(A) the effectiveness during the preceding calendar year of voting assistance programs; and

(B) the level of compliance during the preceding calendar year with voting assistance programs of each of the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps.

(d) INSPECTOR GENERAL ASSESSMENTS.—(1) The Inspector General of the Department of Defense shall periodically conduct at Department of Defense installations unannounced assessments of the compliance at those installations with—

(A) the requirements of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act (42 U.S.C. 1973ff et seq.);

(B) Department of Defense regulations regarding that Act and the Federal Voting Assistance Program carried out under that Act; and

(C) other requirements of law regarding voting by members of the armed forces.

(2) The Inspector General shall conduct an assessment under paragraph (1) at not less than 10 Department of Defense installations each calendar year.

(3) Each assessment under paragraph (1) shall include a review of such compliance—

(A) within units to which are assigned, in the aggregate, not less than 20 percent of the personnel assigned to duty at that installation;

(B) within a representative survey of members of the armed forces assigned to that installation and their dependents; and

(C) within unit voting assistance officers to measure program effectiveness.

(e) REGULAR MILITARY DEPARTMENT ASSESSMENTS.—The Secretary of each military department shall include in the set of issues and programs to be reviewed during any management effectiveness review or inspection at the installation level an assessment of compliance with the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act (42 U.S.C. 1973ff et seq.) and with Department of Defense regulations regarding the Federal Voting Assistance Program.

(f) VOTING ASSISTANCE OFFICERS.—(1) Voting assistance officers shall be appointed or assigned under Department of Defense regulations. Commanders at all levels are responsible for ensuring that unit voting officers are trained and equipped to provide information and assistance to members of the armed forces on voting matters. Performance evaluation reports pertaining to a member who has been assigned to serve as a voting assistance officer shall comment on the performance of the member as a voting assistance officer. The

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Secretary of each military department shall certify to Congress that (at a minimum) a voting assistance officer has been appointed or assigned for each military installation and major command under the jurisdiction of the department and that a replacement will be appointed if the original officer is no longer able to serve.

(2) Under regulations and procedures prescribed by the Secretary, a member of the armed forces appointed or assigned to duty as a voting assistance officer shall, to the maximum extent practicable, be given the time and resources needed to perform the member's duties as a voting assistance officer during the period in advance of a general election when members and their dependents are preparing and submitting absentee ballots.

(3) As part of each assessment prepared by the Secretary of a military department under subsection (e), the Secretary shall—

(A) specify the number of members of the armed forces under the jurisdiction of the Secretary who are appointed or assigned to duty as voting assistance officers;

(B) specify the ratio of voting assistance officers to active duty members of the armed forces under the jurisdiction of the Secretary;

(C) indicate whether this number and ratio comply with the requirements of the Federal Voting Assistance Program; and

(D) describe the training such members receive to perform their duties as voting assistance officers.

(g) REGISTRATION AND VOTING INFORMATION FOR MEMBERS AND DEPENDENTS.—(1) The Secretary of each military department, using a variety of means including both print and electronic media, shall, to the maximum extent practicable, ensure that members of the armed forces and their dependents who are qualified to vote have ready access to information regarding voter registration requirements and deadlines (including voter registration), absentee ballot application requirements and deadlines, and the availability of voting assistance officers to assist members and dependents to understand and comply with these requirement.

(2) The Secretary of each military department shall make the national voter registration form prepared for purposes of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act by the Federal Election Commission available so that each person who enlists, reenlists, or voluntarily extends an enlistment or who completes a permanent change of station in an active or reserve component of the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marine Corps shall receive such form at the time of the enlistment, reenlistment, extension, or completion of the permanent change of station, or as soon thereafter as practicable.

(3) Where practicable, a special day or days shall be designated at each military installation for the purpose of informing members of the armed forces and their dependents of election timing, registration requirements, and voting procedures.

(h) DELIVERY OF MAIL FROM OVERSEAS PRECEDING FEDERAL ELECTIONS.—(1) During the four months preceding a general Federal election month, the Secretary of Defense shall periodically conduct surveys of all overseas locations and vessels at sea with military units responsible for collecting mail for return shipment to the United States and all port facilities in the United States and overseas where military-related mail is collected for shipment to overseas locations or to the United States. The purpose of each survey shall be to determine if voting materials are awaiting shipment at any such location and, if so, the length of time that such materials have been held at that location. During the fourth and third months before a general Federal election month, such surveys shall be conducted biweekly. During the second and first months before a general Federal election month, such surveys shall be conducted weekly.

(2) The Secretary shall ensure that voting materials are transmitted expeditiously by military postal authorities at all times. The Secretary shall, to the maximum extent practicable, implement measures to ensure that a postmark or other official proof of mailing date is provided on each absentee ballot collected at any overseas location or vessel at sea whenever the Department of Defense is responsible for collecting mail for return shipment to the United States. The Secretary shall submit to Congress a report describing the measures to be implemented to ensure the timely transmittal and postmarking of voting materials and identifying the persons responsible for implementing such measures.

(3) The Secretary of each military department, utilizing the voting assistance officer network established for each military installation, shall, to the maximum extent practicable, provide notice to members of the armed forces stationed at that installation of the last date before a general Federal election for which absentee ballots mailed from a postal facility located at that installation can reasonably be expected to be timely delivered to the appropriate State and local election officials.

(4) In this section, the term "general Federal election month" means November in an even-numbered year.

(2) accept and process, with respect to any election for Federal office, any otherwise valid voter registration application and absentee ballot application from an absent uniformed services voter or overseas voter, if the application is received by the appropriate State election official not less than 30 days before the election;

(3) permit overseas voters to use Federal write-in absentee ballots (in accordance with section 103) in general elections for Federal office[.];*

(4) use the official post card form (prescribed under section 101) for simultaneous voter registration application and absentee ballot application; and

(5) if the State requires an oath or affirmation to accompany any document under this title, use the standard oath prescribed by the Presidential designee under section 101(b)(7).

(b) DESIGNATION OF SINGLE STATE OFFICE TO PROVIDE INFORMATION ON REGISTRATION AND ABSENTEE BALLOT PROCEDURES FOR ALL VOTERS IN STATE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Each State shall designate a single office which shall be responsible for providing information regarding voter registration procedures and absentee ballot procedures (including procedures relating to the use of the Federal write-in absentee ballot) to all absent uniformed services voters and overseas voters who wish to register to vote or vote in any jurisdiction in the State.

(2) RECOMMENDATION REGARDING USE OF OFFICE TO ACCEPT AND PROCESS MATERIALS.—Congress recommends that the State office designated under paragraph (1) be responsible for carrying out the State's duties under this Act, including accepting valid voter registration applications, absentee ballot applications, and absentee ballots (including Federal write-in absentee ballots) from all absent uniformed services voters and overseas voters who wish to register to vote or vote in any jurisdiction in the State.

(c) REPORT ON NUMBER OF ABSENTEE BALLOTS TRANSMITTED AND RECEIVED.—Not later than 90 days after the date of each regularly scheduled general election for Federal office, each State and unit of local government which administered the election shall (through the State, in the case of a unit of local government) submit a report to the Election Assistance Commission (established under the Help America Vote Act of 2001) on the number of absentee ballots transmitted to absent uniformed services voters and overseas

[SEC. 104. RECOMMENDATION TO THE STATES TO MAXIMIZE ACCESS TO THE POLLS BY ABSENT UNIFORMED SERVICES VOTERS AND OVERSEAS VOTERS.

[To afford maximum access to the polls by absent uniformed services voters and overseas voters, it is recommended that the States—

[(1) use the official post card form (prescribed under section 101) for simultaneous voter registration application and absentee ballot application;

[(2) adopt the suggested design for absentee ballot mailing envelopes prescribed under section 101;

[(3) waive registration requirements for absent uniformed services voters and overseas voters who, by reason of service or residence, do not have an opportunity to register;

[(4) if an application other than an official post card form (prescribed under section 101) is required for absentee registration, provide that registration forms be sent with the absentee ballot and may be returned with it;

[(5) expedite processing of balloting materials with respect to absent uniformed services voters and overseas voters;

[(6) permit any oath required for a document under this title to be administered by a commissioned officer of the Armed Forces or any official authorized to administer oaths under Federal law or the law of the State or other place where the oath is administered;

[(7) assure that absentee ballots are mailed to absent uniformed services voters and overseas voters at the earliest opportunity;

[(8) assist the Presidential designee in compiling statistical and other information relating to this title; and

[(9) provide late registration procedures for persons recently separated from the Armed Forces.]

SEC. 104. USE OF SINGLE APPLICATION FOR ALL SUBSEQUENT ELECTIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—If a State accepts and processes an official post card form (prescribed under section 101) submitted by an absent uniformed services voter or overseas voter for simultaneous voter registration and absentee ballot application (in accordance with section 102(a)(4)) and the voter requests that the application be considered an application for an absentee ballot for each subsequent election for Federal office held in the State during that year, the State shall provide an absentee ballot to the voter for each subsequent election for Federal office held in the State during that year.

(b) EXCEPTION FOR VOTERS CHANGING REGISTRATION.—Subsection (a) shall not apply with respect to a voter registered to vote in a State for any election held after the voter notifies the State that the voter no longer wishes to be registered to vote in the State or after the State determines that the voter has registered to vote in another State.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(c) REVISION OF OFFICIAL POST CARD FORM.—The Presidential designee shall revise the official post card form (prescribed under section 101) to enable a voter using the form to—

(1) request an absentee ballot for each election for Federal office held in a State during a year; or

(2) request an absentee ballot for only the next scheduled election for Federal office held in a State.

(d) NO EFFECT ON VOTER REMOVAL PROGRAMS.—Nothing in this section may be construed to prevent a State from removing any voter from the rolls of registered voters in the State under any program or method permitted under section 8 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993.

§ 592. Troops at polls

Whoever, being an officer of the Army or Navy, or other person in the civil, military, or naval service of the United States, orders, brings, keeps, or has under his authority or control any troops or armed men at any place where a general or special election is held, unless such force be necessary to repel armed enemies of the United States, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than five years, or both; and be disqualified from holding any office of honor, profit, or trust under the United States.

This section shall not prevent any officer or member of the armed forces of the United States from exercising the right of suffrage in any election district to which he may belong, if otherwise qualified according to the laws of the State in which he offers to vote.

This section shall not apply to the actions of members of the Armed Forces at any polling place on a military installation where a general or special election is held in accordance with section 2670(b), 18235, or 18236 of title 10.

§ 593. Interference by armed forces

Whoever, being an officer or member of the Armed Forces of the United States, prescribes or fixes or attempts to prescribe or fix, whether by proclamation, order or otherwise, the qualifications of voters at any election in any State; or

Whoever, being such officer or member, prevents or attempts to prevent by force, threat, intimidation, advice or otherwise any qualified voter of any State from fully exercising the right of suffrage at any general or special election; or

Whoever, being such officer or member, orders or compels or attempts to compel any election officer in any State to receive a vote from a person not legally qualified to vote; or

Whoever, being such officer or member, imposes or attempts to impose any regulations for conducting any general or special election in a State, different from those prescribed by law; or

Whoever, being such officer or member, interferes in any manner with an election officer's discharge of his duties—

Shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than five years, or both; and disqualified from holding any office of honor, profit or trust under the United States.

This section shall not prevent any officer or member of the Armed Forces from exercising the right of suffrage in any district to which he may belong, if otherwise qualified according to the laws of the State of such district.

This section shall not apply to the actions of members of the Armed Forces at any polling place on a military installation where a general or special election is held in accordance with section 2670(b), 18235, or 18236 of title 10.

§ 594. Intimidation of voters

(a) Whoever intimidates, threatens, coerces, or attempts to intimidate, threaten, or coerce, any other person for the purpose of interfering with the right of such other person to vote or to vote as he may choose, or of causing such other person to vote for, or not to vote for, any candidate for the office of President, Vice President, Presidential elector, Member of the Senate, Member of the House of Representatives, Delegate from the District of Columbia, or Resident Commissioner, at any election held solely or in part for the purpose of electing such candidate, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

(b) For purposes of subsection (a), a poll worker who urges or encourages a voter who has not cast a vote for each office listed on the ballot to return to the voting booth to cast votes for every office, or who otherwise intimidates, harasses, or coerces the voter to vote for each such office (or who attempts to intimidate, harass, or coerce the voter to vote for each such office), shall be considered to have intimidated, threatened, or coerced (or to have attempted to intimidate, threaten, or coerce) the voter for the purpose of interfering with the voter's right to vote as the voter may choose. Nothing in this subsection shall prohibit a poll worker from providing information to a voter who requests assistance.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ADDITIONAL VIEWS OF HON. STENY H. HOYER

I write to offer my additional views regarding the importance of ensuring accessibility in voting for people with disabilities. The bill in its present form offers significant gains in voting accessibility for persons with disabilities, especially those with visual impairments. For example, the bill requires that, in a state receiving election fund payments, every polling place or precinct have at least one voting system (hardware and software) that is fully accessible. However, while I agree with everything in the committee report, I wish to emphasize the need to take further steps beyond this bill and beyond the Americans with Disabilities Act to ensure complete accessibility in voting and registration services for persons with disabilities.

Complete voting access must be assured for every voter regardless of whether a state or locality accepts federal election funds and without regard to any significant cost constraints. Voting is one of the fundamental rights of citizens in a Republic. As such, the right should not depend upon the vagaries of local budgets—certainly not in an affluent society like ours. Physical access to the ballot box should be unconditional. Every polling place in America should be accessible to persons with the full range of disabilities. Every polling place should have already at least one voting machine or method that is fully accessible, that is, a voting machine or method that allows a voter with a disability to vote in a manner that is as reliable, fraud-resistant, private, independent and anonymous as that available to anyone else.

One of our most profound accomplishments since the founding of the United States is the progressive broadening of the franchise to include African-Americans, women and others subject to pervasive discrimination. In this process, we have learned that few of the rights or interests of a particular group of Americans can be secure so long as that group lacks the right to vote for officials who will be accountable to them. We have also learned that, as more adult citizens become full participants in our polity, the democratic process is enriched for all. We are still in the process of learning this lesson with regard to persons with disabilities.

Most of the ongoing discrimination against persons with disabilities concerning voting is no longer motivated by deliberate efforts do exclude. However, as the recent GAO report on accessibility documents, the choice, design and administration of polling places, voting methods and machines continues in many instances to be driven by a careless assumption on the part of election administrators that all voters are able-bodied. The General Accounting Office recently found, for example, that many polling places have high door thresholds and inaccessible parking places, and that, even when ramps are installed, in many instances they are hazardous to users. Policymakers must strive to highlight the need to administer every aspect of elections in a way that recognizes that a portion of the electorate does not enjoy the full range of abilities, disabilities and impairments.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The right to vote is an almost sacred right that should not be casually traded off against other rights and interests. See, e.g., Harper v. Virginia State Board of Elections, 383 U.S. 663, 667 (voting is a fundamental right, any alleged infringement of which, must be meticulously scrutinized); Kramer v. Union Free School District No. 15, 395 U.S. 621, 626 (1969) ("statutes distributing the franchise constitute the foundation of our representative society [requiring careful examination of a State's stated interests]") Corresponding to the fundamental nature of this right, government officials and election administrators at all levels of government must recognize we have a fundamental obligation to guarantee full access to the ballot box for every qualified citizen. Thus, I hope the Senate will go beyond the achievements of this bill to provide a guarantee of full accessibility that is not dependent upon a state's acceptance of federal funds and that is not limited by any significant cost constraints. Further, I hope we then accept those additional requirements when we meet with the Senate in conference.

However, even before Congress takes additional steps, we should remember, as the committee report explains, that we already have powerful tools for electoral reform available to us, one of which is the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA). In the preamble to that Act, we found that voting is a "critical area" and that discrimination against individuals with disabilities, especially discrimination in the form of isolation and segregation, persists. To redress this discrimination, the ADA insists upon both equality and integration for persons with disabilities.

In the past decade, the ADA has already improved electoral access for persons with disabilities, both through voluntary compliance and through successful litigation in recent cases such as New York v. Schoharie, 82 F.Supp.2d 19 (N.D.N.Y. 2000) and Doe v. Rowe, 156 F.Supp.2d 35 (D. Me. 2001). But, as the GAO report documents, there is plenty of work left to be done to achieve compliance with the ADA. While the ADA provides an undue burden defense to its general mandates, it still provides a great deal of leverage for correcting the kinds of problems documented by the GAO.

Under the ADA, all voting and registration procedures and services must be accessible. Accessibility includes affording individuals with disabilities an opportunity to cast a ballot in a manner that is as private, independent and anonymous as that afforded other voters, and to vote in an integrated setting with other voters. The ADA includes an integration mandate that bars attempts to achieve accessibility through separate-but-equal kinds of arrangements, a mandate that is limited only by the undue burden defense. See, e.g., Olmstead v. L.C. by Zimring, 527 U.S. 581 (1999).

Of course, the ADA's mandate to offer equal and integrated voting methods to persons with disabilities does nothing to deny a State or local government the right to provide generally to the electorate alternative voting methods such as absentee balloting. Nor does it deny an individual with a disability the right to receive a reasonable accommodation in the form of an absentee ballot, curbside voting, or assistance from a poll worker or other individual of his or her choice (other than an individual who is the voter's employer or agent of that employer or officer or agent of the voter's union).

But the fact that an individual with a disability might want to use an absentee ballot or curbside voting as a means of gaining access to voting does not relieve a State or locality from its obligation to make polling places as integrated and accessible as possible. Thus, to comply with the ADA, a pubic entity (such as a State or unit of local government or a responsible government official) must first survey its polling places and move inaccessible polling places to accessible locations. The defense of undue burden is unavailable if there are accessible places that may reasonably serve as polling places. It will be a rare case in which the need to move a polling place to another location will create an undue burden.

Simple compliance with this requirement—that accessible polling places be chosen in the first place—will result in significant increased accessibility without costing any additional money. Normally, an alteration in polling location will only require a different way of thinking about what constitutes an appropriate polling place.

There may well be situations in which no accessible place is reasonably available as a polling place. In such cases, the public entity must make changes to existing polling places to ensure accessibility, such as installing a ramp providing access for those who use wheelchairs. This obligation, however, is subject to an "undue burden" defense. Thus, in some situations, the entity will not be required to make a polling place accessible, and instead, will be permitted to offer access to voting through such means as curbside voting or absentee balloting.

It is important to note, however, that a State or unit of local government may not, as a first resort, depend upon curbside voting or absentee balloting as its sole means to make polling places accessible. Rather, as noted, the government must first determine whether an integrated means of access can be achieved within the "undue burden" limitation. If such access cannot be achieved within that standard, the public entity may then rely upon alternative, less-integrated means of access to the act of voting, for example, curbside voting or absentee balloting.

The undue burden standard makes allowance for the limitations of poor or rural jurisdictions lacking the resources to achieve a level of accessibility equivalent to that of larger, wealthier or more populous areas. However, an undue burden defense must be assessed in terms of actual—rather than merely formal—resource constraints. An undue burden means significant difficulty or expense in light of the budget of the unit of government responsible for funding registration services, polling places and voting methods, together with any coordinated budget with, or budgetary resources available from, other units of State and local government. See, e.g., H.R. Rep. No. 101–485 (1990), reprinted in Comm. on Educ. and Labor, 101st Cong., Legislative History of the Americans with Disabilities Act, at 340–343 (1990) (providing guidance on the analogous undue hardship determination in the employment context.)

I spoke with Maureen. She said that she was not asked about these appointments in 2019, but she thought that the Commissioners had had a conversation about them.

It seems to me that these appointments were unlawful if they were not (1) made by the Commission and (2) bipartisan and geographically varied. And Google Maps says Reno (Kladney) is a short 3.5 hour drive from San Fran (Yaki).

I'll try to locate the 2015, 2013, & 2011 transcripts to see if appointments were voted on in the past.

If the statute says the Commission makes the appointments, I don't see how it can be that the chair makes them. My recollection of the appointments under the Reynolds years is that Abby and maybe Yaki were our delegates. If there are transcripts going back that far they may show whether the Commission voted on these appointments.

Alex,

I haven't found much more than what we discussed. The meeting transcripts are here (and looks like we've almost completed uploading them back to 2006): https://www.usccr.gov/calendar/transcripts.php I did do a very quick glance through the transcripts and did not find any votes for the EAC positions. I did find the email below from 2015 in which the then- Chair's special assistant asked all Commissioners who wanted to be appointed. I wasn't at USCCR for this one - I found the email in securi sync. Sorry to not be of more help. -Maureen

I spoke with Maureen. She said that she was not asked about these appointments in 2019, but she thought that the Commissioners had had a conversation about them.

It seems to me that these appointments were unlawful if they were not (1) made by the Commission and (2) bipartisan and geographically varied. And Google Maps says Reno (Kladney) is a short 3.5 hour drive from San Fran (Yaki).

I'll try to locate the 2015, 2013, & 2011 transcripts to see if appointments were voted on in the past.

The statute (52 U.S.C. 20944(a)(10)) says "Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." 52 U.S.C. 20944(b) says "Appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." The terms are 2 year appointments; I believe the current USCCR appointments are Yaki and Kladney, and that their terms end 4/13/2021. I provided the above information, i.e., bipartisan and geographic scope, before the 2019 appointments, though did not provide any input beyond this. I've also attached the House report for the Help American Vote Act (establishes the advisory committees) - discussion of advisory boards is on page 33.

Subject : Quick Update on Things

Below is where we stand on various issues:

1. Blue Ink Electronic Signature – USCCR needs one from you to attach to letters. Angela Rorison sent you an email requesting it. (FYI – she is one week on the job.)

2. Nov. 13 Maternal Health Disparity/Mortality Briefing Witness AGREED TO– first off, you should know that Kirsanow joined with us in requesting a witness. Bridget Wagner's recommendation of Ms. Kathleen Bravo -- who founded and runs OBRIA Medical Group (which runs 21 pro-life maternal health clinics and 11 mobile centers) -- was finally agreed to by Cullington-Gonzalez. She initially rejected Ms. Bravo as not having "appropriate background" and preferred the first proposed witness instead. However, Star Parker's witness Ms. Catherine Davis felt (and I agree) that if she could not talk about the disparate impact abortion has on the minority community (per the USCCR authorizing statute) she would not have a lot to contribute. After I sent Kathy a 2-page detailed defense on why Bravo does have appropriate experience and why perhaps some of their 13 current witnesses might not have -- based on the materials they sent out regarding the purpose of the hearing -- she relented and agreed to invite Ms. Bravo (who I am reaching out to today with her invitation letter, etc.)

    a. Nov. 10 TEST RUN for Zooming this Hearing at 10 am or 11 am– they want to know if you can participate in this test run on Nov. 10 at one of those times.

3. EAC – I talked with Kevin Rayburn last Friday late afternoon and he agreed to look into the issues. Will touch base with him again today. Alex has nothing new from his end looking into this.

4. Vice-Chair – talked to Andrew, etc. Today is Andrew's first day at his new job at OPM. Spencer is taking over for him. We need to discuss this.

5. GC Vacancy – I reached out to Carrie Lee as you asked. She will apply, but had some concerns that we should discuss.

6. USA Today Criticism – Alex found the "Economic Liberty" report Heriot mentioned that was rejected when the Dem majority first took over back in 2012 or so, and is looking for other reports that were also rejected.

7. Oct. 30 Cmn Business Mtg – the Oct. 16th Cmn Business Meeting has been moved from Oct. 16 to Oct. 30th -- at 12 noon.

At a staff level we are reviewing several 150-plus page report DRAFTS (Native American COVID-19 Impacts; Maternal Health Disparity – yes, written before the Nov. 13 hearing; etc.) Carissa is taking the lead on them. Carissa is also taking the lead in identifying folks for expiring State Advisory Cmtees (SACs).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Attached is the letter from Chair Lhamon to EAC appointing Yaki and Kladney to the EAC's Board of Advisors. Rayburn says there is no meeting of the BOA prior to current BOA representatives' terms expiring on April 13, 2021. However, USCCR could still technically remove and replace its representatives on the BOA prior to that time.

He did note that removing Yaki would create an administrative issue for the BOA since Yaki is the current Chair of the BOA -- and was recently reelected to serve as Chair again. In February, the EAC (Rayburn) will send a notice to USCCR asking whom it wants its representatives to be. As noted in the EAC letter to the USCCR (2nd attachment), if USCCR does not act to change its representatives prior to April 13, 2021, then the terms of the current USCCR representatives on the BOA (Yaki/Kladney) will be automatically renewed.

Re: U.S. Election Assistance Commission
Board of Advisors Membership Appointment

Dear Ms. Lhamon:

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 20901 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards[15] to assist the EAC with the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. The Advisory Boards are primarily charged with providing advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of the Voluntary Voting System Guidelines.

The membership of the respective Advisory Boards is set forth in Section 213, 214 and 221[16]. Under Section 214, your organization is authorized to appoint two members to the Board of Advisors.

Please be advised that it is time to reappoint your designated representatives to the Board of Advisors. If you do not appoint someone new, your existing representatives will continue to serve and be reappointed.

Your current representatives are:

Patricia Timmons-Goodson
Michael Yaki

Each member representative serves for a period of two years unless replaced and may be reappointed if no replacement is named. The term of your member representatives will renew on April 13, 2019 with the renewal of the Advisory Board's Charter.

Looking over my notes and these emails from September. During my call with her, Maureen indicated that she thought that the Commissioners were not informed of the EAC appointments. I also believe she told me that she advised Catherine of the right way to make appointments and was ignored. Gail thought you might want that information for the letter.

Alex,

I haven't found much more than what we discussed. The meeting transcripts are here (and looks like we've almost completed uploading them back to 2006): https://www.usccr.gov/calendar/transcripts.php I did do a very quick glance through the transcripts and did not find any votes for the EAC positions. I did find the email below from 2015 in which the then- Chair's special assistant asked all Commissioners who wanted to be appointed. I wasn't at USCCR for this one - I found the email in securi sync. Sorry to not be of more help. -Maureen

I spoke with Maureen. She said that she was not asked about these appointments in 2019, but she thought that the Commissioners had had a conversation about them.

It seems to me that these appointments were unlawful if they were not (1) made by the Commission and (2) bipartisan and geographically varied. And Google Maps says Reno (Kladney) is a short 3.5 hour drive from San Fran (Yaki).

I'll try to locate the 2015, 2013, & 2011 transcripts to see if appointments were voted on in the past.

If the statute says the Commission makes the appointments, I don't see how it can be that the chair makes them. My recollection of the appointments under the Reynolds years is that Abby and maybe Yaki were our delegates. If there are transcripts going back that far they may show whether the Commission voted on these appointments.

> To my knowledge, there are not any internal rules about these appointments. The practice has been that the Chair makes the appointments. (Note though that I only have records going back to 2015 for these appointments and I do not know what the practice was before 2015). The statute (52 U.S.C. 20944(a)(10)) says "Two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." 52 U.S.C. 20944(b) says "Appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." The terms are 2 year appointments; I believe the current USCCR appointments are Yaki and Kladney, and that their terms end 4/13/2021. I provided the above information, i.e., bipartisan and geographic scope, before the 2019 appointments, though did not provide any input beyond this. I've also attached the House report for the Help American Vote Act (establishes the advisory committees) - discussion of advisory boards is on page 33.

I have a call scheduled with her at 1 pm to discuss further. Please let me know if there are any specific questions I should ask.

I don't think there are any rules. In the absence of an explicit delegation of power, the Commission as a whole has that power. But you need to be sure it wasn't done properly. I have a vague recollection of talking about this in a meeting in the last decade. The straight shooter on the staff is Maureen Rudolph. You might want to ask her.

Vice Chair Donald Palmer
U.S. Election Assistance Commission

Dear Chairman Hovland and Vice Chairman Palmer:

We write as four members of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, and not on behalf of the Commission as a whole, regarding enforcement of the legal requirements in EAC's authorizing statutes for making appointments to the EAC's Board of Advisors.

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 2091 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards to provide advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. In Section 214(a), the United States Commission for Civil Rights (USCCR) as a whole is authorized to appoint two members of the EAC's 37-member Board of Advisors (BOA). Section 214(b) requires that "appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." [emphasis added].

In reviewing the USCCR's current appointees to the BOA, we note that both appointees are members of the same party -- and thus are not bipartisan as required by Section 214(b) -- and that the appointments were evidently made by the Chair of the USCCR unilaterally without approval of the USCCR as a whole. In addition to the USCCR, there are 9 other national associations authorized as a whole to each appoint two members to the EAC's 37-member BOA and section 214(b) requires that those appointments also be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

A letter sent to the Chair of the USCCR from the EAC on February 22, 2019 (attached) advised the Chair that it was time for the USCCR to "reappoint" its "designated representatives" to the BOA under Section 214(a) and stated that if no new designees were appointed, then the existing representatives would continue to serve and be automatically reappointed. The letter then asked the Chair to send in a "Notice of Representation" form by March 15, 2019 – which was less than 3 weeks later and thus provided little time for the USCCR as a whole to approve any designees. No mention is made in the EAC's letter that the appointment power under Section 214 is provided to the USCCR as a whole, and that it is not a power delegated to the USCCR Chair alone. The EAC letter to the USCCR Chair also failed to mention that Section 214(b) requires appointments made to the Board of Advisors be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Put simply, there are significant doubts that this "appointment" was actually an appointment that followed our Commission's regular procedures for making an appointment.

In light of the unbalanced partisan way (both being of the same party) in which the current USCCR appointments were made to the BOA, we would like to know what steps, if any, the EAC takes to enforce the statutory requirements under Section 214 regarding its Board of Advisors as follows:

a) that each of the national entities allowed to appoint members to the BOA (including the USCCR) actually approves the appointment of their representatives to the BOA as a whole – and that the nominal head of each entity does not make the appointments unilaterally on their own authority; and

b) that the appointments from each national entity are made in a manner that "ensures" the BOA will be "bipartisan in nature."

Dear Chairman Hovland and Vice Chairman Palmer:

We write as four members of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, and not on behalf of the Commission as a whole, regarding enforcement of the legal requirements in EAC's authorizing statutes for making appointments to the EAC's Board of Advisors.

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 2091 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards to provide advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. In Section 214(a), the United States Commission for Civil Rights (USCCR) as a whole is authorized to appoint two members of the EAC's 37-member Board of Advisors (BOA). Section 214(b) requires that "appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." [emphasis added].

In reviewing the USCCR's current appointees to the BOA, we note that both appointees are members of the same party -- and thus are not bipartisan as required by Section 214(b) -- and that the appointments were evidently made by the Chair of the USCCR unilaterally without approval of the USCCR as a whole. In addition to the USCCR, there are 9 other national associations authorized as a whole to each appoint two members to the EAC's 37-member BOA and section 214(b) requires that those appointments also be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

A letter sent to the Chair of the USCCR from the EAC on February 22, 2019 (attached) advised the Chair that it was time for the USCCR to "reappoint" its "designated representatives" to the BOA under Section 214(a) and stated that if no new designees were appointed, then the existing representatives would continue to serve and be automatically reappointed. The letter then asked the Chair to send in a "Notice of Representation" form by March 15, 2019 – which was less than 3 weeks later and thus provided little time for the USCCR as a whole to approve any designees. No mention is made in the EAC's letter that the appointment power under Section 214 is provided to the USCCR as a whole, and that it is not a power delegated to the USCCR Chair alone. The EAC letter to the USCCR Chair also failed to mention that Section 214(b) requires appointments made to the Board of Advisors be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Put simply, there are significant doubts that this "appointment" was actually an appointment that followed our Commission's regular procedures for making an appointment.

In light of the unbalanced partisan way (both being of the same party) in which the current USCCR appointments were made to the BOA, we would like to know what steps, if any, the EAC takes to enforce the statutory requirements under Section 214 regarding its Board of Advisors as follows:

a) that each of the national entities allowed to appoint members to the BOA (including the USCCR) actually approves the appointment of their representatives to the BOA as a whole – and that the nominal head of each entity does not make the appointments unilaterally on their own authority; and

b) that the appointments from each national entity are made in a manner that "ensures" the BOA will be "bipartisan in nature."

Dear Commissioners-

At the request and in consultation with the Chair, I am sending this email to start the EAC nomination process for Commissioners.

Per the AI voted on during the April 30th meeting (language included below), each caucus is requested to submit two candidates for consideration by COB Friday, July 30, 2021. Once the names are submitted, OGC will conduct an ethics check to be completed by Wednesday, August 4, 2021. Each caucus will then have 24 hours to submit caucus strikes (Thursday, August 5, 2021 COB). The Chair will communicate the two names to EAC no later than Friday, August 6, 2021.

Please let the Chair or I know if you have any questions or concerns.

Dear Special Assistants,

I have attached a draft of the proposed 2022-2026 USCCR Strategic Plan. As a reminder, every Federal Agency is required to create and follow a strategic plan and update it every four years. (GPRA Modernization Act of 2010). We need to create and adopt a new plan by January 2022. For your information, I have attached the 2018-2022 Strategic Plan we adopted that Commissioners previously voted on and that was submitted to the President and Congress back in 2018. The Commission staff has already reviewed and provided their input to the attached draft plan. Many of their recommendations have been incorporated.

First, I am requesting that you review and provide your review and edits which we will examine for inclusion. We would like your responses no later than 30 days from today or COB on Monday August 16th.

Second, as part of the requirements under the statute we are required to solicit input from the public. We have a survey we will be sending to select bipartisan members of Congress and to bipartisan external stakeholders. We would welcome any recommendations you may have on who these external parties should be and who we should send the survey to for a reply. If you have recommendations, please forward them to us no later than COB next Friday on July 23rd. We want to give this group 30 days to respond. Once we have all the final data, we will update and revise the draft plan. We will then submit the final revised plan to Commissioners by early October for a vote in December. We think we can follow this timeline and meet our requirement to create a strategic plan for the next five years.

Finally, Please contact me if you have any questions.

Per the Caucus discussion a few months back about USCCR's two designees to the EAC's Bd. of Advisors, Cmnr Adams would like the Caucus to recommend Cleta Mitchell and himself as the two nominees from the Republican Commissioners -- per the new AI on the issue (see below in Mauro's email). Democrat Cmnrs would then need to choose between Cleta Mitchell and Cmnr Adams as one of USCCR's two designees to the EAC Bd. of Advisors.

Cmnr Adams wanted me to double check that this is still OK with the 3 of you before he submits his and Cleta's names to Staff Director Morales by COB tomorrow, Friday July 30.

Please email me back to confirm that each of you is OK with submitting Cleta's and Cmnr Adams' names for the EAC .

Dear Commissioners-

At the request and in consultation with the Chair, I am sending this email to start the EAC nomination process for Commissioners.

Per the AI voted on during the April 30th meeting (language included below), each caucus is requested to submit two candidates for consideration by COB Friday, July 30, 2021. Once the names are submitted, OGC will conduct an ethics check to be completed by Wednesday, August 4, 2021. Each caucus will then have 24 hours to submit caucus strikes (Thursday, August 5, 2021 COB). The Chair will communicate the two names to EAC no later than Friday, August 6, 2021.

Please let the Chair or I know if you have any questions or concerns.

Per the Caucus discussion a few months back about USCCR's two designees to the EAC's Bd. of Advisors, Cmnr Adams would like the Caucus to recommend Cleta Mitchell and himself as the two nominees from the Republican Commissioners -- per the new AI on the issue (see below in Mauro's email). Democrat Cmnrs would then need to choose between Cleta Mitchell and Cmnr Adams as one of USCCR's two designees to the EAC Bd. of Advisors.

Cmnr Adams wanted me to double check that this is still OK with the 3 of you before he submits his and Cleta's names to Staff Director Morales by COB tomorrow, Friday July 30.

Please email me back to confirm that each of you is OK with submitting Cleta's and Cmnr Adams' names for the EAC .

I, honestly, did not spend much time with meeting. There is only one held each year in person. They have been cancelled lately in response to covid. They conducted the last one via video. From time to time, the group will be asked to read recommendations to the EAC. Things like types of machines, security of the vote, and administrative recommendations.

As a whole, it is not much time.

UNITED STATES COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS

1331 PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, NW, WASHINGTON, DC 20425 www.usccr.gov

December 2, 2020

Chair Benjamin Hovland
Vice Chair Donald Palmer
U.S. Election Assistance Commission
633 3rd Street NW, Suite 200
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Hovland and Vice Chairman Palmer:

We write as four members of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, and not on behalf of the Commission as a whole, regarding enforcement of the legal requirements in EAC's authorizing statutes for making appointments to the EAC's Board of Advisors.

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 2091 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards to provide advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. In Section 214(a), the United States Commission for Civil Rights (USCCR) as a whole is authorized to appoint two members of the EAC's 37-member Board of Advisors (BOA). Section 214(b) requires that "appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." [emphasis added].

In reviewing the USCCR's current appointees to the BOA, we note that both appointees are members of the same party -- and thus are not bipartisan as required by Section 214(b) -- and that the appointments were evidently made by the Chair of the USCCR unilaterally without approval of the USCCR as a whole. In addition to the USCCR, there are 9 other national associations authorized as a whole to each appoint two members to the EAC's 37-member BOA and section 214(b) requires that those appointments also be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

A letter sent to the Chair of the USCCR from the EAC on February 22, 2019 (attached) advised the Chair that it was time for the USCCR to "reappoint" its "designated representatives" to the BOA under Section 214(a) and stated that if no new designees were appointed, then the existing representatives would continue to serve and be automatically reappointed. The letter then asked the Chair to send in a "Notice of Representation" form by March 15, 2019 – which was less than 3 weeks later and thus provided little time for the USCCR as a whole to approve any designees. No mention is made in the EAC's letter that the appointment power under Section 214 is provided to the USCCR as a whole, and that it is not a power delegated to the USCCR Chair alone. The EAC letter to the USCCR Chair also failed to mention that Section 214(b) requires appointments made to the Board of Advisors be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Put simply, there are significant doubts that this "appointment" was actually an appointment that followed our Commission's regular procedures for making an appointment.

In light of the unbalanced partisan way (both being of the same party) in which the current USCCR appointments were made to the BOA, we would like to know what steps, if any, the EAC takes to enforce the statutory requirements under Section 214 regarding its Board of Advisors as follows:

a) that each of the national entities allowed to appoint members to the BOA (including the USCCR) actually approves the appointment of their representatives to the BOA as a whole – and that the nominal head of each entity does not make the appointments unilaterally on their own authority; and

b) that the appointments from each national entity are made in a manner that "ensures" the BOA will be "bipartisan in nature."

And add an AI that all appointments that the USCCR is statutorily authorized make to advisory Boards, Cmtees, etc. for other agencies must be approved by a majority vote of the Cmnrs, and not just unilaterally appointed by the USCCR Chair.

(e.g. Election Assistance Cmn for which the Chair appointed 2 Dems from the USCCR to EAC's Board of Advisors when the law called for political balance in appointments to the EAC's Advisory Board.

r possible conditions:

- All interviews conducted as part of Commission projects must be attended by two Commissioners (or their designees), representing both political parties.
- AI stipulating that the Staff Director has no authority over special assistants .
- AI stipulating that the Staff Director has no authority to call a meeting, and must publish the Sunshine Act notice if four commissioners direct him to do so.

Mauro's intransigence and the Dems' continued blocking of Scott Yenor and Patrick Mincey have me thinking about what Gail called "big asks" for whenever a new chair is appointed. I was also thinking about something Thomas said about the need to keep commissioners from blocking SAC appointees. A few ideas:

- A new AI that specifies that Commissioners appointed by Ds get to pick 7 SAC members for each SAC, and Commissioners appointed by Rs get to pick 7 SAC members for each SAC. The choices are not subject to review by the Staff Director or objection from the other caucus. Responsibility for choosing SAC members is shifted entirely to the Commissioners and away from career staff.

- Fire Mauro - no agreement on new staff director.

Quick wiki excerpt:

> In 1983, Reagan attempted to fire three members of the commission. They sued the administration in federal court to stay on. The authorizing legislation stated that a president could only fire a commissioner for "misbehavior in office," and it was clear that the terminations were the result of disagreements over policy. A compromise brokered in the Senate resulted in the current hybrid group of eight, half appointed by the president and half by the Congress, with six-year terms that do not expire with the inauguration of a new president. Since that time the commission has struggled to remain independent, and its agenda has oscillated between liberal and conservative aims as factions among its members have ebbed and waned.[10]

3. She said something that indicated to me that Yaki and Debo or someone else (Mauro?) are agitating to have Stephen and I removed by the President. I cannot recall her exact words, but it was along the lines "I tell people that the people we got are the people we got. President Reagan tried to remove commissioners and he got sued and lost for removing them." She would NOT HAVE BROUGHT THIS up unless that chatter is occurring somewhere. And after all, ask Roger Severino if the Biden people are thinking like this. Bottom Line: some members of the Commission may be thinking they can improve their bargaining position by altering the composition of the commission and getting rid of two of us. Whether or not they are correct is irrelevant to Yaki or Debo's potential perception of this option.
4. I repeatedly told her - "You need to get with Pete on that; he knows more about that than me." Among the topics falling under this category were EAC appointments, SAC issues, and all manner of administrative issues.
5. I made it plain to her we could stop the business of the commission if we were not treated fairly, and fairness is all we want.

To the best of my recollection, the original 1957 Act did not say anything about how a Commissioner could be removed. If that’s not so, could someone point me to the section of the 1957 Act that says that? Alex?

That's the statute that was passed in the 1980s as a result of the kerfuffle that was created when Reagan removed members. That law replaced the 1957 Act's provisions on the USCCR. I think that legally Reagan was clearly in the right when he acted. Members served at his pleasure, and as he put it, "She [Mary Frances Berry] wasn't giving me pleasure." Under the law that applies now, he would have been clearly in the wrong. That's why Congress changed it.

As for what applies to our situation, for Biden to be able to remove a Commissioner for not attending a meeting called by the Staff Director, I would think it would have to be true that the Staff Director has the authority to call a meeting. I don't see where that authority would come from.

Good Morning Juana and Alec,

Since I will be on travel next week I just wanted to make sure that I had all our ducks in order and make sure that I am not missing anything in preparation for Debo and Dave.

August Business Meeting Agenda (the Sunshine notice has posted)

A. Presentations from Advisory Committees to the Commission on Recent 2 Reports/Memo Releases
B. Discussion and Vote on Iowa Advisory Committee Chair Appointment
C. Discussion and Vote on Advisory Committee Appointments (Florida). Juana, David should circulate and then if we could have your legal intern do the vet memo that would be great.
D. Discussion and Vote on the Release of The Civil Rights Implications of Cash Bail: Briefing Report Before the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights. I have circulated the final version to the SA's and will circulate to Commissioners, Mauro + OGC today.
E. Management and Operations

It looks like the only item that is missing is the EAC nominations. So someone would need to amend the agenda to add that item and have a vote on Commissioner Yaki and Cleta Mitchell for EAC.

Please let me know if I am missing anything or that there is something we should discuss.

The articles I read and the one I sent the link to all said that the statute — prior to the compromise Reagan signed reauthorizing the USCCR in 1984 - said that commissioners "served at the pleasure of the President." The new statute signed by Reagan changed that to the Statutory text I sent previously.

To the best of my recollection, the original 1957 Act did not say anything about how a Commissioner could be removed. If that's not so, could someone point me to the section of the 1957 Act that says that? Alex?

The authorizing legislation stated that a president could only fire a commissioner for "misbehavior in office," and it was clear that the terminations were the result of disagreements over policy. A compromise brokered in the Senate resulted in the current hybrid group of eight, half appointed by the president and half by the Congress, with six-year terms that do not expire with the inauguration of a new president. Since that time the commission has struggled to remain independent, and its agenda has oscillated between liberal and conservative aims as factions among its members have ebbed and waned.[10]

USCCR Authorizing Statute excerpt:

"Sec. 2. <42 USC 1975> ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMISSION.

"(a) Generally.--There is established the United StatesCommission on Civil Rights (hereinafter in this Act referred to as the 'Commission').

"(b) Membership.--The Commission shall be composed of 8 members. Not more than 4 of the members shall at any one time be of the same political party. "(2) 2 members of the Commission shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, upon the recommendations of the majority leader and the minority leader, and of the members appointed not more than one shall be appointed from the same political party.

"(3) 2 members of the Commission shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives upon the recommendations of the majority leader and the minority leader, and of the members appointed not more than one shall be appointed from the same political party.

"(c) Terms.--The term of office of each member of the Commission shall be 6 years. The term of each member of the Commission [4339] in the initial membership of the Commission shall expire on the date such term would have expired as of September 30, 1994. "(d) Chairperson.—

(1) Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3), the individuals serving as Chairperson and Vice Chairperson of the United States Commission on Civil Rights on September 30, 1994 shall initially fill those roles on the Commission. "

(2) Thereafter the President may, with the concurrence of a majority of the Commission's members, designate a Chairperson or Vice Chairperson, as the case may be, from among the Commission's members. "

(3) The President shall, with the concurrence of a majority of the Commission's members, fill a vacancy by designating a Chairperson or Vice Chairperson, as the case may be, from among the Commission's members. "

(4) The Vice Chairperson shall act in place of the Chairperson in the absence of the Chairperson. "

(e) Removal of Members.--The President may remove a member of the Commission only for neglect of duty or malfeasance in office. "

(f) Quorum.--5 members of the Commission constitute a quorum of the Commission.

President Reagan tried to remove commissioners and he got sued and lost for removing them." She would NOT HAVE BROUGHT THIS up unless that chatter is occurring somewhere. And after all, ask Roger Severino if the Biden people are thinking like this. Bottom Line: some members of the Commission may be thinking they can improve their bargaining position by altering the composition of the commission and getting rid of two of us. Whether or not they are correct is irrelevant to Yaki or Debo's potential

4. I repeatedly told her - "You need to get with Pete on that; he knows more about that than me." Among the topics falling under this category were EAC appointments, SAC issues, and all manner of administrative issues.
5. I made it plain to her we could stop the business of the commission if we were not treated fairly, and fairness is all we want.

I spoke with Thomas re: the proposed notational vote.

Comm. Gilchrist connected with Comm. Adams. Gilchrist wants to force a public vote on the EAC selection because he thinks it's shameful that they didn't pick their USCCR colleague and he wants it on the public record.

I gently mentioned your concern about setting a precedent for notational votes, but I think Gilchrist is set on this.

Commissioners,

Good afternoon. I have placed material in the Commissioner and SA's folder for the 12:00 pm ET August 20th business meeting. (Pam will send you your telephone call in numbers in a separate email.) I apologize for not sending this material sooner but I was on vacation and returned late yesterday.

To access the material please follow a simple two-step process:
First, you must click on this link. https://securisync.intermedia.net/us2/s/login?public_share=_XZOHVK92GU1VDGU925IM8

Second, you must insert the following password when required: Lieko#450

Look for the 2021 subfolder designated 8.20.21 Business Meeting Material. Commissioners may add or remove items currently on the agenda by majority vote. At present, the folder contains the posted agenda for the business meeting, the Florida SAC package, the reports of the Utah and Maine SAC's and the redline and clean version of the Bail Reform reports for your review and consideration.

I will add the Staff Director report once it is finalized. Please contact me if you have any questions. Thank you.

