Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

While the events that took place at the Capitol on January 6, 2021, are abhorrent and a direct attack against democracy, it is also evident due to the circumstances of 2020 that law enforcement is not always capable of discerning civil disobedience. A constitutionally protected act, from rioting and other illegal activity. This bill language was drafted before the Capitol siege and targeted civil rights protesters, many of whom were eventually proven innocent.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
[Susana Chin]

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
[YOUR NAME]

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Ashley Norman

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder and looting which do not infringe on the due process protections of protesters.

I was very concerned with the vote to push this bill through the Criminal Justice Subcommittee on 01/27/21, despite the overwhelming majority of commenters expressing opposition. It is as though our representatives are not representing the voice of their constituents, rather, attempting to fulfill their personal political agendas instead.

This bill will not stop assemblies, but it will fill more prisons; crowded prisons already at the mercy of covid-19, killing inmates and officers. Creating more felons is not the way to a better Florida.

In Florida, we had historic marches and businesses were not burned. In fact, many business owners supported the actions either financially, through goods and services, or by joining themselves, proud to make history. Protests brought communities across Florida together all summer, however, a bill like this will create an extra layer of fear and division.

It was shocking to see comments dismissed regarding the unclear 'mob intimidation' language, as well as the possibility that these restrictions would be used mainly to target communities of color protesting against police killings.

The response was that this is not the 'intent' of the bill, and that there are always some that can abuse any law; "bad apples." This is concerning to me as a citizen because our lawmakers should care if even one American's freedom is jeopardized. A law that can be manipulated to target innocent people is an unjust law, and that concern should not be brushed off. Giving bad apples more tools to exercise bad judgement is unnecessary.

The fact is, this bill language was drafted prior to the Capitol siege and targeted towards civil rights protesters, many of whom were proven innocent. We cannot ignore the hundreds of citizens, including the Tallahassee 19 and the over 70 protesters in Jacksonville, who were falsely targeted and arrested last summer. The police were wrong in their assessment, so it is very valid for people to not want more reasons for law enforcement to be 'on alert'.

As a concerned Floridian, I am asking you to not allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Angelina Kholodny

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Bailey Knighton

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder and looting which do not infringe on the due process protections of protesters.

I was very concerned with the vote to push this bill through the Criminal Justice Subcommittee on 01/27/21, despite the overwhelming majority of commenters expressing opposition. It is as though our representatives are not representing the voice of their constituents, rather, attempting to fulfill their personal political agendas instead.

This bill will not stop assemblies, but it will fill more prisons; crowded prisons already at the mercy of covid-19, killing inmates and officers. Creating more felons is not the way to a better Florida.

In Florida, we had historic marches and businesses were not burned. In fact, many business owners supported the actions either financially, through goods and services, or by joining themselves, proud to make history. Protests brought communities across Florida together all summer, however, a bill like this will create an extra layer of fear and division.

It was shocking to see comments dismissed regarding the unclear 'mob intimidation' language, as well as the possibility that these restrictions would be used mainly to target communities of color protesting against police killings.

The response was that this is not the 'intent' of the bill, and that there are always some that can abuse any law; "bad apples." This is concerning to me as a citizen because our lawmakers should care if even one American's freedom is jeopardized. A law that can be manipulated to target innocent people is an unjust law, and that concern should not be brushed off. Giving bad apples more tools to exercise bad judgement is unnecessary.

The fact is, this bill language was drafted prior to the Capitol siege and targeted towards civil rights protesters, many of whom were proven innocent. We cannot ignore the hundreds of citizens, including the Tallahassee 19 and the over 70 protesters in Jacksonville, who were falsely targeted and arrested last summer. The police were wrong in their assessment, so it is very valid for people to not want more reasons for law enforcement to be 'on alert'.

As a concerned Floridian, I am asking you to not allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Janese Marbury

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Leah Wolfersberger

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder and looting which do not infringe on the due process protections of protesters.

I was very concerned with the vote to push this bill through the Criminal Justice Subcommittee on 01/27/21, despite the overwhelming majority of commenters expressing opposition. It is as though our representatives are not representing the voice of their constituents, rather, attempting to fulfill their personal political agendas instead.

This bill will not stop assemblies, but it will fill more prisons; crowded prisons already at the mercy of covid-19, killing inmates and officers. Creating more felons is not the way to a better Florida.

In Florida, we had historic marches and businesses were not burned. In fact, many business owners supported the actions either financially, through goods and services, or by joining themselves, proud to make history. Protests brought communities across Florida together all summer, however, a bill like this will create an extra layer of fear and division.

