EXTERNAL SENDER

In response to the request below, records that are maintained by the House were searched for public records that meet the criteria of the request. Those searches yielded the attached public records.

The House and Representative Perez consider this matter closed.

Kind regards,

Office of Open Government
Florida House of Representatives

Please Note: The Florida Constitution requires disclosure of public records unless a Florida Statute exempts the records from the disclosure requirement. Most emails to and from House members and staff that were sent or received in connection with the transaction of legislative business are public records that will be made available to the public and media upon request. Therefore, the contents of your email and your email address are subject to public disclosure unless a specific statute exempts them from the Constitution's disclosure requirements.

Dear Rep. Perez,
You are cordially invited to join us tonight in the Little America Hotel's Ballroom C for a dinner featuring special guest Brenton Netz. He will share the story of his years-long court battle to protect his autistic son from being subjected to gender transition procedures after only a cursory evaluation.

RSVP

Brenton is speaking out about how a Michigan gender clinic called CentraCare has been encouraging his son to embrace a female identity and pushing him towards experimental gender transition procedures—including puberty blockers, cross-sex hormones, and surgeries—all while failing to address his emotional and psychological issues. Brenton's story was recently featured in the Daily Wire. "My son does need treatment," he said. "It's gotten so bad. His real problems have been neglected for years. And that's going to be another one of our arguments in court: that CentraCare is not only not solving the problem, they've exacerbated and they've stalled real treatment that should be happening because they've pinned all of his problems on the fact that he's a girl stuck in a boy's body, and they can fix that with hormone therapies and surgeries."

Brenton has realized that he is not alone, that there are other parents in similar situations trying to protect their kids. Indeed, an entire movement of activists, experts, parents, and state legislators are standing up to the permanent and life-altering dangers of gender transition procedures. Tonight, Brenton will be joined by key legislators and experts from this movement. We invite you to join us for this informative event.

Seating is limited, so please take a moment to reserve your spot. We hope to see you there!

Dear Rep. Perez,
Join us on Thursday, July 29 in the Little America Hotel's Arizona Room for dinner with Brenton Netz, who will share the story of his years-long battle to protect his autistic son from being subjected to gender transition procedures after only a cursory evaluation.

RSVP

Brenton has been fighting to have a say in important decisions regarding his son for most of the child's life, as the boy's mother began referring to him as a girl at a young age, later taking him to a gender clinic to begin puberty blockers and cross-sex hormones. Brenton writes on his website, savemilesgewirtz.com, "I am forced to watch from the sidelines as my vulnerable, autistic 10-year-old son is slowly brainwashed, indoctrinated and inducted into a hellish life of: hormonal therapies, induced mental illness, needless, unnecessary surgeries and procedures, on his otherwise healthy body. And all before he even reaches puberty or age and personal awareness to contemplate such life changing choices as these.”

Brenton is not alone. "My son's story is yet another example and more children are being swept up into this contagion on a daily basis.”
Thankfully, an entire movement of activists, experts, parents, and state legislators are standing up to the permanent and life-altering dangers of gender transition procedures. This Thursday, Brenton will be joined by key legislators and experts from this movement, and we would like to invite you to join us.

Seating is limited, so please take a moment to reserve your spot. We hope to see you there!

Dear Rep. Perez,

On behalf of Family Research Council I am pleased to invite you to the following online event.

You may have heard recent news reports of an Alabama baby setting the new record as the most premature baby ever to survive outside the womb. Curtis Means was born at just 21 weeks and a day, weighing 14.8 ounces. The BBC reports that he is now “thriving” at 16 months old. Curtis’s story illustrates how arbitrary and antiquated the viability standard established in Roe v. Wade truly is. States should not be restricted from protecting unborn life based on a continually moving marker that is different for each individual child.

In Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, the Supreme Court is sure to issue a ruling that affects states’ abilities to protect unborn life in the future.

Join us online to hear from legal experts discuss how to promote life in your state post-Dobbs.

