AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

To the citizens of the United States of America,

We the undersigned state legislators of the United States are vested with the plenary power by our US Constitution (Article 2 Section 1 Clause 2) to oversee the election of the president of the United States.

It has come to our attention from an audit of 2.1 million ballots in Arizona complemented by an in-depth canvass of votes in Arizona, as well as through multiple different data reviews of voting by independent experts; that our representative republic suffered a corrupted 2020 election.

In addition to Arizona, sworn affidavits have accumulated from our own states detailing rampant corruption and mismanagement in the election process. Multiple audits either underway or about to start, canvasses underway or about to start, and lawsuits challenging the validity of several counties in our states, have already shown fraud and inaccuracies.

We have come to the conclusion that all 50 states need to be forensically audited. Voter rolls should be scrubbed with a canvass of the voters to ensure future integrity of our elections.

If results from these measures prove an inaccurate election was held, as has been shown in Arizona, and is being shown in many other states; then it is clear that certification of our electors was improperly rendered in January 2021 of the November 2020 United States presidential election.

We call on each state to decertify its electors where it has been shown the elections were certified prematurely and inaccurately.

Once it is shown that either Joe Biden would receive fewer than 270 tallied electoral votes, or Donald Trump would receive more than 270 electoral votes, then we call for the US House of Representatives to convene and vote per the US Constitution by means of one vote per state to decide the rightful winner of the election in accordance with the constitutional process of choosing electors.

This is our historic obligation to restore the election integrity of the vote as the bedrock of our democratic republic.

If we do not have accurate and fair elections, we do not have a country.

Signed,

Senator Wendy Rogers, Arizona

ABSTRACT

Development of new vaccine technology has been plagued with problems in the past. The current RNA based SARS-CoV-2 vaccines were approved in the US using an emergency order without extensive long term safety testing.

In this paper the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine was evaluated for the potential to induce prion-based disease in vaccine recipients. The RNA sequence of the vaccine as well as the spike protein target interaction were analyzed for the potential to convert intracellular RNA binding proteins TAR DNA binding protein (TDP-43) and Fused in Sarcoma (FUS) into their pathologic prion conformations.

The results indicate that the vaccine RNA has specific sequences that may induce TDP-43 and FUS to fold into their pathologic prion confirmations.

In the current analysis a total of sixteen UG tandem repeats (ΨGΨG) were identified and additional UG (ΨG) rich sequences were identified. Two GGΨA sequences were found. Potential G Quadruplex sequences are possibly present but a more sophisticated computer program is needed to verify these. Furthermore, the spike protein, created by the translation of the vaccine RNA, binds angiotensin converting enzyme 2 (ACE2), a zinc containing enzyme. This interaction has the potential to increase intracellular zinc.

Zinc ions have been shown to cause the transformation of TDP-43 to its pathologic prion configuration.

The folding of TDP-43 and FUS into their pathologic prion confirmations is known to cause ALS, front temporal lobar degeneration, Alzheimer's disease and other neurological degenerative diseases.

The enclosed finding as well as additional potential risks leads the author to believe that regulatory approval of the RNA based vaccines for SARS-CoV-2 was premature and that the vaccine may cause much more harm than benefit.

"The Pfizer vaccine could be a bioweapon and even more dangerous than the original infection."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Introduction
Vaccines have been found to cause a host of chronic, late-developing adverse events. Some adverse events like type 1 diabetes may not occur until 3-4 years after a vaccine is administered [1]. In the example of type 1 diabetes the frequency of cases of adverse events may surpass the frequency of cases of severe infectious disease that the vaccine was designed to prevent. Given that type 1 diabetes is only one of many immune mediated diseases potentially caused by vaccines, chronic late occurring adverse events are a serious public health issue.

The advent of new vaccine technology creates new potential mechanisms of vaccine adverse events. For example, the first killed polio vaccine actually caused polio in recipients because the up scaled manufacturing process did not effectively kill the polio virus before it was injected into patients.

RNA based vaccines offers special risks of inducing specific adverse events. One such potential adverse event is prion-based diseases caused by activation of intrinsic proteins to form prions. A wealth of knowledge has been published on a class of RNA binding proteins shown to participating in causing a number of neurological diseases including Alzheimer's disease and ALS (Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis). TDP-43 and FUS are among the best studied of these proteins [2].

The Pfizer RNA based COVID-19 vaccine was approved by the US FDA under an emergency use authorization without long term safety data. Because of concerns about the safety of this vaccine a study was performed to determine if the vaccine could potentially induce prion-based disease. <<SNIP>>

Results
Analysis of the Pfizer vaccine against COVID-19 identified two potential risk factors for inducing prion disease is humans. The RNA sequence in the vaccine [3] contains sequences believed to induce TDP-43 and FUS to aggregate in their prion-based conformation leading to the development of common neurodegerative diseases. In particular, it has been shown that RNA sequences GGUA [4], UG rich sequences [5], UG tandem repeats [6], and G Quadruplex sequences [7], have increased affinity to bind TDP-43 and or FUS and may cause TDP-43 or FUS to take their pathologic configurations in the cytoplasm. In the current analysis a total of sixteen UG tandem repeats (ΨGΨG) were identified and additional UG (ΨG) rich sequences were identified. Two GGΨA sequences were found. G Quadruplex sequences are possibly present but sophisticated computer programs are needed to verify these.

The spike protein encoded by the vaccine binds angiotensin converting enzyme 2 (ACE2), an enzyme which contains zinc molecules [8]. The binding of spike protein to ACE2 has the potential to release the zinc molecule, an ion that causes TDP-43 to assume its pathologic prion transformation [9].

Discussion
There is an old saying in medicine that "the cure may be worse than the disease." The phrase can be applied to vaccines. In the current paper the concern is raised that the RNA based COVID vaccines have the potential to cause more disease than the epidemic of COVID-19. This paper focuses on a novel potential adverse event mechanism causing prion disease which could be even more common and debilitating than the viral infection the vaccine is designed to prevent. While this paper focuses on one potential adverse event there are multiple other potential fatal adverse events as discussed below.

Over the last two decades there has been a concern among certain scientists that prions could be used as bioweapons. More recently there has been a concern that ubiquitous intracellular molecules could be activated to cause prion disease including Alzheimer's disease, ALS and other neurodegenerative diseases. This concern originates due to potential for misuse of research data on the mechanisms by which certain RNA binding proteins like TDP-43, FUS and others can be activated to form disease causing prions. The fact that this research, which could be used for bioweapons development, is funded by private organizations including the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, and Ellison Medical Foundation [2] without national/international oversight is also a concern. In the past, for example, there were prohibitions for publishing information pertaining to construction of nuclear bombs.

Published data has shown that there are several different factors that can contribute to the conversion of certain RNA binding proteins including TDP-43, FUS and related molecules to their pathologic states. These RNA binding proteins have many functions and are found in both the nucleus and the cytoplasm. These binding proteins have amino acid regions, binding motifs that bind specific RNA sequences. Binding to certain RNA sequences when the proteins are in the cytoplasm is believed to causes the molecules to fold in certain ways leading to pathologic aggregation and prion formation in the cytoplasm [2]. The current analysis indicates Pfizer's RNA based COVID-19 vaccine contains many of these RNA sequences that have been shown to have high affinity for TDP-43 or FUS and have the potential to induce chronic degenerative neurological diseases.

Zinc binding to the RNA recognition motif of TDP-43 is another mechanism leading to formation of amyloid like aggregations [9]. The viral spike protein, coded by the vaccine RNA sequence, binds ACE2, an enzyme containing zinc molecules [8]. This interaction has the potential to increase intracellular zinc levels leading to prion disease. The initial binding could be between spike proteins on the surface of the cell transfected by the vaccine and ACE2 on the surface of an adjacent cell. The resulting complex may become internalized. Alternatively, the interaction could initially take place in the cytoplasm of a cell that makes ACE2 and has been transfected with the vaccine RNA coding for the spike protein. The interaction is quite concerning given the belief that the virus causing COVID-19, SARS-CoV-2, is a bioweapon [10,11] and it is possible that the viral spike protein may have been designed to cause prion disease.

Another related concern is that the Pfizer vaccine uses a unique RNA nucleoside 1-methyl-3'-pseudouridylyl (Ψ). According to FDA briefing documents, this nucleoside was chosen to reduce activation of the innate immune system [12]. RNA molecules containing this nucleoside will undoubtedly have altered binding [13]. Unfortunately, the effect on TDP-43, FUS and other RNA binding proteins is not published. The use of this nucleoside in a vaccine can potentially enhance the binding affinity of RNA sequences capable of causing TDP-43 and FUS to assume toxic configurations.

There are many other potential adverse events that can be induced by the novel RNA based vaccines against COVID-19.

The vaccine places a novel molecule, spike protein, in/on the surface of host cells. This spike protein is a potential receptor for another possibly novel infectious agent. If those who argue that the COVID-19 is actually a bioweapon are correct, then a second potentially more dangerous virus may be released that binds spike protein found on the host cells of vaccine recipients. Data is not publicly available to provide information on how long the vaccine RNA is translated in the vaccine recipient and how long after translation the spike protein will be present in the recipient's cells. Such studies pertaining to in vivo expression will be complex and challenging. Genetic diversity protects species from mass casualties caused by infectious agents. One individual may be killed by a virus while another may have no ill effects from the same virus. By placing the identical receptor, the spike protein, on cells of everyone in a population, the genetic diversity for at least one potential receptor disappears.

Everyone in the population now becomes potentially susceptible to binding with the same infectious agent.

Autoimmunity and the opposing condition, metabolic syndrome, are well known adverse events caused by vaccines [14]. COVID-19 infections are associated with the induction of autoantibodies and autoimmune disease [15,16] making it more than plausible a vaccine could do the same.

One author has found amino acid sequences coded by the spike protein to be identical to sequences in human proteins including proteins found in the CNS [17]. Autoimmunity can also be induced by epitope spreading when a foreign antigen, like the spike protein, is presented by an antigen presenting cell that also has self-molecules attached to its MHC molecules.

Finally, others working in the field have published additional support that COVID-19 vaccines could potentially induce prion disease. Authors [18] found prion related sequences in the COVID-19 spike protein which were not found in related coronaviruses. Others [19] have reported a case of prion disease, Creutzfeldt-Jakob disease, initially occurring in a man with COVID-19.

Many have raised the warning that the current epidemic of COVID-19 is actually the result of a bioweapons attack released in part by individuals in the United States government [10,11]. Such a theory is not far-fetched given that the 2001 anthrax attack in the US originated at Fort Detrick, a US army bioweapon facility. Because the FBI's anthrax investigation was closed against the advice of the lead FBI agent in the case, there are likely conspirators still working in the US government. In such a scenario the primary focus of stopping a bioweapons attack must be to apprehend the conspirators or the attacks will never cease. Approving a vaccine, utilizing novel RNA technology without extensive testing is extremely dangerous.

The Pfizer vaccine could be a bioweapon and even more dangerous than the original infection.

Subject: [Amended] Serious Questions about Seattle Mayor Jenny Durkan

Dear Legislators:

I hope you are well.

Astute observers of Democratic politics note that queer Seattle Mayor Jenny Durkan came from a liquor-peddling, butt-pimping family that originally settled in Montana.

Alcohol and drug abuse are closely correlated with homosexual and pedophiliac development.

Questions about Jenny Durkan's time in Alaska have arisen.

1. Did Jenny Durkan's family send her to Alaska to pimp her out? Was she that "only girl in an Alaska bar?"

2. Did Jenny Durkan rape the girls she was coaching in an Eskimo village? There is no statute of limitations for felony sexual assault in Alaska.

3. Is Joe Biden planning to bail Jenny Durkan out of her disastrous term as Seattle mayor by appointing her to a federal office at the end of her current term? Does Joe Biden know only too well that Jenny Durkan is an unconvicted pedophiliac rapist?

4. Does Joe Biden have a soft spot in his head for drug abusers (Hunter Biden), alcoholics (the rest of the Bidens), prostitutes, pedophiles and rapists? Were Barack Obama and Kamala Harris, for example, pimped out as juveniles by their parents?

These are the questions that Republicans should be asking.

If individual Republicans do not ask these questions, I am inclined to wonder what specific dirt the Democrats have got regarding your past.

With all due respect,

Kevin "Otto von" Volkmann

Rob, College Inn Owner:

I hope you are well.

As you may know, I have served on the Seattle Police Department North Precinct Advisory Committee for four years, and I know the current SPD Chief of Police, who was my SPD Civilian Police Academy instructor. I know several members of the UWPD including those at the rank of major and sergeant. I have been twice elected as a Democratic Precinct Committee Officer in Seattle, and I have been a member of a large number of civic organizations. I have been in regular contact with the Seattle FBI and other FBI offices regarding a large number of matters over the past five years. I am familiar with the operations of several other big-city police departments, including New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Boston, Honolulu, Portland, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Berlin, Germany, Oakland, Coeur d'Alene, Everett, Olympia, Kirkland, and Shoreline. I have high-level contacts in the Democratic and Republican parties nationally, and I have several overseas top-level government contacts.

I am a graduate of top-ranked Stanford University engineering programs at the nation's most selective college, which was number-one ranked when I was admitted and graduated, and I have attended a dozen top colleges nationally, including Harvard, the University of California, and the University of Pennsylvania. I have maintained a perfect 4.0 GPA for 39 years, and I have been named to several honor societies and received merit scholarships.

I have lived in eight cities larger than Seattle, and I am extremely well-versed in identifying urban crime. I am expert in identifying sex crime and sex criminals, having studied under the world's leading expert in human sexuality, Professor Kenneth George of the University of Pennsylvania. My colleagues include top psychologists, psychiatrists and behavioral researchers worldwide. I am an active member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. I know, read or follow top journalists worldwide.

Notably, my demands for the removal of former Seattle Mayor Ed Murray and former Seattle Police Chief Carmen Best led directly to their resignations from office and ended their careers in government. Upon my advice and at my request, President Donald Trump fired his personal advisor Steve Bannon, and replaced U.S. Ambassador to Germany Richard Grenell. My request to Congressman Jim McDermott to refurbish the University Post Office resulted in the complete renovation of that nearby historic building's exterior. I have had five people fired from Stanford University Medical Center. My complaints about Kinkisharyo-manufactured trains at Sound Transit resulted in the replacement of that vendor with Siemens. My recent complaints disqualified three finalists for the presidency of the Evergreen State College. Following my complaints, Washington State Speaker of the House of Representatives, Frank Chopp, was removed from that post. Lake City Partners officials have been replaced and left the country following my complaints.

Everyone knows that I represent the clean, responsible, powerful politics of my sponsor, Vice President Walter Mondale.

I have investigated the sex and drug crime past of California Governor Gavin Newsom, and some of the findings have now been released. Gavin Newsom is a suspect in organizing sado-queer syndicated harassment nationwide, and he is also a suspect in the murder of San Francisco Mayor Edwin Mah Lee.

I am an expert in sado-queer criminal syndicates, sado-queer criminal fraud, and heterophobic propaganda techniques. I am an expert in legal communications and have been a member of the International Communications Association research specialty groups.

I am said to be a relative of U.S. Supreme Court Justice Charles Evans Hughes, who also served as the Governor of New York State and as the United States Secretary of State under Presidents Warren Harding and Calvin Coolidge. My freshman roommate at Stanford is Justice Peter Humphrey Moulton III of the New York State Supreme Court. I know several superior court judges and prominent attorneys nationwide. My uncle John Elorriaga was the President, CEO, and Chairman of the Board of US Bancorp, now the fourth largest bank holding company in the United States.

I and my hundreds of Republican readers understand that many queer criminal syndicates stalk and harass straight individuals with the intent and purpose of inflicting emotional distress. The sequel to this criminal tactic is to spew a stale rhetoric that claims a false martyrdom. Your recent e-mail is a classic example of phony sado-queer harassment tactics.

Obviously, given the above facts of my status and station in life, I have no social interest in you, your staff or your guests. On the contrary, it is your low-status staff and guests who dream of harassing me, perhaps at the request of closeted homosexual Governor Gavin Newsom, who has been implicated recently in such harassment bombardments for the decades since he was first elected to the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

Your blustery tone in your recent ridiculous e-mail is extremely rude and nongermain. Please cease and desist from threatening my legal tenancy, as you have often done, mostly on the most absurd premises. You have extremely little credibility to salvage at this point.

I am the principal private investigator of the murder of San Francisco Mayor Ed Lee, which I long ago reported in full to my Stanford classmate, Congressman Adam Schiff, Chairman of the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence. Regrettably for you and other highly adversarial Seattleites, a dead rat appeared at my Seattle doorstep the day I ordered Ed Lee's autopsy report from the San Francisco Medical Examiner. Other related death threats have appeared as attempts to run over me with automobiles. (As you know I have worked in a medical records and hospital information system capacity at three top American medical centers.)

I know a lot of real estate developers globally who are much larger than the College Inn corporation, and it would be my duty to warn all of them internationally about any criminal behavior I have observed.

Many of my hundreds of honorable Republican colleagues have no interest in protecting the rights of drug addicts, child molesters, stalkers, or sex traffickers.

Today, Yom Kippur, is the major holiday of the Jewish calendar. Please refrain from sending abusive and false e-mails on my religious holy days. As you know, I am a disabled senior student.

With all due respect,

Kevin "Otto von" Volkmann

Subject: ART Update: THE DIRTY DOZEN: Child-on-child pedophiliac sex abuse investigation is expanded.

CAUTION:External email.

Dear Concerned Readers:

I hope you are well.

As you know, the National Center on Sexual Exploitation (NCoSE) has identified occult child-on-child sex abuse as a hidden national behavioral pandemic endangering the health of all American children.

As you know, practically all homosexuals begin their criminal sexual activity as minors. This sexual activity often involves adults, but even more often involves child-on-child sexual abuse that often mimics previous pedophiliac encounters with adults. Drugs or alcohol abuse is a key enabler of juvenile sexual abusers, be they adults or children, and drugs and alcohol play a key role in the etiology of pscyhotic and sociopathological homosexual development.

Careful biographical research has identified several American leaders who evidently engaged in child-on-child sexual abuse with siblings or neighbors. Today we reiterate the "Dirty Dozen" list of national pedophiliac sex crime abusers, and add several individuals to the watch list.

THE DIRTY DOZEN

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1. John F. Kennedy tops the list for his evident juvenile pedophiliac sexual abuse of his younger brothers Robert and Edward, his lifelong sexual abuse of his sister Rosemary, and his adult pedophiliac sexual abuse of John F. Kennedy Jr. and Caroline Kennedy. His pedophiliac affair with Kirk "Lem" Billings and other juveniles is well recorded. Billings and Kennedy were mutual pedophiliac sexual abusers at the Choate boarding school in Wallingford, CT, where their lifetime sexual exploits started: Kennedy was about 16 and Billings was about 14. Kennedy and Billings were members of the Choate "Muckers Club." See David Pitts biography Jack and Lem (http://www.jackandlem.com/). Kennedy family liquor and opium were key ingredients in JFK's homosexual and pedophiliac development.

2. Bill Clinton evidently engaged in criminal underage sex with his half brother Roger Clinton, Jr. Alcohol, drugs and prostitution were the staples of the Clinton household that point conclusively to Clinton's pedophiliac past. Other childhood victims of Bill Clinton, perhaps dozens of other boys, have yet to step forward with their testimony. As you know, at the end of his presidency, Bill Clinton pardoned his sex partner, Roger Clinton, for his outstanding cocaine trafficking convictions.

3. Barack Obama Jr. was the son of an unwed prostitute, Stanley Dunham, and an absent alcoholic Kenyan father. Stanley Dunham almost certainly pimped out her boy from toddler age with the help of queer grandfather Stanley Dunham, who had long pimped out his daughter to pay the rent as the dysfunctional family bounced from one state to another, quickly wearing out their welcome everywhere. The drugs and hypersexuality of the Dunham/Obama household certainly led to long episodes of child-on-child sexual abuse at the Punahou School in Honolulu, where Barack Obama was a member of the "Choom Gang." Choom is slang for marijuana. A specific episode of Barack's drug-impaired approach to juveniles in a park is noted in David Remnick's classic Obama biography, The Bridge. Barack Obama's voice was deepened by decades of smoking tobacco, pot, and crack, and his unnaturally injured vocal chords served as an effective cover for his pedophiliac juvenile past. Obama profiles to having one of the most homosexual upbringings in world history. The University of Hawaii and the University of Washington have evidently provided additional cover by falsifying the academic records of prostitute unwed mother, Stanley Dunham. Extensive biographical information seals this case.

4. Disgraced former Seattle Mayor Ed Murray grew up in liquor-soaked, queer-pscyhotic Aberdeen, Washington, where homosexual child-on-child sexual abuse had long been endemic, producing as a result such notable sociopaths as Robert Arthur, serial killer Billy Gohl, Patrick Simmons, and Kurt Cobain. Staggering his way through Catholic college with episodic substance abuse and sodomy binges, Murray went on to become an adult serial pedophile rapist, preying on indigent black boys. It is axiomatically certain that Murray had many juvenile victims in Aberdeen, and a full accounting of his sex-crime past will require further investigation and reckoning.

5. Father Kevin O'Brien, disgraced former Santa Clara University president, rounds out the top five pedophiles on our list. Just weeks after saying morning mass to Joe Biden on his inauguration day, O'Brien was caught hitting up on young boys studying to become priests. The etiology of homosexual development is the informative guide to his juvenile homosexual past, in which it is certain that he was engaged in mutual sex abuse with other boys. His choice of the priesthood as a profession is confirmatory. Alcohol was involved in the episode in which O'Brien was caught.

6. Ted Kennedy, incestuous brother of John Kennedy, evidences involvement with his family's drug and prostitution trafficking. For instance, the death of prostitute Mary Jo Kopechne was almost certainly due to a prostitution-related drug overdose that was covered up by pushing a car containing already-dead Kopechne into the Atlantic at Chappaquiddick bridge. Queer Ted was almost certainly Kopechne's pimp that night, rather than her escort. See list item #1 for his child-on-child sex abuse history leading to his crime-saturated adulthood. As always with the Kennedys, delirious toothy smiles indicate ongoing drug and alcohol abuse.

7. Gavin Newsom, lightweight loafing governor of California, grew up in San Francisco's off-the-charts alcohol consumption culture, which was the key factor in making San Francisco the queer capital of the Western United States. Drunkenness leads to queer sex and broken marriages. Gavin's affiliation with alcohol is lifelong and alcohol permeates every corner of his existence. Newsom was hitting up on old men in San Francisco's Perry's saloon when he was a teenager. He had become a full-fledged homosexual during Catholic elementary school, where the boys banged him in the bushes during recess and after school. After sucking up to billionaire queer Gordon Getty, and hooking up with drug-and-prostitution-trafficker attorney Willie Brown, Newsom finally sensed that he must develop a heterosexual facade for public consumption. Otherwise, his dreams to become president, legalize marijuana, effeminize American men, serve whiskey at public school lunches, and promote homosexual marriage would not be realized. Alcohol, alcohol, alcohol.

8. Pete Buttigieg was raised by Catholic teachers in an alcohol-worshipping culture, where alcohol was a daily sacramental fixture. Young Buttigieg broke into the family liquor cabinet with his juvenile buddies, and the rest is history. In violation of USCMJ, Pete Buttigieg engaged in the statutory rape of underage boys in Afghanistan. Wearing a suit and saying his parents are Notre Dame professors is Pete's attempt to appear smart and acceptable. Pete now is a permissive gatekeeper at the Department of Transportation, where he allows syndicated gangs to dominate employment and ridership in urban transit systems. Queers riding buses 24/7 to stalk and harass straight men is Pete Buttigieg's top policy initiative.

9. Joseph R. Biden, Jr. loves Barack Obama, Jr., Father Kevin O'Brien, and Pete Buttigieg, listed above. The only break that his son, Hunter Biden, takes from alcohol is to smoke crack. The rest of the Biden family, who are religious alcoholics, look down on Hunter Biden somewhat, but not too much. Biden has had decades in the U.S. Senate during which he has been able to peddle influence in exchange for covering up his child-on-child sex-abusing past.

10. Jenny Durkan, out of astounding myopic ignorance, fancies her family to be the West Coast Kennedys, which, in fact, they are on a miniature scale. Daddy Martin Durkan sent her away to Alaska, where, due to its remoteness, Martin calculated that her prostitution and dalliances with young eskimo girls would never be broadcast to the lower 48. Jenny depended on psychotic fraudster Barack Obama, Jr. to get a job in government. We must fear that Jenny was the online kiddie pornographer and online block-chain-currency drug dealer's best friend, obstructing prosecution of sex and drug criminals during her term as U.S. Attorney for Western Washington. Jenny Durkan and syndicated crime are synonymous. Jenny was pimped out as a toddler and thereafter molested her grade-school peers.

11. Bill Cosby was a mixed-up queer actor in Hollywood promoted during the Kennedy queer putsch of the 1960s. Like many a drug-addicted luvvie, he spent his nights there in pursuit of sodomistic pandemonium, often with minors. New York Magazine and the Pennsylvania courts did queer Bill a favor by prosecuting him for heterosexual rape of adults, instead of homosexual rape of minors, and they ultimately let him off with a technicality. Like many a raunchy queer, including JFK and Clinton, Cosby was satisfied to be charged with heterosexual sex crimes to cover up his homosexual past. Cosby started as a child-on-child molester, as did everyone else on this list.

