerks and Comptrollers (FCCC), recommends that the following guidelines are implemented by the Clerks of the Circuit Court in the State of Florida in compliance with the above requirements of Florida law.

Cases are automatically in active status when they are first opened or first reopened.

The definitional framework introduces the idea of a "reopen block." Once the case is reopened, it stays in reopen status until all pending issues are resolved, at which time the case is reclosed, also closing the reopen block. There is no limit to the number of filings during the pendency of a reopen block.

The definitional framework requires tracking each post-judgment action individually. So each separate post-judgment action is supposed to be tracked as a separate action and when THAT action is resolved by court order, it would be closed. However the status of the case would not be affected until all post-judgment actions are resolved.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001570

Identify what documents or events close cases.

Though the initial UCR Project documentation required inactive cases to be moved to active before being reported as closed or reclosed, the posted UCR FAQ as of 4/16/19 provides that if a case is in an INACTIVE status, and a closing event occurs, sending the Case Closure event is sufficient, it does not need to be moved to active status first.

Corrections: determine whether the correction can made by submitting a new event record with the correction information, usually on case initiation or case closure. On a reopen or reclosure event submitted in error, however, clerks will need to submit an "Undo Event" action.

Delete Case action can be used to submit for a case initiation event and should remove all records previously reported for a case including all post-judgment actions. This process is expected to be used infrequently.

Delete All Reopen is also an action to be used to remove ALL post-judgment activity previously submitted in error for a case. This action should leave all activity reported for the initial phase if the case (through closure) in the database.

Report cases in the appropriate status using the Judicial Case Status Table.

A. Communicate with the judiciary about an order/event to status framework

1. Consult with the judiciary to establish a method for the court to identify which orders re-close cases.
2. Identify events, if any, the judiciary wishes to establish as automatically making a case inactive, such as cases with bankruptcy filings.
3. Consider establishing a periodic communication or report process with the judiciary to review reopened cases.
4. Provide the judiciary with a communication method for court staff to report reopened cases as closed.

B. Develop consistent order/event processing procedures

1. Start with the current SRS reporting process. Generally, clerks will already have a process in place to report cases as open when a case is initiated and to report cases as closed when a final order is entered.
2. Ensure that all case types are accounted for on the Table for case initiation by assigning each local case type to one of the case categories on the Table.
3. Establish the local criteria for reopening a case. Note that there will not be a parallel between reopen fees and reopen filings due to the 90-day delay for assessing reopen fees.
4. Set guidelines for differentiating between cases that are either open or closed for judicial activity, but remain active for clerk purposes. Examples of cases include foreclosure sales and guardianship cases with reports due.
5. Establish local criteria for reclosing cases. Consider establishing some method for the court to mark an order as one that recloses a case.
6. Identify alternative courts available in criminal cases and establish a process for changing the status of a case moved to an alternative court to closed and to change the status to reopen if the case is transferred back out of that alternative court. This may require coordination with the judiciary.
7. Map any existing codes for case status to the appropriate case status options on the table.
8. CCIS, if not done already, must include the JCST status options so clerks can map to these options.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

C. Criminal cases, generally

UCR functionality and the administrative order that established UCR have not fully vetted how UCR will work in criminal cases. Note that some judges believe that once a capias has been issued, the case should automatically become inactive until the capias is served and the case has activity on it that must be monitored by the judge.

D. Implement UCR functionality

Arrange the reporting of case status to OSCA and CCIS.

E. Judicial Case Status Table Updates

UCR standards may be revised from time to time and such revisions will be made to the Judicial Case Status Table, which is incorporated into this best practice, and the table will be distributed to clerks will be announced via FCCC Advisory Bulletin so that clerks have the most recent table.

MARRIAGE LICENSE BEST PRACTICE

Goals: Consistency and Efficiency

Background: Under chapter 741, clerks issue marriage licenses. This best practice provides guidelines and suggestions on the various aspects of marriage license issuance.

Recommendations: The Best Practices Committee appointed by the President of the Florida Court Clerks and Comptrollers recommends that each Clerk/Comptroller develop procedures for issuing marriage license ensure that they are issued compliance with the legal requirements set out in the Florida Statutes, Florida Rules of Court and controlling court opinions.

1. General Guidelines
   A. Form Definitions
      - Application To Marry: The top portion of the Department of Health Vital Statistics Form
      - License To Marry or Marriage License: The middle portion of the Department of Health Vital Statistics Form
      - Certificate of Marriage: The third portion of the Department of Health Vital Statistics Form

   B. Marriage License Questionnaire
      Parties applying for a marriage license must complete a Marriage License Questionnaire (FORM) that contains the information about the applicants. This information is needed to prepare the Application to Marry. The questionnaire also contains the Pre-Marital Statement and Identification Number Affidavit required by FS 741.04(1),(2)(a). Some counties allow applicants to apply online.

   C. FEES
      - License application fee $86 FS 28.24(23), (for preparing and administering of oath; issuing, sealing, and recording of the marriage license; and providing a certified copy) 741.01(1); 741.01(3); 741.02, without course discount
      - License Fee with premarital course discount $61, FS 741.01(4)
      - Amended license $30, FS 28.24(23) (INCLUDES prep, oath; issuing, sealing, recording; and certified copy
      - Duplicate license $30, FS 28.24(23)
      - Recording, for affidavits, etc. $10 (but not the ML itself)
      - Ceremonial certificate, varies, from $5-$10
      - Ceremony fee $30. FS 28.24(24)
      - Document preparation fee for preparing affidavit $7
      - Fee for notarizing the affirmation of common children, $3.50, FS 28.24(13)
      - Wedding Photos, varies, $15.00 (include sales tax)

   D. Primary Requirements
      (1) FS 741.03 prohibits giving out signed blank marriage licenses. "Signed in blank" has been interpreted to allow "unsigned" licenses to be completed and returned by applicants remotely. AGO 076-60 (marriage application not signed and sealed by the judge court or clerk may be sent to another state to have one party sign under oath sworn then returned to clerk for the other party to sign under oath). FS 741.03 (unlawful for judge or clerk to send out of office any marriage license signed in blank to persons not in the office).
      (2) IMPEDIMENT to Marriage. FS 741.01(1), provides that the judge or clerk shall issue such license if there appears to be no impediment to the marriage. See AGO 78-70 (clerk must accept application, but is not required to issue license if there is an impediment to marriage) and State ex rel. Richardson v Lawrence, 163 So. 231 (1935), (where applicant falsely swore that her name was Vera Singleton and that she had never been married before and in truth her name was Vera Richardson and she was then the lawfully wedded wife of one man Richardson, judge was not required to issue license)

(3) Both applicants must be 18 or, if not 18, then at least 17 years of age with written consent of his/her parent or legal guardian(s) with the older party not more than 2 years older than the minor. (see section below for Minors). BVS reviews licenses to identify licenses with more than 2 years' difference TO THE DAY.

(4) Review identification provided by applicants:
Verify the age of the applicant using proffered identification. Each office must determine what is sufficient. Note that FS 741.04 does not prohibit a clerk from issuing a marriage license to individuals who are not citizens of the United States even if both are unable to provide a identification number, so each office should set a policy about how to determine what is sufficient ID for an individual applicant. Ordinarily, government-issued ID, whether current or issued within the past 5 years under FS 117.05 (notaries), is sufficient, but consider extenuating circumstances and alternate forms of ID, such as if the ID has expired but it looks like an original and matches the applicant. Examples of government issued IDs:

(a) Florida DHSMV issued identification card or driver's license; (b) U.S. passport; (c) Other government passport; (d) Driver's license or identification card issued by a public agency authorized to issue driver's licenses other states, a U.S. territory, Canada, or Mexico; (e) Armed forces identification card; (f) Florida Department of Corrections inmate identification card; (g) U.S. DOJ inmate identification card; (h) a sworn, statement from law enforcement officer that identification documents for inmate were confiscated upon confinement and the person named is the person whose signature is to be notarized; or (h) U.S. Immigration identification card.

(5) Dates of when previous marriages ended, if applicable

(6) Applicants are not related by lineal consanguinity FS 741.21 (person may not marry someone who is related by lineal consanguinity… [includes siblings, aunts/uncles, nieces/nephews]).

E. Additional requirements

(1) Make sure Applicants know that:
1. Marriage licenses issued in Florida can only be used in the State of Florida.
2. License is only good for 60 days from the date of issuance.
3. To return the license to clerk within 10 days of being signed. FS 741.08.
4. Couples with minor children in common born in Florida must complete the "Affirmation of Common Child(ren) Born in Florida" form.
5. The couple must read the Family Law Handbook, either in paper or online. Suggest that they read the information pamphlet first before completing the application, since it lists the requirements for obtaining a marriage license.

(2) Verify that information on application matches the identification provided

(3) Print the completed Application to Marry and the Vital Statistics portion of the Marriage License form.

(4) Review or have applicants review the Marriage License for the spelling of names, date of birth, state of birth, current city and county; witness the applicants signing their full names (first, middle when applicable, and last). If ID is presented, the marriage license info should match the ID, i.e. if DL is First, MI, Last, then ML should have the same, however, most clerks do not require that the signature exactly match the ML name, i.e. illegible signature or signature with full middle name, though ML only has middle initial.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(5) Some offices administer a verbal oath. There is no statutory or rule-based oath language that must be used. Some offices include the oath on the affidavit and do not separately administer a verbal oath. These are examples of oaths some offices use.

- ☐ "Do each of you swear or affirm that the information provided on this record is true and correct to the best of your knowledge and belief? And that no legal objection to the marriage or the issuance of a license is known to you?"
- ☐ "Do you both swear or affirm that all the information on this/these forms are true and correct to the best of your knowledge?"
- ☐ "Do you swear or affirm that:
  - All the information contained in the license is true and correct?
  - Neither of you are married at this time?
  - Neither of you have been adjudicated incompetent?
  - You are not related within the prohibited degree?"

After each applicant acknowledges the oath, have applicants sign their names in the spaces provided on the Application to Marry. Then:

a. Sign the and seal the Application to Marry;
b. Ensure the "Affirmation of Common Child(ren) Born in Florida" form is completed. Prior to signing, administer another oath:

"Do you swear or affirm under the penalty of perjury that the information contained in this document is the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?"

F. EFFECTIVE DATE AND DATE RANGE OF LICENSE: If the applicants are Florida residents and have not completed a Pre-Marital Preparation Course, the license is not effective until three days after it is issued FS 741.04(3). The time starts running on the day after the license is issued. For example, if the license is issued on Monday, it is not effective until Thursday - Tuesday is day 1, Wednesday is day 2, and Thursday is day 3. Because the statute does not state "business" days, count weekends and holidays. Per FS 741.04(5) the effective date on marriage license must be in bold type. The state's form has a bolded box for the effective date and the words "effective date" date are in bold.

WAITING PERIOD AND FEE REDUCTION:

a. Florida residents - both applicants attended prescribed Pre-Marital Preparation Class: If a couple has submitted a valid certificate of completion of pre-marital preparation course, then the effective date of the marriage license is not delayed. FS 741.04(5). The provider must be on the local Registered Providers list or another county's list, when applicable. If the provider is not on the Registered Providers list or only one applicant attended the course, the 3-day waiting period is not waived and there is no discount for attending the course. A certificate can be in the form of a letter. If the Florida resident takes the course and the non-resident does not, the 3 days are waived, but there is no discount.
b. Non-Florida residents: There is no effective date delay if both parties are non-Florida residents, per FS 741.04(5). Determine what documentation, if any, is needed to prove non-Florida residency. This can be the identification presented by both parties or the information they supply and swear to on the application form must indicate that they are residents of another state. If both non-Florida residents submit a valid pre-marital course certificate per FS 741.0305, assess the reduced rate. FS 741.0305(1).
c. HARDSHIP. A hardship license can be issued by clerks for applicants who both assert that the waiting period would cause them hardship and complete a waiver of the 3-day waiting period. A determination of what is sufficient for a hardship waiver is a matter of discretion. See FS 741.04(5) for details.

FS 741.04(5) provides that exceptions to the delayed effective date must be granted for individuals asserting hardship. If an applicant asserts a hardship, have the parties complete the HARDSHIP request. There is no need to review the reasons for the hardship. Prepare the Application to Marry with the effective date being the same as the issue date. Each office must determine whether to present these to a judge to make this determination; this is a policy decision. Note that FS 741.04(5) provides that the clerk shall grant exceptions to couples asserting hardship. There is no definition of what constitutes hardship; however, the statute does not provide for discretion for determining hardship. Some counties choose to send hardship requests to the judge, treating these as good cause requests.

d. GOOD CAUSE. A county judge may waive the three-day waiting period if the applicants claim they have good cause. There is no statutory definition or description of what constitutes good cause, so it is up to the parties to write in their reasons and for the judge to determine:
   - Have the parties complete the Good Cause request;
   - Prepare the Application to Marry without the 3-day delay; and
   - Send the good cause request to the judge. If the judge approves the waiver, the judge issues the license. If denied and applicants still desire a license, reprint the license with the 3-day waiting period.
   - If the request is denied, the applicants may not request a waiver from another county judge in your county.

G. After the license is issued and all required documents are signed, scan or otherwise retain copies into the marriage license system. State records retention law requires maintaining Marriage License Questionnaires for one year. See GS11 # 42 (supplemental marriage license records). Some offices choose to keep the records for longer periods, some keep them indefinitely.

H. Instructions to Person Performing Marriage (outside of the clerk's Office): Provide the Officiant's Information Sheet to the applicants, which details state-sanctioned authorities who can solemnize a marriage ceremony. Explain that the Certificate of Marriage portion of the application must be completed by the person who performs the marriage ceremony (officiant) and that a return envelope is provided for their convenience as it is the officiant's responsibility to return the license to the clerk's office. Suggest that the couple put a postage stamp on the envelope to ensure its use. The instructions direct the officiant to return the completed license to the Marriage License Department within 10 days after the ceremony is performed so the license can be recorded, which also reduces the chance of losing the document and allows our office to include it in the monthly report to Vital Statistics. Put both the license and Officiant's Information Sheet in the return envelope. Advise the couple that as long as there are no issues the license will be recorded, become viewable on the marriage license website (if available), and a certified copy will be mailed (unless hand-delivered) to the couple.

I. NAME CHANGE. Inform the couple that if they want to change their last name with government or other agencies, they will need a certified copy of the marriage license to make this request, such as the Social Security office, the Department of Motor Vehicles. An individual's last name is not automatically changed by marriage. See, Davis v Roos, 326 So.2d 226 (1st DCA 1976) (married woman not required to adopt husband's surname). There is no "law" outlining name change options available to applicants. Instead, the applicant will need to contact each agency that an applicant wants to have their name changed at and follow the instructions with that agency. If an applicant does not change his or her name within a reasonable time after the marriage, they may be need to file a name change case, as some agencies refuse to retroactively accept a name change request after a certain amount of time after the marriage.

J. Some offices send congratulation letters.

K. After the ceremony has been performed, the completed Marriage License either the officiant or the couple can mail it to the clerk's office or the couple may deliver it in person. Upon receipt, date stamp the envelope (if received in the mail) and review the license for completeness and verify effective dates (confirming that a ceremony was performed within the time constraints of the effective and end dates):
   a. Contact the applicants if something is missing or wrong with the Marriage License: Do not alter anything on the Marriage License completed by the officiant; this can only be done by the officiant or one of the applicants (see the Amended License section), except by adding the officiant's title and the notary number or expiration date. See, "Other Marriage License Situations section.
   b. If the Marriage License passes inspection, record it (or otherwise convert it to electronic format) and send a certified copy to the couple.
   c. If the ceremony was not conducted within the required time limits refer to section below.

L. MARRIAGE LICENSE VALIDATION

Fields 1 through 23b on the Application to Marry and the Certificate to Marry must be completed to make the license valid. Leaving fields 23c through 25 incomplete does not invalidate the license. The officiant completes Fields 21 through 23c. Once complete, none of these fields can be changed by the clerk. Field 23c (address of person performing the ceremony) is the address where officiant can be found and is considered to be the place where they conduct business.

MINORS

FS 741.0405 was repealed as of July 1, 2018 and replaced by FS 741.04 to address issuance of licenses to minors. There is no need for the court to be involved in the issuance of licenses to minors, other than to address the 3-day waiver.

A. LICENSE ISSUED TO A MINOR

When a minor applies for a marriage license, first determine whether it can be issued:

1. The minor must be 17 years old and the other party to the marriage cannot be more than 2 years older, based on the dates of birth of the applicants. Compare the dates of birth to confirm that the non-minor is not more than two years older than the minor. This is how BVS interprets the statute. Note that the statute prohibits the marriage if the person is "less than 18 years" (not "minor"). However, each clerk's office will need a policy as to whether to issue an application for an emancipated minor.
2. Require at least a copy of the birth certificate to confirm parents' names, some counties may require a certified copy of birth certificate.
3. The minor must have sworn, written consent from each custodial parent or legal guardian. The Parental Consent for Marriage of Minor form. Clerks may want to have any consent form approved by the judiciary.
   a. Both Parents/Legal Guardian(s) must sign under oath unless there is only one parent alive or one parent has sole authority to consent for the minor.
   b. One Parent/Legal Guardian Only: If only one parent/legal guardian provides consent(s), he/she must provide documentation such as a court order, death certificate, etc., establishing that the parent/legal guardian who signed the consent has sole authority to consent for the minor.

c. The form does not have to be signed in the office as long as it is signed under oath before a notary or other person authorized to administer oaths and is current, for example, not older than 90 days as required for passport consents or other reasonable time period.
d. Ensure that the form has not been altered after signing; consider accepting only an original (wet ink) consent form, not a copy.

Procedure for Issuance of Marriage License to Minors by the Clerk:

Once the minor has presented one of the forms of documentation listed above (parental consent, parents' death certificates, use the same application procedure that is used for adults.

Upon confirmation of applicable documentation, process the license as usual, collect the fee, and prepare the license and information packet.

Confidentiality of Marriage License Records:

Marriage license records are public records even if involving minors unless specifically sealed by a court. Parental consent affidavits and minors' statements that they are pregnant (applicable 6/30/18 or earlier) or the parents of a child are also public record unless sealed by court order. Minors (through their parents) who wish to have the information kept confidential will need to obtain a court order. If a minor presents his/her parent's death certificate to establish his/her right to obtain a marriage license, the cause of death portion of the death certificate is confidential (only for Florida issued death certificates per Florida Statutes).

The social security number on the bottom portion of the Marriage License is confidential; however the other demographic information, though not viewable online, is not confidential and can be provided on request.

ABSENT APPLICANTS:

A. POLICY ON ABSENT APPLICANTS. Determine whether your office will issue licenses when one or both of the applicants are unable to appear at the clerk's office. Applicants can be absent when in the military, incarcerated, in a medical facility, or living out-of-state.
B. FOR OFFICES ISSUING LICENSES TO ABSENT APPLICANTS:
    1. Give the Marriage License Information pamphlet, Marriage License Questionnaire (unless the application is filled out online), and Family Law Handbook to the present party. That party can either complete his/her portion of the questionnaire immediately or take it with them to be completed later.
    2. Instruct the present party to mail or give the questionnaire and the handbook to the party who is absent for him/her to complete. Explain that the absent applicant must sign the Pre-Marital Statement and Identification Number Affidavit before a Notary Public. If the absent applicant is in the military, the applicant may be able to have the oath taken by another officer authorized to administer oaths.
    3. The present applicant can then present the completed questionnaire along with a copy of the absent applicant's photo identification at the clerk's office.
    4. After reviewing the questionnaire to verify that both applicants have completed it properly, collect the fee then print the Application to Marry leaving the dates blank. Have the present applicant review the application for accuracy and make corrections as needed.
    5. Upon return of the signed Application To Marry, review the absent Applicant's signature to verify that it has been properly witnessed. If everything is in order, issue the license with the correct dates and notify the present applicant so (s)he can come to the office to pick up the license. At that time, review instructions with the present applicant as usual.

C. Applicant absent due to INCARCERATION
For incarcerated applicants, refer applicants to Fla. Admin. Code. R. 33-503.002, Marriage of an Inmate While Incarcerated.

D. Applicant is in a MEDICAL FACILITY (due to extreme illness or infirmity)
If the applicant is in a medical facility, there may be an issue with regard to the applicant's capacity. Some offices may require a physician's statement that the absent applicant has the capacity to make the decision to get married.

ADDRESSING ISSUES OF UNCLEAR CAPACITY TO CONSENT TO MARRIAGE

- FS 741.01 allows the issuance of a marriage license if there appears to be no impediment to the marriage, which is interpreted by at least one county as simply a failure to meet statutory criteria or there being a statutory disabling factor, such as an applicant being too young.
- A marriage is a contract requiring the parties to have capacity and to consent, State ex rel. Foster v. Anders, 184 So. 515 (1938). Even less capacity may be required than for business contracts, Forbis v. Forbis, 274 S.W.2d 800 (Mo. Ct. App. 1955) and maybe less capacity is required, Sheffield v. Andrews, 440 S.W.2d 175 (Mo. Ct. App. 1969). Intoxication might invalidate a marriage, unless the party is lucid at the time of marriage, Mahan v. Mahan, 88 So. 2d 545 (Fla. 1956).
- There is no statutory provision authorizing clerks to request a capacity statement, regardless of whether an applicant is in a facility, and requiring such a statement assumes that an absent applicant does not have capacity to consent to marriage. There are potential pit falls to requiring such a capacity statement (assumes that applicant does not have capacity; may unreasonably delay marriage between two people of capacity) as well as signing licenses for absent hospitalized applicants (forced marriage subject to annulment or challenge in probate court).
- Note: A notary public may not notarize a signature on a document if it appears that the person is mentally incapable of understanding the nature and effect of the document at the time of notarization." FS 117.107(5). This would be true as well, if the marriage ceremony is performed by a notary."
- If the clerk observes odd behavior or odd speech that causes the clerk to question whether the person has capacity, make additional inquiries to determine if there is an impediment to the marriage. One option to address this is to directly ask that applicant the questions on the application to determine whether the applicant understands the process. Also consider requesting a statement of capacity from a physician.

GUIDELINES FOR ADDRESSING CERTAIN SITUATIONS

A. NO PICTURE ID
If applicant does have a picture ID, but forgot it, request they get the ID before proceeding with the application. However, if the applicant does not have ID, there is no statutory requirement that an applicant have ID. If documentation is needed to prove age, then they will need to provide some identification, and the parents will need to provide a birth certificate.

B. APPLICANTS FROM FOREIGN COUNTRIES
The Vital Statistics Marriage Record is not designed with applicants from foreign countries in mind. In general, enter the city or province in the "city" space, enter the foreign country in the space for "state" and enter N/A in the space for "county."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001579

C. NO SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER

A non-citizen who does not have a Social Security Number (SSN) is authorized to provide another identification number when applying for a marriage license, such as an Alien Registration Number or current passport number. Type the document name and the number of the document in the Social Security space on the marriage license. Example: PASSPORT BN123456 or PP# BN123456.

If the applicant has a number, then have the applicants return to the Marriage License office with the appropriate identification showing the number, however, the lack of a number is not a basis for denying a marriage license. FS 741.04(2)(a) provides that clerk may not issue a license until parties file an affidavit which provides the social security number or any other available identification number; FS 741.04(3)((b) states any person who is not a citizen of the US and who has not been issued a SSN or alien registration number is encouraged to provide another form of ID.

APPLICATIONS MADE VIA POWER OF ATTORNEY: The general rule is that a power of attorney must grant the specific power. It is not clear whether applying for a marriage license is or is not a delegable right. Consider the following references:

FS 709.2103 (2) provides that this applies to all powers of attorney except a power created on a form prescribed by a government or governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality for a governmental purpose.

Notary requirements for solemnizing marriages and the State's marriage FAQs for notaries clarify that Florida does not authorize marriage by proxy. This is also cited in 1 Florida Family Law § 2.05, which relies on FS 741.03 as support for the idea that marriage by proxy is not allowed. An agent acting as power of attorney (in the absence of the principal) would in essence be a "proxy." Since it can be argued that if there is no authority to marry by proxy, it may follow that there is no authority to apply to marry by proxy.

This is something that must be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. The right to marry is not mentioned one way or the other in the Uniform Power of Attorney Act as a delegable power nor is it addressed in Florida Statutes as of the initial adoption of this best practice.

D. INABILITY TO PAY FEE.

FS 741.04(5) provides for fee waivers to eligible couples, but does not define eligible. If a couple requests a waiver for financial hardship, set policy on how grant or deny a waiver request. Applicants can also pay in 3 installments per FS 741.011 over a period of 90 days prior to issuance of the license if they sign an affidavit stating that they are unable to pay the fee in a lump sum.

If the fee is going to be paid in installments, have the applicants complete the Marriage License Questionnaire (1) start the issuance process; (2) print a receipt only for the partial amount; (3) keep a file with the application, 1st receipt, subsequent installments; and (3) when the fees are fully paid finish issuing the license as usual.

E. MARRIAGE PERFORMED BY CLERK BUT LICENSE ISSUED BY ANOTHER COUNTY

1. Review and confirm that the marriage license meets criteria then collect the $30.00 ceremony fee, and manually type in applicable fields in the marriage license. Reconfirm the identity of the applications with photo ID.
2. The Marriage License issued by another county gets recorded in the issuing county, not in the county where the ceremony was performed. The issuing county can provide any needed

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001580

copies:

a. Make a copy of the marriage license and give the original to the couple to send to the issuing county or mail back to issuing Clerks office in envelope provided.
b. Retain the copy for the performing clerk's office in the event something happens to the original.

OTHER MARRIAGE LICENSE SITUATIONS

A. AMENDED LICENSE

When an error is found, after the ceremony and either before or after sending the license to BVS, the Marriage License can be amended.

1. AFFIDAVIT OF SCRIVENER'S ERROR FORM SAMPLE FORM, some counties just identify what was changed on the form by line and #.
    1. If the Marriage License has not been sent to BVS or Recorded, the officiant may come to the Marriage License office and upon proper identification of officiant, correct the error(s)/omission(s) on the actual Marriage License. If the officiant cannot come to the office, then the license can be given back to the couple to take back to the officiant for correction. If that is not an option the license would need to be either processed as is, if no required elements are missing, and amended later, or, if not able to be processed, a new license can be issued with a new ceremony performed. Determine if a new ceremony needs to be performed, for example, if the ceremony was performed before the effective date and the license is now expired.
    NOTE: clerks do not make any changes to the actual Marriage License. The officiant is responsible for filling in the date, location, signature, name, and title sections on the Marriage License. However, some counties contact the officiant to get the title or the notary expiration date and/or commission number, or the clerk can look them up on the Department of State website. http://notaries.dos.state.fl.us/not001.html, or do an online search for state of Florida notary search. This is also listed in the Effective Date and Date Range of License section (K) in sub (a).
    2. If the Marriage License has been sent to BVS, provide an Affidavit of Scrivener's Error form to be completed and signed by the officiant under oath before a notary or deputy clerk explaining the error.
    If the officiant is not available, the couple can complete an Affidavit to Amend Marriage License with the facts to be corrected if the correction is of the couple's information, not the officiant's section. For example, if the date of marriage is incorrect, we would prepare an amended that would be given to the couple to have that section filled out correctly by the officiant.)
        - Collect fee - If the amendment is due to clerk error, there is no charge most offices require applicants to review application and confirm information is correct, so there would be no clerk error, something obvious that clerk should have picked up on, like FL or USA for county or the ID was correct, but spelling was wrong. Most pushed onto the customers. This is going to be at the clerk's discretion.
        - Identify the marriage license as AMENDED using some process, either manually with a typewriter, selecting the correct doc type, or using some electronic process, such as Adobe to identify which item was amended. Some counties have the parties re-sign if they are in the office. Other counties use only a "/s/" in front of all typed signatures.
        - Send the Amended Marriage License to BVS and store it in the marriage license system and/or record with the Affidavit of Scrivener's Error/ Affidavit to Amend.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001581

- Make a certified copy of the Amended Marriage License for the couple.

2. ERRORS DISCOVERED AFTER LICENSE SENT TO BVS

a. Have the couple complete an Affidavit to Amend. Review and if affidavit is complete, make a copy of the documentation.

b. Assess the applicable fee for an amended license. For offices that record, assess applicable recording fees (i.e. $10 to record license, $10 to record the 1-page Affidavit, and $3.00 for Certified Copy). If the clerk's office was responsible for the error, there is no charge for preparing and recording the Amended Marriage Record.

3. Print the marriage license
4. Mark the license as "AMENDED as to whatever item was amended" above the Marriage Record Application number.
5. Signing Amended License:
   - If the name is incorrect on the license, amend the name and the signature line will include the new name and will appear as follows: "/s/John C. Smith (John C. Smyth)"
   - Re-signing the Amended Marriage Record if the parties are in the office, have the parties re-sign, if not; use the slash-s (/s/) signature.
6. Record the Amended Marriage License and Affidavit
7. Make a certified copy of the Amended Marriage Record for the couple

Note: If couple fails to come in to correct an error that was identified by Vital Statistics, inform Vital Statistics of attempts made by the clerk and follow their directions.

B. LOST LICENSE

1. IF A LICENSE IS LOST BEFORE THE CEREMONY HAS TAKEN PLACE AND AFTER THE EXPIRATION DATE, after confirmation that the license has expired, the couple must complete a new application and purchase another license.
2. IF A LICENSE IS LOST BEFORE OR AFTER THE CEREMONY HAS TAKEN PLACE AND THE LICENSE HAS NOT EXPIRED, review the dates in the system to confirm effective date range then refer to Duplicate License process below.

C. DUPLICATE LICENSE (Exhibit L – example of Duplicate Marriage License can be found in the Procedure)

1. WHEN A MARRIAGE RECORD IS LOST BEFORE THE CEREMONY HAS TAKEN PLACE AND BEFORE THE EXPIRATION DATE, the parties will need to return to the clerk's office, and upon presentation of identification, a Duplicate Marriage Record will be generated:
   1. Asses the duplicate license fee for this Duplicate Marriage Record
   2. Print the Marriage Record
   3. Type "DUPLICATE" above the application number on top of the license; the dates on the original license will be the dates on the duplicate license
   4. Type the signatures for the applicants and deputy clerk using "/s/" in front of typed signatures. If the parties are in the office, have the parties re-sign, if not; use the /s/ signature.
2. WHEN A MARRIAGE RECORD IS LOST AFTER THE MARRIAGE CEREMONY HAS TAKEN PLACE:
   a. If officiant is available, have the couple come back with the officiant, pay the fee, reprint a "Duplicate License" have them sign again and if clerk who originally signed is on site that clerk re-signs, if not /s/ the original clerk's name. Have the couple take it to the officiant to complete and return to the office to follow the normal processing steps.
   b. Per FS 741.10, if the officiant is not available, as in being deceased, to execute the license, then have the couple get two witnesses to complete a witness affidavit that provides verification of when and where the ceremony took place.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001582

c. Upon return of the affidavits, print a Marriage Record.
d. Mark the license as ”DUPLICATE.”
e. If the applicants are in the office have them re-sign the license, otherwise use /s signatures for the applicants. If the issuing clerk is in the office, have them also re-sign, otherwise use “/s/” in front of typed signatures.
f. Send the duplicate Marriage Record and affidavit to BVS. Assess appropriate recording fees for affidavits, etc., Duplicate Marriage Record fee, Give a certified copy of the duplicate license to the couple.

3. CEREMONY TOOK PLACE BEFORE THE EFFECTIVE DATE ON THE LICENSE PRIOR to being sent to BVS, attempt to contact the couple. They can have a second ceremony performed either by the clerk or the individual who performed the first ceremony, if the license has not expired, for the statutory fee. Prepare a Duplicate Marriage License (due to ceremony performed prior to effective date) and assess the appropriate fee if the ceremony is going to be performed by the clerk. If the second ceremony is going to be performed by the officiant who performed the first ceremony, have the couple take the license to the officiant who performed the 1st ceremony cross out the first ceremony date and initial. Some counties require an affidavit regarding the circumstances and record it and assess the recording fee and reissue the original license with a new number. Other counties create a new marriage license to avoid the old license being used. Note that BVS has advised that they do not monitor whether the ceremony takes place before the 3-day waiting period.
4. WHEN A MARRIAGE RECORD IS RETURNED AND THE CEREMONY TOOK PLACE AFTER THE EXPIRATION DATE ON THE LICENSE, attempt to contact the couple to inform them of the situation and that they can purchase a new license and have a second ceremony performed. Collect a new marriage license fee. The second ceremony can be performed by the clerk for the usual fee, by the officiant who performed the first ceremony or another authorized by 741.07.

MARRIAGE LICENSE CEREMONY – COURTHOUSE

When a marriage ceremony is performed in the courthouse

1. Check picture ID’s to confirm that the parties’ information matches the applicants on the license.
2. Make sure the license has not expired.
3. Collect $30.00 ceremony fee.
4. Complete the Certificate to Marriage portion and ask the couple if they would like to purchase a souvenir certificate and assess the appropriate fee. Remind the parties that the souvenir certificate has no legal value.
5. Ask the couple if they will be exchanging rings.
6. Give original license and souvenir certificate to officiant and let officiant know whether or not the couple will be exchanging rings. The officiant will sign the souvenir certificate.
7. Take couple and guests (when applicable) into ceremony room.
8. Witnesses for ceremony: Though the State of Florida no longer requires two witnesses to attend and sign the marriage license, there is a place on the license for witnesses if the couple would like them to sign.
9. After ceremony is performed, have the witnesses, if any, and officiant sign the license. The officiant will present the Souvenir Marriage Certificate to the couple.
10. Input the ceremony date and officiant’s name and address into the system and prepare the license for recording.

PRE-MARITAL PREPARATION COURSE PROVIDER INFORMATION

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001583

A person who wants to become a Pre-Marital Preparation Course Provider may complete a Registration Affidavit. When the affidavit is returned, the following procedure is followed:

1. Clock in the Affidavit and give it to the Manager for review.
2. Upon approval, generate the appropriate letter (based on the individual's credentials) and mailing envelope. Some offices require a second review.
3. Take appropriate action to have the provider added to the published Pre-Marital Provider List.
4. Make a copy of the letter and staple it to the front of the affidavit and retain the documents.
5. Mail the original letter, a copy of section 741.0305, Florida Statutes info sheet, and a copy of the Certificate of Completion to the Affiant.
6. Some counties may choose to periodically contact providers to update the Pre-Marital Provider List confirming they desire to remain on the list, update affiliation, demographic info, etc. There is no statutory requirement to do this, so it is completely optional.

MARRIAGE RECORD PROCESSING

A. MARRIAGE LICENSES RECEIVED AFTER CEREMONY PERFORMED

1. Check effective/expiration dates with date of ceremony.
2. Check to see that the certificate is completed properly:
    a. Section 23a. Person who performed ceremony signed the license.
    b. Section 23b. Person who performed ceremony printed their name and title.
    c. Section 23c. Address of person who performed ceremony (this section left blank does not invalidate the license)
    d. Sections 24 and 25 (this section left blank does not invalidate the license); refer to MARRIAGE LICENSE VALIDATION section

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001584

e. Refer to C & D below, other areas in this document specific to recording, and separate procedures detailing step by step processes

B. CLERK ERRORS IDENTIFIED ON MARRIAGE LICENSES

1. Any error made by the Clerk's Office (for example, the Clerk's seal was omitted) on the Marriage License that was recorded, not scanned or released to the Clerk's Website, AND the couple has not received a certified copy, the corrected Marriage License can be rescanned (no rationale needed).
2. For any error made by the Clerk's office in which the Marriage License has been released to the Clerk's Website AND the couple has received their certified copy, correct and re-send the Marriage License with the correction stated above the Marriage License number. Send a new certified copy to the couple with an explanation for the re-issuance and direction to the couple to discard the first certified copy.

C. RECORD OR PLACE MARRIAGE LICENSE IN MARRIAGE LICENSE SYSTEM

FS 28.24(23) establishes a fee for recording of the marriage license: "Upon receipt of an application for a marriage license, for… and recording of the marriage license." See also AGO 98-65 (clerk authorized to record only portion of record of marriage constituting a marriage license) and AGO 2001-1 (FN 19) (see 98-65 (1998) (clerk may record only that portion of record of marriage constituting a marriage license), 92-24 (1992) (clerk may not accept and record death certificates into official records)). Though not all offices record the marriage license, each office should be sure the marriage license is available in whatever marriage license system is being used.

