Subject: American Oversight Public Records Requests - Redistricting Requests ending in 0226 & 0227

Chris,

Thank you for speaking with me yesterday. American Oversight continues to evaluate whether a lawsuit is necessary to place our disputed issues in front of a judge for their attention and input. In the meantime, American Oversight is willing to receive rolling productions of documents responsive to the two redistricting-related requests at issue in the April 20, 2022 letter from our counsel, beginning with a production this Friday, April 29, 2022, of the documents responsive to Item 2 of Request FL-GOV-22-0226.

I also have a follow-up question in light of our conversation regarding the search parameters and processes used by the Governor's Office—in particular the fact that the individuals whose emails are at issue are apparently not queried during the processing of a request. Can you please confirm whether and how responsive documents are preserved while our requests are pending? Is a preservation letter sent or other type of litigation hold placed on the individuals' emails during the pendency of a request?

Sincerely,
Taylor

Please note that under Florida law correspondence sent to the Governor's Office, which is not confidential or exempt pursuant to chapter 119 of the Florida Statutes, is a public record made available upon request.

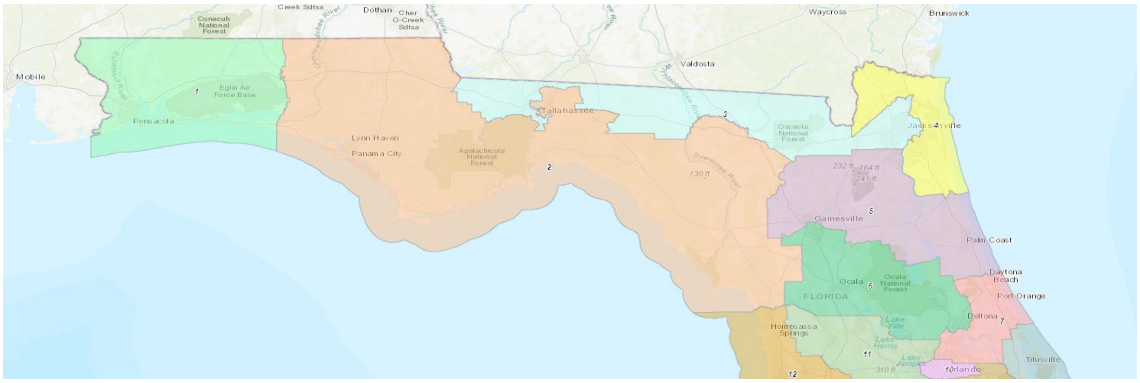
Honorable Tyler Sirois
Member, Florida House of Representatives
Chairman, Congressional Redistricting Subcommittee
400 South Monroe Street
Tallahassee, Florida 32399

Dear Chairman Sirois:

I write to convey the legal objections of the Executive Office of the Governor to the inclusion of Congressional District 3 in the maps proposed by the staff of the Florida House Redistricting Committee. The proposed district, which largely tracks current Congressional District 5, spans approximately 200 miles from East to West and cuts across eight counties to join a minority population in Jacksonville with a separate and distinct minority population in Leon and Gadsden Counties. The district is not compact and does not otherwise conform to usual political or geographic boundaries. Instead, it appears to be drawn solely to combine separate minority populations from different regions of northern Florida in a less than majority-minority district so that together they may have an opportunity to elect a candidate of their choice.

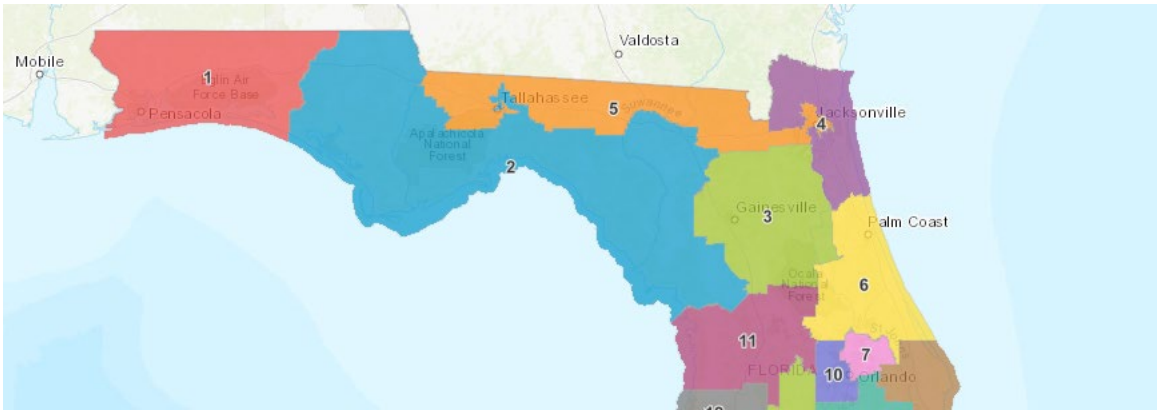
Where race is "the predominant factor motivating the legislature's decision to place a significant number of voters within or without a particular district," the legislature must prove that such "race-based sorting of voters serves a 'compelling interest' and is 'narrowly tailored' to that end." Cooper v. Harris, 137 S. Ct. 1455, 1463-64 (2017) (citations omitted). Because the Legislature cannot show that the proposed Congressional District 3 would satisfy strict scrutiny, the proposed district violates the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution and should not be included in any map enacted by the Florida House of Representatives.

Proposed Congressional District 3 (Blue)



AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Current Congressional District 5 (Orange)



The Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment generally prohibits state laws that separate citizens into groups on the basis of race. A state law that "expressly distinguishes among citizens because of their race" can survive legal challenge only if it is "narrowly tailored to further a compelling governmental interest." Shaw v. Reno, 509 U.S. 630, 643 (1993). This principle applies not only to a law that "contains explicit racial distinctions, but also to those 'rare' statutes that, although race neutral, are, on their face, 'unexplainable on grounds other than race.'" Id. (quoting Vill. of Arlington Heights v. Metro. Hous. Dev. Corp., 429 U.S. 252, 266 (1977)). Redistricting legislation is treated no differently. According to the U.S. Supreme Court, "redistricting legislation that is so bizarre on its face" that it can only be explained because of race "demands the same close scrutiny that we give other state laws that classify citizens by race." Id. at 644.

To state an equal protection claim, a plaintiff must "show, either through circumstantial evidence of a district's shape and demographics or more direct evidence going to legislative purpose, that race was the predominant factor motivating the legislature's [line-drawing] decision." Miller v. Johnson, 515 U.S. 900, 916 (1995). Specifically, the plaintiff must prove that "the legislature subordinated traditional race-neutral districting principles, including but not limited to compactness, contiguity, and respect for political subdivisions or communities defined by actual shared interests, to racial considerations." Id.

Given the foregoing considerations, it is evident that non-racial grounds cannot explain proposed Congressional District 3. First, the district violates traditional districting principles. Far from compact, the district records compactness scores as low as .11 on the Reock test, .63 on the Area / Convex Hull test, and .1 on the Polsby-Popper test. It also does not respect political subdivisions or communities defined by actual shared interests. The district splits four counties and three municipalities, and it stretches across eight counties to join a minority population in Jacksonville with minority populations in Leon and Gadsden Counties. These communities are in separate and distinct regions of northern Florida and are not defined by shared interests. With respect to contiguity, the district narrows to a mere three miles wide from North to South when traversing the northernmost precincts of Leon County at the state's northern border in an effort to include the minority populations in western Leon County and Gadsden County while avoiding the non-minority population in eastern Leon County.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Second, only two considerations plausibly explain the district's unusual shape—partisanship or race. If the district were drawn to favor partisan interests, it would violate the Fair Districts Amendment of the Florida Constitution. Article III, Section 20 of the Florida Constitution provides that "[n]o apportionment plan or individual district shall be drawn with the intent to favor or disfavor a political party or an incumbent." If improper partisan interests did not play a role, the only reasonable explanation for the district is race. This conclusion follows from the historical circumstances surrounding the creation of the current district.

The Florida Supreme Court drew the current district—Congressional District 5—in 2015. The Court rejected a North-South configuration of the district that ran from Jacksonville to Orlando because it concluded that such configuration had been unconstitutionally tainted by improper partisan influences. League of Women Voters of Fla. v. Detzner, 172 So. 3d 363, 403 (Fla. 2015) ("Apportionment VII"). The Court further held that the North-South version was not "necessary to avoid diminishing the ability of black voters to elect a candidate of their choice." Id. Consequently, the Court adopted the current East-West version. Id. at 405-06. While acknowledging that the new configuration was not a "model of compactness," id. at 406 (internal quotation marks omitted), the Court determined that it would not "diminish the ability of black voters to elect a candidate of their choice." Id. at 405. The Court explained that the non-compact shape was necessary because of "geography" and "other constitutional requirements such as ensuring that the apportionment plan does not deny the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice." Id. at 406 (citation omitted). Thus, it is clear that race considerations predominated in the drawing of the current district. And because the proposed reapportionment plan seeks to retain the district in large measure to avoid diminishment of minority voting power, race considerations likewise predominate in the creation of proposed Congressional District 3.

Third, it is obvious, given the location of minority neighborhoods and precincts, that district lines in both Jacksonville and Tallahassee were drawn specifically to capture minority populations and to combine them into one district. But according to the U.S. Supreme Court, "[a] reapportionment plan that includes in one district individuals who belong to the same race, but who are otherwise widely separated by geographical and political boundaries, and who may have little in common with one another but the color of their skin, bears an uncomfortable resemblance to political apartheid." Shaw, 509 U.S. at 647. By attempting to connect a minority population in Jacksonville with a faraway minority population in Tallahassee and surrounding areas, proposed Congressional District 3 does precisely what the U.S. Supreme Court has condemned.

Because it subordinates traditional districting criteria to avoid diminishment of minority voting power, Congressional District 3 is a racial gerrymander that can survive constitutional challenge only if the Legislature can prove that "its race-based sorting of voters serves a 'compelling interest' and is 'narrowly tailored' to that end." Cooper, 137 S. Ct. at 1464 (citation omitted). The Legislature cannot meet that exacting burden here.

The U.S. Supreme Court has long assumed, without definitively deciding, that complying with the Voting Rights Act ("VRA") is a compelling interest. Id. at 1464, 1469. In this case, however, there is no good reason to believe that the VRA requires Congressional District 3. According to the U.S. Supreme Court in Bartlett v. Strickland, 556 U.S. 1, 26 (2009) (plurality), Section 2 is satisfied only when a compact majority of minority citizens can be drawn into a single district. But there is no configuration in any proposal put forward in any public map that we are aware of that has created a majority-minority district in northern Florida.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

As both the U.S. Supreme Court and the Florida Supreme Court have noted, Section 2 prohibits the dilution of minority votes where a minority group is "sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority in some reasonably configured legislative district." Cooper, 137 S. Ct. at 1470 (internal quotation marks omitted); see also Thornburg v. Gingles, 478 U.S. 30, 50 (1986); In re Senate Joint Resolution of Legislative Apportionment 1176, 83 So. 3d 597, 622-23 (Fla. 2012) ("Apportionment I"). Congressional District 3 is not a reasonably configured district, and in any event, it does not contain a minority group that is sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority.

Nor does Section 5 of the VRA require Congressional District 3. Before the U.S. Supreme Court invalidated the VRA's coverage formula in Shelby County v. Holder, 570 U.S. 529, 553-57 (2013), the State of Florida was not a covered jurisdiction under Section 5, but five Florida counties were: Collier, Hardee, Hendry, Hillsborough, and Monroe. None of those counties are in Congressional District 3. Moreover, even assuming that compliance with the VRA is a compelling interest, it is doubtful that "continued compliance with [Section] 5 remains a compelling interest" in light of "Shelby County v. Holder." Ala. Legis. Black Caucus v. Alabama, 575 U.S. 254, 276 (2015).

Finally, the U.S. Supreme Court has never held that compliance with a state non-diminishment requirement is a compelling interest sufficient to withstand strict scrutiny under the Fourteenth Amendment's Equal Protection Clause. That is especially so where the state race-based requirement lacks a strong basis in evidence. To the extent that Article III, Section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision parallels Section 5 of the VRA, see Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 619-20, it should be noted that Congress compiled in 1965 an extensive record of racial discrimination in state electoral processes to justify Section 4 and 5's "strong medicine" and "extraordinary measures to address an extraordinary problem." Shelby County, 570 U.S. at 534-35; see also South Carolina v. Katzenbach, 383 U.S. 301, 329-34 (1966). When Florida voters approved Article III, Section 20(a), by contrast, they did not have before them a similar record of pervasive, flagrant, widespread, or rampant discrimination.

In any event, the non-diminishment provision of the Florida Constitution simply does not require Congressional District 3. Article III, Section 20(a) of the Florida Constitution provides that "districts shall not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or to diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice." This section contains two relevant provisions: the first is the non-vote-dilution provision ("districts shall not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process"), and the second is the non-diminishment provision ("districts shall not be drawn . . . to diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice"). The

Florida Supreme Court has held that the non-vote-dilution provision mirrors Section 2 of the VRA. Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 619-23.

When Article III, Section 20(a) is read in this context, it becomes apparent that the group referenced in the latter non-diminishment provision is the very same group of "racial or language minorities" referenced in the former non-vote-dilution provision. The word "their" in the non-diminishment provision necessarily refers back to the "racial or language minorities" in the non-vote-dilution provision. Because the non-vote-dilution provision mirrors Section 2 of the VRA, and because Section 2 only applies to districts that contain a minority group that is sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority, the non-diminishment provision should also apply to those kinds of districts. Because Congressional District 3 does not contain a minority group that is sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority, Article III, Section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision does not apply.

With this reading, both the non-vote-dilution provision and the non-diminishment provision work in tandem. The non-vote-dilution provision allows minority groups to form geographically compact districts where appropriate. See Gingles, 478 U.S. at 50-51 (requiring, additionally, political cohesion of the minority group and bloc voting of the majority group). The non-diminishment provision allows minority groups to maintain those districts where appropriate. See Reno v. Bossier Parish Sch. Bd., 520 U.S. 471, 477-80 (1997). In other words, the non-vote-dilution provision goes into effect when a reasonably cohesive district could be formed, and the non-diminishment provision goes into effect once the district has been formed.

This reading of Article III, Section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision to refer to "racial or language minorities" in the non-vote-dilution provision flows from the text of the Florida Constitution. It also gives the Florida Constitution the best chance to avoid the federal constitutional concerns raised above. See Cooper, 137 S. Ct. at 1463-64, 1482 (invalidating two North Carolina congressional districts).

In sum, I respectfully ask that you consider the foregoing legal objections to Congressional District 3. I also respectfully ask that you include in the legislative record Governor DeSantis' advisory opinion request to the Florida Supreme Court and the Governor's brief before the Florida Supreme Court.

Sincerely,

Ryan Newman

RON DESANTIS
GOVERNOR

February 1, 2022

Honorable Charles T. Canady
Chief Justice of the Florida Supreme Court
Florida Supreme Court, 500 S. Duval St.
Tallahassee, Florida 32399

Mr. Chief Justice and Justices of the Florida Supreme Court:

In the coming weeks, the Florida Legislature must present to me a bill that redraws Florida's congressional districts consistent with the most recent decennial census, see 2 U.S.C. §§ 2a–2c, and the one-person, one-vote requirement of the U.S. Constitution, see Kirkpatrick v. Preisler, 394 U.S. 526, 530–31 (1969). All maps that have been published by the Legislature and are currently under consideration retain, for the most part, the current Congressional District 5. The district stretches over 200 miles from East to West across eight counties without conforming to usual political or geographic boundaries, solely to connect a minority population center in Jacksonville with a separate and distinct minority population center in Leon and Gadsden Counties so that, together, these minority populations may elect a candidate of their choice. It is a narrow district that compresses to only three miles wide, North to South, when traversing a string of the northernmost precincts in Leon County so the district can connect with the minority population in western Leon County without including the non-minority population in eastern Leon County. Similarly, in Duval County, the district narrows to about a mile and a half in width. As of the 2020 Census, two counties, Duval to the East and Leon to the West, alone contribute 82.77% of the district's population. These counties are in two completely different regions of the State.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I seek this Court's opinion on whether Article III, Section 20(a) of the Florida Constitution requires the retention of a district in northern Florida that connects the minority population in Jacksonville with distant and distinct minority populations (either in Leon and Gadsden Counties or outside of Orlando) to ensure sufficient voting strength, even if not a majority, to elect a candidate of their choice.

This Court's constitutional power to render an advisory opinion is quite broad. Upon my request, this Court may opine as to "the interpretation of any portion of [the] constitution upon any question affecting the governor's executive powers and duties." Art. IV, § 1(c), Fla. Const. (emphasis added). The Florida Constitution provides that "[t]he supreme executive power shall be vested in a governor." Art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const. That executive power includes the "[e]xecutive approval and veto" power over bills the Florida Legislature presents to me, Art. III, § 8, Fla. Const.; the duty to "take care that the laws be faithfully executed," Art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const.; and the power of "direct supervision" over the "administration" of the Department of State, Art. IV, § 6, Fla. Const.; see also § 20.02(3), Fla. Stat. (providing that "[t]he administration of any executive branch department . . . placed under the direct supervision of an officer . . . appointed by and serving at the pleasure of the Governor shall remain at all times under the constitutional executive authority of the Governor"); § 20.10, Fla. Stat. (creating the Department of State, which is headed by the Secretary of State, who is appointed by and serves at the pleasure of the Governor).

Once presented with a congressional redistricting bill, I must decide whether to approve or veto it, and even if I take no action and the law goes into effect, I must nevertheless take care that the Constitution and laws of the State of Florida are faithfully executed. The Secretary of State, whom I direct and oversee, is the chief election officer of the State, § 97.012, Fla. Stat., and is responsible for, among many things, "[o]btain[ing] and maintain[ing] uniformity in the interpretation and implementation of the election laws," id. § 97.012(1), and certifying "the names of all duly qualified candidates for nomination or election who have qualified with the Department of State," § 99.061(6), Fla. Stat. The Department of State will also be responsible for defending any legal challenges to the new congressional redistricting map. In deciding whether to exercise my veto power once the Legislature's congressional redistricting bill is presented to me, and how best to faithfully implement the law if enacted, I now seek your "opinion . . . as to the interpretation of [a] portion of [the] constitution" that applies to the congressional redistricting process. Art. IV, § 1(c), Fla. Const. Such an opinion is both necessary and appropriate in this instance.

First, the once-in-a-decade congressional redistricting process is a unique circumstance: it is required by the U.S. Constitution, and it must be completed before upcoming congressional elections. With the qualifying period for election to the U.S. House of Representatives quickly approaching, the voters and candidates have a pressing need for certainty regarding the meaning of the State's non-diminishment standard. See § 99.061(9), Fla. Stat.; https://dos.myflorida.com /elections/candidates-committees/qualifying/. In contrast, most legislation is neither constitutionally mandated nor of the sort where prolonged uncertainty regarding the meaning of such text may adversely affect the State's elections. See League of Women Voters of Fla. v.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Detzner, 172 So. 3d 363, 372 (Fla. 2015) ("Apportionment VII") ("We emphasize the time-sensitive nature of these proceedings, with candidate qualifying for the 2016 congressional elections now less than a year away . . . ."). I make my request in the spirit of seeking as much guidance as possible from you consistent with "[t]his Court['s] . . . obligation to provide certainty to candidates and voters regarding the legality of the state's congressional districts." League of Women Voters of Fla. v. Detzner, 179 So. 3d 258, 262 (Fla. 2015) ("Apportionment VIII") (citation and internal quotation marks omitted).

Second, I am aware that on one occasion well over a century ago, the members of this Court declined to opine on a constitutional question in aid of my predecessor's exercise of the veto power. See In re Exec. Commc'n, 6 So. 925 (Fla. 1887). Notwithstanding that the Florida Constitution assigns to the Executive the power to approve or veto legislation, see Art. III, § 8, Fla. Const., this Court concluded that "any act which is an essential prerequisite" to the enactment of a law "is legislative" and is performed by the Executive "as a part of the lawmaking power." In re Exec. Commc'n, 6 So. at 925. This reasoning, which you are not bound to follow, see In re Advisory Opinion of Governor Civil Rights, 306 So. 2d 520, 523 (Fla. 1975), conflicts with the separation of powers enshrined in Article II, Section 3 of the Florida Constitution, and I respectfully request that you give the 1887 response no weight.

In particular, the Florida Constitution vests the State's legislative power in the Florida Legislature. See Art. III, § 1, Fla. Const. It follows, therefore, that the Governor's exercise of what the Constitution characterizes as the power of "[e]xecutive approval and veto," Art. III, § 8, Fla. Const., is not a legislative power. Rather, the veto power is an executive check on the legislative power; "[e]ach branch of the government necessarily at times, either by express provision of the Constitution or in the orderly administration of the state's affairs, comes in contact with one or the other branch, but such contact in n[o]wise merges the functions of one into that of the other." Amos v. Gunn, 94 So. 615, 627–28 (Fla. 1922) (Ellis, J., on pet. for reh'g). This Court's more recent opinions thus acknowledge that the exercise of the veto is an executive power.[1]

A, B, C, D, E, & F*, 589 So. 2d 260, 264 (Fla. 1991) ("Article III, section 8 sets forth the procedure for the executive power to approve or veto legislation of both nonappropriations and appropriations bills."); Brown v. Firestone, 382 So. 2d 654, 672 (Fla. 1980) ("We hold further that the vetoes identified herein as 2, 4, 5 and 6 are valid as being within the purview of the executive power granted by article III, section 8(a)[.]"); *Owens v. The placement is functional, as with executive powers conferred in the judicial article (art. V, [§] 11) and in the legislative article (art. AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Third, the question affecting my executive powers and duties concerns Article III, Section 20(a) of the Florida Constitution, which provides that:

> No apportionment plan or individual district shall be drawn with the intent to favor or disfavor a political party or an incumbent; and districts shall not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or to diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice; and districts shall consist of contiguous territory.

Art. III, § 20(a), Fla. Const. (emphasis added). I limit my request to the phrase "diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice"—the State's non-diminishment standard. Except where it may be necessary to inform your interpretation of the Florida Constitution, I do not ask for your opinion on any issues of federal law. Cf. In re Senate Joint Resolution of Legislative Apportionment 1176, 83 So. 3d 597, 620-21 (Fla. 2012) ("Apportionment I") (recognizing that the non-diminishment standard borrows from § 5 of the Voting Rights Act but "nonetheless recogniz[ing] our independent constitutional obligation to interpret our own state constitutional provisions").

Specifically, I ask whether the Florida Constitution's non-diminishment standard mandates a sprawling congressional district in northern Florida that stretches hundreds of miles from East to West solely to connect black voters in Jacksonville with black voters in Gadsden and Leon Counties (with few in between) so that they may elect candidates of their choice, even without a majority. This Court has previously suggested that the answer is "yes." Apportionment VIII, 179 So. 3d at 271 ("Although District 5 was required to be drawn from East to West, no specific configuration was mandated in Apportionment VII," and this Court did not "specify a certain Black Voting Age Population (BVAP) or black share of registered Democrats as a 'floor' below which the ability of black voters to elect a candidate of choice was certain to be diminished.").

In 2015, this Court rejected a North-South configuration of the district that ran from Jacksonville to Orlando. The Court held that the North-South version had been unconstitutionally tainted by partisan and other improper influences and that such a configuration was not "necessary to avoid diminishing the ability of black voters to elect a candidate of their choice." Apportionment VII, 172 So. 3d at 403. Consequently, the Court adopted the East-West configuration that exists today. Id. at 405–06. In so doing, this Court acknowledged that this configuration was not a "model of compactness," id. at 406 (internal quotation marks omitted), but nevertheless concluded that it was "visually less 'unusual' and 'bizarre' than the meandering North-South version," id., and that it would not "diminish the ability of black voters to elect a candidate of their choice," id. at 405. This Court indicated that the non-compact shape of the East-West district was nevertheless necessary because of "geography" and "other constitutional legislative action, subject to the power of the legislature to override the executive veto by the vote of a specified number of the legislature.").

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

requirements such as ensuring that the apportionment plan does not deny the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice." Id. at 406 (citation omitted).

This Court's prior guidance, however, pre-dates relevant decisions from the U.S. Supreme Court. In 2017, the U.S. Supreme Court made clear that where "racial considerations predominate[] over others, the design of the district must withstand strict scrutiny." Cooper v. Harris, 137 S. Ct. 1455, 1464 (2017). To satisfy this test, and thus pass muster under the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, a state must "prove that its race-based sorting of voters serves a 'compelling interest' and is 'narrowly tailored' to that end." Id. (citations omitted). While the U.S. Supreme Court "has long assumed that one compelling interest is complying with operative provisions of the Voting Rights Act," a state must show "that it had 'a strong basis in evidence'" to conclude that the Act required race-based sorting of voters. Id. (citation omitted). In Cooper, North Carolina did not meet its burden when arguing that compliance with § 2 of the Voting Rights Act served as a compelling reason. Id. at 1469–72. Specifically, North Carolina could not satisfy § 2's threshold conditions: (1) that the "minority group" was "sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority" in a reasonably compact legislative district, (2) that the minority group was "politically cohesive," and (3) that the district's majority group voted "sufficiently as a bloc" to "defeat the minority's preferred candidate." Id. at 1470 (quoting Thornburg v. Gingles, 478 U.S. 30, 50–51 (1986)).

If this Court advises that the non-diminishment standard does not specifically require that an East-West district be drawn to connect minority voters in Jacksonville with minority voters in Leon and Gadsden Counties, I nevertheless request guidance on what the non-diminishment standard does require. Specifically, I ask whether the Florida Constitution's non-diminishment standard requires that congressional districts be drawn to connect minority populations from distant and distinct geographic areas if doing so would provide the assembled minority group sufficient voting strength (although not a majority of the proposed district) to elect a candidate of its choice. Or, conversely, does the non-diminishment standard merely require that a minority population in a reasonably cohesive geographic area, where the population is not a majority but is nevertheless large enough to elect candidates of its choice, continue to be able to elect such candidates?

Relatedly, to make sense of the non-diminishment standard, I ask for clarification from this Court on what constitutes a proper benchmark for determining whether a minority group's ability to elect a candidate of its choice has been diminished. This Court has said that the "existing plan of a covered jurisdiction serves as the 'benchmark' against which the 'effect' of voting changes is measured.'" Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 624 (citation omitted). But is that so even if the district in the existing plan was designed solely to cobble together enough minority voters from distant and distinct geographic areas to elect candidates of their choice despite not constituting a majority? Or must the benchmark be confined to the minority population in a reasonably cohesive geographic area?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Florida's non-diminishment standard—like the Voting Rights Act's non-diminishment standard—is a potent, race-based solution to a race-based problem. I ask for your opinion to help me be sufficiently conscious of race to comply with the Florida Constitution's anti-diminishment provision but avoid being so conscious of race that my actions could violate the U.S. and Florida Constitutions.

Because the U.S. Supreme Court's decisions inform, but do not definitively resolve, issues of state law, I ask for you to exercise your "independent constitutional obligation" to interpret Florida law, id. at 621, and to guide me in exercising my executive powers as Governor. See Art. III, § 8, Fla. Const.; Art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const. I respectfully request your assistance as expeditiously as possible given that March 11, 2022, is the last day of the legislative session and candidates for the U.S. House of Representatives will need to qualify under a new map in June.

Thank you for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

Ron DeSantis

FL-GOV-22-0226, 20-0378-A-000027

ARGUMENT

This Court has jurisdiction to advise on the interpretation of the following phrase: "districts shall not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or to diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice." Art. III, § 20(a), Fla. Const. (emphasis added). Section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision affects several of the Governor's executive powers and duties, namely his power to veto the congressional map presented to him, art. III, § 8, Fla. Const.; his duty to take care that the laws are faithfully executed, art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const.; and his power to directly supervise his Secretary of State in the administration of elections, art. IV, § 6, Fla. Const. Section 20(a)'s text is less than clear. There is a textual interpretation of this section, however, that avoids serious concerns under the U.S. Constitution. An advisory opinion confirming that interpretation would help the Governor ensure that the redrawing of congressional boundaries, which must occur every ten years, does not violate the Florida or U.S. Constitutions and is completed in a timely way to provide certainty to candidates and voters before the qualifying period begins in June.[1] Unlike most other legislation, redistricting is not discretionary and must be completed in short order before the electoral process commences. The unique demands of redistricting justify the Court's exercise of jurisdiction.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I. THIS COURT HAS JURISDICTION TO PROVIDE AN ADVISORY OPINION TO THE GOVERNOR.

Article IV, section 1(c) of the Florida Constitution allows this Court to render an advisory opinion to the Governor concerning "the interpretation of any portion of th[e] constitution" that "affect[s]" his "executive powers and duties." The interpretation of section 20(a) informs, and thus affects, how the Governor will exercise his executive powers and duties with respect to congressional redistricting legislation. Specifically, when the Florida Legislature presents to the Governor a bill that redraws Florida's congressional districts, which it must under federal law, the Governor can veto the bill, approve the bill, or take no action. A veto nullifies the bill. Approval or inaction allows the bill to become law, at which point the

Governor must "take care that the laws [are] faithfully executed," art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const., and "direct[ly] supervis[e]" his "administration," particularly his Secretary of State, in carrying out the law, art. IV, § 6, Fla. Const. These executive powers and duties satisfy the jurisdictional prerequisites.

A. The Veto Is an Executive Power.

Article III, section 8 expressly vests the Governor with the "[e]xecutive approval and veto" power. (Emphasis added.) If the Governor believes that a bill is "contrary to the public interest," including that it is unconstitutional, he may veto the bill. Brown v. Firestone, 382 So. 2d 654, 664 (Fla. 1980). The exercise of that executive power to affect legislation does not convert it into a lawmaking power any more than the judiciary's exercise of judicial review converts the judicial power into a lawmaking power.

The Florida Constitution's structure underscores that the veto is an executive power. The Florida Constitution vests "[t]he legislative power of the state" in the Florida Legislature, art. III, § 1, Fla. Const.; "[t]he supreme executive power" in the Governor, art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const.; and "[t]he judicial power" in the state judiciary, art. V, § 1, Fla. Const. "No person belonging to one branch shall exercise any powers appertaining to either of the other branches unless expressly provided herein." Art. II, § 3, Fla. Const. This separation of powers erects "high walls and clear distinctions" between each branch of government. Plaut v. Spendthrift Farm, 514 U.S. 211, 239 (1995).

The high walls separating executive and legislative powers are apparent in the lawmaking process. The Florida Constitution gives specific, precise powers to the legislative and executive branches with respect to the lawmaking process. As this Court has noted, "[a]rticle III, sections 1 and 7 assign to the legislature the responsibility for passage of all bills into law, regardless of their subject matter," and "[a]rticle III, section 8 sets forth the procedure for the executive power to approve or veto legislation." Chiles v. Children A, B, C, D, E, & F, 589 So. 2d 260, 264 (Fla. 1991). "These provisions" constitute the "constitutional allocation of the executive and legislative responsibilities concerning legislation generally." Id.

The Florida Constitution thus gives to the Governor the executive power in the legislative sphere, and that executive power includes the veto. See id. ("Article III, section 8 sets forth the procedure for the executive power to approve or veto legislation of both nonappropriations and appropriations bills." (emphasis added));

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Brown, 382 So. 2d at 672 ("We hold further that the vetoes identified herein as 2, 4, 5 and 6 a*re valid as being within the purview of the executive power* granted by article III, section 8(a)." (emphasis added)); Owens v. State, 316 So. 2d 537, 538 n.4 (Fla. 1975) ("Although article IV of the constitution deals with the executive branch, the placement of a legislative power in one subsection of that article does not render the delegated power nugatory" because "[t]he placement is functional, as with executive powers conferred in the judicial article . . . and in the legislative article.").

The veto is a "negative power, the power to nullify, or at least suspend, legislative intent." Brown, 382 So. 2d at 664. It is the "[p]rimary . . . executive check[] on unfettered legislative power" and gives the Governor a "stronger bargaining position from which to seek revision or amendment of bills" and a means to "counteract legislative action which he considers to be contrary to the public interest." Id. As such, in the lawmaking process, "the constitutional authority of the legislative department is in part delimited by the scope of executive authority"—as exercised by the veto power. Id. at 663.

By contrast, the Legislature does not have the power to veto bills—it has the power to bicamerally "pass" and "present" them, and to "re-enact" a vetoed bill by supermajority vote. See art. III, §§ 7–8, Fla. Const. So it cannot be said that in exercising the power to "veto" a bill that the Governor is exercising a power that otherwise belongs to the Legislature. It is quintessentially an executive power.

Only when the Governor exceeds his veto power by effectively amending legislative text (as opposed to nullifying it) does the Governor improperly intrude on the legislative power. For example, in the line-item-veto context, this Court has held that a Governor unconstitutionally engages in legislative action when he reduces or modifies an appropriation. See Brown, 382 So. 2d at 666; Fla. House of Representatives v. Martinez, 555 So. 2d 839, 844 (Fla. 1990).

In sum, the Governor's exercise of the veto power to affect the lawmaking process does not make the veto a legislative power. As Justice Ellis explained in 1922, "[e]ach branch of the government necessarily . . . comes in contact with one or the other branch, but such contact in n[o]wise merges the functions of one into that of the other." Amos v. Gunn, 94 So. 615, 627–28 (Fla. 1922). If that were so, then it follows that a "court acts in a legislative capacity when it

declares an act of the legislature to be unconstitutional." Id. Because the veto is an executive power, this Court has jurisdiction.[2]

B. The Governor's Other Executive Powers and Duties Also Support Jurisdiction.

If the Governor approves or takes no action on the Florida Legislature's redrawn districts, the districts become law, and the Governor must "take care that the laws [are] faithfully executed," art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const., and in so doing, must "direct[ly] supervis[e]" his "administration," namely the Secretary of State, art. IV, § 6, Fla. Const. In Advisory Opinion to the Governor Re: Implementation of Amendment 4, this Court explained that the "Governor's question about the meaning of Amendment 4," the Florida Constitution's voting restoration amendment, "affect[ed]" his "take care" duties and

[2] In 1887, this Court declined to issue an advisory opinion on a former Governor's use of the veto power. See In re Exec. Commc'n, 6 So. 925 (Fla. 1887). This Court concluded that it could not render an advisory opinion because it considered the veto to be a legislative power. Id. This Court is not required to follow its advisory opinions, see In re Advisory Op. of Governor Civil Rights, 306 So. 2d 520, 523 (Fla. 1975), and for all the reasons explained, this Court should give little weight to the 1887 response. In fact, fifty years later, a "majority of th[is] Court" stated that it was "of the opinion that the duty imposed on the Governor" to veto legislation "is executive rather than legislative as may be presumed from dicta in In Re Executive Communication." Advisory Opinion to the Governor, 12 So. 2d 583, 584 (Fla. 1943).

his "duty to provide the Department of State with necessary direction regarding the implementation of voter registration laws." 288 So. 3d 1070, 1076 (Fla. 2020). So too here.

Section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision affects the Governor's take care duties and his duty to provide the Secretary of State with necessary direction regarding the implementation of redistricting maps. The Secretary, of course, serves at the pleasure of the Governor. See §§ 20.02(3), 20.10, Fla. Stat. As the "chief election officer of the state," § 97.012, Fla. Stat., the Secretary must administer future elections under any new congressional map. To administer such elections, among other things, the Secretary must "[o]btain and maintain uniformity in the interpretation and implementation of the election laws," id. § 97.012(1), and must certify "the names of all duly qualified candidates for nomination or election who have qualified with the Department of State," including congressional candidates, § 99.061(6), Fla. Stat.

II. THIS COURT SHOULD EXERCISE ITS DISCRETION TO ISSUE AN ADVISORY OPINION.

This Court should exercise its discretionary jurisdiction because of its "obligation to provide certainty to candidates and voters regarding the legality of the state's congressional districts." League of Women Voters of Fla. v. Detzner, 179 So. 3d 258, 262 (Fla. 2015) ("Apportionment VIII") (citations omitted). Unlike most other legislation, the State must create new congressional maps. See Kirkpatrick v. Preisler, 394 U.S. 526, 530–31 (1969); 2 U.S.C. §§ 2a–2c. The process must also be completed before the candidate qualifying period begins. The redistricting process should therefore proceed under a correct understanding of the law. The failure to do so could result in confusion and chaos in the administration of the state's congressional elections. To avoid that result, a timely advisory opinion on this matter of great public importance is both necessary and appropriate. Apportionment VIII, 179 So. 3d at 262; see also In re Advisory Op. to Governor Request of June 29, 1979, 374 So. 2d 959, 962 (Fla. 1979) (providing opinion to prevent the "confusion surrounding [an] important enactment").

The Governor does not seek the Court's opinion on the constitutionality of any proposed legislation or map. To the contrary, the Governor requests guidance on the meaning of section 20(a)'s minority-voting-protection provision, including whether it requires a district in northern Florida that stretches hundreds of miles to connect a black population in Jacksonville with a black population in Gadsden and Leon Counties so that they can elect a candidate of their choice, even though not a majority.

Section 20(a) can be broken into two parts with brackets added for the sake of clarity:

> districts shall not be drawn [with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process] or [to diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice.]

Art. III, § 20(a), Fla. Const. The first bracketed clause contains the "non-vote-dilution provision," and the second contains the "non-diminishment provision." This Court has explained that section 20(a)'s non-vote-dilution provision mirrors § 2 of the Voting Rights Act and should be interpreted consistent with § 2 case law, and that section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision mirrors § 5 of the Voting Rights Act and should be interpreted consistent with § 5 case law. In re Senate Joint Resolution of Legislative Apportionment 1176, 83 So. 3d 597, 619–27 (Fla. 2012) ("Apportionment I").

Still, section 20(a)'s vote-diminishment provision remains unclear. The text neither says what "diminish" means nor does it clarify whose "ability to elect representatives of their choice" is protected from diminishment. The dictionary defines "diminish" as "to make less or cause to appear less," id. at 702 (Canady, J., concurring in part and dissenting in part) (quoting Diminish, Webster's Third International Dictionary (1993)). But make less than what? Measured how? And if the previous congressional map serves as a baseline, id. at 624, must that baseline itself be constitutionally valid before the vote-diminishment standard applies?

Untangling these questions must begin with the text and, more specifically, the phrase "ability to elect representatives of their choice." The word "their," as used in section 20(a), refers back to "racial or language minorities" in section 20(a)'s non-vote-dilution provision—the first bracketed clause. Cases construing § 2 of the Voting Rights Act inform any understanding of the first clause, id. at 619–24, and the federal cases make clear that § 2 of the Voting Rights Act applies only to "a minority group" that is "sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority" in some reasonably configured legislative district. Thornburg v. Gingles, 478 U.S. 30, 50

(1986).[3] Taken together, "their" must then mean "racial or language minorities" within a reasonably cohesive geographic area. See id. It follows that under section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision—the second bracketed clause—districts cannot be drawn to diminish racial or language minorities' ability to elect representatives of these geographically cohesive districts.

By giving meaning to section 20(a)'s text, we seek confirmation that such a reading comports with the rules of construction this Court now uses.[4] Among other things, we seek confirmation that the Governor's understanding of the word "their" comports with the harmonious-reading canon. Per the Governor's reading of Section 20(a), the non-vote-dilution provision allows minority groups to form

[3] In particular, this Court has explained that section 20(a)'s non-vote-dilution provision matches § 2 of the Voting Rights Act, Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 619–24, and § 2 claims are only applicable to districts where (1) the "minority group" is "sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority," (2) the minority group is "politically cohesive," and (3) the majority "votes sufficiently as a bloc." Gingles, 478 U.S. at 50–51.

[4] See Levy v. Levy, 326 So. 3d 678, 681 (Fla. 2021) (stating that the "words of a governing text are of paramount concern, and what they convey, in their context, is what the text means." (cleaned up)); Antonin Scalia & Bryan A. Garner, Reading Law: The Interpretation of Legal Texts 56, 167 (2012).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

geographically compact districts where appropriate consistent with two other preconditions (political cohesion of the minority group and bloc voting of the majority group). See Gingles, 478 at 50–51. The non-diminishment provision allows minority groups to maintain those districts where appropriate. See Reno v. Bossier Parish Sch. Bd., 520 U.S. 471, 477–80 (1997) (explaining the difference between § 2 and § 5 of the Voting Rights Act). Florida's non-vote-dilution provision therefore goes into effect when a reasonably cohesive district could be formed, and the non-diminishment provision goes into effect once the district has been formed.

But this Court has never squarely addressed whether the word "their" constrains the universe of districts to which the non-diminishment provision applies. Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 625.[5] That failure raises serious concerns under the U.S. Constitution.

[5] Giving effect to the word "their" would also be consistent with this Court's prior redistricting cases. The cases note that "[e]very word of the Florida Constitution should be given its intended meaning and effect." Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 614 (referencing In re Apportionment Law–1972, 263 So. 2d 797, 807 (Fla. 1972)). And the cases even suggest that the Gingles preconditions have some import for the second bracketed clause in section 20(a)—the non-diminishment provision. See Apportionment VIII, 179 So. 3d at 286 n.11 ("The Gingles preconditions are relevant not only to a Section 2

Decided after this Court's decisions in Apportionments I-VIII, the U.S. Supreme Court recently held that a "State may not use race as the predominant factor in drawing district lines" unless the State first proves "that its race-based sorting of voters serves a compelling interest and is narrowly tailored to that end." Cooper v. Harris, 137 S. Ct. 1455, 1463–64 (2017) (cleaned up). This showing of compelling interest and narrow tailoring must find a "strong basis in evidence." Id. After all, governmental actions based on race are presumptively unconstitutional. See id.; Parents Involved in Cmty. Schs. v. Seattle Sch. Dist. No. 1, 551 U.S. 701, 720 (2007).

Reading section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision as applying only to minorities groups in geographically cohesive districts in section 20(a)'s non-vote-dilution provision would avoid significant concerns under the U.S. Constitution and would give Florida's congressional maps the best chance of surviving strict scrutiny. As in Cooper, such a reading would find a tether in the first Gingles factor, which is used for purposes of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act, and vote dilution analysis, but also to a Section 5 diminishment analysis.").

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

the U.S. Supreme Court has assumed that compliance with § 2 would satisfy strict scrutiny. See Cooper, 137 S. Ct. at 1469–72.

Any reading of state law should avoid conflicts with the U.S. Constitution. Florida courts, including this Court, utilize the well-established doctrine of constitutional avoidance: "when two constructions" of state law "are possible, one of which is of questionable constitutionality," the law "must be construed so as to avoid any violation of" the "Florida and the United States Constitutions." State v. Presidential Women's Ctr., 937 So. 2d 114, 116, 120 (Fla. 2006) (quoting Indus. Fire & Cas. Ins. Co. v. Kwechin, 447 So. 2d 1337, 1339 (Fla. 1983)) (emphasis added).

In light of the constitutional text and relevant interpretive canon, the best reading of section 20(a)'s non-diminishment standard is that it prevents diminishment of a reasonably cohesive racial or language minority's population. Confirming this interpretation now in an advisory opinion will avoid potential confusion and chaos later.

III. CONCLUSION.

For the foregoing reasons, this Court should provide the requested advisory opinion to the Governor.

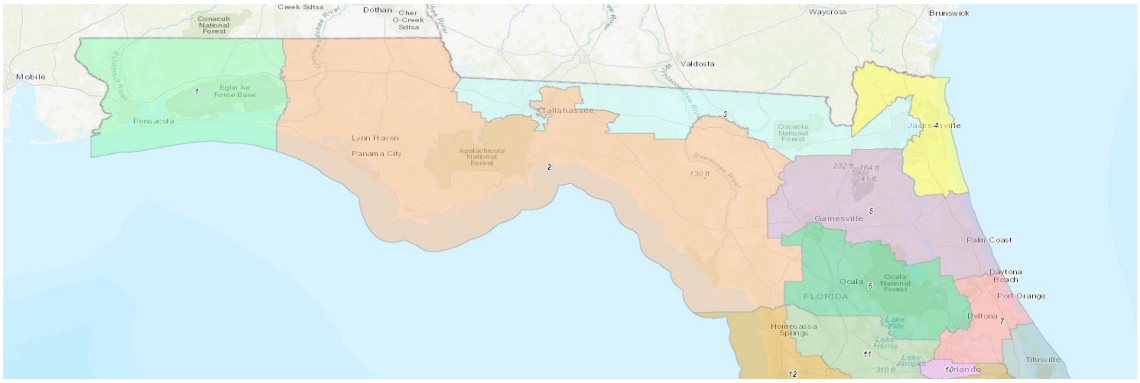
Honorable Tyler Sirois
Member, Florida House of Representatives
Chairman, Congressional Redistricting Subcommittee
400 South Monroe Street
Tallahassee, Florida 32399

Dear Chairman Sirois:

I write to convey the legal objections of the Executive Office of the Governor to the inclusion of Congressional District 3 in the maps proposed by the staff of the Florida House Redistricting Committee. The proposed district, which largely tracks current Congressional District 5, spans approximately 200 miles from East to West and cuts across eight counties to join a minority population in Jacksonville with a separate and distinct minority population in Leon and Gadsden Counties. The district is not compact and does not otherwise conform to usual political or geographic boundaries. Instead, it appears to be drawn solely to combine separate minority populations from different regions of northern Florida in a less than majority-minority district so that together they may have an opportunity to elect a candidate of their choice.