It was shocking to see comments dismissed regarding the unclear 'mob intimidation' language, as well as the possibility that these restrictions would be used mainly to target communities of color protesting against police killings.

The response was that this is not the 'intent' of the bill, and that there are always some that can abuse any law; "bad apples." This is concerning to me as a citizen because our lawmakers should care if even one American's freedom is jeopardized. A law that can be manipulated to target innocent people is an unjust law, and that concern should not be brushed off. Giving bad apples more tools to exercise bad judgement is unnecessary.

The fact is, this bill language was drafted prior to the Capitol siege and targeted towards civil rights protesters, many of whom were proven innocent. We cannot ignore the hundreds of citizens, including the Tallahassee 19 and the over 70 protesters in Jacksonville, who were falsely targeted and arrested last summer. The police were wrong in their assessment, so it is very valid for people to not want more reasons for law enforcement to be 'on alert'.

As a concerned Floridian, I am asking you to not allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Mikela Cooper

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder and looting which do not infringe on the due process protections of protesters.

I was very concerned with the vote to push this bill through the Criminal Justice Subcommittee on 01/27/21, despite the overwhelming majority of commenters expressing opposition. It is as though our representatives are not representing the voice of their constituents, rather, attempting to fulfill their personal political agendas instead.

This bill will not stop assemblies, but it will fill more prisons; crowded prisons already at the mercy of covid-19, killing inmates and officers. Creating more felons is not the way to a better Florida.

In Florida, we had historic marches and businesses were not burned. In fact, many business owners supported the actions either financially, through goods and services, or by joining themselves, proud to make history. Protests brought communities across Florida together all summer, however, a bill like this will create an extra layer of fear and division.

It was shocking to see comments dismissed regarding the unclear 'mob intimidation' language, as well as the possibility that these restrictions would be used mainly to target communities of color protesting against police killings.

The response was that this is not the 'intent' of the bill, and that there are always some that can abuse any law; "bad apples." This is concerning to me as a citizen because our lawmakers should care if even one American's freedom is jeopardized. A law that can be manipulated to target innocent people is an unjust law, and that concern should not be brushed off. Giving bad apples more tools to exercise bad judgement is unnecessary.

The fact is, this bill language was drafted prior to the Capitol siege and targeted towards civil rights protesters, many of whom were proven innocent. We cannot ignore the hundreds of citizens, including the Tallahassee 19 and the over 70 protesters in Jacksonville, who were falsely targeted and arrested last summer. The police were wrong in their assessment, so it is very valid for people to not want more reasons for law enforcement to be 'on alert'.

As a concerned Floridian, I am asking you to not allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Courtney McClanahan

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.

Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,

Diana Farnsworth

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Dominique Lewis

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
[YOUR NAME]

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
[YOUR NAME]

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place having to do with violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Although the events that took place at the Capitol on January 6, 2021, are horrific and a direct attack on democracy, it is also evident due to the circumstances of 2020 that law enforcement is not always capable of discerning civil disobedience. A constitutionally protected act, from rioting and other illegal activity. This bill language was drafted before the Capitol siege and targeted civil rights protesters, many of whom were eventually proven innocent.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Dalton Reynolds

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Jarad Fennell

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder and looting which do not infringe on the due process protections of protesters.

I was very concerned with the vote to push this bill through the Criminal Justice Subcommittee on 01/27/21, despite the overwhelming majority of commenters expressing opposition. It is as though our representatives are not representing the voice of their constituents, rather, attempting to fulfill their personal political agendas instead.

This bill will not stop assemblies, but it will fill more prisons; crowded prisons already at the mercy of covid-19, killing inmates and officers. Creating more felons is not the way to a better Florida.

In Florida, we had historic marches and businesses were not burned. In fact, many business owners supported the actions either financially, through goods and services, or by joining themselves, proud to make history. Protests brought communities across Florida together all summer, however, a bill like this will create an extra layer of fear and division.

It was shocking to see comments dismissed regarding the unclear ‘mob intimidation’ language, as well as the possibility that these restrictions would be used mainly to target communities of color protesting against police killings.

The response was that this is not the ‘intent’ of the bill, and that there are always some that can abuse any law; “bad apples.” This is concerning to me as a citizen because our lawmakers should care if even one American’s freedom is jeopardized. A law that can be manipulated to target innocent people is an unjust law, and that concern should not be brushed off. Giving bad apples more tools to exercise bad judgement is unnecessary.