Dear Rep. Perez,
On behalf of Family Research Council I am pleased to invite you to the following online event.
States have been responding to the growing issue of minors being subjected to gender transition procedures with legislation designed to protect them. This year, Arkansas became the first state in the nation to enact such protections. Following Arkansas' lead, Ohio recently introduced H.B. 454 - The Save Adolescents from Experimentation (SAFE) Act. This event is centered around this movement to protect minors from these experimental, oftentimes sterilizing procedures.

Dear Rep. Perez,

On behalf of Family Research Council I am pleased to invite you to the following online event.

With Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health just around the corner, pro-abortion activists in some states have already started to prepare for the possibility that Roe's viability standard will be overturned, including by promoting "self-managed," chemical abortions. Chemical abortions are even more risky than surgical abortions, since women self-administer the medication at home, often without any support or medical follow-up. State-level legislation to ban or regulate chemical abortion will be crucial in the coming years, especially if the standards set in Roe are overturned or weakened as a result of Dobbs. We hope you can join us for a virtual legislative summit to hear about pro-life initiatives like this and plan for the possibility of a post-Roe America.

Dear Rep. Perez,

On behalf of Family Research Council I am pleased to invite you to the following online event.

State-level pro-life legislation has been sweeping the nation this year. Texas enacted the first-of-its-kind Heartbeat Act prohibiting abortions after a fetal heartbeat can be detected (usually about six weeks into pregnancy) with a unique means of enforcement that has proved tricky for the courts.

LifeNews.com recently reported that 22 different states enacted 85 pro-life laws this year. This momentum, combined with the pivotal Dobbs case being heard in a matter of weeks, signal a potential breakthrough for the pro-life movement.

Despite the Court's decision, Dobbs is sure to play a role in state's abilities to protect unborn life going forward. Come hear how your state can best advance the pro-life movement post-Dobbs.

Dear Rep. Perez,

With the pivotal Dobbs case just around the corner, many are wondering what a post-Roe America would look like. Pregnancy resource centers will become an even more crucial part of the pro-life movement if the states are finally allowed to protect unborn life without restrictions. Arkansas, one of America's most pro-life states, currently has one abortion clinic, but over 40 pregnancy resource centers. Such organizations will need our support more than ever if Dobbs results in Roe being overturned.

We are holding a virtual pro-life legislative summit TODAY.

With oral arguments held yesterday, we are one step closer to the monumental Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health case being decided by the Supreme Court. Dear Rep. Perez,

On behalf of Family Research Council I am pleased to invite you to the following online event.

Americans across the country are eagerly awaiting the Supreme Court's decision in the monumental case Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization. Family Research Council has submitted an amicus brief for the case in which we address the many flaws of the Court's current abortion jurisprudence, including Planned Parenthood v. Casey's undue burden standard. This standard is completely unworkable, as it was created "out of whole cloth" and is completely subjective. We are gearing up for the possibility that flawed precedents like these may finally be overturned. We hope you can join us for a virtual pro-life summit to discuss Dobbs' impact and how you can best further the pro-life movement in your state.

Please register at frc.org/prolifsummit.

Dear Rep. Perez,
Yesterday, the Supreme Court heard oral arguments on Texas' monumental Heartbeat bill. In four weeks, they will hear oral arguments for the eagerly awaited Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization - a case sure to inform the future of the pro-life movement. That weekend, Family Research Council will be joined by legal experts and policy activists at our Pro-Life Legislative Summit in San Diego. We will be discussing key legislative approaches for 2022 - how Dobbs changes the trajectory of the pro-life movement, and how you can advance the best pro-life policies in your state. Please click the RSVP button or respond YES to this email.

Dear Rep. Perez,
“Gender transition” is an experiment, not medical care; there is no treatment that can change a person’s genetic composition, and no studies have demonstrated long-term benefits from gender transition. The government should not force taxpayers to fund it or insurers to cover it, and children should not be subjected to it. Thirty-four states have introduced legislation in recent years to protect minors from harmful gender transition procedures, including 20 states in 2021 alone. The Save Adolescents from Experimentation (SAFE) Act that was just enacted in Arkansas provides comprehensive protection for children and adolescents. Come and join like-minded state legislators for a special evening of fellowship and strategy on Thursday, July 29 at the Little America Hotel's Arizona Room to hear from key legislators, activists, and organizations supporting this movement. Please click the RSVP button or respond YES to this email.