D. AFTER IMAGING AND/OR RECORDING LICENSE

1. Verify, Index, and Scan the marriage license.
2. Make a certified copy of the license and mail to the couple along with the letter from the clerk (if one is available).
3. Store original marriage licenses according to internal procedures.

E. PROCESSING EXPIRED MARRIAGE LICENSES

   b. Permanently retain one applicant requests (medical facility/prison) and those that may be problematic.

F. MARRIAGE LICENSE REPORTS (VITAL STATISTICS)

1. Periodically send the report of marriage licenses to the Department of Health, Office of Vital Statistics. They are due within 30 days of issuance. To be filed timely, send report/licenses to BVS on the 1st and 15th of each month, otherwise some will be late if sent monthly.
2. E-file via the portal or snail mail Amended Marriage Licenses, and Affirmations of Common Child(ren) Born in Florida to:

G. RECORDS RETENTION

The State's Records Retention Schedule applies to documents filed with the Marriage License Office. Each completed Marriage Record is retained permanently. Most clerks are including these in the official records system. Scan and retain permanently all documents associated with issuing a marriage license such as the Questionnaire, Expiration Date Notice and Marriage License Application, and parental consent forms. The electronic record is the permanent record, so the paper documents can be stored for a short period of time for at least 90 days or up to 1 year and then destroyed. Some counties are returning the original marriage license to the customer after it is permanently recorded in either the official record or a case maintenance system.

If the license is issued, but not returned and it is expired, the retention period is 5 years per GS11 #41, item #3.

If the license is not issued, then the application can be discarded after 90 days. Make sure customers know that the application will need to be filled out again, if not completed within 90 days.

H. CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE, INVALIDITY, OR LEGAL SEPARATION

Some states (most of these come from Illinois) require that they notify the state in which a couple was married when they get a divorce or legal separation. Determine how to process these documents. Some counties are recording these as a Notice, other counties are simply retaining and storing them. Do nothing with these documents, keeping the hard copies in a file and treating them as some sort of "miscellaneous" document. We then will have to find an appropriate retention schedule for them. In an abundance of caution, consider using item #3 on the GS11, a 5 year retention period.

Best Practice
Requests to Redact Exempt Personal Information per FS 119.071

Background:

This Best Practice for redacting information pursuant to section 119.071, Florida Statutes, applies to non-court records and complements the Best Practice for Confidential Judicial Records, which covers redaction of judicial branch and court records pursuant to Rule 2.420, Florida Rules of Judicial Administration.

Numerous statutory provisions, both in Section 119.071, Florida Statutes, and other statutes as referenced in this best practice require public agencies including the Office of the Clerk/Comptroller to redact certain personal information from public records. The provisions pertain to personal information about certain individuals, including victims of violent crime, law enforcement officers, judges, magistrates, assistant state attorneys, assistant public defenders, assistant criminal conflict and civil regional counsel, and child abuse investigators. These statutes are amended from time to time and this best practice is frequently revised to address those amendments.

The 2019 Florida Legislature passed SB 248 that broadens the definition of Home Address as well as includes former or active civilian employees who work for law enforcement agency under 119.071(4)(d)2a.

Recommendations: The Best Practices Committee appointed by the President of the Florida Court Clerks and Comptrollers (FCCC) recommends that each Clerk/Comptroller develop procedures for redacting exempt personal information from public records to ensure that such redactions will be made in compliance with the legal requirements set out in the Florida Statutes, Florida Rules of Court and controlling court opinions. The 67 Clerks/Comptrollers of the State of Florida should consider implementing the following best practices.

A. Communicate with all involved to ensure a concerted effort to establish clear communication and cooperation between the departments within the Clerk/Comptroller's Office where such records are located.
B. Develop written procedures that address the following areas: Intake process, designation of redactors, notification of affected departments, documentation of redaction, secure storage of redacted documents and redaction requests, and communication with the person requesting redaction.
C. Records Eligible for Redaction: This Best Practice addresses only non-court records and redactions pursuant to FS 119.071. Legal opinions have been issued by General Counsel for FCCC and by other clerk counsel that the redaction requirements of Section 119.071, Florida Statutes, do not apply to court records. Clerks should refer to the BP for Confidential Judicial Records to determine which court documents should be redacted.
D. Best Practice Committee Recommendations for Processing Requests for Redaction of Exempt Personal Information Pursuant to FS 119.071 are as follows:

General Guidelines

1. Statutes: Sections 119.071(2), 119.071(4) and 119.071(5), Florida Statutes, specify which individuals are eligible to request redaction of personal information, and what type of information is eligible for redaction. Subsection (2) applies to victims of certain violent crimes. Subsection (4) applies to certain state and local government employees and their families. Subsection (5) applies to certain other public employees, such as federal judges and prosecutors.
2. Form of Request: There is no required form for a redaction request. However, providing the requestor with a standardized form can help ensure that all information needed to process the request is available. A sample form is included with this procedure.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3. Requestor Must Identify Documents: The person making the request must identify the documents to be redacted. The requestor should be advised that the request applies only to documents actually listed, and not to unlisted documents or documents received by the Clerk/Comptroller's Office at a later date. For those documents, the requestor should submit additional requests. This requirement is noted on the sample redaction request form.
4. Types of Non-Court Documents: Redaction requests apply to non-court documents in every department of the Clerk/Comptroller's Office, not just to documents recorded in the Official Records. Therefore, redaction requests should be distributed to all departments that house documents identified on the redaction request. If a court document is placed in the records of a department of the Clerk/Comptroller's Office that is not a court division, then the record is treated like a non-court record. For example, a judgment or order that is recorded in Official Records or placed in an employee's personnel file is subject to the exemptions for non-court records under Chapter 119.

Intake Procedures

1. Designate Redactors: Each department housing records eligible for redaction should designate a primary redactor and a backup redactor. The redactors should be responsible for redacting documents or flagging documents as confidential pursuant to the redacting instructions below. When redactions are complete, the redactors should be responsible for sending redaction requests on to the next department that contains documents on the redaction list.
2. One Request Per Individual: A separate redaction request should be submitted for each person seeking redaction. For example, a law enforcement officer, her spouse and her children are all entitled to redaction. However, individual requests should be submitted for the officer, the spouse and each child. If a child is younger than 18, the officer or the spouse must sign the child's request. Children 18 and older must sign their own requests.
3. Home Address: includes physical address, mailing address, street address, parcel identification number, plot identification number, legal property description, neighborhood name and lot number, GPS coordinates, other descriptive property information that may reveal home address) A request to remove the extended home address can be requested for documents which have been redacted in the past.
4. Due to the fact that this will affect property searches in the future, a Request to Release Redacted Information is attached. Anyone who requested their home address be redacted can fill out a Request to Release Redacted Information to allow the clerk to release the unredacted information to a specific person or entity. An Example would be Title Companies when someone is selling their property.
5. Post Office Boxes: A Post Office Box number is a mailing address, not a home address. The statute only protects home addresses. Therefore, a Post Office Box number should not be redacted pursuant to Section 119.071, Florida Statutes, unless it is the official 911 address for the property.
6. Former Spouses: The statute protects former law enforcement officers, but not former spouses. Therefore, a person formerly married to a law enforcement officer (ex-wife, for example) may file a redaction request on behalf of the officer's minor children, but she may not file a request on her own behalf.
7. Widows and Widowers: Spouses of deceased governmental employees are entitled to have their information kept confidential if the spouse was married to the governmental employee at the time of the employee's death.
8. Adult Children: Section 119.071, when referencing children of a person entitled to have information kept confidential, does not specify that the child must be under 18 years of age. Accordingly, consider whether to redact the information of adult children of, for example, law enforcement officers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

9. Accept Requests Office-wide: Redaction requests delivered in person should be accepted in every department of the Clerk/Comptroller's Office. If the request applies to documents housed in a different department, the Clerk/Comptroller's staff should time stamp it, then transmit it to the applicable department as expeditiously as possible.
10. Initial Completed Redactions: The designated redactor for each department should redact the documents located there and place his/her initials beside the document description on the redaction request form. The redactor then should send the redaction request to the next department where documents identified on the request are housed.
11. Exemption Chart: To determine what information can be redacted from a document, each redactor should refer to the Exemption Chart attached to this procedure. If the requestor has asked to have information redacted that is not included on the chart, the redactor should note on the request form that the information is not eligible for redaction. After all redactions are complete, the requestor should be advised in writing that the ineligible information cannot be redacted. Each Clerk/Comptroller's Office should designate one department, such as the department where the redaction requests are stored, to prepare this correspondence with requestors.
12. Retain Un-redacted Original: The Clerk/Comptroller should retain the original of each redacted document in a secure nonpublic location accessible only to authorized employees. The redacted copy of the document should be filed or recorded in place of the original. A notation indicating that the document was redacted pursuant to Section 119.071 should be made on the document or in the document index/docket lines. Digital images of un-redacted original documents should be sealed, and the redacted digital images should be recorded or posted in place of the originals.
13. Completing the Redaction Request Form:

    The attached form can be used by individuals submitting redaction requests. The form has three parts.
    - The first part requires the requestor to identify what makes him/her eligible for redaction of personal information (i.e., victim of crime, employed as firefighter, child of prosecutor, etc.)
    - The second part requires the requestor to identify the information to be redacted (i.e., home address, name and address of child's school, etc.).
    - The third part requires the requestor to identify the documents to be redacted.

Before processing, each request should be reviewed to ensure that it is complete and contains all information necessary to locate and redact the correct information. If the request is not complete, it should be returned to the requestor with an explanation of what additional information is required. Each Clerk/Comptroller's Office should designate one department, such as the department where redaction requests are stored, to return the incomplete request forms.

Redacting Instructions

A. Official Records

1. Redact information authorized to be redacted from the electronic image or other version of each recorded document, when requested on a redaction request form. Store redaction requests in the land records management system as internal notes or as otherwise provided by the software system. Apply redactions in a way that Official Records managers or clerk personnel can provide an unredacted copy of the document to judges, clerk staff, and law enforcement if requested, unless the redactions are coming from the court-side and being pre-redacted since the original record can be viewed on the court-side.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2. If the recorded document is only available on microfilm or in paper for viewing by the public, determine the best method for editing the paper or microfilm so that it is protected. Select a method that best meets the office's needs. One method is to print the image from the microfilm, scan the image, and redact the electronic image. Another method is to print the image from the microfilm, using a black marker, cover the redaction information on both sides of the paper, and then print a new copy for the customer. If the microfilm document is available for public viewing scrape or splice the microfilm to redact the protected information or insert the redacted image on the microfilm available for public viewing. If archival copies of recorded documents are created on microfilm, retain the unredacted documents, rather than the redacted documents. If the microfilm is the only media available for public viewing, then it must be redacted. If the original document is preserved by scanning, and the microfilm is not available to the public, there is no need to splice or scrape the original roll of microfilm.
3. If a redaction request is submitted along with a document to be recorded, scan the un-redacted document, with recording information imbedded, and then apply the redactions to the scanned document. Make the redacted version the only version that can be seen by the public, whether in-house or via the internet.
4. After all documents are redacted, notify either the appropriate staff person or the requestor that the redactions are completed.

B. Human Resources

1. Unless available to the public via internet or other on-demand method, it is not necessary to immediately redact personnel documents that contain information covered by a redaction request. Instead, those documents may be flagged to indicate that they contain confidential information that must be redacted before the document can be viewed by the public. Access to flagged documents should be restricted to authorized employees for use in performing their essential duties.
2. Redaction of paper and electronic personnel documents, when required, should be handled by the designated redactor using this procedure and the standard redaction method for the Clerk/Comptroller's Office. The un-redacted original of each redacted document should be marked as confidential and placed in a sealed envelope in the personnel file, or stored in another secure non-public location in the Human Resources Department.
3. As each document is flagged or redacted, the department redactor should initial that document on the redaction request.
4. Designated redactors for the HR department should maintain a copy of each redaction request in a secure, nonpublic location. HR employees responding to public records requests that include flagged documents should work with the redactor to ensure that documents provided in response to each public records request have been properly redacted.

C. Tax Deeds

1. Potential bidders frequently visit the Clerk/Comptroller's Office to review tax deed files. Therefore, documents associated with tax deeds should be redacted immediately upon receipt of a redaction request.
2. Redact paper and electronic tax deed documents pursuant to office procedure. The un-redacted original of each redacted document should be sealed and retained in the tax deed file.
3. As each document is redacted, the redactor should initial that document on the list of documents to be redacted. After all documents in that department have been redacted, the redactor should send the request for redaction to the next department on the list.

D. Finance & Accounting

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1. If the requestor's work address is not confidential, the finance department may redact its database by replacing the requestor's home address with the requestor's work address (e.g., where the requestor is a sheriff's deputy, his/her home address will be replaced with the address of the Sheriff's Department). Confidential information should be redacted from paper documents listed on the redaction request, or those documents should be flagged to indicate that they contain confidential information that must be redacted before the documents can be viewed by the public. The un-redacted original of each document should be marked as confidential and retained in a secure non-public location accessible only to authorized employees for use in performing their essential duties.
2. If the requestor's work address is confidential (e.g., where the requestor is the spouse or child of a sheriff's deputy), the redactor should redact the confidential information from paper and electronic records.
3. As each document is redacted or flagged, the redactor should initial that document on the list of documents to be redacted. After all documents in that department have been redacted or flagged, the redactor should send the request for redaction to the next department on the list.

Storage of Redaction Requests

1. The request for redaction also should be stored in a non-public location, if it contains information protected under the statute. Once redaction is complete, a redaction request containing confidential information should be marked confidential and stored in a secure location accessible only to authorized employees. Redactors and others who handle the request for redaction should not make copies, except as recommended in this procedure. Redaction requests that do not contain confidential information may be stored in a location accessible to the public.
2. The last redactor who handles the request should send the request to the designated storage location. Upon receipt of the completed redaction request, the manager of the department where the request is stored should advise the Chief Deputy or other designated administrator that processing is complete. The Clerk/Comptroller's Office then should advise the requestor in writing if any information on the request could not be located or was ineligible for redaction.
3. The department that stores the redaction requests should maintain a master list of the requests containing only the name of the requestor and the date of the request.

Troubleshooting

If a redactor is unable to locate a document identified on the request or is uncertain what information to redact, (s)he should consult a supervisor.

Redactors should not deviate from the established procedure without approval from a department manager or legal counsel.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors
Florida Association of Court Clerks, Inc. and Subsidiaries
Tallahassee, Florida

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Florida Association of Court Clerks, Inc. (d/b/a Florida Court Clerks and Comptrollers), FACC Services Group, LLC (d/b/a CiviTek), and CiviTek National, Inc. (collectively, the Organization) which comprise the consolidated statements of financial position as of June 30, 2019 and 2018, and the related consolidated statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001610

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Organization as of June 30, 2019 and 2018, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other Matter

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as a whole. The supplemental schedules, as listed in the table of contents, are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the consolidated financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements or to the consolidated financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements as a whole.

NOTE 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The following summary describes the significant accounting policies followed by the Florida Association of Court Clerks, Inc. (d/b/a Florida Court Clerks and Comptrollers) (FCCC), FACC Services Group, LLC (d/b/a CiviTek), and CiviTek National, Inc. (CNI) in the presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

FCCC is a tax-exempt entity organized to enable the members of FCCC, principally, Clerks of the Court, to more efficiently and effectively serve their constituents. This function is accomplished through legislative updates of laws affecting court clerks, educational seminars and workshops, and publications. Additionally, the FCCC administers several government contracts, as more fully described in Note 10.

CiviTek is a single member-owned, limited liability company of FCCC formed to administer all other activities entered into by FCCC. Its primary activities consist of providing technical assistance and software support to Clerks, and providing technical assistance in the implementation and administration of government contracts for FCCC.

CNI was formed as a for-profit corporation on October 31, 2011. The purpose of this entity is to conduct projects that generate taxable revenue. CNI is owned 100% by FCCC.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of FCCC, CiviTek, and CNI. All significant accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. The term "Organization" refers to FCCC, CiviTek, and CNI, collectively.

The consolidated financial statements include the consolidated statements of financial position, consolidated statements of activities, consolidated statements of functional expenses, and consolidated statements of cash flows, as determined using the accrual basis of accounting. Accordingly, revenue and expenses are recognized as earned or incurred.

Accounting Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Basis of Presentation

The financial statements of the Organization have been prepared on the accrual basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The financial statements are presented in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 958-205 Not-for-Profit Entities – Presentation of Financial Statements.

Under the provisions ASC 958-205, net assets and revenues, and gains and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, the net assets of the Organization and changes therein are classified as follows:

> Net assets without donor restrictions: Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions and may be expended for any purpose in performing the primary objectives of the Organization. The Organization's board may designate assets without restrictions for specific operational purposes from time to time.
> Net assets with donor restrictions: Net assets subject to stipulations imposed by donors, and grantors. Some donor restrictions are temporary in nature; those restrictions will be met by actions of the Non-Profit Organization or by the passage of time. Other donor restrictions are perpetual in nature, where by the donor has stipulated the funds be maintained in perpetuity.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents, consist of checking and money market accounts, and liquid short-term investments in U.S. Government Securities through a bank repurchase agreement and mutual funds. Cash and cash equivalents are stated at cost plus accrued interest, which approximates market value.

Investments

Investments represent investments in certificates of deposit with varying maturities greater than three months and bond and equity mutual funds. The investment holdings are reported at fair value with gains and losses included in the statements of activities. Investment return is presented net of investment fees.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable consist primarily of amounts due from various Florida counties related to the Organization's software maintenance and technical assistance programs, E-Filing Authority, and administrative fees due from the Florida Local Government Investment Trust (the Trust). This revenue is deemed to be fully collectible and an allowance for uncollectible amounts has not been recorded.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001617

Due from the State of Florida

This balance is comprised of amounts billed to the State of Florida Department of Revenue (FDOR) for services performed in connection with the Child Support Enforcement contract (Contract No. CC600), amounts billed to the Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles for services performed in connection with the Communication Subsystem contract, and for miscellaneous grant amounts billed to other state agencies.

Property and Equipment

Land, buildings, and equipment are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is based on estimated service lives of depreciable assets and is provided using the straight-line allocation method. Property and equipment costing $5,000 or more are recorded at cost with estimated lives of three to ten years for furniture and other equipment, and fifteen to thirty years for various buildings and leasehold improvements. Fully depreciated assets are retained in property and depreciation accounts until they are removed from service. In the case of disposals, assets and related depreciation are removed from the accounts and the net amounts, less the proceeds from disposal, are charged or credited to income.

Revenue Recognition

In general, revenues are recognized when the earnings process is substantially complete and goods have been delivered or services performed. Revenues primarily consist of registration fees, management fees, government contract revenues, and fees from MyFloridaCounty.

Income Taxes

FCCC has been recognized by the Internal Revenue Service as tax-exempt under Section 501(c)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC).

CiviTek is considered to be a disregarded entity for purposes of filing information returns or income tax returns. In June 2000, the Florida Association of Court Clerks' Service Corporation, a taxable subsidiary, was merged into CiviTek, a limited liability company. The net assets of the taxable subsidiary were contributed to the newly formed limited liability company in complete liquidation of the taxable subsidiary. During its existence, the taxable subsidiary was required to pay income tax on its net taxable income. FCCC and CiviTek, a disregarded entity, are required to pay income taxes on any unrelated business income in fiscal years ended after June 30, 2000.

FCCC and CiviTek file consolidated informational returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction. With a few general exceptions, this consolidated return is no longer subject to U.S. federal, state, and local tax examinations by tax authorities for the years before 2015.

CNI is a for-profit corporation and files federal and state tax returns as required. CNI generated an operating loss in previous years which will be carried over for tax purposes. Any tax liability that might result from the current year's operations is considered to be immaterial.

Employee Benefit Liabilities

The Organization has adopted benefit policies for employees for Paid Leave Time (PLT), covering vacation and sick time, and for Retirement Severance Benefits (RSB). Amounts for each benefit are accrued in the accompanying financial statements in accordance with the Organization's accounting policies. The PLT policy provides for employees to earn leave at rates dependent upon years of service, with unused portions above a balance of 80 hours either paid out annually or carried over to the next year, at the option of the employee. If an employee exceeds 300 hours of PLT accrual, the excess over 300 hours will automatically be paid out to the employee at the end of the fiscal year. The RSB policy provides for a one-time payment of this benefit upon retirement to any employee who has met the criteria of being at least 59 ½ years old and with 10 years of continuous service at their retirement date.

Subsequent Events

The Organization has evaluated subsequent events through September 13, 2019, which is the date the consolidated financial statements were available to be issued.

Reclassifications

Certain reclassifications were made to the previous year's amounts in order to conform to the current year presentation.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of providing the various programs and activities have been summarized on a functional basis. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited. Allocations are determined by management on an equitable basis based on an employee direct labor hour rate.

New Accounting Pronouncement

On August 18, 2016, FASB issued ASU 2016-14, Not-for-Profit Entities (Topic 958) – Presentation of Financial Statements of Not-for-Profit Entities. The update addresses the complexity and understandability of net asset classification, deficiencies in information about liquidity and availability of resources, and the lack of consistency in the type of information provided about expenses and investment return. The Organization has adjusted the presentation of these statements accordingly. The ASU has been applied retrospectively to all periods presented.

This balance is discussed in further detail in Note 7. The balance as of June 30, 2019 and 2018 was $3,299,942 and $2,826,770, respectively.

The Organization maintains cash balances at four banks. Accounts are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to $250,000. At June 30, 2019 and 2018, the Organization's uninsured cash balances were $14,844,678 and $13,766,901, respectively.

NOTE 3: Investments

Investments at June 30, 2019 and 2018, consist of bond and equity mutual funds that provide for redemption at the Organization's option and certificates of deposit with varying maturities greater than three months.

ASC Topic 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, issued by the FASB, establishes a framework of measuring fair value. That framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under FASB ASC Topic 820 are described below:

- Level 1—Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Organization has the ability to access.

- Level 2—Inputs to the valuation methodology include: (1) quoted market prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets; (2) quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets; (3) inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability; and (4) inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means. If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability. The Organization holds no Level 2 investments.

- Level 3—Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement. The Organization holds no Level 3 investments.

The Florida State Disbursement Unit (SDU) was created by Florida Statutes, s. 61.1824 to process court ordered and certain other child support receipts and disbursements. The Clerk of Courts has the option to contract with the SDU to process private child support cases. The Organization was required to open a bank account in the Organization's name for these type transactions. As of June 30, 2019, the Organization began reporting this cash balance of $3,299,942 in the financial statements as funds held for the benefit of others (e.g., money owed to custodial parents). The cash balance is offset in the financial statement with a corresponding liability.

The Organization presents comparative financial statements and therefore is restating the prior period Statement of Financial Position to include this asset and offsetting liability. As of June 30, 2018, the balance was $2,826,770. The adjustment had no impact on net assets.

NOTE 8: Lease Commitments

To be considered a participant in the Plan, an employee must retire from the Organization and have completed at least ten years of service, and have attained the age of sixty-five. The Plan qualifies as a medical plan under Section 105 of the IRC. The Organization makes annual contributions to fund the Plan depending on the funded status of the plan.

Traffic Citation Accountability and Transmission System (TCATS) Contracts

The Association has entered into an agreement with the Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles to design, establish, operate, upgrade, and maintain a statewide Uniform Traffic Citation Accounting and Transmission System (TCATS). TCATS is an automated method of transmitting Uniform Traffic Citation (UTC) data from the sixty-seven Clerks of the Court offices to the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles' database. TCATS allows Florida Clerks to electronically transfer Citation, Disposition, and D6 data from their traffic management systems to FCCC, who in turn, consolidates the reports and transmits them to DHSMV. This agreement has been extended until June 30, 2020.

Florida Department of Revenue - Contract CC600

Effective September 1, 1998, the FCCC was awarded a contract to operate and maintain a State Disbursement Unit (SDU). The purpose of the SDU is to provide one central address for collection and disbursement of certain child support payments. In addition, the FCCC contracted to operate and maintain an automated state case registry, which must contain records of certain child support cases as required by the United States Department of Health and Human Services. On October 1, 2008, the contract changed the management of the SDU to the Florida Department of Revenue with the FCCC providing operation and maintenance of the CLERC system as necessary for the support of the SDU. This contract also supports FCCC's Resolution Team. The Resolution Team is the Clerk's instant access point to the SDU. All future contract revenues are also subject to the availability of federal and state funds. The term of the contract has been extended to September 30, 2021.

Child Support Enforcement - Local Entity Repository Collection (CLERC) System Contract

The CLERC application was established by the Legislature in 1992 and became operational in 1994. The CLERC system provides a common application for child support and alimony processing and case maintenance. The Organization designed CLERC to comply with Florida Statutes that mandated all depositories for child support be integrated. CLERC functions include: case maintenance, receipting, daily payment procedures, delinquency/judgment, warrant operations, and reporting. The Organization is currently in the maintenance and operating phase of this project. Revenues related to this contract are now included in the CC600 contract with the FDOR described above.

Maintenance and Service Contracts

The Organization provides software support and maintenance to Clerks in the State of Florida, including court related case maintenance, jury selection, witness tracking, data vaulting, website hosting and official records. In addition, the Organization has designed a case maintenance system specifically for Clerks in the State of Florida, which replaced the previous Comprehensive Case Management Systems (CCMS) applications. CLERICUS was designed and implemented as a fully integrated case maintenance system for all case types and was developed using the Microsoft.NET framework. Thirty-seven counties are currently utilizing the CLERICUS software.

E-Filing Authority

The Florida Courts E-Filing Authority (the Authority) was established pursuant to Chapter 163, Florida Statutes. The Authority was established to create a public entity to manage the design, implementation, operation, upgrade, support, and maintenance of a portal for the receipt of electronically filed court records. The Authority has contracted with the Organization for the design, development, implementation, operation, upgrading, support, and maintenance of a state-wide E-Filing Court Records Portal (the Portal). Prior to this agreement, the Organization has operated the Portal under contract with the Authority at its own internal cost.

NOTE 11: Additional Projects

MyFloridaCounty

Florida Senate Bill 1334, known as the "Clerks of the Circuit Court Public Records Act" was passed in 1999 to require web-enabled document requisition and management of official records processed at the Clerk's offices. FCCC developed an internet portal, which made functionality available for online record index searches, document ordering, child support payments, traffic payments, and child support case inquiries. The MyFloridaCounty.com website handles transactions that would normally be handled either through the Clerk's walk-in counter or mailroom. FCCC earns processing fees from each transaction running through the internet portal. FCCC recognizes all associated MyFloridaCounty revenues when the earnings process is substantially complete and goods have been delivered or services performed. Revenues recognized for the years ended June 30, 2019 and 2018, were $9,083,251 and $9,204,918, respectively.

Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS)

The CCIS is a secured internet portal providing a single point of access for state-wide court case information. CCIS contains court case information maintained by the Clerks of the Court. Users are granted access to court case information consistent with their specific roles and responsibilities based on Florida Statutes, Rules of Court, and Federal Guidelines. CCIS is designed for use by the judicial community, state and local law enforcement, state agencies, and the Florida Legislature as well as federal criminal justice agencies.

In a change to the Florida Statutes effective in fiscal year 2005, the Florida Legislature added a distribution to the Clerk's Association detailed in Section 28.24(12)(e)1. Each Court Clerk must submit ten cents of the four-dollar fee collected to fund court-related technology to the Clerk's Association for use in developing, administering, and maintaining the CCIS. Fees recognized for the years ended June 30, 2019 and 2018, were $1,823,863 and $1,839,793, respectively.

Florida Local Government Investment Trust

The Trust was established under the laws of the State of Florida for the purpose of providing investment funds through which public entities may pool funds in order to take advantage of permitted investments and maximize investment earnings. Three of the six Trustees of the Trust are appointed by the Executive Committee of FCCC. The Trust has entered into an agreement with the Organization to provide administrative services. Administrative fees paid to the Organization by the Trust totaled $590,604 and $642,037 for the years ended June 30, 2019 and 2018, respectively. In addition, the Trust has entered into an agreement with the Organization to provide education and training to local governments. Fees paid to the Organization by the Trust under this agreement totaled $262,791 and $301,528 for the years ended June 30, 2019 and 2018, respectively.

NOTE 12: Board Designated Net Assets

The Operating Reserve Fund represents the designated funds set aside by action of the Board of Directors. The Operating Reserve is intended to provide an internal source of funds for situations such as one-time unbudgeted expenses that are critical in nature, unanticipated loss in funding, or uninsured losses. The Operating Reserve is not intended to replace a permanent loss of funds or eliminate an ongoing budget gap. During fiscal year 2019, the board updated its reserve policy and increased the required reserve amount. The Board Designated Operating Reserve as of June 30, 2019 and 2018 was $6,309,911 and $4,910,888, respectively.

NOTE 13: Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards

The Organization did not expend federal awards in excess of $750,000 during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2019. Therefore, a federal single audit was not performed.

NOTE 15: Uncertain Income Tax Positions

The Organization accounts for income taxes as required by FASB ASC 740, Income Taxes. Using that guidance, tax positions initially need to be recognized in the financial statements when it is more-likely-than-not the positions will be sustained upon examination by the tax authorities. It also provides guidance for derecognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods, disclosure and transition.

As of June 30, 2019, the Organization had no uncertain tax positions that qualify for either recognition or disclosure in the financial statements. Additionally, the Organization had no interest and penalties related to income taxes.

RE: Communication of a Significant Deficiency in Internal Controls

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Florida Association of Court Clerks, Inc. (the Organization) as of and for the year ended June 30, 2019, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Organization's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. However, as discussed below, we identified a certain deficiency in internal control that we consider to be a significant deficiency.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A reasonable possibility exists when the likelihood of an event occurring is either reasonably possible or probable as defined as follows:

- Reasonably possible. The chance of the future event or events occurring is more than remote but less than likely.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Probable. The future event or events are likely to occur.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the following deficiency in the entity's internal control to be a significant deficiency:

2019-001: Credit Card Purchases

Classification – Significant Deficiency

Criteria:
The use of credit cards in not-for-profit organizations is prevalent. Credit cards are often used for travel purposes, booking reservations, and serve as convenient and readily available means of purchasing. However, they also come with associated risks that need to be considered. In a strong control environment, effective monitoring and oversight should be established to ensure the credit card charges are reasonable, necessary and in compliance with the Organization's policy.

Condition:
For part of fiscal year 2018-19, the internal controls over credit card transactions were not operating effectively. During our audit, we reviewed a large sample of purchases made using the organization's credit cards. We noted certain transactions which were either unauthorized or did not comply with the Organization's credit card policy. These transactions were isolated to purchases made by one employee and could be classified as either abusive or potentially fraudulent in nature.

Cause:
Many of the identified employee's credit card purchases lacked proper supporting documentation but were reviewed and approved by at least two levels of management: Budget Director and Interim CFO. It appears that in many instances the employee circumvented the policy which required a third signature by her direct supervisor. This was accomplished by completing a separate purchase requisition for each individual charge on the credit card statement so that the total was less than the $2,500 threshold requiring a third signature.

Monitoring of the budget was not operating effectively as certain expenditures in this department were significantly over budget with no apparent accountability.

There also appeared to be a lack of accountability of this employee's job duties and daily time. This is evident because several unauthorized out of town training conferences (not clerk related) were attended that required this individual to be out of the office for days at a time. As of the date of this letter, management is still unsure about the purpose of some of these out of town trips and conferences. Many appear to be related to conferences geared toward self-improvement and certain professional certifications.

Effect:

Failure to maintain proper oversight over the Organization's credit card function can lead to misappropriation of assets, waste and abuse.

Recommendation:

In May 2019, the new CFO implemented the following policies to strengthen internal controls for credit card purchases.

1. Created and required signature for an internal American Express Corporate Cardholder Agreement. This agreement details appropriate use of the card, recordkeeping responsibilities and consequences of inappropriate use.
2. Established a formal approval process which requires the submission of one form detailing all purchases with the signature of the employee, their direct supervisor, the accounting department and the CFO or CEO if necessary (based on dollar amount)
3. Accounting is now responsible to sign as the final reviewer for budget authority and appropriateness with policies/procedures. This will limit any misunderstanding of responsibility.
4. Clear expectations have been provided to document discussions and resolutions between parties for potential policy violations. This would include notification to the supervisor of the staff member involved.
5. Retooled the Amex structure to allow for spending limits on cards.
6. Any accidental personal expenses will be coded to receivables and cleared monthly. If not cleared timely, employees will face discipline.
7. If an employee is to be reimbursed by an outside organization for travel or speaking, each travel occurrence should be approved by management and the payment/reimbursement will be handled personally and not by FCCC or CiviTek.

We believe this is a good policy and should be strictly followed. We recommend that management further research best practices for ways to improve credit card policies and procedures especially for expenses related to conferences and travel. In addition, we believe there needs to be better budget accountability throughout the year for all expenses. When an expense line item exceeds budget, departmental management should be required to provide a detailed explanation for the variance.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Management Response:

Management understands and agrees that internal controls were not appropriately applied during a portion of the 2018-19 year as it relates to credit card purchases. Upon being hired, the CFO identified these control deficiencies and the particular individual's questionable activity and immediately notified the HR department, CEO, Board of Directors, and Lanigan and Associates of the issue. After notifying the proper parties, the existing controls were enforced, and the Accounting team redesigned the controls and processes for credit card purchases. These steps are documented as items one through seven under the recommendation portion of this letter. In addition, the Controller has established monthly management meetings to enhance accountability for budgets and spending for all departments within FCCC/CiviTek.

As indicated by Lanigan and Associates, we corrected these deficiencies. Lanigan and Associates verified in their testing that the controls and procedures currently in place are designed properly and effective.

The Organization's written response to the significant deficiency identified in our audit has not been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and, accordingly, we express no opinion on it.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the board of directors, and others within the organization, and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.

DRAFT

asked Clerk Tara Green to update the committee on her efforts to the amendment 10 transition (moves county comptroller function to the Clerks, if not currently a function in their office).

- Clerk Green explained she has been in discussion with her Clay County's Board to work out a transition plan but there have been disputes. Progress has been slow due to levels of inaction and resistance for transition planning of comptroller duties to the Clerk's office. As an example, during a Clay county budget hearing the Board was silent on the Clerk's request for a formal transition plan. The necessary budget and employees planning to perform the comptroller function has not been addressed. An audit/consulting firm, that has worked with both the Clerk and the Board, may be able to mediate and assist both sides. However, Clerk Green feels she may need legal support to implement amendment 10 and transition to the comptroller function to her office. She remarked the following areas need to be addressed:
    - Develop a common strategy
    - Workflow and identification of duties and controls
    - Independence of Clerk comptroller function
- Clerk Crawford remarked in the past he had similar County Board issues. He relied on an attorney from the FCCC General Counsel's office, John Londot, to provide needed legal support.
- The Chair remarked that Broward, Osceola, Miami-Dade, along with Clay counties would likely benefit from the assistance and coordination of John Londot and the FCCC General Counsel's office. The Chair made a motion to ask the Executive Committee to approve this request.

Motion made to ask the Executive Committee to vote to provide legal support to Broward, Clay, Miami-Dade and Osceola Clerks for implementation of amendment 10 issues.

- Motion — The Honorable Kellie Connell
- Second — The Honorable John Crawford
- Approved Unanimously

Note: Post committee meeting. Chair Burke made the committee's request known to FCCC's Chief Executive Officer, Chris Hart. He provided the request to President Stacy Butterfield and recommended the request falls under the FCCC Legal Services Policy. Specific clarifications, details and budget will be determined.

2. Fraud Webinar scheduled for November 19, 2019
   Discussion: The Chair updated the committee on the Fraud Webinar scheduled in November 19th. Notification was emailed to all Clerks on October 9th. The target audience includes finance and accounting professionals and the Chair recommends Clerks and staff attend. He explained the speaker, John Kolar, of Wells Fargo Bank, has over 20 years of experience in financial services. In his current role, Mr. Kolar manages a team of consultants that create and maintain training and process documentation for the fraud prevention agents.

3. Winter Conference planning: February 26-27-28, 2020

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Information: To be held in Orlando. The Chair will be finalizing session details and speakers from the prior list with the Education Committee.

