Dear Ms. Colombo,

This email is in response to your public records request of Dec. 9, 2021, carrying your label WI-WEC-21-1779 and concerning the rejection of absentee ballots. Below I will discuss each of the three parts of your request.

1. The Wisconsin Elections Commission (WEC) possesses WisVote data that is responsive to several parts of your request. WisVote is Wisconsin's Statewide Voter Registration System and contains data pertaining to voters and elections from 2006 to the present. Under Wis. Stat. § 6.36(6), the Wisconsin Elections Commission has established Badger Voters, https://badgervoters.wi.gov/, where any person can request WisVote data for a fee. Please resubmit your request, as explained in greater detail below, using this website.

   Wisconsin's elections are decentralized, and each local clerk is responsible for running elections within the clerk's jurisdiction. The WEC possesses a significant amount of information in WisVote that is regularly provided to requesters. However, additional records concerning local election information would only be available from the local clerk who oversaw the election. In particular, the EL-104 Inspector's Statement forms, which are in the custody of local clerks, may contain additional information that is not recorded in WisVote, such as written comments from Chief Inspectors concerning rejected absentee ballots.

   Of the five categories of ballots you have listed (1–5), the WEC only has information pertaining to the first, rejected absentee ballots. Wisconsin's municipal clerks may be able to provide records related to the other categories.

   WisVote only contains some of the data you are requesting in a. through h. The information you asked for in "a. The total number of ballots," "d. The county and precinct in which each ballot was submitted," and "e. The submission date of each ballot," is available for most but not all municipalities through Badger Voters. For "b. The grounds for each rejection or challenge of each ballot," WisVote would only have some of this information, such as a rejection for deceased voters. WisVote does not have any information related to "c. The submission method (e.g., by mail, drop box, or hand-delivered) of each ballot," "f. The date each voter that submitted a challenged or rejected ballot was notified of their ballot's deficiency," "g. The date each voter attempted to correct their rejected or challenged ballot," or "h. The date a challenged or rejected ballot was cured by an election official." Wisconsin's municipal clerks may be able to provide records related to the information not available in WisVote.

   The absentee ballot information available in WisVote could be obtained by submitting a custom request to Badger Voters that asks for, "all available information pertaining to voters who had an absentee ballot rejected for the 2016 and the 2020 general elections." The rest of the information, if available, would need to be sought from Wisconsin's municipal clerks.

2. This part of your request is fulfilled by the pdf. document attached to this email containing links to publicly accessible videos and providing login information to access several trainings available on the WEC's training website, The Learning Center. Please let me know if you have issues with links or with your access to The Learning Center. The access provided will last for 90 days, but you can contact me if you need your access extended. Individual clerks may also conduct their own trainings of local election officials, and the WEC does not possess any additional materials associated with local trainings.

   Finally, the WEC has determined that several WisVote trainings are not responsive to this request. These trainings show election officials how to enter information into WisVote, which also covers entering information pertaining to decisions made about rejected ballots. The WEC does not believe these trainings are responsive because they do not involve any decision-making processes, but rather technical information about how to use WisVote. The WEC is statutorily required to keep WisVote secure, and it has denied access to other records pertaining to WisVote and would be likely to deny access to these trainings if they were responsive. However, information in WisVote is available through a Badger Voters request, and the first part of this request explained how to obtain data pertaining to rejected absentee ballots. In short, regarding WEC records, trainings concerning the decision-making processes for rejecting an absentee ballot are linked in the attachment, and the results of the decision-making processes are recorded in WisVote and available through Badger Voters. If you have any questions about this determination or explanation, please let me know.

3. The WEC does not possess records of the title, training, and experience of each person responsible for deciding if an absentee ballot must be rejected. Each municipal clerk is a locally elected official responsible for training local election inspectors on these procedures. The WEC possesses records related to the training of clerks and the training of some deputy clerks and other members of a clerk's staff. The WEC is required to gather training information from municipal clerks, but this likely is not the full extent of those clerks' knowledge of the subject and will not show their overall experience administering elections. Overall, each local clerk hires election inspectors, and each clerk is responsible for ensuring proper training. WEC resources are a major source for this training, but clerks may conduct their own additional trainings. This link contains a pdf aggregate of the most recent training hours reported by municipal clerks to the WEC: https://elections.wi.gov/node/3549. Also attached is an Excel spreadsheet containing the WEC's records of reported trainings since Jan. 1, 2020. Ultimately, records related to individual election inspectors, covering the majority of individuals responsible for making determinations about absentee ballots, would need to be requested directly from Wisconsin's municipal clerks.

To the extent that this response denies any part of your public records request, the Commission's determination is subject to review in an action for mandamus under Wis. Stat. § 19.37(1), or by application to a district attorney or the Attorney General.

Please let me know if you have any questions about this response.

Sincerely,

Brandon Hunzicker
Staff Attorney