Dear Rep. Perez,

We missed you at ALEC last week! Please let me know how I might be able to serve you in the future.

We are currently in the planning stages for a national, in-person, one-day conference for state legislators in Little Rock, Arkansas where Representative Lundstrum and her colleagues could flesh out what it took to pass the bill and override the veto this year. We'd like to introduce attendees to "detransitioners" and other victims who would be protected by the SAFE Act, as well as experts who could testify. Would you be interested in potentially attending such a conference, either in-person or (possibly) virtually?

Please feel free to contact me if you are considering introducing a SAFE Act or if you have any questions.

I will be out spending time with my family for the next two weeks. However, my assistant, Chantel Hoyt, is CCed and is happy to receive your replies.

Dear Rep. Perez,

Great news! Interest in this event is strong, and we're moving the dinner just a few steps to The Little America Hotel's Ballroom C which can accommodate a larger crowd. Would you let us know if there are others in your state's delegation we should consider inviting?

Are you here in Salt Lake City? Join us for a special dinner tomorrow, July 29 at the Little America Hotel's Ballroom C to hear from key legislators, activists, and organizations supporting the effort to protect our children from experimental gender transition procedures.

States have been taking bold steps to protect vulnerable minors from being harmed by the unscientific idea that people can be “born in the wrong body.” To date, a total of 20 states have introduced gender transition bans in 2021. On April 6, Arkansas became the first state in the nation to ban the use of puberty blockers, cross-sex hormones, and gender reassignment surgeries for the purpose of gender transition on individuals under 18 when the legislature enacted House Bill 1570, the Save Adolescents from Experimentation (SAFE) Act, over the governor's veto.

I hope you can join us for dinner tomorrow.

Dear Rep. Perez,

Last legislative session, I sponsored the Save Adolescents from Experimentation (SAFE) Act to ensure that children who experience gender dysphoria aren't rushed into life-changing decisions they aren't prepared to make. This bill prohibits puberty-suppressing drugs and cross-sex hormones from being given to minors and prohibits surgical procedures to remove the healthy body parts of children who experience gender dysphoria, neither of which have been proved safe or effective. The Arkansas state legislature voted overwhelmingly to pass this bill and to override Governor Hutchinson's veto.

Gender incongruity and gender dysphoria are real, and serious. Families and children deserve compassion and care. Part of providing compassion and care is making sure children don't harm themselves out of ignorance. If we don't protect children, the alternative is likely a future where thousands of adults look in the mirror and ask themselves where all of the adults were. Please join me and dozens of others like-minded legislators for a dinner on Thursday, July 29 to discuss this growing threat to our nation's youth. We will be gathering at the Little America Hotel's Arizona Room, and we will be hearing from a parent who is facing court action on this issue.

I hope to see you there. Please click the RSVP button or respond YES to this email.