Clerk Connell recommended a session called Comptroller Duties 101. She felt the John Londot would be a great speaker with his legal background and past assistance to Clerks.

4. Develop Regional Workshop curriculum for Disaster Preparedness/Lessons learned for FEMA reimbursements: Impacts and issues for Clerks' finance and accounting because of hurricanes, like Irma and Michael:
   Information: The Chair and FCCC are in the planning stages for the four regional workshops to be held in April or May 2020. Curriculum details and locations to be provided to the committee as they are confirmed.
5. Develop two WebEx education sessions on the topic of our Comptroller function.
   Information: The Chair explained the Fraud Webinar is the first WebEx education session on November 19th. The second WebEx education session remains to be determined.
6. Develop a Best Practice recommending a consistent website display of Clerks' financial records and reports on websites.
   Discussion: The Chair recognized Clerk Jeff Smith to update the committee on this activity. He explained there has been a delay in moving forward in developing a recommendation to Clerks for all offices to consistently display financial information. One issue was how best to be ADA compliant. The Chair offered his office's technical department to assist Clerk Smith. The Chair also asked Clerks Crystal Kinzel and John Crawford if they could assist Clerk Smith and they agreed. The Chair noted that smaller counties may have different needs for their websites. He asked Clerk Steve Land to assist from the small county perspective and he agreed.

Action Items:

At meeting close the Chair recapped the following Action Items:

1. Motion made to ask the Executive Committee to vote to provide legal support to Clay and Osceola Clerks for implementation of amendment 10 issues.
2. Fraud Webinar scheduled for November 19, 2019
3. Orlando Winter Conference planning in progress for February 26-27-28, 2020
4. Develop Regional Workshop curriculum for Disaster Preparedness/Lessons learned for FEMA reimbursements to be held in April or May 2020. Currently in planning stage by the Chair and FCCC.

        - REC doesn't set budget.

Subject: CCIS - Amendment 4 issues
Attachment(s): "A4 QRT agenda 8-5-2019.docx"

Linda,

Hope you are doing well.

Yesterday the Amendment 4 QRT had a packed filled conference call. One of the agenda items was to have a review of the study of CCIS data compared to individual county CMS data. Each county was asked to review 10 case types. So far 38 counties have conducted the review. Of the 38, 18 reported no data differences between CCIS data compared to the county's CMS data. 28 counties reported some issues. Most of these issues were not very significant. Attached is the agenda packet from the meeting. Please pay attention to pages 9 through 17. These deal with the issues brought forth by the 28 counties.

It is my understanding that you serve as the CCIS Queen as part of your role on the Technology Committee. The DOC will be using CCIS data to let felons being released from prison know of the amounts due related to court fines/fees/costs. It is important the data be correct. The request of the Amendment 4 QRT is to hand the data quality issue off to you and the Technology Committee. Melvin reported that there is a Data Quality Management Workgroup that is chaired by Toni Bleiweiss from your office. This group may be the ideal group to help improve the quality control between CCIS and each county's CMS.

The bottom line is that Clerks will be judged on the quality of the data in CCIS and therefore we need to do all possible to ensure it has the highest level of credibity. Your help to fulfilling this goal is greatly appreciated. If your schedule allows, it would be great if you can particpate in our next confernce call scheduled for Monday at 2:00. Maybe you can ask Toni to participate as well. I will forward to you the Outlook appointment.

Thanks for your help in solving this important issue.

  - Payer Doesn't Know Case #/Citation #
  - Payment Plan Info, Past Due Info, etc
  - Combining Cases/Payments
  - Other Compliance Assistance (Reinstate Driver's License, etc)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Remote Payments
Using Clerk's Web Site

- Most (if not all) Clerks provide the public a method to make online electronic payments (credit cards, ACH) on their web sites
- Payment Scope may be limited (only certain case types, number of days past due, payment sent to collections, etc.)
- Web Site usually has a CMS Interface
  - Limited lookup capability
  - Payment auto receipted in CMS
- Web Sites do not accept cash or paper checks

FLORIDA COURT CLERKS & COMPTROLLERS

Remote Cash Payments
Using Financial Institutions

- Some Clerks have contracted with financial institutions to accept case payments on behalf of the Clerk
- Payment scope may be limited (only certain case types, number of days past due, payment sent to collections, etc.) based on the level of integration
- Example : 40 Amscot branches in Hillsborough County accept cash payments on behalf of the Clerk for traffic and child support cases

Options to Accept Payments for Cases in other Counties

- Direct the Payor to the Clerk's Site where their case is located
- Could utilize a "link" site similar to www.payFLclerk to assist in finding the proper place to make the payment
- PROS:

Clerks' Amendment 4 Quick Response Team

PRELIMINARY Comparison of CCIS and CMS for Recent Department of Correction Releasees

The Department of Corrections provided the A4 QRT with basic information on individuals recently released by the Department. For each county, 10 individuals were identified.

The Department provided: the DC Number (unique to each individual), Last Name, First Name, Case Number (based on the UCN), Uniform Case Number (usually blank as not recorded in Department systems), Release Date, and County where Convicted.

The Clerks on the A4 QRT reviewed the data and tested it in each of their counties. The test involved comparing CCIS data, focusing on financial obligations and payment data, with each Clerk's CMS data. The A4 QRT then asked each of the other 67 Clerks to check their 10 cases in the same way.

Numerous issues, typically minor, were identified. Those have been compiled and grouped into broad categories. They are displayed in the attached spreadsheet.

At the same time, beginning July 1, 2019, the Department began filing with the Clerks documents related to restoration of voting rights for each newly-released individual. Even though they were not identified as part of the CCIS-CMS comparison, any issues that were identified with those filings have also been included in the attached spreadsheet.

Note that the Department's list of 10 recent releasees per county is not a random sample, nor was it compiled to be statistically significant. With 10 cases per Clerk, some Clerks were sure to get a list that would present no problems, while other Clerks would get a list full of problems. In a big county, everyone on the list could be a recent releasee, while in a small county the list could include individuals released some time ago. The results for any individual Clerk would not be indicative of the issues that might arise statewide.

However, the total number of cases reviewed statewide is equal to 2 percent of the number of individuals released by the Department in the 2017-2018 state fiscal year. Thus, this review represents a large enough group that Clerks, after examining the statewide results, can derive a valid picture of many of the issues faced.

Category	County	Issue
CCIS data	Alachua	Restitution - in 1 case, no proof that restitution has been paid. In 3 cases, restitution is payable via DOC, so not in Clerk's system.
CCIS data	Collier	Discovered an error in CCIS that was prohibiting sentences with an n/a status from showing. It was corrected by the CCIS programmers this week.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CCIS data	De Soto	In one case, the Public Defender Fee Assessed was incorrect, but is nor corrected
CCIS data	Escambia	For 8 of 10, CCIS has old address; CMS has current address flagged as “default”.
CCIS data	Gadsden	For 1 individual, like the SAO, the charge sequence is in the Prosecutor Phase and not the Initial Phase.
CCIS data	Indian River	CCIS picked up the default address in four (4) of the cases instead of the current address.
CCIS data	Indian River	Sentence on each count – The sentences on all charges that had a Court and Sentencing Phase completed were correct. In the charges that were Nolle Prosequi (Prosecutor Phase) – CCIS reflects time served rather than Nolle Prosequi or dropped. In 1 case, there were 3 charges; in 3 other cases there was 1 charge. In 1 case CCIS reflects Administrative Probation instead of Reporting Probation on 2 charges.
CCIS data	Lake	Fees listed do not include any fees a Collections Agency may have imposed.
CCIS data	Lee	CCIS does not reflect the financial balance is in civil judgment statute.
CCIS data	Lee	Restitution was ordered on the case, amount was reserved by the court. This is not reflected in CCIS.
CCIS data	Lee	Restitution of $633 was ordered. Not reflected in CCIS. Our county doesn’t enter felony restitution amounts into our CMS as a financial assessment because we do not collect those monies. This is why the field is blank in CCIS for two cases on the spreadsheet. We instead add the restitution amount as a sentence component of our CMS.
CCIS data	Lee	Monetary obligations were reduced to judgment.
CCIS data	Martin	Old records scanned in bulk, not individually imaged to docket lines.
CCIS data	Martin	Need to search OR records.
CCIS data	Martin	Variations in individuals name (typos, AKA, etc.)
CCIS data	Miami-Dade	CCIS rounded restitution owed to the nearest dollar ($1,551 instead of $1,550.89)
CCIS data	Monroe	The disposition was never put on our system. This has been corrected.
CCIS data	Monroe	In 2 of the 10 cases, CCIS says prosecutor Filed on certain counts but they are Nolle Pros. Not sure why. The other cts are correct.
CCIS data	Monroe	Individual was WheldAdj on 11/20/15 but he had violated and now is Adj on Ct 1 on 3/16/15. Now fixed in CMS, but CCIS isn't showing the Adj on 3/16/15.

CCIS data	Monroe	In one of the 10 cases, a count was Nolle Pros, but CCIS says Prosecutor Filed, Not sure why, other cts are correct.
CCIS data	Monroe	Had to add the middle name and correct the judge name. It is correct in CCIS now.
CCIS data	Osceola	Race and gender did not transfer from CMS to CCIS. (8 cases)
CCIS data	Osceola	Restitution reflected in CMS, but not in CCIS. (2 cases)
CCIS data	Osceola	Prosecutor action on 1 count did not transfer from CMS to CCIS. (3 cases)
CCIS data	Osceola	Court action on 1 count did not transfer from CMS to CCIS. (2 cases)
CCIS data	Osceola	Reopen record in our CMS; however, not in CCIS. (2 cases)
CCIS data	Osceola	Extra $50.00 ($49.00 + $1.00) included in Assessment Total and in Balance Due in CCIS.
CCIS data	Palm Beach	Incorrect name in CCIS and on the report. The name, which is spelled incorrectly by one letter, is an AKA of the defendant. Name on case in our system is spelled FRIENDLY, case is correct in CCIS except for the name FRIENDLEY.
CCIS data	Polk	No restitution was showing in CCIS because we do not add these financials to our case management system.
CCIS data	Polk	In our CMS, we had a different DC number for case CF16-1166.
CCIS data	Polk	Noticed that the disposition date reflected in CCIS was not accurate (CF17-9102). We discovered this case had incorrect disposition dates on several of the counts. We corrected the case in our system, so the CCIS batch file will be sent up to correct the data in CCIS.
CCIS data	Polk	A few of the cases showed the incorrect judge at disposition (CF16-1166, CF17-1902, and CF17-748). This may be due to pending cleanup of CCIS files.
CCIS data	Polk	A few of the cases either showed the incorrect state attorney or defense attorney at disposition (CF17-9102, CF12-8430, CF17-748, CF16-1809, CF18-7916, & CF17-7763). After reviewing the CCIS ICD, we do not report the sentencing state attorney, just the one assigned to the case. For the defense attorney, we report the attorney who filed the notice of appearance and not the attorney at time of sentencing. After 30 days, we remove the defense attorney from our system.

CCIS data	Polk	Financial information was not showing in CCIS for case numbers CF16-1166 or CF10-6789; however, once we accessed the cases in CCIS, the push/pull service updated these to the correct amounts.
CCIS data	Seminole	In CCIS, FL for Florida is added to at the beginning of the DL number rather than just M320020640060 as in our system. Our system maintains the State, but we don't know if that information is correctly reflected in CCIS as all these cases are FL cases.
CCIS data	Seminole	We do not have a field for Place of Birth for defendant in our CMS.
CCIS data	Seminole	Judge Assignment History not uploaded to CCIS.
CCIS data	Seminole	Co-termed or consecutive or concurrent sentencing status not showing. CMS not maintaining these statuses for instances with related cases.
CCIS data	Seminole	No assessments showing under Financial Summary when Court Costs and Service fees assessed. No payment history showing. This is something that needs to be fixed in our CCIS upload.
CCIS data	Seminole	Only shows pending Warrant/Capias or Summons information. Once issued, the old information is not maintained in the CMS. We will look at ways to provide this history.
CCIS data	St. Johns	In 1 case, we found a minor docketing error (now corrected) and one instance where information in CMS was different from CCIS. In 1800090CF, we found his MM charge for driving while license suspended shows "adjudicated guilty" in our CMS, but the adjudication is not reflected in CCIS; although it is a misdemeanor and would not affect the defendant's eligibility to vote.
CCIS data	St. Lucie	Charge sequence in CCIS is different from CMS (2 individuals)
CCIS data	St. Lucie	Charges that were No Info'd are showing in CCIS as Dropped/Abandoned. Also shows a sentence of Time Served - Adjudication is correct, sentence should not be there. (2 individuals)
CCIS data	St. Lucie	CCIS does not display Charge Count #2 Adjudication
CCIS data	St. Lucie	Charge that was Nolle Pros is showing in CCIS as Nolle Pros but, also shows a sentence of Time Served (Adjudication is correct, sentence should not be there)

CCIS data	St. Lucie	CCIS does not show race, gender. If the Charge Count Sequence order has ever been changed in the local CMS, CCIS will not have the resequencing update.
CCIS data	Suwannee	For 3 individuals, assessment in CMS does not equal amount on civil lien due to payments made/civil lien amended.
CCIS data	Union	Could not check 1995-CF-0031, DC#668916 as we were not imaging at that time.
Disqualifying felonies	Martin	Statute number not easily available. (For old cases, statutes may have been subsequently amended.)
DOC reports	Broward	DC number and release date are not in records prior to July 1, 2019. Case number does not exactly match CMS case number, but allows identification.
DOC reports	Citrus	DOC shows restitution for Citrus case to First Step Inc. which the Clerk does not have ordered on the case. The backup for the fines appears to have been looked up in the Okeechobee case number in CCIS for Citrus County. It provides detail for an entire different defendant named Steven Ray Sharp. This document is now on Mr. Posila's case with erroneous information, plus it was provided to the individual.
DOC reports	Citrus	DOC directed to remit an amended form. How the, now does released, individual get the amended information.
DOC reports	Clay	DOC address listed for 6 individuals is different from CCIS/CMS address
DOC reports	Clay	DOC offense date for 3 individuals is different from CCIS/CMS offense date
DOC reports	Duval	In DOC's data, found one discrepancy in the information. CMS and CCIS reflect a DOB of 08/14/1968, while DOC lists 03/13/1968.
DOC reports	Franklin, Osceola	In Clericus, each case number has 8 number characters and the spreadsheet includes only 6 or 7 numbers and appears to be leaving off a 0 (zero) in front of cases with years like 05 and 06 and leaving off a 0 (zero) after the year number (see 500056 & 600159 which should be 05000056 & 06000159). All the other cases for Franklin also left out a 0 (zero) after the year number.
DOC reports	Franklin, Polk	For any future DOC reports, add middle initial or middle name and any suffix.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

DOC reports	Gadsden	1 individual's last name misspelled (Divinentez should be Divientez)
DOC reports	Hernando	In 2 cases, DOC indicates party was released from DOC; however, defendant is currently indicated to be under Supervised population. We would not begin compliance notifications for fines and costs until the party had completed or termed Supervised population.
DOC reports	Indian River	One DC number did not match the Probation Order filed by Probation. Probation is in the process of filing a Corrected Probation Order.
DOC reports	Lake	The case number provided on the spreadsheet did not include the indicator that the case was related to a co-defendant. The defendant recently released was actually the "B" defendant. It would be helpful if DOC included that portion of the case number.
DOC reports	Manatee	2008-CF-1444 - The DOC spreadsheet (transposed 08 to 80) and the spelling of the defendant's first name did not match what the Clerk had in the Case Management System (CMS).
DOC reports	Manatee	2016-CF-3991 - The Clerk's CMS balance matched DOC's balance, but the $173 in restitution was included in the Clerk's CMS total whereas DOC added the restitution on top of the assessed amount.
DOC reports	Martin	For any future DOC reports, DOB would be helpful.
DOC reports	Santa Rosa	For case 900510, DOC data appears to be dropping the leading 0's from the case number. Case number is 2009-CF-000510, not 1990-CF-000510
DOC reports	St. Lucie	First Name as given in DOC report is FRANTRAVIOU, whereas the first name on this case in both CCIS and the local CMS is FRANTRAVIOUS
DOC reports	St. Lucie	As part of the Case Number, the Defendant Code (A,B.C….) should be included
Other Comments	Lake	In Felony cases, restitution is not always tracked by the Clerk. In most instances, restitution is monitored by DOC and/or State Probation. In some instances, a Restitution Order will be entered and the victim will seek collection through other civil means. The Clerk's records are not the all-inclusive data source for restitution ordered or the current balance due.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Other Comments	Miami-Dade	4 of 10 individuals had other cases with fines owed; 3 of these with restitution owed
Payments: Amounts due	Martin	Most individuals amounts due had converted to liens or been sent to collections.
Payments: Amounts due	Pinellas	For 3 of 10, unable to determine if Restitution was paid-Payable direct to victim.
Payments: Prior cases	Martin	9 of 10 individuals had other cases with amounts due. (1 paid in full.)
Sentencing information	Franklin	Defendants may be sent to prison on more than one case at the same time where the sentences are concurrent (and release dates are the same for each case) but each case has been assessed separate court costs and fines. Will that information be captured by DOC? If not, is some disclaimer needed?

K. New information from DOC

- In the sample of 10/county provided to us, the first 2 digits of the case number were an issue. DOC had a system problem with leading zeros ("06" for 2006). They have corrected the problem and provided us with the previous 10-per-county list with leading zeros fixed.
- Adding DOB is something they can do. They have provided the previous 10-per-county list with DOB added.
- DOC has provided their list of offense descriptions matched to specific statutes and their "code" for each.
- Citrus identified 3 issues. 1) Documents with bad information drawn from another county. This was a DOC problem. They have a statewide meeting this week and will address this both as a systems and a training issue. 2) Citrus asked DOC to refile the documents, raising the issue of how the releasee would get the corrected information. DOC will develop a way to deal with this. 3) A restitution payee was incorrectly identified in the DOC documents. DOC will correct their internal process to fix this issue.
- Volusia raised an issue about contacting DOC concerning individuals on probation since multiple counties may be involved. DOC responded: "There are instances when an offender is sentenced in one county, then supervised in another county (the county they live in). The Clerks may not know the county of supervision; therefore, questions should be referred to the county of sentence. By clicking the following link, Probation Offices, each Clerk will be able to determine the office that coincides with the county of sentence. It would probably be a good idea for the Clerks to address court related fees, charges, and costs if they receive phone calls directly as they have a system to maintain accounts for those monetary obligations. "
  http://www.dc.state.fl.us/cc/index.html
- We also asked DOC about release documentation provided to individuals on probation who completed supervision in prior years. DOC responded: "For offenders who have terminated supervision, we provide the offender with a Termination Letter; however, supervision documents maintained by Community Corrections are destroyed three years after the offender terminates supervision."

Subject: Conversation with Senator Brandes

Jason, Tom, Tara, Stacy, Chris and Fred,

Senator Brandes called me this morning to discuss our Friday meeting. I let him know who would be attending the meeting with him (Stacy, Tara, Chris, Jason and me).

It was a short conversation but very much on point. He said his biggest priority over the next three years as it relates to Clerks is to secure stable long term funding for Clerks. He asked that we come forward with a plan. He mentioned that we are in an excellent position with Rep Sprowls becoming Speaker. I went over the small list of items clerks are working on that are of interest to him:

Alternatives to DL suspensions
Data Transparency
Diversion Programs
Amendment 4

Although he said it's good that we will provide an update on those items, the only one he specifically referred to was Amendment 4. I mentioned we have a workgroup dedicated to this and consider this very important. He realizes there are many issues related to this topic.

I suggest the following based on the conversation:

Jason should have ready a plan for our long term funding. Many elements of our original proposed bill from last year should be part of this plan. We need to provide Jason input if other items should be considered.

I think we need to share with the Senator the effects of the ticket clinics and how this is spreading across the state. Doug presented at the summer conference on this topic and has some good initial data. There are ways for possible legislation to reverse this trend. This is a current threat to our revenue and will continue to grow.

As to the list above, I think we need a bullet point update on each topic.

We should schedule a conference call within the next few days to further discuss our strategy for the meeting. (Jason – can you work on scheduling this?)

Senator Brandes gets it. He studies issues and wants to get things done. I don't think we need to waste time during the meeting with background but focus more on future plans of action. Jason, Fred and Tom have worked with him in the past and may offer other insights.

It certainly is nice to have a friend like Senator Brandes on our side. It is so refreshing to have someone truly committed to our issues. We need to make the most of these opportunities.

Excerpts

Section 21.

97.052 The uniform statewide voter registration application must elicit from the applicant whether the applicant has been convicted of a felony and, if convicted, has had his or her voting rights restored pursuant s. 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution, by including the statement "If I have been convicted of a felony, I affirm my voting rights have been restored pursuant to s. 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution upon the completion of all terms of my sentence, including parole or probation." and providing a box for the applicant to check to affirm the statement.

Section 22.

97.053 To be complete and accepted by the supervisor of elections, the voter registration application must include a mark in the applicable checkbox affirming that the applicant has not been convicted of a felony or that, if convicted, has had his or her civil rights restored through executive clemency, or has had his or her voting rights restored.

Section 23.

98.045 The supervisor must determine whether a voter registration applicant is ineligible because the applicant has been convicted of a felony for which his or her voting rights have not been restored.

Section 24.

98.075 The Department of State must identify those registered voters who have been convicted of a felony and whose voting rights have not been restored by comparing information received from, but not limited to, a clerk of the circuit court, the Board of Executive Clemency, the Department of Corrections, the Department of Law Enforcement, or a United States Attorney's Office.

Section 25.

98.0751 A person who has been disqualified from voting based on a felony conviction for an offense other than murder or a felony sexual offense must have such disqualification terminated and his or her voting rights restored pursuant to s. 4, Art. 5.d. For the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e. and notwithstanding any other statute, rule, or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or a victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution.

5.e.(III) Completion of all community service hours, if the court converts the financial obligation to community service.

A term required to be completed in accordance with this paragraph shall be deemed completed if the court modifies the original sentencing order to no longer require completion of such term. The requirement to pay any financial obligation specified in this paragraph is not deemed completed upon conversion to a civil lien.

VI of the State Constitution and this section. Upon making an initial determination of the credibility and reliability of such information, the department shall forward such information to the supervisor of elections. A local supervisor of elections shall verify and

A person may not be charged or convicted for a violation of this section for affirming that he or she has not been convicted of a felony or that, if convicted, he or she has had voting rights restored, if such violation is alleged to have occurred on or after January 8, 2019, but before July 1, 2019.

Section 27.

940.061 The Department of Corrections shall inform and educate inmates and offenders on the restoration of voting rights resulting from the removal of the disqualification to vote pursuant to s. 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution.

The Jury application is currently being redeveloped and, with recent Supreme Court approval a rollout is scheduled in the next year. The Honorable Angela Vick inquired about a demo for the new Jury application and Mr. Cox noted that Jim Cleek is providing demos in the Solutions Lounge during the Summer Conference. The payment engine for CiviTek has also been rewritten, the payment processing upgrade has been completed and will enable new features like integrated international credit cards and e-wallets (GooglePay, ApplePay and Paynow). A new version of CLERICUS (Version 2.6) has been completed and CLERICUS counties are being upgraded to a 64-bit application. The OSCA Uniform Case Reporting requirements for CLERICUS counties have also been implemented. CCIS continues to improve data quality and reporting, and has added a component that will work with local pre-arrest diversion programs to provide a statewide Pre-Arrest Diversion Database within CCIS, adhering to legislative requirements. Finally, Mr. Cox thanked the 13 new members who joined the Florida Trust this year. Clerk Smith thanked the Honorable Paula O' Neil for serving on the CiviTek Board.

Item 2: FY 2019-2020 Budget Presentation

The Honorable Jeff Smith presented the April 2018 CiviTek Financial Report including cash, assets and liabilities. He then introduced Brian Machek, FCCC CFO, to present the CiviTek Budget.

Brian Machek noted highlights from the proposed budget including the addition of five new positions: three devoted to e-commerce (an EMV Reader position, a Fraud Analyst and an Intern), a Systems Intern and a CCIS Program Manager. Mr. Machek noted the budget categories divided out by Citizen Solutions, Government Solutions, and Statewide Solutions.

Mr. Machek presented the budget noting that major initiatives included in this year's budget are the implementation of Chip and Pin processing, completion of the eCLERC rewrite, addition of dedicated resources to CCIS and continued improvements in IT infrastructure. In FY 2019-20, revenues are projected to grow $2.6 million to a total of $27.6 million. However, the majority of the growth is from programs that CiviTek provides at-cost services for, like the E-Filing Authority or at a 2 percent markup like CiviTek National (CNI). As a result, there is not a projection of growth in net income. Costs are projected to increase by more than $4.8 million from the FY 2018-19 end-of-year projections. The major reasons for the increases are as follows: 1) Personnel Costs: $1.3 million – full integration of new positions hired in the prior year, filling vacant positions from prior year and the addition three new positions for fraud monitoring, EMV card specialist and CCIS program manager; 2) Operating Costs: $2.2 million – majority related to increases in interchange fees and IT costs for software/licenses/maintenance purchases; and 3) Capital Asset Purchases: $1.3 million – MyFloridaCounty chip machines and server upgrades. The proposed budget results in an operating income of $1.3 million, which is down $2.2 million from the FY 2018-19 projections.

The Honorable Tara Green asked, related to Citizen Solutions, about the change in the budget, specifically MyFloridaCounty and the significant loss. Clerk Green asked whether there was a plan in place to address this, and why the loss was so significant. Mr. Machek attributed this to the implementation of Chip and Pin processing.

Mr. Machek spoke to the reserves and that the Reserve Policy is currently being revised. Mr. Machek stated the Budget & Finance Committee will also start looking at funds and how they are used. He stated the association will need $3.75 million to cover operations, which will result in a total reserve withdrawal of $2.5 million, proposed as $1.7 million from CiviTek reserves and $800k from association reserves. The reserves withdrawn from CiviTek balances will cover the following one-time purchases: 1) Capital asset purchases $1.3 million; 2) DIY startup costs of $440k for Turbo Court rollout.

The Honorable Grant Maloy inquired about the expense of TurboCourt and why $440k is required up front for startup costs. Mr. Machek spoke to the startup costs, the initial website set up, and then the monthly expenses. Melvin Cox added that TurboCourt currently works with each Clerk's office individually but charges a fee for the forms and licenses. Clerk Smith added that aschedule is available that itemizes the costs of the TurboCourt rollout and, at the five-year mark, estimates this program will be in the position to make money.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001687

The Honorable Kellie Connell asked why TurboCourt was selected, and whether there was an RFP process. Mr. Cox replied that this was an initiative set in motion by the Strategic Technology Committee and TurboCourt had the Florida approved forms and were doing business with others in Florida. Mr. Hart added that the Strategic Technology Committee originally brought this to the Board of Directors for approval, it was then vetted through committees, and then 48 Clerks voted to continue with TurboCourt.

The Honorable Gary Cooney inquired about the DIY forms initiative as it relates to the Supreme Court. Mr. Hart said that there were no opinions set forth, nor anything stated about it being an unlawful practice of law. Mr. Hart added these forms are approved by the Supreme Court and added that Greenberg Traurig has been included on this discussion as well. President Sharon Bock spoke to the unlawful practice of law and discussed the difference of making the form available versus providing instruction on how to complete the forms. Clerk Cooney stated that the Orlando office of The Florida Bar has told him that there may be an issue with this. Discussion continued about the DIY forms initiative and the unlawful practice of law regarding the forms.

The Honorable Stacy Butterfield asked about the budget summary, specifically 1) what is the reason the revenue is not sufficient, is there a single cause and 2) what is the plan or strategy going forward. Clerk Smith stated that over the years the budget has been hit or miss, and now with Brian Machek on board, he is analyzing the budget and the budget is now more realistic than ever. The Budget & Finance Committee has been created and this committee will be analyzing all budgets to provide strategies for sustainable budgets. Mr. Machek added that CNI is beginning to generate revenues to fund other services. Clerk Smith concluded by thanking Mr. Machek and his staff and their hard work.

The Honorable Billy Washington made a motion to adjourn the CiviTek Annual Stockholder Meeting.

Item 4: FY 2019-2020 Budget Presentation

Brian Machek then spoke to the CNI Budget, including the opportunity for growth development of CNI. In FY 2019-2020 there is a projected net income of $432,000. Mr. Machek spoke to SMI, new states going live, and other revenue opportunities and projected growth. The Honorable Tara Green asked what entities are included with CNI in Florida. Mr. Hart stated these are non-Clerk related entities such as libraries, cities, and fire departments. Mr. Machek noted there are examples of these, like the city of Bradenton, in the budget summary.

MOTION: The Honorable Jeff Smith made a motion to adopt the FY 2019-2020 Budget. The Honorable Barry Baker seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

Following the approval of the budget, the Honorable Jeff Smith made a motion to adjourn the CNI meeting.

EXECUTIVE SESSION ACTION ITEMS:

Item 5: Approval FY 2019-2020 Budgets

The Honorable Angel Colonneso presented the April 2019 FCCC Financials. Clerk Colonneso presented the cash, assets and liabilities. Clerk Colonneso noted that YTD net income is $806,000. Clerk Colonneso noted the Budget was approved by the Executive Committee on April 18, and the Board of Directors on May 30.

Brian Machek presented the budget highlighting, the 18 association employees as well as the newly added intern position for a law student to support downtown operations for the Legislative & Public Affairs team. Mr. Machek noted that the budget was presented for FY 2019-20 without displaying the CiviTek dividend. He also spoke to the new Management and Administration job cost; that the overhead expenses remain with FCCC versus being allocated to CiviTek, the continued investment in legislative, legal and communications activities, including $190k reserve for legislative services, $250k reserve for communications outreach, and a $200k reserve for any necessary legal services.

MOTION: The Honorable Pam Childers made a motion to approve the FCCC and CiviTek Budgets. The Honorable Carolyn Timmann seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

The Honorable Joe Smith asked about the lobbying contract amount and whether reserves would be used for this. Mr. Machek stated the lobbying contract amount is not an individual line item, but included in the line items within the budget.

The Honorable Brent X. Thurmond asked about the amount for paying outside lobbyists. Chris Hart spoke to the amount for current lobbyists and the amount set aside for bringing on additional lobbyists, if necessary.

Item 6: Nominating Committee Report

President Sharon Bock, Nominating Committee Vice Chair, presented the 2018-19 Nominating Committee Report in place of Chair Marcia Johnson, and reported that six candidates were interviewed on April 6, 2019 for the FCCC Secretary Position. The Honorable Barry Baker was selected as the nominee to fill the FCCC Secretary position for the 2019-2020 FCCC Program Year, after receiving a majority of votes from all the members of the Nominating Committee.

President Bock presented the slate of 2019-20 FCCC Officers – Executive Committee: President: Stacy M. Butterfield, CPA; President-Elect: Tara S. Green; Vice President: Angelina M. Colonneso, Esq.; Treasurer: Carolyn Timmann; and Secretary: Barry Baker. Clerk Bock noted that the FCCC President-Elect automatically ascends to President and does not require a vote. Clerk Bock explained the voting process and printed ballots were passed out to all Clerks.

MOTION: The Honorable David Ellspermann made a motion to approve voting on the slate of 2019-20 FCCC Officers – Executive Committee. The Honorable Tom Bexley seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

To ensure all budgets were officially approved, President Bock asked for a motion to approve all three budgets together.

MOTION: The Honorable John Crawford made a motion to approve the FCCC, CiviTek and CNI budgets. The Honorable P. DeWitt Cason seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

President Bock then announced the results of the ballot vote and announced the slate of 2019-20 FCCC Officers was approved. President Bock asked for a motion to approve both the slate of 2019-20 FCCC Officers and the 2019 District Caucus results as part of the Nominating Committee Report.

MOTION: The Honorable Bill Kinsaul made a motion to approve both the slate of 2019-20 FCCC Officers and ratify the 2019 District Caucus results. The Honorable Brent X. Thurmond seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

Item 7: Legislative Recap and 2020 FCCC Agenda

Jason Harrell provided the 2019 Legislative overview. Mr. Harrell spoke to the bills that were tracked and monitored, the 52 calendared meetings with legislators, and the Legislative Committee meetings in Tallahassee that Clerks attended. Mr. Harrell discussed the Clerks Serve Florida Act and House Bill 337, which passed both chambers unanimously and was signed by the Governor. House Bill 337 allows Clerks to carry forward unexpended revenues and provides budget authority (this change is recurring), and allows Clerks to carry forward cumulative excess and provides budget authority, with some limits. Also, the underlying text of the original bill raises the jurisdictional threshold of the county courts for civil actions from $15k to $30k beginning January 1, 2020, and to $50k, beginning January 1, 2023. Mr. Harrell provided analyses of the fiscal impact of the policy changes in HB 337, and stated that compared to current law, it's about a net $15.8 million positive for Clerks.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001690

Mr. Harrell then spoke to the Texting While Driving bill (HB 107), where Clerks will continue retain a portion of the fine for primary offenses for texting while driving, and that the change to the fine distribution was limited to specific instances of using a wireless device within designated school and work zones while a vehicle is in motion. Mr. Harrell spoke to initial concern when the criminal justice reform package (HB 7125) was released, however, after working with House staff on this bill, most negative impacts were mitigated.

The Honorable Tom Bexley spoke to the new opportunity that Clerks have to opt-in to receive all e-mails from the Legislative & Public Affairs team regarding legislative activity. Clerk Bexley then asked the Honorable Ken Burke to speak to the Legislative Measures for Success.

Clerk Burke thanked the Honorable Stacy Butterfield for her assistance in creating the Measures. Clerk Burke presented the Success Measures, the Levels of Failure, and the Success Rating. Clerk Burke graded Level 1 (no new duties should be assigned without compensation) with an A- and graded Level 2, which was very significant (excess dollars and unexpended dollars from the prior year) with an A+, adding that the FCCC Legislative team accomplished everything superbly for this standard. Clerk Burke concluded by stating that Level 5 will need continued work and thanked Clerk Bexley, Jason Harrell, and the legislative team for all their hard work.

Clerk Bexley stated that the Board of Directors approved a motion to direct the 2020 Legislative Committee to develop Measures for Success for the next legislative year which will continue to provide direction for the 2020 legislative year.

Clerk Bexley continued by presenting the recommended Clerks' 2020 Legislative Priorities and noted that, as discussed during the legislative workshop in May, one of the things that needs improvement is timing. Last year, the Clerk bill was filed too late, putting Clerks at a disadvantage. This year it is important to find sponsors early to be in the best position for success. Clerk Bexley stated, similar to what was done last year, the Legislative Committee asked for each District Director to gather ideas for the Legislative plan. After this request, more than 60 ideas were received to evaluate, which will be presented in a matrix format. During the June 19, 2019, Legislative Committee meeting, the committee discussed that with the passage of HB 337 this year the Legislative Committee made the decision to bring forward a broad concept agenda recommendation to the Board and full membership for consideration. Mr. Harrell then presented the recommendations to be considered:

- Clerks find sponsors and file a "Glitch Bill" to correct technical issues (HB 337, other issues), which may be a standalone bill or coordinated with partners (i.e., OSCA)
- Clerks find sponsors and file several substantive policy bills based on submissions from Clerks and Clerks' staff, allowing flexibility to adjust and revise based on feedback from Legislative leadership
- Build relationships with Senator Simpson, Representative Sprowls, and incoming leadership
- Use Legislative Committee-approved amendments for changes as needed
- Actively participate in the OPPAGA study for positive outcome

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001691

- Educate legislators on Clerks and Comptrollers; and work to correct perception issues regarding funding (There will be no direct ask for new funding, but will continue to tell the Clerk story and build the case for a long-term solution.)

MOTION: The Honorable JD Peacock made a motion to approve the 2020 Clerks' Legislative Agenda. The Honorable Angel Colonneso seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

The Honorable Brent X. Thurmond asked whether there was a workgroup set up to work on the OPPAGA study. Clerk Bexley replied that there is not a workgroup in place at this time, as a scope of work for the study has not yet been presented. The Honorable Crystal Kinzel thanked the legislative team for the option of opting in for legislative e-mails.