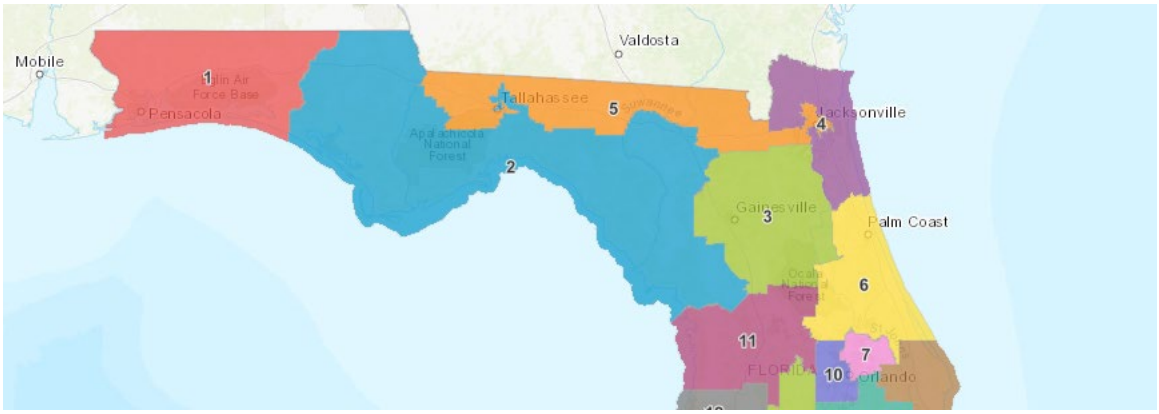
Where race is "the predominant factor motivating the legislature's decision to place a significant number of voters within or without a particular district," the legislature must prove that such "race-based sorting of voters serves a 'compelling interest' and is 'narrowly tailored' to that end." Cooper v. Harris, 137 S. Ct. 1455, 1463-64 (2017) (citations omitted). Because the Legislature cannot show that the proposed Congressional District 3 would satisfy strict scrutiny, the proposed district violates the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution and should not be included in any map enacted by the Florida House of Representatives.

Proposed Congressional District 3 (Blue)



AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Current Congressional District 5 (Orange)



The Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment generally prohibits state laws that separate citizens into groups on the basis of race. A state law that "expressly distinguishes among citizens because of their race" can survive legal challenge only if it is "narrowly tailored to further a compelling governmental interest." Shaw v. Reno, 509 U.S. 630, 643 (1993). This principle applies not only to a law that "contains explicit racial distinctions, but also to those 'rare' statutes that, although race neutral, are, on their face, 'unexplainable on grounds other than race.'" Id. (quoting Vill. of Arlington Heights v. Metro. Hous. Dev. Corp., 429 U.S. 252, 266 (1977)). Redistricting legislation is treated no differently. According to the U.S. Supreme Court, "redistricting legislation that is so bizarre on its face" that it can only be explained because of race "demands the same close scrutiny that we give other state laws that classify citizens by race." Id. at 644.

To state an equal protection claim, a plaintiff must "show, either through circumstantial evidence of a district's shape and demographics or more direct evidence going to legislative purpose, that race was the predominant factor motivating the legislature's [line-drawing] decision." Miller v. Johnson, 515 U.S. 900, 916 (1995). Specifically, the plaintiff must prove that "the legislature subordinated traditional race-neutral districting principles, including but not limited to compactness, contiguity, and respect for political subdivisions or communities defined by actual shared interests, to racial considerations." Id.

Given the foregoing considerations, it is evident that non-racial grounds cannot explain proposed Congressional District 3. First, the district violates traditional districting principles. Far from compact, the district records compactness scores as low as .11 on the Reock test, .63 on the Area / Convex Hull test, and .1 on the Polsby-Popper test. It also does not respect political subdivisions or communities defined by actual shared interests. The district splits four counties and three municipalities, and it stretches across eight counties to join a minority population in Jacksonville with minority populations in Leon and Gadsden Counties. These communities are in separate and distinct regions of northern Florida and are not defined by shared interests. With respect to contiguity, the district narrows to a mere three miles wide from North to South when traversing the northernmost precincts of Leon County at the state's northern border in an effort to include the minority populations in western Leon County and Gadsden County while avoiding the non-minority population in eastern Leon County.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Second, only two considerations plausibly explain the district's unusual shape—partisanship or race. If the district were drawn to favor partisan interests, it would violate the Fair Districts Amendment of the Florida Constitution. Article III, Section 20 of the Florida Constitution provides that "[n]o apportionment plan or individual district shall be drawn with the intent to favor or disfavor a political party or an incumbent." If improper partisan interests did not play a role, the only reasonable explanation for the district is race. This conclusion follows from the historical circumstances surrounding the creation of the current district.

The Florida Supreme Court drew the current district—Congressional District 5—in 2015. The Court rejected a North-South configuration of the district that ran from Jacksonville to Orlando because it concluded that such configuration had been unconstitutionally tainted by improper partisan influences. League of Women Voters of Fla. v. Detzner, 172 So. 3d 363, 403 (Fla. 2015) ("Apportionment VII"). The Court further held that the North-South version was not "necessary to avoid diminishing the ability of black voters to elect a candidate of their choice." Id. Consequently, the Court adopted the current East-West version. Id. at 405-06. While acknowledging that the new configuration was not a "model of compactness," id. at 406 (internal quotation marks omitted), the Court determined that it would not "diminish the ability of black voters to elect a candidate of their choice." Id. at 405. The Court explained that the non-compact shape was necessary because of "geography" and "other constitutional requirements such as ensuring that the apportionment plan does not deny the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice." Id. at 406 (citation omitted). Thus, it is clear that race considerations predominated in the drawing of the current district. And because the proposed reapportionment plan seeks to retain the district in large measure to avoid diminishment of minority voting power, race considerations likewise predominate in the creation of proposed Congressional District 3.

Third, it is obvious, given the location of minority neighborhoods and precincts, that district lines in both Jacksonville and Tallahassee were drawn specifically to capture minority populations and to combine them into one district. But according to the U.S. Supreme Court, "[a] reapportionment plan that includes in one district individuals who belong to the same race, but who are otherwise widely separated by geographical and political boundaries, and who may have little in common with one another but the color of their skin, bears an uncomfortable resemblance to political apartheid." Shaw, 509 U.S. at 647. By attempting to connect a minority population in Jacksonville with a faraway minority population in Tallahassee and surrounding areas, proposed Congressional District 3 does precisely what the U.S. Supreme Court has condemned.

Because it subordinates traditional districting criteria to avoid diminishment of minority voting power, Congressional District 3 is a racial gerrymander that can survive constitutional challenge only if the Legislature can prove that "its race-based sorting of voters serves a 'compelling interest' and is 'narrowly tailored' to that end." Cooper, 137 S. Ct. at 1464 (citation omitted). The Legislature cannot meet that exacting burden here.

The U.S. Supreme Court has long assumed, without definitively deciding, that complying with the Voting Rights Act ("VRA") is a compelling interest. Id. at 1464, 1469. In this case, however, there is no good reason to believe that the VRA requires Congressional District 3. According to the U.S. Supreme Court in Bartlett v. Strickland, 556 U.S. 1, 26 (2009) (plurality), Section 2 is satisfied only when a compact majority of minority citizens can be drawn into a single district. But there is no configuration in any proposal put forward in any public map that we are aware of that has created a majority-minority district in northern Florida.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

As both the U.S. Supreme Court and the Florida Supreme Court have noted, Section 2 prohibits the dilution of minority votes where a minority group is "sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority in some reasonably configured legislative district." Cooper, 137 S. Ct. at 1470 (internal quotation marks omitted); see also Thornburg v. Gingles, 478 U.S. 30, 50 (1986); In re Senate Joint Resolution of Legislative Apportionment 1176, 83 So. 3d 597, 622-23 (Fla. 2012) ("Apportionment I"). Congressional District 3 is not a reasonably configured district, and in any event, it does not contain a minority group that is sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority.

Nor does Section 5 of the VRA require Congressional District 3. Before the U.S. Supreme Court invalidated the VRA's coverage formula in Shelby County v. Holder, 570 U.S. 529, 553-57 (2013), the State of Florida was not a covered jurisdiction under Section 5, but five Florida counties were: Collier, Hardee, Hendry, Hillsborough, and Monroe. None of those counties are in Congressional District 3. Moreover, even assuming that compliance with the VRA is a compelling interest, it is doubtful that "continued compliance with [Section] 5 remains a compelling interest" in light of "Shelby County v. Holder." Ala. Legis. Black Caucus v. Alabama, 575 U.S. 254, 276 (2015).

Finally, the U.S. Supreme Court has never held that compliance with a state non-diminishment requirement is a compelling interest sufficient to withstand strict scrutiny under the Fourteenth Amendment's Equal Protection Clause. That is especially so where the state race-based requirement lacks a strong basis in evidence. To the extent that Article III, Section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision parallels Section 5 of the VRA, see Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 619-20, it should be noted that Congress compiled in 1965 an extensive record of racial discrimination in state electoral processes to justify Section 4 and 5's "strong medicine" and "extraordinary measures to address an extraordinary problem." Shelby County, 570 U.S. at 534-35; see also South Carolina v. Katzenbach, 383 U.S. 301, 329-34 (1966). When Florida voters approved Article III, Section 20(a), by contrast, they did not have before them a similar record of pervasive, flagrant, widespread, or rampant discrimination.

In any event, the non-diminishment provision of the Florida Constitution simply does not require Congressional District 3. Article III, Section 20(a) of the Florida Constitution provides that "districts shall not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or to diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice." This section contains two relevant provisions: the first is the non-vote-dilution provision ("districts shall not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process"), and the second is the non-diminishment provision ("districts shall not be drawn . . . to diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice"). The

Florida Supreme Court has held that the non-vote-dilution provision mirrors Section 2 of the VRA. Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 619-23.

When Article III, Section 20(a) is read in this context, it becomes apparent that the group referenced in the latter non-diminishment provision is the very same group of "racial or language minorities" referenced in the former non-vote-dilution provision. The word "their" in the non-diminishment provision necessarily refers back to the "racial or language minorities" in the non-vote-dilution provision. Because the non-vote-dilution provision mirrors Section 2 of the VRA, and because Section 2 only applies to districts that contain a minority group that is sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority, the non-diminishment provision should also apply to those kinds of districts. Because Congressional District 3 does not contain a minority group that is sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority, Article III, Section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision does not apply.

With this reading, both the non-vote-dilution provision and the non-diminishment provision work in tandem. The non-vote-dilution provision allows minority groups to form geographically compact districts where appropriate. See Gingles, 478 U.S. at 50-51 (requiring, additionally, political cohesion of the minority group and bloc voting of the majority group). The non-diminishment provision allows minority groups to maintain those districts where appropriate. See Reno v. Bossier Parish Sch. Bd., 520 U.S. 471, 477-80 (1997). In other words, the non-vote-dilution provision goes into effect when a reasonably cohesive district could be formed, and the non-diminishment provision goes into effect once the district has been formed.

This reading of Article III, Section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision to refer to "racial or language minorities" in the non-vote-dilution provision flows from the text of the Florida Constitution. It also gives the Florida Constitution the best chance to avoid the federal constitutional concerns raised above. See Cooper, 137 S. Ct. at 1463-64, 1482 (invalidating two North Carolina congressional districts).

In sum, I respectfully ask that you consider the foregoing legal objections to Congressional District 3. I also respectfully ask that you include in the legislative record Governor DeSantis' advisory opinion request to the Florida Supreme Court and the Governor's brief before the Florida Supreme Court.

Sincerely,

Ryan Newman

Honorable Charles T. Canady
Chief Justice of the Florida Supreme Court
Florida Supreme Court, 500 S. Duval St.
Tallahassee, Florida 32399

Mr. Chief Justice and Justices of the Florida Supreme Court:

In the coming weeks, the Florida Legislature must present to me a bill that redraws Florida's congressional districts consistent with the most recent decennial census, see 2 U.S.C. §§ 2a–2c, and the one-person, one-vote requirement of the U.S. Constitution, see Kirkpatrick v. Preisler, 394 U.S. 526, 530–31 (1969). All maps that have been published by the Legislature and are currently under consideration retain, for the most part, the current Congressional District 5. The district stretches over 200 miles from East to West across eight counties without conforming to usual political or geographic boundaries, solely to connect a minority population center in Jacksonville with a separate and distinct minority population center in Leon and Gadsden Counties so that, together, these minority populations may elect a candidate of their choice. It is a narrow district that compresses to only three miles wide, North to South, when traversing a string of the northernmost precincts in Leon County so the district can connect with the minority population in western Leon County without including the non-minority population in eastern Leon County. Similarly, in Duval County, the district narrows to about a mile and a half in width. As of the 2020 Census, two counties, Duval to the East and Leon to the West, alone contribute 82.77% of the district's population. These counties are in two completely different regions of the State.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT
FL-GOV-22-0226, 20-0378-A-000052

I seek this Court's opinion on whether Article III, Section 20(a) of the Florida Constitution requires the retention of a district in northern Florida that connects the minority population in Jacksonville with distant and distinct minority populations (either in Leon and Gadsden Counties or outside of Orlando) to ensure sufficient voting strength, even if not a majority, to elect a candidate of their choice.

This Court's constitutional power to render an advisory opinion is quite broad. Upon my request, this Court may opine as to "the interpretation of any portion of [the] constitution upon any question affecting the governor's executive powers and duties." Art. IV, § 1(c), Fla. Const. (emphasis added). The Florida Constitution provides that "[t]he supreme executive power shall be vested in a governor." Art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const. That executive power includes the "[e]xecutive approval and veto" power over bills the Florida Legislature presents to me, Art. III, § 8, Fla. Const.; the duty to "take care that the laws be faithfully executed," Art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const.; and the power of "direct supervision" over the "administration" of the Department of State, Art. IV, § 6, Fla. Const.; see also § 20.02(3), Fla. Stat. (providing that "[t]he administration of any executive branch department . . . placed under the direct supervision of an officer . . . appointed by and serving at the pleasure of the Governor shall remain at all times under the constitutional executive authority of the Governor"); § 20.10, Fla. Stat. (creating the Department of State, which is headed by the Secretary of State, who is appointed by and serves at the pleasure of the Governor).

Once presented with a congressional redistricting bill, I must decide whether to approve or veto it, and even if I take no action and the law goes into effect, I must nevertheless take care that the Constitution and laws of the State of Florida are faithfully executed. The Secretary of State, whom I direct and oversee, is the chief election officer of the State, § 97.012, Fla. Stat., and is responsible for, among many things, "[o]btain[ing] and maintain[ing] uniformity in the interpretation and implementation of the election laws," id. § 97.012(1), and certifying "the names of all duly qualified candidates for nomination or election who have qualified with the Department of State," § 99.061(6), Fla. Stat. The Department of State will also be responsible for defending any legal challenges to the new congressional redistricting map. In deciding whether to exercise my veto power once the Legislature's congressional redistricting bill is presented to me, and how best to faithfully implement the law if enacted, I now seek your "opinion . . . as to the interpretation of [a] portion of [the] constitution" that applies to the congressional redistricting process. Art. IV, § 1(c), Fla. Const. Such an opinion is both necessary and appropriate in this instance.

First, the once-in-a-decade congressional redistricting process is a unique circumstance: it is required by the U.S. Constitution, and it must be completed before upcoming congressional elections. With the qualifying period for election to the U.S. House of Representatives quickly approaching, the voters and candidates have a pressing need for certainty regarding the meaning of the State's non-diminishment standard. See § 99.061(9), Fla. Stat.; https://dos.myflorida.com /elections/candidates-committees/qualifying/. In contrast, most legislation is neither constitutionally mandated nor of the sort where prolonged uncertainty regarding the meaning of such text may adversely affect the State's elections. See League of Women Voters of Fla. v.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Detzner, 172 So. 3d 363, 372 (Fla. 2015) ("Apportionment VII") ("We emphasize the time-sensitive nature of these proceedings, with candidate qualifying for the 2016 congressional elections now less than a year away . . . ."). I make my request in the spirit of seeking as much guidance as possible from you consistent with "[t]his Court['s] . . . obligation to provide certainty to candidates and voters regarding the legality of the state's congressional districts." League of Women Voters of Fla. v. Detzner, 179 So. 3d 258, 262 (Fla. 2015) ("Apportionment VIII") (citation and internal quotation marks omitted).

Second, I am aware that on one occasion well over a century ago, the members of this Court declined to opine on a constitutional question in aid of my predecessor's exercise of the veto power. See In re Exec. Commc'n, 6 So. 925 (Fla. 1887). Notwithstanding that the Florida Constitution assigns to the Executive the power to approve or veto legislation, see Art. III, § 8, Fla. Const., this Court concluded that "any act which is an essential prerequisite" to the enactment of a law "is legislative" and is performed by the Executive "as a part of the lawmaking power." In re Exec. Commc'n, 6 So. at 925. This reasoning, which you are not bound to follow, see In re Advisory Opinion of Governor Civil Rights, 306 So. 2d 520, 523 (Fla. 1975), conflicts with the separation of powers enshrined in Article II, Section 3 of the Florida Constitution, and I respectfully request that you give the 1887 response no weight.

In particular, the Florida Constitution vests the State's legislative power in the Florida Legislature. See Art. III, § 1, Fla. Const. It follows, therefore, that the Governor's exercise of what the Constitution characterizes as the power of "[e]xecutive approval and veto," Art. III, § 8, Fla. Const., is not a legislative power. Rather, the veto power is an executive check on the legislative power; "[e]ach branch of the government necessarily at times, either by express provision of the Constitution or in the orderly administration of the state's affairs, comes in contact with one or the other branch, but such contact in n[o]wise merges the functions of one into that of the other." Amos v. Gunn, 94 So. 615, 627–28 (Fla. 1922) (Ellis, J., on pet. for reh'g). This Court's more recent opinions thus acknowledge that the exercise of the veto is an executive power.[1]

A, B, C, D, E, & F*, 589 So. 2d 260, 264 (Fla. 1991) ("Article III, section 8 sets forth the procedure for the executive power to approve or veto legislation of both nonappropriations and appropriations bills."); Brown v. Firestone, 382 So. 2d 654, 672 (Fla. 1980) ("We hold further that the vetoes identified herein as 2, 4, 5 and 6 are valid as being within the purview of the executive power granted by article III, section 8(a)[.]"); Owens v. State, 316 So. 2d 537, 538 n.4 (Fla. 1975) ("Although article IV of the constitution deals with the executive branch, the placement of a legislative power in one subsection of that article does not render the delegated power nugatory. The placement is functional, as with executive powers conferred in the judicial article (art. V, [§] 11) and in the legislative article (art. III, [§] 8)."); In re Advisory Opinion to the Governor, 239 So. 2d 1, 9 (Fla. 1970) ("The Legislature may not validly so draft a general appropriations bill as to unduly and unreasonably preclude the exercise of the executive power to 'veto any specific appropriation in a general appropriation bill.'" (quoting Art. III, § 8(a), Fla. Const.)); *see also Green v. AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Third, the question affecting my executive powers and duties concerns Article III, Section 20(a) of the Florida Constitution, which provides that:

> No apportionment plan or individual district shall be drawn with the intent to favor or disfavor a political party or an incumbent; and districts shall not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or to diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice; and districts shall consist of contiguous territory.

Art. III, § 20(a), Fla. Const. (emphasis added). I limit my request to the phrase "diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice"—the State's non-diminishment standard. Except where it may be necessary to inform your interpretation of the Florida Constitution, I do not ask for your opinion on any issues of federal law. Cf. In re Senate Joint Resolution of Legislative Apportionment 1176, 83 So. 3d 597, 620-21 (Fla. 2012) ("Apportionment I") (recognizing that the non-diminishment standard borrows from § 5 of the Voting Rights Act but "nonetheless recogniz[ing] our independent constitutional obligation to interpret our own state constitutional provisions").

Specifically, I ask whether the Florida Constitution's non-diminishment standard mandates a sprawling congressional district in northern Florida that stretches hundreds of miles from East to West solely to connect black voters in Jacksonville with black voters in Gadsden and Leon Counties (with few in between) so that they may elect candidates of their choice, even without a majority. This Court has previously suggested that the answer is "yes." Apportionment VIII, 179 So. 3d at 271 ("Although District 5 was required to be drawn from East to West, no specific configuration was mandated in Apportionment VII," and this Court did not "specify a certain Black Voting Age Population (BVAP) or black share of registered Democrats as a 'floor' below which the ability of black voters to elect a candidate of choice was certain to be diminished.").

In 2015, this Court rejected a North-South configuration of the district that ran from Jacksonville to Orlando. The Court held that the North-South version had been unconstitutionally tainted by partisan and other improper influences and that such a configuration was not "necessary to avoid diminishing the ability of black voters to elect a candidate of their choice." Apportionment VII, 172 So. 3d at 403. Consequently, the Court adopted the East-West configuration that exists today. Id. at 405–06. In so doing, this Court acknowledged that this configuration was not a "model of compactness," id. at 406 (internal quotation marks omitted), but nevertheless concluded that it was "visually less 'unusual' and 'bizarre' than the meandering North-South version," id., and that it would not "diminish the ability of black voters to elect a candidate of their choice," id. at 405. This Court indicated that the non-compact shape of the East-West district was nevertheless necessary because of "geography" and "other constitutional legislative action, subject to the power of the legislature to override the executive veto by the vote of a specified number of the legislature.").

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

requirements such as ensuring that the apportionment plan does not deny the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice." Id. at 406 (citation omitted).

This Court's prior guidance, however, pre-dates relevant decisions from the U.S. Supreme Court. In 2017, the U.S. Supreme Court made clear that where "racial considerations predominate[] over others, the design of the district must withstand strict scrutiny." Cooper v. Harris, 137 S. Ct. 1455, 1464 (2017). To satisfy this test, and thus pass muster under the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, a state must "prove that its race-based sorting of voters serves a 'compelling interest' and is 'narrowly tailored' to that end." Id. (citations omitted). While the U.S. Supreme Court "has long assumed that one compelling interest is complying with operative provisions of the Voting Rights Act," a state must show "that it had 'a strong basis in evidence'" to conclude that the Act required race-based sorting of voters. Id. (citation omitted). In Cooper, North Carolina did not meet its burden when arguing that compliance with § 2 of the Voting Rights Act served as a compelling reason. Id. at 1469–72. Specifically, North Carolina could not satisfy § 2's threshold conditions: (1) that the "minority group" was "sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority" in a reasonably compact legislative district, (2) that the minority group was "politically cohesive," and (3) that the district's majority group voted "sufficiently as a bloc" to "defeat the minority's preferred candidate." Id. at 1470 (quoting Thornburg v. Gingles, 478 U.S. 30, 50–51 (1986)).

If this Court advises that the non-diminishment standard does not specifically require that an East-West district be drawn to connect minority voters in Jacksonville with minority voters in Leon and Gadsden Counties, I nevertheless request guidance on what the non-diminishment standard does require. Specifically, I ask whether the Florida Constitution's non-diminishment standard requires that congressional districts be drawn to connect minority populations from distant and distinct geographic areas if doing so would provide the assembled minority group sufficient voting strength (although not a majority of the proposed district) to elect a candidate of its choice. Or, conversely, does the non-diminishment standard merely require that a minority population in a reasonably cohesive geographic area, where the population is not a majority but is nevertheless large enough to elect candidates of its choice, continue to be able to elect such candidates?

Relatedly, to make sense of the non-diminishment standard, I ask for clarification from this Court on what constitutes a proper benchmark for determining whether a minority group's ability to elect a candidate of its choice has been diminished. This Court has said that the "existing plan of a covered jurisdiction serves as the 'benchmark' against which the 'effect' of voting changes is measured.'" Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 624 (citation omitted). But is that so even if the district in the existing plan was designed solely to cobble together enough minority voters from distant and distinct geographic areas to elect candidates of their choice despite not constituting a majority? Or must the benchmark be confined to the minority population in a reasonably cohesive geographic area?

Florida's non-diminishment standard—like the Voting Rights Act's non-diminishment standard—is a potent, race-based solution to a race-based problem. I ask for your opinion to help me be sufficiently conscious of race to comply with the Florida Constitution's anti-diminishment provision but avoid being so conscious of race that my actions could violate the U.S. and Florida Constitutions.

Because the U.S. Supreme Court's decisions inform, but do not definitively resolve, issues of state law, I ask for you to exercise your "independent constitutional obligation" to interpret Florida law, id. at 621, and to guide me in exercising my executive powers as Governor. See Art. III, § 8, Fla. Const.; Art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const. I respectfully request your assistance as expeditiously as possible given that March 11, 2022, is the last day of the legislative session and candidates for the U.S. House of Representatives will need to qualify under a new map in June.

Thank you for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ARGUMENT

This Court has jurisdiction to advise on the interpretation of the following phrase: "districts shall not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or to diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice." Art. III, § 20(a), Fla. Const. (emphasis added). Section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision affects several of the Governor's executive powers and duties, namely his power to veto the congressional map presented to him, art. III, § 8, Fla. Const.; his duty to take care that the laws are faithfully executed, art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const.; and his power to directly supervise his Secretary of State in the administration of elections, art. IV, § 6, Fla. Const. Section 20(a)'s text is less than clear. There is a textual interpretation of this section, however, that avoids serious concerns under the U.S. Constitution. An advisory opinion confirming that interpretation would help the Governor ensure that the redrawing of congressional boundaries, which must occur every ten years, does not violate the Florida or U.S. Constitutions and is completed in a timely way to provide certainty to candidates and voters before the qualifying period begins in June.[1] Unlike most other legislation, redistricting is not discretionary and must be completed in short order before the electoral process commences. The unique demands of redistricting justify the Court's exercise of jurisdiction.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I. THIS COURT HAS JURISDICTION TO PROVIDE AN ADVISORY OPINION TO THE GOVERNOR.

Article IV, section 1(c) of the Florida Constitution allows this Court to render an advisory opinion to the Governor concerning "the interpretation of any portion of th[e] constitution" that "affect[s]" his "executive powers and duties." The interpretation of section 20(a) informs, and thus affects, how the Governor will exercise his executive powers and duties with respect to congressional redistricting legislation. Specifically, when the Florida Legislature presents to the Governor a bill that redraws Florida's congressional districts, which it must under federal law, the Governor can veto the bill, approve the bill, or take no action. A veto nullifies the bill. Approval or inaction allows the bill to become law, at which point the

Governor must "take care that the laws [are] faithfully executed," art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const., and "direct[ly] supervis[e]" his "administration," particularly his Secretary of State, in carrying out the law, art. IV, § 6, Fla. Const. These executive powers and duties satisfy the jurisdictional prerequisites.

A. The Veto Is an Executive Power.

Article III, section 8 expressly vests the Governor with the "[e]xecutive approval and veto" power. (Emphasis added.) If the Governor believes that a bill is "contrary to the public interest," including that it is unconstitutional, he may veto the bill. Brown v. Firestone, 382 So. 2d 654, 664 (Fla. 1980). The exercise of that executive power to affect legislation does not convert it into a lawmaking power any more than the judiciary's exercise of judicial review converts the judicial power into a lawmaking power.

The Florida Constitution's structure underscores that the veto is an executive power. The Florida Constitution vests "[t]he legislative power of the state" in the Florida Legislature, art. III, § 1, Fla. Const.; "[t]he supreme executive power" in the Governor, art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const.; and "[t]he judicial power" in the state judiciary, art. V, § 1, Fla. Const. "No person belonging to one branch shall exercise any powers appertaining to either of the other branches unless expressly provided herein." Art. II, § 3, Fla. Const. This separation of powers erects "high walls and clear distinctions" between each branch of government. Plaut v. Spendthrift Farm, 514 U.S. 211, 239 (1995).

The high walls separating executive and legislative powers are apparent in the lawmaking process. The Florida Constitution gives specific, precise powers to the legislative and executive branches with respect to the lawmaking process. As this Court has noted, "[a]rticle III, sections 1 and 7 assign to the legislature the responsibility for passage of all bills into law, regardless of their subject matter," and "[a]rticle III, section 8 sets forth the procedure for the executive power to approve or veto legislation." Chiles v. Children A, B, C, D, E, & F, 589 So. 2d 260, 264 (Fla. 1991). "These provisions" constitute the "constitutional allocation of the executive and legislative responsibilities concerning legislation generally." Id.

The Florida Constitution thus gives to the Governor the executive power in the legislative sphere, and that executive power includes the veto. See id. ("Article III, section 8 sets forth the procedure for the executive power to approve or veto legislation of both nonappropriations and appropriations bills." (emphasis added));

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Brown, 382 So. 2d at 672 ("We hold further that the vetoes identified herein as 2, 4, 5 and 6 a*re valid as being within the purview of the executive power* granted by article III, section 8(a)." (emphasis added)); Owens v. State, 316 So. 2d 537, 538 n.4 (Fla. 1975) ("Although article IV of the constitution deals with the executive branch, the placement of a legislative power in one subsection of that article does not render the delegated power nugatory" because "[t]he placement is functional, as with executive powers conferred in the judicial article . . . and in the legislative article.").

The veto is a "negative power, the power to nullify, or at least suspend, legislative intent." Brown, 382 So. 2d at 664. It is the "[p]rimary . . . executive check[] on unfettered legislative power" and gives the Governor a "stronger bargaining position from which to seek revision or amendment of bills" and a means to "counteract legislative action which he considers to be contrary to the public interest." Id. As such, in the lawmaking process, "the constitutional authority of the legislative department is in part delimited by the scope of executive authority"—as exercised by the veto power. Id. at 663.

By contrast, the Legislature does not have the power to veto bills—it has the power to bicamerally "pass" and "present" them, and to "re-enact" a vetoed bill by supermajority vote. See art. III, §§ 7–8, Fla. Const. So it cannot be said that in exercising the power to "veto" a bill that the Governor is exercising a power that otherwise belongs to the Legislature. It is quintessentially an executive power.

Only when the Governor exceeds his veto power by effectively amending legislative text (as opposed to nullifying it) does the Governor improperly intrude on the legislative power. For example, in the line-item-veto context, this Court has held that a Governor unconstitutionally engages in legislative action when he reduces or modifies an appropriation. See Brown, 382 So. 2d at 666; Fla. House of Representatives v. Martinez, 555 So. 2d 839, 844 (Fla. 1990).

In sum, the Governor's exercise of the veto power to affect the lawmaking process does not make the veto a legislative power. As Justice Ellis explained in 1922, "[e]ach branch of the government necessarily . . . comes in contact with one or the other branch, but such contact in n[o]wise merges the functions of one into that of the other." Amos v. Gunn, 94 So. 615, 627–28 (Fla. 1922). If that were so, then it follows that a "court acts in a legislative capacity when it

declares an act of the legislature to be unconstitutional." Id. Because the veto is an executive power, this Court has jurisdiction.[2]

B. The Governor's Other Executive Powers and Duties Also Support Jurisdiction.

If the Governor approves or takes no action on the Florida Legislature's redrawn districts, the districts become law, and the Governor must "take care that the laws [are] faithfully executed," art. IV, § 1(a), Fla. Const., and in so doing, must "direct[ly] supervis[e]" his "administration," namely the Secretary of State, art. IV, § 6, Fla. Const. In Advisory Opinion to the Governor Re: Implementation of Amendment 4, this Court explained that the "Governor's question about the meaning of Amendment 4," the Florida Constitution's voting restoration amendment, "affect[ed]" his "take care" duties and

[2] In 1887, this Court declined to issue an advisory opinion on a former Governor's use of the veto power. See In re Exec. Commc'n, 6 So. 925 (Fla. 1887). This Court concluded that it could not render an advisory opinion because it considered the veto to be a legislative power. Id. This Court is not required to follow its advisory opinions, see In re Advisory Op. of Governor Civil Rights, 306 So. 2d 520, 523 (Fla. 1975), and for all the reasons explained, this Court should give little weight to the 1887 response. In fact, fifty years later, a "majority of th[is] Court" stated that it was "of the opinion that the duty imposed on the Governor" to veto legislation "is executive rather than legislative as may be presumed from dicta in In Re Executive Communication." Advisory Opinion to the Governor, 12 So. 2d 583, 584 (Fla. 1943).

his "duty to provide the Department of State with necessary direction regarding the implementation of voter registration laws." 288 So. 3d 1070, 1076 (Fla. 2020). So too here.

Section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision affects the Governor's take care duties and his duty to provide the Secretary of State with necessary direction regarding the implementation of redistricting maps. The Secretary, of course, serves at the pleasure of the Governor. See §§ 20.02(3), 20.10, Fla. Stat. As the "chief election officer of the state," § 97.012, Fla. Stat., the Secretary must administer future elections under any new congressional map. To administer such elections, among other things, the Secretary must "[o]btain and maintain uniformity in the interpretation and implementation of the election laws," id. § 97.012(1), and must certify "the names of all duly qualified candidates for nomination or election who have qualified with the Department of State," including congressional candidates, § 99.061(6), Fla. Stat.

II. THIS COURT SHOULD EXERCISE ITS DISCRETION TO ISSUE AN ADVISORY OPINION.

This Court should exercise its discretionary jurisdiction because of its "obligation to provide certainty to candidates and voters regarding the legality of the state's congressional districts." League of Women Voters of Fla. v. Detzner, 179 So. 3d 258, 262 (Fla. 2015) ("Apportionment VIII") (citations omitted). Unlike most other legislation, the State must create new congressional maps. See Kirkpatrick v. Preisler, 394 U.S. 526, 530–31 (1969); 2 U.S.C. §§ 2a–2c. The process must also be completed before the candidate qualifying period begins. The redistricting process should therefore proceed under a correct understanding of the law. The failure to do so could result in confusion and chaos in the administration of the state's congressional elections. To avoid that result, a timely advisory opinion on this matter of great public importance is both necessary and appropriate. Apportionment VIII, 179 So. 3d at 262; see also In re Advisory Op. to Governor Request of June 29, 1979, 374 So. 2d 959, 962 (Fla. 1979) (providing opinion to prevent the "confusion surrounding [an] important enactment").

The Governor does not seek the Court's opinion on the constitutionality of any proposed legislation or map. To the contrary, the Governor requests guidance on the meaning of section 20(a)'s minority-voting-protection provision, including whether it requires a district in northern Florida that stretches hundreds of miles to connect a black population in Jacksonville with a black population in Gadsden and Leon Counties so that they can elect a candidate of their choice, even though not a majority.

Section 20(a) can be broken into two parts with brackets added for the sake of clarity:

> districts shall not be drawn [with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process] or [to diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice.]

Art. III, § 20(a), Fla. Const. The first bracketed clause contains the "non-vote-dilution provision," and the second contains the "non-diminishment provision." This Court has explained that section 20(a)'s non-vote-dilution provision mirrors § 2 of the Voting Rights Act and should be interpreted consistent with § 2 case law, and that section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision mirrors § 5 of the Voting Rights Act and should be interpreted consistent with § 5 case law. In re Senate Joint Resolution of Legislative Apportionment 1176, 83 So. 3d 597, 619–27 (Fla. 2012) ("Apportionment I").

Still, section 20(a)'s vote-diminishment provision remains unclear. The text neither says what "diminish" means nor does it clarify whose "ability to elect representatives of their choice" is protected from diminishment. The dictionary defines "diminish" as "to make less or cause to appear less," id. at 702 (Canady, J., concurring in part and dissenting in part) (quoting Diminish, Webster's Third International Dictionary (1993)). But make less than what? Measured how? And if the previous congressional map serves as a baseline, id. at 624, must that baseline itself be constitutionally valid before the vote-diminishment standard applies?

Untangling these questions must begin with the text and, more specifically, the phrase "ability to elect representatives of their choice." The word "their," as used in section 20(a), refers back to "racial or language minorities" in section 20(a)'s non-vote-dilution provision—the first bracketed clause. Cases construing § 2 of the Voting Rights Act inform any understanding of the first clause, id. at 619–24, and the federal cases make clear that § 2 of the Voting Rights Act applies only to "a minority group" that is "sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority" in some reasonably configured legislative district. Thornburg v. Gingles, 478 U.S. 30, 50

(1986).[3] Taken together, "their" must then mean "racial or language minorities" within a reasonably cohesive geographic area. See id. It follows that under section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision—the second bracketed clause—districts cannot be drawn to diminish racial or language minorities' ability to elect representatives of these geographically cohesive districts.

By giving meaning to section 20(a)'s text, we seek confirmation that such a reading comports with the rules of construction this Court now uses.[4] Among other things, we seek confirmation that the Governor's understanding of the word "their" comports with the harmonious-reading canon. Per the Governor's reading of Section 20(a), the non-vote-dilution provision allows minority groups to form

[3] In particular, this Court has explained that section 20(a)'s non-vote-dilution provision matches § 2 of the Voting Rights Act, Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 619–24, and § 2 claims are only applicable to districts where (1) the "minority group" is "sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority," (2) the minority group is "politically cohesive," and (3) the majority "votes sufficiently as a bloc." Gingles, 478 U.S. at 50–51.

[4] See Levy v. Levy, 326 So. 3d 678, 681 (Fla. 2021) (stating that the "words of a governing text are of paramount concern, and what they convey, in their context, is what the text means." (cleaned up)); Antonin Scalia & Bryan A. Garner, Reading Law: The Interpretation of Legal Texts 56, 167 (2012).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

geographically compact districts where appropriate consistent with two other preconditions (political cohesion of the minority group and bloc voting of the majority group). See Gingles, 478 at 50–51. The non-diminishment provision allows minority groups to maintain those districts where appropriate. See Reno v. Bossier Parish Sch. Bd., 520 U.S. 471, 477–80 (1997) (explaining the difference between § 2 and § 5 of the Voting Rights Act). Florida's non-vote-dilution provision therefore goes into effect when a reasonably cohesive district could be formed, and the non-diminishment provision goes into effect once the district has been formed.

But this Court has never squarely addressed whether the word "their" constrains the universe of districts to which the non-diminishment provision applies. Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 625.[5] That failure raises serious concerns under the U.S. Constitution.

[5] Giving effect to the word "their" would also be consistent with this Court's prior redistricting cases. The cases note that "[e]very word of the Florida Constitution should be given its intended meaning and effect." Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 614 (referencing In re Apportionment Law–1972, 263 So. 2d 797, 807 (Fla. 1972)). And the cases even suggest that the Gingles preconditions have some import for the second bracketed clause in section 20(a)—the non-diminishment provision. See Apportionment VIII, 179 So. 3d at 286 n.11 ("The Gingles preconditions are relevant not only to a Section 2

Decided after this Court's decisions in Apportionments I-VIII, the U.S. Supreme Court recently held that a "State may not use race as the predominant factor in drawing district lines" unless the State first proves "that its race-based sorting of voters serves a compelling interest and is narrowly tailored to that end." Cooper v. Harris, 137 S. Ct. 1455, 1463–64 (2017) (cleaned up). This showing of compelling interest and narrow tailoring must find a "strong basis in evidence." Id. After all, governmental actions based on race are presumptively unconstitutional. See id.; Parents Involved in Cmty. Schs. v. Seattle Sch. Dist. No. 1, 551 U.S. 701, 720 (2007).

Reading section 20(a)'s non-diminishment provision as applying only to minorities groups in geographically cohesive districts in section 20(a)'s non-vote-dilution provision would avoid significant concerns under the U.S. Constitution and would give Florida's congressional maps the best chance of surviving strict scrutiny. As in Cooper, such a reading would find a tether in the first Gingles factor, which is used for purposes of § 2 of the Voting Rights Act, and vote dilution analysis, but also to a Section 5 diminishment analysis.").

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

the U.S. Supreme Court has assumed that compliance with § 2 would satisfy strict scrutiny. See Cooper, 137 S. Ct. at 1469–72.

Any reading of state law should avoid conflicts with the U.S. Constitution. Florida courts, including this Court, utilize the well-established doctrine of constitutional avoidance: "when two constructions" of state law "are possible, one of which is of questionable constitutionality," the law "must be construed so as to avoid any violation of" the "Florida and the United States Constitutions." State v. Presidential Women's Ctr., 937 So. 2d 114, 116, 120 (Fla. 2006) (quoting Indus. Fire & Cas. Ins. Co. v. Kwechin, 447 So. 2d 1337, 1339 (Fla. 1983)) (emphasis added).

In light of the constitutional text and relevant interpretive canon, the best reading of section 20(a)'s non-diminishment standard is that it prevents diminishment of a reasonably cohesive racial or language minority's population. Confirming this interpretation now in an advisory opinion will avoid potential confusion and chaos later.

III. CONCLUSION.

For the foregoing reasons, this Court should provide the requested advisory opinion to the Governor.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Secretary Laurel Lee
Secretary of State
R.A. Gray Building
500 South Bronough Street
Tallahassee, Florida 32399

Dear Secretary Lee:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8 of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby vetó and transmit my objection to CS/SB 102, enacted during the 124th Session of the Legislature of Florida, during Regular Session 2022 and entitled:

An act relating to establishing the congressional districts of the state

As presented in both the primary and secondary maps enacted by the Legislature, Congressional District 5 violates the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution for the reasons set forth in the attached memorandum. Although I understand the Legislature's desire to comply with the Florida Constitution, the Legislature is not absolved of its duty to comply with the U.S. Constitution. Where the U.S. and Florida Constitutions conflict, the U.S. Constitution must prevail.

Accordingly, I withhold my approval of CS/SB 102 and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,

Ron DeSantis

MEMORANDUM

Re: Constitutionality of CS/SB 102, An Act Relating to Establishing the Congressional Districts of the State

Congressional District 5 in both the primary and secondary maps enacted by the Legislature violates the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution because it assigns voters primarily on the basis of race but is not narrowly tailored to achieve a compelling state interest.

"Just as the State may not, absent extraordinary justification, segregate citizens on the basis of race in its public parks, buses, golf courses, beaches, and schools," the U.S. Supreme Court has made clear that the State also "may not separate its citizens into different voting districts on the basis of race." Miller v. Johnson, 515 U.S. 900, 911 (1995) (internal citations omitted). "When the State assigns voters on the basis of race," the Court explained, "it engages in the offensive and demeaning assumption that voters of a particular race, because of their race, 'think alike, share the same political interests, and will prefer the same candidates at the polls.'" Id. at 911-12 (quoting Shaw v. Reno, 509 U.S. 630, 647 (1993)).

For these reasons, the Court has interpreted the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution to prohibit state legislatures from using race as the "predominant factor motivating [their] decision to place a significant number of voters within or without a particular district," id. at 916, unless they can prove that their "race-based sorting of voters serves a 'compelling interest' and is 'narrowly tailored' to that end," Cooper v. Harris, 137 S. Ct. 1455, 1464 (2017) (citation omitted). That race was the predominant factor motivating a legislature's line-drawing decision can be shown "either through circumstantial evidence of a district's shape and demographics or more direct evidence going to legislative purpose." Miller, 515 U.S. at 916.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

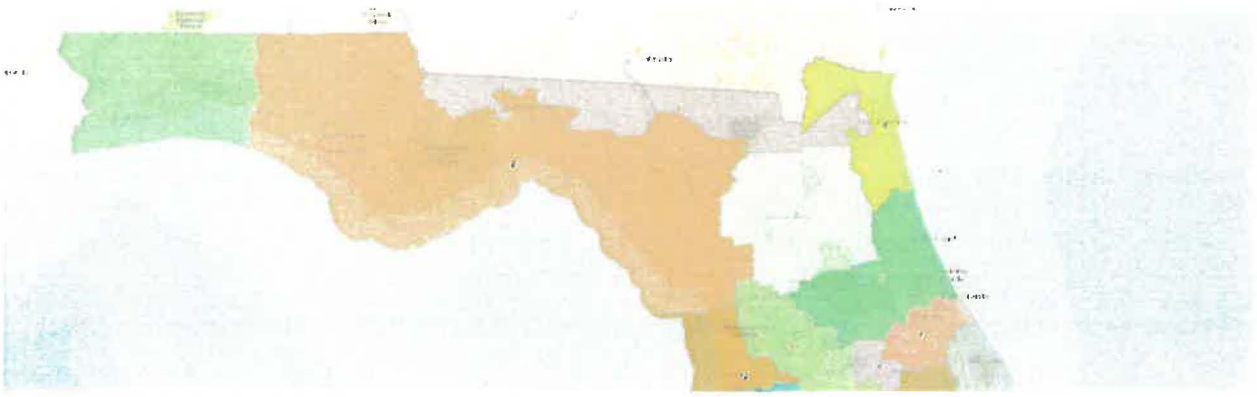
Although non-adherence to traditional districting principles, which results in a non-compact, unusually shaped district, is relevant evidence that race was the predominant motivation of a legislature, such evidence is not required to establish a constitutional violation. "Race may predominate even when a reapportionment plan respects traditional principles, . . . if '[r]ace was the criterion that, in the State's view, could not be compromised,' and race-neutral considerations 'came into play only after the race-based decision had been made.'" Bethune-Hill v. Va. State Bd. of Elections, 137 S. Ct. 788, 798 (2017) (quoting Shaw v. Hunt, 517 U.S. 899, 907 (1996) (alteration in original)). "The racial predominance inquiry concerns the actual considerations that provided the essential basis for the lines drawn, not post hoc justifications the legislature in theory could have used but in reality did not." Id. at 799. A legislature "could construct a plethora of potential maps that look consistent with traditional, race-neutral principles," but "if race for its own sake is the overriding reason for choosing one map over others, race still may predominate." Id. It is the "racial purpose of state action, not its stark manifestation," that offends the Equal Protection Clause. Miller, 515 U.S. at 913.