The fact is, this bill language was drafted prior to the Capitol siege and targeted towards civil rights protesters, many of whom were proven innocent. We cannot ignore the hundreds of citizens, including the Tallahassee 19 and the over 70 protesters in Jacksonville, who were falsely targeted and arrested last summer. The police were wrong in their assessment, so it is very valid for people to not want more reasons for law enforcement to be ‘on alert’.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

As a concerned Floridian, I am asking you to not allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision which could jeopardize the freedom of honest Americans. Please VOTE NO on HB1/SB484.

Thank you

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Pan Lovejoy

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder and looting which do not infringe on the due process protections of protesters.

I was very concerned with the vote to push this bill through the Criminal Justice Subcommittee on 01/27/21, despite the overwhelming majority of commenters expressing opposition. It is as though our representatives are not representing the voice of their constituents, rather, attempting to fulfill their personal political agendas instead.

This bill will not stop assemblies, but it will fill more prisons; crowded prisons already at the mercy of covid-19, killing inmates and officers. Creating more felons is not the way to a better Florida.

In Florida, we had historic marches and businesses were not burned. In fact, many business owners supported the actions either financially, through goods and services, or by joining themselves, proud to make history. Protests brought communities across Florida together all summer, however, a bill like this will create an extra layer of fear and division.

It was shocking to see comments dismissed regarding the unclear 'mob intimidation' language, as well as the possibility that these restrictions would be used mainly to target communities of color protesting against police killings.

The response was that this is not the 'intent' of the bill, and that there are always some that can abuse any law; "bad apples." This is concerning to me as a citizen because our lawmakers should care if even one American's freedom is jeopardized. A law that can be manipulated to target innocent people is an unjust law, and that concern should not be brushed off. Giving bad apples more tools to exercise bad judgement is unnecessary.

The fact is, this bill language was drafted prior to the Capitol siege and targeted towards civil rights protesters, many of whom were proven innocent. We cannot ignore the hundreds of citizens, including the Tallahassee 19 and the over 70 protesters in Jacksonville, who were falsely targeted and arrested last summer. The police were wrong in their assessment, so it is very valid for people to not want more reasons for law enforcement to be 'on alert'.

As a concerned Floridian, I am asking you to not allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Leila M

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms. Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Dear Elected Representatives,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder and looting which do not infringe on the due process protections of protesters.

I was very concerned with the vote to push this bill through the Criminal Justice Subcommittee on 01/27/21, despite the overwhelming majority of commenters expressing opposition. It is as though our representatives are not representing the voice of their constituents, rather, attempting to fulfill their personal political agendas instead.

This bill will not stop assemblies, but it will fill more prisons; crowded prisons already at the mercy of covid-19, killing inmates and officers. Creating more felons is not the way to a better Florida.

In Florida, we had historic marches and businesses were not burned. In fact, many business owners supported the actions either financially, through goods and services, or by joining themselves, proud to make history. Protests brought communities across Florida together all summer, however, a bill like this will create an extra layer of fear and division.

It was shocking to see comments dismissed regarding the unclear 'mob intimidation' language, as well as the possibility that these restrictions would be used mainly to target communities of color protesting against police killings.

The response was that this is not the 'intent' of the bill, and that there are always some that can abuse any law; "bad apples." This is concerning to me as a citizen because our lawmakers should care if even one American's freedom is jeopardized. A law that can be manipulated to target innocent people is an unjust law, and that concern should not be brushed off. Giving bad apples more tools to exercise bad judgement is unnecessary.

The fact is, this bill language was drafted prior to the Capitol siege and targeted towards civil rights protesters, many of whom were proven innocent. We cannot ignore the hundreds of citizens, including the Tallahassee 19 and the over 70 protesters in Jacksonville, who were falsely targeted and arrested last summer. The police were wrong in their assessment, so it is very valid for people to not want more reasons for law enforcement to be 'on alert'.

As a concerned Floridian, I am asking you to not allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
~Mary Edwards

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,

Sara Mahmoud

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Heather Duren

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you to PROTECT OUR RIGHT TO PROTEST and not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Katina L Willey

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
[YOUR NAME]

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
[YOUR NAME]

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
[YOUR NAME]

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,

James Smith

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

With love,
Yanet Gimenez

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Caidyn Malia Casper

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Claire Hoeschele

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Elise Apelian

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Meagan Tolley

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.

Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
The Duren Family

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative, I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532. While the events that took place at the Capitol on January 6, 2021, are abhorrent and a direct attack against democracy, it is also evident due to the circumstances of 2020 that law enforcement is not always capable of discerning civil disobedience. A constitutionally protected act, from rioting and other illegal activity. This bill language was drafted before the Capitol siege and targeted civil rights protesters, many of whom were eventually proven innocent. Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law. As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms. Please VOTE NO on HB1. Sincerely, Ariana Brown

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
[YOUR NAME]

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Paula

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Gloria Castro

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Inéz Nieves

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Kam'Ron Smith,

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Gina Castro

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Krajewski

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Matthew P. Soto

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder and looting which do not infringe on the due process protections of protesters.

I was very concerned with the vote to push this bill through the Criminal Justice Subcommittee on 01/27/21, despite the overwhelming majority of commenters expressing opposition. It is as though our representatives are not representing the voice of their constituents, rather, attempting to fulfill their personal political agendas instead.

This bill will not stop assemblies, but it will fill more prisons; crowded prisons already at the mercy of covid-19, killing inmates and officers. Creating more felons is not the way to a better Florida.

In Florida, we had historic marches and businesses were not burned. In fact, many business owners supported the actions either financially, through goods and services, or by joining themselves, proud to make history. Protests brought communities across Florida together all summer, however, a bill like this will create an extra layer of fear and division.

It was shocking to see comments dismissed regarding the unclear ‘mob intimidation’ language, as well as the possibility that these restrictions would be used mainly to target communities of color protesting against police killings.

The response was that this is not the ‘intent’ of the bill, and that there are always some that can abuse any law; “bad apples.” This is concerning to me as a citizen because our lawmakers should care if even one American’s freedom is jeopardized. A law that can be manipulated to target innocent people is an unjust law, and that concern should not be brushed off. Giving bad apples more tools to exercise bad judgement is unnecessary.

The fact is, this bill language was drafted prior to the Capitol siege and targeted towards civil rights protesters, many of whom were proven innocent. We cannot ignore the hundreds of citizens, including the Tallahassee 19 and the over 70 protesters in Jacksonville, who were falsely targeted and arrested last summer. The police were wrong in their assessment, so it is very valid for people to not want more reasons for law enforcement to be ‘on alert’.

As a concerned Floridian, I am asking you to not allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision which could jeopardize the freedom of honest Americans. Please VOTE NO on HB1/SB484.

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Jamie Fajardo

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Melissa Taylor

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Toren McKnight

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder and looting which do not infringe on the due process protections of protesters.

I was very concerned with the vote to push this bill through the Criminal Justice Subcommittee on 01/27/21, despite the overwhelming majority of commenters expressing opposition. It is as though our representatives are not representing the voice of their constituents, rather, attempting to fulfill their personal political agendas instead.

This bill will not stop assemblies, but it will fill more prisons; crowded prisons already at the mercy of covid-19, killing inmates and officers. Creating more felons is not the way to a better Florida.

In Florida, we had historic marches and businesses were not burned. In fact, many business owners supported the actions either financially, through goods and services, or by joining themselves, proud to make history. Protests brought communities across Florida together all summer, however, a bill like this will create an extra layer of fear and division.

It was shocking to see comments dismissed regarding the unclear ‘mob intimidation’ language, as well as the possibility that these restrictions would be used mainly to target communities of color protesting against police killings.

The response was that this is not the ‘intent’ of the bill, and that there are always some that can abuse any law; “bad apples.” This is concerning to me as a citizen because our lawmakers should care if even one American’s freedom is jeopardized. A law that can be manipulated to target innocent people is an unjust law, and that concern should not be brushed off. Giving bad apples more tools to exercise bad judgement is unnecessary.

The fact is, this bill language was drafted prior to the Capitol siege and targeted towards civil rights protesters, many of whom were proven innocent. We cannot ignore the hundreds of citizens, including the Tallahassee 19 and the over 70 protesters in Jacksonville, who were falsely targeted and arrested last summer. The police were wrong in their assessment, so it is very valid for people to not want more reasons for law enforcement to be ‘on alert’.

As a concerned Floridian, I am asking you to not allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision which could jeopardize the freedom of honest Americans. Please VOTE NO on HB1/SB484.

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Annelise Lipsey

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Araceli Palacios

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom.We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.

Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,

Leah Kennelly

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a New Mexican resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

While the events that took place at the Capitol on January 6, 2021, are abhorrent and a direct attack against democracy, it is also evident due to the circumstances of 2020 that law enforcement is not always capable of discerning civil disobedience. A constitutionally protected act, from rioting and other illegal activity. This bill language was drafted before the Capitol siege and targeted civil rights protesters, many of whom were eventually proven innocent.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Bryce Pate

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Miranda Johanning

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Brandan Duffett

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Jon-douglas Werstler

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Good Afternoon,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Lynn Peculis

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Lauren Powell

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

The events that took place at the Capitol on January 6, 2021, are abhorrent and a direct attack against democracy, it is also evident due to the circumstances of 2020 that law enforcement is not always capable of discerning civil disobedience. A constitutionally protected act, from rioting and other illegal activity. This bill language was drafted before the Capitol siege and targeted civil rights protesters, many of whom were eventually proven innocent.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Nikki York

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a concerned United States citizen contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

While the events that took place at the Capitol on January 6, 2021, are abhorrent and a direct attack against democracy, it is also evident due to the circumstances of 2020 that law enforcement is not always capable of discerning civil disobedience. A constitutionally protected act, from rioting and other illegal activity. This bill language was drafted before the Capitol siege and targeted civil rights protesters, many of whom were eventually proven innocent.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,

Courtney Byrnes

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Joe Mitchell

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Janique Gittens

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Yakara Thompson

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL %2%7112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Jessie B.

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Emily Congdon

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Leena Flood

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Katie McFadden

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Stephanie Wong

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Jhana Butler

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a resident of Jacksonville, Florida contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

While the events that took place at the Capitol on January 6, 2021, are abhorrent and a direct attack against democracy, it is also evident due to the circumstances of 2020 that law enforcement is not always capable of discerning civil disobedience. A constitutionally protected act, from rioting and other illegal activity. This bill language was drafted before the Capitol siege and targeted civil rights protesters, many of whom were eventually proven innocent.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Amber Lajara

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Jacksonville, Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

While the events that took place at the Capitol on January 6, 2021, are abhorrent and a direct attack against democracy, it is also evident due to the circumstances of 2020 that law enforcement is not always capable of discerning civil disobedience. A constitutionally protected act, from rioting and other illegal activity. This bill language was drafted before the Capitol siege and targeted civil rights protesters, many of whom were eventually proven innocent.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Jared Apa

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Mariana

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
V Church

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Mary Parker

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Virginia resident (with family currently living in Florida) contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

While the events that took place at the Capitol on January 6, 2021, are abhorrent and a direct attack against democracy, it is also evident due to the circumstances of 2020 that law enforcement is not always capable of discerning civil disobedience. A constitutionally protected act, from rioting and other illegal activity. This bill language was drafted before the Capitol siege and targeted civil rights protesters, many of whom were eventually proven innocent.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Janet Gooch

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Mike Kelly

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Lauren

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Merrell Goza

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Kent Marrero

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Cheryl Krug

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Yakara Thompson

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder and looting which do not infringe on the due process protections of protesters.

I was very concerned with the vote to push this bill through the Criminal Justice Subcommittee on 01/27/21, despite the overwhelming majority of commenters expressing opposition. It is as though our representatives are not representing the voice of their constituents, rather, attempting to fulfill their personal political agendas instead.

This bill will not stop assemblies, but it will fill more prisons; crowded prisons already at the mercy of covid-19, killing inmates and officers. Creating more felons is not the way to a better Florida.

In Florida, we had historic marches and businesses were not burned. In fact, many business owners supported the actions either financially, through goods and services, or by joining themselves, proud to make history. Protests brought communities across Florida together all summer, however, a bill like this will create an extra layer of fear and division.

It was shocking to see comments dismissed regarding the unclear ‘mob intimidation’ language, as well as the possibility that these restrictions would be used mainly to target communities of color protesting against police killings.

The response was that this is not the ‘intent’ of the bill, and that there are always some that can abuse any law; “bad apples.” This is concerning to me as a citizen because our lawmakers should care if even one American’s freedom is jeopardized. A law that can be manipulated to target innocent people is an unjust law, and that concern should not be brushed off. Giving bad apples more tools to exercise bad judgement is unnecessary.

The fact is, this bill language was drafted prior to the Capitol siege and targeted towards civil rights protesters, many of whom were proven innocent. We cannot ignore the hundreds of citizens, including the Tallahassee 19 and the over 70 protesters in Jacksonville, who were falsely targeted and arrested last summer. The police were wrong in their assessment, so it is very valid for people to not want more reasons for law enforcement to be ‘on alert’.

