I think we know where things currently stand (see Mauro's email to David last week asking for an opinion on the Chair's authority to appoint commissioners). What I was looking for was if you had any historical information. If you don't have any, that's ok!

As I recall, both my Vice Chair Timmons-Goodson and Michael Yaki were appointed during my time. I don't know about 2019. It is not surprising that you would not find discussion about them in business meeting transcripts. In my opinion the EAC was not very active. As I recall, my boss (Vice Chair) meetings attended twice a year. You might want to reach out to Yaki's SA, Alec, to get more specifics about where things stand currently.

Do you have any info on the commission's appointments to the Election Assistance Commission, Board of Advisors in 2017 and/or 2019? See David's question below.

There were a couple years (2010 and 2014) where I found discussion of the appointments in business meeting transcripts. Can't find anything about these appointments for 2016 and 2019. Thoughts you might know.

Hi Sheryl:

I apologize for not sharing this with you sooner. I am just now realizing that you didn't know Mauro had requested an opinion from OGC on whether the EAC appointment required a vote. See the attached analysis I drafted and OGC reviewed with Cantu and the SD that basically says that the EAC appointment requires a consensus from the Commission and that Chair does not have unilateral authority to make these appointments. Further, the appointments should be bipartisan.

Through our discussions with Cantu and the SD, we realized that commissioners may not have previously objected to the appointments or the process (that we know of), but they are now. Currently, there is some interest from the republican appointed commissioners. Additionally, we learned that prior to this appointment cycyle, there was much reluctance to Commissioners to sit on the Board – hence the request by the Chair to serve versus putting the appointments for the board for a vote. Going forward, the discussion about the EAC Board of Advisors appointments should be on the record and should be approved by the Commission as a whole.

Motion 1 looks accurate.

Comment about Motion 2: I don't think that the Commissioners need to vote to give the Chair appointment authority for the two EAC positions. As I recall in practice, the Chair simply requests Commissioners serve and then informs the body of the two EAC appointments.

UNITED STATES COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS
Washington, DC

March 19, 2021

I. Motion to Vote on Chairpersonship of Commissioner Norma Cantu

Pursuant to 45 C.F.R. § 701.10, I, Commissioner [insert the appropriate Commissioner], moves ~~the Commission to have the Commissioners present for this Meeting~~ to vote on President Biden's designation of Commissioner Norma Cantúu as Chairperson of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

[If five (5) Commissioners are present and vote in favor of Commissioner Cantu's Chairpersonship, then she is the Chair]

II. Motion to have U.S. Commission on Civil Rights make two appointments to Election Assistance Commission's Board of Advisors

Pursuant to 52 U.S.C. § 20944(a), I, Chairperson Norma Cantúu, moves to appoint [insert the appropriate Commissioner] and Commissioner [insert the appropriate Commissioner] to the Election Assistance Commission's Board of Advisors. ~~the Commission to have the Commissioners present for this Meeting appoint Commissioner [insert the appropriate Commissioner] and Commissioner [insert the appropriate Commissioner], to the Election Assistance Commission's Board of Advisors~~

Is there a second?

Commented [PM1]: You don't need "commissioners present for this meeting" because per the statute, the president's nominee needs a majority vote of THE COMMISSION. You need 5 votes in favor.

Commented [PM2]: So, now I am unclear on this as well. If the republican commissioners get what they want – a republican appointed to the board – perhaps a vote on the record is not required because you probably already have a consensus. However, we did determine that this is "commission business" in which case, if we are being consistent with our analysis, then the final slate of appointees would require a vote.

Further, if that's the case, you don't need the language about "the commissioners being present" (I deleted it) because you won't be able to approve the slate without a quorum of 5 anyways.

Commented [DG3]: I didn't think Mauro or Cantu actually wanted to have a Commission vote on the appointment, but am I remembering correctly?

Subject : RE: My notes from yesterday's working group on topics related to Vote on Commissioner--No quorum & no decisions made.

David,
As you can see below, I tried to point Commissioner Cantu in the right direction as to which AIs, CFR or statutes govern some of the topics. Let me know if this is what you were looking for and if you need anything else.

1. Language on 30/30/10 for rebuttals and surrebuttals-Gail-vehicle AI
2. Language on bipartisan nominations to Elect.Adv.Council at end of June 2021. Appointments to EAC will be made by Commission as a whole, with a majority vote. Proposed that Dem.Caucus nominates 2 people for one slot and R+I Caucus chooses the appointee. R+I Caucus nominates 2 people for one slot and Dem. caucus chooses the appointee. In future nominations to external agencies, the Chair will consult with the whole Commission before communicating any nominations. Vehicle-motion from floor at mtg. on March 19

   52 U.S.C § 20944 authorizes USCCR to appoint two members to EAC.
   - a (10): Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights.
   - (b): Appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States.

3. Canceling the Chair's speakers series. Vehicle-email from Norma Cantu to Commissioners.

   CFR 701.11 sets forth the meeting duties of the Chair.
   - 701.11(c) reads: The Chairperson, after consulting with the Staff Director, shall establish the agenda for each meeting. The agenda at the meeting of the Commission may be modified by the addition or deletion of specific items upon the motion of a Commissioner and a favorable vote by a majority of the members.

   AI 1-6 defines public/guest speaker.
   - Appendix I reads: An individual, appearing of his/her own volition and at the invitation of the Commission, to make a presentation to the Commission on a civil rights topic.

4. Already have language that half of State Adv. Council slots will be Dem. and half Rep. Need to add language on each Commissioners' Caucus will take ____days to nominate and vet new members of State Adv. Councils. At end of ___ days, the staff are expected to provide assistance in recruiting and vetting people to fill vacancies. Staff nominations take no longer than ____days. All nominations by Commissioners and staff come back to the full Commissioner for a discussion and vote to approve new members. Vehicle-motion from floor at mtg. on March 19.

AI 5-9 sets forth the policy on SAC appointments. Section 5 addresses selection guidelines and may be the appropriate place to add language on number of days to nominate and vet new members.

5. Language about agreeing that AIs, as more specific agreements, govern process of Commissioners; in absence of relevant AI, Commissioners will apply Roberts' Rules of Order. Vehicle-Memo of Understanding approved by majority of Commissioners.

6. Chair proposes agenda for Commissioners' meeting, with Commissioners having ability to propose to amend agenda before meeting and also at the beginning the meeting, subject to majority vote. Vehicle-AI

   CFR 701.11 sets forth the meeting duties of the Chair.

The agenda at the meeting of the Commission may be modified by the addition or deletion of specific items upon the motion of a Commissioner and a favorable vote by a majority of the members.

7. A majority of Commissioners is needed to cancel a called Commissioner meeting. Vehicle-AI

   CFR 701.11(d) authorizes the Chair to cancel meetings.

   - (d) reads: In the event that after consulting with the members of the Commission and consideration of the views of the members the Chairperson determines that there are insufficient substantive items on a proposed meeting agenda to warrant holding a scheduled meeting, the Chairperson may cancel such meeting.

8. Proposed by Norma, in absence of Chair available to moderate the meeting, the most senior Dem. and Rep. Commissioners will alternate chairing meetings. Vehicle-AI or memo. of understanding

   AI 1-24 sets forth the policy in the event of a Chair and Vice Chair.

   - Section 1 reads: The purpose of this Administrative Instruction (AI) is to establish a policy whereby, in the event of a vacancy in the positions of Commission Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson, the Commission may designate , by majority vote, a Commissioner to exercise the powers and perform the functions of the Chairperson on their behalf.
   - 701.11(b) reads: …provided however, that upon the motion of a member, and a favorable vote by a majority of Commission members, a special meeting of the Commission may be held in the absence of a call by the Chairperson.

I've played around with these a bit. I include four MOUs:

1. Eliminating the "Speaker Series," and requiring any future series to be bipartisan
2. Requiring majority approval for appointments to other bodies (including but not limited to the EAC Board of Advisors)
3. Instituting a process for bipartisan SAC recruitment and nomination
4. Instructing Mauro to begin the notice-and-comment period to lower the SAC size to be consistent with our AIs

The EAC one is in line with what you and I talked about on Thursday; it is not in line with Norma's notes below. And I wrote the MOU directed at Mauro because Carissa told me that the Commissioners have asked him several times to do this and he's failed to act.

Carissa and John have the other things covered with AIs, which we discussed over coffee yesterday. I'll see if I can get Carissa to send them to me.

I can talk about this at any point today or tomorrow if you'd like. I'm going for a jog at some point today, and to mass in the morning tomorrow, but I'm 100% free otherwise.

Question regarding the EAC appointment proposal: from whom did that originate? Michael may already know about it and just not have communicated it with me, but if I need to discuss it with him, it would be helpful to know the background.

Alex,

You are welcome. I was not aware of agreements you mentioned between Commissioners. I now understand that you are serving as the representative for all Commissioners on the negotiations for the March 19th agenda. The posting of the agenda today was required for notice under the requirements of the Sunshine Act in order for the Commission to meet on the 19th. As I reminded Commissioners in my email, at the commencement of the meeting the agenda may be amended by the majority through a voice or roll call vote. Commissioners have the ability to remove or add items for consideration. If the desire of Commissioners is to create an omnibus motion containing a number of MOU's and AI's it can be done by a majority vote. I would recommend that the omnibus motion be read into the record to create a clear transcript of what Commissioners are voting to accomplish. AI's will need prior approval of the General Counsel to ensure legality and compliance with Commission procedures.

A joint chairmanship to conduct the meeting would be extraordinary and outside my six year experience serving as the staff director. I am unsure why you would not simplify the process by voting Commissioner Cantu into the Chair at the beginning of the meeting as requested by the President and thereby allowing her to conduct the business meeting as is the regular process for the Commission. However, if the Commissioners wish to a conduct a business meeting with two Commissioners acting as a joint Chair, I will have the GC look into how it can be accomplished. Lastly, there is no AI or statute that "requires" Commissioner Cantu's appointment to be listed first on the business meeting agenda. It is highly irregular and disruptive to operate the Commission without a Chair as you have witnessed in the past weeks. Listing the motion first on the agenda for a vote on the Chairmanship was done as a matter of respect to Commissioner Cantu, to honor the request of the President and as a practical way to undertake the work of the Commission. If the majority of Commissioners desire another process to commence the meeting on the 19th we will do our best to honor their wishes. I have cc'd all Commissioners, all SA's and the agency executive staff for transparency and to be prepared to take steps to carry out commissioner requests. I look forward to hearing from you and reviewing your MOU's and AI's as negotiated and deemed acceptable to Commissioners.

Dear Mauro:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thank you for sending the meeting agenda for next Friday.

It is our understanding that several Commissioners agreed to allow Commissioners Yaki and Kirsanow to co-chair the start of the business meeting. Furthermore, it is our understanding that several Commissioners agreed for the agenda to list first an omnibus motion that would include President Biden's appointment of Commissioner Cantú as chairperson as well as several MOUs and AIs. All this assumes that the pre-meeting negotiations over exact wording go well (and we anticipate that they will).

On the other hand, we are unaware of any AI or statute that requires Commissioner Cantú's appointment to be listed first on a business-meeting agenda. If your position is different, then please provide us with the citation to the appropriate authority.

Sincerely,

Alex

Commissioners,

I have attached the hyperlink to the agenda for the March 19th Commission Business Meeting. As you are aware, Commissioners agreed to schedule this business meeting on September 11th , 2020 by a unanimous vote. In order to meet requirements for compliance with the Sunshine Act, the notice had to be posted today. Commissioner Cantu was consulted in creation of the agenda and it was developed pursuant to previous and ongoing communications she had with other Commissioners. The very first order of business must be the vote on President Biden's designation of Commissioner Cantu to become Commission Chair. I defer to Commissioners as to who they want to make the motion to vote on her Chairmanship. After the vote occurs and in anticipation of Commissioner Cantu becoming Chair, she can then run the rest of the business meeting as Chair. A motion to adopt or amend the agenda would be in order after she becomes Chair. I understand that there are ongoing discussions to potentially add items for Commissioner discussion and votes. As always, Commissioners may amend the agenda to add or remove items with a majority voice or roll call vote of Commissioners. Items not ready for consideration at that time may be deferred to the next business meeting scheduled for April if necessary.

Please contact me if you have any questions.

FEMA's Natural Disaster Response
Research Plan

Working Title: Federal Response to Hurricanes María and Harvey: Civil Rights and Protections Following a Natural Disaster

From January 2021 to June 2022, OCRE staff will seek information through a variety of sources (e.g., interrogatories, empirical research, qualitative and quantitative data, briefing testimony, and formal and informal outreach to government officials, scholars, and community stakeholders) to investigate the federal government's response to the original and ongoing impact of Hurricanes María in Puerto Rico and Harvey in Texas, and may possibly compare them to the federal response to other significant hurricane systems. OCRE will focus its data-gathering in the following areas:

- The role of the federal government in responding to natural disasters such as hurricanes
    - Federal obligations to provide aid for relief and rebuilding through FEMA under the Stafford Act, 42 U.S.C. § 5121 et. al., and related federal policy and practice
    - How federal disasters are determined by "the States" and declared by the President
    - How funding is budgeted for and allocated across disasters
    - How FEMA plans, coordinates, and executes emergency management in administering aid relief, in collaboration with other federal organizations, as well as with state, local, territorial, and tribal lands
    - Trajectory and types of assistance that may be provided, i.e., evacuation to safety, temporary shelter, health care, food, clothing, housing, unemployment benefits or training, and rebuilding, through individual or block assistance, programs entitling payments or programs entitling other relief
- Framework of relevant civil rights laws and regulations, and assessment, including:
    - The Stafford Act's requirements that the federal government ensure all relief and assistance "… shall be accomplished in an equitable and impartial manner, without discrimination on the grounds of race, color, religion, nationality, sex, age, disability, English proficiency, or economic status."[1]
    - Relevant constitutional and other federal law; any relevant federal policy guidance
        - Title VI of the Civil Rights Act
        - Rehabilitation Act of 1973
        - Executive Order 13,166 (LEP)
        - Executive Order 12,898 (Environmental Justice)
        - Fair Housing Act of 1968

[1] 42 U.S.C. § 5151 (1988).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

    - Relevant legal rulings regarding the equities of federal responses to natural disasters
    - Implications of differing local systems, such as U.S. territories v. states v. tribes, land classifications, etc.
- Study of essential data regarding Hurricanes María and Harvey including but not limited to demographics, including race, nationality, English proficiency (LEP status), disability status, and other data regarding the following potentially key factors, along with any others that are identified as relevant during the research process. Key factors may include:
    - Number of individuals/households impacted by:
        - Fatalities
        - Injuries requiring hospitalization
        - Households/structures demolished (completely/partially)
        - Individuals/households misplaced from homes
        - Job losses and other income losses (such as small business losses)
    - Cost of damage of structures
    - Geographical landmass information as to expansiveness of damage
    - Extent of flooding and its impacts
    - Loss of utilities (electricity, clean water)
    - Extent of homes impacted
    - Timeline of loss and repair where available
    - Federal response, to include:
        - Accessibility of requests for aid, and any barriers
        - Number of requests for assistance; outcomes
            - Demographic information available for individuals requesting assistance, experiencing barriers in requests
        - Number of individuals/households provided assistance
            - Demographic information available for individuals provided assistance
        - Any relevant disparities and inequities associated with access to relief aid, including placement and staffing of Disaster Recovery Centers, hot-line staffing, contractor hiring and staffing, and access to appeals procedures
        - Monetary amount of relief provided, including demographic and geographic distribution within a disaster declaration area
        - Timeline of relief provided
        - Logistical differences in administering disaster relief
        - Types of civil rights complaints received
        - Any community-wide analyses performed by the federal government, such as surveys, public fora; other assessments
        - Environmental impact assessments
- Whether and how hurricanes María and Harvey can be compared to each other, and possibly whether other recent hurricanes may also be compared through data trends

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Whether data trends exist as to the federal disaster response to hurricanes in U.S. territories such as Puerto Rico
    - How these trends might differ from responses to hurricanes in U.S. states
        - Examination of historic and current qualitative and quantitative data
    - Trend data would include the amount of aid provided, the type of aid provided, the timeline of aid provided, the number of individuals to whom aid was provided, and demographics

OCRE will accomplish this research by:

- Holding a briefing before the Commission with a panel of expert witnesses (including government officials, scholars, community stakeholders, etc.) who can provide information, data, and insight into the impacts of Hurricanes María and Harvey, as well as the federal aid received, and information regarding the timeliness and amount of aid provided; and soliciting public comments. Testimony and public comments may be received in English and/or Spanish, or other languages as needed (such as Vietnamese in the Houston area). (this briefing may be virtual, depending on COVID-19 conditions). The briefing may be followed by a site visit to Puerto Rico and/or Texas in late 2021, if travel is feasible and resources are available.
- Examining publicly available data, research, and information from interrogatories provided by government offices and departments regarding resources provided to victims of and communities impacted by Hurricanes María and Harvey including (but not limited to):
    - Timeline of resources provided to victims and communities
    - Any formulas used to determine the amount of aid provided and the specific recipients of such aid
    - Extent to which federal agencies complied with federal civil rights laws and policies regarding aid provided to U.S. states and U.S. territories
    - Information about how to apply for aid, number of applications received, outcomes, and appeals and/or complaints filed, and their resolution
    - Policies and procedures with regard to the location and staffing of Disaster Recovery Centers, including decisions regarding language and translation services
    - Policies and procedures for the hiring of contractors by FEMA to handle individual assistance claims and compliance with federal civil rights laws and policies
- Working with OGC to send Interrogatories and Document Requests to FEMA
- Collecting and analyzing FEMA briefings, USCCR State Advisory Committee panels and follow-up questions, additional testimony/field hearings conducted by Congress or other entities
- Examining relevant information from academic journals and nonpartisan research organizations

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Examining empirical research and analyzing relevant data from government and non-government sources regarding federal responses to hurricanes in the U.S., in both territories and mainland states, including demographic data
- Examining the data/reports/work product of federal agencies, advocates, and community stakeholders in order to assess:
    - Key players and their objectives
    - Efforts these agencies and comparable groups took in response to Hurricanes María and Harvey
    - Recommendations or best practices that may be drawn from the work of FEMA, as well as advocates and community stakeholders

COLORADO: 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat).

- Comm. Heriot objected to Prof. Ming Hsu Chen on the basis of an article she wrote called, "Colorblind Nationalism."
- Prof. Chen responded, and Mauro kept her on the slate on the basis of the response.
- Full objection from Comm. Heriot:

In her article, Prof. Chen says that racist and anti-immigrant "policies are cloaked in the neutral language of national protection, public health, and economic justice." Therefore, anyone who supports those facially colorblind policies is racist. More broadly, Prof. Chen suggests that anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist.

It is inappropriate for a SAC member to make wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people. This article reveals Prof. Chen's bad faith. Additionally, her embrace of Ibram X. Kendi's "anti-racist" ideology is troubling, as that ideology in and of itself promotes discrimination.

Prof. Chen's article in the Yale Journal on Regulation, "Colorblind Nationalism," (available here) is particularly objectionable for a member of a State Advisory Committee.

- Full response from Prof. Chen:

Dear Mr. Mussatt and Mr. Morales,

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to Commissioner Heriot's objection. This objection seems to be based on a single sentence from an opinion piece, which I discuss below, but please note her objection paraphrases my essay in ways that mischaracterize the essay and my beliefs.

For example:

- I do not say or believe that "anyone who supports facially colorblind policies is racist"
- I do not say that or believe that "anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist"
- There is also no basis for her claim that I write or act in "bad faith" in her formal objection.

As some background, I have served on the Colorado State Advisory Committee for 4-years (2016-2020). During that time, I worked collaboratively with all SAC members after my project proposal on the naturalization backlog was unanimously adopted in 2018. This work included working together on a briefing with expert testimony from 12 speakers representing a range of perspectives, addressing all SAC member voices in when drafting our report, and incorporating suggestions during the subsequent revisions and adoption of the report. The resulting 2019 report has since been cited widely in media and other academic and policy research. A 2020 update and 2-page statement of concern was adopted unanimously by the CO SAC, and USCCR Chair Catherine Lhamon endorsed and sent her own letter to the impacted agency.

During my tenure, I also supported projects spearheaded by other SAC members, including ones sponsored by our more conservative members on religious freedom and racial disparities in infant/maternal mortality. In each of these projects, I was an active team member and made good faith efforts to listen to evidence from our hearings, to consider the divergent viewpoints, and to incorporate and suggest revisions on my reports and others that would build a broader consensus.

Outside of my service to SAC, my professional qualifications include a ten-year history of academic teaching and writing in immigration, civil rights, and administrative law at the University of Colorado Law School. This has included presentations with scholars from many viewpoints. Not infrequently I've been invited by members of conservative groups like the Federalist Society or the National Association of Attorney Generals to be a reasonable voice in their discussions. In these and other endeavors, I have never been accused of bias in my professional work.

In my personal capacity, I occasionally write short opinion pieces such as the essay that is cited in the objection and published in a special symposium on racism and the law for the online edition of the nation's premiere specialty journal on administrative law. I would describe my own views in the essay as advocating for greater racial equality for immigrants negatively impacted by travel bans and expressing an abiding concern that our federal government adhere to fair procedures in the issuance of such policies. There is no basis for saying that these views amount to "wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people" or that they "embrace Ibram X. Kendi's antiracist ideology… as that ideology itself promotes discrimination." I am not familiar with Ibram X Kendi's writings on antiracism and do not read, engage with, nor cite his work in this essay or my other scholarship. Moreover, the piece does not claim to represent the views of CO SAC or the USCCR. While I do not think the views expressed in the essay are objectionable, even if they were, I would not bring personal biases into my professional service. In closing, I recognize that reasonable people disagree on the best means of achieving equality.

My sense is that Commissioner Heriot misunderstands my perspectives and seeks to associate me with views that are more extreme than my own. Rather than rely on her second-hand description of an opinion piece written in my personal capacity, I would encourage the USCCR to apply a fair minded consideration of my application that focuses on my actual statements and my record of service to the CO SAC and USCCR.

IDAHO

Commissioner Yaki's objection

Dear Dr. Yenor:

Thank you for your service on the Idaho Advisory Committee and for your recent application for reappointment. Your name was included on the list of nominated individuals that is currently being reviewed by the Commissioners prior to appointment. As part of that review, Commissioner Yaki has made a formal objection to your nomination on the Committee because of an alleged comment you made.

Pursuant to our Administrative Instructions, when Commissioner objections pertain to a proposed member's public statement, then that nominee is provided the opportunity to respond in writing to the raised concern. The Staff Director will then consider the written response when making the final determination on whether to include the nominee on the list of individuals to be recommended for appointment.

The Commissioner has objected to your reappointment to the Idaho Advisory Committee because the Commissioner believes you are hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights. Furthermore, The Commissioner believes your public statements render you incapable of, and unable to, protect the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions. Citations to your most objectionable public statements on the issues at hand include:

Mr. Yenor's Reponse

Dear Mr. Mussatt,
Thank you for forwarding the objections of Commissioner Michael Yaki and giving me two days to respond. I would like to know more about the process for how my response will be evaluated. Is the whole USCCR to respond? How will responses be tabulated? In any event, again thank you for forwarding these objections.

The objections to my re-nomination to the Idaho Advisory committee on civil rights are (1) that I am "hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights" as evidenced in my public writings and (2) that my "public statements render [me] incapable of, and unable to, protect (sic) the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Claims of discrimination under the current civil rights regime must be established through rational inquiry aided, where appropriate, by social science. Proposed policies to combat alleged discrimination must then be weighed through a rational public policy process. Policies must be evaluated critically if they are implemented.

Civil rights are hardly an all or nothing proposition. Some civil rights clash with other civil rights. Civil rights almost always require a balancing of various claims or a negotiation of the rights of various groups. In objecting to my participation on the commission, Commissioner Yaki seems to deny that civil rights matters involve such balancing or to deny that some important civil rights should be protected or to deny that some civil rights claims should be heard or entertained; he seems to want civil rights for only some groups and not for others. He gives civil rights a bad name in so doing.

Suppose a civil rights commission finds itself adjudicating a claim of transgender rights as civil rights. In making a fair-minded adjudication, the commission would have to consider the relation between such transgender rights and other civil rights in our tradition such as the free exercise of religion, parental rights, rights against sex discrimination. It would have to determine how transgender rights weigh against those rights. In doing so, it would be necessary to inquire into the rational basis for claims of transgender rights and the likely consequences of affirming them, just as it would be necessary to see what would happen from denying them.

My work raises questions about the evidence that proves discrimination and it concerns the clash of civil rights in politics. Claims of transgender rights can, in some circumstances, I have argued, clash with parental rights (as when a school insists on transitioning a child from one gender to another without informing the parents or against their will). Such instances are, as my research argues, more likely to harm the child and, if multiplied, are likely to have a corrosive effect on parental rights, a crucial civil right (as established in Meyer v. Nebraska and Pierce v. Society of Sisters). Seeing children as products of state mandates in these instances is more likely to undermine well-functioning institutions than it is to promote a good society or thriving individuals. Claims to marital equality have already compromised religious liberty, the freedom of association, and the free thought and discussion on many platforms.

Does Commissioner Yaki disagree that transgender rights clash with parental rights? Does he think that the Civil Rights Commissions nationwide should ignore questions about what it would mean to take the side of "transgender rights" against parental rights? Does he think religious liberty of so little importance that Civil Rights Commissions should ignore how it is compromised by so-called marriage equality? Does he think Civil Rights Commissions should refrain from investigating the future mental and physical health of children who have been transitioned, against the will of their parents, from one gender to another? Does he think we should cease investigating the mental or physical health of all those who have transitioned, even with parental support? Perhaps I should object to his continued participation as a Civil Rights Commissioner if he thinks all such questions are settled questions or based on sound science!

The inclusion of gender identity within the anti-discrimination regime of the 1964 Civil Rights Act is a cause for no little concern. Under such gender identity claims, a person's subjective, gendered self-image as woman, man or whatever supersedes the objective biological fact of sexual identity as female or male. This new gender identity further may come with a demand that governments and others citizens recognize that new gender as an objective fact—a huge abridgement on the civil rights and the freedom of mind of others. These ideas, taken together, are incoherent and compromise our commitment to limited government. They are incoherent because they nullify the categories of male and female to which the anti-discrimination principle applies. How can a school district remedy supposed unjust discrimination in girls' sports when anyone can qualify, simply on their own assertion, as woman? Does Fairness in Sports demand keeping biological men out of women's sports and aspiring to equal treatment of such sports or does it demand letting transgendered men in and, perhaps, decrease the opportunities for the formerly protected class of women? Idaho has taken the lead in protecting women's sports in these circumstances, and I look forward to participating in studies investigating how this affects opportunities. The demands that Commissioner Yaki makes contain the seeds of a new political order, much less committed to civil rights than our current order.

I am very skeptical of the idea that gender operates independently of sex. I would demand verification, from well-designed studies, that confirmed the proposition that conceiving of gender independently of sex leads to individual and social thriving. It think it is irresponsible to accept, without critical inquiry, the idea that affirming gender identity fosters all manner of social and individual good. It is not at all clear to me that it is better to recognize a person's concept of gender, apart from their biological sex, as authentic and salutary rather than as erroneous or pathological. I would be concerned that acknowledging such an idea compromises other, well-established and important civil rights.

Conservatives participate in Civil Rights Commissions across the country. We generally worry about how anti-discrimination laws, as applied and as construed, abridge fundamental freedoms and can upset prospects of social harmony. We often investigate the implications of such abridgements in our scholarship. On the Yaki standard, would Justice Sam Alito or Justice Clarence Thomas or Chief Justice John Roberts be ineligible to serve on a civil rights commission? They dissented, after all, from the same-sex marriage decisions in Windsor and Obergefell. Two of them dissented in the recent case re-interpreting the 1964 Civil Rights Act. More broadly, would any conservative be allowed to participate unless he or she abandoned his or her conservatism? Perhaps all of these opinions disqualify someone from sitting on an Advisory Board. If they do, it may be hard to justify continued government support for a strictly partisan organ.

Sincerely,
Scott Yenor

Hi Norma—I apologize for being slow on this project. I have been swamped. But I really do want to get this done. I still haven't read what the SAs produced. Nevertheless, we need to schedule at least one more meeting (and probably two) if we want to get this done by the end of the week.

I will likely have a little time tomorrow, but I will have no time at all on Wednesday. On Thursday, I will have lots of time. If we want to play it safe we probably need to at least confer briefly on Tuesday and be prepared to complete everything on Thursday.

Dear Norma, Pete and Michael—

In just a little while, I will send a few of the documents the conservatives SAs sent me that attempt to memorialize the various pieces of our tentative agreement. They came up with a lot more ... uh ... words than I thought they would. I still haven't read through it all.

The SAs (and Christian and Stephen) are very concerned that our "book" of AIs is a mess. New AIs haven't always been integrated into the book in the right place. AIs that have been superseded by newer AIs haven't been deleted. Long since abandoned procedures are sometimes still in the book. So they've attempted a little clean up as they memorialize our tentative agreement

As I get a chance to read and digest what they've proposed, I will send more on to you. But let me get at least some of it out to you in the next few minutes.

Here is my draft language to respond to Commissioners Heriot and Kirsanov,
It appearsthat your colleagues are adding new items to the list of requests. I am disappointed because we have already come close to running out of time for the 8, now 9, now 10 items on your Caucus's list of requests.
Item #1. We will not be able to change or add any Ais by Friday's meeting. I will ask for a Commissioner to offer a motion for vote in favor of continuing the current practice and policy of Commissioners. The language might go into an AI later but we have run out of time.
Item #2. I will ask for a Commissioner to offer a motion for a vote regarding the EAC Board of Advisors only. There are no other appointments pending and the vote on other bodies would be speculative.
Item #3. I have already offered to send you an email canceling the Speaker's series, once I am elected Chair. There is no need for an MOU. MOUs are for agreements between agencies, not within agencies.
Item #4. I still do not understand the problems about recruiting and vetting proposed members to the State Advisory Council. We will need a fuller discussion of why there appears to be a lag in numbers of Republicans in the nomination pools. We already have AI 59 Section 5 and Section 7.08 that require bipartisan participation on the SACs.
Item #5 I have no objection to using Robert's Rules provided we are using the same versions (there have been updates). I suggest a Commissioner offer a motion on this. I cannot agree on the AI's overruling Robert's Rules until I have read the "book" of Ais. Otherwise, I would not be performing my due diligence.
Item #6 We already have a rule in 7.01.11c that any Commissioner may make a motion at the beginning of a called meeting to add items to the agenda so I do not agree an AI would be needed to make amendments to the agenda before the meeting, even if we had time to write one by Friday. If we adopt Robert's Rules, this question would be answered.
Item #7 On the request that a majority of Commissioners is needed to cancel a meeting, this would impeded our ability to cancel meetings if conditions such as the Texas Ice Storm of 2021 were to cut WIFI. We need more discussion and we are out of time.
Item #8. We should wait on the item regarding the absence of the Chair because I understand the Office of Presidential Personnel is working nominating a Vice Chair, subject to the Commission's vote.
Item #9 This was added last week by Heriot and Kirsanow. I thought you were talking about content interviews, but realized youmight be talking about job interviews. In either event, the Commission should not attend interviews so as to preserve the objectivity of the process and not bring in partisanship.
Item #10 I just saw it today and we don't have time for new items for Friday's meeting.
To summarize, I know Gail can't free herself up today. If we worked on it tonight or tomorrow, we might get Items without Ais done for votes on Friday. By this, I mean Items 1, 2, 3, and 5.

> Dear Norma, Pete and Michael--Here is the first batch of documents. Note that the Statement/Rebuttal/Surrebuttal policy that was adopted November 19, 2010 was apparently never officially incorporated into the the AI Book. Carissa has incorporated the substance of the policy into an AI (and excised an earlier AI that was inconsistent with the 2010 policy adopted by the Commission). She didn't include everything from that policy in the proposed AI (though we certainly can if you want to). The 2010 policy is somewhat detailed. She didn't have the policy in front of her when she did the drafting. I've got it now.

ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION __- __

COMMISSION APPOINTMENTS TO OTHER FEDERAL ENTITIES

SECTION 1.

.01 Any authority specifically granted the Commission by statute to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc. shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

AI 1-6 Section 18

SECTION 18. FINAL REVISION OF NATIONAL OFFICE REPORTS AND COMMISSION REVIEW

.01 If defame and degrade procedures must be implemented the project team, in consultation with staff attorneys, makes appropriate changes in response to the comments received or, where suitable, add the comments as an appendix to the report.

.02 The assigned office sends the revised draft report to the Staff Director. This draft incorporates all applicable editorial, legal, and affected agency revisions. Before forwarding the report to the Staff Director, the assigned office completes its section(s) of the appropriate checklist form for forwarding along with the revised draft report.

.03 After completing the final review of the revised draft report, the Staff Director documents this review by completing his/her section(s) of the checklist. The Staff Director submits the proposed final draft report and the checklist to an external reviewer as described in Section 19 below.

.04 The Staff Director will confirm that the external reviewer has reviewed the report and the checklist and has completed the certification on the bottom of the appropriate national office report checklist. If the report is ready for final draft distribution, the Staff Director will submit the report to the Commissioners as the proposed final draft report, along with the completed report checklist. A copy of the proposed final draft report will also be returned to the assigned office to be maintained in the project file. The assigned office maintains a record of the changes it made as a result of the Commissioners' review.

.05 It appears there is no subsection .05, so this should be renumbered.

Commented [CM1]: Subsection .05 is missing in the original document, but I included it here so no one would wonder if I missed something.

.06 The Staff Director will determine (before transmitting the report to the Commissioners) if any changes should be made to the assigned office's follow-up plan.

.07 The proposed final draft report, incorporating any revisions made as a result of the Staff Director's review, is submitted to the Commissioners for a vote. For a report to become an official report of the Commission, it must be approved by a majority vote of the Commissioners.

(a) Nothing in this policy is intended to alter previously approved policies regarding the posting and release of reports to the public or on the agency Website.

(b) Nothing in this policy rule requires that a proposed final draft be submitted for an up or down vote in its entirety. If the staff or a majority of the Commission deems it appropriate, the Commission may sever the document for purposes of discussion and voting. Only portions of the report that receive a majority vote become part of the final Commission document.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

~~(c) Commissioners wishing to submit a statement of dissent may indicate their intention to do so after the vote approving the report has been taken. At that time, the Commissioner(s) will make arrangements with the Staff Director as to the date such dissent will be submitted. Nothing in this policy prohibits the integration of a dissenting statement within the body of the report, so long as the Staff Director and the author of the dissenting statement agree to use this format. All dissenting statements that are provided in a timely fashion and that comply with applicable federal law and Commission policy will either be included as an attachment to the report or integrated into the body of the final report.~~

(d) After the Commission has~~a majority of Commissioners have~~ approved the report (including its findings and recommendations), Commissioners may submit statements to be included with the report. From the date of approval, Commissioners will have thirty (30) days to submit statements. After the Staff Director distributes all Commissioner statements, Commissioners will have ~~and~~ thirty (30) days to submit rebuttals. If three Commissioners agree that an opportunity for surrebuttal is warranted, Commissioners will have ten (10) days to submit surrebuttals after notifying the Staff Director and other Commissioners of their intent to invoke an opportunity for subrebuttal.~~.~~ The three Commissioners shall notify the Staff Director and other Commissioners of their intention to invoke the surrebuttal period no more than three (3) days after the Staff Director has distributed ~~deadline for submission of~~ rebuttals.

Commented [CM2]: This will be (c), but I didn't want to delete current (c) so you can compare them.

~~(c)~~(e) Commissioners who are financially recused from working on the topic of a report should notify the Designated Agency Ethics Officers and should not participate in any portion of the project. The Staff Director will denote recusal in the written report by (1) placing an asterisk (*) beside the recused Commissioner(s) name when listing members of the Commission and (2) placing text at the bottom of the page explaining that the asterisk denotes recusal. Commissioners wishing to abstain should notify the Staff Director during the vote approving the report. The Staff Director will denote abstention in the written report by (1) placing a carat (^) beside the abstained Commissioner(s) name when listing members of the Commission and (2) placing text at the bottom of the page explaining that the carat denotes abstention.

Commented [CM3]: This is currently (and will remain) subsection (d), but became (e) in this document for the same reason (c) became (d) above.

.08 The timing of each of the stages describing Commissioner involvement is intended to be flexible and may be conducted by notational vote (project concept approval, background and planning, discovery, first draft report and final report).

.09 After Commissioner review and approval of a report, the project team in the assigned office makes any necessary revisions and oversees copy editing before submitting the report to the Staff Director for final approval. If there are any substantive changes made to the report subsequent to Commissioner review, such changes must be provided to the Commissioners for further review before the final report is published. Any editorial changes made to the report after Commissioner review will be documented in the project file.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

.10 If substantial changes affecting the legal thrust of the report are made as a result of Commissioner review they must undergo an expedited legal sufficiency review.

Memorandum of Understanding
Appointments to Other Bodies

That: The undersigned Commissioners of the United States Commission on Civil Rights (the Commission) agree that when appointments to external bodies are made—such as those to be made to the Election Assistance Commission's Board of Advisors—such appointments will not be made without the consent of a majority vote of the Commission.

They further agree that, in 2021, the following internal procedure will be observed:

That: The Members appointed by Democratic authorities will nominate two people to that other body, and then Members appointed by Republican authorities will choose one of those two people to fill that appointment.

That: The Members appointed by Republican authorities will nominate two people to that other body, and then the Members appointed by Democratic authorities will choose one of those two people to fill that appointment.

Efforts will be made to insure not only bipartisanship, but also geographic diversity.

The "ticket" created by that method will then be subject to a majority vote of the Commission.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

Statements, Rebuttals, Surrebuttals

The undersigned Commissioners agree that during their tenure on the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights they will always vote in favor of upholding the current policy on Commissioner statements, rebuttals, and surrebuttals (as adopted on November 19, 2010) and that they always vote against any motion to limit the time allotted for statements, rebuttals and surrebuttals in a particular case unless all Commissioners who plan to write such statements, rebuttals or surrebuttals agree to such a limitation.

Speaker Series

That: The undersigned Commissioners of the United States Commission on Civil Rights (the Commission) agree to eliminate the "Speaker Series" as it currently exists at the Commission, that is to say as a series directed by the Chairperson of the Commission without the input or consent of other Commissioners.

That: If the Commission determines the need for any "Speaker Series" in the future, then such series will not be instituted and directed without the consent of a majority of the Commission.

That: If the majority of the Commission consents to a "Speaker Series," then such series must be bipartisan, allowing for each caucus to choose every other speaker.

Draft2
Dear Commissioners Heriot and Kirsanow,
It appears that your colleagues are adding new items to the list of requests. I am disappointed because we have already come close to running out of time for the 8, now 9, now 10 items on your Caucus's list of requests.
Item #1. We will not be able to change or add any Ais by Friday's meeting. I will ask for a Commissioner to offer a motion for vote in favor of continuing the current practice and policy of Commissioners. The language might go into an AI later but we have run out of time.
Item #2. I will ask for a Commissioner to offer a motion for a vote regarding the EAC Board of Advisors only. There are no other appointments pending and the vote on other bodies would be speculative.
Item #3. I have already offered to send you an email canceling the Speaker's series, once I am elected Chair. There is no need for an MOU. MOUs are for agreements between agencies, not within agencies.
Item #4. I still do not understand the problems about recruiting and vetting proposed members to the State Advisory Council. We will need a fuller discussion of why there appears to be a lag in numbers of Republicans in the nomination pools. We already have AI 59 Section 5 and Section 7.08 that require bipartisan participation on the SACs.
Item #5 I have no objection to using Robert's Rules provided we are using the same versions (there have been updates). I suggest a Commissioner offer a motion on this. I cannot agree on the AI's overruling Robert's Rules until I have read the "book" of Ais. Otherwise, I would not be performing my due diligence.
Item #6 We already have a rule in 7.01.11c that any Commissioner may make a motion at the beginning of a called meeting to add items to the agenda so I do not agree an AI would be needed to make amendments to the agenda before the meeting, even if we had time to write one by Friday. If we adopt Robert's Rules, this question would be answered.
Item #7 On the request that a majority of Commissioners is needed to cancel a meeting, this would impeded our ability to cancel meetings if conditions such as the Texas Ice Storm of 2021 were to cut WIFI. We need more discussion and we are out of time.
Item #8. We should wait on the item regarding the absence of the Chair because I understand the Office of Presidential Personnel is working nominating a Vice Chair, subject to the Commission's vote.
Item #9 This was added last week by Heriot and Kirsanow. I thought you were talking about content interviews, but realized you might be talking about job interviews. In either event, the Commission should not attend interviews so as to preserve the objectivity of the process and not bring in partisanship.
Item #10 I just saw it today and we don't have time for new items for Friday's meeting.

To summarize, I know Gail can't free herself up today. If we-Gail, Peter, Norma and Michael- worked on it tonight or tomorrow, we might get Items without Ais done for votes on Friday. By this, I mean Items 1, 2, 3, and 5.

Finally, there are members of my Caucus who believe that there should be concessions from your Caucus on part of the items on your agenda and these concessions should be part of the negotiations. Given that there are no other substantive items on the agenda for the March 19th Friday meeting, now that the FEMA plan has passed (thank you!), I suggest we inform Mauro that-for this meeting only-- pending resolution of Item #7—a majority wants the Friday business meeting cancelled, and we use the time on Friday to continue our discussions of these items.

Hi Norma—Yes, it's okay with me if you want to cancel the Friday meeting. It's a good idea.

And you were right about the OCRE meetings. We were talking about content interviews, not job interviews. If you want to meet to iron this stuff out on Thursday and/or Friday, that works fine with me. We can get this done.

More later ...

Hi Gail,

The short version is that Norma is pushing back on everything substantive, does not want these to go into AIs or MOUs ("I will gladly pay you tomorrow if you give me a hamburger today"), and says that her caucus wants our caucus to make concessions for these things. Apparently they still do not understand that the concession is that Norma becomes chair. Because of that, she wants to cancel the Friday business meeting and use that as a time for the working group to discuss these things.

Pete is not happy about this and he thinks this takes the pressure off them, but he doesn't want to do anything that pushes them into removing Christian or Stephen. He says he is willing to postpone the meeting for one week so the Sunshine Act notice can be published and so you can hold a meeting next Friday. Pete, one thought that occurred to me after we got off the phone - I don't know that they will agree to that. They may say that the scheduled April 16th meeting is soon enough.

Item #7 On the request that a majority of Commissioners is needed to cancel a meeting, this would impeded our ability to cancel meetings if conditions such as the Texas Ice Storm of 2021 were to cut WIFI. We need more discussion and we are out of time.
Item #8. We should wait on the item regarding the absence of the Chair because I understand the Office of Presidential Personnel is working nominating a Vice Chair, subject to the Commission's vote.
Item #9 This was added last week by Heriot and Kirsanow. I thought you were talking about content interviews, but realized you might be talking about job interviews. In either event, the Commission should not attend interviews so as to preserve the objectivity of the process and not bring in partisanship.
Item #10 I just saw it today and we don't have time for new items for Friday's meeting.

To summarize, I know Gail can't free herself up today. If we-Gail, Peter, Norma and Michael- worked on it tonight or tomorrow, we might get Items without Ais done for votes on Friday. By this, I mean Items 1, 2, 3, and 5.

Finally, there are members of my Caucus who believe that there should be concessions from your Caucus on part of the items on your agenda and these concessions should be part of the negotiations. Given that there are no other substantive items on the agenda for the March 19th Friday meeting, now that the FEMA plan has passed (thank you!), I suggest we inform Mauro that-for this meeting only-- pending resolution of Item #7—a majority wants the Friday business meeting cancelled, and we use the time on Friday to continue our discussions of these items as a working group of four.

I don't understand why she's pushing back on the MOUs… And her assertion regarding interviews is ludicrous ("the Commission should not attend interviews so as to preserve the objectivity of the process and not bring in partisanship").

This no longer feels like good-faith negotiations.

I'm also alarmed at the prospect of another Vice Chair nomination.

The short version is that Norma is pushing back on everything substantive, does not want these to go into AIs or MOUs ("I will gladly pay you tomorrow if you give me a hamburger today"), and says that her caucus wants our caucus to make concessions for these things. Apparently they still do not understand that the concession is that Norma becomes chair. Because of that, she wants to cancel the Friday business meeting and use that as a time for the working group to discuss these things.

