We should find out all the boards and other groups the Commission appoints to in order to understand the full scope of what appointing authority the Chair is relinquishing

Commented [2]: ¶
These requirements do not belong in an AI to be binding on all future compositions of the Commission. If Norma wants to agree to this process for the current appointments, that would be understandable since we are currently 4-4. In the future, if the Commission is 6-2 again, it would be less understandable to give 2 Commissioners this much control. ¶

Alternative: Create a rule committing to bipartisan appointments

Adegbile,

Please see the attached Memo that the Staff Director, the Executive Team/Career Staff prepared. I have sent you the most important items via text and below. Please let me know if you need any additional information. Thanks IV! Alsoplease call me if you have any questions I will be on the road for the next 30-45 minutes.

The AI on Appointment of Commissioners to EAC:

The SD/Executive Committee gave the following opinions on the AI's. First they don't think that it should be an AI. Second, the proposed A.I. does not distinguish appointing authorities that provide appointments to the Commissioners themselves versus those that provide the Chair of the Commission or Staff Director with appointment authority. For example, the authorizing statute for the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys designates the Staff Director as the appointing authority for one (1) member.

If the proposed A.I., as written, was followed for the appointment to the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys, it would conflict and result in a violation of the statute. Lastly, the proposed A.I. provides a procedure to make appointments to the EAC, Board of Advisors, however it does not provide a procedure to make appointments if the caucuses do not agree on their nominees.

The Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be revised or withdrawn from consideration.

AI on interviews of panelist/witnesses.

Career staff and SD say that they do not interview folks but that they gather information for the investigation like in the case of Sub-Minimum wages and Bail Reform. That the process as it stands is transparent and provides opportunity for all Commissioners to ask follow up questions to briefing panelists but that those questions are funneled via OCRE so that there is a one stop shop of where the questions are coming from and where the questions are to be responded to. Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommend that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Witness selection AI:

Basically the Career staff is saying that this would create a logistical nightmare, that it is inconsistent with A.I. 1-6, Sec. 4.06. Section 4.06 which enumerates the Commissioners' roles and functions, such as approving projects and concepts, commenting on draft reports, and approving reports, but it does not include witness selection.

The proposed A.I. would repudiate Sec. 4.07, which notes that "all responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director who may redelegate any responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." That it would make it impossible to have all Commissioner witness recommendations honored when there are 8 Commissioners and no limit to how many they could nominate.

As written, it is unclear when Commissioners' ability to suggest witnesses ends, which may result in OCRE being unable to prepare a final witness or panelist roster/list.Commissioner selection of panelists and witnesses will also likely increase negotiation and debate among Commissioners, which could result in delays in confirming attendance.
Additionally, having a roster/list being selected by Commissioners and staff could result in the need for briefings and hearings lasting multiple days, which will increase costs.

Commissioners,

As requested, I have attached a memorandum from the Commission staff in regard to the three AI's proposed during the April 16th Commission Business meeting. We have presented a joint analysis and legal review of how we believe these three proposed AI's would affect the operation and mission of the Commission. We thank you for the opportunity to present our viewpoint.

UNITED STATE COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS
Washington, DC

CONFIDENTIAL & PRIVILEGED/PRE-DELIBERATIVE

April 23, 2021

MEMORANDUM FOR: Commissioners

FROM: Staff Director and Executive Committee

SUBJECT: Review and Recommendations of Proposed Administrative Instructions submitted on April 16, 2021, during the Commission Business Meeting

The Staff Director and the Executive Committee of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, which includes the offices of the Staff Director, Office of Civil Rights Evaluation, General Counsel, Public Affairs, and Management, have jointly reviewed the three proposed Administrative Instructions (A.I.s) introduced by the Commissioners during an April 16th , 2021, Business Meeting. The Staff Director and Executive Committee believes the proposed A.I.s inappropriately conflict with existing Administrative Instructions and Commission regulations, and unreasonably create programmatic and operations problems for the Commission. It is our recommendation that the proposed A.I.s in their current form be revised or withdrawn.

A. Proposed A.I. on Commission Appointments to Other Federal Entities

The Executive Committee provides the following recommendations regarding this proposed A.I. First, Commission appointments pursuant to 52 U.S.C. § 20944 to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC), Board of Advisors, could be accomplished via a Commission vote rather than an A.I. Second, the proposed A.I. does not distinguish appointing authorities that provide appointments to the Commissioners themselves versus those that provide the Chair of the Commission or Staff Director with appointment authority. For example, the authorizing statute for the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys designates the Staff Director as the appointing authority for one (1) member.[1] If the proposed A.I., as written, was followed for the appointment to the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys, it would conflict and result in a violation of the statute. Lastly, the proposed A.I. provides a procedure to make appointments to the EAC, Board of Advisors, however it does not provide a procedure to make appointments if the caucuses do not agree on their nominees.

The Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be revised or withdrawn from consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

B. Proposed A.I. on OCRE Interviews of Panelists and Witnesses

This proposed A.I. provides that Commissioners attend staff "interviews" with external fact "witnesses or experts." OCRE does not conduct interviews of panelists or witnesses before or after briefings or hearings, but rather, as was the case for the Subminimum Wage and Bail Reform Reports, it holds meetings with stakeholders as part of its data collection process to develop and prepare concepts and documents for reports pursuant to its regulatory mandate contained in 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e) (this Office is responsible for monitoring, evaluating and reporting on the civil rights enforcement effort of the Federal Government; developing concepts for programs, projects, and policies directed toward the achievement of Commission goals; preparing documents that articulate the Commission's views and concerns regarding Federal civil rights.) Commissioner participation in OCRE pre-briefings and pre-hearing meetings is inconsistent with the aforementioned regulation, which prescribes OCRE's function within the Commission.[2]

Further, 45 C.F.R. § 702.14(a) notes that an accurate transcript recorded by a court reporter shall be made of the testimony of all witnesses at all proceedings of the Commission. Consequently, as written, by defining OCRE meetings as "interviews" this A.I. would result in the financial cost of court reporters to be present whenever OCRE meets with stakeholders, panelists, or witnesses, in addition to the administrative burden of having to schedule and coordinate meeting time with Commissioners and their Special Assistants on a bipartisan basis and the panelist or witness. This A.I. is impractical and unnecessary.

Finally, the A.I. provides that Commissioners can individually provide follow-up questions to witnesses. This runs counter to the Commission's Privacy Act policy as OCRE staff would not have access to these additional individual Commissioner questions, requests or the information gathered; nor can OCRE ensure that the information collected from participants will be properly stored and managed for confidentiality or for inclusion in Commission Reports. Additionally, career staff in OCRE, as social scientists, follow the three principles of the Belmont Report (respect of persons, beneficence, and justice), which are needed to protect vulnerable interviewees, such as children, persons with disabilities, prisoners, and others. It is not clear that Commissioners or their Special Assistants, given their varied professional backgrounds, will follow the aforementioned principles.

The current practice is that OCRE sends a joint set of follow up questions from Commissioners which are forwarded to panelists to answer. All questions and answers are shared with Commissioners and their special assistants. Sending separate and individual questions confuses panelists, results in multiple & repetitive questions and prevents every Commissioner equal access to questions and answers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommend that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

C. Proposed A.I. on Witness Selection

This proposed A.I. revises A.I. 1-6, "National Project Development and Implementation." Specifically, it revises Section 11, Commission Hearings, and Section 12, Commission Briefings. Staff reminds Commissioners that there is a significant difference between a Commission hearing and a Commission briefing.

The first sentences of Sections 11.03 and 12.02 respectively state that staff are to use "various" sources to gather suggestions for witnesses, but the subsequent sentences state that Commissioners are the "primary" source for "suggesting" witnesses. These two sentences are contradictory and the use of the term "suggest" in reference to witness selection by the Commissioners is inconsistent with the provision in these Sections that if two Commissioners request a particular witness, then staff must invite that witness.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02 mandate that staff invite a witness who is requested by two or more Commissioners. This mandate is inconsistent with A.I. 1-6, Sec. 4.06. Section 4.06 enumerates the Commissioners' roles and functions, such as approving projects and concepts, commenting on draft reports, and approving reports, but it does not include witness selection. The proposed A.I. would repudiate Sec. 4.07, which notes that "all responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director who may redelegate any responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." Section 12.02's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission briefings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is also inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e), which makes project development and civil rights evaluation functions of OCRE. As noted above, federal agencies are not free to ignore its regulations while they remain in effect. See U.S. Lines, Inc., 584 F.2d 519 at n. 20. Similarly, Section 11.03's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission hearings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(c), which notes that OGC "plans and conducts hearings."[3] Given that this proposed A.I. allows Commissioners to select witnesses for hearings, it prevents OGC from fulfilling its regulatory mandate to plan hearings. In the sixty-three year history of the Commission, Commissioners have never unilaterally selected witnesses. Such a change would alter the fundamental role of OCRE and undermine its ability to conduct an objective and substantive briefing.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02's witness mandate is also not consistent with 42 U.S.C. § 1975b. This statute notes that the Staff Director is the administrative head of the Commission, which includes things such as proposing employee discipline and conducting performance appraisals for career staff under Title 5. Commissioner interference in OCRE and OGC's operations as

[3] Although notice and comment rulemaking is not required for general statements of policy under 5 U.S.C. § 553(b)(A), an agency acts arbitrarily and capriciously if it acts in a manner that is contrary to its own regulations or a congressional statute. Pol'y & Rsch., LLC v. United States Dep't of Health & Hum. Servs., 313 F. Supp. 3d 62, 72 (D.D.C. 2018).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

proposed in the A.I. would result in contradictory or inconsistent orders from Commissioners. Additionally, designating Commissioners as the "primary" source for inviting and hearing from a specific witness would be an extraordinary change skewing the ability of OCRE to engage in objective investigations. It would send the Commission down a slippery slope of Commissioners and their special assistants themselves conducting investigations and writing reports. Such change would irreparably alter the mission of the Commission and be at odds with our enacting statue and Congressional history in creating the Commission. Please also note that Commissioner involvement in selecting witnesses pursuant to this proposed A.I., attending panelist and witness meetings in the aforementioned proposed A.I., or other involvement in the Commission's day-to-day operations, may implicate the 75-day billable cap in the Commission's fiscal year 2021 budget. See https://www.usccr.gov/pubs/2020/FY2021-Congressional-Budget-Justification.pdf.

Section 11.02 of the current A.I. 1-6 references a Hearing Report form, however it is unclear whether the Commission actually utilizes this form. This form certifies a numerical balance of witnesses with opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, and could safeguard that witnesses and panelists are ideologically balanced. However, such a form could also be used to impede in the selection of panelists for briefings and undermine the benefit the collaborative working relationship. OCRE already works with the lead Special Assistant/Commissioner regarding witness and panelist selection. Adding a new form or a new layer in the selection process would further delay the creation of panels and delay the release of the final report.

Logistically the proposed A.I. presents a number of potential scheduling issues for Commission staff. As written, it is unclear when Commissioners' ability to suggest witnesses ends, which may result in OCRE being unable to prepare a final witness or panelist roster/list. Commissioner selection of panelists and witnesses will also likely increase negotiation and debate among Commissioners, which could result in delays in confirming attendance. Additionally, having a roster/list being selected by Commissioners and staff could result in the need for briefings and hearings lasting multiple days, which will increase costs.

Lastly, while it is understandable that that Commissioners want to play a larger role in the selection process, they should do so by negotiating with each other prior to panelists suggestions being sent to OCRE. They should continue to work with OCRE to have diverse and objective panelists instead of attempting to force a selection reflecting their individual viewpoint. It is the view of the staff that unilateral Commissioner selection of witnesses and panelists would constrain OCRE's ability to collect bipartisan testimony and prohibit OCRE's ability to act independently. The panelist and witness evaluation process is independent of the Commissioners final assessment and report of civil rights enforcement. Further, OCRE remains committed to work with Commissioners regarding their recommendations and will continue to strive to accommodate the recommended expert or fact witness or panelist.

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

D. Conclusion

The following are the recommendations of the Commission professional staff:

- Commissioners discuss and take a recorded vote on bipartisan appointments to other Federal entities or revise the proposed A.I. for Commission appointments;
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Stakeholder Interviews; and,
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Witnesses.

Mauro Morales

Washington, DC 20425

Dear Mr. Morales:

We, the undersigned Commissioners, write today to request the promulgation of a searchable digital collection of the Commission's Administrative Instructions (AIs). In order to efficiently serve as Commissioners, we must have easy access to the AIs. Thus, we request that you provide us with the following:

- One updated digital file containing every AI that is in effect, in its proper order, and with the date and manner of each AI's ratification
- Physical copies of that digital file by request

The general counsel has sent some of this information piece-by-piece via email to us over the past few weeks. But those AIs have not been updated or organized, and they have not been collected into a single digital document. As matters stand, accessing the AIs requires that we attempt to assemble a complete list from the documents we have been sent piecemeal. Thus, this effort is inadequate.

This is simply a matter of good governance. Please provide us with a timeline for completion of the above tasks.

Sincerely,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We should find out all the boards and other groups the Commission appoints to in order to understand the full scope of what appointing authority the Chair is relinquishing

Commented [2]: ¶
These requirements do not belong in an AI to be binding on all future compositions of the Commission. If Norma wants to agree to this process for the current appointments, that would be understandable since we are currently 4-4. In the future, if the Commission is 6-2 again, it would be less understandable to give 2 Commissioners this much control. ¶

MEMORANDUM FOR: Commissioners

FROM: Staff Director and Executive Committee

SUBJECT: Review and Recommendations of Proposed Administrative Instructions submitted on April 16, 2021, during the Commission Business Meeting

The Staff Director and the Executive Committee of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, which includes the offices of the Staff Director, Office of Civil Rights Evaluation, General Counsel, Public Affairs, and Management, have jointly reviewed the three proposed Administrative Instructions (A.I.s) introduced by the Commissioners during an April 16th , 2021, Business Meeting. The Staff Director and Executive Committee believes the proposed A.I.s inappropriately conflict with existing Administrative Instructions and Commission regulations, and unreasonably create programmatic and operations problems for the Commission. It is our recommendation that the proposed A.I.s in their current form be revised or withdrawn.

A. Proposed A.I. on Commission Appointments to Other Federal Entities

The Executive Committee provides the following recommendations regarding this proposed A.I. First, Commission appointments pursuant to 52 U.S.C. § 20944 to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC), Board of Advisors, could be accomplished via a Commission vote rather than an A.I. Second, the proposed A.I. does not distinguish appointing authorities that provide appointments to the Commissioners themselves versus those that provide the Chair of the Commission or Staff Director with appointment authority. For example, the authorizing statute for the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys designates the Staff Director as the appointing authority for one (1) member.[1] If the proposed A.I., as written, was followed for the appointment to the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys, it would conflict and result in a violation of the statute. Lastly, the proposed A.I. provides a procedure to make appointments to the EAC, Board of Advisors, however it does not provide a procedure to make appointments if the caucuses do not agree on their nominees.

The Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be revised or withdrawn from consideration.

B. Proposed A.I. on OCRE Interviews of Panelists and Witnesses

This proposed A.I. provides that Commissioners attend staff "interviews" with external fact "witnesses or experts." OCRE does not conduct interviews of panelists or witnesses before or after briefings or hearings, but rather, as was the case for the Subminimum Wage and Bail Reform Reports, it holds meetings with stakeholders as part of its data collection process to develop and prepare concepts and documents for reports pursuant to its regulatory mandate contained in 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e) (this Office is responsible for monitoring, evaluating and reporting on the civil rights enforcement effort of the Federal Government; developing concepts for programs, projects, and policies directed toward the achievement of Commission goals; preparing documents that articulate the Commission's views and concerns regarding Federal civil rights.) Commissioner participation in OCRE pre-briefings and pre-hearing meetings is inconsistent with the aforementioned regulation, which prescribes OCRE's function within the Commission.[2]

Further, 45 C.F.R. § 702.14(a) notes that an accurate transcript recorded by a court reporter shall be made of the testimony of all witnesses at all proceedings of the Commission. Consequently, as written, by defining OCRE meetings as "interviews" this A.I. would result in the financial cost of court reporters to be present whenever OCRE meets with stakeholders, panelists, or witnesses, in addition to the administrative burden of having to schedule and coordinate meeting time with Commissioners and their Special Assistants on a bipartisan basis and the panelist or witness. This A.I. is impractical and unnecessary.

Finally, the A.I. provides that Commissioners can individually provide follow-up questions to witnesses. This runs counter to the Commission's Privacy Act policy as OCRE staff would not have access to these additional individual Commissioner questions, requests or the information gathered; nor can OCRE ensure that the information collected from participants will be properly stored and managed for confidentiality or for inclusion in Commission Reports. Additionally, career staff in OCRE, as social scientists, follow the three principles of the Belmont Report (respect of persons, beneficence, and justice), which are needed to protect vulnerable interviewees, such as children, persons with disabilities, prisoners, and others. It is not clear that Commissioners or their Special Assistants, given their varied professional backgrounds, will follow the aforementioned principles.

The current practice is that OCRE sends a joint set of follow up questions from Commissioners which are forwarded to panelists to answer. All questions and answers are shared with Commissioners and their special assistants. Sending separate and individual questions confuses panelists, results in multiple & repetitive questions and prevents every Commissioner equal access to questions and answers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommend that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

C. Proposed A.I. on Witness Selection

This proposed A.I. revises A.I. 1-6, "National Project Development and Implementation." Specifically, it revises Section 11, Commission Hearings, and Section 12, Commission Briefings. Staff reminds Commissioners that there is a significant difference between a Commission hearing and a Commission briefing.

The first sentences of Sections 11.03 and 12.02 respectively state that staff are to use "various" sources to gather suggestions for witnesses, but the subsequent sentences state that Commissioners are the "primary" source for "suggesting" witnesses. These two sentences are contradictory and the use of the term "suggest" in reference to witness selection by the Commissioners is inconsistent with the provision in these Sections that if two Commissioners request a particular witness, then staff must invite that witness.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02 mandate that staff invite a witness who is requested by two or more Commissioners. This mandate is inconsistent with A.I. 1-6, Sec. 4.06. Section 4.06 enumerates the Commissioners' roles and functions, such as approving projects and concepts, commenting on draft reports, and approving reports, but it does not include witness selection. The proposed A.I. would repudiate Sec. 4.07, which notes that "all responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director who may redelegate any responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." Section 12.02's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission briefings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is also inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e), which makes project development and civil rights evaluation functions of OCRE. As noted above, federal agencies are not free to ignore its regulations while they remain in effect. See U.S. Lines, Inc., 584 F.2d 519 at n. 20. Similarly, Section 11.03's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission hearings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(c), which notes that OGC "plans and conducts hearings."[3] Given that this proposed A.I. allows Commissioners to select witnesses for hearings, it prevents OGC from fulfilling its regulatory mandate to plan hearings. In the sixty-three year history of the Commission, Commissioners have never unilaterally selected witnesses. Such a change would alter the fundamental role of OCRE and undermine its ability to conduct an objective and substantive briefing.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02's witness mandate is also not consistent with 42 U.S.C. § 1975b. This statute notes that the Staff Director is the administrative head of the Commission, which includes things such as proposing employee discipline and conducting performance appraisals for career staff under Title 5. Commissioner interference in OCRE and OGC's operations as

[3] Although notice and comment rulemaking is not required for general statements of policy under 5 U.S.C. § 553(b)(A), an agency acts arbitrarily and capriciously if it acts in a manner that is contrary to its own regulations or a congressional statute. Pol'y & Rsch., LLC v. United States Dep't of Health & Hum. Servs., 313 F. Supp. 3d 62, 72 (D.D.C. 2018).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

proposed in the A.I. would result in contradictory or inconsistent orders from Commissioners. Additionally, designating Commissioners as the "primary" source for inviting and hearing from a specific witness would be an extraordinary change skewing the ability of OCRE to engage in objective investigations. It would send the Commission down a slippery slope of Commissioners and their special assistants themselves conducting investigations and writing reports. Such change would irreparably alter the mission of the Commission and be at odds with our enacting statue and Congressional history in creating the Commission. Please also note that Commissioner involvement in selecting witnesses pursuant to this proposed A.I., attending panelist and witness meetings in the aforementioned proposed A.I., or other involvement in the Commission's day-to-day operations, may implicate the 75-day billable cap in the Commission's fiscal year 2021 budget. See https://www.usccr.gov/pubs/2020/FY2021-Congressional-Budget-Justification.pdf.

Section 11.02 of the current A.I. 1-6 references a Hearing Report form, however it is unclear whether the Commission actually utilizes this form. This form certifies a numerical balance of witnesses with opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, and could safeguard that witnesses and panelists are ideologically balanced. However, such a form could also be used to impede in the selection of panelists for briefings and undermine the benefit the collaborative working relationship. OCRE already works with the lead Special Assistant/Commissioner regarding witness and panelist selection. Adding a new form or a new layer in the selection process would further delay the creation of panels and delay the release of the final report.

Logistically the proposed A.I. presents a number of potential scheduling issues for Commission staff. As written, it is unclear when Commissioners' ability to suggest witnesses ends, which may result in OCRE being unable to prepare a final witness or panelist roster/list. Commissioner selection of panelists and witnesses will also likely increase negotiation and debate among Commissioners, which could result in delays in confirming attendance. Additionally, having a roster/list being selected by Commissioners and staff could result in the need for briefings and hearings lasting multiple days, which will increase costs.

Lastly, while it is understandable that that Commissioners want to play a larger role in the selection process, they should do so by negotiating with each other prior to panelists suggestions being sent to OCRE. They should continue to work with OCRE to have diverse and objective panelists instead of attempting to force a selection reflecting their individual viewpoint. It is the view of the staff that unilateral Commissioner selection of witnesses and panelists would constrain OCRE's ability to collect bipartisan testimony and prohibit OCRE's ability to act independently. The panelist and witness evaluation process is independent of the Commissioners final assessment and report of civil rights enforcement. Further, OCRE remains committed to work with Commissioners regarding their recommendations and will continue to strive to accommodate the recommended expert or fact witness or panelist.

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

D. Conclusion

The following are the recommendations of the Commission professional staff:

- Commissioners discuss and take a recorded vote on bipartisan appointments to other Federal entities or revise the proposed A.I. for Commission appointments;
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Stakeholder Interviews; and,
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Witnesses.

hello Michael --

Juana plans to release an agenda for the caucus call this morning.

In order to give you a heads-up and organize documents for you regarding anticipated agenda items:

A. Agenda for Friday's Business Meeting:

B. Bipartisan/Negotiated A.I. proposals:

EAC: Dave and Debo submitted "non-negotiable" feedback on the language which you and Pete crafted, if in fact this issue needs to be addressed in an AI at all. The documents are attached. As per Amy:

"Sending edits from Dave and Debo on the appointing authority to external Commissions. Their preference is that this not be handled through an AI at all, as it will bind future Commissions to this process. They prefer a different vehicle to handle this round of appointments only. If it is necessary to adopt a new AI, I'm attaching here language that reflects their position."

The Debo/Dave document is attached.

The new GG submitted a memo opposing ALL THREE proffered A.I.s. It is attached.

The Staff Director submitted a memo recommending that the Commissioners take bipartisan votes on EAC members and withdraw the other two proposals. It is attached.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Other A.I.s:

Debo and Dave oppose having the Commissioners get so deeply involved in the day-to-day operations of the career staff.

As above, the new GG submitted a memo opposing ALL THREE proffered A.I.s. It is attached.

As above, the Staff Director submitted a memo recommending that the Commissioners withdraw these two proposals. It is attached.

C. SACs:

NC will likely go forward upon bipartisan agreement long in the making.

ID is still stalled because the Rs disagree with your assertion that Yenor needs to apologize.

D. Anti-AAPI discrimination statement:

This item appears on the new agenda. Do you still want to go forward? If so, do you want to make any edits? Other Ds may suggest edits. If a new version is going forward on Friday, we must circulate by noon Eastern on Wednesday. I will be out of pocket for a while after the caucus meeting by can likely resume work late Tues. night.