Item 8: Bylaws Amendments and Committee Report

The Honorable JD Peacock II, Bylaws Committee Chair, stated there are eight amendments for consideration, noting that Amendment 1 was previously discussed at the 2019 Winter Conference. Therefore seven amendments remain; however, Amendment 4 (related to broad committee structure) is only for discussion today. Clerk Peacock stated he will be recommending the adoption of six amendments today. Clerk Peacock presented the Summary of Changes to the Committee Section of the 2019 Bylaws and spoke to the proposed revisions and what the committee chose to work on and not to work on. The Bylaws Committee chose not to change names and chose not to relocate the organizations of statewide interest. The committee also decided not to work on the governance structure. Clerk Peacock then explained the Change-By-Change Explanations: 2019 Recommended Amendments, the 2019 Bylaws Table of Amendments, and identified all substantive changes.

Clerk Peacock presented Amendment 2, within Article II, Purpose, as a change that codifies the governance structure developed this year as it pertains to Committees, Subcommittees, Workgroups and Quick Response Teams.

MOTION: The Honorable JD Peacock made a motion to approve the recommended change - Amendment 2. The Honorable Linda Doggett seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

Clerk Peacock presented Amendment 3, within Article III, Membership, as relates to honorary members. This change removes the third paragraph in that section and recommends the Board create an honorary membership policy with the details as to who qualifies as an honorary member.

MOTION: The Honorable JD Peacock made a motion to approve the recommended change - Amendment 3. The Honorable Stacy Butterfield seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

Clerk Peacock stated Amendment 4, the broad committee structure amendment, is for informational purposes at this time. The intention is for Clerks to review this and provide feedback to the Bylaws Committee. This will be discussed at the Fall Conference.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001692

Clerk Peacock presented Amendment 5, regarding parliamentary authority for the association. This recommendation makes Robert's Rules the parliamentary authority for meetings and moves this to a new section.

MOTION: The Honorable JD Peacock made a motion to approve the recommended change - Amendment 5. The Honorable Angel Colonneso seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

Clerk Peacock presented Amendment 6, within Article VIII, Associated Statewide Interests, and noted that only the legal names of titles and entities were changed, no substantive changes were made.

MOTION: The Honorable JD Peacock made a motion to approve the recommended change - Amendment 6. The Honorable P. DeWitt Cason seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

Clerk Peacock presented Amendment 7, within Article IX, Funds, Administration and Finance, which changes the date when the Board of Directors presents the Budget to all Clerks. The date will change from April 30 to June 1 of each year.

MOTION: The Honorable JD Peacock made a motion to approve the recommended change - Amendment 7. The Honorable Stacy Butterfield seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

Clerk Peacock presented Amendment 8, within Article XIII, Dissolution and Indemnification, incorporating the dissolution clause, which is required for a corporation in Florida. This new language is a recommendation from Patrick Winters and follows statutory language and protects the officers of the association.

MOTION: The Honorable JD Peacock made a motion to approve the recommended change - Amendment 8. The Honorable Tara Green seconded the motion and the motion passed unanimously.

Clerk Peacock added the revised copy of the Bylaws, including the changes, will be presented at the Fall Conference.

Item 9: DIY Pro Se Forms Assistance

The Honorable Linda Doggett presented on the FCCC IT Strategic Plan and how it correlates to all Clerks. Clerk Doggett spoke to governance and the successes this year with legislative efforts and communications. Clerk Doggett stated that the mission of the Strategic Technology Committee, including the Clerk Technology Group, chaired by Doris Maitland, Chief Digital Officer, Lee County, is to establish a three-year plan to increase technological successes at both the local and statewide level. This three-year plan includes the DIY Pro Se Forms, digitizing files, using Artificial Intelligence, automating redaction, and mandating e-filing with other agencies. Clerk Doggett concluded by speaking to the DIY Pro Se Form product, thanking Peggy Ball and the FCCC for their work on this, and encouraged the use of these forms. Clerk Doggett encouraged the viewing of a demo of this product while at conference. The Honorable Carolyn Timmann asked for clarification on the $10.00 fee and how this fee would be handled for domestic violence cases. Clerk Doggett stated that there is no fee when associated with a domestic violence case.

Item 10: E-Filing Authority Report
The Honorable Tim Smith provided a hard copy of the E-Filing Authority report to Clerks.

Item 11: CEO Report
Chris Hart touched on the amazing initiatives worked on throughout the year, including IT initiatives, the new legislative office space and the hard work by the legislative staff during the 2019 Legislative Session. Mr. Hart spoke to the increase in Facebook and Twitter followers this year, and noted the increased amount of streaming videos Clerks have made available. Mr. Hart noted the new policies, charters, and governance work. Mr. Hart spoke to continuing leadership, developing Clerk partnerships, and Clerk relationships with the Courts. Mr. Hart concluded his report by speaking to FCCC goals and continuing to optimize technology.

Financial Reports discussion points:

Year to Date Operating Results

The Statement of Activities report now reflects the current month budget amount as well as the year-to-date amounts.

The August operating loss is $(185,000).

For fiscal year 2019-2020, CiviTek will not be paying a monthly predetermined dividend/distribution to FCCC. We will instead transfer cash in the form of an intercompany receivable/payable as needed. In the prior year, this dividend was displayed as monthly revenue. Since the cash distributions will be a payable vs. revenues, the financial statement will more regularly reflect a monthly operating loss.

FCCC Position on Amendment 6 (Marsy's Law) No. 19-088

Category:	FCCC Governance	Telephone:	(850) 921-0808

As previously provided in Advisory 19-75, the Amendment 6 (Marsy's Law) Quick Response Team (QRT), in conjunction with the Rule 2.420 QRT, plan to present a position to the Rules of Judicial Administration Committee (RJAC) at the October 18th meeting based on current practices.

The Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers Board of Directors approved the recommended Clerk position on the protection of victim information pursuant to Marsy's Law during its September 19, 2019, Board meeting. This will also be an item for discussion at Executive Session, scheduled on October 1, 2019, during the 2019 Fall Conference.

Please see the FCCC Board-approved position below:

FCCC Position on Amendment 6 (Marsy's Law)

Following the FCCC's letter to the Chief Justice of the Florida Supreme Court dated June 17, 2019, the Court issued an order on June 27, 2019, in SC19-049, that amended Rule 2.420 of the Rules of Judicial Administration in response to new legislation concerning Baker Act cases and Domestic Violence cases. Though a request for guidance on the implementation of Marsy's Law with regard to court records was included in the letter, the Florida Supreme Court did not make changes to Rule 2.420 regarding Marsy's Law or provide guidance for Clerks on applying Marsy's Law to court records.

On August 30th, the Florida Rules of Judicial Administration Committee (referred to as the RJAC), invited all Clerks and other interested parties to appear at their next meeting on October 18th to comment on whether the Court should revise Rule 2.420 to incorporate Marsy's Law redaction requests. This indicates that the RJAC believes it is within the Court's purview to determine how such requests should be handled in court records.

Since the passage of Amendment 6, many Clerks are receiving victim opt-in forms from law enforcement, and victims believe their identifying information will be protected in court records upon completion of the form. The Marsy's law QRT has reviewed processes currently used by various Clerks to balance the expectations created by Amendment 6 and ensure public safety.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL-CLAY-19-1402-A-001716

The Marsy's Law QRT, in conjunction with the Rule 2.420 QRT, plan to present a position to the RJAC at the October 18th meeting based on current practices. Current practices to consider for handling Marsy's Law requests and a recommended Clerk position are as follows.

Current Practices to Consider:

1. Communicate with law enforcement, the State Attorney's office and the Public Defender's office about their expectations regarding victim requests.

2. Work with these agencies to create a uniform document to be used as a victim opt-in form to be filed with the case initiating documents. Many agencies have generated such forms and are currently filing them with court documents.

3. Clarify with all agencies that writing "Marsy's Law" somewhere on the document to be protected is not sufficient. Explain that the best way to ensure consistency is to have a separate document, preferably the same form every time, so that Clerks can create efficient processes and so that a victim's invocation of the right to protect their information is documented in the court file.

4. Upon receipt of the victim opt-in form at case initiation, docket the form and redact victim identifying information from the opt-in form, arrest report and any other court records where it is present. If a victim files an opt-in form or a request for protection of their identifying information at any time after case initiation, docket such request and redact victim information in court records where present.

5. Encourage law enforcement agencies, the State Attorney's office, and the Public Defender's office to minimize the presence of victim identifying information in all court documents. This can be done by using terms such as Victim 1, Victim 2, etc.

6. Since Amendment 6 expressly applies to only criminal and juvenile cases, requests to redact victim identifying information in any other case or case type where the victim's information may be found requires the filing of a Motion to Determine Confidentiality of Court Records in that other case.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-DOAH-19-1402-PL-001717

Recommended Clerk position on the protection of victim information pursuant to Marsy's law:

A. Clerks will advocate for the preservation of their authority to protect the enumerated class of confidential information (currently 23) in court documents as established by Rule 2.420(d), recognizing this authority is essential to the successful implementation of Marsy's Law (and other good public policy);

B. Clerks will work to reach consensual agreement on the handling of victim information with law enforcement agencies or associations, State Attorneys and Public Defenders;

C. Clerks are working to ensure that the new "uniform arrest affidavit" includes victim identifying information in a consistent field for ease of redaction;

D. Clerks prefer that law enforcement agencies agree to use a standardized victim opt-in form to be supplied by law enforcement to the victim (or Clerks could accept the various opt-in forms currently used by law enforcement agencies, as long as they are readily identifiable as victim opt-in forms and contain sufficient information such that Clerks are aware of the specific information to be protected);

E. Clerks recommend that the RJA adopt language to Rule 2.420 and Rule 2.425 that would:

    a. Require law enforcement agencies to file the victim opt-in form with the case initiating documents, or upon receipt, so that protection can be accomplished from case inception;
    b. Authorize Clerks to redact victim identifying information from court documents upon the filing of a victim opt-in form or a victim request for protection of their identifying information;
    c. Require filers to minimize the appearance of victim identifying information in subsequent court documents by the use of generic indicators (Victim 1, Victim 2); and
    d. Require the filing of a Notice of Confidential Information in subsequent court documents when such information is unavoidably present in a court filing.

The Chair of the RJAC has invited all Clerks and other interested stakeholders to attend the October 18th meeting for an open forum discussion concerning Marsy's Law as applied to court records. All Clerks are welcomed and encouraged to attend. The meeting will begin at 1:00 p.m., at the Tampa Airport Marriott.

5) UCR specification changes forthcoming – Version 1.XX (long term)
6) SRS Changes related to HB337 (OSCA working on draft specification changes for SRS Report forms)

CHALLENGES

7) HB 337 has correlating impact to the UCR and SRS reporting requirements and timelines.
8) Changes will require a variety of development efforts in the Clerks CMS systems to accomplish
9) Change will likely need to be coordinated to keep the data and reporting synchronized across all 3 reporting requirements
10) Short timeline to receive and implement requirements by January 2020

RECOMMENDATION

11) We are recommending the Clerk Technology Group and CMS Vendor Workgroup take up these reporting issues for discussion.

UNIFORM CASE REPORTING - ONGOING

   a) 51 of 67 Counties have completed Phase I "CA" as of September 2019 (OSCA UCR Transition Progress)
2) Phase II (operational sufficiency; comparison reports) for "CA" active for 51 counties who have completed Phase I
   a) In late July 2019, OSCA suspended sending Phase II UCR reports (SRS, Judicial Workload, and Complex Civil Litigation) and accompanying error reports citing programming issues with their reporting sub-system.
   b) We have requested an update on this issue and are awaiting an updated response.

CHALLENGES

3) Progress is slowed due to OSCA tasks and resource availability
   a) Clerks continue to file extension requests citing OSCA delays as a factor in the extended timelines.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

4) Additional development is required by Clerks/CMS related to UCR Technical Specification Version 1.4 (July 2019)
5) Impact to Clerks current progress unknown
   a) We have requested clarification from OSCA as to how they will require the Clerks to implement the Version 1.4 changes while they are already reporting in Version 1.3 and have not yet received a response
6) Forthcoming UCR specification changes related to HB337 will require additional Clerk development efforts related to UCR.

SRS REPORTING – JANUARY 2020

STATUS

1) Impact related to HB337 changes to County Court jurisdiction will required corresponding changes to the SRS Reports for County and Circuit Civil.
   a) Existing categorization will remain in place for cases filed through 12/31/2019
   b) New categorization will be reported for cases filed beginning 01/01/2020
2) SRS Report forms will include additional columns to report all categories of cases in both County and Circuit
3) SRS Report forms will include new fields to capture total "claim value" in each represented category

CHALLENGES

4) Additional development required by Clerks/CMS related to modify SRS reporting requirements.
5) Short timeline to receive and implement requirements by January 2020

SUMMARY

Clerks of Court are diligently working to timely satisfy their reporting responsibilities in regards to these OSCA projects in spite of the challenges each project presents as to scheduling, technical specifications and overall communication from OSCA. We should continue to encourage communication and cooperation the Clerks community as we push forward towards compliance with each requirement.

Item 5: DL Reinstatement QRT……The Honorable Tara S. Green, Chair

The purpose of this report is to provide an update to the full membership on the activities of the DL Reinstatement Quick Response Team (QRT) since the Summer Conference.

As a reminder, during the August 27 Board of Directors' meeting, the Board approved the QRT's recommendations related to an event timeframe—Saturday, October 12 – Saturday, October 19, 2019—and event parameters:

1) allowing for the waiver of collection agency fees for full payment; and
2) allowing for the establishment of payment plans—regardless of the number of times an individual may have already been on a payment plan—and reinstating the license at the time the payment plan is established.

This information was communicated to all Clerks via Advisory Bulletin 19-077.

The QRT next met on Tuesday, September 10, via WebEx, to provide input on the statewide and local event communications materials that have been developed by the FCCC Legislative & Public Affairs team, branded as Operation Green Light, finalize the Clerk Participation Survey, and provide final input on the draft CCOC Reporting Form that has been developed pursuant to law.

Survey Results:

- 66 counties have responded
  - 59 counties will participate during the established Operation Green Light timeframe; 7 counties will not
- Of the 59 counties that will participate:
  - 13 counties will hold their events on Saturday, October 12, only
  - 2 counties will hold their event on Saturday, October 19, only
  - 16 counties will hold their events during regular business hours
  - 16 counties will hold their events during the week and also offer extended hours
  - 11 counties will hold an event on a Saturday (one county as extended phone hours) and during the week (three of these counties selected Saturday, October 19)
  - 1 county is undecided at this time
- Of the 7 counties that will not participate:
  - 6 counties are planning events, but will hold them either later in 2019 or in early 2020
  - 1 county did not indicate planned events

Communications Materials:

FCCC has developed a robust toolkit of reference files and promotional materials to make each Clerk's event as successful as possible. These materials are currently available online via FCCC's website at: https://www.flclerks.com/general/custom.asp?page=GreenLightToolkit

FCCC also held two, well attended WebEx trainings for the purpose of explaining the available materials and to answer any questions Clerks' office may have. In addition, FCCC is offering an up to $500 reimbursement for promotional materials to each office that plans to hold its event during the recommended dates.

Within the last week, an external-facing website has been published (http://www.flclerks.com/page/GreenLight), along with customizable social media content for Clerks' offices.

Next Steps:

- Next QRT meeting will be held on Thursday, September 26.
- More from Phase II of Communications Materials, including an announcement video and statewide press release; reach out to each office's event liaison to discuss specific needs; and more.

How felons can register to vote in Florida under new Amendment 4 bill

Court officials explain how to check if you owe fees or restitution.

By Langston Taylor

May 26

After Florida voters passed Amendment 4, voting rights suddenly became available to felons across the state. But a bill passed by lawmakers, which the Gov. Ron DeSantis intends to sign into law, added some criteria — including a requirement that people pay off any fines, fees or restitution.

Critics say the legislation unfairly hurts poor people. Courts assume that they will never collect the vast majority of the money they're owed.

But it appears headed for law. If signed, it would take effect July 1.

Here are the new questions people will have to answer if they want to register to vote, and how to go about finding answers.

Is the crime covered by Amendment 4?

One of the early debates during the legislative session was about "murder" and "felony sex offenses." For people convicted of either, Amendment 4 doesn't matter. A convicted murderer or felony sex offender would still be ineligible to vote unless the state's clemency board restored their rights.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Based on the bill passed by lawmakers, these are the specific felonies for which Amendment 4 doesn't apply:

Murder:

- First-degree murder (782.04(1))
- Second-degree murder (782.04(2), 782.04(3))
- Providing material support or resources for terrorism or to terrorist organizations, if the violation leads to death or serious bodily injury (775.33(4))

Sex offenses:

- Any felony that would force someone to become a registered sex offender
- Sexual misconduct by a psychotherapist (491.0112)
- Sexual cyberharassment (second offense) (784.049(3)(b))
- Female genital mutilation (794.08)
- Prostitution while knowing they were HIV-positive (796.08)
- Sexual conduct, a romantic relationship, or lewd conduct with a student as a school authority figure (800.101)
- Incest (826.04)
- Sale or distribution to minors or using minors in production of harmful materials (847.012)
- Abuse of a dead human body (872.06)
- Sexual misconduct with an inmate as an employee of a correctional or detention facility (944.35(3)(b)2, 951.221(1))

Have felons completed all terms of their sentence?

Once the bill becomes law, when someone is released from incarceration or probation, their release documents are supposed to spell out a checklist of all their remaining terms of sentence, including restitution, court fees and fines.

But it's trickier for people whose crimes are behind them.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Simply being done with probation doesn't mean everything is square. The court can end probation with an "unsuccessful termination." That means that, even though there's no more supervision by the state, the person didn't meet every last requirement.

"That almost always means that you've done everything except pay off your fines and fees," said Thomas Scherberger, spokesman for the Hillsborough County Clerk of Court.

First, officials recommend, check your case file online with your county court. Here are the links for Hillsborough, Pinellas, Pasco and Hernando counties. Anyone can search by their full name to find their case number.

If your case is recent, the case file should be online. For cases at least 20 years old or more, you may need to request to view the case file at the courthouse.

No matter how many times someone has gone to court, only convicted felonies matter for voting rights.

"There are lot of fines and fees that are assessed for misdemeanors. This would only be felonies, and it would only be the felony they were convicted of," Scherberger said. So when it comes to Amendment 4, don't worry about paying off fees for any other cases.

When viewing the case file online, the "financial" section should show the remaining balance for fees and fines associated with the case. If the number isn't $0, there is still money to pay.

Restitution (money that goes to support victims of a crime) can be more confusing.

Judges sometimes order that the restitution be paid through the court. Other times, however, it's supposed to be paid directly to the victim. That's entirely outside a clerk of court's tracking system, according to Doug Bakke, the Hillsborough agency's chief deputy for court operations.

One case file listed a Tampa woman's balance at about $2,100. But a deeper in her file, it showed that a judge also assigned about $2,000 in restitution to be paid out in monthly installments.

That second amount isn't tracked by the county. Felons in that situation should call Probation Services, under the Department of Corrections, to confirm if everything has been paid.

But there are still snags.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"If the victim dies before the restitution is made, I don't know what they're going to do," Scherberger said.

A good first step, Bakke said, is to check with the clerk of court.

"They could call our office any day during the way during the week, or they could come into any customer service window," he said. He said determining outstanding fees is the "bread and butter" of what court staff do.

The court staff can determine how much money is still owed and set up a payment plan.

What if felons can't pay?

The bill allows for fees, fines or restitution to be waived by a judge, or converted to community service hours. But there's one big problem: that system isn't set up yet.

"That's up in the air right now," Bakke admitted.

Eventually, each county court would need to set up a way to file a form allowing someone to go before a judge to reconsider their case.

The judge could simply eliminate the fees or convert them to community service. Typically, that conversion works out to about $12 an hour, but that's not set in stone.

Can felons get in trouble for registering if they are ineligible?

When anyone registers to vote, they sign a form affirming that they're not a felon, or if they are, their rights have been restored. (The bill would have people check even more specific boxes once it goes into effect.)

State law says that "willfully" giving false information on the voter registration form is a third-degree felony. It's a rarely-enforced crime, but it is on the books.

State prosecutors say as long as you think you're eligible to vote, registering is not a crime.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"I'm not interested in prosecuting misunderstandings. I don't think it would be right," said Bernie McCabe, the state attorney for the 6th Circuit (Pinellas and Pasco counties).

"Normally in the law, it's the prosecutor's job to prove they willfully did something wrong. It's not (the person's) obligation to prove that they didn't do something wrong."

Andrew Warren, the state attorney for Hillsborough County and a vocal supporter of Amendment 4, said that being unsure wouldn't be enough to charge somebody for a false voter registration form. Willfulness is a higher bar than recklessness or negligence.

"If they thought they were eligible but they weren't, we would not charge them, that's not a crime," he said. "Willful means intentionally, with knowledge that they're not allowed to do it."

He said he wasn't aware of any recent criminal charges for false voter registration. McCabe could remember only one, years ago, where someone registered and voted in two states in the same election cycle.

The bill flatly protects anybody who registered to vote since Jan. 8, 2019 (the first day the law took effect) and before July 1, 2019. Anyone who registers in that time cannot be criminally charged.

It will be the state's job, as it is now, to examine new voter registration applications and determine if the person is eligible.

Why must we continue to label them as "felons"? How about "people who once committed a felon" or ex-felons? The words we use to describe people and the labels we place on them continue to fuel the myths and stereotypes further stigmatizing the very people we hope to help. #wordsmatter

Your mistake is thinking Republicans "hope to help" anyone. Numerous studies have shown that restoring voting rights helps reintegrate felons into society and reduces recidivism.

Republicans oppose this common sense approach for two reasons. They are afraid that ex felons might not vote for them so they want to suppress voting rights. Also, prisons, both private and public, are a hugely profitable business and the folks who profit want more people incarcerated, not fewer.

Remember the NY judges convicted of accepting payments for each juvenile they sentenced to prison? That is simply the most blatant example of what goes on in our prison systems.

Wayne, I'm about as Republican and MAGA as they come and I fully supported Amendment 4, as did many other Republicans. You just want to take this chance to bash Republicans; I don't know why, perhaps some inferiority complex? Just lay off your partisan BS, you're just sowing your a$$.

Week 8 of Session begins, as budget conferences remain

Today marks the beginning of the penultimate week of the 2019 Regular Session of the Florida Legislature. With next Friday, May 3, being the scheduled end of the 60-day process, a number of significant budget-related items remain, including finalizing allocations—or the distribution of monies among the various issue areas—and holding budget conferences between the two chambers, which are intended to address any remaining differences between the House and the Senate's proposed state budgets. The FCCC Legislative & Public Affairs Team has developed a graphic providing a brief overview of the budget process that may be used as a point of reference during the next two weeks. As a reminder, the state constitution requires a 72-hour "cooling off" period before the Legislature may vote on the budget; so the final proposed state budget for FY 2019-20 must be on members' desks by next Tuesday, April 30, in order to end session on time.

While these budget discussions continue, both chambers will continue to hold floor sessions this week to take up legislation that has made its way through the committee process. Of interest to Clerks and Comptrollers, tomorrow the full Senate will consider CS/CS/CS/CS/SB 76 Driving While Using a Wireless Communications Device by Sen. Wilton Simpson, which would make use of such devices while driving a primary offense. That's from 10 a.m. – 1 p.m., EDT. The companion bill, CS/HB 107 Texting While Driving by Rep. Jackie Toledo, will also be considered on Tuesday by the full House. Note that CS/HB 7109 Criminal Justice Data Transparency, the "clean up" bill for last year's SB 1392, is also scheduled to be taken up during the floor session that begins at 12:30 p.m., EDT.

In addition, the Senate Rules Committee, chaired by Sen. Lizbeth Benacquisto, will hold a meeting tomorrow afternoon from 2 p.m. – 6 p.m., which will most likely be one of the last committee meetings of the session. The agenda includes a number of bills of priority interest to Clerks and Comptrollers, including CS/SB 7086 Voting Rights Restoration, which is the Senate's implementing bill for Amendment 4; SB 7106 Risk Protection Orders, which would allow certain family members to petition a court for these types of orders; and CS/SB 1656 Criminal Statutes, which seeks to implement Amendment 11.

To access a full schedule of legislative activity for this week, please utilize the FCCC Legislative Calendar via the FCCC Legislative Activity webpage. From here, you may download information for these meetings directly to your calendar. Also from this page, you may access a full list of bills that are being tracked by the Legislative & Public Affairs team. You will need your website user name and password in order to access this information. Remember to check the calendar daily: due to shorter noticing requirements for Senate and House committee meetings during session, meetings will be added to the calendar throughout the week as needed.

To watch any legislative committee meeting or floor session of interest, a reminder that the Florida Channel carries all committee meetings and floor sessions live online via https://thefloridachannel.org/. To watch, navigate to the website using the provided link, select the "Live Streams" tab from the menu on the right-hand side of your screen, then scroll down to select the stream for the meeting or event of interest. Please note that events on the Live Streams schedule begin streaming about 10 minutes prior to their scheduled start times. Audio is available when the event is officially convened by the chair.

As a reminder, this week's Legislative Update will be held in conjunction with the April Monthly Briefing, on Friday, April 26, 2019, at 10 a.m., EDT, presented by the Honorable Stacy M. Butterfield, CPA (Polk), FCCC President-Elect. Clerks and Comptrollers may register for this meeting by clicking on this Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers April Briefing link

Legislature sends Governor state budget and implementing bill, other bills for his consideration

The Florida Senate last Friday sent Governor Ron DeSantis the Legislature's $91.1 billion proposed budget for state fiscal year 2019-2020, SB 2500, and the implementing bill, SB 2502. The governor has until June 29 to take action on these bills. The Legislature also sent a number of other bills for the governor's signature last week, including CS/SB 7066 Election Administration, which includes lawmakers' implementing language for Amendment 4 related to voting restoration.

This activity comes on the heels of the governor signing 40 bills into law during the week of June 3. Included among those bills were five of priority interest to Clerks and Comptrollers:

- CS/SB 1656 Criminal Statutes, effective upon becoming a law, implements the changes to the Savings Clause made by Amendment 11, which passed last November during the 2018 General Election
- CS/HB 7021 Financial Disclosure, which is also effective upon becoming a law, requires the Florida Ethics Commission to procure and test an electronic filing system for financial disclosures by January 1, 2022

- CS/HB 7081 State Court System Administration, also effective July 1, 2019, allows criminal judgments to be recorded electronically and implements the provisions of Amendment 6 related to judicial retirement
- CS/CS/HB 409 Electronic Legal Documents, effective January 1, 2020, authorizes remote notarization and the use of electronic wills in Florida

Franklin Clerk announces she won't seek re-election

Currently in her fourth term, the Honorable Marcia M. Johnson (Franklin) has announced she will not be seeking re-election.

Clerk Johnson's career began in the Clerk's office in 1974 at age 17, when then-Clerk Bobby Howell, hired her, and she went on to work for two more clerks, Pal Rivers and Kendall Wade. Clerk Johnson was elected as Clerk in 2004.

Johnson said she is determined to complete her current term with the same work ethic she has displayed since being elected in 2004. "I believe I have served the public well, and I will focus on providing quality services until my last day in office" she said. "I am grateful to the citizens who put their faith in me and grateful for my wonderful staff who work very hard to help all our citizens, and I think 2020 is the time to retire and allow someone else to have a career."

starting Monday, July 1, 2019. The government center branch location, which has limited Clerk services, will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Customers may visit the office to pay traffic fines, court case fees, probation, and other municipal and county infractions. These payment services are also available online via the Clerk's website. The Honorable Stacy M. Butterfield, CPA (Polk), is sworn in as FCCC President by former Polk County Clerk and Comptroller Richard Weiss (left) at the FCCC 2019 Summer Conference in Orlando.

Florida Sheriffs Association President Sheriff Mark Hunter of Columbia County, accepts the 2018-2019 FCCC Partner of the Year Award during the 2019 FCCC Summer Conference.

The Honorable Stacy M. Butterfield, CPA, installed as FCCC President

The Honorable Stacy M. Butterfield, CPA (Polk), was installed as the Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers President during the 2019 Summer Conference at the Omni ChampionsGate in Orlando last week. President Butterfield was sworn in by former Polk County Clerk and Comptroller Richard Weiss, and will take over for the Honorable Sharon R. Bock, Esq. (Palm Beach), who served as FCCC President during 2018-2019.

During her acceptance speech, President Butterfield identified points of commonality from her extensive conversations with Clerks: “a desire to build stability and consistency throughout the association, as well as among Clerks’ offices across the state;” and, “to unify and engage with a collaborative, respectful and enthusiastic spirit.” She pointed to the unity of Clerks as essential to the group’s advancement.

President Butterfield stated her FCCC theme for the year will be “Building Confidence.” Specifically, she cited a focus on Building Confidence:

- in our successes, supporting resiliency and momentum for achievements
- in each other by working together
- in the FCCC Professional Team, a competent and innovative group of professionals working under the tremendous leadership of CEO Chris Hart to support Clerks, and
- to approach issues with a “we can do it” and “start with yes” attitude, displaying the ingenuity, reliability and innovation of Florida’s Clerks and Comptrollers.

Before passing the baton of FCCC leadership to Clerk Butterfield, Clerk Bock named the Florida Sheriffs Association (FSA) FCCC Partner of the Year in honor of the FSA’s work toward the passage of Amendment 10. The passage of Amendment 10 enshrined Florida’s constitutional officers — Clerks, Sheriffs, Property Appraisers, Tax Collectors, and Supervisors of Elections — as elected officials in the state constitution.

Clerk Bock named the Honorable Linda Doggett (Lee) the 2018-2019 Clerk of the Year. Clerk Bock acknowledged Clerk Doggett’s leadership in the development and maintenance of the association’s strategic plan; DIY initiatives that are practical, useful and focused on customer convenience; and her role representing Clerks on the Florida Supreme Court’s Access to Justice Commission.

Clerk Bock presented several awards acknowledging the special efforts of Clerks and Comptrollers during 2018-2019. The Honorable Angela Vick (Citrus) received the 2018-2019 FCCC Vision Award. The Honorable John Crawford (Nassau) received the 2018-2019 FCCC Mission Award. The Honorable JD Peacock II (Okaloosa) received the 2018-2019 FCCC Values Award. The 2018-2019 Board Governance Award was presented to each of the District Directors: The Honorable Alex Alford (Walton), The Honorable Kathleen E. Brown (Liberty), The Honorable Kellie Hendricks Connell, CPA (Union), The Honorable Angela Vick (Citrus), The Honorable Tiffany Moore Russell, Esq. The Honorable Sharon R. Bock, Esq. (Palm Beach), left, presents the Honorable Linda Doggett (Lee) with the 2018-2019 Clerk of the Year Award during the FCCC 2019 Summer Conference in Orlando.

Lee Clerk named 2018-19 Clerk of the Year

The Honorable Linda Doggett (Lee) was awarded the Clerk of the Year Award during the FCCC 2019 Summer Conference at the Omni ChampionsGate in Orlando on June 26, 2019 by the Honorable Sharon R. Bock (Palm Beach). Clerk Bock acknowledged Clerk Doggett's leadership in the development and maintenance of the association's strategic plan; DIY initiatives that are practical, useful and focused on customer convenience; and, her role representing Clerks on the Florida Supreme Court's Access to Justice Commission.

Clerk Doggett received the award for her efforts to lead the development and maintenance of the association's technology strategic plan. She represents Clerks on the Florida Supreme Court's Access to Justice Commission and led efforts to provide new do-it-yourself systems to Floridians seeking court services.

"It's an honor to be recognized by my colleagues for my efforts to enhance access to justice," Clerk Doggett said. "However, the true honor is being able to make a positive difference in the lives of the citizens of Lee County and the whole State of Florida."

Clerk Doggett's extensive education and experience in information systems and technology provides her a unique perspective of the future of our justice system. Since being first elected in 2012, she has elevated the Lee Clerk's office through her commitment to adopting new technologies designed to improve efficiencies and provide greater transparency and accessibility to citizens.

The Honorable Stacy M. Butterfield, CPA (Polk), is sworn in as FCCC President by former Polk County Clerk and Comptroller Richard Weiss (left) at the FCCC 2019 Summer Conference in Orlando.

The Honorable Stacy M. Butterfield, CPA, installed as FCCC President

The Honorable Stacy M. Butterfield, CPA (Polk), was installed as the Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers President during the 2019 Summer Conference at the Omni ChampionsGate in Orlando on June 26, 2019. President Butterfield was sworn in by former Polk County Clerk and Comptroller Richard Weiss, and will take over for the Honorable Sharon R. Bock, Esq., (Palm Beach) who served as FCCC President during 2018-2019.

During her acceptance speech, President Butterfield identified points of commonality from her extensive conversations with Clerks: "a desire to build stability and consistency throughout the association, as well as among Clerks' offices across the state;" and, "to unify and engage with a collaborative, respectful and enthusiastic spirit." She pointed to the unity of Clerks as essential to the group's advancement.

President Butterfield stated her FCCC theme for the year will be "Building Confidence." Specifically, she cited a focus on Building Confidence:

- in our successes, supporting resiliency and momentum for achievements
- in each other by working together
- in the FCCC Professional Team, a competent and innovative group of professionals working under the tremendous leadership of CEO Chris Hart to support Clerks, and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- to approach issues with a “we can do it” and “start with yes” attitude, displaying the ingenuity, reliability and innovation of Florida’s Clerks and Comptrollers.

Before passing the baton of FCCC leadership to Clerk Butterfield, Clerk Bock named the Florida Sheriffs Association (FSA) FCCC Partner of the Year in honor of the FSA’s work toward the passage of Amendment 10. The passage of Amendment 10 enshrined Florida’s constitutional officers — Clerks, Sheriffs, Property Appraisers, Tax Collectors, and Supervisors of Elections — as elected officials in the state constitution.

Clerk Bock presented several awards acknowledging the special efforts of Clerks and Comptrollers during 2018-2019. The Honorable Linda Doggett (Lee) received the 2018-2019 Clerk of the Year Award. The Honorable Angela Vick (Citrus) received the 2018-2019 FCCC Vision Award. The Honorable John Crawford (Nassau) received the 2018-2019 FCCC Mission Award. The Honorable JD Peacock (Okaloosa) received the 2018-2019 FCCC Values Award. The 2018-2019 Board Governance Award was presented to each of the District Directors: The Honorable Alex Alford (Walton), The Honorable Kathleen E. Brown (Liberty), The Honorable Kellie Hendricks Connell (Union), The Honorable Angela Vick (Citrus), The Honorable Tiffany Moore Russell (Orlando), The Honorable Ken Burke (Pinellas) and The Honorable Linda Doggett (Lee). The Honorable Tom Bexley (Flagler) received the 2018-2019 FCCC New Legislative Approach Award. And, the Honorable Tim Smith (Flagler) received the 2018-2019 FCCC Optimizing Technology Award.

A total of 494 attendees took part in the conference that proved to be a great learning experience for Clerks and staff. In addition, 93 exhibitors took part in this year’s conference. Featured tracks included Courts, Executive, HR/Administration, and Technology.

Presentations from the 2019 Summer Conference will be available on the website by August 2.

Nikki Alvarez-Sowles, Esq., who has served as the Chief Operating Officer (COO) for the Pasco County Clerk and Comptroller’s since 2010, was appointed by Sixth Judicial Circuit Chief Judge Anthony Rondolino, who issued his administrative order on Tuesday, June 25, 2019. The Honorable Paula O’Neil, Ph.D., performed a swearing in ceremony during the 2019 FCCC Summer Conference at the Omni ChampionsGate in Orlando.

The appointment is ad interim – pending Gov. Ron DeSantis’ decision regarding a permanent successor to fill the balance of the retiring Clerk O’Neil’s term (through the end of 2020). Clerk Alvarez-Sowles will become Pasco’s eighth Clerk & Comptroller, its second by appointment.

“Chief Judge Rondolino knows the Office will be in great hands with Clerk Alvarez- Sowles leading it,” Clerk O’Neil said. “It’s a great day in the history of Pasco County.”

members on June 25 during the Summer Conference welcome session. Clerk Bock's first presentation, the Empowering Our Collective Potential Award, was given to FCCC CEO Chris Hart.

"His goal from Day One has been to empower Clerks and through his leadership," Clerk Bock said regarding Hart. "I truly believe we as Clerks are stronger, more confident, and in more control of our collective destiny."