In light of these well-established constitutional principles, the congressional redistricting bill enacted by the Legislature violates the U.S. Constitution. The bill contains a primary map and secondary map that include a racially gerrymandered district—Congressional District 5—that is not narrowly tailored to achieve a compelling state interest. See generally Fla. H.R. Comm. on Redist., recording of proceedings, at 0:00-2:55:19 (Feb. 25, 2022), https://thefloridachannel.org/videos/2-25-22-house-redistricting-committee/ (committee presentation and discussion of the maps later passed by the Legislature).

In the secondary map, which was the original map reported out of the House Congressional Redistricting Subcommittee, District 5 is a sprawling district that stretches approximately 200 miles from East to West and cuts across eight counties to connect a minority population in Jacksonville with a separate and distinct minority population in Leon and Gadsden Counties. The district is not compact, does not conform to usual political or geographic boundaries, and is bizarrely shaped to include minority populations in western Leon County and Gadsden County while excluding non-minority populations in eastern Leon County. Because this version of District 5 plainly subordinates traditional districting criteria to avoid diminishment of minority voting age population, there is no question that race was "the predominant factor motivating the legislature's decision" to draw this district. Miller, 515 U.S. at 916.

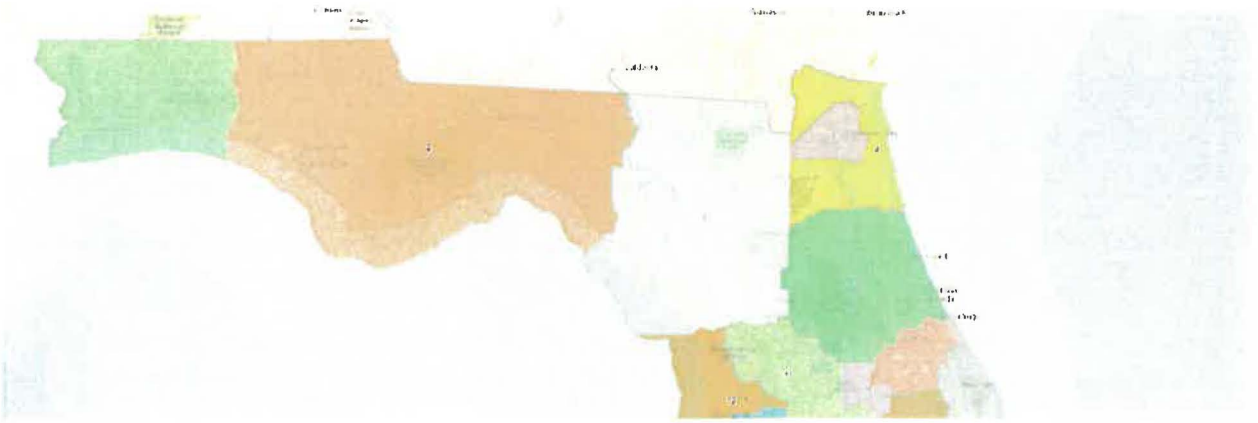
AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

District 5 in the Secondary Map (Purple)



In response to federal constitutional concerns about the unusual shape of District 5 as it was originally drawn, and which is now reflected in the secondary map, the House Redistricting Committee drew a new version of District 5, which is reflected in the primary map. This configuration of the district is more compact but has caused the adjacent district—District 4—to take on a bizarre doughnut shape that almost completely surrounds District 5. The reason for this unusual configuration is the Legislature's desire to maximize the black voting age population in District 5. The Chair of the House Redistricting Committee confirmed this motivation when he explained that the new District 5 was drawn to "protect[] a black minority seat in north Florida." Fla. H.R. Comm. on Redist., recording of proceedings, at 19:15-19:26 (Feb. 25, 2022).

District 5 in the Primary Map (Purple)



Despite the Legislature's attempt to address the federal constitutional concerns by drawing a more compact district, the constitutional defect nevertheless persists. Where "race was the criterion that, in the State's view, could not be compromised, and race-neutral considerations came into play only after the race-based decision had been made," it follows that race was the predominant factor, even though the district otherwise respects traditional districting principles. Bethune-Hill, 137 S. Ct. at 798 (cleaned up).

Such was the case here. Even for the more compact district, the Legislature believed (albeit incorrectly) that the Florida Constitution required it to ensure "a black minority seat in north Florida." Fla. H.R. Comm. on Redist., recording of proceedings, at 19:15-19:26 (Feb. 25, 2022). Specifically, according to the House Redistricting Chair, the primary map's version of District 5 is the House's "attempt at continuing to protect the minority group's ability to elect a candidate of their choice." Id. at 19:45-19:54. The Legislature thus used "an express racial target" for District 5 of a black voting age population sufficiently large to elect a candidate of its choice. Bethune-Hill, 137 S. Ct. at 800.

Because racial considerations predominated even in drawing the new District 5, the Legislature must satisfy strict scrutiny, the U.S. Supreme Court's "most rigorous and exacting standard of constitutional review." Miller, 515 U.S. at 920. And to satisfy strict scrutiny, the Legislature "must demonstrate that its districting legislation is narrowly tailored to achieve a compelling interest." Id. That, the Legislature cannot do.

There is no good reason to believe that District 5 needed to be drawn as a minority-performing district to comply with Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act (VRA), because the relevant minority group is not sufficiently large to constitute a majority in a geographically compact area. In the primary map, the black voting age population of District 5 is 35.32%, and even in the secondary map, with the racially gerrymandered, non-compact version of District 5, the black voting age population increases only to 43.48%. Compare Fla. Redist. 2022, H000C8019, https://bit.ly/3uczOXb (available at floridaredistricting.gov/pages/submitted-plans) (last visited Mar. 28, 2022), with Fla. Redist. 2022, H000C8015, https://bit.ly/36hFRBB (available at floridaredistricting.gov/pages/submitted-plans) (last visited Mar. 28, 2022). "When a minority group is not sufficiently large to make up a majority in a reasonably shaped district, § 2 simply does not apply." Cooper, 137 S. Ct. at 1472 (citing Bartlett v. Strickland, 556 U.S. 1, 18-20 (2009) (plurality opinion)); see also Thornburg v. Gingles, 478 U.S. 30, 50 (1986) (explaining that one of the threshold conditions for proving vote dilution under Section 2 is that the minority group is "sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority").

Nor is there good reason to believe that District 5 is required to be drawn to comply with Section 5 of the VRA. Section 5 is no longer operative now that the U.S. Supreme Court invalidated the VRA's formula for determining which jurisdictions are subject to Section 5. See Shelby Cnty. v. Holder, 570 U.S. 529, 553-57 (2013); see also Ala. Legis. Black Caucus v. Alabama, 575 U.S. 254, 279 (2015) (suggesting that continued compliance with Section 5 may not remain a compelling interest in light of Shelby County). In any event, even before the coverage formula was invalidated, the State of Florida was not a covered jurisdiction subject to Section 5. See In re Senate Joint Resolution of Legislative Apportionment 1176 (Apportionment I), 83 So. 3d 597, 624 (Fla. 2012). Only five counties in Florida were covered—Collier, Hardee, Hendry, Hillsborough, and Monroe—and none of them are in northern Florida where District 5 is located. See id.

The only justification left for drawing a race-based district is compliance with Article III, Section 20(a) of the Florida Constitution. But District 5 does not comply with this provision. Article III, Section 20(a) provides that "districts shall not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or to diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice." The Florida Supreme Court has noted that these "dual constitutional imperatives follow almost verbatim the requirements embodied in the Federal Voting Rights Act." Id. at 619 (cleaned up). The first imperative, which prohibits districts that deny or abridge the equal opportunity of minority groups to participate in the political process, is modeled after Section 2 of the VRA, and the second imperative, which prohibits districts that diminish the ability of minority groups to elect representatives of their choice, is modeled after Section 5. Id. at 619-20.

Like the VRA, these provisions of the Florida Constitution "aim[] at safeguarding the voting strength of minority groups against both impermissible dilution and retrogression." Id. at 620. Although judicial interpretation of the VRA is relevant to understanding the Florida Constitution's non-dilution and non-diminishment provisions, the Florida Supreme Court nonetheless recognizes its "independent constitutional obligation" to interpret these provisions. Id. at 621.

Relevant here is the Florida Constitution's non-diminishment requirement. Unlike Section 5 of the VRA, this requirement "applies to the entire state." Id. at 620. Under this standard, the Legislature "cannot eliminate majority-minority districts or weaken other historically performing minority districts where doing so would actually diminish a minority group's ability to elect its preferred candidates." Id. at 625. The existing districts "serve[] as the 'benchmark' against which the 'effect' of voting changes is measured." Id. at 624 (cleaned up). Where a voting change leaves a minority group "less able to elect a preferred candidate of choice" than the benchmark, that change violates the non-diminishment standard. Id. at 625 (internal quotation marks omitted); see also id. at 702 (Canady, C.J., concurring in part and dissenting in part) (noting that the dictionary definition of "diminish" means "to make less or cause to appear less" (citation omitted)).

The Florida Supreme Court has acknowledged that "a slight change in percentage of the minority group's population in a given district does not necessarily have a cognizable effect on a minority group's ability to elect its preferred candidate of choice." Id. at 625. The minority population percentage in each district need not be "fixed" in perpetuity. Id. at 627. But where the reduction in minority population in a given district is more than "slight," such that the ability of the minority population to elect a candidate of choice has been reduced (even if not eliminated), the Legislature has violated the Florida Constitution's non-diminishment requirement as interpreted by the Florida Supreme Court.

Given these principles, there is no good reason to believe that District 5, as presented in the primary map, complies with the Florida Constitution's non-diminishment requirement. The benchmark district contains a black voting age population of 46.20%, whereas the black voting age population of District 5 in the primary map is only 35.32%.[1] Compare Fla. Redist. 2022, FLCD2016, https://bit.ly/3Iv6FeW (available at floridaredistricting.gov/pages/submitted-plans) (last visited Mar. 28, 2022), with Fla. Redist. 2022, H000C8019, https://bit.ly/3uczOXb (available at floridaredistricting.gov/pages/submitted-plans) (last visited Mar. 28, 2022). This nearly eleven percentage point drop is more than slight, and while the House Redistricting Chair represented that the black population of the district could still elect a candidate of choice, see Fla. H.R. Comm. on Redist., recording of proceedings, at 59:44-1:00:17 (Feb. 25, 2022), there appears to be little dispute that the ability of the black population to elect such a candidate had nevertheless been reduced, see id. at 1:00:18-1:00:58 (noting that the benchmark district performed for the minority candidate of choice in 14 of 14 previous elections and that the new district would not perform for the minority candidate of choice in one-third of the same elections).

Moreover, the House Redistricting Chair claimed that the only criterion that mattered was whether the new district still performed at all. See id. at 1:06:09-1:06:30 ("It is not a diminishment unless the district does not perform."); see also id. at 1:05:05-1:05:13 ("Is it less likely to perform? Honestly, I don't know."). But that view is plainly inconsistent with the Florida Supreme Court precedent described above, which prohibits any voting change that leaves a minority group "less able to elect a preferred candidate of choice." Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 625 (internal quotation marks omitted). In sum, because the reduction of black voting age population is more than slight and because such reduction appears to have diminished the ability of black voters to elect a candidate of their choice, District 5 does not comply with the non-diminishment requirement of Article III, Section 20(a) of the Florida Constitution. Therefore, compliance with the Florida Constitution cannot supply the compelling reason to justify the Legislature's use of race in drawing District 5 in the primary map.

[1] The benchmark district itself is a sprawling, non-compact racial gerrymander that connects minority communities from two distinct regions of the State; however, for purposes of this point, I assume that the district can be used as a valid benchmark against which to judge the new maps.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In the secondary map, by contrast, District 5 complies with the Florida Constitution's non-diminishment requirement, but in doing so, it violates the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. The U.S. Supreme Court has warned that a "reapportionment plan that includes in one district individuals who belong to the same race, but who are otherwise widely separated by geographical and political boundaries, and who may have little in common with one another but the color of their skin, bears an uncomfortable resemblance to political apartheid." Shaw, 509 U.S. at 647. As described earlier, District 5 in the secondary map does precisely this.

That the district is believed to be necessary to comply with the Florida Constitution's non-diminishment requirement does not alone suffice to justify the use of race in drawing bizarre, non-compact district boundaries for the sole purpose of cobbling together disparate minority populations from across northern Florida to form a minority-performing district. Mere compliance with a state constitutional requirement to engage in race-based districting is not, without more, a compelling interest sufficient to satisfy strict scrutiny. The Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution and the VRA, which enforces the Fifteenth Amendment, exist to prevent states from engaging in racially discriminatory electoral practices. Indeed, one such weapon that states long used, and that the VRA was designed to combat, "was the racial gerrymander—the deliberate and arbitrary distortion of district boundaries for racial purposes." Id. at 640 (cleaned up).

Here, the Florida Constitution's non-diminishment standard would be satisfied only by a sprawling, non-compact district that spans 200 miles and repeatedly violates traditional political boundaries to join minority communities from disparate geographic areas. Such a district is not narrowly tailored to achieve the compelling interest of protecting the voting rights of a minority community in a reasonably cohesive geographic area. As applied to District 5 in the secondary map, therefore, the Florida Constitution's non-diminishment standard cannot survive strict scrutiny and clearly violates the U.S. Constitution.

For the foregoing reasons, Congressional District 5 in both maps is unlawful.

Hey there! It was great seeing you yesterday, thank you so much for all your help arranging the photo for Liz (which I luckily got to tag along for!!). Will the professional ones be posted on the governor's smugmug page? Wanted to make sure Liz and Rep. Leek's brother (and me!) knew where to find them. ☺

Thanks again!

Good Evening –

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Apologies for the late email, but today, the Biden Administration (through the FDA), announced they revoked the emergency use authorization for regeneron and Eli Lilly monoclonal treatments. This also impacts all private providers with doses of Regeron and Eli Lilly products. Florida has to shut down all of our state run monoclonal sites (Okaloosa, Duval, Seminole, Broward, Palm Beach, Miami Dade, and Collier) starting tomorrow, canceling more than 2,000 appointments tomorrow at those sites alone.

Floridians that had scheduled appointments, should contact the U.S. FDA at 1-888-463-6332, for an explanation as to why this decision was made, and reach out to their health care providers for treatment options.

Tallahassee, Fla. — This evening, without any advanced notice, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) revised the Emergency Use Authorizations (EUA) for bamlanivimab/etesevimab and REGEN-COV. The revised EUAs do not allow providers to administer these treatments within the United States.

Unfortunately, as a result of this abrupt decision made by the federal government, all monoclonal antibody state sites will be closed until further notice.

Individuals with appointments have been directly contacted regarding cancellations. If you have tested positive for COVID-19, please contact your health care provider for more information and resources on treatment options. Resources for emerging treatments can be found at www.HealthierYouFL.org. Pharmacies that have received allocations of anti-viral treatments can be found at www.FloridaHealthCOVID-19.gov.

Florida disagrees with the decision that blocks access to any available treatments in the absence of clinical evidence. To date, such clinical evidence has not been provided by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

As stated in one of the pre-print studies cited on the NIH website, "despite observing differences in neutralizing activity with certain mAbs, it remains to be determined how this finding translates into effects on clinical protection against B.1.1.529."

For more information on why this decision was made, please contact the FDA at 1-888-463-6332.

My name is Robert D. Popper. I am a Senior Attorney and Director of voting integrity efforts at Judicial Watch, Inc. Judicial Watch is a Washington, D.C.-based public interest nonprofit dedicated to promoting transparency, accountability, and integrity in government, politics, and the law.

I was admitted to the Bar in New York in 1990, and I have been practicing as a litigator for 32 years. I have special knowledge and expertise in the area of voting law and have written both popular and scholarly articles on the subject.[1] I have particular expertise in the areas of racial and political gerrymandering. In 1991, with Professor Daniel Polsby, I wrote an article describing a mathematical way to measure the geographic compactness of congressional districts.[2] This standard is now known as the "Polsby/Popper" criterion and is one of the most widely used tests of district compactness. In 1997, I brought a lawsuit that ultimately led to New York's 12th Congressional District being enjoined as an unconstitutional racial

In 2005, I joined the Voting Section of the Civil Rights Division of the U.S. Department of Justice, where I worked for eight years. In 2008, I received a Special Commendation Award for my efforts in enforcing Section 7 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 ("NVRA"), which requires state offices providing public assistance to offer those receiving it the opportunity to register to vote. That same year, I was promoted to Deputy Chief of the Voting Section. In my time at DOJ, I managed voting rights investigations, litigations, consent decrees, and settlements in dozens of states. I helped to enforce all the statutes the Department is charged with enforcing, including the NVRA, the Help America Vote Act of 2002, the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act of 1986, and the Military and Overseas Voter Empowerment Act of 2009. I managed lawsuits enforcing the Voting Rights Act of 1965, as amended, including the minority language provisions of Section 203; the preclearance provisions of Section 5; the anti-intimidation provisions of Section 11; and both vote denial and vote dilution claims under Section 2.

In 2013, I joined Judicial Watch. In my time there, I have filed voting rights lawsuits in federal and state courts alleging claims under the First, Fourteenth, and Fifteenth Amendments, Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act, the NVRA, and a number of state constitutional provisions. Among other things, I am currently representing plaintiffs pursuing gerrymandering claims in Maryland State court.

In preparation for my testimony, I looked at Florida's proposed congressional districts in maps drawn by the Florida House Redistricting Committee (see H000C8011, dated

[3] Diaz v. Silver, 978 F. Supp. 96 (E.D.N.Y. 1997) (three-judge court), aff'd mem., 521 U.S. 801 (1997).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2/10/2022; H000C8003, dated 11/29/2021; H000C8001, 11/29/2021, available at https://redistrictingplans.flsenate.gov/). In sum, my testimony is that proposed Congressional District 3 is highly vulnerable to being enjoined in a lawsuit that could be filed in federal court on the basis of principles embodied in the landmark ruling of Shaw v. Reno, 509 U.S. 630 (1993) and its progeny.

In Shaw, the Supreme Court first held that "redistricting legislation that is so extremely irregular on its face that it rationally can be viewed only as an effort to segregate the races for purposes of voting, without regard for traditional districting principles and without sufficiently compelling justification" states a federal, constitutional claim "under the Equal Protection Clause." 509 U.S. at 642. Two years later in Miller v. Johnson, 515 U.S. 900 (1995), the Supreme Court upheld a lower court ruling invalidating a Georgia district on the basis of Shaw. The Court explained that "the essence of the equal protection claim recognized in Shaw is that the State has used race as a basis for separating voters into districts." 515 U.S. at 911. Assigning voters on that basis "embod[ies] stereotypes that treat individuals as the product of their race, evaluating their thoughts and efforts—their very worth as citizens—according to a criterion barred to the Government by history and the Constitution." Id. at 912.

The racial intent behind the district challenged in Miller was apparent "when its shape is considered in conjunction with its racial and population densities." Id. at 917. Because "[r]ace was … the predominant, overriding factor" in its design, the district could not be "upheld unless it satisfies strict scrutiny, our most rigorous and exacting standard of constitutional review." Id. at 920. "To satisfy strict scrutiny, the State must demonstrate that its districting legislation is narrowly tailored to achieve a compelling interest." Id. The Court noted in particular that "creating a third majority-black district to satisfy the Justice Department's preclearance demands" under Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act was not enough under the circumstances to justify the challenged district:

> As we suggested in Shaw, compliance with federal antidiscrimination laws cannot justify race-based districting where the challenged district was not reasonably necessary under a constitutional reading and application of those laws. … The congressional plan challenged here was not required by the Voting Rights Act under a correct reading of the statute.

Id. at 921.

More recently, in Bethune-Hill v. Va. State Bd. of Elections, 137 S. Ct. 788, 797-98 (2017), the Court made clear that a plaintiff challenging a district under Shaw was not required to "establish, as a prerequisite to showing racial predominance, an actual conflict between the enacted plan and traditional redistricting principles." The Court recognized that "the 'constitutional violation' in racial gerrymandering cases stems from the 'racial purpose of state action, not its stark manifestation.'" Id. at 798 (citation omitted). Bethune-Hill is also noteworthy in that the Court, under a deferential review for "clear error," did not overturn the district court's finding that a district with 55% BVAP was necessary to avoid liability under Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act. But the Court in another case summarized Bethune-Hill's findings as follows:

> [W]here we have accepted a State's "good reasons" for using race in drawing district lines, the State made a strong showing of a pre-enactment analysis with justifiable conclusions. In Bethune-Hill, the State established that the primary mapdrawer "discussed the district with incumbents from other majority-minority districts[,] … considered turnout rates, the results of the recent contested primary and general elections," and the district's large prison population. … The State established that it had performed a "functional analysis," and acted to achieve an "informed bipartisan consensus."

Abbott v. Perez, 138 S. Ct. 2305, 2335 (2018) (emphasis added). Significantly, the Court in Abbott rejected a proposed justification for a race-based district where the State of Texas argued that it was necessary to comply with Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act, but had not made the required strong showing. Id. at 2334. Similarly, in Cooper v. Harris, 137 S. Ct. 1455, 1470 (2017), the Court rejected a claim that a race-based district was necessary to comply with Section 2 when the State of North Carolina could not show the preconditions required to make such a claim.

Turning to Congressional District 3 in the proposed plan, I believe it will be vulnerable to a serious—and probably a winning—Shaw-type claim under the Fourteenth Amendment. I understand that there will be little dispute that the district was drawn with its racial characteristics as the predominant consideration. I also understand that the shape of the district will be well-explained by the effort to include African-American populations around Tallahassee and Jacksonville. Moreover, the district clearly violates traditional districting criteria. Its Popper-Polsby score is 10%, and its Reock score is 11%. These are very low compactness scores for any U.S. congressional district, and in both cases these are the lowest compactness scores in the State of Florida.[4]

I also believe that the defenders of District 3 will be unable to justify the district so as to satisfy their burden of strict scrutiny. To begin with, I am unaware of the existence of any sort of "a strong showing of a pre-enactment analysis with justifiable conclusions." Abbott, 138 S. Ct. at 2335. But further, even if the race-based character of the districts could be justified under federal or Florida law, the district's noncompactness will compel the legal conclusion that it is not "narrowly tailored" to achieve its goals, as it must be to satisfy strict

[4] District 3 also has the third worst Area/Convex Hull score in the State. However, I do not consider the Area/Convex Hull test to be a reliable compactness measure. There are too many district indentations and distortions it simply cannot "see." Accordingly, it is too forgiving.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

scrutiny. See Miller, 515 U.S. at 921 ("The congressional plan challenged here was not required by the Voting Rights Act under a correct reading of the statute.").

As a final point, the fact that the BVAP in District 3 is at around 44% according to the House Committee's online information (or 42% according to the Princeton Gerrymandering Project) will defeat the State's ability to justify the district. The Supreme Court has held that no Section 2 claim is possible where the minority VAP is less than 50%. Bartlett v. Strickland, 556 U.S. 1, 19-20 (2009) ("It remains the rule … that a party asserting § 2 liability must show by a preponderance of the evidence that the minority population in the potential election district is greater than 50 percent."). The Supreme Court has at least suggested that the same rule applies in the context of Section 5. Perry v. Perez, 565 U.S. 388, 398-99 (2012) ("The court's order suggests that it may have intentionally drawn … a 'minority coalition opportunity district' in which the court expected two different minority groups to band together to form an electoral majority"; and, if so, "it had no basis for doing so. Cf. Bartlett …"). See also In re Senate Joint Resolution of Legislative Apportionment 1176, 83 So. 3d 597, 625 (2012) ("Just as Section 2 jurisprudence guides the Court in analyzing the state vote dilution claims, when we interpret our state provision prohibiting the diminishment of racial or language minorities' ability to elect representatives of choice, we are guided by any jurisprudence interpreting Section 5.").

In sum, if I were asked by a client whether Congressional District 3 complies with the federal constitution, my answer would be an emphatic no.

My name is Robert D. Popper. I am a Senior Attorney and Director of voting integrity efforts at Judicial Watch, Inc. Judicial Watch is a Washington, D.C.-based public interest nonprofit dedicated to promoting transparency, accountability, and integrity in government, politics, and the law.

I was admitted to the Bar in New York in 1990, and I have been practicing as a litigator for 32 years. I have special knowledge and expertise in the area of voting law and have written both popular and scholarly articles on the subject.[1] I have particular expertise in the areas of racial and political gerrymandering. In 1991, with Professor Daniel Polsby, I wrote an article describing a mathematical way to measure the geographic compactness of congressional districts.[2] This standard is now known as the "Polsby/Popper" criterion and is one of the most widely used tests of district compactness. In 1997, I brought a lawsuit that ultimately led to New York's 12th Congressional District being enjoined as an unconstitutional racial

In 2005, I joined the Voting Section of the Civil Rights Division of the U.S. Department of Justice, where I worked for eight years. In 2008, I received a Special Commendation Award for my efforts in enforcing Section 7 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 ("NVRA"), which requires state offices providing public assistance to offer those receiving it the opportunity to register to vote. That same year, I was promoted to Deputy Chief of the Voting Section. In my time at DOJ, I managed voting rights investigations, litigations, consent decrees, and settlements in dozens of states. I helped to enforce all the statutes the Department is charged with enforcing, including the NVRA, the Help America Vote Act of 2002, the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act of 1986, and the Military and Overseas Voter Empowerment Act of 2009. I managed lawsuits enforcing the Voting Rights Act of 1965, as amended, including the minority language provisions of Section 203; the preclearance provisions of Section 5; the anti-intimidation provisions of Section 11; and both vote denial and vote dilution claims under Section 2.

In 2013, I joined Judicial Watch. In my time there, I have filed voting rights lawsuits in federal and state courts alleging claims under the First, Fourteenth, and Fifteenth Amendments, Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act, the NVRA, and a number of state constitutional provisions. Among other things, I am currently representing plaintiffs pursuing gerrymandering claims in Maryland State court.

In preparation for my testimony, I looked at Florida's proposed congressional districts in maps drawn by the Florida House Redistricting Committee (see H000C8011, dated

[3] Diaz v. Silver, 978 F. Supp. 96 (E.D.N.Y. 1997) (three-judge court), aff'd mem., 521 U.S. 801 (1997).

2/10/2022; H000C8003, dated 11/29/2021; H000C8001, 11/29/2021, available at https://redistrictingplans.flsenate.gov/). In sum, my testimony is that proposed Congressional District 3 is highly vulnerable to being enjoined in a lawsuit that could be filed in federal court on the basis of principles embodied in the landmark ruling of Shaw v. Reno, 509 U.S. 630 (1993) and its progeny.

In Shaw, the Supreme Court first held that "redistricting legislation that is so extremely irregular on its face that it rationally can be viewed only as an effort to segregate the races for purposes of voting, without regard for traditional districting principles and without sufficiently compelling justification" states a federal, constitutional claim "under the Equal Protection Clause." 509 U.S. at 642. Two years later in Miller v. Johnson, 515 U.S. 900 (1995), the Supreme Court upheld a lower court ruling invalidating a Georgia district on the basis of Shaw. The Court explained that "the essence of the equal protection claim recognized in Shaw is that the State has used race as a basis for separating voters into districts." 515 U.S. at 911. Assigning voters on that basis "embod[ies] stereotypes that treat individuals as the product of their race, evaluating their thoughts and efforts—their very worth as citizens—according to a criterion barred to the Government by history and the Constitution." Id. at 912.

The racial intent behind the district challenged in Miller was apparent "when its shape is considered in conjunction with its racial and population densities." Id. at 917. Because "[r]ace was … the predominant, overriding factor" in its design, the district could not be "upheld unless it satisfies strict scrutiny, our most rigorous and exacting standard of constitutional review." Id. at 920. "To satisfy strict scrutiny, the State must demonstrate that its districting legislation is narrowly tailored to achieve a compelling interest." Id. The Court noted in particular that "creating a third majority-black district to satisfy the Justice Department's preclearance demands" under Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act was not enough under the circumstances to justify the challenged district:

> As we suggested in Shaw, compliance with federal antidiscrimination laws cannot justify race-based districting where the challenged district was not reasonably necessary under a constitutional reading and application of those laws. … The congressional plan challenged here was not required by the Voting Rights Act under a correct reading of the statute.

Id. at 921.

More recently, in Bethune-Hill v. Va. State Bd. of Elections, 137 S. Ct. 788, 797-98 (2017), the Court made clear that a plaintiff challenging a district under Shaw was not required to "establish, as a prerequisite to showing racial predominance, an actual conflict between the enacted plan and traditional redistricting principles." The Court recognized that "the 'constitutional violation' in racial gerrymandering cases stems from the 'racial purpose of state action, not its stark manifestation.'" Id. at 798 (citation omitted). Bethune-Hill is also noteworthy in that the Court, under a deferential review for "clear error," did not overturn the district court's finding that a district with 55% BVAP was necessary to avoid liability under Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act. But the Court in another case summarized Bethune-Hill's findings as follows:

> [W]here we have accepted a State's "good reasons" for using race in drawing district lines, the State made a strong showing of a pre-enactment analysis with justifiable conclusions. In Bethune-Hill, the State established that the primary mapdrawer "discussed the district with incumbents from other majority-minority districts[,] … considered turnout rates, the results of the recent contested primary and general elections," and the district's large prison population. … The State established that it had performed a "functional analysis," and acted to achieve an "informed bipartisan consensus."

Abbott v. Perez, 138 S. Ct. 2305, 2335 (2018) (emphasis added). Significantly, the Court in Abbott rejected a proposed justification for a race-based district where the State of Texas argued that it was necessary to comply with Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act, but had not made the required strong showing. Id. at 2334. Similarly, in Cooper v. Harris, 137 S. Ct. 1455, 1470 (2017), the Court rejected a claim that a race-based district was necessary to comply with Section 2 when the State of North Carolina could not show the preconditions required to make such a claim.

Turning to Congressional District 3 in the proposed plan, I believe it will be vulnerable to a serious—and probably a winning—Shaw-type claim under the Fourteenth Amendment. I understand that there will be little dispute that the district was drawn with its racial characteristics as the predominant consideration. I also understand that the shape of the district will be well-explained by the effort to include African-American populations around Tallahassee and Jacksonville. Moreover, the district clearly violates traditional districting criteria. Its Popper-Polsby score is 10%, and its Reock score is 11%. These are very low compactness scores for any U.S. congressional district, and in both cases these are the lowest compactness scores in the State of Florida.[4]

I also believe that the defenders of District 3 will be unable to justify the district so as to satisfy their burden of strict scrutiny. To begin with, I am unaware of the existence of any sort of "a strong showing of a pre-enactment analysis with justifiable conclusions." Abbott, 138 S. Ct. at 2335. But further, even if the race-based character of the districts could be justified under federal or Florida law, the district's noncompactness will compel the legal conclusion that it is not "narrowly tailored" to achieve its goals, as it must be to satisfy strict

[4] District 3 also has the third worst Area/Convex Hull score in the State. However, I do not consider the Area/Convex Hull test to be a reliable compactness measure. There are too many district indentations and distortions it simply cannot "see." Accordingly, it is too forgiving.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

scrutiny. See Miller, 515 U.S. at 921 ("The congressional plan challenged here was not required by the Voting Rights Act under a correct reading of the statute.").

As a final point, the fact that the BVAP in District 3 is at around 44% according to the House Committee's online information (or 42% according to the Princeton Gerrymandering Project) will defeat the State's ability to justify the district. The Supreme Court has held that no Section 2 claim is possible where the minority VAP is less than 50%. Bartlett v. Strickland, 556 U.S. 1, 19-20 (2009) ("It remains the rule … that a party asserting § 2 liability must show by a preponderance of the evidence that the minority population in the potential election district is greater than 50 percent."). The Supreme Court has at least suggested that the same rule applies in the context of Section 5. Perry v. Perez, 565 U.S. 388, 398-99 (2012) ("The court's order suggests that it may have intentionally drawn … a 'minority coalition opportunity district' in which the court expected two different minority groups to band together to form an electoral majority"; and, if so, "it had no basis for doing so. Cf. Bartlett …"). See also In re Senate Joint Resolution of Legislative Apportionment 1176, 83 So. 3d 597, 625 (2012) ("Just as Section 2 jurisprudence guides the Court in analyzing the state vote dilution claims, when we interpret our state provision prohibiting the diminishment of racial or language minorities' ability to elect representatives of choice, we are guided by any jurisprudence interpreting Section 5.").

In sum, if I were asked by a client whether Congressional District 3 complies with the federal constitution, my answer would be an emphatic no.

RE: Judicial Letter of Recommendation for Ms. Joan Berry Nassar

Dear Governor DeSantis,

It is my pleasure to recommend Joan Nassar's judicial appointment to the 18th Judicial Circuit Court vacancy created by the retirement of Judge Lisa Davidson.

Ms. Nassar graduated from University of South Carolina School of Law in 1990 and served as a member of the Student Bar Association and Christian Legal Society. Ms. Nassar began her career practicing family law in 1990. Since 1993, Ms. Nassar has been an active member of the Florida Bar Association in good standing, as well as a member of the Brevard County Bar Association.

In 1999, Ms. Nassar received the First Annual Young Lawyers Award for her tireless pursuit and practice of the highest ideals and tenets of the legal profession and consistently demonstrating character, competence and commitment – essential ingredients of professionalism in the field.

For the past 31 years, Ms. Nassar has been a small firm private practitioner, working to help clients through difficult times. Today, she has her own practice – Law Office of Joan Berry Nassar, P.A. – in Melbourne, Florida, where she helps families navigate family law as they find themselves in life-changing situations, such as divorce.

Ms. Nassar gives back to the Brevard community by offering pro bono legal assistance with Brevard County Legal Aid and volunteer legal representation in family law matters to residents at New Life Mission, a non-profit to equip homeless mothers and their families for generations.

Ms. Nassar possesses a strong Christian value system, believes in the importance of treating others the way she would like to be treated, and believes everyone deserves to be listened to with respect. I believe these values will guide her well as an 18th Judicial Circuit Court Judge.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

I believe Ms. Nassar's years of experience and skill set would make her an asset to the 18th Judicial Circuit Court. For these reasons and more, I strongly recommend Ms. Nassar for this vacancy. If you have any further questions, feel free to contact me at (321) 449-5111.

RE: Judicial Letter of Recommendation for Mrs. Lorelie Brannan

Dear Governor DeSantis,

It is my pleasure to recommend that Lorelie Brannan be appointed to the Eighth Judicial Circuit Court. I believe Mrs. Brannan is well suited for this position and has the same judicial philosophy as the Governor.

Lorelie Brannan has been a prosecutor for the Eighth Judicial Circuit for over 14 years. Mrs. Brannan graduated Loyola University New Orleans School of Law in May of 2007, with the Moot Court Staff Member and Outstanding Senior Award, an Amicus Curiae, U.S. v. Roberson, United States Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces, a Student Bar Association President's Award, and was the president of several clubs including a supporting Asian Pacific Law Student association. Mrs. Brannan was admitted to practice law in September 2007 and has held an outstanding record.

In addition to being Board Certified in Criminal Trial Law, Mrs. Brannan also sits on the Eighth Judicial Circuit Unlicensed Practice of Law Circuit Committee, the Florida Bar committee that reviews complaints and challenges of attorneys being accused of practicing without a license. Mrs. Brannan serves as a mentor for younger attorneys and will work hard for the Eighth Judicial Circuit. Through observational skills, detail-oriented thinking, and great passion for the law, Mrs. Brannan has demonstrated a commitment to justice through her work in Baker County over the last 14 years.

I highly recommend Lorelie Brannan for this judicial appointment. If you have any further questions, feel free to contact me at (321) 449-5111.

Sincerely,

Tyler Sirois

California Doctors Warn Against COVID-19 Censorship Bill

By Vanessa Serna | February 22, 2022 Updated: February 23, 2022

A A Print

Some medical professionals are vowing to fight a possible new California law that attempts to threaten their medical licenses for spreading "COVID-19 misinformation"—calling the effort "unconstitutional" and "illegal."

California Assemblyman Evan Low (D-Campbell) introduced Assembly Bill (AB) 2098 on Feb. 15, which would prevent licensed physicians and surgeons from spreading COVID-19 misinformation. If passed, the law would inject disciplinary actions by the Medical Board of California or the Osteopathic Medical Board of California to care providers promoting alleged misinformation.

"The idea that they're going to come after physicians that spread misinformation, without defining what misinformation is, [is] frightening," Physician Dr. Jeff Barke told The Epoch Times.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT FL-GOV-22-0226, 20-0378-A-000280

Dr. Jeff Barke in Tustin, Calif., on March 10, 2021. (John Fredricks/The Epoch Times)

Amid the pandemic, Barke was among the minority of health care professionals unafraid of challenging the science behind masks and vaccinations pushed by the California Department of Public Health and Center for Disease Control and Prevention--urging for individual freedom of choice.

Barke, a private practice physician in Newport Beach, has continuously fought against COVID-19 mandates and has urged for California schools to reopen–saying children are statistically unlikely to die due to the virus.

While Barke is against the mandates–especially lingering COVID-19 vaccine mandates for kids–he reassures that he is not anti-vaccine.

As the threat of censorship lingers among some health professionals, Barke said he fears scientific studies are at risk–as those who have challenged vaccines and masks will be potentially forced into compliance.

"Science is not about consensus. It's not about agreement. It's about sharing and debating ideas," Barke said. "That sharing and debating ideas has not been allowed during the COVID crisis."

The COVID-19 Moderna vaccination was prepared at Lestonnac Free Clinic in Orange, Calif., on March 9, 2021. (John Fredricks/The Epoch Times)

Mark McDonald, a private practice psychiatrist in Los Angeles, said he is unfazed by the proposed bill–stating he will continue to voice his opinion against COVID-19 mandates until he is chased out of the state.

"If they want to challenge me, then I'll take them to court," McDonald told The Epoch Times. "We're going into year three of this nonsense and I think when you stand up and you don't give an inch, in most cases, the bullies are actually cowards, and they will collapse."

McDonald has repeatedly spoken out against the COVID-19 vaccine, masks, social distancing mandates, and school closures at in-person events or on social media. Most of what he put online was either flagged as misinformation or removed, he said.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

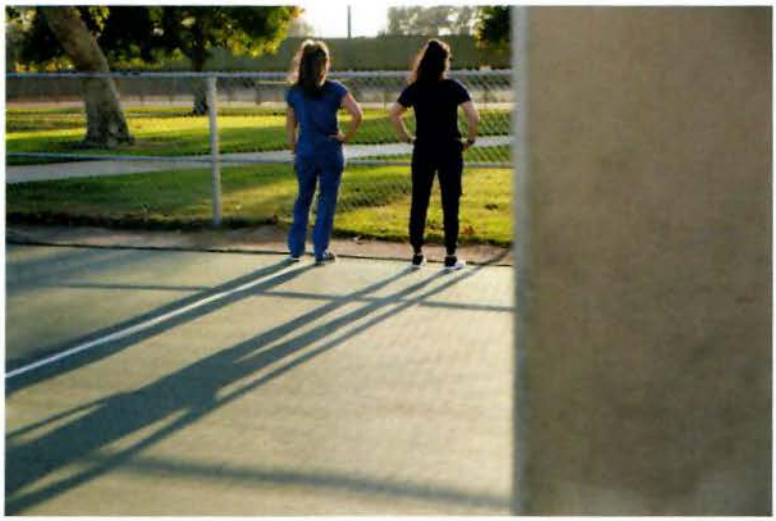
Privacy - Terms
FL-GOV-22-0226, 20-0378-A-000281

Nevertheless, McDonald has persisted.

"All doctors really need to stand up and do what's right, rather than cower in fear and censor their words," McDonald said.

While leaving the state to avoid losing his license is an option, McDonald said he plans on staying.

"As long as there is something to fight for, you should stay where you are and fight," McDonald said. "I think California still has some good left in it. Not much, but it still has some good and as long as something can be salvaged, I think those who are fighters need to stay and fight."



Orange County nurses choosing not to receive coronavirus vaccinations gather in Huntington Beach, Calif., on Sept. 2, 2021. (John Fredricks/The Epoch Times)

Aside from AB 2098, state officials are requesting support from lawmakers to create a new department to push back against COVID-19 misinformation, Gov. Gavin Newsom announced Feb. 17.

"We will continue to call it out," Newsom said. "We ask people [who] continue to promote lies and misinformation."

Cited in the proposed bill, misinformation refers to the spread of information that opposes the "safety" of vaccines as confirmed through evaluation by the Food and Drug Administration.

"The spread of misinformation and disinformation about COVID-19 vaccines has weakened public confidence and placed lives at serious risks," the legislation reads.

The legislation further elaborates on how "major news outlets" have reported on "dangerous" and "inaccurate information" about the vaccines.

Courses with a curriculum based on unproven, theoretical, or exploratory content are best suited as elective or specific program prerequisite credit, not general education credit.

(2) In performing their duties under ss. 1007.24 and 1007.25, the State Board of Education, Board of Governors, Commissioner of Education, Articulation Coordinating Committee, and faculty committees, when approving or recommending for approval general education courses, general education core courses, and substitute or equivalency credit for such courses, shall apply the following principles:

(b) General education courses may not suppress or distort significant historical events or include a curriculum that teaches identity politics, such as Critical Race Theory, or defines American history as contrary to the creation of a new nation based on universal principles stated in the Declaration of Independence.

(3) Beginning with students initially entering a Florida College System institution or state university in the 2023-2024 academic year and thereafter, each student must complete at least one core course in each subject area as part of general education core course requirements.

2. Humanities courses must afford students the ability to think critically through mastering propositional logic and analyzing ethical arguments from classical works on logic, rhetoric, and ethics.

3. Natural science courses must afford students the ability to critically examine and evaluate the principles of the scientific method, model construction, and use the scientific

If a course is approved as a general education course, that course must be accepted as a general education course, in the same subject area, by all public postsecondary educational institutions.

(5) Public postsecondary educational institution boards of trustees and presidents are responsible for annually reviewing and approving, at a public meeting, general education course and general education core course requirements, as authorized and approved in accordance with ss. 1007.24 and 1007.25, at their respective institutions. (16) Each university board of trustees may establish a tuition differential for undergraduate courses upon receipt of approval from the Board of Governors. However, beginning July 1, 2014, the Board of Governors may only approve the establishment of or an increase in tuition differential for a state research university designated as a preeminent state research university pursuant to s. 1001.7065(3). The tuition differential must ~~shall~~ promote improvements in the quality of undergraduate education and must ~~shall~~ provide financial aid to undergraduate students who exhibit financial need.

(a) Seventy percent of the revenues from the tuition differential must ~~shall~~ be expended for purposes of undergraduate education. Such expenditures may include, but are not limited to, increasing course offerings, improving graduation rates, increasing the percentage of undergraduate students who are taught by faculty, decreasing student-faculty ratios, providing salary increases for faculty who have a history of excellent teaching in undergraduate courses, improving the efficiency of the delivery of undergraduate education through academic advisement and counseling, and reducing the percentage of students who graduate with excess hours. This expenditure for undergraduate education may not be used to pay the salaries of graduate teaching assistants. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the remaining 30 percent of the revenues from the tuition differential, or the equivalent amount of revenue from private sources, must ~~shall~~ be expended to provide financial aid to undergraduate students who exhibit financial need, including students who are scholarship recipients under s. 1009.984, to meet the cost of university attendance. This expenditure for need-based financial aid may ~~shall~~ not supplant the amount of need-based aid provided to undergraduate students in the preceding fiscal year from financial aid fee revenues, the direct appropriation for financial assistance provided to state universities in the General Appropriations Act, or from private sources. The total amount of tuition differential waived under subparagraph (b)6. ~~(b)7.~~ may be included in calculating the expenditures for need-based financial aid to undergraduate students required by this subsection. If the entire tuition and fee costs of resident students who have applied for and received Pell Grant funds have been met and the university has excess funds remaining from the 30 percent of the revenues from the tuition differential required to be used to assist students who exhibit financial need, the university may expend the excess portion in the same manner as required for the other 70 percent of the tuition differential revenues.