12. Billionaire queer David Geffen was an extremely poor, drug-and-alcohol abusing student, like Gavin Newsom attributing his ineptitude to dyslexia. Geffen financially supported pedophile buddies Bill Clinton and Barack Obama. Geffen can try to buy off witnesses of his child-on-child sex-abuse exploits, but he might some day run into authorities that will not be bribed.

ON DECK for investigative expansion are the following.

1. Ana Mari Cauce.
2. Ellen Degeneres.
3. Al Sharpton.
4. George Floyd.
5. Jamie Pedersen.
6. Frank Chopp.
7. Kate Brown.
8. Willie Brown.
9. Jared Polis.
10. Michael Higgins.
11. Anderson Cooper.
12. RuPaul Charles.
13. Prince Rogers Nelson.
14. Tyler Perry.
15. Shepard Smith.
16. Larry Ellison.

With the Arizona Audit results coming out soon, we need to craft a joint statement that YOU are ready, willing, and able to pursue audits in YOUR own states.

We will put together a draft statement now and then fill in the blanks once the Arizona Audit results come out.

We have several states below not represented. Goal is to get all 50 states. Need your help to fill in those gaps.

Please get hold of counterpart state legislators in the states we're lacking.
Reply All by filling in legislators' names for states we lack and also include those new additions to the group email above. Thanks.

Remember, it is up to us STATE LEGISLATORS to get our country back by auditing the TRUTH of 2020.

(Quirky formatting did not allow me to put everyone's name on the roster where states had multiple names already.)

Thank you.

Subject: Borrowed Wit: Al "Dimwitski" Dembowski Praised by Pillage People

Dear Borrowed Wit Readers:

I hope you are well.

"Weird" Al Dembowski has been awarded the lifetime achievement prize of the Pillage People for looting Korean homes and businesses during his military career in Asia. (This group is not to be confused with the UW Pillage People.)

His nomination papers cited his disbursement of "free" candy bars and cigarettes to underage boys in exchange for "comfort duty" as a major reason for his selection.

Al-"ibi" frequently has been praised by Joe Biden for pretty much winning the Korean War, sort of.

Al-"Anon" Dembowski was the father of copsucker King County Councilman "Little" Rod Dembowski, before he died of syphilitic meningitis.

This report is provided as a public service.

Subject: Borrowed Wit: Michael Shiosaki escalates his demands for reparations.

Dear Borrowed Wit Readers:

I hope you are well.

Still disgruntled over delayed check-in times at free summer camps during World War II, Seattle's Michael Shiosaki is going ballistic in his demands for additional reparations for Japanese-Americans.

1. He wants a repeated fire-bombing and complete destruction of all Chinese and Korean cities again.

2. He wants the entire U.S. Pacific fleet to be sunk again. American servicemen and civilians must die again. Surprise!

3. He wants Ainus "comfort women" sex slavery camps to be reinstituted in China, Korea and the Phillipines again.

4. He wants Japanese sex tourists in the United States to have full and free access to American kindergarten children, and to legalize the kidnapping of these minors. (Nothing new here.)

5. He wants a 500-foot statue to be errected in honor of his father, a friendly-fire American serviceman under the direction of the Emperor of Japan, as you are also under the hegemony of the Emperor of Japan, he will have you know.

6. Pay no attention to the naked boys hanging upside-down in the basement of Ed Murray's Seattle house.

7. Buy twice as much substandard tunnelling equipment that is over budget and behind schedule. Pay triple kickbacks.

8. Do whatever he says when he says it. Anticipate what his demands whenever possible.

This report is submitted as a courtesy with a sense of fairness, moderate satire, historical accuracy and good humor.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Memo for Record to the American People

on 24 Sep 2021 originating from Phoenix AZ

To the citizens of the United States of America,

We the undersigned state legislators of the United States are vested with the plenary power by our US Constitution (Article 2 Section 1 Clause 2) to oversee the election of the president of the United States.

It has come to our attention from an audit of 2.1 million ballots in Arizona complemented by an in-depth canvass of votes in Arizona, as well as through multiple different data reviews of voting by independent experts; that our representative republic suffered a corrupted 2020 election.

In addition to Arizona, sworn affidavits have accumulated from many states detailing rampant corruption and mismanagement in the election process. Multiple audits either underway or about to start, canvasses underway or about to start, and lawsuits challenging the validity of several counties in our states, have already shown fraud and inaccuracies.

We have come to the conclusion that all 50 states need to be forensically audited. Voter rolls should be scrubbed with a canvass of the voters to ensure future integrity of our elections.

If results from these measures prove an inaccurate election was held, as has been shown in Arizona, and is being shown in many other states; then it is clear that certification of many electors was improperly rendered in January 2021 of the November 2020 United States presidential election.

We call on each state to decertify its electors where it has been shown the elections were certified prematurely and inaccurately.

Once it is shown that either Joe Biden would receive fewer than 270 tallied electoral votes, or Donald Trump would receive more than 270 electoral votes, then we call for the US House of Representatives to convene and vote per the US Constitution by means of one vote per state to decide the rightful winner of the election in accordance with the constitutional process of choosing electors.

This is our historic obligation to restore the election integrity of the vote as the bedrock of our democratic republic.

If we do not have accurate and fair elections, we do not have a country.

Signed,

Senator Wendy Rogers, Arizona

Subject: Crime Report: King County Councilman Rod Dembowski, the Northwest HIDTA, and transit crime.

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

As you now know, JFK forgot to tell us he was queer, pedophiliac and drug-addicted. He forgot to tell us that his family trafficked opium and heroin internationally. In hiding the entirety of his authentic self, he defrauded the American public in the 1960 presidential election, which -- only due to massive omissions -- he won only narrowly.

Queer brother Ted Kennedy forgot to tell us about his incestuous relationship with his brother Jack. He forgot to tell us about the family involvement with prostitution and drugs (including with drugged prostitutes Marilyn Monroe and Mary Jo Kopechne). He covered up a prostitution drug murder with the false appearance of a car accident.

Baby-faced Rodney Dembowski, a King County, Washington, Councilman is the son of Ted. Rod is a queer with a choir-boy image who the Kennedys groomed to oversee the Northwest High Intensity Drug Trading Area (HIDTA). In addition to keeping the illegal drugs flowing, Rod, with the help of national queer sponsors, has converted North Seattle into the PEDOPHILE CAPITAL OF NORTH AMERICA.

As a transit lord, Rod Dembowski sicks his queer, Negro and/or prostitute pals on straight bus riders in the King County Metro system. He sponsors county-wide harassment of straights with better looks, better educations, and better connections. They threaten his ultra-queer Kennedy and Jesuit branding.

Rodney's crime-involved bus drivers don't pick up bus-riding straights on schedule. Straights are made to wait an extra fifteen minutes for the next bus, or an extra half an hour.

The transit system under slick fellatio artist Dembowski defrauds the public by suggesting that they are efficient. However, like most transit systems, Metro has a very small ridership that makes no significant change to either traffic or pollution. Buses with a handful of riders -- which is most often the case for most bus sorties -- are much less efficient that single-passenger automobiles. Buses also tear up the roads due to their weight and bouncy suspension systems. Bus transportation serves common criminals more often than not.

It is time to throw the bums out. Little Rod should be among the first bums to hit the pavement.

Do not count on the police or the FBI to prosecute criminal bums like Rod Dembowski. Seattle PD and Seattle FBI, for example, are little more than jobs programs for queer friends of current police and FBI brass. These organizations became gutted and toothless under the Kennedy, Clinton, and Obama administrations. As a result, a Mob in suits reigns supreme.

This report is provided as a public service, in the interest of public health and safety.

Subject: Crime Report: My food was again laced with a stimulant on Monday.

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

A sleepless night led me to the sad realization that I had been "spiked" again. This spiking is the fourth noted in the last four months, and it comes just two weeks after the previous incident.

I am aware that my e-mail correspondence becomes more frank and less tactful during such involuntary episodes.

Upon reflection there is reason to believe that spikings have been a problem stretching back years and decades for me, and that others also suffer from such occult druggings. In my case, the lacings have been harmful to relationships, employment, housing and schoolwork.

The first spiking during my tenancy at the College Inn occurred just before a college Chemistry final exam, and it certainly harmed my performance. Despite this incident, I have maintained a GPA of 4.0 for the last three decades of periodic schooling. I am a member of two college honor societies, and I was named to the 2020 President's List at North Seattle College.

With these incidents come long nights of pondering the causes of these attacks. Last night brought some remembrances and insights of how this all started. This knowledge is a consolation to an otherwise negative event in my life. Today I begin to take further protective steps to avoid this problem and related harassment in the future.

This report is provided as a courtesy. Now you know.

Subject: Crime Report: Sado-Queer Supremacist Rob Ahrens is verbally abusive and overcharges me.

Dear Seattle FBI and other Readers:

I hope you are well. Please forward this report to Special Agent in Charge Voiret.

College Inn owner Rob Ahrens continues his criminal gang harassment activity. We have additional reports today regarding the sado-queer supremacist Rob Ahrens, who demands the rights of his homosexual staff to stalk and mob me.

When I paid my rent today, Ahrens seized my credit card and subsequently overcharged me.

He abusively ran his mouth with completely sado-queer nonsense rhetoric. "Don't complain about my staff and queer guests getting in your face constantly."

It has been said that Ahrens is a Wharton School graduate. Based on observations, this is unlikely. At most he might possibly pass as a Wharton undergraduate, but even that is doubtful. It seems more likely that Ahrens has misrepresented himself, suggesting that he could have attended an elite Ivy League school.

I must deal with the overcharge when I can.

I am a busy person who has been targeted by the Mob for continual ongoing sexual, financial, academic, and substance-spiking harassment.

FYI.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This report is made in the public interest, as a courtesy to future generations, who should never be subjected to sado-queer supremacist terrorism.

Respectfully,

Kevin "Otto von" Volkmann

Subject: Crime Report: UW sponsors Negro prostitutes and sexual harassment by Negro prostitutes.

CAUTION:External email.

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

Negro Crime on the UW Campus

Evidently the University of Washington allows extensive crime by Negro gangs on the Seattle campus.

For instance, today September 27, 2021 a female Negro prostitute was seen soliciting prostitution roadside at 17th Avenue NE and 45th Street on the UW campus. The obese, dreadlocked, unsightly female was lewdly spreading her knees and beckoning drivers and pedestrians.

This particular positioning of this woman at this location and at this time may be also deemed to be a sexual harassment tactics sponsored by the UWPD, which has illicit connections to campus prostitutes and drug dealers.

Illegal steroid drug abuse by Negro athletes has now become a 60-year tradition at the University of Washington, and it is believed to be a key propaganda practice of the University of Washington administration.

(Another key propaganda tactic is spreading falsehoods in the form of UFO hoaxes and unrealistic prospects for space travel, which also tend to have a racist effect.)

Fraternity Crime on Campus

Evidently UW condones illegal alcohol drinking at fraternities under their supervision. Today, September 27, 2021, members of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity, which claims to be the cleanest fraternity house, were observed purchasing massive quantities of alcoholic beverages.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Alcohol consumption among college-age student is highly correlated with sexual abuse, and UW fraternities are deemed to host both alcoholic and sexuallly abusive events.

Fraternities and religious organizations on campus profile to being occult employers of sex criminals and other unscreened risks for violent and sexual crime.

Subject: Demand for investigation of landlord Rob Ahrens and College Inn employee Michael.

Dear Seattle FBI:

I hope you are well. Forward this demand immediately to Special Agent in Charge Voiret.

Evidently FBI investigative capacities are lacking, and FBI diligence has been absent in matters of endless queer and prostitute harassment against me in recent years and decades.

There is every reason to believe that queer and closeted queer politicians and prostitution-involved police organize this ongoing daily criminal harassment.

This e-mail is a demand for investigation of the communication records of landlord Rob Ahrens and College Inn employee Michael.

Contract tracing of these two psychotic liars will predictably lead you to Jenny Durkan, Ana Mari Cauce, Ed Murray, Gavin Newsom, or Joe Biden -- or a host of other queer-pandering politicians.

Queer mobbing is an unparalleled atrocity, regrettably prevalent in our times. It is a psychological, social and economic torture tool designed to evade law enforcement. Mobs of queers and prostitutes, dependent on social welfare, are largely idle and free to punish anyone for disliking their horrific torture activities.

Queer panderers like Rob Ahrens then have the nerve to turn around and accuse chronic victims of queer warfare of having improper attitudes or using "illegal" words and "illegal" tactics like photographing stalkers and loiterers profiling to be prostitutes or sado-queer harassers.

Seattle FBI will not hear the end of this complaint until they conduct thorough contact tracing of current mass perpetrators

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Rob Ahrens, employee Michael, and their affiliated cohort of gang stalkers.

This demand is provided as a courtesy in the interest of public health and safety.

Subject: Demand for removal of UW President Ana Mari Cauce.

Dear UW Board of Regents:

I hope you are well.

This e-mail is a demand for the forced retirement of mentally pathological UW President Ana Mari Cauce.

On Wednesday, September 15, 2021 Cauce was issued a cease and desist demand regarding unacceptable continued sado-queer, heterophobic, racist, black supremacist, prostitution-involved stalking, loitering, mobbing, trespassing, harassing or hate-speech (including hate speech by attire and grooming) on campus.

On Thursday, September 16, 2021 a loitering unkempt, unsightly Negro female, profiling to being a student prostitute, blocked safe passage at the north end of the Rosling Building, constituting apparent criminal stalking in my customary path, and targeting my actual passage time.

This post-demand incident is sufficient cause for Cauce's removal, given the hundreds of similar incidents in recent months.

Investigations of on-campus prostitution trafficking, racially-biased grading, admission and hiring practices, abuse of illegal steroids by Negro athletes for propaganda purposes, and drug trafficking on campus are lacking and overdue.

In her dismissal papers, UW must also cite her wrongful siding with racist pressure groups related to her premature and ignorant proclamations regarding the George Floyd national insurrection and election fraud hoax. As you know, she passed judgment on criminal litigation before it had concluded. As you know, that case has not yet concluded, and all relevant evidence has not yet been properly heard. As you know, you cannot talk if you cannot breathe. As you know, George Floyd is a documented inveterate liar. As you know, George Floyd and Derek Chauvin had a personal relationship -- almost certainly a homosexual relationship -- spanning several years prior to the 10-minute staged theatrical incident.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Please act immediately to dismiss President Cauce. It is recommended that Board Chair Rojelio Riojas immediately take custody of the President's office to assure that no evidence (for criminal investigations) be destroyed, and that the Board immediately appoint a temporary successor.

Thank you in advance for your help in the matter of public health and safety.

Subject: Did Federal Judge Robert Lasnik Obstruct Justice in a Clinton/Obama Sex-Crime Case?

Dear Respected Readers:

I hope you are well.

As you may know, the Clinton administration effectively sponsored a new low-income housing project in Seattle's Magnuson Park around 1998. The park, which is located in a high-income district, is known to be a part of the Pedophile Capital of North America (North Seattle).

The purpose of placing low-income, sex-crime-involved indigents on the plate of Clinton's prostitution-buying political donors was to pimp out one Clinton constituency to another, with Clinton collecting political contributions as payment. The initial housing project featuring adult prostitutes was started under Clinton and was expanded to include juveniles under Barack Obama, with the completion of Brettler Apartments in 2011, which housed low-income households.

It is no minor finding that a careful biographical examination of both Bill Clinton and Barack Obama clearly indicates that both men were the sons of career prostitutes, who almost certainly pimped out Clinton and Obama when they were juveniles. Clinton's and Obama's complete lack of disclosure of personal pedophiliac sex-crime involvement, and their many efforts to cover up personal and family crimes constitute part of the most insidious fraud ever committed against American voters. (John F. Kennedy's similar defrauding of American voters must also be included in this sordid threesome.)

A 2018 federal case in Seattle court pinpointed juvenile sex-and-drug crime trafficking in Magnuson Park. The case was assigned to Judge Robert Lasnik, a Clinton appointee, who dismissed the case over the objections of the plaintiff, who was being relentlessly harassed by prostitutes at the park, and who was criminally driven from his home, and defamed by a Mob of prostitution-involved administrators and politicians in Seattle.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Our investigation asks simply what evidence of contact can be demonstrated between Judge Lasnik and Clinton or his sponsored kiddie pimps and drug peddlers operating in Magnuson Park?

This preliminary investigation report is provided as a courtesy, in the public interest of promoting public health and safety.

Subject: ELECTION INTEGRITY CAUCUS - SPREADSHEET SHOWING REPORTED VOTES VS ACTUAL PACKET DATA VOTES BY STATE
Attachment(s): "2020 ELECTION THE REAL STATE BY STATE NUMBERS OF PRESIDENT TRUMP'S VICTORY Excel.xlsx"

Dear team, when I initially sent this out, I only had emails for 21 members of the caucus. I have since received the rest of your emails and so I thought the rest of you might benefit from this summary of the packet data we got at the Cyber Symposium. Sorry if this is a duplicate for some of you. Hope the format works for all of you.

Subject: ELECTION INTEGRITY CAUCUS Covid-19 Part 2 India Declares Largest State Covid Free Using Ivermectin

FACTS: The new experimental Covid-19 vaccines do not cure Covid-19, nor do they prevent it. They do not provide long-term immunity like the natural immunity from having the disease. (Therefore booster shots are required) There is no cure for Covid-19, just like the common cold. However, there are incredibly effective treatments for the various symptoms. Using these treatments, medicines at home, 85% of patients never even have to go to the hospital. This is if they are treated early, during the first 1 to 14 days.

There are those who, after viewing Part 1 of this series, agree that it is highly likely that the new experimental Covid-19 vaccines are in fact dangerous. Having the deaths from vaccines increase 51 times, after the vaccines were released, just does not reinforce the statement that these experimental investigative vaccines are safe. These people are however concerned that if we don't use these vaccines, what will we do to help those with Covid-19? Let's see.

In the beginning, in January 2020, until the new experimental vaccines were released in December, the CDC guidance to doctors was to send patients with Covid-19 home to self quarantine. When they got progressively sicker, they could be rushed to the hospital and placed in intensive care units. After the vaccines were released, the only change was they could now be given the vaccines after they were quarantined. We wonder, what else can we do?

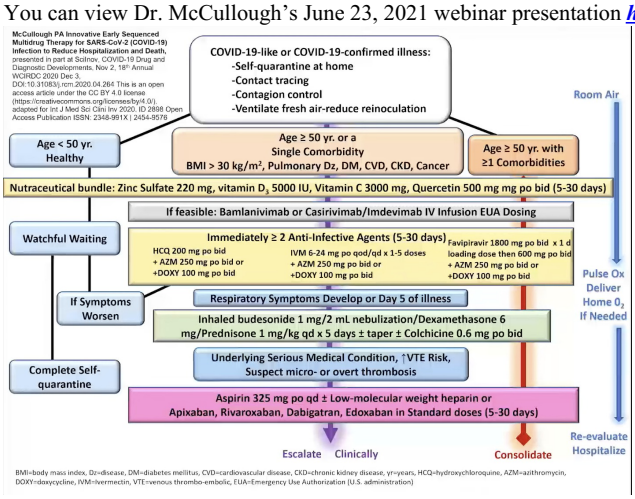

EFFECTIVE TREATMENTS

On October 2, 2021, OAN news reported that the largest state in India, with 241 million people, may have found the answer. They decided to ignore the advice of our CDC and instead began using Ivermectin early, (likely with other meds as well) to treat the symptoms of Covid-19. It does not cure the disease, it just takes care of the symptoms that can lead to suffering and death, all without any serious side effects like the vaccines have. Two scientists won a Nobel Prize in 2015 for Ivermectin and its use for parasitic infections in humans. It was later found to be effective in animals as well.

This state in India has a Covid-19 vaccination rate of just 5.8% while the US stands at around 60%, yet they have reported only 199 active cases of Covid-19 compared to the US at 130,000. How did this happen?

It all began when several courageous doctors, from around the world, early in 2020 refused to heed the national health officials. These health officials stated early on that all we could do for patients with Covid-19 was send them home to quarantine until they got so sick they had to be rushed to the hospital. These doctors refused to allow their patients to suffer horribly and die while waiting for the hoped for vaccine cure.
One of these doctors was Dr. Peter McCullough, from Texas A&M University Medical School. He published the first Covid-19 early treatment paper in The American Journal of Medicine, August 6, 2020. He has now published (46). He has more published medical papers regarding his field, hearts and kidneys, than any doctor in the world, in history. On March 11, 2021 he relates his story of how he and colleagues around the world came up with a solution to this critical viral problem. This YouTube video of his testimony to the Texas Senate HHS Committee has received 4,003,302 views, and for good reason.

HERE WE HAVE A DIAGRAM OF THEIR SOLUTION TO COVID-19
You can view Dr. McCullough's June 23, 2021 webinar presentation here

When his earliest video, in 2020, explaining to doctors (see above) how to treat Covid-19, was removed after just one week by YouTube, he and several colleagues testified, November 19, 2020, before the United States Congress about their treatments for Covid-19 and how these treatments were censored.

SUMMARY
There are treatments that are very effective for Covid-19. However, the problem remains that the CDC refuses to approve or recommend them. You see, these treatments compete with the more highly publicized and expensive vaccines. Although the Covid-19 vaccines only had a few months of trials, the CDC insists that these competing drugs undergo the usual long-term trials for use specifically on Covid-19, before they will be approved for use.

These drugs have been in use for decades worldwide and have been proven to be highly safe and effective, but just not specifically tested for Covid-19. Therefore the FDA will not approve them for use on Covid-19 and the CMS, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, likewise will not reimburse doctors or insurance companies for their use. Most states and counties likewise will not approve their use and therefore doctors, afraid that their licenses may be revoked, will not use them. This is the very definition of a conundrum. We have a protocol that works and our doctors can't use it.

Coming Up - PART 3 - Where to go for Covid-19 treatments, if your doctor is afraid to treat you with something other than dangerous vaccines. Thousands of courageous doctors who care more about you than they do about Big Pharma and bureaucrats in Washington DC!

Subject: Email Roster for National Election Integrity Caucus

Good Evening, Debbie,

I am looking to send an email to the members of this caucus regarding building an election integrity legislation template for the next session – one that might be useful in all states. I do not have a complete or updated roster. Is that something you have that you might provide to the members of this group?

Thank you.

V/R,
Ron Hanks, Representative, Colorado House District 60

Fellow Republicans,

While this letter was initially sent out by AZ Senator Wendy Rogers (R) to Legislators across the Country who are members of the national 'Election Integrity Caucus' she has asked that I share it with you as well for your consideration. If election integrity is a concern of your constituents and yourself, let Sen. Rogers know that you would like your signature added to this letter. I would encourage doing so sooner rather than later because the Maricopa county audit results are expected any day now and she intends to send this letter out shortly after that.

Thank you all for your time and attention to this matter,

Sincerely,

Dear fellow state legislators,

When the Arizona Audit report comes out any day now, we must be ready to respond immediately.

Attached is the letter I intend to sign. Please message me back only if you, as an elected official, would like to sign the letter below. We need to have this WITH STATE LEGISLATORS' SIGNATURES at-the-ready once the Arizona report is made public. We must command the narrative before the Left does. Simply tell me if you are a YES.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We have put a lot of thought and effort into crafting this letter into just how it is. Attorney Christina Bobb of OAN assisted us in this effort.

Please do not message me back if you are a NO or if you are undecided. We can discuss this on the call tomorrow, but the letter goes out as is. Thank you.

In service,
Wendy

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

To the citizens of the United States of America,

We the undersigned state legislators of the United States are vested with the plenary power by our US Constitution (Article 2 Section 1 Clause 2) to oversee the election of the president of the United States.

It has come to our attention from an audit of 2.1 million ballots in Arizona complemented by an in-depth canvass of votes in Arizona, as well as through multiple different data reviews of voting by independent experts; that our representative republic suffered a corrupted 2020 election.

In addition to Arizona, sworn affidavits have accumulated from our own states detailing rampant corruption and mismanagement in the election process. Multiple audits either underway or about to start, canvasses underway or about to start, and lawsuits challenging the validity of several counties in our states, have already shown fraud and inaccuracies.

We have come to the conclusion that all 50 states need to be forensically audited. Voter rolls should be scrubbed with a canvass of the voters to ensure future integrity of our elections.

If results from these measures prove an inaccurate election was held, as has been shown in Arizona, and is being shown in many other states; then it is clear that certification of our electors was improperly rendered in January 2021 of the November 2020 United States presidential election.

We call on each state to decertify its electors where it has been shown the elections were certified prematurely and inaccurately.

Once it is shown that either Joe Biden would receive fewer than 270 tallied electoral votes, or Donald Trump would receive more than 270 electoral votes, then we call for the US House of Representatives to convene and vote per the US Constitution by means of one vote per state to decide the rightful winner of the election in accordance with the constitutional process of choosing electors.

This is our historic obligation to restore the election integrity of the vote as the bedrock of our democratic republic.

If we do not have accurate and fair elections, we do not have a country.

Signed,

Senator Wendy Rogers, Arizona

Dear President Carmichael:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I hope you are well.