In keeping with her presidential theme, which evolved during her presidency, Clerk Bock also acknowledged the hard work of the Legislative Affairs team of Jason Harrell, Kimberly Renspie and Sara Sanders, by awarding them the Turning Our Collective Potential Into Action Award. For the 2019 Legislative Session, the team fulfilled the Clerks' goal to strengthen the association's legislative position. Jason, Sara and Kimberly developed and advocated for a dedicated Clerk bill, the Clerks Serve Florida Act; they attended more than 50 meetings with legislators and legislative staff; they submitted more than 20 formal bill analyses with the CCOC; they tracked 902 bills, and worked 15 amendments. As a result, they limited negative fiscal impact to Clerks among 2019 bills that were filed, and the team was successful in securing policy provisions that will improve Clerk revenue over the next three years. Clerk Bock presented the Realizing Our Collective Potential Award to Melvin Cox and Melissa Bennefield for their instrumental roles in the association's technological accomplishments, citing their leadership in driving accessibility of DIY forms, upgrades to the Portal, and programming the CCIS matrix.

TCBC holds in-person meeting in Orlando

The Trial Court Budget Commission (TCBC) held a regular, in-person meeting on Tuesday, June 25, 2019, in Orlando, to receive an update on FY 2018-19 and FY 2019-20 budgets for the state courts system, discuss the courts' legislative budget request (LBR) for FY 2020-21, and address other issues of interest. The full agenda and materials may be accessed via this link.
The association would like to thank the Honorable JD Peacock II (Okaloosa), CCOC Executive Council Chair, and John Dew, CCOC Executive Director, for attending the meeting on behalf of Clerks of Court and for providing the following meeting summary.

At the meeting, the TCBC reported that there is sufficient funding for the remainder of FY 2018-19, and there will be a balance in the courts' trust fund going into FY 2019-20, which can be carried forward into the next fiscal year. The group also discussed the additional monies that were provided by the 2019 Florida Legislature to address staff retention, and the current work with the firm, Evergreen Solutions LLC, to review current employee pay, in order to update pay and classification policies. The TCBC approved new positions for law clerks and judicial assistants to help staff the four new judge positions funded by the 2019 Legislature (see HB 5011 Courts, Chapter 2019-95, Laws of Florida), and approved funding for the Office of State Courts Administrator's (OSCA) Office of Information Technology for continued support of an Integrated Case Management System.

For the FY 2020-2021 LBR, the TCBC approved the following items as the top three priorities:

- Timely resolution of cases, which includes funding for 49 law clerks, 58 case managers, 41 FTEs for operations/administrative support, and 9 FTEs for mediation/online dispute resolution, totaling a request of approximately $12.8 million;
- Court Interpreting Services, totaling a request of approximately $5.8 million; and
- Furnishings and Equipment, which includes new or renovated courthouse furnishings and a digital court reporting equipment refresh, totaling a request of approximately $297,000.

A summary of these recommendations may be accessed via this link.

Judge Ronald Ficarrotta, who serves as a member of both CCOC and TCBC, reported that Clerks are expected to have additional budget authority in the coming fiscal year, due to higher revenues and the ability to use carry forward dollars from the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund. Judges and Clerks look forward to continuing to work together to assure sufficient funding.

The next meeting of the TCBC is expected in late August 2019.

FCCC announces Improving Human Performance webinar

The Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers is pleased to announce the Improving Human Performance webinar scheduled on Tuesday, July 16, 2019 from 10-11 a.m., EDT.

Poor performance, low productivity, lost work time, accidents, reduced profits, and high turnover are only a few of the negative effects of disengaged employees. Employees that are simply showing up and going through the motions can cause problems company-wide. Do the managers and supervisors in your organization utilize a one-size-fits-all approach to leadership?

This presentation will touch on five key areas that allow leaders to be more effective by helping them acclimate to the specific circumstances and variables that they inevitably experience, and ultimately lead to a higher level of performance and productivity.

Attendees will learn the difference between two of the most long-standing and proven leadership styles that deliver improved results. By understanding the strengths and weaknesses of these two approaches to developing people and environment, attendees will able to maximize their influence and capitalize on the abilities team members possess.

Randy Anderson has a true passion for teaching the hows and whys of engaging, equipping, and empowering people in work and life. He teaches ideas and strategies that he learned from working for and managing in organizations ranging from five to 35,000 employees. Over the last 30 years, Mr. Anderson has developed and taught these principles to tens of thousands of people in all sizes of organizations from front line to back office, to upper management.

This webinar will include a Q&A session and attendees will receive 1 DBPR CPE credit (pending approval) and 1 SHRM PDC credit (pending approval). Clerks and Comptrollers also qualify for 1 CPE credit hour.

Trial Court Budget Commission holds in-person meeting in Tampa

The Trial Court Budget Commission (TCBC) held a regular, in-person meeting on Wednesday, August 28, in Tampa, to consider a number of issues including allocations for child support enforcement hearing officers and problem-solving courts for FY 2019-20; employee recruitment and retention for state courts system employees; and an update on the courts' legislative budget request (LBR) for FY 2020-21. The full agenda and materials may be accessed via this link.

Of specific interest, the TCBC provided a brief status report on the upcoming change to county court jurisdiction. As a reminder, CS/CS/HB 337 Courts, Chapter 2019-58, Laws of Florida, raised the county court jurisdictional threshold for civil actions from $15,000 to $30,000, beginning January 1, 2020, then to $50,000, beginning January 1, 2023. In preparation for this, a joint out-of-cycle report of The Florida Bar's Civil Procedure Rules Committee, Small Claims Rules Committee, and Appellate Court Rules Committee has been filed with the Florida Supreme Court as part of case number SC19-1354, which includes proposed changes to the civil cover sheet.

The bill also requires the Office of the State Courts Administrator (OSCA) to submit a report to the Governor and Legislature by February 1, 2021, making recommendations on the adjustment of county court jurisdiction. As part of this update, the TCBC reported on working with the association in the collection of the data elements required for the report's preparation.

Membership will be notified of the next scheduled meeting of the TCBC.

2019 Fall Conference Keynotes announced

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Welcome Session Keynote on Wednesday, October 2, will be delivered by best-selling business author and former TV journalist, Connie Dieken. The Opening Session on Thursday, October 3, will focus on the quickly approaching Florida legislative session and feature a special guest speaker, Representative William C. “Will” Robinson of the Florida House of Representatives.

Connie Dieken is the founder of The Dieken Group—an executive coaching and consulting firm that advises CEOs and other senior leaders in the spotlight. Connie helps these leaders deliver influential messages in high-pressure situations.

Her clients are leaders in some the world’s best-known organizations including Apple, HP, Nestlé, and The Cleveland Clinic.

Connie developed her unique skills during her twenty years as a TV journalist for ABC and NBC. She received five Emmy Awards®, two Telly Awards®, and was inducted into the Radio/Television Broadcasters Hall of Fame®.

While anchoring news programs, Connie would interview people of power, including President Bill Clinton and Jack Welch. As a result, she became fascinated with how leaders influence and gain commitment. This fascination prompted her to leave broadcasting and launch her own company in 2000.

Although Connie already had years of qualitative data on how people influence, she also wanted data that was quantitative. When she launched her firm, she began an ongoing research study with more than 20,000 respondents that became the statistically valid assessment tool, Influence 360°. Influence 360° measures an individual’s personal influence patterns, and guides them on how to become leaders capable of influencing in any situation, regardless of the conditions.

Using the influence research as a foundation, she created training programs that are taught worldwide in corporate universities including The Influence Lab® and Present to Win®.

Connie is also a top-selling author. Both of her books, Talk Less, Say More and Become the Real Deal, hit #1 on the Amazon bestseller list. The audio version of *Talk Less, Say Mor*e, narrated by Connie, reached #1 on Audible’s bestseller list.

Representative William C. “Will” Robinson, Jr., was born in Bradenton, and his family has deep roots in Manatee County. He is a partner with the Blalock Walters law firm, serves on the Manatee Chamber Board of Directors, and formerly served as the Chair of Meals on Wheels Plus of Manatee. Will is a proud graduate of the University of Notre Dame, and he received his J.D. from Stetson University College of Law.

As a fiscal conservative, Rep. Robinson understands the importance of balancing budgets, keeping taxes low, and ensuring that Florida is able to compete in today’s global economy.

First Interim Legislative Committee Week features Clerk Presentation

The Florida Legislature returned to Tallahassee last week, holding the first of six Interim Committee Weeks in preparation for the 2020 legislative session, which begins in January. And it was a busy one, with committees in both chambers holding meetings to receive presentations from a number of state agencies and other stakeholders.

Of specific interest to Clerks and Comptrollers, last Tuesday, the House Judiciary Committee, chaired by Rep. Paul Renner, met to receive an implementation update on the criminal justice database, established by CS/CS/SB 1392 (2018) and revised by CS/HB 7125 (2019), and the development of the uniform arrest affidavit, also provided for in CS/HB 7125. The full meeting packet may be accessed here.

The committee first heard from the Florida Department of Law Enforcement and then from the Honorable Carolyn Timmann (Martin), who provided the Clerks' perspective on these two initiatives and answered questions from committee members. The association would like to express our sincere thanks to Clerk Timmann for her presentation and for representing Clerks before the Legislature. The association would also like to thank the Honorable Stacy M. Butterfield, CPA (Polk), FCCC President; the Honorable Barry Baker (Suwannee), FCCC Secretary; the Honorable Tom Bexley (Flagler), FCCC Legislative Committee Chair; and the Honorable Ken Burke, CPA (Pinellas), for attending the meeting in support of Clerk Timmann and all Clerks.

A video recording of the full presentation is available via The Florida Channel's Video Library via this link; Clerk Timmann's presentation begins at about the 54:45 minute mark.

The remaining Interim Committee Weeks will be held the weeks of October 14 and 21, November 4 and 12, and December 9. The next Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers' Legislative Update will be held via WebEx on Friday, October 18, 2019. Registration information will be provided the preceding Monday.

In the meantime, please visit the FCCC Legislative Activity webpage. From here you may access a number of resources related to the 2020 legislative session, including a full list of bills that the association is currently tracking, and the FCCC Legislative Calendar, where committee meetings that agenda items of specific interest to Clerks and Comptrollers are added and can be downloaded to your calendar. As a reminder, you will need your website user name and password in order to access this information.

Should you have any questions, please contact Jason Harrell, Kimberly Renspie, or Sara Sanders at the association.

CJJIS Council holds meeting to discuss statewide technology initiatives

The Criminal and Juvenile Justice Information Systems (CJJIS) Council held a telephonic meeting last Monday, focused on the criminal justice data transparency initiative, statewide uniform arrest affidavit (UAA), and the Florida Incident-Based Reporting System (FIBRS). A copy of the full agenda and meeting packet may be accessed via this link.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Of specific interest to Clerks, following discussion of the UAA, the council moved to include the state courts system in the current workgroup that has been established for this initiative, recognizing the need for input from the judicial branch in this important project. The council also received information related to the criminal justice data transparency initiative. Included in the materials was a draft version of the Clerks' Data Dictionary, which was approved with the understanding that the council and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement will continue to receive input on the document.

The association would like to thank the Honorable Carolyn Timmann (Martin) for her continued service as chair of the CJJIS Council. Clerk Timmann has served on the council, representing Clerks of Court, since being appointed by Governor Rick Scott in March of 2014. She was first elected chair in July 2017, and has been subsequently re-elected chair by her peers on the council.

The CJJIS Council's next in-person meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, December 17, at 9 a.m., Eastern, at the Florida Department Law Enforcement's headquarters, 2331 Phillips Road, Classrooms B and C, Tallahassee, FL 32308.

Should you have any questions or need additional information related to last week's meeting, please contact Melvin Cox or Sara Sanders.

Restoration of Voting Rights Task Force holds second meeting

The Restoration of Voting Rights Task Force met for the second time on Monday, September 16, 2019. As a reminder, Governor Ron DeSantis appointed the Honorable JD Peacock II (Okaloosa) and the Honorable Doug Chorvat Jr. (Hernando) to the task force. This task force is a requirement within the language of Senate Bill 7066, which deals with the implementation of Amendment 4.

The Clerks of Court were invited to present at the meeting scheduled for Friday, September 6, 2019, which was canceled due to Hurricane Dorian. The presentation instead took place during the meeting on September 16 and the presenters included the Honorable Ken Burke, CPA (Pinellas), the Honorable Karen Rushing (Sarasota), and Melvin Cox, FCCC Director of Information Technology. The presentation included an overview of Clerks' duties pertaining to court records, how Clerks support court records, databases and systems at the individual county level, and the contents of the Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS).

Senator Jason Pizzo and Representative James "J.W." Grant were each given time at the beginning of the meeting to make comments and address the task force. The Department of Corrections (DOC) also presented, detailing DOC's processes, responsibilities, and challenges relating to the implementation of Amendment 4.

The final regularly scheduled meeting of the task force will be on Tuesday, October 1, 2019, from 2 – 4 p.m., EDT, in Tallahassee. The group must submit a report of its findings, conclusions, and recommendations to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House by November 1, 2019. The report is to include recommendations for consolidating data necessary to verify the eligibility of individuals for restoration of voting rights under Amendment 4, and for a process for informing such individuals about the custodians of information needed to verify eligibility. Following the report's submission, the task force is dissolved.

The agenda for the meeting can be found here and the entire video can be found here. The Clerk presentation begins at the 50:25 minute mark.

If you have any questions, please contact Kimberly Renspie at the association.

Fall Conference features great guests, speakers and sessions

The 2019 FCCC Fall Conference featured numerous exciting moments for attendees to enjoy during the event at the TradeWinds in St. Pete Beach last week. The 2019 Fall Conference was highlighted by the appearance of three current legislators, who all addressed the Clerks and provided their thoughts on the upcoming legislative season.

Representative Chris Sprowls, who was recently named the Speaker-Designate of the Florida House of Representatives and represents Pinellas County, joined Clerks for a luncheon on Wednesday, October 2. He addressed Clerks and provided his insights on the Clerks' essential role in the judicial process and discussed current efforts to reform criminal justice.

During the President's Reception on Wednesday evening, the Honorable Stacy Butterfield, CPA (Polk), FCCC President, honored Representative Scott Plakon as FCCC Legislator of the Year. President Butterfield stated that Representative Plakon has been an advocate for Clerks this past legislative session, including serving as a sponsor for the Clerks' bill and advocating for the Clerks' policy requests; ultimately, those provisions of his bill passed as part of HB 337.

Representative Will Robinson, Jr., who represents Manatee and Sarasota counties, kicked off Thursday's legislative-focused General Session by addressing conference attendees about his experience as a freshman legislator this past year.

More than 300 attendees, including 53 Clerks, were able to participate in many great sessions focused on Records and Executive tracks during the three-day event.

President Butterfield, with the assistance of the Honorable Linda Doggett (Lee), also honored longtime Lee County Clerk's office employee, Doris Maitland, for being such a tremendous asset not only to Lee County, but also to Clerks throughout the state in her role as a pioneer for numerous technology initiatives for FCCC. Maitland, who has helped lead the Clerks' Technology Group, will be retiring from the Lee County Clerk's office in early 2020.

Following the recognition for Doris Maitland, attendees were able to hear insights from keynote speaker, Connie Dieken, who provided attendees with details on how to build influence by connecting, conveying, and convincing.

More information regarding the 2019 Fall Conference will be available in the coming weeks.

Operation Green Light has begun

This is the week! Operation Green Light has begun.

64 Clerks of Court offices are holding their Operation Green Light this week (October 12-19, 2019), as recommended in Advisory 19-77. Each office throughout the state has done a tremendous job promoting their event – let's finish it strong, together.

The FCCC Legislative & Public Affairs team is providing a few recommendations below to help make your event successful.

- Be sure to capture photos, videos, and testimonials during your event and upload them to FCCC here. Ask each participant to sign a waiver. This is incredibly important for our post-event promotions.
- If your office receives any media inquiries about the statewide events, contact our team at communications@flclerks.com to help provide information about the events.
- If your office receives any media opportunities, such as interviews, directly related to your office's event, we would encourage you to take it. The more positive earned media we can get, the more reach our promotions will have.
- Please reference the County-By-County Payment Contact List and Event Liaison Contact List for directing questions regarding payment or event details from different counties. Both documents can be found on the Operation Green Light Toolkit (FLClerks.com/page/GreenLightToolkit) and are intended for internal distribution only.
- In media responses and promotions, we're encouraging each office to drive traffic to their website for event specifics, as well as to the FCCC website (flclerks.com/page/GreenLight) for a schedule of statewide events.

As always, if you have any questions or would like assistance, please contact the FCCC Legislative & Public Affairs team at communications@flclerks.com or Kyle Dunaway at 850-577-4524.

Restoration of Voting Rights Task Force holds third meeting

The Restoration of Voting Rights Task Force met for the third time on Tuesday, October 1, 2019. As a reminder, Governor Ron DeSantis appointed the Honorable JD Peacock II (Okaloosa) and the Honorable Doug Chorvat Jr. (Hernando) to the task force. This task force is a requirement within the language of Senate Bill 7066, which deals with the implementation of Amendment 4.

The task force began by reviewing the first two meetings to allow for discussion on the information presented. The task force then heard presentations by the Florida Commission on Offender Review (FCOR) and the Florida Department of Revenue (DOR). FCOR shared information on the clemency process and how that information is gathered. DOR presented on its child support program and provided information on the key components of the automated system used to track information on child support payments from the Clerks of Court. The meeting concluded with the task force discussing potential recommendations based on the information received thus far.

The final meeting of the task force will be tomorrow, Tuesday, October 15, 2019, from 2 – 4 p.m., EDT, in Tallahassee. The group must submit a report of its findings, conclusions, and recommendations to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House by November 1, 2019. The report is to include recommendations for consolidating data necessary to verify the eligibility of individuals for restoration of voting rights under Amendment 4, and for a process for informing such individuals about the custodians of information needed to verify eligibility. Following the report's submission, the task force is dissolved.

The agenda for the meeting can be found here and the entire video can be found here.

Marsy's Law open-forum meeting held in Tampa

The Florida Bar Rules of Judicial Administration Committee (RJAC) met in Tampa last Friday to hold an open-forum meeting where discussion centered on how the new Marsy's Law victims' rights constitutional amendment will affect access to court records. Among other provisions, the law allows crime victims to opt to keep confidential information that could identify the victim out of public and court records. A number of Clerks, Clerks' staff and FCCC staff attended the RJAC meeting to provide a solution.

The Honorable Stacy Butterfield, CPA (Polk), FCCC President, opened the forum explaining to the Florida Bar

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Committee that Florida's Clerks of the Circuit Court recently met in Executive Session and unanimously approved a recommended Clerk position on the protection of victim information in court files pursuant to Marsy's Law. President Butterfield provided the committee proposed changes to Rules 2.420 and 2.425, Florida Rules of Judicial Administration, and a draft of a "Rights of Victims "Marsy's Law" Confidential Information in Court Records Opt-In Form." The Honorable Laura E. Roth, Esq. (Volusia) presented the specifics of the suggested rules and proposed form. Mr. Paul Hawkes and others representing Marsy's Law of Florida spoke in support of the Clerks' proposal, as did Amira Fox, Esq., the State Attorney for the 20th Circuit. The presentation was live-streamed and can be watched on Facebookin this link . The next stop for this proposed rule will be a second hearing at the February RJAC meeting.

The other item of interest to Clerk on the RJAC agenda was a report from the Honorable Jeffrey Kuntz, 4th District Court of Appeals, who headed up the RJAC Subcommittee to review access to judicial records and whether there should be any revision to Rule 2.420, Fla. Ru. Jud. Admin. Judge Kuntz and the Honorable Josephine Gagliardi told the committee that the final action of the subcommittee was not to recommend any rule change. However, the Honorable John Tomasino told the committee that Justice Ricky Polston suggested that a minority report would be helpful to the Court. Mr. Tom Hall, Esq., RJAC member, suggested to Judge Kuntz that a majority report should be submitted at the same time. Judge Kuntz agreed, cautioning timeliness of its submission, mentioning it may need to be submitted prior to the Florida Courts Technology Commission meeting mid-November.

- A trifold brochure, which includes high-level messaging for each of the Clerks' priorities for the 2020 Legislative Session: a proposed "glitch," simple statute cleanup bill; streamlining jury management; reducing driver license suspensions; and promoting Clerks as a resource on statewide issues.
- Five variations of palm cards
  - A main palm card, which includes basic information about the Clerk Solutions for Florida 2020 Legislative Agenda, quickly demonstrating the four priorities of the agenda.
  - Four issue-specific palm cards, one for each of the four priorities of this year's agenda.
- Several one pagers that provide details about each of the Clerks' priorities for this session.
- Talking points, which are intended for internal purposes only, to help prepare you for events, meetings, and other legislative opportunities.

If you have any questions about the materials or need them formatted differently for your purposes, please contact a member of our team at legislative@flclerks.com.

If you have meetings in the Capitol in the upcoming weeks, please stop by our downtown office and pick up some of the materials beforehand. These materials will also be provided to you as part of your packet of materials during the upcoming Clerks at the Capitol Legislative Day event, Tuesday, November 5, 2019, in Tallahassee.

Clerks' Jury Management bill filed in the Senate during Third Interim Committee Week

Last week, the Florida Legislature gathered in Tallahassee for the third of six interim committee weeks held in preparation for the upcoming 2020 Legislative Session. Of priority interest to Clerks, Senator Ed Hooper filed SB 590 Clerks of the Court last Monday, one of the components of the Clerk Solutions for Florida 2020 Legislative Agenda that seeks to streamline the jury management process.

Specifically, the bill:

- designates the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation (CCOC), rather than the Justice Administration Commission (JAC), to provide direct oversight and management of the appropriated funds; and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- increases efficiency and accuracy by setting payments for Clerks as a simple reimbursement.

For additional information, please reference the jury management one-pager and jury management palm card, available as part of a full toolkit of branded legislative messaging materials, developed by the FCCC Legislative & Public Affairs team and accessible from the FCCC Legislative Activity page. Membership will be alerted when this bill is scheduled to be heard in the Senate and when a House companion is filed.

In addition, note that the presentation on guardianship and the Clerks' Statewide Investigations Alliance before the House Children, Families & Seniors Subcommittee, chaired by Rep. Mel Ponder, which was previously scheduled for last Thursday, has been postponed and is expected to be rescheduled in November.

As a reminder, the remaining Interim Committee Weeks will be held the weeks of November 4 and 12, and December 9, and the next Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers Legislative Update will be held on Friday, November 8, 2019. WebEx registration information for this session will be provided the preceding Monday.

In the meantime, please visit the FCCC Legislative Activity webpage. Along with the branded messaging materials, from here you may also access a number of resources related to the 2020 legislative session, including a full list of bills that the association is currently tracking and the FCCC Legislative Calendar, where committee meetings that agenda items of specific interest to Clerks and Comptrollers are added and can be downloaded to your own calendar. As a reminder, you will need your website user name and password in order to access this information.

Should you have any questions, please contact Jason Harrell, Kimberly Renspie, or Sara Sanders at the association.

Marsy’s Law open-forum meeting held in Tampa

The Florida Bar Rules of Judicial Administration Committee (RJAC) met in Tampa on October 18, 2019, to hold an open-forum meeting where discussion centered on how the new Marsy’s Law victims’ rights constitutional amendment will affect access to court records. Among other provisions, the law allows crime victims to opt to keep confidential information that could identify the victim out of public and court records. A number of Clerks, Clerks’ staff and FCCC staff attended the RJAC meeting to provide a solution.

The Honorable Stacy Butterfield, CPA (Polk), FCCC President, opened the forum explaining to the Florida Bar Committee that Florida’s Clerks of the Circuit Court recently met in Executive Session and unanimously approved a recommended Clerk position on the protection of victim information in court files pursuant to Marsy’s Law. President Butterfield provided the committee proposed changes to Rules 2.420 and 2.425, Florida Rules of Judicial Administration, and a draft of a “Rights of Victims “Marsy’s Law” Confidential Information in Court Records Opt-In Form.” The Honorable Laura E. Roth, Esq. (Volusia), presented the specifics of the suggested rules and proposed form. Mr. Paul Hawkes, and others representing Marsy’s Law of Florida, spoke in support of the Clerks’ proposal, as did Amira Fox, Esq., State Attorney for the 20th Circuit. The presentation was live-streamed and can be watched on Facebookin this link. The next stop for this proposed rule will be a second hearing at the February RJAC meeting.

The other item of interest to Clerks on the RJAC agenda was a report from the Honorable Jeffrey Kuntz, 4th District Court of Appeals, who heads up the RJAC Subcommittee to review access to judicial records and whether there should be any revision to Rule 2.420, Florida Rules of Judicial Administration. Judge Kuntz and the Honorable Josephine Gagliardi told the committee that the final action of the subcommittee was not to recommend any rule change; however, the Honorable John Tomasino, Supreme Court Clerk, told the committee that Justice Ricky Polston suggested that a minority report would be helpful to the Court. Mr. Tom Hall, Esq., RJAC member, suggested to Judge Kuntz that a majority report should be submitted at the same time. Judge Kuntz agreed, cautioning timeliness of the submission, mentioning it may need to be submitted prior to the Florida Courts Technology Commission meeting in mid-November.

Restoration of Voting Rights Task Force reviews draft final report

The Restoration of Voting Rights Task Force met for the fifth time on Wednesday, October 30, 2019, via telephone conference. As a reminder, Governor Ron DeSantis appointed the Honorable JD Peacock II (Okaloosa) and the Honorable Doug Chorvat Jr. (Hernando) to the task force. This task force is a requirement within the language of Senate Bill 7066, which deals with the implementation of Amendment 4.

Pursuant to SB 7066, the final report was submitted to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House on November 1, 2019. The report included recommendations for consolidating data necessary to verify the eligibility of individuals for restoration of voting rights under Amendment 4, and for a process for informing such individuals about the custodians of information needed to verify eligibility. FCCC is diligently reviewing the final report and its impact on Clerks and their offices. Following this review, an advisory will be sent to all Clerks and staff with a copy of the report and necessary information for Clerks moving forward. Pursuant to law, following the report's final submission, the task force is dissolved.

The agenda for the meeting can be found here and the entire video can be found here.

If you have any questions, please contact Kimberly Renspie at the association.

Attachment(s): "FL-19-1401-1405 Revised Scope.pdf"

Attached is the revised public record request that all but J.D. and Doug received from American Oversight relating to Amendment 4 and particularly the work of the QRT. As you can see, this is a much narrowed list from what you originally received. You have Carolyn Timminn to thank for her smooth talking explanation to the attorneys for American Oversight about the volume and nonrelevance the original request would have produced, not to mention the cost. Note that they have agreed to a response date of January 2, 2020 and later if needed. We are trying to be the good guys as their crosshairs appear to be elsewhere. In this light, please give us an estimate of your cost by Friday, December 13 and be as realistic as possible. I would ask that you send you cost to Beth Allman and we will forward on to American Oversight.

If you are not an intended recipient of confidential and privileged information in this email, please delete it, notify us immediately at postmaster@gtlaw.com, and do not use or disseminate the information.

Re: Amendment 4 QRT Public Records Requests

Dear Mr. Baggett:

We greatly appreciate your outreach regarding our recent public records requests, which we assigned the tracking numbers FL-PINELLAS-19-1401, FL-CLAY-19-1402, FL-ORANGE-19-1403, FL-SARASOTA-19-1404, and FL-MARTIN-19-1405. Pursuant to our conversation with you and the Honorable Carolyn Timmann on November 20, 2019, we agree to revise our requests to the following:[1]

> All email communications (including email messages and email attachments) between (a) the applicable County Clerks of Courts (the Honorable Ken Burke, Tara Green, Tiffany Moore Russell, Karen E. Rushing, and Carolyn Timmann), and (b) the external parties listed below, that include any of the following search terms:
> - "QRT"
> - "Quick Response Team"
> - "Amendment 4"
> - "A4"
> - "Amd 4"
> - "Amd. 4"
> - "Voter rights"
> - "Voter restoration"
> - "7066"
> - "7089"
> External Parties
> i. Honorable Ken Burke, Pinellas County Clerk of Court (KBurke@mypinellasclerk.org)
> ii. Honorable Tara Green, Clay County Clerk of Court (greent@clayclerk.com)

[1] We have consolidated the five requests here for simplicity. This is not intended to change our intention that each clerk's office will search the email of the clerk of courts for their respective county.

iii. Honorable Tiffany Moore Russell, Orange County Clerk of Court (tiffany.moorerussell@myorangeclerk.com)
iv. Honorable Karen E. Rushing, Sarasota County Clerk of Court (krushing@scgov.net)
v. Honorable Carolyn Timmann, Martin County Clerk of Court (CTimmann@martinclerk.com)
vi. Honorable JD Peacock, Okaloosa County Clerk of Court (jdpeacock@okaloosaclerk.com)
vii. Honorable Doug Chorvat, Hernando County Clerk of Court (dchorvat@hernandoclerk.org) viii. Maria Matthews, Director, Florida Division of Elections (Maria.Matthews@DOS.MyFlorida.com)
ix. Toshia Brown, Chief, Florida Bureau of Voter Registration Services, (Toshia.Brown@DOS.MyFlorida.com)
x. Amber Marconnet, Senior Management Analyst Supervisor, Florida Bureau of Voter Registration Services (Amber.Marconnet@DOS.MyFlorida.com)
xi. Kenneth Steely, General Counsel, Florida Department of Corrections (Kenneth.Steely@fdc.myflorida.com)
xii. Michelle Palmer, Bureau Chief, Florida Department of Corrections (Michelle.Palmer@fdc.myflorida.com) xiii. Manley Jaquiss, Correctional Probation Senior Supervisor, Florida Department of Corrections (Manley.Jaquiss@mail.fdc.myflorida.com)
xiv. Kate Holmes, Assistant General Counsel, Florida Department of Law Enforcement (kateholmes@fdle.state.fl.us)
xv. Melinda Coonrod, Chair, Florida Commission on Offender Review (melindacoonrod@fcor.state.fl.us)

Please provide all responsive records from July 1, 2019, to the date of the search.

We further agree that the following records can be excluded from production:

- Records that include the search terms "QRT" or "Quick Response Team" that do not relate to Amendment 4;
- Records that include the search terms "7066" or "7089" that do not relate to Senate Bill 7066 or House Bill 7089 (e.g., records that include "7066" or "7089" as parts of phone numbers);
- Court records that are attached to responsive emails; and
- News clips or other mass-distribution emails.

It is our understanding that the clerks will provide us with cost estimates for responding to our requests as revised here, and to the best of their ability, produce records on or before January 2, 2020.

Again, thank you very much for working with us on these requests. If you have any questions, or foresee any problems in responding to our request as revised here, please contact Christine H. Monahan at records@americanoversight.org or (202) 869-5244.

Stacy – I would like to request that a team of Clerk's legal folks form a QRT to discuss statute of limitations relating the Criminal Fines and Fees. Fla. Sat. 928.30 states as follows:
(6) If judgment has not been previously entered on any court-imposed financial obligation, the court may enter judgment thereon and issue any writ necessary to enforce the judgment in the manner allowed in civil cases. Any judgment issued under this section constitutes a civil lien against the judgment debtor's presently owned or after-acquired property, when recorded pursuant to s. 55.10. Supplementary proceedings undertaken by any governmental entity to satisfy a judgment imposed pursuant to this section may proceed without bond and without the payment of statutory fees associated with judgment enforcement.
(7) Provisions of the Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act apply to collection matters under this section and may be used to collect any court-imposed financial obligation subject to this section.
(8) If a criminal or civil judgment has previously been entered on a court-imposed financial obligation, the judgment constitutes a civil lien against the judgment debtor's presently owned or after-acquired real or personal property when recorded pursuant to s. 55.10, except that a judgment on a court-imposed financial obligation is not subject to the 10-year rerecording requirement of s. 55.10. The judgment must secure all unpaid court-imposed financial obligations that are due and may accrue subsequent to the recording of the judgment, as well as interest and reasonable costs for issuing a satisfaction and recording the satisfaction in the official records.
(9) The clerk of the court shall enforce, satisfy, compromise, settle, subordinate, release, or otherwise dispose of any debts or liens imposed and collected under this section in the same manner as prescribed in s. 938.29(3).

Fla. Stat. 55.10 states:
(2) The lien provided for in subsection (1) or an extension of that lien as provided by this subsection may be extended for an additional period of 10 years, subject to the limitation in subsection (3), by rerecording a certified copy of the judgment, order, or decree prior to the expiration of the lien or the expiration of the extended lien and by simultaneously recording an affidavit with the current address of the person who has a lien as a result of the judgment, order, or decree. The extension shall be effective from the date the certified copy of the judgment, order, or decree is rerecorded. The lien or extended lien will not be extended unless the affidavit with the current address is simultaneously recorded.
(3) In no event shall the lien upon real property created by this section be extended beyond the period provided for in s. 55.081 or beyond the point at which the lien is satisfied, whichever occurs first.

Fla. Stat. 55.081 states:
Subject to the provisions of s. 55.10, no judgment, order, or decree of any court shall be a lien upon real or personal property within the state after the expiration of 20 years from the date of the entry of such judgment, order, or decree .

Fla. Sat. 928.30 states as follows:
(6) If judgment has not been previously entered on any court-imposed financial obligation, the court may enter judgment thereon and issue any writ necessary to enforce the judgment in the manner allowed in civil cases. Any judgment issued under this section constitutes a civil lien against the judgment debtor's presently owned or after-acquired property, when recorded pursuant to s. 55.10. Supplementary proceedings undertaken by any governmental entity to satisfy a judgment imposed pursuant to this section may proceed without bond and without the payment of statutory fees associated with judgment enforcement.
(7) Provisions of the Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act apply to collection matters under this section and may be used to collect any court-imposed financial obligation subject to this section.
(8) If a criminal or civil judgment has previously been entered on a court-imposed financial obligation, the judgment constitutes a civil lien against the judgment debtor's presently owned or after-acquired real or personal property when recorded pursuant to s. 55.10, except that a judgment on a court-imposed financial obligation is not subject to the 10-year rerecording requirement of s. 55.10. The judgment must secure all unpaid court-imposed financial obligations that are due and may accrue subsequent to the recording of the judgment, as well as interest and reasonable costs for issuing a satisfaction and recording the satisfaction in the official records.
(9) The clerk of the court shall enforce, satisfy, compromise, settle, subordinate, release, or otherwise dispose of any debts or liens imposed and collected under this section in the same manner as prescribed in s. 938.29(3).

Fla. Stat. 55.10 states:
(2) The lien provided for in subsection (1) or an extension of that lien as provided by this subsection may be extended for an additional period of 10 years, subject to the limitation in subsection (3), by rerecording a certified copy of the judgment, order, or decree prior to the expiration of the lien or the expiration of the extended lien and by simultaneously recording an affidavit with the current address of the person who has a lien as a result of the judgment, order, or decree. The extension shall be effective from the date the certified copy of the judgment, order, or decree is rerecorded. The lien or extended lien will not be extended unless the affidavit with the current address is simultaneously recorded.
(3) In no event shall the lien upon real property created by this section be extended beyond the period provided for in s. 55.081 or beyond the point at which the lien is satisfied, whichever occurs first.

Fla. Stat. 55.081 states:
Subject to the provisions of s. 55.10, no judgment, order, or decree of any court shall be a lien upon real or personal property within the state after the expiration of 20 years from the date of the entry of such judgment, order, or decree .

Doug - Here's my draft as promised. It concludes with a couple (intentionally neutral) thoughts on revenue impact.

Two caveats: 1) it has not been approved by the chair, and 2) the QRT is still "standing down" as the chair has not heard back from President Butterfield that we may continue discussions.

Revenue Compliance Workshop

Update on Clerks' Amendment 4 Quick Response Team

July 30, 2019

The FCCC Amendment 4 QRT was created in June 2019 to identify Clerk issues related to restoration of voting rights.

It is composed of the Honorable Ken Burke, CPA (Pinellas), the Honorable Tara S. Green (Clay), the Honorable Tiffany Moore-Russell, Esq. (Orange), the Honorable Karen E. Rushing (Sarasota), and the Honorable Carolyn Timmann (Martin).