(b) Each tuition differential is subject to the following conditions:

1. The tuition differential may be assessed on one or more undergraduate courses or on all undergraduate courses at a state university.

2. The tuition differential may vary by course or courses, by campus or center location, and by institution. Each university board of trustees shall strive to maintain and increase enrollment in degree programs related to math, science, high technology, and other state or regional high-need fields when establishing tuition differentials by course.

3. ~~For each state university that is designated as a preeminent state research university by the Board of Governors, pursuant to s. 1001.7065, the aggregate sum of tuition and the tuition differential may be increased by no more than 6 percent of the total charged for the aggregate sum of these fees in the preceding fiscal year. The tuition differential may be increased if the university meets or exceeds performance standard targets for that university established annually by the Board of Governors for the following performance standards, amounting to no more than a 2-percent increase in the tuition differential for each performance standard:~~

~~a. An increase in the 4-year graduation rate for full-time,~~

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

~~first-time-in-college students, as reported annually to the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System.~~

~~b. An increase in the total annual research expenditures.~~

~~c. An increase in the total patents awarded by the United States Patent and Trademark Office for the most recent years.~~

~~4.~~ The aggregate sum of undergraduate tuition and fees per credit hour, including the tuition differential, may not exceed the national average of undergraduate tuition and fees at 4-year degree-granting public postsecondary educational institutions.

4.~~5.~~ Beneficiaries having prepaid tuition contracts pursuant to s. 1009.98(2)(b) which were in effect on July 1, 2007, and which remain in effect, are exempt from the payment of the tuition differential.

5.~~6.~~ The tuition differential may not be charged to any student who was in attendance at the university before July 1, 2007, and who maintains continuous enrollment.

6.~~7.~~ The tuition differential may be waived by the university for students who meet the eligibility requirements for the Florida Public Student Assistance Grant Program established in s. 1009.50.

7.~~8.~~ Subject to approval by the Board of Governors, the tuition differential authorized pursuant to this subsection may take effect with the 2009 fall term.

(c) A university board of trustees may submit a proposal to the Board of Governors to implement a tuition differential for one or more undergraduate courses. At a minimum, the proposal must ~~shall~~:

1. Identify the course or courses for which the tuition differential will be assessed.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2. Indicate the amount that will be assessed for each tuition differential proposed.

3. Indicate the purpose of the tuition differential.

4. Indicate how the revenues from the tuition differential will be used.

5. Indicate how the university will monitor the success of the tuition differential in achieving the purpose for which the tuition differential is being assessed.

(d) The Board of Governors shall review each proposal and advise the university board of trustees of approval of the proposal, the need for additional information or revision to the proposal, or denial of the proposal. The Board of Governors shall establish a process for any university to revise a proposal or appeal a decision of the board.

(e) The Board of Governors shall submit a report to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Governor describing the implementation of ~~the provisions of~~ this subsection no later than February 1 of each year. The report must ~~shall~~ summarize proposals received by the board during the preceding fiscal year and actions taken by the board in response to such proposals. In addition, the report must ~~shall~~ provide the following information for each university ~~that has been~~ approved by the board to assess a tuition differential:

1. The course or courses for which the tuition differential was assessed and the amount assessed.

2. The total revenues generated by the tuition differential.

3. With respect to waivers authorized under subparagraph

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(b)6. ~~(b)7.~~, the number of students eligible for a waiver, the number of students receiving a waiver, and the value of waivers provided.

4. Detailed expenditures of the revenues generated by the tuition differential.

5. Changes in retention rates, graduation rates, the percentage of students graduating with more than 110 percent of the hours required for graduation, pass rates on licensure examinations, the number of undergraduate course offerings, the percentage of undergraduate students who are taught by faculty, student-faculty ratios, and the average salaries of faculty who teach undergraduate courses.

(f) No state university shall be required to lower any tuition differential that was approved by the Board of Governors and in effect prior to January 1, 2009, in order to comply with ~~the provisions of~~ this subsection.

(17)(a) A state university may assess a student who enrolls in a course listed in the distance learning catalog, established pursuant to s. 1006.73, a per-credit-hour distance learning course fee. For purposes of assessing this fee, a distance learning course is a course in which at least 80 percent of the direct instruction of the course is delivered using some form of technology when the student and instructor are separated by time or space, or both.

(b) The amount of the distance learning course fee may not exceed the additional costs of the services provided which are attributable to the development and delivery of the distance learning course. If the distance learning course fee is assessed by a state university, the institution may not assess duplicative fees to cover the additional costs. Beginning July 1, 2023, a university board of trustees may not increase the distance learning course fee authorized under this subsection by more than 3 percent of the amount assessed the prior year; however, the total collected by an institution from such fee may not exceed the cost of the service provided by that institution. Fees assessed as a result of a vendor contract may exceed the 3 percent cap only after the institution has made every effort available, and has followed the competitive solicitation process pursuant to s. 287.057(1), to minimize the cost.

1. By September 1 of each year, each board of trustees shall report to the Chancellor of the State University System the total amount of revenue generated for the prior fiscal year by the fee authorized by this subsection and how that revenue was expended.

2. By November 1 of each year, the Chancellor of the State University System shall report the total amount of revenue generated by the distance learning course fee for the prior fiscal year and how the revenue was expended, both systemwide and by institution, to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

(c) If an institution assesses the distance learning fee, the institution must provide a link to the catalog within the advising and distance learning sections of the institution's website.

(20)(a) All tuition and fees described in this section, and any proposed changes to them, must be published prominently on the university's website. Each state university shall publicly notice and notify all enrolled students of any proposal to change tuition or fees at least 28 days before its consideration for a vote taken at a board of trustees meeting. The notice must:

1.~~(a)~~ Include the date and time of the meeting at which the proposal will be considered.

2.~~(b)~~ Specifically outline the details of existing tuition and fees, the rationale for the proposed change, and how the funds from the proposed change will be used.

3.~~(c)~~ Be published ~~posted~~ on the university's website and issued in a press release. The press release must also be enclosed in an e-mail sent to all enrolled students.

(b) Each university shall annually submit a fee schedule to the Board of Governors for approval by the board by a date established by board regulation. When a fee is changed pursuant to paragraph (17)(b), a university must submit an amended fee schedule for approval by the board by a date established by board regulation.

The Board of Governors, by regulation, shall define faculty and administrator classifications and shall also report the definitions in the legislative budget request. Expenditure analysis, operating budgets, and annual financial statements of each university must be prepared using the standard financial reporting procedures and formats prescribed by the Board of Governors. These formats shall be the same as used for the 2000-2001 fiscal year reports. Any revisions to these financial and reporting procedures and formats must be approved by the Executive Office of the Governor and the appropriations committees of the Legislature jointly under s. 216.023(3). from repeal by the Legislature; providing an effective date.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsection (1), paragraphs (a) and (f) of subsection (2), paragraph (c) of subsection (3), paragraphs (a) and (e) of subsection (4), subsection (5), paragraph (b) of subsection (6), and subsection (8) of section 1006.20, Florida Statutes, are amended, and subsection (9) is added to that section, to read:

1006.20 Athletics in public K-12 schools.—

(1) GOVERNING NONPROFIT ORGANIZATION.—The Florida High School Athletic Association (FHSAA) is designated as the governing nonprofit direct-support organization of the Department of Education which promotes, directs, supervises, and regulates ~~of~~ athletics in Florida public schools under the direction of the State Board of Education and the Commissioner of Education. If the FHSAA fails to meet the provisions of this section, the commissioner may dissolve some or all of the board of directors of the FHSAA ~~shall designate a nonprofit organization to govern athletics~~ with the approval of the State Board of Education upon a recommendation to the state board by the commissioner and a finding by the state board that the FHSAA board of directors has not complied with this section. The FHSAA is not a state agency as defined in s. 120.52. The FHSAA is ~~shall be~~ subject to ~~the provisions of~~ s. 1006.19. A private school that wishes to engage in high school athletic competition with a public high school may become a member of the FHSAA. Any high school in this ~~the~~ state, including charter schools, virtual schools, and home education cooperatives, may become a member of the FHSAA and participate in the activities of the FHSAA. However, membership in the FHSAA is not mandatory for any school. The FHSAA must allow a private school the option of maintaining full membership in the association or joining by sport and may not discourage a private school from simultaneously maintaining membership in another athletic association. The FHSAA may allow a public school the option to apply for consideration to join another athletic association. The FHSAA may not deny or discourage interscholastic competition between its member schools and non-FHSAA member Florida schools, including members of another athletic governing organization, and may not take any retributory or discriminatory action against any of its member schools that participate in interscholastic competition with non-FHSAA member Florida schools. The FHSAA may not unreasonably withhold its approval of an application to become an affiliate member of the National Federation of State High School Associations submitted by any other organization that governs interscholastic athletic competition in this state. The bylaws of the FHSAA are the rules by which high school athletic programs in its member schools, and the students who participate in them, are governed, unless otherwise specifically provided by statute. For the purposes of this section, "high school" includes grades 6 through 12.

(2) ADOPTION OF BYLAWS, POLICIES, OR GUIDELINES.—

(a) The FHSAA shall adopt bylaws that, unless specifically provided by statute, establish eligibility requirements for all students who participate in high school athletic competition in its member schools. The bylaws governing residence and transfer must ~~shall~~ allow the student to be immediately eligible in the school in which he or she first enrolls each school year or the school in which the student makes himself or herself a candidate for an athletic team by engaging in a practice prior to enrolling in the school. The bylaws must ~~shall~~ also allow the student to be immediately eligible in the school to which the student has transferred. The student is ~~shall be~~ eligible in that school so long as he or she remains enrolled in that school. Subsequent eligibility must ~~shall~~ be determined and enforced through the FHSAA's bylaws. Requirements governing eligibility and transfer between member schools must ~~shall~~ be applied similarly to public school students and private school students. The FHSAA's bylaws must be reviewed for approval at least annually by the State Board of Education or upon the recommendation of the commissioner. The commissioner may direct the FHSAA to consider revisions to its bylaws at any time.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(f) The FHSAA shall adopt bylaws that establish sanctions for coaches who have committed major violations of the FHSAA's bylaws and policies.

1. Major violations include, but are not limited to, knowingly allowing an ineligible student to participate in a contest representing a member school in an interscholastic contest or committing a violation of the FHSAA's recruiting or sportsmanship policies.

2. Sanctions placed upon an individual coach may include, but are not limited to, prohibiting or suspending the coach from coaching, participating in, or attending any athletic activity sponsored, recognized, or sanctioned by the FHSAA and the member school for which the coach committed the violation. If a coach is sanctioned by the FHSAA and the coach transfers to another member school, those sanctions remain in full force and effect during the term of the sanction.

3. If a member school is assessed a financial penalty as a result of a coach committing a major violation, the coach must ~~shall~~ reimburse the member school before being allowed to coach, participate in, or attend any athletic activity sponsored, recognized, or sanctioned by the FHSAA and a member school.

4. The FHSAA shall establish a due process procedure for coaches sanctioned under this paragraph, consistent with the appeals procedures set forth in subsection (8) ~~(7)~~.

(3) GOVERNING STRUCTURE OF THE FHSAA.—

(c) The FHSAA's membership shall be divided along existing county lines into four contiguous and compact administrative regions, each containing an equal or nearly equal number of member schools to ensure equitable representation on the FHSAA's board of directors~~, representative assembly,~~ and appeals committees.

(4) BOARD OF DIRECTORS.—

(a) The executive and legislative authority of the FHSAA is ~~shall be~~ vested in its board of directors, which shall act as a representative assembly. Any entity that appoints members to the board of directors shall examine the ethnic and demographic composition of the board when selecting candidates for appointment and shall, to the greatest extent possible, make appointments that reflect state demographic and population trends. The board of directors shall be composed of 16 members ~~persons~~, as follows:

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

1. Four public member school representatives appointed by the Governor, one ~~elected~~ from ~~among its public school representative members~~ within each of the four administrative regions.

2. Four nonpublic member school representatives appointed by the Governor, one ~~elected~~ from ~~among its nonpublic school representative members~~ within each of the four administrative regions.

3. Three representatives appointed by the Governor ~~commissioner~~, one appointed from the two northernmost administrative regions and one appointed from the two southernmost administrative regions. The third representative shall be appointed to balance the board for diversity or state population trends, or both.

4. Two district school superintendents appointed by the Governor, one ~~elected~~ from the two northernmost administrative regions ~~by the members in those regions~~ and one ~~elected~~ from the two southernmost administrative regions ~~by the members in those regions~~.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL-GOV-22-0226_20-0378A-000391

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Santa Rosa Bay Bridge Authority; transfer to the Florida Department of Transportation.—The governance and control of the Santa Rosa Bay Bridge Authority is transferred to the Florida Department of Transportation.

(1) The assets, facilities, tangible and intangible property and any rights in such property, and any other legal rights of the authority, including the bridge system operated by the authority, are transferred to the department. Pursuant to this section, all powers of the authority shall succeed to the department and the operations and maintenance of the bridge system shall be under the control of the department. The department also assumes all liability for bonds of the authority pursuant to subsection (2). The department may review other contracts, financial obligations, and contractual obligations and liabilities of the authority and may assume legal liability for such obligations determined to be necessary for the continued operation of the bridge system.

(2) The transfer pursuant to this section is subject to the terms and covenants provided in the lease-purchase agreement and the resolutions adopted in connection with the issuance of Santa Rosa Bay Bridge Authority bonds for the protection of the bondholders. Further, the transfer does not impair the terms of the contract between the authority and the bondholders, does not act to the detriment of the bondholders, and does not diminish the security for the bonds. After the transfer, the department shall operate and maintain the bridge system and any other facilities of the authority in accordance with the terms, conditions, and covenants contained in the bond resolutions and lease-purchase agreement securing the bonds of the authority. The department shall collect toll revenues and apply them to the payment of debt service as provided in the bond resolution securing the bonds and shall expressly assume all obligations relating to the bonds to ensure that the transfer will have no adverse impact on the security for the bonds of the authority. The transfer does not make the obligation to pay the principal and interest on the bonds a general liability of the department and does not pledge department revenues for payment of the bonds. Revenues generated by the bridge system and other facilities of the authority which were pledged by the authority to the payment of the bonds remain subject to the pledge for the benefit of the bondholders. The transfer does not modify or eliminate any prior obligation of the department to pay certain costs of the bridge system from sources other than from revenues of the bridge system.

(3) The department is authorized to purchase, redeem, defease, or otherwise refinance outstanding authority bonds. The department may use any department funds appropriated for such purpose. Upon acquisition, redemption, defeasance, or other refinancing of all the outstanding authority bonds, revenues of the bridge system and other facilities of the authority shall be department revenues free and clear of the prior pledge for the benefit of the authority's bondholders and the lease-purchase agreement securing the authority bonds, and all obligations of the department under the lease-purchase agreement are terminated. Upon the acquisition, redemption, defeasance, or other refinancing of all of the outstanding authority bonds, the accumulated long-term debt due to the department for the payment of the costs of operations, maintenance, renewal, and replacement of the bridge system are deemed to be costs of operation and maintenance of a department-owned toll facility paid from moneys in the State Transportation Trust Fund. In connection with or following refinancing or payment of the outstanding bonds of the authority, the bridge system may be transferred by the department and become part of the turnpike system under the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law, ss. 338.22-338.241, Florida Statutes, in which event the turnpike enterprise shall operate and maintain the bridge system and other facilities of the authority as part of the turnpike system in accordance with the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law and revenues collected on the bridge system shall be considered turnpike revenues.

(4) As directed by s. 7 of chapter 2017-42, Laws of Florida, the department has conducted a feasibility study relating to the acquisition of the Garcon Point Bridge which satisfies the definition and required determination of economic feasibility in ss. 338.221(8) and 338.223, Florida Statutes. In addition to subsection (3), the department may purchase, redeem, defease, or otherwise refinance outstanding authority bonds using turnpike revenues lawfully available for such purpose remaining after payment of all amounts required under the terms of any resolution under which turnpike system revenue bonds have been issued. Pursuant to s. 11(f), Article VII of the State Constitution, the issuance of turnpike system revenue bonds to finance the department's acquisition, redemption, defeasance, or refinancing of outstanding authority bonds is also approved. If turnpike revenues or turnpike bond proceeds are used to acquire or refund the outstanding authority bonds, the bridge system shall be transferred by the department and become part of the turnpike system under the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law, the turnpike enterprise shall operate and maintain the bridge system and other facilities of the authority as part of the turnpike system in accordance with the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law and the terms and conditions of any turnpike bonds issued to refund the outstanding authority bonds, and revenues collected on the bridge system shall be considered turnpike revenues.

(5) The powers conferred by this section are in addition and supplemental to the existing powers of the department and the turnpike, including s. 338.2275, Florida Statutes. This section may not be construed as repealing any other law, general, special, or local; or to supersede, repeal, rescind, or modify any other law or laws relating to the department, the State Board of Administration, or the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law; but shall supersede such other law or laws as are inconsistent with this section.

Section 2. Part IV of chapter 348, Florida Statutes, consisting of ss. 348.965, 348.966, 348.967, 348.968, 348.969, 348.97, 348.971, 348.972, 348.973, 348.974, 348.9751, 348.9761, 348.9771, and 348.9781, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 3. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL GOV 22-0226 20-0378A-000397

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Present subsections (5) through (8) of section 1006.20, Florida Statutes, are redesignated as subsections (6) through (9), respectively, a new subsection (5) and subsection (10) are added to that section, and subsection (1), paragraphs (a) and (f) of subsection (2), paragraph (c) of subsection (3), paragraphs (a) and (e) of subsection (4), paragraph (b) of present subsection (6), and present subsection (8) of that section are amended, to read:

1006.20 Athletics in public K-12 schools.—

(1) GOVERNING NONPROFIT ORGANIZATION.—The Florida High School Athletic Association (FHSAA) is designated as the governing nonprofit direct-support organization of the Department of Education which promotes, directs, supervises, and regulates ~~of~~ athletics in Florida public schools under the direction of the State Board of Education and the Commissioner of Education. If the FHSAA fails to meet the provisions of this section, the commissioner may dissolve some or all of the board of directors of the FHSAA ~~shall designate a nonprofit organization to govern athletics~~ with the approval of the State Board of Education upon a recommendation to the state board by the commissioner and a finding by the state board that the FHSAA board of directors has not complied with Florida law. The FHSAA is not a state agency as defined in s. 120.52. The FHSAA is ~~shall be~~ subject to ~~the provisions of~~ s. 1006.19. A private school that wishes to engage in high school athletic competition with a public high school may become a member of the FHSAA. Any high school in this ~~the~~ state, including charter schools, virtual schools, and home education cooperatives, may become a member of the FHSAA and participate in the activities of the FHSAA. However, membership in the FHSAA is not mandatory for any school. The FHSAA must allow a private school the option of maintaining full membership in the association or joining by sport and may not discourage a private school from simultaneously maintaining membership in another athletic association. The FHSAA may allow a public school the option to apply for consideration to join another athletic association. The FHSAA may not deny or discourage interscholastic competition between its member schools and non-FHSAA member Florida schools, including members of another athletic governing organization, and may not take any retributory or discriminatory action against any of its member schools that participate in interscholastic competition with non-FHSAA member Florida schools. The FHSAA may not unreasonably withhold its approval of an application to become an affiliate member of the National Federation of State High School Associations submitted by any other organization that governs interscholastic athletic competition in this state. The bylaws of the FHSAA are the rules by which high school athletic programs in its member schools, and the students who participate in them, are governed, unless otherwise specifically provided by statute. For the purposes of this section, "high school" includes grades 6 through 12.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(2) ADOPTION OF BYLAWS, POLICIES, OR GUIDELINES.—

(a) The FHSAA shall adopt bylaws that, unless specifically provided by statute, establish eligibility requirements for all students who participate in high school athletic competition in its member schools. The bylaws governing residence and transfer must ~~shall~~ allow the student to be immediately eligible in the school in which he or she first enrolls each school year or the school in which the student makes himself or herself a candidate for an athletic team by engaging in a practice prior to enrolling in the school. The bylaws must ~~shall~~ also allow the student to be immediately eligible in the school to which the student has transferred. The student is ~~shall be~~ eligible in that school so long as he or she remains enrolled in that school. Subsequent eligibility must ~~shall~~ be determined and enforced through the FHSAA's bylaws. Requirements governing eligibility and transfer between member schools must ~~shall~~ be applied similarly to public school students and private school students. The FHSAA's bylaws must be reviewed for approval at least annually by the state board or upon the recommendation of the commissioner. The commissioner may direct the FHSAA to consider revisions to its bylaws at any time.

(f) The FHSAA shall adopt bylaws that establish sanctions for coaches who have committed major violations of the FHSAA's bylaws and policies.

1. Major violations include, but are not limited to, knowingly allowing an ineligible student to participate in a contest representing a member school in an interscholastic contest or committing a violation of the FHSAA's recruiting or sportsmanship policies.

2. Sanctions placed upon an individual coach may include, but are not limited to, prohibiting or suspending the coach from coaching, participating in, or attending any athletic activity sponsored, recognized, or sanctioned by the FHSAA and the member school for which the coach committed the violation. If a coach is sanctioned by the FHSAA and the coach transfers to another member school, those sanctions remain in full force and effect during the term of the sanction.

3. If a member school is assessed a financial penalty as a result of a coach committing a major violation, the coach must ~~shall~~ reimburse the member school before being allowed to coach, participate in, or attend any athletic activity sponsored, recognized, or sanctioned by the FHSAA and a member school.

4. The FHSAA shall establish a due process procedure for coaches sanctioned under this paragraph, consistent with the appeals procedures set forth in subsection (8) ~~(7)~~.

(3) GOVERNING STRUCTURE OF THE FHSAA.—

(c) The FHSAA's membership shall be divided along existing county lines into four contiguous and compact administrative regions, each containing an equal or nearly equal number of member schools to ensure equitable representation on the FHSAA's board of directors~~, representative assembly,~~ and appeals committees.

(4) BOARD OF DIRECTORS.—

(a) The executive and legislative authority of the FHSAA is ~~shall be~~ vested in its board of directors, which shall act as a representative assembly. Any entity that appoints members to the board of directors shall examine the ethnic and demographic composition of the board when selecting candidates for appointment and shall, to the greatest extent possible, make appointments that reflect state demographic and population trends. The board of directors shall be composed of 16 members ~~persons~~, as follows:

7. To act as an administrative board in the interpretation of, and final decision on, all questions and appeals arising from the directing of interscholastic athletics of member schools.

(5) FHSAA EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR AND STAFF.—The commissioner shall hire the FHSAA's executive director and professional staff, who shall be employed as employees of the State Board of Education. Tonya, I attached a copy of the draft with comments in Leagis. I believe s. 322.051(9) also needs to be stricken because it provides ID fee exemptions that are no longer applicable after deleting all of the fees. However, per your instruction I did not include that in the released draft. If you would like to strike that provision, please submit a redraft request. Thanks.

Hi Tonya,
I was just checking in about which version I should draft for the fee bill. Since the only difference among them is the amount and entity responsible for paying the fee, this is a policy choice on which I will need additional direction.

Also, I wanted to mention ahead of time that the general administrative and rulemaking authority included in the attached language for the fee bill will have to be put into the linked substantive bill. The constitutional provision regarding fees requires that the bill only include the fee as the subject matter. But, this will be very straightforward for me to transfer to the other draft.

Thanks for your help and I hope you have a great Friday!

A bill to be entitled

An act relating to public records; amending s. 221.09, F.S.; providing a public records exemption for information developed or received by the Department of Financial Services pursuant to an investigation of violations of requirements related to out-of-state personal income tax collection; providing construction; providing for future legislative review and repeal of the exemption; providing a statement of public necessity; providing a contingent effective date.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsection (3) of section 221.09, Florida Statutes, as created by SB ___ or other similar legislation, is amended to read:

221.09 Powers and duties of the department.—

(3)(a) The department may, without advance notice, conduct examinations and investigations, within or outside this state, to determine whether a person has violated this part or related rules. For purposes of this section, the office may examine the books, accounts, records, and other documents or matters of any person subject to this part. The office may compel the production of all relevant books, records, and other documents and materials relative to an examination or investigation. Examinations may not be made more often than once during a 48-month period unless the office has reason to believe a person has violated or will violate this part or related rules.

(b)1. All papers, documents, reports, or any other records developed or received by the department pursuant to an investigation under this subsection are confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution until such investigation is completed or ceases to be active. For the purpose of this paragraph, an investigation is considered active while the investigation is being conducted by the department with a reasonable, good faith belief that it may lead to the filing of administrative, civil, or criminal proceedings. An investigation does not cease to be active if the department is proceeding with reasonable dispatch and there is good faith belief that action may be initiated by the department or another administrative or law enforcement agency.

2. This paragraph is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act in accordance with s. 119.15 and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2027, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 2. The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that the papers, documents, reports, or any other records developed or received by the Department of Financial Services pursuant to investigations of violations of requirements related to out-of-state personal income tax collection be made confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution. The premature release of such investigatory information could frustrate or thwart such investigations and impair the ability of the department to effectively and efficiently administer s. 221.09, Florida Statutes. In addition, release of such information before completion of an active investigation could jeopardize the ongoing investigation. The Legislature finds that the harm that may result from the release of information received by the department pursuant to an investigation under s. 221.09, Florida Statutes, could impair the effective and efficient administration of such investigations and thus outweighs the public benefit that may be derived from the disclosure of the information.

Section 3. This act shall take effect on the same date that SB ___ or similar legislation takes effect, if such legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof and becomes a law.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Dear _____

This letter is in reference to Naval Air StationPensacola (NASP) and access to specific public interest areas located on the installation. In order to preserve the mission of the installation, but also provide for secure access to public interest sites, I support a joint corridor project between the Department of the Navy (Navy) and the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT).

The corridor will provide a solution to improving security and protecting the critical training mission that NASP provides to our Navy, while simultaneously balancing the needs of the community. The security and protection of our military personnel, their families, and the vital national security assets onboard NASP are of utmost concern, however, NASP is also a vital resource for the economic well-being of Pensacola and the surrounding community. The installation is home to numerous public benefits, such as Barrancas National Cemetery, the National Naval Aviation Museum (NNAM), Pensacola Lighthouse, and National Park Service historic sites. While all of these sites are important in their own right, the NNAM in particular hosted more than 724,000 visitors before public access was revoked in December, 2019, with approximately 33% of those (237,500) being from out of the area. In 2020 the NNAM visitation decreased by 93%, which equates to approximately $28,000,000 in reduced economic impact to the local area.

This joint effort to develop a safe and secure corridor will include local, state and federal resources, making it a true, multi-agency, transportation partnership for the benefit of all. The scope of the project will include roadway and security improvements on board NASP, and will also create operational efficiencies for the community. Installation security improvements will include a new Main Gate that will meet current force protection requirements with final denial barriers, a critical security measure the base is currently lacking. Through this unprecedented partnership between state and federal agencies, the opportunity arises for Pensacola and the Navy to reinforce their rich history of working together.

I appreciate your commitment to the protection of our country and your consideration for this important project for NAS Pensacola and our citizens.

Sincerely,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

To Whom it May Concern –

Wakulla County would like to express its support for the Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project (Senate Form LFIR # 2645). This project will provide Wakulla County the ability to leverage data in order to secure much needed RESTORE Act funding for our community.

In response to the Deepwater Horizon oil spill, the U.S. Congress enacted the Resources and Ecosystems Sustainability, Tourist Opportunities, and Revived Economies of the Gulf Coast States Act (RESTORE Act), thereby establishing the Gulf Coast Restoration Trust Fund. Florida is among the five states eligible to receive funding pursuant to this program. RESTORE Act funding streams provide the opportunity to secure regional water quality improvements and sustain healthy waters on a generational scale. Since the Trust Fund's establishment in 2017, however, Florida Panhandle coastal counties have received significantly less funding than other states.

The Center for Coastal Solutions (CCS), which is based out of the University of Florida's (UF) Herbert Wertheim College of Engineering, leverages data scientists, biologists, economists, environmental engineers, and strategic university and research partners to expand the foundational understanding of Florida's environment, economy, and public health.

The CCS team will use a water quality monitoring network to fill the Panhandle region's gaps in expertise and resources to achieve needed environmental and economic insights and provide data-driven guidance on restoration project investment opportunities. Local counties and other regional partners will be able to leverage the water quality and economic analytics capabilities of the UF CCS team and the monitoring network to prepare regionally impactful, coordinated project proposals.

CCS will collaborate and coordinate with Wakulla County and other local government partners in developing grant proposal content and submittal with DEP's Deep Water Horizon program and potential grantees to develop large scale proposals with a higher likelihood of funding approval.

Please support the $3,000,000 for the Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project (Senate Form LFIR # 2645).

Sincerely,

Quincee Messersmith
Chair

Board of County Commissioners

State of Florida

The Honorable Ron DeSantis
Governor, State of Florida
The Capitol
400 S. Monroe St.
Tallahassee, FL 32399

Dear Governor DeSantis,

On behalf of the Okaloosa County Board of County Commissioners, I am reaching out to express support for the Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project (Senate Form LFIR # 2645), which will make Panhandle communities more competitive for federal RESTORE ACT oil spill recovery funds.

The U.S. Congress enacted the Resources and Ecosystems Sustainability, Tourist Opportunities, and Revived Economies of the Gulf Coast States Act (RESTORE Act) in response to the Deepwater Horizon oil spill, thereby establishing the Gulf Coast Restoration Trust Fund. Florida is among the five states eligible to compete for funding through this program for regional water quality and ecosystem improvements on a generational scale. Unfortunately, Florida Panhandle coastal counties have received significantly less funding than peer communities across the Gulf Coast. The Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project is a collaborative effort among Florida's Panhandle counties to utilize advanced data and analytics tools to better compete for a fair share of these funds.

Panhandle counties will partner with the University of Florida's Center for Coastal Solutions (CCS), which is based out of the Herbert Wertheim College of Engineering. CCS leverages data scientists, biologists, economists, environmental engineers, and strategic university and research partners to expand the foundational understanding of Florida's environment, economy, and public health. In this partnership with Panhandle counties, CCS will use its existing monitoring tools and technical expertise to provide data-driven support for communities seeking RESTORE funds. Applicants will be able to leverage the water quality and economic analytics capabilities of the UF CCS team to prepare regionally-impactful, coordinated project proposals with a higher likelihood of funding approval.

The Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project will generate a substantial ROI for Panhandle communities and the state as a whole. Florida can and should be awarded a much higher share of RESTORE funding and the utilization of CCS tools and expertise supported by this request will greatly strengthen our competitive advantage.

Please support the $3,000,000 for the Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project (Senate Form LFIR # 2645).

Sincerely,

A bill to be entitled

An act relating to public records; amending s. 221.09, F.S.; providing a public records exemption for information developed or received by the Department of Financial Services pursuant to an investigation of violations of requirements related to out-of-state personal income tax collection; providing construction; providing for future legislative review and repeal of the exemption; providing a statement of public necessity; providing a contingent effective date.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsection (3) of section 221.09, Florida Statutes, as created by SB ___ or other similar legislation, is amended to read:

221.09 Powers and duties of the department.—

(3)(a) The department may, without advance notice, conduct examinations and investigations, within or outside this state, to determine whether a person has violated this part or related rules. For purposes of this section, the office may examine the books, accounts, records, and other documents or matters of any person subject to this part. The office may compel the production of all relevant books, records, and other documents and materials relative to an examination or investigation. Examinations may not be made more often than once during a 48-month period unless the office has reason to believe a person has violated or will violate this part or related rules.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(b)1. All papers, documents, reports, or any other records developed or received by the department pursuant to an investigation under this subsection are confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution until such investigation is completed or ceases to be active. For the purpose of this paragraph, an investigation is considered active while the investigation is being conducted by the department with a reasonable, good faith belief that it may lead to the filing of administrative, civil, or criminal proceedings. An investigation does not cease to be active if the department is proceeding with reasonable dispatch and there is good faith belief that action may be initiated by the department or another administrative or law enforcement agency.

2. This paragraph is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act in accordance with s. 119.15 and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2027, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 2. The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that the papers, documents, reports, or any other records developed or received by the Department of Financial Services pursuant to investigations of violations of requirements related to out-of-state personal income tax collection be made confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution. The premature release of such investigatory information could frustrate or thwart such investigations and impair the ability of the department to effectively and efficiently administer s. 221.09, Florida Statutes. In addition, release of such information before completion of an active investigation could jeopardize the ongoing investigation. The Legislature finds that the harm that may result from the release of information received by the department pursuant to an investigation under s. 221.09, Florida Statutes, could impair the effective and efficient administration of such investigations and thus outweighs the public benefit that may be derived from the disclosure of the information.

Section 3. This act shall take effect on the same date that SB ___ or similar legislation takes effect, if such legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof and becomes a law.

2. This paragraph is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act in accordance with s. 119.15 and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2027, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 2. The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that the papers, documents, reports, or any other records developed or received by the Department of Financial Services pursuant to investigations of violations of requirements related to out-of-state personal income tax collection be made confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution. The premature release of such investigatory information could frustrate or thwart such investigations and impair the ability of the department to effectively and efficiently administer s. 221.09, Florida Statutes. In addition, release of such information before completion of an active investigation could jeopardize the ongoing investigation. The Legislature finds that the harm that may result from the release of information received by the department pursuant to an investigation under s. 221.09, Florida Statutes, could impair the effective and efficient administration of such investigations and thus outweighs the public benefit that may be derived from the disclosure of the information.

Section 3. This act shall take effect on the same date that SB ___ or similar legislation takes effect, if such legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof and becomes a law.

A bill to be entitled

An act relating to attorney fees in administrative actions; amending s. 120.595, F.S.; revising the limit on attorney fees awarded to a prevailing party in certain challenges to proposed agency rules, existing agency rules, and unadopted rules to include consolidated cases and multiple parties; providing an effective date.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsections (2) and (3) and paragraph (b) of subsection (4) of section 120.595, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

120.595 Attorney's fees.—

(2) CHALLENGES TO PROPOSED AGENCY RULES PURSUANT TO SECTION 120.56(2).—If the appellate court or administrative law judge declares a proposed rule or portion of a proposed rule invalid pursuant to s. 120.56(2), a judgment or order shall be rendered against the agency for reasonable costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees, unless the agency demonstrates that its actions were substantially justified or special circumstances exist which would make the award unjust. An agency's actions are "substantially justified" if there was a reasonable basis in law and fact at the time the actions were taken by the agency. If the agency prevails in the proceedings, the appellate court or administrative law judge shall award reasonable costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees against a party if the appellate court or administrative law judge determines that a party participated in the proceedings for an improper purpose as defined by paragraph (1)(e). An ~~no~~ award of attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees as provided by this subsection may not ~~shall~~ exceed $50,000 against any party or against the agency, even if multiple proceedings are consolidated or multiple parties are entitled to fees against the same nonprevailing party or agency.

(3) CHALLENGES TO EXISTING AGENCY RULES PURSUANT TO SECTION 120.56(3) AND (5).—If the appellate court or administrative law judge declares a rule or portion of a rule invalid pursuant to s. 120.56(3) or (5), a judgment or order shall be rendered against the agency for reasonable costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees, unless the agency demonstrates that its actions were substantially justified or special circumstances exist which would make the award unjust. An agency's actions are "substantially justified" if there was a reasonable basis in law and fact at the time the actions were taken by the agency. If the agency prevails in the proceedings, the appellate court or administrative law judge shall award reasonable costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees against a party if the appellate court or administrative law judge determines that a party participated in the proceedings for an improper purpose as defined by paragraph (1)(e). An ~~no~~ award of attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees as provided by this subsection may not ~~shall~~ exceed $50,000 against any party or against the agency, even if multiple proceedings are consolidated or multiple parties are entitled to fees against the same nonprevailing party or agency.

(4) CHALLENGES TO AGENCY ACTION PURSUANT TO SECTION 120.56(4).—

(b) Upon notification to the administrative law judge

provided before the final hearing that the agency has published a notice of rulemaking under s. 120.54(3)(a), such notice shall automatically operate as a stay of proceedings pending rulemaking. The administrative law judge may vacate the stay for good cause shown. A stay of proceedings under this paragraph remains in effect so long as the agency is proceeding expeditiously and in good faith to adopt the statement as a rule. The administrative law judge shall award reasonable costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees accrued by the petitioner before ~~prior to~~ the date the notice was published, unless the agency proves to the administrative law judge that it did not know and should not have known that the statement was an unadopted rule. Attorney ~~attorneys'~~ fees and costs under this paragraph and paragraph (a) shall be awarded only upon a finding that the agency received notice that the statement may constitute an unadopted rule at least 30 days before a petition under s. 120.56(4) was filed and that the agency failed to publish the required notice of rulemaking pursuant to s. 120.54(3) that addresses the statement within that 30-day period. Notice to the agency may be satisfied by its receipt of a copy of the s. 120.56(4) petition, a notice or other paper containing substantially the same information, or a petition filed pursuant to s. 120.54(7). An award of attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees as provided by this paragraph may not exceed $50,000 against any party or against the agency, even if multiple proceedings are consolidated or multiple parties are entitled to fees against the same nonprevailing party or agency.

Section 2. This act shall take effect July 1, 2022.

The office shall also refer to a statewide prosecutor for further legal action any complaints of election code violations or election irregularities which it deems frivolous and intended to otherwise disrupt the legal administration of this state's elections or the certification of this state's election results.

(3) In order to ensure that election officers are complying with the Florida Election Code, the office is authorized to conduct proactive information gathering and investigations to identify and prevent potential election code violations or election irregularities. If a case is referred to the statewide prosecutor, he or she may directly file a writ of mandamus with the First District Court of Appeal to mandate the compliance of county supervisors of elections with this code.

(4) The secretary shall appoint a director of the office who is qualified by training and experience in law enforcement or security to supervise, direct, coordinate, and administer all activities of the office.

(5) The office shall consist of a central office in Tallahassee, as well as sworn law enforcement officers having statewide jurisdiction and nonsworn investigators based in field offices throughout the state as determined by the director. The positions and resources necessary for the office to accomplish its duties shall be established through and subject to the legislative appropriations process.

(6) The director and all investigators employed by the department shall meet the requirements for employment and appointment provided in s. 943.13 and shall satisfy the requirements for certification established by the Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission pursuant to chapter 943. The director and investigators shall be designated law enforcement officers and shall have the authorization to investigate, detect, apprehend, and arrest anyone for an alleged violation of the Florida Election Code or any rule adopted pursuant thereto, or any law of this state.

(7) The office may, for the purposes of any investigation or proceeding it conducts, administer oaths and affirmations, require affidavits, take depositions, issue subpoenas, and compel attendance of witnesses and the production of paper-based, electronic, or any other type of evidence.

(8) The office shall oversee the department's voter fraud hotline.

(9) This section does not limit the jurisdiction of any other office or agency of this state empowered by law to investigate, act upon, or dispose of alleged election law violations. However, the office may assert primary jurisdiction in any investigation initiated by a local law enforcement agency or state attorney concerning election law violations or election irregularities.

(10) A statewide prosecutor receiving a complaint referred by the office shall investigate the complaint promptly and thoroughly, undertake any related criminal or civil actions as justified by law, and report to the office the result of any such investigation, any related action taken, and the final disposition of the complaint. The failure or refusal of a

An act relating to public records; amending s. 97.022, F.S.; creating a public records exemption for information gathered by the Office of Election Crimes and Security of the Department of State as part of an investigation; specifying circumstances under which the exemption no longer applies; providing for future legislative review and repeal; providing a statement of public necessity; providing a contingent effective date.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsection (7) of section 97.022, Florida Statutes, as created by SB ____ or similar legislation, is amended to read:

97.022 Office of Election Crimes and Security; election law violations; election irregularities; investigations.—

(7)(a) The office may, for the purposes of any investigation or proceeding it conducts, administer oaths and affirmations, require affidavits, take depositions, issue subpoenas, and compel attendance of witnesses and the production of paper-based, electronic, or any other type of evidence.

(b) All information received by the office pursuant to an investigation by the office is confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution until the investigation ceases to be active or the information has been made part of a hearing or court proceeding. This paragraph is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act in accordance with s. 119.15 and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2027, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 2. The Legislature finds that is a public necessity that information received by the Office of Election Crimes and Security during an investigation be made confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution until the investigation ceases to be active or action taken by the office has concluded or been made part of a hearing or court proceeding. The release of such information about a pending investigation by the office could obstruct or jeopardize the integrity of the investigation or proceeding and impair the ability of the office in the performance of its official duties as required under s. 97.022, Florida Statutes. This exemption creates a secure environment in which the office may conduct its investigation. Therefore, the Legislature finds that it is a public necessity to make such information confidential and exempt from public records requirements.

Section 3. This act shall take effect on the same date that SB ___ or similar legislation takes effect, if such legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof and becomes a law.

You may want to check with House Government Operations Subcommittee staff to verify whether this is a public records exemption. If it is, there are two options going forward. They are:

Remove this provision from the bill and file it without this provision; or Submit a bill draft request in Leagis for a linked public records exemption bill. Under this option we would draft a separate bill for the exemption and would need from you a public necessity statement.

This is still in redraft, but I noticed some comments that I may not have shared so I wanted to do so / this is pre-edits you sent:
Hello Katelyn
The changes vesting legislative power in the board of directors and saying it acts as a representative assembly had knock on effects throughout the rest of the statute since it set up a direct conflict with the provisions regarding the current representative assembly that has legislative power. I had to make conforming changes throughout to address this, please make sure I understood correctly and you guys agree with them. You may also want to run this by the ed committee if you haven't already.

I wanted to let you know that we drafted as requested, per the attachment, but I wanted to let you know that I don't think that the language added to s. 787.07, relating to the crime of human smuggling, is the most appropriate section of law to add provisions relating to the renewal of government contracts and entities receiving benefits.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Hi Tonya,
I was just checking in about which version I should draft for the fee bill. Since the only difference among them is the amount and entity responsible for paying the fee, this is a policy choice on which I will need additional direction.

Also, I wanted to mention ahead of time that the general administrative and rulemaking authority included in the attached language for the fee bill will have to be put into the linked substantive bill. The constitutional provision regarding fees requires that the bill only include the fee as the subject matter. But, this will be very straightforward for me to transfer to the other draft.

Thanks for your help and I hope you have a great Friday!

of or an increase in tuition differential for a state research university designated as a preeminent state research university pursuant to s. 1001.7065(3). The tuition differential must ~~shall~~ promote improvements in the quality of undergraduate education and must ~~shall~~ provide financial aid to undergraduate students who exhibit financial need.

(a) Seventy percent of the revenues from the tuition differential must ~~shall~~ be expended for purposes of undergraduate education. Such expenditures may include, but are not limited to, increasing course offerings, improving graduation rates, increasing the percentage of undergraduate students who are taught by faculty, decreasing student-faculty ratios, providing salary increases for faculty who have a history of excellent teaching in undergraduate courses, improving the efficiency of the delivery of undergraduate education through academic advisement and counseling, and reducing the percentage of students who graduate with excess hours. This expenditure for undergraduate education may not be used to pay the salaries of graduate teaching assistants. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the remaining 30 percent of the revenues from the tuition differential, or the equivalent amount of revenue from private sources, must ~~shall~~ be expended to provide financial aid to undergraduate students who exhibit financial need, including students who are scholarship recipients under s. 1009.984, to meet the cost of university attendance. This expenditure for need-based financial aid may ~~shall~~ not supplant the amount of need-based aid provided to undergraduate students in the preceding fiscal year from financial aid fee revenues, the direct appropriation for financial assistance provided to state universities in the General Appropriations Act, or from private sources. The total amount of tuition differential waived under subparagraph (b)6. ~~(b)7.~~ may be included in calculating the expenditures for need-based financial aid to undergraduate students required by this subsection. If the entire tuition and fee costs of resident students who have applied for and received Pell Grant funds have been met and the university has excess funds remaining from the 30 percent of the revenues from the tuition differential required to be used to assist students who exhibit financial need, the university may expend the excess portion in the same manner as required for the other 70 percent of the tuition differential revenues.

(b) Each tuition differential is subject to the following conditions:

1. The tuition differential may be assessed on one or more undergraduate courses or on all undergraduate courses at a state university.

2. The tuition differential may vary by course or courses, by campus or center location, and by institution. Each university board of trustees shall strive to maintain and increase enrollment in degree programs related to math, science, high technology, and other state or regional high-need fields when establishing tuition differentials by course.