It has come to my attention that Brown v. Topeka Board is not valid legal guidance for educational institutions. Evidence indicates court tampering against SCOTUS by criminal syndicates in Washington, DC that included B. White, A. Goldberg, Howard University, and alumnus T. Marshall. Marshall, in particular, had a long personal history of violence-based court tampering.

For valid legal guidance please refer to Plessy v. Ferguson in the future.

Thank you.

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

At 8:40 p.m. today Monday 9/13/21 College Inn owner Rob Ahrens wrote, as shown below, "You can continue your stay."

Mr. Ahrens still has not quite mastered the concept of leasehold tenancy, and evidently he still believes he has a say now as to whether I continue my residential tenancy, which is guaranteed by law, given that I alway pay promptly and I am a model tenant, a 4.0 GPA honor student. I maintain decorum despite occasional mobbings by sexually harassing guests and employee "Michael."

We suspect that Ahrens is buying time with this tactic, and that he has a last minute surprise planned by way of legal violence -- or his apparent favorite tactic of mobbing me at the Inn front door and in the men's bathroom.

His employee "Micheal" is nearly always lurking at the front door of the hotel when I return. As reported to authorities for months, Michael profiles to being a homosexual prostitute soliciting prostitution full-time at the College Inn.

My Social-Security-approved disability involves PTSD stemming from being mobbed, stalked, assaulted and battered by homosexual men and Negro prostitutes for decades. These criminals were ostensibly under the control of politicians including Willie Brown, Gavin Newsom, Kamala Harris, Ed Murray, Rod Dembowski, and Jenny Durkan. Certain local and national Democratic politicians have prostitution-involved, homosexual pasts that they carefully cover up. By the same token they attempt to smear other, cleaner, better-connected, much-better-qualified Democrats.

FYI.

Kevin,

We will do our best to accommodate your continuing stay. However, your last minute extension request during our hotel's busiest time of the year is extremely unhelpful.

Due to a new cancellation we now have all but one of your requested nights available, however it will require a room move on your part to make this happen.

We are hoping that we have an additional cancellation so the final remaining night opens up for you as well.

Please come speak to me in the office for additional details.

Dear Rob Ahrens, Owner, College Inn Apartments Seattle:

I hope you are well.

This e-mail is made in response to your e-mail of Friday 9/10/21 indicating that you plan an illegal eviction, specifically by failing to provide required notice, required civil procedure or required cause.

As you know, I am a disabled senior and student in the Access Program at the University of Washington. I am on a fixed income, and I must manage my finances carefully.

As you know, I have a lawful month-to-month tenancy at 4000 University Way NE, Apartment 214, Seattle, Washington, and my rent payments have been timely and fully up-to-date for the past four months, since I started my tenancy.

As you know, none of the 18 lawful reasons for eviction in Seattle apply in the case of my tenancy. Moreover, affirmative defenses to any eviction attempt are specified under Seattle Municipal Code 22.206.160. These defenses include that I am a low-income tenant, a student, and that you own more than four rental units in Seattle. I will continue to be a student for the remainder of the school year as specified in the ordinance.

It is my understanding that you are a new landlord, and that you have no working knowledge of the law.

Therefore allow me to instruct you on your next steps.

- Please accept my next rent payment of $1,415.67 for the period of September 17th through October 17th.
- Do not dodge my upcoming timely rent payment.
- Speak to an attorney about your obligations under Seattle Municipal Code 22.206.160.
- In the event that you elect to refuse my rent payment, do not dodge service of court papers demanding compensation of $28,281.33 to $30,281.33.
- Do not lock me out of my apartment on September 17th, an action that will raise the damages you owe in this matter.
- Review the attached draft complaint against you.
- Cease and desist from sponsoring chemical batteries, stalking, sexual harassment, unlawful entry, and renting to known prostitutes on the premises.

Thank you in advance for your help in these matters.

With all due respect,

Kevin "Otto von" Volkmann

Dear fellow state legislators,

When the Arizona Audit report comes out any day now, we must be ready to respond immediately.

Attached is the letter I intend to sign. Please message me back only if you, as an elected official, would like to sign the letter below. We need to have this WITH STATE LEGISLATORS' SIGNATURES at-the-ready once the Arizona report is made public. We must command the narrative before the Left does. Simply tell me if you are a YES.

We have put a lot of thought and effort into crafting this letter intojust how it is. Attorney Christina Bobb of OAN assisted us in this effort.

Please do not message me back if you are a NO or if you are undecided. We can discuss this on the call tomorrow, but the letter goes out as is. Thank you.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

To the citizens of the United States of America,

We the undersigned state legislators of the United States are vested with the plenary power by our US Constitution (Article 2 Section 1 Clause 2) to oversee the election of the president of the United States.

It has come to our attention from an audit of 2.1 million ballots in Arizona complemented by an in-depth canvass of votes in Arizona, as well as through multiple different data reviews of voting by independent experts; that our representative republic suffered a corrupted 2020 election.

In addition to Arizona, sworn affidavits have accumulated from our own states detailing rampant corruption and mismanagement in the election process. Multiple audits either underway or about to start, canvasses underway or about to start, and lawsuits challenging the validity of several counties in our states, have already shown fraud and inaccuracies.

We have come to the conclusion that all 50 states need to be forensically audited. Voter rolls should be scrubbed with a canvass of the voters to ensure future integrity of our elections.

If results from these measures prove an inaccurate election was held, as has been shown in Arizona, and is being shown in many other states; then it is clear that certification of our electors was improperly rendered in January 2021 of the November 2020 United States presidential election.

We call on each state to decertify its electors where it has been shown the elections were certified prematurely and inaccurately.

Once it is shown that either Joe Biden would receive fewer than 270 tallied electoral votes, or Donald Trump would receive more than 270 electoral votes, then we call for the US House of Representatives to convene and vote per the US Constitution by means of one vote per state to decide the rightful winner of the election in accordance with the constitutional process of choosing electors.

This is our historic obligation to restore the election integrity of the vote as the bedrock of our democratic republic.

If we do not have accurate and fair elections, we do not have a country.

Signed,

Senator Wendy Rogers, Arizona

Hello Everyone,

Following is the information we told you we would share on our last call.

This is the letter that has been drafted to be sent out by the NEIC. It does have similarities to the letter that Wendy Rogers had circulated, along with edits that were recommendations from caucus members. Please feel free to review and provide feedback on whether you can agree to sign off on the letter. We'd like for everyone to have a say so, and be in agreement on this before it goes out.

Election Integrity Caucus

Chair: Senator Amanda Chase

Debbie Gwynn, Executive Assistant

debbie@chaseforva.com

September 30, 2021

To the citizens of the United States of America,

We the undersigned state legislators of the United States are vested with the plenary power by our US Constitution (Article 2 Section 1 Clause 2) to oversee the election of the president of the United States.

"Each State shall appoint, in such Manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a Number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress: but no Senator or Representative, or Person holding an Office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector."

It has come to our attention from an independently administered forensic election audit of 2.1 million ballots in Maricopa County, Arizona that the results of the 2020 election in Arizona should not have been certified due to a number of questionable and unexplainable actions taken by the Maricopa County Board of Supervisors to include:

obstruction of an audit sanctioned by the Arizona Senate, deletion of data immediately prior to the audit, corrupted images and refusal to turn over subpoenaed routers and tokens.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In addition, an in-depth canvass of votes in Arizona, as well as through multiple different data reviews of voting by independent experts conclude that there is enough reasonable maladministration to call into question the results of the Arizona 2020 election results and subsequently its electors.

It is clear that certification of Arizona electors were improperly rendered in January 2021 of the November 2020 United States presidential election and we call for a complete nullification of Arizona's electors.

Arizona is not the only state that has experienced an unusually high number of irregularities. Sworn affidavits have accumulated from many states detailing rampant corruption and mismanagement in the election process. Multiple audits are either underway or about to start, canvasses underway or about to start, and lawsuits challenging the validity of several counties in our states, have already shown maladministration and significant inaccuracies.

We have come to the conclusion that all 50 states need to be forensically audited as similar patterns are being discovered across the country. We must restore voter confidence in our election system that was compromised when guardrails were taken off of our election systems in the name of "covid related safety precautions". These safeguards must be restored. Voter rolls should be scrubbed with a canvass of the voters to ensure future integrity of our elections.

We cannot continue as if nothing happened. It is incumbent upon each state to ensure every legal vote is counted so that voters can trust that those elected were truly elected by the people. We must restore voter confidence as election integrity is the foundation of our republic and the peaceful transfer of power.

We the undersigned are legislators committed to seeking full forensic audits in our respective states, introducing risk limiting legislation to ensure fair and transparent elections, and working closely with organizations within our respective states to restore election integrity.

Signed,

Senator Amanda Chase, Virginia

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~
Here are the recommendations provided by the Cyber Ninja's for submission of new legislation you may want to consider submitting in your next session.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~

3 RECOMMENDATIONS

The following sections outline the key recommendations that were determined over the course of this audit.

3.1 Result Reconciliation

Legislation should be considered that does not allow an election to be certified until the Official Canvas and the Final Voted File is fully reconciled. Furthermore, full records for every ballot sent, ballot received, ballot rejected, and ballot voided should have to be fully reconciled within a defined period after the election.

3.2 Voter Registration

Legislation should be considered that requires voter rolls to be entered in an individual's full legal name and adds accountability for Counties that enter rolls in any other format.

3.3 Voter Rolls

Legislation should be considered that links voter roll registration to changes in driver's licenses or other state identification, as well as requiring the current voter rolls be validated against the United States Postal Service (USPS) National Change of Address (NCOA) at a predefined period prior to every election. Any voter roll software should validate that there is only one entry in the state database per identification number, such as a driver's license number.

Laws already exist for interstate reporting of changes in residence, addresses, and driver's licenses. Tying voter roll registration to these forms of identification would greatly increase the likelihood that voter registration details would be kept up to date. Individuals are more likely to remember their license needs to be updated immediately than voter registration, and since most states now offer the ability to register to vote when getting a license, license updates could also update voter rolls.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

It is recommended that the voter rolls be validated against the NCOA both 90 days or more prior to the election, in addition to a week before mail-in ballots are sent out. This check would not be utilized to purge the rolls, but to validate that a mail-in ballot should be sent prior to that ballot going out. The legislature may also want to consider whether a change of address should suspend Permanent Early Voting List (PEVL) enrollment.

In addition, legislation should be considered to require the voter rolls to periodically be compared against ERIC, the Social Security's Master Death List, or other commercially available tools that give access to this information. Failure to do this at least once a year should result in penalties for a county.

3.4 Election Software

Legislation should be considered that would require applications developed and utilized for voter rolls or voting to be developed to rigorous standards that ensure the confidentiality and integrity of the systems. Specifically, its recommended that the Open Web Application Security Project (OWASP) Application Security Verification Standard (ASVS) Level 3 be applied to all applications associated with voter rolls or voting and that it be required that this be fully validated no less than once every two years. Part of this testing should be explicitly testing an programming interface access to validate that no external party has the capability to manipulate the voter rolls.

Furthermore, it should be required that whoever builds the software be required to rotate vendors doing the OWASP ASVS Level 3 assessment a minimum of once every four years, with a rotation of no less than three vendors before returning back to a vendor utilized in the past.

The vendor who performs this work must be willing to attest that their assessment fully covered the ASVS Level 3 requirements that there are no critical or high vulnerabilities detected, and that there is a remediation plan for any moderate risk vulnerabilities.

3.5 Voting Machines

Legislation should be considered that would prohibit connecting tabulators, or the Election Management System Servers or similar equipment from being connected to the internet or any other mechanism that could allow remote access to these systems.

Furthermore, County employees should have access to all administrative functions of all election equipment and have sufficient access to independently validate any configuration items on the device without requiring the involvement of any 3rd party vendor.

In addition, electronic voting machines must always have a paper backup of all ballots which can be used to confirm that votes were cast as intended; and these machines must be regularly maintained according to the vendors recommended maintenance schedule.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Legislation should be considered that would require that paper stocks utilized on election day conform to manufacturer recommendations to ensure that the paper that has been tested in the device is what is actually utilized to cast votes.

Legislation should be considered that requires following all CISA Guidelines for Election Systems and Equipment, the documentation of any variations among these guidelines, and the signing off on a risk memo by the appropriate party for any derivations from those guidelines.

Legislation should be considered which requires the assignment of individual usernames and passwords for all election related equipment and matters.

3.6 Election Audits

Legislation should be considered that creates an election audit department in charge of regularly conducting audits on a rotating basis across all counties in Arizona after elections. This department should validate that the County follows all processes and procedures outlined in the Elections Procedure Manual (EPM), and have the ability to penalize the County for repetitive EPM failures, or other failures that make auditing more difficult.

Legislation should be considered that requires batches of ballots to be clearly labeled, separated from each other in a manner where they cannot easily mix together, and easily connected to the batches run through the tabulation equipment for easy auditing of the system.

Legislation should be considered to penalize purposely inhibiting a legislative investigation, or an officially sanctioned audit of an election.

3.7 Ballots

Legislation should be considered that will make ballot images and the Cast Vote Record artifacts from an election that is published within a few days of the results being certified for increased transparency and accountability in the election process.

Legislation should further be considered that would require all ballots to be cast on paper by hand utilizing paper with security features such as watermarks or similar technology; with a detailed accounting of what paper(s) and the quantities utilized for any given election cycle.

Mail-in voting should incorporate an objective standard of verification for early voter identification, similar to the ID requirements required for in person voting.

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Thank you for your questions.

Are there any circumstances in which someone's registration date can change?

Generally, a voter's date of registration does not change outside of correcting a mistake. The date of registration is the date where the voter first registered to vote in in the county, while any updates to a voter's registration is tracked separately.

The only time a voter may have two dates of registration is if their registration has previously been cancelled and the voter registers again. The original record could be cancelled for a variety of reasons, including death of the voter, voter request, or the voter has moved outside Maricopa County. Only the latest voter registration record is considered valid and a voter cannot use their cancelled record.

Voter Rolls - Background

- AFFSEQ is a unique number found in the voter roll system that is associated with a single transaction to a single user.
  - That change transaction has an image to go along with it to reference the document that authorized the change.
  - AFFSEQ's should be unique and only happen once and definitely shouldn't be shared by users.
- A.R.S. 16-152 requires that complete names be used.

Election System Balance

- If the following situation happened
  - 10 people mailed in a ballot
  - 10 people voted early in person
  - 10 people voted on election day in person
- You would expect
  - The Official Canvas has a total of 30 votes across all the candidates / precincts etc.
  - The VM55 should show a list of 30 people:
    - 10 people who voted via mail-in
    - 10 via Early Voting in Person
    - 10 via Election Day in person
  - EV32 Sents would show 10 ballots mailed
  - EV33 Returns would show 10 mail-in ballots received, and 10 mail-in ballots for EV In Person

None of these system balance.

Voter Rolls - Background

- Registration dates do not generally change unless to correct a mistake.

Thank you for your questions.

Are there any circumstances in which someone's registration date can change?

Generally, a voter's date of registration does not change outside of correcting a mistake. The date of registration is the date where the voter first registered to vote in in the county, while any updates to a voter's registration is tracked separately.

The only time a voter may have two dates of registration is if their registration has previously been cancelled and the voter registers again. The original record could be cancelled for a variety of reasons, including death of the voter, voter request, or the voter has moved outside Maricopa County. Only the latest voter registration record is considered valid and a voter cannot use their cancelled record.

Voter Rolls - Background

- AFFSEQ is a unique number found in the voter roll system that is associated with a single transaction to a single user.
  - That change transaction has an image to go along with it to reference the document that authorized the change.
  - AFFSEQ's should be unique and only happen once and definitely shouldn't be shared by users.
- A.R.S. 16-152 requires that complete names be used.

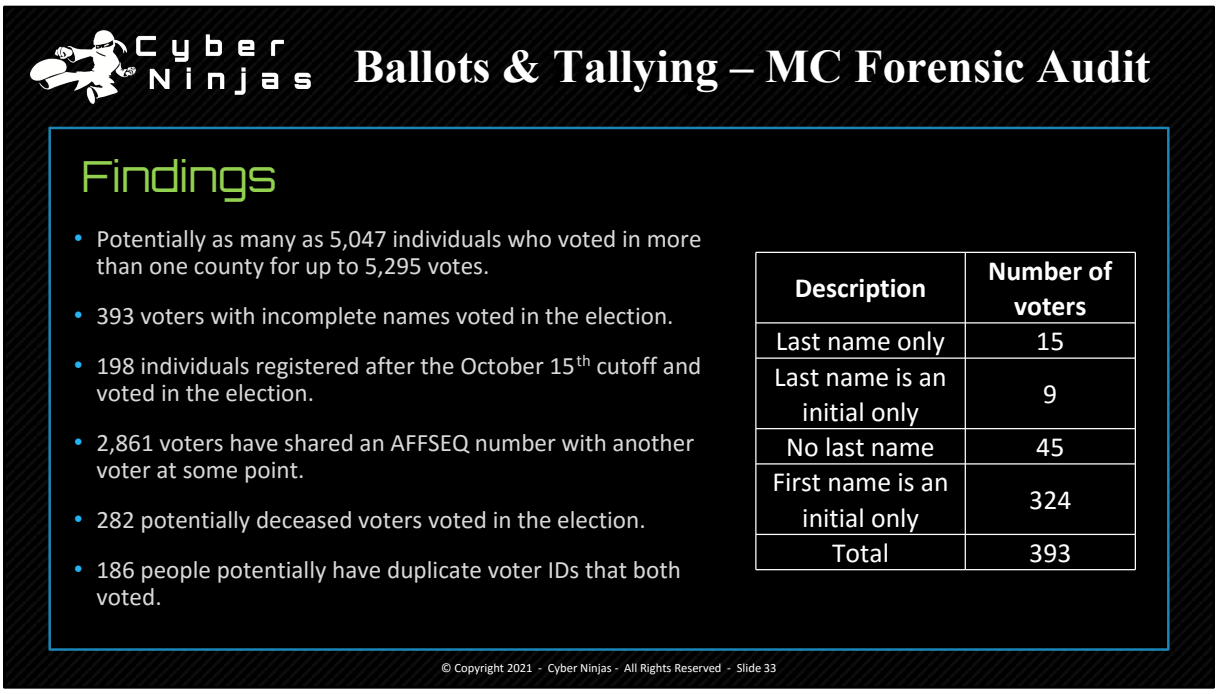

On Aug 30, 2021, at 11:52 AM, voterinfo - RISCX <voterinfo@risc.maricopa.gov> wrote:

Good morning [redacted]. The AFFSEQs refers to Affidavit sequence. Each transaction by a voter will result in an affidavit. The affidavit could be a modification to your registration such as address change, party change or an updated signature as an example. An affidavit identifier is also applied to the affidavit envelope, or a provisional ballot used during an election. These identifiers are unique to each transition and never repeated.

Recommendations – MC Forensic Audit

Ballots

•Legislation should be considered that will make ballot images and the Cast Vote Record artifacts from an election that is published within a few days of the results being certified for increased transparency and accountability in the election process.

•Legislation should further be considered that would require all ballots to be cast on paper by hand utilizing paper with security features such as watermarks or similar technology; with a detailed accounting of what paper(s) and the quantities utilized for any given election cycle.

•Mail-in voting should incorporate an objective standard of verification for early voter identification, similar to the ID requirements required for in person voting.

Recommendations – MC Forensic Audit

Voter Rolls

- Legislation should be considered that links voter roll registration to changes in driver's licenses or other state identification.
- Legislation should be considered that requires voter rolls be validated against the NCOA both 90 days or more prior to the election, in addition to a week before mail-in ballots are sent out. This validates whether a mail-in ballot should be sent before its sent.
- Legislation should be considered that gives a legally required frequency where the voter rolls should be periodically be compared against ERIC, the Social Security's Master Death List, or other commercially available tools that give access to this information.

Recommendations – MC Forensic Audit

Election Software

- Legislation should be considered that would require applications developed and utilized for voter rolls or voting to be developed to rigorous standards that ensure the confidentiality and integrity of the systems.
  - Open Web Application Security Project (OWASP) Application Security Verification Standard (ASVS) Level 3 is recommended.

•Legislation should be considered which requires voter roll and voting equipment, or any other election software to go through regular assessments to confirm ASVS Level 3 requirements are meant.

- Software should not be allowed to be utilized until any Critical or High issues are remediated and there should be a remediation plan for other severity vulnerabilities.

Recommendations – MC Forensic Audit

Voting Machines

•Furthermore, County employees should have access to all administrative functions of all election equipment and have sufficient access to independently validate any configuration items on the device without requiring the involvement of any 3rd party vendor.

•In addition, electronic voting machines must always have a paper backup of all ballots which can be used to confirm that votes were cast as intended; and these machines must be regularly maintained according to the vendors recommended maintenance schedule.

•Legislation should be considered that would require that paper stocks utilized on election day conform to manufacturer recommendations to ensure that the paper that has been tested in the device is what is actually utilized to cast votes.

Recommendations – MC Forensic Audit

Election Audits

- Legislation should be considered that creates an election audit department in charge of regularly conducting audits on a rotating basis across all counties in Arizona after elections.
- Legislation should be considered that requires batches of ballots to be clearly labeled, separated from each other in a manner where they cannot easily mix together, and easily connected to the batches run through the tabulation equipment for easy auditing of the system.
- Legislation should be considered to penalize purposely inhibiting a legislative investigation, or an officially sanctioned audit of an election.

Subject: Holiday Tipsy Biden Thankful for Barry The Fairy's Jive Talk

The Borrowed Wit Report: Presidential Thanksgiving Edition

Joe Biden has been privately thanking "Squeaky" Barry the Fairy for duping the nation with a crack-smoking-induced deep voice and wearing a $199.95 suit stolen from Macys, a tactic that successfully defrauded a blue-jeans-wearing nation.

"Let me propose a toast!" slurred Joe.

"He done it good" says Joe about Ho-Mama's total scam of the American public. "Hee, hee, hee."

The totally dumbed-down American public had no idea that Barry had been pimping his butt on Ala Moana Boulevard/ Queen Street in Honolulu, going home with old Caucasian men for the special price of $29.95.

"Barry's jive talk paved the way for my presidency." "Thank you, Barry the Fairy" sobbed Joe.

Subject: I believe after reading an article about wisconsin dairy farmers in the New Yorker which I am I found it imperative to respond.

I believe first we must realize Donald chump is a con man and barrack insane Obama is a racist who are both severely dividing this country and regardless of whatever lip service either one gives you neither has any intention of helping any dairy farmers anywhere as both only really care about themselves. I believe in the article I read that some dairy farmers are feeling unimportant when they are. Just like all of us are though they're families working farms and unless they really are they aren't patriots or hero's regardless of how much Donald j chump and george w idiot tells them they are. It's called a butter job.
I believe not anyone I'm affialted with wants to put any legitimate enterprise out of business. I believe though while some might consider that America is waging war against dairy farmers it's not. Progress is. Industry's wane. As construction waned and foreign entities entered the market the steel industry collapsed and though I don't see the milk industry collapsed with demand waning slightly because of nonsense I'm sure as american politicians seek to keep the cost of milk as reasonable as possible production costs have probably risen significant. Unfortunately it's called progress and some farms had to consolidate and some close. This isn't the United States of America in the 50s after world war 2 when we were the only game in town and everyone could almost expect to keep the same job throughout their career. Those days are gone. People always need to prepare to adapt in this new economy.
I believe though when politicians confront foreign consumers of our dairy products there's going to be a retaliation and they all knew it. If you wait for Donald chump to make america great at best were all going to be on cheese and bread lines with Donald chump and his cronies paying people 4 dollars an hour to produce the cheese and bread. Trust me.
There really is only one choice for President
So help me God
Sincerely
Donald B Mckiegan 3rd

Subject: I have a message for Biden's DOJ

CAUTION:External email.

Dear Friend --

Joe Biden's Attorney General, Merrick Garland, has threatened to send the corrupt Justice Department to Arizona to apply "scrutiny" to the audit process.

Friend, the Deep State is desperate to stop the audit of the ballots in Arizona.

They've tried everything -- including Soros sending in over 100 high-powered attorneys to try to stop the audit.

But their efforts have failed.

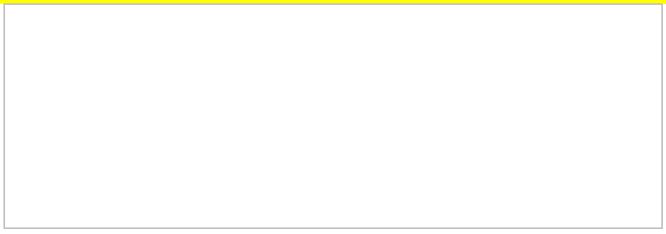

And now the Deep State is making a last-ditch effort to stop the audit by bringing in Biden's corrupt DOJ to "scrutinize" the process.

I haven't backed down from the Deep State's threats and intimidation tactics.

And with the ballot audit process nearing the finish line, I sure as hell will not back down now -- not even from Biden's corrupt Department of Justice.

In fact, I've got a message for Garland Merrick and his minions at the DOJ.

"TOUCH THE BALLOTS OR MACHINES IN ARIZONA -- AND GO TO PRISON!"