We have had substantial interactions with the Department of Corrections, the Prosecuting Attorneys Association, and the Florida Sheriffs Association.

One project, in which all Clerks have been asked to participate, is the comparison of CCIS and CCMS data for specific individuals. DOC provided us with a list of 10 recently released individuals in each county and their case numbers. Results have identified a number of potential issues, both between the DOC and Clerk systems and within the Clerks' systems.

As a result of that project, we have been able to provide valuable feedback to DOC on issues they can address (such as a system issue that caused leading zeroes, in the 2-digit year field, to be dropped from case numbers). We have also gathered information about how DOC codes various elements in their data system, including felony statute descriptions, location of admission data, and case numbers (UCN is not a required field for DOC systems).

Prior to creation of the QRT, FCCC allowed DOC to access CCIS and helped DOC to file release documents with the Clerks for newly released individuals. (In the 2017-18 state fiscal year, DOC released 30,000 individuals from incarceration or supervision.) The QRT has monitors those

DOC filings and reported several issues to DOC, which they are addressing through improved processes and training.

We have discussed some specific issues to protect Clerks and enhance their ability to serve their constituents and customers.

- We are studying how a Clerk might assist an individual, who may have prior felonies in other counties, to gather information or to meet financial obligations.
- The new law requires DOC and Local detention facilities (county jails) to provide information to individuals upon release, but that information only relates to the current felony. We are working internally, and with DOC, to provide disclaimers that the individual also needs to consider the terms of sentencing from prior felonies.
- We have asked legal counsel for opinions in several areas where guidance (and consistency) will protect Clerks.
- We are reviewing FCCC several documents to ensure they are up-to-date; e.g., the policy for handling CCIS data requests, and the CCIS-Clerk agreement (which dates back to 2004).
- We have identified several issues for which Best Practices can be developed and enlisted volunteers to begin work.

Finally, we are closely monitoring the federal lawsuits, Raysor v. Lee, Gruver v. Barton, and McCoy v. DeSantis in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Florida. Plaintiffs counts include arguments such as:

- Wealth-Based Disenfranchisement, Fourteenth Amendment – The new law discriminates between Florida citizens with prior felony convictions who have been discharged from DOC (or county jail) who are able to pay their financial obligations and those who are unable to pay.
- Poll Tax, Twenty-Fourth Amendment - The financial obligation requirement is a “poll tax” as it hinges access to the ballot box on the payment of a variety of fines and fees to the state.
- Void for Vagueness, First and Fourteenth Amendment – The law does not reasonably inform people with past convictions of which financial obligations—imposed as a condition of supervision or imposed in the first instance as civil liens—are disqualifying and which are not.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Violation of Due Process, Fourteenth Amendment – The law conditions restoration of voting rights on payment of unenumerated financial obligations, without providing for any process by which an otherwise eligible voter can (1) differentiate between those that are disqualifying and those which are non-disqualifying, or (2) prioritize payment of disqualifying financial obligations, so they are not disenfranchised by their inability to pay non-disqualifying financial obligations.

We do not predict the outcome of this litigation. The state law, as currently written, could result in Clerks collecting additional revenues for statutory distribution to various entities. Or a court decision, or subsequent legislation passed by the Legislature, could mean that none, or a reduced portion, of those revenues would ever be collected.

Further, we know that several State Attorneys have proposed initiatives to convert financial obligations to community service. This would mean that the financial obligation involved would never represent revenues, but would become additional workload for Clerks.

Clerk Green,

I have attached a spreadsheet of the ten cases we were given for Clay County. I wrapped this up on Friday and forwarded the information to Kimberly Renspie. I spoke with her this morning and she assured me this is exactly what they were looking for. We did not have a great deal of discrepancies. In fact, our financials were spot on between CCIS and our current CMS, Odyssey. I outlined on the spreadsheet the differences I found, which dealt with the address of the defendants and offense date(s). When I spoke with Ms. Renspie she mentioned that it would be great to compare the information to the DOC website if at all possible, which I did as best I could. When comparing the information to DOC's website, I found the address discrepancies which could easily be explained – DOC most likely updated the address on file prior to their release date (Yes, I did share that explanation with Ms. Renspie).

I hope this information was useful – Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,
Victoria

Subject: FW: A4- Voting Rights Restoration- proposed Clerk outreach to local SOEs

Clerk Burke- below is a summary of my notes from meeting with our local Supervisor of Elections. This will be the basis of my report during next Tuesday's telephone call.

PLEASE remember that while our SOE has helped me understand what they do, these notes are a reflection of my understanding of what the SOE does and what information they need. These notes may use incorrect nomenclature, may not completely explain processes, procedures, rules, and law, and may be inaccurate as to important details.

Ultimately, my meetings were intended learn from and share resources with the SOE in an effort to help them complete their statutory duties.

"Pride in Service with a Vision to the Future"

As a result of Amendment 4, Art. VI, Sec. 4 of the Florida Constitution, and FS 98.0751, I met with our local Supervisor of Elections (SOE) to find out what steps they take to verify an applicant's ability to register to vote, the processes and workflows they follow, what information they need to analyze, and what resources they use to obtain that information (and why). It was an enlightening experience for me, and I came away from the meeting with a newfound appreciation for what SOEs do to ensure that those who are eligible to vote are able to exercise that right. I shared what information is available on our end and from other agencies that will help the SOE perform their statutory duties for Florida citizens.

This outline is NOT from our SOE. I created these steps based on my understanding of what our SOE does to faithfully discharge their duties. The list is in the approximate order that I understand our SOE consults various resources, but I did move one thing (DOC Offender Search) to earlier in the process. I think it makes more sense to do that first, as current incarceration or community supervision is a disqualifier. Also, our SOE does not perform every step in every case. There are times when a step is obviated as the result of information received in a prior step.

1. Look up applicant on FL DOC Offender Search to see if the applicant is currently incarcerated (jail or prison) or on community supervision (probation, community control, parole)
    a. I doubt this information is easily discernable in CCIS, but it can be confirmed quickly and easily by visiting the FL DOC Offender Search page. You can search by multiple identification criteria and will be able to quickly see if the applicant is incarcerated or on community supervision in the FL DOC system.
    b. Side benefit to DOC Offender Search is that you'll also see what information DOC has for Incarceration History, a limited Criminal History, and Prior Prison History.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

c. If the answer to Step 1 is YES, no need to investigate further. Send potential ineligibility letter. (note: Our SOE does not deny applications at this time. They process applications as good, then do the research and start the ineligibility process if the applicant is determined not eligible. Applicants have 30 days to contact SOE to dispute the information.)

2. Look up applicant on the Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS) to see list of statewide criminal cases.
   a. This is the primary source of information for our SOE. 85%+ of their needs are met using CCIS and the local Clerk's publicly available website.
   b. SOE is a registered CCIS user with 1-2 employees that have log-in credentials
2. Look at the first/next felony case (CF) on the CCIS list. Was the applicant convicted (CV, AG, Adj. G., Adjudicated Guilty, etc.)?
   a. If the answer to Step 3 is YES (that the applicant was AG of a felony), SOE will print the J&S from CCIS as support for denial of registration. Only 1 conviction needed, so even if there are 10 felony convictions, only need to print the first one.
      i. If the J&S is not available on CCIS, SOE will go to the county where the conviction occurred and attempt to print the J&S from the Clerk's Official Records (OR). If not available in OR, SOE will try and print the J&S from the Court Records. May have to use Viewable on Request (VOR) process. If not electronically available, SOE will make records request from Clerk for the J&S.
   b. SOE gave example of recent applicant where CCIS reflected a 1997 felony conviction out of Marion County, FL, but an image of the J&S was not available in CCIS. SOE employee went to Marion County's OR and printed a copy of the J&S as back-up for letter of denial.
3. For the case you are researching in Step 3, does the applicant still owe fees, fines, costs, or restitution?
   a. As above, if the SOE finds at least one case in CCIS where there are balances due under the Financial tab, that data is printed out as support for the denial letter, and no further research is done regarding the financial status of other felony convictions.
   b. Need to discuss the limitations of this data with SOE and explain the CMS/CCIS data confirmation study that is going on.
   c. Consider suggesting that SOE visit Clerk's website to see financial data in a particular case. May have to give caveats if they are looking at financial data in a case that pre-dates the last CMS change (approx. 2011/12 for us). The Voter/felon should be contacting the Clerk to confirm amounts due, but if SOE needs this information, they can call Clerk's contact (see Step 10 below) to get confirmation that there are monies due in a felony conviction case.
4. Look up the applicant on the Florida Clemency Board's website to see if their civil rights were restored for the felony conviction.
5. Decision criteria
   a. If the answer to Step 3 or Step 4 is NO, go back to Step 2 and find the next CF/AG case, until you don't have anymore.
   b. If the answers to Steps 3, 4, and 5 are YES, go back to Step 2 and find the next CF/AG case, until you don't have anymore.
      i. Question- Is the applicant eligible to vote if he had his civil rights restored by the Clemency Board, even if money is owed on the case? Argument in favor of allowing applicant to vote is that a convicted felon can reinstate voting rights using either Clemency process or via A4. So, if the defendant is granted Clemency, no need to pursue A4 relief. Argument against allowing applicant to register to vote is that the statutes need to read together. So, even if Clemency granted, if applicant still owes money, then he is not eligible to register to vote.
   c. If the answers to Step 3 and Step 4 are YES, but the answer to Step 5 is NO, send potential ineligibility letter. No need to look up other CF/AG cases.
6. SOE checks DHSMV's DAVID system to verify name, DOB, DL#, SSN, etc. of applicant to be sure of identification before sending out determination.
   a. Is this done for all applicants or just for those that have previously been removed from voter registration system as a felon? (Note: SOE does not confirm DL or SS using DAVID for all applications. Don't know for sure what verification process the DOS/DOE uses.)
   b. SOE and users will need to apply for DAVID access, undergo training(?), sign MOU with DHSMV, and undergo annual audit to ensure not accessing DL information for purposes other than determining voter eligibility.
7. Other, possible sources of information:
   a. FL Sex Offender Registry to see if applicant is listed. I think this resource has limited application. For example, if it's an older offense, the applicant may not have been required to register. But it might produce usable results occasionally.
   b. Clerk of Court's website. Hopefully, CCIS has complete, accurate, and up-to-date data. If not, local Clerk's website can be searched for:
      i. Court Records- J&S, court-ordered financial obligations and other financial data (including balances due)
         1. Encourage SOE employees to become Subscribers/Registered Users
      ii. Official Records- Recorded J&S, Monetary Judgments/Civil Liens, Satisfactions of Judgment
         1. Will need to let SOE know what Judgments and Liens are called in each county and how to find them in OR
         2. SOE personnel may need lesson in how to check for Satisfactions
   b. FDLE- NCIC/FCIC
      i. Like DAVID above, there will be application, training, MOU, and auditing requirements to DHSMV
9. Provide contact information for Clerk's Public Access Department or 1-2 Clerk employees that are available to answer questions from and provide information to SOE.
   a. Maybe have FCCC keep this list of contact information and provide it to DOS/DOE to be distributed to SOEs around the state in case SOEs need to contact Clerks that they don't know or aren't familiar with.
   b. Department, name(s), email(s), telephone number(s)
   c. Maybe provide information about VOR process (steps to follow to request access to VOR documents)

Richard,
Please see the below advisory. Do we know how DOC will be populating the data they will be giving to each inmate upon release? Of special concern are the amounts that are payable to the Clerk (fines, fees and possibly restitution). This is one of the agenda items in our program of work for the Quick Response Team.

DOC Communication related to Voting Restoration — No. 19-052

Governor Ron DeSantis signed CS/SB 7066 Election Administration on Friday, June 28, 2019. Of specific interest, this comprehensive bill, which takes effect today, July 1, 2019, implements the provisions of Amendment 4, related to voting restoration, which passed during the November 2018 General Election. (For a full summary, please see Advisory Bulletin 19-48.)

One of the changes made by the bill is the requirement that the Florida Department of Corrections notify inmates and offenders of all outstanding terms of sentence, as defined in s. 98.0751, F.S., upon completion of incarceration and/or a term of supervision.

As a result of this requirement, the Department of Corrections has asked that the following information be provided to all Clerks detailing its processes for providing financial obligation summary information to your offices beginning July 1, 2019.

> "As the Florida Department of Corrections ("FDC") prepares to comply with its responsibilities associated with implementing Section 4, Article VI of the State Constitution, and §§940.061 and 944.705, Florida Statutes, we believed it was important to keep other agencies and offices, particularly your office, informed on the procedures and actions FDC will be taking. The processes outlined below will commence on July 1, 2019.
> Pursuant to §940.061, FDC will inform inmates and offenders regarding voting rights restoration. As is the current practice, FDC will continue to provide inmates and offenders with information concerning executive clemency and civil rights restoration. Pursuant to §944.705, FDC will notify inmates and offenders of all outstanding terms of sentence upon completion of FDC incarceration and/or supervision. For inmates releasing expiration of sentence, without supervision, FDC will provide a copy of the court ordered financial obligations (restitution, fines, fees, and/or costs) as reflected in the official court file in CCIS, as well as a copy of the FDC's record of payment(s) while incarcerated. For offenders, whose supervision has been satisfied or terminated, FDC will provide the offender with any court ordered terms and conditions that were not satisfied, as well as a copy of FDC's record of payment(s) while on supervision.

Upon providing these documents to the offender or inmate, FDC will send a copy to your office. These documents are a complete and exhaustive reflection of FDC records and should alleviate additional inquiries. FDC respects your role and responsibility as the official record custodian for the Courts. For inmates released prior to July 1, 2019, please rely upon the official court file when determining an inmate or offender's remaining financial obligations.

The Department will be working with the [Florida Courts E-Filing] Authority to begin filing the financial obligation summary directly into the inmate/offender court/case file. In the meantime, the Department will be sending the financial obligation summary, via postal mail, directly to the clerk."

Should you have any questions, please contact Carolyn Weber (cweber@flclerks.com) or Gia Howell (ghowell@flclerks.com) with FCCC.

As a follow-up to Advisory 19-052, the Department of Corrections (FDC – Institutions & Community Corrections) has begun filing documents through the Florida Courts E-Filing Portal.

FDC – Institutions & Community Corrections listed the documents being filed in the Florida Courts E-Filing Portal. To correctly identify these documents, please add these descriptions in your case maintenance system, in the Circuit Criminal Division, then link it to the Florida Courts E-Filing Portal to only allow the role of law enforcement officers access to file these descriptions.

- Inmate Payment History
- Financial Obligation Summary
- Termination of Supervision
- Closing Summary
- CCIS Financial Screenshot Summary

Please add the document descriptions to the Florida Courts E-Filing Portal and link them to the law enforcement filer role. These descriptions will be added to the Standard Docket Descriptions and presented to the Best Practices Committee for their approval.

The FDC – Institutions & Community Corrections began filing these documents as of July 1, 2019. The Florida Courts E-Filing Portal team is working with FDC to set up organizations in the Florida Courts E-Filing Portal so they may best manage their filings.

Restoration of Voting Rights – DOC Requests No. 19-080

Date:	September 11, 2019	Contact:	Kimberly Renspie
Category:	Clerk Administration, Courts	Telephone:	(850) 921-0808

The Amendment 4 Quick Response Team (QRT) has received copies of several requests made to individual Clerks by local Department of Corrections (DOC) offices related to restoration of voting rights. Those requests typically seek information on financial obligations for particular individuals under DOC custody or supervision. Sometimes they involve financial obligation data that does not appear to match between DOC records and the Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS).

The Amendment 4 QRT has found that once the DOC request is investigated, a clear correct answer is always available. A common theme appears to be that the two different data systems are asked slightly different questions, thus providing different answers.

The Amendment 4 QRT has established an email account, DOCRequests@FLClerks.com, to accumulate such requests from DOC.

The Amendment 4 QRT asks that each Clerk's office forward individual requests received from local DOC offices, along with the Clerk's response, to DOCRequests@FLClerks.com. We are not asking for copies of routine correspondence between a Clerk's office and a local DOC probation office, or emails relating broadly to processes and procedures. We are asking for copies of correspondence related to information on specific individuals and data or records related to restoration of voting rights for those individuals.

This will give the Amendment 4 QRT the opportunity to look for additional patterns and trends. As the patterns or trends arise, the Amendment 4 QRT will address issues with DOC or develop Best Practices for Clerks through the FCCC Best Practices Committee.
If additional clarification is needed or if there are questions, please contact Kimberly Renspie, FCCC Legislative Manager (KRenspie@FLClerks.com).

Good Afternoon,

I sincerely apologize for the delayed response as I have been in and out of the office these past few days. For those individuals pre-dating July 1 it is suggested they contact the office in the county of supervision. If unknown, then contact the county of sentencing. Hope this helps.

Hi Brenda you'll see below the types of questions we're starting to get. So of course I can let them know that we will only be able to let them know if there are any outstanding court cost fines and fees for a Volusia County case but is there someone they can reach out to you to obtain proof that they've terminated DOC supervision? These will be instances pre-dating July 1 where no termination has been filed in the case usually.

Dear Ms. Roth, Clerk of Volusia Circuit Court,

As Chair of our Port Orange Democratic Club's Amendment #4 Committee, I am writing to confirm information I've received before passing it on to the rest of our committee.

As I understand it, it is the ex-felons' responsibility to confirm that they have met all conditions to have their voting rights restored and can check with your office to ensure that they have. As I also understand it, we cannot help them to register until they have done so. My biggest concern is that they may have added courts cost and other fines that they have not yet been informed of. I am also concerned that they can get into trouble if they try to register still having unpaid fines levied against them.

While I have done online research, I'm find a lot of the information dated since the Florida Legislature and our governor passed a law making it more difficult for these returning citizens to register.

I would deeply appreciate any advice you can give me. Thank you in advance.

Good Afternoon,

Per Florida Statute 944.705(7)(a), the Florida Department of Corrections is required to notify inmates being released from custody of all outstanding terms of their sentence, to include court ordered financial obligations. Many times, while reviewing an inmate's commitment we find discrepancies between it and the information listed in CCIS. Our office has been tasked with trying to resolve these discrepancies prior to the inmate's release and to request confirmation from your office of any fees/fines. Please provide a fax number and/or email address where we can send these requests at your earliest convenience.

Karen, Tiffany and Tara,
You were copied on the below email. It will be interesting to see his response and if the Supervisors are uniform in the manner they are dealing with amendment 4. There was the attitude of the Supervisors when we had the joint meeting of constitutional officers (prior to the start of session) that it was their job to registered voters and they rely on the oath for proof of eligibility. The Supervisors seem to take the position it was up to the Department of State at the state level to determine if a voter should be rejected for not meeting the necessary qualifications. I copied Sara and Carolyn on this email since they also attended that meeting to see if their recollections are the same.

Ron,

Hope you are doing well and are recovering from the legislative session.

Sharon Bock, the Clerks' Association President, appointed a small workgroup (4) of Clerks with the task of dealing with issues related to Amendment 4. Part of our workgroup charge is to reach out to your association. Is it possible we can set up a conference call with you in the next week to discuss if bills passed by the legislature this session have influenced how the Supervisors are dealing with Amendment 4? It would be good to hear an update from you on the issues Supervisors are experiencing with particular interest in any that may involve Clerks' offices. If there are issues that involve Clerks from the Supervisors viewpoint, the workgroup would like to identify them to our members and come up with strategies to handle them in a uniform manner.

Thanks for your help. It's good our two groups communicate well on the issues related to the amendment.

Looking forward to hearing back from you.

Financial Obligation Summary
The purpose of this letter is to assist you with completing the remaining terms of your sentence as outlined in Florida Statute 98.0751. Preliminary information about the outstanding financial obligations on the identified felony conviction is shown on the attachment to this notice. This balance may include unpaid restitution, court costs, fees or fines, however it does not include any outstanding financial obligations from any other felony offense. For complete information about your financial obligations on this case contact the Clerk of Court in the sentencing county.

2 quick thoughts.

CCIS disclaimer - the idea for this arose from DOC using CCIS to give new releases information on costs they own. Clerks worried that this might create a "gotcha" when the person thought they owed $x, then went to the Clerk and found out they owed several times that amount because they had prior felonies with unpaid costs. Putting a disclaimer on the CCIS financial screen would inform the individual (receiving a screenshot form DOC) that other costs might also be involved in restoration of voting rights.

DOS statement - I think we should address only what information individuals can seek from the Clerks. DOS needs to get "approved" language separately from DOC, county jails, federal prisons, and any other parties they identify as sources of information.

Good Afternoon All,

Hope all is well. We've been assigned our task from the Amendment 4 QRT. The team would like for us to draft a best practices for negotiation of fines/fees/costs converted to civil judgments by September 20, 2019. Jean- I know you have quite a bit of experience with Best Practices so I wanted to get your opinion on whether this deadline is realistic? I'd like to schedule a conference call for the workgroup to discuss the best practices. Please let me know your availability for a call next week.

Additionally, Clerk Burke would like for us to review the following and draft language by Monday, August 12th at 2 p.m.:

1. Page 18 of our meeting packet includes a CCIS disclaimer. Will your workgroup review the wording and provide a properly worded disclaimer?
2. Page 2 of our meeting packet includes a uniform statement that DOC has drafted some initial language. Their draft is problematic in that includes information that the Clerk cannot provide. Will your workgroup please take a look at this language and provide more acceptable language to be used?

CCIS Financial Data Screen – generic to all case types (or only for felony cases?)
This information reflects the financial obligation amounts ordered in this case. For more current information, you should contact the Clerk of the Court in the county where the case was handled. Any outstanding balances from other cases involving the individual named above (below?) are not included.

Page 18- Draft edits to the request from the Departmen t of State for a uniform statement they can provide to the Supervisors.
The Department of State has initially proposed something like this (as a starting point for discussions):
To determine if you have completed all the terms of your sentence including parole or as to one or more felony conviction(s), please contact the Florida Department of Corrections [main line 850-488-5021] and/or the Clerk of Court in the county or counties in which you were convicted. If convicted out of state, you will need to contact the clerk of the court in the state in which you were convicted.

Please review the language and provide any feedback you may have. I'm sure between the five of us we'll figure out the best language to accurately reflect what Clerks can provide.

Please let me know if you need any additional information.

Another suggestion using language from below as well as in the Constitution and the applicable statute:

Pursuant to Florida Statute 98.0751, the following information is provided to assist the named offender with completing all terms of sentence in the case(s) specifically identified in this document. While efforts have been made to provide credible and reliable information, the offender is advised to contact the Florida Department of Corrections and the Clerk(s) of Court where the offender was sentenced for a current list of outstanding terms and financial obligations in this or any other case. The terms and financial obligations stated herein were obtained from the Florida Comprehensive Case Information System and do not include any terms or financial obligations imposed by a Federal court or a court in another state. Nothing in this document modifies, satisfies, or negates any lawful sentence or obligation that was imposed by a sentencing court. The offender's local Supervisor of Elections makes the final determination whether the offender who registers to vote is eligible pursuant to Florida Statute 98.0751 and Article VI, Sec. 4 of the Florida Constitution.

Greetings,

Let this serve as a reminder of our meeting on Monday (Aug 12) at 2:00 PM by conference call. You should have received the Outlook appointment. Attached are several items of interest for your review prior to our call. The first item is our notes from last week's call. We will approve the two draft advisories as part of our meeting agenda. JD was kind enough to forward to me the letter he received through his service on the Restoration of Voting Rights Task Force. The attached letter contains the dates of the Task Force meetings.

Jared will report on the two suggestions for wording that his group was assigned during last week's call.

Richard will provide an update on the study of the counties who have responded comparing CCIS with CMS data. I will respond on my outreach to those counties that have yet to respond.

Look forward to our call.

RON DESANTIS
GOVERNOR

August 9, 2019

Honorable Charles T. Canady
Chief Justice and the Justices of the Supreme Court of Florida
Tallahassee, Florida

Dear Chief Justice Canady and Justices of the Supreme Court of Florida:

Pursuant to Article IV, section 1(c) of the Florida Constitution, I hereby request your opinion on a question involving the interpretation of a portion of the Constitution affecting my executive powers and duties. The question pertains to the meaning of Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution as it affects my constitutional power as the supreme executive to take care that the laws be faithfully executed and to transact all necessary business with the officers of the government under Article IV, section 1(a) of the Florida Constitution. This question also affects my direct administration and supervision of the Department of State under Article IV, section 6 of the Florida Constitution to ensure the proper administration of voter registration and disqualification.

On November 6, 2018, Florida voters approved a constitutional amendment, known as Amendment 4, to automatically restore voting rights for some convicted felons—namely, felons who have been convicted of offenses other than murder or a "felony sexual offense" upon "completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation." See Art. VI, § 4, Fla. Const. (2018). I request your interpretation of whether "completion of all terms of sentence" encompasses financial obligations, such as fines, fees and restitution ("legal financial obligations" or "LFOs") imposed by the court in the sentencing order.

Prior to Amendment 4's placement on the ballot, this Court was asked to determine whether the amendment met the legal requirements under Florida's Constitution. On March 6, 2017, during a colloquy between the justices and Amendment 4's sponsor, Floridians for a Fair Democracy ("Sponsor"), this Court was assured the Amendment presented a "fair question" and "clear explanation" to voters. SC16-1981).[1] Addressing a question posed by Justice Polston as to whether "completion of [all] terms" included "full payment of any fines," the Sponsor responded, "Yes, sir . . . All terms means all terms within the four corners." Id. at 4. Justice Lawson similarly asked, "You said that terms of sentence includes fines and costs . . . that's the way it's generally pronounced in criminal court, would it also include restitution when it was ordered to the victim as part of the sentence?" Id. at 10. The Sponsor answered, "Yes." Id. Justice Pariente posited the inclusion of fees, fines, and restitution as part of the completion of sentence "would actually help the state because if fines, costs and restitution are a requirement . . . for those that want to vote, there's a big motivation to pay unpaid costs, fines and restitution." Id. at 11. Ultimately, the Court found Amendment 4 clearly and unambiguously informed voters the chief purpose of the proposed amendment was to "automatically restore voting rights to felony offenders, except those convicted of murder or felony sexual offenses, upon completion of all terms of their sentence." Advisory Op., 215 So. 3d at 1208 (emphasis added).

In alignment with the colloquy with the Florida Supreme Court, after Amendment 4 was approved by voters, the ACLU of Florida, League of Women Voters of Florida, LatinoJustice, and the Florida Rights Restoration Coalition delivered a letter to former Secretary of State Ken Detzner regarding implementation of Amendment 4. Exhibit 1, December 13, 2018 Letter. In part, the letter explained,

> The phrase "completion of all terms of sentence" includes any period of incarceration, probation, parole and financial obligations imposed as part of an individual's sentence. The financial obligations may include restitution and fines, imposed as part of a sentence or a condition of probation under existing Florida statute. Fees not specifically identified as part of a sentence or a condition of probation are therefore not necessary for 'completion of sentence' and thus, do not need to be paid before an individual may register. We urge the Department to take this view in reviewing eligibility of individuals registered to vote as outlined in Chapter 98, Florida Statutes.

Ex. 1, p. 3 (emphasis added).

During the 2019 Legislative Session, legislators in both chambers debated legislative implementation of Amendment 4. Ultimately, both chambers passed CS/SB 7066 and, on June 28, 2019, I signed it into law. See Ch. 2019-162, Laws of Fla. In relevant part, chapter 2019-162, section 25, Laws of Florida, creating section 98.0751, Florida Statutes, provided guidance on restoration of voting rights and determination of ineligibility pursuant to the amendment of Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution. "[c]ompletion of all terms of sentence" as "any portion of a sentence that is contained in the four corners of the sentencing document." § 98.0751(2)(a), Fla. Stat. (2019). The Legislature provided five categories of terms included in the sentencing document: (1) release from any term of imprisonment; (2) termination of any term of probation or community control; (3) fulfillment of any term ordered by the court as part of the sentence; (4) termination from any term of supervision monitored by the Florida Commission on Offender Review; and (5) full payment of LFOs ordered by the court as part of the sentence. See § 98.0751(2)(a)1.-5., Fla. Stat. (2019).

On June 15, 2019, Luis Mendez filed a complaint in the Northern District of Florida seeking injunctive and declaratory relief and mandamus challenging chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida. In part, Mendez alleges chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida, violates Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution because it adds requirements for the restoration of voting rights above what was prescribed in the Florida Constitution. Additional complaints were filed by numerous plaintiffs, including organizations referenced above, alleging provisions of chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida violate the First, Eighth, Fourteenth and Twenty-Fourth Amendments of the United States Constitution. These challenges are only directed at chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida, and do not question the constitutionality of Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution.

Article IV, section 1(a) of the Florida Constitution prescribes the supreme executive power shall be vested in the Governor, that he "shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed" and "transact all necessary business with the officers of government." Article IV, section 6 of the Florida Constitution places direct administration and supervision of all functions of the executive branch, including the Department of State, under the constitutional authority of the Governor. See also § 20.02(3), Fla. Stat. (the administration of any executive branch entity shall at all times be under the constitutional executive authority of the Governor"); § 20.10, Fla. Stat. (creating the Department of State, headed by the Secretary of State who is appointed by the Governor). Furthermore, the Secretary of State is the chief elections officer with the responsibility to maintain uniformity in the interpretation and implementation of voter registration and election laws. See § 97.012, Fla. Stat.

The Executive Branch is entrusted with implementing voter registration. See Part II of chapter 97 and chapter 98, Fla. Stat. Specifically, section 98.075(5), Florida Statutes, directs the Department of State to identify registered voters for eligibility under Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution and section 98.0751, Florida Statutes. It is ultimately my responsibility, through the Department of State, to "protect the integrity of the electoral process" by maintaining accurate and current voter registration records, including ensuring only eligible voters remain on the statewide voter registration system. See also §§ 98.075(1), 98.035, Fla. Stat. Essential to my duty is a proper interpretation of Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution.

I, as Governor of Florida, have the constitutional responsibility and duty to take care that the Constitution and laws of Florida are faithfully executed. I, as Governor of Florida, have the constitutional duty to transact business with officers of government, including, but not limited to, local supervisors of elections, local clerks of court, the Florida Department of Corrections, the

Florida Department of Law Enforcement, the Florida Commission on Offender Review and the Florida Department of State regarding the collection of information related to the eligibility of voters under Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution. We share the task of protecting the integrity of elections throughout Florida. I, as Governor of Florida, want to ensure the proper implementation of Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution and, if applicable, chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida. This includes the ability to direct the Department of State to fully implement Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution by determining whether a convicted felon has completed all terms of their sentence, including the satisfaction of LFOs. I will not infringe on the proper restoration of an individual's right to vote under the Florida Constitution.

Understanding there is ongoing litigation in federal court challenging chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida under the First, Eighth, Fourteenth and Twenty-Fourth Amendments of the United States Constitution, I do not ask this Court to address any issues regarding chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida or the United States Constitution.

Therefore, I respectfully request an opinion of the Justices of the Supreme Court of Florida as to the question of whether "completion of all terms of sentence" under Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution includes the satisfaction of all legal financial obligations—namely fees, fines and restitution ordered by the court as part of a felony sentence that would otherwise render a convicted felon ineligible to vote.

Sincerely,

Ron DeSantis

The Honorable Ken Detzner
Secretary of State
State of Florida
R.A. Gray Building

Re: Implementation of Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment

Dear Secretary Detzner:

On November 6, 2018, Florida voters approved Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment with a vote of 64.55 % in support, reflecting the clear will of the people of Florida that those individuals with felony convictions who have paid their debt to society have their eligibility to vote restored to them. We write to request that you take immediate administrative action to coordinate with relevant state and local agencies as required by Chapter 98 Florida Statues and to provide guidance to relevant state and local agencies on the proper administration of voting registration for this newly enfranchised population of Florida's citizens as soon as possible. To that end, we would like to take this opportunity to share our analysis and views on various provisions of the Amendment and corresponding issues.

Amendment 4 is Self-Executing

Amendment 4 is self-executing in that the mandatory provisions of the amendment are effective on the implementation date (Jan. 8, 2019). This is the very position that the State of Florida has acknowledged in its own legal filings in the Hand v. Scott case. The Amendment alters Florida Constitution Article VI, Section 4. Disqualifications, to state as follows:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(a) No person convicted of a felony, or adjudicated in this or any other state to be mentally incompetent, shall be qualified to vote or hold office until restoration of civil rights or removal of disability. Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, any disqualification from voting arising from a felony conviction shall terminate and voting rights shall be restored upon completion of all terms of sentence including parole or probation.

(b) No person convicted of murder or a felony sexual offense shall be qualified to vote until restoration of civil rights. [...].

That language is specific and unambiguous. As the Florida Supreme Court stated in its unanimous opinion approving the amendment for placement on the ballot, "Read together, the title and summary would reasonably lead voters to understand that the chief purpose of the amendment is to automatically restore voting rights to felony offenders, except those convicted of murder or felony sexual offences, upon completion of all terms of their sentence. (emphasis added.) Advisory Opinion to the Attorney General Re: Voting Restoration Amendment, 215 So. 2d 1202,1208 (Fla. 2017).

Since these mandatory provisions will now be in the Florida constitution, the Legislature does not need to pass implementing legislation in order for the amendment to go into effect. That said, the Legislature should exercise its normal and proper oversight function of relevant state agencies to ensure that they implement the amendment in accordance with the will of Florida's voters and without delay.

The burden is on the state, not the individual, to establish whether a voter is ineligible utilizing current administrative practices, databases and resources as defined in Chapter 98 and other relevant provisions of the Florida Statutes.

The plain language of the Amendment makes clear that it restores the voting rights of Floridians with felony convictions after they complete "all terms of their sentence including parole or probation." The Amendment does not apply to those who have completed a sentence for murder or a felony sex offense. Individuals in those categories can only have their right to vote restored by the Governor and the Board of Executive Clemency.

Pursuant to Article XI, Section 5 (3), the Amendment goes into effect on January 8, 2019. Thus, starting January 8th, any individual with a felony conviction who has completed all the terms of their sentence should register to vote by completing a voter registration form.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Completion of all terms of Sentence

The phrase "completion of all terms of sentence" includes any period of incarceration, probation, parole and financial obligations imposed as part of an individual's sentence. These financial obligations may include restitution and fines, imposed as part of a sentence or a condition of probation under existing Florida statute. Fees not specifically identified as part of a sentence or a condition of probation are therefore not necessary for 'completion of sentence' and thus, do not need to be paid before an individual may register. We urge the Department to take this view in reviewing the eligibility of individuals registered to vote as outlined in Chapter 98, Florida Statutes.

Existing Voter Registration Forms are Sufficient

We assert that the uniform stateside voter registration application is sufficient to immediately register individuals impacted by the Amendment's provisions. Question #2 of that form asks individuals to "affirm that I am not a convicted felon, or if I am, my right to vote has been restored." The responsibility of the citizen is to honestly affirm that, by completing the terms of their sentence, their voting rights have been restored. Individuals may also register via the Florida Online Voter Registration System at https://registertovoteflorida.gov/.

Process to Confirm Eligibility is Already in Place

The existing provisions of Chapter 98 of the Florida Statutes provide the Department with sufficient authority to coordinate across state and local agency databases to identify impacted individuals, to promptly and efficiently register to vote those individuals who wish to do so, and to confirm their eligibility in the same way the Department confirms the eligibility of all other Florida residents when they complete a voter registration application.

We understand that the current registration process includes the following steps:

- An individual returns a completed voter registration form to the Supervisor of Elections;
- The Supervisor transmits an electronic copy of the application to the Department of State Division of Elections;
- The individual who completed the form is at that time considered registered and will receive a voter ID card in the mail;
- The Department of State then has the duty to review the voter's registration to determine if there is credible information that the voter is ineligible;

This is the very same process that should be used to register those impacted by Amendment 4.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In closing, we appreciate the difficult task you face in administering elections in Florida. We hope that the discussion above will help you ensure that Amendment 4 is implemented in a timely and smooth fashion, without delay or undue burden on individual eligible voters. Florida's citizens spoke clearly on election day and we look forward to working with you to ensure their will is carried out.

Thank you for your attention to this important matter.

4. Draft Advisory on Legal Opinion

FCCCC has requested and received a legal opinion from our Counsel concerning several issues related to restoration of voting rights, both the constitutional and statutory language. Specifically, these issues address several of the financial aspects of the law. The full legal opinion is attached.