Pete is not happy about this and he thinks this takes the pressure off them, but he doesn't want to do anything that pushes them into removing Christian or Stephen. He says he is willing to postpone the meeting for one week so the Sunshine Act notice can be published and so you can hold a meeting next Friday. Pete, one thought that occurred to me after we got off the phone - I don't know that they will agree to that. They may say that the scheduled April 16th meeting is soon enough.

Dear Commissioners Heriot and Kirsanow,
It appears that your colleagues are adding new items to the list of requests. I am disappointed because we have already come close to running out of time for the 8, now 9, now 10 items on your Caucus's list of requests.

  - Indiana 12/1/20 – Mauro circulated slate on Friday
  - Amy circulated vet memo. Slate includes 7 Ds, 7 Rs, and 1 Ind.
  - Carissa objected to the balance, the same type of objection as with a NC. Spoke to Carissa and she will check with their caucus if we add a R or if we add an R and a D however she did say that they probably will not vote for slates that are not balanced.
  - Vermont (expired in June).

- Comm. Heriot had objected to Prof. Chen, on the basis of a recent article that Prof. Chen published called Colorblind Nationalism.
- Irena is checking in with Alex on whether Comm. Heriot's objection is ongoing. Alex said he would update last week. No update.
- North Carolina: Irena
- Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
- 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as "something else"). Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in 2012.
- Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
- They further objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as they don't consider her a "true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.
- Rukku spoke to Thomas; Thomas proposed that we consider a slate of 9 Republicans (including Lechner) and 8 Democrats, and they would work on recruiting Republicans who would assist with balance of slate with respect to gender and other diversity factors. Catherine's current position is that she will not vote for unbalanced slate with 9 Republicans and 8 Democrats.
- Rukku proposed to Thomas the following: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Might consider Mincey if he submits revised application with more justification for his civil rights experience.
- Idaho (expired in July).
- Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.
- From Carissa: They are not willing to move forward with it without Scott Yenor, and it is unbalanced.
- Carissa relayed that they continue to not want to move forward without Yenor.
- Staff confirmed that Yenor is still interested in joining.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- The Republican's via Alex would like to make a deal Yenor for Dr. Chen. Please let your boss know and let's discuss during out caucus call tomorrow.
    - Indiana 12/1/20 – Mauro circulated slate on Friday
    - Amy circulated vet memo. Slate includes 7 Ds, 7 Rs, and 1 Ind.
    - Carissa objected to the balance, the same type of objection as with a NC. Spoke to Carissa and she will check with their caucus if we add a R or if we add an R and a D however she did say that they probably will not vote for slates that are not balanced.
    - Vermont (expired in June).
    - Mauro circulated slate, which included 5 Rs, 5 Ds, and 2 Ind. (including Reed and Martin). Catherine and Debo objected to Lefavour for lack of experience; need to recruit another R.
    - Irena will reach out to Leahy's office and ping Ang to see if she has any candidates.
    - Colorado: Irena
    - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
    - 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat). No particular flags on any candidates.
    - Comm. Heriot had objected to Prof. Chen, on the basis of a recent article that Prof. Chen published called Colorblind Nationalism.
    - Irena is checking in with Alex on whether Comm. Heriot's objection is ongoing. Alex said he would update last week. No update.
    - North Carolina: Irena
    - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
    - 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as "something else"). Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in 2012.
    - Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
    - They further objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as they don't consider her a "true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.
    - Rukku spoke to Thomas; Thomas proposed that we consider a slate of 9 Republicans (including Lechner) and 8 Democrats, and they would work on recruiting Republicans who would assist with balance of slate with respect to gender and other diversity factors. Catherine's current position is that she will not vote for unbalanced slate with 9 Republicans and 8 Democrats.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Rukku proposed to Thomas the following: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Might consider Mincey if he submits revised application with more justification for his civil rights experience.
- Idaho (expired in July).
- Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.
- From Carissa: They are not willing to move forward with it without Scott Yenor, and it is unbalanced.
- Carissa relayed that they continue to not want to move forward without Yenor.
- Staff confirmed that Yenor is still interested in joining.
- District of Columbia 10/20/20 – Alex, Irena
- (as of 12/17) 11 applicants: 9 men, 2 women; 6 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 something else
- Need more Rs and better diversity
- Iowa 11/17/20 – Carissa, Amy/Rukku
- (as of 11/17) 11 applicants: 7 men, 4 women; 5 Ds, 4 Rs, 2 Ind.
- Need at least one more R.
- Amy to check in with Carissa to see if she has any more leads. Carissa has exhausted her recruitment efforts, but John may have more leads.
- Ohio 11/17/20 – Carissa, Rukku
- (as of 12/17) 16 applicants: 11 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 Ind.
- Need more Rs. Carissa to work on recruitment.

Re: U.S. Election Assistance Commission
Board of Advisors Membership Appointment

Dear Mr. Morales,

As you are aware, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA) created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three advisory boards to assist the EAC: Board of Advisors, Standards Board, and Technical Guidelines Development Committee. The advisory boards are primarily charged with providing advice, guidance, and support to the EAC on the ongoing development of the Voluntary Voting System Guidelines (VVSG).

Under Section 214 of HAVA, your organization is authorized to appoint two members to the Board of Advisors. The Board of Advisors Charter and Bylaws govern the advisory board.

Please be advised that your designated representatives' two-year terms to the Board of Advisors expire on April 13, 2021. You can either reappoint your current representative(s) or appoint new representative(s) for a new two-year term. In compliance with HAVA, please make appointments "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." 52 U.S.C § 20944(b).

Your current representatives are:

Michael Yaki

David Kladney

The new term of your member representatives will begin on April 13, 2021 coinciding with the renewal of the Board of Advisor's Charter.

Please use the enclosed Notice of Representation form to advise us of your designated representatives to serve on the EAC Board of Advisors for the upcoming two-year term. Please return this completed form by email to krayburn@eac.gov no later than March 26, 2021.

While the EAC recently adopted VVSG 2.0, we are committed to an agile process that includes continually working with our advisory boards to identify enhancements to the VVSG. The usability, accessibility, and security of voting systems continue to be of critical importance, and recommendations from the advisory boards are as imperative as ever. Therefore, your prompt response to this letter is greatly appreciated.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. If we can be of assistance, please feel free to contact us at 202-740-6546 or krayburn@eac.gov.

Sincerely,

Mona Harrington

Subject : RE: EAC Board of Advisors Membership Appointments
Attachment : image001.gif;image002.gif;

Kevin,

Thank you for getting back to us. Chair Catherine Lhamon resigned from the Commission on January 19th. Commissioner Norma Cantu has been sworn in to replace her and has been designated as the new Chair. Unfortunately, the Commissioners have been delayed in having a vote to confirm Commissioner Cantu as the new Chair. It is my understanding that Commissioner Cantu and the other commissioners wish to reach a mutual agreement on who they will select to fill the memberships. Commissioners Kladney and Yaki may be reappointed. On the other hand, Commissioner may agree to add a new member and keep one of the current members. It looks like the Commissioners will not be able to make a decision until the next US Commission on Civil Rights business meeting on April 16th.

Can you advise us as to the options we have available? If we are unable to make our appointments until April 16th, will the current appointments lapse or will Klandey and Yaki automatically be renewed for another term? If Kladney and Yaki are automatically renewed can they be changed once Commissioners reach a decision on who should be appointed. Please let us know if you wish to speak to us for clarity.

Thank you.

Hello, all,
Not hearing a response, I am checking in on a good time to complete our task on the proposed AI's, etc.

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI's and the newest version of Robert's Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

Hello, all,
Not hearing a response, I am checking in on a good time to complete our task on the proposed AI's, etc.

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI's and the newest version of Robert's Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

Dear Gail,

In my earlier email, I wrote that our General Counsel would need to review our language on proposed AI's and other vehicles to be sure we were consistent with applicable federal laws.
I copied David Ganz on that email so he could anticipate that we were working on language. Ganz replied that he received the email and would be available as needed.
It seems that you inferred that he was invited to join the call. That was not my intent.
We won't have language ready to share with General Counsel until after our meeting on Tuesday.

Hello, all,

Not hearing a response, I am checking in on a good time to complete our task on the proposed AI's, etc.

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

Dear Gail,

In my earlier email, I wrote that our General Counsel would need to review our language on proposed AI's and other vehicles to be sure we were consistent with applicable federal laws.
I copied David Ganz on that email so he could anticipate that we were working on language. Ganz replied that he received the email and would be available as needed.
It seems that you inferred that he was invited to join the call. That was not my intent.
We won't have language ready to share with General Counsel until after our meeting on Tuesday.

- The Republican caucus will remove the objection to Lechner *please see context below (no additional application needed)
- Vote in the SAC w/8-8 balance

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

For situational awareness please see the context for the NC SAC:

- Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
- 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as "something else").
- Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in all her past elections.
- Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
- John/Adams objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as he don't consider her a true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey is a white collar crime attorney and lacks major civil rights experience, however in our vetting process we did not find anything objectionable regarding his public statements or conduct.

FEMA/Puerto Rico

- The notational vote passed

    - Indiana 12/1/20 – Mauro circulated slate
        - Amy circulated vet memo. Slate includes 7 Ds, 7 Rs, and 1 Ind.
        - Carissa objected to the balance, the same type of objection as with a NC. Irena Spoke to Carissa and she will check with their caucus if we add a R or if we add an R and a D however she did say that they probably will not vote for slates that are not balanced.
    - Vermont (expired in June)
        - Mauro circulated slate, which included 5 Rs, 5 Ds, and 2 Ind. (including Reed and Martin). Catherine and Debo objected to Lefavour for lack of experience; need to recruit another R.
        - Irena will reach out to Leahy's office and ping Ang to see if she has any candidates.
    - Colorado: Irena
        - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.

        - Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
        - They further objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as they don't consider her a "true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.
        - Rukku spoke to Thomas; Thomas proposed that we consider a slate of 9 Republicans (including Lechner) and 8 Democrats, and they would work on recruiting Republicans who would assist with balance of slate with respect to gender and other diversity factors. This would leave a slate with 9 R’s and 8 D’s
        - Rukku proposed to Thomas the following: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Might consider Mincey if he submits revised application with more justification for his civil rights experience.
    - Idaho (expired in July).
        - Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.

Commissioner Yaki's objection

Dear Dr. Yenor:

Thank you for your service on the Idaho Advisory Committee and for your recent application for reappointment. Your name was included on the list of nominated individuals that is currently being reviewed by the Commissioners prior to appointment. As part of that review, Commissioner Yaki has made a formal objection to your nomination on the Committee because of an alleged comment you made.

Pursuant to our Administrative Instructions, when Commissioner objections pertain to a proposed member's public statement, then that nominee is provided the opportunity to respond in writing to the raised concern. The Staff Director will then consider the written response when making the final determination on whether to include the nominee on the list of individuals to be recommended for appointment.

The Commissioner has objected to your reappointment to the Idaho Advisory Committee because the Commissioner believes you are hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights. Furthermore, The Commissioner believes your public statements render you incapable of, and unable to, protect the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions. Citations to your most objectionable public statements on the issues at hand include:

Mr. Yenor's Reponse

Dear Mr. Mussatt,
Thank you for forwarding the objections of Commissioner Michael Yaki and giving me two days to respond. I would like to know more about the process for how my response will be evaluated. Is the whole USCCR to respond? How will responses be tabulated? In any event, again thank you for forwarding these objections.

The objections to my re-nomination to the Idaho Advisory committee on civil rights are (1) that I am "hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights" as evidenced in my public writings and (2) that my "public statements render [me] incapable of, and unable to, protect (sic) the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Claims of discrimination under the current civil rights regime must be established through rational inquiry aided, where appropriate, by social science. Proposed policies to combat alleged discrimination must then be weighed through a rational public policy process. Policies must be evaluated critically if they are implemented.

Civil rights are hardly an all or nothing proposition. Some civil rights clash with other civil rights. Civil rights almost always require a balancing of various claims or a negotiation of the rights of various groups. In objecting to my participation on the commission, Commissioner Yaki seems to deny that civil rights matters involve such balancing or to deny that some important civil rights should be protected or to deny that some civil rights claims should be heard or entertained; he seems to want civil rights for only some groups and not for others. He gives civil rights a bad name in so doing.

Suppose a civil rights commission finds itself adjudicating a claim of transgender rights as civil rights. In making a fair-minded adjudication, the commission would have to consider the relation between such transgender rights and other civil rights in our tradition such as the free exercise of religion, parental rights, rights against sex discrimination. It would have to determine how transgender rights weigh against those rights. In doing so, it would be necessary to inquire into the rational basis for claims of transgender rights and the likely consequences of affirming them, just as it would be necessary to see what would happen from denying them.

My work raises questions about the evidence that proves discrimination and it concerns the clash of civil rights in politics. Claims of transgender rights can, in some circumstances, I have argued, clash with parental rights (as when a school insists on transitioning a child from one gender to another without informing the parents or against their will). Such instances are, as my research argues, more likely to harm the child and, if multiplied, are likely to have a corrosive effect on parental rights, a crucial civil right (as established in Meyer v. Nebraska and Pierce v. Society of Sisters). Seeing children as products of state mandates in these instances is more likely to undermine well-functioning institutions than it is to promote a good society or thriving individuals. Claims to marital equality have already compromised religious liberty, the freedom of association, and the free thought and discussion on many platforms.

Does Commissioner Yaki disagree that transgender rights clash with parental rights? Does he think that the Civil Rights Commissions nationwide should ignore questions about what it would mean to take the side of "transgender rights" against parental rights? Does he think religious liberty of so little importance that Civil Rights Commissions should ignore how it is compromised by so-called marriage equality? Does he think Civil Rights Commissions should refrain from investigating the future mental and physical health of children who have been transitioned, against the will of their parents, from one gender to another? Does he think we should cease investigating the mental or physical health of all those who have transitioned, even with parental support? Perhaps I should object to his continued participation as a Civil Rights Commissioner if he thinks all such questions are settled questions or based on sound science!

The inclusion of gender identity within the anti-discrimination regime of the 1964 Civil Rights Act is a cause for no little concern. Under such gender identity claims, a person's subjective, gendered self-image as woman, man or whatever supersedes the objective biological fact of sexual identity as female or male. This new gender identity further may come with a demand that governments and others citizens recognize that new gender as an objective fact—a huge abridgement on the civil rights and the freedom of mind of others. These ideas, taken together, are incoherent and compromise our commitment to limited government. They are incoherent because they nullify the categories of male and female to which the anti-discrimination principle applies. How can a school district remedy supposed unjust discrimination in girls' sports when anyone can qualify, simply on their own assertion, as woman? Does Fairness in Sports demand keeping biological men out of women's sports and aspiring to equal treatment of such sports or does it demand letting transgendered men in and, perhaps, decrease the opportunities for the formerly protected class of women? Idaho has taken the lead in protecting women's sports in these circumstances, and I look forward to participating in studies investigating how this affects opportunities. The demands that Commissioner Yaki makes contain the seeds of a new political order, much less committed to civil rights than our current order.

I am very skeptical of the idea that gender operates independently of sex. I would demand verification, from well-designed studies, that confirmed the proposition that conceiving of gender independently of sex leads to individual and social thriving. It think it is irresponsible to accept, without critical inquiry, the idea that affirming gender identity fosters all manner of social and individual good. It is not at all clear to me that it is better to recognize a person's concept of gender, apart from their biological sex, as authentic and salutary rather than as erroneous or pathological. I would be concerned that acknowledging such an idea compromises other, well-established and important civil rights.

Conservatives participate in Civil Rights Commissions across the country. We generally worry about how anti-discrimination laws, as applied and as construed, abridge fundamental freedoms and can upset prospects of social harmony. We often investigate the implications of such abridgements in our scholarship. On the Yaki standard, would Justice Sam Alito or Justice Clarence Thomas or Chief Justice John Roberts be ineligible to serve on a civil rights commission? They dissented, after all, from the same-sex marriage decisions in Windsor and Obergefell. Two of them dissented in the recent case re-interpreting the 1964 Civil Rights Act. More broadly, would any conservative be allowed to participate unless he or she abandoned his or her conservatism? Perhaps all of these opinions disqualify someone from sitting on an Advisory Board. If they do, it may be hard to justify continued government support for a strictly partisan organ.

Sincerely,
Scott Yenor

- Comm. Heriot objected to Prof. Ming Hsu Chen on the basis of an article she wrote called, "Colorblind Nationalism."
- Prof. Chen responded, and Mauro kept her on the slate on the basis of the response.
- Full objection from Comm. Heriot:

In her article, Prof. Chen says that racist and anti-immigrant "policies are cloaked in the neutral language of national protection, public health, and economic justice." Therefore, anyone who supports those facially colorblind policies is racist. More broadly, Prof. Chen suggests that anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist.

It is inappropriate for a SAC member to make wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people. This article reveals Prof. Chen's bad faith. Additionally, her embrace of Ibram X. Kendi's "anti-racist" ideology is troubling, as that ideology in and of itself promotes discrimination.

Prof. Chen's article in the Yale Journal on Regulation, "Colorblind Nationalism," (available here) is particularly objectionable for a member of a State Advisory Committee.

- Full response from Prof. Chen:

Dear Mr. Mussatt and Mr. Morales,

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to Commissioner Heriot's objection. This objection seems to be based on a single sentence from an opinion piece, which I discuss below, but please note her objection paraphrases my essay in ways that mischaracterize the essay and my beliefs.

For example:

- I do not say or believe that "anyone who supports facially colorblind policies is racist"
- I do not say that or believe that "anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist"
- There is also no basis for her claim that I write or act in "bad faith" in her formal objection.

As some background, I have served on the Colorado State Advisory Committee for 4-years (2016-2020). During that time, I worked collaboratively with all SAC members after my project proposal on the naturalization backlog was unanimously adopted in 2018. This work included working together on a briefing with expert testimony from 12 speakers representing a range of perspectives, addressing all SAC member voices in when drafting our report, and incorporating suggestions during the subsequent revisions and adoption of the report. The resulting 2019 report has since been cited widely in media and other academic and policy research. A 2020 update and 2-page statement of concern was adopted unanimously by the CO SAC, and USCCR Chair Catherine Lhamon endorsed and sent her own letter to the impacted agency.

During my tenure, I also supported projects spearheaded by other SAC members, including ones sponsored by our more conservative members on religious freedom and racial disparities in infant/maternal mortality. In each of these projects, I was an active team member and made good faith efforts to listen to evidence from our hearings, to consider the divergent viewpoints, and to incorporate and suggest revisions on my reports and others that would build a broader consensus.

Outside of my service to SAC, my professional qualifications include a ten-year history of academic teaching and writing in immigration, civil rights, and administrative law at the University of Colorado Law School. This has included presentations with scholars from many viewpoints. Not infrequently I've been invited by members of conservative groups like the Federalist Society or the National Association of Attorney Generals to be a reasonable voice in their discussions. In these and other endeavors, I have never been accused of bias in my professional work.

In my personal capacity, I occasionally write short opinion pieces such as the essay that is cited in the objection and published in a special symposium on racism and the law for the online edition of the nation's premiere specialty journal on administrative law. I would describe my own views in the essay as advocating for greater racial equality for immigrants negatively impacted by travel bans and expressing an abiding concern that our federal government adhere to fair procedures in the issuance of such policies. There is no basis for saying that these views amount to "wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people" or that they "embrace Ibram X. Kendi's antiracist ideology… as that ideology itself promotes discrimination." I am not familiar with Ibram X Kendi's writings on antiracism and do not read, engage with, nor cite his work in this essay or my other scholarship. Moreover, the piece does not claim to represent the views of CO SAC or the USCCR. While I do not think the views expressed in the essay are objectionable, even if they were, I would not bring personal biases into my professional service. In closing, I recognize that reasonable people disagree on the best means of achieving equality.

My sense is that Commissioner Heriot misunderstands my perspectives and seeks to associate me with views that are more extreme than my own. Rather than rely on her second-hand description of an opinion piece written in my personal capacity, I would encourage the USCCR to apply a fair minded consideration of my application that focuses on my actual statements and my record of service to the CO SAC and USCCR.

Hello, all,
Not hearing a response, I am checking in on a good time to complete our task on the proposed AI's, etc.

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI's and the newest version of Robert's Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

Hello, all,
Not hearing a response, I am checking in on a good time to complete our task on the proposed AI's, etc.

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI's and the newest version of Robert's Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

Did I read that they are also willing to drop the Vice-Chair issue?

I think the concessions helps the overall Commission. I agree with Alex & Comm. Heriot that we didn't expect to get all that we asked for, but it seem as though we got a good chunk.

If neither of the Dems agree to canceling the meeting then I believe we need to meet, however, are we really settled on where we are?

Are there specific motions that need to be made to change the agenda at the beginning of the meeting? If so, what are those? Are our side going to propose those changes, or their side?

To be clear- we are meeting tomorrow?

I have kept circling back to the Progressive Caucus on all the items, from the proposals first raised in February, to the one we drafted last night.

Last night, at 8:30, I thought we had an agreement on all the concepts. This is because we withdrew the language of no objection from the Conservative Caucus about language to the Vice Chair. You withdrew the language on needing to complete the SACs language before the Chair vote. We also made a concession to a last-minute request about Commissioners observing and participating in OCRE content interviews.

Earlier this week, in response to your request for A-Is, Michael gave you and Peter the language for A-Is on the 30/30/10 and for Commission appointments. Michael told you and Peter these were the only A -I s. I can share with you the Progressive Caucus would not consider any other A-s as necessary to proceed to the Chair vote. Putting form over substance is causing unnecessary delay. As an alternative, we had told you and Peter that oral statements on the record would suffice to memorialize the other agreements.

We are ready to discuss and vote on the items you proposed at the business meeting today. But, if not handled and decided today by Progressives and Conservatives together, all our concessions are withdrawn.

DRAFT: Email from Commissioner Norma V. Cantú Rescinding the Speakers Series Activity Conducted at Commissioners' Meetings:

April 16, 2021

I write to rescind any directives concerning a "Speakers Series" activity conducted during meetings of the Commission. In light of several Commissioners' concerns that the activity should have included Commissioner input on speakers from both parties, I express my serious commitment to not reinstitute this

Yes, Gail, Peter,

I have kept circling back to the Progressive Caucus on all the items, from the proposals first raised in February, to the one we drafted last night.

Last night, at 8:30, I thought we had an agreement on all the concepts. This is because we withdrew the language of no objection from the Conservative Caucus about language to the Vice Chair. You withdrew the language on needing to complete the SACs language before the Chair vote. We also made a concession to a last-minute request about Commissioners observing and participating in OCRE content interviews.

Earlier this week, in response to your request for A-Is, Michael gave you and Peter the language for A-Is on the 30/30/10 and for Commission appointments. Michael told you and Peter these were the only A -I s. I can share with you the Progressive Caucus would not consider any other A-s as necessary to proceed to the Chair vote. Putting form over substance is causing unnecessary delay. As an alternative, we had told you and Peter that oral statements on the record would suffice to memorialize the other

I write to rescind any directives concerning a "Speakers Series" activity conducted during meetings of the Commission. I understand the Speakers Series was announced by email from a chairperson, not memorialized in any A-I or other rule. In light of several Commissioners′ concerns that the activity should have included Commissioner input on speakers from both parties, I express my serious commitment to not reinstitute this activity. If it happens that a majority of the Commissioners were to consent in the future to support this endeavor by a majority vote of the members of the Commission, I wouldpersonally ascertain whether the proposed speaker would be bipartisan in the number of speakers or timing and scheduling of speakers; and if it is not, while I am on the Commission, I will vote against this proposal.

I write to rescind any directives concerning a "Speakers Series" activity conducted during meetings of the Commission. I understand the Speakers Series was announced by email from a chairperson, not memorialized in any A-I or other rule. In light of several Commissioners' concerns that the activity should have included Commissioner input on speakers from both parties, I express my serious commitment to not reinstitute this activity. If it happens that a majority of the Commissioners were to consent in the future to support this endeavor by a majority vote of the members of the Commission, I wouldpersonally ascertain whether the proposed speaker would be bipartisan in the number of speakers or timing and scheduling of speakers; and if it is not, while I am on the Commission, I will vote against this proposal.

There are five altogether.

AI on EAC Board of Advisors and other appointments
AI on witness selection
AI on attending OCRE witness interviews

Statement on speaker series
Statement on 30-30-10 statements, rebuttals, etc.

Norma—I just spoke with Pete about this. Our plan is for Pete to make an omnibus motion to confirm you and to adopt the three AIs. He will read the AIs into the record as part of the motion. Carissa is preparing a script for him now, so he'll have the wording ready before the meeting. Somebody will second the motion. (If we don't get an immediate second from a progressive, I will second, but the optics are better if a progressive seconds.) During the discussion, we will ask you your policy on 30-30-10 and on the speaker series. You should then read into the record your two policy statements. Have those statements ready for when we ask. When the discussion is over, we vote. Then you're Chair.

You withdrew the language on needing to complete the SACs language before the Chair vote. We also made a concession to a last-minute request about Commissioners observing and participating in OCRE content interviews.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Earlier this week, in response to your request for A-Is, Michael gave you and Peter the language for A-Is on the 30/30/10 and for Commission appointments. Michael told you and Peter these were the only A -I s. I can share with you the Progressive Caucus would not consider any other A-s as necessary to proceed to the Chair vote. Putting form over substance is causing unnecessary delay. As an alternative, we had told you and Peter that oral statements on the record would suffice to memorialize the other agreements.

We are ready to discuss and vote on the items you proposed at the business meeting today. But, if not handled and decided today by Progressives and Conservatives together, all our concessions are withdrawn.

Norma—What about the rest of the things on the list? Is the Progressive Caucus ready to vote on all of them? Or should the meeting be put off?

The conservatives are not inclined to negotiate further at the meeting. We are happy to get this done by notational vote if that allows the progressives the time they need to absorb all this.

Morning Juana,

Amy should be able to send you the re-occuring calendar invitation. Below are the zoom details for the meeting today. They are usually at 11:00am every Monday but last week we had it pushed back.

Below is the agenda we have been using and updating as we meet if you would like to update with any additional information and share with the group before out 11:00am meeting.

- Rescheduling the April Business Meeting
- Review and redline the proposed AI's
- Cancelled meeting with the Staff Director
- Alec reached out to the R caucus regarding the ID and CO SAC's. Looking to hear back (Alec update?). If we reach a deal we might be open to voting for the ID and CO slates if Yeanor apologized.
- NC SAC Update. R's reached out to see if we could find a compromise regarding the NC SAC. Please see description below. Debo, Dave and Michael are good with this deal. Juana we need Norma's go ahead to make the deal with the R's.
- Input on the AAPI Statement and it's reintroduction. Should we update the statement with current AAPI violence. We have a 48 hour deadline for distribution, meaning that by 12noon on Wednesday we would need to share the statement with all Commissioners.
    - Add a caucus call the week of the new April business meeting
    - Sunshine notice has FEMA discovery materials, will need to amend
- Sunshine notice also has additional agenda items that may or may not need to be amended –
    - Eliminating the Speaker Series,
    - Rebuttal/surrebuttal time periods
    - Bi-partisan appointment to EAC board of advisors

NC SAC

- The Democratic caucus accepts adding Mincey *please see context below (no additional application needed)
- When recirculating will make clear that Commissioners should not submit objections to other members of the slate who have already been circulated
- The Republican caucus will remove the objection to Lechner *please see context below (no additional application needed)
- Vote in the SAC w/8-8 balance

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

For situational awareness please see the context for the NC SAC:

- Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
- 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as “something else”).
- Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in all her past elections.
- Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
- John/Adams objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as he don't consider her a true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey is a white collar crime attorney and lacks major civil rights experience, however in our vetting process we did not find anything objectionable regarding his public statements or conduct.

FEMA/Puerto Rico

- The notational vote passed
    - FEMA panelist recommendations + briefing book recommendations. The panelist recommendations were due by this Friday, April 2nd. There were numerous recommendations from Irena, Alex, John Mashburn. Carissa and Thomas had one recommendation.
    - OCRE send the invitations last week. No confirmations to date. Irena spoke to Jason and has some updates.
      Briefing book recommendations are due on Friday, May 7th.
- Virtual briefing moved to June 25
- 2 site visits scheduled - Houston 11/19/21, Puerto Rico 12/10/21
- Third briefing planning meeting will take place on Tuesday, April 20th at 11am ET.

Bail Reform

- Kladney/Amy negotiations with R's ongoing
- Oregon SAC had their last briefing on Friday 12/11, Catherine attended. Rukku shared briefing notes with OCRE in the comments on the first draft.

Maternal Health

- OCRE, Debo and Irena met last week to discuss the final draft. Productive meeting, Irena to update the caucus.
    - Focus on Chapter 3 – Federal response, as area for potential bi-partisan consensus

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

    - New HHS leadership – OCRE sent HHS and CDC targeted questions for affected agency review
    - Need current data for programs that received funding
- OCRE sent updated ROG's to HHS and also sent the draft report for agency review two weeks ago. No response from HHS, Irena advised Nick and OCRE to reach out to panelist including Congresswoman Ayanna Pressley and ask them to put pressure on HHS to respond especially since it was Black Maternal Health week last week and HHS and CDC was participating in all these various events with the partner organizations. Irena will follow up with OCRE this week.
- Final draft coming to Commissioners in May
- 3 weeks to return edits before vote in June
- Irena discussing with Republicans whether they will support

SAC Recruitment

- So far 14 SAC's have expired and not been reappointed
    - 3 SACs voted down already, potential compromises being discussed – NC, ID, CO
- Alex reached out to Irena to discuss CO and Idaho.
- The Republican's via Alex would like to make a deal Yenor for Dr. Chen. Alec to provide update
- In general: Irena recommended we reach out to new Members' offices. Rukku circulated Congressional letter + updated 2 pager to share with offices.
- Alex and Irena met with David and Mauro two weeks ago. David will be updating the SAC folder and then we can assign recruitment duties. Alex and Irena to reach out to David this week since it has been 3 weeks for the request and no updates!
    - Irena sent Alex the NC and Indiana compromise. Alex only responded to NC.
    - Indiana 12/1/20 – Mauro circulated slate
        - Amy circulated vet memo. Slate includes 7 Ds, 7 Rs, and 1 Ind.
        - Carissa objected to the balance, the same type of objection as with a NC. Irena Spoke to Carissa and she will check with their caucus if we add a R or if we add an R and a D however she did say that they probably will not vote for slates that are not balanced.
    - Vermont (expired in June)
        - Mauro circulated slate, which included 5 Rs, 5 Ds, and 2 Ind. (including Reed and Martin). Catherine and Debo objected to Lefavour for lack of experience; need to recruit another R.
        - Irena will reach out to Leahy's office and ping Ang to see if she has any candidates.
    - Colorado: Irena
        - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

        - 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat). No particular flags on any candidates.
        - Comm. Heriot had objected to Prof. Chen, on the basis of a recent article that Prof. Chen published called Colorblind Nationalism.
        - Irena is checking in with Alex on whether a compromise is possible
    - North Carolina: Irena
        - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
        - 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as “something else”). Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in 2012.
        - Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
        - They further objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as they don't consider her a "true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.
        - Rukku spoke to Thomas; Thomas proposed that we consider a slate of 9 Republicans (including Lechner) and 8 Democrats, and they would work on recruiting Republicans who would assist with balance of slate with respect to gender and other diversity factors. This would leave a slate with 9 R’s and 8 D’s
        - Rukku proposed to Thomas the following: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Might consider Mincey if he submits revised application with more justification for his civil rights experience.
    - Idaho (expired in July).
        - Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.
        - Carissa relayed that they continue to not want to move forward without Yenor.
    - District of Columbia 10/20/20 – Alex, Irena
        - (as of 12/17) 11 applicants: 9 men, 2 women; 6 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 something else
        - Need more Rs and better diversity

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Iowa 11/17/20 – Carissa, Amy/Rukku
  - (as of 11/17) 11 applicants: 7 men, 4 women; 5 Ds, 4 Rs, 2 Ind.
  - Need at least one more R.
  - Carissa has exhausted her recruitment efforts, but John may have more leads.
- Ohio 11/17/20 – Carissa, Rukku

David,

Attached are my redline comments and edits of the A.I.s.
A.I. on appointments to other Federal entities:

- I believe the appointment is to the Board of Advisors of the EAC, not the EAC itself.

A.I. on Commission Hearings

- Only a couple of small language changes.

Proposed A.I. re Commissioners observing external fact witnesses or experts:

- This proposed A.I. seems inconsistent with the internal communication procedures between staff and Commissioners.
- This proposed A.I. does not make clear who falls in the category of external fact witness or expert and does not offer the interview to be recorded and transcribed as required in our regs.

Please redline the A.I.s and provide comments and send them back to me by COB Tuesday, April 20. OGC will consolidate the comments and edits from your respective divisions. OGC will provide comments and edits as well. I know it is quick turnaround, so I appreciate you prioritizing it. If you need an extension to Wednesday, please let me know. Please review and determine if your department needs to provide input on one or more of these three AI's. What you should determine is what would be the legal, administrative and research impact to your department's ability to carry out its responsibility and ensure the mission of USCCR can be carried out. I am going to task David Ganz to coordinate a response for the agency to Commissioners on these three AI's. I will coordinate a check in on Monday to see how we should provide draft a response.

Commissioner Kirsanow,

Pursuant to the vote of Commissioners during the business meeting, please forward the AI's you presented today for evaluation by appropriate agency staff for legal sufficiency, administrative compliance and research objectivity. Please do so within 48 hours of the receipt of this email as required by the AI and indicated by Commissioner's vote on the final motion. I have to notice the next Commission meeting by this Thursday the 22nd in time to hold a business meeting on Friday, April 30th at 12 noon. It is our plan to provide Commissioners with an evaluation of the proposed AI's by Friday, April 23rd. We believe that one week is sufficient time for Commissioners to decide to amend, revise or withdraw the proposed three AI's. Please keep in mind that any changes made to your proposed AI's must be sent to Commissioners 48 hours in advance of the noon business meeting on Friday the 30th.

Please contact me if you have any questions or concerns about meeting Commissioner determined deadlines.

ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION __- __

Section 1.
.01 Any authority specifically granted the Commission of Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc. shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote.

.02

(1) For the two (2) appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership.

Commented [SC1]: I believe the position is to the Election Advisory Board of the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, not the EAC itself.

(2) The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities

(3) The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1.

AI on Commission Hearings

SECTION 11. COMMISSION HEARINGS

.01 The OGC is responsible for preparing and holding Commission hearings. This includes ensuring that the witnesses, when viewed as a whole, possess sufficient policy, legal, academic, advocacy, and other knowledge and experience necessary for a full and balanced inquiry into the issues.

.02 To document that hearing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Hearing Reports form. By completing this part of the form OSD certifies that the hearing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the hearing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist are provided to the external reviewer.

.03 Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate hearing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for hearing witnesses. ~~These~~ Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, ~~Commissioners,~~ other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners request that staff invite a particular witness, staff may~~must~~ invite that witness if doing so furthers the consideration of varied and opposing viewpoints, opinions, and perspectives . No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings.

Commented [SC1]: See AI 1-6.1(b) which reads: Commission projects, including reports and other written work products, hearings, and briefings, are examinations of civil rights issues that reflect a consideration of varied and opposing viewpoints, opinions, and perspectives.

.04 OGC prepares hearing proposals, design or implementation plans, and briefing or background books. When preparing hearing proposals this office should demonstrate a consideration of varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives. This office also verifies the accuracy of transcripts, drafts hearing reports, and maintains official hearing records.

.05 OGC is responsible for supplying a complete and correct transcript with appropriate exhibits to OSD and ASCD for publication. Hearing transcripts do not require editorial review.

.06 The hearing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the hearing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request.

SECTION 12. COMMISSION BRIEFINGS

.01 Briefings are used by the Commission to provide Commissioners and the general public insight into civil rights issues without the formality of a hearing. Any program office may be assigned responsibility for conducting a briefing by the Staff Director.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

.02 Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate briefing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for briefing witnesses. Additional sources may include, but are not limited to~~,~~ other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings.

Commented [SC2]: See comment above.

.03~~2~~ Commissioners are provided a proposed final list of briefing presenters for approval. To document that the briefing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Briefing Reports form. By completing this part of the form, OSD certifies that the briefing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the briefing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV of this form is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist is provided to the external reviewer.

.04~~3~~ The briefing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the briefing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Proposed A-I

As the staff persons arrange for interviews of external fact witnesses or experts for the purpose of informing writing of reports, etc., the Commissioners will be given notice of the names and titles of proposed witnesses, so that the Commissioners and their special assistants can observe the interview first-hand. The observations will help the Commissioners better understand the subject matters covered, and enable the Commissioner to conduct and follow-up with questions of the witnesses . If more than one Commissioner (or Commissioner's Special Assistant) representing Democratic or Republican appointing authorities wishes to attend, the Staff Director may limit attendance to one representative from each (provided circumstances clearly warrant such a limit).

Commented [SC1]: This A-I, in total, is inconsistent with the internal communication procedures between staff and Commissioners as described in A-I 9-2.2 which reads: .01 Individual Commissioners and their assistants may, at any time, request information about proposed or on-going Commission projects from the Staff Director, the General Counsel, or the Director of the Office for Civil Rights Evaluation. Such information may include, e.g., interrogatory responses, responses to data requests, availability of confirmed witnesses or panelists, and/or consultant work product, but not working drafts of reports.

. 02 If the Staff Director and the relevant senior managers determine that it is appropriate, Commissioners may speak directly with line staff responsible for a particular project, or segment of a project, related to their inquiry. Commissioners and their assistants will not contact individual staff members directly without first addressing their inquiries to the Staff Director and the relevant senior managers identified above.

. 03 Staff, in consultation with their department manager, may, as appropriate, contact individual Commissioners to seek their input and/or expertise regarding proposed or on-going projects.

Commented [SC2]: Also, I am not clear about who falls in the category of "external fact witness or expert." All witness interviews must be recorded and transcribed.
According to 702.14 (a) An accurate transcript shall be made of the testimony of all witnesses at all proceedings of the Commission. Transcripts shall be recorded solely by the official reporter or by any other person or means designated by the Commission.
(b) Every person who submits data or evidence shall be entitled to retain or, on payment of lawfully prescribed costs, procure a copy or transcript thereof, except that witnesses in a hearing held in executive session may be limited, for good cause, to inspec-tion of the official transcript of their testimony.

Attachment : AI Letter.docx;

Hi Commissioner Cantu,

Hope it was a great Monday.

As promised, here is the letter I mentioned last week that the SAs are circulating to their Commissioners re: getting the AIs organized, updated and in a shareable and searchable format on the Shared Drive or its equivalent. Let me know if you have any concerns and/or changes to the attached.

See below for my other notes.

Chat soon.
Juana

Thoughts on proposed AIs-
- The DEM caucus SAs met this morning & we'd suggest the following:

Witness Interviews
* ADA requirements for interviews may not allow for this (Commissioner presence)- F*ederal over AI/Commissioner will*
* Statutory requirements for separation of staff and Commissioners' official duties – GC Should weigh in highlighting federal over AI

Panelist requests
* Explanations from OCRE on why panelists are not being invited (as a compromise to an AI)
* What do our current AI's and rules require for Commissioner recommendations to be invited- Past practice has been that Commissioners have the say so on who to invite; recently the Commissioners have taken Staff input. Will get you the AI language but recommend that SD come back with STATUTORY language backing up impartiality and STAFF role in this
* Resources may not be used effectively if we institute this system (argument as to why there is a limit on the # of speakers ultimately allowed to speak)
* Need to preserve the independence of the agency (same as above)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

As for the EAC AI
 Here, Kladney's SA is going to circulate language that will include the caucus sentiment

1. Nominated for consideration must be ABLE AND WILLING TO SERVE
2. The fear is that this deal will BIND future Chairs to this process; I'd recommend that language be included to the effect: "the ultimate appointment decision is at the discretion of the Chair, provided a good faith effort decision-making process was observed to preserve the integrity and mission of the appointment."

SAC appointment- North Carolina
- The NC SAC- the Rs and Ds have reached a deal and need your sign off to OK the re-authorization.
- Context below but bottom line- Ds to add a R member if Rs agree to remove objection to a D member > NC SAC * The Democratic caucus accepts adding Mincey *please see context below (no additional application needed) * When recirculating will make clear that Commissioners should not submit objections to other members of the slate who have already been circulated * The Republican caucus will remove the objection to Lechner *please see context below (no additional application needed) * Vote in the SAC w/8-8 balance For situational awareness please see the context for the NC SAC: * Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30. * 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as “something else”). * Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in all her past elections. * Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem). * John/Adams objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as he don't consider her a true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey is a white collar crime attorney and lacks major civil rights experience, however in our vetting process we did not find anything objectionable regarding his public statements or conduct.

Mauro Morales
Staff Director
1331 Pennsylvania Ave NW
Washington, DC 20425

Dear Mr. Morales:

We, the undersigned Commissioners, write today to request the promulgation of a searchable digital collection of the Commission's Administrative Instructions (AIs). In order to efficiently serve as Commissioners, we must have easy access to the AIs. Thus, we request that you provide us with the following:

- One updated digital file containing every AI that is in effect, in its proper order, and with the date and manner of each AI's ratification
- Physical copies of that digital file by request

The general counsel has sent some of this information piece-by-piece via email to us over the past few weeks. But those AIs have not been updated or organized, and they have not been collected into a single digital document. As matters stand, accessing the AIs requires that we attempt to assemble a complete list from the documents we have been sent piecemeal. Thus, this effort is inadequate.

This is simply a matter of good governance. Please provide us with a timeline for completion of the above tasks.

Sincerely,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Attached are my redline comments and edits of the A.I.s.
A.I. on appointments to other Federal entities:

- I believe the appointment is to the Board of Advisors of the EAC, not the EAC itself.

A.I. on Commission Hearings

- Only a couple of small language changes.

Proposed A.I. re Commissioners observing external fact witnesses or experts:

- This proposed A.I. seems inconsistent with the internal communication procedures between staff and Commissioners.
- This proposed A.I. does not make clear who falls in the category of external fact witness or expert and does not offer the interview to be recorded and transcribed as required in our regs.

AI on Commission Hearings

SECTION 11. COMMISSION HEARINGS

.01 The OGC is responsible for preparing for and holding Commission hearings. This includes ensuring that the witnesses, when viewed as a whole, possess sufficient policy, legal, academic, advocacy, and other knowledge and experience necessary for a full and balanced inquiry into the issues.

.02 To document that hearing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Hearing Reports form. By completing this part of the form, OSD certifies that the hearing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the hearing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist are provided to the external reviewer.

.03 Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate hearing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for hearing witnesses. ~~These~~ Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, ~~Commissioners,~~ other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings.

.04 OGC prepares hearing proposals, design or implementation plans, and briefing or background books. When preparing hearing proposals this office should demonstrate a consideration of varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives. This office also verifies the accuracy of transcripts, drafts hearing reports, and maintains official hearing records.

.05 OGC is responsible for supplying a complete and correct transcript with appropriate exhibits to OSD and ASCD for publication. Hearing transcripts do not require editorial review.

.06 The hearing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the hearing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request.

SECTION 12. COMMISSION BRIEFINGS

.01 Briefings are used by the Commission to provide Commissioners and the general public insight into civil rights issues without the formality of a hearing. Any program office may be assigned responsibility for conducting a briefing by the Staff Director.

.02 Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate briefing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for briefing witnesses.

Commented [PM1]: Ok, so now I understand… this is intended to be a revision of Section 11 of AI 1-6

Commented [PM2]: When you say "balanced" do you mean bi-partisan?

Commented [PM3]: What is the point of the paragraph .03 below if this form is filled out and certified? The filling and certifying of this form seems to safeguard the required political balance, no? Is this form actually used because I have not seen it used in practice? If not, perhaps we should start using it.

Commented [PM4]: These two sentences are contradictory. On one hand you are saying you want staff to find witnesses from various sources, but on the other hand you want staff to primarily seek witnesses from Commissioners.

Commented [PM5]: This cuts against Section 4 .06 in AI 1-6, Responsibilities. Commissioners have an established set of responsibilities, none of which include picking witnesses, or, as is here, having veto power over career staff.

Furthermore, this practice cuts against the Commission's regulations, 45 C.F.R. § 701.13 (e) that put project development and civil rights evaluation squarely in the responsibilities of OCRE or, in the case of hearings, with OGC.

Finally, if Commissioners can demand that certain witnesses are invited, what happens if OGC determines that those those invited witnesses don't possess sufficient knowledge and experience? This creates a situation where you may have commissioners questioning the legal determinations of career legal staff or, in the case of OCRE, researchers and research methodologies.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Additional sources may include, but are not limited to~~,~~ other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners jointly request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings.