"You will not touch Arizona ballots or machines unless you want to spend time in an Arizona prison. Maybe you should focus on stopping terrorism. The Justice Department is one of the most corrupt institutions in the USA."

Can I count on you to help make sure Garland Merrick gets the message loud-and-clear by chipping in a donation to help make sure we have the resources to FINISH the audit of the ballots in Arizona?

This is it, Friend.

The forensic audit of the ballots in Arizona is the first step toward exposing the massive amount of corruption and fraud that took place on November 3.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

If we allow the Deep State to stop the audit, it could deal a devastating blow to election security in America.

So please, step up and chip in a donation to help see the audit through to its completion.

Thank you in advance for your support.

Click HERE to chip in whatever you can to help fight back.

I'll be sure and keep you updated from the frontlines of the fight in Arizona.

I hope you are well.

Please impeach, convict and deport the voodoo economist's daughter back to Jamaica. Stop honoring the moronic legacy of Howard University.

It is easier to rid yourself of the pestilent, plastic-pearl-wearing pygmy whore sidekick of white-trash, drug-addict parent Joe Biden than you might realize.

If you are tired of seeing the fat bull-dyke neck and blubbery mega-thighs on this prostitution-pandering pervert VP, just speak up!

The Examples of Boy Rapist Ed Murray and Career Harlot Carmen Best

- I was the first Washington Democratic elected official to call for the legal removal of serial boy rapist Seattle Mayor Ed Murray from office. Over a period of a few short months, others joined in a diverse call for his lynching or resignation. After being the lone initial voice for weeks, the herd heard my call to action, and pock-marked, slime-bag moron Murray's political career was ended for good.
- As you know, the grunge-class, drug-dealing Seattle PD sponsors prostitution in Washington's largest city gone queer asylum and pedophile put up. As you know, SPD hired a career prostitute, Carmen Best, to lead the city into its full-time molestation of youth and wanton spreading of its butt cheeks to foreign criminal gangs. Much like Abraham Lincoln, I was the lone voice for the deportation of psychopath Carmen Best back to Africa. After not too many weeks of advocacy, my mission was partly accomplished with that witch's resignation from the force.

Twisted, drunken queer journalists in the Kennedy Era have mutilated history to suggest that Lincoln only wanted to free the slaves. Clearly the historical record shows that Lincoln needed to free the slaves from their sex-pervert English and Irish owners before having the United States government deport these unsightly freed citizens back to locations including Panama, Haiti and Liberia. As everyone knows, you can legally deport ordinary citizens, but you cannot seize the property of others en masse for removal to foreign lands.

Refresh your Kennedy-big-lie-impaired Republican memories with the following evidentiary articles from the National

Today the world stands united against the queer American military's psychotic plundering, raping hate-wars against its citizens. Act now to get rid of the global sexual-abuse queen, Kamala Harris, as an important step toward joining the civilized nations of the world.

Subject: Incident Report: UWPD boyfriend stripped naked on campus.
Attachment(s): "images.jfif"

Dear Loyal Readers:

I hope you are well.

Today I witnessed a stunt on the UW Seattle campus from a distance. We may presume that UWPD and UW administration were involved with organizing the observed criminal activity.

At 2:28 p.m. a Negro male, presumably an intimate Negro male prostitute buddy of UWPD officers, was stripping naked on the sidewalk between the UW Law School and the Burke Museum.

CAT (Captive Agency Theory) suggests that American police departments have been completed coopted by Negro syndicated gangs and their Irish-American drug-and-prostitution peddling bosses. (For instance, sexual relations between Derek Chauvin and George Floyd, partners in crime at the drug-and-sex peddling Minneapolis night club, El Nuevo Rodeo, may also be presumed. We may presume that George Floyd was not killed by the 10-minute video stunt aired worldwide, largely because he could breath for the first four minutes as indicated by his ability to speak. After that, Chauvin was applying the same knee restraint to the back and sides of Floyd's neck, per the MPD procedures manual, and you can't cut off air in anyone's trachea from the back or side of the neck. It looks like prolific liar George Floyd was playing dead in the few minutes before the paramedics loaded him in an ambulance. Love between tidy-looking cops and unkempt Negro criminals is presumably pandemic. Appearances are intended to be misleading.)

So the question still remains, which UWPD cop(s) had this psychotic Negro male stripper for a boyfriend? I am sure that FBI could get to the "bottom" of this case, if they were professionals at the FBI. Do not "hold your breath."

Fair readers, this report is provided as a courtesy, in the interest of public health and safety.

Subject: Independent voter- how you win and lose us

Republican members of the Washington and Oregon Legislatures:

I spent all day composing this message, and I ask you all to do me the honor of reading it. I am an Independent voter who has contributed about $2,000 in the past six months to various members of your party. Contributions that I have had second thoughts about-- but don't make any assumptions.

I was pleased to read that the Republican party is moving forward with writing legislation to make changes to the handling of elections. Elections (and recalls) are meaningless until they are handled appropriately.

First, a short sequnce of events. In 2017 I sold my home in Napa, California. I rented a house, 831 Valencia Avenue in Walla Walla, in October 2017 until I could purchase a home in Eastern Oregon. I registered my vehicle in Washington, but I don't believe that I registered to vote in there. In May 2018 I purchased a home in Elgin, Oregon. I was automatically registered to vote, by the Department of Motor Vehicles. When the 2018 election rolled around, I remember receiving a notice in my [still open] PO Box in Walla Walla that questioned my eligibility to vote since I was registered elsewhere.

Along comes 2020. I have once again changed my residency, to Morton, Washington, and registered to vote here. I received a ballot in the mail from Oregon. I also received a ballot from Washington. I shredded the Oregon ballot, since I had become a Washington resident. However, when I filled out the Washington ballot, I forgot the security envelope. Believing that the "security" was purely for my own benefit, I decided not to tamper with the seal of the outer envelope, as that would assuredly come under question. I sent in the ballot, and now I believe that my vote was not counted in Washington, due to it not having the security envelope. None of this would have occurred at the polls.

Mail-in ballots contribute to an unfair bias against senior voters of all kinds, especially those of us who live alone. We are at a big disadvantage because we are becoming forgetful, and I have no doubt that if you went to count the ballots that were disposed of, you would find that a disproportionate number of them were from seniors, who are used to filling out sample ballots, then going to the polls to vote instead of having to qualify to vote through stuffing envelopes and signing the back. (A better qualifying mechanism would be for all Americans to pass a citizenship test.)

Who fills out my other misappropriated ballots? Did someone in Oregon vote for me? Am I receiving ballots in California, too? If I had been dishonest, and filled out both ballots and sent them in, would anybody have noticed?

Secondly, I spent last Fall touring around my new home in Morton, Washington, from Olympia to Portland, and out to the coast. I made trips to Elgin and back, using various routes, eating and walking the dog in many towns along the way to break up the trips. I traveled WA Highways 4, 5, 6, 7, 12, 14, 508, 101, 161, 167, 90, 410, 82, 125, 503, 504 and many roads without numbers. I also traveled OR Highways 82, 84, 11, 26, 395, 205 and 217.

With all that driving in traditionally Democrat regions of both states, I expected to see quite a few Biden-Harris signs and bumper stickers. I saw one, on a back road near Puyallup, WA. One. Trump signs were everywhere. It is intuitively obvious to the most casual observer that this election was stolen in many more than four states. DJT did not tell me the election was stolen. I said it first.

We need to get voting back in to the prcinct polls, on ELECTION DAY. We need purple inked thumbs if showing identification is "unconstitutional". Those who take the time to keep up on the events, those who have always "bothered themselves" with showing up to vote, are disadvantaged with mail-in ballots. Lazy people have no place voting, because they don't even know what or whom they are voting for. So they vote for the names they recognize-- Incumbents. Therein lies the lifetime politician problem. They read only the two manipulated sentences on Measures.These people were able to show up and take a driving test. They know what day Christmas falls on. Why is voting a hand-held nanny-state event? This coming from an Independent voter.

Lastly, I would like to point out that I did NOT vote for DJT in 2016, I financially supported and voted for Gary Johnson. No, I do not use drugs. I voted Libertarian because the Constitution was designed to be employed first and foremost in the administration, governance and management of the people of this country. Every court case should begin and end with the Constitution. It does not need libraries full of case law to interpret it. Why do we continue to build one bad decision upon another?

I am a twelfth generation American, descendant of Samuel and Elizabeth Packard who sailed here from Colchester, England in 1638 and settled in Bridgewater, MA. Even considering the oppression of the Anglican church, I'm sure they would not have rejected Christianity. Inasmuch, it is no mistake that our forefathers left us with an essence of "Separation of Church and State". The Republican Party seems to have a lot of trouble with the idea, and hugs the line continuously. It causes the party to make some very bad decisions. Do you not see that it is problematic for those of us who do not believe that the Republic and God are one in the same? If you believe in God, then you should also believe that our bad personal decisions will be dealt with by God. You intervene in the "free will" element you say you believe in. On the other hand, the Republican Party is generally scornful of the "nanny state" meddling of the Democratic Party. Why do you continue to pursue the prayer-in-school agenda. Do you not see how your children are shielded from outside influences as long as prayer is banned? What if there is a child who believes that a dog is to be sacrificed every day at noon? I read a lot of comments on media stories and there are far too many God-victims, who believed that if they just prayed harder, God would make the machines rack up votes for Trump. Some were actually thinking Trump is God. Then they were freaked out when they were suddenly left without a leader. That is insanity, not faith. They are trained to look for guidance, and if you are pitching to them, then you need to take responsibility. You should be advising your contingency on what exactly they need to do. How to get out the vote. How to start a recall. How to hurt social media. But you were all hiding, trying to keep the Trump cooties off you, buying in to the Democrat agenda, even though 74+ million people say there weren't any cooties!

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I had hoped that we would one day get away from these two parties that pitch and hold tenaciously to certain factions [sic] of the population. I vote for people, not for parties. And I am not alone in this. This is the first time in my life that I voted down Republican Party lines. Why? Because when I was filling my face on Thanksgiving in 2016, DJT was working on bringing jobs back to our fellow citizens. I believe that the Democratic Party has lead us in to very disturbing waters. I have spent time in both the USSR and China and I know that DJT, despite his orangeness and other shortcomings, was trying to preserve this Republic. He does not have dementia, but he is probably close to a nervous breakdown since much of his own party has thrown him under the bus-- the very people who determined TWICE that he was the best representative of their party.

In a recent interview with The Observer, one of you stated that you had no idea what had happened on January 6 at the Capitol, but went on to say that you voted for impeachment. What was your motivation, sir? It wasn't Republican, it wasn't Christian, it wasn't insightful. It was pandering to Democrats, since you think you have all the Republican votes wrapped up, no matter what. I spared you the embarassment of replying publicly, but I am telling you right now, that it just isn't so. Republicans can't win any more with just the rubber stamp Christian contingency, and Libertarians are looking for some place to go. Where will it be?

Fix this election situation, because people like me are much inclined to never vote R again, either.

Sincerely,

Janet E. Hollibaugh

Subject: Intelligence Report: Biden's Most Ethical Friend Resigns due to Drunken Gay Sex Scandal

CAUTION:External email.

Dear Legislators:

I hope you are well.

Just five months after presiding over Biden's inauguration morning mass in Washington, DC, Santa Clara University President Kevin O'Brien resigned amid allegations of sexual misconduct at the Jesuit university. See the San Jose Mercury

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

News article. 1

Dinner conversations with male students studying to become priests were a primary source of allegations. College President O'Brien has admitted to alcoholism.

Joseph R. Biden Jr. referred only once to "decency" in his inaugural speech, promising to write "An American story of decency and dignity." Perhaps Biden's sentence fragment was a malapropism. He may have meant "desensitivity" or "debauchery."

Kevin O'Brien was arguably Biden's most ethical friend.

This report is provided as a courtesy in the spirit of bipartisanship and independence.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION!

Election Integrity Caucus Members:

Representative Larry Kowallis was kind enough to take notes from our last meeting and I wanted to share them with you; many thanks to him for taking the time to put them together and share them!

NATIONAL ELECTION INTEGRITY CAUCUS

SEPTEMBER 14, 2021 7:30 PM EST
Conducting: Amanda Chase, Virginia State Senator
22 people were present

1. It was suggested before the meeting began that we change the meeting application to something other than Zoom for security reasons. This was agreed upon and Amanda will follow through on this.
2. It was decided that these caucus meetings will not be recorded by anyone for security purposes.
3. Mark Finchem reported the following:
4. How to start to have your state authorize an election forensic audit. He recognized that he had hundreds of constituents calling him with complaints about the election. When this happens on any subject, elected officials need to hold a public hearing so their complaints can be aired. Leadership will often refuse to hold such a meeting. As a legislator, you have the power to hold a meeting to listen to YOUR constituents, you do not need leadership approval because you are not having a select committee investigation. He could not hold his meeting in the capitol so he rented another venue. He then found a team to set up the hearing.
5. You must detail and frame your objective properly. The objective is not to overturn any election, it is to prove or disprove allegation and questions brought by your constituents. This way if allegations are proved accurate, and there was fraud, you win. If the allegations are proved false, and the election was clean, you win.
6. The media wants fast results of your investigation, they don't care about the facts or accuracy. We want accuracy and the investigation will be complete when it is accurately finished.
7. When there is election fraud, the people are the victims. Legislators who address these wrongs become heroes because they listen to their constituents, no matter which way the investigation goes. Of course the media will do their best to paint us as villains.
8. If you are not the hero type, willing to take the shots, that is ok, just get behind and support those who are willing to take the hits.
9. Don't be afraid to ask questions of your leadership and to hold hearings.
10. Pima county in Arizona is getting ready to canvas voters. 97.5% of the ballots sent out were returned. 62% is normal. Huge discrepancy.
11. A trick the opposition uses it to place fictitious voters ie those who have moved or died, on the voter roles in strong Republican precincts. The number of ballots returned are then way to high. As voting percentage hits 80%, Republican votes are way high and Democrat returns stay flat and Trump votes went way down. Republicans get all excited because the registered Republican voters has gone way up but it is a mirage.
12. It is the voter registration that is the big problem, not so much the voting machines. Fictitious ballots are being printed and we need to look at the actual ballots.
13. 10.Each state needs to identify the counties that look suspicious and target them. They need to look at other legislators to join the Election Integrity Caucus and put together a package to show them to get them on board.
14. 11.Arizona, with Mark Finchem, chose legislators from varied areas ie rural and urban, senators and representatives, large cities and small towns to be on their hearing panel. You want as wide a representation as you can get. As you begin searching for them, the Dems will be calling them ahead of you to warn them off. Expect it.
15. 12.At the hearings, let the public say what they came to say. DON'T grandstand and make speeches, that is not what these hearings are about. People want to know that you care about them and their concerns. Ask clarifying questions and no more.
16. 13.Limit speakers to 5 minutes. If the panel has questions, extend their time. Let people know you are listening by asking questions and restating what they said to make sure you understand. Some read from prepared documents that were notarized and turned in.

17. 14.Have a video record saved and stored somewhere online for the public to view. This is your advertising. (Rights Broadcasting is a source for this. Contact Mark Finchem)
18. 15.A Select Committee is called only by the Senate or Reps. If they do call one, make sure to give them a date to meet. If they won't, or drag it out, hold your own and invite them. People need hope, a meeting to be heard gives that to them. Be prepared to hire your own facility, try to get the legislature to pay for it, but be prepared if they don't. If they don't, go on the air and social media to ask for donations. Mark got the $25,000 he needed in a couple of weeks, you can do it.
19. 16.Have any legislators proposed a bill to prevent the use of voting machines to count ballots? If so, please contact Amanda Chase. We need to prohibit all machines for the primary tabulation.
20. 17.If you have received a letter from Wendy Rogers to add your signature to, please return it to her immediately. She needs 100 signatures. This is for legislators only. If you have not received this letter, please contact her asap so she can send it to her. This is how we support each other.
21. 18.If you have an event and wish to have it publicized nationally, call Wendy Rogers, she has the contacts.
22. 19.Every other week, there is a call from data scientists at 3 PM (Saturdays). If you wish to be on the list, contact Debbie Gwynn. It lasts 2 hrs, next one on Sept 25th.
23. 20.Robert Sutherland, Rep from Washington, met with Arizona to see what they were doing as he looked to build up the Republican Caucus in Washington. He did not ask the party leadership (who are often reluctant in strong Dem states) if he could hold a hearing. He simply announced to them that he was going to hold a public hearing. Next thing you know, they decided to hold an election integrity hearing. He also held his. They quoted a poll that said few Republicans were interested in a public hearing on election integrity. He paid for a poll by Rasmussen and it showed 71% of Republicans were all for the hearings. So don't believe the opposition's polls, order your own. Ask the media and social media, to help find a venue. Sometimes will be FREE.

Larry Kowallis

I also wanted to share something from Representative Mark Alliegro. He provided the language he used for the legislation he submitted on the ballots and says you are welcome to use this same language should you desire:

Debbie, as per the conversation at last night's Zoom meeting, here is the language used in the bill I just submitted to the NH House:

Notwithstanding any existing statutes, regulations, or practices, all elections in New Hampshire shall be conducted using hand-marked, durable paper ballots, and said ballots shall be hand-counted and tallied without use of computers, scanners, or other electronic devices other than simple adding machines.

It is expressed in one sentence for a reason, and not that it took a genius to draft, but anyone in the group is welcome to use it in their own state.

Subject: Ongoing Election Integrity Efforts

PLEASE MAKE ARRANGEMENTS TO ATTEND OUR NEXT CONFERENCE CALL ON ELECTION INTEGRITY SCHEDULED FOR AUGUST 24, 2021 at 7:30pm

Hello Fellow Legislators,

Once again, let me thank you for being in South Dakota and participating in the Cyber Symposium last week. I am honored to have had the opportunity to meet and spend time with you.

As we agreed, we will have a bi-monthly conference call to further discuss Election Integrity and continue to move the effort forward.

This meeting is only for sitting legislators. It is my hope that one of the candidates running for office will pick up this effort and pull together all those not elected, but that are interested, in the Election Integrity Coalition, to begin a similar effort.

We won't stop until we have answers.

Lastly, enjoy the picture we all took together; it turned out awesome! If there are other legislators interested in participating, please reach out to my Executive Assistant at: Debbie@ChaseForVA.com.

Hello,

What is happening in the world right now has nothing to do with Democrats or Republicans. I have friends all over the world and they are all facing the same issues we are.

Lockdowns and the troubles from the lockdowns
Right being stripped away
Being called racist if they are white or patriotic to their country

No matter what your political preference, before making any more decisions please watch the three videos I've included in this email.

For Oregon. Please get Kate Brown under control. Have her open our state. The lockdown are scientifically unneccessary.

Subject: Proposal: Extradite Pete Buttigieg to Kabul for Having Raped Afghan Boys.

Honorable Readers:

I hope you are well.

It has been proposed that the United States extradite war criminal Pete Buttigieg to the custody of the new Taliban government in Afghanistan for trial and possible execution. Buttigieg's drunken, stoned military service in that country would be the subject under scrutiny.

We surmise that global pay-per-view coverage of the trial and prospective hanging would yield as much as $3 billion in revenues to be used for relief in this country on the brink of humanitarian disaster.

This report is provided as a courtesy, in the public interest.

Subject: Proposal: UW Memorial to Chinese, Korean, and Filipino victims of Japanese Rape Camps.

Dear UW Regents:

I hope you are well. Here are some more suggestions from a polymath in-the-know.

This e-mail pleads for three memorials to the victims of organized sex trafficking. Each of these memorials should be erected on the UW Seattle Campus.

Memorial to Japanese Rape Camp Victims

As you know, San Francisco unveiled a memorial to Japanese rape torture camps in 2017. Seattle is usually about 5 years or more behind San Francisco, so it is coming to be time for a Seattle memorial of the same type.

Memorial to Havana, Cuba Victims of Casino Sex Slavery Under Dictator Batiste

In addition to promoting alcoholism, drug abuse, gambling, loan sharking, poverty, disease and ignorance, Cuban Dictator Fulgencio Batiste oversaw the enslavement of hundreds of Havana children in a sex trade pandering to American, European and Asian pedophiles. A suitable memorial on the UW Seattle Campus is warranted.

Memorial to Current Sex Trafficking Victims at the University of Washington

The word overseas has been that UW is the bordello of choice for foreign students seeking a sex tourism experience under the guise of education. "Copacabana University," as it is affectionately known in Japan, is the destination for socially inadequate, inherently non-competitive young men who seek to spend their parents' money on prostitution and drugs.

The suggested Sex Trafficking Memorial should be no less than 500 feet high.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thank you for quickly taking action to build these three very important memorials.

Respectfully,

K. "Otto von" Volkmann
UW Student

Your support for urging Congress to fund this vitally significant 21st Century landmark is respectfully requested.

We are waiting for Governor Newsom's response to this namesake proposal.

This estimate is based on information from the World Health Organization. The WHO also estimated that at least 240 million have been seriously injured by alcohol-caused disease and accidents during the same period representing the Newsom reign of drug-lord-supremacist hatred of human life.

Your support for urging Congress to fund this vitally significant 21st Century landmark is respectfully requested.

We are waiting for Governor Newsom's response to this namesake proposal. It has been suggested that he may propose a 5-foot-tall pile of used nasal swabs and soiled paper face masks as an additional memorial add-on to honor people who have died of multiple causes and pre-existing conditions, and who have endured hysterical government policies.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hello Fellow Legislators,

Once again, let me thank you for being in South Dakota and participating in the Cyber Symposium last week. I am honored to have had the opportunity to meet and spend time with you.

As we agreed, we will have a bi-monthly conference call to further discuss Election Integrity and continue to move the effort forward.

This meeting is only for sitting legislators. It is my hope that one of the candidates running for office will pick up this effort and pull together all those not elected, but that are interested, in the Election Integrity Coalition, to begin a similar effort.

We won't stop until we have answers.

Lastly, enjoy the picture we all took together; it turned out awesome! If there are other legislators interested in participating, please reach out to my Executive Assistant at: Debbie@ChaseForVA.com.

804-393-2715 NEW NUMBER

A huge thanks to AZ Senator Wendy Rogers for drafting a letter for legislators to sign in support of decertification of the Arizona electors.

The National Election Integrity Caucus, a growing number of legislators from across the country, support this effort as well as calling for a full forensic audit in all 50 states.

Please see our press statement below.

Election Integrity Caucus Press Release

Chair: Senator Amanda Chase

Debbie Gwynn, Executive Assistant
debbieChaseforva.com
804 393 2715

October 21, 2021

To the citizens of the United States of America,

We the undersigned state legislators of the United States are vested with the plenary power by our US Constitution (Article 2 Section 1 Clause 2) to oversee the election of the president of the United States, hereby declare that substantial evidence has been produced to question each state's November 2020 election results.

"Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a Number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress: but no Senator or Representative, or Person holding an Office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

On completion of an independently-administered forensic election audit of 2.1 million ballots in Maricopa County, Arizona, it was concluded that the results of the 2020 election in Arizona should not have been certified. The evidence produced a number of questionable and unexplainable actions taken by the Maricopa County Board of Supervisors, which pointed directly to mismanagement and malfeasance, to include obstruction of an audit sanctioned by the Arizona Senate, deletion of data immediately prior to the audit, corrupted images, and refusal to turn over subpoenaed routers and tokens. The findings also produced thousands of duplicated voters, deceased voters, etc.

In addition, through an in-depth canvass of votes in Arizona, as well as through multiple different data reviews of voting by independent experts, it was concluded that the election errors are sufficient to justify decertification of that election and makes clear that certification of Arizona electors was improperly rendered in January 2021 of the November 2020 US presidential election, and we call for a complete nullification of Arizona's electors. Arizona is not the only state that has experienced an unusually high number of irregularities. Sworn affidavits have accumulated from many states detailing rampant corruption and mismanagement in the election process.

Multiple audits that are either underway or about to start, canvasses underway or about to start, and lawsuits challenging the validity of several counties in our states, have already shown maladministration and significant inaccuracies. We must restore voter confidence in our election system that was compromised when guardrails were taken off of our election systems in the name of "covid-related safety precautions". These safeguards must be restored. We have come to the conclusion that all 50 states need to be forensically audited as similar patterns are being discovered across the country. Voter rolls should be scrubbed with a canvass of the voters to ensure future integrity of our elections.

We cannot continue as if nothing happened. It is incumbent upon each state to ensure every legal vote is counted so that voters can trust that those elected were truly elected by the people. We must restore voter confidence as election integrity is the foundation of our republic and the peaceful transfer of power.

We the undersigned are legislators committed to seeking full forensic audits in our respective states, introducing legislation that ensures fair and transparent elections, and working closely with organizations within our respective states to restore election integrity. Please have your legislator reach out to my office if they are interested in signing this letter in support of nullification of the AZ electors and/or if they are interested in joining the Election Integrity Caucus to the email provided above.

Signed,

Senator Amanda Chase, Virginia

Subject: Report: American UFO and wormhole propaganda poisons minds worldwide.

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

One of the most insidious propaganda initiatives of the Kennedy administration was to fabricate hoaxes related to the potential of space travel. UFO hoaxes led the way. The Americans own space was the chauvinistic, bullying message. The big lie was that a new home awaits hyper-polluting, drunken imbecile human beings, who might as well pop open a bottle of whiskey and wait for it all to unfold before their passive, enebriated eyes.