As a concerned Floridian, I am asking you to not allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision which could jeopardize the freedom of honest Americans. Please VOTE NO on HB1/SB484.

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Brittany Bowers

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder and looting which do not infringe on the due process protections of protesters.

I was very concerned with the vote to push this bill through the Criminal Justice Subcommittee on 01/27/21, despite the overwhelming majority of commenters expressing opposition. It is as though our representatives are not representing the voice of their constituents, rather, attempting to fulfill their personal political agendas instead.

This bill will not stop assemblies, but it will fill more prisons; crowded prisons already at the mercy of covid-19, killing inmates and officers. Creating more felons is not the way to a better Florida.

In Florida, we had historic marches and businesses were not burned. In fact, many business owners supported the actions either financially, through goods and services, or by joining themselves, proud to make history. Protests brought communities across Florida together all summer, however, a bill like this will create an extra layer of fear and division.

It was shocking to see comments dismissed regarding the unclear ‘mob intimidation’ language, as well as the possibility that these restrictions would be used mainly to target communities of color protesting against police killings.

The response was that this is not the ‘intent’ of the bill, and that there are always some that can abuse any law; “bad apples.” This is concerning to me as a citizen because our lawmakers should care if even one American’s freedom is jeopardized. A law that can be manipulated to target innocent people is an unjust law, and that concern should not be brushed off. Giving bad apples more tools to exercise bad judgement is unnecessary.

The fact is, this bill language was drafted prior to the Capitol siege and targeted towards civil rights protesters, many of whom were proven innocent. We cannot ignore the hundreds of citizens, including the Tallahassee 19 and the over 70 protesters in Jacksonville, who were falsely targeted and arrested last summer. The police were wrong in their assessment, so it is very valid for people to not want more reasons for law enforcement to be ‘on alert’.

As a concerned Floridian, I am asking you to not allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision which could jeopardize the freedom of honest Americans. Please VOTE NO on HB1/SB484.

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Susan Muller

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Meredith Brown

Sincerely,
Alaina Begaye, a Navajo living in Nevada where I do endure prejudism and racism. My daughter should not have to be called "dirty" because of the color of her skin when we walk the isles of grocery stores. The BLM protests were necessary in addressing the problem and it seems to make politicians uncomfortable when people of color ask for the same courtesy of living life as a human rather than being seeing for the color our skin first.

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
[YOUR NAME]

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Lesley Elizondo

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Kaitlin Thaggard

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Avri C

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative, I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532. While the events that took place at the Capitol on January 6, 2021, are abhorrent and a direct attack against democracy, it is also evident due to the circumstances of 2020 that law enforcement is not always capable of discerning civil disobedience. A constitutionally protected act, from rioting and other illegal activity. This bill language was drafted before the Capitol siege and targeted civil rights protesters, many of whom were eventually proven innocent. Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law. As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms. Please VOTE NO on HB1. Sincerely,
Lizzie Adams

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Haylee Swiger

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a CT resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

While the events that took place at the Capitol on January 6, 2021, are abhorrent and a direct attack against democracy, it is also evident due to the circumstances of 2020 that law enforcement is not always capable of discerning civil disobedience. A constitutionally protected act, from rioting and other illegal activity. This bill language was drafted before the Capitol siege and targeted civil rights protesters, many of whom were eventually proven innocent.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
SB

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Bianca Combs

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a Florida resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.

Just this summer in Jacksonville, over 70 peaceful civil rights protesters were unlawfully detained. Among these protesters were families, students, pastors, business owners, teachers, medics, and lawyers. All charges were dropped. Four protesters even sued the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office and won a $100,000 settlement due to their rights being deliberately violated. With this new bill, these innocent people would have had incredible difficulty maintaining their freedom, even in the court of law.

As a concerned citizen, I am asking you not to allow fear and chaos to influence a hasty decision that could jeopardize honest Americans' freedom. We have seen the blatant double standards regarding protesting and treatment amongst groups, and this bill was proposed before this tyrannic event and is only being pushed into legislation in haste and to further suppress our freedoms.
Please VOTE NO on HB1.

Sincerely,
Yakara

Subject: Oppose HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act

Elected Representative,

I am a California resident contacting you today to urge you to OPPOSE HB1, the Combatting Violence, Disorder, and Looting Law Enforcement Protection Act. There are already laws in place regarding violence, disorder, and looting, which do not infringe on protesters' due process protections and extra protections for Law Enforcement Officers in the state of Florida under FL §112.532.