You are correct. It was not added when it was published last Thursday because I received no coordinated instructions from Commissioners on how they wanted to proceed. I still have not received final instructions on what all of you would like done. One of you will have to amend the agenda to add it. I recommend that you coordinate with the Chair to clarify that a discussion and vote on EAC is being requested to be added to the agenda. I have added Juana for her awareness.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Quick wiki excerpt:

> In 1983, Reagan attempted to fire three members of the commission. They sued the administration in federal court to stay on. The authorizing legislation stated that a president could only fire a commissioner for "misbehavior in office," and it was clear that the terminations were the result of disagreements over policy. A compromise brokered in the Senate resulted in the current hybrid group of eight, half appointed by the president and half by the Congress, with six-year terms that do not expire with the inauguration of a new president. Since that time the commission has struggled to remain independent, and its agenda has oscillated between liberal and conservative aims as factions among its members have ebbed and waned.[10]

USCCR Authorizing Statute excerpt:

> "Sec. 2. <42 USC 1975> ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMISSION.
> "(a) Generally.--There is established the United StatesCommission on Civil Rights (hereinafter in this Act referred to as the 'Commission').
> "(b) Membership.--The Commission shall be composed of 8 members. Not more than 4 of the members shall at any one time be of the same political party. The initial membership of the Commission shall be the members of the United States Commission on Civil Rights on September 30, 1994. Thereafter vacancies in the membership of the Commission shall continue to be appointed as follows:
> "(1) 4 members of the Commission shall be appointed by the President.
> "(2) 2 members of the Commission shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, upon the recommendations of the majority leader and the minority leader, and of the members appointed not more than one shall be appointed from the same political party.
> "(3) 2 members of the Commission shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives upon the recommendations of the majority leader and the minority leader, and of the members appointed not more than one shall be appointed from the same political party.
> "(c) Terms.--The term of office of each member of the Commission shall be 6 years. The term of each member of the Commission [4339] in the initial membership of the Commission shall expire on the date such term would have expired as of September 30, 1994. "(d) Chairperson.—
> (1) Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3), the individuals serving as Chairperson and Vice Chairperson of the United States Commission on Civil Rights on September 30, 1994 shall initially fill those roles on the Commission. "
> (2) Thereafter the President may, with the concurrence of a majority of the Commission's members, designate a Chairperson or Vice Chairperson, as the case may be, from among the Commission's members. "
> (3) The President shall, with the concurrence of a majority of the Commission's members, fill a vacancy by designating a Chairperson or

Vice Chairperson, as the case may be, from among the Commission's members. "

(4) The Vice Chairperson shall act in place of the Chairperson in the absence of the Chairperson. "

(e) Removal of Members.--The President may remove a member of the Commission only for neglect of duty or malfeasance in office. "

(f) Quorum.--5 members of the Commission constitute a quorum of the Commission.

I just talked to Cantu for an hour. Key takeaways

1. I told her she HAD to get up with Pete regarding details.
2. I gave her a heads up that there was a chance she would NOT have a quorum on Friday pending resolution of big issues. She should not be blindsided in my view. I put down the threat of a withheld quorum in order to remind her it was possible and that we needed to resolve things.
3. She said something that indicated to me that Yaki and Debo or someone else (Mauro?) are agitating to have Stephen and I removed by the President. I cannot recall her exact words, but it was along the lines "I tell people that the people we got are the people we got. President Reagan tried to remove commissioners and he got sued and lost for removing them." She would NOT HAVE BROUGHT THIS up unless that chatter is occurring somewhere. And after all, ask Roger Severino if the Biden people are thinking like this. Bottom Line: some members of the Commission may be thinking they can improve their bargaining position by altering the composition of the commission and getting rid of two of us. Whether or not they are correct is irrelevant to Yaki or Debo's potential perception of this option.
4. I repeatedly told her - "You need to get with Pete on that; he knows more about that than me." Among the topics falling under this category were EAC appointments, SAC issues, and all manner of administrative issues.
5. I made it plain to her we could stop the business of the commission if we were not treated fairly, and fairness is all we want.

Only three Commissioners responded to my inquiry in addition to Commissioner Gilchrist. All the responses were different. As a consequence, there was no consensus on my request for instructions. Changes to the agenda before posted must coordinated with the Chair. The Chair is in charge of the agenda. But as I have previously stated, the agenda can always be amended by majority vote at the beginning of the meeting. I recommend you reach out to her on what you want or believe should occur for the next business meeting

Commissioners,

Good afternoon. I have placed material in the Commissioner and SA's folder for the 12:00 pm ET August 20th business meeting. (Pam will send you your telephone call in numbers in a separate email.) I apologize for not sending this material sooner but I was on vacation and returned late yesterday.

To access the material please follow a simple two-step process:
First, you must click on this link. https://securisync.intermedia.net/us2/s/login?public_share=_XZOHVK92GU1VDGU925IM8

Second, you must insert the following password when required: Lieko#450

Look for the 2021 subfolder designated 8.20.21 Business Meeting Material. Commissioners may add or remove items currently on the agenda by majority vote. At present, the folder contains the posted agenda for the business meeting, the Florida SAC package, the reports of the Utah and Maine SAC's and the redline and clean version of the Bail Reform reports for your review and consideration.

I will add the Staff Director report once it is finalized. Please contact me if you have any questions. Thank you.

I am happy to send it out. However, as you are aware a single objection from a Commissioner to the holding of a notional vote prevents it from occurring. Usually, the Commissioner requesting the notational vote confirms with the other Commissioners or SA's that there is no objection to holding the vote by notation. Otherwise issuing the ballot is an exercise in futility. Nevertheless, I can proceed forward if this is what you wish.

Commissioners,

Pursuant to the AI voted on during the April 30th Business meeting, I received the following names for appointment the Election Assistance Commission (EAC):

Commissioners Cantu, Adegbile, Kladney and Yaki have selected for appointment to the EAC:

- Cleta Michell, Chair, Conservative Partnership Institute Election Integrity Network.

Commissioners Adams, Gilchrist, Heriot and Kirsanow have selected for appointment to the EAC:

- Commissioner Michael Yaki;

Under the AI adopted by Commissioners, these two members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified by a majority vote. Please inform me how you would like to proceed for a majority vote either by placing it on the agenda for the next USCCR business meeting or by a notational vote. Thank you.

I am willing to go with Christian's recommendation on this UNLESS he thinks it's a close case. If he thinks it's a close case AND IF we have reason to believe that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian, THEN I think we should consider a bit of reciprocity and let Yaki have the job. My impression is that he wants it. If it's really close to six of one half dozen of the other, pleasing him has its benefits.

Of course, so far the evidence is running against the possibility that the Progressives vetoed Cleta and not Christian. If they had vetoed Cleta, my guess is that they would have wanted us to know that. Nevertheless, if this is a close case, it would be a good idea to try to find out what the Progressives did.

The only thing that gives Mauro a leg to stand on is that the 26th was already on the Commission's calendar. At the time the Commission voted on the dates for the 2021 meetings, they didn't designate which were for briefings and which were for business meetings. But that also doesn't give him the authority to add a business meeting to a meeting date.

The articles I read and the one I sent the link to all said that the statute — prior to the compromise Reagan signed reauthorizing the USCCR in 1984 - said that commissioners "served at the pleasure of the President." The new statute signed by Reagan changed that to the Statutory text I sent previously.

To the best of my recollection, the original 1957 Act did not say anything about how a Commissioner could be removed. If that's not so, could someone point me to the section of the 1957 Act that says that? Alex?

somewhere. And after all, ask Roger Severino if the Biden people are thinking like this. Bottom Line: some members of the Commission may be thinking they can improve their bargaining position by altering the composition of the commission and getting rid of two of us. Whether or not they are correct is irrelevant to Yaki or Debo's potential perception of this option.

4. I repeatedly told her - "You need to get with Pete on that; he knows more about that than me." Among the topics falling under this category were EAC appointments, SAC issues, and all manner of administrative issues.
5. I made it plain to her we could stop the business of the commission if we were not treated fairly, and fairness is all we want.

Public Law 85-315

September 9, 1957
[H. R. 6127]

AN ACT

To provide means of further securing and protecting the civil rights of persons within the jurisdiction of the United States.

Civil Rights Act of 1957.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

PART I—ESTABLISHMENT OF THE COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS

SEC. 101. (a) There is created in the executive branch of the Government a Commission on Civil Rights (hereinafter called the "Commission").

(b) The Commission shall be composed of six members who shall be appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Not more than three of the members shall at any one time be of the same political party.

(c) The President shall designate one of the members of the Commission as Chairman and one as Vice Chairman. The Vice Chairman shall act as Chairman in the absence or disability of the Chairman, or in the event of a vacancy in that office.

(d) Any vacancy in the Commission shall not affect its powers and shall be filled in the same manner, and subject to the same limitation with respect to party affiliations as the original appointment was made.

(e) Four members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum.

RULES OF PROCEDURE OF THE COMMISSION

SEC. 102. (a) The Chairman or one designated by him to act as Chairman at a hearing of the Commission shall announce in an opening statement the subject of the hearing.

(b) A copy of the Commission's rules shall be made available to the witness before the Commission.

(c) Witnesses at the hearings may be accompanied by their own counsel for the purpose of advising them concerning their constitutional rights.

(d) The Chairman or Acting Chairman may punish breaches of order and decorum and unprofessional ethics on the part of counsel, by censure and exclusion from the hearings.

(e) If the Commission determines that evidence or testimony at any hearing may tend to defame, degrade, or incriminate any person, it shall (1) receive such evidence or testimony in executive session; (2) afford such person an opportunity voluntarily to appear as a witness; and (3) receive and dispose of requests from such person to subpena additional witnesses.

(f) Except as provided in sections 102 and 105 (f) of this Act, the Chairman shall receive and the Commission shall dispose of requests to subpena additional witnesses.

Evidence or testimony. Release.

(g) No evidence or testimony taken in executive session may be released or used in public sessions without the consent of the Commission. Whoever releases or uses in public without the consent of the Commission evidence or testimony taken in executive session shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned for not more than one year.

(h) In the discretion of the Commission, witnesses may submit brief and pertinent sworn statements in writing for inclusion in the record. The Commission is the sole judge of the pertinency of testimony and evidence adduced at its hearings.

(i) Upon payment of the cost thereof, a witness may obtain a transcript copy of his testimony given at a public session or, if given at an executive session, when authorized by the Commission.

Witness fees.

(j) A witness attending any session of the Commission shall receive $4 for each day's attendance and for the time necessarily occupied in going to and returning from the same, and 8 cents per mile for going from and returning to his place of residence. Witnesses who attend at points so far removed from their respective residences as to prohibit return thereto from day to day shall be entitled to an additional allowance of $12 per day for expenses of subsistence, including the time necessarily occupied in going to and returning from the place of attendance. Mileage payments shall be tendered to the witness upon service of a subpena issued on behalf of the Commission or any subcommittee thereof.

(k) The Commission shall not issue any subpena for the attendance and testimony of witnesses or for the production of written or other matter which would require the presence of the party subpenaed at a hearing to be held outside of the State, wherein the witness is found or resides or transacts business.

COMPENSATION OF MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION

SEC. 103. (a) Each member of the Commission who is not otherwise in the service of the Government of the United States shall receive the sum of $50 per day for each day spent in the work of the Commission, shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary travel expenses, and shall receive a per diem allowance of $12 in lieu of actual expenses for subsistence when away from his usual place of residence, inclusive of fees or tips to porters and stewards.

(b) Each member of the Commission who is otherwise in the service of the Government of the United States shall serve without compensation in addition to that received for such other service, but while engaged in the work of the Commission shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary travel expenses, and shall receive a per diem allowance of $12 in lieu of actual expenses for subsistence when away from his usual place of residence, inclusive of fees or tips to porters and stewards.

DUTIES OF THE COMMISSION

SEC. 104. (a) The Commission shall—

(1) investigate allegations in writing under oath or affirmation that certain citizens of the United States are being deprived of their right to vote and have that vote counted by reason of their color, race, religion, or national origin; which writing, under oath or affirmation, shall set forth the facts upon which such belief or beliefs are based;

(2) study and collect information concerning legal developments constituting a denial of equal protection of the laws under the Constitution; and

(3) appraise the laws and policies of the Federal Government with respect to equal protection of the laws under the Constitution.

Reports to President and Congress.

(b) The Commission shall submit interim reports to the President and to the Congress at such times as either the Commission or the President shall deem desirable, and shall submit to the President and to the Congress a final and comprehensive report of its activities, findings, and recommendations not later than two years from the date of the enactment of this Act.

Termination of Commission.

(c) Sixty days after the submission of its final report and recommendations the Commission shall cease to exist.

POWERS OF THE COMMISSION

Staff director.

SEC. 105. (a) There shall be a full-time staff director for the Commission who shall be appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and who shall receive compensation at a rate, to be fixed by the President, not in excess of $22,500 a year. The President shall consult with the Commission before submitting the nomination of any person for appointment to the position of staff director. Within the limitations of its appropriations, the Commission may appoint such other personnel as it deems advisable, in accordance with the civil service and classification laws, and may procure services as authorized by section 15 of the Act of August 2, 1946 (60 Stat. 810; 5 U. S. C. 55a), but at rates for individuals not in excess of $50 per diem.

(b) The Commission shall not accept or utilize services of voluntary or uncompensated personnel, and the term "whoever" as used in paragraph (g) of section 102 hereof shall be construed to mean a person whose services are compensated by the United States.

(c) The Commission may constitute such advisory committees within States composed of citizens of that State and may consult with governors, attorneys general, and other representatives of State and local governments, and private organizations, as it deems advisable.

(d) Members of the Commission, and members of advisory committees constituted pursuant to subsection (c) of this section, shall be exempt from the operation of sections 281, 283, 284, 434, and 1914 of title 18 of the United States Code, and section 190 of the Revised Statutes (5 U. S. C. 99).

62 Stat. 697 et seq.

(e) All Federal agencies shall cooperate fully with the Commission to the end that it may effectively carry out its functions and duties.

Hearings, etc.

(f) The Commission, or on the authorization of the Commission any subcommittee of two or more members, at least one of whom shall be of each major political party, may, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this Act, hold such hearings and act at such times and places as the Commission or such authorized subcommittee may deem advisable.

Subpenas.

Subpenas for the attendance and testimony of witnesses or the production of written or other matter may be issued in accordance with the rules of the Commission as contained in section 102 (j) and (k) of this Act, over the signature of the Chairman of the Commission or of such subcommittee, and may be served by any person designated by such Chairman.

(g) In case of contumacy or refusal to obey a subpena, any district court of the United States or the United States court of any Territory or possession, or the District Court of the United States for the District of Columbia, within the jurisdiction of which the inquiry is carried on or within the jurisdiction of which said person guilty of contumacy or refusal to obey is found or resides or transacts business, upon application by the Attorney General of the United States shall have jurisdiction to issue to such person an order requiring such person to appear before the Commission or a subcommittee thereof, there to produce evidence if so ordered, or there to give testimony touching the matter under investigation; and any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by said court as a contempt thereof.

APPROPRIATIONS

SEC. 106. There is hereby authorized to be appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, so much as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

USCCR-21-1814-A-002965

PART II—TO PROVIDE FOR AN ADDITIONAL ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL

SEC. 111. There shall be in the Department of Justice one additional Assistant Attorney General, who shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, who shall assist the Attorney General in the performance of his duties, and who shall receive compensation at the rate prescribed by law for other Assistant Attorneys General.

PART III—TO STRENGTHEN THE CIVIL RIGHTS STATUTES, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES

SEC. 121. Section 1343 of title 28, United States Code, is amended as follows: 62 Stat. 932.

(a) Amend the catch line of said section to read,

"§ 1343. Civil rights and elective franchise"

(b) Delete the period at the end of paragraph (3) and insert in lieu thereof a semicolon.

(c) Add a paragraph as follows:

"(4) To recover damages or to secure equitable or other relief under any Act of Congress providing for the protection of civil rights, including the right to vote."

SEC. 122. Section 1989 of the Revised Statutes (42 U. S. C. 1993) is hereby repealed. Repeal.

PART IV—TO PROVIDE MEANS OF FURTHER SECURING AND PROTECTING THE RIGHT TO VOTE

SEC. 131. Section 2004 of the Revised Statutes (42 U. S. C. 1971), is amended as follows:

(a) Amend the catch line of said section to read, "Voting rights".

(b) Designate its present text with the subsection symbol "(a)".

(c) Add, immediately following the present text, four new subsections to read as follows:

"(b) No person, whether acting under color of law or otherwise, shall intimidate, threaten, coerce, or attempt to intimidate, threaten, or coerce any other person for the purpose of interfering with the right of such other person to vote or to vote as he may choose, or of causing such other person to vote for, or not to vote for, any candidate for the office of President, Vice President, presidential elector, Member of the Senate, or Member of the House of Representatives, Delegates or Commissioners from the Territories or possessions, at any general, special, or primary election held solely or in part for the purpose of selecting or electing any such candidate.

"(c) Whenever any person has engaged or there are reasonable grounds to believe that any person is about to engage in any act or practice which would deprive any other person of any right or privilege secured by subsection (a) or (b), the Attorney General may institute for the United States, or in the name of the United States, a civil action or other proper proceeding for preventive relief, including an application for a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or other order. In any proceeding hereunder the United States shall be liable for costs the same as a private person.

"(d) The district courts of the United States shall have jurisdiction of proceedings instituted pursuant to this section and shall exercise the same without regard to whether the party aggrieved shall have exhausted any administrative or other remedies that may be provided by law.

PART V—TO PROVIDE TRIAL BY JURY FOR PROCEEDINGS TO PUNISH CRIMINAL CONTEMPTS OF COURT GROWING OUT OF CIVIL RIGHTS CASES AND TO AMEND THE JUDICIAL CODE RELATING TO FEDERAL JURY QUALIFICATIONS

Criminal contempt. Penalties.

SEC. 151. In all cases of criminal contempt arising under the provisions of this Act, the accused, upon conviction, shall be punished by fine or imprisonment or both: Provided however, That in case the accused is a natural person the fine to be paid shall not exceed the sum of $1,000, nor shall imprisonment exceed the term of six months: Provided further, That in any such proceeding for criminal contempt, at the discretion of the judge, the accused may be tried with or without a jury: Provided further, however, That in the event such proceeding for criminal contempt be tried before a judge without a jury and the sentence of the court upon conviction is a fine in excess of the sum of $300 or imprisonment in excess of forty-five days, the accused in said proceeding, upon demand therefor, shall be entitled to a trial de novo before a jury, which shall conform as near as may be to the practice in other criminal cases.

Nonapplicability.

This section shall not apply to contempts committed in the presence of the court or so near thereto as to interfere directly with the administration of justice nor to the misbehavior, misconduct, or disobedience, of any officer of the court in respect to the writs, orders, or process of the court.

Nor shall anything herein or in any other provision of law be construed to deprive courts of their power, by civil contempt proceedings, without a jury, to secure compliance with or to prevent obstruction of, as distinguished from punishment for violations of, any lawful writ, process, order, rule, decree, or command of the court in accordance with the prevailing usages of law and equity, including the power of detention.

That is a good question. It is a decision for Commissioners in consultation with the Chair to decide how they wish to proceed. Adams is welcome to make a motion to amend the agenda to request a discussion and a vote. If the majority supports his motion it can be added to agenda. In the alternative, if Commissioners desire to proceed by notational vote and no one objects then a notational vote can occur. As I have requested previously, please advise me how you wish to proceed. I recommend Commissioners express their desire to the Chair since the Chair controls the agenda.

Commissioners Adams, Gilchrist, Heriot and Kirsanow have selected for appointment to the EAC:

- Commissioner Michael Yaki;

Under the AI adopted by Commissioners, these two members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified by a majority vote. Please inform me how you would like to proceed for a majority vote either by placing it on the agenda for the next USCCR business meeting or by a notational vote. Thank you.

United States Commission on Civil Rights

March 1, 2021

The Honorable Norma Cantú~~,~~
United States Commission on Civil Rights
1331 Pennsylvania Avenue NW
Washington, DC 20425

Dear Commissioner Cantú:

We write today to detail our concerns with Staff Director Mauro Morales's recent actions and to ensure that you understand why we were compelled not to attend Friday's briefing. We understand that you are new to the Commission and unfamiliar with its procedures and traditions. It's important that we be clear.

The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ began his unlawful actions on January 21, 2021, when he refused to honor our directive to him to reinstate the January 29 business meeting, which the Commission had voted to hold.[1] That meeting had been cancelled ~~(~~contrary to our rules~~)~~ by our former chairperson, Catherine Lhamon, as her last act prior to resigning on January 20.[2] The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ attempted to justify his refusal by stating that he "[found] ~~former Chairperson Lhamon's~~her decision to postpone the January 29 meeting as reasonable and appropriate."[3] But that refusal was in contravention of our Administrative ~~Order~~ Instruction ("AI") 1-24(1), which provides:

> (1) If there is a vacancy in both the positions of Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson, the Commission may call a special meeting by majority vote pursuant to Regulations § 701.11(b).[4]

[2] Neither Chairperson Lhamon nor the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ had the authority to cancel a meeting that the Commission had voted to hold. See 45 C.F.R. § 701.11(d) (allowing for cancellation of meetings only after the chairperson ~~Chair~~ "determines that there are insufficient substantive items on a proposed meeting agenda" and after she has "consult[ed] with the members of the Commission and consider[ed] . . . the views of the members."). See also 45 C.F.R. § 701.12; 45 C.F.R. § 701.11(a). But there is no need to belabor this point ~~since~~ because it is very clear that a majority of the members of the Commission had the authority to require the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ to call a meeting when there is a vacancy in both the positions of c~~C~~hairperson and v~~V~~ice-c ~~C~~hairperson.
[3] Email from Mauro Morales, Staff Director, U.S. Comm'n on Civil Rights, to Commissioners, U.S. Comm'n on Civil Rights (Jan. 21, 2021, 13:02 EST) (on file with authors).
[4] Regulation § 701.11(b) permits a majority of the members of the Commission to call a meeting even in cases where the chairperson ~~Chair~~ and v~~V~~ice- ~~C~~chairperson ~~hair~~ are not absent.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Note that AI 1-24(1) refers to "the Commission" "by majority vote" as the entity that can call a special meeting. The statute that constitutes the Commission tells us exactly what that means: "The Commission shall be composed of ~~eight~~ 8 members." ~~U.S.C. §~~ .[5] Significantly, it does not say that "the Commission shall be composed of ~~eight~~ 8 members and a staff director~~Staff Director~~," much less that it "shall be composed of ~~eight~~ 8 members under the leadership of ~~the~~ a staff director~~Staff Director~~." The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ directs the Commission's staff, not the Commission itself.[6] If leading the Commission were the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ job, his title would be "Commission Director."

Commented [AH1]: The statute uses "8" rather than "eight."

It is also important to note that our statute assigns all responsibilities to the Commission. That's important to understanding how the Commission is designed by Congress to work. The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ is given no statutory authority at all (with the possible exception of the power to organize the work of the staff, assuming there is a staff, which arguably is inherent in the title). The power to undertake tasks must thus be delegated by the Commission to the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ (which the Commission has often done so through its Administrative Instructions).

But the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ may not arrogate power to himself that has not been delegated. AI 1-24(1) clearly states that when no c~~C~~hairperson or v~~V~~ice-c~~C~~hairperson exists, it is for the Commission to call a special meeting. There is no parallel provision that gives that same power to the staff director~~Staff Director~~. Nor do those rules give the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ the authority to ignore the Commission's call for such a meeting. On January ~~,~~ 21, when the four of us made clear that we wished to reinstate the meeting that had been scheduled for January 29, we were the majority of the members of the Commission. It was up to the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ to execute that directive by posting a notice in the Federal Register. Yet the staff director continued to refuse~~d~~ to hold that meeting.[7]

Things got worse from there. After President Biden appointed you as a commissioner and nominated you to be our next chairperson, our staff director ~~Staff Director~~ arrogated to himself the power to call a special business meeting for February 26 (directly after our already-scheduled briefing on bail reform). This, again, is not his proper role. That authority belongs to the Commission itself. But that wasn't the worst of it. The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ then claimed the power to appoint the Acting c~~C~~hairperson of the Commission, pending your confirmation (which, for the record, we continue to believe can and should happen soon).

His claim was utter nonsense.[8] - Our position ~~is~~ was and continues to be that the most senior member of the Commission (Kirsanow) should wield the gavel pending the election by the

[6] In this respect, the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ job can be analogized to the White House Chief of Staff or the Chief of Staff of a U.S. Senator. Both are important jobs, but the White House Chief of Staff directs the White House staff, not the President, just as a U.S. Senator's Chief of Staff directs the Senator's staff, not the Senator. The only difference is the Commission is a multi-member body. In that way a useful analogy might be made to the Clerk of the Court for the U.S. Supreme Court:- The Justices do not work at his direction.

[7] Email from Mauro Morales, Staff Director, U.S. Comm'n on Civil Rights, to Peter Kirsanow, Commissioner, U.S. Comm'n on Civil Rights (Jan. 22, 2021, 20:53 EST) (on file with authors).

[8] Although the staff director failed to cite the authority on which he acted, you informed us that the staff director believes AI 1-6 provides that authority. It does not. Section 4.07 of AI 1-6 (entitled "National Project Development

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Commission of an acting chairperson. Put only slightly differently, ~~Pete's~~ Kirsanow's job would be to convene the meeting at which ~~an~~ the Commission selects an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson ~~is selected~~. As you know from your discussions with two of us (Heriot and Kirsanow) via Zoom, we have always been flexible concerning the issue of who should be elected a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson pending your confirmation. But there are two things that we believed then and continue to believe are extremely important:

(1) The s~~S~~taff d~~D~~irector cannot be the one to designate the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. That task is for the Commission. AI 1-24 states in full:

> (1) If there is a vacancy in both the positions of Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson, the Commission may call a special meeting by majority vote pursuant to Regulations § 701.11(b).
> (2) There being no Chairperson or Vice-Chairperson, the Staff Director shall establish the agenda for this special meeting, whereby specific items may be added or deleted in accordance with Regulations § 701.11(c). However, the first item of business shall be the election of a designee of the functions of the Chairperson.

The Commission must call the meeting and elect the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. The staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ role is to undertake the ministerial tasks of noticing the meeting in the Federal Register and drawing up the agenda. He is not even permitted to put any business before that of electing an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson.

(2) The President's nominee cannot be the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. This is in keeping with federal practice. When the President's nominee to a Senate-confirmable office has not yet been confirmed, he or she cannot be "acting" in that position. The contrary practice would essentially eviscerate the Senate's role. If you're doing the job anyway, why bother to cooperate with the Senate in the confirmation process? Why bother to give Members of the Senate assurances that the job will be performed in keeping with federal law and policy when you've already got the authority of the office? The same logic applies here.

and Implementation"), provides, "All responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director. The Staff Director may delegate any of these responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." AI 1-6 § 4.07. There are many reasons this provision does apply to the appointment of an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. Most obviously, AI 1-24 explicitly delegates the designation of a commissioner to fill the functions of chairperson during a vacancy to "a majority of Commissioners," thereby negating any possible interpretation of AI 1-6 § 4.07 that would give this authority to the staff director~~Staff Director~~. Moreover, §4 is generally about how tasks are to be allocated among the various divisions of the Commission's staff—the O~~o~~ffice of the Staff Director (OSD), the Office of the General Counsel (OGC), the Office of Civil Rights Evaluation ("OCRE"), and the Office of Management (OM), etc. This is how the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ delegates responsibilities to the staff that have been delegated to him. But he cannot delegate responsibilities that were never delegated to him in the first place. That's why the section states that he "reserves" responsibilities that he has not otherwise delegated by him; the section is not itself a delegation of authority to him.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We thought all this was obvious and appropriate, and for a while we thought you ~~understood and~~ agreed. To our astonishment, you ended up being willing to go along the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ arrogation of power.[9] Not only did you recognize his purported authority to designate the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson ~~(something we suspect you'll regret when you understand how the Commission works a little better)~~, but you also allowed him to designate you as a~~A~~cting chairperson~~Chair~~, knowing our reasonable objections to such a move.

As you will remember, we were very flexible as to how the Commission would select an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson for the February 26 bail reform hearing. We were willing to have our most senior member chair; we were willing to draw a Commissioner's name out of a hat; we were willing to split the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson's position between one Commissioner appointed by a Democrat and one Commission appointed by a Republican; we were willing to have Commissioner Kladney (who was appointed by a Democrat) serve as acting chairperson. All of these methods would have worked and ~~. Given a few more minutes of time to think about it,~~ we could have come up with even more alternatives.

Alas, the issue was resolved instead in a way that was contrary to our rules and (if we had acquiesced) would have set an extraordinarily bad precedent. We were baffled. Under the circumstances, we viewed it as necessary not to acquiesce. That is why we could not attend the briefing.

We don't blame you. We know that you are new at this. All institutions have their rules and traditions that outsiders are unfamiliar with. Soon enough you will be familiar with those that apply to the Commission. So, despite the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ continued unlawful actions, we remain confident that you can lead this Commission and that you can be confirmed as c~~C~~hairperson—soon. However, before we concur ~~her~~ your appointment as chairperson,[10] we still need an agreement on the record about the matters that we (~~Gail~~ Heriot and ~~Pete~~ Kirsanow) discussed with you earlier.

We understood from ~~Gail and Pete's~~ earlier discussions with you that (with the exception of the v~~V~~ice-c~~C~~hairmanship, which you felt you had no control over) that our proposals were fair and appropriate. All we are trying to do is ensure fairness and prevent the abuses that went on during Chairperson Lhamon's tenure.

We won't repeat those matters here. This letter is long enough as it is. But we did wish to mention one aspect of the matter that has been troubling us over the last couple of days.

One of our requests was that you follow that law when appointments are made. For example, the law gives the Commission (and not the chairperson ~~Chair~~ or the staff director~~Staff Director~~) the Things got worse from there. After President Biden appointed you as a commissioner and nominated you to be our next chairperson, our staff director ~~Staff Director~~ arrogated to himself the power to call a special business meeting for February 26 (directly after our already-scheduled briefing on bail reform). This, again, is not his proper role. That authority belongs to the Commission itself. But that wasn't the worst of it. The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ then claimed the power to appoint the Acting c~~C~~hairperson of the Commission, pending your confirmation (which, for the record, we continue to believe can and should happen soon).

His claim was utter nonsense.[8] - Our position ~~is~~ was and continues to be that the most senior member of the Commission (Kirsanow) should wield the gavel pending the election by the

[6] In this respect, the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ job can be analogized to the White House Chief of Staff or the Chief of Staff of a U.S. Senator. Both are important jobs, but the White House Chief of Staff directs the White House staff, not the President, just as a U.S. Senator's Chief of Staff directs the Senator's staff, not the Senator. The only difference is the Commission is a multi-member body. In that way a useful analogy might be made to the Clerk of the Court for the U.S. Supreme Court:- The Justices do not work at his direction.

Commission of an acting chairperson. Put only slightly differently, ~~Pete's~~ Kirsanow's job would be to convene the meeting at which ~~an~~ the Commission selects an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson ~~is selected~~. As you know from your discussions with two of us (Heriot and Kirsanow) via Zoom, we have always been flexible concerning the issue of who should be elected a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson pending your confirmation. But there are two things that we believed then and continue to believe are extremely important:

(1) The s~~S~~taff d~~D~~irector cannot be the one to designate the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. That task is for the Commission. AI 1-24 states in full:

> (1) If there is a vacancy in both the positions of Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson, the Commission may call a special meeting by majority vote pursuant to Regulations § 701.11(b).
> (2) There being no Chairperson or Vice-Chairperson, the Staff Director shall establish the agenda for this special meeting, whereby specific items may be added or deleted in accordance with Regulations § 701.11(c). However, the first item of business shall be the election of a designee of the functions of the Chairperson.

The Commission must call the meeting and elect the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. The staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ role is to undertake the ministerial tasks of noticing the meeting in the Federal Register and drawing up the agenda. He is not even permitted to put any business before that of electing an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson.

Furthermore, there is no mention in the Commission's statutes, regulations, or administrative instructions of a "moderator" for Commission briefings. There is no example in at least the past twenty years of the Commission's history of such a practice. The role simply does not exist.

(2) The President's nominee cannot be the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. This is in keeping with federal practice. When the President's nominee to a Senate-confirmable office has not yet been confirmed, he or she cannot be "acting" in that position. The contrary practice would essentially eviscerate the Senate's role. If you're doing the job anyway, why bother to cooperate with the Senate in the confirmation process? Why bother to give and Implementation"), provides, "All responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director. The Staff Director may delegate any of these responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." AI 1-6 § 4.07. There are many reasons this provision does apply to the appointment of an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. Most obviously, AI 1-24 explicitly delegates the designation of a commissioner to fill the functions of chairperson during a vacancy to "a majority of Commissioners," thereby negating any possible interpretation of AI 1-6 § 4.07 that would give this authority to the staff director~~Staff Director~~. Moreover, §4 is generally about how tasks are to be allocated among the various divisions of the Commission's staff—the O~~o~~ffice of the Staff Director (OSD), the Office of the General Counsel (OGC), the Office of Civil Rights Evaluation ("OCRE"), and the Office of Management (OM), etc. This is how the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ delegates responsibilities to the staff that have been delegated to him. But he cannot delegate responsibilities that were never delegated to him in the first place. That's why the section states that he "reserves" responsibilities that he has not otherwise delegated by him; the section is not itself a delegation of authority to him.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Members of the Senate assurances that the job will be performed in keeping with federal law and policy when you've already got the authority of the office? The same logic applies here.

We thought all this was obvious and appropriate, and for a while we thought you ~~understood and~~ agreed. To our astonishment, you ended up being willing to go along with the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ arrogation of power.[9] Not only did you recognize his purported authority to designate the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson ~~(something we suspect you'll regret when you understand how the Commission works a little better)~~, but you also allowed him to designate you as a~~A~~cting chairperson~~Chair~~, knowing our reasonable objections to such a move.

As you will remember, we were very flexible as to how the Commission would select an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson for the February 26 bail reform hearing. We were willing to have our most senior member chair; we were willing to draw a Commissioner's name out of a hat; we were willing to split the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson's position between one Commissioner appointed by a Democrat and one Commission appointed by a Republican; we were willing to have Commissioner Kladney (who was appointed by a Democrat) serve as acting chairperson. All of these methods would have worked and ~~. Given a few more minutes of time to think about it,~~ we could have come up with even more alternatives.

Alas, the issue was resolved instead in a way that was contrary to our rules and (if we had acquiesced) would have set an extraordinarily bad precedent. We were baffled. Under the circumstances, we viewed it as necessary not to acquiesce. That is why we could not attend the briefing.

We don't blame you. We know that you are new at this. All institutions have their rules and traditions that outsiders are unfamiliar with. Soon enough you will be familiar with those that apply to the Commission. So, despite the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ continued unlawful actions, we remain confident that you can lead this Commission and that you can be confirmed as c~~C~~hairperson—soon. However, before we concur in ~~her~~ your appointment as chairperson,[10] we still need an agreement on the record about the matters that we (~~Gail~~ Heriot and ~~Pete~~ Kirsanow) discussed with you earlier.

We understood from ~~Gail and Pete's~~ earlier discussions with you that (with the exception of the v~~V~~ice-c~~C~~hairmanship, which you felt you had no control over) that our proposals were fair and appropriate. All we are trying to do is ensure fairness and prevent the abuses that went on during Chairperson Lhamon's tenure.

[9] At the February 26 briefing, "The Civil Rights Implications of Cash Bail," the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ designated Commissioner Cantú as moderator of the hearing, saying, "In the absence of a chairperson for the Commission, I will appoint a moderator to administer today's briefing." AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We won't repeat those matters here. This letter is long enough as it is. But we did wish to mention one aspect of the matter that has been troubling us over the last couple of days.

One of our requests was that you follow that law when appointments are made. For example, the law gives the Commission (and not the chairperson ~~Chair~~ or the staff director~~Staff Director~~) the authority to appoint two members of the Election Assistance Commission's Board of Advisors.[11] Yet c~~C~~hairperson Lhamon arrogated that authority to herself and appointed the members without consulting or even notifying us. This act was simply a violation of the law. Yet when you spoke last with ~~Pete~~ Kirsanow (after consulting with our Progressive colleagues) on Thursday, you suggested a "compromise" under which you would appoint the members~~,~~ but promised that they would not be Democrats. Alas, we don't think the law can be compromised in that way. All we ~~are~~ ask~~ing~~ here is that you comply with the law.

We look forward to fruitful and constructive discussions stemming from our earlier ~~discussions~~ conversations with you and from this letter. We are still confident that we can reach an agreement ~~with you~~. We remain dedicated to the Commission's important and bipartisan work.

Adegbile,

I think that this email is the one to forward to the caucus now that Commissioner Yaki is recused, nominating Allison Riggs and Jenny Carroll the Alabama SAC Chair. Both are willing and able to serve.

The email should go to Cantu, Kladney, Yaki, Juana, Alec and Joshua (email jdansby@usccr.gov).
The Chair can then send our nominees to the R's.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dear Commissioners-

At the request and in consultation with the Chair, I am sending this email to start the EAC nomination process for Commissioners.

Per the AI voted on during the April 30th meeting (language included below), each caucus is requested to submit two candidates for consideration by COB Friday, July 30, 2021. Once the names are submitted, OGC will conduct an ethics check to be completed by Wednesday, August 4, 2021. Each caucus will then have 24 hours to submit caucus strikes (Thursday, August 5, 2021 COB). The Chair will communicate the two names to EAC no later than Friday, August 6, 2021.

Please let the Chair or I know if you have any questions or concerns.

Dear Commissioners-

At the request and in consultation with the Chair, I am sending this email to start the EAC nomination process for Commissioners.

Per the AI voted on during the April 30th meeting (language included below), each caucus is requested to submit two candidates for consideration by COB Friday, July 30, 2021. Once the names are submitted, OGC will conduct an ethics check to be completed by Wednesday, August 4, 2021. Each caucus will then have 24 hours to submit caucus strikes (Thursday, August 5, 2021 COB). The Chair will communicate the two names to EAC no later than Friday, August 6, 2021.

Please let the Chair or I know if you have any questions or concerns.

Dear Commissioners-

At the request and in consultation with the Chair, I am sending this email to start the EAC nomination process for Commissioners.

Per the AI voted on during the April 30th meeting (language included below), each caucus is requested to submit two candidates for consideration by COB Friday, July 30, 2021. Once the names are submitted, OGC will conduct an ethics check to be completed by Wednesday, August 4, 2021. Each caucus will then have 24 hours to submit caucus strikes (Thursday, August 5, 2021 COB). The Chair will communicate the two names to EAC no later than Friday, August 6, 2021.

Please let the Chair or I know if you have any questions or concerns.

Dear Commissioners-

In response to Commissioner Yaki recently resigning from his position on the EAC as a representative of USCCR, the Progressive Caucus is putting for 2 names for consideration. I am asking that the candidate you strike be sent to me by Monday, November 15th, 2021 by 5pm EST so that we can include the candidate's confirmation vote at our November 19th business meeting.

Allison Riggs leads the voting rights program at the Southern Coalition for Social Justice, an organization she joined in 2009. In March of 2020, she also took over as Interim Executive Director of the organization. Her voting rights work over the last decade at SCSJ has been focused on fighting for fair redistricting plans, fighting against voter suppression, and advocating for electoral reforms that would expand access to voting.

Alabama SAC Chair Jenny Carroll - https://www.congress.gov/116/meeting/house/109456/witnesses/HHRG-116-HA08-Wstate-CarrollJ-20190513.pdf

Per the AI voted on during the April 30th meeting (language included below), each caucus will then have 24 hours to submit caucus strikes. In this instance, I am allowing 48 business day hours given that tomorrow is a holiday. The first representative, Cleta Mitchell, was already communicated to the EAC.

Please submit your strike no later than Monday, November 15th by 5pm EST.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Dear Commissioners-

In response to Commissioner Yaki recently resigning from his position on the EAC as a representative of USCCR, the Progressive Caucus is putting for 2 names for consideration. I am asking that the candidate you strike be sent to me by Monday, November 15th, 2021 by 5pm EST so that we can include the candidate's confirmation vote at our November 19th business meeting.

Allison Riggs leads the voting rights program at the Southern Coalition for Social Justice, an organization she joined in 2009. In March of 2020, she also took over as Interim Executive Director of the organization. Her voting rights work over the last decade at SCSJ has been focused on fighting for fair redistricting plans, fighting against voter suppression, and advocating for electoral reforms that would expand access to voting.

Alabama SAC Chair Jenny Carroll - https://www.congress.gov/116/meeting/house/109456/witnesses/HHRG-116-HA08-Wstate-CarrollJ-20190513.pdf

Per the AI voted on during the April 30th meeting (language included below), each caucus will then have 24 hours to submit caucus strikes. In this instance, I am allowing 48 business day hours given that tomorrow is a holiday. The first representative, Cleta Mitchell, was already communicated to the EAC.

Please submit your strike no later than Monday, November 15th by 5pm EST.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Irena, can you reach out to Ms. Carroll and let her know we've nominated her, that the Commission will ratify the nomination by majority vote at Friday's mtg.?

There is a statement going out today to address the tweets and press inquiries and will just focus on the EAC and mention that the 2nd Commission nominee will be ratified by majority vote on Friday.

United States Commission on Civil Rights Statement on Appointment to Election Assistance Commission 35-member Board of Advisors

November 16, 2021

Ms. Cleta Mitchell's nomination was put forth by Commissioners appointed by Republican authorities, including former President Trump, Senate Minority Leader McConnell, and House Minority McCarthy. Ms. Mitchell is not a member of the Commission on Civil Rights.

The Elections Assistance Commission (EAC), which solicits nominations, requested the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights (Commission) nominate two advisors to the EAC 35-member board of advisors.

Ms. Mitchell is one of two Commission appointees selected by Commissioners to serve on Board of Advisors to the Election Assistance Commission.

The EAC nominee by Commissioners appointed by Democratic authorities was unable to serve and the Commissioners have re-nominated their candidate-to the Commission's remaining appointment to the EAC. There will be a discussion and vote on this matter at the Commission's November 19, 2021, business meeting.

By way of background, Commissioners of the Commission of Civil Rights (USCCR) have the sole authority to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, which is exercised by majority vote of Commissioners.

USCCR is governed by the following agency instruction process regarding nominations to the Board of Advisors to the EAC:

- Commissioners appointed by Democratic authorities nominated two individuals of their membership, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities nominated two individuals of their membership.
- Once nominated, the members appointed by the Democratic authorities, selects one of two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities.
- Appointments are ratified by majority vote of Commissioners.

Cleta Mitchell was nominated by Commissioners that were appointed by Republican authorities; and was ratified by majority vote of Commissioners.

Hi Mauro,

Here is current coverage:

- Original AP Story
  - Notable publications that ran:
    - Washington Post
    - NBC
    - SF Chronicle
    - Yahoo
    - Over 260 outlets have run the AP story across the US & a few in India
- Fox News
  - The Fox piece also cites the Commission's statement; the subhead notes that the EAC advisory board doesn't have power to make policy. It includes Cleta's quote a bit higher up and doesn't as directly cite the cause of her resignation from her law firm.
  - It cites the AP story and includes an image of and link to the Twitter post from Jessica Huseman, which was also mentioned in the AP piece
  - Also republished on Yahoo
- HillReporter.com
  - Goes a little deeper into Cleta's background and doesn't mention the nominations of the two board members but also calls the EAC and the USCCR "bodies with little authority."
  - It also includes an image of and link to Jessica Huseman's post on Twitter as well as a Nov. 1 post from Cleta

These are the major highlights – these stories all cite your statement and mention the nomination of 2 board members and the nomination process.

- J. Christian Adams guest hosted a radio show this morning where he interviewed Cleta. I haven't had a chance to listen since it just went online.
- Newsweek released an updated story, but didn't name J. Christian Adams as the other nominee. It cites the statement from yesterday.

Re: U.S. Election Assistance Commission
Board of Advisors Membership Appointment

Dear Mr. Morales,

As you are aware, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA) created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three advisory boards to assist the EAC: Board of Advisors, Standards Board, and Technical Guidelines Development Committee. The advisory boards are primarily charged with providing advice, guidance, and support to the EAC on the ongoing development of the Voluntary Voting System Guidelines (VVSG).

Under Section 214 of HAVA, your organization is authorized to appoint two members to the Board of Advisors. The Board of Advisors Charter and Bylaws govern the advisory board.

Please be advised that your designated representatives' two-year terms to the Board of Advisors expire on April 13, 2021. You can either reappoint your current representative(s) or appoint new representative(s) for a new two-year term. In compliance with HAVA, please make appointments "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." 52 U.S.C § 20944(b).

Your current representatives are:

Michael Yaki

David Kladney

The new term of your member representatives will begin on April 13, 2021 coinciding with the renewal of the Board of Advisor's Charter.

Please use the enclosed Notice of Representation form to advise us of your designated representatives to serve on the EAC Board of Advisors for the upcoming two-year term. Please return this completed form by email to krayburn@eac.gov no later than March 26, 2021.

While the EAC recently adopted VVSG 2.0, we are committed to an agile process that includes continually working with our advisory boards to identify enhancements to the VVSG. The usability, accessibility, and security of voting systems continue to be of critical importance, and recommendations from the advisory boards are as imperative as ever. Therefore, your prompt response to this letter is greatly appreciated.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. If we can be of assistance, please feel free to contact us at 202-740-6546 or krayburn@eac.gov.

Apparently the EAC gets two designees over the Election Assistance Commission Board of Advisors. Currently it is Yaki and Kladney. I just got a call from an EAC commission saying that Yaki is acting absurdly and exercising power over the EAC by threatening the Pelosi pick on the EAC with removal if he doesn't do what he wants, effectively making Yaki a commissioner on the EAC on many issues. He is causing mischief I don't even detail here.

My question is how does he get UNDONE from the EAC oversight commission? How does that get revoked and replaced?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION __- __

COMMISSION APPOINTMENTS TO OTHER FEDERAL ENTITIES

Section 1.
.01 Any authority specifically granted the Commission of Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc. shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote.

.02

(1) For the two (2) appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, Board of Advisors pursuant to 52 U.S.C. 20944, the members appointed by Democratic authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership.

(2) The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities

(3) The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1.

Commented [DG1]: It is recommended that the "etcetera" is explicitly defined.

Commented [DG2]: The authorizing statute for the Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys reserves to the Staff Director the appointing authority for 1 member. See https://www.congress.gov/bill/116th-congress/house-bill/1636/text?q=%7B%22search%22%3A%5B%22%5B2018-09-28+TO+2018-09-28%5D%22%5D%7D, Sec 3(6). This is contrary to the foregoing and revision is necessary. Non-concur.

Commented [DG3]: What about Commissioners who are Independents or members of other political parties?

Commented [DG4]: This could be accomplished by a Commission vote rather than A.I.

52 U.S.C. § 20944 requires Board of Advisor appointments to be bipartisan in nature and so this is redundant.

Further, under 45 CFR § 702.51(c) Meeting means the deliberations of at least the number of Commissioners required to take action on behalf of the Commission where such deliberations determine or result in the joint conduct or disposition of official Commission business and therefore this regulation already provides for a voting requirement for appointments to other federal entities.