Commissioner participation in OCRE pre-briefings and pre-hearing meetings is inconsistent with the aforementioned regulation, which prescribes OCRE's function within the Commission.[2]

Further, 45 C.F.R. § 702.14(a) notes that an accurate transcript recorded by a court reporter shall be made of the testimony of all witnesses at all proceedings of the Commission. Consequently, as written, by defining OCRE meetings as "interviews" this A.I. would result in the financial cost of court reporters to be present whenever OCRE meets with stakeholders, panelists, or witnesses, in addition to the administrative burden of having to schedule and coordinate meeting time with Commissioners and their Special Assistants on a bipartisan basis and the panelist or witness. This A.I. is impractical and unnecessary.

Finally, the A.I. provides that Commissioners can individually provide follow-up questions to witnesses. This runs counter to the Commission's Privacy Act policy as OCRE staff would not have access to these additional individual Commissioner questions, requests or the information gathered; nor can OCRE ensure that the information collected from participants will be properly stored and managed for confidentiality or for inclusion in Commission Reports. Additionally, career staff in OCRE, as social scientists, follow the three principles of the Belmont Report (respect of persons, beneficence, and justice), which are needed to protect vulnerable interviewees, such as children, persons with disabilities, prisoners, and others. It is not clear that Commissioners or their Special Assistants, given their varied professional backgrounds, will follow the aforementioned principles.

The current practice is that OCRE sends a joint set of follow up questions from Commissioners which are forwarded to panelists to answer. All questions and answers are shared with Commissioners and their special assistants. Sending separate and individual questions confuses panelists, results in multiple & repetitive questions and prevents every Commissioner equal access to questions and answers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommend that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

C. Proposed A.I. on Witness Selection

This proposed A.I. revises A.I. 1-6, "National Project Development and Implementation." Specifically, it revises Section 11, Commission Hearings, and Section 12, Commission Briefings. Staff reminds Commissioners that there is a significant difference between a Commission hearing and a Commission briefing.

The first sentences of Sections 11.03 and 12.02 respectively state that staff are to use "various" sources to gather suggestions for witnesses, but the subsequent sentences state that Commissioners are the "primary" source for "suggesting" witnesses. These two sentences are contradictory and the use of the term "suggest" in reference to witness selection by the Commissioners is inconsistent with the provision in these Sections that if two Commissioners request a particular witness, then staff must invite that witness.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02 mandate that staff invite a witness who is requested by two or more Commissioners. This mandate is inconsistent with A.I. 1-6, Sec. 4.06. Section 4.06 enumerates the Commissioners' roles and functions, such as approving projects and concepts, commenting on draft reports, and approving reports, but it does not include witness selection. The proposed A.I. would repudiate Sec. 4.07, which notes that "all responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director who may redelegate any responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." Section 12.02's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission briefings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is also inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e), which makes project development and civil rights evaluation functions of OCRE. As noted above, federal agencies are not free to ignore its regulations while they remain in effect. See U.S. Lines, Inc., 584 F.2d 519 at n. 20. Similarly, Section 11.03's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission hearings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(c), which notes that OGC "plans and conducts hearings."[3] Given that this proposed A.I. allows Commissioners to select witnesses for hearings, it prevents OGC from fulfilling its regulatory mandate to plan hearings. In the sixty-three year history of the Commission, Commissioners have never unilaterally selected witnesses. Such a change would alter the fundamental role of OCRE and undermine its ability to conduct an objective and substantive briefing.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02's witness mandate is also not consistent with 42 U.S.C. § 1975b. This statute notes that the Staff Director is the administrative head of the Commission, which includes things such as proposing employee discipline and conducting performance appraisals for career staff under Title 5. Commissioner interference in OCRE and OGC's operations as

[3] Although notice and comment rulemaking is not required for general statements of policy under 5 U.S.C. § 553(b)(A), an agency acts arbitrarily and capriciously if it acts in a manner that is contrary to its own regulations or a congressional statute. Pol'y & Rsch., LLC v. United States Dep't of Health & Hum. Servs., 313 F. Supp. 3d 62, 72 (D.D.C. 2018).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

proposed in the A.I. would result in contradictory or inconsistent orders from Commissioners. Additionally, designating Commissioners as the "primary" source for inviting and hearing from a specific witness would be an extraordinary change skewing the ability of OCRE to engage in objective investigations. It would send the Commission down a slippery slope of Commissioners and their special assistants themselves conducting investigations and writing reports. Such change would irreparably alter the mission of the Commission and be at odds with our enacting statue and Congressional history in creating the Commission. Please also note that Commissioner involvement in selecting witnesses pursuant to this proposed A.I., attending panelist and witness meetings in the aforementioned proposed A.I., or other involvement in the Commission's day-to-day operations, may implicate the 75-day billable cap in the Commission's fiscal year 2021 budget. See https://www.usccr.gov/pubs/2020/FY2021-Congressional-Budget-Justification.pdf.

Section 11.02 of the current A.I. 1-6 references a Hearing Report form, however it is unclear whether the Commission actually utilizes this form. This form certifies a numerical balance of witnesses with opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, and could safeguard that witnesses and panelists are ideologically balanced. However, such a form could also be used to impede in the selection of panelists for briefings and undermine the benefit the collaborative working relationship. OCRE already works with the lead Special Assistant/Commissioner regarding witness and panelist selection. Adding a new form or a new layer in the selection process would further delay the creation of panels and delay the release of the final report.

Logistically the proposed A.I. presents a number of potential scheduling issues for Commission staff. As written, it is unclear when Commissioners' ability to suggest witnesses ends, which may result in OCRE being unable to prepare a final witness or panelist roster/list. Commissioner selection of panelists and witnesses will also likely increase negotiation and debate among Commissioners, which could result in delays in confirming attendance. Additionally, having a roster/list being selected by Commissioners and staff could result in the need for briefings and hearings lasting multiple days, which will increase costs.

Lastly, while it is understandable that that Commissioners want to play a larger role in the selection process, they should do so by negotiating with each other prior to panelists suggestions being sent to OCRE. They should continue to work with OCRE to have diverse and objective panelists instead of attempting to force a selection reflecting their individual viewpoint. It is the view of the staff that unilateral Commissioner selection of witnesses and panelists would constrain OCRE's ability to collect bipartisan testimony and prohibit OCRE's ability to act independently. The panelist and witness evaluation process is independent of the Commissioners final assessment and report of civil rights enforcement. Further, OCRE remains committed to work with Commissioners regarding their recommendations and will continue to strive to accommodate the recommended expert or fact witness or panelist.

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

D. Conclusion

The following are the recommendations of the Commission professional staff:

- Commissioners discuss and take a recorded vote on bipartisan appointments to other Federal entities or revise the proposed A.I. for Commission appointments;
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Stakeholder Interviews; and,
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Witnesses.

EAC appointing authority (redline attached)

- We have worked on the language that you emphasized during the calls.
- That the Chairperson still retains the authority to appoint with the consultation from Commissioners.
- That the Commissioners selected by respective caucus are willing and able to serve
- Finally, should the person by the choosing party not be able to serve, the chairperson shall be free to choose any other member of the Commission, including said chairperson, to serve on the U.S. Election Assistance Commission

The other 2 AI's will be reviewed by OGC and OCRE because it requires their input. However both of the AI have been non-starters for you and Dave.

OCRE Witness Interviews

The R's are wanting to attend interviews that OCRE conducts in order to obtain information for our investigations. Such interviews were conducted for the Sub-Minimum Wages, as well as for Bail Reform.

- ADA requirements for interviews may not allow for this
- Bail reform interviews also conducted with focus jurisdictions

- Need to preserve the independence of the agency

The AI on Appointment of Commissioners to EAC:

The SD/Executive Committee gave the following opinions on the AI's. First they don't think that it should be an AI. Second, the proposed A.I. does not distinguish appointing authorities that provide appointments to the Commissioners themselves versus those that provide the Chair of the Commission or Staff Director with appointment authority. For example, the authorizing statute for the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys designates the Staff Director as the appointing authority for one (1) member.

If the proposed A.I., as written, was followed for the appointment to the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys, it would conflict and result in a violation of the statute. Lastly, the proposed A.I. provides a procedure to make appointments to the EAC, Board of Advisors, however it does not provide a procedure to make appointments if the caucuses do not agree on their nominees.

The Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be revised or withdrawn from consideration.

AI on interviews of panelist/witnesses.

Career staff and SD say that they do not interview folks but that they gather information for the investigation like in the case of Sub-Minimum wages and Bail Reform. That the process as it stands is transparent and provides opportunity for all Commissioners to ask follow up questions to briefing panelists but that those questions are funneled via OCRE so that there is a one stop shop of where the questions are coming from and where the questions are to be responded to. Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommend that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Witness selection AI:

Basically the Career staff is saying that this would create a logistical nightmare, that it is inconsistent with A.I. 1-6, Sec. 4.06. Section 4.06 which enumerates the Commissioners' roles and functions, such as approving projects and concepts, commenting on draft reports, and approving reports, but it does not include witness selection.

The proposed A.I. would repudiate Sec. 4.07, which notes that "all responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director who may redelegate any responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." That it would make it impossible to have all Commissioner witness recommendations honored when there are 8 Commissioners and no limit to how many they could nominate.

As written, it is unclear when Commissioners' ability to suggest witnesses ends, which may result in OCRE being unable to prepare a final witness or panelist roster/list.Commissioner selection of panelists and witnesses will also likely increase negotiation and debate among Commissioners, which could result in delays in confirming attendance.
Additionally, having a roster/list being selected by Commissioners and staff could result in the need for briefings and hearings lasting multiple days, which will increase costs.

April 15, 2021

Mauro Morales
Staff Director
1331 Pennsylvania Ave NW
Washington, DC 20425

Dear Mr. Morales:

We, the undersigned Commissioners, write today to request the promulgation of a searchable digital collection of the Commission's Administrative Instructions (AIs). In order to efficiently serve as Commissioners, we must have easy access to the AIs. Thus, we request that you provide us with the following:

- One updated digital file containing every AI that is in effect, in its proper order, and with the date and manner of each AI's ratification
- Physical copies of that digital file by request

The general counsel has sent some of this information piece-by-piece via email to us over the past few weeks. But those AIs have not been updated or organized, and they have not been collected into a single digital document. As matters stand, accessing the AIs requires that we attempt to assemble a complete list from the documents we have been sent piecemeal. Thus, this effort is inadequate.

This is simply a matter of good governance. Please provide us with a timeline for completion of the above tasks.

Sincerely,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSION APPOINTMENTS TO OTHER FEDERAL ENTITIES

Section 1.

.01 Any authority specifically granted the Commission of Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc. shall be exercised by the Commission Chairperson in consultation with all members of the commission.~~as a whole by majority vote~~.

Section 2

(1) For the two (2) appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership that are ready willing and able to serve, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership that are ready willing and able to serve.

(2) The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities.

(3) Should the person by the choosing party not be able to serve, the chairperson shall be free to choose any other member of the Commission, including said chairperson, to serve on the U.S. Election Assistance Commission/

(~~3~~4) ———— The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1.

NOTE: I don't see the AI for the rebuttal/surrebuttal,…but I will not vote for it if that crap stays in their about understanding the individual commissioners point-of-vote or vote.

Commented [1]: ¶
Past practice has been that the Chair makes these appointments. This reduces the power of the Chair. ¶
We should find out all the boards and other groups the Commission appoints to in order to understand the full scope of what appointing authority the Chair is relinquishing

Commented [2]: ¶
These requirements do not belong in an AI to be binding on all future compositions of the Commission. If Norma wants to agree to this process for the current appointments, that would be understandable since we are currently 4-4. In the future, if the Commission is 6-2 again, it would be less understandable to give 2 Commissioners this much control. ¶
Alternative: Create a rule committing to bipartisan appointments

Apparently the EAC gets two designees over the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Currently it is Yaki and Kladney. I just got a call from an EAC commission saying that Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

Could you two take a quick look at the draft motion language and the explanation for it that follows below?

In addition, since we are going to have to resubmit the text of AI's tomorrow to meet the 48 hour deadline, can we just change the text to drop the phrase "of their membership" in what you submit tomorrow. I move that the phrase "of their membership" be removed in the two places that it appears in the proposed Administrative Instruction (AI) on 'Commission Appointments to Other Federal Entities.'"

The inclusion of this phrase in the proposed AI requires that USCCR's appointees to other federal entities must come from among the sitting USCCR commissioners themselves, even if that is not required by the statute authorizing the USCCR to make such appointments.

For instance, Section 214 of the "Help America Vote Act (HAVA) of 2002" (HR3295) states that the Board of Advisors to the Election Assistance Commission (EAC) shall consist of 37 members with: "(10) Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." The statute does not require that the appointees must come from among the ranks of the USCCR Commissioners themselves, but the AI as drafted would require that – which would set the terms of the AI above the terms of the statute itself.

Dropping the phrase "of their membership" in the 2 places it appears would make the proposed AI comport with Congress' original intent when it passed HAVA, and allow the USCCR to appoint members to the EAC's Board of Advisors from among USCCR own members, or from the public at large as Congress intended. Dropping the phrase would ensure that such Congressional intent in other future or present statutes that authorize the USCCR to make appointments to other federal entities would be similarly

Apparently the EAC gets two designees over the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Currently it is Yaki and Kladney. I just got a call from an EAC commission saying that Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

I don't have Norma's phone number, but thought you would like to see what Mauro just sent to all the SAs plus the "executive staff" in response to Alex's request for an SA meeting on Tuesday:

Thank you. Let me look at it and get back to you. I am rethinking the format for future meetings. I hold these meetings as a courtesy and for transparency about Commission matters and pending issues. My predecessor staff directors never held such meetings with SA's. I took a different approach. However, as of recent the meetings have become somewhat adversarial. I have been interrupted when speaking and feel the questioning is more akin to a cross-examination and not a conversation or discussion. I believe that in order to have future successful meetings and for transparency to work it has to be a two way conversation. For example, special assistants had been discussing an omnibus motion over eight weeks ago, yet three AI drafts were offered for a vote on the day of the business meeting with no staff input whatsoever. Two of those AI's in the package submitted on the 16th would significantly impact the ability of OCRE to operate and change the conduct of Commission investigations. Why these AI's were never shared with staff is confounding and disappointing to everyone. I desire to holding meetings with SA's in the near future with the hope that more transparency on Commissioner views concerning Commission matters will be more forthcoming. I will revisit this option after the Friday business meeting on the 30th and suggest a possible meeting time and date at that time.

My guess is the USCCR does their own "appointment" itself. How we un-appoint is going to be the issue. It probably NEVER came up in a business meeting and therefore we should, as a commission have the authority to take it up in a business meeting and appoint-anew.

Apparently the EAC gets two designees over the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Currently it is Yaki and Kladney. I just got a call from an EAC commission saying that Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

COMMISSION APPOINTMENTS TO OTHER FEDERAL ENTITIES

Section 1.

.01 Any authority specifically granted the Commission of Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc. shall be exercised by the Commission Chairperson in consultation with all members of the commission.~~as a whole by majority vote~~.

(1) For the two (2) appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership that are ready willing and able to serve, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership that are ready willing and able to serve.

(2) The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities.

(3) Should the person by the choosing party not be able to serve, the chairperson shall be free to choose any other member of the Commission, including said chairperson, to serve on the U.S. Election Assistance Commission/

I move that the phrase "of their membership" be removed in the two places that it appears in the proposed Administrative Instruction (AI) on "Commission Appointments to Other Federal Entities."

The inclusion of this phrase in the proposed AI requires that USCCR's appointees to other federal entities must come from among the sitting USCCR commissioners themselves, even if that is not required by the statute authorizing the USCCR to make such appointments.

For instance, Section 214 of the "Help America Vote Act (HAVA) of 2002" (HR3295) states that the Board of Advisors to the Election Assistance Commission (EAC) shall consist of 37 members with: "(10) Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." The statute does not require that the appointees must come from among the ranks of the USCCR Commissioners themselves, but the AI as drafted would require that – which would set the terms of the AI above the terms of the statute itself.

Dropping the phrase "of their membership" in the 2 places it appears would make the proposed AI comport with Congress' original intent when it passed HAVA, and allow the USCCR to appoint members to the EAC's Board of Advisors from among USCCR own members, or from the public at large as Congress intended. Dropping the phrase would ensure that such Congressional intent in other future or present statutes that authorize the USCCR to make appointments to other federal entities would be similarly protected.

Hi Pete and Gail,

Did you discuss Debo and Kladney's edits to the EAC appointment process with Norma and Yaki? Irena just emailed Alex and I and asked if our caucus is ok with them. I was going to respond that we are not ok with them, but didn't want to do that if you guys had agreed to them in your meeting with Norma and Yaki.

Hi everyone,

Please see the attached revised EAC AI. It incorporates changes discussed by Pete, Gail, Norma, and Yaki yesterday, removes the requirement that nominees to the EAC be members of the Commission, and adds Debo's language that any nominees "be ready, able, and willing to serve". Pete is going to send this to Norma, and hopefully all goes well.

Dear Norma,

I've attached Michael's draft AI with the revisions we discussed regarding the Chair and Staff Director. I've also incorporated Debo's caveat that any prospective nominees be "ready, willing, and able to serve." I also removed the phrase "of their membership" from the description of the nominees. It may well be that there are not two commissioners from each caucus who are 'ready, willing, and able to serve" on the EAC, and therefore the Commission should be able to designate other individuals to serve. This does not conflict with the statute, which only states that the Commission shall designate two individuals to serve, but does not specify that they must be Commissioners. Looking forward to getting this done and confirming you as Chair tomorrow.

Ok, we need to get one of them off and one of us on, period. We have leverage now for reasons we have spent a great deal of time already talking about. Obviously Yaki would be the best one to go, but either of them.

Ideas: John Masburn and someone else (Carissa?) approach Yaki and Kladney's SA and explain the new circumstances and there needs to be equity. Other ideas?

Apparently the EAC gets two designees over the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Currently it is Yaki and Kladney. I just got a call from an EAC commission saying that Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

Hi Pete,

Alex just talked to Irena, and the only changes Debo cared about in the proposed EAC AI was that anyone nominated be "ready, willing, and able to serve". Maybe he is afraid he'll be pressed into service against his will! Anyway, I made the changes regarding the chair and staff director, removed "of their membership" and added "ready, willing, and able to serve". Here's a draft email to Norma that you can just cut and paste into an email:

Subject: Revised EAC AI

Hi everyone,

Please see the attached revised EAC AI. It incorporates changes discussed by Pete, Gail, Norma, and Yaki yesterday, removes the requirement that nominees to the EAC be members of the Commission, and adds Debo's language that any nominees "be ready, able, and willing to serve". Pete is going to send this to Norma, and hopefully all goes well.

Dear Norma,

I've attached Michael's draft AI with the revisions we discussed regarding the Chair and Staff Director. I've also incorporated Debo's caveat that any prospective nominees be "ready, willing, and able to serve." I also removed the phrase "of their membership" from the description of the nominees. It may well be that there are not two commissioners from each caucus who are 'ready, willing, and able to serve" on the EAC, and therefore the Commission should be able to designate other individuals to serve. This does not conflict with the statute, which only states that the Commission shall designate two individuals to serve, but does not specify that they must be Commissioners. Looking forward to getting this done and confirming you as Chair tomorrow.

Apparently the EAC gets two designees over the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Currently it is Yaki and Kladney. I just got a call from an EAC commission saying that Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

Looking at the document about the appointment of the advisory board members, I think that is correct, Christian. Catherine probably appointed them without ever bringing it up.

My guess is the USCCR does their own "appointment" itself. How we un-appoint is going to be the issue. It probably NEVER came up in a business meeting and therefore we should, as a commission have the authority to take it up in a business meeting and appoint-anew.

Apparently the EAC gets two designees over the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Currently it is Yaki and Kladney. I just got a call from an EAC commission saying that

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

To understand the significance of it: Yaki is throwing his weight around to badger the EAC and EAC staff to do what Pelosi wants regarding elections and states moving toward various mail systems. That which was in the report we just killed is being pushed as to what the EAC should be advocating. He is actually the CHAIR of the advisory commission I am told. Which is insanity.

John says that he thinks Christian is kind of spoiling for a fight with Mauro. I think a fight (and John kind of agrees) is likely to make things more difficult when it comes to getting things settled about EAC representatives, and that it would be better to approach Norma offline. As John understands it, Christian wants to ask Mauro when he received the letter, who he told about it, and what he did about it. What do you think?

Re: U.S. Election Assistance Commission
Board of Advisors Membership Appointment

Dear Mr. Morales,

As you are aware, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA) created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three advisory boards to assist the EAC: Board of Advisors, Standards Board, and Technical Guidelines Development Committee. The advisory boards are primarily charged with providing advice, guidance, and support to the EAC on the ongoing development of the Voluntary Voting System Guidelines (VVSG).

Under Section 214 of HAVA, your organization is authorized to appoint two members to the Board of Advisors. The Board of Advisors Charter and Bylaws govern the advisory board.

Please be advised that your designated representatives' two-year terms to the Board of Advisors expire on April 13, 2021. You can either reappoint your current representative(s) or appoint new representative(s) for a new two-year term. In compliance with HAVA, please make appointments "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." 52 U.S.C § 20944(b).

Your current representatives are:

Michael Yaki

David Kladney

The new term of your member representatives will begin on April 13, 2021 coinciding with the renewal of the Board of Advisor's Charter.

Please use the enclosed Notice of Representation form to advise us of your designated representatives to serve on the EAC Board of Advisors for the upcoming two-year term. Please return this completed form by email to krayburn@eac.gov no later than March 26, 2021.

While the EAC recently adopted VVSG 2.0, we are committed to an agile process that includes continually working with our advisory boards to identify enhancements to the VVSG. The usability, accessibility, and security of voting systems continue to be of critical importance, and recommendations from the advisory boards are as imperative as ever. Therefore, your prompt response to this letter is greatly appreciated.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. If we can be of assistance, please feel free to contact us at 202-740-6546 or krayburn@eac.gov.

John Mashburn found this in HAVA. Sections 214-216 of HAVA – note in sec. 214 (in yellow below) it says that appointments must be made in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States.

I could go through member by member, but two democrats from the USCCR almost ensures the board is not bipartisan but probably has a 5 vote D majority if you count Chris Herren as a D, which I do. Same with Richard PILGER.

My guess is the USCCR does their own "appointment" itself. How we un-appoint is going to be the issue. It probably NEVER came up in a business meeting and therefore we should, as a commission have the authority to take it up in a business meeting and appoint-anew.

Apparently the EAC gets two designees over the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Currently it is Yaki and Kladney. I just got a call from an EAC commission saying that Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

Per the Caucus discussion a few months back about USCCR's two designees to the EAC's Bd. of Advisors, Cmnr Adams would like the Caucus to recommend Cleta Mitchell and himself as the two nominees from the Republican Commissioners -- per the new AI on the issue (see below in Mauro's email). Democrat Cmnrs would then need to choose between Cleta Mitchell and Cmnr Adams as one of USCCR's two designees to the EAC Bd. of Advisors.

Cmnr Adams wanted me to double check that this is still OK with the 3 of you before he submits his and Cleta's names to Staff Director Morales by COB tomorrow, Friday July 30.

Please email me back to confirm that each of you is OK with submitting Cleta's and Cmnr Adams' names for the EAC .

I don't know the rules for USCCR appointing ANYONE yet, but if there are no minutes showing a vote appointing them in regular business, it would seem that their "appointment" is void.

My guess is the USCCR does their own "appointment" itself. How we un-appoint is going to be the issue. It probably NEVER came up in a business meeting and therefore we should, as a commission have the authority to take it up in a business meeting and appoint-anew.

Subject: [EXTERNAL] EAC Board of Advisors

CAUTION: This email is from outside USCCR.

Apparently the EAC gets two designees over the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Currently it is Yaki and Kladney. I just got a call from an EAC commission saying that Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

CAUTION: This email is from outside USCCR.

We could politely ask the Progressives which person they vetoed. Yaki at least has an incentive to tell us if it's Cleta. If it is Cleta, such that Christian will be the appointee, it might be seen as accommodating to let Yaki be re-appointed. If he declines to say, that will be evidence that they vetoed Christian.

they vetoed. Yaki at least has an incentive to tell us if it's Cleta. If it is Cleta, such that Christian will be the appointee, it might be seen as accommodating to let Yaki be re-appointed. If he declines to say, that will be evidence that they vetoed Christian.