In brief, without the associated legal reasoning and caveats included in the legal opinion, a summary is:

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest? Only if the fine, fee, or cost is made a part of the criminal judgment/ sentencing order and interest is specifically included in the judgment.

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by a clerk for the collection of fees, fines and court costs? Unless otherwise specifically ordered in the criminal judgment, fees owed to a collection agent that are in addition to, and added to the balance of, the unpaid financial obligations would not be included in the definition of "completion of all terms of sentence."

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgment/sentencing order? The reduction of amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order to a civil judgment or lien does not eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as provided for in the criminal judgment/sentencing order.

5. Update on information received from DOC

- In the sample of 10/county provided to us, the first 2 digits of the case number were an issue. DOC had a system problem with leading zeros ("06" for 2006). They have corrected the problem and provided us with the previous 10-per-county list with leading zeros fixed.
- Adding DOB is something they can do. They have provided the previous 10-per-county list with DOB added.
- DOC has provided their list of offense descriptions matched to specific statutes and their "code" for each. This is a lengthy (45-page) list that we will be happy to share upon request.
- Citrus identified 3 issues. 1) Documents with bad information drawn from another county. DOC included the issue in a statewide meeting and will address it as both a systems issue and a training issue. 2) Citrus asked DOC to refile the documents, raising the issue of how the releasee would get the corrected information. DOC will develop a way to deal with this. 3) A restitution payee was incorrectly identified in the DOC documents. DOC will correct their internal process to fix this issue.
- Volusia raised an issue about contacting DOC concerning individuals on probation since multiple counties may be involved. DOC responded: "There are instances when an offender is sentenced in one county, then supervised in another county (the county they live in). The Clerks may not know the county of supervision; therefore, questions should be referred to the county of sentence. By clicking the following link, Probation Offices, each Clerk will be able to determine the office that coincides with the county of sentence. It would probably be a good idea for the Clerks to address court related fees, charges, and costs if they receive phone calls directly as they have a system to maintain accounts for those monetary obligations. "
  http://www.dc.state.fl.us/cc/index.html
- We also asked DOC about release documentation provided to individuals on probation who completed supervision in prior years. DOC responded: "For offenders who have terminated supervision, we provide the offender with a Termination Letter; however, supervision documents maintained by Community Corrections are destroyed three years after the offender terminates supervision."

9A. DRAFT ADVISORY

Restoration of Voting Rights – Effect on Other Rights

Several Clerks have received questions about the new law on restoration of voting rights and its impact on other rights, such as jury service, holding public office, or firearm possession.

The new law, Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida, (CS/SB 7066 from the 2019 legislative session) distinguishes between restoration of civil rights pursuant to s. 8, Art. IV of the State Constitution and voting rights restoration pursuant to s. 4., Art. VI of the State Constitution. Section 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution and the recent amendments to Chapter 98, Florida Statutes, provide the requirements for restoration of voting rights only. Meeting those requirements does not restore other rights.

Persons seeking information on restoration of civil rights generally may be referred to the Florida Commission on Offender Review. The Commission's Office of Executive Clemency has rules, forms, and processes for persons seeking restoration of civil rights, pardon, firearm authority, and other forms of clemency. See: https://www.fcor.state.fl.us/restoration.shtml

Specific to the right to vote, the Office of Executive Clemency website says:

> Regarding the Restoration of Civil Rights (RCR) process and the passage of Amendment Four:
>
> For those offenders covered by the amendment, only the right to vote, not the right to sit on a jury or the right to hold public office, is contemplated by the amendment. Restoration of the right to sit on a jury and to hold public office can only be obtained through application to the Board of Executive Clemency.
>
> As to those offenders not covered by the amendment, namely those convicted of murder or a felony sexual offense or those who have not completed all terms of their sentence, the restoration of the right to vote, to sit on a jury, and to hold public office can only be obtained through application to the Board of Executive Clemency.

Public Records Policy of the Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers

Policy

Pursuant to article 1, section 24 of the Florida Constitution, it is the policy of the Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers (FCCC) to permit certain records to be inspected and copied by any person desiring to do so, at any reasonable time, under reasonable conditions, and under supervision by the custodian of records.

Agency held records, except those specifically precluded from disclosure by statutory exemption, shall be available, in any form and format used by the agency, to all citizens for inspection or copying under the supervision of the records custodian or designee during normal business hours.

Custodian of Records

The FCCC custodian of records or his or her designee must acknowledge requests to inspect or copy records promptly and respond to such requests in good faith. A good faith response includes making reasonable efforts to determine from other offices or employees whether such records exists and, if so, the location at which the records can be accessed.

Inspections

Inspections may take place at the FCCC office located at 3544 Maclay Blvd, Tallahassee, Florida 32312. Records will be made available as quickly as practical after a request is received.

This document outlines policies, responsibilities, and describes procedures for providing access those records held by the Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers that fall under the definition of public records. It should be applied to all activities which involve public records requests. These guidelines complement, but do not replace, the requirements under the Public Records Law.

Applicable Fees

a. Copying Fees: $0.15 per single sided copy
$0.20 per double sided copy

All other fees shall be the actual cost of duplication of the record.

U.S. postage, commercial shipping carriers, or other costs incurred in the delivery of public records shall be included in the actual costs charged to the requester.

The widest possible access to existing public records is encouraged by making copies of those records available for a fee not to exceed the actual cost of duplication.

If records are requested to be sent by email, no copying fees apply. However, depending on the nature or the volume of the request, a special service charge, as outline below, may be assessed.

b. Extensive Use Charges – Extensive use charges shall not be randomly or automatically applied. Rather, each public records request must be evaluated to determine if extensive use charges are warranted. Pursuant to s. 119.07(4)(d), Florida Statutes, the FCCC may impose a special service charge when the nature or volume of the public records request is such as to require extensive use of information technology resources, or extensive clerical or supervisory assistance or both.

For purposes of the policy, "extensive clerical or supervisory assistance" is determined to be requests that require more than 30 minutes of time using information technology, resources, or labor to locate records, review records for confidential or exempt material, remove confidential or exempt material, or copy and re-file requested records.

Labor Time – When extensive clerical and/or supervisory labor time is spent in the inspection or production of a public records request, a service charge for labor should be applied by computing the actual cost of providing such labor. FCCC commercial rates are used for these rates.

Information Technology Resources – FCCC uses the costs established by the Information Technology division when charging for the extensive use of information technology resources and a copy of such documented method shall be provided upon request. Service charges shall be based on the actual cost incurred for such extensive use.

Charges Waivers – Fees or charges may be waived between FCCC and other government agencies, by agreement between management, when the recurring exchanges or data sharing between agencies negates the need to apply these fees.

c. Deposits

If, based on the nature or volume of the public records request, a charge is warranted, an estimate is required to be given to the requester before the work is done.

Payment of the estimated amount must be received before the work commences.

In the event the amount paid exceeds the actual cost, excess funds will be refunded to the requester.

Public Records Requests

FCCC accepts requests for public records in writing, by electronic mail, by telephone, by facsimile, or in person. If the request is insufficient to identify the records sought, the custodian will help the requester clarify the request. The custodian may ask the requester to complete forms to assist in defining or documenting the facts necessary for completing records requests; however, the requester is not obligated to complete these forms as a condition for obtaining the public records requested.

Requests for records are accepted and records made accessible for inspection or duplication during normal FCCC business hours, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Public Records Exemptions

FCCC is responsible for protecting information defined as confidential or as otherwise prohibited from public inspection or copying under the Public Records Law. Confidential information shall be redacted (extracted) from records prior to public release or examination of the nonexempt portions.

The FCCC Custodian is responsible for informing the requester when requests cannot be filled due to an exemption which prevents disclosure. Upon request, the provider must provide the basis for this exemption and its statutory citation.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

General

The FCCC custodian is not required to give out information verbally or answer question about the records. The statutory obligation of the custodian is to provide access to or copies of existing public records.

The FCCC custodian is only required to provide records in the format in which the records are kept, as long as it a generally usable format. Custodians are not required to create a new record in a particular format or to reformat existing records in response to a request for records.

The Public Records Request Policy as adopted by the Best Practice Committee is incorporated by reference as a guide insomuch as it is applicable to the handling of general public records requests.

Ken opened the meeting by saying that he received a news alert last week saying that the Governor was asking the Supreme Court for an opinion on the interpretation of Amendment 4, but he has not seen anything else on this. Fred Baggett responded that the Governor does have the right to request an Advisory Opinion from the Supreme Court, although it is unusual. The Governor has asked the Supreme Court for an opinion on the implementation of Amendment 4 but is not sure of the details. He has not seen anything other than the clip, but it is pending and is within the Governor's authority to make such a request. Richard Herring stated that he thinks he is trying to bring in the federal courts. This would put us back to square one. Ken stated that this is something that will need to be monitored.

Update on Clerk Review of CCIS and CMS for 10 DOC Cases per County, Ken Burke and Richard Herring

Richard and Ken have been working on the survey that was sent to all clerks to compare CCIS data with CMS data to make sure it is accurate. Just this morning Ken wrote to every Clerk who had not responded to the survey. He did find that some Clerks had already responded to the survey but because of email issues the responses were not received. Those Clerks resent their surveys. Richard stated that they have been receiving responses all day, and there are only 15 counties whose responses have not been received. At this point, they are very close to receiving all responses at this point. Ken stated that the findings will be turned over to Linda Doggett, Information Technology Committee, to see if there any further quality control issues with the data. Linda responded by saying they have not looked at a lot of the data. This falls under the Data Quality Management Work Group. They are waiting on hiring the Program Manager who will deal with data quality issues. This will be good information for that effort. We will report back on this. Ken went on to say that this wok group has a specific purpose. Issues were found when the 10 cases were sent to each county to be checked, but this group will not take corrective action. The data will be turned over to CCIS and the Data Quality Management Work Group to follow up on. Melvin Cox stated that they will continue to work on this and get it going. Ken went on to say that it is very helpful when we are very specific on the type of response/information we are requesting from the Clerks instead of being broad and far reaching in the request.

Draft edits to the request from the department of State (uniform statement to provide to the Supervisors), Jared Brooks

The Department of State initially proposed the following:

To determine if you have completed all the terms of your sentence including parole or as to one or more felony convictions(s), please contact the Florida Department of Corrections and/or the Clerk of Court in the county or counties in which you were convicted. If convicted out of state, you will need to contact the Clerk of Court in the state in which you were convicted.

Jared stated that the language was cleaned up and will be discussed with Kelli Merritt tomorrow.

- Ken - he thought part of the problem was that Clerks are not able to tell someone that they have completed all the terms of the sentence. We can only give information about payment costs, fines and fees, and in some cases, restitution.
- Carolyn Timmann - we no longer have parole, so we may want to fix that. The real issue is everyone debating is what a term is. This just says if you have completed all the terms, but we don't know if they have completed probation. She would like a clarification on this.
- Ken – the DOC will be able to tell them about probation. How can this be reworded?
- Richard – does not think we need to say where they should go for anything, i.e. DOC, county jail, other states. We only need to define what the Clerks can provide. The Department of State can go to the other agencies. They are hoping to get a statement that the Supervisor can use saying what you can expect to get from the Clerks, including orders at the time of sentence, amounts to paid, etc. We need to define the information or documents that the Clerks would have in their possession.
- Karen Rushing – add restitution since it sometimes ordered.
- Jared – they will go back and take another look at this with the information that has been discussed and provided here.
- Ken – include Richard in your meetings or conference calls so that he can provide input.
- Carolyn Timmann– doesn't know why people are not being directed to the FDLE for a criminal history. Include this with the recommendation to DOS.
- Ken – The Department of State came up with this language and asked for our input.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Draft Disclaimers

That language will mirror the prior page saying that the Clerk's office can only provide what they are responsible. The Work Group can work on this and submit revised language by the end of the week.

Draft Advisory on Legal Opinion

This group asked for a legal opinion from Fred concerning several issues related to Amendment 4, which is summarized below:

- Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest? Only if the fine, fee or cost is made a part of the criminal judgment/sentencing order and interest is specifically included in the judgment.
- Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by a Clerk for the collection of fees, fine and court costs? Unless otherwise specifically ordered in the criminal judgment, fees owed to a collection agent that are in addition to, and added to the balance of, the unpaid financial obligations would not be included in the definition of all terms of sentence.
- If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgment/sentencing order? The reduction of amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order to a civil judgment or lien does not eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as provided for in the criminal judgment/sentencing order.

Several Clerks have asked if the new law has any impact on other rights, such as jury service, holding public office, or firearm possession. The restoration of rights only applies to voting rights.

When Richard asked if it was ok to send the advisories out the Clerks, Ken responded that they will work to get these out. These will be very useful to Clerks.

Update on information received form DOC, Richard Herring

Over the last month after the first meeting with DOC and continuing conversations:

- The first 2 digits of the case number were an issue. DOC had a system problem with leading zeros (06 for 2006). They have corrected the problem and provided us with the previous 10-per-couty list with leading zeros fixed.
- They have added the date of birth. They have provided the previous 10-per-county list with DOB added.
- DOC has provided their list of offense descriptions matched to specific statutes and their "code" for each.
- Citrus County identified 3 issues that were identified as internal issues that were discussed at a statewide meeting and will be addressed as a training issue.
- Volusia County raised an issue about contacting DOC concerning individuals on probation since multiple counties may be involved. DOC suggested that questions be referred to the Probation office in the county of sentence.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Release documentation provided to individuals on probation who completed supervision in prior years. DOC provides the offender with a termination letter, but the supervision documentation is destroyed 3 years after the offender terminates supervision. This is to get around some of the records retention history.
- DOC provided a listing of the DC numbers, which is DOC's unique (lifetime) identified for each individual which may have an initial alpha character.

Ken asked what was decided on the form they give each inmate as they leave prison with a summary of information on what they need to do to complete their sentence. There was discussion about that being sent to Clerks as part of the record and e-filed.

- Richard – they are filing a screen shot (financial screen) from CCIS of amounts that need to be paid. That would only relate to that case and not for priors. There is educational material that is easily understandable about what they need to do to get their voting rights back.
- Bill Burgess – just met with DOC Probation. Set up in CMS as well as portal, but DOC was not sure how to file in the portal. They will start doing that on Friday. They have 100-150 to send. He does not know if this is statewide.
- Richard – this is being done by local DOC offices. Some started the first of July, but in other parts of the state they are still struggling with this.
- Carolyn Timmann – if they are sending a screen shot from CCIS on that list of 10 they sent if someone has been convicted on 4 cases, information will only be given on the last case and not the other 3.
- Richard – this is the reason they wanted to talk about a disclaimer for the CCIS financial screen stating that this relates only to the offense you are looking up. There may be other cases. A disclaimer is needed saying this is very granular to this specific case. You may owe money on other cases. What they are getting from the Clerk's office is not all cases
- Richard - page 7 of the packet talks about a CCIS financial disclaimer. The DOC has indicted that if we have edits to what they are providing, they are willing to consider making them.
- Carolyn Timmann suggested giving them suggestions to a disclaimer in their documents they would be receptive to.

Ken emailed to the group what Pinellas County received as an example of what will be given to a released inmate.

- Bill Burgess - on the summary that Ken sent from the DOC shows no court costs or fines owing on this case, but shows State Accounts to be paid. These are DOC fees.
- Ken – on page 3, why does the balance due shows nothing owed?
- Bill Burgess – he sent this question to DOC. They will be getting back to him on that. They gave him 5 examples and he had questions on 4.
- Ken – this is a good example of what CCIS has does not match DOC.
- Richard – he is not sure data will get better so a disclaimer is need on both sides.
- Ken – page 2 and page 3 have different information. Why would current balances be zero on page 2? This is a problem we need to avoid. DOC saying people don't own anything and we say that money is owed. This will be a mess.
- Karen Rushing – this issue came up at FCTC. The point was made that we need to make sure the numbers are accurate.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Ken – we are already seeing discrepancies in the information that is provided by DOC.
- Linda Doggett – looking at what was sent, and it looks like the DOC system does not enter our court fines and fees into their system. Their system balance is zero, but the next page shows a balance due. Perhaps they could remove this from their document, or add an attachment.
- Bill Burges – this was a quick meeting with them. His understanding is that local DOC office is not entering court cost into their database. Only on PTI programs.
- Ken - a lot of conversation needs to happen with them. Being given a document with no court costs and fines and then another document says you owe $1,300 is very confusing. The press will have a heyday with this. Ken asked Richard to meet with DOC on this, and asked Karen Rushing to attend the meeting as well.
- JD Powell – sent an alternative document. This did not contain a cover letter and only appears to contain what DOC maintains.
- Linda Doggett - Clerks can talk with their local DOC about this.

Ken stated that this should be done in a statewide uniform way. There are a lot of issues here. This shows there is a definite problem that needs to be addressed. Ken and Richard will discuss this offline but all agree this needs serious follow up. Ken asked Karen Rushing to be the point person on this, and she agreed. Ken, Karen and Richard will work on this.

Update on Florida Sheriff's Association

What Sheriffs will be giving to inmates in their jails?

Kim Renspie spoke with them to today to see if there was any follow up on the conference and if they talked about this. They did not talk much about Amendment 4. Their main focus has been on hemp. It may have been discussed at the Executive Session, but the person Kim spoke with was not in that session. Kim will check further on this. Some people may not have noticed but the Sheriffs were not on the Work Group. Until they are tasked they want to stay out of this until they are told to do something. Ken stated that Statute tells them to do something. Richard stated that 56/57 Sheriffs will be doing separate policies. They have not taken any action to do anything on a statewide basis. We did share with them the set of documents provided to us regarding the Clerk's role with DOC. They have the documents and they know what DOC has been doing. They are not a top down organization on things like this.

Ken asked what had happened with the Orange County Financial Obligation form, and Richard responded that there had been no final decision on moving forward with it. Ken asked that it be put on the agenda for next week, and he will send out the form to those on the call for their review and input.

Melvin Cox stated that there was no update on the acceptance of payments in a Clerk's office for amounts due another Clerk.

Possible Policy development

A. Public Records Policy of the Florida Court Clerks & Comptrollers. The Public Records Policy needs to be formally adopted. This should go to the Executive Committee on Strategic Initiative.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

B FCCC/Clerk Agreement. This 2005 CCIS Participation Agreement between the Clerks & CCIS needs to be updated. It would be a good idea to update with statutory changes to CCIS, or is it still necessary to have this agreement? When asked, Fred Baggett stated that he thinks it needs to be looked at. There are a number of changes affecting the Clerks and all public records areas. We could do more with CCIS with a little bit of tweaking, but it does need to be looked at. Linda Doggett stated that it is now being looked at and changes will be made. Ken asked Linda to bring this to Stacy Butterfield's attention.

Ken asked Richard if follow up was needed on the Volusia document. Is that document going to be shared? Laura Roth stated that there has been discussion on the Court being the payee on court-ordered financial obligations. They have a meeting with the Chief Judge on Thursday to discuss whether this will be formally adopted. She will report back after that meeting. Ken stated that this was for informational purposes only. We will hold off until we find out more on how the advisory opinion requested by the Governor plays a part in this.

Fred stated that he now has a copy of the Advisory Opinion request. In summary, it is very well written. It is a request for an opinion of the Justices of the Supreme Court as to the question of all terms of sentence under Article I, section 4 of the Florida Constitution includes the satisfaction of all legal financial obligations namely fees, fines and restitution ordered by the court as part of a felony sentence that would otherwise render a convicted felon ineligible to vote. It is a strong letter asking the Supreme Court to include fines, fees, costs and restitution as part of the sentence.

Carolyn Timmann stated that going back to the comment about local procedures, she has already met with her Chief Judge and he indicated that every judge will handle this through their normal procedures. Ken stated that our Chief Judge will probably not issue a directive to other judges on how to handle the process.

The meeting was adjourned at 3:05. The next meeting is scheduled for Monday, August 12 at 2:00 p.m.

Stacy Butterfield, Polk County Clerk of the Circuit Court and Comptroller Tara Green, Clay County Clerk of the Circuit Court
Tiffany Moore Russell, Orange County Clerk of the Circuit Court
Kelli Leighton, Martin County Clerk's office

Ken opened the meeting by asking if anyone on the call had questions regarding the revised agenda that had been sent out. There were no questions.

Doug Chorvat and JD Peacock were appointed by the Governor to the Work Group. They are part of this call as observers. They need to be in a listening capacity or asking questions in compliance with the Sunshine Law. Part of our job is to support Doug and J.D. in their work. Richard Herring will be offering support to them in this effort, and will attend the work group meetings and act as support in responding to questions.

Update on Possible Issues for Request(s) for Legal Opinion(s), Fred Baggett

Fred sent the legal opinion to Ken, who had specific questions. Ken asked that Fred talk about the opinion and address the questions that he had. Fred stated that a series of questions were put to together from a compilation of issues laid out by Richard Herring and Beth Allman regarding how Amendment 4 impacts the Clerks. There are 3 issues discussed in the opinion.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest?

If the fines, fees or costs are made part of the criminal judgment/sentencing order and interest is included in that judgment, they do believe that 938.30 provides that payment of interest is required in order to complete the sentence. The law is clear that things imposed on a felon create an obligation, but anything imposed after the sentence is handed down are not part of the sentence. Payment of interest may be made part of the sentence. Ken asked Fred if he was aware of any sentence dealing with interest on restitution. Fred responded that 775.089 addresses restitution and interest. After discussion regarding accrued interest, Ken asked Carolyn Timmann to send him examples of documents with interest accrued and satisfactions where interest did not accrue. Karen Rushing asked Fred if the DOC document does not refer to interest but there is a Civil judgement, what is required. Fred responded that the judgment is Civil in nature. There is a distinction between a criminal sentence and a judgment. The judgment does not reduce the penalty in the sense of elimination. It takes the penalty in the criminal sentence and makes it a Civil debt. A recorded judgment is not the debt. It is security of payment of the debt, like a mortgage and note. You don't' satisfy the mortgage, you satisfy the underlying debt which creates a satisfaction of the mortgage. If the sentence and judgment are done at the same time and converted to a Civil lien, you still have a sentence with obligation. The Civil lien is nothing more than security of payment of the Criminal debt. Ken asked that examples be sent to Fred who will report next week on whether interest accrues or not.

Matt White asked to be included in Fred's emails.

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by the Clerk for the collection of fees, fines and court costs?

The simple answer is no if there is nothing in the sentencing order related to the payment of collection fees.

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgement/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgement/sentencing order?

The answer to this is no. Unless included in the criminal judgment, a civil judgement or lien is security for the payment of the criminal debt. No case law has been found that would support a civil judgment that is issued separate and apart form a sentence would be construed as being part of the sentence.

Fred then addressed Ken's questions:

Page 2, Item 5d – for the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e, and notwithstanding any other statue, rule or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution. The court may modify the fines and fees and other conditions of the sentence, but further down in the same section under E2, it says upon a payee's approval either through appearance in open court or through the production of a notarized consent by the payee, the termination by the court of any financial obligation to payee, including but not limited to, a victim, or the court. This is how a challenge of the sentence can be effectuated. He reads it to say the judge can modify the sentence or even eliminate it if the payee consents to it. The payee is the recipient of restitution or the Clerk. Reading those two together, the work group will have to address it as it is currently written that if the payee of the fines, fees and costs would have to consent in court or by notarized consent to agree to the judge's action.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Comments/Questions for Fred:

- Angela Vick - A large portion of the fine goes to the state. Is this just for the Clerks or for the state as well? Fred responded that the Clerk is the payee, but distributes.
- Matt White - D talks about the defendant being able to file a motion with the court to modify financial obligations. Criminal procedure talks about modifying sentences, but there is a time limit of 60 days. Does D remove that 60 day time limit? What if it is restitution? Judgments for cost of supervision, etc. are paid to the Clerk but are going to another agency (State Attorney, DOC, etc.), so would those agencies be signing off on those items. The money comes to the Clerk but we are just passing it along.
- Ken - this section gives the Clerk the right to agree to the reduction. That could be our reason when the press contacts us that it is because of the underlying distribution. We are not agreeing to reduction.
- Fred – the fidicuary responsibility is with the Clerk. The responsibility comes from Statute. This is all fodder for the work group. They will have to figure this out.
- Ken – the Clerk would only be involved if the felon petitions the court to lower fines. Should we give some guidelines to Clerks now in order to prevent issues and let them know the consequences of the actions?
- Laura Roth - they have a very different interpretation in Volusia County. At a recent meeting with the Clerk's office and other state agencies, it was agreed that the Court is the payee for the Court-ordered financial obligations. As the payee, the court may terminate any ordered fines, fees and costs. All of the agencies at the meeting agreed to this, but the Chief Judge has not given his approval. A meeting is scheduled with the Chief Judge on August 15. None of the agencies asked that they receive notification of changes. Fred stated that this is a good way around the issue and does not think anyone would be criticized for that.
- Ken - should the Clerks come up with qualifying language for this section of the bill to provide more clarity and if this should be given to the Task Force. The Task Force has 85 days to do this work and give its report to the Legislature, although it has not convened yet. They may welcome our feedback. Fred responded that an Interim Best Practice could be provided to the Task Force with an explanation of the issues, a statement that the reading of the Statute does not work, and that we are advising the Clerks to follow a procedure, i.e. Volusia County's procedure until such time as other action is taken. Clerks need some guidance on this right now.

Ken asked if there were comments or concerns with the Volusia County procedures:

- Karen Rushing stated that in Sarasota they have a different take on this. There is a donor who is interested in paying the fines of people through a foundation. She does not have a problem with Volusia's procedure, but thinks a Best Practice is needed, but the Best Practice should not prohibit other options.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ACTION ITEM: Let Clerks know we are going to enter an objection as a Best Practice. Ken will work with Fred for statewide implementation for Volusia's method.

Page 2, Item 5e (III) – who will monitor community service if a judge converts the amount owed to community service? Is there a fee for this responsibility? What happens if community service is not fulfilled?

- Fred - the law makes no reference to who would monitor it. There is no suggestion that the Clerk should monitor it. This will be an open question for the Task Force to consider in their recommendations. It is difficult to monitor community service. The completion rate is terrible with less than 40 percent of people completing the community service. There is a standard hourly rate for community service, but the judges often deviate from the standard rate. People think community service sounds good, but then change their minds. This should be a unified mandate.
- Carolyn Timmann - the judges there rarely order community service. It is not very successful. Many defendants don't want it. She does not see this as a mandate because it is so low. This could be a procedure that could be monitored through the Trail Court Administrator.
- Laura Roth - they did discuss this at the round table meeting they had. They also looked at the issues of people with orders terminating financial obligations but still have community service that has not been completed. When can they register to vote? What does it look like to get proof? If they never complete the community service, does someone have to notify the Supervisor of Elections?
- Karen Rushing - they do not do community service very often.
- Ken – this just shows how different the circuits are. There are many issues with community service, and what happens if they don't complete it.
- Carolyn Timmann – the bill does say that if it is converted to community service, they do have to complete the community service. There was not a lot of thought about the mechanism of how the notification comes forward.
- This will be a real tracking nightmare for the Supervisor of Elections.
- This will fill of lot of the session at the Fall Conference – these legal points.

ACTION ITEM: Ken will work on a communication on this point for the other Clerks. He will send out Fred's document.

Negotiating fees/fines/costs converted to civil judgments

Jared Brooks, Orange County, and Kelli Merritt, Martin County, are co-chairing this group. Jared has invited legal counsels from other Clerk's offices, and Kelli has invited operations staff to come up with Best Practices. A September 20 deadline was established for the final product.

Preliminary results of Clerk Review of CCIS and CMS for 10 Cases per County

Richard stated there are various issues with records between CMS and CCIS. They are still getting responses in and hope to get more. When they get the list in final form, it will be a good idea for everyone to take a look at. In some counties, everything matched perfectly, but many have issues.

Melvin Cox stated that there is a great CCIS data team at the office. The Data Quality Work Group is dealing with data quality issues and standards to correct the issues. The challenge will be to categorize the issues. Most issues can be corrected by going back and looking at how CMS sends to CCIS. Usually something was missing or incomplete. This is going to be an ongoing process that CCIS will support as new data is being introduced. They had advertised for a new CCIS Program Manager, which is a new position that was approved by the board. They are now interviewing for this position who will work on and manage this project going forward. Ken asked Melvin to send him the names of the Data Quality Work Group and the names of the FCCC staff to include on CCIS issues.

Carolyn Timmann – going back to Doug and JD on the phone. The only concern is that she is under subpoena for the civil case and she thinks they are looking to try and say that Clerks records have all sorts of problems. Her concern is the volume of emails going out that identify problems. Please don't send them to Carolyn, JD or Doug. Phone calls are great. Try to say this without saying too much.

Consider Advisory or Best Practice relating to Acceptance of payments in a Clerk's office for amounts due another Clerk

Tiffany Moore Russell was asked to spearhead the effort to establish a Best Practice on how to handle a person coming into our offices asking if they owe money even if the felony did not occur in our county and can we then assist them with making the payment and making sure the payment get to the appropriate county.

Melvin looked at the current payment options. The traditional method of going to the courthouse to make the payment does not allow for out of county payments. Cash, check, credit/debit card payments are accepted and are receipted directly into the local CMS. The deputy clerk is able to offer assistance with case and citation numbers, payment plan information, past due info, combining cases/payments, etc. The goal is to mimic this same standard of service for people wanting to make payments outside of our county. Most clerks have remote websites that can be used for people to make payments over the web with the website usually having access to the local CMS. However, there is limited lookup capability and websites do not accept cash or check. Some Clerks have contracted with financial institutions to accept cash payments on behalf of the Clerk, however the payments may be limited. Other payment methods include kiosks and telephone IVR payments.

Options to accepting payments for cases in other counties include:

- Directing the payer to the Clerk's' website where their case is located. A link like www.payFLclerk could be used to help in finding the proper place to make the payment. The advantage of this is using existing technology that is already set up and would require no additional integration with local CMS. However, there are cons to this. This will not satisfy all types of payments as it won't take cash or check, although Clerks can partner with AmScot or Wells Fargo. Deputy Clerks will be required to have additional training and will need to become familiar with other Clerk's websites.
- Partner with financial institutions on a state-wide basis. This option would utilize existing processes, has a potential for many easy to access locations and would offer a potential for standard integration. However, only cash payments could be accepted with no way to deal with customer service issues.
- They could develop a statewide electronic payment system integrated into all CMS systems, which would look like an e-filing portal for payments. The payer would go to the site and pay on any case. This would be a build out of a lot of the existing interfaces. There would be a cost for the time to build this system and there may be a conflict with existing provider contracts that some Clerks already have in place. This program would need to be supported with a statewide 24-7 call center so that the payer could opt to a live person if automation failed. They would be trained in how to look up payments statewide, and would be able to take payments over the phone. This could be a consideration for the future.

Any suggestions should be sent to Melvin until the new manager comes on board who will be the key of contact for CCIS issues.

Ken stated that this committee has a limited purview so that would have to through the Legislative Committee for best use of resources. Ken loves the idea of someone going into any Clerk's office and paying a fine for any office. We need a workable solution to present to the Legislature where people can pay for their entire sentence through a statewide system. Melvin stated this could go through Civitek which has an existing bank account to take payments from every Clerk in the state. Melvin suggested this be discussed at the Technology Committee meeting coming up shortly. Ken agreed saying the reason we are doing this needs to be discussed. This is a public policy issue.

Richard stated that the remaining issues on the agenda would be discussed at next week's meeting.

Any additional comments/concerns:

- Karen Rushing - we want to make sure the database is correct. We don't want people coming back saying we did it wrong. We don't want to take payments that are not accurate.
- Richard - most issues were minor or local, but because of the number of issues they do need to be looked at.
- Cathy Davis agrees with Karen. She did a search this morning looking up a felon for other cases in other counties. The name was listed several different ways – first name, middle initial, middle name. The challenge is if you know the case number errors are limited, but if you don't know the case number this could lead to problems.
- Ken stated that we need make sure the data is correct and easy to access.
- Laura Roth – no other comments.

With no other questions or comments, the meeting was adjourned at 3:37. The next call will take place on Monday, August 12, at 2:00 p.m.

Draft Advisory on Legal Opinion

FCCCC has requested and received a legal opinion from our Counsel concerning several issues related to restoration of voting rights, both the constitutional and statutory language. Specifically, these issues address several of the financial aspects of the law. The full legal opinion is attached.

In brief, without the associated legal reasoning and caveats included in the legal opinion, a summary is:

1. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include any statutory interest? Only if the fine, fee, or cost is made a part of the criminal judgment/ sentencing order and interest is specifically included in the judgment.

2. Does the requirement of "completion of all terms of sentence" include fees paid to a collection agent engaged by a clerk for the collection of fees, fines and court costs? Unless otherwise specifically ordered in the criminal judgment, fees owed to a collection agent that are in addition to, and added to the balance of, the unpaid financial obligations would not be included in the definition of "completion of all terms of sentence."

3. If the amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order are reduced to a civil judgment or lien, does that eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as set forth in the criminal judgment/sentencing order? The reduction of amounts owed pursuant to a criminal judgment/sentencing order to a civil judgment or lien does not eliminate the obligation to pay the amounts owed as provided for in the criminal judgment/sentencing order.

DRAFT ADVISORY

Restoration of Voting Rights – Effect on Other Rights

Several Clerks have received questions about the new law on restoration of voting rights and its impact on other rights, such as jury service, holding public office, or firearm possession.

The new law, Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida, (CS/SB 7066 from the 2019 legislative session) distinguishes between restoration of civil rights pursuant to s. 8, Art. IV of the State Constitution and voting rights restoration pursuant to s. 4., Art. VI of the State Constitution. Section 4, Art. VI of the State Constitution and the recent amendments to Chapter 98, Florida Statutes, provide the requirements for restoration of voting rights only. Meeting those requirements does not restore other rights.

Persons seeking information on restoration of civil rights generally may be referred to the Florida Commission on Offender Review. The Commission's Office of Executive Clemency has rules, forms, and processes for persons seeking restoration of civil rights, pardon, firearm authority, and other forms of clemency. See: https://www.fcor.state.fl.us/restoration.shtml

Specific to the right to vote, the Office of Executive Clemency website says:

> Regarding the Restoration of Civil Rights (RCR) process and the passage of Amendment Four:
>
> For those offenders covered by the amendment, only the right to vote, not the right to sit on a jury or the right to hold public office, is contemplated by the amendment. Restoration of the right to sit on a jury and to hold public office can only be obtained through application to the Board of Executive Clemency.
>
> As to those offenders not covered by the amendment, namely those convicted of murder or a felony sexual offense or those who have not completed all terms of their sentence, the restoration of the right to vote, to sit on a jury, and to hold public office can only be obtained through application to the Board of Executive Clemency.

VI of the State Constitution, including developing recommendations as to:

- The consolidation of data necessary to verify the eligibility of a registered voter for restoration of voting rights. If any entity is recommended to manage the consolidated relevant data, the recommendations must provide the feasibility of such entity to do so and a timeline for implementation.
- The process for informing a registered voter of the entity or entities that are custodians of the relevant data necessary for verifying his or her eligibility for restoration of voting rights.
- Any other relevant policies or procedures for verifying the eligibility of a registered voter for restoration of voting rights.

Separate financial obligations may be required for each count in a felony case and for each separate felony, no matter how long ago.

Editor's Note: see s. 951.23(2), F.S.

The attached financial obligation information, related to a particular case or count, was obtained from the Florida Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS) and does not include any financial obligations imposed by a Federal court or a court in another state.

Nothing in this document modifies, satisfies, or negates any lawful sentence or obligation that was imposed by a sentencing court.

4. Working Draft – Advisory on Providing Financial Information

Restoration of Voting Rights
Providing Individuals with Information on Financial Obligations

SUMMARY:

This Advisory provides a model that Clerks may wish to use when responding to requests from individuals who are seeking to have their voting rights restored and who need current information on their financial obligations ordered by the sentencing court.

The attached form provides a simple format for providing information to individuals about the financial obligations ordered in their most-recent, and any prior, felonies.