Commented [PM6]: See my same comments above.

.03~~2~~ Commissioners are provided a proposed final list of briefing presenters for approval. To document that the briefing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Briefing Reports form. By completing this part of the form, OSD certifies that the briefing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the briefing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV of this form is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist is provided to the external reviewer.

.043 The briefing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the briefing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request.

Section 1.
.01 Any authority specifically granted the Commission of Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc. shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote.

(1) For the two (2) appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership.

(2) The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities.

(3) The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1.

Commented [PM1]: I would consider adding the phrase "unless specifically authorized by the entity, statute, regulation, or executive order" and/or "unless the appointing authority is specifically afforded to the Chair or Staff Director of the Commission." I would also consider adding a line that specifically excludes the Commission on Black Men and Boys that gives the SD the authority to appoint one commissioner and potentially additional commissioners were other appointing authorities fail to offer appointments.

Commented [PM2]: What happens if the respective caucuses can't agree on a nominee?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Proposed A-I

As the staff persons arrange for interviews of external fact witnesses or experts for the purpose of informing writing of reports, etc., the Commissioners will be given notice of the names and titles of proposed witnesses, so that the Commissioners and their special assistants can observe the interview first-hand. The observations will help the Commissioners better understand the subject matters covered, and enable the Commissioner to conduct and follow-up with questions of the witnesses. If more than one Commissioner (or Commissioner's Special Assistant) representing Democratic or Republican appointing authorities wishes to attend, the Staff Director may limit attendance to one representative from each (provided circumstances clearly warrant such a limit).

Commented [PM1]: The only time I have seen interviews conducted at the Commission is in the context of the 14 C report where OCRE interviewed individuals with disabilities. In that context, I can't imagine the level of intrusiveness that would occur if SAs and Commissioners would have been allowed to observe those sensitive interviews.

Further, this type of policy starts to encroach on OCRE's role in researching and drafting reports. Per the Commission's regulation, 45 CFR § 701.13 (e) OCRE is responsible for "monitoring, evaluating, and reporting on…" and this responsibility includes appropriate research methods and practices that should be at the discretion and expertise of the director of this office.

Good Morning Adegbile,

Please see the updated TO DO list for this week, the AI information and USCCR updates.

TO DO LIST:

1. Letter to the Staff Director from all Commissioner's regarding making all the AI's available electronically in one place. Please see the letter attached that all the SA's worked on. Once we get the green light from all the Commissioners we can send to the Staff Director.
2. Review the attached EAC AI that is redlined. Please add any additional thoughts or approve as is so we can share with the rest of the caucus.
3. Scheduling an April 30th business meeting at noon. Will send a calendar invitation, we also need to schedule a caucus meeting on Tuesday, April 27th at 3pm ET.

AI's

EAC appointing authority (redline attached)

- We have worked on the language that you emphasized during the calls.
- That the Chairperson still retains the authority to appoint with the consultation from Commissioners.
- That the Commissioners selected by respective caucus are willing and able to serve
- Finally, should the person by the choosing party not be able to serve, the chairperson shall be free to choose any other member of the Commission, including said chairperson, to serve on the U.S. Election Assistance Commission

The other 2 AI's will be reviewed by OGC and OCRE because it requires their input. However both of the AI have been non-starters for you and Dave.

OCRE Witness Interviews

The R's are wanting to attend interviews that OCRE conducts in order to obtain information for our investigations. Such interviews were conducted for the Sub-Minimum Wages, as well as for Bail Reform.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- ADA requirements for interviews may not allow for this
- Bail reform interviews also conducted with focus jurisdictions
- Statutory requirements for separation of staff and Commissioners – GC to weigh in.

Panelist requests for briefings

- What do our current AI's and rules require for Commissioner recommendations to be invited
- Resources may not be used effectively if we institute this system
- Need to preserve the independence of the agency

NOTE: I don't see the AI for the rebuttal/surrebuttal,…but I will not vote for it if that crap stays in their about understanding the individual commissioners point-of-vote or vote.

Commented [1]:
Past practice has been that the Chair makes these appointments. This reduces the power of the Chair.

We should find out all the boards and other groups the Commission appoints to in order to understand the full scope of what appointing authority the Chair is relinquishing

Commented [2]:
These requirements do not belong in an AI to be binding on all future compositions of the Commission. If Norma wants to agree to this process for the current appointments, that would be understandable since we are currently 4-4. In the future, if the Commission is 6-2 again, it would be less understandable to give 2 Commissioners this much control.

Dear Mr. Morales:

We, the undersigned Commissioners, write today to request the promulgation of a searchable digital collection of the Commission's Administrative Instructions (AIs). In order to efficiently serve as Commissioners, we must have easy access to the AIs. Thus, we request that you provide us with the following:

- One updated digital file containing every AI that is in effect, in its proper order, and with the date and manner of each AI's ratification
- Physical copies of that digital file by request

The general counsel has sent some of this information piece-by-piece via email to us over the past few weeks. But those AIs have not been updated or organized, and they have not been collected into a single digital document. As matters stand, accessing the AIs requires that we attempt to assemble a complete list from the documents we have been sent piecemeal. Thus, this effort is inadequate.

This is simply a matter of good governance. Please provide us with a timeline for completion of the above tasks.

Sincerely,

Subject : PAU Notes on Proposed AIs

Hi David,

So I don't know if I have redline edits for the AI's, however, I do have the following notes on the PA/communications impact these proposed changes could yield:

- Appointment to other federal agencies
  - I don't really have any comments on the AI - but I would like to point out that if we were to appoint Commissioner Adams to the EAC there would be some pretty significant public blow back. There would certainly be media attention and create a public affairs situation we do not have the capacity to handle.
  - As you know, the EAC is charged with administering payments to states and developing guidance to meet HAVA requirements, adopting voluntary voting system guidelines, and accrediting voting system test laboratories and certifying voting equipment. It is also charged with developing and maintaining a national mail voter registration form. I will remind you that Commissioner Adams not only has his own organization that manipulates voting data by indicating it is fraudulent but has some connections to that nonprofit in CA that is suing the state over voting laws that the LA Times had contacted us over.
  - Not saying this AI is right or wrong, I definitely think it should be bipartisan. I just want to point out that this will not only delegitimize our work but also cause quite a stir on social media and with reporters.
  - Here are a few, of many, article written about Adams' appointment to USCCR:
    - https://www.theguardian.com/us-news/2020/oct/26/us-election-voter-fraud-mail-in-ballots
    - https://truthout.org/articles/gops-strategy-for-2020-election-looks-like-an-all-out-assault-on-voting-rights/
    - https://www.nbcnews.com/politics/donald-trump/vote-fraud-crusader-j-christian-adams-sparks-outrage-n796026
- AI 1-6 Revisions
  - In all of our messaging and on our website we claim to be an independant fact finding agency. I don't see how we can do that when politicizing the panelists/witnesses. If Commissioners
  - I will also point out that we get negative comments about our choice of panelists on social media frequently. If selected by Commissioners in this way it will create a pubic, partisan battle over facts vs alternative facts at every briefing. Not sure how that serves the Commission or allows us to be independent. If the Commissioners are selecting the narrative through their choices. Again, I believe this would bring undue negative attention to the Commissioner and a wave of FOIA requests and media inquiries.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Proposed AI for OCRE
  - Again, the optics on this would be bad - if we are independant, why can't those questions be asked of panelists in public on the record?
  - This would also raise a lot of questions with panelists and pass that burden on to staff. As you heard in the FEMA meeting today, it is hard enough to get panelists to agree to come and testify. Creating another rule that would turn people off limiting who will agree - again, making our reports less robust.
- Lastly, I want to just express the impact on staff and the quality of work that will be produced. It is important that we think of the impacts on our organizational health. Mauro, Tina and the team here have worked so hard these last few years to get us into a functioning body again and it is disheartening to be a political football when we are supposed to be rooted in facts. If there is any policy, rule or legal opinion that can stop them from doing this I would argue that we take a stand against these AIs and this overreach by Commissioners.

Thanks for collecting this input David. Not sure if mine helps, but I just want to stress that we do not have the capacity to deal with this from a comms stand point. Also that these measures would delegitimize our past and future work, as well as the work of the SACs.

Thanks so much,
Ang

Subject : Re: Memo on AI's--CONFIDENTIAL & PRIVILEGED/PRE-DELIBERATIVE

Dear Mauro,
The draft is helpful. I was expecting two memos, actually---one from the General Counsel and one from the other staff, with your responding to both as the Director.
In writing one memo, you should have an introductory sentence that says you are giving feedback to each of the draft A Is, first by obtaining the analysis and legal opinion of the GC, and secondly by describing how the proposed A I would conflict with well-established policies and practices of the staff. Then, you would conclude that the language as it stands it not consistent with law, regs., and existing A Is.
So for section A, it would be useful to identify which are the arguments of the OGC and which are the objections of the other staff. In the first paragraph, you should start with 45 CFR 701.13 (c) which includes the duties of the GC to plan and conduct hearings, as well as provide advice on ethics, and to provide other legal duties in support of the Commission and the staff. There are four bullets in this part:

- Cannot have five Commissioners attending because it becomes a meeting, and the public must have notice and opportunity to attend the meeting, and a formal record of the interview must be prepared and maintained;
- If fewer than five Commissioners are present, Staff still have the responsibility to act ethically in conducting research and follow the three principles of the Belmont Report (respect of persons, beneficence and justice) which are needed to protect vulnerable interviewees, such as children, persons with disabilities, prisoners, and others
- The entire interview should take place with staff present, and staff have been trained to be polite and respectful of the interviewees. If a Commissioner needed to ask a follow-up question, the proper time, place, and manner would be in the open briefing (is this right term?)

In addition to the analysis provided by the General Counsel, the staff offered more feedback.

- The staff are not aware of any instances where they were asked by a Commissioner to participate in the questioning or the follow-up. However, if the Commissioner wanted the SA to hear the testimony earlier than the full hearing so the SA could help prepare the Commissioner for the full briefing, then a copy of the taped interview could be made accessible to the SA, provided the privacy and confidentiality rights of the interviewee were protected by the SA and the Commissioner.
- The staff are concerned that the Commissioners "taking two bites of the apple" in interviewing the same witnesses could lead to a confusing record and make it more challenging to sort out the facts and to meet the deadlines for drafting reports.

Section B.
The General Counsel is unable to ascertain whether the AI applies solely to the EAC or to all appointments. If the language is limited to the EAC, the language is still unclear about whether the appointments will meet the geographic expectation of the EAC. The language is also ambiguous about what happens when there is only one slot to be filled by appointment. The General Counsel concludes that 52 USC 20944 is unambiguous that the Director makes appointments to the Commission on Black Men and Boys.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The staff offered feedback that they did not understand how the Commission would proceed if there a tie vote for an appointment, and do not see what the criteria will be for future appointments where there is only one slot to fill.

Section C. The General Counsel has analyzed the proposed A I and finds it to conflict with duties given to staff in OFCRE in 45 CFR 701.13 (c) and (e).
The evaluation process is independent of the Commission final assessment and report of civil rights enforcement and the matters of social justice. The delegation to the staff to find witnesses has been working effectively, and the General Counsel was not provided an example of an occasion when the staff rejected a recommendation of an expert or fact witness to OFCRE, (Is this right?). To the General Counsel, this A I is a proposed solution in search of a problem that has not appeared.
Further, the GC has read the proposed alternative by the Director to assist in the collection of names and recommendations of witnesses, (is this correct?) and sees no legal flaw in how the OFCRE has conducted its duties to secure witnesses.
The staff offered feedback as follows:

- Staff receive names of potential witnesses from many sources, and have no reason to reject any name simply because it comes from a Commissioner
- Staff vet the proposed witnesses to ascertain whether that person will be covering topics already been covered by other witnesses
- Staff vet the proposed witnesses to see if they are recently involved active and engaged in the content material to avoid stale testimony
- (maybe add other explanations of how the OFCRE has expertise in performing their duties)

To conclude, the A I's are not ready to be adopted, and the staff stand ready to assist in any way they can to help the Commissioners meet the mission of the Commission. Your tone can be strong in the conclusion. This is where you can say something is "inappropriate" or "unnecessary" or "attempting to force a selection" on the staff. But, the General Counsel's analysis and legal conclusions should have a neutral, calming tone.

Thank you, Mauro, for hearing me and for your honesty.
I realize you will do your best to explain to the Commissioners how their proposed changes will likely affect the "mission and operation of the Commission."
Some of the Commissioners need to hear they can't make the changes. Others need to hear the reasons they shouldn't.

Feel free to tell the Commissioners both types of objections. My memo to you was to urge you to help them see more clearly that you know which is which.

By the way, the Belmont project talked about beneficence, the principle that the interviewing and interaction with human subjects had to be carefully calculated to also help people upon which the research is practiced. Our interviews are not just for unknown folks to feel better about social justice; it is also about social justice for the people we interview.

Keep up the good fight for John Lewis' sake.
Best,
Norma

Norma,

Thank you for your comments. My intention was never to provide two memos. My intention was to present feedback from all departments about the harmful consequences in adopting these three AI's. We were not consulted in any manner on these AI' and are expected to accept them. This process was disrespectful and is unacceptable. Commissioners involved in this effort understood what they were doing. The review in our memo was created to focus on the contradictory and unnecessary need for the AI's. OCG's review and recommendations are no more important, if not secondary, to the real impact on the operation of OCRE and other departments. We want Commissioners to have a comprehensive and substantive understanding of the impact these changes would have on the mission and operation of the Commission. We know this memo may not sway any Commissioners. We understand they may adopt AI's that reflect their viewpoint. As a consequence, it is our intention to create a record that lays out the potential damage these AI's will have in the long run to the mission of the Commission. I will incorporate your comments in appropriate places. Again, we thank you and appreciate your input. Please feel free to call if you would like to discuss further.

Subject: Re: Memo on AI's--CONFIDENTIAL & PRIVILEGED/PRE-DELIBERATIVE

Dear Mauro,
The draft is helpful. I was expecting two memos, actually---one from the General Counsel and one from the other staff, with your responding to both as the Director.
In writing one memo, you should have an introductory sentence that says you are giving feedback to each of the draft A Is, first by obtaining the analysis and legal opinion of the GC, and secondly by describing how the proposed A I would conflict with well-established policies and practices of the staff. Then, you would conclude that the language as it stands it not consistent with law, regs., and existing A Is.
So for section A, it would be useful to identify which are the arguments of the OGC and which are the objections of the other staff. In the first paragraph, you should start with 45 CFR 701.13 (c) which includes the duties of the GC to plan and conduct hearings, as well as provide advice on ethics, and to provide other legal duties in support of the Commission and the staff. There are four bullets in this part:

- Cannot have five Commissioners attending because it becomes a meeting, and the public must have notice and opportunity to attend the meeting, and a formal record of the interview must be prepared and maintained;
- If fewer than five Commissioners are present, Staff still have the responsibility to act ethically in conducting research and follow the three principles of the Belmont Report (respect of persons, beneficence and justice) which are needed to protect vulnerable interviewees, such as children, persons with disabilities, prisoners, and others
- The entire interview should take place with staff present, and staff have been trained to be polite and respectful of the interviewees. If a Commissioner needed to ask a follow-up question, the proper time, place, and manner would be in the open briefing (is this right term?)

In addition to the analysis provided by the General Counsel, the staff offered more feedback.

- The staff are not aware of any instances where they were asked by a Commissioner to participate in the questioning or the follow-up. However, if the Commissioner wanted the SA to hear the testimony earlier than the full hearing so the SA could help prepare the Commissioner for the full briefing, then a copy of the taped interview could be made accessible to the SA, provided the privacy and confidentiality rights of the interviewee were protected by the SA and the Commissioner.
- The staff are concerned that the Commissioners "taking two bites of the apple" in interviewing the same witnesses could lead to a confusing record and make it more challenging to sort out the facts and to meet the deadlines for drafting reports.

Section B.
The General Counsel is unable to ascertain whether the AI applies solely to the EAC or to all appointments. If the language is limited to the EAC, the language is still unclear about whether the appointments will meet the geographic expectation of the EAC. The language is also ambiguous about what happens when there is only one slot to be filled by appointment. The General Counsel concludes that 52 USC 20944 is unambiguous that the Director makes appointments to the Commission on Black Men and Boys.

The staff offered feedback that they did not understand how the Commission would proceed if there a tie vote for an appointment, and do not see what the criteria will be for future appointments where there is only one slot to fill.

Section C. The General Counsel has analyzed the proposed A I and finds it to conflict with duties given to staff in OFCRE in 45 CFR 701.13 (c) and (e).
The evaluation process is independent of the Commission final assessment and report of civil rights enforcement and the matters of social justice. TO DO LIST:

1. USCCR Hour's Please see below DUE, Tuesday April 27th
2. Letter to the Staff Director from all Commissioner's regarding making all the AI's available electronically in one place. Please see the letter attached that all the SA's worked on. Once we get the green light from all the Commissioners we can send to the Staff Director.

4. Scheduling an April 30th business meeting at 2pm ET. Will send a calendar invitation, we also need to schedule a caucus meeting on Tuesday, April 27th at 3pm ET.

AI's

EAC appointing authority (redline attached)

- We have worked on the language that you emphasized during the calls.
- That the Chairperson still retains the authority to appoint with the consultation from Commissioners.
- That the Commissioners selected by respective caucus are willing and able to serve
- Finally, should the person by the choosing party not be able to serve, the chairperson shall be free to choose any other member of the Commission, including said chairperson, to serve on the U.S. Election Assistance Commission

The other 2 AI's will be reviewed by OGC and OCRE because it requires their input. However both of the AI have been non-starters for you and Dave.

OCRE Witness Interviews

The R's are wanting to attend interviews that OCRE conducts in order to obtain information for our investigations. Such interviews were conducted for the Sub-Minimum Wages, as well as for Bail

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Reform.

- ADA requirements for interviews may not allow for this
- Bail reform interviews also conducted with focus jurisdictions
- Statutory requirements for separation of staff and Commissioners – GC to weigh in.

Panelist requests for briefings

- Explanations from OCRE on why panelists are not being invited
- What do our current AI's and rules require for Commissioner recommendations to be invited
- Resources may not be used effectively if we institute this system
- Need to preserve the independence of the agency

The AI on Appointment of Commissioners to EAC:

The SD/Executive Committee gave the following opinions on the AI's. First they don't think that it should be an AI. Second, the proposed A.I. does not distinguish appointing authorities that provide appointments to the Commissioners themselves versus those that provide the Chair of the Commission or Staff Director with appointment authority. For example, the authorizing statute for the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys designates the Staff Director as the appointing authority for one (1) member.

If the proposed A.I., as written, was followed for the appointment to the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys, it would conflict and result in a violation of the statute. Lastly, the proposed A.I. provides a procedure to make appointments to the EAC, Board of Advisors, however it does not provide a procedure to make appointments if the caucuses do not agree on their nominees.

The Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be revised or withdrawn from consideration.

AI on interviews of panelist/witnesses.

Career staff and SD say that they do not interview folks but that they gather information for the investigation like in the case of Sub-Minimum wages and Bail Reform. That the process as it stands is transparent and provides opportunity for all

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Commissioners to ask follow up questions to briefing panelists but that those questions are funneled via OCRE so that there is a one stop shop of where the questions are coming from and where the questions are to be responded to. Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommend that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

Witness selection AI:

Basically the Career staff is saying that this would create a logistical nightmare, that it is inconsistent with A.I. 1-6, Sec. 4.06. Section 4.06 which enumerates the Commissioners' roles and functions, such as approving projects and concepts, commenting on draft reports, and approving reports, but it does not include witness selection.

The proposed A.I. would repudiate Sec. 4.07, which notes that "all responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director who may redelegate any responsibilities to a member of the executive staff."
That it would make it impossible to have all Commissioner witness recommendations honored when there are 8 Commissioners and no limit to how many they could nominate.

As written, it is unclear when Commissioners' ability to suggest witnesses ends, which may result in OCRE being unable to prepare a final witness or panelist roster/list.Commissioner selection of panelists and witnesses will also likely increase negotiation and debate among Commissioners, which could result in delays in confirming attendance.
Additionally, having a roster/list being selected by Commissioners and staff could result in the need for briefings and hearings lasting multiple days, which will increase costs.

NOTE: I don't see the AI for the rebuttal/surrebuttal,…but I will not vote for it if that crap stays in their about understanding the individual commissioners point-of-vote or vote.

Commented [1]:
Past practice has been that the Chair makes these appointments. This reduces the power of the Chair.

We should find out all the boards and other groups the Commission appoints to in order to understand the full scope of what appointing authority the Chair is relinquishing

Commented [2]:
These requirements do not belong in an AI to be binding on all future compositions of the Commission. If Norma wants to agree to this process for the current appointments, that would be understandable since we are currently 4-4. In the future, if the Commission is 6-2 again, it would be less understandable to give 2 Commissioners this much control.

Dear Mr. Morales:

We, the undersigned Commissioners, write today to request the promulgation of a searchable digital collection of the Commission's Administrative Instructions (AIs). In order to efficiently serve as Commissioners, we must have easy access to the AIs. Thus, we request that you provide us with the following:

- One updated digital file containing every AI that is in effect, in its proper order, and with the date and manner of each AI's ratification
- Physical copies of that digital file by request

The general counsel has sent some of this information piece-by-piece via email to us over the past few weeks. But those AIs have not been updated or organized, and they have not been collected into a single digital document. As matters stand, accessing the AIs requires that we attempt to assemble a complete list from the documents we have been sent piecemeal. Thus, this effort is inadequate.

This is simply a matter of good governance. Please provide us with a timeline for completion of the above tasks.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Commissioners

FROM: Staff Director and Executive Committee

SUBJECT: Review and Recommendations of Proposed Administrative Instructions submitted on April 16, 2021, during the Commission Business Meeting

The Staff Director and the Executive Committee of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, which includes the offices of the Staff Director, Office of Civil Rights Evaluation, General Counsel, Public Affairs, and Management, have jointly reviewed the three proposed Administrative Instructions (A.I.s) introduced by the Commissioners during an April 16th , 2021, Business Meeting. The Staff Director and Executive Committee believes the proposed A.I.s inappropriately conflict with existing Administrative Instructions and Commission regulations, and unreasonably create programmatic and operations problems for the Commission. It is our recommendation that the proposed A.I.s in their current form be revised or withdrawn.

A. Proposed A.I. on Commission Appointments to Other Federal Entities

The Executive Committee provides the following recommendations regarding this proposed A.I. First, Commission appointments pursuant to 52 U.S.C. § 20944 to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC), Board of Advisors, could be accomplished via a Commission vote rather than an A.I. Second, the proposed A.I. does not distinguish appointing authorities that provide appointments to the Commissioners themselves versus those that provide the Chair of the Commission or Staff Director with appointment authority. For example, the authorizing statute for the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys designates the Staff Director as the appointing authority for one (1) member.[1] If the proposed A.I., as written, was followed for the appointment to the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys, it would conflict and result in a violation of the statute. Lastly, the proposed A.I. provides a procedure to make appointments to the EAC, Board of Advisors, however it does not provide a procedure to make appointments if the caucuses do not agree on their nominees.

The Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be revised or withdrawn from consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

B. Proposed A.I. on OCRE Interviews of Panelists and Witnesses

This proposed A.I. provides that Commissioners attend staff "interviews" with external fact "witnesses or experts." OCRE does not conduct interviews of panelists or witnesses before or after briefings or hearings, but rather, as was the case for the Subminimum Wage and Bail Reform Reports, it holds meetings with stakeholders as part of its data collection process to develop and prepare concepts and documents for reports pursuant to its regulatory mandate contained in 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e) (this Office is responsible for monitoring, evaluating and reporting on the civil rights enforcement effort of the Federal Government; developing concepts for programs, projects, and policies directed toward the achievement of Commission goals; preparing documents that articulate the Commission's views and concerns regarding Federal civil rights.) Commissioner participation in OCRE pre-briefings and pre-hearing meetings is inconsistent with the aforementioned regulation, which prescribes OCRE's function within the Commission.[2]

Further, 45 C.F.R. § 702.14(a) notes that an accurate transcript recorded by a court reporter shall be made of the testimony of all witnesses at all proceedings of the Commission. Consequently, as written, by defining OCRE meetings as "interviews" this A.I. would result in the financial cost of court reporters to be present whenever OCRE meets with stakeholders, panelists, or witnesses, in addition to the administrative burden of having to schedule and coordinate meeting time with Commissioners and their Special Assistants on a bipartisan basis and the panelist or witness. This A.I. is impractical and unnecessary.

Finally, the A.I. provides that Commissioners can individually provide follow-up questions to witnesses. This runs counter to the Commission's Privacy Act policy as OCRE staff would not have access to these additional individual Commissioner questions, requests or the information gathered; nor can OCRE ensure that the information collected from participants will be properly stored and managed for confidentiality or for inclusion in Commission Reports. Additionally, career staff in OCRE, as social scientists, follow the three principles of the Belmont Report (respect of persons, beneficence, and justice), which are needed to protect vulnerable interviewees, such as children, persons with disabilities, prisoners, and others. It is not clear that Commissioners or their Special Assistants, given their varied professional backgrounds, will follow the aforementioned principles.

The current practice is that OCRE sends a joint set of follow up questions from Commissioners which are forwarded to panelists to answer. All questions and answers are shared with Commissioners and their special assistants. Sending separate and individual questions confuses panelists, results in multiple & repetitive questions and prevents every Commissioner equal access to questions and answers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommend that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

C. Proposed A.I. on Witness Selection

This proposed A.I. revises A.I. 1-6, "National Project Development and Implementation." Specifically, it revises Section 11, Commission Hearings, and Section 12, Commission Briefings. Staff reminds Commissioners that there is a significant difference between a Commission hearing and a Commission briefing.

The first sentences of Sections 11.03 and 12.02 respectively state that staff are to use "various" sources to gather suggestions for witnesses, but the subsequent sentences state that Commissioners are the "primary" source for "suggesting" witnesses. These two sentences are contradictory and the use of the term "suggest" in reference to witness selection by the Commissioners is inconsistent with the provision in these Sections that if two Commissioners request a particular witness, then staff must invite that witness.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02 mandate that staff invite a witness who is requested by two or more Commissioners. This mandate is inconsistent with A.I. 1-6, Sec. 4.06. Section 4.06 enumerates the Commissioners' roles and functions, such as approving projects and concepts, commenting on draft reports, and approving reports, but it does not include witness selection. The proposed A.I. would repudiate Sec. 4.07, which notes that "all responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director who may redelegate any responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." Section 12.02's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission briefings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is also inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e), which makes project development and civil rights evaluation functions of OCRE. As noted above, federal agencies are not free to ignore its regulations while they remain in effect. See U.S. Lines, Inc., 584 F.2d 519 at n. 20. Similarly, Section 11.03's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission hearings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(c), which notes that OGC "plans and conducts hearings."[3] Given that this proposed A.I. allows Commissioners to select witnesses for hearings, it prevents OGC from fulfilling its regulatory mandate to plan hearings. In the sixty-three year history of the Commission, Commissioners have never unilaterally selected witnesses. Such a change would alter the fundamental role of OCRE and undermine its ability to conduct an objective and substantive briefing.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02's witness mandate is also not consistent with 42 U.S.C. § 1975b. This statute notes that the Staff Director is the administrative head of the Commission, which includes things such as proposing employee discipline and conducting performance appraisals for career staff under Title 5. Commissioner interference in OCRE and OGC's operations as

[3] Although notice and comment rulemaking is not required for general statements of policy under 5 U.S.C. § 553(b)(A), an agency acts arbitrarily and capriciously if it acts in a manner that is contrary to its own regulations or a congressional statute. Pol'y & Rsch., LLC v. United States Dep't of Health & Hum. Servs., 313 F. Supp. 3d 62, 72 (D.D.C. 2018).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

proposed in the A.I. would result in contradictory or inconsistent orders from Commissioners. Additionally, designating Commissioners as the "primary" source for inviting and hearing from a specific witness would be an extraordinary change skewing the ability of OCRE to engage in objective investigations. It would send the Commission down a slippery slope of Commissioners and their special assistants themselves conducting investigations and writing reports. Such change would irreparably alter the mission of the Commission and be at odds with our enacting statue and Congressional history in creating the Commission. Please also note that Commissioner involvement in selecting witnesses pursuant to this proposed A.I., attending panelist and witness meetings in the aforementioned proposed A.I., or other involvement in the Commission's day-to-day operations, may implicate the 75-day billable cap in the Commission's fiscal year 2021 budget. See https://www.usccr.gov/pubs/2020/FY2021-Congressional-Budget-Justification.pdf.

Section 11.02 of the current A.I. 1-6 references a Hearing Report form, however it is unclear whether the Commission actually utilizes this form. This form certifies a numerical balance of witnesses with opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, and could safeguard that witnesses and panelists are ideologically balanced. However, such a form could also be used to impede in the selection of panelists for briefings and undermine the benefit the collaborative working relationship. OCRE already works with the lead Special Assistant/Commissioner regarding witness and panelist selection. Adding a new form or a new layer in the selection process would further delay the creation of panels and delay the release of the final report.

Logistically the proposed A.I. presents a number of potential scheduling issues for Commission staff. As written, it is unclear when Commissioners' ability to suggest witnesses ends, which may result in OCRE being unable to prepare a final witness or panelist roster/list. Commissioner selection of panelists and witnesses will also likely increase negotiation and debate among Commissioners, which could result in delays in confirming attendance. Additionally, having a roster/list being selected by Commissioners and staff could result in the need for briefings and hearings lasting multiple days, which will increase costs.

Lastly, while it is understandable that that Commissioners want to play a larger role in the selection process, they should do so by negotiating with each other prior to panelists suggestions being sent to OCRE. They should continue to work with OCRE to have diverse and objective panelists instead of attempting to force a selection reflecting their individual viewpoint. It is the view of the staff that unilateral Commissioner selection of witnesses and panelists would constrain OCRE's ability to collect bipartisan testimony and prohibit OCRE's ability to act independently. The panelist and witness evaluation process is independent of the Commissioners final assessment and report of civil rights enforcement. Further, OCRE remains committed to work with Commissioners regarding their recommendations and will continue to strive to accommodate the recommended expert or fact witness or panelist.

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

D. Conclusion

The following are the recommendations of the Commission professional staff:

- Commissioners discuss and take a recorded vote on bipartisan appointments to other Federal entities or revise the proposed A.I. for Commission appointments;
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Stakeholder Interviews; and,
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Witnesses.

NC SAC

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- The Democratic caucus accepts adding Mincey * please see context below (no additional application needed)
- When recirculating will make clear that Commissioners should not submit objections to other members of the slate who have already been circulated
- The Republican caucus will remove the objection to Lechner * please see context below (no additional application needed)
- Vote in the SACw/8-8 balance
- Irena has informed the R's that all D Commissioners are on board.

For situational awareness please see the context for the NC SAC:

- Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
- 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as "something else").

- John/Adams objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as he don't consider her a true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey is a white collar crime attorney and lacks major civil rights experience, however in our vetting process we did not find anything objectionable regarding his public statements or conduct.

    - Need current data for programs that received funding
- OCRE sent updated ROG's to HHS and also sent the draft report for agency review two weeks ago. No response from HHS, Irena advised Nick and OCRE to reach out to panelist including Congresswoman Ayanna Pressley and ask them to put pressure on HHS to respond especially since it was Black Maternal Health week last week and HHS and CDC was participating in all these various events with the partner organizations. gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.
    - Rukku spoke to Thomas; Thomas proposed that we consider a slate of 9 Republicans (including Lechner) and 8 Democrats, and they would work on recruiting Republicans who would assist with balance of slate with respect to gender and other diversity factors. This would leave a slate with 9 R's and 8 D's
    - Rukku proposed to Thomas the following: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Might consider Mincey if he submits revised application with more justification for his civil rights experience.

- Idaho (expired in July).

    - Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.

UNITED STATE COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS
Washington, DC

CONFIDENTIAL & PRIVILEGED/PRE-DELIBERATIVE

April 23, 2021

MEMORANDUM FOR: Commissioners

FROM: Staff Director and Executive Committee

SUBJECT: Review and Recommendations of Proposed Administrative Instructions submitted on April 16, 2021, during the Commission Business Meeting

The Staff Director and the Executive Committee of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, which includes the offices of the Staff Director, Office of Civil Rights Evaluation, General Counsel, Public Affairs, and Management, have jointly reviewed the three proposed Administrative Instructions (A.I.s) introduced by the Commissioners during an April 16th , 2021, Business Meeting. The Staff Director and Executive Committee believes the proposed A.I.s inappropriately conflict with existing Administrative Instructions and Commission regulations, and unreasonably create programmatic and operations problems for the Commission. It is our recommendation that the proposed A.I.s in their current form be revised or withdrawn.

A. Proposed A.I. on Commission Appointments to Other Federal Entities

The Executive Committee provides the following recommendations regarding this proposed A.I. First, Commission appointments pursuant to 52 U.S.C. § 20944 to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC), Board of Advisors, could be accomplished via a Commission vote rather than an A.I. Second, the proposed A.I. does not distinguish appointing authorities that provide appointments to the Commissioners themselves versus those that provide the Chair of the Commission or Staff Director with appointment authority. For example, the authorizing statute for the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys designates the Staff Director as the appointing authority for one (1) member.[1] If the proposed A.I., as written, was followed for the appointment to the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys, it would conflict and result in a violation of the statute. Lastly, the proposed A.I. provides a procedure to make appointments to the EAC, Board of Advisors, however it does not provide a procedure to make appointments if the caucuses do not agree on their nominees.

The Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be revised or withdrawn from consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

B. Proposed A.I. on OCRE Interviews of Panelists and Witnesses

This proposed A.I. provides that Commissioners attend staff "interviews" with external fact "witnesses or experts." OCRE does not conduct interviews of panelists or witnesses before or after briefings or hearings, but rather, as was the case for the Subminimum Wage and Bail Reform Reports, it holds meetings with stakeholders as part of its data collection process to develop and prepare concepts and documents for reports pursuant to its regulatory mandate contained in 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e) (this Office is responsible for monitoring, evaluating and reporting on the civil rights enforcement effort of the Federal Government; developing concepts for programs, projects, and policies directed toward the achievement of Commission goals; preparing documents that articulate the Commission's views and concerns regarding Federal civil rights.) Commissioner participation in OCRE pre-briefings and pre-hearing meetings is inconsistent with the aforementioned regulation, which prescribes OCRE's function within the Commission.[2]

Further, 45 C.F.R. § 702.14(a) notes that an accurate transcript recorded by a court reporter shall be made of the testimony of all witnesses at all proceedings of the Commission. Consequently, as written, by defining OCRE meetings as "interviews" this A.I. would result in the financial cost of court reporters to be present whenever OCRE meets with stakeholders, panelists, or witnesses, in addition to the administrative burden of having to schedule and coordinate meeting time with Commissioners and their Special Assistants on a bipartisan basis and the panelist or witness. This A.I. is impractical and unnecessary.

Finally, the A.I. provides that Commissioners can individually provide follow-up questions to witnesses. This runs counter to the Commission's Privacy Act policy as OCRE staff would not have access to these additional individual Commissioner questions, requests or the information gathered; nor can OCRE ensure that the information collected from participants will be properly stored and managed for confidentiality or for inclusion in Commission Reports. Additionally, career staff in OCRE, as social scientists, follow the three principles of the Belmont Report (respect of persons, beneficence, and justice), which are needed to protect vulnerable interviewees, such as children, persons with disabilities, prisoners, and others. It is not clear that Commissioners or their Special Assistants, given their varied professional backgrounds, will follow the aforementioned principles.

The current practice is that OCRE sends a joint set of follow up questions from Commissioners which are forwarded to panelists to answer. All questions and answers are shared with Commissioners and their special assistants. Sending separate and individual questions confuses panelists, results in multiple & repetitive questions and prevents every Commissioner equal access to questions and answers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommend that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

C. Proposed A.I. on Witness Selection

This proposed A.I. revises A.I. 1-6, "National Project Development and Implementation." Specifically, it revises Section 11, Commission Hearings, and Section 12, Commission Briefings. Staff reminds Commissioners that there is a significant difference between a Commission hearing and a Commission briefing.

The first sentences of Sections 11.03 and 12.02 respectively state that staff are to use "various" sources to gather suggestions for witnesses, but the subsequent sentences state that Commissioners are the "primary" source for "suggesting" witnesses. These two sentences are contradictory and the use of the term "suggest" in reference to witness selection by the Commissioners is inconsistent with the provision in these Sections that if two Commissioners request a particular witness, then staff must invite that witness.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02 mandate that staff invite a witness who is requested by two or more Commissioners. This mandate is inconsistent with A.I. 1-6, Sec. 4.06. Section 4.06 enumerates the Commissioners' roles and functions, such as approving projects and concepts, commenting on draft reports, and approving reports, but it does not include witness selection. The proposed A.I. would repudiate Sec. 4.07, which notes that "all responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director who may redelegate any responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." Section 12.02's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission briefings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is also inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e), which makes project development and civil rights evaluation functions of OCRE. As noted above, federal agencies are not free to ignore its regulations while they remain in effect. See U.S. Lines, Inc., 584 F.2d 519 at n. 20. Similarly, Section 11.03's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission hearings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(c), which notes that OGC "plans and conducts hearings."[3] Given that this proposed A.I. allows Commissioners to select witnesses for hearings, it prevents OGC from fulfilling its regulatory mandate to plan hearings. In the sixty-three year history of the Commission, Commissioners have never unilaterally selected witnesses. Such a change would alter the fundamental role of OCRE and undermine its ability to conduct an objective and substantive briefing.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02's witness mandate is also not consistent with 42 U.S.C. § 1975b. This statute notes that the Staff Director is the administrative head of the Commission, which includes things such as proposing employee discipline and conducting performance appraisals for career staff under Title 5. Commissioner interference in OCRE and OGC's operations as

[3] Although notice and comment rulemaking is not required for general statements of policy under 5 U.S.C. § 553(b)(A), an agency acts arbitrarily and capriciously if it acts in a manner that is contrary to its own regulations or a congressional statute. Pol'y & Rsch., LLC v. United States Dep't of Health & Hum. Servs., 313 F. Supp. 3d 62, 72 (D.D.C. 2018).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

proposed in the A.I. would result in contradictory or inconsistent orders from Commissioners. Additionally, designating Commissioners as the "primary" source for inviting and hearing from a specific witness would be an extraordinary change skewing the ability of OCRE to engage in objective investigations. It would send the Commission down a slippery slope of Commissioners and their special assistants themselves conducting investigations and writing reports. Such change would irreparably alter the mission of the Commission and be at odds with our enacting statue and Congressional history in creating the Commission. Please also note that Commissioner involvement in selecting witnesses pursuant to this proposed A.I., attending panelist and witness meetings in the aforementioned proposed A.I., or other involvement in the Commission's day-to-day operations, may implicate the 75-day billable cap in the Commission's fiscal year 2021 budget. See https://www.usccr.gov/pubs/2020/FY2021-Congressional-Budget-Justification.pdf.

Section 11.02 of the current A.I. 1-6 references a Hearing Report form, however it is unclear whether the Commission actually utilizes this form. This form certifies a numerical balance of witnesses with opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, and could safeguard that witnesses and panelists are ideologically balanced. However, such a form could also be used to impede in the selection of panelists for briefings and undermine the benefit the collaborative working relationship. OCRE already works with the lead Special Assistant/Commissioner regarding witness and panelist selection. Adding a new form or a new layer in the selection process would further delay the creation of panels and delay the release of the final report.

Logistically the proposed A.I. presents a number of potential scheduling issues for Commission staff. As written, it is unclear when Commissioners' ability to suggest witnesses ends, which may result in OCRE being unable to prepare a final witness or panelist roster/list. Commissioner selection of panelists and witnesses will also likely increase negotiation and debate among Commissioners, which could result in delays in confirming attendance. Additionally, having a roster/list being selected by Commissioners and staff could result in the need for briefings and hearings lasting multiple days, which will increase costs.

Lastly, while it is understandable that that Commissioners want to play a larger role in the selection process, they should do so by negotiating with each other prior to panelists suggestions being sent to OCRE. They should continue to work with OCRE to have diverse and objective panelists instead of attempting to force a selection reflecting their individual viewpoint. It is the view of the staff that unilateral Commissioner selection of witnesses and panelists would constrain OCRE's ability to collect bipartisan testimony and prohibit OCRE's ability to act independently. The panelist and witness evaluation process is independent of the Commissioners final assessment and report of civil rights enforcement. Further, OCRE remains committed to work with Commissioners regarding their recommendations and will continue to strive to accommodate the recommended expert or fact witness or panelist.

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

D. Conclusion

The following are the recommendations of the Commission professional staff:

- Commissioners discuss and take a recorded vote on bipartisan appointments to other Federal entities or revise the proposed A.I. for Commission appointments;
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Stakeholder Interviews; and,
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Witnesses.

hello Michael --

Juana plans to release an agenda for the caucus call this morning.

In order to give you a heads-up and organize documents for you regarding anticipated agenda items:

A. Agenda for Friday's Business Meeting:

Attached. Mauro's link to the secure file is https://securisync.intermedia.net/us2/s/login?public_share=_XZOHVK92GU1VDGU925IM8. Password is Lieko#450. The Monday update of which Mauro speaks has not yet appeared.

B. Bipartisan/Negotiated A.I. proposals:

EAC: Dave and Debo submitted "non-negotiable" feedback on the language which you and Pete crafted, if in fact this issue needs to be addressed in an AI at all. The documents are attached. As per Amy:

"Sending edits from Dave and Debo on the appointing authority to external Commissions. Their preference is that this not be handled through an AI at all, as it will bind future Commissions to this process. They prefer a different vehicle to handle this round of appointments only. If it is necessary to adopt a new AI, I'm attaching here language that reflects their position."

The Debo/Dave document is attached.

The new GG submitted a memo opposing ALL THREE proffered A.I.s. It is attached.

The Staff Director submitted a memo recommending that the Commissioners take bipartisan votes on EAC members and withdraw the other two proposals. It is attached.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Other A.I.s:

Debo and Dave oppose having the Commissioners get so deeply involved in the day-to-day operations of the career staff.

As above, the new GG submitted a memo opposing ALL THREE proffered A.I.s. It is attached.

As above, the Staff Director submitted a memo recommending that the Commissioners withdraw these two proposals. It is attached.

C. SACs:

NC will likely go forward upon bipartisan agreement long in the making.

ID is still stalled because the Rs disagree with your assertion that Yenor needs to apologize.

D. Anti-AAPI discrimination statement:

This item appears on the new agenda. Do you still want to go forward? If so, do you want to make any edits? Other Ds may suggest edits. If a new version is going forward on Friday, we must circulate by noon Eastern on Wednesday. I will be out of pocket for a while after the caucus meeting by can likely resume work late Tues. night.

CONFIDENTIAL & PRIVILEGED/PRE-DELIBERATIVE

MEMORANDUM FOR: Commissioners

FROM: Staff Director and Executive Committee

SUBJECT: Review and Recommendations of Proposed Administrative Instructions submitted on April 16, 2021, during the Commission Business Meeting

The Staff Director and the Executive Committee of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, which includes the offices of the Staff Director, Office of Civil Rights Evaluation, General Counsel, Public Affairs, and Management, have jointly reviewed the three proposed Administrative Instructions (A.I.s) introduced by the Commissioners during an April 16th , 2021, Business Meeting. The Staff Director and Executive Committee believes the proposed A.I.s inappropriately conflict with existing Administrative Instructions and Commission regulations, and unreasonably create programmatic and operations problems for the Commission. It is our recommendation that the proposed A.I.s in their current form be revised or withdrawn.

A. Proposed A.I. on Commission Appointments to Other Federal Entities

The Executive Committee provides the following recommendations regarding this proposed A.I. First, Commission appointments pursuant to 52 U.S.C. § 20944 to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC), Board of Advisors, could be accomplished via a Commission vote rather than an A.I. Second, the proposed A.I. does not distinguish appointing authorities that provide appointments to the Commissioners themselves versus those that provide the Chair of the Commission or Staff Director with appointment authority. For example, the authorizing statute for the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys designates the Staff Director as the appointing authority for one (1) member.[1] If the proposed A.I., as written, was followed for the appointment to the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys, it would conflict and result in a violation of the statute. Lastly, the proposed A.I. provides a procedure to make appointments to the EAC, Board of Advisors, however it does not provide a procedure to make appointments if the caucuses do not agree on their nominees.

The Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be revised or withdrawn from consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

B. Proposed A.I. on OCRE Interviews of Panelists and Witnesses

This proposed A.I. provides that Commissioners attend staff "interviews" with external fact "witnesses or experts." OCRE does not conduct interviews of panelists or witnesses before or after briefings or hearings, but rather, as was the case for the Subminimum Wage and Bail Reform Reports, it holds meetings with stakeholders as part of its data collection process to develop and prepare concepts and documents for reports pursuant to its regulatory mandate contained in 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e) (this Office is responsible for monitoring, evaluating and reporting on the civil rights enforcement effort of the Federal Government; developing concepts for programs, projects, and policies directed toward the achievement of Commission goals; preparing documents that articulate the Commission's views and concerns regarding Federal civil rights.) Commissioner participation in OCRE pre-briefings and pre-hearing meetings is inconsistent with the aforementioned regulation, which prescribes OCRE's function within the Commission.[2]

Further, 45 C.F.R. § 702.14(a) notes that an accurate transcript recorded by a court reporter shall be made of the testimony of all witnesses at all proceedings of the Commission. Consequently, as written, by defining OCRE meetings as "interviews" this A.I. would result in the financial cost of court reporters to be present whenever OCRE meets with stakeholders, panelists, or witnesses, in addition to the administrative burden of having to schedule and coordinate meeting time with Commissioners and their Special Assistants on a bipartisan basis and the panelist or witness. This A.I. is impractical and unnecessary.

Finally, the A.I. provides that Commissioners can individually provide follow-up questions to witnesses. This runs counter to the Commission's Privacy Act policy as OCRE staff would not have access to these additional individual Commissioner questions, requests or the information gathered; nor can OCRE ensure that the information collected from participants will be properly stored and managed for confidentiality or for inclusion in Commission Reports. Additionally, career staff in OCRE, as social scientists, follow the three principles of the Belmont Report (respect of persons, beneficence, and justice), which are needed to protect vulnerable interviewees, such as children, persons with disabilities, prisoners, and others. It is not clear that Commissioners or their Special Assistants, given their varied professional backgrounds, will follow the aforementioned principles.

The current practice is that OCRE sends a joint set of follow up questions from Commissioners which are forwarded to panelists to answer. All questions and answers are shared with Commissioners and their special assistants. Sending separate and individual questions confuses panelists, results in multiple & repetitive questions and prevents every Commissioner equal access to questions and answers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommend that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

C. Proposed A.I. on Witness Selection

This proposed A.I. revises A.I. 1-6, "National Project Development and Implementation." Specifically, it revises Section 11, Commission Hearings, and Section 12, Commission Briefings. Staff reminds Commissioners that there is a significant difference between a Commission hearing and a Commission briefing.

The first sentences of Sections 11.03 and 12.02 respectively state that staff are to use "various" sources to gather suggestions for witnesses, but the subsequent sentences state that Commissioners are the "primary" source for "suggesting" witnesses. These two sentences are contradictory and the use of the term "suggest" in reference to witness selection by the Commissioners is inconsistent with the provision in these Sections that if two Commissioners request a particular witness, then staff must invite that witness.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02 mandate that staff invite a witness who is requested by two or more Commissioners. This mandate is inconsistent with A.I. 1-6, Sec. 4.06. Section 4.06 enumerates the Commissioners' roles and functions, such as approving projects and concepts, commenting on draft reports, and approving reports, but it does not include witness selection. The proposed A.I. would repudiate Sec. 4.07, which notes that "all responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director who may redelegate any responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." Section 12.02's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission briefings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is also inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e), which makes project development and civil rights evaluation functions of OCRE. As noted above, federal agencies are not free to ignore its regulations while they remain in effect. See U.S. Lines, Inc., 584 F.2d 519 at n. 20. Similarly, Section 11.03's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission hearings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(c), which notes that OGC "plans and conducts hearings."[3] Given that this proposed A.I. allows Commissioners to select witnesses for hearings, it prevents OGC from fulfilling its regulatory mandate to plan hearings. In the sixty-three year history of the Commission, Commissioners have never unilaterally selected witnesses. Such a change would alter the fundamental role of OCRE and undermine its ability to conduct an objective and substantive briefing.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02's witness mandate is also not consistent with 42 U.S.C. § 1975b. This statute notes that the Staff Director is the administrative head of the Commission, which includes things such as proposing employee discipline and conducting performance appraisals for career staff under Title 5. Commissioner interference in OCRE and OGC's operations as

[3] Although notice and comment rulemaking is not required for general statements of policy under 5 U.S.C. § 553(b)(A), an agency acts arbitrarily and capriciously if it acts in a manner that is contrary to its own regulations or a congressional statute. Pol'y & Rsch., LLC v. United States Dep't of Health & Hum. Servs., 313 F. Supp. 3d 62, 72 (D.D.C. 2018).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

proposed in the A.I. would result in contradictory or inconsistent orders from Commissioners. Additionally, designating Commissioners as the "primary" source for inviting and hearing from a specific witness would be an extraordinary change skewing the ability of OCRE to engage in objective investigations. It would send the Commission down a slippery slope of Commissioners and their special assistants themselves conducting investigations and writing reports. Such change would irreparably alter the mission of the Commission and be at odds with our enacting statue and Congressional history in creating the Commission. Please also note that Commissioner involvement in selecting witnesses pursuant to this proposed A.I., attending panelist and witness meetings in the aforementioned proposed A.I., or other involvement in the Commission's day-to-day operations, may implicate the 75-day billable cap in the Commission's fiscal year 2021 budget. See https://www.usccr.gov/pubs/2020/FY2021-Congressional-Budget-Justification.pdf.

Section 11.02 of the current A.I. 1-6 references a Hearing Report form, however it is unclear whether the Commission actually utilizes this form. This form certifies a numerical balance of witnesses with opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, and could safeguard that witnesses and panelists are ideologically balanced. However, such a form could also be used to impede in the selection of panelists for briefings and undermine the benefit the collaborative working relationship. OCRE already works with the lead Special Assistant/Commissioner regarding witness and panelist selection. Adding a new form or a new layer in the selection process would further delay the creation of panels and delay the release of the final report.

Logistically the proposed A.I. presents a number of potential scheduling issues for Commission staff. As written, it is unclear when Commissioners' ability to suggest witnesses ends, which may result in OCRE being unable to prepare a final witness or panelist roster/list. Commissioner selection of panelists and witnesses will also likely increase negotiation and debate among Commissioners, which could result in delays in confirming attendance. Additionally, having a roster/list being selected by Commissioners and staff could result in the need for briefings and hearings lasting multiple days, which will increase costs.

Lastly, while it is understandable that that Commissioners want to play a larger role in the selection process, they should do so by negotiating with each other prior to panelists suggestions being sent to OCRE. They should continue to work with OCRE to have diverse and objective panelists instead of attempting to force a selection reflecting their individual viewpoint. It is the view of the staff that unilateral Commissioner selection of witnesses and panelists would constrain OCRE's ability to collect bipartisan testimony and prohibit OCRE's ability to act independently. The panelist and witness evaluation process is independent of the Commissioners final assessment and report of civil rights enforcement. Further, OCRE remains committed to work with Commissioners regarding their recommendations and will continue to strive to accommodate the recommended expert or fact witness or panelist.

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

D. Conclusion

The following are the recommendations of the Commission professional staff:

- Commissioners discuss and take a recorded vote on bipartisan appointments to other Federal entities or revise the proposed A.I. for Commission appointments;
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Stakeholder Interviews; and,
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Witnesses.

Such change would irreparably alter the mission of the Commission and be at odds with our enacting statue and Congressional history in creating the Commission. Please also note that Commissioner involvement in selecting witnesses pursuant to this proposed A.I., attending panelist and witness meetings in the aforementioned proposed A.I., or other involvement in the Commission's day-to-day operations, may implicate the 75-day billable cap in the Commission's fiscal year 2021 budget. See https://www.usccr.gov/pubs/2020/FY2021-Congressional-Budget-Justification.pdf.

Section 11.02 of the current A.I. 1-6 references a Hearing Report form, however it is unclear whether the Commission actually utilizes this form. This form certifies a numerical balance of witnesses with opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, and could safeguard that witnesses and panelists are ideologically balanced. However, such a form could also be used to impede in the selection of panelists for briefings and undermine the benefit the collaborative working relationship. OCRE already works with the lead Special Assistant/Commissioner regarding witness and panelist selection. Adding a new form or a new layer in the selection process would further delay the creation of panels and delay the release of the final report.

Logistically the proposed A.I. presents a number of potential scheduling issues for Commission staff. As written, it is unclear when Commissioners' ability to suggest witnesses ends, which may result in OCRE being unable to prepare a final witness or panelist roster/list. Commissioner selection of panelists and witnesses will also likely increase negotiation and debate among Commissioners, which could result in delays in confirming attendance. Additionally, having a roster/list being selected by Commissioners and staff could result in the need for briefings and hearings lasting multiple days, which will increase costs.

Lastly, while it is understandable that that Commissioners want to play a larger role in the selection process, they should do so by negotiating with each other prior to panelists suggestions being sent to OCRE. They should continue to work with OCRE to have diverse and objective panelists instead of attempting to force a selection reflecting their individual viewpoint. It is the view of the staff that unilateral Commissioner selection of witnesses and panelists would constrain OCRE's ability to collect bipartisan testimony and prohibit OCRE's ability to act independently. The panelist and witness evaluation process is independent of the Commissioners final assessment and report of civil rights enforcement. Further, OCRE remains committed to work with Commissioners regarding their recommendations and will continue to strive to accommodate the recommended expert or fact witness or panelist.

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

D. Conclusion

The following are the recommendations of the Commission professional staff:

- Commissioners discuss and take a recorded vote on bipartisan appointments to other Federal entities or revise the proposed A.I. for Commission appointments;
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Stakeholder Interviews; and,
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Witnesses.

            - John/Adams objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as he don't consider her a true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey is a white collar crime attorney and lacks major civil rights experience, however in our vetting process we did not find anything objectionable regarding his public statements or conduct

IDAHO

Commissioner Yaki's objection

Dear Dr. Yenor:

Thank you for your service on the Idaho Advisory Committee and for your recent application for reappointment. Your name was included on the list of nominated individuals that is currently being reviewed by the Commissioners prior to appointment. As part of that review, Commissioner Yaki has made a formal objection to your nomination on the Committee because of an alleged comment you made.

Pursuant to our Administrative Instructions, when Commissioner objections pertain to a proposed member's public statement, then that nominee is provided the opportunity to respond in writing to the raised concern. The Staff Director will then consider the written response when making the final determination on whether to include the nominee on the list of individuals to be recommended for appointment.

The Commissioner has objected to your reappointment to the Idaho Advisory Committee because the Commissioner believes you are hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights. Furthermore, The Commissioner believes your public statements render you incapable of, and unable to, protect the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions. Citations to your most objectionable public statements on the issues at hand include:

Mr. Yenor's Reponse

Dear Mr. Mussatt,
Thank you for forwarding the objections of Commissioner Michael Yaki and giving me two days to respond. I would like to know more about the process for how my response will be evaluated. Is the whole USCCR to respond? How will responses be tabulated? In any event, again thank you for forwarding these objections.

The objections to my re-nomination to the Idaho Advisory committee on civil rights are (1) that I am "hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights" as evidenced in my public writings and (2) that my "public statements render [me] incapable of, and unable to, protect (sic) the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Claims of discrimination under the current civil rights regime must be established through rational inquiry aided, where appropriate, by social science. Proposed policies to combat alleged discrimination must then be weighed through a rational public policy process. Policies must be evaluated critically if they are implemented.

Civil rights are hardly an all or nothing proposition. Some civil rights clash with other civil rights. Civil rights almost always require a balancing of various claims or a negotiation of the rights of various groups. In objecting to my participation on the commission, Commissioner Yaki seems to deny that civil rights matters involve such balancing or to deny that some important civil rights should be protected or to deny that some civil rights claims should be heard or entertained; he seems to want civil rights for only some groups and not for others. He gives civil rights a bad name in so doing.

Suppose a civil rights commission finds itself adjudicating a claim of transgender rights as civil rights. In making a fair-minded adjudication, the commission would have to consider the relation between such transgender rights and other civil rights in our tradition such as the free exercise of religion, parental rights, rights against sex discrimination. It would have to determine how transgender rights weigh against those rights. In doing so, it would be necessary to inquire into the rational basis for claims of transgender rights and the likely consequences of affirming them, just as it would be necessary to see what would happen from denying them.

My work raises questions about the evidence that proves discrimination and it concerns the clash of civil rights in politics. Claims of transgender rights can, in some circumstances, I have argued, clash with parental rights (as when a school insists on transitioning a child from one gender to another without informing the parents or against their will). Such instances are, as my research argues, more likely to harm the child and, if multiplied, are likely to have a corrosive effect on parental rights, a crucial civil right (as established in Meyer v. Nebraska and Pierce v. Society of Sisters). Seeing children as products of state mandates in these instances is more likely to undermine well-functioning institutions than it is to promote a good society or thriving individuals. Claims to marital equality have already compromised religious liberty, the freedom of association, and the free thought and discussion on many platforms.

Does Commissioner Yaki disagree that transgender rights clash with parental rights? Does he think that the Civil Rights Commissions nationwide should ignore questions about what it would mean to take the side of "transgender rights" against parental rights? Does he think religious liberty of so little importance that Civil Rights Commissions should ignore how it is compromised by so-called marriage equality? Does he think Civil Rights Commissions should refrain from investigating the future mental and physical health of children who have been transitioned, against the will of their parents, from one gender to another? Does he think we should cease investigating the mental or physical health of all those who have transitioned, even with parental support? Perhaps I should object to his continued participation as a Civil Rights Commissioner if he thinks all such questions are settled questions or based on sound science!

The inclusion of gender identity within the anti-discrimination regime of the 1964 Civil Rights Act is a cause for no little concern. Under such gender identity claims, a person's subjective, gendered self-image as woman, man or whatever supersedes the objective biological fact of sexual identity as female or male. This new gender identity further may come with a demand that governments and others citizens recognize that new gender as an objective fact—a huge abridgement on the civil rights and the freedom of mind of others. These ideas, taken together, are incoherent and compromise our commitment to limited government. They are incoherent because they nullify the categories of male and female to which the anti-discrimination principle applies. How can a school district remedy supposed unjust discrimination in girls' sports when anyone can qualify, simply on their own assertion, as woman? Does Fairness in Sports demand keeping biological men out of women's sports and aspiring to equal treatment of such sports or does it demand letting transgendered men in and, perhaps, decrease the opportunities for the formerly protected class of women? Idaho has taken the lead in protecting women's sports in these circumstances, and I look forward to participating in studies investigating how this affects opportunities. The demands that Commissioner Yaki makes contain the seeds of a new political order, much less committed to civil rights than our current order.

I am very skeptical of the idea that gender operates independently of sex. I would demand verification, from well-designed studies, that confirmed the proposition that conceiving of gender independently of sex leads to individual and social thriving. It think it is irresponsible to accept, without critical inquiry, the idea that affirming gender identity fosters all manner of social and individual good. It is not at all clear to me that it is better to recognize a person's concept of gender, apart from their biological sex, as authentic and salutary rather than as erroneous or pathological. I would be concerned that acknowledging such an idea compromises other, well-established and important civil rights.

Conservatives participate in Civil Rights Commissions across the country. We generally worry about how anti-discrimination laws, as applied and as construed, abridge fundamental freedoms and can upset prospects of social harmony. We often investigate the implications of such abridgements in our scholarship. On the Yaki standard, would Justice Sam Alito or Justice Clarence Thomas or Chief Justice John Roberts be ineligible to serve on a civil rights commission? They dissented, after all, from the same-sex marriage decisions in Windsor and Obergefell. Two of them dissented in the recent case re-interpreting the 1964 Civil Rights Act. More broadly, would any conservative be allowed to participate unless he or she abandoned his or her conservatism? Perhaps all of these opinions disqualify someone from sitting on an Advisory Board. If they do, it may be hard to justify continued government support for a strictly partisan organ.

Sincerely,
Scott Yenor

COLORADO: 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat).

- Comm. Heriot objected to Prof. Ming Hsu Chen on the basis of an article she wrote called, "Colorblind Nationalism."
- Prof. Chen responded, and Mauro kept her on the slate on the basis of the response.
- Full objection from Comm. Heriot:

In her article, Prof. Chen says that racist and anti-immigrant "policies are cloaked in the neutral language of national protection, public health, and economic justice." Therefore, anyone who supports those facially colorblind policies is racist. More broadly, Prof. Chen suggests that anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist.

It is inappropriate for a SAC member to make wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people. This article reveals Prof. Chen's bad faith. Additionally, her embrace of Ibram X. Kendi's "anti-racist" ideology is troubling, as that ideology in and of itself promotes discrimination.

Prof. Chen's article in the Yale Journal on Regulation, "Colorblind Nationalism," (available here) is particularly objectionable for a member of a State Advisory Committee.

- Full response from Prof. Chen:

Dear Mr. Mussatt and Mr. Morales,

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to Commissioner Heriot's objection. This objection seems to be based on a single sentence from an opinion piece, which I discuss below, but please note her objection paraphrases my essay in ways that mischaracterize the essay and my beliefs.

For example:

- I do not say or believe that "anyone who supports facially colorblind policies is racist"
- I do not say that or believe that "anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist"
- There is also no basis for her claim that I write or act in "bad faith" in her formal objection.

As some background, I have served on the Colorado State Advisory Committee for 4-years (2016-2020). During that time, I worked collaboratively with all SAC members after my project proposal on the naturalization backlog was unanimously adopted in 2018. This work included working together on a briefing with expert testimony from 12 speakers representing a range of perspectives, addressing all SAC member voices in when drafting our report, and incorporating suggestions during the subsequent revisions and adoption of the report. The resulting 2019 report has since been cited widely in media and other academic and policy research. A 2020 update and 2-page statement of concern was adopted unanimously by the CO SAC, and USCCR Chair Catherine Lhamon endorsed and sent her own letter to the impacted agency.

During my tenure, I also supported projects spearheaded by other SAC members, including ones sponsored by our more conservative members on religious freedom and racial disparities in infant/maternal mortality. In each of these projects, I was an active team member and made good faith efforts to listen to evidence from our hearings, to consider the divergent viewpoints, and to incorporate and suggest revisions on my reports and others that would build a broader consensus.

Outside of my service to SAC, my professional qualifications include a ten-year history of academic teaching and writing in immigration, civil rights, and administrative law at the University of Colorado Law School. This has included presentations with scholars from many viewpoints. Not infrequently I've been invited by members of conservative groups like the Federalist Society or the National Association of Attorney Generals to be a reasonable voice in their discussions. In these and other endeavors, I have never been accused of bias in my professional work.

In my personal capacity, I occasionally write short opinion pieces such as the essay that is cited in the objection and published in a special symposium on racism and the law for the online edition of the nation's premiere specialty journal on administrative law. I would describe my own views in the essay as advocating for greater racial equality for immigrants negatively impacted by travel bans and expressing an abiding concern that our federal government adhere to fair procedures in the issuance of such policies. There is no basis for saying that these views amount to "wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people" or that they "embrace Ibram X. Kendi's antiracist ideology… as that ideology itself promotes discrimination." I am not familiar with Ibram X Kendi's writings on antiracism and do not read, engage with, nor cite his work in this essay or my other scholarship. Moreover, the piece does not claim to represent the views of CO SAC or the USCCR. While I do not think the views expressed in the essay are objectionable, even if they were, I would not bring personal biases into my professional service. In closing, I recognize that reasonable people disagree on the best means of achieving equality.

My sense is that Commissioner Heriot misunderstands my perspectives and seeks to associate me with views that are more extreme than my own. Rather than rely on her second-hand description of an opinion piece written in my personal capacity, I would encourage the USCCR to apply a fair minded consideration of my application that focuses on my actual statements and my record of service to the CO SAC and USCCR.

- We have worked on the language that you emphasized during the calls.
- That the Chairperson still retains the authority to appoint with the consultation from Commissioners.
- That the Commissioners selected by respective caucus are willing and able to serve
- Finally, should the person by the choosing party not be able to serve, the chairperson shall be free to choose any other member of the Commission, including said chairperson, to serve on the U.S. Election Assistance Commission

The other 2 AI's will be reviewed by OGC and OCRE because it requires their input. However both of the AI have been non-starters for you and Dave.

OCRE Witness Interviews

The R's are wanting to attend interviews that OCRE conducts in order to obtain information for our investigations. Such interviews were conducted for the Sub-Minimum Wages, as well as for Bail Reform.

- ADA requirements for interviews may not allow for this
- Bail reform interviews also conducted with focus jurisdictions

Panelist requests for briefings

- Explanations from OCRE on why panelists are not being invited
- What do our current AI's and rules require for Commissioner recommendations to be invited
- Resources may not be used effectively if we institute this system
- Need to preserve the independence of the agency

The AI on Appointment of Commissioners to EAC:

The SD/Executive Committee gave the following opinions on the AI's. First they don't think that it should be an AI. Second, the proposed A.I. does not distinguish appointing authorities that provide appointments to the Commissioners themselves versus those that provide the Chair of the Commission or Staff Director with appointment authority. For example, the authorizing statute for the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys designates the Staff Director as the appointing authority for one (1) member.

If the proposed A.I., as written, was followed for the appointment to the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys, it would conflict and result in a violation of the statute. Lastly, the proposed A.I. provides a procedure to make appointments to the EAC, Board of Advisors, however it does not provide a procedure to make appointments if the caucuses do not agree on their nominees.

The Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be revised or withdrawn from consideration.

AI on interviews of panelist/witnesses.

Career staff and SD say that they do not interview folks but that they gather information for the investigation like in the case of Sub-Minimum wages and Bail Reform. That the process as it stands is transparent and provides opportunity for all Commissioners to ask follow up questions to briefing panelists but that those questions are funneled via OCRE so that there is a one stop shop of where the questions are coming from and where the questions are to be responded to. Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommend that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Witness selection AI:

Basically the Career staff is saying that this would create a logistical nightmare, that it is inconsistent with A.I. 1-6, Sec. 4.06. Section 4.06 which enumerates the Commissioners' roles and functions, such as approving projects and concepts, commenting on draft reports, and approving reports, but it does not include witness selection.

The proposed A.I. would repudiate Sec. 4.07, which notes that "all responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director who may redelegate any responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." That it would make it impossible to have all Commissioner witness recommendations honored when there are 8 Commissioners and no limit to how many they could nominate.

As written, it is unclear when Commissioners' ability to suggest witnesses ends, which may result in OCRE being unable to prepare a final witness or panelist roster/list.Commissioner selection of panelists and witnesses will also likely increase negotiation and debate among Commissioners, which could result in delays in confirming attendance.
Additionally, having a roster/list being selected by Commissioners and staff could result in the need for briefings and hearings lasting multiple days, which will increase costs.

Commented [1]:
Past practice has been that the Chair makes these appointments. This reduces the power of the Chair.

We should find out all the boards and other groups the Commission appoints to in order to understand the full scope of what appointing authority the Chair is relinquishing

Commented [2]:
These requirements do not belong in an AI to be binding on all future compositions of the Commission. If Norma wants to agree to this process for the current appointments, that would be understandable since we are currently 4-4. In the future, if the Commission is 6-2 again, it would be less understandable to give 2 Commissioners this much control.

Dear Mr. Morales:

We, the undersigned Commissioners, write today to request the promulgation of a searchable digital collection of the Commission's Administrative Instructions (AIs). In order to efficiently serve as Commissioners, we must have easy access to the AIs. Thus, we request that you provide us with the following:

- One updated digital file containing every AI that is in effect, in its proper order, and with the date and manner of each AI's ratification
- Physical copies of that digital file by request

The general counsel has sent some of this information piece-by-piece via email to us over the past few weeks. But those AIs have not been updated or organized, and they have not been collected into a single digital document. As matters stand, accessing the AIs requires that we attempt to assemble a complete list from the documents we have been sent piecemeal. Thus, this effort is inadequate.

This is simply a matter of good governance. Please provide us with a timeline for completion of the above tasks.

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR: Commissioners

FROM: Staff Director and Executive Committee

SUBJECT: Review and Recommendations of Proposed Administrative Instructions submitted on April 16, 2021, during the Commission Business Meeting

The Staff Director and the Executive Committee of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, which includes the offices of the Staff Director, Office of Civil Rights Evaluation, General Counsel, Public Affairs, and Management, have jointly reviewed the three proposed Administrative Instructions (A.I.s) introduced by the Commissioners during an April 16th , 2021, Business Meeting. The Staff Director and Executive Committee believes the proposed A.I.s inappropriately conflict with existing Administrative Instructions and Commission regulations, and unreasonably create programmatic and operations problems for the Commission. It is our recommendation that the proposed A.I.s in their current form be revised or withdrawn.

A. Proposed A.I. on Commission Appointments to Other Federal Entities

The Executive Committee provides the following recommendations regarding this proposed A.I. First, Commission appointments pursuant to 52 U.S.C. § 20944 to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC), Board of Advisors, could be accomplished via a Commission vote rather than an A.I. Second, the proposed A.I. does not distinguish appointing authorities that provide appointments to the Commissioners themselves versus those that provide the Chair of the Commission or Staff Director with appointment authority. For example, the authorizing statute for the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys designates the Staff Director as the appointing authority for one (1) member.[1] If the proposed A.I., as written, was followed for the appointment to the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys, it would conflict and result in a violation of the statute. Lastly, the proposed A.I. provides a procedure to make appointments to the EAC, Board of Advisors, however it does not provide a procedure to make appointments if the caucuses do not agree on their nominees.

The Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be revised or withdrawn from consideration.

B. Proposed A.I. on OCRE Interviews of Panelists and Witnesses

This proposed A.I. provides that Commissioners attend staff "interviews" with external fact "witnesses or experts." OCRE does not conduct interviews of panelists or witnesses before or after briefings or hearings, but rather, as was the case for the Subminimum Wage and Bail Reform Reports, it holds meetings with stakeholders as part of its data collection process to develop and prepare concepts and documents for reports pursuant to its regulatory mandate contained in 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e) (this Office is responsible for monitoring, evaluating and reporting on the civil rights enforcement effort of the Federal Government; developing concepts for programs, projects, and policies directed toward the achievement of Commission goals; preparing documents that articulate the Commission's views and concerns regarding Federal civil rights.) Commissioner participation in OCRE pre-briefings and pre-hearing meetings is inconsistent with the aforementioned regulation, which prescribes OCRE's function within the Commission.[2]

Further, 45 C.F.R. § 702.14(a) notes that an accurate transcript recorded by a court reporter shall be made of the testimony of all witnesses at all proceedings of the Commission. Consequently, as written, by defining OCRE meetings as "interviews" this A.I. would result in the financial cost of court reporters to be present whenever OCRE meets with stakeholders, panelists, or witnesses, in addition to the administrative burden of having to schedule and coordinate meeting time with Commissioners and their Special Assistants on a bipartisan basis and the panelist or witness. This A.I. is impractical and unnecessary.

Finally, the A.I. provides that Commissioners can individually provide follow-up questions to witnesses. This runs counter to the Commission's Privacy Act policy as OCRE staff would not have access to these additional individual Commissioner questions, requests or the information gathered; nor can OCRE ensure that the information collected from participants will be properly stored and managed for confidentiality or for inclusion in Commission Reports. Additionally, career staff in OCRE, as social scientists, follow the three principles of the Belmont Report (respect of persons, beneficence, and justice), which are needed to protect vulnerable interviewees, such as children, persons with disabilities, prisoners, and others. It is not clear that Commissioners or their Special Assistants, given their varied professional backgrounds, will follow the aforementioned principles.

The current practice is that OCRE sends a joint set of follow up questions from Commissioners which are forwarded to panelists to answer. All questions and answers are shared with Commissioners and their special assistants. Sending separate and individual questions confuses panelists, results in multiple & repetitive questions and prevents every Commissioner equal access to questions and answers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommend that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

C. Proposed A.I. on Witness Selection

This proposed A.I. revises A.I. 1-6, "National Project Development and Implementation." Specifically, it revises Section 11, Commission Hearings, and Section 12, Commission Briefings. Staff reminds Commissioners that there is a significant difference between a Commission hearing and a Commission briefing.

The first sentences of Sections 11.03 and 12.02 respectively state that staff are to use "various" sources to gather suggestions for witnesses, but the subsequent sentences state that Commissioners are the "primary" source for "suggesting" witnesses. These two sentences are contradictory and the use of the term "suggest" in reference to witness selection by the Commissioners is inconsistent with the provision in these Sections that if two Commissioners request a particular witness, then staff must invite that witness.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02 mandate that staff invite a witness who is requested by two or more Commissioners. This mandate is inconsistent with A.I. 1-6, Sec. 4.06. Section 4.06 enumerates the Commissioners' roles and functions, such as approving projects and concepts, commenting on draft reports, and approving reports, but it does not include witness selection. The proposed A.I. would repudiate Sec. 4.07, which notes that "all responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director who may redelegate any responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." Section 12.02's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission briefings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is also inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(e), which makes project development and civil rights evaluation functions of OCRE. As noted above, federal agencies are not free to ignore its regulations while they remain in effect. See U.S. Lines, Inc., 584 F.2d 519 at n. 20. Similarly, Section 11.03's requirement to invite witnesses to Commission hearings when they are selected by two or more Commissioners is inconsistent with 45 C.F.R. § 701.13(c), which notes that OGC "plans and conducts hearings."[3] Given that this proposed A.I. allows Commissioners to select witnesses for hearings, it prevents OGC from fulfilling its regulatory mandate to plan hearings. In the sixty-three year history of the Commission, Commissioners have never unilaterally selected witnesses. Such a change would alter the fundamental role of OCRE and undermine its ability to conduct an objective and substantive briefing.

Sections 11.03 and 12.02's witness mandate is also not consistent with 42 U.S.C. § 1975b. This statute notes that the Staff Director is the administrative head of the Commission, which includes things such as proposing employee discipline and conducting performance appraisals for career staff under Title 5. Commissioner interference in OCRE and OGC's operations as

United States Dep't of Health & Hum. Servs*., 313 F. Supp. 3d 62, 72 (D.D.C. 2018).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

proposed in the A.I. would result in contradictory or inconsistent orders from Commissioners. Additionally, designating Commissioners as the "primary" source for inviting and hearing from a specific witness would be an extraordinary change skewing the ability of OCRE to engage in objective investigations. It would send the Commission down a slippery slope of Commissioners and their special assistants themselves conducting investigations and writing reports. Such change would irreparably alter the mission of the Commission and be at odds with our enacting statue and Congressional history in creating the Commission. Please also note that Commissioner involvement in selecting witnesses pursuant to this proposed A.I., attending panelist and witness meetings in the aforementioned proposed A.I., or other involvement in the Commission's day-to-day operations, may implicate the 75-day billable cap in the Commission's fiscal year 2021 budget. See https://www.usccr.gov/pubs/2020/FY2021-Congressional-Budget-Justification.pdf.

Section 11.02 of the current A.I. 1-6 references a Hearing Report form, however it is unclear whether the Commission actually utilizes this form. This form certifies a numerical balance of witnesses with opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, and could safeguard that witnesses and panelists are ideologically balanced. However, such a form could also be used to impede in the selection of panelists for briefings and undermine the benefit the collaborative working relationship. OCRE already works with the lead Special Assistant/Commissioner regarding witness and panelist selection. Adding a new form or a new layer in the selection process would further delay the creation of panels and delay the release of the final report.

Logistically the proposed A.I. presents a number of potential scheduling issues for Commission staff. As written, it is unclear when Commissioners' ability to suggest witnesses ends, which may result in OCRE being unable to prepare a final witness or panelist roster/list. Commissioner selection of panelists and witnesses will also likely increase negotiation and debate among Commissioners, which could result in delays in confirming attendance. Additionally, having a roster/list being selected by Commissioners and staff could result in the need for briefings and hearings lasting multiple days, which will increase costs.

Lastly, while it is understandable that that Commissioners want to play a larger role in the selection process, they should do so by negotiating with each other prior to panelists suggestions being sent to OCRE. They should continue to work with OCRE to have diverse and objective panelists instead of attempting to force a selection reflecting their individual viewpoint. It is the view of the staff that unilateral Commissioner selection of witnesses and panelists would constrain OCRE's ability to collect bipartisan testimony and prohibit OCRE's ability to act independently. The panelist and witness evaluation process is independent of the Commissioners final assessment and report of civil rights enforcement. Further, OCRE remains committed to work with Commissioners regarding their recommendations and will continue to strive to accommodate the recommended expert or fact witness or panelist.

Commissioners provide no evidence, justification or rational for the necessity and creation of this A.I. As a consequence, the Staff Director and Executive Committee recommends that this A.I. be withdrawn from further consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

D. Conclusion

The following are the recommendations of the Commission professional staff:

- Commissioners discuss and take a recorded vote on bipartisan appointments to other Federal entities or revise the proposed A.I. for Commission appointments;
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Stakeholder Interviews; and,
- Commissioners withdraw from further consideration the proposed A.I. on Witnesses.

Yes we will. Mauro just had to make everything more difficult. We'll also have to amend the agenda to reflect that we're passing that AI about the EAC, not whatever garbage Mauro has dreamed up.

COMMISSION APPOINTMENTS TO OTHER FEDERAL ENTITIES

.01 Any authority specifically granted the Commission of Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc. shall be exercised by the Commission Chairperson in consultation with all members of the commission.~~as a whole by majority vote~~.

Commented [AR1]: Dave and Debo disagree with adopting a new AI to control the appointments process going forward. They believe commitments to an appointments process can be made through a different vehicle that would not bind future Commissions

(2) The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities.

Hi everyone,

Please see the attached revised EAC AI. It incorporates changes discussed by Pete, Gail, Norma, and Yaki yesterday, removes the requirement that nominees to the EAC be members of the Commission, and adds Debo's language that any nominees "be ready, able, and willing to serve". Pete is going to send this to Norma, and hopefully all goes well.

This is Debo's "baby," according to his SA. It didn't in any way substantially change the AI for us, so it seems like a minimal concession. It apparently bothers him that people get nominated for things despite the fact that they don't want the nomination. Weird, but whatever.

Dear Norma,

I've attached Michael's draft AI with the revisions we discussed regarding the Chair and Staff Director. I've also incorporated Debo's caveat that any prospective nominees be "ready, willing, and able to serve." I also removed the phrase "of their membership" from the description of the nominees. It may well be that there are not two commissioners from each caucus who are 'ready, willing, and able to serve" on the EAC, and therefore the Commission should be able to designate other individuals to serve. This does not conflict with the statute, which only states that the Commission shall designate two individuals to serve, but does not specify that they must be Commissioners. Looking forward to getting this done and confirming you as Chair tomorrow.

I've also incorporated Debo's caveat that any prospective nominees be "ready, willing, and able to serve." I also removed the phrase "of their membership" from the description of the nominees. It may well be that there are not two commissioners from each caucus who are 'ready, willing, and able to serve" on the EAC, and therefore the Commission should be able to designate other individuals to serve. This does not conflict with the statute, which only states that the Commission shall designate two individuals to serve, but does not specify that they must be Commissioners. Looking forward to getting this done and confirming you as Chair tomorrow.

Can you ask Debo if there is any red-hot election / election security person he would recommend as one of the 2 D individuals who will be presented to the R's for the EAC in July? Someone who could take on Adams or someone of his ilk to balance out the USCCR app'tment to the Board of Advisors. Dave and I were talking and we thought that would be the appropriate thing for us to do, given that we know the R's are going to do the same thing.

SACs

- In balancing stage right now

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Irena speaking to the Rs to see what we can work out before re-sending up to SD/David and vetting
- Alec to see if Chair can get on Yaki calendar re: CO and ID

Reports

- Maternal health- nothing from HHS yet; was given to June 14/15 to respond by GC; will need all hands on deck to incorporate. Vote: June 18
- FEMA- 10 panelists confirmed, 2 panels of 5 each; push out SM on twitter/LinkedIn
- Bail reform- coming along nicely; no updates/alarm

Topics

- Ds do not have any topics to propose as they all come off in Dec. '22
- Will see what Chair proposes to coalesce around those
- Will have to keep an eye out for what the Rs propose (Debo recused since he cannot do the Asian American admissions one)
- Have til June 11 to submit (2 Rs asked for more time)

Mauro update

- No update on OCRE hire though they had opened up the listing internally
- No update on tech (he had followed up with a few/Debo still waiting)

Hi all,

I'm not sure what's going on with the meeting, but wanted to flag a couple of things

- Please review the draft statement on the 100th anniversary of the Tulsa Race Massacre and let me know today if your boss would like any changes or needs more time to review. I am planning to ask Mauro to prepare the notational ballots at the end of the day today unless I hear otherwise. I have already incorporated changes from Debo, reflected in the attached version
- The Bail reform timeline has the date for the vote as August 13. Our meeting is on August 20. I have drafted an amended timeline to reflect the August 20 date, then moving the other dates back a week. I kept the publication date on November 17, because otherwise we run into Thanksgiving, and made up the time by shortening the Commissioners' final review period of the formatted version (that ends Nov. 9). I have confirmed with OCRE that it will work for them. Please let me know if this works for everyone, and Dave will offer for a vote at the June 18 meeting
- For the FY 2022 calendar, the June meeting date is not the same as the planned vote on the FEMA project, which plans the vote for June 24. We should either amend the meeting date or the FEMA timeline
- Juana, Dave would like an update on gift authority remaining in our appropriation. Feel free to call me anytime today.

Thanks all,
Amy

SACs
- In balancing stage right now
- Irena speaking to the Rs to see what we can work out before re-sending up to SD/David and vetting
- Alec to see if Chair can get on Yaki calendar re: CO and ID

Reports
- Maternal health- nothing from HHS yet; was given to June 14/15 to respond by GC; will need all hands on deck to incorporate. Vote: June 18
- FEMA- 10 panelists confirmed, 2 panels of 5 each; push out SM on twitter/LinkedIn
- Bail reform- coming along nicely; no updates/alarm

Topics
- Ds do not have any topics to propose as they all come off in Dec. '22
- Will see what Chair proposes to coalesce around those
- Will have to keep an eye out for what the Rs propose (Debo recused since he cannot do the Asian American admissions one)
- Have til June 11 to submit (2 Rs asked for more time)

Mauro update
- No update on OCRE hire though they had opened up the listing internally
- No update on tech (he had followed up with a few/Debo still waiting)
- No budget update though we need status + dates; gift authority

Hi all,

I'm not sure what's going on with the meeting, but wanted to flag a couple of things

- Please review the draft statement on the 100th anniversary of the Tulsa Race Massacre and let me know today if your boss would like any changes or needs more time to review. I am planning to ask Mauro to prepare the notational ballots at the end of the day today unless I hear otherwise. I have already incorporated changes from Debo, reflected in the attached version
- The Bail reform timeline has the date for the vote as August 13. Our meeting is on August 20. I have drafted an amended timeline to reflect the August 20 date, then moving the other dates back a week. I kept the publication date on November 17, because otherwise we run into Thanksgiving, and made up the time by shortening the Commissioners' final review period of the formatted version (that ends Nov. 9). I have confirmed with OCRE that it will work for them. Please let me know if this works for everyone, and Dave will offer for a vote at the June 18 meeting

- For the FY 2022 calendar, the June meeting date is not the same as the planned vote on the FEMA project, which plans the vote for June 24. We should either amend the meeting date or the FEMA timeline
- Juana, Dave would like an update on gift authority remaining in our appropriation. Feel free to call me anytime today.

Thanks all,
Amy

Board of Advisors Membership Appointments

Dear Mr. Morales,

This letter is to follow up on the previous letter sent on March 5, 2021 concerning the United States Commission on Civil Rights' representatives to the Unites States Election Assistance Commission (EAC) Board of Advisors. Under Section 214 of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), your organization is authorized to appoint two members to this federal advisory committee. The members serve two-year terms and are not term limited.

Your current representatives are:

Mr. Michael Yaki
Mr. David Kladney

The terms of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights' designated representatives expired on April 13, 2021, coinciding with the renewal of the Board of Advisor's Charter. To date we have not received notice from the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights of its designated representatives for the term running from April 13, 2021 – April 13, 2023. Please use the enclosed Notice of Representation form to advise us of your designated representatives to serve on the EAC Board of Advisors for this two-year term. In compliance with HAVA, appointments must be made "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." 52 U.S.C § 20944(b).

Please return this completed form by email to krayburn@eac.gov.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. If we can be of assistance, please feel free to contact us at 202-740-6546 or krayburn@eac.gov.

We have discussed nominations informally, and need to move to written, formal levels. This means I will give the Commissioners a week to send you the 2 nominations from each Caucus; follow up with an ethics check, and then allow 24 hours to reply with the Caucus strikes.
If this goes smoothly, you can get the two finalists to the EAC within 10 days from now. Could you please request David Ganz to be on call for an ethics check on the nominations when you get them?

I can look in the share drive, but I wonder if an ethics check is within our jurisdiction or the EAC's? Are we in the position to do an ethics check - we don't know the EAC's issues or work/projects.

Does the Chair know for certain or has she received communication from the EAC's GC that we need to do this? Maybe we have a call with their GC to find out what's required on our end.

Hi,
We have discussed nominations informally, and need to move to written, formal levels. This means I will give the Commissioners a week to send you the 2 nominations from each Caucus; follow up with an ethics check, and then allow 24 hours to reply with the Caucus strikes.
If this goes smoothly, you can get the two finalists to the EAC within 10 days from now.

Could you please request David Ganz to be on call for an ethics check on the nominations when you get them?

Hey Pilar, could you reach out to EAC and see if we should do any vetting or 'ethics' check of our appointees to their advisory committee? Given that anyone, including non-Commissioner members of the public, could be appointed, I am not sure how we could vet them or do an ethics check since we don't know what the EAC advisory committee does or studies. Of course, we could always send them a generic ethics checklist, but I am not sure to what we compare their responses.

Hey Pilar, could you reach out to EAC and see if we should do any vetting or 'ethics' check of our appointees to their advisory committee? Given that anyone, including non-Commissioner members of the public, could be appointed, I am not sure how we could vet them or do an ethics check since we don't know what the EAC advisory committee does or studies. Of course, we could always send them a generic ethics checklist, but I am not sure to what we compare their responses.

EAC GC Kevin Rayburn has previously been in touch with us. KRayburn@eac.gov Mobile: (202) 740-6546

Maybe we try to have a caucus call as early as possible next week to facilitate a discussion and vote among our 4? I have not yet discussed this with Michael. Thoughts?

Good Morning Juana,

Unfortunately Commissioner Adegbile will not be able to connect with the Chair today regarding the EAC nominations.
As you know we have nominated 3 people for the EAC who are all willing and able to serve (we have provided these nominations to the caucus and Mauro) . Please let me know if you have any questions and if I could be helpful in any way.

ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION __- __

Section 1.
.01 Any authority specifically granted the Commission of Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc. shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote.

Section 2
.02

(1) For the two (2) appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, Board of Advisors pursuant to 52 U.S.C. 20944, the members appointed by Democratic authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership.

(2) The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities

(3) The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1.

Commented [DG1]: It is recommended that the "etcetera" is explicitly defined.

Commented [DG2]: The authorizing statute for the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys reserves to the Staff Director the appointing authority for 1 member. See https://www.congress.gov/bill/116th-congress/house-bill/1636/text?q=%7B%22search%22%3A%5B%22%5B2018-09-28+TO+2018-09-28%5D%22%5D%7D, Sec 3(6). This is contrary to the foregoing and revision is necessary. Non-concur.

Commented [DG3]: What about Commissioners who are Independents or members of other political parties?

Commented [DG4]: This could be accomplished by a Commission vote rather than A.I.

52 U.S.C. § 20944 requires Board of Advisor appointments to be bipartisan in nature and so this is redundant.

Further, under 45 CFR § 702.51(c) Meeting means the deliberations of at least the number of Commissioners required to take action on behalf of the Commission where such deliberations determine or result in the joint conduct or disposition of official Commission business and therefore this regulation already provides for a voting requirement for appointments to other federal entities.

Commented [DG5]: Discussion point: does this require the SD's signature to be valid? APA provides little guidance. What is other legal authority that SD or Commissioners do or don't need to sign it to make it effective? Our Agency head is not clear under our statute and thus who signatory should be isn't clear. Any power could be delegated under 5 USC 302, but need to identify the Agency head first.