Commented [DG5]: Discussion point: does this require the SD's signature to be valid? APA provides little guidance. What is other legal authority that SD or Commissioners do or don't need to sign it to make it effective? Our Agency head is not clear under our statute and thus who signatory should be isn't clear. Any power could be delegated under 5 USC 302, but need to identify the Agency head first.

Attachment : image001.gif;image002.jpg;

While Section 6(c) of the statute speaks to quorum, there are two sections of the statute that best answer the question. Section 6(d) reads: "The first meeting of the Commission shall take place no later than 30 days after the initial members are all appointed." Section 3(d) reads: "In the event of a vacancy arising during a term, the appointing authority shall, before the next meeting of the Commission, appoint a replacement to finish that term."

Under the statute, there can be no vacancies for the first meeting. There must be 19 members (or more to correct a partisan imbalance) at all times. In addition, if there are ever vacancies, they must be filled before the next meeting.

As we approach December 27th, Mauro will have to actively pursue appointing any remaining vacancies so that the initial meeting can take place. Mauro is the safeguard so that a first meeting takes place.

Thoughts?

In your memo you concluded "you may exercise your appointment authority to fill those vacancies anytime between August 9, 2021, and December 27, 2021."

If Mauro doesn't make an appointment by December 27, can a meeting occur? Under the statute, as long as quorum is present, there can be vacancies, right? I researched whether there has ever been a lawsuit to enjoin or force the President to make an appointment, but couldn't find anything. While Section 6(c) of the statute speaks to quorum, there are two sections of the statute that best answer the question. Section 6(d) reads: "The first meeting of the Commission shall take place no later than 30 days after the initial members are all appointed." Section 3(d) reads: "In the event of a vacancy arising during a term, the appointing authority shall, before the next meeting of the Commission, appoint a replacement to finish that term."

Under the statute, there can be no vacancies for the first meeting. There must be 19 members (or more to correct a partisan imbalance) at all times. In addition, if there are ever vacancies, they must be filled before the next meeting.

As we approach December 27th, Mauro will have to actively pursue appointing any remaining vacancies so that the initial meeting can take place. Mauro is the safeguard so that a first meeting takes place.

If Mauro doesn't make an appointment by December 27, can a meeting occur? Under the statute, as long as quorum is present, there can be vacancies, right? This interpretation of the statute would seriously hamper the functioning of the new Commission. Please research other commissions and boards in the government and see if there is any case law interpreting their authorizing statute. I suggest you go on West Law and search for notes/cases on other authorizing statutes. These may be useful as well: https://www.usa.gov/federal-agencies, https://fas.org/sgp/crs/misc/R40076.pdf

Subject: RE: Nominations for Appointment to the EAC --please convey the results simultaneously to the Commissioners.

While Section 6(c) of the statute speaks to quorum, there are two sections of the statute that best answer the question. Section 6(d) reads: "The first meeting of the Commission shall take place no later than 30 days after the initial members are all appointed." Section 3(d) reads: "In the event of a vacancy arising during a term, the appointing authority shall, before the next meeting of the Commission, appoint a replacement to finish that term."

Under the statute, there can be no vacancies for the first meeting. There must be 19 members (or more to correct a partisan imbalance) at all times. In addition, if there are ever vacancies, they must be filled before the next meeting.

As we approach December 27th, Mauro will have to actively pursue appointing any remaining vacancies so that the initial meeting can take place. Mauro is the safeguard so that a first meeting takes place.

Thoughts?

In your memo you concluded "you may exercise your appointment authority to fill those vacancies anytime between August 9, 2021, and December 27, 2021."

If Mauro doesn't make an appointment by December 27, can a meeting occur? Under the statute, as long as quorum is present, there can be vacancies, right? I researched whether there has ever been a lawsuit to enjoin or force the President to make an appointment, but couldn't find anything. That is a good idea and each caucus should send me their final selection. There are no real procedures since this is the first time we've done this. It would be simpler if each caucus provides me with their selection rather than each commissioner provide me their individual vote on the different candidates that I would then have to account for and tally. I shouldn't have a part of the caucus votes for the final candidates. Each caucus should make their own selection and then send it to me which I can then schedule for a final vote by all Commissioners to send to the EAC.

Yes. I think the provision in the statute regarding quorum - "a majority of the members of the commission constitute a quorum…" is in conflict with the part of the statute that requires vacancies to be immediately filled.

I agree with you. The conclusion that there can't be a meeting unless all seats are filled does not seem correct. The fact that a vacancy would keep a commission from operating cuts against principles of continuity of operations.

Pilar,

Here's what I have. Let me know what you think and if you want to change/edit something.

Chair Cantu inquired about whether the language of the AI provides that "the bipartisan nature means both names have to be provided concurrently."

The EAC Board of Advisors statute requires "two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." 52 U.S.C. 20944(a)(10). The statute further states that appointments will be made "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." Id. at 20944(b). The Commissioners voted on an Administrative Instruction on April 30, 2021 to elect two members to the EAC Board of Advisors. Specifically, the AI provided that the "members appointed by Democratic authorities shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals who are ready, willing, and able to serve." Section 2.02(1). Thereafter, "the members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities." Section 2.02(2).
The language of the statute calls for a bipartisan Board of Advisors, and the AI describes the manner in which USCCR will appoint a bipartisan bloc. Neither the statute nor the AI, require that the bipartisan appointments must occur concurrently to ensure bipartisanship. Commissioner Yaki, who was nominated by members appointed by Democratic authorities, is no longer able to serve. Presumably, the Commissioner nominated by members appointed by Republican authorities is still able to serve. Therefore, Chair Cantu can permit the Commissioner nominated by members appointed by Republican authorities to begin their term, and she can restart the nomination process among the members appointed by Democratic authorities.

Below is what Sheryl sent me. I am still working on editing her response. I think that Cantu is referring to the AI that commissioners voted on to nominate members to the EAC Board of Advisors, but I don't know the name of the AI nor can I find it.

Chair Cantu inquired about whether the language of the AI provides that "the bipartisan nature means both names have to be provided concurrently."

The EAC Board of Advisors statute requires "two members appointed by the United States Commission on Civil Rights." 52 U.S.C. 20944(a)(10). Chair Cantu and Juana,

We are thinking a basic statement should be issued when we receive inquires from media about Cleta Mitchel. Something clear and appropriate. Please feel free to edit to fit your tone and voice:

> "Ms. Mitchell's nomination was put forth by Commissioners appointed by Republican authorities, including former President Trump, Senate Minority Leader McConnell and House Minority McCarthy. Ms. Mitchell is not a member of the Commission on Civil Rights.
> The Elections Assistance Commission asked USCCR to nominate two advisors to the EAC 35-member board of advisors.
> Cleta Mitchell is one of two U.S. Commission on Civil Rights (the Commission) appointees selected by Commissioners to serve on Board of Advisors to the Election Assistance Commission (EAC).
> The EAC nominee by Commissioners appointed by Democratic authorities' was ~~is~~ unable to serve and the Commissioners have re-nominated their candidate to the Commission's remaining appointment to the EAC. There will be a discussion and vote on this matter at the Commission's November 19, 2021, business meeting.
> By way of background, Commissioners of the Commission of Civil Rights (USCCR) have the sole authority to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, which is exercised by majority vote of Commissioners.
> USCCR is governed by the following agency instruction process regarding nominations to the Board of Advisors to the EAC:

Subject : Caucus meeting on 1/4

Hi all,

Happy new year, and welcome back to those who have been off! My items for our meeting at 11am are below, as always please bring any additional items on your list.

- Maternal health
  - Ang has access to the YouTube channel, but still needs to be able to download the video (right now because it is a livestream, only the contractor can download the video). Rukku flagged for Mauro, who said he would check in with Ang.
  - OCRE sent out follow up questions to panelists, due by 12/4. Responses?
    - Irena sent questions for panelists from caucus.
    - John requested that we find out more information about improving current programs rather than just discussing new programs, and flagged for OCRE.
  - No response from agencies on interrogatories yet. Want to think strategically about where to direct questions (using former officials from our roster of experts).
    - Irena to work with OCRE on timeline for following up on interrogatories in time leading up to affected agency review.
  - Irena and Rukku to follow up with Mauro on media debrief items. Irena and Rukku to raise with Mauro after the holidays.
  - Briefing transcript – Rukku flagged for Mauro/Kathy, Kathy said that Nick would handle.
  - Debo and Irena had meeting with Comm. Gilchrist and Thomas to discuss next steps for maternal health project.
  - Irena has been working with OCRE on focus jurisdictions, and they will likely be NC, GA, and a third state. OCRE's first draft had New Jersey, but that might shift.
- Bail reform
  - OCRE sent first draft on 11/20. Commissioners submitted comments on 12/21, only Catherine/Rukku and Debo/Irena submitted.
  - Briefing invitations went out before the holidays. Briefing will follow same template as maternal health briefing, with 3 virtual panels and one in writing. Briefing will be on Friday 2/26 from 10am – 2pm. Test will be on Tuesday 2/23, at 1pm ET.
    - Rukku will send a list of invitees to all SAs.
  - Mauro began briefing planning meetings in December. Meetings will happen every week on Tuesday at 11am.
  - Oregon SAC had their last briefing on Friday 12/11, Catherine attended. Rukku shared briefing notes with OCRE in the comments on the first draft.
- FEMA / Puerto Rico
  - Irena submitted draft timeline to OCRE. OCRE sent back comments on timeline, along with a draft outline and discovery plan. Goal for the documents will be for the Commissioners to vote at the January business meeting.

    - Irena will revisit meeting transcript from vote at which FEMA was moved out of the FY21 statutory enforcement report spot; what did the Commissioners vote to do?
    - Texas SAC is holding briefing on disaster preparedness this month; flagged for OCRE
    - FEMA is holding civil rights stakeholder calls, OCRE will attend to prep
- SAC recruitment
    - Vermont (expired in June).
        - Mauro circulated slate last week, which included 5 Rs, 5 Ds, and 2 Ind. (including Reed and Martin).
        - Irena updated vet memo and circulated. Bradford Lefavour has no relevant civil rights experience.
            - Debo and Catherine objected, because this objection changed the balance of the slate, Catherine pulled down for 12/4 meeting.
        - Rukku to follow up with Ang and Carissa to see if they have any other leads on recruitment. Ang is working on this. David will also reach out to Lefavour to see if he wants to amend his application to add more about his qualifications to serve on committee.
    - Colorado: Rukku
        - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
        - 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat). No particular flags on any candidates.
        - Comm. Heriot had objected to Prof. Chen, on the basis of a recent article that Prof. Chen published called Colorblind Nationalism.
            - Rukku is checking in with Alex on whether Comm. Heriot's objection is ongoing. No update. Rukku to follow up with Alex on Colorado.
    - North Carolina: Irena
        - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
        - 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as "something else"). Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in 2012.
        - Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
        - They further objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as they don't consider her a "true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.
        - Rukku spoke to Thomas; Thomas proposed that we consider a slate of 9 Republicans (including Lechner) and 8 Democrats, and they would work on recruiting Republicans who would assist with balance of slate with respect to gender and other diversity factors. Catherine's current position is that she will not vote for unbalanced slate with 9 Republicans and 8 Democrats.

        - Rukku proposed to Thomas the following: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Might consider Mincey if he submits revised application with more justification for his civil rights experience.
- Idaho (expired in July).
    - Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.
    - From Carissa: They are not willing to move forward with it without Scott Yenor, and it is unbalanced.
        - Carissa relayed that they continue to not want to move forward without Yenor.
        - Staff wants to confirm that Yenor is still interested in joining, given his published article.
- District of Columbia 10/20/20 – Alex, Irena
    - (as of 12/17) 11 applicants: 9 men, 2 women; 6 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 something else
    - Need more Rs and better diversity
- Iowa 11/17/20 – Carissa, Amy/Rukku
    - (as of 11/17) 11 applicants: 7 men, 4 women; 5 Ds, 4 Rs, 2 Ind.
    - Need at least one more R.
    - Rukku to check in with Carissa to see if she has any more leads.
- Ohio 11/17/20 – Carissa, Rukku
    - (as of 12/17) 16 applicants: 11 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 Ind.
    - Need more Rs. Carissa to work on recruitment.
- Indiana 12/1/20 – Carissa, Irena
    - (as of 12/17) 17 applicants, including: 8 Rs, 8 Ds, 1 Ind.
    - Might have enough candidates for slate, Irena to review and see if qualified candidates.
- New Mexico 12/1/20 – Alex, Amy/Irena/Rukku
    - 5 applicants. Need more candidates.
    - Rukku reached out to Haaland's office for candidates, Rukku to follow up.
- Wyoming 12/1/20 – Alex, Alec
    - 6 applicants. Need more candidates.
    - Alec reached out to Sheppard Foundation and confirmed that Judy Shepard will apply for the SAC.
- Florida 3/2021 – Irena
- Louisiana 3/2021 – Rukku
- Nebraska 3/2021 – Alec
- Texas 3/2021 – Amy
- Next vote on slates: January 2021
    - Tuesday January 5: circulation of slates (Indiana?)
    - Tuesday January 19: objections due
    - Friday January 22: Staff Director makes decisions on final slate

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

        - Friday January 29: vote on slates
- Broken Promises pandemic update
    - ABA will be reaching out to Catherine to do a webinar on the testimony. Details to come.
    - Pursue social media strategy using briefing video/materials
        - Can we generate clips from the briefing video, into individual panelist testimony or other excerpts. Rukku to check in with Ang.
    - Catherine wants to raise this project again, to see if we can get to common ground with the Republicans. Catherine wants to revisit when we discuss project planning re FY22 (/FEMA, Comm. Adams' proposal, etc.).
- Other SAC activity
    - AI 5-9 - SAC member conduct.
        - Rukku and Irena meeting with OGC to discuss proposed revisions to the AI.
        - OGC is reviewing the redline, and will have additional comments / feedback in early January.
    - SAC letters – Rukku is working on moving out of backlog of Commissioner letters sharing publications from SACs
        - Nebraska, Hawaii
        - Project for Staff Director's office?
- Project proposals for FY21/22
    - Catherine tabled this item until next business meeting, not for this business meeting (most likely December, if ready).
    - New proposals for FY22? Dave is working on a proposal. Dave has reached out to Comm. Gilchrist on new topic. Orlando will check in with Dave on the status of a possible collaboration with Commissioner Gilchrist.
    - Rukku checked with John to see if Commissioner Adams will submit new project proposals. John is working with Commissioner Adams on project priorities and check back on timeline. Rukku to follow up with John this week.
        - John (at all SA meeting) said that Comm. Adams had a proposal, so Rukku will generate a timeline for consideration.
    - Rukku to discuss with Catherine about other projects that could garner a majority vote
    - Project planning calendar will in part depend on whether we want to propose the FEMA Project as a FY22 statutory enforcement report.
- December letter of priorities for new Administration / new Congress
    - Rukku to send letter to new House leadership regarding Commission priorities
    - Rukku to work on drafts of letters to agency transition teams
- Personnel
    - OGC vacancy – update? Mauro is working to interview candidates for new GC position.
        - Conservative Commissioners had reached out to Mauro to get more information about who had applied for GC; not appropriate as Mauro responded.
    - Summer 2021 interns – Irena and Rukku to follow up based on writing samples this week and finally make the offer. Rukku to create a shared folder and populate all the cover letters and resumes.
        - Rukku and Irena to sign up for GW interviews in January, Amy will join.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys was signed into law, more details to come on what this means.
    - Appointments from White House
    - Call rescheduled with Congresswoman Wilson
    - Women/Girls bill
- Budget questions
    - Mauro sent out survey for Commissioner IT needs. Rukku to follow up on timing.
    - Website update – contract secured. Update to occur over the next year. Check in with Ang on things moving forward, Rukku to push for SA involvement.
    - SA computers were shipped in the last couple of weeks.
    - FY22 budget timeline – John M. emailed Mauro to ask about status
- Speaker Series
    - Mauro shared calendar of when ASCD can do Speaker Series events, we could have one in January. It would be a Zoom direct stream, without a contractor to assist. Ang and Zakee will coordinate, Rukku to follow up with Mauro on more information.
- Monday.com
    - Ang walked through the platform at all SA meeting
    - Ang will also prompt more office use of it for our next project planning (likely the bail briefing in February)
    - Rukku will start building out project boards
- Election Assistance Commission
    - Question about appointments
- January business meeting
    - Statement on Dr. Walter Williams
        - Catherine said she would abstain
        - Debo is still considering his position
- Consider: should we do a caucus call before January 26 with our bosses?

1. USCCR Hours(below) DUE Tomorrow, Tuesday before 11:00AM ET
2. FEMA: Got discovery materials back from OCRE/Irena to review and get your thoughts before I send out.
3. Bail Reform review was due on December 18th, I sent the review of the executive summary and Chapter 3. Spoke to Rukku about meeting with OCRE and she agrees however she recommends that that after the call we still send a redline b/c it has proved to be more affective when we have something in writing. Will work Flor on finding some time this week to offer to OCRE.
4. Security Training (PASTDue October 12, 2020)

USCCR Hours:

12/20-01/2

12/21 1 Hour priority call with SA
12/22 2 hours work on FEMA project materials
12/23 1.5 hour call with SA + 2 hour review USCCR documents
12/28 2 hours review USCCR documents
12/29 3 hours work on Bail Reform project

January business meeting

- Statement on Dr. Walter Williams
  - Catherine said she would abstain
  - Debo is still considering his position , particularly given the lack of a civil rights nexus evidenced in the statement / materials on Williams. Caucus needs to discuss so we can plan scheduling a call next week.

Consider: having a call next week to discuss the following:

- Jan. 29 business
- Project planning
- Budget
- AIs

- Maternal health
  - OCRE sent out follow up questions to panelists, due by 1/8 . Responses? No responses yet.
- Bail reform

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- OCRE sent first draft on 11/20. Commissioners submitted comments on 12/21, only Catherine/Rukku and Debo/Irena submitted.
    - Irena will reach out to OCRE to set up a call for Debo to share thoughts on Chapter 1 of the report.
- FEMA / Puerto Rico
    - Irena submitted draft timeline to OCRE. OCRE sent back comments on timeline, along with a draft outline and discovery plan.
        - Irena has begun to review the outline and discovery plan; OCRE drafting is ahead of schedule so there is some time for detailed feedback. Irena aims to provide feedback before scheduling a meeting; Alec will provide feedback this week.
            - OCRE will circulate to all Commissioners by 1/14; Alec and Irena should aim to send feedback to OCRE by 1/8 or 1/11. Meeting with OCRE (if necessary) on the discovery materials can occur early next week.
            - Rukku will share thoughts from Catherine with Irena for incorporation in feedback.
        - Goal for the documents will be for the Commissioners to vote at the January business meeting.
    - Commissioners should be cognizant of budget considerations for the two site visits, and make sure that we can account for that in FY22 budget – can we set up particular contracts etc. to forward fund from the FY21 surplus?
    - Irena will revisit meeting transcript from vote at which FEMA was moved out of the FY21 statutory enforcement report spot; what did the Commissioners vote to do? Updates to come.

Adegbile,

Please see attached the FEMA project timeline. Rukku and I worked on it to include both the virtual briefing in the Spring (May 2021) and the field briefings/site visits to Texas (November 2021) and Puerto Rico (December 2021). We are hoping by the late fall that we would be able to travel and if not then we would default to gathering info virtually and via the videographer.

Please take a look, hoping to be able to share with OCRE this week.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

- Did everyone get paid?
- Maternal health
    - Ang has access to the YouTube channel, but still needs to be able to download the video (right now because it is a livestream, only the contractor can download the video). Rukku flagged for Mauro, who said he would check in with Ang.
    - OCRE sent out follow up questions to panelists, due by 1/8. Responses will be put in the shared folder.
    - No response from agencies on interrogatories yet. Want to think strategically about where to direct questions (using former officials from our roster of experts).
        - Irena to work with OCRE on timeline for following up on interrogatories in time leading up to affected agency review.
    - Irena and Rukku to follow up with Mauro on media debrief items.
    - Briefing transcript – Rukku flagged for Mauro/Kathy, Kathy said that Nick would handle. Unedited transcript is in the shared folder.
    - Irena has been working with OCRE on focus jurisdictions, and they will likely be NC, GA, and a third state. OCRE's first draft had New Jersey, but that might shift.
- Bail reform
    - OCRE sent first draft on 11/20. Commissioners submitted comments on 12/21, only Catherine/Rukku and Debo/Irena submitted.
        - Irena scheduled call with OCRE for Debo to share thoughts on Chapter 1 of the report.
        - Rukku reached out to Republican SAs to see if they submitted comments on the draft and to get big picture thoughts so that we can try to move together for the next draft. Carissa is compiling high level thoughts on the draft.
    - Briefing invitations went out before the holidays. Briefing will follow same template as maternal health briefing, with 3 virtual panels and one in writing. Briefing will be on Friday 2/26 from 10am – 2pm. Test will be on Tuesday 2/23, at 1pm ET.
        - Rukku will send a list of invitees to all SAs.
        - Rukku meeting with OCRE this afternoon to discuss alternate invitations.
    - Mauro began briefing planning meetings in December. Meetings will happen every week on Tuesday at 11am.
    - Oregon SAC had their last briefing on Friday 12/11, Catherine attended. Rukku shared briefing notes with OCRE in the comments on the first draft.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- FEMA / Puerto Rico
    - Irena submitted draft timeline to OCRE. OCRE sent back comments on timeline (structured for statutory enforcement report), along with a draft outline and discovery plan.
        - Irena submitted feedback on draft outline and discovery plan.
            - OCRE will circulate to all Commissioners by 1/14.
        - Goal for the documents will be for the Commissioners to vote at the January business meeting.
    - Commissioners should be cognizant of budget considerations for the two site visits, and make sure that we can account for that in FY22 budget – can we set up particular contracts etc. to forward fund from the FY21 surplus?
        - Catherine mentioned this to Mauro. Should add to priority budget items.
    - Texas SAC held briefings on disaster preparedness in December; flagged for OCRE
    - FEMA is holding civil rights stakeholder calls, OCRE will attend to prep
- SAC recruitment
    - Indiana 12/1/20 – Mauro circulated slate on Friday
        - Irena to vet slate, which includes 7 Ds, 7 Rs, and 1 Ind.
        - Objections are due by Thurs 1/21.
    - Vermont (expired in June).
        - Mauro circulated slate last week, which included 5 Rs, 5 Ds, and 2 Ind. (including Reed and Martin).
        - Irena updated vet memo and circulated. Bradford Lefavour has no relevant civil rights experience.
            - Debo and Catherine objected, because this objection changed the balance of the slate, Catherine pulled down for 12/4 meeting.
        - Rukku to follow up with Ang and Carissa to see if they have any other leads on recruitment. Ang is working on this. David will also reach out to Lefavour to see if he wants to amend his application to add more about his qualifications to serve on committee.
    - Colorado: Rukku
        - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
        - 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat). No particular flags on any candidates.
        - Comm. Heriot had objected to Prof. Chen, on the basis of a recent article that Prof. Chen published called Colorblind Nationalism.
            - Rukku is checking in with Alex on whether Comm. Heriot's objection is ongoing. No update. Rukku to follow up with Alex on Colorado.
    - North Carolina: Irena
        - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
        - 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as "something else"). Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in 2012.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

        - Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
        - They further objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as they don't consider her a "true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.
        - Rukku spoke to Thomas; Thomas proposed that we consider a slate of 9 Republicans (including Lechner) and 8 Democrats, and they would work on recruiting Republicans who would assist with balance of slate with respect to gender and other diversity factors. Catherine's current position is that she will not vote for unbalanced slate with 9 Republicans and 8 Democrats.
            - Rukku proposed to Thomas the following: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Might consider Mincey if he submits revised application with more justification for his civil rights experience.
    - Idaho (expired in July).
        - Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.
        - From Carissa: They are not willing to move forward with it without Scott Yenor, and it is unbalanced.
            - Carissa relayed that they continue to not want to move forward without Yenor.
            - Staff wants to confirm that Yenor is still interested in joining, given his published article.
    - District of Columbia 10/20/20 – Alex, Irena
        - (as of 12/17) 11 applicants: 9 men, 2 women; 6 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 something else
        - Need more Rs and better diversity
    - Iowa 11/17/20 – Carissa, Amy/Rukku
        - (as of 11/17) 11 applicants: 7 men, 4 women; 5 Ds, 4 Rs, 2 Ind.
        - Need at least one more R.
        - Amy to check in with Carissa to see if she has any more leads.
    - Ohio 11/17/20 – Carissa, Rukku
        - (as of 12/17) 16 applicants: 11 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 Ind.
        - Need more Rs. Carissa to work on recruitment.
    - New Mexico 12/1/20 – Alex, Amy/Irena/Rukku
        - 5 applicants. Need more candidates.
        - Rukku reached out to Haaland's office for candidates, Rukku to follow up.
    - Wyoming 12/1/20 – Alex, Alec
        - 6 applicants. Need more candidates.
        - Alec reached out to Shepard Foundation and confirmed that Judy Shepard will apply for the SAC.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- In general: Irena recommended we reach out to new Members' offices. Rukku circulated Congressional letter + updated 2 pager to share with offices.
- Florida 3/2021 – Irena
- Louisiana 3/2021 – Rukku
- Nebraska 3/2021 – Alec
- Texas 3/2021 – Amy
- New advisory committees (Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, American Samoa)
    - Rukku to check in with David on how he wants to move forward with that

- Broken Promises pandemic update
    - ABA will be reaching out to Catherine to do a webinar on the testimony. Details to come.
    - Pursue social media strategy using briefing video/materials
        - Can we generate clips from the briefing video, into individual panelist testimony or other excerpts. Rukku to check in with Ang.
    - Catherine wants to raise this project again, to see if we can get to common ground with the Republicans. Catherine wants to revisit when we discuss project planning re FY22 (/FEMA, Comm. Adams' proposal, etc.).
        - Catherine spoke to Gilchrist over the holidays and he seemed open to reconsidering the report; Rukku will reach out to Thomas to see about next steps.
        - Amy will check with Dave on process to see if there has been a prior time when the Commissioners voted down a draft report but then later considered (do we need to reopen the project? Vote on a new timeline? Etc.)
- Other SAC activity
    - AI 5-9 - SAC member conduct.
        - Rukku and Irena met with OGC to discuss proposed revisions to the AI.
        - OGC is reviewing the redline, and will have additional comments / feedback in early January. Irena will send a check in email mid week to check on status with OGC.
        - Rukku, Irena to meet with OGC on Wednesday morning to get feedback.
    - SAC letters – Rukku is working on moving out of backlog of Commissioner letters sharing publications from SACs. Sent Indiana and Arkansas last week.
- Project proposals for FY21/22
    - Catherine tabled this item until next business meeting, not for this business meeting (most likely December, if ready).
    - New proposals for FY22? Dave is working on a proposal. Dave has reached out to Comm. Gilchrist on new topic. Orlando will check in with Dave on the status of a possible collaboration with Commissioner Gilchrist.
    - Rukku checked with John to see if Commissioner Adams will submit new project proposals. John is working with Commissioner Adams on project priorities and check back on timeline. Rukku to follow up with John this week.
        - John (at all SA meeting) said that Comm. Adams had a proposal, so Rukku will generate a timeline for consideration.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

    - Rukku to discuss with Catherine about other projects that could garner a majority vote
    - Project planning calendar will in part depend on whether we want to propose the FEMA Project as a FY22 statutory enforcement report.
    - Move forward with FY22 project planning calendar?
- Personnel
    - OGC vacancy – update? Mauro is working to interview candidates for new GC position.
        - Conservative Commissioners had reached out to Mauro to get more information about who had applied for GC; not appropriate as Mauro responded.
    - Summer 2021 interns – Irena and Rukku to follow up based on writing samples this week and finally make the offer. Rukku to create a shared folder and populate all the cover letters and resumes.
        - Rukku and Irena to sign up for GW interviews in January, Amy will join.
- Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys was signed into law, more details to come on what this means.
    - Appointments from White House
    - Call rescheduled with Congresswoman Wilson
    - Women/Girls bill
- Budget questions
    - Mauro sent out survey for Commissioner IT needs. Rukku to follow up on timing.
    - Website update – contract secured. Update to occur over the next year. Check in with Ang on things moving forward, Rukku to push for SA involvement.
    - SA computers were shipped in the last couple of weeks.
    - FY22 budget timeline – John M. emailed Mauro to ask about status
- Budget priorities for FY21/22?
    - Forward funding for site visits in Puerto Rico and Texas
- Speaker Series
    - Mauro shared calendar of when ASCD can do Speaker Series events (Rukku will share), we could have one in January. It would be a Zoom direct stream, without a contractor to assist. Ang and Zakee will coordinate, Rukku to follow up with Mauro on more information.
- Monday.com
    - Ang walked through the platform at all SA meeting
    - Ang will also prompt more office use of it for our next project planning (likely the bail briefing in February)
    - Rukku will start building out project boards
- Election Assistance Commission
    - Question about appointments
- January business meeting
    - Statement on Dr. Walter Williams
        - Catherine said she would abstain
        - Debo is still considering his position, particularly given the lack of a civil rights nexus evidenced in the statement / materials on Williams
- Consider: should we do a caucus call before January 26 with our bosses?
    - Likely week of 1/11? Rukku to check with Catherine

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

    - Jan. 29 business

Hi all,

Below are my items for today's meeting. I'd like to specifically pay attention to files or items that other people want from me. I'm moving a lot of my files into the shared folder we have (RAJASI), but I'm not sure how long it'll be live since it's housed in my SecuriSync, so please download files from there by midday tomorrow.

- Chair appointment
  - AI on Acting Chair
- Vice Chair nomination
  - No nomination paperwork submitted, will depend on the next Administration
- Closeout
  - Catherine will send email to all staff later this afternoon or tomorrow morning
  - Catherine will pull down business meeting for 1/29
- All SA meeting this afternoon
  - Plan for Chair
  - SAC appointments
  - Budget priorities
- Maternal health
  - Second draft delivered to Commissioners on 1/15, comments from Commissioners due on 2/3. Plan for review?
  - Ang has access to the YouTube channel, but still needs to be able to download the video (right now because it is a livestream, only the contractor can download the video). Rukku flagged for Mauro, who said he would check in with Ang.
  - OCRE sent out follow up questions to panelists, due by 1/8. Responses put in the shared folder, Irena sent out an update to all SAs.
  - No response from agencies on interrogatories yet. Want to think strategically about where to direct questions (using former officials from our roster of experts).
    - Irena to work with OCRE on timeline for following up on interrogatories in time leading up to affected agency review.
  - Irena and Rukku to follow up with Mauro on media debrief items.
  - Briefing transcript – Rukku flagged for Mauro/Kathy, Kathy said that Nick would handle. Unedited transcript is in the shared folder.
- Bail reform

Subject : IMPORTANT Caucus Meeting 1/25

Hello Team,

Please see below items for discussion. Amy is going to access Rukku's Zoom account to use for the purpose of this meeting and if we have any issues I will use my personal account and send around. There is loads to discuss. Look forward to our meeting.

- Cancelled January business meeting + New Date if February * Feb 17 from 12-2pm ET and Feb 23rd from 12-2pm ET.
- Discussion Reg Kirsanow's letter to the staff director: The added items to the discussion are following :
- *Discussion regarding the appointment of Chair.
  - Discussion and vote on FEMA discovery plan
  - Project planning?
  - AI 1-18B ?  We need to search for AI 1-18 (Alec/Amy?)
  - Memorial Statement Honoring Dr. Walter Williams
- Caucus Call among Commissioners. Does Tuesday still work or should we look for another day/time. I think that there is much for our bosses to discuss.
  - Alec status of Commissioner Yaki on February dates?
  - Statement on Dr. Walter Williams
  - SAC Presentations (3)
- Chair appointment
  - AI on Acting Chair
- Vice Chair nomination
  - No nomination paperwork submitted, will depend on the next Administration
- Maternal health
  - Second draft delivered to Commissioners on 1/15, comments from Commissioners due early next week on 2/3. Can the caucus meet on Thursday before 2pm ET to discuss? Irena will circulate high level thoughts by Wednesday.
  - Irena to meet with Nick on Friday to discuss. Irena to schedule a call with Thomas to discuss + schedule a call between Debo and Gilchrist.
  - Ang has access to the YouTube channel, but still needs to be able to download the video (right now because it is a livestream, only the contractor can download the video). Rukku flagged for Mauro, who said he would check in with Ang.
  - No response from agencies on interrogatories yet. Want to think strategically about where to direct questions (using former officials from our roster of experts). * Irena meeting with Nick today to discuss. Plan is to have 5-10 questions to send out to HHS and ask them to respond since the idea that they will respond to ROG's are slim to none.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Irena to work with OCRE on timeline for following up on interrogatories in time leading up to affected agency review.
- Irena to follow up with Ang on media debrief items.
- Briefing transcript – Rukku flagged for Mauro/Kathy, Kathy said that Nick would handle. Unedited transcript is in the shared folder. Irena will follow up with Nick.

- Bail reform
  - Comm. Kladney taking over as lead on the project
  - OCRE sent first draft on 11/20. Commissioners submitted comments on 12/21. Carissa shared high level thoughts on the draft with Rukku.
  - Briefing invitations went out before the holidays. Briefing will follow same template as maternal health briefing, with 3 virtual panels and one in writing. Briefing will be on Friday 2/26 from 10am – 2pm. Test will be on Tuesday 2/23, at 1pm ET (Confirm your Commissioners attendance).
  - Rukku sent out an updated list of invitees to all SAs.
  - Rukku meeting with OCRE this afternoon to discuss alternate invitations. Irena/Debo will follow up with Eric Gonzalez to see if we can get a response, Irena will reach out to Marik for invitation for Debo to reach out. Update? Debo reached out, Irena will follow up so that OCRE can check in after 1/20 to see if we can get an answer.  Irena asked Marik to follow up with Jill Harris. Will check with Marik by Wednesday.
  - Mauro began briefing planning meetings in December. Meetings will happen every week on Tuesday at 11am.
  - Oregon SAC had their last briefing on Friday 12/11, Catherine attended. Rukku shared briefing notes with OCRE in the comments on the first draft.
- FEMA / Puerto Rico
  - OCRE circulated draft project planning materials with Commissioners and SAs on 1/14.
  - Goal for the documents will be for the Commissioners to vote at the January business meeting.
  - Commissioners should be cognizant of budget considerations for the two site visits, and make sure that we can account for that in FY22 budget – can we set up particular contracts etc. to forward fund from the FY21 surplus?
  - Catherine mentioned this to Mauro. Should add to priority budget items. *If we don't have a notational vote for the discovery materials we should make sure that Commissioners are on record that budget considerations should be included for both site visits to Puerto Rico and Texas.
  - Texas SAC held briefings on disaster preparedness in December; flagged for OCRE
  - FEMA is holding civil rights stakeholder calls, OCRE will attend to prep
- SAC recruitment
  - Indiana 12/1/20 – Mauro circulated slate on Friday
  - Amy to vet slate, which includes 7 Ds, 7 Rs, and 1 Ind.
  - Amy circulated vet memo. Carissa objected to the balance, the same type of objection as with a NC. Let's discuss Mauro's response and next steps.
  - Vermont (expired in June).
  - Mauro circulated slate, which included 5 Rs, 5 Ds, and 2 Ind. (including Reed and Martin). Catherine and Debo objected to Lefavour for lack of experience; need to recruit another R.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Irena will reach out to Leahy's office and ping Ang to see if she has any candidates.
- Colorado: Rukku
- Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
- 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat). No particular flags on any candidates.
- Comm. Heriot had objected to Prof. Chen, on the basis of a recent article that Prof. Chen published called Colorblind Nationalism.
- Rukku is checking in with Alex on whether Comm. Heriot's objection is ongoing. Alex said he would update last week. No update. Rukku will loop Irena into communication.
- North Carolina: Irena
- Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
- 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as "something else"). Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in 2012.
- Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
- They further objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as they don't consider her a "true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.
- Rukku spoke to Thomas; Thomas proposed that we consider a slate of 9 Republicans (including Lechner) and 8 Democrats, and they would work on recruiting Republicans who would assist with balance of slate with respect to gender and other diversity factors. Catherine's current position is that she will not vote for unbalanced slate with 9 Republicans and 8 Democrats.
- Rukku proposed to Thomas the following: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Might consider Mincey if he submits revised application with more justification for his civil rights experience.
- Rukku will check in with Thomas to see if any updates. Rukku will loop Irena in for any further updates.
- Idaho (expired in July).
- Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.
- From Carissa: They are not willing to move forward with it without Scott Yenor, and it is unbalanced.
- Carissa relayed that they continue to not want to move forward without Yenor.
- Staff confirmed that Yenor is still interested in joining.
- District of Columbia 10/20/20 – Alex, Irena
- (as of 12/17) 11 applicants: 9 men, 2 women; 6 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 something else
- Need more Rs and better diversity

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Iowa 11/17/20 – Carissa, Amy/Rukku
- (as of 11/17) 11 applicants: 7 men, 4 women; 5 Ds, 4 Rs, 2 Ind.
- Need at least one more R.
- Amy to check in with Carissa to see if she has any more leads. Carissa has exhausted her recruitment efforts, but John may have more leads.
- Ohio 11/17/20 – Carissa, Rukku
- (as of 12/17) 16 applicants: 11 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 Ind.
- Need more Rs. Carissa to work on recruitment.
- New Mexico 12/1/20 – Alex, Amy/Irena/Rukku
- 5 applicants. Need more candidates.
- Rukku reached out to Haaland's office for candidates, Rukku to follow up.
- Wyoming 12/1/20 – Alex, Alec
- 6 applicants. Need more candidates.
- Alec reached out to Shepard Foundation and confirmed that Judy Shepard will apply for the SAC.
- In general: Irena recommended we reach out to new Members' offices. Rukku circulated Congressional letter + updated 2 pager to share with offices.
- Florida 3/2021 – Irena
- Louisiana 3/2021 – Rukku
- Nebraska 3/2021 – Alec
- Texas 3/2021 – Amy
- New advisory committees (Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, American Samoa)
- Irena to check in with David on how he wants to move forward with that

- Broken Promises pandemic update
  - Rukku will connect Irena with Sen. Warren's office for future work on this project.
  - ABA will be reaching out to Catherine to do a webinar on the testimony. Details to come.
  - Pursue social media strategy using briefing video/materials
  - Can we generate clips from the briefing video, into individual panelist testimony or other excerpts. Rukku to check in with Ang.
  - Catherine wants to raise this project again, to see if we can get to common ground with the Republicans. Catherine wants to revisit when we discuss project planning re FY22 (/FEMA, Comm. Adams' proposal, etc.).
  - Catherine spoke to Gilchrist over the holidays and he seemed open to reconsidering the report; Rukku will reach out to Thomas to see about next steps.
  - Amy will check with Dave on process to see if there has been a prior time when the Commissioners voted down a draft report but then later considered (do we need to reopen the project? Vote on a new timeline? Etc.)
- Other SAC activity
  - AI 5-9 - SAC member conduct.
  - Rukku, Irena, Carissa met with OGC to discuss proposed revisions to the AI. Irena and Carissa are taking OGC's redline and comments to Commissioners to get feedback.
  - SAC letters – Rukku is working on moving out of backlog of Commissioner letters sharing publications from SACs. Sent Indiana and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Arkansas last week.
    - Amy/Irena will raise with Ang/David that Staff Director could take over these letters while waiting for a new Chair.
- Project proposals for FY21/22
    - Rukku checked with John to see if Commissioner Adams will submit new project proposals. John is working with Commissioner Adams on project priorities and check back on timeline. Rukku to follow up with John this week.
    - John (at all SA meeting) said that Comm. Adams had a proposal, so Rukku will generate a timeline for consideration.
    - We will proceed with the FEMA Project as the FY22 statutory enforcement report.
    - Move forward with FY22 project planning calendar – Rukku generated the program planning schedule with emphasis on time early in the process for bipartisan discussion.
    - Dave is working on a concept paper on race discrimination and small business lending, perhaps focusing on the recipients of the PPP loan.
    - Dave spoke with Comm. Gilchrist about potential interest.
- Personnel
    - OGC vacancy –New GC Starts
    - Summer 2021 interns – Amy and Irena interviewed 20 potential interns last Friday. *Irena and Amy will both hire interns for this summer. Let's discuss top candidates, and reach out to Carissa to see how many interns the R's plan to use.
    - Fulbright fellows –
        - We have on February 5th a Fullbright Virtual Visit. Looking to have a Fullbright fellow ASAP.
    - Irena has lead on a candidate with interest in bail reform.
    - Rukku will raise with Mauro the possibility of a Comms person to help Ang
- Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys was signed into law, more details to come on what this means.
    - Appointments from White House
    - Call rescheduled with Congresswoman Wilson
    - Women/Girls bill
- Budget questions
    - Mauro sent out survey for Commissioner IT needs. Rukku to follow up on timing.
    - Website update – contract secured. Update to occur over the next year. Check in with Ang on things moving forward, Rukku to push for SA involvement.
    - SA computers were shipped in the last couple of weeks.
    - FY22 budget timeline – John M. emailed Mauro to ask about status
    - All Commissioners should send their priorities, might be best to put in one doc for Mauro. Let's discuss.
- Budget priorities for FY21/22?
    - Forward funding for site visits in Puerto Rico and Texas
    - Regional staffing – at least one staffer for territory SACs
    - Please check with your bosses and send priorities by the end of this week.
- Speaker Series

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

    - Mauro shared calendar of when ASCD can do Speaker Series events (Rukku will share), we could have one in January. It would be a Zoom direct stream, without a contractor to assist. Ang and Zakee will coordinate, Irena to follow up with Mauro on more information.
- Monday.com
    - Ang walked through the platform at all SA meeting
    - Ang will also prompt more office use of it for our next project planning (likely the bail briefing in February)
    - Rukku will start building out project boards
- Election Assistance Commission
    - Question about appointments

    - 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat). No particular flags on any candidates.
    - Comm. Heriot had objected to Prof. Chen, on the basis of a recent article that Prof. Chen published called Colorblind Nationalism.
    - Rukku is checking in with Alex on whether Comm. Heriot's objection is ongoing. Alex said he would update last week. No update.
  - North Carolina: Irena
    - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as "something else"). Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in 2012.
- Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
- They further objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as they don't consider her a "true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.
- Rukku spoke to Thomas; Thomas proposed that we consider a slate of 9 Republicans (including Lechner) and 8 Democrats, and they would work on recruiting Republicans who would assist with balance of slate with respect to gender and other diversity factors. Catherine's current position is that she will not vote for unbalanced slate with 9 Republicans and 8 Democrats.

- Rukku proposed to Thomas the following: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Might consider Mincey if he submits revised application with more justification for his civil rights experience.

◦ Idaho (expired in July).

- Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.
- From Carissa: They are not willing to move forward with it without Scott Yenor, and it is unbalanced.

- Carissa relayed that they continue to not want to move forward without Yenor.
- Staff confirmed that Yenor is still interested in joining.

◦ District of Columbia 10/20/20 – Alex, Irena

- (as of 12/17) 11 applicants: 9 men, 2 women; 6 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 something else
- Need more Rs and better diversity

◦ Iowa 11/17/20 – Carissa, Amy/Rukku

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

        - (as of 11/17) 11 applicants: 7 men, 4 women; 5 Ds, 4 Rs, 2 Ind.
        - Need at least one more R.
        - Amy to check in with Carissa to see if she has any more leads. Carissa has exhausted her recruitment efforts, but John may have more leads.
    - Ohio 11/17/20 – Carissa, Rukku
        - (as of 12/17) 16 applicants: 11 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 Ind.
        - Need more Rs. Carissa to work on recruitment.
    - New Mexico 12/1/20 – Alex, Amy/Irena/Rukku
        - 5 applicants. Need more candidates.
        - Rukku reached out to Haaland's office for candidates, Rukku to follow up.
    - Wyoming 12/1/20 – Alex, Alec
        - 6 applicants. Need more candidates.
        - Alec reached out to Shepard Foundation and confirmed that Judy Shepard will apply for the SAC.
    - In general: Irena recommended we reach out to new Members' offices. Rukku circulated Congressional letter + updated 2 pager to share with offices.
    - Florida 3/2021 – Irena
    - Louisiana 3/2021 – Rukku
    - Nebraska 3/2021 – Alec
    - Texas 3/2021 – Amy
    - New advisory committees (Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, American Samoa)
        - Irena to check in with David on how he wants to move forward with that
- Broken Promises pandemic update
    - ABA will be reaching out to Catherine to do a webinar on the testimony. Details to come.
    - Pursue social media strategy using briefing video/materials
    - Can we generate clips from the briefing video, into individual panelist testimony or other excerpts. Rukku to check in with Ang.
    - Catherine wants to raise this project again, to see if we can get to common ground with the Republicans. Catherine wants to revisit when we discuss project planning re FY22 (/FEMA, Comm. Adams' proposal, etc.).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Catherine spoke to Gilchrist over the holidays and he seemed open to reconsidering the report; Rukku will reach out to Thomas to see about next steps.
- Amy will check with Dave on process to see if there has been a prior time when the Commissioners voted down a draft report but then later considered (do we need to reopen the project? Vote on a new timeline? Etc.)

- Other SAC activity

  - AI 5-9 - SAC member conduct.

  - Rukku, Irena, Carissa met with OGC to discuss proposed revisions to the AI. Irena and Carissa are taking OGC's redline and comments to Commissioners to get feedback.

  - SAC letters – Rukku is working on moving out of backlog of Commissioner letters sharing publications from SACs. Sent Indiana and Arkansas last week.
    - Amy/Irena will raise with Ang/David that Staff Director could take over these letters while waiting for a new Chair.

- Project proposals for FY21/22

  - Rukku checked with John to see if Commissioner Adams will submit new project proposals. John is working with Commissioner Adams on project priorities and check back on timeline. Rukku to follow up with John this week.

  - John (at all SA meeting) said that Comm. Adams had a proposal, so Rukku will generate a timeline for consideration.

  - We will proceed with the FEMA Project as the FY22 statutory enforcement report.
  - Move forward with FY22 project planning calendar – Rukku generated the program planning schedule with emphasis on time early in the process for bipartisan discussion.
  - Dave is working on a concept paper on race discrimination and small business lending, perhaps focusing on the recipients of the PPP loan.

  - Dave spoke with Comm. Gilchrist about potential interest.

- Personnel

  - OGC vacancy – New GC Starts on Feb 16

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Summer 2021 interns – Amy and Irena interviewed 20 potential interns last Friday. *Irena and Amy will both hire interns for this summer. Irena reached out to Carissa their caucus will have 4, ours will have 2.

- Fulbright fellows –
  - We have on February 5th a Fullbright Virtual Visit. Looking to have a Fullbright fellow ASAP.

- Irena has lead on a candidate with interest in bail reform.

- Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys was signed into law, more details to come on what this means.

  - Appointments from White House
  - Call rescheduled with Congresswoman Wilson
  - Women/Girls bill

- Budget questions

  - Mauro sent out survey for Commissioner IT needs. Rukku to follow up on timing.
  - Website update – contract secured. Update to occur over the next year. Check in with Ang on things moving forward, Rukku to push for SA involvement.
  - SA computers were shipped in the last couple of weeks.
  - FY22 budget timeline – John M. emailed Mauro to ask about status
  - All Commissioners should send their priorities, might be best to put in one doc for Mauro. Let's discuss.