3. ~~For each state university that is designated as a preeminent state research university by the Board of Governors, pursuant to s. 1001.7065, the aggregate sum of tuition and the tuition differential may be increased by no more than 6 percent of the total charged for the aggregate sum of these fees in the~~

~~preceding fiscal year. The tuition differential may be increased if the university meets or exceeds performance standard targets for that university established annually by the Board of Governors for the following performance standards, amounting to no more than a 2-percent increase in the tuition differential for each performance standard:~~

~~a. An increase in the 4-year graduation rate for full-time, first-time-in-college students, as reported annually to the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System.~~

~~b. An increase in the total annual research expenditures.~~

~~c. An increase in the total patents awarded by the United States Patent and Trademark Office for the most recent years.~~

~~4.~~ The aggregate sum of undergraduate tuition and fees per credit hour, including the tuition differential, may not exceed the national average of undergraduate tuition and fees at 4-year degree-granting public postsecondary educational institutions.

4.~~5.~~ Beneficiaries having prepaid tuition contracts pursuant to s. 1009.98(2)(b) which were in effect on July 1, 2007, and which remain in effect, are exempt from the payment of the tuition differential.

5.~~6.~~ The tuition differential may not be charged to any student who was in attendance at the university before July 1, 2007, and who maintains continuous enrollment.

6.~~7.~~ The tuition differential may be waived by the university for students who meet the eligibility requirements for the Florida Public Student Assistance Grant Program established in s. 1009.50.

7.~~8.~~ Subject to approval by the Board of Governors, the tuition differential authorized pursuant to this subsection may take effect with the 2009 fall term.

(c) A university board of trustees may submit a proposal to the Board of Governors to implement a tuition differential for one or more undergraduate courses. At a minimum, the proposal must ~~shall~~:

1. Identify the course or courses for which the tuition differential will be assessed.

2. Indicate the amount that will be assessed for each tuition differential proposed.

3. Indicate the purpose of the tuition differential.

4. Indicate how the revenues from the tuition differential will be used.

5. Indicate how the university will monitor the success of the tuition differential in achieving the purpose for which the tuition differential is being assessed.

(d) The Board of Governors shall review each proposal and advise the university board of trustees of approval of the proposal, the need for additional information or revision to the proposal, or denial of the proposal. The Board of Governors shall establish a process for any university to revise a proposal or appeal a decision of the board.

(e) The Board of Governors shall submit a report to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Governor describing the implementation of ~~the provisions of~~ this subsection no later than February 1 of each year. The report must ~~shall~~ summarize proposals received by the board during the preceding fiscal year and actions taken by the board in response to such proposals. In addition, the report must ~~shall~~ provide the following information for each university

FL-GOV-22-0226, 20-0378-A-000592

~~that has been~~ approved by the board to assess a tuition differential:

1. The course or courses for which the tuition differential was assessed and the amount assessed.

2. The total revenues generated by the tuition differential.

3. With respect to waivers authorized under subparagraph (b)6. ~~(b)7.~~, the number of students eligible for a waiver, the number of students receiving a waiver, and the value of waivers provided.

4. Detailed expenditures of the revenues generated by the tuition differential.

5. Changes in retention rates, graduation rates, the percentage of students graduating with more than 110 percent of the hours required for graduation, pass rates on licensure examinations, the number of undergraduate course offerings, the percentage of undergraduate students who are taught by faculty, student-faculty ratios, and the average salaries of faculty who teach undergraduate courses.

(f) No state university shall be required to lower any tuition differential that was approved by the Board of Governors and in effect prior to January 1, 2009, in order to comply with ~~the provisions of~~ this subsection.

(17)(a) A state university may assess a student who enrolls in a course listed in the distance learning catalog, established pursuant to s. 1006.73, a per-credit-hour distance learning course fee. For purposes of assessing this fee, a distance learning course is a course in which at least 80 percent of the direct instruction of the course is delivered using some form of technology when the student and instructor are separated by time or space, or both.

(b) The amount of the distance learning course fee may not exceed the additional costs of the services provided which are attributable to the development and delivery of the distance learning course. If the distance learning course fee is assessed by a state university, the institution may not assess duplicative fees to cover the additional costs. Beginning July 1, 2023, a university board of trustees may not increase the distance learning course fee authorized under this subsection by more than 3 percent of the amount assessed the prior year; however, the total collected by an institution from such fee may not exceed the cost of the service provided by that institution. Fees assessed as a result of a vendor contract may exceed the 3 percent cap only after the institution has made every effort available, and has followed the competitive solicitation process pursuant to s. 287.057(1), to minimize the cost.

1. By September 1 of each year, each board of trustees shall report to the Chancellor of the State University System the total amount of revenue generated for the prior fiscal year by the fee authorized by this subsection and how that revenue was expended.

2. By November 1 of each year, the Chancellor of the State University System shall report the total amount of revenue generated by the distance learning course fee for the prior fiscal year and how the revenue was expended, both systemwide and by institution, to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

(c) If an institution assesses the distance learning fee,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

the institution must provide a link to the catalog within the advising and distance learning sections of the institution's website.

(20)(a) All tuition and fees described in this section, and any proposed changes to them, must be published prominently on the university's home page on its website in a location that is transparent and easily accessable. Each state university shall publicly notice and notify all enrolled students of any proposal to change tuition or fees at least 28 days before its consideration for a vote taken at a board of trustees meeting. The notice must:

1.~~(a)~~ Include the date and time of the meeting at which the proposal will be considered.

2.~~(b)~~ Specifically outline the details of existing tuition and fees, the rationale for the proposed change, and how the funds from the proposed change will be used.

3.~~(c)~~ Be published ~~posted~~ on the university's home page on its website and issued in a press release. The press release must also be enclosed in an e-mail sent to all enrolled students.

(b) Each university shall annually submit a fee schedule to the Board of Governors for approval by the board by a date established by board regulation. When a fee is changed pursuant to paragraph (17)(b), a university must submit an amended fee schedule for approval by the board by a date established by board regulation.

Please see attached support from Northwest Florida counties for the Estuary Protection and Restoration Project in line 145 of the Budget. This is an extremely important project for Senator Broxson as the future of Water Quality and the opportunity for Federal RESTORE funds from Pot 2 of the Oil spill funding will need validated research data for our region to continue to qualify.

The Governor's support is greatly appreciated.

ESTUARY PROGRAM

March 11, 2022

The Honorable Ron DeSantis
Governor, State of Florida
The Capitol
400 S. Monroe St.
Tallahassee, FL 32399

Dear Governor DeSantis,

On behalf of the Pensacola and Perdido Bays Estuary Program, thank you for your continuous investment in the restoration and preservation of Florida's critically important water resources. These historic investments will truly leave a lasting legacy and will greatly enhance the resiliency of the state of Florida from flooding and sea level rise.

As you continue to deliver on your bold initiative to protect Florida's environment, I want to call attention to Specific Appropriation 145, Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration (Senate Form 2645), within the 2022-2023 State Budget submitted to you by the Florida Legislature. The $3 million appropriation to the University of Florida will enable each of the three Northwest Florida Estuary Programs (Pensacola and Perdido Bays Estuary Program, Choctawhatchee Bay Estuary Program, and St. Andrew and St. Joe Bays Estuary Program) to work alongside the University of Florida Center for Coastal Solutions to provide data-driven guidance on restoration project investment opportunities.

Through these resources, UF's CCS will aid the Pensacola and Perdido Bays Estuary Program and our partner agencies in the development of proposals that deliver on critically important actions identified in the Program's Comprehensive Conservation and Management Plan. Through the Estuary Program, local governments across Northwest Florida and South Alabama are working together like never before to restore and protect what matters most.

The Pensacola and Perdido Bays Estuary Program Policy Board, and I as their Executive Director, support this initiative and appreciate your consideration in preserving this funding for the benefit of Northwest Florida.

Sincerely,

Matthew J. Posner Digitally signed by Matthew J. Posner

DATE & TIME OF MEETINGS: Fourth Tuesdays at 9:00 a.m., E.T.

To Whom it May Concern:

On behalf of Gulf County Board of County Commissioners, I am reaching out to express support for the Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project (Senate Form LFIR # 2645). This project will provide Gulf County the ability to leverage existing data in order to secure much needed RESTORE Act funding for our community.

In response to the Deepwater Horizon oil spill, the U.S. Congress enacted the Resources and Ecosystems Sustainability, Tourist Opportunities, and Revived Economies of the Gulf Coast States Act (RESTORE Act), thereby establishing the Gulf Coast Restoration Trust Fund. Florida is among the five states eligible to receive funding pursuant to this program. RESTORE Act funding streams provide the opportunity to secure regional water quality improvements and sustain healthy waters on a generational scale. Since the Trust Fund's establishment in 2017, however, Florida Panhandle coastal counties have received significantly less funding than other states.

The Center for Coastal Solutions (CCS), which is based out of the University of Florida's (UF) Herbert Wertheim College of Engineering, leverages data scientists, biologists, economists, environmental engineers, and strategic university and research partners to expand the foundational understanding of Florida's environment, economy, and public health.

The CCS team will use a water quality monitoring network to fill the Panhandle region's gaps in expertise and resources to achieve needed environmental and economic insights and provide data-driven guidance on restoration project investment opportunities. Local counties and other regional partners will be able to leverage the water quality and economic analytics capabilities of the UF CCS team and the monitoring network to prepare regionally impactful, coordinated project proposals.

UF CCS will collaborate and coordinate with Gulf County and other local government partners in developing grant proposal content and submittal with DEP's Deep Water Horizon program and potential grantees to develop large scale proposals with a higher likelihood of funding approval.

Please support the $3,000,000 for the Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project (Senate Form LFIR # 2645).

Sincerely,

County Administrator
Michael L. Hammond

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

To Whom it May Concern –

My name is Colten Wright, Commissioner, from Santa Rosa County. I represent a coastal peninsula community that is impacted, more than most, by water quality. I am reaching out to express support for the Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project (Senate Form LFIR # 2645) which will make Panhandle communities more competitive for federal RESTORE ACT oil spill recovery funds.

The U.S. Congress enacted the Resources and Ecosystems Sustainability, Tourist Opportunities, and Revived Economies of the Gulf Coast States Act (RESTORE Act) in response to the Deepwater Horizon oil spill, thereby establishing the Gulf Coast Restoration Trust Fund. Florida is among the five states eligible to compete for funding through this program for regional water quality and ecosystem improvements on a generational scale. Unfortunately, Florida Panhandle coastal counties have received significantly less funding than peer communities across the Gulf Coast. The Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project is a collaborative effort among Florida's Panhandle counties to utilize advanced data and analytics tools to better compete for a fair share of these funds.

Panhandle counties will partner with the University of Florida's Center for Coastal Solutions (CCS), which is based out of the Herbert Wertheim College of Engineering. CCS leverages data scientists, biologists, economists, environmental engineers, and strategic university and research partners to expand the foundational understanding of Florida's environment, economy, and public health. In this partnership with Panhandle counties, CCS will use its existing monitoring tools and technical expertise to provide data-driven support for communities seeking RESTORE funds. Applicants will be able to leverage the water quality and economic analytics capabilities of the UF CCS team to prepare regionally-impactful, coordinated project proposals with a higher likelihood of funding approval.

The Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project will generate a substantial ROI for Panhandle communities and the state as a whole. Florida can and should be awarded a much higher share of RESTORE funding and the utilization of CCS tools and expertise supported by this request will greatly strengthen our competitive advantage.

Please support the $3,000,000 for the Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project (Senate Form LFIR # 2645).

Sincerely,

Colten Wright

The U.S. Congress enacted the Resources and Ecosystems Sustainability, Tourist Opportunities, and Revived Economies of the Gulf Coast States Act (RESTORE Act) in response to the Deepwater Horizon oil spill, thereby establishing the Gulf Coast Restoration Trust Fund. Florida is among the five states eligible to compete for funding through this program for regional water quality and ecosystem improvements on a generational scale. Unfortunately, Florida Panhandle coastal counties have received significantly less funding than peer communities across the Gulf Coast. The Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project is a collaborative effort among Florida's Panhandle counties to utilize advanced data and analytics tools to better compete for a fair share of these funds.

Panhandle counties will partner with the University of Florida's Center for Coastal Solutions (CCS), which is based out of the Herbert Wertheim College of Engineering. CCS leverages data scientists, biologists, economists, environmental engineers, and strategic university and research partners to expand the foundational understanding of Florida's environment, economy, and public health. In this partnership with Panhandle counties, CCS will use its existing monitoring tools and technical expertise to provide data-driven support for communities seeking RESTORE funds. Applicants will be able to leverage the water quality and economic analytics capabilities of the UF CCS team to prepare regionally-impactful, coordinated project proposals with a higher likelihood of funding approval.

The Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project will generate a substantial ROI for Panhandle communities and the state as a whole. Florida can and should be awarded a much higher share of RESTORE funding and the utilization of CCS tools and expertise supported by this request will greatly strengthen our competitive advantage.

Please support the $3,000,000 for the Northwest Florida Estuary Water Quality Protection and Restoration Project (Senate Form LFIR # 2645).

Sincerely,

NOTE RE: Draft 01420 from drafting

Gabriel Girado: (12/16/2021 4:27 PM):
Hi Tonya,

Drafted as requested; however I did have some concerns I wanted to point out with the draft:
1. s. 286.101 (lines 2285-2298) was not in the provided materials and based on statute and location the action by the Administration Commission is now performed by DMS.
2. s. 369.305 (lines 2546-2551) has the department (defined in s. 369.303 to be DEO) petitioning itself to confirm the determination.
3. s. 380.045 (lines 2944-2952) has DEO approving via resolution which they cannot do.
4. s. 380.05 (lines 3269-3272) has an agency filing copies of the adopted rule with the state land planning agency and DEO which in this case would be the same entity.
5. s. 403.086 (begins on line 3805) was not in the provided materials and I made minimal changes to conform to the rest of the draft.
6. s. 945.6035 (lines 4063-4069) who should DOAH submit the findings to?

If you have any questions or concerns please do not hesitate to reach out. If you require any changes to the draft please let us know via redraft request.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Legislative purpose.—It is the intent of the Legislature to pursue a state executive structure more aligned with the federal system in order to promote greater accountability and efficiency. When America's founding fathers designed our Federal Government structure, they intentionally chose a system in which there was a unitary executive. The founders very consciously declined to sap the executive's strength by dividing the executive power and instead vested the executive power in one elected individual, believing that an energetic executive is the leading character in the definition of good government. The changes made herein reflect the Legislature's intent to move away from a plural executive structure toward more unitary executive governance that encourages greater accountability in the democratic process and efficiencies in government.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Section 2. Type two transfers from the Executive Office of the Governor.—

(1)(a) All powers, duties, functions, records, offices, personnel, associated administrative support positions, property, pending issues, existing contracts, administrative authority, administrative rules, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds relating to the Administration Commission in the Executive Office of the Governor are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in s. 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Division of Administrative Hearings, the Florida Commission on Human Relations, and the Department of Economic Opportunity, as appropriate.

(b) Any binding contract or interagency agreement existing before October 1, 2022, between the Administration Commission in the Executive Office of the Governor, or an entity or agent of the commission, and any other agency, entity, or person must continue as a binding contract or agreement for the remainder of the term of such contract or agreement on the successor entity responsible for the program, activity, or functions relative to the contract or agreement.

(2) All powers, duties, functions, records, offices, personnel, associated administrative support positions, property, pending issues, existing contracts, administrative authority, administrative rules, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds relating to the Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in s. 20.06(2), Florida

Statutes, to the Department of Environmental Protection, the Department of Economic Opportunity, and the Division of Administrative Hearings, as appropriate.

Section 3. (1) Notwithstanding ss. 216.292 and 216.351, Florida Statutes, upon approval by the Legislative Budget Commission, the Executive Office of the Governor may transfer funds and positions between agencies to implement this act.

(2) The Governor shall submit in a timely manner to the applicable federal departments or agencies any necessary amendments or supplemental information concerning plans that the state is required to submit to the Federal Government in connection with any federal or state program. The Governor shall seek any waivers from the requirements of federal law or rules which may be necessary to administer this act.

(3) The transfer of any program, activity, duty, or function under this act includes the transfer of any records and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, or other funds related to such program, activity, duty, or function. Unless otherwise provided, the successor organization to any program, activity, duty, or function transferred under this act shall become the custodian of any property of the organization that was responsible for the program, activity, duty, or function immediately before the transfer.

Section 4. The Legislature recognizes that there is a need to conform the Florida Statutes to the policy decisions reflected in this act and that there is a need to resolve apparent conflicts between any other legislation that has been or may be enacted during the 2022 Regular Session of the Legislature and the transfer of duties made by this act.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Therefore, in the interim between this act becoming a law and the 2023 Regular Session of the Legislature or an earlier special session addressing this issue, the Division of Law Revision is directed to provide the relevant substantive committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives with assistance, upon request, to enable such committees to prepare draft legislation to conform the Florida Statutes and any legislation enacted during the 2022 Regular Session of the Legislature to this act.

Section 5. Section 14.202, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 6. Subsection (1) of section 20.201, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

20.201 Department of Law Enforcement.—

(1) There is created a Department of Law Enforcement. The head of the department is the Governor and Cabinet. (c), a new paragraph (b) is added to that subsection, and paragraph (a) of subsection (4) and subsections (5) and (10) are amended, to read:

30.49 Budgets.—

(4) The board of county commissioners or the budget commission, as appropriate, may require the sheriff to correct mathematical, mechanical, factual, and clerical errors and errors as to form in the proposed budget. (5) Upon receipt of the petition, the Executive Office of the Governor shall provide for a budget hearing at which the matters presented in the petition and the reply shall be considered. If the board of county commissioners approves the sheriff's request, no further action is required on either party. If the board of county commissioners disapproves a portion or all of the sheriff's request, the sheriff may apply to the head of the Department of Law Enforcement ~~Administration Commission~~ for the appropriation of additional amounts. The sheriff shall at the same time deliver a copy of the application to the Executive Office of the Governor ~~Administration Commission~~, the board of county commissioners, and the budget commission, if there is a budget commission within the county. Such budget shall be brought into balance, if possible, by application of excess receipts in such county fund or funds. If such excess receipts are not available in sufficient amount, the county fund budget or budgets shall be brought into balance by adding an item of "Vouchers unpaid" in the appropriate amount to the receipts side of the budget, and provision for paying such vouchers shall be made in the budget of the county fund for the

The proposed distribution, location, and extent of the various categories of land use shall be shown on a land use map or map series which shall be supplemented by goals, policies, and measurable objectives.

2. The future land use plan and plan amendments shall be based upon surveys, studies, and data regarding the area, as applicable, including:

(II) Promotes, allows, or designates significant amounts of urban development to occur in rural areas at substantial distances from existing urban areas while not using undeveloped lands that are available and suitable for development.

(III) Promotes, allows, or designates urban development in radial, strip, isolated, or ribbon patterns generally emanating from existing urban developments.

(VII) Fails to maximize use of future public facilities and services.

(VIII) Allows for land use patterns or timing which disproportionately increase the cost in time, money, and energy of providing and maintaining facilities and services, including roads, potable water, sanitary sewer, stormwater management, law enforcement, education, health care, fire and emergency response, and general government.

(XII) Results in poor accessibility among linked or related land uses.

(XIII) Results in the loss of significant amounts of functional open space.

b. The future land use element or plan amendment shall be determined to discourage the proliferation of urban sprawl if it incorporates a development pattern or urban form that achieves four or more of the following:

Section 56. Subsection (1) of section 337.243, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

337.243 Notification of land use changes in designated transportation corridors.—

(1) If a local government designates a transportation corridor that includes a facility on the State Highway System in its local government comprehensive plan and has adopted a transportation corridor management ordinance, the local

This notification requirement does ~~shall~~ not apply to any routine maintenance or emergency repairs to existing structures. Upon notification, the department shall determine whether to purchase the property affected or to initiate eminent domain proceedings. The department's determination does ~~shall~~ not affect the granting or denial of the permit by the local government. The local government may ~~shall~~ not be liable to the department for failure to make notification to the department pursuant to this section.

Section 57. Subsections (3) and (4) of section 369.305, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

369.305 Review of local comprehensive plans, land development regulations, Wekiva River development permits, and amendments.—

(3) If the department determines that the local comprehensive plan and land development regulations as amended or supplemented comply with ~~the provisions of~~ subsection (1), the department must ~~shall~~ petition the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Governor and Cabinet~~ to confirm its determination. If the department determines that the amendments and any new land development regulations that a county has adopted do not meet the criteria established in subsection (1), or the department receives no amendments or new land development regulations and determines that the county's existing local comprehensive plan and land development regulations do not comply with ~~the provisions of~~ subsection (1), the department must ~~shall~~ petition the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Governor and Cabinet~~ to order the county to adopt such amendments to its local comprehensive plan or land development regulations or such new land development regulations as it deems necessary to meet the criteria in subsection (1). A determination or petition made by the department pursuant to this subsection is ~~shall~~ not ~~be~~ final agency action.

(4) The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Governor and Cabinet, sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission,~~ shall render an order on the petition. Any local government comprehensive plan amendments directly related to the requirements of this subsection and subsections (1), (2), and (3) may be initiated by a local planning agency and considered by the local governing body without regard to statutory or local ordinance limitations on the frequency of consideration of amendments to local comprehensive plans.

Section 58. Section 373.114, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.114 ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission;~~ Review of district rules and orders; department review of district rules.—

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2), the department has ~~Governor and Cabinet, sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission, have~~ the exclusive authority to review any order or rule of a water management district, other than a rule relating to an internal procedure of the district or a final order resulting from an evidentiary hearing held under s. 120.569 or s. 120.57 or a rule that has been adopted after issuance of a final order resulting from an evidentiary hearing held under s. 120.56, to ensure consistency with the provisions and purposes of this chapter. Subsequent to the legislative ratification of the delineation methodology pursuant to s. 373.421(1), this subsection also shall apply to an order of ~~the department, or~~ a local government exercising delegated authority, pursuant to ss. 373.403-373.443, except an order pertaining to activities or operations subject to conceptual plan approval pursuant to chapter 378 or a final order resulting from an evidentiary hearing held under s. 120.569 or s. 120.57.

(a) Such review may be initiated by the department or by a party to the proceeding below by filing a request for review with the department ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ and serving a copy on ~~the department and on~~ any person named in the rule or order within 20 days after adoption of the rule or the rendering of the order. For the purposes of this section, the term "party" means any affected person who submitted oral or written testimony, sworn or unsworn, of a substantive nature which stated with particularity objections to or support for the rule or order that are cognizable within the scope of the provisions and purposes of this chapter. In order for the department ~~commission~~ to accept a request for review initiated by a party below, with regard to a specific order, the department ~~three members of the commission~~ must determine on the basis of the record below that the activity authorized by the order would substantially affect natural resources of statewide or regional significance. Review of an order may also be accepted if the department determines ~~three members of the commission determine~~ that the order raises issues of policy, statutory interpretation, or rule interpretation that have regional or statewide significance from the standpoint of agency precedent. The party requesting the department ~~commission~~ to review an order must allege with particularity, and the department ~~commission~~ must find, that:

1. The order is in conflict with statutory requirements; or

2. The order is in conflict with the requirements of a duly adopted rule.

(b) Review by the department ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ is appellate in nature and shall be based solely on the record below unless the department ~~commission~~ determines that a remand for a formal evidentiary proceeding is necessary to develop additional findings of fact. If there is no evidentiary administrative proceeding resulting from a remand or referral for findings of fact by the department ~~commission~~, then the facts contained in the proposed agency action or proposed water management district action, including any technical staff report, shall be deemed undisputed. The matter shall be heard by the department ~~commission~~ not more than 60 days after receipt of the request for review, unless waived by the parties; provided, however, such time limit shall be tolled by a referral or remand pursuant to this paragraph. The department ~~commission~~ may refer a request for review to the Division of Administrative Hearings for the production of findings of fact, limited to those needed to render the decision requested, to supplement the record, if the department ~~a majority of the commission~~ determines that supplementary findings of fact are essential to determine the consistency of a rule or order with the provisions and purposes of this chapter. Alternatively, the department ~~commission~~ may remand the matter to the agency below for additional findings of fact, limited to those needed to render the decision requested, to supplement the record, if the department ~~a majority of the commission~~ determines that supplementary findings of fact are essential to determine the consistency of a rule or order with the provisions and purposes of this chapter. Such proceedings must be conducted and the findings transmitted to the department ~~commission~~ within 90 days after ~~of~~ the remand or referral.

(c) If the department ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ determines that a rule of a water management district is not consistent with the provisions and purposes of this chapter, it may require the water management district to initiate rulemaking proceedings to amend or repeal the rule. If the department ~~commission~~ determines that an order is not consistent with the provisions and purposes of this chapter, the department ~~commission~~ may rescind or modify the order or remand the proceeding for further action consistent with the order of the department ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ only if the department ~~commission~~ determines that the activity authorized by the order would substantially affect natural resources of statewide or regional significance. In the case of an order which does not itself substantially affect natural resources of statewide or regional significance, but which raises issues of policy that have regional or statewide significance from the standpoint of agency precedent, the department ~~commission~~ may direct the district to initiate rulemaking to amend its rules to assure that future actions are consistent with the provisions and purposes of this chapter without modifying the order.

(d) In a review under this section of a construction permit issued pursuant to a conceptual permit under part IV, which conceptual permit is issued after July 1, 1993, a party to the review may not raise an issue which was or could have been raised in a review of the conceptual permit under this section.

(e) A request for review under this section may ~~shall~~ not be a precondition to the seeking of judicial review pursuant to s. 120.68 or the seeking of an administrative determination of rule validity pursuant to s. 120.56.

(f) The department ~~Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ may adopt rules to set forth its procedures for reviewing an order or rule of a water management district consistent with ~~the provisions of~~ this section.

(g) For the purpose of this section, it shall be presumed that activity authorized by an order will not affect resources of statewide or regional significance if the proposed activity:

1. Occupies an area less than 10 acres in size, and

2. Does not create impervious surfaces greater than 2 acres in size, and

3. Is not located within 550 feet of the shoreline of a named body of water designated as Outstanding Florida Waters, and

4. Does not adversely affect threatened or endangered species.

This paragraph may ~~shall~~ not operate to hold that any activity that exceeds these limits is presumed to affect resources of statewide or regional significance. The determination of whether an activity will substantially affect resources of statewide or regional significance shall be made on a case-by-case basis, based upon facts contained in the record below.

(2) The department shall have the exclusive authority to review rules of the water management districts, other than rules relating to internal management of the districts, to ensure consistency with the water resource implementation rule as set forth in the rules of the department. Within 30 days after adoption or revision of any water management district rule, the department shall initiate a review of such rule pursuant to this section.

(a) Within 30 days after adoption of a rule, any affected person may request that a hearing be held before the secretary of the department, at which hearing evidence and argument may be presented relating to the consistency of the rule with the water resource implementation rule, by filing a request for hearing with the department and serving a copy on the water management district.

(b) If the department determines that the rule is inconsistent with the water resource implementation rule, it may order the water management district to initiate rulemaking proceedings to amend or repeal the rule.

(c) An order of the department requiring amendment or repeal of a rule may be appealed pursuant to s. 120.68 ~~to the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ by the water management district or any other party to the proceeding before the secretary.

Section 59. Paragraph (c) of subsection (3) of section 373.139, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.139 Acquisition of real property.—

(3) The initial 5-year work plan and any subsequent modifications or additions thereto shall be adopted by each water management district after a public hearing. Each water management district shall provide at least 14 days' advance notice of the hearing date and shall separately notify each county commission within which a proposed work plan project or project modification or addition is located of the hearing date.

(c) The Secretary of Environmental Protection shall release acquisition moneys from the appropriate account or trust fund to a district following receipt of a resolution adopted by the governing board identifying the lands being acquired and certifying that such acquisition is consistent with the 5-year work plan of acquisition and other provisions of this section. The governing board also shall provide to the Secretary of Environmental Protection a copy of all certified appraisals used to determine the value of the land to be purchased. Each parcel to be acquired must have at least one appraisal. Two appraisals are required when the estimated value of the parcel exceeds $1 million. However, when both appraisals exceed $1 million and differ significantly, a third appraisal may be obtained. If the purchase price is greater than the appraisal price, the governing board shall submit written justification for the increased price. The Secretary of Environmental Protection may withhold moneys for any purchase that is not consistent with the 5-year plan or the intent of this section or that is in excess of appraised value. The governing board may appeal any denial to the Division of Administrative Hearings ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission pursuant to s. 373.114~~.

Section 60. Subsection (1) of section 373.217, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.217 Superseded laws and regulations.—

(1) It is the intent of the Legislature to provide a means whereby reasonable programs for the issuance of permits authorizing the consumptive use of particular quantities of water may be authorized by the Department of Environmental Protection, subject to judicial review and also subject to review ~~by the Governor and Cabinet, sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ as provided in s. 373.114.

Section 61. Subsections (11) and (13) of section 373.2295, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

373.2295 Interdistrict transfers of groundwater.—

(11) If, after the final order of the department or final agency action under this section, the proposed use of the site designated in the application for groundwater production, treatment, or transmission facilities does not conform with the existing zoning ordinances, a rezoning application may be submitted. If local authorities deny the application for rezoning, the applicant may appeal this decision to the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~, which shall authorize a variance or nonconforming use to the existing comprehensive plan and zoning ordinances, unless the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ determines after notice and hearing that such variance or nonconforming use is contrary to the public interest.

(13) When a consumptive use permit under this section is granted for water use beyond the boundaries of a local government from which or through which the groundwater is withdrawn or transferred and a local government denies a permit required under chapter 125 or chapter 153 for a facility or any infrastructure which produces, treats, transmits, or distributes such groundwater, the person or unit of government applying for the permit under chapter 125 or chapter 153 may appeal the denial to the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~. The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall review the local government action for consistency with this chapter and the interdistrict groundwater transfer permit and may reverse, modify, or approve the local government's action.

Section 62. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 373.4275, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.4275 Review of consolidated orders.—

(1) Beginning on the effective date of the rules adopted under s. 373.427(1), review of any consolidated order rendered pursuant to s. 373.427(1) shall be governed by the provisions of s. 373.114(1). However, the term "party" shall mean any person who participated as a party in a proceeding under ss. 120.569 and 120.57 on the concurrently reviewed authorizations, permits, waivers, variances, or approvals, or any affected person who submitted to the department, water management district, or board of trustees oral or written testimony, sworn or unsworn, of a substantive nature which stated with particularity objections to or support for the authorization, permit, waiver, variance, or approval, provided that such testimony was cognizable within the scope of this chapter or the applicable provisions of chapter

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

161, chapter 253, or chapter 258 when the consolidated notice of intent includes an authorization, permit, waiver, variance, or approval under those chapters. In such cases, the standard of review shall also ensure consistency with the applicable provisions and purposes of chapter 161, chapter 253, or chapter 258 when the consolidated order includes an authorization, permit, waiver, variance, or approval under those chapters. If the consolidated order subject to review includes approval or denial of proprietary authorization to use submerged lands on which the board of trustees has previously acted, as described in s. 373.427(2), the scope of review under this section shall not encompass such proprietary decision, but the standard of review shall also ensure consistency with the applicable provisions and purposes of chapter 161 when the consolidated order includes a permit, waiver, or approval under that chapter.

(b) If a consolidated order includes proprietary authorization under chapter 253 or chapter 258 to use submerged lands owned by the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund for an activity for which the authority has been delegated to take final agency action without action of the board of trustees, the following additional provisions and exceptions to s. 373.114(1) apply:

2. The review may also be initiated by the Governor or any member of the Cabinet within 20 days after the rendering of the order in which case the other provisions of s. 373.114(1)(a)

regarding acceptance of a request for review do not apply; and

3. If the Governor and Cabinet find that an authorization to use submerged lands is not consistent with chapter 253 or chapter 258, any authorization, permit, waiver, or approval authorized or granted by the consolidated order must be rescinded or modified or the proceeding must be remanded for further action consistent with the order issued under this section.

Section 63. Subsection (6) of section 373.703, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.703 Water production; general powers and duties.—In the performance of, and in conjunction with, its other powers and duties, the governing board of a water management district existing pursuant to this chapter:

(6) May provide water and financial assistance to regional water supply authorities, but may not provide water to counties and municipalities which are located within the area of such authority without the specific approval of the authority or, in the event of the authority's disapproval, the approval of the Governor and Cabinet ~~sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~. The district may supply water at rates and upon terms mutually agreed to by the parties or, if they do not agree, as set by the governing board and specifically approved by the department ~~Governor and Cabinet sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~.

(c) An applicant for a drilling or operating permit for operations planned in coastal waters that by their nature warrant greater surety shall provide surety only in accordance with paragraph (a), or similar proof of financial responsibility other than as provided in paragraph (b). For all such applications, including applications pending at the effective date of this act and notwithstanding ~~the provisions of~~ paragraph (b), ~~the Governor and Cabinet in their capacity as the Administration Commission, at the recommendation of~~ the Department of Environmental Protection~~,~~ shall set a reasonable amount of surety required under this subsection. The surety amount shall be based on the projected cleanup costs and natural resources damages resulting from a maximum oil spill and adverse hydrographic and atmospheric conditions that would tend to transport the oil into environmentally sensitive areas, as determined by the Department of Environmental Protection.

Section 65. Subsection (1) of section 380.031, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

Section 67. Subsections (3), (4), and (5) of section 380.045, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

380.045 Resource planning and management committees; objectives; procedures.—

(3) Not later than 12 months after its appointment by the Governor, the committee shall either adopt a proposed voluntary resource planning and management program for the area under study or recommend that a voluntary resource planning and management program not be adopted. The proposed voluntary resource planning and management program shall contain the committee findings with respect to problems that endanger those resources, facilities, and areas described in s. 380.05(2) and shall contain detailed recommendations for state, regional, and local governmental actions necessary to resolve current and prevent future problems identified by the committee. A major objective of the proposed voluntary resource planning and management program shall be the effective coordination of state, regional, and local planning; program implementation; and regulatory activities for comprehensive resource management. The committee shall submit the proposed voluntary resource planning and management program to the head of the state land planning agency at the Department of Economic Opportunity~~, who shall transmit the program along with the recommendations of the agency for monitoring and enforcing the program, as well as any other recommendations deemed appropriate, to the Administration Commission~~.

(4) The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~ shall by resolution approve, approve as modified, or reject the proposed voluntary resource planning and management program and state land planning agency recommendations; and the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~ shall request each state or regional agency that is responsible for implementing a portion of an approved program to conduct its programs and regulatory activities in a manner consistent with the approved program. Each state and regional agency involved in implementing the program shall cooperate to the maximum extent possible in ensuring that the program is given full effect.

(5) The state land planning agency shall monitor ~~report to the Administration Commission within 12 months of the approval of the program by the commission concerning~~ the implementation and the effects of the approved voluntary resource planning and management program, which. ~~The report~~ shall include, but is ~~shall~~ not ~~be~~ limited to:

(b) An assessment of the compliance by each affected local government with the program;

(c) An evaluation of state, regional, and local monitoring and enforcement activities and recommendations for improving such activities; and

(d) A determination ~~recommendation~~ as to whether ~~or not~~ all or any portion of the study area should be designated an area of critical state concern pursuant to s. 380.05.

The state land planning agency may engage in additional monitoring ~~make such other reports to the commission~~ as it deems necessary, including determining ~~recommending~~ that all or any portion of the study area be designated an area of critical state concern because of special circumstances in the study area or in the implementation of the approved voluntary resource planning and management program.

Section 68. Subsections (1), (3), (4), (5), (8) through (12), (15), and (22) of section 380.05, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

380.05 Areas of critical state concern.—

(1)(a) The state land planning agency may from time to time determine ~~recommend to the Administration Commission~~ specific areas of critical state concern. In its determination

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

~~recommendation~~, the agency shall include recommendations and findings with respect to the purchase of lands situated within the boundaries of the proposed area as environmentally endangered lands and outdoor recreation lands under the Land Conservation Program. The agency also shall include any report or recommendation of a resource planning and management committee appointed pursuant to s. 380.045; the dangers that would result from uncontrolled or inadequate development of the area and the advantages that would be achieved from the development of the area in a coordinated manner; a detailed boundary description of the proposed area; specific principles for guiding development within the area; an inventory of lands owned by the state, federal, county, and municipal governments within the proposed area; and a list of the state agencies with programs that affect the purpose of the designation. The agency shall recommend actions which the local government and state and regional agencies must accomplish in order to implement the principles for guiding development. These actions may include, but need not be limited to, revisions of the local comprehensive plan and adoption of land development regulations, density requirements, and special permitting requirements.

(b) Within 45 days following completion of its determination ~~receipt of a recommendation from the agency~~, the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall either reject the determination ~~recommendation~~ as tendered or adopt the determination ~~recommendation~~ with or without modification and by rule designate the area of critical state concern. Any rule that designates an area of critical state concern must include:

1. A detailed boundary description of the area.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL GOV 22-0226, 20-0378A-000762

2. Principles for guiding development.

3. A clear statement of the purpose for the designation.

4. A precise checklist of actions which, when implemented, will result in repeal of the designation by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~, and the agencies or entities responsible for taking those actions.

5. A list of those issues or programs for which mechanisms must be in place to assure ongoing implementation of the actions taken to result in repeal of the designation.

6. A list of the state agencies which, in addition to those specified in subsection (22), administer programs that affect the purpose of the designation.

The rule shall become effective 20 days after being filed with the Secretary of State, except that an emergency rule adopted by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ and designating an area of critical state concern shall become effective immediately on being filed. Any rule adopted pursuant to this paragraph shall be presented to the Legislature for review pursuant to paragraph (c). A statement of estimated regulatory costs prepared pursuant to s. 120.541 may ~~shall~~ not be a ground for a challenge of the rule; however, a landowner may ~~shall~~ not be precluded from using adverse economic results as grounds for challenge. Such principles for guiding development shall apply to any development undertaken subsequent to the legislative review pursuant to paragraph (c) of the designation of the area of critical state concern with or without modification but before ~~prior to~~ the adoption of land development rules and regulations or a local comprehensive plan for the critical area pursuant to subsections (6) and (8). ~~No~~ Boundaries or principles for guiding development may not ~~shall~~ be adopted without a specific finding by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ that the boundaries or principles are consistent with the purpose of the designation. The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ is not authorized to adopt any rule that would provide for a moratorium on development in any area of critical state concern.

(c) A rule adopted by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ pursuant to paragraph (b) designating an area of critical state concern and principles for guiding development shall be submitted to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives for review no later than 30 days before ~~prior to~~ the next regular session of the Legislature. The Legislature may reject, modify, or take no action relative to the adopted rule. In its deliberations, the Legislature may consider, among other factors, whether a resource planning and management committee has established a program pursuant to s. 380.045. In addition to any other data and information required pursuant to this chapter, each rule presented to the Legislature shall include a detailed legal description of the boundary of the area of critical state concern, proposed principles for guiding development, and a detailed statement of how the area meets the criteria for designation as provided in subsection (2).

(d) If, after the repeal of the boundary designation of an area of critical state concern pursuant to subsection (15), the state land planning agency determines that the administration of the local land development regulations or a local comprehensive plan within a formerly designated area is inadequate to protect the former area of critical state concern, then the state land planning agency may redesignate it ~~recommend to the commission that the area be redesignated~~ as an area of critical state concern. ~~Within 45 days following the receipt of the recommendation from the agency, the commission shall either reject the recommendation as tendered or adopt the same with or without modification.~~ The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ may, by rule, make such redesignation effective immediately, at which time the boundaries, regulations, and plans in effect at the time the previous designation was repealed shall be reinstated. Within 90 days after ~~of~~ such redesignation, the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall begin rulemaking procedures to designate the area an area of critical state concern under paragraph (b).

(3) Each regional planning agency may recommend to the state land planning agency from time to time areas wholly or partially within its jurisdiction that meet the criteria for areas of critical state concern as defined in this section. Each regional planning agency shall solicit from the local governments within its jurisdiction suggestions as to areas to be recommended. A local government in an area where there is no regional planning agency may recommend to the state land planning agency from time to time areas wholly or partially within its jurisdiction that meet the criteria for areas of critical state concern as defined in this section. If the state land planning agency does not recommend to the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ as an area of critical state concern an area substantially similar to one that has been recommended, it must ~~shall~~ respond in writing as to its reasons therefor.

(4) Before making a determination ~~Prior to submitting any recommendation to the commission~~ under subsection (1), the state land planning agency shall give notice to any committee appointed pursuant to s. 380.045 and to all local governments and regional planning agencies that include within their boundaries any part of any area of critical state concern proposed to be designated by the rule, in addition to any notice otherwise required under chapter 120.

(5) After the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ adopts a rule designating the boundaries of, and principles for guiding development in, an area of critical state concern and within 180 days after ~~of~~ such adoption, the local government having jurisdiction may submit to the state land planning agency its existing land development regulations and local comprehensive plan for the area, if any, or shall prepare, adopt, and submit the new or modified regulations and plan, the local government taking into consideration the principles set forth in the rule designating the area.

(8) If any local government fails to submit land development regulations or a local comprehensive plan, or if the regulations or plan or plan amendment submitted do not comply with the principles for guiding development set out in the rule designating the area of critical state concern, within 120 days after the adoption of the rule designating an area of critical state concern, or within 120 days after the issuance of a recommended order on the compliance of the plan or plan amendment pursuant to s. 163.3184, or within 120 days after the effective date of an order rejecting a proposed land development regulation, the state land planning agency shall determine ~~submit to the commission recommended~~ land development regulations and a local comprehensive plan or portions thereof, with or without modification, applicable to that local government's portion of the area of critical state concern. ~~Within 45 days following receipt of the recommendation from the agency, the commission shall either reject the recommendation as tendered or adopt the recommendation with or without modification, and by rule establish land development regulations and a local comprehensive plan applicable to that local government's portion of the area of critical state concern.~~ However, such rule may ~~shall~~ not become effective before ~~prior to~~ legislative review of an area of critical state concern pursuant to paragraph (1)(c). In the rule, the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall specify the extent to which its land development regulations, plans, or plan amendments will supersede, or will be supplementary to, local land development regulations and plans. Notice of any proposed rule issued under this section shall be given to all local governments and regional planning agencies in the area of critical state concern, in addition to any other notice required under chapter 120. The land development regulations and local comprehensive plan adopted by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ under this section may include any type of regulation and plan that could have been adopted by the local government. Any land development regulations or local comprehensive plan or plan amendments adopted by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ under this section shall be administered by the local government as part of, or in the absence of, the local land development regulations and local comprehensive plan.

(9) If, within 12 months after the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ adopts a rule designating an area of critical state concern, land development regulations or local comprehensive plans for the area have not become effective under either subsection (6) or subsection (8), the designation of the area as an area of critical state concern terminates. No part of such area may be recommended for redesignation until at least 12 months after the date the designation terminates pursuant to this subsection. The running of the 12-month period subsequent to the initial designation shall be tolled upon challenge pursuant to the provisions of chapter 120 to either the designation of the area of critical state concern or the adoption of land development regulations and local comprehensive plans under subsection (6) or subsection (8).

(10) At any time after the adoption of land development regulations and plans by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ under this section, a local government may propose land development regulations or a local comprehensive plan which, if approved by the state land planning agency as provided in subsection (6), will supersede any regulations or plans adopted under subsection (8).

(11) Land development regulations or a local comprehensive plan submitted by a local government in an area of critical state concern and approved pursuant to subsection (6) may be amended or rescinded by the local government, but the amendment or rescission becomes effective only upon approval thereof by the state land planning agency. The state land planning agency shall either approve or reject the requested changes within 60 days after ~~of~~ receipt thereof. Land development regulations or local comprehensive plans for an area of critical state concern adopted by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ under subsection (8) may be amended or rescinded by rule by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ in the same manner as for original adoption.

(12) Upon the request of a substantially interested person pursuant to s. 120.54(7), a local government or regional planning agency within the designated area, or the state land planning agency, the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ may by rule remove, contract, or expand any designated boundary. Boundary expansions are subject to legislative review pursuant to paragraph (1)(c). A ~~No~~ boundary may not be modified without a specific finding by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ that such changes are consistent with necessary resource protection. The total boundaries of an entire area of critical state concern may ~~shall~~ not be removed by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ unless a minimum time of 1 year has elapsed from the adoption of regulations and a local comprehensive plan pursuant to subsection (1), subsection (6), subsection (8), or subsection (10). Before totally removing such boundaries, the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall make findings that the regulations and plans adopted pursuant to subsection (1), subsection (6), subsection (8), or subsection (10) are being effectively implemented by local governments within the area of critical state concern to protect the area and that adopted

local government comprehensive plans within the area have been conformed to principles for guiding development for the area.

(15) Any rule adopted pursuant to this section designating the boundaries of an area of critical state concern and the principles for guiding development therein shall be repealed by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ no earlier than 12 months and no later than 3 years after approval by the state land planning agency or adoption by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ of all land development regulations and local comprehensive plans pursuant to subsection (6), subsection (8), or subsection (10), and the implementation of all the actions listed in the designation rule for repeal of the designation. Any repeal pursuant to this subsection may be limited to any portion of the area of critical state concern. The repeal must be contingent upon approval by the state land planning agency of local land development regulations and plans pursuant to subsection (6) or subsection (10) and upon such regulations and plans being effective for a period of 12 months.