Hi Juana and Chair Cantu,

In the past few days I have received several emails about the EAC appointments. I understand that one of the caucuses hasn't finalized its two selections as outlined in the below AI and Mauro' email. The 'ethics check' isn't prescribed by the below AI. OGC held a call with General Counsel of the EAC and would like to meet with you to discuss the requested ethics check. What is your availability tomorrow and Wednesday? Thanks,

David

That is a good idea and each caucus should send me their final selection. There are no real procedures since this is the first time we've done this. It would be simpler if each caucus provides me with their selection rather than each commissioner provide me their individual vote on the different candidates that I would then have to account for and tally. I shouldn't have a part of the caucus votes for the final candidates. Each caucus should make their own selection and then send it to me which I can then schedule for a final vote by all Commissioners to send to the EAC.

Christian, you are the voting expert - do you think Yaki or Allison Riggs is a less damaging choice?

As I understand the AI, each side must make a final selection from the other's two nominations. The final two selections then go forward to be ratified with a vote from all Commissioners.

AI language:

Section 1.
.01 Any authority specifically granted the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc., shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote.

.02 Any authority specifically granted the Staff Director of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc., shall be exercised by the Staff Director.

.03 Any authority specifically granted the Chair of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc., shall be exercised by the Chair.

Section 2
.02
(1) For the two (2) appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic authorities shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve.

Christian, you are the voting expert - do you think Yaki or Allison Riggs is a less damaging choice?

Carissa,

Will the conservative caucus be informing me when they have made their selection of one of the two candidates to the EAC? I have received the selection from the progressive caucus. I intend to announce the selections in a joint email so both sides can see each other's final selection at the same time. I will then schedule a vote to confirm the two selections to send to the EAC. Per the preference of Commissioners, I can schedule the confirming vote either as a notational vote or as a regular vote on August 20th. Thank you for your assistance.

I am willing to go with Christian's recommendation on this UNLESS he thinks it's a close case. If he thinks it's a close case AND IF we have reason to believe that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian, THEN I think we should consider a bit of reciprocity and let Yaki have the job. My impression is that he wants it. If it's really close to six of one half dozen of the other, pleasing him has its benefits.

Of course, so far the evidence is running against the possibility that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian. If they had vetoed Cleta, my guess is that they would have wanted us to know that. Nevertheless, if this is a close case, it would be a good idea to try to find out what the Progressives did.

I am willing to go with Christian's recommendation on this UNLESS he thinks it's a close case. If he thinks it's a close case AND IF we have reason to believe that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian, THEN I think we should consider a bit of reciprocity and let Yaki have the job. My impression is that he wants it. If it's really close to six of one half dozen of the other, pleasing him has its benefits.

Of course, so far the evidence is running against the possibility that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian. If they had vetoed Cleta, my guess is that they would have wanted us to know that. Nevertheless, if this is a close case, it would be a good idea to try to find out what the Progressives did.

I think we're all willing to defer to Christian on this. But a meeting is still useful to hear from him if 11:00 works. I'm sure it will be brief.

In your memo you concluded "you may exercise your appointment authority to fill those vacancies anytime between August 9, 2021, and December 27, 2021."

If Mauro doesn't make an appointment by December 27, can a meeting occur? Under the statute, as long as quorum is present, there can be vacancies, right? I researched whether there has ever been a lawsuit to enjoin or force the President to make an appointment, but couldn't find anything. See https://www.pogo.org/analysis/2019/08/the-dangers-of-chronic-federal-vacancies/.

That is a good idea and each caucus should send me their final selection. There are no real procedures since this is the first time we've done this. It would be simpler if each caucus provides me with their selection rather than each commissioner provide me their individual vote on the different candidates that I would then have to account for and tally. I shouldn't have a part of the caucus votes for the final candidates. Each caucus should make their own selection and then send it to me which I can then schedule for a final vote by all Commissioners to send to the EAC.

Dear Mauro,
Thank you for the news. Each caucus has performed its duty under the AI.
I see no need to add this to the business meeting.
Notational vote will suffice.

Since you were selected and the other candidate was not, they should not become the final nominee by default. That is a good question. It is a decision for Commissioners in consultation with the Chair to decide how they wish to proceed. Adams is welcome to make a motion to amend the agenda to request a discussion and a vote. If the majority supports his motion it can be added to agenda. In the alternative, if Commissioners desire to proceed by notational vote and no one objects then a notational vote can occur. As I have requested previously, please advise me how you wish to proceed. I recommend Commissioners express their desire to the Chair since the Chair controls the agenda.

Dear John, Juana, and others,
I have already heard on Tuesday an objection from a Commissioner regarding using the notational vote to address the confirming of the EAC candidates. The concern, I understand, is that more discussion is needed on important items, such as length of term, duties to report back to USCCR, etc.
Since one objection stops the notational process, it will take a vote at a meeting to confirm.
I would welcome it if Commissioner Adams or others wish to make a motion at the meeting to add this item to the agenda.

2:02 p.m.

OPERATOR: Good day and welcome to the Commission business meeting.

Today's conference is being recorded.

At this time, I would like to turn the conference over to Co-Hosts Commissioner Michael Yaki and Commissioner Peter Kirsanow. Please go ahead.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thanks very much.

This is a meeting of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, and it is currently 2:02 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time, and the meeting is taking place over the phone.

I'm Commissioner Kirsanow. I'll be co-chairing the meeting with Commissioner Michael Yaki.

I'll now call the roll.

Commissioner Adams, are you present?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Present.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Present.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Present.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Present.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I'm here.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Here.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Here.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And Kirsanow is also present, and a quorum of the Commissioners is present.

Do we have a court reporter?

COURT REPORTER: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And the Staff Director. Mauro, present?

MR. MORALES: I am present.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thank you.

All right. The meeting of the Civil Rights Commission will come to order.

I. OMNIBUS MOTION TO APPROVE COMMISSIONER NORMA CANTU TO SERVE AS CHAIR AND TO APPROVE THREE ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTIONS

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And the first item on the agenda is an omnibus motion to confirm Commissioner Norma Cantu as the Chair, as well as making certain changes to the Commission's procedures.

I.D. TO APPROVE COMMISSIONER NORMA CANTU TO SERVE AS USCCR CHAIR

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: During our April 16th meeting, Commissioner Cantu confirmed that, if confirmed as Chair, she'll discontinue the Speaker Series that was in place for a while under the previous Chair, and that Commissioner Cantu will always vote to maintain the Commission's tradition of 30 days for Commissioners' statements, 30 days for rebuttals, and, if necessary, 10 days for surrebuttals. So, we don't need to revisit that today.

Therefore, I move, along with Co-Chair Commissioner Yaki, that the Commission confirm Norma Cantu as Chair; that the Commission adopt a Memorandum of Understanding regarding the appointment of members to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors, and that the Commission adopt revisions to Administrative Instruction 1.

I'll read these into the record. Be patient. This will take a couple of minutes.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I.A. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION REGARDING APPOINTMENTS BY THE COMMISSION

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: First, the Memorandum of Understanding regarding the appointment of members to the EAC Board of Advisors, Section 1.01, reads:

"Any authority not specifically granted the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote."

Paragraph .02. "Any authority specifically granted the Staff Director of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, tasks forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Staff Director."

Paragraph .03. "Any authority specifically granted the Chair of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Chair."

"Section 2.02(1). For the two appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic appointees shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve."

Subparagraph (2). "The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities."

Subparagraph (3). "The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1."

I.B. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON INTERVIEWS WITH EXTERNAL FACT WITNESSES

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Next, I'll read into the record the new section of AI 1 regarding

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

witness interviews by staff. The Staff Director shall ensure that this provision is codified in the appropriate place of AI 1, and it reads as follows:

"As the staff persons arrange for interviews of external fact witnesses or experts for the purpose of informing writing of reports, et cetera, the Commissioners will be given notice of the names and titles of proposed witnesses, so that the Commissioners and their Special Assistants can observe the interview firsthand. The observations will help the Commissioners better understand the subject matters covered, and enable the Commissioner to conduct and follow up with questions of the witnesses. If more than one Commissioner (or Commissioner's Special Assistant) representing Democratic or Republican appointing authorities wishes to attend, the Staff Director may limit attendance to one representative from each (provided circumstances clearly warrant such a limit)."

I.C. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON WITNESSES AT HEARINGS AND BRIEFINGS

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Finally, I'll read into the record the revisions to AI 1.6, and that one reads:

"Section 11. Commission Hearings.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

".01 The OGC is responsible for preparing and holding Commission hearings. This includes ensuring that the witnesses, when viewed as a whole, possess sufficient policy, legal, academic, advocacy, and other knowledge and experience necessary for a full and balanced inquiry into the issues."

Paragraph .02. "To document that hearing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Hearing Reports form. By completing this form, OSD certifies that the hearing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the hearing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist are provided to the external reviewer."

Paragraph .03. "Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate hearing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for hearing witnesses. Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings."

Paragraph .04. We're almost there. That's not part of the AI. "OGC prepares hearing proposals, design or implementation plans, and briefing or background books. When preparing hearing proposals this office shall demonstrate a consideration of varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives. This office also verifies the accuracy of transcripts, drafts hearing reports, and maintains official hearing records."

Paragraph .05. "OGC is responsible for supplying a complete and correct transcript with appropriate exhibits to OSD and ASCD for publication. Hearing transcripts do not require editorial review."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Paragraph .06. "The hearing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the hearing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request."

Paragraph "Section 12. Commission Briefings."

Subparagraph .01. "Briefings are used by the Commission to provide Commissioners and the general public insight into civil rights without the formality of a hearing. Any program office may be assigned responsibility for conducting a briefing by the Staff Director."

Paragraph .02. "Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate briefing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for briefing witnesses. Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners jointly request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings."

".03 Commissioners are provided a proposed final list of briefing presenters for approval. To document that the briefing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Briefing Reports form. By completing this part of the form, OSD certifies that the briefing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the briefing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV of this form is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist is provided to the external reviewer."

Finally, ".04 The briefing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the briefing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request."

Kirsanow now pauses for a drink of vodka.

(Laughter.)

And that's the motion. Is there a second?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes, second. Adams.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Okay. The floor is open for discussion, and I turn it over to Commissioner Yaki.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you very much, Co-Chair Kirsanow.

First, I have a point of clarification. You had indicated that the first document that you read, which was on the appointments issue, was a Memorandum of Understanding, but I actually believe that is an Administrative Instruction. Is that not correct?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes, that's right.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes. Okay. So, I wanted to clarify that for the record.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Secondly, for those

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

of you who were listening, the last document that Commissioner Kirsanow read, Section 11.01, Section 11.03, Section 12.02 were the only sections of that entire document that were amended. The rest remain intact as current Commission policy. I just wanted to clarify that for people who were listening in.

So, there has been a motion and a second. I am first going to do a little parliamentary moving, which is I think we need to first move to accept, approve and amend the agenda.

II. APPROVAL OF AGENDA

COMMISSIONER YAKI: So, I am going to set aside the first motion for the time being and first ask, is there a motion to approve the agenda?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: So moved. So moved. Adams.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Adams moves to approve the agenda. Is there a second?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Second. Gilchrist.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Second by Commissioner Gilchrist.

On the motion to approve the agenda -- we still have time to amend the agenda -- but on the motion to approve the agenda, so we have this before us, is there any discussion?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Wait. I thought you had to do amendments first?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: No. Well, I would rather have the agenda approved first, and then, amend the agenda. And then, we'd move on the agenda as approved.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I don't think that's the right way to do that.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Well, that may be, but I'm going to put the extra vote in, just to make sure that no one can argue that we didn't follow strict rules.

So, on the order to approve the agenda now, I'm going to call the roll.

Commissioner Kirsanow, since you have the roll sheet, could you call the roll?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Sure.

Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And this is Kirsanow. I say "yes," also.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you.

There are 8 ayes, no objections.

The agenda is now before us. Is there a motion to approve, to amend the agenda --

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: I believe, Commissioner Yaki, I think there were 7 ayes and 1 nay.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Oh, 1 nay. I'm sorry. 7 ayes, 7 yeses; 1 no.

Okay. Now we will take before us the motion to amend the agenda to put forth an omnibus motion that will approve both Commissioner, that will approve Commissioner Cantu as Chair of the United States Commission on Civil Rights, as well as approve the three Administrative Instructions that were read into the record by Commissioner Kirsanow.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

III. AMENDMENTS TO THE AGENDA

COMMISSIONER YAKI: It has been moved, it has been seconded, moved by Commissioner Kirsanow, seconded by Commissioner Adams.

Is there any discussion?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Commissioner Adegbile.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Adegbile, the floor is yours.

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Yes, I would have preferred that we move item by item and not have these things as an omnibus because there may be pieces that are acceptable and pieces that are unacceptable; and thus, it makes it hard to parse those things out. Because we're proceeding in omnibus fashion, it will affect my vote, though, obviously, I support Commissioner Cantu in her effort to chair our Commission in service of the people of the United States. But the omnibus motion will have impact on the way I will be voting.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you, Commissioner Adegbile.

Is there any further discussion?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Dave Kladney.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: I concur with Commissioner Adegbile's assessment here, and this omnibus motion will affect my vote the same way. Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you, Commissioner Kladney.

If you can hang on just one second?

Is there any further discussion?

MR. MORALES: Staff Director Mauro Morales requests permission to address the Commissioners.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Without objection, I will recognize Staff Director Morales.

MR. MORALES: Thank you, Commissioner. I appreciate the time.

I wanted to let you know that, and all the Commissioners know, that I and the Executive Committee have no opinion on the AI or the MOU about appointments to external commissions that the Commissioners are considering.

I will say that the Staff Director and the Executive Committee believe the proposed AIs concerning OCR witness selection and witness interviews -- I believe they're designated as AI 1 and AI 1.6 -- inappropriately conflict with existing Administrative Instructions and Commission regulations. Furthermore, we believe that they unreasonably create programmatic and operations problems for the Commission.

Commissioners provided no evidence, justification, or rationale for the necessity and the creation of these two AIs. As a consequence, the Staff Director and the Executive Committee respectfully object to them and recommend that these AIs be withdrawn from further consideration.

We thank you for your time and your consideration. Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you very much.

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Just one second. I just trying to get my phone back into where it should be.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thank you, Staff Director Morales.

Commissioner Kladney, were you speaking?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes, Commissioner Yaki.

I would like to move to sever the items into individual votes.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you.

The motion to sever is a privileged motion and is not debatable or subject to a vote. So, we will have to take an individual vote on each one of these items.

However, in the discretion of the Co-Chair, I'm going to take them up in the order that I deem.

So, I'm going to first start with the AI on the Administrative Instruction regarding appointments by the Commission. That individual Instruction is before us.

And, Commissioner Kirsanow, would you please call the roll?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: I'm sorry, are we voting on individual -- I'm lost as to what we're voting on right now. Are we voting on a separate issue or the omnibus?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Well, the issue is

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

that each of these items are individual items. They are put together as an omnibus. However, a Commissioner -- because they were originally noticed as individual items on the agenda, and the motion that you put and seconded and was put on the agenda was to combine them all into a single motion, a motion to sever, under Robert's Rules, is a privileged motion that is non-debatable and is -- well, it's self-executing. The Commission has actually done that before on previous occasions.

What I'm going to do, though, is call on AIs --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No, it's not self-executing.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: It is self-executing.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No, it's not.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: And if you would listen to me for a second, I am going to call the AIs first prior to the vote for Commissioner Cantu as Chair.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Okay.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: But it's not self-executing. It's non-debatable. Nothing is self-executing. But --

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER YAKI: But a motion to sever actually --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: -- it's out of order, but that's okay with me.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay. But I will tell you, under Robert's Rules, which is something I know you care about, a motion to sever is self-executing.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: But it's not a motion, and that's --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: It is a motion to sever.

Anyway, that being the case --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Well, hold on. Hold on. Hold on. Okay. Are you saying that we are voting on the motion to sever --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: No.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: -- or are you saying we are voting on the AI?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: We are voting on the AIs. And then, we will proceed to a vote on Commissioner Cantu, because the motion to sever is not something that is subject to a vote. I guess you would call it a request to sever, but it is one that, under Robert's Rules, is --

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: -- is a privilege of --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I'm willing to let this go right now, but no.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay. Well, I would disagree, and we can look it up, since you love Robert's Rules so much.

So, Commissioner --

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Co-Chair Yaki, point of parliamentary inquiry. It's Commissioner Adams.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, Commissioner Adams.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Could you, for the record, tell us, because I can't find it, where is the request to sever in Robert's Rules?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Because if we do this in the order you're saying, let's just go.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Well, it's a point of parliamentary inquiry. I made a point of parliamentary inquiry, and I'm just asking, what is the number of Robert's Rules? Just help me find it. I can't find it.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: I'll find it, but

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I'll find it later.

As the Chair, I'm exercise my call.

So, Commissioner Kirsanow, on Administrative Instruction, Commissioner Kirsanow, would you please call the roll?

I.A. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION REGARDING APPOINTMENTS BY THE COMMISSION

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adams, how do you vote?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And I vote aye.

It is 6-to-2 aye.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you.

The Administrative Instruction on Commission appointments is passed.

Next, we will hear or we will have a vote on the Administrative Instruction on -- sorry, I have to put these all in order -- on the proposed AI on interviews with external fact witnesses. That was read into the record by Commissioner Kirsanow.

I.B. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON INTERVIEWS WITH EXTERNAL FACT WITNESSES

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Would you please call the roll?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And I vote yes.

The motion passes 6-to-2.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: The motion on the Administrative Instruction on interviewing external fact witnesses passes 6-to-2.

We will now move to the last Administrative Instruction on witnesses at hearings and briefings, as read by Commissioner Kirsanow.

I.C. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON WITNESSES AT HEARING AND BRIEFINGS

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Would you please call the roll?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And Kirsanow votes yes.

Passes 6-to-2.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: The Administrative

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Instruction on witnesses for briefings and hearings is hereby passed.

Finally, we come to the motion to confirm Commissioner Norma Cantu as Chair of the United States Commission on Civil Rights.

I.D. TO APPROVE COMMISSIONER NORMA CANTU TO SERVE AS USCCR CHAIR

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Kirsanow, would you please call the roll in our last actions as Co-Chairs of the Commission?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Okay.

Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And I vote yes.

The motion passes 8-to-0.

And, Chairperson Cantu, congratulations. We'll pass the scepter to you.

(Applause.)

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you very much.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Congratulations.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

I really want to thank the White House, the U.S. Congress, the U.S. Senate, the Commissioners, those of you we call the "Group of Four" who were able to look very seriously at these matters of process. And I know that the result is one that will ultimately adhere. And we did work hard together to get to this place.

I also want to thank the Special Assistants, the staff who set up this call, all our staff, and your families who spared you all, so that we could get the Commission's work done.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

For those of you who are listening, this is what it looks like to be respectful. This is what it looks like to show that we can disagree, but do it in a very professional way. And I want to thank everyone on this call for providing this teachable moment for our audience.

We have an agenda that's been amended in terms of handling the first item. As a matter of procedure, I want to circle back to all the Commissioners.

III. AMENDMENTS TO THE AGENDA

CHAIR CANTU: Are there other items on the agenda that you need addressed today?

(No response.)

Hearing none, I would ask that --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Wait. I'm sorry, I was on mute. I was on mute, Commissioner Cantu.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay. I hear you. I hear you. Please. That is why I offered -- this is my listening, and next time I will listen longer.

Do we have other items on today's agenda? Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Cantu, I would simply say this: there are items on the agenda that I think have been adequately noticed and need to be addressed. However, in the interest of deferring to some concerns by my colleagues, I would ask that, if they are not discussed today, that they be subjected to a notational vote at their earliest convenience.

For me, especially the statement on Asian American/Pacific Islander hate and the continued concerns and struggles of our community with regard to the uptick in hate crimes, bias, and prejudice, stemming from or incited by the coronavirus pandemic, is one that continues to -- I think we need to reiterate to the new Administration our concerns, and I would like this addressed at the earliest possible convenience and by a notational vote, but I defer to my colleagues who have expressed some desire to have a shorter meeting today.

CHAIR CANTU: I'm sorry, are you making a motion, Commissioner Yaki, or are you suggesting an alternative way that we handle it?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, I was simply saying that I would like it to be moved on today. And so, I would like to move it. But if there is no second because of concerns of time, then I would simply ask the Chair, at her discretion, to put it on for a notational ballot approval at her earliest convenience.

I will formally move to take from the agenda Item III.B., the statement on Asian American hate, and ask for it to be approved today. If not, then it be brought up at the earliest convenience by the Chair for a notational vote.

CHAIR CANTU: We're discussing amending today's agenda. So, we have a motion to discuss today the Asian American statement.

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Kladney seconds. Kladney seconds.

CHAIR CANTU: Discussion?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Madam Chair, I'm getting a little confused here.

CHAIR CANTU: The motion is --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Is the motion about whether or not we're going to discuss this or whether or not we're removing it from the agenda? I'm just getting confused.

CHAIR CANTU: We're still talking about the agenda. Do we want to keep this on today's agenda?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: My understanding is that some of my colleagues were going to offer an amendment, and that works better on the agenda than

it does by notational vote.

CHAIR CANTU: Are you offering a friendly amendment to a motion that's been seconded on keeping it on today's agenda? Or are you agreeing --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: That's just a reason to vote yes or no.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I mean, if there's going to be an amendment, then it's better to discuss it today --

CHAIR CANTU: Okay.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: -- than by notational vote, which doesn't lend itself to that very well.

CHAIR CANTU: I understand that.

By the way, the rule on dividing a question into subparts was 27.1.

So, any other discussion about going forward with adding the Asian American statement to today's agenda?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Chairman Cantu, Christian Adams.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: I don't have a strong view either way. I would urge Commissioner

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Yaki to take a look. There might be some fixes. There's some typos in the document, such as I think the last sentence in one of the documents, that I would have a better time dealing with it if those were fixed. And that may be a notational vote. I don't really have a view on that because there's some typos.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay. Thank you for that consideration.

Look, I just want to express my view that we wanted to get this thing done. I'm going to withdraw my motion for the time being, since I think I confused everyone. So, I am going to withdraw my motion.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you, Commissioner Yaki.

Other items that -- let me see if I can move this along. The rest of the items, C, D, E, were part of the vote that just took place. So, I can I use the discretion of the Chair to say we've already dealt with those items? That would be the rebuttals, Speaker Series, appointments.

Any objection to that?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: How did we deal with them, Madam Chair?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: In the meeting two weeks ago, I made a statement regarding the Speaker Series. In today's AI, we had an AI on the rebuttal/surrebuttal that passed. And on the appointments, we had a vote today on the bipartisan appointment that passed.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: We haven't dealt with the Walter Williams thing.

CHAIR CANTU: Right. Do I hear a motion to keep that on today's agenda for discussion?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: It's already there.

CHAIR CANTU: It's already there.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: It's been noticed a couple of times, you're correct.

IV. BUSINESS MEETING

CHAIR CANTU: So, at this point, I'm open to a motion and a second, so that we can have discussion on the Walter Williams memorial.

IV.A. DISCUSSION AND VOTE ON STATEMENT OF WALTER E. WILLIAMS

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Okay. I move that we adopt the Walter Williams memorial.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Kirsanow seconds.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: I'm sorry, who seconded?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Kirsanow.

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow.

Commissioner Heriot moves, Commissioner Kirsanow seconds.

We are in discussion.

For those who are listening, in the past the individual Commissioners have been able to submit names of persons that they intend to recognize. It is not a policymaking. It is a statement and sign of respect.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Madam Chair?

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: If you want, I'll talk about this. But, you know, it's just we've done this routinely now. I have voted for many of these when there have been people who have done significant work in this area.

This is one that matters to me, in the sense that Walter Williams is a hero of mine. And I think that he's also someone that many, many people think highly of.

I don't want to extend the meeting unnecessarily. Everybody has seen this statement now several times. And so, you know, I'd like to be able to say a kind word on Dr. Williams' passing.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: You have my condolences and I offer condolences to the family.

Any other comments?

(No response.)

Could we do a voice vote or would you want to do a roll call vote? What is your preference?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Probably should do a roll call, given how confusing these things are over the phone.

CHAIR CANTU: I appreciate that.

Is there any further discussion? Does someone want to call the question?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Adams. Call the question.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

We've had a question. The question is an aye vote supports the draft that has been duly circulated to us to honor Professor Walter Williams.

I would call alphabetically.

Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

CHAIR CANTU: Gilchrist?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

CHAIR CANTU: Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

CHAIR CANTU: Cantu votes no.

Please note on the record, though, that, as Chair, I am cautious about the process of recognizing people where it's not clear, and has not been clear, what our criteria have been, but I do very deeply offer my condolences to those who knew the Professor and I do offer my prayers to the family.

Can we move to the next order of business? It is the item that has been noticed, the North Carolina State Advisory Council.

It is our responsibility on the Commission -- and it's a privilege to do this -- to approve --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Point of order, Commissioner.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, please. Yes, please.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Point of order, Chair Cantu.

CHAIR CANTU: Uh-hum.

IV.B. DISCUSSION AND VOTE ON ANTI-ASIAN AMERICAN HATE

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Yaki.

One, on the item on Asian American/Pacific Islander hate, I saw the typo, "opposite" to "opposition". Thank you, Commissioner Adams for drawing that to my attention.

When I withdrew my motion, it was for consideration -- it was in light of the idea that perhaps we were going to not consider other items on the agenda and move on. But if we are considering other items on the agenda, then I wish that item to be heard in turn as Item III.B.

CHAIR CANTU: Is there an objection?

I think fair play would be we've heard from other Commissioners on their motions. So, as Chair, I'm exercising my management of time.

We will, hopefully, get these matters done pretty quickly. So, let's do our best.

On the Asian American statement regarding --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: As amended.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: As amended.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: As amended. Change the word "opposite" to "opposition".

CHAIR CANTU: Right. Your motion was seconded by?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Kladney.

CHAIR CANTU: Kladney. Thank you, Commissioner.

And discussion?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Commissioner Adams.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Commissioner Yaki, I had hoped to send a note. Take a look at that sentence because it seems to be relating to the previous Administration, but perhaps not.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: No, there's actually some continued controversy on this issue, Commissioner Adams.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Okay.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: So, I would like it to stand as is.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: All right.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Madam Chair?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: In fact, there's been some controversy as to whether it went one way or

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

backwards, or whatever. So, I think that putting our position firmly is important.

CHAIR CANTU: Who was acting to be recognized? I'm sorry. My ears --

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kirsanow.

CHAIR CANTU: Oh, thank you, Commissioner.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thank you, Madam Chair.

I would move to amend the letter to include the language to the following effect: that the federal government should withhold funding to any higher education institution if that institution has a policy in place or engages in a practice that discriminates against Asian Americans in recruitment or applicant review or admissions.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I second.

CHAIR CANTU: We have a motion --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: May I respond?

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, please.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Yaki responding.

Thank you, Commissioner Kirsanow, for that amendment. I will not accept it. This is dealing solely with the issue of the concerns regarding overt acts of bias and hate crime, as perpetrated against the Asian American community, stemming from, and incited by, in my view, the pandemic. The issue that you raise is one that I know that you care about, but I believe is not germane to this particular issue, and I ask my colleagues to oppose it.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: And it has been seconded.

CHAIR CANTU: Is there further discussion?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Madam Chair?

CHAIR CANTU: Under the rules --

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Commissioner Adegbile.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, please. Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: It's my understanding that Title VI of the Civil Rights Act already creates a power for the federal government to withhold funding if there are findings of noncompliance with federal civil rights law. And so, in my view, this suggestion adds nothing to the current legal regime.

CHAIR CANTU: So, your contribution is that the amendment is unnecessary?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: So, we need a vote on the motion to amend.

CHAIR CANTU: Has someone called the question on that motion, on the discussion on that?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: There was a motion and it was seconded.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Adams. Call the question.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

There's been a motion to amend, seconded, discussion.

Are you all ready to vote on the motion to amend to add language regarding higher education discrimination? Are you ready on that?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

So, a roll call vote would be Adams, please.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

CHAIR CANTU: Gilchrist?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

CHAIR CANTU: And I vote no.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: You forgot me.

CHAIR CANTU: Oh, sorry. Where were you?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: You didn't call my name.

CHAIR CANTU: I'm so sorry.

Okay. Help me out.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Yaki votes no.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

I saw your name and in my brain I thought I called you. I apologize.

So, we have -- I vote no. So, we have 4-4. The motion to amend does not carry.

We're back to the original motion.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, move to approve the -- move for the vote on the full motion.

CHAIR CANTU: All right. A roll call

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

vote?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, please.

CHAIR CANTU: Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Abstain.

CHAIR CANTU: Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Aye.

CHAIR CANTU: Cantu? Well, skip me until the end.

Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Gilchrist abstains.

CHAIR CANTU: Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I abstain. There's something that I agree with in the letter, but, unfortunately, not all of it. So, I'm going to have to abstain.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

Kirsanow?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Is that the famous director of "Rashomon"? Or is that Commissioner Kirsanow?

(Laughter.)

In any event, I'd rather be the director because I think he's a lot more entertaining and more important.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

But, nonetheless, Kirsanow abstains.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Curacao is actually an alcohol. Kurosawa is a Japanese director.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: It sounded like Kurosawa to me.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER YAKI: And Commissioner Yaki votes aye.

CHAIR CANTU: Did I count correctly? With the abstentions, the ayes have it?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you. Okay.

We have a little bit of time to do the North Carolina State Advisory Council motion on membership.

IV.C. DISCUSSION ON NC SAC

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: We haven't seen the list yet. So, I don't know think we can do this one.

CHAIR CANTU: I am sorry. Was the list

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

in the -- were emails exchanged? But you're right, I don't believe that we have -- did we attach a list?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No, I haven't seen one.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay, okay.

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Not the big list, no.

CHAIR CANTU: All right.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: We should do this by notational vote. I think it's going to be an easy one. It's just that we have to confirm who's in and who's not.

CHAIR CANTU: And excuse me, but it's the first time I've done a notational vote. Do I direct the Staff Director to follow that process? Or does that require a vote?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I think you can just direct the Staff Director.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay. It's administrative, finally. A short item.

Speaking of the Staff Director, could we have a brief report on the item agenda on management on operations?

IV.D. MANAGEMENT AND OPERATIONS

X STAFF DIRECTOR'S REPORT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

MR. MORALES: Congratulations on becoming the Chair, Madam Chair.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

MR. MORALES: In the interest of time, I have nothing further to add, other than is already contained in the report that was submitted to Commissioners. As always, I remain available to discuss any particular matter with a Commissioner.

And I thank you.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

Normally, there would be an item called New Business, but, in the interest of letting everyone enjoy their family and go back to their other work, are there any other matters before we entertain a motion to adjourn?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kurosawa here, or Kirsanow.

(Laughter.)

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: I just want to thank Chairperson Cantu and congratulate her for being Chair. I'm looking forward to many more meetings with you as Chair.

CHAIR CANTU: I am looking forward to

that, too -- thank you -- and to seeing you ultimately in person.

I understand Commissioner Adams will be having a one-year anniversary of his appointment next week and he's never seen the rest of you folks in person. So, these are unusual times that we're conducting business. But I'm optimistic, given the good faith shown in these conversations and the good faith shown as you all help this country through difficult times.

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Chairwoman Canto, Stephen Gilchrist here.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: I just wanted to thank, also, Commissioner Kirsanow, Commissioner Heriot, Commissioner Yaki, and yourself for the good-faith effort that you guys put into the negotiations for the Commission. I am very pleased at the work that you've come up with, and certainly, we look forward to your tenure as our Chair. So, we look forward to working with you for sure.

CHAIR CANTU: I appreciate that.

Normally, when three new Commissioners show up, there would be a like a face-to-face retreat. There's a lot of conversations about how we look to each other to work together. We all had to have those kinds of conversations with a small group of four, and that group of four does deserve to be congratulated for helping us answer our questions about how we will be respectful of everyone's points of view and how we will incorporate and listen to each other's ideas.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

So, thank you very much, Commissioner Adams and Gilchrist.

Anyone else for the good of the order?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Just congratulations from me.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you. Thank you, and I will pop a virtual bottle of champagne.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Don't get virtually drunk.

(Laughter.)

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you all for having a wonderful sense of humor, and I'm really looking forward to our time together.

V. ADJOURN MEETING

CHAIR CANTU: The meeting is adjourned.

(Whereupon, at 2:54 p.m., the meeting was adjourned.)

David – this is not what was voted on. Please see the attached transcript which shows the language that was actually voted on highlighted in yellow on pages 8-9.

Biggest difference was that what was voted on does not say "of their membership" -- so USCCR appointees to the EAC's BOA do not have to be from among the USCCR Commissioners. This was an issue debated among the Cmnrs prior to the bus mtg.

2:02 p.m.

OPERATOR: Good day and welcome to the Commission business meeting.

Today's conference is being recorded.

At this time, I would like to turn the conference over to Co-Hosts Commissioner Michael Yaki and Commissioner Peter Kirsanow. Please go ahead.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thanks very much.

This is a meeting of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, and it is currently 2:02 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time, and the meeting is taking place over the phone.

I'm Commissioner Kirsanow. I'll be co-chairing the meeting with Commissioner Michael Yaki.

I'll now call the roll.

Commissioner Adams, are you present?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Present.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Present.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Present.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I'm here.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Here.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Here.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And Kirsanow is also present, and a quorum of the Commissioners is present.

Do we have a court reporter?

COURT REPORTER: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And the Staff Director. Mauro, present?

MR. MORALES: I am present.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thank you.

All right. The meeting of the Civil Rights Commission will come to order.

I. OMNIBUS MOTION TO APPROVE COMMISSIONER NORMA CANTU TO SERVE AS CHAIR AND TO APPROVE THREE ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTIONS

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And the first item on the agenda is an omnibus motion to confirm Commissioner Norma Cantu as the Chair, as well as making certain changes to the Commission's procedures.

I.D. TO APPROVE COMMISSIONER NORMA CANTU TO SERVE AS USCCR CHAIR

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: During our April 16th meeting, Commissioner Cantu confirmed that, if confirmed as Chair, she'll discontinue the Speaker Series that was in place for a while under the previous Chair, and that Commissioner Cantu will always vote to maintain the Commission's tradition of 30 days for Commissioners' statements, 30 days for rebuttals, and, if necessary, 10 days for surrebuttals. So, we don't need to revisit that today.

Therefore, I move, along with Co-Chair Commissioner Yaki, that the Commission confirm Norma Cantu as Chair; that the Commission adopt a Memorandum of Understanding regarding the appointment of members to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors, and that the Commission adopt revisions to Administrative Instruction 1.

I'll read these into the record. Be patient. This will take a couple of minutes.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I.A. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION REGARDING APPOINTMENTS BY THE COMMISSION

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: First, the Memorandum of Understanding regarding the appointment of members to the EAC Board of Advisors, Section 1.01, reads:

"Any authority not specifically granted the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote."

Paragraph .02. "Any authority specifically granted the Staff Director of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, tasks forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Staff Director."

Paragraph .03. "Any authority specifically granted the Chair of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Chair."

"Section 2.02(1). For the two appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic appointees shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve."

Subparagraph (2). "The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities."

Subparagraph (3). "The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1."

I.B. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON INTERVIEWS WITH EXTERNAL FACT WITNESSES

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Next, I'll read into the record the new section of AI 1 regarding

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

witness interviews by staff. The Staff Director shall ensure that this provision is codified in the appropriate place of AI 1, and it reads as follows:

"As the staff persons arrange for interviews of external fact witnesses or experts for the purpose of informing writing of reports, et cetera, the Commissioners will be given notice of the names and titles of proposed witnesses, so that the Commissioners and their Special Assistants can observe the interview firsthand. The observations will help the Commissioners better understand the subject matters covered, and enable the Commissioner to conduct and follow up with questions of the witnesses. If more than one Commissioner (or Commissioner's Special Assistant) representing Democratic or Republican appointing authorities wishes to attend, the Staff Director may limit attendance to one representative from each (provided circumstances clearly warrant such a limit)."

I.C. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON WITNESSES AT HEARINGS AND BRIEFINGS

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Finally, I'll read into the record the revisions to AI 1.6, and that one reads:

"Section 11. Commission Hearings.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

".01 The OGC is responsible for preparing and holding Commission hearings. This includes ensuring that the witnesses, when viewed as a whole, possess sufficient policy, legal, academic, advocacy, and other knowledge and experience necessary for a full and balanced inquiry into the issues."

Paragraph .02. "To document that hearing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Hearing Reports form. By completing this form, OSD certifies that the hearing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the hearing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist are provided to the external reviewer."

Paragraph .03. "Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate hearing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for hearing witnesses. Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings."

Paragraph .04. We're almost there. That's not part of the AI. "OGC prepares hearing proposals, design or implementation plans, and briefing or background books. When preparing hearing proposals this office shall demonstrate a consideration of varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives. This office also verifies the accuracy of transcripts, drafts hearing reports, and maintains official hearing records."

Paragraph .05. "OGC is responsible for supplying a complete and correct transcript with appropriate exhibits to OSD and ASCD for publication. Hearing transcripts do not require editorial review."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Paragraph .06. "The hearing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the hearing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request."

Paragraph "Section 12. Commission Briefings."

Subparagraph .01. "Briefings are used by the Commission to provide Commissioners and the general public insight into civil rights without the formality of a hearing. Any program office may be assigned responsibility for conducting a briefing by the Staff Director."

Paragraph .02. "Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate briefing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for briefing witnesses. Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners jointly request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings."

".03 Commissioners are provided a proposed final list of briefing presenters for approval. To document that the briefing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Briefing Reports form. By completing this part of the form, OSD certifies that the briefing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the briefing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV of this form is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist is provided to the external reviewer."

Finally, ".04 The briefing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the briefing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request."

Kirsanow now pauses for a drink of vodka.

(Laughter.)

And that's the motion. Is there a second?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes, second. Adams.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Okay. The floor is open for discussion, and I turn it over to Commissioner Yaki.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you very much, Co-Chair Kirsanow.

First, I have a point of clarification. You had indicated that the first document that you read, which was on the appointments issue, was a Memorandum of Understanding, but I actually believe that is an Administrative Instruction. Is that not correct?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes, that's right.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes. Okay. So, I wanted to clarify that for the record.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Secondly, for those

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

of you who were listening, the last document that Commissioner Kirsanow read, Section 11.01, Section 11.03, Section 12.02 were the only sections of that entire document that were amended. The rest remain intact as current Commission policy. I just wanted to clarify that for people who were listening in.

So, there has been a motion and a second. I am first going to do a little parliamentary moving, which is I think we need to first move to accept, approve and amend the agenda.

II. APPROVAL OF AGENDA

COMMISSIONER YAKI: So, I am going to set aside the first motion for the time being and first ask, is there a motion to approve the agenda?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: So moved. So moved. Adams.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Adams moves to approve the agenda. Is there a second?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Second. Gilchrist.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Second by Commissioner Gilchrist.

On the motion to approve the agenda -- we still have time to amend the agenda -- but on the motion to approve the agenda, so we have this before us, is there any discussion?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Wait. I thought you had to do amendments first?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: No. Well, I would rather have the agenda approved first, and then, amend the agenda. And then, we'd move on the agenda as approved.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I don't think that's the right way to do that.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Well, that may be, but I'm going to put the extra vote in, just to make sure that no one can argue that we didn't follow strict rules.

So, on the order to approve the agenda now, I'm going to call the roll.

Commissioner Kirsanow, since you have the roll sheet, could you call the roll?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Sure.

Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And this is Kirsanow. I say "yes," also.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you.

There are 8 ayes, no objections.

The agenda is now before us. Is there a motion to approve, to amend the agenda --

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: I believe, Commissioner Yaki, I think there were 7 ayes and 1 nay.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Oh, 1 nay. I'm sorry. 7 ayes, 7 yeses; 1 no.

Okay. Now we will take before us the motion to amend the agenda to put forth an omnibus motion that will approve both Commissioner, that will approve Commissioner Cantu as Chair of the United States Commission on Civil Rights, as well as approve the three Administrative Instructions that were read into the record by Commissioner Kirsanow.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

III. AMENDMENTS TO THE AGENDA

COMMISSIONER YAKI: It has been moved, it has been seconded, moved by Commissioner Kirsanow, seconded by Commissioner Adams.

Is there any discussion?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Commissioner Adegbile.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Adegbile, the floor is yours.

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Yes, I would have preferred that we move item by item and not have these things as an omnibus because there may be pieces that are acceptable and pieces that are unacceptable; and thus, it makes it hard to parse those things out. Because we're proceeding in omnibus fashion, it will affect my vote, though, obviously, I support Commissioner Cantu in her effort to chair our Commission in service of the people of the United States. But the omnibus motion will have impact on the way I will be voting.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you, Commissioner Adegbile.

Is there any further discussion?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Dave Kladney.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: I concur with Commissioner Adegbile's assessment here, and this omnibus motion will affect my vote the same way. Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you, Commissioner Kladney.

If you can hang on just one second?

Is there any further discussion?

MR. MORALES: Staff Director Mauro Morales requests permission to address the Commissioners.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Without objection, I will recognize Staff Director Morales.

MR. MORALES: Thank you, Commissioner. I appreciate the time.

I wanted to let you know that, and all the Commissioners know, that I and the Executive Committee have no opinion on the AI or the MOU about appointments to external commissions that the Commissioners are considering.

I will say that the Staff Director and the Executive Committee believe the proposed AIs concerning OCR witness selection and witness interviews -- I believe they're designated as AI 1 and AI 1.6 -- inappropriately conflict with existing Administrative Instructions and Commission regulations. Furthermore, we believe that they unreasonably create programmatic and operations problems for the Commission.

Commissioners provided no evidence, justification, or rationale for the necessity and the creation of these two AIs. As a consequence, the Staff Director and the Executive Committee respectfully object to them and recommend that these AIs be withdrawn from further consideration.

We thank you for your time and your consideration. Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you very much.

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Just one second. I just trying to get my phone back into where it should be.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thank you, Staff Director Morales.

Commissioner Kladney, were you speaking?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes, Commissioner Yaki.

I would like to move to sever the items into individual votes.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you.

The motion to sever is a privileged motion and is not debatable or subject to a vote. So, we will have to take an individual vote on each one of these items.

However, in the discretion of the Co-Chair, I'm going to take them up in the order that I deem.

So, I'm going to first start with the AI on the Administrative Instruction regarding appointments by the Commission. That individual Instruction is before us.

And, Commissioner Kirsanow, would you please call the roll?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: I'm sorry, are we voting on individual -- I'm lost as to what we're voting on right now. Are we voting on a separate issue or the omnibus?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Well, the issue is

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

that each of these items are individual items. They are put together as an omnibus. However, a Commissioner -- because they were originally noticed as individual items on the agenda, and the motion that you put and seconded and was put on the agenda was to combine them all into a single motion, a motion to sever, under Robert's Rules, is a privileged motion that is non-debatable and is -- well, it's self-executing. The Commission has actually done that before on previous occasions.

What I'm going to do, though, is call on AIs --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No, it's not self-executing.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: It is self-executing.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No, it's not.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: And if you would listen to me for a second, I am going to call the AIs first prior to the vote for Commissioner Cantu as Chair.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Okay.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: But it's not self-executing. It's non-debatable. Nothing is self-executing. But --

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER YAKI: But a motion to sever actually --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: -- it's out of order, but that's okay with me.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay. But I will tell you, under Robert's Rules, which is something I know you care about, a motion to sever is self-executing.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: But it's not a motion, and that's --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: It is a motion to sever.

Anyway, that being the case --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Well, hold on. Hold on. Hold on. Okay. Are you saying that we are voting on the motion to sever --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: No.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: -- or are you saying we are voting on the AI?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: We are voting on the AIs. And then, we will proceed to a vote on Commissioner Cantu, because the motion to sever is not something that is subject to a vote. I guess you would call it a request to sever, but it is one that, under Robert's Rules, is --

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: -- is a privilege of --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I'm willing to let this go right now, but no.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay. Well, I would disagree, and we can look it up, since you love Robert's Rules so much.

So, Commissioner --

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Co-Chair Yaki, point of parliamentary inquiry. It's Commissioner Adams.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, Commissioner Adams.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Could you, for the record, tell us, because I can't find it, where is the request to sever in Robert's Rules?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Because if we do this in the order you're saying, let's just go.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Well, it's a point of parliamentary inquiry. I made a point of parliamentary inquiry, and I'm just asking, what is the number of Robert's Rules? Just help me find it. I can't find it.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: I'll find it, but

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I'll find it later.