- Budget priorities for FY21/22?

  - Forward funding for site visits in Puerto Rico and Texas
  - Regional staffing – at least one staffer for territory SACs
  - Please check with your bosses and send priorities by the end of this week.

- Speaker Series

  - Mauro shared calendar of when ASCD can do Speaker Series events (Rukku will share), we could have one in January. It would be a Zoom direct stream, without a contractor to assist. Ang and Zakee will coordinate, Irena to follow up with Mauro on more information.

- Monday.com

  - Ang walked through the platform at all SA meeting

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Ang will also prompt more office use of it for our next project planning (likely the bail briefing in February)
- Rukku will start building out project boards

- Election Assistance Commission
  - Question about appointments

Looking forward to our meeting today,
Irena

- FEMA / Puerto Rico
  - Mauro circulated the notational vote, please have your boss vote by Wednesday morning
  - Irena heard back from Heriot who is a yes, Gilchrist looks promising
  - Need to add to the record in March Yaki and Debo that both site visits need to happen
  - After the vote Irena needs to urge Mauro to start planning meetings
  - Catherine mentioned this to Mauro. Should add to priority budget items. *If we don't have a notational vote for the discovery materials we should make sure that Commissioners are on record that budget considerations should be included for both site visits to Puerto Rico and Texas.
  - Texas SAC held briefings on disaster preparedness in December; flagged for OCRE
  - FEMA is holding civil rights stakeholder calls, OCRE will attend to prep

- Bail reform
  - Comm. Kladney taking over as lead on the project
  - Debrief Meeting ?
  - Kladney/Amy negotiations with R's
  - Follow up questions to panelists?
  - Oregon SAC had their last briefing on Friday 12/11, Catherine attended. Rukku shared briefing notes with OCRE in the comments on the first draft.

- SAC recruitment
- Alex reached out to Irena to discuss CO and Indiana
  - Indiana 12/1/20 – Mauro circulated slate on Friday
  - Amy to vet slate, which includes 7 Ds, 7 Rs, and 1 Ind.
  - Amy circulated vet memo. Carissa objected to the balance, the same type of objection as with a NC. Spoke to Carissa and she will check with their caucus if we add a R or if we add an R and a D however she did say that they probably will not vote for slates that are not balanced.
  - Vermont (expired in June).
  - Mauro circulated slate, which included 5 Rs, 5 Ds, and 2 Ind. (including Reed and Martin). Catherine and Debo objected to

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Lefavour for lack of experience; need to recruit another R.

- Irena will reach out to Leahy's office and ping Ang to see if she has any candidates.
- Colorado: Irena
- Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
- 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat). No particular flags on any candidates.
- Comm. Heriot had objected to Prof. Chen, on the basis of a recent article that Prof. Chen published called Colorblind Nationalism.
- Irena is checking in with Alex on whether Comm. Heriot's objection is ongoing. Alex said he would update last week. No update.
- North Carolina: Irena
- Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
- 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as "something else"). Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in 2012.
- Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
- They further objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as they don't consider her a "true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.
- Rukku spoke to Thomas; Thomas proposed that we consider a slate of 9 Republicans (including Lechner) and 8 Democrats, and they would work on recruiting Republicans who would assist with balance of slate with respect to gender and other diversity factors. Catherine's current position is that she will not vote for unbalanced slate with 9 Republicans and 8 Democrats.
- Rukku proposed to Thomas the following: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Might consider Mincey if he submits revised application with more justification for his civil rights experience.
- Idaho (expired in July).
- Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.
- From Carissa: They are not willing to move forward with it without Scott Yenor, and it is unbalanced.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Carissa relayed that they continue to not want to move forward without Yenor.
- Staff confirmed that Yenor is still interested in joining.
- District of Columbia 10/20/20 – Alex, Irena
- (as of 12/17) 11 applicants: 9 men, 2 women; 6 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 something else
- Need more Rs and better diversity
- Iowa 11/17/20 – Carissa, Amy/Rukku
- (as of 11/17) 11 applicants: 7 men, 4 women; 5 Ds, 4 Rs, 2 Ind.
- Need at least one more R.
- Amy to check in with Carissa to see if she has any more leads. Carissa has exhausted her recruitment efforts, but John may have more leads.
- Ohio 11/17/20 – Carissa, Rukku

- Louisiana 3/2021 – Rukku
- Nebraska 3/2021 – Alec
- Texas 3/2021 – Amy
- New advisory committees (Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, American Samoa)
- Irena to check in with David on how he wants to move forward with that

- Broken Promises pandemic update
- Senator Warren's office has reached out to me to schedule a meeting this week on the report update + will invite Julie to the meeting.
  - ABA will be reaching out to Catherine to do a webinar on the testimony. Details to come.
  - Pursue social media strategy using briefing video/materials
  - Can we generate clips from the briefing video, into individual panelist testimony or other excerpts. Rukku to check in with Ang.
  - Catherine wants to raise this project again, to see if we can get to common ground with the Republicans. Catherine wants to revisit when we discuss project planning re FY22 (/FEMA, Comm. Adams' proposal, etc.).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Catherine spoke to Gilchrist over the holidays and he seemed open to reconsidering the report; Rukku will reach out to Thomas to see about next steps.
- Amy will check with Dave on process to see if there has been a prior time when the Commissioners voted down a draft report but then later considered (do we need to reopen the project? Vote on a new timeline? Etc.)

- Other SAC activity
  - AI 5-9 - SAC member conduct.
  - Rukku, Irena, Carissa met with OGC to discuss proposed revisions to the AI. Irena and Carissa are taking OGC's redline and comments to Commissioners to get feedback.
  - SAC letters – Rukku is working on moving out of backlog of Commissioner letters sharing publications from SACs. Sent Indiana and Arkansas last week.
    - Irena will raise with Ang/David that Staff Director could take over these letters while waiting for a new Chair.
- Project proposals for FY21/22
  - Rukku checked with John to see if Commissioner Adams will submit new project proposals. John is working with Commissioner Adams on project priorities and check back on timeline. Rukku to follow up with John this week.
  - John (at all SA meeting) said that Comm. Adams had a proposal, so Rukku will generate a timeline for consideration.
  - We will proceed with the FEMA Project as the FY22 statutory enforcement report.
  - Move forward with FY22 project planning calendar – Rukku generated the program planning schedule with emphasis on time early in the process for bipartisan discussion.
  - Dave is working on a concept paper on race discrimination and small business lending, perhaps focusing on the recipients of the PPP loan.
  - Dave spoke with Comm. Gilchrist about potential interest.
- Personnel
  - Cantu Special Assistant?
  - OCRE Director ?
  - Commission on Black Man and Boys
  - Summer 2021 interns – Irena hired a spring intern. Am? Irena reached out to Carissa their caucus will have 4, ours will have 2.
  - Fulbright fellows – Media fellow recommendation for Ang + possibly HQ fellow.
    - We have on February 5th a Fullbright Virtual Visit. Looking to have a Fullbright fellow ASAP.
  - Irena has lead on a candidate with interest in bail reform.
- Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys was signed into law, more details to come on what this means.
  - Appointments from White House
  - Call rescheduled with Congresswoman Wilson

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Women/Girls bill

- Budget questions
  - Appropriations reached out to me + need to follow up with Mauro
  - Mauro sent out survey for Commissioner IT needs. Amy to follow up on timing.
  - Website update – contract secured. Update to occur over the next year. Check in with Ang on things moving forward, Amy to push for SA involvement.
  - SA computers were shipped in the last couple of weeks.
  - FY22 budget timeline – John M. emailed Mauro to ask about status
- Budget priorities for FY21/22?
  - Forward funding for site visits in Puerto Rico and Texas
  - Regional staffing – at least one staffer for territory SACs
  - Please check with your bosses and send priorities by the end of this week.
- Speaker Series
  - Mauro shared calendar of when ASCD can do Speaker Series events (Rukku will share), we could have one in January. It would be a Zoom direct stream, without a contractor to assist. Ang and Zakee will coordinate, Irena to follow up with Mauro on more information.
- Monday.com

I give up. I have no idea what is going on with my phone.

Question regarding the EAC appointment proposal: from whom did that originate? Michael may already know about it and just not have communicated it with me, but if I need to discuss it with him, it would be helpful to know the background.

thanks! - Alec

Subject: Re: Caucus Call

Thanks Amy! Alec please let us know what time works best for you. There is loads to discuss and a need to create and send out the caucus call agenda for tomorrow's call at 3pm. Please see the list of items below from Commissioner Cantu.

- Language on 30/30/10 for rebuttals and surrebuttals-Gail-vehicle AI
- Language on bipartisan nominations to Elect.Adv.Council at end of June 2021. Appointments to EAC will be made by Commission as a whole, with a majority vote. Proposed that Dem.Caucus nominates 2 people for one slot and R+I Caucus chooses the appointee. R+I Caucus nominates 2 people for one slot and Dem. caucus chooses the appointee. In future nominations to external agencies, the Chair will consult with the whole Commission before communicating any nominations. Vehicle-motion from floor at mtg. on March 19
- Canceling the Chair's speakers series. Vehicle-email from Norma Cantu to Commissioners.
- Already have language that half of State Adv. Council slots will be Dem. and half Rep. Need to add language on each Commissioners' Caucus will take ____days to nominate and vet new members of State Adv. Councils. At end of ___ days, the staff are expected to provide assistance in recruiting and vetting people to fill vacancies. Staff nominations take no longer than ____days. All nominations by Commissioners and staff come back to the full Commissioner for a discussion and vote to approve new members. Vehicle-motion from floor at mtg. on March 19.
- Language about agreeing that AIs, as more specific agreements, govern process of Commissioners; in absence of relevant AI, Commissioners will apply Roberts' Rules of Order. Vehicle-Memo of Understanding approved by majority of Commissioners.
- Chair proposes agenda for Commissioners' meeting, with Commissioners having ability to propose to amend agenda before meeting and also at the beginning the meeting, subject to majority vote. Vehicle-AI
- A majority of Commissioners is needed to cancel a called Commissioner meeting. Vehicle-AI
- Proposed by Norma, in absence of Chair available to moderate the meeting, the most senior Dem. and Rep. Commissioners will alternate chairing meetings. Vehicle-AI or memo. of understanding
- Language that any Commissioner from each Caucus may sit in on OCRE interviews provided the Commissioner's request to attend does not cause a scheduling delay. Vehicle?

- Memorial/obits require a majority vote of the Commission and the proposed language for the memorial shall be circulated to all the Commissioners. Vehicle-AI

- FEMA / Puerto Rico
  - The notational vote failed
  - OGC and OCRE finalizing the added language from Commissioner Adams
  - Hoping we can schedule another notational vote in order to untangle this procedural vote from all of the items that are on the agenda on Friday.
  - Irena to follow up with OGC/OCRE regarding the finalized FEMA discovery
  - documents

- Bail reform
  - Comm. Kladney taking over as lead on the project

    - SAC letters – Rukku is working on moving out of backlog of Commissioner letters sharing publications from SACs. Sent Indiana and Arkansas last week.
        - Irena will raise with Ang/David that Staff Director could take over these letters while waiting for a new Chair.
- Project proposals for FY21/22
    - Rukku checked with John to see if Commissioner Adams will submit new project proposals. John is working with Commissioner Adams on project priorities and check back on timeline. Rukku to follow up with John this week.
    - John (at all SA meeting) said that Comm. Adams had a proposal, so Rukku will generate a timeline for consideration.
    - We will proceed with the FEMA Project as the FY22 statutory enforcement report.
    - Move forward with FY22 project planning calendar – Rukku generated the program planning schedule with emphasis on time early in the process for bipartisan discussion.
    - Dave is working on a concept paper on race discrimination and small business lending, perhaps focusing on the recipients of the PPP loan.
    - Dave spoke with Comm. Gilchrist about potential interest.
- Personnel
    - Cantu Special Assistant?
    - Amy to follow up regarding notational vote and process for SA
    - OCRE Director ?
    - Commission on Black Man and Boys
    - Irena to follow up with Mauro about these two positions
    - Summer 2021 interns – Irena hired a spring intern. Am? Irena reached out to Carissa their caucus will have 4, ours will have 2.
    - Irena's intern to start next week, Amy still in hiring process
    - Fulbright fellows – Media fellow recommendation for Ang + possibly HQ fellow.
        - Ang is looking to hire a Fullbright fellow ASAP.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thanks Amy! Alec please let us know what time works best for you. There is loads to discuss and a need to create and send out the caucus call agenda for tomorrow's call at 3pm. Please see the list of items below from Commissioner Cantu.

To be discussed on caucus call tomorrow - Amy to send business meeting agenda (attach sunshine act notice and email from Alex) and negotiations

1. Negotiations (list below)
2. FEMA discovery materials and notational vote -
    - Updated language has been vetted by OCRE/OGC and language the conservatives proposed has been adopted (attach materials)
    - Change in briefing date for virtual briefing (June instead of May)
3. Bail reform
4. Colorado and Idaho Advisory Committees
    - R's proposal - Dr. Chen in CO if we allow Mr. Yenor in ID

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

    - Attach document with Dr. Chen response and Yenor response
- Language on 30/30/10 for rebuttals and surrebuttals-Gail-vehicle AI
- Language on bipartisan nominations to Elect.Adv.Council at end of June 2021. Appointments to EAC will be made by Commission as a whole, with a majority vote. Proposed that Dem.Caucus nominates 2 people for one slot and R+I Caucus chooses the appointee. R+I Caucus nominates 2 people for one slot and Dem. caucus chooses the appointee. In future nominations to external agencies, the Chair will consult with the whole Commission before communicating any nominations. Vehicle-motion from floor at mtg. on March 19
- Canceling the Chair's speakers series. Vehicle-email from Norma Cantu to Commissioners.
- Already have language that half of State Adv. Council slots will be Dem. and half Rep. Need to add language on each Commissioners' Caucus will take ____days to nominate and vet new members of State Adv. Councils. At end of ___ days, the staff are expected to provide assistance in recruiting and vetting people to fill vacancies. Staff nominations take no longer than ____days. All nominations by Commissioners and staff come back to the full Commissioner for a discussion and vote to approve new members. Vehicle-motion from floor at mtg. on March 19.
- Language about agreeing that AIs, as more specific agreements, govern process of Commissioners; in absence of relevant AI, Commissioners will apply Roberts' Rules of Order. Vehicle-Memo of Understanding approved by majority of Commissioners.
- Chair proposes agenda for Commissioners' meeting, with Commissioners having ability to propose to amend agenda before meeting and also at the beginning the meeting, subject to majority vote. Vehicle-AI
- A majority of Commissioners is needed to cancel a called Commissioner meeting. Vehicle-AI
- Proposed by Norma, in absence of Chair available to moderate the meeting, the most senior Dem. and Rep. Commissioners will alternate chairing meetings. Vehicle-AI or memo. of understanding
- Language that any Commissioner from each Caucus may sit in on OCRE interviews provided the Commissioner's request to attend does not cause a scheduling delay. Vehicle?
- Memorial/obits require a majority vote of the Commission and the proposed language for the memorial shall be circulated to all the Commissioners. Vehicle-AI

- FEMA / Puerto Rico
    - The notational vote failed
    - New notational vote attempt this week?
    - OGC and OCRE finalizing the added language from Commissioner Adams
    - Hoping we can schedule another notational vote in order to untangle this procedural vote from all of the items that are on the agenda on Friday.
    - Irena to follow up with OGC/OCRE regarding the finalized FEMA discovery documents

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Bail reform
  - Comm. Kladney taking over as lead on the project
  - Kladney/Amy negotiations with R's update?
    Status of follow up questions/update?
    Amy to ask Mauro today
  - Oregon SAC had their last briefing on Friday 12/11, Catherine attended. Rukku shared briefing notes with OCRE in the comments on the first draft.

- SAC recruitment
- So far 10 SAC's have expired and not been reappointed, and 4 more expire this month
- Alex reached out to Irena to discuss CO and Idaho
- The Republican's via Alex would like to make a deal Yenor for Dr. Chen. Please let your boss know and let's disscuss during out caucus call tomorrow.
  - Indiana 12/1/20 – Mauro circulated slate on Friday
  - Amy circulated vet memo. Slate includes 7 Ds, 7 Rs, and 1 Ind.
  - Carissa objected to the balance, the same type of objection as with a NC. Spoke to Carissa and she will check with their caucus if we add a R or if we add an R and a D however she did say that they probably will not vote for slates that are not balanced.
  - Vermont (expired in June).
  - Mauro circulated slate, which included 5 Rs, 5 Ds, and 2 Ind. (including Reed and Martin). Catherine and Debo objected to Lefavour for lack of experience; need to recruit another R.
  - Irena will reach out to Leahy's office and ping Ang to see if she has any candidates.
  - Colorado: Irena
  - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
  - 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat). No particular flags on any candidates.
  - Comm. Heriot had objected to Prof. Chen, on the basis of a recent article that Prof. Chen published called Colorblind Nationalism.
  - Irena is checking in with Alex on whether Comm. Heriot's objection is ongoing. Alex said he would update last week. No update.
  - North Carolina: Irena
  - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
  - 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as "something else"). Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Republican in 2012.
- Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
- They further objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as they don't consider her a "true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.
- Rukku spoke to Thomas; Thomas proposed that we consider a slate of 9 Republicans (including Lechner) and 8 Democrats, and they would work on recruiting Republicans who would assist with balance of slate with respect to gender and other diversity factors. Catherine's current position is that she will not vote for unbalanced slate with 9 Republicans and 8 Democrats.
- Rukku proposed to Thomas the following: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Might consider Mincey if he submits revised application with more justification for his civil rights experience.
- Idaho (expired in July).
- Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.
- From Carissa: They are not willing to move forward with it without Scott Yenor, and it is unbalanced.
- Carissa relayed that they continue to not want to move forward without Yenor.
- Staff confirmed that Yenor is still interested in joining.
- District of Columbia 10/20/20 – Alex, Irena
- (as of 12/17) 11 applicants: 9 men, 2 women; 6 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 something else
- Need more Rs and better diversity
- Iowa 11/17/20 – Carissa, Amy/Rukku
- (as of 11/17) 11 applicants: 7 men, 4 women; 5 Ds, 4 Rs, 2 Ind.
- Need at least one more R.
- Amy to check in with Carissa to see if she has any more leads. Carissa has exhausted her recruitment efforts, but John may have more leads.
- Ohio 11/17/20 – Carissa, Rukku
- (as of 12/17) 16 applicants: 11 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 Ind.
- Need more Rs. Carissa to work on recruitment.
- New Mexico 12/1/20 – Alex, Amy/Irena/Rukku
- 5 applicants. Need more candidates.
- Rukku reached out to Haaland's office for candidates, Rukku to follow up.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Wyoming 12/1/20 – Alex, Alec
- 6 applicants. Need more candidates.
- Alec reached out to Shepard Foundation and confirmed that Judy Shepard will apply for the SAC.
- In general: Irena recommended we reach out to new Members' offices. Rukku circulated Congressional letter + updated 2 pager to share with offices.
- Florida 3/2021 – Irena
- Louisiana 3/2021 – Rukku
- Nebraska 3/2021 – Alec
- Texas 3/2021 – Amy
- New advisory committees (Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, American Samoa)
- Irena checked in with David on how he wants to move forward with new advisory committees - on hold for the moment

- Broken Promises pandemic update
- Senator Warren's office has reached out to Irena to schedule a meeting this week on the report update + will invite Julie to the meeting.
  - Interested to find out spokesperson for Commission. Irena provided public material and plan to reconnect when a Commissioner can be designated to speak for the Commission
  - Pursue social media strategy using briefing video/materials
  - Can we generate clips from the briefing video, into individual panelist testimony or other excerpts. Rukku to check in with Ang.
  - Catherine wants to raise this project again, to see if we can get to common ground with the Republicans. Catherine wants to revisit when we discuss project planning re FY22 (/FEMA, Comm. Adams' proposal, etc.).
  - Catherine spoke to Gilchrist over the holidays and he seemed open to reconsidering the report; Rukku will reach out to Thomas to see about next steps.

You should not send the email about the speaker series that Gail is requesting. It is inaccurate. When the time comes simply say:

- "I (we) agree to end holding the speaker series as request by Commissioners Adams, Gilchrist, Kirsanow and Heriot."
- "I (we) agree to have bipartisan appointments to the Election Assistance Commission"
- "I (we) agree to continue the policy of allowing the filing of Rebuttals and Sur-rebuttals to Commission Reports voted on by Commissioners."

Yes, Gail, Peter,
I have kept circling back to the Progressive Caucus on all the items, from the proposals first raised in February, to the one we drafted last night.

Last night, at 8:30, I thought we had an agreement on all the concepts. This is because we withdrew the language of no objection from the Conservative Caucus about language to the Vice Chair. You withdrew the language on needing to complete the SACs language before the Chair vote. We also made a concession to a last-minute request about Commissioners observing and participating in OCRE content interviews.

Earlier this week, in response to your request for A-Is, Michael gave you and Peter the language for A-Is on the 30/30/10 and for Commission appointments. Michael told you and Peter these were the only A -I s. I can share with you the Progressive Caucus would not consider any other A-s as necessary to proceed to the Chair vote. Putting form over substance is causing unnecessary delay. As an alternative, we had told you and Peter that oral statements on the record would suffice to memorialize the other agreements.

We are ready to discuss and vote on the items you proposed at the business meeting today. But, if not handled and decided today by Progressives and Conservatives together, all our concessions are withdrawn.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Norma—What about the rest of the things on the list? Is the Progressive Caucus ready to vote on all of them? Or should the meeting be put off?

The conservatives are not inclined to negotiate further at the meeting. We are happy to get this done by notational vote if that allows the progressives the time they need to absorb all this.

DRAFT: Email from Commissioner Norma V. Cantú Rescinding the Speakers Series Activity Conducted at Commissioners' Meetings:
April 16, 2021

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I write to rescind any directives concerning a "Speakers Series" activity conducted during meetings of the Commission. I understand the Speakers Series was announced by email from a chairperson, not memorialized in any A-I or other rule. In light of several Commissioners' concerns that the activity should have included Commissioner input on speakers from both parties, I express my serious commitment to not reinstitute this activity. If it happens that a majority of the Commissioners were to consent in the future to support this endeavor by a majority vote of the members of the Commission, I wouldpersonally ascertain whether the proposed speaker would be bipartisan in the number of speakers or timing and scheduling of speakers; and if it is not, while I am on the Commission, I will vote against this proposal.

Subject : TO DO + USCCR Updates
Attachment : AI on Appointment Authority (general and EAC) AR notes (1).docx;AI Letter to the Staff Director.docx;

Good Morning Adegbile,

Please see the updated TO DO list for this week, the AI information and USCCR updates.

TO DO LIST:

1. Letter to the Staff Director from all Commissioner's regarding making all the AI's available electronically in one place. Please see the letter attached that all the SA's worked on. Once we get the green light from all the Commissioners we can send to the Staff Director.
2. Review the attached EAC AI that is redlined. Please add any additional thoughts or approve as is so we can share with the rest of the caucus.
3. Scheduling an April 30th business meeting at noon. Will send a calendar invitation, we also need to schedule a caucus meeting on Tuesday, April 27th at 3pm ET.

AI's

EAC appointing authority (redline attached)

- We have worked on the language that you emphasized during the calls.
- That the Chairperson still retains the authority to appoint with the consultation from Commissioners.
- That the Commissioners selected by respective caucus are willing and able to serve
- Finally, should the person by the choosing party not be able to serve, the chairperson shall be free to choose any other member of the Commission, including said chairperson, to serve on the U.S. Election Assistance Commission

The other 2 AI's will be reviewed by OGC and OCRE because it requires their input. However both of the AI have been non-starters for you and Dave.

OCRE Witness Interviews

The R's are wanting to attend interviews that OCRE conducts in order to obtain information for our investigations. Such interviews were conducted for the Sub-Minimum Wages, as well as for Bail Reform.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- ADA requirements for interviews may not allow for this
- Bail reform interviews also conducted with focus jurisdictions
- Statutory requirements for separation of staff and Commissioners – GC to weigh in.

Panelist requests for briefings

- Explanations from OCRE on why panelists are not being invited
- What do our current AI's and rules require for Commissioner recommendations to be invited
- Resources may not be used effectively if we institute this system
- Need to preserve the independence of the agency

USCCR Updates:

- FEMA/Puerto Rico

  * The notational vote passed
  * FEMA panelist recommendations + briefing book recommendations. The panelist recommendations were due by this Friday, April 2nd. There were numerous recommendations from Irena, Alex, John Mashburn. Carissa and Thomas had one recommendation.
  * OCRE send the invitations last week. No confirmations to date. Irena spoke to Jason and has some updates.

- Commissioners may need to assist in getting the invitations to the principals – particularly Congressman Peters. Irena to update

  * Focus on Chapter 3 – Federal response, as area for potential bi-partisan consensus
  * New HHS leadership – OCRE sent HHS and CDC targeted questions for affected agency review
  * Need current data for programs that received funding
  * OCRE sent updated ROG's to HHS and also sent the draft report for agency review two weeks ago. No response from HHS, Irena advised

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Nick and OCRE to reach out to panelist including Congresswoman Ayanna Pressley and ask them to put pressure on HHS to respond especially since it was Black Maternal Health week last week and HHS and CDC was participating in all these various events with the partner organizations. Irena will follow up with OCRE this week and see if she can share what OCRE sent and to which programs
    * Final draft coming to Commissioners in May
    * 3 weeks to return edits before vote in June
    * Irena discussing with Republicans whether they will support

Broken Promises pandemic update

* Senator Warren's office has reached out to Irena to schedule a meeting this week on the report update + will invite Julie to the meeting.
* Interested to find out spokesperson for Commission. Irena provided public material and
* Pursue social media strategy using briefing video/materials
* Can we generate clips from the briefing video, into individual panelist testimony or other excerpts? Irena to reach out to Ang.
* Revisit when we discuss project planning re FY22? (/FEMA, Comm. Adams' proposal, etc.).

Follow ups with Mauro

* The SA's have requested a follow up meeting with Mauro, we were trying to reinstitute the bi-weekly meetings, Mauro has cancelled our April 20th meeting. However Mauro has not been amenable to meeting, our last SA Meeting was held on 3/23.
* Mauro scheduled the meeting with the SA's next week on Tuesday, April 20th at 3pm. Juana you need to be added to the calendar invitation.
* The items raised at the last meeting for which we don't have updates:
    * AI's available online
    * Commissioner IT needs
    * Website update
    * Budget priorities
        * Forward funding for site visits in Puerto Rico and Texas
        * Regional staffing – at least one staffer for territory SACs
        * IT and website
    * SAC letters

Other outstanding items for all SA's

* AI 5-9
    * OCG provided redline and comments for Commissioner consideration for standards for removal for SAC members and procedures the Commission should adopt
* Project proposals
* "Balance" SAC AI?
* Expired SACs (14)

Project proposals for FY21/22

* Rukku checked with John to see if Commissioner Adams will submit new project proposals. John is working with Commissioner Adams on project priorities and check back on timeline. Rukku to follow up with John this week.
* John (at all SA meeting) said that Comm. Adams had a proposal, so Rukku

will generate a timeline for consideration.
* We will proceed with the FEMA Project as the FY22 statutory enforcement report.
* Need a new FY22 project planning calendar – Rukku generated the program planning schedule with emphasis on time early in the process for bipartisan discussion.

ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION __- __

Section 1.

.01 Any authority specifically granted the Commission of Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc. shall be exercised by the Commission Chairperson in consultation with all members of the commission.~~as a whole by majority vote~~.

Section 2

(1) For the two (2) appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership that are ready willing and able to serve, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership that are ready willing and able to serve.

(2) The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities.

(3) Should the person by the choosing party not be able to serve, the chairperson shall be free to choose any other member of the Commission, including said chairperson, to serve on the U.S. Election Assistance Commission/

(~~3~~4) ~~————~~ The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1.

NOTE: I don't see the AI for the rebuttal/surrebuttal,…but I will not vote for it if that crap stays in their about understanding the individual commissioners point-of-vote or vote.

Commented [1]:
Past practice has been that the Chair makes these appointments. This reduces the power of the Chair.

We should find out all the boards and other groups the Commission appoints to in order to understand the full scope of what appointing authority the Chair is relinquishing

Commented [2]:
These requirements do not belong in an AI to be binding on all future compositions of the Commission. If Norma wants to agree to this process for the current appointments, that would be understandable since we are currently 4-4. In the future, if the Commission is 6-2 again, it would be less understandable to give 2 Commissioners this much control.

Alternative: Create a rule committing to bipartisan

Dear Mr. Morales:

We, the undersigned Commissioners, write today to request the promulgation of a searchable digital collection of the Commission's Administrative Instructions (AIs). In order to efficiently serve as Commissioners, we must have easy access to the AIs. Thus, we request that you provide us with the following:

- One updated digital file containing every AI that is in effect, in its proper order, and with the date and manner of each AI's ratification
- Physical copies of that digital file by request

The general counsel has sent some of this information piece-by-piece via email to us over the past few weeks. But those AIs have not been updated or organized, and they have not been collected into a single digital document. As matters stand, accessing the AIs requires that we attempt to assemble a complete list from the documents we have been sent piecemeal. Thus, this effort is inadequate.

This is simply a matter of good governance. Please provide us with a timeline for completion of the above tasks.

Sincerely,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dear Commissioners-

At the request and in consultation with the Chair, I am sending this email to start the EAC nomination process for Commissioners.

Per the AI voted on during the April 30th meeting (language included below), each caucus is requested to submit two candidates for consideration by COB Friday, July 30, 2021. Once the names are submitted, OGC will conduct an ethics check to be completed by Wednesday, August 4, 2021. Each caucus will then have 24 hours to submit caucus strikes (Thursday, August 5, 2021 COB). The Chair will communicate the two names to EAC no later than Friday, August 6, 2021.

Please let the Chair or I know if you have any questions or concerns.

In the past few days I have received several emails about the EAC appointments. I understand that one of the caucuses hasn't finalized its two selections as outlined in the below AI and Mauro' email. The 'ethics check' isn't prescribed by the below AI. OGC held a call with General Counsel of the EAC and would like to meet with you to discuss the requested ethics check. Dear Commissioners-

At the request and in consultation with the Chair, I am sending this email to start the EAC nomination process for Commissioners.

Per the AI voted on during the April 30th meeting (language included below), each caucus is requested to submit two candidates for consideration by COB Friday, July 30, 2021. Once the names are submitted, OGC will conduct an ethics check to be completed by Wednesday, August 4, 2021. Each caucus will then have 24 hours to submit caucus strikes (Thursday, August 5, 2021 COB). The Chair will communicate the two names to EAC no later than Friday, August 6, 2021.

Please let the Chair or I know if you have any questions or concerns.

Hi Juana and Chair Cantu,

In the past few days I have received several emails about the EAC appointments. I understand that one of the caucuses hasn't finalized its two selections as outlined in the below AI and Mauro' email. The 'ethics check' isn't prescribed by the below AI. OGC held a call with General Counsel of the EAC and would like to meet with you to discuss the requested ethics check. What is your availability tomorrow and Wednesday? Thanks,

David

Subject : Caucus meeting 12/14

Hi all,

Below are my items for check in today. As always, please let me know if you have any additional items.

- Maternal health
  - Ang has access to the YouTube channel, but still needs to be able to download the video (right now because it is a livestream, only the contractor can download the video). Rukku flagged for Mauro, who said he would check in with Ang.
  - OCRE sent out follow up questions to panelists, due by 12/4.
    - Irena sent questions for panelists from caucus.
    - John requested that we find out more information about improving current programs rather than just discussing new programs, and flagged for OCRE.
  - No response from agencies on interrogatories yet. Want to think strategically about where to direct questions (using former officials from our roster of experts).
  - Irena to work with OCRE on timeline for following up on interrogatories in time leading up to affected agency review.
  - Public comment follow up (deadline is 12/14): Irena to work on, Rukku to follow up with other orgs.
  - Debrief meeting scheduled for 12/3 at 11am. Irena and Rukku to follow up with Mauro on media debrief items.
  - Briefing transcript – Irena will follow up with Ang on who should handle
  - Debo and Irena had meeting scheduled with Comm. Gilchrist and Thomas on Wednesday to discuss next steps for maternal health project.
- Bail reform
  - OCRE sent first draft on 11/20. Comments from Commissioners are due on 12/21.
    - Caucus meeting on draft later this week? Thursday morning?
  - Briefing panelist suggestions were due by 12/8. Invitations will go out by 12/14. Briefing will follow same template as maternal health briefing, with 3 virtual panels and one in writing.
    - Rukku shared panelist list as it stood for May briefing.
  - Mauro began briefing planning meetings in December. Meetings will happen every week on Tuesday at 11am.
- FEMA / Puerto Rico
  - Texas SAC is holding briefing on disaster preparedness this month; flagged for OCRE
  - FEMA is holding civil rights stakeholder calls, OCRE will attend to prep
  - Alec and Irena to work together on next steps for planning, including discussing project timeline, outline, and discovery plan. Rukku is happy to help with timeline or other pieces as needed.
    - Irena circulated draft edits to concept paper.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- SAC recruitment
    - Vermont (expired in June).
        - Mauro circulated slate last week, which included 5 Rs, 5 Ds, and 2 Ind. (including Reed and Martin).
        - Irena updated vet memo and circulated. Note that Bradford Lefavour has no relevant civil rights experience, Irena to check if Debo will object.
            - Debo and Catherine objected, because this objection changed the balance of the slate, Catherine pulled down for 12/4 meeting.
        - Rukku to follow up with Ang and Carissa to see if they have any other leads on recruitment.
    - Colorado: Rukku
        - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
        - 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat). No particular flags on any candidates.
        - Comm. Heriot had objected to Prof. Chen, on the basis of a recent article that Prof. Chen published called Colorblind Nationalism.
            - Rukku is checking in with Alex on whether Comm. Heriot's objection is ongoing. No update. Rukku to follow up with Alex on Colorado.
    - North Carolina: Irena
        - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
        - 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as "something else"). Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in 2012.
        - Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
        - They further objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as they don't consider her a "true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.
        - Potential proposal to move forward: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Rukku to check with Catherine, others to check with bosses. If yes, Rukku will reach out to Thomas to pitch.
        - Thomas raised at all SA meeting. Rukku to follow up with Thomas on potential compromise.
    - Idaho (expired in July).
        - Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.
        - From Carissa: They are not willing to move forward with it without Scott Yenor, and it is unbalanced.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

        - Carissa relayed that they continue to not want to move forward without Yenor.
        - Staff wants to confirm that Yenor is still interested in joining, given his published article.
    - District of Columbia 10/20/20 – Alex, Irena
        - (as of 11/10) 10 applicants: 8 men, 2 women; 6 Ds, 3 Rs, 1 something else
        - Need more Rs and better diversity
        - Rukku will raise at all SA meeting, and also raise with Ang
    - Iowa 11/17/20 – Carissa, Amy/Rukku
        - (as of 11/17) 11 applicants: 7 men, 4 women; 5 Ds, 4 Rs, 2 Ind.
        - Need at least one more R.
        - Rukku to check in with Carissa to see if she has any more leads.
    - Ohio 11/17/20 – Carissa, Rukku
        - (as of 11/8) 15 applicants: 10 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 Ind.
        - Need more Rs. Carissa to work on recruitment.
    - Indiana 12/1/20 – Carissa, Irena
        - (as of 11/19) 16 applicants, including: 7 Rs, 4 Ds, 1 Ind.
        - Need more Ds. Rukku to work with Irena on recruitment.
    - New Mexico 12/1/20 – Alex, Amy/Irena/Rukku
        - 5 applicants. Need more candidates.
        - Rukku reached out to Haaland's office for candidates.
    - Wyoming 12/1/20 – Alex, Alec
        - 6 applicants. Need more candidates.
        - Alec to reach out to Sheppard Foundation; if no contact, then can reach out to Marik/OCRE for contact information for Cynthia Deitle.
    - Next slates don't expire until March 2021: Florida, Louisiana, Nebraska, Texas
        - Rukku will assign for recruitment responsibilities for week after Thanksgiving
            - Florida – Irena
            - Louisiana – Rukku
            - Nebraska – Alec
            - Texas – Rukku/Amy
        - Rukku will also draft timelines for January consideration.
            - December: recruitment, encourage people to get in applications before the end of the year
            - Tuesday January 5: circulation of slates
            - Tuesday January 19: objections due
            - Friday January 22: Staff Director makes decisions on final slate
            - Friday January 29: vote on slates
- Broken Promises pandemic update
    - ABA will be reaching out to Catherine to do a webinar on the testimony. Details to come.
    - Pursue social media strategy using briefing video/materials
        - Can we generate clips from the briefing video, into individual panelist testimony or other excerpts. Rukku to check in with Ang.
    - Catherine wants to raise this project again, to see if we can get to common ground with the Republicans. Catherine wants to revisit when we discuss project planning re FY22 (/FEMA, Comm. Adams' proposal, etc.).

- Other SAC activity
  - AI 5-9 - SAC member conduct.
    - Rukku and Irena meeting with OGC to discuss proposed revisions to the AI.
    - OGC is reviewing the redline, and will have additional comments / feedback in early January.
  - SAC letters – Rukku is working on moving out of backlog of Commissioner letters sharing publications from SACs
    - Nebraska, Hawaii
    - Project for Staff Director's office?
- Project proposals for FY21/22
  - Catherine tabled this item until next business meeting, not for this business meeting (most likely December, if ready).
  - New proposals for FY22? Dave is working on a proposal. Dave has reached out to Comm. Gilchrist on new topic. Orlando will check in with Dave on the status of a possible collaboration with Commissioner Gilchrist.
  - Rukku checked with John to see if Commissioner Adams will submit new project proposals. John is working with Commissioner Adams on project priorities and check back on timeline. Rukku to follow up with John this week.
    - John (at all SA meeting) said that Comm. Adams had a proposal, so Rukku will generate a timeline for consideration.
  - Rukku to discuss with Catherine about other projects that could garner a majority vote
- December letter of priorities for new Administration / new Congress
  - Orlando to work on research re diversity training
  - Rukku to work on draft of letter
  - Rukku to work on drafts of letters to agency transition teams
- Personnel
  - OGC vacancy – update? Mauro is working to interview candidates for new GC position.
    - Conservative Commissioners had reached out to Mauro to get more information about who had applied for GC; not appropriate as Mauro responded.
  - Summer 2021 interns – Irena and Rukku to follow up based on writing samples this week and finally make the offer. Rukku to create a shared folder and populate all the cover letters and resumes.
    - Rukku and Irena to sign up for GW interviews in January
- Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys was signed into law, more details to come on what this means.
  - Appointments from White House
  - Call scheduled with Congresswoman Wilson
  - Women/Girls bill
- Budget questions
  - Mauro sent out survey for Commissioner IT needs. Rukku to follow up on timing.
  - Website update – contract secured. Update to occur over the next year. Check in with Ang on things moving forward, Rukku to push for SA involvement.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

    - SA computers were shipped in the last couple of weeks.

Subject : Caucus meeting today 12/21

Hi all,

Hope everyone is staying safe and warm, and HUGE welcome back to Amy!! Items below for our check in this morning, as always please bring any additional items on your list.

- Maternal health
  - Ang has access to the YouTube channel, but still needs to be able to download the video (right now because it is a livestream, only the contractor can download the video). Rukku flagged for Mauro, who said he would check in with Ang.
  - OCRE sent out follow up questions to panelists, due by 12/4.
    - Irena sent questions for panelists from caucus.
    - John requested that we find out more information about improving current programs rather than just discussing new programs, and flagged for OCRE.
  - No response from agencies on interrogatories yet. Want to think strategically about where to direct questions (using former officials from our roster of experts).
  - Irena to work with OCRE on timeline for following up on interrogatories in time leading up to affected agency review.
  - Irena and Rukku to follow up with Mauro on media debrief items.
  - Briefing transcript – Rukku flagged for Mauro/Kathy, Kathy said that Nick would handle.
  - Debo and Irena had meeting with Comm. Gilchrist and Thomas to discuss next steps for maternal health project.
- Bail reform
  - OCRE sent first draft on 11/20. Comments from Commissioners are due on 12/21.
    - Caucus met on Thursday to discuss draft, comments are due today. Rukku circulated redline and draft high level comments on Friday, revised redline and comments to come later today.
  - Briefing panelist suggestions were due by 12/8. Invitations will go out by 12/14. Briefing will follow same template as maternal health briefing, with 3 virtual panels and one in writing.
    - Rukku shared panelist list as it stood for May briefing.
    - Rukku met with OCRE on Friday to go over panel composition, and arrived at a final initial list. Invitations were sent out last week, and we have four confirmations already. Rukku will send update tomorrow after meeting with OCRE.
  - Mauro began briefing planning meetings in December. Meetings will happen every week on Tuesday at 11am.
  - Briefing will be on Friday 2/26 from 10am – 2pm. Test will be on Tuesday 2/23, at 1pm ET.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Oregon SAC had their last briefing on Friday, Catherine attended. Rukku to share briefing notes with OCRE.

- FEMA / Puerto Rico
  - Texas SAC is holding briefing on disaster preparedness this month; flagged for OCRE
  - FEMA is holding civil rights stakeholder calls, OCRE will attend to prep
  - Alec and Irena to work together on next steps for planning, including discussing project timeline, outline, and discovery plan.
    - Irena circulated draft edits to concept paper. Rukku and Irena to work on timeline draft to send to OCRE; OCRE is working on draft outline and discovery plan that aligns with what Irena circulated for edits to the briefing plan.
  - Revisit meeting transcript from vote at which FEMA was moved out of the FY21 statutory enforcement report spot; what did the Commissioners vote to do?
- SAC recruitment
  - Vermont (expired in June).
    - Mauro circulated slate last week, which included 5 Rs, 5 Ds, and 2 Ind. (including Reed and Martin).
    - Irena updated vet memo and circulated. Note that Bradford Lefavour has no relevant civil rights experience, Irena to check if Debo will object.
      - Debo and Catherine objected, because this objection changed the balance of the slate, Catherine pulled down for 12/4 meeting.
    - Rukku to follow up with Ang and Carissa to see if they have any other leads on recruitment. Ang is working on this. David will also reach out to Lefavour to see if he wants to amend his application to add more about his qualifications to serve on committee.
  - Colorado: Rukku
    - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
    - 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat). No particular flags on any candidates.
    - Comm. Heriot had objected to Prof. Chen, on the basis of a recent article that Prof. Chen published called Colorblind Nationalism.
      - Rukku is checking in with Alex on whether Comm. Heriot's objection is ongoing. No update. Rukku to follow up with Alex on Colorado.
  - North Carolina: Irena
    - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
    - 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as "something else"). Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in 2012.
    - Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).
    - They further objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as they don't consider her a "true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey has no civil rights experience, based on his application and a review of his public record.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

        - Potential proposal to move forward: get another R, and add to the slate, to move to a balance of 8-8; added R cannot be Patrick Mincey (no civil rights experience). Rukku to check with Catherine, others to check with bosses. If yes, Rukku will reach out to Thomas to pitch.
        - Thomas raised at all SA meeting. Rukku spoke to Thomas last week; Thomas proposed that we consider a slate of 9 Republicans (including Lechner) and 8 Democrats, and they would work on recruiting Republicans who would assist with balance of slate with respect to gender and other diversity factors. Catherine's current position is that she will not vote for unbalanced slate with 9 Republicans and 8 Democrats.
    - Idaho (expired in July).
        - Rukku shared proposal with Carissa: 4 Republicans, 5 Democrats, 1 Independent leaning Democrat, and 1 Independent who leans in no direction. Slate did not include Scott Yenor.
        - From Carissa: They are not willing to move forward with it without Scott Yenor, and it is unbalanced.
            - Carissa relayed that they continue to not want to move forward without Yenor.
            - Staff wants to confirm that Yenor is still interested in joining, given his published article.
    - District of Columbia 10/20/20 – Alex, Irena
        - (as of 11/10) 10 applicants: 8 men, 2 women; 6 Ds, 3 Rs, 1 something else
        - Need more Rs and better diversity
        - Rukku will raise at all SA meeting, and also raise with Ang
    - Iowa 11/17/20 – Carissa, Amy/Rukku
        - (as of 11/17) 11 applicants: 7 men, 4 women; 5 Ds, 4 Rs, 2 Ind.
        - Need at least one more R.
        - Rukku to check in with Carissa to see if she has any more leads.
    - Ohio 11/17/20 – Carissa, Rukku
        - (as of 11/8) 15 applicants: 10 Ds, 4 Rs, 1 Ind.
        - Need more Rs. Carissa to work on recruitment.
    - Indiana 12/1/20 – Carissa, Irena
        - (as of 11/19) 16 applicants, including: 8 Rs, 7 Ds, 1 Ind.
        - Might have enough candidates for slate, Irena to review and see if qualified candidates.
    - New Mexico 12/1/20 – Alex, Amy/Irena/Rukku
        - 5 applicants. Need more candidates.
        - Rukku reached out to Haaland's office for candidates, Rukku to follow up.
    - Wyoming 12/1/20 – Alex, Alec
        - 6 applicants. Need more candidates.
        - Alec to reach out to Sheppard Foundation; if no contact, then can reach out to Marik/OCRE for contact information for Cynthia Deitle.

David,

We respectfully request a legal opinion on the authority of the Chair to appoint other Commissioners to entities external to the USCCR. In this particular situation, Chair Catherine Lhamon made two appointments to the Election Assistance Commission (EAC). She appointed Commissioner Kladney and Commissioner Yaki to be advisory members in 2019. I believe former Commission Chair Marty Castro made two appointment to the EAC with Commissioners Timmons-Goodson and Commissioner Yaki. In a conversation a few months ago, the general counsel of EAC sent me the attached letter from Adams, Gilchrist, Heriot and Kirsanow. In our conversation the EAC GC informed me that other organizations that make such appointments to the EAC do so in a bipartisan manner. He told me that bipartisan appoints were not a rule or requirement but a best practice. I believe that the appointments to the EAC for the next submission are scheduled for April of 2021 (I believe the appointments are for two year terms). The Republican members of the USCCR wrote a letter to EAC demanding action on the EAC appointments. The four Commissioners have verbally insisted that when Commissioner Cantu becomes Chair that she appoint a Republican Commissioner to the EAC. I believe that Commissioner Cantu is evaluating appointments to the EAC but wants to know her legal authority to do so or whether or not a vote is required to make such appointments. Please be advised that the Staff Director has not been previously involved in the selection or the appoint to the EAC. I am not aware of other such appointments. I have cc'd Pilar because she was the initial contact for this matter several months ago. Commissioner Cantu and I are available for additional consultation if that would be useful to you.

Thank you.

The four Commissioners have verbally insisted that when Commissioner Cantu becomes Chair that she appoint a Republican Commissioner to the EAC. I believe that Commissioner Cantu is evaluating appointments to the EAC but wants to know her legal authority to do so or whether or not a vote is required to make such appointments. Please be advised that the Staff Director has not been previously involved in the selection or the appoint to the EAC. I am not aware of other such appointments. I have cc'd Pilar because she was the initial contact for this matter several months ago. Commissioner Cantu and I are available for additional consultation if that would be useful to you.