(22) All state agencies with rulemaking authority for programs that affect a designated area of critical state concern shall review those programs for consistency with the purpose of the designation and principles for guiding development, and shall adopt specific permitting standards and criteria applicable in the designated area, or otherwise amend the program, as necessary to further the purpose of the designation.

(a)1. Within 6 months after the effective date of the rule or statute that designates an area of critical state concern, and at any time thereafter as directed by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~, the Department of Environmental Protection, the Department of Health, the water management districts with jurisdiction over any portion of the area of critical state concern, and any other state agency specified in the designation rule, shall each submit a report to the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission, and a copy of the report to the state land planning agency~~. The report must ~~shall~~ evaluate the effect of the reporting agency's programs upon the purpose of the designation.

2. If different permitting standards or criteria, or other changes to the program, are necessary in order to further the purpose of the designation, the report must ~~shall~~ recommend rules which further that purpose and which are consistent with the principles for guiding development. The report must ~~shall~~ explain and justify the reasons for any different permitting standards or criteria that may be recommended. The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall reject the agency's recommendation, or accept it with or without modification and direct the agency to adopt rules, including any changes. Any rule adopted pursuant to this paragraph shall be consistent with the principles for guiding development, and shall apply only within the boundary of the designated area. The agency shall file a copy of the adopted rule with the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~ and the state land planning agency.

3. If statutory changes are required in order to implement the permitting standards or criteria that are necessary to further the purpose of the designation, the report must ~~shall~~ recommend statutory amendments. The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~ shall submit any report that recommends statutory amendments to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, together with the Department of Economic Opportunity's ~~Administration Commission's~~ recommendation on the proposed amendments.

(b) The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~ has authority to adopt rules pursuant to ss. 120.536(1) and 120.54 to implement ~~the provisions of~~ this subsection.

(11) ABANDONMENT OF DEVELOPMENTS OF REGIONAL IMPACT.—

(b) If requested by the owner, developer, or local government, the development-of-regional-impact development order must be abandoned by the local government having jurisdiction upon a showing that all required mitigation related to the amount of development which existed on the date of abandonment has been completed or will be completed under an existing permit or equivalent authorization issued by a governmental agency as

380.07 State Land Planning and Areas of Critical State Concern ~~Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~.—

(1) ~~There is hereby created the Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission, which shall consist of the Administration Commission.~~ The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ may adopt rules necessary to ensure compliance with the area of critical state concern program.

The administrative proceeding ~~appeal~~ may proceed with respect to issues within the scope of permitting programs for which a permit or conceptual review approval has been obtained before the issuance of a development order only after the administrative law judge issues an order ~~commission determines by majority vote at a regularly scheduled commission meeting~~ that statewide or regional interests may be adversely affected by the development. In making this determination, there is a rebuttable presumption that statewide and regional interests relating to issues within the scope of the permitting programs for which a permit or conceptual approval has been obtained are not adversely affected.

380.115 Vested rights and duties; changes in statewide guidelines and standards.—A development that has received a development-of-regional-impact development order pursuant to s. 380.06 but is no longer required to undergo development-of-regional-impact review by operation of law may elect to rescind the development order pursuant to the following procedures:

(2) If requested by the developer or landowner, the development-of-regional-impact development order shall be rescinded by the local government having jurisdiction upon a showing that all required mitigation related to the amount of development that existed on the date of rescission has been completed or will be completed under an existing permit or

381.0065 Onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems; regulation.—

(4) PERMITS; INSTALLATION; CONDITIONS.—A person may not construct, repair, modify, abandon, or operate an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system without first obtaining a permit approved by the department. The department may issue permits to carry out this section, except that the issuance of a permit for work seaward of the coastal construction control line established under s. 161.053 shall be contingent upon receipt of any required coastal construction control line permit from the department. A construction permit is valid for 18 months after the date of issuance and may be extended by the department for one 90-day period under rules adopted by the department. A repair permit is valid for 90 days after the date of issuance. An operating permit must be obtained before the use of any aerobic treatment unit or if the establishment generates commercial waste. Buildings or establishments that use an aerobic treatment unit or generate commercial waste shall be inspected by the department at least annually to assure compliance with the terms of the operating permit. The operating permit for a commercial wastewater system is valid for 1 year after the date of issuance and must be renewed annually. The operating permit for an aerobic treatment unit is valid for 2 years after the date of issuance and must be renewed every 2 years. If all information pertaining to the siting, location, and installation conditions or repair of an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system remains the same, a construction or repair permit for the onsite sewage treatment and disposal system may be transferred to another person, if the transferee files, within 60 days after the transfer of ownership, an amended application providing all corrected information and proof of ownership of the property. A fee is not associated with the processing of this supplemental information. A person may not contract to construct, modify, alter, repair, service, abandon, or maintain any portion of an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system without being registered under part III of chapter 489. A property owner who personally performs construction, maintenance, or repairs to a system serving his or her own owner-occupied single-family residence is exempt from registration requirements for performing such construction, maintenance, or repairs on that residence, but is subject to all permitting requirements. A municipality or political subdivision of the state may not issue a building or plumbing permit for any building that requires the use of an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system unless the owner or builder has received a construction permit for such system from the department. A building or structure may not be occupied and a municipality, political subdivision, or any state or federal agency may not authorize occupancy until the department approves the final installation of the onsite sewage treatment and disposal system. A municipality or political subdivision of the state may not approve any change in occupancy or tenancy of a building that uses an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system until the department has reviewed the use of the system with the proposed change, approved the change, and amended the operating permit.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(l) For the Florida Keys, the department shall adopt a special rule for the construction, installation, modification, operation, repair, maintenance, and performance of onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems which considers the unique soil conditions and water table elevations, densities, and setback requirements. On lots where a setback distance of 75 feet from surface waters, saltmarsh, and buttonwood association habitat areas cannot be met, an injection well, approved and permitted by the department, may be used for disposal of effluent from onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems. The following additional requirements apply to onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems in Monroe County:

1. The county, each municipality, and those special districts established for the purpose of the collection, transmission, treatment, or disposal of sewage shall ensure, in accordance with the specific schedules adopted ~~by the Administration Commission~~ under s. 380.0552, the completion of onsite sewage treatment and disposal system upgrades to meet the requirements of this paragraph.

2. Onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems must cease discharge by December 31, 2015, or must comply with department rules and provide the level of treatment which, on a permitted annual average basis, produces an effluent that contains no more than the following concentrations:

a. Biochemical Oxygen Demand (CBOD5) of 10 mg/l.

b. Suspended Solids of 10 mg/l.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

c. Total Nitrogen, expressed as N, of 10 mg/l or a reduction in nitrogen of at least 70 percent. A system that has been tested and certified to reduce nitrogen concentrations by at least 70 percent shall be deemed to be in compliance with this standard.

d. Total Phosphorus, expressed as P, of 1 mg/l.

In addition, onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems discharging to an injection well must provide basic disinfection as defined by department rule.

3. In areas not scheduled to be served by a central sewerage system, onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems must, by December 31, 2015, comply with department rules and provide the level of treatment described in subparagraph 2.

4. In areas scheduled to be served by a central sewerage system by December 31, 2015, if the property owner has paid a connection fee or assessment for connection to the central sewerage system, the property owner may install a holding tank with a high water alarm or an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system that meets the following minimum standards:

a. The existing tanks must be pumped and inspected and certified as being watertight and free of defects in accordance with department rule; and

b. A sand-lined drainfield or injection well in accordance with department rule must be installed.

5. Onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems must be monitored for total nitrogen and total phosphorus concentrations as required by department rule.

6. The department shall enforce proper installation,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL_GOV_22-0226_20-0378A-000786

operation, and maintenance of onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems pursuant to this chapter, including ensuring that the appropriate level of treatment described in subparagraph 2. is met.

7. The authority of a local government, including a special district, to mandate connection of an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system is governed by s. 4, chapter 99-395, Laws of Florida.

8. Notwithstanding any other law, an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system installed after July 1, 2010, in unincorporated Monroe County, excluding special wastewater districts, that complies with the standards in subparagraph 2. is not required to connect to a central sewerage system until December 31, 2020.

Section 76. Paragraph (c) of subsection (2) of section 388.4111, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

388.4111 Public lands; arthropod control.—

(c) If the land management agency and the local arthropod control agency are unable to agree on a public lands control plan, the Florida Coordinating Council on Mosquito Control may recommend a control plan to the department, which shall propose a recommended public lands control plan. If the land management agency and the local arthropod control agency fail to agree to such recommended public lands control plan within 30 days after ~~of~~ the rendering of such plan, either agency may petition the Division of Administrative Hearings ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ to determine whether the proposed control plan employs methods which are the minimum necessary and economically

Section 79. Subsection (11) of section 403.086, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

403.086 Sewage disposal facilities; advanced and secondary waste treatment.—

(11) The Legislature finds that the discharge of inadequately treated and managed domestic wastewater from dozens of small wastewater facilities and thousands of septic tanks and other onsite systems in the Florida Keys compromises the quality of the coastal environment, including nearshore and offshore waters, and threatens the quality of life and local economies that depend on those resources. The Legislature also finds that the only practical and cost-effective way to fundamentally improve wastewater management in the Florida Keys is for the local governments in Monroe County, including those special districts established for the purpose of collection, transmission, treatment, or disposal of sewage, to timely complete the wastewater or sewage treatment and disposal facilities initiated under the work program of the former Administration Commission provided in rule 28-20, Florida Administrative Code, and the Monroe County Sanitary Master Wastewater Plan, dated June 2000. The Legislature therefore declares that the construction and operation of comprehensive central wastewater systems in accordance with this subsection is in the public interest. To give effect to those findings, the requirements of this subsection apply to all domestic wastewater facilities in Monroe County, including privately owned facilities, unless otherwise provided under this subsection.

(a) The discharge of domestic wastewater into surface waters is prohibited.

(b) Monroe County, each municipality, and those special districts established for the purpose of collection, transmission, treatment, or disposal of sewage in Monroe County shall complete the wastewater collection, treatment, and disposal facilities within its jurisdiction designated as hot spots in the Monroe County Sanitary Master Wastewater Plan, dated June 2000, specifically listed in Exhibits 6-1 through 6-3 of Chapter 6 of the plan and mapped in Exhibit F-1 of Appendix F of the plan. Domestic wastewater facilities located outside local government and special district service areas must meet the treatment and disposal requirements of this subsection by December 31, 2015.

(c) After December 31, 2015, all new or expanded domestic wastewater discharges must comply with the treatment and disposal requirements of this subsection and department rules.

(d) Wastewater treatment facilities having design capacities:

1. Greater than or equal to 100,000 gallons per day must provide basic disinfection as defined by department rule and the level of treatment which, on a permitted annual average basis, produces an effluent that contains no more than the following concentrations:

a. Biochemical Oxygen Demand (CBOD5) of 5 mg/l.

b. Suspended Solids of 5 mg/l.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

c. Total Nitrogen, expressed as N, of 3 mg/l.

d. Total Phosphorus, expressed as P, of 1 mg/l.

2. Except as provided in subparagraph 3. for backup wells, if the design capacity of the facility is equal to or greater than 1 million gallons per day, each primary injection well must be cased to a minimum depth of 2,000 feet or to such greater depth as may be required by department rule.

3. If an injection well is used as a backup to a primary injection well, the following conditions apply:

power failure, or the need for mechanical integrity testing or repair;

b. The backup well may not be used for more than a total of 500 hours during any 5-year period unless specifically authorized in writing by the department;

c. The backup well must be at least 90 feet deep and cased to a minimum depth of 60 feet, or to such greater cased depth and total well depth as may be required by department rule; and

d. Fluid injected into the backup well must meet the requirements of paragraph (d).

Wastewater operating permits issued pursuant to this chapter and in effect for these facilities as of June 30, 2010, are extended until December 31, 2015, or until the facility is connected to a local government central wastewater system, whichever occurs first. Wastewater treatment facilities in operation after December 31, 2015, must comply with the treatment and disposal requirements of this subsection and department rules.

(h) If it is demonstrated that a discharge, even if the discharge is otherwise in compliance with this subsection, will cause or contribute to a violation of state water quality standards, the department shall:

1. Require more stringent effluent limitations;

2. Order the point or method of discharge changed;

3. Limit the duration or volume of the discharge; or

4. Prohibit the discharge.

NOTE RE: Draft 01420 from drafting

Gabriel Girado: (12/16/2021 4:27 PM):

Hi Tonya,

Drafted as requested; however I did have some concerns I wanted to point out with the draft:

1. s. 286.101 (lines 2285-2298) was not in the provided materials and based on statute and location the action by the Administration Commission is now performed by DMS.

2. s. 369.305 (lines 2546-2551) has the department (defined in s. 369.303 to be DEO) petitioning itself to confirm the determination.

3. s. 380.045 (lines 2944-2952) has DEO approving via resolution which they cannot do.

4. s. 380.05 (lines 3269-3272) has an agency filing copies of the adopted rule with the state land planning agency and DEO which in this case would be the same entity.

5. s. 403.086 (begins on line 3805) was not in the provided materials and I made minimal changes to conform to the rest of the draft.

6. s. 945.6035 (lines 4063-4069) who should DOAH submit the findings to?

If you have any questions or concerns please do not hesitate to reach out. If you require any changes to the draft please let us know via redraft request.

Thanks,

Gabe

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Legislative purpose.—It is the intent of the Legislature to pursue a state executive structure more aligned with the federal system in order to promote greater accountability and efficiency. When America's founding fathers designed our Federal Government structure, they intentionally chose a system in which there was a unitary executive. The founders very consciously declined to sap the executive's strength by dividing the executive power and instead vested the executive power in one elected individual, believing that an energetic executive is the leading character in the definition of good government. The changes made herein reflect the Legislature's intent to move away from a plural executive structure toward more unitary executive governance that encourages greater accountability in the democratic process and efficiencies in government.

Section 2. Type two transfers from the Executive Office of the Governor.—

(1)(a) All powers, duties, functions, records, offices, personnel, associated administrative support positions, property, pending issues, existing contracts, administrative authority, administrative rules, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds relating to the Administration Commission in the Executive Office of the Governor are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in s. 20.06(2), Florida Statutes, to the Division of Administrative Hearings, the Florida Commission on Human Relations, and the Department of Economic Opportunity, as appropriate.

(b) Any binding contract or interagency agreement existing before October 1, 2022, between the Administration Commission in the Executive Office of the Governor, or an entity or agent of the commission, and any other agency, entity, or person must continue as a binding contract or agreement for the remainder of the term of such contract or agreement on the successor entity responsible for the program, activity, or functions relative to the contract or agreement.

(2) All powers, duties, functions, records, offices, personnel, associated administrative support positions, property, pending issues, existing contracts, administrative authority, administrative rules, and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, and other funds relating to the Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission are transferred by a type two transfer, as defined in s. 20.06(2), Florida

Statutes, to the Department of Environmental Protection, the Department of Economic Opportunity, and the Division of Administrative Hearings, as appropriate.

Section 3. (1) Notwithstanding ss. 216.292 and 216.351, Florida Statutes, upon approval by the Legislative Budget Commission, the Executive Office of the Governor may transfer funds and positions between agencies to implement this act.

(2) The Governor shall submit in a timely manner to the applicable federal departments or agencies any necessary amendments or supplemental information concerning plans that the state is required to submit to the Federal Government in connection with any federal or state program. The Governor shall seek any waivers from the requirements of federal law or rules which may be necessary to administer this act.

(3) The transfer of any program, activity, duty, or function under this act includes the transfer of any records and unexpended balances of appropriations, allocations, or other funds related to such program, activity, duty, or function. Unless otherwise provided, the successor organization to any program, activity, duty, or function transferred under this act shall become the custodian of any property of the organization that was responsible for the program, activity, duty, or function immediately before the transfer.

Section 4. The Legislature recognizes that there is a need to conform the Florida Statutes to the policy decisions reflected in this act and that there is a need to resolve apparent conflicts between any other legislation that has been or may be enacted during the 2022 Regular Session of the Legislature and the transfer of duties made by this act.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL-GOV-22-0226_20-0378A-000821

Agencies must comply with the uniform rules ~~by July 1, 1998~~. The uniform rules must ~~shall~~ establish procedures that comply with the requirements of this chapter. On filing with the department, the uniform rules must ~~shall~~ be the rules of procedure for each agency subject to this chapter unless the division ~~Administration Commission~~ grants an exception to the agency under this subsection.

2. An agency may seek exceptions to the uniform rules of procedure by filing a petition with the division ~~Administration Commission~~. The division ~~Administration Commission~~ shall approve exceptions to the extent necessary to implement other statutes, to the extent necessary to conform to any requirement imposed as a condition precedent to receipt of federal funds or to permit persons in this state to receive tax benefits under federal law, or as required for the most efficient operation of the agency as determined by the division ~~Administration Commission~~. The reasons for the exceptions shall be published in the Florida Administrative Register.

If a public meeting, hearing, or workshop is to be conducted by means of communications media technology, or if attendance may be provided by such means, the notice shall so state. The notice for public meetings, hearings, and workshops utilizing communications media technology must ~~shall~~ state how persons interested in attending may do so and shall name locations, if any, where communications media technology facilities will be available. ~~Nothing in~~ This paragraph may not ~~shall~~ be construed to diminish the right to inspect public records under chapter 119. Limiting points of access to public meetings, hearings, and workshops subject to ~~the provisions of~~ s. 286.011 to places not normally open to the public shall be presumed to violate the right of access of the public, and any official action taken under such circumstances is void and of no effect. Other laws relating to public meetings, hearings, and workshops, including penal and remedial provisions, shall apply to public meetings, hearings, and workshops conducted by means of communications media technology, and shall be liberally construed in their application to such public meetings, hearings, and workshops. f. A statement of the specific rules or statutes that the petitioner contends require reversal or modification of the agency's proposed action, including an explanation of how the alleged facts relate to the specific rules or statutes.

g. A statement of the relief sought by the petitioner, stating precisely the action petitioner wishes the agency to take with respect to the proposed action.

5. Uniform rules for the filing of request for administrative hearing by a respondent in agency enforcement and disciplinary actions. Such rules must ~~shall~~ require a request to include:

c. A reference by file number to the administrative complaint that the party has received from the agency and the date on which the agency pleading was received.

The agency may provide an election-of-rights form for the respondent's use in requesting a hearing, so long as any form provided by the agency calls for the information in sub-subparagraphs a. through c. and does not impose any additional requirements on a respondent in order to request a hearing, unless such requirements are specifically authorized by law.

6. Uniform rules of procedure for the filing and prompt disposition of petitions for declaratory statements. The rules shall also describe the contents of the notices that must be published in the Florida Administrative Register under s. 120.565, including any applicable time limit for the filing of petitions to intervene or petitions for administrative hearing by persons whose substantial interests may be affected.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

benefits or federal funds under any federal law; or

(c) When the Department of Management Services ~~commission~~ has found that conformity with the requirements of the part or parts of this act for which exemption is sought would be so inconvenient or impractical as to defeat the purpose of the agency proceeding involved or the purpose of this act and would not be in the public interest in light of the nature of the intended action and the enabling act or other laws affecting the agency.

(2) The Department of Management Services ~~commission~~ may not exempt an agency from any requirement of this act pursuant to this section until it establishes alternative procedures to achieve the agency's purpose which are ~~shall be~~ consistent, insofar as possible, with the intent and purpose of the act.

(a) Before ~~Prior to~~ the granting of any exemption authorized by this section, the Department of Management Services ~~commission~~ shall hold a public hearing after notice given as provided in s. 120.525. Upon the conclusion of the hearing, the department ~~commission, through the Executive Office of the Governor,~~ shall issue an order specifically granting or denying the exemption and specifying any processes or proceedings exempted and the extent of the exemption; transmit to the committee and to the Department of State a copy of the petition, a certified copy of the order granting or denying the petition, and a copy of any alternative procedures prescribed; and give notice of the petition and the Department of Management Services' ~~commission's~~ response in the Florida Administrative Register.

(b) An exemption and any alternative procedure prescribed

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The exemption granted by the Department of Management Services ~~commission~~ shall be renewable upon the same or similar facts not more than once. The coastal building zone on coastal barrier islands shall be the land area from the seasonal high-water line to a line 5,000 feet landward from the coastal construction control line established pursuant to s. 161.053, or the entire island, whichever is less. For coastal barrier islands on which a coastal construction control line has not been established pursuant to s. 161.053, the coastal building zone shall be the land area seaward of the most landward velocity zone (V-zone) boundary line fronting upon the Gulf of Mexico, Atlantic Ocean, Florida Bay, or Straits of Florida. All land area in the Florida Keys located within Monroe County shall be included in the coastal building zone. The coastal building zone on any coastal barrier island between Sebastian Inlet and Fort Pierce Inlet may be reduced in size upon approval of the department ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~, if it determines that the local government with jurisdiction has provided adequate protection for the barrier island. In no case, however, shall the coastal building zone be reduced to an area less than a line 2,500 feet landward of the coastal construction control line. The department must ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission shall~~ withdraw its approval for a reduced coastal building zone if it determines that 6 months after a local government comprehensive plan is due for submission to the state land planning agency pursuant to s. 163.3167 the local government with jurisdiction has not adopted a coastal management element which is in compliance with s. 163.3178.

Section 28. Subsections (2) and (45) of section 163.3164, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

163.3164 Community Planning Act; definitions.—As used in this act:

~~(2) "Administration Commission" means the Governor and the Cabinet, and for purposes of this chapter the commission shall act on a simple majority vote, except that for purposes of imposing the sanctions provided in s. 163.3184(8), affirmative action shall require the approval of the Governor and at least three other members of the commission.~~

(44)~~(45)~~ "Structure" has the same meaning as in s. 380.031(18) ~~s. 380.031(19)~~.

Section 29. Paragraph (f) of subsection (1) and paragraph (a) of subsection (6) of section 163.3177, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

163.3177 Required and optional elements of comprehensive plan; studies and surveys.—

(1) The comprehensive plan shall provide the principles, guidelines, standards, and strategies for the orderly and balanced future economic, social, physical, environmental, and fiscal development of the area that reflects community commitments to implement the plan and its elements. These principles and strategies shall guide future decisions in a consistent manner and shall contain programs and activities to ensure comprehensive plans are implemented. The sections of the comprehensive plan containing the principles and strategies, generally provided as goals, objectives, and policies, shall describe how the local government's programs, activities, and land development regulations will be initiated, modified, or continued to implement the comprehensive plan in a consistent manner. It is not the intent of this part to require the inclusion of implementing regulations in the comprehensive plan but rather to require identification of those programs, activities, and land development regulations that will be part of the strategy for implementing the comprehensive plan and the principles that describe how the programs, activities, and land development regulations will be carried out. The plan shall establish meaningful and predictable standards for the use and development of land and provide meaningful guidelines for the content of more detailed land development and use regulations.

(f) All mandatory and optional elements of the comprehensive plan and plan amendments shall be based upon relevant and appropriate data and an analysis by the local government that may include, but not be limited to, surveys, studies, community goals and vision, and other data available at the time of adoption of the comprehensive plan or plan amendment. To be based on data means to react to it in an appropriate way and to the extent necessary indicated by the data available on that particular subject at the time of adoption of the plan or plan amendment at issue.

1. Surveys, studies, and data utilized in the preparation of the comprehensive plan may not be deemed a part of the comprehensive plan unless adopted as a part of it. Copies of such studies, surveys, data, and supporting documents for proposed plans and plan amendments shall be made available for public inspection, and copies of such plans shall be made available to the public upon payment of reasonable charges for reproduction. Support data or summaries are not subject to the compliance review process, but the comprehensive plan must be clearly based on appropriate data. Support data or summaries may be used to aid in the determination of compliance and consistency.

2. Data must be taken from professionally accepted sources. The application of a methodology utilized in data collection or whether a particular methodology is professionally accepted may be evaluated. However, the evaluation may not include whether one accepted methodology is better than another. Original data collection by local governments is not required. However, local governments may use original data so long as methodologies are professionally accepted.

3. The comprehensive plan shall be based upon permanent and seasonal population estimates and projections, which shall either be those published by the Office of Economic and Demographic Research or generated by the local government based upon a professionally acceptable methodology. The plan must be based on at least the minimum amount of land required to accommodate the medium projections as published by the Office of Economic and Demographic Research for at least a 10-year planning period unless otherwise limited under s. 380.05~~,~~ ~~including related rules of the Administration Commission~~. Absent physical limitations on population growth, population projections for each municipality, and the unincorporated area within a county must, at a minimum, be reflective of each area's proportional share of the total county population and the total county population growth.

(6) In addition to the requirements of subsections (1)-(5), the comprehensive plan shall include the following elements:

(a) A future land use plan element designating proposed future general distribution, location, and extent of the uses of land for residential uses, commercial uses, industry, agriculture, recreation, conservation, education, public facilities, and other categories of the public and private uses of land. The approximate acreage and the general range of density or intensity of use shall be provided for the gross land area included in each existing land use category. The element shall establish the long-term end toward which land use programs and activities are ultimately directed.

1. Each future land use category must be defined in terms of uses included, and must include standards to be followed in the control and distribution of population densities and building and structure intensities. The proposed distribution, location, and extent of the various categories of land use shall be shown on a land use map or map series which shall be supplemented by goals, policies, and measurable objectives.

2. The future land use plan and plan amendments shall be based upon surveys, studies, and data regarding the area, as applicable, including:

a. The amount of land required to accommodate anticipated growth.

b. The projected permanent and seasonal population of the area.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL-GOV-22-0226_20-0378A-000849

c. The character of undeveloped land.

d. The availability of water supplies, public facilities, and services.

e. The need for redevelopment, including the renewal of blighted areas and the elimination of nonconforming uses which are inconsistent with the character of the community.

f. The compatibility of uses on lands adjacent to or closely proximate to military installations.

g. The compatibility of uses on lands adjacent to an airport as defined in s. 330.35 and consistent with s. 333.02.

h. The discouragement of urban sprawl.

i. The need for job creation, capital investment, and economic development that will strengthen and diversify the community's economy.

j. The need to modify land uses and development patterns within antiquated subdivisions.

3. The future land use plan element shall include criteria to be used to:

a. Achieve the compatibility of lands adjacent or closely proximate to military installations, considering factors identified in s. 163.3175(5).

b. Achieve the compatibility of lands adjacent to an airport as defined in s. 330.35 and consistent with s. 333.02.

c. Encourage preservation of recreational and commercial working waterfronts for water-dependent uses in coastal communities.

d. Encourage the location of schools proximate to urban residential areas to the extent possible.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL GOV 22-0226, 20-0378A-000850

e. Coordinate future land uses with the topography and soil conditions, and the availability of facilities and services.

f. Ensure the protection of natural and historic resources.

g. Provide for the compatibility of adjacent land uses.

h. Provide guidelines for the implementation of mixed-use development including the types of uses allowed, the percentage distribution among the mix of uses, or other standards, and the density and intensity of each use.

4. The amount of land designated for future planned uses shall provide a balance of uses that foster vibrant, viable communities and economic development opportunities and address outdated development patterns, such as antiquated subdivisions. The amount of land designated for future land uses should allow the operation of real estate markets to provide adequate choices for permanent and seasonal residents and business and may not be limited solely by the projected population. The element shall accommodate at least the minimum amount of land required to accommodate the medium projections as published by the Office of Economic and Demographic Research for at least a 10-year planning period unless otherwise limited under s. 380.05~~, including related rules of the Administration Commission~~.

5. The future land use plan of a county may designate areas for possible future municipal incorporation.

6. The land use maps or map series shall generally identify and depict historic district boundaries and shall designate historically significant properties meriting protection.

7. The future land use element must clearly identify the land use categories in which public schools are an allowable use. When delineating the land use categories in which public schools are an allowable use, a local government shall include in the categories sufficient land proximate to residential development to meet the projected needs for schools in coordination with public school boards and may establish differing criteria for schools of different type or size. Each local government shall include lands contiguous to existing school sites, to the maximum extent possible, within the land use categories in which public schools are an allowable use.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

8. Future land use map amendments shall be based upon the following analyses:

a. An analysis of the availability of facilities and services.

b. An analysis of the suitability of the plan amendment for its proposed use considering the character of the undeveloped land, soils, topography, natural resources, and historic resources on site.

c. An analysis of the minimum amount of land needed to achieve the goals and requirements of this section.

9. The future land use element and any amendment to the future land use element shall discourage the proliferation of urban sprawl.

a. The primary indicators that a plan or plan amendment does not discourage the proliferation of urban sprawl are listed below. The evaluation of the presence of these indicators shall consist of an analysis of the plan or plan amendment within the context of features and characteristics unique to each locality in order to determine whether the plan or plan amendment:

(I) Promotes, allows, or designates for development substantial areas of the jurisdiction to develop as low-intensity, low-density, or single-use development or uses.

(II) Promotes, allows, or designates significant amounts of urban development to occur in rural areas at substantial distances from existing urban areas while not using undeveloped lands that are available and suitable for development.

(III) Promotes, allows, or designates urban development in radial, strip, isolated, or ribbon patterns generally emanating from existing urban developments.

(IV) Fails to adequately protect and conserve natural resources, such as wetlands, floodplains, native vegetation, environmentally sensitive areas, natural groundwater aquifer recharge areas, lakes, rivers, shorelines, beaches, bays, estuarine systems, and other significant natural systems.

(V) Fails to adequately protect adjacent agricultural areas and activities, including silviculture, active agricultural and silvicultural activities, passive agricultural activities, and dormant, unique, and prime farmlands and soils.

(VI) Fails to maximize use of existing public facilities and services.

(VII) Fails to maximize use of future public facilities and services.

(VIII) Allows for land use patterns or timing which disproportionately increase the cost in time, money, and energy of providing and maintaining facilities and services, including roads, potable water, sanitary sewer, stormwater management, law enforcement, education, health care, fire and emergency response, and general government.

(IX) Fails to provide a clear separation between rural and urban uses.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL_GOV_22-0226_20-0378A-000853

(X) Discourages or inhibits infill development or the redevelopment of existing neighborhoods and communities.

(XI) Fails to encourage a functional mix of uses.

(XII) Results in poor accessibility among linked or related land uses.

(XIII) Results in the loss of significant amounts of functional open space.

b. The future land use element or plan amendment shall be determined to discourage the proliferation of urban sprawl if it incorporates a development pattern or urban form that achieves four or more of the following:

(I) Directs or locates economic growth and associated land development to geographic areas of the community in a manner that does not have an adverse impact on and protects natural resources and ecosystems.

(II) Promotes the efficient and cost-effective provision or extension of public infrastructure and services.

(III) Promotes walkable and connected communities and provides for compact development and a mix of uses at densities and intensities that will support a range of housing choices and a multimodal transportation system, including pedestrian, bicycle, and transit, if available.

(IV) Promotes conservation of water and energy.

(V) Preserves agricultural areas and activities, including silviculture, and dormant, unique, and prime farmlands and soils.

(VI) Preserves open space and natural lands and provides for public open space and recreation needs.

(VII) Creates a balance of land uses based upon demands of the residential population for the nonresidential needs of an area.

(VIII) Provides uses, densities, and intensities of use and urban form that would remediate an existing or planned development pattern in the vicinity that constitutes sprawl or if it provides for an innovative development pattern such as transit-oriented developments or new towns as defined in s. 163.3164.

10. The future land use element shall include a future land use map or map series.

a. The proposed distribution, extent, and location of the following uses shall be shown on the future land use map or map series:

(I) Residential.

(II) Commercial.

(III) Industrial.

(IV) Agricultural.

(V) Recreational.

(VI) Conservation.

(VII) Educational.

(VIII) Public.

b. The following areas shall also be shown on the future land use map or map series, if applicable:

(I) Historic district boundaries and designated historically significant properties.

(II) Transportation concurrency management area boundaries or transportation concurrency exception area boundaries.

Any local government comprehensive plan amendments directly related to the requirements of this subsection and subsections (1), (2), and (3) may be initiated by a local planning agency and considered by the local governing body without regard to statutory or local ordinance limitations on the frequency of consideration of amendments to local comprehensive plans.

Section 58. Section 373.114, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.114 ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission;~~ Review of district rules and orders; department review of district rules.—

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2), the department has ~~Governor and Cabinet, sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission, have~~ the exclusive authority to review any order or rule of a water management district, other than a rule relating to an internal procedure of the district or a final order resulting from an evidentiary hearing held under s. 120.569 or s. 120.57 or a rule that has been adopted after issuance of a final order resulting from an evidentiary hearing held under s. 120.56, to ensure consistency with the provisions and purposes of this chapter. Subsequent to the legislative ratification of the delineation methodology pursuant to s. 373.421(1), this subsection also shall apply to an order of ~~the department, or~~ a local government exercising delegated authority, pursuant to ss. 373.403-373.443, except an order pertaining to activities or operations subject to conceptual plan approval pursuant to chapter 378 or a final order resulting from an evidentiary hearing held under s. 120.569 or s. 120.57.

(a) Such review may be initiated by the department or by a party to the proceeding below by filing a request for review with the department ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ and serving a copy on ~~the department and on~~ any person named in the rule or order within 20 days after adoption of the rule or the rendering of the order. For the purposes of this section, the term "party" means any affected person who submitted oral or written testimony, sworn or unsworn, of a substantive nature which stated with particularity objections to or support for the rule or order that are cognizable within the scope of the provisions and purposes of this chapter. In order for the department ~~commission~~ to accept a request for review initiated by a party below, with regard to a specific order, the department ~~three members of the commission~~ must determine on the basis of the record below that the activity authorized by the order would substantially affect natural resources of statewide or regional significance. Review of an order may also be accepted if the department determines ~~three members of the commission determine~~ that the order raises issues of policy, statutory interpretation, or rule interpretation that have regional or statewide significance from the standpoint of agency precedent. The party requesting the department ~~commission~~ to review an order must allege with particularity, and the department ~~commission~~ must find, that:

1. The order is in conflict with statutory requirements; or

2. The order is in conflict with the requirements of a duly adopted rule.

(b) Review by the department ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ is appellate in nature and shall be based solely on the record below unless the department ~~commission~~ determines that a remand for a formal evidentiary proceeding is necessary to develop additional findings of fact. If there is no evidentiary administrative proceeding resulting from a remand or referral for findings of fact by the department ~~commission~~, then the facts contained in the proposed agency action or proposed water management district action, including any technical staff report, shall be deemed undisputed. The matter shall be heard by the department ~~commission~~ not more than 60 days after receipt of the request for review, unless waived by the parties; provided, however, such time limit shall be tolled by a referral or remand pursuant to this paragraph. The department ~~commission~~ may refer a request for review to the Division of Administrative Hearings for the production of findings of fact, limited to those needed to render the decision requested, to supplement the record, if the department ~~a majority of the commission~~ determines that supplementary findings of fact are essential to determine the consistency of a rule or order with the provisions and purposes of this chapter. Alternatively, the department ~~commission~~ may remand the matter to the agency below for additional findings of fact, limited to those needed to render the decision requested, to supplement the record, if the department ~~a majority of the commission~~ determines that supplementary findings of fact are essential to determine the consistency of a rule or order with the provisions and purposes of this chapter. Such proceedings must be conducted and the findings transmitted to the department ~~commission~~ within 90 days after ~~of~~ the remand or referral.

(c) If the department ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ determines that a rule of a water management district is not consistent with the provisions and purposes of this chapter, it may require the water management district to initiate rulemaking proceedings to amend or repeal the rule. If the department ~~commission~~ determines that an order is not consistent with the provisions and purposes of this chapter, the department ~~commission~~ may rescind or modify the order or remand the proceeding for further action consistent with the order of the department ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ only if the department ~~commission~~ determines that the activity authorized by the order would substantially affect natural resources of statewide or regional significance. In the case of an order which does not itself substantially affect natural resources of statewide or regional significance, but which raises issues of policy that have regional or statewide significance from the standpoint of agency precedent, the department ~~commission~~ may direct the district to initiate rulemaking to amend its rules to assure that future actions are consistent with the provisions and purposes of this chapter without modifying the order.

(d) In a review under this section of a construction permit issued pursuant to a conceptual permit under part IV, which conceptual permit is issued after July 1, 1993, a party to the review may not raise an issue which was or could have been raised in a review of the conceptual permit under this section.

(e) A request for review under this section may ~~shall~~ not be a precondition to the seeking of judicial review pursuant to s. 120.68 or the seeking of an administrative determination of rule validity pursuant to s. 120.56.

(f) The department ~~Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ may adopt rules to set forth its procedures for reviewing an order or rule of a water management district consistent with ~~the provisions of~~ this section.

(g) For the purpose of this section, it shall be presumed that activity authorized by an order will not affect resources of statewide or regional significance if the proposed activity:

1. Occupies an area less than 10 acres in size, and

2. Does not create impervious surfaces greater than 2 acres in size, and

3. Is not located within 550 feet of the shoreline of a named body of water designated as Outstanding Florida Waters, and

4. Does not adversely affect threatened or endangered species.

This paragraph may ~~shall~~ not operate to hold that any activity

that exceeds these limits is presumed to affect resources of statewide or regional significance. The determination of whether an activity will substantially affect resources of statewide or regional significance shall be made on a case-by-case basis, based upon facts contained in the record below.

(2) The department shall have the exclusive authority to review rules of the water management districts, other than rules relating to internal management of the districts, to ensure consistency with the water resource implementation rule as set forth in the rules of the department. Within 30 days after adoption or revision of any water management district rule, the department shall initiate a review of such rule pursuant to this section.

(a) Within 30 days after adoption of a rule, any affected person may request that a hearing be held before the secretary of the department, at which hearing evidence and argument may be presented relating to the consistency of the rule with the water resource implementation rule, by filing a request for hearing with the department and serving a copy on the water management district.

(b) If the department determines that the rule is inconsistent with the water resource implementation rule, it may order the water management district to initiate rulemaking proceedings to amend or repeal the rule.

(c) An order of the department requiring amendment or repeal of a rule may be appealed pursuant to s. 120.68 ~~to the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ by the water management district or any other party to the proceeding before the secretary.

Section 59. Paragraph (c) of subsection (3) of section 373.139, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.139 Acquisition of real property.—

(3) The initial 5-year work plan and any subsequent modifications or additions thereto shall be adopted by each water management district after a public hearing. Each water management district shall provide at least 14 days' advance notice of the hearing date and shall separately notify each county commission within which a proposed work plan project or project modification or addition is located of the hearing date.

(c) The Secretary of Environmental Protection shall release acquisition moneys from the appropriate account or trust fund to a district following receipt of a resolution adopted by the governing board identifying the lands being acquired and certifying that such acquisition is consistent with the 5-year work plan of acquisition and other provisions of this section. The governing board also shall provide to the Secretary of Environmental Protection a copy of all certified appraisals used to determine the value of the land to be purchased. Each parcel to be acquired must have at least one appraisal. Two appraisals are required when the estimated value of the parcel exceeds $1 million. However, when both appraisals exceed $1 million and differ significantly, a third appraisal may be obtained. If the purchase price is greater than the appraisal price, the governing board shall submit written justification for the increased price. The Secretary of Environmental Protection may withhold moneys for any purchase that is not consistent with the 5-year plan or the intent of this section or that is in excess of appraised value. The governing board may appeal any denial to the Division of Administrative Hearings ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission pursuant to s. 373.114~~.

Section 60. Subsection (1) of section 373.217, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.217 Superseded laws and regulations.—

(1) It is the intent of the Legislature to provide a means whereby reasonable programs for the issuance of permits authorizing the consumptive use of particular quantities of water may be authorized by the Department of Environmental Protection, subject to judicial review and also subject to review ~~by the Governor and Cabinet, sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ as provided in s. 373.114.

Section 61. Subsections (11) and (13) of section 373.2295, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

373.2295 Interdistrict transfers of groundwater.—

(11) If, after the final order of the department or final agency action under this section, the proposed use of the site designated in the application for groundwater production, treatment, or transmission facilities does not conform with the existing zoning ordinances, a rezoning application may be submitted. If local authorities deny the application for rezoning, the applicant may appeal this decision to the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~, which shall authorize a variance or nonconforming use to the existing comprehensive plan and zoning ordinances, unless the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ determines after notice and hearing that such variance or nonconforming use is contrary to the public interest.

(13) When a consumptive use permit under this section is granted for water use beyond the boundaries of a local government from which or through which the groundwater is withdrawn or transferred and a local government denies a permit required under chapter 125 or chapter 153 for a facility or any infrastructure which produces, treats, transmits, or distributes such groundwater, the person or unit of government applying for the permit under chapter 125 or chapter 153 may appeal the denial to the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~. The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall review the local government action for consistency with this chapter and the interdistrict groundwater transfer permit and may reverse, modify, or approve the local government's action.

Section 62. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 373.4275, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.4275 Review of consolidated orders.—

(1) Beginning on the effective date of the rules adopted under s. 373.427(1), review of any consolidated order rendered pursuant to s. 373.427(1) shall be governed by the provisions of s. 373.114(1). However, the term "party" shall mean any person who participated as a party in a proceeding under ss. 120.569 and 120.57 on the concurrently reviewed authorizations, permits, waivers, variances, or approvals, or any affected person who submitted to the department, water management district, or board of trustees oral or written testimony, sworn or unsworn, of a substantive nature which stated with particularity objections to or support for the authorization, permit, waiver, variance, or approval, provided that such testimony was cognizable within the scope of this chapter or the applicable provisions of chapter

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

161, chapter 253, or chapter 258 when the consolidated notice of intent includes an authorization, permit, waiver, variance, or approval under those chapters. In such cases, the standard of review shall also ensure consistency with the applicable provisions and purposes of chapter 161, chapter 253, or chapter 258 when the consolidated order includes an authorization, permit, waiver, variance, or approval under those chapters. If the consolidated order subject to review includes approval or denial of proprietary authorization to use submerged lands on which the board of trustees has previously acted, as described in s. 373.427(2), the scope of review under this section shall not encompass such proprietary decision, but the standard of review shall also ensure consistency with the applicable provisions and purposes of chapter 161 when the consolidated order includes a permit, waiver, or approval under that chapter.

(b) If a consolidated order includes proprietary authorization under chapter 253 or chapter 258 to use submerged lands owned by the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund for an activity for which the authority has been delegated to take final agency action without action of the board of trustees, the following additional provisions and exceptions to s. 373.114(1) apply:

1. The Governor and Cabinet shall sit ~~concurrently~~ as ~~the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission and~~ the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund in exercising the exclusive authority to review the order;

2. The review may also be initiated by the Governor or any member of the Cabinet within 20 days after the rendering of the order in which case the other provisions of s. 373.114(1)(a)

regarding acceptance of a request for review do not apply; and

3. If the Governor and Cabinet find that an authorization to use submerged lands is not consistent with chapter 253 or chapter 258, any authorization, permit, waiver, or approval authorized or granted by the consolidated order must be rescinded or modified or the proceeding must be remanded for further action consistent with the order issued under this section.

Section 63. Subsection (6) of section 373.703, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.703 Water production; general powers and duties.—In the performance of, and in conjunction with, its other powers and duties, the governing board of a water management district existing pursuant to this chapter:

(6) May provide water and financial assistance to regional water supply authorities, but may not provide water to counties and municipalities which are located within the area of such authority without the specific approval of the authority or, in the event of the authority's disapproval, the approval of the Governor and Cabinet ~~sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~. The district may supply water at rates and upon terms mutually agreed to by the parties or, if they do not agree, as set by the governing board and specifically approved by the department ~~Governor and Cabinet sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~.

Section 64. Paragraph (c) of subsection (1) of section 377.2425, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

377.2425 Manner of providing security for geophysical exploration, drilling, and production.—

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(1) Prior to granting a permit to conduct geophysical operations; drilling of exploratory, injection, or production wells; producing oil and gas from a wellhead; or transporting oil and gas through a field-gathering system, the department shall require the applicant or operator to provide surety that these operations will be conducted in a safe and environmentally compatible manner.

(c) An applicant for a drilling or operating permit for operations planned in coastal waters that by their nature warrant greater surety shall provide surety only in accordance with paragraph (a), or similar proof of financial responsibility other than as provided in paragraph (b). For all such applications, including applications pending at the effective date of this act and notwithstanding ~~the provisions of~~ paragraph (b), ~~the Governor and Cabinet in their capacity as the Administration Commission, at the recommendation of~~ the Department of Environmental Protection~~,~~ shall set a reasonable amount of surety required under this subsection. The surety amount shall be based on the projected cleanup costs and natural resources damages resulting from a maximum oil spill and adverse hydrographic and atmospheric conditions that would tend to transport the oil into environmentally sensitive areas, as determined by the Department of Environmental Protection.