As the Chair, I'm exercise my call.

So, Commissioner Kirsanow, on Administrative Instruction, Commissioner Kirsanow, would you please call the roll?

I.A. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION REGARDING APPOINTMENTS BY THE COMMISSION

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adams, how do you vote?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And I vote aye.

It is 6-to-2 aye.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you.

The Administrative Instruction on Commission appointments is passed.

Next, we will hear or we will have a vote on the Administrative Instruction on -- sorry, I have to put these all in order -- on the proposed AI on interviews with external fact witnesses. That was read into the record by Commissioner Kirsanow.

I.B. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON INTERVIEWS WITH EXTERNAL FACT WITNESSES

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Would you please call the roll?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And I vote yes.

The motion passes 6-to-2.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: The motion on the Administrative Instruction on interviewing external fact witnesses passes 6-to-2.

We will now move to the last Administrative Instruction on witnesses at hearings and briefings, as read by Commissioner Kirsanow.

I.C. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON WITNESSES AT HEARING AND BRIEFINGS

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Would you please call the roll?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And Kirsanow votes yes.

Passes 6-to-2.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: The Administrative

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Instruction on witnesses for briefings and hearings is hereby passed.

Finally, we come to the motion to confirm Commissioner Norma Cantu as Chair of the United States Commission on Civil Rights.

I.D. TO APPROVE COMMISSIONER NORMA CANTU TO SERVE AS USCCR CHAIR

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Kirsanow, would you please call the roll in our last actions as Co-Chairs of the Commission?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Okay.

Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And I vote yes.

The motion passes 8-to-0.

And, Chairperson Cantu, congratulations. We'll pass the scepter to you.

(Applause.)

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you very much.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Congratulations.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

I really want to thank the White House, the U.S. Congress, the U.S. Senate, the Commissioners, those of you we call the "Group of Four" who were able to look very seriously at these matters of process. And I know that the result is one that will ultimately adhere. And we did work hard together to get to this place.

I also want to thank the Special Assistants, the staff who set up this call, all our staff, and your families who spared you all, so that we could get the Commission's work done.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

For those of you who are listening, this is what it looks like to be respectful. This is what it looks like to show that we can disagree, but do it in a very professional way. And I want to thank everyone on this call for providing this teachable moment for our audience.

We have an agenda that's been amended in terms of handling the first item. As a matter of procedure, I want to circle back to all the Commissioners.

III. AMENDMENTS TO THE AGENDA

CHAIR CANTU: Are there other items on the agenda that you need addressed today?

(No response.)

Hearing none, I would ask that --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Wait. I'm sorry, I was on mute. I was on mute, Commissioner Cantu.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay. I hear you. I hear you. Please. That is why I offered -- this is my listening, and next time I will listen longer.

Do we have other items on today's agenda? Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Cantu, I would simply say this: there are items on the agenda that I think have been adequately noticed and need to be addressed. However, in the interest of deferring to some concerns by my colleagues, I would ask that, if they are not discussed today, that they be subjected to a notational vote at their earliest convenience.

For me, especially the statement on Asian American/Pacific Islander hate and the continued concerns and struggles of our community with regard to the uptick in hate crimes, bias, and prejudice, stemming from or incited by the coronavirus pandemic, is one that continues to -- I think we need to reiterate to the new Administration our concerns, and I would like this addressed at the earliest possible convenience and by a notational vote, but I defer to my colleagues who have expressed some desire to have a shorter meeting today.

CHAIR CANTU: I'm sorry, are you making a motion, Commissioner Yaki, or are you suggesting an alternative way that we handle it?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, I was simply saying that I would like it to be moved on today. And so, I would like to move it. But if there is no second because of concerns of time, then I would simply ask the Chair, at her discretion, to put it on for a notational ballot approval at her earliest convenience.

I will formally move to take from the agenda Item III.B., the statement on Asian American hate, and ask for it to be approved today. If not, then it be brought up at the earliest convenience by the Chair for a notational vote.

CHAIR CANTU: We're discussing amending today's agenda. So, we have a motion to discuss today the Asian American statement.

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Kladney seconds. Kladney seconds.

CHAIR CANTU: Discussion?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Madam Chair, I'm getting a little confused here.

CHAIR CANTU: The motion is --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Is the motion about whether or not we're going to discuss this or whether or not we're removing it from the agenda? I'm just getting confused.

CHAIR CANTU: We're still talking about the agenda. Do we want to keep this on today's agenda?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: My understanding is that some of my colleagues were going to offer an amendment, and that works better on the agenda than

it does by notational vote.

CHAIR CANTU: Are you offering a friendly amendment to a motion that's been seconded on keeping it on today's agenda? Or are you agreeing --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: That's just a reason to vote yes or no.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I mean, if there's going to be an amendment, then it's better to discuss it today --

CHAIR CANTU: Okay.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: -- than by notational vote, which doesn't lend itself to that very well.

CHAIR CANTU: I understand that.

By the way, the rule on dividing a question into subparts was 27.1.

So, any other discussion about going forward with adding the Asian American statement to today's agenda?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Chairman Cantu, Christian Adams.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: I don't have a strong view either way. I would urge Commissioner

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Yaki to take a look. There might be some fixes. There's some typos in the document, such as I think the last sentence in one of the documents, that I would have a better time dealing with it if those were fixed. And that may be a notational vote. I don't really have a view on that because there's some typos.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay. Thank you for that consideration.

Look, I just want to express my view that we wanted to get this thing done. I'm going to withdraw my motion for the time being, since I think I confused everyone. So, I am going to withdraw my motion.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you, Commissioner Yaki.

Other items that -- let me see if I can move this along. The rest of the items, C, D, E, were part of the vote that just took place. So, I can I use the discretion of the Chair to say we've already dealt with those items? That would be the rebuttals, Speaker Series, appointments.

Any objection to that?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: How did we deal with them, Madam Chair?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: In the meeting two weeks ago, I made a statement regarding the Speaker Series. In today's AI, we had an AI on the rebuttal/surrebuttal that passed. And on the appointments, we had a vote today on the bipartisan appointment that passed.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: We haven't dealt with the Walter Williams thing.

CHAIR CANTU: Right. Do I hear a motion to keep that on today's agenda for discussion?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: It's already there.

CHAIR CANTU: It's already there.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: It's been noticed a couple of times, you're correct.

IV. BUSINESS MEETING

CHAIR CANTU: So, at this point, I'm open to a motion and a second, so that we can have discussion on the Walter Williams memorial.

IV.A. DISCUSSION AND VOTE ON STATEMENT OF WALTER E. WILLIAMS

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Okay. I move that we adopt the Walter Williams memorial.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Kirsanow seconds.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: I'm sorry, who seconded?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Kirsanow.

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow.

Commissioner Heriot moves, Commissioner Kirsanow seconds.

We are in discussion.

For those who are listening, in the past the individual Commissioners have been able to submit names of persons that they intend to recognize. It is not a policymaking. It is a statement and sign of respect.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Madam Chair?

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: If you want, I'll talk about this. But, you know, it's just we've done this routinely now. I have voted for many of these when there have been people who have done significant work in this area.

This is one that matters to me, in the sense that Walter Williams is a hero of mine. And I think that he's also someone that many, many people think highly of.

I don't want to extend the meeting unnecessarily. Everybody has seen this statement now several times. And so, you know, I'd like to be able to say a kind word on Dr. Williams' passing.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: You have my condolences and I offer condolences to the family.

Any other comments?

(No response.)

Could we do a voice vote or would you want to do a roll call vote? What is your preference?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Probably should do a roll call, given how confusing these things are over the phone.

CHAIR CANTU: I appreciate that.

Is there any further discussion? Does someone want to call the question?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Adams. Call the question.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

We've had a question. The question is an aye vote supports the draft that has been duly circulated to us to honor Professor Walter Williams.

I would call alphabetically.

Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

CHAIR CANTU: Gilchrist?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

CHAIR CANTU: Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

CHAIR CANTU: Cantu votes no.

Please note on the record, though, that, as Chair, I am cautious about the process of recognizing people where it's not clear, and has not been clear, what our criteria have been, but I do very deeply offer my condolences to those who knew the Professor and I do offer my prayers to the family.

Can we move to the next order of business? It is the item that has been noticed, the North Carolina State Advisory Council.

It is our responsibility on the Commission -- and it's a privilege to do this -- to approve --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Point of order, Commissioner.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, please. Yes, please.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Point of order, Chair Cantu.

CHAIR CANTU: Uh-hum.

IV.B. DISCUSSION AND VOTE ON ANTI-ASIAN AMERICAN HATE

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Yaki.

One, on the item on Asian American/Pacific Islander hate, I saw the typo, "opposite" to "opposition". Thank you, Commissioner Adams for drawing that to my attention.

When I withdrew my motion, it was for consideration -- it was in light of the idea that perhaps we were going to not consider other items on the agenda and move on. But if we are considering other items on the agenda, then I wish that item to be heard in turn as Item III.B.

CHAIR CANTU: Is there an objection?

I think fair play would be we've heard from other Commissioners on their motions. So, as Chair, I'm exercising my management of time.

We will, hopefully, get these matters done pretty quickly. So, let's do our best.

On the Asian American statement regarding --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: As amended.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: As amended.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: As amended. Change the word "opposite" to "opposition".

CHAIR CANTU: Right. Your motion was seconded by?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Kladney.

CHAIR CANTU: Kladney. Thank you, Commissioner.

And discussion?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Commissioner Adams.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Commissioner Yaki, I had hoped to send a note. Take a look at that sentence because it seems to be relating to the previous Administration, but perhaps not.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: No, there's actually some continued controversy on this issue, Commissioner Adams.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Okay.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: So, I would like it to stand as is.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: All right.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Madam Chair?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: In fact, there's been some controversy as to whether it went one way or

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

backwards, or whatever. So, I think that putting our position firmly is important.

CHAIR CANTU: Who was acting to be recognized? I'm sorry. My ears --

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kirsanow.

CHAIR CANTU: Oh, thank you, Commissioner.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thank you, Madam Chair.

I would move to amend the letter to include the language to the following effect: that the federal government should withhold funding to any higher education institution if that institution has a policy in place or engages in a practice that discriminates against Asian Americans in recruitment or applicant review or admissions.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I second.

CHAIR CANTU: We have a motion --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: May I respond?

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, please.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Yaki responding.

Thank you, Commissioner Kirsanow, for that amendment. I will not accept it. This is dealing solely with the issue of the concerns regarding overt acts of bias and hate crime, as perpetrated against the Asian American community, stemming from, and incited by, in my view, the pandemic. The issue that you raise is one that I know that you care about, but I believe is not germane to this particular issue, and I ask my colleagues to oppose it.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: And it has been seconded.

CHAIR CANTU: Is there further discussion?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Madam Chair?

CHAIR CANTU: Under the rules --

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Commissioner Adegbile.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, please. Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: It's my understanding that Title VI of the Civil Rights Act already creates a power for the federal government to withhold funding if there are findings of noncompliance with federal civil rights law. And so, in my view, this suggestion adds nothing to the current legal regime.

CHAIR CANTU: So, your contribution is

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

that the amendment is unnecessary?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: So, we need a vote on the motion to amend.

CHAIR CANTU: Has someone called the question on that motion, on the discussion on that?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: There was a motion and it was seconded.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Adams. Call the question.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

There's been a motion to amend, seconded, discussion.

Are you all ready to vote on the motion to amend to add language regarding higher education discrimination? Are you ready on that?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

So, a roll call vote would be Adams, please.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

CHAIR CANTU: Gilchrist?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

CHAIR CANTU: And I vote no.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: You forgot me.

CHAIR CANTU: Oh, sorry. Where were you?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: You didn't call my name.

CHAIR CANTU: I'm so sorry.

Okay. Help me out.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Yaki votes no.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

I saw your name and in my brain I thought I called you. I apologize.

So, we have -- I vote no. So, we have 4-4. The motion to amend does not carry.

We're back to the original motion.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, move to approve the -- move for the vote on the full motion.

CHAIR CANTU: All right. A roll call

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

vote?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, please.

CHAIR CANTU: Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Abstain.

CHAIR CANTU: Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Aye.

CHAIR CANTU: Cantu? Well, skip me until the end.

Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Gilchrist abstains.

CHAIR CANTU: Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I abstain. There's something that I agree with in the letter, but, unfortunately, not all of it. So, I'm going to have to abstain.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

Kirsanow?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Is that the famous director of "Rashomon"? Or is that Commissioner Kirsanow?

(Laughter.)

In any event, I'd rather be the director because I think he's a lot more entertaining and more important.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

But, nonetheless, Kirsanow abstains.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Curacao is actually an alcohol. Kurosawa is a Japanese director.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: It sounded like Kurosawa to me.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER YAKI: And Commissioner Yaki votes aye.

CHAIR CANTU: Did I count correctly? With the abstentions, the ayes have it?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you. Okay.

We have a little bit of time to do the North Carolina State Advisory Council motion on membership.

IV.C. DISCUSSION ON NC SAC

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: We haven't seen the list yet. So, I don't know think we can do this one.

CHAIR CANTU: I am sorry. Was the list

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

in the -- were emails exchanged? But you're right, I don't believe that we have -- did we attach a list?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No, I haven't seen one.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay, okay.

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Not the big list, no.

CHAIR CANTU: All right.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: We should do this by notational vote. I think it's going to be an easy one. It's just that we have to confirm who's in and who's not.

CHAIR CANTU: And excuse me, but it's the first time I've done a notational vote. Do I direct the Staff Director to follow that process? Or does that require a vote?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I think you can just direct the Staff Director.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay. It's administrative, finally. A short item.

Speaking of the Staff Director, could we have a brief report on the item agenda on management on operations?

IV.D. MANAGEMENT AND OPERATIONS

X STAFF DIRECTOR'S REPORT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

MR. MORALES: Congratulations on becoming the Chair, Madam Chair.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

MR. MORALES: In the interest of time, I have nothing further to add, other than is already contained in the report that was submitted to Commissioners. As always, I remain available to discuss any particular matter with a Commissioner.

And I thank you.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

Normally, there would be an item called New Business, but, in the interest of letting everyone enjoy their family and go back to their other work, are there any other matters before we entertain a motion to adjourn?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kurosawa here, or Kirsanow.

(Laughter.)

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: I just want to thank Chairperson Cantu and congratulate her for being Chair. I'm looking forward to many more meetings with you as Chair.

CHAIR CANTU: I am looking forward to

that, too -- thank you -- and to seeing you ultimately in person.

I understand Commissioner Adams will be having a one-year anniversary of his appointment next week and he's never seen the rest of you folks in person. So, these are unusual times that we're conducting business. But I'm optimistic, given the good faith shown in these conversations and the good faith shown as you all help this country through difficult times.

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Chairwoman Canto, Stephen Gilchrist here.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: I just wanted to thank, also, Commissioner Kirsanow, Commissioner Heriot, Commissioner Yaki, and yourself for the good-faith effort that you guys put into the negotiations for the Commission. I am very pleased at the work that you've come up with, and certainly, we look forward to your tenure as our Chair. So, we look forward to working with you for sure.

CHAIR CANTU: I appreciate that.

Normally, when three new Commissioners show up, there would be a like a face-to-face retreat. There's a lot of conversations about how we look to each other to work together. We all had to have those kinds of conversations with a small group of four, and that group of four does deserve to be congratulated for helping us answer our questions about how we will be respectful of everyone's points of view and how we will incorporate and listen to each other's ideas.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

So, thank you very much, Commissioner Adams and Gilchrist.

Anyone else for the good of the order?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Just congratulations from me.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you. Thank you, and I will pop a virtual bottle of champagne.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Don't get virtually drunk.

(Laughter.)

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you all for having a wonderful sense of humor, and I'm really looking forward to our time together.

V. ADJOURN MEETING

CHAIR CANTU: The meeting is adjourned.

(Whereupon, at 2:54 p.m., the meeting was adjourned.)

David – this is not what was voted on. Please see the attached transcript which shows the language that was actually voted on highlighted in yellow on pages 8-9.

Biggest difference was that what was voted on does not say “of their membership” -- so USCCR appointees to the EAC’s BOA do not have to be from among the USCCR Commissioners. This was an issue debated among the Cmnrs prior to the bus mtg.

I'm Commissioner Kirsanow. I'll be co-chairing the meeting with Commissioner Michael Yaki.

I'll now call the roll.

Do we have a court reporter?

COURT REPORTER: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And the Staff Director. Mauro, present?

MR. MORALES: I am present.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thank you.

All right. The meeting of the Civil Rights Commission will come to order.

I. OMNIBUS MOTION TO APPROVE COMMISSIONER NORMA CANTU TO SERVE AS CHAIR AND TO APPROVE THREE ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTIONS

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And the first item on the agenda is an omnibus motion to confirm Commissioner Norma Cantu as the Chair, as well as making certain changes to the Commission's procedures.

I.D. TO APPROVE COMMISSIONER NORMA CANTU TO SERVE AS USCCR CHAIR

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: During our April 16th meeting, Commissioner Cantu confirmed that, if confirmed as Chair, she'll discontinue the Speaker Series that was in place for a while under the previous Chair, and that Commissioner Cantu will always vote to maintain the Commission's tradition of 30 days for Commissioners' statements, 30 days for rebuttals, and, if necessary, 10 days for surrebuttals. So, we don't need to revisit that today.

Therefore, I move, along with Co-Chair Commissioner Yaki, that the Commission confirm Norma Cantu as Chair; that the Commission adopt a Memorandum of Understanding regarding the appointment of members to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors, and that the Commission adopt revisions to Administrative Instruction 1.

I'll read these into the record. Be patient. This will take a couple of minutes.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I.A. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION REGARDING APPOINTMENTS BY THE COMMISSION

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: First, the Memorandum of Understanding regarding the appointment of members to the EAC Board of Advisors, Section 1.01, reads:

"Any authority not specifically granted the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote."

Paragraph .02. "Any authority specifically granted the Staff Director of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, tasks forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Staff Director."

Paragraph .03. "Any authority specifically granted the Chair of the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Chair."

"Section 2.02(1). For the two appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic appointees shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve."

Subparagraph (2). "The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities."

Subparagraph (3). "The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1."

I.B. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON INTERVIEWS WITH EXTERNAL FACT WITNESSES

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Next, I'll read into the record the new section of AI 1 regarding

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

witness interviews by staff. The Staff Director shall ensure that this provision is codified in the appropriate place of AI 1, and it reads as follows:

"As the staff persons arrange for interviews of external fact witnesses or experts for the purpose of informing writing of reports, et cetera, the Commissioners will be given notice of the names and titles of proposed witnesses, so that the Commissioners and their Special Assistants can observe the interview firsthand. The observations will help the Commissioners better understand the subject matters covered, and enable the Commissioner to conduct and follow up with questions of the witnesses. If more than one Commissioner (or Commissioner's Special Assistant) representing Democratic or Republican appointing authorities wishes to attend, the Staff Director may limit attendance to one representative from each (provided circumstances clearly warrant such a limit)."

I.C. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON WITNESSES AT HEARINGS AND BRIEFINGS

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Finally, I'll read into the record the revisions to AI 1.6, and that one reads:

"Section 11. Commission Hearings.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

".01 The OGC is responsible for preparing and holding Commission hearings. This includes ensuring that the witnesses, when viewed as a whole, possess sufficient policy, legal, academic, advocacy, and other knowledge and experience necessary for a full and balanced inquiry into the issues."

Paragraph .02. "To document that hearing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Hearing Reports form. By completing this form, OSD certifies that the hearing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the hearing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist are provided to the external reviewer."

Paragraph .03. "Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate hearing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for hearing witnesses. Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings."

Paragraph .04. We're almost there. That's not part of the AI. "OGC prepares hearing proposals, design or implementation plans, and briefing or background books. When preparing hearing proposals this office shall demonstrate a consideration of varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives. This office also verifies the accuracy of transcripts, drafts hearing reports, and maintains official hearing records."

Paragraph .05. "OGC is responsible for supplying a complete and correct transcript with appropriate exhibits to OSD and ASCD for publication. Hearing transcripts do not require editorial review."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Paragraph .06. "The hearing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the hearing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request."

Paragraph "Section 12. Commission Briefings."

Subparagraph .01. "Briefings are used by the Commission to provide Commissioners and the general public insight into civil rights without the formality of a hearing. Any program office may be assigned responsibility for conducting a briefing by the Staff Director."

Paragraph .02. "Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate briefing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for briefing witnesses. Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners jointly request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings."

".03 Commissioners are provided a proposed final list of briefing presenters for approval. To document that the briefing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Briefing Reports form. By completing this part of the form, OSD certifies that the briefing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the briefing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV of this form is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist is provided to the external reviewer."

Finally, ".04 The briefing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the briefing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request."

Kirsanow now pauses for a drink of vodka.

(Laughter.)

And that's the motion. Is there a second?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes, second. Adams.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Okay. The floor is open for discussion, and I turn it over to Commissioner Yaki.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you very much, Co-Chair Kirsanow.

First, I have a point of clarification. You had indicated that the first document that you read, which was on the appointments issue, was a Memorandum of Understanding, but I actually believe that is an Administrative Instruction. Is that not correct?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes, that's right.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes. Okay. So, I wanted to clarify that for the record.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Secondly, for those

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

of you who were listening, the last document that Commissioner Kirsanow read, Section 11.01, Section 11.03, Section 12.02 were the only sections of that entire document that were amended. The rest remain intact as current Commission policy. I just wanted to clarify that for people who were listening in.

So, there has been a motion and a second. I am first going to do a little parliamentary moving, which is I think we need to first move to accept, approve and amend the agenda.

II. APPROVAL OF AGENDA

COMMISSIONER YAKI: So, I am going to set aside the first motion for the time being and first ask, is there a motion to approve the agenda?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: So moved. So moved. Adams.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Adams moves to approve the agenda. Is there a second?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Second. Gilchrist.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Second by Commissioner Gilchrist.

On the motion to approve the agenda -- we still have time to amend the agenda -- but on the motion to approve the agenda, so we have this before us, is there any discussion?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Wait. I thought you had to do amendments first?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: No. Well, I would rather have the agenda approved first, and then, amend the agenda. And then, we'd move on the agenda as approved.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I don't think that's the right way to do that.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Well, that may be, but I'm going to put the extra vote in, just to make sure that no one can argue that we didn't follow strict rules.

So, on the order to approve the agenda now, I'm going to call the roll.

Commissioner Kirsanow, since you have the roll sheet, could you call the roll?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Sure.

Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And this is Kirsanow. I say "yes," also.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you.

There are 8 ayes, no objections.

The agenda is now before us. Is there a motion to approve, to amend the agenda --

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: I believe, Commissioner Yaki, I think there were 7 ayes and 1 nay.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Oh, 1 nay. I'm sorry. 7 ayes, 7 yeses; 1 no.

Okay. Now we will take before us the motion to amend the agenda to put forth an omnibus motion that will approve both Commissioner, that will approve Commissioner Cantu as Chair of the United States Commission on Civil Rights, as well as approve the three Administrative Instructions that were read into the record by Commissioner Kirsanow.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

III. AMENDMENTS TO THE AGENDA

COMMISSIONER YAKI: It has been moved, it has been seconded, moved by Commissioner Kirsanow, seconded by Commissioner Adams.

Is there any discussion?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Commissioner Adegbile.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Adegbile, the floor is yours.

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Yes, I would have preferred that we move item by item and not have these things as an omnibus because there may be pieces that are acceptable and pieces that are unacceptable; and thus, it makes it hard to parse those things out. Because we're proceeding in omnibus fashion, it will affect my vote, though, obviously, I support Commissioner Cantu in her effort to chair our Commission in service of the people of the United States. But the omnibus motion will have impact on the way I will be voting.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you, Commissioner Adegbile.

Is there any further discussion?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Dave Kladney.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: I concur with Commissioner Adegbile's assessment here, and this omnibus motion will affect my vote the same way. Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you, Commissioner Kladney.

If you can hang on just one second?

Is there any further discussion?

MR. MORALES: Staff Director Mauro Morales requests permission to address the Commissioners.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Without objection, I will recognize Staff Director Morales.

MR. MORALES: Thank you, Commissioner. I appreciate the time.

I wanted to let you know that, and all the Commissioners know, that I and the Executive Committee have no opinion on the AI or the MOU about appointments to external commissions that the Commissioners are considering.

I will say that the Staff Director and the Executive Committee believe the proposed AIs concerning OCR witness selection and witness interviews -- I believe they're designated as AI 1 and AI 1.6 -- inappropriately conflict with existing Administrative Instructions and Commission regulations. Furthermore, we believe that they unreasonably create programmatic and operations problems for the Commission.

Commissioners provided no evidence, justification, or rationale for the necessity and the creation of these two AIs. As a consequence, the Staff Director and the Executive Committee respectfully object to them and recommend that these AIs be withdrawn from further consideration.

We thank you for your time and your consideration. Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you very much.

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Just one second. I just trying to get my phone back into where it should be.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thank you, Staff Director Morales.

Commissioner Kladney, were you speaking?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes, Commissioner Yaki.

I would like to move to sever the items into individual votes.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you.

The motion to sever is a privileged motion and is not debatable or subject to a vote. So, we will have to take an individual vote on each one of these items.

However, in the discretion of the Co-Chair, I'm going to take them up in the order that I deem.

So, I'm going to first start with the AI on the Administrative Instruction regarding appointments by the Commission. That individual Instruction is before us.

And, Commissioner Kirsanow, would you please call the roll?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: I'm sorry, are we voting on individual -- I'm lost as to what we're voting on right now. Are we voting on a separate issue or the omnibus?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Well, the issue is

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

that each of these items are individual items. They are put together as an omnibus. However, a Commissioner -- because they were originally noticed as individual items on the agenda, and the motion that you put and seconded and was put on the agenda was to combine them all into a single motion, a motion to sever, under Robert's Rules, is a privileged motion that is non-debatable and is -- well, it's self-executing. The Commission has actually done that before on previous occasions.

What I'm going to do, though, is call on AIs --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No, it's not self-executing.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: It is self-executing.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No, it's not.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: And if you would listen to me for a second, I am going to call the AIs first prior to the vote for Commissioner Cantu as Chair.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Okay.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: But it's not self-executing. It's non-debatable. Nothing is self-executing. But --

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER YAKI: But a motion to sever actually --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: -- it's out of order, but that's okay with me.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay. But I will tell you, under Robert's Rules, which is something I know you care about, a motion to sever is self-executing.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: But it's not a motion, and that's --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: It is a motion to sever.

Anyway, that being the case --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Well, hold on. Hold on. Hold on. Okay. Are you saying that we are voting on the motion to sever --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: No.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: -- or are you saying we are voting on the AI?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: We are voting on the AIs. And then, we will proceed to a vote on Commissioner Cantu, because the motion to sever is not something that is subject to a vote. I guess you would call it a request to sever, but it is one that, under Robert's Rules, is --

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: -- is a privilege of --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I'm willing to let this go right now, but no.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay. Well, I would disagree, and we can look it up, since you love Robert's Rules so much.

So, Commissioner --

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Co-Chair Yaki, point of parliamentary inquiry. It's Commissioner Adams.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, Commissioner Adams.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Could you, for the record, tell us, because I can't find it, where is the request to sever in Robert's Rules?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Because if we do this in the order you're saying, let's just go.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Well, it's a point of parliamentary inquiry. I made a point of parliamentary inquiry, and I'm just asking, what is the number of Robert's Rules? Just help me find it. I can't find it.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: I'll find it, but

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I'll find it later.

As the Chair, I'm exercise my call.

So, Commissioner Kirsanow, on Administrative Instruction, Commissioner Kirsanow, would you please call the roll?

I.A. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION REGARDING APPOINTMENTS BY THE COMMISSION

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adams, how do you vote?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And I vote aye.

It is 6-to-2 aye.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Thank you.

The Administrative Instruction on Commission appointments is passed.

Next, we will hear or we will have a vote on the Administrative Instruction on -- sorry, I have to put these all in order -- on the proposed AI on interviews with external fact witnesses. That was read into the record by Commissioner Kirsanow.

I.B. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON INTERVIEWS WITH EXTERNAL FACT WITNESSES

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Would you please call the roll?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And I vote yes.

The motion passes 6-to-2.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: The motion on the Administrative Instruction on interviewing external fact witnesses passes 6-to-2.

We will now move to the last Administrative Instruction on witnesses at hearings and briefings, as read by Commissioner Kirsanow.

I.C. ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION ON WITNESSES AT HEARING AND BRIEFINGS

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Would you please call the roll?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And Kirsanow votes yes.

Passes 6-to-2.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: The Administrative

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Instruction on witnesses for briefings and hearings is hereby passed.

Finally, we come to the motion to confirm Commissioner Norma Cantu as Chair of the United States Commission on Civil Rights.

I.D. TO APPROVE COMMISSIONER NORMA CANTU TO SERVE AS USCCR CHAIR

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Kirsanow, would you please call the roll in our last actions as Co-Chairs of the Commission?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Okay.

Commissioner Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Cantu?

COMMISSIONER CANTU: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: And I vote yes.

The motion passes 8-to-0.

And, Chairperson Cantu, congratulations. We'll pass the scepter to you.

(Applause.)

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you very much.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Congratulations.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

I really want to thank the White House, the U.S. Congress, the U.S. Senate, the Commissioners, those of you we call the "Group of Four" who were able to look very seriously at these matters of process. And I know that the result is one that will ultimately adhere. And we did work hard together to get to this place.

I also want to thank the Special Assistants, the staff who set up this call, all our staff, and your families who spared you all, so that we could get the Commission's work done.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

For those of you who are listening, this is what it looks like to be respectful. This is what it looks like to show that we can disagree, but do it in a very professional way. And I want to thank everyone on this call for providing this teachable moment for our audience.

We have an agenda that's been amended in terms of handling the first item. As a matter of procedure, I want to circle back to all the Commissioners.

III. AMENDMENTS TO THE AGENDA

CHAIR CANTU: Are there other items on the agenda that you need addressed today?

(No response.)

Hearing none, I would ask that --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Wait. I'm sorry, I was on mute. I was on mute, Commissioner Cantu.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay. I hear you. I hear you. Please. That is why I offered -- this is my listening, and next time I will listen longer.

Do we have other items on today's agenda? Commissioner Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Cantu, I would simply say this: there are items on the agenda that I think have been adequately noticed and need to be addressed. However, in the interest of deferring to some concerns by my colleagues, I would ask that, if they are not discussed today, that they be subjected to a notational vote at their earliest convenience.

For me, especially the statement on Asian American/Pacific Islander hate and the continued concerns and struggles of our community with regard to the uptick in hate crimes, bias, and prejudice, stemming from or incited by the coronavirus pandemic, is one that continues to -- I think we need to reiterate to the new Administration our concerns, and I would like this addressed at the earliest possible convenience and by a notational vote, but I defer to my colleagues who have expressed some desire to have a shorter meeting today.

CHAIR CANTU: I'm sorry, are you making a motion, Commissioner Yaki, or are you suggesting an alternative way that we handle it?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, I was simply saying that I would like it to be moved on today. And so, I would like to move it. But if there is no second because of concerns of time, then I would simply ask the Chair, at her discretion, to put it on for a notational ballot approval at her earliest convenience.

I will formally move to take from the agenda Item III.B., the statement on Asian American hate, and ask for it to be approved today. If not, then it be brought up at the earliest convenience by the Chair for a notational vote.

CHAIR CANTU: We're discussing amending today's agenda. So, we have a motion to discuss today the Asian American statement.

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Kladney seconds. Kladney seconds.

CHAIR CANTU: Discussion?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Madam Chair, I'm getting a little confused here.

CHAIR CANTU: The motion is --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Is the motion about whether or not we're going to discuss this or whether or not we're removing it from the agenda? I'm just getting confused.

CHAIR CANTU: We're still talking about the agenda. Do we want to keep this on today's agenda?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: My understanding is that some of my colleagues were going to offer an amendment, and that works better on the agenda than

it does by notational vote.

CHAIR CANTU: Are you offering a friendly amendment to a motion that's been seconded on keeping it on today's agenda? Or are you agreeing --

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: That's just a reason to vote yes or no.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I mean, if there's going to be an amendment, then it's better to discuss it today --

CHAIR CANTU: Okay.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: -- than by notational vote, which doesn't lend itself to that very well.

CHAIR CANTU: I understand that.

By the way, the rule on dividing a question into subparts was 27.1.

So, any other discussion about going forward with adding the Asian American statement to today's agenda?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Chairman Cantu, Christian Adams.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: I don't have a strong view either way. I would urge Commissioner

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Yaki to take a look. There might be some fixes. There's some typos in the document, such as I think the last sentence in one of the documents, that I would have a better time dealing with it if those were fixed. And that may be a notational vote. I don't really have a view on that because there's some typos.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Okay. Thank you for that consideration.

Look, I just want to express my view that we wanted to get this thing done. I'm going to withdraw my motion for the time being, since I think I confused everyone. So, I am going to withdraw my motion.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you, Commissioner Yaki.

Other items that -- let me see if I can move this along. The rest of the items, C, D, E, were part of the vote that just took place. So, I can I use the discretion of the Chair to say we've already dealt with those items? That would be the rebuttals, Speaker Series, appointments.

Any objection to that?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: How did we deal with them, Madam Chair?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: In the meeting two weeks ago, I made a statement regarding the Speaker Series. In today's AI, we had an AI on the rebuttal/surrebuttal that passed. And on the appointments, we had a vote today on the bipartisan appointment that passed.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: We haven't dealt with the Walter Williams thing.

CHAIR CANTU: Right. Do I hear a motion to keep that on today's agenda for discussion?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: It's already there.

CHAIR CANTU: It's already there.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: It's been noticed a couple of times, you're correct.

IV. BUSINESS MEETING

CHAIR CANTU: So, at this point, I'm open to a motion and a second, so that we can have discussion on the Walter Williams memorial.

IV.A. DISCUSSION AND VOTE ON STATEMENT OF WALTER E. WILLIAMS

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Okay. I move that we adopt the Walter Williams memorial.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Kirsanow seconds.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: I'm sorry, who seconded?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Kirsanow.

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow.

Commissioner Heriot moves, Commissioner Kirsanow seconds.

We are in discussion.

For those who are listening, in the past the individual Commissioners have been able to submit names of persons that they intend to recognize. It is not a policymaking. It is a statement and sign of respect.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Madam Chair?

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: If you want, I'll talk about this. But, you know, it's just we've done this routinely now. I have voted for many of these when there have been people who have done significant work in this area.

This is one that matters to me, in the sense that Walter Williams is a hero of mine. And I think that he's also someone that many, many people think highly of.

I don't want to extend the meeting unnecessarily. Everybody has seen this statement now several times. And so, you know, I'd like to be able to say a kind word on Dr. Williams' passing.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: You have my condolences and I offer condolences to the family.

Any other comments?

(No response.)

Could we do a voice vote or would you want to do a roll call vote? What is your preference?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Probably should do a roll call, given how confusing these things are over the phone.

CHAIR CANTU: I appreciate that.

Is there any further discussion? Does someone want to call the question?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Adams. Call the question.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

We've had a question. The question is an aye vote supports the draft that has been duly circulated to us to honor Professor Walter Williams.

I would call alphabetically.

Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

CHAIR CANTU: Gilchrist?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

CHAIR CANTU: Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Aye.

CHAIR CANTU: Cantu votes no.

Please note on the record, though, that, as Chair, I am cautious about the process of recognizing people where it's not clear, and has not been clear, what our criteria have been, but I do very deeply offer my condolences to those who knew the Professor and I do offer my prayers to the family.

Can we move to the next order of business? It is the item that has been noticed, the North Carolina State Advisory Council.

It is our responsibility on the Commission -- and it's a privilege to do this -- to approve --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Point of order, Commissioner.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, please. Yes, please.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Point of order, Chair Cantu.

CHAIR CANTU: Uh-hum.

IV.B. DISCUSSION AND VOTE ON ANTI-ASIAN AMERICAN HATE

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Yaki.

One, on the item on Asian American/Pacific Islander hate, I saw the typo, "opposite" to "opposition". Thank you, Commissioner Adams for drawing that to my attention.

When I withdrew my motion, it was for consideration -- it was in light of the idea that perhaps we were going to not consider other items on the agenda and move on. But if we are considering other items on the agenda, then I wish that item to be heard in turn as Item III.B.

CHAIR CANTU: Is there an objection?

I think fair play would be we've heard from other Commissioners on their motions. So, as Chair, I'm exercising my management of time.

We will, hopefully, get these matters done pretty quickly. So, let's do our best.

On the Asian American statement regarding --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: As amended.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

CHAIR CANTU: As amended.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: As amended. Change the word "opposite" to "opposition".

CHAIR CANTU: Right. Your motion was seconded by?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Kladney.

CHAIR CANTU: Kladney. Thank you, Commissioner.

And discussion?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Commissioner Adams.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Commissioner Yaki, I had hoped to send a note. Take a look at that sentence because it seems to be relating to the previous Administration, but perhaps not.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: No, there's actually some continued controversy on this issue, Commissioner Adams.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Okay.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: So, I would like it to stand as is.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: All right.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Madam Chair?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: In fact, there's been some controversy as to whether it went one way or

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

backwards, or whatever. So, I think that putting our position firmly is important.

CHAIR CANTU: Who was acting to be recognized? I'm sorry. My ears --

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kirsanow.

CHAIR CANTU: Oh, thank you, Commissioner.

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Thank you, Madam Chair.

I would move to amend the letter to include the language to the following effect: that the federal government should withhold funding to any higher education institution if that institution has a policy in place or engages in a practice that discriminates against Asian Americans in recruitment or applicant review or admissions.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I second.

CHAIR CANTU: We have a motion --

COMMISSIONER YAKI: May I respond?

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, please.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Yaki responding.

Thank you, Commissioner Kirsanow, for that amendment. I will not accept it. This is dealing solely with the issue of the concerns regarding overt acts of bias and hate crime, as perpetrated against the Asian American community, stemming from, and incited by, in my view, the pandemic. The issue that you raise is one that I know that you care about, but I believe is not germane to this particular issue, and I ask my colleagues to oppose it.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: And it has been seconded.

CHAIR CANTU: Is there further discussion?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Madam Chair?

CHAIR CANTU: Under the rules --

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Commissioner Adegbile.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes, please. Commissioner?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: It's my understanding that Title VI of the Civil Rights Act already creates a power for the federal government to withhold funding if there are findings of noncompliance with federal civil rights law. And so, in my view, this suggestion adds nothing to the current legal regime.

CHAIR CANTU: So, your contribution is

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

that the amendment is unnecessary?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: So, we need a vote on the motion to amend.

CHAIR CANTU: Has someone called the question on that motion, on the discussion on that?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: There was a motion and it was seconded.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Adams. Call the question.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

There's been a motion to amend, seconded, discussion.

Are you all ready to vote on the motion to amend to add language regarding higher education discrimination? Are you ready on that?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

So, a roll call vote would be Adams, please.

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Nay.

CHAIR CANTU: Gilchrist?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: No.

CHAIR CANTU: And I vote no.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: You forgot me.

CHAIR CANTU: Oh, sorry. Where were you?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: You didn't call my name.

CHAIR CANTU: I'm so sorry.

Okay. Help me out.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Commissioner Yaki votes no.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

I saw your name and in my brain I thought I called you. I apologize.

So, we have -- I vote no. So, we have 4-4. The motion to amend does not carry.

We're back to the original motion.

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, move to approve the -- move for the vote on the full motion.

CHAIR CANTU: All right. A roll call

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

vote?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Yes, please.

CHAIR CANTU: Adams?

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Abstain.

CHAIR CANTU: Adegbile?

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Aye.

CHAIR CANTU: Cantu? Well, skip me until the end.

Gilchrist?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Gilchrist abstains.

CHAIR CANTU: Heriot?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I abstain. There's something that I agree with in the letter, but, unfortunately, not all of it. So, I'm going to have to abstain.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

Kirsanow?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Is that the famous director of "Rashomon"? Or is that Commissioner Kirsanow?

(Laughter.)

In any event, I'd rather be the director because I think he's a lot more entertaining and more important.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

But, nonetheless, Kirsanow abstains.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

Kladney?

COMMISSIONER KLADNEY: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Yaki?

COMMISSIONER YAKI: Curacao is actually an alcohol. Kurosawa is a Japanese director.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: It sounded like Kurosawa to me.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER YAKI: And Commissioner Yaki votes aye.

CHAIR CANTU: Did I count correctly? With the abstentions, the ayes have it?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Yes.

COMMISSIONER ADEGBILE: Yes.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you. Okay.

We have a little bit of time to do the North Carolina State Advisory Council motion on membership.

IV.C. DISCUSSION ON NC SAC

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: We haven't seen the list yet. So, I don't know think we can do this one.

CHAIR CANTU: I am sorry. Was the list

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

in the -- were emails exchanged? But you're right, I don't believe that we have -- did we attach a list?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: No, I haven't seen one.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay, okay.

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Not the big list, no.

CHAIR CANTU: All right.

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: We should do this by notational vote. I think it's going to be an easy one. It's just that we have to confirm who's in and who's not.

CHAIR CANTU: And excuse me, but it's the first time I've done a notational vote. Do I direct the Staff Director to follow that process? Or does that require a vote?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: I think you can just direct the Staff Director.

CHAIR CANTU: Okay. It's administrative, finally. A short item.

Speaking of the Staff Director, could we have a brief report on the item agenda on management on operations?

IV.D. MANAGEMENT AND OPERATIONS

X STAFF DIRECTOR'S REPORT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

MR. MORALES: Congratulations on becoming the Chair, Madam Chair.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

MR. MORALES: In the interest of time, I have nothing further to add, other than is already contained in the report that was submitted to Commissioners. As always, I remain available to discuss any particular matter with a Commissioner.

And I thank you.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you.

Normally, there would be an item called New Business, but, in the interest of letting everyone enjoy their family and go back to their other work, are there any other matters before we entertain a motion to adjourn?

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: Commissioner Kurosawa here, or Kirsanow.

(Laughter.)

CHAIR CANTU: Kirsanow.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: I just want to thank Chairperson Cantu and congratulate her for being Chair. I'm looking forward to many more meetings with you as Chair.

CHAIR CANTU: I am looking forward to

that, too -- thank you -- and to seeing you ultimately in person.

I understand Commissioner Adams will be having a one-year anniversary of his appointment next week and he's never seen the rest of you folks in person. So, these are unusual times that we're conducting business. But I'm optimistic, given the good faith shown in these conversations and the good faith shown as you all help this country through difficult times.

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: Chairwoman Canto, Stephen Gilchrist here.

CHAIR CANTU: Yes?

COMMISSIONER GILCHRIST: I just wanted to thank, also, Commissioner Kirsanow, Commissioner Heriot, Commissioner Yaki, and yourself for the good-faith effort that you guys put into the negotiations for the Commission. I am very pleased at the work that you've come up with, and certainly, we look forward to your tenure as our Chair. So, we look forward to working with you for sure.

CHAIR CANTU: I appreciate that.

Normally, when three new Commissioners show up, there would be a like a face-to-face retreat. There's a lot of conversations about how we look to each other to work together. We all had to have those kinds of conversations with a small group of four, and that group of four does deserve to be congratulated for helping us answer our questions about how we will be respectful of everyone's points of view and how we will incorporate and listen to each other's ideas.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

So, thank you very much, Commissioner Adams and Gilchrist.

Anyone else for the good of the order?

COMMISSIONER HERIOT: Just congratulations from me.

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you. Thank you, and I will pop a virtual bottle of champagne.

(Laughter.)

COMMISSIONER ADAMS: Don't get virtually drunk.

(Laughter.)

CHAIR CANTU: Thank you all for having a wonderful sense of humor, and I'm really looking forward to our time together.

V. ADJOURN MEETING

CHAIR CANTU: The meeting is adjourned.

(Whereupon, at 2:54 p.m., the meeting was adjourned.)

Dear John, Juana, and others,
I have already heard on Tuesday an objection from a Commissioner regarding using the notational vote to address the confirming of the EAC candidates. The concern, I understand, is that more discussion is needed on important items, such as length of term, duties to report back to USCCR, etc.
Since one objection stops the notational process, it will take a vote at a meeting to confirm.
I would welcome it if Commissioner Adams or others wish to make a motion at the meeting to add this item to the agenda.

That is a good question. It is a decision for Commissioners in consultation with the Chair to decide how they wish to proceed. Adams is welcome to make a motion to amend the agenda to request a discussion and a vote. If the majority supports his motion it can be added to agenda. In the alternative, if Commissioners desire to proceed by notational vote and no one objects then a notational vote can occur. As I have requested previously, please advise me how you wish to proceed. I recommend Commissioners express their desire to the Chair since the Chair controls the agenda.