Thank you.

DRAFT EMAIL- EAC

Dear Commissioners-

In consultation with the Chair, I am sending this email to start the EAC nomination process.

Per the AI voted on during the April 30th meeting (language included below), I am asking each caucus to submit two candidates for consideration by COB Friday, July 30, 2021. Once the names are submitted, OGC will conduct an ethics check to be completed by Wednesday, August 4, 2021. Each caucus will then have 24 hours to submit caucus strikes (Thursday, August 5, 2021 COB). The Chair will communicate the two names to EAC no later than Friday, August 6, 2021.

Please let the Chair or I know if you have any questions or concerns.

Dear Commissioners-

In response to Commissioner Yaki recently resigning from his position on the EAC as a representative of USCCR, the Progressive Caucus is putting for 2 names for consideration. I am asking that the candidate you strike be sent to me by Monday, November 15th, 2021 by 5pm EST so that we can include the candidate's confirmation vote at our November 19th business meeting.

Allison Riggs leads the voting rights program at the Southern Coalition for Social Justice, an organization she joined in 2009. In March of 2020, she also took over as Interim Executive Director of the organization. Her voting rights work over the last decade at SCSJ has been focused on fighting for fair redistricting plans, fighting against voter suppression, and advocating for electoral reforms that would expand access to voting.

Alabama SAC Chair Jenny Carroll - https://www.congress.gov/116/meeting/house/109456/witnesses/HHRG-116-HA08-Wstate-CarrollJ-20190513.pdf

Per the AI voted on during the April 30th meeting (language included below), each caucus will then have 24 hours to submit caucus strikes. In this instance, I am allowing 48 business day hours given that tomorrow is a holiday. The first representative, Cleta Mitchell, was already communicated to the EAC.

Please submit your strike no later than Monday, November 15th by 5pm EST.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Allison Riggs - Southern Coalition for Social Justice

southerncoalition.org

Allison Riggs leads the voting rights program at the Southern Coalition for Social Justice, an organization she joined in 2009. In March of 2020, she also took over as Interim Executive Director of the organization. Her voting rights work over the last decade at SCSJ has been focused on fighting for fair redistricting plans, fighting against voter suppression, and advocating for electoral reforms that would expand access to voting.

Alabama SAC Chair Jenny Carroll - https://www.congress.gov/116/meeting/house/109456/witnesses/HHRG-116-HA08-Wstate-CarrollJ-20190513.pdf

Per the AI voted on during the April 30th meeting (language included below), each caucus will then have 24 hours to submit caucus strikes. In this instance, I am allowing 48 business day hours given that tomorrow is a holiday. The first representative, Cleta Mitchell, was already communicated to the EAC.

Please submit your strike no later than Monday, November 15th by 5pm EST.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Appointment to EAC Board of Advisors

Dear Ms. Carroll,

The U.S. Commission on Civil Rights has the privilege and authority to appoint two members to the EAC Board of Advisors. The Board of Advisors are appointed to a two year term . The Members meet quarterly and the appointees are referred to as members of the Board of Advisors to the Election Assistance Commission.

Commissioner Adegbile would like to take this opportunity to inquire if you would consider serving on the Board of Advisors. If you are willing and able he would like to nominate you to serve. The Commission has a internal process on nominations but if you would be selected then we would go forward with the appointment.

The description and statute is included below. Please take a look and feel free to email me with any questions.

The EAC Board of Advisors is a 35-member board composed of representatives from the National Governors Association; National Conference of State Legislatures; National Association of Secretaries of State; The National Association of State Election Directors; National Association of Counties; the International Association of Government Officials (created from the merger of the National Association of County Recorders, Election Officials and Clerks and the International Association of Clerks, Recorders, Election Officials, and Treasurers); Election Center; International Association of Clerks, Recorders, Election Officials, and Treasurers; U.S. Commission on Civil Rights; and Architectural and Transportation Barriers Compliance Board.

Other members include representatives from the U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Public Integrity, and the Civil Rights Division; the director of the U.S. Department of Defense Federal Voting Assistance Program; four professionals from the field of science and technology, one each appointed by the Speaker and the Minority Leader of the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Majority and Minority leaders of the U.S. Senate; and eight members representing voter interests, with the chairs and the ranking minority members of the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on House Administration and the U.S. Senate Committee on Rules and Administration each appointing two members. Following the passage of HAVA, the National Association of County Recorders, Election Officials and Clerks and the International Association of Clerks, Recorders, Election Officials, and Treasurers merged to form the International Association of Government Officials.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Statute:
52 U.S. Code § 20944 - Membership of Board of Advisors
(a)In general
The Board of Advisors shall be composed of 37 members appointed as follows:
(1)Two members appointed by the National Governors Association.

United States Commission on Civil Rights Statement on Appointment to Election Assistance Commission 35-member Board of Advisors

November 16, 2021

Ms. Cleta Mitchell's nomination was put forth by Commissioners appointed by Republican authorities, including former President Trump, Senate Minority Leader McConnell, and House Minority McCarthy. Ms. Mitchell is not a member of the Commission on Civil Rights.

The Elections Assistance Commission (EAC), which solicits nominations, requested the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights (Commission) nominate two advisors to the EAC 35-member board of advisors.

Ms. Mitchell is one of two Commission appointees selected by Commissioners to serve on Board of Advisors to the Election Assistance Commission.

The EAC nominee by Commissioners appointed by Democratic authorities was unable to serve and the Commissioners have re-nominated their candidate-to the Commission's remaining appointment to the EAC. There will be a discussion and vote on this matter at the Commission's November 19, 2021, business meeting.

By way of background, Commissioners of the Commission of Civil Rights (USCCR) have the sole authority to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, which is exercised by majority vote of Commissioners.

USCCR is governed by the following agency instruction process regarding nominations to the Board of Advisors to the EAC:

- Commissioners appointed by Democratic authorities nominated two individuals of their membership, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities nominated two individuals of their membership.
- Once nominated, the members appointed by the Democratic authorities, selects one of two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities.
- Appointments are ratified by majority vote of Commissioners.

Cleta Mitchell was nominated by Commissioners that were appointed by Republican authorities; and was ratified by majority vote of Commissioners.

Alex – is this the latest you have on this issue?

I talked to folks over at the EAC to see if the Cmn would be able -- from EAC's perspective – to change out one or both of the Bd of Advisors folks from the USCCR, or if once they are there that they are "stuck" for the term of the appointment and the USCCR cannot change them out.

More from Maureen:

Alex,

I haven't found much more than what we discussed. The meeting transcripts are here (and looks like we've almost completed uploading them back to 2006): https://www.usccr.gov/calendar/transcripts.php I did do a very quick glance through the transcripts and did not find any votes for the EAC positions. I did find the email below from 2015 in which the then- Chair's special assistant asked all Commissioners who wanted to be appointed. I wasn't at USCCR for this one - I found the email in securi sync. Sorry to not be of more help. -Maureen

Subject: Re: [EXTERNAL] EAC Board of Advisors

I spoke with Maureen. She said that she was not asked about these appointments in 2019, but she thought that the Commissioners had had a conversation about them.

It seems to me that these appointments were unlawful if they were not (1) made by the Commission and (2) bipartisan and geographically varied. And Google Maps says Reno (Kladney) is a short 3.5 hour drive from San Fran (Yaki).

I'll try to locate the 2015, 2013, & 2011 transcripts to see if appointments were voted on in the past.

United States Commission on Civil Rights Statement on Appointment to Election Assistance Commission 35-member Board of Advisors

November 16, 2021

Ms. Cleta Mitchell's nomination was put forth by Commissioners appointed by Republican authorities, including former President Trump, Senate Minority Leader McConnell, and House Minority McCarthy. Ms. Mitchell is not a member of the Commission on Civil Rights.

The Elections Assistance Commission (EAC), which solicits nominations, requested the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights (Commission) nominate two advisors to the EAC 35-member board of advisors.

Ms. Mitchell is one of two Commission appointees selected by Commissioners to serve on Board of Advisors to the Election Assistance Commission.

The EAC nominee by Commissioners appointed by Democratic authorities was unable to serve and the Commissioners have re-nominated their candidate-to the Commission's remaining appointment to the EAC. There will be a discussion and vote on this matter at the Commission's November 19, 2021, business meeting.

By way of background, Commissioners of the Commission of Civil Rights (USCCR) have the sole authority to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, which is exercised by majority vote of Commissioners.

USCCR is governed by the following agency instruction process regarding nominations to the Board of Advisors to the EAC:

- Commissioners appointed by Democratic authorities nominated two individuals of their membership, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities nominated two individuals of their membership.
- Once nominated, the members appointed by the Democratic authorities, selects one of two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one of the two individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities.
- Appointments are ratified by majority vote of Commissioners.

Cleta Mitchell was nominated by Commissioners that were appointed by Republican authorities; and was ratified by majority vote of Commissioners.

Adegbile,

Here is some updated coverage with hyperlinks.

- Original AP Story
  - Notable publications that ran:
    - Washington Post
    - NBC
    - SF Chronicle
    - Yahoo
    - Over 260 outlets have run the AP story across the US & a few in India
- Fox News
  - The Fox piece also cites the Commission's statement; the subhead notes that the EAC advisory board doesn't have power to make policy. It includes Cleta's quote a bit higher up and doesn't as directly cite the cause of her resignation from her law firm.
  - It cites the AP story and includes an image of and link to the Twitter post from Jessica Huseman, which was also mentioned in the AP piece
  - Also republished on Yahoo
- HillReporter.com
  - Goes a little deeper into Cleta's background and doesn't mention the nominations of the two board members but also calls the EAC and the USCCR "bodies with little authority."
  - It also includes an image of and link to Jessica Huseman's post on Twitter as well as a Nov. 1 post from Cleta

These are the major highlights – these stories all cite your statement and mention the nomination of 2 board members and the nomination process.

- Newsweek released an updated story, but didn't name J. Christian Adams as the other nominee. It cites the statement from yesterday.

I talked to folks over at the EAC to see if the Cmn would be able -- from EAC's perspective – to change out one or both of the Bd of Advisors folks from the USCCR, or if once they are there that they are "stuck" for the term of the appointment and the USCCR cannot change them out.

Alex,

I haven't found much more than what we discussed. The meeting transcripts are here (and looks like we've almost completed uploading them back to 2006): https://www.usccr.gov/calendar/transcripts.php I did do a very quick glance through the transcripts and did not find any votes for the EAC positions. I did find the email below from 2015 in which the then- Chair's special assistant asked all Commissioners who wanted to be appointed. I wasn't at USCCR for this one - I found the email in securi sync. Sorry to not be of more help. -Maureen

Below is where we stand on various issues:

1. Blue Ink Electronic Signature – USCCR needs one from you to attach to letters. Angela Rorison sent you an email requesting it. (FYI – she is one week on the job.)

2. Nov. 13 Maternal Health Disparity/Mortality Briefing Witness AGREED TO– first off, you should know that Kirsanow joined with us in requesting a witness. Bridget Wagner's recommendation of Ms. Kathleen Bravo -- who founded and runs OBRIA Medical Group (which runs 21 pro-life maternal health clinics and 11 mobile centers) -- was finally agreed to by Cullington-Gonzalez. She initially rejected Ms. Bravo as not having "appropriate background" and preferred the first proposed witness instead. However, Star Parker's witness Ms. Catherine Davis felt (and I agree) that if she could not talk about the disparate impact abortion has on the minority community (per the USCCR authorizing statute) she would not have a lot to contribute. After I sent Kathy a 2-page detailed defense on why Bravo does have appropriate experience and why perhaps some of their 13 current witnesses might not have -- based on the materials they sent out regarding the purpose of the hearing -- she relented and agreed to invite Ms. Bravo (who I am reaching out to today with her invitation letter, etc.)

    a. Nov. 10 TEST RUN for Zooming this Hearing at 10 am or 11 am– they want to know if you can participate in this test run on Nov. 10 at one of those times.

3. EAC – I talked with Kevin Rayburn last Friday late afternoon and he agreed to look into the issues. Will touch base with him again today. Alex has nothing new from his end looking into this.

4. Vice-Chair – talked to Andrew, etc. Today is Andrew's first day at his new job at OPM. Spencer is taking over for him. We need to discuss this.

5. GC Vacancy – I reached out to Carrie Lee as you asked. She will apply, but had some concerns that we should discuss.

6. USA Today Criticism– Alex found the "Economic Liberty" report Heriot mentioned that was rejected when the Dem majority first took over back in 2012 or so, and is looking for other reports that were also rejected.

7. Oct. 30 Cmn Business Mtg – the Oct. 16th Cmn Business Meeting has been moved from Oct. 16 to Oct. 30th -- at 12 noon.

At a staff level we are reviewing several 150-plus page report DRAFTS (Native American COVID-19 Impacts; Maternal Health Disparity – yes, written before the Nov. 13 hearing; etc.) Carissa is taking the lead on them. Carissa is also taking the lead in identifying folks for expiring State Advisory Cmtees (SACs).

Re: U.S. Election Assistance Commission
Board of Advisors Membership Appointment

Dear Ms. Lhamon:

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 20901 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards[15] to assist the EAC with the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. The Advisory Boards are primarily charged with providing advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of the Voluntary Voting System Guidelines.

The membership of the respective Advisory Boards is set forth in Section 213, 214 and 221[16]. Under Section 214, your organization is authorized to appoint two members to the Board of Advisors.

Please be advised that it is time to reappoint your designated representatives to the Board of Advisors. If you do not appoint someone new, your existing representatives will continue to serve and be reappointed.

Your current representatives are:

Patricia Timmons-Goodson
Michael Yaki

Each member representative serves for a period of two years unless replaced and may be reappointed if no replacement is named. The term of your member representatives will renew on April 13, 2019 with the renewal of the Advisory Board's Charter.

Attached is the letter from Chair Lhamon to EAC appointing Yaki and Kladney to the EAC's Board of Advisors. Rayburn says there is no meeting of the BOA prior to current BOA representatives' terms expiring on April 13, 2021. However, USCCR could still technically remove and replace its representatives on the BOA prior to that time.

He did note that removing Yaki would create an administrative issue for the BOA since Yaki is the current Chair of the BOA -- and was recently reelected to serve as Chair again. In February, the EAC (Rayburn) will send a notice to USCCR asking whom it wants its representatives to be. As noted in the EAC letter to the USCCR (2nd attachment), if USCCR does not act to change its representatives prior to April 13, 2021, then the terms of the current USCCR representatives on the BOA (Yaki/Kladney) will be automatically renewed.

The attached first document is a draft letter for the caucus to send to the EAC regarding what steps the EAC takes to ensure the statutorily designated entities that appoint BOA members appoint them by the agency as a whole -- and are not just unilaterally appointed by the “head” of a designated agency. It also asks what the EAC does to “ensure” that the members of the BOA are appointed in a “bipartisan manner” as is statutorily required by Section 214(b) of the HAVA act.

The other attachments are documents that would accompany the draft letter.

Chair Benjamin Hovland
Vice Chair Donald Palmer
U.S. Election Assistance Commission
633 3rd Street NW, Suite 200
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Hovland and Vice Chairman Palmer:

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 2091 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards to provide advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. In Section 214(a), the United States Commission for Civil Rights (USCCR) as a whole is authorized to appoint two members of the EAC's 37-member Board of Advisors (BOA). Section 214(b) requires that "appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." [emphasis added].

In reviewing the USCCR's current appointees to the BOA, we note that both appointees are members of the same party -- and thus are not bipartisan as required by Section 214(b) -- and that the appointments were evidently made by the Chair of the USCCR unilaterally without approval of the USCCR as a whole. In addition to the USCCR, there are 9 other national associations authorized as a whole to each appoint two members to the EAC's 37-member BOA and section 214(b) requires that those appointments also be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

A letter sent to the Chair of the USCCR from the EAC on February 22, 2019 (attached) advised the Chair that it was time for the USCCR to "reappoint" its "designated representatives" to the BOA under Section 214(a) and stated that if no new designees were appointed, then the existing representatives would continue to serve and be automatically reappointed. The letter then asked the Chair to send in a "Notice of Representation" form by March 15, 2019 – which was less than 3 weeks later and thus provided little time for the USCCR as a whole to approve any designees. No mention is made in the EAC's letter that the appointment power under Section 214 is provided to the USCCR as a whole, and that it is not a power delegated to the USCCR Chair alone. The EAC letter to the USCCR Chair also failed to mention that Section 214(b) requires appointments made to the Board of Advisors be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

Put simply, there are significant doubts that this "appointment" was actually an appointment that followed our Commission's regular procedures for making an appointment.

In light of the unbalanced partisan way (both being of the same party) in which the current USCCR appointments were made to the BOA, we would like to know what steps, if any, the EAC takes to enforce the statutory requirements under Section 214 regarding its Board of Advisors as follows:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

a) that each of the national entities allowed to appoint members to the BOA (including the USCCR) actually approves the appointment of their representatives to the BOA as a whole – and that the nominal head of each entity does not make the appointments unilaterally on their own authority; and

b) that the appointments from each national entity are made in a manner that "ensures" the BOA will be "bipartisan in nature."

More from Maureen:

Alex,

I haven't found much more than what we discussed. The meeting transcripts are here (and looks like we've almost completed uploading them back to 2006): https://www.usccr.gov/calendar/transcripts.php I did do a very quick glance through the transcripts and did not find any votes for the EAC positions. I did find the email below from 2015 in which the then- Chair's special assistant asked all Commissioners who wanted to be appointed. I wasn't at USCCR for this one - I found the email in securi sync. Sorry to not be of more help. -Maureen

I spoke with Maureen. She said that she was not asked about these appointments in 2019, but she thought that the Commissioners had had a conversation about them.

It seems to me that these appointments were unlawful if they were not (1) made by the Commission and (2) bipartisan and geographically varied. And Google Maps says Reno (Kladney) is a short 3.5 hour drive from San Fran (Yaki).

I'll try to locate the 2015, 2013, & 2011 transcripts to see if appointments were voted on in the past.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

December 2, 2020

Chair Benjamin Hovland
Vice Chair Donald Palmer
U.S. Election Assistance Commission
633 3rd Street NW, Suite 200
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Hovland and Vice Chairman Palmer:

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 2091 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards to provide advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. In Section 214(a), the United States Commission for Civil Rights (USCCR) as a whole is authorized to appoint two members of the EAC's 37-member Board of Advisors (BOA). Section 214(b) requires that "appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." [emphasis added].

In reviewing the USCCR's current appointees to the BOA, we note that both appointees are members of the same party -- and thus are not bipartisan as required by Section 214(b) -- and that the appointments were evidently made by the Chair of the USCCR unilaterally without approval of the USCCR as a whole. In addition to the USCCR, there are 9 other national associations authorized as a whole to each appoint two members to the EAC's 37-member BOA and section 214(b) requires that those appointments also be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

A letter sent to the Chair of the USCCR from the EAC on February 22, 2019 (attached) advised the Chair that it was time for the USCCR to "reappoint" its "designated representatives" to the BOA under Section 214(a) and stated that if no new designees were appointed, then the existing representatives would continue to serve and be automatically reappointed. The letter then asked the Chair to send in a "Notice of Representation" form by March 15, 2019 – which was less than 3 weeks later and thus provided little time for the USCCR as a whole to approve any designees. No mention is made in the EAC's letter that the appointment power under Section 214 is provided to the USCCR as a whole, and that it is not a power delegated to the USCCR Chair alone. The EAC letter to the USCCR Chair also failed to mention that Section 214(b) requires appointments made to the Board of Advisors be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

Put simply, there are significant doubts that this "appointment" was actually an appointment that followed our Commission's regular procedures for making an appointment.

In light of the unbalanced partisan way (both being of the same party) in which the current USCCR appointments were made to the BOA, we would like to know what steps, if any, the EAC takes to enforce the statutory requirements under Section 214 regarding its Board of Advisors as follows:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

a) that each of the national entities allowed to appoint members to the BOA (including the USCCR) actually approves the appointment of their representatives to the BOA as a whole – and that the nominal head of each entity does not make the appointments unilaterally on their own authority; and

b) that the appointments from each national entity are made in a manner that "ensures" the BOA will be "bipartisan in nature."

Sincerely,

Cc: Benjamin Hovland

Dear Chairman Hovland and Vice Chairman Palmer:

We write as four members of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, and not on behalf of the Commission as a whole, regarding enforcement of the legal requirements in EAC's authorizing statutes for making appointments to the EAC's Board of Advisors.

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 2091 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards to provide advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. In Section 214(a), the United States Commission for Civil Rights (USCCR) as a whole is authorized to appoint two members of the EAC's 37-member Board of Advisors (BOA). Section 214(b) requires that "appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." [emphasis added].

In reviewing the USCCR's current appointees to the BOA, we note that both appointees are members of the same party -- and thus are not bipartisan as required by Section 214(b) -- and that the appointments were evidently made by the Chair of the USCCR unilaterally without approval of the USCCR as a whole. In addition to the USCCR, there are 9 other national associations authorized as a whole to each appoint two members to the EAC's 37-member BOA and section 214(b) requires that those appointments also be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

A letter sent to the Chair of the USCCR from the EAC on February 22, 2019 (attached) advised the Chair that it was time for the USCCR to "reappoint" its "designated representatives" to the BOA under Section 214(a) and stated that if no new designees were appointed, then the existing representatives would continue to serve and be automatically reappointed. The letter then asked the Chair to send in a "Notice of Representation" form by March 15, 2019 – which was less than 3 weeks later and thus provided little time for the USCCR as a whole to approve any designees. No mention is made in the EAC's letter that the appointment power under Section 214 is provided to the USCCR as a whole, and that it is not a power delegated to the USCCR Chair alone. The EAC letter to the USCCR Chair also failed to mention that Section 214(b) requires appointments made to the Board of Advisors be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

Put simply, there are significant doubts that this "appointment" was actually an appointment that followed our Commission's regular procedures for making an appointment.

In light of the unbalanced partisan way (both being of the same party) in which the current USCCR appointments were made to the BOA, we would like to know what steps, if any, the EAC takes to enforce the statutory requirements under Section 214 regarding its Board of Advisors as follows:

a) that each of the national entities allowed to appoint members to the BOA (including the USCCR) actually approves the appointment of their representatives to the BOA as a whole – and that the nominal head of each entity does not make the appointments unilaterally on their own authority; and

b) that the appointments from each national entity are made in a manner that "ensures" the BOA will be "bipartisan in nature."

Dear Chairman Hovland and Vice Chairman Palmer:

We write as four members of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, and not on behalf of the Commission as a whole, regarding enforcement of the legal requirements in EAC's authorizing statutes for making appointments to the EAC's Board of Advisors.

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 2091 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards to provide advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. In Section 214(a), the United States Commission for Civil Rights (USCCR) as a whole is authorized to appoint two members of the EAC's 37-member Board of Advisors (BOA). Section 214(b) requires that "appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." [emphasis added].

In reviewing the USCCR's current appointees to the BOA, we note that both appointees are members of the same party -- and thus are not bipartisan as required by Section 214(b) -- and that the appointments were evidently made by the Chair of the USCCR unilaterally without approval of the USCCR as a whole. In addition to the USCCR, there are 9 other national associations authorized as a whole to each appoint two members to the EAC's 37-member BOA and section 214(b) requires that those appointments also be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

A letter sent to the Chair of the USCCR from the EAC on February 22, 2019 (attached) advised the Chair that it was time for the USCCR to "reappoint" its "designated representatives" to the BOA under Section 214(a) and stated that if no new designees were appointed, then the existing representatives would continue to serve and be automatically reappointed. The letter then asked the Chair to send in a "Notice of Representation" form by March 15, 2019 – which was less than 3 weeks later and thus provided little time for the USCCR as a whole to approve any designees. No mention is made in the EAC's letter that the appointment power under Section 214 is provided to the USCCR as a whole, and that it is not a power delegated to the USCCR Chair alone. The EAC letter to the USCCR Chair also failed to mention that Section 214(b) requires appointments made to the Board of Advisors be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Put simply, there are significant doubts that this "appointment" was actually an appointment that followed our Commission's regular procedures for making an appointment.

In light of the unbalanced partisan way (both being of the same party) in which the current USCCR appointments were made to the BOA, we would like to know what steps, if any, the EAC takes to enforce the statutory requirements under Section 214 regarding its Board of Advisors as follows:

a) that each of the national entities allowed to appoint members to the BOA (including the USCCR) actually approves the appointment of their representatives to the BOA as a whole – and that the nominal head of each entity does not make the appointments unilaterally on their own authority; and

b) that the appointments from each national entity are made in a manner that "ensures" the BOA will be "bipartisan in nature."

Dear Chairman Hovland and Vice Chairman Palmer:

We write as four members of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, and not on behalf of the Commission as a whole, regarding enforcement of the legal requirements in EAC's authorizing statutes for making appointments to the EAC's Board of Advisors.

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 2091 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards to provide advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. In Section 214(a), the United States Commission for Civil Rights (USCCR) as a whole is authorized to appoint two members of the EAC's 37-member Board of Advisors (BOA). Section 214(b) requires that "appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." [emphasis added].

In reviewing the USCCR's current appointees to the BOA, we note that both appointees are members of the same party -- and thus are not bipartisan as required by Section 214(b) -- and that the appointments were evidently made by the Chair of the USCCR unilaterally without approval of the USCCR as a whole. In addition to the USCCR, there are 9 other national associations authorized as a whole to each appoint two members to the EAC's 37-member BOA and section 214(b) requires that those appointments also be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

A letter sent to the Chair of the USCCR from the EAC on February 22, 2019 (attached) advised the Chair that it was time for the USCCR to "reappoint" its "designated representatives" to the BOA under Section 214(a) and stated that if no new designees were appointed, then the existing representatives would continue to serve and be automatically reappointed. The letter then asked the Chair to send in a "Notice of Representation" form by March 15, 2019 – which was less than 3 weeks later and thus provided little time for the USCCR as a whole to approve any designees. No mention is made in the EAC's letter that the appointment power under Section 214 is provided to the USCCR as a whole, and that it is not a power delegated to the USCCR Chair alone. The EAC letter to the USCCR Chair also failed to mention that Section 214(b) requires appointments made to the Board of Advisors be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

Re: U.S. Election Assistance Commission
Board of Advisors Membership Appointment

Dear Ms. Lhamon:

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 20901 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards[15] to assist the EAC with the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. The Advisory Boards are primarily charged with providing advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of the Voluntary Voting System Guidelines.

The membership of the respective Advisory Boards is set forth in Section 213, 214 and 221[16]. Under Section 214, your organization is authorized to appoint two members to the Board of Advisors.

Please be advised that it is time to reappoint your designated representatives to the Board of Advisors. If you do not appoint someone new, your existing representatives will continue to serve and be reappointed.

Your current representatives are:

Patricia Timmons-Goodson
Michael Yaki

Each member representative serves for a period of two years unless replaced and may be reappointed if no replacement is named. The term of your member representatives will renew on April 13, 2019 with the renewal of the Advisory Board's Charter.

---

[15] Standards Board and Board of Advisors created in Section 211; and the Technical Guidelines Development Committee created in Section 221.
[16] 52 USC 20943, 52 USC 20944 and 52 USC 20961

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This year we anticipate having important discussions about voting system guidelines development, election systems as part of the nation's critical infrastructure and cyber security. Therefore, your prompt response to this letter is greatly appreciated.

Please use the enclosed Notice of Representation form to advise us of the designated representative to serve on the EAC Board of Advisors. Please return your Notice of Representation no later than March 15, 2019, as the Board will hold its annual meeting during the week of April 22, 2019.

Please return the completed form via facsimile to (301) 734-3108, Attn: Brian Newby, by email to Bnewby@eac.gov or by mail to:

When I spoke to Maureen about this stuff in September, she said that she had not been asked about the 2019 appointments to the EAC, but that she thought that they required the Commission as a whole to appoint.

Other than my notes from my phone call with her, I don't have this documented anywhere else.

The letter doesn't mention this. I think you all decided specifically to not call out Catherine here. I don't remember why.

1331 PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE , NW, WASHINGTON, DC 20425

December 2, 2020

Chair Benjamin Hovland
Vice Chair Donald Palmer
U.S. Election Assistance Commission
633 3rd Street NW, Suite 200
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Hovland and Vice Chairman Palmer:

We write as four members of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, and not on behalf of the Commission as a whole, regarding enforcement of the legal requirements in EAC's authorizing statutes for making appointments to the EAC's Board of Advisors.

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 2091 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards to provide advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. In Section 214(a), the United States Commission for Civil Rights (USCCR) as a whole is authorized to appoint two members of the EAC's 37-member Board of Advisors (BOA). Section 214(b) requires that "appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." [emphasis added].

In reviewing the USCCR's current appointees to the BOA, we note that both appointees are members of the same party -- and thus are not bipartisan as required by Section 214(b) -- and that the appointments were evidently made by the Chair of the USCCR unilaterally without approval of the USCCR as a whole. In addition to the USCCR, there are 9 other national associations authorized as a whole to each appoint two members to the EAC's 37-member BOA and section 214(b) requires that those appointments also be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

A letter sent to the Chair of the USCCR from the EAC on February 22, 2019 (attached) advised the Chair that it was time for the USCCR to "reappoint" its "designated representatives" to the BOA under Section 214(a) and stated that if no new designees were appointed, then the existing representatives would continue to serve and be automatically reappointed. The letter then asked the Chair to send in a "Notice of Representation" form by March 15, 2019 – which was less than 3 weeks later and thus provided little time for the USCCR as a whole to approve any designees. No mention is made in the EAC's letter that the appointment power under Section 214 is provided to the USCCR as a whole, and that it is not a power delegated to the USCCR Chair alone. The EAC letter to the USCCR Chair also failed to mention that Section 214(b) requires appointments made to the Board of Advisors be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1331 PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE , NW, WASHINGTON, DC 20425
www.usccr.gov

Put simply, there are significant doubts that this "appointment" was actually an appointment that followed our Commission's regular procedures for making an appointment.

In light of the unbalanced partisan way (both being of the same party) in which the current USCCR appointments were made to the BOA, we would like to know what steps, if any, the EAC takes to enforce the statutory requirements under Section 214 regarding its Board of Advisors as follows:

a) that each of the national entities allowed to appoint members to the BOA (including the USCCR) actually approves the appointment of their representatives to the BOA as a whole – and that the nominal head of each entity does not make the appointments unilaterally on their own authority; and

b) that the appointments from each national entity are made in a manner that "ensures" the BOA will be "bipartisan in nature."

And add an AI that all appointments that the USCCR is statutorily authorized make to advisory Boards, Cmtees, etc. for other agencies must be approved by a majority vote of the Cmnrs, and not just unilaterally appointed by the USCCR Chair.

(e.g. Election Assistance Cmn for which the Chair appointed 2 Dems from the USCCR to EAC's Board of Advisors when the law called for political balance in appointments to the EAC's Advisory Board.

r possible conditions:

- All interviews conducted as part of Commission projects must be attended by two Commissioners (or their designees), representing both political parties.
- AI stipulating that the Staff Director has no authority over special assistants .
- AI stipulating that the Staff Director has no authority to call a meeting, and must publish the Sunshine Act notice if four commissioners direct him to do so.

Mauro's intransigence and the Dems' continued blocking of Scott Yenor and Patrick Mincey have me thinking about what Gail called "big asks" for whenever a new chair is appointed. I was also thinking about something Thomas said about the need to keep commissioners from blocking SAC appointees. A few ideas:

- A new AI that specifies that Commissioners appointed by Ds get to pick 7 SAC members for each SAC, and Commissioners appointed by Rs get to pick 7 SAC members for each SAC. The choices are not subject to review by the Staff Director or objection from the other caucus. Responsibility for choosing SAC members is shifted entirely to the Commissioners and away from career staff.

- Fire Mauro - no agreement on new staff director.

Subject : [EXTERNAL] BOA 2021 Annual Meeting - Dates and notice rqmts?

CAUTION: This email is from outside USCCR.

Hi, all. Regarding the BOA annual meeting which usually takes place mid to late April: For purposes of notice and Federal Register deadlines, might we now consider potential dates to be in compliance? The interim meeting of March 31st is on the heels of mid to late April.

Please let me know what dates for April (or May) are being considered so I may send a SAVE THE DATE for the BOA Annual Meeting. My understanding is Mona and Kristin will require coordination with Commissioners and the EAC event calendar for the 2021 BOA Annual meeting date. Thank you, all.

The 60-day notice requirement passed yesterday for the BOA meeting to occur March 31. I got the notice periods mixed up with the 45-day notice to submit bylaws changes to the DFO. Apologies.

Bert sent an email to the Board members last week with the original date of March 31. Should we now push this back one week to April 7? I can draft the Fed. Reg. notice today.

Thanks.

Tom

Is the VVSG vote scheduled for February 10th?

A number of members of the Board of Advisors, as well as NGO's, have been communicating with me about the VVSG's allowing voting machines with modems so long as they're turned off. We both know that there are physical and cyber methods that could activate modems – how difficult would it be for the companies to simply require their removal or better, assembly without?

I thought during our quarterly call that the BOA would be notified of the meeting?

Finally, on our last pre-call before the quarterly I suggested a telephonic meeting in late March prior to our annual meeting to take care of some business prior to our annual meeting. I think we need to agree on a date and get that out this week.

UNITED STATES COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS

December 10, 2020

Chair Benjamin Hovland
Vice Chair Donald Palmer
U.S. Election Assistance Commission
633 3rd Street NW, Suite 200
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Hovland and Vice Chairman Palmer:

We write as four members of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, and not on behalf of the Commission as a whole, regarding enforcement of the legal requirements in EAC's authorizing statutes for making appointments to the EAC's Board of Advisors.

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 2091 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards to provide advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. In Section 214(a), the United States Commission for Civil Rights (USCCR) as a whole is authorized to appoint two members of the EAC's 37-member Board of Advisors (BOA). Section 214(b) requires that "appointments shall be made to the Board of Advisors under subsection (a) in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." [emphasis added].

In reviewing the USCCR's current appointees to the BOA, we note that both appointees are members of the same party -- and thus are not bipartisan as required by Section 214(b) -- and that the appointments were evidently made by the Chair of the USCCR unilaterally without approval of the USCCR as a whole. In addition to the USCCR, there are 9 other national associations authorized as a whole to each appoint two members to the EAC's 37-member BOA and section 214(b) requires that those appointments also be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

A letter sent to the Chair of the USCCR from the EAC on February 22, 2019 (attached) advised the Chair that it was time for the USCCR to "reappoint" its "designated representatives" to the BOA under Section 214(a) and stated that if no new designees were appointed, then the existing representatives would continue to serve and be automatically reappointed. The letter then asked the Chair to send in a "Notice of Representation" form by March 15, 2019 – which was less than 3 weeks later and thus provided little time for the USCCR as a whole to approve any designees. No mention is made in the EAC's letter that the appointment power under Section 214 is provided to the USCCR as a whole, and that it is not a power delegated to the USCCR Chair alone. The EAC letter to the USCCR Chair also failed to mention that Section 214(b) requires appointments made to the Board of Advisors be done "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature …"

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Put simply, there are significant doubts that this "appointment" was actually an appointment that followed our Commission's regular procedures for making an appointment.

In light of the unbalanced partisan way (both being of the same party) in which the current USCCR appointments were made to the BOA, we would like to know what steps, if any, the EAC takes to enforce the statutory requirements under Section 214 regarding its Board of Advisors as follows:

a) that each of the national entities allowed to appoint members to the BOA (including the USCCR) actually approves the appointment of their representatives to the BOA as a whole – and that the nominal head of each entity does not make the appointments unilaterally on their own authority; and

b) that the appointments from each national entity are made in a manner that "ensures" the BOA will be "bipartisan in nature."

Re: U.S. Election Assistance Commission
Board of Advisors Membership Appointment

Dear Ms. Lhamon:

As you know, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), 52 U.S.C. 20901 et seq., created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three Advisory Boards[15] to assist the EAC with the development of Voluntary Voting System Guidelines. The Advisory Boards are primarily charged with providing advice, guidance and support to the EAC on the development of the Voluntary Voting System Guidelines.

The membership of the respective Advisory Boards is set forth in Section 213, 214 and 221[16]. Under Section 214, your organization is authorized to appoint two members to the Board of Advisors.

Please be advised that it is time to reappoint your designated representatives to the Board of Advisors. If you do not appoint someone new, your existing representatives will continue to serve and be reappointed.

Your current representatives are:

Patricia Timmons-Goodson
Michael Yaki

Each member representative serves for a period of two years unless replaced and may be reappointed if no replacement is named. The term of your member representatives will renew on April 13, 2019 with the renewal of the Advisory Board's Charter.

[15] Standards Board and Board of Advisors created in Section 211; and the Technical Guidelines Development Committee created in Section 221.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

This year we anticipate having important discussions about voting system guidelines development, election systems as part of the nation's critical infrastructure and cyber security. Therefore, your prompt response to this letter is greatly appreciated.

Please use the enclosed Notice of Representation form to advise us of the designated representative to serve on the EAC Board of Advisors. Please return your Notice of Representation no later than March 15, 2019, as the Board will hold its annual meeting during the week of April 22, 2019.

Please return the completed form via facsimile to (301) 734-3108, Attn: Brian Newby, by email to Bnewby@eac.gov or by mail to:

Kevin,

Thank you for our phone call last week about the letter you received from Commissioners, Adams, Heriot, Kirsanow and Gilchrist.

I wish you advise you that should ignore the letter and not respond in any manner. The use of Commission letterhead and office titles in communication is entirely inappropriate and unauthorized. These Commissioners are aware of the prohibition of using official letterhead and have been admonished about its use on several occasions.

Per our Administrative Instruction AI-9, only the Chair and Staff Director are the official spokespersons of the Commission. Letters submitted to anyone or any organization that have not been presented to the Commission for a vote and passed, do not represent the official position of the Commission and therefore are not permitted to be sent on Commission letterhead. The use of Commission letterhead to express personal opinions of Commissioners creates confusion as to the Commission's official position. Because the Commission's mission is to inform the President, Congress, and the public on the development of national civil rights policy, it is imperative that our constituents and stakeholders know where we stand on those issues. Commissioners, through improper use of the Commission's letterhead, erode constituent and stakeholder trust in our organization and create confusion as to our official position.

From an ethics standpoint, the unauthorized use of Commission letterhead is a violation of the Standards of Ethical Conduct for Employees in the Executive Branch (which apply to Special Government Employees). Specifically, unauthorized use of Commission letterhead violates 5 C.F.R. § 2635.702(b), Appearance of Governmental Sanction, and 5 C.F.R. § 2635.704, Use of Government Property. Congress and oversight agencies have repeatedly reprimanded the Commission on Commissioner's misuse of letterhead. The Senate, in its 2015 report of the Commission's authorization bill, instructed Commissioners not to use official letterhead when communicating their personal opinion. See S. Rep. No. 114-66 (June 16, 2015). Additionally, both the Government Accountability Office and the Office of Government Ethics have previously commented on the misuse of title by members of the Commission. See GAO Report 15-92, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, Management Improvements Are Needed to Better Achieve Its Mission (February 2015) at 19-23 (discussing that the misuse of letterhead by individual Commissioners has confused external organizations and jeopardized the Commission's effectiveness); see also Office of Government Ethics Report No. 15-04, Ethics Program Review, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights (November 2014) at 17-18 (noting that a "Commissioner cannot use his/her official title, the agency seal, agency letterhead or otherwise leave a third party to think that the speaking or writing has the sanction of the Commission.").

The letter you received should be treated as though it was sent in the personal capacity of the public. It carries no significance whatsoever for Commission communication.

If you any additional have questions about the letter you received please contact or our senior attorney advisor Ms. Pilar Velasquez-McLaughlin. Thank you.

> CAUTION: This email is from outside USCCR.

I just talked to Cantu for an hour. Key takeaways

1. I told her she HAD to get up with Pete regarding details.
2. I gave her a heads up that there was a chance she would NOT have a quorum on Friday pending resolution of big issues. She should not be blindsided in my view. I put down the threat of a withheld quorum in order to remind her it was possible and that we needed to resolve things.
3. She said something that indicated to me that Yaki and Debo or someone else (Mauro?) are agitating to have Stephen and I removed by the President. I cannot recall her exact words, but it was along the lines "I tell people that the people we got are the people we got. President Reagan tried to remove commissioners and he got sued and lost for removing them." She would NOT HAVE BROUGHT THIS up unless that chatter is occurring somewhere. And after all, ask Roger Severino if the Biden people are thinking like this. Bottom Line: some members of the Commission may be thinking they can improve their bargaining position by altering the composition of the commission and getting rid of two of us. Whether or not they are correct is irrelevant to Yaki or Debo's potential perception of this option.
4. I repeatedly told her - "You need to get with Pete on that; he knows more about that than me." Among the topics falling under this category were EAC appointments, SAC issues, and all manner of administrative issues.
5. I made it plain to her we could stop the business of the commission if we were not treated fairly, and fairness is all we want.

See, actually think they are genius. Removing me or Stephen would seize the initiative and force an expensive, slow, litigious reaction. In the meantime, thier base would cheer, nobody in the middle would care or know, and cowards on the right will do nothing to help. They would also have the votes they need to move whatever they want. It comes with no cost to them to have a 4-2 commission.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I just talked to Cantu for an hour. Key takeaways

1. I told her she HAD to get up with Pete regarding details.
2. I gave her a heads up that there was a chance she would NOT have a quorum on Friday pending resolution of big issues. She should not be blindsided in my view. I put down the threat of a withheld quorum in order to remind her it was possible and that we needed to resolve things.
3. She said something that indicated to me that Yaki and Debo or someone else (Mauro?) are agitating to have Stephen and I removed by the President. I cannot recall her exact words, but it was along the lines "I tell people that the people we got are the people we got. President Reagan tried to remove commissioners and he got sued and lost for removing them." She would NOT HAVE BROUGHT THIS up unless that chatter is occurring somewhere. And after all, ask Roger Severino if the Biden people are thinking like this. Bottom Line: some members of the Commission may be thinking they can improve their bargaining position by altering the composition of the commission and getting rid of two of us. Whether or not they are correct is irrelevant to Yaki or Debo's potential perception of this option.
4. I repeatedly told her - "You need to get with Pete on that; he knows more about that than me." Among the topics falling under this category were EAC appointments, SAC issues, and all manner of administrative issues.
5. I made it plain to her we could stop the business of the commission if we were not treated fairly, and fairness is all we want.

Thier argument: Neglect of duty will include withholding a quorum [or any other nitpicking failure]

Mark my words, it is a smart play to find a reason to be rid of one of us.

Quick wiki excerpt:

> In 1983, Reagan attempted to fire three members of the commission. They sued the administration in federal court to stay on. The authorizing legislation stated that a president could only fire a commissioner for "misbehavior in office," and it was clear that the terminations were the result of disagreements over policy. A compromise brokered in the Senate resulted in the current hybrid group of eight, half appointed by the president and half by the Congress, with six-year terms that do not expire with the inauguration of a new president. Since that time the commission has struggled to remain independent, and its agenda has oscillated between liberal and conservative aims as factions among its members have ebbed and waned.[10]

The articles I read and the one I sent the link to all said that the statute — prior to the compromise Reagan signed reauthorizing the USCCR in 1984 - said that commissioners “served at the pleasure of the President.” The new statute signed by Reagan changed that to the Statutory text I sent previously.

1. I told her she HAD to get up with Pete regarding details.
2. I gave her a heads up that there was a chance she would NOT have a quorum on Friday pending resolution of big issues. She should not be blindsided in my view. I put down the threat of a withheld quorum in order to remind her it was possible and that we needed to resolve things.
3. She said something that indicated to me that Yaki and Debo or someone else (Mauro?) are agitating to have Stephen and I removed by the President. I cannot recall her exact words, but it was along the lines "I tell people that the people we got are the people we got. President Reagan tried to remove commissioners and he got sued and lost for removing them." She would NOT HAVE BROUGHT THIS up unless that chatter is occurring somewhere. And after all, ask Roger Severino if the Biden people are thinking like this. That's the statute that was passed in the 1980s as a result of the kerfuffle that was created when Reagan removed members. That law replaced the 1957 Act's provisions on the USCCR. I think that legally Reagan was clearly in the right when he acted. Members served at his pleasure, and as he put it, "She [Mary Frances Berry] wasn't giving me pleasure." Under the law that applies now, he would have been clearly in the wrong. That's why Congress changed it.

As for what applies to our situation, for Biden to be able to remove a Commissioner for not attending a meeting called by the Staff Director, I would think it would have to be true that the Staff Director has the authority to call a meeting. I don't see where that authority would come from.

The real politik is that it costs lots of money and time and grief to get an order saying so.

The smart play for them is to seize the initiative. It comes at no short term cost and maybe no long term either. In the meantime, they subjugate the remaining R commissioners.

To the best of my recollection, the original 1957 Act did not say anything about how a Commissioner could be removed. If that's not so, could someone point me to the section of the 1957 Act that says that? Alex?

The only thing that gives Mauro a leg to stand on is that the 26th was already on the Commission's calendar. At the time the Commission voted on the dates for the 2021 meetings, they didn't designate which were for briefings and which were for business meetings. But that also doesn't give him the authority to add a business meeting to a meeting date.

I think that legally Reagan was clearly in the right when he acted. Members served at his pleasure, and as he put it, "She [Mary Frances Berry] wasn't giving me pleasure." Under the law that applies now, he would have been clearly in the wrong. That's why Congress changed it.

The articles I read and the one I sent the link to all said that the statute — prior to the compromise Reagan signed reauthorizing the USCCR in 1984 - said that commissioners "served at the pleasure of the President." The new statute signed by Reagan changed that to the Statutory text I sent previously.

The only thing that gives Mauro a leg to stand on is that the 26th was already on the Commission's calendar. At the time the Commission voted on the dates for the 2021 meetings, they didn't designate which were for briefings and which were for business meetings. But that also doesn't give him the authority to add a business meeting to a meeting date.

Under the law that applies now, he would have been clearly in the wrong. That's why Congress changed it.

The articles I read and the one I sent the link to all said that the statute — prior to the compromise Reagan signed reauthorizing the USCCR in 1984 - said that commissioners "served at the pleasure of the President." The new statute signed by Reagan changed that to the Statutory text I sent previously.

To the best of my recollection, the original 1957 Act did not say anything about how a Commissioner could be removed. If that's not so, could someone point me to the section of the 1957 Act that says that? Alex?

Public Law 85-315

September 9, 1957
[H. R. 6127]

AN ACT

To provide means of further securing and protecting the civil rights of persons within the jurisdiction of the United States.

Civil Rights Act of 1957.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

PART I—ESTABLISHMENT OF THE COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS

SEC. 101. (a) There is created in the executive branch of the Government a Commission on Civil Rights (hereinafter called the "Commission").

(b) The Commission shall be composed of six members who shall be appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Not more than three of the members shall at any one time be of the same political party.

(c) The President shall designate one of the members of the Commission as Chairman and one as Vice Chairman. The Vice Chairman shall act as Chairman in the absence or disability of the Chairman, or in the event of a vacancy in that office.

(d) Any vacancy in the Commission shall not affect its powers and shall be filled in the same manner, and subject to the same limitation with respect to party affiliations as the original appointment was made.