I am willing to go with Christian's recommendation on this UNLESS he thinks it's a close case. If he thinks it's a close case AND IF we have reason to believe that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian, THEN I think we should consider a bit of reciprocity and let Yaki have the job. My impression is that he wants it. If it's really close to six of one half dozen of the other, pleasing him has its benefits.

Of course, so far the evidence is running against the possibility that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian. If they had vetoed Cleta, my guess is that they would have wanted us to know that. Nevertheless, if this is a close case, it would be a good idea to try to find out what the Progressives did.

Apparently the EAC gets two designees over the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Currently it is Yaki and Kladney. I just got a call from an EAC commission saying that Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

Apparently the EAC gets two designees over the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Currently it is Yaki and Kladney. I just got a call from an EAC commission saying that Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

I don't think there are any rules. In the absence of an explicit delegation of power, the Commission as a whole has that power. But you need to be sure it wasn't done properly. I have a vague recollection of talking about this in a meeting in the last decade. The straight shooter on the staff is Maureen Rudolph. You might want to ask her.

I am willing to go with Christian's recommendation on this UNLESS he thinks it's a close case. If he thinks it's a close case AND IF we have reason to believe that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian, THEN I think we should consider a bit of reciprocity and let Yaki have the job. My impression is that he wants it. If it's really close to six of one half dozen of the other, pleasing him has its benefits.

Of course, so far the evidence is running against the possibility that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian. If they had vetoed Cleta, my guess is that they would have wanted us to know that. Nevertheless, if this is a close case, it would be a good idea to try to find out what the Progressives did.

I think we're all willing to defer to Christian on this. But a meeting is still useful to hear from him if 11:00 works. I'm sure it will be brief.

I am willing to go with Christian's recommendation on this UNLESS he thinks it's a close case. If he thinks it's a close case AND IF we have reason to believe that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian, THEN I think we should consider a bit of reciprocity and let Yaki have the job. My impression is that he wants it. If it's really close to six of one half dozen of the other, pleasing him has its benefits.

Of course, so far the evidence is running against the possibility that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian. If they had vetoed Cleta, my guess is that they would have wanted us to know that. Nevertheless, if this is a close case, it would be a good idea to try to find out what the Progressives did.

We should make them vote at the meeting and not notational vote for the EAC. I'm willing to let Mauro know this.

I am willing to go with Christian's recommendation on this UNLESS he thinks it's a close case. If he thinks it's a close case AND IF we have reason to believe that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian, THEN I think we should consider a bit of reciprocity and let Yaki have the job. My impression is that he wants it. If it's really close to six of one half dozen of the other, pleasing him has its benefits.

Of course, so far the evidence is running against the possibility that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian. If they had vetoed Cleta, my guess is that they would have wanted us to know that. Nevertheless, if this is a close case, it would be a good idea to try to find out what the Progressives did.

they vetoed. Yaki at least has an incentive to tell us if it's Cleta. If it is Cleta, such that Christian will be the appointee, it might be seen as accommodating to let Yaki be re-appointed. If he declines to say, that will be evidence that they vetoed Christian.

Adegbile,

I just wanted to give you an updated TO DO LIST since I will be out on vacation next week. As you know the most important item on this entire list is the Financial Disclosure Form. As you know you don't have any more extensions.

1. Financial Disclosure Form (this week)!
2. USCCR Hours (today) 8/1-14
   8/2 1hour Weekly Priority Call with SA
   8/3 1.5 hours Review USCCR Documents
   8/5 .5 Call with SA regarding FEMA briefing
   8/6 3 hours review USCCR documents
   8/9 1.5 hours Weekly Priority call with SA
   8/10 2 hours review financial disclosure form
   8/11 1.5 hours review Fines and Fees Quote
   8/12 1 hour call with SA regarding August Business Meeting

3. August Business Meeting Agenda (the Sunshine notice has posted and attached)
   A. Presentations from Advisory Committees to the Commission on Recent 2 Reports/Memo Releases
   B. Discussion and Vote on Iowa Advisory Committee Chair Appointment
   C. Discussion and Vote on Advisory Committee Appointments (Florida). Juana, David should circulate and then if we could have your legal intern do the vet memo that would be great.
   D. Discussion and Vote on the Release of The Civil Rights Implications of Cash Bail: Briefing Report Before the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights. I have circulated the final version to the SA's and will circulate to Commissioners, Mauro + OGC today.
4. E. Management and Operations
   It looks like the only item that is missing is the EAC nominations. So someone would need to amend the agenda to add that item and have a vote on Commissioner Yaki and Cleta Mitchell for EAC.
5. Written Documents from Senator Warren's Office

Please let me know if you have any questions,

I spoke with Thomas re: the proposed notational vote.

Comm. Gilchrist connected with Comm. Adams. Gilchrist wants to force a public vote on the EAC selection because he thinks it's shameful that they didn't pick their USCCR colleague and he wants it on the public record.

I gently mentioned your concern about setting a precedent for notational votes, but I think Gilchrist is set on this.

> To my knowledge, there are not any internal rules about these appointments. The practice has been that the Chair makes the appointments. (Note though that I only have records going back to 2015 for these appointments and I do not know what the practice was before 2015). The statute (52 U.S.C. 20944(a)(10)) says "Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." 52 U.S.C. 20944(b) says "Appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." The terms are 2 year appointments; I believe the current USCCR appointments are Yaki and Kladney, and that their terms end 4/13/2021. I provided the above information, i.e., bipartisan and geographic scope, before the 2019 appointments, though did not provide any input beyond this. I've also attached the House report for the Help American Vote Act (establishes the advisory committees) - discussion of advisory boards is on page 33.

I have a call scheduled with her at 1 pm to discuss further. Please let me know if there are any specific questions I should ask.

I don't think there are any rules. In the absence of an explicit delegation of power, the Commission as a whole has that power. But you need to be sure it wasn't done properly. I have a vague recollection of talking about this in a meeting in the last decade. The straight shooter on the staff is Maureen Rudolph. You might want to ask her.

(2) the State has enacted legislation to enable the State to meet each of the minimum standards for State election systems described in section 502.

(b) METHODS OF IMPLEMENTATION LEFT TO DISCRETION OF STATE.—The specific choices on the methods of implementing the legislation enacted pursuant to subsection (a)(2) shall be left to the discretion of the State.

(c) CHIEF STATE ELECTION OFFICIAL DEFINED.—In this title, the "chief State election official" of a State is the individual designated by the State under section 10 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 1973gg–8) to be responsible for coordination of the State's responsibilities under such Act.

SEC. 502. STANDARDS DESCRIBED.

The minimum standards for State election systems described in this section are as follows:

(1) The State will implement a Statewide voter registration system networked to every local jurisdiction in the State, with provisions for sharing data with other States, except that this paragraph shall not apply in the case of a State in which, under law in effect continuously on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, there is no voter registration requirement for any voter in the State with respect to an election for Federal office.

(2) The State election system includes provisions to ensure that voter registration records in the State are accurate and are updated regularly, including the following:

(A) A system of file maintenance which removes registrants who are ineligible to vote from the official list of eligible voters. Under such system, consistent with the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, registrants who have not voted in 2 or more consecutive general elections for Federal office and who have not responded to a notice shall be removed from the official list of eligible voters, except that no registrant may be removed solely by reason of a failure to vote.

(B) Safeguards to ensure that eligible voters are not removed in error from the official list of eligible voters.

(3) The State permits, by the deadline required under section 504(b), in-precinct provisional voting by every voter who claims to be qualified to vote in the State, or has adopted an alternative which achieves the same objective, except that this paragraph shall not apply in the case of a State in which, under law in effect continuously on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, all votes in the State in general elections for Federal office are cast by mail.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(4) The State has adopted uniform standards that define what will constitute a vote on each category of voting equipment certified for use in the State.

(5) The State has implemented safeguards to ensure that absent uniformed services voters (as defined in section 107(1) of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act) and overseas voters (as defined in section 107(5) of such Act) in the jurisdiction have the opportunity to vote and to have their votes counted.

(6) The State requires new voting systems to provide a practical and effective means for voters with physical disabilities to cast a secret ballot.

(7) If the State uses voting systems which give voters the opportunity to correct errors, the State shall ensure that voters are able to check for and correct errors under conditions which assure privacy. States, and units of local government within the States, replacing all voting machines within their jurisdiction shall ensure that the new voting system gives voters the opportunity to correct errors before the vote is cast.

SEC. 503. ENFORCEMENT.

(a) REPORT BY COMMISSION TO ATTORNEY GENERAL.—If a State does not provide a certification under section 501 to the Election Assistance Commission, or if the Commission has credible evidence that a State's certification is false or that a State is carrying out activities in violation of the terms of the certification, the Commission shall notify the Attorney General.

(b) ACTION BY ATTORNEY GENERAL.—After receiving notice from the Commission under subsection (a), the Attorney General may bring a civil action against a State in an appropriate district court for such declaratory or injunctive relief as may be necessary to remedy a violation of this title.

SEC. 504. EFFECTIVE DATE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subsection (b), the requirements of this title shall take effect upon the expiration of the 2-year period which begins on the date of the enactment of this Act, except that if the chief State election official of a State certifies that good cause exists to waive the requirements of this title with respect to the State until the date of the regularly scheduled general election for Federal office held in November 2004, the requirements shall apply with respect to the State beginning on the date of such election.

(b) DEADLINES FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF PROVISIONAL VOTING.—The minimum standard described in section 502(3) (relating to permitting in-precinct provisional voting) shall apply with respect to the regularly scheduled general election for Federal office held in November 2002 and each succeeding election for Federal office, except that if the chief State election official of a State certifies that good cause exists to delay the implementation of such standard in the State, the standard shall apply in the State with respect to the regularly scheduled general election for Federal office held in November 2004 and each succeeding election for Federal office held in the State.

"(2) If a building located on a military installation is made available under paragraph (1) as the site of a polling place, the Secretary shall continue to make the building available for subsequent elections unless the Secretary provides to the appropriate State or local election officials advance notice, in a reasonable and timely manner, of the reasons why the building will no longer be made available as a polling place.

If a facility is made available as the site of a polling place with respect to an election, the Secretary shall continue to make the facility available for subsequent elections unless the Secretary provides to the appropriate State or local election officials advance notice, in a reasonable and timely manner, of the reasons why the facility will no longer be made available as a polling place.".

PURPOSE OF THE LEGISLATION

The purpose of H.R. 3295, the Help America Vote Act of 2001, can be stated very simply—it is to improve our country's election system. The circumstances surrounding the election that took place in November 2000 brought an increased focus on the process of election administration, and highlighted the need for improvements. The Help America Vote Act of 2001 will make it possible to implement needed improvements.

Historically, elections in this country have been administered at the state and local level. This system has many benefits that must be preserved. The dispersal of responsibility for election administration has made it impossible for a single centrally controlled authority to dictate how elections will be run, and thereby be able to control the outcome. This leaves the power and responsibility for running elections where it should be, in the hands of the citizens of this country. Local control has the further added benefit of allowing for flexibility, so that local authorities can tailor their procedures to meet the demands of disparate and unique communities. Further by leaving the responsibility for election administration in the hands of local authorities, if a problem arises, the citizens who live within their jurisdictions know whom to hold accountable. The local authorities who bear the responsibility cannot now, and should not in the future be able to, point the finger of blame at some distant, unaccountable, centralized bureaucracy.

While local control must be preserved, it is time to recognize that the federal government can play a valuable roll by assisting state and local government in modernizing their election systems. H.R. 3295 will, for the first time, give the state and local governments some financial assistance, from the federal government, to improve their election infrastructure.

SUMMARY OF THE LEGISLATION

PUNCH CARD REPLACEMENT PROGRAM

The disadvantages of punch card voting systems were highlighted during the recount that took place in Florida following the November 2000 election. Large portions of the American public have lost confidence in them. For systems that use a blank punch card, a failure to properly align the card behind the ballot can result in the casting of a vote for a candidate the voter did not mean to select. The perforated chad on the punch card may not be completely punched out, so the machine counter does not register any vote for that office. In the event of a close election, punch cards are ill suited to a recount. Running the ballots through a counter repeatedly during a recount can result in the detachment of additional chads, essentially creating votes that were never meant to be cast. If a manual recount must be resorted to, officials are faced with the unenviable task of attempting to divine the intent of a voter based on the amount of depression or partial detachment of a chad.

H.R. 3295 seeks to make punch card systems a part of our history, not our future. It authorizes $400 million to replace them. Any State or jurisdiction that used punch card voting systems in the November 2000 general election is eligible to receive up to $6000 per precinct to replace them. They must obligate the funds before the next federal election in November 2002, and must have all their punch card systems replaced before the election in November 2004 (though they can get either deadline extended by 2 years for good cause shown). To hasten the dispersal of these dollars, this program will be administered by the General Services Administration.

Some jurisdictions may choose not to replace their punch card systems, but H.R. 3295 makes funds available to those jurisdictions that want to modernize their systems. Additionally, the bill makes available funds for enhancement of these systems. For example, punch card systems can be made far more reliable if they are counted at the precinct, rather than at a central location. The enhancement program will provide funds to make improvements that will restore public confidence in punch card machines where they remain in use.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ELECTION ASSISTANCE COMMISSION

H.R. 3295 creates a new federal commission that will be tasked with providing information and assistance to state and local governments on best practices to successfully administer elections. The Commission has been structured to perform an advisory, as opposed to an administrative roll, in elections. The Commission has no rule making authority. The four commissioners will be recommended by the congressional leadership and will be appointed by the President. No more than two commissioners may be of the same party, to assure that the Commission acts in a nonpartisan fashion. The Commissioners will have experience or expertise in election administration or the study of elections, and will serve on a part time basis.

In establishing this commission, the Committee sought to involve the state and local officials who will be tasked with carrying out its recommendations. Two boards were created under the Commission, the Advisory Board and the Standards Board. The twenty-five member Advisory Board will consist of representatives from various groups that are involved with or care about election administration issues. The Standards Board will consist of the chief state election official, and a local election official, from each of the 50 states, the District of Columbia and the territories. The Boards will review and comment on any proposed standards prior to consideration by the Commission. Since those who serve on the Board will determine if their jurisdictions will adopt any of the voluntary standards approved, their thoughts and comments will be given serious attention by the Commission.

There is also created under the Commission a Technical Standards Development Committee. The Development Committee will assist the Executive Director of the Commission in the development of voluntary standards by recommending standards pertaining to the usability, accuracy, security, accessibility and integrity of voting systems and equipment. The Development Committee will be chaired by the Director of the National Institute of Standards and Technology, and will consist of members of the Board of Advisors and members of the Standards Board, among others.

Once the Development Committee has developed proposed voluntary standards, it will submit them to the Executive Director. The Executive Director shall then forward the standards (as developed or with modifications) to the Boards for review and comment. After the Boards have had an opportunity to review or comment, the standards will be forwarded to the Commission, which can approve them by majority vote.

This process will ensure that the standards are developed in a way that involves persons with real world technical expertise and experience in election administration. It is a process designed to give the people who will be responsible for administering elections, the state and local elections officials, a voice in the standards development process. By heeding that voice, the Commission should be able to make recommendations that truly reflect the recognized best practices of election administration.

The Commission will have grant making power. In addition to distributing the election fund payments, the bill authorizes two grant programs. One grant program will be devoted to research on voting technology improvements, the second will distribute grants for pilot programs to test equipment and technology. The research and development program is designed to encourage innovative technological and management strategies that will improve the accessibility, efficiency and security of election systems. This program in conjunction with the pilot program should foster development of these strategies where it may not be cost effective for the private sector to conduct research on their own. Universities, local jurisdictions, and the private sector are eligible to participate alone or as partners. Ideas that can be explored could include, for example, developing ways to communicate in different ways to voters about their registration status before the election. This would avoid unnecessary confusion on Election Day about whether voters are registered and where they should vote. Use of the Internet or telephone systems in this initiative could preclude a great deal of confusion on Election Day and minimize unnecessary administrative burdens processing provisional ballots post election. These and other ideas could be explored to ensure that our election system and its associated technologies are constantly being improved.

FUNDING CONDITIONS

H.R. 3295 authorizes $2.25 billion over three years for Election Fund payments. These funds will be provided to states at a matching rate of 75% (federal) to 25% (state). States will be permitted to use these dollars for a range of activities which improve election administration. This will give states the opportunity to direct fund payments to the areas where the resources are most needed. Jurisdictions that want to modernize their voting equipment can use election fund payments for that purpose. Others may have more pressing needs for modernized statewide registration systems, or better education and training of voters and poll workers. The Election Fund is designed to allow states to determine their greatest needs, and direct resources where they are most needed.

While the States will have flexibility in deciding where to direct dollars, they will be required to meet certain requirements as a condition of receiving funds. These funding conditions are not intended to be unduly burdensome, or to require states to incur obligations that will exceed the amount of funds appropriated and made available to the States. They will, however, ensure that the federal dollars are being spent appropriately, and that recipients meet certain criteria. The Commission will disperse election fund payments, and will monitor compliance with the funding conditions.

HELP AMERICA VOTE FOUNDATION AND COLLEGE PROGRAM

There is a critical shortage of poll-workers in this country. Many election officials fear the problem will grow even worse as the volunteers they rely on, many of them retirees, grow older with little national effort to recruit new volunteers. Experienced and well trained poll workers are essential to making our elections run properly. They provide assistance to voters, make sure proper procedures are followed, and guard the integrity of our elections.

A second well recognized problem in this country is the disengagement of our young people from the electoral process. For far too many of our young citizens, politics is a confusing and uninteresting side show in which they have no desire to participate.

The creation of the Help America Vote Foundation and College Program is designed to address both of these problems. These programs will encourage civic involvement by high school and college students by making them available for service as non-partisan poll workers and assistants to local election authorities. This will have the two-fold benefit of alleviating the shortage of volunteers, while also exposing our youth to the electoral process. Ideally, many of those who will become exposed to the election process for the first time through this program, will cultivate a life long interest in the process, and will continue to serve as election volunteers for many years, or at a minimum continue to be engaged in American civic life as informed citizens and voters.

The College Program will be administered by the Election Assistance Commission. The High School Program will be set up as a federally chartered corporation. The Commission will make grants for the college program, while the federal corporation created will administer the High School program. Both programs must be carried out without partisan bias, and without promoting any particular point of view regarding any issue.

MINIMUM STANDARDS

The minimum standards in H.R. 3295 require States to meet certain criteria, regardless of whether or not they accept election fund payments. While they impose minimum requirements, they allow the states to develop their own laws and procedures to fulfill the requirements. The goal of the minimum standards is to improve our election system without issuing dictates that would rob states of the ability to craft their own solutions.

The Minimum Standards are:

(1) The State will implement a Statewide voter registration system networked to every local jurisdiction in the State, with provisions for sharing data with other States, except that this paragraph shall not apply in the case of a State in which, under law in effect continuously on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, there is no voter registration requirement for any voter in the State with respect to an election for Federal office.

One of the most exciting and promising reforms that the Committee explored is statewide registration. In its June 2001 report to Congress, the bipartisan Federal Election Commission, after consulting with state and local election officials, recommended that states "1) develop and implement a statewide computerized voter registration database; 2) insure that all local registration offices are computerized; and 3) link their statewide computerized system, where feasible, with the computerized systems of the collateral public agencies relevant to the NVRA (motor-vehicle offices, public-assistance offices, etc.)". The bi-partisan National Commission on Federal Election Reform ("Ford/Carter Commission") also recommended states adopt such a system, as did the nation's election administrators in their non-partisan National Task Force on Election Reform.

Creation of such a system will make the registration lists more accurate, and easier to update. It should reduce the incidence of voters appearing at a polling place only to discover that no record of their registration can be found. When voters move from one jurisdiction to another within that state, the statewide system will be able to track that movement. If for some reason a voter remained registered at their old address, the election officials will be able to see that and take corrective action. Requiring states to develop statewide databases will modernize and improve registration nationwide.

People are mobile, but more than three-quarters of all residential moves are in-state. An effective statewide database can therefore be quite useful, including its capacity to address such common issues as the registration of in-state college students and people with second homes within a state. But perhaps the most important beneficiaries of statewide registration systems will be members of lower-income groups, who are more likely to move than higher-income groups within the same state.

The minimum standard requires states to create a single database that is official, centralized and administered at the state level. Databases which simply link existing local databases do not qualify as satisfying this requirement. Multiple databases linking various vendor or local government programs to a statewide system is not sufficient to satisfy this requirement. The intent of the minimum standard is to establish one database that is identical and is the same program throughout the state and local jurisdictions so that all training can be uniform, all records requirements are identical, and that the state has full authority for maintenance and quality matters related to the database. The intent is also to assure that there are not jurisdictional nor vendor issues in terms of operability, problem resolution, or other types of reasons for one part of the system not matching the other.

It is likely that states will find it necessary to create a unique identifier to distinguish registered voters who happen to have the same name and/or birth date. The unique identifier so created will be used to assure that list maintenance functions are attributable to the correct voter; so as to avoid removing registrants who happen to have the same name and birth date as a felon, for example. States are encouraged to use the unique identifier to share information with other governmental offices for purposes such as death certificates, court and tax records, etc., to assure proper maintenance of voter records, file integrity, and protection of voter rights. It is the intent of Congress to encourage the states to develop each statewide database system in such a manner that it will be possible at some point in the future for states to share data between them for the appropriate additions and removal of voters from their rolls.

(2) The State election system includes provisions to ensure that voter registration records in the State are accurate and are updated regularly, including the following:

(A) A system of file maintenance which removes registrants who are ineligible to vote from the official list of eligible voters. Under such system, consistent with the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, registrants who have not voted in 2 or more consecutive general elections for federal office and who have not responded to a notice shall be removed from the official list of eligible voters, except that no registrant may be removed solely by reason of a failure to vote.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(B) Safeguards to ensure that eligible voters are not removed in error from the official list of eligible voters.

States must ensure that their registration list is accurate and is updated regularly. Leaving ineligible voters on the rolls leads to a number of problems. It increases costs as more ballots must be printed and more mailings must be sent out to voters that have died or moved away. This is a waste of vital resources that serves no purpose. One of the most damaging effects of inaccurate rolls is that they lead to the public perception that the process can be easily manipulated. When the number of voters on a registration list exceeds a jurisdiction's voting age population (itself an artificially high number because it includes non-citizens and person only temporarily in the jurisdiction), the perception is that the process has no integrity and accountability. Furthermore, when ineligible voters are left on rolls indefinitely, it invites fraud. Those who wish to commit fraud can vote in more than one jurisdiction, or more problematic, cast multiple votes in the names of those they know are no longer eligible.

A fraudulent vote that nullifies a legal one, disenfranchises the legal voter as surely as if his or her vote had never been cast at all. States are therefore obligated to maintain accurate lists, and thereby minimize the opportunities for and the incidence of fraud.

The minimum standard requires that removal of those deemed ineligible must be done in a manner consistent with the National Voter Registration Act. The procedures established by NVRA that guard against removal of eligible registrants remain in effect under this law. Accordingly, H.R. 3295 leaves NVRA intact, and does not undermine it in any way.

(3) The State permits, by the deadline required under section 504(b), in-precinct provisional voting by every voter who claims to be qualified to vote in the State, or has adopted an alternative which achieves the same objective, except that this paragraph shall not apply in the case of a State in which, under law in effect continuously on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, all votes in the State in general elections for Federal office are cast by mail.

The Committee spent considerable time and energy learning about in-precinct provisional voting. In spite of the statewide registration system and file maintenance requirements, there will still be some instances where a voter who is qualified to vote does not appear on the registration list when they present themselves to vote.

In-precinct provisional voting enables people whose eligibility is in doubt to vote in their precinct, without having to travel somewhere else to swear they are eligible to vote, and have their registration verified in the days following an election. The Committee believes provisional voting is necessary to the administration of a fair, democratic, and effective election system, and represents the ultimate safeguard to ensuring a person's right to vote. For these reasons, the Committee has included it in the bill. Under the bill, in-precinct provisional voting will be required in every jurisdiction except states that have or plan to adopt an alternative which achieves the same objective, such as same-day registration or voting-by-mail.

Studies of the nation's election system find that a significant problem voters experience is to arrive at the polling place believing that they are eligible to vote, and then to be turned away because the election workers cannot find their names on the list of qualified voters.