As a result of Kennedy Hollywood conniving, overgrown juvenile delinquent, son of a bad L.A. cop, Gene Roddenberry, fixed the hoax permanently in American minds with his desperately anti-scientific fiction series Star Trek.

The main point of Star Trek was to suggest that the earth is an ashtray to be used for smoking dope, and that someday we all could escape to an infinite number of pleasant planets on which the nubile inhabitants would suck up to our prurient desires. Earth-as-trash-bin has led global population to more than double since the 1966 debut of Star Dreck: the oceans have died, mass extinctions are underway, and global warming will almost certainly result in catastrophe. Democrats have sponsored welfare-for-creating-overpopulation initiatives that will almost certainly result in hooligan democracies that continue to slaughter innocents overseas in endless American/European-aided wars.

A secondary point of Dreck was to try to make Lt. Uhura, played by Nichelle Nichols, and Lt. Sulu, played by George Takei, look less hideous than the hyper-fictional extraterrestrial creatures encountered by the artificially multicultural crew of the Enterprise. Get ready for more extreme weirdness was the retarded message of queer Roddenberry. This subtle hoax helped give hope to the ugly, the malevolent and the extremely hideous. This hope was unwarranted.

No Extraterrestrial Cultures to Be Contacted

My attempts to throw a baseball to the moon are more likely to succeed than the chance of human beings ever coming into any sort of contact with intelligent life from other planets. No motley starship crew of an Extirpate has or will spend more than 3 years in space due to the radiation found outside the earth's magnetic field. At high speeds needed for light-year-distance travel, a pebble could shatter a spacecraft. The required millenia of travel to another possibly habitable planet will destroy any vehicle through ordinary wear, tear, consumption and obscolescence. No way to slow down a speeding spacecraft has ever been devised: a vehicle moving in frictionless space will overshoot any target instantly.

Wormhole mythology has been created to overcome the insurmountable obstacles to contacting those intelligent beings 10 billion light years away, who, for all practical purposes, do not even exist as a contact reality. Alas, there will be no wormholes for the eager worms of mental masturbaters like John F. Kennedy to mount.

The message is clear: do not get your science from JFK affiliates or intellectual heirs like Gene Roddenberry or Gerry Pollet. It is pseudo-science at best.

Hello,

I am conducting a study on the topic of ethical global leadership. For the study, I am talking with political leaders across the globe.

The study aims to produce an ethical global leadership framework to understand distinctive opportunities and challenges in creating ethical leadership in the context of global politics. Your participation in the study may help speed up the transition from the traditional view of global leadership to one, which is based on ethics and trust. The research findings will be published in academic journals.

I was wondering if we could talk for a few minutes via Microsoft Teams or by phone at a time suitable for you to share your valuable experience.

Please find the indicative research questionnaire and a recent research publication (published in the Journal of Business Ethics, a Financial Times Top 50 Journal) attached.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

I look forward to hearing from you.

A Multilevel Trust-based Model of Ethical Public Leadership

Abstract I develop and test a multilevel trust-based model of ethical public leadership, which links ethical leadership, trust and leadership outcomes both within and across organizational levels. I examine how both ethical leadership and trust relate to employee well-being and satisfaction, group organizational citizenship behaviour and perceived organizational performance. The findings, based on data collected from an online quantitative survey conducted in three local councils of the north east of England, provide evidence in support of positive relationships between ethical leadership and employees' trust in leaders at multiple levels. This trust is in turn shown to influence employees' attitudes, behaviours and cognitions.

Keywords Leadership · Ethical leadership · Ethical public leadership · Trust · Local government

In our 2011 assessment of Corruption in the UK, we found a considerable degree of public concern about corruption in local government… Paradoxically, there seemed to be little evidence of widespread corruption taking place, other than these high-profile cases. There might be many explanations for this, such as under-reporting, a prevalence of low-level corruption that is not investigated and poor scrutiny mechanisms – or, indeed, that there is relatively little corruption in UK local government.
(Transparency International UK 2013, p. 3)

Introduction

Local government, a collective term used for all local councils, spends about a quarter of public spending in the UK (Transparency International UK 2013, p. 12), delivering a range of services such as education and social welfare, either by their own staff or by contracting out to private companies. Many local council politicians and officials have responsibilities in areas with potential conflicts of interest between those private companies and the electorates and are thus inherently exposed to the risk of involvement in corrupt practices. Recent scandals in local government (see Transparency International UK 2013, p. 16) have raised concerns to maintain and improve ethical standards in public institutions.

Regardless of the current degree and the extent of unethical behaviour in the UK local government, the key questions are as follows: How important is the concept of ethical leadership in finding a solution to the problem? How can ethical leadership make positive contributions towards public servants' attitudes, behaviours and cognitions? In order to address these questions I developed and tested a multilevel trust-based model of ethical leadership, linking ethical leadership with trust in leaders both within and across organizational levels. I examined how both ethical leadership and trust in leaders contribute to employee well-being and satisfaction, group organizational citizenship behaviour (OCB) and perceived organizational performance in three local councils in north east England.

The ethical public leadership model that I propose in this study considers leadership effects across organizational levels through direct, indirect and bypass mechanisms. The direct leadership effect occurs through the horizontal (lateral) linkages of ethical leadership, trust and leadership outcomes at the same level. The indirect effect involves the effects of ethical leadership and/or trust on adjacent lower levels. The higher-level ethical leadership influence may skip (bypass) levels and directly affect lower-level leaders'/followers' trust and behaviour as a result of direct interactions.

The model is based on three assumptions. First, the context of the study is managerial ethical leadership in public organizations. Political leaders are excluded because they operate in a different context (see Morrell and Hartley 2006). Local politicians have little contact with the majority of employees since they do not manage local councils on a day-to-day basis. Employees are more likely to develop trusting relationships with their supervisors and in turn with the full-time managers up the hierarchy. In organizational settings, it is possible to be a manager and leader at the same time, and there is considerable overlap between the two functions. So, following Yukl (1989), the terms manager and leader are used interchangeably. Second, considering the typically large hierarchical structures of English local government and following DeChurch et al. (2010), Chun et al. (2009) and Yammarino and Dansereau (2008), I argue that leadership in organizations is a multilevel phenomenon, and that organizational effectiveness depends on the coordinated efforts of leaders within and across multiple hierarchical levels. There are plenty of recent empirical research (Schaubroeck et al. 2012; Yang et al. 2010; Mayer et al. 2009) that suggest that hierarchy matters, necessitating the study of leadership across different level of administrative hierarchies to understand the complex public leadership phenomenon (Chapman et al. 2016; Getha-Taylor et al. 2011). Finally, drawing on social learning theory (Bandura 1977, 1986) and social exchange theory (Blau 1964), this study is based on the premise that the organizational leadership process cascades or trickles-down from top management to middle management and supervisory leadership.

Consistent with Yang (2014), Beeri et al. (2013) and Schaubroeck et al. (2012), this study provides evidence to support a positive relationship, mediated through multilevel trust-based mechanisms, between ethical leadership and employee well-being and satisfaction, group OCB and perceived organizational performance. The study upholds the contention that all levels of ethical leadership matter, but the evidence in support of the trickle-down and trickle-up effects of ethical leadership on and from middle management show that the development of mid-level ethical leadership may be the most efficient way forward for building trusting relationships and influencing leadership outcomes in public organizations.

Over the last decade, a growing body of research (Eisenbeiss et al. 2015; Mayer et al. 2009; Brown et al. 2005) has examined the direct effects of ethical leadership on its outcomes, including employee well-being, job satisfaction, organizational identification, organizational commitment, OCB, task performance and organizational performance. Despite the rapid growth of ethical leadership research, three gaps appear to exist in the relevant literature.

First, while ethical leadership has been directly related to leadership outcomes in a number of studies, the exact psychological process through which ethical leadership elicits these effects still remains unaddressed, in public organizations at least (Ng and Feldman 2015). To fill this void and gain a better understanding of the psychological processes by which ethical leadership affects employees' attitudes, behaviours and cognitions, I examine trust in the leader as a mediator of the relationships between ethical leadership and its outcomes. It is important to consider the mediating effect of trust in the leader because it is consistent with the theoretical frameworks of the study—social learning and social exchange theory—as discussed later.

Second, there is the question of how ethical leadership relates to trust in leaders and to outcomes within and across levels (Mayer et al. 2009). Proponents of the tone at the top approach (Shin et al. 2015) argue that top management has the strongest influence on work outcomes since it inspires employees to act ethically. An opposite perspective is that lower-level management is more likely to act as an ethical role model due to its proximity to employees and its ability to reward and punish them (Mayer et al. 2009). In this study, following Schaubroeck et al. (2012) and Mayer et al. (2009) I do not take an either/or approach to resolving this apparent controversy; instead I take a balanced approach, premised on the notion that all (top, middle and lower) levels of leadership are important and play different roles at different levels.

Third, leadership scholars such as Osborn et al. (2002) have argued that organizational context is a major factor of leadership processes and outcomes. Yet a void appears to exist in the relevant literature with respect to ethical leadership in the UK local government. There is a lack of empirical research here: Ng and Feldman's (2015) meta-analysis of 101 papers on ethical leadership over the last 15 years shows that most of the studies have been conducted in the USA and Chinese settings, with no study in the UK context. The contextualized ethical public leadership model that I propose in this study represents a first attempt to fill this void by advancing our knowledge about the role of ethical leadership in the UK local government.

This article is structured as follows. After the introduction, the next two sections elaborate on the theoretical background by defining the key components of ethical leadership and trust and developing the model and hypotheses of the study. The research methodology is discussed in the following section. The next section tests hypotheses and presents findings, addressing the research questions. Finally, concluding remarks are offered, pointing to profitable extensions for further research.

Theoretical Background

Conceptualizing Ethical Leadership

Leadership has been conceptualized from different perspectives based on the purpose of the study, organizational contexts and the underlying process. Most definitions of leadership involve the influence process; there is little else in common among the definitions of leadership (Yukl 1989). Morality, integrity, trustworthiness, fairness, concern for others are at the heart of many of the emerging approaches including authentic (Luthans and Avolio 2003), spiritual (Fry 2003) and ethical (Brown et al. 2005) leadership. Following the social learning and social exchange perspectives, most research into ethical leadership (Liu et al. 2013; Mayer et al. 2012; Schaubroeck et al. 2012) is based on Brown et al.'s (2005) definition of ethical leadership as "the demonstration of normatively appropriate conduct through personal actions and interpersonal relationships, and the promotion of such conduct to followers through two-way communication, reinforcement, and decision-making" (p. 120).

In this study, my decision to adopt this definition of ethical leadership has raised three questions. The first question is how does ethical leadership, as conceptualized by Brown et al. (2005), differ from other forms of ethical leadership such as authentic leadership? Mayer et al. (2009) argues that although other forms of leadership include attributes such as integrity, trustworthiness and behaving ethically (characteristics that Brown and his colleagues refer to as the moral person aspect of ethical leadership), these attributes represent only a part of ethical leadership; a second important part, termed by Brown and his colleagues as the moral manager, emphasizes the social exchange process as a means of influencing followers' behaviour.

The second question is what standards should be used to measure normatively appropriate behaviour? Brown et al. (2005) deliberately left the term normatively appropriate vague because appropriate conducts are to some extent context dependent. Recent studies (van Gils et al. 2015; Eisenbeiss 2012; Giessner and van Quaquebeke 2010) have addressed the question of the normative appropriateness of employee behaviour by suggesting that leaders' behaviour is likely to be perceived as normatively appropriate when it aligns with the followers' perceptions of ethical leadership, taking into account contextual perspectives on ethical standards.

The third and most important question is how can ethical leaders influence the normatively appropriate conducts of their followers? Social learning theory suggests that leaders often act as role models, demonstrating ethically appropriate behaviour in the organization; by observing their leaders' behaviour, employees are induced to appreciate what is expected of them. Ethical leaders may also influence employees through social exchange processes based on the norm of reciprocity; the process implies that employees feel obligation to reciprocate helpful, ethical and fair treatments. A social exchange may be transactional, such as promotion or pay; however, socio-emotional exchanges based on trust and fairness are most likely to influence the employees when leaders are perceived as fair and trustworthy. Leaders may also influence employees' behaviour by employing organizational incentive systems such as rewards and punishments; for example, subordinates are likely to behave ethically by observing that ethical behaviour are rewarded, whereas unethical conducts are punished (Brown et al. 2005).

Given the importance of the moral manger aspect of ethical leadership, public leadership scholars (Downe et al. 2016; Thaler and Helmig 2016; Hassan 2015; Newman et al. 2015a, b; Hassan et al. 2014; Yang 2014; Rayner et al. 2012) have examined the prevalence of different value-based leadership practices and codes of conduct and their effects on public sector employees' attitudes, behaviours and cognitions. Ethical codes of conduct for public organizations do not basically differ from those for private organizations as they cover general ethical values such as integrity, honesty, accountability, fairness and trust (Thaler and Helmig 2016). Public leadership studies have begun to find a connection between ethical leadership and improvement-centred voice behaviour (Hassan 2015), organizational commitment (Hassan et al. 2014), organizational citizenship behaviour (Rayner et al. 2012) and employee well-being and life satisfaction (Yang 2014).

Conceptualizing Trust

Trust is conceptualized and widely accepted as the "psychological state comprising the intention to accept vulnerability based upon positive expectations of the intentions or behaviour of another" (Rousseau et al. 1998, p. 395). This definition raises at least three issues with respect to the form, level and outcomes of trust in leaders.

First, whereas the affective or relational-based perspective, referred to as an exchange deepening mechanism, describes trust as a social exchange process that goes beyond the standard economic exchange, the cognitive or rational-based perspective, referred to as an uncertainty reducing mechanism, is based on the followers' evaluation of the characteristics of their leaders such as integrity, fairness and other abilities likely to affect the outcomes of their trust (Colquitt et al. 2012). The rational and emotional ties between leaders and followers in trust relationships result from the mutual exhibition of care and concern, nurturing a sense of reciprocal obligation (Dirks and Ferrin 2002). The initial challenge for the leader is to be trustworthy; over time reciprocation reinforces trust, the axis upon which social exchange revolves (Aryee et al. 2002).

Second, trust not only varies in its form (state and process) but also differs within and across organizational levels in relation to team members, team leaders and the organization as a whole (Burke et al. 2007). Employees are likely to develop attitudes of trust towards the organization through their interpretations of the organization's policies and procedures as well as their interactions with associates and managers, reflecting trust in vertical leadership as well as horizontal leadership. The challenge for the management is to influence employees across levels to believe in the organization's vision and objectives.

Third, several studies conducted in organizational settings (Li and Tan 2013; Park 2012; Aryee et al. 2002) have shown positive relationships between trust and individual/organizational outcomes. These outcomes are divided into three categories: job attitude, group behaviour and organizational performance. The evidence that trust affects OCB and organizational performance appears to be clearer than the evidence that trust affects in-role performance (Dirks and Ferrin 2002). The ultimate challenge for the leadership is to influence employees' attitudes and behaviour, thus promoting employees' satisfaction and improving their perception of organizational performance.

Previous studies (Zhu and Akhtar 2014; Li and Tan 2013; Park 2012) linking leadership–trust–outcomes have overlooked the multifaceted nature of the trust construct, failing to clarify how trust in leaders exerts its influence on subordinates within and across organizational levels. This seems to be problematic because trust perceptions of individuals within different hierarchical relationships may vary according to their experiences, expectations and interpretation of contexts. In response to the need to examine trust relationships at multiple levels I go beyond earlier research by measuring and examining trust-based direct, indirect and bypass mechanisms for leadership effects across organizational levels.

Ethical Leadership, Trust and Leadership Outcomes in Local Government

In the UK, the regulatory environment for ethical conduct in local government has been shifting from a centralized approach under the Local Government Act 2000, which emerged as a response to incidents of high-profile unethical behaviour in local councils in the 1990s (Doig and Skelcher 2001), to a localized approach under the Localism Act 2011, intending to address public distrust in public leaders by relying on the participation of local citizens in the policy making and implementation of standards of conduct for public servants (Lawton and Macaulay 2013). The changing historical, economic, social, political and legal contexts for the UK local government require a new meaning of leadership that is based on public values and trust (van Wart 2013). Therefore, this is a particularly appropriate time to study ethical leadership in the UK local government.

Principles of public values such as selflessness, integrity, objectivity, accountability, openness, honesty and leadership have been recommended in a number of policy documents, such as the report from the Committee on Standards in Public Life (CSPL) (Andersen et al. 2013). People are likely to internalize social values and feel satisfied when they can contribute to realizing these values, resulting in a commitment to the public interest that has been recently labeled as value-based motives (Pandey et al. 2016; Kim and Vandenabeele 2010). People may internalize the notions of right and wrong through a self-regulatory mechanism embedded in their personal identification with a value-based leader, who evokes followers' desire to emulate the leader's behaviour, moral traits and qualities by showing role-modeling behaviour. Mayer et al. (2012) argues that internalization of the values and beliefs of a value-based leader may alter followers' mindsets and induce them to adopt similar behaviour patterns consistent with these public values.

In public organizations, trust is increasingly being recognized as a key factor in developing interpersonal relationships and sustaining organizational success and employee well-being, especially when the future is uncertain (Park 2012). Recent studies such as Kim (2015), Miao et al. (2014), Yang (2014), Downe et al. (2013), Park (2012), Schaubroeck et al. (2012), Cowell et al. (2011), Yang et al. (2010), Mayer et al. (2009) and Halvorsen (2003) have found evidence of significant relationships between value-based leadership, trust and leadership outcomes in public organizations. Cowell et al. (2011) argue that levels of trust have a direct correlation with the ethical performance of the UK local government. Their findings are consistent with those of Halvorsen (2003), who also found a significant association between the quality of participation and the perception of organizational performance.

Miao et al. (2014) shows that practice of the philosophy of servant leadership in the Chinese public sector induces higher levels of organizational commitment through the mechanism of affective trust. Yang (2014) finds that ethical leadership indirectly influences both employee well-being and life satisfaction of Chinese public employees. Yang et al. (2010) offers significant evidence that adoption of the practice of transformational leadership by middle management is positively related to frontline employees' job performance. In Chinese settings, the Confucian ideology and emphasis on guanxi seem to influence organizational behaviour, which is shaped into close hierarchical relationships, with collectivism conceptually associated with value-based leadership (Yang 2014). The effect of collectivism provides support for the social identity mechanism.

In US settings, Park (2012) shows that shared leadership behaviour directly or indirectly fosters organizational trust. Mayer et al. (2009) provides evidence in support of positive relationships between top management and supervisory ethical leadership and group OCB. Schaubroeck et al. (2012) also shows that the influence of ethical leadership occurs both within and across hierarchical levels through the trickle-down effect of higher-level leaders' influence on lower-level leaders' behaviour. Previous studies have shown that ethical leadership contributes significantly to leadership effectiveness but that the degree of support varies across organizational, societal and regional clusters.

Ng and Feldman (2015) and Eisenbeiss (2012) point out that studies conducted in western settings are supportive of stronger relationships of ethical leadership to the use of contingent rewards than studies conducted in Asia, providing support for the social exchange mechanism. However, the reasons for this difference are not clear. This further justifies the need to examine the role of trust in the relationship between ethical leadership and its outcomes in the context of the UK local government. As with studies conducted in other low power distance societies such as the USA, in the UK context we may expect the moderating effect of low power distance to provide support for the social learning mechanism. This implies that the distribution of powers and responsibilities across organizational levels would be extensive and that everyone would expect to be listened to regardless of rank or background.

Model and Hypothesis Development

I propose a multilevel trust-based model of ethical public leadership as a tool for understanding how ethical leadership and trust in leaders can influence employees' attitudes, behaviours and cognitions. I explain the direct, indirect and bypass mechanisms for ethical leadership effects across organizational levels, as illustrated in Fig. 1. First, I describe the trickle-down effects of ethical leadership and trust in leaders across top and middle management and supervisory level, as well as the trickle-up effects of leadership outcomes across individual, group and organizational levels. These effects are explained using social learning and social exchange theories. Second, the effect of ethical leadership on trust in leaders within and across organizational levels is described through direct, indirect and bypass mechanisms. The direct effect of ethical leadership may occur through the horizontal (lateral) linkages shown in Fig. 1. The indirect effects may occur through mediation at different levels, for example, through ethical leadership and/or trust in leaders at an adjacent lower level. The influence of higher-level ethical leadership and/or trust in higher-level leaders may skip levels and directly affect trust in lower-level leaders and leadership outcomes through direct interactions. Third, the effect of ethical leadership on employee well-being and satisfaction, group OCB and perceived organizational performance through trust in leaders is described using direct, indirect and bypass mechanisms as explained above and shown in Fig. 1.

Hierarchical Levels

Level of Leadership

Leadership scholars (Dionne et al. 2014; Chun et al. 2009; Yammarino and Dansereau 2008) are increasingly understanding leadership as a multilevel concept. A successful organization comprises effective leadership at three levels: top management setting objectives and strategies, middle management coordinating and integrating, and supervisors engaging and inspiring their immediate work groups (DeChurch et al. 2010). Social learning theory suggests that the organizational leadership process cascades from higher-level management to lower-level management as employees tend to model their supervisors' behaviour through observational learning (Mayer et al. 2009; Brown et al. 2005). Normative and informational influences further explain this cascading replication of leaders' behaviour—lower-level managers tend to conform their behaviour to the expectations of higher-level managers: for example, in aiming to be liked or respected or in being accurate or correct (Schaubroeck et al. 2012). Thus:

Hypothesis 1 Ethical leadership at higher hierarchical levels is positively related to ethical leadership at lower hierarchical levels.

Level of Trust

Trust, like ethical leadership, has both global and local properties that may vary across organizational hierarchies. For example, the nature of trust may vary due to differences in relationships, interactions and contexts within which the leadership exists (Park 2012; Yang and Mossholder 2010; Burke et al. 2007). Social learning and social exchange theories suggest that employees are likely to develop attitudes of trust towards top management through their interpretations of the organization's policies and procedures as well as their evaluation of top management's integrity, fairness and ability. These attitudes may affect whether employees buy into an organization's objectives and fully engage in management initiatives. The employees' level of cooperation is in turn likely to influence the decisions and actions of middle managers and supervisors, as well as their trusting relationships with the employees. Thus:

Hypothesis 2 Trust in leaders at higher hierarchical levels is positively related to trust in leaders at lower hierarchical levels.

Level of Outcomes

Leadership studies (Eisenbeiss 2012; DeChurch et al. 2010; Chun et al. 2009) have recognized that the science of leadership should ideally study the effects of leadership on individual, group and organizational outcomes. Yet most previous leadership studies have examined either how leadership affects individuals' performances and job attitudes or how leaders' attributes affect organizational outcomes. There is hardly any study that explains how individual outcomes can be collectively harnessed to achieve positive organizational performance. Following DeChurch et al. (2010), I hypothesize:

Hypothesis 3 The effects of ethical leadership on outcomes at the individual level will have a positive effect on the group, which will eventually have a positive effect on organizational performance.

Ethical Leadership and Trust

Direct Effect

Leadership scholars (Miao et al. 2014; Eisenbeiss 2012; Park 2012) have provided evidence in support of the claim that value-based leadership is directly and positively related to followers' trust. Social exchange theory offers a framework for understanding the mechanism of this relationship. The theory suggests that ethical leadership behaviour, such as making fair and balanced decisions about issues that are important to subordinates, creates incentives for the subordinates to reciprocate by showing greater trust in their leaders (Dirks and Ferrin 2002).

Ethical leaders can induce followers' trust in both affective and cognitive areas. Affective trust can be evoked by establishing a socio-emotional exchange relationship. For example, a leader's benevolent behaviour develops subordinates' feelings of being valued; the reciprocal socio-emotional attachment generates followers' affective trust in their leader (Colquitt et al. 2012). Ethical leadership behaviour also sends signals to followers about their leaders' characteristics such as integrity and ability, creating followers' cognitive trust in their leader.

Dirks and Ferrin (2002) observes that employees, in order to reduce perceived uncertainty and risk, tend to make attributions about a leader's characteristics; this will influence their sense of vulnerability in the relationship. Ethical leaders are trusted because their perceived ability, benevolence and integrity mean that there is less risk associated with being dependent upon them. Furthermore, trusting relationships between leaders and followers may be influenced by the norms of reciprocity (Blau 1964). Thus:

WA-REP-21-1728-A-000465

Author's personal copy

Hypothesis 4 Ethical leadership is positively associated with followers' trust in leaders within the same organizational level.

Indirect Effect

We have seen that ethical leadership is expected to be positively associated with trust in leaders within the same hierarchical level (Hypothesis 4) and that trust in higher-level leaders is expected to trickle-down to trust in lower-level leaders (Hypothesis 3). Thus higher-level ethical leadership can influence trust in lower-level leaders by inducing trust in leaders at the same level, which will then cascade to the lower level. The indirect effects of ethical leadership on followers' trust in leaders at an adjacent lower level may also mediate through common ethical leadership practices across levels. The cascading effect of ethical leadership across a hierarchy provides the mechanism through which higher-level leaders may indirectly influence trust in lower-level leaders. Thus:

Hypothesis 5 Ethical leadership at a higher level is positively associated with followers' trust in leaders at a lower level, mediated through ethical leadership at a lower level and/or trust in leaders at the same (higher) level.