Section 65. Subsection (1) of section 380.031, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

380.031 Definitions.—As used in this chapter:

~~(1) "Administration commission" or "commission" means the Governor and the Cabinet; and for purposes of this chapter the commission shall act on a simple majority.~~

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Section 66. Paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of section 380.032, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

380.032 State land planning agency; powers and duties.—The state land planning agency shall have the power and the duty to:

(b) Within 20 days following adoption, any substantially affected party may initiate review of any rule adopted by the state land planning agency interpreting the guidelines and standards by filing a request for review with the Division of Administrative Hearings ~~Administration Commission~~ and serving a copy on the state land planning agency. Filing a request for review shall stay the effectiveness of the rule pending a decision by the Division of Administrative Hearings ~~Administration Commission~~. Within 45 days following receipt of a request for review, the Division of Administrative Hearings ~~commission~~ shall either reject the rule or approve the rule, with or without modification.

Section 67. Subsections (3), (4), and (5) of section 380.045, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

380.045 Resource planning and management committees; objectives; procedures.—

(3) Not later than 12 months after its appointment by the Governor, the committee shall either adopt a proposed voluntary resource planning and management program for the area under study or recommend that a voluntary resource planning and management program not be adopted. The proposed voluntary resource planning and management program shall contain the committee findings with respect to problems that endanger those resources, facilities, and areas described in s. 380.05(2) and shall contain detailed recommendations for state, regional, and local governmental actions necessary to resolve current and prevent future problems identified by the committee. A major objective of the proposed voluntary resource planning and management program shall be the effective coordination of state, regional, and local planning; program implementation; and regulatory activities for comprehensive resource management. The committee shall submit the proposed voluntary resource planning and management program to the head of the state land planning agency at the Department of Economic Opportunity~~, who shall transmit the program along with the recommendations of the agency for monitoring and enforcing the program, as well as any other recommendations deemed appropriate, to the Administration Commission~~.

(4) The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~ shall by resolution approve, approve as modified, or reject the proposed voluntary resource planning and management program and state land planning agency recommendations; and the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~ shall request each state or regional agency that is responsible for implementing a portion of an approved program to conduct its programs and regulatory activities in a manner consistent with the approved program. Each state and regional agency involved in implementing the program shall cooperate to the maximum extent possible in ensuring that the program is given full effect.

(5) The state land planning agency shall monitor ~~report to the Administration Commission within 12 months of the approval of the program by the commission concerning~~ the implementation and the effects of the approved voluntary resource planning and management program, which. ~~The report~~ shall include, but is ~~shall~~ not ~~be~~ limited to:

(a) An assessment of state agency compliance with the program, including the degree to which the program recommendations have been integrated into agency planning, program implementation, regulatory activities, and rules;

(b) An assessment of the compliance by each affected local government with the program;

(c) An evaluation of state, regional, and local monitoring and enforcement activities and recommendations for improving such activities; and

(d) A determination ~~recommendation~~ as to whether ~~or not~~ all or any portion of the study area should be designated an area of critical state concern pursuant to s. 380.05.

The state land planning agency may engage in additional monitoring ~~make such other reports to the commission~~ as it deems necessary, including determining ~~recommending~~ that all or any portion of the study area be designated an area of critical state concern because of special circumstances in the study area or in the implementation of the approved voluntary resource planning and management program.

Section 68. Subsections (1), (3), (4), (5), (8) through (12), (15), and (22) of section 380.05, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

380.05 Areas of critical state concern.—

(1)(a) The state land planning agency may from time to time determine ~~recommend to the Administration Commission~~ specific areas of critical state concern. In its determination

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

~~recommendation~~, the agency shall include recommendations and findings with respect to the purchase of lands situated within the boundaries of the proposed area as environmentally endangered lands and outdoor recreation lands under the Land Conservation Program. The agency also shall include any report or recommendation of a resource planning and management committee appointed pursuant to s. 380.045; the dangers that would result from uncontrolled or inadequate development of the area and the advantages that would be achieved from the development of the area in a coordinated manner; a detailed boundary description of the proposed area; specific principles for guiding development within the area; an inventory of lands owned by the state, federal, county, and municipal governments within the proposed area; and a list of the state agencies with programs that affect the purpose of the designation. The agency shall recommend actions which the local government and state and regional agencies must accomplish in order to implement the principles for guiding development. These actions may include, but need not be limited to, revisions of the local comprehensive plan and adoption of land development regulations, density requirements, and special permitting requirements.

(b) Within 45 days following completion of its determination ~~receipt of a recommendation from the agency~~, the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall either reject the determination ~~recommendation~~ as tendered or adopt the determination ~~recommendation~~ with or without modification and by rule designate the area of critical state concern. Any rule that designates an area of critical state concern must include:

1. A detailed boundary description of the area.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

2. Principles for guiding development.

3. A clear statement of the purpose for the designation.

4. A precise checklist of actions which, when implemented, will result in repeal of the designation by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~, and the agencies or entities responsible for taking those actions.

5. A list of those issues or programs for which mechanisms must be in place to assure ongoing implementation of the actions taken to result in repeal of the designation.

6. A list of the state agencies which, in addition to those specified in subsection (22), administer programs that affect the purpose of the designation.

The rule shall become effective 20 days after being filed with the Secretary of State, except that an emergency rule adopted by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ and designating an area of critical state concern shall become effective immediately on being filed. Any rule adopted pursuant to this paragraph shall be presented to the Legislature for review pursuant to paragraph (c). A statement of estimated regulatory costs prepared pursuant to s. 120.541 may ~~shall~~ not be a ground for a challenge of the rule; however, a landowner may ~~shall~~ not be precluded from using adverse economic results as grounds for challenge. Such principles for guiding development shall apply to any development undertaken subsequent to the legislative review pursuant to paragraph (c) of the designation of the area of critical state concern with or without modification but before ~~prior to~~ the adoption of land development rules and regulations or a local comprehensive plan for the critical area pursuant to subsections (6) and (8). ~~No~~ Boundaries or principles for guiding development may not ~~shall~~ be adopted without a specific finding by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ that the boundaries or principles are consistent with the purpose of the designation. The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ is not authorized to adopt any rule that would provide for a moratorium on development in any area of critical state concern.

(c) A rule adopted by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ pursuant to paragraph (b) designating an area of critical state concern and principles for guiding development shall be submitted to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives for review no later than 30 days before ~~prior to~~ the next regular session of the Legislature. The Legislature may reject, modify, or take no action relative to the adopted rule. In its deliberations, the Legislature may consider, among other factors, whether a resource planning and management committee has established a program pursuant to s. 380.045. In addition to any other data and information required pursuant to this chapter, each rule presented to the Legislature shall include a detailed legal description of the boundary of the area of critical state concern, proposed principles for guiding development, and a detailed statement of how the area meets the criteria for designation as provided in subsection (2).

(d) If, after the repeal of the boundary designation of an area of critical state concern pursuant to subsection (15), the state land planning agency determines that the administration of the local land development regulations or a local comprehensive plan within a formerly designated area is inadequate to protect the former area of critical state concern, then the state land planning agency may redesignate it ~~recommend to the commission that the area be redesignated~~ as an area of critical state concern. ~~Within 45 days following the receipt of the recommendation from the agency, the commission shall either reject the recommendation as tendered or adopt the same with or without modification.~~ The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ may, by rule, make such redesignation effective immediately, at which time the boundaries, regulations, and plans in effect at the time the previous designation was repealed shall be reinstated. Within 90 days after ~~of~~ such redesignation, the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall begin rulemaking procedures to designate the area an area of critical state concern under paragraph (b).

(3) Each regional planning agency may recommend to the state land planning agency from time to time areas wholly or partially within its jurisdiction that meet the criteria for areas of critical state concern as defined in this section. Each regional planning agency shall solicit from the local governments within its jurisdiction suggestions as to areas to be recommended. A local government in an area where there is no regional planning agency may recommend to the state land planning agency from time to time areas wholly or partially within its jurisdiction that meet the criteria for areas of critical state concern as defined in this section. If the state land planning agency does not recommend to the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ as an area of critical state concern an area substantially similar to one that has been recommended, it must ~~shall~~ respond in writing as to its reasons therefor.

(4) Before making a determination ~~Prior to submitting any recommendation to the commission~~ under subsection (1), the state land planning agency shall give notice to any committee appointed pursuant to s. 380.045 and to all local governments and regional planning agencies that include within their boundaries any part of any area of critical state concern proposed to be designated by the rule, in addition to any notice otherwise required under chapter 120.

(5) After the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ adopts a rule designating the boundaries of, and principles for guiding development in, an area of critical state concern and within 180 days after ~~of~~ such adoption, the local government having jurisdiction may submit to the state land planning agency its existing land development regulations and local comprehensive plan for the area, if any, or shall prepare, adopt, and submit the new or modified regulations and plan, the local government taking into consideration the principles set forth in the rule designating the area.

(8) If any local government fails to submit land development regulations or a local comprehensive plan, or if the regulations or plan or plan amendment submitted do not comply with the principles for guiding development set out in the rule designating the area of critical state concern, within 120 days after the adoption of the rule designating an area of critical state concern, or within 120 days after the issuance of a recommended order on the compliance of the plan or plan amendment pursuant to s. 163.3184, or within 120 days after the effective date of an order rejecting a proposed land development regulation, the state land planning agency shall determine ~~submit to the commission recommended~~ land development regulations and a local comprehensive plan or portions thereof, with or without modification, applicable to that local government's portion of the area of critical state concern. ~~Within 45 days following receipt of the recommendation from the agency, the commission shall either reject the recommendation as tendered or adopt the recommendation with or without modification, and by rule establish land development regulations and a local comprehensive plan applicable to that local government's portion of the area of critical state concern.~~ However, such rule may ~~shall~~ not become effective before ~~prior to~~ legislative review of an area of critical state concern pursuant to paragraph (1)(c). In the rule, the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall specify the extent to which its land development regulations, plans, or plan amendments will supersede, or will be supplementary to, local land development regulations and plans. Notice of any proposed rule issued under this section shall be given to all local governments and regional planning agencies in the area of critical state concern, in addition to any other notice required under chapter 120. The land development regulations and local comprehensive plan adopted by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ under this section may include any type of regulation and plan that could have been adopted by the local government. Any land development regulations or local comprehensive plan or plan amendments adopted by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ under this section shall be administered by the local government as part of, or in the absence of, the local land development regulations and local comprehensive plan.

(9) If, within 12 months after the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ adopts a rule designating an area of critical state concern, land development regulations or local comprehensive plans for the area have not become effective under either subsection (6) or subsection (8), the designation of the area as an area of critical state concern terminates. No part of such area may be recommended for redesignation until at least 12 months after the date the designation terminates pursuant to this subsection. The running of the 12-month period subsequent to the initial designation shall be tolled upon challenge pursuant to the provisions of chapter 120 to either the designation of the area of critical state concern or the adoption of land development regulations and local comprehensive plans under subsection (6) or subsection (8).

(10) At any time after the adoption of land development regulations and plans by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ under this section, a local government may propose land development regulations or a local comprehensive plan which, if approved by the state land planning agency as provided in subsection (6), will supersede any regulations or plans adopted under subsection (8).

(11) Land development regulations or a local comprehensive plan submitted by a local government in an area of critical state concern and approved pursuant to subsection (6) may be amended or rescinded by the local government, but the amendment or rescission becomes effective only upon approval thereof by the state land planning agency. The state land planning agency shall either approve or reject the requested changes within 60 days after ~~of~~ receipt thereof. Land development regulations or local comprehensive plans for an area of critical state concern adopted by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ under subsection (8) may be amended or rescinded by rule by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ in the same manner as for original adoption.

(12) Upon the request of a substantially interested person pursuant to s. 120.54(7), a local government or regional planning agency within the designated area, or the state land planning agency, the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ may by rule remove, contract, or expand any designated boundary. Boundary expansions are subject to legislative review pursuant to paragraph (1)(c). A ~~No~~ boundary may not be modified without a specific finding by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ that such changes are consistent with necessary resource protection. The total boundaries of an entire area of critical state concern may ~~shall~~ not be removed by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ unless a minimum time of 1 year has elapsed from the adoption of regulations and a local comprehensive plan pursuant to subsection (1), subsection (6), subsection (8), or subsection (10). Before totally removing such boundaries, the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall make findings that the regulations and plans adopted pursuant to subsection (1), subsection (6), subsection (8), or subsection (10) are being effectively implemented by local governments within the area of critical state concern to protect the area and that adopted

local government comprehensive plans within the area have been conformed to principles for guiding development for the area.

(15) Any rule adopted pursuant to this section designating the boundaries of an area of critical state concern and the principles for guiding development therein shall be repealed by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ no earlier than 12 months and no later than 3 years after approval by the state land planning agency or adoption by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ of all land development regulations and local comprehensive plans pursuant to subsection (6), subsection (8), or subsection (10), and the implementation of all the actions listed in the designation rule for repeal of the designation. Any repeal pursuant to this subsection may be limited to any portion of the area of critical state concern. The repeal must be contingent upon approval by the state land planning agency of local land development regulations and plans pursuant to subsection (6) or subsection (10) and upon such regulations and plans being effective for a period of 12 months.

(22) All state agencies with rulemaking authority for programs that affect a designated area of critical state concern shall review those programs for consistency with the purpose of the designation and principles for guiding development, and shall adopt specific permitting standards and criteria applicable in the designated area, or otherwise amend the program, as necessary to further the purpose of the designation.

The report must ~~shall~~ evaluate the effect of the reporting agency's programs upon the purpose of the designation.

The report must ~~shall~~ explain and justify the reasons for any different permitting standards or criteria that may be recommended. The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall reject the agency's recommendation, or accept it with or without modification and direct the agency to adopt rules, including any changes. Any rule adopted pursuant to this paragraph shall be consistent with the principles for guiding development, and shall apply only within the boundary of the designated area. The agency shall file a copy of the adopted rule with the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~ and the state land planning agency.

3. If statutory changes are required in order to implement the permitting standards or criteria that are necessary to further the purpose of the designation, the report must ~~shall~~ recommend statutory amendments. The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~ shall submit any report

(4) REMOVAL OF DESIGNATION.—The state land planning agency may recommend to the Governor ~~Administration Commission~~ the removal of the designation from all or part of the area specified in subsection (3), if it determines that all local land development regulations and local comprehensive plans and the administration of such regulations and plans are adequate to protect the Apalachicola Bay Area, continue to carry out the legislative intent set forth in subsection (2), and are in compliance with the principles for guiding development set forth in subsection (7). If the Governor ~~Administration Commission~~ concurs with the recommendations of the state land planning agency to remove any area from the designation, the Department of Economic Opportunity must ~~it shall~~, within 45 days after receipt of the recommendation, initiate rulemaking to remove the designation. The state land planning agency shall make recommendations to the Governor ~~Administration Commission~~ annually.

(9) MODIFICATION TO PLANS AND REGULATIONS.—Any land development regulation or element of a local comprehensive plan in the Apalachicola Bay Area may be enacted, amended, or rescinded by a local government, but the enactment, amendment, or rescission becomes effective only upon the approval thereof by the state land planning agency. Further, the state land planning agency, after consulting with the appropriate local government, may, from time to time, determine ~~recommend~~ the enactment, amendment, or rescission of a land development regulation or element of a comprehensive plan. Within 45 days following the determination ~~receipt of such recommendation~~ by the state land planning agency or enactment, amendment, or rescission by a local government, the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall reject the determination ~~recommendation~~, enactment, amendment, or rescission or accept it with or without modification and adopt, by rule, any changes. (2) STATEWIDE GUIDELINES AND STANDARDS.—The statewide guidelines and standards and the exemptions specified in s. 380.0651 and the statewide guidelines and standards adopted by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~ and codified in chapter 73 ~~chapter 28-24~~, Florida Administrative Code, must be used in determining whether particular developments are subject to the requirements of subsection (12). The statewide guidelines and standards previously adopted by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~ and approved by the Legislature shall remain in effect unless superseded or repealed by statute. The statewide guidelines and standards shall be applied as follows:

(a) A development that is below 100 percent of all numerical thresholds in the statewide guidelines and standards is not subject to subsection (12).

(b) A development that is at or above 100 percent of any numerical threshold in the statewide guidelines and standards is subject to subsection (12).

(11) ABANDONMENT OF DEVELOPMENTS OF REGIONAL IMPACT.—

(b) If requested by the owner, developer, or local government, the development-of-regional-impact development order must be abandoned by the local government having jurisdiction upon a showing that all required mitigation related to the amount of development which existed on the date of abandonment has been completed or will be completed under an existing permit or equivalent authorization issued by a governmental agency as defined in s. 380.031(5) ~~s. 380.031(6)~~, provided such permit or authorization is subject to enforcement through administrative or judicial remedies. All development following abandonment must be fully consistent with the current comprehensive plan and applicable zoning.

Section 73. Section 380.07, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

380.07 State Land Planning and Areas of Critical State Concern ~~Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~.—

(1) ~~There is hereby created the Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission, which shall consist of the Administration Commission.~~ The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ may adopt rules necessary to ensure compliance with the area of critical state concern program.

(2) Whenever any local government issues any development order in any area of critical state concern, or in regard to the abandonment of any approved development of regional impact, copies of such orders as prescribed by rule by the state land planning agency shall be transmitted to the state land planning agency, the regional planning agency, and the owner or developer of the property affected by such order. The state land planning agency shall adopt rules describing development order rendition and effectiveness in designated areas of critical state concern. Within 45 days after the order is rendered, the owner, the developer, or the state land planning agency may appeal the order to the Division of Administrative Hearings ~~Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ by filing a petition alleging that the development order is not consistent with this part.

(3) Notwithstanding any other ~~provision of~~ law, an appeal of a development order in an area of critical state concern by the state land planning agency under this section may include consistency of the development order with the local comprehensive plan.

(4) The appellant shall furnish a copy of the notice of appeal to the opposing party, as the case may be, and to the local government that issued the order. The filing of the notice of appeal stays the effectiveness of the order until after the completion of the appeal process.

(5) Before issuing a recommended ~~an~~ order, the Division of Administrative Hearings ~~Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ shall hold a hearing pursuant to chapter 120. The Division of Administrative Hearings ~~commission~~ shall encourage the submission of appeals on the record made pursuant to subsection (7) in cases in which the development order was issued after a full and complete hearing before the local government or an agency thereof.

(6) After receipt of a recommended order from the Division of Administrative Hearings, the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~The Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ shall issue a final order pursuant to s. 120.57 ~~decision granting or denying permission to develop pursuant to the standards of this chapter and may attach conditions and restrictions to its decisions~~.

(7) If an appeal is filed with respect to any issues within the scope of a permitting program authorized by chapter 161, chapter 373, or chapter 403 and for which a permit or conceptual review approval has been obtained before the issuance of a development order, any such issue shall be specifically identified in the notice of appeal which is filed pursuant to this section, together with other issues that constitute grounds for the administrative review ~~appeal~~. The administrative proceeding ~~appeal~~ may proceed with respect to issues within the scope of permitting programs for which a permit or conceptual review approval has been obtained before the issuance of a development order only after the administrative law judge issues an order ~~commission determines by majority vote at a regularly scheduled commission meeting~~ that statewide or regional interests may be adversely affected by the development. In making this determination, there is a rebuttable presumption that statewide and regional interests relating to issues within the scope of the permitting programs for which a permit or conceptual approval has been obtained are not adversely affected.

Section 74. Subsection (2) of section 380.115, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

380.115 Vested rights and duties; changes in statewide guidelines and standards.—A development that has received a development-of-regional-impact development order pursuant to s. 380.06 but is no longer required to undergo development-of-regional-impact review by operation of law may elect to rescind the development order pursuant to the following procedures:

(2) If requested by the developer or landowner, the development-of-regional-impact development order shall be rescinded by the local government having jurisdiction upon a showing that all required mitigation related to the amount of development that existed on the date of rescission has been completed or will be completed under an existing permit or equivalent authorization issued by a governmental agency as defined in s. 380.031(5) ~~s. 380.031(6)~~, if such permit or authorization is subject to enforcement through administrative or judicial remedies.

Section 75. Paragraph (l) of subsection (4) of section 381.0065, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

381.0065 Onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems; regulation.—

(4) PERMITS; INSTALLATION; CONDITIONS.—A person may not construct, repair, modify, abandon, or operate an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system without first obtaining a permit approved by the department. The department may issue permits to carry out this section, except that the issuance of a permit for work seaward of the coastal construction control line established under s. 161.053 shall be contingent upon receipt of any required coastal construction control line permit from the department. A construction permit is valid for 18 months after the date of issuance and may be extended by the department for one 90-day period under rules adopted by the department. A repair permit is valid for 90 days after the date of issuance. An operating permit must be obtained before the use of any aerobic treatment unit or if the establishment generates commercial waste. Buildings or establishments that use an aerobic treatment unit or generate commercial waste shall be inspected by the department at least annually to assure compliance with the terms of the operating permit. The operating permit for a commercial wastewater system is valid for 1 year after the date of issuance and must be renewed annually. The operating permit for an aerobic treatment unit is valid for 2 years after the date of issuance and must be renewed every 2 years. If all information pertaining to the siting, location, and installation conditions or repair of an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system remains the same, a construction or repair permit for the onsite sewage treatment and disposal system may be transferred to another person, if the transferee files, within 60 days after the transfer of ownership, an amended application providing all corrected information and proof of ownership of the property. A fee is not associated with the processing of this supplemental information. A person may not contract to construct, modify, alter, repair, service, abandon, or maintain any portion of an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system without being registered under part III of chapter 489. A property owner who personally performs construction, maintenance, or repairs to a system serving his or her own owner-occupied single-family residence is exempt from registration requirements for performing such construction, maintenance, or repairs on that residence, but is subject to all permitting requirements. A municipality or political subdivision of the state may not issue a building or plumbing permit for any building that requires the use of an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system unless the owner or builder has received a construction permit for such system from the department. A building or structure may not be occupied and a municipality, political subdivision, or any state or federal agency may not authorize occupancy until the department approves the final installation of the onsite sewage treatment and disposal system. A municipality or political subdivision of the state may not approve any change in occupancy or tenancy of a building that uses an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system until the department has reviewed the use of the system with the proposed change, approved the change, and amended the operating permit.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(l) For the Florida Keys, the department shall adopt a special rule for the construction, installation, modification, operation, repair, maintenance, and performance of onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems which considers the unique soil conditions and water table elevations, densities, and setback requirements. On lots where a setback distance of 75 feet from surface waters, saltmarsh, and buttonwood association habitat areas cannot be met, an injection well, approved and permitted by the department, may be used for disposal of effluent from onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems. The following additional requirements apply to onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems in Monroe County:

1. The county, each municipality, and those special districts established for the purpose of the collection, transmission, treatment, or disposal of sewage shall ensure, in accordance with the specific schedules adopted ~~by the Administration Commission~~ under s. 380.0552, the completion of onsite sewage treatment and disposal system upgrades to meet the requirements of this paragraph.

2. Onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems must cease discharge by December 31, 2015, or must comply with department rules and provide the level of treatment which, on a permitted annual average basis, produces an effluent that contains no more than the following concentrations:

a. Biochemical Oxygen Demand (CBOD5) of 10 mg/l.

b. Suspended Solids of 10 mg/l.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

c. Total Nitrogen, expressed as N, of 10 mg/l or a reduction in nitrogen of at least 70 percent. A system that has been tested and certified to reduce nitrogen concentrations by at least 70 percent shall be deemed to be in compliance with this standard.

d. Total Phosphorus, expressed as P, of 1 mg/l.

In addition, onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems discharging to an injection well must provide basic disinfection as defined by department rule.

3. In areas not scheduled to be served by a central sewerage system, onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems must, by December 31, 2015, comply with department rules and provide the level of treatment described in subparagraph 2.

4. In areas scheduled to be served by a central sewerage system by December 31, 2015, if the property owner has paid a connection fee or assessment for connection to the central sewerage system, the property owner may install a holding tank with a high water alarm or an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system that meets the following minimum standards:

a. The existing tanks must be pumped and inspected and certified as being watertight and free of defects in accordance with department rule; and

b. A sand-lined drainfield or injection well in accordance with department rule must be installed.

5. Onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems must be monitored for total nitrogen and total phosphorus concentrations as required by department rule.

6. The department shall enforce proper installation,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

operation, and maintenance of onsite sewage treatment and disposal systems pursuant to this chapter, including ensuring that the appropriate level of treatment described in subparagraph 2. is met.

7. The authority of a local government, including a special district, to mandate connection of an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system is governed by s. 4, chapter 99-395, Laws of Florida.

8. Notwithstanding any other law, an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system installed after July 1, 2010, in unincorporated Monroe County, excluding special wastewater districts, that complies with the standards in subparagraph 2. is not required to connect to a central sewerage system until December 31, 2020.

Section 76. Paragraph (c) of subsection (2) of section 388.4111, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(c) If the land management agency and the local arthropod control agency are unable to agree on a public lands control plan, the Florida Coordinating Council on Mosquito Control may recommend a control plan to the department, which shall propose a recommended public lands control plan. If the land management agency and the local arthropod control agency fail to agree to such recommended public lands control plan within 30 days after ~~of~~ the rendering of such plan, either agency may petition the Division of Administrative Hearings ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ to determine whether the proposed control plan employs methods which are the minimum necessary and economically feasible to abate a public health or nuisance problem and which impose the least hazard to fish, wildlife, and other natural resources protected or managed in such areas. Unless both parties waive their right to a hearing, the Division of Administrative Hearings ~~Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission~~ shall direct a hearing officer to hold a hearing within the jurisdiction of the local arthropod control agency pursuant to the provisions of ss. 120.569 and 120.57 and submit a recommended order. The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall, within 60 days after ~~of~~ receipt of the recommended order, issue a final order adopting a public lands control plan. Consistent with s. 120.57(1)(l), the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ may adopt or modify the proposed control plan. The Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~ shall adopt rules on the conduct of appeals before the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~commission~~.

Section 77. Effective July 1, 2022, paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 397.333, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

397.333 Statewide Drug Policy Advisory Council.—

(b) The following state officials shall be appointed to serve on the advisory council:

1. The Attorney General, or his or her designee.

2. The executive director of the Department of Law Enforcement, or his or her designee.

3. The Secretary of Children and Families, or his or her designee.

4. The director of the Office of Planning and Budgeting in the Executive Office of the Governor, or his or her designee.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

5. The Secretary of Corrections, or his or her designee.

6. The Secretary of Juvenile Justice, or his or her designee.

7. The Commissioner of Education, or his or her designee.

8. The Secretary ~~executive director of the Department~~ of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles, or his or her designee.

9. The Adjutant General of the state as the Chief of the Department of Military Affairs, or his or her designee.

Section 78. Subsection (35) of section 403.061, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

403.061 Department; powers and duties.—The department shall have the power and the duty to control and prohibit pollution of air and water in accordance with the law and rules adopted and promulgated by it and, for this purpose, to:

(35) Adopt rules which may include stricter permitting and enforcement provisions within Outstanding Florida Waters, aquatic preserves, areas of critical state concern, and areas subject to chapter 380 resource management plans adopted by rule by the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Administration Commission~~, when the plans for an area include waters that are particularly identified as needing additional protection, which provisions are not inconsistent with the applicable rules adopted for the management of such areas by the department and the Department of Economic Opportunity ~~Governor and Cabinet~~.

The department shall implement such programs in conjunction with its other powers and duties and shall place special emphasis on reducing and eliminating contamination that presents a threat to humans, animals or plants, or to the environment.

Section 79. Subsection (11) of section 403.086, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

403.086 Sewage disposal facilities; advanced and secondary waste treatment.—

(11) The Legislature finds that the discharge of inadequately treated and managed domestic wastewater from dozens of small wastewater facilities and thousands of septic tanks and other onsite systems in the Florida Keys compromises the quality of the coastal environment, including nearshore and offshore waters, and threatens the quality of life and local economies that depend on those resources. The Legislature also finds that the only practical and cost-effective way to fundamentally improve wastewater management in the Florida Keys is for the local governments in Monroe County, including those special districts established for the purpose of collection, transmission, treatment, or disposal of sewage, to timely complete the wastewater or sewage treatment and disposal facilities initiated under the work program of the former Administration Commission provided in rule 28-20, Florida Administrative Code, and the Monroe County Sanitary Master Wastewater Plan, dated June 2000. The Legislature therefore declares that the construction and operation of comprehensive central wastewater systems in accordance with this subsection is in the public interest. To give effect to those findings, the requirements of this subsection apply to all domestic wastewater facilities in Monroe County, including privately owned facilities, unless otherwise provided under this subsection.

(a) The discharge of domestic wastewater into surface

waters is prohibited.

(b) Monroe County, each municipality, and those special districts established for the purpose of collection, transmission, treatment, or disposal of sewage in Monroe County shall complete the wastewater collection, treatment, and disposal facilities within its jurisdiction designated as hot spots in the Monroe County Sanitary Master Wastewater Plan, dated June 2000, specifically listed in Exhibits 6-1 through 6-3 of Chapter 6 of the plan and mapped in Exhibit F-1 of Appendix F of the plan. The required facilities and connections, and any additional facilities or other adjustments required by rules adopted ~~by the Administration Commission~~ under s. 380.0552, must be completed by December 31, 2015, pursuant to specific schedules established by the commission. Domestic wastewater facilities located outside local government and special district service areas must meet the treatment and disposal requirements of this subsection by December 31, 2015.

(c) After December 31, 2015, all new or expanded domestic wastewater discharges must comply with the treatment and disposal requirements of this subsection and department rules.

(d) Wastewater treatment facilities having design capacities:

1. Greater than or equal to 100,000 gallons per day must provide basic disinfection as defined by department rule and the level of treatment which, on a permitted annual average basis, produces an effluent that contains no more than the following concentrations:

a. Biochemical Oxygen Demand (CBOD5) of 5 mg/l.

b. Suspended Solids of 5 mg/l.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

c. Total Nitrogen, expressed as N, of 3 mg/l.

d. Total Phosphorus, expressed as P, of 1 mg/l.

2. Less than 100,000 gallons per day must provide basic disinfection as defined by department rule and the level of treatment which, on a permitted annual average basis, produces an effluent that contains no more than the following concentrations:

a. Biochemical Oxygen Demand (CBOD5) of 10 mg/l.

b. Suspended Solids of 10 mg/l.

c. Total Nitrogen, expressed as N, of 10 mg/l.

d. Total Phosphorus, expressed as P, of 1 mg/l.

(e) Class V injection wells, as defined by department or Department of Health rule, must meet the following requirements and otherwise comply with department or Department of Health rules, as applicable:

1. If the design capacity of the facility is less than 1 million gallons per day, the injection well must be at least 90 feet deep and cased to a minimum depth of 60 feet or to such greater cased depth and total well depth as may be required by department rule.

2. Except as provided in subparagraph 3. for backup wells, if the design capacity of the facility is equal to or greater than 1 million gallons per day, each primary injection well must be cased to a minimum depth of 2,000 feet or to such greater depth as may be required by department rule.

3. If an injection well is used as a backup to a primary injection well, the following conditions apply:

a. The backup well may be used only when the primary injection well is out of service because of equipment failure,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

power failure, or the need for mechanical integrity testing or repair;

accordance with s. 119.15 and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2027, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 2. The Legislature finds that is a public necessity that information received by the Office of Election Crimes and Security during an investigation be made confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution until the investigation ceases to be active or action taken by the office has concluded or been made part of a hearing or court proceeding. The release of such information about a pending investigation by the office could obstruct or jeopardize the integrity of the investigation or proceeding and impair the ability of the office in the performance of its official duties as required under s. 97.022, Florida Statutes. This exemption creates a secure environment in which the office may conduct its investigation. Therefore, the Legislature finds that it is a public necessity to make such information confidential and exempt from public records requirements.

Section 3. This act shall take effect on the same date that SB ___ or similar legislation takes effect, if such legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof and becomes a law.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsections (2) and (3) and paragraph (b) of subsection (4) of section 120.595, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

120.595 Attorney's fees.—

provided before the final hearing that the agency has published a notice of rulemaking under s. 120.54(3)(a), such notice shall automatically operate as a stay of proceedings pending rulemaking. The administrative law judge may vacate the stay for good cause shown. A stay of proceedings under this paragraph remains in effect so long as the agency is proceeding expeditiously and in good faith to adopt the statement as a rule. The administrative law judge shall award reasonable costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees accrued by the petitioner before ~~prior to~~ the date the notice was published, unless the agency proves to the administrative law judge that it did not know and should not have known that the statement was an unadopted rule. AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Santa Rosa Bay Bridge Authority; transfer to the Florida Department of Transportation.—The governance and control of the Santa Rosa Bay Bridge Authority is transferred to the Florida Department of Transportation.

(1) The assets, facilities, tangible and intangible property and any rights in such property, and any other legal rights of the authority, including the bridge system operated by the authority, are transferred to the department. Pursuant to this section, all powers of the authority shall succeed to the department and the operations and maintenance of the bridge system shall be under the control of the department. The department also assumes all liability for bonds of the authority pursuant to subsection (2). The department may review other contracts, financial obligations, and contractual obligations and liabilities of the authority and may assume legal liability for such obligations determined to be necessary for the continued operation of the bridge system.

(2) The transfer pursuant to this section is subject to the terms and covenants provided in the lease-purchase agreement and the resolutions adopted in connection with the issuance of Santa Rosa Bay Bridge Authority bonds for the protection of the bondholders. Further, the transfer does not impair the terms of the contract between the authority and the bondholders, does not act to the detriment of the bondholders, and does not diminish the security for the bonds. After the transfer, the department shall operate and maintain the bridge system and any other facilities of the authority in accordance with the terms, conditions, and covenants contained in the bond resolutions and lease-purchase agreement securing the bonds of the authority. The department shall collect toll revenues and apply them to the payment of debt service as provided in the bond resolution securing the bonds and shall expressly assume all obligations relating to the bonds to ensure that the transfer will have no adverse impact on the security for the bonds of the authority. The transfer does not make the obligation to pay the principal and interest on the bonds a general liability of the department and does not pledge department revenues for payment of the bonds. Revenues generated by the bridge system and other facilities of the authority which were pledged by the authority to the payment of the bonds remain subject to the pledge for the benefit of the bondholders. The transfer does not modify or eliminate any prior obligation of the department to pay certain costs of the bridge system from sources other than from revenues of the bridge system.

(3) The department is authorized to purchase, redeem, defease, or otherwise refinance outstanding authority bonds. The department may use any department funds appropriated for such purpose. Upon acquisition, redemption, defeasance, or other refinancing of all the outstanding authority bonds, revenues of the bridge system and other facilities of the authority shall be department revenues free and clear of the prior pledge for the benefit of the authority's bondholders and the lease-purchase agreement securing the authority bonds, and all obligations of the department under the lease-purchase agreement are terminated. Upon the acquisition, redemption, defeasance, or other refinancing of all of the outstanding authority bonds, the accumulated long-term debt due to the department for the payment of the costs of operations, maintenance, renewal, and replacement of the bridge system are deemed to be costs of operation and maintenance of a department-owned toll facility paid from moneys in the State Transportation Trust Fund. In connection with or following refinancing or payment of the outstanding bonds of the authority, the bridge system may be transferred by the department and become part of the turnpike system under the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law, ss. 338.22-338.241, Florida Statutes, in which event the turnpike enterprise shall operate and maintain the bridge system and other facilities of the authority as part of the turnpike system in accordance with the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law and revenues collected on the bridge system shall be considered turnpike revenues.

(4) As directed by s. 7 of chapter 2017-42, Laws of Florida, the department has conducted a feasibility study relating to the acquisition of the Garcon Point Bridge which satisfies the definition and required determination of economic feasibility in ss. 338.221(8) and 338.223, Florida Statutes. In addition to subsection (3), the department may purchase, redeem, defease, or otherwise refinance outstanding authority bonds using turnpike revenues lawfully available for such purpose remaining after payment of all amounts required under the terms of any resolution under which turnpike system revenue bonds have been issued. Pursuant to s. 11(f), Article VII of the State Constitution, the issuance of turnpike system revenue bonds to finance the department's acquisition, redemption, defeasance, or refinancing of outstanding authority bonds is also approved. If turnpike revenues or turnpike bond proceeds are used to acquire or refund the outstanding authority bonds, the bridge system shall be transferred by the department and become part of the turnpike system under the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law, the turnpike enterprise shall operate and maintain the bridge system and other facilities of the authority as part of the turnpike system in accordance with the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law and the terms and conditions of any turnpike bonds issued to refund the outstanding authority bonds, and revenues collected on the bridge system shall be considered turnpike revenues.

(5) The powers conferred by this section are in addition and supplemental to the existing powers of the department and the turnpike, including s. 338.2275, Florida Statutes. This section may not be construed as repealing any other law, general, special, or local; or to supersede, repeal, rescind, or modify any other law or laws relating to the department, the State Board of Administration, or the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law; but shall supersede such other law or laws as are inconsistent with this section.

provided before the final hearing that the agency has published a notice of rulemaking under s. 120.54(3)(a), such notice shall automatically operate as a stay of proceedings pending rulemaking. The administrative law judge may vacate the stay for good cause shown. A stay of proceedings under this paragraph remains in effect so long as the agency is proceeding expeditiously and in good faith to adopt the statement as a rule. The administrative law judge shall award reasonable costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees accrued by the petitioner before ~~prior to~~ the date the notice was published, unless the agency proves to the administrative law judge that it did not know and should not have known that the statement was an unadopted rule. Attorney ~~attorneys'~~ fees and costs under this paragraph and paragraph (a) shall be awarded only upon a finding that the agency received notice that the statement may constitute an unadopted rule at least 30 days before a petition under s. 120.56(4) was filed and that the agency failed to publish the required notice of rulemaking pursuant to s. 120.54(3) that addresses the statement within that 30-day period. Section 1. Santa Rosa Bay Bridge Authority; transfer to the Florida Department of Transportation.—The governance and control of the Santa Rosa Bay Bridge Authority is transferred to the Florida Department of Transportation.

(1) The assets, facilities, tangible and intangible property and any rights in such property, and any other legal rights of the authority, including the bridge system operated by the authority, are transferred to the department. Pursuant to this section, all powers of the authority shall succeed to the department and the operations and maintenance of the bridge system shall be under the control of the department. The department also assumes all liability for bonds of the authority pursuant to subsection (2). The department may review other contracts, financial obligations, and contractual obligations and liabilities of the authority and may assume legal liability for such obligations determined to be necessary for the continued operation of the bridge system.

(2) The transfer pursuant to this section is subject to the terms and covenants provided in the lease-purchase agreement and the resolutions adopted in connection with the issuance of Santa Rosa Bay Bridge Authority bonds for the protection of the bondholders. Further, the transfer does not impair the terms of the contract between the authority and the bondholders, does not act to the detriment of the bondholders, and does not diminish the security for the bonds. After the transfer, the department shall operate and maintain the bridge system and any other facilities of the authority in accordance with the terms, conditions, and covenants contained in the bond resolutions and lease-purchase agreement securing the bonds of the authority. The department shall collect toll revenues and apply them to the payment of debt service as provided in the bond resolution securing the bonds and shall expressly assume all obligations relating to the bonds to ensure that the transfer will have no adverse impact on the security for the bonds of the authority. The transfer does not make the obligation to pay the principal and interest on the bonds a general liability of the department and does not pledge department revenues for payment of the bonds. Revenues generated by the bridge system and other facilities of the authority which were pledged by the authority to the payment of the bonds remain subject to the pledge for the benefit of the bondholders. The transfer does not modify or eliminate any prior obligation of the department to pay certain costs of the bridge system from sources other than from revenues of the bridge system.

(3) The department is authorized to purchase, redeem, defease, or otherwise refinance outstanding authority bonds. The department may use any department funds appropriated for such purpose. Upon acquisition, redemption, defeasance, or other refinancing of all the outstanding authority bonds, revenues of the bridge system and other facilities of the authority shall be department revenues free and clear of the prior pledge for the benefit of the authority's bondholders and the lease-purchase agreement securing the authority bonds, and all obligations of the department under the lease-purchase agreement are terminated. Upon the acquisition, redemption, defeasance, or other refinancing of all of the outstanding authority bonds, the accumulated long-term debt due to the department for the payment of the costs of operations, maintenance, renewal, and replacement of the bridge system are deemed to be costs of operation and maintenance of a department-owned toll facility paid from moneys in the State Transportation Trust Fund. In connection with or following refinancing or payment of the outstanding bonds of the authority, the bridge system may be transferred by the department and become part of the turnpike system under the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law, ss. 338.22-338.241, Florida Statutes, in which event the turnpike enterprise shall operate and maintain the bridge system and other facilities of the authority as part of the turnpike system in accordance with the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law and revenues collected on the bridge system shall be considered turnpike revenues.

(4) As directed by s. 7 of chapter 2017-42, Laws of Florida, the department has conducted a feasibility study relating to the acquisition of the Garcon Point Bridge which satisfies the definition and required determination of economic feasibility in ss. 338.221(8) and 338.223, Florida Statutes. In addition to subsection (3), the department may purchase, redeem, defease, or otherwise refinance outstanding authority bonds using turnpike revenues lawfully available for such purpose remaining after payment of all amounts required under the terms of any resolution under which turnpike system revenue bonds have been issued. Pursuant to s. 11(f), Article VII of the State Constitution, the issuance of turnpike system revenue bonds to finance the department's acquisition, redemption, defeasance, or refinancing of outstanding authority bonds is also approved. If turnpike revenues or turnpike bond proceeds are used to acquire or refund the outstanding authority bonds, the bridge system shall be transferred by the department and become part of the turnpike system under the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law, the turnpike enterprise shall operate and maintain the bridge system and other facilities of the authority as part of the turnpike system in accordance with the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law and the terms and conditions of any turnpike bonds issued to refund the outstanding authority bonds, and revenues collected on the bridge system shall be considered turnpike revenues.

(5) The powers conferred by this section are in addition and supplemental to the existing powers of the department and the turnpike, including s. 338.2275, Florida Statutes. This section may not be construed as repealing any other law, general, special, or local; or to supersede, repeal, rescind, or modify any other law or laws relating to the department, the State Board of Administration, or the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law; but shall supersede such other law or laws as are inconsistent with this section.

Section 2. Part IV of chapter 348, Florida Statutes, consisting of ss. 348.965, 348.966, 348.967, 348.968, 348.969, 348.97, 348.971, 348.972, 348.973, 348.974, 348.9751, 348.9761, 348.9771, and 348.9781, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 3. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Just noting that while crt is both addressed in the provisions of the draft relating to educational instruction and those relating to the expansion of prohibited employment practices under the Florida Civil Rights Act, amendments to this distinct areas of law are not typically folded into a single bill.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsections (2) and (3) and paragraph (b) of subsection (4) of section 120.595, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

120.595 Attorney's fees.—

(2) CHALLENGES TO PROPOSED AGENCY RULES PURSUANT TO SECTION 120.56(2).—If the appellate court or administrative law judge declares a proposed rule or portion of a proposed rule invalid pursuant to s. 120.56(2), a judgment or order shall be rendered against the agency for reasonable costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees, unless the agency demonstrates that its actions were substantially justified or special circumstances exist which would make the award unjust. An agency's actions are "substantially justified" if there was a reasonable basis in law and fact at the time the actions were taken by the agency. If the agency prevails in the proceedings, the appellate court or administrative law judge shall award reasonable costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees against a party if the appellate court or administrative law judge determines that a party participated in the proceedings for an improper purpose as defined by paragraph (1)(e). An ~~no~~ award of attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees as provided by this subsection may not ~~shall~~ exceed $50,000 against any party or against the agency, even if multiple proceedings are consolidated and multiple parties are entitled to fees against the same nonprevailing party or agency.

(3) CHALLENGES TO EXISTING AGENCY RULES PURSUANT TO SECTION 120.56(3) AND (5).—If the appellate court or administrative law judge declares a rule or portion of a rule invalid pursuant to s. 120.56(3) or (5), a judgment or order shall be rendered against the agency for reasonable costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees, unless the agency demonstrates that its actions were substantially justified or special circumstances exist which would make the award unjust. An agency's actions are "substantially justified" if there was a reasonable basis in law and fact at the time the actions were taken by the agency. If the agency prevails in the proceedings, the appellate court or administrative law judge shall award reasonable costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees against a party if the appellate court or administrative law judge determines that a party participated in the proceedings for an improper purpose as defined by paragraph (1)(e). An ~~no~~ award of attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees as provided by this subsection may not ~~shall~~ exceed $50,000 against any party or against the agency, even if multiple proceedings are consolidated and multiple parties are entitled to fees against the same nonprevailing party or agency.