Dear Rep. Perez,

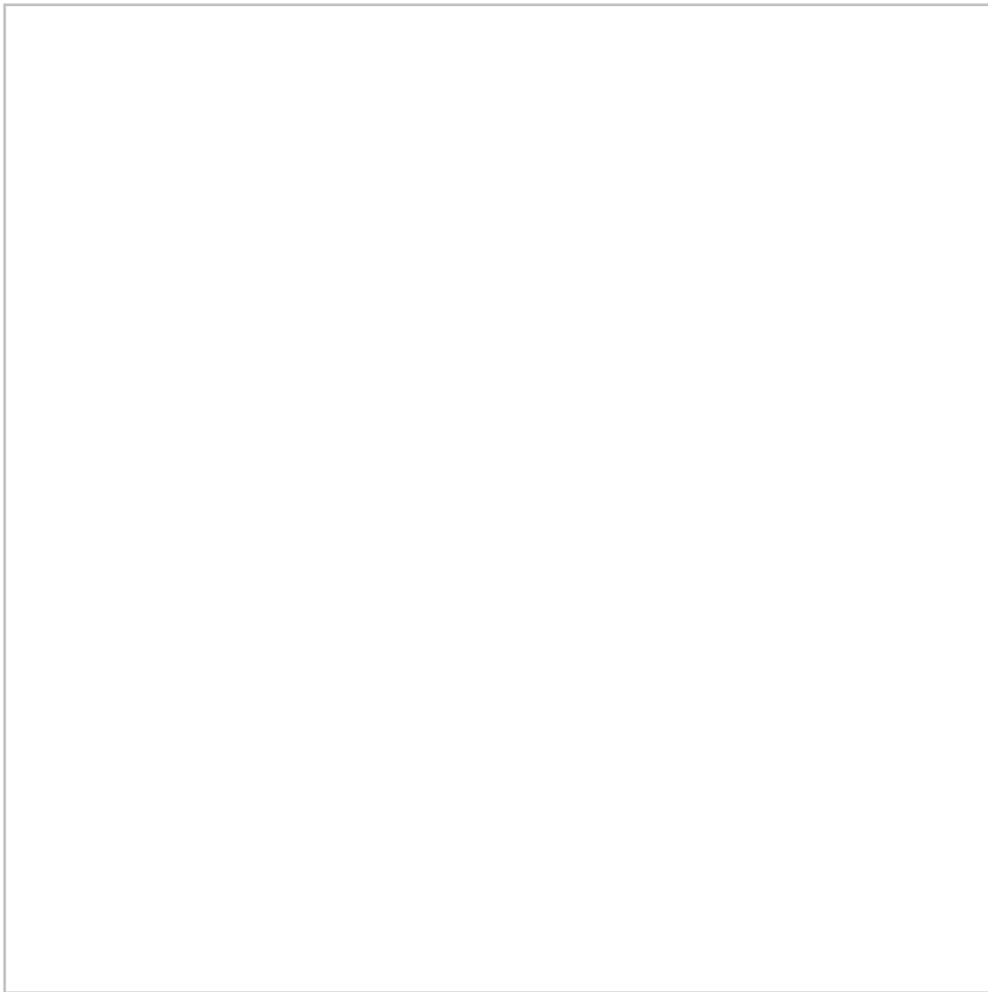

"The therapists and medical researchers failed to help me with my underlying problems. They identified me as transgender and they were wrong. How often are they wrong?"