Bypass Effect

The effects of ethical leadership exercised by top and middle management may also have a direct influence on trust in supervisors, labeled as bypass effects (Yammarino 1994), through direct interactions with supervisors. According to Schaubroeck et al. (2012) and Detert and Treviño (2010), who have provided evidence in support of such bypass effects, higher-level leaders' expectations may be communicated to the whole organization through formal communications, policies and stories that may reinforce the leaders' reputations among followers, thereby influencing their cognitions and actions in a way that is distinct from the influence of their immediate leader. Thus:

Hypothesis 6 Higher-level ethical leadership is positively associated with followers' trust in lower-level leaders.

Ethical Leadership, Trust and Outcomes

Direct Effect

Trust is specified as an outcome of ethical leadership that is in turn related to other important leadership outcomes, thus placing trust at the centre of the ethical public leadership model, as posited in the study (Fig. 1). Previous studies have shown that trust in the leader is an outcome, rather than an antecedent, of ethical leadership. It is also implied that a cultural climate that fosters strong ethical norms/behaviour and achieves a high level of trust in public organizations may strengthen ethical leadership influence through greater employee satisfaction, enhanced public service motivation and better customer service.

Recent studies have found positive relationships between ethical leadership and employee well-being and satisfaction (Yang 2014), organizational citizenship behaviour (Hassan and Hatmaker 2015) and organizational performance (Eisenbeiss et al. 2015). The measurement of organizational performance, which is a multidimensional concept, is difficult in the public sector. While acknowledging the importance of financial performance, this study relies on performance measures such as community satisfaction, quality of services and development of new services; these measures are based on the perceptions of council employees. Numerous studies (Shin et al. 2015; Chun et al. 2009) show that ethical organizational practices improve organizational performance, challenging the traditional belief that organizational ethics and performance are mutually exclusive. The core of the argument is that people are vital to good organizational performance and that organizations can be successful when they view their employees as an asset. People-oriented practices increase employee satisfaction and commitment, which motivates them to work harder to improve performance (Shin et al. 2015).

Trust in leaders is an important mechanism through which ethical leadership influences outcomes at individual, group and organizational levels (Ng and Feldman 2015; Eisenbeiss 2012). Trustworthiness is more than just managerial competence; competence (the ability to achieve results) and integrity (the fair way of achieving those results) are both important factors in the perception of trustworthiness. Burke et al. (2007) shows that, when leaders are perceived as lacking integrity and competence, followers are unlikely to be motivated and committed to achieving those leaders' organizational objectives, because of their fears of vulnerability. Followers' trust in ethical leaders is, in turn, positively related to their job attitudes and job performance. Shin et al. (2015) and Chun et al. (2009) demonstrate that the ethical practices of an organization contribute to achieving organizational performance by boosting the engagement, motivation, collective organizational commitment and OCB among employees.

Although the leadership literature has shown a number of mechanisms through which ethical leaders influence outcomes, these may vary depending on the level of leadership involved. For example, top management is most likely to influence organizational outcomes through the decision-making process and organizational reward systems (Yang and Mossholder 2010), whereas middle management is most likely to be associated with group-level outcomes such as OCB, which may be explained by the social exchange mechanism. Employees' perceptions of supervisors' ethical leadership are found to be positively associated with employees' subjective well-being and satisfaction (Ilies et al. 2005), which may be explained by employees' affective and cognitive trust in their direct supervisors. Thus:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
WA-REP-21-1728-A-000466

Author's personal copy

Hypothesis 7 Ethical leadership at the organizational level will have the strongest influence on organizational performance, while middle management and direct supervisory ethical leadership will have more influence on group- and individual-level outcomes.

Indirect Effect

The effects of trust in higher-level ethical leadership on distant followers' attitudes, behaviours and cognitions may mediate through trust in adjacent lower-level leaders, which may be explained by using both social learning and social exchange theories (Schaubroeck et al. 2012; Mayer et al. 2009; Brown et al. 2005). Recent studies (Yang and Mossholder 2010) have also confirmed that trust in top management channels through supervisors' ethical leadership, which then affects followers' job satisfaction and citizenship behaviour. Thus:

Hypothesis 8 Trust in top management influences trust in middle management and supervisors, who in turn influence the attitudes and behaviour of the employees they manage or supervise.

Bypass Effect

Employees' perceptions of ethical leadership of top management may exert a cross-level effect on employees' satisfaction and behaviour. Higher-level leaders develop and communicate a persuasive vision in order to motivate and inspire followers (Chun et al. 2009). The scope of ethics initiatives in an organization depends on its top executives' commitment to ethics (Weaver et al. 1999). Committed executives are more likely to function as ethical role models who can influence employee attitude and behaviour more directly (Weaver et al. 2005). Employees are likely to reciprocate ethical leaders' fair treatments by showing positive attitudes and demonstrating positive OCB. Thus:

Hypothesis 9 Trust in higher-level leaders will have a direct (bypass) effect on followers' satisfaction and behaviour.

Hypotheses 1–4 and 6–9 were subdivided into a, b, c whereas hypothesis 5 was subdivided into 5a, 5b, 5c, 5d, 5e and 5f as shown in Table 4.

Methods

Sample

All twelve local authorities in the north east of England were requested to take part in the survey, and three of them agreed to participate. It is not the aim of the study to be statistically representative of local government of the North East or of England as a whole, as each authority is to some extent distinctive in its social, economic, political and organizational contexts. Nonetheless, besides the close geographical proximity of the three councils, there are other contextual factors that are common to each. For example, all three are large metropolitan borough councils, each with around 10,000 employees serving an economically, ethnically and culturally diverse population of approximately 200,000. These similarities serve as a basis for the aggregation of data for analytical purposes. The anonymity of these councils was promised in order to encourage their participation, and this anonymity is preserved here.

Data were collected between June and September 2015 using an online quantitative survey conducted in three departments, each with around 100 employees, from each council. Each department was purposely selected after consultation with the council management. During the data collection process, the participants were assured that their participation was voluntary and that the researcher would not share identifying information with anyone inside or outside the council. This study shows only aggregate results and respects all assurances of anonymity.

The questionnaire was pre-tested with a small group of participants to obtain feedback on the questionnaire as well as to test and refine the online survey distribution tools. The participants were given three weeks to complete the survey, and they had the option to complete the survey at different times. Up to three e-mail reminders were sent to the participants to boost the response rate. Table 1 shows the demographics of the study sample, which are self-descriptive. The sample is a highly educated group with almost 50 % having an undergraduate degree or higher and the majority of them are female.

Measures

Ethical leadership of top management, head of the department and immediate supervisor was measured with five items adapted from the ethical leadership scale developed by Brown et al. (2005) using top management, head of the department/service and supervisor/immediate line manager as the referents. Respondents were asked to rate the extent to which they agreed with the questionnaire items using a five-point Likert-style response format (1 = strongly disagree, 5 = strongly agree). Sample items include 'My supervisor sets an example of how to do things the right way in terms of the seven principles of public life (e.g., selflessness, integrity, objectivity, accountability, openness, honesty and leadership).' The internal reliability of the ethical leadership measure is high (Cronbach's $\alpha = .96$). I aggregated the mean scores of individuals to generate indices of top management, middle management and supervisory ethical leadership. Following Hox (2002), I examined the fit of the three-factor model to ensure that top, middle management and supervisory ethical leadership measures are distinct. The three-factor model indicates an adequate fit with the data (Chi squared test (χ^2) = 125; comparative fit index (CFI) = .92; incremental fit index (IFI) = .95; Tucker-Lewis index (TLI) = .94; adjusted goodness of fit index (AGFI) = .91; root mean square error of approximation (RMSEA) = .07; standardized root mean square residual (SRMR) = .03).

Trust in top management, middle management and supervisors was self-reported by employees using four items adapted from McAllister's (1995) affect- and cognition-based trust scales. A sample item of affective trust includes 'I feel secure with top management because of their integrity.' A sample item of cognitive trust includes 'I can depend on top management to meet their responsibilities.' These items have coefficient alphas of .93 and .88, respectively. The intra-class correlation coefficients [ICC(1)] for both affective and cognitive trust are .05, well below the recommended values, indicating that data interdependence is not an issue in this study (Bliese 2000).

Job satisfaction and subjective well-being was self-reported (1 = never, 5 = all the time) by respondents using five items adapted from Hackman and Oldham (1975) and Warr (1990). A sample item includes 'Thinking of the past few months, how much of the time has your job made you feel relaxed, enthusiastic and optimistic?' The items have a coefficient alpha of .89.

Group OCB is measured using four items adapted from Smith et al. (1983). Respondents rated the extent to which they agreed with statements such as 'People in my department are always ready to lend a helping hand to others around them.' Cronbach's alphas for the items are .91.

Perceived organizational performance was self-rated (1 = much worse, 5 = much better) by respondents using three items (quality of services, development of new services and overall community satisfaction) adapted from Delaney and Huselid (1996). Research such as Dollinger and Golden (1992) has provided evidence in support of strong to moderate correlation between perceived and objective measure of organizational performance. A sample item includes the question 'How would you compare the organization's performance over the past year to that of other organizations that do the same kind of work in terms of the quality of services, or programs?' The items have a coefficient alpha of .89.

Since individual differences might affect employees' perceptions, the study was controlled for the effects of variables in Table 1.

Analysis

Following Braun et al. (2013), Schaubroeck et al. (2012) and Bryk and Raudenbush (1987), hierarchical linear modeling (HLM) is used to test the hypothesized relationships among the multilevel variables. The justification for using HLM is that it provides benefits that cannot be achieved using ordinary least squares regression for analyzing multilevel data. As pointed out by Bryk and Raudenbush (1987), hierarchical linear modeling explains the nested nature of data and allows simultaneous estimation of the impact of factors at different levels on individual-level outcomes, while maintaining appropriate levels of analysis for predictors. HLM suits the purposes of examining the cross-level direct effect, cross-level indirect effect and cross-level mediation effect.

The methods used by previous studies in gathering subjective questionnaire data have been problematic because of the issue of common method variance due to self-reported measures. Following Podsakoff et al. (2003), I conducted the Harman's one-factor test for all items in our study in order to address this potential flaw. The results indicate that common method bias may not be an issue in the study. Following Bliese (2000), I also conducted the intra-class correlations (ICCs) to determine the reliability of measures of both ethical leadership and trust in leaders. All the ICC(1) values are statistically significant; therefore data aggregation is justified.

Prior to testing the research hypotheses, confirmatory factor analysis (CFA) was conducted on the survey measures. The purpose of this analysis was to verify the factor structure and provide evidence in support of the construct validity. Following Hassan (2015) and Hu and Bentler (1999), Chi squared test (χ^2), comparative fit index (CFI), incremental fit index (IFI), Tucker-Lewis index (TLI), adjusted goodness of fit index (AGFI), root mean square error of approximation (RMSEA) and standardized root mean square residual (SRMR) were conducted to assess the fit of the measurement model.

Results

Descriptive Statistics

The means, standard deviations and intercorrelations among the key study variables are reported in Table 2. The standard deviations for all study variables are relatively high, ranging from .43 to 1.01, indicating that there is sufficient variability in the data to justify the need for further analysis. As anticipated, there are some significant correlations between individual-level factors: for example, significant correlations between ethical leadership of supervisor and employee satisfaction and well-being ($r = .67$, $p < .01$), ethical leadership of middle management and group OCB ($r = .45$, $p < .01$), and ethical leadership of top management and perceived organizational performance ($r = .43$, $p < .01$). These results show preliminary evidence in support of the research hypotheses.

Confirmatory Factor Analysis

The CFA results for the hypothesized five-factor measurement model provide adequate fit to the data ($\chi^2 = 38$; CFI = .93; IFI = .96, TLI = .95, AGFI = .93, RMSEA = .06; SRMR = .05). All scale items have statistically significant factor loading, ranging from .72 to .92. The average variance extracted (AVE) for each latent factor exceeds the conventional criterion of .50, ranging from .61 to .83, with a mean of .75. The AVE for each construct is greater than the square of any correlation between the constructs. Furthermore, alternative models by specifying the indicators of two or more of the constructs as loading onto the same latent variable are tested. None of the alternative models fit the data as well as the hypothesized model. For example, the alternative four-factor model in which the correlation between ethical leadership and trust in leaders was set to one fitted the data much worse ($\chi^2 = 1136$; CFI = .70; IFI = .68; TLI = .65; AGFI = .83; RMSEA = .11; SRMR = .15) than the proposed five-factor measurement model. Overall, the CFA results indicate that all measures have sufficient convergent and discriminant validity.

Hypothesis Testing

The results of the HLM are reported in Table 3. As summarized in Table 4 and shown in Fig. 2, the study provides evidence in support of all research hypotheses. For example, Hypothesis 7 proposes that ethical leadership at the organizational level would have the strongest influence on perceived organizational performance, while middle management and direct supervisory ethical leadership would have more influence on group- and individual-level outcomes. As predicted, ethical leadership of top management, middle management and supervisors were found to have strong positive associations with organizational performance, group OCB and employee well-being and satisfaction, respectively ($\beta = .56$, $p < .01$, $\beta = .51$, $p < .01$, and $\beta = .72$, $p < .01$, respectively), which supports the hypothesis.

Comparing the standardized coefficients of key variables in order to examine their relative importance, it can be seen that both ethical leadership and trust in leaders at all levels have statistically significant effects on individual employee well-being and satisfaction, group OCB and organizational performance outcomes. However, ethical leadership of supervisors was found to be the most powerful predictor of employee satisfaction and well-being ($\beta = .72$, $p < .01$ for employee satisfaction and well-being, $\beta = .67$, $p < .01$ for group OCB, $\beta = .12$, $p < .01$ for organizational performance), which is consistent with the findings of Braun et al. (2013) that individual perceptions of supervisors' transformational leadership is positively related to individual followers' job satisfaction ($\beta = .73$, $p < .01$) in German public organizations.

Ethical leadership of middle management was the strongest predictor of group OCB ($\beta = .51$, $p < .01$ for group OCB, $\beta = .31$, $p < .01$ for employee satisfaction and well-being, $\beta = .22$, $p < .01$ for organizational performance). In Chinese public organizations, Miao et al. (2014) also found strong positive relationship between servant leadership and both affective ($\beta = .36$, $p < .01$) and normative commitment ($\beta = .38$, $p < .01$).

Ethical leadership of top management was the strongest predictor of organizational performance ($\beta = .56$, $p < .01$ for organizational performance, $\beta = .45$, $p < .01$ for group OCB, $\beta = .25$, $p < .01$ for employee satisfaction and well-being). Eisenbeiss et al. (2015) also showed a significant indirect (mediated by ethical culture) effect of CEO ethical leadership on the performance of firms ($\beta = .51$, $p < .01$) in the German private sector.

Discussion

These findings balance the conflicting perspectives of whether it is top management, as evidenced by Shin et al. (2015), middle management, as shown by Yang et al. (2010), or supervisors, as demonstrated by Posner and Schmidt (1984), who have a more direct influence on employee behaviour and organizational performance. The cascading of ethical leadership behaviour from top management to middle management and then to immediate line managers or supervisors, whose ethical leadership then boosts employees' satisfaction, behaviour and performance, suggests that ethical leadership of middle management has important implications for both employee and organizational performance. Consistent with Yang et al. (2010) the trickle-down and trickle-up effects of middle managers' ethical leadership behaviour shown in this study underlines both their downward and upward roles, suggesting that the development of mid-level ethical leadership may be the single most efficient policy for organizations to adopt.

I have found evidence of significant direct effects of ethical leadership on its outcomes as a result of trust in leaders at each of the three levels. Like ethical leadership, trust in leaders is also found to cascade across hierarchical levels, providing evidence in support of the mediating role of trust in transmitting the influence of ethical leadership on its outcomes at all organizational levels. The direct, indirect and cross-level effects of ethical leadership shown in this study imply that a more holistic view of both proximal and distal leadership processes is required to fully appreciate the transmission of leadership influence in a complex organization. Although leadership is widely considered as vital for linking organizational systems together, leadership researchers have failed to study it from an integrated system perspective (Yammarino and Dansereau 2008). I argue that such a research approach is essential for understanding how system cohesion functions as a fundamental structure of effective organizational leadership.

These findings are also significant in private organizational context, as already been discussed in the conceptualizing ethical leadership section that ethical leadership practices for public organizations do not basically differ from those for private organizations (Thaler and Helmig 2016). Therefore, the study makes meaningful contributions to the literature of business ethics and trust. In pursuit of business ethics, managers at all levels should serve as role models by demonstrating ethical leadership. The findings also demonstrate that ethics and organizational performance are not mutually exclusive. Ethical leadership is not only a virtue but also has a positive effect on organizational performance in the long run at least. Thus, managers need to recognize that people are the important cause of good organizational performance and they should exert effort in promoting ethical climates as a way to harness individual outcomes to achieve positive organizational performance.

Theoretical and Practical Implications

The findings of the study have both theoretical and practical implications. From a theoretical perspective, the findings are consistent with the central tenets of social learning and social exchange theory, which serve as theoretical lenses to comprehend how ethical leadership relates to trust in leaders and to outcomes within and across levels. Followers' attitudes, behaviours and cognitions are influenced through both a role modeling process in which employees imitate the behaviour of their leaders and a socio-emotional exchange based on trust, fairness and the norm of reciprocity. The processes imply that employees feel obligated to reciprocate ethical treatments.

From a practical perspective, the findings support the notion of trust as the axis on which socio-emotional relationships revolve in organizations. The challenge for the management is to effectively manage trusting relationships within and across levels. The initial challenge for the leader is to be trustworthy, which is more than just managerial competence. Competence and integrity are both important factors in the perception of trustworthiness. When leaders are perceived as having integrity and competence, followers are likely to be inspired to achieving organizational objectives.

Given that ethical leadership influences its outcomes through a trust-based mechanism, hiring and training more ethical leaders at multiple levels might be effective for building trusting relationships in organizations. This study recommends three measures that organizations can adopt in order to promote ethical leadership. First, organizations may use ethics tests, focusing specifically on ethical problems, to select management at multiple levels. Second, organizations may organize ethics training programmes focusing especially on middle management and emphasizing the importance of serving as ethical role models. Third, organizations may also develop and implement incentive systems that reward and support employees' ethical behaviour.

Limitations and Suggestions for Future Research

Some of the potential issues relating to sample, measures and analysis have already been discussed in the methods section. However, some additional points are worth mentioning. While the ethical public leadership model predicts that ethical leadership is associated with its outcomes both within and across organizational levels, it is hard to make definitive conclusions regarding the causality. Future research could adopt a longitudinal study design in which data on leadership, trust and outcomes were collected at different times in order to assess causal effects of ethical leadership and trust in leaders on employee attitudes, behaviours and cognitions within and across levels.

Another limitation is that there might be some response and recall bias although I sought to address this potential limitation by aggregating data collected from multiple sources. Respondents might have limited opportunity to observe ethical leadership behaviour of top management. Additionally, the fact that the study only included perceived organizational performance have provided us with opportunities to compare employees' subjective perceptions of organizational performance with objective performance indicators to determine whether subjective measurement is a valid measurement of objective performance in public organizations.

Future research may examine whether there are other cultural difference moderators; for example, as suggested by Schminke et al. (2005), employees with high moral awareness might be more influenced by their ethical leaders than those with low moral awareness. This study only examines selected English local councils, but points to profitable opportunities to examine whether there may be different patterns of relationships in different councils or whether its results would hold in other local and international contexts.

Conclusions

I began this study by wondering whether the notion of ethical leadership was important for local government and how ethical leadership could contribute to public servants' attitudes, behaviours and cognitions. I conclude that ethical leadership in local government is very important for building trusting relationships among the management and employees at multiple levels, leading to employee well-being and satisfaction, group OCB and organizational performance. As to the question of how, I have shown evidence in support of direct (horizontal), indirect (trickle-down) and cross-level (bypass) effects of ethical leadership on its outcomes through trusting relationships across levels. This is consistent with social learning and social exchange theory and suggests that all levels of ethical leadership (top, middle and supervisory) contribute to individual, group and organizational performance of local government. Supervisory ethical leadership was the strongest predictor of employee satisfaction and well-being, while top and mid-level ethical leadership were the strongest predictors of organizational performance and group OCB, respectively.

Subject: Serious Questions about Seattle Mayor Jenny Durkan

Dear Legislators:

I hope you are well.

Astute observers of Democratic politics note that queer Seattle Mayor Jenny Durkan came from a liquor-peddling, butt-pimping family that originally settled in Montana.

Alcohol and drug abuse are closely correlated with homosexual and pedophiliac development.

Questions about Jenny Durkan's time in Alaska have arisen.

1. Did Jenny Durkan's family send her to Alaska to pimp her out? Was she that "only girl in an Alaska bar?"

2. Did Jenny Durkan rape the girls she was coaching in an Eskimo village? There is no statute of limitations for felony sexual assault in Alaska.

3. Is Joe Biden planning to bail Jenny Durkan out of her disastrous term as Seattle mayor by appointing her to a federal office at the end of her current term? Does Joe Biden know only too well that Jenny Durkan is an unconvicted pedophiliac rapist?

4. Does Joe Biden have a soft spot in his heart for drug abusers (Hunter Biden), alcoholics (the rest of the Bidens), prostitutes, pedophiles and rapists? Were Barack Obama and Kamala Harris, for example, pimped out as juveniles by their parents?

These are the questions that Republicans should be asking.

If individual Republicans do not ask these questions, I am inclined to wonder what specific dirt the Democrats have got regarding your past.

With all due respect,

Kevin "Otto von" Volkmann

Subject: Teenage Gavin Newsom hit on old men at Perry's on Union.

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

Underage Gavin Newsom was frequenting San Franciso Perry's on Union saloon in 1985-1986, when he was still a teenage student.

Reports are that he was hitting on oil-billionaire Gordon Getty, attorney Tom O'Toole, and other older men. He was also drinking alcohol before the legal age of 21.

Evidently Governor Gavin Newsom has very little gay pride, and has attempted to hide his sexual past from the public, constructively defrauding voters in election after election.

Today's Question

Does Gavin Newsom sick an army of his heterophobic, sado-queer gay buddies to harass taller, better-looking, straight, better-educated, better-connected Democratic competitors?

This report is provided as a courtesy, in the public interest.

Respectfully,

Associated Resource Team of Washington

Subject: The Arizona Audit is the Gold Standard

Dear Friend --

I'm so proud of the work we are doing with the Maricopa County Audit. These procedures can be used by everyone to have credible, secure audits and show where we have gaps in our election integrity!

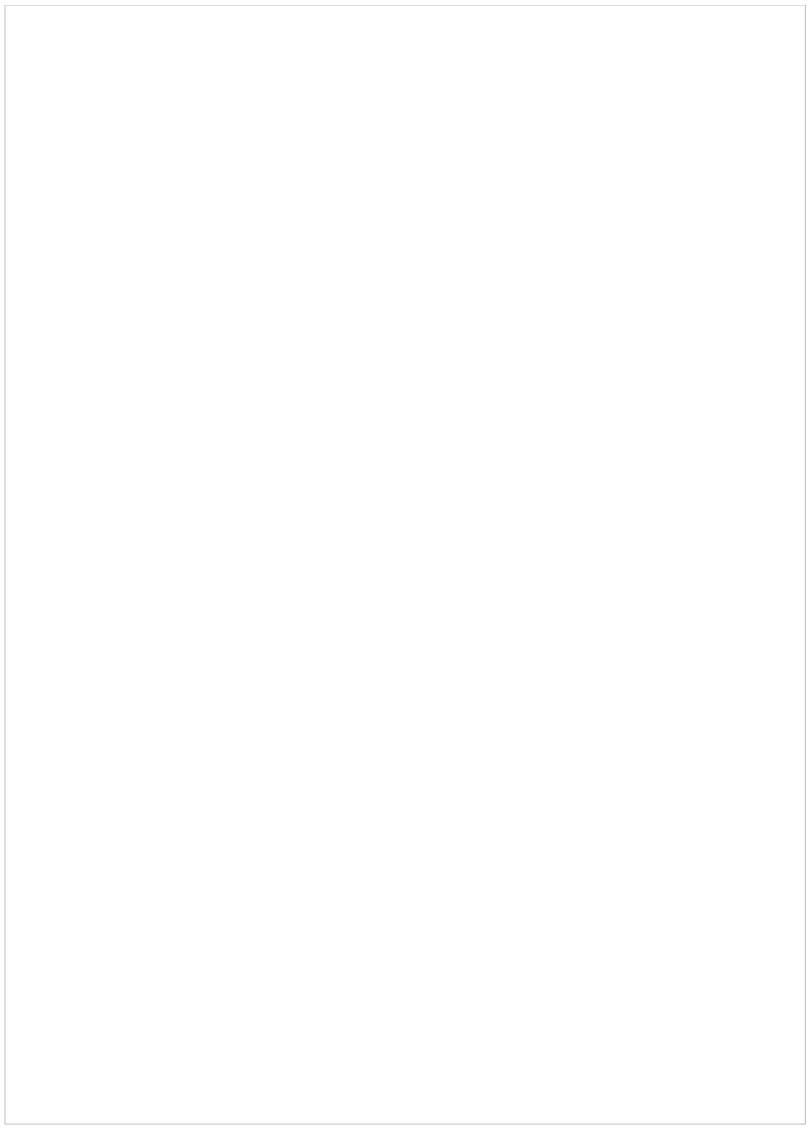

I am Senator Wendy Rogers, the Arizona State Senator who was the pivotal vote for the audit. Can you help me keep my seat so I can continue our quest for election integrity?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The good news is that the American People are behind our efforts! Over half of Americans believe the 2020 election was decided by cheating, and they want it stopped.