There are at least eight reasons this occurs:

1. Voters may be turned away because of administrative errors. Poll workers may overlook their names or not match them up with a different spelling. In most jurisdictions, poll workers work from printed lists of voters produced for each precinct. Staff in the offices that produce these lists can make clerical errors.

2. Poll workers may overlook a voter's name on the precinct roster, or may not be aware that the voter is listed on a supplemental roster containing the names of voters who registered shortly before the election.

3. Voters may have their names improperly removed from the voting rolls.

4. Voters may appear at the wrong precinct because they did not receive, or received but did not heed, a notice that their polling place had moved.

5. Motor-vehicle departments or social-service agencies that are supposed to make registration applications available to clients may improperly handle the applications or fail to forward them to proper election officials in a timely manner.

6. Voters may fail to notify their registrar, or fail to re-register, after a change of address.

7. Well-intentioned organizations seeking to register voters may mishandle registration materials.

8. Otherwise qualified citizens may simply fail to register.

Whatever the cause, eligible citizens may believe they have registered. Unfortunately, when they subsequently attempt to vote, they are not on the list. In-precinct provisional voting, or an alternative which achieves the same objective, such as same-day registration (currently used by Idaho, Maine, New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Wyoming, and Minnesota); voting-by-mail (used by Oregon and Washington State); or no voter registration requirement (North Dakota), can solve this problem.

In-precinct provisional voting has four key advantages:

1. Legally qualified voters are no longer turned away at the polls.

2. In-precinct provisional voting limits the ability of states to impose extra hurdles that may have the effect of deterring the use of provisional voting. For example, in Pennsylvania, voters whose names do not appear on the precinct rosters are required to travel to police stations to see an election judge, who determines whether or not they have the right to vote. Voters must then return to the polling location in order to cast their votes. Many voters, who are faced with the choice of traveling to the police station or leaving, ultimately do not vote either because they are intimidated by going to a police station or because it is logistically difficult or inconvenient.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3. Voter participation is easier and more efficient, as poll workers can provide an option to voters who may be angry or frustrated by their absence from the registration list. These often ill-trained and low-paid temporary workers do not have to research or resolve cases on the spot, while other voters impatiently wait in line. Nor are more senior election officials tied down in resolving such questions during Election Day.

4. Voter registration becomes more accurate. The process becomes another way to amend registrations for people who evidently wish to vote. Officials can detect and correct mistakes and the research process, by helping senior administrators notice which problems are causing the mistakes, thus can help many other current and potential voters.

(4) The State has adopted uniform standards that define what will constitute a vote on each category of voting equipment certified for use in the State.

Requiring states to have a uniform standard for what constitutes a vote will ensure that voters receive the equal protection of the laws with respect to the counting of their ballots. Votes should be counted using objective standards put in place before an election contest. Whether or not a vote is counted should not depend on where a voter happens to live, nor should it depend on varying subjective interpretations of state laws by local election officials. Similarly marked ballots should not be discarded in one jurisdiction, but counted in another.

As Americans learned in November and December 2000, a major part of the problem in Florida was that the vote-counting process was subjective and inconsistent, with definitions of what constitutes a vote varying from jurisdiction to jurisdiction. The United States Supreme Court found such a standardless process to be a violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the Constitution.

As the Committee discovered, Florida is not alone. Most states do not prescribe a standard for election officials to follow in recounting votes. Amorphous statutory references to the "intent of the voter" invite still more confusion and ambiguity. "Intent of the voter" is not a standard but rather a subjective judgment, virtually guaranteeing litigation. It is unfair to voters, to candidates and to democracy.

The crux of the problem is that all systems that rely on individual ballots inherently raise questions as to whether a particular configuration is or is not a "vote." Such systems include traditional paper ballots, punch card ballots, connect the arrow ballots, or optical scan ballots, all of which the voter must alter in some manner to create a vote. Lever systems and DRE machines do not create a ballot with voter marks; therefore, there is no particular mark available to review.

Because every vote properly cast must be counted, and recounts are routinely conducted to make certain that all ballots have been properly counted, the Committee believes that uniform standards for what constitutes a vote must be adopted by all states. The definition of a vote shall be as objective as possible and spelled out in clear language before Election Day.

(5) The State has implemented safeguards to ensure that absent uniformed services voters (as defined in section 107(1) of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act) and overseas voters (as defined in section 107(5) of such Act) in the jurisdiction have the opportunity to vote and to have their votes counted.

States must implement safeguards to ensure that absent uniformed service personnel and overseas voters have the opportunity to vote and have their votes counted. Those serving in our military and citizens living abroad face many hurdles when it comes to registering, receiving ballots and casting them timely. States must take action to ensure that these voters have the opportunity to vote and have their votes counted. States need to recognize the difficulties faced by these voters, and take steps to see that their votes are counted. (See below for additional provisions affecting these voters).

(6) The State requires new voting systems to provide a practical and effective means for voters with physical disabilities to cast a secret ballot.

Advancements in technology make it possible for voters with physical disabilities to cast a secret ballot. New systems should strive to make it possible for voters with physical disabilities to cast secret ballots. (See below for additional provisions affecting these voters).

(7) If the State uses voting systems which give voters the opportunity to correct errors, the State shall ensure that voters are able to check for and correct errors under conditions which assure privacy. States, and units of local government within the States, replacing all voting machines within their jurisdiction shall ensure that the new voting system gives voters the opportunity to correct errors before the vote is cast.

In the 2000 presidential election, nearly two million voters, 2% of those who went to the polls, either did not mark their ballot, or marked it in a way that no vote was counted in the presidential contest. Election experts call these votes in which no choice is counted "residual votes." These millions of voters either spoiled their ballots by "overvoting" (appearing to vote for more than one candidate), or by "undervoting" (they marked their choice in a manner that could not be counted, or they marked no choice at all). Of course, an undervoted ballot is not necessarily "spoiled". Millions of voters intentionally do not vote in certain contests for various reasons, complicated the task of determining voter rates.

As the Committee learned in our June hearing, the consensus among engineers, computer scientists, and political scientists who study election systems is that the number of residual votes and the rate of voter error are greatly affected by the kind of equipment that is used. According to one expert who testified before the Committee on what is known as "human usability studies," predictably high levels of user error are evidence of system failure, flawed instructions, or faulty system design.

Whatever the specific causes for residual votes, the fact remains that some votes go uncounted because voters have no opportunity to detect and correct errors before they cast their ballots. Fortunately, there are voting systems available that permit voters to correct ballots in the precinct before they are cast.

The bill will ensure that as jurisdictions scrap obsolete voting systems, they replace them with systems that have the capability to detect errors, for poll site voting (the provisions for second chance voting cannot currently be applied to absentee or mail balloting since the ballot and the voter are separated before counting).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

To be sure, this provision will not instantly mandate that all machines in all polling places by a date certain have a second-chance voting capability. The Committee seriously explored the proposal to require all 200,000 jurisdictions nationwide to have second-chance voting by 2004 or, at the latest, 2006. Jurisdictions that failed to meet the deadline would be subject to suite in federal court. As the Committee learned more about the production capability of the voting machine industry, the timelines and procurement processes counties and states must go through to award contracts to voting-machine vendors, and the huge costs involved, the Committee decided that an aggressive deadline might cause more serious problems than it would solve. One disturbing possibility was that jurisdictions that could not meet the deadline, most likely poorer ones, might have their election systems shut down or seriously disrupted during an election while other jurisdictions in the state, most likely affluent ones, that met the deadline could proceed with their elections. The Committee was hard-pressed to imagine a more chilling 14th Amendment problem than this, where some eligible voters in a state could exercise the franchise while others could not.

As to whether the term "error" means overvote, undervote, or something else, the Committee referred to the findings of the National Commission on Federal Election Reform, commonly known as the "Ford-Carter Commission." The Commission's definition of "error" is set forth in the accompanying document.

As already noted, many voters intentionally do not vote in every race. The purpose of second chance technology is to provide voters information about their ballot. Voter privacy is an important right that must be protected. While voters should have the opportunity to verify the accuracy of their ballot, they should not be forced to do so under the scrutiny of a poll worker. Once a voter is satisfied of the accuracy of their ballot, it is not the roll or responsibility of a poll worker to inquire as to the voters intent.

Poll workers should, upon request, be available to provide assistance to voters, but voters should not be prompted by poll workers, or have to explain to poll workers why they have not voted in a certain race. The bill ensures voter privacy, by requiring that jurisdictions whose machines have second chance technology must ensure that voters are able to check for and correct errors on their ballots under conditions which assure privacy.

MILITARY AND OVERSEAS VOTERS

Those who serve in our military, and citizens living abroad, face peculiar hardships when attempting to vote. Relatively simple things like applying for and transmitting ballots can become a very difficult and lengthy process for these voters. Steps must be taken to protect the rights of these citizens. Military voters risk their very lives in defense of this country. We must repay them by doing everything possible to see that they are able to vote and have their votes counted.

A recent report by the General Accounting Office revealed that over 40% of the installations they visited had not assigned voting assistance officers. The Department of Defense must make certain that a sufficient number of voting assistance officers are assigned, and that those who are assigned are doing their duties. H.R. 3295 requires the Secretary of Defense to certify to Congress that, at a minimum, a voting assistance officer has been assigned to every installation and major command.

The bill also makes voter registration forms available to service personnel at the time of enlistment, reenlistment or extension of enlistment, to make it easier for them to register. The Secretary of Defense must also ensure that all ballots are properly postmarked, or marked with some other official mark, so that state officials can determine when the ballot left the voter's hands.

States are also required to designate a single point of contact for those in the service and living abroad, to make it easier for them to obtain needed information about elections, registration and voting.

The bill contains a number of the key provisions of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizen Absentee Voting Reform Act of 2001, H.R. 1997, which will help remove existing obstacles to absentee voting now confronting members of our armed services and overseas voters. Those obstacles contributed to the appallingly high level of rejected ballots in Florida and to the inability to vote of many others who wished to do so.

Similarly, the provision requiring the collection and publication of statistics on overseas voting by the states will fill one of the most serious gaps in our ability to monitor the adequacy of the overseas absentee voting regime. For the first time, we will all have the same information about voting access for overseas voters that we now have routinely for voters at home.

ACCESSIBILITY STANDARDS AND VOTING RIGHTS OF PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

Sections 102, 112, 221, 233 and 501 and Compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and the Voting Accessibility for the Elderly and Handicapped Act

In this bill, the Committee reaffirms that public entities, such as States and localities and their responsible officials, must comply to the extent required by law with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the Voting Accessibility for the Elderly and Handicapped Act (VAEHA).

The committee bill will enhance compliance with the ADA and VAEHA by enlisting a range of officials in the process of regulating accessibility problems and solutions. For example, the bill requires that the chief election official of each State certify the State's compliance with the applicable provisions of the ADA and the VAEHA, and requires that recipients of election funds provide assurance of compliance with such laws as a condition of their acceptance of federal money.

Section 903 and preservation of existing law

Section 903 expressly provides that noting in the bill will supersede, restrict, or limit the application of the VAEHA, the ADA, the Voting Rights Act or the National Voting Registration Act, nor will it authorize or require any conduct prohibited under any of these laws. Thus, the bill continues unchanged—the role of the Department of Justice (DOJ) as the agency responsible for authoritatively construing the ADA and promulgating regulations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Voluntary accessibility standards in sections 221 and 222

The Committee bill creates mechanisms for providing States and localities with technical guidance about improving accessibility through the adoption of voluntary standards by the Election Assistance Commission. The Committee expects that the voluntary standards will offer examples of achievable methods for ensuring accessibility. One example might include the moving of a polling place from an inaccessible historic library building to an accessible city hall building nearby.

These voluntary standards to be issued by the Commission would not, however, replace accessibility regulations and technical assistance provided by the DOJ for individuals with disabilities. Rather, these standards must be consistent with DOJ's regulations, and not serve as authorization for a level of accessibility lower than required by the regulations. In fact, this need for harmonious standards is the reason the bill directs the Commission to consult with the Architecture and Transportation Barrier Compliance Board in developing its voluntary standards.

If a state accepts election fund payments, the bill requires the state to certify its compliance with the voluntary standards for voting systems. This means that a state which accepts funds will be bound by at least two independent sources of law: the state's contractual duty to comply with the Commission's standards for voting systems, and the state's statutory duty to comply with the ADA. While the Committee anticipates that the Commission will take great care to create voluntary standards in a manner that conforms to existing law, compliance with the Commission's standards cannot provide any "safe harbor" against liability under the ADA or other applicable laws.

Eligibility for election assistance funding under section 233

One of the eligibility requirements for election assistance funding is that there must be at least one voting system available in each precinct or polling place that is fully accessible to individuals with disabilities. This means that if a State accepts any election assistance funding, the State is required to purchase a fully accessible voting system for each precinct or polling place that does not already have such a Summary

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, November 30, 2001.

Hon. ROBERT W. NEY,
Chairman, Committee on House Administration,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 3295, the Help America Vote Act of 2001.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contacts are Mark Grabowicz and Matthew Pickford (for federal costs); Susan Sieg Tompkins (for the impact on state, local, and tribal governments): and Paige Piper/Bach (for the impact on the private sector).

Sincerely,

BARRY B. ANDERSON

Enclosure.

H.R. 3295, Help America Vote Act of 2001

Summary: H.R. 3295 would authorize the appropriation of about $2.8 billion over fiscal year 2002 through 2006, mostly for grants to states and localities to improve voting technology and election administration. The bill would establish the Election Assistance Commission to undertake activities to improve the administration of elections and would set minimum standards for national elections. H.R. 3295 also would require the Department of Defense to implement a voting assistance program for military personnel and other overseas U.S. citizens. Finally, the bill would provide reduced postage rates for official election mailings.

Assuming appropriation of the authorized amounts, CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 3295 would cost about $2.8 billion over the 2002–2006 period. In addition, we estimate that enacting the bill would increase costs to the U.S. Postal Service by about $100 million over the 2002–2003 period. (Postal Service spending is classified as off-budget and is not subject to pay-as-you-go procedures.) The bill would not otherwise affect direct spending or receipts so pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply.

Section 4 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) excludes from the application of that act any legislative provisions that enforce the constitutional rights of individuals. CBO has determined that title V and certain sections of title VI would fall within that exclusion. Other provisions of the bill would provide grants to states to improve voting procedures and technology. Any costs to state, local, or tribal governments as a result of participating in those programs would be incurred voluntarily. The remaining provisions of the bill contain no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

Estimated cost to the Federal Government: The estimated budgetary impact of H.R. 3295 is shown in the following table. The costs of this legislation fall within budget functions 050 (national defense), 370 (commerce and housing credit), and 800 (general government).

Basis of estimate: For this estimate, CBO assumes that the bill will be enacted by the end of calendar year 2001 and that the necessary amounts will be appropriated each year. CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 3295 would cost $2.8 billion over the 2002–2006 period, mostly for voting system improvements. The bill would also increase spending of the Postal Service, which is classified as off-budget.

Spending subject to appropriation

Grants to Replace Punch-Card Voting Machines. H.R. 3295 would authorize the appropriation of $400 million for fiscal year 2002 for payments for state and local governments to replace punch card voting systems. State and local governments that apply for these funds would be able to receive a maximum of $6,000 per precinct.

Voting System Improvements. The bill would authorize the appropriation of $2.25 billion over the 2002–2004 period to pay for grants to states and localities for improving voting technology and upgrading equipment, improving voter registration systems, increasing access for voters with disabilities, and enhancing training for poll workers. CBO expects that most of the funds to replace machines and so implement improvements would be spent in fiscal years 2003 through 2005.

Election Assistance Commission. Title II would authorize the appropriation of up to $10 million annually to establish the Election Assistance Commission. The four-member, bipartisan commission would advise state and local governments on election administration. This work would include developing voluntary election management standards, serving as a clearinghouse for information, and reviewing procedures affecting the administration of federal elections. The bill also would transfer all the functions of the Office of Election Administration of the Federal Election Commission to the new commission. CBO estimates that the commission would require funding of $3 million to $4 million annually with estimated outlays of about $12 million over the 2002–2006 period.

Other Provisions. H.R. 3295 also would authorize appropriations for several other programs aimed at improving the election process, including grants to study and improve voting technology, pilot programs to test new technologies, and programs to encourage citizens to get involved in the election process. CBO estimates that, in total, implementing these programs would cost $84 million over the 2002–2006 period.

H.R. 3295 would direct the Secretary of Defense to coordinate all voting activities for members of the military and other overseas U.S. citizens, includes training voting assistance officers, conducting mail delivery surveys, and providing information on voter registration requirements and deadlines of the various states. Based on information from the Department of Defense, CBO estimates that implementing this section of the bill would result in no significant costs.

Off-budget costs (direct spending)

For official mailings sent to voters by local election officials via first-class mail, H.R. 3295 would reduce the postage rate by 50 percent. CBO expects that the reduced postage rate would apply to two mailings every year to each of the 150 million registered voters in the United States. The current first-class rate is 34 cents and is expected to rise to 37 cents by fiscal year 2003, so CBO estimates this provision would cost the Postal Service about $50 million in 2002 and about $55 million in 2003. Over time, there would be no net effect from this provision because the Postal Service is required to set rates so that it covers all costs. Postal Service spending and collections are classified as off-budget and would not be subject to pay-as-you-go procedures.

Pay-as-you-go considerations: None.

Intergovernmental and private-sector impact: Section 4 of UMRA excludes from the application of that act any legislative provisions that enforce the constitutional rights of individuals. CBO has determined that title V and certain sections of title VI would fall within that exclusion because they enforce an individual's right to vote, and to have that vote counted.

Other provisions of the bill would benefit state and local governments. Specifically, title I would provide grants to states to replace or upgrade punch card voting systems. Provisions of title II would provide payments to states to improve election administration and voter education. In both cases, states must provide up to 25 percent in matching funds to be eligible to receive the assistance. The matching requirement as well as any other costs to state, local, or tribal governments as a result of participating in these programs would be incurred voluntarily.

The remaining provisions of the bill contain no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

Estimate prepared by: Federal Costs: Mark Grabowicz and Matthew Pickford. Impact on State, Local, and Tribal Governments: Susan Sieg Tompkins. Impact on the Private Sector: Paige Piper/Bach.

(g) REGISTRATION AND VOTING INFORMATION FOR MEMBERS AND DEPENDENTS.—(1) The Secretary of each military department, using a variety of means including both print and electronic media, shall, to the maximum extent practicable, ensure that members of the armed forces and their dependents who are qualified to vote have ready access to information regarding voter registration requirements and deadlines (including voter registration), absentee ballot application requirements and deadlines, and the availability of voting assistance officers to assist members and dependents to understand and comply with these requirement.

(2) The Secretary of each military department shall make the national voter registration form prepared for purposes of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act by the Federal Election Commission available so that each person who enlists, reenlists, or voluntarily extends an enlistment or who completes a permanent change of station in an active or reserve component of the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marine Corps shall receive such form at the time of the enlistment, reenlistment, extension, or completion of the permanent change of station, or as soon thereafter as practicable.

(3) Where practicable, a special day or days shall be designated at each military installation for the purpose of informing members of the armed forces and their dependents of election timing, registration requirements, and voting procedures.

(h) DELIVERY OF MAIL FROM OVERSEAS PRECEDING FEDERAL ELECTIONS.—(1) During the four months preceding a general Federal election month, the Secretary of Defense shall periodically conduct surveys of all overseas locations and vessels at sea with military units responsible for collecting mail for return shipment to the United States and all port facilities in the United States and overseas where military-related mail is collected for shipment to overseas locations or to the United States. The purpose of each survey shall be to determine if voting materials are awaiting shipment at any such location and, if so, the length of time that such materials have been held at that location. During the fourth and third months before a general Federal election month, such surveys shall be conducted biweekly. During the second and first months before a general Federal election month, such surveys shall be conducted weekly.

(2) The Secretary shall ensure that voting materials are transmitted expeditiously by military postal authorities at all times. The Secretary shall, to the maximum extent practicable, implement measures to ensure that a postmark or other official proof of mailing date is provided on each absentee ballot collected at any overseas location or vessel at sea whenever the Department of Defense is responsible for collecting mail for return shipment to the United States. The Secretary shall submit to Congress a report describing the measures to be implemented to ensure the timely transmittal and postmarking of voting materials and identifying the persons responsible for implementing such measures.

(3) The Secretary of each military department, utilizing the voting assistance officer network established for each military installation, shall, to the maximum extent practicable, provide notice to members of the armed forces stationed at that installation of the last date before a general Federal election for which absentee ballots mailed from a postal facility located at that installation can reasonably be expected to be timely delivered to the appropriate State and local election officials.

(4) In this section, the term "general Federal election month" means November in an even-numbered year.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ADDITIONAL VIEWS OF HON. STENY H. HOYER

I write to offer my additional views regarding the importance of ensuring accessibility in voting for people with disabilities. The bill in its present form offers significant gains in voting accessibility for persons with disabilities, especially those with visual impairments. For example, the bill requires that, in a state receiving election fund payments, every polling place or precinct have at least one voting system (hardware and software) that is fully accessible. However, while I agree with everything in the committee report, I wish to emphasize the need to take further steps beyond this bill and beyond the Americans with Disabilities Act to ensure complete accessibility in voting and registration services for persons with disabilities.

Complete voting access must be assured for every voter regardless of whether a state or locality accepts federal election funds and without regard to any significant cost constraints. Voting is one of the fundamental rights of citizens in a Republic. As such, the right should not depend upon the vagaries of local budgets—certainly not in an affluent society like ours. Physical access to the ballot box should be unconditional. Every polling place in America should be accessible to persons with the full range of disabilities. Every polling place should have already at least one voting machine or method that is fully accessible, that is, a voting machine or method that allows a voter with a disability to vote in a manner that is as reliable, fraud-resistant, private, independent and anonymous as that available to anyone else.

One of our most profound accomplishments since the founding of the United States is the progressive broadening of the franchise to include African-Americans, women and others subject to pervasive discrimination. In this process, we have learned that few of the rights or interests of a particular group of Americans can be secure so long as that group lacks the right to vote for officials who will be accountable to them. We have also learned that, as more adult citizens become full participants in our polity, the democratic process is enriched for all. We are still in the process of learning this lesson with regard to persons with disabilities.

Most of the ongoing discrimination against persons with disabilities concerning voting is no longer motivated by deliberate efforts do exclude. However, as the recent GAO report on accessibility documents, the choice, design and administration of polling places, voting methods and machines continues in many instances to be driven by a careless assumption on the part of election administrators that all voters are able-bodied. The General Accounting Office recently found, for example, that many polling places have high door thresholds and inaccessible parking places, and that, even when ramps are installed, in many instances they are hazardous to users. Policymakers must strive to highlight the need to administer every aspect of elections in a way that recognizes that a portion of the electorate does not enjoy the full range of abilities, disabilities and impairments.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The right to vote is an almost sacred right that should not be casually traded off against other rights and interests. See, e.g., Harper v. Virginia State Board of Elections, 383 U.S. 663, 667 (voting is a fundamental right, any alleged infringement of which, must be meticulously scrutinized); Kramer v. Union Free School District No. 15, 395 U.S. 621, 626 (1969) ("statutes distributing the franchise constitute the foundation of our representative society [requiring careful examination of a State's stated interests]") Corresponding to the fundamental nature of this right, government officials and election administrators at all levels of government must recognize we have a fundamental obligation to guarantee full access to the ballot box for every qualified citizen. Thus, I hope the Senate will go beyond the achievements of this bill to provide a guarantee of full accessibility that is not dependent upon a state's acceptance of federal funds and that is not limited by any significant cost constraints. Further, I hope we then accept those additional requirements when we meet with the Senate in conference.

However, even before Congress takes additional steps, we should remember, as the committee report explains, that we already have powerful tools for electoral reform available to us, one of which is the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA). In the preamble to that Act, we found that voting is a "critical area" and that discrimination against individuals with disabilities, especially discrimination in the form of isolation and segregation, persists. To redress this discrimination, the ADA insists upon both equality and integration for persons with disabilities.