Just so everyone has easy access to the MOU that was agreed upon in April:

COMMISSIONER KIRSANOW: First, the Memorandum of Understanding regarding the appointment of members to the EAC Board of Advisors, Section 1.01, reads: "Any authority not specifically granted the Commission on Civil Rights by statute or regulation or Executive Order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, et cetera, shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote." I don't have a copy of a letter Lhamon wrote to the EAC for previous appointments (there is not a copy in Securisync either). All I have is a copy of the EAC form she completed for the appointments.

Do you want me to draft a letter or is Cantu going to use the form ?

Adegbile,

Hope that you are having a lovely Labor Day! I look forward to connecting tomorrow, in the meantime I am including the updated TO DO LIST so that we can discuss:

1. Concept Paper Discussion (info below)
2. Email to Jenny and Allison EAC (draft emailed to you for review)
3. September 15th availability for Maternal Mortality Report Release. I sent Flor the request for 12noon for the Press call and 1pm for the Stakeholder call. There is much to discuss regarding the release and your role.
4. September Business Meeting Agenda: 1) Presentations from Advisory Committees to the Commission on Recent Reports/Memo Releases 2). Discussion and Vote on Advisory Committee Appointments Texas and New Mexico 3). Vote to Amend October 2022 Business Meeting Date 4). Discussion and Vote on Fiscal Year 2022 Concept Papers and Fiscal Year 2023 Statutory Enforcement Report 5) Discussion and Vote on Commission Statement Regarding School Safety 6). Management and Operations • Staff Director's Report.

SBA + PPP from Commissioner Gilchrest and Cantu. However Juana and Thomas have not presented a joint proposal yet for everyone to review so I am a little skeptical that we will be able to vote on a project that is the amalgamation of their two separate concept papers without seeing the join vision.

Covid and Digital Divide in Education from Commissioner Cantu.

The third and final project is HUD Home Values from Gilchrist. From Juana's email to the SA's it is my understanding that they are looking for a progressive Commissioner to join with Gilchrist on the HUD Home values concept paper and help him develop the concept paper. Juana and the Chair originally reached out to Commissioner Kladney as he mentioned in caucus meeting he'd be supportive of this topic and since he shared some ideas with Gilchrist already. However this too raises many red flags since that concept paper did not really score well with during the ranking and I fear that however takes over the writing of the concept paper will have to do all the work. I also don't see this being done in time for the vote this Friday.

Dear _____,

Commissioner Adegbile wanted to extend his thanks yet again for your willingness to serve on the Board of ? for the EAC. He put forth your nomination to USCCR which went through our internal voting process which includes that the progressive commissioners put forth nominees and the conservative commissioners put forth their nominees. The conservatives then vote on a progressive nominee and the progressives then vote on the conservative nominee. However the conservative commissioners have voted that Commissioner Yaki (a Commissioner appointed by Speaker Pelosi) represent USCCR on the Board of EAC.

Thank you again for your service to the Alabama State Advisory and voting rights.

Subject: Notice of Representation Form

Good Evening Marvin and Sheryl:

Thank you again for bringing me into the fold on our brainstorming sessions. I just thought of something that you all may find useful now and as we progress forward. To date, how has the CBM&B been receiving appointees from appointing authorities? Attached is the form that the Election Assistance Commission, Board of Advisors uses for that purpose. The GC sends out this form to appointing authorities (in this case, the Chair of the USCCR) and asks them to fill it out and send it back. Does the CBM&B have a notice of rep form or see a need for one? I ask because I believe that the statute requires partisan parity. Outside of the appointees' political affiliations that are obvious (i.e. members of congress) have we been made aware of other appointee's political affiliations?

Dear Commissioner Yaki,

Michael, I am so grateful for the six years you have served on the Board of Advisors to the US Election Assistance Commission. I supported your nomination to another term, and I was looking forward to your sage counsel on how the US Election Assistance Commission should proceed to fulfil its mission. I am sad to hear you wish to resign from the Board of Advisors, but I know how committed you to fulfilling each obligation completely and with dedication, so I respect your decision.

Please accept our thanks for your service above and beyond what is expected. Your service has been a sacrifice of your time and energy, and the results have been outstanding.

In representing the U.S. Commission on the Board of Advisors, you set a high bar for dedication, energy, and expertise. I will be looking to the Commissioners for input on the task of finding a replacement for you as an advisor to the US Election Commission. I am copying the rest of the progressive caucus so they can also thank you for your service

John Mashburn did not leave me a voice mail ten days ago. He sent Juana Silverio and me a joint email. At that time I had a conversation with Juana that the staff has nothing further to do with the appointment and that the Chair merely needs to send a letter to the EAC regarding the decision by the Commissioners. Juana informed me that the Chair was addressing the issue and that she would respond to John. I spoke to John about 10 minutes ago and informed him of this information. I have been copied on a email today from Juana to John and others that the Chair will be addressing the issue shortly. I hope this information is helpful.

My guess is the USCCR does their own "appointment" itself. How we un-appoint is going to be the issue. It probably NEVER came up in a business meeting and therefore we should, as a commission have the authority to take it up in a business meeting and appoint-anew.

Apparently the EAC gets two designees over the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Currently it is Yaki and Kladney. I just got a call from an EAC commission saying that

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

I don't think there are any rules. In the absence of an explicit delegation of power, the Commission as a whole has that power. But you need to be sure it wasn't done properly. I have a vague recollection of talking about this in a meeting in the last decade. The straight shooter on the staff is Maureen Rudolph. You might want to ask her.

Looking at the document about the appointment of the advisory board members, I think that is correct, Christian. Catherine probably appointed them without ever bringing it up.

It probably NEVER came up in a business meeting and therefore we should, as a commission have the authority to take it up in a business meeting and appoint-anew.

Attachment : Help America Vote Act House Report 107_329.pdf;

To my knowledge, there are not any internal rules about these appointments. The practice has been that the Chair makes the appointments. (Note though that I only have records going back to 2015 for these appointments and I do not know what the practice was before 2015). The statute (52 U.S.C. 20944(a)(10)) says "Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." 52 U.S.C. 20944(b) says "Appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." The terms are 2 year appointments; I believe the current USCCR appointments are Yaki and Kladney, and that their terms end 4/13/2021. I provided the above information, i.e., bipartisan and geographic scope, before the 2019 appointments, though did not provide any input beyond this. I've also attached the House report for the Help American Vote Act (establishes the advisory committees) - discussion of advisory boards is on page 33. Talk to you at 1pm. Please call me on my work cell (202)-657-2246. Thanks very much, Maureen

(2) the State has enacted legislation to enable the State to meet each of the minimum standards for State election systems described in section 502.

(b) METHODS OF IMPLEMENTATION LEFT TO DISCRETION OF STATE.—The specific choices on the methods of implementing the legislation enacted pursuant to subsection (a)(2) shall be left to the discretion of the State.

SEC. 502. STANDARDS DESCRIBED.

The minimum standards for State election systems described in this section are as follows:

(1) The State will implement a Statewide voter registration system networked to every local jurisdiction in the State, with provisions for sharing data with other States, except that this paragraph shall not apply in the case of a State in which, under law in effect continuously on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, there is no voter registration requirement for any voter in the State with respect to an election for Federal office.

(2) The State election system includes provisions to ensure that voter registration records in the State are accurate and are updated regularly, including the following:

(A) A system of file maintenance which removes registrants who are ineligible to vote from the official list of eligible voters. Under such system, consistent with the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, registrants who have not voted in 2 or more consecutive general elections for Federal office and who have not responded to a notice shall be removed from the official list of eligible voters, except that no registrant may be removed solely by reason of a failure to vote.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(4) The State has adopted uniform standards that define what will constitute a vote on each category of voting equipment certified for use in the State.

(5) The State has implemented safeguards to ensure that absent uniformed services voters (as defined in section 107(1) of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act) and overseas voters (as defined in section 107(5) of such Act) in the jurisdiction have the opportunity to vote and to have their votes counted.

(6) The State requires new voting systems to provide a practical and effective means for voters with physical disabilities to cast a secret ballot.

(7) If the State uses voting systems which give voters the opportunity to correct errors, the State shall ensure that voters are able to check for and correct errors under conditions which assure privacy. States, and units of local government within the States, replacing all voting machines within their jurisdiction shall ensure that the new voting system gives voters the opportunity to correct errors before the vote is cast.

SEC. 503. ENFORCEMENT.

(a) REPORT BY COMMISSION TO ATTORNEY GENERAL.—If a State does not provide a certification under section 501 to the Election Assistance Commission, or if the Commission has credible evidence that a State's certification is false or that a State is carrying out activities in violation of the terms of the certification, the Commission shall notify the Attorney General.

The purpose of each survey shall be to determine if voting materials are awaiting shipment at any such location and, if so, the length of time that such materials have been held at that location. During the fourth and third months before a general Federal election month, such surveys shall be conducted biweekly. During the second and first months before a general Federal election month, such surveys shall be conducted weekly.

"(2) The Secretary shall ensure that voting materials are transmitted expeditiously by military postal authorities at all times. The Secretary shall, to the maximum extent practicable, implement measures to ensure that a postmark or other official proof of mailing date is provided on each absentee ballot collected at any overseas location or vessel at sea whenever the Department of Defense is responsible for collecting mail for return shipment to the United States. The Secretary shall submit to Congress a report describing the measures to be implemented to ensure the timely transmittal and postmarking of voting materials and identifying the persons responsible for implementing such measures.

"(3) The Secretary of each military department, utilizing the voting assistance officer network established for each military installation, shall, to the maximum extent practicable, provide notice to members of the armed forces stationed at that installation of the last date before a general Federal election for which absentee ballots mailed from a postal facility located at that installation can reasonably be expected to be timely delivered to the appropriate State and local election officials.

PURPOSE OF THE LEGISLATION

The purpose of H.R. 3295, the Help America Vote Act of 2001, can be stated very simply—it is to improve our country's election system. The circumstances surrounding the election that took place in November 2000 brought an increased focus on the process of election administration, and highlighted the need for improvements. The Help America Vote Act of 2001 will make it possible to implement needed improvements.

Historically, elections in this country have been administered at the state and local level. This system has many benefits that must be preserved. The dispersal of responsibility for election administration has made it impossible for a single centrally controlled authority to dictate how elections will be run, and thereby be able to control the outcome. This leaves the power and responsibility for running elections where it should be, in the hands of the citizens of this country. Local control has the further added benefit of allowing for flexibility, so that local authorities can tailor their procedures to meet the demands of disparate and unique communities. Further by leaving the responsibility for election administration in the hands of local authorities, if a problem arises, the citizens who live within their jurisdictions know whom to hold accountable. The local authorities who bear the responsibility cannot now, and should not in the future be able to, point the finger of blame at some distant, unaccountable, centralized bureaucracy.

While local control must be preserved, it is time to recognize that the federal government can play a valuable roll by assisting state and local government in modernizing their election systems. H.R. 3295 will, for the first time, give the state and local governments some financial assistance, from the federal government, to improve their election infrastructure.

SUMMARY OF THE LEGISLATION

PUNCH CARD REPLACEMENT PROGRAM

The disadvantages of punch card voting systems were highlighted during the recount that took place in Florida following the November 2000 election. Large portions of the American public have lost confidence in them. For systems that use a blank punch card, a failure to properly align the card behind the ballot can result in the casting of a vote for a candidate the voter did not mean to select. The perforated chad on the punch card may not be completely punched out, so the machine counter does not register any vote for that office. In the event of a close election, punch cards are ill suited to a recount. Running the ballots through a counter repeatedly during a recount can result in the detachment of additional chads, essentially creating votes that were never meant to be cast. If a manual recount must be resorted to, officials are faced with the unenviable task of attempting to divine the intent of a voter based on the amount of depression or partial detachment of a chad.

H.R. 3295 seeks to make punch card systems a part of our history, not our future. It authorizes $400 million to replace them. Any State or jurisdiction that used punch card voting systems in the November 2000 general election is eligible to receive up to $6000 per precinct to replace them. They must obligate the funds before the next federal election in November 2002, and must have all their punch card systems replaced before the election in November 2004 (though they can get either deadline extended by 2 years for good cause shown). To hasten the dispersal of these dollars, this program will be administered by the General Services Administration.

Some jurisdictions may choose not to replace their punch card systems, but H.R. 3295 makes funds available to those jurisdictions that want to modernize their systems. Additionally, the bill makes available funds for enhancement of these systems. For example, punch card systems can be made far more reliable if they are counted at the precinct, rather than at a central location. The enhancement program will provide funds to make improvements that will restore public confidence in punch card machines where they remain in use.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ELECTION ASSISTANCE COMMISSION

H.R. 3295 creates a new federal commission that will be tasked with providing information and assistance to state and local governments on best practices to successfully administer elections. The Commission has been structured to perform an advisory, as opposed to an administrative roll, in elections. The Commission has no rule making authority. The four commissioners will be recommended by the congressional leadership and will be appointed by the President. No more than two commissioners may be of the same party, to assure that the Commission acts in a nonpartisan fashion. The Commissioners will have experience or expertise in election administration or the study of elections, and will serve on a part time basis.

In establishing this commission, the Committee sought to involve the state and local officials who will be tasked with carrying out its recommendations. Two boards were created under the Commission, the Advisory Board and the Standards Board. The twenty-five member Advisory Board will consist of representatives from various groups that are involved with or care about election administration issues. The Standards Board will consist of the chief state election official, and a local election official, from each of the 50 states, the District of Columbia and the territories. The Boards will review and comment on any proposed standards prior to consideration by the Commission. Since those who serve on the Board will determine if their jurisdictions will adopt any of the voluntary standards approved, their thoughts and comments will be given serious attention by the Commission.

There is also created under the Commission a Technical Standards Development Committee. The Development Committee will assist the Executive Director of the Commission in the development of voluntary standards by recommending standards pertaining to the usability, accuracy, security, accessibility and integrity of voting systems and equipment. The Development Committee will be chaired by the Director of the National Institute of Standards and Technology, and will consist of members of the Board of Advisors and members of the Standards Board, among others.

Once the Development Committee has developed proposed voluntary standards, it will submit them to the Executive Director. The Executive Director shall then forward the standards (as developed or with modifications) to the Boards for review and comment. After the Boards have had an opportunity to review or comment, the standards will be forwarded to the Commission, which can approve them by majority vote.

This process will ensure that the standards are developed in a way that involves persons with real world technical expertise and experience in election administration. It is a process designed to give the people who will be responsible for administering elections, the state and local elections officials, a voice in the standards development process. By heeding that voice, the Commission should be able to make recommendations that truly reflect the recognized best practices of election administration.

The Commission will have grant making power. In addition to distributing the election fund payments, the bill authorizes two grant programs. One grant program will be devoted to research on voting technology improvements, the second will distribute grants for pilot programs to test equipment and technology. The research and development program is designed to encourage innovative technological and management strategies that will improve the accessibility, efficiency and security of election systems. This program in conjunction with the pilot program should foster development of these strategies where it may not be cost effective for the private sector to conduct research on their own. Universities, local jurisdictions, and the private sector are eligible to participate alone or as partners. Ideas that can be explored could include, for example, developing ways to communicate in different ways to voters about their registration status before the election. This would avoid unnecessary confusion on Election Day about whether voters are registered and where they should vote. Use of the Internet or telephone systems in this initiative could preclude a great deal of confusion on Election Day and minimize unnecessary administrative burdens processing provisional ballots post election. These and other ideas could be explored to ensure that our election system and its associated technologies are constantly being improved.

FUNDING CONDITIONS

H.R. 3295 authorizes $2.25 billion over three years for Election Fund payments. These funds will be provided to states at a matching rate of 75% (federal) to 25% (state). States will be permitted to use these dollars for a range of activities which improve election administration. This will give states the opportunity to direct fund payments to the areas where the resources are most needed. Jurisdictions that want to modernize their voting equipment can use election fund payments for that purpose. Others may have more pressing needs for modernized statewide registration systems, or better education and training of voters and poll workers. The Election Fund is designed to allow states to determine their greatest needs, and direct resources where they are most needed.

While the States will have flexibility in deciding where to direct dollars, they will be required to meet certain requirements as a condition of receiving funds. These funding conditions are not intended to be unduly burdensome, or to require states to incur obligations that will exceed the amount of funds appropriated and made available to the States. They will, however, ensure that the federal dollars are being spent appropriately, and that recipients meet certain criteria. The Commission will disperse election fund payments, and will monitor compliance with the funding conditions.

HELP AMERICA VOTE FOUNDATION AND COLLEGE PROGRAM

There is a critical shortage of poll-workers in this country. Many election officials fear the problem will grow even worse as the volunteers they rely on, many of them retirees, grow older with little national effort to recruit new volunteers. Experienced and well trained poll workers are essential to making our elections run properly. They provide assistance to voters, make sure proper procedures are followed, and guard the integrity of our elections.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A second well recognized problem in this country is the disengagement of our young people from the electoral process. For far too many of our young citizens, politics is a confusing and uninteresting side show in which they have no desire to participate.

The creation of the Help America Vote Foundation and College Program is designed to address both of these problems. These programs will encourage civic involvement by high school and college students by making them available for service as non-partisan poll workers and assistants to local election authorities. This will have the two-fold benefit of alleviating the shortage of volunteers, while also exposing our youth to the electoral process. Ideally, many of those who will become exposed to the election process for the first time through this program, will cultivate a life long interest in the process, and will continue to serve as election volunteers for many years, or at a minimum continue to be engaged in American civic life as informed citizens and voters.

The College Program will be administered by the Election Assistance Commission. The High School Program will be set up as a federally chartered corporation. The Commission will make grants for the college program, while the federal corporation created will administer the High School program. Both programs must be carried out without partisan bias, and without promoting any particular point of view regarding any issue.

MINIMUM STANDARDS

The minimum standards in H.R. 3295 require States to meet certain criteria, regardless of whether or not they accept election fund payments. While they impose minimum requirements, they allow the states to develop their own laws and procedures to fulfill the requirements. The goal of the minimum standards is to improve our election system without issuing dictates that would rob states of the ability to craft their own solutions.

The Minimum Standards are:

(1) The State will implement a Statewide voter registration system networked to every local jurisdiction in the State, with provisions for sharing data with other States, except that this paragraph shall not apply in the case of a State in which, under law in effect continuously on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, there is no voter registration requirement for any voter in the State with respect to an election for Federal office.

One of the most exciting and promising reforms that the Committee explored is statewide registration. In its June 2001 report to Congress, the bipartisan Federal Election Commission, after consulting with state and local election officials, recommended that states "1) develop and implement a statewide computerized voter registration database; 2) insure that all local registration offices are computerized; and 3) link their statewide computerized system, where feasible, with the computerized systems of the collateral public agencies relevant to the NVRA (motor-vehicle offices, public-assistance offices, etc.)". The bi-partisan National Commission on Federal Election Reform ("Ford/Carter Commission") also recommended states adopt such a system, as did the nation's election administrators in their non-partisan National Task Force on Election Reform.

Creation of such a system will make the registration lists more accurate, and easier to update. It should reduce the incidence of voters appearing at a polling place only to discover that no record of their registration can be found. When voters move from one jurisdiction to another within that state, the statewide system will be able to track that movement. If for some reason a voter remained registered at their old address, the election officials will be able to see that and take corrective action. Requiring states to develop statewide databases will modernize and improve registration nationwide.

People are mobile, but more than three-quarters of all residential moves are in-state. An effective statewide database can therefore be quite useful, including its capacity to address such common issues as the registration of in-state college students and people with second homes within a state. But perhaps the most important beneficiaries of statewide registration systems will be members of lower-income groups, who are more likely to move than higher-income groups within the same state.

The minimum standard requires states to create a single database that is official, centralized and administered at the state level. Databases which simply link existing local databases do not qualify as satisfying this requirement. Multiple databases linking various vendor or local government programs to a statewide system is not sufficient to satisfy this requirement. The intent of the minimum standard is to establish one database that is identical and is the same program throughout the state and local jurisdictions so that all training can be uniform, all records requirements are identical, and that the state has full authority for maintenance and quality matters related to the database. The intent is also to assure that there are not jurisdictional nor vendor issues in terms of operability, problem resolution, or other types of reasons for one part of the system not matching the other.

It is likely that states will find it necessary to create a unique identifier to distinguish registered voters who happen to have the same name and/or birth date. The unique identifier so created will be used to assure that list maintenance functions are attributable to the correct voter; so as to avoid removing registrants who happen to have the same name and birth date as a felon, for example. States are encouraged to use the unique identifier to share information with other governmental offices for purposes such as death certificates, court and tax records, etc., to assure proper maintenance of voter records, file integrity, and protection of voter rights. It is the intent of Congress to encourage the states to develop each statewide database system in such a manner that it will be possible at some point in the future for states to share data between them for the appropriate additions and removal of voters from their rolls.

(2) The State election system includes provisions to ensure that voter registration records in the State are accurate and are updated regularly, including the following:

(A) A system of file maintenance which removes registrants who are ineligible to vote from the official list of eligible voters. Under such system, consistent with the National Voter Registration Act of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1993, registrants who have not voted in 2 or more consecutive general elections for federal office and who have not responded to a notice shall be removed from the official list of eligible voters, except that no registrant may be removed solely by reason of a failure to vote.

(B) Safeguards to ensure that eligible voters are not removed in error from the official list of eligible voters.

States must ensure that their registration list is accurate and is updated regularly. Leaving ineligible voters on the rolls leads to a number of problems. It increases costs as more ballots must be printed and more mailings must be sent out to voters that have died or moved away. This is a waste of vital resources that serves no purpose. One of the most damaging effects of inaccurate rolls is that they lead to the public perception that the process can be easily manipulated. When the number of voters on a registration list exceeds a jurisdiction's voting age population (itself an artificially high number because it includes non-citizens and person only temporarily in the jurisdiction), the perception is that the process has no integrity and accountability. Furthermore, when ineligible voters are left on rolls indefinitely, it invites fraud. Those who wish to commit fraud can vote in more than one jurisdiction, or more problematic, cast multiple votes in the names of those they know are no longer eligible.

A fraudulent vote that nullifies a legal one, disenfranchises the legal voter as surely as if his or her vote had never been cast at all. States are therefore obligated to maintain accurate lists, and thereby minimize the opportunities for and the incidence of fraud.

The minimum standard requires that removal of those deemed ineligible must be done in a manner consistent with the National Voter Registration Act. The procedures established by NVRA that guard against removal of eligible registrants remain in effect under this law. Accordingly, H.R. 3295 leaves NVRA intact, and does not undermine it in any way.

(3) The State permits, by the deadline required under section 504(b), in-precinct provisional voting by every voter who claims to be qualified to vote in the State, or has adopted an alternative which achieves the same objective, except that this paragraph shall not apply in the case of a State in which, under law in effect continuously on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, all votes in the State in general elections for Federal office are cast by mail.

The Committee spent considerable time and energy learning about in-precinct provisional voting. In spite of the statewide registration system and file maintenance requirements, there will still be some instances where a voter who is qualified to vote does not appear on the registration list when they present themselves to vote.

In-precinct provisional voting enables people whose eligibility is in doubt to vote in their precinct, without having to travel somewhere else to swear they are eligible to vote, and have their registration verified in the days following an election. The Committee believes provisional voting is necessary to the administration of a fair, democratic, and effective election system, and represents the ultimate safeguard to ensuring a person's right to vote. For these reasons, the Committee has included it in the bill. Under the bill, in-precinct provisional voting will be required in every jurisdiction except states that have or plan to adopt an alternative which achieves the same objective, such as same-day registration or voting-by-mail.

Studies of the nation's election system find that a significant problem voters experience is to arrive at the polling place believing that they are eligible to vote, and then to be turned away because the election workers cannot find their names on the list of qualified voters.

There are at least eight reasons this occurs:

1. Voters may be turned away because of administrative errors. Poll workers may overlook their names or not match them up with a different spelling. In most jurisdictions, poll workers work from printed lists of voters produced for each precinct. Staff in the offices that produce these lists can make clerical errors.

2. Poll workers may overlook a voter's name on the precinct roster, or may not be aware that the voter is listed on a supplemental roster containing the names of voters who registered shortly before the election.

3. Voters may have their names improperly removed from the voting rolls.

4. Voters may appear at the wrong precinct because they did not receive, or received but did not heed, a notice that their polling place had moved.

5. Motor-vehicle departments or social-service agencies that are supposed to make registration applications available to clients may improperly handle the applications or fail to forward them to proper election officials in a timely manner.

6. Voters may fail to notify their registrar, or fail to re-register, after a change of address.

7. Well-intentioned organizations seeking to register voters may mishandle registration materials.

8. Otherwise qualified citizens may simply fail to register.

Whatever the cause, eligible citizens may believe they have registered. Unfortunately, when they subsequently attempt to vote, they are not on the list. In-precinct provisional voting, or an alternative which achieves the same objective, such as same-day registration (currently used by Idaho, Maine, New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Wyoming, and Minnesota); voting-by-mail (used by Oregon and Washington State); or no voter registration requirement (North Dakota), can solve this problem.

In-precinct provisional voting has four key advantages:

1. Legally qualified voters are no longer turned away at the polls.

2. In-precinct provisional voting limits the ability of states to impose extra hurdles that may have the effect of deterring the use of provisional voting. For example, in Pennsylvania, voters whose names do not appear on the precinct rosters are required to travel to police stations to see an election judge, who determines whether or not they have the right to vote. Voters must then return to the polling location in order to cast their votes. Many voters, who are faced with the choice of traveling to the police station or leaving, ultimately do not vote either because they are intimidated by going to a police station or because it is logistically difficult or inconvenient.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3. Voter participation is easier and more efficient, as poll workers can provide an option to voters who may be angry or frustrated by their absence from the registration list. These often ill-trained and low-paid temporary workers do not have to research or resolve cases on the spot, while other voters impatiently wait in line. Nor are more senior election officials tied down in resolving such questions during Election Day.

4. Voter registration becomes more accurate. The process becomes another way to amend registrations for people who evidently wish to vote. Officials can detect and correct mistakes and the research process, by helping senior administrators notice which problems are causing the mistakes, thus can help many other current and potential voters.

(4) The State has adopted uniform standards that define what will constitute a vote on each category of voting equipment certified for use in the State.

Requiring states to have a uniform standard for what constitutes a vote will ensure that voters receive the equal protection of the laws with respect to the counting of their ballots. Votes should be counted using objective standards put in place before an election contest. Whether or not a vote is counted should not depend on where a voter happens to live, nor should it depend on varying subjective interpretations of state laws by local election officials. Similarly marked ballots should not be discarded in one jurisdiction, but counted in another.

As Americans learned in November and December 2000, a major part of the problem in Florida was that the vote-counting process was subjective and inconsistent, with definitions of what constitutes a vote varying from jurisdiction to jurisdiction. The United States Supreme Court found such a standardless process to be a violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the Constitution.

As the Committee discovered, Florida is not alone. Most states do not prescribe a standard for election officials to follow in recounting votes. Amorphous statutory references to the "intent of the voter" invite still more confusion and ambiguity. "Intent of the voter" is not a standard but rather a subjective judgment, virtually guaranteeing litigation. It is unfair to voters, to candidates and to democracy.

The crux of the problem is that all systems that rely on individual ballots inherently raise questions as to whether a particular configuration is or is not a "vote." Such systems include traditional paper ballots, punch card ballots, connect the arrow ballots, or optical scan ballots, all of which the voter must alter in some manner to create a vote. Lever systems and DRE machines do not create a ballot with voter marks; therefore, there is no particular mark available to review.

Because every vote properly cast must be counted, and recounts are routinely conducted to make certain that all ballots have been properly counted, the Committee believes that uniform standards for what constitutes a vote must be adopted by all states. The definition of a vote shall be as objective as possible and spelled out in clear language before Election Day.

(5) The State has implemented safeguards to ensure that absent uniformed services voters (as defined in section 107(1) of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act) and overseas voters (as defined in section 107(5) of such Act) in the jurisdiction have the opportunity to vote and to have their votes counted.

States must implement safeguards to ensure that absent uniformed service personnel and overseas voters have the opportunity to vote and have their votes counted. Those serving in our military and citizens living abroad face many hurdles when it comes to registering, receiving ballots and casting them timely. States must take action to ensure that these voters have the opportunity to vote and have their votes counted. States need to recognize the difficulties faced by these voters, and take steps to see that their votes are counted. (See below for additional provisions affecting these voters).

(6) The State requires new voting systems to provide a practical and effective means for voters with physical disabilities to cast a secret ballot.

Advancements in technology make it possible for voters with physical disabilities to cast a secret ballot. New systems should strive to make it possible for voters with physical disabilities to cast secret ballots. (See below for additional provisions affecting these voters).

(7) If the State uses voting systems which give voters the opportunity to correct errors, the State shall ensure that voters are able to check for and correct errors under conditions which assure privacy. States, and units of local government within the States, replacing all voting machines within their jurisdiction shall ensure that the new voting system gives voters the opportunity to correct errors before the vote is cast.

In the 2000 presidential election, nearly two million voters, 2% of those who went to the polls, either did not mark their ballot, or marked it in a way that no vote was counted in the presidential contest. Election experts call these votes in which no choice is counted "residual votes." These millions of voters either spoiled their ballots by "overvoting" (appearing to vote for more than one candidate), or by "undervoting" (they marked their choice in a manner that could not be counted, or they marked no choice at all). Of course, an undervoted ballot is not necessarily "spoiled". Millions of voters intentionally do not vote in certain contests for various reasons, complicated the task of determining voter rates.

As the Committee learned in our June hearing, the consensus among engineers, computer scientists, and political scientists who study election systems is that the number of residual votes and the rate of voter error are greatly affected by the kind of equipment that is used. According to one expert who testified before the Committee on what is known as "human usability studies," predictably high levels of user error are evidence of system failure, flawed instructions, or faulty system design.

Whatever the specific causes for residual votes, the fact remains that some votes go uncounted because voters have no opportunity to detect and correct errors before they cast their ballots. Fortunately, there are voting systems available that permit voters to correct ballots in the precinct before they are cast.

The bill will ensure that as jurisdictions scrap obsolete voting systems, they replace them with systems that have the capability to detect errors, for poll site voting (the provisions for second chance voting cannot currently be applied to absentee or mail balloting since the ballot and the voter are separated before counting).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

To be sure, this provision will not instantly mandate that all machines in all polling places by a date certain have a second-chance voting capability. The Committee seriously explored the proposal to require all 200,000 jurisdictions nationwide to have second-chance voting by 2004 or, at the latest, 2006. Jurisdictions that failed to meet the deadline would be subject to suite in federal court. As the Committee learned more about the production capability of the voting machine industry, the timelines and procurement processes counties and states must go through to award contracts to voting-machine vendors, and the huge costs involved, the Committee decided that an aggressive deadline might cause more serious problems than it would solve. One disturbing possibility was that jurisdictions that could not meet the deadline, most likely poorer ones, might have their election systems shut down or seriously disrupted during an election while other jurisdictions in the state, most likely affluent ones, that met the deadline could proceed with their elections. The Committee was hard-pressed to imagine a more chilling 14th Amendment problem than this, where some eligible voters in a state could exercise the franchise while others could not.

As to whether the term "error" means overvote, undervote, or something else, the Committee referred to the findings of the National Commission on Federal Election Reform, commonly known as the "Ford-Carter Commission." The Commission's definition of "error" is set forth in the accompanying document.

As already noted, many voters intentionally do not vote in every race. The purpose of second chance technology is to provide voters information about their ballot. Voter privacy is an important right that must be protected. While voters should have the opportunity to verify the accuracy of their ballot, they should not be forced to do so under the scrutiny of a poll worker. Once a voter is satisfied of the accuracy of their ballot, it is not the roll or responsibility of a poll worker to inquire as to the voters intent.

Poll workers should, upon request, be available to provide assistance to voters, but voters should not be prompted by poll workers, or have to explain to poll workers why they have not voted in a certain race. The bill ensures voter privacy, by requiring that jurisdictions whose machines have second chance technology must ensure that voters are able to check for and correct errors on their ballots under conditions which assure privacy.

MILITARY AND OVERSEAS VOTERS

Those who serve in our military, and citizens living abroad, face peculiar hardships when attempting to vote. Relatively simple things like applying for and transmitting ballots can become a very difficult and lengthy process for these voters. Steps must be taken to protect the rights of these citizens. Military voters risk their very lives in defense of this country. We must repay them by doing everything possible to see that they are able to vote and have their votes counted.

A recent report by the General Accounting Office revealed that over 40% of the installations they visited had not assigned voting assistance officers. The Department of Defense must make certain that a sufficient number of voting assistance officers are assigned, and that those who are assigned are doing their duties. H.R. 3295 requires the Secretary of Defense to certify to Congress that, at a minimum, a voting assistance officer has been assigned to every installation and major command.

The bill also makes voter registration forms available to service personnel at the time of enlistment, reenlistment or extension of enlistment, to make it easier for them to register. The Secretary of Defense must also ensure that all ballots are properly postmarked, or marked with some other official mark, so that state officials can determine when the ballot left the voter's hands.

States are also required to designate a single point of contact for those in the service and living abroad, to make it easier for them to obtain needed information about elections, registration and voting.

The bill contains a number of the key provisions of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizen Absentee Voting Reform Act of 2001, H.R. 1997, which will help remove existing obstacles to absentee voting now confronting members of our armed services and overseas voters. Those obstacles contributed to the appallingly high level of rejected ballots in Florida and to the inability to vote of many others who wished to do so.

Similarly, the provision requiring the collection and publication of statistics on overseas voting by the states will fill one of the most serious gaps in our ability to monitor the adequacy of the overseas absentee voting regime. For the first time, we will all have the same information about voting access for overseas voters that we now have routinely for voters at home.

ACCESSIBILITY STANDARDS AND VOTING RIGHTS OF PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

Sections 102, 112, 221, 233 and 501 and Compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and the Voting Accessibility for the Elderly and Handicapped Act

In this bill, the Committee reaffirms that public entities, such as States and localities and their responsible officials, must comply to the extent required by law with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the Voting Accessibility for the Elderly and Handicapped Act (VAEHA).

The committee bill will enhance compliance with the ADA and VAEHA by enlisting a range of officials in the process of regulating accessibility problems and solutions. For example, the bill requires that the chief election official of each State certify the State's compliance with the applicable provisions of the ADA and the VAEHA, and requires that recipients of election funds provide assurance of compliance with such laws as a condition of their acceptance of federal money.

Section 903 and preservation of existing law

Section 903 expressly provides that noting in the bill will supersede, restrict, or limit the application of the VAEHA, the ADA, the Voting Rights Act or the National Voting Registration Act, nor will it authorize or require any conduct prohibited under any of these laws. Thus, the bill continues unchanged—the role of the Department of Justice (DOJ) as the agency responsible for authoritatively construing the ADA and promulgating regulations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Voluntary accessibility standards in sections 221 and 222

The Committee bill creates mechanisms for providing States and localities with technical guidance about improving accessibility through the adoption of voluntary standards by the Election Assistance Commission. The Committee expects that the voluntary standards will offer examples of achievable methods for ensuring accessibility. One example might include the moving of a polling place from an inaccessible historic library building to an accessible city hall building nearby.

These voluntary standards to be issued by the Commission would not, however, replace accessibility regulations and technical assistance provided by the DOJ for individuals with disabilities. Rather, these standards must be consistent with DOJ's regulations, and not serve as authorization for a level of accessibility lower than required by the regulations. In fact, this need for harmonious standards is the reason the bill directs the Commission to consult with the Architecture and Transportation Barrier Compliance Board in developing its voluntary standards.

If a state accepts election fund payments, the bill requires the state to certify its compliance with the voluntary standards for voting systems. This means that a state which accepts funds will be bound by at least two independent sources of law: the state's contractual duty to comply with the Commission's standards for voting systems, and the state's statutory duty to comply with the ADA. While the Committee anticipates that the Commission will take great care to create voluntary standards in a manner that conforms to existing law, compliance with the Commission's standards cannot provide any "safe harbor" against liability under the ADA or other applicable laws.

Eligibility for election assistance funding under section 233

One of the eligibility requirements for election assistance funding is that there must be at least one voting system available in each precinct or polling place that is fully accessible to individuals with disabilities. This means that if a State accepts any election assistance funding, the State is required to purchase a fully accessible voting system for each precinct or polling place that does not already have such a Summary

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, November 30, 2001.

Hon. ROBERT W. NEY,
Chairman, Committee on House Administration,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 3295, the Help America Vote Act of 2001.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contacts are Mark Grabowicz and Matthew Pickford (for federal costs); Susan Sieg Tompkins (for the impact on state, local, and tribal governments): and Paige Piper/Bach (for the impact on the private sector).

Sincerely,

BARRY B. ANDERSON
(For Dan L. Crippen, Director).

Enclosure.

H.R. 3295, Help America Vote Act of 2001

Summary: H.R. 3295 would authorize the appropriation of about $2.8 billion over fiscal year 2002 through 2006, mostly for grants to states and localities to improve voting technology and election administration. The bill would establish the Election Assistance Commission to undertake activities to improve the administration of elections and would set minimum standards for national elections. H.R. 3295 also would require the Department of Defense to implement a voting assistance program for military personnel and other overseas U.S. citizens. Finally, the bill would provide reduced postage rates for official election mailings.

Assuming appropriation of the authorized amounts, CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 3295 would cost about $2.8 billion over the 2002–2006 period. In addition, we estimate that enacting the bill would increase costs to the U.S. Postal Service by about $100 million over the 2002–2003 period. (Postal Service spending is classified as off-budget and is not subject to pay-as-you-go procedures.) The bill would not otherwise affect direct spending or receipts so pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply.

Section 4 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) excludes from the application of that act any legislative provisions that enforce the constitutional rights of individuals. CBO has determined that title V and certain sections of title VI would fall within that exclusion. Other provisions of the bill would provide grants to states to improve voting procedures and technology. Any costs to state, local, or tribal governments as a result of participating in those programs would be incurred voluntarily. The remaining provisions of the bill contain no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

Estimated cost to the Federal Government: The estimated budgetary impact of H.R. 3295 is shown in the following table. The costs of this legislation fall within budget functions 050 (national defense), 370 (commerce and housing credit), and 800 (general government).

[1] These estimated costs would be offset, overtime, by postal rate increases.

Basis of estimate: For this estimate, CBO assumes that the bill will be enacted by the end of calendar year 2001 and that the necessary amounts will be appropriated each year. CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 3295 would cost $2.8 billion over the 2002–2006 period, mostly for voting system improvements. The bill would also increase spending of the Postal Service, which is classified as off-budget.

Spending subject to appropriation

Grants to Replace Punch-Card Voting Machines. H.R. 3295 would authorize the appropriation of $400 million for fiscal year 2002 for payments for state and local governments to replace punch card voting systems. State and local governments that apply for these funds would be able to receive a maximum of $6,000 per precinct.

Voting System Improvements. The bill would authorize the appropriation of $2.25 billion over the 2002–2004 period to pay for grants to states and localities for improving voting technology and upgrading equipment, improving voter registration systems, increasing access for voters with disabilities, and enhancing training for poll workers. CBO expects that most of the funds to replace machines and so implement improvements would be spent in fiscal years 2003 through 2005.

Election Assistance Commission. Title II would authorize the appropriation of up to $10 million annually to establish the Election Assistance Commission. The four-member, bipartisan commission would advise state and local governments on election administration. This work would include developing voluntary election management standards, serving as a clearinghouse for information, and reviewing procedures affecting the administration of federal elections. The bill also would transfer all the functions of the Office of Election Administration of the Federal Election Commission to the new commission. CBO estimates that the commission would require funding of $3 million to $4 million annually with estimated outlays of about $12 million over the 2002–2006 period.

Other Provisions. H.R. 3295 also would authorize appropriations for several other programs aimed at improving the election process, including grants to study and improve voting technology, pilot programs to test new technologies, and programs to encourage citizens to get involved in the election process. CBO estimates that, in total, implementing these programs would cost $84 million over the 2002–2006 period.

H.R. 3295 would direct the Secretary of Defense to coordinate all voting activities for members of the military and other overseas U.S. citizens, includes training voting assistance officers, conducting mail delivery surveys, and providing information on voter registration requirements and deadlines of the various states. Based on information from the Department of Defense, CBO estimates that implementing this section of the bill would result in no significant costs.

Off-budget costs (direct spending)

For official mailings sent to voters by local election officials via first-class mail, H.R. 3295 would reduce the postage rate by 50 percent. CBO expects that the reduced postage rate would apply to two mailings every year to each of the 150 million registered voters in the United States. The current first-class rate is 34 cents and is expected to rise to 37 cents by fiscal year 2003, so CBO estimates this provision would cost the Postal Service about $50 million in 2002 and about $55 million in 2003. Over time, there would be no net effect from this provision because the Postal Service is required to set rates so that it covers all costs. Postal Service spending and collections are classified as off-budget and would not be subject to pay-as-you-go procedures.

Pay-as-you-go considerations: None.

Intergovernmental and private-sector impact: Section 4 of UMRA excludes from the application of that act any legislative provisions that enforce the constitutional rights of individuals. CBO has determined that title V and certain sections of title VI would fall within that exclusion because they enforce an individual's right to vote, and to have that vote counted.

Other provisions of the bill would benefit state and local governments. Specifically, title I would provide grants to states to replace or upgrade punch card voting systems. Provisions of title II would provide payments to states to improve election administration and voter education. In both cases, states must provide up to 25 percent in matching funds to be eligible to receive the assistance. The matching requirement as well as any other costs to state, local, or tribal governments as a result of participating in these programs would be incurred voluntarily.

The remaining provisions of the bill contain no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

Estimate prepared by: Federal Costs: Mark Grabowicz and Matthew Pickford. Impact on State, Local, and Tribal Governments: Susan Sieg Tompkins. Impact on the Private Sector: Paige Piper/Bach.

ADDITIONAL VIEWS OF HON. STENY H. HOYER

I write to offer my additional views regarding the importance of ensuring accessibility in voting for people with disabilities. The bill in its present form offers significant gains in voting accessibility for persons with disabilities, especially those with visual impairments. For example, the bill requires that, in a state receiving election fund payments, every polling place or precinct have at least one voting system (hardware and software) that is fully accessible. However, while I agree with everything in the committee report, I wish to emphasize the need to take further steps beyond this bill and beyond the Americans with Disabilities Act to ensure complete accessibility in voting and registration services for persons with disabilities.

Complete voting access must be assured for every voter regardless of whether a state or locality accepts federal election funds and without regard to any significant cost constraints. Voting is one of the fundamental rights of citizens in a Republic. As such, the right should not depend upon the vagaries of local budgets—certainly not in an affluent society like ours. Physical access to the ballot box should be unconditional. Every polling place in America should be accessible to persons with the full range of disabilities. Every polling place should have already at least one voting machine or method that is fully accessible, that is, a voting machine or method that allows a voter with a disability to vote in a manner that is as reliable, fraud-resistant, private, independent and anonymous as that available to anyone else.

One of our most profound accomplishments since the founding of the United States is the progressive broadening of the franchise to include African-Americans, women and others subject to pervasive discrimination. In this process, we have learned that few of the rights or interests of a particular group of Americans can be secure so long as that group lacks the right to vote for officials who will be accountable to them. We have also learned that, as more adult citizens become full participants in our polity, the democratic process is enriched for all. We are still in the process of learning this lesson with regard to persons with disabilities.

Most of the ongoing discrimination against persons with disabilities concerning voting is no longer motivated by deliberate efforts do exclude. However, as the recent GAO report on accessibility documents, the choice, design and administration of polling places, voting methods and machines continues in many instances to be driven by a careless assumption on the part of election administrators that all voters are able-bodied. The General Accounting Office recently found, for example, that many polling places have high door thresholds and inaccessible parking places, and that, even when ramps are installed, in many instances they are hazardous to users. Policymakers must strive to highlight the need to administer every aspect of elections in a way that recognizes that a portion of the electorate does not enjoy the full range of abilities, disabilities and impairments.

The right to vote is an almost sacred right that should not be casually traded off against other rights and interests. See, e.g., Harper v. Virginia State Board of Elections, 383 U.S. 663, 667 (voting is a fundamental right, any alleged infringement of which, must be meticulously scrutinized); Kramer v. Union Free School District No. 15, 395 U.S. 621, 626 (1969) ("statutes distributing the franchise constitute the foundation of our representative society [requiring careful examination of a State's stated interests]") Corresponding to the fundamental nature of this right, government officials and election administrators at all levels of government must recognize we have a fundamental obligation to guarantee full access to the ballot box for every qualified citizen. Thus, I hope the Senate will go beyond the achievements of this bill to provide a guarantee of full accessibility that is not dependent upon a state's acceptance of federal funds and that is not limited by any significant cost constraints. Further, I hope we then accept those additional requirements when we meet with the Senate in conference.