(e) Four members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum.

RULES OF PROCEDURE OF THE COMMISSION

SEC. 102. (a) The Chairman or one designated by him to act as Chairman at a hearing of the Commission shall announce in an opening statement the subject of the hearing.

(b) A copy of the Commission's rules shall be made available to the witness before the Commission.

(c) Witnesses at the hearings may be accompanied by their own counsel for the purpose of advising them concerning their constitutional rights.

(d) The Chairman or Acting Chairman may punish breaches of order and decorum and unprofessional ethics on the part of counsel, by censure and exclusion from the hearings.

(e) If the Commission determines that evidence or testimony at any hearing may tend to defame, degrade, or incriminate any person, it shall (1) receive such evidence or testimony in executive session; (2) afford such person an opportunity voluntarily to appear as a witness; and (3) receive and dispose of requests from such person to subpena additional witnesses.

(f) Except as provided in sections 102 and 105 (f) of this Act, the Chairman shall receive and the Commission shall dispose of requests to subpena additional witnesses.

Evidence or testimony. Release.

(g) No evidence or testimony taken in executive session may be released or used in public sessions without the consent of the Commission. Whoever releases or uses in public without the consent of the Commission evidence or testimony taken in executive session shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned for not more than one year.

(h) In the discretion of the Commission, witnesses may submit brief and pertinent sworn statements in writing for inclusion in the record. The Commission is the sole judge of the pertinency of testimony and evidence adduced at its hearings.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
AUTHENTICATED U.S. GOVERNMENT INFORMATION GPO
USCCR-21-1814-A-003687

(i) Upon payment of the cost thereof, a witness may obtain a transcript copy of his testimony given at a public session or, if given at an executive session, when authorized by the Commission.

Witness fees.

(j) A witness attending any session of the Commission shall receive $4 for each day's attendance and for the time necessarily occupied in going to and returning from the same, and 8 cents per mile for going from and returning to his place of residence. Witnesses who attend at points so far removed from their respective residences as to prohibit return thereto from day to day shall be entitled to an additional allowance of $12 per day for expenses of subsistence, including the time necessarily occupied in going to and returning from the place of attendance. Mileage payments shall be tendered to the witness upon service of a subpena issued on behalf of the Commission or any subcommittee thereof.

(k) The Commission shall not issue any subpena for the attendance and testimony of witnesses or for the production of written or other matter which would require the presence of the party subpenaed at a hearing to be held outside of the State, wherein the witness is found or resides or transacts business.

COMPENSATION OF MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION

SEC. 103. (a) Each member of the Commission who is not otherwise in the service of the Government of the United States shall receive the sum of $50 per day for each day spent in the work of the Commission, shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary travel expenses, and shall receive a per diem allowance of $12 in lieu of actual expenses for subsistence when away from his usual place of residence, inclusive of fees or tips to porters and stewards.

(b) Each member of the Commission who is otherwise in the service of the Government of the United States shall serve without compensation in addition to that received for such other service, but while engaged in the work of the Commission shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary travel expenses, and shall receive a per diem allowance of $12 in lieu of actual expenses for subsistence when away from his usual place of residence, inclusive of fees or tips to porters and stewards.

DUTIES OF THE COMMISSION

SEC. 104. (a) The Commission shall—

(1) investigate allegations in writing under oath or affirmation that certain citizens of the United States are being deprived of their right to vote and have that vote counted by reason of their color, race, religion, or national origin; which writing, under oath or affirmation, shall set forth the facts upon which such belief or beliefs are based;

(2) study and collect information concerning legal developments constituting a denial of equal protection of the laws under the Constitution; and

(3) appraise the laws and policies of the Federal Government with respect to equal protection of the laws under the Constitution.

Reports to President and Congress.

(b) The Commission shall submit interim reports to the President and to the Congress at such times as either the Commission or the President shall deem desirable, and shall submit to the President and to the Congress a final and comprehensive report of its activities, findings, and recommendations not later than two years from the date of the enactment of this Act.

Termination of Commission.

(c) Sixty days after the submission of its final report and recommendations the Commission shall cease to exist.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

POWERS OF THE COMMISSION

Staff director.

SEC. 105. (a) There shall be a full-time staff director for the Commission who shall be appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and who shall receive compensation at a rate, to be fixed by the President, not in excess of $22,500 a year. The President shall consult with the Commission before submitting the nomination of any person for appointment to the position of staff director. Within the limitations of its appropriations, the Commission may appoint such other personnel as it deems advisable, in accordance with the civil service and classification laws, and may procure services as authorized by section 15 of the Act of August 2, 1946 (60 Stat. 810; 5 U. S. C. 55a), but at rates for individuals not in excess of $50 per diem.

(b) The Commission shall not accept or utilize services of voluntary or uncompensated personnel, and the term "whoever" as used in paragraph (g) of section 102 hereof shall be construed to mean a person whose services are compensated by the United States.

(c) The Commission may constitute such advisory committees within States composed of citizens of that State and may consult with governors, attorneys general, and other representatives of State and local governments, and private organizations, as it deems advisable.

(d) Members of the Commission, and members of advisory committees constituted pursuant to subsection (c) of this section, shall be exempt from the operation of sections 281, 283, 284, 434, and 1914 of title 18 of the United States Code, and section 190 of the Revised Statutes (5 U. S. C. 99).

62 Stat. 697 et seq.

(e) All Federal agencies shall cooperate fully with the Commission to the end that it may effectively carry out its functions and duties.

Hearings, etc.

(f) The Commission, or on the authorization of the Commission any subcommittee of two or more members, at least one of whom shall be of each major political party, may, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this Act, hold such hearings and act at such times and places as the Commission or such authorized subcommittee may deem advisable.

Subpenas.

Subpenas for the attendance and testimony of witnesses or the production of written or other matter may be issued in accordance with the rules of the Commission as contained in section 102 (j) and (k) of this Act, over the signature of the Chairman of the Commission or of such subcommittee, and may be served by any person designated by such Chairman.

(g) In case of contumacy or refusal to obey a subpena, any district court of the United States or the United States court of any Territory or possession, or the District Court of the United States for the District of Columbia, within the jurisdiction of which the inquiry is carried on or within the jurisdiction of which said person guilty of contumacy or refusal to obey is found or resides or transacts business, upon application by the Attorney General of the United States shall have jurisdiction to issue to such person an order requiring such person to appear before the Commission or a subcommittee thereof, there to produce evidence if so ordered, or there to give testimony touching the matter under investigation; and any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by said court as a contempt thereof.

APPROPRIATIONS

SEC. 106. There is hereby authorized to be appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, so much as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act.

PART II—TO PROVIDE FOR AN ADDITIONAL ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL

SEC. 111. There shall be in the Department of Justice one additional Assistant Attorney General, who shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, who shall assist the Attorney General in the performance of his duties, and who shall receive compensation at the rate prescribed by law for other Assistant Attorneys General.

PART III—TO STRENGTHEN THE CIVIL RIGHTS STATUTES, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES

SEC. 121. Section 1343 of title 28, United States Code, is amended as follows: 62 Stat. 932.

(a) Amend the catch line of said section to read,

"§ 1343. Civil rights and elective franchise"

(b) Delete the period at the end of paragraph (3) and insert in lieu thereof a semicolon.

(c) Add a paragraph as follows:

"(4) To recover damages or to secure equitable or other relief under any Act of Congress providing for the protection of civil rights, including the right to vote."

(c) Add, immediately following the present text, four new subsections to read as follows:

"(b) No person, whether acting under color of law or otherwise, shall intimidate, threaten, coerce, or attempt to intimidate, threaten, or coerce any other person for the purpose of interfering with the right of such other person to vote or to vote as he may choose, or of causing such other person to vote for, or not to vote for, any candidate for the office of President, Vice President, presidential elector, Member of the Senate, or Member of the House of Representatives, Delegates or Commissioners from the Territories or possessions, at any general, special, or primary election held solely or in part for the purpose of selecting or electing any such candidate.

"(c) Whenever any person has engaged or there are reasonable grounds to believe that any person is about to engage in any act or practice which would deprive any other person of any right or privilege secured by subsection (a) or (b), the Attorney General may institute for the United States, or in the name of the United States, a civil action or other proper proceeding for preventive relief, including an application for a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or other order. In any proceeding hereunder the United States shall be liable for costs the same as a private person.

"(d) The district courts of the United States shall have jurisdiction of proceedings instituted pursuant to this section and shall exercise the same without regard to whether the party aggrieved shall have exhausted any administrative or other remedies that may be provided by law.

"(e) Any person cited for an alleged contempt under this Act shall be allowed to make his full defense by counsel learned in the law; and the court before which he is cited or tried, or some judge thereof, shall immediately, upon his request, assign to him such counsel, not exceeding two, as he may desire, who shall have free access to him at all reasonable hours. He shall be allowed, in his defense to make any proof that he can produce by lawful witnesses, and shall have the like process of the court to compel his witnesses to appear at his trial or hearing, as is usually granted to compel witnesses to appear on behalf of the prosecution. If such person shall be found by the court to be financially unable to provide for such counsel, it shall be the duty of the court to provide such counsel."

PART V—TO PROVIDE TRIAL BY JURY FOR PROCEEDINGS TO PUNISH CRIMINAL CONTEMPTS OF COURT GROWING OUT OF CIVIL RIGHTS CASES AND TO AMEND THE JUDICIAL CODE RELATING TO FEDERAL JURY QUALIFICATIONS

Criminal contempt. Penalties.

SEC. 151. In all cases of criminal contempt arising under the provisions of this Act, the accused, upon conviction, shall be punished by fine or imprisonment or both: Provided however, That in case the accused is a natural person the fine to be paid shall not exceed the sum of $1,000, nor shall imprisonment exceed the term of six months: Provided further, That in any such proceeding for criminal contempt, at the discretion of the judge, the accused may be tried with or without a jury: Provided further, however, That in the event such proceeding for criminal contempt be tried before a judge without a jury and the sentence of the court upon conviction is a fine in excess of the sum of $300 or imprisonment in excess of forty-five days, the accused in said proceeding, upon demand therefor, shall be entitled to a trial de novo before a jury, which shall conform as near as may be to the practice in other criminal cases.

Nonapplicability.

This section shall not apply to contempts committed in the presence of the court or so near thereto as to interfere directly with the administration of justice nor to the misbehavior, misconduct, or disobedience, of any officer of the court in respect to the writs, orders, or process of the court.

Nor shall anything herein or in any other provision of law be construed to deprive courts of their power, by civil contempt proceedings, without a jury, to secure compliance with or to prevent obstruction of, as distinguished from punishment for violations of, any lawful writ, process, order, rule, decree, or command of the court in accordance with the prevailing usages of law and equity, including the power of detention.

62 Stat. 951.

SEC. 152. Section 1861, title 28, of the United States Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

"§ 1861. Qualifications of Federal jurors

"Any citizen of the United States who has attained the age of twenty-one years and who has resided for a period of one year within the judicial district, is competent to serve as a grand or petit juror unless—

"(1) He has been convicted in a State or Federal court of record of a crime punishable by imprisonment for more than one year and his civil rights have not been restored by pardon or amnesty.

"(2) He is unable to read, write, speak, and understand the English language.

"(3) He is incapable, by reason of mental or physical infirmities to render efficient jury service."

March 1, 2021

The Honorable Norma Cantú~~,~~
United States Commission on Civil Rights
1331 Pennsylvania Avenue NW
Washington, DC 20425

Dear Commissioner Cantú:

We write today to detail our concerns with Staff Director Mauro Morales's recent actions and to ensure that you understand why we were compelled not to attend Friday's briefing. We understand that you are new to the Commission and unfamiliar with its procedures and traditions. It's important that we be clear.

The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ began his unlawful actions on January 21, 2021, when he refused to honor our directive to him to reinstate the January 29 business meeting, which the Commission had voted to hold.[1] That meeting had been cancelled ~~(~~contrary to our rules~~)~~ by our former chairperson, Catherine Lhamon, as her last act prior to resigning on January 20.[2] The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ attempted to justify his refusal by stating that he "[found] ~~former Chairperson Lhamon's~~her decision to postpone the January 29 meeting as reasonable and appropriate."~~[3]~~[3] But that refusal was in contravention of our Administrative ~~Order~~ Instruction ("AI") 1-24(1), which provides:

> (1) If there is a vacancy in both the positions of Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson, the Commission may call a special meeting by majority vote pursuant to Regulations § 701.11(b).[4]

[2] Neither Chairperson Lhamon nor the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ had the authority to cancel a meeting that the Commission had voted to hold. See 45 C.F.R. § 701.11(d) (allowing for cancellation of meetings only after the chairperson ~~Chair~~ "determines that there are insufficient substantive items on a proposed meeting agenda" and after she has "consult[ed] with the members of the Commission and consider[ed] . . . the views of the members."). See also 45 C.F.R. § 701.12; 45 C.F.R. § 701.11(a). But there is no need to belabor this point ~~since~~ because it is very clear that a majority of the members of the Commission had the authority to require the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ to call a meeting when there is a vacancy in both the positions of c~~C~~hairperson and v~~V~~ice-c ~~C~~hairperson.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Note that AI 1-24(1) refers to "the Commission" "by majority vote" as the entity that can call a special meeting. The statute that constitutes the Commission tells us exactly what that means: "The Commission shall be composed of ~~eight~~ 8 members." ~~U.S.C. §~~ .[5] Significantly, it does not say that "the Commission shall be composed of ~~eight~~ 8 members and a staff director~~Staff Director~~," much less that it "shall be composed of ~~eight~~ 8 members under the leadership of ~~the~~ a staff director~~Staff Director~~." The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ directs the Commission's staff, not the Commission itself.[6] If leading the Commission were the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ job, his title would be "Commission Director."

It is also important to note that our statute assigns all responsibilities to the Commission. That's important to understanding how the Commission is designed by Congress to work. The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ is given no statutory authority at all (with the possible exception of the power to organize the work of the staff, assuming there is a staff, which arguably is inherent in the title). The power to undertake tasks must thus be delegated by the Commission to the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ (which the Commission has often done so through its Administrative Instructions).

But the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ may not arrogate power to himself that has not been delegated. AI 1-24(1) clearly states that when no c~~C~~hairperson or v~~V~~ice- c~~C~~hairperson exists, it is for the Commission to call a special meeting. There is no parallel provision that gives that same power to the staff director~~Staff Director~~. Nor do those rules give the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ the authority to ignore the Commission's call for such a meeting. On January 21, when the four of us made clear that we wished to reinstate the meeting that had been scheduled for January 29, we were the majority of the members of the Commission. It was up to the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ to execute that directive by posting a notice in the Federal Register. Yet the staff director continued to refuse~~d~~ to hold that meeting.[7]

Things got worse from there. After President Biden appointed you as a commissioner and nominated you to be our next chairperson, our staff director ~~Staff Director~~ arrogated to himself the power to call a special business meeting for February 26 (directly after our already-scheduled briefing on bail reform). This, again, is not his proper role. That authority belongs to the Commission itself. But that wasn't the worst of it. The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ then claimed the power to appoint the Acting c~~C~~hairperson of the Commission, pending your confirmation (which, for the record, we continue to believe can and should happen soon).

His claim was utter nonsense.[8] Our position ~~is~~ was and continues to be that the most senior member of the Commission (Kirsanow) should wield the gavel pending the election by the

[6] In this respect, the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ job can be analogized to the White House Chief of Staff or the Chief of Staff of a U.S. Senator. Both are important jobs, but the White House Chief of Staff directs the White House staff, not the President, just as a U.S. Senator's Chief of Staff directs the Senator's staff, not the Senator. The only difference is the Commission is a multi-member body. In that way a useful analogy might be made to the Clerk of the Court for the U.S. Supreme Court: The Justices do not work at his direction.

[8] Although the staff director failed to cite the authority on which he acted, you informed us that the staff director believes AI 1-6 provides that authority. It does not. Section 4.07 of AI 1-6 (entitled "National Project Development

Commission of an acting chairperson. Put only slightly differently, ~~Pete's~~ Kirsanow's job would be to convene the meeting at which ~~an~~ the Commission selects an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson ~~is selected~~. As you know from your discussions with two of us (Heriot and Kirsanow) via Zoom, we have always been flexible concerning the issue of who should be elected a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson pending your confirmation. But there are two things that we believed then and continue to believe are extremely important:

(1) The s~~S~~taff d~~D~~irector cannot be the one to designate the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. That task is for the Commission. AI 1-24 states in full:

> (1) If there is a vacancy in both the positions of Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson, the Commission may call a special meeting by majority vote pursuant to Regulations § 701.11(b).
> (2) There being no Chairperson or Vice-Chairperson, the Staff Director shall establish the agenda for this special meeting, whereby specific items may be added or deleted in accordance with Regulations § 701.11(c). However, the first item of business shall be the election of a designee of the functions of the Chairperson.

The Commission must call the meeting and elect the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. The staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ role is to undertake the ministerial tasks of noticing the meeting in the Federal Register and drawing up the agenda. He is not even permitted to put any business before that of electing an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson.

(2) The President's nominee cannot be the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. This is in keeping with federal practice. When the President's nominee to a Senate-confirmable office has not yet been confirmed, he or she cannot be "acting" in that position. The contrary practice would essentially eviscerate the Senate's role. If you're doing the job anyway, why bother to cooperate with the Senate in the confirmation process? Why bother to give Members of the Senate assurances that the job will be performed in keeping with federal law and policy when you've already got the authority of the office? The same logic applies here.

and Implementation"), provides, "All responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director. The Staff Director may delegate any of these responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." AI 1-6 § 4.07. There are many reasons this provision does apply to the appointment of an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. Most obviously, AI 1-24 explicitly delegates the designation of a commissioner to fill the functions of chairperson during a vacancy to "a majority of Commissioners," thereby negating any possible interpretation of AI 1-6 § 4.07 that would give this authority to the staff director~~Staff Director~~. Moreover, §4 is generally about how tasks are to be allocated among the various divisions of the Commission's staff—the O~~o~~ffice of the Staff Director (OSD), the Office of the General Counsel (OGC), the Office of Civil Rights Evaluation ("OCRE"), and the Office of Management (OM), etc. This is how the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ delegates responsibilities to the staff that have been delegated to him. But he cannot delegate responsibilities that were never delegated to him in the first place. That's why the section states that he "reserves" responsibilities that he has not otherwise delegated by him; the section is not itself a delegation of authority to him.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

We thought all this was obvious and appropriate, and for a while we thought you ~~understood and~~ agreed. To our astonishment, you ended up being willing to go along the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ arrogation of power.[9] Not only did you recognize his purported authority to designate the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson ~~(something we suspect you'll regret when you understand how the Commission works a little better)~~, but you also allowed him to designate you as a~~A~~cting chairperson~~Chair~~, knowing our reasonable objections to such a move.

As you will remember, we were very flexible as to how the Commission would select an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson for the February 26 bail reform hearing. We were willing to have our most senior member chair; we were willing to draw a Commissioner's name out of a hat; we were willing to split the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson's position between one Commissioner appointed by a Democrat and one Commission appointed by a Republican; we were willing to have Commissioner Kladney (who was appointed by a Democrat) serve as acting chairperson. All of these methods would have worked and ~~. Given a few more minutes of time to think about it,~~ we could have come up with even more alternatives.

Alas, the issue was resolved instead in a way that was contrary to our rules and (if we had acquiesced) would have set an extraordinarily bad precedent. We were baffled. Under the circumstances, we viewed it as necessary not to acquiesce. That is why we could not attend the briefing.

We don't blame you. We know that you are new at this. All institutions have their rules and traditions that outsiders are unfamiliar with. Soon enough you will be familiar with those that apply to the Commission. So, despite the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ continued unlawful actions, we remain confident that you can lead this Commission and that you can be confirmed as c~~C~~hairperson—soon. However, before we concur ~~her~~ your appointment as chairperson,[10] we still need an agreement on the record about the matters that we (~~Gail~~ Heriot and ~~Pete~~ Kirsanow) discussed with you earlier.

We understood from ~~Gail and Pete's~~ earlier discussions with you that (with the exception of the v~~V~~ice-c~~C~~hairmanship, which you felt you had no control over) that our proposals were fair and appropriate. All we are trying to do is ensure fairness and prevent the abuses that went on during Chairperson Lhamon's tenure.

We won't repeat those matters here. This letter is long enough as it is. But we did wish to mention one aspect of the matter that has been troubling us over the last couple of days.

One of our requests was that you follow that law when appointments are made. For example, the law gives the Commission (and not the chairperson ~~Chair~~ or the staff director~~Staff Director~~) the

The statute that constitutes the Commission tells us exactly what that means: "The Commission shall be composed of ~~eight~~ 8 members." ~~U.S.C. §~~ .[5] Significantly, it does not say that "the Commission shall be composed of ~~eight~~ 8 members and a staff director~~Staff Director~~," much less that it "shall be composed of ~~eight~~ 8 members under the leadership of ~~the~~ a staff director~~Staff Director~~." The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ directs the Commission's staff, not the Commission itself.[6] If leading the Commission were the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ job, his title would be "Commission Director."

It is also important to note that our statute assigns all responsibilities to the Commission. That's important to understanding how the Commission is designed by Congress to work. The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ is given no statutory authority at all (with the possible exception of the power to organize the work of the staff, assuming there is a staff, which arguably is inherent in the title). The power to undertake tasks must thus be delegated by the Commission to the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ (which the Commission has often done so through its Administrative Instructions).

But the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ may not arrogate power to himself that has not been delegated. AI 1-24(1) clearly states that when no c~~C~~hairperson or v~~V~~ice- c~~C~~hairperson exists, it is for the Commission to call a special meeting. There is no parallel provision that gives that same power to the staff director~~Staff Director~~. Nor do those rules give the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ the authority to ignore the Commission's call for such a meeting. On January 21, when the four of us made clear that we wished to reinstate the meeting that had been scheduled for January 29, we were the majority of the members of the Commission. It was up to the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ to execute that directive by posting a notice in the Federal Register. Yet the staff director continued to refuse~~d~~ to hold that meeting.[7]

Things got worse from there. After President Biden appointed you as a commissioner and nominated you to be our next chairperson, our staff director ~~Staff Director~~ arrogated to himself the power to call a special business meeting for February 26 (directly after our already-scheduled briefing on bail reform). This, again, is not his proper role. That authority belongs to the Commission itself. But that wasn't the worst of it. The staff director ~~Staff Director~~ then claimed the power to appoint the Acting c~~C~~hairperson of the Commission, pending your confirmation (which, for the record, we continue to believe can and should happen soon).

His claim was utter nonsense.[8] Our position ~~is~~ was and continues to be that the most senior member of the Commission (Kirsanow) should wield the gavel pending the election by the

[6] In this respect, the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ job can be analogized to the White House Chief of Staff or the Chief of Staff of a U.S. Senator. Both are important jobs, but the White House Chief of Staff directs the White House staff, not the President, just as a U.S. Senator's Chief of Staff directs the Senator's staff, not the Senator. The only difference is the Commission is a multi-member body. In that way a useful analogy might be made to the Clerk of the Court for the U.S. Supreme Court: The Justices do not work at his direction.

Commission of an acting chairperson. Put only slightly differently, ~~Pete's~~ Kirsanow's job would be to convene the meeting at which ~~an~~ the Commission selects an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson ~~is selected~~. As you know from your discussions with two of us (Heriot and Kirsanow) via Zoom, we have always been flexible concerning the issue of who should be elected a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson pending your confirmation. But there are two things that we believed then and continue to believe are extremely important:

(1) The s~~S~~taff d~~D~~irector cannot be the one to designate the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. That task is for the Commission. AI 1-24 states in full:

> (1) If there is a vacancy in both the positions of Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson, the Commission may call a special meeting by majority vote pursuant to Regulations § 701.11(b).
> (2) There being no Chairperson or Vice-Chairperson, the Staff Director shall establish the agenda for this special meeting, whereby specific items may be added or deleted in accordance with Regulations § 701.11(c). However, the first item of business shall be the election of a designee of the functions of the Chairperson.

The Commission must call the meeting and elect the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. The staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ role is to undertake the ministerial tasks of noticing the meeting in the Federal Register and drawing up the agenda. He is not even permitted to put any business before that of electing an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson.

Furthermore, there is no mention in the Commission's statutes, regulations, or administrative instructions of a "moderator" for Commission briefings. There is no example in at least the past twenty years of the Commission's history of such a practice. The role simply does not exist.

(2) The President's nominee cannot be the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. This is in keeping with federal practice. When the President's nominee to a Senate-confirmable office has not yet been confirmed, he or she cannot be "acting" in that position. The contrary practice would essentially eviscerate the Senate's role. If you're doing the job anyway, why bother to cooperate with the Senate in the confirmation process? Why bother to give and Implementation"), provides, "All responsibilities not otherwise delegated are reserved to the Staff Director. The Staff Director may delegate any of these responsibilities to a member of the executive staff." AI 1-6 § 4.07. There are many reasons this provision does apply to the appointment of an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson. Most obviously, AI 1-24 explicitly delegates the designation of a commissioner to fill the functions of chairperson during a vacancy to "a majority of Commissioners," thereby negating any possible interpretation of AI 1-6 § 4.07 that would give this authority to the staff director~~Staff Director~~. Moreover, §4 is generally about how tasks are to be allocated among the various divisions of the Commission's staff—the O~~o~~ffice of the Staff Director (OSD), the Office of the General Counsel (OGC), the Office of Civil Rights Evaluation ("OCRE"), and the Office of Management (OM), etc. This is how the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ delegates responsibilities to the staff that have been delegated to him. But he cannot delegate responsibilities that were never delegated to him in the first place. That's why the section states that he "reserves" responsibilities that he has not otherwise delegated by him; the section is not itself a delegation of authority to him.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Members of the Senate assurances that the job will be performed in keeping with federal law and policy when you've already got the authority of the office? The same logic applies here.

We thought all this was obvious and appropriate, and for a while we thought you ~~understood and~~ agreed. To our astonishment, you ended up being willing to go along with the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ arrogation of power.[9] Not only did you recognize his purported authority to designate the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson ~~(something we suspect you'll regret when you understand how the Commission works a little better)~~, but you also allowed him to designate you as a~~A~~cting chairperson~~Chair~~, knowing our reasonable objections to such a move.

As you will remember, we were very flexible as to how the Commission would select an a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson for the February 26 bail reform hearing. We were willing to have our most senior member chair; we were willing to draw a Commissioner's name out of a hat; we were willing to split the a~~A~~cting c~~C~~hairperson's position between one Commissioner appointed by a Democrat and one Commission appointed by a Republican; we were willing to have Commissioner Kladney (who was appointed by a Democrat) serve as acting chairperson. All of these methods would have worked and ~~. Given a few more minutes of time to think about it,~~ we could have come up with even more alternatives.

Alas, the issue was resolved instead in a way that was contrary to our rules and (if we had acquiesced) would have set an extraordinarily bad precedent. We were baffled. Under the circumstances, we viewed it as necessary not to acquiesce. That is why we could not attend the briefing.

We don't blame you. We know that you are new at this. All institutions have their rules and traditions that outsiders are unfamiliar with. Soon enough you will be familiar with those that apply to the Commission. So, despite the staff director's ~~Staff Director's~~ continued unlawful actions, we remain confident that you can lead this Commission and that you can be confirmed as c~~C~~hairperson—soon. However, before we concur in ~~her~~ your appointment as chairperson,[10] we still need an agreement on the record about the matters that we (~~Gail~~ Heriot and ~~Pete~~ Kirsanow) discussed with you earlier.

We understood from ~~Gail and Pete's~~ earlier discussions with you that (with the exception of the v~~V~~ice- c~~C~~hairmanship, which you felt you had no control over) that our proposals were fair and appropriate. All we are trying to do is ensure fairness and prevent the abuses that went on during Chairperson Lhamon's tenure.

[9] At the February 26 briefing, "The Civil Rights Implications of Cash Bail," the staff director ~~Staff Director~~ designated Commissioner Cantú as moderator of the hearing, saying, "In the absence of a chairperson for the Commission, I will appoint a moderator to administer today's briefing." We won't repeat those matters here. This letter is long enough as it is. But we did wish to mention one aspect of the matter that has been troubling us over the last couple of days.

One of our requests was that you follow that law when appointments are made. For example, the law gives the Commission (and not the chairperson ~~Chair~~ or the staff director~~Staff Director~~) the authority to appoint two members of the Election Assistance Commission's Board of Advisors.[11] Yet ~~c~~Chairperson Lhamon arrogated that authority to herself and appointed the members without consulting or even notifying us. This act was simply a violation of the law. Yet when you spoke last with ~~Pete~~ Kirsanow (after consulting with our Progressive colleagues) on Thursday, you suggested a "compromise" under which you would appoint the members~~,~~ but promised that they would not be Democrats. Alas, we don't think the law can be compromised in that way. All we ~~are~~ ask~~ing~~ here is that you comply with the law.

We look forward to fruitful and constructive discussions stemming from our earlier ~~discussions~~ conversations with you and from this letter. We are still confident that we can reach an agreement ~~with you~~. We remain dedicated to the Commission's important and bipartisan work.

I've played around with these a bit. I include four MOUs:

1. Eliminating the "Speaker Series," and requiring any future series to be bipartisan
2. Requiring majority approval for appointments to other bodies (including but not limited to the EAC Board of Advisors)
3. Instituting a process for bipartisan SAC recruitment and nomination
4. Instructing Mauro to begin the notice-and-comment period to lower the SAC size to be consistent with our AIs

The EAC one is in line with what you and I talked about on Thursday; it is not in line with Norma's notes below. And I wrote the MOU directed at Mauro because Carissa told me that the Commissioners have asked him several times to do this and he's failed to act.

Carissa and John have the other things covered with AIs, which we discussed over coffee yesterday. I'll see if I can get Carissa to send them to me.

I can talk about this at any point today or tomorrow if you'd like. I'm going for a jog at some point today, and to mass in the morning tomorrow, but I'm 100% free otherwise.

COLORADO: 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat).

- Comm. Heriot objected to Prof. Ming Hsu Chen on the basis of an article she wrote called, "Colorblind Nationalism."
- Prof. Chen responded, and Mauro kept her on the slate on the basis of the response.
- Full objection from Comm. Heriot:

In her article, Prof. Chen says that racist and anti-immigrant "policies are cloaked in the neutral language of national protection, public health, and economic justice." Therefore, anyone who supports those facially colorblind policies is racist. More broadly, Prof. Chen suggests that anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist.

It is inappropriate for a SAC member to make wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people. This article reveals Prof. Chen's bad faith. Additionally, her embrace of Ibram X. Kendi's "anti-racist" ideology is troubling, as that ideology in and of itself promotes discrimination.

Prof. Chen's article in the Yale Journal on Regulation, "Colorblind Nationalism," (available here) is particularly objectionable for a member of a State Advisory Committee.

- Full response from Prof. Chen:

Dear Mr. Mussatt and Mr. Morales,

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to Commissioner Heriot's objection. This objection seems to be based on a single sentence from an opinion piece, which I discuss below, but please note her objection paraphrases my essay in ways that mischaracterize the essay and my beliefs.

For example:

- I do not say or believe that "anyone who supports facially colorblind policies is racist"
- I do not say that or believe that "anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist"
- There is also no basis for her claim that I write or act in "bad faith" in her formal objection.

As some background, I have served on the Colorado State Advisory Committee for 4-years (2016-2020). During that time, I worked collaboratively with all SAC members after my project proposal on the naturalization backlog was unanimously adopted in 2018. This work included working together on a briefing with expert testimony from 12 speakers representing a range of perspectives, addressing all SAC member voices in when drafting our report, and incorporating suggestions during the subsequent revisions and adoption of the report. The resulting 2019 report has since been cited widely in media and other academic and policy research. A 2020 update and 2-page statement of concern was adopted unanimously by the CO SAC, and USCCR Chair Catherine Lhamon endorsed and sent her own letter to the impacted agency.

During my tenure, I also supported projects spearheaded by other SAC members, including ones sponsored by our more conservative members on religious freedom and racial disparities in infant/maternal mortality. In each of these projects, I was an active team member and made good faith efforts to listen to evidence from our hearings, to consider the divergent viewpoints, and to incorporate and suggest revisions on my reports and others that would build a broader consensus.

Outside of my service to SAC, my professional qualifications include a ten-year history of academic teaching and writing in immigration, civil rights, and administrative law at the University of Colorado Law School. This has included presentations with scholars from many viewpoints. Not infrequently I've been invited by members of conservative groups like the Federalist Society or the National Association of Attorney Generals to be a reasonable voice in their discussions. In these and other endeavors, I have never been accused of bias in my professional work.

In my personal capacity, I occasionally write short opinion pieces such as the essay that is cited in the objection and published in a special symposium on racism and the law for the online edition of the nation's premiere specialty journal on administrative law. I would describe my own views in the essay as advocating for greater racial equality for immigrants negatively impacted by travel bans and expressing an abiding concern that our federal government adhere to fair procedures in the issuance of such policies. There is no basis for saying that these views amount to "wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people" or that they "embrace Ibram X. Kendi's antiracist ideology… as that ideology itself promotes discrimination." I am not familiar with Ibram X Kendi's writings on antiracism and do not read, engage with, nor cite his work in this essay or my other scholarship. Moreover, the piece does not claim to represent the views of CO SAC or the USCCR. While I do not think the views expressed in the essay are objectionable, even if they were, I would not bring personal biases into my professional service.
In closing, I recognize that reasonable people disagree on the best means of achieving equality.

My sense is that Commissioner Heriot misunderstands my perspectives and seeks to associate me with views that are more extreme than my own. Rather than rely on her second-hand description of an opinion piece written in my personal capacity, I would encourage the USCCR to apply a fair minded consideration of my application that focuses on my actual statements and my record of service to the CO SAC and USCCR.

Draft Chapter Outline
Federal Response to Hurricanes María and Harvey: Civil Rights and Protections Following a Natural Disaster

Executive Summary

CHAPTER 1: Introduction

I. Context & Background
   A. Introductory discussion of FEMA's response to natural disasters
      i. Why the Commission took on this issue (voted-upon Concept Paper)
      ii. Brief summary of report methodology, including briefing, testimony received and other key sources of information; and brief summary of OCRE research and methodology

II. Hurricanes María and Harvey
   A. Number of individuals/households impacted
      i. Fatalities
      ii. Hospitalizations
      iii. Structural damage
      iv. Individuals/households misplaced from homes
         1. Long-term displacement
      v. Job losses
      vi. Monetary information regarding damage
      vii. Flooding impacts
      viii. Loss of utilities
         1. Electricity
         2. Clean water
         3. Telecommunications
   B. Impacts on sectors
      i. Healthcare
      ii. Education
      iii. Business
      iv. Local government
   C. Pre-disaster challenges in Puerto Rico and Texas
      i. Economic issues including PROMESA in Puerto Rico
      ii. Existing infrastructure issues
      iii. Geographic issues
   D. Challenges faced by FEMA from the adequacy or inadequacy of state and local government responses to the disasters, as well as impacts on FEMA from private sector responses to the disaster
      i. Coordination of state and local governments with FEMA to authorize, arrange, organize, and prioritize delivery of aid

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ii. Technical assistance to FEMA in identifying, evaluating, and understanding infrastructure, transportation, distribution, and healthcare system failures
iii. Local private sector responses from suppliers, providers, contractors, labor unions, etc. that positively or adversely impacted FEMA's ability to supply or deliver needed disaster aid

III. Status and other local government issues
A. Overview of potential civil rights issues involved in the federal responses to the storms
i. Summary of testimony (including from the Texas SAC)
ii. Summary of data
iii. Summary of FEMA's responses to the Commission's inquiries
B. Overview of Applicable Civil Rights Protections
i. The Stafford Act's requirements that the federal government ensure all relief and assistance "… shall be accomplished in an equitable and impartial manner, without discrimination on the grounds of race, color, religion, nationality, sex, age, disability, English proficiency, or economic status."[1]
ii. Relevant constitutional and other federal law/policy guidance
1. Title VI of the Civil Rights Act
2. Rehabilitation Act of 1973
3. Executive Order 13,166 (LEP)
4. Executive Order 12,898 (Environmental Justice)
5. Fair Housing Act of 1968
iii. Relevant caselaw
iv. Challenges applicants seeking disaster relief resources may face, including accessibility issues, wait times, and sufficiency of aid; consequences of not receiving aid v. benefits of aid

IV. How did Hurricanes María and Harvey impact various demographic populations?
i. Racial and ethnic minorities
ii. People with disabilities
iii. Individuals with limited or no English language proficiency
iv. Individuals of low socioeconomic status

CHAPTER 2: Federal Government's Role in Disaster Response

I. Discussion of FEMA's role and obligations in natural disaster emergencies
i. Brief History
ii. Role and Responsibilities
iii. Resources provided before, during, and after a natural disaster

[1] 42 U.S.C. § 5151 (1988).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A. Coordinating role with other federal agencies, state, local, territorial, and tribal governments, and nongovernmental organizations in providing aid
B. Summary of civil rights duties

II. FEMA's Response to Hurricanes María and Harvey (comparison of benchmarks to short- and long-term data, including but not limited to the factors listed below)

A. Hurricane María
   i. Disaster declaration proceedings
   ii. FEMA's Overall Estimated Monetary Damages
   iii. FEMA's Assessment of Infrastructure & Community Impacts (hospitals & schools closed, accessibility of food & water, etc.)
   iv. Federal Response/Demographics of:
      1. Requests for Assistance
      2. Location and staffing of Disaster Recovery Centers, phone assistance lines, and hiring of contractors for the individual and business assistance programs.
      3. Accessibility and Barriers to Aid Requests
      4. Assistance Provided
      5. Timeline of Relief & Rebuilding Aid Provided
   v. Ongoing rebuilding efforts
      1. Where do the impacted areas in Puerto Rico stand on any type of recovery timeline?
      2. Long-term/permanent displacement
      3. COVID-19 impacts on these efforts (including analysis of declaration of COVID-19 as a natural disaster)

B. Hurricane Harvey
   i. Disaster declaration proceedings
   ii. FEMA's Overall Estimated Monetary Damages
   iii. Infrastructure & Community Impacts (hospitals & schools closed, accessibility of food & water, etc.)
   iv. Federal Response/Demographics of:
      1. Requests for Assistance
      2. Location and staffing of Disaster Recovery Centers, phone assistance lines, and hiring of contractors for the individual and business assistance programs.
      3. Accessibility and Barriers to Aid Requests
      4. Assistance Provided
      5. Timeline of Relief & Rebuilding Aid Provided
   v. Ongoing rebuilding efforts
      1. Where do the impacted areas in Texas stand on any type of recovery timeline?
      2. Long-term/permanent displacement
      3. COVID-19 impacts on these efforts (including analysis of declaration of COVID-19 as a natural disaster)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

III. Trajectory and types of assistance provided (comparing any benchmarks to data/comparative data)
    i. Public assistance
    ii. Individual assistance
    iii. Block grants
    iv. Payment programs vs. programs providing shelter, housing, job assistance, food, education, etc.

IV. Considerations in providing FEMA aid
    A. What relevant factors are taken into consideration regarding relief appropriations?
        i. Community-wide analyses?
        ii. Environmental impact assessments?
    B. Is there a need to reduce any barriers for states/territories and/or individuals applying for disaster assistance and relief?
    C. How well has FEMA coordinated with intergovernmental agencies and organizations in planning, coordinating, and executing emergency management in administering aid relief?

V. Examination of whether local factors, practices, or guidelines, or other factors impact damage assessments and the delivery of resources - are there challenges in providing disaster relief and how can they be overcome? Factors may include:
    i. Infrastructure
    ii. Telecommunications
    iii. Logistics
    iv. Language
    v. Cultural competencies
    vi. Mainland states vs. U.S. territories

VI. FEMA's compliance efforts with the Stafford Act and other civil rights obligations in response to Hurricanes María and Harvey
    A. Review of access to disaster relief, including:
        1. Accessibility issues
        2. Any income or housing requirements for receiving aid
        3. Differential requirements or barriers based on territorial status or other qualities of local government
        4. Whether these types of barriers are reasonable
    B. Types of civil rights complaints received
    C. Have there been indications of discrimination in relief and assistance activity on the basis of race, color, religion, nationality, sex, age, disability, or English proficiency (LEP status)?

CHAPTER 3: Emerging Best Practices

I. Identification of potential civil rights issues & developing practices to address them (based on FEMA Summit as well as agency testimony and information provided)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

II. Local governments' identification of FEMA-related civil rights issues & recommendations for best practices
III. Impacted individuals, community stakeholders & nongovernmental actors' identification of potential civil rights issues & recommendations for best practices

CHAPTER 4: Findings and Recommendations

FEMA's Natural Disaster Response
Research Plan

Working Title: Federal Response to Hurricanes María and Harvey: Civil Rights and Protections Following a Natural Disaster

From January 2021 to June 2022, OCRE staff will seek information through a variety of sources (e.g., interrogatories, empirical research, qualitative and quantitative data, briefing testimony, and formal and informal outreach to government officials, scholars, and community stakeholders) to investigate the federal government's response to the original and ongoing impact of Hurricanes María in Puerto Rico and Harvey in Texas, and may possibly compare them to the federal response to other significant hurricane systems. OCRE will focus its data-gathering in the following areas:

- The role of the federal government in responding to natural disasters such as hurricanes
    - Federal obligations to provide aid for relief and rebuilding through FEMA under the Stafford Act, 42 U.S.C. § 5121 et. al., and related federal policy and practice
    - How federal disasters are determined by "the States" and declared by the President
    - How funding is budgeted for and allocated across disasters
    - How FEMA plans, coordinates, and executes emergency management in administering aid relief, in collaboration with other federal organizations, as well as with state, local, territorial, and tribal lands
    - Trajectory and types of assistance that may be provided, i.e., evacuation to safety, temporary shelter, health care, food, clothing, housing, unemployment benefits or training, and rebuilding, through individual or block assistance, programs entitling payments or programs entitling other relief
- Framework of relevant civil rights laws and regulations, and assessment, including:
    - The Stafford Act's requirements that the federal government ensure all relief and assistance "… shall be accomplished in an equitable and impartial manner, without discrimination on the grounds of race, color, religion, nationality, sex, age, disability, English proficiency, or economic status."[1]
    - Relevant constitutional and other federal law; any relevant federal policy guidance
        - ☐ Title VI of the Civil Rights Act
        - ☐ Rehabilitation Act of 1973
        - ☐ Executive Order 13,166 (LEP)

[1] 42 U.S.C. § 5151 (1988).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- ☐ Executive Order 12,898 (Environmental Justice)
- ☐ Fair Housing Act of 1968

- Relevant legal rulings regarding the equities of federal responses to natural disasters
- Implications of differing local systems, such as U.S. territories v. states v. tribes, land classifications, etc.

- Study of essential data regarding Hurricanes María and Harvey including but not limited to demographics, including race, nationality, English proficiency (LEP status), disability status, and other data regarding the following potentially key factors, along with any others that are identified as relevant during the research process. Key factors may include:
  - Number of individuals/households impacted by:
    - ☐ Fatalities
    - ☐ Injuries requiring hospitalization
    - ☐ Households/structures demolished (completely/partially)
    - ☐ Individuals/households misplaced from homes
    - ☐ Job losses and other income losses (such as small business losses)
  - Cost of damage of structures
  - Geographical landmass information as to expansiveness of damage
  - Extent of flooding and its impacts
  - Loss of utilities (electricity, clean water)
  - Extent of homes impacted
  - Timeline of loss and repair where available
  - Federal response, to include:
    - ☐ Accessibility of requests for aid, and any barriers
    - ☐ Number of requests for assistance; outcomes
      - Demographic information available for individuals requesting assistance, experiencing barriers in requests
    - ☐ Number of individuals/households provided assistance
      - Demographic information available for individuals provided assistance
    - ☐ Any relevant disparities and inequities associated with access to relief aid, including placement and staffing of Disaster Recovery Centers, hot-line staffing, contractor hiring and staffing, and access to appeals procedures

- ☐ Monetary amount of relief provided, including demographic and geographic distribution within a disaster declaration area
- ☐ Timeline of relief provided
- ☐ Logistical differences in administering disaster relief
- ☐ Types of civil rights complaints received
- ☐ Any community-wide analyses performed by the federal government, such as surveys, public fora; other assessments
- ☐ Environmental impact assessments

- Whether and how hurricanes María and Harvey can be compared to each other, and possibly whether other recent hurricanes may also be compared through data trends
- Whether data trends exist as to the federal disaster response to hurricanes in U.S. territories such as Puerto Rico
    - How these trends might differ from responses to hurricanes in U.S. states
        - ☐ Examination of historic and current qualitative and quantitative data
    - Trend data would include the amount of aid provided, the type of aid provided, the timeline of aid provided, the number of individuals to whom aid was provided, and demographics

OCRE will accomplish this research by:

- Holding a briefing before the Commission with a panel of expert witnesses (including government officials, scholars, community stakeholders, etc.) who can provide information, data, and insight into the impacts of Hurricanes María and Harvey, as well as the federal aid received, and information regarding the timeliness and amount of aid provided; and soliciting public comments. Testimony and public comments may be received in English and/or Spanish, or other languages as needed (such as Vietnamese in the Houston area). (this briefing may be virtual, depending on COVID-19 conditions). The briefing may be followed by a site visit to Puerto Rico and/or Texas in late 2021, if travel is feasible and resources are available.
- Examining publicly available data, research, and information from interrogatories provided by government offices and departments regarding resources provided to victims of and communities impacted by Hurricanes María and Harvey including (but not limited to):
    - Timeline of resources provided to victims and communities
    - Any formulas used to determine the amount of aid provided and the specific recipients of such aid
    - Extent to which federal agencies complied with federal civil rights laws and policies regarding aid provided to U.S. states and U.S. territories

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

    - Information about how to apply for aid, number of applications received, outcomes, and appeals and/or complaints filed, and their resolution
    - Policies and procedures with regard to the location and staffing of Disaster Recovery Centers, including decisions regarding language and translation services
    - Policies and procedures for the hiring of contractors by FEMA to handle individual assistance claims and compliance with federal civil rights laws and policies
- Working with OGC to send Interrogatories and Document Requests to FEMA
- Collecting and analyzing FEMA briefings, USCCR State Advisory Committee panels and follow-up questions, additional testimony/field hearings conducted by Congress or other entities
- Examining relevant information from academic journals and nonpartisan research organizations
- Examining empirical research and analyzing relevant data from government and non-government sources regarding federal responses to hurricanes in the U.S., in both territories and mainland states, including demographic data
- Examining the data/reports/work product of federal agencies, advocates, and community stakeholders in order to assess:
    - Key players and their objectives
    - Efforts these agencies and comparable groups took in response to Hurricanes María and Harvey
    - Recommendations or best practices that may be drawn from the work of FEMA, as well as advocates and community stakeholders

Proposed Virtual Briefing Panels

A. State and Local Disaster Response Officials and Community Stakeholders
    - State and municipal Office of Emergency Services officials from Texas, Puerto Rico, and United States Virgin Islands.
    - Local mayoral offices
    - National Guard

B. FEMA
    - ODIC (Office of Disability Integration and Coordination)
    - Regional Administrators
    - Office of Response and Recovery
    - Office of Equal Rights
    - DHS - Center for Faith-Based and Neighborhood Partnerships

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- DHS - Office of Civil Rights and Civil Liberties
- Department of Defense
- Department of Housing and Urban Development

C. Outside Testimony and FEMA Voluntary Organizations

- Community stakeholders (representing and/or serving impacted persons)
- American Red Cross, other private relief organizations
- National Association of State Emergency Donations and Volunteer Coordinators, National Mass Care Council/Strategy, International Association of Emergency Managers, National Emergency Management Association
- Victims of Hurricanes María and Harvey
- The Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS)

IDAHO

Commissioner Yaki's objection

Dear Dr. Yenor:

Thank you for your service on the Idaho Advisory Committee and for your recent application for reappointment. Your name was included on the list of nominated individuals that is currently being reviewed by the Commissioners prior to appointment. As part of that review, Commissioner Yaki has made a formal objection to your nomination on the Committee because of an alleged comment you made.

