Thank you for your communication with our office. It appears that the issue you have raised is more of a legislative matter rather than a matter over which this office has jurisdiction. For your reference, a copy of O.C.G.A. § 19-3-2 is set forth below which may be useful to you.

19-3-2. Who may contract marriage; emancipation requirement; minimum age for marriage.

(a) To be able to contract marriage, a person must:

- (1) Be of sound mind;
- (2) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this Code section, be at least 18 years of age;
- (3) Have no living spouse of a previous undissolved marriage. The dissolution of a previous marriage in divorce proceedings must be affirmatively established and will not be presumed. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to affect the legitimacy of children; and
- (4) Not be related to the prospective spouse by blood or marriage within the prohibited degrees.

(b) If either applicant for marriage is 17 years of age, documentary proof that such applicant was emancipated by operation of law or pursuant to a petition filed with the court as provided in Article 10 of Chapter 11 of Title 15 shall be required before a license may be issued pursuant to Article 2 of this chapter; provided, in addition, that:

- (1) If the emancipation was pursuant to a petition filed with the court, a certified copy of the order providing for the emancipation shall be provided as documentary proof;
- (2) At least 15 days shall have passed since such emancipation shall have occurred by operation of law or pursuant to a petition filed with the court;
- (3) The older party to the marriage contract shall not be more than four years older than the younger party to the marriage contract; and
- (4) Each party to the marriage contract who is 17 years of age shall present a certificate of completion of premarital education as provided under Code Section 19-3-30.1.

(c) No license provided for under Article 2 of this chapter shall be issued for the marriage of any party who is under 17 years of age.

Dear Attorney General Chris M. Carr,

Child marriage is legal in 46 states. I'm ashamed to be living in one of those 46. As a constituent in your district, I expect you to be my voice in our state capital. The U.S. Census Bureau estimates that, as of 2018, there were over 75,344 married minors between the age of 15 and 17. Many of these child marriages are happening right here in our state.

This is unacceptable, and I need you to immediately begin taking the necessary steps to reform our outdated laws. These are not innocent teen marriages. Instead, they are composed of young girls coerced by their parents or communities into marrying adult men many times their age. The short- and long-term impacts of these marriages are incredibly harmful, ranging from physical, mental, and emotional abuse to educational inequities and beyond.

Even worse, child marriage is a system designed to entrap. In most cases, guardianship is transferred over to the spouse upon the marriage of a minor. Not only can girls not speak with attorneys, but those who flee are classified as runaways and are forced to return to the very abuser they were trying to escape.

As a voter in your district, I want you to know how important this issue is to me.

I'm writing as a part of the Students Against Child Marriage campaign to end this practice in the United States. This organization is the first 501(c)(3) nonprofit in the United States to fight against child marriage through youth activism. They are leading this fight in many states, and I implore you to work with them in pursuit of a world without child marriage. Just go to studentsagainst.org/lawmakers to begin a conversation and save lives.

I greatly appreciate your making this a top priority in this new legislative session and look forward to our state becoming the next to eliminate child marriage. Thank you!

Sincerely,

Mrs Allison Slaughter

Subject: RE: Question about validity of marriage of GA resident performed abroad

Ms. Collins,

Thank you for contacting our office. In Georgia, the Attorney General is the legal representation for state agencies. We do not have jurisdiction over foreign marriages or licenses. I understand that some state AGs do have this authority and that is why the US State Department has it listed on their website. Our office has asked for several years to have that taken down or reworded. I can only suggest you consider speaking with a private attorney who can provide you with legal advice. Congratulations on your upcoming nuptials.

Kind regards,
Amanda

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of the organization. Do not click links or open attachments unless you recognize the sender and know the content is safe.

Dear Ms. Rutherford,

I'm wondering if you can put me in touch with the correct person at the Attorney General's office that can help with my question:

I am a US citizen living abroad in Shanghai, China. Before moving abroad, I was previously a resident of Georgia.

My fiance and I are trying to get married here in Shanghai at the Spanish consulate (he is a Spanish citizen). The Spanish consulate says that they need a notarized document from my state saying that a consular marriage would not be opposed and would be recognized as a legal marriage performed abroad.

I'd like to know who to contact at your office about this matter.
Any help would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
Greer Collins

Here is the information I have from the US State Department regarding marriage abroad:

Validity of Marriages Abroad If you get married abroad and need to know if your marriage will be recognized in the United States and what documentation may be needed, contact the office of the Attorney General of your state of residence in the United States.

This is the information I have from the Spanish consulate here:

Marriage

Any Spanish citizen may be married inside or outside of Spain:

- Before a judge, mayor or civil servant indicated by the Civil Code
- In a legally recognised religious ceremony

They may also be married outside of Spain in the way established by the Law in the place where the ceremony is held. Marriages of Spanish citizens held abroad are registered in the Consular Register corresponding to the place where they occur.

The registration is performed by transcribing the marriage certificate issued in accordance with the law of the area, or directly if performed by a person appointed by the Consular Civil Register.

A consular marriage may only be held when at least one of the parties is Spanish and if the laws and regulations of the receiving state do not oppose consular marriages.

Good morning Kara,

Tony Perkins asked me to invite AG Carr to come back on his program today at 5:20 PM Eastern Time for a live, 7 minute interview to share his thoughts on Pres. Biden's efforts to push an election takeover bill in Congress. We know AG Carr is leading the effort to defend Georgia's Election Integrity bill. Is the AG available?

The program airs on Direct TV Channel 378, the NRB TV Network as well as 800 Christian radio stations....so we would like to have the AG join by Zoom video as he has done before. (we would provide the zoom link.)

Outstanding!

Hey Jordan. I asked our creative team to come up with some graphics if we are fortunate with a positive Supreme Court decision upholding LIFE Act. They came up with this and I wanted to get your opinion. Would Chris think it's too edgy?

I'm so sorry for the delay. Do you have time for a call around 10 o'clock?

I'm headed to a standing meeting. Usually ends at around noon. Are you available after that?

Yes ma'am. Just call me when you are free.

Thank you!

As far as framework goes for what we were just discussing, I think the Prosecution Attorney's Council would be a very worthwhile phone call. They are the supporting staff and administration for DAs

Ah! Thank you for that. Is there a person in particular you'd suggest I contact?

Awesome! Thanks for letting me know. Have a great weekend!

Hey there. When you have some time, will you teach me how to know when Supreme Court decisions will be made/announced?

Wed, May 24 at 8:49 PM

There is no guarantee of when, but the controversial ones tend to come out in June. And the Court tends to announce its opinion days in advance, but you don't know when they'll announce it in advance and they don't tell us which opinions will be issued.

Thank you! Do I just check their website or is there an email list I can get on?