This form can be used by a Clerk to list all the financial obligations from all prior felonies anywhere in the State of Florida based on available CCIS data. It is anticipated that the most complete statewide data would include:

- OTHER COUNTS. The requesting individual may have been sentenced on several counts stemming from one episode. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those counts.
- PRIOR FELONIES. The requesting individual may have had prior felonies. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those prior felonies.
- OTHER COUNTIES. The requesting individual may have been sentenced for prior felonies in other counties and have financial obligations stemming from those other felony sentences. The CCIS assessments and payments can be furnished for cases filed in other counties, however, the requesting individual will need to contact that clerk's office to obtain voting rights restoration financial information.
- COURT MODIFICATIONS. The sentencing Court(s) may have entered subsequent orders, after initial sentencing, which modified the individual's financial obligations (e.g., converting certain obligations to community service).

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS:

The law (set out below) appears to require the completion of all terms of sentence from all prior felonies. Clerks may want to remind requesting individuals to consider:

- DIRECT PAYMENTS. The requesting individual may have met certain financial obligations (e.g., direct payment of restitution to a victim) without the Clerk having any record of that action.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- OTHER STATES. If the requesting individual has felony convictions by a Court in another state or by a federal Court that prevent the requesting individual from registering, the Clerk will not have any records related to those cases.
- DISQUALIFYING FELONIES. The requesting individual will not qualify for restoration of voting rights, regardless of meeting financial obligations, if a prior felony sentence was for murder or a felony sexual offense, as defined in section 98.0751(2)(b), Florida Statutes.

BACKGROUND:

Section 98.0751, Florida Statutes, was created effective July 1, 2019, by CS/SB 7066 – Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida. A persons who has been disqualified from voting based on a felony conviction for an offense other than murder or a felony sexual offense, may become qualified by completing all terms of sentence.

Included within "all terms of sentence" is the payment of restitution to victims plus fines and fees ordered by the court. The statutory requirement, with all its qualifications, is set out below.

> 98.0751 Restoration of voting rights; termination of ineligibility subsequent to a felony conviction.—
> (2) For purposes of this section, the term:
>
> (a) "Completion of all terms of sentence" means any portion of a sentence that is contained in the four corners of the sentencing document, including, but not limited to:
>
> 5.a. Full payment of restitution ordered to a victim by the court as a part of the sentence. A victim includes, but is not limited to, a person or persons, the estate or estates thereof, an entity, the state, or the Federal Government.
>
> b. Full payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence or that are ordered by the court as a condition of any form of supervision, including, but not limited to, probation, community control, or parole.
>
> c. The financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. include only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence.
>
> d. For the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e. and notwithstanding any other statute, rule, or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or a victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution.

e. Financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. are considered completed in the following manner or in any combination thereof:

(I) Actual payment of the obligation in full.

(II) Upon the payee's approval, either through appearance in open court or through the production of a notarized consent by the payee, the termination by the court of any financial obligation to a payee, including, but not limited to, a victim, or the court.

(III) Completion of all community service hours, if the court, unless otherwise prohibited by law or the State Constitution, converts the financial obligation to community service.

A term required to be completed in accordance with this paragraph shall be deemed completed if the court modifies the original sentencing order to no longer require completion of such term. The requirement to pay any financial obligation specified in this paragraph is not deemed completed upon conversion to a civil lien.

7. A. Summary of Division of Elections presentation on sources of information about potentially ineligible voters

Following is a summary of the relevant portion of the presentation made by the Division director to the DOS Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group at its first meeting on August 19, 2019. This was a brief presentation, so little information was given other than the listing of sources below.

The Department of State is designated as the primary agency to identify ineligible voters based on information received from state agencies or other credible and reliable sources.

Department of State, Division of Elections, receives information from:

Clerks of Court
Individuals convicted of felonies
Individual adjudicated mentally incapacitated
Monthly jury lists – paper process – individuals excused because adjudicated mentally incapacitated, convicted of a felony, no longer live in the county
DOS consults re CCIS data and Clerk CMS
DOS requests specific Clerk records

Florida Department of Law Enforcement
Daily information about Florida felony offenders
Monthly information about Florida registered sex offenders

Department of Corrections
Daily information, through FIA web service, about felony matches
DOS consults re individuals photographs – IRIS image database

From the Department of Health:
Is individual deceased?

Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles
DOS consults re identity demographics – DAVID database
DHSMV Driver License Record Database and Social Security Administration (Florida DL number, Florida ID card, SSN)
DHSMV/Tax Collector's Offices - applications and renewals

Department of State

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Florida Voter Registration System – voter records

Commission on Offender Review
Individual has had civil rights restored

U.S. Attorneys
re other states and federal courts – intermittent (daily, weekly monthly) – manual submissions by fax or mail, all paper

Federal Court database – PACER

Sources above, generally, concerning completion of sentence.

Also, Supervisors of Elections may receive some information directly – typically from the Clerk of Court. Supervisors perform "county-initiated felony matches."

DOS build a file for the individual with the (typically 4-20) pieces of relevant information and makes available to Supervisors by posting on a website. DOS monitors the website to ensure Supervisors are downloading the files. Supervisors then follow the due process requirements of s. 98.075(7), F.S.

Such files typically contain:

- DOS Case File Review Certificate
- Screenshot Bureau of Voter Registration Services (BVRS) Workflow Application Interface with voter and felon information
- Screenshot Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles' Driver License database
- Screenshot Comprehensive Case Management System (CCIS) (Including Financial Summary if available and required)
- Court Documents (at a minimum, the judgment and sentence, if separate document)
- Screenshot Florida Department of Corrections online and internal web service informational page
- Screenshot Clemency (Florida Commission on Offender Review and BVRS)

7.B. Division of Elections response to our request for specifics about data from Clerks

Division of Elections

The following is a compilation of notable highlights and challenges the Division has encountered over the years in obtaining court records in support of a voter record/felony record match that indicates a registered voter may be ineligible to be registered due to an adjudication of felony conviction without the right to vote restored.

Clerk of Court Records - Highlights:

Counties

- Overall, the counties have been very helpful. For the volume of request, they are for the most part responsive and handle them very efficiently. Most are also very good at helping us figure out the 'nonsense' case numbers we frequently receive from FDLE (e.g., Orange, Duval, and Monroe).
- We are not without error so all of the counties deserve praise for resending us court documents that have been requested in the past but misplaced by our office.
- While Duval often does not provide the judgment, they alternatively type up a summary sheet of the judgment, particularly for older cases. This mitigates misplaced or unattended requests.
- St. Lucie is an example of a county that appears to use CCIS as fully intended - with the full case file scanned, as this is an already established, password-protected way for other government agencies to view court documents. They are very quick with communication and returns on requests that are not yet scanned into CCIS. If we have a problem downloading the entire file, they break it up into manageable parts without hesitation.
- Communications with clerk of court is very important. Gadsden deserves praise for working with us to tell us that it is easier for them to receive all requests at the end of the day to process the following day. This is workable for us due to the small size of the county and ensures organization and timeliness at the clerk's office.
- Okaloosa county is very good about providing certified copies of court minutes when an actual judgment is not available.
- People and counties that stand out to us as being excellent contacts over the years
    - Brevard – Wendy Kiersted and Sandra Scheerhorn
    - Broward – Doris Pava-Ruiz
    - Charlotte – Cindee Sierant
    - Clay – Michelle Thrasher and Lisa Sanchez
    - Collier – Lorraine Stoll
    - Duval – Natayla Anderson
    - Gadsden – Perla Palomo and Kathy Young

Clerk of Court Records - Challenges

Counties in General

- Several counties have returned “file not found” or “N/A” as responses to our requests. This is different from a return of “met retention” or “destroyed” that we get with some older MM cases. We heard anecdotally from one county (Brevard) that misplaced older cases can occur if the file has been pulled several times and not placed in proper order. For example, they may scan the file barcode then scan the barcode for its location in the warehouse and sometimes the person putting it back doesn’t do this correctly for the computer to have an accurate record of the current location. This may represent an issue with following procedures for archiving.
- Several counties, including Sarasota and Duval, will not provide a statement when documents, such as arrest reports, are not available. This makes it difficult to prove insufficient documentation, especially with older cases.
- Many counties do not send all documents requested and include no response addressing the missing items. We have to reach out again for clarification as to whether they exist at all or did someone just forget to include them.
- The requesting process on the public sites for most counties since the Supreme Court order seem like overkill for another government agency’s requests. They made documents more widely accessible to the public, but we seem to have less direct access than before. Even if they are available online, we have to wait for redaction or they are difficult to locate because the images are not labeled in a way that makes them easily identifiable; they have image numbers rather than document titles, like arrest report or judgment. Many of these counties (Lee, Leon, Okaloosa, Orange, etc.) have had to create alternate ways to get the information we need to us because our requests do not fit neatly into the access matrix.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

As recently as March, Escambia has stated that they cannot grant us access to the information we need because of the matrix.

County-specific

- Bay and Jefferson
  - Counties have had issues with providing archived documents due to storm damage.
- Broward County
  - Longest wait for requested documents historically occurs with Broward County Clerk of Court Archives. Previously, all requests went to one staff but have since expanded we believe to include two other trainees. Requests for archived documents typically take 3-4 days unless sent by mail.
- Miami-Dade
  - Frequently returns the statement that the case documents are held with the Miami-Dade Police Department, not the Clerk of Court. We do not have an established relationship nor are comfortable reaching out to the police department.
  - Protracted responses which we attribute to large county, many document requests, and staffing shortage (which they have stated). The office tries to expedite responses by grouping requests in batch responses with case sheets in lieu of actual judgments. We have not seen marked difference in turnaround time.
  - We observe many more errors with felony division records (e.g., wrong case, wrong defendant, missing a requested page, etc.) than with other counties, but then again they also process a larger number of requests. Assigned staff rotates frequently which makes it difficult to circle back to the same person about the errors. Communications however have improved. Miami-Dade misdemeanor section has always been great with communication and turnaround time.
- Palm Beach
  - The clerk of court office can only provide us with docket printouts when we request older misdemeanor cases since they destroy the documents after a set retention period. However, there is no written mention of this included with the printout for us to include in the case file as proof.
  - The office responds back in large batches rather than once the request is completed. While we understand the efficiencies for the clerk, it can delay being able to move forward with a potentially invalid registered voter file.
- Pasco
  - The clerk of court office has roughly 10 different contacts that our requests need to be sent to, though they usually complete the order the same day. We recommend that a general email inbox be set up to funnel requests or set up a contact group for them in our email. The latter may necessitate keeping the email distribution list current with office staff changes.

- Sarasota
  - The clerk of court office has switched to faxed requests after several emails were misplaced and only the cover sheets were printed out. I had to resend several requests by fax that were already emailed to them.

- Seminole
  - The clerk of court intake division asks that requested be faxed but we have encountered an issue with these faxes being misplaced, taken by other workers, or sitting in inboxes for far too long. Worked with Sheila McCloud and the issue got better.

8. Draft Advisory – Compile Requests Received from DOC

The Amendment 4 Quick Response Team (QRT) has received copies of several requests made to individual Clerks by local Department of Corrections (DOC) offices related to restoration of voting rights. Those requests typically seek information on financial obligations for particular individuals under DOC custody or supervision. Sometimes they involve financial obligation data that does not appear to match between DOC records and the Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS).

The Amendment 4 QRT has found that once the DOC request is investigated, a clear correct answer is always available. A common theme appears to be that the two different data systems are asked slightly different questions, thus providing different answers.

The Amendment 4 QRT has established an email account, DOCRequests@FLClerks.com, to accumulate such requests from DOC. The Amendment 4 QRT ask that each Clerk's office forward individual requests received from local DOC offices, along with the Clerk's response, to DOCRequests@FLClerks.com. This will give the Amendment 4 QRT the opportunity to look for additional patterns and trends. As the patterns or trends arise, the Amendment 4 QRT will address issues with DOC or develop Best Practices for Clerks through the FCCC Best Practices Committee.

If additional clarification is needed or if there are questions, please contact Kimberly Renspie, FCCC Legislative Manager (krenspie@gmail.com).

11.A. Citrus County – County Detention Facility

This is a summary of the steps taken in Citrus County related to Amendment 4 to ensure cooperation and partnership with local stakeholders as processes continue to develop and be implemented across the state.

Amendment 4- Restoration of Voters Rights

As with any new legislation, we analyze the impact to our office for further communication to stakeholders as well as internal set up or changes to the Clerk's current processes. FCCC sent an advisory (No. 19-052) on July 1st regarding SB7066 being signed by the Governor. This advisory defined the requirements for DOC pursuant to F.S. 940.061.

The bill directs both DOC and the administrator of the county detention facility to provide information to the prisoner upon release. We took the following steps to ensure compliance since our county facility is run by a private company.

1) At our semi-annual stakeholder meeting we provided a list of bills of interest that may impact our office as well as others. The jail is represented at this meeting.
2) We contacted County Administration, since their office oversees the contract with the jail, to be sure they were aware of the new law, specifically section 32 of F.S. 951.29 and to communicate information to Warden for implementation.
3) We pulled statistics from our CMS for the prior year to determine the number of felony cases that were sentenced to county jail for potential impact.
4) Upon further discussion with County Administration, we coordinated a meeting with jail administration, local probation and the clerk's office to discuss requirements.
5) We have been working with Jail records staff to file documents thru the e-portal and offered information on the process taken by DOC to file these documents to the clerk's thru the portal. We provided a sample of the DOC document as well as our clerk contact information sheet to assist them in compiling their release document.
6) We also requested to place contact information for future payments to the clerk in these documents.

Louisiana voting rights change not causing surge in signups
Associated Press Published 3:21 p.m. CT Sept. 1, 2019 | Updated 3:21 p.m. CT Sept. 1, 2019

BATON ROUGE — A Louisiana law change earlier this year restored voting rights to thousands of convicted felons, but at most, only a few hundred have registered to vote so far.

Data from the secretary of state's office shows modest upticks in the number of felons who have registered to vote since the law loosened March 1.

Louisiana legislators agreed to allow people on probation or parole for a felony to register to vote if they haven't been incarcerated for at least five years, a change estimated to make 36,000 felons eligible for voter registration.

But since the law took effect, 581 felons have had their voting rights restored. The secretary of state's office has said it cannot determine which were able to register specifically because of the law change.

The data shows 82 felons had their voting rights reinstated in February before the voting rights restoration took effect. By comparison, the number was 77 in March and 88 in April. The secretary of state numbers show 179 felons had their voting rights reinstated in May, followed by 99 in June and 138 in July.

Some supporters of the voting rights restoration have said officials are doing too little to reach out to the potential voters and the multistep registration process is too complicated.

What's the latest on felons' voting rights?

Apalachicola Times

By Marcia Johnson Special to the Times

A. After passage of Amendment 4, our legislature created Florida Statute 98.0751 to specifically address the amendment's implementation for felons having their voting rights restored. This law says a person must have their voting rights restored upon the completion of all terms of his or her sentence. The wording, "completion of all terms of sentence" was defined as any portion of a sentence contained in the "four corners of the sentencing document." This would include full payment of court-ordered restitution, and fines and fees that are part of the sentence, regardless of whether these have been converted to a civil lien. The legislature has passed laws that require judges to impose mandatory fines, fees, and service charges. When judges waive any of these monies, clerks of court are required to report the same to the Legislature.

Under F.S. 98.0751, completion of all terms of sentence within the four corners of the sentencing document also includes release from any term of imprisonment, termination from any term of probation or community control, and termination from any supervision.

The new law requires the department of state to make an initial determination of a voter registrant's eligibility and to forward the information to the local supervisor of elections. The department of state will compare information from the clerks of court, the board of executive clemency, the Florida Department of Corrections, and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement or U.S. Attorney's office. The local supervisor of elections shall verify and make a final determination of eligibility. This law also requires the department of corrections and county jail facility administrators to notify inmates, prisoners, and offenders of all outstanding terms of sentence at the time of release or termination of a term of supervision. The department of corrections is working with the clerks of court, and each will provide the information within the office's possession.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is a complicated matter, and many different agencies are involved in determining whether all terms of a sentence have been completed. Clerks of court can look at cases and see if there are outstanding fines and fees, but determining whether restitution is owed is another issue because clerks of court aren't always responsible for collecting restitution payments. It's not unusual for restitution payments to be a condition of probation. Clerks of court can look in cases to see if a termination of probation has been filed, but clerks of court do not have records to show when inmates have completed their prison or jail sentences, and clerks of court don't have records of inmates released on supervision and whether or not those conditions have been completed. There are questions about how the process will work. Information regarding various parts of a criminal sentence can be complex, as information about fines, incarceration, restitution payments, and probation and supervision, are housed with different agencies and in different databases. Clerks of court have access to some data, but even that data won't tell the whole story for each individual.

In accordance with CS/SB 7066, Gov. Ron DeSantis announced the appointment of members to the state's Voting Rights Task Force. The task force was a requirement within the language of the new law for the purpose of conducting a comprehensive review of the department of state's process of verifying registered voters who have been convicted of a felony but may be eligible for voting rights restoration. The task force, which includes two clerks of court, must submit a report to the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House of Representatives by Nov. 1.

As an elected clerk of court, I will follow the law. From my experience working in the clerk's office for over 40 years, I know that fines, fees, service charges, and restitution are ordered in court and are a part of the sentence. Clerks of court have court budgets approved based in part on a reliance of revenues generated from fines and fees, and we are responsible for collecting them. Clerks of court, by law, shall accept partial payments, and I do so willingly and work with our defendants to decide payments that correspond to the person's ability to pay. If a felon wants rights to vote restored and still owes fines and fees, a partial payment agreement can be set up and once paid in full, voting registration could be sought.

At this point, it is my understanding completion of a sentence is defined by all conditions imposed by the sentencing judge being met, which includes payment of all monies, any incarceration in jail or prison, and successful termination of probation and supervision, which may include terms of restitution.

Each case may be different, and clerks of court likely do not have all the information because of the various agencies involved. Clerks of court are closely monitoring this issue and working with our partners to ensure the appropriate response to the directions from the task force.

4. Working Draft – Advisory on Providing Financial Information

Restoration of Voting Rights
Providing Individuals with Information on Financial Obligations

SUMMARY:

This Advisory provides a model that Clerks may wish to use when responding to requests from individuals who are seeking to have their voting rights restored and who need current information on their financial obligations ordered by the sentencing court.

The attached form provides a simple format for providing information to individuals about the financial obligations ordered in their most-recent, and any prior, felonies.

This form can be used by a Clerk to list all the financial obligations from all prior felonies anywhere in the State of Florida based on available CCIS data. It is anticipated that the most complete statewide data would include:

- OTHER COUNTS. The requesting individual may have been sentenced on several counts stemming from one episode. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those counts.
- PRIOR FELONIES. The requesting individual may have had prior felonies. Financial obligations may have been ordered for each of those prior felonies.
- OTHER COUNTIES. The requesting individual may have been sentenced for prior felonies in other counties and have financial obligations stemming from those other felony sentences. The CCIS assessments and payments can be furnished for cases filed in other counties, however, the requesting individual will need to contact that clerk's office to obtain voting rights restoration financial information.
- COURT MODIFICATIONS. The sentencing Court(s) may have entered subsequent orders, after initial sentencing, which modified the individual's financial obligations (e.g., converting certain obligations to community service).

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS:

The law (set out below) appears to require the completion of all terms of sentence from all prior felonies. Clerks may want to remind requesting individuals to consider:

- DIRECT PAYMENTS. The requesting individual may have met certain financial obligations (e.g., direct payment of restitution to a victim) without the Clerk having any record of that action.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- OTHER STATES. If the requesting individual has felony convictions by a Court in another state or by a federal Court that prevent the requesting individual from registering, the Clerk will not have any records related to those cases.
- DISQUALIFYING FELONIES. The requesting individual will not qualify for restoration of voting rights, regardless of meeting financial obligations, if a prior felony sentence was for murder or a felony sexual offense, as defined in section 98.0751(2)(b), Florida Statutes.

BACKGROUND:

Section 98.0751, Florida Statutes, was created effective July 1, 2019, by CS/SB 7066 – Chapter 2019-162, Laws of Florida. A persons who has been disqualified from voting based on a felony conviction for an offense other than murder or a felony sexual offense, may become qualified by completing all terms of sentence.

Included within "all terms of sentence" is the payment of restitution to victims plus fines and fees ordered by the court. The statutory requirement, with all its qualifications, is set out below.

> 98.0751 Restoration of voting rights; termination of ineligibility subsequent to a felony conviction.—
> (2) For purposes of this section, the term:
>
> (a) "Completion of all terms of sentence" means any portion of a sentence that is contained in the four corners of the sentencing document, including, but not limited to:
>
> 5.a. Full payment of restitution ordered to a victim by the court as a part of the sentence. A victim includes, but is not limited to, a person or persons, the estate or estates thereof, an entity, the state, or the Federal Government.
>
> b. Full payment of fines or fees ordered by the court as a part of the sentence or that are ordered by the court as a condition of any form of supervision, including, but not limited to, probation, community control, or parole.
>
> c. The financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. include only the amount specifically ordered by the court as part of the sentence and do not include any fines, fees, or costs that accrue after the date the obligation is ordered as a part of the sentence.
>
> d. For the limited purpose of addressing a plea for relief pursuant to sub-subparagraph e. and notwithstanding any other statute, rule, or provision of law, a court may not be prohibited from modifying the financial obligations of an original sentence required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. Such modification shall not infringe on a defendant's or a victim's rights provided in United States Constitution or the State Constitution.

e. Financial obligations required under sub-subparagraph a. or sub-subparagraph b. are considered completed in the following manner or in any combination thereof:

(I) Actual payment of the obligation in full.

(II) Upon the payee's approval, either through appearance in open court or through the production of a notarized consent by the payee, the termination by the court of any financial obligation to a payee, including, but not limited to, a victim, or the court.

(III) Completion of all community service hours, if the court, unless otherwise prohibited by law or the State Constitution, converts the financial obligation to community service.

A term required to be completed in accordance with this paragraph shall be deemed completed if the court modifies the original sentencing order to no longer require completion of such term. The requirement to pay any financial obligation specified in this paragraph is not deemed completed upon conversion to a civil lien.

Following is a summary of the relevant portion of the presentation made by the Division director to the DOS Restoration of Voting Rights Work Group at its first meeting on August 19, 2019. This was a brief presentation, so little information was given other than the listing of sources below.

The Department of State is designated as the primary agency to identify ineligible voters based on information received from state agencies or other credible and reliable sources.

Department of State, Division of Elections, receives information from:

Clerks of Court
Individuals convicted of felonies
Individual adjudicated mentally incapacitated
Monthly jury lists – paper process – individuals excused because adjudicated mentally incapacitated, convicted of a felony, no longer live in the county
DOS consults re CCIS data and Clerk CMS
DOS requests specific Clerk records

Florida Department of Law Enforcement
Daily information about Florida felony offenders
Monthly information about Florida registered sex offenders

Department of Corrections
Daily information, through FIA web service, about felony matches
DOS consults re individuals photographs – IRIS image database

From the Department of Health:

Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles
DOS consults re identity demographics – DAVID database
DHSMV Driver License Record Database and Social Security Administration (Florida DL number, Florida ID card, SSN)
DHSMV/Tax Collector's Offices - applications and renewals

Florida Voter Registration System – voter records

Commission on Offender Review
Individual has had civil rights restored

U.S. Attorneys
re other states and federal courts – intermittent (daily, weekly monthly) – manual submissions by fax or mail, all paper

Federal Court database – PACER

Sources above, generally, concerning completion of sentence.

Also, Supervisors of Elections may receive some information directly – typically from the Clerk of Court. Supervisors perform "county-initiated felony matches."

DOS build a file for the individual with the (typically 4-20) pieces of relevant information and makes available to Supervisors by posting on a website. DOS monitors the website to ensure Supervisors are downloading the files. Supervisors then follow the due process requirements of s. 98.075(7), F.S.

Such files typically contain:

- DOS Case File Review Certificate
- Screenshot Bureau of Voter Registration Services (BVRS) Workflow Application Interface with voter and felon information
- Screenshot Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles' Driver License database
- Screenshot Comprehensive Case Management System (CCIS) (Including Financial Summary if available and required)
- Court Documents (at a minimum, the judgment and sentence, if separate document)
- Screenshot Florida Department of Corrections online and internal web service informational page
- Screenshot Clemency (Florida Commission on Offender Review and BVRS)

7.B. Division of Elections response to our request for specifics about data from Clerks

Division of Elections

The following is a compilation of notable highlights and challenges the Division has encountered over the years in obtaining court records in support of a voter record/felony record match that indicates a registered voter may be ineligible to be registered due to an adjudication of felony conviction without the right to vote restored.

Clerk of Court Records - Highlights:

Counties

- Overall, the counties have been very helpful. For the volume of request, they are for the most part responsive and handle them very efficiently. Most are also very good at helping us figure out the 'nonsense' case numbers we frequently receive from FDLE (e.g., Orange, Duval, and Monroe).
- We are not without error so all of the counties deserve praise for resending us court documents that have been requested in the past but misplaced by our office.
- While Duval often does not provide the judgment, they alternatively type up a summary sheet of the judgment, particularly for older cases. This mitigates misplaced or unattended requests.
- St. Lucie is an example of a county that appears to use CCIS as fully intended - with the full case file scanned, as this is an already established, password-protected way for other government agencies to view court documents. They are very quick with communication and returns on requests that are not yet scanned into CCIS. If we have a problem downloading the entire file, they break it up into manageable parts without hesitation.
- Communications with clerk of court is very important. Gadsden deserves praise for working with us to tell us that it is easier for them to receive all requests at the end of the day to process the following day. This is workable for us due to the small size of the county and ensures organization and timeliness at the clerk's office.
- Okaloosa county is very good about providing certified copies of court minutes when an actual judgment is not available.
- People and counties that stand out to us as being excellent contacts over the years

Clerk of Court Records - Challenges

Counties in General

- Several counties have returned "file not found" or "N/A" as responses to our requests. This is different from a return of "met retention" or "destroyed" that we get with some older MM cases. We heard anecdotally from one county (Brevard) that misplaced older cases can occur if the file has been pulled several times and not placed in proper order. For example, they may scan the file barcode then scan the barcode for its location in the warehouse and sometimes the person putting it back doesn't do this correctly for the computer to have an accurate record of the current location. This may represent an issue with following procedures for archiving.
- Several counties, including Sarasota and Duval, will not provide a statement when documents, such as arrest reports, are not available. This makes it difficult to prove insufficient documentation, especially with older cases.
- Many counties do not send all documents requested and include no response addressing the missing items. We have to reach out again for clarification as to whether they exist at all or did someone just forget to include them.
- The requesting process on the public sites for most counties since the Supreme Court order seem like overkill for another government agency's requests. They made documents more widely accessible to the public, but we seem to have less direct access than before. Even if they are available online, we have to wait for redaction or they are difficult to locate because the images are not labeled in a way that makes them easily identifiable; they have image numbers rather than document titles, like arrest report or judgment. Many of these counties (Lee, Leon, Okaloosa, Orange, etc.) have had to create alternate ways to get the information we need to us because our requests do not fit neatly into the access matrix.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

As recently as March, Escambia has stated that they cannot grant us access to the information we need because of the matrix.

County-specific

- Bay and Jefferson
  - Counties have had issues with providing archived documents due to storm damage.
- Broward County
  - Longest wait for requested documents historically occurs with Broward County Clerk of Court Archives. Previously, all requests went to one staff but have since expanded we believe to include two other trainees. Requests for archived documents typically take 3-4 days unless sent by mail.
- Miami-Dade
  - Frequently returns the statement that the case documents are held with the Miami-Dade Police Department, not the Clerk of Court. We do not have an established relationship nor are comfortable reaching out to the police department.
  - Protracted responses which we attribute to large county, many document requests, and staffing shortage (which they have stated). The office tries to expedite responses by grouping requests in batch responses with case sheets in lieu of actual judgments. We have not seen marked difference in turnaround time.
  - We observe many more errors with felony division records (e.g., wrong case, wrong defendant, missing a requested page, etc.) than with other counties, but then again they also process a larger number of requests. Assigned staff rotates frequently which makes it difficult to circle back to the same person about the errors. Communications however have improved. Miami-Dade misdemeanor section has always been great with communication and turnaround time.
- Palm Beach
  - The clerk of court office can only provide us with docket printouts when we request older misdemeanor cases since they destroy the documents after a set retention period. However, there is no written mention of this included with the printout for us to include in the case file as proof.
  - The office responds back in large batches rather than once the request is completed. While we understand the efficiencies for the clerk, it can delay being able to move forward with a potentially invalid registered voter file.
- Pasco
  - The clerk of court office has roughly 10 different contacts that our requests need to be sent to, though they usually complete the order the same day. We recommend that a general email inbox be set up to funnel requests or set up a contact group for them in our email. The latter may necessitate keeping the email distribution list current with office staff changes.

- Sarasota
  - The clerk of court office has switched to faxed requests after several emails were misplaced and only the cover sheets were printed out. I had to resend several requests by fax that were already emailed to them.

- Seminole
  - The clerk of court intake division asks that requested be faxed but we have encountered an issue with these faxes being misplaced, taken by other workers, or sitting in inboxes for far too long. Worked with Sheila McCloud and the issue got better.

8. Draft Advisory – Compile Requests Received from DOC

The Amendment 4 Quick Response Team (QRT) has received copies of several requests made to individual Clerks by local Department of Corrections (DOC) offices related to restoration of voting rights. Those requests typically seek information on financial obligations for particular individuals under DOC custody or supervision. Sometimes they involve financial obligation data that does not appear to match between DOC records and the Comprehensive Case Information System (CCIS).

The Amendment 4 QRT has found that once the DOC request is investigated, a clear correct answer is always available. A common theme appears to be that the two different data systems are asked slightly different questions, thus providing different answers.

The Amendment 4 QRT has established an email account, DOCRequests@FLClerks.com, to accumulate such requests from DOC. The Amendment 4 QRT ask that each Clerk's office forward individual requests received from local DOC offices, along with the Clerk's response, to DOCRequests@FLClerks.com. This will give the Amendment 4 QRT the opportunity to look for additional patterns and trends. As the patterns or trends arise, the Amendment 4 QRT will address issues with DOC or develop Best Practices for Clerks through the FCCC Best Practices Committee.

If additional clarification is needed or if there are questions, please contact Kimberly Renspie, FCCC Legislative Manager (krenspie@gmail.com).

11.A. Citrus County – County Detention Facility

This is a summary of the steps taken in Citrus County related to Amendment 4 to ensure cooperation and partnership with local stakeholders as processes continue to develop and be implemented across the state.

Amendment 4- Restoration of Voters Rights

As with any new legislation, we analyze the impact to our office for further communication to stakeholders as well as internal set up or changes to the Clerk's current processes. FCCC sent an advisory (No. 19-052) on July 1st regarding SB7066 being signed by the Governor. This advisory defined the requirements for DOC pursuant to F.S. 940.061.

The bill directs both DOC and the administrator of the county detention facility to provide information to the prisoner upon release. We took the following steps to ensure compliance since our county facility is run by a private company.

1) At our semi-annual stakeholder meeting we provided a list of bills of interest that may impact our office as well as others. The jail is represented at this meeting.
2) We contacted County Administration, since their office oversees the contract with the jail, to be sure they were aware of the new law, specifically section 32 of F.S. 951.29 and to communicate information to Warden for implementation.
3) We pulled statistics from our CMS for the prior year to determine the number of felony cases that were sentenced to county jail for potential impact.
4) Upon further discussion with County Administration, we coordinated a meeting with jail administration, local probation and the clerk's office to discuss requirements.
5) We have been working with Jail records staff to file documents thru the e-portal and offered information on the process taken by DOC to file these documents to the clerk's thru the portal. We provided a sample of the DOC document as well as our clerk contact information sheet to assist them in compiling their release document.
6) We also requested to place contact information for future payments to the clerk in these documents.

Louisiana voting rights change not causing surge in signups
Associated Press Published 3:21 p.m. CT Sept. 1, 2019 | Updated 3:21 p.m. CT Sept. 1, 2019

BATON ROUGE — A Louisiana law change earlier this year restored voting rights to thousands of convicted felons, but at most, only a few hundred have registered to vote so far.

Data from the secretary of state's office shows modest upticks in the number of felons who have registered to vote since the law loosened March 1.

Louisiana legislators agreed to allow people on probation or parole for a felony to register to vote if they haven't been incarcerated for at least five years, a change estimated to make 36,000 felons eligible for voter registration.

But since the law took effect, 581 felons have had their voting rights restored. The secretary of state's office has said it cannot determine which were able to register specifically because of the law change.

The data shows 82 felons had their voting rights reinstated in February before the voting rights restoration took effect. By comparison, the number was 77 in March and 88 in April. The secretary of state numbers show 179 felons had their voting rights reinstated in May, followed by 99 in June and 138 in July.

Some supporters of the voting rights restoration have said officials are doing too little to reach out to the potential voters and the multistep registration process is too complicated.

What's the latest on felons' voting rights?

Apalachicola Times

By Marcia Johnson Special to the Times

Posted September 5, 2019, at 1:07 PM Updated at 1:07 PM

A. After passage of Amendment 4, our legislature created Florida Statute 98.0751 to specifically address the amendment's implementation for felons having their voting rights restored. This law says a person must have their voting rights restored upon the completion of all terms of his or her sentence. The wording, "completion of all terms of sentence" was defined as any portion of a sentence contained in the "four corners of the sentencing document." This would include full payment of court-ordered restitution, and fines and fees that are part of the sentence, regardless of whether these have been converted to a civil lien. The legislature has passed laws that require judges to impose mandatory fines, fees, and service charges. When judges waive any of these monies, clerks of court are required to report the same to the Legislature.

Under F.S. 98.0751, completion of all terms of sentence within the four corners of the sentencing document also includes release from any term of imprisonment, termination from any term of probation or community control, and termination from any supervision.

The new law requires the department of state to make an initial determination of a voter registrant's eligibility and to forward the information to the local supervisor of elections. The department of state will compare information from the clerks of court, the board of executive clemency, the Florida Department of Corrections, and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement or U.S. Attorney's office. The local supervisor of elections shall verify and make a final determination of eligibility. This law also requires the department of corrections and county jail facility administrators to notify inmates, prisoners, and offenders of all outstanding terms of sentence at the time of release or termination of a term of supervision. The department of corrections is working with the clerks of court, and each will provide the information within the office's possession.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This is a complicated matter, and many different agencies are involved in determining whether all terms of a sentence have been completed. Clerks of court can look at cases and see if there are outstanding fines and fees, but determining whether restitution is owed is another issue because clerks of court aren't always responsible for collecting restitution payments. It's not unusual for restitution payments to be a condition of probation. Clerks of court can look in cases to see if a termination of probation has been filed, but clerks of court do not have records to show when inmates have completed their prison or jail sentences, and clerks of court don't have records of inmates released on supervision and whether or not those conditions have been completed. There are questions about how the process will work. Information regarding various parts of a criminal sentence can be complex, as information about fines, incarceration, restitution payments, and probation and supervision, are housed with different agencies and in different databases. Clerks of court have access to some data, but even that data won't tell the whole story for each individual.

In accordance with CS/SB 7066, Gov. Ron DeSantis announced the appointment of members to the state's Voting Rights Task Force. The task force was a requirement within the language of the new law for the purpose of conducting a comprehensive review of the department of state's process of verifying registered voters who have been convicted of a felony but may be eligible for voting rights restoration. The task force, which includes two clerks of court, must submit a report to the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House of Representatives by Nov. 1.

As an elected clerk of court, I will follow the law. From my experience working in the clerk's office for over 40 years, I know that fines, fees, service charges, and restitution are ordered in court and are a part of the sentence. Clerks of court have court budgets approved based in part on a reliance of revenues generated from fines and fees, and we are responsible for collecting them. Clerks of court, by law, shall accept partial payments, and I do so willingly and work with our defendants to decide payments that correspond to the person's ability to pay. If a felon wants rights to vote restored and still owes fines and fees, a partial payment agreement can be set up and once paid in full, voting registration could be sought.

At this point, it is my understanding completion of a sentence is defined by all conditions imposed by the sentencing judge being met, which includes payment of all monies, any incarceration in jail or prison, and successful termination of probation and supervision, which may include terms of restitution.

Each case may be different, and clerks of court likely do not have all the information because of the various agencies involved. Clerks of court are closely monitoring this issue and working with our partners to ensure the appropriate response to the directions from the task force.