Pursuant to our Administrative Instructions, when Commissioner objections pertain to a proposed member's public statement, then that nominee is provided the opportunity to respond in writing to the raised concern. The Staff Director will then consider the written response when making the final determination on whether to include the nominee on the list of individuals to be recommended for appointment.

The Commissioner has objected to your reappointment to the Idaho Advisory Committee because the Commissioner believes you are hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights. Furthermore, The Commissioner believes your public statements render you incapable of, and unable to, protect the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions. Citations to your most objectionable public statements on the issues at hand include:

Mr. Yenor's Reponse

Dear Mr. Mussatt,
Thank you for forwarding the objections of Commissioner Michael Yaki and giving me two days to respond. I would like to know more about the process for how my response will be evaluated. Is the whole USCCR to respond? How will responses be tabulated? In any event, again thank you for forwarding these objections.

The objections to my re-nomination to the Idaho Advisory committee on civil rights are (1) that I am "hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights" as evidenced in my public writings and (2) that my "public statements render [me] incapable of, and unable to, protect (sic) the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Claims of discrimination under the current civil rights regime must be established through rational inquiry aided, where appropriate, by social science. Proposed policies to combat alleged discrimination must then be weighed through a rational public policy process. Policies must be evaluated critically if they are implemented.

Civil rights are hardly an all or nothing proposition. Some civil rights clash with other civil rights. Civil rights almost always require a balancing of various claims or a negotiation of the rights of various groups. In objecting to my participation on the commission, Commissioner Yaki seems to deny that civil rights matters involve such balancing or to deny that some important civil rights should be protected or to deny that some civil rights claims should be heard or entertained; he seems to want civil rights for only some groups and not for others. He gives civil rights a bad name in so doing.

Suppose a civil rights commission finds itself adjudicating a claim of transgender rights as civil rights. In making a fair-minded adjudication, the commission would have to consider the relation between such transgender rights and other civil rights in our tradition such as the free exercise of religion, parental rights, rights against sex discrimination. It would have to determine how transgender rights weigh against those rights. In doing so, it would be necessary to inquire into the rational basis for claims of transgender rights and the likely consequences of affirming them, just as it would be necessary to see what would happen from denying them.

My work raises questions about the evidence that proves discrimination and it concerns the clash of civil rights in politics. Claims of transgender rights can, in some circumstances, I have argued, clash with parental rights (as when a school insists on transitioning a child from one gender to another without informing the parents or against their will). Such instances are, as my research argues, more likely to harm the child and, if multiplied, are likely to have a corrosive effect on parental rights, a crucial civil right (as established in Meyer v. Nebraska and Pierce v. Society of Sisters). Seeing children as products of state mandates in these instances is more likely to undermine well-functioning institutions than it is to promote a good society or thriving individuals. Claims to marital equality have already compromised religious liberty, the freedom of association, and the free thought and discussion on many platforms.

Does Commissioner Yaki disagree that transgender rights clash with parental rights? Does he think that the Civil Rights Commissions nationwide should ignore questions about what it would mean to take the side of "transgender rights" against parental rights? Does he think religious liberty of so little importance that Civil Rights Commissions should ignore how it is compromised by so-called marriage equality? Does he think Civil Rights Commissions should refrain from investigating the future mental and physical health of children who have been transitioned, against the will of their parents, from one gender to another? Does he think we should cease investigating the mental or physical health of all those who have transitioned, even with parental support? Perhaps I should object to his continued participation as a Civil Rights Commissioner if he thinks all such questions are settled questions or based on sound science!

The inclusion of gender identity within the anti-discrimination regime of the 1964 Civil Rights Act is a cause for no little concern. Under such gender identity claims, a person's subjective, gendered self-image as woman, man or whatever supersedes the objective biological fact of sexual identity as female or male. This new gender identity further may come with a demand that governments and others citizens recognize that new gender as an objective fact—a huge abridgement on the civil rights and the freedom of mind of others. These ideas, taken together, are incoherent and compromise our commitment to limited government. They are incoherent because they nullify the categories of male and female to which the anti-discrimination principle applies. How can a school district remedy supposed unjust discrimination in girls' sports when anyone can qualify, simply on their own assertion, as woman? Does Fairness in Sports demand keeping biological men out of women's sports and aspiring to equal treatment of such sports or does it demand letting transgendered men in and, perhaps, decrease the opportunities for the formerly protected class of women? Idaho has taken the lead in protecting women's sports in these circumstances, and I look forward to participating in studies investigating how this affects opportunities. The demands that Commissioner Yaki makes contain the seeds of a new political order, much less committed to civil rights than our current order.

I am very skeptical of the idea that gender operates independently of sex. I would demand verification, from well-designed studies, that confirmed the proposition that conceiving of gender independently of sex leads to individual and social thriving. It think it is irresponsible to accept, without critical inquiry, the idea that affirming gender identity fosters all manner of social and individual good. It is not at all clear to me that it is better to recognize a person's concept of gender, apart from their biological sex, as authentic and salutary rather than as erroneous or pathological. I would be concerned that acknowledging such an idea compromises other, well-established and important civil rights.

Conservatives participate in Civil Rights Commissions across the country. We generally worry about how anti-discrimination laws, as applied and as construed, abridge fundamental freedoms and can upset prospects of social harmony. We often investigate the implications of such abridgements in our scholarship. On the Yaki standard, would Justice Sam Alito or Justice Clarence Thomas or Chief Justice John Roberts be ineligible to serve on a civil rights commission? They dissented, after all, from the same-sex marriage decisions in Windsor and Obergefell. Two of them dissented in the recent case re-interpreting the 1964 Civil Rights Act. More broadly, would any conservative be allowed to participate unless he or she abandoned his or her conservatism? Perhaps all of these opinions disqualify someone from sitting on an Advisory Board. If they do, it may be hard to justify continued government support for a strictly partisan organ.

Sincerely,
Scott Yenor

Alex,

You are welcome. I was not aware of agreements you mentioned between Commissioners. I now understand that you are serving as the representative for all Commissioners on the negotiations for the March 19th agenda. The posting of the agenda today was required for notice under the requirements of the Sunshine Act in order for the Commission to meet on the 19th. As I reminded Commissioners in my email, at the commencement of the meeting the agenda may be amended by the majority through a voice or roll call vote. Commissioners have the ability to remove or add items for consideration. If the desire of Commissioners is to create an omnibus motion containing a number of MOU's and AI's it can be done by a majority vote. I would recommend that the omnibus motion be read into the record to create a clear transcript of what Commissioners are voting to accomplish. AI's will need prior approval of the General Counsel to ensure legality and compliance with Commission procedures.

A joint chairmanship to conduct the meeting would be extraordinary and outside my six year experience serving as the staff director. I am unsure why you would not simplify the process by voting Commissioner Cantu into the Chair at the beginning of the meeting as requested by the President and thereby allowing her to conduct the business meeting as is the regular process for the Commission. However, if the Commissioners wish to a conduct a business meeting with two Commissioners acting as a joint Chair, I will have the GC look into how it can be accomplished. Lastly, there is no AI or statute that "requires" Commissioner Cantu's appointment to be listed first on the business meeting agenda. It is highly irregular and disruptive to operate the Commission without a Chair as you have witnessed in the past weeks. Listing the motion first on the agenda for a vote on the Chairmanship was done as a matter of respect to Commissioner Cantu, to honor the request of the President and as a practical way to undertake the work of the Commission. If the majority of Commissioners desire another process to commence the meeting on the 19th we will do our best to honor their wishes. I have cc'd all Commissioners, all SA's and the agency executive staff for transparency and to be prepared to take steps to carry out commissioner requests. I look forward to hearing from you and reviewing your MOU's and AI's as negotiated and deemed acceptable to Commissioners.

Dear Mauro:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thank you for sending the meeting agenda for next Friday.

It is our understanding that several Commissioners agreed to allow Commissioners Yaki and Kirsanow to co-chair the start of the business meeting. Furthermore, it is our understanding that several Commissioners agreed for the agenda to list first an omnibus motion that would include President Biden's appointment of Commissioner Cantú as chairperson as well as several MOUs and AIs. All this assumes that the pre-meeting negotiations over exact wording go well (and we anticipate that they will).

On the other hand, we are unaware of any AI or statute that requires Commissioner Cantú's appointment to be listed first on a business-meeting agenda. If your position is different, then please provide us with the citation to the appropriate authority.

Sincerely,

Alex

Subject: March 19th Business Meeting Agenda Posting

Commissioners,

I have attached the hyperlink to the agenda for the March 19th Commission Business Meeting. As you are aware, Commissioners agreed to schedule this business meeting on September 11th , 2020 by a unanimous vote. In order to meet requirements for compliance with the Sunshine Act, the notice had to be posted today. Commissioner Cantu was consulted in creation of the agenda and it was developed pursuant to previous and ongoing communications she had with other Commissioners. The very first order of business must be the vote on President Biden's designation of Commissioner Cantu to become Commission Chair. I defer to Commissioners as to who they want to make the motion to vote on her Chairmanship. After the vote occurs and in anticipation of Commissioner Cantu becoming Chair, she can then run the rest of the business meeting as Chair. A motion to adopt or amend the agenda would be in order after she becomes Chair. I understand that there are ongoing discussions to potentially add items for Commissioner discussion and votes. As always, Commissioners may amend the agenda to add or remove items with a majority voice or roll call vote of Commissioners. Items not ready for consideration at that time may be deferred to the next business meeting scheduled for April if necessary.
https://www.usccr.gov/files/2021/03-19-Business-Meeting-Agenda-Sunshine-Act-Notice.pdf

Commissioner folders will be populated with relevant information on Friday and during the week leading up to the business meeting. In addition, you will receive the telephone conference call number that will enable you to join and speak during the meeting.

Please contact me if you have any questions.

Hi Norma—I apologize for being slow on this project. I have been swamped. But I really do want to get this done. I still haven't read what the SAs produced. Nevertheless, we need to schedule at least one more meeting (and probably two) if we want to get this done by the end of the week.

I will likely have a little time tomorrow, but I will have no time at all on Wednesday. On Thursday, I will have lots of time. If we want to play it safe we probably need to at least confer briefly on Tuesday and be prepared to complete everything on Thursday.

Here's the Robert's Rules cite from the Election Assistance Commission which could be helpful:

COLORADO: 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat).

- Comm. Heriot objected to Prof. Ming Hsu Chen on the basis of an article she wrote called, "Colorblind Nationalism."
- Prof. Chen responded, and Mauro kept her on the slate on the basis of the response.
- Full objection from Comm. Heriot:

In her article, Prof. Chen says that racist and anti-immigrant "policies are cloaked in the neutral language of national protection, public health, and economic justice." Therefore, anyone who supports those facially colorblind policies is racist. More broadly, Prof. Chen suggests that anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist.

It is inappropriate for a SAC member to make wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people. This article reveals Prof. Chen's bad faith. Additionally, her embrace of Ibram X. Kendi's "anti-racist" ideology is troubling, as that ideology in and of itself promotes discrimination.

Prof. Chen's article in the Yale Journal on Regulation, "Colorblind Nationalism," (available here) is particularly objectionable for a member of a State Advisory Committee.

- Full response from Prof. Chen:

Dear Mr. Mussatt and Mr. Morales,

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to Commissioner Heriot's objection. This objection seems to be based on a single sentence from an opinion piece, which I discuss below, but please note her objection paraphrases my essay in ways that mischaracterize the essay and my beliefs.

For example:

- I do not say or believe that "anyone who supports facially colorblind policies is racist"
- I do not say that or believe that "anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist"
- There is also no basis for her claim that I write or act in "bad faith" in her formal objection.

As some background, I have served on the Colorado State Advisory Committee for 4-years (2016-2020). During that time, I worked collaboratively with all SAC members after my project proposal on the naturalization backlog was unanimously adopted in 2018. This work included working together on a briefing with expert testimony from 12 speakers representing a range of perspectives, addressing all SAC member voices in when drafting our report, and incorporating suggestions during the subsequent revisions and adoption of the report. The resulting 2019 report has since been cited widely in media and other academic and policy research. A 2020 update and 2-page statement of concern was adopted unanimously by the CO SAC, and USCCR Chair Catherine Lhamon endorsed and sent her own letter to the impacted agency.

During my tenure, I also supported projects spearheaded by other SAC members, including ones sponsored by our more conservative members on religious freedom and racial disparities in infant/maternal mortality. In each of these projects, I was an active team member and made good faith efforts to listen to evidence from our hearings, to consider the divergent viewpoints, and to incorporate and suggest revisions on my reports and others that would build a broader consensus.

Outside of my service to SAC, my professional qualifications include a ten-year history of academic teaching and writing in immigration, civil rights, and administrative law at the University of Colorado Law School. This has included presentations with scholars from many viewpoints. Not infrequently I've been invited by members of conservative groups like the Federalist Society or the National Association of Attorney Generals to be a reasonable voice in their discussions. In these and other endeavors, I have never been accused of bias in my professional work.

In my personal capacity, I occasionally write short opinion pieces such as the essay that is cited in the objection and published in a special symposium on racism and the law for the online edition of the nation's premiere specialty journal on administrative law. I would describe my own views in the essay as advocating for greater racial equality for immigrants negatively impacted by travel bans and expressing an abiding concern that our federal government adhere to fair procedures in the issuance of such policies. There is no basis for saying that these views amount to "wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people" or that they "embrace Ibram X. Kendi's antiracist ideology… as that ideology itself promotes discrimination." I am not familiar with Ibram X Kendi's writings on antiracism and do not read, engage with, nor cite his work in this essay or my other scholarship. Moreover, the piece does not claim to represent the views of CO SAC or the USCCR. While I do not think the views expressed in the essay are objectionable, even if they were, I would not bring personal biases into my professional service.
In closing, I recognize that reasonable people disagree on the best means of achieving equality.

My sense is that Commissioner Heriot misunderstands my perspectives and seeks to associate me with views that are more extreme than my own. Rather than rely on her second-hand description of an opinion piece written in my personal capacity, I would encourage the USCCR to apply a fair minded consideration of my application that focuses on my actual statements and my record of service to the CO SAC and USCCR.

FEMA's Natural Disaster Response
Research Plan

Working Title: Federal Response to Hurricanes María and Harvey: Civil Rights and Protections Following a Natural Disaster

From January 2021 to June 2022, OCRE staff will seek information through a variety of sources (e.g., interrogatories, empirical research, qualitative and quantitative data, briefing testimony, and formal and informal outreach to government officials, scholars, and community stakeholders) to investigate the federal government's response to the original and ongoing impact of Hurricanes María in Puerto Rico and Harvey in Texas, and may possibly compare them to the federal response to other significant hurricane systems. OCRE will focus its data-gathering in the following areas:

- The role of the federal government in responding to natural disasters such as hurricanes
    - Federal obligations to provide aid for relief and rebuilding through FEMA under the Stafford Act, 42 U.S.C. § 5121 et. al., and related federal policy and practice
    - How federal disasters are determined by "the States" and declared by the President
    - How funding is budgeted for and allocated across disasters
    - How FEMA plans, coordinates, and executes emergency management in administering aid relief, in collaboration with other federal organizations, as well as with state, local, territorial, and tribal lands
    - Trajectory and types of assistance that may be provided, i.e., evacuation to safety, temporary shelter, health care, food, clothing, housing, unemployment benefits or training, and rebuilding, through individual or block assistance, programs entitling payments or programs entitling other relief
- Framework of relevant civil rights laws and regulations, and assessment, including:
    - The Stafford Act's requirements that the federal government ensure all relief and assistance "… shall be accomplished in an equitable and impartial manner, without discrimination on the grounds of race, color, religion, nationality, sex, age, disability, English proficiency, or economic status."[1]
    - Relevant constitutional and other federal law; any relevant federal policy guidance
        - ☐ Title VI of the Civil Rights Act
        - ☐ Rehabilitation Act of 1973
        - ☐ Executive Order 13,166 (LEP)

[1] 42 U.S.C. § 5151 (1988).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- ☐ Executive Order 12,898 (Environmental Justice)
- ☐ Fair Housing Act of 1968

- Relevant legal rulings regarding the equities of federal responses to natural disasters
- Implications of differing local systems, such as U.S. territories v. states v. tribes, land classifications, etc.

- Study of essential data regarding Hurricanes María and Harvey including but not limited to demographics, including race, nationality, English proficiency (LEP status), disability status, and other data regarding the following potentially key factors, along with any others that are identified as relevant during the research process. Key factors may include:
  - Number of individuals/households impacted by:
    - ☐ Fatalities
    - ☐ Injuries requiring hospitalization
    - ☐ Households/structures demolished (completely/partially)
    - ☐ Individuals/households misplaced from homes
    - ☐ Job losses and other income losses (such as small business losses)
  - Cost of damage of structures
  - Geographical landmass information as to expansiveness of damage
  - Extent of flooding and its impacts
  - Loss of utilities (electricity, clean water)
  - Extent of homes impacted
  - Timeline of loss and repair where available
  - Federal response, to include:
    - ☐ Accessibility of requests for aid, and any barriers
    - ☐ Number of requests for assistance; outcomes
      - Demographic information available for individuals requesting assistance, experiencing barriers in requests
    - ☐ Number of individuals/households provided assistance
      - Demographic information available for individuals provided assistance
    - ☐ Any relevant disparities and inequities associated with access to relief aid, including placement and staffing of Disaster Recovery Centers, hot-line staffing, contractor hiring and staffing, and access to appeals procedures

- ☐ Monetary amount of relief provided, including demographic and geographic distribution within a disaster declaration area
- ☐ Timeline of relief provided
- ☐ Logistical differences in administering disaster relief
- ☐ Types of civil rights complaints received
- ☐ Any community-wide analyses performed by the federal government, such as surveys, public fora; other assessments
- ☐ Environmental impact assessments

- Whether and how hurricanes María and Harvey can be compared to each other, and possibly whether other recent hurricanes may also be compared through data trends
- Whether data trends exist as to the federal disaster response to hurricanes in U.S. territories such as Puerto Rico
    - How these trends might differ from responses to hurricanes in U.S. states
        - ☐ Examination of historic and current qualitative and quantitative data
    - Trend data would include the amount of aid provided, the type of aid provided, the timeline of aid provided, the number of individuals to whom aid was provided, and demographics

OCRE will accomplish this research by:

- Holding a briefing before the Commission with a panel of expert witnesses (including government officials, scholars, community stakeholders, etc.) who can provide information, data, and insight into the impacts of Hurricanes María and Harvey, as well as the federal aid received, and information regarding the timeliness and amount of aid provided; and soliciting public comments. Testimony and public comments may be received in English and/or Spanish, or other languages as needed (such as Vietnamese in the Houston area). (this briefing may be virtual, depending on COVID-19 conditions). The briefing may be followed by a site visit to Puerto Rico and/or Texas in late 2021, if travel is feasible and resources are available.
- Examining publicly available data, research, and information from interrogatories provided by government offices and departments regarding resources provided to victims of and communities impacted by Hurricanes María and Harvey including (but not limited to):
    - Timeline of resources provided to victims and communities
    - Any formulas used to determine the amount of aid provided and the specific recipients of such aid
    - Extent to which federal agencies complied with federal civil rights laws and policies regarding aid provided to U.S. states and U.S. territories

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

    - Information about how to apply for aid, number of applications received, outcomes, and appeals and/or complaints filed, and their resolution
    - Policies and procedures with regard to the location and staffing of Disaster Recovery Centers, including decisions regarding language and translation services
    - Policies and procedures for the hiring of contractors by FEMA to handle individual assistance claims and compliance with federal civil rights laws and policies
- Working with OGC to send Interrogatories and Document Requests to FEMA
- Collecting and analyzing FEMA briefings, USCCR State Advisory Committee panels and follow-up questions, additional testimony/field hearings conducted by Congress or other entities
- Examining relevant information from academic journals and nonpartisan research organizations
- Examining empirical research and analyzing relevant data from government and non-government sources regarding federal responses to hurricanes in the U.S., in both territories and mainland states, including demographic data
- Examining the data/reports/work product of federal agencies, advocates, and community stakeholders in order to assess:
    - Key players and their objectives
    - Efforts these agencies and comparable groups took in response to Hurricanes María and Harvey
    - Recommendations or best practices that may be drawn from the work of FEMA, as well as advocates and community stakeholders

Proposed Virtual Briefing Panels

A. State and Local Disaster Response Officials and Community Stakeholders
    - State and municipal Office of Emergency Services officials from Texas, Puerto Rico, and United States Virgin Islands.
    - Local mayoral offices
    - National Guard

B. FEMA
    - ODIC (Office of Disability Integration and Coordination)
    - Regional Administrators

IDAHO

Commissioner Yaki's objection

Dear Dr. Yenor:

Thank you for your service on the Idaho Advisory Committee and for your recent application for reappointment. Your name was included on the list of nominated individuals that is currently being reviewed by the Commissioners prior to appointment. As part of that review, Commissioner Yaki has made a formal objection to your nomination on the Committee because of an alleged comment you made.

Pursuant to our Administrative Instructions, when Commissioner objections pertain to a proposed member's public statement, then that nominee is provided the opportunity to respond in writing to the raised concern. The Staff Director will then consider the written response when making the final determination on whether to include the nominee on the list of individuals to be recommended for appointment.

The Commissioner has objected to your reappointment to the Idaho Advisory Committee because the Commissioner believes you are hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights. Furthermore, The Commissioner believes your public statements render you incapable of, and unable to, protect the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions. Citations to your most objectionable public statements on the issues at hand include:

Mr. Yenor's Reponse

Dear Mr. Mussatt,
Thank you for forwarding the objections of Commissioner Michael Yaki and giving me two days to respond. I would like to know more about the process for how my response will be evaluated. Is the whole USCCR to respond? How will responses be tabulated? In any event, again thank you for forwarding these objections.

The objections to my re-nomination to the Idaho Advisory committee on civil rights are (1) that I am "hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights" as evidenced in my public writings and (2) that my "public statements render [me] incapable of, and unable to, protect (sic) the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Claims of discrimination under the current civil rights regime must be established through rational inquiry aided, where appropriate, by social science. Proposed policies to combat alleged discrimination must then be weighed through a rational public policy process. Policies must be evaluated critically if they are implemented.

Civil rights are hardly an all or nothing proposition. Some civil rights clash with other civil rights. Civil rights almost always require a balancing of various claims or a negotiation of the rights of various groups. In objecting to my participation on the commission, Commissioner Yaki seems to deny that civil rights matters involve such balancing or to deny that some important civil rights should be protected or to deny that some civil rights claims should be heard or entertained; he seems to want civil rights for only some groups and not for others. He gives civil rights a bad name in so doing.

Suppose a civil rights commission finds itself adjudicating a claim of transgender rights as civil rights. In making a fair-minded adjudication, the commission would have to consider the relation between such transgender rights and other civil rights in our tradition such as the free exercise of religion, parental rights, rights against sex discrimination. It would have to determine how transgender rights weigh against those rights. In doing so, it would be necessary to inquire into the rational basis for claims of transgender rights and the likely consequences of affirming them, just as it would be necessary to see what would happen from denying them.

My work raises questions about the evidence that proves discrimination and it concerns the clash of civil rights in politics. Claims of transgender rights can, in some circumstances, I have argued, clash with parental rights (as when a school insists on transitioning a child from one gender to another without informing the parents or against their will). Such instances are, as my research argues, more likely to harm the child and, if multiplied, are likely to have a corrosive effect on parental rights, a crucial civil right (as established in Meyer v. Nebraska and Pierce v. Society of Sisters). Seeing children as products of state mandates in these instances is more likely to undermine well-functioning institutions than it is to promote a good society or thriving individuals. Claims to marital equality have already compromised religious liberty, the freedom of association, and the free thought and discussion on many platforms.

Does Commissioner Yaki disagree that transgender rights clash with parental rights? Does he think that the Civil Rights Commissions nationwide should ignore questions about what it would mean to take the side of "transgender rights" against parental rights? Does he think religious liberty of so little importance that Civil Rights Commissions should ignore how it is compromised by so-called marriage equality? Does he think Civil Rights Commissions should refrain from investigating the future mental and physical health of children who have been transitioned, against the will of their parents, from one gender to another? Does he think we should cease investigating the mental or physical health of all those who have transitioned, even with parental support? Perhaps I should object to his continued participation as a Civil Rights Commissioner if he thinks all such questions are settled questions or based on sound science!

The inclusion of gender identity within the anti-discrimination regime of the 1964 Civil Rights Act is a cause for no little concern. Under such gender identity claims, a person's subjective, gendered self-image as woman, man or whatever supersedes the objective biological fact of sexual identity as female or male. This new gender identity further may come with a demand that governments and others citizens recognize that new gender as an objective fact—a huge abridgement on the civil rights and the freedom of mind of others. These ideas, taken together, are incoherent and compromise our commitment to limited government. They are incoherent because they nullify the categories of male and female to which the anti-discrimination principle applies. How can a school district remedy supposed unjust discrimination in girls' sports when anyone can qualify, simply on their own assertion, as woman? Does Fairness in Sports demand keeping biological men out of women's sports and aspiring to equal treatment of such sports or does it demand letting transgendered men in and, perhaps, decrease the opportunities for the formerly protected class of women? Idaho has taken the lead in protecting women's sports in these circumstances, and I look forward to participating in studies investigating how this affects opportunities. The demands that Commissioner Yaki makes contain the seeds of a new political order, much less committed to civil rights than our current order.

I am very skeptical of the idea that gender operates independently of sex. I would demand verification, from well-designed studies, that confirmed the proposition that conceiving of gender independently of sex leads to individual and social thriving. It think it is irresponsible to accept, without critical inquiry, the idea that affirming gender identity fosters all manner of social and individual good. It is not at all clear to me that it is better to recognize a person's concept of gender, apart from their biological sex, as authentic and salutary rather than as erroneous or pathological. I would be concerned that acknowledging such an idea compromises other, well-established and important civil rights.

Conservatives participate in Civil Rights Commissions across the country. We generally worry about how anti-discrimination laws, as applied and as construed, abridge fundamental freedoms and can upset prospects of social harmony. We often investigate the implications of such abridgements in our scholarship. On the Yaki standard, would Justice Sam Alito or Justice Clarence Thomas or Chief Justice John Roberts be ineligible to serve on a civil rights commission? They dissented, after all, from the same-sex marriage decisions in Windsor and Obergefell. Two of them dissented in the recent case re-interpreting the 1964 Civil Rights Act. More broadly, would any conservative be allowed to participate unless he or she abandoned his or her conservatism? Perhaps all of these opinions disqualify someone from sitting on an Advisory Board. If they do, it may be hard to justify continued government support for a strictly partisan organ.

Sincerely,
Scott Yenor

Alex,

You are welcome. I was not aware of agreements you mentioned between Commissioners. I now understand that you are serving as the representative for all Commissioners on the negotiations for the March 19th agenda. The posting of the agenda today was required for notice under the requirements of the Sunshine Act in order for the Commission to meet on the 19th. As I reminded Commissioners in my email, at the commencement of the meeting the agenda may be amended by the majority through a voice or roll call vote. Commissioners have the ability to remove or add items for consideration. If the desire of Commissioners is to create an omnibus motion containing a number of MOU's and AI's it can be done by a majority vote. I would recommend that the omnibus motion be read into the record to create a clear transcript of what Commissioners are voting to accomplish. AI's will need prior approval of the General Counsel to ensure legality and compliance with Commission procedures.

A joint chairmanship to conduct the meeting would be extraordinary and outside my six year experience serving as the staff director. I am unsure why you would not simplify the process by voting Commissioner Cantu into the Chair at the beginning of the meeting as requested by the President and thereby allowing her to conduct the business meeting as is the regular process for the Commission. However, if the Commissioners wish to a conduct a business meeting with two Commissioners acting as a joint Chair, I will have the GC look into how it can be accomplished. Lastly, there is no AI or statute that "requires" Commissioner Cantu's appointment to be listed first on the business meeting agenda. It is highly irregular and disruptive to operate the Commission without a Chair as you have witnessed in the past weeks. Listing the motion first on the agenda for a vote on the Chairmanship was done as a matter of respect to Commissioner Cantu, to honor the request of the President and as a practical way to undertake the work of the Commission. If the majority of Commissioners desire another process to commence the meeting on the 19th we will do our best to honor their wishes. I have cc'd all Commissioners, all SA's and the agency executive staff for transparency and to be prepared to take steps to carry out commissioner requests. I look forward to hearing from you and reviewing your MOU's and AI's as negotiated and deemed acceptable to Commissioners.

Dear Mauro:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Thank you for sending the meeting agenda for next Friday.

It is our understanding that several Commissioners agreed to allow Commissioners Yaki and Kirsanow to co-chair the start of the business meeting. Furthermore, it is our understanding that several Commissioners agreed for the agenda to list first an omnibus motion that would include President Biden's appointment of Commissioner Cantú as chairperson as well as several MOUs and AIs. All this assumes that the pre-meeting negotiations over exact wording go well (and we anticipate that they will).

On the other hand, we are unaware of any AI or statute that requires Commissioner Cantú's appointment to be listed first on a business-meeting agenda. If your position is different, then please provide us with the citation to the appropriate authority.

Alex

Commissioners,

I have attached the hyperlink to the agenda for the March 19th Commission Business Meeting. As you are aware, Commissioners agreed to schedule this business meeting on September 11th , 2020 by a unanimous vote. In order to meet requirements for compliance with the Sunshine Act, the notice had to be posted today. Commissioner Cantu was consulted in creation of the agenda and it was developed pursuant to previous and ongoing communications she had with other Commissioners. The very first order of business must be the vote on President Biden's designation of Commissioner Cantu to become Commission Chair. I defer to Commissioners as to who they want to make the motion to vote on her Chairmanship. After the vote occurs and in anticipation of Commissioner Cantu becoming Chair, she can then run the rest of the business meeting as Chair. A motion to adopt or amend the agenda would be in order after she becomes Chair. I understand that there are ongoing discussions to potentially add items for Commissioner discussion and votes. As always, Commissioners may amend the agenda to add or remove items with a majority voice or roll call vote of Commissioners. Items not ready for consideration at that time may be deferred to the next business meeting scheduled for April if necessary.

Commissioner folders will be populated with relevant information on Friday and during the week leading up to the business meeting. In addition, you will receive the telephone conference call number that will enable you to join and speak during the meeting.

Please contact me if you have any questions.

Dear Norma, Pete and Michael—

In just a little while, I will send a few of the documents the conservatives SAs sent me that attempt to memorialize the various pieces of our tentative agreement. They came up with a lot more ... uh ... words than I thought they would. I still haven't read through it all.

The SAs (and Christian and Stephen) are very concerned that our "book" of AIs is a mess. New AIs haven't always been integrated into the book in the right place. AIs that have been superseded by newer AIs haven't been deleted. Long since abandoned procedures are sometimes still in the book. So they've attempted a little clean up as they memorialize our tentative agreement

As I get a chance to read and digest what they've proposed, I will send more on to you. But let me get at least some of it out to you in the next few minutes.

Draft2
Dear Commissioners Heriot and Kirsanow,
It appears that your colleagues are adding new items to the list of requests. I am disappointed because we have already come close to running out of time for the 8, now 9, now 10 items on your Caucus's list of requests.
Item #1. We will not be able to change or add any Ais by Friday's meeting. I will ask for a Commissioner to offer a motion for vote in favor of continuing the current practice and policy of Commissioners. The language might go into an AI later but we have run out of time.
Item #2. I will ask for a Commissioner to offer a motion for a vote regarding the EAC Board of Advisors only. There are no other appointments pending and the vote on other bodies would be speculative.
Item #3. I have already offered to send you an email canceling the Speaker's series, once I am elected Chair. There is no need for an MOU. MOUs are for agreements between agencies, not within agencies.
Item #4. I still do not understand the problems about recruiting and vetting proposed members to the State Advisory Council. We will need a fuller discussion of why there appears to be a lag in numbers of Republicans in the nomination pools. We already have AI 59 Section 5 and Section 7.08 that require bipartisan participation on the SACs.
Item #5 I have no objection to using Robert's Rules provided we are using the same versions (there have been updates). I suggest a Commissioner offer a motion on this. I cannot agree on the AI's overruling Robert's Rules until I have read the "book" of Ais. Otherwise, I would not be performing my due diligence.
Item #6 We already have a rule in 7.01.11c that any Commissioner may make a motion at the beginning of a called meeting to add items to the agenda so I do not agree an AI would be needed to make amendments to the agenda before the meeting, even if we had time to write one by Friday. If we adopt Robert's Rules, this question would be answered.
Item #7 On the request that a majority of Commissioners is needed to cancel a meeting, this would impeded our ability to cancel meetings if conditions such as the Texas Ice Storm of 2021 were to cut WIFI. We need more discussion and we are out of time.
Item #8. We should wait on the item regarding the absence of the Chair because I understand the Office of Presidential Personnel is working nominating a Vice Chair, subject to the Commission's vote.
Item #9 This was added last week by Heriot and Kirsanow. I thought you were talking about content interviews, but realized you might be talking about job interviews. In either event, the Commission should not attend interviews so as to preserve the objectivity of the process and not bring in partisanship.
Item #10 I just saw it today and we don't have time for new items for Friday's meeting.

To summarize, I know Gail can't free herself up today. If we-Gail, Peter, Norma and Michael- worked on it tonight or tomorrow, we might get Items without Ais done for votes on Friday. By this, I mean Items 1, 2, 3, and 5.

Finally, there are members of my Caucus who believe that there should be concessions from your Caucus on part of the items on your agenda and these concessions should be part of the negotiations. Given that there are no other substantive items on the agenda for the March 19th Friday meeting, now that the FEMA plan has passed (thank you!), I suggest we inform Mauro that-for this meeting only-- pending resolution of Item #7—a majority wants the Friday business meeting cancelled, and we use the time on Friday to continue our discussions of these items.

Draft2
Dear Commissioners Heriot and Kirsanow,
It appears that your colleagues are adding new items to the list of requests. I am disappointed because we have already come close to running out of time for the 8, now 9, now 10 items on your Caucus's list of requests.
Item #1. We will not be able to change or add any Ais by Friday's meeting. I will ask for a Commissioner to offer a motion for vote in favor of continuing the current practice and policy of Commissioners. The language might go into an AI later but we have run out of time.
Item #2. I will ask for a Commissioner to offer a motion for a vote regarding the EAC Board of Advisors only. There are no other appointments pending and the vote on other bodies would be speculative.
Item #3. I have already offered to send you an email canceling the Speaker's series, once I am elected Chair. There is no need for an MOU. MOUs are for agreements between agencies, not within agencies.
Item #4. I still do not understand the problems about recruiting and vetting proposed members to the State Advisory Council. We will need a fuller discussion of why there appears to be a lag in numbers of Republicans in the nomination pools. We already have AI 59 Section 5 and Section 7.08 that require bipartisan participation on the SACs.
Item #5 I have no objection to using Robert's Rules provided we are using the same versions (there have been updates). I suggest a Commissioner offer a motion on this. I cannot agree on the AI's overruling Robert's Rules until I have read the "book" of Ais. Otherwise, I would not be performing my due diligence.
Item #6 We already have a rule in 7.01.11c that any Commissioner may make a motion at the beginning of a called meeting to add items to the agenda so I do not agree an AI would be needed to make amendments to the agenda before the meeting, even if we had time to write one by Friday. If we adopt Robert's Rules, this question would be answered.

Item #7 On the request that a majority of Commissioners is needed to cancel a meeting, this would impeded our ability to cancel meetings if conditions such as the Texas Ice Storm of 2021 were to cut WIFI. We need more discussion and we are out of time.
Item #8. We should wait on the item regarding the absence of the Chair because I understand the Office of Presidential Personnel is working nominating a Vice Chair, subject to the Commission's vote.
Item #9 This was added last week by Heriot and Kirsanow. I thought you were talking about content interviews, but realized you might be talking about job interviews. In either event, the Commission should not attend interviews so as to preserve the objectivity of the process and not bring in partisanship.
Item #10 I just saw it today and we don't have time for new items for Friday's meeting.

To summarize, I know Gail can't free herself up today. If we-Gail, Peter, Norma and Michael- worked on it tonight or tomorrow, we might get Items without Ais done for votes on Friday. By this, I mean Items 1, 2, 3, and 5.

Finally, there are members of my Caucus who believe that there should be concessions from your Caucus on part of the items on your agenda and these concessions should be part of the negotiations. Given that there are no other substantive items on the agenda for the March 19th Friday meeting, now that the FEMA plan has passed (thank you!), I suggest we inform Mauro that-for this meeting only-- pending resolution of Item #7—a majority wants the Friday business meeting cancelled, and we use the time on Friday to continue our discussions of these items.

Hi Norma—Yes, it's okay with me if you want to cancel the Friday meeting. It's a good idea.

And you were right about the OCRE meetings. We were talking about content interviews, not job interviews. If you want to meet to iron this stuff out on Thursday and/or Friday, that works fine with me. We can get this done.

Hi Gail,

The short version is that Norma is pushing back on everything substantive, does not want these to go into AIs or MOUs ("I will gladly pay you tomorrow if you give me a hamburger today"), and says that her caucus wants our caucus to make concessions for these things. Apparently they still do not understand that the concession is that Norma becomes chair. Because of that, she wants to cancel the Friday business meeting and use that as a time for the working group to discuss these things.

Pete is not happy about this and he thinks this takes the pressure off them, but he doesn't want to do anything that pushes them into removing Christian or Stephen. He says he is willing to postpone the meeting for one week so the Sunshine Act notice can be published and so you can hold a meeting next Friday. Pete, one thought that occurred to me after we got off the phone - I don't know that they will agree to that. They may say that the scheduled April 16th meeting is soon enough.

Item #3. I have already offered to send you an email canceling the Speaker's series, once I am elected Chair. There is no need for an MOU. MOUs are for agreements between agencies, not within agencies.

Item #4. I still do not understand the problems about recruiting and vetting proposed members to the State Advisory Council. We will need a fuller discussion of why there appears to be a lag in numbers of Republicans in the nomination pools. We already have AI 59 Section 5 and Section 7.08 that require bipartisan participation on the SACs.

Item #5 I have no objection to using Robert's Rules provided we are using the same versions (there have been updates). I suggest a Commissioner offer a motion on this. I cannot agree on the AI's overruling Robert's Rules until I have read the "book" of Ais. Otherwise, I would not be performing my due diligence.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Item #6 We already have a rule in 7.01.11c that any Commissioner may make a motion at the beginning of a called meeting to add items to the agenda so I do not agree an AI would be needed to make amendments to the agenda before the meeting, even if we had time to write one by Friday. If we adopt Robert's Rules, this question would be answered.

Item #7 On the request that a majority of Commissioners is needed to cancel a meeting, this would impeded our ability to cancel meetings if conditions such as the Texas Ice Storm of 2021 were to cut WIFI. We need more discussion and we are out of time.

Item #8. We should wait on the item regarding the absence of the Chair because I understand the Office of Presidential Personnel is working nominating a Vice Chair, subject to the Commission's vote.

Item #9 This was added last week by Heriot and Kirsanow. I thought you were talking about content interviews, but realized you might be talking about job interviews. In either event, the Commission should not attend interviews so as to preserve the objectivity of the process and not bring in partisanship.

Item #10 I just saw it today and we don't have time for new items for Friday's meeting.

To summarize, I know Gail can't free herself up today. If we-Gail, Peter, Norma and Michael- worked on it tonight or tomorrow, we might get Items without Ais done for votes on Friday. By this, I mean Items 1, 2, 3, and 5.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Finally, there are members of my Caucus who believe that there should be concessions from your Caucus on part of the items on your agenda and these concessions should be part of the negotiations. Given that there are no other substantive items on the agenda for the March 19th Friday meeting, now that the FEMA plan has passed (thank you!), I suggest we inform Mauro that-for this meeting only-- pending resolution of Item #7—a majority wants the Friday business meeting cancelled, and we use the time on Friday to continue our discussions of these items as a working group of four.

Hi Gail,

The short version is that Norma is pushing back on everything substantive, does not want these to go into AIs or MOUs ("I will gladly pay you tomorrow if you give me a hamburger today"), and says that her caucus wants our caucus to make concessions for these things. Apparently they still do not understand that the concession is that Norma becomes chair. Because of that, she wants to cancel the Friday business meeting and use that as a time for the working group to discuss these things.

Pete is not happy about this and he thinks this takes the pressure off them, but he doesn't want to do anything that pushes them into removing Christian or Stephen. He says he is willing to postpone the meeting for one week so the Sunshine Act notice can be published and so you can hold a meeting next Friday. Pete, one thought that occurred to me after we got off the phone - I don't know that they will agree to that. They may say that the scheduled April 16th meeting is soon enough.

Dear Commissioners Heriot and Kirsanow,
It appears that your colleagues are adding new items to the list of requests. I am disappointed because we have already come close to running out of time for the 8, now 9, now 10 items on your Caucus's list of requests.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

for a Commissioner to offer a motion for vote in favor of continuing the current practice and policy of Commissioners. The language might go into an AI later but we have run out of time.

Item #2. I will ask for a Commissioner to offer a motion for a vote regarding the EAC Board of Advisors only. There are no other appointments pending and the vote on other bodies would be speculative.

Item #3. I have already offered to send you an email canceling the Speaker's series, once I am elected Chair. There is no need for an MOU. MOUs are for agreements between agencies, not within agencies.

Item #4. I still do not understand the problems about recruiting and vetting proposed members to the State Advisory Council. We will need a fuller discussion of why there appears to be a lag in numbers of Republicans in the nomination pools. We already have AI 59 Section 5 and Section 7.08 that require bipartisan participation on the SACs.

Item #5 I have no objection to using Robert's Rules provided we are using the same versions (there have been updates). I suggest a Commissioner offer a motion on this. I cannot agree on the AI's overruling Robert's Rules until I have read the "book" of Ais. Otherwise, I would not be performing my due diligence.

Item #6 We already have a rule in 7.01.11c that any Commissioner may make a motion at the beginning of a called meeting to add items to the agenda so I do not agree an AI would be needed to make amendments to the agenda before the meeting, even if we had time to write one by Friday. If we adopt Robert's Rules, this question would be answered.

Item #7 On the request that a majority of Commissioners is needed to cancel a meeting, this would impeded our ability to cancel meetings if conditions such as the

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Texas Ice Storm of 2021 were to cut WIFI. We need more discussion and we are out of time.

Item #8. We should wait on the item regarding the absence of the Chair because I understand the Office of Presidential Personnel is working nominating a Vice Chair, subject to the Commission's vote.

Item #9 This was added last week by Heriot and Kirsanow. I thought you were talking about content interviews, but realized you might be talking about job interviews. In either event, the Commission should not attend interviews so as to preserve the objectivity of the process and not bring in partisanship.

Item #10 I just saw it today and we don't have time for new items for Friday's meeting.

To summarize, I know Gail can't free herself up today. If we-Gail, Peter, Norma and Michael- worked on it tonight or tomorrow, we might get Items without Ais done for votes on Friday. By this, I mean Items 1, 2, 3, and 5.

Finally, there are members of my Caucus who believe that there should be concessions from your Caucus on part of the items on your agenda and these concessions should be part of the negotiations. Given that there are no other substantive items on the agenda for the March 19th Friday meeting, now that the FEMA plan has passed (thank you!), I suggest we inform Mauro that-for this meeting only-- pending resolution of Item #7—a majority wants the Friday business meeting cancelled, and we use the time on Friday to continue our discussions of these items as a working group of four.

I think this is right. It also makes it even odder that Norma started backtracking, because Yaki sent back edits to this, and the only substantive thing he proposed was to make Point 9 an AI so the staff won't ignore us.

Quick excerpt from Wiki:

> In 1983, Reagan attempted to fire three members of the commission. They sued the administration in federal court to stay on. The authorizing legislation stated that a president could only fire a commissioner for "misbehavior in office," and it was clear that the terminations were the result of disagreements over policy. A compromise brokered in the Senate resulted in the current hybrid group of eight, half appointed by the president and half by the Congress, with six-year terms that do not expire with the inauguration of a new president. Since that time the commission has struggled to remain independent, and its agenda has oscillated between liberal and conservative aims as factions among its members have ebbed and waned.[10]

President Reagan tried to remove commissioners and he got sued and lost for removing them." She would NOT HAVE BROUGHT THIS up unless that chatter is occurring somewhere. And after all, ask Roger Severino if the Biden people are thinking like this. Bottom Line: some members of the Commission may be thinking they can improve their bargaining position by altering the composition of the commission and getting rid of two of us. Whether or not they are correct is irrelevant to Yaki or Debo's potential perception of this option.

Re: U.S. Election Assistance Commission
Board of Advisors Membership Appointment

Dear Mr. Morales,

As you are aware, the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA) created the U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC) and established three advisory boards to assist the EAC: Board of Advisors, Standards Board, and Technical Guidelines Development Committee. The advisory boards are primarily charged with providing advice, guidance, and support to the EAC on the ongoing development of the Voluntary Voting System Guidelines (VVSG).

Under Section 214 of HAVA, your organization is authorized to appoint two members to the Board of Advisors. The Board of Advisors Charter and Bylaws govern the advisory board.

Please be advised that your designated representatives' two-year terms to the Board of Advisors expire on April 13, 2021. You can either reappoint your current representative(s) or appoint new representative(s) for a new two-year term. In compliance with HAVA, please make appointments "in a manner which ensures that the Board of Advisors will be bipartisan in nature and will reflect the various geographic regions of the United States." 52 U.S.C § 20944(b).

Your current representatives are:

Michael Yaki

David Kladney

The new term of your member representatives will begin on April 13, 2021 coinciding with the renewal of the Board of Advisor's Charter.

Please use the enclosed Notice of Representation form to advise us of your designated representatives to serve on the EAC Board of Advisors for the upcoming two-year term. Please return this completed form by email to krayburn@eac.gov no later than March 26, 2021.

While the EAC recently adopted VVSG 2.0, we are committed to an agile process that includes continually working with our advisory boards to identify enhancements to the VVSG. The usability, accessibility, and security of voting systems continue to be of critical importance, and recommendations from the advisory boards are as imperative as ever. Therefore, your prompt response to this letter is greatly appreciated.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. If we can be of assistance, please feel free to contact us at 202-740-6546 or krayburn@eac.gov.

Sincerely,

Hello, all,
Not hearing a response, I am checking in on a good time to complete our task on the proposed AI's, etc.