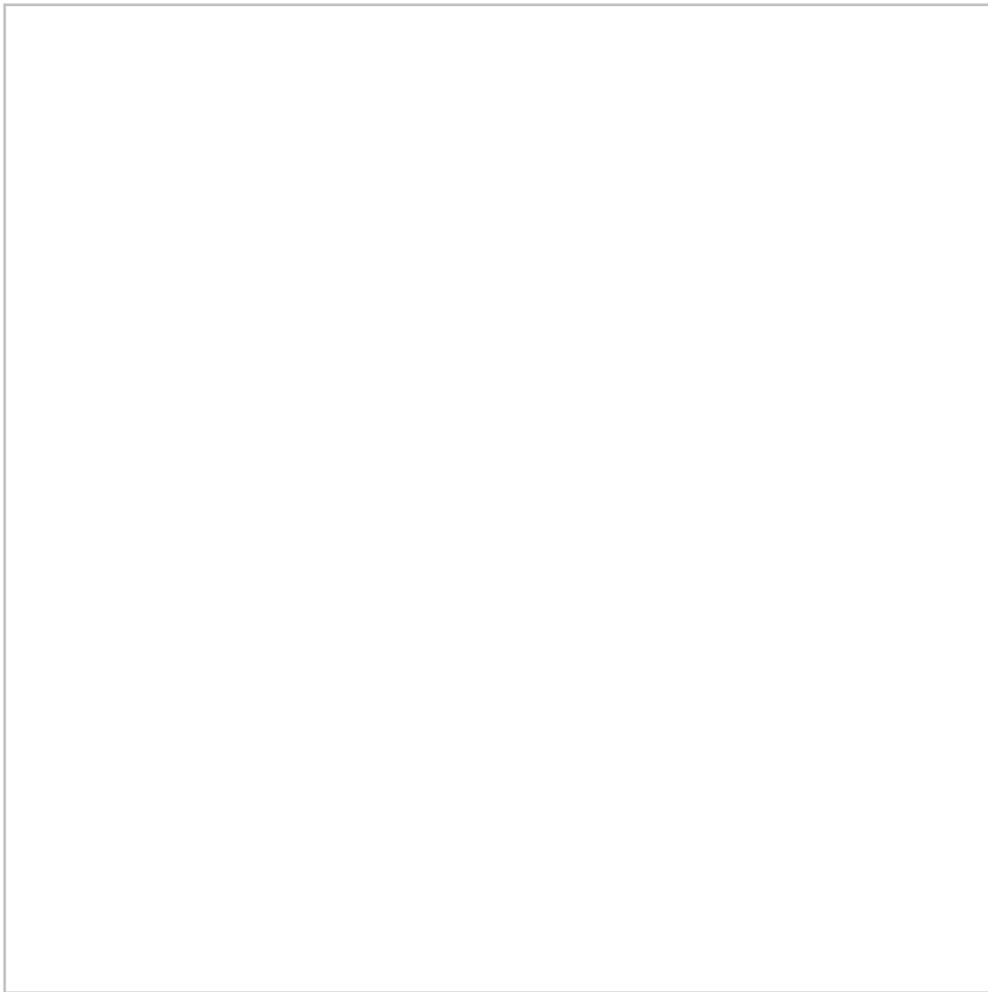

-- Billy Burleigh, who lived as a woman for seven years, in testimony to the Arkansas House

Billy Burleigh previously identified as a transgender woman and underwent several "feminization" surgeries. He testified this year about his emotional pain even after these surgeries: "No matter how many I had, every time I looked in the mirror, I saw a man staring back at me.... Changing my body did not resolve the internal conflict and it did not make me happy."

Mr. Burleigh is part of a group of people that trans activists don't want others to know exists - people who experience deep regret about their gender transition. He represents a growing movement of parents, activists, and state legislators in 26 states intent on protecting children from making decisions about their future before they're even adults.

RSVP

Join us for a special dinner event Thursday, July 29 in the Little America Hotel's Arizona Room to discuss this important topic and hear from key legislators, de-transitioner Walt Heyer, and experts in the movement to protect children from the dangers and false hope of gender transition. Seating is limited, so please take a moment to reserve your spot. We hope to see you there!

Dear Rep. Perez,

As we look ahead to 2022, to the extent possible, I would like the opportunity to work with you on issues that may overlap with your own legislative priorities.

In 2022, Family Research Council intends to be working on the following:

- Total Abortion Bans
 - State Policy Brief
 - 2021 State Round-Up
 - FRC Model Legislation (Upon Request)
- Born-Alive Protections

Dear Rep. Perez,

On Friday, the Supreme Court ruled on the groundbreaking Texas Heartbeat Act. And though many are attempting to interpret the ruling's affect, one thing is certain – SB 8 still remains in effect, saving lives from the gruesome practice of abortion. Ed Whelan affirms this in his article, Supreme Court's Ruling in Texas Heartbeat Act Cases.

My colleagues at Family Research Council and I would welcome the opportunity to work with you to pass bills in Florida that capitalize on the Texas law, customizing them of course to the particulars of Florida's unique statutes and political opportunities. As the Supreme Court continues to deliberate this winter and spring over Dobbs (the case that could overturn Roe v. Wade) it is important, now more than ever, that Florida join other states in sending a strong-pro-life signal to the high court!

Here are some resources on how other states are advancing the pro-life cause, and ideas for how you can advance that cause in for Florida!