That is precisely why we have received delegations of state legislators from all over the country, to learn about the AZ Audit and how to replicate it back home.

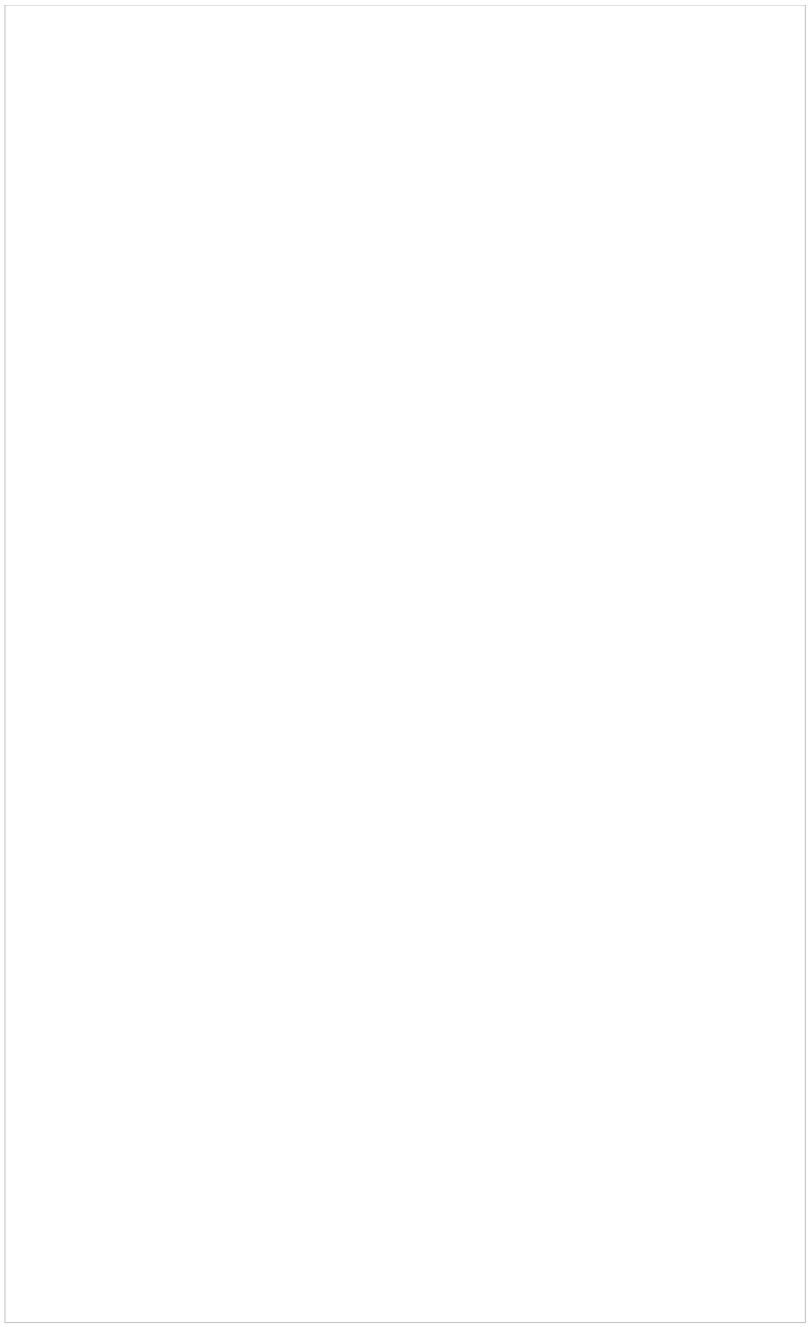

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

First, it was Sen. Doug Mastriano, and the Pennsylvania state legislators. They came for a full tour of the Audit last week, and we were available to answer many questions they had (much of which I relayed to you in my last email!).

Now it appears they are almost ready to put that knowledge into action by starting their own audit!

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Now, delegations from Virginia, Georgia, Alaska, and Colorado are visiting too... and Nevada is soon to come, with an audit possibly being forced in court!

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

It is critical that states with lingering questions about their elections have those questions answered. To not do so is to encourage people not to vote. After all, if people don't think their vote counts, they won't vote!

And that goes the same in Arizona as it does everywhere else in America.

Last year, I won my swing senate seat by 10 points! I am the key vote that allowed the audit to proceed. That's why I need to ask for your help.

Arizona's audit is the blueprint for election integrity efforts throughout the country.

This audit is showing legislators which election loopholes we need to close through legislation. Stand with me so we can finish the job!

I am telling the REAL story of how the audit is going. The press never will. So I need your help!

Help me fight for the truth! - Help me keep my seat so we can see this process through, together!

Thank you and God bless you.

Wendy Rogers, Lt Col USAF (ret)

Arizona State Senator

Arizona's 6th Legislative District

P.S. I am fighting hard to fulfill my campaign promises. I am taking a lot of heat but I don't care. Please support me by helping me raise my goal by the end of this month. Thank you.

Subject: Update on the Sound Transit Kinkisharyo Kickback Investigation.
Attachment(s): "20210909_130917.jpg"

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

Associated Resource Team engages in research and investigation in the public interest. Two significant updates are now available on the Sound Transit Kinkisharyo Kickback Investigation.

First, the investigation has been expanded in scope to include investigation of kickbacks to officials in Boston, Los Angeles, New Jersey, San Jose, Phoenix and Dallas.

There is not yet any more news on the kickback involvement of Seattle Mayor Jenny Durkan, former Seattle Mayor Ed Murray, Bellevue, Washington employee Michael Shiosaki, or Hunter Biden. Each of these suspects is believed to be veritable putty in the hands of unscrupulous vendors and contractors.

It may in fact be the case that the Seattle FBI is having too many long three-martini lunches with Mob-supplied prostitutes at downtown Seattle hotels, hindering their investigation of this matter.

ART has also been beset by fending off Seattle-Police-Department-affiliated prostitutes, and guarding against additional criminally-motivated illegal evictions. This update is the best we can do today.

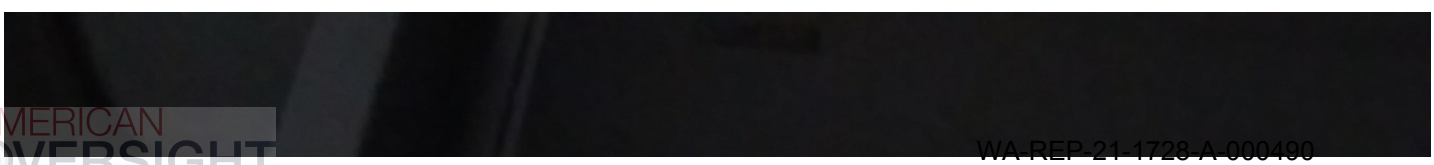

Thank you for your attention to these matter. ART appreciates your readership.

Respectfully,

Associated Resource Team

Subject: UW President Sponsors Sado-Queer Mobbing.

CAUTION:External email.

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

Intelligence indicates queer heterophobic UW President Ana Mari Cauce sponsors gangs of sado-queer male students to stalk, mob and batter well-qualifed straight males that her fellow queer-psychotic Democrats seek to debilitate and disenfranchise.

Following the decades-old sado-queer handbook, an extreme concentration of sado-queer, drug-and-alcohol abusing males have been launched by the UW Administration, targeting one section of German 101 at the University. This is the language course section in which I am enrolled due to its proximity to my home.

All of my classes have been so bombarded for the entire post-Kennedy era. In these 6 decades, Democrats (Kennedy, Clinton and Obama) have defrauded the public as extremely queer presidential candidates who failed to disclose their incest, pedophile and homosexual pasts. They also failed to disclose their criminal drug abuse pasts.

More On Cauce

Cauce's father Vincente served as an administrative flunky for drug, prostitution, and gambling trafficking Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, a military officer responsible for torturing and killing thousands of Cubans.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Vincente Cauce, his wife, and Ana Mari fled Cuba with a corrupt cohort of drug, prostitution, and gambling kingpins, landing in Florida, where they were qualified only to work in a shoe factory.

Cauce was promoted through the national Kennedy drug, incest, prostitution, pedophilia, and homosexuality network, Cuban drug trafficker division. Her degrees were awarded by political promotion rather on account of academic merit.

It appears that Cauce has been involved in falsifying the UW academic records of career prostitute Stanley Dunham, Barack Obama's mother.

- As a result of this fraud, it is harder for people to see that Barack Obama himself was a juvenile homosexual prostitute.
- As a result of this fraud, it is harder to detect Barack Obama's support for juvenile prostitution trafficking at public housing projects, like Solid Ground Housing at Seattle's Magnuson Park.

This report is provided as a courtesy, in the interest of public health and safety.

Subject: UW President's Bogus Claim of a KKK Lynching

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

UW President Ana Mari "Fake News" Cauce fabricated a story that her brother was lynched by the KKK, Nazis (and space aliens?) decades ago. She fabricated this hoax most likely for one of three reasons.

- Her brother's dismal life was going nowhere due to drug and/or alcohol abuse and a lack of marketable skills.
- Her brother in fact faked his death to get out of debts and potential criminal charges.
- Her brother's substance abuse led to an actual accident in which he died at his own hands, possibly in a suicide.

Cauce admits she revealed this ostensibly made-up story decades after the alleged lynching.

Chicago Democrats themselves staged KKK rallies decades ago to scare ignorant Negro voters. The Skokie Nazi rallies were also staged by inauthentic participants.

Cauce's brother was not a Negro. It is entirely possible that he still is not a Negro living in Jamaica or other incognito location. Cauce has made up hateful lies to further her own career, which otherwise would be as a minor academic at a nameless institution.

Cauce needed a dramatic story to cover up for the fact that her father worked for corrupt, murderous Cuban dictator F. Batista.

This report is provided as a courtesy, in the interest of public health and safety, and an informed public.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

Many findings point to a conclusion that Seattle Seahawks privately-owned football club player Russell Wilson was a juvenile pedophiliac molester of his male peers, and a criminal abuser of drugs and alcohol as a juvenile. The estate of Paul Allen owns the Seattle Seahawks. Paul Allen, deceased, has been profiled as a lifelong pedophile and was an associate of Seattle's Bill Gates.

An investigation of Wilson's background now focuses on the Collegiate School in Richmond, VA and Stone Bridge High School in Ashburn, VA.

A secondary investigation will examine the reasons for the Seattle Times and other media covering up widely circulated facts about Wilson's sordid past.

This status report is provided as a courtesy to the public, in the interest of public health and safety.

Subject: A Time for Thanksgiving

Happy Thanksgiving,

In spite of the grave circumstances our nation is enduring this year – I will spare you the long train of abuses and usurpations – there is good reason to assemble and enjoy family and friendships. In fact, it is because of those hardships our gatherings are all the more important.

As we gather, we should speak openly and honestly of our hopes for this nation, our aspirations as Americans, and the cures for our collective ills.

We should speak of the failings of the leaders currently elected or installed in our government, then remember, they serve US. We do not serve them, nor do we kneel to them.

We should give thanks, knowing we have the best form of government in the world. We have liberated and enriched humankind around the world with capitalism, free trade and generous legal immigration policies.

America – the Arsenal of Democracy – turned the tide against evil in the Great Wars, and since then we have liberated millions from the oppressive, controlled societies of fascism and communism.

There are great battles ahead to recover our nation from abusive globalist wastrels currently in office. But as we gather this Thanksgiving, we will recognize again we are greater in number than the retched opposition. As we gather, we will realize our beliefs are true and our convictions are just. And as we gather, we should, as Abraham Lincoln noted, affirm we are on God's side.

I believe we are. I believe we will turn this nation around. We will expel the deceivers. We will rebuild government to serve the people, not enrich its advocates. I believe this will happen in 2022.

And for that faith in our cause and in my fellow Americans, I give thanks.

In Liberty,

- Ron

Subject: Ahrens: Demand for an apology regarding your 8:40 p.m. lie, which you foolishly placed in writing.

Rob:

You seem to be a little quick on the trigger, and to have shot yourself in the foot.

Your 8:40 p.m. e-mail to me suggests that I had made a threat. As you know I have made no such threat.

Video evidence will be conclusive that in fact you are lying in your last-ditch attempt at robbing me of my tenancy.

I demand an immediate apology for your lie.

It will also be a good idea to keep your employee Michael away from lurking at the College Inn front door when I return home. He was again lurking there tonight.

Cease and desist from placing people in the hallways every time I depart my apartment.

Please tell your crooked punk lawyer that it will not be worth him getting disbarred for his misconduct in this case. My current mailing address is P.O. Box 45123, Seattle, WA 98145. I receive legal correspondence only at the Seattle address.

Subject: Borrowed Wit Report: UW President Cauce Edition

Cauce Announces Plan to Hire BIPOC Lesbians to Satisfy Her Cravings.

In a repetition of previous policy statements, UW President Ana Mari Cauce denounced mere qualifications as a basis for hiring UW faculty and staff.

"We want an unsightly, if intimidating, army of sistas to hunt down the Nazi Klansmen Space Aliens who killed my brother, who died in a suicidal overdose" announced the quasi-fascist Cuban exile.

Cauce threatens Husky Football Team with Mandatory Daily Steroid Injections.

"We plan to start by re-inflating the carcass of former Husky Football player Bruce Harrell. Daily steroid boosters might do it."

BIPOC harassment of straights, Muslims and Chinese expected to increase psychologist employment.

Ana Mari Cauce announced her full-employment plan for undergraduate English majors.

This report has been provided as a courtesy, to promote public health and safety.

Subject: Cease and Desist: Liar Employee Michael's Sado-Queer Stalking Triggers My Disability.

Rob Ahrens, Owner, College Inn:

I hope you are well.

You have to keep your sado-queer, lying employee Michael away from me, and away from lurking at the entrance when I must pass.

Having stalking, loitering, in-my-face liars like Michael triggers my PTSD, and cause harmful panic attacks.

Monday night a 8:38 p.m. evidently Michael relayed a lie to you that I had said something when I checked on the 4th floor with my video camera. Of course, I did not say anything. Michael tried to provoke an incident by chasing me after I briefly visually identified him as the person who had been lurking outside my apartment.

This is really all about queer politicians Obama, Clinton, and Newsom abusing police and University personnel to bombard me constantly with sado-queer males for decades.

When I walk on the UW campus, I am bombarded by ostensible sado-queer males whose very appearance makes me physically ill. Evidently UWPD has been involved in alerting the most offensive queer males to cross my path as a form of torture that will trigger my PTSD.

You lied in your 8:40 p.m. e-mail of Monday, at that lie will be costing you for years to come.

You are to keep sado-queer liar Michael away from me. You are not to tamper with my video evidence of the incident.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

You are to accept my payment for rent, and cease talking about me as a hotel guest. I have a legal tenancy that must be respected.

Gavin Newsom and his gang of sado-queers has ruined enough of my life by constantly battering me with their unwanted presence.

Little Gavin himself was trying to pick up old men at Perry's bar in San Francisco for years. He later tried to cover up his queer youth by hanging out with female prostitutes at his bar. I was not fooled by those staged appearances.

I dated World Chess Champion Bobby Fischer's niece, Dr. Elizabeth Targ, MD, and learned a great deal.

Evidently you have been dating sado-queer Michael and learning how to stalk and lie.

Do not disturb my tenancy further in any way.

With all due respect,

Kevin "Otto von" Volkmann

Election Fraud reaps Tragedy, Chaos, Destruction

We are the beacon of hope for many nations. Just listen to the pleas of the victims and those trying to escape oppressive Marxist socialism around the world – the same form of government and world order the leftists in this country would have us join. Those fleeing tyranny implore us to remain free and resolute.

Joe Biden's handlers have found a way to dim our beacon of hope to the world. With the abject abandonment of Afghanistan, America can again be viewed as unreliable, and 50 years on, we appear to have learned nothing from Vietnam. Who would benefit from such disastrous withdrawal, other than a foreign entity that wants to take over our role as the dominant world power? The Democrat Party does not gain by having this disaster hooked to their dogtags. The question has to be asked: Who owns and operates Joe Biden? And while he sits in the Oval Office, who owns US?

It is embarrassing to learn Biden's idiot minions begged the taliban not to destroy our embassy in Kabul, so we might have a place to negotiate with these radical religious zealots who are stealing young girls as sexual servants and killing citizens who worked to improve conditions in Afghanistan.

Within that same region, Biden's regime has reportedly begged foreign oil producers for more oil. The United States built a robust, conscientious oil and gas industry through the capitalist system, and with the labor and skill of those many men and women, we earned our energy independence. We were beholden to no one. Until Joe Biden was installed. Who benefits from American dependence on foreign oil?

The Democrat Party does not benefit by the rapid spike in gas prices and the pending shortages. Who benefits from high gas prices and rampant inflation that destroys the American middle class?

Border crossings have reached such a frenzy that Biden regime internal memos are sounding alarm the current rates are unsustainable. When the very group with no concern for border security suddenly shows concern, we should stand up and take notice. The ship must truly be taking on water, and it won't remain on the surface much longer. Already, enough undocumented immigrants have entered the US in 2021 they would make the 10th largest city in the US if assembled in one place. And that's in the first 7 months of 2021. Not to worry: Joe Biden's handlers are flying and bussing these undocumented immigrants throughout the nation, hoping we won't see the unsustainable spike, nor notice the burdens on the welfare and health care systems.

There was a working border security apparatus in place and it was only getting better. Why would the Democrat Party wish to bear responsibility for destroying it? Who benefits from such disaster?

I've asked several questions throughout this document. I believe we know the answer. America, we have a problem. In my assessment as an intelligence officer – offering this as a briefing, not hyperbole – we are in a new Cold War, and the enemy this time has tentacles much deeper into our society than the former Soviet Union ever did.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I contend the entity responsible for this chaotic destruction of America is the same entity that manufactures our election systems: the communist party of China, those steadfast supporters of radical Iran, tyrannical north Korea, and other disrupting forces.

Did you know 97% of our pharmaceuticals are made in China? Most of our manufacturing resides in China. China is mining nearly all of the Rare Earth Elements necessary in high technology. The United States is barely on the chart. China owns significant portions of our food and meat production, and they are buying farmland in the US at alarming rates.

I have no animosity toward the good people of China, and I hope they will soon enjoy the same freedoms of their families and friends in the heroic nation of Taiwan.

The Ccp is destroying us by building hackable elections systems, then paying off the White House stooge and his “Aqualung” son for policies that NO politician in this country would support, unless bought and paid for.

This isn’t an elected president. This is an installed agent of a foreign power.

We have the proof. We have the foreign financial evidence. We have the cyber evidence. We have the ballot evidence. We have whistleblower evidence at the national level and in the State of Colorado and elsewhere. We have video evidence. We have algorithmic, and other mathematical evidence.

The Marxist Snake Media does not want you to see it, because they are owned by the entertainment and news conglomerates, which are bought and paid for by… China.

The evidence is already available, and more is compounding daily. There is no escape for those Dominion defenders from the reality that American public opinion has reached a plurality: There was election fraud. Truly remarkable, given how hard the enemy has tried to suppress the information.

If we weren’t speaking truth, Twitter, Facebook, Vimeo and others wouldn’t censor us. The Ccp-owned and influenced entertainment/news industry wouldn’t ignore the facts, nor smear those telling truth to power. Dominion would not have rushed updates to scrub data, Secretaries of State would not obstruct audits nor raid county clerk offices on questionable grounds using SturmAbteilung warrants and tactics.

And even with all that going on to suppress the truth and 1st Amendment rights, the truth is breaking free.

There is no turning back. The American People should not endure for 4 years that which was fraudulently installed by a foreign entity. There are Executive Orders in place to ensure we don’t. We are living in historic times, and perhaps some are reluctant to realize we are about to be part of history. Whether it is turbulent or divine, or both, it is on the horizon, and getting closer. Seek out unfiltered, uncensored information, and stay connected with your neighbors.

Ron Hanks is the current Representative for House District 60, comprising all of Custer, Chaffee, and Park Counties, and a portion of Fremont County.

Subject: Courtesy Copy of Crime Report: Probable Human Trafficking in Seattle

Dear Seattle FBI and U.S. Attorney for Western Washington:

I hope you are well.

Evidence of human trafficking has been visible in the fourth-floor kitchen of the College Inn Seattle.

Washington State Food Worker cards displayed in the kitchen have falsified names on them. See the attached photo of four food worker cards (omitted in this edition). The housekeepers at the College Inn are native Spanish speakers who speak very little English, indicating that they were not born or raised in the United States.

Cards issued in the names of [redacted] and [redacted] are almost certainly for Mexican nationals whose actual surnames are more typically Spanish. Use of fraudulent names for food service cards raises the question of whether these College Inn employees are legally in the United States, whether they are properly paid, whether [redacted] is withholding the necessary employment taxes, whether these young women have been brought to Washington across national and state borders for forced labor or forced sex, whether local police are condoning prostitution trafficking, and whether prostitution income streams are being reported.

Desk clerk [redacted], an ostensibly gay male prostitute employee of [redacted], has a thick French accent, and we may properly ask whether he has been subjected to the same sort of exploitative trafficking as is suspected regarding the female housekeepers.

Other prostitutes, including an ostensibly gay male Nigerian prostitute -- also a possible illegal immigrant -- may be unlawful guests on the property, and may solicit prostitution patrons who rent hotel rooms from Ahrens. Today, this hyperaggressive Negro male blocked my use of the kitchen by camping in it for no good reason, preventing me from cooking my food. (I had selected a very early 7:00 a.m. time to cook some chicken drumsticks, expecting no traffic in the kitchen. As has often been the case before an ostensibly gay male ran up to the kitchen and lodged himself there, shortly after I had started cooking.)

It is entirely possible that The College Inn and other University District and Downtown hotels are a virtual pipeline for illegal immigration in the form of human trafficking.

[redacted] Bullying Tactics Discovered

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Last month [redacted] claimed that he needed me to "switch apartments" because he had booked the College Inn full for the last week of September, when students were moving into dormitories after summer vacation.

The College Inn was not anywhere near full during any week this summer, and certainly was not full when [redacted] claimed a "need to move me" in late September 2021.

As you may know, I have tenants rights in my apartment, and no landlord can arbitrarily move me to another unit or location to make room for a hotel guest or another monthly tenant. [redacted] slumlord tactic did not go far with me.

[redacted] ridiculous bluff did, however, reveal him to be a shameless liar.

Why Are Police and FBI Ignoring Women and Men Trapped In Prostitution In The University District?

UW President Anna Mari Cauce seems interested in attracting students and faculty to the University for its sex and drug tourism accommodations. Police and hotels are more than willing to implement the sex-and-drug crime plan.

Baby-faced King County Councilman Rod Dembowski was groomed by the Kennedys to oversee the Northwest High Intensity Drug Trafficking Areas in Seattle. To find the payola, FBI simply would need to look for it among Rod's pedophile, drug-snorting political donors in North Seattle and elsewhere.

Sacrificing the young women and men of Washington to the sexual appetites of certain faculty members and the national fraternity organizations seems to be the role that Cauce, police and hotels have adopted.

Harris Advocates Legalization of Public-Health Menaces

As you know, Negro supremacist and bar-exam-flunking attorney Kamala Harris leads the national call for legalizing prostitution. She also knows that legalizing adult prostitution -- which would be a mere formality in Seattle -- will lead to intense pimping of children nationwide. The same type of political strategy has been applied for legalizing stinky marijuana. The goal of marijuana-promoting politicians is to desensitize the public to the global atrocities of liquor and hard drugs, shoving the nation into a pandemic of addiction and -- surprising to the naiive -- homosexuality, a disease that most often starts with juveniles abusing substances.

This report is provided as a courtesy, in the interest of public health and safety.

Subject: Crime Report: Ahrens wants no photos of his hallway stalkers. He wants an illegal eviction.
Attachment(s): "College Inn Overcharge Screenshot 2021-09-16 181259.jpg"

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

Patterns of sado-queer syndicated harassment have become clear and unmistakeable in the past three decades. Originating in San Francisco and New York City, these crime tactics have been used to destroy the lives and livelihoods of straight competitors to closeted queer politicians like Gavin Newsom.

Rob Ahrens Wants No Photos To Be Taken of His Accomplice Hallway Stalkers

Queer stalkers who run out of their rooms when they hear my door open are completely innocent in Rob's delusional world.

In Rob Ahrens' fantasy world, I, of all people, am interested in seeing queer men crowd me constantly. Rob ignores the fact that I have complained about such sado-queer accomplices for decades, and that I now have a certified medical disability as a result of being constantly bombarded by unwanted queer men for 30 years.