(4) CHALLENGES TO AGENCY ACTION PURSUANT TO SECTION 120.56(4).—

(b) Upon notification to the administrative law judge

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

provided before the final hearing that the agency has published a notice of rulemaking under s. 120.54(3)(a), such notice shall automatically operate as a stay of proceedings pending rulemaking. The administrative law judge may vacate the stay for good cause shown. A stay of proceedings under this paragraph remains in effect so long as the agency is proceeding expeditiously and in good faith to adopt the statement as a rule. The administrative law judge shall award reasonable costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees accrued by the petitioner before ~~prior to~~ the date the notice was published, unless the agency proves to the administrative law judge that it did not know and should not have known that the statement was an unadopted rule. Attorney ~~attorneys'~~ fees and costs under this paragraph and paragraph (a) shall be awarded only upon a finding that the agency received notice that the statement may constitute an unadopted rule at least 30 days before a petition under s. 120.56(4) was filed and that the agency failed to publish the required notice of rulemaking pursuant to s. 120.54(3) that addresses the statement within that 30-day period. Notice to the agency may be satisfied by its receipt of a copy of the s. 120.56(4) petition, a notice or other paper containing substantially the same information, or a petition filed pursuant to s. 120.54(7). An award of attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees as provided by this paragraph may not exceed $50,000 against any party or against the agency, even if multiple proceedings are consolidated and multiple parties are entitled to fees against the same nonprevailing party or agency.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL_GOV_22-0226_20-0378A-001049

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Santa Rosa Bay Bridge Authority; transfer to the Florida Department of Transportation.—The governance and control of the Santa Rosa Bay Bridge Authority is transferred to the Florida Department of Transportation.

(1) The assets, facilities, tangible and intangible property and any rights in such property, and any other legal rights of the authority, including the bridge system operated by the authority, are transferred to the department. Pursuant to this section, all powers of the authority shall succeed to the department and the operations and maintenance of the bridge system shall be under the control of the department. The department also assumes all liability for bonds of the authority pursuant to subsection (2). The department may review other contracts, financial obligations, and contractual obligations and liabilities of the authority and may assume legal liability for such obligations determined to be necessary for the continued operation of the bridge system.

(2) The transfer pursuant to this section is subject to the terms and covenants provided in the lease-purchase agreement and the resolutions adopted in connection with the issuance of Santa Rosa Bay Bridge Authority bonds for the protection of the bondholders. Further, the transfer does not impair the terms of the contract between the authority and the bondholders, does not act to the detriment of the bondholders, and does not diminish the security for the bonds. After the transfer, the department shall operate and maintain the bridge system and any other facilities of the authority in accordance with the terms, conditions, and covenants contained in the bond resolutions and lease-purchase agreement securing the bonds of the authority. The department shall collect toll revenues and apply them to the payment of debt service as provided in the bond resolution securing the bonds and shall expressly assume all obligations relating to the bonds to ensure that the transfer will have no adverse impact on the security for the bonds of the authority. The transfer does not make the obligation to pay the principal and interest on the bonds a general liability of the department and does not pledge department revenues for payment of the bonds. Revenues generated by the bridge system and other facilities of the authority which were pledged by the authority to the payment of the bonds remain subject to the pledge for the benefit of the bondholders. The transfer does not modify or eliminate any prior obligation of the department to pay certain costs of the bridge system from sources other than from revenues of the bridge system.

(3) The department is authorized to purchase, redeem, defease, or otherwise refinance outstanding authority bonds. The department may use any department funds appropriated for such purpose. Upon acquisition, redemption, defeasance, or other refinancing of all the outstanding authority bonds, revenues of the bridge system and other facilities of the authority shall be department revenues free and clear of the prior pledge for the benefit of the authority's bondholders and the lease-purchase agreement securing the authority bonds, and all obligations of the department under the lease-purchase agreement are terminated. Upon the acquisition, redemption, defeasance, or other refinancing of all of the outstanding authority bonds, the accumulated long-term debt due to the department for the payment of the costs of operations, maintenance, renewal, and replacement of the bridge system are deemed to be costs of operation and maintenance of a department-owned toll facility paid from moneys in the State Transportation Trust Fund. In connection with or following refinancing or payment of the outstanding bonds of the authority, the bridge system may be transferred by the department and become part of the turnpike system under the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law, ss. 338.22-338.241, Florida Statutes, in which event the turnpike enterprise shall operate and maintain the bridge system and other facilities of the authority as part of the turnpike system in accordance with the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law and revenues collected on the bridge system shall be considered turnpike revenues.

(4) As directed by s. 7 of chapter 2017-42, Laws of Florida, the department has conducted a feasibility study relating to the acquisition of the Garcon Point Bridge which satisfies the definition and required determination of economic feasibility in ss. 338.221(8) and 338.223, Florida Statutes. In addition to subsection (3), the department may purchase, redeem, defease, or otherwise refinance outstanding authority bonds using turnpike revenues lawfully available for such purpose remaining after payment of all amounts required under the terms of any resolution under which turnpike system revenue bonds have been issued. Pursuant to s. 11(f), Article VII of the State Constitution, the issuance of turnpike system revenue bonds to finance the department's acquisition, redemption, defeasance, or refinancing of outstanding authority bonds is also approved. If turnpike revenues or turnpike bond proceeds are used to acquire or refund the outstanding authority bonds, the bridge system shall be transferred by the department and become part of the turnpike system under the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law, the turnpike enterprise shall operate and maintain the bridge system and other facilities of the authority as part of the turnpike system in accordance with the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law and the terms and conditions of any turnpike bonds issued to refund the outstanding authority bonds, and revenues collected on the bridge system shall be considered turnpike revenues.

(5) The powers conferred by this section are in addition and supplemental to the existing powers of the department and the turnpike, including s. 338.2275, Florida Statutes. This section may not be construed as repealing any other law, general, special, or local; or to supersede, repeal, rescind, or modify any other law or laws relating to the department, the State Board of Administration, or the Florida Turnpike Enterprise Law; but shall supersede such other law or laws as are inconsistent with this section.

Section 2. Part IV of chapter 348, Florida Statutes, consisting of ss. 348.965, 348.966, 348.967, 348.968, 348.969, 348.97, 348.971, 348.972, 348.973, 348.974, 348.9751, 348.9761, 348.9771, and 348.9781, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 3. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

A bill to be entitled

An act relating to ad valorem tax abatement; creating s. 197.319, F.S.; defining terms; providing for the abatement of ad valorem taxes for residential improvements destroyed following certain events; providing procedures and requirements for filing applications for the abatement; specifying requirements for property appraisers and tax collectors; providing for construction and retroactive application; providing an effective date.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Section 197.319, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

197.319 Abatement of taxes for residential improvements following a destruction caused by a sudden collapse.—

(1) As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Destruction" means the immediate demolition of a building caused by a sudden and unforeseen collapse and the subsequent demolition of remaining sections of the building recognized as having experienced a major structural collapse by an executive order issued by the Governor pursuant to s. 252.36.

(b) "Disaster relief credit" means the product arrived at by multiplying the percent change in value by the amount of timely paid taxes initially levied in the year in which the destruction occurred.

(c) "Percent change in value" means the difference between a residential parcel's just value as of January 1 of the year in which the destruction occurred and its postdisaster just value expressed as a percentage of the parcel's just value as of January 1 of the year in which the destruction occurred.

(d) "Postdisaster just value" means the just value of the residential parcel on January 1 of the year in which the destruction occurred, reduced to reflect the just value of the residential improvement as provided in subsection (5) as a result of the destruction. Postdisaster just value is determined only for purposes of calculating tax abatements under this section and does not determine a parcel's just value as of January 1 each year.

(e) "Residential improvement" means a multistory residential building comprised of at least 50 dwelling units.

(2) If a residential improvement located in a county as defined in s. 125.011(1) is destroyed following a sudden and unforeseen collapse or the subsequent demolition of remaining sections of the building recognized as having experienced a major structural collapse by an executive order issued by the Governor pursuant to s. 252.36 during the 2021 calendar year, taxes initially levied in 2021 must be abated in the following manner:

(a) The property owner must file an application with the property appraiser no later than May 1, 2022. A property owner who fails to file an application by May 1, 2022, waives a claim for abatement of taxes under this section.

(b) The application must identify the residential parcel on which the residential improvement was destroyed and the date the destruction occurred.

(c) The application must be verified under oath and is subject to penalty of perjury.

(d) Upon receipt of the application, the property appraiser must investigate the statements contained in the application to determine if the applicant is entitled to an abatement of taxes. If the property appraiser determines that the applicant is not entitled to an abatement, the applicant may file a petition with the value adjustment board, pursuant to s. 194.011(3), requesting that the abatement be granted. If the property appraiser determines that the applicant is entitled to an abatement, the property appraiser must issue an official written statement to the tax collector by June 1, 2022, which provides:

1. The just value of the residential parcel as determined by the property appraiser on January 1 of the year in which the destruction for which the applicant is claiming an abatement occurred.

2. The post-destruction just value of the residential parcel as determined by the property appraiser.

3. The percent change in value applicable to the residential parcel.

(3) Upon receipt of the written statement from the property appraiser, the tax collector shall calculate the percent change in value and disaster relief credit pursuant to this section and process a refund in an amount equal to the disaster relief credit.

(4) No later than July 1, 2022, the tax collector shall notify:

(a) The department of the total reduction in taxes for all properties that qualified for an abatement pursuant to this section.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(b) The governing board of each affected local government of the reduction in such local government's taxes that occurred pursuant to this section.

(5) For purposes of this section, residential improvements that are uninhabitable shall have no value placed thereon.

(6) This section applies retroactively to January 1, 2021.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Section 1. Section 197.319, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

197.319 Abatement of taxes for residential improvements following a destruction caused by a sudden collapse.—

(1) As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Destruction" means the immediate demolition of a building caused by a sudden and unforeseen collapse and the subsequent demolition of remaining sections of the building recognized as having experienced a major structural collapse by an executive order issued by the Governor pursuant to s. 252.36.

(b) "Disaster relief credit" means the product arrived at by multiplying the percent change in value by the amount of timely paid taxes initially levied in the year in which the destruction occurred.

(c) "Percent change in value" means the difference between

Commented [SS1]: Requester: Because the definition of "damage differential" is the same as "percent change in value", I have deleted it and replaced the phrase with "percent change in value" throughout.

Commented [SS2]: Requester: I could not find the phrase "dangerously unstable" used in the executive orders issued by the Governor. If this phrase was used in a document issued by the Governor or other entity, this definition should be rephrased to refer to that document.

This has been revised to reflect EO 21-148.

Regardless of which document is cited, the language needs to clearly refer to what is intended.

a residential parcel's just value as of January 1 of the year in which the destruction occurred and its postdisaster just value expressed as a percentage of the parcel's just value as of January 1 of the year in which the destruction occurred.

(d) "Postdisaster just value" means the just value of the residential parcel on January 1 of the year in which the destruction occurred, reduced to reflect the just value of the residential improvement as provided in subsection (5) as a result of the destruction. Postdisaster just value is determined only for purposes of calculating tax abatements under this section and does not determine a parcel's just value as of January 1 each year.

(e) "Residential improvement" means a multistory residential building comprised of at least 50 dwelling units.

(2) If a residential improvement located in a county as defined in s. 125.011(1) is destroyed following a sudden and unforeseen collapse or the subsequent demolition of remaining sections of the building recognized as having experienced a major structural collapse by an executive order issued by the Governor pursuant to s. 252.36 during the 2021 calendar year, taxes initially levied in 2021 must be abated in the following manner:

(a) The property owner must file an application with the property appraiser no later than May 1, 2022. A property owner who fails to file an application by May 1, 2022, waives a claim for abatement of taxes under this section.

(b) The application must identify the residential parcel on which the residential improvement was destroyed and the date the destruction occurred.

Commented [SS3]: Requester: Please see comment above

(c) The application must be verified under oath and is subject to penalty of perjury.

(d) Upon receipt of the application, the property appraiser must investigate the statements contained in the application to determine if the applicant is entitled to an abatement of taxes. If the property appraiser determines that the applicant is not entitled to an abatement, the applicant may file a petition with the value adjustment board, pursuant to s. 194.011(3), requesting that the abatement be granted. If the property appraiser determines that the applicant is entitled to an abatement, the property appraiser must issue an official written statement to the tax collector by June 1, 2022, which provides:

1. The just value of the residential parcel as determined by the property appraiser on January 1 of the year in which the destruction for which the applicant is claiming an abatement occurred.

2. The post-destruction just value of the residential parcel as determined by the property appraiser.

3. The percent change in value applicable to the residential parcel.

(3) Upon receipt of the written statement from the property appraiser, the tax collector shall calculate the percent change in value and disaster relief credit pursuant to this section and process a refund in an amount equal to the disaster relief credit.

(4) No later than July 1, 2022, the tax collector shall notify:

(a) The department of the total reduction in taxes for all properties that qualified for an abatement pursuant to this section.

(b) The governing board of each affected local government of the reduction in such local government's taxes that occurred pursuant to this section.

(5) For purposes of this section, residential improvements that are uninhabitable shall have no value placed thereon.

(6) This section applies retroactively to January 1, 2021.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Commented [SS4]: Requester: since this applies to taxes already paid, it needs this retroactive application clause.

197.319 Abatement of taxes for residential improvements following a destruction caused by a sudden collapse.—

(1) As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Destruction" means the immediate demolition of a building caused by a sudden and unforeseen collapse and the subsequent demolition of remaining sections of the building recognized as having experienced a major structural collapse by an executive order issued by the Governor pursuant to s. 252.36.

Postdisaster just value is determined only for purposes of calculating tax abatements under this section and does not determine a parcel's just value as of January 1 each year.

(e) "Residential improvement" means a multistory residential building comprised of at least 50 dwelling units.

(2) If a residential improvement located in a county as defined in s. 125.011(1) is destroyed following a sudden and unforeseen collapse or the subsequent demolition of remaining sections of the building recognized as having experienced a major structural collapse by an executive order issued by the Governor pursuant to s. 252.36 during the 2021 calendar year, taxes initially levied in 2021 must be abated in the following manner:

If the property appraiser determines that the applicant is entitled to an abatement, the property appraiser must issue an official written statement to the tax collector by June 1, 2022, which provides:

1. The just value of the residential parcel as determined by the property appraiser on January 1 of the year in which the destruction for which the applicant is claiming an abatement occurred.

2. The post-destruction just value of the residential parcel as determined by the property appraiser.

3. The percent change in value applicable to the residential parcel.

(3) Upon receipt of the written statement from the property appraiser, the tax collector shall calculate the percent change in value and disaster relief credit pursuant to this section and process a refund in an amount equal to the disaster relief credit.

(4) No later than July 1, 2022, the tax collector shall notify:

(b) "Disaster relief credit" means the product arrived at by multiplying the percent change in value by the amount of timely paid taxes initially levied in the year in which the destruction occurred.

(c) "Percent change in value" means the difference between

Commented [SS1]: Requester: Because the definition of "damage differential" is the same as "percent change in value", I have deleted it and replaced the phrase with "percent change in value" throughout.

Commented [SS2]: Requester: I could not find the phrase "dangerously unstable" used in the executive orders issued by the Governor. If this phrase was used in a document issued by the Governor or other entity, this definition should be rephrased to refer to that document.

This has been revised to reflect EO 21-148.

Regardless of which document is cited, the language needs to clearly refer to what is intended.

a residential parcel's just value as of January 1 of the year in which the destruction occurred and its postdisaster just value expressed as a percentage of the parcel's just value as of January 1 of the year in which the destruction occurred.

(d) "Postdisaster just value" means the just value of the residential parcel on January 1 of the year in which the destruction occurred, reduced to reflect the just value of the residential improvement as provided in subsection (5) as a result of the destruction. Postdisaster just value is determined only for purposes of calculating tax abatements under this section and does not determine a parcel's just value as of January 1 each year.

(e) "Residential improvement" means a multistory residential building comprised of at least 50 dwelling units.

(2) If a residential improvement located in a county as defined in s. 125.011(1) is destroyed following a sudden and unforeseen collapse or the subsequent demolition of remaining sections of the building recognized as having experienced a major structural collapse by an executive order issued by the Governor pursuant to s. 252.36 during the 2021 calendar year, taxes initially levied in 2021 must be abated in the following manner:

(a) The property owner must file an application with the property appraiser no later than May 1, 2022. A property owner who fails to file an application by May 1, 2022, waives a claim for abatement of taxes under this section.

(b) The application must identify the residential parcel on which the residential improvement was destroyed and the date the destruction occurred.

Commented [SS3]: Requester: Please see comment above

(c) The application must be verified under oath and is subject to penalty of perjury.

(d) Upon receipt of the application, the property appraiser must investigate the statements contained in the application to determine if the applicant is entitled to an abatement of taxes. If the property appraiser determines that the applicant is not entitled to an abatement, the applicant may file a petition with the value adjustment board, pursuant to s. 194.011(3), requesting that the abatement be granted. If the property appraiser determines that the applicant is entitled to an abatement, the property appraiser must issue an official written statement to the tax collector by June 1, 2022, which provides:

1. The just value of the residential parcel as determined by the property appraiser on January 1 of the year in which the destruction for which the applicant is claiming an abatement occurred.

2. The post-destruction just value of the residential parcel as determined by the property appraiser.

3. The percent change in value applicable to the residential parcel.

(3) Upon receipt of the written statement from the property appraiser, the tax collector shall calculate the percent change in value and disaster relief credit pursuant to this section and process a refund in an amount equal to the disaster relief credit.

(4) No later than July 1, 2022, the tax collector shall notify:

(a) The department of the total reduction in taxes for all properties that qualified for an abatement pursuant to this section.

(b) The governing board of each affected local government of the reduction in such local government's taxes that occurred pursuant to this section.

(5) For purposes of this section, residential improvements that are uninhabitable shall have no value placed thereon.

(6) This section applies retroactively to January 1, 2021.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Commented [SS4]: Requester: since this applies to taxes already paid, it needs this retroactive application clause.

A bill to be entitled

An act relating to public records; amending s. 97.022, F.S.; creating a public records exemption for information gathered by the Office of Election Crimes and Security of the Department of State as part of an investigation; specifying circumstances under which the exemption no longer applies; providing for future legislative review and repeal; providing a statement of public necessity; providing a contingent effective date.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsection (7) of section 97.022, Florida Statutes, as created by SB ____ or similar legislation, is amended to read:

97.022 Office of Election Crimes and Security; election law violations; election irregularities; investigations.—

(7)(a) The office may, for the purposes of any investigation or proceeding it conducts, administer oaths and affirmations, require affidavits, take depositions, issue subpoenas, and compel attendance of witnesses and the production of paper-based, electronic, or any other type of evidence.

(b) All information received by the office pursuant to an investigation by the office is confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution until the investigation ceases to be active or the information has been made part of a hearing or court proceeding. This paragraph is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act in accordance with s. 119.15 and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2027, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 2. The Legislature finds that is a public necessity that information received by the Office of Election Crimes and Security during an investigation be made confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution until the investigation ceases to be active or action taken by the office has concluded or been made part of a hearing or court proceeding. The release of such information about a pending investigation by the office could obstruct or jeopardize the integrity of the investigation or proceeding and impair the ability of the office in the performance of its official duties as required under s. 97.022, Florida Statutes. This exemption creates a secure environment in which the office may conduct its investigation. Therefore, the Legislature finds that it is a public necessity to make such information confidential and exempt from public records requirements.

Section 3. This act shall take effect on the same date that SB ___ or similar legislation takes effect, if such legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof and becomes a law.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Paragraph (e) of subsection (3) of section 448.095, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

448.095 Employment eligibility.—

(3) PRIVATE EMPLOYERS.—

(e) For the purpose of enforcement of this section, the following persons or entities may request, and a private employer must provide, copies of any documentation relied upon by the private employer for the verification of a person's employment eligibility, including, but not limited to, any documentation required under paragraph (b):

1. The Department of Law Enforcement.

2. The Attorney General.

3. The state attorney.

4. The statewide prosecutor.

5. The Department of Economic Opportunity.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A person or entity that makes a request under this paragraph must rely upon the federal government to verify a person's employment eligibility and may not independently make a final determination as to whether a person is an unauthorized alien.

Section 2. Section 908.101, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

908.101 Legislative findings and intent.—

(1) The Legislature finds that it is an important state interest to cooperate and assist the federal government in the enforcement of federal immigration laws within this state.

(2) The Legislature has a compelling interest in knowing, to the greatest extent practicable, the full scope of the costs to the people of this state attributable to illegal immigration in the state. In light of these costs, and to deter further illegal immigration in the state, the Legislature finds that the state has a compelling interest in not aiding, assisting, or facilitating the transportation or harboring of unauthorized aliens in this state who have come to, entered, or remain in the United States in violation of law.

Section 3. Paragraphs (d) and (e) of subsection (6) of section 908.102, Florida Statutes, are amended, paragraph (f) is added to that subsection, and subsection (8) is added to that section, to read:

908.102 Definitions.—As used in this chapter, the term:

(6) "Sanctuary policy" means a law, policy, practice, procedure, or custom adopted or allowed by a state entity or local governmental entity which prohibits or impedes a law enforcement agency from complying with 8 U.S.C. s. 1373 or which prohibits or impedes a law enforcement agency from communicating or cooperating with a federal immigration agency so as to limit such law enforcement agency in, or prohibit the agency from:

(d) Participating in any program or agreement authorized under s. 287 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. s. 1357 or pursuant to s. 908.11; ~~or~~

(e) Providing a federal immigration agency with an inmate's incarceration status or release date pursuant to s. 908.11; or

(f) Providing any information to any state entity on the immigration status of a person in the custody of the law enforcement agency.

(8) "Unauthorized alien" means a person who is not authorized under federal law to be employed in the United States, as described in 8 U.S.C. s. 1324a(h)(3). The term shall be interpreted consistently with that section and any applicable federal rules or regulations.

Section 4. Section 908.11, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

908.11 Immigration identification and reporting.—

(1) A law enforcement agency operating a county jail or another correctional facility shall enter into a formal written agreement with United States Immigration and Customs Enforcement to participate in the immigration program established under s. 287(g) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. s. 1357(g). Such law enforcement agencies must adopt an agreement, regardless of the participation model, by January 1, 2023. Beginning no later than October 1, 2022, and until such time that the law enforcement agency has entered the agreement required by this subsection, each law enforcement agency operating a county jail must notify the Department of Law

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Enforcement quarterly of the status of such agreement or the reasons for noncompliance with this subsection.

(2)(a) Each county sheriff shall determine the immigration status of each arrestee at the time of booking in county jail in his or her county. Unless the arrestee can provide government-issued documentation showing proof of citizenship or lawful immigration status, the county sheriff shall inquire with the United States Department of Homeland Security as to the citizenship or immigration status of such arrestee, as authorized in 8 U.S.C. s. 1373(c), to make such determination.

(b) Each county sheriff shall maintain information on the number of persons in custody for whom an immigration detainer, as defined in s. 908.102, has been issued.

(3) Each clerk of the circuit court shall determine the immigration status of each criminal defendant at the time of sentencing. Unless the defendant can provide government-issued documentation showing proof of citizenship or lawful immigration status, the clerk shall inquire with the United States Department of Homeland Security as to the citizenship or immigration status of such defendant, as authorized in 8 U.S.C. s. 1226(d)(3) and 8 U.S.C. s. 1373(c), to make such determination.

(4) Beginning no later than January 1, 2023, the data collected under subsections (2) and (3) must be reported to the Department of Law Enforcement quarterly and must be published by the department on a public website. The information for each offense must include the type of offense, including whether the offense is a felony or misdemeanor; the county where the offender was arrested or tried; the sex of the offender; and whether the offender is an adult or a minor.

Section 5. Section 908.111, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

908.111 Contracts.—

(1) A governmental entity, as defined in s. 163.035(1), may not execute or renew a contract with a common carrier, as defined in s. 379.101, or a contracted carrier, engaged in the transportation of passengers, if the carrier is found to be providing, or has provided after the effective date of this act, any service in furtherance of transporting an unauthorized alien into the state knowingly or in reckless disregard of the fact that the unauthorized alien has come to, entered, or remains in the United States in violation of law.

(2) Effective July 1, 2022, any contract between the state and a common carrier or a contracted carrier, including any grant agreements or economic incentive program payment agreements, must include a provision for termination of the contract or agreement for cause if the carrier is found to be providing any service in furtherance of transporting an unauthorized alien into the state during the contract period knowingly or in reckless disregard of the fact that the unauthorized alien has come to, entered, or remains in the United States in violation of law.

Section 6. Section 908.112, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

908.112 Statutory damages for transporting or harboring unauthorized aliens.—

(1) The Attorney General may bring a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction against any entity, as defined in s. 605.0102(23)(a), that:

(a) Knowingly or in reckless disregard of the fact that an unauthorized alien has come to, entered, or remains in the United States in violation of law transports or moves or attempts to transport or move such unauthorized alien within the state, or into the state, by means of transportation or otherwise, in furtherance of such violation of law; or

(b) Knowingly or in reckless disregard of the fact that an unauthorized alien has come to, entered, or remains in the United States in violation of law, conceals, harbors, or shields from detection, or attempts to conceal, harbor, or shield from detection, such unauthorized alien in any place in the state, including any building or any means of transportation.

(2) Any entity found liable under subsection (1) must:

(a) Pay statutory damages for each unauthorized alien in an amount determined by the Department of Economic Opportunity under subsection (4);

(b) Be ineligible to execute or renew any contract, including any grant agreements or economic incentive program payment agreements, with any governmental entity as defined in s. 163.035(1) for 5 years; and

(c) Be ineligible to receive or renew any license, certification, or credential issued by any governmental entity as defined in s. 163.035(1) for 5 years.

(3) Payments of statutory damages must be deposited into the Illegal Immigration Compensation Trust Fund in accordance with s. 908.113.

(4) Beginning July 1, 2022, and every 2 years thereafter, the Department of Economic Opportunity, with the assistance of all executive agencies, cabinet agencies, and the Office of the State Courts Administrator, shall estimate the number of unauthorized aliens in the state and the total costs attributable to such aliens, including the costs of education, health care, welfare and social services, law enforcement, corrections, and state courts. Based on such aggregate estimates, the department shall estimate and publish the average cost of each unauthorized alien in the state, which shall constitute the amount of statutory damages per unauthorized alien. This estimate shall not be considered a rule as defined in s. 120.52(16), final agency action subject to judicial review under s. 120.68, or a decision under s. 120.569, which affects the substantial interests of a party.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(5) The Attorney General shall investigate and initiate civil actions under this section. The Attorney General may administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses or matter, and collect evidence, to the extent possible, to conduct such investigations and initiate civil actions.

(6) The Attorney General shall establish a hotline for receiving reports alleging potential liability under this section. Such reports may be submitted anonymously, and the Attorney General may not decline to investigate solely because of an anonymous report.

(7) The Attorney General shall publish on a public website the name of any entity found to be liable under this section and the date and amount of the judgment.

CHAPTER 909

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

PUBLIC BENEFITS FOR ILLEGAL ALIENS

909.011 Definitions.—As used in this chapter, the term:

(1) "Agency" has the same meaning as in s. 120.52.

(2) "Benefit" means any resource, payment, fund, service, or other thing of value provided by the state or any agency.

(3) "Unauthorized alien" has the same meaning as provided in s. 908.102.

909.021 Prohibition of benefits.—

(1) An agency may not provide any benefit to an unauthorized alien except as otherwise expressly authorized or required by federal law or state law or except where necessary to prevent imminent serious bodily injury or the loss of life or to prevent, investigate, or prosecute criminal activity.

(2) All agencies shall use any applicable and available federal authorities or programs, including the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services' Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements (SAVE) Program, to confirm eligibility, based on immigration status, for a state benefit under subsection (1) before providing such benefit to any person who cannot provide government-issued documentation showing proof of citizenship or lawful immigration status.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Corrections, the Department of Education, and the Department of Health in coordination with county health departments, shall make reasonable efforts, within existing resources and using all information available to the agencies, to determine the amount of state and local funds expended on the provision of services under their agency programs for unauthorized aliens.

(2) Beginning with the 2022-2023 fiscal year, and each fiscal year thereafter, the Agency for Health Care Administration, consistent with federal and state law, shall require managed care plans and hospitals to report any expenditures incurred for unauthorized aliens, including, but not limited to, any programs in which the state participates with Federal Government agencies or collects and remits intergovernmental transfers for the purpose of local governments participating with Federal Government agencies in any programs. This information should distinguish between federal, state, and local funds.

(3)(a) The Agency for Health Care Administration, the Department of Children and Families, the Agency for Persons with Disabilities, the Department of Corrections, the Department of Education, and the Department of Health shall provide a report of the requested information required by subsections (1) and (2) for the previous fiscal year to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by September 1 of each year for the previous fiscal year.

A bill to be entitled

An act relating to free speech and defamation actions; providing legislative findings; amending s. 770.05, F.S.; specifying that venue for certain defamation causes of action is proper in any county where specified material was accessed; amending s. 770.08, F.S.; conforming provisions to changes made by the act; creating s. 770.09, F.S.; specifying that certain provisions relating to attorney fees and costs do not apply to defamation claims; entitling prevailing plaintiffs in defamation claims to reasonable attorney fees and costs; creating s. 770.11, F.S.; prohibiting certain persons from being considered public figures for purposes of establishing a claim for defamation; creating s. 770.12, F.S.; providing that failing to validate or corroborate an alleged defamatory statement is evidence of actual malice; creating s. 770.13, F.S.; creating a presumption that statements by anonymous sources are false for purposes of defamation claims; amending ss. 720.304 and 768.295, F.S.; requiring courts to award attorney fees and costs to certain parties to Strategic Lawsuits Against Public Participation; providing an effective date.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. The Legislature finds that:

(1) Defamation is and should be purely a matter of state law.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(2) New York Times Co. v. Sullivan, 376 U.S. 254 (1964), and its progeny federalized major aspects of defamation law, notwithstanding the United States Supreme Court's pre-1964 precedents and historical understanding to the contrary, and foreclosed many meritorious defamation claims to the detriment of citizens from all walks of life.

(3) The federalization of defamation law, including the judicially created actual malice standard, bears no relation to the text, structure, or history of the First Amendment to the United States Constitution.

(4) The federalization of defamation law fails to acknowledge that defamatory falsehoods are equally injurious to plaintiffs regardless of whether they are public officials, public figures, or private figures, and regardless of whether the alleged defamatory falsehoods relate to matters of official conduct or of public or private concern.

(5) The federalization of defamation law interferes with the ability of the states to update their defamation laws in response to societal changes, including the widespread proliferation of defamatory falsehoods through new technologies and the ever-diminishing investigation and reporting standards of publishers.

(6) The federalization of defamation law has further fostered an environment in which defamatory falsehoods are routinely published without fear of consequence, but truthful speech is often self-censored for fear of being tarnished without an adequate remedy at law.

(7) The United States Supreme Court should therefore reassess its post-1964 understanding of defamation law and,

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

FL-GOV-22-0226_20-0378A-001155

consistent with our nation's system of federalism, return to the states the authority to protect their citizens from defamatory falsehoods and the ability to make their own policy judgments regarding the prevention of defamation.

(8) Under current United States Supreme Court precedent, this state retains a measure of flexibility to continue to formulate its own defamation laws in response to societal changes.

(9) Defamatory statements are regularly published to widespread audiences through the Internet and social media platforms.

(10) Defamatory statements are regularly published without investigation, fact-checking, or editing.

(11) Publishers of defamatory statements regularly rely on anonymous sources, which they know or should know are inherently untrustworthy.

(12) The state has an important interest in protecting its citizens from injurious defamatory statements.

Section 2. Section 770.05, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

770.05 Limitation of choice of venue.—

(1) No person shall have more than one choice of venue for damages for libel or slander, invasion of privacy, or any other tort founded upon any single publication, exhibition, or utterance, such as any one edition of a newspaper, book, or magazine, any one presentation to an audience, any one broadcast over radio or television, or any one exhibition of a motion picture. Recovery in any action shall include all damages for any such tort suffered by the plaintiff in all jurisdictions.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for a defamation cause of action, including, but not limited to, causes of action for libel or slander, if damages for such cause of action are based on material published on the radio, television, or Internet, venue is proper in any county where the material was accessed.

Section 3. Section 770.08, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

770.08 Limitation on recovery of damages.—Except as provided in s. 770.05(2), no person shall have more than one choice of venue for damages for libel founded upon a single publication or exhibition or utterance, as described in s. 770.05., ~~, and~~ Upon his or her election in any one of his or her choices of venue, ~~then~~ the person shall be bound to recover there all damages allowed him or her.

Section 4. Section 770.09, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

770.09 Applicability of attorney fees and costs for defamation claims.—Section 768.79 does not apply to defamation claims, including, but not limited to, claims for libel or slander. Notwithstanding any other law, a prevailing plaintiff in a defamation claim, including, but not limited to, a claim for libel or slander, is entitled to reasonable attorney fees and costs.

Section 5. Section 770.11, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

770.11 Limitations on judicial determinations of public figures.—A person may not be considered a public figure for purposes of establishing a claim for defamation, including, but not limited to, a claim for libel or slander, if his or her fame or notoriety arises solely from any of the following:

(1) Defending himself or herself publicly against accusations.

(2) Granting an interview on a specific topic.

(3) Public employment other than elected office or appointment by an elected official.

(4) A video, image, or statement uploaded on the Internet which has reached a broad audience.

Section 6. Section 770.12, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

770.12 Use of defamatory statements.—Failing to validate or corroborate an alleged defamatory statement is evidence of actual malice.

Section 7. Section 770.13, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

770.13 Presumption regarding anonymous sources.—Statements by anonymous sources are presumed to be false for purposes of defamation claims.

Section 8. Paragraph (c) of subsection (4) of section 720.304, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

720.304 Right of owners to peaceably assemble; display of flag; SLAPP suits prohibited.—

(4) It is the intent of the Legislature to protect the right of parcel owners to exercise their rights to instruct their representatives and petition for redress of grievances before the various governmental entities of this state as protected by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution and s. 5, Art. I of the State Constitution. The

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Legislature recognizes that "Strategic Lawsuits Against Public Participation" or "SLAPP" suits, as they are typically called, have occurred when members are sued by individuals, business entities, or governmental entities arising out of a parcel owner's appearance and presentation before a governmental entity on matters related to the homeowners' association. However, it is the public policy of this state that government entities, business organizations, and individuals not engage in SLAPP suits because such actions are inconsistent with the right of parcel owners to participate in the state's institutions of government. Therefore, the Legislature finds and declares that prohibiting such lawsuits by governmental entities, business entities, and individuals against parcel owners who address matters concerning their homeowners' association will preserve this fundamental state policy, preserve the constitutional rights of parcel owners, and assure the continuation of representative government in this state. It is the intent of the Legislature that such lawsuits be expeditiously disposed of by the courts.

(c) A parcel owner sued by a governmental entity, business organization, or individual in violation of this section has a right to an expeditious resolution of a claim that the suit is in violation of this section. A parcel owner may petition the court for an order dismissing the action or granting final judgment in favor of that parcel owner. The petitioner may file a motion for summary judgment, together with supplemental affidavits, seeking a determination that the governmental entity's, business organization's, or individual's lawsuit has been brought in violation of this section. The governmental entity, business organization, or individual shall thereafter file its response and any supplemental affidavits. As soon as practicable, the court shall set a hearing on the petitioner's motion, which shall be held at the earliest possible time after the filing of the governmental entity's, business organization's or individual's response. The court may award the parcel owner sued by the governmental entity, business organization, or individual actual damages arising from the governmental entity's, individual's, or business organization's violation of this section. A court may treble the damages awarded to a prevailing parcel owner and shall state the basis for the treble damages award in its judgment. If a non-moving party prevails on a motion filed under this paragraph, the court shall award the non-moving ~~prevailing~~ party reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees and costs incurred in connection with a claim that an action was filed in violation of this section.

Section 9. Subsection (4) of section 768.295, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

768.295 Strategic Lawsuits Against Public Participation (SLAPP) prohibited.—

(4) A person or entity sued by a governmental entity or another person in violation of this section has a right to an expeditious resolution of a claim that the suit is in violation of this section. A person or entity may move the court for an order dismissing the action or granting final judgment in favor of that person or entity. The person or entity may file a motion for summary judgment, together with supplemental affidavits, seeking a determination that the claimant's or governmental entity's lawsuit has been brought in violation of this section.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The claimant or governmental entity shall thereafter file a response and any supplemental affidavits. As soon as practicable, the court shall set a hearing on the motion, which shall be held at the earliest possible time after the filing of the claimant's or governmental entity's response. The court may award, subject to the limitations in s. 768.28, the party sued by a governmental entity actual damages arising from a governmental entity's violation of this section. If a non-moving party prevails on a motion filed under this subsection, the court shall award the non-moving ~~prevailing~~ party reasonable attorney fees and costs incurred in connection with a claim that an action was filed in violation of this section.

120.595 Attorney's fees.—

(2) CHALLENGES TO PROPOSED AGENCY RULES PURSUANT TO SECTION 120.56(2).—If the appellate court or administrative law judge declares a proposed rule or portion of a proposed rule invalid pursuant to s. 120.56(2), a judgment or order shall be rendered against the agency for reasonable costs and reasonable attorney's fees, unless the agency demonstrates that its actions were substantially justified or special circumstances exist which would make the award unjust. An agency's actions are "substantially justified" if there was a reasonable basis in law and fact at the time the actions were taken by the agency. If the agency prevails in the proceedings, the appellate court or administrative law judge shall award reasonable costs and reasonable attorney's fees against a party if the appellate court or administrative law judge determines that a party participated in the proceedings for an improper purpose as defined by paragraph (1)(e). No award of attorney's fees as provided by this subsection shall exceed $50,000 against any party or against the agency, even when multiple proceedings are consolidated and multiple parties are entitled to fees against the same non-prevailing party or agency.

(3) CHALLENGES TO EXISTING AGENCY RULES PURSUANT TO SECTION 120.56(3) AND (5).—If the appellate court or administrative law judge declares a rule or portion of a rule invalid pursuant to s. 120.56(3) or (5), a judgment or order shall be rendered against the agency for reasonable costs and reasonable attorney's fees, unless the agency demonstrates that its actions were substantially justified or special circumstances exist which would make the award unjust. An agency's actions are "substantially justified" if there was a reasonable basis in law and fact at the time the actions were taken by the agency. If the agency prevails in the proceedings, the appellate court or administrative law judge shall award reasonable costs and reasonable attorney's fees against a party if the appellate court or administrative law judge determines that a party participated in the proceedings for an improper purpose as defined by paragraph (1)(e). No award of attorney's fees as provided by this subsection shall exceed $50,000 against any party or against the agency, even when multiple proceedings are consolidated and multiple parties are entitled to fees against the same non-prevailing party or agency.

(4) CHALLENGES TO AGENCY ACTION PURSUANT TO SECTION 120.56(4).—

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(a) If the appellate court or administrative law judge determines that all or part of an agency statement violates s. 120.54(1)(a), or that the agency must immediately discontinue reliance on the statement and any substantially similar statement pursuant to s. 120.56(4)(f), a judgment or order shall be entered against the agency for reasonable costs and reasonable attorney's fees, unless the agency demonstrates that the statement is required by the Federal Government to implement or retain a delegated or approved program or to meet a condition to receipt of federal funds.

(b) Upon notification to the administrative law judge provided before the final hearing that the agency has published a notice of rulemaking under s. 120.54(3)(a), such notice shall automatically operate as a stay of proceedings pending rulemaking. The administrative law judge may vacate the stay for good cause shown. A stay of proceedings under this paragraph remains in effect so long as the agency is proceeding expeditiously and in good faith to adopt the statement as a rule. The administrative law judge shall award reasonable costs and reasonable attorney's fees accrued by the petitioner prior to the date the notice was published, unless the agency proves to the administrative law judge that it did not know and should not have known that the statement was an unadopted rule. Attorneys' fees and costs under this paragraph and paragraph (a) shall be awarded only upon a finding that the agency received notice that the statement may constitute an unadopted rule at least 30 days before a petition under s. 120.56(4) was filed and that the agency failed to publish the required notice of rulemaking pursuant to s. 120.54(3) that addresses the statement within that 30-day period. Notice to the agency may be satisfied by its receipt of a copy of the s. 120.56(4) petition, a notice or other paper containing substantially the same information, or a petition filed pursuant to s. 120.54(7). An award of attorney's fees as provided by this paragraph may not exceed $50,000 against any party or against the agency, even when multiple proceedings are consolidated and multiple parties are entitled to fees against the same non-prevailing party or agency.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 284, an award shall be paid from the budget entity of the secretary, executive director, or equivalent administrative officer of the agency, and the agency shall not be entitled to payment of an award or reimbursement for payment of an award under any provision of law.

(d) If the agency prevails in the proceedings, the appellate court or administrative law judge shall award reasonable costs and attorney's fees against a party if the appellate court or administrative law judge determines that the party participated in the proceedings for an improper purpose as defined in paragraph (1)(e) or that the party or the party's attorney knew or should have known that a claim was not

97.022 Office of Election Crimes and Security; election law violations and election irregularities.—

(1) The Office of Election Crimes and Security is created in the Department of State. The office shall be considered a criminal justice agency as defined in s. 943.045. The purpose of the office, consistent with the Secretary of State's duties under s. 97.012(15), is to:

(a) Receive and review notices and reports generated by government officials or any other person regarding alleged occurrences of election law violations or election irregularities in this state.

(b) Initiate independent inquiries and conduct investigations into allegations of election law violations or election irregularities in any Florida county or municipality.

(2) The office is authorized to review complaints and conduct investigations into alleged violations of any provision of Title IX or any rule adopted pursuant thereto. As needed based on the findings of its reviews and investigations, the office shall make referrals for further legal action directly to a statewide prosecutor, who shall have primary statewide jurisdiction for enforcement and prosecution of election law violations and election irregularities. The office shall also refer to a statewide prosecutor for further legal action any complaints of election law violations or election irregularities that it deems frivolous and intended to otherwise disrupt the legal administration of Florida elections or the certification of Florida election results.

(4) The secretary shall appoint a director of the Office of Election Crimes and Security. Qualifications for the director shall include training and experience in law enforcement or security provision. The director shall supervise, direct, coordinate, and administer all activities of the office.

(5) The Office of Election Crimes and Security shall consist of a central office in Tallahassee, as well as sworn law enforcement officers with statewide jurisdictions and non-sworn investigators based in field offices throughout the state as determined by the director. The positions and resources necessary for the office to accomplish its duties shall be established through and subject to the legislative appropriations process.

(6) The director and all investigators employed by the department shall meet the requirements for employment and appointment provided in s. 943.13, and shall satisfy the

I'm confused by this paragraph - what is the interaction between this paragraph and 97.012(15) and 106.25(1) and (2)? Are you modifying the powers/duties that already exist in law? I think I sent over language previously that referred to statutory framework already in place. If you are trying to do something different than the language I previously sent, just be aware of the below provisions already in law.

SOS already has jurisdiction to conduct preliminary investigations into any irregularities or fraud involving voter registration, voting, candidate petition, or issue petition activities and report findings to statewide prosecutor or state attorney of that judicial circuit in question. See 97.012(15).

Compare that jurisdiction to the FEC in 106.24 and 106.25. FEC is a separate entity housed within the Office of the Attorney General and it is authorized to investigate and determine violations of chapter 106 and 104 (this does not limit jurisdiction of any other officer or agency empowered by law to investigate or act upon violations of the code). FEC can only investigate after having received sworn complaint or info from Division of Elections. 106.25(2), Fla. Stat.

requirements for certification established by the Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission pursuant to Chapter 943. The director and investigators shall be designated law enforcement officers and shall have the authorization to investigate, detect, apprehend, and arrest anyone for an alleged violation of any provision of Title IX or any rule adopted pursuant thereto, or any law of this state.

(7) The office shall, for the purposes of any investigation or proceeding conducted by the office, have the authority to administer oaths and affirmations, require affidavits, take depositions, issue subpoenas, and compel attendance of witnesses and the production of paper-based, electronic-based, or any other type of evidence. Evidence gathered as authorized by this subsection is exempt from public records requirements under Chapter 119 and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution.

(8) The office shall oversee the department's voter fraud hotline.

(9) Nothing in this section limits the jurisdiction of any other offices or agencies of government empowered by law to investigate, act upon, or dispose of alleged election law violations. However, the office may assert primary jurisdiction over any investigation initiated by a local law enforcement agency or state attorney of election law violations or election irregularities.

(10) It is the duty of each statewide prosecutor receiving a complaint referred by the office to investigate the complaint promptly and thoroughly, to undertake any related criminal or civil actions as justified by law, and to report to the office

The failure or refusal of a statewide prosecutor to prosecute or initiate action on a complaint or referral by the office shall not bar further action by any other law enforcement entity with jurisdiction.

The duplication of ballots must happen in the presence of at least one canvassing board member. If any observer makes a reasonable objection to a duplicate of a ballot, the ballot must be presented to the canvassing board for a determination of the validity of the duplicate. The canvassing board must document the serial number of the ballot in the canvassing board's minutes. The canvassing board must decide whether the duplication is valid. If the duplicate ballot is determined to be valid, the duplicate ballot must be counted. If the duplicate ballot is determined to be invalid, the duplicate ballot must be rejected and a proper duplicate ballot must be made and counted in lieu of the original.