In the past decade, the ADA has already improved electoral access for persons with disabilities, both through voluntary compliance and through successful litigation in recent cases such as New York v. Schoharie, 82 F.Supp.2d 19 (N.D.N.Y. 2000) and Doe v. Rowe, 156 F.Supp.2d 35 (D. Me. 2001). But, as the GAO report documents, there is plenty of work left to be done to achieve compliance with the ADA. While the ADA provides an undue burden defense to its general mandates, it still provides a great deal of leverage for correcting the kinds of problems documented by the GAO.

Under the ADA, all voting and registration procedures and services must be accessible. Accessibility includes affording individuals with disabilities an opportunity to cast a ballot in a manner that is as private, independent and anonymous as that afforded other voters, and to vote in an integrated setting with other voters. The ADA includes an integration mandate that bars attempts to achieve accessibility through separate-but-equal kinds of arrangements, a mandate that is limited only by the undue burden defense. See, e.g., Olmstead v. L.C. by Zimring, 527 U.S. 581 (1999).

Of course, the ADA's mandate to offer equal and integrated voting methods to persons with disabilities does nothing to deny a State or local government the right to provide generally to the electorate alternative voting methods such as absentee balloting. Nor does it deny an individual with a disability the right to receive a reasonable accommodation in the form of an absentee ballot, curbside voting, or assistance from a poll worker or other individual of his or her choice (other than an individual who is the voter's employer or agent of that employer or officer or agent of the voter's union).

But the fact that an individual with a disability might want to use an absentee ballot or curbside voting as a means of gaining access to voting does not relieve a State or locality from its obligation to make polling places as integrated and accessible as possible. Thus, to comply with the ADA, a pubic entity (such as a State or unit of local government or a responsible government official) must first survey its polling places and move inaccessible polling places to accessible locations. The defense of undue burden is unavailable if there are accessible places that may reasonably serve as polling places. It will be a rare case in which the need to move a polling place to another location will create an undue burden.

Simple compliance with this requirement—that accessible polling places be chosen in the first place—will result in significant increased accessibility without costing any additional money. Normally, an alteration in polling location will only require a different way of thinking about what constitutes an appropriate polling place.

There may well be situations in which no accessible place is reasonably available as a polling place. In such cases, the public entity must make changes to existing polling places to ensure accessibility, such as installing a ramp providing access for those who use wheelchairs. This obligation, however, is subject to an "undue burden" defense. Thus, in some situations, the entity will not be required to make a polling place accessible, and instead, will be permitted to offer access to voting through such means as curbside voting or absentee balloting.

It is important to note, however, that a State or unit of local government may not, as a first resort, depend upon curbside voting or absentee balloting as its sole means to make polling places accessible. Rather, as noted, the government must first determine whether an integrated means of access can be achieved within the "undue burden" limitation. If such access cannot be achieved within that standard, the public entity may then rely upon alternative, less-integrated means of access to the act of voting, for example, curbside voting or absentee balloting.

The undue burden standard makes allowance for the limitations of poor or rural jurisdictions lacking the resources to achieve a level of accessibility equivalent to that of larger, wealthier or more populous areas. However, an undue burden defense must be assessed in terms of actual—rather than merely formal—resource constraints. An undue burden means significant difficulty or expense in light of the budget of the unit of government responsible for funding registration services, polling places and voting methods, together with any coordinated budget with, or budgetary resources available from, other units of State and local government. Thanks John. You are correct, the item is not on the agenda for Friday.

There were a few concerns raised on process before confirming the candidates to the EAC on behalf of the Commission. Please stand by snd advise your commissioners that further communication is forthcoming by the Chairwoman.

Please let us know if you have any further questions. We greatly appreciate your patience.

That is a good question. It is a decision for Commissioners in consultation with the Chair to decide how they wish to proceed. Adams is welcome to make a motion to amend the agenda to request a discussion and a vote. If the majority supports his motion it can be added to agenda. In the alternative, if Commissioners desire to proceed by notational vote and no one objects then a notational vote can occur. As I

If the statute says the Commission makes the appointments, I don't see how it can be that the chair makes them. My recollection of the appointments under the Reynolds years is that Abby and maybe Yaki were our delegates. If there are transcripts going back that far they may show whether the Commission voted on these appointments.

The statute (52 U.S.C. 20944(a)(10)) says "Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." 52 U.S.C. 20944(b) says "Appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." The terms are 2 year appointments; I believe the current USCCR appointments are Yaki and Kladney, and that their terms end 4/13/2021. I provided the above information, i.e., bipartisan and geographic scope, before the 2019 appointments, though did not provide any input beyond this. I've also attached the House report for the Help American Vote Act (establishes the advisory committees) - discussion of advisory boards is on page 33.

I don't think there are any rules. In the absence of an explicit delegation of power, the Commission as a whole has that power. But you need to be sure it wasn't done properly. I have a vague recollection of talking about this in a meeting in the last decade. The straight shooter on the staff is Maureen Rudolph. You might want to ask her.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

Dear John, Juana, and others,
I have already heard on Tuesday an objection from a Commissioner regarding using the notational vote to address the confirming of the EAC candidates. The concern, I understand, is that more discussion is needed on important items, such as length of term, duties to report back to USCCR, etc.
Since one objection stops the notational process, it will take a vote at a meeting to confirm.
I would welcome it if Commissioner Adams or others wish to make a motion at the meeting to add this item to the agenda.

That is a good question. It is a decision for Commissioners in consultation with the Chair to decide how they wish to proceed. Adams is welcome to make a motion to amend the agenda to request a discussion and a vote. If the majority supports his motion it can be added to agenda. In the alternative, if Commissioners desire to proceed by notational vote and no one objects then a notational vote can occur. As I have requested previously, please advise me how you wish to proceed. I recommend Commissioners express their desire to the Chair since the Chair controls the agenda.

Subject: RE: EAC Final Selections--not by notational vote

Dear John, Juana, and others,
I have already heard on Tuesday an objection from a Commissioner regarding using the notational vote to address the confirming of the EAC candidates. The concern, I understand, is that more discussion is needed on important items, such as length of term, duties to report back to USCCR, etc.
Since one objection stops the notational process, it will take a vote at a meeting to confirm.
I would welcome it if Commissioner Adams or others wish to make a motion at the meeting to add this item to the agenda.

Thanks John. You are correct, the item is not on the agenda for Friday.

There were a few concerns raised on process before confirming the candidates to the EAC on behalf of the Commission. Please stand by snd advise your commissioners that further communication is forthcoming by the Chairwoman.

Please let us know if you have any further questions. We greatly appreciate your patience.

Do we have a court reporter?

COURT REPORTER: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And the Staff Director. Mauro, present?

MR. MORALES: I am present.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thank you.

All right. The meeting of the Civil Rights Commission will come to order.

I. OMNIBUS MOTION TO APPROVE COMMISSIONER NORMA CANTU TO SERVE AS CHAIR AND TO APPROVE THREE ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTIONS

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And the first item on the agenda is an omnibus motion to confirm Commissioner Norma Cantu as the Chair, as well as making certain changes to the Commission's procedures.

I.D. TO APPROVE COMMISSIONER NORMA CANTU TO SERVE AS USCCR CHAIR

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: During our April 16th meeting, Commissioner Cantu confirmed that, if confirmed as Chair, she'll discontinue the Speaker Series that was in place for a while under the previous Chair, and that Commissioner Cantu will always vote to maintain the Commission's tradition of 30 days for Commissioners' statements, 30 days for rebuttals, and, if necessary, 10 days for surrebuttals. So, we don't need to revisit that today.

Therefore, I move, along with Co-Chair Commissioner Yaki, that the Commission confirm Norma Cantu as Chair; that the Commission adopt a Memorandum of Understanding regarding the appointment of members to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors, and that the Commission adopt revisions to Administrative Instruction 1.

I'll read these into the record. Be patient. This will take a couple of minutes.

I.A. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION REGARDING APPOINTMENTS BY THE COMMISSION

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: First, the Memorandum of Understanding regarding the appointment of members to the EAC Board of Advisors, Section 1.01, reads:

"Any authority not specifically granted the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote."

Paragraph .02. "Any authority specifically granted the Staff Director of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, tasks forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Staff Director."

Paragraph .03. "Any authority specifically granted the Chair of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Chair."

"Section 2.02(1). For the two appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic appointees shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve."

Subparagraph (2). "The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities."

Subparagraph (3). "The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1."

I.B. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON INTERVIEWS WITH EXTERNAL FACT WITNESSES

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Next, I'll read into the record the new section of AI 1 regarding witness interviews by staff. The Staff Director shall ensure that this provision is codified in the appropriate place of AI 1, and it reads as follows:

"As the staff persons arrange for interviews of external fact witnesses or experts for the purpose of informing writing of reports, et cetera, the Commissioners will be given notice of the names and titles of proposed witnesses, so that the Commissioners and their Special Assistants can observe the interview firsthand. The observations will help the Commissioners better understand the subject matters covered, and enable the Commissioner to conduct and follow up with questions of the witnesses. If more than one Commissioner (or Commissioner's Special Assistant) representing Democratic or Republican appointing authorities wishes to attend, the Staff Director may limit attendance to one representative from each (provided circumstances clearly warrant such a limit)."

I.C. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON WITNESSES AT HEARINGS AND BRIEFINGS

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Finally, I'll read into the record the revisions to AI 1.6, and that one reads:

"Section 11. Commission Hearings.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

".01 The OGC is responsible for preparing and holding Commission hearings. This includes ensuring that the witnesses, when viewed as a whole, possess sufficient policy, legal, academic, advocacy, and other knowledge and experience necessary for a full and balanced inquiry into the issues."

Paragraph .02. "To document that hearing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Hearing Reports form. By completing this form, OSD certifies that the hearing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the hearing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist are provided to the external reviewer."

Paragraph .03. "Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate hearing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for hearing witnesses. Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings."

Paragraph .04. We're almost there. That's not part of the AI. "OGC prepares hearing proposals, design or implementation plans, and briefing or background books. When preparing hearing proposals this office shall demonstrate a consideration of varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives. This office also verifies the accuracy of transcripts, drafts hearing reports, and maintains official hearing records."

Paragraph .05. "OGC is responsible for supplying a complete and correct transcript with appropriate exhibits to OSD and ASCD for publication. Hearing transcripts do not require editorial review."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Paragraph .06. "The hearing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the hearing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request."

Paragraph "Section 12. Commission Briefings."

Subparagraph .01. "Briefings are used by the Commission to provide Commissioners and the general public insight into civil rights without the formality of a hearing. Any program office may be assigned responsibility for conducting a briefing by the Staff Director."

Paragraph .02. "Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate briefing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for briefing witnesses. Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners jointly request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings."

".03 Commissioners are provided a proposed final list of briefing presenters for approval. To document that the briefing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Briefing Reports form. By completing this part of the form, OSD certifies that the briefing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the briefing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV of this form is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist is provided to the external reviewer."

Finally, ".04 The briefing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the briefing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request."

Kirsanow now pauses for a drink of vodka.

(Laughter.)

And that's the motion. Is there a second?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes, second. Adams.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Okay. The floor is open for discussion, and I turn it over to Commissioner Yaki.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you very much, Co-Chair Kirsanow.

First, I have a point of clarification. You had indicated that the first document that you read, which was on the appointments issue, was a Memorandum of Understanding, but I actually believe that is an Administrative Instruction. Is that not correct?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes, that's right.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes. Okay. So, I wanted to clarify that for the record.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Secondly, for those of you who were listening, the last document that Commissioner Kirsanow read, Section 11.01, Section 11.03, Section 12.02 were the only sections of that entire document that were amended. The rest remain intact as current Commission policy. I just wanted to clarify that for people who were listening in.

So, there has been a motion and a second. I am first going to do a little parliamentary moving, which is I think we need to first move to accept, approve and amend the agenda.

II. APPROVAL OF AGENDA

COMMISSIONER YAKI: So, I am going to set aside the first motion for the time being and first ask, is there a motion to approve the agenda?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: So moved. So moved. Adams.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Adams moves to approve the agenda. Is there a second?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Second. Gilchrist.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Second by Commissioner Gilchrist.

On the motion to approve the agenda -- we still have time to amend the agenda -- but on the motion to approve the agenda, so we have this before us, is there any discussion?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Wait. I thought you had to do amendments first?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: No. Well, I would rather have the agenda approved first, and then, amend the agenda. And then, we'd move on the agenda as approved.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I don't think that's the right way to do that.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Well, that may be, but I'm going to put the extra vote in, just to make sure that no one can argue that we didn't follow strict rules.

So, on the order to approve the agenda now, I'm going to call the roll.

Commissioner Kirsanow, since you have the roll sheet, could you call the roll?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Sure.

Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And this is Kirsanow. I say "yes," also.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you.

There are 8 ayes, no objections.

The agenda is now before us. Is there a motion to approve, to amend the agenda --

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: I believe, Commissioner Yaki, I think there were 7 ayes and 1 nay.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Oh, 1 nay. I'm sorry. 7 ayes, 7 yeses; 1 no.

Okay. Now we will take before us the motion to amend the agenda to put forth an omnibus motion that will approve both Commissioner, that will approve Commissioner Cantu as Chair of the United States Commission on Civil Rights, as well as approve the three Administrative Instructions that were read into the record by Commissioner Kirsanow.

III. AMENDMENTS TO THE AGENDA

COMMISSIONER YAKI: It has been moved, it has been seconded, moved by Commissioner Kirsanow, seconded by Commissioner Adams.

Is there any discussion?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Commissioner Adegbile.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Adegbile, the floor is yours.

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Yes, I would have preferred that we move item by item and not have these things as an omnibus because there may be pieces that are acceptable and pieces that are unacceptable; and thus, it makes it hard to parse those things out. Because we're proceeding in omnibus fashion, it will affect my vote, though, obviously, I support Commissioner Cantu in her effort to chair our Commission in service of the people of the United States. But the omnibus motion will have impact on the way I will be voting.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you, Commissioner Adegbile.

Is there any further discussion?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Dave Kladney.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: I concur with Commissioner Adegbile's assessment here, and this omnibus motion will affect my vote the same way. Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you, Commissioner Kladney.

If you can hang on just one second?

Is there any further discussion?

MR. MORALES: Staff Director Mauro Morales requests permission to address the Commissioners.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Without objection, I will recognize Staff Director Morales.

MR. MORALES: Thank you, Commissioner. I appreciate the time.

I wanted to let you know that, and all the Commissioners know, that I and the Executive Committee have no opinion on the AI or the MOU about appointments to external commissions that the Commissioners are considering.

I will say that the Staff Director and the Executive Committee believe the proposed AIs concerning OCR witness selection and witness interviews -- I believe they're designated as AI 1 and AI 1.6 -- inappropriately conflict with existing Administrative Instructions and Commission regulations. Furthermore, we believe that they unreasonably create programmatic and operations problems for the Commission.

Commissioners provided no evidence, justification, or rationale for the necessity and the creation of these two AIs. As a consequence, the Staff Director and the Executive Committee respectfully object to them and recommend that these AIs be withdrawn from further consideration.

We thank you for your time and your consideration. Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you very much.

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Just one second. I just trying to get my phone back into where it should be.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thank you, Staff Director Morales.

Commissioner Kladney, were you speaking?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes, Commissioner Yaki.

I would like to move to sever the items into individual votes.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you.

The motion to sever is a privileged motion and is not debatable or subject to a vote. So, we will have to take an individual vote on each one of these items.

However, in the discretion of the Co-Chair, I'm going to take them up in the order that I deem.

So, I'm going to first start with the AI on the Administrative Instruction regarding appointments by the Commission. That individual Instruction is before us.

And, Commissioner Kirsanow, would you please call the roll?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: I'm sorry, are we voting on individual -- I'm lost as to what we're voting on right now. Are we voting on a separate issue or the omnibus?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Well, the issue is that each of these items are individual items. They are put together as an omnibus. However, a Commissioner -- because they were originally noticed as individual items on the agenda, and the motion that you put and seconded and was put on the agenda was to combine them all into a single motion, a motion to sever, under Robert's Rules, is a privileged motion that is non-debatable and is -- well, it's self-executing. The Commission has actually done that before on previous occasions.

What I'm going to do, though, is call on AIs --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No, it's not self-executing.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: It is self-executing.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No, it's not.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: And if you would listen to me for a second, I am going to call the AIs first prior to the vote for Commissioner Cantu as Chair.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Okay.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: But it's not self-executing. It's non-debatable. Nothing is self-executing. But --

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER YAKI: But a motion to sever actually --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: -- it's out of order, but that's okay with me.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay. But I will tell you, under Robert's Rules, which is something I know you care about, a motion to sever is self-executing.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: But it's not a motion, and that's --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: It is a motion to sever.

Anyway, that being the case --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Well, hold on. Hold on. Hold on. Okay. Are you saying that we are voting on the motion to sever --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: No.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: -- or are you saying we are voting on the AI?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: We are voting on the AIs. And then, we will proceed to a vote on Commissioner Cantu, because the motion to sever is not something that is subject to a vote. I guess you would call it a request to sever, but it is one that, under Robert's Rules, is --

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: -- is a privilege of --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I'm willing to let this go right now, but no.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay. Well, I would disagree, and we can look it up, since you love Robert's Rules so much.

So, Commissioner --

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Co-Chair Yaki, point of parliamentary inquiry. It's Commissioner Adams.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, Commissioner Adams.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Could you, for the record, tell us, because I can't find it, where is the request to sever in Robert's Rules?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Because if we do this in the order you're saying, let's just go.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Well, it's a point of parliamentary inquiry. I made a point of parliamentary inquiry, and I'm just asking, what is the number of Robert's Rules? Just help me find it. I can't find it.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: I'll find it, but

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I'll find it later.

As the Chair, I'm exercise my call.

So, Commissioner Kirsanow, on Administrative Instruction, Commissioner Kirsanow, would you please call the roll?

I.A. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION REGARDING APPOINTMENTS BY THE COMMISSION

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adams, how do you vote?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And I vote aye.

It is 6-to-2 aye.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you.

The Administrative Instruction on Commission appointments is passed.

Next, we will hear or we will have a vote on the Administrative Instruction on -- sorry, I have to put these all in order -- on the proposed AI on interviews with external fact witnesses. That was read into the record by Commissioner Kirsanow.

I.B. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON INTERVIEWS WITH EXTERNAL FACT WITNESSES

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Would you please call the roll?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And I vote yes.

The motion passes 6-to-2.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: The motion on the Administrative Instruction on interviewing external fact witnesses passes 6-to-2.

We will now move to the last Administrative Instruction on witnesses at hearings and briefings, as read by Commissioner Kirsanow.

I.C. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON WITNESSES AT HEARING AND BRIEFINGS

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Would you please call the roll?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And Kirsanow votes yes.

Passes 6-to-2.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: The Administrative

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Instruction on witnesses for briefings and hearings is hereby passed.

Finally, we come to the motion to confirm Commissioner Norma Cantu as Chair of the United States Commission on Civil Rights.

I.D. TO APPROVE COMMISSIONER NORMA CANTU TO SERVE AS USCCR CHAIR

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Kirsanow, would you please call the roll in our last actions as Co-Chairs of the Commission?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Okay.

Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And I vote yes.

The motion passes 8-to-0.

And, Chairperson Cantu, congratulations. We'll pass the scepter to you.

(Applause.)

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you very much.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Congratulations.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

I really want to thank the White House, the U.S. Congress, the U.S. Senate, the Commissioners, those of you we call the "Group of Four" who were able to look very seriously at these matters of process. And I know that the result is one that will ultimately adhere. And we did work hard together to get to this place.

I also want to thank the Special Assistants, the staff who set up this call, all our staff, and your families who spared you all, so that we could get the Commission's work done.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

For those of you who are listening, this is what it looks like to be respectful. This is what it looks like to show that we can disagree, but do it in a very professional way. And I want to thank everyone on this call for providing this teachable moment for our audience.

We have an agenda that's been amended in terms of handling the first item. As a matter of procedure, I want to circle back to all the Commissioners.

III. AMENDMENTS TO THE AGENDA

CHAIR CANTU: Are there other items on the agenda that you need addressed today?

(No response.)

Hearing none, I would ask that --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Wait. I'm sorry, I was on mute. I was on mute, Commissioner Cantu.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay. I hear you. I hear you. Please. That is why I offered -- this is my listening, and next time I will listen longer.

Do we have other items on today's agenda? Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Cantu, I would simply say this: there are items on the agenda that I think have been adequately noticed and need to be addressed. However, in the interest of deferring to some concerns by my colleagues, I would ask that, if they are not discussed today, that they be subjected to a notational vote at their earliest convenience.

For me, especially the statement on Asian American/Pacific Islander hate and the continued concerns and struggles of our community with regard to the uptick in hate crimes, bias, and prejudice, stemming from or incited by the coronavirus pandemic, is one that continues to -- I think we need to reiterate to the new Administration our concerns, and I would like this addressed at the earliest possible convenience and by a notational vote, but I defer to my colleagues who have expressed some desire to have a shorter meeting today.

CHAIR CANTU: I'm sorry, are you making a motion, Commissioner Yaki, or are you suggesting an alternative way that we handle it?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, I was simply saying that I would like it to be moved on today. And so, I would like to move it. But if there is no second because of concerns of time, then I would simply ask the Chair, at her discretion, to put it on for a notational ballot approval at her earliest convenience.

I will formally move to take from the agenda Item III.B., the statement on Asian American hate, and ask for it to be approved today. If not, then it be brought up at the earliest convenience by the Chair for a notational vote.

CHAIR CANTU: We're discussing amending today's agenda. So, we have a motion to discuss today the Asian American statement.

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Kladney seconds. Kladney seconds.

CHAIR CANTU: Discussion?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Madam Chair, I'm getting a little confused here.

CHAIR CANTU: The motion is --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Is the motion about whether or not we're going to discuss this or whether or not we're removing it from the agenda? I'm just getting confused.

CHAIR CANTU: We're still talking about the agenda. Do we want to keep this on today's agenda?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: My understanding is that some of my colleagues were going to offer an amendment, and that works better on the agenda than it does by notational vote.

CHAIR CANTU: Are you offering a friendly amendment to a motion that's been seconded on keeping it on today's agenda? Or are you agreeing --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: That's just a reason to vote yes or no.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I mean, if there's going to be an amendment, then it's better to discuss it today --

CHAIR CANTU: Okay.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: -- than by notational vote, which doesn't lend itself to that very well.

CHAIR CANTU: I understand that.

By the way, the rule on dividing a question into subparts was 27.1.

So, any other discussion about going forward with adding the Asian American statement to today's agenda?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Chairman Cantu, Christian Adams.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: I don't have a strong view either way. I would urge Commissioner

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Yaki to take a look. There might be some fixes. There's some typos in the document, such as I think the last sentence in one of the documents, that I would have a better time dealing with it if those were fixed. And that may be a notational vote. I don't really have a view on that because there's some typos.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay. Thank you for that consideration.

Look, I just want to express my view that we wanted to get this thing done. I'm going to withdraw my motion for the time being, since I think I confused everyone. So, I am going to withdraw my motion.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you, Commissioner Yaki.

Other items that -- let me see if I can move this along. The rest of the items, C, D, E, were part of the vote that just took place. So, I can I use the discretion of the Chair to say we've already dealt with those items? That would be the rebuttals, Speaker Series, appointments.

Any objection to that?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: How did we deal with them, Madam Chair?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: In the meeting two weeks ago, I made a statement regarding the Speaker Series. In today's AI, we had an AI on the rebuttal/surrebuttal that passed. And on the appointments, we had a vote today on the bipartisan appointment that passed.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: We haven't dealt with the Walter Williams thing.

CHAIR CANTU: Right. Do I hear a motion to keep that on today's agenda for discussion?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: It's already there.

CHAIR CANTU: It's already there.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: It's been noticed a couple of times, you're correct.

IV. BUSINESS MEETING

CHAIR CANTU: So, at this point, I'm open to a motion and a second, so that we can have discussion on the Walter Williams memorial.

IV.A. DISCUSSION AND VOTE ON STATEMENT OF WALTER E. WILLIAMS

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Okay. I move that we adopt the Walter Williams memorial.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Kirsanow seconds.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: I'm sorry, who seconded?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Kirsanow.

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow.

Commissioner Heriot moves, Commissioner Kirsanow seconds.

We are in discussion.

For those who are listening, in the past the individual Commissioners have been able to submit names of persons that they intend to recognize. It is not a policymaking. It is a statement and sign of respect.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Madam Chair?