However, even before Congress takes additional steps, we should remember, as the committee report explains, that we already have powerful tools for electoral reform available to us, one of which is the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA). In the preamble to that Act, we found that voting is a "critical area" and that discrimination against individuals with disabilities, especially discrimination in the form of isolation and segregation, persists. To redress this discrimination, the ADA insists upon both equality and integration for persons with disabilities.

In the past decade, the ADA has already improved electoral access for persons with disabilities, both through voluntary compliance and through successful litigation in recent cases such as New York v. Schoharie, 82 F.Supp.2d 19 (N.D.N.Y. 2000) and Doe v. Rowe, 156 F.Supp.2d 35 (D. Me. 2001). But, as the GAO report documents, there is plenty of work left to be done to achieve compliance with the ADA. While the ADA provides an undue burden defense to its general mandates, it still provides a great deal of leverage for correcting the kinds of problems documented by the GAO.

Under the ADA, all voting and registration procedures and services must be accessible. Accessibility includes affording individuals with disabilities an opportunity to cast a ballot in a manner that is as private, independent and anonymous as that afforded other voters, and to vote in an integrated setting with other voters. The ADA includes an integration mandate that bars attempts to achieve accessibility through separate-but-equal kinds of arrangements, a mandate that is limited only by the undue burden defense. See, e.g., Olmstead v. L.C. by Zimring, 527 U.S. 581 (1999).

Of course, the ADA's mandate to offer equal and integrated voting methods to persons with disabilities does nothing to deny a State or local government the right to provide generally to the electorate alternative voting methods such as absentee balloting. Nor does it deny an individual with a disability the right to receive a reasonable accommodation in the form of an absentee ballot, curbside voting, or assistance from a poll worker or other individual of his or her choice (other than an individual who is the voter's employer or agent of that employer or officer or agent of the voter's union).

But the fact that an individual with a disability might want to use an absentee ballot or curbside voting as a means of gaining access to voting does not relieve a State or locality from its obligation to make polling places as integrated and accessible as possible. Thus, to comply with the ADA, a pubic entity (such as a State or unit of local government or a responsible government official) must first survey its polling places and move inaccessible polling places to accessible locations. The defense of undue burden is unavailable if there are accessible places that may reasonably serve as polling places. It will be a rare case in which the need to move a polling place to another location will create an undue burden.

Simple compliance with this requirement—that accessible polling places be chosen in the first place—will result in significant increased accessibility without costing any additional money. Normally, an alteration in polling location will only require a different way of thinking about what constitutes an appropriate polling place.

There may well be situations in which no accessible place is reasonably available as a polling place. In such cases, the public entity must make changes to existing polling places to ensure accessibility, such as installing a ramp providing access for those who use wheelchairs. This obligation, however, is subject to an "undue burden" defense. Thus, in some situations, the entity will not be required to make a polling place accessible, and instead, will be permitted to offer access to voting through such means as curbside voting or absentee balloting.

It is important to note, however, that a State or unit of local government may not, as a first resort, depend upon curbside voting or absentee balloting as its sole means to make polling places accessible. Rather, as noted, the government must first determine whether an integrated means of access can be achieved within the "undue burden" limitation. If such access cannot be achieved within that standard, the public entity may then rely upon alternative, less-integrated means of access to the act of voting, for example, curbside voting or absentee balloting.

The undue burden standard makes allowance for the limitations of poor or rural jurisdictions lacking the resources to achieve a level of accessibility equivalent to that of larger, wealthier or more populous areas. However, an undue burden defense must be assessed in terms of actual—rather than merely formal—resource constraints. An undue burden means significant difficulty or expense in light of the budget of the unit of government responsible for funding registration services, polling places and voting methods, together with any coordinated budget with, or budgetary resources available from, other units of State and local government. See, e.g., H.R. Rep. No. 101–485 (1990), reprinted in Comm. on Educ. and Labor, 101st Cong., Legislative History of the Americans with Disabilities Act, at 340–343 (1990) (providing guidance on the analogous undue hardship determination in the employment context.)

> To my knowledge, there are not any internal rules about these appointments. The practice has been that the Chair makes the appointments. (Note though that I only have records going back to 2015 for these appointments and I do not know what the practice was before 2015). The statute (52 U.S.C. 20944(a)(10)) says "Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." 52 U.S.C. 20944(b) says "Appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." The terms are 2 year appointments; I believe the current USCCR appointments are Yaki and Kladney, and that their terms end 4/13/2021. I provided the above information, i.e., bipartisan and geographic scope, before the 2019 appointments, though did not provide any input beyond this. I've also attached the House report for the Help American Vote Act (establishes the advisory committees) - discussion of advisory boards is on page 33.

I have a call scheduled with her at 1 pm to discuss further. Please let me know if there are any specific questions I should ask.

I don't think there are any rules. In the absence of an explicit delegation of power, the Commission as a whole has that power. But you need to be sure it wasn't done properly. I have a vague recollection of talking about this in a meeting in the last decade. The straight shooter on the staff is Maureen Rudolph. You might want to ask her.

SEC. 101. ESTABLISHMENT OF PROGRAM.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 30 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator of General Services (hereafter in this title referred to as the "Administrator") shall establish a program under which the Administrator shall make a one-time payment to each eligible State or unit of local government which used a punch card voting system to administer the regularly scheduled general election for Federal office held in November 2000.

(b) USE OF FUNDS.—A State or unit of local government shall use the funds provided under a payment under this subtitle (either directly or as reimbursement) to replace its punch card voting system with a voting system which does not use punch cards (by purchase, lease, or such other arrangement as may be appropriate).

(c) DEADLINE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—A State or unit of local government receiving a payment under the program under this subtitle shall—

(A) obligate the funds provided for the uses described in subsection (b) not later than the date of the regularly scheduled general election for Federal office to be held in November 2002; and

(B) ensure that all of the punch card voting systems under its jurisdiction have been replaced in time for the regularly scheduled general election for Federal office to be held in November 2004.

(2) WAIVER.—If a State or unit of local government provides the Election Assistance Commission (established under section 201) (not later than the date of the regularly scheduled general election for Federal office to be held in November 2002) with a notice that the State or unit will not meet the deadlines described in paragraph (1) and includes in the notice the reasons for the failure to meet such deadlines, and the Commission finds that there is good cause for the failure to meet such deadlines, paragraph (1) shall apply to the State or unit as if—

(A) the reference in paragraph (1)(A) to "November 2002" were a reference to "November 2004"; and

(B) the reference in paragraph (1)(B) to "November 2004" were a reference to "November 2006".

SEC. 102. ELIGIBILITY.

(a) STATES.—A State is eligible to receive a payment under the program under this subtitle if it submits to the Administrator an application not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act (in such form as the Administrator may require) which contains—

(1) assurances that the State will use the payment (either directly or as reimbursement) to replace punch card voting systems in jurisdictions within the State which used such systems to carry out the general Federal election held in November 2000;

(2) assurances that in replacing punch card voting systems the State will continue to meets its duties under the Voting Accessibility for the Elderly and Handicapped Act (42 U.S.C. 1973ee et seq.) and the Americans With Disabilities Act;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(3) assurances that in replacing punch card voting systems the State will provide for alternative language accessibility for individuals with limited English proficiency, consistent with the requirements of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 and any other applicable provisions of law; and

(b) UNIT OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT.—A unit of local government is eligible to receive a payment under the program under this subtitle if it submits to the Administrator—

(1) not later than the date of the regularly scheduled general election for Federal office to be held in November 2002, a statement of its intent to participate in the program, including assurances that the State in which the unit is located—

(A) failed to submit an application under subsection (a) within the deadline specified under such subsection,

(B) is otherwise not eligible to receive a payment under the program, or

(C) will not use the payment to replace punch card voting systems in the unit; and

(2) an application (at such time and in such form as the Administrator may require) which contains similar assurances to those required to be provided by a State in its application under subsection (a).

SEC. 103. AMOUNT OF PAYMENT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The amount of payment made to a State or unit of local government under the program under this subtitle shall be equal to the applicable per precinct matching rate of the cost to the State or unit (as the case may be) of replacing the punch card voting systems used in each precinct in the State or unit (as the case may be), except that in no case may the amount of the payment exceed the product of—

(1) the number of voting precincts administered by the State or unit which used a punch card voting system to carry out the general Federal election held in November 2000; and

(2) $6,000.

(b) APPLICABLE PER PRECINCT MATCHING RATE DEFINED.—In subsection (a), the "applicable per precinct matching rate" is—

(1) 90 percent; or

(1) in administering election systems, the State is in compliance with the existing applicable requirements of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, the Voting Accessibility for the Elderly and Handicapped Act, and the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990; and

(2) the State has enacted legislation to enable the State to meet each of the minimum standards for State election systems described in section 502.

(b) METHODS OF IMPLEMENTATION LEFT TO DISCRETION OF STATE.—The specific choices on the methods of implementing the legislation enacted pursuant to subsection (a)(2) shall be left to the discretion of the State.

(c) CHIEF STATE ELECTION OFFICIAL DEFINED.—In this title, the "chief State election official" of a State is the individual designated by the State under section 10 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 1973gg–8) to be responsible for coordination of the State's responsibilities under such Act.

SEC. 502. STANDARDS DESCRIBED.

The minimum standards for State election systems described in this section are as follows:

(1) The State will implement a Statewide voter registration system networked to every local jurisdiction in the State, with provisions for sharing data with other States, except that this paragraph shall not apply in the case of a State in which, under law in effect continuously on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, there is no voter registration requirement for any voter in the State with respect to an election for Federal office.

(2) The State election system includes provisions to ensure that voter registration records in the State are accurate and are updated regularly, including the following:

(A) A system of file maintenance which removes registrants who are ineligible to vote from the official list of eligible voters. Under such system, consistent with the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, registrants who have not voted in 2 or more consecutive general elections for Federal office and who have not responded to a notice shall be removed from the official list of eligible voters, except that no registrant may be removed solely by reason of a failure to vote.

(B) Safeguards to ensure that eligible voters are not removed in error from the official list of eligible voters.

(3) The State permits, by the deadline required under section 504(b), in-precinct provisional voting by every voter who claims to be qualified to vote in the State, or has adopted an alternative which achieves the same objective, except that this paragraph shall not apply in the case of a State in which, under law in effect continuously on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, all votes in the State in general elections for Federal office are cast by mail.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(4) The State has adopted uniform standards that define what will constitute a vote on each category of voting equipment certified for use in the State.

(5) The State has implemented safeguards to ensure that absent uniformed services voters (as defined in section 107(1) of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act) and overseas voters (as defined in section 107(5) of such Act) in the jurisdiction have the opportunity to vote and to have their votes counted.

(6) The State requires new voting systems to provide a practical and effective means for voters with physical disabilities to cast a secret ballot.

(7) If the State uses voting systems which give voters the opportunity to correct errors, the State shall ensure that voters are able to check for and correct errors under conditions which assure privacy. States, and units of local government within the States, replacing all voting machines within their jurisdiction shall ensure that the new voting system gives voters the opportunity to correct errors before the vote is cast.

SEC. 503. ENFORCEMENT.

(a) REPORT BY COMMISSION TO ATTORNEY GENERAL.—If a State does not provide a certification under section 501 to the Election Assistance Commission, or if the Commission has credible evidence that a State's certification is false or that a State is carrying out activities in violation of the terms of the certification, the Commission shall notify the Attorney General.

(b) ACTION BY ATTORNEY GENERAL.—After receiving notice from the Commission under subsection (a), the Attorney General may bring a civil action against a State in an appropriate district court for such declaratory or injunctive relief as may be necessary to remedy a violation of this title.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in this Act and no action taken pursuant to this Act shall supersede, restrict, or limit the application of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, the Voting Accessibility for the Elderly and Handicapped Act, or the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990.

(b) NO CONDUCT AUTHORIZED WHICH IS PROHIBITED UNDER OTHER LAWS.—Nothing in this Act authorizes or requires any conduct which is prohibited by the Voting Rights Act of 1965, the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, or the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990.

(c) APPLICATION TO STATES, LOCAL GOVERNMENTS, AND COMMISSION.—Except as specifically provided in the case of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, nothing in this Act may be construed to affect the application of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, or the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 to any State, unit of local government, or other person, or to grant to the Election Assistance Commission the authority to carry out activities inconsistent with such Acts.

PURPOSE OF THE LEGISLATION

The purpose of H.R. 3295, the Help America Vote Act of 2001, can be stated very simply—it is to improve our country's election system. The circumstances surrounding the election that took place in November 2000 brought an increased focus on the process of election administration, and highlighted the need for improvements. The Help America Vote Act of 2001 will make it possible to implement needed improvements.

Historically, elections in this country have been administered at the state and local level. This system has many benefits that must be preserved. The dispersal of responsibility for election administration has made it impossible for a single centrally controlled authority to dictate how elections will be run, and thereby be able to control the outcome. This leaves the power and responsibility for running elections where it should be, in the hands of the citizens of this country. Local control has the further added benefit of allowing for flexibility, so that local authorities can tailor their procedures to meet the demands of disparate and unique communities. Further by leaving the responsibility for election administration in the hands of local authorities, if a problem arises, the citizens who live within their jurisdictions know whom to hold accountable. The local authorities who bear the responsibility cannot now, and should not in the future be able to, point the finger of blame at some distant, unaccountable, centralized bureaucracy.

While local control must be preserved, it is time to recognize that the federal government can play a valuable roll by assisting state and local government in modernizing their election systems. H.R. 3295 will, for the first time, give the state and local governments some financial assistance, from the federal government, to improve their election infrastructure.

SUMMARY OF THE LEGISLATION

PUNCH CARD REPLACEMENT PROGRAM

The disadvantages of punch card voting systems were highlighted during the recount that took place in Florida following the November 2000 election. Large portions of the American public have lost confidence in them. For systems that use a blank punch card, a failure to properly align the card behind the ballot can result in the casting of a vote for a candidate the voter did not mean to select. The perforated chad on the punch card may not be completely punched out, so the machine counter does not register any vote for that office. In the event of a close election, punch cards are ill suited to a recount. Running the ballots through a counter repeatedly during a recount can result in the detachment of additional chads, essentially creating votes that were never meant to be cast. If a manual recount must be resorted to, officials are faced with the unenviable task of attempting to divine the intent of a voter based on the amount of depression or partial detachment of a chad.

H.R. 3295 seeks to make punch card systems a part of our history, not our future. It authorizes $400 million to replace them. Any State or jurisdiction that used punch card voting systems in the November 2000 general election is eligible to receive up to $6000 per precinct to replace them. They must obligate the funds before the next federal election in November 2002, and must have all their punch card systems replaced before the election in November 2004 (though they can get either deadline extended by 2 years for good cause shown). To hasten the dispersal of these dollars, this program will be administered by the General Services Administration.

Some jurisdictions may choose not to replace their punch card systems, but H.R. 3295 makes funds available to those jurisdictions that want to modernize their systems. Additionally, the bill makes available funds for enhancement of these systems. For example, punch card systems can be made far more reliable if they are counted at the precinct, rather than at a central location. The enhancement program will provide funds to make improvements that will restore public confidence in punch card machines where they remain in use.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ELECTION ASSISTANCE COMMISSION

H.R. 3295 creates a new federal commission that will be tasked with providing information and assistance to state and local governments on best practices to successfully administer elections. The Commission has been structured to perform an advisory, as opposed to an administrative roll, in elections. The Commission has no rule making authority. The four commissioners will be recommended by the congressional leadership and will be appointed by the President. No more than two commissioners may be of the same party, to assure that the Commission acts in a nonpartisan fashion. The Commissioners will have experience or expertise in election administration or the study of elections, and will serve on a part time basis.

In establishing this commission, the Committee sought to involve the state and local officials who will be tasked with carrying out its recommendations. Two boards were created under the Commission, the Advisory Board and the Standards Board. The twenty-five member Advisory Board will consist of representatives from various groups that are involved with or care about election administration issues. The Standards Board will consist of the chief state election official, and a local election official, from each of the 50 states, the District of Columbia and the territories. The Boards will review and comment on any proposed standards prior to consideration by the Commission. Since those who serve on the Board will determine if their jurisdictions will adopt any of the voluntary standards approved, their thoughts and comments will be given serious attention by the Commission.

There is also created under the Commission a Technical Standards Development Committee. The Development Committee will assist the Executive Director of the Commission in the development of voluntary standards by recommending standards pertaining to the usability, accuracy, security, accessibility and integrity of voting systems and equipment. The Development Committee will be chaired by the Director of the National Institute of Standards and Technology, and will consist of members of the Board of Advisors and members of the Standards Board, among others.

Once the Development Committee has developed proposed voluntary standards, it will submit them to the Executive Director. The Executive Director shall then forward the standards (as developed or with modifications) to the Boards for review and comment. After the Boards have had an opportunity to review or comment, the standards will be forwarded to the Commission, which can approve them by majority vote.

This process will ensure that the standards are developed in a way that involves persons with real world technical expertise and experience in election administration. It is a process designed to give the people who will be responsible for administering elections, the state and local elections officials, a voice in the standards development process. By heeding that voice, the Commission should be able to make recommendations that truly reflect the recognized best practices of election administration.

The Commission will have grant making power. In addition to distributing the election fund payments, the bill authorizes two grant programs. One grant program will be devoted to research on voting technology improvements, the second will distribute grants for pilot programs to test equipment and technology. The research and development program is designed to encourage innovative technological and management strategies that will improve the accessibility, efficiency and security of election systems. This program in conjunction with the pilot program should foster development of these strategies where it may not be cost effective for the private sector to conduct research on their own. Universities, local jurisdictions, and the private sector are eligible to participate alone or as partners. Ideas that can be explored could include, for example, developing ways to communicate in different ways to voters about their registration status before the election. This would avoid unnecessary confusion on Election Day about whether voters are registered and where they should vote. Use of the Internet or telephone systems in this initiative could preclude a great deal of confusion on Election Day and minimize unnecessary administrative burdens processing provisional ballots post election. These and other ideas could be explored to ensure that our election system and its associated technologies are constantly being improved.

FUNDING CONDITIONS

H.R. 3295 authorizes $2.25 billion over three years for Election Fund payments. These funds will be provided to states at a matching rate of 75% (federal) to 25% (state). States will be permitted to use these dollars for a range of activities which improve election administration. This will give states the opportunity to direct fund payments to the areas where the resources are most needed. Jurisdictions that want to modernize their voting equipment can use election fund payments for that purpose. Others may have more pressing needs for modernized statewide registration systems, or better education and training of voters and poll workers. The Election Fund is designed to allow states to determine their greatest needs, and direct resources where they are most needed.

While the States will have flexibility in deciding where to direct dollars, they will be required to meet certain requirements as a condition of receiving funds. These funding conditions are not intended to be unduly burdensome, or to require states to incur obligations that will exceed the amount of funds appropriated and made available to the States. They will, however, ensure that the federal dollars are being spent appropriately, and that recipients meet certain criteria. The Commission will disperse election fund payments, and will monitor compliance with the funding conditions.

HELP AMERICA VOTE FOUNDATION AND COLLEGE PROGRAM

There is a critical shortage of poll-workers in this country. Many election officials fear the problem will grow even worse as the volunteers they rely on, many of them retirees, grow older with little national effort to recruit new volunteers. Experienced and well trained poll workers are essential to making our elections run properly. They provide assistance to voters, make sure proper procedures are followed, and guard the integrity of our elections.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A second well recognized problem in this country is the disengagement of our young people from the electoral process. For far too many of our young citizens, politics is a confusing and uninteresting side show in which they have no desire to participate.

The creation of the Help America Vote Foundation and College Program is designed to address both of these problems. These programs will encourage civic involvement by high school and college students by making them available for service as non-partisan poll workers and assistants to local election authorities. This will have the two-fold benefit of alleviating the shortage of volunteers, while also exposing our youth to the electoral process. Ideally, many of those who will become exposed to the election process for the first time through this program, will cultivate a life long interest in the process, and will continue to serve as election volunteers for many years, or at a minimum continue to be engaged in American civic life as informed citizens and voters.

The College Program will be administered by the Election Assistance Commission. The High School Program will be set up as a federally chartered corporation. The Commission will make grants for the college program, while the federal corporation created will administer the High School program. Both programs must be carried out without partisan bias, and without promoting any particular point of view regarding any issue.

MINIMUM STANDARDS

The minimum standards in H.R. 3295 require States to meet certain criteria, regardless of whether or not they accept election fund payments. While they impose minimum requirements, they allow the states to develop their own laws and procedures to fulfill the requirements. The goal of the minimum standards is to improve our election system without issuing dictates that would rob states of the ability to craft their own solutions.

The Minimum Standards are:

(1) The State will implement a Statewide voter registration system networked to every local jurisdiction in the State, with provisions for sharing data with other States, except that this paragraph shall not apply in the case of a State in which, under law in effect continuously on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, there is no voter registration requirement for any voter in the State with respect to an election for Federal office.

One of the most exciting and promising reforms that the Committee explored is statewide registration. In its June 2001 report to Congress, the bipartisan Federal Election Commission, after consulting with state and local election officials, recommended that states "1) develop and implement a statewide computerized voter registration database; 2) insure that all local registration offices are computerized; and 3) link their statewide computerized system, where feasible, with the computerized systems of the collateral public agencies relevant to the NVRA (motor-vehicle offices, public-assistance offices, etc.)". The bi-partisan National Commission on Federal Election Reform ("Ford/Carter Commission") also recommended states adopt such a system, as did the nation's election administrators in their non-partisan National Task Force on Election Reform.

Creation of such a system will make the registration lists more accurate, and easier to update. It should reduce the incidence of voters appearing at a polling place only to discover that no record of their registration can be found. When voters move from one jurisdiction to another within that state, the statewide system will be able to track that movement. If for some reason a voter remained registered at their old address, the election officials will be able to see that and take corrective action. Requiring states to develop statewide databases will modernize and improve registration nationwide.

People are mobile, but more than three-quarters of all residential moves are in-state. An effective statewide database can therefore be quite useful, including its capacity to address such common issues as the registration of in-state college students and people with second homes within a state. But perhaps the most important beneficiaries of statewide registration systems will be members of lower-income groups, who are more likely to move than higher-income groups within the same state.

The minimum standard requires states to create a single database that is official, centralized and administered at the state level. Databases which simply link existing local databases do not qualify as satisfying this requirement. Multiple databases linking various vendor or local government programs to a statewide system is not sufficient to satisfy this requirement. The intent of the minimum standard is to establish one database that is identical and is the same program throughout the state and local jurisdictions so that all training can be uniform, all records requirements are identical, and that the state has full authority for maintenance and quality matters related to the database. The intent is also to assure that there are not jurisdictional nor vendor issues in terms of operability, problem resolution, or other types of reasons for one part of the system not matching the other.

It is likely that states will find it necessary to create a unique identifier to distinguish registered voters who happen to have the same name and/or birth date. The unique identifier so created will be used to assure that list maintenance functions are attributable to the correct voter; so as to avoid removing registrants who happen to have the same name and birth date as a felon, for example. States are encouraged to use the unique identifier to share information with other governmental offices for purposes such as death certificates, court and tax records, etc., to assure proper maintenance of voter records, file integrity, and protection of voter rights. It is the intent of Congress to encourage the states to develop each statewide database system in such a manner that it will be possible at some point in the future for states to share data between them for the appropriate additions and removal of voters from their rolls.

(2) The State election system includes provisions to ensure that voter registration records in the State are accurate and are updated regularly, including the following:

(A) A system of file maintenance which removes registrants who are ineligible to vote from the official list of eligible voters. Under such system, consistent with the National Voter Registration Act of

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1993, registrants who have not voted in 2 or more consecutive general elections for federal office and who have not responded to a notice shall be removed from the official list of eligible voters, except that no registrant may be removed solely by reason of a failure to vote.

(B) Safeguards to ensure that eligible voters are not removed in error from the official list of eligible voters.

States must ensure that their registration list is accurate and is updated regularly. Leaving ineligible voters on the rolls leads to a number of problems. It increases costs as more ballots must be printed and more mailings must be sent out to voters that have died or moved away. This is a waste of vital resources that serves no purpose. One of the most damaging effects of inaccurate rolls is that they lead to the public perception that the process can be easily manipulated. When the number of voters on a registration list exceeds a jurisdiction's voting age population (itself an artificially high number because it includes non-citizens and person only temporarily in the jurisdiction), the perception is that the process has no integrity and accountability. Furthermore, when ineligible voters are left on rolls indefinitely, it invites fraud. Those who wish to commit fraud can vote in more than one jurisdiction, or more problematic, cast multiple votes in the names of those they know are no longer eligible.

A fraudulent vote that nullifies a legal one, disenfranchises the legal voter as surely as if his or her vote had never been cast at all. States are therefore obligated to maintain accurate lists, and thereby minimize the opportunities for and the incidence of fraud.

The minimum standard requires that removal of those deemed ineligible must be done in a manner consistent with the National Voter Registration Act. The procedures established by NVRA that guard against removal of eligible registrants remain in effect under this law. Accordingly, H.R. 3295 leaves NVRA intact, and does not undermine it in any way.

(3) The State permits, by the deadline required under section 504(b), in-precinct provisional voting by every voter who claims to be qualified to vote in the State, or has adopted an alternative which achieves the same objective, except that this paragraph shall not apply in the case of a State in which, under law in effect continuously on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, all votes in the State in general elections for Federal office are cast by mail.

The Committee spent considerable time and energy learning about in-precinct provisional voting. In spite of the statewide registration system and file maintenance requirements, there will still be some instances where a voter who is qualified to vote does not appear on the registration list when they present themselves to vote.

In-precinct provisional voting enables people whose eligibility is in doubt to vote in their precinct, without having to travel somewhere else to swear they are eligible to vote, and have their registration verified in the days following an election. The Committee believes provisional voting is necessary to the administration of a fair, democratic, and effective election system, and represents the ultimate safeguard to ensuring a person's right to vote. For these reasons, the Committee has included it in the bill. Under the bill, in-precinct provisional voting will be required in every jurisdiction except states that have or plan to adopt an alternative which achieves the same objective, such as same-day registration or voting-by-mail.

Studies of the nation's election system find that a significant problem voters experience is to arrive at the polling place believing that they are eligible to vote, and then to be turned away because the election workers cannot find their names on the list of qualified voters.

There are at least eight reasons this occurs:

1. Voters may be turned away because of administrative errors. Poll workers may overlook their names or not match them up with a different spelling. In most jurisdictions, poll workers work from printed lists of voters produced for each precinct. Staff in the offices that produce these lists can make clerical errors.

2. Poll workers may overlook a voter's name on the precinct roster, or may not be aware that the voter is listed on a supplemental roster containing the names of voters who registered shortly before the election.

3. Voters may have their names improperly removed from the voting rolls.

4. Voters may appear at the wrong precinct because they did not receive, or received but did not heed, a notice that their polling place had moved.

5. Motor-vehicle departments or social-service agencies that are supposed to make registration applications available to clients may improperly handle the applications or fail to forward them to proper election officials in a timely manner.

6. Voters may fail to notify their registrar, or fail to re-register, after a change of address.

7. Well-intentioned organizations seeking to register voters may mishandle registration materials.

8. Otherwise qualified citizens may simply fail to register.

Whatever the cause, eligible citizens may believe they have registered. Unfortunately, when they subsequently attempt to vote, they are not on the list. In-precinct provisional voting, or an alternative which achieves the same objective, such as same-day registration (currently used by Idaho, Maine, New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Wyoming, and Minnesota); voting-by-mail (used by Oregon and Washington State); or no voter registration requirement (North Dakota), can solve this problem.

In-precinct provisional voting has four key advantages:

1. Legally qualified voters are no longer turned away at the polls.

2. In-precinct provisional voting limits the ability of states to impose extra hurdles that may have the effect of deterring the use of provisional voting. For example, in Pennsylvania, voters whose names do not appear on the precinct rosters are required to travel to police stations to see an election judge, who determines whether or not they have the right to vote. Voters must then return to the polling location in order to cast their votes. Many voters, who are faced with the choice of traveling to the police station or leaving, ultimately do not vote either because they are intimidated by going to a police station or because it is logistically difficult or inconvenient.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3. Voter participation is easier and more efficient, as poll workers can provide an option to voters who may be angry or frustrated by their absence from the registration list. These often ill-trained and low-paid temporary workers do not have to research or resolve cases on the spot, while other voters impatiently wait in line. Nor are more senior election officials tied down in resolving such questions during Election Day.

4. Voter registration becomes more accurate. The process becomes another way to amend registrations for people who evidently wish to vote. Officials can detect and correct mistakes and the research process, by helping senior administrators notice which problems are causing the mistakes, thus can help many other current and potential voters.

(4) The State has adopted uniform standards that define what will constitute a vote on each category of voting equipment certified for use in the State.

Requiring states to have a uniform standard for what constitutes a vote will ensure that voters receive the equal protection of the laws with respect to the counting of their ballots. Votes should be counted using objective standards put in place before an election contest. Whether or not a vote is counted should not depend on where a voter happens to live, nor should it depend on varying subjective interpretations of state laws by local election officials. Similarly marked ballots should not be discarded in one jurisdiction, but counted in another.

As Americans learned in November and December 2000, a major part of the problem in Florida was that the vote-counting process was subjective and inconsistent, with definitions of what constitutes a vote varying from jurisdiction to jurisdiction. The United States Supreme Court found such a standardless process to be a violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the Constitution.

As the Committee discovered, Florida is not alone. Most states do not prescribe a standard for election officials to follow in recounting votes. Amorphous statutory references to the "intent of the voter" invite still more confusion and ambiguity. "Intent of the voter" is not a standard but rather a subjective judgment, virtually guaranteeing litigation. It is unfair to voters, to candidates and to democracy.

The crux of the problem is that all systems that rely on individual ballots inherently raise questions as to whether a particular configuration is or is not a "vote." Such systems include traditional paper ballots, punch card ballots, connect the arrow ballots, or optical scan ballots, all of which the voter must alter in some manner to create a vote. Lever systems and DRE machines do not create a ballot with voter marks; therefore, there is no particular mark available to review.

Because every vote properly cast must be counted, and recounts are routinely conducted to make certain that all ballots have been properly counted, the Committee believes that uniform standards for what constitutes a vote must be adopted by all states. The definition of a vote shall be as objective as possible and spelled out in clear language before Election Day.

(5) The State has implemented safeguards to ensure that absent uniformed services voters (as defined in section 107(1) of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act) and overseas voters (as defined in section 107(5) of such Act) in the jurisdiction have the opportunity to vote and to have their votes counted.

States must implement safeguards to ensure that absent uniformed service personnel and overseas voters have the opportunity to vote and have their votes counted. Those serving in our military and citizens living abroad face many hurdles when it comes to registering, receiving ballots and casting them timely. States must take action to ensure that these voters have the opportunity to vote and have their votes counted. States need to recognize the difficulties faced by these voters, and take steps to see that their votes are counted. (See below for additional provisions affecting these voters).

(6) The State requires new voting systems to provide a practical and effective means for voters with physical disabilities to cast a secret ballot.

Advancements in technology make it possible for voters with physical disabilities to cast a secret ballot. New systems should strive to make it possible for voters with physical disabilities to cast secret ballots. (See below for additional provisions affecting these voters).

(7) If the State uses voting systems which give voters the opportunity to correct errors, the State shall ensure that voters are able to check for and correct errors under conditions which assure privacy. States, and units of local government within the States, replacing all voting machines within their jurisdiction shall ensure that the new voting system gives voters the opportunity to correct errors before the vote is cast.

In the 2000 presidential election, nearly two million voters, 2% of those who went to the polls, either did not mark their ballot, or marked it in a way that no vote was counted in the presidential contest. Election experts call these votes in which no choice is counted "residual votes." These millions of voters either spoiled their ballots by "overvoting" (appearing to vote for more than one candidate), or by "undervoting" (they marked their choice in a manner that could not be counted, or they marked no choice at all). Of course, an undervoted ballot is not necessarily "spoiled". Millions of voters intentionally do not vote in certain contests for various reasons, complicated the task of determining voter rates.

As the Committee learned in our June hearing, the consensus among engineers, computer scientists, and political scientists who study election systems is that the number of residual votes and the rate of voter error are greatly affected by the kind of equipment that is used. According to one expert who testified before the Committee on what is known as "human usability studies," predictably high levels of user error are evidence of system failure, flawed instructions, or faulty system design.

Whatever the specific causes for residual votes, the fact remains that some votes go uncounted because voters have no opportunity to detect and correct errors before they cast their ballots. Fortunately, there are voting systems available that permit voters to correct ballots in the precinct before they are cast.

The bill will ensure that as jurisdictions scrap obsolete voting systems, they replace them with systems that have the capability to detect errors, for poll site voting (the provisions for second chance voting cannot currently be applied to absentee or mail balloting since the ballot and the voter are separated before counting).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

To be sure, this provision will not instantly mandate that all machines in all polling places by a date certain have a second-chance voting capability. The Committee seriously explored the proposal to require all 200,000 jurisdictions nationwide to have second-chance voting by 2004 or, at the latest, 2006. Jurisdictions that failed to meet the deadline would be subject to suite in federal court. As the Committee learned more about the production capability of the voting machine industry, the timelines and procurement processes counties and states must go through to award contracts to voting-machine vendors, and the huge costs involved, the Committee decided that an aggressive deadline might cause more serious problems than it would solve. One disturbing possibility was that jurisdictions that could not meet the deadline, most likely poorer ones, might have their election systems shut down or seriously disrupted during an election while other jurisdictions in the state, most likely affluent ones, that met the deadline could proceed with their elections. The Committee was hard-pressed to imagine a more chilling 14th Amendment problem than this, where some eligible voters in a state could exercise the franchise while others could not.

As to whether the term "error" means overvote, undervote, or something else, the Committee referred to the findings of the National Commission on Federal Election Reform, commonly known as the "Ford-Carter Commission." The Commission's definition of "error" is set forth in the accompanying document.

As already noted, many voters intentionally do not vote in every race. The purpose of second chance technology is to provide voters information about their ballot. Voter privacy is an important right that must be protected. While voters should have the opportunity to verify the accuracy of their ballot, they should not be forced to do so under the scrutiny of a poll worker. Once a voter is satisfied of the accuracy of their ballot, it is not the roll or responsibility of a poll worker to inquire as to the voters intent.

Poll workers should, upon request, be available to provide assistance to voters, but voters should not be prompted by poll workers, or have to explain to poll workers why they have not voted in a certain race. The bill ensures voter privacy, by requiring that jurisdictions whose machines have second chance technology must ensure that voters are able to check for and correct errors on their ballots under conditions which assure privacy.

MILITARY AND OVERSEAS VOTERS

Those who serve in our military, and citizens living abroad, face peculiar hardships when attempting to vote. Relatively simple things like applying for and transmitting ballots can become a very difficult and lengthy process for these voters. Steps must be taken to protect the rights of these citizens. Military voters risk their very lives in defense of this country. We must repay them by doing everything possible to see that they are able to vote and have their votes counted.

A recent report by the General Accounting Office revealed that over 40% of the installations they visited had not assigned voting assistance officers. The Department of Defense must make certain that a sufficient number of voting assistance officers are assigned, and that those who are assigned are doing their duties. H.R. 3295 requires the Secretary of Defense to certify to Congress that, at a minimum, a voting assistance officer has been assigned to every installation and major command.

The bill also makes voter registration forms available to service personnel at the time of enlistment, reenlistment or extension of enlistment, to make it easier for them to register. The Secretary of Defense must also ensure that all ballots are properly postmarked, or marked with some other official mark, so that state officials can determine when the ballot left the voter's hands.

States are also required to designate a single point of contact for those in the service and living abroad, to make it easier for them to obtain needed information about elections, registration and voting.

The bill contains a number of the key provisions of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizen Absentee Voting Reform Act of 2001, H.R. 1997, which will help remove existing obstacles to absentee voting now confronting members of our armed services and overseas voters. Those obstacles contributed to the appallingly high level of rejected ballots in Florida and to the inability to vote of many others who wished to do so.

Similarly, the provision requiring the collection and publication of statistics on overseas voting by the states will fill one of the most serious gaps in our ability to monitor the adequacy of the overseas absentee voting regime. For the first time, we will all have the same information about voting access for overseas voters that we now have routinely for voters at home.

ACCESSIBILITY STANDARDS AND VOTING RIGHTS OF PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

Sections 102, 112, 221, 233 and 501 and Compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and the Voting Accessibility for the Elderly and Handicapped Act

In this bill, the Committee reaffirms that public entities, such as States and localities and their responsible officials, must comply to the extent required by law with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the Voting Accessibility for the Elderly and Handicapped Act (VAEHA).

The committee bill will enhance compliance with the ADA and VAEHA by enlisting a range of officials in the process of regulating accessibility problems and solutions. For example, the bill requires that the chief election official of each State certify the State's compliance with the applicable provisions of the ADA and the VAEHA, and requires that recipients of election funds provide assurance of compliance with such laws as a condition of their acceptance of federal money.

Section 903 and preservation of existing law

Section 903 expressly provides that noting in the bill will supersede, restrict, or limit the application of the VAEHA, the ADA, the Voting Rights Act or the National Voting Registration Act, nor will it authorize or require any conduct prohibited under any of these laws. Thus, the bill continues unchanged—the role of the Department of Justice (DOJ) as the agency responsible for authoritatively construing the ADA and promulgating regulations.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Voluntary accessibility standards in sections 221 and 222

The Committee bill creates mechanisms for providing States and localities with technical guidance about improving accessibility through the adoption of voluntary standards by the Election Assistance Commission. The Committee expects that the voluntary standards will offer examples of achievable methods for ensuring accessibility. One example might include the moving of a polling place from an inaccessible historic library building to an accessible city hall building nearby.

These voluntary standards to be issued by the Commission would not, however, replace accessibility regulations and technical assistance provided by the DOJ for individuals with disabilities. Rather, these standards must be consistent with DOJ's regulations, and not serve as authorization for a level of accessibility lower than required by the regulations. In fact, this need for harmonious standards is the reason the bill directs the Commission to consult with the Architecture and Transportation Barrier Compliance Board in developing its voluntary standards.

If a state accepts election fund payments, the bill requires the state to certify its compliance with the voluntary standards for voting systems. This means that a state which accepts funds will be bound by at least two independent sources of law: the state's contractual duty to comply with the Commission's standards for voting systems, and the state's statutory duty to comply with the ADA. While the Committee anticipates that the Commission will take great care to create voluntary standards in a manner that conforms to existing law, compliance with the Commission's standards cannot provide any "safe harbor" against liability under the ADA or other applicable laws.

Eligibility for election assistance funding under section 233

One of the eligibility requirements for election assistance funding is that there must be at least one voting system available in each precinct or polling place that is fully accessible to individuals with disabilities. This means that if a State accepts any election assistance funding, the State is required to purchase a fully accessible voting system for each precinct or polling place that does not already have such a Summary

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, November 30, 2001.

Hon. ROBERT W. NEY,
Chairman, Committee on House Administration,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 3295, the Help America Vote Act of 2001.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contacts are Mark Grabowicz and Matthew Pickford (for federal costs); Susan Sieg Tompkins (for the impact on state, local, and tribal governments): and Paige Piper/Bach (for the impact on the private sector).

Sincerely,

BARRY B. ANDERSON
(For Dan L. Crippen, Director).

Enclosure.

H.R. 3295, Help America Vote Act of 2001

Summary: H.R. 3295 would authorize the appropriation of about $2.8 billion over fiscal year 2002 through 2006, mostly for grants to states and localities to improve voting technology and election administration. The bill would establish the Election Assistance Commission to undertake activities to improve the administration of elections and would set minimum standards for national elections. H.R. 3295 also would require the Department of Defense to implement a voting assistance program for military personnel and other overseas U.S. citizens. Finally, the bill would provide reduced postage rates for official election mailings.

Assuming appropriation of the authorized amounts, CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 3295 would cost about $2.8 billion over the 2002–2006 period. In addition, we estimate that enacting the bill would increase costs to the U.S. Postal Service by about $100 million over the 2002–2003 period. (Postal Service spending is classified as off-budget and is not subject to pay-as-you-go procedures.) The bill would not otherwise affect direct spending or receipts so pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply.

Section 4 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) excludes from the application of that act any legislative provisions that enforce the constitutional rights of individuals. CBO has determined that title V and certain sections of title VI would fall within that exclusion. Other provisions of the bill would provide grants to states to improve voting procedures and technology. Any costs to state, local, or tribal governments as a result of participating in those programs would be incurred voluntarily. The remaining provisions of the bill contain no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

Estimated cost to the Federal Government: The estimated budgetary impact of H.R. 3295 is shown in the following table. The costs of this legislation fall within budget functions 050 (national defense), 370 (commerce and housing credit), and 800 (general government).

[1] These estimated costs would be offset, overtime, by postal rate increases.

Basis of estimate: For this estimate, CBO assumes that the bill will be enacted by the end of calendar year 2001 and that the necessary amounts will be appropriated each year. CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 3295 would cost $2.8 billion over the 2002–2006 period, mostly for voting system improvements. The bill would also increase spending of the Postal Service, which is classified as off-budget.

Spending subject to appropriation

Grants to Replace Punch-Card Voting Machines. H.R. 3295 would authorize the appropriation of $400 million for fiscal year 2002 for payments for state and local governments to replace punch card voting systems. State and local governments that apply for these funds would be able to receive a maximum of $6,000 per precinct.

Voting System Improvements. The bill would authorize the appropriation of $2.25 billion over the 2002–2004 period to pay for grants to states and localities for improving voting technology and upgrading equipment, improving voter registration systems, increasing access for voters with disabilities, and enhancing training for poll workers. CBO expects that most of the funds to replace machines and so implement improvements would be spent in fiscal years 2003 through 2005.

Election Assistance Commission. Title II would authorize the appropriation of up to $10 million annually to establish the Election Assistance Commission. The four-member, bipartisan commission would advise state and local governments on election administration. This work would include developing voluntary election management standards, serving as a clearinghouse for information, and reviewing procedures affecting the administration of federal elections. The bill also would transfer all the functions of the Office of Election Administration of the Federal Election Commission to the new commission. CBO estimates that the commission would require funding of $3 million to $4 million annually with estimated outlays of about $12 million over the 2002–2006 period.

Other Provisions. H.R. 3295 also would authorize appropriations for several other programs aimed at improving the election process, including grants to study and improve voting technology, pilot programs to test new technologies, and programs to encourage citizens to get involved in the election process. CBO estimates that, in total, implementing these programs would cost $84 million over the 2002–2006 period.

H.R. 3295 would direct the Secretary of Defense to coordinate all voting activities for members of the military and other overseas U.S. citizens, includes training voting assistance officers, conducting mail delivery surveys, and providing information on voter registration requirements and deadlines of the various states. Based on information from the Department of Defense, CBO estimates that implementing this section of the bill would result in no significant costs.

Off-budget costs (direct spending)

For official mailings sent to voters by local election officials via first-class mail, H.R. 3295 would reduce the postage rate by 50 percent. CBO expects that the reduced postage rate would apply to two mailings every year to each of the 150 million registered voters in the United States. The current first-class rate is 34 cents and is expected to rise to 37 cents by fiscal year 2003, so CBO estimates this provision would cost the Postal Service about $50 million in 2002 and about $55 million in 2003. Over time, there would be no net effect from this provision because the Postal Service is required to set rates so that it covers all costs. Postal Service spending and collections are classified as off-budget and would not be subject to pay-as-you-go procedures.

Pay-as-you-go considerations: None.

Intergovernmental and private-sector impact: Section 4 of UMRA excludes from the application of that act any legislative provisions that enforce the constitutional rights of individuals. CBO has determined that title V and certain sections of title VI would fall within that exclusion because they enforce an individual's right to vote, and to have that vote counted.

Other provisions of the bill would benefit state and local governments. Specifically, title I would provide grants to states to replace or upgrade punch card voting systems. Provisions of title II would provide payments to states to improve election administration and voter education. In both cases, states must provide up to 25 percent in matching funds to be eligible to receive the assistance. The matching requirement as well as any other costs to state, local, or tribal governments as a result of participating in these programs would be incurred voluntarily.

The remaining provisions of the bill contain no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.