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI's and the newest version of Robert's Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hello, all,

Not hearing a response, I am checking in on a good time to complete our task on the proposed AI′s, etc.

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won′t take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI′s or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI′s and the newest version of Robert′s Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

Hello, all,

Not hearing a response, I am checking in on a good time to complete our task on the proposed AI's, etc.

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI's and the newest version of Robert's Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI's and the newest version of Robert's Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COLORADO: 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat).

- Comm. Heriot objected to Prof. Ming Hsu Chen on the basis of an article she wrote called, "Colorblind Nationalism."
- Prof. Chen responded, and Mauro kept her on the slate on the basis of the response.
- Full objection from Comm. Heriot:

In her article, Prof. Chen says that racist and anti-immigrant "policies are cloaked in the neutral language of national protection, public health, and economic justice." Therefore, anyone who supports those facially colorblind policies is racist. More broadly, Prof. Chen suggests that anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist.

It is inappropriate for a SAC member to make wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people. This article reveals Prof. Chen's bad faith. Additionally, her embrace of Ibram X. Kendi's "anti-racist" ideology is troubling, as that ideology in and of itself promotes discrimination.

Prof. Chen's article in the Yale Journal on Regulation, "Colorblind Nationalism," (available here) is particularly objectionable for a member of a State Advisory Committee.

- Full response from Prof. Chen:

Dear Mr. Mussatt and Mr. Morales,

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to Commissioner Heriot's objection. This objection seems to be based on a single sentence from an opinion piece, which I discuss below, but please note her objection paraphrases my essay in ways that mischaracterize the essay and my beliefs.

For example:

- I do not say or believe that "anyone who supports facially colorblind policies is racist"
- I do not say that or believe that "anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist"
- There is also no basis for her claim that I write or act in "bad faith" in her formal objection.

As some background, I have served on the Colorado State Advisory Committee for 4-years (2016-2020). During that time, I worked collaboratively with all SAC members after my project proposal on the naturalization backlog was unanimously adopted in 2018. This work included working together on a briefing with expert testimony from 12 speakers representing a range of perspectives, addressing all SAC member voices in when drafting our report, and incorporating suggestions during the subsequent revisions and adoption of the report. The resulting 2019 report has since been cited widely in media and other academic and policy research. A 2020 update and 2-page statement of concern was adopted unanimously by the CO SAC, and USCCR Chair Catherine Lhamon endorsed and sent her own letter to the impacted agency.

During my tenure, I also supported projects spearheaded by other SAC members, including ones sponsored by our more conservative members on religious freedom and racial disparities in infant/maternal mortality. In each of these projects, I was an active team member and made good faith efforts to listen to evidence from our hearings, to consider the divergent viewpoints, and to incorporate and suggest revisions on my reports and others that would build a broader consensus.

Outside of my service to SAC, my professional qualifications include a ten-year history of academic teaching and writing in immigration, civil rights, and administrative law at the University of Colorado Law School. This has included presentations with scholars from many viewpoints. Not infrequently I've been invited by members of conservative groups like the Federalist Society or the National Association of Attorney Generals to be a reasonable voice in their discussions. In these and other endeavors, I have never been accused of bias in my professional work.

In my personal capacity, I occasionally write short opinion pieces such as the essay that is cited in the objection and published in a special symposium on racism and the law for the online edition of the nation's premiere specialty journal on administrative law. I would describe my own views in the essay as advocating for greater racial equality for immigrants negatively impacted by travel bans and expressing an abiding concern that our federal government adhere to fair procedures in the issuance of such policies. There is no basis for saying that these views amount to "wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people" or that they "embrace Ibram X. Kendi's antiracist ideology… as that ideology itself promotes discrimination." I am not familiar with Ibram X Kendi's writings on antiracism and do not read, engage with, nor cite his work in this essay or my other scholarship. Moreover, the piece does not claim to represent the views of CO SAC or the USCCR. While I do not think the views expressed in the essay are objectionable, even if they were, I would not bring personal biases into my professional service.
In closing, I recognize that reasonable people disagree on the best means of achieving equality.

My sense is that Commissioner Heriot misunderstands my perspectives and seeks to associate me with views that are more extreme than my own. Rather than rely on her second-hand description of an opinion piece written in my personal capacity, I would encourage the USCCR to apply a fair minded consideration of my application that focuses on my actual statements and my record of service to the CO SAC and USCCR.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

IDAHO

Commissioner Yaki's objection

Dear Dr. Yenor:

Thank you for your service on the Idaho Advisory Committee and for your recent application for reappointment. Your name was included on the list of nominated individuals that is currently being reviewed by the Commissioners prior to appointment. As part of that review, Commissioner Yaki has made a formal objection to your nomination on the Committee because of an alleged comment you made.

Pursuant to our Administrative Instructions, when Commissioner objections pertain to a proposed member's public statement, then that nominee is provided the opportunity to respond in writing to the raised concern. The Staff Director will then consider the written response when making the final determination on whether to include the nominee on the list of individuals to be recommended for appointment.

The Commissioner has objected to your reappointment to the Idaho Advisory Committee because the Commissioner believes you are hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights. Furthermore, The Commissioner believes your public statements render you incapable of, and unable to, protect the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions. Citations to your most objectionable public statements on the issues at hand include:

Mr. Yenor's Reponse

Dear Mr. Mussatt,
Thank you for forwarding the objections of Commissioner Michael Yaki and giving me two days to respond. I would like to know more about the process for how my response will be evaluated. Is the whole USCCR to respond? How will responses be tabulated? In any event, again thank you for forwarding these objections.

The objections to my re-nomination to the Idaho Advisory committee on civil rights are (1) that I am "hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights" as evidenced in my public writings and (2) that my "public statements render [me] incapable of, and unable to, protect (sic) the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Claims of discrimination under the current civil rights regime must be established through rational inquiry aided, where appropriate, by social science. Proposed policies to combat alleged discrimination must then be weighed through a rational public policy process. Policies must be evaluated critically if they are implemented.

Civil rights are hardly an all or nothing proposition. Some civil rights clash with other civil rights. Civil rights almost always require a balancing of various claims or a negotiation of the rights of various groups. In objecting to my participation on the commission, Commissioner Yaki seems to deny that civil rights matters involve such balancing or to deny that some important civil rights should be protected or to deny that some civil rights claims should be heard or entertained; he seems to want civil rights for only some groups and not for others. He gives civil rights a bad name in so doing.

Suppose a civil rights commission finds itself adjudicating a claim of transgender rights as civil rights. In making a fair-minded adjudication, the commission would have to consider the relation between such transgender rights and other civil rights in our tradition such as the free exercise of religion, parental rights, rights against sex discrimination. It would have to determine how transgender rights weigh against those rights. In doing so, it would be necessary to inquire into the rational basis for claims of transgender rights and the likely consequences of affirming them, just as it would be necessary to see what would happen from denying them.

My work raises questions about the evidence that proves discrimination and it concerns the clash of civil rights in politics. Claims of transgender rights can, in some circumstances, I have argued, clash with parental rights (as when a school insists on transitioning a child from one gender to another without informing the parents or against their will). Such instances are, as my research argues, more likely to harm the child and, if multiplied, are likely to have a corrosive effect on parental rights, a crucial civil right (as established in Meyer v. Nebraska and Pierce v. Society of Sisters). Seeing children as products of state mandates in these instances is more likely to undermine well-functioning institutions than it is to promote a good society or thriving individuals. Claims to marital equality have already compromised religious liberty, the freedom of association, and the free thought and discussion on many platforms.

Does Commissioner Yaki disagree that transgender rights clash with parental rights? Does he think that the Civil Rights Commissions nationwide should ignore questions about what it would mean to take the side of "transgender rights" against parental rights? Does he think religious liberty of so little importance that Civil Rights Commissions should ignore how it is compromised by so-called marriage equality? Does he think Civil Rights Commissions should refrain from investigating the future mental and physical health of children who have been transitioned, against the will of their parents, from one gender to another? Does he think we should cease investigating the mental or physical health of all those who have transitioned, even with parental support? Perhaps I should object to his continued participation as a Civil Rights Commissioner if he thinks all such questions are settled questions or based on sound science!

The inclusion of gender identity within the anti-discrimination regime of the 1964 Civil Rights Act is a cause for no little concern. Under such gender identity claims, a person's subjective, gendered self-image as woman, man or whatever supersedes the objective biological fact of sexual identity as female or male. This new gender identity further may come with a demand that governments and others citizens recognize that new gender as an objective fact—a huge abridgement on the civil rights and the freedom of mind of others. These ideas, taken together, are incoherent and compromise our commitment to limited government. They are incoherent because they nullify the categories of male and female to which the anti-discrimination principle applies. How can a school district remedy supposed unjust discrimination in girls' sports when anyone can qualify, simply on their own assertion, as woman? Does Fairness in Sports demand keeping biological men out of women's sports and aspiring to equal treatment of such sports or does it demand letting transgendered men in and, perhaps, decrease the opportunities for the formerly protected class of women? Idaho has taken the lead in protecting women's sports in these circumstances, and I look forward to participating in studies investigating how this affects opportunities. The demands that Commissioner Yaki makes contain the seeds of a new political order, much less committed to civil rights than our current order.

I am very skeptical of the idea that gender operates independently of sex. I would demand verification, from well-designed studies, that confirmed the proposition that conceiving of gender independently of sex leads to individual and social thriving. It think it is irresponsible to accept, without critical inquiry, the idea that affirming gender identity fosters all manner of social and individual good. It is not at all clear to me that it is better to recognize a person's concept of gender, apart from their biological sex, as authentic and salutary rather than as erroneous or pathological. I would be concerned that acknowledging such an idea compromises other, well-established and important civil rights.

Conservatives participate in Civil Rights Commissions across the country. We generally worry about how anti-discrimination laws, as applied and as construed, abridge fundamental freedoms and can upset prospects of social harmony. We often investigate the implications of such abridgements in our scholarship. On the Yaki standard, would Justice Sam Alito or Justice Clarence Thomas or Chief Justice John Roberts be ineligible to serve on a civil rights commission? They dissented, after all, from the same-sex marriage decisions in Windsor and Obergefell. Two of them dissented in the recent case re-interpreting the 1964 Civil Rights Act. More broadly, would any conservative be allowed to participate unless he or she abandoned his or her conservatism? Perhaps all of these opinions disqualify someone from sitting on an Advisory Board. If they do, it may be hard to justify continued government support for a strictly partisan organ.

Sincerely,
Scott Yenor

Hello all,

We are scheduled for a caucus call today at 3:00 Eastern/ 12:00 Pacific. The number is 1-877-446-3914, passcode 858713#

Agenda items:

- Update from Comms. Cantu and Yaki on discussions regarding Chair confirmation
- Business meeting on Friday (Sunshine Act notice attached)
    - Need for agenda amendments: remove FEMA discovery materials, as already approved by notational vote
    - Remove/combine other items?

        - Bi-partisan appointment to EAC board of advisors
    - Statement on violence against AAPI community?
- SAC updates
    - Potential compromise on North Carolina SAC, adding one member for an 8/8 balance
        - The Democratic caucus accepts adding Mincey *please see context below (no additional application needed)
        - The Republican caucus will remove the objection to Lechner *please see context below (no additional application needed)
        - Vote in the SAC w/8-8 balance
            - Slate failed to get a majority vote on Friday 10/30.
            - 15 candidates, 8 Democrats (including two Independents who lean Democrat), 7 Republicans (including one candidate who identified as “something else”).
            - Note that Olga Wright, the returning Chair, identifies herself as a Democrat but ran for public office as a Republican in all her past elections.
            - Comm. Kirsanow (and Adams) objected to the balance of the slate, and requested that it be shifted to 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats (removing one Dem).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

        - John/Adams objected to the inclusion of Jennifer Lechner as he don't consider her a true Republican." In her stead they would like to replace her with a Mr. Patrick Mincey who Carissa recruited. Replacing Lechner with Mincey takes the gender balance of the slate to 11 men and 4 women. Mincey is a white collar crime attorney and lacks major civil rights experience, however in our vetting process we did not find anything objectionable regarding his public statements or conduct
    - Colorado and Idaho SACs
        - R's proposal - Dr. Chen in CO if we allow Dr. Yenor in ID (objections and responses attached)
    - Need for information from regional staff on status of recruiting for remainder of 14 expired committees
- Status of AI availability for Commissioners
    - A version of the AI's that was current in 2014 is available online, need information and a timeline from the GC for updating that version

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

COLORADO: 12 candidates, 6 Republicans (including one Independent who leans Republican), 6 Democrats (including one Independent who leans Democrat).

- Comm. Heriot objected to Prof. Ming Hsu Chen on the basis of an article she wrote called, "Colorblind Nationalism."
- Prof. Chen responded, and Mauro kept her on the slate on the basis of the response.
- Full objection from Comm. Heriot:

In her article, Prof. Chen says that racist and anti-immigrant "policies are cloaked in the neutral language of national protection, public health, and economic justice." Therefore, anyone who supports those facially colorblind policies is racist. More broadly, Prof. Chen suggests that anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist.

It is inappropriate for a SAC member to make wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people. This article reveals Prof. Chen's bad faith. Additionally, her embrace of Ibram X. Kendi's "anti-racist" ideology is troubling, as that ideology in and of itself promotes discrimination.

Prof. Chen's article in the Yale Journal on Regulation, "Colorblind Nationalism," (available here) is particularly objectionable for a member of a State Advisory Committee.

- Full response from Prof. Chen:

Dear Mr. Mussatt and Mr. Morales,

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to Commissioner Heriot's objection. This objection seems to be based on a single sentence from an opinion piece, which I discuss below, but please note her objection paraphrases my essay in ways that mischaracterize the essay and my beliefs.

For example:

- I do not say or believe that "anyone who supports facially colorblind policies is racist"
- I do not say that or believe that "anyone who favors any level of immigration restriction is a white supremacist"
- There is also no basis for her claim that I write or act in "bad faith" in her formal objection.

As some background, I have served on the Colorado State Advisory Committee for 4-years (2016-2020). During that time, I worked collaboratively with all SAC members after my project proposal on the naturalization backlog was unanimously adopted in 2018. This work included working together on a briefing with expert testimony from 12 speakers representing a range of perspectives, addressing all SAC member voices in when drafting our report, and incorporating suggestions during the subsequent revisions and adoption of the report. The resulting 2019 report has since been cited widely in media and other academic and policy research. A 2020 update and 2-page statement of concern was adopted unanimously by the CO SAC, and USCCR Chair Catherine Lhamon endorsed and sent her own letter to the impacted agency.

During my tenure, I also supported projects spearheaded by other SAC members, including ones sponsored by our more conservative members on religious freedom and racial disparities in infant/maternal mortality. In each of these projects, I was an active team member and made good faith efforts to listen to evidence from our hearings, to consider the divergent viewpoints, and to incorporate and suggest revisions on my reports and others that would build a broader consensus.

Outside of my service to SAC, my professional qualifications include a ten-year history of academic teaching and writing in immigration, civil rights, and administrative law at the University of Colorado Law School. This has included presentations with scholars from many viewpoints. Not infrequently I've been invited by members of conservative groups like the Federalist Society or the National Association of Attorney Generals to be a reasonable voice in their discussions. In these and other endeavors, I have never been accused of bias in my professional work.

In my personal capacity, I occasionally write short opinion pieces such as the essay that is cited in the objection and published in a special symposium on racism and the law for the online edition of the nation's premiere specialty journal on administrative law. I would describe my own views in the essay as advocating for greater racial equality for immigrants negatively impacted by travel bans and expressing an abiding concern that our federal government adhere to fair procedures in the issuance of such policies. There is no basis for saying that these views amount to "wild accusations of racism against entire groups of people" or that they "embrace Ibram X. Kendi's antiracist ideology… as that ideology itself promotes discrimination." I am not familiar with Ibram X Kendi's writings on antiracism and do not read, engage with, nor cite his work in this essay or my other scholarship. Moreover, the piece does not claim to represent the views of CO SAC or the USCCR. While I do not think the views expressed in the essay are objectionable, even if they were, I would not bring personal biases into my professional service.
In closing, I recognize that reasonable people disagree on the best means of achieving equality.

My sense is that Commissioner Heriot misunderstands my perspectives and seeks to associate me with views that are more extreme than my own. Rather than rely on her second-hand description of an opinion piece written in my personal capacity, I would encourage the USCCR to apply a fair minded consideration of my application that focuses on my actual statements and my record of service to the CO SAC and USCCR.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

IDAHO

Commissioner Yaki's objection

Dear Dr. Yenor:

Thank you for your service on the Idaho Advisory Committee and for your recent application for reappointment. Your name was included on the list of nominated individuals that is currently being reviewed by the Commissioners prior to appointment. As part of that review, Commissioner Yaki has made a formal objection to your nomination on the Committee because of an alleged comment you made.

Pursuant to our Administrative Instructions, when Commissioner objections pertain to a proposed member's public statement, then that nominee is provided the opportunity to respond in writing to the raised concern. The Staff Director will then consider the written response when making the final determination on whether to include the nominee on the list of individuals to be recommended for appointment.

The Commissioner has objected to your reappointment to the Idaho Advisory Committee because the Commissioner believes you are hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights. Furthermore, The Commissioner believes your public statements render you incapable of, and unable to, protect the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions. Citations to your most objectionable public statements on the issues at hand include:

Mr. Yenor's Reponse

Dear Mr. Mussatt,
Thank you for forwarding the objections of Commissioner Michael Yaki and giving me two days to respond. I would like to know more about the process for how my response will be evaluated. Is the whole USCCR to respond? How will responses be tabulated? In any event, again thank you for forwarding these objections.

The objections to my re-nomination to the Idaho Advisory committee on civil rights are (1) that I am "hostile to marriage equality and transgender rights" as evidenced in my public writings and (2) that my "public statements render [me] incapable of, and unable to, protect (sic) the constitutional rights supported by recent Supreme Court opinions."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Claims of discrimination under the current civil rights regime must be established through rational inquiry aided, where appropriate, by social science. Proposed policies to combat alleged discrimination must then be weighed through a rational public policy process. Policies must be evaluated critically if they are implemented.

Civil rights are hardly an all or nothing proposition. Some civil rights clash with other civil rights. Civil rights almost always require a balancing of various claims or a negotiation of the rights of various groups. In objecting to my participation on the commission, Commissioner Yaki seems to deny that civil rights matters involve such balancing or to deny that some important civil rights should be protected or to deny that some civil rights claims should be heard or entertained; he seems to want civil rights for only some groups and not for others. He gives civil rights a bad name in so doing.

Suppose a civil rights commission finds itself adjudicating a claim of transgender rights as civil rights. In making a fair-minded adjudication, the commission would have to consider the relation between such transgender rights and other civil rights in our tradition such as the free exercise of religion, parental rights, rights against sex discrimination. It would have to determine how transgender rights weigh against those rights. In doing so, it would be necessary to inquire into the rational basis for claims of transgender rights and the likely consequences of affirming them, just as it would be necessary to see what would happen from denying them.

My work raises questions about the evidence that proves discrimination and it concerns the clash of civil rights in politics. Claims of transgender rights can, in some circumstances, I have argued, clash with parental rights (as when a school insists on transitioning a child from one gender to another without informing the parents or against their will). Such instances are, as my research argues, more likely to harm the child and, if multiplied, are likely to have a corrosive effect on parental rights, a crucial civil right (as established in Meyer v. Nebraska and Pierce v. Society of Sisters). Seeing children as products of state mandates in these instances is more likely to undermine well-functioning institutions than it is to promote a good society or thriving individuals. Claims to marital equality have already compromised religious liberty, the freedom of association, and the free thought and discussion on many platforms.

Does Commissioner Yaki disagree that transgender rights clash with parental rights? Does he think that the Civil Rights Commissions nationwide should ignore questions about what it would mean to take the side of "transgender rights" against parental rights? Does he think religious liberty of so little importance that Civil Rights Commissions should ignore how it is compromised by so-called marriage equality? Does he think Civil Rights Commissions should refrain from investigating the future mental and physical health of children who have been transitioned, against the will of their parents, from one gender to another? Does he think we should cease investigating the mental or physical health of all those who have transitioned, even with parental support? Perhaps I should object to his continued participation as a Civil Rights Commissioner if he thinks all such questions are settled questions or based on sound science!

The inclusion of gender identity within the anti-discrimination regime of the 1964 Civil Rights Act is a cause for no little concern. Under such gender identity claims, a person's subjective, gendered self-image as woman, man or whatever supersedes the objective biological fact of sexual identity as female or male. This new gender identity further may come with a demand that governments and others citizens recognize that new gender as an objective fact—a huge abridgement on the civil rights and the freedom of mind of others. These ideas, taken together, are incoherent and compromise our commitment to limited government. They are incoherent because they nullify the categories of male and female to which the anti-discrimination principle applies. How can a school district remedy supposed unjust discrimination in girls' sports when anyone can qualify, simply on their own assertion, as woman? Does Fairness in Sports demand keeping biological men out of women's sports and aspiring to equal treatment of such sports or does it demand letting transgendered men in and, perhaps, decrease the opportunities for the formerly protected class of women? Idaho has taken the lead in protecting women's sports in these circumstances, and I look forward to participating in studies investigating how this affects opportunities. The demands that Commissioner Yaki makes contain the seeds of a new political order, much less committed to civil rights than our current order.

I am very skeptical of the idea that gender operates independently of sex. I would demand verification, from well-designed studies, that confirmed the proposition that conceiving of gender independently of sex leads to individual and social thriving. It think it is irresponsible to accept, without critical inquiry, the idea that affirming gender identity fosters all manner of social and individual good. It is not at all clear to me that it is better to recognize a person's concept of gender, apart from their biological sex, as authentic and salutary rather than as erroneous or pathological. I would be concerned that acknowledging such an idea compromises other, well-established and important civil rights.

Conservatives participate in Civil Rights Commissions across the country. We generally worry about how anti-discrimination laws, as applied and as construed, abridge fundamental freedoms and can upset prospects of social harmony. We often investigate the implications of such abridgements in our scholarship. On the Yaki standard, would Justice Sam Alito or Justice Clarence Thomas or Chief Justice John Roberts be ineligible to serve on a civil rights commission? They dissented, after all, from the same-sex marriage decisions in Windsor and Obergefell. Two of them dissented in the recent case re-interpreting the 1964 Civil Rights Act. More broadly, would any conservative be allowed to participate unless he or she abandoned his or her conservatism? Perhaps all of these opinions disqualify someone from sitting on an Advisory Board. If they do, it may be hard to justify continued government support for a strictly partisan organ.

Sincerely,
Scott Yenor

It seems that you inferred that he was invited to join the call. That was not my intent.
We won't have language ready to share with General Counsel until after our meeting on Tuesday.

Hello, all,

Not hearing a response, I am checking in on a good time to complete our task on the proposed AI's, etc.

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI's and the newest version of Robert's Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

Hello, all,

Not hearing a response, I am checking in on a good time to complete our task on the proposed AI's, etc.

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI's and the newest version of Robert's Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

Dear Gail,

In my earlier email, I wrote that our General Counsel would need to review our language on proposed AI's and other vehicles to be sure we were consistent with applicable federal laws.
I copied David Ganz on that email so he could anticipate that we were working on language. Ganz replied that he received the email and would be available as needed.
It seems that you inferred that he was invited to join the call. That was not my intent.
We won't have language ready to share with General Counsel until after our meeting on Tuesday.

Hello, all,
Not hearing a response, I am checking in on a good time to complete our task on the proposed AI's, etc.

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI's and the newest version of Robert's Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

Attached is a draft AI on Commission app'tments, both general and a specific provision for the EAC, and the AI on witnesses. These are the only AI's that we negotiated. The MOU on Speaker series is non-controversial, and either Normal can announce the cancellation from the dais or agree to sign the draft your staff prepared; the MOU on the 30-30-10 is a personal pledge by Norma.

In return, you will agree to ratify the Vice Chair nomination when submitted by the President, and we will continue to negotiate on the SACs since that is, essentially, a pre-existing issue that should not affect Norma's Chair nomination.

Please review and if these are agreeable, let's move on with the meeting on Friday. I believe it is in our best interests to move forward with a meeting.

If we do not have a meeting, I am withdrawing these drafts from the table and will come back with a new set of documents and our own set of demands to move forward.

Section 1.
.01 Any authority specifically granted the Commission of Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc. shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote.

Section 2
.02

(1) For the two (2) appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership.

(2) The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities

(3) The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

SECTION 11. COMMISSION HEARINGS

.01 The OGC is responsible for preparing and holding Commission hearings. This includes ensuring that the witnesses, when viewed as a whole, possess sufficient policy, legal, academic, advocacy, and other knowledge and experience necessary for a full and balanced inquiry into the issues.

.02 To document that hearing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Hearing Reports form. By completing this part of the form OSD certifies that the hearing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the hearing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist are provided to the external reviewer.

.03 Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate hearing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for hearing witnesses. ~~These~~ Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, ~~Commissioners,~~ other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings.

.04 OGC prepares hearing proposals, design or implementation plans, and briefing or background books. When preparing hearing proposals this office should demonstrate a consideration of varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives. This office also verifies the accuracy of transcripts, drafts hearing reports, and maintains official hearing records.

.05 OGC is responsible for supplying a complete and correct transcript with appropriate exhibits to OSD and ASCD for publication. Hearing transcripts do not require editorial review.

.06 The hearing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the hearing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request.

SECTION 12. COMMISSION BRIEFINGS

.01 Briefings are used by the Commission to provide Commissioners and the general public insight into civil rights issues without the formality of a hearing. Any program office may be assigned responsibility for conducting a briefing by the Staff Director.

.02 Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate briefing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for briefing witnesses.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners jointly request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings.

.032 Commissioners are provided a proposed final list of briefing presenters for approval. To document that the briefing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Briefing Reports form. By completing this part of the form, OSD certifies that the briefing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the briefing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV of this form is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist is provided to the external reviewer.

.043 The briefing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the briefing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request.

NORMA'S STATEMENT ON COMMISSIONER RESPONSES TO OFFICIAL REPORTS
APRIL 15, 2021

ON FEBRUARY 2, 2007, THE CHAIRPERSON OF THE COMMISSION AGREED AND PLACED IN THE RECORD CLARIFICATIONS THAT THE PROCESS IN ADMINISTRATION INSTRUCTIONS A-I, 1-6, SECTION 18, PART C PROVIDES FOR COMMISSION RESPONSES TO THE COMMISSION'S FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS. THESE RESPONSES CALLED REBUTTALS AND SURREBUTTALS ARE NOT INTENDED TO ECHO WHAT IS ALREADY IN THE REPORT; NOR ARE THEY MERELY DISSENTS. THE RESPONSES HELP MAKE THE COMMISSION MORE TRANSPARENT IN SHOWING HOW A COMMISSIONER VIEWED DATA COLLECTION AND LEGAL REASONING. I SUPPORT CONTINUING THIS PROCEDURE BECAUSE I HAVE BEEN ASSURED THAT THE OPPORTUNITY TO RESPOND TO THE REPORT WILL NOT BE USED AS A MEANS TO DELAY THE PUBLIC RELEASE OF THE FULL REPORT. WHILE I AM ON THIS COMMISSION, I WILL VOTE WITH MY COLLEAGUES TO KEEP THESE REBUTTALS AND SURREBUTTALS A PART OF THE COMMISSION'S EFFORTS TO GIVE VOICE TO OUR COMMISSIONERS' DIVERSE AND BALANCED VIEWS AND APPROACHES TO FULFILLING THE COMMISSION'S MISSION.

Attachment : AI on Appointment Authority (general and EAC).docx;AI1-6Witnesses - Yaki revision.docx;

CAUTION: This email is from outside USCCR.

Good morning, everyone:

In preparation for our meeting this afternoon, I wanted to pass along an email Yaki sent very early this morning. I've also attached the proposed AIs he has drafted.

Gail & Pete

Attached is a draft AI on Commission app'tments, both general and a specific provision for the EAC, and the AI on witnesses. These are the only AI's that we negotiated. The MOU on Speaker series is non-controversial, and either Normal can announce the cancellation from the dais or agree to sign the draft your staff prepared; the MOU on the 30-30-10 is a personal pledge by Norma.

In return, you will agree to ratify the Vice Chair nomination when submitted by the President, and we will continue to negotiate on the SACs since that is, essentially, a pre-existing issue that should not affect Norma's Chair nomination.

Please review and if these are agreeable, let's move on with the meeting on Friday. I believe it is in our best interests to move forward with a meeting.

If we do not have a meeting, I am withdrawing these drafts from the table and will come back with a new set of documents and our own set of demands to move forward.

Best regards,
Michael

ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTION __- __

Section 1.
.01 Any authority specifically granted the Commission of Civil Rights by statute or regulation or executive order to appoint members to serve on other federal entities such as advisory boards, task forces, other commissions, etc. shall be exercised by the Commission as a whole by majority vote.

Section 2
.02

(1) For the two (2) appointments to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, the members appointed by Democratic authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall nominate two individuals of their membership.

(2) The members appointed by the Democratic authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Republican authorities, and the members appointed by the Republican authorities shall select one (1) of the two (2) individuals nominated by the members appointed by the Democratic authorities

(3) The members selected shall be placed in nomination and ratified in conformance with Section 1.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

SECTION 11. COMMISSION HEARINGS

.01 The OGC is responsible for preparing and holding Commission hearings. This includes ensuring that the witnesses, when viewed as a whole, possess sufficient policy, legal, academic, advocacy, and other knowledge and experience necessary for a full and balanced inquiry into the issues.

.02 To document that hearing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Hearing Reports form. By completing this part of the form OSD certifies that the hearing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the hearing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist are provided to the external reviewer.

.03 Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate hearing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for hearing witnesses. ~~These~~ Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, ~~Commissioners,~~ other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings.

.04 OGC prepares hearing proposals, design or implementation plans, and briefing or background books. When preparing hearing proposals this office should demonstrate a consideration of varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives. This office also verifies the accuracy of transcripts, drafts hearing reports, and maintains official hearing records.

.05 OGC is responsible for supplying a complete and correct transcript with appropriate exhibits to OSD and ASCD for publication. Hearing transcripts do not require editorial review.

.06 The hearing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the hearing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request.

SECTION 12. COMMISSION BRIEFINGS

.01 Briefings are used by the Commission to provide Commissioners and the general public insight into civil rights issues without the formality of a hearing. Any program office may be assigned responsibility for conducting a briefing by the Staff Director.

.02 Staff is encouraged to use various sources to gather suggestions for appropriate briefing witnesses. Commissioners are the primary source of suggestions for briefing witnesses.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Additional sources may include, but are not limited to, other program offices, regional directors, and appropriate external groups. If two Commissioners jointly request that staff invite a particular witness, staff must invite that witness. No Commissioner may act jointly to invite more than two witnesses, which results in no more than 8 witnesses shall be required to be invited by staff by action of the Commission. Thereafter, a Commissioner or Commissioners may suggest as many witnesses as they deem advisable, but staff is not obligated to invite them, and staff may consult additional sources to invite additional witnesses for hearings.

.032 Commissioners are provided a proposed final list of briefing presenters for approval. To document that the briefing witnesses reflected varied and opposing views, opinions, and perspectives, OSD completes Section III of the National Office Report Checklist for Briefing Reports form. By completing this part of the form, OSD certifies that the briefing included a numerical balance of witnesses between opposing views, opinions and perspectives or that a numerical balance could not be achieved or was not appropriate in light of the subject of the briefing and/or the availability of credible witnesses. Section IV of this form is completed by the Staff Director before the proposed final draft report and checklist is provided to the external reviewer.

.043 The briefing record will be kept open for a period of 30 days after the briefing or as otherwise established by a majority vote of the Commissioners. Any material or information placed in the record during this period will be available to the Commissioners upon request.

Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI's and the newest version of Robert's Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

Hello, all,

Not hearing a response, I am checking in on a good time to complete our task on the proposed AI's, etc.

I will be in a two-hour meeting today and will be back at my desk at 11:30PST/ 1:30 CST/2:30 EST. After that, I have cleared off the rest of today and all of tomorrow for the four Commissioners to work on language. Of course, it won't take that much time, but I do estimate 1-2 hours for our discussion.

Please bear in mind that we should try to get the language together by Saturday, April 10, because we need to give the USCCR General Counsel time to review the language for AI's or other vehicles to be sure we are aligned to language in our statute and other federal laws.

FYI, I would rather be listening to your ideas than reading all the digitized AI's and the newest version of Robert's Rules. I can meet late in the day for the convenience of those of you on West Coast time.

So the conservative caucus got four big items:

1. Bipartisan nominations to the EAC & other federal entities;
2. Cancelling the Speaker Series;
3. Sitting in on OCRE interviews; and
4. Committing to the 30-30-10 rule.

Also a soft promise on reevaluating the SAC issues at a later date. Am I missing anything else?

This seems like a big win, especially if the only concession was confirming the Chair's nomination.

Did I read that they are also willing to drop the Vice-Chair issue?

I think the concessions helps the overall Commission. I agree with Alex & Comm. Heriot that we didn't expect to get all that we asked for, but it seem as though we got a good chunk.

If neither of the Dems agree to canceling the meeting then I believe we need to meet, however, are we really settled on where we are?

Are there specific motions that need to be made to change the agenda at the beginning of the meeting? If so, what are those? Are our side going to propose those changes, or their side?

To be clear- we are meeting tomorrow?

Yes, Norma seemed ready to drop the Vice Chair demand. I am worried about being ready for this meeting tomorrow. Some of the language Norma is proposing isn't quite right. I am trying to edit what she sent me. But I am trying not to change it more than necessary.

I would still much rather have more time. I think we can get it done by Monday. But getting it done tonight isn't easy.

Seriously folks

You got Norma's commitment on 30-30-10
speaker series

You have an AI on
1. Commission App'tment / EAC
2. Hearing/briefing witnesses

I am prepared to vote w Norma on the AI's to create a majority if we vote to confirm Norma now.

Otherwise I am with Norma and taking these off the table.

You withdrew the language on needing to complete the SACs language before the Chair vote. We also made a concession to a last-minute request about Commissioners observing and participating in OCRE content interviews.

Earlier this week, in response to your request for A-Is, Michael gave you and Peter the language for A-Is on the 30/30/10 and for Commission appointments. Michael told you and Peter these were the only A -I s. I can share with you the Progressive Caucus would not consider any other A-s as necessary to proceed to the Chair vote. Putting form over substance is causing unnecessary delay. As an alternative, we had told you and Peter that oral statements on the record would suffice to memorialize the other agreements.

We are ready to discuss and vote on the items you proposed at the business meeting today. But, if not handled and decided today by Progressives and Conservatives together, all our concessions are withdrawn.

The conservatives are not inclined to negotiate further at the meeting. We are happy to get this done by notational vote if that allows the progressives the time they need to absorb all this.

April 16, 2021

I write to rescind any directives concerning a "Speakers Series" activity conducted during meetings of the Commission. I understand the Speakers Series was announced by email from a chairperson, not memorialized in any A-I or other rule. In light of several Commissioners′ concerns that the activity should have included Commissioner input on speakers from both parties, I express my serious commitment to not reinstitute this activity. If it happens that a majority of the Commissioners were to consent in the future to support this endeavor by a majority vote of the members of the Commission, I wouldpersonally ascertain whether the proposed speaker would be bipartisan in the number of speakers or timing and scheduling of speakers; and if it is not, while I am on the Commission, I will vote against this proposal.

Norma—I just spoke with Pete about this. Our plan is for Pete to make an omnibus motion to confirm you and to adopt the three AIs. He will read the AIs into the record as part of the motion. Carissa is preparing a script for him now, so he'll have the wording ready before the meeting. Somebody will second the motion. (If we don't get an immediate second from a progressive, I will second, but the optics are better if a progressive seconds.) During the discussion, we will ask you your policy on 30-30-10 and on the speaker series. You should then read into the record your two policy statements. Have those statements ready for when we ask. When the discussion is over, we vote. Then you're Chair.

Earlier this week, in response to your request for A-Is, Michael gave you and Peter the language for A-Is on the 30/30/10 and for Commission appointments. Michael told you and Peter these were the only A -I s. I can share with you the Progressive Caucus would not consider any other A-s as necessary to proceed to the Chair vote. Putting form over substance is causing unnecessary delay. As an alternative, we had told you and Peter that oral statements on the record would suffice to memorialize the other agreements.

We are ready to discuss and vote on the items you proposed at the business meeting today. But, if not handled and decided today by Progressives and Conservatives together, all our concessions are withdrawn.

April 16, 2021

I write to rescind any directives concerning a "Speakers Series" activity conducted during meetings of the Commission. I understand the Speakers Series was announced by email from a chairperson, not memorialized in any A-I or other rule. In light of several Commissioners' concerns that the activity should have included Commissioner input on speakers from both parties, I express my serious commitment to not reinstitute this activity. If it happens that a majority of the Commissioners were to consent in the future to support this endeavor by a majority vote of the members of the Commission, I wouldpersonally ascertain whether the proposed speaker would be bipartisan in the number of speakers or timing and scheduling of speakers; and if it is not, while I am on the Commission, I will vote against this proposal.

Carissa is preparing a script for him now, so he'll have the wording ready before the meeting. Somebody will second the motion. (If we don't get an immediate second from a progressive, I will second, but the optics are better if a progressive seconds.) During the discussion, we will ask you your policy on 30-30-10 and on the speaker series. You should then read into the record your two policy statements. Have those statements ready for when we ask. When the discussion is over, we vote. Then you're Chair.

Norma—I just spoke with Pete about this. Our plan is for Pete to make an omnibus motion to confirm you and to adopt the three AIs. He will read the AIs into the record as part of the motion. Carissa is preparing a script for him now, so he'll have the wording ready before the meeting. Somebody will second the motion. (If we don't get an immediate second from a progressive, I will second, but the optics are better if a progressive seconds.) During the discussion, we will ask you your policy on 30-30-10 and on the speaker series.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

You should then read into the record your two policy statements. Have those statements ready for when we ask. When the discussion is over, we vote. Then you're Chair.

As an alternative, we had told you and Peter that oral statements on the record would suffice to memorialize the other agreements.

We are ready to discuss and vote on the items you proposed at the business meeting today. But, if not handled and decided today by Progressives and Conservatives together, all our concessions are withdrawn.

Norma—What about the rest of the things on the list? Is the Progressive Caucus ready to vote on all of them? Or should the meeting be put off?

The conservatives are not inclined to negotiate further at the meeting. We are happy to get this done by notational vote if that allows the progressives the time they need to absorb all this.

DRAFT: Email from Commissioner Norma V. Cantú Rescinding the Speakers Series Activity Conducted at Commissioners′ Meetings:

April 16, 2021

I write to rescind any directives concerning a "Speakers Series" activity conducted during meetings of the Commission. I understand the Speakers Series was announced by email from a chairperson, not memorialized in any A-I or other rule. In light of several Commissioners′ concerns that the activity should have included Commissioner input on speakers from both parties, I express my serious commitment to not reinstitute this activity. If it happens that a majority of the Commissioners were to consent in the future to support this endeavor by a majority vote of the members of the Commission, I wouldpersonally ascertain whether the proposed speaker would be bipartisan in the number of speakers or timing and scheduling of speakers; and if it is not, while I am on the Commission, I will vote against this proposal.

Subject : [EXTERNAL] EAC Appointment

CAUTION: This email is from outside USCCR.

It occurred to me that the draft of the EAC amendment means I will not be picked by the Democrats. They will nominate Debo and Yaki, forcing us into a very problematic corner as Yaki is currently a problem and Debo is very dangerous on voting issues. We will face a very bad choice of the empirically problematic and bullying Yaki and the extremely venomous and extremely competent in the election space Debo. Their ability to pick one of our two choices means that I will not be picked. If we could have gone outside the commission, we could have blocked them with Hans or Cleta, whom they would never pick.

Just noticing this.

Subject : TO DO + USCCR Updates
Attachment : AI on Appointment Authority (general and EAC) AR notes (1).docx;AI Letter to the Staff Director.docx;

Good Morning Adegbile,

Please see the updated TO DO list for this week, the AI information and USCCR updates.

TO DO LIST:

1. Letter to the Staff Director from all Commissioner's regarding making all the AI's available electronically in one place. Please see the letter attached that all the SA's worked on. Once we get the green light from all the Commissioners we can send to the Staff Director.
2. Review the attached EAC AI that is redlined. Please add any additional thoughts or approve as is so we can share with the rest of the caucus.
3. Scheduling an April 30th business meeting at noon. Will send a calendar invitation, we also need to schedule a caucus meeting on Tuesday, April 27th at 3pm ET.

AI's

EAC appointing authority (redline attached)

- We have worked on the language that you emphasized during the calls.
- That the Chairperson still retains the authority to appoint with the consultation from Commissioners.
- That the Commissioners selected by respective caucus are willing and able to serve
- Finally, should the person by the choosing party not be able to serve, the chairperson shall be free to choose any other member of the Commission, including said chairperson, to serve on the U.S. Election Assistance Commission

The other 2 AI's will be reviewed by OGC and OCRE because it requires their input. However both of the AI have been non-starters for you and Dave.

OCRE Witness Interviews

The R's are wanting to attend interviews that OCRE conducts in order to obtain information for our investigations. Such interviews were conducted for the Sub-Minimum Wages, as well as for Bail Reform.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- ADA requirements for interviews may not allow for this
- Bail reform interviews also conducted with focus jurisdictions
- Statutory requirements for separation of staff and Commissioners – GC to weigh in.

Panelist requests for briefings

- Explanations from OCRE on why panelists are not being invited
- What do our current AI's and rules require for Commissioner recommendations to be invited
- Resources may not be used effectively if we institute this system
- Need to preserve the independence of the agency

USCCR Updates:

- FEMA/Puerto Rico

  * The notational vote passed
  * FEMA panelist recommendations + briefing book recommendations. The panelist recommendations were due by this Friday, April 2nd. There were numerous recommendations from Irena, Alex, John Mashburn. Carissa and Thomas had one recommendation.
  * OCRE send the invitations last week. No confirmations to date. Irena spoke to Jason and has some updates.

- Commissioners may need to assist in getting the invitations to the principals – particularly Congressman Peters. Irena to update

  Briefing book recommendations are due on Friday, May 7th.
  * Virtual briefing moved to June 25
  * 2 site visits scheduled - Houston 11/19/21, Puerto Rico 12/10/21
  * Third briefing planning meeting will take place on Tuesday, April 20th at 11am ET.

  Bail Reform

  * Kladney/Amy negotiations with R's ongoing
  * Oregon SAC had their last briefing on Friday 12/11, Catherine attended. Rukku shared briefing notes with OCRE in the comments on the first draft.

- Draft coming on 4/26

  Maternal Health

  * OCRE, Debo and Irena met last week to discuss the final draft. Productive meeting, Irena to update the caucus.
  * Focus on Chapter 3 – Federal response, as area for potential bi-partisan consensus
  * New HHS leadership – OCRE sent HHS and CDC targeted questions for affected agency review
  * Need current data for programs that received funding
  * OCRE sent updated ROG's to HHS and also sent the draft report for agency review two weeks ago. No response from HHS, Irena advised

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Nick and OCRE to reach out to panelist including Congresswoman Ayanna Pressley and ask them to put pressure on HHS to respond especially since it was Black Maternal Health week last week and HHS and CDC was participating in all these various events with the partner organizations. Irena will follow up with OCRE this week and see if she can share what OCRE sent and to which programs
    * Final draft coming to Commissioners in May
    * 3 weeks to return edits before vote in June
    * Irena discussing with Republicans whether they will support

Broken Promises pandemic update

* Senator Warren's office has reached out to Irena to schedule a meeting this week on the report update + will invite Julie to the meeting.
* Interested to find out spokesperson for Commission. Irena provided public material and
* Pursue social media strategy using briefing video/materials
* Can we generate clips from the briefing video, into individual panelist testimony or other excerpts? Irena to reach out to Ang.
* Revisit when we discuss project planning re FY22? (/FEMA, Comm. Adams' proposal, etc.).

Follow ups with Mauro

* The SA's have requested a follow up meeting with Mauro, we were trying to reinstitute the bi-weekly meetings, Mauro has cancelled our April 20th meeting. However Mauro has not been amenable to meeting, our last SA Meeting was held on 3/23.
* Mauro scheduled the meeting with the SA's next week on Tuesday, April 20th at 3pm. Juana you need to be added to the calendar invitation.
* The items raised at the last meeting for which we don't have updates:
    * AI's available online
    * Commissioner IT needs
    * Website update
    * Budget priorities
        * Forward funding for site visits in Puerto Rico and Texas
        * Regional staffing – at least one staffer for territory SACs
        * IT and website
    * SAC letters

Other outstanding items for all SA's

* AI 5-9
    * OCG provided redline and comments for Commissioner consideration for standards for removal for SAC members and procedures the Commission should adopt
* Project proposals
* "Balance" SAC AI?
* Expired SACs (14)

Project proposals for FY21/22

* Rukku checked with John to see if Commissioner Adams will submit new project proposals. John is working with Commissioner Adams on project priorities and check back on timeline. Rukku to follow up with John this week.
* John (at all SA meeting) said that Comm. Adams had a proposal, so Rukku

will generate a timeline for consideration.
* We will proceed with the FEMA Project as the FY22 statutory enforcement report.
* Need a new FY22 project planning calendar – Rukku generated the program planning schedule with emphasis on time early in the process for bipartisan discussion.

Personnel

* OCRE Director - posting closed. Interviews completed and offer should be going out soon.
* Commission on Black Man and Boys - posting closed + interviews scheduled
* Two regional positions for civil rights analysts – closes 3/31
* Summer 2021 interns – Irena hired a spring intern. Amy hired Clara Malkin – to start 5/24
* Irena's intern Alana Thomas started on March 16th Alana Thomas is currently a second year law student at Georgetown. She is currently pursuing a Master of Public Policy degree from Loyola University Chicago, and received her BS in Psychology from Virginia Tech. Alana has focused her studies on affordable housing and race in law. She currently serves as the Vice President of Marketing Strategy at Citi. Alana is from Chicago, and will be supporting Commissioner Adegbile
* Fulbright fellows – Media fellow recommendation for Ang.
    * Ang hired a Fullbright fellow!

Commission on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys

* Was signed into law, more details to come on what this means.
* Appointments from White House
* Call rescheduled with Congresswoman Wilson
* Women/Girls bill?

April 15, 2021

Mauro Morales
Staff Director
1331 Pennsylvania Ave NW
Washington, DC 20425

Dear Mr. Morales:

We, the undersigned Commissioners, write today to request the promulgation of a searchable digital collection of the Commission's Administrative Instructions (AIs). In order to efficiently serve as Commissioners, we must have easy access to the AIs. Thus, we request that you provide us with the following:

- One updated digital file containing every AI that is in effect, in its proper order, and with the date and manner of each AI's ratification
- Physical copies of that digital file by request

The general counsel has sent some of this information piece-by-piece via email to us over the past few weeks. But those AIs have not been updated or organized, and they have not been collected into a single digital document. As matters stand, accessing the AIs requires that we attempt to assemble a complete list from the documents we have been sent piecemeal. Thus, this effort is inadequate.

This is simply a matter of good governance. Please provide us with a timeline for completion of the above tasks.

Sincerely,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