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: If you want, I'll talk about this. But, you know, it's just we've done this routinely now. I have voted for many of these when there have been people who have done significant work in this area.

This is one that matters to me, in the sense that Walter Williams is a hero of mine. And I think that he's also someone that many, many people think highly of.

I don't want to extend the meeting unnecessarily. Everybody has seen this statement now several times. And so, you know, I'd like to be able to say a kind word on Dr. Williams' passing.

CHAIR CANTU: You have my condolences and I offer condolences to the family.

Any other comments?

(No response.)

Could we do a voice vote or would you want to do a roll call vote? What is your preference?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Probably should do a roll call, given how confusing these things are over the phone.

CHAIR CANTU: I appreciate that.

Is there any further discussion? Does someone want to call the question?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Adams. Call the question.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

We've had a question. The question is an aye vote supports the draft that has been duly circulated to us to honor Professor Walter Williams.

I would call alphabetically.

Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

CHAIR CANTU: Gilchrist?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

CHAIR CANTU: Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

CHAIR CANTU: Cantu votes no.

Please note on the record, though, that, as Chair, I am cautious about the process of recognizing people where it's not clear, and has not been clear, what our criteria have been, but I do very deeply offer my condolences to those who knew the Professor and I do offer my prayers to the family.

Can we move to the next order of business? It is the item that has been noticed, the North Carolina State Advisory Council.

It is our responsibility on the Commission -- and it's a privilege to do this -- to approve --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Point of order, Commissioner.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, please. Yes, please.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Point of order, Chair Cantu.

CHAIR CANTU: Uh-hum.

IV.B. DISCUSSION AND VOTE ON ANTI-ASIAN AMERICAN HATE

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Yaki.

One, on the item on Asian American/Pacific Islander hate, I saw the typo, "opposite" to "opposition". Thank you, Commissioner Adams for drawing that to my attention.

When I withdrew my motion, it was for consideration -- it was in light of the idea that perhaps we were going to not consider other items on the agenda and move on. But if we are considering other items on the agenda, then I wish that item to be heard in turn as Item III.B.

CHAIR CANTU: Is there an objection?

I think fair play would be we've heard from other Commissioners on their motions. So, as Chair, I'm exercising my management of time.

We will, hopefully, get these matters done pretty quickly. So, let's do our best.

On the Asian American statement regarding -- COMMISSIONER YAKI: As amended.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: As amended.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: As amended. Change the word "opposite" to "opposition".

CHAIR CANTU: Right. Your motion was seconded by?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Kladney.

CHAIR CANTU: Kladney. Thank you, Commissioner.

And discussion?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Commissioner Adams.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Commissioner Yaki, I had hoped to send a note. Take a look at that sentence because it seems to be relating to the previous Administration, but perhaps not.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Okay.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: So, I would like it to stand as is.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: All right.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Madam Chair?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: In fact, there's been some controversy as to whether it went one way or backwards, or whatever. So, I think that putting our position firmly is important.

CHAIR CANTU: Who was acting to be recognized? I'm sorry. My ears --

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kirsanow.

CHAIR CANTU: Oh, thank you, Commissioner.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thank you, Madam Chair.

I would move to amend the letter to include the language to the following effect: that the federal government should withhold funding to any higher education institution if that institution has a policy in place or engages in a practice that discriminates against Asian Americans in recruitment or applicant review or admissions.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I second.

CHAIR CANTU: We have a motion --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: May I respond?

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, please.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Yaki responding.

Thank you, Commissioner Kirsanow, for that amendment. I will not accept it. This is dealing solely with the issue of the concerns regarding overt acts of bias and hate crime, as perpetrated against the Asian American community, stemming from, and incited by, in my view, the pandemic. The issue that you raise is one that I know that you care about, but I believe is not germane to this particular issue, and I ask my colleagues to oppose it.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: And it has been seconded.

CHAIR CANTU: Is there further discussion?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Madam Chair?

CHAIR CANTU: Under the rules --

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Commissioner Adegbile.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, please. Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: It's my understanding that Title VI of the Civil Rights Act already creates a power for the federal government to withhold funding if there are findings of noncompliance with federal civil rights law. And so, in my view, this suggestion adds nothing to the current legal regime.

CHAIR CANTU: So, your contribution is that the amendment is unnecessary?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: So, we need a vote on the motion to amend.

CHAIR CANTU: Has someone called the question on that motion, on the discussion on that?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: There was a motion and it was seconded.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Adams. Call the question.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

There's been a motion to amend, seconded, discussion.

Are you all ready to vote on the motion to amend to add language regarding higher education discrimination? Are you ready on that?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

So, a roll call vote would be Adams, please.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

CHAIR CANTU: Gilchrist?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

CHAIR CANTU: And I vote no.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: You forgot me.

CHAIR CANTU: Oh, sorry. Where were you?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: You didn't call my name.

CHAIR CANTU: I'm so sorry.

Okay. Help me out.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Yaki votes no.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

I saw your name and in my brain I thought I called you. I apologize.

So, we have -- I vote no. So, we have 4-4. The motion to amend does not carry.

We're back to the original motion.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, move to approve the -- move for the vote on the full motion.

CHAIR CANTU: All right. A roll call vote?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, please.

CHAIR CANTU: Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Abstain.

CHAIR CANTU: Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Aye.

CHAIR CANTU: Cantu? Well, skip me until the end.

Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Gilchrist abstains.

CHAIR CANTU: Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I abstain. There's something that I agree with in the letter, but, unfortunately, not all of it. So, I'm going to have to abstain.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

Kirsanow?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Is that the famous director of "Rashomon"? Or is that Commissioner Kirsanow?

(Laughter.)

In any event, I'd rather be the director because I think he's a lot more entertaining and more important.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

But, nonetheless, Kirsanow abstains.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Curacao is actually an alcohol. Kurosawa is a Japanese director.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: It sounded like Kurosawa to me.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER YAKI: And Commissioner Yaki votes aye.

CHAIR CANTU: Did I count correctly? With the abstentions, the ayes have it?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you. Okay.

We have a little bit of time to do the North Carolina State Advisory Council motion on membership.

IV.C. DISCUSSION ON NC SAC

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: We haven't seen the list yet. So, I don't know think we can do this one.

CHAIR CANTU: I am sorry. Was the list in the -- were emails exchanged? But you're right, I don't believe that we have -- did we attach a list?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No, I haven't seen one.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay, okay.

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Not the big list, no.

CHAIR CANTU: All right.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: We should do this by notational vote. I think it's going to be an easy one. It's just that we have to confirm who's in and who's not.

CHAIR CANTU: And excuse me, but it's the first time I've done a notational vote. Do I direct the Staff Director to follow that process? Or does that require a vote?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I think you can just direct the Staff Director.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay. It's administrative, finally. A short item.

Speaking of the Staff Director, could we have a brief report on the item agenda on management on operations?

IV.D. MANAGEMENT AND OPERATIONS

☐ STAFF DIRECTOR'S REPORT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

MR. MORALES: Congratulations on becoming the Chair, Madam Chair.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

MR. MORALES: In the interest of time, I have nothing further to add, other than is already contained in the report that was submitted to Commissioners. As always, I remain available to discuss any particular matter with a Commissioner.

And I thank you.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

Normally, there would be an item called New Business, but, in the interest of letting everyone enjoy their family and go back to their other work, are there any other matters before we entertain a motion to adjourn?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kurosawa here, or Kirsanow.

(Laughter.)

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: I just want to thank Chairperson Cantu and congratulate her for being Chair. I'm looking forward to many more meetings with you as Chair.

CHAIR CANTU: I am looking forward to that, too -- thank you -- and to seeing you ultimately in person.

I understand Commissioner Adams will be having a one-year anniversary of his appointment next week and he's never seen the rest of you folks in person. So, these are unusual times that we're conducting business. But I'm optimistic, given the good faith shown in these conversations and the good faith shown as you all help this country through difficult times.

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Chairwoman Canto, Stephen Gilchrist here.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: I just wanted to thank, also, Commissioner Kirsanow, Commissioner Heriot, Commissioner Yaki, and yourself for the good-faith effort that you guys put into the negotiations for the Commission. I am very pleased at the work that you've come up with, and certainly, we look forward to your tenure as our Chair. So, we look forward to working with you for sure.

CHAIR CANTU: I appreciate that.

Normally, when three new Commissioners show up, there would be a like a face-to-face retreat. There's a lot of conversations about how we look to each other to work together. We all had to have those kinds of conversations with a small group of four, and that group of four does deserve to be congratulated for helping us answer our questions about how we will be respectful of everyone's points of view and how we will incorporate and listen to each other's ideas.

So, thank you very much, Commissioner Adams and Gilchrist.

Anyone else for the good of the order?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Just congratulations from me.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you. Thank you, and I will pop a virtual bottle of champagne.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Don't get virtually drunk.

(Laughter.)

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you all for having a wonderful sense of humor, and I'm really looking forward to our time together.

V. ADJOURN MEETING

CHAIR CANTU: The meeting is adjourned.

(Whereupon, at 2:54 p.m., the meeting was adjourned.)

Dear John, Juana, and others,
I have already heard on Tuesday an objection from a Commissioner regarding using the notational vote to address the confirming of the EAC candidates. The concern, I understand, is that more discussion is needed on important items, such as length of term, duties to report back to USCCR, etc.
Since one objection stops the notational process, it will take a vote at a meeting to confirm.
I would welcome it if Commissioner Adams or others wish to make a motion at the meeting to add this item to the agenda.

Thanks John. You are correct, the item is not on the agenda for Friday.

There were a few concerns raised on process before confirming the candidates to the EAC on behalf of the Commission. Please stand by snd advise your commissioners that further communication is forthcoming by the Chairwoman.

Please let us know if you have any further questions. We greatly appreciate your patience.

That is a good question. It is a decision for Commissioners in consultation with the Chair to decide how they wish to proceed. Adams is welcome to make a motion to amend the agenda to request a discussion and a vote. If the majority supports his motion it can be added to agenda. In the alternative, if Commissioners desire to proceed by notational vote and no one objects then a notational vote can occur. As I have requested previously, please advise me how you wish to proceed. I recommend Commissioners express their desire to the Chair since the Chair controls the agenda.

Dear John, Juana, and others,
I have already heard on Tuesday an objection from a Commissioner regarding using the notational vote to address the confirming of the EAC candidates. The concern, I understand, is that more discussion is needed on important items, such as length of term, duties to report back to USCCR, etc.
Since one objection stops the notational process, it will take a vote at a meeting to confirm.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I would welcome it if Commissioner Adams or others wish to make a motion at the meeting to add this item to the agenda.

Thanks John. You are correct, the item is not on the agenda for Friday.

There were a few concerns raised on process before confirming the candidates to the EAC on behalf of the Commission. Please stand by snd advise your commissioners that further communication is forthcoming by the Chairwoman.

Please let us know if you have any further questions. We greatly appreciate your patience.

That is a good question. It is a decision for Commissioners in consultation with the Chair to decide how they wish to proceed. Adams is welcome to make a motion to amend the agenda to request a discussion and a vote. If the majority supports his motion it can be added to agenda. In the alternative, if Commissioners desire to proceed by notational vote and no one objects then a notational vote can occur. As I have requested previously, please advise me how you wish to proceed. I recommend Commissioners express their desire to the Chair since the Chair controls the agenda.

Pursuant to the AI voted on during the April 30th Business meeting, I received the following names for appointment the Election Assistance Commission (EAC):

Commissioners Cantu, Adegbile, Kladney and Yaki have selected for appointment to the EAC:

- Cleta Michell, Chair, Conservative Partnership Institute Election Integrity Network.

- Commissioner Michael Yaki;

Under the AI adopted by Commissioners, these two members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified by a majority vote. Please inform me how you would like to proceed for a majority vote either by placing it on the agenda for the next USCCR business meeting or by a notational vote. Thank you.

I don't think there are any rules. In the absence of an explicit delegation of power, the Commission as a whole has that power. But you need to be sure it wasn't done properly. I have a vague recollection of talking about this in a meeting in the last decade. The straight shooter on the staff is Maureen Rudolph. You might want to ask her.

I spoke with Maureen. She said that she was not asked about these appointments in 2019, but she thought that the Commissioners had had a conversation about them.

It seems to me that these appointments were unlawful if they were not (1) made by the Commission and (2) bipartisan and geographically varied. And Google Maps says Reno (Kladney) is a short 3.5 hour drive from San Fran (Yaki).

I'll try to locate the 2015, 2013, & 2011 transcripts to see if appointments were voted on in the past.

I don't think there are any rules. In the absence of an explicit delegation of power, the Commission as a whole has that power. But you need to be sure it wasn't done properly. I have a vague recollection of talking about this in a meeting in the last decade. The straight shooter on the staff is Maureen Rudolph. You might want to ask her.

Looking at the document about the appointment of the advisory board members, I think that is correct, Christian. Catherine probably appointed them without ever bringing it up.

AC commission saying that Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

Just so everyone has easy access to the MOU that was agreed upon in April:

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: First, the Memorandum of Understanding regarding the appointment of members to the EAC Board of Advisors, Section 1.01, reads: "Any authority not specifically granted the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote." Paragraph .02. "Any authority specifically granted the Staff Director of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, tasks forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Staff Director." Paragraph .03. "Any authority specifically granted the Chair of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Chair." "Section 2.02(1). For the two appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic appointees shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve." Subparagraph (2). "The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities." Subparagraph (3). "The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1."

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: First, the Memorandum of Understanding regarding the appointment of members to the EAC Board of Advisors, Section 1.01, reads: "Any authority not specifically granted the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote." Paragraph .02. "Any authority specifically granted the Staff Director of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, tasks forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Staff Director." Paragraph .03. "Any authority specifically granted the Chair of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Chair." "Section 2.02(1). For the two appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic appointees shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve." Because this is the ballgame to them. Access to process and the tiny details of election process is a space they have incredible advantage. Someone might have gotten to them and told them it was a mistake to pick Cleta over me. She is relentless and isn't afraid to entirely disrupt a glideslope on the left.

More from Maureen:

Alex,

I haven't found much more than what we discussed. The meeting transcripts are here (and looks like we've almost completed uploading them back to 2006): https://www.usccr.gov/calendar/transcripts.php I did do a very quick glance through the transcripts and did not find any votes for the EAC positions. I did find the email below from 2015 in which the then- Chair's special assistant asked all Commissioners who wanted to be appointed. I wasn't at USCCR for this one - I found the email in securi sync. Sorry to not be of more help. -Maureen

I am sending on behalf of Chairman Castro. Please let him and I know if you'd be interested in representing the Commission on the U.S. EAC's Advisory Board.

Commissioners Achtenberg & Thernstrom represented us in the past. The EAC has a quorum now and would appreciate the Commission's participation.

I spoke with Maureen. She said that she was not asked about these appointments in 2019, but she thought that the Commissioners had had a conversation about them.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

It seems to me that these appointments were unlawful if they were not (1) made by the Commission and (2) bipartisan and geographically varied. And Google Maps says Reno (Kladney) is a short 3.5 hour drive from San Fran (Yaki).

I'll try to locate the 2015, 2013, & 2011 transcripts to see if appointments were voted on in the past.

If the statute says the Commission makes the appointments, I don't see how it can be that the chair makes them. My recollection of the appointments under the Reynolds years is that Abby and maybe Yaki were our delegates. If there are transcripts going back that far they may show whether the Commission voted on these appointments.

The statute (52 U.S.C. 20944(a)(10)) says "Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." 52 U.S.C. 20944(b) says "Appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." The terms are 2 year appointments; I believe the current USCCR appointments are Yaki and Kladney, and that their terms end 4/13/2021. I provided the above information, i.e., bipartisan and geographic scope, before the 2019 appointments, though did not provide any input beyond this. I've also attached the House report for the Help American Vote Act (establishes the advisory committees) - discussion of advisory boards is on page 33.

I have a call scheduled with her at 1 pm to discuss further. Please let me know if there are any specific questions I should ask.

I don't think there are any rules. In the absence of an explicit delegation of power, the Commission as a whole has that power. But you need to be sure it wasn't done properly. I have a vague recollection of talking about this in a meeting in the last decade. The straight shooter on the staff is Maureen Rudolph. You might want to ask her.

If there is no documentation of a vote, then that bolster the position that a vote be cast according to the regulations and because that wasn't done we desire a vote. Ask Maureen for an opinion on this. If it's here opinion that we are correct then I believe we start from scratch. Kick both off and then let the negotiating begin.

If we get both kicked off the board then we are at a stalemate until a compromise can be reached on two diverse candidates.

The meeting transcripts are here (and looks like we've almost completed uploading them back to 2006): https://www.usccr.gov/calendar/transcripts.php I did do a very quick glance through the transcripts and did not find any votes for the EAC positions. I did find the email below from 2015 in which the then- Chair's special assistant asked all Commissioners who wanted to be appointed. I wasn't at USCCR for this one - I found the email in securi sync. Sorry to not be of more help. - Maureen

I spoke with Maureen. She said that she was not asked about these appointments in 2019, but she thought that the Commissioners had had a conversation about them.

It seems to me that these appointments were unlawful if they were not (1) made by the Commission and (2) bipartisan and geographically varied. And Google Maps says Reno (Kladney) is a short 3.5 hour drive from San Fran (Yaki).

I'll try to locate the 2015, 2013, & 2011 transcripts to see if appointments were voted on in the past.

If the statute says the Commission makes the appointments, I don't see how it can be that the chair makes them. My recollection of the appointments under the Reynolds years is that Abby and maybe Yaki were our delegates. If there are transcripts going back that far they may show whether the Commission voted on these appointments.

(Note though that I only have records going back to 2015 for these appointments and I do not know what the practice was before 2015). The statute (52 U.S.C. 20944(a)(10)) says "Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." 52 U.S.C. 20944(b) says "Appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." The terms are 2 year appointments; I believe the current USCCR appointments are Yaki and Kladney, and that their terms end 4/13/2021. I provided the above information, i.e., bipartisan and geographic scope, before the 2019 appointments, though did not provide any input beyond this. I've also attached the House report for the Help American Vote Act (establishes the advisory committees) - discussion of advisory boards is on page 33.

I have a call scheduled with her at 1 pm to discuss further. Please let me know if there are any specific questions I should ask.

I don't think there are any rules. In the absence of an explicit delegation of power, the Commission as a whole has that power. But you need to be sure it wasn't done properly. I have a vague recollection of talking about this in a meeting in the last decade. The straight shooter on the staff is Maureen Rudolph. You might want to ask her.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

Alex,

I haven't found much more than what we discussed. The meeting transcripts are here (and looks like we've almost completed uploading them back to 2006): https://www.usccr.gov/calendar/transcripts.php I did do a very quick glance through the transcripts and did not find any votes for the EAC positions. I did find the email below from 2015 in which the then- Chair's special assistant asked all Commissioners who wanted to be appointed. I wasn't at USCCR for this one - I found the email in securi sync. Sorry to not be of more help. -Maureen

I spoke with Maureen. She said that she was not asked about these appointments in 2019, but she thought that the Commissioners had had a conversation about them.

It seems to me that these appointments were unlawful if they were not (1) made by the Commission and (2) bipartisan and geographically varied. And Google Maps says Reno (Kladney) is a short 3.5 hour drive from San Fran (Yaki).

I'll try to locate the 2015, 2013, & 2011 transcripts to see if appointments were voted on in the past.

If the statute says the Commission makes the appointments, I don't see how it can be that the chair makes them. My recollection of the appointments under the Reynolds years is that Abby and maybe Yaki were our delegates. If there are transcripts going back that far they may show whether the Commission voted on these appointments.

back to 2015 for these appointments and I do not know what the practice was before 2015). The statute (52 U.S.C. 20944(a)(10)) says "Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." 52 U.S.C. 20944(b) says "Appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." The terms are 2 year appointments; I believe the current USCCR appointments are Yaki and Kladney, and that their terms end 4/13/2021. I provided the above information, i.e., bipartisan and geographic scope, before the 2019 appointments, though did not provide any input beyond this. I've also attached the House report for the Help American Vote Act (establishes the advisory committees) - discussion of advisory boards is on page 33.

I have a call scheduled with her at 1 pm to discuss further. Please let me know if there are any specific questions I should ask.

I don't think there are any rules. In the absence of an explicit delegation of power, the Commission as a whole has that power. But you need to be sure it wasn't done properly. I have a vague recollection of talking about this in a meeting in the last decade. The straight shooter on the staff is Maureen Rudolph. You might want to ask her.

Subject : USCCR UPDATES + TO DO

Adegbile,

Hope that you are having a lovely Labor Day! I look forward to connecting tomorrow, in the meantime I am including the updated TO DO LIST so that we can discuss:

1. Concept Paper Discussion (info below)
2. Email to Jenny and Allison EAC (draft emailed to you for review)
3. September 15th availability for Maternal Mortality Report Release. I sent Flor the request for 12noon for the Press call and 1pm for the Stakeholder call. There is much to discuss regarding the release and your role.
4. September Business Meeting Agenda: 1) Presentations from Advisory Committees to the Commission on Recent Reports/Memo Releases 2). Discussion and Vote on Advisory Committee Appointments Texas and New Mexico 3). Vote to Amend October 2022 Business Meeting Date 4). Discussion and Vote on Fiscal Year 2022 Concept Papers and Fiscal Year 2023 Statutory Enforcement Report 5) Discussion and Vote on Commission Statement Regarding School Safety 6). Management and Operations • Staff Director's Report.

SBA + PPP from Commissioner Gilchrest and Cantu. However Juana and Thomas have not presented a joint proposal yet for everyone to review so I am a little skeptical that we will be able to vote on a project that is the amalgamation of their two separate concept papers without seeing the join vision.

Covid and Digital Divide in Education from Commissioner Cantu.

The third and final project is HUD Home Values from Gilchrist. From Juana's email to the SA's it is my understanding that they are looking for a progressive Commissioner to join with Gilchrist on the HUD Home values concept paper and help him develop the concept paper. Juana and the Chair originally reached out to Commissioner Kladney as he mentioned in caucus meeting he'd be supportive of this topic and since he shared some ideas with Gilchrist already. However this too raises many red flags since that concept paper did not really score well with during the ranking and I fear that however takes over the writing of the concept paper will have to do all the work. I also don't see this being done in time for the vote this Friday.

Dear _____,

Commissioner Adegbile wanted to extend his thanks yet again for your willingness to serve on the Board of ? for the EAC. He put forth your nomination to USCCR which went through our internal voting process which includes that the progressive commissioners put forth nominees and the conservative commissioners put forth their nominees. The conservatives then vote on a progressive nominee and the progressives then vote on the conservative nominee. However the conservative commissioners have voted that Commissioner Yaki (a Commissioner appointed by Speaker Pelosi) represent USCCR on the Board of EAC.

Thank you again for your service to the Alabama State Advisory and voting rights.

If there is no documentation of a vote, then that bolster the position that a vote be cast according to the regulations and because that wasn't done we desire a vote. Ask Maureen for an opinion on this. If it's here opinion that we are correct then I believe we start from scratch. Kick both off and then let the negotiating begin.

If we get both kicked off the board then we are at a stalemate until a compromise can be reached on two diverse candidates.

I spoke with Maureen. She said that she was not asked about these appointments in 2019, but she thought that the Commissioners had had a conversation about them.

It seems to me that these appointments were unlawful if they were not (1) made by the Commission and (2) bipartisan and geographically varied. And Google Maps says Reno (Kladney) is a short 3.5 hour drive from San Fran (Yaki).

I'll try to locate the 2015, 2013, & 2011 transcripts to see if appointments were voted on in the past.

If the statute says the Commission makes the appointments, I don't see how it can be that the chair makes them. My recollection of the appointments under the Reynolds years is that Abby and maybe Yaki were our delegates. If there are transcripts going back that far they may show whether the Commission voted on these appointments.

The statute (52 U.S.C. 20944(a)(10)) says "Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." 52 U.S.C. 20944(b) says "Appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." The terms are 2 year appointments; I believe the current USCCR appointments are Yaki and Kladney, and that their terms end 4/13/2021. I provided the above information, i.e., bipartisan and geographic scope, before the 2019 appointments, though did not provide any input beyond this. I've also attached the House report for the Help American Vote Act (establishes the advisory committees) - discussion of advisory boards is on page 33.