The truth is -- and the evidence is absolutely overwhelming -- I cannot stand the sight of queer men. The appearance of unwanted sado-queer males makes me phyiscally and emotionally ill. This is a conditioned response that has been conditioned by hundreds or thousands of hyperaggressive, predatory queer males.

Rob Ahrens understands that he has systematically inflicted emotional distress.

Now his defense is to falsely suggest that I am trying to harass the gay men who are stalking me and chasing after me.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

"Put down that camera" says Rob.

Rob wrongly suggests repeatedly that my dislike of queer males is a crime. In his delusional world I can never legally express my distaste for the sado-queer mob that has disabled me, ruined my career, chased me out of housing, disrupted my education, and inflicted relentless emotional distress.

(At Magnuson Park, for comparison, sadistic housing administrators rudely suggested that I had a prurient interest in photographing the trespassing juvenile prostitutes who would chase me around the park. "Don't photograph our criminals committing crimes" was their rallying cry, too.)

Massive Attempts At Illegal Eviction

In e-mail after e-mail Rob Ahrens expresses the clear intent to deprive me of my tenants rights. His obvious goal is to evict me. He has been looking for a way to evict me since I started my tenancy in May 2021.

I have paid my rent for the period September 17th through October 17th. As evidence I show my credit card payment in the attached file.

Watch for an illegal lockout attempt. Although Rob Ahrens issued me a new electronic room key on September 15th, he is likely to try to reneg on accepting my payment. Obviously, he can disable an electronic key at any time.

Stay tuned. FBI: it is time to wake up. Turn off the cruise control. Go back to the office after an interminable lunch break. Stop your stealthy in-place retirement strategies. Turn off the television.

Respectfully,

Kevin "Otto von" Volkmann

cc: Law Enforcement (Forward to SAIC Voiret.)

Attached: Evidence of rent payment. The correct amount of the charge was supposed to be $1415.67. Ahrens overcharged me.

Subject: Crime Report: Loitering sexual harassers; and College Inn dodging rent payment.

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

Ostensible institutional sexual harassment at College Inn Seattle

Tuesday night September 14, 2021 as I walked to my routine evening shower, an ostensible homosexual male prostitute loitered maliciously in the hallway of the College Inn next to the Men's Bathroom. See the attached MP4 video.

Background

This incident was like many tens of thousands of sexually harassing loitering incidents inflicted in recent decades. There is good reason to believe that San Francisco Supervisor Gavin Newsom, Mayor Gavin Newsom, Lieutenant Governor Gavin Newsom and Governor Gavin Newsom sponsored many, most or all of these offensive sexual harassments, calling upon a national army of his intimate homosexual accomplices to commit relentlessly predatory crimes. Does Newsom offer free drinks at his affiliated saloons in exchange for these criminal acts? Perhaps a night in the gubernatorial bedroom? Many questions remain to be answered.

Additional Tuesday September 14, 2021 Incidents

College Inn ostensible homosexual employee Michael lurked outside the front door of the College Inn around 4 p.m. Tuesday September 14, 2021 as I departed for a trip to purchase groceries. (Evidence suggests that Michael bizarrely monitors my whereabouts.) When I returned around 4:35 p.m. he was lurking in the lobby of the College Inn. As readers know, Michael is unreasonably often lolling at the front of the College Inn, and Michael appears to be scheduling his time there to coincide with my comings and goings.

Devastating Health Consequences of Decades of Criminal Queer and Prostitute Bombardments

As readers know, due to hundreds of thousands of hyperaggressive homosexual and prostitute approaches, loiterings, stalkings, batteries, assaults, and trespasses in the last 30 years, I now have a Social-Security-Administration-certified disability of PTSD. As Rob Ahrens and his employee Michael know, this disability is triggered by the sight of ostensible homosexual men and prostitutes, and it causes acute emotional distress and physical illness.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Is Rob Ahrens an Aspiring Newsom-Like Prostitution Lord?

There is much evidence to suggest that Rob Ahrens knowingly rents rooms or gives rooms to male and female prostitutes for the purpose of illegal prostitution, in violation of law. By the same token, it appears that Rob Ahrens exercises influence over the activities of some, many or all of the prostitutes that he might be sheltering.

Rob Ahrens is evidently dodging my rent payment.

At 8:58 a.m. Wednesday September 15, 2021 -- normal business hours -- the door to the College Inn 4th Floor Office was closed, and Rob Ahrens was not there present.

Normally the office door is open during regular business hours.

Evidently College Inn owner Rob Ahrens is dodging my rent payment. Is he planning an illegal conviction? His comments to date have been in defiance or ignorance of the law.

This report is provided as a courtesy.

Respectfully,

Kevin "Otto von" Volkmann

Subject: Crime Report: Sound Transit Security inflicts Racist Stalking and Mobbing Crime

CAUTION:External email.

Dear Readers:

I hope you are well.

As has almost always been the case for years, evidently on September 21, 2021 Sound Transit Security again inflicted sexually harassing, racist mobbing and stalking hate crimes aboard ST route 594, using their idle (unwanted) affiliated Negro prostitutes as accomplices.

A statistically disproportionate number of ostensible Negro criminals boarded both departing southbound and returning northbound route 594 buses on which I was forced to ride. Some appear to have been given illegal free rides from Negro drivers.

The Negroes involved openly expressed hate speech in the form of antisocial, sado-queer, heterophobic, drug-culture, and black supremacist attire, conduct and grooming.

Evidently, as is their psychologically ill, obsessive-compulsive habit, Sound Transit employees positioned ostensible Negro female prostitutes directly across the aisle from the author on both trips.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Not Allowed To Call Them "Unsightly, Malodorous, Malicious, Drug-Abusing, Worthless, Unintelligent Sex Criminals"

Although all of the above adjectives appear to apply, attire, conduct and grooming hate-speech-sponsoring Sound Transit Security employees predictably will not allow true statements to be made about their accomplices involved in crime aboard buses.

Does Sound Transit Hire Pedophiles, Drug-Traffickers, Pimps and Prostitutes to Security Positions?

President Bill Clinton's family was actively involved in pedophilia and prostitution. Do Sound Transit managers take their hiring cues from the likes of Clinton?

Idiot drug-trafficking sex criminal Martin Luther King pimped his juvenile underage congregation members aboard Montgomery, Alabama buses, hoping to pick up Caucasian morons willing to date his motley whores for 25 cents. The story of King's underage sex slave, Claudette Colvin, has been largely erased from media coverage, because Colvin was obviously a Negro prostitute who became pregnant from a Caucasian sex buyer when she was age 15. As a result of this common screw-up, MLK was forced nine months later to find an old bitty, Rosa Parks, whose face makes everyone's blood run cold, to be the cover for his grotesque criminal sex-trafficking operations.

Imbecile ignoramus King County officials renamed their crime-ridden domain after MLK, who also trafficked Kennedy family opium and heroin. Jack and Bobby Kennedy extorted and bribed FBI officials, who thereafter no longer prosecuted sex-and-drug trafficking syndicates based in Southern black churches after being threatened with certain photographs or after taking their dope-money bribes, and/or being hooked up with the underage Claudette Colvins owned by Negro preachers.

As you known, normal people would not deal with the homosexual, pedophiliac, incestuous, drug-involved, prostitution-involved Jack and Bobby Kennedy. This explains why the Kennedys turned to Negro Southern churches for criminally-inspired support. Jack Kennedy had to hire his brother Bobby in order to allow the Kennedy family opium trade from Turkey to flourish. Super-queer Attorney General Bobby Kennedy obstructed justice in all potential sex and drug crime cases, except a few small cases involved Italians, who were kicked out of their minor role fringe Mob activities by the dominant Irish queer Mob in the 1960s.

Call To Action

Each and every Sound Transit employee must now undergo a legitimate background check (likely the first honest background check for most) for signs of their unprosecuted sex and drug crimes. As you know, sex-and-drug-crime involved Seattle police and others will never arrest their Sound Transit criminal buddies.

It is expected that up to 90 percent of Sound Transit employees must be fired after their backgrounds and affiliations are investigated.

Election Day is now less than two weeks away.

A majority of Americans believe there was election fraud in 2020. I have no doubt there was. Even with Fake News pushing their false narratives, the truth about the fraud has broken through the veil of lies.

This 2021 election cycle is at risk for fraud as well, and any evidence we can capture from this election may provide significant intelligence on the intent and operations of the criminal fraud network. There are multiple scenarios that could be revealed, and any evidence we gather will tighten the noose.

Ballots have been mailed. If you receive ballots for anyone other than the registered voters at your household, secure the ballot – don't throw it away – and reach out to my team at 719 401 0486.

Discuss the situation with the volunteer responding to your report, then determine how to handle the ballot so it will not be misused.

This is an easy way for honest citizens concerned about election fraud to help America clean up the system and ensure every valid vote is counted. No eligible voter should ever be disenfranchised by irregularities or fraud.

Colorado and Virginia Election Results Show Michael Bennet in Trouble and the Need for Full Forensic Election Audits

Penrose, Colorado – Today, Colorado State Representative Ron Hanks, a Republican serving State House District 60 and candidate for U.S. Senate released a statement on last night's historic election results:

"Colorado's across-the-board rejection of bigger government shows we do not trust our current elected officials to spend one more dime on their corrupt schemes. Michael Bennet's reign of big government waste and abuse in the U.S. Senate is coming to an end as voters are clearly ready to hold him accountable in 2022.

Likewise, as the results from another swing state Virginia show, voters from all walks of life are rejecting the failed leadership of the corrupt Democrat Party in favor of authentic Republicans who will deliver on reforms that return government power into the hands of The People, where it belongs.

While the initial results from Colorado and Virginia are encouraging, they are not an indicator our elections are secure. The new governor of Virginia and Gov. Polis should conduct an immediate full forensic audit of the 2021 elections and compare them to a full forensic audit of the 2020 elections to further highlight any possible fraud in either election.

We cannot fix America – and we will not be America – without Election Integrity. We must conduct full forensic audits and voter roll canvassing. Nothing else will matter if the will of The People is nullified by fraud. Our number one goal must be to fix proven election fraud in Colorado and America and hold every election criminal accountable," concluded Hanks.

Fellow Republicans,

While this letter was initially sent out by AZ Senator Wendy Rogers (R) to Legislators across the Country who are members of the national 'Election Integrity Caucus' she has asked that I share it with you as well for your consideration. If election integrity is a concern of your constituents and yourself, let Sen. Rogers know that you would like your signature added to this letter. I would encourage doing so sooner rather than later because the Maricopa county audit results are expected any day now and she intends to send this letter out shortly after that.

When the Arizona Audit report comes out any day now, we must be ready to respond immediately.

To the citizens of the United States of America,

We the undersigned state legislators of the United States are vested with the plenary power by our US Constitution (Article 2 Section 1 Clause 2) to oversee the election of the president of the United States.

It has come to our attention from an audit of 2.1 million ballots in Arizona complemented by an in-depth canvass of votes in Arizona, as well as through multiple different data reviews of voting by independent experts; that our representative republic suffered a corrupted 2020 election.

In addition to Arizona, sworn affidavits have accumulated from our own states detailing rampant corruption and mismanagement in the election process. Multiple audits either underway or about to start, canvasses underway or about to start, and lawsuits challenging the validity of several counties in our states, have already shown fraud and inaccuracies.

We have come to the conclusion that all 50 states need to be forensically audited. Voter rolls should be scrubbed with a canvass of the voters to ensure future integrity of our elections.

If results from these measures prove an inaccurate election was held, as has been shown in Arizona, and is being shown in many other states; then it is clear that certification of our electors was improperly rendered in January 2021 of the November 2020 United States presidential election.

We call on each state to decertify its electors where it has been shown the elections were certified prematurely and inaccurately.

Once it is shown that either Joe Biden would receive fewer than 270 tallied electoral votes, or Donald Trump would receive more than 270 electoral votes, then we call for the US House of Representatives to convene and vote per the US Constitution by means of one vote per state to decide the rightful winner of the election in accordance with the constitutional process of choosing electors.

This is our historic obligation to restore the election integrity of the vote as the bedrock of our democratic republic.

If we do not have accurate and fair elections, we do not have a country.

Signed,

Senator Wendy Rogers, Arizona

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

During my 32 years in the Air Force, I put in some time in Cyber Command and many years at National Security Agency. While those experiences are quite a ways back in my bio, I hope to be versed enough to comprehend the issues at hand.

Please let me know if you need more information.

Respectfully,
Ron Hanks

Debbie or Amanda,
Do you know which Louisiana Legislator attended the Symposium?

Also while I'm connecting, is there a next meeting planned for the Legislative Election Integrity Caucus?

Great to be working with you on this important effort. Thanks for your help!

Best,
Vicki

Dear Legislator,
I am from Louisiana and I watched some of the Symposuim last week. I happened to see your introduction on the last day and jotted down your name. Do you know the name of the Representative from Louisiana? What did you think of the symposuim?
I know I am not a constituent of your State, but I am concerned about our America.

Good Afternoon, Mark, Robert, Vicki, Tim, Wendy,

I didn't attend the legislator meeting on the 3rd day of the Symposium. I was determined to get a Wrap-Up Briefing from Lindell's team, and I didn't want to leave the floor.

I'm sending this email to ask to be included on the email/zoom roster, in case I dropped off.

It was a pleasure meeting you all. I hope to see you again soon.

Respectfully,

Dear team of esteemed members. My name is Larry Kowallis and I have been a resident of Idaho since Oct 2020. I moved after 70 years in California, guess why? I watched most of the Cyber Symposium that you attended. I am not a legislator and have never been a politician but I am game to be a statesman. I am very impressed with all of you patriots. With you and this coalition I finally see some hope. THANK YOU.
I took all the data from the video with Mike Lindell discussing, state by state, the electoral votes as reported and the actual votes from the packet data stream. I took the liberty to put it into a spreadsheet to make it easier to work with. Hope Mike doesn't mind. Please use it any way you like and pass it along to your state legislators.
I have a request. I did not see or hear of anyone from Idaho at the symposium. Can any of you tell me if anyone from my great and nearby state attended, if so who? If not, I will try to find someone. If I do, who should they contact?
Hope is the start and with your help and President Trump's new beginning, I think we have a chance to take back our country from the corrupt politicians and bureaucrats. Please let me know if there is anything I can do to help you.
My next email will have a list of links to videos and articles describing the mess with the Covid-19 vaccines. Doctors and nurses.
Armed with this information you can go to your states and have these incredible people come and speak to your legislators armed with the facts. PLEASE no forced vaccinations in order to keep jobs. No Covid vaccines for our kids. When you see the videos you will wince.
I Hope this helps.
Your Friend,

--

Hello Everyone,

Just sending a friendly reminder to you to please review the NEIC letter so you can determine whether or not you wish to sign on to it before it goes out. I've only heard from 9 of you at this time so if you could get that done I'd appreciate it. I'm incorporating the letter for you one more time so you have it at your finger tips (below). You can either email me back or feel free to text me at 804-393-2715. THIS IS A NEW PHONE NUMBER!!

Also, just for your convenience, two other reminders: 1)Tatum Lee asked that anyone interested in joining in with her on other teams have her contact info and it is: TatumForKansas@gmail.com and number is 405-834-5710. She also posted info on the WallBuilders Conference and those dates are 11/11 through 11/14/21 in Texas. Steve Gunderson identified the NCSL (National Conference for State Legislators) that is taking place 11/3 through 11/5/21. If you would like additional information or would like to gather while there, contact him at digicus599@gmail.com or 406-334-4370.

To those of you just being added to this distribution list, but have not yet participated in any of the Zoom Calls on Election Integrity, this is your formal invitation to join in. If you would like to opt out of our distribution, please let me know.

804-393-2715 NEW NUMBER

A huge thanks to AZ Senator Wendy Rogers for drafting a letter for legislators to sign in support of decertification of the Arizona electors.

The National Election Integrity Caucus, a growing number of legislators from across the country, support this effort as well as calling for a full forensic audit in all 50 states.

Please see our press statement below.

Election Integrity Caucus Press Release

Chair: Senator Amanda Chase

Debbie Gwynn, Executive Assistant
debbieChaseforva.com

October 21, 2021

To the citizens of the United States of America,

We the undersigned state legislators of the United States are vested with the plenary power by our US Constitution (Article 2 Section 1 Clause 2) to oversee the election of the president of the United States, hereby declare that substantial evidence has been produced to question each state's November 2020 election results.

"Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a Number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress: but no Senator or Representative, or Person holding an Office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector."

On completion of an independently-administered forensic election audit of 2.1 million ballots in Maricopa County, Arizona, it was concluded that the results of the 2020 election in Arizona should not have been certified. The evidence produced a number of questionable and unexplainable actions taken by the Maricopa County Board of Supervisors, which pointed directly to mismanagement and malfeasance, to include obstruction of an audit sanctioned by the Arizona Senate, deletion of data immediately prior to the audit, corrupted images, and refusal to turn over subpoenaed routers and tokens. The findings also produced thousands of duplicated voters, deceased voters, etc.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In addition, through an in-depth canvass of votes in Arizona, as well as through multiple different data reviews of voting by independent experts, it was concluded that the election errors are sufficient to justify decertification of that election and makes clear that certification of Arizona electors was improperly rendered in January 2021 of the November 2020 US presidential election, and we call for a complete nullification of Arizona's electors. Arizona is not the only state that has experienced an unusually high number of irregularities. Sworn affidavits have accumulated from many states detailing rampant corruption and mismanagement in the election process.

Multiple audits that are either underway or about to start, canvasses underway or about to start, and lawsuits challenging the validity of several counties in our states, have already shown maladministration and significant inaccuracies. We must restore voter confidence in our election system that was compromised when guardrails were taken off of our election systems in the name of "covid-related safety precautions". These safeguards must be restored. We have come to the conclusion that all 50 states need to be forensically audited as similar patterns are being discovered across the country. Voter rolls should be scrubbed with a canvass of the voters to ensure future integrity of our elections.

We cannot continue as if nothing happened. It is incumbent upon each state to ensure every legal vote is counted so that voters can trust that those elected were truly elected by the people. We must restore voter confidence as election integrity is the foundation of our republic and the peaceful transfer of power.

We the undersigned are legislators committed to seeking full forensic audits in our respective states, introducing legislation that ensures fair and transparent elections, and working closely with organizations within our respective states to restore election integrity. Please have your legislator reach out to my office if they are interested in signing this letter in support of nullification of the AZ electors and/or if they are interested in joining the Election Integrity Caucus to the email provided above.

Signed,

Senator Amanda Chase, Virginia

Hi All,

Amanda asked that I resend this letter to all of you in hopes that we can finalize things this evening. We wanted you to have another opportunity to review it prior to signing off on it. For our newcomers, this will be the first time you will have had an opportunity to see it.

If you have a change you'd like to suggest, please mention it on the call tonight.

It has come to our attention from an independently administered forensic election audit of 2.1 million ballots in Maricopa County, Arizona that the results of the 2020 election in Arizona should not have been certified due to a number of questionable and unexplainable actions taken by the Maricopa County Board of Supervisors to include: obstruction of an audit sanctioned by the Arizona Senate, deletion of data immediately prior to the audit, corrupted images and refusal to turn over subpoenaed routers and tokens.

In addition, an in-depth canvass of votes in Arizona, as well as through multiple different data reviews of voting by independent experts conclude that there is enough reasonable maladministration to call into question the results of the Arizona 2020 election results and subsequently its electors.

It is clear that certification of Arizona electors were improperly rendered in January 2021 of the November 2020 United States presidential election and we call for a complete nullification of Arizona's electors.

Arizona is not the only state that has experienced an unusually high number of irregularities. FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

November 17, 2021
Contact: Shayne Snavely
804-380-0009

This morning at 7:05am, Senator Amanda Chase made an announcement on the John Reid Morning Show and at 9:05am on the John Fredericks Show that she is officially seeking the Republican nomination for the 7th Congressional District to challenge current Congresswoman Abigail Spanberger.

To listen to today's announcement, please click on the website below.

"We Virginians have suffered from the failed leadership and liberal agenda sweeping our Commonwealth for the last several years and we need to take back the 7th District. We need a proven, experienced leader with a backbone and a demonstrated record we can trust, and who we know will actually do what they say; stand up for the people. We need a representative who will be more than just a placeholder. I will continue to be a strong voice for the people and will continue to push back against the far-left's extreme agenda. As a 2nd term Virginia State Senator I have a proven 7 year conservative voting record you can trust."

"If you believe in our Constitutional Freedoms, our First Amendment Rights, our Second Amendment Rights, if you are supporters for faith & liberty and believe that Virginians deserve to live in a state of prosperity without government controlling their lives, please support me in this congressional race."

"I'm fighting for "We The People." As such, this is a grassroots campaign and my financial backing will come from people just like you, who don't typically give to political campaigns. The lobbyists and political action committees know that I work for you, not them. Will you please give your most generous donation today so that I can be your voice in Congress?"

For God and Virginia,

Senator Amanda Chase represents Virginia's 11th Senatorial District, which is made up of Amelia County, Colonial Heights, and parts of Chesterfield County.

Fellow Republicans,

While this letter was initially sent out by AZ Senator Wendy Rogers (R) to Legislators across the Country who are members of the national 'Election Integrity Caucus' she has asked that I share it with you as well for your consideration. If election integrity is a concern of your constituents and yourself, let Sen. Rogers know that you would like your signature added to this letter. I would encourage doing so sooner rather than later because the Maricopa county audit results are expected any day now and she intends to send this letter out shortly after that.

Thank you all for your time and attention to this matter,

Sincerely,

Dear fellow state legislators,

When the Arizona Audit report comes out any day now, we must be ready to respond immediately.

Attached is the letter I intend to sign. Please message me back only if you, as an elected official, would like to sign the letter below. We need to have this WITH STATE LEGISLATORS' SIGNATURES at-the-ready once the Arizona report is made public. We must command the narrative before the Left does. Simply tell me if you are a YES.

We have put a lot of thought and effort into crafting this letter into just how it is. Attorney Christina Bobb of OAN assisted us in this effort.

Please do not message me back if you are a NO or if you are undecided. We can discuss this on the call tomorrow, but the letter goes out as is. Thank you.

There are various methods for media, politicians, cyber, and others to attend. I'm just trying to ensure anyone that needs a confirmation gets one. I'm pleased to learn you did. Yes, please send anyone interested in attending to me and I will route them accordingly.
Thank you!

Hi Lacy,

Linda Bissett gave me your contact info to reach out for an invitation to attend the Sioux Falls, South Dakota Cyber Symposium.

I have been to the Arizona Audit twice, I've called for an audit of all 50 states, and I've done some battle with the Colorado Secretary of State on Dominion System updates. Oh, and I attended the 6Jan21 rally in DC as a representative-elect.

I'm a 32 year veteran of the military, and I want to see our country returned to the people – who, I am convinced, did not vote for this disaster we are enduring.

I did not initially intend to attend this event, but I've been asked by many citizens of Colorado if I would, and I agreed, if allowed to attend. So far, I am the only elected official to go to the audit or to stand up to the election fraud that I believe was rampant in 2020.

During my 32 years in the Air Force, I put in some time in Cyber Command and many years at National Security Agency. While those experiences are quite a ways back in my bio, I hope to be versed enough to comprehend the issues at hand.

Please let me know if you need more information.

Election Day is now less than two weeks away.

A majority of Americans believe there was election fraud in 2020. I have no doubt there was. Even with Fake News pushing their false narratives, the truth about the fraud has broken through the veil of lies.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This 2021 election cycle is at risk for fraud as well, and any evidence we can capture from this election may provide significant intelligence on the intent and operations of the criminal fraud network. There are multiple scenarios that could be revealed, and any evidence we gather will tighten the noose.

Ballots have been mailed. If you receive ballots for anyone other than the registered voters at your household, secure the ballot – don't throw it away – and reach out to my team at 719 401 0486.

Discuss the situation with the volunteer responding to your report, then determine how to handle the ballot so it will not be misused.

This is an easy way for honest citizens concerned about election fraud to help America clean up the system and ensure every valid vote is counted. No eligible voter should ever be disenfranchised by irregularities or fraud.

Thank you. That's what I expected.

The list really isn't hers to control, but I expected she would, as this caucus has largely been little more than a personal plaything for her, with no progress to report, or value in the meetings.

I will work around her.

I appreciate your reply.

Hi Ron,
Sorry for my delay in responding; I was waiting to get an answer back from Amanda. She tells me that she is already working on what you are describing so respectfully, you may want to wait and see what she does, but she does not want me giving out name and contact information for other members of the caucus. There was a call where several people put their information on our chat list , but not everyone did so it's only a partial list of people. I don't know if you were on that call necessarily but would be the only thing that I would be allowed to pass out.

If you would like to speak with Amanda regarding the project she's working on I'd be happy to set up a phone call with her for you; just let me know.

Best,

Debbie

Good Evening, Debbie,

I am looking to send an email to the members of this caucus regarding building an election integrity legislation template for the next session – one that might be useful in all states. I do not have a complete or updated roster. Is that something you have that you might provide to the members of this group?

Thank you.

Dear Legislator,

I am from Louisiana and I watched some of the Symposuim last week. I happened to see your introduction on the last day and jotted down your name. Do you know the name of the Representative from Louisiana? What did you think of the symposuim?

I know I am not a constituent of your State, but I am concerned about our America.