I have a call scheduled with her at 1 pm to discuss further. Please let me know if there are any specific questions I should ask.

I don't think there are any rules. In the absence of an explicit delegation of power, the Commission as a whole has that power. But you need to be sure it wasn't done properly. I have a vague recollection of talking about this in a meeting in the last decade. The straight shooter on the staff is Maureen Rudolph. You might want to ask her.

Commissioner Cantu

I want to share my thoughts on going forward in response to the recent letter from Adams, Gilchrist, Heriot and Kirsanow.

First, the letter they sent was incorrect and inaccurate as to my actions and purpose. Nothing more be said. I would not change anything I wrote or action I took. It is a difference of opinion that should not be relitigated or discussed any further. We must move past this and schedule a vote on assuming your position as Chair.

Second, the letter states they did not participate in the briefing because they were unhappy about notice and scheduling. However, you had already agreed not to hold the business meeting in the afternoon on the 26th. That issue was settled by mutual agreement. Nevertheless, they still chose to not participate in the briefing. That was unfortunate because they had previously agreed to participate months in advance. They were involved in negotiations for witnesses and were aware we had committed over $10,000 in agency funds to hold the briefing. Refusing to participate in the business meeting was one thing, refusing to participate in the briefing was inexcusable and negligent.

Again, we need to move beyond Friday.

I recommend you propose in writing holding a business meeting on March 19th to be noticed by March 10th.

The agenda for March 19th should be limited to the following:

- Vote on Commissioner Norma Cantu as Chair of the US Commission on Civil Rights;
- Vote on FEMA Discovery Plan;
- Vote on Statement of Walter Williams;
- Vote to continue the policy of rebuttals and surrebuttals while you are Chair (No AI on Rebuttals);
- Vote to suspend speaker series while you are Chair (No AI); and
- Discussion and agreement to appoint an Republican to EAC (No AI)

If they want to continue to negotiate with you, you could consider offering:

- Discussion and agreement to create a working group to revise the AI on SAC creation to make it a 50-50 bipartisan membership.

However, they in turn must agree to the following:

- Never again use the agency letterhead to express their opinions or views without a Commission majority vote. This directive was ordered by Congress and by the GAO and is regularly violated by the Republicans. (They won't agree to this, however it gives you leverage to ask them for something in return)

Feel free to call me to discuss further or provide additional clarity.

Mauro

Kevin,

Thank you for getting back to us. Chair Catherine Lhamon resigned from the Commission on January 19th. Commissioner Norma Cantu has been sworn in to replace her and has been designated as the new Chair. Unfortunately, the Commissioners have been delayed in having a vote to confirm Commissioner Cantu as the new Chair. It is my understanding that Commissioner Cantu and the other commissioners wish to reach a mutual agreement on who they will select to fill the memberships. Commissioners Kladney and Yaki may be reappointed. On the other hand, Commissioners may agree to add a new member and keep one of the current members. It looks like the Commissioners will not be able to make a decision until the next US Commission on Civil Rights business meeting on April 16th.

Can you advise us as to the options we have available? If we are unable to make our appointments until April 16th, will the current appointments lapse or will Klandey and Yaki automatically be renewed for another term? If Kladney and Yaki are automatically renewed can they be changed once Commissioners reach a decision on who should be appointed. Please let us know if you wish to speak to us for clarity.

Thank you.

Per the Caucus discussion a few months back about USCCR's two designees to the EAC's Bd. of Advisors, Cmnr Adams would like the Caucus to recommend Cleta Mitchell and himself as the two nominees from the Republican Commissioners -- per the new AI on the issue (see below in Mauro's email). Democrat Cmnrs would then need to choose between Cleta Mitchell and Cmnr Adams as one of USCCR's two designees to the EAC Bd. of Advisors.

Cmnr Adams wanted me to double check that this is still OK with the 3 of you before he submits his and Cleta's names to Staff Director Morales by COB tomorrow, Friday July 30.

Please email me back to confirm that each of you is OK with submitting Cleta's and Cmnr Adams' names for the EAC .

That is a good idea and each caucus should send me their final selection. There are no real procedures since this is the first time we've done this. It would be simpler if each caucus provides me with their selection rather than each commissioner provide me their individual vote on the different candidates that I would then have to account for and tally. I shouldn't have a part of the caucus votes for the final candidates. Each caucus should make their own selection and then send it to me which I can then schedule for a final vote by all Commissioners to send to the EAC.

Good Morning Juana and Alec,

Since I will be on travel next week I just wanted to make sure that I had all our ducks in order and make sure that I am not missing anything in preparation for Debo and Dave.

August Business Meeting Agenda (the Sunshine notice has posted)

A. Presentations from Advisory Committees to the Commission on Recent 2 Reports/Memo Releases
B. Discussion and Vote on Iowa Advisory Committee Chair Appointment
C. Discussion and Vote on Advisory Committee Appointments (Florida). Juana, David should circulate and then if we could have your legal intern do the vet memo that would be great.
D. Discussion and Vote on the Release of The Civil Rights Implications of Cash Bail: Briefing Report Before the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights. I have circulated the final version to the SA's and will circulate to Commissioners, Mauro + OGC today.
E. Management and Operations

It looks like the only item that is missing is the EAC nominations. So someone would need to amend the agenda to add that item and have a vote on Commissioner Yaki and Cleta Mitchell for EAC.

Please let me know if I am missing anything or that there is something we should discuss.

Yes, I failed to persuade Michael Yaki to serve another term on the Board of Advisors for the US Elections Assistance Commission. He did a great job in the past six years. He's not going anywhere, but we have a vacant position to fill on the Board of Advisors.

Please send me and Juana two names of progressive candidates so we can offer two names to the conservative caucus and they can strike one, as the AI requires.
I will need names by End of Business on Tuesday, November 2, 2021

On Wednesday, I will send the two names to the conservative caucus and give them 48-hours notice to respond by striking one of the names. Ths is the process we memorialized in an AI.
Please tell me that you have confirmed with the person whose name you are forwarding that this person is willing to serve.

Thank you.

Dear Commissioners-

In response to Commissioner Yaki recently resigning from his position on the EAC as a representative of USCCR, the Progressive Caucus is putting for 2 names for consideration. I am asking that the candidate you strike be sent to me by Monday, November 15th, 2021 by 5pm EST so that we can include the candidate's confirmation vote at our November 19th business meeting.

Commissioner Yaki is no longer able to serve; as a result, we will need to start the process of nominating and confirming a Dem candidate. As per the AI- we will provide 2 names to the Rs, have them strike one and we will confirm the candidate either by notational vote or at the Nov. 19th business meeting. To expedite the process, please provide your nominations to me by XXX. I will share wit the Rs and give them 48 hours to strike a candidate and we'll proceed with the confirmation vote shortly thereafter. In nominating the candidates, please ensure they are not only willing but able to serve.

In regards to the Rep candidate, after consultation with the Commission's GC, I will be submitting Cleta Mitchell's name to the EAC today. As the candidate was properly confirmed by the Commission, and the EAC board is scheduled to start meeting soon, I will submit the candidate to start her term.

If this request is denied in whole or in part, justify all deletions or withholdings by reference to specific exemptions in the FOIA.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

When possible, produce responsive records in their native, digital formats and include their original metadata, not as hard copy facsimiles or PDFs. For example, spreadsheets created in Microsoft Excel should be provided in an `.xlsx` format. Emails should be provided in common email file formats, such as `.pst` files for collections of emails or `.eml` files for individual emails.

Data should be provided in a non-proprietary, machine-readable format, such as comma separated values (`.csv`). Included is a request for a record layout for the database and a data dictionary for any codes used in the database.

Limitations on fees

Because CNN is a representative of the news media and these records are sought as part of a newsgathering effort, waive or reduce search and duplication fees, where applicable.

If you determine that fees will apply to this request and expect such fees to exceed $500 USD, provide an itemized invoice of fees.

Time limits for response

If you expect this request to take longer than ten (10) working days to process, we expect an acknowledgment letter and tracking number within that time or no later than Wednesday, December 1, 2021.

We expect a final grant/denial determination on this request within twenty (20) working days after receipt by the appropriate office or no later than Wednesday, December 15, 2021.

If you are unable to fulfill this request within that period, produce information as it becomes available (i.e. on a “rolling” basis) and an explanation for the circumstances requiring an extension of time and an estimated date on which you expect to finish processing this request.

Expedited processing

Please expedite processing of this request.

As a journalist for CNN, a global news organization, I am a representative of the news media who is primarily engaged in disseminating the news.

There exists a compelling need for expedited processing of this request because the requested information relates to actual or alleged federal government activity; Specifically: the commission's recent appointment to the advisory board of the Election Assistance Commission.

There is an urgent need to inform the public about this activity because it will help explain the functioning of the federal government.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

We expect a determination regarding this request for expedited treatment within ten (10) calendar days, or no later than Saturday, November 27, 2021.

Please direct questions and responsive information concerning this request to jeremy.herb@warnermedia.com.

Hello,

This is a request under the Freedom of Information Act.

I request copies of all emailed or written communication related to the nomination and vote on Cleta Mitchell's appointment to the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Please provide both the notional vote and any discussion of her appointment or the other nominees submitted by the Republican commissioners.

I request that this be given to me on a rolling basis as documents become available. If the commission intends to withhold part of this request or take additional time to consider the release of parts of this request, please release the information you are willing to provide in advance of that consideration.

I am a representative of Votebeat, a news organization, and this information is being collected for distribution to the public and not for commercial purposes.

I request a waiver of all fees for this request. Disclosure of the requested information to me is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government and is not primarily in my commercial interest.

Further, please grant expedited processing for this request. Cleta Mitchell is currently under investigation in Georgia for her role in a January phone call, and the commission is meeting on Friday to discuss a second nomination. Because the commission has elected to discuss Ms. Mitchell's nomination only by email and not in public meetings, expedited processing is clearly necessary to offer the public clarity into this decision making.

Re: Election Assistance Commission advisory board appointments

This is a request for records pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552 ("FOIA").

Requested records

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1. All email correspondence related to the commission's appointments to the Electoral Assistance Commission advisory board dating between August 2020 and the present.
2. Email correspondence between Cleta Mitchell and J Christian Adams between August 2020 and the present.

In addition to the records described above, provide any processing notes produced in the course of fulfilling this request and any records that, because of their nature or subject matter, are substantially the same as the records described above and have been previously disclosed, are the subject of currently pending requests or are likely to become the subject of subsequent requests.

Format of requested records

If this request is denied in whole or in part, justify all deletions or withholdings by reference to specific exemptions in the FOIA.

When possible, produce responsive records in their native, digital formats and include their original metadata, not as hard copy facsimiles or PDFs. For example, spreadsheets created in Microsoft Excel should be provided in an `.xlsx` format. Emails should be provided in common email file formats, such as `.pst` files for collections of emails or `.eml` files for individual emails.

Data should be provided in a non-proprietary, machine-readable format, such as comma separated values (`.csv`). Included is a request for a record layout for the database and a data dictionary for any codes used in the database.

Limitations on fees

Because CNN is a representative of the news media and these records are sought as part of a newsgathering effort, waive or reduce search and duplication fees, where applicable.

If you determine that fees will apply to this request and expect such fees to exceed $500 USD, provide an itemized invoice of fees.

Time limits for response

If you expect this request to take longer than ten (10) working days to process, we expect an acknowledgment letter and tracking number within that time or no later than Wednesday, December 1, 2021.

We expect a final grant/denial determination on this request within twenty (20) working days after receipt by the appropriate office or no later than Wednesday, December 15, 2021.

If you are unable to fulfill this request within that period, produce information as it becomes available (i.e. on a “rolling” basis) and an explanation for the circumstances requiring an extension of time and an estimated date on which you expect to finish processing this request.

Expedited processing

Please expedite processing of this request.

As a journalist for CNN, a global news organization, I am a representative of the news media who is primarily engaged in disseminating the news.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

There exists a compelling need for expedited processing of this request because the requested information relates to actual or alleged federal government activity; Specifically: the commission's recent appointment to the advisory board of the Election Assistance Commission.

There is an urgent need to inform the public about this activity because it will help explain the functioning of the federal government.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

We expect a determination regarding this request for expedited treatment within ten (10) calendar days, or no later than Saturday, November 27, 2021.

Please direct questions and responsive information concerning this request to jeremy.herb@warnermedia.com.

Sincerely,

/s/ Jeremy Herb

Dear Public Records Officer,

I am a reporter with Reuters. This is a request under the Freedom of Information Act. I would like to request the following records (in descending order of priority, please, and with a request to provide records as they become available; no need to provide them all together):

1. Copies of all meeting minutes of the April 30, 2021 vote to appoint Cleta Mitchell to the EAC.
2. Copies of all meeting minutes between Jan. 1, 2021 and April 29, 2021 that mention Cleta Mitchell ("Cleta," "Mitchell").

4. Copies of all emails from Norma V. Cantú that mention Cleta Mitchell ("Cleta," "Mitchell") between Jan. 1, 2021 and April 29, 2021

If there are any fees for searching or copying these records, please inform me if the cost will exceed $25.00. However, as a member of the news media, I would also like to request a waiver of all fees in that the disclosure of the requested information is in the public interest and will contribute significantly to the public's understanding ofelections in the United States. This information is not being sought for commercial purposes.

If you expect a significant delay in responding to this request, please contact me with information about when I might expect copies or the ability to inspect the requested records.

If you conclude that portions of the records that I request are exempt from disclosure, please release copies of the remainder of such records, redacting only the portion or portions that you claim are exempt. I would prefer to inspect these records electronically.

If you deny any or all of this request, please cite each specific exemption you feel justifies the refusal to release the information and notify me of the appeal procedures available to me under the law. For you to share with Comms and SAs:

Mauro,

Today, November 17, 2021, USCCR has received three (3) FOIA requests from media outlets. These requests are from Reuters, CNN, and Voter Beat. These FOIA requests include requests for emails of Commissioners, meeting transcripts, and other records related to USCCR's recent appointment of Cleta Mitchell to the Election Assistance Commission's Board of Advisors. In the coming weeks, it will be necessary to collect, review, and potentially release the requested records consistent with FOIA, the Privacy Act, and DOJ guidance. I will keep you apprised of OGC's efforts and progress. Thanks,

Hey Michele – I am not sure why this request was so cryptic. Here is the background:

There has been a ton of public backlash on the decision to appoint Cleta Mitchell by Republicans to the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. So media have all requested expedited processing of emails by Commissioners on a few key terms.

He did not share what those are for some reason and gave this hypothetical, "can you do this." Which I was very confused about yesterday.

Because these have been requested by media, they need to be addressed as soon as you are able. Sorry, this has fallen on you at such a busy time. The Commission is getting lots of negative attention on this so we hope fulfilling these requests will satisfy folks.

Hope this background info helps and I would be happy to jump on call if you like to discuss,

Yes, we can search for emails using keywords. Please see the attached sample. If the files are on the shared drive then you search by keywords but it will bring up many documents. Also some users don't follow agency policy and save their files on the share drive.

Hey Michele, we received two FOIA requests today from media requesters. Can you pull documents using keywords, i.e., all documents sent by Chair Cantu that contains the word 'removal' or phrase 'White House'? If not, we can request documents from custodians in lieu of pulling everything down from Outlook.

Hey Michele, we received two FOIA requests today from media requesters. Can you pull documents using keywords, i.e., all documents sent by Chair Cantu that contains the word 'removal' or phrase 'White House'? If not, we can request documents from custodians in lieu of pulling everything down from Outlook.

DRAFT:

Hi Michele,

Here is what we need to have pulled for the current FOIAs and to capture potential responsive documents for future FOIA requests related to the same subject matter.

All email correspondence sent or received from all USCCR employees (all career staff, SAs, and Commissioners) to anyone with the following words or phrases "Election Assistance Commission" or "Board of Advisors" or "Cleta" or "Mitchell" from 8/1/20 to 11/18/21. If you are wondering, Adams was appointed in August 2020. The EAC asked us about appointments in March 2021, but one of the FOIA requests covers the period of 8/1/20 to the present so it is better to err on the side of caution. There is also a request for the following two items from the FOIA requests, but I believe the above request covers them:

1. All sent or received from Adams and Cantu to anyone from 1/1/21 to 4/29/21 with the words 'Mitchell' or 'Cleta.'
2. All sent or received from Adams to Mitchell from 8/1/20 to 11/18/21.

There is also a request for the following but I believe these are publicly available:

1. Copies of all meeting minutes of the April 30, 2021 vote to appoint Cleta Mitchell to the EAC.
2. Copies of all meeting minutes between Jan. 1, 2021 and April 29, 2021 that mention Cleta Mitchell ("Cleta," "Mitchell").

Commissioners,

Commissioners,

I want to make you aware of a matter that has developed. Today, November 17, 2021, USCCR has received three (3) Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests from several media outlets. These requests are from Reuters, CNN, and Voter Beat. These FOIA requests include requests for emails of Commissioners, meeting transcripts, and other records related to USCCR's recent appointment of Cleta Mitchell to the Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) Board of Advisors. In the coming weeks, it will be necessary to collect, review, and potentially release the requested records consistent with FOIA, the Privacy Act, and DOJ guidance. I will keep you apprised of OGC's efforts and progress in responding to these requests.

Thank you for your attention to this matter and request.

Hey Michele, we received two FOIA requests today from media requesters. Can you pull documents using keywords, i.e., all documents sent by Chair Cantu that contains the word 'removal' or phrase 'White House'? If not, we can request documents from custodians in lieu of pulling everything down from Outlook.

Commissioners,

Commissioners,

I want to make you aware of a matter that has developed. Today, November 17, 2021, USCCR has received three (3) Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests from several media outlets. These requests are from Reuters, CNN, and Voter Beat. These FOIA requests include requests for emails of Commissioners, meeting transcripts, and other records related to USCCR's recent appointment of Cleta Mitchell to the Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) Board of Advisors. In the coming weeks, it will be necessary to collect, review, and potentially release the requested records consistent with FOIA, the Privacy Act, and DOJ guidance. I will keep you apprised of OGC's efforts and progress in responding to these requests.

Thank you for your attention to this matter and request.

Mauro,

Your email indicates the "FOIA requests include requests for emails of Commissioners, meeting transcripts, and other records related to USCCR's recent appointment of Cleta Mitchell to the Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) Board of Advisors." That language is vague – and most FOIA requests are - but I wanted to see the language of the requests to ensure all relevant materials are held so when the time comes for them to be collected and produced by Commission staff (presumably OGC) we are compliant with FOIA. For example, a FOIA production may be underinclusive if, in response to a request for emails, only an email search of our system was conducted (e.g. the language of the request can make a difference as to whether a records requests reaches personal email related to a business topic). Again, I am new here so I do not know your practice, but previously in my governmental positions it was common to circulate the FOIA requests with a hold notice from counsel to ensure compliance.

Either way, please let me know what you decide.

Josh, I do not think it is appropriate or necessary to provide the actual FOIA requests to you or other SAs or Commissioners as, per USCCR's FOIA regulations and delegations of authority, our office handles FOIA requests and the documents are non-public in the sense they were sent specifically to our office and therefore I would not want them to be circulated publicly. I say the foregoing with the utmost respect for you and your colleagues. Please call my cell at 617 669 6413 if you have any questions about this. Thanks,

Here is what we need to have pulled for the current FOIAs and to capture potential responsive documents for future FOIA requests related to the same subject matter.

All email correspondence sent or received from all USCCR employees (all career staff, SAs, and Commissioners) to anyone with the following words or phrases "Election Assistance Commission" or "Board of Advisors" or "Cleta" or "Mitchell" from 8/1/20 to the present (11/18/21).

If you are wondering, Adams was appointed in August 2020. The EAC asked us about appointments as early as January 2021, but one of the FOIA requests covers the period of 8/1/20 to the present so it is better to err on the side of caution. There is also a request for the following two items from the FOIA requests, but I believe the above request covers them; if you disagree:

1. All sent or received from Adams and Cantu to anyone from 1/1/21 to 4/29/21 with the words 'Mitchell' or 'Cleta.'
2. All sent or received from Adams to Mitchell from 8/1/20 to 11/18/21.

There is no complete date, but please try to get us this ASAP as it has become a priority. Getting us documents on a rolling basis would be very helpful. My cell is 617 669 6413.

Hi Michele,

Here is what we need to have pulled for the current FOIAs and to capture potential responsive documents for future FOIA requests related to the same subject matter.

All email correspondence sent or received from all USCCR employees (all career staff, SAs, and Commissioners) to anyone with the following words or phrases "Election Assistance Commission" or "Board of Advisors" or "Cleta" or "Mitchell" from 8/1/20 to the present (11/18/21).

If you are wondering, Adams was appointed in August 2020. The EAC asked us about appointments as early as January 2021, but one of the FOIA requests covers the period of 8/1/20 to the present so it is better to err on the side of caution. There is also a request for the following two items from the FOIA requests, but I believe the above request covers them; if you disagree:

1. All sent or received from Adams and Cantu to anyone from 1/1/21 to 4/29/21 with the words 'Mitchell' or 'Cleta.'

2. All sent or received from Adams to Mitchell from 8/1/20 to 11/18/21.

I am surprised that the search term 'Mitchell' is causing so many hits. I assume someone who works here has that name; is there a way to exclude them and search for the terms Cleta or Mitchell?

Yes, we can search for emails using keywords. Please see the attached sample. If the files are on the shared drive then you search by keywords but it will bring up many documents. Also some users don't follow agency policy and save their files on the share drive.

Hey Michele, we received two FOIA requests today from media requesters. Can you pull documents using keywords, i.e., all documents sent by Chair Cantu that contains the word 'removal' or phrase 'White House'? If not, we can request documents from custodians in lieu of pulling everything down from Outlook.

For everyone's awareness, Michele's estimates regarding responsive documents are in the chart below. I have asked her to begin the process of collecting the data and moving it to SecuriSync for OGC's review. The below numbers are very manageable for OGC to review and redact and I do not foresee an issue meeting our deadlines. Once I receive an estimate from Michele about the data collection timeframe, I will alert the three FOIA requesters.

Hi Michele,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Here is what we need to have pulled for the current FOIAs and to capture potential responsive documents for future FOIA requests related to the same subject matter.

All email correspondence sent or received from all USCCR employees (all career staff, SAs, and Commissioners) to anyone with the following words or phrases "Election Assistance Commission" or "Board of Advisors" or "Cleta" or "Mitchell" from 8/1/20 to the present (11/18/21).

If you are wondering, Adams was appointed in August 2020. The EAC asked us about appointments as early as January 2021, but one of the FOIA requests covers the period of 8/1/20 to the present so it is better to err on the side of caution. There is also a request for the following two items from the FOIA requests, but I believe the above request covers them; if you disagree:

1. All sent or received from Adams and Cantu to anyone from 1/1/21 to 4/29/21 with the words 'Mitchell' or 'Cleta.'
2. All sent or received from Adams to Mitchell from 8/1/20 to 11/18/21.

There is no complete date, but please try to get us this ASAP as it has become a priority. Getting us documents on a rolling basis would be very helpful. My cell is 617 669 6413.

Outstanding to hear we can cull down the data set on the front end with keywords. I was worried my staff would have tens of thousands of documents to review for potential relevance. I will send you the custodians, date ranges, and keywords tomorrow.

Yes, we can search for emails using keywords. Please see the attached sample. If the files are on the shared drive then you search by keywords but it will bring up many documents. Also some users don't follow agency policy and save their files on the share drive.

Hey Michele, we received two FOIA requests today from media requesters. Can you pull documents using keywords, i.e., all documents sent by Chair Cantu that contains the word 'removal' or phrase 'White House'? If not, we can request documents from custodians in lieu of pulling everything down from Outlook.

I understand your position. To clarify, however, FOIA requests are public "records," as defined by FOIA, once received by an agency. See 5 U.S.C. sec. 552(f)(2); see also Department of Justice Guide to the Freedom Information Act at 11-18. The fact that they are received by a designated FOIA officer or office in no way grants them confidential status. The law requires that, if someone files a FOIA request about these FOIA requests, the later requests be turned over and that individual would be free to circulate them publicly. If we decide to pursue this issue, we will likely just file a FOIA request as laid out above. Thank you both for your time.

Your email indicates the "FOIA requests include requests for emails of Commissioners, meeting transcripts, and other records related to USCCR's recent appointment of Cleta

Mitchell to the Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) Board of Advisors." That language is vague – and most FOIA requests are - but I wanted to see the language of the requests to ensure all relevant materials are held so when the time comes for them to be collected and produced by Commission staff (presumably OGC) we are compliant with FOIA. For example, a FOIA production may be underinclusive if, in response to a request for emails, only an email search of our system was conducted (e.g. the language of the request can make a difference as to whether a records requests reaches personal email related to a business topic). Again, I am new here so I do not know your practice, but previously in my governmental positions it was common to circulate the FOIA requests with a hold notice from counsel to ensure compliance.

Either way, please let me know what you decide.

I'll discuss this with Mauro. Is it accurate to characterize your below message as standing for the proposition that a FOIA request record is within the scope of a second FOIA request? If so, I am not suggesting that is legally inaccurate, although it would be helpful to provide a more exact citation to the DOJ Guide. I do question whether employees making FOIA requests of their own employers is a beneficial way to conduct routine business.

Re: Election Assistance Commission advisory board appointments

This is a request for records pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552 ("FOIA").

Requested records

1. All email correspondence related to the commission's appointments to the Electoral Assistance Commission advisory board dating between August 2020 and the present.
2. Email correspondence between Cleta Mitchell and J Christian Adams between August 2020 and the present.

In addition to the records described above, provide any processing notes produced in the course of fulfilling this request and any records that, because of their nature or subject matter, are substantially the same as the records described above and have been previously disclosed, are the subject of currently pending requests or are likely to become the subject of subsequent requests.

Format of requested records

If this request is denied in whole or in part, justify all deletions or withholdings by reference to specific exemptions in the FOIA.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

When possible, produce responsive records in their native, digital formats and include their original metadata, not as hard copy facsimiles or PDFs. For example, spreadsheets created in Microsoft Excel should be provided in an `.xlsx` format. Emails should be provided in common email file formats, such as `.pst` files for collections of emails or `.eml` files for individual emails.

Data should be provided in a non-proprietary, machine-readable format, such as comma separated values (`.csv`). Included is a request for a record layout for the database and a data dictionary for any codes used in the database.

Limitations on fees

Because CNN is a representative of the news media and these records are sought as part of a newsgathering effort, waive or reduce search and duplication fees, where applicable.

If you determine that fees will apply to this request and expect such fees to exceed $500 USD, provide an itemized invoice of fees.

Time limits for response

If you expect this request to take longer than ten (10) working days to process, we expect an acknowledgment letter and tracking number within that time or no later than Wednesday, December 1, 2021.

We expect a final grant/denial determination on this request within twenty (20) working days after receipt by the appropriate office or no later than Wednesday, December 15, 2021.

If you are unable to fulfill this request within that period, produce information as it becomes available (i.e. on a “rolling” basis) and an explanation for the circumstances requiring an extension of time and an estimated date on which you expect to finish processing this request.

Expedited processing

Please expedite processing of this request.

As a journalist for CNN, a global news organization, I am a representative of the news media who is primarily engaged in disseminating the news.

There exists a compelling need for expedited processing of this request because the requested information relates to actual or alleged federal government activity; Specifically: the commission's recent appointment to the advisory board of the Election Assistance Commission.

There is an urgent need to inform the public about this activity because it will help explain the functioning of the federal government.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

We expect a determination regarding this request for expedited treatment within ten (10) calendar days, or no later than Saturday, November 27, 2021.

Please direct questions and responsive information concerning this request to jeremy.herb@warnermedia.com.

Hello,

This is a request under the Freedom of Information Act.

I request copies of all emailed or written communication related to the nomination and vote on Cleta Mitchell's appointment to the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Please provide both the notional vote and any discussion of her appointment or the other nominees submitted by the Republican commissioners.

I request that this be given to me on a rolling basis as documents become available. If the commission intends to withhold part of this request or take additional time to consider the release of parts of this request, please release the information you are willing to provide in advance of that consideration.

I am a representative of Votebeat, a news organization, and this information is being collected for distribution to the public and not for commercial purposes.

I request a waiver of all fees for this request. Disclosure of the requested information to me is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government and is not primarily in my commercial interest.

Further, please grant expedited processing for this request. Cleta Mitchell is currently under investigation in Georgia for her role in a January phone call, and the commission is

Hello,

This is a request under the Freedom of Information Act.

I request copies of all emailed or written communication related to the nomination and vote on Cleta Mitchell's appointment to the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Please provide both the notional vote and any discussion of her appointment or the other nominees submitted by the Republican commissioners.

I request that this be given to me on a rolling basis as documents become available. If the commission intends to withhold part of this request or take additional time to consider the release of parts of this request, please release the information you are willing to provide in advance of that consideration.

I am a representative of Votebeat, a news organization, and this information is being collected for distribution to the public and not for commercial purposes.

I request a waiver of all fees for this request. Disclosure of the requested information to me is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government and is not primarily in my commercial interest.

Further, please grant expedited processing for this request. Cleta Mitchell is currently under investigation in Georgia for her role in a January phone call, and the commission is meeting on Friday to discuss a second nomination. Because the commission has elected to discuss Ms. Mitchell's nomination only by email and not in public meetings, expedited processing is clearly necessary to offer the public clarity into this decision making.

Re: Election Assistance Commission advisory board appointments

This is a request for records pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552 ("FOIA").

Requested records

1. All email correspondence related to the commission's appointments to the Electoral Assistance Commission advisory board dating between August 2020 and the present.
2. Email correspondence between Cleta Mitchell and J Christian Adams between August 2020 and the present.

In addition to the records described above, provide any processing notes produced in the course of fulfilling this request and any records that, because of their nature or subject matter, are substantially the same as the records described above and have been previously disclosed, are the subject of currently pending requests or are likely to become the subject of subsequent requests.

Format of requested records

If this request is denied in whole or in part, justify all deletions or withholdings by reference to specific exemptions in the FOIA.

When possible, produce responsive records in their native, digital formats and include their original metadata, not as hard copy facsimiles or PDFs. For example, spreadsheets created in Microsoft Excel should be provided in an `.xlsx` format. Emails should be provided in common email file formats, such as `.pst` files for collections of emails or `.eml` files for individual emails.

Data should be provided in a non-proprietary, machine-readable format, such as comma separated values (`.csv`). Included is a request for a record layout for the database and a data dictionary for any codes used in the database.

Limitations on fees

Because CNN is a representative of the news media and these records are sought as part of a newsgathering effort, waive or reduce search and duplication fees, where applicable.

If you determine that fees will apply to this request and expect such fees to exceed $500 USD, provide an itemized invoice of fees.

Time limits for response

If you expect this request to take longer than ten (10) working days to process, we expect an acknowledgment letter and tracking number within that time or no later than Wednesday, December 1, 2021.

We expect a final grant/denial determination on this request within twenty (20) working days after receipt by the appropriate office or no later than Wednesday, December 15, 2021.

If you are unable to fulfill this request within that period, produce information as it becomes available (i.e. on a “rolling” basis) and an explanation for the circumstances requiring an extension of time and an estimated date on which you expect to finish processing this request.

Expedited processing

Please expedite processing of this request.

As a journalist for CNN, a global news organization, I am a representative of the news media who is primarily engaged in disseminating the news.

There exists a compelling need for expedited processing of this request because the requested information relates to actual or alleged federal government activity; Specifically: the commission's recent appointment to the advisory board of the Election Assistance Commission.

There is an urgent need to inform the public about this activity because it will help explain the functioning of the federal government.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We expect a determination regarding this request for expedited treatment within ten (10) calendar days, or no later than Saturday, November 27, 2021.

Please direct questions and responsive information concerning this request to jeremy.herb@warnermedia.com.

Sincerely,

Hey Michele – I am not sure why this request was so cryptic. Here is the background:

There has been a ton of public backlash on the decision to appoint Cleta Mitchell by Republicans to the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. So media have all requested expedited processing of emails by Commissioners on a few key terms.

He did not share what those are for some reason and gave this hypothetical, "can you do this." Which I was very confused about yesterday.

Because these have been requested by media, they need to be addressed as soon as you are able. Sorry, this has fallen on you at such a busy time. The Commission is getting lots of negative attention on this so we hope fulfilling these requests will satisfy folks.

Hope this background info helps and I would be happy to jump on call if you like to discuss,
Ang

Hey Michele, we received two FOIA requests today from media requesters. Can you pull documents using keywords, i.e., all documents sent by Chair Cantu that contains the word 'removal' or phrase 'White House'? If not, we can request documents from custodians in lieu of pulling everything down from Outlook.

DRAFT:

Hi Michele,

Here is what we need to have pulled for the current FOIAs and to capture potential responsive documents for future FOIA requests related to the same subject matter.

All email correspondence sent or received from all USCCR employees (all career staff, SAs, and Commissioners) to anyone with the following words or phrases "Election Assistance Commission" or "Board of Advisors" or "Cleta" or "Mitchell" from 8/1/20 to 11/18/21. If you are wondering, Adams was appointed in August 2020. The EAC asked us about appointments in March 2021, but one of the FOIA requests covers the period of 8/1/20 to the present so it is better to err on the side of caution. There is also a request for the following two items from the FOIA requests, but I believe the above request covers them:

1. All sent or received from Adams and Cantu to anyone from 1/1/21 to 4/29/21 with the words 'Mitchell' or 'Cleta.'
2. All sent or received from Adams to Mitchell from 8/1/20 to 11/18/21.

There is also a request for the following but I believe these are publicly available:

1. Copies of all meeting minutes of the April 30, 2021 vote to appoint Cleta Mitchell to the EAC.
2. Copies of all meeting minutes between Jan. 1, 2021 and April 29, 2021 that mention Cleta Mitchell ("Cleta," "Mitchell").

Commissioners,

Commissioners,

I want to make you aware of a matter that has developed. Today, November 17, 2021, USCCR has received three (3) Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests from several media outlets. These requests are from Reuters, CNN, and Voter Beat. These FOIA requests include requests for emails of Commissioners, meeting transcripts, and other records related to USCCR's recent appointment of Cleta Mitchell to the Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) Board of Advisors. In the coming weeks, it will be necessary to collect, review, and potentially release the requested records consistent with FOIA, the Privacy Act, and DOJ guidance. I will keep you apprised of OGC's efforts and progress in responding to these requests.

Thank you for your attention to this matter and request.

Subject: RE: FOIA requests today

Hi Michele,

Here is what we need to have pulled for the current FOIAs and to capture potential responsive documents for future FOIA requests related to the same subject matter.

All email correspondence sent or received from all USCCR employees (all career staff, SAs, and Commissioners) to anyone with the following words or phrases "Election Assistance Commission" or "Board of Advisors" or "Cleta" or "Mitchell" from 8/1/20 to the present (11/18/21).

If you are wondering, Adams was appointed in August 2020. The EAC asked us about appointments as early as January 2021, but one of the FOIA requests covers the period of 8/1/20 to the present so it is better to err on the side of caution. There is also a request for the following two items from the FOIA requests, but I believe the above request covers them; if you disagree:

1. All sent or received from Adams and Cantu to anyone from 1/1/21 to 4/29/21 with the words 'Mitchell' or 'Cleta.'
2. All sent or received from Adams to Mitchell from 8/1/20 to 11/18/21.

There is no complete date, but please try to get us this ASAP as it has become a priority. Getting us documents on a rolling basis would be very helpful. My cell is 617 669 6413.

Yes, we can search for emails using keywords. Please see the attached sample. If the files are on the shared drive then you search by keywords but it will bring up many documents. Also some users don't follow agency policy and save their files on the share drive.

Hey Michele, we received two FOIA requests today from media requesters. Can you pull documents using keywords, i.e., all documents sent by Chair Cantu that contains the word 'removal' or phrase 'White House'? If not, we can request documents from custodians in lieu of pulling everything down from Outlook.

I want to make you aware of a matter that has developed. Today, November 17, 2021, USCCR has received three (3) Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests from several media outlets. These requests are from Reuters, CNN, and Voter Beat. These FOIA requests include requests for emails of Commissioners, meeting transcripts, and other records related to USCCR's recent appointment of Cleta Mitchell to the Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) Board of Advisors. In the coming weeks, it will be necessary to collect, review, and potentially release the requested records consistent with FOIA, the Privacy Act, and DOJ guidance. Mauro,

Your email indicates the "FOIA requests include requests for emails of Commissioners, meeting transcripts, and other records related to USCCR's recent appointment of Cleta Mitchell to the Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) Board of Advisors." That language is vague – and most FOIA requests are - but I wanted to see the language of the requests to ensure all relevant materials are held so when the time comes for them to be collected and produced by Commission staff (presumably OGC) we are compliant with FOIA. For example, a FOIA production may be underinclusive if, in response to a request for emails, only an email search of our system was conducted (e.g. the language of the request can make a difference as to whether a records requests reaches personal email related to a business topic). Again, I am new here so I do not know your practice, but previously in my governmental positions it was common to circulate the FOIA requests with a hold notice from counsel to ensure compliance.

Either way, please let me know what you decide.

Great; so everyone is aware, once we receive some preliminary numbers from Michele, OGC can do an estimate as to the review, redaction, and production timeline and update the requesters.

Hi Michele,

Here is what we need to have pulled for the current FOIAs and to capture potential responsive documents for future FOIA requests related to the same subject matter.

All email correspondence sent or received from all USCCR employees (all career staff, SAs, and Commissioners) to anyone with the following words or phrases "Election Assistance Commission" or "Board of Advisors" or "Cleta" or "Mitchell" from 8/1/20 to the present (11/18/21).

If you are wondering, Adams was appointed in August 2020. The EAC asked us about appointments as early as January 2021, but one of the FOIA requests covers the period of 8/1/20 to the present so it is better to err on the side of caution. There is also a request for the following two items from the FOIA requests, but I believe the above request covers them; if you disagree:

1. All sent or received from Adams and Cantu to anyone from 1/1/21 to 4/29/21 with the words 'Mitchell' or 'Cleta.'
2. All sent or received from Adams to Mitchell from 8/1/20 to 11/18/21.

There is no complete date, but please try to get us this ASAP as it has become a priority. Getting us documents on a rolling basis would be very helpful. My cell is 617 669 6413.

Yes, we can search for emails using keywords. Please see the attached sample. If the files are on the shared drive then you search by keywords but it will bring up many documents. Also some users don't follow agency policy and save their files on the share drive.

Hey Michele, we received two FOIA requests today from media requesters. Can you pull documents using keywords, i.e., all documents sent by Chair Cantu that contains the word 'removal' or phrase 'White House'? If not, we can request documents from custodians in lieu of pulling everything down from Outlook.

Hi Michele,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Here is what we need to have pulled for the current FOIAs and to capture potential responsive documents for future FOIA requests related to the same subject matter.

All email correspondence sent or received from all USCCR employees (all career staff, SAs, and Commissioners) to anyone with the following words or phrases "Election Assistance Commission" or "Board of Advisors" or "Cleta" or "Mitchell" from 8/1/20 to the present (11/18/21).

If you are wondering, Adams was appointed in August 2020. The EAC asked us about appointments as early as January 2021, but one of the FOIA requests covers the period of 8/1/20 to the present so it is better to err on the side of caution. There is also a request for the following two items from the FOIA requests, but I believe the above request covers them; if you disagree:

1. All sent or received from Adams and Cantu to anyone from 1/1/21 to 4/29/21 with the words 'Mitchell' or 'Cleta.'
2. All sent or received from Adams to Mitchell from 8/1/20 to 11/18/21.

There is no complete date, but please try to get us this ASAP as it has become a priority. Getting us documents on a rolling basis would be very helpful. My cell is 617 669 6413.

Hey Michele, we received two FOIA requests today from media requesters. Can you pull documents using keywords, i.e., all documents sent by Chair Cantu that contains the word 'removal' or phrase 'White House'? If not, we can request documents from custodians in lieu of pulling everything down from Outlook.

For everyone's awareness, Michele's estimates regarding responsive documents are in the chart below. I have asked her to begin the process of collecting the data and moving it to SecuriSync for OGC's review. The below numbers are very manageable for OGC to review and redact and I do not foresee an issue meeting our deadlines. Once I receive an estimate from Michele about the data collection timeframe, I will alert the three FOIA requesters.

Hi Michele,

Here is what we need to have pulled for the current FOIAs and to capture potential responsive documents for future FOIA requests related to the same subject matter.

All email correspondence sent or received from all USCCR employees (all career staff, SAs, and Commissioners) to anyone with the following words or phrases "Election Assistance Commission" or "Board of Advisors" or "Cleta" or "Mitchell" from 8/1/20 to the present (11/18/21).

If you are wondering, Adams was appointed in August 2020. The EAC asked us about appointments as early as January 2021, but one of the FOIA requests covers the period of 8/1/20 to the present so it is better to err on the side of caution. There is also a request for the following two items from the FOIA requests, but I believe the above request covers them; if you disagree:

1. All sent or received from Adams and Cantu to anyone from 1/1/21 to 4/29/21 with the words 'Mitchell' or 'Cleta.'
2. All sent or received from Adams to Mitchell from 8/1/20 to 11/18/21.

There is no complete date, but please try to get us this ASAP as it has become a priority. Getting us documents on a rolling basis would be very helpful. My cell is 617 669 6413.

If not, we can request documents from custodians in lieu of pulling everything down from Outlook.

I understand your position. To clarify, however, FOIA requests are public "records," as defined by FOIA, once received by an agency. See 5 U.S.C. sec. 552(f)(2); see also Department of Justice Guide to the Freedom Information Act at 11-18. The fact that they are received by a designated FOIA officer or office in no way grants them confidential status. The law requires that, if someone files a FOIA request about these FOIA requests, the later requests be turned over and that individual would be free to circulate them publicly. If we decide to pursue this issue, we will likely just file a FOIA request as laid out above. Thank you both for your time.

I say the foregoing with the utmost respect for you and your colleagues. Please call my cell at 617 669 6413 if you have any questions about this. Thanks,

Mauro,

Your email indicates the "FOIA requests include requests for emails of Commissioners, meeting transcripts, and other records related to USCCR's recent appointment of Cleta

Mitchell to the Election Assistance Commission's (EAC) Board of Advisors." That language is vague – and most FOIA requests are - but I wanted to see the language of the requests to ensure all relevant materials are held so when the time comes for them to be collected and produced by Commission staff (presumably OGC) we are compliant with FOIA. For example, a FOIA production may be underinclusive if, in response to a request for emails, only an email search of our system was conducted (e.g. the language of the request can make a difference as to whether a records requests reaches personal email related to a business topic). Again, I am new here so I do not know your practice, but previously in my governmental positions it was common to circulate the FOIA requests with a hold notice from counsel to ensure compliance.

Either way, please let me know what you decide.

I want to make you aware of a matter that has developed. Today, November 17, 2021, USCCR has received three (3) Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests from several media outlets. These requests are from Reuters, CNN, and Voter Beat. I'll discuss this with Mauro. Is it accurate to characterize your below message as standing for the proposition that a FOIA request record is within the scope of a second FOIA request? If so, I am not suggesting that is legally inaccurate, although it would be helpful to provide a more exact citation to the DOJ Guide. I do question whether employees making FOIA requests of their own employers is a beneficial way to conduct routine business.

I understand your position. To clarify, however, FOIA requests are public "records," as defined by FOIA, once received by an agency. See 5 U.S.C. sec. 552(f)(2); see also Department of Justice Guide to the Freedom Information Act at 11-18. The fact that they are received by a designated FOIA officer or office in no way grants them confidential status. The law requires that, if someone files a FOIA request about these FOIA requests, the later requests be turned over and that individual would be free to circulate them publicly. If we decide to pursue this issue, we will likely just file a FOIA request as laid out above. Thank you both for your time.

Hello,

This is a request under the Freedom of Information Act.

I request copies of all emailed or written communication related to the nomination and vote on Cleta Mitchell's appointment to the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Please provide both the notional vote and any discussion of her appointment or the other nominees submitted by the Republican commissioners.

I request that this be given to me on a rolling basis as documents become available. If the commission intends to withhold part of this request or take additional time to consider the release of parts of this request, please release the information you are willing to provide in advance of that consideration.

I am a representative of Votebeat, a news organization, and this information is being collected for distribution to the public and not for commercial purposes.

I request a waiver of all fees for this request. Disclosure of the requested information to me is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government and is not primarily in my commercial interest.

Further, please grant expedited processing for this request. Cleta Mitchell is currently under investigation in Georgia for her role in a January phone call, and the commission is meeting on Friday to discuss a second nomination. Because the commission has elected to discuss Ms. Mitchell's nomination only by email and not in public meetings, expedited processing is clearly necessary to offer the public clarity into this decision making.

John, one other thing that I mentioned to Alex. We want conservatives, but the strategic plan is concerned with essentially administrative matters, such as approving SACs, raising the Commission's profile, etc. We need to recommend people who have some experience with the Commission either through being witnesses (as Cleta Mitchell has been), SAC members, etc., so they aren't totally puzzled as to what they are being asked to do. We need to submit recommendations for "stakeholders" who will have the opportunity to submit comments on the Commission's 2022-2026 strategic plan. We need to recommend both outside organizations and members of Congress. I have taken a preliminary stab at a list. Can you all take a look and add your own recommendations? The recommendations are due by COB tomorrow.

I don't have any responsive documents since I joined the USCCR on Sept. 15.

This request is somewhat unclear since it says "records that relate to the meeting between January 1, 2020 through to the date of your final response." What "meeting?"

Subject: Fw: [EXTERNAL] FOIA Request

Commissioner Adams and John,

Please see the FOIA request below. The scope is for written communications between Commissioner Adams and the folks listed below in your official capacity. Please let me know if there are any such federal records. I have copied Ang Rorison on this email in her role as USCCR's FOIA Officer.

Thanks very much,

Maureen

Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, I hereby request all records containing the following key words, email domains and individuals:

7. Heritage Foundation
8. @heritage.org
9. Judicial Watch
10. @judicialwatch.org
11. Christopher Coates
12. Cleta Mitchell
13. CMitchell@foley.com

Please conduct a search for records that relate to the meeting between January 1, 2020 through to the date of your final response.

The scope of the request includes the Commissioner J. Christian Adams and all staff that report directly to the Commissioner including but not limited to a scheduler, executive assistant and chief of staff.

The search for records, whether in an electronic or print medium, original or copy, or draft or final form, should include but is not limited to sent and received correspondence (please include all attachments), scheduling records (i.e. .ics files), faxes, text messages (i.e., SMSmessages) and other mobile-phone-based/computer-based text communications, call logs, voicemails, minutes or notes of meetings, PowerPoint or other similar presentations, meeting brochures, meeting agendas, meeting handouts, meeting packets, travel records and receipts related to the event, memoranda, policies and any material obtained in person at any events.

EXPEDITED REQUEST

I also ask expedited processing of this request. Federal agencies are required to provide expedited processing of a FOIA request when a requester demonstrates a "compelling need" for the information requested. Here, there is an urgency to inform the public about any behind-the-scenes coordination taking place between the commissioner and the listed entities above who are actively involved in election integrity efforts, before the 2020 election cycle takes place. The importance of this information gathered and published, after the election, will be greatly diminished. This information fulfills a compelling need of providing public understanding of any imminent federal government actions as it relates to election integrity.

FEE WAIVER

I am requesting a waiver of fees incurred by the agency in responding to my request. Documented is a watchdog group that investigates how corporations manipulate public policy, harming our environment, communities, and democracy. The requested documents will be made available to the general public, and this request is not being made for commercial purposes.

In the event that there are fees, I would be grateful if you would inform me of the total charges in advance of fulfilling my request. I would prefer the request filled electronically, by e-mail attachment if available or CD-ROM if not.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated cooperation in this matter.

I look forward to receiving your response to this request within 20 business days, as the statute requires.

Sincerely,

John, one other thing that I mentioned to Alex. We want conservatives, but the strategic plan is concerned with essentially administrative matters, such as approving SACs, raising the Commission's profile, etc. We need to recommend people who have some experience with the Commission either through being witnesses (as Cleta Mitchell has been), SAC members, etc., so they aren't totally puzzled as to what they are being asked to do. (I know Star Parker is a SAC member as well, so that's good.)
